The space was very large, and he just wished he would be lucky enough to meet a few warriors from second-grade worlds. As for the warriors from third-grade worlds, Jackie would not do anything as long as they left him alone.

The second-grade worlds, however, were different. He believed that the warriors from these worlds would immediately attack them when they saw them. After all, these warriors would immediately think that they were better and would think of Jackie and his companions as easy prey.

Alfred and Rudy quietly followed behind Jackie, not saying anything as he looked down. It was not long until Alfred‘s silence faltered.

He looked at Rudy and said softly, “I'll only cause you trouble if I follow you. I can't help you with anything right now. This place is filled with danger, and I'm injured all over. I won't be able to hold on for a few more days, and I can't protect myself…”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3331 - 3335 -

Chapter 3331
Alfred could not bring himself to continue after that. He felt like he was a burden and knew this, but if he chose not to follow Jackie, he would no doubt suffer.

Rudy could see how helpless Alfred felt and could feel Alfred's inner turmoil.

If he was as talented as Jackie, he would have been able to shield Alfred and assure him from worrying. However, Rudy was a burden to Jackie as well. If he dragged Jackie down with more burdens, he would be too disgraceful.

Rudy sighed helplessly, saying softly, "Since Jackie hasn't asked you to leave, it means you can still follow us, so long as you don't betray us…"

Saying that, Rudy looked at Jackie guiltily.

All this while, Jackie heard them mumbling behind them, so he turned to look at the conflicted Alfred. Even though he did not hear what they were whispering to each other clearly, he could tell what they were talking about from their expressions.

Smiling, Jackie simply said, "I can't guarantee that I'll bring you out alive, but I'll do my best. I don't even know the dangers awaiting us. After all, this slaughter game has a death rate as high as eighty percent for warriors from third-grade worlds…"

"Don'tworry. IfI die, it's just because I'm unlucky," interjected Alfred gently, anxiously.

"You've protected me once, and I'm already incredibly grateful for that. If the circumstances aren't good, you can abandon me at will."

He was sincere in what he said.

The slaughter game was not just any game, death was everywhere. Before they entered, Alfred had mentally prepared himself. It was just that he did not want to be tortured and toyed around with by warriors from second-grade worlds.

Jackie nodded slightly at that and said nothing else.

Rudy merely sighed lightly, feeling the cruelty of the world. However, there was nothing he could say about it. After all, it was Alfred's choice. Opportunity and danger always came hand in hand.

Right at that moment, Alfred suddenly shouted, "Look over there!"

As he said that, he rushed ahead and pointed forward.

Jackie turned to see a few corpses lying around some rocks. Frowning, he walked forward into the scene.

They were at a small beach made of gravel, and stones of various sizes were scattered all around.

A total of three corpses were spotted on the ground, and the blood that oozed from these bodies flowed between the rocks and stained the whole area.

Jackie walked closer to better inspect the situation and was shocked to see the state those corpses were in.

They had been tortured so badly that there was not a single patch of unblemished skin on them. One of the corpses even had their innards exposed.

Rudy could not help but look away from the scene and covered his mouth. It was not that he had never seen corpses before. As a matter of fact, he had seen a lot of dead people, but he rarely saw corpses that had been tortured to death.

All of the corpses were from third-grade worlds, so a thought surfaced in their minds.

Chapter 3332
Unless someone harbored venomous vengeance against these three warriors, this had to be the work of a warrior from a second- grade world. Only they would be so sadistic to warriors from third-grade worlds.

After inspecting the corpses, Jackie relayed his findings, albeit in a cold tone. “These people were first heavily injured before they were tortured to death. It looks like it was done by a warrior from a second-grade world…”

Jackie was sure of this.

Rudy and Alfred nodded in agreement as well.

The heavy injuries meant that the corpses had been no match for their opponents. They had been dealt a heavy blow before being tortured to death.

If Jackie had not saved Alfred, he might have shared a similar fate.

