"That's right. He said that he wanted to get to know more of the branch family members and survey the geniuses among them so that he can contact them more easily!"

Hudson smiled. "I think that punk knows that plenty of members from the main family look down on him because he's from the mortal realm. So he wants to curry favor with the branch family members and get their recognition instead."

"That's probably it!"

Lily nodded her head. "He's leaving tomorrow, right? I'll assign two guards to keep watch at the bottom of the mountain tomorrow. They'll inform me immediately once he leaves. Then I'll send more people to kill him!"

"Right. This is a serious opportunity to kill him. We can't miss it. That's why we can't afford any slip-ups," Hudson immediately replied. "He's a pretty strong fighter, and he has good talent-who knew that he would be a second-grade intermediate fighter. That's why we should probably get those who are at the peak of the true god status to kill him. If we can't muster that manpower, we must at least get people at the beginning stage of the true god status after him!"

Lily frowned when she heard this. "Actually, the best man for the job is the Third Elder. He would guarantee us results. But he just had to retreat. We have to find someone else to kill that brat!"

"Mmhmm. And we must find someone we can trust. Before, it'd be fine to kill him because he was not the heir, but it's different now that he's the heir. That's why we must find someone trustworthy and dependable. Someone who won't reveal their identity, and someone who won't let that brat escape!"

Since Hudson wanted to become the heir, he willingly helped Lily in her schemes!

"What about this? I'll look for two fighters who are at the beginning stage of the true god status. That should be enough. We'll just kill him and those friends of his if he brings them along. We won't give them a chance to escape!" Lily decided after thinking for a while.

Chapter 1104

Lily quickly went to look for two members of the Lagorio family after considering the situation.

These two were from the Lagorio family, but they were Patronums in the White family, who had always relied heavily on them.

They had the Lagorio surname, but because of the relationship between the First Madam and Nash and how the White family treated them nicely, they worked hard for the White family, putting effort into whatever they did.

"What? You're telling us to follow Young Master Jack and kill him?"

The two Patronums could not help but exclaimed once they knew why Lily had come to them.

They had never imagined that she would assign them to such a task.

"What's wrong with it? Don't tell me that you have a problem? You both are fighters who are at the beginning stage of the true god realm. Surely it won't be difficult to kill Jack."

Lily was taken aback for a while, then she spoke with a cold smile hanging on her lips.

"We didn't mean it like that!"

The young woman among them scrunched her brows together." First Madam, even if Young Master Jack snatched the position that your son should have taken, we shouldn't kill him over this, right? After all, he is the master's son. The master is already in such state, and Young Master Lance is..."

A shadow immediately fell over Lily's face. "What are you saying? Are you trying to tell me that my son will never come back? That he' s dead?"

"Don't misunderstand me, First Madam. We didn't mean that. But we don't know if Lance is alive or not, and the master is in such a poor state. Young Master Jack has strong talent, and he's the master's son. I think it's fine if he becomes head of the house! We can't have someone unsuitable sitting in that position, right? Hudson isn't too bad, but he's no match for Jack!"

Yolanda, the young Patronum, finally managed to wrangle her thoughts out after pondering for a while.

"Are you betraying your own for another now, Yolanda? Don't forget that it was me who brought you over to the White family. You were weak then, and no one cared about you in the Lagorio family. But you advanced so much after you came here, and your fighting skills grew rapidly. Besides, it was I who fought for the Patronum position on your behalf. And now you want to help Jack?"

Lily's expression darkened, as though a storm were brewing across her brows. "I gave this task to the both of you because I trusted you. I never thought that you would say something like that to me, Yolanda Lagorio!"

"Don't worry, First Madam. We are from the Lagorio family. We will listen to whatever you say!"

Yolanda thought for a while before adding, "I just think that it would be a shame if a genius like Jack were to die just like that. And I'm afraid that there won't be a successor to the White family. What if Young Master Lance doesn 't return? What do we do then?"

"First of all, I believe that my son will come back." Lily replied, huffing. "Secondly, even if my son doesn't come back, we can't let an illegitimate child like Jack become the head of the house and he's a live-in son-in-law, to boot! We'll become a laughing stock if word of this gets out to other families. Understand?"

Here, Lily paused for a while before continuing. "At any rate, be here tomorrow morning. Follow Jack once he sets out for the branch families, then kill him once you're some distance away from the White family residences, Kill all his friends if they're with him. Got it?"

"Don't worry, First Madam. We will carry out your commands without fail!"

The other Patronum, a young man, gave a wan smile and swore to Lily.

"Good. Keep this a secret. Got it?"

Lily nodded her head and said.

Chapter 1105

Yolanda heaved an internal sigh, but she had no choice but to nod her head and agree to it.

However, she did not expect her partner to quickly flash another smile at the First Madam, "Shouldn't you give us some spirited grass, First Madam? After all, we can't carry out such a big assignment for nothing. If we advance to the intermediate stage of the true god realm, we'll be able to carry out your orders even better!"

"You're really honey-tongued, aren't you!"

Lily rolled her eyes and took out two stalks of first-grade premium spirit grass. "I'll give you both one stalk each," she said. "Come find me here once you're done and I'll have more waiting for you!"

"Thank you, First Madam!"

The two immediately did fist-to-palm salutes after they took the spirit grass.

Soon enough, the two exited Lily's residence.

"It's true that Jack has good talent, Yolanda, and that it would be a shame if he died!"

After they walked some distance away, the man spoke to Yolanda," But why think too much into it? The First Madam is the mistress of the house, and she's the first daughter of the Lagorio family. If we don't help her, who will? I also think that she can be a little too petty, but there's no way about it. It's the way of the world. Jack is just unlucky!"

"Ah!"

Yolanda released a sigh and managed an awkward smile.

At night, just as the sky settled into a deep, dark blue, Jack, Lana and Ethan left the estate.

The next morning, the two people that Lily had commanded, went to take the new shift. They talked with the others who were changing shifts, and they knew about this.

The two took in sharp intakes of breath. One of them went straight to see Lily.

Lily had initially thought that Jack would be killed very soon. She had been so excited that she could not sleep the whole night, and she had woken up very early this morning.

Now, she, Yolanda, and the young man from the Lagorio family were waiting for Jack in the garden.

"They're back. So fast. Jack must have made his appearance!"

Lily's face broke into a smile when she saw that the guards at the foot of the mountain ran up Anticipation pounded in her chest.

Yet the man's expression seemed grim when he ran over. "First Madam, you told us to keep watch on Jack and inform you immediately when he leaves the main house. But it seems like we won't get the chance anymore!"

"Why?"

The smile on Lily's face hardened. She asked him immediately.

"We talked to the people who were changing shifts and found out that Jack had gone off last night. They left just as it turned dark!"

The young guard gave a bitter smile. "When I asked further, it turned out that Jack was not the only one who left," he continued." There was another woman and that man called Ethan who left with him. There are three of them!NSW Chapter 1106-1110

Chapter 1106

After she heard all that, the corners of Lily's mouth twitched violently.

She waved her hand after a while. "All right. Understood. Go back to your post first!"

"Yes, First Madam!"

The young man did a fist-to-palm salute before wheeling around and descending the mountain.

"What should we do now, First Madam? He has already left last night. We can't kill him now!"

The young man from the Lagorio family twisted his lips into a bitter smile. "We can't return the spirit grass you gave us yesterday," he reminded her. That 's a down payment!"

Yolanda was delighted as well. It seemed that she would not have to get her hands dirty now.

After all, she had always thought that Nash had treated them nicely. She had some reservations about killing his son.

Yet she never thought that Lily would cast a wicked grin instead." Why's that brat in such a hurry to leave, that he would take off a day earlier?" she said. "He must be afraid that I will send someone after him. That's why he left earlier!"

Here, Lily paused before continuing, "But I know where he's heading for. So he can't escape!"

"Do you know where he's heading, First Madam?"

The Lagorio man was surprised. "Seems like we'll have to do our jobs anyway then!" he said, a bitter smile on his face.

"That brat is heading off for the branch families, as well as families that are bounded to the White family... That's why it's time for you to go off!"

Lily flashed a mirthless smile and spoke as she looked at the two.

Yolanda and the young man's expressions darkened. However, they nodded their heads in agreement in the end.

Soon enough, Yolanda and Dean went down the mountain and followed the path toward the branch families.

"Sh*t. It's so hard. There are so many branch families. Are we really going to ask each and every one of them to find Jack? How are we going to do it?"

Dean's expressions were fogged by a dark cloud. "I had thought we would receive plenty of benefits. Seems that these benefits won't be easily obtained!"

"Of course. It's not easy to obtain!"

Yolanda had a hapless expression. "Let's go. He left just the night before. We're both of the true god status and we've been flying a lot longer than him. He can't fly for long before he has to resort to walking. Those of the semi-god status don't have strong chi within them, so they can't overuse it, just in case they run into trouble. That's why we should be able to catch up to him if we fly more than we walk!"

"You're right. It's a long way off to the branch families. We'll catch him near a branch family so long as we speed up!"

Dean's eyes brightened when he heard that. "Yolanda, plenty of women are only good for their looks, not their brains," he praised her, "but you're an exception!"

Yolanda was speechless inside. She regretted her words now, honestly. She had no intention to kill Jack, but she made that proposal without thinking twice.

If only she had kept her mouth shut. They could just talk as they walked slowly, and it would be difficult to catch up to Jack then.

"Let's go and catch up to them!"

Yolanda rolled her eyes at Dean. The two flew toward the direction of the branch families.

Yet Jack and the others had long arrived at the outskirts of a small city.

"Where are we heading now, Master?"

Chapter 1107 Lana could not help but ask Jack after thinking about it.

Before Jack could reply, Ethan spoke up, "If my hypothesis is correct, Master probably wants to have a meal and rest here first. Then we'll buy tickets to the Soul City, right?"

Jack bobbed his head. "We'll buy the tickets tomorrow after resting here for a while. Soul City is a province rich with natural resources, and there are plenty of rare herbs there. I'll probably find the materials I need there!"

"All right. We were in a rush yesterday night, so it's been tiring. places to properly train oneself. I think it'll be harder for future generations if they want to break into the true god status. After all, it 's very difficult to get the spirit grass if there isn't enough chi to nurture it. Our martial resources are getting scarce!"

"Oh, right. Do you think Lance and the others are truly dead, Master? They should have returned long ago if they hadn't died. But even if they had died, they were geniuses from significant families. There must have been traces of fighting left behind in that mysterious forest they went into if they were killed. Or there should have been a footprint or something. Why isn' t there a single trace?"

Lana quickly thought of something else and asked out of curiosity as she walked with Jack and Ethan.

"It is rather strange!"

Jack's lips twisted into a bitter smile. "But we don't have time to consider if Lance and the others are dead or alive. Right now, we need to find the materials we need and craft an antidote for my father so that he recovers. Only then will we be able to prevent the Third Elder from acting against us!"

The three quickly found a place to eat and a hotel to stay in. They also booked flight tickets headed for Soul City scheduled the next morning.

The next day, at just over eleven o'clock in the morning, the three had already arrived at Soul City Airport.

"The air is good here, and there's quite a bit of chi around. But it's lacking compared to the City of Martial Arts!"

Ethan could not help but criticize after breathing some of the air here.

"Move over, Uncles. Don't block the way."

At this moment, a young woman appeared behind them, clad in stilettos and wearing sunglasses She was pushing a luggage bag and cried out impatiently."

"Uncles?"

Jack and Ethan craned their necks around. The two could not help but be stunned speechless. They look like twenty-seven or twenty-eight at most.

The woman before them was probably a lot younger. She actually addressed them as uncles.

"What's wrong? You don't like the title, Uncles?"

The beautiful young woman stopped and took her sunglasses off, casting a condescending sneer at them.

"What should I call you then, since you're dressed so shabbily?"

"All right, Aunty. You may pass now. All right?"

Jack gave a wan smile and stepped aside. There was plenty of space around them, but the woman did not even think of going around. She just had to say that they were blocking the way.

"Aunty? You dare to call me that?"

The woman was so furious that her chest heaved heavily. She raised a leg and aimed a kick toward Jack.

Chapter 1108

Jack looked at the arrogant woman before him, he was tongue -tied.

The other party started the episode by calling them uncle jokingly, only then he called her aunty.

To everyone's surprise, this was a sensitive woman; once she heard the word 'aunty', she swung her leg.

The woman was wearing high heels and the heels were sharp. If Jack really gets hit by this sharp heel, he would be...

When the heel was about to hit him, Jack bent slightly and grabbed the woman's foot with one hand, and gently pulled it toward himself.

"Ah!"

The beautiful woman failed to stabilize herself and lunged toward Jack. Her other foot twisted, and the stiletto of the heel broke off.

"Let go of me, you b*stard!"

The woman landed gently into Jack's embrace; her cheeks were kissed pink. She cursed at Jack as she was feeling hot on her cheeks.

Only then did Jack let go of the other party and said, "Miss, take this as a lesson for you today! These heels are so sharp, please don't use them to kick anyone in the future!"

"Brat, do you know who I am? I'm from the Lancaster family, and my father will come to pick me up with a bunch of bodyguards in a moment! How dare you take advantage of me! You definitely deserve some good punching today!"

Shirley looked at Jack huffily. and her hands clasped in front of her bosom, looking high and almighty.

"Oh, is that so? They're going to pick you up? Good to know. Well then. Nice to meet you, we'll make a move first."

Jack smiled faintly, not bothering to pay further attention to the other party.

At this time, not far away from Jack and the others, a young man with his hand holding a bouquet of flowers strode toward them with a dozen bodyguards following behind.

Shirley gazed over to the men and her face sank instantly. "What the heck? That guy, why is he here?"

The young man was a young master of a filthy rich family who often pestered her and clung to her like superglue.

Shirley's face turned unsightly and dull.

Nonetheless, an idea suddenly popped up in her mind. She took off her heels, pulled her suitcase, and paced toward Jack, trying to catch up. She then grabbed Jack's arm from behind and leaned her head on Jack's shoulder. "Hmph! You touched my leg just now, and I 'm yours now. I don't care! You have to be responsible for me, understand?" Shirley said to Jack.

Jack looked at Shirley and then looked at the gloomy young man who held a bouquet in his hand, standing not far from them. Jack' s face went dull, and he was speechless at the woman's act. It was obvious that this woman was trying to use him as a shield to cast away the demon-the young rich man.

"Oh! Is that so? Hehe! Alright, don't regret it then!"

Jack chuckled happily and wrapped his arm around the other party's waist gently. Shirley's face immediately turned into pink, the sort of pink that brought champagne roses to the imagination.

"You..."

Molten anger rolled through Shirley as she shot Jack a deadly glare.

"Oh? Weren't you the one who asked me to be responsible for you? What's wrong? Do you regret it now?"

Jack uttered with a cold smile.

Chapter 1109

Shirley gritted her teeth, but when she noticed the young rich man was striding towards them in a huff, she immediately changed her attitude. "That's impossible. I. Shirley Lancaster, never regret anything I do. Do you even dare to tell me your name?" Shirley responded with a pretending warm smile.

"Jack White!"

Jack smiled frostily and added, "Jack White is my name and I'm proud of it. Why should I be afraid of telling you my name!"

"That's good!"

The beautiful woman smiled faintly, and after noticing the young rich man stood before them, she then greeted him, "Hi, Young Master Norton, it's been a long time! What brings you here? Are you picking someone up?"

When the Young Master Norton saw the intimate behaviors between the two, the corners of his mouth twitched awkwardly.

With a gloomy and darkened face, he looked at Shirley and said, "Shirley Lancaster, who is this brat? Don't forget your role! You're my fiancée, you and I are engaged! Who am I here to pick up? Don't you know that clearly in your heart?"

Jack heard the exchange and was rendered speechless. He did not see this coming; he truly did not expect that this man was actually Shirley's fiancé.

However, from the looks of it, their marriage was not by their own will but arranged by their parents. Shirley was clearly unsatisfied with the arrangement, hence she wanted to piss this so-called fiancé off.

"Heh! Young Master Norton, you'. re not that dumb, are you? Our marriage was arranged by our grandfathers before we were born into this world! You and I are totally not compatible!"

Shirley stared at the other party impatiently and then continued," Let me introduce to you my boyfriend, Jack White. We've been together for almost two years, so you better give up. I didn't tell you sooner because I was afraid it would affect your self-confidence. But since you've seen us together today, it is what it is!"

Shirley paused for a few seconds and then added, "However, since I' m the one who broke off the engagement, I'm willing to compensate you with a hundred million bucks to comfort your wounded heart, how about that? After all, you're Young Master Norton, who is never short of women, right? I've always heard that you're often accompanied and surrounded by beautiful young ladies, so why do you still want to marry me?"

"Hmph! Shirley, it's not like you don't know that a hundred million bucks is nothing but stacks of paper in my eyes!"

Young Master Norton smiled icily. "On the contrary, those other women who are seen with me, are nothing but tools for me in handling business. They're just for show, and you're my fiancée! Once we're married, I promise that I'll stay with you every day and every second!"

"Wilton Norton, didn't I alread say it crystal clear? This man is my boyfriend and we've been together for almost two years! What else do you not understand?"

Shirley grew even more frustrated. She had already laid out all the cards for him to see clearly, but the other party refused to give up on her and continued to cling onto her.

Wilton cast Jack a despising glance and sneered coldly, "Haha! Shirley, do you think I'm that stupid? I don't believe your bullsh* t at all! How is it possible for our Young Miss Lancaster to find such an ordinary and lowly guy to be your boyfriend? You're testing my intelligence, right? Let's say what you said is true, you've been with him for so long, hence you should've bought him branded and premium clothes and watches, right? Why does this brat look like a beggar then?"

He paused for a moment as he looked at Shirley's bare feet. "Why are you barefoot?" He asked with a confused look on his face.

"None of your business! I like him that way. It doesn't matter if he's poor, at least he's better looking than you, more charming than you!"

Shirley stared at Wilton puffingly. She was completely mad at the other party.

Wilton's expression grew even more unsightly. He pointed at Jack with a devastating yet ugly look on his face. "Shirley, you're insulting me, do you know that? You're my fiancée for f*ck sake! And you'd rather choose this trash than to be with me?" Wilton started to yell. "Hmph! Since you said you've been with him for almost two years, then you two must have slept together right?" He asked cynically.

Shirley scrunched up her face and a vein popped out in her neck. She turned to Jack with her teeth gritted and said stiffly, "Of-of course, we've slept together. What about it then? Are you hurt or disappointed? Oops, I'm sorry but I can't help. I just don't have feelings for you, so you can't force me. Besides, the marriage agreement was between my grandfather and yours. Now that they're both dead, the agreement is no longer valid! You'd better give up and leave!"

"I don't believe it! You must be lying to me!"

Wilton's face contorted and anger clouded his features. "Unless both of you kiss each other in front of me right now!" He yelled.

Chapter 1110

Jack immediately went pokerfaced when he heard Wilton's words. What the f*ck was this? He had just taken a long flight and landed in Soul City. He never expected to get involved in this drama.

Initially, he thought that he only had to help this pitiful woman by pretending to be her boyfriend to upset the other party so that they would leave.

Little did he expect the young master would actually request for them to kiss in front of him, in public, or else the young master would not believe.

But to think about it, Shirley had never had a boyfriend before, and suddenly she claimed that there was a boyfriend? It was too untrustworthy even for Jack himself.

A scarlet flush crept up Shirley's face and her eyebrows knitted. She was in a difficult situation right now.

However, Jack had touched her leg and wrapped his strong arm around her waist, if she were to deny that Jack was her boyfriend right now, all her previous efforts would go down the drain. Besides, she cared a lot about her reputation and public image, and right now she had no way to back down.

Watching Shirley's face go blank and dull, Wilton laughed and sneered sarcastically, "Oh? What's the matter? I was correct, right? Hahaha! Shirley, I'm no fool, it's not that easy to trick me! I, Wilton Norton, am not stupid!"

"Well. It's not that we don't want to, it's just that Shirley would be embarrassed if we were to kiss on the street!"

However, at this time, Jack intervened with a faint smile plastered on his face. His arm that was wrapped around Shirley's waist was now, tighter. He turned to Shirley and smiled warmly at her, "Besides, Shirley is tired after flying for such a long time. We should find a hotel to have a good meal and good rest first. Things like love and affection, we'll wait till the night when the atmosphere is right."

Shirley's blushed cheeks were even redder by now. She gazed at the Jack before him, realizing that he was truly a good-looking guy. Now that they were close and her waist was held tightly by him, she somewhat felt a little weird inside, like butterflies in her stomach.

Lana-who had been standing behind the two-was jealous of them in her heart. Even though the episode before her was just merely an act, she was envious of Shirley. If she were Shirley right now, she would die of happiness!

"You're such a pervert!"

Shirley quickly reacted to Jack's acting and cooperatively threw him a wink and scolded him in a coquettish tone.

Wilton burned with anger and fury vibrated through his being when he saw the couple flirting with each other, moreover, the woman before him was his fiance! How could he not have thrummed with anger?

"Motherf*cker! How dare you touch my woman! I'm Wilton Norton for f*ck sake! You certainly have a death wish!" Wilton hissed and stared deadly at Jack.

"Huh, brat, how dare you threaten me? There aren't many people who threaten me, but for those who did, they don't end up well in their life!"

Jack chuckled nonchalantly and continued, "In a moment, Uncle Xavien will be here to meet us. And there'll be dozens of bodyguards coming together with him. So, what now? Do you dare to beat me up in front of them?"

"Is that so? Do you really think that I'm afraid of the Lancaster family?"

Wilton jeered frostily and gestured to his underlings. "Beat him up! Uncle Xavien and his men aren't here now, let me, the Young Master of the Norton Family, teach this beggar a good lesson today! And I'll tell Uncle Xavien that his daughter is together with a stinky beggar with no power and no money! We'll see if Uncle Xavien agrees with your relationship then!" Wilton commanded to his underlings, at the same time, critiqued the couple.

As Wilton's last word dropped, the body guards behind him immediately charged forward and surrounded Jack; they prepared to beat him up.

Shirley merely wanted to piss Wilton off initially, so that he would give up on her. However, she did not expect at all that the other party commanded his men to beat Jack up.

She was in complete shock and terror right now. She was the culprit of this episode; she stirred up the problem, and yet Jack was the one who would receive the beating. Jack was innocent!

When Shirley thought of this, she clenched her teeth and stepped forward, standing in front of Jack and blocking the men from harming Jack. "Wilton Norton, don 't you understand the theory you can take a horse to the water, but : you can't make him drink'? You can't force a relationship nor marriage onto somebody else, And how could you beat people up when the outcome is not what you desire!" Shirley huffed angrily.NSW Chapter 1111-1115

"You're wrong. I'm not kind or generous at all. You're my fiancée and this trash slept with you! If I don't beat him to death today, I'm not Wilton Norton!"

Anger flooded Wilton's veins and his eyes were filled with rage. "Shirley Lancaster, I was being too nice to you before and you took my kindness for granted! How dare you sleep with another man, such reckless behavior! I'm not afraid of the Lancaster family at all! Don't forget, the Lancaster family is merely a third-class family here, and the Norton family is a second-class! A thirdclass can't do anything to a second-class!" Wilton barked as he stared fiercely at Shirley.

"I'm...I'm sorry, Jack. I didn't expect that things would turn out like this..."

Terror dawned upon Shirley's face as she heard Wilton's words. She started to consider whether or not to tell the other party the truth.

Nonetheless, Jack chortled and comforted her gently, “It's alright. He has body guards, I have two here, too!"

Ethan and Lana immediately stood up upon summon. "Hey, maggots, do you have a death wish? How dare you offend our young master!" They barked at Wilton and his men.

Those bodyguards who surrounded Jack stood frozen upon hearing. The two behind that man were his bodyguards? And this brat was actually a young master? Could he be a young master of a certain prominent family?

The bodyguards were afraid of offending a highly authoritative person, hence they all wheeled their heads and looked at Wilton for the next order.

"Young Master Norton?"

Puzzlement appeared on Wilton's features as well. He quickly adjusted and sneered with a sinister laugh, "Oh, boy, your acting is not bad at all, who are you trying to intimidate? In this Soul City, I've not heard of any young master of the White family. Moreover, there are only a few first-class families here, what is there to be afraid of? Even if he is rich, he is at most a young master of a rich businessman! Beat him to death!" he ordered.

"Young Master Norton is right, I think this brat is probably just trying to stall for time, waiting for the head of Lancaster family to come and rescue them!"

One of the bodyguards smiled coldly. He charged directly with a clenched fist toward Ethan who stood in front of him.

"Bang! Wham! Pow!"

Ethan and Lana exchanged glances for a second and both found their eyes full of excitement. They had not fought for a long time; all their muscles and joints were screaming for some good exercise. It looked like they could use these bodyguards to practice.

Within a few seconds, dozens of bodyguards that Wilton had brought with him were all lying on the ground, wailing one after another.

"No f*cking way!"

Wilton was completely dumbfounded. He did not expect that the two bodyguards of this brat called Jack were so strong and powerful. With a few blows and blasts, his bodyguards were all knocked down and crying for pain on the ground.

"Your...your bodyguards, aren't they too powerful?"

The bare-footed Shirley who stood beside Jack had a silly look on her face. She studied Jack again-a man who was dressed so ordinary; she did not expect his bodyguards to be so powerful.

She had also heard that the majority of Wilton's bodyguards were former mercenaries and they possessed strong combat prowess. Ordinary fighters were not on par with them at all!

She clearly did not expect that these skillful bodyguards were like tofu in front of them-soft and weak.

"Take your people and leave!"

Jack looked at Wilton who almost wetted his pants-and reprimanded coldly. "Let me give you a piece of advice, feelings and love can't be forced, same goes for a marriage. Don't pester Shirley anymore, do you hear me?"

Chapter 1112

"Brat, I'll let you win this time!"

Wilton was smoking with anger inside, but he could not do anything. He had never imagined that he, as a young master of a second-class family, could not do anything about the current situation-his fiancée was with another man and he could not even teach the brat a lesson. Even worse, he was threatened by the man!

With his teeth gritted firmly and his fist balled tightly, he took his men and left the scene. He knew that if he continued to stay on, it would only bring him more trouble.

"Phew!"

After the other party left, the boulder in Shirley's heart was finally lifted. She heaved a huge sigh of relief and said, "I bet he wouldn't come pestering me again! Thank you so much!"

Jack had already loosened his arm around Shirley's waist. He smiled at the other party and uttered, "Miss Lancaster, I've done you a great favor this time. But looking at Wilton's expression just now, I bet he will be holding a grudge against me. Well. It doesn't matter, I'm not afraid anyway!"

Jack halted for a few seconds then continued, "But, I've helped you. Now how should you thank me?"

Shirley initially thought that Jack was a kind-hearted man. She did not expect Jack to ask her to return the favor. She could feel the anger building within her.

She studied Jack and suddenly thought of something. "You're such a pervert! You want to bring me to a hotel, don't you? I'm telling you; the episode just now was a ploy, I couldn't think of anything better. If you really want me to give my body to you, dream on! I'm not that kind of woman!" Shirley huffed, staring at Jack fiercely.

"Heh? Not that kind of woman?"

"Then why did you pretend to my girlfriend?"

The corners of Jack's mouth curved upward, and he teased the woman with a playful tone. The girl before him looked a few years younger than him, and her outfit and her appearance exuded a youthful aura, with a hint of daintiness.

Furthermore, her body was well maintained, otherwise, the filthy rich Young Master Norton would not be pestering her all the while.

Jack was even more convinced that if Shirley was not a good-looking woman or with an ordinary face, Young Master Norton would have broken the marriage agreement long ago.

“Girl...girlfriend? I.. I.. That was a ploy! Got it?"

Shirley rolled her eyes at Jack and added, “Besides, you broke my expensive heels! My heels are now scrapped; they cost me twenty to thirty thousand bucks! But since you've done me a huge favor, I'll not ask for compensation. It's even now!"

Jack laughed wholeheartedly at Shirley's reaction. “Don't worry. I' m not interested in you or your body at all. You're not as goodlooking as my wife and your figure is not as attractive as my body guard over here, right?"

When Lana heard the reference, her heart was pleased. She had always been confident of her body and now her self-confidence grew even more.

Although she knew that her body was attractive and wellmaintained that it was almost impossible to say a negative comment about it, when she heard it from Jack, the feeling was completely different.

Shirley's anger had not subsided since the conversation started. She peeped at Lana who stood beside Jack and realized that Jack was right, this woman's figure was indeed very alluring.

However, she snorted coldly, "Indeed, her body is wellmaintained and alluring. As for your compliment about your wife's good-looking features, I do not know. After all, I've not seen her before. So, lying is not a good thing, understand?"

"I'm too lazy to continue this argument with you. Anyway, I need a small favor from you. Help me out if you're willing to, if not, just forget it!"

Jack shrugged his shoulders and asked, "I want to know which are some of the famous apothecaries here? Preferably those with a lot and complete medicinal materials!"

"This is the favor you ask?"

Shirley was slightly tongue-tied at Jack's favor. He only wanted to inquire about apothecaries in the Soul City. Such a simple favor!

Chapter 1113

Jack was speechless as well. He laughed bitterly to break the awkward atmosphere. "Young lady, do you really think that I would want you to repay me with your body? Although you're good-looking like I've said, I'm not interested in you, so don't make a fool out of yourself!"

"What make a fool of myself! Keep dreaming on! I was so uncomfortable when you wrapped your arm around my waist just now!"

Rage churned inside Shirley as she spoke. She was considered one of the most beautiful women in the Soul City and there were always many men who were head over heels for her! She truly did not expect that this brat was not interested in her, moreover, he had said that into her face twice! That was like a blow to her selfesteem!

After saying that sentence, she looked at Jack and thought of the incident a moment ago--Jack offended Young Master Norton to help her. So she softened her tone and said, "Well, it happened that I m very familiar with what you've asked! How about this, you and I go over to that shop and you buy me a pair of shoes as compensation for my broken heels, and then I'll take you around to various famous apothecaries. Sounds good?"

Jack's eyes immediately lit up when he heard her plan. "Hehe, that would be perfect! After all, we' re not familiar with this place!"

"But, I have one more request. I have no shoes on now, and I don't think you want a dainty lady to walk to the mall across the airport barefooted, right? So you have to carry me over there. This way, you can also show your sincerity in..."

Shirley suggested with an evil grin plastered on her face.

"I..."

Jack's face turned unsightly at her request.

A few horizontal lines formed between Shirley's brows as she saw the unwillingness on Jack's face. "What's wrong? I'm considered a good-looking woman with a dainty aura! There are so many men out there waiting for an opportunity like this! You only have to carry me to the mall, why did you put on such a reluctant look!" She said in a exasperated tone.

“Do you know who he is? How dare you let him carry you? Are you not afraid of death?"

Lana who witnessed the whole exchange-could not bear to see it continue anymore. Jack was the Supreme Warrior, how could she ask Jack to carry her? Ridiculous!

In her point of view, because of Jack's good-looking features, Shirley must have fallen in love with him at first sight, only then she requested ridiculously to approach Jack. Perhaps, this woman did not even know where the famous apothecaries were!

Nevertheless, Jack quickly shot Lana a glance, signaling her to shut her mouth. Apparently, Jack was afraid that she would accidentally expose his identity as the Supreme Warrior.

"Who is he then? Isn't he Jack White? I don't believe that I'll die just because he carried me on his back!"

"Let's move!"

Jack squatted down with a helpless look.

Shirley smugged and jumped onto Jack's back, and said to Lana," You, help me to carry my suitcase. It's a simple task and it's what a bodyguard should do, right? And you can't let your Young Master carry me at the same time to carry the suitcase, right?"

Jack carried Shirley on his back and strode toward the direction of the huge shopping mall across the stress. Lana followed closely behind them with an exasperated face. She balled his fists tightly and punched Shirley a few times, but only in her imagination.

"Let me do it, Lana. Carrying a suitcase should be a man's responsibility!"

Looking at Lana's hot and boiling face, Ethan immediately went over and pulled the suitcase. "By the way, Lana, don't tell me you... you like our Master?" Ethan whispered softly.

"Tch! Don't talk nonsense!"

Lana shot him a deadly stare was so frightening that Ethan could feel chills travel along spine.

Soon, Jack arrived at the mall outside of the airport with Shirley on his back.

Shirley's face was crimson red as she was on Jack's back. The manly aura that Jack emitted caused her to be extremely nervous. She had no idea that this guy, who made her angry, would give her such feelings.

"Hey, am I heavy?" Shirley thought about it and purposely asked to lighten the mood.

"You're alright!" Jack dismissed perfunctorily in a few words. He carried Shirley into a shoe shop he saw in front. "Oh yes, are you sure that you want to buy two pairs of shoes?"

"Of course! You've broken my shoes. Don't you know about double compensation?" Shirley pursued her delicate mouth and said arrogantly.

"Alright. Double! Double!" Jack smiled bitterly.

"Oh, my, cousin! Are you in a relationship?" As they finished speaking, a young girl who was trying on shoes in the shop immediately ran over when she saw Shirley. The girl opened her eyes widely and her eyeballs almost popped out of her sockets as she was very surprised.

"Let...let me down now!" Shirley's face was blushed in crimson color and she wanted to hide underground. She was absolutely speechless. All she wanted was to bully Jack, she had no idea that her younger cousin's sister would spot them

Jack also did not expect to meet someone familiar so he immediately placed Shirley down.

"Cousin, this is your boyfriend? You have very good taste, he's really handsome. I'm envious!" The young girl looked at Jack from head to toe as she walked over and said happily.

"What are you talking about? He's not my boyfriend!" Shirley rolled her eyes at the pretty girl in front of her before saying. "Willow, so nice to meet you here. I have no idea that I will bump into you right after I got off the plane!"

"Yes, cousin. What a nice coincidence. If it wasn't for this coincidence, I would not have seen this sweet interaction between you and your boyfriend!" Willow said with a smile. "Don't bother to deny it. Haha... If this is not your boyfriend, why are you on his back? Cousin, there's nothing to be shy about. Don't worry, I will keep this a secret from you. Uncle and the others won't know about this!"

Willow said happily. She soon thought about something and added. "Oh right, there's still Wilton. He can't know about this too."

"This guy broke my shoes so I...I asked him to carry me and pay me back. If you don't believe in me, you can ask him!" Shirley glanced at Jack and he actually started smoking the cigarette he took out. She was slightly speechless as he did not stand forward to help explain.

Previously she did this to make Wilton angry. It was troublesome if Willow misunderstood her for this and people learned about it. How would she explain to her father and the others?

"She's tight. Don't misunderstand us, I'm only repaying her shoes!" Jack smiled and said to Willow.

Chapter 1115

Willow's eyes lit up when she heard what Jack said. She walked forward and looked at Jack with her bright eyes. "Hey, are you still single when you're so handsome? Since you're not my cousin's boyfriend, how about being my boyfriend? Although I'm not as pretty as my cousin, I don't look bad too. Apart from that, I'm still young and I have not grown to my full potential yet. I'm sure that I will be even prettier in another two years. What do you think?"

The corners of Jack's mouth slightly twitched. He had never imagined that a young girl who was around 18 years old would confess her feelings to him. Apart from that, this was the first time they met each other. Were girls nowadays so proactive?

"Kid, stop messing around. I'm not from Soul City and I'm only here to run some errands. It so happens that I need your cousin's help for somethings!" Jack smiled helplessly and said to Willow.

Willow pursed her lips unhappily and said. "This is so boring. I'm so pretty but I'm being turned down. You're really insensible!"

"You better choose your shoes quickly!" Shirley could not help but laughed when she saw how Willow was turned down. She turned around and started looking for her shoes.

She spoke to Jack after she chose two pairs of shoes. "Hey Jack, these two pairs of my shoes are not cheap. They cost tens of thousands. You have the money right?"

"How much is everything, including hers? I'll pay by card!" Jack smiled as he glanced at Willow, who was beside them. He directly handed his bank card to the salesperson

"Alright, sir!" The salesperson was extremely happy and went over to settle the sales. It seemed like she had met with a rich person today.

"Oh wow, handsome! You're really generous. I really like men who are generous like you. Hey, you really don't want to consider being in a relationship with young girls like me? I might be able to let you experience something different?" Willow said happily when she saw that Jack had also paid for her shoes.

"Willow, I have no idea that you had started thinking about such things although you're so young! After all, I've never seen you being so proactive in the past!" Shirley could not help and started laughing when she saw how Willow acted.

"What do you know? It's seldom that I meet such a handsome guy. Apart from that, I can see a different aura on him. He's different from others but I can't describe it. I feel that he's like a king when he stands there!" Willow rolled her eyes at Shirley and said.

"Psst psst! You are giving him such high appraisals!" Shirley smiled bitterly before she continued to speak. "Come on, we need to go. I'll lead you guys to the pharmacy to take a look!"

"Oh my, you guys are here to buy medication? Is somebody gravely ill?" Willow immediately said when she heard their conversation. "One of my classmates has a grandfather whose an experienced traditional doctor and his medical skills are quite good. Do you guys want me to bring you to meet him? Ask the old man to take a look at you?"

"Haha... There's no need for that as we know how to treat the patient. We are just short of several herbs and it's difficult to obtain these herbs so we came here to take a look!" Jack laughed and said.

Soon, the group of people left.

However, several cars quickly drove over and stopped by the side of the road.

"Shirley, when did you come over here? Luckily we spotted you or it' s really difficult to find you!" Master Lancaster walked over with his bodyguards, butler, and a young man when he saw Shirley. He then spoke with a cold expression on his face. "Young Master Norton said that you have a boyfriend?"

He glanced at Jack after he spoke and continued to speak as his face darkened. "Is this guy the boyfriend that Young Master Norton mentioned?"NSW Chapter 1116-1120

"Father, you know I can't stand that guy. Since my grandfather has passed away and his grandfather also passed away last year, our marriage agreement doesn't matter anymore!"

Shirley quickly moved forward and took Xavien Lancaster's hand, acting persuasively, "Also, you know that Wilton's no good. I met him entering hotel rooms with different pretty women several times. Do you think that he's there to discuss business-related matters? From how they acted, they're definitely there for pleasure!"

Xavien eyed Jack suspiciously as he grumbled, "No matter what, you can't just simply find somebody, right? What's this guy' s name?"

"He... He's Jack White." Shirley smiled embarrassingly and continued, "Father, I just met him today, and I purposely said that he' s my boyfriend to agitate Wilton. I want him to give up, and things would be much easier if he does."

"Haha! Have you been watching too much drama?" laughed Xavien, his outburst stunning Shirley. "Don't you know what sort of a person Wilton is? He's not somebody you can offend. Although I don't want you to marry him, he comes from a second-class aristocratic family. Not only is his family rich, but we work with them on many of our projects!"

Xavien let that sink before he continued, "Wilton had already called and asked you to get ready for the wedding in two days. He's sending the invitations out today, and he'll redraw all his investments in the projects we're working together with them on if you don't marry him. Do you know the consequences?"

"What?!" Flummoxed, Shirley stood in silence as she felt her head buzzing.

"How's that possible? Uncle, what is Wilton thinking? How could he act that way? Isn't it too much for him to force cousin to marry him, knowing she doesn't like him?" Unable to stomach Wilton's ridiculousness, Willow voiced out her opinion as it was unfair for Shirley. "Wouldn't Shirley be treading on dangerous grounds if she ends up marrying him for real? Will she have even a single peaceful day?"

"Sigh! I know that!" grumbled Xavien in extreme distress. "However, we'd be losing so much funding operation if they redraw their investment. We'd be losing a lot by then. Apart from that, we'll need to pay the other business owners penalties, and that's a huge amount. Our family will be done for when all that happens."

The young man in white suit, who was beside Xavien, stepped forward and said, "Sister, it's best if you marry him. After all, you're bonded by a marriage agreement. If you don't marry him, not only will our third-class aristocratic family be unstable, but we'll also fall into bankruptcy."

Shirley's eyes turned red and she looked at her brother, Hendrix Lancaster in disbelief. "I can't believe you had the heart to say that, Hendrix! Don't you know my life is ruined if I marry him? It'll be ruined, all down in ashes! Do you think that Wilton is a good man when he can think of such shameless ways to threaten you guys? Do you think that he'll be a good husband?"

What Hendrix said next made Shirley reel back in shock... "But Sister, who's going to marry him if you don't? Young Master Norton is rich and powerful! If you marry him, our families will get even stronger as we'll be working together. Not only will our position as a third-class aristocratic family be strengthened, but we might be able to become a second-class aristocratic family soon. I believe that we'll take it up a notch within a couple of years!"

"Oh, I can just die in anger right now..! How can you think like that, Hendrix? Haha...! You guys are going to disregard my wellbeing for the future development of the Lancaster family?" Shirley's face turned pale from anger and stared at them angrily.

"Daughter, don't get so worked up about it!" persuaded Xavien. "You've angered Wilton gravely this time. This isn't the only thing he's threatening us for. As long as you don't marry him in the wedding ceremony he prepared in two days, he'll bring men and take you away. He might even attack us! You know that he's acquaintances with a seven-star King of War, and they have a really good relationship!"

Chapter 1117

Shirley was stumped when she heard that Wilton was going to fight against her parents, reeling two steps back in her shock.

"Come on, Sister, let's go back. You should rest well today and get mentally prepared so that you can get married in two days," uttered Hendrix, a wan smile on his face as he did.

"You won't just let a seven-star King of War annihilate the entire Lancaster family, will you?"

"I never thought that Wilton would be such a bastard that he'd go through such lengths to make me marry him." Shirley smiled coldly and looked at Xavien in front of her and growled, “It's all your fault! I've told you that it's best if you reduce your collaboration with the Norton family and to not make the projects so huge. What did you do? You never listen to me and insist on making the projects huge! Haha...! You did that just to make more money. Do you see what's happening now? You've just ruined your daughter's happiness for the rest of her life!"

"Sigh... I know I'm the one at fault here, my daughter, and I should' ve listened to you from the start, but I'm left without a choice. I know that you're an obedient child. You won't just stand by and look as the Lancaster family gets wiped out, right?" Xavien was obviously helpless and looked at Shirley pleadingly.

Jack thought about it and asked," Are you sure that the seven-star King of War would do something so bad on that person's behalf?"

"Of course. This King of War is really close to Wilton. Many people asked for his help to get rid of their competition. He would do it as long as people pay him enough money!"

“You people should quickly leave Soul City," said Shirley. "The Norton family has many masters and you guys are going to be dead the next time they see you, considering how you offended them today. They might be sending people looking for guys now!"

"No way. I won't go back until I have all the herbs I need." Jack smiled calmly and placed his hands behind his back. He still looked so indifferent.

To him, what happened was like listening to a story. It was as if the seven-star King of War and the Norton family meant nothing, barely a threat to him.

"Father, you guys should go back. I 've promised Jack that I'd bring them to the pharmacy to take a look, and I have to see that through at least." Shirley smiled bitterly and pulled her luggage over. "Help me bring my luggage back. Don't worry, I won't run away. I'll do it for the Lancaster family."

"Alright." Xavien nodded and soon left with his people.

"Miss Shirley, you really plan on sacrificing yourself for the Lancaster family?" Lana walked forward and asked when she saw how Shirley's eyes were filled with despair.

Chapter 1118

Shiley offered a weak smile. “What else can I do? I never thought I'd make Wilton act like this when my original plan was to make him give up. I don't have other ways to resolve this, now that he's using such ways to threaten me."

She smiled bitterly and muttered, “Nevermind, I shouldn't think so much about it. He might treat me well once we're married."

Although she comforted herself with these thoughts, Shirley knew all too well Wilton was a playboy. How would she enjoy her days after they got married?

"Is it happening in two days? We might be able to help you, so don't be disheartened," Jack came forward and spoke indifferently.

"You?" Shirley was stunned. She then shook her head with a bitter smile on her face. "How can you guys help me? The bodyguards Young Master Norton took with him today are just regular ones, but they have several masters in their family. Apart from that, he's acquaintances with that sevenstar King of War, and that's daunting. Simply put, his family isn't some power we can offend. Do you understand?"

"You only need to remember that I' 'll help you since I said so." Jack was too lazy to explain things to her, so he said, "Let's go! Which pharmacy shall we go first?"

"Hehe! I want to go with you guys, Cousin!" Willow giggled. "It's nice to follow a handsome guy and ogle him-it's good for the eyes!"

"Don't you need to study? Why do you want to follow us?" Shirley rolled her eyes at Willow, annoyed. Since when did this girl become someone who would drool over men?

"Cousin, it's Saturday, and I'm resting. I'm also resting tomorrow. Don't you know that?" Willow also rolled her eyes at Shirley. "Apart from that, I'm a senior and I'm almost graduating. There aren't many classes recently, so it doesn' 't matter if I go or not."

With Shirley leading the way, the group arrived at a large pharmacy.

Not wasting time, Jack entered and asked an old man, "Boss, do you guys have a hundred-year-old Sinomenium?"

"A hundred-year-old Sinomenium? Haha! Are you joking with me, young man? How would I have something like that here? I have some that are ten years old, and I also have ginseng, wolfberries, and angelicas that are a hundred years old. Do you need these?" The old man laughed. "I don't think that the item you mentioned exists. A hundred-year-old Sinomenium would be a treasure among treasures. You won't be able to buy it without tens of millions!"

Jack's face darkened when he heard this; finding the Sinomenium was a difficult task after all.

Such an item truly was a rare treasure.

Thinking some more, Jack then asked, "How about the Snow Lotus? Old Sir, do you have any here?"

"There's one," blurted the old man.

Pleased with that, Jack excitedly asked, "How much is it? Name your price, and I'll give it."

However, the old man smiled bitterly. “Sir, I haven't finished speaking yet. I do have one, but a woman had just bought it. Yes, it was purchased by the Zimmer family's maid, so you're a little too late, and there's nothing I can do. I can't sell it to you no matter how much money you can give me."

Jack was extremely disappointed when he heard this.

However, he thought about it and immediately asked. "Oh, right, how long has the maid left?"

"She just left a couple of minutes ago," replied the old man.

"Really? Come on, let's go to the Zimmer family now!"

Chapter 1119

Jack saw a glimpse of hope when he heard what the pharmacy owner had said to them. The group immediately took a taxi to the Zimmer family mansion.

Jack and his group, however, were stopped when they arrived at the entrance.

"You guys are...?" questioned one of the bodyguards.

"Oh, I'm the young miss of the Lancaster family, Shirley Lancaster. I'd like to request a meeting with the Zimmer family master," Shirley politely greeted the other party.

She had reminded Jack to be on his best behavior prior to their arrival. The Zimmer family was a first-class aristocratic family in Soul City, and even the Norton family dared not offend them, let alone the Lancaster family.

Nonetheless, she believed that it would not be a problem if she requested to meet their family master based on her honor.

"Oh, you're Miss Shirley!" The bodyguard glanced at Shirley and smilingly added, "How about this, Miss Shirley: why don't you come back tomorrow? I'll inform my master tonight and you just need to come over tomorrow. I'm sorry, but it's not possible to meet him today."

"Can't we meet him today? Why not?" Shirley wondered what was going on. She knew Jack and the others needed the Snow Lotus, and should they return only the day after, the Zimmer family might have already used the Snow Lotus.

They came to the Zimmers in hopes that they were in time.

"There's a well-known doctor here with us today. He's an honorable King of War, and he's treating our old madam now!" the bodyguard explained.

"Let us in-we're in a hurry. We might not make it if we're late!" Jack's face darkened as there was no time to lose. Where would he find a second Snow Lotus if this one was used?

It was a rare item and it was no easy to find one, so he had to get his hands on it.

However, he was not going to grab it or snatch it away from them.

"Who are you? Didn't you hear what I said just now? We're polite to her because she's Miss Shirley Who are you to speak to us? You look like the Lancaster family's bodyguard. Haha...! The Lancaster family's bodyguards are not qualified to talk to me. Don't think of me as just a door guard, I'm an assistant commander of the bodyguards unit with a fighting prowess of a nine-grade martial artist!" The bodyguard sized Jack up condescendingly.

"Get out of my way. We're running out of time, and I don't have the time to explain everything to you!" Not wanting to waste a second longer, Jack pulled Shirley with him as they walked into the Zimmers' mansion.

"Jack, this is a first-class aristocratic family we're talking about. This is the Zimmer family's residence!" Shirley was startled at Jack's brash behavior, though she failed to resist Jack's strength as she walked with him against her will.

"Stop him! How dare he barge into our Zimmer family's residence?! Is he suicidal?!" The assistant commander of the bodyguards immediately yelled loudly.

Several bodyguards immediately stood in front of Jack and the others, blocking their way.

Perplexed, Willow called out anxiously behind them, "Oh my god, Jack! Stop it! Although you're handsome, you can't not honor the Zimmers!"

Of course, there was no denying Jack looked rather spunky with that attitude, but who knew how long this handsome figure could stand his ground? He would be humiliated if the Zimmers' bodyguards pummeled him to the ground.

Chapter 1120

Both Willow and Shirley were very worried for Jack.

After all, these bodyguards could not be equated to the Norton family. These were the Zimmer family's bodyguards, and there was an assistant commander among them.

"Got a death wish?" The bodyguards did not hold back when they saw Jack and the others barging in. Balling their fists, they lunged and charged at the group of three.

Bam! Slam! Pow!

They fell to the floor, defeated as their faces darkened.

"Oh dear, they've really started fighting now!" Shirley and Willow s faces morphed into horror when they saw the group of three won.

It was better had they lost, but as they had beaten the Zimmer family's bodyguards, there was no denying that Jack and his company crossed the line.

Still, Jack and the others did not stop at all as they moved forward, taking down guards that came in their way.

Willow eyed Shirley anxiously as she asked, "Cousin, what should we do? Should we follow them?"

"Let's go!" Shirley gritted her teeth and walked forward, quickly catching up with Jack and the rest.

Glancing at the guards lying on the floor, Willow immediately followed suit.

The pale-faced guard on the floor yelled loudly, "Help, somebody is barging in!"

The bodyguards in charge of patrolling the compound immediately ran over when they heard the yelling.

It did not take long until guards after guards lined up before Jack and the rest, glaring at them angrily and pointedly. "Who are you people?! How dare you barge into our family's residence?! Are you people trying to get yourselves killed?"

“Ask your family master to come out. I have something important to see him for, and I need to see him now!" Jack directly said as he did not want to waste time talking to them.

"Haha... What high-sounding sentiments! Do you think that you can just make a request to meet our family master?" Another bodyguard laughed and said, "If you kneel down and apologize now, we'll allow you to leave here alive. Otherwise, prepare your tombs!"

"Guess we can only force ourselves in then!" Jack smiled coldly and directly walked forward.

Whoosh!

A guy appeared in front of Jack and swung his fist toward him.

This guy's speed showed that he was at least a grandmaster at an impressive level.

Thomp!

That man, however, was sent flying by Jack's punch. He crashed onto the ground and he vomited blood. His face immediately turned pale.

"How's this possible?" The other bodyguards were frightened when they saw this scene-they never thought the man before them was that powerful. No wonder they dared barge in.

Nonetheless, they surrounded Jack, confident in their number and fighting prowess.

Slam! Thunk! Pow!No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1121-1125

Chapter 1121

Unfortunately, once the chaos subsided, all the Zimmer family's body guards fell to the ground as they wailed and groaned.

"What? How are they that powerful?" Shirley and Willow were dumbfounded, unable to register how powerful Jack and the others were. The masters of the Zimmer family were not their match.

"Master, it's bad! It's bad! There's a fight going on outside!" A bodyguard rushed into the Zimmer family's living room.

"There are several people trying to barge into our house to meet you. They refused to listen when we told them to come back tomorrow, and they fought with our men!"

The bodyguard lowered his head in shame and continued, "They're that strong that we can barely fight against them. Even the head commander was sent flying by their punches."

“How's that possible?! Who are they? How dare they barge into our house!" The Zimmer family master's face darkened as he stood up.

The King of War, who was treating the old man, also stood up. "It looks like we need to go out and take a look!"

"Alright!" The Zimmer family master nodded. He walked outside with several of the Zimmer family's guardians and the King of War.

It was not long until they came across Jack and the others.

"Young man, it looks like the Zimmer family had never offended you guys. What is the meaning of this? You've attacked our people!" The Zimmer family master's face darkened as he looked at Jack. He knew almost all the masters in Soul City, but he had no recollection of such a guy.

Jack smiled bitterly when he heard this. "I had no choice, Master Zimmer. Would I be able to meet you if I didn't do anything? I can only apologize for what I did."

"You're rather wild, young man! Do you think you can hit anybody in the Zimmer family as you wish?" growled one of the Zimmer family's guardians with a Herculean physique and face covered with his bushy beard.

He stepped forward and stared at Jack fiercely.

Jack looked at him and smiled indifferently as he spoke, "You're no match for me, so it's best if you don't waste your energy. I'm here today because I need to discuss something with your master."

"You got a very grating behavior!" The corners of the burly man's mouth twitched as he clenched his fists, and weak Chi was emitted. He was a master with the fighting prowess of the semi-god level.

He rushed forward speedily and his punch was aimed at Jack's face. He moved so speedily with an imposing manner.

"Hmph!" Jack made a small sound of indignance at the attack as he met the attack with his own fists.

Jack's attack looked simple and fast. His punch met the opponent' s punch without any hesitation.

"Such power!" The man's fist had just met Jack's fist when he was shocked at how daunting Jack was.

Unable to stand his ground, the man flew backward at the next moment, only landing several meters back. He moved a couple of steps backwards before he could stabilise himself.

"How's this possible? Even Guardian Wright can't topple him?" Many of the Zimmer family s masters' faces darkened when they saw this scene. Guardian Wright was sent flying while Jack remained perfectly where he stood; even a dumb person could see the difference between these two.

Willow and Shirley, who were standing behind Jack, looked at each other and were utterly stupefied-this Jack guy was really strong. Before this, she did not believe Jack when he first said he would help her.

In her opinion, there was nothing scary about the Norton family as long as Jack took action. Even the seven-star King of War was not Jack's opponent!

"Haha... Let's discuss this peacefully!" The Zimmer family master quickly sweetened his tone when he saw what happened, surprised as he was. Pray tell, what does a young brother need from us? Let's go in and discuss it!"

Chapter 1122

"Yes, yes, yes... Everybody, please go in... Please go in!" Several of the Zimmer family's elders offered genial smiles to Jack and his company, no longer arrogant and disdainful like they were moments ago.

They looked at Jack fearfully.

Such a master could kill everyone in the residence had he wanted to, after all.

"Alright." Jack nodded and followed them inside.

Soon, everybody was seated in the living room.

Not one to beat around the bush, Jack instantly began, "Master Zimmer, I'm Jack White and I'm here because I heard you've just purchased a Snow Lotus. It so happened that my father is gravely ill, and he needs this herb, so I'm here today with hopes that Master Zimmer will give this herb to me."

"Well..." Master Zimmer looked awkward. He glanced at the old madam, who laid on the sofa, and said, "Jack, my mother has been sick for several years, and finally a miracle doctor is here to help cure her. I need this Snow Lotus badly, and the doctor even said that if my mother isn't cured, she won't live past this year."

Meanwhile, The King of War kept staring at Lana and Ethan. The two looked awfully familiar, but he could not put his finger on it.

Jack walked toward the table and picked up the Snow Lotus before speaking with a smile on his face.

"Don't worry. Since I've taken something that belonged to you, I'll definitely help cure Old Madam's sickness. After all, it won't settle with me if she passes because I took the Snow Lotus."

Jack flipped his hand and put the Snow Lotus away. He then asked the Zimmers to bring him a pen and paper.

He wrote a prescription on the paper and passed it to Master Zimmer. “This prescription will cure Old Madam's sickness. This prescription uses normal herbs and you can get them from any normal pharmacies. There's no need for you to use something like the Snow Lotus."

"Really? Thank you so much for this!" Master Zimmer had no idea if this prescription would work, but he could not do anything as Jack insisted on taking the Snow Lotus away.

After all, he was a powerful individual that the Zimmers could not fight against.

"We'll be taking our leave now." Jack smiled and left with Shirl Willow, and the others.

Master Zimmer's face immediately darkened after Jack and the others left. He held his hands into tight fists. "This is too much! Is this prescription better than yours? If this doesn't work, my mother will... It's not so easy to find something like the Snow Lotus!"

At that moment, the King of Wara miracle-worker himself-took the prescription and read it. A surprised look flashed through his eyes. "Amazing...! Truly amazing! I had no idea that such way exists! This prescription will definitely work! Why didn't I think of this? Not only is this effective, but there are fewer side effects compared to my prescription."

"Is that true, Sir? Is that young man's prescription really useful?" Master Zimmer immediately asked in excitement.

"Yes! Ask your people to get the herbs based on this prescription. I think that Old Madam's illness will be completely cured after drinking the medication twice!" The King of War nodded and looked toward the entrance.

"How strange... That man and woman look so familiar. I must've seen them somewhere."

Chapter 1123

The King of War frowned and wondered.

It was seconds later that his eyes widened as his expression morphed into awe. "Goodness, it really was them. It's really those two after all! I never thought that I' d meet them in this lifetime!"

"Sir, who are you talking about? Do you know those people?" Master Zimmer was baffled, and he could see from the King of War' s expression that those were important people.

"Yes, and it would've been better if I recognized them the moment I saw them. Alas, I only remembered when they left." The King of War said in extreme excitement. “That woman is the Goddess of War, Lana Zechs, and the man is the God of War, Ethan Haays! Ethan Haays is a true miracle doctor, my idol!"

"What?! There were two Gods of War?! No wonder they were so strong!" Master Zimmer was extremely afraid when he heard of this. "Strange... Since both of them are Gods of War, who is this Jack White? The Gods of War seem to address him respectfully!"

"There's only one person who those two Gods of War would address respectfully!" The King of War raised his head and said slowly, "That person..is the Supreme Warrior himself."

Hiss!

Everybody took a sharp inhale. The Supreme Warrior... Never in a million years did they think the mysterious Supreme Warrior would enter their residence. The person who spoke to them jus moments ago was, in fact, the Supreme Warrior.

The guardian who fought with Jack was embarrassed. Had he actually fought against the Supreme Warrior? Was he suicidal? Thank his lucky stars the Supreme Warrior did not go all out on him, or he would have died.

"Jack, you're so strong! You're my idol!" Willow walked beside Jack and looked at him in awe. "Are you sure that you don't want to consider my offer? Let me be your girlfriend! Oh, you got to be older than considering you're married now, right? Don't worry, I don't mind being your second wife!"

"..." Willow's boldness embarrassed Jack, unable to reply to her.

Jack offered a tight smile and said, “Let's go take a look at the next pharmacy!"

They went to several pharmacies throughout the entire afternoon. Jack had already gotten all the herbs he needed, yet there was no sign of the hundred-year-old Sinomenium.

None of the pharmacies had it.

"There's none?" Jack could not control his disappointment after receiving the same news from another inquiry.

He did not expect, however, that the pharmacy owner would smilingly comment, "Young man, it's difficult to obtain Sinomeniums, let alone one that is a hundred years old. That is a precious item among treasures!" The owner paused before he continued, “However, I know that the Sky City Auction House in the city center is having a special auction tomorrow for rare herbs. You can try your luck there tomorrow and see if you'll get anything!"

"Really? Thank you so much!" Jack's hope was restored with that news, thanking the pharmacy owner as he gestured with his hands.

Chapter 1124

"Alright, Miss Shirley, thank you for today. Don't worry, I'll go to you the day after tomorrow. You don't need to worry about the Norton family--I will destroy them if they dare force you to marry him," spoke Jack with an indifferent smile after they exited the Zimmer family mansion.

"Do remember this promise. Anyway, I'll take you for your word, and if you don't show up, I'll hate you for the rest of my life." Shirley rolled her eyes at Jack and looked at the time before saying, "Why don't I treat you to dinner? It's quite late now. After all, this is the first time you guys are here in Soul City, and I don't think any of you know which restaurants taste better. I can also take this chance to be a good host."

"Haha... Sure! Since Miss Shirley is being so generous, we'll just follow you!" Jack laughed and agreed to it.

The group of people soon found a hotel. Shirley and Willow left after dinner.

The next morning, Jack arrived at the entrance of the Sky City Auction House with Lana and Ethan.

This was a huge auction house located in the city center of Soul City.

Jack and the others were stopped when they were about to enter." Sir, we'll need to verify your assets if you'd like to join our auction. The assets in your card need to be more than one billion to enter."

Jack was led to the side for his assets to be verified before they could enter the auction house.

The auction was centered around herbs, hence the people who attended were successful businessmen who did herb business or well-known pharmacy owners.

Hence, many people from the neighboring cities also came due to the successful marketing.

Some of them were here just to observe while some came because they knew that there were certain herbs for sale.

Soon, an old man walked onto the stage.

"Greetings, everyone! Welcome to today's herbs-themed auction at Sky City Auction House!" The old man was a worker of the auction house. He smiled and started introducing the items to everybody.

"Alright, we'll start with the first item of the day. The first item is a thousand-year-old ginseng, and I'm sure that all of you know how precious ginseng of this age is. The price is naturally expensive and starts at one million. Each call needs to be more than one hundred thousand!"

"Alright, Sirs, you may start your bid!" The old man signaled for the bidding to begin.

"One million and five hundred thousand!"

"One million and eight hundred thousand!"

That thousand-year-old ginseng was sold at the high price of 1.5 million.

Jack and the others were here for a hundred-year-old Sinomenium, and nobody knew if such a precious item would be sold in this action. They silently waited at the corner, waiting for the next herb to be auctioned.

In truth, all the herbs in the auction were rare, but they failed to catch Jack's eyes.

Many people joined the auction, and some even had heated arguments over some herbs.

However, Jack had not joined any of the biddings.

The old man in charge of auctioning the items also noticed Jack. In his opinion, Jack was here to observe, so he did not pay much attention to Jack.

Time slowly passed by, and Jack grew agitated when he noted that despite the many herbs auctioned, the hundred-year-old Sinomenium that he wanted never showed up.

"It looks like we've wasted our time here." Ethan, who was by Jack's side, smiled helplessly. The hundred -year-old Sinomenium was so rare, it felt natural for it not to be auctioned at that moment.

Jack needed that Sinomenium to cure his father from the poison that plagued him.

As the auction was about to end, the old man on the stage smiled." Next, we're auctioning the most precious herb in this auction. It can be considered a precious item, and it is a hundred-year-old Sinomenium! This..."

Jack and Ethan instantly eyed each other, and their eyes glistened with excitement. Turned out that herb was up for grabs after all!

If that was the case, they definitely had to get this hundred-year-old Sinomenium quickly.

After the old man introduced the herb's usage and rarity, he stretched a finger forward and said, “The starting price of this hundred-year-old Sinomenium is one hundred million, and the bid can't be less than a million. Now, everybody can start bidding!"

"This is a true precious item! Haha! I'll pay a hundred and fifty million for it!" A middle-aged man was intrigued by this item and raised the price by fifty million.

"Two million!" A wealthy-looking woman stood up and doubled the price of the initial bid.

"It looks like there's some fierce competition today!" Ethan smiled bitterly and reminded Jack.

Jack nodded. "This is a rare hundred-year-old item, and the starting price of one million is obviously too low. This hundredyear-old Sinomenium is worth at least five million!" Jack paused before he continued, "I'm taking it with me, no matter how expensive it gets."

"Three million!" Another old stood up and bidded.

The price gradually increased, and it was not long until the herb reached the five-million mark.

At this moment, the people bidding for the item had obviously decreased.

"Six million!" It was only then Jack bade, slowly standing up and calling out a number.

The face of the guy who bidded five billion immediately darkened.

He stood up again and said, "Seven million!"

"Wonderful! Who knew that this hundred-year-old Sinomenium of ours would reach the price of seven million. It looks like everybody here is good at recognizing wonderful items!" The old man on the auction stage was smiling happily. After all, the higher the price of the auction, the greater their commission.

"One billion!" Before the old man could finish speaking, Jack once again called out a number, and his offer shocked everyone.

"Must you take this from me, young man?" A middle-aged man not far away immediately looked at Jack angrily, his eyes threatening Jack.

"This is an auction house, and the item belongs to the highest bidder. Don't you know the rules?" Jack looked at the other party and smiled coldly. That man thought he would back down with that so-called intense glare of his.

"Haha... Young man, you're quite daring!" The middle-aged man started laughing loudly and said, One and a half billion!"No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1126-1130

Chapter 1126

"What? It's at 1.5 billion now? That man's a lunatic, and rich at that! This is more than what the item is worth!" some random person exclaimed, unable to comprehend the middle-aged man's bid.

"Yes, that offer's too high. I get it's a precious item, but does he need to spend that much money?" Another person was also completely stunned.

An old man thought about it and said, "You guys don't understand. His offer sounds too much, but if they need this herb urgently, they' ll need to buy it no matter how expensive it is. They definitely have a need for it!"

"1.5 billion! The pricing is at 1.5 billion now! Anybody else wants to bid for it?" The old man in charge of the auction once again yelled in excitement from the stage. Such a high price made him lose his composure.

Just when the other party thought Jack would not bid any higher, Jack smiled indifferently and called out, "Two billion!"

"What?! Two billion?! Who is this young man? He actually called two billion!"

"I've never seen this guy before! He must be from another city!" Many people were completely shocked when they heard Jack increasing the price again.

"This guy is really daring. Don't he know that the guy he's offending is from a huge clan in Soul City? This person's nickname is Mountain Tiger, and he's a ruthless person.

Anyone who offends him won't end up well. Such discussions were heard as murmurs from the crowd.

Jack could not help but frown when he heard this-seemed though that man was from an underground, large power clan. No wonder the other party dared threaten him previously.

Nonetheless, Jack was not one to be intimidated easily.

Apart from that, Jack needed that herb to cure the poison in his father's body, thus Jack was not about back down.

The man with the nickname 'Mountain Tiger' had a darkened expression as he glanced at Jack heatedly.

"Brother Tiger, why not just let it be? We can't be responsible for this guy's suicidal actions," said a muscular man beside Mountain Tiger.

Two others signed toward Mountain Tiger; they would get Jack once the bidding was over.

"Alright, young man. I'll give it to you." Mountain Tiger smiled indifferently and sat down.

However, many people knew that Mountain Tiger would not simply give up things he had his eyes.

It might be better if the other party continued to increase the price and win the auction. The other party must have something else in mind if they directly gave up bidding for the item under such circumstances.

"Two billion! This young brother bid two billion! Anybody else with a higher price?" The old man on the stage was slightly worried for Jack. Nothing would happen in the auction house, but Jack was on his own upon exiting the building. After all, the clan supporting Mountain Tiger was so strong that even their boss dared not offend them.

Mountain Tiger was one of the important subordinates to the clan master.

"Two billion, going once!"

"Two billion, going twice!"

"Two billion--sold!"

Chapter 1127

As the gavel slamming was heard, the 100-year-old Sinomenium finally belonged to Jack.

A beautiful female server sent the Sinomenium to Jack and brought him to the counter for payment.

After they paid, a man walked toward Jack and his company. "Sir, the person in charge of this auction house sent me to inquire. Do you need anybody to escort you out? If you're from another city, we'll take you safely out of this city. Don't worry, we can still protect your safety when you're in this city."

It was obvious that the auction house owner also knew that somebody who could simply come up with two billion for an auction was no average person.

Apart from that, it would affect the auction house's reputation if anything happened to Jack and the others.

"Haha... Thank you for your kind gestures, but tell your boss that there's no need for that. Leaving this city won't be as difficult, in my opinion." Jack laughed and rejected the man.

He promised to help Shirley tomorrow, thus leaving the city was the last thing in his mind.

Wilton had started promoting his wedding ceremony with Shirley at that moment, and Jack heard people discussing it on his way here.

Wilton obviously did not plan to give up.

"Yes, Sir." The man was evidently surprised at Jack turning their offer down, but he left nonetheless.

After Jack paid and bought another two items, the auction was completed.

"Let's go!" Jack smiled as he led Lana and Ethan toward the door.

"Go, follow them!" The man named Mountain Tiger immediately led half a dozen of his subordinates as he followed behind Jack and the others.

"Sigh!" exhaled the old man on the auction stage when he saw how Mountain Tiger and the others followed behind Jack.

He obviously felt that Jack and the others would be fraught with grim possibilities. The people with the bigger fist had the most say in things; that was how the world worked.

Many people had made their estimation and they could not help but stare at the group of three after they left the auction house. They wanted to see if the people from the Green Dragon Clan would attack them.

Sure enough, Mountain Tiger and the rest surrounded the group of three after they walked some distance away.

"Oh no, those three are done this time!" blurted a person as the situation slowly escalated.

"Yeah. I saw the worker of the auction house ask the guy something just now, probably offering protection, but that guy turned them down. Beats me, what he's thinking." Somebody smiled bitterly. "These people from the Green Dragon Clan might not simply let them go, even if they leave the city."

"Those three might've had a better fate had they robbed the herb from someone else, but nothing can be done since it's Mountain Tiger. I wonder where these people come from as they don't seem to know how terrible Mountain Tiger and the others are!" Somebody glanced at them with a pitiful look but did not know what to say.

"You're rather bold, young man. You took what Brother Tiger wanted! Haha... I've seen daring people, but none of them are as daring as you!" A man smiled and looked at the group of three with a funny look on his face.

Another guy looked at Lana's pretty figure from head to toe. "That woman's pretty, Brother Tiger, and she has such a nice figure. Tsk, tsk! It's not easy to meet a beautiful woman with such a face. Seems like it's our lucky day today!"

Brother Tiger smirked and said, "We've hit the jackpot, everyone. Kill the men, and we can toy with this woman. What's more, we don' t need to spend a penny on the hundred-year-old Sinomenium. Haha!

We've gotten lucky, now that I think about it!"

Chapter 1128

"Lucky?" Jack smirked when he heard what the men said. "I need to tell you guys this: be smart and walk away. All three of us are people you can't afford to cross."

"Pfft!" The people standing opposite them started laughing when they heard this.

"Hahaha! Young man, have you even asked around who Brother Tiger is? He's a member of the Green Dragon Clan and one of the important subordinates to our clan master. Who in this city doesn't know what happens when you anger the Green Dragon Clan? You're acting funny when you try to threaten Brother Tiger. Do you think threats would budge Brother Tiger?" The muscular man laughed loudly as if he heard the funniest joke in the world.

"Young man, I can understand your feelings right now. You know that you're done for, so you pretend to be unpredictable so we' d back down and leave, am I right?" Brother Mountain grinned, "Sadly, these tricks won't work on us! It's already too late, even if you obediently hand over the hundred -year-old Sinomenium to us and kneel to beg!"

"That's right, young man. Brother Tiger gave you a fair warning when you were bidding against him. You were the one who refused to listen, and it's too late for you to regret it now!" added another old man smilingly.

"Regret? Haha! Do you think I'll regret that?" Jack laughed and looked at the other party coldly." Get out of my way!"

“F*ck. How dare you act this way to me? Brother Tiger, allow me to teach him a lesson!" Angered at Jack's unperturbed mannerism and daring to threaten them, the burly man rushed forward and swung his fist toward Jack.

"Idiot!" Jack grew angry when he saw how the other party still dared to attack them. A strong aura spread from his body, and the invisible pressure caused the air around him to move.

Thomp!

Dodging the attack with just a slight movement, he swung his fist angrily to the man's abdomen.

A slightly muted sound could be heard and the burly man flew several meters away. He crashed onto the ground with a huge bloody hole at his abdomen.

"He's dead!" The others were stunned when they saw what happened-one of their masters was killed within one second.

Apart from that, Jack's punch was so speedy that everything seemed like a blur.

"Attack together!" Realizing Jack was no regular fighter, Mountain Tiger ordered everybody to attack together.

"Kill them!" Jack also gave an order. These people failed to win during the auction and actually plan to rob them on the streets. If this happened to somebody else, would those people not suffer?

Thomp! Pow! Slam!

The noises from their combat were frighteningly audible, and it was not long until the remaining six to seven people-including Mountain Tiger-were killed by Jack and the others. All of them laid on the floor, motionless.

"How's this possible?! Even Mountain Tiger was killed!"

Chapter 1129 People were baffled by what they saw. Some of them originally pitied Jack and the others, thinking they were done for.

Nobody expected they could kill Mountain Tiger and the others within a few moves. They were so strong and did not hesitate to take action.

"Let's go. They're all just trash." Jack smiled coldly as he looked at the bodies on the floor. He quickly left with the others.

"Bad news... Bad news! Master, Brother Tiger has been killed!" Not long after, a member of the Green Dragon Clan hurried back to the Green Dragon Clan.

"What?!" The Green Dragon Clan master and the others were surprised when they heard this. They immediately enquired about what happened and later learned that the group was killed because they got into a fight with others after a round of bidding at the auction house.

"F*ck! How dare they kill members of our Green Dragon Clan?! Find out what happened, and you have to find out who those three are!" The Green Dragon Clan master was so angry that his face turned pale. Mountain Tiger made countless contributions to their clan and was the most loyal follower.

His murder was like a slap to their faces.

The master's subordinates soon started looking into the incident.

However, many people estimated that the other party would have left Soul City after killing Mountain Tiger. It was obviously difficult to investigate who they were.

News about the incident spread like wildfire; the death of Mountain Tiger from the Green Dragon Clan was obviously a huge incident. Many clans and aristocratic families soon learned about this.

Meanwhile, in the Lancaster family villa, Xavien went to Shirley's room, his eyes reddened as he spoke, "Shirley, Wilton had notified many of the aristocratic families. He even notified some of the clans, and you can't refuse to show up tomorrow... Your Dad feels so sorry for you; I should've listened to you from the start and not expand our businesses with the Norton family. Now that it's such a huge problem, there are no other ways to end this. They wouldn't have ways to threaten us if this did not happen."

Shirley smiled bitterly. "Father, you're being naive. Even if you didn't expand your business and caused such big trouble, Wilton will still threaten me with your lives. Haha... He's a complete bastard!"

"Perhaps if you didn't find someone to agitate him, he might've not gone through such an extreme." Xavien sighed and sat by the bed. He looked as if he had grown old in an instant.

"Father, you're wrong again. I'm absolutely certain about what kind of a person Wilton is. This time, I can only say that me angering him only revealed his true nature early." Shirley once again shook her head in helplessness and said, "If this didn't happen now, it would happen sooner or later if I refuse to marry him. It's only a matter of time before he forces me like this."

"Shirley, I feel bad when you speak of it like this. I'm the one who's incapable and failed to protect you! It's my fault!" Xavien looked at his precious daughter and felt sad.

He had no idea that a slight smile would appear on Shirley's face as she looked at the dark sky through the window. "Father, don' t worry. I believe that everything will turn better after tomorrow. Jack said that he would come to my rescue, and I believe in him. He'll surely do as promised!"

"The young man will come and rescue you?" The corners of Xavien's mouth slightly twitched. "Shirley, are you joking? What can that young man do? He dares fight against the Norton family, a second-class aristocratic family? He must be lying to you!"

"Fret not, Father. He's capable, and I believe that he wouldn't lie to me. You'll know everything tomorrow!" Shirley smiled and continued. "Alright, it's not early, so you should get some rest. Jack has said that if Wilton dares force me into marrying him, he'd wipe out the entire Norton family and give the Norton family properties to us!"

Chapter 1131-1135

Chapter 1131

Shirley turned around and looked at the wedding dress before saying, "I think he's on his way to the hotel. Alright, I'll wear this, but I'll definitely not marry that bastard Wilton Norton!" She took the wedding dress and went back to her room angrily after she spoke.

Xavien then turned toward the makeup artists next to them and ordered, "Go do her makeup."

Unable to hold back her worry, Alba spoke, obviously still hopeful, "Honey, do you think that Jack guy will really come and rescue our daughter?"

She hoped someone could truly save her daughter.

"Sigh! It's not that easy, so it's best if you don't count your chickens before they hatch. That guy met our daughter at the airport the other day. We can't take the words of somebody like this seriously. Apart from that, he wouldn't be able to do anything even if he really comes over. Come on, let's go down.." Xavien sighed and went downstairs with Alba.

When Shirley came downstairs, Wilton was already waiting at the entrance.

Wilton's smirk bested him as he eyed her. "Haha...! Miss Lancaster, didn't you say that you wouldn't marry me? Why? Have you changed your mind? I really like to look at your arrogant expression. I wonder how much longer you can maintain this." He purposely looked around and mockingly spoke, "By the way, where's that boyfriend of yours? Did he run away because he's too afraid? If that's the case, he's a real coward. Haha! The bodyguards I had with me the other day weren't strong, so the guy was given a chance to act strong. Did he really think that I' m afraid of him?"

Xavien and Alba inwardly sighed when they saw Wilton's insolent ways. They could see that this guy was not a good person from the outside. How could he treat their daughter well?

"Wilton Norton, are you sure you want to marry me? I'm warning you now, you'll most likely regret it if you really bring me to the hotel!" Shirley had a darkened expression on her face, still acting cold and was hostile toward Wilton.

"F*ck! Shirley Lancaster, who do you think you are? How dare you act arrogantly in front of me? Do you know that your family is done for if you make me angry?" Wilton had been unhappy about Shirley's cold expression since long ago. He stepped forward and pinched Shirley's mouth with one of his hands before speaking with a cold smile on his face, "Hmph! I'll show you how powerful I am tonight. Looking forward to seeing if you can keep up that arrogance later on!"

"Young Master Norton, what's the meaning of this? Today is the wedding day, and this is the Lancaster family!" Xavien, Hendrix, and the other could not imagine that Wilton would dare bully Shirley in front of their house. What would happen if she really married him?

They immediately stepped forward and shouted at Wilton when they saw what was happening.

"Why? Do you guys want to fight? I 'm not here to work things out. I would've been courteous to you before, but there's no chance that right now!" Wilton smiled coldly when a group of Norton family's masters immediately blocked his way. He stared at the Lancasters aggressively.

Xavien's face turned pale from anger. However, he gritted his teeth and said, "It's late... Let's not miss the best timing of the day."

Chapter 1132

Wilton released Shirley when he saw Xavien submitting to him and smiled. “Haha! Father-in-law, I was just joking with you guys. Look at how scared you guys are! Don't worry, I'll treat Shirley well after she marries me. She's got a weird temper, but I'll train her to be obedient. She'll definitely obey me in the future."

Wilton's words bled Xavien and Alba's hearts. If they were still hopeful toward Wilton previously, they were in complete despair at that moment. They knew that Wilton would not treat their daughter well.

"Let's go. The wedding cars are ready, and it's almost time for our beautiful bride to appear to the crowd!" Wilton had a triumphant smile on his face when he saw how effective his power displaying actions were. He pulled Shirley toward the cars with one hand.

"Let's go." Alba and the others secretly sighed as they tried to smile. The Lancasters followed and boarded the car.

Many people awaited the bride and groom in a six-star hotel.

Apart from the Norton family, many powerful people who were friends with the Norton family, the seven-star King of War, and people from several clans were attending the ceremony.

"I heard that Miss Lancaster had never liked Young Master Norton. Never thought she'd suddenly agree to marry him. Apart from that, the preparations for this wedding ceremony takes such a short amount of time. They only notified us yesterday, and the wedding happens today!" The master of a third-class aristocratic family could not help but said with a smile.

Another family master who was beside them looked around him and said softly, “What do you know? I heard that Miss Shirley never planned on marrying Young Master Wilton, and she was forced to do so this time. He forced her with the lives of her family members and their properties. Miss Shirley had no other choice. Although she's somewhat arrogant, she's a very filial child..."

"Truly? I had no idea that Young Master Wilton would use such methods. Sigh... why must he do that? Even if that's the case, will he be happy if Miss Shirley marries him?" The previous third-class aristocratic family master sighed after he heard this. He thought that he was here to attend the wedding, but the wedding seemed meaningless with what he heard.

"They're here... They're here!" At this moment, Shirley, who was in a beautiful wedding dress, stepped on the red carpet at the main entrance with Wilton, and they entered the venue under the company of others.

However, Shirley's cold demeanor was visible, obviously rather unhappy.

"Haha.! Miss Shirley, today is the wedding day between you and my son, and the way that you're acting doesn't look good." Ashamed with how Shirley was behaving, the Norton family master, Todd Norton walked toward them with a smile on his face. “This is your wedding day; who do you want to show your cold expression to?"

Shirley still maintained the cold expression on her face as if she heard nothing.

“Haha... Master Norton, this daughter-in-law of yours seems rather unruly. It looks like your son won't be able to control her even after they're married!" At this moment, a family master who was beside them started laughing. His jest caused many around them to start laughing as well.

Todd immediately felt extremely embarrassed as his face burned a crimson color. It felt like a slap to his face.

"Shirley Lancaster, I'd tread carefully if I were you. If you anger us, the Lancasters will be wiped out!" Wilton bent her head toward Shirley and reminded her when he saw the situation. "Woman, I'm telling you this, don't ignore our goodwill in maintaining your honor!"

Shirley directly turned around and looked at Wilton distantly. "Wilton, Jack spared your life the other day, and that was a chance from him to you. However, if you don't know how to cherish it, the people dying will not be from the Lancaster family, but the Norton family instead. He, Jack White, is no normal person!"

Shirley's fearlessness in standing her ground shocked Wilton.

Though, after a moment of silence, Wilton laughed loudly. "Hahaha! What nonsense is that, Shirley? Are you trying to say that your so-called boyfriend didn't run and he's daring enough to come and stop the wedding?"

Shirley's words struck the masses as a joke as well. The Norton family was an actual second-class aristocratic family. How powerful a person needed to be if he wanted to stop the wedding?

Apart from that, there was a seven-star King of War with them, and he had a great relationship with the Norton family.

"Haha..! Let them come. If somebody dared stop the wedding, let them come!" The seven-star King of War started laughing loudly when he heard this. "Let's not talk about the Norton family's masters. Nobody would dare act out with me here, right?"

"Haha… We're rest assured with what Elder Lafoy had said!" Todd started laughing loudly when he heard this.

At that moment, however…" Really?" Two men and a woman appeared at the entrance as they walked in.

"Jack, you made it…! I knew you'd come!" Shirley almost jumped up in excitement when she saw Jack' s appearance.

She really made the right decision about Jack, he was someone who meant what he said.

"You're really here. Haha.! You're so daring to have crashed my wedding!" The corners of Wilton's mouth slightly twitched before he waved his hand and spoke to the Norton family's masters." Everybody, this is the man who dares to come and take my bride. Kill him! Those two with him are strong, so kill them too!”

“What? Somebody is really here to snatch the bride?” Many of the attendees were stunned; they thought that the Nortons were joking when they talked about this. They had no idea that somebody would really show up.

“Oh my god, is this a rehearsal program? This is an out-of-body experience!” Somebody even spoke in extreme shock.

“Snatch the bride?” Jack was stunned and he immediately announced, “Everybody, please don’t misunderstand this. I’m not here to snatch the bride. Miss Shirley is a best friend of mine, and she doesn’t want to marry Young Master Wilton here. Even if the gods came to this wedding, nobody can force her to do it!”

What Jack said was extremely domineering. He spoke in a loud voice as if he was an emperor, giving an irrefutable order.

Wilton felt like he was losing his honor. “F*ck… Who do you think you are? This is my fiancée! My woman!” He waved his hand and said, “What are you guys waiting for? Kill him! I want this guy in pieces!”

“Young man, you’re suicidal!” Several masters of the Norton family jumped up while yelling loudly. They rushed toward Jack and the others.

Chapter 1134

The Norton family's masters had frightening expressions on their faces while they surrounded Jack and the two others.

"Well, it seems like the Nortons got a death wish-can't do anything about that. Never thought I'd be in a big fight before I leave Soul City today!" The corners of Jack's mouth curled into a soft cold smile as he faced his attackers boldly.

Bang! Slam! Pow!

As the enemies were attacking, Jack and the others immediately moved. They were so quick that many failed to see what was happening. The so-called Norton family's masters directly flew outward from the attack.

They flew backward like kites with broken strings. They were killed on the spot when they landed on the floor.

"W-What?! They're actually..." Wilton's face turned pale when the outcome was revealed. He had a darkened expression on his face as he had no idea that these Norton family's masters would be so vulnerable.

"Attack! All of you, attack!" ordered Todd in his shock." Norton family bodyguards, attack! There are so many of us, and I'll give whoever that kills the three of them a hundred million bucks reward!"

Some of the Norton family's bodyguards were fueled with the promise of money and were no longer afraid.

Thomp! Thunk! Pow!

Still, the Nortons' men failed to contend against Jack and his company despite their numbers. Soon, there was a floor full of bodies around Jack and the others.

There were around a total of 200 people.

The remaining Norton family bodyguards were completely surprised as they looked at the floor full of bodies. They were so afraid that they dared not move one step forward.

"Go! Go!" The legs of several bodyguards turned into jelly due to being afraid. They ran away speedily after they retreated to behind the door.

"It looks like these are some powerful people!" The seven-star King of War Lafoy smiled coldly and stood forward at that moment.

"King of War Lafoy, help me to kill these three, and ... I'll pay you a hundred million!" Todd was slightly frightened and even trembled as he spoke.

"Haha...! Don't worry! They're just three youngsters; they must be dreaming if they want to act presumptuously!" King of War Lafoy smiled as if nothing bothered him. He stepped forward and immediately appeared in front of the group of three. He looked at them with a playful expression on his face.

"Sigh... Who can imagine that a King of War would help others do bad things for money." Jack could not contain his sigh when he looked at the old man in front of him.

Somebody like that was able to become a King of War. He was a seven-star King of War, so he obviously had a meritorious service on the battlefield. Who could have imagined that he would stoop so low?

"Haha! I love money! What can you do about it?" The old man started laughing loudly. He curled his hands into fists as a thin layer of Chi emitted from the fists." Young man, let me show you my true power!"

Just like that, King of War Lafoy appeared in front of Jack and swung his fist.

"Such speed! Jack is definitely dead this time!" Wilton was extremely happy, his eyes filled with expectation when he saw the King of War attack Jack.

His excitement did not last, however, as he noted how Jack was far quicker than the King of War. He only felt a blur, and it was as if Jack disappeared.

Chapter 1135

"What?!" The King of War was also stunned when his punch landed empty. He then felt a slight cold breeze blowing past his back, and he felt fear creeping up on him.

"Not good!" King of War Lafoy was ready to turn and run when he felt that something was wrong.

Unfortunately, a sharp blow fell to his back.

Thomp!

With an audible thump, a sevenstar King of War was killed.

"How's that possible? King of War Lafoy's killed, too!" Wilton's face turned pale from fright. Todd, who was beside him, was also frightened. To him, it should be an easy thing for King of War Lafoy to kill Jack and the others. However, what happened in front of him proved him wrong.

"Honey, this man named Jack is really good!" Alba, who stood by the side, had her mouth slightly open at a loss for words.

She had no idea that the man her daughter spoke of would show up. Apart from that, he was so domineering and powerful.

"Yes, he's really strong! It makes sense now... No wonder our daughter..." Xavien was also totally shaken at this point. No wonder his daughter wanted to marry such a man. How could such a man be a simpleton?

None of them knew that men from the Green Dragon Clan had eyed Jack and his company as they entered the hotel.

"Master! Master!"

"What is it?" The Green Dragon Clan master sat on a chair as he leisurely sipped his tea. He squinted at the person reporting to him.

In his opinion, Jack and the rest must have left the city as they failed to find them after a thorough search.

Although their people were still continuing their search for Jack and the others, he was not really hopeful about it.

"Master, those three went to a six-star hotel, and they must be there to attend the Norton family's wedding! We saw them going in. We've no idea if they're relatives of the Nortons or not. They must ve been invited to join the wedding!" said one of the men as he immediately walked forward.

"What?! The three of them didn't leave the city and even publicly attended a wedding?" The clan master immediately stood up when he heard the report, his hands balled into fists. "Great! This is great! It's great that they're suicidal! Come, bring our men and let's go!"

Soon, the Green Dragon Clan master brought many of their masters as they headed for the hotel.

"Jack, let's... Let's talk this through nicely. I know you like Shirley, right? Can't I just give her to you? Can we consider that our friendship grew because of blows? I wouldn't forcefully ask for it since this woman doesn't like me. I'll give her to you, so can you just let us off the hook?" The initially arrogant Wilton knelt on the ground as his legs turned to jelly when he saw Jack. He bitterly begged Jack.

"Yes, young man. It's our fault, and we won't force her into marriage anymore! You can't actually blame everything about this on us, right? After all, we had a marriage arrangement. Brother, I heard that you're Miss Shirley's boyfriend, and we shouldn't have severed your relationship. We'll give her to you!" Todd had cold sweat all over his forehead, terrified as he knelt before Jack helplessly.

Jack smiled indifferently and came in front of them. "Didn't I say it just now? I'm only Miss Shirley's friend, but I can't stand the sight of powerful people bullying others, forcing others to marry them, so egging me right now will be useless!" Jack paused here before speaking word by word, "After all, I did say that if you dare force her to marry you, I'll wipe out the entire Norton family and give all your properties to the Lancaster family."No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1136

Both Todd and Wilton collapsed directly onto the floor after they heard what Jack had said. Their faces turned grey and went pale from being frightened.

Step by step, Jack walked closer to them causing cold sweat to break across their foreheads. The aura of death pressed against them that they could hardly breathe.

“Bastard, come out and accept your death!” At this moment, a loud yell could be heard from the entrance. The voice was like a loud bell ringing and it slowly entered everybody’s ears.

“Who knew that there would be a semi-god level master in this Soul City!” Jack could feel that this was definitely a master of the semi-god level just by listening to the voice.

Only a master of the semi-god level could do something like this.

However, a semi-god level was nothing in the eyes of Jack, who was already at the beginning stage of the real god level.

“It’s…it’s the clan master of the Green Dragon Clan. Oh my god, Jack has offended people from the Green Dragon Clan?” Xavien was immediately frightened when he heard this voice.

The smile on his face disappeared and was replaced by a frightened expression.

However, nothing worried him when he thought about it. At least the Norton family masters and most of the bodyguards were dead. The rest must have escaped after they heard of the news. Only Wilton and Todd, who had no followers with them, were left behind. Under such circumstances, it was impossible for them to threaten Shirley into marrying into their family.

As for Jack, although he did a great favor for their family, it was not a loss for them if he died. After all, the person who offended the Green Dragon Clan was Jack and not the Lancaster family. He was sure that the Green Dragon Clan would not involve them.

“What? Green Dragon Clan?” Todd and Wilton, who were awaiting their deaths, grew excited when they heard that the people from the Green Dragon Clan were here.

They had no idea that Jack had offended such a powerful clan. The Green Dragon Clan was an extremely powerful clan in Soul City. It was obvious that Jack was suicidal if he offended them.

At this moment, Todd and Wilton saw the glimmer of hope for them to survive.

“These three are really strong but how did they offend the Green Dragon Clan?” Many people were also stunned.

“Jack, I heard that three people killed Mountain Tiger yesterday and members of the Green Dragon Clan were searching for them all over the place. Were they looking for the three of you?” Shirley, who already made everything out, could not help but walked two steps forward and asked carefully.

Jack nodded. “I originally planned to leave Soul City after helping you. I have no idea that the people of Green Dragon Clan would find us so quickly!”

Shirley frowned and apologized after she heard this. “I’m so sorry. If it wasn’t for what happened to me, you guys would have left earlier on and you would not have attracted so much trouble. I am the one who caused all these troubles for you guys!”

Jack smiled carefreely. “What are you talking about? I will fulfill what I promised you. Apart from that, so what if the people from the Green Dragon Clan are here? We are not afraid!”

“Haha… Young man, you’re really crazy to not be afraid of the Green Dragon Clan. Don’t you know that not only is the clan master, a master of the semi-god level, two other elders of the clan are also in the initial stage of the semi-god level!”

Todd stood up and laughed loudly as he spoke. “You actually said that you aren’t afraid when there are three semi-god level masters together with so many grandmasters and martial artists? I’m telling the three of you that you guys are definitely dead today!”

Chapter 1137

At this moment, Wilton also stood up and smiled arrogantly. “Jack, oh Jack… I’m sure you had no idea that Mountain Tiger, whom you killed, is a member of the Green Dragon Clan? You actually dared to not leave this place? You’re really daring! Haha.. It doesn’t matter if I get killed by you right now. After all, you guys will definitely die together with me! Sigh, the gods must be looking after the Norton family for letting me know before I die that you’re going to die as well!”

“Haha… You were shivering on the floor like a rat who bumped into a cat just now! Who knew that you would start to act arrogantly again after a short while?” Jack started laughing loudly at this moment. “Don’t worry, I don’t need to kill you first. I will kill the people from the Green Dragon Clan before coming back to kill you. I will make you understand why you’re dying and who are the people you cannot offend!”

“Alright, young man! You said this!” Todd’s eyes lit up when he heard this. If Jack took action right now, he could totally kill both of them right now. Who knew that Jack would choose to kill the people from the Green Dragon Clan first. This guy was being too arrogant.

Maybe Jack would be killed first and then the both of them would be able to survive.

How could Todd be unhappy when he saw the chance to stay alive?

“Nonsense, are you the one who did this if it’s not me?” Jack smiled coldly and stared at him.

“Young man, you really are here, Two men and a woman…” Soon, a group of people entered and there were around two hundred people. They turned many of the tables over and emptied a large piece of land out.

The Green Dragon Clan master was stunned and stopped speaking halfway. “Aren’t you guys here to attend the wedding ceremony? It looks like you guys are here to cause trouble!”

“Clan master, it really is you!” Todd spoke in excitement when he saw the Green Dragon Clan master. “Clan Master Zell, this guy killed our people after he arrived here. You have to help us kill them!”

Wilton also whined as he complained. “Yes! Apart from that, look at this, our seven-star King of War was also killed by them. This King of War contributed a lot during the war and doesn’t it send chills down your spine when you learn that they’ve killed him?”

“Cut the crap. Do we need you guys to tell us this? This guy killed our helpful subordinate, Mountain Tiger so he definitely has to die!” An elder from the Green Dragon Clan stepped forward and looked at the three who were in front of him. “The three of you, tell me your names and we will make sure that your body is intact after you die!”

“Haha… Keep our dead bodies intact? That would depend if you are that capable!” Ethan smiled coldly after he heard this. He flipped his hands and a sword appeared.

Lana also smiled coldly and as she flipped her hand, a purple-colored sword appeared in her palm and it was shining softly.

Jack also took his black color dragon-shaped sword out and held it tightly in his hand. “There are many of them and we can save time if we attack with sword auras!”

“Haha… I’ve been alive for many years and this is the first time I’ve seen such an arrogant person!” The old man also took his sword out when he heard what they said. “Young man, Mountain Tiger is my grandson and I will kill you today to avenge him!”

Chapter 1138

"No wonder...no wonder you would stand forward so quickly!" Jack smiled and stepped forward. "Fine, if that's the case. I'll give you a chance and let's fight one on one!"

Lana, who was beside them, spoke. "You're really shameless. We bought the item at the auction house. Your grandson did not want us to leave since he failed to win the bid so he planned to snatch it by force. It's true that his grandfather is not a good person too!"

Ethan, on the other hand, said." These are people from the clan, how good can they be? It's good to kill this group of useless bastards as we're helping Soul City to clean up its trash and make the lives of the Soul City's occupants better!"

"Shameless boasts!" The old man' s face turned red from anger. He directly jumped up and cut toward Jack with his sword." Look out!"

An extremely sharp sword aura rushed directly toward Jack as the old man waved his sword. There was some faint Chi mixed among with the sword aura!

"You really are a master who's at the initial stage of the semi-god level. This is a really powerful attack!"

Jack spoke coldly after he took a look. He then directly waved his hand and an equally scary sword aura rushed toward the other party.

Whoosh!

The sword aura was absolutely scary and flew forward in a flash, turning into a ray of light.

Bomb!

The next second, both sword aura collided and emitted a dazzling light. The powerful energy fluctuation scared many people into backing away.

The attacks from the masters of the semi-god level were so scary!

"This is impossible! How can this guy's attack be so strong? Could he also possess the fighting prowess of a semi-god level?" The old man originally thought that even though Jack and the two worked together to kill a seven-star King of War, none of them have achieved the semi-god level yet. Hence, it should be an easy task for him to kill Jack.

He soon felt that the movement in Jack's attack was slightly stronger than his attack waves.

Rumble!

The rumbling noise was still continuing. The old man's attack was continuously being used up while there was still some leftover power in Jack's attack. That power arrived in front of the old man in a flash.

"What?! There is still some power left?" The old man's eyeballs almost dropped when he saw it. If this attack landed on him, he would be terribly hurt even if he did not die.

His facial expression changed as he was frightened and he immediately blocked it with his sword.

Bang!

Jack's attack arrived and hit his sword so hard at the very moment he used the sword to block himself.

The strong power suddenly trembled and the sword hummed. Blood flowed from the man's hand that was holding the sword as the web between the old man's thumb and finger broke from the tremble.

The old man directly walked several steps forward before finally stopping.

Puff! Puff!

However, he had just stopped when he felt a tingling feeling in his throat and then vomited a mouthful of blood again. He had suffered some internal injuries.

"Such a strong attack!" The old man was secretly dumbstruck and his eyes were filled with disbelief. The young man in front of him had a sword aura of similar length as him but the young man' s attack power was double of his.

"It looks like we've met with a master today!" The Green Dragon Clan master originally had a playful expression on his face but it slowly turned into a dignified one. He took out his sword and waved it. "Everybody, attack!"

Whoosh!

Chapter 1139

Suddenly, all the fighters flew upward and got ready to kill Jack and the others.

A smile tinged Jack's lips as he watched the black circle in the sky. He concentrated his chi toward his sword.

Buzz!

Together with the chi, the sword in Jack's hand emitted a light buzzing and vibration. Blackcolored air blades lingered upward.

"Black air blades? And there's chi too!"

All color drained from the master of the Green Dragon Clan's face when he saw this. Jack seemed like he was going to use his chi to attack directly. This was a skill that was beyond any blade technique. Only a fighter of the true god status could conjure an attack like that.

"Blade wave!"

Jack cast an impassive glance toward the black-clothed men from Green Dragon Clan, who all leaped into the air. He swiped his blade toward them.

In a flash, a black wave coursed toward them at a blinding speed. The chi-infused air blade was extremely powerful.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The wet crunch of explosions rang out, and the men who had leaped up were suddenly cleaved into halves. Their bodies fell onto the ground.

Blood suddenly cloyed the air, frightening many guests at the wedding. They all released yelps and dodged into corners.

Some of those who were more frightened fainted on the spot.

"My God. What technique is that? He just killed over seventy people in one go!"

Somebody cried out after he saw Jack's attack.

"God, that truly is an off-body chi attack. That's not bladework. The attack is too strong. Is that the power of a fighter of the true god status?"

Somebody was so shocked that their mind went blank. They were actually witnessing a fighter of the true god status.

"No way. He's of the true god status!"

The master of the Green Dragon Clan was so scared that his knees trembled. The entire Clan was no match even for a single fighter from the true god status. If the three of them were semi-god fighters at the advanced or peak stage, they could still give Jack a run for his money. However, among the three of them, two were at the beginning stage of the semi-god status, and the other was at the intermediate stage.

They were no match for Jack.

Furthermore, the other two people with him were probably strong fighters as well.

Whoosh whoosh!

While everybody was still in shock, Lana and Ethan rushed out and killed another few dozens of people with their air blades.

"Those two are probably just as strong as Master!"

The elder's face had gone ashen. He never thought that the Green Dragon Clan would fall because of these three people.

"I told you that he's really strong, Father. R-right?"

Shirley, who was standing to the side, gulped nervously. She felt as though she was dreaming.

She was eternally grateful toward Jack, who had saved her as promised, and she was indebted to him.

However, she soon found out that Jack and his friends had offended the Green Dragon Clan. This made her worried-she had thought that Jack had lost the chance to escape Soul City and that she had sentenced Jack to death.

She never thought that the events that unfolded before her would put her on such a rollercoaster ride. Jack was actually powerful far more powerful than she had expected.

"Witnessing this scene, even if I die it is worth it!"

At the entrance, Master Zimmer and the King of War who is a miracle doctor happened to saw this spectacular sight after coming over. The two were extremely excited.

"Is that the strength of the Supreme Warrior and the God of War? They are so powerful!"

Master Zimmer gulped and exclaimed.

Chapter 1140

"Supreme Warrior? God of War?"

Someone who happened to be standing by the entrance took a sharp intake of breath after hearing this.

"No wonder I sensed something different about their auras! I never thought that he was the Supreme Warrior!"

Someone exclaimed.

"Sis, I heard someone saying that they're the Supreme Warrior and the Gods of War! Jack must be the former because he's so strong. My God. The Supreme Warrior is my idol!"

Hendrix rushed over to Shirley's side after he heard that. He was so excited that he was practically bouncing.

"He's so cool. I want to marry him!"

Shirley looked moonstruck as she watched Jack's silhouette.

However, she was well aware that she was just an ordinary girl. She was no match for the Supreme Warrior.

He was the man of plenty of girls' dreams.

"That kid is actually the Supreme Warrior..."

Xavien's voice was trembling. He was wondering if he had heard wrong. Before, he had wondered if the kid would actually show up because he was afraid of the Norton family.

He never thought that he would actually turn out to be the Supreme Warrior.

"Keep it down, Dad. Who are you calling a kid? You'll have mobs coming after you if you call him that!"

Hendrix immediately turned sullen when he heard that. He reminded his father with a stony face.

"Heh. You're right. I was too excited. I didn't know what to say

Xavien was internally speechless.

"Did you hear that? Wilton, the people we've offended this time are a Supreme Warrior and two Gods of War!"

The father and son of the Norton family were so frightened that they plopped onto the floor, once they found out. They were goners this time.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

The battle before them raged just as fiercely as before.

Yet the people from Green Dragon Clan were all quickly killed. In a few moments, only the heavilyinjured master and the two elders were still standing. The rest were dead.

"What now? Do you still think that we're no match for you?"

Jack flashed a bitter smile toward the trio before him. He spoke softly.

"We were unlucky to run into the Supreme Warrior and the Gods of War!"

The master clenched his teeth." But I'm a man, so I must die a glorious death!"

After he said that, he swiped his blade across his own neck and committed suicide.

Slick slick!

The cool steel of the blades flash ed, and blood sprayed across the air. The two other elders committed suicide as well.

"Father..."

Wilton took up a sword from the ground and looked at his father's body. "It was my fault," he said.“ The Norton family wouldn't have fallen like this if I hadn't tried to force Shirley into marrying me!"

"No, It was my fault. I shouldn't have let you do whatever you wanted all these years!"

Todd was remorseful as well. After he said that, he gritted his teeth and committed suicide too.

With his father dead, Wilton also killed himself.

"At least you were a man when you died!"

Jack gave a cold smile at this scene. "Looks like a man will only be truthful when he's about to die!"

"Mr. Supreme Warrior! Gods of War!"

Master Zimmer immediately brought his people over and bowed toward Jack and the others.

"Thank you, Mr. Supreme Warrior and the Gods of War!"No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1141-1145

Chapter 1141

Everyone fell to their knees as well, admiration and gratitude on their faces.

Jack was speechless. He raised his hand toward them. "On your feet!"

After everyone stood up, he spoke to Master Zimmer, "We have business to attend to, Master Zimmer. We can't stay for long. Please take care of the bodies here. The businesses of the Green Dragon Clan have been reverted to the Zimmer family now. Tell them that I, the Supreme Warrior, said this if anyone asks!"

Here, he turned his head to look at Shirley and the others. "Meanwhile, the businesses of the Norton family are reverted to the Lancaster family!"

"Don't worry, Supreme Warrior. We know what to do!"

Master Zimmer was elated. With those words, the Zimmer family could become a powerful family in Starvane City.

Of course, since Jack said that the Zimmer family might have to watch over the Lancaster family as well. After all, the Zimmer family had been able to reap the benefits with no efforts because Jack had saved Shirley Lancaster.

After Jack thought about it, he added, "Right, we ruined this hotel. We can't just let this issue slide. Help me compensate the boss with one billion bucks!"

The hotel boss and his staff were at the entrance. They had been thinking that they could only bow to their misfortune. After all, they were not lacking money, opening such a big hotel.

After hearing Jack's words, they were touched. "You truly think of us commoners, Supreme Warrior!" they cried out.

"Hah. All right. We should get going. I'll see you when I see you!"

Jack laughed and kept his sword. He got ready to leave with Lana and Ethan.

"Wait!"

At this moment, Shirley could not contain her excitement any longer. She rushed toward Jack and said, "You said that we're friends. I didn't even get to thank you!"

"I'm just helping out a friend. No need to thank me."

Jack gave a wan smile. He studied the young woman clad in a wedding dress before him. He had to admit that she was good-looking.

"I have to!"

Shirley pursed her lips. She seemed slightly angry.

"All right then!"

Jack shrugged his shoulders helplessly.

He never thought that Shirley's cheeks would redden; she tiptoed and planted a kiss on his cheek." All right," she whispered shyly. "I' m done thanking you!"

Jack was stunned. He never thought this would happen.

"Ah, that girl..."

Xavien shook his head and smiled as he watched this. It seemed that his daughter's heart had truly been moved.

"I'm going off first!"

Jack's cheeks reddened as well. He walked forward.

"Thank you!"

Shirley grinned as she watched him leave. She could never be with him, but she believed that the memory of this brave kiss would always remain as a beautiful image in her life.

There may even be plenty of other girls who admired her bravery in the future.

Shirley kept staring at the entrance long even after Jack and the others had left. Her lips were curved into a sweet smile.

"I have something good here, Sis. Heh. But you'll have to pay for it!"

Hendrix ran over at this moment and spoke, grinning.

"I have to pay you? Dream on!"

Shirley rolled her eyes. "You even told me to marry that useless Wilton. Consider yourself lucky that I'm not putting you in debt!"

"Sis, I never thought that he'd be such a rotten character!"

Hendrix put on an innocent expression. "Besides, I did it for the Lancaster family. I had no choice!"

After he said that, he probed further, "Are you sure you don't want this? I took a picture of the moment you kissed the Supreme Warrior. You sure you don't want the photo? If not, I'll delete it!"

Chapter 1142

"Really? Are you lying to me?"

Shirley was delighted when she heard this. It would be fantastic if she had a picture to commemorate the occasion.

Besides, plenty of her friends would be very envious if she showed such a picture to them.

Hendrix quickly thrust his phone toward her. The picture had been taken at the perfect moment-just as Shirley was kissing Jack's face. The lighting in the background created a dreamlike effect.

"What do you think? I'm not bad, eh? This picture is perfect!"

Hendrix was happy when he saw the smile on his sister's face.

"How much is it?"

Shirley's smile was absolutely radiant. She looked like a young woman blossoming into life at the moment.

"Heh. I was joking. I don't have the guts to ask you for money. Since the Norton family's businesses are now ours, and you helped us a ton!"

Hendrix chuckled. "You were amazing, being able to recognize that Jack is such a powerful man! It's a pity that he's out of our league. I'd want to marry him if I were a girl, never mind you. It's a pity, but we'll just chalk all of this up to fate!"

"You've really grown through this incident. You're so much more mature than before!"

Shirley stared at her little brother. She was taken aback by his words.

At that moment, Jack and the others had arrived at the airport.

"Heh. I never thought you would have a mini affair here in Starvane, Master!"

Lana gave a sneaky smile as she watched Jack.

His stupefied expression when he had been kissed really tickled her bones.

She never thought that the Number 1 Supreme Warrior of Cathysia-and its only Supreme Warrior-would be so flummoxed in such situations!

"Heh. What affair? We're just friends. It's nothing... Don't spout nonsense when you get back!"

Jack suddenly felt awkward and nervous when he heard that.

"It's nothing? Do you really think that a woman will simply kiss another man? She's the first daughter of the Lancaster family and has never been in love before. That beauty actually kissed you. Do you think she thinks you as' just a friend'?"

Lana could not resist jabbing Jack when she saw his expression. Honestly, she herself had been surprised at the moment, and she admired the girl for her guts.

"Anyway, don't let my wife know about this. She might misunderstand me! I really have nothing going on with Miss Lancaster!"

Jack reminded them.

"Hah. Don't worry, Master. We've been by your side all this time. We won't testify even if Selena finds out. Besides, being kissed by a girl just means that you're attractive, Master. And you're not the forward type, are you?"

Ethan also grinned. "But I'm sure that you'll have another wife if you were a little more forward,

Master!"

Lana rolled her eyes at him. "He's not a two-timing man like that. Miss Tanya and Miss Sharon would have long been with him if he loved women more!"

After she said that, she studied Jack's face. "Eh, there's still traces of lipstick on your face, Master," she said. "It's not obvious, but you can tell it's there if you look closely!"

Chapter 1143

Jack took a sharp intake of breath when he heard this. “Where?” he said, panicking. “Help me wipe it off quickly!”

Lana could not help but grin at his flustered demeanor. She took out a piece of wet tissue. “Don’t worry,” she said. “I’ve got wet tissue here. I’ll wipe it off for you!”

As she spoke, she pressed the wet tissue against Jack’s face and carefully wiped the lipstick stain off.

The two were very close. Lana’s heart pounded wildly as she was mere inches away from Jack’s handsome profile.

After a while, she stepped backward, her cheeks slightly flushed. “All-all done!”

“Thank you!”

Jack nodded his head. “It’s about time. Let’s go. We should get back. Everything went by very smoothly, and we’ve got all the herbs we need. We can find a proper antidote for my father now.”

“All right. Let’s go!”

Lana threw the wet tissue into a trashcan nearby. The three quickly got onto the plane and left.

At that moment, in the White family’s estate.

Lily’s expression was grim. She called Dean and Yolanda. “What’s going on? It’s already been a few days. You still can’t find Jack? Which branch family did he go to? You two had better think of a way to kill him, understand? And you can’t let the members of the branch families witness it!”

On the other side of the phone, Dean flashed a bitter smile. “First Madam, we’ve visited over a dozen branch families over these past few days, and it shouldn’t have been a problem catching up to Jack, with our speed. But we don’t know why the branch families are all saying that Jack never came over. Not even one!”

“No way. Jack and his friends should have visited at least half of the branch families by now. No way that the ones you visited all so happened to be the ones he hasn’t visited yet.”

Lily’s features abruptly darkened after she heard that. She scrunched her brows together No. We’ve been fooled!”

“We’ve been fooled? How?”

Dean was confused.

“We’ve been fooled by Jack. That brat never had any intention to visit the branch families. He must have gone to some other place. He must have revealed that bit of information to us on purpose!”

The more Lily thought about it, the angrier she felt. It was highly likely that that was the case. After all,

Dean and Yolanda should have caught up to Jack a long time ago, with their strength. Even if they could not catch up, they should have been able to find him at the branch families.

Yet they had not seen hide nor hair of Jack and his friends even after visiting so many branch families. That was why they must have fallen into a trap.

“Sh*t. So you’re saying that he was just toying around with us?”

Dean was so angry that he wanted to spew blood. He was a fighter at the beginner stage of the true god status, and he had been led in circles by the nose.

“That’s right. That brat never went to the branch families. You’ve wasted your time and energy!” Lily was internally speechless as well. She felt sorry for Dean and Yolanda since it was her who had ordered them on this wild goose chase.

However, she had no way around it. How could she have known that Jack was so cunning that he would spread a false rumor just to trick them?

“Basically, this kid is being cautious against you!”

Dean released a sigh. Jack does not look very matured however credit must be given for his wits.

Chapter 1144

Lily nodded her head slowly. "It was my mistake. I had been very much against him since he arrived at the White family.

He must be suspecting that I had ordered the White family members to kill him. That's why he's on his guard. It won't be easy to kill him now!"

"That's right. He would not have thought that it was you who sent people after him at the beginning. But once he came here, it was you who most vehemently disliked his presence, so of course, he would suspect you. First Madam, if you had shown that you could accept him from the start, and if you had been nicer toward him he would never have suspected

Here, Dean paused for a while before continuing, "This way, it would be far easier to act against him, since he has no walls around you."

The realization shook Lily's core, but she knew that it was too late." Ah, can't do anything about it now. You know what my temper is like. I don't know if Lance is dead or alive, and Jack snatched the head of the house position just like that. How could I have been able to hold it in?"

She paused before continuing. That brat is my nemesis. How can I put on a smiling mask before my nemesis?"

Since the call was on hands-free mode, Yolanda heard everything clearly.

Only did she found out that Lily was the one who sent assassins after Jack. She was such a vicious woman.

Meanwhile, Jack was able to return to the White family and become the house heir. Now, he had fooled them all. It was clear that he was clever.

She wanted to tell Lily to let go of her grudges, but she was well aware that it was an impossible task.

"What do we do now, First Madam? Since we've been fooled, returns? Then we'll be waiting in vain."

Dean was aghast. "There must be a time limit to this, First Madam," he said reluctantly. "We can't just keep waiting."

Lily thought that his words made sense too. She spoke after a moment of silence, "I think Nash has two months to live at most," she said. “No matter where Jack goes, he won't abandon his father when he's on his death bed. It's possible that he'll return soon. So you'll need to keep watch for two months at most. You may return if he doesn't show up after two months."

Dean thought about it, then spoke, smiling, "First Madam, this won't be a problem, but we're exhaust RE MASTER after running around these few days for nothing. We'll have to get more compensation if you're asking us to keep watch for two months. We should talk more about the fees!"

Lily was speechless for a while." Don't worry. I'll give you two stalks of first-grade premium spirited grass. That'll work, right?"

Two stalks of first-grade premium spirited grass was a very tempting offer.

Yet Lily never thought that Dean would speak these words, "Two stalks? First Madam, you should at least give us three stalks for this, no?"

"Three? If I give you three each, I'll be giving you six in total! You should just rob me!"

Chapter 1145

Lily burned with anger at the other end of the phone. "What happens if you fail? What if Jack gets away?" She bellowed.

Dean immediately assured Lily. "Don't you worry. If we failed the task and let that brat get away, we won't be taking a single spirited grass at all! But if we succeed, then you must give each of us three spirited grass, how about that?"

"No way! It's too much. The best I could offer is two spirited grass per person!"

After Lily gave the matter some thought, she still felt that three spirited grass per person was a little bit too much.

Besides, she was the First Madam, she should be respected.

Dean was too insatiable right now. Lily had given him spirited grass before, and she did not expect that this time Dean had asked for three first -grade premium spirited grass instead.

"Oh, is that so? In that case, First Madam, I'm sorry that I couldn't serve you this time."

Dean sneered coldly and continued, "Yolanda and I returned in a critical period - when the weather has begun to turn cold.

Moreover, we'll be incarcerated in the ghostlike mountain top for two months and all this suffering is not even worth three spirited grass. So, I'm afraid that we'd pull out from this plan!"

Dean understood the situation thoroughly. The current Lily was overpowered with hatred and anger that she could not wait to end Jack's life in the next second. Hence, he knew that Lily would not want to miss such an opportunity-Jack left the main White residence.

Once she missed it, there would be no opportunity as good as this in the future anymore.

As expected, Lily was in a state of panic when Dean wanted to pull out of the plan. "Don't, don't! Everything is negotiable!

Three spirited grass, I can give them to you, but you have to promise me to keep this a secret, okay?"

"Don't worry, it's safe with us!"

Dean smiled the second Lily agreed to their request. "Alright then, that's the deal! First Madam, please be rest assured and wait for the good news!"

"Alright. I'm not too worry about the both of you, you two are powerful fighters who already reached the early stage of the true god realm. It shouldn't be much of a challenge to kill that brat and his little friends. But please do keep a close eye while you're waiting on the mountain! Don't miss them!"

Lily nodded and only then did she hang up the phone.

After hanging up the phone, Lily could not help but jeered icily," Dean Lagorio, what a greedy fox! Yolanda didn't even think about getting a reward, but he is sly and knows what to ask. Three firstgrade premium spirited grass? Hmph!"

Dean, on the other end of the line, looked at Yolanda on the side and laughed, "Yolanda, don't you think your brother is smart and great? I' m able to get a better deal with just one phone call. If we let the old hag Lily offer us, she wouldn't make such an offer and twospirited grass would be her limit!"

Yolanda gave a reluctant smile and said, "You're indeed smart and great. The offer is indeed very tempting."

"Hehe! You have to buy me a drink to thank me then! This is what I fought for you. You just stood aside and didn't say a word!"

Dean paused for a few seconds and continued.

"You've said what I've wanted to say! What else do I have to say!"

Yolanda rolled her eyes at Dean before flying into the sky and said, "Let's go, we have to speed up too, otherwise we might miss out on the other party if he arrived home today!"No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1146-1150

Chapter 1146

"Hahaha! You're right, Yolanda! Let's go!"

Dean flew up to the sky together with Yolanda. Looking at Yolanda' s delicate figure from behind, Dean could not help but swallow his saliva hard.

This woman possessed an alluring body figure-plump chest, slender waist, and full b*tt cheeks. When she flew in the air, the lock of black hair flew according to the wind current, how fascinating!

Although she was not as alluring and charming as Jack's wife and his friend, among the people he knew, her body and features were one of the few.

"My dear Yolanda, I'll own you one day! Then I'll sleep with you and you'll obey me! You'll be my obedient little woman beside me!"

Gazing at the back of Yolanda, Dean thought while smiling to himself.

As both did not stop for a break, they arrived at the top of the high mountain hill only a few miles away from the main residence of the White family in the afternoon.

"Yolanda, I found that you're not much of a talker, are you? You didn't talk all the way here! You're too aloof and indifferent, don't you think so?"

Dean asked as he sat on a huge boulder with a green bristlegrass between his lips.

"Is it? Indeed, I prefer quietness and serenity. But indifference is not the word."

Yolanda smiled bitterly, then the space went silent again. Yolanda pondered about something and suddenly she turned to Dean," Dean, I truly think that Jack is incomparably smart and talented. For example, like this time, although he had tricked us, I have to admit that if such a person could be the head of the White family, he would definitely be able to develop and make the White family stronger and better, don't you think so?"

Dean nodded in return to show his agreement. "Indeed, in terms of talent and intelligence, even in all aspects, Jack is a step above Lance, there's no doubt about it!"

Yolanda was happy and her eyes lit up immediately upon hearing Dean's words. "Really? You really think so too?"

"Of course! I'm not a fool, naturally, I can see it!"

Dean responded casually though he was a little puzzled as to why Yolanda would say that.

"Hmmm... How about this? Let's not kill Jack and forget about the deal?"

Yolanda looked at Dean and asked in a tentative tone. "Think about it, Master White is dying, and if Young Master Jack dies too, then who's going to be the head of the White family in the future? Although First Madam holds the belief that Young Master Lance is still alive, we all know that he's dead.

As for Young Master Hudson, he is ten times worse than Jack!" Yolanda added.

Dean's expression dulled in the next second upon hearing Yolanda 's words. "Yolanda, how can you think like that?

Think harder about it, we've promised the First Madam to kill Jack, if we didn't do it, then we've offended the First Madam!

Secondly, even if we don't kill Jack and let him go, the First Madam will have other people go after him anyways!"

Dean halted for a moment and continued, “Besides, you and I are both Lagorios, we're part of the Lagorio family. Thanks to the First Madam, we're able to have what we have today, to become the Patronums of a great reclusive family. We must repay her kindness toward us too. Besides, Jack is merely an outsider who came from a secular world. He's an illegitimate son of White, so I think it's best to kill him!"

Yolanda was rendered speechless. She had wanted to convince Dean to give up, but to her surprise, Dean possessed no such intention at all.

However, she was still holding on to some hope and said to Dean with a determined voice, "In fact, we can pretend that we missed out on Jack and the others; we didn't manage to find them. In such a way, we won't offend the First Madam, at the same time, Jack and the others can live, right? We can just think of a reasonable excuse like Jack and his friends use the other route and so on. That's logical and reasonable!"

“No, no, no, Yolanda, you can't think like that. Okay, even if we aren't Lagorios, Jack is worth killing for the sake of the three first-grade premium spirited grass! We should kill them!"

Chapter 1147

Dean said smilingly in an icy cold tone, "Do you not want us to be able to break through to the middle or even late stage of the true god realm sooner? We're geniuses who are considered relatively young. If we are able to break through, we'll be promoted to elders in no time! Besides, Jack is destined to die, whether it's killed by us or others. So don't try to persuade me anymore."

"Well, I just feel that it's quite a pity for such an intelligent and talented person to die. After all, Nash White is a good leader, and he has always been good and kind to us. He didn't treat us as outsiders at all!"

Yolanda peeped at Dean as she said, she was still fighting as hard as she could

Yolanda was having inner turmoil lately because she truly did not want to see a fine and potential heir of the White family be murdered by them.

She felt especially sorry for Jack's father. On top of that, she had also witnessed the greatness and excellence of Jack these days, hence she really admired and respected Jack from the bottom of her heart.

Lance was nowhere to be found right now, and nobody knew if he was dead or alive. If Jack died too, then no one would be the family head, by then internal war and fight over the position of the family head would be unavoidable. The White family took a lot to become one of the Eight Reclusive Families, it would be such a waste to see it get ruined because of this.

At this time, three silhouettes appeared within their sight.

"There are three people over there. Look, two men and one woman. Heh! It must be Jack and his little friends!"

On a narrow and rough road, came a group of three, pacing slowly toward the direction of Dean and Yolanda. Dean shot up from the boulder with a happy face.

Dean laughed out loud. “They are like three walking spirited grass! Let's go, Yolanda!"

Dean stomped on his feet and flew straight in the direction of the mountain foot as soon as he finished his sentence.

"Sigh!"

Yolanda, on the other hand, heaved a huge sigh of defeat, and then she followed closely behind Dean.

As soon as Jack and the two passed through a forest, they spotted Dean and Yolanda, who were standing in front of them, waiting for them.

"You guys are from the White family, right?"

Jack looked at the other party and halted immediately. "Oh wow! I didn't expect someone to be waiting for us here!"

Dean, however, clasped his arms in front of his chest and jeered with a cold smile, "Young Master Jack, you're quite observant, aren't you? It's only during the competition in the White family that perhaps you've seen both of us in the crowd. I didn't expect you to recognize us as members of the White family!"

Dean stopped for a second before continuing with a confident tone," Indeed, we're from the White family, but our surname is Lagorio, now you know what's the deed, right?

We're waiting for you here and you should know why we 're here"

Chapter 1148

“Heh! If I remember correctly, you two should still be the Patronums of the White family, right?"

Jack gave a wan smile, looking unconcerned. “Two guardians of the White family came all the way here for me, surely you didn't come here to say hi to me. So, most likely you're here to kill me, right?" Jack stared at both of them nonchalantly.

"Clever! You're very clever, aren't you? You know what we came here for!"

Dean snorted coldly, "We're Lagorios, we've no choice. First Madam introduced us to the White family and for us to work as Patronum. We've to repay First Madam's kindness to us, besides, the benefits she is offering us for killing you are attractive. Anyhow, we should kill you."

"Hahaha! Moreover, you guys are not on good terms with me, nor do you have a good relationship with me, right?"

Jack chimed in and finished Dean' s sentence. “But, it's really good for you guys to tell me that First Madam has her target on my back? Aren't you afraid that you won't be able to kill me, and I'll get away?" Jack continued.

"Nah, even if we don't say it, you'll know who's behind this. Besides both of us are strong fighters with true god level. It's easy-peasy for us to kill the three of you. Furthermore, you can't even control the chi and use it to attack, and your flying speed is definitely not as fast as ours, how on earth are you going fight with us or even escape from us?"

Dean spoke confidently with an unperturbed tone. He then flipped his palm and a fine sword appeared in his hand.

“Kiddo, anyhow, I admire your bravery and intelligence. You tricked us and made us merry-go-round, traveling from one branch to another branch doing nothing. But, I guess you didn't expect that we found out your dirty trick this early and are waiting here for your return, right? Hehe! Today I'll send you to the underworld with my own hands!"

When the last syllabus of Dean's word ended, he held firmly the sword and shook his arm-flows of chi inoculated into the fine sword in his hand.

Bang!

However, little did everyone on the scene knows, a palm with terrifying force blasted in Dean's back. It was from Yolanda.

"Pfft!"

A mouthful of blood was spurted out of Dean's mouth and he eventually fell to the ground, spilling another mouthful of blood onto the ground.

This blast had wounded Dean severely. He used almost all his strength only then barely managed to roll himself over and face upward. He looked at Yolanda in disbelief, "Yolanda, why did you do that? How dare you strike at me!"

This scene was something that Jack, Lana, and Ethan did not expect. Their eyes went wide and filled with surprise.

"Dean, I'm sorry. Master White is a good leader and he has always treated us well. Besides, I don't want to see a talented man fall here. If he dies, the White family sooner or later will be ruined!"

Yolanda took out her fine sharp sword and slowly paced toward Dean. Her eyes are guileless yet intense. "I believe in Young Master Jack's leadership skill and under his leadership, the White family will grow stronger and go further. I can't stand to watch the only hope of the White family end in our hands!"

Once Yolanda ended her sentence, she shut her eyes firmly and swung her arm in the direction of Dean who was lying on the ground.

Swoosh!

A sword aura shot out and Dean's life was ended.

"Yolanda Lagorio?"

Chapter 1149

The corners of Jack's mouth curled upward. "I didn't see this coming. I didn't expect this Pratonum to take our side this time. She did her job as a protector of the White family!"

Yolanda put away the sword in her hand then she bowed to Jack, "I was in a huge dilemma for a long time, but in the end, I couldn' t bring myself to kill you. So, I hope that Young Master Jack, you'll train harder and grow up quicker, and not make me regret my decision today!"

Jack nodded and studied the woman in front of him. She could tell right from wrong and pick a right side. "Don't worry. I will not let their treacherous plans succeed!"

Jack paused for a moment then continued, "Hmmm…but right now, you failed the task given by Lily!"

Yolanda had thought about it before. "I have no other choice but to do this. After I return to her, I'll report that you have already reached the early stage of the true god realm and you're stronger than both of us combined together. Dean was too careless and gullible that he was killed by you. And I barely managed to get away from three of you. Sounds good?" She suggested.

Before Jack could intervene, Yolanda spoke again in a hurried tone, "But if I report to her this way, Young Master Jack, after your return this time, you can't leave the White's main residence anytime as you wish anymore. Otherwise, the First Madam would definitely find someone else to slit your throat, then your real fighting prowess will be exposed."

"Besides, I truly hope that you'll be able to break through to the true god realm as soon as possible so that the First Madam will not suspect my story!" Yolanda added.

After hearing Yolanda's words, Jack tried his very best to hold back his laughter but he failed. He waved his palm and suddenly terrifying wave of chi shot out from his palm and blew off a large tree not far away from the group.

“What the…”

Yolanda’s eyes went wide as large as saucers and her jaw nearly touched the ground. “You…you’re already in the true god realm?” She asked in a surprised tone.

“Haha! I’ve never said that I was at the peak of the semi-god realm! That’s just what you all think. I’m actually at the early stage of the true god realm. But, just in case, this time going back to the White’s main residence, I should try to reach the middle stage of the true god realm. So that if anything happens in the White family, I have the ability to protect myself.”

Jack chortled aloud. Since Yolanda had not thought of betraying the White family, and she even went out to offend Lily to help him, he did not intend to continue hiding his true strength from this Pratronum.

He should at least let the other party trust him and have hope in him so that the other party felt worthy for what she just did.

“Oh my, I didn’t expect that you’re already at the early stage of the true god level. Judging from the richness and thickness of your chi just now, I think even if Dean and I really fought you, we might not be your opponent, right?”

After Yolanda thought about it, she could only laugh at herself bitterly in her heart. Nevertheless, she somewhat was a little glad for her decision just now, if they really fought, it was highly likely that they would be killed by Jack not to mention slitting Jack’s throat and completing their task.

Shock and surprise gnawed at her insides. That was the right decision she had made just now. With such a talented man like Jack, he could kill Lance, other geniuses, and fighters of the other seven reclusive families.

“Alright, Miss Lagorio, you head on first, we’ll go right afterward!”

Jack bobbed and spoke.

“Alright! I’ll be telling that to the aligned!”

Yolanda turned to Jack and reminded. She then lifted up her palm and blasted against her own chest. With a muffled grunt, she spewed a mouthful of blood and her face went pale. After that, she stomped and flew straight to the direction of the main residence of the White family.

“Hmmm… Looks like not all Lagorios are bad. There are quite a few Lagorios who are loyal to the White family!” Jack uttered with emotion, fixing his gaze at the back of Yolanda in the air.

Chapter 1150

It was a warm afternoon; Lily was ready to take a break.

Suddenly, Yolanda barged into her room at a lightning speed.

“Yolanda? Why are you here? Didn’t I call you a moment ago and ask you to wait at the mountain to ambush Jack and the others? What’s wrong? Don’t tell me you’re not satisfied with three first-grade premium spirited grass?”

When Lily saw that the intruder was Yolanda, she barked with an unpleasant tone.

Nevertheless, just as she finished her words, she noticed that Yolanda’s face was unsightly. “What’s wrong? Are you injured?” Lily fretted aloud.

Yolanda was gasping so loud as though she had a ruptured lung. She finally calmed herself down, sat down, and uttered, “I barely managed to come back alive. We were waiting for Jack and they appeared not long after…”

Lily’s face immediately lit up at the news. “What about Jack? Is he dead now? And you’re injured during the battle because Jack was quite strong? Where’s Dean though? Why didn’t he come back with you?” Lily lilted with a happy mood.

Yolanda lifted her head and faced Lily, only then she spilled out some words with a gloomy face. “First Madam, Dean…Dean will not return here anymore. That brat, Jack, has actually reached the early stage of the true god realm! We didn’t expect that at all! Dean died because he underestimated Jack’s power and charged toward Jack without thinking twice. Jack killed him. As for me, after Dean died, I was under the siege of the three of them. I barely managed to stay alive and ran away!”

Terror and fear thundered down on Lily that she stumbled several steps back upon hearing Yolanda’s report. “Impossible, how is it possible? The two of you are not their opponents? Even worse, Dean was killed? That brat has fighting prowess of a true god level?” Lily shook her head with a face full of disbelief; she tried to deny the truth.

“First Madam, actually, if Dean hadn’t underestimated the opponent, he definitely wouldn’t have died, and he would have fought together with me, we’d have hope in winning!”

Yolanda plastered a bitter smile on her face. “How could we have imagined that Jack has reached the early stage of the true god realm? After Dean died from his recklessness, I had to deal with three by myself, which was even more cumbersome for me. So I had no choice but to flee!”

“I didn’t expect that at all. Jack is hiding so deep that none of us knew he was already at the early stage of the true god realm!”

Lily squinted firmly and then said, “That brat clearly did not use his full strength during the competition some time ago. He did not reveal his martial status of true god level. If he had used a chi attack during the competition, I believe all of us would have known he was already in the true god realm. Dang it! From the looks of it, that brat has been being cautious around us!”

At the side, Yolanda smiled bitterly, “First Madam, that was because you have been targeting him since the beginning, and he already knew about your motive, so it’s easier for him to guard against you. Not to mention, you’ve sent someone to kill him before!”

Yolanda halted as she spoke. Her eyes were suddenly filled up with dread and terror. “First Madam, what should we do now? That brat may have already been back by now! Will he tell Nash White about us? Will he tell the First Elder? Will they kill me? First Madam, if Master White and the others want to kill me, you must protect me!” Yolanda cried with a trembling voice.

“Don’t worry. Jack is no fool! He won’t choose to go against us right now. I’m certain that he will let this slide, pretending not to know anything!”

Lily, on the other hand, sneered coldly yet confidently.

In fact, Yolanda knew that Jack would definitely let this incident slide, but to gain Lily’s trust, she had to say it on purpose.

Yolanda deliberately released an audible sigh of relief upon hearing Lily’s assurance. “That’s good then. I was truly scared to death just now. Even now I still feel that I’ll be the next Dean if I didn’t flee in time. And I was really afraid that Jack would report this incident to Master Nash. After all, Jack is only afraid of you and the Third Elder but not of me. I’m just a Patronum, merely a protector of the White family. I can’t stop thinking ‘what if Jack wants to kill me?’”

“Heh! Don’t worry, it won’t happen. Jack is a smart guy. He knows that you’re my people, so he’ll definitely pretend nothing has happened. But, if he is daring enough to make trouble, I’ll protect you, you have nothing to worry!”

Lily clenched her fist as she gave Yolanda her promise.No.1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1151-1155

Chapter 1151

"Sigh! It's a pity that I didn't manage to end his life this time. I'll leave to treat my injuries first!"

Yolanda bowed to Lily and wheeled around, preparing to leave.

"Hold on!"

Lily called out to Yolanda.

Yolanda's heart leaped into her throat when Lily called out to her. Did she say something inconsistent, and Lily found out? Why did Lily call her?

However, to her surprise, Lily flipped her hand and a first-grade premium spirited grass appeared on her palm.

She turned around, facing Yolanda, and gestured to her to take the spirited grass. "Although we have an agreement before, that you won't get any spirited grass if you failed the mission, you were injured this time, so I'll give you one anyway. I hope you'll improve faster and reach the middle stage of the true god realm soon. You're talented; once you've reached the middle stage of the true god realm, I'll find an opportunity to promote you to an elder!"

"Thank you so much, First Madam!"

Yolanda nodded with a happy grin on her face as she took the spirited grass. She then left the scene.

After leaving Lily's residence, Yolanda strolled for a while, only then did she sigh aloud in her heart.

Lily was very sensitive and skeptical; if she sensed something strange, Yolanda would be in big trouble.

At this time, Jack and the others have returned to their residence respectively.

“Dear, you're finally back! You've been out for days and I'm worried sick!"

Selena skipped toward Jack, jumped into his embrace, and hugged him tightly the moment Jack stepped in.

After all, Lily and her gang were vicious and sly foxes; they were not easy to deal with. Although the strong fighter-the Third Elder had gone for a martial retreat, the White family still had many other strong fighters. What if the vicious gang had sent out a powerful elite to kill Jack and he was not able to fight against him? Would not Jack's life be jeopardized?

"Hehe, don't worry. Everything is within my control!" Jack answered, smiling. "Well, it's true that today when I came back, I ran into the people that Lily had sent to kill me!"

Jack added nonchalantly.

"Oh no! Didn't you bring them on a merry go around by saying you're going to the branch families of the White? How did the assassins manage to find you?"

Selena was sweating from fear and her voice was edged with panic upon hearing Jack's encounter.

"The assassins are pretty smart. After going around, searching for a few days, they knew they were tricked. So, they ambushed us on the way back to the White’s main residence!"

Jack smiled while hugging Selena. “However, one of the two assassins named Yolanda is loyal to the White family. At the critical moment, she killed her companion and asked me to cooperate with her in lying and hiding the truth from Lily!"

Chapter 1152

"I see. Lily would probably be furious to death if she knew that the people she sent to kill you took your side!"

Selena burst out in laughter after hearing Jack's utterance.

"She can't know any of these! If she finds out, Yolanda will be in big trouble!"

Jack chuckled together with Selena, then he loosened his arms, letting Selena go. He walked toward the coffee table, poured himself a cup of tea then sit down on the chair nearby.

"Yolanda is a kind and loyal person. We can definitely rely on her in the future. Besides, I believe there should be quite a number of Lagorios who work for the White family and are loyal to the White. After all, Lily's sly behavior and those dirty trick of hers have disappointed some of the Lagorios." Jack uttered as he took a sip of the tea.

Selena nodded her head in agreement. She sat down beside Jack and added, "That's so true. But, in the future, how can you distinguish clearly which of these people are on your side, and which of them belong to Lily's side? It's difficult to know someone's mind!"

Jack's forehead puckered as well. "Indeed, it's difficult to know people's minds. But when the time comes, we can ask Yolanda about it. And if there's no other way but to fight, we'll fight. By that time, we should know who's taking our side!"

"You're right. Also, have you found all the herbs needed to treat your father? It should be tough to find all of them, right?"

Selena popped another question, with a concerned look hanging on her face.

"It's indeed hard and strenuous to get all of it. But fortunately, I've gathered all of the herbs!"

Jack smiled. “It's getting late now. I'll get some rest, and tomorrow morning I'll make the pill for Father. After taking the pill for a few days, Father should be well. By that time, when the Third Elder comes back from the martial retreat, he wouldn't be a match for Father!"

"That's amazing!"

The heavy boulder inside Selena finally lifted as she heaved a huge sigh of relief. As long as Nash recovers from the poison, nobody in the White family could ever be his opponent. Even if the Third Elder teamed up with some other wolves, they were definitely not Nash's opponents.

"By the way, Dear, when I was away, did you use the Chi congregation pills that I gave you in your martial training? You have good talent, and those pills will help elevate you to the next level faster."

Jack quickly thought of something and he asked, "You were a third-grade martial artist before I left, and I guess if you weren't lazy these few days, you should be a sixth-grade martial artist by now, right? But even if you were slacking, with the aid of the pills, you should be at least a fifth-grade martial artist!"

"When you were not home, I was bored to death and once I stayed still and do nothing, I'd be worried sick for you. So, I might as well train hard every day to kill time. This way, the time passed by super fast! Sometimes, it feels like I was just starting to train but the day has already ended! Hehe! So, the conclusion is, your dear lovely wife is not slacking at all!"

Selena laughed with her face full of smugness.

Looking at Selena's smug look, Jack could not help but chuckle. It looks like my dear lovely wife is already a sixth-grade martial artist! Congratulations, Dear!"

"Who said I'm a sixth-grade martial artist?"

Selena, in return, barked at Jack and shot him a deadly stare. "My brother is a sixth-grade martial artist, and I'm already an eight-grade martial artist! Didn't you say it before? That I'm super-duper talented! Hehe! After I underwent the purification of my body, I was already a third-grade! With such raw talent, an eight-grade martial artist is definite!"

The corner of Jack's mouth twitched involuntarily a few times. How could he have imagined that his wife has already become an eighth-grade martial artist in such a short time?

That was way beyond his expectations!

Chapter 1153

"Wonderful! That's wonderful!"

Jack nodded with satisfaction. "In that case, let's strive to reach the grandmaster level! You're only considered a strong and powerful martial artist once you've stepped into this threshold!"

"For me to become a grandmaster, I don't think there'll be any problem. But, to break through to the semi-god level, I'm afraid that it will take me ample time. Because I found out that it's rather easy to train and improve at the early stages but the higher the level, the more difficult and slower it is to breakthrough!"

Selena had her eyebrows snapped together as she uttered.

Jack smiled bitterly in return. "That's reality. The gap of difficulty to train between the grandmaster and the highestgrade martial artist is wide, but, at the same time, the strength and power that a grandmaster possesses is a whole lot greater than the highest-grade martial artist. Once you reach the grandmaster level, you'll learn about chi energy, to control it is difficult. Hence, it's tough to climb when you're a grandmaster; it needs not only talent but patience and hard work."

Jack paused and studied Selena for a while, fearing that what he said would discourage Selena." Your raw talent is greater than anyone else. You'll certainly reach the grandmaster level and semi god-level faster than others!" Jack comforted. "But I want to give you a piece of advice, don't merely seek to breakthrough and reach the other levels blindly, you need to spend time to feel the strength of your current level and comprehend it thoroughly. Feel the strength and the chi energy before continuing to breakthrough to another level, especially after reaching the grandmaster level!"

Selena bobbed her head. "Yea, you' re right. After all, Ethan, Lana, and the other Gods of War have trained for so long before they became strong in the semi-god level. I can't be impatient and rush myself. It's always better to take one step at a time and have my feet on the grind!"

After pondering critically, Jack then said, "The reason why you could reach the eight-grade martial level in such a short time, I believe it's because of the raw talent you possess, coupled with the training technique. Although the martial art technique has no name and they obtain it through a random occasion, when I looked at it, it seems complex."

"Is that so? That's amazing!"

Selena smiled and then she added, "My brother has been devastated lately when he saw that I've become a martial artist two grades higher than him."

“Right. Dear, it's getting late. Let's go to the town at the foot of the mountain to get a good dinner, barbecue or something else. That town is near to the White residence. If we go out later in the night, Lily and her snakes will not find out!"

“Besides, her men lost to me some time ago, they probably wouldn't think that I would go down the mountain and have fun at this time!"

After thinking about it, Jack held Selena's hand and said, with hopeful eyes.

"Alright then. I have been staying in for quite some time now. It's good to go out for a change!"

Selena smiled sweetly at Jack and nodded her head as though she was a mother who gave permission to her son--Jack.

After a while, when the sky turned darker, Jack and Selena went down the mountain without anybody knowing.

The town at the foot of the mountain was lively and prosperous. Although it was a small town, the structures and its liveliness were comparable to a city.

The town being in close vicinity to the White residence was blessed with various businesses that traded martial resources and materials. Besides, the natural chi energy around the mountain was not weak, hence there were quite a number of martial fighters gathered around here.

Moreover, there were even some prominent families staying at the foot of this mountain and some of them were strong fighters of the semi-god level.

But, of course, there were only a few of them of the semi-god level.

Chapter 1154

"Honey, it's so bustling and lively down here. It's just like an ancient town; everywhere is full of ancient aura and flavor! I'm starting to fall in love with this town!"

Selena strolled on the streets of the town and could not help but exclaimed at the ancient beauty of the town. The crowd of pedestrians, traders, shoppers, and others could be seen walking on the busy street. Some of them were wearing primordial yet fancy clothes, some of the men grew their hair long on purpose. If it weren't because some were clothed slightly more contemporary and there were mobile phones in their hands, Jack and Selena would think that they had traveled back in time.

"Dear, if you were to wear those ancient costumes, you'll definitely look stunning!"

Jack noticed a shop selling ancient clothes not too far away; he then pulled Selena into the shop.

"Dear, try it!"

"Umm...okay. But it's embarrassing!"

Selena's cheeks were kissed pink. Nevertheless, she picked a few sets of clothing and tried them on.

"Oh my... Dear, you're absolutely stunning! If you were born in ancient eras, you'd still be the Queen of Beauty!"

"Shameless! We already had a kid this big! How can you praise me like that without feeling embarrassed!"

Selena blushed and responded in a shy tone. She stared fiercely at Jack.

"We'll buy all these! Dear, you don' t have to change back into your clothes, just wear these. Quite a few people are wearing ancient costumes on the street, so there's nothing strange and embarrassing about it, right?"

Jack chuckled aloud with a radiant smile plastered on his face.

"Sir, are you sure you're taking all of these? All these clothes are made of silk; they'd be more expensive!

Besides, the few sets that Madam had tried on just now, one set costs more than one hundred thousand! If you were to buy all these sets, it would be close to a million!"

The lady owner of the store had her eyes lit up when she heard Jack's words. The clothes that she sold in her store were all of top -notch quality. But because they were all expensive, they may not even sell one set a day, and sometimes they only managed to sell a set in two or three days, and that was considered as good!

The lady owner could not have imagined that the two would buy four sets at once!

"What's the matter? Are you afraid that I can't afford them?"

Jack stared at the other party coldly and then he flashed out his card. "Take this, swipe it, and enter one million. No password is needed!"

“I'm glad to serve you, Sir! A man like you deserves to marry such a charming wife!"

It was the owner's first time meeting such a generous customer. She then took the bank card and went to make the payment.

Soon, the two left the store.

However, shortly after the couple left the store, a slightly plump and chubby woman- dressed in an ancient costume-paced toward the store with a group of people.

She quickly spotted Selena wearing a dainty and beautiful ancient costume-which was significantly better looking than hers. Her fury sprang to life in a second.

The chubby woman pointed at Selena and huffed to the man beside her gruffly. "Honey, that dress is really nice. I want it!"

The rotund man-who walked behind the chubby woman looked toward the pointed direction. He could not help but his eyes lit up excitedly. "Alright, babe, I'll take you to buy one!" He smiled and nodded.

Nonetheless, to the man's surprise, the chunky woman was exasperated in the next second. "No! I want that dress on that woman! That dress is dainty and beautiful, and it might be a limited edition. There'd be only one piece of such dress in this world! I want the one on her!" The woman pouted.

"Umm...Babe, it's not nice to snatch from her though."

Chapter 1155

The rotund man's forehead snapped together, showing hints of hesitation.

The woman saw the hesitation in the man, and she was not happy at all. She pinched his earlobe and barked at him huffily, "You're going to get me that dress, do you hear me? Don't you ever forget that you're merely an adopted sonin-law of our family, don't you dare to disobey my command! If I tell my dad that you're bullying me, you'll be in the grave in no time!"

The man was frightened down to the soles of his shoes when the threatening words entered his ears. He was so scared that he responded almost instantly." Okay, Dear, okay, let go of my ear. I 'll get that dress for you!"

After the drama ended, the man paced toward Jack and Selena together with the wife and a group of men.

Jack did not prepare for such a situation to happen. He was just about to have a nice dinner at the nearby barbecue restaurant; however, they were stopped by the group before they were able to enter the restaurant.

"Huh? What's wrong? Something wrong? I don't think I've met you guys before!"

Looking at a bunch of people in front of him, Jack smiled frostily. He was a true god-level martial artist, and the heir to the family head of the White family, if these people wanted to look for trouble, they were definitely wishing for death.

Nevertheless, perhaps, he just came to the White family not long ago and had not been to this town before, that was why no one knew him.

Otherwise, these men would not be so brave to block his path.

"Heh! Kiddo, it doesn't matter if you've met me before or not!"

The rotund man smirked and gazed at Selena. "The costume on your wife is dainty and beautiful, my Honey here is very fond of it. So, let's make a deal. Take it off and sell it to us. The price you've paid for it, I'll double it!"

"Take it off and sell it to you?"

Before the conversation, Jack thought that it was his wife's beauty that attracted this bunch of flies. He did not expect that the other party was eyeing the costumes on Selena.

"Of course! Take it off right here right now. We'll buy it. Haha! How about this, if you think the doubled price is too little, I'm willing to triple it. After all, this dress doesn't look cheap, it has to be more than one hundred to two hundred thousand bucks, am I right?" The rotund man chuckled and continued, "You have made hundreds of thousands of profit just by selling this costume to me!"

The plump man chortled aloud, his face full of mirth.

The few bodyguards behind the man could not help but swallow their saliva hard when they heard their master's suggestion. After all, it was rare to see such a beauty in this town.

"Hmph! You're funny, aren't you? With just a few hundred thousand, you want to buy my wife's clothes, even worse, you want her to take it off on the street for you guys?"

Jack sneered coldly, in fact, he was seething inwardly that he felt about to burst from rage. 'Damn fatty, you're sure a dreamer!

"Brat, my hubby is being considerate and polite to you guys!"

At this time, the chubby woman stepped up and bellowed condescendingly, "Why don't you ask around about our identities? Our family is one of the three prominent families in this town! We've tripled the price to buy your clothes! It's considered as an act of kindness from us!"

"Oh, what do you mean by not being polite and kind then?"

Jack continued plastering a cold smile on his face, clasping his arms before his chest.

"Heh! We don't even need to buy the clothes from you! We could just take it off your wife coercively!"

The woman jeered with wicked laughter. "But, I'm being considerate for the dress. What if your wife resisted and the dress tears in the process of taking it off? Then my loss will be huge. So we initiated the deal and was nice to you for you to take it off and sell it to us, got it?"

"Oh, I don't know about this!"

Jack's eyes went cold and frosty; he shot the couple a deadly stare. "What I do know is that you're digging your own grave!" Jack hissed.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1156-1160

Chapter 1156

"Oh boy, what a low life are you. I didn't expect this from you. How dare you threaten me!"

The woman guffawed when she heard that. "It looks like money can't solve this matter today. I planned to give you some money for the clothes, but now I no longer bother to do so. Since you have a death wish, I shall grant it!"

After ending her last word, she pointed toward Jack and Selena and commanded with a stern tone. "Kill this man, and then take off the woman's clothes. I don't believe that whatever I, Autumn Maack, want, I can't get it! Except for a few, there's almost no one in this mountainous area that I couldn't offend!"

"Hey, punk, you're seeking your own death. Who asked you to refuse the kind offer from our Young Mistress Maack! Now you can't blame our lady!"

Several bodyguards sneered as they walked toward Jack with their fists clenched tightly.

'How arrogant and snobbish were these people?' Jack thought in his mind; a cold smile appeared on his face. Did they actually want Selena to take off her clothes in the street?

The proposal itself had successfully awakened the angry beast inside Jack.

Jack had trimmed down his temper in seeing things for Selena. But solely for the matter related to Selena-which was a forbidden area that no one could provoke-he could not contain his rage.

"Wait, hold on!"

At this time, a young teenage girl stood out and spoke up.

“Miss Maack, it's just one dress, why bother? I saw a few nice pieces yesterday and they're of good quality too! Why don't I take you there to have a look? I'll buy you those clothes. So, why bother with common people?"

The young girl looked only seventeen or eighteen years old.

Her smile was accompanied by two little radiant dimples at the corners, projecting a youthful and sunny aura.

Jack was a little surprised at the sudden appearance of the young lady. He did not expect somebody to speak up for him in such a situation.

Nevertheless, Jack did not plan to let the matter slip; he did not plan to spare the rotund couple's life. The other party had completely angered him in every way. Even if the other party wanted to let him off the hook, he had no intention to let them go at all.

"No f*cking way!"

The plump woman snapped. "Kayla Leigh, don't you try to play superhero today! They pissed me off and I'll not just let it go! Today, this man will die right here! I've already given them a chance, but they don't know how to cherish it!"

Kayla gave an awkward smile. "Miss Maack, hold on. Just wait a little bit longer, I'll try to persuade them!"

Kayla immediately came before Jack and said softly to him, "Mister, a wise man knows when to retreat, don't fight with them, okay? Take it off and sell it to her. She is Autumn Maack from the Maack family and her family is unbelievably powerful and authoritative, even my family, the Leigh family, has to bow before them. Listen to me, take the dress off, sell it to them and you still can make a profit out of it. It's better than being killed, isn't it?"

Jack laughed out loud upon hearing Kayla's words. He smiled and said, "Miss Leigh, thank you for your kindness. But, I would like to know your opinion on this matter as well. If you were to take off your clothes in the street like this, publicly, and sell your clothes to others, would you do that?"

"What? No way! How is that even a question?"

Kayla answered without even thinking about it.

Nonetheless, she still tried to advise Jack, "But, that's because without shame."

"Sigh! Forget it then. If you guys are looking for death, I can't help it too."

In the end, Kayla could only retreat to the side, looking helplessly.

"Hmph! What a waste of our time!"

Those few bodyguards had long wanted to strip Selena.

Although they could not do anything with her, at least the view of uncovered Selena could feast their eyes.

After they grunted for a few seconds, all of them charged toward Jack with a tightly balled fist.

"Go to hell!"

Chapter 1157

Jack breathed out a cold laugh, and in a split second he disappeared; he was shuttling among the bodyguards at a lighting speed while swinging his arm. With a few flashes, all of the body guards laid lifeless on the ground.

"What the f*ck!"

The fatty and the plump womanwho witnessed the scene-had their eyes widened as large as saucers and their jaws dropped to the ground. They were in shock. The bodyguards that they brought were of high-grade martial artists, and one of them was even a first grade grandmaster! The two did not expect their men to be killed in just a few seconds.

"It...it looks like this brat must have reached the higher grade of grandmaster level; his martial prowess and skill are not bad at all. Now I finally understand why he wasn't afraid of them a moment ago. If he and his wife hurry up and leave the place, and not stir up a bigger trouble, they should be fine!"

Kayla whispered to herself while watching the scene on the side.

"Punk, I'm a Maack! How dare you kill my men! Are you looking for trouble with the Maack family?"

The woman fumed hotly, at the same time, her voice trembled. She used the Maack family as a tool, in hopes to threaten Jack.

"Heh, I see. Should I wait for your men to beat me to death, only then I could fight back?"

Cold and heartless smile plastered on Jack's face; he slowly paced toward the two fatties.

"You...you...you...stop right there! What are you doing?"

Seeing Jack walking toward them at a painfully slow pace, the fat couple looked at each other and were both in complete terror.

"Oh? What do you think I'm doing?

Jack chortled wickedly and threw the question back to the couple.

"Punk, you're not trying to end us, are you? Let me give you the last warning, my father-in-law is a strong fighter of the semi-god level. If you dare to make a move on us, today will be your last day!"

Jack let out a good laugh, then he turned to the rotund man. "Well. There's one way for you to get out of here alive, which is for you to cut off one of your wife's arms right here. Perhaps, in that way, I can let you two live. Otherwise, you'll have to die here tonight!" Jack proposed.

After he finished his last word, he flipped his palm and a fine sword appeared in his hand. He threw it on the ground in front of the fatty.

"Your choice" Jack dictated.

"Brat, I'm the Young Mistress Maack, are you looking for death! How dare you ask my husband to cut off my arm! Who gave you the guts!"

Autumn's temper sparked that she could feel anger thrummed through her veins; she put on the almighty and authoritative look as she barked.

Snap!

Nonetheless, a heavy slap landed on her cheek right after she finished her sentence. The force pushed her down that she plopped onto the ground harshly; a stream of blood flew out of the corner of her palm. Jack slapped her.

"Dear, can't you read the situation properly? This time we've met someone who's not afraid of death. This brat is hot-headed and reckless! He's not afraid of anyone!"

The fatty stomped his foot at the situation, why could not his wife grasp the current atmosphere of the situation? He then gritted his teeth and picked the fine sword on the ground.

"Honey, you're not really going to cut my arm, are you?"

Autumn looked at the sword, tears shimmered in her eyes and her face was ashen. How could she have thought that the other party was not afraid of the Maack family and daring enough to attack her?

"Brat, you've promised to let us live if I cut her arm, right?"

The fatty wheeled around and looked at Jack.

Jack nodded, "A promise is a promise!"

Chapter 1158

“Alright. You said so!"

The fatty nodded his head. He clenched his teeth and raised the sword in his hand. "Hold on for a while longer, my wife," he told Autumn, who was on the ground." I have painkillers and medicine that stops bleeding here. You'll be fine. Just grit your teeth and through it!"

"Ah. I'm scared!"

Autumn was so frightened that she was on the verge of tears. She looked at Jack. "I was wrong," she said. "Please, let us go. I'll give you one billion bucks. How about that? One whole billion!"

"Heh. Did you really think I would care about one billion?"

Jack chuckled, his eyes full of disdain.

"Ah!"

The rotund man swung his sword, slicing the woman's arm.

Blood sprayed the moment the blade's lethal edge came in contact with skin, and the arm fell off.

"I have medicine here!"

After he cut his own wife's the fatty threw his sword to the side and gave her painkillers medicine to stop the bleeding.

“Ah!"

Even so, the woman was still in so much agony that all color leached from her face. Cold sweat beaded across her forehead, and she looked like she was about to faint at any time.

Quickly, with the fatty's support, the two quickly disappeared from Jack's vision.

Jack picked up the sword lying on the ground and wiped the ind wined the blade clean on the body of a bodyguard. Only then did he flip his palm and kept the sword.

"You don't mind me letting them go, do you, Dear?"

Jack smiled and asked Selena.

"I'll just follow whatever decision you make from now on, Dear!"

Selena clung onto Jack's arm.

Delight had shot through her when she had seen that woman's arm being lopped off. The woman had overstepped her boundariesshe was a straight-up bully. Even for someone as kind as Selena, the bully was unbearable.

“No way. You can't just listen to whatever I say. What if I had agreed to sell the clothes to them? Would you listen to me then?" Jack said, smiling.

Selena rolled her eyes at him. "You 're not someone like that. Or would you want to shame your wife in front of so many people?"

Amazingly, the two still had the strength to argue back and forth here. Kayla panicked and stepped forward. "Why aren't you two leaving? Seriously. You let them go! Aren't you afraid that they'll bring more fighters here?" she said. “Those bodyguards were just normal bodyguards. They're not even strong among the Maack family. Just hurry up and get out of here. You won't get a chance to leave if you're one step too late!"

"That's right. Just leave, both of you. You managed to put Miss Maack in her place. She always disregards others and bullies the townsfolk regularly, so you're helping us to take revenge. She's like this because her family has the White family backing them up. So you'd better leave!"

An old man also advised Jack and Selena.

"The White family is backing them up?" Jack frowned after he heard that. That surprised him.

Chapter 1159

Kayla assumed that Jack was afraid when she saw his brows scrunching together. “That's right. Let me explain everything," she said. "Sometimes, the White family will get a familiar friend to introduce someone, or they will come down from the mountain to choose a few talented warriors to enter the White family. This rarely happens, but some people become part of the White family like that!"

Here, Kayla paused for a while before resuming, "One of the Maack family members had been lucky enough to enter the White family. And he managed to mix quite well with them, so he's the helmsman now, and he's a warrior at the intermediate stage of the true god status. Miss Maack is so cocky because of this!"

"Just leave, young man. It'll be too late if you don't. I'm sure that Autumn won't let this slide just like that, judging from her personality! Besides, you were the one who chopped off the the first daughter of the family. Master Maack won't let you off the hook either!"

The old man advised Jack and Selena anxiously.

"Thank you for your concern. But if that is truly the case, all the more we shouldn't leave!"

Jack raised his hands into a fist-to-palm salute toward the two. Then his attention wandered toward a barbecue stall not too far away. "We came here to eat barbecue," he said, smiling. “But we haven't even eaten yet. How could we leave now? Right, Dear?"

"Right? I'm hungry!"

Selena gave a wan smile. She took Jack's hand in hers and walked toward the barbecue stall.

"Those-those two still have the heart to eat barbecue!"

The old man was so agitated that his mustache practically bristled. He huffed and stalked over to the side.

Kayla was furious as well. However, she did not give up on them. She chased after them and stared at Jack, huffing. “Don't you love your wife? If you do, you two should leave. Now!" she said." Even if you don't fear death, you can't drag your wife along with you!"

Warmth filled Jack's chest at the sight of this compassionate How talented are you, girl?" said, smiling.

Kayla was speechless for a moment. "A ninth-grade grandmaster. Why? You refuse leave, and you still want to ask about my talent. At any rate, I'm pretty strong, and I have good talent. I'm probably stronger than

you!"

Jack grinned. "You truly have a talent for someone so young. Have you never thought of training with the White family and becoming one of them?"

"The White family?"

Kayla furrowed her brows. "I do. But I don't have a single connection with the White family. There's no way I can get in. Besides, who knows when they' ll be in the mood to come to town to recruit people. I have no hopes no matter what, I'll keep dreaming!"

Kayla was stunned for a while here. "Ah. Why am I telling you all this? More importantly, I think you two are good people. I don't want to see you die!" "Hah. Don't worry. We won't!"

Jack laughed. "Kayla, right?" said to the girl. “Sit down and join us. I'll treat you!"

"All right. I'll join you. Since you're going to die soon, I should help you spend whatever money you have right now!"

Kayla rolled her eyes at Jack and took a seat before the huffing.

"You're too cruel. You actually cut my arm off!"

At that moment, Autumn plodded forward, supported by the fatty.

“I had no choice. Don't you understand that both of us would have died if I hadn't done that? At least we get to live like this. We had no choice.

The fatty was helpless. "Ah, you were rude just now too. Why would you want her clothes? We wouldn't have landed ourselves in this situation otherwise!"

Chapter 1160

"Hmph. I couldn't bear to see it. I look good in traditional clothes. That woman had no right to look better than I do. The sight just offends me!"

The woman harrumphed; venom filled her eyes. "Let's hurry back," she said. “We can't just let the couple go like that. I'll get Daddy to kill them!"

The fatty was internally speechless, but he had no words of protest. After all, he was simply the Maack family's live-in son-inlaw, with no particular standing in the Maack family. If he did not give in to her whims, she and her family would make his days miserable.

"I had no choice just now, Dear. Do you still hold a grudge against me?"

The fatty prodded as they walked forward.

Autumn's expression darkened. “It 's your fault for being such a lousy and weak warrior. I wouldn't have been bullied like this if you weren' t a piece of trash," she snarled, glaring at her husband. "Just look at that man from just now. He's nothing like you-only a sixthgrade martial artist at such an old age. You'll be a laughing stock if words of this got out."

.....

The fatty was speechless. He just supported Autumn until they finally arrived at the Maack family.

"Young Miss, what-what happened?"

The bodyguard at the entrance was shocked when he took in the sight. One of the bodyguards quickly went in to make a report.

Autumn and her husband had not walked very far in when the master of the Maack family, Ace, came out with a group of people.

"What happened, Autumn? Who was it? Who dared to cut off my daughter's arm!"

Ace stared at the stump that had een his daughter's arm. He was so furious that he had gone purple and his teeth were gritted.

After all these years, he never had any sons. He only had her as his only daughter. That was why she was the apple of his eye, and he always coddled her as though she was a precious piece of porcelain.

He never thought that someone would be so bold to cut off his daughter's arm.

"It was a young man, Father. Autumn and I were shopping when she noticed a couple, where the wife was wearing a hanfu. Out of goodwill, we told them that we would buy the clothes at three times their worth. But we never thought that they would refuse. They even rebuked us with sharp words!"

"Autumn, naturally, was furious. She got the bodyguards to snatch the clothes, but her husband was extremely strong and killed all the body guards. Then he forced me to chop off one of her arms, or he would kill the both of us otherwise. I had no choice. It was to save the both of us!"

The fatty immediately dropped to his knees and narrated everything that had happened, while adding his own flair to the tale.

"You piece of sh*t. You can't even protect your own woman!"

Ace was so angry that he sent the fatty flying a few meters away with a single kick. "The lot of you, take the Young Miss and her husband back to rest," he said. "I'll bring the rest of you to find that couple. We must avenge my daughter!"

"No. I don't want to rest, Daddy. I must go. I need to see them die before me. I want to see that punk begging for his life on his knees!"

Autumn raised her head, her features twisted into a vicious expression. “Besides, you don't know where they had attacked me. Get people to carry me there. Quick. I'm afraid that they'll leave if we're one step too late!"

"All right. Let's go!"

Ace announced, huffing.

"I'm going too, Father. I want to see them die before my eyes. Those two were too much!"

The fatty ran over, holding in his pain, subtly declaring his loyalty.

"Let's go!"

Chapter 1161

Ace shot a look at his weak son-in-law. He took a group of elders and powerful fighters and rushed for the place. They were all extremely fast, as though they were shadows racing in the darkness.

“Wait for me…”

The fatty, who was weak, was quickly left behind. He was so tired that he kept huffing and puffing, unable to keep up with the speed of those fighters.

“Daddy, I think he must have left. I shouldn’t have told them that I was the daughter of the Maack family just now. Now that they know, they must have left!”

Along the way, Autumn spoke to her father.

Ace’s expression hardened. He did not say a single word, rage boiling in his veins.

“Aye. They’re still here. They’re there, Daddy. They’re eating barbecue!”

However, Autumn’s eyes brightened soon after she noticed the three people eating at the barbecue stall.

“Why is Kayla there? Is she their friend?”

Ace clenched his fists as he observed the scene from a distance.

“I don’t think Kayla knows them. She had even advised the two of them to sell the clothes to me earlier. Maybe they’re treating her to a meal because they think she’s pretty nice? If that’s the case, Kayla has unintentionally helped me by stalling them!”

Autumn’s eyes brightened. “Maybe Kayla wanted to help me because she saw that so many of our men died. We’re pretty close, after all. Yes, that’s possible!”

“No matter what, that couple can no longer escape now that we’ve seen them!”

Ace gave a frosty smile. The group quickly stopped nearby.

“You’re done for. See? They came so quickly. The two of you are dead meat!”

Kayla sensed a frightening aura behind her. She took a glance over her shoulder, then cast a bitter smile at Jack.

“Heh. No need to fret!”

Jack chuckled and stood up. “You and Kayla can continue eating, Dear. I’ll come back quickly!”

After he said that, he strolled straight toward the Maack family’s forces.

“Hey, don’t tell me that your husband is of the true god status? He’s being too confident here, saying that he’ll come back soon. Don’t tell me he’s at the advanced stage, or the peak already?”

Kayla finally realized something. She frowned and whispered toward Selena.

“My name’s Selena. He’s Jack, from the White family. And don’t worry about his strength. The Maack family is nothing before him!”

Selena gave a reassuring smile and picked up a chicken skewer, biting into it. So long as Jack was beside her, she had a sense of security blanketing her.

“Seriously? He’s from the White family? No wonder he wasn’t afraid. So he’s a fighter from the White family!”

Kayla’s eyes widened. She quickly realized that the Maack family had run into some serious trouble now.

However, she could not blame them for accidentally picking a fight they could not win. The White family frequently visited the town at the bottom of the mountain, but the Maack family already had one of their own as a helmsman in the White family. Besides, the Maack family had been here for a long time now, and they knew the people that they should never provoke in the White family. That was why they did not have much to be afraid of since they already knew who were the ones who could not be offended.

Yet they just had to run into Jack and Selena, unaware that the former was from the White family. They were unlucky this time.

Chapter 1162

“Autumn, right? Heh. I never thought that we would meet so soon. I didn’t even get to finish my food!”

Jack walked leisurely toward her. “Don’t tell me you’re here to thank me for sparing your life?” he said, grinning. “Hah. If that’s the case, there’s no need for your gratitude. You even brought so many people here to thank me. You’re embarrassing me!”

Plenty of people who were still worried about Jack could not help but chuckle at his words. He still had the spirit to keep joking, even at this moment.

“Heh. You chopped my daughter’s arm off, and you’re telling me I should thank you, punk? Do you think I’m stupid?”

Ace chuckled and shot a vicious glare at Jack. His eyes were turning bloodshot, and he looked fearsome. The aura of a demi god status fighter enveloped him.

“Master, let me be the one to kill this punk. F*ck. He’s even eating barbecue here. He has no respect for the Maack family!”

An old man who was an eighth-grade grandmaster walked a few steps forward, speaking in a vicious tone.

Ace gave a mirthless smile. “Thank goodness he’s still eating barbecue here though. Where would we find him if he took off?”

“Second Elder, don’t kill this punk right off the bat,” Autumn reminded him. “I want to see him get tortured. Cut off bits and pieces of his flesh and feed them to the dogs. Otherwise, I won’t be satisfied!”

Here, Autumn looked at Selena. “Oh, right. And we can’t let his wife go so easily either,” she said. “I want to make this punk watch as his wife is manhandled. I’ll make him understand the price that he must pay for my arm!”

“Oh my. Usually, people would only forget the lessons they’ve learned once the pain subsides. Your pain hasn’t even subsided, yet you’ve forgotten your lesson. Weren’t you on your knees, begging for your life before this? Why are you so fierce now!”

Jack just smiled when he heard that.

“Die, you brat. How dare you bully the Maack family!”

The Second Elder saw that Jack still dared to act so flippantly, and so he took several steps and rushed toward Jack.

The old man’s steps were light yet steady, and his fist was as fast as the wind. As he threw the punch toward Jack, an aura of a tiger head appeared right before his fist, as though it were an open-jaw ready to swallow Jack whole.

The spectators around them were so frightened at the sight of the attack that they stumbled a few steps backward.

Jack easily sidestepped the attack. Then he swung his leg toward his opponent’s abdomen.

A dull thud rang out. The old man flew backward and crashed onto the ground. He spat a mouthful of blood, and his face had gone white.

“No way. The Second Elder is no match for him?”

All of the elders’ faces blanched when they saw this. They had seen the strength, speed, and precision in the Second Elder’s attack earlier. They were well aware that it was not easy to dodge an attack like that.

Yet Jack had dodged it so easily, and he had even seriously injured the Second Elder with a single attack.

The Second Elder lay on the ground. He struggled to stand up, but it was obvious that it was too much for his body to handle, and he failed to do so.

“I don’t believe that. Come!”

Ace flipped his palm when he saw this, and a sword appeared in his grip. He slashed his blade toward Jack.

Suddenly, a frightening air blade slashed toward Jack at an unimaginable speed.

As he took out his blade, Jack took out his as well. He swung his blade toward his opponent.

Another air blade rushed out to meet the other, colliding mid-air.

Chapter 1163

Suddenly, a ferocious explosion rang out. Ace's air blade was destroyed as Jack's air blade quickly overcame it.

That frightening air blade was gone, and Jack's air blade lost its momentum too. It pummeled the rest of its strength onto Ace's body.

Ace immediately spat out blood. He flew backward, and a long imprint could be seen across his chest.

"Master!"

Many of the Maack family's fighters were so terrified that their faces went white at the sight. Their master was at the beginning stage of the demi god status, yet he was still no match for Jack.

Jack threw out several more air blades. Many of the elders who were grandmasters were immediately killed.

“Run!”

The rest of them, who were not very strong fighters, quickly turned tail to run after assessing the situation.

The fatty, who had finally caught up, felt relieved when he saw this. He immediately blended into the Maack family crowd and escaped. The strongest fighters of the Maack family were dead now, and their family was practically gone.

Ace manages to stand up, another mouthful of blood dribbled from his mouth. He stabbed his sword into the ground to steady himself and gritted his teeth, staring at Jack. “Who are you, you brat? How could you be so strong!”

“Heh. Who am I? Why should I tell you? Just treat me as a friendly passerby. At any rate, you can’t go around provoking me!”

Jack chuckled and gave the other man a cold stare. “You gave me no choice. You were too fierce just now. Today will be the day you and your daughter die. It’s better to kill than to allow you to live and continue to bully others around here. Many of the townsfolk hate you, saying that you had earned public ire a long time ago. It’s just that they chose not to voice their anger!”

“That’s right. Kill him, kill him! Don’t let them oppress us anymore!”

Plenty of bystanders cried out from the sidelines. It was evident that the Maack family had offended plenty of people.

“Who dares to kill my brother? Does he have a death wish?”

Yet at this moment, a voice rang out from nearby. A man strode over, fury in his gaze.

“We’re done for. Gaius is here!”

Many people were scared out of their wits when they heard this voice.

The man had a terrifying aura. He rushed over and helped to support his elder brother. “Are you okay, Brother?” he asked, concerned.

“My injuries are serious, but at least you’re here. I’m not dead yet!”

Ace heaved an internal sigh of relief with Gaius here. With this, that punk was done for.

After all, Gaius was the helmsman in the White family. That brat had dug his own grave.

“So what if I want to kill him? You’re Gaius, right? You dare stop me?”

Jack spoke in a frosty tone, glaring at Gaius.

Gaius was shocked when he finally recognized the man before him. He stepped forward and kneeled before Jack. “Young Master Jack!”

Chapter 1164

“Young...Young Master Jack White?” Ace Maack was stunned when he heard how Gaius Maack knelt and addressed Jack as a young master. Could that mean that this guy was a young master from the White main family? If not, why did Gaius knelt in front of him?

“A young master from the White family!” Kayla Leight inhaled deeply and the barbeque skewer in her hand almost fell to the ground. She finally realized why Jack was not afraid of the other party. This young man not only had great fighting prowess but he also had a powerful position as well.

“Young Master Jack, how...how did my second brother offend you? Please forgive them!” Gaius’s face turned pale. Previously he would inform his brother of the people from the White family that they could not offend because he knew that his brother would spoil his niece as she kept bullying the people in the town.

He had personally advised Ace and the others on this. He asked Ace to control his daughter or something serious would happen sooner or later.

However, Ace had always said he would but still obeyed his daughter secretly and spoilt her.

Gaius had always thought that none of the powerful people in the town were stronger than the Maack family. Apart from that, nothing huge would occur as Ace knew about all the masters and young masters from the White family that he could not offend.

He was very busy recently during Jack’s return. He originally wanted to go down the mountains this evening to inform Ace about everything that happened with Jack and Selena’s return. He also asked somebody to draw portraits of everybody new so that his family could remember that they cannot offend these people.

Unfortunately, he was a little too late. He discovered that something had happened when he arrived home so he immediately rushed over. He had no idea that the person they offended was Jack.

“I said that I have to kill this pair of father and daughter today!” Jack had a cold expression on his face. “His daughter deserved to die as she asked my wife to strip in public. However, I still chose to let her live and only cut off one of her hands. Who knew that her father and the others would dare come to us? Do you think that I will still let them go?”

Jack paused before continuing to speak. “I am not the one who did not give them an opportunity to do so. I have already provided them with a chance but you can’t blame me if they did not cherish it.”

“Young Master Jack, we know our mistakes! Please forgive us!” Both Ace and Autumn Maack knelt on the floor as they continuingly beg for forgiveness. They had finally realized what sort of a person they had offended.

“Gaius, tell me, do you think they deserve to die?” Jack looked at Gaius and continued speaking. “As the helmsman, you must have played a role in supporting them to misbehave as such, right?”

Gaius started sweating profoundly when he heard this. “No, Young Master Jack! I’ve been busy all day long in the White family and I seldom come back. I did not protect them…”

Gaius was really afraid. Jack was not only in a much higher position than him, he had a higher fighting prowess and power compared to Gaius. He was completely subdued by Jack’s talents during the previous martial art competition and he was secretly rueful that Jack was a master.

Right now, he would be very unlucky if Jack blamed this matter on him and killed him for his involvement.

After all, although Ace always took advantage of his position to act so arrogantly, Gaius had never helped them to do anything wrong.

He rushed over angrily as he was anxious when he heard that his niece was almost killed and his brother almost died.

Who knew that Autumn was actually suicidal and actually dared to ask Jack's wife to strip on the streets?

Chapter 1165

"Really?" Jack smiled coldly and looked at the people around him before speaking. "Did Helmsman Maack directly take action on normal days and do anything hurtful to everybody? If there are such actions, please tell me so that I can kill him and clean up my family name!"

Jack's words were so domineering and he stood there like a godly statue.

Gaius was so frightened that the sweat on his forehead dripped down continuously. Although he felt that he never did anything bad, he was extremely afraid that somebody would come forward and make things up to get him killed. After all, the fact that he was the White family's helmsman had caused many people to be jealous, envious, and hateful of him.

“He had never done anything bad all this while!” At this moment, Kayla thought about it and stood up. “Gaius seldom comes down from the mountain and he’s always busy with training. He must be thinking about being promoted to the position of patronum. Hence, his wife always complains about this. She’s always saying that he’s in the mountains and seldom comes down to accompany them!”

“Yes, that seems to be the case. His wife always complains!” A woman also nodded in agreement.

Gaius was secretly relaxed when he heard this. He looked at the crowd and said. “Thank you everybody as you’ve all spoken fair words!”

“Alright!” Jack nodded and directly threw his sword to Gaius. “Gaius, if you feel that you did nothing wrong and you’re guilty of nothing, you definitely know what to do as a White now that Ace wants to kill me. His daughter even wanted to humiliate my wife!”

Gaius swallowed his saliva and stood up with the sword in his hand. “I know what young master means, you are asking me to place righteousness before family!”

Gaius walked toward Ace and Autumn after he spoke with the sword in his hand.

“Uncle, you...you...” Autumn was so frightened that her voice was shivering.

Gaius looked at both of them and said, “Brother, niece, I’ve urged you guys many times to act low-key but you guys have never listened to me. Today, you can only blame yourselves for getting into such trouble!”

Gaius attacked them directly with the sword. Both Ace and Autumn immediately succumbed to the cuts on their neck as they crashed onto the ground with fear in their eyes.

Gaius walked toward Jack and returned the sword. “Young Master Jack, the other relatives in their family are weak and have never done anything wrong. I beg you to let them go!”

Jack took over the sword and smiled. “Don’t worry, I only kill those deserving of death and there’s no need to harm the innocents. I will not involve the other workers and relatives. Get someone to bury them!”

“Thank you, young master!” Gaius gestured with his hands and soon left to get people from the Maack family so that they could clean up the bodies.

“Never have I imagined that you are the young master of the White family!” Kayla looked at Jack differently as Jack approached her. “You’re really powerful to get rid of the bully in this town.”

Jack smiled. “Do you want to go to the White family? I can bring you to the White family and you can join us if you want to!”

Chapter 1166

“Join the White family?” blurted Kayla excitedly, her eyes twinkling in delight. “Are you for real? You’re not lying to me, are you?” Her expression changed into apprehension as she added, “Normal people don’t have the authority to bring anybody into the White family unless they’re people with a high position in the White family, such as the elders, patronums, or the elders’ son!”

Selena could hardly bite back her grin at how this young girl acted. “Don’t worry, you definitely can join the White family if Jack says so. He’s the White family master’s son and the inheritor to the White family master position right now.”

“Oh… Oh my god!” Kayla was utterly shocked at the news, her jaws wide open that an egg could fit it.

Seconds later, she gulped her own saliva and said, “The family master’s inheritor…? Doesn’t that mean that there’s hope for you to be the family master in the future? I had no idea that you have such an honorable status. No wonder Gaius knelt without hesitation when he saw you!”

“Haha…! I’m not interested in being the family master, so I don’t hang around the thought. Apart from that, my father is doing a good job!” Jack laughed.

He believed that he would be able to quickly cure his father after he made the pills. With Nash’s age, it would not be a problem for him to continue being the family master once his body was cured.

Apart from that, they did not have to be afraid of Lily and the Third Elder after Nash recovered!

“Haha… I know some things about the White family. I heard that you returned from the outside world and that you won the previous martial arts competition Lance White didn’t participate in. I really admire you for being so stellar, even though you just returned from the outside world. I wondered what such a master looked like… Who would’ve thought I’d get to meet you guys today!” Kayla laughed and was incredibly happy. “By the way, should I follow you guys to the White family tonight? Isn’t it inconvenient to go so late at night? It should be difficult to arrange accommodation and everything else, right?”

Jack fell silent for a good while at that. “It’s best if you go home and say goodbye to your family. Tomorrow, wait for me at the entrance into the mountains at nine in the morning, and I’ll come down and pick you up by then.”

“Alright, great! This is fantastic! Who would’ve imagined that I’ll be able to enter the White family!” Kayla nodded appreciatively, her eyes gleaming with respect for Jack.

She worshipped Jack after she heard of his story. She had no idea that she would meet him today. He was even willing to bring her to the White family and make her one of them.

“Alright, we’re almost done, so we’ll take our leave now. Go home to inform your family and say your goodbyes nicely.” Jack stood up and paid for the meal before leaving with Selena.

Exhilarated, Kayla returned to the Leigh family happily.

“Girl, where have you been? Why did you come back so late at night? I heard from our neighbor next door that something huge happened in town tonight!” Kayla’s father, Lincoln Leigh, immediately said to her when his daughter walked into their house.

“I went out for a walk. Haha…! I met a high-ranking person!” Kayla laughed, unable to describe her joy.

Chapter 1167

“Let me tell you this: the Maack family is completely done for this time. I heard that they offended the White family’s young master, and this young master has a high fighting prowess—a master. He killed the Maack family’s masters, family master, and Autumn, much to everyone’s joy,” Lincoln sighed. “Who knew that the usually arrogant and domineering Maack family would suffer such an ending. People would be so happy!”

Lincoln’s brother, who was beside them, chimed in, “I wonder what’s the name of the Young Master White? He’s really smart. I heard that he questioned Gaius if he defended the Maacks. Then, for Gaius to prove his innocence, he asked Gaius to kill his own brother and niece. Since Gaius was the one to do it, Gaius would not hate him…”

Kayla smilingly nodded at that. “Yes, that’s really smart of him, and I think so too!” She continued speaking while looking at his father and uncle after she spoke. “Father, Second Uncle, I need to tell you something... I’ll be leaving the Leigh family tomorrow.”

“Leave the Leigh family?” Their eyelids flipped open at the sudden bombshell, wondering what on earth happened.

Lincoln immediately said, “Where are you going? This is a blessed ground for training. We, the Leighs, had an aggrieved life when the Maack family was domineering this place. Now that the Maack family is completely done, families like us, who are only slightly weaker than them, will have better days. We don’t need to spend days walking on thin ice at least. Apart from that, this place is a nice training grounds as it’s right next to where the White family is, and the Chi is thick. If you don’t stay here, where do you want to go?”

Kayla’s second uncle also immediately persuaded him. “Yes, Kayla, we were still thinking about having you train here. With your talent, it won’t take long for you to break through and enter the initial level of the demi-god stage. After you’ve broken through, you will have a chance when the White come down to pick someone to join them if you’re lucky. Why do you even think about leaving?”

Kayla once again smiled and, seeing their worried faces, explained, “Don’t worry, I’m not going to some random place. I’m going to the White family! I happened to meet Young Master White today, and he asked me to join the White family when he saw how talented I am!”

“Really? That’s splendid news!” Lincoln was immediately ecstatic and laughed exuberantly. “The Chi is much thicker in the mountains, and more than that, you can get quite a number of Chi Congregation Pills every month. This is your golden opportunity!

“Ah, yes, what’s the name of this White family’s young master? He actually defeated somebody at the initial stage of the demi-god level so easily at such a young age. He’s definitely a master in the White family. You have somebody to rely on since he’s referred you,” said Lincoln smilingly.

“He… His name is Jack White, and he’s the White family’s inheritor right now. How about that? Am I lucky?” Kayla slightly raised her delicate head and had a proud expression on her face.

“Jack?” The smile on Lincoln’s face shifted sourly, and such an expression was not one of pleasantness.

Kayla soon realized that Lincoln did not seem happy so she frowned and asked, “Why, Father? He’s the White family’s inheritor, and he’ll be the White family master if all goes to plan. What are you worried about when he’s the one to bring me into the White family?”

Lincoln sighed and said, “This seems to be a good and bad thing at the same time.”

Chapter 1168

“Father, what are you talking about? Why don’t I understand you at all?” Kayla rolled her eyes at her father in agitation. She could not understand how entering the White family and knowing the White family master’s son would be both good and bad at the same time.

This was obviously something great.

Lincoln smiled bitterly and explained, “This is good because you’re able to enter the White family, and you’ll be able to get better martial enhancement materials. We’re naturally happy that you get to train in the White family because our daughter gets to quickly breakthrough and become a master of the demi-god level!"

Lincoln paused momentarily before he added, "I've also said it's a bad thing because I'm worried about the White family's current predicament; it doesn't look too good. You also know that the White family's First Madam isn't happy when Jack becomes the family master's inheritor, and she really wanted to kill Jack. Apart from that, Lily has a high position in the White family. She brought many of the Lagorias over, so…"

Kayla understood what her father, Lincoln meant. "Father, I know what you mean. You're afraid of me getting involved after I follow Jack, no? You're afraid of a civil war within the White family, that they'll start fighting, am I right?"

"Yes. After all, Jack is the one who brought you into the White family. If he asks you to stand by his side at that moment, would you not do it? Apart from that, Nash's condition seems to be getting increasingly serious. I'm afraid that if he dies soon, many people will go after the position of family master!" Lincoln nodded helplessly. "I also want you to be able to enter the White family, but this doesn't seem to be a very good chance, especially when you're being introduced into the family by Jack. What if the First Madam hates you too?"

"Don't worry, Father. Why would she pinpoint me when I don't even have a position? You're really cowardly. It'll mean something that the First Madam has her eyes on me if I'm a patronum or elder, but I'm just a nobody who just joined, and they won't have time to think about me!" Kayla was speechless at her father's antics. "Apart from that, Jack is really talented. He's also somebody smart, so he'll definitely think of ways to handle the White family's issues, so don't worry about these things. Didn't you always tell me that training is going against nature, and I can't be afraid of death? What's so frightening about death?"

“Who’d want to die when you can stay alive?” Lincoln’s face darkened as he countered. “This is definitely an opportunity, but you have to be careful, alright? Don’t take Jack’s side just because he’s the one who brought you up the mountain; you’ll be in trouble if you accidentally offended First Madam or the others. You need to train well after you enter the mountains. Speak less unless necessary, and don’t walk around, alright?”

“Yeah, yeah, I get it!” Kayla nodded. “Father, I’m leaving tomorrow, so should we celebrate tonight and have a nice dinner?”

Only then did Lincoln smile proudly as he spoke, “Yes. This is the first time after many years that somebody from the Leigh family gets to enter the White family, so we should definitely celebrate.

“Come on, I’ll ask the kitchen to prepare several dishes that you like!”

Meanwhile, Jack and Selena soon returned after they finished their food. They rested well for the night and the next morning, Jack went downstairs to bring Kayla up the mountain.

After arranging accommodation for Kayla and giving her the token to show that she belonged with the White main family, Jack returned to the house he stayed alone.

When he arrived at the room, Jack flipped his hand and a small pill furnace appeared.

Chapter 1169

“Honey, what is this?” questioned Selena as she eyed the object skeptically.

“This is a pill furnace, and it can be used to cultivate pills. It took me some effort to get my hands on this, years ago. Apart from this pill furnace, I also got my hands on several recipes for first-grade pills at that time.” Jack smiled and continued, “By the way, don’t tell anybody about this as alchemists are very rare. The training result after consuming pills is definitely better compared to spirited grass. However, pills require all sorts of ingredients, and it’s not easy to become an alchemist.”

“Dear me… I never thought you’d be able to make pills too, Honey! Have you successfully made any pills then? Elaine once told me about them. She said making them would need solid mental fortitude and great talent!” Selena was slightly surprised. Elaine had once told her that a person’s training period would be much shorter after consuming the pills compared to when they had the spirited grass. Moreover, results obtained with the pills were much more promising as the energy in the pills has been filtered, and only the essence was left.

However, Selena had never imagined that Jack was actually an alchemist.

Jack gave a tight smile as he replied, “I’ve got recipes for first-grade elementary-level pills, first-grade intermediate level pills, and one for first-grade high-level pills, but they’re rather difficult to cultivate. I’ve found many sets of ingredients for my first-grade elementary-level pills, but I’ve failed many times during cultivation. In the end, I succeeded in cultivating two first-grade elementary pills.”

Jack paused before he continued, “So, I’m only a first-grade elementary alchemist right now. It’s not an easy thing to learn it by myself without the guidance of a teacher.”

“It’s already quite good that you can cultivate a first-grade elementary pill when you’re only learning it by yourself. You’ll definitely improve in the future.” Selena smiled and continued, “It shouldn’t be an issue for you to cultivate a pill to cure your father’s poison, right? You won’t fail, right?”

“I won’t fail in this as these aren’t cultivating pills,” assured Jack smilingly. “I’m only slightly refining the herbs to increase their effectiveness, and it’s not very difficult. Many people who train are able to cultivate such healing pills, but it’s not the same as cultivating pills—now that’s a whole nother story.”

Jack was prepared to start the cultivation after he finished speaking. He could start a small fire with his Chi, but he had to feel and control the temperature and strength of the fire with his mental power.

Soon, Jack succeeded in cultivating the pills, and there were a total of five pills.

Jack had bullets of sweat on him by the time he completed the cultivation; it was no easy feat to achieve.

“It’s a success. Honey, let’s go cure father!” Jack smiled and kept the furnace away. He pulled Selena and went toward Nash’s living quarters.

Chapter 1170

Upon arriving at Nash’s bedroom door, Jack and Selena saw Joan talking to Nash inside.

“I heard that Jack sneaked out. I really don’t know why he does that, considering how dangerous it is right now.” Nash, who was laying on the bed, was obviously worried for Jack. He knew that Lily had wanted to get rid of Jack from the start, knowing how vexed she was that Jack took the position that belonged to Lance and became the family master’s inheritor. Her urge to get rid of Jack skyrocketed.

It was too risky for Jack to leave the main family as that would be Lily’s golden opportunity to take him out.

“You don’t need to worry; Jack won’t leave the main family if he’s not sure of himself. He must be confident enough to leave the house, and there must be something very important that led him to do that.” Joan sat beside with her usual gentle smile on her face. “He had already returned yesterday, so there’s nothing that you need to worry about.”

Outside the door, Selena stole glances at Jack and smiled inwardly. Jack’s prejudice toward Nash might lessen after he heard his father’s concerns about him.

Jack looked at Selena as they both walked into the room.

“Oh my, Jack, what a coincidence! We were just talking about you, and here you are,” beamed Joan when she saw him coming in.

Jack walked to where the bed was and spoke, “Father, Mother, I have wonderful news for you both. I’ve successfully cultivated the herbs to detoxify the poison in Father's body. I went out this time to search for some herbs, and I believe Father will recover tomorrow or the day after tomorrow after he takes my medication."

"Really?!" Joan's eyes lit up when she heard this, turning to Nash excitedly as she gushed, "Nash, did you hear that? Your son went out to find herbs for your cure!"

"I heard him, I heard him...! Lower your voice so that the others won't hear you!" Nash was just as excited. "I don't care if this medication works or not. I don't mind if I die because of this medication that Jack risked his life to obtain for me."

"Let's not talk about death and take one of the pills. I've cultivated five pills, and you need to take one for three times every day. You might be able to get down from bed to talk tomorrow evening." Jack smiled bitterly and continued, "However, I recommend that you share nothing about your physical improvements. The Third Elder has gone into retreat for training, but I think that old fox is plotting something. We should take this chance to see who's scheming and who's not."

Nash nodded in satisfaction after he heard this. "Haha…! It looks like my son is very confident in this medication. I've asked many famous doctors to cure me previously, but none of them were certain enough to cure me. They couldn't even make out what condition I had."

Jack chuckled as he sat by Nash's side. "It might be because they thought it's nothing out of the ordinary, thinking anything but poisoning."

Nash took a pill and said, “I don’t have high hopes of recovering; all I thought of was if I could see you two before I go. Who would’ve expected my son to be so talented and have such good medical skills! This has been a great surprise for me.”

Chapter 1171

Jack thought about it and said to Nash, “Father, it’ll be quite troublesome if Lily and the Third Elder really want to go against us after you’ve recovered, so you should prepare for that.”

Nash nodded solemnly. “If that’s really the case, then our White family would definitely drop out of the eight shadow families. The seven other families won’t recognize our standing, but I don’t care about that. I used to care a lot about this, but things become much clearer to me after I’m poisoned. So what if we’re a shadow family? So what if we’re not? Such titles mean nothing,” he spoke as he gazed at Joan and Jack. “I’m already satisfied to be with you two and have a peaceful life. I’ll never allow Lily to hurt you!”

“Alright, Father. You rest well. Selena and I will excuse ourselves now.” Jack nodded. “I believe your body will recover tomorrow.”

Nash nodded, assured at the idea. “It must’ve been a tiring couple of days for you. Thank you for risking your life out there for me.”

“There’s nothing tiring about this. I held prejudice against you because of what others did, but such a misunderstanding has been resolved.” Jack smiled and soon left with Selena.

At this moment, an old man appeared in Lily's room.

The old man greeted Lily dutifully before he spoke, "First Madam, we got news about the things that you've wanted updates on. Jack and his subordinates went to Soul City after they left this place, and that young man caused a huge stir after he arrived at Soul City. It was easy to obtain news about him because he wiped out an entire second-class aristocratic family and a very huge clan. News about this has been spreading all over the place."

Lily had a small frown as she heard his report. "Strange. Did that guy purposely take a trip to Soul City so that he could cause trouble with these powerful people? Did he have to do that? Apart from that, he's the White family master inheritor. Isn't he lowering his position when he causes trouble with others?"

The old man smiled bitterly and said, "I don't think he purposely went there to look for trouble. I heard that he went over to the auction house for herbs and bought a herb at a sky-high price. It so happened that those people offended him because of this!"

"Herbs?" Lily's heart dropped when she heard this. Jack purposely went to Soul City in search of herbs?

She heard that Jack excelled and was well-versed in medicine. Was he out there looking for medication to heal Nash?

Lily began to worry at such a thought as she instantly asked the old man, "What herbs did he buy? Did you investigate that?"

The old man frowned. “That, I do not know. Our people are rushing over there, and they got news about this while they’re on the airplane.”

Lily nodded and firmly spoke, “You have to get exact news about what sort of herbs that guy bought.”

Lily’s frown deepened after the old man left, her anxiety plaguing her mind as she did.

“I heard Jack has exceptional medical skills. Had he gone looking for a cure for Nash?” Lily started talking to herself, but she soon shook her head. “That’s impossible. The First Elder brought many miracle-working doctors before, but those people couldn’t even identify Nash’s body condition. How can Jack cure him? He must be preparing medication for that brother of his, Fernando!”

Lily’s thought calmed her as she began to loosen up, under the impression that Jack was looking for herbs to cure Fernando. The Third Elder ensured her that no normal person could identify the poison in Nash’s body, and only a handful of people could identify it.

As the symptoms of this poison looked more like asthma, many doctors might even treat it as such. The result would be a definite failure.

...

As he had ample free time, Jack started cultivating pills with two sets of herbs as he returned to his room.

He did not have many ingredients with him at that moment, and he only had some first-grade elementary ingredients that would produce first-grade elementary pills.

Nonetheless, these pills were suitable for people who were at the level of grandmasters or demi-gods. Among them, grandmasters would have better results if they used this. Hence, Jack planned to let Selena use it when she broke through the grandmaster level.

Such first-grade elementary pills were obviously useless for Jack; he had to consume first-grade premium-level pills for good effects.

Unfortunately, he could not even cultivate first-stage intermediate level pills, let alone first-stage premium-level pills. Apart from that, he did not have many of such ingredients with him.

It was already late when he finished his cultivation. Jack took out first-stage premium spirited grass after he had dinner with Selena.

This spirited grass was one of the rewards Jack won in the competition. He planned to cultivate the grass in order to increase its power. Even though he did not have a breakthrough and enter the intermediate stage of the true god level, he could at least have some improvement.

Jack had successfully cultivated the spirited grass during the middle of the night so he went to sleep.

Others would envy Jack if they knew how quickly he could cultivate this first-level premium-grade spirited grass. After all, this was a first-level premium-grade spirited grass, and the energy in it was incomparable to other spirited grass.

The next morning, Joan came looking for Jack in delight.

“Jack, I have great news to share! Your father told me this morning that your medication worked wonders, so much so that he felt obvious improvements in his body, especially during last night after he vomited several mouthfuls of black-colored blood. That has to be poisoned blood, yes?” Happiness was written all over Joan’s face. There was no hiding her love for Nash, and it showed in her jubilant expression knowing Nash would recover.

“Yes!” Jack nodded. “I’m confident in curing his poison. The only thing that I’m worried about right now is Fernando’s situation. His situation is so troublesome, and we have to get that ancient scroll.” Jack paused here before he added, “Luckily, his body has been totally frozen, and there’s no rush for things. It won’t be an issue even if we spend two to three years to get the ancient book and come up with a treatment solution."

Joan's joyful grin fell a little as though she would frown, but a wan smile took its place. "Jack, I have to tell you some bad news... The Cyro Pearl is indeed a precious item, and it can completely freeze someone, but it still has its own limitations, and that would be time. The Cyro Pearl's effect would decrease after three years, and the ice would slowly melt. That means you only have three years, Jack. Your dad told me this and he wanted to tell you, but he didn't know how to."

"Three years?!"

Chapter 1173

Jack's expression fell when he heard that. If he only had three years, he had no time to waste. He had to get his hands on the ancient scroll, and fast.

Jack smiled bitterly. "Alright, I understand," he replied.

Two days later, Nash's body had completely recovered.

Nash kept it a secret from everyone else, all except his two trusted people—Titus and the First Elder, Kenneth.

Titus and Kenneth were overjoyed to hear Nash's news.

Despite their joy, however, they felt restless to keep such a secret. They suffered in silence for it.

Another day passed and the Third Elder finally walked out from his room. He had a smile on his face and he quickly went to Lily's living quarters.

"Why did you come out so quickly?" rushed Lily upon seeing Wade. "I have a really bad feeling. Before you went into retreat, Jack went out with Lana and Ethan."

Wade was stunned when he heard this. "What do you mean, they went out? This is a great opportunity to kill him! Did you not send anybody to kill him?"

"I did. Sigh! This guy is really at the initial stage of the real god-level. Dean's carelessness led him to be killed in their hands. Yolanda escaped and ran back here as she was hurt under the attack of those three people!" Lily sighed. "What could we have done? It'll only get difficult to kill him now since we've missed such a great opportunity. This guy doesn't go out of the White family anymore. He hides in his room to train, and I think he also knows to not easily leave the grounds."

"Initial stage of the real god level?" Wade was also surprised when he heard this. "This young man is really talented—he's more talented than Nash when he was younger. Apart from that, he's really shrewd. He'll grow into something powerful if we allow him to grow like this."

“Yes. I have a bad headache right now, and I don’t know what to do!” Lily frowned and asked Wade, “Why did you come out so quickly? Have you failed to raise your fighting prowess?”

Wade, instead, smiled as he diverted, “Has Lance returned yet? Is there any news?”

Lily felt warmth in her heart when she saw how Wade cared for her son, thus she replied, “Yes, nothing’s changed—there’s no news. Sigh… Could he be really dead?”

Wade smiled coldly. Even if Lance was not dead, he would not allow him to come back alive. Lily was delusional to think Lance could still come back alive.

He stepped forward and hugged Lily by her waist before he smilingly assured, “I’ve already broken through, and I’m in the peak stage of the real god-level right now. I’m not afraid of even the First Elder right now.”

Chapter 1174

“What?!” Sharply inhaling, a smile slowly broke out on Lily’s face as she grabbed the Third Elder’s shoulder in surprise. “You… You’ve really broken through? You’ve broken through and entered the peak stage of the real god-level? Does that mean you’re the same level as Nash?”

The Third Elder laughed in satisfaction. “Haha… Of course! Nash is in no condition to fight right now. The First Elder and the others are at the last stage of the real god level, so even the First Elder can’t compete against me right now. I have the highest fighting prowess in the entire White family, and I'm the strongest fighter in the White family. I'll take that family master title this time!"

"Wonderful! Oh, how wonderful!" Lily also became slightly excited and said to Wade, "Wade, don't forget what you promised me. After you become the family master, you have to keep this position for my son in the future!"

Wade immediately responded with a smile, "Don't you worry, my dear. I treat Lance as if he's my own son. I won't have this chance if you hadn't secretly poisoned Nash. Don't you worry; I'll only be the family master for a maximum of two years. I'll give this position to him after he returns."

"Alright. Lance will definitely come back. He definitely will!" Lily nodded.

She knew that for her son to be the family master, she had to allow Wade to take the position for a certain period. Otherwise, Jack would eventually get that position.

Jack was only an illegitimate child, the child Nash and Joan bore in the outside world without her consent. Her hatred for Jack felt as though it was carved into her bones.

She could have ignored the mother-and-son pair had they just stayed in the outside world and never returned to the White family.

However, Nash getting Jack to return after Lance went missing had completely infuriated Lily.

She could not let Jack take what belonged to her son.

Hence, she was willing to do whatever it took for Lance to be the White family master.

However, the Third Elder started frowning at this moment. “The only thing I worry about right now is the loyalty of many toward Nash White. Will others oppose me being the family master?”

“Oppose?” Lily had a sinister and vicious look in her eyes. “I’ll kill whoever that dares oppose it. I want to see how many aren’t afraid of death. Now that you’ve broken through, we need to act quickly. The other will be afraid once we kill Nash, First Elder, and Second Elder. Once these powerful units are killed, the others will have no choice but to obey!”

Lily thought about it and immediately added, “Also, we’ll need to kill Jack. This guy is really talented, and he’ll be our worst enemy if we allow him to grow within two to three years.”

The Third Elder nodded. “Not only do we need to kill the First and Second Elders, but we also need to kill the housekeeper, Titus. He’s Nash’s most loyal follower. Killing these people will act as a warning for the others. After they die, I’ll be the strongest in the entire White family. Who’ll be the family master if not me? Nothing can stop me if you show your support and ask the Lagorios to also support me.”

“No problem. Don’t you worry! The Lagorios aren’t stupid. However, you need to make sure that you kill the First Elder, Nash, and the others in order for you to be convincing. If I support you later on, the Lagorios will definitely be by your side too,” advised Lily.

“That’s right. Apart from that, I can also use the fact that the First Elder doesn’t know about my breakthrough. It’ll be much easier to kill him when he least expects it.”

Chapter 1175

Wade voiced his opinion.

“How about tomorrow? We’ll be paying our respects to the ancestors tomorrow, so they’ll definitely lower their guard. You need to secretly attack the First Elder by then, and there’s nothing worth being afraid of once the First Elder dies!” suggested Lily after a silent moment of consideration.

“Ah, yes, I almost forgot about tomorrow! Would’ve forgotten it had you not mentioned it. Tomorrow, we’ll need to go to the back of the mountain to pay our respects to the ancestors. Haha… What an opportunity! Many of the branch family masters will also be there, and I can use this opportunity to announce that I’m the new family master in front of them. Haha!” The thought of being the family master excited Wade incredibly.

“Yes! We can officially order the branch families to hand over as much martial enhancement material as we want. We don’t need to be afraid of Nash finding out!” added Lily.

“Yes, you’re right. I’ll be the White family master from tomorrow onward. By then, we can work together to manage the White family, and I’m sure that we can manage it well!” Chuckling, Wade hoisted Lily into his arms and walked toward the bed.

Lily rolled her eyes at Wade and said coquettishly, “You’re nasty!”

...

The next afternoon, many of the branch family masters rushed over to join the occasion of paying respect to the White family ancestors.

Lancelot, Chad, and the others arrived at Jack’s living quarters that night.

“Young Master Jack, we had no idea why but some time ago, Dean and Yolanda Lagorio arrived at the branch families looking for you. They enquired if you guys went there and we were worried because of this. We were afraid that something happened to you. It’s nice to see you being healthy and safe right now!” blurted Lancelot.

“This was what happened. I planned to leave the White family some time ago, and I knew that Lily would definitely send people to kill me, so I purposely leaked the news…” Jack told everybody a summary of what happened.

“Who knew that Yolanda would kill Dean at the most important time. It looks like Yolanda is somebody worth trusting!” Chad could not hold back and responded after he heard what Jack said. “Many of the Lagorios received great care from the family master after they arrived at the White family. Some of them still understand how to be thankful and can tell right from wrong!”

“Yes!” Jack nodded and said, “I heard that old Wade had come out from his retreat. I wonder if he came out because he had already broken through his fighting prowess, or that he came out early to join the ancestors' praying occasion. I’m afraid that this guy might go all out if he truly had achieved his break-through.”

Chapter 1176

Stunned at what Jack had said, everyone inhaled sharply.

Chad swallowed his saliva nervously. “You’re saying that the Third Elder has the intention of rebelling? How’s that possible? He’s a member of the White family!” he blurted.

On the other hand, Lancelot responded, “To be honest, this guy is really daring. He dared to scheme with First Madam and adjusted the material submission from seventy percent to eighty. He’s already that brazen, so what else can he not do? I think he might’ve been planning to take over the position of family master since long ago.”

“F*ck! Wouldn’t we be in trouble if he has really broken through?” fretted Mason. “After all, the master’s health has deteriorated and he can’t really fight. Third Elder and First Elder originally have the same combat power, but the First Elder won’t be able to compete with Third Elder if he has broken through!”

“That’s right! If this old bastard kills our First Elder, nobody in the White family can stop him.” Lancelot had a serious expression on his face as he thought about it, his worries overriding his senses.

“This isn’t the only issue. The most crucial point is that the First Madam might stand with him. If the First Madam leads some of the Lagorios to support the Third Elder to be the family master once the First Elder and Second Elder are gone, many people will have to agree just to save themselves. That way, that old bastard’s sure to get the family master title,” spoke Jack, all while he had an indifferent smile on him.

Chad thought about it and said, “Will the First Madam work with him? Although they worked together to embezzle lots of martial enhancement material, hadn’t the First Madam always hoped that her son would become the family master? How will she allow the old bastard, Wade White to be the family master?”

Jack’s smile caught them off-guard; it was as if he had expected it all. “Wade White is extremely cunning, so who knows how he tricked the First Madam. I think that old bastard used her, toyed her. No matter what, we need to be extra cautious for tomorrow.”

“Understood.” Everybody nodded and left in a short while.

Jack, on the other hand, asked the First Elder, Kenneth White, Second Elder, Weston White, and Titus White to meet him at Nash’s living quarters.

“Young Master Jack, may I know why we’re asked to be here so late at night?” Kenneth and the others asked in suspicion after they arrived.

“The old bastard, Wade White has come out from his retreat, and none of us know if he has broken through. Every one of you needs to be extra careful tomorrow, especially First Elder. I fear that guy might suddenly attack you if he has already broken through. After all, you’re the only obstacle in his way. The Second Elder and housekeeper’s fighting prowess aren’t as strong as his.”

Jack smiled bitterly and continued, “I’m also not sure if I’m overthinking it, but no matter what, please be careful tomorrow. This old bastard might be docile tomorrow if he didn’t break through, but he wouldn’t act so honestly if he had.”

“How’s that possible? The Third Elder has contributed a lot to the White family. How could he do something like this, even if he doesn’t like you?” The Second Elder was obviously surprised when he thought about it.

“Haha… I’m just reminding all of you to be careful. Everybody will soon know if the Third Elder has broken through!” said Jack with a chuckle.

“Alright, thank you for the reminder, Young Master Jack. All of us will take precautionary steps tomorrow,” said the First Elder with a nod.

...

The next day, everybody was ready to go to the back mountain to pray to the ancestors in the afternoon.

Chapter 1177

After preparing quite a number of tributes, Nash walked toward the back of the mountain supported by Joan and Second Madam Lizzie.

Not long later, the crowd arrived at the back of the mountain. There was a cemetery in the area where the ancestors of the White family were buried. A huge stone slab covered the cemetery's entrance, and it gave everyone a somber, solemn feeling.

After arranging the tributes to honor the ancestors, Titus appeared in front of the crowd and said lots of propitious words. He then said to the crowd, "Bow."

Everybody immediately bowed solemnly.

The Third Elder purposely stood behind the First Elder all the while, and at that moment, Chi surged from his palm. He struck at the First Elder's back with all his might.

The First Elder had been guarding against the Third Elder. He was surprised when he felt the movement behind him and immediately concentrated a thin layer of protective Chi layer around his body.

His protective Chi barrier managed to intercept the Third Elder's attack right at the nick of time.

A loud rumble was heard as the Chi barrier was destroyed. The Third Elder's attack directly landed on the First Elder's back.

The First Elder was sent flying as blood spewed from his mouth. He dropped to the ground right after.

"What's going on?" Many people immediately moved backward after they realized what had happened.

"Third Elder, you…" The First Elder eyed the Third Elder, shocked and fearful. He was lucky that he had his guard up against the Third Elder, and that was why he could concentrate a Chi protective layer so quickly. Although he was hurt, his injuries were not that serious.

If Jack had not told him of this before, Wade's attack would have done a total on him, and he might not have managed to form the protective Chi layer on time. He might have been injured gravely… He could have died, even.

"Haha…! Never thought you'd be so alert and quick on your feet, First Elder. I thought of ending you in one swift move—who knew you'd be able to react!" The Third Elder laughed loudly and said loudly, "Still, it doesn't matter that you were quick. You're injured, and I've already reached the peak stage of the real god level. Killing you now would be as easy as pie."

“Third Elder, you… You really disappoint me!” Nash shot the Third Elder a deadly glare.

At that moment, Lily—who stood beside Nash—glowered viciously.

She flipped her hand and came up with a dagger, aiming it at Nash. “Die! You’re the reason why my son isn’t the family master. I’ll end you, Nash White!”

“You think so?” Jack had been guarding against her. He appeared in front of Nash in a flash and kicked Lily hard at her abdomen area.

Chapter 1178

Lily was sent flying, blood spurting from her mouth as she did. She flew several meters back before Wade managed to catch her. They stopped and stood up.

“Eldest Miss!” Several Lagorios immediately ran over and studied Lily anxiously.

Nonetheless, they could not fathom why Lily would attack Nash—they were husband and wife for over 20 years.

“Lily, how dare you attack the family master?!” Titus and the others stood forward and stared at Lily angrily.

Lily laughed loudly at this moment. “Haha…! Don’t blame this on me; blame Nash for being an ungrateful bastard. The Lagorios worked hard to help the White family turn strong and become one of the eight shadow families. He, on the other hand, wants to bring back that vixen Joan and make Jack, this illegitimate child of his, the family master inheritor! He deserves to die!”

“Lily, you’re ruthless! Young Master Jack is the family master’s son! And why are you still hung up on it when this has already passed for so many years?” growled Titus as he shot Lily a heated glare. “Apart from that, isn’t it normal for the family master to want to meet them when he knows he’s not going to live for long? Apart from that, we’ve heard nothing about Lance, and he’s probably dead. You better wake up! Lance had gone to the most dangerous place, and no prodigies from other families that went with him returned. There aren’t any leads, and he would’ve returned if he was still alive after such a long time!”

“Shut up!” shrieked Lily. “My son’s not dead! He’s very talented, and he’s the most suitable person to be the family master inheritor. He should be the family master after Nash dies. Why is this illegitimate child eligible too?!”

Kenneth sighed and began, “First Madam, stop being so stubborn. Young Master Jack being the family master inheritor is the best choice given our current circumstances. Can’t you see his talents? He’s much more talented than Young Master Lance! Isn’t it nice for us to continue our lives as a family?”

The other two elders of the White family stepped forward and said, “Seems like peace within the family isn't a choice, considering how Lily made her choice to go against Nash. If the young master hadn't responded speedily, Lily would've killed him."

"Haha… It's true that there's no other way!" Lily laughed loudly and said to the crowd, "Let's end this today. Although my son can't be the family master inheritor, Nash is also dying. I'll kill all of you today and make everybody regret their actions!"

"That's right. On what grounds can an illegitimate child who returned from the outside world be the family master?" Wade also smiled coldly. He appeared mid-air in a flash as a strong aura immediately radiated from him.

"How's this possible? It looks like he's achieved the peak stage of the true god level!" exclaimed the people when they felt his strong wave of aura.

"Oh my god. How's this possible? The peak stage of the true god level? This is the highest fighting prowess!" Many of the branch family masters grew fearful. They knew it in their guts that life would be a true struggle if Wade became the family master.

"Wade White, what's the meaning of this? Are you planning to rebel against us?" Nash had a darkened expression on his face, holding onto the hope that it was all just a joke. He trusted the Third Elder all along, and he never thought this old bastard would do this to him.

"Haha…! Is there really a need to confirm this, Nash White?"

Chapter 1179

Wade laughed loudly and said to Nash, “I’ll kill you, Titus, Kenneth, your son, and everybody else. Then, I’ll be the White family master!”

“Listen to me, members of the Lagorio family. Wade White has the highest fighting prowess in the White family right now. If you don’t want to die, and this applies to the White family members too, come forward. Nash will die soon, and it’s time the title is moved to someone else!” Lily shouted loudly.

“I agree with what the First Madam says. Jack is just a son-in-law who married into his wife’s family in the outside world. It’d be shameful for the White family if he becomes the family master. People will think that the White family don’t have any other choices! I support the Third Elder in becoming the family master!” As expected, an old man from the Lagorio family, who was also an elder, proactively walked forward and stood beside Lily.

“What the heck? I’ve just arrived at the White family and things just...” Kayla was speechless as she stood among the crowd. Who knew her father’s worries would come true so soon.

There was nothing she could have done. After all, somebody like her could not change the situation.

“Young Master Jack, the position should be given to the capable person. Now that the Third Elder has the highest fighting prowess, why don’t you just give him the position of family master inheritor?” Two other White family elders wavered in their faith. After all, Nash treated them well and they chose to carry out persuasion at this moment.

One of them even looked at Lily and said, “First Madam, why don’t we let Jack and Nash go if they willingly surrender the family master title? What if they acknowledge the Third Elder as the family master and support him?”

Lily’s face darkened when she heard this. “I don’t think so. The First Elder, Jack, Nash and the others have to die today!”

“Haha… You speak in such a boastful way!” spoke the smiling Jack as he unhesitantly walked forward, seeing how the people grew wary of him and wanting to side with Lily and the others. “Lily, my father isn’t sick. You poisoned him, didn’t you?”

“How’s that possible? How could the First Madam poison the family master?”

“Exactly. How could she when they’re married?!” There was a wave of exclamation after they heard this. Lily was a horrible, vicious woman if what Jack said was true.

“Haha… It doesn’t matter if I tell you the truth. Nash White isn’t sick but poisoned, and this poison won’t be easily detoxified!” Lily completely fell out and said with a cold smirk on her face. “He’s the one who asked for this. He was the one who summoned Joan and Jack back and even made Jack the family master inheritor. He can’t blame me for his suicidal actions!”

She stared straightforwardly at Nash as she spoke, “You never saw that coming, did you, Nash White? It must’ve never occurred to you that I’d poison you, right? Haha…! Ah, but what can you do? You’re going to die. No, I’ll ask the Third Elder to kill your son, Jack, and your lover, Joan. I’ll make you see how they die in front of your eyes!”

“Never thought you’d be so heartless!” Nash felt a wave of heartache when Lily admitted it in front of the crowd, even though he had an inkling of what had happened.

“Die, you b*tch!” The Second Elder was so angry that he flickered and rushed toward Lily.

Chapter 1180

The Second Elder was fast but the Third Elder, Wade was faster.

Swift like the wind, Wade appeared before the Second Elder and threw his fist against the Second Elder’s.

The force condensed and exploded deafeningly, and the impact sent the Second Elder flying like a kite severed from its string. Brought down to the ground by gravity, blood spewed from the Second Elder’s mouth.

“Haha…! Even the First Elder can’t beat me, yet you want to kill my darling when you’re just in the intermediate level of true god status, Second Elder?” Wade laughed rambunctiously as he saw how the Second Elder vomited blood from his attack. He even approached Lily with the crowd watching and hugged her waist.

Shooting him an abashed stare, the blushing Lily tried to free herself from his arms.

“What are you afraid of? Baby, they’ll know about our relationship sooner or later. We can’t continue sneaking around like this, right? Haha…! It’s good for Nash to look at us; maybe he’ll die out of anger without us doing anything!” sneered the Third Elder, laughing as he did. “Who dares to go against me today is suicidal. I have the highest fighting prowess right now while both the First and Second Elder are hurt. Their combat power is pitiful, and I have two to three Lagorio family elders who are willing to fight with me. I think everyone gets the gist of things about now, no?”

“You disappoint me, Lily... Who knew you’d go behind my back with this old bastard!” Nash’s face turned pale from anger and inwardly told himself that this woman was not worth getting angry over. He was lucky to have recovered entirely—he could have actually died in anger had the poison remained in his body.

“I support the Third Elder to be the family master!” Nobody could have imagined that two White family’s helmsmen would walk forward at that moment and stood beside the Third Elder and Lily.

“Look here, everyone, even members of the White family know which team to choose. Members of the Lagorio family, what are you waiting for? Do you guys want to support the White family and go against me? I’m the eldest miss of the Lagorio family!

“Has everybody forgotten that you guys carry the Lagorio surname?” addressed Lily as she smirked.

Sure enough, many Lagorios who came with Lily also walked over and stood by their side.

“Haha… Good. Amazing. Whoever feels that I, Nash White, have wronged you should side with them,” Nash chuckled bitterly as he spoke. “However, I’m grateful that none from the branch families stood over. What does this mean? This means that they’d rather die than stand with you lot!”

Lancelot stood forward and said loudly, “That’s right! Lily and the Third Elder colluded and secretly raised the percentage of the martial enhancement material we hand in. They never gave us any option to survive and raised it up to eighty percent. How can we follow such people? Today, my branch family will stand by master Nash’s side, even if it means death!”

“What? They raised the percentage of the martial enhancement material handed in by the branch families?” Murmurs among the elders and patronums were heard right after. Not only did they secretly raise the percentage, they even raised it to 80 percent. Did that not mean that the two of them secretly took 20 percent?

Chapter 1181

“Third Elder and First Madam, aren’t you going a little too overboard? The branch families have provided us with lots over the years, yet you both secretly raised their hand-in percentage by so much!” One of the White family’s women stood forward, her face pale from anger.

“Yes, you two are incredibly selfish. Why do you need so much material? Both of you can’t finish that much, right?” Another middle-aged man also stood forward. They were members of the White family, and they could not stomach Lily's actions.

"Hmph! The branch families were supposed to service us, the main family. So what if I ask them to hand in more?" spoke Lily indignantly. "Apart from that, you people wouldn't be so strong if it wasn't for the support from the Lagorio family. It's time for the White family to repay the Lagorio family. To be honest, I've given all the extra materials to my Lagorio family."

"Lily Lagorio, this is too much!" Nash's face turned green from anger, and he looked at Lily angrily as he spoke, "It's true that the Lagorio family had helped us when we were weak, but we've been helping you guys all these years as well. Don't you understand why the Lagorio family didn't grow? It's because you guys have suffered many deaths when you were secretly fighting the other families. Apart from that, the younger generations of your family are too pig-headed, refusing to train hard. This is the reason the Lagorio family turns into what it is right now!"

Nash paused before continuing, "Do you think the Lagorios' failure is due to limited resources? You guys have lots of resources and we constantly help, yet you still can't succeed, and it's mainly because your people refuse to work hard!"

"Nash, you should understand that people with stronger combat ability wins. Now, Wade is already at the peak level of the real god stage. I'd love to see who can top that!" Lily looked like she could care less. She calculated how many members of the Lagorios were with her before she spoke, "Why? You people are members of the Lagorio family, but you don't plan to stand by my side?"

"Eldest Miss, you… You've gone too far. Master White has always treated us well!" said a member of the Lagorio family.

“That’s right, Eldest Miss. Why do we need to cause such a situation? What’s more, you actually got together with Wade White? If news of this is spread…” A woman from the Lagorios felt slightly ashamed. She obviously had no idea that the Lagorio family’s eldest miss would be a woman who did not honor her womanhood.

“Alright, it doesn’t matter that none of you won’t support us. I’ll ask the Third Elder to spare you once he becomes the family master, since you’re all members of the Lagorio family, but don’t expect me to put you in important positions.” Lily smiled coldly. She looked at Yolanda and frowned. “Yolanda, what’s the meaning of this? Why don’t you stand with us?”

Yolanda smiled bitterly, her eyes filled with disappointment. “First Madam, you’ve changed, and you’re not the eldest miss that you once were. I had no idea that you’d do so many hateful things just to obtain the family master title for your son. You actually poisoned the family master and secretly embezzled so much martial enhancement material… I’m so disappointed in you!”

“Lily, I know that I’ve treated you and the Lagorios well all these years. Who knew that you’d stab me in the back!” Nash walked forward and levitated off the ground as his being emitted a daunting, powerful aura.

“What?!” Many people were frightened after they felt this wave of aura.

“Im...Impossible!” Wade turned pale after he felt the wave of aura, his eyes filled with disbelief.

Chapter 1182

“Such a strong aura! This aura is really the glorified aura among those in the peak stage of the real god level!” exclaimed an old man after he felt the aura.

“Yes! How can the master fly so easily? Apart from that, his facial complexion doesn’t look like he’s poisoned. He looks much more spirited than he used to be!” One of the patronums was extremely excited and seemed to have seen a glimpse of hope. Was it possible that the master was entirely well? He did not seem to be faking his condition before!

“What… What’s going on? Isn’t he poisoned?” Lily was also speechless as she stood there. She looked at Nash dumbfoundedly.

“Impossible! How can you…” The Third Elder was so frightened that his facial complexion alternated between being green and pale. Although he was at the peak stage of the real god level, he was still a long way behind Nash as he had just entered this level. Nash was in this level for two to three years, and his combat power was better than Wade.

Apart from that, the wounds the First Elder and Second Elder had were not fatal. They could obviously still fight, and Wade was surely no match for the three as he stood on his own.

Nash did not plan to be merciful. He pointed at Lily and the people who supported her as he spoke, “Kill these people, and leave the old bastard Wade to me!”

“Nash White, how dare you?! I’m the eldest miss of the Lagorio family! I’m warning you: the White family will suffer a huge loss if you dare kill me and the members of the Lagorio family. My father and the others will come to avenge me! The White family won’t be able to keep your current position!” Lily threatened Nash angrily.

Nash seemed aloof for a while before he spoke, grinning, “Yes, it’s too easy for you if you’re killed. Kill the others. I’m divorcing Lily Lagorio, and I’ll destroy her fighting prowess before driving her out of the White family!”

“You… You dare wish to destroy my fighting prowess?!” Lily’s face paled in anger. Destroying the fighting prowess of a person who spent lots of time to become a martial artist, especially a master who had reached the initial stage of the demi-god level, was worse than killing her. It was like ripping a master off of their position before dropping them from the skies, making them a mere mortal once more.

Apart from that, the person’s body would be badly injured after their fighting prowess got destroyed, and they would not be able to train without resting for half a year or one whole year. They had to start from scratch as a martial artist, and this would require so much more time and dedication!

“Haha… You were daring enough to cheat on me with another man, so why can’t I destroy your fighting prowess?” Nash laughed and waved his hand, signaling everybody to take action.

“Attack!” Many of the Lagorios who chose to stand by the White family secretly rejoiced that they made a smart choice. Otherwise, they would perish in the upcoming war.

“Attack!” None of the other branch families members supported Lily and the others as they had long hated them. They felt relieved as they finally had the chance to vent the anger in their hearts. They rushed toward the Lagorio family elders and those who supported Lily.

“How’s this possible? Father… We’re done for!” Hudson and his father almost vomited blood from anger. They did not make much consideration when they stood by the Third Elder and Lily’s side knowing that Nash was poisoned. Apart from that, both the First and Second Elders were hurt, and the Third Elder had achieved the peak stage of the real god level. Hudson was even thinking about the benefits he could obtain after the Third Elder became the family master. After all, he had always been benefiting from their side. Who knew…

“We’re really unlucky! How could this be?”

Chapter 1183

Hudson’s father wore a grave expression. He flipped his palm and a sword appeared. “Fight… Fight our way out!”

“Attack!” Those who sided with Lily only knew then they had no other choice, thus they rushed forward and fought.

Nash smiled coldly and spoke to Wade, who was standing in front of him, “Wade White, I’m sure both you and Lily had no idea that my son, Jack had cured me of my poisoning, no?”

Lily had a sudden realization and her face darkened. “The last time Jack went out was to find the detoxifying herbs for you...? How did he know you’ve been poisoned?”

“Haha! My son’s a master with medical skills, and he knows the treatment plan!” Nash once again laughed and tightened his grip on the sword in his hands. He quickly adjusted his Chi and waved the sword outward. “Burning Chop!”

As Nash waved his sword, a fierce aura emerged from his swing. His Chi and sword aura were weaved together and it looked like a fireball. It also looked like a meteor with a long tail as it flew forward.

“Great, he’s using a second-grade elementary martial skill right off the bat!” The Third Elder’s face darkened when he saw this attack. He gritted his teeth and also showed his martial skill. Soon, another cut flew forward.

Accompanied by a loud thunder-like noise, two powerful attacks collided as a strong wave of energy rippled throughout.

Trees shook with the wind, a result of the impact.

“Damn it… There really is a difference?” The Third Elder realized something was wrong even though both of them used second-grade elementary martial skills. His martial skill obviously could not uphold and the energy was parried with ease. Nash’s attack still had remaining energy, and it went for his body.

Sensing something was wrong, the Third Elder immediately concentrated a thick layer of Chi to protect himself.

The energy-fused attack clashed against his Chi barrier the moment it was summoned.

The Third Elder was blasted several meters backward before he could regain his footing.

However, the Chi protective layer covering his body had also shattered loudly, and blood spurted from his mouth.

“Sh*t. The Chi protective later can’t even withstand the leftover energy from his attack?” The Third Elder had a darkened expression. He was so frightened that he directly waved his sword at the opponent before turning around to run away.

“Going somewhere?” Nash directly blocked the Third Elder’s attack with his sword when he saw how the Third Elder planned to escape. He immediately turned into an afterimage as he chased after the Third Elder.

Chapter 1184

After several waves of explosions, the people siding with Lily and the Third Elder were killed. Only Lily was badly wounded, lying on the ground with a grudge-filled expression.

Nash also flew back with a heavily wounded Wade and threw him on the ground.

“Why? Nash White, do you plan to shame me before killing me?” Wade, who was paralyzed on the floor, stared at Nash hatefully. “I’ve calculated every step thoroughly, never once thinking your son would have such high medical skills. Not only did he realize what was wrong with your body, but he cured you as well. If that didn’t happen, I would be crowned the family master today!”

“Haha… I brought you back here without thinking of shaming you. Third Elder, you’re imagining things. I brought you back here because I want to kill you, a sinner, in front of the White family’s ancestors!” Nash laughed and raised his sword.

“Sinner?” Nobody expected Wade to laugh out loudly at that moment. “I don’t feel that I’m a sinner of any kind. As the saying goes, ‘The capable are to be crowned.’ The world operates based on how big a person’s fists are, and it’s always been that way. I should be the family master if I’m stronger than you. Why should you be the family master? On what grounds does your son get to be the family master after you die? I’m also a member of the White family, and I’m qualified to be the family master too!”

“Haha… You speak like you come from a justified stance. How dare you mention ‘the capable are to be crowned’ when you colluded with the First Madam and made her poison my father?” Jack could not help but laughed coldly when he heard this. “It makes sense if you rebelled because you’ve improved your fighting prowess and are stronger than my father. However, you used such ways against my father and even secretly attacked the First Elder. How dare you say that you’re worthy of the saying ‘the capable are to be crowned’ with these despicable ways?”

“Wade, what do you mean? Why… Why does it feel like you want to be the family master all along? Didn’t we have an agreement that if I cooperate with you and make you a family master, you’ll give the position of family master to my son when he returns?” Lily felt that something was wrong after she heard what Wade said. She could not help but look at him curiously. It looked like Wade had never planned to give the family master position to Lance from the beginning.

Wade looked at Lily and smirked. “Lily, do you really think I’d give your son such a powerful title when he returns? Why don’t you dream about it? Haha! Why should I give it to your son when it's so hard to get this position? Apart from that, your son is dead! Stop thinking that he’ll return!”

Wade paused here before he continued, “Haha… First Madam, you really are willing to sacrifice everything for your son. Not only did you sacrifice your body, but you even helped me with all your power. Ah, shame, but I was just using you. I even ordered several people to kill your son if they found him. He’s not allowed to come back alive and, even if he does, I won’t hand him the family master title! Haha!”

“You… You animal!” Lily’s face was filled with despair. She knew, at that moment, she was just one of Wade’s pawns.

“Hmph! You can only blame your stupidity. If I really become the family master, what if your son returns when I’m stable in the position? By then, nobody can take it from me without a fight!” spoke the indignant Wade. “I’m unlucky today, and I admit my defeat.”

He closed his eyes and said loudly, “Come, Nash White! Make it quick!”

Nash held his sword tightly and swung it downward. Wade's head fell to the ground as his body fell backward.

After killing Wade, Nash came behind Lily and placed his hand on her back.

Chapter 1185

Lily vomited a mouthful of blood and her fighting prowess was destroyed.

"You really are heartless, Nash...! You destroyed my fighting prowess?!" Lily turned around to look at Nash, her eyes filled with hatred. "We were together for over twenty years—I had no idea you'd be so cruel to me!"

"I kept you alive because of our relationship that spanned over twenty years. I'll ask a member of the Lagorio family to send you back, but you'll have to watch you back when you do," spoke the merciless Nash as he crossed his arms at his chest.

"Let me escort her back." One of the White family elders, who carried the surname Lagorio, felt bad for Lily even though he was already a member of the White family and was willing to work for the White family.

"Nash White, remember what you did today. I'll hate you for the rest of my life, and I'm sure you'll regret not killing me!" Lily's face was pale as she stood up. She wiped off the blood from the corner of her mouth and the old man from the Lagorio family supported her as they left.

Nash looked at the bodies on the floor and secretly sighed after Lily left.

Although these people deserved to die, there were many masters among them. The White family has suffered a serious loss this time, especially since they lost a very strong master like the Third Elder.

This caused the White family, who had just entered the ‘eight shadow families’ cluster, to drop in their position.

However, they were still temporarily in eighth place as they still had Nash White, a master of the peak stage in the real god level, to support the family.

Unfortunately, their relationship with the Lagorio family was severed after this civil war. Although the Lagorio family was not as strong as the White family and that they might not counter-attack, the White family had to be on guard.

Nash shook his head at the thought. He forgot about his troubles and said, “I’m really sorry about Lily and Wade secretly raising the percentage of the material you guys hand in. From this month onwards, the branch families only need to submit fifty percent of the materials gathered.”

Nash glanced at Jack, who was beside him, and added, “I’ll send Jack to the branch families to bring a handful of prodigies here for training. I’ll also send some of our youths with good training prowess to help collect martial enhancement material to raise their combat power."

"That… That's wonderful! Master, you're wise!" Mason's eyes reddened in excitement, nearly tearing up when he heard Nash's words.

"Great! This is really great!" Lancelot also smiled in excitement.

Nobody expected Nash to smile at that moment and raised his hand to quiet down the crowd. He continued, "We've lost several elders and patronums this time, so I plan to re-select several elders and patronums to take over their positions."

Nash paused for a moment and announced loudly, "However, it'll be different from our usual ways of selecting among people of the main family. The branch family masters, especially those who have achieved the intermediate stage of the real god level, can also enter the main family and become our elder!"

Chapter 1186

"Intermediate stage of the true god status and the people from the branch families can be elders at the main family?" Lancelot was extremely excited when he heard the news. His fighting prowess was considered high among many of the branch families and had already reached the intermediate stage of the true god status.

He obviously fulfilled all the requirements.

He would be given a very nice stipend once he became the main family's elder. Not only could he stop worrying about the branch family, but he would also have enough martial enhancement material to train himself. He would be able to raise his fighting prowess in peace and enjoy the best martial materials.

The most important point was that nobody from the branch families has ever entered the main family and became the main family's elder.

This decision of Nash obviously broke the previous rules.

This was not something good for the main family's members, but it definitely was extremely good news for the branch family's members.

After all, if any of them became the main family's elders, they would have the chance to suggest or hold some decisive votes when there were important discussions. His vote might be vital on some critical issues.

They could even help improve the welfare of their branch family.

"Definitely. I welcome anybody who's in the intermediate stage of the true god status and is willing to be our elder!" Nash nodded in satisfaction and said with a smile. "I'm only afraid that all of you are used to being the branch families masters that you aren't really interested in being our elders!"

Lancelot immediately raised his hand and said, "No way. I'm willing, Master! I'm willing to be the elder!"

"Haha… Good, but this needs to be done after six months as you guys still need to hand over the affairs regarding the people of the branch families. Come over for the position after you've chosen a new branch family master!" Nash laughed and said.

"I...I'm already quite old. Can I also come over and work as an elder?" Chad stood forward and looked at Nash longingly.

"You...You've also broken into the intermediate stage of the true god status?" Nash was slightly stunned and surprised. Under his impression, this old man came over to the main family once last year and he remembered that this old man was at the initial stage of the true god level.

"Haha… Yes, I've been lucky. I've broken through and achieved the intermediate stage of the true god status some time ago!" Chad smiled shyly.

"That's great, Chad. You've been well prepared!" Nash smiled happily and said to Chad. "I'm more than happy to have you coming over!"

“Haha… Alright, alright, I’ll definitely be back to give the position of elder a try!” Chad laughed loudly. He had no idea that he would be given such an opportunity.

“Sigh, I really envy you guys. I’m only at the initial state of the true god status!” Mason, who was also there, could not help but sighed and looked quite pitiful.

“Then you need to work hard. If our family continues to grow, we will constantly need to choose some outstanding people from the branch families!” Nash smiled and said. “Anyways, if you don’t mind being a patronum, you can still join us!”

“Patronum? Sure, master! I will come over and be a patronum!”

Chapter 1187

Mason immediately said in excitement. “Master, it’s decided then!”

“I think it’s best if everybody stays the night and leaves tomorrow. I will go back with you tomorrow to enlist some of the masters. I only need to pick two or three from each branch family. Based on the number of people in these families, I will pick three from the bigger ones and two from the smaller ones!” Jack thought about it before speaking to Lancelot and the others.

“Haha, great! This is great news!” Everybody was extremely happy. Although the White family really suffered a huge loss this time the decision Nash made really caused the people from the branch families to have hope. Apart from that, they would be able to provide a good explanation to their family when they return.

Everybody returned to their respective living quarters after they cleaned up the bodies.

“Honey, I miss Kylie and the others!” In the evening, Selena said when she was laying in Jack’s arms.

Jack smiled bitterly and said, “Yes, I also miss the kid and I’ve wanted to bring them over some time ago. Unfortunately, I didn’t want to bring your parents and Kylie over because the situation at the White family wasn’t resolved!”

Jack paused for a short while before continuing to speak. “How about this? Tomorrow, I will ask Lana and Ethan to go back with you. You can bring all of them over in one go. You can ask if Abner and Sam are willing to come over for training. If they are willing to, bring them over. However, you need to tell them about the situation here. The location of such shadow families needs to be kept a secret and you can’t tell anybody about it! This also means that they cannot constantly leave after they arrive here.”

Selena was delighted after she heard this. “This is great. If that’s the case, I will be able to see Kylie after a day or two. Our girl must miss us too!”

Jack nodded. “Unfortunately, I can’t leave with you guys. I need to go to the branch families to choose masters from their families so that they can train here. The branch family members will be happy under these circumstances. I believe that it will also be good for the development of the main and branch families.”

“Don’t worry, everything will be fine since Lana and the others are going back with you. You can go do everything you need to get done!” Selena was excited when she thought about how she could meet her daughter soon as tightened her hug on Jack.

The next morning, Jack left with Lancelot and the other branch families’ masters. Selena, on the other hand, left with Lana and Ethan to fetch Kylie.

Early next morning, Jack arrived at the branch family nearest to the main family, the one Lancelot was in.

The other family masters left first to notify their family members about what happened these two days and the good news that Jack was going over for a visit.

“The master is back!” Several people who were guarding the entrance of a small village yelled in excitement after they saw Lancelot and their elders returning.

Soon, several hundred people came out and stood at the village entrance to welcome them. Over time, there were still many rushing over.

“Master, how is it this time? Did the people from the main family say when they will send somebody over to pick candidates? It has been several days, are they lying to us?” A middle-aged man immediately walked forward and asked when they saw those who returned.

“Yes, master. The people from the main family had always been sweet-talkers. I think that they were just delaying the time when they asked us to endure it. I think what they said about choosing masters to train at the main family are just lies.” Another young man hugged both hands in front of his chest and said lazily.

“What nonsense are you talking about?” Lancelot stared at the young man before introducing him to the crowd there. “Everybody, this is Young Master Jack and he’s the main family master inheritor. He’s here today to choose masters for the main family!”

Chapter 1188

“What? He’s the White family master inheritor? He’s the Jack you mentioned, the person who returned from the outside world?” The young man’s eyes were filled with surprise the moment he heard that. He obviously did not expect Jack to really be there.

“Everybody, come to say hello to Young Master Jack!” Lancelot’s face darkened and reminded everybody in a hurry.

“Greetings to Young Master Jack!” Everybody immediately stood straight and greeted Jack respectfully. They were still wondering who this young man that came back with their master was. Nobody knew that he was actually the young master from the main family.

“There’s no need for you to be so polite. You’ve been giving too much for the uprising of the White family. It must have been really hard for you!”

Jack bowed proactively after he walked two steps forward. “I apologize on behalf of the White family because I know that the percentage of the martial enhancement material you need to hand in has been increased. Hence, you would need to search for more material if you want to train. Everybody must be tired because of this. There must have been many who have died in the hands of monster beasts because of this. I can only apologize for this!”

An old man’s eyes turned red when he thought about his grandson who died several months ago.

However, he still walked forward and said, “Young Master Jack, there’s no need to be polite. As martial artists, we should not be afraid of death and we can only grow into real masters after experiencing the blessing of fresh blood. Dying in this process only means that we weren’t working hard enough! It might also mean that it was fated!”

Jack looked at the old man and said, “Thank you all for your understanding. However, there will not be such a casual increase in the percentage of material that you guys hand in!”

Lancelot also nodded and addressed the crowd. “I’m here with good news. The family master has announced that the percentage of the martial enhancement material we need to hand in has been changed to 50%. It’s no longer 70% or 80% like previously, it’s 50%!”

“Really? Is it happening this month? Great, this is really good!” Several young men were really excited when they heard this. This meant that they only needed to hand in half of the martial enhancement material and keep the other half. Apart from that, this was much better as they would have double the previous martial enhancement material.

The young people who never got any material previously would be able to get some training material.

“Great! This is great!” The old man also looked at his remaining grandsons and granddaughter in excitement at the brink of tears.

“That doesn’t sound right, master. If that’s the case, won’t the First Madam and Third Elder oppose it? Didn’t you say that they increased the ratio without authorization? Would they agree to it right now?” One of the branch family’s patronums asked Lancelot after he thought about it.

“Haha…everybody, there’s no need to worry about that in the future. That guy, Wade White, colluded with the First Madam and many of the Lagorio family elders and patronums to plan a rebellion. They wanted to seize the position of the family master!”

Chapter 1189

“Wade suddenly made a breakthrough and reached the peak of the true god status. If Young Master Jack had been any less skilled in medicine and failed to help his father recover on time, that man would have succeeded. But the master has killed them, and the First Madam now has no more power—she’s been chased out of the White family! That’s why we don’t have to worry about them anymore!”

Lancelot laughed as he explained the situation to everyone.

Before, he never knew how to respond to the branch family's queries. He knew that everyone harbored deep grudges.

Now though, they managed to tide through their difficulties.

"That's fantastic. Wade should have died long ago!"

"That's right. It's a shame that we couldn't see him get killed by the master in person!"

"It's truly fantastic. This means that the Master's body should have recovered just fine. Now the White family will flourish under his leadership!"

"So the master had been poisoned. Thank goodness the young master was skilled enough to cure him. Otherwise, we would have eternal suffering under the leadership of Wade, that b*stard!"

The members of the branch family were all extremely excited and launched into a fervent discussion.

Jack's emotions were a tangle as he watched the branch family members chatting away excitedly. Taking 50 percent of martial resources was probably a normal occurrence for other families. As for the branch families of the White family, being able to return to their initial tithing rate was big news.

He could only imagine how much they had suffered all these years.

After everybody had quietened down, Jack spoke up, smiling, "Right. From now on, the members of the main family will search for martial resources as well. We cannot continue to remain comfortable on our pedestal; we must go out and train as well. I believe that only trials from the real world will train true warriors. Also, the branch families should pick out a new master soon!"

"Eh? Why should we choose a new master?"

A girl around seventeen or eighteen years old pursed her lips, a purple dress draped from her shoulders. "Young Master Jack, I cannot agree to this," she said, displeased. "For all these years, my father slaved away for our branch family because we got to keep so few of our martial resources. So to ensure that we get more martial resources, my father would always bring a few elders to head out and find more!"

The girl grew more and more agitated as she spoke, "My father suffered so much for the sake of all of us. Among the branch families, our branch family is stronger, and our strength is directly correlated to my father's efforts. Besides, he has always said good things on behalf of the main family, assuring us that everything will be better. He even told us that the master would remember our sacrifice!"

Jack and Lancelot exchanged a glance. They could not smother the grins growing on their faces.

Anger boiled in the girl's veins when she saw that Jack was smiling. "You're still grinning? My father sacrificed so much for everyone, for the White family. Now, not only are you refusing to reward him, you're telling us to elect a new house head at this crucial moment. I will never agree for my father to step down!"

An old man from another branch family also stood up. "She's right. Young Master Jack, how could you do this? Master Lancelot is a good master, and we all like him. Now we'll get more martial resources since we're tithing less. We finally got our deserving share. Why are you doing this?"

"We do not agree!"

Many people cried out at the same time.

Chapter 1190

"Hmph. I don't care if you're the young master of the White family. This decision is totally unfair to my father. It's just so heart-wrenching!"

The girl harrumphed coldly and folded her arms across her chest. She pursed her lips, huffing but she looked cute at a glance.

“That’s right. How could we do that?”

Many people felt displeased for Lancelot’s sake.

After all, their master would be able to obtain a little more martial resources, and he would finally get to enjoy his days comfortably. Yet something like this had to happen. Naturally, the branch family members were furious.

“What are you talking about, Sally? Apologize to Young Master Jack now! Have you forgotten all of my teachings?”

Lancelot furrowed his brows and put on a stern aura, snapping at the girl before him.

“Dad!”

Sally felt frustrated and proceeded to stamp her foot. “I didn’t say anything wrong. Why should I apologize to him?” she retorted. “Besides, I wasn’t pinning everything on him. I was expressing my displeasure at the decision Master White made. You can’t just restrict my freedom of speech!”

Another youth also spoke up, “That’s right. He’d be no different than the Third Elder if he doesn’t allow us to speak freely!”

A middle-aged man to the side jumped in shock. “Luke, you apologize to Young Master Jack too!” he barked at his son. “The White family’s decision already benefits the branch families. We should be grateful, got it? Besides, surely Master has something else in mind with this decision!”

Although the middle-aged man felt disgruntled regarding the decision about Lancelot, he was well aware of the difference in status between the main family and the branch families. They could not afford to offend the main family. If they did, the branch families would suffer serious consequences.

“I–I’m sorry!”

Although the young man was still displeased, he gritted his teeth and ducked his head.

No one expected that Jack would step forward at this moment. “All of you were right. A house head like Lancelot indeed has contributed great things for the White family,” he said to the crowd, smiling faintly. “How could a talent like him be unimportant to us? We would be suffering great losses if not for him.”

Sally further pouted when she heard this. “I’m glad that you realize that. Then you can’t make us elect a new house head!”

Rather than being angry at the girl's temper, Jack seemed delighted instead. "I can't do that," he replied. "Our decision is final. Even your father agreed!"

"Dad, what's wrong with you? How could you agree to that?"

Sally was speechless for a moment. She could not comprehend what he was thinking. He had said that he would work hard for the branch family himself. He practically treated the other members like his own immediate family. How could he just give up his position?

"Why would I disagree?"

Lancelot finally grinned and said, "Master White praised my performance, and I've already achieved the intermediate stage of the true god status. He asked me to become an elder in the main family. So since I'm leaving for the main family, there will no longer be a house head for the branch families. That's why we must elect another one!"

"Ah. You–you're going to become an elder in the main family?"

Sally's eyes widened; they looked as though they were going to pop out of their sockets. It turned out that her father was not being fired. He was going to the main family. He would be in a much higher position there, compared to being the house head for the branch families.

Never mind an elder—the master of the branch families had to treat helmsmen or Patronums with the utmost respect when they came to visit.

“That’s right. So we have to choose another house head. Master White said that so long as someone from the branch families trains till they reach the intermediate stage of the true god status, they would have an opportunity to become an elder in the main family. There will be a chance every few years, all to strengthen the White family!”

Lancelot nodded his head as he spoke.

“That’s great. This arrangement is absolutely fantastic. It’s so much better than before!”

Chapter 1191

A man at the beginning stage of the true god status immediately cried out excitedly after he heard that.

“Heh. You’re a pretty strong warrior, Wally. If no one has any objections, I’ll nominate you as the next house head!”

Lancelot chuckled as he spoke to the middle-aged man.

“I’ve been an elder in the branch families for such a long time. I’m not prepared to suddenly become the house head!”

The middle-aged man flashed an awkward smile.

“It has to be you. You’re the strongest after our master!”

An elder said, chuckling.

“That’s right. It’s decided then. It’ll be him!”

Someone else nodded his head in satisfaction.

“Then I guess we’ve all agreed upon this decision. We saved the trouble of calling for votes!”

Lancelot smiled.

Sally's gaze sidled toward Jack. "Young Master Jack, I sincerely apologize for my behavior just now," she said apologetically. "I didn't know what was going on. I misunderstood your intentions the moment I heard that we were reelecting our house head. Please forgive me!"

"Heh. Don't worry. I won't hold a grudge over something like this. I'm not that petty. Besides, you all were unaware of the situation. Your anger just now proved that Lancelot was truly a good master who served you well, no?"

Jack answered, giving a wan smile.

"Of course. He's my father."

Sally lifted her chin, speaking with a proud lilt to her tone.

Yet Jack just smiled as he spoke to Lancelot, "Oh, right. I discussed this with my father last night—we considered the possibility that you wouldn't be able to hone yourself properly once you get into the White family. So we agreed that an elder who is training at the main family can bring along their wife, son, or daughter along, and they'll get a place to themselves."

"What! Are you serious? My mother and I can go too?"

Sally was so excited that she was practically bouncing once she heard that.

Jack bobbed his head. “But we don’t have that many accommodations in place. So the Patronums don’t get this privilege. Only the elders do.”

“Young Master Jack, I–I don’t know how to thank you!”

Lancelot stared at Jack. He was so excited that he did not know what to say. Although chi practitioners had to be in constant control of their emotions, always able to take an objective view toward things, they were still human—it would be difficult for them to leave their family behind.

It would be a lot better if he could bring his wife and daughter along.

He knew that it was Jack who had helped to secure these benefits for him.

“Young Master Jack, you’re truly a considerate man. I’ve decided that I’m yours from now on!”

Sally was elated. She spoke as she pounded her chest.

Chapter 1192

“You’ll be his?”

A youth’s expression turned knotty when he heard that. The way she worded it was ripe for misunderstandings.

Sally was slightly taken aback. A flush of color stained her cheeks as she rolled her eyes at the youth. “What are you talking about?” she snapped. “I meant that I’ll serve him from now on. Where he goes, I’ll follow!”

“Hah. You never knew how to suck up to others, but today you learned how to do so. What a sight!”

An old man burst into laughter.

“Who’s sucking up to who? I’m telling the truth. Isn’t it a good thing that Young Master Jack helped us so much?”

Sally shot a vicious glare at the old man. “Who knows when’s the next time we’ll get a chance like this?” she said.

“All right, all right. Young Master Jack has had a long day, and it’s getting late. We’ll go back to rest first before celebrating properly over dinner!”

Lancelot said, chuckling.

“All right. Heh. Today is truly a good day. I haven’t heard news like this in a long time. We must celebrate till morning breaks!”

Sally spoke happily, “This way, Young Master Jack. I’ll arrange accommodation for you in our house.”

“All right. We’ll have a good celebration tonight. You young ones should rest properly though. I’ll be choosing the talented ones among you. Since your branch family has more members, I’ll be selecting three in total. I’ll only be selecting two from the smaller branch families!”

Jack nodded his head and announced to everyone.

“That sounds great. Do we get to have three candidates? So that means I have a chance too!”

A young man grinned excitedly after he heard that.

“That’s right. I thought that only one would be selected. If there are three slots, we have a chance of being chosen!”

A master from another branch family also broke out into a grin after he thought about it.

“I’m a master too. I’ll be a package along with my father once he goes to the main family. This way, I won’t have to compete with the others, right?”

Sally asked as she walked.

“Of course. This way, you get to nominate someone else!”

Jack gave a smile. “It’s all up to you. You can hold a martial arts competition to choose your champions. But you can also just discuss to make the selection if you prefer it that way!”

An elder bobbed his head. “Some of the branch families have two clear masters, and if the difference between them is too great, there’s no need to hold a competition. We can just nominate them both!”

After he said that, he turned his attention toward Sally. “For example, Sally here is our top talent. She’ll definitely emerge as the champion if we were to hold a competition,” he said. “So the only people we’ll really be looking out for are the first and second runner-up. Fortunately, her father is going to become an elder in the main family, so we get to nominate another candidate!”

Many others also nodded their heads after hearing that. This would greatly aid the development of the branch families, as well as the youths.

After all, everyone hoped that more fighters of the true god status would emerge from the branch families. Only fighters like them were considered to be the cream of the crop.

After the accommodation was arranged, Jack rested for a bit. When night fell, everyone set up two bonfires in an open space and began roasting skewers made from monster meat.

“What a delicious fragrance!”

Chapter 1193

Jack was stretching himself when he caught a whiff of the barbecue. He walked out of the house.

“Heh. We were afraid that you were training or sleeping, so we didn’t dare to disturb you. The food’s almost ready. We were about to call you!”

Sally walked over happily when she caught sight of Jack. She thrust a plate toward him, a huge slab of meat sitting on it. “I’m not particularly good at anything, but I’ve got mad skills with barbecue. I made this myself. Give it a try!”

“All right. I’ll see just how good you are!”

Jack took a bite out of the meat. His eyes brightened immediately. “This tastes amazing!”

“Hah. Young Master Jack. There’s alcohol here!”

At this moment, Lancelot walked over as well, a smile plastered on his face. He gave the huge bottle of alcohol to Jack.

“Thank you!”

Jack inhaled the heady scent of the alcohol before taking a huge gulp.

It was evident that it was a joyous night, especially for the members of the branch families. All of them had smiles ready at their lips.

The next morning, the branch families got five or six of their masters to briefly spar against each other before choosing three out of them.

They would leave for the main family along with Lancelot and his family in two weeks. Meanwhile, Jack went to another branch family.

Soon enough, he arrived at the entrance of another branch family.

“You brats! You’ll meet your comeuppance one day!”

A woman’s voice rang out from deep within a forest next to Jack. As she must be some considerable distance away, it was practically inaudible if one did not pay attention.

If not for Jack’s sharpened senses, even he would have difficulty catching the voice.

His brows furrowed. He rushed toward the depths of the forest.

There, a middle-aged woman and a younger woman were surrounded by a few men.

The former was breathing heavily, and there were bloodstains at the corner of her mouth. It was obvious that she was seriously injured.

Yet she planted herself between the young woman and the men unwaveringly, glaring at the group before her.

“Heh. You run pretty fast. It wasn’t easy for us to catch up to you here!”

A bald man chuckled. “But we still managed to catch you even though you were about to arrive at your place,” he said. “You must feel hopeless now.”

“You’d better let us go! My father will get people to kill you if he knows about this!”

The young woman looked not much older than Sally, probably around seventeen or eighteen. She snarled at the seven or eight men in front of her, clenching her teeth.

“Heh. I know. Your father is an elder, right?”

The bald man chuckled. “And your mother is the elder’s wife. You two have quite prominent positions!” he said.

Meanwhile, lust burned in another man’s eyes, a small mustache above his upper lip. He gulped. “Patronum, this pair mother-daughter is pretty good-looking. They’re a good catch.”

Chapter 1194

The bald man was tall and sturdy. He lifted one of his eyebrows after listening to Mr. Moustache. “Hehe, which one do I like? Let’s get ‘em all and bring ‘em down the mountain!”

Mr. Moustache was displeased with his response. “Patronum Lanich, how can you do this? Well. What I meant is you can take the young one!”

The bald man smiled wistfully, “Oh, I see. So you like the older one? This woman, although she is a middle-aged lady, she maintained her body well! She could be considered to be around thirty years old; only the word ‘charming’ can be used to describe her overall aura. Moreover, she’s the wife of an elder, I naturally like the challenge!”

The middle-aged woman’s brows snapped together. With her teeth gritted, she bellowed, “Fine! I’ll go with you, but let my daughter go!”

“Mama, what are you talking about? We’ll get away from them!”

As soon as her daughter heard that, her face sank and turned unsightly. She held her mother’s hand and opposed her.

“Silly, we’re not their opponents, their combat prowess is stronger than ours. Besides, they have the numbers. Let’s just hope that one of us could survive!”

The middle-aged woman was feeling helpless in fact. Her heart knew very well that if the other party defiled them, they would most likely murder them as well.

Therefore, it would be better to let her daughter survive, and, if she managed to return alive, she might be able to inform her father, so that he could bring some people and come back to avenge her.

“Hahaha! Do you think I’m that dumb?”

The bald man, on the other hand, laughed out loud. “I won’t let any of you leave at all. If I do that, your man will certainly bring a bunch of people and avenge you, even if you know your man will not be our boss’s opponent. By that time, your man will hold a grudge against me and that’d be so annoying!”

After the last syllabus of his word dropped, the bald man gestured and commanded, “Take them down but leave them alive. Then take them far away from here, this place is too near to their village, and from time to time, there’ll be people from the White family passing by here. It’d be troublesome if they found out!”

“Mama, let’s fight them! If we can’t defeat them, then we can end ourselves here. We can’t let them violate us!”

The teenage girl looked at her mother with her teeth gritted and her voice determined.

“Alright!”

The middle-aged woman nodded, but she thought otherwise in her heart; she knew clearly that the two of them were of no power to resist and fight the other party at all.

“Ah!”

However, she still balled her fist and charged directly toward the other party. Her fist was covered with a faint sheen of blue chi energy, it looked like she could be a great fighter of the early stage of the demi-god level.

“Haha! Still wanna fight?”

The bald man guffawed, and with a lighting speed, he dodged the middle-aged woman’s attack easily. Not only that, he countered with a slash on the other party’s back.

Once again, the woman spewed a mouth of blood and fell to the ground. The injury was even more grievous than before.

It was obvious that the middle-aged woman was injured severely in the last round, that her speed in this round was significantly slower. The bald man could easily dodge her attack.

“Mama!”

As the scene of a fallen body on the ground appeared, the young girl shouted and rushed toward the enemy, hoping to blast the bald man.

“Bwahaha! You tryna fight me? You’re not even in the demi-god realm, how on earth you think you could defeat me?”

The bald man sneered at the young lady and then swung out his fist. His fist directly blasted on the young girl's fist and blew her a few meters away.

The young girl laid injured on the ground. A mouthful of blood gushed out from her mouth.

“Hehe! Now, now. You can’t possibly fight anymore, right?”

Mr. Moustache chortled and paced over to the middle-aged woman. The corners of his mouth curled upward, smiling sinisterly.

Chapter 1195

Nonetheless, at this moment, a terrifying air blade cut through the air and blasted on Mr. Moustache’s back. The air blade split him into two, his body falling straight to the ground.

“What the f*ck? Who the h*ll did that?”

The bald man and the others were shocked by the sudden attack, and their eyes were frantically looking around to spot the attacker. It was Jack. He stood under a tree not far away, and slowly he strode toward the crowd with an elegant-black fine sword in his grip.

“You’re so right! It’s indeed easy to run into a White here!”

Jack gave a faint smile. He listened to the whole exchange just now and deduced that this group of people were not even from the White family. Jack did not know where these guys were from, but how dare they bully the two who were from the White family branch.

“You’re from the White family?”

The bald man’s brows knitted; his eyes were full of solemness.

Another underling, on the other hand, uttered, “Patronum Lanich, this brat is quite young, I bet he’s not that strong. We don’t have to be afraid of him! If it weren’t for his sneaky attack just now, Mr. Moustache wouldn’t have died!”

Patronum Lanich bobbed his head, agreeing to the underling’s statement. “Indeed. He’s alone; there’s nothing to be afraid of! Especially since he’s young, his combat prowess and martial status shouldn’t be strong!”

“Mama, he…he’s from the White family?”

The young girl, who laid injured on the ground, inquired, face full of confusion. She used up all her strength to get herself up and sat on the ground. She did not remember there was this person in the White family.

“I’ve never seen him either!”

The middle-aged woman was dumbfounded at the situation as well. She was confused, confused over why this man helped them; confused that this man said that he was from the White family?

Nonetheless, the other party had the number, and this man was on his own. Was he even a rival to the other party?

“Hey, little punk, are you sure you’re from the White family? Don’t you dare lie to me!”

The bald man—who happened to overhear the conversation between the mother and the daughter—could not help but ask with a furrowed forehead.

“Of course, I’m from the White family. How dare you attack our members! You certainly have a death wish!”

Jack gripped the black sword tightly in his hand and swung his arm slightly in the direction of the bald man.

This time, what had flown out from the black sword was not a simple wind blade, but it was wrapped with a layer of terrifying and powerful chi energy. The blast was fast and furious; its strength and power were ten times stronger than the previous attack.

“Humph! Don’t you dare to think that I’m afraid of you!”

The bald man snorted coldly and then he flipped his palm, a sharp sword appeared in his grip. He was so ready to launch an attack.

However, before he moved an inch of his arm, he sensed something strange in Jack's wind-blade attack. "No way, there's a sense of chi energy inside the attack! That's an attack of true god level!"

"What? No way!"

A long arc-shaped wind blade embedded with chi energy was flying toward them. The men who had just taken out their weapons, after hearing the bald man's words almost peed their pants. If the young man before them were truly at the true god level, they would be like ants in front of him—and would be crushed easily.

"We're so done for!"

Several of them were so frightened that they forgot to weaken the attack with any technique. The wind blade that Jack shot out had cut through their waist, chopping them into half. With merely one attack, all seven men were killed.

“True god level!”

The mother and the daughter exchanged looks among themselves; both of their pupils demonstrated the color of disbelief. They could not believe that this young man was actually at the true god level.

Nonetheless, they knew that in the White branch family, only the head family possessed the power of a true god level; no one else had reached that level.

Chapter 1196

Jack gazed over the two; he put on a faint yet gentle smile on his face, and slowly paced toward the mother and the daughter.

When the two saw Jack was walking toward them, their hearts leaped into their throat.

“What—what are you doing?”

The middle-aged woman clenched her teeth, her body instinctively moved closer to her daughter, trying to protect her from Jack.

“You—you are not from the White family! Who are you? What do you want from us?” The young woman asked in a trembling voice. “As long as you let my Mama go, I’m willing to…” She added.

The young woman tightened her jaw muscles and proposed.

Jack was rendered speechless. He had already announced to the group that he was from the White family, how on earth did these two still think that he was one of those bad guys?

“Don’t worry. I’m not a bad guy!”

Jack laughed bitterly, trying to explain himself.

“Brat, what have you done to both ladies there?”

The thing that was out of Jack’s expectation was that the battling sound had attracted three men from the village who were strolling nearby.

When the three heard the loud swooshes and whooshes, they rushed toward the sound. Right after they arrived at the scene, they saw Jack walking toward the two women on the ground. One of the three—a middle-aged man—immediately shouted at Jack angrily.

The young man of the three noticed that Jack was still holding a sword in his hand, he then quickly flipped his palm to take out his sword. He pointed it at Jack and hissed, “Brat, we’re from the White family! How dare you strike at them, are you digging your own grave?”

Jack was tongue-tied inwardly; he did not know whether to laugh or to cry at this moment. “You’ve misunderstood me. I saved them. If it weren’t for me, they would have been taken away by these guys on the ground by now!” Jack explained, smiling bitterly.

“Is that true?”

The young man turned to Moon and Tulipa on the ground, asked in a dubious tone.

“Brother Troy, it was indeed this young man who killed them and saved us just now. But, this man said he was from our White family, but—but he possessed the strength of true god level. How could he be from the White family?”

After Moon White thought through the whole situation, she then looked at Jack again and uttered with a skeptical voice, “I’m—I’m not sure what exactly is his purpose here…”

The two other men, on the other hand, carefully approached the duo and helped them up.

“Oh, I’m truly from the White family! Your family head should be able to recognize me once he sees me!”

Jack chuckled and explained.

“Young Master Jack!”

At this time, coincidentally, several more people came into the scene, and one of them—a big guy—was excited after seeing Jack.

The big man immediately ran over and shook Jack’s hand. “Hey, Young Master Jack, I thought you’d only come tomorrow and didn’t expect that you’d arrive here today! You’re fast!”

“Haha! Master Mason, fortunately, I arrived here earlier than expected, and just happened to run into these bastards who tried to kidnap these two and defile them. They’d have been in trouble if I only came tomorrow!”

Jack chortled aloud and stretched out his hand to pat Mason’s shoulder.

“Young Master Jack? He’s the so-called Young-Master of the main White family?”

Chapter 1197

Only then did the crowd react. Puzzlement, shock, and surprise were written on their faces. It seemed that this man was truly a White.

“Ah, he’s the heir of the family head?”

Moon gasped as she said, her eyes were widened as large as saucers and her lips parted widely. After a few seconds, when realization dawned upon her, she kneeled down before Jack and said, “Thank you for saving our lives, Young Master Jack! If it weren’t for you, my Mama and I would be…”

“Yes! Thank you so much, Young Master Jack!”

The middle-aged woman plopped onto the ground on her knees. Her eyes swam with tears and her voice trembled. “We’ve not met the Young Master from the main White family, so we thought that you’re not from the White family. We’ve misconceived your identity, Sir! Please forgive us!”

“Please get up. How can I blame you when I know it’s all a misunderstanding? Surely I’ll forgive you!”

Jack approached the duo, flipped his palm, and two healing pills appeared in his hand. He handed the pills to the duo and said, “Both of you, take one of these each. Hurry up and swallow it. It’s for your injuries.”

“This…I…how can we accept such a treasure from you, Young Master Jack!”

Moon lowered her head, somewhat embarrassed at her behavior toward Jack a moment ago. She thought that Jack was no different from the group earlier, that he was here to take advantage of them. What made her more embarrassed was that Jack did not only forgive them but also offered them healing pills for their injuries.

“She’s right, Young Master Jack. We don’t deserve it. You saved our lives; we don’t even know how to repay you for your great kindness!”

The middle-aged woman panicked and quickly rejected Jack's kindness toward them. She was somewhat flattered at his kind gesture.

Jack was slightly puzzled at their behaviors. In the past, when the Third Elder and his men came over to collect martial resources and offerings from the branch families, they must have shown themselves in a high and almighty position. Even worse, they could bully these people from the branch families.

Due to that, the people of the branch families, each of them was obsequious when they met the people of the main family.

Moreover, Jack's status and position were much higher and nobler than the Third Elder and his men—who would become the next family head. If such a person offered them healing pills, it would naturally make them feel frightened and insecure.

"Heh, just take it. We all belong to the White family, and you've made great contributions to the expansion and rise of the White family in the past. These healing pills are nothing compared to your contribution all these while!"

Jack uttered with a gentle and radiant smile surfaced on his face.

"Take the pills! Young Master Jack is an amiable person; he always puts us first before anything else!"

Mason chuckled and gestured to Moon and Tulipa to take the healing pills.

“Thank you very much, Young Master Jack!”

The duo took the pills and swallowed them.

Jack looked at the corpses on the ground. “Who are these people? They seem to know a lot about White branch families, hmmm.” Jack wondered.

“Damn, these b*stard again!”

Mason took a look at the bodies on the ground and huffed angrily. “They’re the mounted brigands who stay on the opposite side of that big mountain. They rarely go looking for spirited grass or resources or anything, instead, they always come down here and rob us of spirited resources! Their leader is a strong martial fighter, who possessed martial status of the early stage of true god level. That’s why they dare to act so boldly and recklessly!”

One old man from the group stepped forward and said, “Fortunately, there’re not many of them, only three to four hundred of men, whereas our branch family has nearly a thousand men. That’s why they don’t dare to fight with us. All this while, as long as they don’t cross the limits, we won’t do anything to them, after all, their leader is at the true god level and quite a number of their men possessed strong martial prowess. We can’t afford the loss, we can’t fight them.”

“So, if things aren’t too serious, you guys would just let them be?”

Jack’s brows snapped together at this new piece of information.

“Yes, Sir. People of the main family rarely come to our place and we seldom go over too. So, we don’t have the chance to report this matter to the main family.” Mason responded with a bitter smile. “Before that, when the Third Elder came here, we’ve informed him about this issue. With his martial prowess, he could definitely eradicate these people and bring back peace to our branch family.” Mason added, smiling dryly.

“Unfortunately, the Third Elder always has a reason not to eradicate them for us. Some reasons and excuses like he’s busy recently or he will deal with them later, blah, blah, blah.” Mason continued with a slight hint of anger on his face.

Chapter 1198

Not long after, Moon’s expression looked better than before. The healing pills given by Jack had some great and quick effect upon Moon.

Moon pressed her lips together and formed a smile. “Those mounted brigands knew that we’re from the White family, so all this while, they dare not go too far too, well, at least they won’t kill our people. But today, looking at the situation, Patronum Lanich seemed like he wanted to kill me and my mother!”

Jack nodded and said, “You’re right. Since they were going after your beauty, after they’ve violated you, they’d certainly kill you and destroy your bodies. By that time, our people will not have a clue if you’re still alive or even we knew, we wouldn’t know how you died, and the other party naturally wouldn’t admit the deed!”

Jack’s fist clenched tightly as he thought of the highly likely outcome of the episode. “Looks like it’s time to exterminate these b*stards!” Jack condemned.

“But, Young Master Jack, you’re only at the early stage of the true god realm, right? I’m also at the early stage of the true god realm. Even if we join forces together, I’m afraid that our loss would still be great. I don’t have much confidence on this matter.”

Mason furrowed as he spoke to Jack in a solemn tone.

Nonetheless, Jack was completely unconcerned. “Don’t worry, I can assure you that the loss won’t be huge. They have only one fighter with the power of the early stage of true god level—the leader, and I’ll deal with him. As for the others, I’ll leave them to you guys, it should be fine, right?” Jack smiled.

“Of course! If I can free up my hands from the leader, I can easily end their two fighters, who are at the peak stage of the demi-god realm. Then, we have a few strong elders, coupled with our numbers, it’d be so much easier to exterminate those b*stard! It will naturally become a facile thing!”

At this time, an old man interrupted the conversation. “Young Master Jack, what if the leader of the mounted brigands flees away before our attack? Once he’s escaped, I’m afraid that it’d be so much difficult to exterminate the group.” The old man popped out a question after giving some thoughts to the matter.

“Don’t worry. There’s nowhere for him to run!”

Jack gave a gentle smile, and his tone was filled with confidence.

“Young Master Jack, when are we going to exterminate them then?”

Mason pondered for a while and asked.

Jack paused for a second and said, “We’ll go back and prepare our people now. Whoever with fighting prowess below grandmaster level shall stay back because the possibility of them dying is high. We have the numbers; we’ll bring all the grandmasters and go to kill those b*stard right now. It’s best to give them a sudden attack!”

“Perfect! Motherf*cker, they’ve been crossing boundaries and I’ve long wanted to teach them a lesson.”

Mason slapped his thigh and roared.

Soon, the group returned to the village.

When Moon’s father found out about what happened to his wife and daughter, he was beyond furious. At the same time, he knelt before Jack to thank him.

Back at the village, Mason quickly gathered all the men with fighting prowess of first-grade grandmaster level and above. All these people added up to more than three hundred people.

“Hehe, Young Master Jack, do you want to say a few words to them?”

After gathering all the eligible men, Mason said to Jack with a radiant smile plastered on his face.

Jack let out a dry laugh and turned to the crowd. “Gentlemen, those mounted brigands have been bullying our White family members for too long, and I believe that none of you are happy about it. Today is the day! Let us kill to our heart’s content and slaughter each of them! After today, everyone can live a peaceful life! I don’t have more to say, just remember not to let them get away. Remember, don’t spare any life!”

“Kill them all!”

The crowd chanted these words aloud repeatedly in unison.

Chapter 1199

“Alright! Let’s go!”

Jack waved his hand, and the crowd set off in an organized manner.

After a while, they arrived at the bottom of a huge mountain on the opposite side of their village.

“Young Master Jack, those mounted brigands will occasionally go look for martial resources, but most of the time they rely on robbing us. Sometimes, they straight up waited for us at the entrance of the forest where we scavenge for the resources; some people from other families who don’t know about them will be robbed by them too. But, under normal circumstances, they will only rob but dare not offend the people of other families. So, most of them can only endure their bullies!”

On the way to the peak of the huge mountain, Mason pondered deep on certain issues, and then added, “So I think these mounted brigands have kept a lot of resources in their place. If we kill them all, maybe we could also get all those resources!”

“Young Master Jack, when we successfully raided the brigands and end them, do you think it’s possible to consider it as one of our missions in finding resources? And that if we could share half of the resources with the main family?” Another elder chimed in, with a somewhat unsettled tone.

This elder was smart and observant. He could see that Master Mason’s intention of mentioning these resources in front of Jack deliberately; Master Mason obviously had an idea in mind about these resources, after all, that was a lot of resources!

However, Jack was the heir of the family head of the main family, and Master Mason was too embarrassed to ask for the resources directly. So, as an elder, he saw the hint and took initiative to propose.

“First Elder, what nonsense? This is not a finding resources mission, but it’ll be a task of Young Master Jack leading us to exterminate the enemy and raid their resources. No matter what, it will be Young Master Jack who helps us to win! Without him, we simply can’t do anything! We wouldn’t dare to launch the attack! So naturally, these resources should all belong to Young Master Jack!”

Mason shot the First Elder with a fierce glare and reprimanded him strictly.

Jack knew that this exchange before him was a show; the two were giving a two-man comic show—collaborating and echoing with each other.

“This gang of mounted brigands has been bullying all of you, and you’ve been suffering all this while.” Jack smiled gently at Mason. “So, this time, I’ll first take a look at the loot to see if there are any suitable materials for making pills. If there is, I’ll pick a few and the rest of it belongs to you. You’ll take it and distribute it among all of you. It’ll belong to you and there’s no need to submit it to the main family as an offering!”

Mason’s eyes immediately lit up as he heard. “Really? Young Master Jack, you treat us too well! If I were a woman, I’d want to marry a man like you!”

Jack looked at the tall and sturdy man in front of him and his face immediately turned unsightly. “Don’t, please don’t! This figure of yours, if you were really a woman, it’d be scary!”

“Hahaha!”

The crowd burst out in laughter at the exchange.

Soon enough, the group arrived at a square halfway up the mountain.

“Who are you, people?”

A man looked at the group of people and approached them with big steps. “This is a place that you should…”

The sentence stopped halfway. A fine wind blade slashed open the man within a second. Jack killed the man; he and the sword were the culprits.

Another sword aura was shot out, and a house in front of Jack was split in half. The strength and power of that sweep of sword aura were terrifying as though the grim reaper was there.

Within a minute, many people rushed out from different directions and gathered at the square.

Chapter 1200

Inside an adobe, a middle-aged man was drooling over a young woman who was tied up on the bed and injured. His throat was tightened, at the same time, moved vigorously to swallow the saliva.

“You’re a stunning young woman, aren’t you?”

The middle-aged man rubbed his hands as he approached the bed with an evil grin on his face. “My little beauty, I’m the Chief of the Windfall Pavilion! If you be my woman, do as you’re told and serve me well, you’ll become the wife of the Chief of Windfall Pavilion!”

The young woman stared at the other party with malice and hatred. “What chief and what pavilion? You guys are merely a group of mounted brigands who are robbers!” She hissed in an exasperated voice. “You’re becoming bolder right now! You used to only rob things, but right now, you guys actually dare to kidnap people! People like you who give themselves the name and the power, are truly shameless! Windfall Pavilion? Are you joking? Do you guys even deserve a name like that?”

The Chief could not help but laugh in return, “Hehehe! Don’t judge the book by its cover! Although we look big and thick, I’m a romantic and tender gentleman.”

He then extended his hand and caressed the young woman's cheek softly. "Don't worry, little beauty. If you take the initiative and follow me, I can promise that you won't have to worry about anything at all in the future. But, well, if you don't, I'll still make you my woman, just that your remaining days won't be good."

The young pretty woman spat on the Chief's face. "Do you f*cking know who I am? I'm the third daughter of the Cabello family! Release me right now! Otherwise, you'll be dead meat when my father finds out. You'll have a miserable death!"

The middle-aged man showed a puzzled look upon hearing this. He was somewhat surprised.

Looking at the puzzlement and the speechlessness of the other party, the young woman thought that he was afraid of her family. "Now what? Do you finally know what fear is? Let me go right now! Otherwise, my father will raze your place to nothing!"

"Let you go?"

To her surprise, the middle-aged man laughed and the puzzlement that was once plastered on his face had gone. “Haha, little girl, do you think I’m that dumb? The Cabello family is one of the Eight Shadow Families! If I let you return to your home, will your father let me go?”

The man paused for a moment and then continued, “On the contrary, if I keep you here, nobody knows! No one saw us capturing you. So, it means that even if the Cabello family wants to search for you, they won’t succeed. Besides, we’re hiding in this remote mountain and if I remember correctly, the Cabello family is located on an island surrounded by sea, right? You guys don’t know anything about the mainland! Therefore, finding you is like finding a needle in the haystack!”

“I…”

Third Young Mistress Cabello was tongue-tied. She could not refute the other party’s argument.

“So, you’ll stay here and serve me. And if you try to escape and, unluckily, get caught by my men, then I could only kill you!”

The Chief of Windfall Pavilion chortled and added, “Do you know why I decided to capture you this time after so many years of robbing but not capturing people? That’s because you, this little ninny is so stunning and beautiful! You emit a fresh, unadulterated, and unstained aura, and this figure of you makes me thirsty!”

“You—you let me go! I swear, as long as you let me go, I definitely won’t tell my father about it! In that case, he won’t find trouble with you either!”

Third Young Mistress Cabello pleaded with the other party.

“Hahaha! Little girl, I told you, I’m not a fool. Do you think the Chief of Windfall Pavilion will be persuaded by a little girl like you?”

The middle-aged man laughed, and in the next second, he pounced on her. “My little beauty, here I come!”

However, a loud thud rang out at this time. The house next door was split in half.

“What’s the f*ck is going on?”

The middle-aged man immediately shot up from the bed and looked at the woman on the bed. “My little beauty, wait for me here. I’ll be right back soon!” He said in a reluctant tone.

The Chief of Windfall Pavilion opened the door of the adobe and rushed out of it at a lightning speed.

Chapter 1201-1205

Chapter 1201

"Master Mason, what do you mean by bringing all these people?"

When the Chief of Windfall Pavilion arrived at the square, his face immediately sank to the deepest bottom of the abyss.

He did not expect the head of the White branch family-Mason White-to bring over elders and experts of grandmaster level.

He knew by heart that the people in the White branch family had not dared to fight against them all this while. Unless the White had a certain degree of confidence and certainty that they would win the fight. Moreover, he knew extremely well that the main White family had never seemed to care about this matter at all, hence dared not act recklessly and launch attacks at them.

Besides, what frightened the other party the most was once they fought against the Windfall Pavilion; their loss would be so great that it would affect the whole White branch family.

It was not worth it at all.

The only thing that the Chief of Windfall Pavilion did not foresee was that Mason had brought someone with him today.

Mason snorted frostily. He clapped his hands as a signal.

Without warning, several men of the White branch family stepping out from the crowd and threw the heads of Patronum Lanich and the gang onto the ground.

“You…”

The Chief of Windfall Pavilion’s face immediately went white as though all color drained out of his face. “Master Mason, what do you mean by this? How could you simply kill our men? And I don’t remember any of us have robbed you recently!” The Chief hissed angrily.

“Master Mason, don’t think that we’d be afraid of you! We drink blood like the vampires; we’re not ordinary men and certainly not afraid of shedding blood! And our overall combat prowess is no worse than yours!”

Several elders of the Windfall Pavilion huffed and puffed.

“Oh, let me tell you. Today at the bottom of the mountain, near our village, your people robbed our elder’s wife and daughter and even tried to force them both to…”

Mason sneered with an angry smile hanging on his face. “You people are getting bolder and bolder; you’ve crossed the impassable line! Today is your last day on the earth!”

“You’re gonna exterminate us? Heh! Funny! It’s easier to brag, isn’t it?”

The Chief of Windfall Pavilion laughed sarcastically at Mason’s statement. He then balled his fists, and a layer of chi energy enclosed his fists, vibrating vigorously. He swung his fist and blasted toward Mason.

Nevertheless, at this time, Jack moved like a thunderbolt and stood in front of Mason. He blasted his fist against the Chiefs.

Boom!

A loud thud rang. The seemingly simple punch made a terrifying collision, and the next scene was the Chief of Windfall Pavilion flying several meters backward.

“Pfft!”

It was thirty meters worth of strength. The Chief of Windfall Pavilion dropped onto the ground, his throat twitched, and a mouthful of warm red liquid spurted out of his mouth-blood.

“You…who the h*ll are you? You have the strength of a true god level, how is that possible? Such combat strength…you’re already at the middle stage of the true god realm, am I right?”

After testing out Jack’s true strength, terror thundered down upon the Chief. No wonder… No wonder Mason and the others would dare to come up the mountain and announce the extermination of the Windfall Pavilion. The White family did actually possess such a strong and powerful force.

“Who am I? It doesn’t matte anymore!”

Jack smiled blandly before he slowly spewed a few more words.” You only have to know that, from today onward, your life belongs to me!”

“Kill them all and leave this fella to me!”

After the last word of his sentence dropped, Jack waved his hand and gave the order.

Chapter 1202

"Holy moly! A strength of the middle stage of the true god realm? That's too.."

Several great fighters of the Windfall Pavilion's faces slowly became unsightly after hearing the Chief's words.

In fact, the Chief of Windfall Pavilion had always reminded them that since the White branch family was in close vicinity to them, it would be acceptable if they snatched some of their resources, but they should not cross the boundaries and kill any of them. If they had really angered the other party and the other party decided to fight against them, they would not at all be their opponents.

The Chief believed that if it was merely some petty snatches and robs, Mason and his people would endure.

On the contrary, for several other families, if they were out to hunt for the resources and materials, the people of Windfall Pavilion could act rougher and more reckless toward them.

Once the men of Windfall Pavilion finds out that the other party was alone or was a group of juniors, they would rob them mercilessly. After all, several other families did not even know where the Windfall Pavilion was. Hence, even if they wanted to avenge their people was not easy to do so.

The Chief of the Windfall Pavilion did not expect at all that Patronum Lanich and the others had targeted an elder of the White branch family. If this were not asking for a death wish, what would it be then?

The Chief of Windfall Pavilion's face became paler and paler once he thought of it. "Hold up!" He extended his arm in a panic and gestured a stop sign with his palm.

The men of the White branch family were just about to charge toward them but halted when they heard the Chief's words.

The Chief stood up from the ground and paced toward Jack. He bowed before Jack and said, "Sir, I don't understand. I have not offended you at all, why did you help the White branch family? Even if it's one of my people who made a mistake that they shouldn' t have, you don't have to intervene in this matter, right?"

He knew by rote that, in general, such a powerful person did not like to meddle in nosy matters. Hence, he truly could not fathom the other party's behavior at all. Why would a martial artist with a strength of true god-level intervene?

Without waiting for Jack to further explain, Mason stood out and spoke aloud, "Munro Quinn, do you f*cking have any idea who he is? He is the heir of the White family head and the Young Master of the main White family! Now you tell me, does he have the right to take care of this matter?"

"Young Master?"

Munro gasped at the answer. "The Young Master of the White family is already this powerful? His combat prowess and strength are more powerful than some elders, am I right?"

"I'm only at the early stage of the true god realm. However, it's not hard for me to kill you!"

Jack gave a wan smile and said in an emotionless tone.

Munro was rendered speechless.

The strength of a fighter in the early stage of the true god realm could blast him away so easily and injure him that much? He was at the early stage of the true god realm, too!

Moreover, he had stayed at that level for almost three years and could be considered as a strong fighter of the early stage of the true god realm! This was also why the White branch family had not dared to act rashly and went against them, though they had many men.

Obviously, the young man before him acquired the ability to kill every single life of the Windfall Pavilion. What a terrifying existence!

"Hold on!"

Munro immediately stretched out his hand and showed a stop sign. His face was ashen and his blood froze in his veins, he was in complete terror. "My men had made a huge mistake. It's also true that I didn't discipline them well. But both the White branch family and Windfall Pavilion are located so close to each other, we can be considered as living in the same neighborhood, and we should live peacefully and help each other, right? How about this, I 'll send you some spirited grass and resources, and we'll call it a wrap to this matter?" Munro proposed in a trembling voice.

"Heh, it's too late!"

Jack laughed. "You still have the nerve to talk about the neighborhood? When you bullied my men in the past, why didn't you say you were a neighbor and that we should live peacefully and help each other out?"

Jack gripped the black fine sword tightly, and a layer of chi energy enclosed the sword. He swept the sword and shouted, "Big Wave Hits!"

Like magic, waves of sword aura coalesced out of Jack's sword. The sword aura went straight ahead with formidable strength and horrendous power.

Most of these waves of sword aura, under the control of Jack's chi control ability, went straight to Munro. A small portion of these waves was sent directly towards several strong fighters of the Windfall Pavilion who were in front of him.

Chapter 1203

"Sh*t. What do we do in the face of a fighter who's of the true god status?"

Someone was so shocked that all the color leached from his face. For a grandmaster or someone of the semi-god status, there was no way to beat someone of the true god status. His aura alone had this much power, and it was difficult for them to close in on him.

An old man flipped his palm and took out an object that resembled a small tortoiseshell. He imbued in with his chi, and the tortoiseshell emanated a flash of light before growing in size.

That thing was actually a shield.

The old man raised the shield before him and heaved an internal sigh of relief.

"You actually had a treasure like that!"

Munro went speechless when he saw it. Logically speaking, he should have gotten a treasure like that. He never thought that the old man would actually stash it away for himself. If not for the peril they were in, the old man would probably have never taken it out-and Munro would never have known that such a treasure existed.

Bang!

An attack landed on the shield and glanced off; not a single scratch was left on the tortoise shell.

Still, that powerful attack sent him stumbling a few meters backward before he regained his footing.

As for the fellows around him, although they had quickly demonstrated their martial skills, they still crumbled like paper before Jack's attack, and they were all killed.

The old man took the scene in and loosened a breath.

Fortunately, he had the luck to obtain such a treasure-which could change its size as well. It made it convenient for him to kept it hidden. He would have been killed over it otherwise.

Munro was displeased because his First Elder had hidden such a treasure, but he did not have the liberty to give it much thought right now. Most of Jack's attacks were being directed at him.

"Damn!"

When he saw the attack, his expression tightened and he threw a fist out. A giant python manifested from the chi that coalesced in his body.

After the python appeared, it roared and charged toward the waves of the sword auras.

Munro quickly constructed a thin, protective bubble of chi around him to keep himself safe right after he threw that attack out. Only then did he feel a little more relaxed. He believed that he would be able to withstand Jack's attack then.

After all, his attack was considered a pretty high-level skill-one that was second-grade elementary. It could be said to be his trump card.

Bang!

A resounding explosion tore through the air. He never thought that his python was already starting to crumble beneath Jack's attack, although a few seconds had not even passed. It was going to disappear soon.

"No way. It only lasted for so long?"

Munro's eyes nearly popped out of their sockets; he was so shocked that he did not know what to say. At least thirty or forty percent of Jack's attacks were being directed somewhere else, yet he still was not able to withstand the attacks, even after using a second-grade elementary martial skill!

"I have to hold on!"

Munro told himself that, but he already sensed that day might be his very last. That punk was far too strong for him.

Chapter 1204

"I have to hold on!"

Munro was repeating the same phrase to himself inside, however, not even one second before he repeated the phrase, everything collapsed.

As soon as the thought of holding on was inside his mind, the giant chi python collapsed and disappeared into thin air completely.

Although his python had successfully neutralized most of Jack's attack, the remaining attack was still terrifyingly powerful and strong. It landed directly on the top of Munro's protective bubble of chi.

Wham!

The sound of the blow was lighter than before, but Munro's shield of chi could only withstand Jack's attack for two to three seconds before it completely crumbled and shattered into pieces.

Even after canceling out Jack's attack with the bubble of chi, the attack still had almost a tenth of the strength left, and it blasted solidly on Munro's body.

A mouthful of blood spurted out of Munro's mouth, and he flew backward-like a cannonball-into the roof of the house not far behind him, smashing a hole in the roof and falling onto the floor of the house.

"Hmph!"

The scene before Jack made the corner of his mouth curl upward, and in the next second, he darted into the house at a lighting speed.

"He's so f*cking strong! Our Young Master is so f*cking awesome! He actually killed several elite fighters in only one move! And I don't think Munro can survive this time!"

After killing a semi-god level fighter, Mason looked at Jack's lightning speed, his eyes filled with shock and puzzlement.

Before they came to the Windfall Pavilion, he was concerned whether Jack could defeat Munro, after all, even he himself was not confident in fighting Munro. However, unexpectedly, Jack not only injured him gravely but also killed several elite fighters for them.

Now, they only had to deal with the remaining, and the job was as easy as ABC.

It could be said that they basically only have to take care of the remaining without having to pay much of a price.

"Pfft!"

Munro-who had fallen from the roof-hit the ground heavily and spewed out another mouthful of blood. He, who was already injured from the previous attack, was now even more severely injured. His face went white, and all possible colors were drained out of his face; his breath turned weak.

"Cough cough!"

He coughed a few times, and every cough was accompanied by a mouthful of blood. He could barely support himself to stand up.

"Ah!"

The third daughter of the Cabello family managed to stand up from the bed. Her limbs were tied up, so she could only hop off the bed and landed on the floor. She tried to muster her chi energy to break the rope.

However, only then did she realize that the Chi Dispersing Pill that Munro had given her was too strong and effective, making it impossible for her to mobilize and gather her chi energy in her body.

According to what Munro had told her before, this strange pill would last for three days; one who swallowed it could not control the chi energy in his or her bodywhenever one tried to mobilize the chi energy, it would immediately dissipate.

Moreover, if one repeatedly tried to forcefully coagulate the chi energy in the body, he or she would experience some severe damage to their bodies.

Just when the Third Young Mistress Cabello was in despair, Munro fell down from the roof and plopped onto the floor not far below her feet.

"Great, you son of a b*tch! You deserve it!"

The Third Young Mistress Cabello felt a sudden flare of joy inside her, but soon some thought popped up in her mind. "Strange! When I was captured, nobody from the Cabello family had witnessed it. Could it be that someone accidentally saw it, informed my father of it, and then my father brought people to rescue me?" She babbled happily.

When the thought process came to this point, she quickly shook her head to deny it, feeling that it was simply impossible. She was captured and brought there not too long ago, and the Cabello family was in a place where it was almost impossible for the commoners to locate, not to mention that the distance to that place was far. Even if the Cabello family knew about the kidnap, they would at least need ten days to come to her rescue.

Chapter 1205

Therefore, the rescuer was obviously not from the Cabello family.

"Don't tell me it's another group of bandits who set their eyes on them?"

Instantly, the Third Young Mistress Cabello's heart thumped at this possibility.

After all, no matter if the brigands were from the Windfall Pavilion or any other gang, they were all bad people. The phenomenon of a big fish swallowing a small fish-the strong bullying the weak-was common among groups of bandits.

It looked like this time there must be another group of mountain bandits coming to rob the Windfall Pavilion.

The Third Young Mistress Cabello' s thoughts ran wild within these few minutes, her heart was uneasy and her fear spiked.

After all, she had the most goodlooking face among the three daughters of the Cabello family, though her sisters were beautiful. Furthermore, several other young masters of the reclusive families were fond of her and wanted to pursue after her.

If such a good-looking woman were to fall into the hands of another stronger group of bandits, it was highly likely that she would be captured to be the wife of the chief of bandits.

She was in despair and could not even escape from the hand of the Chief of the Windfall Pavilion, what more a stronger and more powerful bandit? She would not even have the slightest chance to escape.

Swoosh!

At this time, a figure dashed into the room and stood not far from her.

When the other party noticed her presence, the other party did not make any move but studied her.

Jack's eyes lit up slightly when he saw the beauty before him.

The beautiful woman before his eyes was indeed very fascinating and alluring. Her look was somewhat perfect, and her body was even more indescribable. That beauty could definitely compete against Selena and the result was hard to say.

Jack's heart had actually pounded a little faster than usual at this moment.

"You, you, don't come over! I warn you, you won't get me! I am the third daughter of the Cabello family, and the Cabellos are strong and prominent! I'm warning you, if...if you dare to bully me, you're dead meat. My father will find you and kill you even if you've hidden underground!"

Seeing Jack staring at her attentively, the Third Young Mistress Cabello was even more frightened. She stammered, trying her very best to use her tied -up feet to move backward.

Jack woke up from her beauty, then he walked indifferent toward Munro, stopped in front of him, and stabbed his sword into Munro' s chest emotionlessly.

When the Third Young Mistress Cabello saw that Jack killed Munro without blinking his eyes, she was so done for; she could feel nothing but blind terror.

If she had known it earlier, she would not be stubborn and sneaked out to search for treasure. She felt confident about her fighting prowess and martial status and wanted to come to mainland to search for treasure. She longed for the excitement and fun, but little did she know that she would be captured.

"You're the daughter of the Cabello family?"

After Jack ended Munro's life, he paced toward Third Young Mistress Cabello slowly.

"Yes, yes, I'm the third young mistress of the Cabello family! My father likes me the most! You this b*stard bandit, don't come near me! Don't you dare take advantage of me!"

The young mistress was scared to death in her heart, but she still clenched her teeth and tried her best to threaten Jack.

"Bandit?"

Jack was rendered speechless." Take a good look at me, do I look like another bandit?"

Only then the Third Young Mistress Cabello studied Jack in detail, she then huffed, "Hmph! You're either a bandit or a brigand and neither of them are good people! Don't think you can cheat me just because you're goodlooking! You this bandit, none of you are good!"

Now, Jack was completely tonguetied. He shook his head helplessly and approached the other party slowly.

"Don't you dare come near!" She shouted. "You...what are you doing? I have a good reputation, if you dare to ruin me, I...I'll not spare you even when I become a ghost in the future!"

The Third Young Mistress Cabello was so scared that she tried to move backward quicker, however, she seemed to have forgotten that her legs were all tied up. She wanted to move swiftly but her tied-up feet did not allow, instead, she plopped back onto the ground. No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1206-1210

Chapter 1206

Jack did not bother at all to pay attention to the Third Young Mistress Cabello who just fell heavily onto the ground, instead, he continued walking toward her and aimed the sword in his grip at her.

"No, don't!"

The Third Young Mistress Cabello thought that this would be her last day. Her brows puckered together, she closed her eyes and shouted with all her strength.

Swoosh!

Unfortunately, the Third Young Mistress Cabello had guessed wrongly. Jack flickered the sword in his grip, and the next second the rope that she was tied up in, snapped.

The Third Young Mistress Cabello soon felt that the rope seemed to have loosened, only then did she open one of her eyes to peep. Jack had cut the rope.

"You...you're not going to kill me?"

The Third Young Mistress Cabello breathed a huge sigh of relief, but soon her face sank again, “Wait, you must have known that I took the Chi Dispersing Pill and knew that I couldn't control the chi energy in my body to defend myself! That's why you cut the rope and let go of me, right?" She assumed. "Let me tell you straight, this beautiful body you're looking at right now, you;re not getting it!"

Jack was once again at a loss for words. "First of all, I'm neither a bandit nor brigand. Secondly, I'm married and have a four-year-old daughter. Although you're goodlooking, I've no interest in you at all." Jack explained with a bitter smile on his face.

He studied the other party, paused for a moment before saying, "Count yourself lucky today to have met me, otherwise, I' m afraid that you'll end up as the wife of the head of brigands. Hehe, now leave, you're freed!"

"You, what you say is true?"

Color of disbelief and puzzlement was plastered on the Third Young Mistress Cabello's face. Did she really misunderstand this man before her and mistaken him as some sort of bad guy? Was he not a bad guy?

"Young Master Jack, great news! We've defeated them all! All of us are well except for a few people who suffered an injury. What a great victory!"

At this point in time, the sound of battling outside the house had stopped, and Mason bolted in excitedly.

However, he quickly noticed the beautiful woman in front of him, then he asked, "Who is this woman? And why are there ropes on the ground? Damn, that mother f*cker Munro hid a girl here?"

"This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family. I don't know how she got caught. Anyway, she was saved in time."

Jack let out a bitter laugh and explained.

"The Cabello family? Young Master Jack, aren't we on bad terms with the Cabello family? The Cabellos always compete and fight against us. How about we kill this what Third Young Miss? The head of the Cabello family will not know it anyway. He'd only think that his daughter was killed by these brigands!"

Mason quickly thought of something and proposed to Jack, smilingly.

"Nah, although we have some unpleasant episodes with the Cabello family, all those episodes are rather minor. If we really kill the daughter of the Cabello family, then the problem will become bigger and graver!"

Jack smiled gently and said to the Third Young Mistress Cabello, "Miss Cabello, you're free to leave!"

"Now I finally know, you're the Young Master of the White family!"

Daniella Cabello smiled faintly and asked, “You're the young master of the White branch family here? Your talent is amazingly good! I thank you for saving me this time... So, may I leave now?"

"What? This..."

Mason stepped forward, wanting to tell the other party that this gentleman was the heir of the family head of the main White family.

However, he was quickly held back by a sign from Jack. Jack held out his hand, signaling him not to utter further, thus, Mason immediately had his mouth shut tightly.

"This..? What?"

Daniella frowned and puzzled slightly.

Mason returned with an awkward smile. "Well, I wanted to say that this time it was the White family who saved you, so don't you ever forget our kind gesture!"

Daniella bobbed her head and replied, "Don't worry. I'll go back and tell my father about this. And I 'll let our people pay more attention in the future and not to collide with the White family anymore!"

After Daniella finished her sentence, she looked at Jack again and smiled, “I'm sorry that I' ve misunderstood you before this. Will-will you forgive me?"

Chapter 1207

"Heh. I never thought much about it because I'm not that kind of person!"

Jack gave a wan smile and wheeled around, stalking off.

Astonishment flashed across Daniella's eyes as she watched his silhouette.

Many men fawned over her looks. The geniuses from the Cabello family and other families all clamored to catch a glimpse of her.

That man was no brigand, but logically speaking, he should have at least asked for her name or show some semblance o attraction toward her. Yet he just turned around and left. Dissatisfaction roiled in her.

She quickly chased after him." Hey, aren't you curious what my name is?" she said to Jack.

Jack turned his head to look at her. "Why should I?" he replied impassively.

"I...."

Daniella was furious. The man was completely clueless. Did he not consider trying to show some interest in a beauty like her?

She rolled her eyes at him. "I'm Daniella," she said. "You?"

"Oh. My name is Jack!"

After he said that, he walked out. At this moment, the White family members were sorting through their war trophies.

"Young Master, this is a true treasure. You must take it!"

The First Elder ran over happily, thrusting an object that resembled a tortoiseshell toward Jack.

"Yes. You must have this. We would not have been victorious if not for you today!"

Mason quickly said.

"Thank you!"

Jack smiled and took the object. He flipped his palm and kept it in his martial ring.

"We'll burn the corpses along with this house later! Let's take the war trophies and head back before we do the cleaning up!"

Jack announced after thinking about it.

Daniella was stunned speechless when she saw this. Who on earth was this man? Was he a young master from the main family of the White family? Why would the fighters from the branch families all listen to him otherwise?

After considering it carefully, she felt sure that this was the case. No way that he would be so strong if he were not from the main family, he would not have been able to kill Munro.

"Why haven't you left yet?"

After everyone had cleaned up the corpses, Jack noticed that Daniella was still standing nearby. A crease formed between his brows. The White family did not have good relations with the Cabello family. He did not want to show the slightest bit of weakness.

"Why so fierce?"

Daniella grew even more speechless when Jack seemed impatient. Never mind that he did not try to butter her up, and now he was trying to chase her away? Never had she suffered such humiliation before.

She shot him a glare. "I'm not leaving. I'll be staying at the White family's place for two or three more days!" she said.

Jack was internally speechless; his expression soured. "Miss Daniella Cabello, am I correct? I saved you because you so happened to be there. It was an accident. Never mind that you don 't wish to return the favor, but why do you want to stay here? You 're stepping out of your boundaries."

"Can't a beauty like me want to stay a few days at the White family's place? You really don't know how to prune a rose when you see one. I've no idea how someone like you found a wife!"

Daniella folded her arms across her chest, speaking indignantly.

Chapter 1208

When Mason heard this, he grinned at Jack. "Young Master Jack, she said it herself-you truly don't know how to recognize a rose," he said. "Since you saved her in such a dashing manner, of course, she has an interest in you now. How cruel of you to reject her request so outrightly!"

Another elder from another branch family also chipped in, "That's right. You two look as though you were a match made in heaven. Just agree with her request. The third daughter of the Cabello family is famed for her beauty. How could you decline her just like that?"

Daniella's cheeks reddened as the two spoke that way. She rolled her eyes at Mason. "What are you talking about? I have no other way out, okay? I won't have access to my chi for these few days, since I ate those Chi Dispersing Pills. If I run into any danger while I'm alone, I won't be able to fight back at all."

Here, Daniella paused before she continued, "That's why I must stay at your place for two or three days. I'll leave once my chi comes back!"

"Chi Dispersing Pills?"

Jack frowned. "I never thought that such a pill would exist. It's my first time hearing of it."

"Oh, it's here, Young Master!"

Mason quickly took out one such pill from his martial ring and gave it to Jack.

Jack quickly discovered a counter pill's prescription, as well as a small pill furnace. "I never thought that Munro would have gotten this. It's a first-grade elementary pill, but this pill can come in handy. It's a wonderful product!"

"Really? That man actually knew alchemy. Not everyone can do that. I never thought that Munro knew all this!"

Mason could not help but exclaimed after he heard that.

"Hah. I'll be keeping the prescription and the pill furnace. It 'll be useful for me!"

Jack laughed. Being able to obtain such items was indeed a propitious incident.

Furthermore, the shield that resembled a tortoiseshell from before seemed pretty good too. However, Jack would only determine how precious it truly was once he had the time to study it properly at home.

"Hah. Just take it if you like it, Young Master. The pills and the pill furnace are useless to us."

Mason laughed. At that moment, the house on the opposite side began to catch fire. The corpse of Munro's men burned along with it.

After all the corpse had been cleared, Jack and the others head down the mountain.

"Hey, if you're not saying anything, I take it that you agree to let me stay at the White family' s place for these few days!"

When she saw that they were leaving, Daniella quickly skipped after Jack.

"Fine. It's not like we lack rooms!"

Jack could not be bothered with her. This time, the White family had obtained plenty of martial resources. Mason and the others should be overjoyed now.

Mason and the others still had grins plastered onto their faces.

Mason sang all the way down the mountain.

"No way, no way. I'm tired!"

Not long after, Daniella was already tired. “All of you are martial practitioners. You all walked in a fast pace walk as though it were nothing. Now that I have no access to my chi, I'm as good as a normal person. I don't want to walk anymore!"

"You don't want to walk? Then what should we do? Don't tell me you want me to carry you?"

Mason stared at her. "What a pain!" he snapped.

Chapter 1209

"I'm not getting on your back!"

Daniella rolled her eyes at Mason. She had no inclination toward his hulky figure.

Her eyes sidled toward Jack. She pressed her lips together. "Youyou carry me down!" she said bashfully.

Jack did not know whether to laugh or cry. However, it was true that they were making slow progress with her tagging along.

He could only walk toward her, huffing. "I can carry you down, but you owe me a favor then. Got it?"

"Got it. I'll definitely return the favor. How could a man be so petty? It's your privilege to be able to carry a beauty like me!"

Daniella scuttled toward Jack's back and hopped on. "Let's go, Young Master Jack!"

"Let's go. What are all of you staring at?"

Jack roared when everyone was staring at him. Only then did they continue downward.

Meanwhile, Daniella's heart was pounding wildly in her chest.

Once she knew that he was not a brigand and that he was the young master of the White family, her impression of him grew more positive. It meant that he had a pretty lofty position. He could match her, at least.

Daniella's mind began to wander. After all, it was the first time she had met such a handsome man who showed no interest in her.

'He's strong too. So much stronger than the young masters I know!'

The more she thought about it, the more she realized how attractive Jack was. She looked at the scene as they trod down, her face hot. She felt that this was fate.

"Hey, you're a member of the White' main family, right?"

Daniella rested her head against his back and asked softly.

"Yup!"

Jack answered as he strode down the mountain.

"Can't you walk a little slower? Be considerate of me."

Daniella pursed her lips. With the uneven mountain road, hers and Jack's body frequently bumped against each other. Since she never dated before, she felt extremely embarrassed.

"You told me to carry you down. It' s a wonder I gave in to you. And now you're complaining?"

Jack did not know whether to laugh or cry. "You must have been spoiled in the Cabello family and rarely left the house," she said. " The treasure spots, the monsters, and the martial artists of the outside world will never entertain your whining!"

"You're a psychic! I do very rarely leave the Cabello family's house!"

Daniella smiled. "If I had never met you, I would have been a goner."

"Really? Then are we friends now?"

Jack paused for a while. A scheme began to stir in his mind.

Chapter 1210

"Of course. You're my savior. So I' ll definitely find a way to repay you!"

Warmth spread in Daniella's chest. She thought of something and quickly added on: “But don't you let your mind wander everywhere. I won't repay you with my body. Hmph. Anyone who wishes to go after me must prove that they're worthy. Got it?"

"You're really confident, aren't you?"

Jack did not know whether to laugh or cry. It was true that she was not half-bad looking, and the light fragrance emanating from her was intriguing, but Jack was confident in his self-restraint.

"Hmph. I know all you men speak one thing and then think another. You're definitely thinking of something, what with a beauty like me splayed all over your back now!"

"I'm telling you, it's your privilege to carry me. So many men wish to do so but don't have the chance!"

Daniella was as proud as ever, as though she were a princess high above the clouds.

"You're saying that it's my privilege to carry someone as heavy as you? Heh. I'll be more than happy to get rid of this weight!"

Jack smiled. This girl was far too cocky.

She was pretty, but he was not the sort to butter up to nasty people.

"You-you're calling me fat? What are you talking about? Hmph. So many people admire my figure!"

Daniella was furious when Jack told her that she was heavy. She resisted the urge to strangle him. His vision must have had problems. She was a little plump in some areas, but she was not fat at all.

After talking to her for a while, Jack popped the question, "Right. I heard that the Cabello family has a precious ancient tome. Something about forbidden medicine, right?

"That's right. How did you know? Do you know medicine?"

Daniella answered without thinking twice.

"That's right. I have an interest in medicine. I heard that the tome contains precious knowledge, so of course, I know of it. It'll be fantastic if I got the chance to look at it!"

Jack told Daniella after he thought about it.

"Heh. You want to take a look?"

Daniella chuckled. "I don't even get to take a peek at it even if I wanted to. It's currently in our First Elder's possession. That old man hangs onto it as though it were his life source, always talking about how complex it was and how he needed to study it. He even said that it contains alchemy methods of crafting third and fourth-grade pills. My father and the others know about this!"

"Third or fourth-grade pills?"

Jack took a sharp intake of breath after he heard this. Even second-grade spirit grass was extremely hard to find, yet this tome contained alchemical records of third and fourth-grade pills? Did this mean that he was getting close to finding the mother of pills?No. 1 Supreme Warrior

If there were third or fourth-grade pills, that meant that the third or fourth-grade spirited grass existed. If that was the case, where were these spirited grass? Spirited grass or pills like that would likely cause a person of the true god status to combust with energy. This meant that the legends of the ultimate god status may very well be true.

"That's right. My father said that the third and fourth-grade pills exist which means that the ultimate god status might be real."

Daniella did not seem to have many walls around her, and she spoke easily with Jack, "That's why the tome is a true treasure to the First Elder. He'd study it with every moment of spare time he has, trying to dissect its secrets. And sometimes he goes looking for true treasure, to see if he can find the third-grade spirited grass described in the tome!"

"Have his searches been fruitful?"

Jack's eyes brightened when he heard that. He asked her a question.

Daniella gave a bitter smile." Zilch. He's got nothing to show for even after all these years. I don't think the third and fourth-grade spirited grass exists. He did not find a single stalk. Perhaps someone wrote that tome just to play a long-running joke on future generations!"

"I don't think so. Your First Elder would have noticed that it was fake after studying it for so long. Besides, I heard that he's pretty skilled in medicine. He's pretty famous for alchemical research too!"

After Jack thought about it, he spoke with firm resolution, "I believe that the ultimate god status is real. We cannot give up on the clues that point directly toward it!"

"Heh. That might be a little difficult. All eight reclusive families are trying to discover the path to the ultimate god status. Everyone thinks that there is a this now. He needed to get that tome to see if there was a technique to heal Fernando.

"That's right. At any rate, I don't really believe in all this talk of 'ultimate god status' and whatnot. Besides, I don't have a high martial level, and I'm still young. I' ll leave the thinking to my father and the elders-especially for those who are at the peak of the true god status. They have no way to improve anymore, so nothing else interests them more than finding a way to break into the ultimate god realm!"

Daniella smiled and said, "But there's no way you're going to look at that tome. The First Elder won't heed my commands even if I screech at him to take it out. He's even the one to flip the pages for my father when he wants to read it!"

"Your father needs to obtain permission from the First Elder if he wants to see it?" Jack frowned. "That means the First Elder has a very powerful position in your family!" he continued.

"Of course. The First Elder is at the true god status, just like my father, and his martial skill is even higher. More importantly, he knows alchemy and medicine. That's why he has even greater status in the Cabello family than my father. My father has to be respectful to him!"

Daniella's voice was full of pride when she spoke of her family. "Not many families have more than one fighter at the peak of the true god status like the Cabello family. Even you people from the White family must only have one at most!"

Jack was internally speechless when he heard that. He did not expect the Cabello family's First Elder to be so powerful.

It would be extremely difficult to get the tome from him.

Chapter 1212

"The Cabello family truly is strong!"

Jack gave a wan smile and threw the words out in a callous manner.

Yet he was internally speechless. It was evident that the First Elder treasured the tome more dearly than his own children if he had any-and wanted to find the way to break into the ultimate god realm within its pages. There was no way that Jack was going to be able to borrow the tome for a split second. If he did not even allow the third daughter of the Cabello family to take a peek at it, never mind him, a complete outsider.

That was why the only way around that was to get his hand on the tome.

Although Jack was still at the beginning stage of the true god status, he felt that it would not be a problem to kill someone at the intermediate stage of the true god status. He could probably give someone at the advanced stage of the true god status a good run for his money.

However, the First Elder of the Cabello family was at the peak of the true god status. Even among the fighters who were ranked the same as him, he was outstanding. With all this considered, it was impossible to snatch the tome directly from him.

Unless Jack was stronger than the old man. Only then did he have a chance.

"Of course. The Cabello family is probably one of the top 3 strongest families among the eight reclusive families. But the strongest still isn't us!"

Daniella had a huge grin plastered onto her face. It was evident that the Cabello family gave her a lot of pride.

Soon after, they finally arrived at the residence of one of the branch families. Jack set Daniella down.

"Not bad. I thought you would have abandoned me halfway down the mountain. I didn't expect you to really carry me all the way here!"

A smile curved Daniella's lips when she saw the beads of perspiration on Jack's forehead. She laced her fingers behind her back. “Don't tell me that you wanted to carry me for a while longer?" she said. "Is that why you didn't put me down?"

Jack was internally speechless. In order to dispel some of her worries, he had struck a conversation about the Cabello family-at the same time, he could understand her family's situation a little better. As they spoke, they gradually came close to the village. He was not giving her much thought, honestly.

He gave a bitter smile. "No one would want to carry you for a while longer, with you being so heavy," he replied. "I just forgot to put you down because I was talking to you. I would have dropped you at the foot of the mountain if I had realized it earlier!"

"As if I'd believe you!"

Daniella rolled her eyes. "Where are you staying?" she asked bashfully. "I'll stay in the house beside yours!"

"What!"

Jack did not know what to say." Why do you want to follow me? Don't tell me that you like me now? I do have some confidence in my charm, after all!"

He was only joking, but his words made Daniella panic. She quickly wheeled around, cheeks flushing. What are you talking about? No way that I like you. There are plenty of other young masters who are better than you," she said. "Hmph. I just had the impression that you're a pretty good person, so you won't get any funny thoughts. That's why I wanted to stay beside you!"

Jack did not know whether to laugh or cry. He stretched his arms. "I'll get them to choose two talented youths and their branch family master in the afternoon, then I'll be moving to another branch family tomorrow morning!" he said. "Don't worry. I'll tell the branch family members that I'll skin anyone who dares to lay a finger on you alive!"

"That won't do!"

Chapter 1213

Unexpectedly, Daniella immediately retorted, "If something happens to you and my purity is tainted by someone, it 'll still be a great loss to me, even if you kill that someone. Besides, not a single one of the lives of your branch families is worth mine. Hmph! At any rate, I'll be tagging you around for these few days. I only trust you now. I'll leave once my chi returns to me!"

"Fine. It doesn't matter to me anyway!"

Jack brought her along and instructed Mason to arrange a room at the place he was staying for Daniella.

In the afternoon, Mason and the others had categorized their spoils of war-including spirited grass-and lay it before Jack, allowing him to choose whichever objects he liked.

After he studied the items for a while, Jack only chose a few stalks of medicine that would be suited to make chi pills.

"There's plenty of spirited grass here, Young Master. Why don't you take more?"

Their First Elder blurted after he noticed that Jack had picked out so few items.

"No need. I have enough!"

Jack smiled. "Mason will be leaving for the main family. Have you selected your next house head?"

The First Elder gave an apologetic smile. “They all chose me. So I-I have no choice but to take up the mantle of house head of this branch family."

Jack bobbed his head. "Then what about the talents? I need two names. Will you be using a fighting competition to decide on the champions, or do you already have obvious talents among you?"

"We do have two clear geniuses in our house, Master," Mason explained as he stepped forward. "Amos and Dawson. We wanted to nominate them both, but the Second Elder's granddaughter, Nikini, still wants to have a martial arts competition, even though she's not as strong as either of them... What should we do?"

Jack was slightly taken aback when he heard this. "How big is the gap between them?" he asked.

"Amos and Dawson are at the intermediate stage of the semigod status, whereas Nikini is at the beginning stage of the semigod status. Seriously, I don't know what that girl is thinking. She's a whole level lower than them but still insists on a battle to prove their position. No way that it'll be easy for her to beat them. Besides, she just broke into the beginning stage of the semi-god status. That kid..."

At this moment, a teenage girl not too far away stood up and cried out to Jack, "Young Master Jack, choosing geniuses is not solely a matter based on their current fighting skill, am I right? I won't be satisfied unless we have a competition, at least. My parents also wish for me to enter the White family. My chance to uphold my family's name depends on this!"

Jack nodded his head after he heard that. "All right. We'll have a competition since someone is unsatisfied with the selection criteria!"

After he said that, he addressed the audience, "Those of you who are not satisfied may step forward as well to participate in the battle. Does anyone wish to pit themselves against the three of them?"

Jack waited for a while. No one raised their voice, so he spoke to Nikini, "All right, you can choose to fight either Dawson or Amos. I' ll judge your potential based on the duel!"

"Thank you, Young Master Jack!"

Nikini's heart leaped in delight when he agreed to her proposal. Her eyes flickered between Dawson and Amos.

"Heh, I'll fight you, Dawson!" she finally declared.

Chapter 1214

"Challenge me?" Dawson White widened his eyes and was obviously not convinced. "Nikini White, turns out I'm not as good as Amos White in your opinion. Are you looking down on me?"

Nikini immediately smiled in embarrassment. “No. Brother Dawson, both you and Brother Amos have similar fighting prowess and your combat power is almost the same too. To be honest, I have to choose one even though I really don't know which one of you to choose. Hence, I choose you!"

Dawson glared at Nikini. "Young girl, I'm sure you feel that I'm not as good as Amos and that I'm a weakling, right?"

Dawson directly walked toward a slightly empty area and raised his eyebrows at Nikini provocatively." If that's the case, Sister Nikini, I will not hold back. After all, the chance of entering the White main family is very important for me. It's relayed to me or my parents' destiny!"

"Who's waiting for you to hold back? It's meaningless for me to win the competition if you're holding back!" Nikini soon arrived in front of Dawson. She curled her hands into fists and Chi started surging on top of her fists.

"Alright, let's have a serious fight today!" Dawson was immediately filled with the urge to fight when he saw how serious Nikini was. He curled his hands into fists and the two of them soon started their battle.

It had to be mentioned that although Nikini's fighting prowess was much lower than her opponent's, their combat powers were almost the same when they started battling.

Jack had a decision after he observed for a while. If Nikini's fighting prowess was slightly stable, she would be able to win against Dawson even if she did not enter the intermediate level of the semi-god stage.

Unfortunately, Nikini had just achieved the initial stage of the semi-god level and she was not so skilled in the utilization of her Chi. Together with the fact that the Chi in her body was not as sufficient as that in Dawson's body. Compared to Dawson, she would not be able to withstand the use of her Chi if the battle continued.

"This young lady has quite a good combat ability, does she have the opportunity to win?" Third Young Mistress Cabello could not help but ask Jack. She was also stunned as she looked at the duo fighting aggressively.

"She won't be able to win! She might be able to win if they have the same fighting prowess. Sadly they have huge differences in their fighting prowess and she will not be able to hold it if the chi consumption continues!" Jack smiled bitterly and continued to speak. "The main thing is that the both of them have almost the same martial skills, hence she doesn't have any advantages!"

Daniella nodded in realization after she heard this. "That's sad!"

Sure enough, just as Jack expected, Nikini's forehead was covered in sweat and she seemed unable to withstand anymore after the both of them battled for some time.

Bang!

Finally, Nikini took a kick and she flew backward like a kite with no strings. She vomited a mouthful of blood and her face turned pale.

"Nikini!" Nikini's father could not help but sighed as his heart hurt for his daughter when he saw this.

"Nikini, you've lost!" Dawson stopped and looked at Nikini, who fell on the floor, and said, “To be honest, you have really strong combat ability. Unfortunately, there's no other choice as there are only two positions for us today and I have to fight for it!"

Unexpectedly, Nikini petted the floor and once again flew upward. She wiped the bright-colored blood from her mouth as she stood there. "Haha... It's just some attack and it's a small wound. This is nothing and I've not admitted defeat. The battle is not over yet!"

Nikini stepped on the floor again after she spoke and directly rushed toward Dawson's knife.

"Again?" Dawson was speechless. He had no idea that Nikini was so stubborn and would still want to battle him.

Dawson dared not take it easy when he saw how fiercely Nikini was coming at him. He quickly curled his hands into fists and continued rushing forward.

Bam! Bam! Bam!

A wave of fighting noises could be heard but everybody knew clearly in their hearts that Nikini, who was already hurt, would not be Dawson's opponent no matter how hard she tried.

"My child's father, please try to persuade Nikini!"

Chapter 1215

Beside them, Nikini's mother could not continue looking at them so she asked her husband.

"It's alright, she has always had this character of unwillingness to lose. I won't persuade her on this!" Although he was also extremely distressed, Nikini's father still tightened his fists and said persistently.

"Sigh!" Nikini's mother sighed.

Bang!

After a while, Nikini flew backward once again and laid on the floor. She once again vomited blood and her face grew increasingly pale compared to previously.

“Nikini, admit defeat, you're not my opponent!" Dawson also felt sorry for this young girl as he looked at Nikini.

After all, they had a good relationship between them. To search for martial enhancement material, the youngsters of the branch families had always been taking care of one another in that dangerous forest. They also grew up together and had good relationships.

However, they had to fight on that day for their respective futures.

"I have not lost yet! You will not admit defeat so easily!" Nikini gritted her teeth and once again stood up. She curled her fists and once again rushed outward.

However, her speed had obviously decreased and Dawson managed to easily evade her punch, instead he flipped his hand and slapped her on her back.

Puff!

Nikini flew forward and fell face down on the floor. Blood splattered and some dirt sputtered upward.

"This girl!" Nikini's mother could not hold it back anymore and yelled at her. "Nikini, admit defeat, you're not Dawson's opponent."

"Mother... I.. I can still fight!"

Nikini once again stood up and still wanted to fight.

“Enough!" At this moment, Jack actually said softly and the entire area quieted down.

"Young Master Jack, I haven't admitted defeat. This competition is not over yet!" Nikini looked at. Jack with expectations written all over her face.

"There's no need to continue fighting!" Fand smiled at her before speaking loudly to the crowd. “After observing the battle between them, I have to say that they are all geniuses that are hard to come by. It's a great thing for the branch families to have such great geniuses. I believe that they will definitely be masters of the true god status in the future if they are nicely groomed and trained!"

Jack paused here before continuing to speak. “Hence, I've decided to add a position for this branch family. Dawson, Amos, and Nikini, the three of you only need to follow Patronum Mason and report yourselves to the main family!"

"What! Is... Is this true?" Nikini's parents were extremely excited and had no idea what to say.

"Your daughter is really marvelous, I'll give you guys another quota!" Jack nodded in satisfaction and said while looking at them.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1216-1220

Chapter 1216

Overwhelmed with joy, Nikini's eyes reddened as she almost cried.

"Thank... Thank you, Young Master Jack!" muttered Nikini shakily.

Mason, who was by their side, then chimed in, "Young Master Jack, I know that you're kind, but isn't this somewhat unfavorable? We from the branch family are facing shortage in numbers. The other branch families who also only have two quota will be unhappy when they see that three of our people go over."

Nikini's father also frowned and solemnly added, “Yes. If this is the case, the other branch families might feel that this is unfair. I'm afraid that this will affect your image by then, Young Master Jack. Although they won't say anything on the surface, prodigies from the branch families will definitely say something when they come down."

The initially elated Nikini bit her luscious lips as she heard Mason and her father's opinion and thus spoke, “Young Master Jack, thank you for your kindness, but thinking things through, it does seem rather unfavorable for you. I think it's best if I don't go over, but I'll strive for it when there's a chance like this in the future."

Jack was touched when he heard this and responded with an indifferent smile, "Don't worry. Since I've spoken about this, then it wouldn't be a problem. So long as I feel that you're good enough, it 's nothing to break the rules and increase the quota. You don't need to worry yourselves over this matter. If the other branch families have prodigies with such talents, it's not a big deal to add another quota for them. I'll speak with those from the other branch families about this."

"Then... If that's the case, we thank you, Young Master!" Mason immediately gestured politely to Jack with his hands. "You truly have thought of us kindly, Young Master Jack. We from the branch families will go over and beyond if you need anything, even if it needs our lives."

Bikini's father gazed at Jack admiringly and excitedly."Young Master Jack, you... you really are our family's benefactor!"

"Haha... Don't mention anything about benefactors or what not. We' re all members of the White family, and we naturally can't let good seedlings go to waste! Apart from that, if Nikini had the same fighting prowess as Dawson, I think that even with Dawson and Amos working together, they can' t beat her. Won't it be a waste of time if I don't bring such a good seedling to go train with the White main family from the start?"

Jack chuckled and added, "After all, a youth has the best talents and understanding for training. It' s also the best timing for training!"

Nikini's mother gazed at Jack appreciatively. "Young Master Jack, can you stay a couple of days here with us? We'll give you cordial hospitality."

Jack gave a small smile and turned them down, saying, "There' s no need for this. I'll be leaving early tomorrow morning after a night's rest to go to the next branch family. After all, there are quite a lot of branch families and powers that rely on our main family. Even if we try to shorten the entire journey, it'll still take an estimated time of two days on this."

Everybody nodded-Jack's position in these branch families' hearts was obviously different.

When the Third Elder was still alive and Lily still in power, they · would bully the branch family's members. They handed in increasingly more martial enhancement materials that they worked hard to get. There was really too little in their hands for their training.

After all that was over, everything progressed for the better ever since Jack stepped in. Everyone was happy after the Third Elder died and Lily was removed from the White main family as nobody would continue this cruel treatment towards them.

Meanwhile, Lily was brought home to the Lagorios under the lead of an old man of the Lagorio family.

Her wounds gradually healed after several days of rest on her way back.

It was bad enough that her son's status was uncertain and she was thrown out of the White family, but the fact that Wade had used and manipulated Lily turned her haggard in just mere days.

Chapter 1217

Lily had lost almost five kilograms within several days.

Lily exhaled a long breath as she gazed at the entrance to the Lagorio family's residence before entering with the old man.

Not long after, several young men guarding at the mountainside saw Lily. "Eldest Miss has returned!"

Someone immediately ran to inform the others after they saw them.

A girl walked toward her and smilingly spoke, "Eldest Miss, why did you come back alone?"

It was not long until the girl take much. Didn't I bring all of it to our Lagorio family?"

Lily grew increasingly agitated as she spoke, “Apart from that, Lance is so talented. Why must the position of the family master inheritor be given to the illegitimate child, Jack? On what grounds? We gave so much, and I gave so much for the White family, so the next family master of the White family has to be my son!"

Master Lagorio also nodded and said to the old master. "Father, I also feel that what Lily says makes sense. Lily shouldn't have been with the Third Elder and the others, but it was for our family. Otherwise, how could we have noticed something wrong with Lily. Once an all-smiles, joyful woman every time she returned, the current Lily looked as if she did not have any energy and was extremely dispirited.

The young girl frowned and asked carefully, "Eldest Miss, what... What happened to you? Why do you look so languish?"

The old man beside them sighed." Young Susan, stop nosing in. It's hard to explain everything in just seconds."

The duo continued walking forward and they soon arrived at a huge square at the mountainside.

At that moment, Master Lagorio, along with Old Master Lagorio and quite a number of elders, rushed out to welcome them.

As Lily had not returned to her maiden family for many years, the Lagorios were naturally happy when they heard she was back.

“Daughter, what... What happened to you?" Lily's mother immediately recognized that something was wrong with Lily the moment she saw her daughter and immediately guessed, "Had... Had they found Lance's body? Could it be that Lance really died?"

Lily shook her head lifelessly before raising her head to look at her father. With reddened eyes, she spoke, "Father, I don't even have my fighting prowess right now. That bastard Nash White chased me out of the Lagorio family and destroyed my fighting prowess. I'm a commoner right now."

"What?!" Master Lagorio almost fainted due to anger after he heard this. He took a long while to regain his composure before asking, “What actually happened? How dare Nash White treat you like that!"

The old man from the Lagorio family sighed and said, "Master, Eldest Miss was in an illicit relationship with the Third Elder, and they... They even wanted to rebel to take the White family master title. They didn't expect to fail, and Wade White was killed. Several elders and patronums that were ready to rebel together with them were also killed."

Stunned at what he heard, Master Lagorio grew increasingly doubtful. "What is all of this? Wasn 't everything alright previously? Why do you want to rebel? Didn't Nash catch a weird disease and was dying? I just thought of visiting him in another two days, too. Why am I hearing treasons and illicit relationships?"

The old man, who carried the surname Lagorio and brought Lily back, explained, "It all happened like this: Lance has yet to return, and since there was no news of him, the White family members have been searching for him."

The old man paused before continuing, “None of their searches came up fruitfully, however, and the White family members naturally thought that Young Master Lance is dead. Coincidentally, the White family master, Nash White wanted to meet his mistress in the outside world, Joan and his illegitimate child, Jack. Displeased, Eldest Miss secretly poisoned Nash. Nash wasn't suffering any weird disease-he was poisoned by a rather peculiar poison..."

The old man slowly told the Lagorios everything, from the beginning to the end, with a cold expression.

Old Master Lagorio was infuriated with everything he heard and pointed at Lily angrily. "Lily, what ... What did you do? No wonder Nash destroyed your fighting prowess and expelled you out of the White family. The Third Elder is so old, and you don't cherish your position as the Eldest Madam. You actually poisoned Nash and even got together with the Third Elder?! You shame me so!"

The old master grew extremely agitated as he spoke, so angry that his entire face turned green. He never thought his granddaughter would do something like this. If news of this got out, the Lagorio family will lose all their honor.

"Grandfather, I did all of this for our family!" Lily, on the other hand, still had no remorse as she glared at the old master angrily." We supported the White family so much in the beginning," she argued, "and shouldn't they support us now that they've risen? I secretly took many martial enhancement materials together with the Third Elder, but he didn't take much. Didn't I bring all of it to our Lagorio family?"

Lily grew increasingly agitated as she spoke, "Apart from that, Lance is so talented. Why must the position of the family master inheritor be given to the illegitimate child, Jack? On what grounds? We gave so much, and I gave so much for the White family, so the next family master of the White family has to be my son!"

Master Lagorio also nodded and said to the old master. "Father, I also feel that what Lily says makes sense. Lily shouldn't have been with the Third Elder and the others, but it was for our family. Otherwise, how could we have gotten so much martial enhancement materials over these years? Apart from that, I also feel that the White family master should be my grandson. Lance is so talented and worked so hard. Why should a young man who returned from the outside inherit the title instead?"

The old master sighed and said," But Lance hadn't returned after such a long time, and there's a huge possibility that he's dead. No matter what, that guy named Jack is Nash's son. It's not going overboard if he wants to meet his son and wife after so many years. It's also nothing if he wants them to return and restore their positions."

The Lagorio family master, Trenton Lagorio, solemnly nodded. "It's definitely nothing, but I don't agree if he, Nash White give the position of family master inheritor to Jack. Apart from that, even though my daughter made mistakes, it doesn't matter if he expels her out of the White family...but why did he need to destroy her fighting prowess? How many years does she need to train to get back to her original fighting prowess? Even if she managed to train back, my daughter would be old by then!"

Old Master Lagorio was speechless-it did seem like Nash went too far. Yes, Lily made some grave mistakes, but the White family wouldn't have had their current position if the Lagorios hadn't helped. No matter how huge the mistake Lily made was, it shouldn't have resulted in her being expelled from the White family. Destroying her fighting prowess was much more painful than killing her."

He also felt a wave of heartache when he saw how haggard Lily had become.

Lily almost started crying as she spoke, “Father, I don't care. From today onward, the White family is our enemy. I want to wipe out the entire White family! I want to make them pay!"

Chapter 1219

"Eldest Miss, why.... Why do you think that? You were married to him, might I remind you, and you were the one at fault in the beginning. Master Nash wouldn't have treated you in such a way otherwise."

The elder who carried the Lagorio surname tried to coax Lily after hearing her rather aggressive stance. "I think it's best to just let it go; surely Master Nash won't harm Young Master Lance should he return if you stand down. He'd surely ask him to return to us Lagorios since there can't be two tigers in a mountain. He definitely won't let Young Master Lance to continue staying in the White family as you've already been expelled from the White family."

The old man paused before he added, "As for the situation where both families really started a war ... Firstly, the Lagorio family is definitely no match for the White family. Although the White family lost the Third Elder and several people who were faithful to you, Miss, but the White family can definitely withstand this loss. Secondly, once the war starts, how do you think the White family members will treat Young Master Lance if he's alive and returns to the White family? They' Il kill him on sight!"

Old Master Lagorio also nodded in agreement after he heard this and said to Lily, "Lily, I think Xavier has a point. No matter from which point of view we look at it from, we don't have the capability right now to wipe out the White family. Apart from that, Lance's situation is unknown. Although he's Nash's son, Jack is the family master inheritor right now. Our relationship with the White family will affect Nash's attitude towards Lance after he returns."

Master Trenton also nodded after he thought about it. "It's true, my dear. I also understand that you want to kill Nash and Jack badly, but we can't act impulsively on this matter. As the saying goes, 'a starved camel is bigger than a horse.' We'd get nothing out of a war, so we'll have to keep ourselves in check on this matter."

Lily's mother, Diana Simpson, also stepped forward to persuade her daughter, "Daughter, it's best if you go back to your room and rest well for the next two days. I believe that Lance is still alive, and for the sake of Lance's safety, we shouldn't fight with the White family right now. Fret not, my dear, the Lagorios will deliver justice in your stead, little by little."

Only then did Lily nod in agreement. She thought about it and spoke again, "Father, our Lagorio family also needs to send some people into the White to search and see if we can find Lance. It'd be best if we can find him."

"Alright, alright, alright. I promise I'll send people to carry out the search." Trenton nodded continuously and promised Lily.

Diana glanced at the servants by her side and ordered, "The few of you, bring my daughter so she can take a rest. Cook some good soup tonight for her to replenish her body."

Soon, Lily left with several servants in tow.

Finally, Trenton looked at the old man who sent Lily back and asked, "Xavier Lagorio, how about you? Do you plan to go back to the White family or stay at the Lagorio family from now on?"

Chapter 1220

Sheepish as he was questioned on the spot, Xavier smiled bitterly and said, "Master, I plan to return to the White family. After all, the White family master treats me well, and he even saved me once... While I am a Lagorio, I used to be a mere member of the Lagorio branch family..."

Hearing his response, Trenton smirked bitterly. "Amazing. Never thought you'd be the White family 's lapdog despite being there for several years. Haha... This is absurd! Have you forgotten that you're a Lagorio?"

Xavier was enraged to hear Trenton's remark; never once was he treated well when he stayed with the Lagorios, extremely angry. Instead, he was bullied.

Surprisingly, upon entering the White family, not only was he given an important position but he was also saved by Nash once. He had secretly vowed from that day on that his life belonged to the White family.

That was why he chose to side with the White family instead of being with Lily and the Third Elder.

Never did he think that him kindly sending Lily back to the Lagorios would be met with sarcasm from Trenton, who even called him a lapdog.

Through gritted teeth, Xavier denounced, “I'm well aware I'm a Lagorio, Master, but as humans, we need to push forward, not to mention that I owe Nash White my life. My family name is Lagorio, but I understand the need to have gratitude.

A person can't be without their conscience! My sons died fighting for the Lagorio family, and I don't owe the Lagorio family anything!" He turned around and was prepared to leave.

"Are you insane? How dare you speak to our family master like that!" The First Elder of the Lagorio family flipped his hand and took a sword out, ready to attack.

"Stop!" came the sharp order from the Lagorios' Old Master. "Let him leave."

Xavier stopped walking and turned around to look at the crowd before gesturing with his hands. "Goodbye."

After he spoke, Xavier stepped with the tips of his toes and Chi appeared under his feet. He directly rushed upward into the sky and flew downward.

Within several breaths, Xavier had disappeared from everybody' s sight.

The Lagorio family's First Elder said to Old Master Lagorio anxiously after Xavier left, "Old Master, Xavier has a high martial level, and we can't let him leave. We're considered enemies of the White family, and we'll be in war against them sooner or later, it'll be in our best interest to kill such a strong semi-god master. He's at the peak level of the semi-god stage, and he might be able to break into the true god-level someday soon."No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1221

However, Old Master Lagorio shook his head. "We can't kill him no matter what. If news about this gets out, our Lagorio family will be the laughing stock of the entire world."

"Why? We're getting rid of a hidden problem. Apart from that, he's a member of our Lagorio family, and now he's an accomplice to the enemy, willing to work for the White family. Could it be possible that the other families will say something if we kill him?" The First Elder frowned, unable to comprehend his logic.

Old Master Lagorio replied, "His sons died fighting for our Lagorio family in the past, and he did nothing to wrong our Lagorio family. Won't others say we're savages when news about this gets out?"

Old Master Lagorio placed both arms behind his back and looked at the area where Xavier left. He continued to speak, "He would've died if he sided with Lily from the beginning and instead of being with the White family to repay their kindness. Sending Lily home is a generous act from his part."

At this moment, Trenton also nodded. "True... If nobody escorted Lily back after her fighting prowess was destroyed, who knew what dangers she'd face as she returned alone. Surely, the White family won't send somebody to escort her back. Xavier's action of proactively sending my daughter back here is considered as him doing something great for our Lagorio family."

The First Elder, after hearing their rational thoughts, nodded, "You're right... And I acted out of impulse just now. Thankfully, the old master stopped me, or I would've done something I'd regret for life. After all, Xavier sent Eldest Miss back without anyone telling him and if I killed him then and there, we'd get the bad brunt of it all if people found out."

"Nevermind, nevermind... We'll be enemies in the future, and we can attack without holding back the next time we meet him." The old master sighed before he added," Lily gave us a lot of martial enhancement material during the previous two to three years, and our family has grown quite a lot, though we still beat them-both parties will lose. We still need to make plans if we want to avenge Lily."

Diana said angrily, "It's indisputable Nash is responsible over how my daughter ended up in this situation today. Why did he have to get Joan and Jack back home? None of this would've happened if he didn't have such thoughts. He should've focused on solely searching for and making him the family master! He's the one in the wrong, and that's why my daughter would go to such extremes."

Another slightly younger middle-aged man also said angrily, "We have to avenge my sister. Sadly, it' s been four months and we still haven't found Lance without even a clue or lead to where he is. It's going to be very difficult. Not only him, but there's also no clues about those from the other families. After all, they went hunting for treasures together!"

"No matter what, let's send a dozen people to start searching from tomorrow onward. If we don' t do that, Lily will forever be restless." The old man smiled bitterly. He thought about it and soon his eyes lit up. "Oh yes, I almost forgot. One month later, there will be a martial art competition among the younger generations of the eight reclusive families, right? A martial art competition that happens once every three years. Perhaps we can use that to our advantage."

Trenton's eyes also lit up after he heard this and smilingly added," Yes, this is a huge event. The White family definitely suffered a huge loss after what happened this time. If we tell others about this, many families which are of the same capabilities as them won 't agree to their position and identity!"

Diana thought about it and said, "Some families had quite the rift with the White family, such as the Cabello family, and there are also those who had smaller disputes with them. If we can drive a wedge between them and deepen their conflicts, we'd be able to act together with them. There's a possibility for us to win if we fight against the White family together!"

Old Master Lagorio also nodded and said, "Seems like rallying with other families will be our only option; we'd be delusional if we plan to wipe out the White family on our own."

Chapter 1222

Diana frowned when she thought about it. "Though these families have misunderstandings with White family, it's nothing too bad, too much. Previously, some families suppressed them and didn't want them to rise, but Nash was really good at handling issues. He disciplined his subordinates and stopped them from having conflicts with the others. Hence, it's obviously very difficult to let them and the White family completely start a war with just mere misunderstandings."

Old Master Lagorio also nodded and said, “Don't worry, there will be opportunities. Otherwise, we'll make some our own."

From then on, The Lagorios readied themselves and became the White family's enemy.

Jack woke up early the next morning and went to wash up. Walking to the garden soon after, he noted Daniella was already waiting for him there.

Smiling, Jack spoke, "You're up so early this morning, Third Young Mistress Cabello!"

"Can't I do that? Hmph. You'll probably sneak away had I woken up any later. What should I do by then?" Daniella pursed her delicate mouth and placed both hands behind her back before she poked, "Anyways, I don't care. I'm following you for these two to three days before my fighting prowess returns, when I can use my Chi again."

"Alright, you can follow me if you' re alright with wearing yourself out. After all, you can't keep asking me to carry you on my back as we're traveling for such a long journey, no?" Jack shrugged his shoulders and walked toward the main entrance..

"I never thought of that! You came up with that yourself!"

Daniella's face flushed a crimson red as she followed behind Jack. She then pursed her lips and said, "Did you have that thought since you carried me yesterday? Did you gain something out of it?"

Jack was speechless. "You seem really confident of your own beauty."

"That's for sure. My beauty is obvious for all to see!" Daniella had an arrogant expression on her face as she followed behind Jack, though she grew abashed at what she spoke. "But, seeing you rescued me yesterday, I guess I can let you carry me."

The fact that Jack allowed Nikini to join the main family yesterday made Daniella see Jack in a new light. It seemed like Jack was quite kind, and his act could win the hearts of the people. This caused members of the branch families to completely venerate him.

As they walked toward the village' s entrance, Jack noticed that Mason and the others were already there, waiting for them.

"You're all up so early in the morning!" Jack smiled and was slightly moved-it was evident they wanted to see him off.

"Young Master Jack, we prepared a fine steed for you, and this is the best horse among all the horse thieves' horses!" Mason led a horse over and smilingly explained, "This is Blood Dragon Horse and can be considered a low -level monster beast. Swift and speedy, it won't take you long to reach the next branch family. The most important point is that you'll be able to conserve your Chi if you don't use it to fly, right?"

Jack's expression shifted uneasily as Mason explained it all. "What a gift you've prepared for me, but I've never ridden a horse before, and I don't know how to ride this even if you give it to me."

"How's that possible.? You don't know how to ride horses?!" Many were stunned at Jack's reply. Everybody was a trainer, and most of them knew how to ride such horses. Jack not knowing how to ride a horse baffled them.

However, it seemed true when they thought about it. Jack was different from the others as he had returned from the outside world. It was normal that he had not practiced riding a Blood Dragon Horse.

"I know how!"

Chapter 1223

Although she could not use her Chi, Daniella still retained her physical strength.

Hoisting herself up with, one hand, Daniella saddled herself on the back of the horse, smiling at Jack as she called out, "Come sit behind me; I'll carry you!"

"This doesn't seem right, though ...?" Jack felt slightly embarrassed, seeing they were of two different genders. This Third Young Mistress Cabello was not only pretty, but she had a nice figure to boot as well. Jack tried not to hold back unnecessary thoughts when he carried her on his back yesterday, though he was still a young and vigorous man, so there were occasions where he still had some interruptions in his thoughts.

If he had to sit behind Daniella on that horse throughout their journey, he feared that...

Daniella, on the other hand, silently harbored interest in Jack when she noted how shy he was when a rather 'interesting' opportunity was given between the two.

She rolled her eyes at Jack and sourly remarked, "Are you a man? You don't even have the balls to jump up here. I'm only willing to carry you because you carried me up the mountain yesterday, and I want to pay back this favor. Alas, though you're a man, you're still not man enough to get up here."

Mason tried to bite back a smile as he stood near. Why did it sound like these two were flirting like lovers?

Apart from that, he prepared one horse for today with hopes to see them riding a horse when Daniella left with Jack. Who could have expected that Jack would not do it?

"Who says I'm not man enough? You're no tiger-you think I'm afraid of you?"

Jack threw himself up and saddled the horse behind Daniella.

However, Jack dared not sit too close, seeing the physical differences of men and women. He purposely distanced himself so their bodies would not touch.

"We'll meet again at the main family's residence, Young Master Jack, but it seems like we'll have to wait much longer, seeing as you may need around one month to finish doing everything." Mason waved his hand with a smile when he saw how awkward Jack had gotten.

"Goodbye, Young Master Jack!" Everybody immediately waved and said goodbye to Jack.

“Alright, everybody, do go back. You've gotten lots of martial enhancement materials after we wiped out the horse thieves, so it's best if you guys take this time to train well. Those who are able to break through should strive to go up another level." Jack looked at the crowd as he waved and bade farewell.

"We'll take our leave no. Go!" Daniella pulled the reins and softly nudged the horse with her heel. The tall and handsome Blood Dragon Horse, with that, began to race away.

"Ah!" Caught off guard at the sudden motion, Jack was frightened as the horse rushed forward, stopping for a while before it raced again. Jack fell right against Daniella's back due to inertia, hugging Daniella's waist in a conditioned reflex.

"Ah!" Daniella shrieked at the sudden contact, blushing sheepishly as her heart raced. She was inwardly relieved, nonetheless, as the horse had brought them several hundred meters away from the eyes of the White branch family members... How embarrassing would it be if they saw it all!

Jack was flushed out embarrassed. “This... This horse runs really fast!" His heart thumped uncontrollably as he hugged her delicate waist. Their bodies rubbed against each other as the horse galloped and ran. All out of ideas and embarrassed, Jack attempted to shift the awkwardness with a different topic.

Chapter 1224

"This horse is rather fast!" Daniella had ridden a fair share of Blood Dragon Horses when she was young, though she stopped as she grew up and trained'her fighting prowess instead.

Never before had a man sat behind her with his arms around her waist; never did she think such a day would come as well.

Her heart was thrashing against her ribcage that it felt like jumping out of her chest at that moment.

All Daniella could do was act normal and speak normally. With Jack's chest against her back, she felt much shier than she was yesterday when Jack carried her.

It was not long when Jack realized something quickly reminded Daniella, "No, no, we're going the wrong way. Go right!"

That baffled Daniella. "Well, why didn't you say so earlier? I don't know where your next branch family is located!" Not knowing where to go, she only knew to continuously run forward and had totally forgotten to ask Jack which direction to go.

"There's a small power that relies on our family over there. Although they're not members of the White branch families, they' ve been treating the White family well. They had always handed in materials based on the requested percentage. We can't leave any of these powers when we're choosing prodigies to join the main family!"

Jack smiled and spoke, "We can't let them down, right?"

"No, we can't... Seems like you really think for everyone else. You' ll make a good family master if someone like you becomes the family master!" Daniella blushed." However, the family master's position is normally inherited by the family master's son. If your father isn't the family master, you won't inherit the family master title no matter how talented you are."

That caught Jack off-guard.

Daniella obviously knew Jack was one of the young masters from the White main family. He might be the son of an elder or a patronum and was out running chores for the family. What she did not know was that Jack was indeed the White family master's son and the main family master's inheritor.

He smiled sheepishly. "I'm not really interested in that."

Daniella wore a silk dress, and though it was made of good material, it was still rather thin. With nowhere to place his hands, Jack wrapped his arms around her waist and felt the silkiness of her skin at the same time.

Considering it was his first time riding a horse-and a rather feisty, fast one at that-he feared he would fall down. Because of that, he could only act nonchalant and placed his hands on her waist.

He purposely made small talk with Daniella the entire trip with hopes to ease the embarrassing atmosphere.

"You're genuinely not interested in the family master position. You' re quite a special person!" Daniella grew interested in getting to know Jack in their journey, and she noticed that.

This man was obviously different from the other men she met previously.

However, Daniella could not help but frown after they rode on for some time...

The embarrassing thought occurred to her as she blushed so much that blood seemed to be bursting out from it.

Jack was also speechless, thinking of how disappointing his acts were.

Soon, the both of them arrived at the entrance of a small village.

Chapter 1225

Both Jack and Daniella got down from the horse right after it stopped.

The blushing Daniella tied the horse under a tree not far from where they were before she walked back to Jack. "Well? How's your first experience riding a horse?" she spoke in an attempt to diffuse the awkward atmosphere, only realizing moments later how wrong it sounded.

Did she just ask Jack how he felt?

To disperse the tension, Jack so casually replied, “It's my first time riding a horse. I felt quite nervous initially, but it became exciting soon after!"

Jack noted that Daniella's face turned a crimson red after he spoke as she lowered her face, not daring to meet his gaze.

"Alright! Let's go in!" Jack's behavior baffled her-'this man just blatantly said it was 'exciting.

What a pervert! How could it not be when he held her by the waist? Jack probably liked her, but he refused to admit it.

Jack was also speechless as he knew that this pretty last had misunderstood him. However, he did not know how to explain himself. Why did he even say it was 'exciting' in the first place?

Not long after they entered the village, two men guarding the entrance walked forward to them and spoke, "Greetings. The two of you are...?"

Jack smiled indifferently. "I'm from the White main family. Please ask your family master to come out."

"Somebody from the main family?" One of them was stunned as they had never seen Jack. They nodded in doubt before going in to make the report.

Soon, the master of this clan came out with several people, his expression shifting into excitement when he saw that it was Jack. He quickly brought his people with him and greeted them, "Greetings, Young Master Jack!"

"Jack? It's Jack!" Many from this small clan that relied on the White family had never met Jack, though they had heard about things happening in the main family after their family master returned. When they heard that the person before them was Jack, all of them were extremely excited.

"Greetings, Young Master Jack!" Everybody immediately saluted him.

"There's no need for such politeness. I'm here today to choose two prodigies for training at our main family. I believe that Master Asher Owens has informed everybody?" addressed the smiling Jack.

"Yes, he told us!" One of the elders of this power immediately walked forward happily and nodded in satisfaction. "The family master told us that Young Master Jack might come over to pick, prodigies and asked us to make a preselection. We've made our selection, but we thought that you won't be coming. After all, we're a small clan that doesn't carry the White family surname... We thought you won't be coming."

The elder then glanced at Daniella as he smilingly added, "However, our family master only said that Young Master Jack was coming; we never thought you'd bring your wife as well. We've heard rumors about how extremely beautiful Young Master Jack's wife is. Seeing her now in person, she really lives up to the rumors!"

"Wife?" Jack was baffled, stunned silent at such a remark. It seemed like this old man had never met Selena, so he thought Daniella was his wife.

Daniella, who stood next to them, blushed so hard, wanting to bury herself in a deep hole.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1226

"Oh my, Mrs. Jack White is so abashed that she's blushing like a little girl! Nonetheless, you still look sweeter. No wonder Young Master Jack chose you!" added the elder, much to everyone's surprise.

That comment filled Daniella with mirth.

She rolled her eyes at the other party flirtatiously before speaking, "You're right about me being beautiful, but I'm not his wife."

"W...What?" The elder was embarrassed when he heard that. Had he gotten it all wrong?

Go back to exit full-screen view.

Jack gave an awkward smile before he walked forward to explain, "This is Third Young Mistress Cabello, Ms. Daniella. Please don't misunderstand us."

The elder was shocked to hear Jack's explanation. "Third Young Mistress Cabello? She's one of the well-known bells, which is why I assumed her identity wrongly. After all, I heard Young Master Jack's wife is also extremely gorgeous and that...that's why I misunderstood. Please forgive me, Third Young Mistress!"

"Don't sweat it-one who doesn't know, isn't guilty! After all, you've never seen me before, too!" Daniella waved her hand dismissively, though the butterflies still fluttered in her stomach. After all, that meant that she looked gorgeous, and any girl would have been just as flattered with such a compliment.

Jack was dumbfounded at the elder. "Seems like you've got a knack for flattery!" He could see that this old guy was flattering them with wishes so he could make a good impression or familiarize himself with Jack. Never did the elder think the person following Jack was the young miss of the Cabello family.

"By the way, since you had your pick from your people, ask them to come out so that I can register their name," said Jack, getting back to business.

Startled, the Owens' family master stuttered, "They c-can register right now?"

Jack was slightly stunned before he said, “Definitely. It's alright since you people have made your choices and there are no objections. It saves up my time too!"

"It's no trouble at all! I just feel like we're dreaming right now... I thought that you'd ignore us after analyzing our people, knowing their fighting prowess isn't good enough!"

The Owens' family master glanced at the boy-andgirl pair from his clan before he added, "After all, small clans like us normally don't have any martial enhancement resources, so although they're quite talented, their fighting prowess reaches only the ninth-grade grandmaster level. They aren't even in the elementary level of the semi-god stage. I fear you'll regret having them when you find that their fighting prowess is too low..!"

Jack immediately replied with a smile, "It's not about whether anyone's suitable or not. It doesn't matter if you're big or small clans -you're still clans of our White family, and every clan has at least two positions. How can I take your two positions because of a low count of members or 'not good enough' prodigies? This would be hard to explain. Our White family aren't like that!"

After he spoke, Jack looked at the two young people and said, "What are your names? Come and register yourselves."

"Thank... Thank you, Young Master Jack!"

The young man and woman glanced at each other, joy filling their eyes as they walked toward Jack and registered their names.

Jack smiled and said, "Alright, you guys can prepare yourselves to register at the main family."

"Young Master Jack, do you want to go in and take a rest? It's still early, no?"

Chapter 1227

One of the elders walked forward and looked at Jack expectantly.

Jack glanced at the young man and woman in front of her. He thought about it and said, "How about this: I'll go take a rest first, but can you both meet me in my room about one hour from now?"

“Alright, Young Master Jack!" The young man and woman looked at each other. Although they were slightly puzzled, they still nodded and agreed to it.

Soon, the Owens family arranged residence for Jack and Daniella in a secluded garden.

"Weren't you in a hurry? Why aren't you in a hurry now?" Daniella glanced at Jack and said curiously. "Why did you ask the geniuses of this family to meet you in your room later? Is there something that you need to personally tell them?"

"The two of them are ninth-grade grandmasters, and they're only one step away from the elementary stage of the semi-god level," Jack explained to her. "I happen to have several groups of ingredients for pills. I can cultivate one for each of them and help them break into the elementary stage of the semi-god level."

"You... You know how to cultivate pills?" Daniella was taken aback by the news, she did not know Jack knew how to cultivate pills.

After all, alchemy was not something any random person could learn... That meant Jack had to be talented enough and had a high mental capacity.

Smiling, Jack replied, “I learned by myself and had some knowledge as to how to cultivate certain pills. I can't say that I'm well-versed in it!"

That added more shock into her system. It was difficult to enter the field of alchemy without a teacher, or anyone for that matter, to guide him, yet Jack told her that he learned everything himself?

Goodness... What a genius!

"You're really clever." Eyes lit up with interest, Daniella insisted," No, I need to see it with my own eyes!"

Jack frowned and glanced at her before he spoke, “I'll let you, but you can't make a sound as it'll disturb me. The art of alchemy requires the alchemist to be one hundred percent focused, and no one should interrupt them."

"Alright, alright, I get it!" Daniella pursed her lips and smiled.

They both closed the door to their room and, with a flip of Jack's hand, he took out a small pill furnace.

Meanwhile, at the entrance of the village, the young man and woman stood under the trees as they conversed.

The man leaned against the tree and looked at the young woman in front of him curiously. "Why do you think Young Master Jack asked us to enter his room after an hour? Is there something important that he had to purposely stay here for?"

"Who knows? We'll know about it in a while, won't we?" The young woman had a smile on her face." Never thought Young Master Jack is that fetching, and added to that mix is his kindness in offering us two positions even though we're a small clan. We need to train well in the future and fight to break through to the semi-god level. We need to be masters of the semi-god level after we reach the White main family!"

Her excitement was met with the young man's worried expression." I'm worried. You're so beautiful, could Young Master Jack have other thoughts toward you? I mean, why else would he change his mind when he planned to leave right after finishing his business here?"

Chapter 1228

However, the young woman rolled her eyes at the young man. "What are you talking about? Why would he ask you to go come along if he' s interested in just me? Unnecessary, no? Would he ask you to observe us when he takes advantage of me?"

The guy smiled bitterly. "I'm worried because you're quite the pretty face. What if Jack made up that excuse because everyone else was present-including the family master-and have me leave after we both go to him later? What if he asks you to go into the room alone? We'll never know!"

"What are you talking about? Young Master Jack isn't that kind of person!" The young woman once again rolled her eyes at the young man before a sweet smile appeared on her face. "It's good if such a prepossessing man like Young Master Jack can fancy me... but I heard that his wife is dropdead gorgeous. You can see what a beauty that Third Young Mistress Cabello is. I think those two share a tight bond, which probably explains why such an angel is willing to follow him!"

The young man frowned. "Didn't they explain themselves? The woman isn't his wife, and they're only friends!"

"Are you really dumb?" grumbled the young lady. "Just think about it: If they truly are just friends, how can they both share a horse? I can see the eyes of the Third Young Mistress of Cabello lighting up when she looked at Young Master Jack. They obviously have an unusual relationship, even if they aren't husband and wife!"

"You got a point. Why didn't they ride two horses and instead rode just one? Seems like it truly is some ambiguous relationship!" The man nodded and thought about it before speaking again, "Of course, no harm in them both being together; the Cabello family is hauntingly powerful after all. The White family's position must ve plummeted after what happened with the Third Elder and First Madam. If Jack can be together with the young miss of the Cabello family, it ensures a prosperous development for our White family!"

The young lady frowned. "Yeah, that's true, but the relationship between the White family and Cabello family has always been strained. Hence, it's definitely difficult for the Cabello family's master to give them blessings..."

Meanwhile...

Busied with cultivating pills in the room, Jack would have been appalled to hear whatever the Owens family's prodigies were discussing outside.

Daniella, who was by his side, fell silent in awe at what she saw-the pills Jack cultivated were indeed first -grade intermediate pills. The most important thing was how skilled Jack was. He looked almost the same as a First Elder who had researched pills for many years.

Daniella was completely attracted to Jack when she saw how focused he was. As his expression would shift from frowning to smiling lightly, Jack's expressions seemingly affected her thoughts. She eyed the changes in his mood, his nervousness, and happiness. It was as if Jack was not the person cultivating the pills but her as well.

"Done!" Finally, Jack raised his hand and finished cultivating a furnace of pills. Two pills flew upward before landing in Jack's palm.

The pills looked round and plump. They carried a faint smell of herbs and medicine and were obviously of good quality

"Look at you, you're all sweaty!" Daniella could not help but take out her handkerchief and helped wipe Jack's forehead when she saw that Jack had completed cultivating the pills.

Her beautiful eyes looked very serious when she helped him.

"Err, well... Thank you!" Jack had an embarrassed expression on his face as he smiled shyly, placing the furnace away.

Chapter 1229

Resting for a couple of minutes, the Owens family's prodigies came to Jack's room not long after.

"Young Master Jack, is there anything important that you've asked us to come?" asked the duo curiously, glancing at one another when they realized that Daniella was also in the room.

Jack had cultivated five firstgrade intermediate-level pills just now. He took two out with a flip of his hand and said, "Here's one for each of you. These are first-grade intermediate-level pills, used to increase fighting prowess. They should be able to help you both break through and achieve the elementary level of the semi-god stage. I suggest that you both spend some time here and leave for the main family after you've broken through. That would help increase your speed when you travel."

"W-What? This...this is for us?" The young man gulped, wondering if he heard wrongly. These were pills, and having these were much better than having spirited grass.

It was because of this that pills were extremely precious and hard to obtain.

Jack had genuinely taken two incredibly rare items to give them both!

"Thank you, Young Master!" The young girl took the pills with a small frown on her face before her expression shifted into utter shock and awe. "Why... Why are these still hot?"

The man took the other pill and was just as surprised. "Oh, my stars... It's still hot! Are these recently cultivated?"

Jack nodded at their shocked faces. "Haha...! Yes, they are, considering I had just cultivated them. There's no loss of Chi from the pills, so the effects are best if you take it right now. While it's not much, the pills will gradually lose their Chi."

"You're incredible, Young Master Jack! Did you truly cultivate these pills yourself? That's mighty kind of you to cultivate these yourselves for us!" The young girl was extremely excited. "I... I don't know how to thank you for this!"

"That's right, Young Master Jack. I had no idea that you're so nice and considerate toward us..." The guy gazed at Jack appreciatively yet guiltily, as he did secondguess Jack while he stayed in the residence merely to cultivate pills for them. He thought Jack had his eye on his beautiful prodigy companion from their Owens family. Thinking back at it, he truly was gauging the heart of a gentleman with his own mean measures!

“Alright, we should leave. I need to save time and complete my mission as soon as possible!" Jack glanced at the two prodigies and said, "The two of you don't need to send me off; just train well. The best way to repay me is to break through the semi-god level soon."

They then left for the village's entrance once more. At this moment, the Blood Dragon Horse was full and was enjoying the warm sunshine.

Daniella brought the horse over, subtly shy when she glanced at Jack. Getting up the horse, she said to Jack, “Come up. I don't know which directions the next branch family is at, so you need to lead the way!"

Chapter 1230

"Thank you very much...!" Still embarrassed at what happened this morning, he fought his shyness and got up the horse's back, sitting behind Daniella.

"Are you sure you don't want to hold on to me? Don't fall later!" reminded the blushing Daniella.

"Alright...!" replied Jack before placing his hands around Daniella' s waist from behind.

Recalling something, Daniella then said, "Oh, right. The triennial martial arts competition among the reclusive families is coming up next month. Although it's just for us to learn from each other, it bears great importance for the eight families and the other reclusive families. As a member of the White main family, you have such high fighting prowess. You'll definitely join since you must be a genius of the main family, right?"

Jack nodded. "My father told me about that, and that's why I got to make this trip of choosing prodigies for the main family short. I need to go back earlier so that I can join this martial arts competition, and that's why I don' t want to rest here for too long, leaving once everything is settled."

Jack paused for a moment before a smile grew on his face as he spoke, "I'm lucky that the White branch families aren't far from the clans depending on us. I'll get to wrap up everything if I get to it quickly."

"But you'll still be out of time!" Daniella thought about it and said, "I got an idea: Why don't I just take the reins on the horse from now on? This will be much faster. You' ll only wear yourself out and deplete your Chi if I leave and you rely on flying. You'll also need more time, too!"

"It doesn't sound too good..." Jack was embarrassed. Riding the horse from one place to another would spare him several days, and they would need an estimated 20 days to get things done.

If things went out of plan, however, they would need at least 20 more days, meaning he would not have enough time to return for the tournament.

"Hey, what's not good about it? If it wasn't for you, I would've been insulted by that bastard back then, and that's even worse than killing me. This is the same as saving my life, do you understand? You saved my life, so what's the big about me helping you?" Smiling, Daniella then added, "Of course, you'll have to repay me since I'm helping you!"

"What is it, then?" Jack frowned, never expecting she would ask for a favor after she offered him help without him asking for it.

"It's simple: I'd like to follow you to the White family and take a look after we're done. I've never been to the White family yet. Will you welcome me there?" Daniella was filled with expectations. Not only was Jack handsome, but he had a respectable position and identity. He was nice to people and even knew how to cultivate pills. To her, Jack had surpassed many of the young masters who had courted her.

Those genius young masters who bore great positions seemingly paled insignificantly when compared to Jack, and that was no stretch nor lie.

"This doesn't sound too good, right?" Jack was slightly worried.

After all, the Cabello family and the White family never had a good relationship. Should the Cabellos turn hostile entirely, things would take a turn for the worse as Daniella knew where their branch families were.

"Hey, what's so bad about that?" Daniella soon thought of something. "I get it... Knowing that the White family and the Cabellos aren't on good terms, you don't want to let me go there, right? True, the Cabello family doesn't have a good relationship with the White family, but it's not that bad, right? Apart from that, I can't completely represent the Cabello family. I just want to go to the White family and play!"No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Jack fell silent for a moment before he spoke, “That's not the only problem. You've been out for so long, and if you don't go back, the Cabello family members will search everywhere for you when they learn you've been captured. Won't your parents be worried if you don't go back for such a long time?"

Daniella's face darkened when she heard this. She thought about it and said, "They don't know I was captured by Munro Quinn. All they know is that I've gone out to play, so they won't be too worried since I have good fighting prowess, though they'll still worry if I don't come home after quite some time."

Stopping the horse at that moment, she turned to Jack and smilingly spoke, "However, I've made up my mind to follow you to the White family to play. After all, you guys will be joining the martial arts competition within several days, so I'll follow you to the competition and meet my parents then..."

"A... Alright!" Jack nodded, agreeing to her stance. It was nice to have a genial relationship with this Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family, and he would at least get information about the Cabello family...even if it was to learn about the Cabellos' first elder so he could take the ancient book from them.

Jack kept his thoughts in check, however, reminding himself that he needed to prioritize breaking through into the intermediate or the later stage of the true-god level. Only then could he get the ancient book.

Otherwise, he would not stand a chance against that person.

Jack thought about it and set a goal for himself. "It's alright. Fernando has three years, so I'll try my best to strive and grow as quickly as I can."

"That's set, then. You've made your promise!" Delighted that Jack agreed to her, she then called out to the horse as it began to gallop again.

As the saying went, 'familiarity breeds fondness,' they both met every day for the next 20 days as Jack would sit behind Daniella and held her waist. Unknowingly, an unfamiliar feeling for Daniella blossomed within Jack.

There were even times when Jack could not control his excitement when he sat behind this beauty and caught whiffs of her pleasant scent.

His understanding of Daniella had grown over those 20 days. While she was considerably arrogant and spoilt by the Cabello family, she was not a bad person. Apart from that, she was also a simple and uncomplicated person.

She did not seem to place her guard up against Jack, at least.

"Goodness, I'm tired from all this running around with you during these couple of days!" When they finally left the last branch family, Daniella, who was on the horse's back, could not help but complain. "Apart from that, there are several clans and families on this trip who think I'm your beautiful wife. I'm really looking forward to seeing how your wife looks."

"The past couple of days must've been tiring for you!" Jack smiled." As for my wife, you'll meet her as you follow me to the White family."

"It must've been tiring for you? No, that won't do-you gotta treat me to a drink at least!" said the grinning Daniella

"Alright. Let's go left and follow that direction. We can rest for a night if we see a town, seeing that it's almost nightfall. I'll treat you to a drink tonight as a reward for your help these couple of days. How does that sound?"

"That's more like it!" Daniella rolled her eyes at Jack, but her heart felt like it was lathered by something honey-like and sweet.

Thus, they continued their journey ahead on their steed, with Daniella eager at the thought of having dinner with Jack alone.

Moreover, she found that being next to Jack gave her a sense of security. Although he was six or seven years older than her, the mature Jack made her even more fascinated as she spent days with him.

He was a far cry from the other young masters that gifted her roses, chocolates, jade pendants, and spirited grasses. They bored her senseless.

Eventually, the duo arrived outside a small town as the sky slowly turned dark.

The small town seemed rather vast as it was brightly lit at this hour, festive-looking as many night market stalls were put up on the streets.

"Not bad... This small town looks much like an ancient, bygone town. What a sight for sore eyes!" Daniella had a smile on her face as she walked on the wide bluestone street with the tall Blood dragon Horse in tow.

"Feel free to tell me whatever you' d like to eat, Third Young Mistress Cabello, there's no need to be polite. You can choose from any of these restaurants!"

"There's a hotel in front that looks promising, too!" said Jack to Daniella as he enjoyed the night view.

"Well, I don't want to go to big hotels. Let's just find a small restaurant with a better environment; that's the highlight of it all!" Daniella nodded before turning to Jack again and said," By the way, can you stop addressing me as Third Young Mistress Cabello? You know that you...you can call me Daniella, right?"

"Alright, Daniella." Jack smiled. The two of them walked for a while before they found a quaint yet pleasant restaurant.

"Let's go to the second floor. We can still sit on the side of the second floor and enjoy the night view of the streets below." Daniella pulled Jack, ready to go to the second floor after asking the waiter to bring the horse to the stables.

Two muscular men guarded the staircase that led to the second floor, however, and when they saw Jack and Daniella about to go upstairs, one of them stopped the duo with an extended hand.

"What's the meaning of this?" Daniella frowned, confused at the sudden gesture.

Eyeing them both, one of the men sneered, "Guests, in our restaurant, the first floor is for the commoners, but the second floor is different. Only the young masters in our town can afford to pay for things that are served on the second floor. Besides, the recipes here are different. They serve monster beasts' meat, and spirited stones are used to pay the bill, got it?"

Spirited stones were materials that martial artists often used for training, and they contain immense Chi. The purer the stone, the more Chi it contained.

Ordinary low-grade spirit stones were similar to Chi Congregation Pills, but its effects were not as good as Chi Congregation Pills.

However, the more advanced middle-grade or high-grade spirit stones were far more potent than the Chi Congregation Pills, especially the high-grade spirit stones that were awfully rare. A high-grade spirit stone was equal to one hundred medium-grade spirit stones.

Of course, there were also the legendary top-grade spirit stones, which only existed in legends. No one had ever seen them since topgrade spirit stones were also rarely seen. It was considered good enough to occasionally see some middle-grade spirit stones.

Being a martial artist meant that they obviously did not have much interest in money. They basically trade with spirit stones, as spirit stones were much more practical.

Therefore, the two Herculean men thought that Jack and Daniella could not afford to be on the second floor when they could not recognize them as any members of the families in this town.

Chapter 1233

Much like casual martial artists, people like them would only have small amounts of spirited stones. It was considered nice to have several pieces, though they would use such spirited stones to train and try improving themselves as much as possible. How could they use it for food?

"This is ridiculous! Open your doglike eyes and see who I am! Do I look like somebody who can't afford a meal?" It was apparent that Daniella had never received such treatment in the past as she was on the verge of exploding. She never expected to be looked down on when she came to a small town for food.

"What are you talking about, young girl? Do you know who the boss of our restaurant is? How dare you say 'open your dog-like eyes' to us! Haha...! Let me tell you this: even employees like us aren't people you can simply offend!" The burly man immediately got angry and looked at Daniella despicably. "You're a stunner, but that's all you are, no cash on you. Women like you are trophy women -what else would you know apart from looking pretty?"

"That's right!" The other burly man also immediately chimed in." I think you're just a trophy woman, too. Haha...! If you can't afford things, just let this handsome young man treat you to a simple meal. You want something nice instead? You look like the leeching type, those who' 11 dip after having their fill!"

Not forgetting Jack, the man turned to him next. "Young man, you look like a good person, so I'll leave you a piece of advice: There are many women out there who suck people dry these days. You should be careful and not let her control you."

"What the f*ck..? I'm really, really angry now!" Daniella saw red at that instant. She was the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family, a family completely capable of entering the top three positions among the eight reclusive families. They had three people with the fighting prowess of peak level true god stage, and such power was much stronger than the White family, who was at the bottom of the food chain.

As the third young mistress of the Cabello family, she was treated as a precious girl among the Three Golden Flowers.

Both her sisters spoiled her and her entire family loved her.

How could she not be angry when somebody called her a trophy woman that leeched off of others?

Before Jack could speak, she threw her fist at one of the men, squarely at his abdomen.

Thomp!

The burly man flew backward for a couple of meters before landing on the ground, and blood leaked out of his mouth.

Daniella could utilize her Chi, one with power of a peak stage semigod level master that no regular person could withstand.

Hence, a simple punch would inflict intense pain on her opponent.

"How dare you cause trouble here! Do you have a death wish or something?!" The other burly man was enraged at what transpired. Balling his hands into fists, he threw one at Daniella.

"Pfft! You, alone?!" Noting how the man was charging straight for her, Daniella swung her fist and sent that person flying.

Thump!

That guy also fell to the ground and vomited blood.

A man soon rushed in from the entrance with a dozen people and surrounded the duo. "Who are you? How dare you cause trouble in the place owned by our Murphy family?"

Chapter 1234

Upon seeing who came for them, both burly men scrambled to their feet from the floor as they whimpered and muttered, "Young master, this young girl is too...too much..! She hit members of our Murphy family!"

Annoyed, Young Master Murphy glared at both men. "You're both useless. You can't even win in a fight against a woman!"

"Young Master, this woman has the fighting prowess of the semi-god level, and it's only natural that we in the grandmaster stage will lose..!" one of them reasoned as he held his abdomen, face scrunched up in pain. "She doesn' t look to be from around here and seems to be more than just a casual trainer!"

"Semi-god level?" Young Master Murphy's face darkened when he heard this. A person with this level of fighting prowess would be regarded as a master.

His father was also in the final stages of the semi-god level and was a considerably formidable force in this town. Their family also had several masters, but they could not go offending some master of the semi-god level, especially those of the last or peak stage.

That was why he held back from promptly acting out, even though many were present.

Jack, who was next to them, smiled indifferently and said," They deserved what came for them. This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family, yet they dared to ridicule and said she 's a trophy woman. Aren't they asking for it?"

"Cabello family...?" Although Young Master Murphy was a young master in this small town, he was quite knowledgeable. He inhaled sharply when he learned she was from the Cabello family and noticed how beautiful this young woman in front of him was.

The Cabello family was one of the eight reclusive families.

“Here, this is my token." Daniella flipped her hand and revealed a black-colored token, shoving it to their faces soon after.

The other party broke out in cold sweat when he recognized the token and thanked himself for not picking a fight with them both. He was also lucky that he did not have other thoughts when he saw how beautiful this girl was.

Otherwise...

Forget the restaurant, their entire Murphy family would disappear from this world in a blink of an eye.

"It really i-is the Third Young Mistress Cabello!" The man from the Murphy family gulped before turning to the two well-built men and barked, "You buffoons! This is the third young mistress of the Cabello family! How dare you two offend her?"

Terrified, both men knelt on the ground and bowed incessantly as they begged Daniella, "We're sorry, Third Young Mistress Cabello! Please forgive us! We're really ignorant and had no idea that Third Young Mistress Cabello would come to such a humble place as ours. That is why we offended you!"

"Hmph!" Daniella indignantly spoke, “Who gave you the right to call me a trophy woman? Take them out and kill them, or I'll wipe out the entire Murphy family!"

Overwhelmed with horror, Young Master Murphy inhaled deeply and snapped, "Take them both out and kill them!"

There was nothing he could have done. Under such circumstances, comforting Third Young Mistress Cabello was better than anything befalling on the Murphy family.

"Please forgive us, Third Young Mistress..! We know that we're at fault, and we won't do it again!" Both burly men were so frightened that their legs turned into jelly and were paralyzed on the floor.

Several other men pulled up both men, ready to take them outside.

"Let it go, Daniella. You can't blame them, seeing as they genuinely don't know who you are," interjected Jack after assessing the situation. "I say, have them slap themselves a thousand times and we'll let this go."

Daniella blushed when she heard what Jack said, but she nonetheless turned to the Murphies and said, "Alright, alright. I won't take your lives as Jack is treating me to a meal today. Since he asked for forgiveness on your behalf, I'll spare you both. Slap yourselves for a hundred times then!"

"Of course, of course...!"

Chapter 1235

Relieved that they were pardoned, both burly men knelt again and started slapping themselves.

"Thank you for forgiving the faults of these petty people, Miss Cabello!" Young Master Murphy was also relieved. After all, these two subordinates of his were at the grandmaster level. They were fifth or sixth-grade grandmasters, and such fighting prowess was considered stellar to the Murphy family. That was why they were sent to guard the restaurant.

He never foresaw such an event would happen, and it made him feel helpless.

He thought about it and said again, "All of you, listen to me: Everything Third Young Mistress Cabello orders tonight will be free, understand?"

"Yes, Sir!" The other waiters in the restaurant immediately replied.

"That's more like it!" Daniella patted Young Master Murphy on his shoulder when she saw how understanding he was. "Remember to ask your subordinates to not look down on others in the future. I'm not the only one they can't afford to offend. This good friend of mine is the White family's young master, and they shouldn't cross him as well. He can wipe out your entire town with one hand. Do you believe that?"

"I believe... I do believe..." Young Master Murphy's sweat dripped down his forehead unknowingly. Still, it made sense that the friends of Third Young Mistress Cabello had high positions. How else could they be qualified to stand beside the Third Young Mistress Cabello?

Jack smiled and said, “Let's go."

Danielle turned and walked upstairs before remembering something. "Serve us a serving of every specialty you have here!" she called out.

"A...Alright!" Young Master Murphy wiped his cold sweat and nodded vehemently.

"That's more like it!" Daniella smiled and turned to walk up the stairs.

"Goodness... Who would've known that the Cabello family's third young mistress and the White family's young master would come to our town? F*ck... My heart shook at that! Our Murphy family nearly got destroyed!" Young Master Murphy relaxed as both Jack and Daniella went upstairs, and he then noted how his legs turned to jelly.

"Luckily, that guy helped us to beg for forgiveness, or we would've died!" The two burly men, their faces swollen and bruised from all their slaps, were inwardly relieved. They never imagined that two people of such honorable positions would dine at a humble place like theirs.

"We have a situation, Young Master!" At this moment, a guy standing beside Young Master Murphy yelled in surprise.

"What? What happened?" Young Master Murphy nearly fainted from fright. He just got the time to take a breather!

Why did his subordinate shock him again?

That subordinate immediately said, "The young master of the Ladenberg family, Ezra Ladenberg is also having dinner upstairs tonight."

"Ezra Ladenberg...!" Young Master Murphy's face darkened. The Ladenberg family was the enemy of the Murphy family, and their overall power was slightly stronger.

That was why Ezra Ladenberg had been tyrannical and bullied those around him all the time. He never paid whenever he had meals in their restaurant, much to Young Master Murphy's chagrin, yet there was nothing he could do.

Chapter 1236

"Yes young master. Ezra Ladenberg is not a nice person and the Third Young Mistress Cabello is really beautiful. It so happens that Ezra is an extremely lecherous person and I'm afraid that something bad will happen later!" The subordinate looked anxious as he thought about it. He immediately said, "Young master, this won't work. We need to rush over and remind Young Master Ladenberg or they will definitely get into a fight!"

However, Young Master Murphy stopped him. "Remind? Why should we remind him? The Ladenberg family had been suppressing our Murphy family all this while and that Young Master Ladenberg is wildly arrogant. This is a great chance to get rid of the Ladenberg family. Those two almost died because they offended that woman. Do you think that they would still be alive if they took advantage of Third Young Mistress Cabello?"

The subordinate's eyes lit up when he heard this. "That's right, why didn't I think about this. I was only thinking about how our tables and chairs would be destroyed if they get into a brawl later. With the protective nature of Master Ladenberg, he would definitely avenge his son without finding out the reason if Young Master Ladenberg was killed. If that's the case..."

Young Master Murphy nodded." There are many guests upstairs and who knows how the news is going to reach the Ladenberg family later?"

A smile appeared on the corners of Young Master Murphy's mouth when they arrived at that point of the conversation. He said to his subordinate, "Immediately go and send the message to the Ladenberg family if they get into a fight later. Do you understand?"

"I understand!" The subordinate smiled with his face filled with anticipation.

Jack and Daniella sat at the space next to the window after they went upstairs.

The view from the second floor was extremely beautiful.

However, as what Young Master Murphy and the others had expected, Young Master Ladenberg and several others also saw the two over there.

"Psst psst, what a scene. Why haven't I seen such a beauty before?" Young Master Ladenberg could not help but swallow his saliva and exclaimed after he looked around for a while.

The guy opposite him said with a smile, "It looks like these two are casual trainers who passed by this area and are here for a meal."

"Casual trainers?" Young Master Ladenberg had a smirk on his face and said, "Then we can't let them leave so easily. Since they are not people from our town, it would be difficult for others to find them if anything happens to them. If we let such a beauty leave, it would be difficult to meet one the next time even if we want to!"

"Haha... Young master, don't worry about it! Leave this in my hands!" The subordinate opposite the young master directly stood up after he smiled and walked toward Daniella.

"Young lady, you are really gorgeous! Your beauty will make the moon and flowers shy!" The man said flirtatiously as soon as he arrived in front of Daniella.

Daniella frowned and glanced at him as her facial expression darkened. "I don't know who you are, how can I help you?"

The man smirked as he glanced toward where Young master Ladenberg was and said, "Young lady, our Young Master Ladenberg would like to invite you over for a chat. I hope that you will give him face!"

Daniella looked over and a fatty was sitting there with beautiful women on each side of his arms. He had oil stains on the corners of his mouth and was smiling at her like a lecherous fool.

She directly glanced at the man in front of her with a cold expression on her face. "F*ck off! I'm not interested in such rubbish!"

"Haha... Young lady, you don't need to be in a hurry to reject us!" The man in front of her did not seem to be angry. He flipped his hand and came up with a middlegrade spirited stone. He placed it on the table. "This is a middlegrade spirited stone and it has an equal worth to one hundred lowgrade spirited stones. Casual trainers like you have never seen spirited stones like this right? Haha... How about that?"

"You're giving it to me?" Daniella glanced at the spirited stone on the table in despise.

The man nodded with a smile. "Of course. Young lady, we're all smart people. You only need to keep our young master company tonight. As long as our young master enjoys himself tonight, this middle-grade spirited stone is yours! Not any person can meet with such a good opportunity!"

Chapter 1237

"Haha... Is this a joke? You expect me to accompany that fat-ass with one piece of useless spirited stone?" Daniella laughed.

Jack also could not help but stand up. "Didn't you hear when she asked you to f*ck off?"

This was the first time he purposely brought Daniella out for a meal and it started off with an unhappy incident. Jack was also unhappy as they were suddenly disturbed hence he did not want to be nice to the other party.

Daniella was secretly happy and touched when she saw how Jack was slightly angry In her opinion, Jack proactively stood forward and got mad meant that he had some of affection toward her. Why was Jack so angry if he did not like her?

"Who are you? How dare you speak to me this way?" The man was one of the butlers in Young Master Ladenberg's family and he was considered a highly positioned person in the Ladenberg family.

However, he never liked to take action under normal circumstances. In his opinion, most of the situations could be resolved by using spirited stones. There was no need to take action if the issues could be resolved by using spirited stones.

"Who am I?" Jack humphed coldly and directly punched the other party his head.

Bang!

Jack did not use much strength but this butler of the Ladenberg family flew directly several meters backward before landing on the floor with blood trickling down his nose.

"What the f*ck?!" Young Master Ladenberg directly slammed his hand on the table and stood up when he saw that his subordinate was hit. “Attack them and kill the guy. Capture the woman and bring her over. F*ck, they need to submit to pressure after turning down my nice request."

"Attack!" Several of Young Master Ladenberg's subordinate immediately rushed toward Jack.

"Don't blame me since you guys are the suicidal ones!" Jack flipped his hand and took the black sword out when he saw the group of people daringly rush forward.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

With several swipes of his sword, the people who rushed forward were killed.

Many guests on the second floor were frightened and hid directly by the side when they saw that there was a fight

"Who are these two? How dare they kill the Ladenberg family's people!" Some of them could not help but started discussing what happened. Everything was moving so quickly and they only realized what happened when the Ladenberg family's subordinates were killed by that young man.

Jack directly went in front of the Ladenberg family's butler after he killed all those people and looked at him coldly.

"Young man, do you know who our young master is? I think you ..." The Ladenberg family's butler wanted to threaten Jack. However, he was killed by Jack before he had the chance to finish speaking.

Bang!

The butler fell onto the ground, dead.

Chapter 1238

"Ah!" Both women in Young Master Ladenberg's arms were so frightened that they turned pale. They immediately ran away and hid at a corner.

"Young...young man, I'm the young master of the Ladenberg family. You will be going against the Ladenberg family if you dare kill me!" Young Master Ladenberg stood up and pointed at Jack. His voice and his finger, however, were trembling and he was obviously afraid.

Whoosh!

Jack did not pay much attention to him and carried out his attack.

He then turned around and walked toward Daniella while putting his sword away.

Bang!

Young Master Ladenberg fell onto the ground in disbelief as he covered his neck with both his hands.

"This... This..." Several subordinates of the Murphy family were surprised when they ran over to take a look. They immediately ran downstairs.

One of them went toward Young Master Murphy. "Young master, this is great! That guy really killed Young Master Ladenberg! Haha... Even heaven is helping us!"

"Is that true? Why haven't you guys send the message to the Ladenbergs yet? Go change your clothes as it's bad if the Third Young Mistress Cabello and the others learned that we were the ones who sent the message!" Young Master Murphy reminded his subordinate with a smile after he thought about it.

"Haha... Alright, young master! I'm on my way now!" The subordinate then went to change his clothes happily.

After Jack killed those people, he went back to where Daniella was and sat down. "What an annoyance. Who knew that we would meet such annoying people the first time officially treating the third Young Mistress Cabello to a meal. I hope this has not affected your mood for food."

How could Daniella blame Jack when she felt as sweet as if she had taken honey. She felt that Jack had killed those people because he was unhappy with them bullying her.

Apart from that, she was extremely happy as Jack acted in such a decisive and unhesitating manner just now.

"Don't worry, such a small issue would not affect my mood!" Daniella placed her arms on the table and placed her head in between her hands as she looked at Jack happily. Her beautiful eyes were filled with love for Jack.

Jack's heart stopped for a moment when he saw how Daniella looked at him with the infatuated smile at the corners of her mouth.

He was not dumb so he had already realized that Daniella had feelings toward him and he had no idea how to respond to her feelings.

Luckily the waiter served their food at that moment. All the dishes that were served smelled extremely good.

"It smells so good! We can start eating!" Jack smiled and said to the waiter. "By the way, please serve us some of your best wine here!"

"It's coming, it's coming!"

Chapter 1239

At this moment, Young Master Maack walked over with a smile on his face and placed two bottles of wine on the table.

"Third Young Mistress Cabello and Young Master White, I present to you the legendary monkey wine, a wine whose sweetness is unparalleled, and its aroma thick and flavorful. It's extremely beneficial for those who are training to become chi masters!"

Young Master Maack introduced the wine to Jack, grinning. “My father stores it here, and I usually don't dare to drink it. I only take a few sips when he's around. Best of all, a wine like this is extremely hard to procure!"

Jack noticed the other man's bootlicking demeanor and frowned. "If this wine is truly as rare and as good as you say it is, why would you bring it out for us?"

Daniella's brows creased together when she heard Jack's words. Her gaze toward Young Master Maack sharpened. “Don't tell me that you' ve spiked this drink, Young Master Maack. We're not as gullible as you think we are!"

Young Master Maack nearly collapsed after he heard that. "I would never dare to do something like that even if you gave me a billion bucks," he replied hastily."

How could I do that? I have no right to even touch either of you, being the powerful heir and heiress you two are. Why would I harbor ill intentions toward you!"

Here, Young Master Maack paused for a while, his eyes skittering toward the body of Young Master Ladenberg, "To be honest with you, that dead fatty is the young master of the Ladenberg family," he finally said, huffing. "The Ladenberg family is the most powerful family in our city, and that fatty regularly bullied us. I was so glad when you killed him, so of course, I had to thank you in some way. Besides, it' s just two bottles of wine. It's nothing compared to what you did!"

"Good. I knew you didn't have the guts!"

Daniella swiped for one of the bottles and uncorked it. Its thick, heavenly scent hit her nostrils, and she felt as though she could get drunk from its smell alone.

“My God. That's the smell of monkey wine. I want some too!"

A few guests sitting at the surrounding tables caught a whiff of the wine. All of them gulped and stared at Jack and Daniella in admiration.

No one thought that the Maack family had such a prized possession-and that it would be taken out just for the two of them.

“My God. This... this is beautiful!"

Jack's eyes brightened once he smelled the wine. He liked alcohol and had a high tolerance for it, so naturally, a wine like that would make him excited.

"Then I'll go for it!"

Jack smiled and opened the other bottle, gulping it down straight from the bottle.

He only reluctantly set the bottle down after taking a few gulps." This is fantastic. It doesn't burn at all, and its aroma is so strong. This is one amazing wine."

Daniella and Young Master Maack stared at him, boggle-eyed. He had downed the alcohol a little too fast, had he not?

"Eat something, Jack!"

Daniella smiled and heaped a piece of monster meat onto Jack's plate. Then she poured the wine out into a glass and took a sip out of it. “This is really good!"

"You'd better eat up too, Daniella!"

After all, she was of a significant position, and she had taken a piece of meat for him. Jack felt slightly embarrassed, so he did the same for her as well.

However, this simple gesture stirred Daniella's heart. Jack had actually given her food. Was he trying to hint at something else?

"Take your time here. I'll get out of your hair. Just inform me if you need anything!"

Young Master Maack, who was very observant, noticed the slight flush on Daniella's cheeks. He surmised that the two might be a couple, and he left with a grin on his face, not wanting to become the third wheel.

Chapter 1240

Daniella could not help but feel worried as she watched Jack practically inhaling the wine. She frowned and said, “Jack, I know this is a rare wine but don't down it like that. You'll get drunk!"

Jack gave a careless smile when he heard that. “Heh. Don't worry about me. I have a pretty good alcohol tolerance. No ordinary person can lure me into a drunken state. And do you know that martial artists have a far higher tolerance for alcohol than normal people? Martial artists have a far stronger body composition, so that 's why normal people can't compare to us."

"That's true!"

Daniella flashed an awkward smile in return

The two drank for a while. Master Ladenberg then brought many fighters from the Ladenberg family over.

"F*ck. Who killed my son?"

Master Ladenberg rushed over and scanned the area, absolutely livid.

He quickly realized that many of the guests had their attention directed toward Jack.

"Were you the one who killed my son, you little sh*t? Do you have a death wish?"

Thomas Ladenberg flipped his palm and took out a sword, pointing it at Jack.

Jack stood up and flipped his palm as well, staring at the intruder impatiently. "I think you' re the one who has a death wish here. Your son was stupid enough to want to have Miss Daniella Cabello, so of course, he had to die. And you're trying to avenge him?"

"Of course!"

Thomas was so furious that a vein throbbed at his forehead. He could not be bothered to talk to Jack anymore, so he gathered his chi in his palm and channeled it into his sword.

Then he slashed the blade toward Jack.

Whoosh!

A sudden sword aura infused with a lot of chi slashed toward Jack, arcing into a flash of light.

"Hmph!"

The master of the Ladenberg family was a pretty strong fighter.

However, Jack did not care for him. After he harrumphed coldly, he threw out his own sword aura.

Whoosh!

Another sword aura appeared. It was evident that it was much longer than Master Ladenberg's, and the amount of chi that the older man's attack contained could not be compared to Jack's.

Bang!

A frightening clash rang out. The next second, Master Ladenberg's sword aura had been destroyed by Jack's. He had been no match for Jack's power.

"What!"

Master Ladenberg was so shocked that he took a sharp intake of breath when he saw what happened. All color drained from his face.

“No!"

The remaining energy from Jack' s sword aura was rushing toward him. Master Ladenberg released a cry and used the elder next to him as a shield without giving a second thought.

Bam!

A dull thud rang out. Blood sprayed, and the elder stared at the gaping hole in his chest in disbelief. He looked at Master Ladenberg. “You..."

After he said that, and as Master Ladenberg released his grip, the elder collapsed onto the ground, no longer breathing.

Chapter 1241-1245

Chapter 1241

Large beads of perspiration dropped from Master Ladenberg's forehead. His face had gone white. He would have been the dead one if he had not reacted in time.

"Go for him! Attack him together!"

However, he saw the body of his son on the floor, and he saw the numbers he had on his side. Master Ladenberg gave the order.

"Heh. You think that you can beat me because you have more people?"

Jack chuckled and looked at Daniella. "Please continue to eat. Just leave these vermin to me!"

After he said that, he stamped his foot and rushed toward the men.

"Okay!"

A smile tinged Daniella's lips. Warmth filled her chest. Jack actually told her to stay put? It seemed that the man truly cared for her.

Bang bang bang!

Frightening sounds of fighting rang out. Many of those who were dining were terrified and jumped straight from the second floor in fear of being roped into the cacophony.

The men from the Ladenberg family were no match for Jack.

In a flash, they had all dropped onto the floor, chests no longer heaving.

"Young Master Jack, you-you're so strong!"

Young Master Maack had pretended to find out about the situation and leisurely came forward to check the scene out. He was wickedly delighted when he saw the bodies on the floor, yet still, he pulled a mask of bewilderment. "You're so strong. The master of the Ladenberg family is the strongest fighter in our city. I never thought that you would beat him so fast!"

Jack gave him an impassive look and kept his sword. "Can I trouble you to clean the corpses up around here?"

“Not a problem at all. I am at your service, Young Master White!"

Young Master Maack immediately ordered his subordinates to clear the bodies up. He had been waiting that very day for a long time, but never had the opportunity to do so until then.

"That felt good!"

Jack walked over and sat beside Daniella. "I don't think anyone will be disturbing us now."

After he said that, Jack took huge swigs out of the wine bottle.

Daniella was internally speechless when she saw him drinking as though there was no tomorrow. "You can't just drink like that, Jack," she hurriedly reminded him. "It's monkey wine. It's not regular alcohol. You can't drink it that way even if you have a high alcohol tolerance. It's extremely potent, and even martial artists can easily get drunk on it!"

Here, Daniella paused before she continued, “Besides, only people who have drunk this twice or thrice before will be able to drink more as their bodies have adjusted to it. But even then, they can't just gulp it down. You'll definitely get drunk if you've never drunk it before!"

"No way. Is-is it that strong?"

Jack was internally speechless.

He did not feel anything at all and had only thought that it was good wine. He had not cared much when Daniella had advised him to drink it slowly, but he never thought that this wine would make even martial artists, drunk.

Still, he suspected Daniella's words. Others might have gotten drunk because their alcohol tolerance was lower. His was naturally high.

He smiled and replied, “Don't worry. I know my own limit. I won' t drink anymore once I get dizzy!"

"Oh, okay then. I just wanted to tell you because you were gulping it down!"

Daniella offered a wan smile and scooped some vegetables for Jack. "Eat up. This hotel's restaurant has pretty good food!"

Young Master Maack, who was arranging for the bodies to be cleared up and the area to be tidied, noticed her gesture toward Jack. What a lucky guy, to be able to be served by such a beautiful woman.

Chapter 1242

The two continued to savor the wine; Jack felt his muscles relaxing as he drank from the bottle.

After a while, the area had been cleaned up. The broken tables and chairs had all been carted away.

However, there was no way to fix the gaping slashes along the walls and the floor for the time being.

Fortunately, Jack had been controlling his strength during the fight. The hotel might have been completely destroyed otherwise.

After drinking for a while, Jack felt his head growing heavy. "This is some wine. I didn't feel anything just now, but now I'm getting dizzy."

Jack's face had gone all red. He blearily stared at Daniella's perfect features, as if he was being pulled toward them

He had to admit that the longer he looked at her, the prettier she seemed. No wonder many young masters of the reclusive families wanted to court her.

"Slow-slow down. I told you just now, didn't I? People who are drinking this for the first time can' t take too much. And you didn't believe me..."

Daniella felt extremely embarrassed with Jack staring at her. She dipped her chin slightly, her heart pounding.

She had never experienced a feeling like this before.

By the time she raised her head, she saw that Jack was already slumped over the table. It seemed that the alcohol had finally worked its way into his system.

“Jeez. He's completely drunk!"

Daniella did not know whether to laugh or cry at Jack's drunken state. She walked over with a rueful smile on her face, lifting him up.

"Let's go, Jack. You're drunk!"

She supported Jack down the stairs.

"I'm not drunk. I can take some more of that delicious wine!"

Jack's speech was slurred.

"Never mind. I'll just carry you!"

At the staircase, Daniella hefted Jack onto her back and strode downward.

He was heavy, but he was easy enough to carry for Daniella, who was at the peak of the semi-god status.

She only put Jack down when they were at the concierge. "Give me two rooms please!" she told the staff.

The beautiful woman at the concierge looked at the two of them. "My apologies, Miss, but only one room is left since it's late," she replied, smiling.

"One?"

When she heard this, Daniella drew her brows together. It was evident that she was in a dilemma.

However, she took one look at Jack beside her and said, “Fine. I' ll take the room!"

After she paid, Daniella supported Jack and went up the building.

Chapter 1243

Master Maack also quickly arrived at his family's hotel. He headed for the concierge to look for his monkey wine.

However, he got angry after searching for a while. He immediately called his son over." Where's my wine? There were three bottles of it. Why is only one left?"

Young Master Maack proffered a smile when he heard that. "I gave two bottles of wine to two of our customers!"

Master Maack was so furious that he nearly spewed blood when he heard this. That wine was so precious that he could not even bring himself to drink it, yet his son just gave it away to customers. Even if he had allowed customers to drink it, they should have at least paid a considerable sum of money for it instead, it was given away just like that.

"Are you getting a kick out of seeing me angry? Those are my treasured possessions, which I had kept for so many years. And you just gave it to someone else?"

Master Maack was livid. He shot his son a stormy look. "You ungrateful pig!"

Young Master Maack gave a bitter smile. "You can't just accuse me of that, Father," he explained helplessly. "You would praise me if you knew the circumstances, and you would think that giving those two bottles of wine away was worth it!"

"Worth it?"

Master Maack was so angry that he was speechless. "Fine. Explain everything to me," he huffed. "Let' s see how 'worth it' it can possibly be. If I think otherwise, I will give you two hard slaps. Don't think that I'll spare your dignity!"

Young Master Maack was internally speechless. "We had two extremely important figures who visited us over dinner, Father," he explained. "One of them was the third daughter of the Cabello family. The other the young master of the White family. Heh. They helped us kill the fighters of the Ladenberg family, and now the Ladenberg family's territory is ours. I've already ordered our men to handle the takeover. Do you think that it's worth giving the two bottles of wine to them now?"

"What!"

Master Maack took a sharp intake of breath after he heard this. "Are you serious? So you're saying that Master Ladenberg and his men are all dead?" he said excitedly. "If that's the case, giving away those two bottles of wine was the best possible exchange to make!

"Oh, are Young Miss Cabello and Young Master White still around? I need to drink with them just to see their faces for a bit."

Master Maack was extremely excited. The fury on his expression had long dissipated, and in its place, there was pure delight.

"They've gone! You don't have the chance to drink with them anymore!"

Young Master Maack smiled. "We were fortunate. It so happened that Young Master Ladenberg was drinking upstairs when he spotted the third daughter of the Cabello family, and he could not help but have dirty intentions toward her. That fellow sentenced the entire Ladenberg family to death!"

"That's fantastic. This way, nobody will dare to bully the Maack family in this city anymore!"

Longing suddenly flashed across Master Maack's features. "It's a pity though. Third Young Mistress Cabello is famed for her beauty. Not many can hope to compete against her. It would have been nice if I could even catch a glimpse of her. I've never gotten the chance to see her myself."

He did not know that Daniella had carried Jack into the room. She nudged the door close with her foot and supported Jack onto the bed.

Yet just as she heaved a sigh of relief when they were at the foot of the bed, Jack hurtled straight onto the mattress. She was unsteady on her feet, so she fell along with him and landed atop his body.

Jack's handsome visage was right before her. Her heart thudded against her chest, and nervousness clenched her veins.

"Water. I want water!"

Jack felt extremely thirsty and spoke thickly.

"All right. I'll get water for you!"

Daniella shook herself to her senses and got up hurriedly, pouring water onto a cup for Jack.

She helped him drink the water before placing it on the bedside table. Then she noticed that Jack was dead asleep on the bed already.

"No way. He's already sleeping!"

Daniella could not explain why a pang of disappointment filled her chest at the sight of his sleeping figure.

Chapter 1244

Daniella took a shower after taking off Jack's shoes, then she settled herself on the bed beside him.

She grew even more nervous as she studied his face.

He was asleep, but this was the first time that she was lying next to a man in her entire life. Furthermore, he was a man she liked. How could she not be nervous?

"He won't realize it if I peck him, right?"

Quickly, a daring thought fleeted across Daniella's head.

Then she could not help herself anymore. She steadied herself on her palms and crawled over so that she was leaning over Jack, then she kissed him on the cheek.

She quickly laid back down after that kiss, her heart drumming erratically. She was so nervous she could die.

"Is-is this my first kiss!"

Daniella felt as though her heart was about to burst out of her ribcage. She had never been so daring in all her entire life before.

However, she quickly thought that this did not count as her first kiss. Only a direct kiss would count, so that kiss was not counted.

After she thought about it, Daniella leaned over Jack's body again, her gaze shifting toward his lips.

After much deliberation, she clenched her teeth, supported herself on her palms, and planted a kiss on his lips.

Warmth spread throughout her body after she kissed him. She had given her first kiss to someone she liked.

"My first kiss has been taken by you," she whispered as she looked at Jack. "You're responsible for me now!"

After she said that, she laid back down and finally closed her eyes contentedly. Slowly, she slipped into slumber as well. By the time she woke up, the sky was bright.

She had been awake for two or three minutes when Jack also cracked his eyes open. He slowly registered that he was in a strange room, and took a sharp intake of breath.

When he saw Daniella beside him, he was completely stupefied.

"I-I was sleeping on the same bed as you last night?"

Jack gulped when he saw Daniella, who was wearing a nightgown. He never thought that he would get drunk. Besides, he had no recollection of how he had arrived there.

"That's right. There was only one bed here, so of course, we shared."

Daniella quickly sat upright and ducked her head bashfully. Her cheeks flamed so redly they looked as though they were about to catch fire.

"No-no way. We-we didn't do that right?"

Jack was speechless. If he had bedded Daniella while he was drunk, it would be troublesom.

Chapter 1245

Daniella was stunned, and suddenly an evil thought popped up in her mind. Teasing might be a good idea under such circumstances, to see how Jack would react.

After plotting the evil idea, Daniella deliberately nodded her head and uttered in a diffident tone, “I'm your woman now. You... you have to be responsible for me!"

"What the...No way, really? Did we both..."

Jack was tongue-tied. For once he did not know what to do.

How was he supposed to explain to his wife this time?

"The bedsheet was even stained red last night, and I had to ask the housekeeper to change the sheet. You acted like a barbarian, didn't even know how to treat a lady tenderly..." Daniella informed in a more bashful voice.

Jack's mind went foggy.

His head was buzzing and spinning. He did not expect at all for himself to do such a thing with Daniella after he got drunk.

Jack took a while before he could react. "Why didn't you get an extra room? Besides, I was drunk, why didn't you push me away?" He looked at Daniella, helplessly.

Daniella's face sank immediately when she sensed a hint of malaise on Jack's face. "Now what? Jack, I didn't expect you to be such an irresponsible man! I've given you my precious first time, how could... How could you deny it!"

Daniella groaned; her face full of belligerence. "Do you know how tired I was to carry you back alone last night? I asked for two rooms but there was only one available!" She barked. “I was already exhausted and planned to get some rest after taking a shower. But at that time, you thought I was your wife, and you...you...you bully me!" She said in a sobbing tone.

Jack could not bear to see a girl crying. With the fear seeing Daniella cry, he immediately comforted her and his tone was full of panic. "Don't, please don't cry. I don't mean it that way. I just ...I just think that I'm a few years older than you, and you were not drunk at that time, so you can push me away!"

Daniella raised her head and faced Jack. She bit her alluring rosy pink lips and pouted, “But, I don't care about your age at all. I like you, that's all. Besides, I was exhausted after carrying you back to the room and I was a little tipsy at that time too. That's why I didn' t push you away!"

"Sigh! What should we do now? I promised my wife that I would only love her. But now we two... Sigh! Moreover, you're still very young!"

Jack gazed at Daniella, who was six or seven years younger than him and felt bad about what had happened. This time he had stirred up big trouble. But, no matter how hard he tried to recall, he could not remember anything. Only images of him drinking, and more drinking ran across his mind. Then he felt dizzy and was eventually carried by someone on his or her back.

Daniella smiled sheepishly, looking at Jack's embarrassed face. “Don't worry about it. What's done is done, it can't be undone now. I'm now your girlfriend. But don't tell your wife about us first. Wait until we're closer with each other then we'll tell her." Daniella comforted him, trying her best not to laugh.

Jack cast Daniella a look and replied, "But, it won't be fair to you right now!"

Daniella kept her laughter in check, trying not to burst into laughter. "Hey, hey. It's okay. As long as you treat me well in the future, I won't feel unfair!" Daniella put on a solemn tone and patted Jack's shoulder to comfort him.

Jack went silent for a long time, before he finally said to Daniella," Then..then later on when we return to the White family, you've to tell everyone that you're my friend, okay? Sigh! I haven't thought about how to tell Selena this..."

Jack was kicking himself for getting so drunk and making such a foolish mistake. Daniella even warned him not to drink the wine too quickly then.

However, he was full of himself at that time, thinking that his alcohol tolerance was good, so he disregarded Daniella's warning. Now he had to reap what he had sown.

"No problem!"

Looking at lines appearing between Jack's brows, Daniella smiled contentedly. She then got up and went to the bathroom to change.

Jack sat on the edge of the bed and smoked a cigarette, in hopes that it would calm his panicked soul. He waited until Daniella was.

one washing up only then did he went to wash up too.

When he stood before the mirror in the bathroom, Jack took a look at his cheeks, red lipstick marks imprinted on his cheek. “I'm so done for... It looks like last night we did really...What's more, Daniella is still a young girl. If I shove the responsibility away, the head of the Cabello family would kill me, right?" Jack sighed defeatedly.

Chapter 1246-1250

Chapter 1246

Jack was rendered speechless. There was nothing he could do right now, he could only shut himself down, trying not to think about it first, and hoped that he had the chance to explain to Selena soon.

After washing up, the two rode on the blood dragon horse and set off toward the direction of the main residence of the White family.

Nonetheless, this time the feeling of awkwardness left Jack when he was holding Daniella's waist from behind on the horseback. Perhaps, it was because of what happened last night that had made Jack at ease.