The thought of this made Alfred’s breathing quicken. His face paled once more, and he started to tremble with anger.

Death was something common to warriors and many were accustomed to it, but torture was an entirely different story. Torture was something devoid of dignity.

Judging by the state of these corpses, they must have been in great despair before perishing.

Alfred took a deep breath, and his voice trembled slightly as he growled, “These animals! They crossed the line! Even if it’s a slaughter game, they shouldn’t be toying with their enemies!”

Rudy nodded fervently at this.

He gritted his teeth and looked at everything, but there was nothing he could do. He did not have Jackie’s talent. In fact, he was far worse than a warrior from a second-grade world. Facing them, all he could do was feel angry.

Sighing, Jackie slowly stood up as anger flared in his heart.

He realized that he was finding it hard to control his emotions ever since he entered Weinhord City.

“Why do these dogs act like this?” muttered Rudy. “Do they feel happy torturing others? Are they sick in the head?”

Jackie shook his head. Even he did not know what the warriors from second-grade worlds were thinking.

Although if they looked down on warriors from third-grade worlds, they should have taken care of their reputations by just killing their opponents. Alas, that was not the case.

Torture was time-consuming, and unless they were sick in the head and enjoyed looking at others die slowly, they would not do that.

Jackie sighed and shook his head again. “I don’t know what they’re thinking either. Whatever, there’s no point in knowing anyway. Let’s move forward. It looks like these people have formed an alliance and will jump at anyone easy enough. We’ll have to be careful after this. I’m not afraid of facing anyone alone, but I need to be careful against a group.”

Jackie was not worried about facing one or two opponents, but if it was three or four, he might struggle.

They had three with them, but other than himself, the other two were of no help at all. They might even end up holding him back.

Jackie sighed. He would need to be extremely careful after this.

Rudy frowned. He intended on asking Jackie to put him into Mustard Seed but decided against it, not wanting to reveal this secret to Alfred.

The three of them walked forward for a few dozen kilometers. The more they walked, the more shocked they were.

They had seen at least 10 corpses along the way, and every one of them seemed like something straight out of a horror house, having been tortured to death.

These warriors, all seemed to have come from third-grade worlds.

An uneasy feeling surfaced in Jackie's head. It seemed like this slaughter game was much more serious than any of the earlier ones.

These warriors from second-grade worlds were all crazy.

Chapter 3333
At that moment, footsteps were heard coming from afar, and Jackie, Rudy, and Alfred jumped at the sound alertly.

Jackie frowned as he looked in the direction of these footsteps, but before they could see clearly, someone shouted out, "Don't be alarmed! The four of us are from third-grade worlds."

At that moment, a genial-looking man in gray robes came out with three warriors from third-grade worlds behind him.

The group walked toward Jackie gingerly.

Jackie stared at the person for a good while before nodding at him. After the four of them walked over, they greeted each other before revealing their origins.

Their group had been temporarily formed. The one who first walked was called Frederick Gaunt from the Lycan Continent, a third-grade world. The three behind him were Len Davis and Trent Walker from Chaos Continent, as well as Conor Rice from White Marsh Continent.

The four of them happened to meet and decided to form a small alliance. They approached Jackie and his company because they wanted to team up with them and face the hunting alliance together.

The moment they mentioned the hunting alliance,

Jackie raised an eyebrow. A thought flashed in his mind.

Before Jackie could ask, Frederick patiently explained, “Those insolent people from second-grade worlds formed a hunting alliance to keep themselves safe. All of them split up into smaller teams to kill off the warriors from third-grade worlds.”

“They see us as prey, as animals. Not only are they killing us, but they’re torturing us as well. It’s not like we have any grudges against them, but they’re adamant in doing this!”

Frederick’s eyes reddened as he spoke, and it was obvious how angry he was with the way he gritted his teeth.

Jackie furrowed his eyebrows, not entirely understanding the entire story. However, he did not voice out his questions and kept quiet.