On the contrary, he felt that Daniella was stiff and awkward in front of him. Her cheeks were kissed pink, and her blush extended to the root of her ears.

Soon enough, the two arrived at the bottom of the mountain and both hopped off the horse.

"Young Master Jack!"

The two bodyguards at the gate were shocked at Jack's early return. Jack was supposed to visit plenty of White branch families by himself to select young geniuses to come over to the main White family. But how could he return in merely twenty days? Moreover, he brought back a beautiful woman!

What shocked them the most was that the two rode on a horse together.

"Cough, cough! This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family. It just so happens that I coincidentally met her and saved her from the hands of brigands. She wanted to come over to visit the White family as well, that's why she's here with me!"

Jack let out dry coughs, trying to cover up his embarrassed face.

The two bodyguards were taken aback at this new piece of information. This beautiful woman before them was actually the legendary beauty queen of the Cabello family. The person in reality was much more stunning than in hearsays.

"May I trouble you to take this horse to rest and feed him well? I won't be riding him for a long time."

Daniella beamed and handed the horse to one of the bodyguards.

Jack eyed Daniella and introduced in a serious tone, “Miss Daniella, our residence is not as spacious and as large as your Cabello family. Let me bring you to meet my father first!"

"Hehe, it's okay. Let me look at this place. The scenery is breathlessly exquisite, not bad at all, and the spiritual energy surrounding your residence is dense too. No wonder the White family has developed so well and fast in recent years!"

Daniella chuckled. She followed Jack's pace, walking toward the top of the mountain.

Just after arriving at the square halfway up the mountain, Jack ran into Kylie who was playing with Lana and the others.

He felt a sudden surge of happiness at the scene before him.

“Kylie!" He beamed.

Kylie wheeled her head. Her bright and brilliant huge eyes were immediately lit up.

"Daddy!" She skipped toward Jack.

"Sigh! That fella has finally returned!"

Fiona smiled as she saw Jack at the square.

However, after she noticed the other person's existence standing beside Jack, an attractive and lovely woman, her brows immediately snapped together. "Who's that woman beside Jack? How come she came back with Jack? This woman looks like a vixen. Don't tell me Jack found himself a second wife!"

Lana immediately responded," That's not possible. Jack is not a callous man. Besides, I've never seen this woman before, and since she came with Jack, I guess she should be one of the geniuses that Jack picks from the branch families. She just so happened to come with Jack."

"Oh, that makes sense!"

'Fiona nodded, then again she furrowed and said, “This woman is a natural beauty, isn't she?"

Lana could not help but look in the direction of Daniella after hearing Fiona's compliment for that woman. Not knowing why, Lana was feeling bitter, and perhaps jealous, in her heart. This woman looked younger than her, more good-looking than her and her skin was even more supple and smoother than hers. She was envious.

"Hehe! Kylie, do you miss Daddy?"

Chapter 1247

Jack picked up Kylie who ran to him and planted a kiss on her chubby cheek; his action was full of love and dote.

"Mmm!"

Kylie bobbed her head and said in a childish tone, "Mommy said she will ask you to take me to the town below the mountain to have fun when you return!"

"Haha, alright, alright! I'll take little Kylie and Mommy to go to the town and play together tonight!"

Jack chortled wholeheartedly.

"This is your daughter? She's cute and good-looking!"

Daniella, who was standing next to Jack, could not help but smile awkwardly at the affectionate exchange between the Father and che Daughter.

"Yup, her name is Kylie!"

Jack smiled. He held Kylie in his arms and paced in the direction of Lana, Fiona, and the others.

"Well. Needless to say, this beautiful woman, she is your wife, am I right? She really has a good figure!"

Before Jack could introduce the others to Daniella, she studied Lana and uttered with a smile plastered on her face.

Lana's spirits immediately brightened, and her cheeks turned red. "No, no. I'm not his wife, I'm his disciple! My name is Lana!" She quickly explained.

After the explanation, Lana looked at Jack and asked," Master, and this girl is?"

Only then did Jack smile and introduced Daniella. "This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family, Daniella Cabello!"

"The Cabello family? One of the eight reclusive families?"

After hearing Jack's words, surprise dawned upon Lana's face. How could she have imagined that the Third Young Mistress Cabello knew Jack and followed him back to the White residence?

Moreover, they looked close. It seemed that the relationship between the two was good.

Yes! You're right!"

"I heard that Jack's wife is the queen of beauty. And when I looked at you, I thought you were his wife. I didn't expect that his disciple would be such a beauty too. Hehe. The White family has a lot of pretty women, I presume." Daniella chucked and continued.

Lana could barely conceal her delight after hearing Daniella's sincere praise for her. "I'm nowhere near a beauty. I heard that the Cabello family has three beautiful daughters who are known as the Three Golden Flowers; they're all famous for their beauty. I think only those who live in the secular world would have not known your presence. Many reclusive families are keen to meet any of you!"

On the other hand, Jack smiled at the exchange and approached Fiona, "Ma, how're you guys doing? Everything fine here?"

Fiona laughed in return. "Of course, everything is fine! Although Andrew and I were a little too old to start practicing martial arts, I heard from our inlaws that this place is full of spiritual energy. So, if we live here all year round, we can live to very old age." She chuckled and then continued, "Oh ya, the Taylor family came here as well and everyone loves it, especially your Grandpa Taylor! He planned to retire here and not leave this place at all!"

Jack's heart stopped a few beats after listening to Fiona's words. An unsightly look scrawled up his face. Fiona and Andrew were his own parents-in-law, therefore it was still logical to bring them here. But it was strange to bring Old Master Taylor and the other Taylors here!

"And my father allows it?"

Jack frowned and asked.

Fiona bobbed her head. "Yes. He even asked his men to build a house over there for some of the Taylor family to live in. Your Father said that since there are not many of us, it won't be a big deal. Besides, if some of the young martial artists of the Taylor family want to improve their status, they would help to purify their bodies so that they can train better!"

"Auntie, do you and Uncle want to train too?"

Daniella's voice suddenly interrupted the conversation. After hearing the exchange, Daniella, without blinking her eyes, approached Fiona and popped the question. This was a golden opportunity to please her future parents-in-law! If they liked her and were happy with her, they would probably speak up for her in the future, then it would be more likely for Selena to accept her!

"Of course, we want to train! It'd be good even as elementary martial artists. At least our bodies will grow stronger and won't catch a cold or fall sick easily. After training, the overall being is certainly stronger than ordinary people!"

But, Fiona let out a bitter smile and said, "Unfortunately, Jack said that we have long passed the age of becoming a martial artist. When you're old, you can't train and become a martial artist. It's not only about the martial talent but also about our old body, it can't withstand the process of purification!"

However, to everyone's surprise, Daniella flashed them a smile." Well. There's a way for both of you to train and become martial artists! And I know how!"

Jack could not help but gasp at the information. “That's impossible! What other ways do you have to be able to make them into martial artists?"

"Are you serious? That's amazing! Miss Cabello, do you really have a way? It'd be really great if we could train and become one!"

Andrew felt a ray of sunshine flooded his old soul when he heard Daniella's words. He asked with an excitement plastered over his face.

Daniella nodded again to affirm them, at the same time, rolled her eyes at Jack. "Tsk tsk. Jack, you' ve not experienced everything in this world, have you? There's a forbidden pool in the Cabello family. The water inside that forbidden pool is a real treasure! This treasure allows the old or people with incapability to train to become a martial artist!

This water is called the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water. The person only needs to drink a small sip of this water, and his body will be cleansed and purified! What's more amazing is that there are no side effects and pain at all!"

Excitement streaked through Jack like a comet. "Is that real? The Cabello family has such a treasure! It's really out of my expectation! So, does it mean that if my mother takes a sip of this water, she will be able to train and become a martial artist?"

"Your mother is also a commoner?"

A quiet joy spread through Daniella upon hearing. She was smiling inside. If that was the case, would not that mean that she would be able to please Jack's mother as well? After all, Jack's mother would be her future mother-in-law!

"Yes, my mother is a commoner now. I hope that she can train and become a martial artist or perhaps a grandmaster in the future. Then that will be wonderful!"

A bitter smile crept on Jack's face. “The Bone Marrow Cleansing Water, since it's a treasure of the Cabello Family and it's at the forbidden place, I'm afraid that you can't just take it, right? Besides, this water is too precious, there shouldn't be much of it, right?"

Daniella peeped at Jack and responded with a faint smile, "Don' t worry. Indeed, this water is very precious, even if others want it, I won't hand it over. But since you' ve saved my life, and we're now considered good friends, I'll get it for you. Even if I have to steal it, I' ll get it for you!"

"It's not a good idea for you to steal. Why don't you try asking your father if he's willing to spare you some? If it's not possible, just forget about it, I don't want you to be in a difficult situation!"

Jack gave some thoughts to the matter and uttered with a frown.

However, Fiona-who stood beside him-heard Jack's words and her face immediately turned unsightly. She went forward and shot Jack a deadly glare, "What nonsense are you spewing?"

After reprimanding Jack, she immediately approached Daniella with a wicked smile. "Miss Cabello, there's absolutely nothing wrong about it. This treasure belongs to your family, even if you took some of it when no one is looking, it's alright too. You're the Third Young Mistress Cabello, you're only taking something from your family, it won't be considered as stealing, right? Because that treasure is originally from your family!" Fiona held Daniella's hands in her palms and persuaded her in a sincere tone.

Fiona paused for a moment before she continued, "Also, even after you took it, your father and the others won't know that you're the one who took it, right? If they don' t know about it, surely, they can't do anything about it, and they won 't blame you either."

Jack and Lana exchange glances on the side, not knowing what to say. If a person took something when there was no one, was that not considered stealing? How could Fiona spew some unreasonable logic? Even though the treasure belonged to the Cabello family, it was not an ordinary thing. That water could be considered as one of the most precious and priceless treasures in this world. If that treasure were to be taken to an auction, it could be exchanged with a lot of high-grade spirited stones and materials!

"Yes, Auntie, you're absolutely right!"

Daniella smiled awkwardly, but she still reassured the audience. "Auntie, don't worry about it. I'll go get some for you guys no matter what. It's indeed not much of it, but it's definitely enough for a few people! Just think of this as a payback for Jack saving my life!"

"Hehehe! Yes, you're so right! You' re such a good kid who knows how to show gratitude!"

Chapter 1249

Fiona's joy unfolded like a flower and her mouth curved into a smile. "Right, you and Jack are good friends, so whenever you have time, you should come to the White family to hang out together! Just treat it as your own home, do visit us more often!"

"Ma, what are you talking about? The Cabello family is actually not on a good term with the White family. I don't think such an offer is appropriate right now."

Jack was speechless at Fiona's behavior. He reminded her.

Daniella, on the other hand, rolled her eyes at Jack and pouted unhappily, "Can't I come to visit at any time too?"

Jack was tongue-tied once again. "Except for you, of course!" He smiled awkwardly.

Lana studied the scene before her, she could not help but frown slightly. Why did she feel that Jack was somehow afraid of Daniella? Was it her illusion or something else?

"Jack, you're back!"

At this time, Joan, who was strolling together with Nash, approached the group.

"Yes, Mom. I thought the competition would start soon, so I came back early for that!"

Jack responded, smilingly.

"This...isn't this the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family? Daniella Cabello, right? May I know why you're here in the White' residence?"

Nash quickly recognized Daniella of the Cabello family. His eyes were full of surprise but soon a few lines formed between his brows. After all, the Cabello family was not on good terms with the White family. Why did Jack bring her here?

"Master White!"

Daniella looked at Nash and a hint of surprise flared in her eyes." Strange. I heard that Master White, you've gotten some strange disease and couldn't even get off the bed now, right? But I can see that you look healthy, and your spirit is good!"

Daniella had come out of the Cabello family for more than a month and apparently, she did not receive any news about the things that had happened in the White family, not to mention the incident about the mutiny of the Third Elder and Lily Lagorio. If she was to stay in the Cabello family all this while, she would have known of the news.

However, she was busy accompanying Jack in the selection of geniuses among the White branch families, hence she was not well-informed of the news. Nash smiled, "Hehe, thanks to my son who not only possess powerful combat prowess but also acquires excellent medical skills and knowledge! He studied my condition and made an antidote for me!"

Daniella turned to Jack and then wheeled back to Nash. "Wait, what ...what do you mean? Jack is your son? He..he is the son of Master White?" Daniella took a sharp intake of breath.

"Hahaha! Yes! He is my son, my best son and I'm so proud of him! He is also the heir to the family head of the White family!"

Nash exclaimed with his face full of pride and delight, as though his son was the king of the world.

Chapter 1250

"What's wrong? You didn't know Jack is my son?"

Nash lifted an eyebrow, confused about the current situation. Daniella followed his son back to the White family, but she did not know that Jack was his son? It seemed like this young woman had no evil thoughts.

Perhaps, Jack knew that she was kind-hearted and without wicked thoughts, only then he allowed her to follow him.

"I didn't know! He didn't tell me!"

Daniella rolled her eyes at Jack again. "Eh? Wait a minute! Don't you have only one son, called Lance White?"

"Miss Cabello, I'll explain it to you personally when I'm free later. As for why I didn't tell you that I'm the son of the family head, it's because you didn't ask about me either!"

Jack gave a wan smile and replied.

Daniella chortled, "I thought that you might be the son of some elder or Patronum. I didn't expect that your background is actually that noble!"

"By the way, Miss Cabello, may I know why you have come to visit the White family?"

Nash spoke out the doubts in his mind with a faint smile on his face.

"It just so happens that I encountered some strong b*stard in my journey; they captured me and Young Master Jack rescued me from their hands. Besides, I was curious about where the White family was, so I follow him to take a look!" Daniella chuckled in return.

Once the last word dropped, Daniella flipped her palm and two second-grade elementary spirited grass appeared in her grip. She then handed them to Nash and said, "Master White, this is my first visit to the White family and I didn't prepare any good gift. These are just some small gifts, hope you would like it!"

"Second-grade elementary spirited grass?"

The two elders who were standing beside Nash exclaimed aloud and their eyes lit up at the appearance of the spirited grass. They rubbed their eyes, wondering if they had seen it wrongly. First-grade premium spirited grass was already considered as a relatively high-level treasure and a rare one; it was suitable for artists who were at the semi-god level or perhaps those who were at the early stage of the true god level.

As for this second-grade elementary spirited grass, the chi energy inside was several times more than the first-grade premium spirited grass! Such treasure was absolutely incredible.

The elders gulped at the second-grade spirited grass. Was this Third Young Mistress Cabello a little bit too generous? She could simply give only one stalk of spirited grass, but she gave two!

"This, this is too generous of you! Miss Cabello, such treasure is too precious to take!"

Nash thought that the spirited grass was too precious and expensive to accept. He shook his hands, refusing to take them.

"Oh no. If you don't accept it, it means that you look down on the Cabello family. Or you secretly think that the gift is too petty?"

Daniella pouted and put on an angry expression on her face on purpose.

Nash sweated with awkwardness. This young little woman was a little too domineering, was not she? How could she actually use a provocative method on Nash?

Jack, on the other hand, chucked aside. “Father, just accept it. It represents Daniella's sincerity too!"

"Alright then. I'll take it. Thank you!"

Nash gave a warm smile, and only then did he take the spirited grass.

Jack turned to Joan and said," Mother, by the way, Daniella said that the Cabello family has a treasure that allows people to train and become a martial artist without any side effects after drinking it. And she will find a way to get it for you, and also for parents-in-law!"

"What? Are you serious? But is it okay to take it?"

The words elevated Joan's mood in an instant and she felt dizzy with excitement. She imagined such a treasure must be worth a lot. The White family did not even possess such a treasure, only the Cabello family had it. She truly did not know how to thank Daniella for such a treasure.

Chapter 1251-1255

Chapter 1251

"Hey, it's nothing. Jack saved my life; he is like a brother to me now. We're good buddies! Just take it as a reward for Jack's deed. Don't take it to heart!"

Daniella chuckled while explaining, and put her hand on Jack's shoulder, with a wide grin on her face, as though they were brothers from the battlefield.

"You're referring to Bone Marrow Cleansing Water, right? This water is terrifically exorbitant! Although the people of the Cabello family started training young and don't really need this water, that precious pool of the Cabello family couldn't produce that much water in a year for us, right? Moreover, this kind of water is suitable for any martial practitioner too; whoever takes it will greatly improve their martial level!"

Nash was surprised at Daniella's offer to give them some of the water. With his eyebrows snapped together, he continued, "The Cabello family must have kept such a treasure very securely, and only reward those who have made significant contributions. Besides, the pool could only produce five to six portions per year, right? I'm afraid that your Father wouldn't approve of this idea so easily. Even worse, if he were to find out that you planned to give such treasure to us, he'd definitely say no."

"Heh!"

"If he doesn't agree to it, I'll just have to get it without him knowing. And by the time he finds out, it'd be too late. Anyway, if I don't mention that it's for the White family, how would he know then?" Daniella spewed out the words gently and nonchalantly.

"Miss Cabello, you're being too generous to us! I don't even know how to repay you!"

Joan chimed in; her tone uneasy.

"Hehe, Auntie, Jack and I are good buddies, and you're his mother, that makes you my mother too! So don't mull over it anymore! It's nothing at all!"

Daniella patted her chest and reassured Joan.

Jack, who stood aside, witnessed the whole exchange and felt speechless. What did she mean when she said his mother was her mother? Did she not fear what others might think of this sentence?

"I see, I see. That's good then!"

Joan was taken aback by Daniella' s response as well. She returned Daniella an awkward smile and then went silent.

"Right, Jack, since the Third Young Mistress Cabello is here, please take her around when you're free! She's your responsibility now!"

Nash then smiled faintly at Jack and ordered.

"Don't worry, Father. I'll arrange a place for her to rest!"

Jack gave a bitter smile in return.

"Hey, there should still be empty rooms in your residence, right? You don't have to arrange a separate residence for me, just vacate a room for me in your residence. It'd be more convenient for me to find you this way, right?"

Daniella smiled sheepishly and proposed to Jack.

"Oh, okay, alright!"

Jack was rendered speechless but he could only agree with an awkward smile.

Only then a contented smile appeared on Daniella's pretty feature. She then turned to Nash and said, "Master White, the competition is about to start, and I guess you guys will leave in another five to six days, right? I think the Cabello family will definitely participate as well, so I think I'll stay here for a few days and depart with you guys then. You wouldn't mind that, right?"

"Mmm, don't worry. I don't mind it at all!"

Daniella Cabello was the apple of her father's eye, and since she has developed a good relationship with Jack, it would be a good opportunity to ease the tension between the two families.

After all, the current White family had experienced a great loss in their power after the Third Elder and Lily incident. The White family could not afford to have another huge clash with another great powerful family right now.

Chapter 1252

"Hehe, thank you so much! I'll go check out the place first!"

Daniella chortled happily as though she was a kid who got praises from her parents.

“Go ahead then. Jack, take Miss Cabello back to rest first, you guys must be tired from all the rushing to get back here!"

Nash nodded in satisfaction and instructed his son.

After the silhouette of the two disappeared from the group's sight, Joan laughed and commented, "Miss Cabello seems to be a generous and benevolent person. She had already given us these spirited grass as a reward for Jack's rescue. But she went the extra mile and promised to get us the Cabello's treasure! This lady is truly a warm-hearted person!"

Nonetheless, Nash thought otherwise. "Why do I feel like there 's something more than friendship between Jack and Miss Cabello? It's not as simple as good buddies. After all, the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water is not an ordinary treasure, and she is actually willing to steal it for us, moreover, three portions! Such an act has obviously gone beyond any kind of friendship, don't you think?" he explained with a bitter smile on his face.

Joan rolled her eyes at Nash. "You must be overthinking. Miss Cabello is a few years younger than Jack. Moreover, Jack is already married and has Kylie! Miss Cabello certainly does not like Jack in a romantic way!" She huffed.

Joan paused for a moment before continuing, "After all, Jack saved her life from the brigands, and that act itself is more valuable than the precious water! If she wanted to repay Jack in such a way, it's reasonable!"

"Maybe I am overthinking!"

Nash said with the corners of his mouth curled up.

Fiona, who was standing aside, had her eyes lit up brightly." Master White, I heard that the Cabello family is much more powerful than the White family. They are ranked in the top three of the eight reclusive families, right? So, if Jack could really get together with Miss Cabello, that'd be a great thing, isn't it? And that will be a so-called strong union, am I right?"

"Well, it's true that it'd be a great thing." Nash smiled awkwardly at Fiona's response. "But it's highly unlikely for it to happen because we are not on good terms with the Cabello family. It's considered a blessing for Jack to have a good relationship with Miss Cabello and ease the tension between the two families. But if you want Miss Cabello to marry Jack, it's almost impossible. The Cabello family will not agree to it!"

Nash halted for a few seconds before continuing, "What's more, Miss Cabello is young and there are plenty of powerful, wealthy, and talented young masters falling head over heels for her. Miss Cabello wouldn't choose a married man-Jack and be his second wife!"

There was one elder in the crowd who stepped up at this time and reminded everyone, "We shouldn't discuss this matter openly. We are merely relying on our own imagination and discussing excitedly, but what if Miss Cabello overheard us? She might not feel happy as she only sees Jack as a friend. If we talk about things like that without a basis and make her unhappy, that'd cause a problem!"

At this time, Jack and Daniella were pacing toward Jack's residence. Along the way, he recounted the incident about the Third Elder, Lance, and Lily to fill Daniella in.

Daniella sighed loudly after listening to the story. "So you're the illegitimate son of Master White. But you manage to reach the true god realm by yourself in the secular world! That's amazing! Although Lance and I, our talents are not on the top of the list among the younger generation, we 're considered as talented geniuses too! I didn't expect that my talent is nothing in front of you. Hehe!"

Jack chortled embarrassingly." Nah, that's not true. Your talent is excellent as well! After all, you're a few years younger than me!"

The two of them were so engaged in their conversation that they did not realize that they had arrived at Jack's residence.

Inside the residence, Elaine, Selena, Ben, and some others are chatting happily in the courtyard.

"Dear, you're back! I didn't expect you to be back so soon! I thought you might need a few more days!"

Selena shot up from the chair when she saw Jack and Daniella push the gate open and walked in. Selena's mood lightened and a broad wide smile hung on her face.

"Master!"

Chapter 1253

Ethan and Sam were flabbergasted with joy as well when they saw that their Master had returned. The corners of their mouth curled upward, showing their pearly white and even teeth.

"Brother-in-law, why did you bring a beautiful woman back with you? Tsk tsk, she is really good-looking! Don't tell me, you went out for a trip and came back with a little wife?"

Elaine noticed the presence of Daniella beside Jack and teased the two jokingly.

Nevertheless, Jack's face immediately sank to the bottom. "What nonsense are you spewing about? This is the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family! It just so happened that I rescued her from a group of brigands during my journey. So, she decided to follow me to visit the White family and depart with us in a few days for the tournament. The Cabello family will attend the tournament too!"

"Hehe! Look at you, why are you all nervous? I'm just kidding. She' s truly good-looking and attractive!" Elaine chuckled at Jack's big response and said.

"This beautiful Miss is your wife?"

Daniella took two steps forward and studied Selena from head to toe, carefully She could feel that Selena, other than being good-looking and beautiful, was more mature than she was. Selena emitted a feminine sensation that she did not possess.

However, it was really hard to tell who was prettier and more good-looking between Selena and Daniella. Each of them had their own attractive points!

"Yes, and her name is Selena!"

Jack smiled on the surface, but in fact, he was sweating in worries inside his heart. He was afraid that Selena might have noticed something.

Jack was actually in a complete state of panic, as though he was sitting on pins and needles. He was kicking himself inside at the thought of that particular night. If he had not drunk the monkey wine, he would not get drunk; and he would not have done such a thing with Daniella!

He had violated a girl and took away her first time. If he pretended as if nothing happened and chose not to be responsible, that would be a d*ck move and he would be restless for the rest of his life, thinking that he had violated a young girl.

"Hello Sis Selena, my name is Daniella Cabello and I'm the Third Young Mistress of the Cabello family! You can call me Daniella!"

Daniella approached Selena and extended her hand graciously to shake Selena's hand.

Selena returned her with a faint smile and then extended her hand to hold Daniella's. "Nice to meet you, Daniella. My husband is a kind-hearted man. If he encounters an unjust incident, he will step up and intervene! It's fate that we can get to know each other. From now on, we're good friends!"

"Mm!"

Daniella bobbed her head happily.

After that, Jack introduced others to Daniella, and then he arranged a room for her to rest.

"Master, we haven't seen each other for so long, shouldn't we get together and have a few drinks?"

Yoseph walked over and said to Jack, smilingly.

"Hehe, that's a great idea! It just so happens that Kylie wants to visit the town at the bottom of the mountain, and Miss Cabello has never been there either. How about this, let's go to the town together tonight to eat and drink? We can also stroll around the night market there!"

Jack chortled brightly and agreed.

Chapter 1254

Soon, the evening came. Jack took everyone to the town for a hearty meal and good night's stroll.

The town was prosperous and well -developed; they even had a school in the town. Jack planned to let Kylie train in the White residence, and she could attend the school in the town to learn too. The plan sounded perfect.

The teachers in the school taught accordingly to a fixed syllabus and were keen to pass down the knowledge of the outside world to the kids.

For example, the students were taught to recognize first or second -grade spirited grass, and basic knowledge of martial training, as well as characteristics of some demonic creatures in the wild.

After all, the kids who attended the school were generally from martial families, and when they are older, they would eventually train and practice as martial artists.

The group returned to the White residence in the late evening. Jack was exhausted from being busy the entire day that he laid down and fell asleep in no time.

The next morning, Jack woke up and asked Selena, "Dear, how's your martial training lately? I've been away for quite some time, and you only had to pick up Kylie from school, so it shouldn't take much time."

A cute smile formed on Selena's face, "Well, I didn't really have much time to train this time. After all, I had to accompany Mother and Father for walks to get familiar with the place. And I also had to spend time with Kylie, so I didn't have much time to train and there's no obvious improvement in my martial status. But, I would say my progress is not that bad at all. The morning before yesterday, I barely broke through to reach the firstgrade of grandmaster level!"

Jack was suffused with happiness that his eyes lit up upon hearing Selena's progress in martial training. "Wow, that's amazing! You're already at the grandmaster level! You have such talent, and such skills are considered excellent!"

"Thanks to you, Dear! I wouldn't have achieved this if it weren't for the Chi Congregation pill and spirited grass that you gave me. With the help of those miraculous resources, I can train and improve a lot faster!" A cute, bashful smile crawled onto Selena's face as she spoke.

Jack bobbed his head to show agreement. "I'll be leaving in a few days. Although I can't really train on the road, I'll make time at night to train. I can confidently say that I have already stabilized myself at the early stage of the true god realm. So, during the trip, I'll see if I could use some of the pills and spirited material to try to break through to the middle stage of the true god realm!"

"Middle stage of the true god realm?"

An envious look plastered on Selena's pretty feature when she heard Jack. "I'm so envious of you, for being able to break through to the middle stage of the true god realm. Your talent and combat prowess are extraordinary, if you really reach the middle stage of the true god realm, you can even fight against those who are at the late stage of the true god realm, right?"

Jack, however, felt a little guilty. He wrapped his arms around Selena's waist and said, "Sigh! It's just that I'll be busy training these days, so I'm afraid that I won't have time to accompany you and Kylie." Jack sighed. “Also, you have to inform this to your parents as well." He added.

Selena shot Jack an attentive look. "Don't worry about it. I told them a few days ago. My parents are understanding, they know that martial practitioners often require ample amounts of time to train and practice. And they're okay with it. It won't affect us!"

Jack stared at the beauty in his embrace. He could not help but plant a tender kiss on Selena's rosy, pink lips. "Dear, I have to follow them to attend the martial tournament in a few days. Please stay back with Kylie and enroll her into the school in town, meanwhile, please continue to train hard too. Thank you, dear!"

It was rare to experience a gentle Jack. Selena's cheeks immediately blushed and she felt a surge of sweetness and happiness. “You're welcome! We' re a family. You don't have to say' please' at all."

"Oh, I just thought that I didn't get to spend much time with you lately. So I felt a little guilty!"

Jack laughed off as he explained.

Chapter 1255

"It's nothing. Martial practitioners always had to train in isolation for months. It can't be helped, right?"

Selena smiled in return. "Alright, train well, dear. I'll stop bothering you now. Hehe!"

Selena soon left the adobe. Jack then flipped his palm and took out three pills-all three pills were first-grade intermediate training pills!

Jack smiled as he looked at the three pills in front of him. These three pills could help him break through to the middle stage of the true god realm. After all, he was not too far away from the middle stage now.

Jack then put one of the pills into his mouth and swallowed them. Thick and inexhaustible energy then dispersed from Jack's abdomen in an instant. The energy was immense, at the same time aggressive.

A gentle smile formed on Jack's face when he felt the energy within him. He closed his eyes and started to control the energy in his body, channeling chi energy and gathering it in his abdomen. The chi energy formed a whirl in his abdomen, as though there was a tiny tornado in his body. The small whirl had slowly become bigger and bigger; Jack's overall strength and power had increased as well.

The time passed by slowly, and soon the spirited energy inside the pills was fully absorbed by Jack, and the chi energy inside Jack obviously become stronger and more powerful than before!

He smiled faintly and threw the second pill into his mouth and swallowed. He repeated the training technique, absorbing the chi energy inside the pill.

It took almost two days for Jack to train and absorb all the energy from the three pills. Fortunately, his martial level had also broken through to the middle stage of the true god realm.

Jack steadily stood up, clenched his fists and his bone joints emitted a clear clicking sound. The robustness and strength of his body had obviously advanced a lot, and the inner power in his body was doubled or even tripled after the training; the mellowness of his chi energy had become richer and thicker two or three times than before.

"Hahaha! It feels really different to be in the middle stage of the true god realm. The feeling is too good, and my combat power is a lot greater than before!"

Jack smiled with satisfaction, and then he walked out of the room.

Selena-who was playing with Kylie outside the house-was surprised at the appearance of Jack at this time. "No way! How did you complete your training this quick? Have you succeeded yet? I've heard that it's not that easy to reach the middle stage of the true god realm! And for some people who failed to break through, they'd have to rest for a while before they can continue to try again! And if you're unfortunate, you might even be physically wounded!"

A ray of warm light surged in Jack 's heart when he saw Selena's concerned look. "Don't worry, dear. I've broken through to the middle stage of the true god realm!" He smiled and comforted.

"Wow! Wow! Daddy is definitely more powerful than before now!"

Kylie jumped for joy that her feet barely touched the ground.

"Hehe, my little Kylie, when you get a little bit older, you can start training, and in the future, you've to strive to be more powerful than daddy, okay?"

Jack picked up his daughter from the ground and gently pinched the little girl's cute nose. His eyes were full of warm fatherly love.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1256-1260

Chapter 1256

"Middle stage of the true god realm?"

Daniella, who had just walked out of her room, overheard the conversation between the couple. She was shocked at what she heard and then exclaimed with joy, "You're truly talented! Your speed in training and absorbing the energy from the pills were too fast! Others might need at least a week or longer to break through to the middle stage of the true god realm! But you actually used only two days and succeeded!"

At this moment, the admiration toward Jack grew deeper and deeper within Daniella. She was even fantasizing that if she had the chance to introduce Jack as her boyfriend to her father, what would her father think?

"Oh, I'm just slightly luckier!"

Jack laughed it out and said modestly.

"That's awesome! That's truly awesome! With your current martial level and combat prowess, you might be able to win first place in the upcoming martial tournament! You can finally bring glory to the White family!"

Daniella looked at Jack, her eyes full of unexplainable beams. Even if you can't get the first place, surely you'll be placed in the top three!"

"Top three?"

Jack was slightly stunned at her words. "It seems like the White family didn't have good raking in this tournament in the past!"

After all, before he returned to the White family, Lance White-who was at the peak of the semi-god realm-was considered the first seed in the White family.

And now, since Jack had already hit the middle stage of the true god realm, he thought that taking the first place would not be a problem.

He did not expect that Daniella saw him as the top three but not the champion.

Daniella smiled and she explained, "The White family had always bottomed the list in the past tournaments. Although the White family was not the worst in the tournament, your family has just become one of the eight reclusive families not long ago, so the White family is definitely the last in the eight reclusive families!"

Jack bobbed his head. Indeed, the White family had only become one of the first-class eight reclusive families recently. Although the White family was more powerful and stronger than those second-class and thirdclass families, the gap between the White and the other seven reclusive families was still wide.

Daniella approached Jack and patted his shoulder gently. "You' re not bad at all. Think about it, the Cabello family and the other reclusive families, we've been first -class families for decades and some of them even have hundreds of years of heritage. And your family has just risen lately, it's not possible to compare with us." She comforted him.

Daniella was afraid that her words might have hurt Jack's confidence, hence she smiled and said, “But your martial level and combat prowess is considered high and strong. You'll certainly impress many first-class reclusive families this time around!"

"Oh, I'm not trying to impress, but I'll try my very best!"

"Oh ya, Jack, Father asked me to tell you that there are three days left before we leave, so you should prepare yourself."

Selena quickly thought of something and interrupted the conversation.

"Alright, I'll rest for these few days and try to maintain and stabilize my martial level, so that I can get used to the power!"

Jack nodded.

During the conversation, Selena noticed the bright and shining beam in Daniella's eyes when she was looking at Jack. She did not show the same when she was engaging with the others, only with Jack. And the beam emitted something attentive-it was full of love and affection.

Selena's brows snapped together as she thought of it. "Daniella, I won't be going this time. Please help to take care of Jack, will you? I entrust him to your care!" Selena said to Daniella after thinking for a moment.

Chapter 1257

Daniella did not expect such words would come out of Selena's mouth out of sudden. She stood frozen for a moment before peeking at Jack. "Don't worry. Jack and I are good friends, we'll definitely take care of each other! I 'll also ask my sister to go a little easy on Jack during the tournament!" Daniella nodded.

"Is your sister very powerful?"

Jack frowned upon hearing it. According to Daniella's words and tone, it seemed that her sister was a strong martial practitioner; her martial level should be high.

"For this tournament, as long as you're from the martial families and you're below the age of thirty, you're eligible to participate. I'm still young, so it's normal for me to have a low martial level."

Daniella smiled softly before saying, "But, my second sister, she' s at the early stage of the true god realm, and my elder sister, she is at the middle stage of the true god realm. Although she is similar to you, at the middle stage, she is only one step away from the late stage of the true god realm. She might break through to the late stage at any time. And her combat prowess and martial ability are among the top of those in the middle stage of the true god realm!"

Daniella shrugged as she spoke. "Hmmm. I'll say more about my second sister, but my elder sister, she is too strong for you. It's nearly impossible for you to defeat her." She added.

"I see. Thanks for the reminder. But I don't think your sisters will listen to you and go easy on me."

Jack gave a dry smile. Although the Lagorio family had not been finding fault with them lately, the affair that happened between the Lagorio family and the White family had seemed to spread out.

Therefore, this time round in the tournament, he felt that the Lagorio family and some of the forces would most likely target them. He was not confident to say that there would not be any issue during the tournament.

Especially, those forces and families-who were about the same level with the White family before the White became one of the eight families-would certainly be jealous of the White family. They could not wait to pull the White family down from the first-class reclusive families!

"Huh? Nah. My elder sister and second sister love me the most. If I talk to them personally, it shouldn't be a problem!"

Daniella pursed her rosy pink lips and said, "Sigh! I have to work hard too and strive to break through to the early stage of the true god realm. I can't always use my young age as an excuse to be lazy!" She sighed.

"Cough, cough! Looking at you, I guess you have been loafing on the job."

Jack teased Daniella after hearing what she said. The young girl before him sometimes emitted a youthful and cuteness in her words and behaviors that made Jack feel something different in him.

"Hehe! Yup, but just a little! Well. Sometimes, training is kind of boring!"

Daniella giggled.

Time flies by quickly and soon three days had passed.

During these three days, Daniella would come over to talk to Jack and Selena whenever she was free and would even purposely please Selena by telling her some insights about martial training and technique.

Finally, after three days, the day had come. Together with Nash and Jack, there were many Elders of the White family, as well as some other White family members. They set off in the morning.

"Sigh! If the Third Elder hadn't thought about mutiny and had broken through to the peak of the true god realm, we would now have two strong people at the peak of the true god realm. And we can finally hold our heads up high in this tournament. Now, after the incident, not only did we not improve our family's overall strength and power, but we also regressed a lot!"

On the way to the tournament, the First Elder breathed a huge sigh and added, "And I'm afraid that this time the target will be on our backs. Many forces and families will target us."

Nash, however, put on a sanguine face. "It's alright, it's fine. I have faith in our family. We will be strong very soon!"

Chapter 1258

On the other side, the head of the Cabello family and others were worried about something. They paced around the hall and their faces looked concerned.

Daniella had been out for more than a month. When she left a letter announcing that she went out to search for treasures and resources in the forest, the group did not expect that she would not return for so long.

The Cabello family had sent out a lot of their men to search in the forest that they normally frequent for the treasure hunt, nonetheless, not a single trace of Daniella had been found. This made the Cabello family feel agonized and worried.

"Dad, don't worry about Daniella, she'll be alright. Let's go!"

At the square of the Cabello family, the First Young Mistress Cabello gazed at Alejandro Cabello--the head of the Cabello family--and said, smilingly," Daniellita is a smart and quick-witted girl. She will not be in trouble; she'll be alright. Besides, who has that brave heart to offend the current Cabello family? Aren 't they afraid of our revenge? So, I think Daniellita is just being playful and not wanting to come back so soon. She must be hanging and fooling around somewhere!”

"I do hope so. Sigh! That young lady is prideful and arrogant sometimes. What worries me is that she had never gone out of Cabello island before. Now that she is on her own, I'm worried that she is too simple-minded, and that others would dig a pit for her! That'd be really troublesome!"

Alejandro sighed aloud in his heart. The more time passed, the more concerned was his heart.

After all, his three daughters were good looking and considered as beauties of the island. Even though one of them, the elder daughter-was already twentynine years old, a lot of young masters still fell head over heels for her! Not to mention his youngest daughter, a playful, high-spirited yet gorgeous young lady, who would make any young men fall for her effortlessly. Her every gesturesmile, laugh, walk-was like a drug, injected into young men's veins and making them addicted to her.

Therefore, if such a beauty left the home and went on an adventure for more than a month, the father obviously would be worried.

The First Young Mistress Cabello's pallor went unsightly after hearing her father's words. She was worried but she could only force a smile and comfort his father, "She'll be okay. She's definitely alright. I have faith in her!"

"Sigh! Let's depart now. We can only try to be optimistic!"

Alejandro knew that his daughter was saying that to comfort herself too. He smiled and waved his hand. A flying carpet suddenly appeared in front of everyone.

The flying carpet rose in the wind, and soon it grew to a size that could accommodate nearly a thousand people.

"Let's go!"

Four to five hundred men hopped onto the flying carpet and sat on it. With a flicker of movement in Alejandro's mind, the flying carpet flew out and went straight in the direction of the mainland.

"Sigh! The White family doesn't have any flying treasure. Every time we have such an event, we have to go by land!”

Jack and the others were on their way to the tournament at this time. The First Elder -- who was at the front-sighed at the situation.

"Such treasure is rare. The higher-level treasures are known as spiritual tools. As for a treasure that can fly, heh, it's even rarer!"

Nash smiled bitterly and explained.

"Spiritual tool?"

Jack heard the words and a few lines form between his snapped brows. “I don' t have much knowledge about spiritual tools, and I've never heard that there are different levels among spiritual tools!"

Chapter 1259

Guilt filled Nash's heart when he heard that. Jack had been training in the mortal realm for all this while, and it seemed like he did not have much knowledge about treasures.

He gave a small smile and explained to Jack in a patient tone, “There are two types of tools: normal tools, and spiritual tools. And the latter has several grades as well according to how much strength it gives you in battle and its fluctuations after absorbing chi: lower-grade, middlegrade, and upper-grade. And the most powerful of them all, ultimate-grade tools!”

Here, Nash paused for a while before continuing, “But most martial artists still stick to regular soldier weapons. It's pretty good if you have a lower-grade tool, and only a few people possess middle-grade tools-never mind upper and ultimate-grade tools!”

Jack thought about it for a while and flipped his palm, taking out an object that resembled a tortoiseshell. He thrust it toward Nash. "Dad, take a look at this. I think this is a spiritual tool. But I don't know what grade it is. This is a defensive weapon that grows bigger to fend off attacks!”

Nash's eyes brightened when he heard this. "Defensive tools are really rare too. It might save your life at a critical moment. I never thought that you'd get your hands on one!"

After he said that, Nash passed the treasure back to Jack and said, "Try channeling your chi into it!"

The treasure had already recognized Jack as its owner and had traces of his energy in it. Nash definitely had no way of making it move, and if others wanted to make that treasure theirs, they needed to completely wipe off every trace of Jack's chi from it.

As Jack injected his chi into it, the tortoiseshell shield slowly grew bigger, till it reached the height of a man. A warm yellow glow emanated from its surface.

"From-from its fluctuations, it should be a middle-grade tool. Not bad. Not bad at all. We only have a few of such weapons in the White family!"

Nash studied it for a while before a smile lit up his face. He was glad that Jack managed to get his hands on such a treasure.

"Oh, right. I have another word here. It's probably a spiritual tool!"

Jack kept the shield and smiled as he took out the black sword. He then poured some of his energy into it.

Suddenly, a black flash emitted from the dragon-shaped sword. A fierce, yet quiet ripple spread throughout the area.

Jack gave a smile. "This sword is a spiritual tool as well. But probably a lower or middle-grade, right?"

"Let me take a look!"

Nash took a step forward and observed it. Then excitement spread across his features. "There's a small hole on this sword. Here. Do you see it? So you can't just pour your energy in like that. You have to make it enter through this hole to make it release its full potential!"

Jack took a sharp intake of breath after he heard that. "So you're saying that I haven't been using this sword properly all this while? I've only been tapping into a fraction of its power?"

Nash bobbed his head. "But even so, I can already tell that it's a spiritual tool. You'll have to pour your chi through the hole for me to determine its grade!"

Jack nodded his head. He followed Nash's instructions and focus his energy into his palm, before threading it through that tiny hole.

Hum!

The sword, originally rather full, suddenly brightened and emitted a frightening hum. The fluctuations were even stronger this time around.

Chapter 1260

Jack never expected the sword to grow bigger as well. A different aura also seeped into his head.

After he received the message, he was extremely excited. His features showed extreme delight.

“This-this should be an ultimate-grade tool!”

The First Elder was so excited that his voice quivered. Only the very strongest of the reclusive families had such a treasure, and even then, they only possessed one of it.

It was evident that this was extremely precious. No one thought that Jack's sword was an ultimate-grade tool.

“That's right. I never thought that it would be an ultimate-grade tool. I never noticed anything extraordinary about it either when Jack had taken it out!"

Nash was excited as well. He never expected Jack's sword to be such a valuable treasure.

"Dada! I think-I think I received a message from the sword just now!”

Jack was excited. He waved his hand, and the sword flew upward, rapidly expanding in the sky until it looked like two or three thousand people could stand on it.

With an internal shove, Jack's sword shrunk again, till it could take about a thousand people.

“This-this is a tool that can fly? My god. You can use it to fight and fly. Such a treasure is so hard to come by!”

Many elders immediately understood what Jack had meant when they saw him remotely controlling it.

"This is great. If that's the case, we can sit on this sword to head for the competition!"

Daniella also jumped excitedly after witnessing all that. Even her father's flying carpet was not that high of a grade. It could only fly, and you could not use it to fight. It was her first time seeing such a treasure as well.

"Let's go!”

With a blink, Jack stood atop the sword and announced to everyone.

"Hah! All right!"

Nash laughed and flew up as well, landing softly on the surface of the sword.

"Let's go!"

Everyone also happily hopped on.

"I really never thought that such a sword would exist. Hah. Never imagined that I would be sitting on this!"

The First Elder laughed and sat cross legged. The sword flew out under Jack's control.

"Not only is this a flying sword, but it's also an ultimate-grade tool!”

Admiration spread across the Second Elder's face. "You're at the beginning stage of the true god realm now, but with this sword, you can head toe-to-toe with those from the intermediate stage. And you even might stand a chance of defeating them!”

Everyone nodded their heads when they heard that.

"It's a pity that Jack's level is not quite there yet," Nash chimed in. "If he were to be at the intermediate stage of the true god realm, we'd have another fighter at the advanced stage with the enhanced power this sword gives!"

"You're amazing, Young Master Jack," Lancelot said, smiling.

"You've surpassed us so quickly!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1261-1265

Chapter 1261

No one expected Daniella to speak up at this moment, a knowing smile on her face, "I see that you didn't know Jack is already at the intermediate stage of the true god realm. He underwent the breakthrough a few days ago. With this sword, he might have the fighting prowess of a fighter at the advanced stage!"

"What? He-he already broke through?"

Nash was stunned. He swiveled his head toward Jack in excitement. "Jack, is that true? You-you're already at the intermediate stage of the true god realm?"

"My God. He broke through so fast? You're a true genius, Young Master Jack! Young Master Lance cannot match up to you!"

Many elders could not help but exclaim. They were suspecting if they were dreaming.

After all, the shock of finding out that Jack had an ultimate-grade weapon had not completely subsided yet, and now they were saying that he had broken into the intermediate stage of the true god realm.

It was not easy to advance through the stages of the true god status. It required great ability from the practitioner.

More importantly, some would not succeed in breaking through even after trying a few times, and they' d have to rest for quite some time before attempting to break through once more.

That was why everyone knew how difficult it was to advance through the stages.

Jack nodded his head when he saw everyone's excitement. "I did breakthrough. I've also been growing accustomed to my chi over these past few days!"

"Heh. Like father, like son! How could we not envy a genius like you, Jack?"

Titus nodded his head in satisfaction, evidently excited as well.

At this moment, a flying sword appeared from another direction, heading toward where they were going.

"It's the Norman family!"

The First Elder frowned when he recognized them, their swords drawing closer to each other.

"The Norman family?"

Daniella frowned as well when she heard this. She was well aware that the Norman family was on par in terms of strength with the Cabello family.

However, the Norman family had pretty good relations with the Cabello family, and since the Cabello family was on bad terms with the White family, the Norman family was not close with the White family either.

Furthermore, plenty of young masters from the Norman family were interested in Daniella. That was why they frequently fought the White family members-all to gain recognition from her and her two sisters.

She never thought that they would run into this bunch not long after leaving for the competition.

"Eh!"

The people on the other flying sword also quickly recognized Jack and the others.

"Look. There's a flying sword there! It must be another powerful family!"

A young woman spoke to the person beside her, smiling.

"It looks like the White family."

The elder standing at the forefront furrowed his brows together after observing them for a while. "Strange. Since when did the White family have a flying sword like that? I thought they'd be walking there."

After they heard this, many people burst into laughter.

Although the White family was one of the eight reclusive families, their strength was nothing compared to the other seven. That was why they looked down upon them.

Chapter 1262

"Don't laugh. They probably picked up a lower-grade tool that so happened to fly toward somewhere, so they're using it!"

The First Elder of the Norman family spoke in a sardonic tone.

After all, Jack's sword looked dull and ordinary then, and only a tinge of black encased it. It flew at a leisurely pace, not too fast and not too slow.

That was why there was no way to tell the grade of the treasure.

The only thing they could be sure of was that a flying treasure was no doubt a spiritual tool. Some of the low-grade spiritual tools could also fly, but they could not go very fast.

"They picked it up?"

Their Second Elder was taken aback for a while. "Hah. Even a flying treasure is not worth picking up if it' s a low grade one," he commented, smiling. "They must have spent quite a fortune to buy that secondhand item."

A young master from the Norman family rolled his eyes.

"Second Elder, how could you say that?" he said solemnly. "They're one of the eight reclusive families as well and are a first-class family. How could you just say that they bought a second-hand item?"

"Heh. That's true. I forgot about that!"

The Second Elder cleared his throne, making everyone laugh again.

The young man also grinned. It was evident that they were in cahoots with each other.

However, his smile quickly hardened, and his muscles stiffened.

"That-that woman. Why is Daniella Cabello there?"

The young man squinted at the flying sword, brows knitted. The more he studied the woman, the more she looked like Daniella.

However, he thought maybe he was wrong. The Cabello family and the White family were not on friendly terms. As the third daughter of the Cabello family, why would Daniella be mingling about with the White family? She was even on the same flying sword as them.

Many people also went goggle-eyed when they noticed this.

"You're right, it's her!”

A young woman exclaimed after she saw them.

"We'll know who it is once we get closer. No way that it's Daniella!"

Master Norman thought about it for a while before directing the sword toward Jack and the others, closing the distance between them.

"Why are the Norman family members coming our way? Are they trying to greet us?"

Chapter 1263

The First Elder could not help but frown when he saw them coming over. Worry clenched his chest.

"Who cares. We have nothing to be afraid of. Besides, we can't hide from them forever. We'll run into them at the competition venue anyway."

Nash gave a frosty smile and spoke languidly.

"It...it really is Third Young Mistress Cabello!"

After they closed some of the distance, an elder exclaimed and scrubbed his eyes.

"Daniella, why are you on the White family's flying sword?"

Master Norman's eldest son, Keith, was slightly taken aback. "Miss Daniella, were you kidnapped by the White family?' he asked. "If you were, blink. The Norman family will save you!"

The second son of Master Norman also stepped forward. "This beautiful young woman is the Third Young Mistress Cabello, White family members," he hollered. "I'll make sure to give you h*ll if you dare to touch a single hair on her head!”

A fatty, who was the third son, also spoke up in a blustering manner," Upon my pride as a Norman son, I swear we won't be able to face the Cabello family if anyone bullies her!"

Daniella was internally speechless." I wasn't forced into this," she replied. "I just wanted to go for the competition, and I so happened to bump into them. Since we were heading for the same place, I just hitched a ride from them!"

Daniella was well aware that the three young masters all displayed affection toward her-as well as her two older sisters. It was evident that they were out to gain attention from any of the three girls.

Keith immediately heaved a sigh of relief. "Really? I thought you were kidnapped. After all, the Cabello family isn't on good terms with the White family!"

Here, he felt that something was off. "Third Young Mistress Cabello, don't tell me that you've been forced to lie because they've blackmailed you or because you're afraid of them?”

The second son was also stunned. "That's right. Your families are not close with each other, Third Young Mistress Cabello. You have no obligation to sit on their flying sword even if they're going in the same direction. Come over and sit with us. It's more comfortable here. More importantly, we're faster. We'll arrive at Kobe Mountain in no time.

"I appreciate your concern, but there 's no need for that. I'll just sit on their flying sword!"

Daniella felt awkward. It would be taxing to sit on the same sword with those three fellows, who were likely to be sucking up to her all the way. She would rather be dead than listen to their groveling.

Master Norman suddenly felt embarrassed. All three of his sons tried to coax Daniella, but she unexpectedly did not reciprocate. She would rather sit with the White family than them.

Master Darryl Norman suddenly spoke with a frosty expression, "Ah, surely I've heard that wrong, Third Young Mistress. The relation between your family and theirs is sour, yet you'd rather go together with the White family instead of the Norman family. You're taking a jab at my reputation. Besides, aren't you afraid that I'll tell your father about this? He'll be angry."

Daniella did not expect that Darryl would get mad over something so trivial. She hated it when others threatened her.

"Master Norman, it just so happened that we're going the same way," she said, pitching her tone low. "It's such a small matter. And you're saying that I look down on the Norman family because of this? They're one of the right reclusive families too. It's not out of the ordinary for me to follow you or follow them. What do you mean that I'm jabbing at your reputation?"

Here, she spoke straightforwardly," If you're really so petty that you would tell my father about this, please, go right ahead."

Chapter 1264

It appears that what Daniella uttered was extremely straight to the point and Master Norman was unable to refute it.

If he still continued to hold onto that matter and report to the Cabellos about how she was with the White, would he not appear as being petty? However, if he let it go at that moment, the Norman family would be extremely embarrassed. After all, they got into such a situation when they kindly asked Daniella if she was kidnapped and even invited her to travel with them instead.

He proactively changed the topic of their conversation after thinking about it. He glanced at Nash and smiled coldly. “Master White, I heard that something happened in the White family around one month ago? Tsk tsk... If such an interesting plot was written into a book, the book would surely be a hit!”

The corners of Nash's mouth slightly twitched. He knew that some people would bring up that matter and talk about it.

However, he did not expect it to be mentioned during their journey to Kobe Mountain.

He glanced at Darryl and smiled bitterly. "Haha... I had no idea that the Norman family was so well-informed and actually paid attention to the situation at the White family!”

Nash paused before continuing to speak, “Something did happen previously but it's our family's internal affairs and we ve already resolved it!"

Nash obviously did not intend to continue the conversation with him.

Unfortunately, Darryl who was humiliated a moment ago, did not plan to let Nash go so easily.

He had a playful smile on his face as he said, "Have you really resolved it? Aren't you slightly too confident about it? In my opinion, this is not something that you can resolve so easily. Your wife was actually involved in an affair with the Third Elder. Sigh, who knew that Lily Lagorio is that sort of a person. I heard that she even poisoned you. Tsk, tsk... What a scary woman."

The First Elder of the Norman family also stood forward. "That s right. This did not only cost the Lagorios their honor, even the White have lost their faces. Apart from that, Master White, you had been really careless for letting them poison you."

Nash's facial expression darkened. Something like this was a disgrace to the White family. Who knew that these people would mention it on purpose without sparing him some dignity.

He could only smile bitterly." Everything is in the past. We've killed those who deserved to be killed and punished those who deserved to be punished. Our White family will definitely have better development in the future!”

Darryl's son, Keith, then said with a smile, “Will you be able to have better development? I don't think so. Haha... You've worked so hard to become a first -class aristocratic family. You must have suffered quite a loss now that the Third Elder, several other elders, and patronums have died. Haha... some of the families that once stood by your side might not even acknowledge your positions this time.”

Nash smiled bitterly. "Eldest young master, you are right to say that we've suffered quite a huge loss. However, we've progressed nicely over the past two to three years. The position of Third Elder and the other elders have been taken over by the other branch family masters. We are also working hard to grow stronger. We'll need to observe our growth in the future!"

Although Nash was secretly unhappy, he knew clearly that it was best to not offend these seven families. Hence, he would try his best to give in under such circumstances and not get into a fight with the other party.

Hence, he remained a calm expression even though the other party had said such things about his family. He even maintained a smile on his face as he conversed nicely with them.

"Haha... I'm afraid that it would be hard for you people to get the recognition from others this time. As one of the eight reclusive families, you can't get low positions in this competition. It would be shameful if you did not enter the top ten and end up with a low placing in this competition!" Darryl Norman once again laughed loudly and said.

“Don't you worry, Master Norman. I believe that there's a possibility that the White ER family will surprise everybody this time!" Daniella, who was by the side, could not stand it anymore.

In the past, she would have ignored any comments the Norman family had about the White family. She might even gloat because she was a member of the Cabello family.

However, she felt uncomfortable and unconvinced for the White family when she heard others commenting on them now. She even stood forward and proactively speak on behalf of the White family.

Chapter 1265

Darryl did not expect Daniella to not only refuse to travel with the Norman family, she helped to speak on behalf of the White family.

He was slightly stunned before he spoke with a smile, “Really? Let's see how it goes?"

He thought about it after he spoke before asking Daniella again. "By the way, Daniellita, are you sure that you don't want to come with us? If you sit on this wasted flying sword with the White, it might take you some time. Isn't it better to reach the towns under Kobe Mountain earlier for a rest?”

"Uncle Darryl, why do I feel that sitting on their flying sword would be much faster than traveling with you?” Daniella smiled as she turned her head to ask Jack. "Jack, our flying sword would be faster than them, right?”

Jack kept quiet the entire time as he believed that the White family's development would be proven in time.

However, he still nodded as Daniella was doing so much talking on behalf of them.

"That's for sure!”

"Haha... Who knows where they got this wasted piece of junk from. It's a joke that they even think about comparing speed with our flying sword!” Keith smiled coldly. "Daniellita, it doesn't matter if the White have gone mad. Why have you decided to follow their footsteps? My father's flying sword is a middle-grade spiritual tool. How can your useless flying sword compete with his?”

"We'll know if we can compete with his flying sword after we try it out!” Jack was too lazy to explain to them. He changed his thoughts and with an increase in speed, the flying sword flew out with a whoosh.

"Such speed!" Darryl was stunned. He discovered that Jack 's flying sword was already a huge distance away from theirs.

"F*ck, I don't believe that I can' t catch up!" He immediately controlled the flying sword to increase its speed as he wanted to catch up with Jack and the others.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

However, Jack's flying sword was already speedy and he was still increasing it's speed. After ten seconds, they had completely thrown the Normans behind and disappeared from their line of sight.

"How's that possible! We failed to catch up!” Darryl's eyes were wide open as he swallowed his saliva hard. He wondered if he had made a mistake. He had been increasing the speed of his flying sword without stop and it was at it's limit. However, their distance with the White family' s flying sword was getting further and further away until they were completely thrown behind.

This can only prove that the level of the White family's flying sword is higher than ours!” Darryl had raging emotions in his heart and slowly spoke after some time.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1266-1270

Chapter 1266

The Norman family's First Elder was in disbelief at what he saw." That's impossible. The White family doesn't have any middle-grade spiritual tool as I recall, especially a flying sword at that. Such a spiritual tool is even rare! Our swords failed to fly faster than theirs. Could their sword be an upper-grade spiritual tool?”

He was not hallucinating or dreaming-everyone else saw the same thing, after all.

Darryl said with a cold expression on his face. "Never thought the White family would get lucky and score themselves a rare item from who knows where. If this is an upper-grade spiritual tool, it'll be able to increase quite an amount of combat power! If Nash uses this sword, I won't be able to take him down on my own!”

"By the way, who's that young man,” a young man chimed in after he spotted them, "and why does it seem like Daniella is well -acquainted to him?”

"Daniella seems to call him Jack!” added another.

"Jack, that illegitimate child?” The Norman family's second prodigies like us are compatible with Daniellita!” scoffed Conley Norman, chin raised high haughtily.

In their opinion, the White' flying sword is only an uppergrade spiritual tool and not an ultimate-grade spiritual tool, even though it was much faster than their flying sword. After all, there were only a handful of ultimate-grade spiritual tools.

The competition's venue was at the bottom of Kobe Mountain. The top family among the Eight Reclusive Families would announce the rules and rewards of the competition once everyone had gathered.

There was a small town at the bottom of Kobe Mountain where, due to its generous Chi, many would train.

The Eight Reclusive Families and a few second or third-class reclusive families would arrive earlier before the competition started to have a good rest. They would then leave together and gather at the empty ground outside the forest located at the bottom of Kobe Mountain.

"Haha... We're so fast! I'd love to see the look on Master Norman's face!" chirped the gleeful Daniella, extremely happy with herself on the flying sword.

"You should try to have a low-profile. After all, our White family don't want to offend the Norman family!" quipped Jack as he wore an awkward smile." We can't afford to be engaged in several huge fights. We need to try our best in increasing our overall strength so that the other families won't ever belittle us."

Lancelot and the others were embarrassed when they heard this. They never expected that Jack would make such a comment toward Daniella without fearing she would be upset.

Surprisingly, Daniella, instead of grumbling, blushed instead as she lowered her head. "Alright, I get it," she muttered.

"I'll listen to everything you say in the future, alright?"

Chapter 1267

Many were baffled by what Daniella had said? What did she mean, listen to everything he would say in the future? Why did that sound like a conversation between a couple?

Jack was just as startled. He could only smile sheepishly as he looked in front of him while urging the sword to fly forward.

With this flying sword, the group arrived at the outskirts of the town under Kobe Mountain that night.

Jack stopped the flying sword when they arrived at the main entrance. “Alright, let's get down and walk in. It's best to keep a low-profile, too, seeing as it's a hassle if someone set their eyes on such a precious item.”

Nash nodded in satisfaction. “Alright, let's head in."

Jumping down from the flying sword, they walked toward the entrance after Jack made it much smaller and hid it into his martial ring.

"Seems like we're the early birds. It won't be easy to get accommodation had we come much later." The First Elder TER smiled bitterly. "Back then, we' d only be able to look for caves outside the city to stay in if we failed to find a place to stay."

"Haha...! We have to thank Young Master Jack for his flying sword; we wouldn't get here at such speed had it not been for his sword?” Mason chuckled heartily. Although the White family suffered a serious loss with what happened previously, they were still confident toward their development, especially since Jack's was immensely talented and had the fighting prowess of the real-god stage's intermediate level.

Together with this ultimate grade spiritual tool, his combat power was compatible with the masters of the real-god stage's peak. It would be even better should Jack break into the realgod level's final stage- the White family would be graced with another master of the real-god level's peak stage should Jack achieve such height.

Such an addition would increase the entire family's position to a whole new height.

After all, the seven other reclusive families basically had two of such masters while some had three or four.

The existence of a master in the peak stage real god level was an important measure of a family's overall strength.

In the past, there were only seven first-class reclusive families, but along the line, the White family grew stronger after constant development. Although they only had one master in the peak stage realgod level, their overall strength was not bad, which was why everyone was ready to add another reclusive family.

The White family emerged victorious after competing against several other powerful families, and that was how they obtained the acknowledgment of others and became the last in the Eight First-Class Reclusive Families.

As they got closer to the entrance, Jack and the others were suddenly stopped by guards at the entrance that they never saw before.

"What's the meaning of this?" Nash frowned, rather unhappy that he was blocked. Nothing like this had happened in the past.

One of the guards walked forward and gestured politely with his hands before he resounded, "Greetings, Master White! Kobe City had always been controlled by the small clan, Kobe Clan, and had never asked for entrance fees in the past. However, you might not know it, but the Kobe Clan had started depending on the firstclass reclusive family, the Hunt family. They're now considered a dependent clan of the Hunt family!"

Nash's face darkened. "So there' s an entrance fee for entering the city this year?"

The guard nodded. "That's right. This is the Hunt family's orders, and there's nothing we can do about it. We're only subordinates who obey orders. I m sure Master White can understand this, right?"

Chapter 1268

The news shocked Nash. The Hunt family obviously did this to rake in profit.

It was obvious that a small clan like the Kobe Clan would not simply depend on the Hunt family all of a sudden. The Hunt family must have searched for them, and the profit must be shared between both parties later on.

However, the Hunt family was a huge clan, and they had four masters in the real god level's peak stage. They also had several masters in the final stage of the real-god level.

What could the White family even argue about when faced with such a powerful family?

Nash could only smile at the guards. "Now how can we make it harder for you? This is something we should do! We'll do it! Tell me: how many spirited stones do we need to pay?"

The guard smiled. “Hmm... Two lower-grade spirited stones per person, and I see that there are fifty-two people here. That means that a thousand and forty lower-grade spirited stones would be enough?"

"Over a thousand?” The corners of the First Elder's mouth twitched as he heard the rather expensive fee. They needed to pay spirited stones to enter the city, and it was too expensive at two pieces per person.

After all, such items were needed for grandmasters and needed training.

“Yes. This is the order they've given, and there's nothing we can do about it,” said the guard rather impatiently as he eyed the First Elder. “I don't believe the White family can't even come up with such a small amount of spirited stones. If that 's the case, you guys aren't living up to the reputation of being one of the Eight Reclusive Families!"

The First Elder was dumbfounded. It startled him how such a person of the Kobe Clan would address them disrespectfully.

Nonetheless, he knew he could not get agitated as the Kobe Clan was supported by the Hunt family in silence. Everybody wanted to please the Hunt family, so offending them clearly proved to be fruitless.

"About that... Can the price be reduced? How about a thousand pieces?" offered the smiling Nash.

"Master White, isn't your request making it difficult for us? This rule is set by the upper management, and as their subordinates, how can we simply reduce the number of spirited stones you need to pay? What if they find out and have us make up for the lost stones?" The man stretched his body and said extremely lazily. "Sigh! Never thought that the White family, one of the Eight Reclusive Families, isn't as candid as some second-class reclusive families."

Nash's facial expression continued to darken, though he flipped his hand and came up with 1,040 lower-grade spirited stones and passed it to them." By the way, how long can these stones last us?"

The man took the spirited stones and calculated them before smilingly saying, "This is the entrance fee, and we won't ask for any other payment if you don 't leave the city after you enter. However, if you enter the city today and come out tomorrow, you'll need to pay again if you wish to re-enter. After all, too many people have visited recently, and we can't possibly remember if you guys have paid or not, right?"

"You're right." Giving a small smile, Nash waved his hand and led the group into the city.

Just as they walked past the guards, they heard them speaking, "Who knew that the White family would be so stingy ... They negotiated on a small amount of entrance fee. I can't believe it!"

Chapter 1269

Jack stopped walking and closed his hands into fists as he was extremely angry.

Such a fee should not have been taken from them in the first place and they had never asked for this fee in the past. It was unfair as it was something the Hunt family came up with to make money. Who knew that the other party would take the payment as if it was reasonable. They even dared look down at them because they had the support of powerful people behind their backs.

“Let it be!" Nash glanced at Jack and smiled helplessly." This is how the world is. The right to speak goes to those who are more powerful. The Hunt family has four masters of the peak stage real god level. They also have a large number of masters who are in the final and intermediate stage of the real god level. We aren't compatible with them as they have high level martial skills. Not only the Hunt family, we also need to give way to the other families!”

Jack naturally understood that his actions also represent the White family. He loosen his fists after nodding in agreement and said, "Alright, I understand. Those families would not dare to bully us or look down at us if we strengthen the White family!”

"Yes, there's no other ways. Let' s try our best to strengthen the White family!” Nash sighed. The 1000 over pieces of spirited stones were sufficient for the younger generations of the White family to use for one month.

However, they could not do anything when they were faced with such domineering charges. They were not the only one, even families like the Cabello family would have to pay the spirited stones when they arrived.

"We should not have entered the city if we knew that this was going to happen. We could have found a cave and stayed outside for several days!" the Second Elder said angrily as he walked. He had obviously never experienced such abbreviation.

"That would not work!” Nash shook his head. "That would be nothing if this was ten years ago. However, we're one of the Eight Reclusive Families not and a member of the first-class reclusive family. The others might look down on us or despise us if we stayed outside. Especially those families who lost to us, they're working hard to increase their strength with hopes to pull us down and make themselves one of the first-class reclusive families!”

The Second Elder nodded helplessly. "That's true. After all, it had been mentioned in the last meeting that the first-class reclusive families have to remain at eight families within the next twenty years while the other families are second or third -class reclusive families. There will be a discussion for the increase of the numbers after twenty years!”

As it had turned dark, the group soon found a small hotel.

"Oh my, isn't this Master White?” The owner immediately recognized Nash and welcomed them happily.

"Boss Lane, we need fifty-two rooms. How much spirited stones do you need?” Nash smiled at the other party. "We should follow the old rules and how about a 20% discount?"

Boss Lane smiled bitterly after he heard this. "The budget is too tight. Master White, the other hotels don't give discounts nowadays and after calculating everything, you would need one hundred pieces of spirited stones. What if I only take ninety pieces from you?”

"One hundred pieces?” Nash was slightly surprised when he heard this. “Isn't fifty enough based on the previous pricing? Why is it so expensive?”

"Brother, the price has increased. The price of everything has increased over the year. Everybody had increased their prices and if I don't, those in the same industry might cause me trouble. It's impossible for me to go against those big bosses, right? You need to put yourself in my shoe!” The boss smiled bitterly. He raised his hands and reassured Nash as he was afraid that Nash did not want the rooms.

“Brother, ninety bucks is already a discount for you. I can swear to you if you don't believe me. You can take a look at the other hotels out there. Those hotels are more expensive and they don't offer discounts!”

Chapter 1270

Boss Lane smiled when he saw that Nash was still hesitant. "Master White, my rooms here are only enough for you and five hundred other people. If you're set here, I'll put a sign out there to indicate that we are full. If you don 't plan to check in here, you will need to go look at other hotels and let other people come in later!"

Nash smiled slightly. "There's still another five days and it's a total of four hundred and fifty spirited stones, right?"

The boss nodded. "That's right. This is already considered a very low price!"

Nash flipped his hand to come up with his spirited stones and was ready to pay.

"Hold on, we are staying here!" Unexpectedly, the sound of a man speaking could be heard at this moment.

The corners of Nash's mouth immediately twitched several times when he heard this voice.

The person speaking was none other than Master Trenton of the Lagorio family.

"Haha... Nash White, what a coincidence. Who knew that I would meet you when I've just arrived in Kobe City!" Diana also smiled coldly and stared at the White hatred. She wanted to kill the entire White family so badly.

"Master Lagorio, what a coincidence. Who knew that we would meet so soon!"

Although he knew clearly that he would definitely meet members of the Lagorio family and was prepared for it, he had no idea that it would happen so soon.

Trenton humphed coldly before his sight finally landed on Jack." You're Jack? You really look like Nash!"

"Master Lagorio, I know you hate us but your daughter asked for what happened to her. Not only did she work together with the Third Elder to plan a rebel, she even poisoned my father. Haha... Let's not talk about my father. Would you put up with it if something like this happened to you?" Jack laughed and showed no signs of backing down. He wanted to wipe out the Lagorio family so badly. He would have done it if the White family was not strong enough while his father wanted to develop the White family.

The Lagorios carried themselves as if they did not think that Lily made a mistake, they even blamed his father. It was true that a father would raise a daughter of the same character.

Trenton felt ashamed when he heard what Jack said. After all, it!

was true that his daughter cheated on Nash and even did something despicable when she poisoned Nash.

"You guys must have vented yourself since you guys killed so many members of the Lagorio family? No matter what, my daughter and Master White were once married. Directly destroying her training is even more brutal than killing her!" Diana was extremely angry. She felt a wave of heartbreaking pain when she recalled how haggard her daughter looked previously.

After all, their daughter was treated previously before Lana was married to the White family!

"Haha... Are you blaming my father for not killing her?" Jack laughed coldly when she heard this. "If that's the case, you just need to tell me earlier. My father won't need to go through so much trouble and could have killed her if you told us earlier!"

"You..." Trenton could not hold it back anymore. He clenched his fists and appeared in front of Jack in a flash. His punch was flying directly at Jack.

Trenton travelled speedily and there was no sign that he was making moves. Everything caught people by surprise.

Nash also had no idea that this old man would be so shameless and make a move toward his sona younger generation. He quickly clench his fists and was ready to rush over and stop them.

Unfortunately, the current Trenton was so much faster and Nash was obviously unable to make it in time.

"B*stard, how dare you?"

Chapter 1271-1275

Chapter 1271

Nash gritted his teeth in anger. He said as he rushed over. "I will wipe out your entire family if you dare kill my son!"

"Humph!" Trenton only had hatred in his heart at this moment. He planned to hurt Jack badly if he did not kill Jack.

After all, the younger geniuses from every family would enter this competition. Jack was the White family master inheritor and it was impossible for him to not join the competition.

Jack would become a huge joke if he did not join the competition.

Hence, he did not need to kill Jack. He only needed to hurt Jack badly and Nash would have nothing to say when Jack is killed by somebody else during the competition.

After all, this competition was a life and death competition. Deaths in the competition could not be looked into after they came down from the stage. This was what all the families agreed to all this time.

Many times, some geniuses of some families would kill their enemies in the competition without any restriction when they had contradictions in the outside world. This was because the firstclass aristocratic families could not say anything even if the young masters from second-class aristocratic families killed young masters from first-class aristocratic families.

Although there was a small possibility for this to happen, there were many of such things happening in the past.

He was afraid that Nash would get crazy over him accidentally killing Jack and both families would start a war. After all, the Lagorio family was not the White family's opponent right now.

Hence, Trenton, who knew that Jack was at the primary level of the real god level, controlled his power and combat power slightly at this moment.

Bomb!

Jack clenched his fists and met the other party's punch. He was sent several steps backward before he managed to stabilize himself with a step on the floor.

"What!" Trenton, who originally planned to hurt Jack, actually moved several backward too. The attacks of these two people were comparable and waves of emotions filled his heart. After all, his combat power was comparable to that of the intermediate stage real god level and Jack actually received the attack in such a relaxing way?

"B*stard!" Nash had already rushed over and punched towards Trenton at this moment.

Trenton was startled. He immediately curled his hands into fists and Chi moved around them. He dared not to respond with negligence and quickly met the attack with a punch.

Bomb!

Another huge bomb sound was heard. The next second, Trenton was sent backward several meters before he managed to stabilize himself. Nash on the other hand stood there stably and did not move one step backward.

"This power..." Nash was stunned and immediately understood what Trenton planned to do. This old man did not use his full power when he fought with Jack just now. He was surprised to discover that Trenton only displayed his full energy when they were fighting. Trenton's power was actually at the peak stage of the real god level.

"You've actually broken through into the peak stage of the real god stage?" Nash retracted his punch and had a serious look on his face.

Trenton only had the training level of the last stage real god level previously and there was a huge difference between their combat power. Who knew that this old man would break through? That was troublesome.

He could see that the other party's power was not very stable yet and he was not very handy with his control over power. It looked like she had just broken through recently.

If some more time passed, his combat power might increase more after he had adapted to the newly increased power.

"Haha... You never expected this? Nash White, I've broken through!" Trenton laughed loudly. "I only planned to test your son's level, why are you being so nervous? I did not expect your son to really be in the intermediate stage of the real god level. He is really talented!"

Chapter 1272

Jack was not dumb. He was also surprised when the other party rushed over.

However, he soon understood that this old man dared not kill him and was only planning to hurt him.

After all, if this old man killed him here at this moment, his father and the elders of the White family would go into a war with them. The Lagorios were obviously not the opponents of the White.

Hence, this old man wanted him to be hurt and let the other opponents kill him in the competition.

However, Trenton had really underestimated Jack's combat power. Jack thought that the other party had the fighting prowess at the final stage of the real god level so he did not use his entire strength too. In the end, he ended in the same situation as the other party. He believed that if he used his full strength, Trenton would be unable to kill him even if he used his full strength.

"Haha... This test of yours really caught me by surprise!" Jack laughed but he had already made up his mind. He would definitely kill this old man when there is a chance in the future.

He was lucky that his father and the elders were here today. If that was not the case, this old man would definitely kill him without holding back.

"This young man is really at the intermediate stage of the real god level?" Diana's facial expression was also darkened.

Jack's talents caused her to secretly feel unsettled. Such talents were hard to come by, especially when this young man came back from the outside world. If this guy had always been training in the White family and did not lack martial resources, his current fighting prowess...

Nash's facial expression also darkened. Trenton had broken through and achieved the peak stage of the real god level. This meant that their family also had a master in the peak stage of the real god level and the overall strength of their family was hugely raised.

The current Lagorio family had looked at the White family as their enemy and it was not a good thing for this to continue.

"Yes, if he isn't at the intermediate stage of the real god level, he would not have been able to block my attack so easily just now!"

Trenton glanced at Jack again before turning to speak to Boss Lane. "Boss Lane, why don't you give these rooms to us. We've always been helping you with your business in the past!"

An awkward expression immediately appeared in Boss Lane's face. He also heard about the change in the relationship between these two families. Such important news would definitely be spreaded around as long as a person was discussing it.

He smiled bitterly before speaking to Trenton. "Master Lagorio, I'm sorry but we've already decided on the price. Apart from that, I need to honor those who come first when I'm handling a business deal. I'm really sorry about this today. I think it's best if you check the hotels next door for rooms!"

"I can pay more money. How about six hundred pieces of spirited stones?" Trenton was obviously unconvinced and wanted to compete. That was why he proactively raised the price.

"This..." Boss Lane hesitated before finally smiling bitterly and said. "Master Lagorio, there's really not much that I can do about this. It's not only about money!"

"Haha.... I know. It's because they are a first-class aristocratic family, right? I think that you're bullying the weak and afraid of the strong. You're really stupid for not earning that money!"

Trenton laughed and soon he was stunned when he saw a beauty among the crowd. "Hey, isn't that the Third Young Mistress Cabello? Third young mistress, I am curious as to why you're with the White?"

"Haha... Master Lagorio, it's not up to you to decide people from which family I run with?" Daniella saw what happened just now. She was surprised and extremely worried when she saw how the other party attacked Jack.

However, she was embarrassed to say anything on behalf of the others because she was not a member of the White family so she only remained standing among the crowd.

Who knew that Trenton would discover her so quickly.

Chapter 1273

"Haha... That's right, that's right. Who am I to say anything about what the Cabellos want to do!" Trenton laughed embarrassingly before waving his hands and said to the other Lagorios. "Let's go, let' s go!"

Trenton led them to the streets after he finished speaking

However, he had no idea that he would run into another crowd just as he walked out from the hotel.

He was instantaneously happy when he saw this crowd because this was none other than the Cabellos.

He immediately ran over and said to Master Cabello. "Master Cabello, we are really fated with one another. Who knew that I would bump into you guys just as I arrived in this city! Such fate!"

"Haha... Yes, it's been a long time since we last met, Master Lagorio!" Alejandro laughed with a slight despise in his eyes.

He had never liked the Lagorios because the Lagorios and the White had an exceptionally good relationship in the past when Lily was Nash's wife. Hence, the disciples in both families had always got into altercations when they were searching for valuable items.

"Master Cabello, by the way, I'm curious about something. I just saw Third Young Mistress Cabello and I'm wondering why is she with the White family members? Apart from that, she even spoke on behalf of them. After all, you also know that the relationship between your family and the White was not that good?" Trenton quickly said. He added another sentence after he finished. "Our Lagorio family is also the enemies of the White family right now!"

"What?! You're saying that Daniellita is with the White family right now?" Alejandro had been worried about Daniella's safety. His eyes lit up when he heard this and he immediately spoke in excitement.

"Where is she? Why is she with the White and is speaking on behalf of them?"

Trenton pointed at the hotel not far away. "They are in that hotel. I can see that the third young mistress is very innocent and I'm worried if she had been conned by the White family!"

"They are in the hotel?" Alejandro was slightly stunned before he led the Cabellos and walked into the hotel.

“Third sister, it really is third sister!" First Young Mistress Cabello was delighted when she immediately saw Daniella who was ready to go upstairs.

"This is great, it really is Daniellita!" Venus Cabello smiled as she was also extremely excited.

“Eldest sister, second sister!" Daniella immediately ran over when she saw them. “This is great! I really miss you guys as it's been a long time since I last saw you. Who knew that I would meet you once I entered this city!"

"Daniellita, why are you with this bunch of people? Did they make things difficult for you?" Alejandro relaxed when he saw that Daniella was safe but he still asked with a cold expression on his face.

"Father, it happened like this. I was caught by a bunch of mounted brigand when I was out looking for treasures. That mounted brigand is so disgusting that they even want to make me his wife!" Daniella immediately had a wronged expression on her face. She turned around to look at Jack before she continued to speak. "Luckily the young master of the White family, Jack, saved me. That's why I can stay alive and meet you guys today!"

Chapter 1274

"Really? A White family member rescued you?" Alejandro had a weird expression on his face when he heard this.

According to the situation between both families, it was good enough that the White family did not hit the Cabello who was in danger. Who knew that they would actually save his daughter.

He had to wonder what the White family wanted and if they had other thoughts in their heads.

"Yes, father. Jack is really talented and strong!" Daniella was slightly shy when she mentioned Jack. She proactively praised Jack.

"Who's Jack?!" Alejandro looked in front as he said loudly.

Jack smiled slightly as he walked forward. He gestured towards Alejandro and said, "Greetings to Master Cabello, I am Jack. I helped Third Young Mistress Cabello as I happened to see her in a difficult situation the other day.

After all, I cannot stand the people who bully and humiliate women all the time!"

Alejandro looked at Jack before nodding and gesturing at him." Thank you very much!"

"You're welcome, Master Cabello!" Jack returned the polite gesture.

Unexpectedly, Trenton, who was listening for some time after a short while, would push the crowds away and walk in at this moment. He said to Alejandro." Master Cabello, don't you fall for this guy's sweet words. This young man is Nash's illegitimate son and had returned from the outside world. He has many bad habits and is definitely not a good person. It's best if you don't believe in him!"

Daniella was extremely angry when she heard how this old man dared come in and said something bad about Jack.

She immediately walked forward and said to Trenton angrily. "Trenton Lagorio, what are you talking about? You must hate the White family because your daughter acted indecent all the time and was finally swept out of the house by the White family. Do you think that my father is stupid? Do you think that he doesn 't know that your family hates the White family right now? Do you think that he will listen to what you said?"

"You..." Trenton's face turned crimson from anger. The Third Young Mistress Cabello was so daring. Not only did she talk back at him, she even dared to directly call him by his name.

However, he soon suppressed his anger. He knew clearly that Daniella dared act so arrogantly at this moment because the Cabellos were here, if not, she would never dare say something like this.

He chose to ignore the Third Young Mistress Cabello, instead said to Alejandro with a smile. "Master Cabello, take a look. You should take a look at this daughter of yours. She has been brainwashed by the White and is speaking on behalf of the White. Have you people forgotten how many of the Cabello family disciples fought with the White family disciples? Have you forgotten about the Cabellos who died?"

The corners of Alejandro's mouth slightly twitched before he smiled at Trenton. "Master Lagorio, don't you worry. I know clearly what kind of a person my daughter is. We do not need you to say anything regarding the affairs of the Cabello family. After all, I'm doubtful about the hidden intentions behind your words based on the situation between the Lagorios and the White."

“Haha!" Trenton laughed and gestured with his hands before walking towards the door. “Master Cabello, I'm just reminding you out of kindness, you can choose to believe it or not. After all, you know clearly about your previous grudges!"

Trenton soon left after he finished speaking.

“No matter what, I have to thank you for saving my daughter!"

Chapter 1275

Alejandro glanced at Jack after Trenton left. He then flipped his hand and came up with a first grade premium pill. He threw the pill to Jack. “This is a token of our gratitude. We, the Cabellos, do not like to owe others any favors.

Alejandro paused before continuing to speak. "However, just to set the record straight. The people from our family will not hold back if they meet anybody from the White family during this competition. Do you understand?"

"A first grade premium pill?" Jack looked at the pill in his hands.

Although this pill looked normal, it was a hard to comeby precious item. After all, this had a great effect for someone in the final stage of the real god level.

It looked like Alejandro really loved her daughter, Daniella. Not only did he apologize to his opposing clan, he even gave them a pill to show his gratitude. No ordinary people could do something like this.

"Master, this..." The facial expression of a Cabello family's old man darkened. He was obviously unwilling to give such a precious item to a member of the White family.

"It's alright, it's just a pill. My daughter's life is much more valuable than this pill and I don't want to owe the White family anything! If not, I don't want them speaking things behind our backs if our people accidentally kill geniuses of the White family during the competition. I don't want them saying that we repaid their kindness with hatred and that we don't know how to be grateful!" Alejandro smiled coldly and said.

The elder nodded before walking back.

"Father, can't the relationship between both families ease up? Jack rescued me and he's a very nice person!" Daniella was extremely anxious that she stomped her leg as she spoke.

"I said that these two are different things. I do not want to owe the White family but the competition will be just like how it used to be. Do you understand? If there are any altercations during the competition, we can't allow our people to give in to them, right?" Alejandro looked at Daniella seriously. "Alright, I haven't given you a scolding for running away secretly and almost lost your life. How dare you talk on behalf of the White family? Do you know that you're making yourself a joke to the entire family if you act like this?!"

"I don't care. I only know that Jack and I are good friends and he 's the one who saved me so I'm remembering his good deeds in my heart!" Daniella pursed her lips and hugged her hands in front of her chest while saying angrily.

"You..." Alejandro gritted his teeth before turning around to look at Nash and the others. He gestured at them. “Nash White, your family has suffered a huge loss previously and if your younger geniuses suffer a huge loss in this competition... Haha... By then, it would be difficult to keep your position of number eight and nobody would admit that you're a first-class reclusive family!"

Nash smiled and gestured with his hands. "Thank you Master Cabello for your care. We are clear about this and I believe that my son and the others would be able to get great results!"

"Haha... It's great that you guys are so confident!" Alejandro laughed and walked towards the entrance. "Daniellita, let's go!"

"Father..." Daniella was feeling extremely bad. She originally thought that Jack rescued her and she hoped that the relationship between both families would ease up because of this. Who knew that her father was still so hard-headed and she was lucky to not have mentioned that Jack was her boyfriend or that she wanted to be with Jack. Who knew how angry Alejandro would get if she said that.

Chapter 1276-1280

Chapter 1276

"Let's go, Sister..."

Helena and Venus Cabello pulled the reluctant Daniella to leave with the Cabellos.

"Seems like the grudge between both families is deeply implanted, Father," said Jack with a bitter smile after the Cabellos left.

Nash smiled awkwardly as well." This is a long-winded story, and the hatred wasn't only accumulated for one or two days, which is why Alejandro's attitude is normal. However, I didn't expect him to give you a pill."

Jack hesitated as he looked at the pill in his hands. He then walked toward the First Elder and said, " First Elder, I think it's best to give this pill to you."

"You're giving it to me?!" First Elder's eyes widened, thinking he heard wrongly. Such a precious item was enough to make many real god level masters crave it, but Jack wanted to give it to him just like that?

Jack nodded. "I heard that you've been in the final stage of the realgod level for several years. I hope that this pill can help you break through and reach the peak stage of the real-god level. After all, having a master in the real-god level's peak stage is extremely important to a family. Our family would be blessed with two masters in the peak stage of the real-god level if you really break through!"

Titus also nodded. "First Elder, Young Master has a point, and you should accept the pill. If our White family has another master in the peak stage of the real-god level, arrogant clans will look at us differently!"

Nash also nodded in extreme satisfaction. "First Elder, why are you still hesitating and not receiving the pill?"

First Elder was very touched as he took the pill. He nodded continuously as he gushed, "AAlright. Thank you, Young Master Jack!"

Jack chuckled and responded, "Haha... We're all members of the White family, and I hope you can break through into the real-god level's peak stage as soon as possible!"

First Elder nodded after he thought about it. "Alright. I can try to break through my fighting prowess as there are still four to five days before the competition." It was no easy feat to break through after achieving the realgod level's fighting prowess, and because of that, he was not so confident and feared he would waste the pill Jack gave him.

"Alright, everybody should go get some rest. All of us can rest during these few days and go out for a walk whenever we have the time. Those with hopes of breaking through their fighting prowess can train well during this period-it'll be best if those who are joining the competition can break through before the competition!" Nash finally said to everybody

Jack slept after he returned to his room, training the following morning to continue stabilizing his fighting prowess. He was prepared to take a stroll in the afternoon.

Little did he expect he would stumble across three beauties, Daniella, Helena, and Venus of the Cabello family not long after he left the hotel.

"Jack!" Daniella immediately walked toward Jack with a delighted heart upon seeing him. She had purposely brought her sisters to stroll around the hotel with hopes of meeting Jack.

"By the way, don't care too much about what happened last night. My father has such a temperament. He's actually a nice person, but he tends to be too stubborn."

Chapter 1277

Daniella explained what happened yesterday with a smile as she walked toward him. Not only was she afraid Jack would be upset about what happened yesterday, but she also feared he would distance himself from her because of it.

"Third Sister, why are you explaining that to this guy? Sure, he saved you, but we've returned the favor and don't owe him anything!” fretted Helena as she grimaced.

"That's right, Third Sister. Don't forget that both families had our fair share of arguments during the competitions in the past!" Venus also reminded Daniella angrily. "Sister, Father had reminded you to not get too close with members of the White family. Do you get it? We're afraid that you're being used!"

Daniella stomped her leg anxiously and quickly explained," Sister, Jack isn't that sort of person!"

"Ladies, both of you are overthinking things. With the White family's current position and situation, we can't compete with your Cabello family, and we don't want to cause any trouble either. Apart from that, I don't use such means when I do something, so you can all relax!" Jack smiled indifferently before speaking to the two of them again, "Think about it, you two: If the White family wants to do anything to Daniellita, will you still have the chance to see her?"

Helena crossed her arms at her chest as she refuted, "That's not definite. Who knows what you people are thinking about."

Venus, on the other hand, frowned as she noted something peculiar. "Young man, you addressed my sister as Daniellita? Who allowed you to address her in such an intimate way? You're really gutsy for addressing my sister that way. I think you have thoughts about my sister. It's true that men are perverts, and they're all bad!"

Venus looked at Daniella at this point and said, "Daniella, you need to be careful. I think he's being nice to you just for your beauty. There are no good men nowadays. I think he's just a toad craving for something that's out of his league!"

Surprisingly, Daniella blushed abashedly as she replied, "Sister, stop speaking nonsense! I... I was the one who asked him to address me as that. The two of us are really, really good friends right now, and him calling me Daniellita doesn't mean anything!"

Helena and Venus were embarrassed when they heard this. They could not imagine that Daniella was the one who asked Jack to address her as Daniellita.

They wondered if Daniella felt good toward Jack or had feelings for him because he rescued her.

At that moment, several people walked over and one of the men in white clothes said happily, "Oh, my! Aren't these the three beauties of the Cabello family? We' re really lucky to bump into these Three Golden Flowers in our stroll!"

Jack also glanced at them, his expression darkened at that instant. He never expected to meet members of the Norman family again.

"Haha... Seems like we got a toad here, too!" spoke Keith disdainfully as he glanced at Jack. "Young man, Ms. Daniella traveled with you people before, but why are you still following them when she's already met up with the Cabello family? Are you thinking of ways to win the affections of these three Cabello beauties?"

"You should remember your identity," Joshua Norman chimed in. "Your family is far beneath the Norman family. Apart from that, you're just an illegitimate child who returned from the outside world. You aren't worthy to be with any of them based on these facts!"

"You are not the ones to decide if I'm worthy or not." Jack had a darkened expression on his face and grew irritated.

Chapter 1278

"Haha... This means you're really interested in getting the attention of our Third Young Mistress Cabello, no?" Joshua rubbed his fists when he heard what Jack said and eyed him playfully. "We, the onlookers, have great sight. Do you truly think the White family can be considered as a first -class aristocratic family? To us, you're no different from those second-class aristocratic families!"

"Second Brother, let's not waste time talking to this guy. Let me teach him a lesson so he'll learn the difference between him and the true first-class aristocratic family!" Conley walked two steps forward and balled his fists as Chi surged and covered his fists. It looked as if he had boxing gloves made of Chi.

"Don't be careless, Third Brother. This guy might have a high fighting prowess and is in the real -god level's initial stage. After all, he's the White family master inheritor," Joshua crossed his arms at his chest as he reminded his Third Brother when he noted how Conley was ready to fight.

However, Conley did not pay much attention to Jack. “Don't worry, this guy's just lucky. He had the chance because the talented Lance White of the White family had gone missing. He wouldn't be the family master inheritor otherwise."

In his opinion, it was definite that Jack did not have a high fighting prowess and luck played a huge part in his journey to becoming the family master inheritor. After all, how powerful would a guy who returned from the outside world be?

Nonetheless, Conley knew he could not kill Jack at that moment. After all, the competition had not started, and this guy was the White family master's son. Killing him and falling out with the White family was no good starter.

Still, that did not mean he could not beat some sense into Jack.

He came toward Jack in a flash and threw his fist at him.

Daniella knew how powerful Jack was and did not worry for him when hearing Conley's threat. After all, Conley's fighting prowess was only at the real-god level's initial stage. "Haha! You just signed up for a beatdown!"

Such fighting prowess was really powerful before the White family' s prodigies, but they had no idea what extraordinary talents Jack had compared to them.

"Hmph!" Jack wore an ominous smile. Tightening his fist, he intercepted the incoming punch without even using Chi.

"What?!" Keith and Joshua gasped when they noted how Jack did not use his Chi. This guy was downright arrogant. How dare he look down at their third brother like that?

They believed Jack failed to react because he had an incredibly low fighting prowess and vigilance. It was obvious his reflexes were slow to even activate his Chi and had to hurriedly meet Conley's attack.

Well then, he might be badly hurt or suffer a fracture on his arm from Conley's punch based on his brother's combat powers.

However...

Thoom!

They did not expect that what happened next was a powerful explosion, and they saw Conley flying backward like a kite with broken strings at the next second. Vomiting blood, he staggered backward as he landed on the ground before he managed to stabilize himself.

"What is this?!" This time, even Helena and Venus were stunned. They stared with widened eyes and opened mouths, wondering if their eyes played tricks on them.

After all, Jack managed to send Conley flying away without even using his Chi. What did this mean? This meant that Jack's combat power was much stronger than his.

Jack, however, had an indifferent expression as he retracted his fists. He placed both hands behind his back and, eyeing Conley, smilingly spoke, "How does that feel? Do you think you can easily bully members of the White family? The competition hasn't even started, yet you dare attack someone on the streets?"

Chapter 1279

"Hmph! This isn't over, young man. Don't forget: a person's true combat power is assessed with that person's weapon and martial skills. And I haven't used my full power either! I admit that I've underestimated you." Conley was bitter as he had lost his dignity in front of three beautiful ladies.

Wiping the blood from the corners of his mouth, Conley flipped his hand and revealed a sword.

"A weapon?" Jack smiled and said, "Are you forgetting something?"

Jack also flipped his hand after he spoke and revealed the black sword.

"That... That flying sword is yours? You can use it to attack apart from flying?" Conley's facial expression darkened when he saw that the sword in Jack's hands was identical to the flying sword they saw previously, only smaller.

He thought that such a precious item would belong to Nash. Who would have thought that it was Jack's?

With that, they did not have any advantages in terms of weapons.

They knew that this sword was an upper-grade spiritual tool. Such a weapon was superior with his lower -grade spiritual tool at hand, and the sword in his hands was already a rare treasure.

Joshua and Keith, who were in the real-god level's intermediate stage, glowered just like Conley.

It felt impossible to fight against Jack individually, but they could surely win if they attacked together.

However, it was a petty move if they attacked Jack together with the three Cabello beauties present. Would they not leave a bad impression on Helena, Venus, and Daniella if they teamed against Jack?

“What? Are we continuing the fight?” Jack asked with a smile when he saw them stunned.

Conley put the sword in his hand away and growled, “I'll hold myself from hurting you now, young man, but you'd do well to remember this-I'll settle this with you in the competition. By then, I won't hold back.”

"Really? I hope that we can meet by then!” Jack chuckled, knowing how the other party held fear against him. Why else would they let him go?

"We'll see then, young man!” ended Joshua and left with his two other brothers in a dejected manner.

Venus glanced at Helena and said softly, “Eldest sister, I think Conley underestimated Jack, so he didn't give it his all. Don't you think so?”

"That has to be it,” Helena replied warily. "However, no matter how it is, this young man is at least in the real-god level's intermediate stage. This level of fighting prowess is incredible!”

Chapter 1280

"You've guessed correctly, Sister, he is in the real-god level s intermediate stage. Isn't he talented? Although he had just broken through, Second Sister can't beat him!” Daniella was filled with pride as she talked about Jack, admiring his brilliance and wisdom. She had lied to Jack that they had slept together the other night when they were drunk, not thinking he would genuinely believe it and take responsibility.

Jack dared not comment on the matter and approach his wife about it, everything happened so suddenly.

As for Daniella, she had already taken Jack as her boyfriend though she kept quiet about it, fearing her family would be outraged.

"What? I can't beat him? Haha! My combat power is one of the highest among those in this level of fighting prowess!” Venus refused to believe in Daniella's words, frowning when she noted Daniella's pridefilled, awe-struck expression." Daniellita, have you fallen for him?"

Daniella reeled in shock at the sudden suggestion, and she quickly denied the idea with a wave of her hand.

"W-What? Don't make things up, Sister, I don't like him!”

Alas, her guilty conscience gave her away in her reaction, and the blush on her face added the evidence.

"Look at you, you're all shy and blushing! I think you really like him!” Venus was irritated as she warned, “Daniellita, I'm telling you this, our family has bad blood with theirs. Father will be extremely angry if he learns about this!"

"Nothing's going on between us, Sister. Why don't you believe me? Nothing's happening!" Daniella started explaining again. She knew she could not say anything about their relationship at this moment, no matter what it was. Her parents would only accept if others saw Jack's talents in the future and that everybody knew how strong he was, or when the relationship between both families was better.

“Alright, alright! I believe in you.” Venus stopped insisting when she saw Daniella's eyes turn red from being anxious. Instead, she glanced at Jack before speaking to Daniella, "Daniellita, let me tell you something: Don't be fascinated because he looks handsome. Most of the time, such a handsome man is unreliable, especially a man with a wife is even more unreliable.”

Daniella was ashamed, though she offered a sheepish smile. "I get it, Sister!"

"I best take my leave, girls. With you beautiful three ladies here, I' m afraid somebody will accuse me of having motives if I stay longer.” Jack gave an awkward smile and gestured his hands at the three. He realized that the hatred between the White family and the Cabello family was unusually deep, and it would not be easy to resolve.

Helena glanced at Jack and said, "I acknowledged that you saved my sister before, young man, but don't expect us to let you win deliberately during the competition. Do you understand?”

"I know. I won't let you girls win just like that either!" Jack turned around and slowly walked forward.

At that moment, a portly man came toward them with his clique. "Oh my, Helena, what a coincidence! Never thought we'd meet here!”

This man's eyes lit up upon seeing the Cabello sisters. He strode toward them and held Helena's hand in excitement.

"Young Master Hunt, please have some respect for yourself!"

Chapter 1281-1285

Chapter 1281

Utterly displeased, Helena's expression darkened as she quickly withdrew her hand from Young Master Hunt's grip.

She would have gotten angry from the start had it been anyone else that held her hand so abruptly...but the fat man before her was the Second Young Master Hunt. Not only was he overweight, but he liked women too and had always involved himself with them.

Alas, this fatty had a high fighting prowess and was talented in cultivating pills. Together with the fact that she had materials to cultivate pills, his fighting prowess was naturally quite high.

Second Young Master Hunt laughed and said, “Helena, you' ve grown beautiful in my eyes. I told my father that I should find a fiancée, and I think you're the perfect fit!”

"Young Master Hunt, stop joking. I... I already have a boyfriend. Apart from that, I'm almost thirty and I'm several years older than you. We're not fit for each other!" Helena was livid at his suggestion, but she dared not ruin his image and could only smile embarrassingly.

Second Young Master Hunt replied with a smile when he heard this, "Haha! Don't lie to me, First Young Mistress. Firstly, I like women who are several years older than me. Such women are much more charming. My heart moved the moment you touched my hand, and I've never felt that before!"

Second Young Master Hunt paused here before he continued, "Secondly, you're obviously lying to me when you said you had a boyfriend. I had asked around recently, and I know you don't have a boyfriend yet. I plan to ask my father to ask your hand for marriage after this competition so I can make you my fiancée. We'll get married and have children once we get to know each other more!"

"Mmph!" Helena mentally vomited three liters of blood. Asking her to marry him and have his children was a much worse fate than killing her. His talent and his skills in cultivating pills were indisputable, but he was awfully ugly.

Helena turned down many of the handsome young masters who wanted to date her. She had a headache just thinking about this damned fatty asking her to marry him and have children with him.

"I swear I have a boyfriend!" Helena bit her red lips, and she instantly piped up when her line of sight happened to land on Jack's back, who was less than 100 meters away.

Their Cabello family and the White family did not have a good relationship. They hated each other, even, and this was a great chance to take. Not only could she make Second Young Master Hunt give up, but she could also make him hate Jack. This was what people would say, killing two birds with one stone.

"Jack, come here quickly!" She immediately waved her hand at Jack after she spoke.

Jack, who had not walked far away, turned his head back when he heard Helena called out to him from far away.

He frowned, though he still came toward them, not knowing why Helena called out to him.

“What is it? Why is the first young mistress looking for me?" Jack walked over and smiled at Helena.

Unexpectedly, Helena gave her a flirtatious gaze the next second and, walking toward him, held his arm and said shyly, "You're cruel! Just call me Helena. Don't you like calling Helena?”

“Helena?” Jack frowned and was stunned.

"Yes, Jacky!” Helena responded by calling out shyly. She even shook Jack's arm and looked so helpless as she relied on him.

Chapter 1282

"Jacky?” Daniella and Venus stared in disbelief, eyes wide open at the nickname Speechless, they wondered if they heard wrongly.

Daniella, all the more, was frozen on the spot. Did her sister not detest Jack? What was she doing all of a sudden?

Of course, she quickly caught on that Helena was using Jack to get rid of Second Young Master Hunt's badgering. She might be able to frame Jack with this.

Jack also understood what was going on and immediately shook Helena's hand away, taking two steps back. "First Young Mistress Cabello, please have some respect for yourself. I'm not interested in you, and I don't want to be your shield.”

Second Young Master Hunt was initially enraged, but knowing what was happening, he grinned as he spoke, "You're a good actress, Helena Cabello. I almost believed you!"

Helena was naturally unwilling to admit defeat just like that. She immediately caught up with Jack and hugged his arm. "Jack White, how can you do this?

"Didn't you say you're no coward? What's going on? How can you chicken out when a love rival suddenly pops up? You'll lose me if you're acting like this!”

Jack almost fainted; Helena truly was good at blaming others.

He got increasingly exasperated when Second Young Master Hunt did not seem to be any smarter. He was extremely angry when he saw Helena hugging Jack's arm and growled, "Young man, is what she's saying true? Are you truly her boyfriend? Are you that suicidal to take a woman from me?"

"Second Young Master Hunt?” Jack had never met anybody from the Hunt family. He was ashamed when he heard how Second Young Master Hunt was addressed and immediately fell into embarrassment. "Second Young Master, don't misunderstand this. Why would I take a woman from you? Look at her: She's the one who came to me, and there's nothing between the two of us!”

Unable to tolerate the nonsense, Daniella walked forward and explained, “That's right. Second Young Master Hunt, there's nothing between my eldest sister and Jack. If you think about it properly, everything becomes clearer. Arrogant women like my sister look down on so many young masters. How would she even set eyes on Jack, this young master from the White family?"

"That's right. Look, even the third young mistress had said it, so you shouldn't believe in what the first young mistress said.” Jack relaxed. Luckily, Daniella shared a close bond with him or he would never clear his name no matter how hard he tried.

Helena was speechless. She never thought that her sister would speak for an outsider's behalf, moreover did it in front of her. Did she hold Jack's hand for nothing, then?

Helena always had a haughty streak in her. How could she admit defeat when she had finally come up with a way to get rid of Second Young Master Hunt?

She turned her gaze and mumbled, “Alright, Third Sister...You like Jack too, don't you? You want to push me to the Second Young Master Hunt to get him, don't you...? H-How could y-you do this to me?"

Helena even deliberately sobbed as she spoke, “Third Sister, I'm telling you that I've been together with Jack for so long now, so you can't think of breaking us up!"

Daniella was flabbergasted, not believing Helena would make things up like this just to harm Jack. However, her sister was right in one thing-she did like Jack.

She immediately responded," Sister, what nonsense are you talking about? How can you harm Jack like this? He saved my life!

Helena finally realized that her sister was too kind. She must have stood forward to speak on his behalf because he saved her.

Chapter 1283

Nonetheless, Helena wanted to insist-she had gone too far to back down. Blushing, she speculated, "Unbelievable, Third Sister... You'd want me to marry somebody else so you can have Jack all to yourself? You... You're really too harsh!"

Second Young Master Hunt, standing by the side, completely flabbergasted. He had no idea who was telling the truth and who was lying at that moment.

In the end, he looked at Venus and questioned, "Second Young Mistress, what's the meaning of this? What's going on between this Jack and your sister? Are they a couple?"

Venus glanced at Daniella then Helena before finally speaking," Second Young Master Hunt, my... my sister and Jack truly are in a relationship. I just didn't expect my third sister to have feelings for him too!"

"What? Who's this young man that two young mistresses from the Cabello family liked?"

"That's right. All three beauties are famous, yet they're both infatuated with him? It seems like they're love rivals!"

Several members of the Hunt family who stood behind Second Young Master Hunt started discussing among themselves softly. Everything felt so unbelievable!

"Nonsense!" Second Young Master Hunt's face darkened before he growled, “How can a member of the White family be worthy of the Cabello family's beauties? Isn't there a big difference between this young man's identity and yours?"

"Second Young Master Hunt, he's the family master inheritor of the White family, and he's likely to be their family master in the future. I don't think he's not good enough for us!"

Helena was slightly happy when her second sister spoke on behalf of her. This time, Jack was completely done.

"I never thought you'd lie through your teeth, Second Sister!"

Daniella looked at her second sister with a blushed face. Were they not driving Jack into hot soup? It would be troublesome if Second Young Master Hunt really hated Jack in the future.

Venus pulled Daniella to one side and said softly, “Daniellita, this is a good chance to get rid of this guy. If we get rid of Jack." She chuckled lightly before she continued, “The White family will have one less true prodigy, and Father will be very happy then! You should stop remembering him as your savior, do you understand? We don't owe him anything!"

"But... But..." Overridden with anxiety, Daniella glanced at Jack, who stood not too far, and spoke in a half-whisper, "I... I really like him, and I'm already in a relationship with him. I just dare not tell Father yet as the timing is not right!"

Venus was extremely surprised, red lips parted in her shock as she struggled to process the situation. "Preposterous! Stop scaring me, Daniella. The hatred between our families didn't just come up in these recent one or two years. Even if our relationship isn't as rigid as it used to be, I'm sure Father won't agree to the two of you being together. How can you fall for the enemies' son?"

"Second Sister, you can't tell anyone about this. You have to keep it a secret!" Daniella pulled her second sister's hand and pleaded, "Please don't push Jack into trouble. I'll kill myself if he dies!"

Chapter 1284

Stupefied at Daniella's revelation, the speechless Venus felt like she was in an awkward predicament.

She gazed at Daniella before saying, "Third sister, I... I've just said something about it. How can I take it back, and how would our eldest sister not hate me for it if I did? Mind you, she's in a sticky situation that's hard to get out of!"

"But... But..." Daniella was left in a disarray, not knowing what to do.

Running thin on his patience, Second Young Master Hunt yelled, "Hey, hey, hey! What are the two of you speaking about over there?"

"It's... It's nothing!" Venus smiled embarrassingly and rejoined them with Daniella. "Second Young Master Hunt, you're a handsome gentleman and are the Hunt family's second young master. Are you afraid that no beautiful woman would like you? I' m sure that there are many talented women out there who'll want to marry you!"

Daniella immediately agreed to it. "That's right, Second Young Master! You're also a genius in cultivating pills and have a high fighting prowess, and I'm sure many beautiful ladies adore you. Why have eyes for my eldest sister?"

Second Young Master Hunt was taken aback at their words and, glancing at both Daniella and Venus, he gulped as he breathlessly speculated, "Are you two saying that you like me?"

That shocked Daniella as she quickly explained, “No, what we meant to say is that how can somebody like you have so few admirers, am I right? So there's no need for you to think of us, right?"

"That's right, Second Young Master. Look... I already have a lover, so you should forget about me. I'm also old, right?" Helena smiled embarrassingly.

"But there aren't many beauties like you. I like beauties and they like me, but I still like the three of you as you're all true beauties with individual characteristics!"

Second Young Master Hunt had no plans to give up.

"About that... Second Young Master, I've been with Jack for so long now, and I... I'm not a virgin anymore, and I've already done the deed with him. So... a prodigy like you don't have to have a deflowered woman like, don't you think so?" lied Helena through gritted teeth after making sure no one else was in the vicinity.

"I..." Jack was speechless, never expecting that the First Young Mistress Cabello would say such a thing to get rid of this Second Young Master Hunt. Was she not ruining her reputation?

"What about you? You still plan to deny it?" Helena rolled her eyes at Jack flirtatiously as she was afraid Jack would continue to refute. Her eyes seemingly quavered helplessly as she gazed at him, however.

Jack glanced at Second Young Master Hunt, noting that he indeed seemed peculiar. Apart from that, it seemed like this guy had his fair share of women by the tone of how Helena and the others spoke, and it would be a tragedy to see a beauty like Helena marrying such a man.

Sure enough, Second Young Master Hunt's expression darkened when he heard what Helena said. He had heard all this time that the three young mistresses of the Cabello family were sophisticated and did not have boyfriends. He adored Helena, head over heels for her.

That was why the news of her giving herself to the White family' s young master took him by surprise.

"I don't believe it." He was still furious after thinking it through." Hmph! The Cabellos have a bad relationship with the White family, and I don't believe that you' re actually with this guy, unless... unless you prove it to me!"

Chapter 1285

Helena's expression seemed to sour as she hugged Jack's arm, saying, "Isn't this...enough to prove it? How else do you want me to prove it when the two of us are acting this way?”

The last thing she expected was for the Second Young Master Hunt to insist, "Haha! Didn't you already give yourself to him? Do you two dare to kiss on the streets? If you don't, this means that you're lying to me!”

Second Young Master Hunt grew increasingly angry as he disdainfully added, "Helena Cabello, I'm the Hunt family's young master. If you dare toy with me, I'll ask your father for your hand in marriage tomorrow; it'd be best if our powerful families can come together. Should you disagree to our union, I'll have my father wipe out the entire Cabello family. Hmph!"

"You...” Helena reddened in anger, not expecting the Second Young Master Hunt to go to such extremes with the lives of the Cabello family members.

Second Young Master Hunt had both his hands behind his back as he arrogantly declared," Why? You don't dare to? Haha! If so, this means that you're toying with me. I'm not like the young masters from the other families: the women I have my eyes on can never escape. I don't care if you're not a virgin. I'll get a taste of the First Young Mistress Cabello, even if it means I have to interfere in a love affair!”

Helena was extremely angry yet helpless; things would be irreversible if such a man genuinely asked her father for her hand in marriage.

After all, everybody knew that the Hunt family had two sons, but the one the Hunt family master favored the most was his second son. His son was undeniably talented, but he, more importantly, knew how to cultivate pills. Had he been a more diligent person and trained more, his fighting prowess would have been higher than the eldest young master.

Although the eldest young master was not as talented as the second young master, he was not bad. As he did not like to speak much and loved training in silence, the eldest young master had an obviously higher fighting prowess compared to the second young master.

"Who says I don't dare to?" In her anger and bitterness, Helena turned and came toward Jack with gritted teeth.

Before Jack managed to react, she stood on her tiptoes and, wounding her arms around his neck, kissed him on the lips.

"No way!" Venus was extremely surprised when she saw this scene as she then glanced at Daniella, who was beside her, in a peculiar way.

She had no idea what to say as their eldest sister had actually...for...

"What...?" Daniella was speechless and she had a weird expression on her face.

However, she eventually understood what her eldest sister was experiencing. She would not want to marry the Second Young Master Hunt, too.

“Oh my god...” Many of the passersby on the street were stunned when they saw this. Nobody could ever imagine that the Cabello family's first young mistress would kiss a man in the streets.

Helena shyly took two steps backward after several kisses and blushingly stuttered," Alright, do... do you believe it now?"

“Never thought my goddess would be preempted by this guy!" Second Young Master Hunt obviously believed Helena after that. Fists balled tightly, he then turned to Jack as he resentfully growled, “Next-inline to be the White family's master, huh? Wait for it, young man. I won't kill you now, but you can't blame me during the competition!"

"Let's go!” Second Young Master Hunt waved his hand after he spoke and left with his people.

Chapter 1286-1288

Chapter 1286

Ptooey, ptooey, ptooey!

Helena spitted a few times right after the Second Young Master Hunt left the scene. She was so disgusted that she spitted and wiped her mouth several times.

“Haha! Missy, you’re really something. You’re willing to sacrifice your first kiss to frame me!”

Jack chuckled at the side. “This is the downfall of trying to harm people! Also, don’t forget, it was me who helped you out this time. You owe me a favor!” Jack added.

Helena shot Jack a deadly glare upon hearing his words. “From what I see, you’re taking advantage of me! And you actually dare to say that I owe you a favor?”

“Tsk, tsk, tsk. If it wasn’t for me, the Second Young Master Hunt would have brought his men and gone over to your Cabello family to ask for your hand in marriage. Shouldn’t you thank me for saving you from him?”

Jack sneered coldly. In Jack’s eyes, she brought the trouble upon herself.

Nonetheless, he quickly thought of something and wheeled his head, facing Daniella who stood not far away from them. The current Daniella was full of loath and hatred; her face sank into the deepest abyss and she could not be more unhappy. She pouted.

She saw with her own eyes this time, that Jack and Helena…

“Daniella, I did not expect that to happen. Your sister…”

Jack approached Daniella and explained to her in an embarrassed tone.

Daniella gave a bitter smile. She quickly calmed down and said,” Well, I know. It’s not like you initiate it, how can I blame you? Besides, my sister had no other options then. That Second Young Master hunt is too abominable!”

Speaking of which, Daniella’s face turned solemn. “The Second Young Master Hunt has now targeted you. I’m worried that he would play tricks against you during the tournament. We’re not clear with the rules of this tournament up until now. I’m afraid that he would talk to his father and plot against you! They might set unreasonable rules just to bring you down!”

Jack’s brow snapped together at Daniella’s concerns. “It shouldn’t be possible, right? After all, there are so many families participating in this competition. If the competition is bias against a certain family, it’d be unjust, and everyone would know! The Hunt family is the strongest among the eight reclusive families. If they really did that, their reputation and image would be ruined.

“Daniellita, why are you worried for this fella?”

Helena interjected when she saw her sister chatting happily with Jack. And when she thought of her kiss with Jack a moment ago, she was furious and disgusted. But, at the same time, she could not think of a better way to deal with the situation.

“Sis, it’s all your fault! If it weren’t for you, Jack wouldn’t have been targeted by the Second Young Master Hunt.”

Daniella looked at Helena in exasperation. Although Jack possessed excellent combat prowess and martial status, it would still be a headache if the Hunt family decided to target him. After all, the Second Young Master Hunt was much stronger than the Young Master of the Norman family

“I…I had no choice. Daniellita, do you truly want to see your big sister marry that fat *ss? Besides, didn’t you hear what he said? If I didn’t kiss Jack, he’d think that I was fooling him and he’ll make his father fight the Cabello family!”

Helena explained with an aggrieved expression on her face.” What else could I do? Although I’ve lost my first kiss and it was a big loss to me, I was out of wit at that moment. The Second Young Master Hunt is the apple of his father’s eyes! It’d be more difficult to deal with if they ordered an attack on the Cabello family!”

Chapter 1287

“Hmmm, but I don’t think that will happen. Although the Hunt family is strong, the Cabello family is not weak either. Thus, I believe that if the Hunt family were to attack the Cabello family, they’d experience a grave loss as well. And if the loss is too huge, it might jeopardize their number one position among the eight reclusive families!”

Jack chimed in after giving the matter some thoughts.

However, Helena rolled her eyes at Jack's analysis. "That's because you don't understand Master Hunt at all. The head of the Hunt family is a domineering and bossy person, it's just that he hasn't reached the ultimate god level. If there's someone on earth who can break through to the ultimate god realm, that someone would be Master Hunt. He has been at the peak of the true god realm for many years. His combat ability is no joke. His martial status is on par with two or even three martial practitioners whose combat prowess is at the peak of true god realm."

"Is he that strong?"

Jack was taken aback by Helene's words, and shock dawned upon his heart. No wonder the Second Young Master Hunt was so prideful and arrogant. Jack truly did not expect that the Hunt family would be this strong. They were stronger than he thought. It seemed that he had underestimated the Hunt family' s combat ability.

"Jack, please be careful. The tournament has yet to start and your White family is a first class family, the Second Young Master hunt will still have some scruples. So I bet he won't make a move against you now. But, perhaps, during the tournament, he won't be so nice!"

Daniella bit her rosy pink and alluring lips and said, "The Second Young Master Hunt is at the middle stage of the true god realm, and he has been stuck there for some time. His combat prowess is more powerful and stronger than my sister's." She paused and then added, "If he manages to break through to the late stage of the true god realm, his combat ability would be more frightening! What's scarier is that the Hunt family has powerful martial arts and techniques for them to train, and these arts and techniques are not something we can Compete with!"

"Daniella, thanks for worrying about me. I need to leave now."

It was awkward to stay there any longer. Hence Jack showed a small smile and bid the sisters goodbye.

“Sigh!”

Daniella breathed out a huge sigh. Her mood was affected. She then walked toward the direction of the hotel where she was staying. She was not in the mood for shopping right now.

“Daniellita is out of her mind. She knew that our Cabello family is not on good terms with the White family. After I did that, not only it got me out of trouble, but it’ll also create trouble for the White family, isn ‘t this a good thing? Why is she in such a bad mood?”

Helena and Venus were mumbling and complaining behind.

“Big sister, didn’t you know that Daniellita is fond of Jack? And that the two of them are actually a couple? It’s just that she dared not tell Father. And now that you ‘ve caused her lovely boyfriend to be in such a dangerous situation, how can she be in a good mood? Didn’t you see how worried she was for Jack?” Venus whispered into Helena’s ear.

Helena was completely dumbfounded. She remained silent and uttered, “The two of them…are a couple? Jesus Christ, just now I…” Her face distorted.

“Ahem, don’t worry. Daniellita won’t blame you. She saw the situation just now, and you had no better idea at that time.”

Venus immediately comforted Helena

On the other side, the Second Young Master Hunt entered his residence huffily and slammed the door behind loudly. He flipped his palm and a second-grade elementary pill appeared on his palm. “That White b*stard. Humph! Initially, I didn’t plan to participate in the tournament, but since he treated me that way, I’ll start training now and breakthrough to the late stage of the true god realm then I’ll kill all the geniuses with the surname White. I’ll let him know what the consequences are if you’ve offended me!”

Chapter 1288

It was said that the Second Young Master Hunt's talent in martial art was extraordinary. He managed to fully absorb the essence of the second-grade elementary pill at one shot. He had successfully broken through to the late stage of the true god realm.

Such talent was rare. With his current martial status and combat prowess, many family elders were not his match not to mention the young generation of geniuses. Besides, the Hunt family possessed excellent martial techniques and high-grade weapons.

Days passed by quickly.

Jack, who had returned to the hotel, was worried that the Second Young Master Hunt would find trouble with him. However, this guy was somewhat trustworthy and stuck to his promise that he would not.

Nonetheless, at this time, the head of the Cabello family. Alejandro Cabello, heard some news from the street.

He angrily commanded Helena's presence in his room. "Helena, what's wrong with you? When I was striding on the street, I heard people talking about the First Young Mistress of the Cabello family kissing the Young Master of the White family! You must supply me with a really good explanation this time!"

Helena was rendered speechless. She would not want any news about that incident to reach any ears of the Cabello family. She thought she could escape by not going out that frequently as there were not many people that day and little to no people knew Jack. Since the tournament was in a few days, she thought that it would keep them busy and they standing feud with the White family! Our relationship is not grave to an extent that we want to wipe out each other, but all along I don't want you to interact with any of them! There are skirmishes between the Cabellos and the White! Now, look at you, you've disgraced me!"

“Dad!”

Helena was speechless. “I really had no other choice at that time! I was pestered by the Second Young Master Hunt that day. That fella said he wanted to come to the Cabello family to ask for my hand in marriage! He asked me to marry him, won’t you feel angry too? I don’t want to marry him! I’d rather find a random person to get married to!” Helena stomped her feet angrily.

“What!”

Alejandro gasped at the new information; shock gripped him.

He remained silent for a moment before he nodded, “You ‘re telling me that the Second Young Master Hunt planned to come to our house and propose to you? And that’s why you lied to him by saying that you have a boyfriend? And it just so happened that Jack was there, so you used him and kissed him to make the other party believe in your claims?”

Helena bobbed her head. “Yes. I feel that this is a little mean because the target is on Jack’s now, but I was out of my wits at that time, I really don’t want to marry him! Besides, I was afraid that because of me, the Hunt family would come looking for trouble with the Cabello family. Although the Cabello family is strong, compared to the Hunt family, we’re like an ant before an elephant!”

Alejandro nodded after knowing the truth. “Helena, don’t take it to heart. It will pass. Indeed, it was a little cruel to Jack. After all, he saved your sister’s life before. But you’ve no other choice then, so please don’t give yourself too much pressure on this matter!”

Helena pursed her red lips and nodded slightly. “The Second Young Master Hunt warned Jack fiercely. He said that he’ll participate in the tournament and if he meets Jack, he’ll kill him!”

Chapter 1289

“I’m not sure about Jack’s martial status. If it’s high, it shouldn’t be that easy to kill him.” Alejandro responded after giving some thoughts on the matter.

“Daniellita said that Jack has reached the middle stage of the true god realm. Moreover, that fella’s talent is extremely extraordinary!”

At this moment, Helena’s thought ran back to the scene where she and Jack shared a kiss on the street. She could not help but blush at the thought. That was her first kiss; she never expected her first kiss would be taken away by Jack just like that.

The only thing that comforted Helena was that Jack was quite good-looking. If he were ugly and unsightly, Helena would have banged her head against the wall, feeling like she had lost something precious.

“Middle stage of the true god realm? His martial status is not bad at all. Hmmm. Why do I feel that his talent is much stronger than yours?”

Alejandro smiled bitterly. “The White family finally has an extraordinary martial genius. If they continue to grow like it, wouldn’t it be bad for us?”

Alejandro paused before continuing, “If the Second Young Master Hunt could defeat and kill Jack in the tournament, it might not be a bad thing at all. After all, we’re not on good terms with the White family, and we don’t know what the future is like. That brat came back from the secular world, and he managed to reach this state, which is incredibly talented. If he were to continue to improve, breaking through to the peak of the true god realm is not an impossible task!”

“Sigh! Do you think the White family will blame me for his death when the time comes? After all, I’m the culprit for making Jack the target of the Hunt family!”

Helena sighed aloud; she was overwhelmed by her conscience.

“Silly girl!”

Alejandro hastened to comfort.“ The world works in such a way that the weak are always the prey to the strong. You did nothing wrong. Besides, even if Jack was killed by the Hunt family, the murder is done during the tournament. Even if Nash White feels unhappy, he has to swallow his anger, because the tournament’s rules are set by many powerful families together. It doesn’t matter if Jack was the one who killed the other party or vice versa, both parties are not allowed to take revenge and pursue further!”

“But, the Second Young Master Hunt is not a kind man. I’m afraid that he will not only target Jack but also the rest of the men in the White family. If too many men from the White family die on that day, I don’t think Nash will sit aside and abide by the rules!”

Helena gave a dry smile. Although she knew that the Cabello family was not on good terms with the White family, she never wanted to stir up any trouble for the White family. It would be more troublesome in the future.

“All right, don’t overthink this matter anymore. You must not affect your heart and spirit. If it does, it will affect your future breakthrough to the next level, understand?”

Alejandro reminded Helena gently, then added, “Go back and rest early. Tomorrow we’ll depart in the morning for the tournament. Please prepare yourself and do your best in the tournament. After all, this is a matter of the Cabello family’s reputation!”

“Okay!”

Helena bobbed her head and left the room.

Time passed quickly. On the next morning, the major families among the hidden families, including the eight reclusive families, dozens of second-class families, and some third-class families had set off to the tournament. They headed straight to the Kobe Mountain outside the city.

Chapter 1290

“That’s so amazing! Young Master Jack, thank you so much! If it wasn’t for you, I wouldn’t have had the chance to break through to the peak of the true god realm!”

On the way to Kobe Mountain, the First Elder of the White family-Kenneth White-said with immense joy.

“Hehe, you’re welcome. It’s only a matter of time for you to break through to the peak of the true god realm. We’re all White, there’s nothing to thank me for!”

Jack chuckled and responded nonchalantly.

Nash-who was beside Fan was worried; his face sank.” Jack, I heard that you’ve offended the Second Young Master of the Hunt family, and the other party had even warned you about killing you in the tournament. So when the tournament starts, you have to be extremely careful and pay full attention to your opponent!” Nash said to Jack.

Jack nodded and smiled,” Father, don’t worry. My combat prowess and martial status are not low, it’s not easy for him to kill me. Besides, I have the ultimate-grade spiritual weapon, remember? If I can’t fight anymore, I’ll run. He can’t catch up with me.”

Nash felt relieved at Jack’s words and laughed, “Oh, you’re right! I almost forgot about the Weapon!”

“We don’t know how the tournament rules are going to be. But if that Second Young Master Hunt wants to fight against Young Master Jack in the tournament, it won’t be easy, right? After all, there are so many other contestants in the competition!”

Yolanda Lagorio-who had broken through from the early stage to the middle stage of the true god realm -gave her two cents after thinking about the whole situation.

“But, don’t forget this time the tournament’s rules are all set by the Hunt family. If they insist on fighting against Jack in the tournament, I don’t think we can avoid that!”

Nash let out a bitter smile and said, “In the past, we didn’t have to be careful with the Lagorio family; they even helped us in the tournament. But this year, everything is different. We not only need to guard against the Hunt family but also the Lagorio family. I’m afraid that we’ll experience a big loss if they target our men!”

Titus White-who was beside them-opined with a gloomy face. The young generation of the White family possessed good talent. Within these two months, several young geniuses gained breakthroughs in their martial arts and techniques; the overall combat prowess was one level above than before.

However, the White family still seemed feeble compared to the other seven families whose foundation and heritage were built decades ago.

In the past, the White family had help from the Lagorio family in these tournaments, plus the other seven families tried not to offend each other, hence the loss was not big in such tournaments.

But the situation was not quite the same this year. Not only the White family had to fight without the help of the Lagorio family, but they have also offended many people from first -class families. Even worse, some second-class families who were at a similar level with the White family, could not wait to pull them down from the first-class family status. This time, the crisis that the White family had to face was a hundred times worse than before.

“Everyone, please be careful and be fully focused during the tournament! Several young masters from the Norman family seem to dislike Young Master Jack as well. So, we have to put our guards up against the Norman family too!”

Titus reminded the group with a bitter smile after realizing something important.

Yule White, on the other hand, pouted and expressed in an exasperated tone, “It’s not easy for me to break through to the late stage of the semi-god realm. Hmph! I thought I would be able to achieve good results this time, but looking at this situation, this tournament is big trouble for us!”

Beth White laughed out loud at the side, “Yule, don’t think too much, okay? How much better results can you get? It'd be considered fortunate if we were able to defeat some of those second-class families. Our White family has always been at the bottom of the eight reclusive families' list. We were at the bottom in the past, so I think it’ Il be the same this year too. As for the Lagorio family, nah, they won’t be able to defeat us!”

“Sister Beth, I’m truly envious of you! You’ve broken through to the early stage of the true god realm. It’d be great if I could break through to the true god realm as well!”

Yule stared at Beth with an envious expression on her face.

“There’s nothing to be envious of because I’m older than you! You, sooner or later, will break through to the true god realm!”

Chapter 1291

“Right, the best I could do is to break through to the peak of the true god realm. After that, I can’t go any further, so I’ll be waiting for you there. After all, the ultimate god realm is just a myth; it’s too unreliable; it’s completely legendary. If there’s really a way to reach the ultimate god level, I think we would have found it already!”

“Hmmm… about the ultimate god realm, since everyone is talking about it, I think maybe it’ s true!”

Jack, however, smiled and chimed in, “Only that the route to this ultimate god realm is extremely difficult. Perhaps, the link that connects to the ultimate god realm had broken during the passing down. But I do think the ultimate god realm did exist in the past." He added.

Just when the group was happily exchanging opinions, they had arrived at the entrance to the forest under Kobe Mountain.

Outside the forest, there was a spacious meadow. Many families had arrived and gathered at the field in front of the forest.

"The White family is here!"

A man, who sat on the grass, saw that the White family had arrived, quickly announced their arrival to the others.

"Hehe! I heard that Lance of the White family is highly likely dead. And the head of the White family-Nash White-decided to make his illegitimate son the heir of the head of the White family. That illegitimate son has good talent; the White family is actually solely relying on their younger geniuses to get such a position!"

An old man chortled aloud and said to the people next to him.

"His talent is indeed excellent.

But that brat offended the Second Young Master of the Hunt family! So, I think they're in big trouble this time!"

A young man responded with a cold laugh.

"What? No way! How could he offend the Second Young Master Hunt? They don't even know each other, right?”

The young man’s speech had sparked interest in the surrounding people.

“It happened like this…”

The young man gathered the people, only then he started telling everyone what he had heard.

“Tsk, tsk, tsk. Really? I’m so jealous of that brat! He got a kiss from Helena Cabello, the First Young Mistress of the Cabello family? Jesus f*cking Christ! Any of the young mistresses of the Cabello family is my dream woman! Any of them can be called the queen of beauty! And that brat was…was actually kissed by one of them!”

Another young man expressed his jealousy upon listening to it.

“Hehe! What’s there to be envious of? Soon that brat will be sent to hell. If he is dead, it’d be useless even if he had a beauty by his side! Now, which one is more important? Life or beautiful woman?”

The old man from before said with a laugh.

“If I was kissed by such a beautiful woman, I’m willing to die a hundred times!”

The young man, on the other hand, said smilingly,” Moreover, didn’t this young man tell us about it? That Helena Cabello is no longer pure. Just thinking of the scene makes my every cell dance excitedly! Sigh! That brat is really lucky to have such a beautiful girl!” He drooled and further added, “Besides, that brat is the heir of the head of the White family, the Second Young Master Hunt wouldn’t dare to kill him without any reason, right? Also, they have to meet each other in the tournament for that to happen, right?”

After hearing that, the old man nodded in agreement. “This is true. Although he’s being targeted by the Hunt family, his social status and position is still noble. As long as they don’t meet each other in the tournament, there shouldn’t be a problem!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1292-1294

Chapter 1292

“Look, over there, the Cabello family is here!”

Just as Jack and the others had found a place to sit down, the field once again became lively due to the arrival of the Cabello family.

Jack gazed in a specific direction, indeed, the Cabello family slowly appeared in his sight not far away.

“Heh, this is my first time seeing the three sisters of the Cabello family! I can’t wait to see them!”

Some young men had long heard that the three sisters of the Cabello family were good-looking and alluring. Their eyes could hardly contain their excitement and delight.

“They’re all beautiful, stunning! But it’s a pity that the First Young Mistress is taken by a man called Jack. I’m so jealous!”

Some men, on the other hand, felt pity and lamented.

“Sigh! The First Young Mistress is not young anymore, she’s almost in her thirties, and should actually get married by now. Such a woman, her beauty is already in full bloom. I’m truly jealous of that brat! It looks like what we have left is the Second Young Mistress or the Third Young Mistress, we’ve to find a way to please them!”

A fat guy drooled and swallowed hard just by looking at Daniella and the others across the field.

Several guys, who stood beside the fatty, stared at the pig-like fatty with a disgusted look on their faces. With a pig-like face, it was already considered as fortunate if he could find a wife, not to mention to have the Second or the Third Young Mistress Cabello as his wife. He was like an idiot talking about his fantasy.

The Cabello family chose a place not far away from the White family and sat down to take a break.

Complicated feelings and thoughts dawned upon Helena when she saw Jack from afar.

She did not think much about it when the incident happened that day. But within these two days, she replayed the scene again and again in her mind and pondered on it, realizing that Jack helped her with no other intention.

She falsely accused Jack and Jack tried to refute it at first. Jack could have continued to refute by saying that they were not in a relationship after she forcibly kissed him.

But Jack did not do so. He stood there and remained silent and let the show continue, which eventually made the Second Young Master Hunt believe that they were a real couple, and in the end, he left the scene huffily.

If on that day, Jack insisted that he had nothing to do with Helena, the Second Young Master Hong would have not believed what Helena had claimed that they were a couple.

If that truly happened, the Second Young Master Hunt would certainly be angry at Helena, blaming her for fooling him. Then he might stir up trouble with the Cabello family by proposing a marriage with Helena. And if the Cabello family were to disagree, a fight would be born.

“What the heck was he thinking that day? Why did he choose to help me at the very last Moment?”

Helena murmured to herself, her eyes fixated at Jack, full of dazzlement..

“First Young Mistress Cabello, what a surprise!”

Several men from the Norman family approached her out of the blue.

Keith Norman gazed at Helena and the corners of his mouth curled upward, forming a perfect arc. “Strange. Before we came to Kobe City, we saw that the Third Young Mistress Cabello was close with the Young Master of the White family. Tsk, tsk. It’s really out of my imagination that the First Young Mistress is also Jack’s girlfriend?” He exclaimed loudly on purpose.

Daniella was still feeling salty in her heart, although she knew that her sister had no other choice under that circumstance. “Keith Norman, what does this have to do with you? Who is close with Jack is totally none of your business!” Daniella shot up from the ground and said in anger.

Keith did not expect Daniella to be so disrespectful to him, hence he decided not to give in. “I’m just curious. You see, you said before that you and Jack are good friends, extremely ‘good’ friends. And according to the timeline, your sister has not known Jack for that long, right? Should be later than you, right? Then how did their relationship develop so quickly?”

Chapter 1293

“How does this concern you? Can ‘t they fall in love at first sight? What’s wrong with that?”

Daniella huffed. She was so angry that she could feel anger thrummed through her veins. She was already upset with the incident, who knew Keith Norman would deepen the wound in her heart by trying to pick a fight.

Helena sensed the enraging anger from her sister and felt sorry for her. She only thought of getting rid of that damned Young Master Hunt that day and did not expect Jack to be Daniella's boyfriend. If she had known it earlier, she would not have done that.

Only two people knew about the relationship between Daniella and Jack, which were herself and Venus. They did not dare to tell Alejandro; they could only pretend as if they did not know anything

"Heh, I intend to clarify about that. Your sister is so beautiful. It 's such a pity for her to be with an illegitimate b*stard."

Keith sneered, smilingly. "To my surprise, it turns out that it's not so difficult to get the daughters of the Cabello family!"

"Haha! He's right! All along we thought that the Cabello ladies are hard to pursue. They seemed distant and full of pure and noble aura. We didn't think that they're actually sl*tty in their bones! And get laid by the young master of the White family!"

Several guys chimed in and mocked like sour grapes. Jealousy rushed through their mind, especially those men who fell head over heels for the First Young Mistress Cabello.

Many of them looked at Jack fiercely as if Jack had taken their wives away, wanting to tear him apart.

"What's wrong? The male lead of this drama, why don't you come out and give a speech? You can talk about your triumph feeling for winning the Cabello ladies."

Here, the Second Young Master of the Norman family-Joshua Norman-interrupted and looked down his nose at Jack." You're composed, aren't you? Do you know how many men here are envious of you?" He mocked.

“Jack, are you and Helena really in a relationship?”

Nash, who sat next to Fan had his brows snapped together and asked, “You didn’t meet her before, did you? I think if you’ve not met her before, you should stand out and explain yourself clearly. A lot of men are fond of Helena, and I’m afraid that it’ll become a disadvantage to you in the tournament, although some of them may not be your opponent!”

Nevertheless, Jack sneered nonchalantly, “Father, there’s nothing to explain. The mouth is on their faces, we can’t control their mouth, so they can say what they like. Helena had a hard time then, if I stand out at this time, the Cabello family…”

“You…”

Nash was tongue-tied at Jack’s answer. From what he heard, he realized that Helena and Jack were definitely not in a relationship, and to get rid of Young Master Hunt at that time, Helena had no other choice but to kiss Jack.

But if Jack did not stand out and explain, the White family would be in trouble!

“Sigh! Fine, you’re not young anymore. I’ll support you anyway!”

When Nash thought of what he owed Jack and Joan over the years, he smiled and gave his support.

He did not blame Jack; if his son chose to do it, he must have a reason. Besides, if it were not for Jack, he would probably be a cold body by now. Hence, his view toward life was simple, as long as he and his family could live peacefully and harmoniously every day, he was content.

“Don’t you blame me?”

Jack was stunned at his father's reaction. He was surprised that Nash did not reprimand him.

"Haha, you're my son, and as a Father, I believe in you and I support you. I don't blame you!"

Nash patted on Jack's shoulder, chortling.

Chapter 1294

Warmth spread across Jack's chest. He smiled. "Don't worry. The First Elder is already at the peak of the true god status. I'm not too shabby either. When I've broken through the advanced stage of the true god status, we won't have to be afraid of the Cabello family or the Hunt family anymore!"

Nash bobbed his head. Now that the First Elder had achieved the peak of the true god status, their fighting strength had been significantly increased.

More importantly, although Jack had just achieved the intermediate stage of the true god status, he had a keen fighting talent. Along with that ultimate-grade spiritual tool, the White family would grow even stronger if Jack continued to improve his martial level.

"Oh my. I never thought that he would be such a coward. Hah. I really don't understand why First Young Mistress Cabello would like a coward!"

When Keith saw that Jack did not supply an answer, he became even bolder in his taunting, not caring about the White family at all.

"Why doesn't he try to explain himself?"

Alejandro looked at Jack, frowning. His daughter was with Jack not because they were in a relationship, and the White family was on bad terms with his family. Logically, Jack should explain everything. If Jack refused to admit to anything, not only would the Cabello family suffer, Helena would lose face as well.

Yet although Jack was being wrongfully accused, he chose to keep silent. While Alejandro was plenty confused, he was actually delighted as well.

“Do you have a death wish,

Keith?”

Helena could not bear to watch on any longer. “Whatever relationship I have with him, and the type of men I like-none of it is your business!” she huffed. “Are you telling me that I can’t be in love?”

“Tsk tsk. You’re mad because we said that your man is a coward?”

Joshua stood up as well, grinning. “Young Miss Cabello, we did not mean to be rude. But you and your sisters are the captors of our hearts. And Jack is an illegitimate son from the mortal realm—a cat trying to be a lion is still a cat at heart. We don’t want a beautiful woman like you to marry a dog!”

“You…”

Helena was so furious that her face purpled. She clenched her teeth and strode over to sit together with Daniella and the others. “You’d better pray that you don’t run into me in the competition. I’ll make sure you see red otherwise!”

“A dog?”

Nobody expected Jack, who had been keeping quiet all this time, to slowly stand up with a cold smile on his face.

“What’s wrong? Hit a nerve there once it’s about you?”

Joshua gave a cold smile and clenched his fists. “If you’re that angry, why don’t we have a show of strength?”

“All right then. I have no right to deny the great Young Master Norman a duel!”

Jack also gave a cold smile. In a flash, he flew into the sky.

“So fast!”

Many of the youth exclaimed when they saw this.

“That speed is definitely one of the true god status. He definitely has talent. No wonder he’s the heir of the White family!”

Some of the young masters from second-class families stared at him with admiration.

“He may be strong, but the second young master of the Norman family has already broken into the intermediate stage of the true god status. Can this genius from the White family match up to him?”

Someone flashed a bitter smile.” That punk from the White family will only invite trouble now, since he was unable to rein his anger. Heh. He’s too reckless!”

“No way about it. You probably wouldn’t be able to hold your anger in either, if someone told you that you were a coward with a finger jabbing into your nose. What sane person would tolerate that?”

Chapter 1295-1297

Chapter 1295

Someone spoke in a helpless tone.

“All right. You’re less of a coward than I thought!”

Delight sparked in Joshua when he saw that Jack had boldly agreed to the duel. He flew into the sky as well.

However, he quickly thought of something: there was an ultimate-grade spiritual tool in the White family’s possession. It did not matter if it belonged to Jack or Nash, the latter would definitely pass it to the former in fear for his son’s safety. Just to give that extra boost of power during the competition.

Even if Jack were at the beginning stage of the true god status, he would be tricky to handle with that ultimate-grade tool.

“Heh. I think you like to look down on others!”

“Hey, why don’t we just use our fists for this? No spiritual tools.”

No one thought that Joshua would say that after thinking for a while.

Jack’s brows drew together. He did not know whether to laugh or cry. That fellow was actually afraid that he would bring out the ultimate-grade tool and beat him into a pulp.

“Sure!”

Jack nodded his head and clenched his fists, concentrating his chi.

“The competition hasn’t started yet, Joshua. Just spar for a little while and don’t beat him to death. Just give him a good enough beating to teach him a lesson!”

Master Norman said, chuckling.

His three sons were all very competitive, and they were about as strong as the three young daughters of the Cabello family.

He even had the thought of marrying his sons to the Cabello family’s daughters, then they would forge a powerful alliance. They would not even be afraid of the Hunt family then.

Furthermore, it would be of great benefit to him if his three sons married all three daughters of the Cabello family. After all, they were all talented fighters as well.

He never thought that Jack would become Helena’s boyfriend. That news displeased him greatly, and he had told his son yesterday to find an opportunity to kill Jack during the competition.

That was because killing was allowed in this competition. The elders and masters of the families were not to interfere.

“Don’t worry, Father. This punk doesn’t know his place. I’ll make sure to rearrange his teeth for him!”

Joshua spoke, grinning confidently.

After he said that, he tightened his fists and chi poured out of his body. In a blink of an eye, he appeared before Jack and attacked him.

“Hmph!”

Jack merely emitted a soft harrumph at his opponent’s attack. He met Joshua’s fist with his own, and the two fists, enhanced with chi, collided.

Bang!

A powerful burst of energy surged from the contact point of the fists.

Chapter 1296

The two fighters at the intermediate stage of the true god status were very powerful, and had thick auras of chi. The frightening explosion of energy resembled a thunderclap, releasing an ear-deafening noise. Many people jumped to their feet in shock, staring at the sky, stupefied.

“No way. That guy didn’t get blown away!”

Darryl had thought that Jack would be knocked out by his son with a single fist and sustain serious injuries. Yet after holding on for two seconds, his face began to pale. It seemed that Jack was about as strong as his son.

“That guy!”

Helena stared at Jack, lips parted in shock.

“I told you he was conserving his strength, Sis. After all, he wouldn’t want to show his true potential with so many people watching!”

Daniella watched her sister, then lifted her head, pleased with herself. Any man she had her eyes on would have some form of substance.

“No way. That guy is stronger than Joshua?”

Helena was even more taken aback. No wonder Daniella had taken a liking to him. It seemed that he was far more than what he showed on the surface.

At this moment, Jack’s lips curved sardonically. He attacked once more, and his fearsome strength completely suppressed Joshua’s. The other man spat out blood and flew backward, landing a good few hundred meters away.

“Pfft!

A spray of blood came out of Joshua’s mouth as soon as he landed on the ground. Color leached from his face.

“Are you still able to continue fighting, Second Young Master?”

Jack gave a wan smile. He peered down at this opponent from high above, radiating a superior aura.

Jack’s gaze was practically humiliating Joshua.

Joshua gritted his teeth and clenched his fists, but he was well aware that he was no match for Jack. It would be troublesome if he brought out that ultimate-grade tool.

“No wonder the First Young Mistress Cabello likes you. You are very capable and possess great ability after all!”

Joshua stood up and glared at Jack. “I won’t forget this, you punk. We’ll stop our little duel here. I need to conserve my energy for the actual competition, then we’ll see who ‘s stronger!”

“Fine by me!”

“Young Master Jack is amazing!”

The White family members were all delighted. Jack’s fight greatly boosted their reputation.

Before, the White family members did not dare to speak much at every competition and tried to keep a low profile. The more they did that though, the other seven reclusive families all thought of them as easy pickings, and paid no mind to them.

The White family was far stronger than the second-class families causing some of the second-class families to harbor resentment toward them. On the other hand, the other seven first -class families looked down on them. They were basically stuck in the middle, neither here nor there.

Today, Jack showed that they were strong

“Hah, your brother couldn’t beat me the other day and said that he ‘d wait till the competition. And now you’re saying the exact same thing.”

Jack laughed at Joshua. “You two truly are brothers, spewing the same vicious words.”

“Don’t you dare trash talk others! My son doesn’t want to fight you any longer, yet you’re still making fun of him. I should put you in your place!”

Chapter 1297

Darryl felt embarrassed. His sons were all geniuses, and more importantly, they were one of the stronger ones of the eight first-class families.

Yet his son had lost to an illegitimate son from the White family, who came from the mortal realm, no less. That fact alone had embarrassed him enough, but he never thought that Jack would dare to make fun of his son.

He was someone who have always protected his family. He quickly flew forward and clenched his fist, rushing toward Jack.

Whoosh!

On the White family's side, the First Elder also flew forward and stood before Jack, his fist blocking Daryll's.

"It's just a duel between youth. Don't tell me that the Norman family is a sore loser?"

The First Elder's eyes were ablaze with anger. The two backtracked a few meters after their fists collided.

"No way!"

Darryl was shocked, and his eyes nearly popped out of their sockets. If he recalled correctly, the First Elder of the White family was only at the advanced stage of the true god status. Sure, he was not using his full strength just now, but he was at the peak of the true god status. The White family's First Elder should not have been able to take even a simple swipe from him.

"He has attained the peak of the true god status?"

Darryl quickly thought of the possibility, and his face blanched.

He had always thought that the White family only had a single fighter who was at the peak of the true god status. That was why the other families looked down on them.

After all, even the sixth or seventh strongest first-class families had at least two fighters at the peak of the true god status.

If Kenneth had truly broken into the peak of the true god status, it would mean that the White family was comparable to some of the weaker first-class families.

“You do have a good eye, Master Norman. I was lucky enough to break into the peak of the true god status recently, and I have grew several times stronger. I wouldn’t have been able to take your punch otherwise.”

Kenneth burst into laughter. At this moment, everybody’s attention was on him, and he was basking in the glory.

“Kenneth White has achieved the peak of the true god status?”

At this moment, the Lowe family members had just arrived in time to witness all that was happening. Trenton’s face immediately soured.

After all, they have since viewed the White family as their mortal enemy. If Kenneth had broken

Into the peak of the true god status, the gap between them and the White family would further widen. Who knew when they would be able to avenge his daughter now.

He had thought that the Cabello family were also mortal enemies with the White family and had considered joining forces with the former to go against the latter. He never thought that just a few days ago, First Young Mistress Cabello would actually turn out to be a couple with Jack.

If this was the case, he did not know what to do anymore.

Fortunately, Jack had offended Second Young Master Norman. This sparked delight in his heart. Perhaps there was a way to plot revenge through this.

He had been happy. Then he arrived here and learned that the White family's First Elder had actually broken into the peak of the true god status. It felt as though his heart had been run over by a freight train.

"Heh, Master Lowe, if you can do it, why can't I?"

Kenneth could not help but smile when he noticed Trenton's darkening expression.

"Tsk tsk. Before, we would be hard-pressed to hear news of someone suddenly breaking into the peak of the true god status over a year and a half. Now, why do we have two such specimens today!"

At this moment, the Lancaster family also flew over on a carpet. A beautiful middle-aged woman spoke with a small smile.

Chapter 1298-1300

Chapter 1298

“Long time no see, Master Lancaster!”

Nash immediately stood up when he saw the Lancaster family’s master. He clapped his hands in a fist-to-palm salute and smiled faintly.

The Lancaster family members leaped down from the flying carpet, and Master Lancaster kept the carpet. “Master White, long time no see. I’ve heard about what happened to your family,” she said, smiling. “I never thought that the person who shared your bed would be the one to poison you. How frightening!”

Here, the middle-aged woman looked at Trenton. “More importantly, somebody thinks that his daughter is not at fault at all, and even nursed a grudge against your family,” she insinuated. “Tsk tsk. He truly knows no shame!”

“Who are you talking about, Shelby? Don’t push your boundaries!”

Trenton was so furious that he clenched his fists and gritted his teeth.

“What? You want to make an enemy out of the Lancaster family?”

Shelby’s brows furrowed. “I never pointed out names, but you react so strongly to my words,” she said, a cold smile on her lips. “Does this mean you’re owning up?”

“You…”

Trenton clenched his jaw. The Lancaster family was at the bottom rung of the eight reclusive families- only faring slightly better than the White family. Even then, they only had two fighters who were at the peak of the true god status, and one of them had only achieved the breakthrough last year.

Perhaps it was because of that the Lancaster and the White families had a strong relationship; they often helped each other out.

Trenton was angry, but he knew that the Lagorio family was not even considered as one of the eight first -class families but one of the better second-class families. That was why he could do nothing but swallow his dissent.

“Hah. Almost everyone is here!”

At last, the Hunt family arrived as well. The old man of the Hunt family laughed as he stepped on a flying sword, clearly in good spirits. He radiated otherworldly energy.

“Only the George family and the Xenos family has yet to arrive. There are also a few third-class families who aren’t here!”

Trenton immediately raised his hands into a fist-to-palm salute when he saw them flying over, speaking reverently toward Master Hunt.

Nash was internally speechless when he saw all this. It was way too obvious that Trenton intended to cozy up to the Hunt family.

“Mmph!”

Old Master Hunt nodded his head. Then he swiveled it in the direction of the White family. “I heard that Lance died, Nash," he said, frowning. "Did you find an illegitimate son to come back?"

Nash stepped forward and did a fist-to-palm salute. "Greetings, Master Hunt. We still have no idea if my eldest son is dead or alive. We're still searching for him," he said.

"Several other families are also searching for their sons. More than half have turned up dead, but I decided to keep searching for another month!"

"So you'll give up after a month, Nash? He's still your son. You can't give up so easily even if my daughter offended you. That's my grandson. You-you're too cruel!"

Trenton was suddenly enraged when he heard this. "If you won' t find him, I will!"

Chapter 1299

"Master Lagorio, it's not that I do not want to prolong the search, but we've been doing it for months now. You know that the forest is enchanted and dangerous. I didn't manage to go into its deepest parts, but we've scouted nearly every inch of the forest. If we don't find them, they're most likely dead!"

Nash gave a bitter smile. "Lily wronged me, but Lance is still my son. Of course, I want him to be alive, and of course, I want to find him. Whether he follows me or Lily is up to him then. I will respect his decision!"

"Heh. You're just putting up a show. If I were you, I would have sent the White family members into the deepest White to find him!"

Trenton chuckled, expression disdainful. "Or are the White family members afraid of dying?"

"It's not a question of fearing death. Everybody knows that no one walks out of that forest alive. I don't want to throw the other family members' lives away just like that!"

“Why don’t you go in and look for him then since you love your grandson so much!” Nash snapped, the tips of ears reddening with fury. “I won’t stop you!”

Jack could not help but frown as he took in all that was said. He never thought that a place as mysterious and dangerous as that existed in this world.

“All right. All right!”

At this moment, the old master of the Hunt family grew impatient. “Everybody is here today to participate in our competition which happens only once every three years. They are not here to see the two of your families fight,” he interrupted.” Settle your disputes on your own. Don’t let it affect today’s competition!”

After Old Master Hunt said that, he turned toward Nash, “I’m curious as to what your illegitimate son looks like. I heard that he stole the heart of First Young Mistress Cabello not long after he came to Kobe city. He must have quite the charisma!”

The corners of Jack’s mouth twitched. He stepped forward and did a fist-to-palm salute.” Greetings, Old Master Hunt. I am Jack White!”

Old Master Hunt appraised Jack for a while. “Heh, you are rather handsome,” he said, smiling.“ No wonder you’ve earned the favor of the First Young Mistress Cabello!”

The old man had a smile on his face, but Jack did not sense any warmth from it at all.

This was Second Young Master Hunt’s grandfather. Since he knew what was going on between Jack and Helena, that meant he knew the poisonous words that Second Young Master Hunt had spewed. Logically speaking, the old man should be rankling at him, but there was no trace of malice in his expression.

The old man was definitely an old fox who hid his blades beneath a winsome smile. A frightening person -someone to stay away from at all costs.

Old Master Hunt did not wait for an answer before continuing, “It’ s been a long time since we’ve had a cause for celebration, what about this. If you and First Young Mistress Cabello are still alive by the end of this competition, I’ll help you two organize a wedding in a month. And I’ll be your guest of honor. How does that sound?”

“What!”

Helena’s expression crumpled when she heard this. It seemed that the old man did not believe that she and Jack were in a romantic relationship, so he said that on purpose to test them. If they did not admit to it, it would mean that they had played his grandson. The old man would be absolutely furious at them then.

Here, Helena’s head spun. This single lie had landed them in a huge pit now.

There was no way she could marry Jack. She had only just met him. He was not a bad person, but she had no feelings whatsoever for him. Furthermore, he was Daniella’s boyfriend. There was no way she could just snatch her man.

“No way! I don’t agree to this!”

Daniella panicked when she heard this. She jumped onto her feet and huffed.

Chapter 1300

“You don’t?”

Old Master Hunt frowned; he had not expected this.

“Why isn’t she agreeing to it?”

Many people were taken aback as well. It was clear that Old Master Hunt was being kind, and he wanted a cause to celebrate for-that was why he had offered to organize the wedding for Jack and Helena. It was a point of pride to have an eminent person such as Old Master Hunt giving his blessings.

Yet Third Young Mistress Cabello was disagreeing.

“Sister!”

Venus jumped in shock and immediately tugged on Daniella’ s sleeve. She shot her younger sister a look. Everything would go down the drain if the girl told everyone that Jack was her boyfriend Daniella had been overtaken by emotion just now. She had spoken without thinking.

With Venus’ reminder, she finally understood the gravity of the situation. She rolled her eyes instead. “My sister just met him twice or thrice, and they fell in love at first sight,” she said. “I don’t think that warrants a wedding just yet.”

Venus heaved a sigh of relief.” That’s right. No need to rush.” She smiled as she played along.” We’ll know if they’re suitable to be a married couple sooner or later. What if they find out that they have conflicting personalities?”

Helena also chipped in, “That’s right. Thank you for your offer, Old Master Hunt, but I’ve only just met Jack. We’ve just started a relationship, and we don’t know what will happen in the future. It’s too soon for us to get married. I never thought about it myself!”

“That sounds great. I might have a chance if they break up later!”

A young master from a second-class family suddenly spoke excitedly after he heard that.

The fellow beside him gave a wry smile. “Heh. Dream on. There are plenty of geniuses from first-class families that even she doesn’t care about. When will someone from a second-class family like you get a chance?”

That young master folded his arms before him. “Don’t speak so soon. Jack may be a young master from a first-class family, but his position isn’t all that prominent either. He’s an illegitimate son plucked from the outside world. I even heard that he was a live-in son-in-law before!”

“No way. He was a live-in son-in – law? How embarrassing. For a young master of the eminent White family to go to the mortal realm and be a live-in son-in-law-that’s worse than torture. If it were up to me, I’d rather stay single forever than become a live-in son-in-law!”

Quite a few youths heard this and began casting sympathetic or disdainful looks at Jack.

“Hah. Interesting, interesting!”

Second Young Master Hunt, who was staring at Helena with a grin on his face, finally spoke up.

He took a few steps forward. “So you and Jack only met twice or thrice? It’s fine if you get into a relationship with him after meeting just a few times, but giving your first time to him? Aren’t you being too careless?”

Chapter 1301-1303

Chapter 1301

The last time Helena said that she was Jack’s girlfriend and that she was no longer a virgin, Second

Young Master Hunt, who had been infatuated with her, was devastated. A beautiful flower like her had been tainted by someone else just like that? Every time he thought about it, he simply felt furious!

"No way. This – this is such an important thing. And you…"

Many young women stared at Helena. A woman's first time was precious, and no lady would give it away just like that.

Furthermore, the Cabello family was a first-class family, and Helena was the first daughter of their master.

No one thought that she would just…

"I'm fine with it. Even if the child isn't mine, it's fine if she's willing to marry me!"

Many men who had liked Helena all spoke unabashedly.

It was evident that a woman of Helena's caliber was hard to find.

Helena's expression soured. She had spun this story because she wanted to wrench herself out of Second Young Master Hunt's grip by breaking his heart. She never thought that he'd be so shameless to say something like that before so many families. He just shamed her to no end.

Alejandro's face flushed. He knew why his daughter did this, so all he could do was grit his teeth through all of it.

Helena's eyes reddened, and the tip of her nose turned hot. She barely kept the tears from spilling. She had never felt so suppressed before.

She glared at Second Young Master Hunt. “This is my business, Second Young Master Hunt. You don’t have a say in anything. You can think that I have no morals, but you didn’t need to say anything in public, right?” she said. “Heh. Because you did this, my opinion of you has lowered even further. It doesn’t matter if I marry Jack or some other man in the future. But I’ll never be with a man like you!”

The corners of Second Young Master Hunt’s mouth twitched violently. His expression immediately darkened. If she said that, it meant that any man she would meet was stronger than him.

Her words truly caused embarrassment to Second Young Master Hunt. Many people looked at him and whispered among themselves.

Master Hunt too felt embarrassed. They had always thrown their weight around before, but he never thought that Helena would actually say something so shameful toward the Hunt family and criticize his son just like that.

Still, it was true that his son should not have said something like that out loud and shame the Cabello family’s daughter. It was not very respectful of him. It was no wonder that she was mad.

He tried to smile. “What now? We came for a competition, and no one can predict the matters of the heart. Anyway, youngsters nowadays are often impulsive. Heh. So it’s normal that they’re together after that one moment of impulse!”

After he said that, he purposely shot his son a glare. “Tyrell, apologize to First Young Mistress Cabello. You have no say in who she chooses to love.”

Tyrell took a step forward and raised his hands into a reluctant fist-to-palm salute. “First Young Mistress Cabello, I wasn’t thinking just now. I was just surprised because you had been abstinent for over twenty, almost thirty years, and I never thought that you would bloom so fast. I was just surprised. I had no intention of belittling you. Don’t take this to heart!”

Helena's features were set in stone, and the backs of her eyes burned as she stared at the grass. That was no apology. He acted as though he had all the power in the world. It just made her even madder.

Chapter 1302

Helena's actions were clearly sullying Master Hunt's reputation. It made him feel awkward as if he did not know how to exit the stage.

Jack furrowed his brows. He knew that they could not go on like this. The Hunt family would definitely hold a grudge because of this.

The Cabello family members did not know what to do either. All of them tried to flash indicative glances at Helena, but she kept staring at the ground, refusing to look up.

After a few seconds of awkward silence, Jack boldly walked over and took her hand, her eyes widened in surprise.

Helena was taken aback; she could not help but withdraw her hand.

Jack tightened his grip instead and gave her a small smile. "No need to throw a temper anymore, Helena," he said gently. "Second Young Master Hunt has already apologized. He did not seem very sincere, but it' s already a good thing that he chose to say sorry!"

Helena's cheeks reddened, and panic gripped her. This man dared to call her by her first name?

She quickly recovered and matched his smile. Then she spoke to Second Young Master Hunt, "All right, all right. I'm not a petty person. I just hope that you won't react so badly the next time. Even your father knows that youths nowadays should be more open!"

After she said that, she rolled her eyes at Jack. Her antics added depth to her character, and many young men sighed in admiration.

“Don’t worry, Helena. I’ll be by your side no matter what happens!”

Only then did Jack release her hand and stood to the side.

Alump lodged itself in Daniella’ s throat when she saw all that, but she also heaved an internal sigh of relief. If she did not know better, she could not tell that the two were putting on a show for everyone to see.

At least Jack’s words proved that they were a couple-it would shut the brat’s mouth for now.

“Tsk tsk. It’s unwise to be so affectionate before everyone, no? It’ll be a brutal competition later. Who knows if you two lovebirds will even survive!”

The first young master of the Hunt family had been watching everything silently from the side. He radiated a haughty aura.

“Don’t worry. I’m not that powerful, but I believe that it shouldn’t be a problem for us to survive!”

Jack just gave an impassive smile at his disdainful words, as if he did not care about them at all.

“Hah. Good. I like confident people like you!”

First Young Master Hunt laughed and continued, “This way, it’d be all the more delightful if I have you as my opponent later!”

After the whole hubbub, the George family and the Ximenes family also arrived.

The George family was a lot weaker than the Hunt family, and the Ximenes family was only slightly weaker than the former. The two families were one of the stronger ones of the eight reclusive families.

Chapter 1303

“All right. Everyone’s here then I ‘ll start briefing about the rules for the competition!”

Quentin, the master of the Hunt family, scanned the audience before flying up. His voice boomed across the atmosphere.

Everybody looked at him when they heard that. No one else knew about this year’s competition rules, save for selected people from the Hunt family.

With everyone’s eyes on him, Quentin continued, “The rules are simple. I think all of you have seen the forest around here. There are plenty of monsters and spirited grass in it, and usually, the Hunt family keeps guard around its perimeters, and very few people are allowed entry. Atop Kobe Mountain and throughout the forest, we’ve placed a total of 10, 000 black plaques. Your mission is to collect those wooden plaques, and whoever collects the most at the end is the winner of the individual competition! You have one month to do this.”

Here, Quentin paused for a while before resuming, “After that, all participants will compile their plaques, and the family that has the most plaques will be the Winner of the group competition. Prizes will be given out accordingly!”

Master Ximenes could not help but frown when he heard this.” So you’re saying that this competition is not a ring match and that there won’t be one-onone matches?” he asked, stepping forward. “This means that even within a single day, it’ s likely that there’ll be many-on -one, a whole group on one, or even group fights?”

Master George's expression also turned grave. "Master Hunt, if this is the case-if we do not care if our participants are alive or dead-this method of elimination is too cruel. Many will die here!"

"Heh. Isn't dying a very common occurrence? Anyway, this is a competition. Everyone should go through such a brutal process once in their lifetime!"

Quentin chuckled without care.

Yet many of the family members turned gloomy.

They all knew that the Hunt family was not afraid because they had plenty of geniuses – plenty of fighters of the true god status. They also had plenty who were at the advanced or peak stages of the semi-god status. That was why they were not afraid.

As for the other families, they had geniuses among their youth, but some of them had just entered the beginning stage of the semi-god realm. There were even some third-class families who had eighth-grade or ninth-grade grandmasters taking part to round up the numbers. If this was the case, they would have great losses among their ranks.

They still had the opportunity to admit defeat with the ring fights before. The masters and elders from the families all kept watch as well, so nothing extreme ever happened.

Now though, the Hunt family made all the participants enter the forest and Kobe Mountain. Since they have never been into the forest and mountain, they had no way of knowing what was goes on inside.

Furthermore, anything can happen inside the forest. If a group of people from the Hunt family disliked a genius from another family, it was likely that the genius would be killed by a mob.

More importantly, the competition is taking place for one month. How many people would die over the course of one month?

“This is bad. Jack, you have to be careful. I think the Hunt family set these rules just to target us!”

Nash’s features were contorted. He leaned toward Jack and whispered, “Besides, you’ve offended Second Young Master Hunt now. He’ll be even more ruthless toward you. I seriously suspect that he was the one who came up with these rules!”

Jack was not an idiot. Rules like these clearly favored the strong. The competition was clearly unfair.

“I’m afraid that they’re right though. It’s not just the White family that’s in danger!”

Jack went silent for a few seconds before replying Nash.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1304-1306

Chapter 1304

Nash was stunned momentarily when he heard that. He took a sharp intake of breath. “So you’ re saying that the Hunt family realized the other families are growing stronger and wanted to use this opportunity to get rid of the younger geniuses to solidify their position? If each family’s heir is gone, this means that the Hunt family will become even stronger!”

Jack bobbed his head. “That’s very likely. It’s only natural for them to grab the chance to kill some of the geniuses they are not on good terms with,” he murmured. “As well as the families who had crossed blades with them!”

Nash’s frown deepened. “The Lagorio family was once our ally, but now they’re our enemy. The Norman family, Second Young Master Hunt, and many people who are envious of your relationship with First Young Mistress Cabello will all be out to get you. Even the Cabello family might try to kill you. We’ re in grave danger this time!”

“We have no choice but to rely on ourselves then. No backing out now!”

Jack gave a bitter smile. “But I won’t be that easy to kill. And anyone who wants to kill a member of the White family will pay for their folly!”

Nash’s gaze flitted over toward the Lancaster family. “The Lancaster family is on good terms with us, and they’re reliable people,” he told Jack.” We also have a pretty good relationship with the George family and the Ximenes family. We’ve had a few disputes before, but nothing substantial.”

“Don’t worry, Dad! I’ll definitely survive!”

Jack spoke earnestly to prevent Nash from worrying too much.

“All right!”

Nash nodded his head. He could do nothing but have trust in his own son now.

Everyone had a cloud over their heads, and some were muttering among themselves. Master Hunt coughed lightly and added, “All of us are martial artists. Yes, you have children, but so do I.”

As he spoke, more emotion filled his voice. “We all know that we can only experience a rainbow once we’ve weathered a storm, and no victory comes without losses. These young people need to experience their rites of passage, and only those who have can appreciate the meaning of life-only then will they be able to become even stronger as they cultivate themselves. And they will have a better chance of becoming fighters at the peak of the true god status!”

“Master Hunt is right!”

At this moment, no one expected Trenton to step forward. “Master Hunt has only achieved the peak of the true god status today because he went through many battles

When he was young, experienced plenty of life-and-death situations,” he said, clearly attempting to butter the other man up. “Only then could he stand where he is today. We cannot allow our descendants to become snowflakes!”

Here, Trenton raised his arms and lifted his chin. “We applaud you!” he said, his voice dripping with praise.

With those words, the Lagorio family members automatically raised their heads and began applauding. The other families all could not stand Trenton’s bootlicking behavior, but with his entire family clapping hands, they had no choice but to follow along.

“You see that? The Lagorio family is only a second-class family, not a first-class. But Master Lagorio’s sentiments run deep, and everyone should take a page out of his book!”

Old Man Hunt gave a small smile and appraised Trentor. He felt that Trenton truly knew his purpose here.

Trenton immediately answered courteously, “Ah, I have nothing for others to learn from, Old Man Hunt. I am just saying what I feel!”

Chapter 1305

At this moment, Darryl also stood up and chuckled. “The Norman family feels this way as well, Old Man Taylor,” he said. “ Everyone’s men will be entering the competition, so it is fair. What are all of you afraid of?”

“All right. If no one else has any protests, then the matter is settled.”

Quentin raised his arms and called for everyone to remain silent. “But don’t worry. They won’t go in as a big group. We’ve already repaired the summoning circle at Kobe Mountain that is an ancestral heirloom. Hah. Once the contestants enter the area, the summoning circle will scatter them at different places. So it’s fair for everyone!”

“It’s fixed now? I heard that Master Hunt had been researching summoning circles, but I never thought that he would have such patience for the subject. He’s probably the only one in the world who knows how to create and fix summoning circles!”

Master George’s expression contorted in surprise. It was evident that he never thought the old, dilapidated summoning circle at the foot of Kobe Mountain would actually be fixed by Quentin.

Perhaps the Hunt family members chose to hold the competition here to show off Quentin’s skills of using the summoning circle, just to show everyone just how great he was and tell everyone that he was a genius at summoning circles.

“Master Hunt, you’re sure it’s fixed? Will it be safe once we enter? What if something goes wrong? It’ll be terrible!”

Master Ximenes was still worried that the summoning circle would turn out faulty.

“Hah. Don’t worry. Master Ximenes, I would never toy around with the lives of so many geniuses at stake.”

Master Hunt laughed and spoke confidently, “Besides, my sons and the Hunt family members are all going in. Do you think I’d put their lives at serious risk? You all know that my second son has never been interested in such competitions since young, but he came to me and told me that he was interested in this year’s competition and that he wanted to participate!”

When he said this, Quentin’s eyes sidled toward Jack.

Jack gave a bitter smile. It was obvious that Second Young Master Hunt wanted to kill him during the competition. After all, he had embarrassed the other man that day. That fellow must harbor a grudge.

Everyone felt comforted at Quentin's words.

If everyone were to be scattered in the forest after entering the summoning circle, there might be lesser sacrifices. Some of the less skilled martial artists could at least find a place to hide.

Otherwise, if so many people were to enter the forest at the same time, there was a chance that the Hunt family and the George family would band together to kill geniuses from other families. For those families, it would be like sending their children off to a death mission.

"Oh, right. Is there anything else we should take note of, Master Hunt?"

Alejandro asked after he thought about it.

"There is one more thing. Asides from the 10,000 black plaques I mentioned beforehand, we've also placed a thousand white plaques and a hundred red plaques!"

Quentin's lips curved into a small smile. "And these plaques will appear more frequently once you venture deeper into the forest-toward the mountain itself. This means that there aren't that many plaques at the outskirts, but you'll find more once you go in deeper.

Chapter 1306

Nash could not help but step up after thinking about it. He raised his hand in a fist-to-palm salute toward Quentin. "If I may be so bold to ask, Master Hunt, is there any significance to the different-colored plaques? Otherwise, why would there be three different colors?"

Quentin laughed. "Of course the colors are significant. The black plaques are the most basic whereas the white plaque equals ten black plaques. As for the red plaques, their numbers are few, but one of them is equal to a hundred black plaques. So if you' re lucky enough to find a red plaque, you get a hundred black ones!"

Here, Quentin paused for a while before continuing, "I must tell you all this-you know that there will be more plaques the further you venture in. So the white and red plaques are also scattered with that logic. In this competition, not only will you have to be strong, but you'll have to have some measure of luck!"

"Let's open the summoning circle!"

After Quentin explained all the rules, he looked at the two tall stone gates nearby and yelled.

In a flash, two elders from the Hunt family flew over to the stone gates. Each of them took out a piece of middle-grade spirited stone and placed them on the indents in the middle of the stone pillars.

With the spirited stones in place, the gates whirred and opened with a heavy groan. A blue sheen of light burst forth and spread across the area. Everyone watched in surprise as it gradually formed a glowing blue dome and covered the entire forest and the mountain in it. No one could see what was going on inside.

"It seems like this ancient summoning circle has truly been fixed by Master Hunt. Amazing!"

"That's right. He could even restore the symbols and writing on them. Otherwise, this summoning circle will just rot away in waste!"

Plenty of people could not help but exclaimed when they saw the giant blue veil. They even felt grateful that they could witness it at least once in their lives.

"Master Hunt, this dome is covering the entire forest and the mountain. We can't see anything going on inside anymore. Then what's the use of the dome?"

Master Ximenas could not help but ask Quentin after he thought about it.

Quentin smiled before replying, “This summoning circle is able to scatter anyone who enters in different places. We won’t be able to see what’s going on inside, but you can see tiny dots on its surface. That’s how we roughly tell what’s happening to the participants. If one of the lights flickers for a while before disappearing, it means that the participant has died!”

Master Ximenas nodded his head after he heard that. “What an amazing summoning circle. I never thought that it would be able to sense if the people inside are dead or alive.

Quentin looked flattered. “This summoning circle is nothing. According to my research and knowledge, there should be some summoning circles out there that can teleport a person anywhere. It’s called a transporter, but a tool like that is too complex. I’ve only managed to find some basic formulas in my book. There’s no way to find more information, unfortunately.”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Here, Quentin paused before continuing, “But since there are summoning methods as strong as that, I can safely say that there is a way to break into the ultimate god realm and that it’s not just a myth!”

The First Elder of the Cabello family, who was usually a man of few words, became excited. He took a few steps forward and declared to everyone, “What Master Hunt has said is right. I can also say that the ultimate martial art techniques and ultimate god status exist. But we have not found a way to achieve them!”

“Oh, really? Do you have any proof of that, First Elder Cabello?”

When they heard this, many fighters at the peak of the true god status were excited. They had been unable to progress any further than the peak of the true god status. If this went on, all they could do was live their days out in monotony till the end, just like normal people.

It had not been easy for them to achieve their martial level. After hearing rumors about they hoped to achieve it and live for two hundred more years and as exalted beings.

That was why the people at the peak or advanced stage of the true god status all got excited whenever they heard anyone mentioning the ultimate god status.

First Elder Cabello could not help but gave a bitter smile as he saw the hopeful faces. “I don’t have definite proof, but I think all of you know that the ancient book in my hands contains records of cures to strange diseases. Other than this, it provides formulas on creating pills and characteristics of the third and fourth-grade spirit grass! It even has formulas on third-grade pills…”

In all honesty, not many people knew about this. First Elder Cabello had rarely spoken about the contents of his books as well. He would always dodge questions whenever they came around.

Since Master Hunt talked about the ultimate god realm though, he decided to share everything with everyone.

“First Elder Cabello, can you let us see the formula for the third-grade pill then? I just want to take a look. I don’t want your book. How about that?”

Tyrell was the residential expert alchemist in the Hunt family and was practically obsessed with alchemy. Master Hunt enjoyed researching summoning circles, and his alchemy. The Hunt family’s position had always been relatively strong with the two’s profound knowledge in such sacred fields.

“That’s right, First Elder Cabello. Let us have a look. Perhaps this will give us a better chance of finding out how to achieve the ultimate god status.

This isn’t just for our sake-it’s for yours and your descendants as well. This will be a significant legacy!”

Old Man Hunt also looked on with anticipation. If he had not known that First Elder Cabello was far stronger than Alejandro, he would have tried to snatch that tome away a long time ago.

“I’m afraid I’ll have to decline!”

First Elder Cabello’s expression suddenly darkened. He just wanted to bring this up to make everyone believe that the ultimate god realm did exist and that all of them would be motivated to find a method to break into it. He did not think that they would actually want to see his book. There was no way he would let anybody look at it.

Chapter 1308

People are naturally selfish. Never mind a formula for third-grade pills, he would not even let Second Young Master Hunt see a formula for second-grade pills.

That was why First Elder Cabello had always kept the book vigilantly. Even Master Cabello could not access it easily. The most he could do was flip a few pages before the book had to be returned that was why First Elder Cabello had not hesitated a split second before refusing all of them.

“Never mind. Forget about it, since First Elder Cabello is so distrusting of us. But there are some things that you just can’t discover on your own!”

Quentin waved his hand, clearly unhappy.

“That’s right. You’ve been holding on to that book for a very long time now, but you still haven’t found anything after all these years. I think that book just contains records of medicinal treatments and pill formulas, but it won’t be much help in finding a way to break into the ultimate god realm!”

Old Man Hunt also smiled. “But since you brought this up, anyone can deduce that third-grade pills and fourth-grade spirit grass do exist- and that the ultimate god status is real. After all, if the third and fourth -grade pills really exist, nobody from the advanced stage or even at the peak of the true god status would dare to take anything like that. It would contain too much energy!”

“All right, all right. This discussion is going nowhere. Let’ s start the competition. It’s getting late too!”

Quentin looked at all of the contestants. “Every family has four hundred candidates. Please step forward, all of you. Once I say that the competition starts, you may enter the dome,” he announced. “After you enter, you can’t get out until thirty days have passed. You’ll be able to come out once the competition is over.”

Old Man Taylor reminded everyone from the side,” According to the rules, all competitors cannot be over thirty years of age. Don’t blame me if the Hunt family goes berserk if any family dares to break this rule. There is plenty of spirit grass in this forest and quite a few treasures too. If you happen to find them, consider them your spoils of war!”

After all the contestants have walked through the glowing surface of the Dome, Quentin announced, “Let the competition begin!”

Whoosh! Whoosh! whoosh!

In a flash, everyone blurred into shadows and leaped toward the dome.

Jack studied the dome and quickly realized that as everyone jumped in, more dots lit up across the surface. These lights were scattered everywhere, and one could estimate each individual’s positions from the surface.

“Summoning circles are amazing!”

Jack could not help but exclaim. This was his first time hearing and seeing something like that.

“Let’s go. What are you waiting for! There are plenty of treasures waiting for us inside!”

Daniella walked over to him and rolled her eyes before flying straight into the dome.

“That girl…”

Jack smiled and flew in as well.

It was as though the dome were made out of air. After he flew in, Jack’s vision briefly went white before he appeared in the middle of a forest.

He studied his surroundings, and a small smile curved his lips. There had been plenty of people from the White family who rushed in with him, but they must have all been scattered in different corners of the area. He had to admit that the summoning circle was both awesome and terrifying.

“Since there are more plaques inside, and since the white and red plaques are scattered that I’ll just head toward the mountain!”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1309-1310

Chapter 1309

Jack lifted his head and looked at the peak of the mountain in the distance. He hovered only a meter or two off from the ground and flew forward.

Roar!

In the depths of the forest, a frightening roar of a beast tore through the atmosphere. Jack knew that there were plenty of powerful monsters here, but he was not that afraid because his martial level was pretty high.

However, those monsters would be trouble for some contestants from third-class families who were still at grandmaster levels.

“Eh!”

Jack’s martial level was high, and he was not slow, so he quickly spotted a black plaque after a while. He flew over and picked it up and kept it in his martial ring

Jack thought to himself as he flew. There were many people searching for plaques upfront. This way, they would have many plaques at the critical moment, and some would attempt to take the plaques by force. There would be plenty of cases where people were killed for their plaques.

The contestants from the same family might even band together toward the end. Then, fights would frequently erupt between two families.

“The people from the White family are not weak, but they’re not very strong either. I need to find them quickly. After all, there are plenty of people out to get us in this competition!”

Jack quickly frowned and started to worry for the other contestants from the White family.

At first, he had not even wanted to allow those geniuses from the branch families to take part in fear of their safety.

However, those geniuses were confident and strong, and they wanted to experience the world. After discussing the matter with Nash only did Jack allow them to come.

Of course, the White family was still a first-class family. The geniuses who were qualified to participate were all at least in the semi-god realm and were pretty strong.

But she had been unfortunate enough to run into three people from the Lagorio family not long after she had entered. Among the three, two of them were at the beginning stage of the semigod status, and another was at the intermediate stage. She was clearly no match for them.

“Plaques?”

One of the men laughed wickedly. “We have no interest in whether you’ve picked up any plaques. We’re interested in the geniuses from the White family!”

Chapter 1310

“Gentlemen, could you spare me for the sake of my family and your family? Our families were close back then. And we just came in, you don’t want to kill me, right?”

Nikini sighed aloud in her heart, cursing for the bad luck she had today. It was already hard to participate in the tournament. She came to this tournament in hopes to improve herself and assess which level she was at, however, she did not expect to be targeted like that.

Moreover, were not these three people too lucky? They actually found a White out here effortlessly.

“There’s nothing I can do, little beauty. Our families ‘were’ close. But now? Before we departed for the tournament, our master has repeatedly reminded us not to spare anyone from the White family if we meet them on the way, especially those who are traveling on their own.”

One of the men scoffed devilishly and studied Nikini carefully. “Little beauty, you actually have a hot body. Why didn’t I remember there’s such a pretty genius from the White family?”

Another man of the Lagorio family chimed in with a wide evil grin. “Tsk tsk, this beauty, she’s hot! It’s such a pity if we just kill her here. Moreover, she doesn't have the token on her, wouldn't we be wasting our chi energy on her? We'll be at a huge loss! And since everyone just came in, why don't we just find a covered area, bush maybe, and we can…"

The two exchanged glances and nodded in unison. They then slowly paced toward Nikini.

Jack-who was on a tree clenched his fist and was ready to go out and teach them a good lesson.

Nonetheless, at this very moment, a figure flashed past him and appeared not far away out of sudden. "What the h*11 are you doing? How dare you attack our White family member! Are you looking for death?" a raging voice rang through space.

Through branches and leaves on the tree, Jack-who was still hiding in the tree-peeked at the figure who had just flashed past him and found out the person was Sally White. He could not help but frown.

If he was not mistaken, Sally was at the middle stage of the semi-god level, and he wondered if Sally and Nikini would be a match for these three men of the Lagorio family.

"Sis Sally!"

As soon as she saw that it was Sally, Nikini's eyes lit up with hope and her mood brightened up. However, it did not last long before Nikini frowned. She met Sally after entering the main White family and the two of them had a good relationship. However, she was worried that even if she and Sally joined forces and fought together, they might not be a match for the three men.

"Another White has come! What should we do?"

One of the Lagorios exclaimed and his brows snapped together after realizing the arrival of Sally.

“There’s nothing to be afraid of! Three of us have pretty decent martial status and combat prowess. Not to mention that we have three here and only two of them!”

The guy who was in the middle stage of the semi-god realm possessed strong confidence in his own combat ability. He sneered coldly.

“Sally, these two here, they’re at the early stage of the semi-god realm, and another here is at the middle stage of the semi-god realm. Although I’m also at the early stage of the semi-god realm, it shouldn’t be a problem for me to deal with these two who are at the early-stage level. But, the other one, I’ll have to leave it to you!”

Nikini gave the matter some thoughts and suggested it to Sally, however, at the bottom of her heart, she was not confident. She was hit by these three a moment ago when she was not paying attention. She was now wounded and could only clench her teeth and fight herself to death.

Sally, on the other hand, gave a mirthless smile. “Don’t worry. These guys are definitely looking for death!”

Once the last word dropped, Sally balled her fist tightly and went straight to the guy in the middle-stage level in an instant.

“Beat the sh*t out of them! F* ck! God has been gracious to us, sending us two beauties to enjoy today! You two, handle the wounded one, there shouldn’t be a problem. After killing her, come and help me with this one who has stronger combat prowess!”

As soon as he saw Sally make her move, the guy who was at the middle stage of the semi-god realm clenched his fist and enclosed it with chi energy. Then he charged toward Sally.

“We got you, Young Master Fabio! Leave this beauty to the two of us!”

The other two rubbed their fists and smiled as they walked over to Nikini.

Chapter 1311-1313

Chapter 1311

Nonetheless, a shocking incident had happened.

The Lagorio who was at the middle stage of the semi-god realm was blown away by Sally's punch effortlessly and smashed onto the ground with a mouth of blood spurting out of his mouth. He was badly injured.

"No… no way! This strength… You 're at the late stage of the semi-god realm!"

The color drained out of his face after spitting out a mouthful of blood. His face turned unsightly and he was extremely shocked in his heart. The strength that Sally possessed right now was definitely not of the strength of the middle stage of the semi-god realm!

"Bingo! I broke through to the late stage of the semi-god realm a few days ago! So, now you can go to hell in peace!"

Sally sneered coldly. She flipped her palm, a fine sword appeared in her grip, and she appeared in front of the man in a flash and swung her sword.

"What the f*ck!"

The other two men looked at each other, and both were frightened down to the soles of their shoes. Their legs went soft and they plopped onto the ground.

If Sally were truly at the late stage of the semi-god realm, then the two of them were destined to die. They could not even fight back.

They initially thought that, as long as Young Master Fabio held on for a while, and waited until the two of them finished up the wounded one, they would be able to win. Little did they know that that new White girl was actually already at the late stage of the semi-god realm! Young Master Fabio was simply not her opponent!

Sally stabbed through the opponent's heart and quickly pulled out her sword. Blood splattered, Young Master Fabio, a fighter who was at the middle stage of the semi-god realm, had fallen.

"Miss…miss White? Spare us, please? None of us wanted this to happen, none of us did it on purpose! We're instructed by Young Master Fabio!"

One of the two remaining guys cried out loud when he saw Sally paced toward them. His legs went weak and kneeled to plead for his life.

"Yes, yes, yes, it's that damn Young Master Fabio's fault! If he hadn't told us to do this, we wouldn't have had the guts!"

The other guy begged in a trembling voice. He knelt together with the other one.

"Oh, spare your lives? Are you fooling me? Do you think I didn't hear what you spilled just now?"

Sally scoffed icily. With two consecutive slashes, she ended their lives.

The two men saw the hint of murder in Sally's eyes and knew that the situation was not right. They stood up to escape. Unfortunately, just as they stood up, a sword was swung on their necks and they fell directly onto the ground.

“Sis Sally, you’re freaking awesome! You’ve actually broken through to the late stage of the semi-god realm! It if wasn‘t for you today, I would have arrived at hell by now!”

Nikini skipped over to Sally excitedly and held her hands while praising her.

“Hehe, it’s because the spiritual energy in the main White family is truly dense and rich, plus I kept training and practicing the past few weeks. That’s why I’m able to break through to the late stage of the semi-god realms a few days ago!”

Sally chuckled warm-heartedly. She then took out a healing pill and handed it to Nikini.

“Thanks a lot, Sis Sally! You’re good to me!”

Nikini swallowed the healing pill. Her hand was still holding Sally’s arm; apparently, they had become a pair of good sisters.

“Let’s move. If we don’t leave now, the stench of the blood will attract the monster beast here and if a powerful monster beast is attracted, we’re doomed!”

Sally smiled and continued, “We ‘re both coming from the White branch families, and also parts of the White family. Naturally, we must help each other!”

Chapter 1312

“Hold on! Let’s search their martial rings and see if there’s any treasure in it!”

Nikini quickly thought of something, ran over to the three dead bodies quickly, and took down their martial rings.

“Eh? Not bad! There are a few healing pills and a few first-grade spirited grass. Wait, what’ s this? Jesus! There’re two black tokens in this guy’s ring! We found treasure!”

Nikini exclaimed loudly as she took out the treasures from the rings and handed them to Sally.” Sis Sally, thank you for saving me! These treasures all belong to you! They’re your spoils of war!”

“You’re giving me everything? Nah, let’s share them! Whoever participates gets to share, right? Hehe. Besides, with these spirited grass, you can break through to the next level sooner!”

Sally was polite; she did not take them all but took only half of the treasures and handed them to Nikini. She had even shared one of the black tokens with Nikini.

“You keep the tokens. My combat prowess is not as strong as you, it’s not safe for me to keep them. You’re a lot stronger than me, you should keep them. And if we were to run into any danger, at least I could hold the other party up and you can escape with the tokens. That’s a better plan!”

Nikini smiled and handed the black token back to Sally.

“What nonsense are you saying? Just be careful and we’d be fine. Both of us have a high martial level, there shouldn’t be a problem. We both will get out alive!”

Sally rolled her eyes at Nikini and reprimanded her gently.

Nikini, on the other hand, said,” You have to keep these tokens no matter what. There’s an individual competition and group competition, either one is good for the White family. So it doesn’t matter who keeps the tokens. If the White family gets more tokens, our ranking will improve in the group competition. The top few of the group competition has a reward!”

Sally nodded in agreement.” Alright, then I’ll keep these tokens first, and when we meet with Young Master Jack or any other White of the true-god realm, we’ll let them keep the tokens. It’s better that way. Because no matter who you give it to, it’ll not affect the group competition’s result, and if the tokens were to given to those with high martial status, then he or she will be able to advance more in the individual competition and improve the individual ranking!”

Nikini bobbed her head in approval. “That’s right! I believe the other families will do the same, giving the tokens to those who are strong and high in martial status in their families, so that they can compete in the individual competition.”

“Let’s move, if we don’t leave now, the beast will smell the blood and come here in no time!”

Sally flashed a warm smile, and after Nikini kept the treasure into her martial ring, the two of them disappeared in a flash.

Jack hopped down from the tree not far away after seeing the two leave the place.

Initially, when he saw that Nikini was in danger, he was planning to rush out and help her, but he did not expect Sally’s arrival at all, even better, she had broken through to the next level.

“Hehe, let them fight and practice more then!”

Jack chuckled to himself, and only then continued his journey ahead

“First-grade premium spirited grass!”

After flying for a while, Jack noticed a first-grade premium spirited grass under a large tree before him. This spirited grass was a rare type that could be used to make pills.

He disappeared and then appeared again within a second in front of the large tree, wanting to pluck it off. After all, there were a lot of people coming into this place and searching for treasure; four hundred men from each family

-first-class, second-class, and third-class families. There were dozens of families, hence adding all the men up, there would be ten thousand men in here.

“Roar!”

However, just as Jack was about to pluck the spirited grass, a terrifying roar pierced through the air. A red-fire python appeared suddenly, from the bush next to Jack. Its mouth was widely opened and heading straight for Jack.

The python came out too abruptly and came in front of Jack in a flash, leaving Jack stunned.

Chapter 1313

From the faint aura that was coming from the python, Jack could instantly conclude that this python should be a monster beast that had power comparable to the early stage of the semi-god realm in the human world.

It was surprising and shocking for such a monster beast to appear in this forest periphery. After all, this python was considered extremely rare and its strength and power were generally stronger than ordinary martial artists, especially those amateurs. In other words, a martial artist who was at the early stage of the semi-god realm would not be a match for such a monster beast, and even a martial artist with the strength of the middle stage of the semi-god realm might not be able to kill a monster beast of such power-early stage of the semi-god realm.

Nonetheless, Jack had already broken through to the middle stage of the true-god realm, such a monster beast was nothing in his eyes.

He clenched his fist, and with a flash, he appeared at the top of the python's head, and then punched down with his fist on the python's head.

Bang!

The python was huge and long around seven to eight feet long. Jack had never seen such a long python before. After all, he had not really encountered a monster beast and fought with it, he had only heard it from others.

With a faint dull thug, the python 's head was smashed onto the ground in the next second, knocking the ground harshly, creating a deep pit on the ground. And when the python's body plopped onto the ground, dust splashed up, polluting the air.

Blood flowed out from the red fire python's huge eyes, and after it twitched a few times, its breathing and movement had finally ceased.

"Hmph, how dare you try to sneak an attack on me!"

Jack stared at the dead python and smiled coldly. He came in front of the spirited grass, squatted down, and plucked it.

However, what Jack did not expect was that just as he stood up, a harsh and frightening chi energy came straight at him from behind.

He could sense the chi energy, hence he hopped to the side around 5 meters away from the original position.

Swoosh!

Just after he dodged the first attack, another terrifying slash of the sword, enclosed with chi energy, landed on a big tree right in front of where Jack was standing before.

Bang!

The big tree was neatly cut into half and the upper part fell onto the ground with a loud thud.

Jack wheeled around and stared at the young man standing in the mid-air. Jack furrowed, this man before him should be a genius from the Zachary family.

The Zachary family arrived late, therefore they did not witness the battle between Jack and the Young Master of the Norman family and did not know of Jack s combat prowess and martial level.

Of course, from the two attacks just now and the chi energy, this man's martial level was definitely not low at all, and he should be a powerful fighter of the true-god realm.

"Wow, attacking from behind? Wouldn't this be too shameless from a first-class family?"

Jack smiled faintly and shot a deadly stare at the other party.

"Hehe, brat, don't you know the world is cruel itself? Some people will even kill their own siblings to become stronger and for the sake of treasures, let alone a petty thing like sneak attacks from behind."

The man chortled and said in a daze, "Oh, I remember you! You' re the Young Master of the White family, Jack White, right? I can see that you came from the secular world and have experienced too little fighting and killing, that's why you're so naïve!"

Jack did not know to cry or to laugh upon hearing his words. All these years, he was able to become the Supreme Warrior and breakthrough to his current martial level. The battles he had experienced were not less than these young people from the hidden families.

Only, he did not expect that these young masters of the high and mighty reclusive first-class families would take advantage of people's unpreparedness and attacked sneakily from behind.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1314-1316

Chapter 1314

"Whatever you say!"

Jack stretched his limbs and said, "You just came here and you're so eager to snatch things away from others? What a pity. I' m no pushover!"

"Heh. I'm the grandson of the second elder of the Zachary family and I am at the intermediate stage of the true god status. So if you're smart enough, you'd just give up that stalk of spirited grass you just plucked. I'll let you go!

The man from the Zachary family held a sword in a single hand and had a lofty aura about him. "The Zachary family is not on good terms with the White family, but we don't have a sour relationship either. I won't kill you as long as you give it to me. After all, it must have been difficult for you to become the heir to your master. It'd be a pity if you died here!"

"You're so confident even though you're only at the intermediate stage of the true god status?"

Jack shot upward in a flash." How about this? You give your sword and everything you have, and I'll spare your life because you offered to spare mine!"

The man was taken aback for a while, but he quickly recovered. "Heh. You've got a daring mouth on you, you punk," he said, smiling wryly. "You dare to use my threat against me. You've got guts!"

After he said that, chi began to coagulate in his palm. His sword emitted a frightening hum.” This is a low-grade spiritual tool, and it’s extremely sharp. Don’t blame me if I accidentally kill you for being an idiot!”

“Then let’s see if you can actually do it!”

Jack gave a wan smile. His sword did look pretty good, and he wanted to take it to give to the other White family members. It was only a low-grade spiritual tool, but it was a spiritual tool, nonetheless. It would serve much better than many regular weapons.

Whoosh!

The other man slashed his sword. With this low-grade spiritual tool, a frightening sword aura arced toward Jack like a strike of pure flames.

Jack clenched his fists and gathered his chi, then he threw a punch toward his opponent.

As he threw the punch, a fist of chi that was as tall as a man formed before him. It looked very solid, and it rippled with powerful energy. It truly looked like it was real.

“That technique is probably the first-grade premium. But that energy wave..”

The other man’s expression immediately turned serious after he saw Jack’s powerful attack. He never thought that this punk would throw out such a frightening attack so casually.

Whoosh!

The other man's slash quickly collided with Jack's chi fist at a breakneck speed.

Bang!

Right after that, a resounding boom ripped through the forest. A flash appeared at the collision point like a clap of lightning.

Crack!

Jack's attack quickly destroyed his opponent's attack. His giant chi fist shrunk and dimmed, and the rest of the momentum hurtled straight toward the man from the Zachary family.

"Sh*t. That punk is probably about as strong as I am. But why is his attack so much stronger than mine? Our skills should be around the same level!"

All color drained from the man's face when he saw this. The attack was right before his eyes now, and he quickly drew a thin veil of chi around his body.

Just as he managed to create the veil, the remaining energy from Jack's fist landed on him.

The chi veil kept rippling under pressure, and Jack's attacks kept diminishing

"No way!"

Chapter 1315

Haiden quickly felt that something was amiss. Small cracks began to run across his veil, and it was going to give way soon.

“No way. There’s no way I can’t beat a punk from the mortal realm!”

Haiden cried out. At the same time, the cracks on the shield around his body grew bigger and bigger, then it shattered into dust.

Bang!

A frightening noise rang out.

The next second, Haiden had been thrown back as if he was a stringless kite. He landed heavily against a tree.

The tree toppled over from the impact. Haiden spewed out

Blood, and his face went pale.

He gritted his teeth and hauled himself to his feet. Another spurt of blood escaped his mouth. He dug his sword into the ground and steadied himself.

Jack flew over nonchalantly, appearing before Haiden with a small smile on his face.

“You have good talent, Haiden Zachary!”

Jack smiled and added, “It would be a real pity to kill you right here. It must have been difficult to train yourself to be this strong!”

The corners of Haiden's mouth twitched violently. This accursed b*stard was twisting his own words to use against him.

"Hmph. I was unlucky, punk. I never thought that a genius like you would pop up in the White family!"

Haiden harrumphed coldly. He threw his sword at Jack, huffing. "Take it!"

Jack never imagined that this fellow would be so decisive. He practically handed the sword over without hesitation.

However, when he thought about it, there was no one else here but the two of them. Even if Jack killed him, all of his possessions would be Jack anyway. The Zachary family would have no way of finding the truth since no one was watching them.

That was why this fellow was smart enough to know his position. There was no contest over which was more precious, his life or this treasure.

"What about your martial ring? I want to see if there's anything good in there!" Jack smiled and said.

The corners of Haiden's mouth twitched slightly. However, he still took off the martial ring and threw it at Jack, gritting his teeth.

Jack took the ring and looked at it. Then he took out two black plaques, as well as two stalks of first-grade spirited grass. Then he threw the ring back.

"You don't want the spirited stone?"

Haiden was slightly taken aback.

He had thought that aside from the clothes and the living items in his martial ring, Jack would definitely take the spirited stone and other such objects. He did not think that Jack only wanted the two black plaques and two stalks of first-grade spirited grass.

“I don’t care about those that are not worth anything!”

Jack kept everything and took out a pill, flinging it at the other man.

“You’re giving me medicine?”

Haiden stared at Jack, suspicion sketched over his expression.

His martial ring had already contained medicine yet Jack still gave him a pill anyway. He could not comprehend why the punk did that.

Chapter 1316

Jack could not be bothered to respond to him. He turned around and slowly flew away, leaving behind only these words, “This medication of mine to cure wounds should be much better than yours. Best that you treat yourself as soon as possible, or don’t blame me for wounding you when you die in a fight against prodigies from the Hunt family when you bump into them!”

Haiden Zachary was still rooted on the spot even as Jack left, dazed as he wondered if everything was a lucid dream.

After all, he was the one who secretly attacked and looked down on Jack. He never thought the other party would not seize his belongings even after defeating him, and he even left Haiden some healing pills and spirited stones for him.

“Is this pill poisonous?” mumbled Haiden as he eyed the small pill in his palm.

He shook his head. Was this not unnecessary if Jack truly wanted to kill him? Would it not be much easier to just stab him with his sword?

“Hmph. Let’s see if your medication is better than those from our Zachary family!” Haiden let out an indignant noise before he popped the pill into his mouth and swallowed it.

Merely two minutes later, Haiden could already feel that his wounds were mitigating. Such healing speed was several times faster compared to the healing pills the Zachary family cultivated.

It stunned him. “How can the healing pills from the White family have such alarming effects? This pill must be much better than those cultivated by the Hunt family pill-cultivating genius, Second Young Master Hunt, right?”

Surely, who knew what would appear in his thoughts if he knew that this was personally cultivated by Jack.

“This sword is quite nice, but it isn’t that suitable for women. Otherwise, I would’ve given this to Selena!” Jack flew forward at a slow pace. He got two black tokens and two first-grade intermediate-level spirited grass from Haiden’s martial rings. He was quite lucky to have such an acquisition.

After flying for some time, Jack picked up two more black tokens, rather speedy in collecting them.

Of course, there were not that many tokens. His acquisition was quite surprising as he managed to get five black tokens in such a short time.

The sky gradually dimmed as time slowly passed, and Jack had traveled about 20 kilometers deeper into the forest when he eventually discovered another second-grade elementary-level spirited grass.

Jack was rather elated to have spotted it. “A second-grade elementary-level spirited grass. Tsk, tsk! This is quite nice, seeing that spirited grass of such grading is hard to come by!”

He was more cautious than before as he eyed his surroundings for any monster beasts, only flying over to carefully pick up the spirited grass and stored it in his martial ring when ensuring no monster beasts were in sight.

“No hitches this time!” Jack was overjoyed as he stored the item. He was prepared to find a place to rest through the night and would continue moving the next morning

Although everybody was quite spirited to move at night, the monster beasts who were good at traveling at night had an obvious upper hand when both parties were compared.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1317-1319

Chapter 1317

Hence, it was far more dangerous to roam at night as compared to daytime.

All of a sudden…

Thoom!

Jack heard a loud frightening noise, sounding like a battle was happening nearby, and the fact that there were no howls from beasts meant that it was between the competitors.

With that deduction, Jack flew to the source of the sound.

Arriving on top of a small slope, he hid among the bushes and looked toward the bottom of the hill slope.

“Helena Cabello?” A beautiful figure soon appeared in Jack’s line of sight, and his expression slowly changed as he felt his feelings meshing altogether.

This woman was almost 30 years old, two years older than Jack, yet she was not married. She had lied how Jack was her boyfriend when Second Young Master Hunt pestered her, wanting him to give up.

Never was it foreseen that her choice would further complicate things and make it difficult to explain themselves. They could only bite the bullet and continue the lie.

Jack had already thought about it: all they could do was pretend to be a couple. Eventually, once the competition drew to a close and everyone returned home, this would be over in another one or two years when there was no gossip about them.

In the future, he could just come up with an announcement that he and Helena had peacefully gone their separate ways when everybody does not care about it anymore.

However, Jack was helpless when it came to Daniella. Since something happened between them and she had given him her virginity, Jack felt that he had to be responsible for his stupidity to not treat her shabbily.

‘I don’t think I need to go down and help her, do I? Although the fight seems quite intense, Helena has a high fighting prowess. She’s at the final stage of the true-god level, and her fighting prowess is much higher than mine.’ With such a thought, Jack decided to leave as he did not want to interfere in this matter. After all, he did not want to continue the entanglement with this woman.

As he was about to leave, he suddenly discovered that the man Helena was up against was rather familiar.