Frederick sighed and saluted Jackie again. “Moving alone is incredibly dangerous. Why don’t you stick with us? We’ll put discussions about rewards aside for now. Survival is the most important part.”

Jackie could tell that Frederick regretted taking part in the slaughter game. He probably never thought of how sick in the head warriors from second-grade worlds were.

After deliberating on the situation, Jackie gave them a small nod.

The hunting alliance had split themselves up into small groups, and if he fought them alone, he might put himself in danger.

Teaming up would no doubt reduce the casualty, even if only by a little. At the very least, everyone else would be able to stall their opponents and buy him some time.

Jackie agreed to it with that in mind.

Conor, from the White Marsh Continent, looked at Jackie meaningfully before he looked at the two behind Jackie. He could not tell how strong Jackie was, but he had an idea of the other two.

One of them seemed to be heavily injured. The person’s face was pale and his breathing was not steady. The other was not injured, but his internal energies were not stable. It was obvious that he was weak. From what Conor could see, that person would probably have failed to even get into a level-eight city.

There would only be one way for that person to enter a level four city, which was that someone strong had brought him all the way.

Raising an eyebrow, Conor said, “You can join us, but not these two. This may sound harsh, but it’s just facts. The two behind you won’t be able to help us and will only hinder us. We can’t carry extra baggage.”

The moment that was said, Jackie's expression turned cold.

Chapter 3334
Conor looked at Jackie's cold expression and scoffed.

Squinting, he said, "It looks like you don't agree with me. Well, there's nothing we can do, then. After all, this group was formed with only one purpose in mind, which is to get out of here alive. Every additional burden means another layer of danger, and anyone can see this logic."

Jackie coldly looked at Conor before he said plainly, "If that's the case, then there's no need for us to work together."

With that, Jackie turned around to leave.

A flash of surprise could be seen in Conor's eyes, which Jackie noticed and internally scoffed at.

He knew what was on Conor's mind.

In Conor's eyes, they were doing Jackie a great favor by letting him join. Conor thought that Jackie would be defenseless without the help of the group, but Jackie did not seem to think that joining the group was a necessary choice.

He did not see joining the group as asking for protection but merely cooperation. Since they could not come to terms, he could leave at any moment. Even though joining the group would help him when he needed it, he still needed to rely on himself in the end.

Jackie was confident that he would be able to survive even without the group and would be able to get good results.

When Conor saw that Jackie had downright declined their offer, his plans were thrown off. Even though he never saw Jackie fight before and had no way of telling how strong he was, his intuition told him that Jackie was somewhat on par with him.

Jackie joining the group would make them feel safer, but he had two men he had to lug around. That was something Conor would not agree to.

These two had no use other than being cannon fodder; they might even end up dragging everyone down at a critical moment!

Conor felt like Jackie was probably a smart person. Leaving those two behind and joining their group was the wisest choice.

He thought that Jackie would agree if he stated the pros and cons, yet the man rejected him without even blinking, much to his surprise, and chose to continue with those two burdens.

When Frederick saw Jackie leaving, he hastily called out to him. “Wait! Conor was just making a suggestion, and we can still talk about things. It’s not easy to find a team like ours.”

“I know all of the warriors who joined the slaughter game have some confidence in their skills, but confidence won’t be enough to get you out safely, given the current situation. Didn’t you see all those corpses as you walked?”

Jackie frowned and looked at Frederick.

He was no idiot. He could tell that Frederick had the same idea as Conor. Frederick wanted to convince Jackie to leave Rudy and Alfred, prioritizing his own life. Despite his wavering heart, Rudy remained silent as he stared at Jackie with a frown.

He trusted all of Jackie’s decisions. Even if Jackie left him at that moment, he would just lower his head and accept it.

Rudy believed that Jackie would not do that, however.

Jackie merely looked at Frederick quietly, but seconds later, he merely shook his head, not even bothering to explain things as he turned around and walked toward where he came from.

Frederick started to panic at that. His intuition told him that Jackie was not inadequate whatsoever, and at such a dangerous moment, more strength would only ensure their safety.

With Jackie’s actions, it was obvious that Jackie was a righteous man.

After thinking about it, Frederick rushed over to Jackie. “Since you insist on bringing the two of them, I’ll agree to it!”

Chapter 3335
Conor was displeased to hear Frederick’s words. “We won’t benefit from having these two dragging us down!”

Frederick turned and looked at Conor unhappily, saying loudly, “It’s not the time to be stubborn. Even if they’re not strong enough, anything that happens will be their problem. It’s not like we’re splitting up the resources. There’s no reason not to have a few more.”

Conor raised an eyebrow, somewhat accepting Frederick’s point of view.

Just like Frederick said, it was not like they were fighting over profit. They were not splitting up any spirit crystals, so one more person just meant one more scapegoat.

If there was any danger, they would not need to care about those two.

After Conor thought about it, he nodded at Frederick.

Conor thus turned around and grabbed Jackie's arm, but the latter merely pushed his hand away.

"I'm not joining your group. I'm just cooperating with you," he spoke, his tone apathetic.

Nonetheless, it clearly showed them where he stood. He did not want them to think that they were doing him a favor. In Jackie's eyes, it was just a choice.

Frederick raised his eyebrows slightly and knew he would not be easy to deal with. However, he had to accept anyone with the situation as it was. After all, things were getting even more dangerous the longer they stayed. They had common enemies and needed to bolster their own strength.

Frederick nodded vigorously, agreeing with Jackie.

With that, Frederick's small group of four turned into seven. Of course, to some of them, their group only had five members while the other two were useless.

Jackie did not care about their thoughts. They were just cooperating, after all.

He pulled Alfred away and lowered his voice, saying, "As long as you have the chance, make sure to try and recover so you can face the dangers ahead."

Alfred nodded, feeling incredibly grateful. If he was to put himself in Jackie's shoes, he might have left the other two behind. After all, his life was the most important. However, Jackie did not do this, and it showed his moral compass.

Knowing this, Alfred's respect for Jackie grew.

The seven of them headed east, but they did not actually know where they were going. They just knew that they could not remain in the same place in case they ended up being trapped.

Time slowly ticked away, and four hours had passed in a flash.

Frederick frowned as he constantly swept his senses around, worried about anything that might happen.

He then reached out and motioned for them to stop, turning to look at the other six. “The forest is dense here, so we’ll have a lot of cover, and it’s a good place to rest. As long as we’re careful, we won’t get ambushed. Let’s rest here for now and continue forward after a bit.”

Jackie looked around and noted that it was indeed a vast sea of trees.

Just two hours ago, they had traversed the gravel before they arrived at a densely packed forest, one with gargantuan trees that obstructed one’s sight.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3336 -

Chapter 3336
The air around them was quite humid, but it was definitely a safe spot.

Conor stood in place and said as he looked around, “Even though we have a lot of cover, we’re definitely not completely safe. We should split up and keep watch separately. The moment we see any movement, we should notify everyone else…”

All of them nodded in agreement.

Before the slaughter game ended, they needed to be on high alert. If they fell into any traps or ended up surrounded, then the consequences would be dire.

Those warriors from second-grade worlds were all sick in the head. They would hunt and torture the warriors from third-grade worlds with the cruelest methods.

No one wanted to die so horribly, so they were all on full alert. After Frederick thought about it, he decided to rotate the watch. After a certain interval, he would send a different person out as a scout, observing the surroundings for any movements.

The moment a dangerous situation was noticed, they would tell the rest with a sound array.

Conor looked at Jackie, as did Rudy and Alfred who were behind Jackie. He said coldly, “The three of you will be counted as one. that’ll be more fair to all of us.”

Jackie nodded immediately. It was precisely what he wanted.