It’s Second Young Master Hunt!

Jack's expression darkened when he realized who the other person was. Who would have expected Helena to bump into Second Young Master Hunt during their first day of entering the forest.

"This doesn't seem right. Isn't Second Young Master Hunt in the intermediate-stage of the real-god level? Why is his power somehow stronger than Helena's?" Jack felt that something was wrong after observing them for some time; their fight seemed rather daunting to behold. Helena, who had a fighting prowess of the real-god level's final stage, gradually fell at a disadvantage while every new martial skill Second Young Master Hunt used was stronger than the last. Helena's forehead was already covered in sweat at this moment, unable to tank his attacks.

"Hundred Leaves Chop!" Second Young Master Hunt smiled coldly as he carried out an attack with his sword. The sword attack turned into 100 pieces of small leaves in front of him, formed by sword aura and Chi. The dense wave of attack covered the entire space and went toward Helena who was in front of him.

Chapter 1318

Helena's expression darkened as Second Young Master Hunt's attack unsettled her. The two of them had been fighting for some time and she underestimated him, seeing as she was already in the true-god level's final stage. She believed he was not her opponent.

However, she did not expect him to have broken through to the true-god level's final stage. Under the circumstances where his fighting prowess was equivalent to hers, his martial skills or martial art techniques seemed to be much stronger than hers. His overall combat power was slightly stronger than hers.

At this moment, it was obvious she was on the losing end, drenched in sweat and was in disarray.

She never expected Second Young Master Hunt to use such a powerful martial skill at that moment.

"Haha…! Let me show you my second-grade intermediate level martial skill!" Tyrell Hunt laughed loudly as triumph filled his eyes when he saw Helena's defeated expression.

"Conqueror Punch!" Not wanting to slip up, Helena mobilized the Chi in her body and swung her palm toward him.

Helena's nerves rested at that moment; she hoped it would withstand the opponent's attack…but what happened next shocked her.

The humongous Chi palm that she activated was cut open by the scary sword aura leaves moments later. The sword aura leaves left many cuts on the palm, and the cuts widened uncontrollably before the palm dispersed with an explosion.

However, although the Chi palm did not fully block the attack, almost half the Chi leaves were worn away by the palm. Only a few dozen leaves that looked not as condensed went straight for Helena "Sh*t. How can I evade so many leaves?" These leaves traveled speedily and soon covered a huge area like strands of light.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

The leaves flew past in a flash. Helena flew left and right, hoping to evade the attack, yet several still got to her.

Several cuts appeared on Helena' s sleeves, and with that, fresh blood slowly seeped through the wounds unsightly.

The worst part was that the area above her chest was also hit by a leaf. Her clothes were also cut open and blood trickled down from the wound.

The strong attack caused Helena to crash to the ground. She cried out loud as her face turned pale.

“Haha…! It looks like you are badly wounded!” The Second Young Master Hunt had a satisfied look on his face, flying closer to Helena and licking his lips as he landed not too far away. “It looks like breaking through my fighting prowess before entering is a wise choice. If I had not broken through my fighting prowess…” He chuckled. “You might’ve defeated me!”

“You bastard! What do you want? Our Cabello family had never offended your Hunt family! Don’t go too overboard!” Helena gritted her teeth as she curled her hands into fists, glaring with hatred.

“Haha…! Are you sure you didn’t offend the Hunt family?”

Chapter 1319

Surprisingly, Second Young Master Hunt once again laughed out loudly. “It’s true that the Cabello family never offended our Hunt family in the past, but didn’t you offend me just some time ago? You dared reject me in front of so many people and even made me look bad. You crossed me! Hmph! It’s your privilege for me to take a fancy in you! Our Hunt family is the number one reclusive family, yet you don’t know chalk from cheese!”

“I’ve already said that I have a boyfriend, so you should give up!” growled Helena as she wore a cold expression. “Apart from that, you’ve said it yourself: the Hunt family is the strongest reclusive family, and you’re the Hunt family’s second young master. Are you afraid you can’t get women?”

“Stop this nonsense!” snapped the Second Young Master Hunt.“ There are many women, but I only like you. I like women who are aloof and cold like you and Your two sisters!”

As he spoke, Second Young Master Hunt glanced at Helena’s chest that had cuts before licking his lips smirkingly. “So what if you have a boyfriend? So what if you’re not a virgin? Hmph. I don’t care about all these. I want to taste Jack’s woman right now.”

Helena immediately covered the wounds at her chest with her hands when she saw the look in his eyes. She moved several steps backward in fright. “Don’t … Don’t come near me. I’m the eldest young mistress of the Cabello family. If you dare do something so heinous to me, my father will kill you and avenge me!”

‘Revenge? Kill me?” Tyrell was stunned as if she said the funniest thing ever. “Firstly, you need to have the opportunity to go out alive. Apart from that, even if you can go out alive, what can your father do with me? The lot of you can’t go against the Hunt family. This is such a scandal that I don’t believe your father will dare come knocking on my door if I only rape you, not kill you!”

Tyrell walked closer toward Helena as he spoke, “Hmph, you forced me to do this. How am I, Second Young Master Hunt, weaker than that damned guy? How dare you choose that illegitimate son over me?!”

Whoosh!

Helena’s eyes flickered before she sped outward and tried to run far away.

“Thinking of escape?” Tyrell caught up with Helena in a flash when he saw she tried to escape. Quick on his feet, he managed to catch up with the wounded Helena within a mere two to three seconds.

Thump!

Tyrell punched Helena at her back after he caught up with her, causing her to crash to the ground followed by a slightly dull noise. She vomited a KINEMASTER mouthful of blood, and her complexion continued to turn pale.

“Haha… You’re thinking to escape? Let me see how you’re going to run!” Once again, Tyrell laughed and walked toward Helena step after another.

“Don’t… Don’t come closer!” Helena gritted her teeth as she struggled to get up from the ground. Sadly, she was so badly wounded that she had lost all her combat power.

She was filled with fear as the Second Young Master Hunt was a despicable person, capable of doing anything. With the Hunt family supporting him and the competition permitting killing competitors, he had nothing to fear.

Just then…

Whoosh!

A scary sword aura flashed toward Tyrell from the other direction.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1320-1322

Chapter 1320

As Tyrell truly was a master in the true-god level's final stage, he immediately detected something was wrong when the sword aura appeared and avoided it in a flash. The sword aura swept past him and cut down a tree.

Jack flew down from the slope, where he hid.

"It's you?" Tyrell was so angry that veins on his forehead surfaced when he saw Jack." What a coincidence, young man; you came just when I'm about to violate your girlfriend. Haha…! What fate this is!"

"Why… Why are you here?" Helena eyed Jack warily. How long had this guy been observing them, and why did he rush forward at this moment?

"Haha…!" Jack smiled bitterly and joked, "What could I have done? How can I not rescue you when he's already said you're my girlfriend?" Apart from a few who knew about their relationship at this moment, most people would have really thought of them as a couple. That bewildered Jack entirely.

Helena failed to fight back the blush on her face when she heard this, though she still rolled her eyes at Jack. "Why are you here? Do you have a death wish or something? I can't even defeat him, so you're no match for him either!"

She hesitated at this moment before she added, "It's best if you leave. One of us dying is better than both of us losing our lives!"

Truthfully, she felt extremely moved that Jack was willing to stand forward at this moment. She believed that it was the battling noises between her and Tyrell that captured Jack's attention.

Nonetheless, Jack should quickly leave, seeing that she was not Young Master Hunt's opponent. Going up against him was purely suicidal.

All of a sudden, Jack chuckled coldly, much to her surprise, as he said, "You really don't have much faith in me. We haven't started our fight yet. Isn't it bad to raise his ambitions and destroy my prestige at this moment?"

"Haha… Alright! I was afraid that we wouldn't this month, but I never thought you'd walk right into your death. I've never seen such a dumb person!" Tyrell, who was by their side, started laughing loudly. "It's good now that you've appeared!"

"Tsk, tsk. You're really boasting shamelessly. See, I'm not afraid of you, seeing as I did come up to you. I wouldn't stand before you if I was afraid of you." Jack smiled coldly and appeared apathetically

Tyrell was slightly stunned before he looked as if he had seen through his act. "You're a rather smart young man. Do you think I'll be afraid of you if you act like this? No matter what, I' m in the real-god level's final stage. Do you think that I'd be afraid of you? Let me tell you this: you might not be my opponent even if you're at the real-god level's peak stage. My combat power can't be compared to a normal being. Moreover, I know you're just at the true-god level's intermediate level!"

"Jack, it's best if you leave. I'm grateful for your kindness, but you can't go up against him. I can still fight for some time, and I'll help to drag this out, so you should quickly escape. Remember to tell my father who killed me after you've gotten out." Helena gritted her teeth as she walked a couple of steps forward. She seemed ready for another battle.

"Don't talk such nonsense. I've never planned to kill you; I only plan to sleep with you! Haha…! It 'd be even better if I'll get your second and third sister. Many people will envy me when I've tasted all Three Golden Flowers!" Second Young Master Hunt had a sleazy expression on his face. To him, Helena was already his.

"In your dreams!" Jack stepped forward and balled his fist as Chi was emitted.

Soon, a thick layer of Chi coated his fist.

Whoosh!

Chapter 1321

Jack swiftly flickered in front of Second Young Master Hunt and threw his fist at him.

This guy…truly is hard-headed to fight Tyrell in a life-and-death situation!' Helena was baffled as she saw Jack rushing forward. She merely used Jack as a decoy to deter Second Young Master Hunt from pestering her, yet not only did he not expose her lie, but he even came forward and helped her!

'Is he genuinely thinking I'm his girlfriend? Is it because I'm pretty and we once kissed?' Ideas began popping in Helena's head, thinking that this was most likely the case. After all, she and her two sisters were first -grade beauties and anybody else would be all too eager to become a hero saving a damsel in distress.

"Don't blame me; you're the one with the death wish!" Second Young Master Hunt also closed his hands into fists and activated his Chi before meeting Jack's punch.

Thoom!

A terrifying explosion could be heard as their fists met, and a strong wave of energy rippled outward from them.

The smirking Tyrell frowned right after. He thought his punch would send Jack flying, but the power that surged from Jack was not much weaker compared to his, and they were temporarily deadlocked.

"Impossible!" Helena took out a healing pill and consumed it, all the while thinking Jack would be sent zipping through the air, but she stood corrected.

The horrifying waves of energy were still counteracting. Both Jack and Tyrell suddenly increased their power, causing them to fly backward for a couple of meters before they regained their footing on the ground.

“How’s this possible? Your fighting prowess is obviously weaker than mine. How can your power match mine?” Tyrell was in disbelief. After all, he believed that the Hunt family’s martial art techniques were the best, thus it was impossible for Jack to be able to stand his ground when they both had the same fighting prowess.

Jack’s fighting prowess was obviously slightly lower than his, yet their fight showed that there was not much difference between them.

“Isn’t it quite normal for people to kill enemies of different levels?” Jack smiled indifferently and looked straight at Tyrell.

The corners of Tyrell’s mouth twitched. Jack’s words would not mean anything if he was just an ordinary casual trainer.

Who was he, then? He was the Hunt family’s young master, and what Jack said was undoubtedly humiliating him.

“That is it, young man!” Tyrell flew upward in a flash. He flipped his hand as he stood mid -air and a sky blue-colored sword appeared in his hand.

“Middle-grade spiritual tool!” Jack, who had also flown to the skies, was slightly surprised when he saw this sword.

Chapter 1322

Tyrell was quite satisfied with Jack's surprised expression.

He had a sinister smile as he raised his eyebrow and spoke," How about that? Are you afraid? Haha..! Seems like you got foresight, seeing as you can see that this sword of mine isn't that simple!"

Tyrell raised his sword and, pointing it at Jack's direction, declared domineeringly," Today, I'll cut off your hands with this sword of mine and wound you gravely!"

'Sigh! How troublesome… Jack has quite good combat power and is a genius among geniuses, but it's sad to see him going against this perverted Second Young Master Hunt!" Helena sighed inwardly as she eyed the sword and felt a faint fluctuation from it. Second Young Master Hunt used another sword, a lower-grade spiritual tool when he dealt with her, yet he suddenly pulled out this middlegrade spiritual tool against Jack.

It seemed like she and Jack were done for.

'Is this guy here to rescue me because I'm Daniella's sister?'

Thought Helena once more and smiled bitterly. This guy seemed infatuated, but it was sad to say he would die offending Second Young Master Hunt.

"Tsk, tsk. You're still so confident!" Jack looked as if he could care less. He closed his fist and Chi started to surge on top of his fist again.

"Don't you have a weapon, or do you plan to defeat me with your martial skills and without a weapon?" Tyrell was taken aback when he saw that Jack did not even take out his weapon.

However, he soon grinned as he sneered, "Alright, I get it now.

You know you can’t take any good weapons out that can increase your combat power!”

“Let’s talk after you successfully block my attack!” Jack did not want to say much to Tyrell. He punched at his direction and the horrifying Chi immediately surged out unstoppably. A daunting Chi wave appeared in front of Second Young Master Hunt.

The wave surged unavoidably as it grew increasingly larger. Then, the horrifying wave went pouncing toward Second Young Master Hunt who was below.

“Sh*t. This martial skill is at least a second-grade elementary skill, but its momentum seems deadly in his hands!” Second Young Master Hunt’s face turned serious when he saw the frightening wave in front of him. He had no idea that Jack’s martial skill would be so powerful and had such momentum. This attack was not weaker than Helena’s, who was at the real-god level’s final stage.

Second Young Master Hunt heightened his guard when he heard Jack’s scary martial skill, and he immediately infused his Chi into the sword in his hand.

The sword gave out a chilling humming sound, and the vibration of the sword grew stronger.

“Hundred Leaves Chop!” Second Young Master Hunt once again executed his powerful martial skill, but the leaves this time were far bigger than the previous ones and looked firmer as well.

It was obvious that Second Young Master Hunt’s attack was stronger compared to before after he changed into a stronger weapon.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1323-1325

Chapter 1323

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

The leaves that were formed by coagulating Chi and sword aura zipped forward speedily. After covering a huge space, they landed on Jack's Chi wave one after another.

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

Blasts followed one after another, and as the leaves exploded, Jack's Chi wave dispersed as it mitigated Second Young Master Hunt's attack successfully

"Damn!" As his attacks failed, Second Young Master Hunt's mouth twitched as his expression darkened at the sight…of a missing Jack. Not only that, but even the wounded Helena, who stood at the sidelines as they fought, had also disappeared.

Jack used the mighty Chi wave to rush and block Second Young Master Hunt's line of sight once it stacked up before escaping with Helena

"This guy is too smart. He runs away after knowing he can't defeat me. F*ck, he better wish we never cross paths again, or I' ll cut him into pieces!" growled Tyrell through gritted teeth, fists balled tightly in anger.

Meanwhile…

With his arms around Helena's waist from behind, Jack speedily flickered from the fight, occasionally changing direction from time to time.

Helena was bewildered in Jack's arms. She thought Jack would continue fighting Tyrell, seeing as his combat power was so impressive that it shocked her.

She did not expect that he would run away, taking her with him.

Helena's heart thrummed vehemently at the presence of Jack's masculine temperament. She secretly turned around to see Jack's handsome face and was absentminded for a short moment.

She had no idea that a man who she had framed previously would desperately help her at this moment.

After flying for some time, Jack eventually let Helena down after he was sure it was safe and that Tyrell was not after them.

"You… I thought you'd exert your utmost strength in fighting him. I'm surprised you chose to escape, taking me with you!" began Helena as she sat under a tree, her face slightly pinkish. She secretly glanced at Jack before saying, "You made the right choice, nonetheless. He has a higher fighting prowess compared to you, and I'm sure he hasn't used his strongest attack. If the battle continues, we 'd both die back there. You purposely used your strongest attack and deliberately acted to exert your utmost strength in fighting him, then choosing to escape with me as the attack blocked his sight. Your intelligence is commendable!"

Jack smiled bitterly after he heard this. "Do you truly think I can't fight him? I just refuse to fight him as he's the Hunt family 's second young master. If I kill him, the Hunt family will have our heads when we get out of here!"

"You can continue boasting. There aren't any other people there back there, and how sure are you that you can slay him?" Helena rolled her eyes at Jack." It's not shameful to escape when you can't win a fight against him. Why are you ashamed to admit it? Your fighting prowess is much lower than him, and it's good enough that you can still escape with me!"

Jack smiled as he walked over and spoke while looking at Helena, "How do you know that! There aren't any other people over there? I've already felt two extremely hidden breathing sounds not far away from us. They were obviously attracted by your previous fighting sounds. If I really kill Tyrell Hunt, those two will definitely inform the Hunt family after they leave this place!"

Chapter 1324

"That's impossible. You can sense someone was watching us?" Jack's claim shocked Helena, seeing as she felt nothing else out of the ordinary back there. She had no idea if it was because she was too zeroed in on Jack and Tyrell's fight.

If that was the case, Jack should have been more focused on his battle. Why, then, was he able to make out the presence of more people?

Jack noted Helena's puzzled face as he smilingly said, "I'm an alchemist, and my mental strength is naturally much stronger than yours. My perception of the surroundings is stronger than yours, and I can feel that the other party's breaths are very hidden. Seems to me that their fighting prowess isn't low, either."

Jack paused here before he continued, "That's why I think it 's best to let Second Young Master Hunt go this time."

Uncomfortable, the unimpressed Helena countered, "You can talk all you want. You' re speaking as if you can win had you continued your fight with him. Who knows if Second Young Master Hunt still has any last tricks up his sleeves? After all, he's from the Hunt family, and I'm sure he didn't use all his power in fighting you just now, just toying with you as he pleased."

Surprised that Helena underestimated him, Jack smiled coldly. "Fine, fine, fine… You can just take it that I can't win if I go against him. However, at least I managed to escape with you safely. How about you? If I didn't appear in time, you would've died there!"

Helena bit her sexy red lips as she lowered her head and abashedly replied, "Since you know that Second Young Master Hunt has such a high fighting prowess and combat power, why did you still come for me then? Aren't you afraid of dying? Don't you hate me as I…I've ruined your reputation and forced you to act as my boyfriend?"

Stunned momentarily, Jack then replied, "Hate you? Sure, I hated you and despised you, but it eventually clicked that you had no choice but to do it. Apart from that, I don't think it's possible for me to not acknowledge our relationship later on. By then, people from the other families would say that we were toying with them and were taking them as idiots!"

“Then why did you rescue me?”

Helena could not help but ask again after thinking about it.

“I can’t explain clearly why I rescued you. Maybe I didn’t want a beauty like you to be insulted by that fatty!” replied Jack.

His reply somewhat disappointed her. “There’s no other reason than that?” she asked as she lifted her head to look at Jack.

“Other reasons? Why would there be? I’m just rescuing a person, so I didn’t put much thought into it. I don’t like that fatty either, so I can’t let him have his way,” replied Jack nonchalantly, frowning soon after. “If we need to come up with another reason, it might be because I feel that you’re not a bad person. Apart from that, you’ re Daniella’s sister, and we’re truly good friends.”

Helena was dejected at that but was unable to pinpoint why she felt like that. She wondered if it had something to do with her giving her first kiss to this guy.

“Alright, thank you very much.”

Helena smiled and tried to not overthink things. She secretly reminded herself that this was her sister, Daniella’s boyfriend, and she had no relationship with this guy. It was already quite nice of him for not exposing her lies in front of everybody.

Jack lowered his head and looked at her, noticing the cut on her clothes and blood still seeping through the wound.

Jack frowned and reminded her, “You… You’re still bleeding.”

Chapter 1325

Helena lowered her head toward her chest, and her initially pale face turned crimson red with her blush. So embarrassed was she that she wanted the ground to part and consume her entirely.

She immediately covered herself and stared at Jack. “Don’t you understand the saying, ‘see no evil’? Why are you still looking at me? You’re a pervert, no good like every other man out there!”

That shocked Jack entirely. Just a kind reminder from him painted him a pervert.

He grew unhappy as he recalled how troublesome Helena had been within these two days.

He simply smirked. “Really? Didn’t you announce in front of everybody that I’m your boyfriend? Why are you so shy when we’re in a relationship, even giving your virginity to me? Weren’t you very proactive when we were on the streets the other day?”

“You…” His behavior angered Helena. She did not expect this guy to act rascally with her.

She rolled her eyes at Jack before saying, “I’m sure you know that I said that because I had no other choice. All we can do is just prolong that, now that everybody knows about our relationship. Don’t you worry: we’ll just announce that we’ve broken up after some time, and I won’t implicate you.”

Jack was speechless. “You won’t implicate me? Haha…! Haven’t you implicated me already? The Hunt family hates me so much and many of the young masters who like you also hate me. I’m now a public enemy!”

Helena could not control her smile at Jack’s complaint as she pompously replied, “Well, I can’t help it, I’m just that pretty. I’m sure many young masters dream of being mistaken as my boyfriend.”

“Fine. Take this, and I’ll think of this as karma from my past life.” Eyeing the woman on the ground, he flipped his hand and took a healing pill out before throwing it to Helena.

“What’s this?” Helena looked at Jack suspiciously. “Let me tell you this: don’t think about feeding me some strange medication. I, Helena Cabello, am not so gullible!”

Exasperated, Jack argued,” Hey, do I need to use such means if I really have any intentions toward you? You can’ t fight me, not when you’re this badly wounded!”

“Plausible. But, I’ve already taken a pill to heal my wounds. There’s no need to take this pill of yours.” Helena glanced at her wounds before speaking again,” Look, I’m not bleeding anymore.”

“Your medication has a bad effect. Your wounds would’ve stopped bleeding some time ago had you eaten mine, and your wound might’ve even healed!” Jack shook his head before saying again, “Up to you. Eat it if you believe in me; don’t take it if you don’t.”

“I… I’ll give it a try.” Helena glanced at Jack and hesitated for a short moment before swallowing the pill Jack gave her.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1326-1328

Chapter 1326

Helena discovered that her wounds had started to heal shortly after she took the pill. The speed of her recovery was far better than the pill from her family, and not even a single scar was visible.

“The White family has such good healing pills? Seems like your family also has a good study into such things!” exclaimed Helena, assessing how powerful the pill Jack gave her was.

“This isn’t from the White family. I cultivated these when I had free time, and I’ve cultivated quite a lot of them.” Jack gave an awkward smile before he added, “I’ll teach the other members of the White family when I’ve got the time. They’ll be able to use better healing medication in the future!”

“I never thought you’d have such talent!” Helena looked at Jack in admiration. She had to admit that this man, her third sister’s boyfriend, was an outstanding person. To top off his talented self, he was generous and quite the looker himself.

Envy sprung from within her, though faintly so. How was it that she never met such outstanding men throughout all these years?

Was it possible that her meeting with Jack would have been perfect had he not been her third sister’s boyfriend?

Helena slowly fell into a state of trance as she thought about it.

“I see there’s a cave over there, and it’s quite late. Why don’t we rest there for one night?” Jack glanced at Helena and continued, “You have blood on your clothes. Why don’t you go in and have a change while I stand guard for you outside.”

“You’ll guard me?” Helena frowned and meekly continued, “How would I know if you’ll peek?”

Flustered, he exasperatedly said, “It’s up to you. You don’t need to change if you don’t want to and feel that wearing your current clothes is more comfortable. Might I remind you, though, that you got several tears in your clothes, and I’m afraid that others would stare at you no matter where you go after this.”

Helena’s pretty face immediately blushed into a crimson color. She glanced at Jack before agreeing, “Alright. You can’t peek no matter what, do you understand? I… I’ll tell my sister if you do!”

Jack was speechless. “You’re going to tell Daniella? Tell her that I peeked at you? Haha…! Will you be shameless enough to tell others about something like this?”

“Hmph! Don’t act dumb. Do you think I don’t know anything? You ‘re dating my sister-even Daniella admitted to it!” Helena spoke indignantly and walked toward the cave that Jack mentioned. “So if you’re a pervert and dares peek at me, you’ll be done for when my sister learns about it. She’ll definitely break up with you then!”

Trotting behind Helena, Jack grumbled, unable to hold back,“ It’d be nice if she actually does break up with me.”

“Hmm? What did you say?” Who would have expected Helena to have such good hearing. She stopped walking and looked at Jack with a puzzled look on her face.

Jack quickly said, “It’s nothing. Sigh! I didn’t have a choice. I’m married and am much older than your sister, but your sister insisted and pestered me. I don’t have a choice but to accept my fate!”

Helena immediately rolled her eyes at Jack. “Alright, keep acting like that if you want. Do you think I’ll believe in what you say? You must’ve tricked my sister into being yours after seeing how young and pretty she is. My sister fell into your trap because she’s too naïve and had never been exposed to the outside world. After you’ve gotten what you want, you’re saying now that my sister pursued and pestered you. You really don’t have any conscience!”

“Uh!” Jack knew nobody would believe him if he told others about this story. After all, any man would have fallen for such a beautiful and young woman when they encountered one. Even he experienced a feeling of restlessness that he never had in the past when he rode on the horse with Daniella.

Chapter 1327

Jack never thought of pursuing Daniella, but that one night when they slept together after they got drunk changed it all.

“Alright. I’ll go in and change, so you can keep watch outside. Remember, don’t peek or you won’t hear the end of this!” Helena turned around and smiled before entering the cave alone.

“That woman…!” Jack smiled bitterly before taking out a cigarette and slowly enjoyed a smoke outside.

He never thought he would chance upon Helena and Second Young Master Hunt during the first day of this competition. Everything seemed as if it was fated.

All of a sudden… “Ah!”

Jack heard Helena’s yell from inside the cave just as he took two whiffs of his cigarette.

“This is bad. She’s in danger!” Startled, Jack rushed toward the cave.

“Roar!” He saw a tiger attacking Helena as he rushed into the cave.

With a flip of his hand, the black sword appeared in his hand and he waved toward the tiger.

Whoosh!

Jack rushed forward and a sword aura flew forward, severing the tiger’s head. The tiger landed on the ground with an audible thud, lifeless as it did.

“A monster beast that’s at the final stage of the semi-god level, and you…” Jack turned around to look at Helena who stood near the cave’s wall after he killed the monster beast.

“Don’t look!” With a new dress at hand, Helena quickly draped it before her form as her soiled clothes were on the ground.

Jack was stunned when he saw such a scene. Although Helena had covered herself with her dress, her fair thighs and collarbone looked sexy and alluring. He was rather bewitched at the sight.

Jack had no doubt that if another man saw her abashed expression and under the circumstances that her wounds were not completely healed, they would have acted on impulse.

“You… You’re still looking!” Helena blushed terribly and was tongue-tied; no man had ever stared at her in such a state.

Jack soon snapped out of his trance and had an embarrassed expression on his face. He immediately pretended to look around. “I’m seeing if there are any other monster beasts around here!”

Jack rushed outside after he looked around for a couple of times and said, “Ask me to come in after you’re done dressing up!”

Helena pursed her lips angrily after Jack left. She looked at her almost perfect figure and did not know how to react to what happened.

Chapter 1328

“Alright, you can come in now!” Changed into her new dress, Helena took a moment to recollect herself before calling out to Jack.

Jack entered the cave with a dead rabbit in his hands before he threw it aside.

“Why did you bring a rabbit in?” Helena immediately asked when she saw the tiny monster beast’s body on the ground.

Jack smiled. “Since we have time, let’s roast it as food later!”

He then exited the cave in search of some dried wood. He then ignited it and started roasting the rabbit after taking off its skin.

Sitting next to Jack, Helena took her time before softly asking," Did you see anything just now?"

"Ahem, ahem! I didn't see anything. Didn't you cover yourself with your clothes?" mumbled Jack as he coughed, embarrassed. "Although you're hurt, that monster beast isn't a high-level one, and you should ve been able to handle it."

Helena rolled her eyes at him and said, "The tiger hid at the dark spot over there, and I didn't notice that there was a monster beast in here. I was surprised when it jumped forward. Also, do you think I should fight without wearing clothes?".

Only then did Jack realize what had happened as he sheepishly said, "You're right. This is the first time I've come to such a place. I've forgotten that there are many monster beasts here, and I should've checked the cave before letting you in."

"Hmph," scoffed Helena. "lad you know this." A moment later, she then said, "By the way, you cannot tell my sisters about what happened just now."

Smiling, Jack assured, "Don't worry. I've seen nothing, so there should be nothing to say, right?"

Helena frowned and said angrily, "What do you mean? You mean to say that you'd tell people about what happened just now if you've seen something?"

"Uh, there's nothing much say even if that's the case!" Fan smiled.

He pulled the rabbit's thigh down when the roasted meat was almost done and passed it to Helena. "Do you want to have eyeing Jack, the rather shocked Helena spoke, "You really know how to enjoy life. You actually brought this out with you!"

“Haha… Do you want a sip?” Jack smiled and handed the wine in his hand outward.

“I don’t want to drink it. I can have a couple of sips if we’re with the Cabello family, but I dare not drink at such a place since it’ll only spell trouble if I get drunk.”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1329-1333

Chapter 1329

Helena waved his hand before she recalled something, asking Jack with great interest, “By the way, since you’re with Daniella, how did the two of you meet?”

“Some mounted brigands captured her, and I have history with them, so I killed them and incidentally rescued her.” Jack ate big mouthfuls of the rabbit meat in his hands and gulped down a huge mouthful of wine before he continued, “We gradually got together after spending some time together!”

Helena had a doubtful expression on her face. “You’ve just known each other for around one month, and you’re telling me you got together after spending some time together? That’s too fast, in my opinion. Many people who knew and pursued Daniella for many years, maybe more than a dozen years, had never won her heart before. You truly have some dumb luck to be able to win her heart.”

“Me, dumb luck? Haha!” Jack smiled awkwardly when he heard this and a complicated feeling rose from his heart.

It grew late as they chatted on.

The next morning, Helena’s wounds had completely recovered.

“Alright. I won’t follow you now that I’ve healed, or we’d fight over precious items that we come across!” Helena exited the cave and stretched herself. Her almost perfect body was once again out for show.

“Alright. Be careful now, and don ‘t run into the Second Young Master Hunt again,” reminded Jack before he flew upward.

“It won’t be so easy to meet someone!” Helena also started flying in a flash. She glanced at Jack and said, “Don’t worry, there aren’t many of my opponents here.”

Just as they were about to leave, however…

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

They heard battle noises not far away, and it sounded closer to them by the second.

“They’re members of the White family!” Jack took a look and soon discovered that four or five members of the White family were escaping from a group of people. He immediately rushed forward, hands curled into fists.

Helena initially had no plans to intervene, but she soon noted something else. The seven to eight people who were chasing participants from the White family were prodigies from the Cabello family.

She smiled bitterly, shaking her head before flying toward them.

“Damn it, Beth! Why don’t we just give it to them? They’re so persistent in chasing us!” said Yule, who was flying in front, frowning as she turned to look at their chasers.

“No way! We tried so hard to get a white token. Why do we need to give it to the Cabellos?!” growled Beth through gritted teeth as she saw the group chasing them came closer. “Why don’t we split up while we fly? The both of us won’t be killed at the same time if we do that!”

At that moment, Yule saw a man flying toward them, and hope filled her expression when she noticed who it was. “Hey, that… That seems to be brother Jack!”

“It really is him. This is great! We don’t need to escape anymore. F*ck, we’ll definitely win now that Young Master Jack is here to kill these damned Cabellos!” Beth immediately stopped and was relieved. Jack was here at last, and the Cabellos behind them were no match for him, no doubt.

Yule thought about it and said, “ Do we really need to kill them? There’s no need for it, right? Although these Cabellos are detestable, aren’t my brother and Eldest Young Mistress Cabello a couple? There’s no need for us to bring the situation into a deadlock, right?”

Astounded by her reasoning, Beth rolled her eyes at her before she argued, “You’re such a gullible young lady. Can’t you see what’s going on? Your brother Jack and the Eldest Young Mistress Cabello aren’t a couple, and they’re forced to be a fake couple, left without a choice! Some time later in the future, the two of them will surely announce their break up after Helena finds the person she really likes!”

Chapter 1330

Beth’s reasoning clicked for Yule. “That’s true. I was also wondering how my brother and Helena dated all of a sudden. After all, they had just met each other and never crossed paths before! Looks like my brother is being kind to help Helena, so he didn’t expose her. Otherwise, the Cabello family would’ve been in big trouble!”

Beth also nodded. “The most crucial point is the domineering nature of the Hunt family members. Both the Second Young Master Hunt and Eldest Young Master Hunt are greatly talented. It’s best to not offend them if possible.” Beth paused here before she continued,” However, if I’m Helena Cabello, I won’t fall for that fatty, Second Young Master Hunt. I would’ve done something like forcefully kissing Young Master Jack to shake of Second Young Master Hunt!”

The second they finished speaking, Jack appeared in front of them and stopped.

The seven to eight Cabello family members also stopped not far away from them.

The expression of one man from the Cabello family darkened when he saw Jack arriving. “F* ck, this is troublesome! Why is the White family’s young master here? This guy is in the real-god level, intermediate stage!”

“Brother Jay, why don’t we just give up? We won’t be able to defeat them right now!” suggested a young lady to the man, Jay Cabello, after she glanced at Jack and the others.

Bitter, Jay was about to give up when his eyes lit up as he pointed to the area not far from their location. “Look, it’s the eldest young mistress!”

“Family master inheritor a couple? Would she help us take it? ” A man thought about it and said with a weird expression on his face.

Jay thought about it with a frown on his face and said with a slight uncertainty, “I think she’ll help us. I heard from the elders of the Cabello family that the eldest young mistress said that on purpose so the Hunt family wouldn’t force her hand in marriage. Hence, she’s not that guy’s girlfriend. These are two independent incidents, and I believe that Eldest Young Mistress Cabello will help us!”

Whoosh!

After some time, Helena flew over and stood together with the Cabellos.

Helena glanced at Jay and the others before she asked, “What’ s going on here?”

Jay walked one step forward and said to Helena, “Eldest young mistress, they got a white token, equivalent to ten black ones. Apart from that, that woman even got a second-grade elementary spirited grass. Let’s take it from them!” His eyes were seemingly ablaze as he mentioned the token and spirited grass—both items were worth fighting for.

“Young master, we found them first yet these people wanted to take them after we’ve gotten them!” Beth, Yule, and the others once again wore serious expressions on their faces when they saw that Helena had arrived.

Chapter 1331

“I get it now, don’t worry.” Jack smiled and said nothing else. Instead, he looked at Helena indifferently, wanting to see what Helena would decide on. After all, not only did he help her stop Second Young Master Hunt from pestering her, but he literally saved her life last evening.

However, there were many fights between both families in the past, so he was curious to know Helena’ s choice.

“This belonged to them as they discovered it first. Why do you people need to take it from them?” Helena glared at Jay and the others before she continued,” Jack is a good person, and he even helped me at a very important moment yesterday. Let them have what they’ve earned!”

Met with looks of surprise from the Cabello family’s geniuses, Helena thoughtfully added, “By the way, when you meet members from the White family in the future, don’t take things from them. We’re friendly allies, do you understand? You guys need to help them if we happen to come across incidents where the Hunt family wants to bully them, do you understand?”

“Uh!” Jay and the others had their jaws wide open in shock, wondering if they heard wrongly.

Their chins almost dropped to the ground as they wondered: when did both families become friendly allies? Apart from that, they even had to help when the Hunt family members bully the White family members?

Helena once again glared at everyone before placing her hands behind her back and spoke in a serious manner, “Why are you people so surprised? Do you still remember what my father said? In this competition, I have the highest fighting prowess among all the contestants from the Cabello family, so everybody has to obey my arrangements, understand?"

"Yes, eldest young mistress!" The people from the Cabello family could only nod in agreement. However, they still could not accept the fact that the Cabello family had become friendly alliances with the White family.

Eyeing Jack, they recalled how Helena seemed to have flown over from the same direction as this guy did. They started to wonder if their eldest young mistress was genuinely dating Jack, or if their relationship had upped a notch within these couple of days because of what happened before.

"Alright, then we'll make a move first!" In the end, Helena glanced at Jack and gestured to him.

"Alright!" Jack nodded and looked on as they left.

"Young Master, you're awesome! It looks like Helena Cabello has fallen in love with you. I mean, why would she help you without any hesitation?" said Beth happily as she walked toward Jack after Helena and the others left.

"That's right! Congratulations on scoring another beautiful lady, Young Master Jack. Haha!" Another young man from the White family also started laughing. "It'd be best if we let go of our past grievances and become friendly allies. The relationship between both families will further improve when Young Master Jack and Young Mistress Helena get married."

Jack was speechless. What sort of nonsense were they talking about? Things had not started to take shape yet, and they were already thinking about marriage? That must not happen; that was Daniella's sister!

He immediately glared at that guy. "Stop speaking such nonsense about getting married. I' ve never even thought about it!"

“Uh!” The guy had a startled look on his face. “What? Young master, she’s a beauty-a sexy and aloof angel. She obviously likes you, and that’s why she helped us just now. You’re already dating her, yet you never thought of marrying her? The two of you are obviously made for one another!”

Chapter 1332

“What? Young Master, are you just playing with her? You’re being too irresponsible if that’s the case. Apart from that, Eldest Young Mistress Cabello is really pretty, and I think she suits you well!” Another young man from the White family was also startled. They never expected that Jack would only want to be in a relationship with Eldest Young Mistress Cabello without even thinking about marriage. Eldest Young Mistress Cabello would be saddened to hear this.

Those words made Jack embarrassed, and he had no idea what to say or how to explain himself at that moment. If he made an explanation and these people ran their mouth about how they were only a fake couple, both the Hunt family master.

“Alright, alright… Why should people like us worry about our young master’s relationship issue? You people really are…” Beth stood forward and rolled her eyes at both young men. With a flip of her hand, she took out two to three pieces of black tokens and one white token. Apart from that, there was also a second-grade elementary spirited grass and several firstgrade spirited grass. “Young Master, it’s best if you take custody of these things as they won’t be safe with us. Moreover, we won’t be able to place at the front few positions even if we take it with us. You should take it and bring honor to our White family by ranking top in the individual category!”

Yule chimed in, smilingly saying, “That’s right, Brother Jack. In the past, we didn’t have anybody with such a high fighting prowess or combat power like you when the White family joined the competition Hence, we all kept the respective tokens we got during the competition. This also meant that nobody was really strong in the individual category, but our placement as a group was quite good. Still, the other families still made jokes out of us because

Of this.”

Yule then added, “Right now, everything is different. We can give all the tokens we got to you and make sure that we have someone at the top placing in the individual category!”

Jack was quiet for a short while before he took the tokens and spirited grass from them. Stashing it away, he said, “Alright, I’ll take the tokens and other items with me. I think that it’s best if you guys travel with me; it’s much safer for you that way.

I’m afraid that the people from the Hunt family and Lagorio family will find an opportunity to strike at us.”

Yule frowned the moment she heard this and thoughtfully offered, “Brother Jack, I think it’s best if we travel separately as the forest is huge. I don’t think that members from both the Lagorio and Hunt families have gathered together yet. Although it’s much safer for us to travel with you, it’d be difficult to find more tokens in that case!”

Beth also nodded. “Yes, why don’t we do this instead? Let’s gather at the bottom of the Kobe mountain before we go up the mountain together. That’d be much safer as there are more tokens in the mountain, and many people must be rushing there right now!”

Assessing the idea, Jack replied, “Why don’t we move separately and inform other members of the White family that we’ll gather at a specific part at the bottom of the mountain before moving up together? After all, I’m sure that many people from the other families would also gather here. It wouldn’t be beneficial to us if we move separately!

“Alright. We’ll surely ask everybody to inform one another and try our best to be extra careful. Then, we shall be able to get more tokens!” said Beth enthusiastically.

Jack nodded and said, “Alright. Be on your guard, everyone.”

“Jack! This is great!”

Chapter 1333

A familiar voice was heard all of a sudden as a woman came flying toward Jack.

She rushed into Jack's arms in excitement as soon as she came before him, hugging him as she gushed, "This is great! I've finally met you! I was so worried about you!"

Jack was embarrassed. He did not expect Daniella to be so excited to see him.

"What…?" Yule and the others looked on in confusion and shock. Two of them had their jaws hung wide open until their chins almost dropped to the floor in their shock.

Was it not the Eldest Young Mistress Cabello Young Master that was Jack's girlfriend? Why did Daniella jump into Jack's arms the second she got in front of him? Could it be possible that they had made a mistake?

"Cough, cough…! Daniella, you…" Jack quickly reminded her.

Only then did Daniella glanced to the side and immediately blushed before she walked a couple of steps backward. "Don' t… Don't misunderstand me. I'm too excited because… Haha…! It' s been a long time since I've met Young Master Jack!"

Everyone was baffled at her explanation; that sounded rather unconvincing. Had they not just arrived here for one day? Why did this young lady imply she had not seen Jack for a long time?

"Haha…! We get it, we get it!" Yule laughed and exchanged glances with Beth. They were smart and could see that Daniella definitely liked Jack.

However, they were curious about why Daniella would fight her sister for her boyfriend when she knew that Helena was Jack's girlfriend.

At this moment, a young man from the White family stood forward and coughed embarrassingly. They obviously did not want to be thirdwheelers. “Ahem, ahem! We’ll be taking our leave now.”

“Let’s go! Go! Go!” Yule and the others also smiled before waving goodbye to the two of them. One by one, they slowly flew away.

“Look at what you’ve done. They ‘ve misunderstood us!” Jack was exasperated as he noticed the White family’s members leaving. Daniella was quite impulsive as she was slightly younger.

Daniella also felt that she had

Made a mistake. She bit her sexy red lips while lowering her head, saying, “I didn’t do it on purpose. I was only worried about you because I haven’t seen you. Apart from that, this can’t be considered as a misunderstanding as I’m your real girlfriend. You’ve said that you’d take responsibility toward me. Do you want to break your promise?”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1334-1338

Chapter 1334

Jack smiled and said to Daniella, “Don’t worry. I, Jack White, never broke a promise!”

“Alright, let’s go! I’m traveling with you!” Daniella felt butterflies in her stomach. With a flip of her hand, she revealed two black tokens and handed them to Jack. “Haha…! I found these yesterday. Here, they’re for you!”

“For me?” Jack was flustered.“ You’re a member of the Cabello family. It’s best if you reserve this for your eldest sister!”

“I am a member of the Cabello family,” said the blushing Daniella before she added, “but I ‘m also yours. You’re going to be my man in the future, so I have to help you!”

Her thoughtfulness moved Jack. He tidied up everything and held Daniella's hand as they flew down.

Daniella hugged Jack from his back the moment they landed on the ground. She then tilted her head toward Jack's back, lips curling into a sweet smile.

Jack had no idea that this young girl would be such a clingy person. Smiling awkwardly, he said, "Come on, let's continue searching for treasures. Stop clinging to me; we gotta look for the tokens."

"What are you afraid of? I'm your actual girlfriend. I notice I' d think of you so often if I don't see you for one day. Apart from that, both the young masters of the Hunt family have such terrifying combat power, and I' m afraid they'll attack you if they run into you!" Daniella still hugged Jack tightly, reveling in the heartwarming feeling. "My worries are finally resolved now that I've seen you."

All of a sudden… "My, oh my… Who knew I'd be fortunate enough to see such a scene. Haha!" A man's voice was heard not far from them several seconds later.

Daniella immediately let go of Jack, awfully nervous as her face blushed a crimson red color.

The two of them immediately turned around and saw eight people standing behind them. Four of them were prodigies from the Norman family while the other four were geniuses from the Lagorio family.

The person who spoke was none other than Joshua Norman, the person who lost to Jack before.

"This is so interesting. It looks like the saying, the brother-inlaw owns half of his wife's sisters,' is true!" Another man from the Lagorio family smiled with a teasing expression on his face.

"Daniella, does your sister know about this?" asked the smirking Keith.

Daniella looked bitter at their words. She wanted to tell these dumb people that she was Jack' s true girlfriend, and her sister was just faking it with Jack. She wanted to tell them their relationship was just a makeshift stratagem.

Nonetheless, she knew she could not bring it up, and she dared not to as well.

"Why? Are you jealous of me?"

Chapter 1335

Facing the taunts, Jack grabbed Daniella by her waist, pulled her close to his chest, and lowered his head to kiss her on her red lips.

Daniella's heart raced wildly in her bewilderment, taken aback at how Jack decided to prove their relationship at this moment in such a domineering way. Was he not afraid of these people spreading news about them? What should they do when the Hunt family learn about this?

"You…" All three sons of the Norman family liked the three young mistresses of the Cabello family. Their main target of persuasion was Danielly as she looked especially young and quirky. She, to put it simply, captivated them.

How could Jack make both Helena and Daniella fall for him? They spurned with jealousy that rose from their hearts. Moreover, they resented how the woman they loved was taken away by someone else.

"Oh, you'll die today, young man!" growled Conley Norman.

"Young Masters, what say we kill them together, seeing that we've easily outnumbered them?" The Lagorios immediately suggested it to Keith and the others as they were delighted when they heard this.

"Haha… Just with you people?" Jack laughed and had a cold expression on his face. "Since you guys like to come at me so much, I won't hold back today. Keeping you people alive doesn' t benefit our White family!" Jack had made up his mind: They had to die, especially when the three sons of the Norman family were so talented. Keith and Joshua were at the intermediate stage of the real god stage. If they left this place alive, they would definitely attack prodigies of the White family in the later stages of the competition.

Jack decided to kill these geniuses from the Norman and Lagorio family at that moment.

"Haha! I'd love to know where you got all that confidence from." Joshua laughed out loudly. "Jack, do you think you can defeat us just because you' ve won against me and my second brother? Take a good look at our numbers and yours, not to mention that all eight of us are masters of the true-god level!"

"It's even better that you're all masters of the true-god level. You guys won't be able to threaten our White family if I get rid of everybody in one go!" Jack flipped his hand to take his black sword out before speaking, "Daniella, you should stay behind me. I can handle these people alone!"

"Can you handle it alone?" Daniella frowned and obviously did not believe in what Jack said. Sure, Jack was in the intermediate level of the true god level, and he might be able to defeat Keith and the others if they fought individually, but there were so many of them. How could Daniella not worry when so many of them were going to attack Jack altogether?

"Don't worry. They can't beat me." Jack smiled indifferently and asked Daniella to step back.

"Ah, no wonder women like you so much, young man-you're good at being chivalrous!"

The corners of Keith's mouth curled into a light smile." Although I'm in the intermediate stage of the true god level like my second brother, my combat power among those in this stage is almost invincible. Even if there are three masters in the intermediate stage of the true god level, they might not be opponents. Are you sure that you alone can stop all of us?"

"Young Master Norman, let's stop talking with this guy and kill all of them!" One of the men from the Lagorio family was impatient. Their family master, Trenton Lagorio would be happy if they managed to kill Jack, the White family master inheritor, with the help of the Normans.

“Kill all of them? That won’t work. We can kill that man, but it ‘d be unfortunate to kill Daniella!” said the grinning Keith, and he swallowed his saliva at the sight of Daniella’s long legs.

Chapter 1336

“You’re absolutely right, Big Bro. This woman is a rare beauty. It would be a pity to kill her just like that!”

Joshua gave a wicked smile.“ Besides, we can kill whoever we like in this competition. Haha. Even Daniella’s father wouldn’t dare to do anything to us if we toy around with her for a bit before killing her!”

Conley also chimed in, “Both of you are right. Daniella isn’t Jack’ s girlfriend, so it’s a possibility that she’s still a virgin. Hehe!”

“You’re right!”

Another genius from the Norman family had a wicked smile carved on his face.

The other two men from the Lagorio family also had wicked smiles. They stared at Daniella and gulped.

After all, it was difficult to find a beauty like her. Many men lusted after the daughters of the Cabello family, and taking their womanhood would give them plenty of bragging rights.

The two young women from the Lagorio family were internally speechless. They believed that all men were perverts who reverted to their cavemen selves once they saw a beautiful woman.

“Idiots!”

Jack was speechless before this lot. He was holding an ultimate grade spiritual weapon. Never mind if it did not increase his fighting power, but at any rate, this group of idiots would never be able to catch up to them if he were to flee with Daniella.

“What a mouth you have!”

Keith took a step forward and waved his hand. “Let’s all do this. Give your all if you want to have a taste of Third Young Mistress Cabello. Don’t hold back. Let’s join forces and get rid of this punk!”

“Big Bro, that sword looks like a flying sword. That-that’s an upper-grade spiritual tool. We’d better be careful!”

Conley thought about it for a while and told Keith, holding a weapon in his own hand.

“Don’t worry. In cases like this, a flying sword may be able to fly fast, but it’s not very strong in combat. I think it’s no good in increasing your fighting power!”

It was evident that Keith had some knowledge about spiritual tools. He gave a wan smile and spoke confidently, “I’m telling all of you that I’m the strongest here. After we kill this punk, I’ll take that sword. How about that?”

“Of course. It belongs to you!”

Joshua and Conley chorused in synchrony.

Several geniuses from the Lagorio family were eyeing the treasure, but they were only at the beginning stage of the true god status. They could do nothing but bow their heads and concede.

“You’re going to die here today, punk. I’ll show you the secondgrade martial technique from the Norman family-Feral Slash!”

Keith channeled his chi into the sword in his grip. Its blade began to glow and emit a terrifying hum.

Hum hum!

Joshua and Conley also took out their weapons, gathering their chi into them.

The other five people also began to scatter and take out their weapons.

Daniella, who was standing behind Jack with clenched fists, was worried about him.

Chapter 1337

After all, the eight men before him were all fighters in the true god realm, and two of them were at the intermediate stage. They were probably the aces among the contestants today.

Could Jack handle attacks from the eight of them alone?

Yet a small smile hung on his lips even as he faced against them. He tightened his grip on the black sword in his hand, slowly pouring his chi through the small hole on its hilt.

Hum!

As chi flowed into it, the sword started emitting a frightening hum. The blade rippled, and Jack’s aura grew stronger.

“What a powerful aura. The sword increased his martial ability!”

Joshua quickly sensed something and his expression darkened.

“Big Bro, didn’t you say that a flying sword wouldn’t usually increase the fighting prowess of its wielder?”

Conley was frightened after he felt that wave of energy. He quickly looked at his elder brother for assurance.

Keith’s expression stiffened, and he clenched his jaw. “I said’ usually’. F*ck. There’s something different about that sword. That aura doesn’t belong to an upper-grade spiritual tool -it’s an ultimate-grade!”

“What? An ultimate-grade!”

Conley and the others were shocked beyond comprehension when they heard this as if they had just seen a ghost. Only the Hunt family should be able to pull out a treasure like that. How did that punk possess an ultimate-grade spiritual tool?

“Kill him! No backing out now!”

Keith gritted his teeth, and his eyes flashed with the promise of violence. He slashes his sword, and blade after blade of sword auras formed before him. They looked feral and their trajectories were unpredictable as they swept toward Jack.

“Get him!”

The other seven did not dare to hesitate for a second longer. They immediately lashed out with attacks of their own.

“Hmph. I’ll show you my second -grade premium martial skill!”

Jack gave a cold smile in the face of so many attacks. He took a vehement step forward, both hands gripped around the hilt of his sword. He arched his back and slashed outward. “Blade Wave!”

As he cried out, waves of sword auras appeared and continuously rippled, flying everywhere.

“No way!”

A girl from the Lagorio family was so frightened that her face paled at the sight of this attack. She felt as though she was facing someone at the peak of the true god realm.

“You’re kidding me. The White family has a second-grade premium martial skill?”

Keith was also shocked. It was rare to see martial skills that Were second-grade premium.

Even second-grade intermediate martial skills were hard to find. The Feral Slash technique from the Norman family was already unique to them.

Yet Jack used a second-grade premium martial skill. With amplified power from the ultimate-grade spiritual tool, that skill was pushed to its absolute maximum. All of them felt a grave premonition of death descending upon them.

Chapter 1338

Even Keith with the highest cultivation level and was the strongest fighter, was frightened, feeling as though death was coming for them. That feeling became stronger and stronger, and the other seven were all so terrified that color was completely leached from their faces. Fear filled their gazes.

“Don’t worry. We’ll definitely win. We have so many people attacking together. We’ll get him!”

Conley was so scared that his voice was trembling, yet he gripped tightly onto his sword and tried to encourage his comrades.

Bang bang bang!

A frightening explosion tore through the air. In the next second, the attacks from the Lagorio geniuses who were at the beginning stage of the true god status were all destroyed.

“Pfft!”

Those fellows spat a mouthful of blood, their faces twisted into grimaces.

“Sh*t. Their attacks were destroyed so easily!”

A few of their attacks had been destroyed by Jack. It was obvious that the attacks from Keith and the remaining men were not going to hold out for long. In a flash, beads of sweat began to drip from his forehead.

“This is bad, Big Bro. Let’s retreat!”

Joshua’s attacks were being suppressed as well. Jack’s sword auras were flying toward him non-stop, and he was so scared that his voice trembled.

“F*ck!”

Keith clenched his teeth and wheeled around to leave.

Whoosh whoosh whoosh!

Yet Jack was too fast, with the chi-enhanced sword and the sword auras. The blade swung outward, and immediately killed those of a lower cultivation level.

Only Keith and Joshua, who were a little stronger, managed to survive. Still, they were thrown backward by that horrifying force. Blood spilled from their lips and they fell with a heavy thud onto the ground.

“He’s too fast. We can’t escape!”

Joshua gritted his teeth. By the time he could lift his head, he realized that Jack had already flown over. He stood before the two brothers, giving them a cold Stare.

“We are the young masters of the Norman family, Jack. We’re the young masters of a firstclass family. My father won’t forgive you if you kill us!”

Keith threatened Jack, gritting his teeth.

He did not think that Jack would give a mirthless smile instead.” You said that we can kill whoever we like in this competition, and no one can do anything about it. Besides, nobody is bearing witness to us. Who would ever find out that I killed you?”

After Jack said that, he swung his sword.

Chapter 1339-1345

A terrifying arc-shaped slash flew directly out and landed on the chests of the two brothers, killing them instantly.

Daniella on the side was already dumbfounded. After a while, she swallowed her saliva.

Jack collected all the loot from the eight people, and then he came to Daniella for a moment, before smiling at her, “Let’s get out of here quickly, otherwise people will know it’s me who killed these guys. When it’s time to leave the forest and the Norman family finds out, even if they won’t make a move for the time being, they will definitely find trouble with our family in the future!”

“Yeah!”

Daniella nodded obediently. She actually stretched out her hand and held Jack’s hand, then they flew forward together, quickly disappearing from the place.

After the two flew for a while, they stopped, and Jack took out the tokens and spirit grass in their rings, and put it into his ring. Then they threw all of the rings collected in the grass.

Daniella, who was on the side, felt sweet in her heart. Jack actually kissed her proactively in front of those guys. This really surprised her. She never thought that such an old-fashioned, very serious guy would be so emotional as well.

Thinking of the previous scene, Daniella's mouth unconsciously showed a silly smile, and she was still a little nervous.

"By the way, yesterday, I saw your eldest sister!"

Jack thought for a while, then said to Daniella: "The second young master of the Hunt family has actually reached the late stage of True God Realm. This guy's combat effectiveness is really high. Your eldest sister is not his opponent. Fortunately, I saved her at a critical moment and escaped with her. Otherwise, I'm afraid your eldest sister would've already been killed."

"No way! My eldest sister's cultivation base is so high, she has already broken through to the late stage of True God Realm, and she actually couldn't beat the second young master of the Hunt family!?"

After listening to Jack, she couldn't help taking a breath: "The second young master of the Hunt family is really a master. He knows how to make pills and has a good talent for cultivation. If he joins the young master of the Hunt family, the strength of those two people will be even more terrifying."

After finishing speaking, she looked at Jack, then smiled and said: "Your combat power just now, I feel it is comparable to the strength of a true god peak powerhouse. You're too powerful, no wonder you could save my eldest sister! She must be very grateful to you for saving her. In the future, the relationship between our two families will get better and better!"

"Yes, what happened between our two families before and why? For many years, the relationship between the two families has not been very good and I don't know exactly what kind of hatred is there between our White family and your Cabello family!" After thinking about it, Jack looked at Daniella with a solemn expression.

"Hey, old grievances, it's been many years!"

Daniella smiled bitterly, then said to Jack: "It was your grandfather and my grandfather trying to snatch a treasure back then. As a result, the two sides fought and died together. Later, the two families began to have a bad relationship, and they fought. A few times there have been many deaths and injuries. So, now that so many years have passed, there are still some frictions between the two families. However, there is no direct war!"

After hearing this, Jack was a little bit dumbfounded: "That's it, it's actually a normal thing to snatch each other for treasures. After so many years, it should actually be let go."

Daniella smiled again: "I feel it, in fact, my father and your father don't hate each other anymore, but no one thinks that they are wrong, and they are prideful, not wanting to be embarrassed. Therefore, every time they meet, They are still like enemies, to put it plainly, they are doing it for the sake of their reputation."

Hearing this, Jack was speechless, but thinking about it, if he was the head of a first-class family. In this case, who would bow his head to admit his mistake to the other party?

Daniella took a step forward and took Jack's arm: "Don't worry, when we get married in the future, the relationship between the two families will definitely get better. I will definitely convince my father!"

Not long after Jack left, several contestants from the Norman family once again came to the place where they had fought before.

After they found the corpses on the ground, they looked ugly.

"It's over, the three young masters are dead, what can we do?"

One of the men in the early stage of the True God Realm frowned: "Especially the two young masters, Keith and Conley, they are the most hopeful of inheriting the Master's position. They are also the most powerful masters in our Norman family. With them dead, I'm afraid we're going to lose this competition!"

The other man on the contrary, was slightly happy in his heart. At this time, he actually chuckled: “It is indeed a big loss, but well, since the three sons of the master of the house are dead, doesn’t it mean that we have hope to inherit the position of master of the house in the future?”

The man in the early stage of the True God Realm was overjoyed after hearing this, yes, these three masters are dead, their current cultivation base, among other masters, is considered very high, isn’t it? They have the greatest hopes to be the heads of the family in the future.

However, he quickly suppressed the joy in his heart, and then said to the people: “I don’t know who killed our Master’s three young masters. It is really disgusting!”

“There are still four Lagorios here! It’s impossible for the people of the Lagorio family to do it. The people of the Lagorio family are not so powerful. Moreover, judging from where they lie, the opponent should be standing opposite them. Therefore, the Lagorio family’s people and people in our family should have teamed up with each other, but they were still not a match for their opponent, and then they were beheaded!”

There was a girl who looked at the situation here and analyzed it again: “The most important thing is, you can see the look of fear in everyone’s eyes, which is enough to show that the other party is really too strong, so much so that our eldest master did not even have a chance to escape!”

“Yes, in this case, I feel, The opponent is definitely not one person, one person who can kill eight people who were considered strong, and they did not even have a chance to escape, is just not possible!”

The man at the early stage of the True God level also nodded: “If anyone can do it, it must be someone in the late stage of the True God Realm, and there are strong people who can fight against the peak power of the True God Realm, for example, The eldest young master of the Hunt family, as well as the top masters of the Canmore family and the Lucas family!” The girl nodded, but insisted: “I feel that even if there was such a strong person, it shouldn’t be possible with just one person, and it was two or three people who worked together to prevent our people from escaping!”

“Well, now we can only guess, everyone is gone, and I don’t know the specific situation. Besides, even if it’s from the Hunt family. The young masters did what they did, and there is nothing to do about it. In this game, it was originally agreed that they could kill at will within this month."

The man smiled bitterly, and then said to the people: "Let's try to hide as much as possible. Four of our strong men have died. Now we don't even have anyone in the middle of the True God Realm. Let's try our best not to go to the depths of the forest and look outside here to find the tokens, and not lose too badly, what do you think?"

"Just outside?" The girl frowned, "If we don't go to the depths of the forest or the mountains, doesn't it mean that we are likely to lose to a second-class family? If we not only lose to a second-class family and also lose to a third-class family, then we will be shamed!"

The man also sank, and after a moment of silence, then said, "Okay, in order not to be shamed, we can go in, but if we meet a strong person from a first-class family, we immediately surrender and hand over the things, what do you think? It's better than death, right?"

"This is also true. Even the three sons of our Master were killed. It seems that this time they really met some lunatics who are not afraid to cause trouble!" The girl finally nodded helplessly. If this goes on, the Norman family would have suffered a lot of losses. Should the family master know that all of his three sons were dead, he would probably be half-dead with anger.

At this time, Jack and Daniella flew slowly to the deeper part of the forest, continuing to search for tokens."Jack, great, here is another piece!"

Soon, Daniella found another black token, picked it up, and flew back to Jack before passing the token to Jack.

"If you are like this, are you not afraid that your dad will find out and become unhappy?"

Jack smiled bitterly and then put the token away. With Daniella helping to find tokens, it was obvious that Jack's efficiency in finding tokens would have been directly improved by at least more than half.

“I don’t care if he is happy or not, you will be my man in the future, and I will follow you!”

Daniella snorted, and then said with a shy expression: “I will help my man find tokens, helping him achieve a good place in the competition, there is nothing wrong with it!”

Jack’s heart warmed slightly, and as soon as the thought of Selena who was staying in the White family house came up again, he couldn’t help but sigh: “Hey, I don’t know how to speak to Selena. I don’t know how her cultivation is now. There are still twenty or more days left here. before we can go out if we are lucky enough to survive, She should also have broken through to the demi-god realm by then!”

“Sister Selena used to be a common person, yet her cultivation is really growing faster than normal. It seems that she must be very talented!” Daniella smiled and said, ”In this practice, you have to have better techniques and better resources. In addition, talent is also a must!”

Jack also said with emotion: “Yes, in this world, there may be some people once on the path of cultivation, their talents will be very good, but unfortunately, there is no chance at all to break through. How can they even break through without the martial exercises, therefore they can only live their life normally and dull..”

After the two flew for a while, they heard a terrible beast roar not far away, and soon they saw dozens of people flying over here desperately.

“Wow, there are several people from the Cabello family, as well as from the White family, as well as from the Lucas family!” After Daniella took a look, her eyes lit up, facing the Cabello family woman who was wearing a purple skirt. Daniella yelled, “Second sister, second sister!”

Venus looked at her and immediately exclaimed, “Run, there are monsters!”

“What are you afraid of? Don’t you have many people? Second sister, aren’t you in the middle of the True God realm? With this cultivation base, what monsters do you fear in the periphery of this forest?”

Daniella said nonchalantly: “Don’t worry, even if you can’t beat it, there is still Jack. As soon as he makes a move, it will be okay!”

There was another roar, Jack’s face sank, and he said to Daniella on the side, “There seems to be more than one monster beast! It’s a group!”“No way, a group?”

Daniella breathed a sigh of relief when he heard it. This monster was already powerful, and difficult to deal with it alone, let alone a group of monsters.

“Go fast, it’s too difficult to deal with. It’s a pack of wolves. There are hundreds of them. The adult wolves are comparable to the early stages of the True God realm. Once you are surrounded you would be done for!” Venus said out of breath after flying over.

“Master, there are too many. Many of us here are in the early stage of the demi-god Realm, and there are also a few Ninth Stage Grandmasters. They dare not fight with the wolves!” Kayla Leigh also ran over and said to Jack out of breath.

Kayle Leigh, since she met Jack last time in the town under the White Family Mountain, and was recommended by Jack to join the White Family, under the hard work of cultivation, she has also made breakthroughs from the ninth level Grandmaster to the early stage of demi-god Realm. Because of her incredible talent she was selected for the games.

Jack thought about it for a while then said. “The monster beasts in the early stage of the demi-god Realm are not worrisome. However, if there are too many, fighting with them is just a waste of time. When the time comes, all our aura will be wasted, and time will be wasted!”

A man from the Lucas family who is in the early stage of the True God Realm, though he was not afraid, understood that with a pack of low level animals they would still be overwhelmed and some of the younger people may die. Seeing that the people of the White family and the people of the Cabello family were still discussing it, he stood speechless for a second, then shaking himself he flew up and shouted. “Everyone, come here! We won’t fight. Let’s run!”

“Everyone, come up here! These are low level monsters and they cannot fly!”

Jack smiled lightly, flipped his palm, took the sword out, and threw it into the air, and it suddenly became bigger.

“That’s great! You actually have a flying sword!” The Lucas family man’s eyes lit up and he immediately jumped up.

The others jumped up immediately, while Jack was controlling the flying sword and started to fly.

A Mochizuki wolf with a height of almost three feet tall, roared and rushed over, and when Jack and others were about to fly, two Mochizuki wolves in the middle stage of the demi-god realm roared and rushed towards two young women of the Lucas family.

“Ah!” Those two women were not high in cultivation. One in the early stage of the demi-god realm, and the other in the middle stage of the demi-god realm.

Though they are masters, however, facing such a monster beast, they obviously couldn’t compare, and they immediately yelled in fright, as if they didn’t know what to do.

However, at this moment, Jack appeared in front of the two of them in a flash, clenched his fists, and blasted the wolves.

The two huge Mochizuki wolves were slammed on the ground with one fist and one blow by Jack. Blood flowed directly from their mouths as they lay there motionless. Just liek that they were killed by Jack.

“He’s too strong!” The two women swallowed their saliva, both frightened by Jack’s combat effectiveness.

“This guy!” Venus on the side was also slightly surprised. Although she could match the attack power, the speed at which Jack rushed out just now was so fast that she was a shocked.The other wolves all charged toward them, trying to take revenge on their fallen pack members. But Jack controlled the flying sword and flew far away in a flash, leaving behind the snarling and howling pack of wolves.

“What fast speed! What level is your flying sword?”

Seeing the speed of this flying sword, Venus couldn’t help but curiously ask.

“Second sister, this is an Ultimate Grade Spiritual Weapon. With this sword, Jack’s offensive power is much more powerful. Even ten of you are not his opponent!” Daniella said of Jack, her head raised and her eyes full of pride.

“Ten of me are not his opponents?” Venus was taken aback, and then said with some suspicion: “Danielle, you are exaggerating. My cultivation in the middle of True God Realm is almost invincible. Ah! Even if I can’t beat him, it’s impossible that 10 of me couldn’t beat him, right?”

“That’s right!” After thinking about it, Daniella nodded, and said quickly: “I think ten was too low, it should be twenty!”

“I…” Venus was speechless. She thought her sister looked down on her too much.

Soon, those Mochizuki wolves who we’re chasing them were thrown off the trail by Jack.

After flying for a while, Jack lowered the flying sword and everyone jumped down. Then he put the flying sword away.

The man in the early stage of the True God Realm of the Lucas Family, after thinking about it, came over and took out five black tokens, and then handed them to Jack: “Master White, thanks to you just now, if it wasn’t for you I am afraid we would have lost many of our family. This is regarded as a reward for

you!”

“No, there’s no need for that!”

Jack smiled awkwardly. The Lucas family’s relationship with the White family is not bad. They didn’t have much interaction before. Therefore, Jack didn’t even think about it just now, and asked them to jump onto the sword.

If this were the Norman family or Lagorio family, then he wouldn’t be polite.

“Master White, don’t be humble. It is only natural, you saved us, and we will repay you. You earned it!”

The man smiled and stuffed the tokens into Jack’s hands. “If it were someone from a stronger family, they would probably have just robbed us!”

“Haha, brother, don’t say that. I’m just glad I was able to help out in the time of need.” Jack laughed as he replied.

“By the way, my name is Harry Lucas. Although my cultivation level is not high, I am also the grandson of the Elder of the Lucas family. Thank you so much this time. I hope that we will see you again!” Harry also smiled heartily and replied. After that, he quickly left with the Lucas family.

“That was worth the visit!” Looking in the direction they were leaving, Jack had a smile on his face.

“I will give you a few tokens!” Venus on the side gave Jack a blank look, and then took out five tokens and handed it to Jack. “Take it, The relationship between our two families is not good, I don’t want to owe you favors!”Jack’s was embarrassed, he smiled bitterly, and did not take the token in Venus’ hand. “Miss Venus, with our relationship, I really can’t take that from you.”

When another Cabello family heard this, he immediately stepped forward and smiled: “Second Miss, have you forgotten, this is your eldest sister’s boyfriend. He will be your brother-in-law, so there is no need to give any tokens, you should put them away!”

“Yeah, yeah, Master White and the eldest Miss are a couple. How could he take your tokens?”

Another Cabello girl also stepped forward, her face full of excitement: “Hey, that is great! Since he with the eldest Miss, we won’t have to be afraid of being bullied in the future!”

Venus gave the girl a fierce look, and then said to Jack: “Fine. Don’t take it if you don’t want it, but don’t say I didn’t try to give you something!” After speaking, Venus flipped her palm, and then put away the token in her hand.

Several young people from the Cabello family looked at each other, their expressions were a little weird. The temper of this second young lady was really similar to that of the Master. At this time, they had to deliberately draw a line.

“Well, let’s go! We can’t go with our enemies. They might decide to attack us from behind if we find more treasures!” Venus said with a wave. She took the Cabello family members to leave.

However, after they walked a few steps, Venus couldn’t help but frown, and looked back at Daniella, who was still standing next to Jack, and then said with a deep frown. “Daniella, why aren’t you coming with us? Could it be that you still want to be with this enemy of our family?”

Daniella frowned, and was rather embarrassed: “Sister, that happened many years ago. In the past two or three years, the relationship between our two families has eased a lot. Jack and I are good friends so I will stay with him!”

“I…” Venus was speechless for a while, she didn’t expect that Daniella would stick with Jack so strongly even though they were not married.

But she also knew in her heart that Daniella and Jack are the real lovers. Therefore, after she thought about it, she glared at Daniella and said, “Well, you can do whatever you like. Anyway, even though I am your older sister I don’t need to hold your hand everywhere!”

“Hey, sister, be careful!” Daniella smiled awkwardly, and waved to Venus.

“Looking at this, your second sister seems to know that we are in a relationship!” Jack looked at Venus’ back and couldn’t help but speak.

Daniella nodded: “Yes, the eldest sister and the second sister know about it, but they didn’t tell my father. They are cold about it but I know in my heart that they are actually good to me.”

In one afternoon, the two found several spiritual grasses, and they also found 5 tokens. The harvest was quite good.

After all, with so many people coming in such a large forest, some might find it difficult to find even one token in an afternoon. If you want to find the white token and the red token, it will be really difficult. After all, there are only a few, especially the red ones!

Daniella said to Jack “Jack, it will be dark soon, let’s find a place to rest!”

Jack nodded and looked around. After searching for a while, Jack found that there was a big crack that was not easy to see on the rock wall of a cliff. Based on how it looked, it should be able to easily allow two or three people to spend the night in it.

“If you didn’t find the cave, it would be more dangerous if you rested on a tree. There is a crack on the cliff over there. Will that make do tonight?”

Jack looked at Daniella in front of him. The young women are indeed good-looking, but they have lived in a big family since they were young, and I don’t know if they can endure hardships.

“Hey, let’s go!” Daniella smiled and held Jack’s hand: “I will sleep with you anywhere you want, as long as you are next to me, I will be happy! ”

After Daniella finished, his face flushed.

“You girl!” Jack smiled bitterly. Daniella’s simplicity is really rare, it makes one feel like a first love.

The two quickly flew towards the crack, which was big enough for two people to walk in side by side.

What Jack didn’t expect was that the crack was small on the outside and big on the inside. There was more than ten meters space inside, and the space inside was enough for two people to sit inside and have a good rest.

Someone had been here before, and there were a lot of weeds in it. Sitting in it was also very comfortable.

“Great, I can spend another night with you!” With a smile on Daniella’s face, she sat next to Jack and couldn’t help but gently lean her head on Jack’s shoulder.

“Master Trevino, you promised me that as long as you meet someone from the White family, you will kill them for me. You can’t keep any of them alive!”

After sitting for a while, Jack and Daniella heard a faint voice coming from outside.

“Haha, don’t worry, baby, what I, Hugh Trevino, will not break my promise!”

Soon, a man’s hearty laughter sounded, and then he said: “Baby, look, there is something over there, a crack in the cliff. Let’s go inside the crack and have fun!”

Hearing this, Daniella and Jack looked at each other. Someone else had found them so quickly!

“There are so many masters from the Trevino family around? How about we go out later after the games and I can give it to you then?”

The woman deliberately said coquettishly, and the voice was so close that Jack heard it all.

“Dog men and women!” Daniella gritted her teeth and said angrily.

“That’s not good, baby, we do things for you and you will benefit now, but you might not give any benefits after the game is over. Maybe when we leave you will not admit to anything that happened here.” The man named Hugh Trevino said again.

Chapter 1345.
Daniella pursed her lips and said to Jack, “It’s getting dark. Let’s find a place to rest!”

Jack nodded his head and scoured through the forest.

After a while, Jack found a huge crack that was easy to miss on the surface of a cliff. It was probably large enough to allow two to three people to spend the night there.

“We can’t find a cave, and it’ll be too dangerous to sleep on a tree. There’s a crack on the cliff face there. Why don’t we spend the night there?”

Jack looked at Daniella. She was beautiful, yes, but he did not know if she could rough it out, being raised in a first-class family since young.

“All right. Let’s go!”

Daniella took Jack’s hand, grinning. “I can spend the night anywhere if you’re with me. I’m happy with you by my side!”

Her face flushed after she said that.

“How adorable!”

Jack gave a bitter smile. Daniella ‘s innocence truly made one feel as though they were experiencing their first love.

The two quickly flew toward the crack. The crack was big enough for the two of them to squeeze in.

However, Jack did not think that there would be such a huge space behind the crack, extending for a few dozen meters. The area was large enough to allow two to sit and rest comfortably.

Maybe others had stayed there before. There was plenty of wild grass in it, and it was comfortable to sit on.

“This is great. I can spend another night with you!”

Daniella smiled and sat beside Jack, resting her head on his shoulder.

“Young Master Church, you promised me that you would kill anybody from the White family if they came your way!”

Not long after they settled down, Jack and Daniella heard a soft voice from outside.

“Hah. Don’t worry. I, Nathan Church, will fulfil all my promises to you!”

Soon enough, a man's carefree voice rang out. He added, "Look over there, Babe. There's a crack. Why don't we have some fun in there!"

When they heard this, Daniella and Jack exchanged a glance, speechless. They did not imagine that someone else would spot the crack on the cliff.

"There are still so many geniuses from the Church family around us. Why don't we do it after we get out of here?"

The woman spoke in a flirty, coquettish tone. Goosebumps prickled all over Jack's skin.

"Such pigs!"

Daniella gritted her teeth and huffed.

"No way, Babe. You asked us to help you, so of course I want to experience the benefits now. If you don't give me something now, you might just forget about our deal once we get out. Who should I go to then?"

The man named Nathan spoke again.

Chapter 1346.
"You…"

The woman from the Lagorio family hesitated for a while. Then she nodded her head. "All right then," she agreed." Seriously though. Nobody ever does it in a place like this…"

Nathan gave a wicked grin." Hehehe."

After he said that, he told the few dozen men from the Church family behind him, "Go on top of the cliff to rest. Miss Lucy Lagorio and I will join you after a while!"

"Hah, go ahead, Young Master Church. Go ahead!"

A man gave a wicked smile. "No

Time to waste, Young Master Church. Even we're getting smitten by such a sexy lady!"

"It's Lucy!"

In the cliff's crack, Daniella jumped to her feet. "The Lagorio family is terrible. They would resort to using a seductress to get the geniuses from the other families to kill the White family members, all because they have a grudge against you and want to make your geniuses die in this competition!"

"You know Lucy? Is she Popular?"

Jack's brows creased together. It had not been long since he returned to the White family. He did not quite know the geniuses from the other families.

Daniella nodded her head. "Not just Lucy. I know Nathan too!"

Here, she told Jack with a grave expression, "Nathan is strong. The Church family is one of the eight reclusive families, as you probably know, and Nathan is the Third Elder's grandson. He has excellent natural talent, and he's already at the advanced stage of the true god realm. He's probably as strong as my eldest sister now. Lucy, on the other hand, is a popular beauty from the Lagorio family. She has a voluptuous figure!"

"I never thought that the Lagorio family would resort to such tactics to bring the White family down!"

Jack clenched his fists, angry." If she convinces Nathan to order the Church family members to kill the White family members on sight, my family will suffer great losses. They'll definitely run into the White family members at some point in this competition!"

"That's right. They're so vicious. The Church family is one of the eight first-class families," Daniella said solemnly, bobbing her head. "Nathan had his eyes set on Lucy a long time ago, but he has never managed to win her over. Now that she's serving herself up to him, of course, he'll agree to whatever she says. More importantly, if a genius like him hunts down your family members with his men, it'll be bad!"

"Thank goodness we're only two or three days into the competition," Jack replied. "And thank goodness I found out about this. It'd be troublesome otherwise."

Here, he paused before continuing, "It'll be best for the White family if I get rid of him now!"

"All right, but be careful. Nathan is pretty strong, and he's a good fighter!"

Daniella could not help but feel worried. After all, that man could probably go toe-to-toe with her eldest sister.

She did not imagine that Jack would answer so flippantly, "It's not like you haven't seen my strength!"

Only then did Daniella recall that Jack had killed eight fighters from the true god realm all alone. Her eldest sister could not accomplish a feat like that. Among the people he killed, there were two fighters at the intermediate stage of the true god realm.

"All right, I believe you!"

Daniella nodded her head.

At this moment, the two people had flown before the crack's entrance.

Chapter 1347.
Jack gave an icy smile, taking deliberate steps outward.

“Oh my. I didn’t think that there was another couple here!”

Nathan, who was at the entrance, was shocked when he saw Jack and Daniella. Then his lips curved into a mischievous grin.

“Jack?”

Lucy was taken aback as well when she recognized Jack. “Tsk tsk. I never thought that you were together with Third Young Mistress Cabello, Jack,” she quickly said, smiling. “Never in a thousand years!”

“That’s right. Aren’t you a couple with First Young Mistress Cabello? Why are you sneaking around with the Third Young Mistress here!”

Nathan gave a wicked smile. “I never thought that you two were bedfellows!”

Daniella folded her arms across her chest furiously. “What are you talking about? We’re just spending the night here. We did nothing! What the h*ll are you saying?”

After she said that, she added with a frosty smile, “Now you, Lucy, are absolutely shameless. Don’t think that we didn’t overhear your conversation. Heh. You’re actually using your body to gain favors-to get the Church family to help you kill the White family. Even a cow has more shame than you!”

“You…”

Lucy was livid, but she quickly tamped down on her anger.“ Heh. Who knows if you two were up to some sneaky stuff before we arrived here,” she said in a mysterious tone. “You must have put on your clothes after you heard us talking. And you dare to speak about us. A woman who steals her sister’s man is the real b*tch!”

“You-you think I’m as shameless as you?”

Daniella was angry. “We were just preparing to spend the night here!”

“Sure, you can spend the night here, but we don’t know how you are going to spend the night, right?”

Nathan spoke with a cold smile on his face.

At this moment, the men waiting below flew up. “Young Master Church, why aren’t you two going in yet?” they asked. “ Who are you talking to!”

When they came before the entrance of the crack, they were stunned by the sight of the two people inside. “My God. Never thought that there’ll be people inside here,” they said. “Isn’t this the heir of the White family? And Third Young Mistress Cabello!”

“No way. Aren’t relations between their families terrible? Why would the Third Young Mistress hang around Young Master White?”

One of the men spoke doubtfully after thinking about it, “Isn’t the First Young Mistress a couple with this fellow? Why is the Third Young Mistress together with him?”

“You all have a lot to say!”

Jack’s expression darkened. “I heard everything you said just now,” he said. “You want to kill the White family members? Heh. You really don’t know how to pick your fights!”

“I never thought that you’d be so feisty. Did you think that the White family is truly considered one of the eight reclusive families? The Church family will never recognize you!”

Chapter 1348.

“All right, Young Master Church. Help me kill him. He really is a big fish!”

Lucy’s eyes brightened after she heard that. “Young Master Church, if you kill this guy, I’ll stay by your side day and night for this entire month!” she spoke happily.

“Hah. Okay. You said it yourself!”

Young Master Church also gave an ecstatic grin after he heard that. He even slapped her *ss.

“You’re such a tease, Young Master Church!”

Lucy’s expression turned flirtatious.

“You dirty people!”

Jack shook his head impatiently. “Nathan, I heard that you’re the grandson of the Third Elder,” he spoke to Young Master Church, “and you have the strongest talent and cultivation level in the Church family. It must have been difficult to break into the advanced stage of the true god realm!”

“Heh. You know a lot about me, eh?”

Nathan chuckled. “No way about it though. I won’t let you go even if you beg me on your knees now,” he said. “Because I made a promise to Lucy!”

“I have no intention of begging!”

Jack clenched his fists and rushed toward his opponent. “I wanted to tell you that it’s a shame you choose death over life with such immense talent. What happens next is your problem!”

“You’ve got a mouth on you. I heard that you’re only at the intermediate stage of the true god realm. You’re an illegitimate son from the mortal realm. Trash like you dreams of killing me?”

Nathan also clenched his fist when he saw Jack rushing over and initiating an attack. His fist collided with Jack’s.

Bang!

A dull explosion rang out. The next second, Nathan was thrown a few dozen meters backward before he managed to steady himself, even though he was of a higher cultivation level than Jack.

Bam!

A man had been standing not too far behind him, never imagining that Jack would send Nathan flying. He did not have time to react before Nathan rammed into him, and blood spurted out of his mouth. He slammed onto the ground, color leached from his face. As someone at the intermediate stage of the semi-god status, he had sustained serious injuries.

“What a powerful attack!”

The rest of them flew backward to gain some distance. Most of them were in the semi-god realm, with only one at the beginning stage of the true god status.

After all, there were not many geniuses at the true god status even within a first-class family.

“No-no way!”

Lucy, who flew backward as well, was utterly stupefied. She suspected that she had seen it wrongly.

She heaved a sigh after she thought about it. “Seriously, Young Master Church? You must have been holding back your strength because you’re underestimating him,” she told Young Master Church.” Seriously. You scared me. You can’t just look down on him like that!”

Nathan did not have the guts to admit that he messed up before the woman he had wanted for so long.

He flashed an awkward smile.” You’re right. I was underestimating this punk. He must have been training particularly in body refinement techniques, so he has quite good strength!”

Here, he flashed another smile at Lucy. “Don’t worry. I’ll use my chi this time. This punk’s cultivation technique isn’t as strong as mine. He’s no match for me!”

Chapter 1349.
After he said that, he clenched his fists and gathered his chi.” You’ve pissed me off, you punk,” he said, glaring at Jack.” I’ll be using my full strength this time!”

“Hmph!”

Jack merely gave an icy smile and clenched his fists as well, gathering his chi.

Whoosh!

This time, Nathan initiated the attack and flew over in a blink of an eye, his fist barreling toward

Jack.

Bang!

Soon enough, a frightening bang rang out. This sound was a lot more terrifying than the earlier explosion.

Yet Nathan only managed to hold on for two seconds before being blown backward by Jack.

“Young Master Church. What….what’s going on? You’re not a match for him?”

Lucy was completely stupefied. Jack flew out and stood before the cliff, staring at them disdainfully, as though he were the most powerful being on earth. His eyes made Lucy suspect Nathan’s ability.

Nathan felt extremely embarrassed. He clenched his teeth and flipped his palm. “Don’ t worry. He’s skilled in using chi, but my weapon is a middle-grade spiritual tool,” he said.” Hmph. Along with my second-grade elementary martial skill, this punk will be reduced into dust!”

Jack flipped his palm and took out his black sword, pouring his chi into it.

Hum!

A terrible shriek of metal rang out, and the black fog began to encase the blade, rippling as though it was swaying to a mysterious dance.

“Why does this resonance feel different?”

Lucy frowned, sensing that something was off. It was as though Jack’s sword had a stronger resonance than Nathan’s middle-grade spiritual tool.

“Flaming slash!”

After Jack poured his chi into the sword, he gave a powerful swing of his sword.

Whoosh!

Suddenly, a glowing red sword aura flew out, as if it were a blade of flames streaking toward Nathan.

“Sh*t. That punk’s martial skill is strong!”

Nathan had no more confidence after seeing Jack’s fearsome attack. He threw his own attack out in panic.

Bang!

The two terrifying attacks collided with each other. A scary bang rippled throughout the atmosphere, sending a few Church family members nearby stumbling backward.

“No-no way!”

Soon, Nathan realized that his attack had been completely suppressed by Jack’s. He was so shocked that all color drained from his face. He wheeled around to escape after he cried out.

Unfortunately, after Jack’s attack destroyed his, the remaining sword aura was still terrifying. It rushed toward him with unstoppable force and landed on his back.

Bang!

Nathan flew outward like a kite without a string. He thudded heavily on the ground, spurting blood out. His limbs fell, and he was dead.

“Oh-oh no. Young Master Church is dead!”

The geniuses from the Church family all paled when they saw this. He was the strongest fighter among the Church family geniuses, yet Jack had killed him so easily!

Chapter 1350.

Nathan, who was at the advanced stage of the true god status, was one of the top geniuses among the eight first-class families. These geniuses were considered to be the aces of this competition.

Even if they could not defeat their opponent, it should not be a problem for them to escape difficult opponents. They only had a small possibility of getting killed

Unless their opponent’s fighting strength was far stronger than theirs.

Nathan's death shocked the Church family members that their faces paled. They could not believe their eyes.

"Run!"

Everybody prepared to escape after they recollected themselves.

Jack had dared to kill their Third Elder's grandson, what more them, who had far lower cultivation levels. They were also in a much lower position than many Church family members.

Whoosh whoosh whoosh!

Yet Jack clenched his sword. With a few flashes, he sent a few sword auras flying, immediately killing the fellows who wanted to escape.

Whoosh!

With another flash, Jack appeared before Lucy.

She scanned her surroundings, realizing that all the Church family members were now dead. She was the only one left alive.

She was so frightened that her face paled. Jack slowly raised the sword in his hand, and she quickly fell onto her knees.

"Young Master Jack, please spare me! I-I'm absolutely no match for you!

"If you spare me, Young Master Jack, I-I'll give all the plaques I have to you!"

Lucy kneeled before Jack and begged profusely.

When she saw that he was pouring his chi into the sword and had no intention of replying, Lucy was frightened even more.

However, she quickly thought of something. She bit her lower lip and exposed her collarbone.

"I'll be yours if you spare me!"

Lucy stared straight at Jack, expression determined.

She still had some confidence in herself. She was not as beautiful as Third Young Mistress Cabello, but she had the best figure among the young women in the Lagorio family. She also had vixen-like features. She had not met a single man who was not perverted. Even some elders who were forty or fifty years old would sneak glances at her whenever she swayed her hips.

“So shameless!”

Daniella watched as Lucy tried to seduce Jack from the entrance of the crack. She was so furious that she clenched her teeth. She was too much. That girl seriously had no dignity.

Whoosh!

Yet Daniella did not think that Jack would only be stunned momentarily before he swung his sword. In a moment, Lucy’s head had been chopped off.

Bang!

Her body also thudded onto the floor. Quiet returned to the air.

Chapter 1351.
Jack kept his sword and flew down, collecting the martial rings from all the men.

Daniella flew down as well and flashed a sweet smile at Jack.” You didn’t hesitate at all even when she was trying to seduce you. She was practically serving herself up to you! And you still didn’t fall for her?”

Jack’s actions made Daniella felt very contented. The man she had her eyes on was truly a good man and was not weak to such temptation.

“Heh, do I have to accept someone when they offer themselves to me?”

Jack chuckled and said, “ Besides, a woman like her is like a wh*re without a soul to me. I’ ve only met her once. How could I like her!”

“Let’s go back into the crack and see what you’ve found!”

Daniella gave a small smile and got ready to fly toward the crack.

Yet Jack gave a bitter smile. “Let ‘s not go back in. The bodies are all there. If anyone passes by they’ll spot the crack easily. It’ll be bad if they found out that I killed all of them! Although they said that we could kill anyone in this competition, it’s best if we don’t offend the Church family!”

“You’re right! They might hate you in the future!”

Daniella smiled. “Let’s go. We’ll find another place to rest!”

The two searched for a while before coming across a small cave a few kilometers away. They went right in.

After they went in, Jack took out the martial arts he looted from Lucy and Nathan, and the others.

The regular men from the Church family did not have many items of importance, but Nathan's martial ring contained a red plaque and a few black plaques, as well as his middle-grade sword and a few stalks of spirited grass..,

What Jack did not expect though, was to find a lower-grade sword, a few stalks of spirited grass, and a few plaques in Lucy's martial ring.

"This is a good haul. We actually have a red plaque. This means that we have a hundred black plaques!"

Jack took everything after he studied the spoils of war before him.

"That's right. This means that the red plaques are popping up now. After all, we've already traveled pretty deep into the forest!"

Daniella sat to the side, resting her exquisite head on her palms. She stared at Jack with such eagerness, completely lost in love.

Jack felt embarrassed on the receiving end of the stare. He took out a stalk of first-grade premium spirited grass and a few ingredients, as well as the alchemy pot.

"No way. Are you going to create pills now? I thought that we could finally talk!"

Daniella pursed her lips when she saw that he was going to make pills, clearly unhappy.

"I've never gotten my hands on a first-grade premium spirited grass before, that's why I've had no chance to create first-grade premium pills. Now that I have the ingredients, I should give it a try. I'll give it to you if it's successful!"

Jack flashed a wan smile and spoke to Daniella.

Warmth bloomed in her chest when she heard this.

"Think about it. I've never given anything to you before. Take this as my first gift to you!"

Jack flipped his palm, looking at the young, beautiful girl before him. The alchemy pot floated in the air. With a wave of his hand, a small fire sparked from the chi gathered in his palm, heating the bottom of the pot.

Chapter 1352.

The small flame began to flicker beneath the pot. After a while, Jack managed to heat the entire pot. It was clear that he was an old hand at this.

Daniella did not dare to interrupt Jack. She sat quietly at the side, appreciating the serious expression on Jack's face as he hovered over the pot.

Jack quickly grabbed some ingredients and threw them into the pot, controlling the flame through his willpower, and started to extract some of the liquid.

After a while, he added another handful of ingredients, quietly sensing the changes in the formula and extracting the medicinal liquid.

Time trickled by. After a while, Jack threw all his ingredients into the pot. Beads of sweat began to gather above his brow.

A small smile hung on Daniella's lips as she watched Jack brew the concoction. He knitted and unknitted his brows sporadically, and she thought it was a joy to watch him make pills.

Soon enough, he extracted all the medicinal liquid he could, doing everything with a practiced hand.

After a moment, the most important step of creating pills came along; the liquid started to harden.

Jack continued to control the fire, and the liquid continued to boil and bubble. It shrank and shrank and began to solidify.

"Rise!"

In a flash, Jack raised his hand, and small pills flew up, floating before him. His lips curved into a satisfied smile.

"Was it a success? My God. You succeeded on the first try!"

Daniella's eyes brightened once she saw this. She scurried over." Our First Elder is an expert alchemist, but even he can't create pills on the first try. He always fails a few times before he gets it right."

"Phew!"

Jack released a huff and studied the pills carefully. "Not bad. It was a success. But the color is off. It's probably an ordinary pill!"

"It's already good enough that you succeeded yet you're picking at the color?"

Daniella rolled her eyes at Jack. "If you failed, those ingredients would have truly been wasted!"

Jack nodded his head, then he gently placed the pills onto Daniella's palm. "They're for you. You have good talent, but I heard that you like to slack off. Hopefully, this will help you break into the intermediate stage of the true god realm quickly!"

“All right. Thank you!”

Daniella grinned so hard that her eyes narrowed. “I’ll cultivate myself every night when I’m free,” she said. “Once my level is stable and I’m about to break into the intermediate stage of the true god realm, I’ll take these pills to help me!”

After she said that, she kept the pills and leaned her head against Jack’s shoulder. “You’re so nice to me, Jack!”

The two watched the moon quietly from the outside of the cave. After resting for a while, the sky began to brighten.

The two quickly flew out from the cave and set out for the day.

Both of them did not run into much trouble in the morning. They saw a few monsters after they flew a little deeper into the forest, but the monsters were not very strong, so Jack took care of them quickly.

However, their search was not very successful. They only found two black plaques and two stalks of first-grade premium spirited grass throughout the morning.

Bang bang bang!

In the afternoon, a terrifying explosion tore out not too far away from where the two of them were. It sounded ferocious.

Chapter 1353.

“It seems like a big fight involving a lot of people!”

Daniella frowned. “Let’s go and take a look. What if our family members are there!”

“Okay!”

Jack nodded his head and flew toward the direction of the sound with Daniella.

After they flew for a while, they saw more than a dozen youngsters from the Cabello family on a field of grass. They were surrounded by more than twenty geniuses from the Lagorio family and another dozen more from the Hunt family. The two families were viciously staring at their prey.

There were already seven or eight geniuses from the Cabello family on the ground, their chests no longer heaving.

“Sh*t. The Lagorio family is truly shameless. They actually joined forces with the Hunt family to kill our people!”

Daniella was so furious that she shivered.

“Your second sister is there as well!”

Jack gave a hapless smile once he spotted her from a distance.

He was not that surprised by this turn of events. The Lagorio family was not on good terms with the White family, so of course, they would turn to the Hunt family.

Meanwhile, the Hunt family was evidently holding a grudge against the White family and Cabello family because of what happened between Jack and Helena.

Hence it was not surprising for them to attack the Cabello family members.

“Looks like my sister’s arm is injured. Crap. There are at least two intermediate stage fighters in the true god realm in the Hunt family, and the Lagorio family has one. Even if my sister is at the peak of her form, she’s no match for three fighters at the intermediate stage of the true god realm!”

Daniella quickly realized that there was a nasty gash on Venus’ s arm. Blood poured from the wound, staining her sleeve red.

At that moment, the fighting had temporarily stopped. The people surrounding the Cabello family members all had a wicked smile plastered on their faces, staring at them as though they were prime cuts of meat.

“Listen to me, everyone. Kill all the Cabello family members but keep Venus alive!”

A man at the intermediate stage of the true god realm from the Hunt family declared to everyone. “After all, the Second Young Master told us to bring Venus and Daniella to him if we see them. He’ll appreciate them very much!”

“The Second Young Master is a true womanizer. He even told you this beforehand!”

A man from the Lagorio family flashed a teasing smile.

“Heh. Not bad. There are plenty of geniuses here, and two are at the absolute peak of the intermediate stage of the true god realm. The Hunt family will probably be p*ssed if they were to die!”

Yet at this moment, Jack’s voice rang out nearby.

“Second Young Mistress, it’s Third Young Mistress and the young master from the White family! This is great. I think he’s at the intermediate stage of the true god realm, and the Third Young Mistress is also at the true god realm. Are we finally saved?”

A girl from the Cabello family spotted Jack and Daniella, and her eyes brightened. She told venus.

Venus's heart leaped in delight when she saw them both. She knew that Jack had a flying sword that could go at high speeds. Even if they could not defeat their opponents, it should not be a problem to escape so long as everybody hopped onto Jack's flying sword. At least not everyone would die there.

She was not going to let them capture her alive. She would rather die than be tainted by the fatty Second Young Master Hunt.No. 1 Supreme Warrior
Chapter 1354-1356

Chapter 1354.
"Sh*t. That punk from the White family is here!"

A youth from the Hunt family noticed Jack and Daniella, and his expression darkened. "I heard that the punk is pretty good at fighting!"

"This will be troublesome!"

One of the two intermediate stage true god realm fighters from the Hunt family, named Shawn, could not help but frown when he saw Jack.

However, he quickly managed a cold grin. "He'll be a nuisance, but we have the numbers on our side," he said. "Besides, Venus and the other Cabello family members are severely injured. They're not a match for us even if they work together. But there might be quite a few losses on our side!"

"So confident!"

Jack flipped his palm and took out his black sword, pouring his chi into it.

"The resonance from that sword is very strong!"

Someone quickly realized that the sword was special. His expression darkened as he told the two fighters from the Hunt family.

"Sh*t. I think that punk's sword is an ultimate-grade spiritual tool. Only our master has one of those, yet he has one too!"

Shawn's expression darkened. He flipped his palm and took out his lower-grade spiritual tool, gripping it tightly.

He had originally thought that his tool was a pretty good find, but as he wrapped his fingers around it, he did not feel its novelty anymore.

“Don’t worry. The Lagorio family will attack the Cabello family, while the Hunt family will surround the White punk first. We’ll get his ultimate grade spiritual tool once we kill him!”

The other man at the intermediate stage of the true god status looked at Jack’s sword, desire flaming in his eyes. His fighting strength would be increased substantially if he manages to snatch it.

Shawn’s eyes also brightened when he heard this. They would suffer heavy losses, but everything would be worth it if they could kill Jack.

Jack could only flash a cold smile as he watched the two. They wanted to snatch his treasure away even at their cultivation levels. They were seriously looking down on him.

“Good thinking. But let’s see if you can follow it through!”

Jack emitted a mirthless chuckle and slashed a few sword auras.

“Die!”

The Cabello family rushed toward the Lagorio family again. Meanwhile, the Hunt family retreated to fight Jack instead.

“I’ll help you, Second Sister!”

In a flash, Daniella rushed to Venus’s side.

Bang Bang Bang!

The frightening noise of a fierce skirmish rang out. A few Hunt family members had no way to counter Jack’s sword auras, and they fell dead.

“Feral Slash!”

“Sky Cleaver!”

The two men who were at the intermediate stage of the true god realm threw out a martial skill each.

They thought that they could use their martial skills to easily take on Jack’s normal attacks perhaps they might even injure Jack.

Yet they did not imagine that Jack’s sword aura was so fast. The force behind his slashes were immense, and their attacks were immediately destroyed.

“No way. That punk didn’t even use his martial skills, and…”

Chapter 1355.
Shawn's face darkened. The desire to obtain the ultimate-grade spiritual tool that had flashed before his eyes had diminished. Solemnity replaced it instead.

At that very moment, he sensed how terrifying Jack truly was, thinking about how the man before him was a difficult opponent.

"Heh. I won't waste any more time playing around with you. I can't allow more Cabello family members to die!"

Jack chuckled and poured his chi into the sword again. The resonance that rippled off the sword was even stronger than before.

"Burning Chop!"

Jack took one step forward and gave a mighty swing with his sword. An attack propelled toward his front.

The slash emanated a faint hint, as though it were a comet threatening to burn everything in its path. In a flash, it came before Shawn.

"Sh*t. What martial skill is this? A second-grade premium?"

Shawn was so frightened that his face turned white as he sensed the power behind Jack's attack. He did not know what to do.

"Whirlwind!"

He quickly tapped into his strongest attack. Unfortunately, it was of no use, as Jack's attack destroyed his in a moment. The remaining energy landed on his body.

"Pfft!"

Blood flew everywhere. Shawn's body was immediately cut into half, and he dropped from the sky, completely, utterly dead.

"Sh*t. Young Master Shawn is dead!"

The other man at the intermediate stage of the true god realm was so scared that all color leached from his face. He gave a quick slash and got ready to run.

Yet Jack easily deflected his attack with his own slash. He rushed forward and easily killed the other man with his Flaming Slash.

"Run!"

The other Hunt family members were all shocked when two of their best fighters fell dead.

They scattered into the forest.

“Die!”

Venus and the others were almost defeated by these people. They had zero intention of letting them go, chasing after every one of them and killing them.

The Lagorio family member who was at the intermediate stage of the true god realm wanted to run after seeing that the two fighters from the Hunt family were dead, but he did not manage to escape Jack’s attack.

“Thank you, Young Master Jack. You’re so strong. We would have died if not for you!”

A few girls from the Cabello family flew over, looking at Jack with admiration shining in their eyes, as if they were fans of a celebrity.

“That’s right. You were amazing, Young Master Jack. I think you’re much stronger than the Second Young Mistress!”

“I seriously think that Young Master Jack is stronger than our First Young Mistress as well. He managed to kill two fighters at the intermediate stage of the true god realm with one slash each!”

“I’m in love with you, Young Master Jack. Your fighting ability is amazing. I admire you!”

A few girls from the Cabello family looked like lovelorn fools. Some even confessed straight to Jack.

Venus was internally speechless. Did they have to degrade her like that?

“Ahem. Don’t fret about it too much, Second Sis. He’s just that strong. Hahaha.”

Chapter 1356.
Daniella laughed even though her Second Sister was clearly glum. She was well aware that Second Sis and Big Sis were the idols of the younger generation in the family. Now though, the geniuses of the Cabello family were lavishing Jack with their praises, making him their new idol. Naturally, Second Sis would feel salty about it.

“You’re right. No way about it. He is much stronger than me.”

Venus pursed her lips. She thought about it before speaking, irritated, “But he managed to do so because he has an ultimate-grade spiritual tool. I could be just as strong as he is if I had one too!”

She did not think that Daniella would roll her eyes. “Why don’t you just go ahead and say that you want a superior-grade spiritual tool? Legends say that there’s a treasure that’s even stronger than an ultimate-grade spiritual tool, and that’s the superior-grade spiritual tool. It’ s just as mysterious as the ultimate god status. It's a pity that no one has actually seen one before. Anyone who gets their hand on one will be unstoppable!"

"A superior-grade spiritual tool?"

It was the first time Jack has heard of this item, and his heart leaped. There were tales of the ultimate-god status and the superior-grade spiritual tool. The third and fourth-grade spirited grass was recorded in the book that the First Elder of the Cabello family had, as well as third-grade alchemical pills. All this was definitely not a coincidence. Jack felt that the ultimate-god status had truly existed before.

"Heh. If I truly had a superior grade spiritual tool, I might just be able to easily kill the First Young Master of the Hunt family. Even Master Hunt might beg for his life before me!"

Venus grinned and folded her arms before her chest.

"Hey. How should we divide the spoils?"

After Venus said that, she asked Jack the question, looking at the bodies on the ground.

Jack could not help but furrow his brows when he heard this. Quite a few fighters from the true god realm as well many of those in the semi-god realm had died. They would probably have plenty of plaques and goodies in their martial rings.

However, even though Venus and the others were saved by him, he could not bring himself to ask for all of it.

Besides, the Cabello family members were already starting to clean up the spoils.

Yet Jack did not expect Daniella to step forward and reply before he did, "Second Sis, all of you managed to survive and win this battle because of Jack. Heh. I think we should give all of the plaques to him. Besides, he's the underdog here. The White family has never won a prize before, right?"

Venus rolled her eyes at Daniella. This girl has not even married Jack but she was already being strung around like a cow. She would be even worse once she was married.

Still, Venus nodded her head once she recalled that it was because of Jack's help that they were able to emerge victoriously. "All right. We'll give him as many plaques as we can find. This is the second time he's saved the Cabello family, after all. We'll split the spirited grass and the weapons fifty fifty!"

"Heh. Surely that's too much. There are so many dead bodies here. If I take all of their plaques, the White family might just have hope of winning!"

Jack coughed awkwardly and flashed a hapless smile.

“Young Master White, just take it. You saved our lives. I’m sure that the plaques are enough compensation.”

Before Venus could give a response, a girl from the Cabello family told Jack with a dazzled expression.

Chapter 1357.

“That’s right. You saved Young Mistress Venus, and you’re a couple with Young Mistress Helena. We’re family. No need to feel sorry!”

Another girl stared at Jack with her wide, doe eyes. Saliva dripped from the corner of her mouth, and she did not realize it.

At the sight of all the young female geniuses from the Cabello family becoming more and more unrestrained, Venus felt even more speechless. She shot a glare at them. “What are all of you doing? Why are you surrounding Jack? Don’t forget that you’re ladies. Behave yourselves!”

The girls gradually retreated when they saw that Venus was angry, but they would still cast glances toward the strong, handsome man.

Daniella did not think that they were out of line though. At any rate, if so many young female geniuses admired Jack, it meant that she had made the right choice. It meant that she had a good eye.

After a while, everyone had finished gathering the spoils of war, with over twenty black plaques in total. Other than that, there were two white plaques.

“So many plaques. Take it quick. Don’t make me regret my decision!”

Venus waved her hand, and the plaques flew toward Jack. She rolled her eyes, her beautiful face even more attractive with the indignant expression.

Jack smiled and took the plaques.

“Can I choose the spirited grass? Some work better for alchemy. But don’t worry. I won’t take more than my share!”

Jack said after he looked at the spirited grass.

“You know alchemy?”

Venus’s lips parted in surprise. Alchemy was a highly technical field, and it required great mental strength. Only those who had fire properties to their chi were able to practice alchemy, and any other practitioner was lucky enough to even produce a few ordinary pills.

Furthermore, there were very few alchemists in the world. They were practically an endangered species. The First Elder of the Cabello family and Second Young Master Hunt were alchemy experts, and it was because of that fact that they earned the respect of many others.

Venus did not think that Jack, who was from the mortal realm, would actually know alchemy.

“Of course he does. Not only is he an alchemist, but a first-grade premium one at that!”

Daniella spoke of Jack with a proud expression. She flipped her palm and took out the first-grade premium pill that Jack gave her. She waved it before her sister’s eyes in a goading manner. “See, Second Sis? Jack created this and gave it to me!”

“My God. It’s really a first-grade premium pill. It’ll be very useful to anyone at the true god status. I didn’t think that Jack could create such a precious item and give it to the Third Young Mistress!”

Quite a few youngsters from the Cabello family stared at the pill with admiration. No wonder the First Young Mistress so easily liked him and even kissed him in public. A man like this was one in a million.

Chapter 1358.
Never mind the others. Even Venus was looking at the pill with admiration.

She stared at it for a while before she simpered toward Jack,” Hmph. Not fair!”

“Not fair?”

Jack furrowed his brows, unsure of what she meant. Venus knew that he and Daniella were the real couple around here. Was it not normal for him to give a pill to his girlfriend?

The other Cabello family members exchanged glances, strange expressions on their faces. It was their first time seeing Venus using a simpering tone when speaking with someone else.

“Of course. Hmph. You’re a couple with Big Sis, and you gave Daniella a first-grade premium pill. But don’t forget that I’m their sister as well!”

Venus harrumphed coldly and spoke in a coquettish voice.

Daniella’s lips parted. She never thought that even though her second sister knew the relationship between her and Jack, she would still pull on a mask to fight for a single pill.

Jack also never thought that Venus would use that excuse to get a pill. He gave a bitter smile. “No problem. I’ll give you another pill like that,” he said.” But I’ll only do it once I’m free at night!”

When Venus heard this, her face broke into a grin. “You said it yourself,” she said excitedly.” Don’t you dare go back on your word!”

“Of course. I always keep my promises!”

Jack nodded his head, then he heard a roar from the distance.

“All right. Let’s split the weapons quickly and get out of here,” he said. “A few monsters are close. Let’s not look for unnecessary trouble!”

“All right. Half-half!”

Venus was especially happy. She had been stuck in the intermediate stage of the true god realm for a while now. If Jack truly gave her the first-grade premium pill, she would be able to break into the advanced stage of the true god status a little sooner. It would be difficult, but the pill would be a significant boost to her abilities.

After all, not only would such a pill contain purified ingredients, without the impurities, it would give a burst of energy when one was about to make a breakthrough. Once one broke through, it could still provide a source of chi.

If one did not have a pill, they would need at least second-grade elementary or second-grade intermediate spirited grass. They would require a few stalks of it as well as some first-grade premium grass before they could even attempt to make a breakthrough

If they only used spirited grass, the effects would be far weaker than using a pill. Not only was the chi in spirited grass less purified than the chi in a pill, but it also does not contain much chi. A stalk of spirited grass would not supply enough chi so one needed to use a second stalk to replenish their chi when they were trying to make a breakthrough.

With this method, one’s spirit could easily be affected while switching between spirited grass and failing to make a breakthrough. If one was unlucky, they would suffer from backlash and become injured. They would need to recuperate for a while and realign their spirit to try once more.

Some people were talented enough, but they would fail to break into the next level multiple times after they reached the intermediate stage of the true god status. Some would have their spirits severely affected but would still be unable to take the next step even after decades of trying, and even till their last breath.

Chapter 1359.

Of course, for some people who lack natural talent, they might even arrive at a bottleneck and not able to advance further in practicing martial arts.

“All right, let’s go! Remember, from today onward, the Cabello family and the White family are on good terms. We’re one family, understand? If we were to meet the White family again, don’t get into any disputes, do you hear me?”

After distributing the spoils of war, Venus waved her hand and gave the order to the geniuses of the Cabello family.

Ray of warm sunshine bloomed inside Jack as he heard Venus’s words. He hoped that the relationship between the two families would improve and become better moving forward through this tournament. At least the three sisters of the Cabello family no longer harbor hatred toward him. It would be even better if they could praise him and say one or two good things about him in front of Alejandro.

Soon, Jack and the others left the scene.

Not long after Jack and the others left, the Second Young Master of the Hunt family arrived at the same place together with several men from the Hunt family

“Sh*t! It’s Shawn! God d*mmit! Shawn Hunt and Hanson Hunt were both at the intermediate stage of the true god realm, and they were killed!”

Staring at the cold bodies on the ground, one of the Hunt family members was shocked to the core. There were quite a few dead men from the Hunt family here on the ground and their martial levels were not low at all. Who could that be who killed them all? They wondered.

“Judging from the condition of these bodies, the fight was not very intense. And from the mess, we can presume that Shawn and Hanson had joined forces with the fighters of the Lagorio family to besiege the Cabello family! Damn, I didn’t expect that even when they have joined forces, they were no match for the other party!”

Tyrell took a closer look at the situation around the scene and concluded with certainty. “There ‘s only one person in the Cabello family who was able to kill Shawn and the others!”

Chapter 1360.

“Am I in heaven now? I get to watch a good-looking man concentrate on refining pills!”

A young girl whispered to another young girl next to her. Her gaze toward Jack was full of admiration and adoration.

“Yes, it’s such a rare opportunity!”

The other pressed her lips together, forming a shy smile. They spoke in a low and gentle voice, fearing that they might disrupt Jack.

“The entrance of this cave is wide and noticeable, we’ll be discovered easily!”

Venus stared at the cave's entrance and her brows snapped together. She was worried.

However, she was confident in the Cabello family's overall prowess. The Cabello family was one of the eight reclusive families and they held a high position in the list. Among the families that participated in the tournament, not many of them could induce fear in the Cabello family. As long as the lady luck was with them today, there should be no problem.

Time passed slowly. Jack's speed in refining the pills was obviously much faster than the previous time when he first made the pill.

After all, the successful experience he had last time boosted his confidence in refining pills. Now he was more and more comfortable with this alchemy process.

"It shall be completed soon. It seems to have started to condense and coagulate. I've observed how the First Elder refined this pill once before!"

Venus wheeled her head and looked at Jack. She breathed a sigh of relief in her heart. She believed that Jack would successfully refine this pill as long as there were no interruptions in a while. The chances of him creating the pill successfully were high since everything seemed to be going very well.

"Hey, there's a cave over here. Let's spend the night there today!"

Nonetheless, at this very moment, Venus heard a man's voice come from outside the cave.

"Good idea, Cousin! The cave seems wide and spacious enough for all of us to stay for the night!"

Another woman's voice sounded right after the man's voice, and it was followed by the chatter of several men. It seemed like there were a lot of men who came to this cave.

Venus's face sunk into the deepest. Daniella, on the other hand, stood up and came next to Venus with a dulled and gloomy face.

"Venus, what should we do?"

Daniella whispered into Venus's ear.

"Sigh! Let's go out and see who they are!"

Venus flashed a bitter smile and walked out of the cave together with Daniella and several geniuses of the Cabello family.

By the time the two of them and their geniuses arrived at the entrance of the cave, the group of people had already stepped into the cave, not too far away from them.

Venus immediately breathed a huge sigh of relief when she noticed that the group of people turned out to be just men from a third-class family. These men before them did not at all pose a single threat to them.

“Sh*t! Young Master, the cave is occupied! And by the people from the Cabello family! We’re so done for!”

A fatty recognized the group of people-Venus and her peoplewho came out from the cave, and terror immediately stabbed his heart. He was trembling inside as he reported to the guy who possessed the strongest combat prowess among them

These were only geniuses from a third-class family; therefore, the highest realm they could go, at most, would be the late stage of the semi-god realm. There was not even a fighter at the peak stage of the semi-god realm, let alone the elementary stage of the true god realm.

Hence, when they saw a member from the Cabello family, their smiles faded and all possible colors drained out of their faces. Some of them even stumbled back a few steps in fear.

“Dear sir and madams, we…we were robbed of our tokens by the Hunt family just before, and now we are really out of tokens. Please spare us and let us go!”

Chapter 1361.

The man who was leading the group was equally frightened. They were afraid of such an encounter with martial practitioners of true god-level ability. The heads on their necks depended on the mood of the stronger fighters. If the stronger ones were unhappy, the weaker ones had to say goodbye to their heads.

They truly did not expect to meet strong geniuses from the Cabello family this late at night.

Venus shot the other party glances before saying, “Leave the place and find another site to stay!”

“Thank you so much, Second Young Mistress Cabello!”

These men before the Cabellos let out a sigh of relief in their hearts and quickly left the scene.

“Sigh. They’re really unlucky to run into the Second Young Master of the Hunt family. The tokens that they’ve worked so hard to get the past few days were snatched away just like that! In a blink of an eye!”

Daniella expressed her thoughts as she saw the other party left the cave.

“They’re considered fortunate that the Second Young Master Hunt did not take their lives. Their family has not offended any other families, they’re good. But the reality is cruel. If the Second Young Master Hunt was in a bad mood, I’m afraid that they will no longer be alive!”

“Hahaha, it’s been a long time!”

Venus’s expression morphed into one of horrified shock in the next second.

At this moment, a cheerful yet sinister laugh shot through the air in the cave. The Second Young Master Hunt and several of his men strode toward the direction of the cave from the White not far away. He looked at Venus and the others smilingly.

“What the heck! Aren’t we too unfortunate? Jack is in the most critical moment in creating the pill right now and he’s gotten nearer and nearer to the end. If he’s disturbed, I think everything will be ruined!”

Daniella’s forehead creased as she spoke to Venus. Concerns and worries were all written on her face.

Venus’s expression hardened.” His martial status is the same as mine. I’ll try to hold him up for a while, and we’ll have to put our bet on Jack. See if he can succeed.” She added.

“Okay. You’ve never fought him before, and I heard that his fighting prowess is very strong and powerful. Second Sis, you have to be extra careful!”

Daniella pressed her lips together and the lines between her brows grew deeper. She was worried for Venus.

“Don’t worry. I’ll be careful!”

Venus replied in a gentle voice.

“Oh my little beauties, what are you muttering over there? Hmm?”

The Second Young Master Hunt stopped not far away and waved his hand, while his men dispersed and surrounded the cave in formation.

The geniuses of the Cabello family who were inside the cave came to the entrance immediately when they heard sounds coming from outside.

Their faces blanched and turned unsightly when they found out that the other party was the Hunt family.

“Nah, nothing worth your attention. Second Young Master Hunt, it’s really been a long time! How’re you doing lately?”

Venus flashed an awkward smile. This was the first time she met the Second Young Master Hunt since the competition started. She was clueless to the fact that the current Second Young Master Hunt was no longer lingering around the intermediate stage of the true god realm and has broken through to the late stage of the true god realm. His combat prowess was a few times stronger than Helena who was already at the late stage of true god realms for several years.

Nonetheless, the Second Young Master Hunt did not know Venus intended to stall him. He simply thought that Venus and the others had already fallen into his grips and were trapped. “Well, I m doing quite well lately. We’re the Hunt family, you know, many of those people from what second-class or third-class families surrender their tokens the second they see me. I don’t even have to fight them! Haha!” he said slowly.

He then stretched his back and added in a prideful tone, “Sigh! It’s really amazing to have high combat prowess and martial status. Everything will be smooth sailing and effortless for me. And such a tournament, for someone like me, actually means nothing!”

Chapter 1362.
“What do you mean by it means nothing? Would you mind elaborating?”

Venus asked deliberately to hold him up and create more time for Jack.

“Heh, it’s not that simple? Those fighters from the second and third-class families can only surrender their tokens to me when they meet me. I don’t even have to fight for it and the tokens are already in my hands. There are not many that can defeat me, even your sister is no match for me! Well, except for my brother, I don’t think there’s anyone else on this earth that can defeat me. Was I clear enough?”

Tyrell chortled and added, “I’ m definitely in the top three in the tournament this time. And based on the overall result, the Hunt family is definitely number one!”

“You’re a little overconfident, aren’t you? I don’t think my sister is weaker than you!”

Venus sneered. Hints of contempt formed in her eyes.

“Heh, you’re not informed, are you? Your sister was almost captured alive by me before. If it wasn’t for that b* stard Jack, who took advantage of my inattention and fled with your sister, she’ d have become my woman by now! Hmph!”

The Second Young Master Hunt snorted coldly. He rubbed his chin and looked at both Venus and Daniella in front of him. “But well, God is fair to me. Your sis has indeed gotten away from my grip, but now God has sent both of you to me. Hehe! It’s going to be even more fun this time around!” he expressed playfully.

Venus did not expect Tyrell to be such a b*stard and shamelessly spill those words. “Oh wow, I initially thought that since you have excellent talent and exceptional alchemy skill, you would be a decent gentleman! I truly didn’t expect that the Second Young Master of the legendary Hunt family to be such a brazen and shameless jerk!”

“A decent gentleman? Heh!”

Tyrell laughed out loud after hearing Venus’s words. “Is being a decent gentleman worthwhile? In the past, I was very conscious of my image and reputation, wanting to become a ‘decent gentleman’ in your eyes, but what has it brought me? In the end, I’m only a fool who was neglected by the three of you!”

The more Tyrell expressed his feeling, the more agitated he became. “On the contrary, I found that this time the tournament is really tailor-made for me! I don’t have to take into account your feelings. Whoever I want to kill, I will kill, whoever I want to violate, I will violate, including you, the legendary Three Golden Flower of the Cabello family! Gentleman? Decent man? Bullsh*t! You’ll not fall in love with me even if I’m decent! You dislike my ugliness, and my fattiness, don’t you?”

“Funny. We won’t like someone like you, even if you ‘re good-looking!”

Daniella rolled her eyes at the other party and countered without giving face to the other party.

“Hmph, you don’t like me, right? It’s alright. I’ll make you like me in a moment!”

The Second Young Master Hunt grunted coldly. He clenched his fists and a layer of chi energy formed around his fists. The chi energy was vibrating aggressively around his fists.

Venus, on the other hand, was tongue-tied at the situation. She initially planned to hold him up for a while, hence she deliberately asked questions to take Tyrell for a conversational stroll. But, one sentence from Daniella had completely agreed with the beast inside Tyrell.

“Daniella, why did you provoke him!”

Venus expressed her dissatisfaction. She was left with no other way but to step forward with gritted teeth and clenched fists. The chi energy surrounded her clenched fists as well. “I hope I can hold him up for a little longer,” she said.

Daniella only then realized her mistake. Her words caused her and the others the trouble that she could not imagine. She was rendered speechless. She could only ball her fists and enclosed them with chi energy and stood beside her sister.” Venus, this fella is way too powerful. You would find it difficult to fight him alone. We’ve to join forces together to fight him. Besides, we don’ t know about the incident that involved Helena, not sure if he was bragging or if it was true!”

“Alright, your martial status is not low, we shall fight together!”

Venus nodded. The two exchanged glances and charged toward Tyrell in a flash.“That’s right! Only Helena Cabello is capable of that! Venus Cabello was not bad either, but her combat prowess could not wipe off both Shawn and Hanson. Besides, the genius from the Lagorio family was also at the intermediate stage of the true god realm. To kill three geniuses at the intermediate stage of the true god realm in one shot, only Helena could do that!” The men of the Hunt family from before commented and concurred.

Tyrell's face sunk into the deepest. "There's no trace of any monster beasts here, which means they haven't gotten too far from here. Let's go, let's hurry to the forest to pursue after their tracks and see if we could run into them!"

Tyrell's fists clenched tightly as he spoke. "Helena Cabello, hmph! It looks like she has gotten into the killing spree mode against the Hunt family since her escape last time. She better pray that I'd not run into her, otherwise, I'll let her know what the consequences are for going against the Hunt family!"

The geniuses of the Cabello family had become very enthusiastic and warm-hearted toward Jack. Every one of them would listen to his words, including Venus. After Jack had saved her life twice in a row, she had no enmity toward Jack anymore.

When the night arrived, everyone found a spacious cave to live in. Jack took out the alchemical material from the night before to continue his pillmaking

"Jack is going to make and refine the pills; you guys try not to talk loudly so that he could concentrate on refining the pills!"

Venus felt a flare of joy when she saw Jack taking out his pill furnace. If Jack succeeded in refining the pill this time, he would definitely give it to her, she thought.

At the thought that she was about to receive a first-grade premium pill, Venus's spirit lightened and happiness swelled within her.

Chapter 1363.
Swoosh!

Both of the Cabellos were fast; one charged toward Tyrell on the left, and another on the right. They arrived in front of Tyrell within seconds and punched their fists out at him in anger.

"Hmmph. Trying to stall me?"

Tyrell frowned and then laughed sinisterly." Seriously, I don't know what would be the use of you guys holding me up. Haha! You'll still be my spoils of war in the end, sooner or later!"

In just a blink of an eye, he took advantage of the gap where Venus was slightly faster than Daniella and instantly blasted two punches toward the ladies.

Bang Bang!

Two loud thud sounds pierced through the air, and in the next second, Venus has blasted several meters away, only then she managed to stabilize her body and landed on the ground.

However, Daniella-whose martial status was only at the early stage of the true god realm-was blasted several feet away, and after falling onto the ground, mouthfuls of blood gushed out of her mouth. Her face blanched in an instant.

“Daniellita!”

Venus looked in the direction of Daniella, her eyebrows knitted together. “You…you’ re already at the late stage of the true god realm?” She stared at Tyrell with a solemn yet intense Expression.

“Haha! I was a fan of procrastination and didn’t fancy training and practicing my martial arts. And I still broke through to the middle stage of the true god realm in no time. But this time, to make sure the Three Golden Flowers would be no match for me, I specially trained a little harder before the tournament and broke through to the late stage of the true god realm! So now, not to mention your sister who obviously is not my opponent, even if the three of you join forces together, you guys are still no match for me!”

Tyrell laughed hard and then sneered with a playful expression, “The reason why I want to break through so badly is because I want to make sure I can own the three of you. So that you’ll know that I, Tyrell Hunt, the Second Young Master of the legendary Hunt family, is not someone you can mess with!”

“Shameless b*stard!”

Anger rose in Venus like a tide as she listened to his words. She stared deadly at the other party with malice and hatred; she did not at all see this coming, that this Young Master Hunt was a shameless b*stard!

“Shameless b*stard?”

Tyrell chuckled loud again.” What’s so shameless about me? Even if I kill all geniuses of the Cabello family, it’s still within the rules of the tournament. But, I won’t kill you now, I still want to have some fun with you. I’ll keep you with me, and when we go out to public places, I’ll show everyone that the Three Golden Flowers are my women!”

Tyrell’s eyes were covered with madness. “If the three of you carried my babies in the future, that would be even better! Maybe, by that time, each of you heavily pregnant with a baby belly will beg me to marry you!”

“Dream on! Even if I die, I won’t marry you!”

Fury vibrated through Venus’ s whole being. Tyrell used to have a decent image and reputation. Unexpectedly, he completely tore off his disguise in the midst of this tournament.

Venus clenched her fists and the chi energy once again desperately gushed out and enclosed her fists. She then blasted out a punch toward Tyrell.

A huge fist-shape chi energy soon appeared before Venus. She shot out an incomparably solid fistshape chi energy-that was taller and wider than a mantoward Tyrell. The chi attack carried thick and harsh chi energy, heading straight for Tyrell.

Chapter 1364.

“Heh? Just this?”

When Tyrell looked at this martial technique, a cold smile formed on his face.“ What makes you think that a first-grade premium level yet basic technique would earn you the win? You’re using a technique that people of second-class families Uses!”

Tyrell recognized this martial technique at first glance. It was an elementary technique. He then clenched his fist and enclosed it with chi energy and blasted out with a single punch.

Swoosh!

In front of him, a larger fist shape chi attack was formed and the attack seemed even more solid than the attack that Venus had just blasted out.

Boom!

A huge thud sounded. Venus’ s attack was easily countered by the other party, even, the other party had cast a more powerful chi attack. Waves of chi energy headed straight toward Venus and blasted her a few meters away. She could taste the bittersweet in her throat, and the next second, mouthfuls of blood spewed out of her mouth.

“I’m getting bored. Let’s end this!”

Tyrell, once again, let out a cold smile and slapped out another punch.

This time, an even larger palm-shaped chi attack flew out of his palm. The air around the attack vibrated vigorously and the leaves on the trees nearby had fallen due to the strong air vibration. Leaves and dust began to dance with the wind resulting from the chi energy. The attack was more terrifying than the previous one.

In facing the frightening chi attack, Venus’s eyes were filled with a grave and solemn look. She then flipped her palm and drew out a precious sword, and began to inject her chi energy into the sword.

“Ah!”

Venus let out a soft cry and swung her sword. A semicircular blade was shot out and headed straight for the palm-shaped chi attack. The blade attack carried unrelenting chi energy.

“Heh? A second-grade martial technique? From the looks of it, it should be a second-grade elementary level!”

On the opposite side, Tyrell’s eyes slightly lit up at the blade attack in front of him.” This martial skill is not bad. And you made it seem terrifying too. Good job! But, it’s nothing in front of me. You’re still too naïve to hope that this kind of attack could counter my attack!”

Boom!

Just before Tyrell’s words fell, the attacks from both sides once again collided with a deafening sound, causing the geniuses of the Hunt family-who stood not far away-to stumble a few steps back. The clash between the two powerhouses, allowing them to, once again, witness the strength of the top three of the reclusive families.

The huge palm-shaped chi attack was naturalized a lot by the blade attack, however, the blade attack by Venus was obviously not solid and strong enough to hold back Tyrell’s attack. Tyrell’s attack had slowly devoured every bit of Venus’s attack.

“Dammit! He’s too powerful! We’re simply not his opponent. He’s completely at a different level!”

Venus’s face turned even more unsightly at the realization. Beads of sweat were dripping down from her forehead.

In order to make her attack a little more powerful, she had actually injected some of her mental strength into it, so that her attack could be stronger and more solid.

Nonetheless, if her attack was destroyed, she would also suffer severe injury.

“Pfft!”

Sure enough, Venus’s sword aura was completely destroyed by Tyrell. She spurted out plenty of blood.

Tyrell’s palm-shaped chi attack was only neutralized by a little. With the remaining chi attack, it continued to rush forward and was about to land on Venus’s tiny body

“It’s over. I’ll be seriously injured this time!”

Venus could not help but smile bitterly at the situation before her. The other party was already at the late stage of the true god realm. The thickness and powerfulness of his chi energy was nothing she could compare with.

Chapter 1365.

Not to mention that Tyrell was the prodigy among the geniuses. The technique he used was a high-level technique of the Hunt family. Venus was no match at all.

Swoosh!

Nevertheless, a dark silhouette bolted out from the cave within milliseconds at that moment and stood in front of Venus. A sword aura was cast out toward the front.

Swoosh!

The sword aura appeared and landed directly on top of the palm-shaped chi attack. The two chi attacks clashed wildly together, and in the end, they neutralized and canceled each other out.

“Jack! You’ve done refining the pill? That’s great!”

Seeing that it was Jack who blocked Venus, Daniella’s spirits flew high, at the same time, the boulder in her heart was lifted. She had seen Jack s combat prowess with her own eyes. He was so much stronger than her second sister-Venus.

“Yup, the pill is completed. Thanks for helping me to earn some time. I was about to succeed, and if I was interrupted, everything would be ruined and I’d have to restart the whole process!”

Jack bobbed his head and then looked at Venus who was behind his back. “Leave it to me!”

“You, alone? Are you sure you can defeat him? Why don ‘t I join forces with you and perhaps we have a chance to win that way!”

Venus was a little concerned.

Without responding to Venus, Jack flipped his palm and took out a healing pill for Venus. “Retreat to the cave. This fatty sc*mbag, I’ve long wanted to teach him a lesson, and this time there are no intervening factors; no one else is here. I won’t let him off the hook again this time!”

“Tch, tch! Who else can that be? Of course, the b*stard Jack is here. Last time I let you get away with Helena. Today, God sent you to me again, I won’t let you have the chance to escape anymore!”

Once Tyrell saw that the dark figure was Jack, he started to laugh coldly. Then he wheeled his head to face Daniella and Venus, “Oh, now I get it. You two were trying to earn some time for this b*stard, right? Waiting for him to finish refining the pill and come out to rescue you! Hehehe! What a bunch of naïve toddlers. This b*stard escaped with your sister from me! Do you think he could save you when he was the escapee?”

“I believe in Jack!”

However, Venus stepped forward and voiced her faith. “Hmmm. What’s that name again? Shawn? Shawn Hunt? Wasn’t he killed by Jack in a blink of an eye?”

“You killed him?”

The Second Young Master Hunt was taken aback by the new piece of information. He was surprised. “Right, I forgot, that you were able to rescue Helena right under my nose, so your combat prowess should be similar to Helena’s. It looks like you’ve also broken through to the late stage of the true god realm!”

Tyrell halted before continuing, “But, even if you’ ve broken through to the late stage of the true god realm, that’s of no use too. Helena is in this realm and she’s considered as one of the tops and yet she is no match at all!”

“I didn’t kill you last time because, first, I don’t want to offend the Hunt family, and second, I sensed two unfamiliar auras hiding under the shadow that time. If I were to kill you that time, they’d have fled immediately and reported to their masters. Then, when the tournament was over, everybody would know that I killed you. That’d be bad!”

Jack responded with an emotionless face. “But now there are no outsiders here, and the things you’ve done recently have made me set my mind to kill you!”

“Wow, set your mind to kill him? Brat, aren’t you a little bit too arrogant? The strength and power of our Second Young Master is not something you can be compared with!”

A genius of the Hunt family who was standing aside sneered and had his arms clasped before his chest, as though he was hearing the biggest joke ever.

“That’s right, our Second Young Master Hunt’s talent is so powerful that even the First Young Master has to be careful with him! It’s just that he was slacking before and didn’t really like to train. Otherwise, he’d have become the youngest person to have reached the peak of the true god realm!”

Another young female genius chimed in, likewise, she worshipped and admired the Second Young Master Hunt immensely.

“Brat, come on. You won’t be able to get away this time!”

Tyrell stretched out his hand, the chi energy on it began to surge incessantly. The chi energy on his body also dispersed and blended into the surrounding, making the leaves under his feet flew and fluttered around him.

Chapter 1366.

“What a strong aura! Can Young Master Jack take it?” Several young people from the Cabello family started worrying for Jack after they felt the Second Young Master Hunt’s strength.

“There’s nothing to worry about. We’ve witnessed Young Master Jack’s combat power before this!” said the several women who adored Jack, confidently so. “Their strength must be comparable even if he can’t win. By then, there would still be time for us to escape. Anyway, it wouldn’t be an issue if Young Master Jack took action!”

“Tiger Roaring Fist!” came Second Young Master Hunt’s roar, fists balled tightly as he punched toward the person in front of him.

“Roar!” The sound of a terrifying tiger roar could be heard following his punch. A tiger accumulated by his Chi appeared in front of him.

The realistic tiger seemed to stand a few meters tall as it carried itself like the king of the jungle.

“Oh my god!” Face contorted in horror, Daniella yelled to the rest, “Everybody, back off!”

Members of the Hunt family were also startled by this. They traveled some distance away as they were afraid of getting hurt in the fight.

“Young man, do you know how strong I am right now?” Second Young Master Hunt smiled coldly. “I’ve already connected my mental strength with this attack so that its power can be maximized to the strongest level. This is all to end you, right here, right now!”

“Let’s see if you’re capable of that!” Jack curled his hands into fists and also punched forward. A light-blue color dragon took to the air as a frightening dragon’s sound could be heard.

This dragon seemed to be equally shocking. The dragon seemed lifelike in appearance as its whiskers, talons, and scales could be made out clearly.

“What the f*ck?! This martial skill is quite strong!” Daniella’s eyes lit up when she saw this. “Is this the Tiger Dragon Fight? Where did Jack get this martial skill from? He’s impossible; this is a second-grade intermediate martial skill!”

“Seems like you’re strong enough to stand against me, young man!” Second Young Master Hunt’s fighting spirit was also ignited. “You’re a surprise in this competition. It looks like you’ve broken through and achieved the final stages of the true-god level. It’s impossible for you to carry out such a powerful attack if you hadn’t! You’ve broken through, so it’s no surprise you dare fight me!”

Jack was speechless. “Let me show you my fighting prowess!”

Jack slowly released his suppressed aura after he spoke. For the first time, the aura his body and his vibration that he hid well for so long was released “I–Impossible!” Second Young, Master Hunt shook his head continuously when he felt that Jack’s aura was much stronger than his. “Based on your vibration, you still have the fighting prowess of an intermediate stage at the true god level, but your aura has already achieved the final stage, maybe even the peak stage of the true-god level. What… What martial art technique did you train yourself with?"

"Haha… I don't think there's a need to explain that to you!" Jack laughed, no longer bothering to continue. With a wave of his hand, the dragon flew to the sky before rushing down at the tiger.

"Roar!"

Second Young Master Hunt also waved his hand and the tiger in front of him rushed forward.

Thooom!

Both animals immediately crashed onto each other.

"Die!" Second Young Master Hunt gritted his teeth as he looked forward in hatred. He had tightly connected his mental strength with the tiger.

Jack could also feel how strong Second Young Master Hunt's combat power was. If that was not the case,

Helena, who was already in the final stage of the true-god level, could not have lost to him.

Chapter 1367.
Nonetheless, Jack's combat power was much stronger than Helena's.

"Go!" Focusing his line of sight, he controlled the dragon to roar continuously with his mental strength. The dragon lunged at his opponent with its huge talons.

Crack!

Unable to withstand its might, the tiger slowly fell apart.

Although Jack's dragon had started to dim and looked like it would break at any moment, its attack was much stronger than the tiger's, and that showed.

"Mphf!"

Eventually, Second Young Master Hunt could not hold up as he vomited a mouthful of blood. He turned pale as he stumbled a couple of steps backward.

"How's this possible? He's wounded?!" The Hunt family prodigies that were extremely confident in Young Master Hunt were floored at the turn of events before their eyes, and they wondered if they were hallucinating.

Jack's attack had genuinely wounded Second Young Master Hunt.

“This is great!” Inwardly ecstatic, Helena nearly leaped in excitement. She could never have withstood Second Young Master Hunt’s attack.

However, not only did Jack withstand this attack, but he even destroyed the attack and wounded the opponent.

Roar!

The dragon had dimmed and turned smaller, though it still rushed toward Second Young Master Hunt with its overpowering dragon’s might.

Second Young Master Hunt saw the dragon come rushing to him the moment he vomited blood, and he was so frightened that his face continued to pale. In a hurry, he could only gather a thin layer of Chi protective layer around his body to protect himself.

Second Young Master Hunt regained a faint peace of mind after he protected himself. He was lucky to have made it in time, or he would have been badly wounded if he was struck by the remaining wave of energy from Jack’s attack.

Thoom!

The dragon carried its remaining power and crashed against Second Young Master Hunt’s protective layer the moment it was formed.

The protective layer started to tremble and the strong impact forced Second Young Master Hunt to move several steps backward.

Second Young Master Hunt’s face was covered in cold sweat, but he managed to withstand it in the end as the barrier blocked the entire attack.

“It looks like there’s still some difference!” Jack sighed faintly when he saw how his opponent managed to hold himself against his attack. He seemed to be displeased with himself.

Second Young Master Hunt’s heart bled when he heard this. This guy had wounded him already, yet he was still displeased with what he did. This was a huge humiliation to him.

“You got on my nerves, young man!” Second Young Master Hunt dismissed his protective layer and moved forward. With the flip of his hand, a sword appeared.

“A middle-grade spiritual tool?” Jack gave it a glance before taking out his sword with a flip of his hand. He then infused his Chi into his black sword.

The sword in Jack’s hand immediately emitted a daunting wave of fluctuation. As for Jack, his imposing manner had increased by several folds compared to previously.

“What is this weapon? Even his momentum has changed!” Several young people from the Hunt family grew fearful when they saw Jack’s sword and the confidence Jack unconsciously showed.

If… If their Second Young Master Hunt died, none of them—who had low fighting prowess-could escape.

Chapter 1368.

“It’s an ultimate-grade spiritual tool!” Tyrell soon felt the difference of that black sword in Jack’s hands. Initially pompous and confident in himself, he grew wary as realization dawned on him, his doubt reflected in his expression.

“What?! It’s an ultimate-grade spiritual tool?”

“No wonder this guy is so confident; it’s because he owns such an invaluable item!”

“I wonder if the second young master can still defeat that guy this time!” Several members of the Hunt family were slightly worried after they confirmed that the sword in Jack’s hands was indeed an ultimate-grade spiritual tool.

“Don’t worry. Our second young master had trained his martial skill, Hundred Leaves Chop, to its best. His combat power isn’t something a normal person can compete with. As for Jack, even though he has the support of an ultimate grade spiritual tool, he’s only in an intermediate of the true-god level. There’s still a lot of hope for us!” a man from the Hunt family said confidently after he thought about it.

With that, many of them grew somewhat more confident about the situation after they heard this analysis.

“Hundred Leaves Chop!” At this moment, Tyrell swung his sword toward Jack.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

One by one, attacks in the form of leaves appeared in front of him. There were more than 100 leaf blades as they covered a huge space.

Jack eyed the attack and discovered that these leaves were much faster compared to those Tyrell used to attack Helena before. These leaves were also sharper than before.

This guy was an indisputable genius as his fighting prowess had once again risen within these couple of days upon entering the forest.

Jack had no doubt that Tyrell would be able to break through and achieve the peak stage of the true-god level if he focused on training.

“Blade Wave!” As he noted the leaves aiming toward him, Jack swung his sword and used his second-grade premium martial skill, Blade Wave.

Fwoosh! Fwoosh! Fwoosh!

Waves of sword aura appeared in front of Jack as though they were like flying swords. The flying swords coagulated into waves and went surging toward Tyrell, endless as they attacked him.

“This guy has a secondgrade premium martial skill too?” Second Young Master Hunt was extremely frightened when he saw Jack’ sattack. He remembered how Jack also used a martial skill when he rescued Helena, but that martial skill was not as domineering as this one.

Nonetheless, the previous martial skill was just as daunting.

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

Two horrifying attacks collided against one another at that moment, and bursts of explosions could be heard.

Members from both the Cabello family and the Hunt family watched on, utterly nervous. Everybody knew that such a fight between experts would decide the outcome this time.

No matter which side won, the other party would only be left with death.

Within seconds, the members of the Hunt family started exclaiming as they realized that there was something wrong about the situation, “This is bad. Second Young Master Hunt’s Hundred Leaves Chop couldn’t break through Jack’s attack. The leaves were crushed upon impact!”

“Run!” One of them turned around and started flying toward the forest, not bothering to think twice about the situation.

“Go after them!” Daniella immediately ordered members of the Cabello family when she saw how the people from the other side had prepared to escape.

Chapter 1369.

“We need to run! Quickly!” The other members of the Hunt family started to fly away and attempted to escape when they saw that Second Young Master Hunt was no longer able to stand his ground against the attack

Thoom!

Tyrell could not bear it anymore after the explosion occurred. All his leaves had been destroyed and he vomited a mouthful of blood.

Already heavily wounded before, his face turned extremely pale after he was gravely injured again.

About half of the power from Jack's attack came toward him.

"No!" shrieked Tyrell. When he realized he no longer had the time to escape, he gritted his teeth and quickly formed a small Chi protective layer around his being to surround himself.

Jack's remaining attack pummeled against the protective Chi layer the moment it was formed.

Crack!

Second Young Master Hunt had hoped that the protective Chi layer could tank at least half of the attack for him, but unexpectedly, the protective layer burst into pieces and fell apart in less than a second after the attack landed on it.

Thoom!

The terrifying attack burst on Second Young Master Hunt's body, and it sent him flying several meters far.

Thunk! Thunk! Thunk!

Several trees broke and fell to the ground as his body crashed against them. In the end, Second Young Master Hunt laid on the ground like a dead dog that could not even move a finger.

Jack once again appeared in front of Second Young Master Hunt in a flash. At this moment, Second Young Master Hunt's eyes were filled with disbelief as he spouted mouthfuls after mouthfuls of blood.

Jack had a cold expression on his face as he raised the sword in his hands.

"How… How dare you want to kill me? I'm the Hunt family's second young master. Young man, if you kill me…" Second Young Master Hunt threatened Jack with his faint breath.

Fwoosh!

Unfortunately, Jack had stabbed him with his sword before he finished his sentence. Blood spluttered out and Second Young Master Hunt died just like that.

Jack knelt and picked up Tyrell's martial ring.

"Mphf!"

At that moment, blood audibly sputtered out of Quentin's mouth as he waited outside the forest.

"Master Hunt, what happened?!" asked Trenton immediately as he felt that something was wrong after he saw what happened. Everybody else also looked at Quentin.

“Damn it… Somebody killed my son! Tyrell… Tyrell has been killed!” So enraged was Quentin that his face turned green and his voice trembled.

He never thought his son would die. Apart from that, the competition had just started for a couple of days.

“That’s impossible. How do you know that, Master Hunt?” The other family masters were in disbelief when they heard this. They could not believe that a genius like Tyrell would die in such a competition.

Apart from that, nobody would be daring enough to kill him even if his opponent was stronger than him. Although life-and-death matters were placed aside in this competition and nobody could look into what happened after the competition ended, everybody knew how strong and domineering the Hunt family was. Who would dare kill the son of the Hunt family ‘s master under normal circumstances?

Even if they wanted to kill somebody from the Hunt family, they would have chosen somebody who did not have a high position instead of Tyrell Hunt.

“The Hunt family has a secret technique, and we’re able to form connections with a person after we inject our mental strength into them. At the very least, we’re able to know if he’s alive or dead.” Quentin gritted his teeth as hatred filled his eyes. He wiped the blood from the corners of his mouth as he added, “If the other person died, the person who used this secret technique on him would also be wounded.”

Chapter 1370.

“Now, the connection between me and my son, Tyrell…is severed! My son!” Quentin seemed to have grown a couple of years older within mere moments as he plunged into despair.

“I’d like to know which family this prodigy who killed the Second Young Master Hunt came from!” came the hushed murmurs among some of them.

“That’s right, this person is really daring. I think only the top geniuses from the Eight Reclusive Families are able to do this!” said a family master from the second-class aristocratic family after carefully thinking over it. “It’ s considered remarkable for prodigies from aristocratic families like ours to be in the initial or intermediate stage of the true-god level. They don’t have the strength to kill the Second Young Master Hunt!”

“My… My son had already broken through to the true god level’s final stage before he entered the forest, and he also has a middle-grade spiritual tool with him! Who’ d be strong enough to kill him? I want to know, now!” The furious Quentin tightened his fists, unable to register his son’s death.

Although life-and-death was also a personal responsibility during the previous competitions, the competitions were carried out on a stage in a one-on-one configuration. Apart from that, the competition was considered over when one of them proactively admitted defeat and jumped off the stage.

He had his reasons for choosing to have a tangled fight in the forest under Kobe Mountain.

He wanted the members of the Hunt family to kill as many prodigies from the first -class aristocratic families as possible. If he succeeded, the families would face a gap between old and new prodigies. By then, the Hunt family would maintain their indisputable first-place ranking

That was also the reason he repeatedly stressed that life and death were personal responsibilities in this competition. Nobody was allowed to investigate what happened during the competition after it ended.

He never would have imagined that his second son would die inside the forest.

“He had broken through into the true-god level’s final stage and still got killed?

Whoever killed him must be in the true-god level’s final stage too!” Family Master Lagorio immediately thought about Jack when he heard this. Even if the Hunt family did not look into this right away, the members of the Hunt family would surely hate the White family if he framed the White family for Tyrell’s death.

Trenton immediately walked forward and spoke after he thought about this, “Master Hunt, I don’t think there are many who can manage this, and there’s a huge possibility that it’s that young man, Jack White. That guy is extremely talented and has a rather daunting combat power. I met his punch before, and I know how scary his true strength is!”

Nash was furious when he heard this. How could he not know what the b*stard Trenton was trying to do?

He immediately walked forward and said, “Master Hunt, you can’t listen to the nonsense Master Lagorio talks about; this old fella is obviously lying through his teeth. How can my son match up to the second young master when he had just broken through to the truegod level’s intermediate stage recently? All of you know that our relationship with the Lagorio family is extremely bad right now, and he’s blatantly trying to frame us for this!”

“Haha… I still think that there’s a huge possibility that this is your son’s doings. We all know that Second Young Master Tyrell Hunt pursued Eldest Young Mistress Helena Cabello previously, but Helena publicly kissed your son on the streets and said that the two of them are lovers!”

Chapter 1371
Trenton then continued, as if he saw the fight with his own eyes, “No doubt, Second Young Master Hunt hates your son for that. It’s highly likely that they had a fight to the death if they happened to meet during the competition. Your son is highly suspicious in this case!”

“Nonsense!” Nash was so angry that his face turned green as he resentfully snapped, “My son is quite strong, but he’s just broken through and achieved the true-god level intermediate stage recently, around one month ago. Even if Second Young Master Hunt hadn’t broken through, my son wouldn’t have bested him. Moreover, Second Young Master Hunt had already broken through and achieved the final stage of the true god level. How could my son stand up against him?”

Agitated to the extreme, Nash could not allow Trenton to blame Tyrell’s death on members of the White family.

The Hunt family’s old master was also infuriated and stood there in silence. He spoke up when he saw how agitated Nash was, “That’s enough. I don’t think your son is capable enough. I know my grandson’s combat power, and he had trained the second -grade premium martial skill to its best. Together with the fact that the middle-grade spiritual tool can also increase his combat power, it’ s impossible for that illegitimate son of your family to kill him!”

Nash relaxed when he heard this. With a faint gesture of his hands, he commented,” Old Master Hunt is a wise man. It’s obvious that this old b*stard Trenton Lagorio is trying to sow discord and get rid of us with a borrowed knife!”

“Haha! Why are you so agitated, Nash White? I was just making assumptions since nobody knows about the situation in the forest at this moment. We can’t even hear the fighting noises there as everything has been isolated by this blue-colored cover. Who knows if your son truly did it? You’re so agitated because you’re afraid and guilty!” Although Trenton also felt that Jack did not do this, he did not want to miss out on this great opportunity to frame Jack.

After all, Jack would really be in trouble if he succeeded in persuading everyone. There was a possibility that the White family would be ripped apart without Trenton doing anything about it.

“I don’t want to waste my time talking to you—all you know is framing others!” Antagonized, Nash crossed his arms at his chest as he ignored Trenton.

Master Ximenes, Master Zachary, and even Master Cabello had grim expressions as their families had prodigies at the final stage of the true-god level. Hence, all of them felt that there was a possibility that somebody from their families killed Second Young Master Hunt.

Alejandro Cabello was extremely worried as Second Young Master Hunt had pursued Helena before. What if Helena was the one who killed Second Young Master Hunt because he pestered her during the competition?

After all, he felt that Helena had a terrifying combat power, and it was very likely she was the one who killed him.

Trenton suddenly glanced at Alejandro at this moment. He thought about it before he patted his head and said, “I get it now. That guy Jack might not be able to defeat Second Young Master Hunt, but what if he worked with Eldest Young Mistress Cabello? That’s likely, no? Jack has quite strong fighting prowess, and Eldest Young Mistress Cabello has the fighting prowess of the true-god level’s final stage!”

Quentin had a small frown on his face as he turned to Alejandro.

Alejandro was inwardly nervous, considering Quentin had the highest combat power among all the family masters. Even the number one master, the first elder from the Cabello family, was not his opponent.

This was the first time he felt afraid as he met Quentin’s cold, hateful gaze.

Chapter 1371.
Trenton then continued, as if he saw the fight with his own eyes, “No doubt, Second Young Master Hunt hates your son for that. It’s highly likely that they had a fight to the death if they happened to meet during the competition. Your son is highly suspicious in this case!”

Agitated to the extreme, Nash could not allow Trenton to blame Chet’s death on members of the White family.

The Hunt family’s old master was also infuriated and stood there in silence. He spoke up when he saw how agitated Nash was, “That’s enough. I don’t think your son is capable enough. “I don’t want to waste my time talking to you—all you know is framing others!” Antagonized, Nash crossed his arms at his chest as he ignored Trenton.

Master Lucas, Master Canmore, and even Master Cabello had grim expressions as their families had prodigies at the final stage of the true-god level. Hence, all of them felt that there was a possibility that somebody from their families killed Second Young Master Hunt.

Alejandro Cabello was extremely worried as Second Young Master Hunt had pursued Helena before. What if Helena was the one who killed Second Young Master Hunt because he pestered her during the competition?

After all, he felt that Helena had a terrifying combat power, and it was very likely she was the one who killed him.

Jared had a small frown on his face as he turned to Alejandro.

Alejandro was inwardly nervous, considering Jared had the highest combat power among all the family masters. Even the number one master, the first elder from the Cabello family, was not his opponent.

This was the first time he felt afraid as he met Jared’s cold, hateful gaze.

Chapter 1372.

“What sort of nonsense is that?!” Alejandro aimed his glare at Trenton. “Master Lagorio, don’t you think I’d kill you if you continue speaking such nonsense? On what grounds are you saying that my daughter is the killer when you don’t have any evidence? Show us the evidence if you’re so capable!”

“That’s right. It’s in your others without any evidence!” The White family and Cabello family had bad blood between them for a long while, and that placed them both at odds with each other.

However, this was the first time Nash sided with Alejandro

“That’s right. Jack had just broken through and achieved the true-god level intermediate stage, so his combat power isn’t strong. Also, while it’s true that my daughter is powerful in her own rights, it wouldn’t have been so easy if they wanted to kill the Second Young Master Hunt. I don’t think they’d both be able to kill him, even when they worked together!” refuted Alejandro angrily.

“Haha… That’s hard to say. What if your daughter pretended to seduce Second Young Master Hunt with her beauty? After all, it’s difficult for Second Young Master Hunt to resist her seduction, since he likes her so much. What if she attacked the second young master sneakily when his guard was down? Wouldn’t the second young master be in trouble then?” Trenton started laughing; it was obvious he would utilize the situation to the best he could for his gain.

The memory of Nash ripping his daughter’s fighting prowess set him ablaze with hatred.

Unable to tolerate Trenton's nonsense, the Cabello family' s first elder walked forward and snapped, "Trenton Lagorio, you're like a dog right now-a rabid dog, might I add. Do you plan to bite anybody you see?" He looked at the crowd and continued, "Among the geniuses from the Ximenes family, Zachary family, Lancaster family, and even the Church family, which family doesn't have geniuses that are in the final stage of the true-god level? Even if one can't manage it, what if several geniuses work together? Haha… You framing our eldest young mistress baselessly disgust us!"

Similarly, Master Lancaster stepped up to the plate and chimed in, all while he wore an indifferent smile, "That's right. I think that this might be the doing of the Lagorios. Don't the Lagorio family have beautiful ladies, too? Haha…! Since Master Lagorio was the first to speak of seducing one with beauty for a sneak-attack, I'm sure the members of your family are no strangers to such a tactic!"

Master Ximenes was also afraid that it was his son. He thought about it and asked Quentin tentatively, "By the way, Master Hunt, since you' re the one who activated this formation, do you know who killed your son via this formation? Apart from that, can your secret technique only inform you that your son died and which of your sons died, but not the killer's identity?"

In fact, this was the first time anyone heard about such an undisclosed technique, and it piqued their curiosity greatly. They had no idea that Master Hunt could come up with something like this.

Quentin smiled bitterly. "I am the one who restored this formation, but this is how the formation is. How would I know what happened in the forest?"

Quentin paused here for a short moment before he continued, "I used this secret technique on my sons because I was worried about them, and also because I wanted to test this secret technique. Alas, this technique can't reveal his killer."

Master Ximenes, Master Zachary, and the other family masters inwardly relaxed when they heard this. All of them were afraid that it was a genius from their family who did this. After all, even though they were strong, they were still weaker when compared to the Hunt family. Apart from that, who would offend the Hunt family without any reason?

"By the way, Master Hunt, didn't you all agree that life and death are personal responsibilities when participating in this competition? In my opinion, Master Hunt should repress your grief and accord with this inescapable change. Is Master Hunt intending to investigate the matter? That doesn't sound fair… When I paid you a visit yesterday, you purposely told me that this competition aims to challenge our prodigies, and that there might be a lot of deaths…" Master Lancaster, Shelby, smiled and continued, "Hence, the prodigies you spoke of must've included your son and other members of your Hunt family, am I right? It's unfair that our geniuses can die during the competition and yours can't, right?"

Chapter 1373.
The corners of Quentin's mouth slightly twitched when he heard this.

The Hunt family's first elder stepped forward and glared at Shelby angrily while he spoke," Shelby, what's the meaning of this? How can this be the same? That is our Hunt family master's son, and the second young master is the proudest son of our family master. Second young master is not only talented, but he's also a second grade elementary alchemist. How can you compare such a genius with yours?"

"Haha…! It looks like you people never planned to treat all of them equally!" Shelby smiled coldly. "If that's the case, you guys should've never allowed your family master's son to join the battle!"

"That's right! Are you implying that our sons aren't human beings?"

"You've gone too far this time. How could our sons die but yours can't? Why did you people set such a rule for this competition then?" One by one, some of the elders and family masters from the third-class aristocratic families stood forward and started to show their infuriation.

After all, they had started to worry about their prodigies upon learning the competition's rules. They somehow felt that this competition was a way for Master Hunt to weaken the strength of other families, in fear that some of the families had too many geniuses and would surpass their family in the future.

They could do nothing about it when rules were set in stone.

Nonetheless, how could they not get angry when the other party expressed such a controversial thought?

"First Elder, what nonsense are you speaking about?" argued Old Master Hunt with a cold expression on his face when he saw that the first elder had caused a wave of outrage. "This is a competition, and everything should follow the rules since it's a competition!"

He paused and glanced at Shelby before he added, "Master Lancaster is right. Her children had joined the competition, and whose children aren't children No matter how talented they are, they need to experience adversity. It's fated for Tyrell to die in this competition, and there's nothing to grumble about. We're martial artists, and we should have looked past life and death!"

Quentin eventually nodded, anger suppressed before a smile slowly formed on his face. "Everyone has a point," he began, "I was just sad because the news of my son's sudden death shocked me, though I don' t plan to look into it. Regardless of which young master or young mistress from which family killed my son, this only means that there's an extremely strong genius from your lineage. Congratulations."

"Master Hunt truly is a wise man," spoke Shelby with a gesture of her hands.

“Master Hunt is really understanding.”

“That’s right. We have to follow the rules that we set. Otherwise, how do we convince others?” spoke the other family masters, one by one.

Alejandro inwardly relaxed as he felt that Second Young Master Hunt’s killer was Helena -it was highly likely. Tyrell did like her, and being the stubborn person she was, she definitely would not agree to it. It was entirely normal for battles to the death to happen under those circumstances.

Chapter 1374.

“Haha… Don’t worry, the Hunt family can still afford to lose. Apart from that, how can we not follow the rules we set?” Old Master Hunt laughed and seemed to have forgotten that the person who died was his grandson

However, everybody knew the old man would never ignore his grandson’s death entirely. If he knew who did this, he would do his worst and wreak havoc to that person’s life. He would also kill that person if the opportunity surfaced.

“That’s right, let’s all wait and see. Have a look: Several dots of light disappeared from that area, and that meant several people died. I wonder which family they’re from!” spoke Quentin, chuckling as he purposely diverted the conversation while pointing at some area on the screen.

Many people from the families sighed when they heard this. They had made their assumptions when they saw the dots of light disappearing from the screen during this competition. As Quentin reminded them of it, they inwardly prayed and hoped that more geniuses from their families would come back alive.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

In the huge light-blue colored cover, Helena and the others finally flew back at this moment and arrived in front of Jack.

Jack looked at Venus and Daniella before he asked, “How did it go? Have you killed all of them? None of them escaped, right?”

Daniella smiled bitterly and said. “One of them escaped, and this guy took a flying sword out. Since everyone ran away in different directions, scattered, that guy managed to escape.”

Jack’s expression faltered upon hearing the report. “That’s gonna be troublesome. If we kill all of them, nobody would know who killed the Second Young Master Hunt. With that guy escaping and if he leaves this place alive, members of the Hunt family would know that I was the one who killed him.”

“What are you afraid of? The Hunt family are the ones who made the law. They said that life and death are personal responsibilities, and nobody is allowed to look into it after the competition,” spoke a woman from the Cabello family disinterestedly.

However, Venus shook her head. “True, he said that, but he naturally hoped that those who’d die are children from other families, not his own. Under normal circumstances, nobody would really kill his son even if they had the opportunity to do so. That’s their way of giving honor to the Hunt family!”

“That’s right,” Daniella chimed in. “How can he not care about what happened, now that his son is dead? He said that they won’t look into the matter, but only for a moment. Who knows if they’d find some other excuse after some time to cause conflict between both families and attack the other party?”

The woman from the Cabello family glowered at the thought. She turned to Jack and muttered, “That’ll be troublesome. Goodness gracious, we allowed somebody from their side to escape…!”

“I’m sorry, Young Master Jack. We’re useless!” whimpered another genius from the Cabello family, head lowered in shame.

Jack smiled when he saw everyone around them had lowered their heads like children who had made mistakes. “It’s alright. No doubt, it’s difficult to kill all of them when there are so many of them, and they even escaped in different directions. Apart from that, that guy had a flying sword and was so fast. It’s understandable that none of you could catch up with him.”

“Jack, you were the one who killed Second Young Master Hunt, and we’re thankful that you appeared in time. We won’t divide the things in his martial ring with you. You can keep it!”

Chapter 1375.

Venus offered the ring to Jack after careful consideration.

Everybody knew that since members of the Hunt family roamed with Second Young Master Hunt, putting the other things apart, they must have handed all the tokens they got to him. That meant Second Young Master Hunt’s martial ring stashed various valuable items in it.

“Alright, I’ll thankfully accept it.” Jack did not act hypocritically. He flipped his hand and took out the first grade premium pill he cultivated previously before handing it to Venus. “I didn’t disappoint you, and I’ve succeeded in cultivating the pill this time. This is a gift to you, as promised.”

“Oh, my! What did you give her? Let me see it!” Jack and the others did not expect Helena to fly toward them with over 20 people at that moment.

“A first-grade premium pill!” Helena inhaled deeply when she saw the pill in her second sister’s hand and gushed,” Impressive, Jack, you have such a high-grade pill! But why did you give this to my second sister?”

Jack immediately felt a wave of embarrassment swept through him. He never thought this fake girlfriend of his would come at this moment when he gave the pill to Venus.

It looked like he would be tricked into giving out another pill.

Venus smilingly commented,” Eldest sister, this boyfriend of yours is a treasure. He knows how to cultivate pills, and this pill is the fruit of his labor. This means he’s a first-grade premium alchemist. Isn’t that astounding? No wonder my eldest sister would fall for him and even forcefully kiss him!”

Helena blushed a crimson color when Venus said that; she commented in such a way because she obviously knew Jack and her were only faking it. Their third sister was his girlfriend. Venus’s comment stunned her.

She could not help but roll her eyes at Venus. She soon thought about something and her eyes immediately lit up. She then pretended to walk forward and hold Jack’s shoulder as she said, “Look at you, Jack. You gave my sister a first-grade premium pill, and you haven’t given your girlfriend, me, anything! Shouldn’t you give me a pill too?”

Daniella’s sisters made her flustered. Who would have expected that her elder and second sisters would pretend to not know about her relationship with Jack just so they could blackmail pills from him?

Jack was embarrassed as he was being stared at by the members of the Cabello family who did not know the truth. He could only bite the bullet and continue the act. “Alright, alright, alright… How can I forget about you? Don’t worry. I’ ll help cultivate one for you when I have time!”

“Eldest Young Mistress, isn’t… Isn’t this Second Young Master Hunt?” One of the young men who flew over with Helena only realized the body on the ground and inspected it, and the corpse grew more familiar to his memory the longer he looked at it. He inhaled in fright after he walked over to take a look.

“Second Young Master Hunt?” Helena immediately appeared beside the body in a flash, and a frown appeared on her face as she glanced at the body. She looked at Jack and the others before she asked, “Who killed him? Are you the ones who did this?”

“Elder sister, your boyfriend is really strong. He’s the one who killed him!” Venus purposely said with a smile. She even glanced at Daniella, who was beside them, to see if she would be jealous.

Chapter 1376.
“You killed him? Do… Do you have such strong combat power?” Helena, who Second Young Master Hunt nearly killed before, was shocked to the core when she learned that Jack was the one who killed him.

Jack smiled helplessly. “I can’t deny it when so many people saw it.”

“It’s really you!” Helena was in a daze, seemingly unable to comprehend the revelation within such a short moment. She had no idea that Jack was so strong.

She considered it and walked to glance at Jack before she spoke skeptically, “Could it be that you’ ve broken through? Have you broken through into the final stage of the true-god level? It’d be difficult for you to kill him if you haven’t broken through, right? I remembered that you brought me to escape before.”

Jack smiled bitterly before he explained to Helena, “Didn’t I tell you previously that there were people eyeing us fighting from the dark? If I killed him back then, members of the Hunt family would easily know about it, and I was worried about the trouble that would cause. Also, I didn’t kill him back then because I didn’t want to offend the Hunt family.”

Jack paused here before he continued, “This time, however, he was the one who came searching for us. He even said that he’d do despicable things to Venus and Daniella after he killed the others. I killed him because there were no outsiders here!”

“Oh, I see!” Helena finally realized what had happened. Jack had indeed mentioned to her that he would have killed Second Young Master Hunt if nobody was secretly observing their fight. Helena thought that Jack was boasting back then and did not pay much attention to it.

Who would have imagined that this guy really had the strength to do it.

“Eldest Young Mistress, Young Master Jack truly overwhelmingly powerful and outstanding. The two of you are a match made in heaven! I really hope that I get to enjoy your wedding dinner sooner or later!” gushed a man from the Cabello family.

“That’s right, Eldest Young Mistress. You truly have good insight, and it’s no surprise now that you insisted on staying single all these years. Turns out, you’ve been waiting for the person fated to be with you. Not only you, but any other woman wouldn’t be able to control themselves around such an outstanding man!” A young woman glanced at Jack and said to Helena, “All of us envy you so much!”

“That’s right, Eldest Young Mistress. Not only is he extremely talented and is able to kill somebody from a higher level, but he’s also capable of cultivating pills. He’s a first-grade premium alchemist at such a young age-who knows how good he’ll grow to be?”

Another young woman was also extremely envious of Helena.

Helena felt abashed and sheepish. She found herself teetering on the thought, sometimes, that it would have been amazing if Jack truly was her boyfriend. This guy became increasingly outstanding the more she observed him, and it helped that he was also quite handsome.

It was also a boon that she could enjoy the envious looks people sent their way.

However, she shook her head and silently told herself to not overthink it as he was her sister's boyfriend.

She smiled and said to the crowd, "Alright, let's go. We need to quickly leave this place, as it'll be troublesome if others saw and knew that we're the ones that killed Second Young Master Hunt."

Chapter 1377.

"Yes, let's go. We need to leave here quickly, and we can't stay in this cave tonight!" Venus immediately spoke up. It was not good if the Hunt family was informed about what happened in this place.

The group of people immediately left the place.

"Oh, thank goodness. We've found you guys at last, Young Master Jack!" Jack and the others met a group of people in an open area after flying for half an hour. They were Beth, Yule, and the White family's other prodigies.

Jack was slightly relieved when he saw so many familiar faces. "How are you guys doing? Did you guys meet with any troubles?"

Yule smiled as she spoke," Everything is fine. We've been on our best guard and hid far away when we meet people we can't afford to offend. We bumped into some from the Lagorio family, though, and they wanted to take our things despite their somewhat average fighting prowess. As a result, we killed them and took all their tokens!"

Beth immediately walked forward and took a martial ring out from her pocket before handing it to Jack. "We saved all the tokens into this martial ring and thought of handing it to you when we meet you. Haha …! We've gained quite a lot of tokens. We found a handful of them and snatched some from prodigies of third-rated aristocratic families!"

"Tokens are a small issue being careful is your priority." Jack felt a slight warmth in his heart. After all, Yule, Dawson, Bikini, and the others were extremely talented, though they lacked time and resources to train. He believed that if they got out alive and trained well after they went home, their family would have many experts of the true-god level in the future.

Dawson smiled bitterly and said, "Young Master Jack, we discovered that members of the Hunt family who entered this competition enjoyed killing. They didn't let go of those with lower fighting prowess, even though they handed their tokens obediently. I saw a group of people from the Hunt family chasing after a few prodigies from the Ximenes family!”

“That’s right. I saw members from the Hunt family hunting people from the Ximenes family yesterday. The geniuses from the Ximenes family had already given up their tokens and all their spirited grass, but the other party still hunted them to kill them!”

At that moment, Yule also walked forward and piped in, The people from the Hunt family have gone too overboard. How can they spare none, even though they have so many experts?”

Jack smiled bitterly after he heard this. “The members of the Hunt family and Lagorio family even cooperated to hunt people from the other families. I think they chose to hold this competition here and made it thirty days because the Hunt family noticed other families had grown well during recent years, so they want to kill our geniuses. They want the other families to have a temporary deficit in manpower so they can enjoy their position in the ranks!”

“They’re so hateful and shameless!” Daniella tightened her fists, enraged without relief. “Curse them! The next time I meet somebody from the Hunt family, I’ll kill them without being afraid of offending the Hunt family!”

“Alright.” Jack nodded. “The other families have no idea about the Hunt family’s intention. These competitors would let go of the Hunt family members with lower fighting prowess once they surrender so they won’t offend the Hunt family. The Hunt family, on the other hand, would kill them all without a chance of escaping, given the opportunity to do so. If that’s the case, many members from the other families might die.”

Helena was speechless. “This is really instigating. We met several members of the Hunt family yesterday. We let them go after they proactively handed their tokens to us and asked me to let them go. I’m afraid that they would not let the other members of the Cabello family go in the future.”

“The next time any of you meet people from the Hunt family, kill them even if they surrender! Our people will only be safe if more of their people die, especially those at the final stage of semi-god level, peak stage of semi-god level, and true -god level!” Jack balled his fists tightly and gritted his teeth, all while fury burned in his eyes.

Chapter 1378.
Everybody rested for the night. In order to be safe, Jack did not let Yule and the others travel by themselves. There were 70 to 80 of them when the members of the Cabello family were gathered together, and all of them continued to travel forward.

However, everybody kept some distance between them to search for the tokens. They then separated, though not too far from one another, and slowly traveled toward the bottom of Kobe Mountain.

It had to be mentioned that there were quite a lot of precious items in Second Young Master Hunt's martial ring. Apart from a large number of tokens, Jack had gotten quite a substantial amount of spirited grass. However, this was not the most exciting part for him. To him, the most exciting part was that there was a nice pill furnace and a couple of pill remedies in Tyrell's martial ring

Some of the pill remedies among the remedies were for second-grade pills. This excited Jack greatly as he did not have any remedies for second-grade pills, and he worried about what he could do in the future. He never thought he would get a myriad of valuable items after killing Tyrell.

Of course, Jack took all of these things out and placed them in his martial ring before throwing away Second Young Master Hunt's martial ring. It would be troublesome if the Hunts found out that Second Young Master Hunt's martial ring was with him after they left this area.

Jack and the others got several tokens within the next three days. They also met several members of the Lagorio family and Hunt family. True enough, Jack and the others took their items and killed them without hesitation.

Time flew by quickly, and the number of Cabellos and White they met gradually grew over time.

The relationship between the Cabello family and White family grew better after they spent their days together; constant fights to take items like what happened before did not happen. Instead, they helped one another when they met with danger and seemed to have become friendly allies.

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

As they were about to reach the bottom of Kobe Mountain, Jack and the others heard the sound of an intense battle in front of them.

"Let's go and take a look!" Jack waved his hand and flew over with the others.

It did not take long until they noticed a dozen of the Lagorio family, the Church family, and the Hunt family each surrounded about 20 Lancasters.

There were also many bodies lying on the ground.

“What’s the meaning of this? You people formed an alliance and are attacking us together?” A woman of the Lancaster family at the truegod level’s initial stage was infuriated as she glared heatedly at the people in front of her.

There were quite a large number of them and they would be safe and secure under normal circumstances, unless they met a huge group of people or some psychos who were in the intermediate stage or final stage of the true -god level.

Never did the Lancasters expect to meet 40 to 50 people from a group formed by three families that wanted to attack them.

“You people are despicable. We’re willing to give you our tokens yet you still refuse to agree!” Another man from the Lancaster family was so angry that his face turned green. “This is just a competition! Do you people need to be so ruthless?”

“Haha… What about the competition? This time, our master said that we can kill as we like. These are the rules; what can we do? You weaklings deserve to be killed!” sneered one of the men from the Hunt family as he cackled loudly.

“Really?” A voice, at that moment, chimed in out of the blue, coming from behind them. “This means that you’re weak and deserve to be killed?”

“It’s somebody from the White family!” The people from the Lancaster family were delighted as they had a good relationship with the White family and they would always help each other. Apart from that, Jack was a master in the true-god level’s intermediate stage. They were not sure if the members of the White family would help them after they arrived.

“Why are the White together with the Cabellos?” A member of the Lancaster family frowned before they spoke, smiling bitterly, “I almost forgot that Young Master Jack and the Eldest Young Mistress Cabello are a couple right now. It’s no wonder that their members would travel together.”

Chapter 1379.

“Young man, we’re members of the Hunt family. Does the White family want to go against our Hunt family?” The man from the Hunt family turned around to look at them before arrogantly speaking, “We’ve got our sights on these people from the Lancaster family. Are you people wanting to get involved in this trouble?”

“You mentioned just now that this is the rule, and we’re allowed to kill as we like! Are members of the Hunt family playing favorites and are on a higher pedestal?” With a flip of his hand, Jack took his sword out.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Members of the White family and Cabello family immediately flew over and surrounded the opponents.

“Amazing! The White family is amazing!”

“That’s right. Never thought the Cabellos would help us, too!” The Lancasters were at the brink of despair before they came. After all, there were fewer of them compared to the opponents, and they were no match for the Hunts who had higher fighting prowess.

They never expected they would come to a turning point at this moment.

“You people need to consider this carefully. What you’re doing is crossing the Hunt family, and you’re standing against the Hunts!” The man from the Hunt family was so frightened that his voice trembled when he saw Jack and the others taking action. In the past, everybody they met had to honor them no matter where they were, so long as they mentioned they were from the Hunt family.

Alas, it backfired this time.

“Haha… You were the ones who mentioned that weaklings deserved to be killed!” Jack laughed and waved his hand. “Kill them!”

“Attack!” The Lancasters straightened themselves in an imposing manner. The fire in their heart was fueled as they could finally exact revenge.

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

The surrounded opposing party-about 50 of them – were no match for Jack and the others. Not only were they outnumbered, but their fighting prowess were not as high as Jack and the Cabello sisters. The battle at this area ended within one minute.

“Thank you, Young Master Jack!”

“Thank you to the three beauties of the Cabello family!”

Every member of the Lancaster family was extremely thankful as they stepped forward to thank Jack and the others.

“It looks like the people from the Church family have formed an alliance with them too. They must’ve agreed to this from earlier on.” Jack smiled bitterly as he glanced at the bodies on the ground.“ It’s good that we noticed something was wrong about them and killed quite a lot of them.”

“What does that mean? Are these three families conspiring something?” A man from the Lancaster family frowned with a puzzled look on his face.

Jack nodded and surmised," Yes. They must've agreed to kill members of the other families together and not let anybody go, even if they surrendered or hand over their tokens. They're doing this to solidify the Hunt family's position! Surely, I believe that the Hunts promised some benefits to the Lagorio family and Church family!"

Chapter 1380.

"The Hunts truly are despicable. I'll definitely inform the family master about this after we leave this place alive!" growled the man from the Lancaster family as hatred filled his eyes.

At that moment, the White and the Cabello families have collected all the martial rings from those lying on the ground.

"How should we allocate these?" Jack frowned as he looked at Helena.

Helena had a matching frown, clueless as to how to distribute the items they had.

The Lancasters immediately stepped forward and humbly spoke, "Thank you for rescuing us. We won't take any of these items, so you can just distribute them among yourselves!"

Helena thought about it for a moment before she said, " How about this, Jack: This time, you guys get sixty percent while us Cabellos take the remaining 40 percent. In the future, let's form an alliance with the Lancasters. My family and the Lancasters shall take thirty percent each in the future while your White family gets forty. How does that sound?"

Jack was taken aback to hear her suggestion. "Won't you guys suffer losses with this plan? If I get the most number of items every time, won't you guys be unable to surpass our White family in terms of collecting tokens?"

Helena smiled indiffere So what? You have the highest combat power, and even I am not your opponent. It'll be good enough if you don't take our tokens. Apart from that, you're the strongest, so you do the most work and you've even rescued our lives. It's no issue if you take more!"

The members of the Lancaster family chimed in as they smilingly approved, " That's right. What could be more important than our lives? If you guys didn't come on time, we would've been dead by now. It'll be in the best interest to form an alliance with both families!"

Daniella, on the other hand, rolled her eyes at Jack. "Why are you regarding yourself as an outsider? We'll agree to this, got it? Apart from that, your White family had never entered the top seven position, and your best results in the past had been the eighth place. There were even instances where you were positioned behind the tenth position. Don't you want to earn the championship for the White family?"

“Alright them. Since you guys proposed this and supported it, I’d like to thank everybody for this opportunity!” spoke Jack as he gestured to the crowd with his hands.

“Let’s quickly allocate the items and go to the mountaintop. We should immediately gather any members from our families when we meet them on the way,” suggested Helena smartly after giving it a thought. “We can’t allow others to fall alone at this moment. It’ll be troublesome if any of them bump into people from the Hunt family, Lagorio family, and Church family.”

“Alright!” agreed Jack after he assessed the situation.” The most troublesome part right now is still the First Young Master Hunt and the others. I’ve already killed the Church family’s prodigy, Nathan Church. The geniuses from the Lagorio family had been killed while Second Young Master Hunt had also died. Right now, our main threat is First Young Master Hunt!”

“Second Young Master Hunt is also dead?” The Lancasters inhaled sharply when they heard this, unable to believe it.

They could accept that Jack killed the geniuses from the Hunt family to rescue them back there, but Second Young Master Hunt was the son of the Hunt family’s master. Jack and the others were really gutsy to have killed him.

“That’s right! Second Young Master Hunt is dead!”

Chapter 1381.

Helena nodded before she glanced at the Lancasters and reminded them, “I hope that everybody can keep this a secret and not tell anybody who killed him, understand? Although the rules were set, it’ll still trouble us in the future once the Hunts’ family master knows who killed his son.”

“Don’t worry, we’ll definitely keep this a secret,” promised every member of the Lancaster family present as they patted their chest in their vow.

Helena thought about it and a frown graced her features once more as she turned to Jack.” Jack, what if we bump into the First Young Master Hunt?” she spoke. “It’ll be nothing if we don’t meet him; a fight would b e inevitable if we bump into him! This guy has a much stronger combat power compared to the second young from that, we also need to kill the person from the Draco family that escaped back there!” Helena was evidently anxious. She feared that the Hunt family would learn about what had happened.

Jack sighed, feeling relatively low-spirited. “It’ll be for the best if we don’t bump into them. Nonetheless, I’ll do my best if we happen to run into them.” It had to be mentioned that both young masters of the Hunt family were incredibly talented. Second Young Master Hunt was already quite good, and the first young master was, in fact, better than him. This made Jack rather unsure a s he had no idea if he could manage to kill him.

“Don’t worry. I believe in Jack, he can definitely do it!” attested Daniella faithfully as she was all too confident in Jack.

The group soon separated their trophies. Sure enough, Helena and the others knew that Jack knew how to cultivate pills, so they allowed him to get first pick on the ingredients suitable for cultivating pills in terms of spirited grass while they took what was left.

That evening, they could not find a cave large enough for all of them to rest in. Apart from that, Helena, Venus, and the others had quite a high fighting prowess, so there was no need for that. They found a n empty plot of land and started a fire. They were prepared to spend the night surrounding the bonfire while arranging for several people to take turns in keeping watch.

Jack was free but he did not let time go to waste. He took the pill furnace out and started cultivating pills. After all, he had promised to give Helena a first-grade premium pill, and Jack did not want to owe her anything. He wanted to give her the pill as soon as possible so the burden would be lifted off of his mind.

However, the first batch of ingredients failed at the most crucial part this time around. The second time, Jack took another batch of ingredients out and successfully cultivated the pill.

“I did it!” Jack looked at the Pill in his hands and nodded in satisfaction. “The color of this pill is quite good!”

“Haha…! This is for me, right?” Helena looked at the pill with anticipation. The pill’s faint aroma made her swallow her saliva.

“Of course, it’s what I’ve promised you!” Jack smiled and was inwardly speechless. These three beauties had managed to get three pills from him, and the astounding part was that their excuses made him feel like he had to give it to them.

After giving the pill to Helena, Jack found a place before he started to look at the secondgrade elementary pill remedy h e got from Second Young Master Hunt’s martial ring, considering the sun had not risen yet and it was still early. Images of how to cultivate this pill appeared in his head while he inspected the pill remedy.

Chapter 1382.
Another two days passed and Jack and the others had met members from the Lancaster family and Cabello family on their way, which increased the size of their group.

Jack and his group took no prisoners when members from the Hunt family, the Church family, and the Lagorio family came to attack them. Jack took 40 percent of the trophies they obtained while the Lancasters and the Cabellos took 30 percent each.

At that moment, everyone saw the changes on the huge blue light cover from outside the cover.

“Have you seen that? There must be about two hundred people from that group of people, no?”

They had gathered so many people so quickly! There’s another group of light spots with quite a huge number of people, but they’re staying at that place and aren’t moving. The people from this light group are slowly approaching the other group. I’m afraid the other light spots are going tog o out soon!” Somebody once again analyzed the situation o n the screen. There were only about ten days left for the competition, and about one third of the light spots on the screen had disappeared.

This meant that one-third of the prodigies overall had died I n the forest.

Many members from various families started to experience a wave of heartache, especially members from the second-class and third-class aristocratic families. After all, the geniuses from these families did not have a high fighting prowess and were not comparable to the eight reclusive families. They wondered how many from their families had died.

The most crucial part was that since there were ten days left, most of the people had started t o move toward Kobe , Mountain, situated at the heart of the forest, to gather. People would surely drop like flies once they meet at the mountain, much faster than ever before. If that was the case, some of the families would suffer a huge loss.

“Master, do you think that the largest group of light spots are members of our family?” The Hunt family’s First Elder walked two steps forward and spoke to Quentin softly after he glanced at the screen. “The Second young master might be dead, but don’t worry about it — the first young master will surely find the killer and kill him to avenge the second young master!”

Quentin’s heart ached at the thought of his second son. He gritted his teeth and said with a low voice, “I wonder which genius is capable enough to kill Tyrell. Hopefully, the eldest is able to avenge his younger brother!”

“Don’t worry, Master. Cloud will surely avenge Young Master Tyrell,” comforted the Hunts’ First Elder.

He paused for a short while before he continued, “No matter how it is, our second young master won’t be lonely a s prodigies from other families are accompanying him in the afterlife.”

Quentin, however, smiled bitterly. “Unfortunately, we’ve suffered too big of a loss this time. Tyrell isn’t only talented, but he’s also an alchemist. A second-grade alchemist! He may be able to cultivate second -grade premium pills after a couple of years. By then, our Hunt family will be…”

Quentin’s heart was filled with regret when he thought of this. He regretted his impatience. Truth be told, it was already very difficult to sway the Hunt family’s position. His son was capable of cultivating second-grade premium pills, and that was extremely helpful to people in the intermediate or final stages of the true-god level. What did their Hunt family have to be afraid of?

The group that showed up as over 200 light spots on the screen, and the light spots at the bottom of Kobe Mountain, finally converged into one group. Everybody started to pay attention to that area as they wanted to see if there would be a fight. After all, although they did not know the situation inside, they were able to determine the situation inside by observing the activity of the light spots and if the light spots would suddenly disappear.

They soon noted, however, that none of the light spots in that area disappeared. This meant that no fights happened there as those people had instead banded together.

“This is great. Look: I was right when I said that the young master asked us to wait here!”

Chapter 1383.

In the cover, hundreds of members from the White family were elated upon meeting Jack and the others. They hid on top of the trees and only jumped down when they spotted Jack and his company.

“This is great. At least there are still so many members of the White family waiting here!” Jack was slightly at ease when he noticed a sizable amount of the White family’s prodigies. He feared beforehand that many of his family were slain in battles.

There were at least 100 of them present. As for the other members of the White family, who knew how many of them were scattered in which areas?

Yule thought about it and asked Jack, “Brother Jack, what should we do now? Do we still need to continue waiting here?”

“Yes, let’s wait for another two days. After all, many members from the White family should be on their way here,” replied Jack as he came to a decision.

“Oh my god. Your people have been waiting here You guys have discussed this before? I envy you people. I wonder how the members of my family are right now. Who knows how many members from our Lancaster family are still alive right now!” A genius from the Lancaster family and was in the true-god level’s final stage was incredibly envious when he saw the large gathering of the White family in this spot.

“Luckily, we arrived quite early, and other families with a larger group size have yet encountered them. Otherwise, we’d be in trouble if they were destroyed by members of another family.” Jack could not help but smile bitterly. After all, he discovered that most of the White family’s geniuses in this spot were at the semi-god level, and only one or two of them were in the true-god level. There were, in total, about seven or eight ninth-grade grandmasters.

With such fighting prowess, these people would have found themselves in a tight situation if a much stronger family with several strong masters encountered them.

“This is true. It’s great if there are masters when everybody gathers together, or it would’ve been quite dangerous!” Helena nodded seriously after she thought about it

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

At this moment, a group of people were running toward them from not too far away as they were hounded by a group of people.

Jack, who was originally sitting in the tree, flew upward in a flash and looked over there from far away.

Chapter 1384.

“Guess the people from the Church family truly have become the Hunt family’s obedient followers!” Helena also flew upward, though she did not follow after Jack knowing he could easily settle everything alone.

In this competition, the only person who could fight him would be the first young master of the Hunt family, Cloud Hunt!

“Everybody, quickly. Move faster! Faster! There should be members of the White family in the front area, since Young Master Jack asked them to wait there. Let’s continue to fly; we’ll be saved if there are members of the White family up ahead!” The young woman flying in front had the fighting prowess of the semi-god level’s final stage. Such fighting prowess could be considered applaudable.

However, her arms were covered in blood as sweat covered her forehead. She was slightly pale, a telling sign she was badly wounded and worn out.

There were seven to eight people behind her. Some of them were Lancasters while the remaining others were from the White family.

Tailing them were over 20 members from the Hunt family that launched attacks after attacks maniacally.

“Get them! Don't let them escape!” A man from the Church family had a spiteful expression on his face as he led his people forward, swinging his sword at the attempting-escape party.

Whoosh!

A wave of sword aura swung forward.

“Curses!” A man from the White family saw that the sword aura was aiming at him, and he was obviously within the range of attack. He gritted his teeth and stopped. “Go ahead, guys. I’ll stop them here as long as I can. You guys have to avenge me when you guys find backup later!”

“Brother Aiden!” A woman turned around to him as her eyes turned red. She grew up with him, and they were like genuine siblings. She knew that Aiden would die if he stayed back.

However, there was nothing they could do. If they did not leave one person back to stall the other party, everybody might die. There were already a few people who stayed back to buy time for everybody else.

“Look, somebody is coming over to help us!” A member of the Lancaster was filled with hope and joy when he spotted someone flying toward them.

“There’s only one person. What can he do? If he has low fighting prowess, he’s just going to die!” spoke another member of the Lancaster family with a bitter smile.

“No, he’s traveling toward us so quickly. It seems…to be the young master of the White family!” The first person from the Lancaster family then realized it was Jack, and he was delighted.

Thoom!

Behind them, Aiden forcefully withstood the sword aura from his opponent, but he was incredibly tired. He had been fighting continuously for a long period and had escaped for some time. There was not much Chi left in his body.

“Die!” Another member of the Church family standing opposite of him activated a martial skill. He balled his hands into fists and punched forward. A fist formed by coagulated Chi appeared and rushed toward Aiden who was in front of him.

“D*mn it… Am I going to die?” Aiden White did not have time to turn around and look. He believed that the delay he caused would help Chloe and the others to fly further away. In that case, the chances of them staying alive would increase hugely,

The chances of them being saved would be higher if other members of the White family discovered them shortly after this.

Whoosh!

However, as he was prepared to carry out another attack while he gritted his teeth, another figure appeared in front of him in a flash. He tightened his fists and swung one toward him without even using his Chi.

“I don’t even have time to use my Chi. Crap! Will I die?!”

Chapter 1385.
Aiden was slightly stunned and frightened at the same time. He thought that one of his teammates that ran away with the rest turned back to find him.

He was extremely moved but, at the same time, felt that this person was foolish. Would this not result in another death?

It was not longer until he noticed that the incoming figure was so familiar and stalwart.

“It’s Young Master Jack!” He soon recognized Jack and was filled with joy. Jack was a master in the intermediate stage of the true-god level. Although Jack did not use any martial skill, it was not difficult for a master in Jack’s level to receive the attack from a person in the final stage of the semi-god level.

Thoom!

Sure enough, Jack easily destroyed the Chi punch from the other party into ashes after a horrendous explosion was heard.

“Sh*t! Who’s that?” Frightened, members from the Church family immediately stopped chasing after their opponents when they saw what happened.

The members of the White family and Lancaster family who ran for their lives also stopped running as they struggled to catch their breath

“This guy seems to be the White family’s young master!” One of the geniuses from the Church family frowned, and his expression continued to darken after he thought about it. “Curses. This guy is actually here. He’s in the intermediate stage of the true-god level!”

“Run!” None of the prodigies-over 20 of them-that chased after Aiden and his friends were at the true-god level. Overridden with fear upon recognizing Jack, they turned around and started escaping. Their previously imposing manner to conquer everything was nowhere to be seen.

“Hmph!” Jack made an indignant sound before he swung his sword toward their direction several times, and the scary circle-shaped sword aura flew forward.

Shink! Shink! Shink!

With that, some of the opponents were cut into halves as they lifelessly dropped from the sky.

“Big Wave Hits!” Jack activated his martial skill and killed the remaining others.

“Young Master, you… You came just in time. I thought I was going to die just now!” Aiden gazed at Jack, grateful that he came.

Aiden was one of the geniuses Jack chose from the branch families, and he was just in the initial stage of the semi-god level when Jack chose him, not too far from entering the intermediate stage. At this moment, he had already achieved the final stage of the semi-god level. It could be said that he was already extremely talented.

“These people from the Church family are suicidal!” Jack glanced at the bodies on the ground and smiled at the crowd. “Don’t you guys worry. Those who are hurt should rest! And tend to your wounds. Rest for a couple of days before we discuss the next steps. The others are in the forest over there.”

“Young Master Jack, can you help us? There are a dozen Lancasters, including our young master, who is surrounded over there by others. We tried our best to escape from being surrounded and wanted to see if we could get some help!” A woman from the Lancaster family flew over and looked at Jack beggingly. “Please, Young Master Jack. Are there a lot of people from the White family over there? If there are a lot of them, please help us. We’ll remember your great kindness!”

“Are there a lot of people surrounding your young master and the others?” asked Jack immediately after hearing the woman’s plea. “How many people are there?”

“I think there are about fifty to sixty members from our Lancaster family, but I have no idea how many of them are left right now. There are about a hundred people surrounding us, and they’re mainly members of the Lagorio and Church family!” explained the woman thoughtfully. “Ah, yes, there are also a couple of members from the White family who didn’t manage to escape and are with our young master.”

“Alright, the others should take a rest over there. Bring me to them!” With the flip of his hand, Jack took the flying sword out and threw it into the sky. The flying sword enlarged and he jumped onto the sword with the woman. The two of them went flying toward the direction they originally came from in a flash.

Chapter 1386.

“Master White, there are a lot of people on the other side. Moreover, our young master is in the middle stage of the True God Realm. They can’t rush out of the encirclement, because there are three in the Lagorio family In the middle stage of the True God Realm. They also have several in the early stages of the True God Realm, plus there is a large number of them. I don’t know how long our Young Master can hold on!”

Flying through the sky, the Tudor girl was a little worried. Jack had rushed forward to save her people, and her heart was moved, but if Jack rushed over by himself, it seemed a little too reckless.

“Don’t worry, I’ll just go by myself. If I get others to follow, a lot of time will be wasted. I’m afraid I would be late, and then your young master will not be able to hold on!”

Jack smiled bitterly and flew for a while. Soon, the sound of fighting could be heard.

“That’s the direction, right?” Jack pointed to the direction from which the sound of fighting came.

“Yes, we’re almost there!” The woman nodded and looked at Jack. This guy is too confident. It seems that his combat effectiveness is really extraordinary.

“Master, it’s over, we’re dead!”

The people in the middle were still fighting desperately. There was a man standing next to the son of the Tudor family’s Master, feeling a little desperate in his heart.

The number of them is really too small, and as time goes by, the number will decrease.

They now have only more than 30 people left, and there are still more than 90 people on the other side. They’re far outnumbered.

“These guys are really tenacious!”

A man from the Trevino family temporarily stopped his attack. After a long battle, he was exhausted and used a lot of aura, and he was also very tired.

“Haha, don’t expect those people who just fled to be able to find anyone to rescue them. Our people will definitely catch them up and kill them!”

Another Lagorio family man also laughed loudly: “You are too stupid. Just listen to the White family’s people saying that they agreed that the White family should gather in the middle of the foot of the mountain. They really thought that the White family’s people would be able to save them? Even if they found people from the White family, they may not be able to save them!”

“Impossible!”

Rufus Tudor, the young master of the Tudor family, at this time there were a few sword-chi cuts on his body, and his sleeves were stained red with blood, looking very tragic.

However, he still clenched his teeth and fought because he knew that even if they surrendered, these people would not let them go! they could only fight desperately.

Yesterday, he saw several Tudor family members with his own eyes, who had already surrendered and handed over the token, but in the end they were killed by the other party.

“There are four or five White family members here. If the White family members find out, they will definitely come back to help. Humph, if they can bring one or two hundred White family members over, you will be dead!”

Rufus gritted his teeth, this was their only hope. although he didn’t know whether he could hold on for that long.

The other people also temporarily stopped attacking. while the Lagorio family and Trevino family members stood aside one by one, looking at the people who were surrounded by them, like lambs to be slaughtered.

“I believe the people of the White family and the Tudor family are very loyal, and the relationship between our two families has always been very good!”

Said Rufus after gritting his teeth. He spoke firmly. He knew that It’s their only hope, and he can only say that so everyone will not despair and will continue to kill the enemy, and wait for the arrival of reinforcements.

“Among the White family, I don’t think there are many who can fight. The only one who is more powerful, called Jack. He is only in the middle stage of True God Realm, so even if he comes, it’s useless, you know?”

The man in the middle of True God Realm opposite the Trevino Family laughed again.

Chapter 1387.

“Master, Master, look! Someone is coming over there!” At this moment, a man from the Tudor family suddenly saw a flying sword above him, quickly approaching.

Hearing that someone was coming, Rufus was happy at first. When he saw only two people, his smile instantly faded. What’s the use of just two people coming?

“Perhaps they are passing by!” Rufus smiled bitterly at last, and said helplessly.

“Yes, it’s the young master of the White family!”

Soon, another guy recognized Jack with a smile on his face.

“Really? That’s great, his cultivation is in the middle stage of the True God Realm!”

Hearing that it was Jack, Rufus’s originally hopeless mood became a little excited.

“He has a flying sword, if we can rush in, maybe we can use the flying sword to escape, even if we escape halfway, that’s fine!”

Another woman, after thinking about it for a while, was also ignited in her heart with a glimmer of hope.

The man from the Trevino family twitched slightly at the corner of his mouth: “Do you really dare to come?”

He clenched his fist and blasted his fist directly at Jack: “You are alone, I think it’s time to kill you! This will be a great achievement!”

As he blasted out with a punch in front of him, an aura fist appeared, and went straight to Jack.

Jack stopped not far from there, and after a cold snort, he also clenched his fist and blasted his fist out.

In front of Jack, there was also a huge aura fist. but this aura fist was obviously much larger than the opponent’s aura fist, and it seemed to be a lot more solid.

A huge roar sounded, and the opponent’s fist soon cracked, and the cracks continued to spread. Finally, it exploded with a bang and turned into dust.

And the fist that Jack blasted out, with some remaining energy, continued to move forward and came in front of the Trevino man.

When the Trevino man saw the situation, his face was gloomy. He had no time to gather more aura, so he could only grit his teeth and blast out with his fist.

He believed that although he did not use aura and did not have time to use martial arts, he was a powerhouse in the mid-True God Realm. The opponent’s attack had already been decreased by 70% or 80% just now, so he should be able to easily accept take the attack.

There was another terrible roar. In the next second, Jack’s attack hit him.The Trevino man was shocked by this powerful force. After being thrown back several tens of meters, he barely was able to stabilize himself and catch his footing.

The Trevino man spit out a mouthful of blood, his face was shocked “How can this kid’s combat effectiveness be so strong?”

Chapter 1388.
Jack was clearly in the middle stage of the True God Realm. But at this moment, the man from the Trevino family felt like he was facing a strong person in the late stage of the True God Realm. That kind of pressure is really extraordinary.

Judging from the fight between the two just now, both of them had a very ordinary attack, but he was simply at a complete disadvantage.

“This guy is very strong. I will join forces with you to kill him. The rest of you kill the Tudor family and the White family members. Rufus and others are already seriously injured. They won’t be able to hold on for long!”

Another man in the middle of the Trevino Family’s True God Realm also felt the terribleness of Jack, and flew over and stood with the other man.

Jack looked at the Tudor family woman behind him, and said. “You take a rest!”

“Okay!”

The woman was a little bit astonished, but it was true that she was also seriously injured. In addition, she used too much aura. After thinking about it, she flew to the side, stood there, and took out a small spiritual stone and began to absorb spirit stones, intending to restore some aura.

After Jack shrank the flying sword, he took it in his hand and said “I think you won’t be able to hold on for long!”

“Hehe, boy, we are two people. As long as we hold on for a while, they will kill the rest, and when those guys are killed, we will besiege you together. We will see if you can face us by yourself!”

The man from the Trevino family chuckled, also flipped his palm and took out his sword.

Jack snorted coldly, too lazy to talk nonsense with the other party, and directly injected aura into the sword in his hand.

On his body, a terrible aura was slowly released, and the two people on the opposite side felt a very powerful aura in an instant.

“This kid is clearly in the middle stage of the True God Realm. This aura is too strong!” The Trevino family man who flew from behind couldn’t help swallowing his saliva. He took out his sword and injected aura into it.

“You guys have reached such a high cultivation level and you are still so young. To be honest, it’s a pity that you are going to die!” Jack sighed and slashed out.

In front of him, there was a terrible wave of sword aura suddenly. The wave was getting higher and higher, and it mixed with the aura with an extremely swift and violent rush.

“Kill!”

The other two also send out two terrifying sword auras.

Two terrible roars sounded almost at the same time, all of them were bombarded with Jack’s attack.

However, their attack was like two big rocks smashing into the lake water. Although there were countless waves, it did not have a substantial effect at all, and it was destroyed after a while.

“No, run away!”

One of the men from the Trevino family saw Jack’s attacks coming at them and his face turned pale in fright. At this time, he knew the guy in front of him was terrible. They even wondered whether they were facing a powerhouse at the peak of True God Realm.

“My God, how could it be possible!” The other guy swallowed his saliva and turned around to run away.

Jack’s attack was too fast. They just turned around and before they flew a few meters away, they were hit in the back by the terrifying aura wave and beheaded.

“No way, the two strong men of our Trevino family were actually beheaded in less than a minute?”

The Trevino family and Lagorio family were full of confidence, but when they looked back, they were completely dumbfounded. The two True God Realm powerhouses died so quickly.

Chapter 1389.
Rufus looked at the situation and instantly aroused his fighting spirit. Jack suddenly killed two strong men. leaving only one in the middle of True God Realm, while his morale was definitely low, this turned it around. They finally turned defeat into victory!

“No way, our plans will be ruined!”

The Lagorio family’s mid-True God Realm guy saw that two others were not Jack’s opponents and they were both beheaded. Suddenly he was very scared. Looking at the other people here, there was no fighting spirit. After gritting his teeth, he turned around and prepared to escape.

However, what he didn’t expect was that he had just turned around and found that Jack was already standing behind him, looking at him with a smile.

“Master Jack, our Lagorio family and your White family have had a very good relationship in the past. Although Miss Lily’s affairs caused some conflicts between the two families, we can’t ignore the past friendship, can we?”

The man’s eyes turned around, he looked at Jack white with a smile.

“The friendship from the past?”

Jack listened and felt funny in his heart. He pointed to the corpses of the several White family members on the ground and sneered: “Look, this is the friendship you were talking about, isn’t it? With the past friendship, will we hurt the masters of the White family and join hands with the Trevino family, huh? If I didn’t come today, I’m afraid the people here would all die here!”

Jack was taken aback, and immediately looked back.

From this look, Jack discovered that there was nobody was behind him, and when he turned around again, the Lagorio Family fellow had already turned and flew out two or three miles away.

“The speed is quite fast!”

Jack smiled coldly, and caught up with him in a flash.

The Lagorio family man used his speed to the extreme. He believed that as long as he flew farther and rushed into the forest over there, he would hope to escape.

However, Jack’s speed was too fast. When he looked back, he was speechless. Jack’s speed was at least twice his speed. After a few breaths, he had already come behind him.

“Go to hell!” Jack blasted out with a punch, and the thick aura on it wrapped his fist with strong fluctuations.

As soon as the man saw it, he had to stop immediately, and also punched out.

Jack’s power was too great. In the next second, he slammed into the ground like a cannonball. A small pit appeared on the ground, and the man also spurted out a mouthful of blood.

“Please, let me go, I know I was wrong…”

The man kept coughing up blood, looking at Jack pleadingly.

“Go and beg those who were killed by you before!”

Jack smiled coldly, and killed the opponent with a single blow.

After taking down the opponent's ring, Jack flashed and flew back again.

After seeing that Jack killed the three mid-True God Realm powerhouses so quickly, the other dozens of people, completely demoralized, and after several more people died, fled one by one.

However, under Jack's pursuit, in the end only a few people barely rushed into the forest and escaped a catastrophe. Everyone else was beheaded.

"There are too many people, all of you are seriously injured and can't catch up, otherwise, they have all died here!" Jack flew back again and said with a wry smile.

Chapter 1390.

"Haha, you, you are too greedy!" Rufus laughed loudly "Killing so many of them this time satisfied me. If you came later, I guess we would be dead!"

"Yeah, Master Jack, thanks to you, otherwise we would be dead. Those guys wouldn't give up!" A master from the White family said with emotion.

"Let's go, clean up the battlefield first, I will take you with my flying sword afterward, and go to meet the White Family, Cabello Family, and Tudor Family!"

Jack smiled and said to everyone.

"Tudor family? Is there anyone from the Tudor family over there?" After Rufus heard this, his eyes lit up and he was happy.

"Not a lot! They are all waiting for us in the woods under the mountain!" Jack nodded and said.

"Tudor family come here!" Rufus called the Tudor family over, then knelt down and bowed to Jack: "Thank you, Master Jack for saving us. Your great kindness, it will be remembered forever!"

Thank you, Master Jack for your kindness, we will never forget!" The other masters, now kneeling on the ground, in front of Jack shouted.

"Get up all of you, this is too much, it's no big deal!" Jack was embarrassed and called everyone up in a hurry.

"Master Jack, I will give you all the spoils for a while!" Rufus said directly after thinking about it.

“No? You killed so many people from the Trevino family and Lagorio family and you want to give me all the spoils?”

After Jack listened, his face showed his shock, wondering if he had heard it wrong.

“Yeah, I’ll give it all to you. If it weren’t for you, I’m afraid I would not see the sun tomorrow in Rufus. You must keep it!” Rufus said while the other went to collect the loot.

“Well, I’ll hold it for now. When we are about to leave the arena, let’s see how many tokens there are. Then, let’s distribute it again. Otherwise, I will be far ahead of everyone. I’m afraid it’s not good, right?” Jack smiled, facing Rufus.

Jack knew very well in his heart that he would be happy if the spirit grass was given to him, but if all the tokens were given to him, at that time, his tokens alone would be several times that of other family master tokens. This is too difficult to explain.

When the time comes, even if the Hunt family has no evidence, they will doubt him.

“Haha, okay, anyway, you have to take the first place, it does not matter if we have tokens or not, this time, you must get the first place!”

Rufus paused, then said: “By the way, brother Jack, I have decided that you will be my eldest brother in the future. I really admire you. The fact that you can come back from the common world and cultivate to the point where you are today is definitely not easy. From now on, I will be your little brother, and you will be my elder brother!”

Jack’s expression was a little weird, and he was humbled: “That’s not good, but you are the son of the Tudor Family Master, how can you recognize me as the eldest brother? No? I know how many people look down on me because I came back from the common world. They look down on me as an illegitimate child. If you recognize me as a big brother, I am afraid that you will be laughed at!”

“Laughed at? Who dares laugh at me behind my back? I will kill them!”

Chapter 1391
“All right. The matter is settled,” Randall declared.” You’re my Big Brother from now on!”

“All right. Let’s go, Brother Randall!”

Noticing that everyone had cleaned up the spoils of war, Jack tossed his sword forward. It abruptly grew in size and floated before everyone.

“Let’s go. We’ll rest once we arrive at where everyone else is!”

Randall and the others leaped onto the sword before settling themselves onto the surface.” This is an amazing sword, Brother Jack. It can fly and it can serve as a weapon as well, and it seems to increase your fighting power by a good margin. It must be at least a middle-grade spiritual tool, yes?”

Before Jack could answer that, a girl from the White family cut in proudly, “Young Master Randall, your judgment is off this time. Young Master Jack’s flying sword is not a mid-grade spiritual tool, but an ultimate-grade spiritual tool!”

“Holy sh*t. An ultimate-grade?”

Randall and the others all took a sharp intake of breath, wondering if they had heard her wrong. They heard that only the Hunt family had one o f those. They would never imagine that Jack would possess such a treasure.

Jack bobbed his head placidly a t the sight of the other man’s stupefied expression. He controlled the flying sword, zipping toward somewhere in the middle at the foot of Kobe Mountain

Before arriving at the forest proper, Jack noticed that Daniella, Helena, and the others had flown above the canopy line, looking in his direction. It was evident that they were waiting for him to return

“He’s back, Big Sis. I knew that he would be able to handle it easily!”

Daniella broke out into a proud grin when she caught sight of the silhouettes of Jack and the others.

Admiration sparked in Helena. “That’s right. He’s amazing,” she replied, a wan smile on her lips. “I’ve never met such a genius and fantastic man before!”

“Of course!”

Daniella smiled and scanned her surroundings. “Otherwise, would I have set my eyes on him?” she whispered.

“Mmhmm. You have good taste!”

Helena rolled her eyes at her younger sister, then added after thinking for a while, “But I’m afraid that he’ll have to play the role of my boyfriend for a while longer before I can return him to you. We can’t let the Hunt family see through our ruse and find an excuse to say that we played them!”

“All right, all right. I understand!

Daniella spoke callously. After she thought about it, she could not help but add in a joking manner, “Right. You won’t let your drama bleed into real life, right, Big Sis?”

Helena’s cheeks reddened, and she shot Daniella a glare.” What are you talking about? He’s your boyfriend. Why would I try to snatch him away from you? Don’t say anything like that next time, got it?”

Daniella pursed her lips. “I was just joking. Why are you mad at me!”

“How could you joke about something like this?”

Helena shot Daniella another glare. The two only clamped their mouths shut when they saw that Jack and the others were drawing near.

“Oh my. The two beauties from the Cabello family are here. No wonder Brother Jack flew so fast!”

Randall spoke in a genial tone after he saw Daniella and Helena

“What do you mean just the two of us? There’s another one waiting down there!”

Daniella studied him for a while. “Aren’t you Master Lancaster’s son, Randall Lancaster?” she said. “Why are you calling Jack ‘Brother?”

“He’s my Big Bro from now, and I’m his Little Bro!” Randall said, grinning.No. 1 Supreme Warrior
Chapter 1392-1394

Chapter 1392
“No way. Did I hear that wrong? You-you’re willing to be his Little Bro?”

Helena was taken aback. This was Master Lancaster’s son, who was in a powerful, significant position. Besides, the Lancaster family was about the same level as the Cabello family among the eight reclusive families, so this was unprecedented.

“What are you talking about? We’re brothers. None of that ‘big’ or ‘little’ nonsense!”

Jack’s lips twisted into a wry smile as he explained hastily.

“Heh. Anyway, I’ll just listen to whatever you say, Big Bro!”

Randall chuckled and pounded his chest. “At any rate, you saved my life, Big Bro. So I’ll dedicate it to you!”

“All right. You all had better rest for two days. It won’t be too long till the competition ends. Once all of you have recovered, we’ll still have time to ascend the mountain!”

Jack decided as he scanned the audience.

Everyone hopped down from the flying sword, one by one. Some took out medicinal pills and began treating themselves as they sat on the ground, while others took out spirited grass or spirited stones and started to absorb its Chi to replenish their own.

“There are too many people here, especially those from the White family. How did we get so many people to gather here!”

Randall heaved an internal sigh of relief when he saw so many people. “Hah. We’re completely safe now that we have Brother Jack and the three geniuses from the Cabello family here. Our next step would be to wait till time runs out, and we’ll be able to get out of here!”

“The only thing I’m worried about now is First Young Master Draco. The other second-class and third-class families are no match for us.”

Daniella also sat down by the side. “Quite a few geniuses from the Lagorio family are dead, and the Church family has also lost plenty of people. Their families would be furious if they found out.”

“Mmhmm. We should try to gather as many members of our families as we can to avoid unnecessary sacrifices!”

Jack nodded his head as he spoke.

“Young Master Jack. There are a few people coming this way!”

Two people were keeping watch atop the trees to see if any more White family members were coming over while everyone was waiting.

“Really? No one is chasing after them?”

Jack stood up, his heart leaping in delight. He hoped that he would find more White family members. That would mean that many of them were still alive.

“Er, not really. Looks like they’re escaping from something… There’s a monster chasing after them!”

One of the men spotted this and told Jack, “They’re pretty far out. I can’t tell what level the monster is at!”

“All right. I’ll go get them!”

Jack flew up, and after discerning their direction, he shot straight toward them.

Roar!

Quite a few White family members were desperately flying away from the giant python snapping at their heels. It released earthshattering roars, and its maw was wide open, emanating a distinct promise of death.

“Hurry, hurry. We’re arriving at the designated meeting Spot!”

Martin swung his sword backward as he tried to urge the people before him.

At that moment, Martin, just like Liah, was at the beginning stage of the true god status.

They had looked down on Jack at first and wanted to fight for the position of house heir, but they were so badly defeated that they were rendered speechless.

Chapter 1393
Now, the two had finally broken into the beginning stage of the true god status. However, Jack had already broken into the intermediate stage. His cultivation level had already surpassed theirs, what more his fighting skills? That fact made them completely submit to him.

“The monster’s hide is too thick. The two of us are no match for it!”

Liah spoke haplessly as she battled the python, “Seems like this python is no longer at the beginning stage of the true god status—it’s probably going to break into the intermediate stage soon!”

“You’re right. We’re no match even though the two of us are combining our strengths. Sh*t. I wonder if Young Master Jack has arrived at the designated meeting spot! If he’s not there, we might just harm more White family members instead by bringing it there!”

Martin quickly thought of something, and his expression darkened. Worry filled his chest.

Liah gave a dry chuckle. “You ‘re right. What do we do now? We’ll be doing more harm if the White family members waiting there are mostly at the semi-god Realm.”

“We also don’t know if Beth and the others are there. We still have a few fighters at the beginning stage of the true god status, but we don’t know if they’re there!”

Martin slashed his sword again. The closer they came to the meeting point, the more worried he felt.

“Look. It’s the young master. He saw us, and he’s coming!”

At this moment, Liah quickly realized that Jack was flying over. Relief abruptly flooded her limbs.

When Martin recognized Jack, his expression lit up with excitement. Jack was at the intermediate stage of the true god realm, and he was a powerful fighter. They would not have to fear the giant python if he was coming to save them.

Roar!

The python’s body was riddled with wounds, and blood poured out from those wounds.

However, these injuries were nothing to such a giant being. Instead, the injuries made it even more agitated. It released a shriek before suddenly spearing forward at an accelerated speed, going straight for Martin.

“F*cking monster. It’s too fast!”

Martin was frightened when he saw this. Unable to dodge the attack, he hurriedly clenched his fist and poured his Chi into it, slamming it into the python’s head.

Bang!

A dull noise rang out. The next second, Martin was flung outward. He steadied himself with great effort, and blood spurted out of his mouth.

The giant python had also been dropped two or three meters, but it quickly righted itself and released a ferocious roar, rearing up toward Liah.

Whoosh!

At this moment, Liah swept a fearsome sword aura, which landed on the python’s body.

“Roar!”

The python twisted its head and lashed its tail.

“Sh*t!”

Liah cursed when she saw that the attack was coming for her. She quickly covered her body with a layer of protective Chi.

Bang!

The python's tail immediately shattered her shield, and it smacked straight into her, sending her flying backward as well.

Chapter 1394
"Pfttt!"

Liah was blasted backward, and a mouthful of warm red liquid spewed out of her mouth. Her face immediately blanched.

Nonetheless, she still gritted her teeth, preparing to continue fighting. That god damn python! It had previously killed several men from the White family; the White family had long wanted to murder this beast.

Seeing Martin getting hurt by it, it fumed the flame inside Liah even more.

"Liah, don't fight head-on with this monster! Its skin is too hard to penetrate through! Young Master Jack will soon arrive and it'll be so done for!"

As soon as Martin noticed that Liah stood up and planned to charge and fight again, he flew over to her side and advised her.

Roar!

However, the giant python that was wounded once again – was even more furious this time. After a roar, it bolted toward the direction of Liah and Martin.

"Die, you monster!"

A shadow bolted and arrived at the scene. Finally, Jack had arrived. He balled his fist and a thick layer of Chi energy encased his fist completely.

With a flash, he came to the side of the giant python and blasted his fist directly on it.

Bang!

A terrifying boom echoed through space. The gigantic body of the python received the blast from Jack, causing it to slant downward and hit the ground. The dust on the ground splashed messily as though they were dancing enthusiastically in the air.

Roar!

The giant python was severely injured, it hissed in pain. A pair of huge eyes were staring straight at Jack, deadly.

Nevertheless, it seemed to have known the strength and power that Jack possessed. Thus, it turned around and flew off into the distance, seemingly wanting to escape from Jack.

“What the heck?”

Liah and the others who had just witnessed the human python-one-second battle were completely baffled. They knew that Jack was strong, but they did not expect that he would be that strong! The blood-thirsty demonic python would actually be afraid of Jack and flee! The monster seemed to have the strength of the true god realm and possessed a certain level of spiritual intelligence.

“That’s so amazing! That monster beast was completely enraged by us before that. It was determined to pursue after us even when it is injured! Now, it actually got frightened away by Young Master Jack!”

A few members of the White family were relieved and all stopped to rest, breathing heavily.

Swoosh!

Jack chased after the python at lighting speed. Although the body of this monster beast was hard, tough, and resistant to beatings, it was also because of this, their movement and speed were often not fast. Their body was too huge, clumsy and not flexible.

Soon, Jack caught up with the gigantic python. With a flip of his palm, a black sword appeared in Jack’s grip. Chi energy flooded his sword, and the black sword instantly became a powerful weapon.

Swoosh!

Jack swung his arm. A frightening slashing blow with unrelenting Chi energy in it, landed on the python, splitting the python into two. He killed it.

Blood splashed, and the python smashed heavily onto the ground, breathless.

“Woohoo! This freaking monster is finally dead! It chased after us for almost an hour! I’m so exhausted!”

Martin flew toward Jack, looked at the python’s corpse, his spirits were flying high.

Chapter 1395-1397

Chapter 1395

“Young Master Jack, you’re so, so, so strong!”

Liah also flew toward the group and looked at Jack with an envious face. “Why do I feel that you’re not at the intermediate stage of the true god realm at all? With your combat strength, you’re at least at the late stage of the true god realm or perhaps even at the peak stage!”

“She’s right! You this brat, if you break through to the late stage of the true god realm, I think that even some strong fighters at the peak stage of the true god realm would be afraid of you!”

Martin was envious of Jack.” Now I think about the past when I was looking down on you. Ugh. I’m so ashamed of myself. I’m definitely not a match for you! Sigh! I must admit that, right?” He was reminded of the past and could not help but self-deprecated.

“Haha, you two. Stop praising me!”

Jack smiled gently, then he waved his hand and two healing pills appeared in front of them. “Take it. You look heavily wounded!”

“Hehe, thank you very much, our dear Young Master Jack!”

The two chortled sheepishly and took the pills that Jack had offered. They then swallowed the pills.

After only a few minutes, Martin could sense the effectiveness of the healing pill, and felt that the injuries on his body were recovering slowly. Even more unbelievable, several injuries on his skin were healing at a speed visible to the naked eye.

“Holly-molly! Young Master Jack, how is this healing pill of yours is so effective? Okay. I need to learn from you. When you have time, you have to teach me how to create such a pill. I have no idea how to refine such a healing pill, with my current knowledge and ability, I should still be able to learn it, right?”

Martin looked at Jack with shining eyes, as though he was a puppy begging for food from his Master.

“Alright, I’ll teach everyone how to create and refine it once we return to the White family residence after the tournament ends. The creation process of this healing pill is not hard to learn. The only thing you will find troubling learning is matching the ingredients of some drugs. As long as you master it, you’re good to go!”

Jack beamed warmly. He then led the crowd and soon arrived at the place where everyone gathered.

“My goodness, there are so many people here! The Three Golden Flowers of the Cabello family, as well as Randall of the Lancaster family, are all here!”

When they arrived in the White, Martin, Liah, and the others were stunned at the scene before them. Many people were gathered there.

“Let’s wait out for the next two days, and after tomorrow, we’ll all set out for the mountains together to find more tokens!”

In the afternoon, more of the White family and Lancaster family came. When they noticed Jack and the others were there too, they were all overjoyed.

All of them breathed a huge sigh of relief, especially those who had been chased by the Lagorio family and the Church family before and had escaped from death. As long as they survive the next few days, they could leave safely, and it marked the end of the tournament.

Of course, the number of participants in the tournament was decreasing.

Two days passed by quickly, and on the third day, the crowd set off, heading toward the mountain.

As for the distribution of the tokens and spoils of war, everyone decided to go according to the previous agreement. The White family would take 40 percent, and the other two would take 30 percent respectively.

In the opposite direction of the Kobe Mountain, several geniuses from the Hunt family had finally met up with Cloud Hunt.

“First Young Master Hunt, we ‘ve finally found you!”

One of the men was thrilled that he almost jumped for joy.

Cloud bobbed his head, but his expression was somewhat solemn. “Strange, why didn’t I meet people from the Hunt family along the way? Moreover, even strong fighters of the Church and the Lagorio family are nowhere to be found. Instead, I only met a few weaklings.”

The man’s face sunk to the deepest, and with a gloomy tone, he said, “Young Master Cloud, Young Master Tyrell and the others including people of the Hunt family, elite fighters from the Church and the Lagorio family, they…they’re all dead! We saw their bodies on the way!”

Chapter 1396

The corners of Cloud’s mouth twitched a few times, and his body froze, unable to believe the new fact.

After countless seconds, only then he grabbed the man’s collar and lifted him up. “Say it again! If you dare to lie to me, I’ll tear you apart!” He stared at the man with hatred.

“Young Master Cloud, it’s true! You can ask the rest of them; they saw the body too.

And we found Young Master Tyrell’s ring in the bushes! The killer must have taken the things inside the ring and thrown it aside!”

The man scrunched his face and his voice trembled with fear. He then took out the ring shakingly and handed it to Cloud.

Only then did Cloud let go of him and took the ring from the man. His eyes were flushed red and his teeth gritted tightly. “Who the hell did this? Who on earth could actually kill my brother? That person must have broken through to the late stage of the true god realm in order to do that, and possess terrifying combat prowess. My brother is actually dead…”

“Young Master Cloud, we do not know who did it. By the time we got there, a pack of wild wolves was already there, gnawing on Young Master Tyrell’s body. If we went there a little later, I’m afraid that we would not even recognize Young Master Tyrell’s body!”

Another man from the Hunt family spoke up with a gloomy face. “Young Master Cloud, although Young Master Tyrell was a little bit mischievous, he was indeed a rare genius. He sometimes even gave the pills he made to us! You must avenge him!”

“Of course!”

Cloud was so angry that he gritted his teeth and clenched his fist. “No matter who did it, I must avenge my little brother!”

“But, but, we don’t even know who did this, how can we possibly avenge Young Master Tyrell?”

The man before furrowed and asked after giving the matter some thoughts.

Cloud sneered coldly and viciousness took over his eyes. “Isn’t it obvious? There are only a few who have the strength and power to kill my brother. I just need to find all of them and kill them one by one. Then it’d be considered as revenge for my brother!”

A young girl from the Hunt family stood up and gave her two cents, “Young Master Cloud, I think the First Young Mistress Cabello is most likely the killer!”

“Why so?”

Cloud frowned and asked.

“Young Master Tyrell confessed his love to her the last time, and this woman rejected him. Even worse, she kissed the young master of the White family in front of Young Master Tyrell! Perhaps you were not updated on this matter as you were training in isolation at that time. Anyway, I feel that the kissing part was a huge blow to Young Master Tyrell. The woman shamed him in public!”

“Besides, you also know that Young Master Tyrell cared about his image and reputation dearly. He didn’t show it on the surface, but why did he suddenly want to participate in the tournament when he refused a few times before? Why did he do that? Was it not for that woman? He must have met that woman and wanted to make a move on her, only, he didn’t expect to be killed by her instead!”

The man chimed in and presented his analysis to Cloud.

After listening to them, Cloud bobbed his head slowly in agreement. “Sounds reasonable and logical! The possibility of Helena killing Tyrell is very high. And my brother trusts women too easily. Perhaps that woman used her beauty to seduce and confuse my brother, then gave my brother a fatal blow when he was defenseless! She knew my brother’s weakness toward beautiful women, seized the opportunity, and killed him!”

“You’re right! If the Second Young Master was aware and defensive, basically nothing and no one could possibly kill him! But if he was distracted and defenseless, the tables are turned! So I feel that it was definitely that b*tch Helena Cabello who did it!”

The man from before, once again expressed his thoughts with confidence, as if he had witnessed the whole incident.

“Helena Cabello, I think she is the one. It’s impossible that the killer is from the Church family, not to mention the Lagorio family. And the Norman family has a close relationship with our family, so the possibility has decreased by now. There are not many families remaining!”

Chapter 1397

Cloud clenched his fist tightly. “The brat from the White family has weaker martial status and combat prowess, so he can’t be my brother’s killer. As for the Lancaster family and the other families, although we’ re not close with them, we’re not enemies, and they have no issue with my little brother. I think our main goal now is to find Helena Cabello and kill her to avenge my brother!”

“Now there are only a few days left till the end of the tournament, and I guess the other party has already arrived at Kobe Mountain. So the possibility of running into each other is also high

Now!”

Someone shouted from the crowd.

“Let’s go!”

Cloud waved his hand, gesturing to his men to leave.

“Young Master Cloud, look! There’s a group of people coming over. It seems to be the Church family! Fantastic! Our team is getting stronger now! Haha!”

A man burst out in laughter when he found something.

They had more than two hundred people of the Hunt family gathering here, and over there, more than a hundred people of the Church family were arriving. They had a total of four hundred men or so right now!

“Haha, look over there, the Lagorio family is here too! Quite many of them are here!”

Cloud laughed wholeheartedly, pointed to the other side, and then said, “Hehe, they arrived just in time! But why are there only ninety people from the Lagorio family? That’s not even a hundred!”

When the Lagorio family came before Cloud, he said straightforwardly, “What happened to your people? Are there no longer any elite fighters in your group? Ok, forget about the elite fighters, there are so few of you, why is that? Didn’t we agree to gather here and ambush other families?”

A man from the Lagorio family stood up and responded with a dull face,” First Young Master Hunt, a lot of our people have died, and we don’t know how many of our men are still alive out there. The Lagorio family has brought many geniuses and elite fighters to this tournament this time, but on the way here, we found a lot of dead bodies of the geniuses from our Lagorio family! And we only manage to gather these people right now.”

Cloud was rendered speechless. Initially, he thought that he could gather a thousand people to do the ambush, nevertheless, there were only five hundred gathered here right now. He was utterly disappointed.

“Forget it. Let’s separate our formation and move. Everyone, remember, once you run into Helena Cabello and her people, notify me immediately! I want to end her life with my own hands!”

Cloud gave a last wave and led his men to set off.

At this time, Daniella had found another white token and she almost jumped for joy. She then handed the token to Jack.

Helena, who was beside Daniella, expressed her discontentment. “Hey, Daniellita! Why are you giving everything to Jack?”

Daniella pressed her lips together and gave a warm smile. “Hehe, what? Isn’t it the same? Didn’t we agree to let Jack keep all the tokens in his martial ring, and then we’ 11 distribute them according to the ratio at the end?”

“Hahaha! Miss Daniella, the problem is you’re too enthusiastic toward Jack! He’ s your brother-in-law, of course, your sister will be jealous of you when she sees it!”

Randall laughed cheerfully yet nonchalantly. “Hahaha! But this can’t be helped, my Big Brother Jack is too charismatic. If I were a woman, I’d definitely fall head over heels for him too, not to mention Miss Daniella!”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1398-1400

Chapter 1398

“Stop it!”

Daniella rolled her eyes at Randall, but in her stomach, butterflies were flying everywhere. Randall’s words spoke to her heart. If it was not for the sake of not letting the Hunt family finding out, she would have let the whole world know that Jack was her boyfriend!

“Young Master Jack, some Zieglers are there!”

After flying for a while, Jack and the others stop the group of people from the Ziegler family, a second-class family.

They had more than twenty people.

When they finally noticed Jack and the others in front of them, they were frightened down to the soles of their shoes.

“My God, did I see it right? Three families are actually all gathered together!”

A man from the Ziegler family shouted with a gloomy face, and his face became more and more unsightly as the time passed. It looked like the token that they had worked hard to obtain in the past few days would have to leave their pockets. Their efforts were in vain.

“Three families gathered together, and they have almost seven hundred men! How did they even manage to gather so many people? Especially the White family, they have the most people!”

Another woman expressed her helplessness with a bitter face.

Standing in front of the Ziegler family, Jack could not help but smile in his heart. The overall strength and power of the Ziegler family were actually excellent; they managed to compete with the White family last time for the position of the eight reclusive families. They could be considered as one of several strong families.

However, in the later stage, the White family extended and developed faster than the Ziegler, and in the end, obtained the valuable position of the eight reclusive families.

“Hand over the tokens. As for the spirited grasses, keep them.”

Jack smiled gently and commanded the other party.

“Huh? Just the tokens?”

As soon as a guy from the Ziegler family heard that, his face beamed and could hardly conceal his happiness. “Thank you, Young Master Jack, thank you so much!”

“Quick! Everyone, take out the tokens you have on you!”

Another genius from the Ziegler family started to help collect the tokens, and after collecting all the tokens from more than twenty of them, he then respectfully handed them to Jack.

“Let me give you guys some advice. It’s better for you to descend the mountain, after all, the higher you climb the mountain, the more elite fighters and geniuses with the high martial status you’d run into. There are not many geniuses with the strength of true god-level among you guys, so if you unlucky and happen to run into the Hunt family, I’m afraid that day would be your last day!”

Jack looked at these people in front of him and started to advise them. “If you go down the mountain and find a place to rest for a few days, the tournament will be over by that time. At least you won’t get yourself killed and cause damage to the Ziegler family. Besides, judging from your family’s current situation, you won’t actually get a much better ranking in this tournament, right?”

“Young Master Jack is right. I concurred that. Our Ziegler family actually had a few geniuses of the true god realm, but some were killed by the Hunt family and the Church family. The people left here, it hasn’t been easy for us to survive till today!”

A man from the Ziegler family breathed out a huge sigh, lamenting the difficulty. “I think we should take Young Master Jack’s advice and descend the mountain. We’ll find a cave and hide until the end of the competition.” He said to the other Zieglers. “We’ve tried our best this time and collected some spirited grasses along the way too. These are the best rewards we could get from this tournament. I think except for the top three in the tournament, the consolation prizes are not that great after all. It’s more worth it for us to find spirited grasses in the White!”

Chapter 1399

After the Ziegler family discussed for a while, they took Jack’s advice and went down the mountain.

“You’re too considerate. Never mind that you didn’t take their spirited grass, you even let them go!”

After they left, Helena looked at Jack and could not help but give a wan smile.

“It wasn’t easy for them to survive this far. Besides, they ran into us this time, but if they ran into the Hunt family, they wouldn’t be spared even if their martial levels are low.”

Jack’s attention wandered toward the peak, his eyes oddly grave. The closer they were to the peak, the higher the chances of running into the Hunt family. It was likely that he would be fighting them eventually.

Everyone continued to march forward, and another two days passed by. There were only five days left until the competition ends, and Jack and the others finally spotted a huge group of people in the distance.

At that moment, Jack and the others had managed to gather many people from the White, Cabello, and Lancaster families, and their numbers totaled to about eight hundred people. The other group however had about six hundred “Young Master Jack, it’s the people from the Hunt, Church, and Lagorio families. There are many of them, but we outnumber them by quite a bit!”

Daniella told Jack after scanning the distance.

“Sh*t. Their three families truly made an alliance. They killed so many members of my family. Today is the day of our revenge!”

Randall clenched his fist when he saw them, huffing

Helena thought for a while before speaking to Jack, “This is what I’m thinking. You and I will attack Cloud. They shouldn’t have that many powerful fighters left by now, and we probably have more fighters in the true god realm on our side! With our strength combined, we’ll be able to kill Cloud!”

Jack’s brows furrowed, then he addressed everyone in a solemn tone, “All of you must pay attention. Do not let a single person escape. This is likely to be our last battle with them. It’ll be bad for us if they escape!”

“Everyone heard that? We must wipe all of them out. Otherwise, the Hunt family will come after our throats once they get out and tell everyone who killed their family members. But they forced this from us as well. It’s time we avenge our fallen brothers and sisters!”

Randall hollered.

“Oh, thank goodness, First Young Master. I finally found you!”

On the other side, a man from the Hunt family quickly flew toward the group, looking at Cloud, agitated.

Cloud looked at him and nodded his head. Then he cast his attention toward the front, gaze serious. “I had thought that our numbers were enough to overwhelm these families. But I never thought that those three families would have allied with each other as well!”

The man who had just flown overlooked to the front, then spat angrily, “Jack is there too! First Young Master, you must avenge Second Young Master!”

Cloud’s expression darkened when he heard that. “What are you talking about? Do you know who killed my brother? Don’t tell me it’s Jack White.”

The man bobbed his head. “That’s right. I was with the Second Young Master then, where I escaped once I saw that the situation was dire. Fortunately, I had a flying sword with me, and everyone had scattered everywhere, so I managed to escape. But Second Young Master and the other Hunt family members were all killed by him!”

“Jack is that strong?”

Shock jolted in Cloud. He had assumed that Helena was the one who killed his brother. He did not think that it was Jack.

Chapter 1400

“That’s right, Young Master Cloud. I saw it with my own eyes! He killed the Second Young Master!”

The man was furious. “But I believe that he’s no match for you. He’s a goner this time!”

“Of course I can take revenge!”

Cloud’s expression was as stony as ever. “But if he’s truly that strong, I’ll probably be fighting him for a long time. We’re outnumbered. By the time I finish him off, we might lose many of our people!”

The Church family and the Lagorio family members all went green around the gills.

They had thought that they could easily kill their enemies’ geniuses by allying with the Hunt family, and the Hunt family had even promised them plenty of benefits once they fulfilled their end of the bargain. Then, they would be able to surge together and eliminate the White and the Lancaster family.

After that, they would be able to become one of the strongest families around in two or three years, barring the Hunt family, of course.

They did not think that the White, Lancaster, and Cabello families would form an alliance. They even had a premonition that the other alliance would be picking them off first. If this was the case, their two families would suffer heavy losses.

“What’s wrong? We’re already here. Don’t tell me that you have cold feet now?”

Cloud seemed to not care about the Church family and the Lagorio family members’ worries. His expression darkened as he shot a vicious glare into the distance

“No-no! Of course not!”

The two families’ members hastily waved their hands. They did not dare to offend Cloud Hunt.

“Then come with me!”

Cloud waved his head and said.

“Young Master. Look. They’re flying toward us now. It seems like they’ve spotted us!”

A girl from the Hunt family spoke with a startled expression when she saw this.

Cloud emitted a frosty harrumph. “Hmph. They think that they can swallow us up just because we have fewer people. But they didn’t notice that I’m here!”

After he said that, he rushed forward with his people at a blinding speed

Soon, the two armies stopped and faced each other.

“I heard that you killed my brother, Jack. You’ll be dying today!”

Cloud glare at Jack. He was close with his brother. Tyrell did not like to train, but every time he made a pill, especially a new one, he would always give the first pill to his big brother. This truly touched Cloud’s heart.

“I’ll be dying today? You sure?”

Jack flashed a frosty smile. “Since you already know that I killed your brother, then don’t think we’ll let a single person escape today!”

After he said that, he waved his hand. “Listen to me,” he said. “Surround them!”

Whoosh Whoosh Whoosh!

Suddenly, the people behind him flew forward in formation, surrounding their opponents.

“Not a single person will escape? All right then. Let’s see if you have the bite to match your bark!”

Cloud flew a little higher and flipped his palm, a sword appearing in his hand. He poured his Chi into it.

“A middle-grade spiritual tool?”

After Jack sensed the resonance from the sword, a smile curved his lips. He also flew upward and took out his own sword.

Whoosh!

Helena also followed suit. Then she smiled at her opponent. “My apologies, First Young Master Hunt, but we’re using our numbers to our advantage today!”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1401-1405

Chapter 1401

“Hmph. You think you can overpower us with just numbers? Let’s see if you have the ability!”

Cloud gave a cold harrumph, disdain filling his gaze.

“Charge!”

Under the orders of the three, the two sides began to clash. In a few moments, a few people started to drop, lying dead on the ground

“Fight, Young Master Hunt! We might not last any longer!”

At the beginning stage of the true god status, a man from the Church family looked at his opponents, his expression weighed with worry. After all, not only were they outnumbered by Jack’s army, but they also had fewer fighters in the true god realm compared to them. Furthermore, Venus and Randall were fearsome fighters, far above the likes of people of a similar cultivation level

That was why he was worried.

“Don’t worry. I’ll come over to help in a moment. I just need to kill that sl*tty couple. The rest won’t be a problem!”

Cloud’s lips curved into a mirthless grin. In his eyes, the only people who could give him a run for his money were Jack and Helena. The rest were like annoying gnats he could wipe out without a problem.

Besides, he did not care if they died. Other than the Hunt family members, for whom he would mourn if they died, he did not care if the Church family or the Lagorio family members were dead or alive by the end of the battle.

The only thought treading in his mind was to kill Jack and Helena. After all, his brother would not have died if not for them.

“Sl*tty couple? You’re the real b* stard around here!”

Helena’s temper flared when she heard him insulting her in that manner. As the First Young Mistress of the Cabello family, she had never been humiliated like that before. She nearly exploded in anger, and she immediately poured Chi into her sword, glaring at Cloud.

“Heh. You still won’t admit it? You two tumbled together even though you haven’t known each other for long. Of course, you’re a sl*t.”

Cloud chuckled, his expression as contemptuous as ever.

Whoosh!

Suddenly, a frightening sword aura flew out, the Chi coalescing into a long lash.

“There now. Why so agitated?”

Cloud maintained his frosty smile as he returned the attack with a swipe of his own sword.

Whoosh!

Another sword aura flew out, and the two attacks collided against each other.

Bang!

An explosion rang out, and Helena’s attack was quickly destroyed. Meanwhile, Cloud’s attack still had some leftover Chi surging toward her.

She quickly swerved a few meters upward, barely dodging the attack. Her expression darkened ever so slightly. He was at the same cultivation level as her, but it was evident that his fighting prowess was far stronger than hers.

“Burning Chop!”

Jack’s eyes hardened as he poured Chi into his sword and leaped upward, swinging his sword in a wide arc motion.

Whoosh!

An attack that had the intensity of burning flames streaked toward Cloud, its tail leaving a trail of white light like a comet.

“This guy’s attacks are strong!”

Cloud’s expression darkened when he saw the attack.

Chapter 1402

“I never thought that an illegitimate child from the mortal realm like you would be able to kill my brother. But I will avenge him today!”

Cloud’s gaze hardened. A fearsome aura emanated from his body. In a split second, he countered with an attack of his own.

At that moment, outside the giant blue bubble, everyone’s attention was fixed at one spot.

Especially the Hunt family, Quentin, and the others. He had thought that the larger group of lights among the two was his people. After all, there had been a secret agreement between the Hunt, Lagorio, and Church families. He had promised to give the two other families plenty of spirited grass and pills if they upheld their end of the agreement, to wipe out the geniuses from other families.

That was why the three families gradually banded together while the other families were scrambling to assemble themselves. They cooperated to target the lone geniuses from other families and were met with great results.

However, he never imagined that after the two giant spots collided with each other, the fighting began.

“They’re in battle. Many are involved. Seems like neither side is comprised of one family. Otherwise, there wouldn’t be so many people.”

The Second Elder of the Hunt family thought for a while before taking a step forward, whispering toward Quentin, Master, if this is the case, it seems that the other families have allied with each other to fight our people. If I'm not wrong, this is the final battle. After all, there's not much time left until the end of the competition. The others are probably scattered elsewhere!"

Quentin nodded his head and gave a cold smile. "If the person who killed my son is there, I pray that Cloud will be able to avenge his brother!"

On the other side, the other families were also staring at that one spot on the screen, speculating what was happening inside.

"Master, who knows how Young Master Jack is doing?"

Titus, who was standing beside Nash, was growing slightly anxious. "After all, he offended the Second Young Master of the Hunt family, and he even offended the Norman family. Now the Lagorio family hates us too. The Young Master isn't afraid of the Lagorio family, but the Hunt family and the Norman family will be trouble!"

Nash remained silent for a few seconds before answering, "It shouldn't be a problem. After all, Jack has an ultimate-grade spiritual tool in his hands. His cultivation level is slightly lower than those geniuses at the peak of their game, but it shouldn't be a problem with that spiritual tool helping to boost his fighting power!"

Titus flashed a bitter smile. "It's true that Young Master Jack has an ultimate-grade spiritual tool, but it's precisely because he has a treasure like that that he might attract unwanted attention," he added. "That's why I'm worried that people will go after him!"

Worry began to stir in Nash after Titus said that.

Still, he thought about it and said, "I believe in my son. Besides, it's no use worrying now. We can only wait. There are only a few days left. We'll know the results once everyone comes out!"

Bang!

At that moment, at the waist of the Kobe Mountain enveloped in the bubble, Jack and Cloud's attack collided.

Light pierced through the atmosphere, and Jack squeezed his eyes shut. A terrible wave of energy rippled from the impact point, and everybody felt as though the air itself was trembling

However, Jack quickly realized that his attack was as strong as his opponent's. After a while, the two attacks crumbled against each other, signifying of nearly the same strength.

"You are good, punk! Now I believe that you killed my brother! You have the strength to do so!"

After the light faded, Cloud glared at Jack. He was well aware that his attack would be difficult to block even for a genius like Helena. Yet Jack's attack was able to withstand the impact.

Chapter 1403

"Let's attack him together, Jack!"

Helena looked at Jack and said to him

"All right!"

Jack bobbed his head. With their sword in hand, they rushed toward their opponent again

This time, Helena used a powerful technique instead, her sword aura slashing outward like a comet streaking through the sky. Meanwhile, Jack used the second-grade elementary martial skill from earlier, Burning Chop

He believed that Cloud would not be able to defend against two simultaneous attacks if he were to use the technique from before.

“Twin Dragons Fist!”

They did not expect Cloud to sheathe his sword and clench his fists, slamming them against each other.

Roar!

Suddenly, two giant dragons formed out of Chi rose into the air. They almost looked as though they were alive, and their scales glimmered dangerously. After they roared, they rushed toward Jack and Helena.

Bang!

Jack’s attack quickly landed on it, coming to a standstill against the dragon for a moment.

Yet on the other side, Helena’s attack could only hold out for a while before it shattered, unable to hold out anymore. The dragon coming for her was reduced to half, yet the remaining momentum landed on her, sending her flying a few dozen meters backward before she managed to right herself.

“Pfft!”

Helena spat a mouthful of blood, and her face turned white.

“He’s really strong. I’ve only heard about his prowess before, but I’ve never actually fought against him. Now I finally know how monstrous he is!”

Helena wiped at the blood at the corner of her mouth, rattled.

His martial skill was very strong too, to be able to defend against two attacks at the same time. It also had good attacking power. It was probably a secondgrade intermediate martial skill, at the very least.

Bang!

On Jack’s side, after the noise subsided, he realized that their attacks had all vanished. It was evident that their strength was almost on equal footing.

“Not bad!”

Cloud looked at Jack and gave a cold smile. “But I wasn’t using my full strength earlier. That martial skill only used about seventy percent of my fighting power. Let’s see how you take me on at full power!”

Chapter 1404

“Seventy percent!”

Jack and Helena exchanged glances, their gaze suddenly turned grave.

“What’s wrong? Scared?”

Cloud laughed, expression pleased. “It’s no use being scared now. I won’t let you go even if you beg me on your knees. I will avenge my brother today!”

After he said that, he clenched his fists and gathered his Chi again. The resonance of the Chi was stronger than before.

“Blade Wave!”

Jack did not dare to let his guard down, so he used his second-grade premium martial skill.

Suddenly, Chi and sword auras mingled and merged, forming wickedly sharp blades of flying swords, flying outward with a fearsome aura.

“Falcon Strike!”

Helena also used her strongest attack. As she slashed her sword, her Chi pooled into the form of an eagle, spreading its wings, which were about twenty feet in length. It emitted a terrible screech as it dove forward.

Bang!

Cloud used the two giant dragons again, the dragons looking bigger than the ones from before. They almost appeared far more solid.

One of the dragons collided straight into Helena’s attack. Her frightening falcon was easily destroyed, and the remaining energy from the dragon rushed toward her again.

“Sh*t!”

Helena was so frightened that all color leached from her face when she saw the remaining Chi headed for her. She could clearly feel that the remaining energy from the attack this time was two to three times stronger than before. Even generating a Chi shield right now would be of no use. She would die if the attack landed on her.

Meanwhile, Jack's flying swords continued to rain on the other dragon. When one of the swords was shattered, another came to take its place. There were at least a few hundred swords slowly chipping away at the Chi dragon's energy.

Whoosh!

Just as Helena felt that she was about to die, Jack rushed before her, flipping his palm and taking out the tortoiseshell shield.

The shield grew bigger, large enough to cover the two of them behind.

The remaining energy from the Chi dragon landed smack onto the shield.

Bang!

As the explosion rang out, Jack and Helena were thrown backward, flying a few dozen feet before they managed to right themselves.

"Are you all right?"

Helena immediately looked at Jack, grateful that Jack was there. Otherwise, even if she did not immediately die, she would succumb to her injuries.

"I'm fine!"

Jack managed a smile at her. He looked at Cloud, delight on his face. “His attack won’t hold out for long!”

Helena looked at Jack and then scanned through his arm that held onto the shield. Asides from the area between the base of his thumb and index finger, a large portion of his skin had been shredded. Blood welled at the wounds and dripped onto the ground, yet Jack said that he was fine.

At that moment, gratitude filled Helena’s heart. A strange thought also sparked in her mind, if only he was her boyfriend!

Unfortunately, he was not her boyfriend, but her sister’s.

She heaved an internal sigh then cast her attention into the distance.

Chapter 1405

The dragon that was colliding with Jack’s Blade Wave was not going to hold out for long. Lashes appeared wherever the swords connected, then a loud crack tore through the air, and it shattered into pieces.

Meanwhile, there were still a few dozen swords left behind from Jack’s attack. They speared forward relentlessly.

“No-no way!”

Cloud shook his head, unable to believe the sight before him. His expression darkened, as though a cloud veiled his feature.

As the flying swords drew closer, Cloud threw up a Chi shield enclosing him before turning around and flying off.

Whoosh Whoosh Whoosh!

The flying swords were fast. Two of them quickly shot toward him, but they were blocked by his shield. Another two surged forth, finally cracking the shield open.

Bang!

One of the swords landed on his thigh. Blood gushed out of the puncture wound.

Bang!

Cloud managed to dodge another sword, but it grazed his arm, ripping through his shirt and gave him another wound.

“Ah!”

Cloud cried out, flying extremely fast.

“Still thinking of escaping?”

Jack kept the shield when he saw that his opponent was trying to escape. He took his sword and gave chase.

Whoosh Whoosh Whoosh!

Cloud was extremely fast. In a blink of an eye, he was down the mountain and zipped into the forest.

Jack was not slow either, managing to keep pace. He refused to allow the other man to escape. If he did, the consequences would be fire.

“Don’t push it, you punk…”

Cloud noticed that Jack was drawing closer, as he was going at a slower pace. He clenched his teeth and flipped his palm, taking out a pill and popping it into his mouth.

“Ah!”

After he swallowed the pill, a ferocious expression came across his features, and his eyes were bloodshot. His entire countenance had turned feral, violent.

He stopped, yet the resonance coming from his body gradually rippled outward.

“You pushed me to this, you punk. My cultivation level will drop a bit if I use this pill, but it’s fine so long as I can kill you two. Hah!”

Cloud laughed, a feral grin lighting up his face.

“What pill did he just take? His aura is a lot stronger, and the pressure he emanates makes me feel as though he’s at the peak of the true god status!”

Helena stared at him in shock.

“He must have used some sort of forbidden pill to increase his cultivation level for a short period of time. But judging from his tone, it seems that he won’t be able to maintain it for long. There might be a backlash later as well that will make him unable to maintain his current cultivation level.”

Jack looked at him, expression solemn. “But we don’t know how long the pill lasts for,” he said. “It’ll be troublesome!”

Chapter 1406-1410

Chapter 1406

“What should we do? We’ll be in trouble if he has truly broken into another cultivation level, and it seems like he has already done so. His aura now feels different than before!”

Helena looked at Jack, worry etched onto her brows.

Jack glanced behind him. “If the two of us can’t beat him, the others will be in trouble. We’re at an advantage over there, but we can’t go on like this. You go there and kill everyone in the other battle. I ‘ll think of a way to distract him!”

“What!”

Helena took a sharp intake of breath after she heard that.” Are you nuts? We barely managed to deal a good blow to him just now. We wouldn’t be able to do that if not for the two of us working together. You’ll die if you try to take on him alone!”

She did not expect Jack to remain so persistent. “We have no other choice. We have to kill the Hunt family, the Church family, and the Lagorio family,” he said, flashing a bitter smile. “This is a rare opportunity. We can’ t let them go after they’ve killed so many of our people. Besides, we can’t let Cloud walk out alive!”

“I know that we can’t let him go, but the two of us together won’t be a match for him at his current cultivation level. You’ll be walking to your grave by going alone!”

Jack thought about it and added, “I will look for you if I’ m alive. Don’t worry. With my fighting strength and this flying sword, it’ll be difficult for him to kill me!”

“All right. You’d better be careful!”

Helena chewed her bottom lip and flew forward for a distance. Then she threw over her shoulder, “Don’t die. Daniella will be sad, and so will your wife, daughter, and your parents. All of them are waiting for you to go back home!”

“Don’t worry. I won’t die!”

After Jack heard that, warmth filled his heart. Helena took off toward the larger battle without a second glance backward.

Daniella’s heart leaped in delight when she saw that Helena was flying over to help. “Oh, have you killed him already? We’ve also killed plenty of people here. Hah. Not a single one of them will escape if you and Jack coming over to help!”

It was true that they had complete control over the situation. They have only lost a few dozen people, whereas over two hundred people from the opponent’s side had died. Now there’s a stark difference in the number of fighters from each side, and their opponents had no way of bouncing back with their lack of strong fighters.

That was why they would be killed off even faster if Jack and Helena had won.

“No way. Why’s Helena here?”

The people from the Lagorio, Church, and Hunt families were all frightened when they saw her. Their fighting spirits were already low, and they had been clinging onto the hope that the First Young Master would arrive to save them all. Now all their hopes were crushed.

“F*ck. We shouldn’t have trusted Cloud. Didn’t he say that he would kill them off easily?”

A man from the Church family grew furious. They were in big trouble now.

Chapter 1407

Helena looked at Daniella and swung her sword toward the opponents. She flashed a smile to not worry her younger sister. “Don’t worry. First Young Master Hunt has been seriously injured, and now Jack can handle him alone. He asked me to come over and help. He’ll come over once he kills Cloud!”

“Really? I knew that he could do it. That’s great. Everyone, charge!”

Daniella was ecstatic when she heard this. Their people’s fighting spirit grew exponentially, rushing toward their opponents with full strength.

Helena’s white lie was truly useful. Randall and the others were so fired up by it like a sudden surge of adrenaline rushing through their veins. On the other hand, their downtrodden opponents descended into chaos once they heard this. Fighting back was no longer a priority, only thoughts of ways to escape clouded their minds.

In the chaos, it was even easier to kill them. Meanwhile, the White family and their allies did not lose many people.

“You actually dared to face me alone, punk. Then I’ll finish you off first!”

Not far away, Cloud was glaring at Jack, an aura of aggressiveness cloaking him. His muscles seemed to have bulked, and his body brimmed with pure energy.

“Hah. Come at me. Your brother was just asking for it, trying to take my woman. I’ m glad he died!”

Afraid that the other man would not give chase, Jack leaped onto his flying sword and taunted Cloud, “Heh. Let’ s see if you have the stamina to keep up with me if you want to kill me!”

After he said that, he directed his sword and shot off into the distance.

“You’re glad that he died? I’ll be glad when you die!”

The use of the pill made Cloud’s logic slip, so when he heard this, anger sparked in his heart and consumed him. He had no room to spare for a thought of the other geniuses of the Hunt family. He roared and turned into a shadow, chasing after Jack.

Once Jack noticed that Cloud was almost on his tail, he increased his speed.

“Come at me. Hah. You can’t even catch me, and you want to kill me!”

Jack laughed. He felt fortunate that he had this ultimate-grade spiritual tool, able to fly at breakneck speeds. His opponent’s fighting power was high, but it would not be easy to catch him.

Furthermore, he was constantly twisting left and right. His opponent had no chance to attack

“Stay still, you little sh*t!”

Cloud snarled. In a moment, the two disappeared from everyone's line of sight.

After a while, Daniella noticed that Jack was not coming and looked behind. Her expression darkened." Big Sis, where's Jack? Why is Cloud and him nowhere to be seen?"

Helena did not know how to answer that, but she thought for a while before replying," Maybe Cloud wanted to escape, so Jack gave chase."

Chapter 1408

"So that's what's going on. That's Great!"

Daniella had no idea that Helena was lying to her. She was delighted when she heard that.

Everybody continued to kill their opponents. They truly did not leave a single person alive, wiping the enemy army out.

"This is great. We have lost less than a hundred people in total. This is a total victory for us. Hah!"

Randall laughed, extremely happy.

"That's right. This is great. We've avenged all those who died!"

Venus also smiled excitedly, feeling as though her heart were about to burst from joy.

“This time, the Hunt, Church, and Lagorio families will suffer great losses. I’m sure that they’ll still have plenty of geniuses left in their families, but those who joined the competition must have been the stronger ones. With so many people dead, they’ll definitely faint from shock or wail to the gods!”

Yule was also delighted. Meanwhile, everyone started to gather their spoils of war.

Daniella furrowed her brows because she realized that Helena did not seem too happy. Instead, she was frowning, staring in a certain direction.

“Sis, why isn’t Jack back yet? If Cloud was injured, he should have finished him off a long time ago!”

Daniella flew over to Helena’s side. “He’s your boyfriend,” she said. “Aren’t you worried about him?”

Helena’s gaze sidled toward Daniella, red tingeing her eyes. She did not know what to say to her younger sister, who was so innocent and believed in everything she said. Daniella even had the heart to joke with her at this moment.

“What’s wrong, Sis?”

Daniella knew that something was off when she saw her sister acting like this. “Big Sis, where’s Jack?” she asked, panic seeping into her tone. “Why isn’t he back yet? Let’s go find him and see if he’s won, okay?”

“That’s right. Miss Helena, where’s my Big Bro? Why isn’t he back?”

Randall flew over and looked at Helena in anticipation.

She opened her mouth, then Helena finally managed to speak, apologetic “Jack…Jack ran off!”

“Ran off?”

Everybody’s eyes widened, unable to comprehend what she had just said.

“Basically, Cloud ate a powerful pill that enabled him to break into the peak of the true god realm. To ensure everyone’s safety, Jack led-led him away and told me to come here and help to kill the other Hunt family members!”

Helena bit her lower lip. Then she narrated everything in one go, “He should have successfully led Cloud away by now. But I don’t know how he’s doing!”

“The peak of the true god realm?”

Chapter 1409

Daniella was stupefied. Cloud was already powerful enough at the advanced stage of the true god realm. If he was truly at the peak of the true god status now, Jack was absolutely no match for him.

“What? Jack’s in danger then. What if he was caught and killed? How could he do that? I’m telling Father about this once we go back!”

Yule began to panic, blinking her tears away. She was at a loss.

Although she and Jack were stepsiblings, he was kind to everyone, and he was nice to her. At least, he was much nicer than Lance. That was why when she heard that Jack drew Cloud away to save everyone, worry sprouted in her heart.

“Ah. If he did not draw Cloud away, the latter would have killed both me and him, and he would have come over to help his people. All of you would be dead then!”

Helena heaved a sigh. “Jack chose to sacrifice himself to save us all,” she said. “But he said that his flying sword is extremely fast and that escaping shouldn’t be a problem!”

“What are you saying? It shouldn’t be a problem? Sure, that sword is fast, but the Hunt family is the strongest family among the firstclass families, and they have the longest history. Have you forgotten that they have a rune paper which they retrieved from some mysterious place? It enables them to increase their speed!”

Worry added to Daniella’s brain. After she said that, she flew forward. “This won’t do. I have to help him. What will we do if he dies!”

Everybody was dumbfounded when they saw this. Why was Daniella more worried than Helena about Jack? It was as though Daniella was his girlfriend instead.

“Don’t go!”

Helena immediately flew over and took Daniella’s arm. “Don’t rush in, Daniella. You won’t be able to catch up. And you won’t be of any help even if you do. You can’t go in with your cultivation level. I won’t be able to help him either!”

Here, Helena spoke with a solemn expression, “When Jack and I were fighting Cloud, I would have died if Jack wasn’t so strong and helped me. Now that Cloud has broken into another level, we’ll be heading straight for our deaths if we go!”

“But-but…”

Daniella was in such a panic state that she did not know what to do. She suddenly felt that she should not have slacked off when she had good talent. Excellent talent, even. Perhaps even better than Helena’s.

However, she slacked off too much, until she was only at the beginning stage of the true god realm. At this moment, when Jack was in danger, she realized that her cultivation level was true of no use. She realized that she was not strong enough, that she was too weak.

“Big Sis is right. Never mind that you can’t catch up to them, you won’t be able to help even if you do. You’ll drag him down instead!”

Venus also took two steps forward and spoke earnestly, “Let’s divide the spoils of war first. According to our agreement, the White family will get forty percent. Jack helped us win this victory and all our future victories!”

Here, Venus paused before continuing, “The only thing we can do now is to not cause trouble to Jack, and pray that he’ll survive!”

“Cloud’s cultivation level is so high now, and he has that rune paper. He’ll definitely catch up to Jack and kill him. Jack doesn’t stand a chance of surviving!”

Daniella’s expression was still knotted in bitterness. The more she thought about it, the more frightened she was. Yet she knew that Jack made the right choice.

“Oh right, Jack said that the pill should only work for a limited time. It’ll be fine so long as he can hold out until then. Besides, the pill will give backlash. Once its effect wears off, the user’s cultivation level will decrease, and he’ll be seriously injured. Cloud will definitely die then!”

Helena quickly thought of something and tried to cajole Daniella, “Jack has that flying sword. He’ll definitely survive if he can hold out for a while longer!”

Chapter 1410

Although Helena Said all that, Daniella was still worried. She also heaved a small, internal sigh of relief.

At least Jack had that sliver of hope. There was a chance of winning if he held out.

Even if that chance was slim.

“Ah, what should we do now? Wait for him here?”

At last, Daniella sighed and asked Helena.

Everyone else looked at Helena. After all, she had the highest cultivation level and fighting power without Jack around. Furthermore, everyone thought that they should listen to her since she was Jack’s girlfriend.

Helena took in everyone’s gazes, then spoke slowly, “Jack told us to leave Kobe Mountain. The competition is ending soon, so we should head to the outskirts of the forest. If he survives, he’ll come to find us. We’ll just need to wait for him somewhere!”

“All right. Then let’s head down first. We’ll fly for a few hours before resting for the night to treat everyone’s injuries and allow everyone to replenish their Chi. We’ll head out again tomorrow morning for the forest outskirts!

Daniella nodded her head. She knew that she could only pray for Jack now.

“The battle has ended. So many people died!”

At that moment, the audience who were watching the light spots from the outside were both hopeful and terrified.

Nearly half of the people had died. Many people's hearts felt heavy.

"Master, the remaining group is the one with more people. Heh. It's definitely the First Young Master. He avenged the Second Young Master!"

The First Elder of the Hunt family chuckled, delight painted over his features. "Seems like the smaller group must have been the leftover troops from the other families. Hah. They must have realized that something was amiss and banded together in an attempt to fight back. It's a pity that they lack the fighters. Hah. They were killed so easily by the First Young Master!"

"That's right. This is great. He took revenge!"

Quentin also nodded his head, delight sparking in his heart. Although they had paid a huge price for the competition, he believed that more geniuses from the other families were lost compared to the Hunt, Church and Lagorio families.

That way, the Hunt family's position was secure.

Master Church and Trenton exchanged a glance, nodding their heads ever so slightly. It was evident that they knew that they were the true victors in this competition.

Especially Trenton, who had dreamed of Jack dying before his eyes. Relief flooded his veins, and he managed to avenge his daughter.

However, this was not enough. There was still Nash White. He believed that in another two years, they would become even stronger. He would wait for the opportunity to strengthen their relationship with the Hunt and Church families, then find an excuse to wipe out the White family. Only then he would be satisfied.

The White family and the Cabello family were extremely worried. They also saw everything happening on the screen. The huge group of light had swarmed and engulfed the smaller group, and they thought that the former must have been the Hunt family's army. Only they would be able to amass so many people. Strong people, at that. Only First Young Master Hunt would be able to pull that off.

"Ah, I wonder how Young Master Jack is doing. Seems like everything went by terribly, judging from the screen. I hope that he's not among the few hundred casualties!"

Titus heaved a long sigh, worried about Jack. "If something does happen to him, we would suffer great losses. Never mind Young Master Jack, the flying sword he has will be a great loss!"

"Ah, let's just wait!"

Nash sighed and closed his eyes. He was worried as well, but worrying was no use. He could only wait outside.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1411-1413

Chapter 1411

"Haha! Come on, little Cloud! Don't you want to avenge your little brother? Let's see if you can catch me first, you bird brain! Do you still want revenge? Dream on!"

Inside the light shield, over the forest, Jack controlled his flying sword and glided through the air at lightning speed, maintaining a distance where the other party could not reach him at all. He turned back and mocked the other party.

"You bastard! Do you think I can't catch up with you? Don't be too cocky just because you have an ultimate-grade spiritual tool"

Cloud was so angry that he gritted his teeth. Then he flipped his palm, took out a talisman paper, and injected some Chi energy into it. The talisman paper immediately emitted some light. Cloud then pasted it on his body, and out of a sudden, his speed dramatically increased by double.

“What the heck?”

Jack gasped aloud. He had never seen such a treasure before. Seeing the distance between them becoming closer and closer, Jack’s face blanched and turned unsightly.

He could not utter a word to tease the other party right now. He had already flown out so far, Daniella and the others should be safe by now.

However, he found that even if he increased his speed to the extreme, he could not outrun the other party. Cloud was extremely fast and he would catch up with Jack soon!

“Damn! What kind of paper is that? How could it….”

Rage quickened Jack’s blood. At this time, Cloud clenched both his fists and blasted toward Jack.

Roar!

Two terrifying dragons once again appeared in the sky. The mighty dragons were heading straight toward Jack, releasing a powerful sense of oppression

Jack wheeled his head back, the huge Chi dragons came straight at him, and they were fast. One of them attacking from the right, and another from the left; it was impossible for Jack to dodge them. If these attacks hit on him, he would surely die this time.

“Grr! I have no choice but to fight!”

Jack clenched his jaw and ceased flying. The flying sword stopped midair then Jack held it in his grip and swung his arm toward his front side.

“Blade Wave!”

Jack once again used his highest-ranked martial technique-Blade Wave. A stalk of Chi flying swords appeared before him within a second, looking fierce and sharp. The Blade Wave shot out, swooshing and flying ahead, heading straight for the two Chi dragons

Boom! Bang! Boom!

Terrifying booming sounds pierce through the air as though God was angry at mankind.

Jack stood frozen. He snapped out of his thoughts and immediately flew away again. After all, he should be able to resist and delay the dragons’ attack for a few seconds. As long as he could buy himself a few more seconds, then he might have increased his Chance of living.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

A loud sound rang out behind him, and those blade waves of Jack were only able to hold out the dragons for two seconds and were then destroyed one by one. The Chi dragons, with their remaining mighty Chi energy, headed straight for Jack.

However, this time, Jack’s flying speed outran the dragons; his flying sword was fast. He then commanded and controlled the flying sword to fly forward with a faster speed. Just a few moments later, the distance between him and the dragons has pulled away. He finally flew out of the attack range of the remaining Chi dragons

In the end, the dragons landed in the White and hit a few trees like a bomb. The explosion was appalling!

Chapter 1412

“Piece of sh*t! This brat is too

Resourceful!”

Cloud looked to the front, and h e was so angry that he once

Again chased after him.

His heart knew very well that h e had to kill Jack as soon as possible, otherwise, the effect o f the pill would soon be obsolete. Once the pill was no longer effective, then he was bound to be killed.

Swoosh!

Both of them were fast, cutting a streak in the air, playing a chasing game

“I wonder how long will the pill last in his body. That magical paper of that brat, it should have a time limit too, right?”

Jack mumbled to himself while flying forward at lightning speed

“Go to hell!”

However, soon Cloud caught u p with him again. Jack once again appeared within his attack range, thus, he clenched his fists and blasted out toward Jack again.

Roar!

Two huge dragons appeared within a second. They came straight for Jack as they roared angrily

“What the f*ck! He’s catching u p again!”

Beads of sweat dripped down on Jack’s forehead. He had to stop and fight the battle again.

Of course, he utilized the same technique as last time; he cast his Blade Wave immediately, the blades flew out again while he continued his fleeing journey

“Stop right there, you wimp!”

Cloud panicked. If this went on, once the effect of the pill in his body wore off, he would be I n real trouble. The time he had left was getting lesser and lesser by now.

Jack dodged and hid. Now and then, after being caught up, he would use the same methodcast Blade Wave to wear off the two dragons, to buy himself a few seconds to flee.

When Cloud’s attack destroyed

His attack, the remaining attack would continue flying toward Jack, but Jack would have already escaped from the attack range by that time.

Boom Boom Boom!

The two people were as though playing the tag game, while the explosive and terrifying sounds of fighting kept sounding in the forest. The situation was intense.

Another ten minutes had passed, and Jack's forehead was covered with fine beads of sweat.

"Damnit! How long will the effect of the pill last? I can't continue like that, and that brat has used another talisman paper! He brought a lot of this talisman paper with him, huh?"

Jack's face grew more and more unsightly. To make Jack stop and fight with him, Cloud continued insulting Jack, calling him a goon and coward from behind

However, Jack knew very well that the other party merely wanted to provoke him to make him stop fleeing. So, instead, he just turned a deaf ear and kept on running away.

But, if the situation persists, it would be bad for Jack. The other party had a higher martial level than he does. If this went on, his Chi energy would definitely be used up faster than the other party!

"Ah!"

Nonetheless, after flying for a while, Jack heard a miserable scream from behind.

He immediately stopped and turned around to see that Cloud gave out a painful expression and the Chi energy in his body was actually receding little by little.

"Haha! Awesome! That's great!"

Jack's spirit lifted. The effect of the pill seemed to have diminished, and the other party would be suffering the backlash of the pill.

Chapter 1413

Cloud was in agony; he looked like he was in extreme pain. The kind of aggressive twitching he had, showed that his martial level was dropping quickly from the peak stage to the late stage of the true god realm, and then to the middle stage of the true god realm…

“My goodness, his power has already dropped to the middle stage of the true god realm, yet it’s still dropping?”

Jack saw that the other party’s martial level was still falling after a while, he became more and more excited. That way, it would be a lot easier for Jack t o kill the other party. Just patiently waiting until the effect of the pill wore off, that brat would just be a sickly cat.

Finally, the drop stopped. Cloud’s martial level dropped t o the early stage of the semi-god realm, and nearly decreased to the grandmaster level.

“Heh, early stage of the semi-god level?”

Jack smiled happily and his heart was relieved. Before this, he was chased by the other party so badly and almost died. Now that the effect of the pill had diminished, Jack was Now safe.

Swoosh!

Cloud looked at Jack for a second and turned around to flee.

However, Jack blocked his escape route and appeared in front of him in a flash. “Heh, d o you think with your current speed and martial level, you will be able to get away from m e? Your talisman paper is amazing, I’d give you the credit. But after your martial level dropped, even with the talisman paper, your speed won't be fast!" Jack looked at Cloud with a cold smile.

"Brat, I'm the Young Master of the Hunt family. If you dare to kill me, you're so done for!"

Cloud gritted his teeth and threatened Jack with a vicious hatred.

"Young Master Cloud, you're quite something, aren't you? I killed your little brother; do you think I'm afraid of killing another Young Master Hunt?'

Jack sneered icily, "What's more, there's no one else here, and you were chasing after me just now with an intention to end my life! And now I have to let you go? What a joke! I think you're so used to being a young master of a great family and thinking that 'Hunt family' is very useful for you to get away with any situation, right?

"Go to hell!"

Cloud clenched his teeth and blasted out attacks again.

Unfortunately, this time the two huge dragons did not look mighty at all; dragons were too weak compared to the previous one, and they were only a third in size of the previous ones. They looked like two little green snakes.

Jack blasted out two consecutive blade waves and the attacks destroyed the two tiny dragons within a second. He then threw another attack toward Cloud.

Bang!

Cloud received the attack head -on, and his body was halved, falling to the ground from high up in the air. He was dead.

After killing the other party, Jack immediately got off the flying sword and landed on the ground. He took the sword that was in the other party's grip, as well as the martial ring. Fearing of being discovered, he then flew away in a flash, disappearing between the tree.

After flying for a while, Jack arrived at a cave. He then sat down and recovered his Chi energy.

After recovering all the Chi energy in his body, the sky outside was turning darker. It seemed like the night was about to arrive.

He kept Cloud's sword into his martial ring, took out all the things from Cloud's martial ring, and laid everything nicely in front of him.

He was amazed by how many tokens were kept inside Cloud's martial rings. He then proceeded to keep them in his own ring. Not only the tokens but there were also several pills and a small bottle. Inside the small bottle, there were five pills; these pills were light red in color. Jack remembered clearly that the other party consumed the same light red pill to increase his strength and martial status!

There was also plenty of spirited grass-second-grade and first-grade spirited grasses. Besides, the mystical talisman papers were in there too; the paper that accelerated the speed of flying

"Heh, a lot of treasure in here!"

Jack smiled and put everything away in his martial ring, then threw Cloud's ring to the side. There were only a few days left, hence he took out several materials and started alchemy.

He took out the second-grade elementary pill prescription that he got from the Second Young Master Hunt, studied it carefully, and compared the materials in front of him." Let's try it, a second-grade elementary pill! If I can create I t successfully, I'll become a second-grade alchemist!"No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1414-1416

Chapter 1414

Jack was excited when he thought about the opportunity to finally create a second-grade pill.

He never had a formula for a second-grade pill before, so this was extremely precious to him. Even if someone else had the formula, they would never share it with him so easily.

He did not think that after killing the alchemical genius, Second Young Master Hunt during the competition, he would reap such excellent benefits and obtain many formulae to create second-grade pills.

Now, he could try to create second-grade elementary pills. If he succeeded, he was truly a second-grade elementary alchemist. Only Second Young Master Hunt and the First Elder from the Cabello family were at such a level.

Jack took a while before he suppressed his excitement, slowly heating up the stove before him and throwing the stalks of spirited grass in according to a certain sequence. He then extracted the juice from the grass.

Time trickled past slowly. It was difficult to create a second -grade pill, much more so than a first-grade pill. Just as Jack was about to solidify the pill, h e failed. The flame was just a little bigger than what was prescribed, yet it nearly caused the stove to explode and made the juices disappear into fumes. This batch of precious ingredients was wasted just like that

“Ah. It’s so much harder than first-grade alchemy!”

Jack wiped the sweat beads on his forehead, heaving a sigh. However, it was a secondgrade pill he was trying to create after all when he thought about it, and he had n o master to guide him. He could only follow the instructions on the alchemy manual. It was already an accomplishment that he managed to get to the very last step.

He rested for over ten minutes. Then he started to create a new batch.

This time, it was evident that Jack was slightly faster, and his movements were more practiced. Coupled with the experience he had from the previous attempt, Jack's focus did not waver, and the attempt went by smoothly.

"Rise!"

At last, Jack gave a wan smile and lifted his hand. A small pill flew out from the pot and floated before his eyes, "Hah. Not bad!"

Jack laughed, ecstatic. He did not think that he could successfully create a secondgrade elementary pill on his second attempt.

By the time he looked outside the cave, he realized that the sky was brightening.

"There's another four days left. We're definitely at the top of this competition. Besides, we've gotten so much spirited grass by killing people. Yule and the others must be searching for spirited grass. I'll just stay here to try and break into the advanced stage o f the true god realm! After all, I don't know what will happen out there!

Jack looked at the pill in his palm, confidence brimming in him.

He had already broken into the intermediate stage of the true god realm for some time. His Chi was thick and rich, and his cultivation level was stable. He believed that with the secondgrade elementary pill, it would not be a problem for him to break into the advanced stage o f the true god realm.

After all, the Hunt family would not let them off so easily once they went out. If he managed to break into the advanced stage of the true god realm, he would not have to fear Master Hunt with his fighting prowess enhanced by the ultimate-grade spiritual tool.

Jack was also confident in his fighting skills. If he had the fighting power of someone at the peak of the true god status, it would mean that the White family had three people who were at that status. The White family's strength would be bolstered.

Of course, Jack was not sure of how he would fare compared t o Master Hunt and if he could even compete against him since they had never fought before. Even those of the same cultivation level were not equal fighters, and Master Hunt was the strongest fighter of the Hunt family, the strongest family of the reclusive families.

Chapter 1415

After he thought about it, Jack looked out of the cave and felt that where he was was fairly out of reach, as he was at the outskirts of the forest. He had also killed plenty of fighters, so I t should not be a problem.

He popped the pill into his mouth and swallowed it.

As the pill slid down his throat, a powerful force began to build within him. The second-grade pill was powerful. Even if it was only a second-grade elementary, the energy it contained was a few times more than a first-grade premium pill.

Jack immediately use his martial skill and focused the Chi into his diaphragm.

As time went on, the vague aura around Jack also grew a little stronger.

Another two days passed. There were only two days left till the end of the competition.

Daniella and the others sat beneath a big tree, expressions glum.

“What’s Young Master Jack doing? The competition is ending tomorrow. Will he be able to find us today?”

When Martin thought of Jack, his huge, bulky body deflated.

“He’ll definitely come back. He’s my older brother. I trust him! He pulled off miracles before. He’ll definitely make it this time too!”

Yule spoke confidently, clenching her fists.

“It’ll be difficult because his opponent has the runes. He’s a goner if he’s caught!”

A man from the Lancaster family heaved a sigh. He felt that Jack hardly had a chance of surviving. They had been waiting there for a few days now, with some of them frequently flying up to survey their surroundings, trying to look for any trace of Jack.

Yet there were no signs of Jack even after a few days. It was highly likely that he was dead. If he was alive, he would have circled around that area and found them in no time at all with his flying sword, even if the forest spread across a large area.

“What are you talking about? You want me to smack some sense into you?”

Randall shot to his feet. “That’s my Big Bro,” he told the man angrily. “Shut your trap. My Big Bro won’t die so easily!”

“I hate to be the bearer of bad news too, Young Master, but he still hasn’t appeared after all these days. Besides, First Young Mistress Cabello said that she and Jack could only match First Young Master Hunt’s fighting power when they combined their attacks. If he used that pill, there's no way that Jack would b e able to take him on without First Young Mistress Cabello."

The man released a frustrated sigh.

Everybody went silent.

They all knew that there was only a ten percent chance of Jack surviving.

Chapter 1416

"Sigh! Why are they not back yet?!" Somebody sighed again after they waited for some time.

"Hey, there's a man flying our way on a flying sword!" joyously exclaimed a man from the Lancaster family, perched on top of the branches.

"Really? That's great!" Helena, Daniella, and the others were extremely excited when they heard this. They immediately flew upward to see who came their way.

However, the expressions on their faces fell when they noticed who it was on that flying sword moments later.

The other party felt threatened a she got closer, noticing so many people in the area. Sure, he was a member of a first-class aristocratic family, the Zachary family, and he usually had nothing to fear of any other day.

However, how could he fight when the people he spotted at that moment were masters of a couple hundred in the forest?

“Greetings, e-everybody. I’m alone, and I don’t have many tokens with me. If you want them, I…I can give them to you. Please, don’t…don’t hurt me!” The man had a frightened expression on his face. After all, he was only in the initial stage of the true-god level, and although his fighting prowess was not low, he was no match against those like Helena, Daniella, Venus, and Randall. He did not even have the opportunity to resist them.

“Who would want your tokens? They’re just icing on the cake for us. Apart from that, the competition is ending tomorrow. It’s meaningless to take a couple of tokens from you!” Daniella was extremely disappointed when she saw that the person was not Jack. She rolled her eyes at that person and, crossing her arms at her chest, grumbled, “Shoo, shoo! Get lost now, it’s annoying to look at you!”

The man was at a loss for words. While he was thankful that they did not take his belongings, they looked as if the very sight of him annoyed them. He had no idea how he offended this beautiful lady and was despised in such a way.

“Alright, alright, alright!” The man was extremely puzzled, but he nonetheless quickly flew far away with his flying sword that was a middle-grade spiritual tool

Some time later, four to five members of the White family flew over from far away.

Their expressions darkened when they spotted Daniella and the others standing among the woods, somewhat frightened as they wondered if those people would take their things.

“Kaleb!” Yule, who was in the woods below, immediately flew upward and called out to them when she saw them.

Kaleb White eased when he saw that it was Yule. Looking at the woods below, he discovered that many had gathered in that spot, and most of them were members of the White family.

“This is great, Miss Yule! This is great! I didn’t expect everybody t o be here!” Kaleb was extremely excited as he spoke. “We were extremely careful these past couple of days as we personally saw many geniuses from other forces being killed. Sigh… This competition is totally different from the last ones!”

Kaleb seemed to have recalled something as he spoke. He looked around and asked, “By the way, where’s Young Master Jack? Why don’t I see him? Isn’t he together with you guys?”

Everybody’s facial expression darkened as they heard this.

“How could this be? Did something happen to Young Master Jack?” Kaleb panicked when he noticed everybody’s reaction and felt that something was wrong. Anxious, he then blurted, “This is impossible! Young Master Jack is such a nice person, and he’s so talented. What should our White family d o if something happened to him? I’m sure that nothing would happen to Young Master Jack!

“It all happened because of…” Yule sighed and told Kaleb about every detail that happened previously.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1417-1419

Chapter 1417

“Young… Young master is an incredibly affable person! He actually chose to sacrifice himself for everybody else!” Before Kaleb could sob, a woman who came with him had started wailing sadly.

“Look everybody! Jack! It’s Jack!” Daniella was over the moon when she spotted a very familiar figure flying toward them atop of a flying sword.

Everybody in the forest was extremely excited when they heard Daniella’s exclamation and flew upward.

Soon, a huge group of people appeared in this part of the sky.

Initially searching for them, Jack smiled and headed right for the masses when he saw the large group that flew up mid-air.

“Oh, how wonderful! He really survived!” Helena was just as elated, so much so that her eyes slightly reddened at that moment.

“We knew Young Master Jack would definitely make it!” spoke a man as he patted his thigh in excitement

“That’s right. Young Master Jack is the prodigy among all geniuses. The so-called First Young Master Hunt is no match for him, too!” A man from the Lancaster family was also extremely excited.

All of them knew that they owed everything to Jack for rescuing them. If Jack did not lead Cloud Hunt away, all of them would have died on the spot.

“Haha… Hi, everybody! We haven’t seen each other in a couple of days!” beamed Jack happily upon arriving.

“You! Why are you only here after vanishing for so many days? We were all terrified and afraid that you might’ve died!” Daniella almost rushed over to hug Jack, but recalling that her sister was his girlfriend in public, she held herself back and instead offered him an eye-roll.

“Daniella, how can you blame him for this? It’s not an easy task for him to stay alive, and he must’ve been healing his wounds from the fight. Apart from that, it’s not easy for him to look for us in such a huge forest. It’s impressive enough that he managed to find us!” refuted Helena as she instinctively spoke on Jack’s behalf.

“That’s right! It’s good enough that he’s alive!” All the prejudice Venus had toward Jack disappeared at this moment, and in its wake was just a faint adoration for Jack in secret.

She had to admit that her sister had great insight since she managed to find such a wonderful man.

“Alright, let’s take a rest here. We should be able to go out tomorrow!” Jack smiled and flew down. Everybody followed after him and landed on the ground.

Recalling something, Helena asked Jack curiously, “By the way, what happened to Cloud? Is he dead? I remember the Hunt family has some sort of rune that can help somebody to fly and increase their flying speed. Did he not use the rune? Or did he use it but still failed to catch up to you?”

“Oh, so that weird piece of paper is known as a rune?!” Jack had a sudden realization but continued, “Don’t worry, that guy is dead. I admit he got faster after he used the rune, but I was still able to withstand his attack. I continued to fly after I blocked the attack. Anyways, this continued for a long time and, in the end, the effects of his pills dissipated. His fighting prowess dropped to the initial stage of the semi-god level after he experienced a backlash!”

Chapter 1418

“How’s that possible? Is the backlash effect of this pill that terrifying? He almost dropped from the final stage of the true god level to a ninth-grade grandmaster?” Everybody inhaled deeply when they heard Jack’s story and were inwardly embarrassed.

It should be mentioned that the pill was truly powerful as it would increase a person’s fighting prowess and combat power within a short period of time, and this was something that could help a person win during incredibly crucial moments. However, it seemed that the price to be paid was steep on its own.

“That’s for sure. Cloud wouldn’t have taken the pill if the backlash was so terrible. He only took the pill because he was also hurt and wasn’t our opponent.” Jack could not help but paused for a while before he continued, “Luckily, that flying sword of mine flew quickly or he would’ve killed me!”

“That’s true. It really is quite dangerous now that we’re listening to you talking about it!” Randall was overwhelmed with mixed emotions. He thought about it and reminded everybody, “By the way, everybody will be able to go out tomorrow. By then, none of us here can disclose if members of the Hunt family asked us who killed their second or first young master, understood? After all, those from the three families who knew about it are already dead!”

“Don’t worry. We won’t say anything, since Young Master Jack saved our lives. Am I right, everybody?” vowed a man from the Lancaster family as he patted his chest.

“That’s right. We’ll keep everything to ourselves from here on out!”

“I won’t say anything even if they kill me!” One by one, the others also immediately made their promises.

Jack smiled and took out an impressive amount of tokens with the flip of his hand. He then passed it to Randall and Helena. “Why don’t the two of you take half each?”

“Why are you giving us so many tokens? It’s really too much, Brother Jack. We cannot take this!” Randall immediately declined.

“That’s right, Jack, you should keep it. By the way, we’ve separated all the trophies we obtained during the big battle according to the proportion and gave them to your sister, Yule!”

Helena did not take the tokens Jack offered to them. They had already gotten enough tokens after all, and it would not be a problem for them to enter the top three positions, thus they had no need to take the tokens from Jack.

They did not expect the awkwardly smiling Jack to insist, “You guys have to help me share some of these things. There are too many of them!”

“There are too many, you say?” Randall and Helena exchanged baffled glances with one another.

Jack nodded. “That’s right. Cloud had a lot of tokens in his martial ring, and I have to take some for you guys! I estimated that you guys had given us the tokens you’ve obtained from the other members of the Hunt family based on the forty percent proportion.”

“That’s right, Brother Jack. I’ve stored everything in this martial ring, and I can hand it to you now!” Yule smiled and handed the martial ring to Jack.

Jack took the ring and inspected it before a satisfied smile graced his features. “This time, we’ve gotten quite a lot of spirited grass and other items!

“That’s right. This competition is rather cruel, but it can be considered training for everybody. After all, the survival-of-the-fittest notion and the ‘law of the jungle’ are the rules to follow in order to survive in this world!” Randall was also overwhelmed with emotions.

“Once we get out of here, those from the Hunt family, the Lagorio family, and the Church family are going to be furious!”

Jack spoke up at this point, “The Norman family, too. I’ve killed all three young masters of the Norman family.”

Chapter 1419

Randall laughed out loudly. “Haha! This is the ending for going against my older brother. They can’t blame others for their suicidal ways!”

That night, everybody hunted a few monster beasts and roasted them as food.

As there were no strong monster beasts at the outer ring of the forest, everyone could afford to let their guard down and relax.

Many of the other competitors started to move toward the outer ring of the forest while some found a place to hide as they waited for the competition to end the next day.

Hours later, the sun rose and everyone conversed among themselves as they waited for the competition to end officially.

The sky started to move and there was a golden-colored pattern in the sky on top of Kobe Mountain. There were seven light spots of different colors in the pattern, and they started to blink since their appearance.

“It looks like we’re going out. Is this light dome disappearing soon?”

“I have no idea. I don’t know how we should go out, but why do I feel that the sky has some sort of attraction?”

Many people started to discuss amongst themselves. The attraction coming from the sky grew increasingly stronger by the minute.

“That golden-colored pattern looks very familiar,” exclaimed Daniella, much to Jack’s surprise. “Did you guys realize that? I seemed to have seen it somewhere else!”

“This is incredible. Let me take a couple of photos with my cell phone!” Venus took her cell phone out and started taking photos.

“Why does this pattern look much like a map?” Randall spoke up after staring at the pattern for some time.

Jack’s heart felt like it stopped for a moment. “You’re right, it does look like a map. Randall, everybody, take a look at the seven light spots with different colors. Can you think of anything that has the same position as to where they’re located?”

Jack suddenly came to a daunting theory. He believed that the ultimate-god level existed, but this inheritance was discontinued for unknown reasons.

As for this formation, it was a broken formation from years ago and was recovered by Quentin. He felt that maybe this formation was some sort of guidance, and the old stone pillars at the original location the formation formed might have been broken by others on purpose. There was a possibility that they did this to cover up something

“This map looks very much like our Cathysia!” As she racked her brain for a plausible answer, she then inhaled deeply moments later. “Oh my god… These seven light spots aren’t just randomly located where they are. Think about it: Did you guys notice that they’re positioned just like how the seven dangers are located in Cathysia?”

“That’s right! The positions are almost the same as the location of the seven dangers!” Daniella chimed in. “Oh my gosh. I was thinking that these patterns were some random patterns and that they only appeared in the formation because it’s almost time for us to exit the forest. Never thought it has a much deeper meaning!”

“This is great!” Jack balled his hands into tight fists as he was overwhelmed with happiness.

At this moment, a swirl appeared in the sky and it had a strong suction power. It soon sucked everybody upward and into the spiral.

Chapter 1420-1422

Chapter 1420

“This is marvelous. It looks like the geniuses are coming out!” The members of the families were overwhelmed with emotions as they gazed at the huge pale blue-colored light dome from the outside.

Among them stood the all-too-confident Quentin. He walked a couple of steps forward and said loudly, “Everyone, it is obvious that many geniuses have died in this competition. Sigh… This is a training for them, and the geniuses who survived this competition are true geniuses.

They’ll definitely have a longer journey in life after experiencing a baptism of blood.”

Quentin had no idea that the secret technique that connected him and his son had stopped working after his eldest son took the pill to increase his fighting prowess. Hence, he did not feel anything when Cloud died.

As a result, he naturally thought that Cloud was still alive and had avenged Tyrell successfully.

“That’s right. The geniuses who survived would definitely have some achievements in the future!” The master of the Lagorio family, Trenton Lagorio agreed wholeheartedly, believing Jack had perished and that the cooperation between the three families would surely bring them the results they wanted.

The only incident was that the opposing motley crowd took some precautions in the later stages, so many of their people should have died as well.

However, it was sufficient so long as 300 to 400 of the competitors from the White family, including Jack, had died. That was the result he wanted.

The family master of the Church family also stood forward with a smile on his face. “That’s right. Everybody has been informed of the rules before the competition, and everybody should obey the rules. Even Master Hunt accepted the death of his second son. Indeed, he must be saddened, but this has been fated. All we can do is accept the outcome.”

Quentin also nodded. “Sigh… It’s alright, seeing as a couple of days have passed. It’s normal to be unable to accept it in the beginning and feel sad. I believe that many of them who come out later would be sad too. However, as martial artists, we should focus on pursuing the principles of life, right? We shouldn’t put too much attention on relationship related issues.”

“That’s for sure. What Master Hunt said is very true,” replied Trenton smilingly. He then looked at Nash and asked,” Master White, that son of yours is a genius. Oh, that’s right. You had two sons, but one of them didn’t return after traversing a dangerous area, and he must’ve died for sure. That’s quite regretful, and my heart aches as he was my grandson.”

Pausing for a moment, Trenton then continued, “However, you’d be hurt much more than I’ll be if this second son of yours, Jack also died, am I right? By then, you’d only be left with a daughter, Yule! Haha!”

Quentin, knowing that Trenton hated Nash to the core and that Trenton had tried his best to butter up to him, wanting to get into the Hunt family’s good books, he chimed in sarcastically, “That’s right. If that’s the case, Master White will truly be in a miserable situation. I still have my eldest son, while you’ll be left with none!”

Master Church even added on with a smile, “Didn’t that daughter of his also join the competition? What would he do if she also died in the forest? He might have to go home and hurry up in making babies. Otherwise, his line of descent would genuinely end!”

Nash’s face darkened, baffled as to how these three family masters would gang up on him and speak in such an unscrupulous manner in front of everyone.

Noticing his bitter expression, Trenton continued to throw jabs at him and sneered, “Is something wrong? Master White, we’re just joking here, and the competitors aren’t even out yet. Could it be that you’re really afraid? You can’t even take a joke?”

Nash glared at the other party fiercely and said, “Trenton Lagorio, you’ve also said that the competitors haven’t come out yet. How would you know that my son is dead? It is true that my son’s combat power isn’ tas strong as some geniuses, and that his fighting prowess is also slightly lower compared to some geniuses, but the forest is huge and Kobe Mountain is vast as well. He might not have bumped into those strong masters. As long as he’s careful, I know he’ll walk out alive!”

Nash glanced at the light dome at this point and continued to say, “My daughter, Yule, would definitely come out alive as well!”

Suddenly, several people were hurled out from the light dome and accidentally fell to the ground as they were not on their guard.

“Oh my, they’ve come out. They truly have come out. Surprising how they’re all just hurled out like that!”

Chapter 1421

A man stood up and rubbed his butt before looking at the crowd in front of him. At this moment, many competitors were also thrown out of the spiral.

Some of them who reacted in time immediately activated their Chi to help them land smoothly. Those who reacted slightly slower, on the other hand, landed straight on the ground in an embarrassing manner.

“Haha… Haiden, I knew you’d be alive. Quickly, come to me, my beloved grandson!” The Second Elder of the Zachary family was delighted when he saw that his grandson had emerged unscathed

Haiden rubbed his butt and dusted himself before walking toward him. With a bitter smile, he spoke, “I’m alive, but my luck was really bad. I didn’t get many tokens!”

“Forget about the tokens, they’re not that important. The most important thing is how many people are alive right now. From the light spots on this light dome, we can deduce that almost half of the people in this competition have died.” Emotions overwhelmed the Second Elder of the Zachary family. Although his grandson was quite strong and was in the intermediate stage of the true god level, there were a couple of freaks who joined this competition. Some of those people had extremely high combat power, hence he was slightly worried, even though Haiden was talented.

“So many have died? Sigh… I wonder how many from our Zachary family are alive.” Haiden sighed as he despondently watched on as more people were hurled out from the spiral.

Many of the family masters tightened their fists as they waited anxiously.

Spotting Yule’s figure not long after, Titus turned to Nash and excitedly exclaimed, “Yule has come out!”

“Yes, I see her! I see her!” Nash was slightly at ease when he saw Yule coming out. There were quite a few geniuses from the White family who came out beside Yule, and a dozen of them slowly emerged.

However, he was still slightly worried. After all, 400 people from each family joined the competition, and only a dozen had returned at the moment. He had no idea what to expect next “Beth has returned too!” added Titus happily upon spotting Beth.

Kenneth was overwhelmed with delight when he saw his daughter coming out. “Beth, come here!” he gushed.

Beth quickly flew toward him when she saw them. “Father!”

Kenneth immediately asked,” Where’s Jack? Did you see him? Is he still alive?”

Nash and the others also looked at Beth, unable to control their anxiety as they anticipated news of Jack.

Chapter 1422

Beth rolled her eyes at everybody when she saw how impatient they were and said," Why are you guys so impatient? Isn't he coming out soon? Goodness gracious!"

"He's coming out soon?" Nash was stunned before an ecstatic expression appeared on his face. "What great news! This means that my son is fine, and he's coming out soon!"

After he finished speaking, Nash -unable to contain his excitement-walked toward Trenton and gloated, "Did you hear that? Our geniuses told us Jack is fine upon returning here. Nothing happened to him, and he's coming out shortly!'

"How… How is that possible?" Trenton frowned in disbelief. Did Jack not join the last huge battle, or was this guy a coward that he hid somewhere during the last couple of days to wait for the competition to end?

Sure enough, a figure was sent flying outward at this moment and almost fell to the ground. He quickly focused his Chi at his feet and landed slowly on the ground.

"This is great, Young Master Jack has returned!" Many of the elders and patronums from the White family were delighted. Jack's talents were greatly recognized by them.

Jack was the beacon of hope among the White family's younger generation. Many people looked forward to having him being their next family master, and he had gained the support of many.

If Jack died during the competition, that would be a huge loss for the White family.

"How's this possible? This guy truly had walked out unscathed!" The family master of the Hunt family, Quentin Hunt immediately glowered in disbelief, momentarily at a loss for words.

He suspected that it was indeed Jack who killed his second son and was aided by Helena. After all, his son had some contradictions with them previously. Initially, his son did not want to join the competition as he felt that it was meaningless, and Tyrell only decided to join the competition after the squabble between him and Jack happened.

Hence, there was a large possibility that his suspicions were true.

If Jack was still alive, that meant that Cloud had not avenged Tyrell yet.

“Could it be somebody else?” Old Master Hunt, who was standing at the side, could not help but frown as he secretly guessed. After all, none of them knew for sure what happened inside.

The First Elder of the Hunt family thought about it and spoke, “There were so many people in that forest. I refuse to believe that none of them knew nor saw how the second young master died!”

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

As more and more people were thrown out of the dome, Jack slowly walked toward his Family

However, Jack was stopped by Alejandro just before he got to his father.

“What’s wrong? Is there anything Master Cabello needs?” Jack frowned. It was known that the relationship between these two families had been strained all along.

Alejandro immediately smiled embarrassingly and asked,” Jack, you’re dating Helena, right? Have you seen the three of them there? Do you know about their current situation?”

Jack could see how worried Alejandro was about his three daughters. Perhaps this was the love of a father.

He smiled and said, “Don’t worry -all three of them are well and alive. Nothing happened to them!”

“Great! It’s great that they’re all alive!” Alejandro stepped a couple of steps back and gave way to Jack after he received the news. The burden that weighed his heart was removed at last.

After all, half of the people who joined this competition were dead even though his three daughters were talented. His worries were unavoidable as too many people had died. He was most worried about Daniella, as her fighting prowess was only at the initial stage of the true God level.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1423-1425

Chapter 1423

Jack’s words had very much assured and calmed Alejandro.

True to his word, Helena and the others were thrown out one after another not long after.

Some time later, about 100 to 200 members of the Cabello family, White family, and Lancaster family had come out.

“I heard that Tyrell Hunt had died?” Nash asked Jack when the latter stood before him.

Jack smiled and spoke, “Let’s talk about the details after we go back. Some of the people from the other families might cry due to anger soon.”

Nash nodded; talking about what happened at that place was not the best idea to do. It would be bad if people from the other families around them overheard them, even if they spoke softly.

“Cry due to anger?” Nash was stunned though was delighted as he realized something.

They were able to notice some things from the light dome previously. The people from the Hunt family seemed to have formed an organization with people from some families and were killing geniuses from the other families.

However, it looked like their opportunities to do so failed eventually

“This is weird. Why are the only ones returning from our family so few?” The members of the Norman family started to panic when they saw that not many of their people had returned while many of them from the White family, Cabello family, and other families had returned.

Everybody started to worry, especially when none of the family master’s three sons came out.

Time slowly passed. Some third-class aristocratic families were delighted as they had around 300 people remaining, while those who only had around 100 people left had darkened expressions on their faces.

The light dome gradually darkened as well, which meant that almost everyone inside had come out.

“Impossible!” Finally, Trenton could not hold it back anymore. Up until that moment, only about | two dozen people out of the 400 contestants from the Lagorio family who entered had returned. From the proportion, it was obvious that many of their members had died.

His glower was dark, bitter, and spiteful.

“Why hasn’t Cloud come out yet?” Quentin was equally irate. Not only did Cloud not come out yet, but only a dozen of the Hunt family’s geniuses had returned a this moment. The situation, no doubt, looked bleak.

After a while, the First Elder of the Hunt family reminded Quentin with a frown on his face, “Master, there are only a dozen light spots left on the light screen.”

Obviously, only around a dozen people had not returned.

“Don’t speak about it!” Quentin tightened his fists and gritted his teeth.

After around ten seconds, the remaining people had come out. The White family had around 300 people left while the Lancaster family and the Cabello family also had about 300 people. Only a few dozen of their people had died yet, compared to the other families, the situation of these three families was obviously better.

Even the Zachary family and the Ximenes family were in a neither good nor bad situation as about 200 of their members had returned “Impossible! Why… Why hasn’t Cloud come out?” Old Master Hunt shook his head continuously after the light screen disappeared, unable to comprehend the truth. He knew all too well about Cloud’s fighting prowess and combat power. He could be considered as the best among the younger generations, yet he did not come out.

Nash could not help but feel amused by what Quentin said previously. He stepped forward and persuaded the latter, “Master Hunt, we’re sorry for your loss, but please accept what has been fated. You mentioned previously that this is quite normal. The young people can only grow after they experience the baptism of blood!”

Chapter 1424

The corners of Quentin’s mouth twitched uncontrollably a couple of times, and his facial expression contorted uglily upon hearing Nash's words. Quentin was mocking others just moments ago, never once thinking what went around would come around.

"Master Lagorio, your family seemed to have suffered a serious loss this time as well!"

"By the way, why does the Church family only have so few people left? All three of your families are big families!" Shelby could not help but step forward and started mocking the other family when she recalled how they gloated and paraded themselves moments ago.

"Impossible! I'm sure that Cloud is still alive! I'm sure of it!" yelled Quentin loudly after mulling over his thoughts. Eyes slowly reddening, he could not accept the fact that his eldest son had also died. He even struggled to recover from Tyrell's death, and his heart had only started to feel better. Never did he see it coming that his eldest son had also died.

One of the elders from the Hunt family wore a grieving expression as he stepped forward and said, "Master, everyone is out now. This formation and the light screen had also disappeared. The young master has…"

"Master, this… This…" Trenton also stepped forward. Apart from the grieving expression on his face, he was also in disbelief. How could the union between the geniuses from three families fail to topple their opponents? Worse still, their three families had suffered such a huge loss. Although these three families had many geniuses, it was still difficult for them to accept that more than 300 top-tier geniuses had died in one occasion.

"What about this? I didn't expect something like this to happen either!" Quentin glared at Trenton angrily, inwardly facepalming at how insensible this guy was. What would they do if the other families realized their plans based on what he said?

However, Jack stood forward at this moment and humored, "Master Hunt, I think an explanation is required from you about certain things."

“Explanation? What do I need to explain?” Quentin’s facial expression contorted into bitterness and pale anger. He was in grief as both of his sons had just died, and he suspected that Jack and Helena were the ones who did it. After all, Helena was incredibly beautiful, and she needed only to bewitch his son and look for an opportunity to sneakily attack him, mortally wounding his son. There was a huge possibility of his son being killed if the two of them attacked him together.

It shocked him that this Jack would talk to him in such an interrogative way.

Jack smiled coldly as he challenged the other party, “Haha… When we were fighting inside, some of us heard about how members of your family wanted to work together with people from the Lagorio family and Church family to kill geniuses from other families. Isn’t that a bit overboard? Apart from that, we keep bumping into people from these three families attacking our people. They worked together to kill those who were isolated!”

“So that’s what this is about. Quentin Hunt, isn’t this a bit too much? Did you guys agree earlier before this to work together and attack our people?” Darryl Norman had been extremely angry as many from his family had died, including his three sons. How could he not get angry when almost half of the contestants from their family had died? He suspected at that moment that all three of his sons had died because of this prearrangement!

“That’s right! You’re crossing the line if you people had colluded since early on! You’ve caused so many of our people to die!” Many people from other families also stood forward and expressed their protest.

“How can you call this a competition? I think you people just want to work together and kill the geniuses of our family, aren’t you?”

Chapter 1425

Alejandro from the Cabello family spoke his mind in anger.

“I hope you’ll be able to offer us a decent explanation, Master Hunt!” persisted Nash.

Jack was appeased when he saw how the people from the Hunt family had instigated everybody there.

Guessing that Quentin would have been pissed and angry because both his sons had died, Jack believed he would have also questioned what happened during the tournament and would search for the killer. Even if he could not kill the person at this moment, Quentin would not simply let it go.

However, Jack's prompt action of questioning him before he could do anything had forced Quentin into a state of passivity.

"Explanation, my foot!" growled Quentin instantaneously as he slapped his thigh. "We've never had such thoughts. If that's the case, why are so many members from our families dead? If you aren't prepared and our three families have united, more of your people should be dead compared to ours, as all of you were isolated in the beginning!"

Trenton turned his hate-filled glare toward Jack and scoffed, "Don't make up such slanderous charges, Jack. I'll let you know that you're going to face retribution for saying such things!"

"Retribution?" Jack smiled coldly and added, "There are so many people from different families and so many contestants. They know very well about the situation they have faced. If I'm making things up, it's impossible that everyone is implying the same thing, no?"

Helena immediately stood forward and angrily rebuked, "Master Lagorio, are you with a guilty conscience? Let me tell you: Many members from our family had faced the murderous hunt from the geniuses of your families! Your people even killed those who handed their tokens willingly and surrendered!"

"That's true! The members of our West family had also met with many of such situations. I was lucky to be alive because I managed to escape, and that's even a struggle!" a young man from the West family chimed in as he stood forward.

"That's right. Our people also faced the same thing!"

“Yes, this is too much!”

The geniuses from the other families came forward and expressed their utter fury. It was natural that they were unhappy as they felt that they had been schemed against by others who had a headstart in a competition

Those third or second-class reclusive families were especially furious.

“Master Lagorio, what else needs to be said? It looks like my son isn’t the one making slanderous charges, right?” Nash smiled coldly as he looked at the other party. Although the Hunt family was strong, all other families apart from the Church and Lagorio families-were on their side. This made him more confident when he spoke. After all, these three families could not go against so many families, could they? If everybody cooperated, these three families would be no match for them collectively.

“How would I have known about this? Anyway, our families never had such discussions before the competition in secret!” Trenton immediately replied without much confidence, flustered and guilty. “Anyway, I don’t know about this. What is this actually about? Apart from that, why would so many of our people die if that was the case? This doesn’t make sense!”

Chapter 1426-1428

Chapter 1426

“We’re alive because we Noticed everything much earlier, and we got lucky!” said the smiling Jack.

“That’s right!” Daniella crossed her arms at her chest a s she challenged, “This competition of yours has gone overboard, and it must’ve all been premeditated!”

“Master Hunt, I hope that you can give us an explanation! None of my three sons came out! None of them!” Darryl, overtaken with fury, wanted nothing more than to rush forward and fight, and he was only held back because his deep -seated conscience told him he was no match for the man before him.

“How would I know how your son died? My sons are dead, and so many members of the Hunt family are dead. This is too weird!” Master Hunt stomped his feet in anger. He then said to the many competitors who survived the competition, “Do any of you know what actually happened? I’d understand that my second son has died; I’ll presume that it’s because he wasn’t really skilled. My eldest son on the other hand had pills with him t o increase his fighting prowess, and he even had a speed-enhancing rune, the Divine Traveling Rune. He has such a high fighting prowess, and his combat power is comparable to the Peak stage o f true-god level. Who on earth I s strong enough to kill him?”

“We truly know not about it, Master Hunt!” exclaimed members of the West family immediately.

“That’s right, we didn’t see both young masters of the Hunt family when we were in there. How would we have known that they died?!” insisted a genius from the Zachary family. “On that note, we hope that Master Hunt won’t change the topic of the conversation. Please answer our question as to why you and the other two families would unite and go against our families. You guys must’ve planned everything out much earlier than this!”

Quentin had no idea what to say at that moment. He wanted to get the person who killed his sons out and whip the person’s dead body to resolve the hatred in his heart.

However, he had to face the inquiry of so many people here.

He closed his eyes as he clenched his fists tightly. After some time, he exhaled deeply.” Firstly, I have to clarify that all three of our families had never discussed nor planned anything about uniting and killing people from other families. I assume the reason they did that was because their friendship had grown during the competition, and that they felt they would fare better in fighting against the others when they band together.”

Quentin paused here before he continued, “With that being said, this was something the competitors conceived impromptu, and it has nothing to do with our families, and no way was it premeditated!”

“That’s right! This was something they thought of at the spur of the moment, not something premeditated!” Trenton immediately went along and said, “It’s normal for our younger generations to have united, considering the relationship between our families had been well all this time. For example, the White family has a better relationship with the Lancaster family, so their prodigies must’ve teamed up to fight against their enemies as well. Apart from that, the Ximenes family and the Zachary family also have a good relationship!”

Master Church also nodded and said, “Exactly-this is all a normal, much expected behavior. I urge everyone to have no ill thoughts about the matter!”

Quentin glanced at Master Norman again before he spoke. “Master Norman, I felt that extreme heartache that all three of your sons had died inside. However, these are the rules of the competition. We had agreed that surviving and dying in the competition are personal responsibilities. If they have perished, no one can look into it after they come out, right? I do not plan to look into it, even though my son is dead!”

“That is true. Let’s not think about what happened inside. The situation had gotten to this point, no matter what happened in that forest.” At this moment, Old Master Hunt stepped forward. Although he was heartbroken, they were the ones who set these rules. Apart from that, they purposely stressed the rules because they thought that their people would surely win. How could they embarrass themselves at this moment? So many geniuses had died, including his two grandsons. Those who died would not come back alive. It was not worth being on the receiving end of the ridicule.

“What Old Master Hunt said is right; let bygones be bygones. I believe that your Hunt family wouldn’t do such a despicable thing,” said Master Ximenes as he stood forward, thoughts mulled over. “Since the competition has ended, it’s time to calculate the tokens. Let’s distribute the rewards for this competition based on the ranking. How about that?”

“Master Ximenes is right, let’s calculate them.” The visibly crestfallen Quentin felt waves of heartache at that moment.

As everybody calculated the tokens, Quentin helplessly turned to the Hunt family's First Elder and muttered," First Elder, I feel that Cloud isn't dead. His secret technique … I can still feel the connection with him in my body!"

"There's still a connection? He's surely alive, then!" The First Elder of the Hunt family was over the moon when he heard this and continued, "I'm sure the other party left because they thought that the eldest young master was dead.

He must've survived and played dead back there. Haha… He's probably still in that forest!"

"That's right! Why didn't I think about that? You should bring a few men to go search inside. Find Cloud, do you understand?" Quentin's eyes lit up as he was inwardly delighted. It was feasible enough. What if his son still had not died or was acting dead?

The First Elder immediately brought a group of people as they rushed over to search for their eldest young master.

Jack immediately frowned when heard this, though he relieved himself at the thought Cloud was genuinely dead. After all, he did cut Cloud into two halves with his sword, and Quentin was probably thinking his son survived due to that secret technique of his that made it such that he was still in connection with the eldest young master. Jack estimated that the technique might have malfunctioned on him.

Helena and Daniella, on the other hand, were worried silly when they heard this. They were anxious. Would they not b e in trouble if Jack did not end Cloud's life for certain, and that he managed to survive after all?

Never did the two ladies expect that Quentin had caught their frowns and worried expression. He could not help but frown and his heart immediately dropped.

Quentin felt that his son's death definitely had something to do with Helena. Why else would she be so worried and Nervous when she heard that Cloud was still alive?

Not long after, the calculation o f the tokens was completed.

The top-three of the individual category were Jack, Helena and Randall. The White family triumphed in first place in the family category, followed by the Lancaster family, and then the Cabello family!

The Norman family, Hunt family, Church family and the Lagorio family had a very, very low position in both the individual and family categories.

However, they did not care much about the ranking as the geniuses who died in this competition had caused them enough grief.

"Unbelievable! The White family managed to get first place in both the individual and group categories!" Titus, Kenneth, and the others were overjoyed. The White family had truly shone in the competition.

Chapter 1428

"The White family has made a great earning this time. Who would've thought they would snag two first-place positions!"

"That's right. It's like the saying, 'You can't judge a person by appearance, just as you can't judge riches by measurement.' The White family's young master is truly favored by the gods. He managed to get first place with his intermediate stage of true God level's fighting prowess, and he had gotten so many tokens!"

“He might’ve been lucky. After all, this competition is about finding tokens, and there’s no need to fight with others. I’m sure that he wouldn’t be able to fight the other freaks who are I n the final stage of the truegod level!” Many of the people surrounding them also started t o discuss among themselves.

Darryl then came forward toward Quentin and, thinking I t through, asked, “Master Hunt, do you truly think the eldest young master isn’t dead? If he wasn’t, the formation would’ve sent him out, right?”

Quentin nodded and said, “ There’s still such a possibility. This is the first time we’ve used this formation, and there’s a possibility that it failed to sense him. Apart from that, what if my son pretended to be dead? What I can confirm right now is that the connection between me and Cloud is still obviously there. The connection will always be there if I don’t cut it off or if he’s truly dead.”

Quentin looked at the forest in front of him at this moment and continued, “Regardless of that, the close connection is still there, and this means he’s definitely alive!”

“There might be a possibility that the formation failed to sense him? Maybe it can’t sense those who are badly hurt?” Darryl also frowned before his eyes lit up faintly. He then turned around and yelled t o their First Elder, “First Elder, First Elder! Bring some people with you and go in for a search. See if you can find some of the Norman family’s geniuses and I f my three sons are still alive. Nobody had ever used this formation previously, and this I s the first time it’s used. It might not have accurately detected everyone’s status in that forest!”

“Alright, alright! I’ll bring some people in for a search!” The eyes of the Norman family’s First Elder also lit up when he heard this. His grandson had died inside, and I t would be best if what Darryl said was true. What if his grandson was still alive?

“It’s like what I’ve said: how could so many people be dead? There might be people who weren’t sent out because the formation can’t sense them!” rushed the master of a family. Around half of the contestants from their family had died, and such a matter was somewhat unacceptable.

Many of the families sent people in for a search after they heard this.

“Jack, should we send somebody in for a search?” Nash glanced at Jack. He believed that what was shown on the screen was definitely correct. The spots that disappeared one after another surely meant deaths.

Jack thought about it and said softly, “Yes, send some people in as a ruse.”

Nash nodded and pretentiously sent people in to search.

The Cabellos and Lancasters also sent some people in for a search when they saw that the White had sent some people into the forest

Since everybody had gone in for a search, none of them were impolite enough to leave. Jack also could not tell Nash o n the spot that he was the one who killed all three young masters of the Norman family and both young masters from the Hunt family. With that, everyone else had to wait out there.

About two to three days later, those who went in to search for possible survivors had returned, though with dispirited expressions as they came out fruitless.

“Impossible; I can still feel the connection. Could there be something wrong with this secret technique of mine?” Quentin still could not believe that his eldest son had died. He shook his head continuously when he received the report from the First Elder and the others.

“Master, let’s face the truth. W e… We found the eldest young master’s body and it…it had been separated into two halves. He can’t be alive!”

Chapter 1429-1432

Chapter 1429

The First Elder sighed as he helplessly explained.

Quentin was so infuriated that he gritted his teeth. His figure shook in anger as growled," Argh!"

However, nobody expected Jack to fly upward at that moment and became the person that caught everybody's attention.

Quentin looked at Jack and questioned him, "Jack, why did you fly up? Do you know who killed my son?"

Jack looked at him and said," I'm sorry for your loss, Master Hunt. Those who are dead can't come back alive, and you said this yourself that this is the competitions' rule. Everybody has to bear the consequences no matter what it is, am I right?"

"You…" Quentin was furious but he also did not know what to say. These were the words he repeatedly told everybody.

"Then why else did you fly up, young man? Do you want to get everybody's attention?" questioned Trenton as he pointed at Jack. His family had lost a large number of prodigies, and the thought of it embittered them.

"I flew up because I want to inform everyone about something everybody wants to know!" replied Jack, smiling a s he did. "We discovered something wonderful back there, and this might be related to finding ways to breakthrough into the ultimate god level!"

"Really?" Many people had excitement written in their eyes. Those who were in the final stage and peak stage of the true-god level were especially excited.

Even the originally grieving Master Hunt and Master Norman also had a glint of something different in their eyes.

“Young man, this is greatly related, and you can’t simply make things up!” The First Elder of the Cabello family was just as invigorated. He was looking forward to Jack telling them something useful, but also feared what he would say instead would be garbage.

“That’s right, young man. So many of us had never found anything viable over the years, yet you suddenly found one? Are you boasting?” Trenton had a cold smile on his face, not believing Jack had found something useful.

“Don’t worry. How would I dare say something like this if I’m not certain about it?” Jack glanced at the other party coldly before he addressed the crowd, “Have everyone noticed that there was a pattern in the sky of the screen previously? That pattern was like a map of our Cathysia. As for those seven flashing light spots, I asked Helena and the others about those spots with different colors… Everybody said that those positions were the same positions as the seven dangerous places!”

“Brother Jack, are you saying that there might be secrets about the ultimate god level in the seven dangerous places?” gushed Randall in utter excitement.

“That’s right!” Jack nodded before he spoke, sure of himself, “Apart from that, I feel that the possibility is greater than normal! The seven dangerous places definitely have secrets about the ultimate god level!”

Chapter 1430

A family master was inwardly shocked when he recalled it.“ Yes, it does look like that pattern is the map of our Cathysia. We didn’t look too much into it before, but they do match now that we think about it!”

“Yes, the seven dangerous places are very well-known, and not many escape to tell the tale of those dangerous places! Although there are precious items inside those places, none of us dare to truly enter them!”

Another woman thought about it and nodded. “We searched for many places but failed to obtain any news about the ultimate god level. Could it be possible that the items related t o the ultimate god level are in these seven dangerous places?”

“That’s right. We’ve never traversed the deeper areas of these dangerous places. Is something in there, though? Goodness. Should we go have a try? Although it’s difficult for those with the semi-god level fighting prowess to survive after entering, that’s because none of those in the true-god Level had entered the area. Wouldn’t it be much better if a large number of us, and best if they have the true god level fighting prowess, enter the area?” The First Elder of the Cabello family already looked like he wanted to leave.

It was obvious that he had long wanted to breakthrough into the ultimate god level, seeing a s he was rather old and that his fighting prowess had achieved the peak stage of the true-god level since long ago. Based on legends, he would achieve another 200 years worth of life if there truly was a way for him to break through and achieve the ultimate god level.

“First Elder Cabello, don’t be duped by this young man!” Unexpectedly, the Hunt family’s old master smiled coldly at this moment as he added, “I think this young man is making silly guesses and is unreliable. He might want to deceive us old people into entering dangerous places and let us die inside when we do that! After all, none of us clearly know how dangerous that place is!”

First Elder Cabello’s face instantly darkened when he heard this. He then asked Jack, “Young man, how can we trust you about things you simply say without any evidence?”

“Haha!” Jack chuckled abruptly. “I wouldn’t say something if I truly have no evidence. Yes, these are my assumptions, but there are still some basis to them.”

Everybody looked at Jack in silence as if they awaited his explanation. Even if Jack was just making an induction, they also hoped that he could give them much more reasonable facts to increase their confidence.

Jack took a moment before he continued, “Everybody, think about it. The book from First Elder Cabello and the legend tells of the ultimate god level. Apart from that, the presence o f the names of the third-grade pills, fourth-grade spirited grass, and others are proof of the ultimate god fighting prowess’ truthfulness! This formation, on the other hand, I s truly ancient, which means that it was left behind by people many years ago. It seems like it's going to, and wants to, tell us something, but it's been too long and these stone pillars had been destroyed for certain reasons t o cover up some things!"

Everybody nodded after they heard this. After all, what Jack said seemed to have proved something-the truthfulness o f the ultimate god level.

Quentin thought about it and said, "How about this: I think w e should all return and take a rest, seeing as the competition had just ended. Regarding the seven dangerous places containing secrets about the ultimate god level, let's come back and discuss this a month later. What do you say? After all, every family has lost quite a lot of people, and I'm sure some family masters and elders are rather despondent right now. Everybody should regain their mental fortitude during this time and try their best to breakthrough in terms o f fighting prowess. What do you say if we agree on a location to discuss this matter one month after this?"

"I think it's well-thought-out. It's decided then. Well, since the Cabello family is in the middle position, everybody can come to our place for a discussion a month from now and decide on it. What do you guys think?" Alejandro proactively proposed after thinking about it.

"Haha…" Quentin chuckled before he concluded, "Alright, it's decided then!"

"Alright, let's all leave."

Chapter 1431

The family masters gradually left with their families.

"Father, Jack is my best friend. Can I go for a trip to the White family and come backt o the Cabello family next…next month?" begged Daniella hesitantly after they walked a short distance away. "Oh, yes, my eldest sister can follow us. Jack saved our lives during the competition, right? He's also your boyfriend! Don't you want to go?"

Daniella purposely mentioned Helena in fear that her father, Alejandro would be suspicious and would stop her from leaving.

Helena was embarrassed as she noticed Daniella was deeply involved. Her sister wanted to follow Jack just moments after leaving him. She was too clingy for her own good.

However, Helena could only play along as she smiled at Alejandro. “Father, shall we go out on a trip? Let’s take this as a way to relax. What do you think?”

“The White family is our enemy. You two…” Alejandro wanted to remind his two daughters just like how he did before, but he trailed off halfway.

As he thought of what to say next, he spoke, “It’s best if the two of you don’t follow them. I know that Helena pretended to say that Jack was her boyfriend to reject Tyrell; any person who knew what was going on could tell. Still, I never thought Jack would choose to keep quiet and even pretend along to help you. This young man had really done something good!”

Helena frowned. It looked like she would not be able to visit the White family with Daniella.

Alejandro’s heart suddenly stopped when he saw Helena’s expression. “Goodness, Helena,” he uttered, “you’re thinking about going to the White family? Have you genuinely fallen for the young man from the White family?”

Panicked, Helena hurriedly denied, “No! How’s that possible? The time that I know him isn’t even as long as Daniella did. It’s just that he saved our lives during the competition and even saved the lives of many of our prodigies, so we treat him as a great friend!”

Venus, who was by their side, also jumped in instinctively and said, “Father, don’t you think that we should ease the relationship between both families a little? After all, it’s easy to make enemies but hard to resolve them, right? Those involved during what happened years ago had died, and it’s quite normal for somebody to kill to snatch precious items, right?”

“I…” Alejandro had such a thought for a long time but he could not let go of his pride. He had stood firm on this matter all along.

“Master, Young Master Jack truly saved us. Why don’t we just let go of what happened many years ago?” implored a young genius from the Cabello family.

“That’s right, Master! Let it g o!” Several young geniuses also stood forward.

“Alright, alright!” Alejandro smiled bitterly as he took a couple of second-grade elementary level spirited grass out with a flip of his hand and passed it to Helena. “You and Daniella can go catch up to them. Tell them that what happened between our families has been resolved. This is a token of appreciation for Jack assisting the Cabellos.”

Chapter 1432

“That’s the spirit, Father! You’ve finally figured it out. We’ll definitely improve the relationship between our families!” Daniella exchanged glances with Helena after hearing Alejandro’s verdict before taking the items from him. She held Helena’s hands and went running where Jack and the others left.

Stunned, Alejandro watched as both beautiful figures slowly faded from his view. “What’s going on? Why does Daniella seem to be more excited than Helena?”

Venus, who was by his side, had a weird expression on her face as she smiled and said, “It might be because Daniella is more playful and is thinking of going out to play!”

Many chuckled upon hearing her words.

After they travelled some distance away, Alejandro asked, “Alright, Venus, now that we’ve traveled so far, I have a question for you…”

Unexpectedly, Venus interrupted Alejandro before he could finish, “Father, I know what you want to ask. Let’s wait till we get home.”

“Alright.” Alejandro nodded embarrassingly with an awkward smile on his face.

Jack and the others slowly left Kobe Mountain on foot to not raise the suspicion of the Hunts or let them know he had an ultimate-grade spiritual tool.

Plagued by his curiosity, Titus then spoke up, “By the way, Young Master Jack, is it true that nobody knows who killed both young masters of the Hunt family and the three young masters of the Norman family? More importantly, the two young masters of the Hunt family, that is, considering they have extraordinary combat power. It’s rather hard to digest!”

Unexpectedly, Jack smiled mysteriously and confessed, “I’m the one who killed them.”

“Haha! How can that be? You’re pulling our leg, Young Master Jack!” Titus laughed in disbelief. However, he soon frowned and said, “Did you? Had Helena seduced those people and wounded them badly before you gave them the fatal blow? If that’s the case, you truly have passed the death sentence on them!”

Jack looked at this old man, momentarily at a loss for words, before he spoke, “Housekeeper White, I have to admire your imagination as you can think of something like this. Do you think that the first young mistress of the Cabello family is such a person?”

“That’s right. Housekeeper White. What are you talking about? Do I look like that kind of person?” The two of them did not expect their conversation to be overheard by Helena and Daniella, who had just caught up with them. Helena immediately rolled her eyes at him, rather stunned at his random guess.

“Oh my… Speaking…speaking of the devil! It looks like we should never talk about somebody behind their backs!” Titus had a smile written over his face as he spoke. “Firstly, I have such thoughts because the First Young Master Hunt had a high fighting prowess and strong combat power. Secondly, it’s because Miss Helena is much more beautiful compared to the others and is extremely talented to boot!”

“Hmph! Don’t think I’ll forgive you just because you praise me for my beauty!” Helena pretended to be angry as crossed her arms at her chest.

“By the way, ladies, the two of you are…”

Chapter 1433

The second elder faintly froze, then jokingly said, "It can't be that you can't let go of our young master, and that's why they are catching up, right?"

Once Helena and Daniella heard this, the two beauties couldn't help but have slightly red cheeks.

"Not at all!"

Daniella tilted her head, then took out the spirit grass and handed it to Nash: "By the way, Master White, my father said, this time In the competition, Jack saved our lives. Moreover, Jack also helped my sister to resolve the crisis. So looking at all of these things, the previous feud between the two families, hopefully, can be dissipated, and these are from my father's heart, as a thank you to Jack!"

"Oh, I really didn't expect that your father would become so polite!"

Nash had actually stopped hating the other party a long time ago. It was just that the other party targeted him at every turn, and sometimes he had to hit back at the other party, so that the people of their family wouldn't be too tolerant.

He took the spirit grass and put it away, then smiled: "Good, good, our two families' hatred can dissipate. I hope our two families can build more friendship in the future!"

"Hey hey, right, it just so happens that while we were in competition, we were quite stressed. My sister and I intend to go to your White family for a stroll, as a break. After all, Jack and ourselves can be classed as good friends, right? You will not mind, right?"

Daniella asked with a smile as she put her hands behind her back.

"Oh, I can't wait, I can't wait for the two of you to visit our house, this is something I can't wait for!"

Nash laughed, he is not stupid, it seems like Jack’s relationships between the two girls was not like the relationship of ordinary friends. Otherwise, after sending the spirit grass, they should go back, so why do they still want to come visit our home?

"Could it be that Helena and Jack, as a fake couple, slowly developed real feelings?"

Finally, Nash thought secretly in his heart that he thought it was a great possibility. It should be that Helena would like Jack, but if she came alone, she was afraid of being seen. After all, the two were pretending to be lovers. If this was seen, she would be embarrassed at that time, so she called Daniella to come with her. If that was the case, it made sense.

"Second elder, the Hunt family young master was really killed by Jack, his combat power is too strong, you guys don't underestimate him!"

Helena looked at the White family second elder, said: "But you rest assured, we will certainly keep it a secret. Although this is known by more people, paper can not cover the fire, I'm afraid that sooner or later, the Hunt's will know, but we certainly will not say anything. At that time, maybe the White family will develop and surpass their Hunt family!"

"Beyond the Hunt family? Oh, this is too difficult, too difficult, we do not dare to think so! To be acknowledged as one of the Eight Shadow Families is already a great ambition!"

Nash was very modest, after he finished speaking, he looked at Jack again, wanting to confirm again, "Jack, did you really kill that Young Master Hunt?"

"Dad, really one-on-one, it's hard for me to be his opponent, it was mainly with the help of my sword. This is what happened....."

Jack then briefly explained what happened.

"So that's how it is, fortunately you have a very high quality spiritual weapon, the speed of the flying sword is also fast enough to delay the time, so that Cloud suffered the backlash of that elixir, which, come to think of it, is too thrilling!"

After everyone knew what was going on, Nash and the others only then had a burst of clarity in their hearts. Jack's combat power, indeed, was so much weaker than the Hunt family's young master, if it wasn't for Helena teaming up to attack at the beginning, plus the flying sword delaying time later, it would have been impossible to come out alive.

"However, I feel that if I were to fight the young master of the Hunt family again now, he should not be my opponent at all!"

Jack, at this time, actually smiled slightly and said with confidence. "Even if now the people of the Hunt family know that I killed him, our White family is not easy to bully anymore!"

Chapter 1434

Hearing Jack's words, everyone was shocked!

Jack actually said that it is not a problem to deal with Young Master Hunt alone now?

After thinking about it, Nash suddenly thought of a possibility and said with some excitement, "Jack, could it be that you have broken through?"

All the Elders and others, one by one, sucked in a breath of cold air. They could remember, Jack seemed to have broken through to the middle stage of the True God Realm, and it had not been a few months. His combat power was already comparable to a strong person at the late stage of the True God Realm.

If, after only a few months, Jack has broken through again, then his talent is too good to be true.

Moreover, if Jack breaks through to the late True God realm, plus with the ultimate grade spiritual weapon increasing his attack power, then Jack's combat power is comparable to someone in the Peak of True God Realm! In that case, not only would he not be afraid of Young Master Hunt, but Cloud would not even be his opponent!

"No way! You've broken through again?"

The faces of both Daniella and Helena also revealed a look of surprise as they each looked at Jack in disbelief.

In the crowd's expectant eyes, Jack smiled blandly, then nodded: "I have broken through, and moreover, I can now refine a second-grade low-level pill, and I am considered a second-grade low-level alchemist."

"My goodness, no way, a second grade alchemist, this, this is something!"

The First Elder's voice was trembling with excitement.

"Oh my god, great. Great! In the future, our White family will definitely become stronger and stronger!"

"Yes! Now his cultivation level is already at the late True God Realm and his combat power is comparable to the peak of the True God realm, in that case, our White family will have almost three people in the peak of True God realm. We are now no longer the bottom of the Eight Shadow Families but we are in the top tier!"

The other masters of the White family, after hearing the good news, were all extremely excited.

"Master White, did you hear that? The second young master is already a second grade low level alchemist, a second grade alchemist! With this our White family has hope to surpass the Hunt family!" Titus was excited, his voice trembling. He really did not expect the Jack's alchemy talent was so amazing.

"Haha, I heard it, I heard it!"

Nash then laughed out loud, this excellent young man in front of him, that is Nash White's son. He really wanted to tell the world about it.

He thought about it before saying, "If we have a second-class pill, in the future when our disciples want to break through to the early True God realm and the middle True God realm or something, it will be even easier. And this time our White family did not experience much death and injury, we also got a lot of spiritual herbs, plus this time we also got the main prize, the harvest is too big!"

After thinking about it, the First Elder said: "Right, Master White, I suggest this month, our White family people do not have to go out to look for cultivation materials, with so many cultivation resources we can issue them out to the family. Then everyone can focus on cultivation and we can gain major improvements in the next month."

Nash also nodded: "Yes! Our family reaped a lot of benefits, but inevitably there will be others who are jealous and angry. Because of this we should quickly improve ourselves and not wait until our enemies react. We must reach a level where they would not dare mess with us before that happens!"

Chapter 1435

"Yes, we have three strong people comparable to the peak of the True God realm, and this time the Hunt family loss is not small. Plus we have a good relationship with the Tudor family and with the Cabello family, and now we can also make a good relationship with some other families. Plus we did not provoke others much, if the Hunt family even knew that young master Jack killed the two young masters, they would not dare to act rashly!"

The First Elder, on the other hand, nodded, and he felt a lot of pressure lift off of him at this understanding.

"Well, now that we have gone so far, let's go. Everyone, come on up, let's talk in detail about some of the things that happened during the game on the road!"

Jack flipped his palm and took out his flying sword, then floated in front of everyone.

Everyone was full of smiles, and one by one, they jumped on, while Jack controlled the flying sword and flew in the direction of the White family home.

By that time the people from the other clans had all left, while the people from the Lagorio family and the Trevino family were still here, each with a gloomy face.

"Master Hunt, who do you think did it? Moreover, we were prepared. Those other clans, before, had no idea that our people would join hands to kill their people. We can't be so unlucky!"

The Lagorio family head was gloomy, still a bit puzzled.

"How do I know? I really don't know who actually killed my son! We must investigate slowly in the future. We can't just forget about it, I still don't believe that there will be an impervious wall!"

Jared's fists clenched, when he thought of his two sons, he was so angry that he almost vomited blood.

"Yes, we will also inquire about it, we can definitely find out something!"

Master Trevino clenched his fists, although his son did not die, but the third elder's grandson, who was a well known master, was actually also killed, he also had a medium-grade spiritual weapon that was stolen from him. Their family's loss this time is really too big.

The most speechless was Trenton, who originally wanted to take advantage of this opportunity to kill this kid Jack. But he did not expect that the White family would not lose many people. Jack is alive and well, but his family has lost a lot of masters. Now he does not know how long they will have to wait to have their revenge.

He had broken through to the peak of the True God realm cultivation, which is great news, originally he thought that would bring revenge one step closer.

However, he did not expect that the First Elder of the White Family had also broken through to the peak of True God Realm, in which case, he felt that his desire for revenge was really a bit distant.

"Master Hunt, I think it’s very likely that it was the kid Jack White and Helena Cabello. If you think about it, the second young master went for them, and with Helena being so beautiful, if she tricked him and then Jack came in the help, he would not have stood a chance.” Trenton thought about it, and said to Jared.

"Now there is no evidence at all, even if there is, we can't make a move!"

Jared said gloomily "You guys better go back, take a good rest, perhaps, inside these seven dangerous places, there really is a way to find a breakthrough to the Ultimate God Realm, and once I break through to the Ultimate God Realm, I will seek every one of them out."

After hearing this, Trenton felt a little fear and immediately said, "Anyway, it's not our family, we are allies, what's more, our family doesn't have anyone who can do this!"

Chapter 1436

The Trevino family's head also panicked, "Then it's definitely not our family's people. After all, the second young master and the first young master's cultivation is pretty good, the second-class and third-class family masters certainly do not have such ability, and the three young masters of the Norman family also died. There are only a few people who can do this, right?

Jared nodded, "No way, this breath, I can only swallow it and bear with it first!"

"Cough, Master Hunt, we had agreed beforehand that on completion of this matter, you would give us two spiritual herbs or something? This is what you said, our two families lost so much, and you promised this benefit to us. You should honour it, right?"

After thinking about it, Trenton coughed slightly twice before asking with a cheeky face.

One of the reasons why both he and the Trevino Family Master hasn’t left yet was for this matter.

"Yes, Master Hunt, it's definitely a promise!"

The Master Trevino also chimed in.

Unexpectedly, Jared said with a cold face, "I am talking about after the completion of the matter, was this not to be handed out at the end of the competition had this matter been successful. Now that our plan has failed, you want me to give you guys benefits as well? You guys are too greedy, right? Besides, your two families have died, and my Hunt family has lost so many people, not to mention, my two sons have died, and I still have to give you benefits?"

The Master Trevino and Trenton looked at each other, and both of them were so speechless again.

"Alright, then we'll leave first, Master Hunt, our condolences for your loss!"

In the end, the two men could only bow to Jared and take their people away.

After walking a bit further away, Trenton could not help but curse, "Damn, he is too deceitful, not giving us any benefit at all, if I had known that this was the result, I would not have agreed to cooperate with them privately in the first place!"

The Master Trevino was thoughtful, smiled bitterly and said, "He did not give us any benefits, but I expected that, after all, this time so many masters of the Hunt family died. His two sons had also died. Whatever resources he promised us, he certainly will not give after that!"

After thinking about it, Trenton frowned again, then said to the Master Trevino, "Master Trevino, this Jared is an old fox, you mentioned that he said to go to the Cabello family a month later to discuss, will he privately find someone to go inside the seven dangerous places to explore first?"

"This possibility is still there, however, this possibility is not very large, because these seven dangerous places are full of danger. Nobody knows what is in there and they are deep, so nobody will go alone. Moreover, it’s not just one dangerous place, but seven dangerous places, so I believe they will definitely discuss it with us before making a decision!" Master Trevino thought for a while before he said.

"That's right, if it's just one dangerous place, they will definitely continue to think of ways to act, but seven dangerous places, they are just one family, how could they deal with it? Moreover, some of the dangerous places are not far from the four ancient clans!" After thinking about it, Trenton said.

Two days quickly passed.

"Sister, do you think that according to reason, shouldn’t brother-in-law have returned two or three days ago? It's been almost a month and a half since they went out, how come they haven't come back yet? I heard that this time the competition may be more dangerous, brother-in-law won't have any problems, right?"

Inside the courtyard where Jack and the others lived, Ben looked at Selena, then said with a frown.

"Blah blah blah, don't talk nonsense, your brother-in-law is so talented and has such high combat power, he won't be in trouble!"

Selena, on the other hand, immediately gave Ben a white glance, then asked, "By the way, how's your cultivation now? Don't stick to Elaine every day, she needs to cultivate as well!"

Chapter 1437

"Don't worry, sister, I'm a first-grade grandmaster; I occasionally go to the mountain with Elaine to stroll around!"

Ben laughed and asked, "Your talent is better than mine, and you can cultivate more quietly than I can. I rarely see you cultivating your level; I'm afraid you've already become a third-grade master, right?"

"Third-grade master?" Selena smiled. "Oh, you also underestimate your sister, your sister is already a fourth-grade master."

Selena frowned at her own cultivation improvement, and was not very satisfied "Hey, I can break through to the demi-god realm. The grandmaster cultivation is powerful, but he can not fly, a demi-god realm cultivation is good and can fly for a short time. With a demi-god realm cultivation level, even several ninth-grade grandmasters are not your foes!"

Ben laughed "Come on, I think you are greedy, your cultivation is already very good, I do not know how many people envy you for this cultivation breakthrough speed. I see you, if you reach the demi-god realm cultivation, you must want to break through to the True God realm cultivation sooner!"

At this time, Elaine actually also came back from outside, with Kylie who went out with her to play together.

"Kylie, you go inside and play, I have something to do with your mother!"

"Sister-in-law, what's the matter?"

Seeing that Elaine had sent Kylie away, Selena's eyebrows knitted slightly, sensing the fear that it was not a simple matter again, her expression also became serious.

"There is something, I do not know how to tell you, you have to take a minute to prepare yourself!"

After thinking about it, Elaine bit her lips.

Selena was immediately startled, thinking about Ben's speculation just now, she now seriously doubted if Ben had just given her a precautionary shot, could it be that Jack really died in the competition?

Selena was silent for a moment before saying. "Did Jack die in the competition? Say it, I can handle it!"

"This is not true, this competition is estimated to have just ended a few days ago. How can we learn know yet? Nobody has even spread the word!" Elaine laughed bitterly before she said.

"That's good!"

Selena's heart felt suddenly relieved: "Then what is it, I see you so gloomy, making it seem like the sky is about to fall, and I didn't have a moment to prepare!"

"It's like this, I heard that, in Kobe City, the Cabello family's first lady announced that she and Jack are a couple. People inside that city are all talking about it, it's already out there, everyone is saying that Helena kissed Jack in the street, and the two announced that they are lovers!"

Elaine looked at Selena: "So, I feel, brother-in-law may want to marry a young wife, a second wife!"

Chapter 1438

"Wait, you're talking about the Cabello family's eldest lady, Helena? Is it Daniella's sister?"

Selena frowned, then asked with a surprised face, this news caught her a bit off guard. Moreover, the Cabello family's eldest miss, was so proactive in the city, in front of many people, and took the initiative to forcefully kiss Jack? What is this?

"Yes, the rumor came out that it was Helena!" Elaine nodded: "'I'm sure of it!"

"It can't be, right? If it was Daniella, I think it still makes sense, I can see that Daniella looks at Jack differently. In fact, I have also been prepared. Now many family heads and what not, have several wives. some elders also. I can only say that he is an excellent man, and so there would be many people who like him!"

Selena smiled bitterly, then said again: "And, I think if Daniella and Jack are together, then it is also very good, for the development of the White family it is quite good, Daniella is simple-minded but thinking of giving my parents their family treasure, so that my parents can also become martial artists, and also can cultivate, is very kind. If the two families are married, it will be good for the development of the White family!"

Speaking of which, Selena didn’t know whether to cry or laugh as she said: "But how come it was Helena who kissed Jack? Why not Daniella? Have you guys misheard?"

"I also feel strange because, according to reason, they have not known each other for long, right? They should not have known each other before, they should have met only in Kobe City, right?"

Elaine was also confused.

She looked at Selena, then said with some admiration again, "Sister Selena, a woman like you, it's really not simple. I think you have that feeling of being an empress! For Jack to be able to marry a wife like you is really considered a blessing!"

"You just asked me to prepare myself and that really scared me. I was worried he died, but instead you have news that he may have found a second wife. In my opinion, the latter news is not even bad news at all!"

Selena smiled, and said: "Of course, if he likes a woman who is not a good woman, I naturally will not agree, but the Cabello family's three daughters, it is said that any one of them are very beautiful and very cultivated. The White family also needs to get on good terms with the Cabello family, so the White family will also benefit!"

"That's right, after all, women are selfish, I was afraid you wouldn't be happy!" Elaine laughed, then added: "No, in the future, ah, even if Jack has other wives, they all must listen to you only, you are the queen, they are all concubines!"

"You girl!" Selena gave Elaine a white look.

Ben heard the conversation between the two, he couldn't help but cough twice and said to Elaine, "Ahem, Elaine, then do you want to be the queen?"

"Be the queen? Do you think you are Jack? If you can surpass your brother-in-law in cultivation, it's not a bad idea! When your cultivation surpasses your brother-in-law, then I agree with you to find another wife, even if you find eight to ten, I'll agree!"

Ben suddenly hung his head and said: "Forget it, that is more difficult than ascending to heaven!"

"Humph, you do not have the ability, and still want three wives and four concubines, dream on you!" Elaine coldly snorted.

Seeing her brother and her sister in law both flirting with each other, Selena, who was on the side, once again couldn't help but laugh.

After another moment, Joan came out with Kylie in her arms.

She looked at Selena and the others. She worriedly asked: "Selena, Jack did not say how long he would be gone? It's been so many days. Why hasn't he come back yet? According to reason, it should have returned a few days ago, right? There's nothing wrong, right?"

Chapter 1439

"Mom, don't worry, Jack is with Dad and the others, surely nothing will happen!" Selena smiled gently and said.

Just as her words fell, up in the sky in the distance, a flying sword was flying quickly towards them, and on top of that flying sword, there were several hundred people standing.

"They're back, they're finally back!"

Elaine was the first to see Jack and the others, and immediately stood up, excited beyond measure.

"Mom, look, he's back, isn't he?"

Selena was also happy in her heart, she hadn't seen Jack for more than a month. Honestly, it was wrong not to miss him, however, she found that this time passed quite fast if she tried her best to cultivate, and she didn't have time to think about him.

"Well, it's good to have him back!"

Joan also nodded.

"Wow, Daddy is awesome. Oh, he actually has a flying sword, when Kylie grows up, Kylie also wants to be so cool!"

After Kylie saw Jack, her big beautiful eyes couldn't help but shine with a kind of adoration.

"Good Kylie, in the future, you have to work hard to cultivate, you know?" Selena turned back and looked at Kylie and said.

Just as they finished speaking, everyone had already jumped down from their flying sword and landed one by one in an open space, while many of the White family's youngsters and guardians and so on, all immediately rushed over to this side.

"In-laws, you guys are back, huh? What a hard time, how was it? How was the result of this competition?"

Fiona and Andrew also rushed over and immediately asked Nash with a smile.

Nash smiled and said to the two people,"Don't worry, this time, we got first place in two competitions, the reward of spiritual herbs is quite a lot, and everyone is very competitive. In the competition forest, they also found a lot of spiritual herbs. Only a few dozen people died!"

"A few dozen people?"

The seventh elder immediately frowned,"Master White, this is a bit much, right? In the past, there weren't many people in a competition like this, right?"

"Hey, it's a long story, how about this, I will let Jack tell everyone about the specific things. After all, some of the things that happened in the middle of the competition, I'm not very clear about!" Nash smiled bitterly and finally said.

Jack then stood out, and then said, "The thing is this competition and the previous competitions are a little different. In the previous competition, there were challenges and so on, while this time the competition was....."

The crowd listened to the fascination, especially about what happened on in the inside, how Jack saved others, and trying to distract the young master of the Hunt family. When they heard these things, everyone broke out in cold sweat for Jack.

Especially Selena and Joan and others, who were also worried in their hearts, if not for the power of Jack's flying sword, they probably wouldn't have been able to see Jack.

Chapter 1440

"Honey, this is too dangerous for you, if not for that flying sword, I'm afraid you wouldn't have come back!"

Selena's heart had a burst of fear. She could feel that inside the forest it was extremely dangerous for jack and he couldn't have a moment of carelessness.

"Haha, now there is no need to be afraid, this is also considered a blessing!"

At this time, Nash laughed out loud: "Jack, after killing Chet Hunt, was able to recover his alchemy formulas. He can now refine pills and has become a second-grade low-level alchemist. Moreover, with the help of a second-grade low-level pill, he has managed to break through to the late stage of the True God realm cultivation. Now his combat power is about the same as mine!"

"No way, Jack is so powerful?"

When Fiona heard this, she sucked in a breath of cold air, she really did not expect that her son-in-law was actually so excellent in his cultivation talent.

"My goodness, a second-grade low-level alchemist? Brother-in-law, you are too good! Does it mean that in the future, if you are happy, you can reward me with a second grade pill?"

Ben was also incomparably excited, with such a good brother-in-law. In the future, as long as I have a good relationship with my brother-in-law, then occasionally getting two pills should not be a difficult thing.

When Fiona heard this, her eyes also lit up and she immediately said, "That's for sure, you are his brother-in-law, of course he is happy, after all, he has married such a beautiful sister like yours, can he not be happy? Right Jack?"

Jack couldn't help but smile: "Yes, when in need of pills, I will naturally give. However, the pills, which also depend on the time, can't be used too often."

"Haha, good son-in-law, that's fine!"

Andrew, on the other hand, laughed. He had no need to worry. Jack will be the next head of the White family so he does not need to worry about anything., He is getting old now so he can live a leisurely life here, and have a few more good years. But his own son, if with the help of Jack, can become a strong person with a cultivation like the True God realm or demi-god realm, then he will have it much better.

After all, as parents, naturally all want their sons and daughters to be good.

"Haha, in-laws, just rest assured, Jack will certainly not treat you badly!"

Nash laughed out loud, his face was so satisfied. Jack's outlook had far surpassed that of Lance, and he was relieved that the White family could be handed over to Jack in the future.

Moreover, his heart is also very sure. Now that Jack is already so powerful, if in a few years, Jack can break through to the peak of the True God realm cultivation, then not even Master Hunt will be Jack's opponent.

Although Master Hunt's combat power is in the peak True God realm, but Jack’s combat power is not that simple.

"Great, looking at this, our White family is going to rise soon!"

"Yes, this time, the Trevino family, the Lagorio family and the Hunt family, have all lost so many masters. Because of this, our White family can really take advantage of the opportunity to rise!"

"However, young master Jack killed two young masters of the Hunt family. Everyone must not say anything, or else that Hunt family people will certainly make trouble sooner or later. What we have to do now is to secretly improve our cultivation and improve the overall strength of the family!"

Many people of the White family, after knowing the specific situation, then they also discussed it among themselves.

"By the way, this time, we also found out a big secret, that is, the seven dangerous places are likely to be related to the legend of the Ultimate God Realm. However, all these families have agreed that in a month's time, they will go to the Cabello family to gather, and then discuss this, then go to the seven dangerous places to find clues!"

"I decided, within this month, everyone will not need to go out to find materials, we got a lot of cultivation resources this time. plus the rewards we won are quite a lot. I intend this month to tell the branch family’s that there is no need to pay cultivation resources. leave everyone to cultivate well for a month, we have the materials. We will also take out according to each person's needs and distribute them down. Everyone will have a good month of cultivation!"

No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1439-1441

Chapter 1439

“Mother, don’t worry. Jack went with Father and the others. Surely nothing will happen!”

Selena comforted Joan with a gentle smile.

Just as her words fell, in the distant sky, a flying sword was rapidly flying over toward their direction, and on top of that flying sword, stood hundreds o f people.

“They’re back! They’re finally back!”

Elaine was the first to see Jack and the others. She shot up from her seat and shouted; she could hardly contain her excitement.

“Mother, look, they’re back!”

Selena was smiling inside. She had not seen Jack for more than a month, and honestly, it would be a lie if she had not missed him at all. But, she also found that time passed quickly when she tried her best to train and breakthrough. She did not have much time to miss Jack.

“Yes, it’s great that they’re back!”

Joan nodded in return.

“Wow, Daddy is so cool! He has a flying sword! When I grow up, I want to be as cool as Daddy!”

Kylie's beautiful eyes were as big as a saucer when she saw Jack, and full adoration sparkled inside them.

"Sure, my little Kylie. You have to work hard and train hard in the future, okay?"

Selena turned her head and looked at Kylie as she said.

Just as they finished conversing, everyone had hopped off of the flying sword and landed onto the open ground one by one, meanwhile many young members of the White family, as well as the elders and patronums, rushed over to welcome them.

"In-law, you guys are back! You guys have worked hard. How was the competition? How's the result?"

Fiona and Ben were pacing over to Jack and the others too. Their face was plastered with warm smiles.

Nash returned them with a gentle smile and said, "Don't worry, we got first place in two events of the competition! We were rewarded with quite a lot o f spirited grass, and our men tried their very best to win! Besides, we've found a lot of spirited grass in the forest, but unfortunately, a few dozen of u s perished in the competition.

The seventh elder immediately frowned upon listening to Nash's words. "Master White, a few dozen is a little too much, right? In the past competitions, we had not lost that many men!"

"Sigh, it's a long story. How about this, I'll let Jack tell everyone about the specific incidents that happened in the competition. After all, I'm not very clear about what happened during the competition."

Nash smiled bitterly and said.

Jack then stood out upon Nash's cue. "Well, this was what happened. The competition this year was different from the previous ones; in the previous competitions, they'd have a ring tournament and other small competitions, but this time, the competition is…"

The crowd listened to Jack's narration attentively, especially the incident where Jack distracted the Young Master Hunt to save the others. When the crowd heard of this, they were worried and nervous for Jack, specifically Selena and Joan. If it were not for the power of Jack's flying sword, Jack would not have survived at all!

Chapter 1440

"Dear, that was too dangerous for you! If it were not for the flying sword, I'm afraid that you won't be able to come back alive!"

Selena's heart burst with fear; she could imagine Jack being surrounded by threats and danger in that forest and Jack could not afford the slightest mistake and carelessness at that point in time.

"Haha, now there's no need to be afraid. I see this as a blessing in disguise!"

At this moment, Nash laughed out loud. "Jack this brat, after he killed Tyrent Hunt, he got all his alchemy prescription! Now he is capable of creating pills on his own, and has become a second-grade elementary alchemist! Moreover, with the help of a second-grade elementary pill, he has managed to breakthrough to the late stage o f the true god realm! I think his combat prowess is as good as mine now!"

"No freaking way! Jack is that powerful?"

Fiona gasped at the latest information. She truly did not expect that her son-in-law was that excellent, and possessed an incredible martial talent, as well as combat prowess!

"My goodness, a second-grade elementary alchemist? Brother Jack, you're a godlike figure to me right now! Does it mean that in the future, if Brother Jack is happy, he could also refine some second-grade pills and reward me?”

Ben’s mood was drastically elevated as well. With such an excellent brother-in-law, he would not have to worry about training pills in the future! As long as he maintained a good relationship with Jack, getting one or two pills from him occasionally would not be a difficult task!

Fiona’s eyes lit up and shined bright like a diamond upon hearing that. “That’s for sure! You’re his brother-in-law! After all, he married your pretty sister, Selena, and is living a happy life. How can he not be happy with this? Right, Jack?”

Jack could not help but smile.“ Sure. When I’m refining pills, I’ll definitely give one or two. However, the creation and refinement of pills depend on time too. The alchemy process can’t be performed too often, otherwise, my skill could not b e stabilized in the secondgrade realm.”

“Hehe! No worries, Jack, as long as we have your words, that’s fine!”

Andrew, on the other hand, laughed. Without a doubt, Jack would be the next head of the White family. Andrew did not care much about himself, he was at his old age after all; he was happy to live a leisure life here for a few more years. But for his own son-Ben, if Jack would help him, he could become a strong martial artist with a semi-god or even true god level. That would be great for him.

After all, as parents, they naturally want their children to live a good life.

“Haha, in-laws, don’t worry! Jack will certainly treat them well!”

Nash laughed wholeheartedly, he looked satisfied. Jack’s overall ability and capability had long and far surpassed that of Lance, and he was relieved that the White family could be handed over to Jack in the future.

Besides, he was very sure that Jack could handle it. Jack was already extremely powerful right now, and he was highly likely able to breakthrough to the peak stage of the true god realm in the next few years. By that time, even the head of the Hunt family may not be a match for Jack!

Although the head of the Hunt family's martial power was considered number one in the peak stage of the true god realm, Jack's overall combat prowess was not weak as well.

"Great! Looking at our pace, the White family is going to rise soon!"

"Yes, the Church, the Lagorio, and the Hunt family have lost s o many geniuses this time. Our White family can take advantage of this to rise up!"

"But, the incident of Young Master Jack killing two young masters of the Hunt family must be kept secret. Everyone must not spill anything, otherwise, once the Hunt family finds out, they would certainly seek trouble with us sooner or later. What we need t o focus on now is to secretly improve our martial prowess and enhance the overall strength of the White family!"

Many people of the White family started to discuss the next steps after hearing what had happened in the competition.

"By the way, we found out a big secret this time! That is, the Seven Dangers is likely to b e related to the legend of the ultimate god realm! However, all of the families, including us, have agreed to gather at the Cabello family in a month's time, and then we will discuss the exploration in the Seven Dangers together!"

"So, I decided that, within this month, everyone will stop going out to look for resources and materials. We've got a lot of training materials this time, coupled with the rewards from the tournament. We have quite a lot. And I also decided that the White branch families do not have to offer the White main branch training materials for this month. All White branch families should keep their materials, use them and train hard this month. As for the White main branch, we will distribute according to everyone's needs. So, everyone should break through train hard this month!"

Chapter 1441

“For the eighth and ninth-grade grandmasters, please strive to break through to the semi-god realm; for those who are at the peak stage of the semi -god realm, please strive to break through to the early stage of the true god realm. It’s particularly crucial for those at the peak stage of the semi-god realm because once you’ve broken through to the true-god realm, that would be a big upgrade in your overall strength. After all, the number of the fighters with the true god realm status in a family is truly important!”

Nash looked at the crowd, and once again announced aloud to everyone.

Lancelot White, Chad White, and the others were bursting with joy. They could imagine everyone’s faces once they brought back such a news to the White branch families.

Looking at the White family’s current situation, they were going to rise fiercely to the sky.

All of them, all of a sudden, could finally see a glimpse of light at the end of the tunnel.

“By the way, Miss Daniella, why are you and your sister here too? Or you are here to deliver the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water?”

Fiona quickly noticed the presence of Daniella. Once the thought of that divine water could purify her body and allow her to become a martial artist ran through her mind, she could barely conceal her impatience.

In her point of view, the competition had ended and Daniella should have gone back to the Cabello family after the competition. But she actually followed Jack and the others back to the White family, hence, most likely she had brought the divine water with her.

“Auntie Fiona, I… I haven’t gotten the chance to go back yet. Next time when I go back, I’ll definitely bring it to you!”

Daniella was rendered speechless at Fiona's behavior. After all, she did not tell the other Cabellos about this matter, because she had told them that she would go back and secretly get the divine water for them. However, Daniella truly did not expect Fiona to be so anxious that she asked her about it in front of others.

Well. Actually, it did not matter if Fiona said it aloud, the problem was Helena was here too!

"Alright, alright. No rush, alright?"

Fiona forced an awkward smile, but everyone could sense the impatience in her.

Helena, who stood beside Daniella, frowned at the situation but she did not say anything.

"Alright, everyone, go have some rest. We'll set up a banquet in the square halfway u p the mountain tonight to celebrate our victory together, how about that? It's been a long time since we've had fun!"

Nash quickly announced again.

"That's great! Haha! Tonight w e must drink ourselves to death! Hahaha!"

The First Elder and the others chuckled aloud; their spirits obviously lifted and brightened.

"Oh ya, I almost forgot one thing! I still need to arrange accommodation for Miss Daniella and Miss Helena!"

Nash thought of something and added.

“It’s okay, Uncle Nash. I’ll stay in the same room I stayed in before, and my sister will stay with me. Please don’t be bothered!”

Daniella shot Nash a bright smile. She stayed at Jack’s residence with Jack and the others before.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1442-1444

Chapter 1442

“Haha, alright! I’m good with that!”

Nash chortled aloud in return.” Moving onwards, the White and the Cabello families are one big family! Our relationship has been reconciled and we are on a good term with the Cabello family right now. We’ll help each other in the future, and the same goes for the Lancaster family!”

“That’s for sure!”

Daniella responded with the corners of her lips curled upward.

Soon, the crowd dispersed.

“Miss Helena and Miss Daniella, please go and rest. Then come join us in the victory celebration this evening! Both of you are welcome to the party!”

Jack wheeled to the two Cabellos and invited them.

“Sis, the scenery over here is absolutely stunning! Let me take you around!”

Daniella bobbed her head and then she pulled Helena along with her and left the scene.

Daniella was sensible and considerate. She knew very well that Jack and Selena had not seen each other for more than a month; the two must have had endless words and stories to share, so she did not want to be here, making a nuisance of herself.

“My little Kylie, come here! Give Daddy a hug!”

Jack lifted Kylie up with his strong arms, planted a kiss on her chubby cheeks, and laughed, “My little Kylie, let daddy see you. You’ve grown chubbier and a little taller, have you? It’s only been a while, and my little Kylie has obviously grown a little taller!”

“Daddy, you’re so cool! When I grow up, I want to be like you, standing on a flying sword and fly around the sky! And I want t o fly to the moon!”

A faint hint of childishness was present in Kylie’s voice, and a rare spirit was seen in her big and bright eyes.

“Haha! Great! My little Kylie will definitely fly to the moon when she grows up!”

Jack giggled wholeheartedly, with Kylie in his arms, his heart was filled with the warmth of sunshine. He was glad that his family could stay harmoniously together, even if Jack had to work his *ss off to sustain the family, it was worth it.

“Alright, Daddy! I’ll work hard I n my studies. My teacher said that I am the best learner in the class and my memory is good too!”

Kylie nodded and said in a gentle and well-manner tone.

“Really? That’s awesome! Make sure you listen to your teachers, alright?”

Jack caressed Kylie’s little head, with a fatherly smile plastering on his face.

“Let’s go inside and take a good rest. You must be exhausted from the long journey since you have no time to rest. Others had a chance to rest on your flying sword while you were flying it. I think you’ve used up a lot of Chi energy to control the sword to fly back here!”

Selena gazed at Jack; the heartache was visible in her eyes.

“Mm, alright!”

The three of them soon went back to the courtyard where they lived.

When they arrived at the courtyard, Kylie went down to play in the courtyard, while Jack and Selena entered their room.

“Dear, do you miss me?”

He immediately pulled Selena into his embrace right after closing the room’s door; he could no longer resist his longing for Selena. He took a whiff of her scent and became addicted to the light fragrance emitted from Selena’s body.

Indeed, the charmingly matured yet gentle aura in Selena was not something that any ordinary woman possesses.

Selena could not help but for her cheeks to turn pink. “Of course I miss you! How could I not miss you?

Sometimes when I'm missing you badly, I'd distract myself with martial training and that enables time t o pass by quickly! Hehe. In this way, it made me feel as if you've not been out for too long!"

"That's a good idea!"

Jack nodded in agreement." Let me guess, my dear wife must have broken through to the grandmaster level. Hmmm but I still don't know which grade of grandmaster you're at right now. Hmmm…are you a second-grade grandmaster? Wait! Or perhaps a third-grade grandmaster?" He guessed.

Selena, who was enjoying the warmth of Jack's embrace, was flabbergasted with joy; sunshine flooded her soul and happiness glowed inside her." Hehe, Silly, you're wrong! I'm a fourth-grade grandmaster now!" she pressed her lips and smiled.

"Wow, wow! Aren't you too talented? I had already guessed a higher grade, but I truly didn't expect I was still underestimating your talent!"

Jack's eyes lit up as though he was a kid who just got a compliment from his teacher." You should take a good rest for a few days to stabilize your current martial level. I have just broken through a few days ago as well, so I need to stabilize and adapt to my current martial level. Let's train together when we're free and well-rested. I'll refine some first-grade pills for you too! For sure it'll be helpful for you to raise your martial level!"

"Right, Dear, I've heard that you and the First Young Mistress Cabello-Helena, are in a relationship and that she even forcibly kissed you, right?"

Selena peeked at Jack and expressed her thoughts.

Jack's forehead immediately puckered the moment he heard Selena's words.

"Sigh, she indeed kissed me by force, and I totally didn't see that coming. But we're not in a relationship!" he expressed bitterly.

"You guys are not?"

Selena furrowed and questioned with a doubtful expression. "I studied Miss Helena for a moment just now. She is not only beautiful and captivating but also exudes a noble yet benevolent aura. Don't worry about me though, and you know my parents too; they can't wait for you to marry a noble daughter of a prominent and powerful family! As for me, I'd need to train really hard to improve, so I won't have much time to accompany you hence a woman like Miss Helena is someone you should consider!"

Jack felt a surge of warmth inside his heart upon hearing Selena's thoughtful words. He did not expect that Selena would be this understanding, gentle and kind.

However, he shook his head and explained, "Honey, I'm not in a relationship with her. The thing is, the Hunt family that you know, they're the strongest among the eight reclusive families and they always behave domineeringly. At that time, the Second Young Master Hunt had a desire for Miss Helena and was always pestering her. So Miss Helena, kissed me on the street to get rid of him!"

"You and Helena are really not a couple?"

Selena gave the matter some thoughts then she laughed at herself bitterly. "In fact, I also felt that that was not the case. I f you were to tell me that Miss Daniella and you are a couple, then I'd feel that that was more plausible. After all, you and Miss Helena have only met for a few days, so the possibility of you being in a relationship with her is rather low. As for Miss Daniella, you've known each other for a while, and she seems to be interested in you too!"

"How do you know that she's actually interested in me?" Jack gasped and asked shockingly. He did not expect Selena's sixth sense to be so accurate.

"Of course I know. The Cabello family is almost at the other end of the earth yet she is willing to follow you around, not to mention her gaze toward you. It's so affectionate as though you're the only man she could see in her eyes. Her affection and admiration toward you is crazily strong and obvious, I can naturally sense it!"

"Besides, Miss Daniella is willing to steal their family's treasures for my parents and your mother, this cannot be merely a friendly act between ordinary friends, right?" Selena rolled her eyes at Jack a s she laid out her observation.

Selena continued speaking as she saw that Jack was pondering deeply. "Daniellita I sa simple girl; no evil thoughts nor dirty tricks present in her mind and she treats you so well. So I think you shouldn't let her down. If you like her, take the first step to approach her!"

"Sigh!"

Jack heaved a loud sigh, only then spoke his heart out," Indeed, Daniella treats me quite well and is a decent woman. Sigh…I shall tell you the truth. The truth is Daniella and I are in a relationship. It's just… just that I didn't know how to tell you and I'm afraid o f Kylie's reaction too. I'm afraid that you and Kylie will not be happy!"

"Tsk tsk, I knew it! The relationship between you and Daniella is not simple!"

Selena rolled her eyes again at Jack and then added, "Don't worry about it, I'll not blame you. As for Kylie, I'll talk to her about it."

"Dear, the thing is I got drunk the night when I had monkey wine with Daniella. I didn't see myself getting drunk at all, but I did. And…and… I was so drunk that night that Daniella and I… Sigh! If I didn't drink that stupid monkey wine, I wouldn't have committed that mistake. Daniella was a decent lady and now I've ruined her purity. I am a man; I shall be responsible for my behaviors!"

Jack returned a bitter smile. Selena's thoughtful words eased up his heart and lifted the heavy boulder away. Before that, he did not know how to break it to Selena about Daniella and he was so afraid that Selena would be upset and disappointed.

However, he truly did not anticipate Selena to be thoughtful and reasonable, which warmed his heart and eased his frantic mind. In fact, Selena's kind-heartedness made him feel even guilty. He genuinely hoped that nothing had happened that night.

Chapter 1444

"So that's what happened. I've said that someone like you who's so dense and straightforward won't go chasing after girls yourself. Instead, the girls will come chasing after you. You haven't known Daniella for long, and logically speaking, I think that your relationship wouldn't have progressed so fast. I didn't think that that would happen!"

Selena took in Jack's demeanor and spoke in a solemn tone instead, "If that's the case, you have to take responsibility for bullying a fine young lady like that while you were drunk. If you don't take responsibility, I'll be embarrassed by you!"

"Don't worry, dear. I've had a good impression of her since the beginning, and she's a fine woman. Since this has happened, I'll definitely treat her well!"

Jack tightened his grip on Selena, then he ducked his head and kissed her.

After they kissed for a while, a passion sparked within Jack.

However, Selena quickly clamped down on his hand. "N o. It's broad daylight. You should rest!"

"You said so yourself. Don't simply pin the blame on me later!"

Jack smiled, then planted

Another longing kiss on Selena's face.

In the afternoon, Ethan, William, and the others had also arrived. During this period, they all cultivated their strength at the White family Estate, and many of them broke into another level.

Especially William, Yoseph, Adam, Riley, and Sam, who had broken into the peak stage of the semi-god realm, only one level away from the beginning stage of the true god realm.

Meanwhile, Ethan, Lana, and Abner had broken into the advanced stage of the semigod realm. All of them had improved tremendously.

After they found out that Jack had returned, they were all overjoyed. At night, they all drank aplenty while they were celebrating.

After the night's celebrations were over, Jack and Selena went to bed after they were done bathing.

Meanwhile, in another room, Helena spoke to Daniella, unable to contain herself any longer, "Daniella, aren't you being too much? The Bone Marrow Cleansing Water is a true treasure to the Cabello family, and more importantly, we don't even get much of it throughout an entire year. And you're actually going to steal it and give it to them?"

"You cannot tell Father about this, Big Sis," Daniella replied, grinning. "After all, Jack has been so nice to me. Besides, his mother and parents-in-law can't cultivate themselves because they've long passed the prime age to begin training. Only our treasure can help them, so we should help them!"

Helena shook her head hopelessly. "Fine. You would have gone ahead and stolen it even if I refused to help," she said. "And you've promised them already. What choice do I have?"

Daniella immediately tugged o n Helena's hand, simpering." You're the best sister ever, Big Sis!"

Right there and then, Daniella suddenly thought of something and added, "Oh, right. Now that the two young masters of the Hunt family are dead, and so are the three young masters of the Norman family, Big Sis. Heh. This is great! Those fellows had been the ones to pester you the most. Especially Second Young Master Hunt, who was the worst of them all. Now they're all dead and you don't have to worry about them bothering you anymore!"

"That's right!"

Gratefulness flashed across Helena's expression. "Thank god for Jack. I didn't think that he would be able to get rid of all those b*stards during the competition!"

Daniella pursed her lips. Her big, beautiful eyes darted to the side once. "Sis, so you're not afraid anymore, right? Since Second Young Master Hunt is dead," she said to Helena.

"Then when will you end the fake relationship with Jack? When are you going to break up with him? Then everybody will know that you've broken up, and you won't need to be afraid of Second Young Master Hunt pestering you anymore right?"

Helena eyed Daniella for a while, poking her skull with a forefinger. The former rolled her eyes. "What's the rush? We've only just started being a fake couple. It'll be embarrassing if we were to announce that we've broken u p now. Second Young Master Hunt may be dead, but if Master Hunt finds out that Jack and I had separated so soon, he'd definitely suspect that we were fooling his son. H e might hate us even more then!"

Helena then paused for a while before continuing, "I think we should wait it out for a while more, at least until everybody has forgotten about it. Then we'll make the announcement!"No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1445-1447

Chapter 1445

“Sis, you said that Jack stole your first kiss. I’m wondering if your acting is slowly turning to reality and if you like him now.”

Daniella frowned, speaking nonchalantly, “What are you saying? No way! He’s a married man. No way that I’d like him. Besides, he’s your boyfriend. No way that I’ll snatch him away from you!”

Helena immediately answered in hasty tone, “Why are you so nervous? I was just asking!”

After Daniella thought about it, she asked another question, “Oh, right, what did it felt like when you were forcing a kiss on him, Sis?”

“Daniella Cabello, why on earth are you asking all these strange questions! It’s so late already. You either go to bed now, or you properly cultivate yourself!”

Helena could not be bothered to answer her. She turned to her side on the bed, her back facing Daniella, ignoring her.

“I was just curious. Forget it then!”

Daniella said, pursing her lips.

The next morning, Trenton and the others finally returned to the Lagorio family estate.

Only a few dozen geniuses of the Lagorio family had survived the competition, out of the initial number of over four hundred. That made Trenton extremely furious.

“Dad, why are there so few who are back? Where are the others?”

Lily saw that so few had returned home, and instantly asked in surprise.

“That’s right. Why are there only these few people left, Master? Where are the others? Don’t tell me that they’ve all died. What happened during the competition? Was it necessary for so many to die?”

The other Lagorio family members who had stayed behind were also confused.

“Ah…”

Trenton released a long sigh. At that moment, it was as though he had aged ten years.

After he sighed, he told everybody about everything that happened during the competition.

After listening to everything, Lily was so angry that she clenched her fists. “So you’re saying that the White family only lost a few people, and obtained plenty of martial enhancement materials? And they even won the individual and group categories? They won that many prizes?”

“That’s right. I thought that the gap between our two families have narrowed when I broke through to the peak stage of the true god status But I never expected their First Elder to have broken through to the peak as well. And the White family have benefited greatly from this competition! It’ll be even more difficult for us to take revenge now!”

Trenton heaved another sigh, restlessness boiling within him.

Chapter 1446

“Ah!”

Lily released a sudden roar after she heard that. She felt as though she was going to go insane. She had thought that with her father breaking into another level, they could make the White family suffer great losses during the competition. She did not think that everything would end up like this.

How was she going to take revenge from now on?

After she has rested over a period, her body had recovered aplenty, and she had started training again. Up until then, she was only a third-grade martial artist. This cultivation level was a far cry from her previous condition.

“Ah, I’ve tried my best, my dear daughter. I wanted to avenge you as well. But it seems that we have no way to do it with this turn of events. After all, since the White family has received so many benefits, they’ll definitely be training themselves properly and strengthening themselves!”

Trenton sighed, looking at his distressed daughter. His heart clenched as well.

“Why? Why are the gods so unfair? We helped them so much before, but now we are left suffering in the dust like this?

“The position of house heir belonged to my son anyway. Lance definitely hasn’t died yet. He’s definitely still alive. I will take revenge, Dad, I must take revenge and find my son!”

Tears welled in Lily’s eyes, dissatisfaction broiling in her.

“Ah!”

Trenton sighed again. “I truly understand your feelings, my daughter. But there’s nothing we can do about the current situation. Unless… unless I can break into the ultimate god status!”

As Trenton spoke, his eyes gradually brightened. Excitement stirred his heart. That’s right. If he could break into the ultimate god realm, he could probably kill Nash, Jack, and the others easily. The ultimate god status was a whole other level, and it would yield a denser and more powerful pool of Chi. According to the rumors, someone with the ultimate god status could defeat a few fighters who were at the peak of the true god status alone.

“Ultimate god status?”

Lily’s lips twisted into a bitter smile after she heard that. “It’s a pity that this ultimate god status is nothing but a myth. We don’t even know if it even exists. We might as well be dreaming!”

“No, it must exist. The ultimate god status does exist. We even have a few clues! Didn’t Quentin manage to repair the summoning circle? When the competition was ending, a picture actually appeared in the sky…

“That’s why we suspect that the Seven Dangers have something to do with the ultimate god status!”

After Trenton thought about it, he told all of it to Lily.

“There are only Seven Dangers, and there are Eight Major Families. Then will the Eight Major Families allow second-class and third-class families in?”

Lily furrowed her brows when she heard this. “What if you can find a way to break into the ultimate god status inside there. Then won’t the White family have an advantage if they go in? If they do find a way, they will definitely not tell us after they are out. How are we going to take revenge then?”

“We have to go. The Hunt family members already said that they would agree to this matter, even if the other families don’t. Furthermore, we have pretty good relations with the Hunt family now. They’ll definitely bring us along!”

Trenton clenched his fists. “I’ll definitely fight for the chance. Not only must I break into the ultimate god realm, but I must also do it fast,” he said. “I want to be the first who does so, and help to avenge you!”

Chapter 1447

“Thank you, Dad. I would take revenge myself, but my cultivation level is useless now. I can only rely on you and the other Lagorio family elders!”

Lily’s expression was grateful.

“You’re my daughter. I’ll never allow you to be bullied!”

Trenton smiled, features soft.

“Oh, right. Why is there not a single trace of Lance, Dad? Quite a few members from other families went along with him. Who knows if they have some news!”

Lily asked after she thought of it.

Trenton shook his head again, hopeless. “There’s no news at all. I asked them before I came back, and they haven’t found a single clue. And those families are ready to stop searching!”

“Why are they giving up? How cruel. It’s their family members that have disappeared, and they’re not going to bother?”

Lily grew angry after she heard that. If the other family members send in search parties, there would be more people on the job, and there would be a higher possibility of finding the lost members

Now though, they were giving up on the search. That meant that the possibility of being able to find Lance had shrunk.

“Ah, it’s different from them. They’ve been searching for a few months already. Some are the sons of a Patronum, some are sons of an Elder, some are even grandsons of an Elder. Basically, the lost family members didn’t hold very high positions. That’s why they don’t want to waste their time and resources since their search has not been fruitful. Besides, the place that Lance and the others went into is near the dangerous zones. Nobody dares to venture deeper into it!”

Trenton felt helpless. “My daughter, it’s likely that Lance is truly dead, and that his body had been consumed by monsters,” he told Lily. “I hope that you will be able to accept this reality.”

Trenton paused before continuing, “But we’ll still conduct the search parties for another twenty days. If there’s still no news after that period, we’ll have to give up. We can’t just go on searching forever, right? The other families have also given up, and our chance of succeeding is even smaller!”

“All right, Dad. I get it!”

Lily nodded her head forlornly. She mulled over the situation, then she thought of something. “Oh, right, Dad. I’m guessing that the Four Ancient Clans don’t know anything about the ultimate god status?” she asked Trenton.

The Four Ancient Clans were colossal and powerful families. A family like the Lagorio family was nothing before them. Any one of the Ancient Clans was just that formidable and did not care about the reclusive families at all.

Of course, the members of the Four Ancient Clans also never mingled with the mundane. They have cultivated themselves contentedly within their own grounds, and nobody dared to provoke them.

The Four Ancient Clans also rarely interacted with one another.

“Heh. We, the reclusive family members are not fools either. Why would we tell them something like that? If we do, we probably don’t even stand a chance to get the scraps!”

Trenton chuckled and was about to leave. “This is the one secret weapon the reclusive families have. If we have a chance to turn the tides, why would we want to be oppressed by the Four Ancient Clans?”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1448-1450

Trenton quickly left while Lily returned to her room alone.

She lay on the bed, unable to fall asleep. Soon, she sat up again.

“No way. If this goes on, I’ll never be able to take revenge for the rest of my life. Jack also has good talent. With the White family crowned as the champions this time, they’ll definitely improve immensely. I’ll have to think of something to take revenge!”

Lily clenched her fists, beginning to scheme in her head.

After a while, her eyes brightened. “Oh, right, instead of going on like this, why don’t I secretly inform the Four Ancient Clans about this and strike a few deals?”

The more Lily thought about it, the better the opportunity seemed. The Four Ancient Clans would not be bothered about other news, but they would definitely be interested in something about the ultimate god realm.

After all, there were plenty of powerful fighters in the Four Ancient Clans, and a lot of them were in the true god realm. There were practically over a dozen fighters at the peak of the true god realm in every Ancient Clan.

Although they seemed to be lofty, as if they were a cut above the rest, they still could not avoid death.

That was why the ones who wanted to find a way to the ultimate god status the most were naturally the powerful fighters at the peak of the true god status.

After she thought about it, Lily finally fell asleep. The next morning, she sought out an elder who was at the beginning stage of the true god realm.

“Eldest Miss, what’s the Matter?”

The old man frowned. Lily certainly needs something from him.

“It’s nothing much. I just want to go out for a stroll and was hoping that you could come along with me, Eighth Elder. After all, my cultivation level is so low now. I probably won’t b e safe if I go out alone!”

Lily said, giving a wan smile.

“Oh, so you want to go out? No problem at all. But I think you should inform the master first, Eldest Miss. That might be a better idea!”

The old man finally understood everything. He suggested it with a small smile on his face.

“Don’t worry. I’ll inform my father later!”

Lily nodded her head and went out with the old man, then she informed Trenton of this.

Trenton agreed happily when h e heard that Lily wanted to go out for a walk. After all, he had been afraid that his daughter would do something foolish outside. That was why he had ordered everyone to keep their eyes on her.

Now though, it seemed that Lily was feeling a lot better. It was a good thing that she wanted to go out.

After she had gotten Trenton's approval, the elder used his small flying carpet and ferried Lily, slowly flying down the mountain.

"Eldest Miss, which city do you want to go to? We can't just waste the entire day at such a languid pace now, can we?"

The elder sat to the side, asking after thinking about it.

"Let's head for the Pavilion of Gods and Kings!"

Lily spoke in a soft tone after remaining silent for a few seconds.

The old man was shocked when he heard this. He immediately stopped the flying carpet mid-air, staring at Lily, stupefied. "Eldest Miss, surely my ears have not deceived me? You-you want to go to the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, the place that belongs to one of the Four Ancient Clans? All of the Ancient Clans are so mighty. They won't even spare a second glance at us reclusive families. Why do you want to g o to the Pavilion?"

Chapter 1449

"I want to avenge my son, Eighth Elder. That's why I hope that you can keep this a secret. Please don't tell anyone about me going to the Pavilion of Gods and Kings and how I'm seeking the Four Ancient Clans!"

Lily looked at the Eighth Elder, speaking solemnly, "I'll tell m y father about this once we get back!"

"All right. But I just think that they might not even see when you go there!"

The Eighth Elder flashed a bitter smile. He continued to guide the flying carpet toward the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.

The White family members were all training hard. Meanwhile, Yoseph, Adam, and the others all hoped that they could break into the beginning stage of the true god realm within a month.

After all, they had caught wind of rumors of the ultimate god status too. They wanted to achieve that.

Nash was also elated, seeing how Jack's disciples were all working hard to cultivate themselves.

When Jack was free, he would accompany the ladies to shop I n the city or teach Kylie about cultivation. He also helped to purify her body so that she could become a martial artist and start training.

However, something unexpected occurred. Kylie was still young, but after purifying her body, her talent was revealed to be shocking. Immediately after her body was purified, she was already a t the level of a third-grade Martial artist.

Her talent was comparable to that of Selena's. More importantly, she was still young. She would definitely be a powerful figure if she trained properly from then on.

After seeing Kylie's strength, Nash and the other White family members were overjoyed. Furthermore, Kylie's wise yet adorable behavior made everybody dote on her more.

Daniella was obviously trying to win Kylie over these few days. In the beginning, Kylie had been rather antagonistic toward the beautiful stranger.

However, over the next few days, Daniella had brought Kylie shopping. After buying a few toys and other things for the little girl, the two were practically like sisters.

At this moment, Lily and the Eighth Elder of the Lagorio family arrived outside the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.

"Who are you? Do you know where you stand?"

Outside the gates, the two were immediately barred from entering by two guards of the Pavilion.

"Greetings, my friends. We are from the Lagorio family, one of the reclusive families. I am the Eighth Elder, and this is our First Young Mistress, Mistress Lily!"

The Eighth Elder studied them for a while, fearing that their cultivation levels were high. He immediately raised his hands into a fist-to-palm salute and spoke in a respectful tone.

"There is a Lagorio family among the reclusive families?"

One of the men was taken aback. He spoke with a mix of confusion and suspicion on his face.

It was evident that he was mocking them, looking down o n the Lagorio family.

“I think so. Usually, we only hear about the eight first-class families. But the Lagorio family isn’t too shabby either. I think they’re second-class!”

Another girl chimed in after thinking about it.

“A second-class family? Forget that. People from second-class families have no right to speak to us about the Pavilion of Gods and Kings!”

The man from before hardened his expression when he heard this. “Go. All the elders and masters here are busy people. They don’t have time to spare for you second-class families.”

The Eighth Elder and Lily exchanged a glance. The two’s expressions were awkward.

Chapter 1450

Lily was furious.

Before, she was the eminent young mistress of the Lagorio family, born with a silver spoon in her mouth and coddled by her parents since Young.

After she got married, she was the wife of the First Young Master of the White family. After the White family had become a first-class family, her position had been further elevated. Plenty of people traipsed their way around her and curried her favor.

She never thought that she would see the day where she was dismissed so easily by these people in the semi-god realm. That greatly embarrassed her.

“You…”

Lily was so angry that she clenched her teeth, and her veins purpled.

“Eldest Miss, we should leave!”

The Eighth Elder feared that Lily would not be able to control her feelings when he saw her expression. It would be troublesome if she offended the members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.

He was of a high cultivation level, and these guards were no match for him.

But the fighters inside would definitely catch wind of any fighting. They would rush over, and it would be terrible then.

The guards had powerful people supporting them. Furthermore, this was their headquarters. There were over ten thousand apprentices in one Pavilion. If they dared to stir up a ruckus there, they might as well be digging their own graves!”

“What are you saying? Is the Eldest Miss displeased?”

The Pavilion apprentice gave a cold smile, folding his arms across his chest. “You look like you’re over forty years old,” he said. “You have a good figure, and you’ve managed to maintain your beauty pretty well, but I don’t like aunties like you. Hah. Perhaps we’d be nice if you were young and beautiful!”

“Hah!”

The others laughed together as well.

Lily released a long sigh, tamping down on her anger. Then she smiled and said," Heh. You have pretty good eyes, being able to tell my age a t first sight. Not bad at all!"

Here, she rolled her eyes at him and continued, "Young man, w e won't see your elders nor your masters. But why don't you see if we can talk to a Patronum? Can you allow us to see them?"

The man seemed to be in a much better mood after Lily praised him.

However, he still grinned and answered, "This is the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. Not even a Patronum is so readily available. Our Patronums here are all at the beginning or intermediate stage of the true god realm. People of that status among the reclusive families can already become an elder, right?"

Lily immediately batted her lashes at the Eighth Elder, who was standing beside her, signaling to him to bring something out.

The Eighth Elder was stunned for a while, then he recovered and flipped his palm, taking out a stalk of first-grade premium spirited grass. "We truly hope that you can help us, young man," he said. "Just spread the news. As for whether they grant us an audience, that's up to them."

The man saw that it was a first-grade premium spirited grass, and his eyes brightened.

However, he quickly responded, "There are five of u s here. Why are you only taking out one stalk of spirited grass? How are we supposed to divide this? Are you kidding me? Do you take us so lightly?"

The corners of the Eighth Elder's mouth twitched violently. He was seething, but he knew what the brat was hinting at. He flipped his palm and took out another four stalks of first-grade premium spirited grass. "I hope that the rest of you won't take my oversight to heart!"

The five apprentices exchanged glances, clearly delighted.

The man from before flew forward and took the spirited grass, passing it to his comrades.

“How about this? Since you came from afar and your journey was arduous, I’ll get someone to report your arrival to our Patronum. What message do you have for him?”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1451-1453

Chapter 1451

The man smiled before agreeing to the deal.

“Please inform your head Patronum that I want to see your grandmaster,” Lily immediately said. “Because we have information about the ultimate god status!”

“Ultimate god status!”

The disciples were shocked when they heard this. Naturally, they had heard of this legend, but no one had found any clues leading to it all these years.

They did not think that Lily would mention it then.

“Carlos, I think you should bring them to see the First Elder. I’m sure that the First Elder will take them to see the Grandmaster after listening to them. Even if the Head Patronum knows about this, he’ll probably just take them to see the First Elder!”

The man frowned and immediately turned serious. He told another man beside him, who was clothed in a long green gown.

“All right. You two, follow me!”

The male disciple named Carlos nodded his head and waved at Lily and the Eighth Elder.

They exchanged a glance, delighted, and followed him in.

After the three flew some distance away, one of the female disciples asked the man from before, “Brother Darren, no one has been able to find any clues about the ultimate god status all this while. Even the Four Ancient Clans have not found a single clue even as we continue to search in secret. Do you think we can trust those two?”

The man named Brother Darren gave a cold smile. “They should be pretty trustworthy. If they didn’t come bearing the truth, they would be serving their heads on a platter,” he said. “This is the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. They can’t just swing by and attempt to swindle us as they please. Besides, each of us gets a stalk of first-grade premium spirited grass by bringing them over. There are no visible disadvantages to us!”

“Heh. You’re right, Brother Darren!”

The girl instantly chuckled.

At that moment, the First Elder of the Pavilion was leisurely drinking tea in the courtyard, basking in the sun. His white hair and long beard gave him the appearance of a being from the heavenly realms.

He placed his teacup on the stone table, frowning. He craned his head slightly to catch sight of the three people flying in through the entrance. He did not look happy.

“Who are these two, Carlos? I’m the First Elder here. Don’t bring anyone who walks up to our entrance to me. Understand?”

Before Carlos could say anything, the First Elder spoke in a patient tone.

“I would not have brought these two here if they did not have any important business, First Elder. I think you’ll definitely be interested in what they have to say. That’s why I brought them to you!”

Carlos stepped forward and said, raising his arms in a fist-to-palm salute.

“Really?”

The First Elder gave a cold smile. “Then let’s hear them out. If I’m not interested, I might just kill these two outsiders.”

The corners of their mouths twitched slightly when Lily and the Eighth Elder of the Lagorio family heard him. The First Elder of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings was way too brutal.

“Greetings, First Elder. I, Lily Lagorio, am the daughter of the head of the Lagorio family, Trenton Lagorio, of the reclusive families. Indeed, I did come here on an important business today, and I would like to see your grandmaster! So…”

Lily raised her arms in a demure fist-to-palm salute. She bowed over slightly, speaking with reverence in her voice.

The old man furrowed his brows, slightly vexed. “What are you trying to say? Even I can’t handle your problem? The matter is so big that you must see our grandmaster? You’ve got guts!”

Chapter 1452

When he heard this, the disciple was shocked as well. He immediately told Lily off, “What are you saying? This is our respected and venerable First Elder. It’s your honor to be able to meet him. Besides, even first-class family members won’t get to meet him so easily. You’re only a daughter of a second-class family. It’s good enough that we let you in, and still, you’re not satisfied?”

Lily was so frightened that cold sweat beaded down her forehead. At that moment, the First Elder got onto his feet. The frightening aura that he radiated made her, whose level was only a martial artist, unable to stand on her two feet. She dropped to her knees, and even the Eighth Elder next to her was starting to turn pale. He too sensed the immense pressure.

“I–I did not mean that, First Elder. What I meant was that you would still seek out the grandmasters to discuss the matter even after I’ve consulted you. This is a matter of unimaginable proportions to the Pavilions!”

Lily clenched her teeth, her face turning paler by the moment. “Because I have clues that lead to the ultimate god status!” she said hurriedly.

“The ultimate god status?”

When he heard this, the First Elder of the Pavilion immediately frowned. The frightening aura radiating from his body slowly dissipated until it completely vanished, as though it had never appeared.

“That’s right. The ultimate god status!”

Lily heaved an internal sigh of relief. She wiped at the sweat filming across her forehead.

“Hmph!”

Yet she did not think that the old man would simply just smile. “Every day, there are plenty of people who come bearing news of this, but they’re all liars and tricksters. You should know that you will die if you provide useless information!”

Lily took a sharp intake of breath after she heard that. If there were not any rewards from going into the Seven Dangers, did that not mean that she was in danger?

However, after she thought about it carefully, she still spoke to the old man in a resolute tone, “Do not worry, First Elder. The information I have will definitely be useful. Besides, the eight first-class reclusive family members have already discussed this, and they’re prepared to move out!”

“All right. Tell me!”

The First Elder of the Pavilion retook his seat, leaning against his chair, and slowly closed his eyes.

Yet he did not think that Lily would just frown and say, “I think we should meet the grandmaster instead before deciding further on the matter. After all, you’re well aware of the value of information like this. Besides, the other families have not told you of this, so you should know what it means. It means that they’re confident in this clue leading toward the ultimate god status!”

After Lily said that, the First Elder could not help but chuckle internally.

It seemed that the information would likely lead to a way to break into the ultimate god status. If the first-class family members snatched the opportunity and a few of them broke into the ultimate god realm, the Four Ancient Clans would no longer be as powerful as they once were.

After all, who knew how terrifying a fighter at the ultimate god status could be?

The First Elder suddenly realized the gravity of the situation and sprang onto his feet. “All right. Let’s go. I’ll take you to see our grandmaster!”

When they heard this, Lily and the Eighth Elder exchanged a glance, delighted. They could finally meet the Grandmaster of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.

After a while, the First Elder of the Pavilion took the two of them before the Grandmaster.

At that moment, the Grandmaster was playing chess with the Vice-Grandmaster. When the First Elder brought the two of them to where they were, they did not dare to disturb them. They could only stand to the side and wait in silence.

After they finished the game, only did the Grandmaster and the Vice-Grandmaster acknowledge their presence.

Chapter 1453

“Who are these two, First Elder?”

The Grandmaster of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings was also a white-haired elder, and he looked very old. If he could not break into the ultimate god status, he could only wait for his death, just like the grandmasters before him.

However, the Vice-Grandmaster looked a lot younger, and he was probably forty or fifty years old. He looked like he was full of life.

The First Elder raised his arms into a fist-to-palm salute. “Grandmaster, this is the first daughter of the second-class Lagorio family, and this is their Eighth Elder. They came bearing news of critical importance, which is why I had to bring them before you!”

“Really? Tell us then! It’s been quite boring lately too. Who knows how interesting their news can get!”

The Grandmaster glanced at Lily, speaking slowly.

Everyone thought that Lily would just spill everything this time.

Yet she raised her arms into a fist-to-palm salute and said, “Greetings, Grandmaster. This news is of utmost importance, and I fear that the first-class families will be furious if they hear that I’ve revealed this. I can tell you, of course, but…”

The Grandmaster was well-versed with human intentions, and he immediately understood what Lily wanted when he heard her words.

He gave a wan smile. “You will be rewarded, of course,” he said. “But it depends if your news is of any value!”

He then paused for a while before continuing, “If your news has no value, not only will you not be rewarded, you will not be able to walk out of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings alive! After all, it’s difficult for a second-class family member to even negotiate niceties with us!”

“Do not worry. It is valuable enough. This concerns your ability to break into the ultimate god status, and the news I bring this time is real enough.”

Lily smiled and said, “I do not ask for much. I only want five hundred stalks of second-grade intermediate spirited grass, as well as some pills. You are free to give us as many pills as you wish!“

“Eldest Miss…”

The Eighth Elder was shocked when he heard this. She was too bold, actually daring to lay out those terms. She was overstepping her boundaries, even though the Pavilion of Gods and Kings could certainly fulfill those demands. However, they were lofty and proud. If they were unhappy, they would kill them both. That would be troublesome.

Yet Lily did not seem to care. She looked at the Grandmaster in earnest, as though she had never heard him.

“No problem. Speak now!”

The old man nodded his head after giving it some thought. If he could break into the ultimate god status, it was a small price to pay.

Besides, no one else had brought information like that to them before, while the first daughter of the Lagorio family did. This meant that her family probably lacked martial enhancement materials.

Lily was delighted. She then told them everything.

The corners of the Grandmaster’s lips curled into a cold smile after he finished listening to her.

“I never thought that the first-class families were so clever. They actually repaired the summoning circle, which showed images and a few cryptic clues. I think we should be able to find something in the Seven Dangers!”

The Grandmaster bobbed his head. “All right, First Elder, take them down and give them the items they requested for,” he told the First Elder. “This information is worth the price. Give them fifty first-grade premium pills. If we give any less, they might call me an old miser!”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1454-1456

Chapter 1454

“This is great. Your plan is fantastic, Eldest Miss. I even thought that we would get ourselves into trouble if you only intended to tell the news to them. I didn’t think that we’d get so many rewards. If this is the case, we didn’t come here for nothing!”

After they got out of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, the Eighth Elder’s nerves were still on the edge. He had been afraid that they would have been killed if the Ancient Clan was not happy. They would truly be in dire straits then.

Furthermore, the two of them had sneaked here. If they died, the master would not have known how they died.

Lily gave a mirthless smile. “Think about it. The Lagorio family is only a second-class family right now,” she said. “We’re much weaker than the White family, to begin with, and after the competition, we suffered great losses with so many geniuses dead. It’ll be difficult for us to rise again. Who knows how long we’d have to wait till then?”

Here, Lily paused before continuing, “That’s why even if we don’t tell the Four Ancient Clans about this, we won’t be able to get much out of an excursion into the Seven Dangers. Why don’t we then secretly spread this information? This way, our losses won’t be so great, and we’ll even get rewarded for our efforts. Isn’t that the ideal situation?”

“Hah. You’re getting smarter, Eldest Miss!”

The Eighth Elder burst into laughter. “Just by using the spirited grass and pills we’ve obtained, the geniuses in the Lagorio family will be able to grow in a shorter time. This way, the gap between us and the White family won’t be as big until we can never hope to catch up to them.”

“Next, let’s go to the Pavilion of Divinity!”

He did not think that Lily would give a wan smile as she responded to him.

“The Pavilion of Divinity? You want to go there?”

The Eighth Elder drew his brows together. He was surprised.

“Heh. I didn’t say that I would only leak the information to a single Ancient Clan,” Lily said a cold smile on her lips. “We should visit each Ancient Clan. Wouldn’t that be better? Think about it. We can multiply our gains by four. Wouldn’t that be amazing?”

“Hmm. You’re right. That’s true!”

The Eighth Elder immediately bobbed his head after he heard this.

At that moment, in the main hall of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.

The Vice-Grandmaster looked at the Grandmaster. “Grandmaster, why did you give them those items just now?” he asked, tone serious. “They can’t do anything even if we don’t give them anything. They’re only a second-class family!”

The Grandmaster of the Pavilion shook his head, smiling. “We would seem like a petty clan if we didn’t. Besides, I’m in a good mood today after hearing such great news. Think about it. It’ll be fantastic if we can break into the ultimate god realm. We’ll be able to live for two hundred years then. Two whole hundred years. I’ve been dreaming of this day for so long, and it’s finally dawning!”

“You’re right!”

The middle-aged man nodded his head, and his eyes brightened. “Then when should we make a move? The first-class families all fear the Seven Dangers, but we have nothing to be afraid of. Heh. There are plenty of fighters in our clan. No need to wait for external parties, right?”

Grandmaster Harry gave the suggestion some thought. “How about this? We’ll have a meeting with the elders first, then we’ll dispatch seven units to search each of the Seven Dangers,” he said.

The middle-aged man was excited when he heard this. “That sounds good. But we can’t afford to hold our numbers back. The Seven Dangers cover an enormous expanse. It won’t do if too few of us go!”

Harry nodded his head. “That’s true. We’ll have at least two hundred people per unit. They’ll move out tomorrow!”

Chapter 1455

“Hah. All right!”

The middle-aged man laughed and went down to inform the other elders.

Lily only thought of getting rewards, but she had no idea that the people of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings were already discussing how to dispatch people to the Seven Dangers. After all, these people would not rush over to the Seven Dangers according to the time that the eight first-class families had set.

After they arrived at the Pavilion of Divinity, Lily and the Eighth Elder managed to see their grandmaster without a hitch and obtain the rewards they wanted.

The Grandmaster of the Pavilion of Divinity was slightly more generous than the Grandmaster of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. They gave ten more pills.

Soon, they exited the Pavilion of Divinity.

“No, no. We can’t just keep asking for these rewards. Even if we have this much, other than being able to allow us to increase our cultivation levels quickly, the Lagorio family will still have a hard time catching up to the White family!”

On the way to the Pavilion of Skies, Lily quickly thought of something and frowned.

These materials will last us for a long time, Eldest Miss. We won’t be able to catch up to the White family, but we can’t help that. If we ask for more, they might not be willing to bargain with us!”

The Eighth Elder answered after he thought about it.

“We can’t ask for rewards this time!”

Lily clenched her fists, venom filling her gaze. “This time, I’ll ask for an even better favor!”

“Really? What favor would be better?”

The Eighth Elder was confused. It was evident that he did not understand what Lily was trying to say.

“Hmph. It’ll be easy enough for the Pavilion of Skies to help me take revenge. Isn’t the White family going into the Seven Dangers as well? We'll get the people from the Pavilion of Skies to kill the entire White family then! That'll be great. Haha. This way, we'll get our revenge without lifting a finger!"

Lily emitted a cold harrumph, a dark smile curving the line of her lips.

"This–will they agree to this? Asking them to give spirited grass and other things is different from asking them to wipe out the White family!"

The Eighth Elder frowned when he heard this diabolical plan. "It'll indeed be easy enough for the Pavilion of Skies to wipe out the White family, but the White family has two fighters at the peak of the true god realm. Not to mention they have plenty of other fighters in the true god realm. If the two families clash, the Pavilion of Skies would emerge victoriously, but not without great losses. If you're asking them to get into a situation that might risk some of their most valuable fighters, they won't help you!"

"This is indeed troublesome!"

After listening to the Eighth Elder's reasoning, Lily realized that there was a good possibility of that happening.

However, after remaining silent for a moment, she could not help but say, "How about this? They won't agree to kill the entire White family, but it shouldn't be a problem for them to find an opportunity to kill Nash or Jack, right? And they should kill their First Elder as well! If those three are killed, the White family won't have proper fighters!"

Here, Lily climbed to her feet on the flying carpet and clenched her fists. "I would have practically taken revenge if those three were dead," she spoke confidently. "Then if the Lagorio family fights the White family then, the remaining fighters can only await death Without their heroes there to defend them!"

Chapter 1456

“If they’re only asked to attack these three, they might just agree!”

The Eighth Elder nodded his head after giving it some thought. “After all, it’s impossible to walk away with zero losses if they were to fight a huge family such as the White family. Once news of how one of the Four Ancient Clans attacked a reclusive family gets out, it’ll be troublesome!”

Lilly was well aware that the Four Ancient Clans and the reclusive families had always maintained an unspoken understanding that they would never meddle in each other’s waters.

Besides, the Four Ancient Clans had also promised that they would never interfere in the reclusive families’ affairs to not impede their growth.

Furthermore, there was the occasional scuffle or friction between them and the reclusive families, such as the eight first-class families, but the possibility of an actual war breaking out was pretty low.

They had their disagreements, but once an Ancient Clan attacked a reclusive family, the other reclusive families would definitely band together to oppose the Ancient Clan, even going to war with them.

This was because the reclusive families were aware that if something like that happened once, it was likely to happen again if they did not fight back together. The next target could be any of the families.

The Ancient Clans could attack the families until all of them were destroyed.

That was why it would be difficult to convince the Ancient Clans to attack the White family, which was a first-class family. The chances of them agreeing to the proposition were very small.

However, if it was to attack only a few people, it was extremely likely that they would agree to it. They only needed to target two or three people, and if they secretly killed the targets in the danger zone, nobody would be able to determine if they were the murderers.

“Naturally. But still, I must test their waters. I’ll first suggest that they wipe out the entire White family, and they’ll definitely refuse. This way, they’ll feel like they’ve made a bargain if I reduce my conditions. The chances of them agreeing to it will be even bigger!”

Lily gave a wicked smile and said.

The Eighth Elder’s eyes brightened. He flashed a thumbs up at Lily. “All right. Your plan is great, Eldest Miss. You’ve truly become wiser. Haha. I think we’ll definitely be able to see this through!”

Lily said after looking at the sky.

The two found a small town and rested for the night. The next morning, they continued to make their way toward the Pavilion of Skies.

At noon, the two finally arrived at the gates of the Pavilion of Skies.

Like before, a few disciples standing guard at the entrance halted them.

“Greetings. We’re here to discuss a matter of utmost importance with your grandmaster. We hope that you can pass our message along!”

The Eighth Elder smiled and flipped his palm, taking out four first-grade premium pills and thrusting them toward the guards. “Young lads, just let them know that we’re here. Will these work?”

They had obtained these pills from the Pavilion of Divinity. That was why they were more generous this time, taking the pills out right off the bat.

The four disciples were not of high cultivation levels. Their eyes immediately brightened when they saw the pills. The pills would be of great help to them.

“All right!”

One of the men took the pills without hesitation before dividing them with his fellow guards.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1457-1459

Chapter 1457

“Are you sure about this, Brother? Shouldn’t we inform the First Elder, at least? You didn’t even ask who these people are, and you’re going to bring them in to see the Grandmaster?”

A female disciple frowned when she saw this and then reminded the male disciple.

Only then the male disciple recollected himself and asked, “Right. Who are you people? I can’t just accept gifts from you!”

Lily proceeded to introduce herself and the Eighth Elder to them. “We are here on truly important business,” she said. “We have news about the ultimate god status. Do not worry. I’m sure that your grandmaster will see us once he knows that we are here for this.”

The Eighth Elder also chimed in, “It’s true. He’ll definitely see us. Think about it. Your grandmaster is at the peak of the true god status. But he's old now. I hear that he's over seventy now. He can be stronger and faster than the rest of us, but even he can only await death if he does not break into the ultimate god status. The most important thing to him now is to break into the ultimate god realm and prolong his life…"

"All right, all right. No need to say another word. I'll bring you in if you do have news like that!"

The male disciple was unused to the Eighth Elder's winding speech. He waved his hand and interrupted the older man saying, "Let's go. I'll bring you in!"

"All right. You work so efficiently, young man, taking us to see your grandmaster so soon!"

Lily and the Eighth Elder immediately followed him in.

The three quickly arrived in a huge palace, coming before an old man clad in a red gown.

"Greetings, Grandmaster Collins!"

The three did fist-to-palm salutes before the old man, then they sank into bows, not daring to display an ounce of disrespect.

The old man was playing with a parrot in a cage. He looked at the three then set the birdcage down. "Why did you bring these people here? Didn't I say that all matters should be handled by the Patronums or the Elders? If it doesn't concern the Pavilion's immediate welfare, no need to seek me. Besides, a disciple like you has no authority to come informing me of matters, even important ones."

Cold sweat suddenly beaded down the male disciple's forehead. If not for the first-grade premium pill and the fact that these people were bringing news that the Grandmaster would gladly welcome, he would not have risked his life to bring people in.

He immediately raised his arms into another fist-to-palm salute and said, “Grandmaster, they are here to bring good news to you. It does not concern the Pavilion’s immediate welfare, but it is close enough!”

“Close enough?”

The old man furrowed his brows, then he studied Lily. He realized that not only was she beautiful and fair, but she also carried an air of dignity about her. Not everyone had this aura of a mature woman.

Furthermore, her martial aura was rare.

“Look at me!”

He told Lily.

“Yes, Grandmaster Collins. I am the first daughter of the second-class reclusive family, the Lagorio family. I bring good news to you today!”

Lily lifted her head and gave a wan smile. She had already seen two grandmasters of Ancient Clans. She was not so nervous now.

“You’re pretty calm. You’re not actually afraid of me!”

Grandmaster Collins’s eyes brightened when he saw Lily’s face. She was a striking woman.

Chapter 1458

“Heh. I have no choice, Grandmaster Collins. After all, I know that it’d be useless for me to be nervous!”

Lily gave a bitter smile. “Besides, I believe that a powerful and benevolent figure such as you wouldn’t bother with us small fry, right?”

“Haha. That’s true, that’s true!”

Grandmaster Collins studied Lily again, and his heart was troubled. The woman maintained her looks well, and she looked as though she was in her thirties. She also had an excellent figure. She was just his type.

He sat down and asked slowly, “All right. Tell me. What news do you bring me?”

“Grandmaster Collins. I’m here to tell you something about the ultimate god status!”

Lily said in a mirthless tone.

Joel Collins’s eyes immediately brightened when he heard this. He had just sat down, but he sprang to his feet again in excitement. “News about the ultimate god realm?”

However, he quickly noticed that something was off, and his lips curled into a frosty smile. “However, why would you tell us of the Pavilion of Skies about such news? Heh. I don’t think you’re that generous!”

“You catch on quickly, Grandmaster Collins,” Lily replied, smiling. “You’ve seen right through us. Naturally, we’d like some sort of reward after coming such a long way to reveal this piece of news!”

“Hah. I knew it. Say it. How much do you want? Spirited grass, pills? What grade do you want? Do you need weapons?”

Joel laughed and said, “The Four Ancient Clans never mingled with the reclusive families for fear that we would be affected by you. We can break that tradition today since it’s about the ultimate god realm!”

Lily looked at the disciple beside her and frowned.

Joel was no fool, and he instantly understood what she wanted. He waved his hand and told the disciple, “Take your leave first!”

“Yes, Grandmaster!”

The disciple who had brought them in exited the hall respectfully.

After he left, Joel said, “All right. You may speak now!”

Only then did Lily say, “I don’t want spirited grass or treasures…”

Joel was taken aback. “You don’t? Then what do you want?” he said, astonished. “Don’t tell me that you admire me that much?”

Lily was internally speechless, but she replied, “Of course I admire you, Grandmaster Collins. After all, you’re the great Grandmaster of the Pavilion of Skies!”

“Haha. Speak then. What do you want? It won’t be a problem so long as I can fulfill it! After all, news about the ultimate god realm is hard to resist for an old man like me!”

Joel laughed again.

“Help us kill the entire White family. How about that?”

Chapter 1459

Lily finally revealed her thoughts, ‘I know that this might be difficult for you, but I have no choice. I need to take revenge. I must take revenge!’

“Wait!”

Joel was stupefied when he heard this. He drew his brows together. “I just remembered that the master of the White family is Nash White, right?” he said. “Isn’t his woman named Lily? Why would you want to kill him?”

“Hmph. That traitor. He found another woman from the mortal realm. Never mind that that was embarrassing enough, he even welcomed her and the illegitimate son they had together back into the house. And never mind that he welcomed them back, he even gave the position of the house heir to that illegitimate son. Of course, I’m angry!”

Once Lily recalled this, fury sparked in her again. “The White family has been growing stronger,” she said. “Their First Elder had broken into the peak of the true god status. As for that good-for-nothing illegitimate b*stard, Jack, he has strong talent and fighting power. I even heard that he has a powerful spiritual tool, probably an ultimate grade tool. During the competition, the Lagorio family has suffered great losses. It’s difficult for me to take revenge now!”

“All right. I get it now. So because of this internal conflict, you are now enemies with your man. That’s why you want our help to get rid of the White family, right?”

Joel had a grasp on the situation after listening to her.

“That’s right. This matter is simple enough for you so long as you’re willing to help. After all, you have over a dozen Elders in the Pavilion of Skies, and all of them are at the peak of the true god status. This will be easy enough for the likes of you!

“Besides, I’m sure that you’ll be able to find a way to break into the true god status with the information we’ll share with you. You’ll definitely find a way no matter the martial art technique!”

Lily grew more excited as she spoke, “That’s why I believe that the ultimate god status is important to you. I’m sure you know this as well. My terms for supplying the information is not too much, isn’t it now?”

It was evident that Joel seemed to have been stirred. He went silent for a while, then said, “I do want to help you, but you should know that the Pavilion of Skies has no reason to attack a reclusive family. If we do attack, all the reclusive families including some of the second-class families will come together and fight us. I’m afraid that even we would be unable to defend against them then…”

Here, Joel paused for a while before continuing, “This has been the agreement between the Four Ancient Clans and the reclusive families, and it has existed for many years. Nobody would dare to break the peace so easily!”

“I know that this is a difficult decision for you to make. But I have no other way around this!”

Lily frowned, thinking for a while before speaking, “That’s why I won’t say a single word if you won’t help me.”

“You won’t?”

After Joel heard that, an amused smile crept across his lips. “Aren’t you afraid that I’ll kill you if you don’t say anything?” he asked.

“Heh. First of all, I trust that you wouldn’t stoop to such underhanded methods, Grandmaster Collins. After all, you are a grandmaster of one of the Four Ancient Clans. If you attack a martial artist from a second-class family, you’d become the laughingstock if news of this gets out. My father and the others all know that I’ve come to meet you!”

Lily chuckled and added, “Besides, if I don’t say a word, what can you gain from killing me? I didn’t think that I would return home alive when I set out on this journey!”

“You have guts. You’re truly Master Lagorio’s daughter!”

The old man nodded his head in satisfaction. He realized that this woman was exactly to his taste.

However, after he thought about it, he could not help but say, “Why don’t I just give you spirited grass? Even second-grades. And I believe that you’ll need pills and things like that too! Think about it. The White family is a first-class family. They have the numbers. No way that we’d be able to clamp down on all rumors if we kill them. It’ll be troublesome if news of that gets out!”

When Lily heard this, she was delighted. She knew that her original plan would be successful as the old man was now, stirred.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1460-1462

Chapter 1460

“How about this? I understand that this will be difficult even for you, Grandmaster Collins. I don’t wish to push you into a corner. After all, there will be unimaginable consequences if the entire White family were to be wiped out. See if this works for you then. The White family will definitely go into the Seven Dangers soon. We’ll keep in contact, and I’ll tell you which danger zone they went into!

“After you enter the danger zone and finds Nash, Jack, and their First Elder, Kenneth, help me kill the three of them. That shouldn’t be too hard, right? The area has always been chaotic, so it’s not easy for people to be seen. It shouldn’t be a problem if you only kill these three people!”

Lily pretended to be deep in thought for a moment before speaking her mind, “And so long as the three of them are dead, the Lagorio family will definitely clinch victory if we were to attack the White family. Battles between reclusive families shouldn’t bother you, right?”

“That makes sense!”

Joel nodded his head. Then he looked at the Eighth Elder of the Lagorio family. “However, I still wish to discuss this matter further with your Eldest Miss,” he told the Eighth Elder. “I hope that you can wait outside for a while. There is a banyan tree outside the palace. You can wait there!”

The Eighth Elder was surprised, unable to comprehend why the old man suddenly wanted him to leave but he did not dare to make a single protest. He simply bobbed his head and raised his arms into a fist-to-palm salute, striding out of the palace.

Lily also furrowed her brows. She did not know what the old man wanted from her.

She looked at him for a while. “Grandmaster Collins, I do not understand why you made my subordinate leave all of the sudden,” she said. “He’s the Eighth Elder of my family, and so he is one of my own. He already knows everything we talked about here. Was that truly necessary?”

“Haha, how would you know that wasn’t necessary, sweetheart?”

Joel curled his fingers as if he were pulling Lily over. A frightening energy dragged Lily toward him, and he wrapped an arm of his around her waist.

“You…”

Lily was suddenly so furious that her face went red. She glared at him, and her stomach churned with disgust. After all, she had not the slightest bit of attraction toward this old man.

However, he was the grandmaster of one of the Four Ancient Clans. A powerful figure and his fighting power were not to be trifled with. She was evidently no match for him as someone only at the level of a martial artist, never mind that she had even made a request to him. That was why even though Lily was broiling inside, she could only clench her teeth, not daring to say another word.

“Do you think that that was necessary now?”

Joel emitted a mirthless chuckle and inhaled Lily’s scent. “You smell so good,” he continued. “You have a good figure, Dearie. Not bad, not bad. It was truly love at first sight!”

When Lily recalled her grudges, the anger on her expression immediately dissipated. Instead, she rolled her eyes at him and spoke in a coquettish tone, “Grandmaster Collins, you are in such a high position. Why would you like someone like me? You could always find a younger lady if you wanted a woman!”

“Haha. I feel bad if I go for the young ones and my wives are old too. Now, I prefer women like you! Besides, very few young ladies are as good-looking as you, from my perspective!”

Joel saw that she was playing along, and could not help but plant a kiss on Lily’s lips. “It’s not difficult at all to get me to agree to help you kill those three. But I am afraid that someone will seize the opportunity to strike us if we attack a reclusive family’s members. It will be troublesome then. That’s why I will only agree to your terms if you agree to mine!”

“Seriously? Fine. I’ll tell you about the method to break into the ultimate god realm later, and I’ll sleep with you once. Will that work?”

Lily pulled on a coy mask, batting her lashes at him.

Chapter 1461

“I’m afraid that’s not what I want!”

Yet she did not think that Joel would say, “I intend to marry you and make you my ninth wife. Of course, you must accompany me in a while!”

“Ninth wife?”

When she heard this, the corners of Lily’s mouth twitched slightly. She never imagined that he would want to make her his ninth wife.

She was not interested in marrying such an old man. If word of that got out, it was not something to be proud of. Besides, there would be plenty of people talking behind her back if she married him.

After all, she had never known Joel before. If she married him so suddenly, it was evident that she was only interested in his position.

However, she thought about how she wanted to kill Jack and Nash to take revenge. She thought about how she would be able to command many fighters from the Pavilion of Skies to find her son if she became the ninth wife. She quickly made a decision then.

“All right. I accept your proposal!”

Lily nodded her head. “But since I’m going to become your ninth wife, I hope that you’ll make sure that the announcement is blasted to everyone and that you’ll invite powerful figures to our wedding. How about that?”

“Haha. Of course, of course. I’ll come to visit your parents in another two days after you get back. Okay?”

Joel suddenly burst into laughter, absolutely ecstatic. He carried Lily into the room. “Let’s go, babe. We’ll take a shower first, then you’ll tell me everything about breaking into the ultimate god realm. Understand?”

“All right!”

Lily nodded her head. However, she was internally speechless. If she had known that this would happen, she would not have told the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Gods and Kings about the ultimate god realm. She would have come straight to the Pavilion of Skies.

Once she became the ninth wife, the Pavilion of Skies would be able to help her get rid of Nash, Jack, and the First Elder of the White family. The White family would be done for then.

After that, she could give the Lagorio family some martial resources with her connection to the Pavilion of Skies, making the Lagorio family grow stronger and becoming a first-class family. Maybe they could even become the strongest first-class family in a few years and completely overtake the Hunt family and the others.

When she thought about it as she was being carried into the room by Joel, she could see her bright and beautiful future.

“Ah. What are those two talking about? Why aren’t they coming out yet?”

Under the banyan tree outside the palace, the Eighth Elder of the Lagorio family had been waiting for a very long time. He began to worry.

However, he could not just barge in recklessly. He could only wait outside in silence.

Chapter 1462

The Eighth Elder of the Lagorio family waited quietly. After a while, Lily finally came out.

“What happened? I guess that he agreed to the proposition? Why did he ask you to stay behind? What’s so critical that he must talk with you alone?”

When he saw Lily emerging, the Eighth Elder quickly rushed over, confusion filling him.

Lily’s emotions were in a tangle. She still felt disgusted after having been ravished by an old man.

She looked at the Eighth Elder. “Let’s leave this place first,” she said. “I’ll tell you everything in a while!”

“All right!”

The Eighth Elder frowned. He could tell that Lily was in a bad mood, so he did not dare to press her any further. He took out the flying carpet, and the two hopped on it and flew into the distance.

After they had flown for some time, the Eighth Elder finally asked, “Eldest Miss, should we head for the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles?”

Lily had not intended to go there, but she gave it some thought and said, “Let’s go. We’ve been successful so far. Besides, we shouldn’t just give up our chances of taking spirited grass. Since the other three Pavilions already know of this, it should be fine if another is in the loop!”

“Haha. You’re right, Eldest Miss. We shouldn’t waste this opportunity!”

The Eighth Elder burst into laughter after he heard this.

“Eighth Elder, do you want to know why Grandmaster Carter wanted to see me alone?” Lily said. “Since you’ll know this sooner or later, I might as well tell you now. The old man fell for me at first sight! He wants to marry me and make me his ninth wife!”

“Ninth wife?”

The Eighth Elder was shocked when he heard this. He frowned and asked, “So what are you saying, Eldest Miss? Don’t tell me that you actually intend to marry him? That man is so old. Isn’t the age gap a bit too much!”

Lily stared ahead, a wan smile curving her lips. “He’ll visit the Lagorio family in a few days to introduce himself. It’s a good thing that we’re able to establish a relationship like this with the Pavilion of Skies, one of the Four Ancient Clans. This will greatly benefit the development of the Lagorio family. Besides, he agreed to kill Nash, Jack, and Kenneth!”

“Ah!”

The Eighth Elder released a sigh. “Eldest Miss. You sacrificed so much for us!”

Lily flashed him an easygoing grin. “No worries. We can take revenge and kill the White family, and more importantly, I’ll be the powerful ninth wife in the future. Hehe. Think about it. The disciples from the Four Ancient Clans from before all looked down on us. Next time, they’ll be on their knees when they see me. That’ll be such a powerful feeling. I don’t think this is a bad thing!”

“Mmhmm. It’s great that you think that way, Eldest Miss! I was afraid that you would feel like you’re suffering!”

The Eighth Elder nodded his head and increased the speed.

Their visit to the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles was successful as well. They quickly told them about the ultimate god status and got their rewards.

Of course, Lily also told them that the reclusive family members would be making a move in another twenty days.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1463-1466

Chapter 1463

“Master, the Eldest Miss has been gone for a few days already. Why isn’t she back yet? Where has she gone to?”

At the Lagorio family, the butler could not help but ask Trenton.

“No matter where she goes, it’s a good thing so long as she’s enjoying herself. I hope that she’ll be in a better mood when she returns this time!”

Trenton gave a bitter smile. “I hope that everybody has been training hard lately?” he spoke to the butler. “There are only a few days left till the meeting at the Cabello family’s place. But even if we don’t have a meeting, we’d be heading into the Seven Dangers anyway. That’s why if we can increase our fighting power, we should. After all, those are dangerous places. Some monsters are probably as strong as fighters at the advanced stage of the true god realm, or even the peak of the true god realm!”

Here, Trenton paused for a while before continuing, “After all, even I might not survive if I go in!”

“Don’t worry. Everybody is training hard. However, those that go in must at least be in the semi-god realm. Otherwise, they’re going to die!”

The butler, Hilton Lagorio, nodded his head and spoke.

At this moment, the two noticed that a flying carpet was gradually heading toward them in the distance.

“Master, see! It’s the Eldest Miss and the Eighth Elder. They’re back!”

The butler immediately cried out, pointing at them.

Soon, the flying carpet was before them, and the two jumped down from it.

Lily immediately threw a martial ring at Trenton once she got down. “Dad, there are plenty of pills and spirited grass in there. It’s enough to supply the Lagorio family members for a long while. Besides, those pills will help a few of our fighters to increase their cultivation levels in a short time!”

Trenton was so stunned that he stood rooted to the ground. He studied the martial ring carefully, then took a sharp intake of breath. “No way. So many? What happened? My God, where did you get these martial resources, my dear daughter? Where did you go?”

“No way!”

Hilton also came over and snatched the martial ring away to take a look. He also took a sharp intake of breath and was completely stupefied. “Eldest Miss, where–where did you get all these treasures?”

“Dad, I–I told the Four Ancient Clans about what we know of the ultimate god status!”

Lily truly dropped the bomb straight off the bat. Her words completely shellshocked the two old men before her.

“You–what were you thinking, Daughter. How could you tell this to the Four Ancient Clans? This is the chance for us reclusive families to turn the tables on them. Do you think we can actually get benefits by doing this?”

Trenton slapped his thigh, furious. His voice was trembling, “I’d rather throw away all these martial resources than tell the Four Ancient Clans about this. Besides, everybody agreed to not breathe a word about this to the Four Ancient Clans. Once the other reclusive families find out that we leaked this information, they will hate us. Then, our relationships with all the reclusive families will be severed!”

“Dad, you’re thinking too much!”

Lily gave a cold smile. “We’re only a second-class family. Did you really think that we’d get plenty of rewards if we did not speak a word about it to outsiders? Even if there are rewards, the eight first-class families would get the lion’s share of it, no? No one knows how we can break into the ultimate god status. What if it’s some kind of magical fruit, and there are only eight of its kind in the world? Do you think the first-class families will give us a portion?”

Here, Lily paused, lacing her fingers behind her back. “Not only will we obtain nothing, but the gap between us and the White family will only grow wider. That’s why there’s hardly any difference for us if we tell the Four Ancient Clans about this!”

Chapter 1464

“Ah. What do you mean there’s no difference, Daughter! I thought that you were just heading out to enjoy yourself so that you can clear your mind. I didn’t think that you would tell the Four Ancient Clans about this!”

Trenton heaved another sigh. “You fool. We have these treasures, but the other reclusive families will surely hate us for leaking the information. And the Four Ancient Clans have never meddled in the reclusive families’ affairs. We may have gained rewards this time, but we’ll be oppressed in the long run. The benefits do not outweigh the losses!”

As Trenton spoke, he slowly squatted as he despaired. “I barely managed to suck up to the Hunt family and build a good relationship with them,” he added. “I didn’t think that you would actually give them a reason to hate us! Ah. You had good intentions, but you did nothing but drag us down!”

He did not think that Lily would simply give a wan smile after she heard that. “Dad, you can’t keep looking at things from your old perspectives. You have to think of the future. This was indeed the case in the past. The many reclusive families and the Four Ancient Clans never mingled and meddled with each other’s affairs, and we’ve maintained this unspoken agreement for a long time.

“But the circumstances are different now. Even if we know the techniques to attain the ultimate god status, we don’t know how many of us can actually break into it, and we don’t know who will make the breakthrough first. Perhaps it’ll be someone from the Four Ancient Clans or someone from the reclusive families. At any rate, the balance will soon be destroyed. This is an opportunity for us, and if we don’t seize it, we’ll be completely out of the game!”

As Lily spoke, she clenched her fists and spoke earnestly, “At any rate, the Lagorio family must not be shoved out of the game so easily. We must take this chance to rise!”

After Trenton heard this, he thought that it made sense. He sank into a thoughtful silence.

However, after he considered the matter for a while, he still could not help but say to Lily, “But the information about the ultimate god status is all speculation on our part. Who knows if the Seven Dangers actually contain a way to break into the ultimate god “IN status? What if they don’t? The Lagorio family will be finished then!”

The corners of Lily’s lips twitched ever so slightly, but she quickly recollected herself. “I don’t care. We have to throw all our stakes into this now. We can only believe that we’ll find a way to break into the ultimate god realm inside there. It might just be some kind of magical fruit. Besides, there are definitely cultivation techniques and martial arts techniques. How would we cultivate ourselves otherwise?”

“That’s right, Master. I agree that the Eldest Miss’s decision is risky, but if we don’t do this now, we’ll never get the chance to take revenge!”

After the Eighth Elder thought about it, he also chimed in to support Lily.

“Don’t worry, Dad. We’ll be able to take revenge soon!”

Lily smiled again. Then she told Trenton, “The Grandmaster of the Pavilion of Skies has already agreed to help us!

“No way. The Pavilion of Skies is one of the Four Ancient Clans. The White family is not some obscure clan. They’re a first-class reclusive family. The consequences will be unimaginable if they wipe out the entire White family. It’ll be terrible if word of that gets out. Besides, why would the Pavilion of Skies help us, a second-class reclusive family?”

Trenton was surprised at first, then he quickly shook his head. He thought that it was unimaginable. Something like that would never happen.

“Dad, Grandmaster Carter, and I immediately hit it off when we met. I think he’ll come over tomorrow or the day after to visit you, then he’ll announce the preparations for our wedding!”

Lily managed to smile as she said, “Then I’ll be his powerful ninth wife!

“What!”

Chapter 1465

Trenton nearly fainted right there and then. The grandmaster of the Pavilion of Skies was a few years older than him. He would have to call such an old man his son-in-law?

He staggered backward, and for a moment he could not find his breath. However, he was no fool. He quickly understood the sacrifice his daughter made.

He also understood that the matter had already been settled.

He had no way to change the circumstances. If he disagreed, he might as well have started a war with the Pavilion of Skies.

When the Grandmaster of the Pavilion of Skies came to visit him with his fighters and present their offerings, he could not just turn them away at the door. If he did not spare their dignity, he would be digging a grave for himself.

“All right, since you’ve already decided upon the matter, and if you two get along well, I have no objections!”

At last, Trenton stood up and gave a wan smile. “If we have the Pavilion of Skies supporting us, the other reclusive families won’t simply dare to attack us even if they find out that we leaked the information. Even if they don’t wish to spare our face, they have to at least respect the Pavilion of Skies, right?”

Lily clenched her fists. “If I train in a place like the Pavilion of Skies, I’ll be able to improve quickly with twice as little effort. I believe that one day, I’ll be able to quickly cultivate myself and return to the strength I had before. I’ll even become a fighter that everyone admires!”

“Ah. If you marry into the Pavilion of Skies, you must maintain a low profile too. Your cultivation level is low now, and you’ll be the youngest wife. I’m afraid that the other eight wives might band together to bully you!”

Trenton quickly thought of something and warned Lily.

“Bully me?”

Lily gave a frosty smile. “I, Lily Lagorio, am no pushover. If those women dare to bully me, I’ll make sure that they pay the price for it! Besides, once I’m the ninth wife, I can use the forces of the Pavilion of Skies to find Lance!”

Trenton did not know how to comfort Lily, seeing that she still could not let Lance go, believing that he was still alive. He could only nod his head.

“But even if you marry Joel Carter, I don’t think they’ll just help to wipe out the White family since their numbers are so big. Aren’t they afraid that the other families will come together to fight them?”

After falling into silence for a while, Trenton spoke with worry in his tone.

“Don’t worry, Dad. Joel and I have already negotiated the terms. They won’t directly attack the White family. I just need his men to kill Nash, Jack and Kenneth when they’re in the Seven Dangers. So long as the top three fighters in the White family are dead, we can handle the rest of the White family members without a problem!

“Besides, aren’t we on good terms with the Church family and the Hunt family now? If you can get their help to attack the White family, they’ll be completely wiped out!”

Lily spoke confidently, as though the entire world was in her palm.

Chapter 1466

“Well, when you put it that way, it might just work!” Trenton’s worries were eventually lifted as he nodded in satisfaction.

He then took two steps forward and caressed Lily’s hair as he lamented, “You’ve grown, my daughter. You know how to think and make plans now, but you’ve sacrificed too much for the Lagorio family.”

“Father, what are you talking about? I feel that Joel Collins is a kind man. Though there are rumors of how he loves to toy with women, he’s quite a nice person in other aspects. Our family wouldn’t need to be afraid of anything else after I marry him.” Lily steeled herself and wore a brave façade.

Eventually, Trenton nodded and spoke, “Alright. You must be tired, so you should go take a rest now. I’ll ask the elders for a meeting about these martial enhancement materials and let everybody share some so that everybody can use the materials for training.”

Sure enough, the pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion led several elders and came at noon the next day. They sent a large amount of martial enhancement materials as betrothal gifts once they arrived and decided on the engagement instantly. The wedding was then decided to be seven days later.

Another two days passed and there were about 12 days left before the White family had to go to the Cabello family when they received an invitation.

The elders, Jack, housekeeper Titus, and the others were summoned to the discussion hall. First elder Kenneth White curiously asked upon seeing Nash's hardened expression, "What is it, Master?"

Everybody could see that something serious must have happened when they saw Nash's solemn expression. Otherwise, he would not have summoned them—important members of the family-when everybody was busy training.

"Father, did something happen? Did members of the Hunt family make a move to enter the seven dangerous areas first and find ways to break through to the ultimate god level?" guessed Jack all while he wore a frown, expression shifted into a solemn expression.

It would be troublesome if that truly was the case. After all, he was the one who killed both young masters of the Hunt family, and only a few others could raise the other party's suspicion. Both him and Helena were the highest in the suspicion list.

The Hunts would seek him and the others out sooner or later for it, and it was because of that that Jack hoped someone from the White family could breakthrough to the ultimate god level, or they would be in trouble if the other party broke through first.

"No, that's not it. The seven dangerous areas cover a huge area and nobody knows how deep it actually is, so the Hunts won't dare to act rashly." Nash smiled bitterly. He took the invitation and passed it to Jack. "Take a look. The pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion from the Four Ancients Clans is marrying his ninth wife. He's inviting us to his wedding."

"How's that possible? This…this old man is marrying another wife when he has eight wives?" The First elder was shocked when he heard this, though a chuckle followed soon after. "Master, this shouldn't be a big issue, right? Him marrying again isn't a big deal. Although we'll need to spare some time to go there for a meal, it's nothing much. After all, it's just a meal! Members of the other families will surely attend the wedding. Apart from that, members from the other clans might show up too, right? They definitely have to honor the pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion!"

"That's right. Master, this is nothing, right? It's just him getting married. It's mind boggling how this old pervert is marrying his ninth wife when he's so old!" Another elder also started laughing.

Chapter 1467-1469

Chapter 1467

Titus, as he was next to them, had a frown on his face as he commented, “I’m afraid that it’s not so simple.”

Jack’s expression fell the moment he opened the invitation and read its contents before turning to everyone else present. “This ninth wife is Lily Lagorio!” he told them.

“Lily Lagorio?” The smile on both the First Elder and the other elder’s faces dropped instantly when the news was revealed, petrified as though they had seen a ghost.

They finally understood why Nash would have such a solemn expression on his face. Lily used to be his wife, the First Madam of the White family.

Although Lily committed quite the offense that caused Nash to lose his honor when she colluded with the Third Elder in a rebellion, she and Nash were once wedded to one another.

Were they purposely making it difficult for Nash in asking him to present himself during Lily’s wedding? How would others look at Nash? What would they say in private?

“This is too overboard. I’d understand it if they invited other families. Pavilion Master Collins should know that our master is Lily’s ex-husband, and he has to be detestable for inviting our White family!” seethed First Elder as he balled his hands into fists. “Master, why don’t we attend the wedding and you sit this one out?”

No one expected that Nash would shake his head instead with a bitter smile on his face. “That won’t do. I might be able to get away not attending this wedding had it been some random people from a second-class aristocratic family or some other families. As the master of the White family, if I don’t attend the wedding of the Skies Pavilion's pavilion master and send my subordinates, I fear rumors of me not honoring him would float around, thus I must attend this."

"Sigh! How embarrassing would it be if you go!" Another elder sighed. If anybody else was placed in such a situation, they would feel uncomfortable to attend such a wedding

After all, Nash and Lily used to be very in love in the past, but she became vicious and sinister after what happened to Lance.

Of course, Lily was also very sinister before Jack became a soldier, but she hid it well.

"Let it be if this wedding becomes embarrassing. After all, I have no relationship with her right now.

I'll think of this as attending a stranger's wedding," decided Nash, that bitter smile still on his face. "The thing I worry the most is why Lily would suddenly marry the old man, Joel. After all, he's the pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion, and it unsettles me when I thought she might use them to act out against our White family. After all, she wants to kill every person in our family so badly!"

Jack had such a thought from the start as well, and his expression hardened. "It's incredibly likely, it seems. We've received lots of benefits this time and our family is much stronger compared to the past. However, it's difficult for the Lagorio family to take actions against us because of this. Hence, Lily must've thought of a way to fight back against the White family by gaining the support of the ancient clans."

Titus inwardly held his breath when he heard those words before he quickly beseeched, "Master, you shouldn't go if that's truly the case! Why do I feel that this is a treacherous banquet? It'd be troublesome ir you attend but fail to come back!"

"It won't work if the master refuses to attend-it might even anger them. Then again, it'll be extremely dangerous if the master truly attended the dinner. Urgh!" First Elder frowned as he realized how troublesome it was.

In the end, he stomped his feet and growled, “This Lily Lagorio truly is a vicious woman to use such means!”

Chapter 1468

“Don’t worry. The Four Ancients Clans have an unwritten agreement with us reclusive families, and we don’t interfere with each other. It’s highly likely they won’t truly do anything against us,” spoke Nash after thinking through the situation, more so when he saw how anxious the First Elder was. “However, not too many people can attend the wedding this time, though we’ll need to be careful as well. The members of the other ancient clans and families would also attend the wedding, so I’m sure they won’t try anything funny there.”

Nash paused momentarily before he added, “Nonetheless, we need to be careful on our journey back as I fear they’d ambush us on the way home. After all, it wouldn’t be a big hustle if they only kill a couple of us. They would have nothing to be afraid of if they got rid of the bodies!”

Jack nodded in agreement. “Father, it’ll only work if you, me, and the First Elder attend the wedding this time. If there are too many of us, those with lower fighting prowess would be sacrificed on the spot if those people ambushed us. We’d have a much better chance of outrunning them if they chose to attack anyway, and coupled with the fact that all three of us have quite the strength and fighting prowess, they can’t take us down easily!”

“That’s right. Many people don’t know that Young Master Jack’s flying sword is an ultimate-grade spiritual tool. With that item, it wouldn’t be easy for them to catch up with us. Hence, we wouldn’t need to be fearful if they try to ambush us on the way back!” First Elder’s eyes immediately lit up. “They wouldn’t dare chase after us to kill us in the White family after we’ve flown far away. They won’t dare amplify this, will they now?”

“Yes, the three of us would do. It’d be much more difficult to escape with too many people. Apart from that, too many people will affect the speed of the flying sword!” Jack smiled. “It so happens that the three of you don’t need to train much recently. Let’s start our journey in three days-we should be able to make it in time. The others only need to focus on training at home!”

“The three of us are masters with strength comparable to the peak stage of the true-god level. The current White family will not be so easily bullied!” Nash’s expression hardened as his heart was filled with anger. “I’ve never thought of wiping out the Lagorio family before; she and I were once a married couple after all. Who would’ve thought that members of the Lagorio family would come at us in such an overbearing way? It looks like we can’t let go of the Lagorio family so easily when we have the chance in the future!”

Jack turned to the Second Elder and the current Third Elder after thinking about it and said, “Second Elder, Third Elder, the two of you are now at the final stage of the true-god level. Let me cultivate some second-grade pills for you guys within these two days and try to give two pills to each of you. Although the two of you have stopped at the final stage of the true-god level for only a short while now, you can try speeding up. What if you succeed?”

Second Elder was delighted when he heard this and immediately gestured politely with his hands as he spoke, “Thank you, Young Master Jack!”

The new Third Elder was Lancelot, the previous branch family master. His fighting prowess had always been rather impressive, being in the intermediate stage of the truegod level previously. One month ago, he had achieved the final stage of the true-god level, and he followed it up with constant training with never taking extensive rests.

There was a slight possibility of success as the realm might be unstable to give him pills and let him try pushing his fighting prowess instantly to the peak stage of the true-god level. Although they seemed to be in a rush, it was a great opportunity for Lancelot nonetheless.

After all, Jack was willing to give him two second-grade elementary pills, and such a good opportunity was hard to come by so often.

Together with Jack and the two others masters, the combat power of the White family’s masters in the peak stage of the true-god level would be so powerful that they need not fear the Hunt family, if even both him and Second Elder, Weston White also broke through

“Thank you, Young Master Jack. I’m willing to give it a try!” Lancelot also stepped forward to gesture with his hands as he thanked Jack. Such an opportunity made all the other elders in the intermediate stage of the true-god level extremely envious.

“Alright, come find me in the morning three days later. I’ll pass the pills to both of you before leaving with First Elder and my father.”

Chapter 1469

Jack nodded and inwardly decided.

“With an alchemist like you, it’ll be impossible for our White family to not grow strong in the future!” Nash gazed at Jack, utterly content.

The group of people quickly scattered while Jack went back to cultivate pills.

Selena and the others were slightly worried about Jack when they knew about the situation. After all, Lily would be the ninth wife of the Skies Pavilion in the future, and no one knew what she had planned

Despite that, Selena could do nothing about it and could only train harder as she felt how urgent the situation had become.

While Jack was busy cultivating pills, Daniella and Helena who were guests at the White family felt slightly bored. The two of them invited Kylie to play around if they were free.

Finally, they found Jack in the morning of the third day when he exited his room after completing the cultivation of the pills.

Daniella smiled at the sight of Jack as she then began, “Jack, my sister and I had thought about it, and we’d like to join you in attending the so-called Skies Pavilion’s wedding!”

“The two of you want to attend the wedding? That won’t workit’s too dangerous. Lily Lagorio married the old man so she could retaliate against us, and we suspect that we’d get ambushed on the way back!” Jack immediately waved his hands when he heard this.

Danielle, however, rolled her eyes at his response. “Don’t worry, we’ve both thought it through. They surely won’t ambush you on the way to the ceremony, but it is likely they’ll attack you on the way back. So, we’ll follow you to the wedding but won’t follow you back!” she offered. “I’m sure that they’ve also invited people from our family, so my father and the others would be there, no doubt. If my sister and I follow you there, we’ll leave with our family home afterward instead of leaving with you. After all, your family will eventually visit our family some time after returning!”

Helena then chimed in, smiling as she did, “We’ve played a couple of days here and noticed every member of your family has been working hard in training; this has influenced both my sister and me. We’ve felt that we’ve wasted our time somewhat, and we truly want to go take a look in the seven dangerous areas later on. With that, we’ll return home after attending the wedding, and we’ ll strive to improve our strength!”

“Well, in that case, let’s go with that!” Jack nodded when he heard this. At this moment, Lancelot and Weston came walking in from outside.

“Oh my, both beauties are here. Is it not suitable for us to come over at this time?” spoke Lancelot jokingly as he noticed them.

“Haha..! The two of you are here just in time. I’ve been waiting for you both!” With a flip of his hand, four pills appeared in his palm. “Two for each of you! If anyone of you broke through, our family would have quite an increase in combat power. Although we don’t have as many people in the final and intermediate stage of the truegod level compared to the Hunt family, we still have quite a few people in the peak stage.”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1470-1472

Chapter 1470

“Don’t worry, Young Master Jack. We’ll try our best!” Lancelot and Weston took the pills from Jack before leaving after they thanked Jack.

It was then Selena came toward Jack and his company as she held onto Kylie's hand. "Father, you need to come back as soon as possible!"

"Don't worry, we'll be back soon. Obey your mother at home, and listen to your teachers when you're learning. Do you understand? Study well, and train well in the future!" Jack gazed at the adorable Kylie in front of him and could not help but caressed her delicate head lovingly.

"Yes, I'll train hard and become a master like Father in the future!" Kylie nodded obediently, incredibly wise despite being young.

At this moment, Daniella also walked over and touched Kylie's chubby cheeks before she spoke with a soft smile, "Kylie, me and your Auntie Helena will be leaving with your father to join somebody else's wedding, but we won't follow them home, afterward. We'll be returning to our own home."

Kylie grew upset when Daniella told her this, and with pursed lips, she muttered, "Auntie Daniella, it won't be fun if the two of you leave. I still want to play with the both of you!"

"Good girl. I'll come and visit you when there's time, but you need to work hard on training and try to break through into a grandmaster as soon as possible!" Daniella looked at the young girl in front of her and was slightly reluctant. After getting along for several days, she had already thought of Kylie as her own daughter.

Selena smiled as she saw how well Daniella and Kylie had gotten along. "Don't worry, Kylie, we'll have time in the future. Your aunties Daniella and Helena are going home because they have things to do. They'll surely visit you when they have the time!"

"Alright!" Kylie nodded, and her lovely smile once again returned to her face.

Another two to three minutes later, First Elder and Nash came toward them, and Jack quickly informed them both about Daniella and Helena's plans.

“Alright, since they wish to come with us, then we’ll let them!” Nash nodded in agreement.

Jack then took out his flying sword and threw it forward, and the item grew large enough that the five of them stood on them after flying onto the sword.

“Don’t worry, Selena, we’ll be alright. Train well at home, and we’ll be back about four or five days from now!” assured Jack turned to Selena, and only then did he pilot his flying sword and went toward the direction of the Skies Pavilion

After flying for a while, Daniella soon thought of something as she chirped, “Oh right, there’ll be quite a few families or forces traveling to the Skies Pavilion this time. Won’t it be cool if we Chance upon members from the other families on the way, and they recognize that your flying sword is an ultimate-level spiritual tool?”

Unexpectedly, Jack smiled nonchalantly. “It’s alright. I was truthfully afraid of people knowing about it when I used to be in the intermediate stage of the true-god level. However, I’m already at the final stage of the true-god level, and my fighting prowess has stabilized throughout these past few days.

You also know that my combat power has always been much stronger than the others of this fighting prowess. Now that I have such a sword, I’m not afraid of people taking it from me!”

Jack paused for a short moment before he spoke again with extreme seriousness, “In comparison, the members of other families dare not offend our White family because we have this flying sword. After all, this sword can increase a person’s combat power greatly, and among the reclusive families, only the Hunts’ family master can come up with it.”

Chapter 1471

“You’re right. Although the other party might be jealous that you have this with you, they might be more afraid of your combat power. Apart from that, your combat power must be extremely strong after you've broken through. I think some of those masters at the peak stage of the true god-level won't be able to fight against you!" Helena also nodded after she heard this. They had witnessed Jack's combat power personally-killing others of another realm did seem possible for Jack to do.

Sure enough, their journey was absolutely smooth. The next morning, Jack and the others spotted the mountain top where the Skies Pavilion was located.

"Goodness, Master White. Long time no see!" Not far away, another flying sword flew toward them as they greeted Nash.

Nash was delighted when he realized that it was the flying sword of their allied first-class aristocratic family, the Lancaster family. He gestured at them with his hands and replied, "Haha…! It's been a long time, Master Shirley!"

"Aren't there too few of you? The White family only sent three people?" commented the upbeat Shirley when she saw that only three masters from the White family were present. Compared to the over-20 people from their side, it was obvious that there were too few people from the White family.

"Well, what to do? We don't have as many people as your family, especially those in the semi-god level and grandmaster level. We might go into the seven dangerous areas after some time. I asked them to train themselves for their own safety, with hopes that they can improve their strength!" replied Nash.

"Brother Jack!" Randall came flying over from their flying sword and stood in front of Jack before saying happily. "Brother, you're really enjoying yourself, and I envy you for that! You've got two beauties accompanying you, even though you're just making a casual journey!"

Flustered at Randall's comment, he blushed as he coughed dryly twice. "Cough, cough! They just happened to be traveling this way, too!"

As she noticed the amicable relationship between her son and Jack, Shirley turned to Nash and beamed,

“Master White, I need to thank your son for the previous competition. If it wasn’t for him, my son would’ve died inside too. Jack’s strength really is the strongest among the younger generation. My son, Randall, had told me about all his doings!”

“Haha…! We’re all acquaintances, and we should help each other! It’s nothing!” chuckled Nash happily.

“You guys are here too? What a coincidence!” At this moment, members of the Hunt family flew toward them on a flying sword from the other direction.

Nash’s and Shirley’s expressions faltered for a moment when they noticed it was Quentin Hunt from the Hunt family, but they recollected themselves and gestured with their hands politely to greet him.

Quentin maneuvered his flying sword to fly next to the White family’s flying sword. He could not help but look at the flying sword underneath Jack’s feet and frowned. “Young brother Jack, this flying sword seems to be an ultimate-grade spiritual tool. Am I right?”

“Yes, Master Hunt. This flying sword of mine is an ultimate grade spiritual tool, and I happened to find it along my journey,” replied Jack as he gestured with his hands.

“Oh! You’re quite lucky to have gotten such an item!” Quentin smiled, but his suspicion of both his sons killed by Jack and Helena working together increased.

After all, he had never imagined that Jack would take such an item out. This item was able to increase a person’s combat power.

Chapter 1472

As he was free, Quentin had been deep in his own thoughts during the past couple of days.

Not many were in that category of those who could kill his sons, especially his eldest son, Cloud Hunt

He initially held the belief that Helena and Jack were in on it together, but he knew that although Helena had the same fighting prowess as his eldest son, her combat power was definitely not above his eldest son's. Coupled with the fact that Jack had a low fighting prowess, the possibility of them defeating his sons was not great.

That suspicion of his resurfaced and only grew, however, as he noticed Jack's ultimate-grade spiritual tool

After all, his sons did not offend any other prodigies from other families. They would not have dared to kill his sons even if a fight happened inside.

Jack and Helena, on the other hand, had an altercation against Tyrell before the competition started. After they entered the area, they must have worked together to kill Tyrell while Cloud was killed possibly due to his carelessness when avenging his brother. It was also possible that Jack and Helena had some other vicious actions.

Of course, these were only his suspicions. Apart from that, he did not have the reason to take action even if he had proof that Jack was indeed the killer.

He thought about it and said to Nash, "Master White, the bride of this wedding is your ex-wife. Any thoughts about this?"

Many of the elders and other members of the Hunt family had weird expressions on their faces after they heard what he said. After all, such a thing was no doubt an embarrassing incident

However, they also knew that Nash had no choice but to attend this wedding as he was the White' family master. The one who invited them was the pavilion master of the Four Ancients Clans, and not attending the wedding after the invitations were sent would mean not honoring him.

"Haha… What sort of thoughts can I have? I'm no longer married to Lily right now, and we might be enemies, so whoever she marries has nothing to do with me." Nash smiled bitterly and continued to say to Quentin, "On the contrary, Master Hunt also knew that the Four Ancients Clans had never interfered with our family affairs. If Lily wants to take advantage of the ancient clans to fight against the White family, I hope that everyone from the reclusive families will condemn such an act with one voice."

The family master of the Lancaster family, Shirley Lancaster, agreed with Nash as she spoke, "Yes, we can't allow them to set such a precedent. Once they wipe out one of our families and nobody from the other reclusive families step forward or unite together, more and more of such things would happen in the future. We can even be the next targets!"

Quentin nodded. "I agree with what you both have said-we mustn't allow them to set such a precedent. It'll be terrible if something like that happened. Any contradictions between us reclusive families need to be settled internally, and what happens between the Four Ancients Clans should be settled by themselves. If the Four Ancients Clans plan to pick on us, then we, the reclusive families, need to unite and defeat them unanimously."

"Indeed. We're relieved to hear this from Master Hunt!" beamed Shirley.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1473-1475

Chapter 1473

Unexpectedly, Quentin acted humbly, a rare occurrence indeed. He glanced at Nash and said, "Oh, what do you mean you're relieved to hear this from me? The White family are the same as ours and other first-class aristocratic families; we have the same position and there's not much difference in our status, be it high or low. The Hunts were somewhat stronger back then as compared to other first-class aristocratic families, but this may very well have changed as of late. I'd say the White family is progressing quite nicely!"

Nash knew this man did not mean what he said, thus he immediately waved his hand and interjected, "No, no, no… Your Hunt family cannot be so easily surpassed. Your inheritance isn't something we can compare to. After all, your Hunt family has such an established inheritance!

Nash then looked forward and, in an attempt to shift the conversation, then spoke, "We're here, we're here… The Skies Pavilion has quite a large piece of territory. There are so many plazas and mountains around the area. Tsk, tsk! The Chi here is also very rich, and training here is definitely guaranteed. The Chi is much thicker compared to where our reclusive families are located!

That's for sure. This is how the world is. They are strong, and there are more than a dozen masters in the peak stage of the true-god level. They also have a huge amount of masters in the final and intermediate stages of the true-god level. Our families can't simply compare to these ancient clans!"

Quentin smiled bitterly before he glanced at Nash and added, "So, you're forced to come here even if the person marrying pavilion master Collins is your ex-wife, and you're extremely embarrassed?"

"What else is there to say? I can only hate myself for being not strong enough." Nash could only offer an awkward smile everything was proven by a person's strength, after all. The Four Ancients Clans was not something a reclusive family could contend against.

Quentin drove his flying sword when he suddenly stopped. He turned to Nash and Shirley with a frown on his solemn face. "By the way, family masters, I suddenly recalled something rather worrying."

"Worried? Master Hunt, what do you have to worry about?" asked the curious Shirley after she thought about it

"Don't you think it's a bit too sudden for Lily to marry Joel Collins? I've been thinking about it, and they shouldn't have known one another previously, right? Why did they suddenly announce that they're getting married? There must be something hidden here, am I right?" fretted Quentin as he looked far away, airing his worries. "Apart from that, if Lily Lagorio becomes the ninth wife, would she tell Joel information about the ultimate-god level fighting prowess? That doesn't look too favorable for us."

Nash and Shirley exchanged glances as their expressions instantly turned grave. After all, everything had indeed happened so suddenly. Apart from that, with Lily and Joel getting married, this woman might tell the old man about the ultimate-god level to further strengthen the Skies Pavilion

Nash was quiet momentarily before he said, "I had always felt that Lily got together with Joel because the woman had obviously seduced the other party, never expecting to succeed. Her main goal is to revolt against the White family. However, I forgot about this. This woman might've told that old guy about going into the dangerous areas, and that's surely no good for us!"

"Sigh! There's nothing we can do about it," muttered Shirley with a bitter smile. "We only have a very, very small chance if she talks about it, but we don't know who'll break through into the ultimate-god level first!"

Chapter 1474

Everybody understood clearly in their hearts that there would be an undeniable, vast change in the situation if everybody managed to find out how to break through into the ultimate god level.

Undoubtedly, the first person to Eak through into the ultimate god level was the luckiest of all.

For example, some elder of a random family who broke through into the ultimate god level could easily kill their family master and seize the family master position if they so wanted.

"Alright, let's go! Quentin was in that same haze, unable to foresee their future. With that, he waved his hand and everybody went flying toward the plaza in the center

Everybody could see from afar that the plaza was filled with people standing; rather densely packed it was.

Only a few like the Lancasters and Hunts who bought about one or two dozen people to attend the wedding. Some families even brought a couple of dozen people over to congratulate the pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion.

After presenting their gifts, Nash and the others found a place to sit down for the time being.

As there were too many people and those making the registration of gifts had already done their job, he did not want to appear too conspicuous as his attendance was enough. He could leave after the meal.

Alas, he could not stay hidden as many members of other families spotted him. Some of them even started whispering among themselves, more so about him and Lily's old relationship.

Soon, the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings arrived with his members. The person in charge of recording the gifts announced loudly while making his entry, "Pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, Harry Yeager, comes greeting with members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. He presents ten second-grade intermediate pills and fifty second-grade premium spirited grass…"

"That's the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings? He's truly unusual. He's incomparable to others for having such spirit with his high age!" This was the first time for many elders of the other families to see the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, and his appearance once again caused a wave of commotion.

"Haha… Welcome, welcome! Pavilion Master Harry's appearance has truly brought light to our Skies Pavilion!" Joel, who was initially conversing with the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles, happily went toward him with his wives upon his arrival.

"Haha… Pavilion master Joel, you're being too modest. We don't talk like this between us!" Harry smiled and looked at Lily before speaking, "This must be the ninth madam, yes? Pavilion Master Joel truly has a good eye. She is no doubt an incredibly beautiful lady!" It was obvious Harry did not want to expose that Lily went looking for him initially and told him news about the ultimate god level, so he purposely pretended to have only met Lily for the first time during the conversation.

Lily rolled her eyes flirtatiously at him as chuckles spilled through her lips. "Haha…! Oh, please, stop pulling my leg, Pavilion Master Harry. I'm definitely not a beauty at my age. I fell in love with Pavilion Master Joel at first sight and, well, we quickly hit it off!"

“Remarkable! You’re such a remarkable woman!” praised Harry smilingly.

As a thought occurred to him, Joel then looked left and right. “By the way, I heard just now that the master of the White family is also here?”

With that, Lily started to scan the crowd of attendees.

She eventually discovered that Nash, Jack, and the others sat at a corner, chit-chatting with Shirley and the others.

Chapter 1475

Lily pointed to a direction and, though inwardly angry, spoke smilingly, “Honey, aren’t they over there? That guy must be embarrassed!”

Joel smiled before he turned to members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings and said, “Everybody, sit or go everywhere you wish. The dinner will start in a short while. It’s been a busy day, and I hope that everybody will forgive us if there have been some hospitality issues!”

“Haha… Go do your thing, you old bridegroom!” Harry laughed before leading his people over to a side.

Only then did Joel lead his company toward Nash.

Walking up to him. Joel then began as he smiled at Nash,’ Master White, the two of us haven’t met for the past seven or eight years, have we now?”

“Indeed, Pavilion Master Joel. Congratulations!” Nash gave an awkward smile as he gestured with his hands.

Those around them slowly turned toward them, one by one, and the atmosphere grew rather solemn then.

“Really?” Joel pulled Lily closer toward him and hugged her by the waist in front of Nash before he spoke, “I heard that this beautiful lady was once your First Madam. Sigh! Why didn’t you know how to cherish such beauty? Haha…! Since you don’t know how to cherish her, I’ll do it for you from now on!”

Jack, who stood beside, was stunned silent at the old man’s behavior. He had the audacity to come up bragging to his father and run his mouth to anger him.

However, he was only a family master’s inheritor, and he knew he was in no position to speak. All Jack could do, thus, was watch on as he looked at his father.

Nash was just as enraged, though he managed to come up with a smile as he replied, “Yes, yes, yes… This woman almost killed me before, secretly poisoning me, and I just can’t handle it! I dare not cherish her at all!”

Nash paused here before he continued to speak, “However, I believe Pavilion Master Joel isn’t afraid of being poisoned or not. After all, who dares do something reckless with your fighting prowess and position? Am I right?”

The smile on Joel’s face immediately froze as the corners of his mouth involuntarily twitched. He then turned around and asked Lily, Ninth Madam, you won’t poison me, right? I’m actually somewhat worried, hearing him say that!”

Lily’s facial expression also darkened but she soon said with a smile, “Honey, how could I do that? How could I poison you when you treat me so nicely? This Nash White didn’t know how to cherish me previously, and he’s a malicious b*stard, that’s why I poisoned him to kill him. I just didn’t expect his son to have great medical skills and was able to rescue him.”

Nash gritted his teeth and tightened his fists but dared not act irrationally.

Only then did Joel pretended to be angry as he fretted, “Sigh! Honey, how can you call him a b *stard? Master White is a guest at our wedding. How can you say such a thing to our guest? It’ s too rude. You need to be more aware of your choice of words next time, alright?”

“Yes, yes, yes… Don’t worry. I’ll definitely take note of this next time and won’t say the truth straightforwardly!” came Lily’s immediately, though spoken in a weird tone.

“By the way, Master White, you’ re here to congratulate us, right?” Unexpectedly, Joel looked at Nash again at this moment. He stared at Nash as if he wanted to announce that Lily was already his woman and he had conquered her.

“Of course!” Nash smiled. “I don’ t have anything with Lily, so I’m here today to greet you both!”

“Since you’re here to greet us, I’ d like to hear words of blessing from you!” said Joel with a smile.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1476-1478

Chapter 1476

Joel Collins humiliated Nash terribly at that moment. Not only did he not honor Nash and ignored Nash’s feelings at that moment, but he even wanted Nash to grant him and Lily words of blessings for their union.

Many from the reclusive families also felt that Joel had crossed his boundaries awfully. It was shameful enough that Nash had to attend the wedding, but they even purposely humiliated him for all eyes to see.

After he deliberated his words, Nash smiled and said, “Then I shall wish for the both of you to be happy. Live for a hundred years and prosper! Have a child soon!”

Lily immediately remembered her son when Nash mentioned having a child. The corners of her mouth twitched several times, and her expression soured a little at that.

“Haha! Ninth Madam, did you hear that? Master White is wishing for us to have a child soon. Well, I’d say we better get to work on that later on. Is it possible for me to have a child in this old age?” Joel laughed out loudly after he heard this, though he paused momentarily before he added, “I’m quite satisfied with your words of congratulations, Master White, but I must disagree with you about that living for a hundred years old bit. What if I find the way to break through into the ultimate god level someday and become an ultimate god master? I’d have a long life of two hundred years then!”

Many people also started laughing after they heard this.

Trenton, who was at the side, grinned as he chimed in, “Haha! Pavilion Master Collins, I’m sure you hope that there will be some other fighting prowess after the ultimate god level. There might be a possibility for humans to live for a thousand years, no? Won’t you be living for one thousand years by then?”

“One thousand years?” said Joel jokingly as he raised his eyebrows. “Just like the saying goes, ‘A tortoise lives a thousand years while the turtle lives ten thousand years.’ Master Lagorio, it doesn’t sound too nice to say something like that, no?”

“Haha.! If there really is this sort of fighting prowess, I’d rather somebody call me a thousand-year-old tortoise. How good will it be to live for one thousand years? That would be extremely powerful!” Trenton started laughing.

Joel then turned to the crowd and addressed them, “Alright, everybody can take a look and walk around while waiting for a short while, seeing as there are some families that have yet to come, but the celebration will start when everyone is here! Don’t be prudish; it’s my wedding today. Everybody should help themselves to drinks and food. Enjoy yourselves, alright?”

At that moment, the man in charge of recording the gifts announced, “Pavilion of Divinity’ s pavilion master is here with the sacred lady and elders to congratulate…”

Upon hearing that, Joel led Lily and the others to greet the members of the Pavilion of Divinity.

After they left, Jack frowned as he asked, “Father, what is this sacred lady from the Pavilion of Divinity exactly? Why is she as well-known as the Pavilion of Divinity’s pavilion master? Why do they need to announce her name independently?”

Nash glanced over to that side and explained, “The Pavilion of Divinity is different from the other three Ancient Clans. More than ninety percent of their disciples are women, and they don’t have that many men disciples. As for the sacred lady of the Pavilion of Divinity, she’s the most talented one in their pavilion and she’s fated to be the next pavilion master. There’ s a rule in the Pavilion of Divinity that the sacred lady of the Pavilion of Divinity needs to wear a veil when she goes out, and nobody is allowed to see her true features. She has to be pure and not marry anybody.”

“How’s that possible? There’s such a rule?”

Chapter 1477

The information Nash told Jack flustered the latter as he glanced at the sacred lady from far away

She emitted an extremely mysterious and sacred feeling as she stood among the crowd. She had on a white tulle dress and a white veil that covered the lower half of her face. Her white dress gave people an extremely pure feeling.

Although only her bright, big eyes, forehead, and long, dark hair could be seen, it would not be a stretch to say she had an inimitable beauty.

Unfortunately, nobody would be allowed to see the true appearance of such a beauty, and she would never marry for her entire life.

“Haha… This had been the Pavilion of Divinity’s rules since long ago,” laughed Nash as he explained to Jack. “By the way, there’s a legend which says that the Pavilion of Divinity has been around for thousands of years, and the same legend told that the founder of this ancient clan was a woman, one with astounding beauty, but a man had badly hurt her. It was then she made such a rule that every pavilion master in the future will need to protect her virtue. She said that the pavilion master's training wouldn't be affected as she would not be troubled by feelings."

After some time, everybody sat down and started eating.

After Joel offered a toast to all his attendees, Lily pulled him to a secluded area alone.

Joal, pulled away from his drinks, soured a little when she pulled him away. "Why did you pull me over here?"

"Honey, only three people from the White family are here, and this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. More importantly, they're Nash, Jack, and Kenneth -all three who I intended to kill. We can't let go of such an opportunity!" Lily's eyes gleamed with excitement as she could barely hold herself from acting on her words.

Joel, however, frowned at the idea. "This doesn't seem to be a good idea. If we want to take action, it's best if we do it in the Seven Dangers. After all, today is our wedding day. Wouldn't it be not too auspicious to experience blood today?"

"I…" His response baffled Lily, and she rolled her eyes at him." What's not auspicious about this? Are you truly such a superstitious person? You surprise me!"

Lily paused momentarily before she continued, "Think about the opportunity we have right now, a truly once-in-a-blue moon chance that is. There are only three of them, and it won't cause a big commotion. All you need to do is gather a group of masters and ambush them on their way home. Choose a location slightly further away from our ancient clan, and it'll be best if this location is near to their home. They'll surely lower their guard, and by then, it'll be easy to wipe them out!"

The idea still seemed risky to Joel, even after he fell silent for a while on it. "But they have quite high fighting prowess. Would they inform other family masters about this if they escaped? That'll be troublesome!”

However, Lily could not wait any further as she challenged,“ You’re really single-minded. It’ll work if all of them wear casual clothes instead of the ancient clan’s clothings and without bringing the token of our clan. Apart from that, Master Hunt’s sons have died during the competition, and I’m sure the Hunts are suspecting the White family. How would Jack and the others dare to say that it was us when something like this happened? If you send more people and barricade all exits, it’ll surely work!”

“You are really too impatient!” said Joel as he smiled bitterly.” Alright, let me make arrangements for that right now.”

Chapter 1478

After the banquet, a few families bade their farewells to Joel before they left.

Nash also led Jack and Kenneth as he said his goodbye to Joel before the trio started their journey home, flying as they did.

Daniella frowned as she saw the White family leaving. Turning to Alejandro, who stood beside her, she then fretted,” Father, I’m genuinely worried. I wonder if Jack and the others will encounter any danger on their way back. The Lagorios want to kill them White family men so badly, and Lily marrying that old man Joel Collins makes me feel like something else is running behind the scenes.”

Alejandro also nodded. “That’s true. I was just as surprised when I received the invitation. Who would’ve thought Lily would marry Joel now, and quite the pivotal moment too! It’ s possible that she wants to use him to get rid of the White family!”

Daniella’s worries increased when she heard what Alejandro said.

Alejandro smiled bitterly when he saw how his daughter frowned. “You need to train well; this is how the world is. Nobody would dare bully you if you’re strong enough. Otherwise, killing you will be as easy as killing an ant. You won’t be given any opportunity to resist!”

“Yes, Father, I understand. I won’ t loaf on the job in the future,” spoke Daniella, smiling as she gazed at the other Cabellos. “Let’ s go, Father. We should be heading home, too!”

Jack and the others took out the flying sword once they were a short distance away from the Skies Pavilion. They then drove the flying sword and headed straight to where the White family’s residence was located.

“I wonder if our journey will be smooth-sailing,” said Kenneth with an awkward smile after they flew a good distance. “Joel Collins went too far back there. Although our reclusive families aren’t as strong as the Four Ancients Clans, the White family is still a first-class aristocratic family. How dare he dishonor our family master! He humiliated our family master in front of everybody!”

Nash only smiled. “It’s alright. We can only blame our family for not being strong enough. Would he still talk to us like that if we’re so strong that he fears us?”

He then glanced at Jack, who was beside him, and said seriously, “You’re blessed with talent, Jack, but it’s not as safe as it used to be. It’s possible that we’re on the Skies Pavilion’s hitlist. Apart from that, I estimate that we might really find ways to break through into the ultimate god level in the Seven Dangers, so you’ll need to break through into the peak stage of the true god level as soon as possible.”

“Master, it’s not good to break through fighting prowess so speedily,” said the anxious Kenneth after hearing Nash’s idea. “Young Master Jack is truly talented, but he had just broken through into the final stage of the true god level recently. His current combat power is totally sufficient to protect himself. Although he hasn’t fought any people in the peak stage of the true god level, enemies who have just broken through into the peak stage of the true god level won’t be able to take him, no?”

Kenneth paused here before he continued, “I still hope that Young Master Jack can break through his fighting prowess, one step at a time.”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1479-1482

Chapter 1479

Only then did Nash speak of his worries helplessly, “How can I not understand this? Of course I’ m hoping Jack can break through step by step, but what if somebody breaks through to the ultimate god level first? It’s alright if said person is one from our alliance, but it’ll be hell if they’re our enemy. Things will change, no longer the same as they are now!”

“Don’t fret, Father. My realm has always been stable, and I have quite a solid foundation! Hence, there wouldn’t be any huge impact if I try to break through into the peak stage of the true god level earlier!” assured Jack after he deliberated the situation. “No rushing on it, seeing as we’ve yet to enter the Seven Dangers yet. I think it’s best to let my fighting prowess settle down for a while before I try to break through in one go, given the chance in the future. I’ll try to cultivate some second-grade intermediate pills within these two days to see if I can break through and become a secondgrade intermediate alchemist. It won’t be a problem to prepare some pills and carry them with me!”

Nash nodded at that as he confessed, “Yes. I said what I said because I’m afraid that something sudden will occur. Lily’s wedding this time had caught me by surprise, after all.”

Jack thought about it and said,” Father, I wonder if Lily had told the other three ancient clans about the ultimate god level? I’ m sure she had told the Skies Pavilion, but I wonder if this woman would secretly tell the other three ancient clans about the news.”

“How’s that possible? She wouldn’t have done that unless she’s dumb!” Such a thought seemed impossible for Nash and Kenneth after they pondered on the possibility.

“Young Master Jack, you must have overthought it. Lily told Joel because she’s married to him and she wants to use him to ruin us. That’s why she told the Skies Pavilion! Still, it’s somewhat likely that she told the other three families, and that meant she had told the information to the strongest and most powerful opponent of the Skies Pavilion!” Kenneth soon said with confidence.” After all, us reclusive families aren’t a huge threat to the Skies Pavilion. However, the three other ancient clans are great threats to them!”

“Well, I hope I’m just overthinking it,” replied Jack with a wary smile. “It just boggles me: How did Lily become acquainted with the Skies Pavilion’s pavilion master? Joel is in the ancient clans, and it’s some distance away from the Lagorio family. He managed to meet Lily, meaning that Lily went searching for their ancient clans. If that's the case, how can Lily make sure he'd fall for her? It seems like falling for Lily was an accidental situation, and I'm sure Lily didn't go to the Skies Pavilion, thinking of marrying him from the get-go."

Jack's analysis struck Nash as he inhaled deeply. "Now that you've mentioned it, Jack, that does seem likely. Otherwise, they wouldn't have interacted, and everything happened so quickly as well!"

"Yes. Lily must've had something in mind to have gone to the Skies Pavilion, and she might've even asked, or thought of it, about how they can avenge the Lagorio family. After all, how can Lily be sure that the other party would help her? Still, I'm wondering if Lily went searching for the other party for martial-enhancing materials. She might've been exchanging martial-enhancing materials with news!"

Everything Jack speculated made sense to Kennet as he gritted his teeth. "Tsk, tsk! This woman truly is… She's truly despicable for exchanging martial-enhancing materials with such news!"

Chapter 1480

Thinking more about it, the frowning Kenneth spoke, "Young Master Jack, even if that's the case, we can only assume that Lily went to the Skies Pavilion with hopes that they'll act against her. I'm sure that her initial aim was to obtain something from them, but the pavilion master happened to fall for her."

Kenneth paused momentarily before he continued, "Still, this doesn't indicate she had gone to the other ancient clans, right?"

"I thought so too in the beginning. However, I thought about it more, and the route from the Lagorio family to the Skies Pavilion indicated that she would've passed the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. It won't make sense if she doesn't go to the ancient clans nearer to her. She must've gone to at least the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.

"I also came to a very important thought today. The pavilion master and many of the elders from the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles were there in the banquet, and those who were in the peak stage of the true god level were also there, right? Meanwhile, not many of those in the peak stage of the true god level from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings were there, and only the pavilion master and the deputy pavilion master were present. Apart from that, more than half of those who came were in the final stage of the true god level!"

Jack smiled and made another assumption, "Think about it. It'd make sense if those in the final stage of the true god level didn't attend as they require training. Those who are in the peak stage of the true god level can no longer advance in their fighting prowess, so why didn't they attend the wedding?"

Jack's recall caused Nash to inhale sharply as he commented, "You mean to say that the members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings had already acted? That they had sent masters into the Seven Dangers?"

Jack nodded. "That's right. Our reclusive families have a slightly weaker overall and individual strength. We had agreed back then that we needed to find time to discuss things, and that's why we've yet to dispatch anyone, but an ancient clan like the Pavilion of Gods and Kings won't be so calm if they received such information."

"That's going to be trouble. It'll get tricky if they found out how to break through into the ultimate god level before everyone else. By then, the Pavilion of Gods and Kings would have many masters in the ultimate god level, and the other three ancient clans might fall into a passive state because they're late." Kenneth's expression shifted into one of light bitterness.

Haunted by the thought, he spoke through gritted teeth at Nash, "Master, why don't we stop waiting? What's the point of a discussion? Let's just go to the Seven Dangers. There's only a few of us, and we can just search for a less dangerous place to enter. What if there really are ways to train for the ultimate god level? We'd be one step ahead!"

"I…" Nash frowned, somewhat hesitant about it. After all, nobody knew how strong masters in the ultimate god level were. Based on legends, however, such a realm made sure that several masters in the peak stage of the true god level might not be able to defeat a guy who had just achieved the ultimate god level.

"Master, how will we know if we don't try? There's a possibility… It's likely that those from the Hunt family and the other ancient clans had left earlier, no?" Kenneth once again persuaded Nash as he assessed the hesitation. “There are times falling back behind will decide the White family’s fate!”

Carefully pondering the situation, Nash decided, “I think we should wait. After all, we don’t need to wait any much longer. We’ve all made a pact previously, and if we act before the other families did, we might cause public anger.”

“Alright, that’s fine. It won’t be long anyway!” Kenneth sighed. “I’ll admit that it is somewhat dangerous if we go in alone, seeing as there are quite many strong monster beasts inside. I heard that there were many monster beasts of the true god level inside! That’s why nobody went deep into the area when they went searching for precious items.”

“That’s right. It’s something good for everybody that people from other families entered together, right?” Nash smiled bitterly. “Sigh, never mind that. If this happened a bit later, the people from our family would be able to raise their combat power. If that’s the case, those who enter would have a better chance of surviving!”

Chapter 1481

Jack, who had not said anything for a while, piped in, “Those with fighting prowess lower than semi-god level don’t need to follow us this time. Apart from that, we’ll have to put on standby some in the semi-god level and true god level at home to prevent any accidents from happening.”

Time passed quickly. Jack and the others were extremely careful, so they went through the day without any accidents.

Around nine in the next morning, they were not far from the White family.

Relaxed, Kenneth chuckled. “Haha… Seems like we’re just too paranoid. Those from the Skies Pavilion didn’t plan to do anything to us! I think the pavilion master was so busy with his wedding that he didn’t think too much about it. If he wanted to do something against us, he would’ve done it in the danger area. After all, others would think of this as a fight over precious items if he takes action out here in the open. Oh, won’t others think monster beasts killed me if I died here?”

“We can’t act carelessly. We need to keep our guard up the nearer we get to the White family!” Jack, however, frowned. He understood that woman, Lily Lagorio, well. This woman would not have given up on such a great opportunity, and it was definite she had wanted to kill them since long ago.

Their deaths would signify the deaths of those with the highest combat power in their White family. By then, even the Lagorios would be able to get rid of the remaining members of the White family.

Suddenly…

Whoosh!

A daunting sword aura came flying out from the woods below at this moment. It suddenly flew out from the rear left direction, rushing toward Jack and the others.

Whoosh!

Jack immediately reacted and made the flying sword evade the attack at the nick of time.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Then, several figures came flying out from the woods as they surrounded Jack, Nash, and Kenneth in a circle.

These people donned regular clothes and masks to cover their faces. They did not even have a token to prove their identity.

“Tsk, tsk! Six masters in the peak stage of the true god level. They think highly of us!” Nash’s face darkened as he studied their attackers. “Apart from the Skies Pavilion, which other ancient clans can come up with such a group of people? You lot don’t need to wear masks-we know that you’re members of the Skies Pavilion!”

“Haha! That’s not important. What is important is that you three will die today!” One of the old men laughed as the sword in his hand gave off a cold glow.

Chapter 1482

Nash and First Elder Kenneth hardened their gaze as they studied their six opponents

Those who sent the men purposely arranged six people, knowing that only three of them traveled together. They planned to have two fighting each one of them so they would not survive the attack.

Kenneth took his weapon out with the flip of his hand and said with a heavy heart, “Master, what should we do? It looks like we can only rush toward one side. If we manage to break through, Young Master Jack can bring us away speedily with this flying sword.”

“Jack needs to use this flying sword, but if all six of them attack simultaneously, it won’t be easy to make our way out!” Nash flew slightly outward in a flash. He knew that Jack’s combat power would weaken if he did not use this ultimate-grade spiritual tool.

Both him and Kenneth would not last long if they needed to fight two alone. After all, the martial art technique the other party trained in must have been extremely powerful, and their martial technique would be even better. The masters of the Skies Pavilion naturally trained with the best materials.

He even suspected that they would not be able to match up against them if they were to fight these people, one-on-one. Who would have expected the other party to send six peak stage true god level masters to kill them? It was too much.

Moreover, Jack’s fighting prowess was only in the final stage of the true god level. Even if he had the spiritual tool, it was difficult to say if he could take them on, one-on-one. Their odds of winning were pitiful when he had to fight two on his own.

Jack soon minimized the flying sword and held it in his hands. “Father, let’s try to fight them. It’s difficult to kill our way out, so why don’t we fight with our lives?

Death doesn’t scare us, so we might be able to find a breaking point if we fight them before we rush out.” There was no sign of fright in Jack’s eyes as he spoke –they were filled with fire instead. “I’ve never fought masters like these. I want to see how my true combat power is after breaking through into the final stage of the true god level!”

“Haha… Great! It’s decided then! The worst thing we’ll face is death, though we might have hope if we try our best fighting!”

Nash laughed. Jack’s fiery will ignited the flame in his own heart as he, too, wanted to test his mettle.

“Tsk, tsk! You guys truly can brag shamelessly!” One of the six eyed Jack and smiled coldly. “Young man, you truly are talented for achieving the final stage of the true god level at such a young age, but alas, this is where you die. I’d say that it’s a waste that you’ll perish, but there’s nothing I can do when you’ve offended our pavilion master!”

“Hmph! The powerful Skies Pavilion sent six masters to ambush us; that’s cowardice!” smirked Jack. “People will laugh at this if this ever gets leaked to the masses. The Skies Pavilion, one of the Four Ancients Clans, ambushed me?”

“Haha! Enough with this useless talk, young man. After all, I don’t plan to tell anybody about this. Apart from that, even if we killed you in this barren area, nobody will see us! This place is quite serene, and it’s a suitable burial ground. We purposely chose this place for you three!” The old man laughed as his eyes were cold and distant.

Jack laughed coldly before he fell silent. He held the sword in his hands tightly as Chi quickly gushed out and intertwined with the sword.

With the infusion of the Chi, the sword trembled lightly as it hummed. The overpowering manner from Jack kept on increasing and was slowly released.

“Everybody, don’t underestimate them. This young man is no simpleton. He seems to be impressively strong from his aura alone and is no weaker compared to us!” One of the opponents looked stern and grim after he felt the overpowering manner from Jack. “The sword in this guy’s hand isn’t just a flying sword, it can be used to carry out attacks. It must be capable of increasing his combat power by leaps and folds. This is an ultimate-grade spiritual tool!”

“Kill him! That thing is mine!” Shrieked an old man impishly.

“That won’t work, I have my eyes on the item first!” responded the man who spoke previously.

“Haha! Then let’s both attack and see who lands the final blow on him!”No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1483-1485

Chapter 1483

The old man laughed out loud. “Whoever lands the killing blow on this young man will get the sword. How about that?”

The middle-aged man smirked at the challenge. “Sure,” he agreed, “it’s decided then!”

He then turned and stroked toward Jack. “Ferocious Wind Strike!”

Whoosh!

A horrendous strike rushed toward Jack like a hurricane.

“Youngsters these days have no reverence for martial principles!” The old man was enraged when the middle-aged man attacked first; the old man was not even ready. If this attack could kill Jack, more so if he was weak, Jack’s sword would go to the middle-aged man instead of him!

Furious, he immediately adjusted his Chi and was ready to activate his martial skill.

“Burning Chop!” Jack, who was already prepared, swung his sword as his opponents made their move.

Whoosh!

A strike that looked like a ball of flames was conjured, and the Chi that zipped through the air seemingly radiated heat. The Chi was extremely condensed and the fierce sword aura had perfectly fused with the Chi.

Meanwhile, Nash and Kenneth took on two opponents each and began fighting back. “Attack!”

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

Deafening explosions were heard, one that could cause deep terror.

Thoom!

At that moment, Jack and the middle-aged man’s attack clashed.

Confident in himself and his skills, the middle-aged man smirked triumphantly. ‘Hmph! You’re only in the final stage of the true god level, but I’m a senior elder of the Skies Pavilion. My fighting prowess had broken through into the peak stage of the true god level since long ago. This attack will cost you your life, and that flying sword of yours will be mine! My combat power will increase greatly with it!'

What he experienced and witnessed next, however, shocked him to the core. 'Impossible!' He noticed that his martial technique attack was in a stalemate with Jack's attack, and that meant Jack's combat power was on par with his.

Seconds later, the middle-aged man grew even more startled as he discovered his attack began to falter and weaken against Jack's, but the latter's attack consistently resisted and persisted.

'How could this young man's combat power be so powerful?' The middle-aged man was stupefied on the spot as shock overwhelmed his features.

The middle-aged man's downfall was brought during his loss of focus as Jack's attack managed to shatter through his while just as he regained his focus. Unable to defend himself, the attack landed on him.

Thoom!

The middle-aged man was sent flying backward.

Chapter 1484

Mpfh!

The middle-aged man's eyes were filled with horror as the force sent him zipping through the air several meters away. He spat out a mouthful of blood as he stabilized himself by stepping in the middle of the air.

The old man who was initially prepared to attack Jack was also stunned. He temporarily dispersed his Chi and looked at the middle-aged man in surprise as he exclaimed, "What's going on? That was a power move you unleashed there, yet you still couldn't withstand his attack?"

The middle-aged man blushed in embarrassment. "I was careless; I underestimated that guy. I didn't use my full energy and only used about seventy to eighty percent of my strength, thinking I'd test out his power. Who would've thought this guy would be so strong!"

"That's more like it. You scared me a little back there!" The old man eased a little at his explanation—he was fearful that the middle-aged man could not contend against Jack. If that was the case, they would need to spend lots of energy to kill this young man who stood before them.

At that moment, Jack turned to look at Nash and Kenneth's side.

Both men unleashed powerful attacks as if they had used up everything they had, but it seemed as though they were faltering by the moment as their opponents were much stronger. Apart from that, the opponents' attack might be tentative attacks, and they had not used their full capacity.

Nonetheless, Jack was inwardly pleased after his test-out with the middle-aged man.

After all, he noticed that it was not that hard to fight off masters in the peak stage of the true god level, even if it was a master from the Four Ancients Clans. His previous attack was also just a tentative attack, and he had yet to go at his full capacity.

"That's good… That's good!" The old man's confidence returned upon hearing the middle-aged man's explanation. He activated his Chi with all his might and swung his palm toward Jack.

'This old man is giving his all!' The middle-aged man scowled upon noticing the several meters tall Chi palm in front of him. After all, he would be at a huge loss if the old man got to kill Jack, and whoever landed the killing blow on Jack would get the ultimate level spiritual tool as well.

"Burning Chop!" Jack took a sudden leap and swung his sword at his opponent when facing the attack.

His skill baffled the middle-aged man—he did not expect Jack to have used the same martial skill. This old man's attack was obviously much stronger than his previous attack, and Jack might be killed if he reused the same technique.

'Seems like this young man from the White family doesn't have any strong martial skill. This so-called Burning Chop must be his best attack!' The old man grew pompous when he saw Jack's attack. In his opinion, the sword in Jack's hands was already his for the taking.

However, his smile faltered the next second as he discovered that even the manner of this attack was much stronger. That speed and horrendous impact was incomparable to its former self. 'That's not right. This young man's attack is much stronger than it was before!'

The middle-aged man also noticed the same problem quickly as he inhaled sharply. He thought that this young man had the lowest fighting prowess and should be the easiest to handle.

It soon occurred to him, however, that the young man's combat power was incomparable to his fighting prowess. His combat power had highly surpassed his fighting prowess. Apart from that, this young man dared not use his full power in a situation, even as he faced two masters in the peak stage of the true god level to test his combat power.

Thoom!

Chapter 1485

Both the middle-aged man and the old man were floored as Jack's attack clashed against the old man's huge Chi palm.

Thoom!

Unexpectedly, Jack's attack blasted the huge Chi palm open like a sharp blade. A huge hole was left in the center, and although Jack's attack had dwindled a little and it had slowed down, the attack's remaining power raged still toward the old man.

The huge Chi palm flew several meters forward, despite the gaping hole left by Jack's attack, before the palm eventually dissipated.

'I—Impossible!' Disbelief was written all over the old man's face. He did not even hold back upon unleashing his attack, and though it was just one first-grade premium martial skill, it was an absolutely powerful martial skill. He even exerted the martial skill to its maximum potential.

The old man was horrified to the core upon seeing Jack's attack fast approaching him. He quickly coagulated a huge Chi dome around himself to shield himself. It made him feel somewhat better, a little more at ease when the shield was formed as he believed no attacks could break through his shield.

However…

Boom!

Just as his protective Chi dome was formed, Jack's attack pummeled against it and the dome started to fluctuate continuously.

Crack!

A daunting crack appeared in the aftermath as it grew wider. Jack's attack had successfully crushed the old man's Chi protective dome!

"No!" The remaining large amount of power shot at the old man's chest which sent him flying backward.

Mpfh!

The old man zipped through the air due to the impact, further than the distance the middle-aged man was thrown back. The old man vomited blood as his face turned pale, wounds more grave than his younger counterpart.

“By the gods… This is impossible!” The middle-aged man was stunned by what he saw. He had never expected the old man to lose to Jack with his martial skill.

He thought about it and looked at the old man while probing, “Were you…testing him with that attack too? Don’t look down on our opponent!”

The old man was so angry that he almost vomited blood again. He glared at the middle-aged man and growled, “Testing, my foot! You think I’m testing him when I use that first-grade premium martial skill in that manner? Why don’t you try testing then? Curses… This young man is incredibly strong!”

Before then, Nash and Kenneth were very worried about Jack. If Jack failed to fight against them and was killed in action, his opponents would come to them both instead. They might not be able to put up much of a fight by then.

Both Nash and Kenneth had attempted to fight their way out of their own opponents, all to no avail as they were surrounded.

The sight of Jack wounding his opponents, however, flabbergasted them both. Never did they expect to see such a sight; the sight of Jack triumphing against his opponents!

Jack, surprisingly, still had the upper hand even when outnumbered!

Chapter 1486-1488

Chapter 1486

“Young Master Jack, keep on fighting! We can’t hold on any longer. It truly depends on your side now, see if you can create an opening to survive. Even if all of us can’t escape alive, you can!”

At this moment, Kenneth turned and shouted at Jack; he was drenched in sweat.

Jack was fighting two elite fighters alone. He just broke through to the peak stage of the true god realm not long ago, while his two opponents who were veterans of the Skies Pavilion were already at the peak of the true god realm. It had not been easy for Jack to hold out that long.

“Jack, don’t mind us! If you can create an opening to escape, please do so! Use that flying sword to escape quickly! I’m glad that you’re my son. Avenge us in the future when you have the opportunity!”

Nash was overwhelmed by the enemy. Before the real battle took off, the other party attacked him only to test out his prowess, and he could barely deal with it. But now, the other party seemed to have known the real deal on their side, so they began to show their true strength by using more terrifying martial skills and techniques!

Jack’s face immediately sank to the deepest upon hearing Nash and Kenneth’s words. If this went on, it would truly be troublesome. He could hold on longer, but his father and Kenneth obviously could not hold on much longer. If they had succumbed, Jack would have to face six of those fighters all alone.

The only hope was for Jack to kill the two in front of him, then only he could free up his hands and help his father and Kenneth and win the tough battle.

The two opponents also began to join forces and were constantly mobilizing their Chi energy in their bodies, preparing to give Jack a fatal blow.

“Let’s end this now!”

Jack tightened his grip around the longsword and injected his Chi energy into the sword continuously. A thick layer of black-colored aura enclosed the sword, making the sword appear domineering yet mysterious.

“Haha, brat, do you think you could beat both of us? What’s the matter? Seeing your father and the others dying makes you anxious? So you decided to give us the final blow? Dream on!”

The middle-aged man laughed out loud sarcastically.

“That’s right. Let’s not talk about killing you, even if we can’t kill, your father and the First Elder can’t hold out any longer if we drag on slightly longer. After that, what’s waiting for you is only death!”

The old man laughed sinisterly. In his opinion, they had already won for sure, there was no longer any suspense nor plot twist to it.

“Is that so? If I don’t try, how do I know if I could kill you two?”

Jack laughed icily. At that moment, the sword vibrated aggressively, and the aura enclosed around it shined bright like a diamond, fluctuating vigorously.

Bang!

However, Kenneth did not manage to hold on; he was blasted and flew more than ten feet away, a mouthful of blood gushed out from his mouth. His face instantly blanched.

“Motherf*cker!”

The First Elder’s face was as pale as a white paper, but he still gritted his teeth and once again stomped his feet, and continued to control his Chi energy to fight with the other party.

“Hahaha! Old man, you’re injured! I’ll see how long you can hold on!”

Kenneth’s opponent—an old man—laughed out loud with a smug look.

“First Elder, please hold on!”

Jack’s face sank deeper, and killing intent surged in his eyes. He swung his arm and shouted out, “Blade Wave!”

Swoosh! Swoosh!

In the blink of an eye, hundreds of terrifying Chi attacks in the form of blade waves shot out and charged forward. Behind the first wave of the blade wave was another wave, forming a series of blade waves. The attack flew toward the other party with unrelenting momentum.

“Be careful! His attack is strong!”

The two opponents—who were the veterans in the peak of the true god realm—already knew that Jack’s attack was strong with just one glance. They changed their demeanors, clenching their fists tightly and cast out a Chi attack. In front of them, two huge Chi attacks in the form of fierce tigers appeared.

Chapter 1487

The two humongous tigers were both powerful and terrifying. They were more than ten feet tall and possessed the mighty aura of strong creatures—tigers. A thick layer of Chi energy was leaping on them.

Roar!

The fierce tigers let out a roar and charged straight ahead toward Jack.

“Go!”

A huge amount of Jack’s Chi energy was injected into his attack so that he could control the flying sword, and thus the attack power was naturally more extraordinary than before.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Waves of flying swords went forward and soon separated into two groups; each wave blasted head-on against the giant tigers respectively.

The loud and horrifying sound pierced through the air, and the ground was shaking incessantly. Waves of Chi aura dispersed and radiated out in all directions when the blade waves collided with the tigers.

The two huge tigers were beating and destroying the blade attacks ceaselessly; the flying sword Chi attack cast by Jack was smashed without mercy.

However, Jack’s flying swords were too many, and soon the gigantic tigers could not hold on any longer. The flying swords under Jack’s control kept targeting the tigers and were attacking the same spot, trying to create an opening and annihilate them completely.

“This brat is quite experienced in battle!”

After only a few moments, the middle-aged man and the old man—who were on the opposite side—had bean-sized beads of sweat dripping from their forehead. Obviously, pressured by the situation.

“Dammit! It seems like our attack can’t hold out against the flying swords anymore!”

After a few more seconds, the old man’s face turned unsightly.

Sure enough, just as his words fell, the two gigantic and almighty tigers could not hold on anymore and were blasted away into pieces. Meanwhile, the remaining dozens of flying swords charged straight to the two of them.

“No!”

Although there were not many left, both of them knew the strength and power of the flying swords. Even worse, the remaining flying swords—that had not been fended off by the tigers—charged toward them in full speed and power.

Terror stabbed their hearts to the point that they could feel nothing but blind terror. The flying swords were flying toward them at lightning speed; the attack was too fast for them to dodge. Thus the two could only shout and immediately condensed their Chi energy to create aura shields.

Boom boom!

The first flying sword landed on their bodies just as the aura shield finished coalescing.

“Boom!”

Almost in the same instant, the aura shields were crushed and the remaining flying swords bombarded their bodies, one by one.

They were elite fighters of the peak stage of the true god realm; the build of their body was robust. However, when the first two flying swords collided with their bodies, they were blasted away. Blood splattered from the wounds on their bodies, and mouthfuls of blood spurted out of their mouths.

However, the remaining flying swords did not cease at all; they continued to attack the two of them incessantly, and finally penetrated their chest, forming a bloody hole. The two of them hit the ground hard, lifelessly.

The two elite fighters of the peak of the true god realm—elders of the Skies Pavilion—were killed by Jack just like that.

Bang bang!

However, just at this time, Nash and Kenneth, on the other side, could not hold on anymore. They flew backward simultaneously and hit the ground harshly. Although they were still alive, mouthfuls of fresh red blood spat out from their mouths, and they could not even stand up.

“Father! First Elder!”

Jack looked over there and cried out.

Chapter 1488

“Jack, go! Just go!”

Nash and Kenneth were not dead, but both of them were grievously injured and had no fighting power left.

However, the two shouted at Jack, pleading him to go. Jack had killed two opponents by himself, and now there was an opening in his direction; it was a golden opportunity to escape, even better if he used that flying sword to escape.

“Father, there’s no way I’m leaving you and First Elder behind!”

Jack, however, refused the proposal, his face stern. He wheeled around and, in a flash, appeared in front of Nash and Kenneth, stopping the other four from killing Nash and Kenneth.

“This brat is powerful. He actually killed both Elder Shaw and Elder Lake!”

When the four men glanced at the two corpses on the ground, the corners of their mouth twitched involuntarily. That ending was something they did not anticipate at all.

“This brat is only at his late stage of the true god realm, if he breaks through to the peak of the true god realm, that’d be troublesome! By that time, I’m afraid that even our pavilion master is no match for him!”

One of the four said as he flew to the other side of Jack. Four of them surrounded Jack, who was now in the middle of the circle.

Nash and Kenneth exchanged looks, and both could not help but sigh out loud in their hearts. Jack had the best opportunity and golden time to escape from this battle but he gave it up!

“We can’t let this brat live! If the four of us join forces, it’ll definitely not be a problem to kill him!”

One of them was an old lady. She suggested it to the other three with a cold smile on her face.

However, little did everyone expect, Jack sneered in return. “If six of you joined forces, I’m truly not confident that I could survive. But I killed two just now, my chance of surviving and beating all of you is still there!”

“Motherf*cker, you’re truly a big talker, aren’t you?”

“Ya. Who do you think you are? Elder Shaw and Elder Lake have already made you use up a lot of Chi energy, and I think you’re pretty much exhausted by now. It’d be easy to kill you with only the four of us!”

When the other two elders heard Jack’s shameless statement, they responded in a huff. They felt that they were despised and being underestimated by Jack. They were four strong elite fighters at the peak of the true god realm! How could that brat think that four of them were not even his opponents!

What they did not expect was that Jack waved and gestured the flying sword to fly straight toward Nash and Kenneth. The flying sword stopped right in front of them.

“Get onto the sword!”

Jack commanded in a deep voice, his face turned expressionless.

Nash and Kenneth looked at each other, and they used all their strength to get up and hop onto the flying sword. Then, with the slightest movement of Jack’s hand, the flying sword flew upward and further away from him. The flying sword finally stopped after it was a considerable distance away from the battle scene.

“Oh, brat, you’re sending them far away so that we can’t attack them while fighting with you, right? Heh! You’re quite filial, aren’t you?” The old crone said in an icy tone. She studied Jack’s action and immediately understood his intentions. “But, even if you send them far away, it’d be pointless. The flying sword recognizes you as its master and not the other two; they can’t control the flying sword. So if you die, they can’t escape either! Moreover, you have now lost a premium spiritual weapon, your combat prowess will be weakened. In that case, I don’t see how you can beat the four of us!” she added coldly.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1489

Another old man, on the other hand, laughed at the situation. “Hahaha! His action is tantamount to committing suicide, right? Initially, he had a chance to escape, but now there is no chance anymore! Let’s join hands to kill him! By the time he dies, Nash and Kenneth won’t be able to Escape as well!”

In the distance, Nash, and Kenneth, who was standing on the flying sword, each took a healing pill. Then they sat on the sword and rested. Their expression turned solemn as they looked in the direction where Jack and the other four

Were at.

“Master Nash, why did Young Master Jack do this? Isn’t this seeking death? In that case, there’s not even the slightest chance of victory!”

Kenneth’s face turned unsightly as he sighed again,” Young Master Jack, he’s too reckless this time!”

A gloomy face was on Nash as well. After giving the matter some thought, he then expressed his analysis,” Although I don’t know why Jack wants to guarantee our safety first but I believe in him. Perhaps, he has some tricks up his sleeve that….”

When Nash was expressing his point of view, his voice got softer and softer; apparently, he was not too convinced of his own words either, even he felt that there was absolutely no chance for Jack to win. Other than flying swords, what else did Jack have?

“You’re forcing me to the corner, I have no other choice but to fight!”

Jack clenched his fists, soon his body shook violently, a powerful force swept the space. “I train True Dragon technique hard, and after breaking through to the true god realm, I can actually transform into a real dragon. However, I have not tried it yet. Today, I'll let you see what I truly am capable of!"

Just as his last word dropped, h e roared, emitting a terrifying sound of a dragon's roar.

A ray of green light flashed before everyone, and Jack who initially was human turned into a huge real dragon, a green dragon that was hundreds of feet long.

"Mas-master! My eyes are functioning well, right? Am I seeing wrongly? What kind of technique did Young Master Jack use to train? Does it actually transform Young Master Jack into a dragon? That is a real dragon!"

Far from the battle, in the distance, Kenneth shouted in a trembling yet excited voice. He could not help but keep rubbing his eyes, just to make sure he was not hallucinating.

"Hmmm. I think he…he mentioned the True Dragon technique just now!"

Similar to Kenneth, Nash was shocked down to the soles of his shoes. That was his first time seeing a dragon, and the most incredible part was that the dragon was Jack! Jack transformed into a real dragon!

After he thought about it, he could not help but become worried. "Jack has transformed into a dragon, but I don't know what strength and combat power it has.

What's more concerning is, his transformation is not some kind of horrible voodoo art, right? I don't know if there'll b e any backlash from this transformation!"

Kenneth's heart immediately got worried upon hearing Nash's words. He was afraid that Jack had to pay a price to perform this transformation technique.

“What-what the heck? This is not real, right?”

Looking at the green dragon that emitted mighty dragon aura and power in front of them, the four elders who surrounded Jack earlier on, flew backward unconsciously t o distance themselves from the dragon. They were in a complete state of shock and surprise; was it their first time witnessing such a thing.

“Playing the devil? Guys, don’t be afraid! This brat is just playing some dirty tricks in hopes of scaring us away! I don’t believe that he can increase his combat power this much after the battle with Elder Lake and Elder Shaw!”

One of the four-an old man clutched the sword in his grip a s he shouted. “No matter what you are, God, Buddha, Jesus, or even a dragon, I will end your life! If we join forces, we can behead it!” the old man pointed his sword toward Jack.

Another man chimed in and concurred with the old man, at the same time, cheering for himself. After all, the dragon emitted a humongous dragon aura as though it was the mightiest creature on the earth, not allowing the mere mortal to desecrate it, gave the four of them a strong sense of oppression.

Chapter 1490

“Roar!”

Jack-who had now transformed into a green dragon-performed the moves of the technique for the first time. After the transformation, he could instantly feel the increase of power and strength inside his body; both the thickness and richness of his overall strength were enhanced tremendously.

On top of that, his body was way more powerful and robust than before; he believed that his attack resistance had improved immensely as well.

Nonetheless, the only thing that worried him was that his body was indeed bigger and stronger now, but his speed and agility would be compromised-he would not b e as fast as before.

“Kill him!”

The old lady shouted huffily, and she, who had already injected her Chi energy into her sword, swung her arm, sending out two consecutive sword attacks toward Jack.

Roar!

The green dragon once again let out a deafening roar after seeing the old lady’s attack and directly charged at the old crone.

“Kill him now!”

The other three immediately waved their swords to join the battle, casting out several sword auras toward the gigantic green dragon-Jack.

Jack did not care about those sword auras at all; he continued to storm toward the old lady.

Boom! Boom!

The two sword auras that the old lady cast out were destroyed by Jack in a blink of an eye, leaving only two teeny tiny cut marks on top of Jack’s head.

“What the hell? My attacks only cause two small cuts?”

The old woman stared at the damage she had done on Jack, her face blanched as though all colors leached from her face. Her attacks were of high quality and full power; she truly did not expect that her attacks did not leave any serious injuries on Jack's body. The skin of the green dragon was thick and impenetrable, the overall strength and build were way too remarkable.

Jack did not flinch in the slightest, he continued storming toward the old woman.

Boom! Bang! Boom!

The attacks from the other three had finally landed on Jack's body, however, the attacks caused only a few small gouges; the wounds seemed to be nothing at all for the green dragon who had a huge body.

"No!"

When the old woman saw that the green dragon did not flinch in the slightest, and received the three's attacks head-on, she shrieked hysterically, and white color crept up her face. Terror twisted in her gut. She was then blasted away by the impact of the green dragon's head.

"Pfft!"

A mouthful of fresh and bright red blood spurted out from the old crone; she flew backward intensely for several meters like a kite with a broken string before she was able to stabilize herself.

"Pfft!"

Another mouthful of blood gushed out of her mouth, her face became even more unsightly and pale. The blow from Jack just now did cause her some serious injuries.

“What a powerful physique!”

One of the other three-the old man-tried his best to fight a rising panic in him after seeing the scene before him. This, all o f this, was way beyond their imagination!

“This is too scary! This brat truly has the power of a dragon after transforming into one!”

Another one of the other three – the middle-aged man-who stood next to the old man gasped at the situation. He then sent out a few more sword auras, hoping to hurt the dragon, but the attacks only left several shallow slashes on the green dragon’s body.

Roar!

Although Jack’s body had become strong, the attacks still caused him pain. Jack immediately changed his strategy by swinging his big dragon tail, swiping side to side.

“Dodge it!”

The old man and the middle-aged man exchanged glances and both of them were frightened to the bottom of their hearts. The impact of the swiping tail would not be less powerful than the impact just now.

The two men immediately stomped and hopped upward, preparing to fly further away. However, the speed of the green dragon was too fast, the tail came straight over and smacked the two men, sending them backward far away.

Bang! Bang!

Chapter 1491

Two dull thuds rang out; the two men were jerked a few meters away, each of them spurting out a mouthful of blood and sustaining injuries.

Roar!

The green dragon, however, did not cease his attack for a moment. Jack swung his body, and he flew up to the sky, going for another dive. He then bolted downward in the direction of the other man who was still casting Chi attacks at him.

After knowing that the other three were injured, this man here performed a few more random attacks but not much effect and damage were left on Jack's body.

The green dragon sprinted straight toward him at full speed and strength, blanching his face white, and he quickly ran in the direction of the old crone and the other two men." Everyone, quick! Attack it! Quickly…" He ran as he spoke.

Roar!

Although at the peak stage of the true god realm, were so vulnerable under the tremendous power of that dragon claw.

"This is too much! All three of u s are severely injured, we're not his opponent! Run while w e can! This beast is overwhelmingly powerful!"

"You're right. The four of us were not even his opponent, not to mention there's only three of us left and injured at that. We certainly can't beat him!"

The old lady and old man yelled. They underwent a lot of work and challenges to reach who they are today, naturally, they did not want to die. It was the first time they felt the threat of death. Fear pulsed through them, and all colors drained from their faces.

“What angers me is that his body is too hard and impenetrable. Although our attacks could hurt him, he can completely resist them!”

The middle-aged man dispatched another sword chop toward the dragon, and finally, the attack left a nice sword scar on the dragon’s body where blood flowed out.

Roar!

However, the attack did not cause any severe nor substantial damage to Jack – who had transformed into a green dragon, but instead it angered him.

With a deafening roar, he made a fierce acceleration and headed straight for the middle-aged man.

“Run, run!”

The middle-aged man shouted in terror. He looked up to the sky, the dragon claw was right above him; he panicked and quickly flashed to the side, barely dodging the dragon claw.

Nonetheless, the green dragon charged again and aimed at the middle-aged man, attempting t o grab the man.

“No!”

This time, the middle-aged man was not so lucky anymore. He was caught by the sharp dragon claws, and just like the guy before, he was squeezed into meat paste.

In the distance, Nash and Kenneth, who were resting on the flying sword, had been completely dumbfounded at the situation. Jack, who had transformed into a green dragon, his attack and strength were too dominating and overpowering. Although Jack was fighting for his life, he managed to kill two powerhouses who were at the peak stage of the true god realm in such a short time, That was something they did not even dare to dream about before.

Together with Elder Shaw and Elder Lake, there were four who had been killed by Jack!

The old woman and the old man, who were fast, both fled separately in different directions.

Roar!

Nevertheless, what they did not expect was for the green dragon to spit out two enormous fireballs from its mouth, directed toward the two, burning them to death.

“Oh, my freaking goodness! Master, he is too strong! This technique of Young Master Jack was insanely strong!”

The First Elder swallowed hard at the scene. He thought he was dead, but to his surprise, after Jack performed the True Dragon technique, he actually turned the tide of battle so quickly. And by himself, he killed six of the elite fighters whose martial art levels were a t the peak of the true god realm!

Roar!

The green dragon flew and ceased in front of Nash and Kenneth. In a flash of green light, the green dragon disappeared, and Jack appeared, his face was a little pale and his forehead was covered with cold sweat.

“Pfft!”

A mouthful of blood gushed out from Jack and he almost fainted.

Nonetheless, he immediately controlled the flying sword, flew to the woods, only then sat down to rest. He flipped his palm and a healing pill appeared, he then put it into his mouth and swallowed it down.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1492-1494

Chapter 1492

“Young Master Jack, are you alright? How are your injuries? Is it serious?”

Seeing Jack in such a state, Kenneth was a little worried in his heart, fearing that Jack had sustained severe injuries.

“I’m all right. The humandragon transformation technique could only be performed when I reach the true god realm, and I am barely able to do it. The good side of this technique is that the overall combat power and strength can be increased a lot, but the downside is that it consumes too much Chi energy!”

Jack showed a small bitter smile before explaining, “I need to replenish my Chi energy now. Let’s rest for an hour or two!”

Nash and Kenneth immediately breathed out a huge sigh of relief upon hearing that Jack was all well. The heavy boulder in their hearts was finally lifted away.

After resting for a while, everyone’s injuries had gotten better, and Jack’s Chi energy had gradually recovered over time. Hence, he returned to the battlefield and collected the martial rings and weapons of the six dead people.

After all, these six people were all strong martial artists at the peak of the true god realm, since they were elders from the Skies Pavilion, thus their martial rings must be kept with a lot of treasures and even their swords were of top-notch quality.

“Look, Father, we have four swords here and all of them are upper-grade spiritual weapons! Haha! This time you get to use upper-grade spiritual weapons too! That’s amazing!”

Jack handed the swords over t o Nash and then continued,” There are a lot of spirited grasses and stones inside their martial rings, and even some pills! What a great earning!”

Jack’s happiness had cheered the others up; Nash, who had just gone through a hellish near-death experience, patted Jack’s shoulder with a relieved expression. “Silly boy, it doesn’t matter if it’s an upper grade sword or what, the most important thing is that you’re fine.” Nash then added in a worried tone, “When you transformed into a dragon, I thought you would be like the young master from the Hunt family who took the pill and pursued after you; I afraid that you’d get devoured by the technique! But it looks like you didn’t suffer from any side effects, that’s great!”

Jack harnessed the flying sword, slowly flying in the direction of the White family. “Father, I have several of the pills that Cloud had taken last time. This pill has a strong side effect, devouring the Chi energy of the consumer after its effect is over, but overall, the combat power will be greatly enhanced with the pill. So, in this case as a last resort, perhaps these pills can save lives! So it’s still quite useful!”

Nash nodded in approval,” Yes, if the opponent has a higher martial level and combat prowess, in facing death, it’s always better to regress the martial level rather than dying!”

“Young Master Jack, why do I still feel like the battle just now was a dream? You actually transformed into a dragon! How cool was that! That’s too amazing! And those six fighters of the peak stage of the true god realm were killed just like that, not to mention they were killed by you, alone! My goodness! Your fighting power I s overwhelmingly strong, isn’t it?”

Kenneth was still recalling the after effects of the battle just now. It was a total shock and surprise to him.

“Hehe, I did not expect that I could actually have such strong combat power in this form as well. This is also why I acquired and trained hard for this technique, just that I haven’t been using it.”

Jack laughed warmly then continued, “Unfortunately, my current martial level is still too low. If I were to break through t o the ultimate god realm, I believe that I would be able to maintain this form for a longer time. Because by that time, I would have more Chi energy in my body to perform this technique!” Jack paused before continuing, “If the four of them had held on for a little longer, I’m afraid that the Chi energy in my body would be completely used up. In other words, the current Jack is still not ready to use that kind of technique to fight for a long period of time!”

“Haha! The transformation just now was already powerful enough to kill all those four elite fighters in such a short time. If you truly maintained this form for a longer time, then the earth would be destroyed!”

Kenneth burst out in laughter after hearing it.

“Now, even if it’s the Hunt family, we don’t have to be afraid anymore. But, the fact that Jack has acquired this technique must be kept only between the three of us now. It’s better not to spread the news or even use the technique unless the situation is critical!”

Chapter 1493

After giving the matter some thoughts, Nash then expressed with a smile.

“Tsk, I bet this time the people of the Skies Pavilion would cry t o death. Six of their fighters of the peak stage of true god status had all died at once. This is a big loss for them! Initially, the four ancient clans could be said to have equivalent power and strength, but now Skies Pavilion could only be the youngest brother’ in front of the other three ancient clans!”

Kenneth was somewhat excited at the thought of what kind of reaction and expression the master of Skies Pavilion – Joel Collins-would have when he found out that six of his elite fighters had died.

“I’m not interested in how Joel would react, instead, I’m more keen to know how Lily would react after she finds out about this!”

Nash smiled along. “Perhaps, they wouldn’t even think of us as the killers, and they might even think that it was done by people from the other three ancient clans!”

“Right. They definitely wouldn’t have expected that the three of us could kill six of their elite fighters!”

Kenneth nodded in agreement.

Although he had not recovered from his injuries, he was happy that he was avenged.

After flying for less than an hour, the White residence finally appeared in the sight of Jack and the others.

Selena knew that Jack and others would return on that day, so she intentionally skipped her training. She waited patiently at the entrance of the courtyard early in the morning and from time t o time she peeked at the distance, worrying about Jack and the others.

After all, she has heard of the four ancient clans and how none of the reclusive families had the power to fight them.

Soon, Jack and the others appeared in her sight.

“Jack! You guys are back! I’m s o happy that you are back!”

After the three figures entered Selena’s range of sight, she left out a huge sigh of relief.

The flying sword soon halted a little above the ground of the courtyard, and the three hopped down. Jack then flipped his palm to put the flying sword away, keeping it in his martial ring.

“Are you injured? Is everything okay? Is it serious?”

Selena noticed the bloodstains on their clothes and sleeves, and she was worried. It looked like they had undergone a tough fight and were probably ambushed on the way back.

They probably had to use Jack’s flying sword to escape from the attack and flee the scene.

“Dear, don’t worry. It’s not serious at all. We have taken the healing pills, just need to rest for a little while, then we’ll be fine!”

Jack smiled faintly and said to Selena, trying to comfort her.

“Mistress Selena, you know what? Young Master Jack was so hell of amazing that he killed six strong people who were at the peak of the true god realm! Alone! Oh my goodness, this is my first time seeing such a domineering and powerful strength!”

Kenneth was still excited from what he witnessed from the fight. He admired Jack to the bottom of his heart. Jack was so young, yet he had such exceptional fighting power. If h e could really break through to the ultimate god realm, would not he be the best in the world then?

Chapter 1494

“What? You killed six elite fighters of the peak stage of the true god realm alone?”

Selena gasped at the newly learned news, wondering if she had heard wrongly. Her husband Jack, did he not just break through to the late stage of the true god realm recently? How could he be able to kill six elite fighters by himself?

“Don’t listen to the First Elder, he’s spewing nonsense! If it wasn’t for him and father helping to hold up the other four, how could I have killed six by myself?”

Jack replied with tears and laughter. How could he have imagined that this First Elder exaggerated the situation to such an extent?

“That’s also very powerful!”

Selena stood frozen and finally smiled at Jack. “Well, get some rest first. Take a bath and change your clothes. Look at your body, it’s covered with blood!”

“Alright then, we shall not disturb the two of them, let’s leave! Have a good rest for the coming days and we’ll have to leave again in another ten days!”

Nash smiled and left with Kenneth.

Jack then quickly went into the house, took a warm bath, changed his clothes, laid on the bed, and had a good nap.

The morning incident made him physically exhausted and worn out, the kind of exhaustion he had not experienced for a long time.

When he woke up, the sky outside had already turned dark, while Selena was sitting by his side, looking at him with a gentle smile on her face.

“What? It’s already dark outside? I took such a long nap!”

Jack chortled and sat upon the bed, feeling that the wounds his body had completely healed.

He gazed around the house before asking, “By the way, Dear, where’s Kylie?”

“Kylie? She’s playing in the courtyard! Little Kylie knows that you’re back, her spirits are flying high that she could barely conceal her happiness! She wants you to take her around!”

Selena beamed in return. “But you’re resting, so I told her to play in the courtyard and don’t disturb you.”

“Hahaha! My silly little Kylie. Alright! Let’s go strode around the town below the mountain and have a wonderful meal together!”

Jack giggled, got off the bed, and held Selena’s hand before the two left the house.

“Dear, your fighting prowess is so amazing! If you breakthrough to the peak of the true god realm, then you truly don’t have to be afraid of those four ancient clans anymore!”

Selena could not hold back but praise Jack when the two of them walked out of the house t o the courtyard.

“That won’t work. There are too many of them, if they join forces together and surround m e, I won’t be able to defeat them!”

Jack laughed as the two arrived at the courtyard.

“Daddy!”

As soon as Jack entered Kylie's range of sight, she darted over, jumped up, and wrapped her arms around Jack's neck.“ Daddy, you woke up from your nap!”

Jack hugged and held Kylie.” Kylie, I heard your mommy said that you want me to take you to town to have some fun? Let's go now and we'll have nice food!” he smiled at his cute daughter.

“Yay! We can go down and have fun! I'm happy!”

Kylie's big eyes twinkled and shined bright like a diamond upon hearing Jack's proposal. Her excitement and joy unfolded like flowers in spring.

“Daddy, can you use the flying sword to carry me and mommy down to the town? Mommy and I haven't ridden on your flying sword before.”

Suddenly, Kylie spewed such a request. She looked at Jack with expectant eyes and a pleading expression.

“Hahaha! Alright! Sure!”

Jack chortled aloud. He then took his flying sword out and threw it in front of them. The flying sword grew in size in an instant; Jack then held both Kylie and Selena in his arms and hopped onto the sword together.

Swoosh!

The flying sword flew slowly, gliding across the sky. “Let's fly a little longer and farther and then we'll come back later!”

Jack put Kylie down and sat her on the top of the flying sword as well.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1495-1497

Chapter 1495

“Wow! This is so cool! I finally rode on a flying sword!”

Kylie, who was now sitting on the flying sword, gazing at the ten thousand lights below; she could not help but exclaim aloud, her tone full of excitement.

The next morning, Lily was impatient in her adobe, wondering why all six elders had not returned yet.

“Honey, why haven’t the six of them returned yet? Based on the plan, they should have been back this morning, right? But it’s already noon now, yet no one is back!”

Lily approached Joel and doubted, frowning.

“Heh, what’s the hurry? It’s not a problem at all for the six o f them to kill those three maggots! They must have found a place to drink and celebrate after winning the battle. Don’t worry! They’ll definitely be back by afternoon!”

Joel shrugged and grinned nonchalantly, not the least bit worried about what would happen to the six elders he sent.

However, in the afternoon, Joel had grown a little worried when none of the six elders had yet to return

Joel then immediately dispatched a group of men to look for the six of them in all possible locations, including the area and the route toward the direction of the White residence. He believed that as long as there was a fight, there must be signs of it.

It was not until the next day at noon when those scouts, who had been sent out, returned to Skies Pavilion.

“Master, Master! We have bad news!”

Just as they arrived at the entrance of the pavilion, one of the old men exclaimed aloud.

Joel and Lily–who were sitting inside the main hall—had their brows puckered together when they heard of the noise.

The old man, together with his men, quickly rushed into the hall and kneeled before Joel.“ Master, something bad has happened!”

“What’s the matter?”

Joel immediately responded; h e was worried sick.

“They…they’re all dead!”

The old man held his breath, and after a while only did he spew these few words.

“All dead? That’s great news! All three White are all dead? Hahaha! That’s amazing!”

When Lily heard this, she laughed uncontrollably as though she was on a certain stimulant drug.

Nonetheless, just as she finished her words, she reacted again. “No, wait! What’s so bad about it? You can’t possibly say that it’s all our people who are dead, right?”

Another middle-aged man then nodded gloomily. “Yes, Madam. All six elders are dead, and we couldn’t find the bodies of those three White family members!”

“No way! It’s impossible! How I s this possible? Absolutely ridiculous!”

Lily simply did not want to true god realm!”

Joel, on the other hand, was unable to register the fact as well. To him, it felt like it was not the truth.

“Master, it’s indeed the case. All six of them are dead!”

The old man sighed, “Sigh! And some of them died in a very tragic and miserable…”

“Tragic and miserable?”

Joel frowned and looked at the old man.

“Yes, Master. The bodies seem to have been crushed by some intense beast claws. They seem to be sharp, incredibly sharp claws!”

The old man then continued,“ We too feel strange about that. The injuries on their bodies do not seem like they were caused by a human!”

“Why is there nobody from the White family at all? How is that possible? Or could it be that the six elders did not even have the chance to meet the White before they got killed by some demonic beast?”

Joel thought for a while before guessing uncertainly.

Chapter 1496

“Master, we’re not sure about this. After all, we did not witness it. The area is surrounded by nothing but forests, and there’s hardly anyone around, that’s why there’s no way to investigate what actually happened!”

The old man gave a bitter smile, his expression hapless.” This means that the place that the six of them chose was truly suitable to trap and kill Nash White and the others. But as to why ferocious beasts suddenly appeared and killed the six of them, there is no clue!”

Here, the old man paused for a while before continuing, “Oh, right. We can’t tell much from the damage at the scene since most of the battle probably took place in the sky.”

“What kind of beasts could it b e, to be able to kill the six of them? Even if these beasts are a t the peak of their true god status, surely they would also have difficulty killing all six of them. Even if my men couldn’t defeat the beasts, some of them could have escaped if one or two held the beasts off, right? This means that the beasts are far more powerful than them!”

Joel’s face had taken on a deathly pallor. His six fighters had died just like that. With that, the Pavilion of Skies would be weakest among the Four Ancient Clans.

“The White family definitely did not kill them. They do not have the ability. It’s not them!”

Lily’s face had also turned pale. She sat to the side disappointed, and she seemed t o be slightly stupefied. “We can only admit that they were lucky today. Before the six Elders could reach the ambush point, they must have run into the ferocious beasts and were killed!”

The more Joel thought about it, the angrier he got. He looked at Lily impatiently. “It’s all your fault. If you weren't in such a rush to kill them, our six Elders wouldn't have died," he said." I wanted to take them down in the danger zones. Now we've suffered a great loss!"

Lily was angry as well. "How can you pin all the blame on me? You agreed to this too. Besides, this was an accident. Who knows where such ferocious beasts came from?" she told Joel, huffing. "Besides, if we only act when they're in the Seven Dangers, how would you know which section of the Seven Dangers they're in? The place is huge. It would be difficult to find them!"

Joel clenched his fists. After a while, he looked at the old man with confusion. "There's something wrong. If there were beasts, why are all the bodies still around? Don't tell m e that these beasts don't like eating humans?"

Lily also came to her senses. If beasts had truly killed the Elders, they would not have just left the corpses there. Logically speaking, even if not all the bodies were consumed, a t least a few would have been eaten.

She suddenly thought of something, and asked the old man, "Right. Where are their martial rings? And their weapons? Are they there?"

The old man shook his head." We tried searching for them, but found nothing!"

"It must have been taken by humans. It's likely that they were not killed by beasts!"

Lily was shocked. "But if it was not the beasts that did it, why are there claw marks and signs of maiming? If it was humans, why would they attack like that? But if it wasn't done by humans, why are their martial rings gone?"

The old man gave a bitter smile. "There's an explanation for that. I think the Elders must have run into the fearsome monsters first, and they were killed. Later, the three men from the White family saw them while they were passing b y, and took their martial rings and other items! It must have happened like that. Only this can explain everything!"

“F*ck. If that’s the case, not only have our men failed to kill those three, they even gave them plenty of treasures!”

Joel was so angry that he clenched his fists. His expression was a deathly sight.

Chapter 1497

“More importantly, if the three men from the White family saw their bodies, they would probably have guessed that I sent people to ambush them. If that’s the case, they will definitely be on their guard from now on!”

The old man added after thinking about it.

“All right. It must have been difficult for all of you. Head offt o rest first!”

Joel waved his hand, signaling for everyone to go down.

“Ah, this loss is too great. With this, we will not be able to lift our chins before the other three Ancient Clans!”

Joel heaved a sigh only after all the people had left. He looked a t Lily, and regret tinged his heart. She was beautiful, but it was a pity that his pavilion had suffered great losses because o f her.

At last, Joel sat to the side.“ Thank goodness there are still plenty of people at the advanced stage of the true god realm in our pavilion,” he said.

“They’ve been training hard lately. It’ll be good if one or two of them are able to make a breakthrough.”

Time passed by quickly. The days trickled past.

Eight days before they were to head out for the Cabello family, a man suddenly rushed out and stood in the air, laughing.” Haha. This is great. I broke through. I finally made a breakthrough!”

This voice caused excitement among many who were familiar with him. They all ran out immediately.

After Jack heard this, he was excited as well. He instantly flew out of the garden. “Not bad, Third Elder. Haha. You’re finally at the peak of the true god realm,” he said. “In a short span of time, the White family has gained another powerful fighter!”

Lancelot’s expression was brimming with exhilaration. H e immediately smiled at Jack.” Ah. Thank goodness you gave me two pills. I actually didn’t have much confidence, so I didn’t expect to actually succeed. Although I took some time to make a breakthrough, I did it anyway. I spent so much time on this small breakthrough. Ah. It’s fine as long as I succeed!”

“Haha. Congratulations!”

Plenty of Elders and Patronums also flew over, admiration written over their faces.

“This is great. We now have at least three fighters who are at the peak of the true god status. Haha. With Young Master Jack’s fighting power, we don’t have to fear the Hunt family at all!”

Titus also laughed. Although news of how Jack had killed six fighters in the true god realm by himself had not spread, everyone of the high ranked members of the White family and their elders knew. This gave the White family’s Elders confidence. They all felt that the White family was actually as strong as the Four Ancient Clans.

If they did not take their entire population into account, with the fact that they had fewer fighters in the true god realm, and that their lineage did not extend that far into history, they could probably contend with the Four Ancient Clans.

“Haha. This is great. I broke through. I broke through!”

No one expected to have another old man rush out from the house at this moment, crying out.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1498-1500

Chapter 1498

“No way. The Second Elder also broke through?”

Everyone took a sharp intake of breath when they recognized the person who rushed out. What on earth was going on that very day? Two Elders at the late stage of the true god status suddenly broke into the peak in rapid succession. Now, as there was still no way to break into the ultimate god status, the peak of the true god status was the highest cultivation level.

“Amazing!”

Some people at the intermediate stage of the true god status admired them. Those who had reached the peak of the true god realm were god-like figures to them.

“You broke through as well?”

The Second Elder saw Lancelot and was stunned for a moment. He suddenly came to his senses.

“Haha. I was faster by one or two minutes. You came out right after I did!”

Lancelot said, laughing.

“This is great. Haha. This is fantastic! I didn’t think that the two of us would make a breakthrough. If this is the case, why should we be afraid of anyone? We don’t need to fear the Hunt family anymore. Haha!”

The Second Elder, Weston, laughed in elation. In a flash, they had two more fighters at the peak of the true god’s status. The White family’s overall fighting power was now increased by a significant chunk!

“Haha. There’s still some good news I haven’t told you yet. I’ll tell you personally later!”

The First Elder, Kenneth, burst into laughter, speaking with a mysterious expression.

“What news? My goodness, what happened while we were holding ourselves up? This is great!”

Lancelot grew even more excited when he heard this.

“Hehe. I will tell you two later. There are too many people here. We are trying to keep this information a secret for now. After all, we might attract unwanted attention!”

Kenneth chuckled, and his words made the Second Elder and the Third Elder even more curious.

“Oh, right. I have good news to tell everyone!”

No one expected that at this moment that Jack would look a t the crowd, smiling as he made an announcement.

“Young Master, you have good news as well? This is great!”

Kenneth and the others were stunned. They all stared at Jack.

“That’s right. I’ve been trying t o make second-grade intermediate pills these few days, and I finally succeeded two days before!”

Jack gave a wan smile before speaking slowly.

“My God. Really? This is great. Young Master Jack, if that’s the case, you’re now a secondgrade intermediate alchemist!”

Titus was excited. He took two steps forward and spoke to Jack, “Young Master Jack, do you know what this means?”

“What does it mean?”

Jack frowned. He thought that everybody was celebrating a little too much.

He knew that everyone would b e happy once he announced this. But judging from their gazes, they seemed to be far more excited than he had predicted.

Chapter 1499

“Haha. You still don’t know what this means, young man? I t means that you are the top alchemist now!”

Titus laughed and said.

The First Elder saw that Jack

Did not seem to comprehend the situation and explained," Before, the only people capable of alchemy were Second Young Master Hunt and the First Elder of the Cabello people. We had admired them for a long time, and when we heard that you practiced alchemy as well, we were already overjoyed. After the Second Young Master Hunt died, only you and the First Elder of the Cabello family are the only practicing alchemists left!"

Here, the First Elder paused for a while before continuing," The First Elder of the Cabello family is a second-grade elementary alchemist. That is impressive enough, but you're now a second-grade intermediate alchemist. Tell m e, aren't you the greatest alchemist now?"

"No way. I thought that the Cabello family's First Elder was at a very high level!"

After Jack heard this, he did not know whether to laugh or cry. If he went by the First Elder's words, it was as though he was truly the strongest alchemist out there.

"How high can you go? All the previous alchemists never had masters to teach them. They all practiced and researched the techniques themselves. And after they master an alchemy method, they test it repeatedly. Besides, only those who have Chi and are born with the fire element can be an alchemist. Any other individual would have zero chance of doing so!"

"Oh, right. And I think your spirit and focus must far exceed those of a similar cultivation level only then can you perform alchemy!"

Titus also added a sentence, smiling mirthlessly.

"Oh, right. Who are those who managed to train until they're a t the intermediate stage of the true god status? Come forth!"

Jack asked after thinking about it.

“I’ve been at the intermediate stage of true god status for a while now!”

After Yolanda pondered for a while, she stepped forward. She could not bear to carry out the assassination task that Lily had assigned her before, so she launched a surprise attack on Dean to help Jack.

Now she thought that she had made the correct choice. With the White family’s progress now, the Hunt family and the others were all left in the dust. Besides, the White family had great potential. Now they are beginning to pay attention to the branch families’ progress. The branch family members all obeyed and revered Jack, and their young geniuses had been training even harder lately. Since then, there were quite a few exceptional talents who had sprouted.

A few other White family members at the intermediate stage of the true god status also stood up.

“Seven people? Good!”

Jack waved his hand, and seven second-grade intermediate pills flew over and floated before them. “Now we lack people at the advanced stage of true god status. This status is very important, so I’ll give each of you a secondgrade intermediate pill. I hope that all of you will be able to make a breakthrough in due time, and I hope that you do not disappoint me!”

After Jack thought about it, he reminded them, “Oh, right. For those of you who have just broken into the intermediate stage, no need to rush. We aren’t in a hurry for now. Once your power has stabilized and you can make a breakthrough, you can use this pill to aid you!”

Yolanda’s eyes reddened. She took the pill before her, looking at Jack excitedly. “Young Master Jack, my-my surname is Lagorio. Are you sure you want to give such a precious thing to me?”

Jack looked at her and replied, smiling, “Hehe. For those of you who stayed behind and voluntarily remained with the White family, I trust all of you. I believe that you stand with us.”

“Thank you. Thank you, Young Master Jack!”

Yolanda carefully kept the pill, preparing herself to try and make a breakthrough in two days.

Jack suddenly saw another old man in the crowd. He clearly recalled that his name was Xavier Lagorio. He had been the one to send Lily back to the Lagorio family after she lost her power.

After sending Lily back, he still chose to return to the White family. This was enough to discern his loyalty “Xavier. Come over here!”

After Jack thought about it, he waved his hand at the old man.

“Me?”

Xavier was stunned for a moment before he flew over.” Young Master, what is the matter?”

Chapter 1500

Frankly speaking, Xavier was worried.

After all, when Lily’s power had been stripped away, he was worried that she would be killed by someone on the road, or she would have an accident. That was why he sent her off.

Along the way, he occasionally tried to talk some sense into Lily, hoping that she would not harbor a grudge against the White family. He told her that she had done wrong, and hoped that the two families would leave it at that.

However, Lily did not say a single word. She soaked in her sorrow, and he did not know if his words had any effect on. Lily.

Now though, it seemed that not only had Lily not taken his words into heart, she hated the White family so much that she wanted to kill them all.

He felt helpless. He knew that Nash was a good man, but he was afraid that the White family members would not be happy with him. After all, he had accompanied Lily back home.

However, after he returned, he realized something, that the White family members did not seem to hold a grudge against him because of this. They gave the martial resources he needed, and he was now a Patronum. He also broke into the beginning stage of the true god status a month ago.

Jack looked at him and said," Right. Patronum Xavier. What cultivation level are you at now?"

"Oh. I'm at the beginning stage of true god status now. It is because of the White family's generosity and blessings that I was able to make the breakthrough a month ago!"

Xavier nodded his head and spoke earnestly.

Jack flipped his palm and took out a second-grade elementary pill, thrusting it toward the old man. "I'll give you a secondgrade elementary pill. I hope this will help you to make more breakthroughs. I heard that you made great contributionst o the White family before. This is your reward!"

When Xavier heard this, his nose reddened, and his eyes burned.

He had been afraid that because he was a Lagorio, and that he had sent Lily back, Jack and the others would treat him differently. He did not think that Jack would actually give him a pill.

“It was only right of me to do s o. In the White family, your father treated me kindly. He even saved my life before. I do not know how I could ever repay you!”

Xavier did not take the pill that Jack thrust toward him. Instead, he tried to decline the gift politely.

“Just take it. If you break into the peak of true god status, that’s the best possible repayment toward the White family!”

Jack smiled and stuffed the pill into the old man’s grip.

“Ah. I do want to break into the peak of the true god’s status, but I’m afraid that I will not have a chance in this lifetime. I am getting older, and I do not know how long I have left to live. I do not have great talent. I f you give me this pill, I’m afraid that I will waste it if I fail to make a breakthrough!”

Xavier heaved a sigh. He was now over seventy years old. He was already satisfied that he managed to break into the beginning stage of the true god status. He did not think that Jack would actually waste such a precious pill on an old geezer like him.

“Don’t worry. It won’t be a problem so long as you’re willing to work hard. If you truly fail to make a breakthrough with this pill, I’ll give you another, and another. Until you break into the intermediate stage of the true god status. Then, the peak of the true god’s status. I believe in you!”

Jack patted his shoulder and smiled. “I believe that we’ll be able to find a way to break into the ultimate god status. Then, the elderly like you will have something to look forward to. If you can break into the ultimate god status, what are you afraid of if you have two hundred years to live?”

“Hehe. I don’t dare to hope for too much!”

Chapter 1501-1503

Chapter 1501

Xavier gave a bitter smile. He was well aware of the extent of his talent and thought that he did not have much hope during his current lifetime. Besides,

Even if Jack was an alchemist,

He could not bear to waste his given pills.

“Every person should have goals. Otherwise, what difference would there be between us and salted fish? Don’t you think so, everyone?”

Jack looked at the crowd, speaking while chuckling.

“Yes. Haha!”

Everyone laughed. All of their futures were full of hope.

“You’ve given the pills to everyone. Now, what are you going to use to cultivate yourself? Didn’t you say that you were going to break into the peak of the true god status before going to the Cabello family’s estate?”

Nash looked at Jack and smiled bitterly.

“Don’t worry, Dad. I have a bit of time, no? I’ll create a few more pills today and tomorrow. Then I’ll try to make a breakthrough. I've decided that it's fine even if I fail this time. I can try again next time!"

Jack gave a wan smile and asked everyone again, "Oh, right. I don't think there's any more news, right? If there isn't, everybody should work hard with the remaining time w e have. For those who can break into another level, quickly make your breakthroughs. The danger zones are extremely dangerous. All those who are in the true god realm must go except for two or three who will remain behind to look after the White family."

"Don't worry, Young Master. We'll definitely work hard to cultivate ourselves!"

Yolanda and the others answered excitedly.

After everyone dissipated, Jack accompanied his wife and child for the afternoon. At night, he finally began to quiet himself down to create pills.

Before, he had obtained plenty of martial resources and alchemy materials from the competition. Then, he killed the six elders from the Skies Pavilion, and he obtained even more goodies. That was why Jack had picked out plenty of alchemy resources to put into his martial ring. If he were not pressed for time, he could create even more pills, helping everyone to cultivate themselves.

"It's a pity that there are too few alchemists in the White family. The alchemists that the First Elder spoke of are those outside the Four Ancient Clans. After all, we don't usually interact with the Four Ancient Clans and don't bring them up in our conversations.

"There must be quite a few alchemists among the Four Ancient Clans!"

Jack thought about it and muttered to himself, then he took out a bunch of secondgrade intermediate alchemy materials and started to create the pills.

He worked for three straight days to create over ten secondgrade intermediate pills. The more familiar one was with creating pills, the higher the success rate of creating them.

However, Jack still felt hapless. He was aware that the alchemy methods he knew were few. He only had two methods to create secondgrade intermediate pills. He has been using the same method and did not have the time to try and practice the other method. After all, it was good enough that he increased the chances of successfully creating the pills.

He rested for two days, then he told Selena that he wanted to isolate himself and cultivate his level, as he intended to break into the next level.

Meanwhile, throughout the one month, Selena had also greatly increased her martial level. She was already a seventh -grade grandmaster. The rate a t which she had improved was tremendous.

As for Ben, he had reached the level of a third-grade grandmaster. For him, it was satisfactory progress.

Of course, Jack did not expect Kylie to be a prodigy. She had been a third-grade martial artist before, and now she was a sixth-grade martial artist. The little girl still went to school every day, and would only train herself when she had free time.

Chapter 1502

Two days before they were to set out for the Cabello family's estate, Nash and a handful of elders were anxiously waiting a t the gates.

They all wanted to know if Jack could make it, with him needing to practice alchemy and trying to make a breakthrough within such a short time.

Furthermore, if he was not out any sooner, they would not be able to make it on time. After all, the Cabello family estate was some distance away from the White family estate.

At long last, while anxiety was seizing them, the doors slowly crept open. Jack walked out.

“Young Master Jack, you’re finally out. Have you managed t o make a breakthrough?”

The First Elder, Titus, and the others all stared at Jack in anticipation. They all knew that Jack had fearsome fighting prowess. If Jack could break into the peak of the true god status, then they truly had nothing to fear.

As everyone’s eyes were pinned on him, Jack nodded his head slightly. “Haha. Don’t worry. I did it!”

As Jack spoke, he slowly released the aura within his body, allowing it to seep into the atmosphere.

“My goodness. Such a powerful aura! Is this truly the aura of someone at the peak of the true god realm? Why do I feel like it’s the strength of ten fighters at the peak of the true god realm?”

When Jack released his aura, the crowd was shocked.

“That fellow is a strange one. W e even thought that we could beat him in the beginning!”

Liah and Martin exchanged a glance, not knowing whether t o laugh or cry. They still remembered how they previously tried to fight Jack for the position of house heir.

It was as though it had just happened yesterday. Jack was now on a whole other level – one they could not hope to reach.

Even though they made great progress and trained hard, the gap between them and Jack was growing wider and wider.

“Forget it. Now he could probably beat a hundred of me!”

Yule did not know whether to laugh or cry. “I even thought that I would be the one to help him in the beginning. Who knew that he would be so much stronger than I am. What a great hidden talent!”

“This is fantastic. Haha. Absolutely fantastic. The White family is blessed!”

Nash and the other Elders knew that while Jack was still a t the advanced stage of the true god status, he managed to kill six fighters at the peak of the true god status alone.

Now, Jack has broken through to another level. Even if he did not transform into a dragon, h e could easily beat the old fighters at the peak of the true god status.

More importantly, now the Second Elder and the Third Elder were also at the peak of the true god status. The White family had gained five fighters at the peak of the true god status in a short span of time. I n other words, they had nothing to be afraid of anymore.

“Oh, right. Young Master Jack, while you were busy practicing alchemy and cultivating yourself these few days, you probably don’t know that Patronum Yolanda has made a breakthrough after using your pill. She’s now at the advanced stage of the true god status. We’ve already promoted her to an Elder!”

Titus took a step forward and spoke to Jack, chuckling, “As o f the other six who received your pills, two of them also made breakthroughs, and they’ve been promoted to the Elder status. The other four had just broken into the intermediate stage of the true god realm, and their powers are not stable yet, so they have yet to use your pill to make another breakthrough!”

“Haha. Good, good. That’s good news!”

Jack laughed when he heard this. He was delighted. Now the White family was truly getting stronger. “Humph. We don’t have to lie low anymore! I’ll just punch whoever dares to look down on the White family!”

Chapter 1503

“Of course. Haha. Especially the Lagorio family. We’ll wipe them out if they dare to create trouble for us. Let’s see if they dare to come for us!”

The First Elder also burst into laughter. Everybody hates the Lagorio family, especially Lily Lagorio. Even after she had done unspeakable crimes, she still dared to declare that she was going to take revenge.

Furthermore, not only did she not repent, she even tried to use the Skies Pavilion to kill the White family. The last time, if not for the fact that Jack had a serious trump card on him, the three of them would probably be killed by the six fighters. If the three of them were dead, the Lagorio family would probably not spare a single White family member.

“Those in the true god status and the semi-god status can all go. But we still need to leave eight people of the true god status behind, and more than ten people of the semi-god status. They’ll be guarding the White family estate!”

Jack said after he thought about it.

Soon, Jack chose those who were to stay behind. He even made Lancelot stay behind, even if he had just broken into the peak of the true god status. That way, the other families would not dare to trespass their territory so easily.

“Sorry to trouble you, Third Elder. If you all stay back, you can look after the White family estate and have some time to stabilize your martial level!”

Jack patted Lancelot’s shoulder and gave the order.

“All right. Master, you and Young Master Jack can head out without a worry. Leave the White family estate to us!

Lancelot nodded his head. “We will be waiting for the good news you’ll bring us!”

“Let’s go!”

Jack quickly increased the size of his flying sword, and all the fighters from the White family flew onto it.

This time, the fighters were not just from the White main family, but also the branch families. In total, they had about twenty thousand people. It was a force to be reckoned with.

The remaining twenty thousand people were of lower cultivation levels or were assigned to look after the White family estate, so they stayed behind.

As a first-class family, the number of troops they had was astounding.

Whoosh!

At Jack’s telepathic command, the flying sword zoomed forward.

At that moment, in the Cabello family, Helena came before Daniella. “Third sister, you’ve managed to make great progress in cultivating yourself. Now you’re already at the intermediate stage of the true god status. It seems that you’ve not been slacking off all day!”

“Didn’t you make a breakthrough as well? You’re at the peak of the true god status already. Stop making me jealous!”

Daniella looked at Helena, and could not help but roll her eyes before speaking

“Heh. I’ve been at the advanced stage of true god status for a long time now. I barely managed to succeed this time with the pill that Jack gave!”

Helena gave a bitter smile. “But you’ve managed to improve so quickly,” she said. “Besides, I’ve never seen you work so hard to cultivate yourself before!

“Of course. I’ll only be dragging him down if I don’t work hard.”

As Daniella spoke, her cheeks began to flush, and her voice grew smaller. It was evident that she was bashful.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1504-1507

Chapter 1504

“Oh, so you’re working so hard because of that fella. I must say that the power of love is amazing!”

Helena looked at Daniella, and could not help but tease her, “Oh, right, The person you like is probably coming tomorrow. How do you feel now? Are you nervous? Excited?”

Daniella grew even shyer when her big sister teased her like that. She lowered her gaze and ducked her head. “Of course. Can’t I be excited and nervous at the same time? I wonder if he’ll be happy to see that I’ve made a breakthrough!”

“Heh. You’re already in a relationship with him. You just haven’t made the official announcement yet. Of course, he’ll be happy that you’ve made a breakthrough!”

Helena smiled, admiration welling in her heart. She was happy for her third sister, who was able to find such an incredible man. However, she did not know why a tinge of envy twinged her chest as well.

“What relationship? You are the one in a relationship with him. Everyone has acknowledged you! Who knows when we can finally reveal our relationship?”

Daniella pursed her lips, sitting down under a stone pavilion. “Sister Selena is pretty nice to me, and Jack told me that Selena has accepted me. I’m happy because of that. But now I’m worried about how I should break this to Kylie.

“Kylie? Doesn’t she like you? She was sad to see you leave. It shouldn’t be a problem!”

After Helena gave it some thought, she could not help but ask, “oh, right. Since you came back, you’ve been training till yesterday. Are you sure you haven’t forgotten anything?”

Daniella looked at Helena and said, smiling, “I didn’t forget. I promised Jack that I would give some Bone Marrow Cleansing Water to his parents. Heh. I’ll go in a while! I didn’t go earlier not because I was busy, but because I was afraid that Father and the others would catch me. With the other families coming soon, they’ll be busy arranging the family estate and preparing to receive guests. Then they won’t have the time to care about the Cleansing Water!”

She did not think that Helena would give her a grin, then take out a small bottle and thrust it toward her.

“What’s this?”

Daniella was confused when she saw it.

“Open it up and see. Then you’ll know.”

Helena rolled her eyes at her sister.

Daniella took a look and took a sharp intake of breath. “My God. This-this is enough for ten people. Big Sister, you stole it for me? Thank you! But someone will definitely tell because you took so much. What if Father finds out?”

Daniella was extremely excited. After she thought about it, she added, “Oh, right. If Father finds out, just say that it was me. Heh. Thank you, Big Sis. I love you so much!”

As she spoke, Daniella kept the bottle, then she hugged Helena and jumped elatedly.

“Don’t-don’t! I didn’t give this to you. It’s Father!”

Chapter 1505

Helena rolled her eyes at Daniella. “I told Father that you promised to give some Bone Marrow Cleansing Water to the White family,” she said. “The idea of stealing didn’t sit right with me, even though it’s our own family possession. That’s why I told Father. I didn’t think that he would agree to it so easily. He even said that because we haven’t received news that Master White had been killed, it means that the White family members have managed to fend off an attack. We can’t look down on the White family any longer, and we should establish good relations with them!”

“So it was Father who gave this. How nice of him. I even thought that he would be furious once he found out. I didn’t think that he would give so much Bone Marrow Cleansing Water too!

Daniella was even happier. She was as excited as a child who had just gotten candy.

“Heh. Father said that Jack helped us to kill the First Young Master Hunt and saved so many of our people, so we must maintain a good relationship between our families. He-he even advised me…”

As she spoke, Helena’s expression grew bashful. She was embarrassed to speak any further.

“Advised you? What did he advise you?”

Daniella frowned. Judging from her big sister’s behavior, it seemed that! It was a touchy subject.

“He advised me to get closer to Jack and see if we can make our relationship a real one. So that our families will be related. This will greatly benefit the Cabello family because Jack has great talent, and the White family will only grow stronger. That’s why…”

As Helena spoke, she bit her lower lip and glanced at Daniella.

Daniella was furious when she heard this. “I’m so mad. Why would Father think of that?” she said, clenching her teeth. “He agreed that you two were a fake couple. Why is he doing this? Seriously…”

Here, she looked at her big sister again and spoke, “You. What did you tell him then? Big Sis, don’t tell me that you agreed to his suggestion? Don’t tell me that you’ve fallen for Jack? My God. He’s too amazing. You’ll definitely like him. That’s definitely the case. What should I do? He’s my boyfriend. Sis, you can’t just snatch my boyfriend away. We have a connection!”

Daniella truly flew into a panic. After all, her sister was just as pretty as she was. She was cute and doe-eyed but her sister was matured and aloof. What if Jack liked women of her type? What if the two truly developed feelings for each other after fake dating for a while? Then what should she do?

“Me? I didn’t know how to answer him, so I told him that I was just putting up an act with Jack. I told him that there’s no chemistry between us so that he’ll stop getting wild ideas!”

Helena smiled and added, “I even told Father that you seem to have taken an interest in Jack. And you’ve known him longer, so you must have fallen for him!”

“Really? What did Father say?”

Daniella's eyes brightened when she heard this, her expression pinched in anticipation.

"Father was surprised. He said that if Jack liked you as well, a relationship could grow from there. But feelings can only develop in their natural course. Our parents won't bother with what happens between us!"

After Helena said that, she jabbed Daniella's forehead with a finger. "You were so panicky. Have you calmed down now?"

"Heh. I'm all right now. I was afraid that Father would disagree because relationship between our families were not great before. With this, can finally put my mind at rest!"

Daniella chuckled, her heart dancing with joy. Since Jack's wife had no objections, and her parents agreed, then she would definitely become the second mistress of the White family!

Chapter 1506

"But the First and Second Young Masters of the Hunt family died not too long ago. The Hunt family members are probably trying to find out who it was who killed them. Now is really not the time for me to announce my breakup with Jack!"

Helena pondered on the matter for a while before speaking her mind.

When she heard this, Daniella also scrunched her brows together. She thought for a while before replying, "That doesn't matter. At any rate, Second Young Master Hunt won't be disturbing you anymore. Heh. As time goes by, people will start to forget about this. If anyone asks you, just say that the two of you broke up because of irreconcilable differences!"

"You're just waiting for our fake dating gambit to be over so that you can be with Jack, right?"

Helena rolled her eyes at Daniella, then said in a joking manner, “Seriously. Maybe I should keep him to myself. Your boyfriend is a fine Specimen, after all!”

“Big Sis, you-you. If you do that, I’ll be absolutely livid!”

Daniella stamped her foot, acting cute before her elder sister.

“Heh. I was just joking. I wanted to see how you would react!”

Helena answered, chuckling.

Time passed by quickly. The next morning, the Cabello family began to stir into excitement.

Soon, some second-class and third-class family members arrived.

The second-class and third-class families were going all out this time. They had brought people of the true god and semi-god status along.

Although few fighters were at the peak of the true god realm among these families, those at the advanced or intermediate stage of the true god status still looked forward to finding the method to break into the ultimate god status.

After all, if they found an object that would help them, they would be able to use it one day in the future. It was an unparalleled treasure, something that everybody had their eyes on.

“Ah. The second-class and thirdclass families are here to join the fun. Seriously…”

The First Elder of the Cabello family could not help but heave a sigh when he saw that many people were starting to gather in a huge plaza halfway up the Cabello family's mountain.

He did not think that even though the Hunt family restored the ancient summoning circle and organized the competition for the younger generation, it would be Jack and the others who won the fame, discovering a clue that might lead them to the ultimate god realm.

Now that he thought about it, he felt pathetic. He had toiled away all those years for nothing

"Let's go. We can head down now. There are plenty of people there. The Second Elder and the others are welcoming guests there!"

Alejandro smiled and said, "Of course the aristocratic families would come. Who wouldn't be interested in a matter as big as the ultimate god realm? But they brought so many people here. Plenty will die in the danger zones as well. We have no choice though. We can't just stop them, can we?"

"Heh. That's true!"

The First Elder chuckled, flying down along with Alejandro. "The White family is amazing. We still haven't heard of anything from them. Unless the Skies Pavilion did not send anyone to attack them after the wedding, while they were heading back to their estate?"

Chapter 1507

"Indeed, it's strange. There's been no news from Skies Pavilion as well. Logically speaking, Lily Lagorio must have married their master to attack the White family. Even an idiot would figure that out!"

Alejandro furrowed his brows. The two quickly flew down the mountain.

Not long after, the other seven first-class families slowly arrived.

When Master Hunt spotted Jack and the others, his expression darkened. He had the urge to skin Jack alive.

“Master White, I didn’t think that your son would be so capable. It isn’t an exaggeration to call him a genius, right?

Old Master Hunt commented after seeing Nash.

“Heh. I don’t know what you mean, Old Master Hunt!”

Nash chuckled after he heard that. Before, he would have been worried by the old man’s words. Now though, he had no reason to fear the Hunt family.

“Oh, it’s nothing. We just heard rumors that your son killed both of my grandsons!”

Old Master Hunt gave a frosty smile. “With that fighting power, your son is truly the Number One Genius among the younger generation. Who else has the right to that title?”

When he heard this, Nash did not think that it was anything out of the ordinary. After all, plenty of people knew what had happened. Although the Lancaster family and the Cabello family members had promised that they would not speak of it, there were far too many people in the two families. Coupled with the White family members, someone might have accidentally leaked the information while they were idly chatting among themselves.

That was why so long as the Hunt family investigated and observed intently-perhaps even catching and interrogating a few Lancaster or Cabello family members—they would certainly find a few rumors.

“No way! The young master of the White family killed them? My God. His talent is amazing.”

The Church family members took a sharp intake of breath after they heard this. They were evidently shocked.

However, after Master Church and his Elders recollected themselves, hatred sprang in their hearts once more.

They had allied with the Lagorio and Hunt families at first, ready to take down the geniuses from the other families. That way, they would obtain benefits, and the Hunt family’s position would be solidified.

They did not expect the two young masters of the Hunt family would be killed during the competition. Meanwhile, the three families had sent over four hundred geniuses, and only a few dozen of them had emerged alive. It was a colossal loss.

If Jack had killed the two young masters of the Hunt family, he had no way to clear himself of a connection to the other geniuses of the families.

“All right. I had suspected that Helena and Jack had worked together to do this. You even told us to stop making baseless accusations, since there’s no evidence. Nash White, it seems like Old Master Hunt and the others have found something. How are you going to defend yourself?”

The master of the Lagorio family, Trenton, was delighted when he heard this. He immediately stood up and glared at Nash.

Joel was embarrassed by the incident that had happened to Skies Pavilion. If a word that six of their fighters at the peak of the true god status had died, their position would definitely plummet. Until now, the Skies Pavilion has yet to declare anything. Even Trenton did not know what was happening in Skies Pavilion.

Now, aside from the White family, only the Skies Pavilion knew that they had suffered such a great loss. The other families and Ancient Clans had no idea of that incident. They still assumed that the Skies Pavilion had plenty of fighters among their ranks.

“Heh. I had no idea. Besides, does it! Matter who killed them?”

Nash chuckled and shrugged his shoulders nonchalantly.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1508-1510

Chapter 1508

“Does it matter who killed them? Nash White, they were Master Hunt’s sons, two genius sons! They’re now dead! And you think that it’s not a big deal?”

An elder of the Hunt family stepped forward and snarled at Nash; his tone was full of malice and hatred, and his face was so red as though he was burning with anger. How could this old fella before him speak I n such a nonchalant tone? Did the old fella forget the status of the Hunt family in this martial world?

Another elder of the Hunt family chimed in and sneered, “Nash White, it looks like you’re unaware of the power of the Hunt family, aren’t you? Let me tell you, another Elder I n the Hunt family has broken through to the peak of the true god realm lately!”

The elder raised his head higher as he bragged; his face was full of pride as though the Hunt family had conquered the world. After all, the strength of a family depended on the number of elite fighters one had. There was an addition of strength at the peak of the true god realm in the Hunt family, the top position of the Hunt family among the hidden families was definitely more stable than before.

“What? Another one? The Hunt family is really something!”

“Yes, that is so cool! It’s only been a while! The Hunt family I s very talented in training people, and the other hidden families like us can’t even be on par with them!”

“Five, tsk tsk tsk. They have five elite fighters at the peak of the true god realm! Other firstclass families only have two or three, right?”

Animated discussions soon arose among the people of second-class and third-class families upon hearing the news. All of a sudden, the Hunt family was once again under the spotlight.

“Haha, Mr. Elder of the Hunt family, you look so proud of the mentioned elder. Hmmm. The elder that broke through to the peak stage of the true god realm…is you, right?”

Jack noticed the prideful look o n the other party and pointed it out nonchalantly. “I don’t think there’s anything wrong with what my father said. No matter how many elite fighters at the peak stage of the true god realm the Hunt family had, it has nothing to do with the White family. Secondly, they were indeed killed by me, but s o what? At the beginning of the competition, didn’t you, the Hunt family, say that life or death didn’t matter in the competition?”

“Oh my goodness! It was only a rumor that he killed them. But today he actually admitted the deed!”

Some people gasped at the fact that Jack admitted to the killing deed. Jack was bold and dauntless.

“This brat actually dares to admit it? So the rumor is true! But isn’t he afraid of death?”

Helena and Daniella exchanged glances; both of them were rendered speechless.

The old man of the Hunt family trembled with rage; his resentment grew inside him like a tumor. The death of his two beloved grandsons had been a pain in his heart.

In the past few weeks, he even secretly sent people to investigate and inquire about the death of his grandsons, and until three days ago, only did they learn that the one who killed his grandsons was Jack

White. The newly learned information made them want t o tear Jack apart with their own hands.

The Hunt family members did not expect that Jack would actually dare to admit his deed in front of them.

”Haha! Great! It’s so great!”

Old Master Hunt was so angry that he burst into laughter instead. “Master White, this son of yours is not only a talented genius, but he is also the most courageous man in the world! He admitted his deed and is not afraid to offend our Hunt family at all. Such courage, I don’t think anyone else in this world possesses the courage he has!”

Chapter 1509

“Old Master Hunt, I don’t think there’s a problem with what my son has said. Previously in the competition, the life or death rule was repeatedly stressed by the Hunt family too. All we did was follow this rule. Hmmm. Don’t tell me you want to shove all the blame onto my son and avenge your grandsons, hmm?”

Nash smiled gently while responding to the Old Master Hunt. If the same thing happened back in the time before Jack appeared in his life, he would not dare to speak up so confidently in front of the Hunt family.

“Heh, what are you all talking about here?”

Before the Old Master Hunt could say further, Alejandro immediately stepped in and mediated the situation. “The tournament has long passed, and many sons of families died in that tournament; they were the pearls of families.

However, the principal topic for today is to discuss how to venture into the Seven Dangers and to find a way to break through to the ultimate god realm, right? Those are the things we should be discussing!”

“Master Cabello is right. Let’s not fight over this matter, alright?”

Shelby Lancaster-the head of the Lancaster family-stepped up and voiced out as well. “I’m actually worried about one thing, it’s about the daughter o f the Lagorio family. She married the master of Skies Pavilion, and I wonder if she told them about the Seven Dangers and the ultimate god realm.”

Everyone stared at Trenton upon hearing Shelby’s words.

Although the Hunt family members were angry, it was not a good idea to strike Jack then so they could only swallow their rage and bury the hatred in their hearts for the time being. When the opportunity comes, they would behead Jack to avenge the young masters of the Hunt family.

“Hey, don’t look at me like that! I don’t know either!”

Panic surged through Trenton when he noticed that all gazes were on him. His face was ashen, and his throat tightened.

It was because he knew the truth, that his daughter had not only told the Skies Pavilion about the ultimate god realm, but she also told the other three ancient clans!

If the people of these hidden families knew that Lily was the snitch and even used the information to exchange for training materials and resources, they would not be happy with the Lagorios. Even worse, they might target the Lagorio family in the future.

“You don’t know? Stop pretending! You’re Lily’s father and you claim that you don’t know anything about it? Don’t tell me she never tells you anything at all!”

Shelby stepped toward Trenton and stared straight at him.” But I was informed that your daughter visited the Pavilion of Gods and Kings before she married the master of Skies Pavilion. What's more interesting is that some time ago, a group of people from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings explored two sites of the Seven Dangers! How do you think those men found out about the Seven Danger?"

"Master Lagorio, you must give us an explanation regarding this!"

Nash's face sank to the deepest as he spoke. None of the hidden families had spread the news, instead, they worked hard to train and prepare themselves sufficiently before discussing how to go to the lands of the Seven Dangers.

The news that the Lancaster family had found out was like a bomb.

"Master Lagorio, did your daughter really spill such important information to the ancient clans? I had doubts before that she would tell the Skies Pavilion, but after listening to Master Lancaster's findings, it seems like your daughter has told all the ancient clans about the Seven Dangers and ultimate god realm! Humph! Now all four ancient clans know about it, right? Sigh! I wonder if the other three ancient clans have made a move to the Seven Dangers yet."

Old Master Hunt was running o n sheer anger; he stared deadly at Trenton with malice and hatred written on his face." The four ancient clans are very powerful! They might act first t o get to the Seven Dangers and find the way to break through t o the ultimate god realm! And what if they won't tell us after they've figured it out? Then what? Are we, the reclusive families, going to be trampled under their feet for the rest of our lives, and never be able to rise?"

Numerous pairs of eyes focused on Trenton that he was mute with horror. His legs were wobbling in fear, and his face went white.

Nonetheless, he wiped the sweat on his forehead and tried to tamp down the panic within him. "Ladies and gentlemen, II really don't know anything about this at all! Lily never tells me about her plan, and even when she wanted to marry that old man, I tried to stop but to n o avail! She simply doesn't listen to me. So, about the four ancient clans and the ultimate god realm, I truly don't know anything!"

Chapter 1510

Trenton knew very well in his heart that he could not admit that his daughter told the four ancient clans about the Seven Dangers. If these hidden families knew about it, they would blame the Lagorio family, and that would be a huge problem for the Lagorio family.

Old Master Hunt sank into deep thought with a solemn expression on his face. “It doesn’t matter who snitched. We’re here today to discuss how we should approach the Seven Dangers; each of the place in the Seven Dangers is extremely hazardous and risky, and none of us have been there before, not to mention the deepest site of the Seven Dangers. We don’t know the situation there, and even if each reclusive family sent one elite genius and joined forces together, I still think it’d be dangerous!” He expressed his thoughts and opinion about the plan.

“I wonder what the seven bright spots on the map mean… Hmmm… Moreover, if the four ancient clans have already sent men out to explore the Seven Dangers, we’re not sure which of the Seven Dangers they’ve been and if they put their men there to guard the place.”

The head of a second-class family spoke his mind after giving the matter some thoughts.

“In the past, the ancient clans, perhaps, would not make a move against our people of hidden families. But now the situation has changed, it involves some clues about the ultimate god level. Thus, if our men meet their people in any of the Seven Dangers, I’m afraid that they’ll strike at us for the sake of treasure and clues. This would be the most worrying problem of all!”

The head of the Lancaster family had her brows puckered together as she spoke. If it was not because of the sudden intervention from the four ancient clans, the hidden families only had to divide the forces equally and send their men out to all the Seven dangers; there would be no problem with such a plan.

All of a sudden, at this time, in the distance, a large crowd of men in black was seen gliding through the wide sky.

“Everyone, look! Why is there a group of people heading in our direction? Are there any other families coming to the meeting?”

Someone noticed the situation and immediately exclaimed.

“No, there shouldn’t be anyone else! The eight first-class reclusive families are all here. There are at least forty thousand people in that crowd that is coming over, right? It can’t be any family!”

Quentin’s face sank into the deepest, with a sense of foreboding.

“It’s people from the Skies Pavilion! Damn it! Why are they here?”

Alejandro soon recognized the other party; he cursed at the situation and his face turned unsightly.

Dread and irritation gnawed within the other heads of families as well; all their expressions were solemn and unsightly. Although they knew that they were right about Lily snitching on them, telling everything to the people from Skies Pavilion, they were still upset when they saw the other party appear.

“Wow! There are quite a lot of people here!

Joel Collins commented as he and his men stopped in the sky, not too far from the square where the hidden families gathered. They looked at the crowd from above.

“Hey, my lovely son-in-law, what brings you here?

Trenton immediately felt relieved and somewhat confident at the arrival of Joel. He immediately approached Joel with the gentlest smile on his face.

“Greetings, Master Lagorio. I heard from your daughter that you guys have some clues about the ultimate god realm, saying that it is related to the Seven Dangers. How could I not come for such important information?”

Joel replied, chuckling.

“Lily Lagorio, that woman didn’t come along? Is she afraid of us bashing and criticizing her?”

Out of everyone’s expectation, Jack stood out at this moment and asked Joel directly. His arms clasped in front of his chest and stared at Joel as though he was the master and Joel was his servant.

“My goodness, did I hear it wrong? This brat is so bold! How could he talk to the Master of Skies Pavilion in that manner?”

Chapter 1511

Some people in the crowd gasped at the situation, worrying for Jack.

“Why didn’t the head of the White family remind his son of his manners? Aren’t they afraid that Master Collins would get angry and kill his son on the spot? Even worse, Master Collins might end the entire White family!

A family head of a third-class family was surprised at how bold Jack was and exclaimed the same thoughts as the others.

Although everyone felt upset at what Lily had done-snitching on them, they certainly did not dare to spill such things to Joel, the pavilion master of Skies Pavilion

However, what the crowd did not know was that the other party knew what Jack got up his sleeve when Jack and the other two attended Lily and Joel’s marriage ceremony at the Skies Pavilion. If Jack did not reveal his hidden card, the other party would have long killed Jack and the other two. And if the three of them had died, the existence of the White family would be impacted grievously—the White might become extinct.

When Jack thought about the day the Skies Pavilion sent out six elite fighters to besiege and kill the three of them, raw anger flowed through him like lava.

“Jack, you do have courage, don’t you? Do you know who he is? He is the Master of the Skies Pavilion! You’re merely a young master, a junior! How dare you speak to Master Toel in such a tone, what a rude lad you are! I think you’re looking down on our Master Joel of the Skies Pavilion and being disrespectful to him!”

Happiness bloomed inside Trenton; he had not been able to find an opportunity for his son-in-law to make a move against the White family, but Jack dug the grave for himself. If the Master of the Skies Pavilion could strike at Jack right then and there to kill him, would not that be awesome?

Was it not Jack digging his own grave right now? Such a good opportunity to eliminate Jack was too rare to come by!

Sure enough, Joel’s face instantly turned dull and solemn; he felt that Jack was being disrespectful toward him.

However, he soon understood why Jack would talk to him in that manner; it must be due to Jack and the other two having encountered the six corpses of the elders from the Skies Pavilion that day and guessed that they were sent to assassinate Jack and the group.

But, this brat had no evidence about the assassination at all, how could he speak to him in such a disrespectful manner? Was he not looking for death? Such a good opportunity was presented in front of Joel; he Naturally would not miss it.

“Brat, you do have guts, don’t you? You don’t even try to respect an elder like me. How dare you call Lily ‘that woman’! She is my ninth wife and she’s older than you! Don’t you even understand the basics of being respectful toward the elders?” Joel smiled coldly and stared at Jack angrily.

“Well, she is that woman’ in my eyes. What to do? Humph! That woman was bent on causing trouble and eliminating my White family, why do I have to be respectful to her?”

Jack snorted coldly in return. “You humiliated my father at your wedding, and I haven’t forgotten about that matter yet. Now, old man, tell me, do you think you deserve my respect? Do you think I’m afraid of you?” Jack added.

“Master Collins, I have some doubts. On the day of your wedding, when we were on our way home, we encountered six elite elders from Skies Pavilion! Hehe, it can’t be that they were trying to protect us while sending us off, right? No such coincidence, right? Skies Pavilion has several elite fighters at peak stages of true god status, and we actually met six of them!”

Nash stepped in and supported Jack. He looked at Joel with an icy-cold smile plastered on his face.

“What? The Skies Pavilion made a move against the people from the hidden families? It’s so abominable! How could they break the tacit agreement that has been in place?”

Shelby immediately took a stance at Nash’s side and said with a surprised expression. “In that case, didn’t the Skies Pavilion break the silent agreement and did not at all respect the hidden families and the agreement? If they can strike at the White family, meaning they would strike at any of the hidden families in the future! Which of our families can resist their attack by then?” She added agitatedly.

“Master Lancaster is right! What a shameless act! The White family went to their wedding to give blessings, but the Skies Pavilion actually repaid the blessing with evils by sending people to assassinate them on their way back home? What logic is that? How abominable!”

The people of other families huffed and expressed their opinions in anger. The crowd was taking the side of the White family.

“What the hell? Something like that happened?”

Some of the White family members who were still unaware of the episode were feeling shocked, at the same time, furious about the newly learned information. Their faces turned unsightly. After all, only several elders of the White family knew about that incident.

Chapter 1512

“Young man, don’t accuse us without any proof!”

An old man from the Skies Pavilion immediately stood out and defended loudly. “We learned that a terrifying monster beast was appearing in that forest, so we sent our people to kill it. This is to prevent the beast from entering the village or town nearby and harm the innocent people there! But we did not expect that the beast was that powerful and had extremely sharp claws! It killed all the six elders of the Skies Pavilion!”

“No way! There is such a powerful monster beast in that forest?”

“My goodness! Six elders! Those who can become elders of the Skies Pavilion must have broken through to the peak stage of the true god realm! With such combat strength and prowess, they were killed by the beast?”

Many people gasped upon hearing the words. They were shocked by this news.

“Monster beast?”

Jack and Nash exchanged glances and their expressions turned strange. The Skies Pavilion did not believe that their elders were killed by the three of the White family, and they thought that the six elders had encountered some powerful monster and were killed by it!

But their reasoning was not completely wrong, after all, Jack did transform into a green dragon. He used his sharp claws to grab and crush the elders, and some were even crushed into meat paste. Looking at the wounds of the corpses, it was reasonable and logical for the Skies Pavilion to think that it was the works of some kind of powerful beast!

As expected, at this time, another elder of the Skies Pavilion stepped forward and chimed in, “Humph! You just happened to pass by the scene and encountered the corpses of the elders. How dare you accuse us based on that? You’re simply slandering the Skies Pavilion!”

“Nash White, your son is being disrespectful toward us; he did not at all put the Skies pavilion in his eyes! Never mind that he humiliated my ninth wife, he actually dares to slander our clan!” Joel was furious. “Today, I’ll teach you and your son a good lesson!”

Seeing that majority of the crowd seemed to believe his words, Joel was actually happy inside. He then took a huge step toward Nash, emitting his high and mighty aura to pressure him.

A terrifying sense of oppression came right at Nash as Joel released his domineering aura.

“What an overwhelming tension! He’s truly a veteran in the peak stage of the true god realm. Although their martial status stops at the peak stage of the true god realm, in terms of releasing a sense of tension and pressure, they are truly good at that. Their mighty aura will only get stronger and stronger!”

Several people from the White family had obviously felt the overwhelming tension emitted by Joel. They could not help but worry for Nash.

Joel flashed in an instant, clenched his fist, and bolted straight at Nash. Apparently, he wanted to give Nash a good beating, so that these hidden families would recognize the mighty majesty of the four ancient clans! The ancient clans must not be trampled on nor be desecrated at all!

“Come at me!”

However, at this time, Jack jumped and appeared in front of Nash in a flash. He, too, clenched his fist and blasted straight ahead at Joel.

“Brat, are you looking for death? Do you think you’re worthy of being my opponent?”

Joel’s fury sprang to life when he saw that Jack came forward for his father.

In his eyes, Jack was at most a junior, a rising star among the younger generation. Even if he was an elite fighter in the intermediate stage or even late stage of the true god realm, Jack’s overall strength and power were still inferior to his! So when Jack dashed out for his father, Jack had indirectly insulted Joel, implying that Joel was on the same level with him!

Boom!

Just as Joel’s last syllabus of words fell, two huge fists collided, and a deafening sound of collision rang out. Waves of Chi energy emitted from the blast, shaking the ground.

Bang!

What happened in the next second had everyone completely dumbfounded. Jack stood firmly in place, while Joel was blown away by Jack’s fist.

“No f*cking way!”

Almost everyone cried out in shock; their eyes were widened as large as saucers and their jaws dropped to the ground. The fighting outcome before them was completely beyond their expectation.

Chapter 1513

Was it not Jack that was supposed to be blasted away? How did it turn out to be the high and mighty Master Collins of the Skies Pavilion?

“Pfft!

What was truly out of everyone’s expectation was that the Master of Skies Pavilion was thrown a hundred feet away before he could stabilize himself on the ground. However, he could not resist the power but spurted out a mouthful of fresh blood, and his face immediately went white.

“No freaking way! He’s injured!”

Daniella of the Cabello family and the others were shocked and dumbfounded. Before that, when they saw that Jack spoke to Joel in an impolite manner, they were truly worried for Jack.

And when Joel charged toward Nash and Jack rushed out to block the attack, Daniella was so scared that she almost fainted. She could not imagine how worried he was. Jack tried to fight against Master Collin’s attack, was he not looking for death?

But now, the scene before her eyes told otherwise!

“Jack, this brat, he’s more powerful than Master Collins?”

Alejandro was even more frightened and could not control but swallowed hard. He then turned to Nash and asked, “Master White, you, he… Your son…which martial status is he at now? Don’t tell me he broke through again!”

Alejandro's voice was trembling as he expressed his doubts to Nash. Who was Joel? He was one of the top fighters in the peak stage of the true god realm! He could even resist against two or three fighters with the strength of the peak stage of the true god realm if they were to join forces together.

Nonetheless, such a powerful existence was actually blasted away by Jack!

"No! Impossible! There's no way he's stronger than me!"

Joel was even more bewildered at the fact. All of this felt so unreal to him; he pinched his thigh harshly, only then he learned that the pinch pained him. So, it meant all of this was real!

"To be honest, my son has broken through to the peak of the true god realm a few days ago!"

Nash smiled nonchalantly at Alejandro and responded in a gentle tone.

"Wow! Jack! You broke through to the next stage too fast!"

Daniella could no longer hold back her excitement and gazed at Jack with a face full of adoration, as though Jack was some priceless jewelry. Sunshine flooded her soul, and she could barely conceal it within her. Jack, the man that she adored deeply, did not at all let her down. He was the perfect man.

"Haha! Brother Jack, you're so cool! You're really awesome!"

Randall Lancaster laughed out loud as he came over to Jack. He looked at| Jack with excitement present in his Eyes.

“Master Collin, what’s the matter? Do you still want to fight with us? Haha! You said it yourself that the Skies Pavilion has already suffered losses; six elite fighters of the peak stage of the true god realm died! Indeed, Skies Pavilion is powerful and deeply rooted, but our White family is not afraid of you!”

Kenneth was even prouder of the White family that he annoyed Joel with a smug look on his face. Jack's attack had truly shocked everyone there; he made the White family proud, and the status of the White family would definitely increase after the great collision of punches just now.

Besides, the status of the White family would be different in the eyes of these hidden families from now on.

"You..."

Anger stirred within Joel that he was almost choking on his rage However, when he thought about Jack's massive power and strength just now, his heart pounded frantically

At that point in time, he truly did not dare to fight Jack again. What if he lost if he were to fight Jack again? Then the reputation of the Skies Pavilion and the image of Master Collin would be flushed down the drain.

He felt that his martial techniques would definitely be more powerful than Jack, and if he used his full strength to fight, his chance to win was higher, but what if he lost? There were many spectators in front of them. Watching him lose to Jack, how humiliating would that be?

After giving the matter some thought, he huffed, “Humph! I underestimated you a moment ago. Do you really think that you can be my opponent? I came here today to discuss important matters and not to fight! So, for the time being, I’d not haggle over you!”

Chapter 1514

When Joel spilled the sentence, his tone was arrogant and domineering, not emitting the slightest sense of weakness.

Moreover, most people of the Skies Pavilion also thought that their master pavilion was careless, underestimated Jack, and did not use his full strength. That was why Jack managed to hurt him.

The people of the Skies Pavilion had absolute trust and confidence in Master Collins's fighting prowess.

The crowd consisting of people from the hidden families was not stupid. A high and mighty person like Master Collins of the Skies Pavilion was injured by Jack, moreover, he did not want to pursue further! That had obviously implied that Joel was afraid of Jack's strength to some extent. From these behaviors of Joel, the crowd understood that Jack's strength and combat prowess were crazily strong.

"Master Hunt, the situation tells us more about young masters' death. This proves that our young masters were indeed killed by this fella!"

An elder from the Hunt family leaned toward Quentin and whispered into his ear softly.

"You're right. His combat power is far stronger than what we expected, and it is certainly stronger than his current martial level!"

Quentin nodded in agreement. He learned that Jack possessed an ultimate-grade spiritual weapon and that weapon had aided in increasing Jack's overall combat prowess.

"Master Collins, spill it! Since you already knew that we intend to explore the Seven Dangers, we'll not hide it from you anymore. The main reason we didn't share this information with you is cause we are not familiar with what's in there ourselves. We only blindly plan it without any in-depth information, so we can't let you take the risk with us!"

Old Master Hunt explained to Joel with a faint smile hanging on his face.

That excuse of Old Master Hunt' s was sensible and reasonable; it did not offend the mighty status of Master Collins, and even seems to be for the sake of protecting him.

However, Joel was not stupid; he naturally knew the underlying meaning of Old Master Hunt's sentences."

"Hmm. Thank you for your consideration. But for such a big thing, it's worth it for the Skies Pavilion to try too. Now, what's next?" He decided not to argue with Old Master Hunt and thank him instead.

Several horizontal lines formed between Old Master Hunt's brows when he was just about to share his plan. "Sigh! I'm afraid it won't be easy to arrange anything right now. Someone else is coming. Heh! It looks like the Skies Pavilion is not the only one who knew about this!" he looked away to the far distance as he spoke.

Joel wheeled his head and looked around, then his face suddenly went gloomy and solemn. "People from the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles are coming this way, why are they here? Humph! Lily Lagorio, that woman only knows how to create trouble! It looks like she told the other ancient clans as well!"

Anger welled up in his chest; he was upset that Lily told the other ancient clans about the matter; what was worse, she did not inform him about it at all!

If Lily spared the other three ancient clans about Seven Dangers and only told him, the Skies Pavilion would become the boss among the ancient clans! They would definitely have the leading advantage! How could he possibly foresee that Lily had actually told the other ancient clans as well?

Trenton's face fell; he stood aside and remained silent, pretending that he was unaware of everything.

A few moments later, the people of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles arrived at the square. It was not surprising for the Master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles to see that the people of Skies Pavilion were there too. After all, Lily married the Master of Skies Pavilion, it was only natural and logical for Lily to inform Joel about the Seven Dangers.

“Hahaha! It’s lively here, isn’t it? I guess the people of the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Gods and Kings will arrive in a moment, too!”

The Master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles laughed as he spoke. He was a middle-aged man who looked like he was in his late 40 to early 50. “Shall we wait a little longer for them to arrive?” he added.

Chapter 1515

“The Pavilion of Divinity will definitely come, but I’m not sure about the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.”

Shelby sneered with a distant smile. “The Pavilion of Gods and Kings has already dispatched some elite fighters into the Seven Dangers. I only found out about this a few days ago!”

The Master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles choked at the news; the corners of his mouth twitched involuntarily several times. “Humph! The Pavilion of Gods and Kings, they’re too sneaky! Lily informed us about the date and the venue of the meeting, saying that all families will gather in the Cabello estate before entering the Seven Dangers. How could they just go ahead with their own plans?”

The master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles hesitated for quite a while, but in the end, he gave up a similar idea, afraid of causing public anger. If he had known that the Pavilion of Gods and Kings had already acted, he would not have hesitated and instantly sent out his men to explore the Seven Dangers!

After several minutes, the Master of the Pavilion of Divinity also arrived with a large group of people. “It looks like we’re not the latest! The Pavilion of Gods and Kings is not here yet!”

“Oh, they won’t come. They have already sent their men into the Seven Dangers. And I don’t know what’s the latest situation there.”

The Master of Pavilion of Soaring Eagles said huffily. He was upset; he was very upset. If the Master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings had broken through to the ultimate god-level earlier than the other masters of the ancient clans, then it would be a huge problem. The other three ancient clans would have to listen to him in the future!

Sure enough, when the Master of the Pavilion of Divinity heard the news, her face sank, and raw rage seared through her. “Master Yeager, Harry Yeager, what an abominable man! He actually acted in advance, huh? Seven Dangers are not some common forests or caves, aren’t they afraid that the Seven Dangers are beyond their own ability? And in the end, the loss will be greater than gain!”

“I don’t think they are that bold to explore all seven places at the same time. Because then their strength and power will be scattered, and the death rate will be higher!”

Joel scoffed indifferently. “I think they’ve gone in for some days, and if they have found the way to break through to the ultimate god realm, it will be troublesome! And it will be more tedious and cumbersome if several of them break through to the ultimate god realm! By that time, even though we are elite fighters in the peak. Stage of the true god realm, in front of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, we could only bow down!” he continued.

The Master of the Pavilion of Divinity carefully scanned through the men beside Joel, and said, “Joel, what are your plans then? Also, I remember there are several elite martial artists with power of the peak stage of true god level in your pavilion. Why are they not here today?” She asked in a skeptical god-level tone and with her forehead puckered together. “Logically, this meeting is about finding a way to break through to the ultimate god realm, and those who are already at the peak stage of the true god realm should be eager to know the way, right? Could it be that you have some other plans?” she added.

The words of the middle-aged woman stirred up some fear in the crowd. The people of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles exchanged glances, evaluating her words. All of them were afraid of the real reason for the Skies Pavilion leaving so many elite fighters behind; they feared that the Skies Pavilion had another arrangement. What if the elite fighters were sent to attack their pavilions? It would be a big headache for them. After all, all families and pavilions had brought along all their elite fighters for the expedition to the Seven Dangers!

“Dead. They’re dead!”

Joel initially did not plan to spread this news, but since the other pavilions had noticed the missing of his elders, he had no choice but to explain. “They encountered a powerful monster beast and were killed by it. What’s worse, I don’t even know what kind of monster beast it is!”

“What? No freaking way! What kind of monster beast could be so powerful that it actually killed all the six elders who were at the peak of the true god level?”

The Master of the Pavilion of Divinity was called Aureole Hoffman, a middle-aged woman. She gasped at Joel’s words. If such a terrifying monster beast truly existed in this world, it would be horrendous.

“Could it be…could it be that the beast is from the Seven Dangers? Only Seven Dangers could have nurtured such a powerful monster beast! Other than Seven Dangers, I don’t think it’s possible to find such a beast in any other place!”

Griffin Langley, the Master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles, furrowed and speculated.

“How do I know? Anyway, that monster beast has very sharp claws! Very, very sharp, and powerful!”

Gloominess was all over Joel’s face; he looked at the crowd and said, “But, don’t worry about us, as the saying goes; no matter what a starved camel is still bigger than a horse. Although the Skies Pavilion has suffered a great loss, six experts from the peak stage of the true god realm, two people managed to break through to the peak of the true god realm lately! So, at worst, the status of the Skies Pavilion has dropped among the four ancient clans, but we’re still a lot stronger than the first-class families!”

“Is that so? Congratulations to you for having two breakthroughs into the peak stage of the true god-level during this period!” congratulated Aureole Hoffman from Pavilion of Divinity as a small smirk graced her features. “Sigh… Our clan also had fourteen in the peak stage of the true god-level previously. Just like your clan, we recently had one who broke through into the peak stage, so we have fifteen right now!”

It was obvious Aureole flaunted the fact as if she was telling the other party that their Pavilion of Divinity had grown stronger while the Skies Pavilion had recessed instead of improved, so they would need to back off a little in the future.

Not wanting to be overshadowed, Griffen Langley chimed in, announcing the strength of their clan, “Haha… Coincidentally, our clan also has two who successfully broke through and achieved the peak stage of the true god-level, and with that, we’ve grown from fourteen to sixteen. It looks like our clan has more masters in the peak stage of the true god-level!”

Joel’s expression grew dark before he changed the subject of the conversation, commenting, “What’s the use of having so many masters in the peak stage of the true godlevel? I think the monster beasts might be in the ultimate god-level, or they wouldn’t have been so strong. This means that the Seven Dangers definitely contain the secret of breaking through into the fighting prowess of the ultimate godlevel. It might be something like a spirited fruit or spirited grass!”

Quentin frowned as he theorized, “Everybody, I have a bold assumption. Does everyone think it’s possible that the monster beasts came out because members from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings offended the powerful monster beasts after they entered the Seven Dangers? These monster beasts might have quite a high spiritual intelligence if they’re almost, or already are, in the ultimate god-level. Is it not possible that they’re out here to exact vengeance against humans?”

“There’s a huge possibility of the assumption you just made. Otherwise, our six elders wouldn‘t have died!” Joel still felt heartbroken when he remembered his six elders; it was a big blow indeed.

The elders of the White family, Nash, felt off on the matter as their weirded-out expression showed. It seemed that Jack had been misunderstood as an extremely strong monster beast.

“Since everybody is here, let’s make our arrangements for entering the Seven Dangers,” suggested Quentin to the crowd after deliberating his thoughts.” If we don’t take action now and members from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings break through into the ultimate god-level, we’ ll be struggling if they want to suppress us.”

“That’s right. If several of their members had broken through into the ultimate god-level, it’ll be easy to topple us, the three other ancient clans!” fretted an elder from the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles.

Just as they had this exchange, however, an old man from the White family pointed at a direction and exclaimed, “We have a situation, everyone. Look over there! Why are the people from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings here?”

“What? The people from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings are here?” Everybody inhaled sharply at the old man’s exclamation as their expressions darkened.

“Quite a number of people are here. Could it be possible that they have returned? Have their members broken through into the ultimate god-level already? If that’s the case, would they hurt us?” A family master of a third-class aristocratic family was so frightened that his face alternated between paleness and being flushed, in fear of being killed.

“I don’t think we need to worry. It might be easy if they want to defeat each of us individually, but there are so many of us here as there are eight first-rate aristocratic families and three ancient clans. They won’t dare to act recklessly even if there are two to three members in the ultimate god-level, right? That is, of course, unless they have one to two dozen members in the ultimate god-level,” opinionated a man from a second-class aristocratic family, frowning as he did.

Nash and Jack exchanged glances, rather worried. They did not understand why members from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings would come to them at this moment.

The sacred lady of the Pavilion of Divinity thought about it and said to the people present,” Could it be that their members have yet to return and they, thinking we don’t know that they’ve entered the dangerous areas, pretend to come to us to enter the Seven Dangers with us?”

Chapter 1517

Nash immediately nodded. “It’s likely. After all, they have no idea we know they’ve dispatched their members there.”

Moments later, members of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings flew over and landed before them.

Aureole frowned and was the first one to question, “Master Harry, you guys are…?”

Harry’s gaze swept over the crowd before he spoke with a frown on his face, “To be honest, our people have already separated into three groups and headed for three of the dangerous areas to check things out, and they’ve also returned.”

“Haha…! We thought you wouldn’t admit that, Master Harry, but here you are, admitting it straightforwardly. Lily told me she informed your company about when to gather here, and that we’d enter the Seven Dangers together. Who knew you’d jump into action so quickly? You even gave your word before this!” spoke the chuckling Joel, though dissatisfaction sizzled in his chest.

Harry once again smiled bitterly. “Our people had returned from three of the dangerous areas, but we suffered greatly as many of them in the true god-level and semi-god-level have perished. Many of those in the intermediate and final stages of the true god-level had died, as well as five of our members in the peak stage of the true god-level.”

“And? Are there any leads?” Everybody immediately looked at him expectantly. It seemed to be a good thing that their people had already exited the place, after all. Was it not beneficial to gain information about the areas before they dispatched their own members? After all, the other party sacrificed so many people in exchange for these results!

“Indeed, there are,” Harry’s indifferent reply aroused everyone’s excitement.

“Have you truly obtained ways to break through into the ultimate god-level?” Trenton gulped, and even his breathing had deepened.

Harry smiled and said, “We obtained three balls!”

“Three balls?” Everybody was baffled, not knowing what Harry meant

An elder from a second-class aristocratic family pondered about it and said, “Would consuming these three balls allow us to break through and achieve the fighting prowess of the ultimate god-level then?”

“Oh my god… One ball for each dangerous area? Does this mean there are four others who have the opportunity to break through into the ultimate godlevel?” theorized another old lady.

“Eat it?” Harry had a weird expression on his face as he took a red ball out. “It’s so big and incredibly solid. Are you guys sure we are to eat it?”

Everybody was speechless when they looked at the ball. Not only was it as large as a basketball, but it also seemed to be made of rocks and had weird designs engraved into it.

Chapter 1518

Stunned momentarily, Joel then turned to Harry as he smilingly spoke, “Master Harry, can I have a closer look at it? This is the first time I’ve seen such a thing!”

Harry, however, smiled coldly. It’s nice enough that I came here and relayed information about some things, but you want me to show it to you? Haha … I’ve sacrificed so many of my people to get this. What if you don’t return it to me after inspecting it up close? Now that so many of the masters from our clan are dead, do you want me to fight you if you don’t return it to me?”

“Err… There’s really no need for you to worry about this. Our clan was struck with bad luck as we encountered a frightening monster beast, causing the deaths of six masters in the peak stage of the true god-level.” Harry baffled Joel. Well, there was no need to keep this hidden as other forces knew about this as well.

“Six of your people died?” Harry took a careful look at the people from the Skies Pavilion side, and it did seem like several powerful elders were missing.

Nonetheless, he denied his request smilingly, “That won’t work either. We obtained this with much difficulty, and I didn’ t get anything out of it even after studying it the entire night yesterday. I still need to go back and study it well!”

Another Elder from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings stepped forward and addressed everyone, “Our pavilion master is here today for everybody’s benefit, and we wish not to instigate any fights among the people here. If there’s a way to break through into the ultimate god-level, we hope that everybody can get along in peace. It’ll be best if we can break through together. We hope that all of us can share if it sa martial art technique. Of course, there’s nothing we can do if it’s some edible item and there’s a limit in number.”

“Thank you, Master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings.” Jack stepped forward and gestured to the other party with his hands. “It looks like Master Harry came here with your people to inform us of something, right?”

Harry nodded. “I’m here to tell everyone which areas we’ve traversed so none of you need to repeat those areas. With this, no trips will be wasted nor any deaths to occur. I won’t be heading for the four other dangerous areas, but it’ll be fine if you guys go into the areas. As for the secrets of these balls, you can slowly study them after you obtain them.”

“Thank you, Master Harry!” Jack gestured with his hands sincerely as he looked at the old man with white hair in front of him. Of course, it was somewhat wrong of him to act without everyone else in his hurry to search for the way to break through into the ultimate god-level.

Nonetheless, it was good for everybody that he came forward and informed everybody about the news he obtained. At least, they would not sacrifice many people in vain.

Joel, however, was wary as he examined the matter before he questioned, “Master Harry, how can you be sure we’d be able to search for the way to break through into the ultimate godlevel via these three balls? What if you’re mistaken? What if it’s some other precious item?”

Harry smiled coldly when he heard this. “You can try it if you don’t believe me. No matter what, our men came across an ominous ancient tree when they reached the deepest part of the dangerous area. This ball is placed in the middle of the ancient tree, and there’s one in each area; I’m assuming it’s the same for the remaining four dangerous areas. There should be a total of seven balls.”

“Apart from that, we didn’t see any other precious items, and we obtained all these items with our lives. Apart from this weird ball, there were other spirited grass and spirited fruits in the areas, but they have nothing to do with the ultimate god-level.”

Chapter 1519

The First Elder of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings came forward at that moment and said, “I’m sure that everyone here doesn’t believe in us, so you can all try it yourself. We were kind enough to inform you, but we won’t stop you if you don’t believe us and want more people to die in the process.”

“I believe in you, masters!” Jack once again gestured with his hands and, still bent in a slight bow, asked, “I hope that Master Harry and honorable masters can tell us which three dangerous areas you went to.”

“This young man is a well-mannered person indeed.” The First Elder of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings nodded. “We went to the three dangerous areas nearest to the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. The other four places that we haven’t visited include the Night Forest, Dragon Head Black Mountain, Bright Snow Mountain, and Black Windy Island. Help yourselves.”

“Alright, we’ve said everything we needed to say. I hope that everyone will contact and communicate with us when you notice anything after obtaining weird balls like these. We’ll be taking our leave now.” Master Harry of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings kept away the stone ball in his hand before leaving with his subordinates.

After the people from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings left, everybody exchanged glances, wondering what arrangements should follow suit. As there were four unvisited dangerous areas, it was difficult to plan things out as there were so many families and three ancient clans.

Joel thought about it before he smilingly suggested, “Everybody, now that there are four dangerous areas left, it means that there are four balls left, and everyone knows the dangerous areas are filled with all sorts of dangers. How about this: To protect the safety of the aristocratic families, the members of our ancient clans shall go to one dangerous area each while all members of the families go to the remaining dangerous area. It’ll obviously be much safer for you guys with this arrangement.”

“That sounds perfect!” The eyes of Griffen from the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles immediately lit up as he stepped forward, grinning as he agreed, “We made such arrangements while putting your safety as a priority. Apart from that, your rate of success would be much higher when so many of you enter one dangerous area. If too many people die, we, the ancient clan, fear you might not be able to cope with the loss.”

The people from the Pavilion of Divinity stood there without saying anything, but they were obviously agreeing in silence.

The people from the reclusive families glowered at their suggestion. They felt that the ancient clans were overbearing when only four balls left and wanted to take three of them. So many families were expected to take one ball? A fight for the balls would ensure in that case, what more being killed by the monster beasts.

“I don’t think this is a good idea.” Quentin eventually voiced his disagreement. Unable to accept such a suggestion, his expression soured as he spoke, “There are only three ancient clans, but each of you wants to take up one dangerous area, leaving over a dozen families here to kill and fight for the remaining area? Haha! That’ll only lead to more bloodshed!”

“That’s right! This is too much. How can you do this?” Several elders or family masters of first-class aristocratic families mustered their courage when Quentin stepped forward, and they immediately protested as well.

An old man from the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles stepped forward and smiled coldly with an arrogant temperament. “Overboard? Haha…! You people are only reclusive families! How can you compare with us, the ancient clans? We’re already honoring you by giving up one dangerous area and allowing you to take one of the balls. Don’t fail to appreciate our kindness!”

Chapter 1520

At this moment, another old lady from the Flying Eagle Sect came forward and, with a smirk on her face, sneered, “You shadow families aren’t qualified to discuss conditions with us. Let’s just agree with it. You guys will still have an opportunity, though it’s somewhat smaller, as we’re giving all of you one of the areas. Putting other things aside, which of your families dare to compete with us on the number of masters in the peak stage of the true god-level?”

Jack smiled coldly after he heard this. He stood forward and said to the old lady,” Honorable elder, what you say doesn’t sound right. If we compare individually, the number of our masters in the peak stage of the true god-level surely can’t compare with your so-called ancient clans, but what if we compare the total number? There are so many families here, and some of our second-class aristocratic families also have masters in the peak stage of the true god-level. What do you think if we add them all up? Are we still so few to you then?”

Jack paused momentarily before he continued, “Apart from that, isn’t it somewhat unsuitable for you to only give us one dangerous area when there are so many families here? If you insist on your suggestion, I can’t assure that our people won’t enter the other areas and take the balls from you. By then, things won’t happen as smoothly as you wanted it to, don’t you think?”

“That’s right. To heck with this, then. Why do we need to distribute the areas? Let’s just enter the areas altogether and see how it goes based on our individual strength!” growled one of the family masters from a second-class aristocratic family, who was also in the peak stage of the true god-level. If that was the case, their people could be distributed to two or even three dangerous areas. With that arrangement, the possibility of them obtaining the balls would greatly increase

“Young man, do you think we need to discuss this with you? Who do you think you are?” The old lady was furious and glared at Jack angrily

“Who am I? Haha… No matter what, I’m entirely against such a distribution from you people!” Jack smiled coldly. Many members of the White family, Cabello family, and even the Tudor Family also started to make a scene as they shouted their refusal loudly.

As the situation grew restless and chaotic, the old lady from the Flying Eagle Sect narrowed her gaze and came rushing toward Jack in a flash. She tightened her fists as horrendous Chi came surging out from them.

“Young man, since you don’t know how to respect your elders, let me show you what I mean when I say there’s a great difference between us!” The old lady rushed up to Jack as her gaze was set ablaze, fully intending to punish Jack activated her Chi. Scoffing at her, he tightened his fist before he threw it to intercept her attack

“This young man dares to stand his ground still, forcefully resisting me?’ The old lady’s heart dropped when she saw how Jack still stood up bravely against her.

However, a smirk soon appeared at the corners of her mouth. Since this young man was so insensible, this punch would surely wound him badly. It might not be able to kill him, but it would be enough to display their strength. This would put enough pressure on the so-called shadow families to change their minds in the End.

“This young man is being ridiculous. He dares go against our Third Elder?” Many elders from the Flying Eagle Sect looked at the scene in front of them as if seeing the joke of the town, smirking coldly at them.

Something unexpected happened just a mere minute later…

Thoom!

What they saw, to their horror, was not the body of the young man zipping across the air due to the impact. Instead, the Third Elder of their ancient clan was sent flying backward.

Chapter 1521 Medz

Jack’s punch sent the Third Elder flying backward, so much so that she flew about 100 meters before she regained her footing.

“Ah!” The Third Elder grasped her right arm with her left arm. Her right arm was fractured due to the impact as the bones broke into several sections.

“How’s this possible? The Third Elder is hurt!”

“It looks like her arm has been broken, doesn’t it? Tsk, tsk! She might only heal in about eight to ten days, even if she took pills to heal her wound!”

“Oh my… What’s the fighting prowess of that young man? The Third Elder is a master with a higher combat power in our ancient clan, yet this young man bested her so easily? Her combat power is one of the highest among the elders in the peak stage of the true god-level!”

The disciples from the Flying Eagle Sect were shocked to the core as their eyes nearly popped out of their sockets. What happened had completely overturned their recognition.

In their opinion, it was impossible for masters of the younger generation to compete with masters of the older generation, no matter how strong they were. After all, not only were the elders in the peak stage of the true god-level, but they were also in this fighting prowess level for many years.

“This guy is too strong!” Daniella gulped. “I wonder what’ll happen if he uses his full power!”

“He must’ve used his full power, no?” Helena, who was beside her, also swallowed her saliva as she spoke with uncertainty.

However, they did not know Jack had already broken through into the peak stage of the true god-level, and he did not need to use his entire strength to go against someone with the same fighting prowess. The old lady would not be alive and wailing if he genuinely did.

“Ah!” The old lady wailed in pain, and her agony receded only a little after she took a healing pill out and consumed it.

“How dare you hurt an elder from the Flying Eagle Sect, young man? Let me teach you, one who doesn’t know the immensity of heaven and earth, a lesson!” The pavilion master of the Flying Eagle Sect felt shameful when he saw how an elder from his ancient clan had lost. He then released his overpowering aura and directly flew outward in a flash, colliding against Jack.

“The pavilion master has taken action. That guy is done for this time!

“That’s right. That guy is a dead man, now that the pavilion master has taken action!”

The disciples of the Flying Eagle Sect felt somewhat emboldened when they saw their pavilion master zipping straight into action.

However, they did not expect their pavilion master to be sent flying backward the next second while Jack remained where he stood and did not even falter a step back.

“This…” Not only the people from the Flying Eagle Sect, but even those from the Pavilion of Divinity were stunned by what they saw. It felt like an out-of-body experience, utterly surreal. A young man from a shadow family was capable of blasting their pavilion master away.

Chapter 1522

The master of the Flying Eagle Sect managed to stabilize himself with great difficulty before waving his slightly numbing hands forcefully. His expression seemed dark, hardened.

Despite using his Chi back there, he was still flung in the air. This proved how much Chi Jack had in him, and his energy was also overpoweringly scary.

In the end, Griffin softened temporarily. He smiled at Jack indifferently and said, “Then let us know what sort of arrangement will be more suitable in this case, young man. There are so many forces here, and it’ll be difficult to make divisions. We suggested the plan with consideration for you shadow families in mind, so don't say I didn't warn you people when you incur too many deaths upon entering the dangerous areas guys, just because you didn't recognize our effort."

Many members from the shadow families were puzzled. Jack was incredibly strong, and it was somewhat terrifying. The pavilion master of the Skies Pavilion and the pavilion master of the Flying Eagle Sect could only back away as they gained no benefit in their fight.

Everybody turned to Jack, knowing that it was not an easy feat to make divisions and arrangements. After all, there were too many forces and it was difficult to make average arrangements.

Jack thought about it before he smiled at his opponent. "I have something in mind. It's unfair for us to get one while you get three of the remaining four dangerous areas. I'm sure you won't agree if we get three and you get one. In that case, let's divide equally. You three ancient clans can choose two of the dangerous areas and the remaining two belong to the shadow families!"

"Alright, this can work. Let's just separate it as such!" Quentin immediately stood forward and agreed to it.

To him, Jack was a young man with extremely strong combat power, and he would not be able to assassinate him on his own. On the other hand, having a few hands to help him out would do the trick.

First and foremost, he needed to stop considering revenge for the time being and fight for two dangerous areas. At least they would have the chance of obtaining one stone ball.

If they only had one dangerous area with one ball, he might not be able to win if he had to fight with Jack to get them.

"I agree as well!" The Tudors' family master, Karima, also raised her hand to show her agreement

"Yes, I agree as well!" The members of the other shadow families also agreed loudly.

On the other hand, members of the three ancient clans glowered at the suggestion. What should they do when there were two dangerous areas with three ancient clans?

However, the losses would be unbearable if both parties started fighting

“Let’s get on with it, then!” Joel was the first one to compromise. He sighed as he looked at Aureole and Griffin. “What do you two think?”

Both parties nodded. “Alright, let’s make the arrangement as such. However, we get to choose from the remaining four dangerous areas first!”

“Sure!” Jack nodded. Although he looked like he was not afraid of them, he could not act too forcefully toward the people from the ancient clans. After all, the other party had a deep background, and many members of the White family would die if a battle broke out.

On top of that, the shadow families were not as united as they seemed to be.

“We choose the Night Forest and the Dragon Head Black Mountain since our disciples are more familiar with these two dangerous areas. These places are also nearer to the position of us three ancient clans.” Joel thought about it and asked the other two pavilion masters, “What do you two think about it?”

“Yes, that’ll work just fine!”

Chapter 1523

The other two also nodded.

Jack and the others could only nod after they looked at each other. “Alright, then we’ll be going to Bright Snow Mountain and Black Windy Island.”

“Let’s move out.” The people from the three ancient clans left the area as they waved.

After they left, Quentin said angrily, “Those foxes just want to oppress everyone here!”

“That’s right. Among the four dangerous areas, the Night Forest and the Dragon Head Black Mountain aren’t as dangerous as the Bright Snow Mountain and the Black Windy Island. Those wretched people left two hauntingly dangerous areas for us!” Another elder from the Hunt family looked just as livid.

“Be content. If it wasn’t for Brother Jack’s strong combat power and fighting for two dangerous areas, we’d only be getting one!” interjected Master Ximenes with a bitter smile.” How should we divide the places among ourselves next?”

“What about this? Everyone had witnessed the White family’s prodigies’ combat power just now and the White family is even developing at an impressive rate, so I think it’s best if the White family go to the Black Windy Island. The other families can go there if you want, too,” suggested the smiling Quentin after pondering over the matter.

“Master Hunt, your family said nothing when we were fighting for others’ rights, even though your family is publicly known as the most powerful family among the shadow families. Jack was the one who stepped forward to fight the pavilion master or elder. Haha… Now that we’ve succeeded, you actually want us, the White family, to go to the Black Windy Island?”

Kenneth came forward and said with a cold smile, “I think you guys know that it’s not only dangerous in the seas of the Black Windy Island, but the seas are filled with numerous monster beasts. You wanted us to go because the journey won’t be smooth-sailing, don’t you? Aren’t you being a little shameless?”

“You…” Quentin was enraged at his claim, though his hands remained clasped behind him.” You’re overthinking it-I’m just thinking of what’s best for everybody. After all, we won’t easily get the stone ball after landing on Black Windy Island as it’s too dangerous. Jack has a high combat power and the White family is developing so nicely. Wouldn’t it be great if capable people do more work and help ease the burden of others?”

“If that’s the case, Master Hunt, does that mean the Hunts plan on going to Bright Snow Mountain?” Jack looked as if he did not care. He smiled calmly with his hands behind his back.

The flustered Quentin coughed and said, “Us Hunts will indeed be going to Bright Snow Mountain since we’re closer to the area! Isn’t that quite normal?”

Trenton then smilingly spoke,” The Lagorios naturally want to tag along and take a look at Bright Snow Mountain.”

“We’re going to Bright Snow Mountain, too!” The family master of the Church family also chimed in. Those three families worked together and cornered the other families previously, and many families knew about it. If they went to Black Windy Island on their own, who knew how many families would pinpoint on their Church family.

Obviously, being with the Hunts and the Lagorios would be the safest.

“Alright, then our White family will go to Black Windy Island!” Jack nodded and directly flew to the other side as he spoke,” Those going to Black Windy Island should come along. Those going to Bright Snow Mountain can stand with the Master Hunt.”

Daniella looked at Alejandro, who was next to her, and asked with a smile, “Father, shall… Shall we go to Black Windy Island?”

Chapter 1524

“Nonsense. Can we choose not to? It looks like your soul followed him! Don’t think I don’t know about this: you’re the one who’s head over heels for Jack while your sister is fake-dating him!” Alejandro grumbled as he glared at Daniella before flying toward Jack and his company.

“How’s that possible? Don’t the Cabellos harbor grudges against the White family? How did they become friends so soon?” Some from the shadow families muttered and gossiped among themselves when they saw this scene.

“Haha… Those grudges were something that happened long ago. What grudges can’t we let go of after so many years? Apart from that, the Eldest Young Mistress Cabello is in a relationship with Jack. They’re dating one another, which implies wedding bells might happen in the future. It looks like these two families have completely reconciled!”

Another family master smiled and said, “Those from the White family and the Cabello family aren’t weak in combat power despite being genial. We won’t be able to get anything good if we follow the Hunts, so let’s just follow the White family!”

The family master went and stood at Jack’s side with his people.

Without much thought, the Tudors went to follow the White and the Cabellos. Apart from that, the Ximenes family also stood at Jack’s side.

The remaining Norman family and the Zachary family from the first-class shadow families chose to fly toward the Hunt family. It was obvious they did not want to risk themselves in a place like Black Windy Island.

The people from the other second-class aristocratic families and third-class aristocratic families also knew how awful Black Windy Island was. Not only would it incur a long journey, but all sorts of dangers were on the road, let alone risking everything in a place like Black Windy Island.

Hence, 60-percent of those from the second-class and third-class aristocratic families went with the Hunts, choosing to go to Bright Snow Mountain. Only 4 0-percent of those people chose to go to Black Windy Island,

Nash’s gaze swept across everyone present as everyone was separated into two. He waved as he spoke,

“Alright, if that’s the case, let’s go!”

Everybody set out and went southeast.

After Jack and the others left, Trenton curiously asked Quentin, “Master Hunt, Jack had killed both your sons, and he has admitted to it. Don’t you want to get your revenge?”

“Nonsense. How can I not think about revenge?” Quentin gazed at the direction where Jack and the others left before adding, “I want to exact my revenge, but is getting revenge a simple thing? Didn’t you see that young man’s combat power? He has an impressively powerful combat power, and those two pavilion masters were no match for him-they failed before him. Do you think I can win against that young man under such circumstances?”

Trenton immediately said,” Those two pavilion masters might’ve underestimated him, though, so the young man had taken advantage of them. Had they not underestimated him, they might not-“

Quentin shot him a cold glare.” It can still be explained if you’re saying that the first pavilion master underestimated him, but the second pavilion master obviously didn’t. He only took action after his elder was wounded. He must’ve given his everything in that strike, but he was still blasted away!”

Chapter 1525

“This doesn’t mean Jack is stronger than them. After all, they merely exchanged regular blows back there, not with martial techniques or the likes. If they truly gave it their all, I don’t think Jack would’ve won!” Trenton was still unconvinced. He wanted to rely on the Skies Pavilion to wipe out the White family, and it was to his joy when Joel attacked Jack, but never did he anticipate Jack would send Joel flying in the air.

Joel was even embarrassed to act since so many members of the shadow families were looking at them. That was explainable, at least.

However, the Hunt family was no weak power, and it would be even better if the Hunts fought against the White family.

“Yes, but I don’t have much certainty on the matter. The young man from the White family has power beyond what we expect. We might, however, be able to kill him if we have four or five people attacking him at once,” explained Quentin after he thought about it.

“How’s that possible? Even if the young man has fighting prowess in the peak stage of the true god-level, he had just broken through into that level not long ago. A master like you will be sufficient to go against several of them. If I throw in another one or two more, we can surely kill him!” insisted Trenton confidently.

“Don’t think about killing him yet. Let’s go and inspect the dangerous areas first. I also don’ t know if the ball is the precious item to help break through into the ultimate god level. Sigh… Let ‘s get that ball first before anything else. Let’s study it well; it’d be much easier to break through into the ultimate god-level so I can get my revenge then.” Quentin balled his fists tightly before he waved to them and said, “Come, let’s get going. Once we get to Bright Snow Mountain, we’ll act separately. It’d be up to our respective abilities to find and get the stone ball.”

“Jack, this…this is for you!” Daniella flew up to the White family’s flying sword and passed a small bottle to Jack.” This is the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water from our family. A person only needs one or two drops, and there’s enough for a dozen people in that bottle!”

“Is that so? Thank you!” Jack immediately kept the porcelain bottle into his spatial ring before he softly spoke, “Won’t you father and the others blame you if they knew you gave this to me, though?”

“Don’t worry. My father already knows about it, so it’s alright.” She giggled. “Also, my father also knows that I like you and that you’re just pretending to date my sister, though it’s not time for us to announce our relationship. We’ll be able to do that when the time’s right!” chirped Daniella as she smiled gleefully, filled with anticipation

After flying for some time, Jack stopped his flying sword and, turning to those with him, said, I believe everyone here is willing to follow us to Black Windy Island, but I’m sure everybody has their own agenda. I’d like to ask right now: Seeing as only one of those balls will be there, should the families separate to go on individual searches once we get there? If we meet, do we wrest the ball or should we enter together and nobody takes action by themselves?"

"That's right. Only one of those balls is in that area, so what should we do? If we go separately, the sacrifice will definitely be greater, but if we don't, everybody will still fight for it when we see it!" A family master from a third-class aristocratic family frowned. After all, humans were selfish, and everyone wanted to get the stone ball. What if they managed to learn something from the weird stone ball and break through into the ultimate god-level? This was a precious item that everybody longed to obtain.

By the looks of it, the White family had a great relationship with the Cabellos and the Tudors. If the stone ball really appeared in front of everybody, they might fight to the death for the ball.

Chapter 1526

"I have no chance of defeating you if we're fighting for the ball." Alejandro glanced at Jack and smiled bitterly. "I've seen from your combat power just now, and I surely am no match for you."

Many were shocked to hear Alejandro's bold words. After all, he was the Cabellos' family master, a master of a first-class aristocratic family. Jack's strength must be exceptionally strong for such a family master to claim such high praise in an indifferent way.

With a tight-lipped smile, a family master of a second-class aristocratic family, who was in the final stages of the true-god level, suggested, "In my opinion, we'll only have such a chance if we travel separately. If we go our separate ways and no one else is with us, people with lower fighting prowess like us will have the chance to get the ball should we spot it."

Another family master countered, "Won't we be in trouble if we truly go our separate ways yet encounter extremely strong monster beasts on Black Windy Island? Apart from that, there are many indigenous masters on the island, and it's likely they'll attack us mainlanders on sight! These indigenous people must have quite a high fighting prowess, too! This is why the Hunts chose Bright Snow Mountain instantaneously!"

“That’s right! It’s true that our safety is guaranteed if we travel with masters from the White family, Cabello family, Ximenes family, and the Tudor Family –there is strength in numbers, after all. However, we won’t have a chance in obtaining the stone ball.” The previous family master sighed inwardly. They knew that an important treasure, something that everybody was willing to fight for, had appeared, but they could not stand on the same level as other families. They were inferior.

However, he could not miss this trip. He could have a strike of luck if he went, however slim it was, and not going at all would dissipate the opportunity entirely. It would be difficult for him to change his destiny in this lifetime if that was the case.

The thought of attaining the ultimate god-level greatly tempted everyone, even those in the demi-god-level.

The family master of the Ximenes family looked at Jack and asked, “Jack, my brother, what do you think about this?”

Jack’s combat power convinced him greatly, but he also felt that members of the White family would not act so cruelly or cunningly.

For example, they abhorred how the Hunt family and the other families worked together during the previous master-level competition. Who knew what would happen to those who followed the Hunt family into the dangerous area? It was then he weighed his options before he eventually joined the party that would leave for Black Windy Island.

At least he felt that Jack would be slightly open in the way he acted; it was better compared to fighting with those sinister people.

Jack thought of the situation before he answered, “I see that there are around two dozen families here. I’ve thought it through, and it doesn’t matter if it’s the White family or the Cabello family. Everybody might suffer huge losses if we go our separate ways. On the contrary, why don’t we work together? We need to work as one, especially after we enter Black Windy Island. If that’s the case, everybody won’t suffer greatly…”

“As for the balls, they’re rather peculiar items. Those from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings had looked into them for one whole night. They have three balls, and I’m sure that there are more than one person studying the balls, and it’s likely that three people are studying one ball each but failed to learn anything. I’m making a bold guess here. Since there are seven balls in the Seven Dangers, it’s possible that nothing can be learned from a singular stone ball.”

“What do you mean to say? Do we need to gather all seven stone balls and study them together to learn the secrets of breaking through into the ultimate god-level?”

Chapter 1527

Master Ximenes was stunned at Jack’s theory, but as he pondered over it, his expression slowly grew into one of surprise.

Jack nodded. “The stone ball isn’t some spirited grass or some spirited fruits, and everyone has seen that it’s not some martial art technique, either. It’s because of this that I’m sure nothing will come out of studying a singular stone ball, no matter who it goes to or how many years you’ll study it. It’s even possible that without gathering all seven stone balls, nobody will learn anything from it!”

“Your words seem to make sense. It’s best if we try to reduce the number of people sacrificed. After all, nobody wants too many people from their family to die in that area, right? This time, some forces might suffer huge losses if they don’t plan ahead. Look at the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, they've lost so many masters!” concurred Shirley with a nod. “Why don’t we do this instead: If we come across any spirited grass or fruits, we’ll gather them in a martial ring and give it to one of us for safekeeping. We’ll separate them accordingly after we leave the place. Of course, the families who do more will get more, and others will get less. Everybody. Will need to be ready to encounter monster beasts. How about that?”

“Good, good, that’s doable!” The members of the second-class and third-class aristocratic families were elated to hear the suggestion. They initially fretted that too many people would die and, more so, afraid that the first-class aristocratic families would take the stone ball or kill their disciples upon entering the dangerous area. The suggestion Shirley spoke out, however, benefitted them well as it would ensure the safety of their people all while they had a share of items from the dangerous area.

“Haha… It looks like we made a wise choice to follow Master White and the others!” one of the family masters chuckled and spoke heartily, and many resonated with his sentiment.

“Later on, no matter who obtained the stone ball first, nobody is allowed to take it once it’s stored in the martial ring. Everyone, what do you think of that?” added Jack after he weighed in mentally. “Surely, if the other party hasn’t stored it into the martial ring, it doesn’t belong to anybody, and we can still fight for it. What do you guys think?”

A man in the intermediate stage of the true god-level was delighted. “Yes, yes, that’ll work! Doesn’t this mean that those in the intermediate stage of the true god-level can have a go at it?”

“Alright. Since you’re the strongest person here, we’ll follow what you said!” Alejandro was initially sour about a few aspects yet he still agreed to it, knowing he would not have a chance in getting the ball without any rules as he was not as strong as Jack.

Jack nodded and continued, “However, we’ll have to set in stone one other matter right now, and that’s no matter who gets the stone ball in the end, it can be placed with their family. However, this stone ball belongs to everybody present. This means that if we’re able to obtain a martial art technique from this singular ball and break through into the ultimate god-level, we’ll need to make several copies to distribute them to each family. It’ll depend on individual talents to see who manages to break through into the ultimate god-level!”

“Amazing! Your suggestion carefully took everyone into consideration, Young Master Jack. Splendid!”

“Yes, Young Master Jack! We, the third-class aristocratic families, will have such a chance with this suggestion!” Many members of the third-class aristocratic families gazed at Jack in a different light. He and his White family were powerful people, yet he still considered their circumstances. Such a young man, yet he carried the entire world in his heart.

Chapter 1528

Jack looked at the other firstclass aristocratic families’ family masters and smilingly asked, “How about this? Master Cabello, Master Ximenes, what do you guys think?”

“Haha… No problem with that! If it truly is a martial art technique, we can surely share it with everybody. After all, this is for everyone’s greater good! We need to try our best in forming an alliance as it’ll benefit everyone.”

Alejandro chuckled and nodded in satisfaction, starting to admire his daughter’s insight. He had to admit that Jack was indeed a master. Not only was he talented, but he was also well-behaved. More importantly, he was extremely smart as he knew how to win over members of the second-class and third-class aristocratic families.

Members of the second-class and third-class aristocratic families who followed them might even try to indulge or butter up the White family after what Jack had said and done.

At such a rate, the White family would surely emerge as the best among the shadow families sooner or later.

On the contrary, the Hunts were always awfully domineering. Alejandro deduced that with their attitude, they surely would not cooperate with these second-class and third-class aristocratic families, let alone forming such gentlemanly agreements with them.

That attitude would surely make them fight the others upon entering the dangerous area, and they would suffer huge losses for it. It was even likely that these second-class and third-class aristocratic families would not maintain friendly relationships with the Hunt family-they would only be at odds and have a strained relationship instead.

Shirley thought about it and asked, “That sounds doable, Jack, but it’s under the circumstances where we manage to obtain martial art techniques from the stone balls. What if it’s a singular item? For example, what if the stone ball can be consumed after all? What if it’s only sufficient for one person to break through into the ultimate god level? We won’t be able to share that, would we? I mean, there are such possibilities!”

Jack had obviously thought about that as he instantly answered, “That’ll be much simpler; the stone ball will belong to whoever obtained it. After all, this person fought hard to get the item, and we have to respect whoever it is, right? What I mean to say is that if the item can be shared, it belongs to everybody, but otherwise, it'll belong to the person who got it!

Shirley nodded in agreement. "That's doable! It's settled then. I think we should head for Black Windy Island now. The dangerous area of Black Windy Island is in Black Windy Forest, located in the heart of the island. All of us will need to work together when we get there."

"Alright, it's decided then. We'll bring the stone ball back and study it upon getting it. If we truly fail to learn anything from it, we'll ask the other families who'll have the stone balls to bring them for a meeting. We'll then see if all seven balls have to be placed together for us to learn something from it!" Nash was satisfied by his son's performance. Once they finished discussing things, everybody continued their journey and went straight for Black Windy Island.

As they were large in number and many of them were in the demi-god level, some of them were able to fly as quickly, so they only arrived at the beach located in the southeast direction two days later.

Alejandro turned to the crowd as he addressed, "Everybody, let's rest to recover our Chi. There are many monster beasts in these seas and we seldom travel by sea, so it's best if we rest to recover our Chi before we continue traveling!"

The group rested for a few hours before they continued to fly with their carpets, heading toward the vast sea.

Chapter 1529

"Our current altitude is at least one thousand meters away above sea level. Ordinary monster beasts won't find us so easily while monster beasts with low fighting prowess can't fly up here, so everyone should rest assured," said the First Elder of the Cabello family, Kevin Cabello, to the people as he looked beneath them. "I've traveled to some of the islands in these seas a couple of times now, searching for materials used in cultivating pills, and I'm quite familiar with a few things about these seas!"

Jack looked at the First Elder standing on the flying carpet and said, "First Elder Cabello, I'm interested in your ancient tome. Since we have time to spare and a long journey before we get to Black Windy Island, may I look at your ancient tome?”

The smile on Kevin’s face froze as the corners of his lips quavered. This young man was daring enough to make such a request!

Did he not know that even their family master had to discuss with him if he wanted to take a look at his ancient tome, and he could only read it for a limited period?

He was momentarily stunned before he recovered a few seconds later, saying, “Haha! Young Brother Jack, there’s nothing interesting in my ancient tome as there are only introductions to some pill materials and pill remedies, apart from some information about medicine and other miscellaneous things.”

Kevin paused for a short moment before he lamented, “Sigh… I used to think that I’d find ways to break through into the ultimate god-level from my ancient tome. yet I find myself disappointed in not finding anything no matter how much I studied it. It was Then I understood that this is just a tome recording pill remedies and other medical skills with absolutely no regard toward our capability in breaking through into the ultimate god-level.”

Jack understood what Kevin was trying to say.

This old man’s reply was absolutely intelligent. As Jack had a high fighting prowess now and everyone held him in high regards, the old man would seem to be dishonoring Jack if he rejected the request. The old man also feared offending him.

It was why the old man said a lot but did not mention if he would lend Jack the ancient tome or let him look at them. The underlying meaning of his words, however, translated into his refusal to lend Jack the ancient tome.

Jack, instead of being enraged, smiled indifferently at Kevin and said slowly, “Don’t worry, First Elder Cabello. I won't read your tome with nothing in exchange. As long as you promise to let me take a look at the ancient tome, I promise to exchange a second grade intermediate pill remedy with you. I can even teach you how to cultivate pills. What do you say?"

"A second-grade intermediate pill remedy?" Kevin's eyes lit up when he heard these words. This could be considered a precious item that they seldom saw.

Although he had many second and third-grade pill remedies in his ancient tome, who would not want more? As a person who knew how to cultivate pills, he craved to have such items.

Nonetheless, he glowered at the fact that Jack mentioned he could teach him to cultivate pills.

Kevin coldly teased, "Haha! Who would've thought you knew how to cultivate pills, young man. It looks like you're quite talented.

An alchemist who only has a small amount of knowledge like you plans to teach a second grade elementary alchemist like me how to cultivate pills? Aren't you over-exaggerating your abilities?"

He smirked as he continued to speak with contempt, "Tell me then: what pills do you plan to teach me? First-grade elementary, or first-grade intermediate?"

"Haha! This young man thinks of teaching our elder how to cultivate pills. Is he dreaming! Does he truly think having a high fighting prowess means he's also good at cultivating pills?" Many youths of the Cabello family also started laughing, though they spoke with faint envy. Jack's talents were enough to make them jealous.

Jack smiled indifferently. "Second-grade intermediate, how about that?"

Chapter 1530

“Second-grade intermediate?” Kevin was stunned and his eyes were soon filled with shock as his breathing turned heavy.

After all, pill remedies were not the only things important to an alchemist-their capability of cultivating a higher grade pill was even more important.

Being able to cultivate a higher pill grade marked the alchemist’ s growth to a higher grade.

Of course, the value brought on by the successful cultivation of a pill was incomparable to the previous pills. A second-grade elementary alchemist and a second-grade intermediate alchemist seemed to differ slightly by level, but this slight difference was enough to raise the latter’s position to be much higher than the other.

After all, the value of a second grade intermediate pill was several times more than a second-grade elementary pill.

“Goodness! Did I hear him correctly? This young man wants to teach our First Elder how to cultivate second-grade intermediate pills?” exclaimed some of the youths from the Cabello family after reeling in shock, thinking they were dreaming.

Some of the older generations frowned and asked in slight disbelief, “Is this a joke? Even if this young man knows how to cultivate pills, it’s impossible for him to learn how to cultivate second-grade intermediate pills on his own, isn’t it? Our First Elder had been studying pill cultivation for so many years, and he can’t possibly be inferior to this young man from the White family!”

Alejandro, who stood nearby and was unable to refrain himself, immediately stepped forward to remind Kevin, “First Elder, what are you waiting for? You can’t learn anything regarding the ultimate god-level from your ancient tome. Why don’t you let him read them? The two of you are alchemists, and it’s nothing strange to learn from each other, right?”

Kevin was still hesitant after he heard this. He thought about it and asked Jack, “Do you truly know how to cultivate second grade intermediate pills?”

Jack laughed and said, “Haha… Of course. Do you think I’d lie to you? After all, I’m the family master inheritor of the White family. How can I lie to you in front of so many people?”

Kevin was quiet for a short moment before adding another condition for himself, “If that’s the case, apart from giving me the second-grade intermediate pill remedy and promising to teach me how to cultivate these pills, you need to give me a second-grade intermediate pill first. How else will I know you’ll keep your promise to teach me in the future?”

“That’s right. You need to give him at least a second-grade intermediate pill!” Alejandro chimed in as it was great for them to get more benefits.

Some among them who understood pills were just as stunned after they heard the First Elder’s exclamation.

Two of them even moved forward to take a closer look, and there was indeed an obvious layer of cloud-like texture on top of the pill.

Chapter 1531

“They’re pill clouds, alright. A pill this guy studied and cultivated on his own can achieve such a level?” An old man gulped as he gazed at Jack in shock.

Kevin eyed the pill for a long while before he turned to Jack and hesitantly asked, “Are you truly willing to give me such a pill?”

Jack nodded. “Didn’t we have an agreement?”

“Yes, yes!” Kevin nodded. No longer was there doubt that Jack was not a second-grade intermediate alchemist. He believed that Jack was the one who cultivated such a pill.

Jack flipped his hand again and revealed a pill remedy for the second-grade intermediate pill before giving it to Kevin.

Only then did Kevin take out the ancient tome discolored in yellow out and passed it to Jack.

“Thank you, First Elder!” thanked the beaming Jack courteously.

“No need to be so polite. I’ve thought about it, and this ancient tome isn’t that important. I’ve studied it for so long and it doesn’t carry any use. I used to think that it had something to do with breaking through to the ultimate god level.” Kevin smiled bitterly.” This ancient tome doesn’t mean much to others, truly, but it’s important to people who know how to cultivate pills like us.”

Jack looked at the ancient tome and said to Kevin,” Truthfully, what I wish to learn from this ancient tome is information regarding diseases. I’d like to see if there are any pills that can help rescue a person who only has a thin breath of life left.”

Kevin had understood this ancient tome since long ago. Frowning at Jack’s confession, he then replied, “I recall such information is documented at more later pages in this ancient tome; you can read them. There's A pill and two other special items that can help save such a person.”

Jack’s eyes lit up after he heard this. “Thank you, First Elder Cabello, I’ll read that later. I wonder if there are any precious items that can make an incredibly stiff body turn somewhat softer?”

“An incredibly stiff body, you say?” Kevin’s interest grew when he heard this and he started thinking about it. “How peculiar. Don’t we martial artists like it when our bodies get sturdier and firm? It shows our capability of resisting attacks is stronger! You wish to become softer instead?”

Jack wore a bitter smile as he explained, “That’s not my intention. My eldest disciple’s body is at the brink of being honed into a puppet, and he only has a thin breath of life left. His body is lifeless and stiff like he’s a rock.”

Kevin paused the moment he heard Jack’s confession, and it was only after a while that he spoke, “I don’t think there’s a way to change such a situation on a human’s body. I remember not encountering such items to aid it in the ancient tome.”

However, he soon added, “Don’t be defeated. You can take a look at the pill and the two other precious items first. As for the precious item that you mentioned regarding changing the hardness of a person’s body, I believe we’ll come across the information in the future, even though it’s not recorded in the ancient tome. The world is a vast place, after all.”

Jack felt somewhat dispirited to hear his words. After all, the Cyro Pill was capable of freezing Fernando’s body only for a limited time, and they had 20 months left. If he failed to find the precious item to resolve the issue with Fernando’ s body, Fernando would die.

“I’ll find it; mark my words,” promised Jack, fists tightening as the fire in his eyes were ignited.

Chapter 1532 medz

Fernando’s status weighed Jack’ s heart with guilt. Jack swore he would do whatever it took to save him.

It was not just because Fernando was his disciple, nor was it because Fernando killed numerous of their country’s enemies and contributed immensely to Daxia.

Above all, the reason Fernando was in this situation was that Jack tasked him to search for information regarding the dragon scale’s whereabouts, and that led to Fernando’s downfall to his current state.

Of course, Jack’s body was completely consummated because they retrieved the dragon scale. That was why he could transform into a dragon after he broke through into the true god-level.

Jack's gaze averted to the lower half of the ancient tome and started looking through it page by page. It was only after some time that he spotted records of the three precious items Kevin mentioned

One of these items was a fourth-grade elementary pill known as the resurrection pill. The other two were the spirited fruit with the name 'psychic fruit' and the thousand-year-thrive grass. Both of these precious items were of high grading and were third-grade premium items.

Jack recorded the features of these two precious items and copied down the resurrection pill's remedy before he returned the ancient tome to Kevin.

"First Elder, the three items you mentioned must be these three. It looks to be a difficult feat to rescue my disciple. Two third-grade premium spirited grass and a fourth-grade elementary pill; do these things truly exist in this world? Only those in the ultimate god-level would dare use such things, no? My disciple is only in the demi-god level, can he use it?" Jack frowned. Although he had a place to start, he lacked the confidence.

Kevin looked at the items Jack recorded on the paper he held and nodded. "Since the ultimate god-level might truly exist, I believe these precious items exist as well. We didn't truly enter the dangerous areas- only a small group of people did. There might be some third or fourth-grade items in there, don' t you think? Apart from that, did you realize that although these precious items have high grading, they aren't spirited grass or pills for breaking through? Instead, these are precious items used to treat a human body or greatly benefit the soul and life energy. I'm sure it can be used!"

Jack's eyes lit up after he heard this. "Thank you for answering my questions, First Elder. It's true that this precious item is used to cure diseases and has nothing to do with breaking through. It contains an energy level that isn't very high and is slightly mild, even."

"Why did you return the ancient tome to me so quickly? Won't you pretend as if you can't search for the things you want, recording pill remedies of the other third-grade pills instead? There are a few fourth-grade pills here, and they're of the elementary level! They're all invaluable, yet you don't even want to read up on them?" Kevin glanced at Jack and thought highly of him. Jack, instead of writing down other things apart from those that he needed, merely took a brief look and wrote down the things he said he wanted. Such an honest person was hard to come by.

“Haha! This ancient tome belongs to you, and I’m already satisfied that you’ve allowed me to read up on ways to save my disciple,” confessed Jack as he chuckled.

Unexpectedly, Kevin threw the ancient tome back to Jack. “We’ve got time to spare during the upcoming journey, so you can have it for a few days. Just return it to me once we get to Black Windy Island. I didn’t even allow the alchemists of the Four Ancient Clans to read them when they asked, yet I feel good about you, so I’ll lend it to you for a couple of days.”

“Are you sure?” Jack’s eyes lit up when he heard this, elated at his offer. True, he hesitated to read it for a longer period, and he merely skimmed quickly to memorize some of the third-grade pill remedies.

Chapter 1533

Jack eventually dropped the plan as he felt guilty in just doing that.

However, he did not expect he would impress Kevin with his honesty that eventually made him lend the ancient tome for a couple more days.

“Haha! Yes, I’m sure about it. As the First Elder of the Cabello family, would I lie to you? Of course, I hope you’ll continue to share whatever insights you have concerning pill cultivation!” Kevin laughed heartily; it was the first time he realized being generous would bring him great happiness.

“That’s for sure, haha!” Jack chuckled with mirth as well. He started reading through the ancient tome as he maneuvered the flying sword.

“First Elder, aren’t you being unfair? I asked you to lend me the ancient tome for a short while before, and not only did you ask me to go through it in front of you, but you even set a timer for me to read it. You set an alarm for me as if afraid I’d spend an extra minute on it!

“Now you gave it to Jack and allowed him to have several days with it? Dear me… I wonder if you’re the Cabello family’s First Elder. I suspect that you’ve become the White family’s First Elder!” said Alejandro, who was beside them, between laughter and tears.

“Nonsense! I am the First Elder of the Cabello family. You won’t be able to understand a thing, even if I allowed you to read up on it. You’re wasting your time just looking at it, seeing as you don’t know how to cultivate pills. Allowing Jack to study it will truly bring out the item’s value!” Kevin rolled his eyes at Alejandro, his words rendering the latter speechless.

The group slowly walked forward, and Kevin’s claim held true after all. Although there were many sea monster beasts in the seas underneath them, they could not fly up and attack them as they had low fighting prowess.

Occasionally, a few monster beasts in the semi-god level or elementary stage of the true god

Level flew up from the seas to attack them, but as the group was large in number and had masters among them, they slew the monster beasts mere seconds after they flew up.

That went especially for William Nash, Yoseph Smith, Sam Johnson, Adam McCarthy, Riley Blackwell, and others who broke through into the elementary stage of the true god-level. To familiarize themselves with the newly obtained strength, they intentionally went to the frontlines.

At that moment, Ethan Haays, Lana Zechs, and Christopher Yates had already achieved the peak stage in the semi-god level’s fighting prowess. They were only one step away from becoming a master in the elementary stage of the true godlevel.

Nash was elated over Jack’s disciples and held great expectations toward them.

Nash knew these people were like Jack and trained the True Dragon Claw technique. Once they would break through into the true godlevel’s elementary stage, they would have the same last resort as Jack and can transform into true dragons. At that stage, their combat power would be much stronger compared to those with the same fighting prowess. Killing enemies of higher status than them would not be much of a struggle for them.

Although Yoseph, William, and the others were only in the true god-level's elementary stage, it would not be much of a struggle for them to kill someone in the intermediate stage of the true god-level.

With that, Nash was filled with sheer confidence in the White family's future development.

Chapter 1534

As the sky turned dark, everyone had used up quite a lot of Chi as they took to the skies for a long period. They then found an unoccupied island and spent the night to replenish themselves.

When Jack was free, he sat by the bonfire and read the ancient tome. He had new insights toward medicine related items with it.

He came across numerous pill remedies he had never seen before in the ancient tome and, fascinated by what he read, tried his best to memorize them.

The next morning, everybody resumed their journey.

As expected, they met more monster beasts compared to their first day, and these monster beasts had higher fighting prowess and combat power.

Needless to say, the deeper they traversed the seas, the stronger the monster beasts were.

Some of the small islands had some small forces, but these dared not come forward and enquired anything when they saw the large group of people, about two hundred to three hundred thousand people flying in the sky. They even secretly prayed that these people would not come down and cause them trouble.

Sure enough, such a huge gathering of people attracted the attention of larger forces in the seas as time passed.

“That many of them? Do they look like they’re formed by many forces?” In a huge island was a force known as the Hall of Divine Royal, one of the largest among all the forces within these tens of thousand miles of seas.

As the clans in the seas seldom mingled with families of the mainland, not many people knew about this force.

However, all the forces located in these seas were absolutely terrified of this force and dared not offend them.

The leader of the Hall of Divine Royal sat in the huge dragon-shaped stone chair and looked toward his followers standing at both sides.

One of them knelt in the middle of the hall and reported, “That’s right. Many smaller forces grew fearful as they had no idea what these people were up to in the area. Not only were they many in number, but some even stood on an ultimate-grade spiritual tool. They felt that these people have quite a high fighting prowess, and they must be visiting our seas for some important matter.”

“Ultimate-grade spiritual tool?” The eyes of the masters lined at both sides lit up when an ultimate-grade spiritual tool was brought up. Such a precious item had seized the attention of these masters in the peak or final stage of the true god-level.

“Ultimate-grade spiritual tool? Formed by many forces? They must be reclusive families from the mainland. The four ancient clans on the mainland were always so pompous and didn’t like to deal with other forces. Since you guys say that they’re made up of many forces, it’s highly likely that these are reclusive families formed into a group.”

The Hall of Divine Royal's hall master's gaze narrowed as he stood up. "These mainlanders truly don't know the immensity of heaven and earth. They dare barge into our seas with such a large number of people. I just had a thought-should we teach them a lesson?"

An old man, one well-known for his incessant flattery to the hall master, gestured with his hands and spoke, "Hall Master, these people dare barge into our seas, not honoring us at all. I think we should teach them a lesson!"

The Hall of Divine Royal's hall master thought about it and said to the old man, "What do you suggest we do?"

"Haha…! Gather the surrounding forces that rely on us, and have them join us to surround them. There are many forces in our seas and a huge number of masters to boot. I don't think we need to fear these reclusive families. We can just surround them and ask them to hand over the precious items they have with them!"

"There are so many of them, and quite a large number of masters are in their ranks. They have quite a large number of flying items and even have all sorts of weapons. Tsk, tsk! We'd earn a large profit just by robbing them!"

Chapter 1535

The old man's eyes lit up as he spoke, "We have so many masters in the true god-level here. Together with all the forces under our lead, we'll outnumber them if we act together. I believe they won't dare to fight and will hand over their valuables."

Many people nodded in agreement at the thought, thinking they could achieve a great feat this time.

The Hall of Divine Royal's hall master turned to Elder Moseley, who stood at the side and said nothing, as he asked, "Elder Moseley, why aren't you saying anything? Any thoughts on this?"

Almost all the elders nodded and agreed to the old man's point of view, yet only Elder Moseley stood there as if he did not hear anything.

"Haha! What thoughts can Elder Moseley have? I'm confident that my idea is the best, and since everyone else agrees with me, it doesn't matter what other ideas he has!" Elder Hartman laughed, eyes filled with contempt and provocation as he did. After all, he and Elder Moseley were always at odds.

Elder Moseley did not like his flattering ways and had always called him out.

It was why elders of the Hall of Divine Royal were separated into two groups. Those who loved to flatter supported Elder Hartman, who was deeply loved by the hall master. Some of them followed Elder Moseley, who was extremely strong and loyal.

"Indeed, Hall Master, I do have a different opinion." Elder Moseley smiled coldly and stood forward.

"Really? Come, speak up. After all, this is an important matter, and I'd like to listen to everybody's opinion on it." The Hall of Divine Royal's hall master obviously dared not act briefly as the other party had over 200,000 people. Although they did not know the details of their fighting prowess, most of them were able to fly. Some of them stood on flying carpets while some traveled by flying sword. Not knowing their fighting prowess levels, he dared not act rashly.

"Hall Master, I think it's best if we don't act for now." Elder Moseley smiled indifferently as if he had looked past everything.

"Don't act for now, you say?"

"Quiet! Let Elder Moseley speak his mind before we make our decision!" The Hall of Divine Royal's hall master pressed his hand and gestured for everybody to quiet down.

Elder Moseley smiled indifferently as he theorized," Based on my understanding, the members of the reclusive families aren’t so united, but they are capable of traveling together this time. The team seems to be formed by several forces, right? Why are they here in the seas? I assume they must be here to break through to the ultimate god-level!”

“Don’t act for now, you say?”

“Quiet! Let Elder Moseley speak his mind before we make our decision!” The Hall of Divine Royal’s hall master pressed his hand and gestured for everybody to quiet down.

Elder Moseley smiled indifferently as he theorized,” Based on my understanding, the members of the shadow families aren’t so united, but they are capable of traveling together this time. The team seems to be formed by several forces, right? Why are they here in the seas? I assume they must be here to break through to the ultimate god realm!”

Chapter 1536

“The ultimate god status!”

Everybody jolted when they heard those four words, clearly taken aback.

The ones there for the meeting were top-tier fighters, with their cultivation levels of at least the advanced stage of the true god status. As they frequently fought the monsters in the sea, the fighters from the sea territory had frightening martial arts skills. Their physical endurance had been forged through numerous experiences.

“Elder Moseley, you must be joking? You’re saying that they came to our territory to obtain the ultimate god status? What proof do you have?”

Elder Hartman was stunned for a moment. Then he managed to calm himself down and ask Elder Moseley.

“That’s right. Elder Moseley, don’t be fooled by them. We’ve been in the ocean for so many years and have no idea about the ultimate god status. What clues can those on land find? Don't tell me that they're more familiar with the ocean than we are?"

An Elder behind Elder Hartman stepped forward as well, flashing a frosty smile.

Yet Elder Moseley ignored the two of them. He faced the master of the Hall of Divine Royal again and raised his hands in a fist-to-palm salute. "Think about it, Master. The forces in the ocean have never been to land for so many years, and the land forces also rarely seek us out, right? Sometimes there would be visitors, but they're all smaller powers, with only a few dozen people among them. And they all came to search for spirited grass or other things."

Here, Elder Moseley paused for a while before continuing, "Now, so many of them have come to us in one go. They even managed to get the divided shadow families to form troops. What does this tell us? That means there's something that moved them! That's why I think they've definitely found some clues about the ultimate god status. That can only be the reason they're coming to us!"

The anger in the master of the Hall of Divine Royal's eyes dimmed when Elder Moseley dissected the situation.

"Master, I think Elder Moseley is correct. This must be it. Otherwise, these people would not simply enter our sea territory. After all, they've traveled far to come to the ocean here. It would have been a long and tiring journey, and there are frightening monsters along the way too. Why are they doing all this? There must be something that all of them desire to attain!"

The Elders behind Elder Moseley were also excited.

"Seems like there is the possibility!"

Even Elder Hartman could not help but rub his nose, conceding oftly.

After he said that, he asked Elder Moseley, “What should we do then, Elder Moseley?”

Elder Moseley gave a frosty smile. His eyes gleamed with hands behind his back and said softly, “It’s simple enough. At any rate, we can’t do what you suggest, which is to surround them and snatch their possessions. We need to understand the situation carefully, and only approach them once we know what to do! Then we’ll make a sudden appearance and see if we can get the treasure that will enable one to break into the ultimate god status!”

“That’s right. Now, we can’t alert the enemies before we’ve made a move! We just need to get the forces in the surrounding islands to pay close attention to these people!”

The master of the Hall of Divine Royal, Matthew Charles, nodded his head. He was excited.

His father had been a master among masters. When he was over thirty years old, he had already broken into the peak of the true god status.

Yet they still could not find a way to break into the ultimate god status. His father could only grow old, and he watched such a powerful fighter remain stuck at

He passed away from old age with no way to extend his life.

At over forty years old, he was already a master as well. He had also broken into the peak of the true god status at a young age. He did not want to wait around for death like his father. All this while, he had been assigning people to find clues about the ultimate god status.

It was a pity that it was extremely difficult for them to obtain any clues at all.

Chapter 1537

“Master, we can’t alert them before we make a move, but I think that we can’t just leave them alone either!”

No one thought that Elder Moseley would speak up again at that moment.

“What do you mean? Didn’t you say that we can’t just attack them? If that’s the case, why would you say we can’t leave them alone? What are you talking about?”

The master of the Hall of Divine Royal frowned and asked.

“We can quietly investigate and see how strong they are! Or check to see if they’re truly here for the ultimate god status!”

Elder Moseley replied, smiling.

“How are we supposed to check what their motives are? We won’ t be able to do so if we don’t take action!”

Elder Hartman waved his arm. He felt that Elder Moseley was joking around

“It is simple enough. We just need to send a small group of fighters to attack them. We’ll tell them to get out of the ocean and not think about taking our resources. It’ll be enough so long as we threaten them. If they insist on moving forward and are not afraid of offending us, this means that they’re definitely here for the ultimate god status. After all, the land has plenty of martial resources too. There’s no reason for them to risk their lives to come here!”

Elder Moseley revealed his thoughts.

“We’ll get the people from White Sands Island to test them. They brought plenty of people here-over ten thousand of them. And there are four or five me fighters at the peak of the true god status. Our forces will be enough to test them!”

The master of the Hall of Divine Royal gave the order after thinking about it.

“All right. We’ll pass your orders along!”

Elder Moseley did a fist-topalm salute. The crowd quickly dissipated.

At that moment, Jack and the others were drawing closer and closer to Black Windy Island. When the sky darkened, everyone searched for an uninhabited island and stayed there temporarily to replenish their Chi, just like before.

Meanwhile, Jack was deeply engrossed in the ancient tome. He was completely focused and tried his best to remember all the alchemical methods and the ingredients to create pills.

“First Young Mistress Cabello, isn’t Jack your boyfriend? Why aren’t you going over to talk to him? I noticed that the two of you barely exchanged a word throughout the journey!”

A young master from a second-class family came before Helena, Daniella, and the others and asked, grinning.

“He’s focused on reading the ancient tome. I won’t disturb him!”

Helena smiled, but she heaved an internal sigh. After all, such a wonderful man was not her boyfriend. She felt like she had missed an opportunity.

She looked at Daniella beside her. Admiration sprang in her heart again.

“That’s true. That ancient tome is pretty famous, and it’s very precious. It’s a blessing to just be able to lay your eyes on it!”

The young man smiled and added, “First Young Mistress Cabello, you and Young Master White are truly a match made in heaven. We’re all waiting for the day of your wedding!”

Chapter 1538

Helena’s cheeks reddened when she heard this. She glared at him. “Don’t talk nonsense. Nothing’s happening yet. I haven‘t known him for too long anyway!”

Helena then looked at Jack again. “Actually, he’s not as perfect as you think he is!” she said.

“My goodness. First Young Mistress Cabello, such a man is not perfect enough? His cultivation level is so high, and he’s young and handsome. Even the masters of the Four Ancient Clans are no match for him. Besides, he knows alchemy. Even I think such a man is perfect. And you think he’s not?”

The man’s expression was full of disbelief after he heard that.” The women in our family have all become his fans, and they all dream of getting married to him. And you think he’s not good enough?”

Helena was furious. She shot him a vicious glare and spoke angrily, “How can one person speak so much nonsense? Why does it matter to you if he’s perfect or not? Leave!”

The man did not know why Helena would get so riled up. He could not help but murmur an apology and quickly return to his family.

Daniella looked at her sister from the side, biting her lip as she sank deep into her thoughts. It was true that Jack was fantastic, from her sister’s furious behavior, she probably had some feelings for him too.

The next morning, everyone moved out again. Yet at noon, a group of people appeared before them, blocking their way.

“It seems like we’ve attracted the attention of some forces here!”

Shelby looked at the people in front of them and could not help but grin. “They didn’t even bring thirty thousand people. And they wish to fight twenty thousand of us? Are they naïve or stupid?”

“Who knows!”

Jack smiled, unable to bother himself with them. He resumed reading his book. “I’ll just keep reading. These people will be a piece of cake!”

Those people flew a little closer before stopping. One of them, an old man, looked at the crowd before him for a while before stepping forward. “If our eyes have not deceived us, travelers,” he said, “you do not belong to the forces of the ocean. You’re from the mainland, am I correct?”

Alejandro stepped forward and raised his hands in a fist-topalm salute. “Indeed. We have come from the mainland,” he said. “We have something to do in the ocean. I hope we have not caused any disturbance among you.”

“Heh. You’re probably here to find treasure. You rarely come here on a normal basis, so we’ve never been bothered about you. We didn’t interfere even when fights broke out.

“But this time, you’ve brought so many people with you. Aren’t you going overboard? Don’t look down on us from the ocean-big and small forces alike!”

The old man chuckled and waved his hand at the crowd. “If you know what’s best for you, I think you should just turn back. I‘m here to advise you. Otherwise, it’ll be terrible if we were to attack you!”

“Attack us? We’re not some motley crowd here.” Alejandro replied, chuckling.

"Might as well try it then?"

The old man's eyes narrowed slightly, his palms surged with aura, and with a wave of his hand, a terrifying flying sword made up of aura actually appeared.

This flying sword was incomparably huge, it was actually more than ten feet long, and after it appeared, it lifted upwards, quickly flew over and then chopped downwards.

"Hmph!"

As soon as he saw this attack, Alejandro sensed that this old man was not that simple, and that this fellow judging from his appearance, must be a strong person at the peak of the True God realm. Moreover, this attack of his had such ferocity, it seems that he did not have any intentions of staying his hand.

He likewise clenched his fist and blasted out, and instantly, an incomparably huge fist of aura appeared, and the fist charged straight towards that flying sword with a terrifying wind-breaking momentum.

"Boom!"

A huge roar rang out between the two, a terrifying impact that sent a wave of fluctuations scattering in all directions, so much so that many people were blown over by a terrifying wind, and even those with low cultivation levels were so frightened that they took two steps back.

A ripple appeared on the sea below, showing how terrifying the strike of two peak True God realm powerhouses was!

"Bang!"

That old man on the opposite side, although also very formidable, was ultimately not a match for Alejandro, and was directly blown back quite a bit, his entire face instantly turning somewhat ugly.

"Sorry but this time we do have an important matter, so we have to continue on. I hope that senior can make our journey easy!"

Alejandro looked at the other party, and with a wave of his palm, he took out several second grade intermediate grade spirit herbs and floated them in front of the other party.

"Fine, since you guys insist on doing so, then you can continue on, I'm just reminding you guys that the forces inside our sea are not that weak, some of the islands have a lot of strong people on them!"

The old man narrowed his eyes and after thinking about it, he put his things away, before he waved his hand and signalled for everyone to make way, allowing Jack and the others to leave.

Once Jack and the others had left, there was a middle-aged man, who then turned to the old man and said, "Family head, do we just let the other side go? Didn't the top tell us to properly test the other party?"

"Nonsense, do you really want to fight the other side? There are so many people, even the people from the Divine King Hall wouldn’t dare to make a rash move, letting us test the waters first, do you really think we can beat them?"

The old man gave the middle-aged man a good-natured look before saying, "Besides, I've already tried it out, that man was very strong, and there was a young man who sat on top of that flying sword and read a book without even looking at us. It means that the other side has no fear of us, it means that the other side is confident that the others can easily take care of our group, we are only 20,000 to 30,000, how can we fight with hundreds of thousands of people from the other side?"

"What the family head said is true, if we really fight and anger the other side and kill us all, that's not even possible!"

Another middle-aged woman also stood out, "Although, we are a force under the God King Hall, but in such a case, it will be fine. Earlier on when I looked carefully, the other party had some families and quite a lot of people. Such families must be big families, so they most certainly will have a lot of people in the peak stage of the True God Realm. With their families' strongest people combined, we are definitely no match for them!"

The old man looked at the middle-aged woman and nodded in satisfaction before he said to the middle-aged man, "You must learn from now on to look at the situation more, to let us test it out, and not let us have to fight with each other, if we really fight, we are no match for these people! Let's go, go and tell the top that we have fought with the other side, and that they're very powerful, afterall, they don't listen to advice at all!"

Chapter 1539

"Then why don't we try it out?"

The old man's eyes narrowed slightly, and he activated his Chi, pooling it in his palm. With a wave of his hand, a frightening sword made of Chi appeared.

The flying sword was enormous, nearly over twenty feet in size. After it appeared, it lifted upward and zipped over, then it slashed down.

“Hmph!”

Alejandro sensed that this old man would not be an easy opponent after seeing his attack. From the looks of it, the man must be a fighter at the peak of the true god status. Furthermore, his first attack had been so ferocious. It was as though he had no intention of holding back

He also clenched his fist and punched it outward. Suddenly, a giant fist made out of Chi appeared. The fist had a frightening aura, and it flew toward the flying sword.

Bang!

A huge bang rang out in the space between the two. The terrible clash caused waves of energy to ripple in all directions. A frightening wind rushed over many people, and those who were of lower cultivation levels were so scared that they took two steps backward.

Ripples appeared in the water of the ocean beneath them. One could tell that the two fighters at the peak of the true god status had such frightening attacks!

Bang!

The old man across him was strong, but he still was no match for Alejandro. He was pushed backward, and his face turned pale.

“I’m sorry, but we truly have something urgent to attend to here. That’s why we must move forward. I hope that you can let us pass through!”

Alejandro looked at the opposing side. He waved his palm and took out a few stalks of second-grade intermediate spirited grass, making it float toward them.

“Fine. Since you’re adamant about it, you may continue to press forward. We’re just warning you that the forces in the ocean are not weak. There are plenty of fighters on the islands too!”

The old man closed his eyes and took the items after giving it some thought. Then he waved his hand, signaling for everyone to clear a path, allowing Jack and the others to pass through.

After they had left, a middle-aged man spoke to the old man, “Master, are-are we letting them go just like that? Didn’t our superiors tell us to investigate the situation properly?”

“Stop talking nonsense. Do you seriously want to fight them? Not even the Hall of Divine Royal dares to attack them rashly, and instead, they told us to test them. Did you really think that we can beat them?”

The old man looked at the middle-aged man impatiently.” Besides, we’ve already tested them. The man from just now was very strong, and there was a young man who was reading a book on the flying sword,” he said. “He did not so much as spare us a glance from start to finish. What does this mean? It means that he’s not afraid of us in the slightest. It means that he’s confident in the others-he’s confident that they’ll be able to defeat us easily. We only have thirty thousand people. How are we supposed to beat them?”

“You’re right, Master. If we had truly fought and angered them, they might just kill all of us!”

Another middle-aged woman also stood up. “Although we’re a force serving the Hall of Divine Royal, we’ve done enough to test them. I’ve observed them closely just now. Some of the families among their numbers have many people. They’re definitely the bigger families, so they’ll have quite a few fighters at the peak of the true god status. Coupled with the fighters from the bigger families, we’re no match for them here!”

The old man looked at the middle-aged woman and nodded his head in satisfaction. He spoke to the middle-aged man, “You’d better learn and observe the situation carefully next time. They did not say that we needed to fight them by sending us to test them. If we truly fought, we would have been no match for them! Let’s go. We’ll report to our superiors that we’ve tested them and that they’re very strong. Furthermore, they didn’t even listen to our advice!”

Chapter 1540

“There are many fighters? And they’re still moving forward?”

That night, the master of the Hall of Divine Royal called the other Elders to gather. He told everyone about the report he had received.

After he told them the report, he said, “Judging from their line, of course, they’re heading for Black Windy Island!”

“No way. They’re really going to Black Windy Island? There are plenty of forces there. They’re no match for us either, but if those people are heading straight to Black Windy Island to look for something, heh, those forces will probably attack them!”

Elder Hartman chuckled and said.

“That’s a danger zone and that many people are heading into a danger zone? Black Windy Island is extremely dangerous, we can’t even enter easily. Why are they going there? Unless it so happens that they are able to find the clue to break into the ultimate god status there.”

Elder Mosely frowned and began to consider the matter seriously.

“What are we afraid of? The Hall of Divine Royal is so powerful. Conversely, those families are just a motley crew who only banded together recently. A group like that can be easily broken up. Once they enter, they might try to kill each other for some kind of treasure! Heh, Won’t it be easy for us to get what we want then?”

Elder Hartman had a nonchalant expression.

“I hope what you said is true. If that group of people is still united after entering Black Windy Island, then they’ll be extremely strong for us to attack. With such powerful forces and so many people, they’ll definitely be able to venture deep into Black Windy Island!”

Elder Moseley frowned in worry.

“Never mind. We’ll inform the people on the other islands about this tomorrow morning. The people on the few dozen islands around here must prepare themselves adequately. We’ll gather and head for Black Windy Island! This time, if there is truly a treasure that enables one to break into the ultimate god status, we must get it at all costs!”

The master of the Hall of Divine Royal could not wait to head out. He clapped his hands and decided on the matter promptly.

The next morning, the forces inhabiting the few dozen surrounding islands that submitted to the Hall of Divine Royal all gathered together. They quickly went toward Black Windy Island

Another day went by. Black Windy Island finally appeared before Jack and the others.

“Is that Black Windy Island? What a strange place!”

The eyes of Jack and the others brightened as they watched the island.

Last night, Jack had finished reading the contents of the ancient tome, and he memorized everything. Only then did he pass it back to Kevin Cabello.

“It’s truly a strange island!”

Daniella stood beside Jack and could not help but be surprised.

The island before them was far larger than the islands that they had seen before. More importantly, a dark, swirling vortex of dark clouds hung over the island at a low altitude. It gave off an ominous atmosphere.

“Jack, there are many forces on the island. We’ll probably run into a few obstacles if we are headed straight there, right?”

Master Ximenes asked Jack after thinking about it, “See now, why don’t we head for this island here first and let everyone replenish their Chi? Once it’s dark at night, we’ll sneak onto the island and enter the forest there.”

Chapter 1541

It was evident that Jack had become the strongest fighter there. Even the master of a first-class family like the Ximenes family had to first seek out Jack’s opinions and speak in a deferential tone.

Jack nodded his head. “I was also thinking about how we should enter the island! Then we’ll enter at night! For now, let’s rest at the island over there. There are plenty of trees for us to hide temporarily!”

Soon, everyone flew over and temporarily hid on the small island.

At night, everyone moved out for Black Wind Forest.

“It’s time, let’s go and be careful everyone. The deeper we go into this forest, the more monsters we’ll encounter. Furthermore, there are plenty of monsters in the True God Realm!”

Kevin looked ahead and saw that there was nothing but trees before him, and his eyes turned solemn.

Fortunately, there were many fighters. It seemed safer to enter the forest that way. If everyone had acted on their own and decided to fight among themselves without proper strategies, the last person walking out was lucky enough if they could emerge with half their body intact, what with the number of ferocious beasts inside.

“Roar!”

In the distance, a frightening roar of a monster rang out. The noises made some people subconsciously uncomfortable.

“For those of higher cultivation levels, try to stay on the perimeter of our group-lead the front and flank the sides. The ones who are at the demi-god status should walk in the middle. Also, this forest is massive. Don’t walk too close to each other, everyone. If we scatter ourselves a little, our search radius will be widened!”

Jack thought for a while before coming up with another suggestion not long after they entered the forest. When everyone heard that, they all thought that it was a good idea. They followed Jack’s instructions without hesitation and forged forward.

Yet what Jack and the others did not expect was that after almost two hours since they first entered the forest, the Hall of Divine Royal people and the aboriginal families had also entered the perimeter on Black Wind Island. There were over thirty thousand of them in total.

“Let’s go. This is our chance to find the secret to break into the ultimate god status!”

The master of the Hall of Divine Royal looked forward and waved his hand. He led everyone to fly in.

“Roar!”

In front of them, multiple roars rang out. Hundreds of giant Storm Wolves appeared before Jack and the others.

“These monsters have high cultivation levels. It seems like many of them are at the intermediate stage of the demi-god realm!”

Nash gave a bitter smile as he watched the monsters before them. “We’ve just entered, and we’ve already encountered so many monsters already. It’s truly dangerous here. Monsters like these are hard to find in the treasure spots on the mainland!”

“Young Master Jack, leave them to us. It just so happens that these monsters will be a good exercise for us!”

Adam, Riley, and the others were all excited. They were looking at the blood-sucking monsters as though they were a flock of sheep.

“You must be exaggerating. You all are already at the beginning stage of the true god status, Adam. These monsters are perfect for us!”

Lana’s face darkened, speaking unhappily.

“All of you, attack together and get rid of these monsters as soon as possible. We need to go in as fast as we can. It’ll be even better if we can avoid alerting the forces on this island and other islands. The aboriginals on this island are not very strong, but they have plenty of fighters in the True God Realm too!”

Nash told them straight away. “It’ll be harder for them to find us if we venture deeper. After all, they won’t come this far into the forest if they have nothing to do.”

Chapter 1542

Yet Jack shook his head. “I think we’ve been discovered long ago,” he said, smiling bitterly. “Otherwise that group of people would not have shown up yesterday! Besides, they only fought with Master Cabello for a short while before letting us pass through. Isn’t that strange!”

“I don’t think it’s something we should be concerned about. They must have seen the number of people we have but attempted to fight Master Cabello. Naturally, they were frightened by how strong Master Cabello was, and so they left!”

Three old men from third-class families spoke up after thinking about it.

Yet Jack flashed another bitter smile. “We have so many people. They should have spotted us from afar. It’s illogical for them to not have any good fighters among the many people they have. Since they knew of our circumstances and came over to test us, they definitely have some hidden motive!”

“So you’re saying that we’re already being watched. But if they let us go so easily, it seems that they want to know where we’re going. If this is the case, they’re probably following us now!”

Nash thought about it and added, “But this is something we didn’t predict. This is probably why the Hunt family members chose to go to Bright Snow Mountain.”

“Let’s go. At any rate, we all must be careful!”

While everyone was speaking, Ethan and the others had already killed the wolves before them. They all moved forward again, going deeper into the forest.

The forest was extremely dangerous. By the time the sun rose, Jack and the others had already encountered many monsters.

However, since they had many people among their ranks, some of the smarter monsters chose to run away after spotting them.

Still, some monsters were extremely vicious. They rushed forward when they spotted humans, being dumb beasts. Some of the monsters had even formed packs of hundreds. They were truly fearsome.

Since the outer ring was formed by those who had higher cultivation levels and those of the demi-god status were protected by everyone in the middle, only two or three men had suffered minor injuries once night fell. There were no casualties for now.

At that moment, the people of the Hall of Divine Royal were also bringing a huge group of people, marching forward relentlessly into the forest trying to find the tracks that Jack and the others left behind.

“These people didn’t even rest at night. They’re moving in fast!”

Looking at the field of monster corpses before him, Elder Moseley was taken aback.” These people are smart. They’ve already encountered so many beasts along the way, but we haven’t found a single human corpse. They’re undoubtedly strong, and they seem united! If they don’t get scattered, it’ll be hard for us to take them down even if we run into them!”

Elder Hartman was unhappy when he heard this. “Elder Moseley, why are you giving them so much credit and looking down on your own men?” he said, expression glum. “We have far more people. Even if they have a few more fighters than us, we have nothing to be afraid of, right? Besides, they helped us kill so many monsters along the way. Let’s not follow behind them too closely. We’ll wait till they’ve lost a good number of men before catching up to them. This way, we’ll be able to attack them while they’re weak. They'll be easy pickings!”

Another Elder immediately smiled and said, “Terrific. Elder Hartman’s plan is terrific. If we go a little later and wait for them to clean up the powerful monsters before us, we won’t encounter that many beasts along our way. Haha. This way, we’ll definitely win!”

They did not think that Elder Moseley would flash a cold smile instead. “Are you sure you want to go in later? If they go in fast, and we’re too slow, they’ll be able to obtain the treasure that enables them to break into the ultimate god status,” he said. “If they have a master who can make the breakthrough, what should we do? Don’t tell me you think you can handle an ultimate god status’s fighting power?”

Chapter 1543

Elder Hartman’s face fell upon hearing Elder Moseley’s words. Nevertheless, he was stubborn enough, refusing to admit his defeat. “Breakthrough to the ultimate god level? Do you think it’s that easy? It took me two to three years to break through to the peak stage of True God Realm, what’s more, I failed several times in between. Besides, within our territory, a lot of people indeed broke through to the peak stage, but it’ s almost impossible for one to break through to the peak stage of True God Realm in one go, am I right? Not to mention that the ultimate god realm is colossal.”

“No matter what, we can’t afford to take the risk, we should advance faster. What if the thing that could help us to break through to the ultimate god level is actually some spiritual fruit, and only a few of them exist? They might take and consume everything without leaving some to us! In that case, we won’t stand a chance to get to the ultimate god realm at all!”

The Master of the Hall of Divine Royal pondered on the matter, then again he turned to an old man, “How about this, Elder Lock, you take a few men with the strength of the late stage of True God Realm and scout around for the situation. If there is something strange, return and inform us immediately! You must not delay any second and move fast! We have too many people with us, and the risk of us being discovered by the other party is high. So, it’d be better for you to go in smaller numbers and scout around for us!”

“Roger that, Hall Master!”

Elder Lock arched his hand and bowed to his hall master. He then went and got four to five men with the strength of the late stage of True God Realm to go ahead of the group to explore the situation.

“I remember that the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings told us before that the strange stone ball is located on top of a powerful tree, and in that tree is inside a very deep place in the dangerous land! The master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings is generous enough to help us by providing this information. With this piece of information, we can save a lot of time and avoid unnecessary troubles!”

Jack said as he flew with his men.

The sky above the island had always been covered with dark clouds even during the daytime. And because of the dark clouds, the sunlight was dim, and the place did not look any different from the night

Furthermore, the monster beasts had seemed to be completely adapted to the poor-light situation. their visions were good even with minimum lights. Therefore, Jack and his men did not dare to fly at full speed even though they were all strong fighters. They could only carefully travel through the sky.

Roar!

A terrifying sound shot through the sky. Jack and the others looked toward the direction of the sound and realised that there were pairs of eyes staring at them from the front.

“Guys, look! My goodness! If we don’t look carefully, we can’t even see that they are right in front of us! Black feathered monster beasts and they look like they belong to the family Accipitridae-eagles!”

One man spotted the black feathered beasts in front of them; he could not help but gulped and ceased flying immediately.

This time it seemed like there were many monster beasts like this appearing in their journey to the middle of Black Windy Island.

“Judging from the situation, I think there are thousands of them, right? Dammit! This kind of eagle-type of the monster beast is very annoying, they are extremely fast, even worse, they are black feathered! It makes it hard to see and track them, especially when the dark clouds above us are like camouflage for them. Not only that, they are also powerful beasts!"

An old man who possessed the strength of the early stage of True God Realm-said in a gloomy tone after seeing the beasts in front of him.

"I think they have more than a few thousand; looking at the situation, I'm afraid that there are more than ten thousand, and many more of them hiding in the dark clouds, which is even more difficult for us to locate them!"

Jack looked at the dark sky and his expression turned solemn. He heard that the Black Windy Island was the most hazardous and most dangerous place of all Seven Dangers. Now it made sense that the Pavilion of Gods and Kings went to the other three dangerous places but not this island and the same went to the other ancient clans-they refused to explore this island. The dark clouds here were already a huge problem for the explorers, not to mention the beasts here.

Chapter 1544

"Ten thousand of them? Crazy! If they fly into the dark clouds, descend toward us at full speed and attack us, it'd be hard for us to deal with!"

Nash, who stood beside Jack, fully trusted Jack's analysis. After all, Jack was a second grade intermediate alchemist, his ability to focus and his patience were much stronger than any one of them. So, Jack naturally could sense the situation, the number of beasts, and the fluctuation of Chi energy in the cloud more accurately than all of them.

"Everyone, please be careful. The flying beasts are hovering orderly in the dark clouds above us; obviously, they prepare to attack us. We have many strong fighters, but we can't be careless at all! We must strive to reduce our losses."

Jack stared at the sky above him and said to the crowd.

Roar!

Another sound of roars descended from above; waves of black figures charged toward Jack and the group like black rain pouring heavily onto the ground.

“Stay focused! Here they come!”

Once Jack noticed the beasts initiated the attack, he waved his hand, and a huge palm-shaped Chi attack flew toward the sky at once!

“Kill them all!”

The other people immediately controlled the Chi energy in their bodies and cast out a few blasts against the flying beasts who were bolting down toward them.

Swoosh Swoosh Swoosh!

Those black eagle beasts were extremely fast, with the advantage of their speed and agility, several of them managed to dodge Jack and his men’s attack and directly rushed into the crowd. The beasts used their sharp claws and grabbed a few people.

Bang!

A man of the level of the early stage of the demi-god realm could not dodge the claw attack. His head was grabbed and crushed by the sharp claws, bursting into minced meat. He died instantly on the spot.

Boom Bang Boom!

However, many black eagles were hit by everyone's attacks as well, and they were blown away, falling down onto the ground, lifeless.

Swoosh Swoosh Swoosh!

Those black eagles, who were in the dark clouds, bolted down toward Jack and the crowd as well. Some of the black eagles flapped their colossal wings and in an instant, Chi attacks in the form of wind blades were shot out of their colossal wings, flying toward Jack and the group.

"These beasts can actually perform martial technique?"

One of the elders gasped at the situation before his eyes. He could not help but his face immediately turned unsightly.

Alejandro, who stood aside, explained patiently, "Some monster beasts are more spiritually intelligent, and their bloodlines are more noble and precious. This bloodline allows them to inherit martial techniques. Now, look at the two black eagles over there. They're obviously at the middle stage of True God Realm, and have probably killed more than a dozen elite fighters!"

Gruesome and terrifying roars pierced through the sky incessantly when the black-feathered beasts were killed. Only a few of the higher combat prowess managed to survive. They soon flew away into the distance when they noticed that the odds were not in their favor.

"We lost more than thirty men in this battle and hundreds of us are injured!"

Kenneth reported to Jack and others after looking at the overall situation.

Chapter 1545

“Hmmm… the number of casualties is actually bearable, after all, we have two hundred thousand of us. But we don’t know how far are we from the deepest part of the forest, and how many fierce monster beasts are there. We don’t know any of that, so we can’t afford to be careless; we must stay alert all the time!”

Jack bobbed his head. The men that they lost were all of the demi-god levels. Those with higher martial levels were able to cope with the previous battle easily.

But it was also because they were able to spot the beasts early and be prepared. If they did not notice the presence of those black eagles earlier, they would have suffered greater loss! If they only figured it out after the black eagles launched an attack, the number of casualties would be more.

“Thanks to our plan; we joined all our forces and that’s why we were powerful enough to fend off the eagles!”

The head of a third-class family expressed his thoughts in a tone full of emotions. “If we act and explore the place separately, especially for a family like us, a third-class family, we will suffer a great loss in the black eagle’s situation, even worse, completely annihilated by those eagles.”

Many third-class families bobbed their heads in agreement. Some third-class families could only fork out around ten thousand men for this risky expedition, and these ten thousand men were considered top-notch fighters in their families. If they were to encounter ten thousand black eagles alone, the outcome would truly be abysmal. The situation would be even worse if they did not notice the black eagles in advance, and more than half of them would die.

“He’s right about this! I’m so grateful for the agreement and plan proposed by Young Master Jack. We’re indeed much safer if we join forces and explore the place together!”

Even some people from the second-class families nodded along. The hazardous situation inside this Black Windy Island had somewhat exceeded their expectations.

The crowd continued to fly forward, and after less than an hour, several men came into their sight.

“Some of the corpses here are still warm to touch. Looks like we’re getting closer to them. They’re not far ahead of us!”

Elder Lock from the Hall of Divine Royal touched the bodies on the ground and studied the corpses of the flying monster beasts all over the ground. “This group of people, they’re strong and united! Even if the combat level of these flying beasts were not high, there were more than ten thousand beasts here, moreover, they were flying beasts! This is even harder to deal with! But these beasts actually only managed to kill a few dozen of them.”

“Indeed, they’re strong. If our men truly need to fight against them, I’m afraid that the casualties will be great even if we manage to grab the treasure!”

Another middle-aged man chimed in and agreed with a gloomy face.

“Hmmm…the Divine Royal Hall and the islands under it are united. That’s why, all along, none of the forces and families within the circle of ten thousand miles of our maritime territory dare to fight against us.”

Elder Lock nodded in consent. “But, I didn’t expect that this time, this group of people who are obviously from twenty or more different families, are so united! They joined forces and entered the sea area. If this continues like that, it would cause a huge problem!” He then added.

“Heh! They’re united? I think their unity is only temporary! After they discover the treasure that can help them to break through to the ultimate god realm, the unity among them will shatter in an instant! They will definitely start to loot from each other!”

Another wise old man said in an indifferent tone and his face was icy-cold. “Let’s leave a note here for the hall master so that when they arrive here, they’ll know that the other group of people is not far ahead from us. As long as we speed up for a little while, we’ll be able to catch up with them in the afternoon. After that, we only have to tail behind them silently.”

Jack and the others continued to move forward ceaselessly. Since they had not stopped and rested for some time, that very night they simply found a hill and rested. Hundreds of people took turns to patrol, while the remaining sat down to take a rest and to restore the Chi energy in their bodies.

The next morning came. At this time, the people of the Hall of Divine Royal were only a few miles away from Jack and the group, and they were just trailing behind the group closely

Boom!

A cacophony of the deafening fighting sound traveled through the air once again. Jack and the group encountered a group of powerful monster beasts; the battling sound was incessant.

“Haha, it looks like they encountered another group of monster beasts again! And this time, it will make them lose some people again!”

Elder Hartman flew onto the top of the tree and looked from far away at Jack and the group. He then hopped onto the ground after observing the situation and said with his face full of excitement.

“Since we are trailing behind them, they will kill the monster beasts making it easier for us! Even if we were to run into some monster beasts, it would only be those single beasts or weak beasts that won’t cause any harm to us at all!”

The Master of the Hall of Divine Royal sneered sinisterly.” Hahaha! They are destined to be our cat’s paw!”

Chapter 1546

“It’s so hard to fight against these monster beasts! The most difficult beasts to deal with were the ones with the strength of True God Realm! We’ve lost more than two hundred people in this battle!”

Kenneth’s pallor had taken on a deathly shade as he looked at the corpses on the ground. Although only two to three people of the White family died in this battle, nobody wanted to see any of their family members die here.

Not to mention that they were already in this forest for the past several days! They flew above the trees to see and estimate the journey ahead of them, but all they saw was an ample patch of the forest ahead of them. They did not know how wide and huge this forest was and how far away they were from the deepest end of the forest.

“The situation is considered good. The number of this group of monster beasts is not much, but their combat level is so much higher. For us to be able to have such an outcome, it’s considered good. And the road ahead of us will be much more dangerous and difficult!”

Jack gave a bitter smile as he spoke. He led the people to continue to advance into the forest.

However, they obtained quite a lot of second-grade spirited grass along the way. When any of them spotted a spirited grass, they would pick it and hand it over to Jack, and Jack would keep those materials inside a martial ring. Then by the time when they got out of this forest, Jack would distribute the materials to each family according to the agreed ratio.

Another two days had passed. Jack and the group had suffered casualties of more than four thousand men. The frequency of them encountering monster beasts of demi-god and true god levels increased tremendously as they moved forward.

Furthermore, some of these monster beasts were moving in hordes. It was difficult for Jack and the team to deal with.

“With a place like this, I think the natives who are living on the island will not venture this deep in the forest to seek for treasure. And the two-headed hurricane leopard from just now was really terrifying! It was at the peak of True God Realm! Luckily, Young Master Jack stepped up and fought it, and used only one punch to end its life. If we were the one facing it, I don’t think we would be alive!”

An elder from the Cabello family praised Jack highly, staring at him with awe, admiration, and excitement in his eyes.

The monster beast’s body was stronger and sturdier than human martial artists. Generally, when human martial artists encounter monster beasts of the same level, they would try to attack the beasts from a distance. This was because, in a melee battle with a beast of equal level, human martial artists would not stand a chance to survive.

However, in the previous battle, not only Jack did not distance himself from the beast, but he charged toward the beast and killed it with a one punch. That kind of combat prowess and strength surprised the others, especially Alejandro, at the same time, made them be in awe of Jack even more.

They, as the elite fighters of the peak of True God Realm among the older generation, were not even on par with Jack, who had just broken into the peak of True God Realm. This made them speechless.

Some young girls of the younger generation, who were confident in their looks, would deliberately approach Jack, strode around Jack, and have small talks with each other, obviously wanting to attract Jack’s attention.

Some of them were even bolder! They took the initiative to go forward, and then used the excuse of desiring to learn medical skills from Jack to strike up a conversation with him.

This situation made both Lana and Daniella exasperated. How could they be happy seeing beautiful girls going over to chat with Jack?

“These guys, they’re really powerful! What kind of place is this? They’ve reached this far into this forest, but look, only a few thousands died! It looks like they're really united!"

The family head of one of the prominent families on this Black Windy Island studied the corpses on the ground and said with his brows puckered together. "Furthermore, they're truly strong! We were merely tailing them and have encountered some remaining monster beasts from time to time. But look, we've lost almost three hundred men! For f*ck sake, they're in front of us and have already killed most of the monster beasts for us, but still, they only lost a few thousand people!

"You're right! It looks like they have more than three or four thousand elite fighters of the peak of True God Realm. Perhaps they have seven or even eight thousand of them!"

The master of Divine Royal Hall chimed in with grave expression. "It seems like their group is made up of several first -class families on the continent. Otherwise, how can there be so many powerful fighters?"

"I agree!"

Chapter 1547

The man from before nodded his head and then expressed, "So the fighters they lost are mostly of demi -god level, and they only lost two or at most three fighters of true god level. That's why their overall combat power is not reduced by much!"

"Heh, we don't have to worry too much. Although we don't have many fighters of true god level, our total number of men is definitely more than them. Not to mention, Black Windy Island is not an ordinary place. We, the Hall of Divine Royal, did not want to risk venturing into Black Windy Island before. My father has said before, there are powerful beasts inside this forest, and their combat prowess is at another level; they are not beasts that fighters of true god-level can easily deal with.

The Master of the Hall of Divine laughed as he spoke. "We'll just continue like this, tailing carefully behind them. We'll know soon once they start to fight each other for treasure, and those treasures are likely materials and tools to break through to the ultimate god level. At that time, Elder Lock will inform us of the situation immediately!"

Another three days passed by quickly. During these three days, Jack and his alliances had suffered greater losses compared to a few days ago. They encountered more and more monster beasts, and the combat prowess of these monster beasts were getting stronger and stronger. The series of battles and fights have cost the group the lives of more than ten thousand men. Adding up to the previous death, it made up to a total of twenty thousand casualties.

On the other hand, the Hall of Divine Royal lost many lives as well, although the number of casualties were not as high as Jack and the group, they suffered a total of four to five thousand casualties too.

As the number of casualties kept on increasing, those people from second and third-class families felt even more grateful that they agreed to explore the place together with several first-class prominent families. They now truly felt that the plan and arrangement that Jack had proposed and made was perfect! What a wise choice they have made!

If they had chosen to enter the forest alone and fight these beasts, they would have lost a lot of fighters, not to mention they might even need to fight against Jack and the other first-class families for the treasure when they find it. Some weaker families might not even reach up to this point, they most likely would retreat halfway.

“My goodness! Another horde of monster beasts in front!”

Just as the crowd defeated a group of monster beasts, they found that there were thousands of colossal ferocious tigers charging toward them from the front.

“These tigers look like their spiritual strength and power are not low at all. And they’re intelligent! They sensed that we intruded into this forest, so they actually gathered together and then ambushed us!”

Kevin peeked to the front and his face turned unsightly. Everyone had been fighting incessantly for quite a while now. Just when they wanted to take a break, another horde of monster beasts appeared before them again.

“We’re like intruders to them. They see us as intruders who came in to steal their martial resources away. Of course, they want us dead!”

A bitter smile plastered on Nash’s face as he spoke.

“They’re here! Everyone, stay focused!”

With his palm flipped, the topnotch sword appeared in Jack’s grip. He injected Chi energy into it and the sword immediately emitted a deafening sound, and then a sword attack was blasted out toward the tigers.

Swoosh!

A frightening combination of sword aura and Chi energy flew out toward the tigers, and in a blink of an eye, several colossal ferocious tigers plopped onto the ground, lying lifelessly.

“Kill!”

The others, too, immediately joined in the battle, putting their martial skills into play and attacking the ferocious tigers.

“Hahaha! Did they encounter another horde of monster beasts again? That’s amazing!”

Not far away from Jack and the group, the people of the Hall of Divine Royal commented on the situation, each of them laughed sarcastically and sinister smiles were hanging on their faces.

Chapter 1548

"Rumble!"

A loud roar rang out, the battle ahead was exceptionally fierce. By the time the battle was over, there were actually more than a thousand people dead and several thousand who were injured quite badly in Jack's group this time.

"The losses this time are huge, because the battle had just ended earlier, and everyone has not had time to rest, and those who were injured have not had time to recover from their injuries. Then, they met another group of extremely powerful beasts, and suffered huge losses!"

Some people looked at those corpses on the ground and couldn't help but lament that if they had time to rest, they would obviously be a lot better off.

"Everyone, let's go, hurry up and leave here. That group of demonic beasts were perhaps lured here by the sound of the fight plus the smell of blood from our side earlier. Let's leave here quickly, find a place to rest before talking, while those who are injured hurry up and take healing medicine to recover from their injuries as soon as possible, otherwise, if we meet several waves of such attacks consecutively, then the number of people we lose might increase greatly!"

After thinking about it, Jack said to the crowd.

The middle-aged man soon left, and sure enough, not long after Jack and the others left, another group of demonic beasts arrived and began to gnaw on the corpses here.

Jack and the others found a hilltop and rested for a while before continuing on their way.

Another two days had passed, and Jack and the others had lost more than 10,000 people again, and the price they had to pay was getting bigger and bigger.

"Young Master Jack, look, look ahead!"

Just then, at the bottom of a cliff, a huge ancient tree drew the attention of the crowd.

This ancient tree, which was more than several times taller than the ones they had met before, could be seen from afar, with extremely dense branches and leaves, while in the middle of the ancient tree, there was a golden oval-shaped stone, which looked like a huge egg and had mysterious patterns on it.

"It's that stone, it's fantastic!"

The crowd took a look and their faces were all filled with excitement. In the past few days, everyone didn't dare to relax, their nerves were all tense, all for this huge stone, and now that they saw it, everyones' eyes were red.

"Phew!"

Everyone froze for just that second before many strong people rushed straight out.

"Don't rush!"

Jack quickly thought of something and immediately shouted.

"It's strange not to be in a hurry! Our family has had so many members die, and it's so hard to find this treasure, how can we not be in a hurry?"

There was an elder of a second-class family, with a mid True God realm cultivation, flying in a relatively front position, his eyes filled with madness.

This thing, which would most likely allow him to break through to the Ultimate God Realm in the future, was so tempting that he couldn't care less about it now.

However, thinking of how good Jack was, he still couldn't help but say out loud, "Don't worry, Young Master Jack. This time too, thanks to the agreement you mentioned to everyone before. don't worry, if there are any techniques inside this thing, when the time comes I will definitely share it with everyone as agreed, and when the time comes, everyone will have to rely on their talent and see who breaks through to Ultimate God Realm first! "

"Just by you?"

A man at the late True God realm quickly rushed up and blasted the old man on top of his back, knocking him down to the ground with a mouthful of blood spurting out.

"You ....."

The old man was furious, glaring at the other man with malice and hatred.

The middle-aged man turned around and sneered, then said, "Oh, old man, have you forgotten? According to the agreement, once this treasure appears, everyone can grab it. only after someone grabs it and puts it into the nano ring must everyone then stop grabbing and go back together. Now, I don't care too much, but this strange stone is definitely mine!"

Chapter 1549

"Bang!"

However, at this very moment, not far away in the woods, a flare shot straight up into the sky, and after a flash, it blossomed open like a beautiful eye flower.

"Treasures have appeared!"

On the other side, the people of the Divine King Hall, after seeing the signal, were all excited beyond measure.

"Charge for me, and you must snatch that treasure for me, got it?"

The Hall Master of the Divine King Hall, with a command, turned into a streak himself and flew up from the forest, heading straight for the direction where that flare appeared.

"Grab it!"

Almost three hundred thousand people, one by one, shot up into the sky and flew from the forest into the air, heading straight for Jack's side.

"What!"

After Nash and the others heard the shouts not far away, they all had ugly faces, and all of them were surprised.

After all, they had already entered such a deep part of this forest, they had never expected that so many people would actually follow them in.

"My god, this number of people on the other side, there are even more than us, damn, it's so close to us, looking at this, they will fly over in less than two minutes, have we been watched for such a long time?"

There was an old man from the Cabello family, who was equally frightened, his face ugly.

After all, the forces in the middle of these seas were not easy to deal with in the first place, and although there weren't many big forces, the other side had gathered so many people, so I'm afraid that it wouldn't be that easy to kill them out.

"It looks like Jack is right, we've been targeted before!"

Chu Kaiwen looked at those people, and his eyes were equally as gloomy.

"Young Master Jack haha, I don't care that much, this thing will be in our hands soon. I hope everyone will keep the agreement then, whoever gets it, it's theirs!"

The middle-aged man who had blown the mid-stage True God realm old man to the ground saw that he was getting closer and closer to the huge stone ball, then he laughed out loud, he only needed to hold on for a few more seconds, the stone ball would definitely be his, as long as he took it into the Nascent Soul Ring, according to the agreement, everyone could not make a move against him.

If he got hold of the stone ball, and it would only allow one person to break through to Ultimate God Realm, he hoped it would be himself since his chance to change his fate depended on this one time.

Thinking that he might become an existence that many peak True God realm powerhouses could only look up to in the future, the middle-aged man's heart became even more excited.

"Sigh, did they all forget one thing, that the Divine King Sect's Master had said that this stone ball was on top of an extremely dangerous tree?"

Seeing the people flying out frantically in front of him, Jack couldn't help but let out a sigh.

Sure enough, just as the man was about to get his hands on the stone ball, less than ten metres away from it, a terrifying tree branch, which had violently grown larger, like a sharp sword, rushed straight out, causing the body of the middle-aged man, who had been caught off guard, to be pierced straight through.

"No, it can't be!"

The middle-aged man stretched out his hand, looking at the stone ball that was close at hand. his eyes full of resignation, looking at the branch that had already pierced his chest, the life force in his body quickly dissipated, and he directly lost his breath.

"Shoo shoo shoo!"

At the same time, those several hundred people who were not far behind the middle-aged man were similarly pierced through their bodies by a terrifying tree branch, blood flowing down their bodies and then dripping onto the ground.

Chapter 1550

"Oh my god!"

Alejandro and the others immediately stopped, although they heard Jack's admonition, one by one, they were all a little more careful and flew a little bit behind. but the temptation of the stone ball still made them all red-eyed, since they were considered as belonging to the second group of people.

Looking ahead, hundreds of people were killed in just a second, defencelessly, so abruptly, which made them all terrified, and some of them were so terrified that they immediately retreated hundreds of metres away, which made them stop, and then looked ahead with awe.

"My god, this ancient tree is too terrifying, several strong people with True God realm cultivations have died too!"

Some people with demi-god realm cultivations looked at the blood there, and they, who had also been overwhelmed by the treasures, were temporarily sobered up.

"Shoo shoo shoo!"

At this time, the ancient tree's branches shrank back, and the cultivators who had been stabbed to death by the ancient tree before, one by one, just fell to the ground.

"It's not good, all the house masters, look over there, there are too many people. What should we do? It looks like we are being watched by the great powers in the middle of this sea!"

There was a family head of a third-class family, who looked at the people over at the Divine King Hall who were getting closer and closer to this place, and exclaimed with an ugly face.

"What are you afraid of, I think they have a few forces combined as well, I don't believe they won't desperately try to grab this stone ball! I'll take this stone ball first, and after snatching it, I'll escape alone, so I won't be easily targeted!"

One of the Lucas Family's elders, at the peak cultivation of the True God Realm, held a precious sword in his hand and directly charged forward.

"Phew!"

Jack looked at the crowd and likewise quickly headed straight for that ancient tree, he also felt that the old man was right, those people, although many, were not very united, the most crucial thing now was to snatch this stone ball first, if it was snatched by the strong people from the other side, it would not be that easy to snatch it back.

At that time, if the other party wanted to escape and split up and escape, with so many people, someone to help delay the situation, that strong person would definitely be able to escape with the item.

"Charge!"

Many people from other clans, one by one, also rushed out again, but this time they didn't dare to be careless, each holding martial skills in their hands, fighting that ancient tree in passing at any time.

"Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh!"

The branches of that ancient tree once again reached out. The black ancient tree was like a tree monster at that moment as if these humans had entered its territory. Therefore, it had to kill all these humans.

A terrifying branch, like a sharp sword, like a spike, flew out straight ahead, still able to change direction at any time.

"Kill!"

There was a man, who chopped out with his sword, instantly cutting off several branches.

However, there were too many branches. several other branches like slithering spirit snakes, stabbed over from another direction, the man was caught off guard got directly pierced through his body and died.

"Bang Bang Bang!"

People kept attacking the branches, but the branches were so dense that after they were cut off, they actually managed to continue growing as if they were longer again, and then continued to attack at the front.

"Boom!"

That one elder of the Lucas family at the peak of the True God Realm from before flung out his sword, a terrifying chopping blow that flew straight out and cut off a large portion of those tree branches in front of him.

"Swoosh!"

Seeing that quite a few branches had been cleared, the old man flashed once again and flew forward some distance again, much closer to the huge ancient tree.

"Swoosh!"

Chapter 1551

Nevertheless, what he did not foresee was the roots burrowing out of the ground below him at that time. The roots were sharp like spears and fast like lighting; they penetrated through his body from below.

“Pfft!”

The elder of the Ximenes family gazed at his punctured body, blood gushing out of his mouth. He took one last look at the strange stone ball that was just a short distance away from him and exhaled his last breath.

“What sh*t?! The Second Elder…the Second Elder died!”

The head of Ximenes family could not believe what he had just witnessed, his eyes widened as big as saucers and his face blanched.

“Stall these people!”

At this time, the people from the Hall of Divine Royal were not far away from Jack and the group, and they started launching attacks at Jack and the group.

“Kill them all!”

Two parties instantly engaged in battles; it was chaotic.

Jack flickered several times with his unbelievably fast speed. The sword in his grip, coupled with his lightning speed became sharper and more powerful. With a few swings, the tree branches before him were chopped off.

Swoosh swoosh swoosh!

However, the ancient tree seemed to be spiritually intelligent. After knowing Jack’ s power and strength, the ancient tree shot out more branches toward Jack, attacking him.

“Humph!”

Jack snorted coldly, and then he injected more Chi energy into the sword, which then became even more colossal, and the Chi energy surrounding it became more intense and more aggressive.

“Blade Wave!”

With a swing of his arm, waves of Chi attacks in sword form were cast out, and like waves, they flowed fiercely and violently toward the front.

The branches were densely packed, yet they were cut off by Jack’s attack. The view in front of Jack immediately brightened up as branches were no longer blocking the view.

Jack was extremely fast. He rushed toward the front, while branches came from all directions, attacking Jack from every possible angle.

“Blade Wave!”

Jack did not stop in the slightest. Another wave of sword aura attack was shot out. The surrounding area was once again emptied by the attack. Jack flickered a few more times and finally, he came before the huge stone ball and grabbed it with his hand.

“What the f*ck! This brat’s strength and combat prowess are too powerful! A lot of true god realm elite fighters can’t even get near the stone because of the ancient tree, not to mention to even grab the stone! I didn’t expect Jack to be this strong and managed to get the stone!”

After witnessing Jack’s true strength and power, Alejandro was in a complete state of surprise. He then led his men to fend off the people from the Hall of Divine Royal.

With a flip of his palm, Jack kept the stone ball into his martial ring, and then with another swing of his sword, he blasted at the center of the ancient tree.

Boom!

A loud explosion echoed the forest; the ancient tree was halved by Jack's frightening attack. The ancient tree was split into half and fell onto the ground, lifeless along with the branches and roots.

Although the ancient tree was finally dead, a few seconds before its death, several thousands of elite fighters died under its branches and roots. And among them, there were many elite people with the strength of true god level.

"Jack had already put away the stone ball into his martial ring! Everyone shall cease fighting to get the stone ball according to the agreement! Now, let's join our forces and fight against these enemies in front of us!"

As soon as Nash saw that Jack had obtained the stone ball, he quickly gave the command to the alliances. But, inside, he was bursting with joy.

Some alliances were upset in their hearts, but they understood that they had to be united then. After all, their situation was not great then they were surrounded by tons of people.

Chapter 1552

"Everyone, gather together, don' t panic! There aren't many of them that are of the true god level!"

Jack pointed out aloud when he noticed that some people were panicking

After hearing Jack, many fighters of the alliances breathed out a sigh of relief, and they began to gather together as fast as possible.

The battle went on for a while and the number of casualties went up to a few thousand. The other party suffered several thousand deaths.

After several minutes, the Master of the Hall of Divine Royal realized the biggest issue in his group after fighting against Jack and his people. Although they outnumbered the other party, Jack and his groups had more fighters in the late stage and peak stage of the True God Realm!

Most of his men were only at the demi-god level.

He then waved his hand, gesturing to his men to cease the attack, and to surround Jack and his groups.

“You people from the mainland, how dare you intrude into our sea territory! Even worse, into the Black Windy Island! Are you guys wishing for death? Whatever treasure or stone you have obtained just now, hand it over!”

An elder of a big clan from the Black Windy Island stood out and pointed at Jack and the others with a fine sword in his hand. His tone was arrogant and aggressive.

“He’s right! You only have at most 180 thousand men left, and we have almost 300 thousand men with us! How are you gonna fight us, huh? Now, hand those treasures over, then we might consider letting you all go! Otherwise, we don’t mind shedding some blood and killing every one of you damn intruders here!”

Elder Hartman laughed sinisterly.

The Master of the Divine Royal Hall, on the other hand, frowned. He truly could not understand these barbaric people from the mainland at all. Merely a moment ago, they were desperately trying to snatch the stone from each other, but ended up joining forces to fight against them. Furthermore, these barbarians dared to stare at them angrily for intruding on their island! What logic was that?

Why? Why did they not think of killing that young man who got the stone?

But from the way the other party madly attacked the ancient tree just to get the stone ball, he could say with certainty in his heart that the stone ball was closely related to breaking through to the ultimate god realm.

“Oh, in fact, I’ve long known that several dogs are tailing behind us secretly!”

To everyone’s surprise, Jack was not the least bit nervous even though he and the group were surrounded by so many fighters. He smiled gently and then said in a calm tone, “But, it must be out of your expectation that we would be so united for so many days and that we did not lose many men. Moreover, you wouldn’t have thought that after I’ve obtained the treasure not only did the others stop attacking, but we are also very united to fight against you, right?”

The corners of the other party’s mouth twitched involuntarily upon hearing Jack’s words. “So what if it is? You guys are now surrounded by so many of us, do you think you can run away?”

The master of the Hall of Divine Royal retorted in a deep voice.

“Hahaha! Funny! Well. Let me give you a piece of advice, you and your men better get out of the way! You indeed have the number, but the unison and the overall combat prowess are way too weak compared to ours! You don’t have as many strong fighters as us. Now, tell me, do you think you can beat us?”

However, Jack chuckled in return. “We must return to our land, so we will fight hard for our lives. Don’t tell me you’ll fight us to death solely for an object that you don’t even know if it’s a treasure?”

“That’s right! We’ll fight for our lives! Don’t underestimate us! It’s not easy for you to defeat us!”

Daniella and the others shouted in unison, tone sharp and aggressive.

After all, if they could make the other party give way to them, it would naturally be a better idea, because they would not have to pay an unnecessary price of losing their men.

“Heh? Let you go? Sure!”

The Master of the Hall of Divine Royal laughed out loud.“ However, you must hand over that object to us, otherwise, that’ s no way for us to let you go. We’ll have to snatch it from you!”

Chapter 1553

“What makes you think that we’re not united punk? You guys are merely a rabble of several families. Although we have men from other powerhouses within this sea territory, they are under the Hall of Royal Divine and have been working together with us. We’re like one big family. So, which party do you think is more united in this case? Us or you?” Elder Moseley intercepted and responded gruffly.

“Ya! Brat, think about it carefully. If you hand the stone ball over to us, you can avoid unnecessary deaths but if you don’t. Humph! You’re inviting trouble to your group!”

After giving the matter some thought, the Master of the Hall of Divine Royal intentionally sowed discord among Jack and his allies by saying, “Listen, families other than this brat with the stone can leave this place; we’ll let you go because you did not obtain the treasure anyway. You don’t have to risk your life to stay with this brat. Of course, if the family of this brat would like to leave as well, you may, we’ll let you go too!”

“Right, right. Other families can leave this place, you guys didn’t get the treasure anyway. Those who didn’t get the treasure can leave, you don’t have to die here together with this brat!”

Elder Lock chimed in and supported his master immediately.

He believed that once they affirmed the other families and gave them a chance to live, the unity among them would definitely be affected. After all, they were not from the same family, and most of the time when people encounter such a situation like this, they would rather choose to stay alive.

As for the family of that brat, there were not many of them. Hence, it did not matter if they let them go or not, because they would die anyway-whether killed by them or by the monster beasts in the forest.

However, they were not aware of the agreement between Jack and these families. If there were no such agreement, those families would have left Jack and his family behind.

Due to the prior agreement that Jack had with the other families, which was, if there was any method or technique from the treasure, the person who got the treasure would share it with others. In this way, everyone could have a taste of the benefit; it also implied that every family had the opportunity to get the benefits of the stone ball!

So, how could they give up such a great opportunity?

“What the heIl? None of them are leaving?”

After some time had passed, not one person of the other party had any intention to leave, all of them stood still and none left the scene. The situation puzzled the people of the Hall of Divine Royal.

“Heh, I’m afraid that we’ll have to let you guys down today!”

Jack chuckled smugly; he gripped the sword in his hand tightly and pointed it to the front. “Everyone, listen! Since they refuse to get out of our way, we’ll fight them, beat them, and kill them, until they understand that we’re not to be messed with!”

“Kill!”

All the alliances yelled in unison, as though they were motivated by the fervent and enthusiastic aura emitted by Jack.

“Kill them all!”

The Master of the Hall of Divine Royal gritted his teeth and commanded his men aloud. He was reluctant to fight against the other party, after all, even if he won the battle, the loss would be too great to bear. But when he thought of the stone ball being the only way to break through to the ultimate god level, that temptation made him clench his teeth and give out the order.

Both parties rushed towards each other and fought fiercely. Frightening battling sound, once again, pierced through the eerie Black Windy Island.

Swoosh!

With the fine sword in his hand, Jack flew to the front of Elder Hartman in a flash.

Through the series of shouting and yelling a moment ago, Jack could tell which of these people from the Hall of Divine Royal held important and authoritative positions among them. If he managed to kill a few people with the strength of the peak of true god level, the other people on the other hand would naturally be frightened.

By that time, their morale would be impacted. Moreover, they did not have a lot of people with the strength of true god level, thus, in the end, they would be defeated completely. It was useless to have more people than a few with true strength and power!

Chapter 1554 Skrappie

“Hahaha! Young man, I’m our master’s right-hand man! Do you think you can kill me just because you say so? Dream on, punk!”

Elder Hartman sneered at Jack sassily. Would it not be funny for an unknown brat like Jack to strike at him? Not to forget that Jack was so much younger than him. Hence, not only was he not afraid of Jack, but he also laughed at him for being naïve.

He was even bursting with joy and excitement in his heart. That strange stone ball was in that brat's hand, if he managed to kill this brat and take over his martial ring, then the stone ball would be his! What a great opportunity!

No one would notice that he has taken Jack's martial ring after he killed him because everyone would be busy fighting and fending off the opponents; no one would be free to watch his every step! And he only needed to kill that brat, keep his ring, and pretended to fight for a little while, then escape from the battle to the outside of the forest. He planned to then find a secret cave and study the strange stone ball.

What if he was fortunate enough to discover the method to breaking through to the ultimate god realm? And because of that, he broke through to the ultimate god realm? Then he would be the Master of the Hall of Divine Royal!

Of course, if he was unable to discover anything from the stone ball, he would then return to the Hall of Divine Royal and tell everybody that he was afraid that the other party would pursue after him and snatch the martial ring back, thus he could only leave the battlefield with the ring and hide somewhere else first. This sounded reasonable and logical!

Elder Hartman's eyes could barely conceal his delight and excitement as he thought. With a flip of his palm, a sword appeared in his hand and he injected Chi energy into his sword.

"An upper-grade spiritual tool?

Jack's eyes immediately shined bright the moment he saw the sword in the elder's hand. His mood lightened. If he was able to snatch this sword from his hand, then he would obtain another incredible treasure!

And he would let his father use that fine sword. That should be able to increase the overall combat prowess and strength of his group.

“Oh, brat, are you thinking of snatching my upper-grade spiritual weapon? Well, I’m sorry that you can’t do that, instead, I’ll be getting the spiritual weapon that’s in your hand!”

Elder Hartman laughed sarcastically. Clenching the hilt of his sword, he chopped forward toward Jack.

As he chopped toward the front with his sword, a huge amount of Chi energy condensed and formed a big fish. The big fish then charged toward Jack at full speed.

“Wow, it’s my first time seeing such martial technique!”

The big fish Chi attack did not seem powerful at all. But because it was colossal, the impact of collision would be huge too. If one was to be hit by this giant fish, severe injury was definitely unavoidable.

Swoosh!

Jack, too, chopped toward the front with his sword. In a blink of an eye, a sword aura within a thick aura casing was formed, creating a frightening attack. It slashed out as though it were an arc of light.

“You don’t even want to use any martial technique? Do you think such a slashing attack would do any damage to the giant fish? What a naïve brat you are!”

Elder Hartman sneered upon seeing Jack’s seemingly weak attack. He was not happy in the slightest! How could this brat look down on him by casting such a frail attack?

Boom!

However, in the next second, Elder Hartman was completely tongue-tied. The big fish that he cast out was absolutely destroyed by Jack's attack. Moreover, Jack's attack was not worn off at all by his big fish; the remaining residual of Jack's attack was heading straight at him.

"No freaking way! My…my fish is destroyed…just like that? And…"

Elder Hartman could feel nothing but blind shock and terror right now; his eyes widened, and his jaw dropped to the ground. Jack did not even use any martial skill; it was just a casual attack of his! How could a casual attack like that destroy his big fish?

Elder Hartman punched towards the front once again, only did he manage to destroy the residual power of Jack's attack. Hints of solemnness and gloominess appeared in his eyes as he stared at the young man before him.

"Well. It seems like the right-hand man of the Master of Divine Royal Hall is not as strong as he claimed."

Jack, who already grasped the situation, knowing the level of combat prowess of the elder, once again swung his sword and blasted towards the elder, his smile cold and sinister.

Chapter 1555

However, this time, Jack cast out a more powerful attack than before. He used a martial technique-Burning Chop.

"No!"

Elder Hartman did not dare to slack in the slightest. He immediately performed a more powerful martial technique of his.

However, his martial technique was like a fly buzzing around the head-weak and poor. The technique was unable to resist the attack of Jack at all and was completely wrecked. Meanwhile, Jack's Burning Chop still carried a lot of remaining strength, heading straight at him.

Elder Hartman who had no time to execute the second technique in time, immediately cast an aura shield to enclose himself in the center for protection.

However, this thin and shaky aura shield could not withstand the frightening attack at all. It only lasted for a second before the shield was destroyed, and the attack landed directly on his chest, throwing him a few meters away.

Bang!

Elder Hartman flew backward recklessly like a kite with broken string before hitting the ground heavily and spurting out mouthfuls of blood. With his legs straightened and muscle stiffed, he died just like that.

"No f*cking way! Elder…Elder Hartman died…died just like that…"

Several fighters of true god level, who stood nearby and witnessed the disastrous death of Elder Hartman, were frightened down to the soles of their shoes. Fear and terror reared up within them that they could barely speak properly.

After all, in the Hall of Divine Royal, apart from the hall master, Elder Hartman, Elder Moseley, and Elder Lock were considered as the strongest martial practitioners among them.

However, a strong and powerful fighter like Elder Hartman did not last more than half a minute in the battle, and was killed by the other party. The gap of strength and combat ability between them and the other party-Jack and the group-was enormously wide.

Jack flew toward Elder Hartman's body, took off his martial ring, and kept the upper-grade sword into his own martial ring.

That treasure sword was a rare weapon and since Jack and the alliances did not discuss the distribution of the treasure and goods after obtaining the stone ball, he intended to keep this rare weapon first.

Swoosh!

With another flicker, Jack went straight for Elder Lock.

Just as Elder Lock blast a fighter of late true god level, he saw Jack flying toward him. He did not even manage to enjoy the brief victorious moment, yet Jack was already coming at him. He was taken aback.

Was this brat not fighting Elder Hartman just a moment ago? Why did this brat come to his side now? Elder Lock pondered hard.

When he wheeled his head around and found that Elder Hartman was lying on the ground lifelessly, his face instantly fell He gasped at the newly learned fact.

Elder Hartman was killed by this brat? In such a short time? Furthermore, his combat prowess and strength were almost the same as Elder Hartman's, so how could he be a match for this brat?

"Elder Moseley, come and help me! This brat is extremely strong! I'm not confident in dealing with him by myself! Let's fight him together and kill him!"

Elder Lock yelled in the direction of Elder Moseley. His eyes fixated at Jack with a gloomy expression written all over his face.

"Motherf*cker! I can't even hold on! They have too many true god level fighters on their side! Two of them are fighting against me right now!"

Elder Moseley was sweating profusely. He was surrounded by Nash and Kenneth. He was about to collapse.

Elder Lock immediately looked over to Elder Moseley's side as soon as he heard his cry. He was rendered speechless. They were clearly no match for them in terms of true god realm cultivation. Moreover, the battles between the others obviously showed that their men could not hold up any longer, and the speed of their men falling and dying was so much faster than that of Jack and his group's.

Chapter 1556

"Damn, the true god level fighters on their side are just too powerful!"

Matthew-the master of the Divine Royal Hall-looked at the situation and his face turned unsightly. Lana, William, and Ethan, although they were only at the early stage of True God Realm, their combat strength and ability were enough to defeat several early-stage true god level fighters! It was just tough to behead these three people.

Boom!

On the other side, Jack decimated Elder Lock in no time. The Hall of Divine Royal lost another strong elite fighter.

"Dammit! We've lost almost fifty thousand men, and what the f*ck?! The other party's casualties are less than ten thousand! If this continues, the speed of people dying on our side will only increase!"

Elder Moseley studied the current situation and realized that although they outnumbered them by a hundred thousand at the beginning, the gap was getting smaller and smaller. Their advantage in this battle was fading fast. They have even lost many strong fighters like Elder Hartman and Elder Lock. The situation would worsen for them when the true god level fighters on Jack's side was not occupied anymore. They would turn their targets on their demi-god level fighters! In this case, Divine Royal Hall would suffer greater and more severe loss than before!

“Master, this is not good at all! Run, we have to run away! They’re simply overwhelmingly strong! There must be several extremely strong fighters in their team. Besides, that brat, he is crazily powerful! Even Elder Hartman and Elder Lock were killed by him just like that!”

Elder Moseley gritted his teeth, swallowed his pride, and flew a long distance away from the battlefield before he warned Matthew.

“Dammit, dammit!”

Matthew was reluctant to give up, but what else could he do? In such a situation, he knew that if he persisted, he would lose the entire hall! It was an absolute defeat.

Furthermore, that young man, that b*stard, killed both Elder Hartman and Elder Lock within minutes, and if that b*stard came at him, he was definitely no match for him.

“Retreat! Everyone, retreat!”

Matthew waved his hand, gesturing everyone to retreat. He then threw out a wisp of Chi, wheeled around and turned into a shadow, fleeing into the distance.

“Run!”

Even their Hall Master ran away, what about the underlings of the Hall of Divine Royal? They were not motivated to fight anymore. One by one, they fled the scene like ants running away from a water droplet-messy and scattered.

Swoosh, shoo, swoosh!

Jack flickered in succession, killing several elite fighters of the true god level from the Hall of Divine

Royal, only then did he cease the attack.

“Kill!”

Jack’s team pursued and killed another ten thousand men when they saw these people started fleeing. They chased after the escapees for some distance.

“Stop chasing!”

Jack yelled. The other party had too many people. They successfully killed a lot of them, but they would suffer great casualties too if they continued to pursue after them, even though they would win in the end.

Besides, now that Jack and the others had killed many people especially the strong fighters on the other side; the other party had suffered heavy losses. Since their goal was already accomplished, there was no need for them to pursue after the other party.

“Hahaha! Young Master Jack, you’re truly amazingly powerful! You killed several strong fighters of true god level alone! How cool is that!”

Kevin teased Jack as he flew over to him.

“Let’s clean up the battlefield! Then we’ll distribute the spoils according to merit. Jack contributed the most, so I suggest letting him distribute them later. What do you all think?”

Chapter 1557

Alejandro proposed his thoughts to the crowd.

“That’s a great idea! We all have to thank Jack this time, if it were for the agreement Jack had made for us agree to before entering the forest, we’d be in a huge mess; we wouldn’t be so united. And if we weren’t this united, we’d be robbed of that stone ball by those people!”

The head of the Ximenes family bobbed his head to show agreement. However, he did not forget to remind Jack, “Young Master Jack, if this stone ball is really the way to the ultimate god realm and it can be used repeatedly, we hope that Young Master Jack will not forget our agreement.”

Everyone’s gazes suddenly all turned to Jack fearing that Jack would keep it without sharing it as per the agreement.

Now, the White family had grasped the overall situation. There were only five people who reached the peak of True God Realm, and among these five, Jack topped the list he could fight and hold off several men with the strength of the peak of true god realm by himself. Hence, the overall strength and combat ability of the White family increased tremendously; they could even win against the Skies Pavilion.

If it were not for the fact that there were not many fighters of the middle stage or late stage of True God Realm in the White family, the White family would be stronger than most of the ancient clans including the Pavilion of Divinity and the Flying Eagle Sect. The White family would not have to fear those clans anymore.

“Please be rest assured! If I discover anything about this stone ball, I’d definitely contact all of you. Of course, if the stone ball only allows one person to break through to the ultimate god level, I could not do anything else. Please then forgive me for being somewhat powerless in such a situation!”

Jack looked at the crowd and said in a serious tone.

“By the way, for the martial rings of those who have died in this battle, the people of the same family should keep it. It won’t be considered as the spoils of war. The spoils of war should be those treasures inside the martial rings of the opponents!”

After pondering for a few seconds, Jack then announced to the crowd.

The third-class and second-class families who suffered grave loss, cast grateful glances at Jack for being considerate of them.

After all, these families lost a lot of their men, and it would be unfair to them if they had to take out the treasure from the martial rings of their dead men and share it with others.

“Let’s leave this place. Right, when we go out, we have to be fast. After all, the closer we are to the outside of the forest, the lesser monster beasts there will be. In fact, the faster we leave the forest, the more advantageous it is for us!”

After everyone had collected all the loot, Jack again suggested it to the crowd.

“That’s not a problem. But, Young Master Jack, we have quite a few people injured in this battle, what should we do about them? Should we find a place and let them recover from their injuries first?”

Shelby frowned as he walked up to Jack and popped her concern.

Obviously in everyone’s hearts, including those heads of families, they saw Jack as an important person; Jack had clearly become the backbone of group there.

“Hmm…How about this? The others will leave the forest in different directions, and those who are injured will ride with the White family atop the flying sword. They should rest on the flying sword and let their wounds heal. It’ll be a lot safer to go in the middle. We have to at least leave this bloody place first because the smell of blood here will definitely attract a lot of powerful monster beasts!”

“After we’ve gone a little further away from this place, we can then find a safe place to rest. Then we’ll set off again tomorrow morning!”

After giving the matter some thought, Jack proposed to the crowd

Jack and the others then left this place shortly.

Jack was right about the monster beasts. Not long after they left the scene, hordes of terrifying and blood-seeking monster beasts flew to the bloody place and gnawed on the corpses there.

“Motherf*cker! Why are they so strong?”

On the other side, at this time, the people of the Hall of Divine Royal had fled a long way away.

They then gathered together at one place after finding out that Jack and his group were no longer chasing after them. A huge sigh of relief was let out in the crowd in unison.

“Yes. Especially that young man! He’s way too powerful. How can a young man like him be so strong? This is absolutely illogical!”

Elder Moseley said huffily, his heart palpitating.

Chapter 1558

“Elder Moseley, what now? The other party wouldn’t hand over the stone ball! Also they’re so united, and…and we can’t defeat them! Ugh! What a mess!”

Matthew was down in the dumps and he did not know what to do next. In a blink of an eye, he lost more than fifty thousand men, plus those who died before the battle with Jack and his groups, he was at a huge loss right now. Even worse, strong people like Elder Lock and Elder Hartman were killed by the other party as well.

He was truly out of ideas.

“Sigh! We’ve no other way anymore. We have lost so many men, and those who survived the tough battle suffered injuries as well. Even if we go after them right now, we’re simply no match for them. Not to mention there is no fighting morale nor spirit among us. So, for the time being, we can only cease our attack temporarily.”

Elder Moseley gazed at the crowd blankly and shook his head helplessly in the end. His tone was full of despair.

“Temporarily? What do you mean? Are you saying that there’s still a way, a hope, for us to get the stone ball?”

Matthew’s eyes immediately lit up upon hearing Elder Moseley’ s words.

“That stone ball is obviously important, so much so that those people from other families of the mainland would not want the stone ball to fall into our hands. Perhaps, they thought that if the stone ball is in the brat’s hand, they would still have a chance to snatch it from him once they get to the mainland. And if the stone ball is with us, it won’t be so easy for them to grab it anymore!”

Elder Mosely paused for a few seconds before continuing, “So, I guess that’s why they were so united beforehand and did not fall for our scheme of sowing discord among them. Instead they decided to stay still!”

“Yes, you’re right. Sigh! There’s no other way now, right? That stone ball…the more reluctant they are to give it up, the more I feel that the stone ball is the way to the ultimate god realm!”

The Master of the Hall of Divine Royal said with a sigh.

“Master, this is what I think. Everyone should go back to rest first, and then we’ll send some people to the continent and scout. If there’s any news about the ultimate god realm, we’d know!”

Elder Moseley gazed at Matthew and then said, “By the way, do you want to seek help from your senior? I know there have been some conflicts between the two of you and are not on good terms, but so many years have passed, he shouldn’t be upset at you anymore. Besides, if you tell him that there’s news about the ultimate god realm, I believe that your senior will definitely be interested! After all, if you could get help from him to find out who that brat is and where he lives, half of our job is considered done!”

“My senior?”

A few horizontal lines formed between the brows of Matthew and his expression turned solemn. “I’m afraid that he would command his men to strike against me, and I’ll definitely be no match alone! Unless…unless, we go in a larger group! At least one or two hundred strong people! It’s safer that way!”

“All right! Let’s go to him with hundreds of strong people! Besides, we should send more people to poke around about the stone ball!”

Elder Moseley nodded and the conversation ended. The crowd rested for a while before they continued to set off, heading out of the forest.

Only, what made the Hall of Divine Royal hesitate was that there was no Jack nor his team to help kill the monster beasts and create an opening for them anymore. Before that, they fled in a panicky manner and encountered many monster beasts. That made them lose another number of men.

On the contrary, Jack and his group possessed amazing combat ability. When they were heading out, they paced at a faster speed. So, they only lost a few men before successfully exiting the Black Windy Island!

Chapter 1559

Another few days passed by quickly. Jack and the others have finally left the sea territory and arrived at the continent in the southeast of Daxia.

After resting for a short while, the group went on a discussion about how they should distribute the spoils, then they distributed all the spoils they had gotten throughout the trip.

Those people from the second and third class families were grateful for the expedition to the Black Windy Forest. The journey to the Black Windy Island was not only treacherous but also full of traps and monster beats, and if it were not for Jack and the others, they were afraid that not many of them would have come back alive, and they would not even have the chance to share the martial materials and resources from the spoils.

“Although we lost more than ten thousand men, the outcome is better than what we expected. Hmmm. I wonder how the other teams are doing, especially the team of the Hunt family. They were assigned with Bright Snow Mountain, and it’s a lot nearer than Black Windy Island, perhaps, they have already returned to Daxia. I wonder what’s the result!”

Nash spoke his mind as he pondered.

“Well, based on what I have observed and understood about the Hunt family’s style of doing things, it’s true that they have a lot of men, and they are strong, but they would certainly act separately after entering the mountain together. They might even fight and kill each other for the treasure. Although Black Windy Forest is more dangerous than Bright Snow Mountain, their number of casualties might be higher than ours!"

The First Elder of the White family, Kenneth White, laughed as he analyzed the Hunt family' s temperament. In the dangerous excursion to the Black Windy Forest, the White family contributed a lot and naturally, they received more resources and benefits. What was more delightful was that the stone ball was with Jack! Therefore, throughout their journey back to Daxia, happiness, and excitement were hanging on their faces; they were bursting with joy and could barely conceal their delight.

"He's right! This is the best and the wisest decision I've ever made for my family to follow the White family, Cabello family, Ximenes family, and Tudor Family to the hazardous Black Windy Forest! Best decision ever!"

The head of a second-class family exclaimed with a smiley face; he arched his hand and bowed to Jack and the other prominent families. "Well. We shall bid you adieu now. Young Master Jack, thank you very much and I hope you'll deliver good news to us very soon!"

"Young Master Jack, we're leaving too. Looking forward to the good news!"

The people from the other families also took off after saying goodbyes to Jack and others.

Jack's strength, power, and combat ability had completely convinced these families and powerhouses, and many of them even started to flatter the White family, hoping the White family would take care of them in the future.

"Master White, Jack, we're leaving too!"

When most of the crowd were almost gone, Alejandro, too, arched his hand and saluted Jack and others. "Hopefully you manage to examine this stone ball and discover the way to break through to the ultimate god realm. It'd be really worrying and problematic if we can't find a way to break through to the ultimate god realm through this stone ball. We finally got some clue about the ultimate god realm, and if this stone ball…sigh!"

"Master Cabello, don't be preoccupied with it. That ancient formation was left behind by someone in the past. Now that the ancient formation has been activated, the location of the seven points appearing on the screen is pointing toward the Seven Dangers. I believe that this is not a coincidence. And there is a stone ball in every seven dangerous places! It's certainly not a coincidence I believe."

Jack responded confidently." What I'm suspecting is that the ancient formation might have been destroyed by someone deliberately…could it be that someone does not want us to know about the clue? Or, perhaps, the ancient formation was ruined because of the long period of time? I'm not too sure."

"All right. Then we'll wait for your good news!"

Alejandro nodded his head, and only then took Daniella and Helena—who was somewhat reluctant to leave Jack, and the others and left together.

After the other families had left, Jack summoned his flying sword and took the White family member home.

Chapter 1560

"Mommy, why isn't Daddy back yet? I have broken through to the next level again. He'll definitely be happy to know when he comes back!"

In one of the courtyards of the White family, Kylie, who had been playing for a while, ran to Selena and whined with a pouty face.

"Really? My little Kylie is so amazing!"

Selena's eyes immediately lit up after hearing her daughter's words. "Your Daddy has been away for ten days; he should be back soon. And if he knew that our little Kylie had broken through to the ninth-grade martial practitioner, he would be delighted!"

Kylie was incredibly talented, and Selena was happy about it. Kylie was so young and yet she was already at ninth-grade martial level and was about to break through to the grandmaster level! She would definitely be able to attain good achievements if she trained hard!

"Hehe, Mommy is amazing too!"

Kylie chuckled in return. Then she ran away to have fun with some other kids in the courtyard.

"Sigh, I wonder how Jack and the others are doing. Sigh! That is an extremely dangerous place!"

"Sigh!"

Selena gazed upward at the sky and sighed out loud.

Just as her words fell not long after, she saw a group of people riding on a flying sword in the distant sky heading toward her.

It was Jack's flying sword! This sight before Selena cheered her soul instantly. She shot up from her chair and said to Kylie, who was playing on the side, "Kylie, look! It's Daddy! He's back!"

Sunshine flooded Kylie's big and beautiful eyes the moment she heard Selena's words. She immediately ran over and yelled, "Yay! Daddy is back! Daddy is back!"

The others from the White family also turned their heads toward the sky and saw Jack's flying sword heading toward them. Their spirits were flying high and they were jumping excitedly as though Jack was the Santa Claus who brought them gifts!

There's a lot of people on the flying swords! Looks like our White family did not lose a lot of people this time!"

Someone from the crowd said with a relieved face.

At this time, Jack's flying sword stopped midair, slightly above the courtyard of the White family residence. Everyone on the sword hopped off and landed on the ground

"Master White, how was it? What happened there?"

Lancelot and the others immediately approached Nash and surrounded him in the center with immense excitement written over their faces.

"Hahaha! Oh my…we gained a lot this time! We went to the Black Windy Island, and we did not suffer a lot of casualties, only around one thousand or so. We're satisfied with the outcome!"

Nash laughed wholeheartedly as he spoke. "Also, Jack is so amazing! He grabbed the stone ball!" he added.

"The stone ball?"

Lancelot exchanges puzzled glances with the others. They were confused.

Nash then told the crowd everything.

“Oh, so there’s a stone ball inside every Seven Dangerous Place, hmmm. This stone ball must have a lot to do with being able to break through to the ultimate god realm!”

An old man from the crowd frowned and fell into contemplation.

“Tch! The Hunt family is truly sleazy and cunning. They knew that the Black Windy Island is the most dangerous place out of the Seven Dangers, yet they as a strong family chose to go to Bright Snow Mountain and made you guys go to Black Windy Island! How unfair!”

On the other hand, Lancelot was huffing and puffing at the situation, clenching his fist and face burning with anger as he spoke.

Chapter 1561

“Heh. Once us aristocratic families knew that we could only choose from two danger zones, I knew that they would definitely choose Bright Snow Mountain, which is closer and is not so dangerous!”

Nash chuckled and added, “But thank goodness Jack thought of a plan and made agreements with everyone in advance. This is how we were able to prevent the forces from the sea from successfully driving a wedge between us. Only then could we get the treasure back without suffering huge losses!”

“That’s right. It’s true that we were fortunate to have Jack, so clever and strong in fighting. He killed so many fighters from the Hall of Divine Royal, and only then did they give up on attacking us and escape!”

Kenneth was emotional when he thought about what had happened a few days before.” The monsters of Black Wind Island are not only strong, but they frequently appear in groups. No wonder they’re so fearsome!”

“I think that the tree was too powerful. An Elder at the peak of the true god status from the Ximenes family was actually killed when he was not being careful!”

Another Elder from the White family spoke with a pang of regret.

“That tree is indeed strange. Who knows why it’s so strong? And it is also smart. Thank goodness it couldn’t move. If it could run like the monsters, it would be even harder for us to fight it!”

Nash also furrowed his brows. It was the first time they had seen a tree like this.

“I think it has something to do with the stone ball!”

Jack thought about it and made a guess, “The people of the Hall of Divine Royal said that there was a powerful ancient tree somewhere deep in the danger zone, and we even saw it. This means that all those ancient trees are of a similar type, and the only point of similarity between them is that they all have a stone orb on them. That’s why I think this has something to do with the stone ball!”

Here, Jack paused for a while before continuing, “Also, I noticed something strange!”

“What is it?”

Everyone immediately looked at Jack in anticipation, their eyes filled with curiosity.

“While I was taking this stone ball, I realized a problem. It’s actually absorbing Chi in small quantities. I couldn’t help but be suspicious and think if it’s some kind of living thing. If it can absorb Chi on its own, doesn’t this mean that it’s able to cultivate itself?”

Jack did not beat around the bush. He flipped his palm and took the stone orb out of his martial ring, showing it to everyone.

“It’s truly absorbing Chi, but not at a very fast pace. It’s very slow!”

Everyone was stunned after they observed it for a while.

“Why would they absorb Chi? Unless they can truly cultivate themselves?”

Kenneth frowned.

Lancelot gently knocked his hand on its surface and put his ear closer to it. “Strange. There’ s nothing. It doesn’t sound hollow either. Don’t tell me this is some kind of egg?”

Mason burst into laughter after he said that. “Haha. Don’t speak too soon. Asides from its unusual color and the fact that it has some strange inscriptions on its surface, this thing does look like a fossil of a dinosaur egg, judging from its size. Maybe it’s actually a monster’s egg? If that’s the case, then it might not have anything to do with breaking into the true god status!”

“No way!”

Lancelot shook his head. “If it were a fossil, why would it absorb Chi on its own? Besides, why would it appear on top of the seven big trees in the Seven Dangers? I don’t think all of this is a coincidence. Rather, it feels like someone had specially arranged this!”

“Specially arranged?”

Lancelot’s words evidently struck something within Jack.” Now that you mention it, I do think that people from the past have arranged this. This object absorbs Chi by itself and is placed in danger zones, so it’s difficult for people to find it. But what’s the use of the Chi after it’ s absorbed?”

“Ugh, I have a headache from this. I think we won’t be able to get any information out of this for a while. I wonder if the master of the Divine King Sect has found anything after conducting research for so long?

Furthermore, he has quite a few eggs in his possession!”

Nash heaved a sigh and spoke slowly.

Chapter 1562

“That’s true. So many days have passed by already. I wonder if they’ve found anything. It seems like we should find some time to pay the Divine King Sect a visit!”

Jack also thought of something and could not help but say,” That force in the sea territory, I think it’s called the Hall of Divine Royal? The names of the Hall of Divine Royal and the Divine King Sect seem related. Is there a connection between these two forces?”

“I know!”

He did not think that the First Elder would speak up at this moment, “When they were younger, I think they were fellow disciples of the same master. They fell in love with the same woman, and the woman did not make her feelings clear between the two. At first, the woman was the girlfriend of the master of the Divine King Sect, but later I think she was caught in bed with the master of the Hall of Divine Royal. So the master of the Divine King Sect killed the woman, and the two disciples became enemies since then!”

Here, Kenneth paused for a while before continuing, “And between the two, the master of the Hall of Divine Royal chose to leave the mainland and went into the ocean. So the master of the Divine King Sect was the fellow disciple of the current master of the Hall of Divine Royal!”

“The two of them actually apprenticed under the same master? Won’t it be troublesome if those two forces decide to make an alliance? Who would be able to oppose them then?”

Titus’s expression darkened after he heard this. He spoke with a worried tone.

“Heh. I don’t think it’ll be happening. Although they haven’t interacted for years and don’t quite see each other as mortal enemies anymore, and the animosity between them has decreased, I still believe that they won’t cooperate with each other. The master of the Divine King Sect has a pretty good character. As for the master of the Hall of Divine Royal, while I’m not familiar with him, I don’t think he’s a nice person. After all, he had seduced the girlfriend of his own fellow disciple!”

Kenneth chuckled and spoke.

“It seems that they will not make an alliance no matter what happens. We have nothing to fear then!”

Jack gave a bitter smile and spoke with emotion, “Who knew that the two disciples from the past would actually become the masters of such powerful forces.”

“All right, everyone, go and take a rest. We’ve managed to obtain quite a lot of spirited grass this time. It’ll be enough for everyone’s cultivation for some time now. Especially for those at the advanced stage of the true god status-you must work hard! If Jack manages to find something from the stone orb, and we discover the method to break into the ultimate god status, you will have the chance to do so!”

Nash flashed a satisfied smile and told everyone to leave and rest first.

Jack kept everything and walked over, lifting Kylie up and carrying her into the place where he stayed.

“Daddy, guess what cultivation level I’m at now?”

Kylie immediately asked, grinning. The little girl wanted to give Jack a surprise earlier.

“Hmm, you were still a sixth grade martial artist when I left. From your looks, you’re definitely not just a seventh grader. You wouldn’t be so happy if you were a seventh grader!”

Jack thought about it and said, “I think you must be an eighth-grade martial artist now, right?”

“Hehe!”

Kylie giggled when she heard this. “If you came back two days earlier, Daddy, I would have been an eighth-grade martial artist. But I already broke into the ninth grade yesterday! And Mommy has already broken into the level of a ninth-grade grandmaster. Don’t tell her I told you. She wants to give you a surprise!”

“Naughty girl!”

Jack heard this and gently patted his daughter’s head.” Before I know it, you’re already seven years old. Time passes by so quickly!”

“Oh, right. Mommy said that she wants to quickly break into demi-god status. Once she does, she’ll be able to fly. And she can follow you wherever you go, and she’ll be able to defend herself too!”

Chapter 1563

Kylie quickly thought of something and told Jack all this.

“All right, I got it. Good girl, The next time your mommy has anything in mind, tell them to Daddy. Understand?”

Jack smiled and told Kylie, “All right. I’ll bring you and Mommy to the bottom of the mountain to play at night. How about that?”

“Okay. Yay! We can go out to play!”

Kylie cried excitedly.

At night, Jack did not rush to research the stone orb. At any rate, he already possessed it, and he had time to study it.

After he accompanied his daughter and wife to the bottom of the mountain, he rested for the entire night

The next morning, Jack was just about to take the stone orb out to study it. He did not think that Fiona would drag Andrew, Theodore, and Joan to see him at this time.

When he saw the four of them and Fiona’s grinning expression, Jack knew that Fiona must be highly anticipating something. She even dragged his mother over.

“Jack, Didn’t Third Young Mistress Cabello say that they were going to give some of their treasure to you -the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water or something. What happened? Did she forget?”

Fiona asked, grinning.

“That’s right, Jack. We wanted to see you yesterday, but your mother said that you were working hard outside. So she prevented us from seeing you, to let you rest properly. See, we care about you!”

Theodore also looked at Jack with a grin on his face.

“Don’t worry. There are only four of you here, so it won’t be a problem. Just one drop per person will do the trick!”

Jack gave a bitter smile and took out a small porcelain container. Then he took out four more bottles and dropped a single drop of Bone Marrow Cleansing Water into each of the four bottles. He then thrust them on everyone.

“Is-isn’t one drop too little?”

Andrew took the bottle from Jack’s hand and frowned. It seemed that he was unhappy.

“Jack, I’m sure you have more in that bottle. Seriously, my daughter is so pretty, and she’s married to you. And our family has treated you well. Why are you so stingy? Aren’t you being too miserly, giving me only one drop?”

Fiona was also unhappy. She spoke in a sour tone.

Jack’s expression darkened when he heard this. “All of you are older, so one drop is enough to cleanse your entire body. You only need to mix it with hot water and soak in the water for half an hour, then you can become a first-grade martial artist already. Is that not enough for you? Besides, even if I were stingy, I wouldn’t have given my mother only a single drop, right?”

Fiona continued stubbornly,” Then how would we know that you’re going to secretly give your mother another drop later?”

“Heh. I can give you two drops if you want but your body won’t be able to take it. Not only will you cleanse your body, but you’ll also die while you soak in the water. Think about it for yourself then!”

Jack spoke with a cold smile on his face.

Chapter 1564

“Gasp!”

Fiona took a sharp intake of breath after she heard Jack’s words. She was scared witless now. “Two-two drops will kill you? Never mind then. I’ll take one drop!”

“Thank you, Young Master Jack!”

Theodore gave Jack a fist-to-palm salute, his emotions in a tangle. His son had provoked Jack so much before, yet Jack still treated him well. This made him feel sorry. Perhaps his son did deserve to die.

“Heh. No worries!”

Jack chuckled. Only then did Fiona, Andrew, and Theodore leave the room.

“Third Young Mistress Cabello stole this treasure, right? It seems like she really likes you. Will the master of the Cabello family scold her for this?”

After Fiona and the others left, Joan asked with worry in her voice.

“Don’t worry, Mom. Master Cabello is a nice person. Daniella told me that her father knows about this, and he himself had given it to us! Now relations between our families are good. I believe that it won’t be like before, where the two families saw each other as mortal enemies!”

Jack smiled and assured Joan.

“Mmph. Then I can relax. I don’t really care about cultivating myself. I’m so old already. It’s definitely too late for me to start training now. If I can’t be a fighter, I definitely won’t be someone at the ultimate-god status who can live for two hundred years. My only wish is to see you lead a happy life!”

Joan nodded her head and spoke, her voice thick with emotion.

“Mom, even if you can’t be a fighter, you’ll already be a martial artist once you cleanse your body. You’ll be a lot stronger than regular people, and at least you won’t easily fall sick. Of course, if that’s the case, I believe that you’ll be able to live a long life without a problem, Mom!”

Jack took his mother’s hand and smiled.

“All right. As for you, I hope you’ ll be able to succeed soon. Your father told me that being able to find the way to break into the ultimate god status is of utmost importance, as well as who will be the first to find the way. This might change everything in the future, and it might change the entire structure of the cultivation world! You must work hard. After all, the White family and our relatives from the Taylor family who came over with us all rely on you to protect them!”

Joan nodded her head and spoke earnestly, “But I believe that you will break into the ultimate god status! Selena has good talent too. I hope that she’ ll be able to catch up to you and become a fighter at the ultimate god status too!”

“I’ll definitely work hard, Mom!”

Jack bobbed his head.

Yet at this time, a few youths from the White family came running in “Young Master Jack, there are two women at the bottom of the mountain who want to see you. And they have children with them!”

One of the youths immediately reported to Jack in a respectful tone.

“They want to see me? And there are children?”

Jack was confused. “Did they say who they were?”

“They didn’t. They just said that you’ll know once you see them!”

The young man replied immediately.

“All right. I’ll go see them!”

Chapter 1565

Jack nodded his head and answered.

“All right. I’ll get out of your hair now and prepare to cleanse my body and be a martial artist as soon as possible. Last night, your father even taught me some knowledge about the cultivation arts.”

Joan gave a small smile and left.

Jack followed the youths and quickly went down the mountain.

“Greetings, Supreme Warrior!”

The two middle-aged women were each holding a child. When they saw Jack, they immediately kneeled down. There were a few bodyguards behind them.

“You – Why are the two of you here?”

Jack’s heart thudded when he saw the two.

He had seen these two once when he had gotten married. It was Fernando’s two wives. One of them was named Sarai, and the other was River.

Jack did not know how to inform them of what happened to Fernando all this while. A month ago, he finally told Lana to inform them of the situation.

All this while, he was filled with regret, and he did not know how he could ever compensate the two.

After all, they were not in need of money now. They had lower cultivation levels, but they were already seventh or eighth-grade martial artists. He wanted to find some time to visit them and take them in. He had told Lana about this too. He did not think that they would actually bring their children over at this moment.

“Supreme Warrior, we know what happened to Fernando. The forces that attacked him were foreign forces, so he still contributed to the country and brought glory to our land. We managed to find our way here because we asked the Goddess of War, Lana, to give us directions. We wanted to come and see Fernando, and we’ve brought our children over!”

Sarai’s expression was pinched when she spoke about Fernando. Red began to rim her eyes.

The two children were still young, only about two or three years old. They looked rather pitiful.

“Supreme Warrior, we have no wish to disturb you, but we truly want to see him. Don’t worry. After we see him, we’ll leave in two days!”

River also chimed in hurriedly, afraid that Jack would be unhappy with their appearance.

Jack gave a bitter smile. “I wanted to bring you two over in a few days,” he said. “I was busy before, having to take part in the martial arts competition for the youths among the eight main families, and then going into the Seven Dangers to search for treasure. I was so busy that I didn’t have time to see you. It’s great that you two are here now!”

Here, Jack paused before continuing, “Since you’re here, you should stay on. There’s plenty of Chi here. You can properly cultivate yourselves here. I’ll arrange accommodation for you, and you’ll be my esteemed guests here from now on! Don’t worry. Fernando won’t die. I’ll find a way to bring him back!”

“Can we truly stay here? Thank you, Supreme Warrior!”

Sarai and River’s expressions were filled with excitement.

“Of course. Just treat this place as your own, and tell me if you need anything. I’ll also get Lana to pass some martial resources to you to help you cultivate yourselves! This way, by the time Fernando wakes up, your cultivation levels will be increased. Won’t it be great if you can give him a surprise?”

Jack smiled and spoke to the two, “Oh, right. And don’t call me ‘Supreme Warrior’ anymore. Everyone calls me Young Master Jack here. You should call me Jack or Young Master Jack. Either one is fine.”

“Thank you, Young Master Jack!”

River smiled, then she added, “But the Gods of War, Lana, and Ethan, told us about our husband’s situation. And we’ve been regularly keeping in touch. He’s in terrible condition now. We’re afraid…afraid that he won’t be able to come back!”

“We have hope so long as he’s not dead!”

Jack clenched his fists. “of course, I only have a year and seven months left at most. The Cryo Pearl will probably only last that long before melting. Now though, I know a few treasures that can save him, at least. I’ll definitely think of something to get them, even if I have to tear the entire country apart!”

Chapter 1566

What Jack said moved both women near tears.

Sarai Campbell, on the other hand, still had that bitter smile on her face as she lamented, “Sigh… It wouldn’t be so easy since Ethan Hays also said that what we need is a fourth-grade pill, while the two other precious items are third-grade premium spirited grass. We’ve only read about fourth and third-grade items from the ancient tome. Haha… We don’t even see third-grade elementary items on a regular basis, let alone third-grade premium and fourth-grade items!”

River Harris chimed in, “Young Master Jack, we know that you purposely said that to comfort us. Don’t worry; both Sister Sarai and I are strong-willed. After all, we’ve spent some time on the battlefield before, and we’ve learned to take matters of life and death easily. Let’s put aside how difficult it is for you to find these things and only focus on the pill. Are you capable of becoming a fourth-grade elementary alchemist in one year? That’s too difficult!”

Their words made Jack sighed inwardly as he knew it truly was a difficult feat. Firstly, the existence of these precious items was an issue. Secondly, so what if they existed and they managed to find all the different ingredients needed for the pill? He was just a second-grade intermediate alchemist, and it was a very troubling journey to become a fourth-grade elementary alchemist!

He had been running away from this fact all this time. He could only repeat to himself, Lana, and the others that this would work without fail.

However, the hope of succeeding was as small as winning a five million lottery.

“Yes, it is difficult, but I’ll try my best!” assured Jack after a moment of silence. “Alright, let’s stop talking about this. As long as Fernando is still alive, I, Jack White, won’t give up on him. Come, let me bring everyone to visit him!”

River thought of something and added, “Let’s visit Lana first so she can help us take care of the children. We don’t want the children to see their father lying there…”

Jack nodded and quickly led them up the mountain. He arranged accommodations for them before ordering his subordinate to gather Lana, Ethan, and his other disciples over.

Lana immediately stepped forward and said to both women, “Sisters, we planned to fetch the two of you after a couple of days. I never thought you’d find your way here!”

“We’ve dismissed all the helpers in our house, and I decided to come with the children after discussing it with your Sister River. We plan to visit Fernando. We haven’t seen him for quite a while now, and we miss him badly.”

Sarai smiled weakly and said, “We don’t want the children to see their father in that state, though, so please help us take care of them for some time, and we will go take a look later.”

“Sure, no problem!” Lana agreed to it. Jack soon led the two of them to pay Fernando a visit.

Jack felt waves of bitterness in his heart when he saw how Sarai and River acted after they saw Fernando. The two of them sat by the thick ice layer and started crying.

Chapter 1567

Jack never imagined that such an unyielding man, a man who made great contributions to Daxia, would end up in such a situation and be enslaved into a puppet by others.

This was also because the other party was in a hurry to lure Jack out so they could kill him. Otherwise, Fernando's life energy would completely disperse some time later to the point he could not be saved.

Even as he returned to his room, Jack still looked dejected with a deep frown on his face.

Selena walked toward him and took his hands into hers as she studied his expression. "Honey, don't give yourself too much pressure-just try your best. Don' t blame yourself, do you understand? Otherwise, I'm afraid that this will affect your power to train! It'll be troublesome if this affects your breakthrough as you'll meet obstacles difficult to overcome."

"Alright, I understand." Jack nodded and continued speaking to Selena, "By the way, Selena, the Cabellos gave us Bone Marrow Cleansing Water sufficient for ten people. I've used four of the portions as I've given some to our mother and the rest today. There's still enough for six people, and I just had a thought: Should we make a trip back to Middle Province? Shall we distribute some to Sharon, Tanya, and the others?"

Selena smiled gently. "Sure! They've treated us well before, and there's not much use to keep this item. You should go back and give it to them, but I think I'll be staying back to train so I can break through into the initial stage of the demi-god level soon. By then, I'll be able to fly around. I'll stay at home to accompany our daughter. I've been talking with Sarai and River these past couple of days as well, I'll bring them around so they'll be well acquainted with the White family!"

Jack was inwardly relieved, never thinking his wife would be incredibly understanding. "I was afraid that you'd be unhappy due to jealousy because I planned to send these to Sharon and the others!"

However, Selena rolled her eyes when she heard what Jack said. "Why should I be jealous? They're all amazing girls, anyway. Previously, my mother wished for you to get involved with the George and Drake family. Who knew that the White family was actually one of the eight shadow families and you had such a strong background"

Jack smiled bitterly. "I never thought that I'd return to the White family someday. I initially thought that I'd never return to the White family in this lifetime, too. Who would've thought that that woman, Lily Lagorio, was the one who impeded the journey all this while."

Selena smiled and said with great understanding, “You’ve been quite tired and under great pressure recently. It’d be nice to go out and relax!”

“Don’t worry, I only see them as great friends. I’ll be back soon,” promised Jack smilingly.

The next morning, Jack headed for Middle Province on his flying sword.

“Ah, I’m so bored!” whined Tanya in a café located in Middle Province. “I wonder how that guy is right now. That guy never contacted us after he went to Gin City, but I heard that they’ve been wiped out after they offended a great force. He must be alright!”

Yvonne, who was next to her, had a wane smile. “You shouldn’t think so much; Jack’s incredibly capable. How can people like us be worthy of him? Apart from that, Jack has such a great relationship with his wife, so how can it be easily shaken? Isn’t that the person we fell for?”

Tanya glanced at Yvonne and said with a bitter smile on her face, “Cousin, you’ve finally acknowledged that you like him as well. You had always denied it in the past!”

Chapter 1568

Unexpectedly, Yvonne rolled her eyes at Tanya. “How dare you comment on me when you also acted the same way before? It’d be great if you were as brave as Sharon. Even though she failed, at least she confessed, right?”

Tanya smilingly replied, “That’s right-at least she had more things worth remembering him by. Who would’ve thought Jack was the Supreme Warrior and had such strong combat power? There hasn’t been any news or rumors about him in recent months. He might be living in seclusion, even.”

At this moment, Yvonne actually saw Sharon walking with a guy on the streets outside, and she seemed incredibly happy. “Tanya, look over there. Isn’t that woman Sharon? Why is she with a guy?”

“Hey, why does this guy’s figure look so familiar?” Tanya could not help but frown as she eyed the man.

Soon, the two of them exchanged looks and simultaneously exclaimed,” Jack!”

“Oh, my, it is him! Why has he returned?” Tanya suddenly stood up and walked toward the entrance of the café.

“Tanya, would it be bad for us to just barge forward like this? Would we be interrupting them?” Yvonne was just as inwardly excited as she followed after Tanya meekly.

“What are you afraid of? We’re good friends with Sharon, so why should we be embarrassed?” Tanya had longed to meet Jack again, and she did not want to lose such an opportunity after seeing him again

Although she knew Jack harbored no feelings for them, she would still be satisfied even to speak with Jack once again.

“Jack, Sharon!” Tanya stopped and called out to them after running a couple of steps forward with her bodyguards.

Jack and Sharon turned around at the same time, seemingly surprised “Jack, it really is you. Why have you returned?” Tanya was delighted when she saw that it was indeed Jack.

Before Jack could even explain, Sharon chirped, “The two of us were about to go look for you guys. Who would’ve thought we’ d meet in the streets! Jack had just returned and went to visit my house, and he was prepared to go to yours!”

“Is that true? You still know that you should visit us?” Tanya wore the look of suspicion yet felt giddy inwardly. Even if this guy thought of her as a friend, it was better for him to remember her than to forget her.

“Of course. I have something that I’d like to give to everyone!” Jack smiled. “It just so happened that I have a precious item sufficient for a couple of people, so I thought about you guys. That’s why I’m back; I’m prepared to give it to you.”

“Really? It’s great that you still remember us, your old friends!” spoke Yvonne with a roll of her eyes. “It’s quite late. Why don’t we search for a place to have dinner?”

“Alright, this will be my treat. Let’s go and search for a place to eat. We’ll catch up on old times over food!” Jack nodded. The group soon found a hotel and ordered a table full of food.

Chapter 1569

“By the way, Jack, we heard news that you went to Gin City when you left and also the so-called Swallow City, right?” asked the curious Tanya minutes after they dug into their meal.

Jack nodded as he then relayed some of the events that happened these few days while drinking

After they finished speaking, he took out three small porcelain bottles and placed them in front of the three women. “This is what I’ve mentioned. It’s a precious item capable of purifying the body and making you a martial artist, enabling you to join the journey of training; the Bone Marrow Cleansing Water. Just add it into hot water and soak yourself in the water for half an hour, but it’s best if your maid can be on guard next to you as it might hurt over time. I fear you girls might pass out due to the pain!”

“It doesn’t matter if it’s painful or not. It’s nice to be able to train!” Tanya took the small porcelain bottle in front of her as her eyes burned with determination.

“Yes. It doesn’t matter how strong I am-so long as I can train. Becoming a grandmaster in a place like Middle Province will mean not everyone can harass me!" Yvonne was equally happy and looked just as fired up.

"I still have three more bottles here, so everyone should take another bottle each. Those that aren't too old should be able to use it. You can give it to others in the future!" Jack took out the remaining three bottles and placed them on the table.

"That's too much considering how…precious these are. You're giving more to us when you've already given us a bottle?" Spoke the abashed Sharon.

Tanya thought about it and said, "That's right, Jack. Aren't you treating us a bit too nicely? By the way, does your wife know about this? Won't she be unhappy?"

"Haha… It's alright, I've told her about this. You guys can take everything. I've also prepared a copy of martial art technique, some spirited grass, and other items as well. It should be enough for everyone to train for one to two years!" Jack smiled again and took out the martial enhancement material before giving it to the three of them.

"Jack, you…you're so nice to us. I don't know how to thank you!" Sharon came toward Jack with a blush on her face and said, "It might be difficult for us to meet in the future. Can I get a hug?"

Jack originally wanted to refuse the suggestion but he failed as he was hit with Sharon' s expectant yet pitiful expression. With that, he stood up and stretched out his arms.

Sharon was secretly delighted. She immediately rushed into Jack's arms shyly and hugged him tightly.

After some time, Sharon felt the welled-up embarrassment in her that made her back away with a flushed face.

"I… I want a hug too!" Tanya abruptly stood up and walked over angrily, hugging Jack instantly

Yvonne was still hesitant when she saw how proactive Tanya was. She looked at the wine glass in front of her before pouring a whole glass of wine for herself. She gulped everything down in one go before standing up. “We might not see him anymore in this lifetime once he leaves. I want to hug the Supreme Warrior, too!”

Jack was embarrassed, but he could only stand there and let the three women take turns in hugging him for a while.

Everybody had their fair share of drinks before they left the hotel.

Jack also sent the three of them home before spending the night in the hotel. The next morning, he left Middle Province on his flying sword.

Jack could not help but stop when he flew toward the edge of Middle Province. He turned around and glanced at the familiar city. “I hope that the three of you can find someone suitable for you and cherishes you three fondly.”

Chapter 1570

Jack soon left the Middle Province and then returned to the White Family.

After returning to the White family, he studied that stone ball for two days. After all, he had not only reached the peak of the True God realm, but was also very stable in this realm. Therefore there was no need to cultivate, and what he had was plenty of time.

Unfortunately, after studying this stone ball for two days, he couldn’t learn anything from it other than the fact that it was absorbing the surrounding aura into it all the time.

"It looks like I should go to the Divine King Clan and ask, although I’m afraid that if I sent someone to inquire, there would be nothing useful from that inquiry!"

Jack couldn't help but smile bitterly after thinking about it for a while.

He didn't have much time, he didn't dare to keep delaying, even if he delayed for one more day, Fernando would be in a bit more danger.

"Are you planning to go alone, or are you taking more people with you? Would it be too dangerous for one person? What if, when the time comes, the people from the Divine King Clan want to snatch that stone ball of yours, what then?"

Hearing Jack's words, Selena asked with some concern.

"I'll just go alone, don't worry, that Divine King Sect already has three eggs in their hands now, there's no need to grab this one from me, besides, with my current strength, it's not that easy for them to keep me there!"

Jack smiled, when he went to that Black Wind Island before, his realm wasn't even particularly stable yet, he hadn't fully adapted to that newly increased power in his body, but even so, he was able to easily kill strong people with peak True God Realm cultivation.

But now that realm of his was even more stable, and his combat power was also a few points more powerful. so even if he went alone, he had nothing to fear.

"Well, the other party has been holding those three stone balls for almost twenty days now, right, and with so many people in their Divine King Sect, there must be more than one person staring at those stone balls, so it's good for you to go and ask!"

Selena said after thinking about it, she nodded.

At noon the next day, at the Divine King Sect.

Several old men, all staring at the three stone balls in front of them, kept studying them, and after studying them for half a day, one after another, they continued to shake their heads one after another.

"Hey, there's not much progress, other than finding out that this stone ball can actively absorb aura, there's no other clues, these strange runes on it, we can't read them either, these patterns are connected to them, it can't be some kind of formation, right?"

The First Elder of the Divine King Clan, after taking a closer look, couldn't help but speculate.

"Master, a group of people have come outside, saying they are looking for you, there are eighty or ninety people here, each with a cultivation level that isn’t low!"

Unexpectedly, just at this moment, a few disciples of the sect flew in and immediately reported.

"So many people? Did they say what kind of people they were?"

Master Yates frowned and immediately put away the stone ball that was placed on top of the table.

The First Elder laughed and said, "There is no need to guess, it is probably people from other family powers, recently there are always people coming over, wanting to ask you if you have researched anything. hehe, there are even some second-class family heads, privately looking for me for tea. as for the purpose, it is merely in hopes to get a glimmer of information. After all, any bit of information about the Ultimate God Realm is quite sensitive."

"No, even if other clans or sects come to visit, they usually don't come with so many people, it's too disgraceful for them to come with so many people! Even if they want to guard against our Divine King Clan, then they should just let the others wait on the mountain not far away. there is no need to come with so many, not to mention so many experts!"

Master Yates, however, shook his head.

The man who had come to report the news, however, smiled bitterly and arched his hand to the crowd, "Master, the other party said, you will know who he is when you see him, saying something about being an old acquaintance, he just hasn't seen you for many years, so he came to visit you!"

"An old acquaintance?"

Chapter 1571 skrappie

The elders looked at each other, confused.

The group of people soon flew out and arrived at the front of the sect, stopping in front of the group of people who had come to visit.

"You are?"

Master Yates looked at these people in front of him with a puzzled look on his face, among them was an old man who looked somewhat familiar, but he could not recall where he had seen him.

After all, once his younger brother had left back then, decades had passed. Everyone had gone from being middle-aged back then, to being old men now.

"Older brother, it's been a long time!"

Matthew Charles chuckled, before he arched his hand at Master Yates in front of him and asked.

Hearing this somewhat familiar voice, Master Yates finally recognised who the person in front of him was, and the smile on that face instantly stiffened, and his face became ugly.

His fist clenched as he gritted his teeth and said, "It has indeed been a long time, I didn't expect that you would dare to bring people to come here and find me?"

After saying that, Master Yates clenched his fist with a thick surge of chi on it, then in a flash, he appeared in front of Matthew and blasted his fist at him.

When Matthew saw this, he also immediately clenched his fist, mobilized the chi in his body, and then directly blasted a punch at Master Yates.

After this punch was thrown, both of them were shaken and sent flying for several steps before they stopped.

"Senior brother, don't fight. I've come to see you today for something, besides it's been so many years, why hurt the peace between us as brothers over a woman?"

Immediately after standing firm, Matthew advised Master Yates.

"Who is your elder brother? It’s been long since I have disregarded you as a younger brother, so don't call me senior brother in the future!"

Master Yates was so furious that he directly waved his sleeves, then put his hands behind his back, "Get lost!"

"Master, no, Master Yates, it's fine if you don't recognize me as your younger brother, let's just pretend we're strangers, okay?"

Matthew smiled awkwardly before saying, "I've come here on behalf of the Hall of Devine Clan to ask you something! Look, we've come all this way, can we go in and talk?"

"If you have something to say, say it, and say it quickly!"

Master Yates coldly dropped a sentence.

"It's about some matters regarding the Ultimate God Realm. Any other matters, I believe that would not interest you at all Master Yates, but this matter regarding the Ultimate God Realm, I believe this would definitely interest you!"

Matthew smiled, he thought that as long as he mentioned this matter of the Ultimate God Realm, his elder brother would definitely be very excited and interested.

However, he soon realised that he could not see that excited look on Master Yate’s face.

"Strange, could it be that the Elder Brother had already known about it?"

Matthew immediately frowned and began to contemplate.

Seeing that look on Matthew’s face, Master Yates also reacted instantly before deliberately revealing a few moments of surprise, "Really? About the Ultimate God Realm thing? If it’s true, oh, then do tell me about it!"

Chapter 1572

"Master Yates, it’s not good if we talk about it here is it? I’m thinking, how about we find a place to sit down and talk?"

Matthew smiled and finally said to Master Yates.

"Fine, then let's go over there to the council chambers to talk!"

After Master Yates thought about it, he led the people to fly directly in the direction of a palace, while Matthew and the others, immediately followed behind.

Soon, everyone was sitting down around a huge stone table.

"Speak!"

Although Master Yates agreed to let the other party in, his attitude wasn't very good. after sitting down, he also had a nonchalant look.

"Hey hey, elder brother, oh no, Master Yates, let me tell you, you may not know, some time ago, there was a group of people from the upper mainland who went to our side of the sea, think about it, our place is so far away from God King Hall, so just what did they go there for?"

"Our people, at once, guessed that these people must have known some secret about the Ultimate God Realm, and that's why they went inside our sea! So, we secretly followed them and eventually found out that they had actually gone inside the Black Wind Forest of Black Wind Island! In the end, it seems that there was a fight over an egg that was like a stone!"

Matthew looked at Master Yates with a smile and gave the general situation, and finally said, "So, we guessed that this stone ball like thing, must have some relation to breaking through to Ultimate God Realm. So we got into a fight with them, but the other side was quite strong. we actually couldn't beat each other, especially that White family's kid, it was really terrifying! We weren't even a match for him, and he even killed two of our strongest people at the peak of the True God realm!"

"Hehe, is that so? The White family's brat is so formidable, good on him! His killing, it's also kind of helping me out!"

Unexpectedly, when Master Yates heard this, he instead smiled coldly and said with an indifferent expression.

The corners of matthew's mouth twitched viciously for a few moments before he said, "Master Yates, the past is the past, is it, are you not interested in this stone ball? What I mean by this is that water rich in nutrients shouldn't flow to outsiders' fields!"

"Water rich in nutrients should not flow to outsiders' fields? What do you mean?"

Master Yates raised his eyebrows and slowly asked.

"Hehe, what I mean is simple, that is, at that time, there were quite a lot of people from the other side, and now they must have gone back to their respective families. But even so, this White family is not that easy to deal with, so, our two families should join forces. go and snatch that stone ball, and then study it together to see if we can break through to the Ultimate God Realm together!"

Matthew chuckled, before he gave his idea away.

"You have a good idea!"

Master Yates sighed with emotion and said to Matthew "However, I'm not interested in that stone ball right now, so you'd better go!"

"Not interested? Are you kidding? That thing, it might be able to find the mystery to break through to Ultimate God Realm, and you're actually not interested?"

Matthew rubbed himself to his feet, his eyes full of disbelief. how could he have ever imagined that his older brother would say such a thing. to be able to break through to the Ultimate God Realm, might allow one to have a life span of two hundred years, in such a case, he was actually not interested?

Master Yates then directly took out a stone ball and placed it in front of him, "I have one here already, just study it yourself, why would I want to rob it? What's more, you've also said that the White family is not to be messed with!"

"You have one too?"

Matthew took two steps forward, and then intended to walk over and look at the stone ball.

Chapter 1573

However, Master Yates placed his hand on top of the stone ball and it was gone in a flash, stowed away.

Matthew was speechless for a while, before he retreated and sat down, frowning, "Actually, there are two of them? No wonder you didn't want to rob the White family's stone ball!"

"This thing, there are more than two, there is one inside each of the Seven Great Dangerous Lands. I could have not told you this piece of information at all, but it's fine to tell you, after all, even if I don't tell you about this, you will definitely be able to inquire about it after you go down there!"

Master Yates said with a smile.

"There is one in each of the seven great danger zones? In which dangerous land did you get this one?"

As soon as Matthew heard this, his heart moved and he immediately asked.

"I know what you're thinking, you want to go and see the stone balls inside the other dangerous lands, right? Unfortunately, it's too late for you to go now. the ancient sects and clans on the other continents have already acted long ago, and by now, those stone balls have all been taken out. So, you'd better stop dreaming!"

Master Yates finally laughed, "Alright, I can only tell you this much, I've already given you enough face, you'd better go, go back to your seas!"

Matthew naturally did not want to die, nor could he be willing to go back just like that. After thinking about it, he then asked Master Yates, "So, you should have gotten this stone ball for some time, right? I wonder, have you researched anything out?"

"Hehe, if I had already researched something, why would I be here talking nonsense with you? I must be in a hurry to break through, and if I break through to the Ultimate God Realm, one day when I'm in a bad mood, I'll go to your bullshit God King Hall and show you how powerful I am!"

When he thought of what happened back then, Master Yates's heart was still a little troubled, so he didn't have any good words to say.

"Hey, elder brother, why do you have to? It's just for a woman, and it's been so many years and she's dead, so you'd better let it go!"

Matthew sighed and persuaded.

"Let it go? If it wasn't for you, she wouldn't have died!"

Master Yates slapped the table and stood up, "Get lost, I never want to see you again! To be able to talk to me for that long today is already considered good enough for you!"

"Alright, in that case, then we'll leave!"

Matthew also knew that even if he continued to stay, he wouldn't get any more information, and he was already satisfied with being able to get so much useful information today.

Next, he planned to have someone ask around to see which other powers had obtained this kind of stone ball, and when the time came, to see which of the powers that had obtained this stone ball was the weakest, he would find this weakest power and snatch one over first.

In his heart, he could only pray that the White family would not be the weakest power, after all, that kid from the White family was too strong, and he did not want to fight against them.

"Master, there's someone visiting outside!"

However, just as they were about to leave, a disciple of the Divine King Clan ran in and once again arched his hand.

"I'm not in the mood for visitors today, no matter who it is, tell him to go back first and say that I'm not in a good mood!"

Master Yates waved his hand, he reckoned that it was some family head who wanted to come and inquire about the situation again. These days, he was so annoyed by this matter, plus today, he was a bit more impatient after meeting this murderous junior disciple.

But Matthew had brought so many people here, and he had just tested Matthew’s strength, and it was not an easy feat to kill the other party. so he simply did not want to pay attention to the other party.

Chapter 1574

That disciple did not immediately withdraw, and after thinking about it, he then said softly, "Master, the person who came is not from a second-class family or a third-class family, it's, it's the young master of the White family, Jack!"

"It's that brat?"

Elder Mosley glanced at the others and Matthew upon hearing this, and the other people from the Divine King Hall were also slightly shocked, not expecting that that brat had actually come as well.

"It's him?"

The Divine King Clan’s Master also froze for a moment. if it was a general family head of a small power, it would be alright if he chose to either see or not see him, there was no need to give face to the other party.

However, if it was Jack, then he had to give face, not to mention that he had just learned from the God King Hall's Hall Master that Jack still had one of those stone balls in his hand.

However, after thinking about it, he asked again, "How many people did he come with? There wouldn't be many, would there?"

That disciple then said, "Only one person came, this kid came on his flying sword. He's quite bold to dare to come alone!"

"Really only one person?"

Before Master Yates could say more, Matthew's face had more than a hint of excitement. If only Jack was alone, wouldn't this be the best chance to snatch the treasure from his hands? This kid definitely had that stone ball on him, and there were dozens of them here, and each one of them was also a strong person with True God realm cultivation. so if they all went together, couldn't they still snatch the treasure over?

"Yeah, there's only one, and we've all seen it!"

That disciple immediately said.

"Let's go, go out and take a look at this kid!"

With a wave of his hand, Matthew flew out with the others.

"Go!"

Master Yates was stunned and instantly reacted to what Matthew meant by this, and immediately flew out with his men as well, and also asked one of the elders to go and call some more of the clan's strongest people over.

"You guys are actually here too?"

Jack waited for a while, but he didn't expect that the first ones to fly out were dozens of people, and they were actually from the Divine King Hall, which made his face frown slightly, quite surprised.

"Haha, kid, isn't that quite surprising? I truly didn’t expect it. you are actually coming to the Divine King Clan alone, you brat, you must be looking for my elder brother to discuss this matter of the stone ball?"

Matthew laughed out loud, a few more moments of excitement in his eyes.

Of course, he deliberately mentioned the fact that Jack had come alone, just to see if Jack had really come alone. In case this kid had brought others with him, hiding in the distant woods or on the big mountain, then they wouldn't dare to make a move easily.

"What I had come to discuss with Master Yates, has nothing to do with you, right? I really didn't expect that Master Yates was actually your elder brother!"

Chapter 1575 Medz

Jack smiled coldly and said.

Hearing that Jack did not emphasize that he had not come alone, Matthew’s heart was pleased. it looked like this kid had really come alone, so that would be good.

"Shoo shoo shoo!"

Just at this time, Master Yates flew over with his men as well, along with more powerful people from the Divine King Sect, who also rushed over one after another.

"Master Yates, this kid is the person we want to find. He actually came alone, If we strike at him later, I hope you won't interfere. after all, this is a personal grudge between me and him, this kid killed two of my peak True God realm powerhouses, and quite a few True God realm experts, this debt, it's time to settle it!"

After seeing Master Yates arrive, Canghai Ming smiled and said in a calm manner.

Master Yates froze for a moment, then sneered, "Hall Master Canghai Ming, this is not very good, this Jack is not an ordinary person, he is the son of the White family's head, moreover, he is the heir to the White family head, and he came to my place, I should naturally receive him well. He came to my clan today, thus he is the guest of honor of my Divine King Clan. How can I allow you to kill the guest of honor in my clan? What if word of this gets out? When that happens, who will dare to visit my place anymore?"

The corners of Canghai Ming's mouth immediately twitched slightly a few times before he said, "Master Yates, this is nothing, right? After all, this is a private matter between our two families, so if you don't help either party, it would be justifiable for word to get out.

But Master Yates sneered, "In my eyes, Jack is my guest, and you people are not.

When Jack saw that Master Yates was actually trying to help him, his heart was slightly warmed.

However, he still arched his hand at Master Yates, "Master Yates, thank you for your kindness, however, the Master of this Divine King Hall is right, between me and them, it is indeed considered a personal grudge, and I don't want to involve your Divine King Clan in our two families' affairs!"

"What! You ....."

Divine King Sect Master Master Yates was speechless in his heart, was this Jack crazy? The other side had several peak True God Realm powerhouses, not to mention that there were so many late True God Realm and mid True God Realm cultivators, so many people, and Jack still didn't appreciate it? Wasn't this tantamount to sending him to his death?

The First Elder of the Divine King Clan was also furious and directly said with a cold face, "Jack, are you crazy? Can't you see that our Master is trying to help you? If you do that, what's the difference between that and seeking death?"

Jack did not care and said, "It doesn't matter, there are not many of them, even if they all came at me, I'm afraid there are only five True God Realm peaks, with many more in the middle True God Realm and early True God Realm, if I don't show them a little bit of skill, they really won't know how foolish it is to chase us to this continent!"

Now that Jack's cultivation level has completely stabilized, his combat power had also improved a lot compared to before. The most crucial thing was that he was the only one here, the other White family members were not here, he didn't have so many worries anymore, in such a situation, he really didn't put these dozens of so-called strong people in front of him in his eyes.

"Hall Master, this kid is too crazy, isn't he? How dare he say that there are only five strong people with peak True God realm cultivation!"

"Yes, Hall Master, this kid actually doesn't mention us, the late True God realm cultivators, could it be that he doesn't put us in his eyes?"

Many of the strong men from the Divine King Hall were all furious and looked at Jack in front of them with anger and great displeasure.

"Jack, since you have thought it over and have said so, then let it be, I won't care about this matter, if you regret it then, it's useless to beg me, I am a person, once I decide not to interfere, I will definitely not interfere!"

Master Yates was also a little upset, he wanted to help out with good intentions, but he didn't expect this kid Jack to be ungrateful.

"Think about it!"

Jack smiled and flew a little further away in a flash, then hooked his hand at the Hall Master of the Divine King Hall, "Are you sure you want to fight me? Don't regret it when the time comes! The people of this Divine King Clan will not help you!"

Chapter 1576

“Haha, do we still need their help? Kid, you're joking, right? Here we have five strong people at the peak of the True God realm, each and every one of them is a super powerful existence, not to mention, there are a dozen or so late True God realm, with many mid True God realm and early True God realm cultivators, and not even a single person at the demi-god realm cultivation, do you think you still have a chance of surviving?"

There was a man in the middle True God realm, but after hearing this, he laughed out loud.

"Swoosh Swoosh Swoosh!"

Those other men, too, immediately scattered and formed a circular arc, preparing to attack Jack.

Jack's eyes narrowed slightly, his fist surged with aura above his fist, and he actually flashed, taking the lead in charging out.

"Swoosh!"

Jack's speed was as fast as lightning, instantly turning into a streak and disappearing in place.

"What speed!"

There was a guy who immediately exclaimed in amazement, feeling like his eyes were blurry.

"Be careful!"

An old man next to him, immediately exclaimed in shock.

However, it was already too late as Jack abruptly appeared in front of the man from before and blasted him above the chest with one punch.

"Boom!"

A huge boom sounded, and the man with an early True God Realm cultivation level was actually directly blown away by Jack's fist.

"My god, no way, he has at least an early True God realm cultivation, and his body is already very hard, but he was actually blown up?"

Someone immediately exclaimed after seeing this scene, seeing how powerful the explosive power within that body was with this punch from Jack just now.

"Boom!"

However, just as his words fell, Jack appeared in front of another man of the middle True God realm, and similarly, he blasted the other man away with a single punch.

"This power, I'm not even a match for sure!"

Master Yates, who saw this scene, sucked in a breath of cold air, the power within Jack's body was just too powerful, this kid's combat power was indeed perverted to a terrifying degree.

However, with so many strong people on the other side, could Jack, alone, really be a match for the other side?

"This kid, charging directly into the crowd of the opponent, if they fight in close quarters, the opponent's people are not good enough to make a move for fear of hurting their own people, this kid is really too smart!"

The First Elder of the Divine King Clan, after looking at it, actually spoke up.

Master Yates's heart dawned, then he understood why Jack actually took the initiative to rush out, as long as the people on the other side, didn't pull away for a short time, it would be hard to strike at him, moreover, with this speed, he was flying between the people, it would be hard for everyone's attacks, to be aimed at him.

"Damn it, this kid, it's so abominable!"

Seeing that in a matter of moments, Jack had killed two more strong people with True God realm cultivation, Canghai Ming was so angry that he gritted his teeth.

"Everyone, spread out a bit!"

Canghai Ming was not stupid and instantly saw through Jack's intentions and said in a panic, "Everyone don't make a mess, this will even let him have his way!"

After such a short while, Jack had killed several powerful people, Canghai Ming also felt it, and almost all of them panicked, one by one they were nervous.

After all, there was a good chance that they would be next.

With a flip of his palm, Jack directly took out that extremely high quality spirit weapon, and quickly injected his aura into it, the sword in his hand instantly glowed brightly, and Jack's aura, instantly followed by climbing up a lot.

Chapter 1577

"Swoosh!"

Jack chopped out with his sword, and a slash of flame went straight for several guys in front of him.

"Give me an attack!"

Those guys clutched the swords in their hands, and one by one, they also put their attacks into play, this time Jack was a bit far away from them, and finally had a chance to counterattack.

"Boom boom boom!"

However, even so, the four men's attacks were actually destroyed easily by Jack's attacks, and the next second that remaining aftermath landed directly on them.

"Bang Bang Bang!"

Several slightly dull sounds rang out in quick succession, three guys were directly decapitated, and the other old man, whose cultivation level reached the late True God realm, was not decapitated, but he was also seriously injured and fell heavily to the ground, a mouthful of blood gushed out, unable to even stand up.

"Roar!"

At this time, one of the elders at the peak of the True God realm finally aimed at Jack and attacked him, an incomparably huge fierce tiger made of aura just appeared in front of him and then charged at Jack.

"Hmph!"

Facing such a terrifying attack from his opponent, Jack, however, coldly snorted, not only did he not show the slightest fear, his eyes even had a little more fighting spirit in them, a terrifying battle spirit that filled his heart.

"Great Wave Impact!"

Jack leapt fiercely and slashed his sword out in front of him, and a wave of aura appeared in front of him, flying directly out in front of him.

As Jack now performed this move, that attack was again clearly a few points more powerful than before, the wave covered a larger area and the wave looked higher.

"This kid's fighting power seems to be a few points more powerful than before!"

A guy's face looked ugly after seeing this scene.

"This attack of his covers a very wide area directly, there are more than a dozen people on the opposite side, all within the attack range!"

Master Yates couldn't help but let out a sigh of relief after seeing this scene, Jack's combat power made him feel scared.

He no longer had any doubt that if it was himself who met such a strike from Jack, he was afraid that he would not be able to dodge it and would only be able to resist it, not to mention that he might not even be able to resist it for long.

"Ah!"

The powerful people on the other side that were covered by the attack, one by one, also unleashed their most powerful attacks.

However, in front of Jack's attack, their attacks were destroyed as if they had been wiped out.

Twelve people were killed by Jack just like that, which also included the peak True God realm powerhouse who had cast out a huge fierce tiger.

"Urgh!"

Seeing this scene, Canghai Ming sucked in a breath of cold air and his face turned white with fear, only now did he realize how terrifying this fellow Jack was, he flung his sword out and actually turned around and ran, "Everyone, run, this kid is too powerful, if this continues, if he performs a few more attacks like the one he just did, we will all be finished!"

Those other people were also terrified, the attack of twelve people just now could not even block Jack's strike, killing all of them, this was the first time they had seen such combat power.

Of course, if they knew that Jack had killed six strong people with peak True God realm cultivation when he had not yet broken through to the peak of the True God realm, he wondered how they would feel.

"Want to leave, it's not that easy?"

Jack's speed was too fast, and after blocking his opponent's chop with one sword, he directly aimed another sword at Canghai Ming in front of him and chopped out.

"Wave Sword!"

This time, Jack executed an even more powerful attack, a stalk of aura flying swords, which was actually like a sword dragon, directly rushed out.

Chapter 1578

Canghai Ming looked back and turned white with fear, Jack's attack this time was even more powerful than before, moreover, the speed of this attack was really too fast, it caught up with him in a flash, obviously even faster than him.

"Fire Phoenix Chop!"

Seeing that he was about to be caught up, he had no choice but to turn around immediately, injecting his aura into the extremely high quality spirit weapon in his hand, and blasted out with his sword at the front.

Several other guys, who were also within the range of the attack, also immediately stopped and executed their attacks.

"Roar!"

In front of Canghai Ming, a huge phoenix actually appeared, which looked like it was all condensed from aura and charged straight ahead with a terrifying fluctuation.

"Boom boom boom!"

Those flying swords of Jack landed on top of the fire phoenix in an instant, attacking it non-stop, blasting that phoenix away after a few moments, moreover, those flying swords were still continuing forward, destroying the attacks of those few people behind them.

Although the flying swords kept being consumed, the attacking power of each of those flying swords was amazingly powerful, and there were still quite a few of them left, which separated directly and went at those five people in a flash.

"Luckily, the Hall Master has bought us a lot of time!"

Someone had already flown a dozen miles away, and after looking back, he was still in a state of shock.

"I wonder if the Hall Master will survive!"

Another fellow, also with a sunken face did not care too much and left. They scattered in all directions one by one and fled.

"Bang bang bang!"

Those four guys, unable to resist at all, were struck by the terrifying flying swords of aura, directly piercing through their bodies and falling from the air.

"Make it bigger for me!"

However, that Hall Master of the Divine King Hall, however, immediately threw out his extremely high quality spirit weapon which then grew larger, forming a very large shield.

Almost as soon as he threw the flying sword out, he turned and fled, turning into a streak of shadow and heading straight ahead.

"Boom boom boom!"

Jack's attack was parried by the flying sword, but the flying sword was also blown away.

"Pfft!"

The Extreme Flying Sword had a hint of spiritual connection with Canghai Ming, and now it was being blasted one after another, causing a mouthful of blood to gush out of Canghai Ming.

However, he still gritted his teeth and controlled the flying sword once again, continuing to fly and blocking in front of Jack.

"Boom!"

Jack blasted out another attack, landing on top of the flying sword, and the connection between Canghai Ming and the flying sword was completely shattered. Canghai Ming once again gushed out a mouthful of blood, and the flying sword immediately became smaller and fell down.

Seeing this extremely high quality spiritual weapon, Jack hesitated for a moment and flew down directly, catching it before it hit the ground, and only then did he fly up again.

However, with such a delay, those guys had already rushed into the distant woods of the big mountain, and it was obviously not that easy to continue the pursuit.

"Forget it, let's spare your life for now today, killing more than twenty strong people is enough, not to mention, there are still two Elders at the peak of the True God realm among them!"

Jack looked at the ground, smiled faintly, and flew down again to pick up his spoils of war.

Chapter 1579

"This kid, he's too strong, so many people surrounded him and he actually killed more than twenty people from the other side unscathed, if it wasn't for Canghai Ming and the others who escaped quickly, I'm afraid they would have died here too!"

Looking at Jack who was picking up the spoils of war below, a middle-aged woman from the Divine King Sect said with immense emotion.

"This son must never be offended, and must even be befriended... Fortunately, we have, before, always acted in a low profile and have not offended him! Although this kid's cultivation level is at the peak of the True God realm, his combat power has far exceeded his cultivation level, I suspect that it's even comparable to the combat power of an Ultimate God Realm powerhouse! Although, I've never seen a strong person with an Ultimate God Realm level either!"

Master Yates also let out a long breath, that scene just now was too shocking, especially the two consecutive moves that Jack performed before him, which still reverberated in his mind.

"En, I'm afraid that the people from the Cloud Sky Clan and the Lagorio Family are in trouble, haha, if they offend the White Family, they are looking for death, especially the Cloud Sky Clan, they had already lost six strong people at the peak of the True God realm when they said they met a terrifying demonic beast before, now they are even more reduced in strength!"

The First Elder of the Divine King Clan nodded, then said.

"En, this time, I don't know how the Yunxiao Clan's losses will be after entering that dangerous land, if their losses are large, I reckon that the White family might dare to strike. If the losses are small, the White family's people, I reckon, won't strike for the time being, because quite simply, the White family's top powerhouse, as a whole, is still a bit less, and Jack doesn't want to have a big sacrifice, if a big sacrifice is needed in exchange for the White family's victory, that's a bit uneconomical!"

Master Yates thought about it before guessing.

And just as their words fell, Jack also flew up from below, then he arched his hand at Master Yates: "Thank you for your kindness just now, Master Yates, but this whatsoever Divine King Hall's people, they followed us to that Black Wind Island before, causing us to lose some more people overall as well, since we ran into them today, we must teach them some lessons! "

The corners of Master Yates's mouth twitched slightly, this was not a lesson to the other side, if the other side ran a little slower, these strong people would have been killed, then, the God King Hall would basically be considered to exist in name only!

"Haha, Young Master Jack, your combat power is really unspeakable of!"

Master Yates laughed, "After all, you are a valued guest of our sect, so I naturally want to help if I can, but I didn't expect that Young Master Jack would be so powerful, we didn’t even need to help and you could handle it alone!"

After saying that, Master Yates thought about it and immediately led the way, "Let's go, if Young Master Jack has anything to do, let's talk inside!"

"Good!"

Jack nodded, he also felt that after such a battle just now, these people from this Divine King Sect were obviously looking at him a little differently than before, with a little more respect.

"By the way, these corpses ....."

However, after just a few steps of flying, Jack stopped again and looked at those corpses on the ground.

"Hey, you don't need to worry about this, our people, they know how to clean up!"

Master Yates laughed.

"Thanks a lot then!"

Jack arched his hand.

Canghai Ming and the others, one by one, were scared to death in their hearts, and kept flying for an hour or two before they stopped. Canghai Ming was also pale, obviously suffering from a lot of injuries.

"Damn, this kid’s power is too perverted, how can he have such terrifying fighting power?"

Canghai Ming took out a healing pill and after swallowing it, he said with a big gasp of air.

"Hall Master, now, what should we do?"

"Yes, Hall Master, that kid is too powerful, we'd better go back to the seas, this White family, it's better not to offend!"

Several old men, all persuaded Canghai Ming as they were really scared.

"You guys are really no good! If we go back to the seas, I'm afraid we won't be able to break through to Ultimate God Realm for the rest of our lives, moreover, this time we failed to surround that kid, now he might be afraid of our large number of people and not bother us, but what if he breaks through to Ultimate God Realm and directly leads people to kill our God King Hall? What then?"

Canghai Ming glared at these guys in front of him with no good grace, then clenched his fists and said with a firm face, "We can't leave, let's find a place to stay first, and then we'll discuss it afterwards!"

Chapter 1580

Canghai Ming and the others were prepared to find a place to stay before making plans, keeping an eye on the movements of the major powers on the mainland.

Moreover, they quickly sent two people to go back to the God King Hall and bring some demi-god realm True God realm powerhouses with them, intending to stay on the nearest island off the coast from the mainland and wait for orders at any time, so that they could not come in time when they needed to use a large amount of manpower.

At this moment, Jack, Master Yates and the others, once again returned to the immense and incomparable council chamber.

"Well? Master Yates, let's talk about matters regarding this stone ball. I got one, but I studied it for the past two days and couldn't see anything. I know Master Yates has been studying it for quite some time now, I'm not sure if there were any breakthroughs?"

Jack smiled and said directly, "If there are any ideas, I wonder if you can tell me a thing or two!"

"Haha, you kid, you're really straightforward!"

After Master Yates was stunned, he actually laughed out loud, "So many people who came to visit all wanted to inquire about this matter, but they all beat around the bush and talked about other irrelevant matters for half a day, some even patted me on the back for half a day before getting to the main matter, you are different, you went straight to the point right away!"

"Haha, isn't that good? This way we can all save time, right? Especially Master Yates, your time is so precious, how can you waste it on something insignificant?"

Jack laughed and quickly looked at the other party seriously again and said, "Right, Master Yates, if you don't want to tell me anything or don't want to discuss it with me, I'll leave now!"

"Why the need to leave so early? I like your character!"

Master Yates said with a smile, then with a flip of his palm, he took out a stone ball and placed it on the table in front of him, "We have been studying this stone ball, and we have been staring at it every day, but to be honest, we haven't seen anything so far. The only thing we know is that the stone ball is automatically absorbing aura, and the runes on it feel like they were left over from a long time ago, and we don't know what they do!"

"Right, Young Master Jack, we even tried to smash this stone ball, but it couldn't even be smashed, it felt solid, not hollow, it shouldn't be any kind of egg. We even put it on fire and burned it, but didn't find any change either!"

Another elder of the Divine King Sect, after thinking about it, then said at the side.

After hearing this, Jack looked slightly strange, he really didn't expect that the people of this Divine King Clan had actually tried so many other methods.

"One more thing, we found that this thing, if it's in the night of the full moon, then the speed of absorbing spiritual qi is incredibly fast, at least ten times faster than at ordinary times, maybe even twenty times, this can absorb a lot of spiritual qi in a day!"

Master Yates spoke again.

Jack sucked in a breath of cold air, his heart was really shocked, "In two or three days it will be the full moon again, wouldn't this rate of absorption be even faster if the seven stone balls absorbed spirit energy at the same time? The spiritual chi in our places is not as dense as the spiritual chi on that Black Wind Island, if we go at this speed, more will actually be absorbed?"

"Yes, this thing is only absorbing aura and not spitting it out, what is it trying to do? This is indeed nothing if you look at it for a short period of time, but if they keep on absorbing aura non-stop, then it will still be scary after a long time!"

Master Yates said with a frown again after thinking about it.

"Young Master Jack, what about you? Do you have any other views, or thoughts?"

Master Yates asked Jack again after thinking about it.

"Yes, this thing is only absorbing aura and not spitting it out, what is it trying to do? This is indeed nothing if you look at it for a short period of time, but if they keep on absorbing aura non-stop, then it will still be scary after a long time!"

Master Yates said with a frown again after thinking about it.

"Young Master Jack, what about you? Do you have any other views, or thoughts?"

Master Yates asked Jack again after thinking about it.

Chapter 1581

Jack smiled bitterly. “I’ve just obtained this thing several days ago. I’ve studied it during these two days and have gotten some information about it, but not as much as you did. I concluded the same thing as you did!”

Harry and the others were not surprised at Jack’s reply. After all, they had studied the stone ball for so many days and all of them were experienced, but they still failed to get anything. Jack had just gotten the stone ball, and he only had one ball. Without extra balls, it was natural he did not dare to do anything to it in fear of accidentally destroying it.

On the contrary, Harry and his people had three balls. They were able to take one for testing and to see if it could be easily destroyed.

They did not expect, however, for Jack to speak up after a moment of silence, “I have a bold idea.”

“What is it?” Harry and the others immediately asked.

Jack thought about it and said, “ I’m thinking that we won’t be able to get anything out of it if we continue to study it like this but if we can take all seven stone balls out, I wonder what'll happen if we placed them together? What do you think?"

"Place all seven together?" Harry frowned, obviously troubled at the thought. After all, it was great enough for the other forces to get one ball each, while their Divine King Sect had three of such stone balls.

These three stone balls were obtained at the cost of many masters from their ancient clan. They even suffered the deaths of many of their disciples.

It was not cost-effective for them if they were to lend the balls. They had suffered a huge loss for visiting three dangerous areas. If that was the case, they should have just visited one instead.

Jack instantly understood the other party's difficulties when he saw how Harry frowned. He smiled with uncertainty and said, "Of course, this is just a thought of mine. You can consider them later, Master Harry, while we conduct our research separately. After all, both our families have a total of four out of those seven stone balls right now. Who knows whose hands the remaining three are in."

"Yes. We also heard that the eight shadow families got two dangerous areas while the three remaining ancient clans got two dangerous areas, too!" Harry nodded before turning to look at Jack in admiration. "I was thinking back then why the three ancient clans promised to give you guys two of the dangerous areas so easily instead of asking for three themselves. It looks like your strength was one of the reasons they gave way, right?"

"Haha! Then I'll make my move now. I believe I'll soon learn which forces got the other stone balls," said the smiling Jack.

"You don't need to make guesses. The Supreme Clarity Sect got one while the Flying Eagle Sect got one as well. People from those two ancient clans had just visited us for a chat two days ago, wanting to know if we had any development since we got the stone balls first." Harry smiled and continued, "I'm just wondering which family among your aristocratic families got the remaining balls."

Jack was stunned before he laughed loudly with alacrity. “If that’s the case, does the Cloud Sky Sect get nothing? Joel Collins must be vomiting blood out of anger right now! Haha!”

Chapter 1582

“Haha!” Harry burst out laughing as he added, “That old weasel Joel is very cunning. He’d want to get a stone ball through whatever means necessary if he hadn’t had one already, so you best be on your guard. He won’t dare steal from us, the three ancient clans, but I’m not so certain about your White family. That is, if he doesn’t have a clear idea of your true strength.”

“Hmph! Unless he doesn’t come over. If he dares come to our White family, I’ll make him regret it!” scoffed Jack, absolutely confident with his current strength

Harry nodded thoughtfully and replied, “Yes, and I heard that the Cloud Sky Sect had lost six masters in the peak stage of the true god-level. When they traversed the dangerous area, they encountered numerous strong monster beasts and fought with two other ancient clans. The Cloud Sky Sect suffered the biggest loss this time, and they might not dare confront your White family.”

“That’ll be for the best. Although I’m not afraid of them, the White family will suffer greatly if they go all out on us, and I don’t want our people to be sacrificed. Our White family is growing speedily right now, training rigorously since we have martial enhancement materials.” Jack then threw out his sword and, jumping on it, gestured with his hands to Harry. “I’ll be taking my leave now, Master Harry. Let’s contact each other if anything arises.”

With that, Jack flew out on his sword and left.

Harry was silent as he watched Jack leave before he commented, “It’s difficult for the White family to not progress with this young man in their family. Such a person looks at the bigger picture. Although they have the strength to defeat the Cloud Sky Sect right now, Jack doesn't act out of impulsiveness and instead wants to buy more time for the White family so they can grow stronger. They won’t be defeated easily, even if they’re to fight the Cloud Sky Sect.”

Meanwhile, at the Cloud Sky Sect.

Joel glowered intensely.

“Jack is the one to be blamed. If it wasn’t for him, we don’t need to only get two dangerous areas for three ancient clans. There isn’t enough to go around, and it’s bad enough that we had to fight those from the other clans, but we still had to fight those strong monster beasts. Ah, curses! Not only did we lose a few thousands of people, but we even lost many from the true god-level!” Joel grew angrier the more he thought about it, dumping the blame entirely on Jack. If that young man did not have such astonishing combat power and made them temporarily back down, their ancient clans would not suffer such a huge loss.

“That’s right. It’s all because of Jack, and we should blame it all on him. If it wasn’t for him, our Lagorio family wouldn’t be suffering. I heard that my father followed them to the so-called Bright Snow Mountain and many people died there. My father, especially, was badly wounded and almost died there!” growled Lily, wanting nothing more than to tear Jack into shreds.

Joel glanced at Lily, who was beside him, as his heart was filled with extreme regret. Why did he allow his lust to consume him when he married this woman? He would not have to go through so many problems had he not.

Chapter 1583

As he grew angrier at the thought, Joel mumbled, “My Cloud Sky Sect wouldn’t have been afflicted greatly if it weren’t for you.”

Lily, however, heard it all as her head whipped toward Joel furiously. “Joel Collins, what are you talking about?” she hissed.” How can you blame this on me? Who could’ve known that a few indomitable monster beasts would appear when you sent six masters to ambush those three from the White family, killing all six in the process? Can I be blamed for that? I’m not those monster beasts!”

Lily’s eyes turned red from anger as she continued, “Also, I'm not the one who forced you to go to Bright Snow Mountain this time. How can you blame me when you guys were the ones who went by yourself? I only asked you to help me kill Jack and the others…"

The sight of a teary Lily softened Joel's heart as he coaxed," Alright, alright… Everything is my fault, alright? I won't blame it on you next time."

Joel paused momentarily before he continued lamenting, "Still, we've suffered a devastating loss, and three masters in the peak stage of the true god-level had died there. We're only left with seven people, so we're not able to avenge you and wipe out the White family right now. We can only consider this at length."

Lily's anger subsided little by little at his words, thus she walked toward him and wrapped her arms around his neck, coquettishly saying, "Honey, we aren't in a hurry- we can take it slow. The most important thing right now is to see if the White family had obtained the stone ball upon entering the dangerous area. Apart from that, we need to see the situation of their losses. What if they have suffered even greater losses? Won't we have an opportunity then?"

Joel sneakily grabbed Lily by her beguiling waist before he smiled. "Don't worry, I'm no fool. I've already sent people to inspect and ask around, and I believe we'll have results soon. I'll surely take action if there's an opportunity, but if there's none, we'll have to bear with it for now. The White family dare not attack us right now, after all. We'll think of a way to take a stone ball for ourselves. It'll be in our best interest if I manage to break through to the ultimate god-level."

"Yes, honey, work hard! I believe in you, and you'll surely be the first to break through to the ultimate god-level!" spoke Lily encouragingly as she pumped her fists.

At that moment, two disciples of their ancient clan rushed in.

Joel instantly glowered in the interruption, and with Lily still in his arms, he eyed the two in disbelief. "Why did you both rush in so hastily? You're both awfully rude! Speak up, what happened?!"

Those two knelt down on one knee and said, "Clan master, we've finished the investigation. This time, the people who went to Bright Snow Mountain are mainly people from the Hunt family, and almost half the families went with them. The Hunts didn't obtain the stone ball, but nobody knows who has the stone ball right now."

"Impossible! Nobody knows who got the stone ball?" Joel frowned. "If the Hunts didn't get the stone ball, could it be people from the other first-class aristocratic families? As long as it's in the hands of some first-class aristocratic family, it'll be difficult to take the stone ball from them. We've suffered too much and we can't afford to go head-to-head with first-class aristocratic families. They surely won't go out alone after obtaining the stone ball, either. They'd stay in their house to study the ball together!"

"It looks like the other first-class aristocratic family didn't get it, too," said one of the kneeling disciples. "We don't know if the third-class or second -class aristocratic families got it!"

Chapter 1584

"You mean that the other first-class aristocratic families that entered Bright Snow Mountain with the Hunts didn't get the stone ball either, and no one knows which aristocratic family got it?" The news shocked Joel for a moment before the joy settled in his system. "If it's not with first-class aristocratic families, it might be in the hands of someone from the second or third-class aristocratic families. If that's the case… Haha! What good news! We still have the chance to ask around, and I believe news of who has it will be revealed. We'll then take it from whoever has it once we know who has the stone ball!"

Joel thought about it and asked," By the way, how about the White family? Which dangerous area did they go to? Any news about their situation?"

"Members from the White family, Cabello family, Lucas Family, Lanaster family, and several smaller families went to Black Windy Island together. I think the White family didn't want to enter the same dangerous area as the Hunt family. After all, the dangerous area is immensely treacherous, and they'd suffer another great loss if they get into another fight with the Hunt family, thus they went to Black Windy Island instead," reported another disciple as he gestured with his hands.

"They went to Black Windy Island?" Joel frowned. "If that's the case, is there any news on who got the stone ball?"

“We haven’t got news about this yet, but we’ll surely hear about it soon. We’ve visited about two dozen forces,” replied the disciple.

“Alright, then you both can go get your reward and continue to ask around for news. As long as it‘s news about the stone ball, ask around about it. You’ll be greatly rewarded once there is useful news.” Joel waved his hand to dismiss them.

“The situation of the White family isn’t clear, but the Hunts suffered quite the loss apart from not getting a stone ball. They must be depressed! Haha!” Joel found it hilarious when he recalled how the Hunt family went to Bright Snow Mountain in an aggressive manner yet failed to obtain the stone ball.

Lily, on the other hand, scowled, “You truly are something. Why are you taking pleasure when the Hunt family didn’t get any benefits? Why are you so happy? Mind you, the Hunts are our allies!”

“Allies?” Joel was stunned. “Us, the ancient clans, have always been superior. Since when are we placed on par with those from aristocratic families and are allies with them?”

Dumbfounded, she rolled her eyes at Joel. “You…! Do you understand that the situation is different right now? Our Cloud Sky Sect and other families had lost so many masters, but there are families that didn’t suffer much losses and might take this opportunity to rise up. The future setup of this world isn’t clear, and it all depends on who breaks through into the ultimate god-level first. Every second counts, do you understand?”

Lily paused for a moment before she added, “The Hunt family and the White family are enemies. Jack killed both sons of the family master, so it’s natural for the Hunt family to want to get rid of the White family. As we also wish to get rid of the White family badly, we’re allies by nature!”

“That’s true.” Joel nodded. “Let’s wait for a couple of days and see if we’ll hear about who has the stone ball from Bright Snow Mountain. We can then try to take it from them.”

Time slowly passed and Jack returned to the White family during noon the next day. He had also informed Nash and the others about his trip to the Divine King Sect.

Of course, he did not forget to include the part where he killed many of the masters from the Hall of Divine Royal.

“Father, this is for you!” Jack chuckled, “The weapon that once belonged to the Hall Master of the Hall of Divine Royal is an ultimate-grade spiritual tool!” Jack smiled as he took the weapon that once belonged to the Hall Master of the Hall of Divine Royal and passed it to his father.

“Really? You’ve just given me an upper-grade spiritual tool a couple of days ago. Never thought I’d get to swap it for an ultimate-grade spiritual tool so quickly. Haha! After all, this is quite a rare item!” Nash held the sword as he beamingly inspected it from all angles.

He then took his upper-grade spiritual tool out and passed it to the First Elder next to him.” First Elder, it looks like I can only give this upper-grade spiritual tool to you. I’ll be using this ultimate-grade spiritual tool in the future; keeping the upper-grade spiritual tool would be useless for me.”

The First Elder was stunned for a short while before he took the sword happily. “For me? Great!” He laughed with mirth. “I won’t reject it then. This shall increase my combat power greatly!”

Chapter 1585

All of a sudden, a young man from the White family rushed in and reported, “Master, Young Master Jack, several people are… are outside, wishing to have an audience with you.”

“Who’d visit our White family at this hour?” Nash frowned before he questioned the young man who bore the announcement, “Only several people came?”

“Yes, and there are only five or six of them, yet they’re acting awfully mysterious!” responded the man with an awkward smile

Jack frowned as he immediately continued asking, “Mysterious? What do you mean by that?”

“They wear large bamboo raincoats and all of them have hats that cover themselves. It seems as though they don’t want to be recognized,” the man explained

Deliberating his thoughts, Nash then waved his hand. “Go and bring them in.”

Once the man who made the report left, the First Elder immediately said, “It must be somebody from other families who wishes to ask about the stone ball. They must be here to ask if Young Master Jack managed to study anything from it.”

“I don’t think so. They don’t need to cover themselves if that’ s the case,” replied Jack smilingly.

Moments later, those people were led in.

They took off their huge bamboo raincoats and hats after they entered the door.

“The Hemperly family?” Nash slightly frowned upon recognizing the members of the Hemperly family.

“Greetings, Master Nash. Greetings, Young Master Jack and the elders of the White family!” The family master of the Hemperly family immediately led his son to greet Jack and the others politely with a hand gesture.

“Haha! Please, be seated. Serve them tea!” Nash gestured for them to sit down before asking,” I do wonder what business Master Hemperly has for coming to our White family today?”

The family master of the Hemperly family, Darcy Hemperly, nodded at Nash. “To be frank, Master White, we’re here to ask for a favor, and we hope that the White family is willing to give us a hand. Of course, we’ll repay your kindness with spirited grass if you’re willing to.”

“You’re here to ask for a favor?” Nash was slightly puzzled. The Hemperly family was a second-class aristocratic family and had been developing nicely for the past few years. The young master of the Hemperly family, Paul Hemperly, could be considered a rare master. The Hemperlys had always been very low-profile and had not offended any other forces, so they did not have many enemies.

No one thus knew why they came to the White family for help.

Darcy stayed quiet for a couple of seconds before speaking up about the situation, “To be frank, we went to Bright Snow Mountain to test our luck, but none of us expected my son to be so lucky and get the stone ball in the end. Right now, only a couple of people in my family know about this as Paul only informed us about this yesterday.

Chapter 1586

Nash was shocked. He then said, “We received news a couple of days ago that the first-class aristocratic families that went to the Bright Snow Mountain did not obtain the stone ball and we have no idea who from which family obtained the ball. Who would have expected that somebody from your Hemperly family got it!”

Nash frowned as he paused. He then continued, “However, how can our White family help you? You guys are ballsy for coming here with only a couple of people. Aren’t you afraid that we will rob you?”

Darcy laughed before he spoke again, “To be frank, Master White, we’ve thought of this possibility. My son, Paul, and I had discussed at length before we agreed unanimously that your White family is the most reliable family right now. The reason we come to you and not other ancient clans is because we don’t know them well, what if they snatch our stone ball away?”

Darcy paused momentarily before he continued to speak,” As for the Hunt family and others, they obviously would not be of much help. Why would they agree to help us when they don’t have any stone balls with them? Only the White family possesses a stone ball and we’ve witnessed how powerful Young Master Jack was the other day. We have unanimously agreed that the White family would be the most reliable one!”

Paul, who was standing aside, also added, “Apart from that, Master White had always been open and candid. Since you have a stone ball with you, we believe that Master White would not do anything despicable!”

Jack glanced at Paul. It had to be mentioned that this young master of the Hemperly family was not only a man of striking appearance but also had a meticulous mind. Not only did he praise Nash with his words, but he was also implying that they would be considered despicable if they snatched the ball from the Hemperly family. They would have to think twice with consideration of the White family’s honor!

Jack thought about it and replied to the other party,” Master Hemperly, I wonder what sort of favor do you need from us?”

“It’s very simple. I will return while my son and a couple of our elders stay here to study the stone ball in peace. Don’t worry as the other members of our family have no idea that the stone ball is in our hands. Hence, as long as both our people keep quiet, the others would not come searching here!”

“Certainly, allowing us to stay here would cause your family to face a certain degree of danger. If we are being pinpointed by the Hunt family or other ancient clans, I hope that the White family will help us. I believe that with Young Master Jack’s strength and how strong the White family is right now, the Hunt family or Cloud Sky Sect would not dare to cause any trouble for you guys!” Darcy smiled indifferently and told them about his intentions.

“This is quite troublesome as the Cloud Sky Sect, Hunt family and many other first-class aristocratic families had not obtained this stone ball. The easiest target right now would be the one in your hands. There’s a possibility that even some second-class aristocratic families have their eyes on this stone ball of yours. I’m afraid that this would really bring us unwanted trouble!” Nash frowned as he dared not simply agree to this as it was quite a huge issue.

He thought about it and finally looked toward Jack. “Jack, what do you think?”

The others also glanced toward Jack. It was obvious that Jack had become the backbone of the crown at that moment as he had the highest combat power among them.

“Let me see how much resources you can give us!” Jack kept quiet a moment before he spoke while looking at Darcy and the others.

Darcy immediately took out two martial rings and passed them to Jack. “One of these contains spirited grass while the other contains some weapons. Young Master Jack, please take a look!”

The other members of the Hemperly family were obviously nervous. It was true that they had brought quite a lot of precious treasure over but nobody would want to cause themselves trouble under normal circumstances. On top of that, the White family had just returned from the Black Windy Island not long ago and it was rumored that they had greatly benefited from that trip. Hence, they might not have much regard for the items the Hemperly family had to offer!

Chapter 1587

Jack examined the items for some time before a smile appeared at the corners of his mouth. “Haha… Master Hemperly, there isn’t a lot of spirited grass here but they are attractive enough. Hence, I agree to your terms!”

The members of the Hemperly family relaxed when they saw that Jack had agreed to their suggestion.

Master Hemperly immediately stood up and gestured with his hands to Jack as he voiced out his appreciation. “Thank you, Young Master Jack. If that’s the case, I shall leave my son and the others here with a reassured mind. I believe that they will be safe as Young Master Jack promised us!”

“Haha… I can only assure you that nothing would happen to them while they are with the White family as we will try our best to protect them!” Jack laughed before he continued speaking slowly. “However, there’s nothing I can do if they leave the White family by themselves. After all, we can’t restrict them with a rope, right?”

“That is true, that is true. We promise to not simply run around!” One of the elders from the Hemperly family nodded in satisfaction.

“If that’s the case, let me arrange accommodations for your people!” Nash nodded. He ordered a member of the White family to lead the Hemperlys out and arrange accommodations for them.

After the other party left, Nash turned around to ask Jack,” Jack, have you thought this through? If we don’t promise them, we can slightly relax when the other first-class aristocratic families or Cloud Sky Sect that did not obtain the stone ball focus on the Hemperly family. You also mentioned that they did not give us a large amount of spirited grass and we aren’t suffering from a shortage, why did you choose to get involved in this trouble?”

The First Elder, Kenneth, also immediately spoke up with a frown on his face. “That’s true, Young Master Jack. If we ignore them, we would benefit from this. We don’t owe the Hemperly family anything. On the contrary, we would have more time to focus on studying this stone ball if the others had them as targets!”

“They didn’t give us a lot of spirited grass but they were not stingy either!” Jack started explaining. “What is important is that a lot of the gifted spirited grass were suitable to be cultivated into pills. These items were separated and placed aside. They know that I’ m an alchemist and they specially arranged these gifts. The most critical part of everything is that two of these items are auxiliary materials required when cultivating a fourth-grade elementary pill, the resurrection pill.”

“I see!” Nash and First Elder exchanged glances as they finally understood Jack’s intention. After all, the fourth grade elementary pill known as the resurrection pill was indispensable if they wanted to save Fernando’s life. Based on Jack’s temperament, he would not pass on the auxiliary materials even if there was only a slim chance for them to succeed in cultivating the pill.

“That would be fine then. Some of our masters had continuously broken through these few days, and our overall strength is still improving. We also have an increasing number of people in the initial stage of the true god level. Apart from that, who would know that we have hidden a few people at our place if we kept this a secret?

Even if they learn about this later on, who knows when that would be!” In the end, Nash smiled and said.

Chapter 1588

After their accommodations were arranged, Master Hemperly left that afternoon. As for Young Master Hemperly and his other elders, they stayed in the White family to continue studying the stone ball in peace.

Certainly, Jack also went over in the evening to have a chat with them and asked about the situation after they went to the Bright Snow Mountain.

It turns out that everybody acted on their own after they reached Bright Snow Mountain.

After encountering several dangers, Young Master Hemperly had also wandered away from the other members of the Hemperly family. Luckily, he had high fighting prowess and managed to spot the ancient tree in the end after he continued the journey on his own.

He was obviously not an opponent of the ancient tree and many other masters also discovered the ancient tree at the same time. All of them fought the ancient tree individually and many died.

In the end, a master from the Cloud Sky Sect that was in the peak stage of the true god-level finally obtained the stone ball and was preparing to fly off.

However, that person was killed by the ancient tree's roots as he was about to escape, and that benefited Paul, who hid in the dark.

There were not many people at that time and apart from him, the others were all dead. Hence, no one else knew that he managed to obtain the stone ball except for himself.

Naturally, Paul put the stone ball away without demur after obtaining it and left Bright Snow Mountain speedily. He only informed his father and several trusted elders when he returned to the Hemperly family after several days.

The members of the Hemperly family were naturally delighted when they learned of the news. However, they were also worried that this item would cost them their lives. Hence, they asked the White family for a helping hand after a discussion.

It was obvious that Paul and the others did not manage to learn anything about the stone ball.

However, when Jack mentioned that they should gather all seven stone balls to study them together in the future, Paul agreed without hesitation.

The next couple of days, Jack handed the stone ball to Nash and the others for them to continue studying it. As for himself, he visited the Supreme Clarity Sect and Flying Eagle Sect respectively to inform them about his thoughts.

Both ancient clans were quite unwilling when Jack suggested placing all seven stone balls together to study them. However, they insisted on studying the stone balls by themselves and that everything can be discussed later.

Jack could only helplessly return to the White family and get some rest

Jack could not even train as there were no more levels for him to advance to. He could only look on as the other younger masters continued improving.

Jack felt as if he was being tortured as time passed by. After all, the Cyro Pearl had a limited time. Based on what Nash mentioned about it losing its effect after two years, he only had one and a half years left.

Jack felt hopeless as he had to obtain the third-grade premium items, common life fruit and thousand year thrive grass, on top of cultivating a fourth-grade elementary pill, the resurrection pill, within one and a half years.

Even the third-grade premium spirited grass was nowhere to be seen, let alone the fourth-grade pill. Apart from that, even if he broke through into the ultimate god level, where shall he search for these items?

However, Jack refused to give up when he thought of Fernando, who was frozen and lying helplessly in the cave. He did not want to give up as long as there was a slight hope.

“Honey, this is great. I’ve finally broken through into the initial stage of the demi-god level!” Another day had passed, Selena ran in and jumped in excitement while holding Jack’ s hands.

“Really? That would be great. Before I realized it, you have already broken through and become a master in the initial stage of the demi-god level. As for myself, I can’t continue training and can only observe as everybody else trains!” Jack smiled as he felt happy for Selena

After all, breaking through to the demi-god level meant that the person was a true master.

The capability to fly when one reaches the demi-god level was not something a normal person could achieve.

Chapter 1589

“By the way, where’s Ben? I’ve seen him training recently and it looks like he’s working hard. He even asked for two pills from me two days ago!” Jack soon thought of Ben and asked curiously

“He’s not bad as he’s already a seventh-grade grandmaster. He has been working even harder when he saw that I’ve broken through to the initial stage of the demi-god level. He even said that he’s gonna catch up to you as you can’t train right now and is waiting for us!”

Selena smiled and glanced at Jack flirtatiously before she continued to speak. “Honey, I’ve never dreamt of breaking through to the initial stage of the demi-god level! Apart from my talents, I have to thank you for constantly cultivating pills for me to break through so quickly!”

“This is all because of your hard work. Even if you have great talents and resources, your fighting prowess would not breakthrough by itself if you did not train hard!” Jack said with a smile.

At this moment, an old man rushed out from the nearby houses and came flying over in excitement.

“This is great! I’ve made it! I’ve finally made it! Jack, I’ve succeeded!” This old man was none other than the First Elder of the Cabello family, Kevin Cabello. Jack remembered something a couple of days ago and sent someone to invite him over.

After all, Jack promised Kevin that he would teach him how to cultivate the second-grade intermediate pill if Kevin borrowed him the ancient tome.

The old man was really into cultivating pills. He tried cultivating for the past two days but failed and Jack originally thought that Kevin would take a couple more days before he would be able to comprehend how to successfully cultivate the second-grade intermediate pill. Jack did not expect him to succeed so quickly.

“Congratulations, First Elder Cabello! You’re also a second grade intermediate alchemist now!” Jack happily congratulated Kevin with a polite gesture with his hands.

“Haha… This is all thanks to you as you’re a great teacher. If not, I would not have succeeded so quickly!” Kevin smiled happily with a satisfied look on his face.

“This is great. After succeeding in cultivating one particular second-grade intermediate pill, it would be easier when learning how to cultivate other second-grade intermediate pills. After all, the level of difficulty is almost the same and there would be some similarities!”

“That’s for sure!” Jack said with a smile.

“By the way, Young Master Jack, you guys have been studying the stone ball for so long, have you managed to learn anything from it?” Kevin soon thought of something and asked Jack.

“We have yet to learn anything from that thing. If anybody is capable of learning something from it, it would be the people from the Pavilion of Kings and Gods. After all, they have three of those stone balls!” Jack smiled bitterly as he also felt helpless about the situation.

At this moment, a large group of people was seen flying over from the other side.

“Who are those people?” Jack looked ahead and his facial expression soon darkened. Unexpectedly, it was the Hunt family who had gathered several families that were close to them and came together.

Chapter 1590

The members of the Hunt family led those from the Lagorio family, the Trevino Family, and even those from the Norman family to the White family residence.

“Jack, what should we do? There are so many of them! This is worrisome as they seem to be here to cause trouble!” Kevin had a darkened look on his face after he looked at the situation in front of him. Although not all members of the other party were present, those who came were masters. There were around one hundred thousand people from those four families combined.

“There’s no need to be afraid! There’s a lot of them but not many are in the peak stage of the true god level. Recently, many of our White family’s members have broken through into the true god level. On top of that, some of my nine disciples have achieved the intermediate stage of the true god level and their combat power is incomparable!” Jack, however, smiled indifferently.

“They are so shameless. Aren’t aristocratic families banned from taking action against each other without a valid reason? Are they going to break this tacit understanding?” Kevin clenched his fist. “F*ck! Unfortunately, we can’t contact the Cabello family and Tudor Family. There is no way a water source far away is capable of quenching our thirst!”

“Haha, don’t worry! I know that these four families have suffered huge losses when they went to Bright Snow Mountain previously. They thought that a combination of several families could attack our White family? They are being naïve! What’s more, there are several masters from the Hemperly family here so we have quite a large number of masters!” Jack still smiled and acted indifferently.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

The other members of the White family soon discovered the situation as well. After notifying each other, they all flew up and gathered together.

“It’s over! A big group of people are heading over, what should we do?” Inside a courtyard house, an elder from the Hemperly family immediately asked the others.

“There are quite a lot of them. I knew that the Hunt family would come looking for us but I didn’t expect them to come so quickly!” Paul also had a darkened expression on his face. He then continued, “Let’s not go out first. If we go out now, it is equivalent to a silent admission. Let’s wait and see what the other party is here for. If the other party is here for us or wants to take action against the White family, we must go out and help the White family!”

The First Elder of the Hemperly family frowned and said in embarrassment after hearing that. “Young master, what if they aren’t here for us, but because of their grudges with the White family? After all, the Hunt family knows that it was Jack of the White family who killed their two sons. Moreover, in the previous competition between the aristocratic family, the main reason the Lagorio family, the Trevino Family, and the other families suffered huge losses is because of Jack. Hence, there’s a huge possibility that they aren’t here for us!”

The Second Elder also immediately spoke up. “That’s right, young master. If the other party is not here for us, there’s no need for us to take action, right? If a fight happens later, it's best if we just find an opportunity to sneak out. There are too many people on the other side. How can the White family be their opponent? We will be in trouble if we get involved!”

“Haha… Sneak out? How should we sneak out? With so many people staring at us, can we just disappear into thin air?” Unexpectedly, Paul sneered and said, “We are already involved. Once we leave, the members of the Hunt family would see us. They aren’t stupid so they would certainly know that the stone ball from Bright Snow Mountain is in our hands. When the time comes, do you think they would just let us go? They only need to kill a few more people. If they are daring enough to come directly to the White family, would they even care if they had to kill a couple more of us?”

Chapter 1591

The facial expressions of the other Third Elder turned unsightly.

At this moment, Paul put his hands behind his back and said, “We have no other choice. If there is a fight, whether it is because of us or due to the hatred between the White family and the other families, we should all step up and take the White family’s side and fight the others together with the White family! Only if we fight, there is hope for us to live. Even if we don’t want to, we have no other choice!”

“But I’m afraid that it’s difficult to survive this fight. The White family’s alliances are not here. If the Hunt family were the only one here, the White family would be able to handle it. But… but there are four families here! Even worse, three of them are first-class aristocratic families! And they outnumbered us by many too. How is it possible for us to make it through?”

The First Elder was obviously not confident and even felt regretful in his heart. Why did he choose to come to the White family and ask for help from them? If he had just found a remote place to hide, it would be a lot safer!

“The only thing we can do now is to believe in the White family. Jack must have something up his sleeve, otherwise, he wouldn’t dare to give us his words! Do you really think that just because we offered them some spirited grass, they would be tempted and promised to help us? They must have weighed their strengths beforehand! Do you know how many fighters at the peak stage of true god-level they have right now in the White family?”

Paul looked at the Third Elder before him and popped up the question.

“Hmmm. For this matter, I truly don’t have any idea. But it’s certainly not as many as the other four families combined!”

A bitter smile surfaced on the First Elder’s face, and he muttered, “In my opinion, if we want to win this battle, the White family must reduce the number of the true god-level fighters in the four families quickly, and kill them in a blink of an eye. Otherwise, there’s no hope at all! Sigh! But now, the other party has more fighters at true god level and they obviously outnumbered the White families by a lot. Even if we help the White family, it would be in vain!”

“As the saying goes, to shoot a rider, first shoot his horse; to capture a gang of bandits, first capture its leader! If Jack is smart and able to kill the head of the Hunt family and several other top fighters in the other party, the other party would lose their boss and they’d certainly fall into chaos. Their fighting spirit and morale will be greatly impacted! Then it won’t be impossible for us to win this fight!”

After giving the matter some thought, Paul then spilled out his analysis

At this time, the strongest fighters in the White family flew into the sky, and those fighters with lower combat ability and cultivation level gathered at the square beneath. Gloominess covered the crowd’s faces as they stared intensely at the enemy before them.

In the main branch of the White family, there were not many people. However, Jack had long predicted that there would be a time that someone or some families would seek trouble with them. Hence, Jack had gathered a lot of demi-god and true god-level fighters from the branch families some time ago, and they were living in the main White family.

Therefore, there were now more than forty thousand people of true god-level flying in the sky and this number was considered extremely impressive.

“Oh? There are quite many of you, aren’t there? So are you guys prepared for this? Impressive!

Hahaha!”

The Hunt family head looked at the White family before him and then said with a peal of sinister laughter.

“You have many men with you too. It looks like the only ones left in your family as well as the other families are those with low combat prowess and strength. Or perhaps the remaining are from the branch families!”

Jack laughed fearlessly in return.

“Master Hunt, I wonder, what are you doing here in our White family residence with Master Norman, Master Church, and Master Lagorio? Judging from this melodramatic situation, I’m afraid you’re not here for a friendly visit, right? If you’re only visiting the White family, you’ve certainly brought too many people with you.”

Nash stepped forward and asked in a stern tone, his face cold.

Chapter 1592

“What are we here for? Master White, let’s just cut to the chase. Your son killed my two sons and made several families here suffer great losses in the competition! It’s time for us to settle this matter, right?”

Quentin chuckled aloud, and ruthlessness appeared in his eyes.

“Jack, we’ve finally found out the killer of my three sons! And it’s you! I demand a confession and explanation from you!”

Darryl—the head of the Norman family, stood forward and questioned Jack with vicious stares. His tone was full of hatred.

“Yes! I killed the three of them. The life-and-death rule of the tournament allowed me to do that. Besides, your sons wanted to kill me, I couldn’t possibly stand there and let them kill me, right?”

Jack shrugged his shoulders nonchalantly. He dared to admit his deed, without the slightest hesitation.

“Humph! You nasty brat! It’s you! I knew it! You do have some guts to admit the killing, don’t you?”

Anger poured through Daryl like lava upon hearing Jack’s confession. He was so angry that he clenched his fists so tightly. The other Norman family members were staring at Jack angrily as well.

“I merely followed the competition rules. Why can’t I say it?”

Jack smiled blandly and then added, “What’s the matter? Master Hunt, this particular rule was set by you from the beginning. It hasn’t been long since the tournament, and you're already going back on your word?” Jack paused before continuing, “Didn’t you say so at the beginning of the competition? That no revenge nor trouble shall be sought privately after the competition. Look at your behavior today, aren’t you afraid of being spat upon by the other families?”

However, as he heard Jack’s words, Quentin thought that Jack was afraid of them.

He immediately laughed out loud, “Jack, you killed my two sons, and even more so, you made us, the prominen Families, suffer great losses! We lost a lot of masters of the younger generation! And yes, you’re right about the competition rules. It was indeed like that at that time. However, that was one situation, and this is another. The situation has changed, and you know it. So, tell me, do you think we’re still abiding by the previous rules?”

Daryl balled his fists firmly and yelled at Jack, “Jack, today I must avenge my three sons! I need you dead, for your death would be a catharsis for me!”

Trenton Lagorio stepped forward and supported, “Jack, today is your last day on earth! If you obey us, hand us the stone ball and come forward to kill yourself before us. We promise to spare the rest of the White family.”

“Tsk tsk. I would say your plan is pretty good. But do you think I ‘d fall for it?”

To everyone’s surprise, Jack was not intimidated at all, instead, he laughed coldly upon hearing them. “The main purpose for all of you here is to obtain the stone ball, am I right? And avenging your whatever sons is only the second goal.”

Jack paused for a few seconds before continuing, “You all know that I’m the strongest here, and I can fend off several fighters at the peak stage of True God Realm by myself. So you want to trick me into killing myself on the spot, and when I die, it’ll be even easier for you to exterminate our White family, am I right?”

Once Jack’s words fell, the corners of Quentin’s mouth twitched in voluntarily a few times. He did not expect that his and the others’ plan would be seen through by Jack in such a short time.

“Jack, don’t worry. We’re men of our words. As the head of the Hunt family, I can guarantee you that as long as you do as we say, hand over the stone ball and kill yourself in front of us, whatever happened during the competition, we’ll write it off. How does it sound?”

Quentin looked at Jack and assured him with a faint smile on his face.

“You bullsh*t!”

Chapter 1593

Nonetheless, Jack sneered at Quentin’s offer. “Before the competition started, you guys set the rules and agreed not to pursue further privately after the competition ended. Competition rules are such a formal and important thing, but you guys still went back on your words. So, what makes you think that I will trust you?”

“Quentin Hunt, you underestimated our White family! Do you think we’ll be afraid of you just because you have more people than we do? Let me tell you, you better not regret your presence here in the White residence today once the war starts!”

Nash, too, stared at the other party icily. “You know that my son is the strongest in the White family, so you want to trick him into cutting his own throat. Do you really think that we’re so stupid?”

“Master Hunt, are you not afraid of being laughed at by the world for what you have done today? I don’t think you know which family had obtained the stone ball from the Bright Snow Mountain, am I right? And you're afraid that the White family would discover something out of the stone ball and break into the ultimate god realm. If this truly happened, it would affect the first position of the Hunt family among the eight shadow families. Hence, you’re using revenge as an excuse to get the stone ball from us, right?”

Kevin could not stand the other party’s bullsh*t anymore. He stared huffily at the other party.

“Aren’t you the First Elder of the Cabello family? Why are you here?”

Quentin squinted at Kevin and stated. “You’re an excellent alchemist. It’d be too bad for the world to lose an alchemist like you. So, let me advise you, leave this place at once and save yourself from the battle later. If you die in the battle, we won’t be able to do anything about it!”

“Elder Kevin, this matter has nothing to do with you. I think you should leave!”

After pondering for a few seconds, Nash said to Kevin.

“Master Cabello had stated that the Cabellos and the White are no longer enemies; we’re one big family. So, since I’m here today, I’m not gonna leave. And I believe that if Master Cabello was here today, he would stay on and help the White family!”

However, Kevin responded in a determined manner after giving the matter some thought.

“Thank you so much!”

Nash arched his hands and gave a fist-to-palm salute to Kevin, feeling moved in his heart.

“Oh no, oh no! What should we do now? They’re going to start a fight! What can we do?”

Joan, Ben, and the others were watching the whole ordeal from a room in the residence. Fiona, too, was trembling with fear and worry. Although she had purified her body and could be considered a martial arts practitioner, her strength and cultivation level were just too weak. Those with low strength and combat ability could only hide inside the room; not able to step foot out.

Seeing that the other party had brought so many people; the sky appeared dark as they filled the air space above as if it was going to rain soon. The other party had outnumbered them by two or even three times! Fiona blanched just by looking at the situation.

“Oh, God! What should we do? Selena is still outside? What should we do?”

Fiona paced back and forth, looking panicked

“Stop pacing up and down. You're making me even more anxious right now. Why don’t we rush out and fight with them?”

Ben clenched his fists, and his eyes showed the aura of determination.

“No! We can’t go out there. If we do so, we’re digging our own graves! Other fighters with low combat prowess are hiding in rooms as well, and Jack and the others will not let them come near to us! They will be able to stop them at the gates from coming in, and if we go out, we' 'll only be a burden and drag them down!"

Nonetheless, Joan stopped Ben and the others immediately. Selena is outside with others, and her combat prowess is not weak, so don't worry about her. Jack and the others will definitely take care of her. The only thing we can do is to wait here and pray for them!"

Chapter 1594

"Mom, I think Aunty Joan is right. We'd better wait here!"

After thinking about it, Ben sat down and said, "Worst comes to worst, we'll all die together! If they were killed by the enemy, we won't be spared anyway!"

"Ugh! Why am I so unlucky? I've just become a martial artist, hoping to live a longer life. I didn't expect to die this soon at all! Why is my life so unfortunate, so bitter!"

Fiona was getting more upset the more she thought about it. She straightaway plopped onto the floor and started to whine like a kid.

"Mom, stop it! It's annoying!"

Ben barked at Fiona, his tone unfriendly. "Dammit! I'm still too weak. I'm only a grandmaster at the moment and can't help much! If I were in the demi-god realm right now, I would have rushed out and fought with them!" Ben bellowed, clenching his fists.

"Are you trying to upset me even more? Your sister is outside right now, and I'm already worried sick! Yet you still want to go out? You unfilial brat!"

Fiona, who was throwing a tantrum on the floor, immediately reacted upon hearing Ben's words. Her temper sparked and spiked, shaking with fury.

Ben looked at his mother and switched his gaze to the outside, and then said, "Elaine is out there too! If she dies, I don't want to live either!"

At this time, inside a room of another courtyard.

The First Elder of the Hemperly family looked at Paul and said, "Did you hear that? They're here for Jack, for the White family, and not for us! Jack offended the four families. No wonder these four families joined forces together and came here to cause trouble!"

"In that case, a fight is unavoidable. Listen to me, later when the battle starts, we will rush out and help the White family. Hearing Jack's boastful tone, I think, perhaps the White family may not lose in the battle. I think that Young Master Jack does not even see us as his opponents at all."

Paul smiled faintly in return. Hints of wisdom shone in his eyes.

"What? No way! The young man, Jack, is that powerful?"

The First Elder of the Hamperly family frowned as he heard. However, he was still worried about the upcoming fight. After all, the disparity in numbers was too great.

At this moment, up in the sky, both parties were glaring at each other heatedly. A solemn and tense aura was swirling in the air.

Old Master Hunt stood out at this time and said with a cold smile on his face, "Jack, I guess you've heard that the Hunt family suffered great losses in the excursion to the Bright Snow Mountain, and among them, two true god-level fighters had died. So, you thought there are only three fighters at the peak level of True God Realm left in the Hunt family, right?"

Old Master Hunt halted a few seconds before continuing, “Unfortunately, you’re so wrong! You underestimated our Hunt family. Recently, another elder in the Hunt family had broken through to the peak stage of True God Realm, and several true god realm breakthroughs happened in the other families too! We, the Hunt family, have four true god peak level fighters, while the Church and the Norman family each have three. That makes ten! Oh! And the Lagorio family has another two! Hahaha! We have twelve fighters at the peak stage of True God Realm! How can you fight us?”

Jack’s brows puckered together upon hearing the new information. “The Lagorio family has two of them? Wow, it’s quite surprising. Hmmm. It seems like the news of the ultimate god realms and the stone ball have pressured you all, forcing out all your potential.”

Anger welled up in Trenton’s chest and the corners of his mouth twitched vigorously. “Jack, what do you mean by that? Are you looking down on the Lagorio family? My wife broke into the peak of true god status too, you can’t imagine it, right? Humph! Now I’m truly anticipating seeing how the White family is going to fight us!

“Hahaha! Your true god-level fighters are inferior to ours, and the number is lesser than ours too! Tsk, tsk. I wanna see how you are going to overcome this wide gap to fight us! Jack White, one last chance! Kill yourself in front of us in exchange for the lives of the White family members! If you don’t agree to it, we’ll launch an attack!”

Old Master Hunt flipped his palm and took out a precious sword, pointing it at Jack. His tone was rude and aggressive.

“Haha! Let me tell you, don’t look down on us! Do you really think that only the First Elder and I are at the peak stage of the True God Realm?”

Chapter 1595

Jack snickered and sneered in a cold voice.

“Hahaha! Let’s fight them to death!”

The Second and the Third Elder of the White family-Titus and Wade-exchanged a glance then stepped forward in unison, emitting a powerful and domineering aura within them.

“What? No way! They have another two in the peak stage of True God Realm?”

The people from the Hunt family looked at both elders in surprise; shock dawned upon them that their eyes widened.. They had thought that the White family had only three true god peak level fighters. And even if one of them had broken through to that stage, there would be four of them at most! But they did not expect there were actually five of them!

Furthermore, adding the First Elder of the Cabello family—Kevin Cabello—into the list, there are six of them in total! Not to mention that Jack’s combat prowess was so powerful that he could fight three or four elite fighters of the same realm. Following closely to this train of thought, although the four families may win this battle, they would suffer humongous loss!

“Everyone, calm down! We have more fighters at the middle and the late stage of True God Realm than they have! We don’t . have to be afraid! In terms of numbers, we have an absolute advantage! Now, kill ‘em all!”

Quentin took out his long sword, waved it, and yelled,” Avenge your family! Avenge your sons!”

Swoosh, swoosh, swoosh!

When the battle was about to start, four other people flew out from a room of another courtyard and stood next to Jack and the others.

“Young Master Hamperly?”

Jack was taken aback. “They’re not here for you, you could have just stayed in the room. Even if you do that, we’ll not blame you!” Jack said.

“Heh! Young Master Jack, since we’re here in the White family, we can’t just sit back and do nothing. And I don’t think they will spare us if you lose the battle. So, let’s fight them together!”

Paul chuckled warmly, looking fearless.

“Sorry to disappoint you, Master Hunt. You are going to face another fighter at the peak stage of True God Realm now.”

The First Elder of the Hamperly family stepped forward and released the frightening aura. Within him. He was also a strong elite fighter in the peak stage of True God Realm.

“You’re actually…”

Nash was stunned at the newly learned news, he was truly surprised. The Hemperly family was merely a second-class family, and they had always stayed low profile. None of them had heard that the Hamperly family had any fighters at the true god peak level. The First Elder actually Hid his ability secretly.

“Haha! I broke through a year ago. Just that the Hemperly family has always stayed low profile and does not wish to offend any families. Naturally, we do not wish to expose our strength too.”

Since he had already made up his mind, the First Elder of the Hemperly family expressed his thoughts without hesitation.” Dang it. I’ve broken through to the peak stage a year ago, yet I’ve not tested my current strength! So, the battle today is just nice! And perhaps I would die in this battle, but I will enjoy this fight to the fullest! Let's fight to our contentment!"

"That's right! Let's fight to our fullest ability! Haha!"

Jack laughed wholeheartedly. With the fine sword in his hand, he injected Chi energy into it. The sword trembled slightly, emitting a terrifying aura.

Chapter 1596

"Kill!"

With a command from the Old Master Hunt, the order to attack was announced.

"Hahaha! Kill 'em all!"

Jack laughed and then looked over to the First Elder by his side and said, "First Elder, please take good care of Selena, so that I can fight without worries. I'll let them know how useless their fighters at the peak stage of True God Realm are!"

Once the last syllable of his word fell, Jack flickered and appeared at the front of the battlefield within seconds.

"Besiege this brat and kill him! One strong fighter at the peak of the true god-level strength from each family will handle the others, and the remaining six will surround this brat and kill him!"

Quentin asserted after giving the situation some thoughts.

“Count the two of us in!”

Trenton and his wife-Diana flew over and stood beside Quentin.

“Count me in as well! I have to kill this punk myself!”

Darryl from the Norman family flew over together with his First Elder too.

“Great! I’ll join in too!”

The First Elder of the Hunt family came over as well. Soon, six strong people with the strength of the peak stage of True God Realm were gathered together, ready to besiege Jack and kill him.

“Great, that’s great! You guys came just in time. Since you guys see me as your enemy and vice versa, I won’t let any of you leave here alive today!”

Seeing the six strong fighters standing in front of him, not only did Jack not have the slightest fear, but he sneered Coldly in return.

“Can Young Master Jack fight so many of them? Shall I go over and help him?”

The First Elder of the Hemperly family peeped in the direction of Jack and got a little worried. Jack was alone, facing six strong elite fighters. That seemed a little too overwhelming.

“Don’t go over. Maybe you haven’ t seen him fight before, our Young Master Jack is extremely powerful!”

Kenneth however chuckled aloud. “Don’t worry about him. We just need to focus on the enemies before us. The White family, indeed, is under great pressure this time, but I believe that Jack will be the key to victory in this battle. As long as he wins against the six of them, the victory is ours!”

Upon hearing Kenneth’s words, the Hemperly family froze in surprise. If they wanted to win this battle, Jack had to kill those six elite fighters! And not only so, but he also had to do it quickly. Only then Jack could free up his hands and help the others. Only then, the White family would have a chance to win the battle.

“White, fight!”

Lancelot roared with all his strength, his eyes glowing red. One by one, the White family members and several alliances charged toward the front and fought. They believed that if they had won this tough battle, the future of the White family would be a strong force to be reckoned with! Even the four ancient clans had to pay respects to them.

After all, to be able to face four families all at once-three of which were first-class families, and obtain victory was not something any ancient clan could do.

Of course, what Lancelot did not know was that the last time Jack killed a group of powerful fighters from the Hall of Divine Royal, it made the people from that hall terrified of him. They feared his strength and power..

“Blade Wave!”

Jack did not test the waters this time; he directly swung his sword toward the opponents, executing the most terrifying attack, the Blade Wave.

In front of him, a frightening and powerful gigantic dragon formed by thousands of flying sword auras, heading straight ahead and even covering a large area of space.

“What a powerful attack but don’ t panic, everyone! The six of us will strike him at the same time! I don’t believe that he can take six attacks from us all at the same time!”

Quentin was startled at Jack’s attack, but he quickly calmed himself down and chopped out with his sword. “Hundred Leaves Chop!”

As he performed the Hundred Leaves Chop, hundred aura leaves flew out. These seemingly floating aura leaves were surprisingly fast, carrying huge amounts of Chi energy and heading straight at the aura Sword dragon.

Roar!

In another direction, Trenton from the Lagorio family cast out a long aura dragon. As soon as the long aura dragon appeared, it let out a terrifying dragon roar and charged directly toward the aura sword dragon.

Chapter 1597

“Feral Slash!”

The fighter from the Norman family, on the other hand, cast out his family’s martial technique, the Feral Slash!

Boom, bang, boom!

At once, a terrifying boom rang out in the sky, and the air particles vibrate vigorously as though the sky was boiling. It was extremely horrifying.

“What? Im-impossible! Our attacks are being devoured little by little!”

Quentin took a look at the current situation and color drained from his face, feeling as if his heart was about to explode. The attacks from the six of them did not gain an upper hand in the battle!

The attacks from both parties stayed mid-air for a while and after a short moment of stalemate, Jack's attack had overpowered the others, gaining the upper hand.

"What the f*ck! We have people attacking at the same time here! Even if each of our attacks can only weaken his attack a little, logically we could still outperform him! How can his power and strength be so terrifying?"

Diana's eyes widened as large as saucers and her jaw dropped to the ground at the scene before her.

"He's too powerful!"

In the distance, after Paul had killed a man at the middle stage of the true god level, he could not help but look over to Jack's direction. It would be fine if he did not glance over, but that one glance tormented him alive. The battle there was extremely horrendous and gruesome; the flare and glow emitted from the clashing of martial techniques almost blinded the others.

Rumble!

The startling rumble continued, and after several more seconds of stalemate in the sky, Jack's attack completely defeated the attacks from the six of them.

"Sh*t! There's still a lot of residual Chi energy!"

"Many residual flying swords are coming straight at us! Run!"

“It’s too late. The swords are too fast! Everyone, create the aura shield! Quick!”

Six people peered at the situation, they were in a complete state of panic.

Bang, bang, bang!

Trenton and Diana were stabbed in the chest by several flying swords, leaving a huge. Bloody hole in their chests. Their eyes were full of terror and fear, and within a second, they fell onto the ground.

Likewise, Daryl and the First Elder from the Norman family were straightaway decapitated by Jack.

Whereas Quentin and the First Elder of the Hunt family were slightly luckier. Although they did not die immediately, both of them were blown far away and fell heavily to the ground. Mouthfuls of fresh blood gushed out of their mouths and the severe wounds on their bodies were bleeding incessantly too.

“No way!”

Many others witnessed the gruesome scene and were even more frightened. Six strong fighters at the peak of True God Realm and four were easily killed by Jack just like that; while the other two were severely injured, lying on the ground unable to move an inch. They were not much different from being dead.

Swoosh!

Under the watchful eyes of the crowd, Jack flung out two consecutive sword attacks, and two sword auras were shot out, heading straight at Quentin and First Elder Hunt. They died on the spot.

“No way! No freaking way! How can he be so strong?”

Whether it was the people of the Hunt or Lagorio family, each of them stood frozen at the scene before them. How could they continue on?

“Dios mio! Young Master Jack is so awesome! He’s so strong!”

After witnessing the ultimate battle, the White family members were bursting with excitement and joy. The other party had too many people with them, so much so that the White family was at a disadvantage at the beginning., The White family suffered a few hundred casualties.

However, within a short period of time, Jack had killed six strong fighters and the fighting morale among the White had increased tremendously.

“Go to hell!”

With another swing of his sword, he cast out sword attacks at the crowd of those four families in front of him. The flying sword, once again, killed them all at once.

Chapter 1598

“Attack, attack them now!”

Those who were at the front lines were weighed down by dread and terror and several old men in the late true god realm shouted

Unfortunately, none of them knew what to do next. Facing such a terrifying attack, some of them actually flew farther to the side, trying to dodge the attack.

Boom, boom, boom!

Several people clench their fists and gritted their teeth, casting out their attacks.

Nevertheless, these attacks were like a giant in the presence of a super-giant paled into insignificance. The attacks were destroyed instantly in a destructive manner. Meanwhile, those flying swords of Jack continued to travel forward at full speed, charging into the crowd.

Bang, bang, bang!

Some fighters of true god elementary level and demi-god advance level were directly blasted away by the flying swords and exploded in the air, while those who were in the middle or late stage of True God Realm did not manage to dodge the attack but at least they died with their body staying intact

Blood splattered all over the place. More than two hundred men from these four families were instantly killed by Jack in one round

Furthermore, among these two hundred men, there were several expert fighters at the late stage of True God Realm, as well as a dozen elite fighters who were in the mid and early stage of the true god level.

“Ugh! I want to take revenge for my sons!”

Old Master Hunt could no longer hold his anger back upon seeing Quentin’s body on the ground. He immediately ceased fighting the opponent before him and rushed toward Jack.

“Old Master Hunt, you’ve lost your mind.”

Looking at Old Master Hunt who charged toward him, Jack spilled several words indifferently and then chopped forward with another swing of his sword.

Boom!

A huge explosive sound rang out, Old Master Hunt had fallen.

“What now? Master and Madam are both dead! Run!”

Once the people of the Lagorio family looked at the current position, they knew they were no match. Once the backbones of the Lagorio family, Trenton, and Diana had died, the fighting morale and spirit were severely impacted; many of them had already lost their motivation to continue fighting and were planning to retreat.

Not only the Lagorio family experienced the loss of fighting spirit, the Norman and the Hunt family felt demotivated as well. The morale was dead. Jack alone had killed so many strong fighters, and he did not stop. He kept killing the other party’s strong fighters, incessantly. soon Lancelot, Kenneth, and the other strong fighters of the White family would be able to free up their hands and fight the others. The people of the four families who had hopes of victory at the beginning of the battle slowly felt feelings of despair and hopelessness.

“Oh yay! Motherf*cker! We’re winning now!”

First Elder Hemperly, who thought it was his last day on the earth, was flabbergasted with joy at that moment, so much so that he did not know what to say but cursed. It was the first time he had encountered a battle where they were at a disadvantage in terms of the number of people

Nevertheless, it was mainly because of Jack. Jack’s combat ability was overly powerful, at the same time, frightening. Although he had not met any of the ultimate god-level fighters and certainly did not know how powerful they were, he thought that Jack’s current combat prowess was, perhaps, already at the ultimate god level.

First Elder Hemperly killed two men of the early stage of True God Realm, and he could not help but stare at Paul who was fighting at the side.

Respect and admiration came over him for Paul; it seemed like Paul's decision to help Jack was wise and a smart one. The Hemperly family stepped up and helped the White family in such a tough time, naturally, the White family would feel grateful toward them.

Now that Jack was so powerful, if they could have the White family to back them up, they would not have to be afraid anymore. He suddenly remembered how he was not supportive of the White family earlier and felt foolish.

Chapter 1599

"Kill!"

Seeing that some of the people from the four families had already started to flee, Jack was even more delighted in his heart. Obviously, once the other party started fleeing for their lives, Jack and the others would not have to lose any more of their men.

Of course, Jack would not spare any of the four families who were in the peak stage or late stage of True God Realm. Jack then charged toward those people and terminated them instantly.

Those strong fighters, one by one, were killed by Jack instantly. Nash and the others, who had now freed up their hands, frantically chased those of the true god-level strength and killed them. This caused the four great families to lose seventy to eighty thousand strong men. Only then did the battle end.

Of course, the White family lost several thousand men, and a few thousand men were injured throughout the battle as well.

However, after the startling battle, the status of the White family in this martial world would be greatly strengthened. Even the four ancient clans would be afraid of them then onwards.

In the end, the people from the four families scattered and fled in all directions. Only those fighters with low martial levels were fortunate to be spared. However, the great loss they had suffered eventually impacted their status; they were even worse than some third-class families now, and could only be deemed as ordinary hidden martial families – they could no longer be prominent families.

“Everyone, hurry up and clean up the place!”

Nash commanded as he looked at the corpse scattered on the ground

“Sigh! These four families came to us a little too early. If they were to come one or two months later, I think we wouldn’t have lost so many great men!”

Jack gazed at some of the White family members’ bodies; his face turned solemn, and his heartfelt heavy.

After all, the White family was growing and developing rapidly lately, and the number of fighters who had broken through to True God Realm was increasing speedily as well. Nash was right. If they were given another month or two, they would not have lost so many men in that battle.

“We should be satisfied with the outcome today. Such a huge difference in numbers and we only lose around five thousand men. This is considered good enough. Fortunately, you had long been prepared for such a fight and assembled a lot of strong fighters from the branch families. Otherwise, I think the outcome would not be like this today. even if we win the battle, we’ll be on the verge of losing the whole White family. Today, we only lost a few strong ones, and those who died were at the demi-god level. The result is good!”

Lancelot glanced at Jack who was in front of him and comforted him with great emotion in his heart. “Of course, it’s also fortunate that the other party underestimated us, so they only brought the elite fighters from the main family but not from the branch families. Otherwise, we wouldn’t have obtained such a victory!”

“You’re right. As for the rest of their people, let them go. They're only some remnants with low martial levels. Their strong fighters are all here, lying lifelessly on the ground. And these four families, sigh, they won’t be on the list of the hidden families anymore.”

Jack spilled out his thoughts slowly after thinking about it.

“Mmhmm!”

Lancelot bobbed his head to show agreement.

Jack then flew off and landed in front of Selena. “Dear, are you alright? Is everything fine?”

“I’m fine. Just a shallow cut on my arm from the sword aura. Oh ya! I managed to kill several others with the same martial level as me! It looks like my combat power is quite good!”

Selena chuckled. “Hehe. We’ve won the battle! If my dear husband says that we can win, we can definitely win!”

“Selena, come down now, come here! The battle just now almost frightened us to death!”

Fiona and the others ran out from the rooms and gathered at the square. Fiona yelled at Selena who was still in mid-air.

“Elaine! My dear Elaine! You’re okay, you’re okay!”

Ben’s eyes frantically searched for Elaine and finally found her flying down from the sky. A grown man like him actually cried out of joy and excitement.

Chapter 1600 Medz

“The people of the branch families, listen! This time you’ve put in a lot of effort in this battle, and that’s why we could win this battle. To reward your indelible credit in this battle, the main family and the branch families will share the spoils of war equally! I believe each branch family can obtain a lot from this battle. After all, many of the strong fighters from the four families have died here, and their martial rings must have a lot of cultivation resources and treasure!”

Seeing that the spoils of war were almost collected, Nash immediately flew into the air and announced loudly.

“Yay! That’s great!”

“Ya! Master White is the best! And he is really sensible and wise! Although the branch families have experienced great loss, it’s worth it! I truly believe that the White family will only grow stronger and stronger!”

The people of the branch families were elated upon hearing the latest announcement. They could hardly contain their excitement.

“First Elder Cabello, and gentlemen from the Hemperly family. I, on behalf of the White family, thank you dearly for helping us out this time!”

Jack smiled as he walked over to thank Kevin, Paul, and the others.

“Hehe. You’re welcome! We’re your friends after all. Right and your combat power. Wow! I don’ t know how to describe it. It’s amazing!”

Kevin chuckled.

“After today, the news will surely spread widely. The four families will be removed from the first tier list, and the White family’s reputation will be enhanced! This will certainly alarm other forces!”

Paul, on the other hand, shared his thoughts emotionally. The White family had lost a few thousand men, but the people who survived the tough battle were all elite fighters. Not to mention that the White family did not lose any fighters of the late or peak stage of True God Realm. So, the top fighters of the White family were still alive; the other forces would not dare to mess with the White family anymore.

Now, the people of those four families were merely a bunch of people without a head to lead them. After they returned to their families from the deadly battlefield, they began to divide the treasures and resources of the family. Some of them were afraid that the White family would come and take revenge, so they fled.

As for avenging the dead ones, they did not dare to even think about it at all.

Other than that, the remaining remnants of the Lagorio family did not flee, instead, they came together and discussed their future fate. In the end, they went to Cloud Sky Sect to find Lily Lagorio to seek refuge with the Cloud Sky Sect.

“What! My…my parents, and my grandfather…are all dead?”

When Lily was told about the battle, terror and disbelief stabbed her heart that she almost fainted. She could not believe the truth; her hands went cold and clammy and dread twisted in her gut.

“That’s impossible! Four families went there! F*cking four! They had around 120 thousand fighters with them! How could they lose the battle so badly? What’s more ridiculous is that the White family had only lost around five thousand people? And they managed to kill all your strong fighters, leaving 40 thousand remnants who barely escaped from the deadly fight? What a joke! There were people from the Hunt, the Norman, and the Church families too!”

Joel was not convinced. Disbelief and shock were written all over his face, finding the news hard to believe.

“Sigh! What to do? Kevin Cabello and several fighters from the Hemperly family were there too. The most important thing is that the Young Master of the White family is extremely strong! Six strong fighters at the peak stage of True God Realm besieged him, and logically he would be dead in no time. But he managed to turn the table around and kill all six of them within a minute!”

“Six in one minute?”

The buzzing sound was ringing inside Joel’s head, trying to comprehend reality. He was the master of one of the four great ancient clans, and his combat power was definitely stronger than the average fighters with the true god peak level!

Chapter 1601

However, even so, if he could kill two fighters at the peak of true god-level by himself or even deal with three of them on his own, it would already be considered exceptional!

Six of them together? That was ridiculous! He would surely die.

What was even more unbelievable? Jack’s opponents were not just ordinary fighters at the peak of true god-level, but one of those strongest people in that realm-old Master Hunt, Quentin Hunt, who was also the head of a first-class family.

Their combat power was much more powerful than those who had just broken through to the peak stage of the true god realm.

However, in the end, these well-known strong fighters, in front of Jack, were as weak as a kitten-could not even withstand a single blow.

“Wait. What if the six elders of the true god-level that we sent out to intercept and kill the White trio before were also killed by him?”

After a moment of silence, a frightening thought appeared in Joel’s mind and his face blanched instantly.

“No…no way! Didn’t the scouts say that there were some kind of sharp claw wounds on their body? Judging from the state of the corpses, they should be killed by some powerful demonic beasts!”

An elder of the Skies Pavilion frowned and spilled out his confusion aloud after thinking about it.

“Nothing is impossible. Jack, that brat, he is capable of killing six opponents of true god peak level now, and even if he could kill six of our elders that time, there was still Nash White and Kenneth White helping him. Nash and Kenneth could have helped to stall two of them!”

As Joel continued to analyze the situation, he felt that the possibility of Jack killing their elders increased tremendously. With his eyes narrowed, he analyzed, “It is also very possible that Jack has some powerful ultimate martial technique, and could perform claw-like attacks.”

“Honey, I don’t care. I don’t freaking care!”

Lily, who plopped onto the ground sobbing, crawled over to Joel and hugged his thigh. With a pleading expression hung on her face, she begged, “Honey, you have to avenge my family. Avenge my father, mother, grandfather, and the rest! They can’t just die like that. And they died because they wanted to avenge me! Please, I beg you, please, avenge them! You’re the only hope I have now!”

Joel went speechless for a while and then let out a long breath, “Sigh! Dear, it’s not that I don’t want to help you. I have the same feeling as you, I can’t wait to kill him right now. But… but the current Skies Pavilion is simply not their opponent at all. I’m already thankful if the White family doesn’t come to us for trouble.”

“Humph! Revenge is a dish best served cold! I’ll avenge my family one day!”

Lily clenched her fists and gritted her teeth as she bellowed. “Honey, you must work extra hard to break through to the ultimate god realm! Strive to be the first to breakthrough! By that time comes, kill that b*stard for me!”

“All right, all right. My dear wife, don’t worry. When I break through to the ultimate god realm, I’ll definitely kill that brat for you. Sigh! Take a good rest and calm yourself down. I’ m, too, feeling angry and upset about your parents’ death, but now we really can’t afford to do anything to Jack nor the White family! Not only Skies Pavilion, but I bet the other three ancient clans feel the same. All the four ancient clans have to bow down to the White family and be polite to them from now on!”

Helplessness surged through Joel. The tables had turned dramatically to the point that he was not prepared for it. In the past few months, the situation that was peaceful at the beginning started to tremble and was in constant turmoil. Nobody knew what would happen in the future.

“Fine!”

However, when she was just about to leave, she quickly thought of something and wheeled back, “Wait. In the conversation just now, you mentioned that Kevin Cabello and some people from the Hemperly family were there too? They helped the White family in the battle?”

One of the old men from the Lagorio family who had come to seek refuge nodded and said,” Yes, the First Elder of the Hemperly family is actually a strong fighter who's at the peak of the true god realm. Moreover, the young master of the Hemperly family, although he had only broken through to the late stage of the true god realm not long ago, his combat power is very strong too. He killed many of our people!"

Chapter 1602

"The Cabello family is really close to the White family now. The situation is completely different from before. So, it also makes sense for Kevin Cabello to be at the Wood's residence. But why was the Hemperly family there in the White residence?"

Several horizontal lines formed on Lily's forehead as she thought about the matter. She muttered with some doubts.

"Right. If you didn't mention it, I would not have noticed that too. It's really strange. Why are the Hemperly family members there? Furthermore, they offered to help the White family in the battle!"

Joel's brows snapped together upon listening to Lily's reminder. He began to think.

"The Hemperly family has always been in a neutral position and they were usually low-profile, not offending nor intentionally trying to please other families. So, why are they there in the White residence?"

An old man of the Lagorio family could not help but mutter a few words.

Soon, Lily quickly thought of something, and her eyes lit up." Wait! I know! It must be this. Haven't we been unaware of which family who had obtained the stone ball inside the Bright Snow Mountain? Now it seems that the stone ball must be in the Hemperly's hand! They're the ones who got it!"

"The Hemperly family?"

The Lagorio family members were startled and puzzled at Lily ‘s words, they exchanged glances in confusion.

Finally, a man broke the silence. “Indeed, the Hemperly family was in the Bright Snow Mountain excursion team with the Hunt family. They didn’t choose to go to the Black Windy Island at that time.”

Lily nodded before saying, “Let’s think of it this way. If we were the Hemperly family, we’d definitely avoid seeking help from the ancient clans after we got the stone ball because we’re too weak. And as for the Hunt family, it’d be useless to find them because they don’t have a stone ball at all! So, the only family that could help the Hemperlys would only be the White family. And the Hemperly family wouldn’t have to fear that the White family will snatch their stone ball because the White have one themselves. As long as the Hemperly family offers great benefit to the White family, the White would naturally agree to protect them!”

“So that’s how it is! It seems that the other stone ball is in the hands of the Hemperly family. And those Hemperlys who are staying at the White residence, one of them must have had the stone ball!”

Joel bobbed his head in agreement, however, he soon furrowed. “If that’s the case, it’s almost impossible for us to snatch the stone ball since the White family is willing to take them in. If we head over to snatch the stone ball, we’re basically looking for death!”

A man from the Skies Pavilion expressed his thoughts after thinking about the matter.” Master, how about this? The Hemperly family only sent a few people to the White family, and Master Hemperly is still in the Hemperly residence. This Hemperly family is merely a second-class family. Why don’t we go to the Hemperly residence and capture the young master’s parents, then force Young Master Hemperly to hand over the stone ball? What do you think?”

Before Joel could react, Lily interceded and barked, “No! It can’t be done that way! The most important thing in this battle is that the four great families are going after the White family not the Hemperly family. It was the Hemperly family who offered to help the White family! So, both families must be on good terms right now. If we kidnap the Hemperly family members, the White family might come at us!”

“Lily is right! We’d better not fight with the White family. If we really do that, most likely we won’t be able to defeat them, instead, we would suffer great loss!”

Joel could not help but let out a long breath again. How could he have imagined that it had only been a short period of time but the White family, which he had not put in his eyes before, had now reached such a level that they all had to be afraid of?

“That would be bad. In that case, wouldn’t that mean that we can’ t get any of the stone balls at all?”

One of the elders of the Skies Pavilion said in a gloomy tone.” If we don’t have any stone balls, we won’t be able to stay ahead of the curve. And if the White family or any other families who possess the stone ball, discovers something from the stone ball and takes the lead in breaking through to the ultimate god realm, I’m afraid that they won’t even let us off! After all, we’ve sent someone to assassinate them before, right?”

Chapter 1603

“Yes, Master. That brat hasn’t broken through to the ultimate god realm, yet he is already overwhelmingly powerful. If he truly managed to reach the ultimate god realm, nobody could defeat him anymore! And by then, we’ll have to hide from him!”

Another elder chimed in, expressing his concern.

“Sigh! There’s nothing we can do now. Let’s wait. We can only pray that they don’t discover anything. We must keep an eye on those families with stone balls more often now. We’ve to know their latest progress and situation at all times!”

This was the first time Joel had felt the feeling of despair and powerlessness. “Those of you who are from the Lagorio family, listen up. Although there are quite many of you, I have to say honestly that there are not many fighters with the cultivation of true god and semi-god realm. I’ll have someone arrange a place for you to stay. Please train hard and strive to breakthrough!”

“Thank you so much, Master Collins!”

Those remnants who came from the Lagorio family bowed and thanked Joel.

Joel shot them a faint smile. Although the remnants of the Lagorio family were not strong in combat power, it was always better to have more people. Then at least the overall combat power of the Skies Pavilion can be increased even just by a little, and to cover the loss they suffered previously

The other families and the other three ancient clans were shocked to the core when they found out what had happened.

Two more days had passed. The people of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings could not stay still anymore. They went to Jack, discussing whether they should gather seven stone balls together and investigate the stone balls.

After all, they had analyzed, studied, and examined the stone ball for so many days but all their efforts were in vain.

Jack had long been expecting their arrival. Without any hesitation, Jack agreed to the plan; Paul responded similarly as well-he agreed to it without the slightest hesitation.

However, Harry Yeagar, the Master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, did not expect Jack to tell them that they had to report the research progress to the Cabello family and some other families. After all, Jack had had the agreement with them.

Upon hearing this, Harry felt a flicker of irritation. But after giving the matter some thought, he finally nodded to agree.

After the discussion, Harry went to meet the people of the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles to talk over this matter. He planned to get the other two ancient clans to gather at the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, take out the seven stone balls, and analyze these balls together. He wanted to know if anything different would happen if these seven stone balls were gathered.

Two days after Harry left the White residence, Jack and Paul were in the room, studying the stone balls in front of them

“Young Master Jack, I have a bold idea. What do you think will happen if we put our palms on the stone ball and inject our Chi energy into it?”

After studying at the stone balls for a while, Paul suddenly expressed a bold thought.” These two stone balls can absorb the Chi energy pretty fast, and one similar thing between these two stone balls is that their speed of absorbing the Chi energy is even!”

Jack frowned at this sudden idea. “You mean, we inject Chi energy to break this uniformity?” Jack asked.

Chapter 1604

“Hehe, I suddenly thought of this idea. But I don’t dare to try it, because I don’t know what’s going to happen!”

Paul chuckled warmly.

Surprisingly, Jack’s eyes became determined and firm after a moment of doubt. “I think we can give this a try!”

“Wait, Young Master Jack, we shouldn’t act recklessly. This thing absorbs spiritual energy, and it’s actively absorbing! If you suddenly inject some Chi energy into it, disrupting the balance in it, who knows what’s the consequences? What if the consequence is so grave that it’ s unmanageable? It’d be troublesome!”

The First Elder of the Hemperly family instantly jumped and panicked upon hearing this bold suggestion and stepped forward to advise them.

“He’s right, Young Master Jack. We can’t act impulsively. We don’t know what will happen. What if the stone ball explodes? Or becomes a monstrous ball that sucks all the Chi energy out of your body? Then you’ll be doomed!”

Titus also immediately chimed in and warned Jack. “Young Master Hemperly’s idea is too bold and too risky! Besides, even if you want to try it, it’s better to find a random branch family member to do it! You’re the future head of the White family, you’re too important and the entire White family is depending on you! We can’t afford any mishap to happen to you!”

Jack, too, knew that the idea was bold and perilous.

However, when he thought of time slipping by like sand through an hourglass and yet to find a way to break through to the ultimate god realm, he grew anxious.

And when he thought of Fernando Campbell, who was still frozen in ice, his heart sank to the deepest, at the same time, it made him more determined

He extended one of his hands, placed it atop the stone ball in front of him, and then began to inject Chi energy into it.

“Don’t do it, Young Master Jack!”

Titus and the others stood frozen by his action. Jack’s behavior was too sudden! When the others reacted, Jack had already injected his Chi energy into the stone ball.

“Young Master Jack, you’re being too hasty!”

Paul’s heart leaped into his throat when he saw what Jack had done. What if Jack died because of this impulsive behavior? Then he was definitely responsible for it! At that time, the White family would kill him!

“Ten days have passed! For God’ s sake, we can’t continue to drag on like this! I can’t! I must try every possible way!”

Jack’s eyes were firm and determined as he continued to inject more Chi energy into the stone ball.

Soon, he found that the absorption power coming from the stone ball grew stronger and started to absorb Jack’s Chi energy even faster!

“The speed is getting faster and faster! It’s actively sucking the Chi energy right now! That’s bad!”

Titus was frightened by the scene before him. He immediately rushed out in a flash, flew into the air, and shouted, “Master White, it’s bad! Master White, come here quickly! It’s really bad! Young Master Jack is too reckless!”

Not long after, Nash as well as many other elders rushed over to their room, while plenty of others surrounded the room outside.

“Jack, you’re too reckless! If you want to try it, you should let others do it! You’re so young and talented, how could you do this yourself? What if something bad happens to you, then what can we do?”

When Nash came into the room, he was worried, fearing that something bad might happen to Jack.

“I’m fine, Dad. I’ll hold on a little longer!”

Jack gritted his teeth, and soon there were beads of sweat dripping down from his forehead.

Buzz!

At this time, the stone ball, which had never reacted to anything else, let out a slight tremor, and a powerful force was emitted. It directly blasted Jack several meters away.

Bang!

The blast was so sudden that Jack was not prepared for it. He flew away for several meters and almost plopped onto the ground.

Chapter 1605

Jack shook his palm, trying to ease the numbness on his palm. “This stone ball actually shook me off by its own will. Could it be…could it be that there’s really something alive in the stone ball?”

“Ya! It also made a sound!”

Nobody expected this outcome at all. But it made the crowd breathe a sigh of relief when the stone ball pushed Jack away and stopped sucking his Chi energy.

Buzz!

Again the stone ball sounded. And a red beam of light shot out directly from it and straight up into the sky.

The beam of light was thick and bright to the point that it could be seen from a far distance.

“Oh my goodness! What’s that beam of light?”

From ten thousand miles away, the master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings who had just returned to his residence spotted the red beam of light and exclaimed aloud.

“It shot out from where the White family is situated! My goodness! It’s from the White family! Why did such a red light suddenly appear out of nowhere?”

An elder of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings said in a daze.

Harry quickly thought of something, and he took a sharp intake of breath. “It must be like this! It must be that brat from the White family or Paul from the Hemperly family… They must have discovered something from the stone ball that caused such a vision to appear! Otherwise, there wouldn’t be such a light!”

“My God! Could it be that one of them has found the way to break through to the ultimate god realm? If this light is a sign of breaking through to the ultimate god realm, it’s too scary! Ultimate god realm…somebody has already reached that realm?”

Another old man of the same Pavilion boldly guessed after pondering on it, his voice trembling

“Move…move…let’s move! Take the people and we’ll head over to the White family immediately! We must go and see what’s going on. We must know if it is Jack who has broken through to the ultimate god realm!”

Harry had long been impatient. He then led a large group of people, heading straight in the direction of the White family.

Not only the Pavilion of Gods and Kings had acted this way; the other clans and families went straight in the direction of the White family after seeing such a sight in the sky.

Of course, the news spread like a wildfire.

“Look! Oh my god! A red beam of light shot out from the direction of the White family! Could it be that someone from the White family has discovered something out of the stone ball?”

Joel and the others from the Skies Pavilion also noticed the bright red light emitting from the direction of the White family. They exclaimed aloud in shock.

“This won’t do! We must…must go! Let us go and see what’s going on. That brat from the White family, he can’t have broken through to the ultimate god realm!”

Joel quaked.

“Honey, I’m going with you!”

Lily immediately ran to Joel upon hearing his words. “I want to go, even if I could only stay outside and watch from a distance!”

Joel’s forehead puckered together. “You have not even reached the grandmaster level. You trained so hard and could barely reach the seventh-grade martial level. It’s not good for you to go. If Jack has truly broken into the ultimate god level, and fight with us, I don’t think I’ll be able to protect you at that time!”

Nonetheless, Lily was dead determined. “Honey, I must go! We have so many people with us, I can disguise myself as a commoner and blend in with the crowd, and they may not even spot me. Besides, we can stay at the mountain farther away from the White family and send a few strong people to scout and inquire about the red light, can’t we?”

“Alright, let’s go then!”

Seeing that Lily was so resolute, Joel could not do much. Soon, they brought strong men with them, heading straight in the direction of the White family.

Of course, those remnants of the Lagorio family were put on the Skies Pavilion’s disciple clothes, disguised as one of them. Although there were not as many strong people as before, the Skies Pavilion team had a great number of people.

Chapter 1606

No matter which clans or families the people belong to, they all witnessed that bright red beam of light above the sky. Some third-class families knew that it would be useless for them to go to the White residence, but they could not resist wanting to go over to witness the fun. Or perhaps, they wanted to know about the ultimate god realm. Hence, one by one, clans and families headed toward the direction of the White family.

“Look! There’s another beam of light, just of a different color!”

At this time, Harry Yeager, the Master of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, who was heading to the White residence with his men, found out there was another beam of light that shot out of the White residence. They exclaimed aloud.

“It must be another stone ball; it must be the other one! It looks like the Hemperly family does have a stone ball! I heard that they hid in the White residence and now they must have all discovered something out of the stone ball!”

Harry yelled; his voice trembled with excitement. If Jack and Paul had truly discovered something out of it, he must make them tell him, and he would have a share of that hope too.

Sure enough, the only thing that he worried about was that Jack was not willing to tell him the method to break through to the ultimate god realm. Nevertheless, Harry had already planned within his heart; he had three stone balls in total, and if Jack did not want to tell him the method, he would offer him one stone ball to exchange the secret behind it. In this way, Jack and the others would definitely agree to it.

“Look, Master! Two beams of light!”

The Hemperly family, who was rushing toward the White residence, also noticed the two beams of light that were shot into the sky. They were jumping with joy that their feet barely touched the ground. They understood what those two beams of light meant!

“Hahaha! It was the wisest choice to let Paul and the others stay there and get protection from the White family! Everyone, . remember, from now on, we must pay our utmost respect to the White family whenever we meet them! They helped and saved us! So we must have a good relationship with them!”

Darcy Hemperly-the head of the Hemperly family-laughed out loud. His looks told everyone that he was intoxicated with joy and excitement.

“Dad, look, look over there! Another ray of light…”

Likewise, the Cabello family, who was heading toward the White residence, was flabbergasted with joy.

“Yes! I saw it! Hahaha!”

Alejandro chuckled aloud; he looked at his youngest daughter, Daniella, and said, “My little Daniella, I heard that you’ve been training really hard lately, and you have broken through to the late stage of true god realm, just like your second sister!”

Daniella felt proud of herself and said in a prideful tone, “of course! I’m talented by birth and you all know that! If I wasn’t playful and didn’t slack off before, I must have long broken through to the late stage of the true god realm! But late-stage means nothing, I have to work harder and harder, to break into the peak of the true god realm! And even to the ultimate god realm one day!”

Helena, who stood beside Daniella, rolled her eyes at Daniella’s boastful remark. “I think you’re just afraid that when someone breaks through to the ultimate god realm, he gets to live two hundred years of life but you don’t have two hundred years to spend with him and grow old together!”

Although Helena did not announce their relationship to the others, most of the Cabello family members knew that Helena was playing a fake couple with Jack, and the person who truly liked Jack was their third young lady, Daniella Cabello!

But Daniella was not mad at all, instead, she felt happy that most of them already knew about it! There were already quite a few people who knew that she was in a relationship with Jack, and they were the real couple!

As for Helena, she was calm. The Hunt family could be considered as finished right then and there; that family was completely delisted from the prominent family list. And families like the Lagorio, Church, and Norman family, faced the same ending as the Hunt family. These four great families disappeared from history just like that. Therefore, she did not have to continue to be a fake couple with Jack anymore.

Chapter 1607

Helena was happy for Daniella; her heart was full of joy, at the same time, envy. She was envious that her little sister could find such a good man.

“Nonsense, stop it! I just want to become stronger!”

Daniella’s face was suddenly kissed pink upon hearing Helena’s words. She responded; her tone full of embarrassment.

But at this time, Venus thought of something and turned to Alejandro, “Dad, why are there two lights? Does that mean it’s some magical treasure instead of martial technique? If it’s not a martial technique, likely, we can't learn it! And that also means that a single light can only allow one person to break through to the ultimate god realm! Wouldn't all our effort, including going there right now, be in vain?"

Alejandro's face sank immediately after hearing Venus's words. He and the other, whose faces were full of excitement, had now been overwritten by gloominess.

However, after a short period of silence, Alejandro smiled and shrugged nonchalantly. "No matter what the situation is, we have to go over and take a look. Even if only seven people can break through to the ultimate god realm with the seven stone balls, it'd be God's will. I can only say that some things may be predestined, and we can't help it, right?"

Venus bobbed her head, showing understanding. "Well, I just want to remind you all of it. I'm afraid that everyone might have too much hope and in the end, when we can't get what we desire, we'll fall into the abyss of despair."

"Thanks, but don't worry. We understand the situation very well!"

Alejandro, the First Elder, and others exchanged glances and bitter smiles were plastered on their faces. "After all, Jack had promised to share with us if the method is some sort of martial technique. He's kind enough to be willing to share the tips. But if the ultimate clue is not a martial technique, then we can't help it either! Everyone has to abide by the original agreement!"

The Pavilion of Gods and Kings was the closest clan to the White residence, and because they marched day and night and took no rest, they finally arrived at the White residence on the second day.

Along the way, the people of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings were feeling strange, because the two beams of light had not disappeared at all, so they did not know what the situation was.

"These rays of light shot into the sky and stayed there for a whole day! But, other than that, there's nothing special about it. If the lights continue to stay on, I'm afraid that the other clans and families would see it and all come over to the White residence. Sigh! What should we do?"

Looking at the two stone balls and the two beams of light before him, Paul rubbed his temple, not knowing what to do. Yesterday, after Jack caused the stone ball to emit the first beam of light, he naturally followed Jack's practice and began to actively inject Chi energy into the other stone ball. Of course, the end result was similar to Jack's another beam of light shot up into the sky.

However, up until now, they did not know what these lights were for and what it could do.

"Right. Other clans and families will definitely come here after spotting this vision in the sky. Sigh! And I think some of them are already arriving!"

Jack flashed a bitter smile. Up until now, they did not find out any other peculiarities other than the lights. Instead, they drew the attention of other clans and families, and they would surely come here to know what had happened.

"Young Master Jack, Master White, there are many people outside the gate! They seem to be people from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings!"

Just as Jack's last word fell, a few young men from the White family ran in and reported.

Chapter 1608

“Oh, speak of the devil, here they are! It looks like they did not rest along the journey here.”

When Nash heard the report, he could not help but smile bitterly then comment, “Let’s go. There! S no room for too many people here. We’ll meet them outside. And if they want to come inside and take a look, they can, but not too many of them!”

Jack nodded in agreement. He asked a few people to stay in the room to watch after the stone balls, and then he flew out of the room.

“Hahaha! Master White, Young Master Jack, you guys are working out something? We spotted these two beams of light from far far away! Congratulations!”

Harry immediately bowed and greeted Jack and Nash with a fist-to-palm salute the moment he saw them. He then congratulated them.

“The room is rather small, so I’m afraid that not every one of you could go in. Master Harry and some elders, you may go in and take a look. As for the rest, please rest outside in the square!” Jack smiled.

Harry’s eyes immediately lit up once he heard Jack’s invitation. “Yes, yes, of course! Everyone, listen, rest in the square! Elders and I will go in and take a look!” He commanded his men.

Soon, Jack and the others led Harry and the elders into the house.

“Those lights are truly from these two stone balls! Brother Jack, how did you make them glow? And about these lights, is there anything special about them?”

Harry gazed at the two stone balls that were placed on the huge table. He asked in awe.

Jack, on the other hand, shot him a dry smile. “To be honest, we’ve studied the lights for a while now, but could not find anything special about these lights. Please, take a closer look.” He continued.

Harry’s face fell and the beams in his eyes dimmed down the moment he heard Jack’s words. “I thought these lights represent the auspicious signs of breaking through to the ultimate god realm. But when I noticed that these lights were still there in the sky, I felt strange. Sigh! There’s not much progress, is there?” He said with disappointment in his tone.

The elder of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings chimed in,” Well! I think the progress is good! We’ve studied and analyzed the stone for so many days, but we found nothing at all! And at least Jack and Paul have discovered something different.”

“By the way, Jack, how did you make this light appear?”

Harry finally could not hold back any longer but ask.

“Oh, actually, it’s quite simple. This stone ball will actively absorb the surrounding Chi energy, and after observing this feature, Paul and I found that the two stone balls’ speed of absorbing the Chi energy is the same and constant. So, we want to break such uniformity!”

“So, in the end, we took the risk. We placed our palms on the stone balls and injected our Chi energy into them. The stone balls reacted to our action and began to quickly absorb our Chi energy. And when the absorption reached a certain level, the stone balls released an expulsive force to push the Chi injector away. And then, the beams came out.”

Jack smiled faintly, telling the incident from head to toe to the other party

“So that’s how it is!”

Understanding dawned upon Harry’s face. “But, you guys are bold, aren’t you? What if anything bad happened to you? If any unforeseen accident happens, it’d be a problem!” He continued

“Yup! At that time, we were shocked too! Young Master Jack directly put his palm on it and began to inject his Chi energy into it. Very risky! Fortunately, nothing bad happened to him!”

Titus immediately added.

“Well? Master Harry, since you guys are here, do you want to take out your three stone balls and try this method on them together? Since everyone is here, why don’t we study and explore the stone balls together right here?”

Jack looked at Harry and said straightforwardly.

Harry hesitated for a few seconds. After all, they had three in their hands, and it seemed to be unfair and not profitable to take them all three out.

Chapter 1609

However, Jack was already so proactive about what they got, telling himself and the others everything about it. Moreover, Jack’s combat power was so strong that even he himself would not want to be his opponent. So, if he was reluctant to take the three stone balls out at that time, the White family would be upset.

After pondering for a few seconds, he had made a decision. “Alright, alright! Let’s take them out and try them together!” He smiled.

With a flip of his palm, one stone ball appeared in his hand. He then turned to the First and Second Elders.

After seeing that Harry had agreed to Jack's proposal, the First and Second Elder of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings also took out the stone balls they had with them. They placed the stone balls on the table.

"Come on, try and inject your Chi energy into it!"

Harry eyed the two elders once more and then walked to the stone ball. He placed his hand on it, mobilized the Chi energy in his body, and began to inject Chi energy into the stone ball.

After a while, Harry was obviously scared by the speed of the stone ball absorbing his Chi energy. The speed grew faster and faster and it began to actively suck the Chi energy in his body.

"Jack, how long is this going to take?"

Harry immediately shot Jack the question. The first and second elders who stood aside, also looked at Jack with concern in their eyes, fearing that something bad might happen to them. If these stone balls did not stop sucking the Chi energy in their body, they would be doomed by then!

"Don't worry, it's almost done!"

Jack, on the other hand, was feeling bashful.

Bang bang bang!

At the same moment, all three were bounced off by the expulsive force of the stone balls. They were flown several meters backward before they could stabilize themselves and stood still. They trembled and felt the numbness on their hands.

What followed the scene was three different colors of light beams were emitted by the stone balls and shot into the sky.

“The light! It really did appear! Only that the color is different!”

Harry exclaimed aloud.

“My goodness! Look, three more beams of light appeared in the sky!”

The Ximenes family, who was on their way to the White residence, saw three more beams of light shooting up into the sky, one after another. They exclaimed in amazement.

“Judging from the situation, the people of the Pavilion of Gods and Kings also went to the White residence! They’re fast, eh? We have to speed up! We want to get a share of good things, don’t we?”

The head of the Ximenes family ordered his men to speed up after witnessing the five different colored beams of light in the sky

In the other direction, the Hall of Divine Royal people had sent out tens of thousands of experts to the White residence. They were heading there at full speed

“Five beams of light in the sky! Freaking five! My goodness! Does this mean that five people have broken through to the ultimate god realm?”

Matthew Charles-the master of the Hall of Divine Royal-stared at the beams of light in the distant sky and sighed.

“Master, we’d better not go. The White family is too powerful! They can kill all four families at once, including three first-class hidden families like the Hunt, Church, and Norman families! These three families were removed from the prominent list right now. And we have even more enmity with the White family. So if that brat has truly broken into the ultimate god realm, we won’t even have a chance to escape by then!”

One of the elders of the Hall of Divine Royal was worried and warned Matthew in a panic.

Chapter 1610

“Better not go? If we don’t go, there’s no way for us to turn the tables anymore! And by then it’ ll be impossible to break through to the ultimate god realm!”

Matthew stopped. With his tone upset, he criticized, “If we go back to our sea territory like a shrinking turtle, we can never break into the ultimate god realm! We could only hide within our pathetic territory and wait for death. And what if Jack and others came here and wanted to terminate us? When that time comes, where do you escape to?”

“But…but it’s too dangerous for us to go there this time! If they found out that we were there, we can’t escape either!” |

The old man lowered his head, murmuring

“We’ll hide on the big mountain a distance away from the White family when we arrive so that we’ll not be discovered by them so easily. And when the time comes, there’ll be more clans and families going there, and we’ll send a few men to blend into the crowd. In that way, we could at least find out something. It’s better than staying behind and not going. If we go, we can find out about the situation, then we can still find a way to overcome it. Otherwise, this marks the end of our Hall!”

Matthew stressed his point again.

Elder Moseley, at this time, chimed in and supported Matthew, “Master is right. I should go this time and see what those beams of light are. Perhaps, you only need to enter into the beams of light and let the light shower you for a while, then you can break through to the ultimate god realm? Who knows. And I guess there'll be a lot of people rushing into the beams, and at that time we could seize the advantage and blend in."

"Yes, yes! What Elder Moseley said is absolutely right! Maybe those lights are some kind of magic or treasure that allows people to break into the ultimate god realm!"

Matthew's eyes immediately lit up at that thought. The ultimate god realm, how wonderful was that?

"Let's go and take a look! We should take the risk this time!"

After pondering for a short while, those elders who were somewhat scared of the perceived risk and danger clenched their teeth and their gaze turned determined. The crowd set off toward the White residence once again, flying in the sky at full speed.

"Five beams of light right now! It looks like the Pavilion of Gods and Kings have already arrived at the White residence!"

The Cabello family immediately understood the situation after spotting three more additional lights appearing in the sky. They then accelerated their flying speed, hoping to speed up their pace.

"Young Master Jack, Master White, the Zachary family are here! They said they're here to visit you."

Several young men of the White family entered the room where Jack and the others were and reported to them about the arrival of the Zachary family.

Nash's face fell the moment he heard the report. "Why is the Zachary family here too? Humph! They're close with the Hunt family and used to look down on our White family! They still have the nerve to come here?"

“Hehe, because they want to know if they can have a chance to break through to the ultimate god realm, right?”

Jack flashed a bitter smile and then studied the room again.” This room is small. If people keep coming here, I don’t think it will fit everyone!”

“Let’s move to the council room in the main hall over there!”

Nash said after giving the matter some thoughts.

“Sure!”

Jack bobbed his head, ready to keep the stone ball into his martial ring.

However, he could not. He tried again and found that he could not keep the stone ball into his martial ring anymore.

Likewise, Paul, Harry, and two other elders encountered a similar issue-they could not keep the stone ball away.

They exchanged glances with each other; their eyes were full of surprise and puzzlement.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1611-1613

Chapter 1611

“How’s this possible? It can’t be stored back into the martial ring!” Harry was embarrassed.” It looks like once the light appears from the stone ball, we are unable to store it back in the martial ring!”

Jack, on the other hand, also smiled bitterly. “It looks like we can only carry it around!”

After he spoke, they flew out while carrying one stone ball each.

“Jack, what about the people from the Zachary family?” Nash had no idea if he should allow the people from the Zachary family to enter. Many of the masters from the White family were outside and they were in the sky, taking care of the order. Obviously, the members of other forces were not allowed in without permission from Nash and Jack.

On top of that, some of the forces brought quite a number of people with them. They did not only bring those in the true god-level but also those in the semi-god level.

Jack thought about it and said, Nevermind then, we would be seen as stingy people if we don’t allow any of them to come in!”

He looked at the men from the White family who were here to make the report before saying,” How about this? Announce that those forces who went to the Black Windy Island with us are given a twenty pax quota if they are here for a visit as we made a promise previously. The others can stay outside or rest on the empty land at the mountain foot. As for those who did not follow us to the Black Windy Island, such as the Zachary family, they are only given three quotas if they wish to visit us! As for the Hemperly family, twenty of their people are allowed in as they are considered our alliance!”

“Alright, Young Master!” Those young men looked at each other before flying out.

Nash also nodded in satisfaction after he heard what Jack said. The way Jack handled this was extremely well. Not only would they avoid offending the forces that did not follow them to Black Windy Island but those people were also given quotas to enter and take a look at the situation.

As for the forces that followed them to the Black Windy Island, twenty people from each family were allowed to enter. This would give them a sense of superiority and those people would be delighted because of this.

“Young Master Jack, what about the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles? Only three of their people are allowed to enter if they are here? As for the Skies Pavilion, I don’t think they dare to come!” Titus soon remembered something. He walked up and reminded Jack.

Jack was embarrassed. “I almost forgot about them. The people from the Skies Pavilion would not dare to come as they would be considered suicidal if they come over. As for the Pavilion of Divinity and the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles, they have one stone ball each. We are also waiting for their stone balls as it’s better to study the seven stone balls together. It’s obviously not suitable if they are also given a three pax capacity and I’m afraid that they would be unhappy about it!”

“I think we can give them the capacity of twenty people each. What do you think?” Titus immediately recommended it.

Jack nodded. “Alright. Housekeeper Titus, please assist me in notifying them. It really isn’t a good idea to not treat these two ancient clans the same as the others!”

“Haha… Young Master Jack, you’ re too polite! We are a family, nothing is bothersome!” Titus laughed as he flew out toward the entrance of the mountain

He had never imagined that the illegitimate son of the White family that he and his granddaughter, Beth, went searching for would grow so extensively in such a short period of time. Now, even the members of the other ancient clans had to pay attention to Jack’s facial expression when they spoke.

Those young people soon flew out and looked at the master of the Zachary family. “Master Zachary, our young master has given his order. Your people did not follow us to the Black Windy Island nor have any agreement with our young master so you can’t be considered as a friendly alliance. Your people head down the mountain or rest at the plaza over there. However, since you’re here to visit us, we will allow three people to go in and have a look!”

The Fourth Elder, who was standing there to maintain the order also said with a smile.” That’s right. Since you’re only here for a visit, there’s no need for too many people to enter. It’s quite nice that three of you are allowed to go in. Discuss among yourselves and see which three shall go in!”

Chapter 1612

After hearing this, the members of the Zachary family were embarrassed while their hearts were filled with regret. If they chose to be friends with the White family and followed them to the Black Windy Island, they would have gotten into the White family’s good books. Then they would not be treated differently.

However, the White family was benevolent enough to allow three of their family member to go in and observe. There was nothing they could do even if the White family did not give them face and ask them to leave.

After all, they knew about the strong combat power that was capable of wiping out four families. The most crucial point was that the White family did not suffer any huge losses in that battle.

“Thank you, thank you! We are satisfied that three of our people are allowed to enter!” The hint of a smile soon appeared on Master Zachary’s face. He thought about it and said, “How about this? I shall enter with the First Elder and Second Elder. The others can just wait at the empty land at the bottom of the mountain!”

“Yes, family master!” The others immediately led their people and flew away. They knew that their family only had three masters in the peak stage of the true god-level so it was best if the three of them entered together

As the members of the Zachary family prepared to enter the White family, a large group of the Cabello family’s members had also rushed over.

When Alejandro saw that the members of the Zachary family had gone down to rest and only three were prepared to go in.

Alejandro also frowned as it looked like only the three of them were allowed to enter.

At this moment, Titus also flew over and informed the Fourth Elder of the situation Jack

Said previously in private before flying in “Greetings, Master Cabello, it’s been a long time. Haha!” The Fourth Elder laughed as he gestured politely to the other party with his hands.

“We happened to see a weird effect appearing in the sky over here so we came over to take a look. We would like to ask Young Master Jack if they had found something!” Alejandro also gestured politely with his hands. He then asked again. “I wonder if the members of the Cabello family are also given a three pax capacity to go in and take a look?”

“Haha… Master Cabello, the situation is different for your Cabello family as your family is a friendly alliance of ours and you guys have made an agreement with us previously. Our young master had said that a twenty pax capacity is allowed for forces like your family so that you can go in to take a look or study the items.” The Fourth Elder started laughing and said to Alejandro.

“Haha… Alright! Twenty pax… Twenty pax is already a lot!” Kevin started laughing loudly after he heard this. It looked like borrowing the ancient tome to Jack previously was an extremely wise choice. Apart from that, he also helped them greatly during the battle. The members of the White family really knew how to repay one’s kindness with gratitude.

“This is great. Does that mean that we are allowed to go in too?” Daniella, Helena, and the others also smiled happily. If they were only given three quotas like the Zachary family, they would not be given an opportunity to enter with their family members. However, they were given a twenty pax quota. It was enough for them, the Three Golden Flowers, the other elders, and their father to go in together.

“Jack is quite a nice young man.”

Chapter 1613

Alejandro had a proud expression on his face as he instantly felt that he was one whole level better than the Zacharys. He immediately started picking people to go in with him. After he finished making his choice, he asked the others to rest at the empty space at the bottom of the mountain

The members of the Zachary family were extremely envious when they saw that the Cabello family had a quota of twenty pax.

The members of the Hemperly family also arrived soon. They were also delighted when they learned that twenty of their people were also allowed to enter.

More and more forces arrived. The second or third-class aristocratic families that followed the Hunt family to the Bright Snow Mountain regretted their decision when they found out that they were only given a three pax capacity.

As for those forces that followed the White family to the Black Windy Island, they instantly felt that they were in a much higher position than other forces when they knew that they had a twenty pax capacity

At this moment, many people were standing on a mountain top a distance away and were looking at the situation at the White residence. These were none other than the people from the Skies Pavilion.

“There are five beams of light now. It looks like these lights originated from the stone balls. However, I don’t see anybody flying up toward the beams of light. This means that these beams of light aren’t capable of helping a person to breakthrough to the ultimate god level!” Joel slowly guessed after observing for some time.

Lily, who was beside Joel, said,” There’s one stone ball for each dangerous area. It looks like there will be seven beams of light in the end. It looks like the people from the Pavilion of Divinity and Pavilion of Soaring Eagles aren’t here yet but I think they will arrive soon!”

“Unfortunately, we failed to snatch any of the stone balls. If not, we would be allowed to go and the members of the White family would long for us to take the stone ball out so that we can study together!” Joel curled his hands into fists and said in a bad mood. “This is all because of the people from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings. They are despicable as they secretly went to three of the dangerous areas before everybody else and got three stone balls. If they went to one less dangerous area and left one for us, we would not be in such a passive position right now. We would not be out of options and can only look from far away while others are studying the items inside.”

“That’s right. It would be troublesome if the people inside breakthrough to the ultimate god-level after they successfully finished their research. We don’t have any ways to rush in right now as many of the forces obey Jack’s words. If they are researching the stone balls together at this moment, the forces who own the stone ball would definitely stand at the same front. If we dare rush in right now, they would definitely work together to kill us!” An old man from the Skies Pavilion said with a helpless expression on his face.

In the woods on top of the other mountain, the members of the Hall of Divine Royal had also arrived as they looked forward from far away

“Hall master, it looks like there are already five stone balls. If that’s the case, there shall be two other balls and seven beams of lights shall appear!” Elder Moseley looked forward and said after he thought about it. “Should we send somebody to linger among the other forces and see if we can learn of any news?”

“We shall wait here and see how it goes. The others are outside and they also do not know what’s the situation inside is like too. We shall stay here and see how it goes!” Matthew thought about it and finally decided

At this moment, a group of people could be seen flying toward the White residence from far away

“The members of the Pavilion of Divinity are here!” Some people exclaimed after they took a closer look.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1614-1616

Chapter 1614

The members of the Pavilion of Divinity immediately asked about the situation inside after they arrived. However, they obviously would not get any news from the Fourth Elder.

In the end, the members of the Pavilion of Divinity also found a place to rest. As for their pavilion master, she and nineteen other masters with high fighting prowess went walking slowly toward a hall in front of them.

“What’s the situation now?” The pavilion master of the Pavilion of Divinity immediately asked after she took a look at what was going on and her eyes were filled with expectation.

“Haha… We’ve been looking at it for some time but we did not realise anything. We touched these beams of light with our hands and they are just usual beams of light. We can’t raise our fighting prowess through these beams of lights.” Harry laughed and said to the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Divinity, Aureole.

Jack, on the other hand, said,” We’re waiting for you now and we would like to know if anything else would happen after all seven stone balls light up. Apart from you guys, we are waiting for the members of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles too!”

“How did the light come out from the stone balls?” Aureole did not hesitate and asked curiously after she took a look at these stone balls.

Jack and the others soon informed them about the specific steps. A beam of light soon appeared in the line of sight of everybody present.

“There are six beams of light now. Did you guys discover that there was some slight fluctuation in these beams of lights and they are different now!” Soon, somebody discovered some abnormality and immediately said.

“Yes, if we don’t look carefully, we won’t realize the fluctuation. I wonder if bigger changes will happen after the last stone ball lights up!" Nash was also extremely excited. Since there were already some reactions after the beam of light appeared from

The sixth stone ball, everybody started to look forward to the arrival of the last stone ball.

"The pavilion master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles arrives with the members of their ancient clan!" Just as everybody was looking forward to it, the voice of a man from the White family could be heard at the entrance.

Soon, under the expecting eyes of the crowd, Griffen slowly walked in with nineteen masters from their ancient clan.

"I discovered that there seems to be something weird about the light beams here when I was at the entrance just now. There seems to be some fluctuation? Did you guys manage to study anything? I originally planned to go to the Pavilion of Gods and Kings to research the stone ball. However, before the agreed time arrived, I saw the beams of light appearing in the direction of the White family and there were even two of them. Hence, we rushed over!" Griffen immediately asked the crowd after he entered "Haha… What we realized is what you're seeing right now. We're waiting for you to take out the stone ball that belongs to your Pavilion of Soaring Eagles now!" Harry laughed heartily.

"How did this light emerge?! You guys are really good. We've been studying it for so many days but we failed to get any clue!" Griffen started smiling bitterly.

"Haha… This is all thanks to Young Master White and Young Master Hemperly. They are the ones who discovered this!" Harry laughed before telling Griffen the steps in detail.

Griffen immediately took out his stone ball and placed it beside the other balls. He then activated his Chi and started proactively injecting his Chi into the stone ball he obtained.

As time passed, everybody grew increasingly nervous.

The reason being, something different had happened after the sixth beam of lights appeared. They had no idea what the situation would be after the last beam of light appeared and if something different would happen.

Chapter 1615

“Hopefully…hopefully, there shall be some sort of hint that allows us to directly breakthrough into the ultimate god level!” Even the pavilion master of the Pavilion of Divinity could not help but curled her fists tightly. As a superior pavilion master of an ancient clan, she had always been resolute no matter how serious the matter was. However, she was really nervous this time.

Hum!

Finally, another beam of light appeared and all seven beams of lights of different colors looked extremely beautiful as they rushed into the sky.

“There are seven beams, seven beams!” Many people outside the hall witnessed the scene. Those who were resting on the floor immediately stood up. Although they had no idea what was happening inside the hall, their hearts were filled with either anticipation or speculation

“There are seven beams of light!” On the faraway mountain top, the members from both the Skies Pavilion and Hall of Divine Royal felt a tug in their hearts. However, nobody dared make a move as they had no idea what the situation inside

Was.

“There are seven beams of light and the fluctuation is so much stronger. However, it seems like nothing special is happening?” In the large meeting hall, everybody stared at the seven stone balls in front of them. It was as if they were afraid that some precious item would be released from the stone balls the next second and somebody shall snatch it away if they were distracted for a split second.

Hum!

The beams of lights hummed and in the end, gathered together.

“What’s happening?” At this moment, the First Elder of the Cabello family felt a strong absorptivity pulling on the martial ring he had on his finger.

“These lights seem to be interested in my martial ring?” Kevin looked at his martial ring and he could clearly feel that the absorptivity grew increasingly stronger. He was also extremely nervous at that moment and did not know what to do.

“There seems to be nothing special with this martial ring of yours? Why is it attracted to your martial ring?” Alejandro frowned as he was equally puzzled.

“Take off your martial ring now and maybe walk toward the absorptive force? Or there might be some item in your martial ring that these seven stone balls are attracted to. Why don’t you take out all the items inside the martial ring?” Jack thought about it before suggesting it to Kevin.

“Alright!” Kevin was extremely nervous as the unknown was fearful and he had no idea what would happen next.

He immediately changed his thoughts and sent all the items in his martial ring flying out after he finished speaking.

The next moment, all the other items fell to the ground and the martial ring was no longer absorbed by the weird power. Only the ancient tome flew up and went straight into the beam of lights.

“It’s that ancient tome!” Kevin inhaled deeply after he took a look. All this while, he had always felt that this ancient tome had something to do with breaking through to the ultimate god-level as it recorded so many high-level pills, pill remedies, spirited grass, and others that were unheard of. Hence, he had always treated it like a precious item.

In the end, he discovered that the clues to breaking through into the ultimate god-level had nothing to do with the ancient tome. Instead, it was those seven stone balls discovered in the Seven Dangers that were related to it.

However, he was surprised to discover that the ancient tome was still not a simple item as it was still greatly connected to the ultimate god level.

Chapter 1616

“It’s that ancient tome!” Jack was just as taken aback when he saw the situation. He had also read the tome, and though he merely spent a few days on it, there was nothing special about the tome apart from some spirited grass among others.

Unexpectedly, after researching these seven stone balls for such a long period, the beams of light these seven stone balls released were able to attract this ancient tome.

Everyone was shocked as the ancient tome was absorbed in.

It flew on top of the beams of light and remained floating there.

Soon, golden light shone on the ancient tome.

Gulp!

The surrounding people became quiet, so much so that the sounds of people gulping could be heard. It was horrifyingly quiet.

Everybody wondered if something was to happen the next second.

Soon, the beams disappeared without a hint. All seven stone balls once again restored their normal state as the ancient tome fell to the ground.

Whoosh!

The pavilion master of the Pavilion of Soaring Eagles was the fastest. He rushed forward in a flash and picked up the ancient tome.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Members of the other forces immediately surrounded him, afraid of him running away.

Griffen smiled embarrassingly when he realized what happened. “Fear not, everyone. I just want to take a look and see if there are any changes on this tome.”

“Haha! This ancient tome belongs to me, Master Griffen. Why should you be so anxious when I’m not even in a hurry?” Kevin smiled coldly as he continued, “There are many masters from different families here. Do you think that members of your Pavilion of Soaring Eagles can escape after you take this item? You and your people might be able to run if this happened long ago, escaping with your fastest speed, but it’d be all too easy if Young Master Jack wants to kill you now, right?”

No one was foolish, and they knew Griffen had not gotten used to the current situation. He still thought that the four ancient clans were still highabove, so he wanted to take the ancient tome and see if it was some sort of martial art technique. If it was a martial art technique, there was a possibility that this guy might immediately fight his way out with the 19 other people from his ancient clan.

Unfortunately, things have changed from before.

Griffen smiled again before opening the ancient tome.” Come over… Come, come… Let’s study it together.”

Jack, Kevin, and the others exchanged looks before they gathered forward.

“All seven beams of light have disappeared. Hall Master, we have no idea what the situation is like right now. Shall we rush in to take a look?” suggested an old man from the Hall of Divine Royal to Matthew after all seven beams of light disappeared. “If there are some precious items…”

The corners of Matthew’s mouth twitched a couple times after he heard this. He wanted to rush in badly, but there were so many masters from the mainland there. It was like signing his death warrant even if more people came, let alone his own men there.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1617-1619

Chapter 1617

Matthew balled his fists and reluctantly replied, “Let’s wait and see. We’d be crazy if we rushed in now. Let’s see what the situation is like later on.”

Similarly, Joel and the rest from Skies Pavilion were also puzzled as they had no idea what was happening inside. However, they could only wait on standby

On the other hand, Jack and the others stared at the ancient tome as they started reading it.

“The pill remedies and information about the pills have disappeared!” After flipping through several pages of the ancient tome, a surprised expression was written all over Kevin’s face. He then continued to say, “What’s written on it?”

Everybody started looking at it together, and all of them looked surprised after they inspected it.

“Dear me… It’s recorded in this tome that there were a lot of Chi on this earth many years ago, and many had broken through to the ultimate god-level. There was even another fighting prowess level and is known as the soul-penetrating level. Both the ultimate god and soul penetrating level is divided into nine grades, from the first to the ninth grade!”

“On top of that, the people in the ultimate god-level can live up to two hundred years while the person in the soul-penetrating level can live up to five hundred years!” Kevin inhaled deeply when he read this and was deeply astounded.

“My god… The ultimate godlevel should be quite terrifying! What sort of existence would the soul-penetration level be? Apart from that, a person who’s in the soul-penetration level can live for five hundred years. Oh my goodness, five hundred years!” An old man with white hair from the Lancaster family was so excited that his eyes turned red. If he was given the opportunity to reach the ultimate god -level or achieve the soul-penetration level, he could live for at least 400 years. The thought of it filled him with hope.

He was already 70, and if he failed to break through, death was the only ending left for him despite being in good health. He would not be able to live long,

After he sighed with excitement, he immediately said to Jack and the others, Bosses, please take a look quickly and see what’s written behind. Are there any other fighting prowess?”

Jack smiled bitterly before he continued to flip the tome. After looking at it for a while, he said, “I think the Chi on this earth must’ve been several times more in the past compared to how it is currently. From the records, many have entered the soul-penetration level, but to break through into the soul-penetration level, a person needs a lot of Chi. They need third-grade pills or fourth-grade spiritual grass to provide enough Chi to help them break through into the level!”

“If that’s the case, our earth had third and fourth-grade spirited grass many years ago. There must also be quite a lot of such items. Otherwise, how could so many people break through into the soul-penetration level?” gushed the old man at Jack’s explanation

The sacred lady of the Pavilion of Divinity, Melody Lawson, also frowned and asked curiously," However, where are those masters from years ago? Have all of them passed away? Why can't we even see third-grade spirited grass, let alone fourth grade spirited grass? If those who were at the soul-penetration level had already died after their time was up, does this mean that this was five hundred years or maybe longer ago?"

"Yes. Due to some unknown reason, the Chi of this earth had thinned out, and it's unknown where those so-called masters went." Jack wore a solemn expression

"What about behind? Is anything written behind?" urged the curious Titus at Jack and the others. All of them wanted to know what happened. Where did those previous masters go? Would they still have the opportunity to break through into the ultimate god level? Jack once again took a look and said, "The records here said that our people were abandoned by others for unknown reasons. Those masters who had broken through into the so-called soul-penetrating realm disappeared within a short period. However, some people saw that some of the masters in the soul-penetrating level went toward the direction of Misty Forest."

Chapter 1618

"Misty Forest?" Many people were baffled when they heard the term. Misty Forest was an extremely special place, and though it was not extremely dangerous, many people failed to come out after entering the forest. The deeper they walked into the forest, the more difficult it was to escape.

More importantly, flying was impossible after arriving at the deeper parts of Misty Forest. The gravitational force in the area was obviously different from the outside world.

As his expression faltered and darkened, he turned to Jack and confessed, "Lance and the others went to Misty Forest."

He still had complicated feelings toward Lance. After all, what Lily did made him shameful, and he had also punished Lily

Unexpectedly, Lily still remained impenitent and worked together with the Lagorio family to go against the White family. This was the reason the Lagorio family no longer existed

However, Lance had no idea about what happened before, and he did not know the whole story, thus Nash did not hate Lance.

Of course, Lance and those from other families had completely disappeared after they went to Misty Forest. There was a high possibility that they had long died inside.

He did not expect that the final destination these seven stone balls pointed to was Misty Forest.

Harry, from the Pavilion of Gods and Kings, then recommended, If we're truly out of options, let's just chop off all the trees in the forest. Also, there are so many of us here, and it shouldn't be an issue for us to go in and take a look together!"

Nash smiled bitterly and immediately disproved Harry's idea, "I'm afraid that won't work. Everybody knows that the trees in Misty Forest are ancient and extremely huge. It isn't so easy to chop off any of the trees. The most crucial point is that this forest is huge, and even if the people from our forces enter the forest, it'd be like throwing a stone into the sea. You wouldn't know how long you'd need to chop the trees."

"The most crucial point isn't those trees from Misty Forest-it 's the mist. The deeper you go, the more difficult it'll be to walk into the area. If you accidentally lose your way, you won't get out." Titus also started frowning and a darkened expression appeared on his face.

As a thought occurred to him, Paul said to Jack and the others, "Let's take a look at the back part, shall we? Aren't there a couple more pages in this tome? Is there anything else written there?"

Jack also continued to flip the ancient tome. He inhaled deeply before he spoke again, "It' s said here that an absolute genius appeared here and had the martial art technique for training left from his father. He led many people in breaking through into the ultimate god level, and there were even people who broke through into the soul-penetration level. In the end, he collected all seven stone balls according to the clues his father left him, and he found the entrance to the sacred grounds according to the beams the stone ball released…"

Aureole grew ecstatic at what she heard. "This is great. It looks like the masters in the past were forced to leave this place and headed to a place known as the sacred grounds together for some unknown reason. This sacred ground must be where those masters went, and it's definitely much better than this place. I mean, why else would they want to go to that place?"

Chapter 1619

"Yes, and it looks like one of the masters secretly stayed behind to train the martial art technique for the sake of his son, and he even told his son how to get to that place. He just didn't expect his son to lead many people there. No matter what it is, we also have hopes of going there now that we have this news and these seven stone balls!" Nash nodded, and the excitement in his eyes could not be hidden.

"Everybody, please take back your stone balls for safekeeping!" Jack immediately said after he realized the importance of the stone ball, and the forces who owned the stone ball retrieved theirs.

Jack once again looked at the records at the back of the book and said, "Nothing much is recorded in the back of the ancient tome. A map with the directions to Misty Forest is drawn there, and the approximate course is there. With these directions, it shouldn't be an issue if we follow it."

"Haha! This is great! When shall we depart? Let's go now! After all, I've already brought all the members of my family who are in the semi-god level. Why don't we go now since all the larger forces are here?" The family master of one of the second-class aristocratic families, who made an agreement with Jack and the others, wanted to depart immediately in his haste.

"That's too sudden. Apart from that, there are many forces or casual trainers who rushed here to be onlookers," reasoned Jack. "Apart from that, members of the Skies Pavilion must be hiding somewhere out there and want to look at the situation here. After all, the people present aren't the only ones who saw those beams of light!"

“We’ll listen to your suggestion then, Young Master Jack. Apart from that, we believe that you won’t leave us and ignore us. Please tell us what to do, and we’ 11 follow your instructions,” responded the family master from a second-class aristocratic family profoundly.

After all, they followed the White family to Black Windy Island previously, and Jack made a pact with everybody before they entered the island.

From what they saw, Jack was a very reliable person as he allowed them to enter, observe, and analyze things together. He even gave them a 20 pax capacity each, and this proved that Jack was a person who kept his promise.

“Yes, Young Master Jack. Give us your order, and we’ll listen to you!” All members of the third-class aristocratic families looked at Jack as their leaders. This caused the members of all three ancient clans present to glower in embarrassment.

“How about this: Everything has happened so suddenly, and I’m also in a hurry to take a look at the so-called sacred place. After we go out, let’s not talk about the situation here and just say that we didn’t discover anything. The casual trainers and the onlookers shall leave by then.

“Leave with your brethren after getting out, and upon returning home, discuss among your people to see how many people should be brought and how the matters at home should be arranged. Remember to say goodbye to your family members; nobody knows what’ll happen once we get there. Nobody knows if we’re able to break through into the ultimate god level, right? We’ll depart one week later and gather outside Misty Forest before entering the forest together,” suggested Jack to the crowd.

“Alright, it’s decided then. Let’s all go back, and we’ll all depart one week later. Let’s all wait outside of the forest and enter Misty Forest together once everybody has arrived. We’ll follow the directions on the map and head for the sacred grounds!” Harry nodded as he spoke, and everybody else also agreed to it.No. 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 1620-1622

Chapter 1620

Since Harry said this, Aureole and Griffen naturally made no comments and agreed altogether.

Soon, the masters in the hall walked outside one after another.

Those who waited outside had waited from earlier on, and all of them wanted to know what had happened inside. They even wanted to know if anybody had broken through into the ultimate god-level or found clues about the ultimate god-level.

“Pavilion master, how did it go? How was it? Have you guys broken through?”

“Pavilion master, have you received news about the ultimate god-level? Were there any useful clues? I see that all of you have smiles on your faces, so there must be some good news, yes?

Members of the Pavilion of Kings and Gods who did not follow them inside immediately walked forward and asked with anticipation when they saw their members coming out.

“Family master, how did it go?” Members of the Cabello family also went forward in excitement as anticipation filled their eyes.

Alejandro looked at the crowd and said, “Nothing has come out from the research. Let’s talk more when we go back.”

“What? You’ve learned nothing, even after all that?!” Members of the Cabello family felt dejected after they heard this. If they failed to learn anything after putting all seven stone balls together for research, it would be even more difficult in the future to learn anything

“Come on, let’s return for now.” Alejandro looked far away and noticed a few forces who came to take a look after they saw the heteromorphism where they were. Jack was right: It was best that they try to keep a low-profile about what happened. They should leave this place and make arrangements on the number of people back home. One week should be enough to make the necessary arrangements.

Paul thought about it and said to Darcy, “Father, you guys can go back to make the arrangements first. I’ll continue to stay at the White family with our three elders, and I’ll follow Young Master Jack over later on. We can’t return with you as I’m afraid that the forces that don’t have the stone ball, like the Skies Pavilion and others, would think of a plan to get ours. It’s better to be careful. They won’t cause us trouble if they know I’m still at the White family with our three elders!”

“You’re right. It’s best if you and the elders don’t go back. We’ll be taking our leave, then!” Darcy nodded and soon left with his people.

Members of the other ancient clans and families soon left v their people. Some family members even purposely shook their heads and sighed loudly while saying that they failed to realize anything. It was as if they not hear them.

At that moment, Joel and the Others who had been waiting for some time on the opposite mountain started frowning.

“I wonder what the situation is like. Why are these people starting to leave?” Lily was somewhat worried as she looked in front of them. She was afraid that somebody from the White family had already broken through to the ultimate godlevel.

“Be patient. I’ve already sent a couple of people pretending to be casual trainers there. They’ll return in a short while.” Joel was just as terribly anxious, but there was nothing else they could do. They could only wait quietly.

After some time, a couple of people flew back.

“How was it? Are there any clues? What did they say?” everybody asked with anticipation after they saw those people returning.

Chapter 1621

One of the men smiled bitterly and said, “Pavilion master,” he chuckled, “I have some good news! Good news!”

“Good news?” Joel immediately frowned and pestered, “Tell me about it!”

“Haha! They failed to learn anything. I saw some of them looking very dejected,” spoke the man, his joy evident in his tone. “I think that those seven stone balls are useless, and it’s possible that it has nothing to do with breaking through into the ultimate god-level. Everybody was just wasting their time doing nothing!”

“This means that nobody broke through to the ultimate god level, yes? Well, this is indeed good news!” Joel was slightly relaxed.

However, he was slightly disappointed when he thought about how there seemed no chances of breaking through into the ultimate god-level. Would that not mean they would not have any more opportunities, too?

Was the ultimate god-level nonexistent?

One of the elders smiled bitterly and said, “Let’s go, Pavilion master. Look at the other forces; they’ve started to leave. I think it’s best if we return to our ancient clan as we’ve wasted our time waiting here. Of course, it’s good that nobody broke through to the ultimate god-level. We’d be in great trouble if any of the White family’s members broke through into the ultimate god level and came causing trouble to our Cloud Sky Sect!”

Lily, however, frowned at the news as she stood beside them. She thought about it and said, “This doesn’t seem right; I have a bad feeling about it. Is it true that everybody seemed dejected at that moment?”

The men then started to ponder on it.

After some time, the previous man said, “That doesn’t seem to be the case. Although many of the family masters and others sighed, they didn’t seem extremely dejected. Some of the elders were even smiling!”

Lily immediately scoffed. “Hmph! I don’t think they didn’t learn anything. They must’ve learned something and pretended to say that they didn’t.”

“Pretended that they learned nothing? Are you saying that they purposely said that they didn’t receive any information when they did?” Joel inhaled deeply when he heard this and looked surprised

“Think about it “Would they say anything if they truly received any good news? Definitely not, and they’d certainly keep it a secret. After all, there are quite a number of casual trainers, unknown or third-class aristocratic families outside who rushed over from nearby areas. It’s even possible that they anticipated our arrival.” Lily started to make her assumption. “After all, we can also see the beams of light, and it’s quite normal for us to rush over, so they’re definitely lying. If there truly isn’t any useful news, every one of them should’ve been disappointed as some things can’t be hidden, especially when there are so many people there. Hmph! How many people do they think they can lie to?”

“Honey, what you said makes so much sense!” Joel also felt that there was a high possibility of it. He thought about it and asked Lily again, “What should we do, then? We can’t do anything if these guys don’t say a word!”

“This is simple. Some third-class aristocratic families also sent people in, and quite a number of them have entered. How about this: Now that they’re leaving, we just need to single out a considerably weaker family on their way and ask them what’s going on.” A calculative gleam flashed through Lily’s eyes as she tightened her fists. “Kill a couple of their people. We’ll surely get something then.”

“That’s very smart! Seems like bringing you with me is a wise choice after all, Honey!” Joel laughed. After taking a look, he aimed at the direction where a smaller family flew away. He then led the members of the Cloud Sky Sect and secretly followed them from the other direction.

Chapter 1622

Meanwhile, Elder Mosley from the Hall of Divine Royal also discovered the problem. They soon secretly followed another small third-class aristocratic family after they had an internal discussion.

After flying for half a day, members of the previous third-class aristocratic family were stopped by Joel and the others.

“Master Joel, what…what a coincidence! It’s such a coincidence to bump into you at such a place, no?” The people from this third-class aristocratic family faltered when they noticed a large number of members from the Cloud Sky Sect in front of them. They were extremely nervous; they were here for nefarious intentions. Why else would they encounter them in such a desolate area?

“Haha… It truly is a coincidence!” spoke the laughing Joel as he sized them up. “Master West, I won’t beat around the bushes and get straight to the point. You guys have just come out from the White family, and we’ve followed you all the way. Speak up, cause I know that quite a few of you have entered. Tell me about the situation inside.”

The family master of the West family immediately had a slightly darkened expression on his face after he heard this. He was silent for a couple of seconds before he smilingly replied, “Master Joel, it’s true that we went to the White family. They allowed twenty of us to enter because of our previous agreement!”

Joel was slightly stunned and asked with a frown, “Agreement? What agreement?”

“Before we went to Black Windy Island, aristocratic families like us made an agreement with the young master of the White family to work together when entering Black Windy Island so that we could reduce our casualties. As for the stone ball, no matter who obtained the item, the other forces can't fight over it once it was stored in a person's martial ring…" The family master of the West family could only tell Joel the more insignificant details to dissolve his suspicion.

"I see. No wonder none of you suffer huge losses after going to Black Windy Island and not many of the White family members died. However, many of the members from my ancient clan and the Hunt family who went to Bright Snow Mountain perished. Turns out that there was such an agreement!" Joel finally realized what had happened. He then said with a smile, "Then can you tell us what you saw after you entered the White family's hall just now? Did you guys learn anything?"

Master West immediately said. "Master Joel, we did enter the hall with them, but I believe you also saw what happened. There were seven beams of light following the arrival of the seven stone balls. However, we discovered that the beams did nothing after they joined together, and it didn't help anybody in breaking through into the ultimate god-level. Everybody studied the beams of light for some time but still found nothing. That's why we can only go back to our respective homes."

"That's right, Master Joel. We were looking forward to it. All of us thought that a person's fighting prowess can be elevated and that a person could break through into the ultimate god level after those seven beams of light joined together. In the end, it was all for naught and we just expected too much," another elder from the West family immediately assented from the side.

They were not stupid. If they said nothing, the other party would surely distrust them. If they said something irrelevant, however, the other party might believe in what they said.

"Is it true? You guys learned nothing after spending so much time on it?" Joel observed these two people closely, and he obviously questioned the reliability of what they said.

"It's true, Pavilion Master Collins! Where would we have the guts to lie to you? Your Cloud Sky Sect is one of the four ancient clans, and we don't have the guts to lie to you!" spoke the family master of the West family, nodding as he did.

"Hmph. You could be lying!" Lily, who was at the side, scoffed and glanced at Joel.

Joel immediately caught what Lily meant. He grabbed the elder by his neck and held him up. The Chi on his hands surged. “Be honest, or I’ll kill you if you don’t tell me the truth!”

“It… It’s true, Pavilion Master Collins! They really didn’t learn anything, and we don’t know how to break through to the ultimate god-level!”

Chapter 1623

Startled at Joel’s behavior, master west insisted on their stance at the thought of how kind Jack was to him and the others.

Joel was not one to be fooled easily, however. He snapped the elder’s neck simply by tightening his grip.

Snap!

“Fifth Elder!” Many were furious when they saw this situation and some clenched their fists tightly, but they knew they did not have as many people compared to Joel and his men. They did not even have a master in the peak stage of the true god-level.

The only person with the highest fighting prowess among them was the family master in the final stage of the true god-level. How could they fight off the people from the Cloud Sky Sect?

“Hmph! You don’t want to tell me?” Joel ignored the burning gazes sent in his direction as he lifted an old woman by her neck and raised her from the ground. “Tell us what you learned inside honestly. If you don’t speak up, she’ll be the next one to die!”

“Grandmother!” A young lady was anxious as her eyes reddened.

“W…We’re not lying to you!” spat Master West through gritted teeth.

“Hmph!” scoffed Joel as he tightened his grip and killed the old lady. “You truly are capable of retaining your composure, Master West. Then, the next one shall be him!”

Joel flickered and raised a young man in the blink of an eye. The man was none other than the son of the West family master.

Joel was inwardly unsure if the West family was lying to him, but he still planned to test them even if he killed the wrong people.

As expected, Master West eventually conceded as he gritted his teeth, “Let go of my son, and I’ll tell you what happened!”

Pleased at the confession, Joel placed the young man back on the ground with his hands still gripping his neck. “Speak up, and your son won’t die if you’re honest. Of course, if you lie, not only will I kill your son, but everybody here will die, too!”

The corners of Master West’s mouth twitched several times before he confessed, “The ultimate god-level exists.”

“It does exist. Go on, continue. How can a person breakthrough into the ultimate god-level? Has anyone among them broken through? Did they obtain anything like a martial art technique or other items?” Joel was extremely delighted, and his eyes were filled with anticipation. He would have let the Wests leave had Lily reminded him.

Unexpectedly, he obtained the information he wanted after he acted craftly.

“Nobody broke through into the ultimate god level, but there are some clues. There were many masters in the ultimate god-level long ago, but they’ve gone into Misty Forest.”

“We made arrangements to gather outside Misty Forest one week later, and we’ll enter Misty Forest together by then,” grumbled Master West through gritted teeth.

Chapter 1624

“To Misty Forest one week later?” Joel was pleased with the news he discovered-excited, even. It seemed that visiting Misty Forest would give one hope of breaking through into the ultimate god-level, and it seemed to be a great opportunity for him and the others.

Master West looked at Joel and pleaded, “Master Joel, I’ve already told you everything I know. Can you release my son and let us go?”

Joel thought about it and released the young man from his grip before he said, “You guys can forget what happened today. Jack and the others won’t know that you were the ones who informed us about the situation. You guys won’t suffer any losses if that’s the case!”

Joel paused here before he continued, “Of course, I won’t suffer anything if you spill. On the contrary, the White family or the other ancient clans would think of you as a traitor, that you ratted them out. None of them will forgive you and your West family!”

Lily, who stood beside them, thought about it and said to Joel, “Honey, I think we should take several of their people with us to prevent them from acting dishonestly. It’d be better if we capture several people back as hostages.”

“You said you’d…let us go after we told you about what happened!” Master West was enraged, never thinking that they would be so despicable. Not only did they kill two of the West family’s members, but they changed their minds so quickly as well.

“Haha! That was then, and this is now!” Joel laughed out loudly and ordered, “Capture five of their people: the young master of Master West and several other elders!”

“That’s unacceptable, Honey!” Lily immediately persuaded, “Won’t it be easy for the people from the White family to find out what we did if you capture their young master and their elders? After all, won’t it look problematic if the West family members didn’t bring their young master and their elders to a place like Misty Forest?”

Only then did it dawn on Joel. “You’re right. Ah, my wife is still the smart one. How about this: let’s capture several of their patronums or grandsons of some elders. That’ll work, right?”

Lily nodded. “That’s more like it!”

Although the members of the West family were extremely unwilling to comply, Joel and the rest took several of their people as hostages.

“Haha! Thank you for your cooperation, Master West. It’s very simple: All you guys need to do is just think of a way to leave some markings for our people who’ll follow after you. If not, these people from your West family will die!” Joel and the others laughed loudly before they left.

Master West was so angry when he saw the two bodies on the ground that his voice slightly trembled, “I never expected the people from the Cloud Sky Sect to be so despicable to do something like this!”

“Sigh! We can only blame ourselves for being unlucky. Now that they’re holding our people as hostages, we can’t tell anybody about this. Otherwise, the Cabello family, White family, or any of the people from the three other ancient clans would be capable of getting rid of them with a wave of their hands!”

Chapter 1625

An elder sighed and lamented their fate.

“We’ll remember these hateful actions of theirs. We’ll avenge our people when we have the opportunity to breakthrough into the ultimate god-level or become a master!” growled Master West’s son through gritted teeth.

Master West nodded, but he then muttered, “ Yes, but there’s nothing else we can do right now apart from obeying their orders.”

“Father, how many people should we bring with us to Misty Forest a couple of days from now?” asked the son of Master West. “The forest will get more difficult to come out of the deeper we go. It’s difficult to travel both in and out of that place, and we also have no idea where those masters from years ago went to in the end. Won’t it be dangerous if we go with them? Everything is unknown!”

“You’re right, but the temptation of the ultimate god-level is really strong, and we should try our best to send more people there. Still, I think it’s best if we leave a few people in the true god-level here as it’s too dangerous. We should encourage those in the elementary and intermediate stages of the demi god-level to not go with us, but if they insist, it’ll be up to them. Of course, no one can confirm that they’d be coming back home from this trip.”

Master West said purposefully after he was quiet for some time. “After all, the ancient tome recorded that none of those masters returned after they went there, and it’s unknown why that‘s so. It’s possible that there’s a place where there‘s more Chi compared to this place, and nobody is willing to return.”

“Alright, let’s go back and talk about it some more.”

Meanwhile, at the White family…

Jack had already returned to his room.

Selena walked toward him and grabbed his hands, saying, “Honey, I’ve learned about the situation. I have to go with you this time!”

“Sigh… We’re not sure about the situation over there, and it might be extremely dangerous. To be honest, I don’t really wish for you to risk everything with me!”

Jack sighed before he continued, “Mother, Grandfather, your grandparents, and Kylie can’t go with us as their fighting prowess is too low, especially Kylie. She’s still too young. Have you made up your mind?”

“I’ve already made up my mind. I couldn’t accompany you during your previous adventures because I was afraid I’d trouble you with my low fighting prowess. I’ve been training hard, and I’ m already in the intermediate stage of the demi god-level. Yes, it’s not that high, but it’s nowhere pitiable either, so I have to go with you!”

Selena had a persistent expression on her face.“ On top of that, so many experts never returned after they went there, and I’m afraid you’d find it hard to return from there, so I…must go with you! No matter how things will be after we go there, I’ll follow you. I’m not afraid, even though this journey might cost me my life.”

Jack was incredibly moved when he heard Selena ‘s proclamation. “Alright, let’s go together this time, and I believe we’ll return. After all, Fernando is still waiting for me to rescue him. I originally wanted to leave after half a month. You‘d have more time to accompany your parents and our daughter. After all, our future is uncertain this time, and I have no idea how it’ll be, but Fernando didn’t leave us much time.”

“Yes, I understand. I saw that you’ve been spending your free time cultivating second grade premium pills recently. How is it going? Did you break-through?” Selena also smiled when she saw that Jack had agreed to it. She also knew that if she had not been training hard and was quite talented, Jack would not have brought her along with her newfound fighting prowess.

Chapter 1626

“There’s been some improvement, but I still haven’t succeeded in cultivating the pill,” replied Jack with a tight-lipped smile. “I don’t plan to cultivate pills for the next few days so I can accompany Kylie and the others, but I’ll resume it whenever I can and will try my best to become a third or even fourth-grade alchemist as soon as possible.”

The next few days, both Jack and Selena accompanied Kylie, Joan, and the others to stroll in the nearby town in their spare time.

As for Ben, he had no choice but to stay back as he had not broken through into the semi stage of god level. On the other hand, Fiona and the others also required his company. As for Elaine, Jack asked her to stay back and guard the White family because Ben remained.

They had also arranged for some people with higher fighting prowess to go to Misty Forest with them.

To be on the safer side, Jack left two to three members in the final stage of the true god-level to protect the White family.

Several days later, Jack and the others finally started their journey when they noticed that it was almost time.

Almost 20,000 people went with them, and they were at least in the intermediate or final stages of the demi god-level.

These 20,000 people segregated and either went up on Jack’s, Nash’s, or Kenneth’s flying sword as they journeyed to Misty Forest.

Jack and the others were able to see Misty Forest from afar the next morning, and the forest before them looked much like a boundless sea with no end in sight.

“Oh my… This is the first time I’ve seen such a huge sea of forest. It looks so beautiful with the wind drifting through!” Selena’s eyes twinkled faintly at the sight.

“Yes, the area before us is so dreamlike, blanketed in mist, but it’ll be easier to get lost in the woods the deeper a person goes with this strange mist around. The deeper we go, there’s even another mist that’s pink in color. We dare not enter that area as we can’t fly in that area. It’s a maze in there, and it’ll drain the energy out of you to just get out.” Titus explained.

“Young Master Lance and the others didn’t come out after they came to this forest, and I’m afraid that they’ve died inside. The people we sent to search for them previously dared not enter the area and could only search at some of the places out here.”

Nash, hearing this recount, sighed. “Lance and the others must’ve been curious about this forest, that they entered by mistake and not knowing the area well. Sigh… It’s been such a long time-everyone must’ve perished already.”

Jack thought about it and asked Nash, “Father, what if… What if they didn’t die? What if Lance is still alive? Do you think that he’d hate you? Would he accept me?”

His question stunned Nash momentarily before a bitter smile graced his face. “That’s highly unlikely. There are quite a number of monster beasts in this Misty Forest, and everybody needs to be careful. Lance had always had a good relationship with his mother. If he’s still alive, I think it’d be hard for him to accept everything that has happened. Of course, there’s a possibility that he had no idea about what his mother had done. Things might be different if he knew about it.”

“Alright.” Jack nodded, and the group continued to fly forward.

Meanwhile, a family master of a second-class aristocratic family chuckled in excitement as they stood on a plot of empty land outside the forest. “All we need is to wait for the members of the White family. Our people have been here since yesterday. Haha… We can hardly wait!”

Another family master from a third-class aristocratic family even said, “I’ve been here since two days ago! We’re the earliest one to be here!”

Alejandro smiled bitterly after he heard this.“ You people are afraid that forces with the stone balls would arrive earlier and go in without waiting for you guys, aren’t you? All of you are here so much earlier than planned!”

“Haha… That’s not the case, Master Cabello. The main thing is that the scenery here is also quite nice, and it seems like a great idea to come earlier so we get to enjoy the scenery. Apart from that, we can benefit from this trip and breakthrough to the ultimate god-level or higher realms if we’re lucky. On the contrary, we might die inside if we’re unlucky. Nonetheless, it’s not going to be easy if we wish to come back! Let’s just enjoy this sky and land while we can."

Chapter 1627

The family master of the third-class aristocratic family smiled embarrassingly.

“I can’t wait any longer. Why are the members of the White family so slow? Shall we go forward and take a look? Could something have happened?” Harry from the Divine King Sect started to worry.

After all, he knew that forces like the Hall of Divine Royal and Cloud Sky Sect were not people to be offended, especially his junior brother. Although he ran away after Jack defeated him, he would not give up so easily.

When everybody came out, they clearly stated that they did not discover any news about breaking through into the ultimate god-level. However, if the other party suspected something throughout these few days, there was a possibility that they might be able to discover hints.

“Don’t worry, everything should be fine. Even if somebody wants to snatch the stone balls, they’d choose the people from our three ancient clans and not the White family. With Jack’s combat power, they just can’t take the stone ball from him!” Shelby smiled indifferently as she looked forward in anticipation.

Moments later, the crowd spotted a group of people flying toward them from afar. “They’re here!”

“It’s Jack, Paul, and the others. They’re here! We‘re only waiting for their stone balls!” gushed the members of the Lucas Family.

“Master, it’s young master and the others!” One of the patronus from the Hemperly family was just as elated when he spotted Paul and the others. Everything resumed to its original position once more.

“I’m sorry for making all of you wait.” As they stopped their flying swords mid-air, Jack and the others gestured politely with their hands to the crowd that waited for them.

Inspecting the crowd, he noticed that apart from the families they made a pact with before, the Canmore family and Lucas Family had also come forward. Apart from that, the three ancient clans were also present. The large gathering of people nearly equated to a total of 300,000 people, and it was a huge crowd of people.

“Haha… It’s alright, we’ve just arrived anyway!” The family master who had arrived a day earlier smiled modestly. He then asked intimately, “ Young Master Jack, you guys must’ve been tired on this journey. How about everyone resting before we continue to travel?”

“I think we should get to the area where we can’t fly, and we’ll then rest there,” suggested Jack carefully.

Everybody looked excited when Jack planned to start the journey right off the bat.

At this moment, Kevin took the ancient tome out and took a look at the map. After looking at it in detail, he said, “Traveling in this direction will do the trick!”

“Alright, let’s go!” Jack nodded, and everybody started flying. A large gathering of people thus went straight into the forest.

Chapter 1628

Joel and his company had waited in a mountain far away for a long time. Excitement was written all over Joel’s face when he spotted Jack and the others flying up and into the forest. “Good, that’s very good. They truly are gathering there!”

“Haha… It’s true, alright. We killed two of their people and have several hostages with us. They won’t dare lie to us!” Lily smiled coldly as she gazed at the forest before them. With reddening eyes, she muttered lowly, “I’m here, Lance, at this very forest. Please tell your mother you’re still alive. You’re still in this forest, right? You must’ve gotten lost and couldn’t find your way out, right? That must be it!”

Noticing Lily’s foul mood, Joel impatiently grumbled, “Stop sighing; your eldest son must’ve died long ago. I know about that young man, and he’s quite talented. If Jack hadn’t resurfaced and your son didn’t come to such a hellhole, your son would be the next in line for the family master title!”

“Remember the direction they flew to, and we’ll follow far behind them. By then, most of you will fly below the trees while two of us fly higher than the trees to secretly observe the directions they’re flying in. When we reach the area where we can’t fly, the members of the West family will leave markings for us. There won’t be any mistakes if we go in that direction!”

Joel smiled indifferently, and he had to admire Lily’s wisdom. He smilingly spoke, “Ninth mistress, do you know why I only brought you and not my other wives this time? It’s because you’re the smartest among them. Not only are those eight old women old, but they’re extremely dense as well. Bringing them with me is useless, and you’re the only one who can be of my assistance.”

“Is that so?” Lily purposely looked at Joel flirtatiously and said, “You have to help me in killing that young guy, Jack, once you break through to the ultimate god-level. My only wish in this lifetime is to see that guy dying in front of me!”

“Haha… Don’t worry! I’ll definitely work hard to break through so I can help kill that guy for you!”

Chuckling, Joel glanced at the hostages beside him and beamed, “Luckily, my darling thought of a way and kept several people as our hostages. Otherwise, we won’t be able to do anything to the West family if they don’t leave any markings as clues for us after they enter!”

“It’s almost time. We can start our journey now!” reminded Lily as she looked forward.

Joel nodded. With a wave of his hand, everyone flew toward the outskirts of Misty Forest.

However, after flying some distance away, they discovered another group of people traveling towards the same area from another direction.

Joel frowned when he saw this.” Quick, take a look over there. Why is there another group of people?”

Lily also frowned and spoke, somewhat baffled, “What’s going on? That’s a large number of people. D*mn it! Had Jack and the others had some backup plan to kill us here? Had the West family informed Jack and the others, ignoring the lives of these people?”

At the same time, Matthew and the others also discovered Joel’s group flying out from the other direction

“What’s happening? Why is there another group of people? Are they the people that come late?”

Chapter 1629

Matthew frowned and looked alert, not wanting to be discovered as it would only trouble him.

“That’s impossible! Jack and the others wouldn’t leave without everybody present; they’ve all made that promise. From their attire, those should be people from the Cloud Sky Sect!”

Elder Mosley looked far away and relaxed when the sight registered to him. “I’ve inquired quite some news recently, and this Cloud Sky Sect is the enemy of the White family. Let’s go over to them! It looks like they’re also secretly following the others, and they may have several hostages from small families like we do!”

Matthew and the others relaxed when they heard what Elder Mosleyseley said.

Matthew also started smiling. “Since they’re enemies with ours, that’ll make us allies. Haha..! Let ‘s get acquainted, then!”

“They’re coming! They’re coming! They’re coming toward us-be alert, everyone!” Joel was on high alert as they fast approached the empty plot of land outside Misty Forest. The members of the Cloud Sky Sect also looked forward in an extremely alert manner.

“Who are you people?” questioned Joel loudly at Matthew and the others after they stopped some distance away.

“Haha… No need to panic; we’re friends!” Matthew laughed out loudly before he started to make the introductions. “You’ve never seen us, but we’ve heard about you guys. Let me introduce ourselves. We’re forces from the sea. When Jack and the others went to Black Windy Island, we had a fight that resulted in the deaths of many of our people. Due to that, we’re the White family’s enemies. We’re here this time because of the ultimate god-level, so that makes us allies of sorts.”

Joel relaxed when he heard this. “I see. You’re our friends from the seas! It looks like you’ve quite a large number of people, and there should be about seventy to eighty thousand of you. Tsk, tsk! I’ve never realized that there’s such a large force among the seas!”

“Haha… There are many forces in our seas, and most of them obey us, the Hall of Divine Royal. However, we've lost many masters during our battle with the White family and the other families. This reduced the number of our masters, and we aren't capable of contending with the White family now." Matthew laughed heartily. I know that you guys nurse a very deep grudge with the White family, so I think we can team up and enter this forest together."

Joel nodded. He then observed the other party's people in detail before saying, "Although you have quite a large group of people, and not many of them are in the true god-level, there's still potential. Let's go. We can't continue wasting our time here. It'll be troublesome if we lose them here!"

"That's right! Let's go, and we'll talk along the way. However, there's a small possibility of losing them. We've captured several hostages here, and some of the people traveling in front of us will leave markings for us!" spoke the grinning Matthew.

"What a coincidence! We also have several hostages with us here. Haha…! It is true that great minds think alike! We've thought of the same idea!" Joel also laughed out loudly. The group soon flew forward and entered the vast forest.

Chapter 1630

Jack and the others had no idea at this moment that two large forces had followed them into the forest.

After the group of people flew inward for around two hours, they finally arrived at the area where the pink mist was located. Once they reached this area, Jack discovered that his Chi grew disoriented as it became difficult for him to control his Chi.

Jack and the others immediately controlled their flying sword to stop before they descended in the forest.

"This faint pink mist looks really weird but is quite pretty. They should be harmless to humans, right?" spoke Selena curiously as she looked at the mist in front of them.

“Don’t worry, sister Selena. The mist in front of us is totally harmless to humans!” answered Daniella as she walked over. “Of course, the mist is still quite thin over here and it’ll grow thicker the deeper we walk, so we might get lost or even fail to find our way out by then!”

The continuous growls from the monster beasts could be heard from the forest in front of them. From the muffled growling sounds, it seemed like these monster beasts had quite a high fighting prowess!

However, there were too many people in their ranks, and the top masters of the entire world were with them. Such monster beasts were nothing to be feared.

Turning to the crowd, Jack then spoke, “ Everybody, let’s rest for half an hour to recover your Chi. The Chi here is slightly weird, and we can only use the spirited grass to recover ourselves. Half an hour later, we’ll open the path with beams of light from the stone balls!”

With that, everyone sat with their legs crossed and rested.

After resting for half an hour, many of them had replenished the Chi in their body. Jack and the others took the stone balls out before they infused their Chi into the stone balls.

As their Chi entered the stone balls, streaks of light appeared just like what happened days ago.

However, Jack and the others aimed the streaks of light from the stone ball toward the red mist before them so as to not catch the attention of others.

One streak, two streaks, three, and four streaks…

Soon, seven streaks of lights appeared and interweaved with each other like a bright and colorful rainbow.

As the interweaved streak of light rushed into the pink mist in front of them, the mist dissipated to reveal a rather large road.

“Haha…! It looks like everything is fine after the streak of lights appeared! Let’s go!” Alejandro and the others grew increasingly excited at the revelation. With this streak of light leading the way, it would not be so easy for the monster beasts to attack everybody.

Apart from that, they could not get lost as Kevin had the map with him.

Kevin walked forward while looking at the road in front of them and started doing his research.“ There’s a mountain not far away from the entrance in front of us. I have no idea how long we need to walk before we arrive at the mountain, but once we reach the foot of the mountain, we can estimate how much longer we need to walk before we arrive at the final destination based on the distance on the map.”

Based on the map, there was a mountain not far away from where they were, but they had no idea that they would only arrive at the bottom of the mountain the next afternoon.

Chapter 1631

“We’ve finally arrived at the bottom of the mountain. Oh my … Based on the journey, we still need to walk another seven to eight days before we can get to the final destination marked on the map. That’s so far away!” Kevin was exasperated when he looked at the huge mountain in front of him and the distance on the map.

“It really is quite far. The main issue is the gravity here is quite different, and we can’t walk too quickly. It’s quite tiring if we continue walking like this, and our walking speed might reduce greatly if this continues. We can’t estimate based on our current speed, so I think we might need to walk another ten days before we reach the destination.” Jack frowned as well. After all, delaying another day meant that Fernando had one day less, much to his dismay.

At this stage, however, he had no other option but to take one step at a time.

After resting for half a day, Jack and the others continued their journey, continuing to move forward once they got through the mountains. As they entered deeper, the originally dispersed mist behind them had slowly reconverged. It was as if nobody had ever traversed their path.

“Quickly, quickly! The mist will reconverge around half an hour later. We can’t be too far behind them. We’ll be twenty minutes behind them, so just follow the road that the mist had dispersed from!” Joel had a smile on his face as he hurried his people.

“Haha… It looks like asking the West family to leave markings for us is redundant. We only need to follow the path where there is no mist and walk forward before the mist reconverges. There’s no need to worry about getting lost!” Matthew chuckled aloud, though he stopped momentarily. “If that’s the case, Master Joel, these hostages are useless, right?”

Joel fell silent before he finally understood what the other party meant. “They seem to be useless. Kill them!”

Bang! Bang! Bang!

These hostages did not have high fighting prowess and could not use their Chi at that place, what more with flying prohibited. Surrounded by masters, they were killed.

“Haha… Let’s go. These hostages truly are useless, just like the markings left by these two small families. Haha!” Joel laughed loudly and the group continued to walk forward and followed those in front of them.

Time passed by quickly as they traveled in the dense forest, but after walking for 11 days, they arrived in front of a cave.

There were seven dented holes around this hole, and there was a sky blue-colored screen in front of the cave that shielded the insides of the cave.

“Had those masters gone inside of this place?” An old man from a second-class aristocratic family directly walked over when he saw the light screen as he was extremely excited.

However…

Thomp! He was bounced away the moment he touched the light screen and fell on the ground with a thud.

“This is impossible! He bounced away!” One of them was stunned. He then looked around. “There isn’t any mist around this area. This is so weird! Apart from that, we can actually use our Chi here.”

Jack looked at the seven indented holes and said, “Are we to place the seven stone balls in here to open the area?”

“That’s possible. It isn’t a coincidence that there’s seven indentations here. Let’s place all the stone balls in!” Paul thought about it and nodded as he spoke.

Chapter 1632

Hum!

As the first stone ball was placed into the indent, the sky blue-colored light screen trembled slightly as there was a noticeable reaction. The color of the screen also turned much darker.

“Something happened! There truly is a reaction! Haha… This is great! Since the masters entered this light screen, there must be something better inside. Otherwise, why didn’t they come out?” One of them chuckled heartily as excitement filled his eyes.

Soon, the second stone ball was placed into the second indentation, followed by the third and fourth stone ball. In the end, all seven stone balls were placed in the holes.

“This is such a strong motion. I don’t think we’d be bounced away now, right?” asked another curiously.

“Why don’t we give it a try?” An old man gritted his teeth as he flew up and rushed toward the dark-blue colored light screen.

This time, the light screen gave no obstruction as the old man rushed in and disappeared.

“He disappeared!” Many people exchanged looks and swallowed their saliva.

“I wonder what the world inside is like!” Some people started to be slightly worried.

“There’s nothing to be afraid of as we’re already here! F*ck! This is the only chance we have to break through into the ultimate god-level and become a master of the soul-penetrating realm!” Another old man from the Lucas Family also gritted his teeth as he flew up and rushed into the light screen in a flash.

“Come, let’s go!”

“Yes, let’s go in quickly. Who knows if there is any time limit. If this can only be opened for a short period, we won’t be able to enter later!” With that thought, some immediately flew up and rushed toward the light screen.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

More and more people flew upward and rushed into the light screen.

“Everybody, don’t panic! It looks like only two hundred people are allowed per entry. Don’t rush! Don’t rush!”

Alejandro called out loudly when he saw how more of them rushed toward the cave’s light screen.

There were too many people there, entering like hasty ants.

Once most of them had entered through the light screen, Jack held Selena’s hand and flew in together. “Let’s go!”

The area outside the cave became vacant after a short while…but another group of people soon arrived.

Chapter 1633

“Haha! This is the cave, alright. All of them have gone in!” Joel chuckled loudly in glee.

However, his joy faltered as he glanced at Lily, who was beside him. “Ninth mistress, what’s going on with you? Shouldn’t you be happy that we’ve found the entrance? Why do you still look so bitter?”

Lily sighed before she said, “I’ve been observing throughout the journey, but I can’t seem to find any clues regarding my son. Sigh … My son and the others must’ve died… Sigh!”

Joel was speechless and he spoke, “I’m sure he’s been dead for a long time; you should stop thinking about it. How could he have stayed alive after entering Misty Forest?”

Lily once again sighed to herself when she coincidentally spotted a sword that stuck out on the cliff. Although half of the sword was embedded into the stones on the cliff, half of it was exposed, and it looked familiar to her.

“Honey, quickly! Quickly! Do you see that sword? Please bring it down for me!” gushed Lily after she studied it.

“Why do you want me to take a sword that’s been there for who knows how long?” Joel did not look happy about it, but he flew up nonetheless and took the sword down before passing it to Lily. “It’s just a low-grade spiritual tool, yet you’re making a fuss over it. You truly are something!”

However, Lily’s hands that took the sword trembled slightly as she, with hope, explained, “It’s Lance’s sword. This is…is his sword! He likes this sword very much!”

“How’s that possible?!” Joel inhaled when he heard this and exclaimed, “If that’s the case, could it be that Lance and the others visited this area? Could it be that they accidentally came here? If that’s the case, it truly is a coincidence!”

“Yes, yes, yes! That must be it! Lance and the others must’ve visited this area! They must’ve come here!” Lily was extremely agitated as she failed to hold back the tears that trickled down her face.

“Sigh… You should stop crying. Take a look at the surface of the mountain; there are many traces of battle left here. They might have encountered some strong monster beast here and have perished,” comforted Joel.

However, Lily still shook her head in disbelief and said, “ Impossible! My son can’t be dead. Why isn’t his body here, then? I know they’re still alive.”

Matthew hated when women cried, so he glared at Lily with impatience before he grumbled, “There are quite many monster beasts here. How can you still see the body if he’s already died? Apart from that, your son had entered this area a long time ago. It’d be very strange if we’re still able to see his body!”

“Come, let’s go in quickly and see what’s the situation inside. We’re going in if you guys don’t plan to do so!” Elder Mosley from the Hall of Divine Royal smiled coldly before he continued to speak to Lily and the others. “We were working together previously because all of us wanted to come in here. If we see any items that can help us break through to the ultimate god-level upon entering, we’d have to fight for it later on.”

“Haha! You’re right. However, if we bump into Jack, we have to kill that guy if we can break through to the ultimate god level soon!” Joel laughed and waved his hand at the members of his Cloud Sky Sect. “Come, let's go in and take a look at what’s going on inside.”

After Jack rushed into the light screen while holding Selena’s hand, he discovered a strong wave of energy that separated them instantly.

When Jack looked around him, he noticed that no one was in sight and he was alone. The place had blue skies and white clouds while trees as tall as the sky surrounded him. It looked like a completely different place.

“The Chi here seems to be extremely rich.’ Jack could not help but inhale deeply after he felt the richness of the Chi in this area. The Chi’s quality was a couple times richer compared to where the White family was. More importantly, this area gave people a feeling that one was extremely perceptive. Jack could feel that the speed of training in such a place would be increased greatly.

Chapter 1634

Roar!

Jack heard the horrifying roars of beasts from far away. They sounded so harrowing, and the faint imposing manner in the roars made Jack think that the monster beasts in this area were far stronger compared to those outside.

At that moment…

Thoom! Thoom! Thoom!

Jack heard the sounds of battle on a mountaintop not far away from him.

'What's going on? They've started fighting the moment they came in? Looks like we're not too far apart, even though everyone that entered was separated. I should see what's happening,' thought Jack as he flew toward the source of the sounds of fighting.

As the Chi was rich in this area, Jack flew swiftly on his flying sword and went straight to the mountaintop.

Of course, Jack did not fly too high in the sky as he feared monster beasts would spot him, thus he merely flew a meter or two above ground speedily.

Soon, Jack arrived at the mountaintop where the battle seemingly took place.

"Drats! How did these people get in?" A bald, burly man with straight eyebrows and looked extremely domineering seemed gargantuan as he held a humongous mace. He wore no upper clothes, and it exposed his terrifying-looking muscles that resembled a scaly dragon.

Next to him was a thin young man and looked slightly shorter than the bald man.

The thin young man looked extremely gaunt and his face had an unhealthy hint of paleness.

In front of these two people was Melody Lawson. She was knocked down on the floor, and there was a cut on her thigh. She was hurt by the thin man's sword aura, and blood oozed out from her wound.

“Who are you people?” Melody looked at the two in fright; they were frighteningly powerful. She was in the peak stage of the true god-level and was extremely talented. Her combat power was comparable to the Pavilion Master of the Supreme Clarity Sect.

She never expected to experience the horrifying strength of these two men. Her combat power was much lower compared to them, and she was no match for them after all.

“Tsk, tsk… How dare you ask who we are? Who are you, and where did you come from? From the token on you, you’re not one of our people on these sacred grounds. Speak: how did you come in? How many of you have come in? This is the entrance to the sacred grounds from the abandoned land, and we expected no visitors!” growled the burly man. His voice was loud like a great bell and sounded aggressively gruff. The meat on his face could pressure people without him being angry.

“Dummy, this woman has a nice figure and charming eyes. I wonder how she looks under the veil!” The thin man smirked and looked at Melody-who got up on her feet, struggling-with a playful expression. “It’ll be a waste to just kill her like that, even though we will. Why don’t you let me play with her for a bit? I’ve never slept with women who came from that side!”

However, the burly man said expressionlessly, “What are you thinking about? I’m worried that there’s more where this woman came from. We have to report to the management if too many people have entered. We have to kill these people! We can’t allow these people that came from the abandoned lands to enjoy our martial enhancement materials!”

“You’re right, but this woman looks so pretty…” The thin man still looked reluctant to give up as he licked his lips.

Before he finished, however, the look in Melody’s eyes changed in a flash as she immediately turned around and flew toward the bottom of the mountain.

“Haha! The young lady plans to escape, huh? Let’s see how you plan to do it!”

Chapter 1635

The burly man laughed sonorously at the sight before he chased after Melody swiftly.

'Such speed!' Jack was startled as he watched on. The burly man's speed surpassed that of usual masters in the peak stage of the true god-level.

Of course, the man caught up to Melody in a flash and smashed forward with his hammer. "Pretty one, since you refuse to explain yourself, I'll take action!"

Melody knew that he was extremely strong, but she never thought he would be two times quicker than her and would catch up to her so quickly. She quickly turned around and as she looked at the hammer dropping down, she infused Chi into the sword in her hands before she lifted it above her head and shielded herself.

However…

Bang!

The man was too powerful as Melody dropped to the ground with an audible thud. Melody vomited blood at that moment, and it sullied her veil. A deep hole appeared on the ground, and Melody was so deeply wounded that she could not stand up.

The thin man quickly flew over and stopped the burly man when he saw what happened. "Dummy, don't kill her! What a waste! If you don't want to sleep with her, I will! Haha! Let me sleep with this woman, and you can go look around the area to see if anybody else came in!"

"You…! You're gonna die because of a woman sooner or later!" The burly man glanced at the thin man before he turned and ran straight toward the foot of the mountain.

“Haha! Seems like you’re at the mercy of my hands now, young lady. I do want to see what you look like!” The thin man laughed as he slowly walked toward Melody. He then squatted down and was prepared to unbutton her clothes.

“You… You b*stard!” Melody horror was written all over her face, but what else could she have done when she was already immobile?

“Hmph! Shall I take a look at your face first? I’d be scammed if the upper part of your face looks pretty but the lower part is ugly!” The thin man’s hand stopped mid-air momentarily before he stretched it toward Melody’s veil. However…

Whoosh!

A shadow flashed by at this moment as the man was oblivious, and a sword pierced through his body from behind.

“You…!” The thin man turned around and looked at Jack, who stood behind him, in disbelief. As Jack pulled out his sword, the man fell to the ground.

“These two people have extremely high fighting prowess; they must be masters in the ultimate god-level. Let’s leave this place for now!” Jack glanced at Melody, who was lying on the ground. He then lifted her into his arms, much to her surprise.

After hoisting Melody into his arms, Jack looked around them and noticed two stone statues. It looked like the two men were guarding this place.

“T-Thank you, Young Master Jack!” Melody, settled in Jack’s arm, blushed a crimson color. This was the first time a man carried her in such a way, and a stranger, no less. She could feel her heart racing.

Chapter 1636

Melody clearly knew in her heart that as the Melody Lawson , she could not have any thoughts about the relationship between man and woman. She tried to stopped herself from imagining things.

However, being held by Jack so intimately, she could not stop the thoughts from appearing in her mind neither could she not ask Jack to put her down or they would be in trouble if the bald burly man returned.

Jack thought about it and suddenly recalled something. He then put Melody down.

Melody widened her pretty eyes as she looked at Jack and said, “Do…do you plan to leave me here?”

Melody was afraid at that moment. She was at an unfamiliar area and met two masters who might have been in the ultimate god-level once she arrived. If Jack ignored and left her, she would definitely die if that burly man returned.

Jack smiled bitterly before he walked over to take down the token from the man’s waist and his martial ring. He then said with a smile, “I almost forgot to take my trophies. This guy should have quite a high fighting prowess and there might be some nice items in his martial ring!”

Melody felt embarrassed before she finally relaxed.

After all, it was not the outside world and Jack did not have any obligation to save her in that unfamiliar world. It was already great if anyone could survive on their own.

After Jack kept all the items, he picked Melody up again and flew down the mountain from another direction.

“I wonder where my father, Selena, and the others appeared after they arrived. It would be quite troublesome if they really met such a burly guy! If I didn't sneakily attack the guy just now, I would not be his opponent if we really got into a fight." Jack said with a frown on his face as he flew.

Melody thought about it and said to Jack, "Your combat power has surpassed usual masters in the peak stage of the true god level. I feel that everybody would be safe if we manage to kill that bald man!"

Jack hesitated when he heard this. He stopped as he had just flown a short distance away. "Do you think that I have hopes of killing that bald man if I work hard enough? But I have no idea what his fighting prowess is! During his fight with you, I have no idea how much power he used and if he held back his power! Would it be too risky?"

"From the conversation between those two people just now, they were sent to guard that place and nobody had entered this area throughout the years. I think that no matter what forces they are from, they must have forgotten about this place. Hence, the people they sent would not have such high fighting prowess. They must be people that are here for a show!" Melody thought about it before speaking her thoughts. "Why don't you think about it? We have no idea when the ancient tome had been written and the last batch of people who came here must have been many years ago. During that time, they were able to break through into the ultimate god level in Daxia and all of them managed to come here. This meant that the Chi at our place was still very rich. Now, so many years have passed without people entering this area and nobody would pay much attention to this so-called entrance. Hence, those who are sent here to take care of this place would be miscellaneous soldiers, right?"

Jack also nodded after he heard this. "You are right. Even if their fighting prowess is at the ultimate god level, it might not be impossible to fight them with my combat power. However, it's going to be difficult if I'm going to do this alone. We might stand a chance if there are several people here!"

Chapter 1637

"Yes! We have no idea how big this forest is. If the burly man went back and delivered the news that many people had barged in from Daxia, I'm afraid that all the people that entered this area, including your White family, would be killed!"

Melody had a worried expression on her face. She thought about it and continued, "Hence, why don 't try and see if you can kill that burly man. Then we would be safe if this is a deserted place and the people of their forces don't pay much attention to this place. Let's see if we can try to break through into the ultimate god-level first!"

Bang bang bang!

At this moment, the sound of people fighting could be heard from a place at the bottom of the mountain.

"How about this, let me see if there's a way for me to attack the other party sneakily like just now. If that's the case, we have a better chance of succeeding!" Jack thought about it and finally made up his mind.

After all, they would really be in trouble if the burly man discovered that many people had entered and notified the masters of his forces.

Jack was sure that there were many masters in the soul-penetrating level there and not many of them were capable of defeating masters in the ultimate god level, let alone those in the soul-penetrating level.

Apart from that, the thin man's reaction was slightly slow while the burly man failed to kill Melody with his hammer attack. Hence, Jack felt that the burly man's fighting prowess might be just like what Melody had guessed which was not very high. They might be sent to guard the place because they did not have a high position in their families.

He placed Melody down and took a healing pill out for Melody to consume. "There's a small cave over there and I will leave you there for now. Your wounds will heal soon with my healing pill. I will give it a try and see if I can settle the burly man. I'll come back and look for you if I can settle him. If I don't after a long time, there's a possibility that I will not return!"

"You don't need to take the risk. This is quite a huge forest and you can hide to train well. You are so talented. There's a possibility of you breaking through to the ultimate god-level soon and you can think of a way to leave this place. I said that because I am worried about the safety of the members of our Supreme Clarity Sect! That is why I asked you to take the risk!" Melody said embarrassingly when she saw how Jack faced death with equanimity. After all, she felt that it was a huge risk, asking Jack to kill the burly man.

"Don't worry, I know that this is a huge risk to take but I have to give it a try. I'm also doing this for the members of the White family. After all, my wife, my father, housekeeper Titus and the others are also in danger." Jack smiled bitterly and once again picked Melody up before rushing into the slightly hidden cave in front of them.

Moments later, Jack flew out and went straight toward where the fighting sounds could be heard.

Chapter 1638

As she stayed in the cave, Melody started feeling a sense of regret after Jack left. 'Sigh… Is it too selfish of me to persuade him to gamble his life like this? However, I have to give it a try in order for our Supreme Clarity Sect to obtain peace for some time!'

Melody felt slightly guilty about her actions. After all, Jack did not have a huge possibility of winning in her opinion. If the bald man did not use his full power and only used:1% of his energy previously then Jack would not be the other party's opponent.

However, she soon shook her head and comforted herself. "Impossible, even if the bald man was a master in the ultimate god level, he would only be in the First or Second-grade of the ultimate god level. Jack still stand a chance of winning. After all, I could feel the killing intent from the bald man's look previously. He definitely would not only use a small portion of his power under such circumstances and he would have at least used most of his strength!"

She bit her sexy red lips after she finished speaking and mumbled to herself, "Jack, you definitely have to come back alive!"

At this moment, Jack had already arrived at the place where the fighting sound were coming from.

Bang!

As he hid on top of a tree, he happened to see a master from the Cloud Sky Sect, who was in the peak stage of the true god level, being killed by the bald man. Beside them, another man from the Cloud Sky Sect and an old man from the Hall of Divine Royal were laying lifelessly on the ground.

'D*mn it! Why are the people from the Cloud Sky Sect and Hall of Divine Royal here?' Jack frowned when he saw the situation and was speechless. It looks like the people from these two forces had thought of ways to follow them in. It was even possible that they were already following behind Jack and the others when they were in the Misty Forest.

'Never mind, it's also good that they have followed us here. It would be troublesome if all of them were left outside, especially the members from the Cloud Sky Sect, as they might take action against the members of the White family who are outside!' Jack felt much better when he thought about it that way. After all, members of so many forces had entered and it was impossible to completely keep this a secret throughout these seven days.

Apart from that, he did not have the time to ponder about that issue then. What he was thinking at the moment was how to kill the bald, burly man.

After the bald, burly man killed the old man from the Cloud Sky Sect, he curled his hands into fists and mumbled to himself. "F*ck! It looks like more than one person has entered. What is really going on? How did they discover the entrance to the sacred grounds when it's concealed so well? Nothing has happened when the others were sent to guard this place for so many years but so many people have entered when the two of us are guarding this area. We are so unlucky! Luckily there aren't any masters in the ultimate godlevel as the abandoned area doesn't have much Chi and they haven't inherited any martial art technique. If not, it would be really troublesome."

Sounds of people fighting could be heard from many other places. The bald man thought about it and went rushing toward another area where fighting sounds could be heard.

Jack thought about it and secretly followed the other party.

“Haha… I’ve never imagined that we would bump into Master White here. It looks like even the gods are helping me!” Four people surrounded Nash and Selena under a tree.

Nash, who was in the peak stage of the true god level, had a darkened expression on his face as he looked at these four people in front of him.

He had never imagined bumping into Selena, his daughter-in-law, not long after he entered this area.

Chapter 1639

Selena had a low fighting prowess and everybody was worried about her safety. Nash was delighted when he saw her.

However, as the two were prepared to search for other members of the White family, they were coincidentally discovered by four people who stood in front of them.

Among these four people, one of them was Joel from the Cloud Sky Sect while the other was Matthew from the Hall of Divine Royal. The other two people were masters in the final stage of the true god-level from the Cloud Sky Sect. Nash did not have any chance of winning against the combined combat power of these four people, especially when he was accompanied by Selena, who had a low fighting prowess and would only drag him down.

Nash was confident that he would still have the chance to escape if he was facing these four people alone. However, it was obviously difficult for him to escape on his own and leave Selena behind.

“Father, are these…these people strong?” Selena had never met Joel and the others. She was worried when she saw the serious expression on Nash’s face.

“They are very strong. There are two masters in the final stage of the true god-level while the other two are the sect master of the Cloud Sky Sect and the hall master of the Hall of Divine Royal. I believe you don’t need me to tell you about their fighting prowess!” Nash said with a serious expression on his face. He clearly knew that Selena’s fighting prowess was nothing compared to the other party. On top of that, these four people had completely compressed the fluctuation of their bodies. Hence, Selena was unable to see the situation of their fighting prowess.

Selena’s facial expression grew increasingly darkened when she heard this. She knew that these four people in front of her were not simpletons but she never expected them to be the bosses of their two enemies. One of them was a sect master while the other one was a hall master.

Selena only hesitated momentarily before she gritted her teeth and said to Nash, “Father, you don’t need to care much about me, you should just escape by yourself. If you have to take care of me, the two of us would end up dead. If you escape by yourself, you might have hopes of surviving as you have an ultimate-grade spiritual tool with you! You only have to ask Jack to avenge me when you find him!”

“No way!” However, Nash had a determined look on his face. “You’re my daughter-in-law, how am I supposed to explain to Jack later on if I escape alone? There’s no way I will agree to this! I think I shall stall them and you can escape by yourself. I will stall them and try to buy you some time to escape. You are still young while I’m already old. It doesn’t matter if I die!”

“Haha… This is such a touching scene!” Matthew started laughing loudly. “Unfortunately, do you think you are capable of stalling the four of us? If your son is here, not only the four of us, we wouldn’t be his opponent even if there are four more of us. However, you…you are very much behind compared to your son!”

“Surely, Jack’s wife looks stunning and is comparable to the Melody Lawson . She even looks as pretty as Helena and Daniella. I really want to try what a woman like her taste like!” Joel smirked as he was extremely happy.

“Jack’s woman. Haha… You are right! I don’t really like other people’s wife but Jack is an exception!” Matthew also smiled coldly. As Jack killed so many members of their Hall of Divine Royal, he really wanted to know what would the expression on Jack’s face be like if he learned that his wife had died in their hands and was even taken advantage by them before she died.

Chapter 1640

“Father, you should leave now. If you don’t leave now, I will commit suicide here!” Selena gritted her teeth and yelled at Nash.

“No way, don’t you act irrationally. You are the one who should leave as I’m already at this age. When I was poisoned by the vicious Lily previously, I had already looked past life and death when I thought that I was dying. Hence, I’ m not afraid of death. You’re different! You’re still young and you still have a long life with Jack. You have to survive for Kylie’s sake! Do you understand?” Nash said to Selena with a certain expression on his face as he held onto his sword and looked at the four people in front of him vigilantly.

Selena’s facial expression slightly wavered when she heard the name, Kylie. She had obviously started to hesitate.

“F*ck me! There’s really quite a large number of people! There are six people here!” Unexpectedly, a burly man with no hair came flying over from the forest at this moment. He had a huge hammer in his hands and looked at the people in front of him domineeringly.

‘Father, Selena?’ Jack was surprised when he saw the people below him as he was hiding in the trees. He had never expected his father and Selena to bump into Matthew, Joel, and their people.

“Who are you?” Joel and the others frowned when they saw the bald man. The faint imposing manner of this person caused Joel to slightly worry.

“Who knows which small family this guy is from? Why? Do you plan to cause trouble here? You want to be a hero and rescue the beauty?” An old man from the Cloud Sky Sect smiled coldly and slowly walked toward the bald man. “Young man, bugger away if you are a tactful person. You must be suicidal to think that you can meddle with the affairs of our Cloud Sky Sect and the Hall of Divine Royal!”

“Haha… Such arrogance! I’m not here to rescue that woman, I’m here to kill all six of you!” The bald man said hoarsely and he paced over while carrying his huge hammer. With every step he made, a deep footprint appeared on the floor.

“Such an arrogant tone! You must be suicidal!” The old man appeared in front of the bald man in a flash and directly punched forward.

Fast and it was difficult for normal people to avoid his punch.

However, he was surprised to discover that his punch had missed its target after he punched forward. The bald man in front of him had disappeared.

“Im-Impossible!” The old man was extremely shocked. He looked up and a huge hammer came smashing down at him.

“Be careful!” Joel immediately yelled loudly when the old man punched forward. He was able to see the burly man’s travel path and that man was extremely fast. He had rushed into mid-air in a flash and came crashing down at the old man with the hammer in his hands.

It was too late by the time the old man managed to realize what was happening, he exploded after being smashed by the hammer.

“His speed is too fast. This person must be a master in the ultimate god level!” Matthew looked at the token on the waist of the other party with a cold expression on his face and said, “Bloodshed Clan? We’ve never heard of such a clan! It looks like this should be a clan in this area. D*mn it! He’s an aborigine from this area!”

Joel inhaled in fright when he heard what Matthew said and his facial expression immediately darkened. They had never imagined that they would bump into a master in the ultimate god level.

“Haha… I don’t have a high fighting prowess or I won’t be sent to such a deserted area. However, it is nothing difficult for me, who has almost broken through into the Second-grade of the ultimate god level, to kill you people!” The bald man touched his head and started laughing loudly.

Chapter 1641

“Second-grade ultimate god realm? Matthew, why don’t we fight him together?”

Joel thought about the matter and proposed.

“Fight him? That won’t do at all! Although the other party is only in the first-grade ultimate god realm, the gap between the true and ultimate god realms is too huge! With the three of us joining forces together, we’re no match to him! And even if Nash joins in and fights with us, we’re still unable to defeat him!”

Matthew’s face turned solemn and gloomy.

He gritted his teeth and spewed a few words, “Then we’d better escape!”

He immediately wheeled around and flew away after dropping his last words, storming away from the scene toward the distant sky.

“Trying to escape from me? Not that easy!”

The bald man immediately flew after Matthew while injecting his Chi energy into the huge hammer. The huge hammer shone brightly like a diamond, and he smashed out with the hammer at a distance.

In an instant, a frightening wisp of Chi was shot out. The Chi energy of the wisp carried a faint golden color.

Boom!

Matthew, who had already flown several miles away, was blasted by the attack and exploded instantly.

“What the heck? That was extremely fast!”

Witnessing the speed of the attack, Joel, who had planned to fly and escape as well, stood frozen. The confidence in his heart was instantly crushed at the sight before him. The bald man’s attack was obviously faster than them, and the range of his attack was very far as well. Perhaps, only the ultimate god-level fighter could be this powerful.

“Ma-master, what should we do?”

The face of the elder of Cloud Sky Sect blanched. He looked at Joel, who stood beside him, his eyes full of terror and his voice trembling.

It was such an arduous and tiring journey to come to the place where one could finally break through to the ultimate god realm. How could they expect to encounter a native as soon as they stepped into the land? Even worse, the native was a first-grade ultimate god-level fighter. How unfortunate was that?

“Now, now. It’s your turn!”

The bald man looked at the elder, letting out a cold smile.

“No, no! Don’t kill me!”

The old man was so frightened that he turned around and swept out in a storm, exerting his speed to the limit.

Boom!

Unfortunately, another horrifying golden wisp of Chi shot out, instantly catching up to the old man and blasting him away.

Joel was so scared that his body went cold with dread. Matthew was the freaking master of the Hall of Divine Royal! And he was one of the strongest in the sea territory. Nobody would expect him to be killed just like that.

Plus, his men were all good and strong fighters; they were killed without being able to counter the attack at all! Now, the other party's eyes were fixated on him, did it mean that he was his target right now?

Similarly, Nash and Selena were in a complete state of terror. They started to doubt whether entering the area was a wise choice to make. These natives seemed like they loathed intruders from outside.

"Hold on!"

Seeing that the bald man was ready to strike at him, Joel stretched out his hand and said desperately, "Brother, I have a question for you. You and I, we have no grievances nor grudges between us, why do you want to kill me? We've not offended you in any way!"

"Haha!"

The bald man laughed out loud instead. With a rough and coarse voice, he bellowed, "The moment you stepped into this place, you were doomed to die! You foolish people, how dare you intrude our place and take our martial enhancement resources! You are clearly seeking death!.

Chapter 1642

"My dear good brother, please spare my life! I' ll give you everything that I have in my martial ring! Alright?"

Joel was frantic with fear and his face was ashen. After a quick thought, he knelt on the ground before the bald man, begging for mercy, his tone panicked. “My good brother, it was not easy for me to reach my current martial status, and we came here not to offend you but out of curiosity. We are trying to find out if there are really strong fighters of the ultimate god level. If you’re willing, we’ll get out of here immediately, okay? How can we exit this place?”

“Hmph! Get out of here? Isn’t it good to die here instead? Besides, if I allow you to leave, there’ll be more people who will find out about this place!”

The bald man snorted coldly; he raised his huge hammer and swung toward Joel, casting a martial attack.

Joel was rendered speechless at the bald man’s behavior, at the same time, fear pulsed through him.

However, something quickly popped up in his mind and his eyes lit up. “Wait, wait! As long as you let me go, I’ll tell you exactly how many of us have come in, which clans and families are here, and even, I can help you to lure them out and kill those guys!” He yelled in a shaky voice.

Sure enough, the bald man stopped his movement the moment he heard Joel’s words. He was tempted by Joel’s proposal.

After all, he did not know how many people had entered this time. In only a short time, he had encountered and killed many of them. There must be more intruders entering the vicinity. Hence, it was useful for him to spare this b*stard and used him to lure the others.

Jack, who was hiding not far away, was speechless at the scene before him; the corners of his mouth twitched several times upon hearing Joel’s ridiculous proposal. He did not expect him to betray the people of Daxia just to save himself!

“Joel Collins, what a shameless punk! You want to betray even the people of your Cloud Sky Sect as well?”

Nash's fury suddenly sprang to life. He stared furiously at Joel with malice and hatred in his eyes.

"Hahaha! As long as I can live and this man from the Bloodshed Clan is happy, he can take in the people of Cloud Sky Sect. My people and I are willing to work under them. And if they were upset with us one day and want us dead, then I'm also willing to offer our lives!"

Joel's eyes were reddened, and he laughed out loud. "Nash White, can't you see? This place is not like any place in our area! There must be many real strong people here! Bullsh*t true god peak level fighters like us are nothing compared to any of the strong people here! I just need to live! As long as I live, there's Hope!"

At this moment, Joel, who had witnessed the death of several strong fighters, was edged with terror and fear. The only thought in his mind was to survive this ordeal, to the point that he could sacrifice the lives of other clans and families.

"Hahaha! Good! Obey me if you want to live! I'll finish these two off first, then I'll take them back to the clan. And you shall tell us how many people have entered this place, who are they, and which families they belong to! Then we'll be able to kill these people who came in together!"

The bald man was delighted at Joel's nasty proposal. "Don't worry. Just obey and behave well, and our clan leader or elder or whatever you guys call, as long as they are happy, perhaps, they might even spare you and your sect's lives. But this also depends on your cooperation in this matter. Behave well and cooperate with us properly…"

However, just before the big bald man could finish his words, a terrifying aura came straight at him with a flash behind him.

The bald man felt the terrific danger approaching and he was so frightened that he immediately veered to the side.

Unfortunately, he was still too slow in dodging the attack. A powerful sword attack landed solidly on his shoulder and in the next second, one of his arms was chopped off.

“Ah!”

Chapter 1643

The bald man dodged to the side, only then did he wheel his head and look at what was behind him; his eyes filled with panic and shock. If he had not sensed the danger behind him and had been half a minute slower, his body would have been split into half and he would have died for sure.

Blood flowed out from the shoulder, and only after a brief moment, the bald man’s face turned pale.

He instantaneously took out a hemostatic healing pill and swallowed it down. The bleeding slowed down. But even so, the injury that Jack had inflicted on him was way too heavy.

“Ja-Jack!”

Joel took a sharp intake of breath as he looked at Jack. How could he have imagined that Jack would appear at this moment and give the bald man a surprise attack.

“Jack!”

Selena turned her head and took a look. It was Jack! Her eyes immediately welled up and her nose reddened; she could not help but feel relieved and happy. Just moments ago, she thought that she and Nash was going to die and that she could not see Jack again.

To her surprise, Jack appeared and sneakily attacked that big bald man, inflicting a heavy wound on him.

“He reacted pretty fast, eh? I used my fastest attack, but he could actually sense it. Sigh! I couldn’t finish him in one blow, what a shame!”

Jack sighed aloud, but soon a smile crept onto his face again. “However, I’ve given you such a big surprise-you’re heavily wounded! So, your combat prowess should be sharply reduced too!”

“You, kill him now! Aren’t you a sect master? Killing this brat shouldn’t be a problem for you, right? As long as you kill him, I will put in good words for you when I go back! This is the moment for you to take credit!”

The big bald man gritted his teeth and glared at Jack with malice and hatred in his eyes. He then ordered Joel, who was beside him, to kill Jack.

Joel almost fainted when he heard that. Him killing Jack alone? Was the bald man kidding? He knew that even if there were five of him, he still did not have the confidence to terminate Jack, not to mention he was now alone. How could he do that?

He gulped, then took two steps backward and replied, “Senior, I… I’m not able to do so. I don’ t have that ability to kill him. You don’t know who this brat is, his name is Jack. His combat prowess is overwhelmingly powerful. Although he has not reached the ultimate god realm, I do think that his combat prowess is already comparable to first-grade or second-grade ultimate god level! This brat has killed many people in my clan before!”

“Ugh! What a useless shrimp!”

The bald man was upset at Joel. He looked at Jack with a stony face. “Young man, you don’t have any martial virtues, do you? How dare you ambush me!”

“Haha! There can never be too much deception in war, don’t you think so? Besides, you are so strong and powerful, why should I uphold those goddamn martial virtues?”

Jack laughed sinisterly. He pointed the long sword in his grip at the other party. “I must kill you today. Otherwise, you’re gonna be a huge threat to my White family members!”

“Hmph! I’m injured but do you think you have the ability to kill me?”

The bald man’s face was full of sweat, cold, and clammy. With one hand holding his huge hammer, he directly leaped up high and smashed down furiously at Jack.

Chapter 1644

The bald man had lost one arm, which made it inconvenient for him to carry such a huge hammer, however, he could not afford to underestimate the other party’s combat power. The attack of the huge hammer carried a wind whistling sound, heading straight to Jack and giving a strong sense of oppression.

“Humph!”

Nonetheless, Jack snorted icily at the attack. He then clutched the sword in his hand tightly, injected Chi energy into it, and then chopped out against the huge hammer.

Swoosh!

At once, a frightening wisp of Chi flew straight up and heavily blasted the top of that huge hammer of the opponent.

A huge explosive sound rang out as the two powerful attacks collided together.

Joel, who was standing aside, watched the scene before him in surprise. His heart could not help but leap into his throat. If Jack successfully decapitated this big bald man, he would definitely not let him go.

The bald man, although he was powerful, was injured by the blow just now. Compared to a two-handed attack, there was a huge difference in using one hand to swing the hammer toward Jack.

Furthermore, even if Jack was no match for the bald man, he would still be able to slow down the other party; that would not be a problem for Jack to do so given that he was such a powerful fighter.

After thinking momentarily, he immediately mobilized, surged his Chi energy, and went straight into the distance in a flash.

“That punk actually escaped!”

The moment Nash saw that Joel fled, he flew for some distance, wanting to go after him.

However, once he thought of how powerful Joel was, he would most likely not be able to catch up. Even if he did, he would not be able to kill him. Hence, he ceased going after Joel.

He was more concerned about Jack’s situation after all. He was afraid that Jack was no match for the bald man and worried that the bald man would suddenly strike at Selena. Hence, he decided to stay and could only watch Joel flee the scene.

“Damn, this brat, didn’t he come from that place? A peak true god-level fighter could have such strong fighting prowess too?”

The big bald man thought that Jack was definitely not his opponent, but Jack’s attack had obviously weakened his speed of smashing downward. His heart was uneasy at the outcome.

He was not a first-grade ultimate god-level fighter but a second-grade one. So, he was much stronger and more powerful than that skinny guy before.

So, in his point of view, even if he was injured, Jack was definitely no match for him.

However, from the situation right now, Jack blocked his attack and reduced his speed.

His speed of smashing downwards was descending incessantly, and soon Jack's attack could actually overpower his hammer attack and instantly blew him a dozen feet away.

Swoosh!

At this time, with a powerful stomp, Jack leaped up to the sky, flew to the front of the bald man, and swung his sword toward the bald man.

"Amazing! Judging from the situation, that bald man may not be Jack's opponent! Luckily Jack ambushed and injured him before that, otherwise, it's very unlikely for Jack to defeat him!"

Looking at the two men fighting in the sky, Nash was slightly relieved. The situation that seems like Jack was now in the upper hand.

Moreover, the blood on the bald man's arm had not completely stopped. The blood was flowing out little by little, making the color drained from his face; his face was paler than before. He was obviously getting more and more strained in the battle.

"Blade Wave!"

After fighting for a while, Jack let out a faint cry, casting out the Blade Wave. Waves of aura flying swords were shot out like long aura sword dragons flying toward the bald man. Soon, the bald man had fallen.

Chapter 1645

“He’s finally dead!”

Staring at the corpse on the ground, Jack could finally breathe out a huge sigh of relief. If Jack had not sneakily attacked the other party and severely injure him before the battle, he was afraid it would be difficult to kill the bald man.

After taking off the bald man’s martial ring, Jack turned around and walked toward Selena, who was at the other side.

However, just as Jack extended his leg to walk away, the bald man opened his eyes at this time. A black skull flew out of the bald man’s body, rushing straight to Jack. The bald man’s body squirmed a little, completely lifeless.

“Jack, watch out!”

Both Selena and Nash were shocked at the sight of that little black skull. They immediately yelled at Jack in panic, alerting him.

Jack did not even dare to turn around and immediately dogged aside in a flash.

Right after he veered to the side, the black skull charged forward faster and in an instant, it came before Selena. Before Selena could react, the little black skull burrowed into her left cheek. Selena’s eyes widened.

“What the hell?”

Jack was completely dumbfounded. He totally had no idea what that was. He looked back at the bald man who was completely lifeless, and he was even more puzzled right now. What was that freaking attack that the bald man had cast right before his last breath?

He flickered and within a second, he came to the front of Selena. And at this time, a thumbsize black spot appeared on Selena's left cheek, like a huge black mole.

"Selena, you…how do you feel right now?"

Jack gulped and asked in a voice full of concerns. He did not know what it was.

"I…I don't know. I don't feel any pain at all. What was that thing?"

Selena looked preoccupied. She took out a mirror from her martial ring and looked at her face closely.

"Heh? What…what is this! Dear, what is this?!"

After spotting the black mole-like thing on her face, Selena was scared. Her almost perfect face was now ruined by a black lump of flesh. It ,downgraded her beautiful face in an instant; she did not look as good as before. She was basically disfigured by the huge black spot.

"Sigh! I don't know what it is either. That little skull was getting faster and faster. If I had known that the skull would enter your body, I would not have dodged it!"

Jack felt a pang of heartache and guilt when he looked at Selena's worried expression. He sighed aloud.

"Right, we should see what's in the bald man's martial ring!"

Jack suddenly thought of something, and he took out the bald man's martial ring, searching through it.

Within several minutes, he found a book from the ring. He took it out and began to look through it.

His expression grew more and more unsightly as he read through the book. "Dammit! This is a curse technique of the Bloodshed clan and it' s very vicious! If the curse is not removed, the person who is struck by this curse will not live more than a year!"

"A year!"

Terror thundered down on Nash the moment he heard Jack's words. Selena, who stood beside them, was startled at the newly learned information. They did not expect that the bald man's attack was actually a vicious cursing technique.

However, after a moment of silence, Selena said with a bitter smile on her face, "A can do with a year. I'd have long gone to hell if you did now appear in time a moment ago. I should feel content to be able to see you now, and even better to be by your side for another year!"

Jack studied the book meticulously before saying, "Don't worry. I'll heal you! According to this book, there's a way to remove this curse!"

Chapter 1646

"Is there really a way? Hubby, you're not lying to me, are you?"

A bitter smile was plastered on Selena's face upon hearing Jack's words. She was afraid that Jack was only telling her white lies to comfort her.

"Yes. There's a solution to the curse. To remove the curse, we must craft a fourthgrade intermediate level pill, and…and we need a treasure from the Crystal Cloud clan."

Jack smiled dryly, and to make Selena believe his words, he shoved the book to Selena, letting her look at the content written in the book.

“Fourth-grade intermediate level pill…could we possibly find such a thing within a year? And there’s the Crystal Cloud clan. We’ve never even heard of this clan before! How could they possibly offer the treasure to help us? Besides, the natives here can’t wait to kill those of us who have intruded their place, how could they possibly help us!”

Selena’s brows puckered together, losing her spirit.

“Don’t worry, my dear. As long as there is a way, there’s hope. And we should work hard for it!”

Jack held her hand and said to her, his tone serious.

“Alright. Let’s see what else is in the bald man’ s martial ring!”

Selena bobbed her head, only then she pointed at the martial ring and reminded Jack.

Jack immediately searched through the ring again. “Wow! There’s quite a few spirited stones and spirited grasses in his martial ring. There are many second-grade spirited grasses and several third-grade spirited grasses. Unfortunately, there’s no martial or cultivation technique to help us break through to the ultimate god realm. Sigh. I wonder how these people broke through to the ultimate god realm!”

He then took out another martial ring and showed it to Nash and Selena before saying, “ This martial ring belongs to another person and he’s from the Bloodshed clan as well, just like this bald man. He tried to violate the sacred lady from the Supreme Clarity Sect, but I killed him in the end. I feel like his martial level should be a little lower than this bald man‘s!”

Jack rummaged through that person's martial ring as he explained to the other two. "Wow. Not bad at all! He kept ten or so third-grade spirited grasses in his ring, moreover, some of them are third-grade premium spirited grasses! Tsk tsk. These premium grasses can't be found outside! Wait! There's actually a fourth-grade elementary spirited grass!"

"What? Fourth-grade elementary spirited grass?!"

Nash gasped at the finding, and soon his face was overwritten by excitement and joy. "Since these two fellas were able to break through to the ultimate god realm, it also means that we have come to the right place, and we have a high chance to break through too! Also, the bald man mentioned that he was sent to guard this remote place, which means, in this space of theirs, the Chi energy is considered low and less dense than their other spaces. For a remote place like this, the Chi energy is already that rich and dense, I can't imagine how rich are the other places!"

"Let's go. We should leave first. I'm worried that the corpses here will attract the monster beasts of this forest. We don't know what kind of monster beasts there are in this forest. As for these third-grade spirited grasses, I can use them to craft some third-grade pills."

Jack put on a gentle smile and walked toward the front. "Melody is still waiting for me inside that cave. Since this is a remote place and the two people guarding it were already killed by me, the Bloodshed clan won't find out about this so soon. What we need to do is to find a way to break through to the ultimate god realm as soon as possible!"

Nash nodded and followed behind Jack, "I truly didn't expect that the people from the Hall of Divine Royal and the Cloud Sky Sect would actually tail behind us and sneak into this place. These two powerhouses are our enemies! But fortunately, that bald man killed the head of the Hall of Divine Royal, it's a good thing. Sigh! The only bad thing is that the old man, Joel Collins, managed to escape!"

"There's nothing we can do with Joel. It's hard for you to go after him, and I was fighting with that bald guy. So, we had to let this old man slip away."

Chapter 1647

Jack smiled helplessly; he turned to face Selena and then said, “We have to find a way to remove the curse on Selena as soon as possible. I hope a year’s time is enough for us. We’re practically racing against time right now!”

“Dear, don’t put too much pressure on yourself. Try your best, and even if you can’t make it, I won’t blame you at all. Perhaps, it’s my fate!”

Selena bit her rosy, pink lower lip and said to Jack in a comforting voice.

“Fate? I’m not gonna resign myself to fate! Moreover, this bald man did this to you and I certainly won’t let this matter go! When I grow stronger in the future, I’ll make the sh*tty Bloodshed clan pay the price!”

Jack bellowed with a furious tone, clenching his fist.

At this moment, in the cave, since Melody had consumed the healing pill given by Jack, her injury had recovered quite a bit. Although she was not completely healed, she could stand up and walk around

The healing effect of Jack’s healing pill was beyond her expectations. She did not expect that the healing effect would be this good.

“Sigh! He’s out for so long. Why isn’t he back yet? Did something bad happen to him? Oh no! If he dies, and the White family finds out that I sent him to fight the bald man, they will definitely hate me to death!”

The thought of sending such a powerful and talented fighter to their death due to her own selfish needs made Melody restless. She blamed herself for sending Jack to the bald Man.

“No! I have to go out and take a look! What if Jack managed to kill the bald man but was also badly injured to the point that he couldn’t even stand up? I’m severely injured too, and I can’t fight yet, but I think I can still help to bring him here to recuperate!”

After pacing back and forth for a few minutes, Melody made a decision! Her eyes emitted a hint of determination.

However, just as she was about to exit the cave, a man’s voice rang into the cave from outside.“ Seriously? The Melody Lawson can’t even fight now? It looks like you’ re heavily wounded!”

Along with this masculine voice, a middle-aged man strode into the cave. “Well, well. I truly didn’t expect to see the sacred lady hiding in such a place to recuperate from her injuries. Tsk, tsk tsk. Who is it that could injure you, a person who is at the peak stage of True God Realm?»

“You’re one of the guardians of the Flying Eagle Sect?”

Melody stared at the middle-aged man in front of her and could not help but furrow. Judging from the token displayed on the middle-aged man’s waist, he was someone from the Flying Eagle Sect.

Besides, from the look of his clothes, it was obvious that he was not an ordinary disciple in the Flying Eagle Sect. If she remembered correctly, he should be one of the patronums.

“Oh, hahaha! Wow. I’m amazed by your memory! That’s right! I’m the head patronum of the Flying Eagle Sect. And my martial level is not high, just around the intermediate level of True God Realm!”

The other party snickered and continued, “The Melody Lawson , you’re said to be the best-looking woman in the Divinity Pavilion. But why wear a veil all the time? It’s such a waste! Well! We’re fated to meet each other here; don’t you think so? So, why don’t you let me take a look at your face?”

Chapter 1648

The head patronum of the Flying Eagle Sect spoke, and he was about to reach out to remove Melody's veil.

Melody was startled at his behavior. She immediately veered a few steps aside, dodging the other party's dirty hand, and yelled angrily, "How dare you! I'm the Saintess of the Supreme Clarity Sect and will be the sect master in the future. How dare a stinky patronum like you offend me! Don't you know that a Saintess can't unveil her veil until she becomes the sect master?"

"Hehehe! Of course, I know! And I know that if the veil is removed before you become the sect master, you'll have to kill the other party. Oh right! Being the sacred lady in your sect means you can't enjoy any romantic relationship at all for the rest of your life, right?"

The middle-aged man laughed sinisterly. He flickered and, in a flash, he appeared at the entrance of the cave, blocking it. "But, I'm gonna look at your divine face' today no matter what! I wanna see what the Saintess of the Supreme Clarity Sect looks like!"

"You dare?"

Rage flowed through Melody like lava as she looked at the evil grin on the other party's face; she gritted her teeth and clenched her fists, staring at the middle-aged man angrily.

"Haha, why not? This is not Daxia anymore! After entering this place, nobody knows how to get out anymore. Besides, everyone is so scattered and none is with you. Do you think you're still the high and almighty Saintess of the Supreme Clarity Sect? The situation in this martial world has already long changed! Nobody knows who's gonna reach the ultimate god realm first!"

"Hehe, besides, you can't even use your Chi energy now, right? Even if I kill you right here right now, nobody will know! And you don't even have the slightest ability to counter me! So, what exactly gives you the courage to talk arrogantly in front of me right now? C'mon, don't be shy, let me see your 'divine face?!"

His eyes were full of greed and evil excitement. With a flicker, the middle-aged man charged toward Melody.

However, just at this time, a silhouette flashed over and appeared in front of Melody. A powerful punch was blasted on the defenseless middle-aged man, sending him a few meters backward.

Bang!

A dull thud rang out, and in the next second, the middle-aged man actually smashed heavily on top of the stone wall of the distant cave.

A mouthful of blood spurted out from the man and his face instantly blanched. He then plopped heavily onto the ground and spewed out another mouthful of blood again.

“Young-Young Master Jack!”

After the middle-aged man finally registered that the punch was from Jack, he was so scared that his voice was edged with fear. He knew that the man before him was terrifyingly powerful. Even twenty of him would not be able to defeat him.

“I didn’t know that the Flying Eagle Sect is rearing such a brute!”

Jack’s face was icy-cold, and his eyes were filled with killing intent.

“Thank God! Jack, I thought you were dead! I’ m so glad that you came back!”

Melody, who initially thought that she would die in that b*stard’s hand, burst with joy when she saw that the figure that came to her rescue was Jack. She almost jumped into his embrace out of happiness.

However, when she thought of her status and identity, she ceased her action and smiled shyly at Jack instead.

“Don’t worry. I won’t die. I’ve killed that guy!”

Jack returned a faint smile to Melody, then he turned to the middle-aged man from the Flying Eagle Sect.

“Young Master Jack, it’s a misunderstanding! I …I’m not a pervert! I…I just want to see…see what the Saintess looks like!”

The middle-aged man finally climbed onto his feet as he stammered in pain and explained.“ After all, the Saintess has been wearing a veil! And many people are curious about her look, not only me! I was being reckless and impulsive. I just wanted to see how she looks like!”

“Humph! What a nice script you’ve written in such a short time! Do you think I don’t know what evil scheme you have in your mind? You, shameless sc*mbag, trying to take advantage of her when she’s heavily injured!”

Chapter 1649

Melody was so angry that she wheeled to Jack and demanded, “Young Master Jack, please do me a favor and kill this b*stard!”

At this moment, Nash and Selena entered the cave, walked over, and stood behind them.

“Master White, Selena, you guys are here too!”

Melody's eyes were filled with surprise when she saw the two enter into the cave.

"Yes. Thanks to Jack! He killed the bald man, otherwise, we won't stand a chance to live!"

Nash nodded. He then turned to the patronum of the Flying Eagle Sect and said, "We were outside the cave and overheard all the outrageous things you said to the Saintess of the Supreme Clarity Sect just now. Tsk tsk tsk. A patronum of the Flying Eagle Sect? One of the greatest Four Ancient Clans? Shameless!"

The patronum's face grew more and more unsightly, and the corners of his mouth twitched several times. With his fists tightened, he flickered and charged toward Nash, trying to rush out of the cave.

Nonetheless, his martial level was only at the middle stage of True God Realm; he was no match for Nash at all! Nash gave the patronum a smack on his chest, directly blasting him backward and smashing him onto the ground. The patronum was squirming involuntarily; he could not even stand up on his feet right now.

Jack pulled out his treasure sword and handed it to Melody who stood beside him. "His life is yours now!"

"Thanks!"

Melody nodded gratefully and approached the middle-aged man. She swung the sword in her grip, the middle-aged man stopped squirming, laying lifeless.

"Guys, let's all take a rest for a while. I took out the two men who were guarding this cave. We' ll set off after the Saintess is completely healed of her injury!"

Jack spoke his thoughts.

“Hmm… Since the entrance is here, then the others won’t be too far away from us. So, we can afford to rest and set off after, and we’ll still be able to catch up with them!”

Nash thought about it and then said.

“What’s on Selena’s face?”

Melody soon found out the black lump of flesh on Selena’s face. The black color has completely diffused into her facial skin and it looked like a birthmark. Compared to a moment before, the black spot had actually grown a little larger.

“Sigh! That bald man is from the Bloodshed Clan and many of them practice the art of curse

Jack breathed out a huge sigh and started to narrate the incident in detail to Melody. Another huge sigh was let out by Jack as he thought. “Sigh. It’s all my fault! Although the bald man was pretty much dead at that time, he was still at his last breath. I truly did not expect that under such a tough situation, he would use his last breath and cast a curse technique! If I had just killed him right after he fell onto the ground and make sure he was dead then such thing won’t happen at all!”

“Honey, please don’t blame yourself. After all, you didn’t know the Bloodshed clan would practice such an evil curse art!”

Selena, on the other hand, smiled bitterly. “Let’ s work together, shall-we? It’d be best if we can remove the curse, but if we can’t, it’s okay too. After all, my wish of seeing you and being by your side is granted. I’m happy and contented.”

“I’ll definitely try my very best to remove the curse!”

Jack tightened his teeth, and his eyes were filled with determination.

Seeing that the sky had turned dark, the group rested for the night. The next morning, Melody ‘s injuries were completely healed, so the four of them set off and walked out of the cave together.

Chapter 1650

The quartet soon left the cave and advanced forward.

“The bald man killed the master of the Hall of Divine Royal. It’s a good thing!”

Nash chuckled as he recalled the scene. “The only thing I regret was letting Joel, that old man, escape!” He said to the other three.

A bitter smile crept onto Jack’s face upon hearing Nash’s words. “Whether those two die or live, they’re not the biggest threat to us. The biggest threat to us right now is those who have the strength of the true god peak level and have entered this place! Because it means that their forces are already infiltrating this place! And if they break through to the ultimate god realm earlier than us, that’d be problematic!”

“Hehehe!”

Melody, however, covered her mouth with her hand and giggled. “They must not have thought that even if they break through to the ultimate god realm, they’d still be no match for you, right? After all, you killed two fighters of ultimate god-level yesterday. Furthermore, those two people were already in the ultimate god realm and must be very stable, yet they were killed by you. So, how could those who have just broken through the ultimate god realm be your opponent?”

“Well, that’s not wrong at all, but then I’m afraid that those people will make a move on our White family! Now that everyone is so scattered and some of them don’t even know where to go. It’s hard to gather everyone now. The situation would be better if I’m with them, but now…” Jack smiled helplessly.

Nash, who was on the side, said to Jack,“ Jack, in fact, you don’t have to worry about these things. Sure, it’s a good thing that you’re concerned about whether the White family will be in danger, and this is what you should feel as the young master of the White family. But it’s useless for you to think about that now. Rather, since everyone is so scattered and it’s an opportunity to train them and let them progress!”

Selena bobbed her head in agreement. “Yes, they can’t always be protected under your wings. They have to grow up someday. They have their own path to walk. And maybe the first to break through to the ultimate god realm would be our First or Second elder, who knows?”

“That’s true!”

Jack finally beams, free of worries. He then flew in the direction of a fighting sound coming from ahead.

After flying for a few minutes, Jack and the others spotted that around ten disciples of the Supreme Clarity Sect were surrounded by a group of people from the Cloud Sky Sect. Gloominess surged through the atmosphere among the female disciples and several of them were badly injured.

“Damn, they’re from the Cloud Sky Sect! Why are they here?”

A female disciple of the Supreme Clarity Sect, who was also a patronum, seethed. This female patronum had broken through to the late stage of True God Realm. Although the breakthrough was not long ago, to have such strength was considered excellent!

“They have more people than us! We only have a dozen or so with us but they have more than thirty people! Worse still, they have several fighters of true god late-stage and two of true god early stage. Ugh! We’re in trouble!”

Another female disciple of the Supreme Clarity Sect stressed sullenly; her face was unsightly and she further tightened the sword in her grip.

“Hahaha! Why can’t we be here? Our master is smart and wise. After knowing what you girls have gone through, he asked us to tail behind until we are here. Heh! Didn’t you, the female disciples of the Supreme Clarity Sect, always feel that you’re above the rest? High and almighty. Humph! And now you want to live? Sure! We can spare your lives with one condition!”

Among the male disciples of the Cloud Sky Sect, there was a male disciple whose martial level had already reached the late stage of True God Realm. He could not help but laugh sarcastically while eyeing at these delicious female disciples before him with an evil and playful look in his eyes.’

“Really? You are willing to spare us?”

A female disciple’s eyes immediately lit up when she heard him as if she finally saw a glimmer of hope.

“Of course, it’s for real! We’re the disciples of the Cloud Sky Sect, we will keep to our promises!”

That man nodded with an evil grin plastered on his face.

“Brother Moo, this is not a good idea! These women, all of them are so f*cking good-looking! It’d be such a waste to let them go! Are you sure?”

Chapter 1651

Next to Brother Moo, stood a male disciple from Cloud Sky Sect. His forehead tightened and seemed unhappy about Brother Moo’s suggestion of letting the ladies go.

“Spill it! What’re your terms?”

The patronum of the Supreme Clarity Sect asked the other party, biting her pinkish lips.

The man, who the others addressed as Brother Moo, snorted coldly before saying his terms, “It’s simple. Except for that fat b*tch, all of you ladies will take off your clothes and dance here in front of all of us! Then we will spare your lives, how about that?”

“Aha! Brother Moo, that’s an excellent idea! Hahaha! A good one! I, too want to witness what is hiding beneath these noble and pretentious ladies of the Supreme Clarity Sect. It would be fun to see them dance, haha!”

The male disciple from before laughed out loud upon hearing Brother Moo’s terms and conditions. Excitement and anticipation were burning in his eyes.

“Dream on, you b*stards! We, the disciples of the Supreme Clarity Sect, would rather die than do such a thing!”

The female patronum was so angry after hearing the terms that her face immediately turned white. The request from these donkeys were simply too much.

“We won’t do it! I have always known that the disciples of Cloud Sky Sect are shameless and without dignity, but I never thought that you would be this shameless!”

The female disciple, who beamed at the idea of the other party letting them go just now, shook with fury and disbelief. Initially, she thought that the other party would only ask for the martial resources that they had collected such as spirited stone or grass, then they would be spared. However, little they expect for the other party to ask them to do such a thing. If that was the condition, she would rather die!

“Hahaha! Well. If you don’t agree to our terns, you’ll not only die in a moment but also you will be played with before you die. So, tell me, are you sure you don’t want to accept our proposal?”

The man croaked deeply with an evil grin and a sinister yet confident look on his face.

“I-I don’t want to die! I accept your Terms!”

The chubby female disciple raised her hand and surrendered herself after thinking about the suggestion.

Those male disciples of the Cloud Sky Sect almost spewed mouthfuls of blood when they saw that the voice belonged to the fat female disciple.

“F*ck off! You make me sick even when you’re with clothes on, not to mention you without the clothes. Eww, gross!”

Brother Moo shot the chubby disciple a deadly glare and tightened the sword in his hand. With a sarcastic tone, he said, “Humph! These cheap sluts don’t know what’s good for them. Since they are not willing to dance for us, then we’ll make them do it by force!”

“Ya! Make them do it!”

Another male disciple, who had long waited for the ladies to dance for him, stepped forward and rushed toward the women in a flash.

Swoosh!

However, just at this moment, a deadly sword aura flew from the side and halved the man, killing him alive.

“Initially, there were no grudges nor hatreds between the Supreme Clarity Sect and Cloud Sky Sect.

However, I declare that from today onward, Cloud Sky Sect will be the enemy of the Supreme Clarity Sect!”

Melody stared coldly ahead and announced in a heatless tone.

Chapter 1652

“Heh! What a snobbish attitude! Who are you to declare such…!!”

The leading male disciple of the Cloud Sky Sect-Brother Moo-clenched his teeth, turned around, and said in a huff.

However, he only finished half his sentence when he turned and saw who the speaker was. He took a sharp intake of breath and his eyes widened. The speaker was the Saintess of the Supreme Clarity Sect, and as the Saintess, she was indeed able to declare such a decision.

“Sacred lady… Oh my goodness! It’s our Sacred Lady Melody!”

Hopes bloomed among the female disciples of the Supreme Clarity Sect when they saw that the orator was the sacred lady of their sect. Their eyes reddenedat the scene before them; they felt like they were lucky survivors from a holocaust knowing their sacred lady had come to their rescue.

“Wait, Young Master White is here too! Thank God!”

Some of them noticed the person standing next to Melody, it was Jack. They were full of hope now. Furthermore, Jack and Melody seemed to have a pretty good relationship, and as long as Jack decided to help them, none of those b*stards from the Cloud Sky Sect would live through the day.

“Greetings, Young Master Jack and Sacred Lady Melody!”

The Cloud Sky Sect disciple chuckled awkwardly before putting on a smile on his face and said, “We we were just joking with your disciples just now. Don’t take our jokes to heart. Besides, since a long time ago, the Four Great Ancient Clans and the Eight Great Hidden Families have a tacit agreement, each going their own way without interfering with the other and no hatred should be harbored between the ancient clans and hidden families, right?”

“Oh, you were just joking with them?”

Melody sneered and peeked at the injuries on the female disciples before continuing, “If I had come a little later, they would have died. Do you really think no one could hear you when you spewed those shameless words?”

When the last word fell, Melody injected her Chi energy into the sword in her hand.

Buzz!

As the Chi energy flew into the sword, the sword shook violently, emitting a buzzing sound, and the trembling of the sword grew stronger and stronger.

“R-run!”

The Cloud Sky Sect disciples naturally knew how powerful Melody was. When they saw that Melody was ready to slit their throats, they were terrified and turned around to escape.

“There’s quite a few of them. Let me help you!

Seeing those guys trying to escape, Jack flew forward and swung his arm, chopping out two consecutive sword auras in the distance.

Boom boom boom!

With the two of them joining forces, those disciples of the Cloud Sky Sect were no match for them. In less than half a minute, they were all eliminated.

“Freaking strong! They’re invincible!”

“Right? Young Master Jack only swung his sword for two times and most of them are already killed!”

Some female disciples of the Supreme Clarity Sect looked at Jack admirably as though they were worshipping God.

When Melody saw that her people were worshipping Jack as if he was a powerful being who descended from heaven, she did not know whether to laugh or to cry. Normally, they would not behave like this, but now, each of them had turned into Jack’s huge fans; even worse, some of them were drooling over Jack and wanted to devour him as though Jack was a perfectly roasted juicy drumstick.

“Let’s go. We have to try to find our White family members as well as the people of the Supreme Clarity Sect!”

Jack frowned as he continued to fly forward with his people.

“A third-grade intermediate-level spirited grass!”

After flying for a short while, Jack spotted a third-grade intermediate-level spirited grass; he then flickered to the front of the grass and plucked it off. It was hard to find such treasure outside that piece of land, and he did not expect to be able to find such a treasure after roaming for only a few minutes.

Chapter 1653

Roar!

However, just as Jack was about to pluck that spirited grass, a horrifying flaming tiger sprinted out. With its jaw widely opened, it pounced onto Jack and spat a fireball out of its mouth toward Jack.

“Go to hell!”

While everyone was worrying for Jack, he abruptly stopped moving, then with a swift flicker, he appeared above the gigantic flaming tiger and smashed its head with his fist.

Boom!

A dull thud rang out, and the gigantic flaming tiger crashed heavily on the ground, forming a deep pit on the ground’s surface.

The cracks spread out of the deep pit and reached three meters in length, revealing the extremely powerful strength of Jack.

The colossal tiger struggled and squirmed for a few seconds in the deep pit, then laid lifelessly.

Swoosh!

After terminating the tiger, only then did Jack fly over and plucked the spirited grass.

“My goodness! His strike is so decisive and accurate! Moreover, I feel like this monster beast at the very least possessed the strength of true god peak level. Did he just finish it with a punch?”

Staring at Jack's back, Melody's eyes were in a trance.

A female disciple, on the other hand, could not help but frown, and pulled Melody to the side before saying, "Saintess Melody, I know it'll be safer for us to travel with Jack and his group. I also know that we have more people than he has, but…but we won't be able to attain any benefit if we follow him. That man is a second-grade alchemist, his spiritual power is incomparably strong, and his ability to sense and sniff out treasure is definitely more powerful than ours!"

Here, she paused before continuing, "It's indeed a lot safer traveling with him, but he will get his hands on the treasures faster before we could even have time to react. If this continues, we'll not be getting any benefits! Besides, it's not just spirited grass, what if there's some kind of treasure or martial technique out there that can help us break through to the ultimate god realm? And if there's only one of it, what happens then?"

Melody's forehead puckered together upon hearing the disciple's words. What she had said indeed made sense. Although Jack was kind to them and had saved their lives, he was still a member of the White family after all.

And if there was only one martial technique that allowed one to break through to the ultimate god realm, she did not think that Jack would let her have it when that time came.

"Let's do this!

Melody was silent for a moment, then she finally bobbed her head.

When Jack flew back to the crowd, Melody approached Jack, her movement awkward. "Young Master Jack, thank you for saving my life. Now that my injuries are completely healed, I think we should move separately. I'm going to find our sect master and the other disciples!"

Jack stood frozen for a moment, not fathoming why Melody would propose such an idea out of a sudden. However, after looking at the spirited grass in his hand, realization dawned upon him.

He smiled at Melody before speaking, “All right. You are from the Supreme Clarity Sect after all. After you’ve met with your people, please let them know about the Bloodshed clan as well, so that everyone will be extra careful in this place. Those natives don’t seem to welcome outsiders like us!”

“Sure, thanks for reminding me! Then, we shall take our leave!”

Melody nodded. There was some reluctance in her eyes, but she still departed from the group with her people.

“Saintess Melody, Young Master Jack saved our lives and he doesn’t even mind that we’re weak. He’s not afraid of us being a burden to him, why don’t we join him? He has such high combat prowess; wouldn’t it be safer for us to travel with him?”

After some moment of thinking, several disciples of the Divinity Pavilion popped the question to Melody, their faces unhappy.

“It would indeed be safer for us to travel with him, but we’re from the Supreme Clarity Sect after all. We have our own path to travel. Besides, if we continue to travel with Jack and his group while finding a treasure or a method that allows people to break through to the ultimate god realm, it would be difficult. The peaceful and harmonious relationship between us and them will be shattered by that time.”

The disciple, who had called Melody aside and told her this theory, stood out and explained to the others before Melody could open her mouth.

Chapter 1654

Several female disciples were feeling sullen in their hearts, obviously desired to travel with their idol-Jack, but they also understood the situation; what Melody and the other disciple said made sense, after all, they were not from the same clan, so if they kept following Jack around, their sect master would definitely be unhappy about this.

“Why did they leave?”

Selena could not help but frown at Melody’s departure, her expression confused. “Wouldn’t it be safer for them to travel with us?”

Nonetheless, Jack returned Selena a bitter smile. “We are from different clans after all. We’re the White family and they belong to the Supreme Clarity Sect. Not to mention that people from the Four Great Ancient Clans have always looked down on hidden families like us. So, it’s humiliating for them to follow us and hide under our wings for protection. On top of that, if we travel together and find the treasure that leads to the ultimate god realm, we will fight each other to obtain the treasure. By that time, there’ll be no more peace and harmony between us!”

Selena finally grasped the underlying reason for their leaving. “Oh! So that’s it! They can’t compete with you in finding treasures and grabbing them. No wonder they left!”

“Hehe. Let’s go! We have to find our people. Also, it’d be inconvenient for us to travel with a group of women, plus, when we want to discuss something, we have to be aware of their presence. So it’s better for us to travel separately. They’re not the White after all!”

Nash put on a smile and expressed his thoughts.

After traveling in the sky for a while, Jack and the others found another third-grade premium spirited grass, and Jack remembered clearly from the ancient tome that the spirited grass was an auxiliary material needed for making a third-grade premium alchemical pill!

“This is great, this is so great! The Chi energy in this place is exceptionally rich and dense. So, third-grade spirited grass is common here but not outside. It’s almost impossible to find a third-grade spirited grass outside!

Jack’s spirits brightened; hope bloomed inside his eyes. “With sufficient spirited grasses and materials, I'll have more chances to practice creating third-grade pills. Only with the opportunity of having enough material to keep creating the pills, will I have the possibility of success and be able to keep improving myself!" He tightened his fists and spoke.

Selena's forehead creased as she heard Jack's words. "But, Dear, now you're not able to refine a second-grade pill yet, and we need a fourth-grade pill to save my life. Not to mention about the treasure of the Crystal Cloud Clan; they're unlikely to hand it to us easily. Sigh! I feel…it's too difficult and a year is too short. Time flies."

"Second-grade pill is almost done, just that I have no time to refine it these few days. Don't worry, Dear. What we have to do now is to breakthrough to the ultimate god realm as early as possible, and then we'll collect more spirited grass and materials that can create pills. The more we gather these items, the better chance we have! Only in this way do we have hope to succeed!"

Jack smiled gently. He then led the people to continue flying forward.

"Master White, we finally found you! Oh my god, I'm so happy!"

After gliding in the air for a while, Jack and the group ran into several people, it was Kenneth, Titus, and some of the White family members.

"Great, great! It looks like the others are not far away from here! Let's continue to find our people! And there are sounds of fighting everywhere in this place, it looks like there are quite a few monsters here.

Also, people are starting to grab treasures!"

Nash bobbed his head in satisfaction as he said.

"Yes, there are too many treasures here. Just the presence of the third-grade spirited grass itself has made a lot of clans and families fighting each other for it. We ran into some people from the Divine King Sect grabbing spirited grasses, but they were no match for us at all! Hahaha! And the third-grade intermediate spirited grass is ours in the end!”

Kenneth narrated the previous encounter with a warm chuckle.

Titus, who stood beside Kenneth, interrupted, with his forehead puckered. “Master White, I’m not sure why and how it happened, that the people of Cloud Sky Sect, Divinity Pavilion, and Gods and Kings Pavilion are here too. We met several of them on our way here, and of course, we killed them!

“Yup. It’s pretty complicated right now. Take that mountain over there as the center of this place, and I guess several different entrances are nearby here as well. Also, there’s a native clan called Bloodshed clan living here.” Nash bobbed his head as he spoke.

Chapter 1655

Nash then told the episodes that had happened to them to the White family members, sparing no details.

“What? How could these people of the Bloodshed Clan be so abominable? They dare to actually cast a curse on our Young Madam Selena!”

Rage pulsed through his vein and his fists tightened as Kenneth looked at the lump of black flesh on Selena’s face.

Selena was famous for her beauty, and the existence of such a big black spot on her face had practically destroyed her perfect face. It made everyone angry just thinking of it.

The most frustrating part was that there was only one year to remove this curse; if it was not removed, Selena would die. This newly learned information made them explode with rage.

“There’s nothing we can do right now. We don’t know how strong this Bloodshed Clan is; their weakest disciples are probably in the ultimate god realm, and they certainly have a few more men who are in the soul-penetrating realm. We don’t have the fighting ability to go against them right now even if we want to!”

A bitter smile crept onto Nash’s face as he spoke. The White family members then continued to search for spirited grass.

By the evening, Jack and the group had found several third-grade spirited grass. Although they had not found a fourth-grade one, they were satisfied with their findings. After all, these spirited grasses were all of the third-grade premium level!

Of course, during their search for the spirited grasses, they ran into the disciples of the Flying Eagle Sect; these disciples wanted to snatch the spirited grasses from the White family members, however, Jack spotted them and killed them within seconds. The White family had gradually grown stronger and bigger as they found several other family members.

At night, the group lit a bonfire outside a cave, while Jack stayed inside the cave to refine the second-grade premium pills.

In their scavenging journey-inside and outside, they had found many second grade spirited grass. So, Jack had more than enough material to refine the second grade premium pills.

After one failed refinement, Jack finally finished refining the second-grade premium pills at his second attempt. And right now, he was a second-grade premium advanced-level alchemist!

Jack made several more pills over the night and distributed them to several White family members who needed the pills. The next morning, the group left the cave and continued their adventure.

The crowd continued searching for treasures, and after gliding for a while, they found that there were more than a hundred people ahead flying toward them.

“It’s the Third Elder and the others! It’s them! Finally, we found them!”

Kenneth’s spirits were flying high that he could barely conceal his excitement upon seeing the Third Elders and the other members. He laughed out loud.

Similarly, when Lancelot spotted the crowd, he almost jumped for joy! He and his group quickly flew over to Jack and the others.

“Master White, it’s so great to finally reunite with you all!”

Lancelot looked at everyone, his eyes sparkled with excitement, and he was almost paralyzed with bliss.

Nevertheless, the excitement lasted for only a brief moment before his forehead knitted together. “Master White, there are truly abundant treasures in this forest! This forest must be a treasure-hunting hotspot, and I suspect that there is already someone who has broken through to the ultimate god realm!”

Chapter 1656

Awkward expression crawled over everyone’s faces upon hearing Lancelot’s words; the comers of their mouths twitched several times at the news. Someone had already broken through to the ultimate god realm that fast?

“Lancelot, is that true? Who is it? And what did that person use to break through? Was it some spirited fruit?”

Nash reacted first; he stepped forward and asked.

“Master White, it’s not some spirited fruit but a martial art technique! I heard that person is Master Zachary! Just on the second day after he and his men entered this place, he found a martial art tome and acquired the technique in it. And very soon, he broke through to the ultimate god realm! He became arrogant and egotistical after breaking into the ultimate god realm. To get spirited grass and resources, he killed many people from the Ximenes and the Cabello family! Sigh! Especially the Lucas Family, they were very close with the Canmore family in the past!" Lancelot replied.

A young man chimed in, his tone fearful, "We saw it from afar, so we immediately wheeled around and flew away! Also, we found out one thing about the ultimate god realm! Once one broke into that realm, the Chi energy that he uses will carry a hint of gold color! And the attack power of this golden Chi energy is apparently several times stronger and more violent than our Chi energy!"

"Yup, we're aware of this!"

Nash bobbed head, showing that he was listening, and a bitter smile plastered on his face.

"You knew about this? How did you guys know? Did you guys meet some strong person with true god peak level who had also broken into the ultimate god level?"

Lancelot was startled at Nash's reaction. "Hold on. This…what happened to Young Madam Selena?" Only then did Lancelot notice the black spot on Selena's pretty face; he frowned and said immediately.

"Sigh! It's a long story!"

Nash had to start over again, narrating the incident to the rest of the White family members.

"Oh my, are there indigenous people here? Holy-moly! Those people should be the ones who came in a long time ago, right? Doesn't that also mean that Bloodsh*t Clan, whatsoever, might even have people with the power of soul-penetrating level?"

Lancelot was surprised after hearing it.

“Yup, they must have people of soul-penetrating levels, but not all of them have such powerful cultivation; it’s not possible that they are all of the ultimate god level. Those natives, who settled down here a long time ago, will have their offspring and their offspring were definitely not born with strengths of ultimate god level. The soul-penetrating level allows people to live up to 500 years, and I guess the earliest people who came in here are already long gone. Unless…unless there’s a higher cultivation level!”

Jack guessed after giving the matter some thoughts.

“You’re right. There may be many cultivators of grandmaster or martial artist level among the younger generations. If every one of them were of ultimate god level, then it’d be truly troublesome. It looks like those natives hate the outsiders. Luckily, Young Master Jack had killed two of them! Hehe. If it wasn’t for Young Master Jack’s powerful fighting prowess, those two natives would have returned to their clan and reported to their master on us! And we’d be in big trouble!”

Lancelot and the others were overwhelmed with emotion at this moment. This place, this forest, was indeed full of opportunities to break through to the ultimate god realm!

“Oh, right. Young Master Jack, we obtained a few third-grade spirited grass in the past two days. Please take a look and see if there are any suitable grasses for you to use for alchemy. If there is any, keep them all!”

Chapter 1657

Lancelot’s eyes suddenly lit up as some thoughts crossed through his mind. With a flip of his palm, he took out several third-grade spirited grass.

“Thank you!

After assessing the spirited grasses carefully, Jack picked two of them and kept them into his martial ring. “I’m a second grade advanced level alchemist, and I’ll proceed with the creation and refinement of third

-grade elementary level alchemy after a few days."

"Young Master Jack, you were able to kill two fighters of the first-grade ultimate god level, so this also implied that we won't have to fear for the Canmore family when we run into them?"

A young fighter of the White family asked

With excitement beaming in her eyes.

"It's hard to say. Everyone is in a race against time now. The breakthrough to the ultimate god realm itself may be more difficult, but once you make the breakthrough, your Chi energy will become richer and stronger. not to mention that there are a lot of third-grade spirited grasses here. So, if Master Zachary uses spirited grasses and trains himself desperately, he could break into the second or even third-grade ultimate god realm easily!"

Jack flashed a dry smile, and explained, "Besides, it's true that I killed those two people, but I killed them separately, and it was a sneak attack. So, according to my own analysis and estimation, if I were to run into individuals of the first-grade ultimate god realm, I might stand a chance to defeat them, but if the opponent were of second grade, I'm not too sure about the outcome. I might be the one who will be killed!"

Jack paused for a few seconds before continuing in a confident tone, "However, if I break into the ultimate god realm, they are nothing to me!"

Nash patted on Jack's shoulder; his face full of satisfaction. "Everyone is racing against time. Before this, those who were at the late stage of True God Realm did not have sufficient resources to train and reach the peak stage. Now, with abundant spirited grasses here and an environment full of Chi energy, it'd be easier for those people to train and cultivate. This is to say that they will be able to break through to the peak stage of True God Realm faster than before. And if they obtain the martial technique and break into the ultimate god realm, then I'm afraid that…

Speaking then, Nash chuckled aloud. “But, in my opinion, my son is the most talented and promising fighter! I have faith in you! Once you break into the first-grade ultimate god realm, your combat prowess could easily surpass anyone else, even those who are in the second-grade ultimate god realm!”

“Hmm. Let’s go. We don’t know when we’ll obtain the technique to break into the ultimate god realm.”

Jack breathed out a long sigh and said, “If.. if Master Zachary shared the technique to his people of the true god peak level and let them cultivate, then by that time the Canmore family will have more than one fighter of the ultimate god level! The moment we and the other prominent clans and families stepped into this piece of land, we are all destined to face the constant changes and shifts of overall combat strength among clans and families. The situation is ever changing, And it’s hard to conclude which clans and families will grow faster and be the strongest among all!”

Boom Bang Pow!

At this very moment, in the sky not far away from them, a terrifying battling sound pierced through the air, accompanied by a deafening roar of a monster beast.

Jack hopped into midair to take a look, and he was shocked at the sight. “Someone from the Cabello family is being chased by a monster beast!”

“We have to help that poor Cabello. The Cabello family has a good relationship with us. Besides, Young Mistress Cabello is close to Young Master Jack! Hehe!”

As soon as Lancelot heard Jack’s exclaim, he expressed his thoughts with a playful smirk on his face.

CHAPTER 1658 WIP

After Lancelot finished speaking, he flew up with a smile and came to a big tree.

After he clearly saw the huge ape monster in front of him, he couldn't help swallowing the saliva fiercely. Looking at this, the terrible breath of the monster was already comparable to the feeling of heaven and gave him a strong sense of oppression.

"No way! This monster is almost dozens of feet tall. This power and speed are too scary!"

Nash also flew up. After looking at it from a distance, his face was called a gloomy face. He immediately looked solemnly at Jack, who said, "Jack, this monster is too powerful. I'm afraid you may not be its opponent!"

Jack frowned and then said, "Even if I can't beat it, it should not be difficult for me to hold it. After a moment, you take the people of the Cabello family to go first. If you see the mountain far in front of the right, we can gather there!"

After thinking about it, Jack did a flash and flew out with a flying sword.

Although they are far apart, he has seen several familiar figures from the Cabello family in the distance. It is impossible for him to die!

"Be careful!"

Nash looked at Jack's back and felt a little worried.

"Run, everyone!"

Alejandro swept out with a sword in front of him. His gray face, his eyes were full of horrible blood, and he shouted at the Cabello people in front of him.

"Roar!"

The huge ape monster roared directly, and the sound was called a resounding from the world, and it immediately punched it below.

"Master, help me!"

Several people from the Cabello family, flying a little slowly, were directly hit by huge fists, exploded at once, turned into a piece of flesh and blood, and fell from the air.

"Boom! Boom!"

The attack of Alejandro and Daniella has fallen on the huge monster. However, the body of this monster is not only extremely tall, but also hard and similar, so that the attack of the two left only two small openings on the other side.

Two cuts, each 20cm long, such a wound, if it is replaced by a smaller monster, it must be extremely terrible.

However, for this huge monster comparable to heaven, it is nothing at all.

Elsewhere, there are many wounds, with blood penetrating from there little by little, and the pain from the body angered the monster in front of it and made it roar terribly again.

"Roar!"

After killing several Cabello family people with one punch, the huge monster suddenly squatted high and jumped directly into the sky nearly 100 feet high. Then he smacked his fist and hit Daniella below.

"No, Daniella , run!"

Seeing the monster go straight to Daniella, Alejandro was shocked and shouted immediately. He stopped, And terrible sword spirit went straight to the monster and cut it over, trying to attract the monster's attention and attract the monster to himself.

Unfortunately, after the sword gas fell on the giant ape, it was completely ignored by it. There was no dodge and carried it down. The huge fist was still straight to Daniella.

"No!"

Seeing the huge ape fist, it was getting closer and closer to Daniella. Alejandro's eyes turned red, and tears almost flowed down. Before that, dozens of Chu people had been killed by the giant ape. Now his daughter is going to die in the hands of this beast. Alejandro's heart It's really dripping blood.

"No!"

Daniella looked up and looked at the huge fist. Her eyes were full of fear, scaring her face.

"Jack, let's see you in the next life!"

CHAPTER 1659 WIP

At this moment, a figure in her mind appeared again. It was a handsome figure with a man's perseverance on her face. Although he usually looked serious, he always appeared at the most dangerous time and saved her.

Unfortunately, I will never see this figure again.

Just when the fist was getting closer and closer to her, only more than ten meters, Daniella saw a dark shadow flashing, and directly punched the opponent.

"Who is it? Isn't it to kill you to fight against this monster?"

Seeing this figure, Daniella's mind came to such an idea. The only thing she could be sure of was that her father was quite far away. Obviously, he didn't have time to rush to help, but she didn't know who the sudden person was.

The next second, Daniella actually found that this figure was so familiar. Soon her heart trembled slightly, because this figure was completely integrated with the figure she wanted to see the last side in her heart.

"Jack!"

Alejandro in the distance also felt like a dream. He rubbed his eyes, but Jack unexpectedly appeared at this time.

"Ah!"

Jack clenched his teeth and his fists surging. He looked less than the monster's fist.

"Go!"

Jack insisted that he felt this terrible pressure for the first time. This monster is comparable to the first grade of heaven, and its combat effectiveness must be comparable to the combat effectiveness of the second grade of human monks. Let's not talk about anything else, at least this strength must be comparable to the physical strength of the second grade monk of human beings.

He turned back and shouted at Daniella, gritted his teeth, and his eyes were full of a kind of madness.

"You, be careful!"

Daniella knew that if she would stay, she would certainly only drag Jack down. She flew quickly to her father's side and looked back from time to time.

She and Alejandro were shocked. Jack, the guy, temporarily blocked the terrible punch of the great ape.

"Miss Three, run!"

There was an elder who flew quickly with Daniella, and finally came to Alejandro and others.

"Dad, what about Jack? He is definitely not an opponent alone!"

Daniella looked worried. Jack's appearance saved her, but she did not want Jack to die here to save her.

Alejandro gritted his teeth: "We must believe him. He lets us run away, just run!"

"But..."

Daniella looked at Jack. At this time, Jack was obviously about to be unable to hold on.

"Go, not that much, but!"

Alejandro gritted his teeth and shouted.

"It's a 'Don't!"

Daniella was very helpless, but she still turned around and reluctantly followed Alejandro and others to fly forward.

"Bang!"

After a while, Jack finally couldn't hold on. The other party's powerful force hit him to the ground and hit a deep pit.

CHAPTER 1660 WIP

"Master White, why are you here?"

After flying for a while, Alejandro and others finally met Nash and others.

Nash frowned and pointed to the mountain in the distance and said, "Let's go. I believe my son. He will definitely hold the monster. He said, let's wait for him at the foot of the mountain over there. As long as he is not dead, I believe he will catch up soon!"

"Unse father white, Jack is alone. I'm worried..."

Daniella bit the sexy red lips and frowned.

"Don't worry, we can't help much if we stay! Let's go!"

Nash smiled and said.

"Sister Selena, is this on your face?"

Just after flying forward for a while, Daniella found the black spots on Selena's face. She asked slightly in a little consternation. She could see that this is definitely not an ordinary black spot. If it is just an ordinary black spot, it is impossible to grow on the face of the practitioner. According to Jack's magical medicine, it is impossible. There is no way to solve it for Selena.

"Let's talk as we go!"

Selena smiled bitterly, and everyone flew into the woods and went straight to the direction of the mountain.

"Grandma's, a heavenly monster, really not simple! Too powerful!"

After Jack was bombarded on the ground, he almost didn't spit out a mouthful of blood.

He stood up, shook his numb wrist, and rushed straight up again.

"Roar!"

Jack's punch was followed, which made the already angry ape even more angry, and the violent atmosphere emitted from his body was also more obvious.

"Bang!"

Jack took another punch and was bombarded out by the ape again. After a hard time, he stabilized his figure.

"Good boy, since you have suffered so much injury, I might as well add some more to you!"