He would not be able to relax if Rudy was scouting alone at all. After all, Rudy was no match against anyone with his skills.

Alfred lowered his head regretfully, feeling like he was useless. The first person to take watch was Len from Chaos Continent, while Jackie was the next.

Each person kept watch for two hours.

Jackie patted Alfred’s shoulder, getting Alfred to try and recover while he had the chance.

Alfred nodded, not hesitating at all to sit down and try to recover with a large amount of pills. After Len left, six of them were left behind. They sat down in a circle, but Jackie did not rest. Instead, he looked at his surroundings with open eyes.

Even though he had joined the group, he did not trust anyone other than Rudy, including Alfred. He brought Alfred along, but it did not mean that Jackie trusted Alfred completely.

It was just that Alfred was from Phoenix Valley, and had never betrayed them. Even though he was looking around, his awareness was focused on the others. If anyone decided to do anything to Rudy, Jackie would react immediately.

As time passed, Conor suddenly spoke after an hour, “What do these people actually want? Why are they trying to kill off all the warriors from third-grade worlds? The slaughter game is just a test. They can just kill anyone they want if they want to rank highly. Why do they have to torture the third-grade worlds?”

Conor could not figure it out at al. He could not understand why the warriors from the second-grade worlds were acting like that.

Would it benefit them at all?

Or were they all just crazy?

Frederick sighed as his expression soured, “Who knows how they’re thinking? I’m only sure of one thing. They’re definitely getting something out of this. Even though we hate them a lot, it’s not like all of them are sick in the head.”

“The stronger a warrior is, the colder they usually are. Unless we had some deep seeded grudge, there’s no way they’d be torturing us like this. Torturing someone takes time. If they want to rank highly, they would have to make sure they’re not wasting any time and to kill as many as possible. Aren’t they just defeating the purpose by doing so?”

When he said that, everyone had some worry and fear on their faces.

Even though they hated the warriors from the second-grade worlds, they had to admit that those warriors were strong. If they did not work together, they would not stand a chance.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3337 - 3338 -

Chapter 3337
Jackie raised an eyebrow, not saying anything. However, various thoughts surfaced in his head.

He was also trying to guess what the warriors from the second-grade worlds were trying to do. He agreed with Frederick.

The warriors from the second-grade worlds were all arrogant, but it was not like all of them had a screw loose.

Torturing people to death was both cruel and a waste of time. They definitely had a reason for doing it. It was just that none of them knew what it was at the moment, and had no means of guessing.

After another hour, Len returned.

Len sat back with the group with a thankful look on his face. Jackie did not even pause before he stood up and brought Rudy and Alfred along to keep watch.

As Jackie left, Conor scoffed and said, “What an idiot. I don’t know what he’ s thinking about bringing those two along. It’s not like this place is some charity. Bringing those two along just means he’s putting himself in even more danger.”

“With how he seems to be acting, he’ll definitely try to protect the two of them in the face of any danger. That would just be endangering himself.”

Frederick shook his head, retrieving some water from his storage ring and taking two gulps, “Everyone has their own choices. Even though I don’t agree with his choice, it’s not something we have to bear with. Let him do what he wants to.”

Jackie walked forward for a bit more before he stopped.

That was where they were keeping watch. Rudy had a long face as he mumbled, “That Conor sure talks a lot. He thinks that he can make all the decisions just because he has some skill.”

Alfred looked at Rudy for a moment, but did not say anything. He did not dare to voice any opinions.

Jackie smiled and said, “Conor is just saying all of that because he thinks that what he thinks is common sense. He feels like everyone should make the same decisions as him.”

Rudy scoffed, throwing the thought aside. It was because he was slowly realizing that he was in no place to say anything. Jackie would not be wrong choosing to save them or to give up on them.

At that moment, they suddenly heard footsteps from afar.

Jackie looked up and did not hesitate to burn up the sound array, sending the message to the others.

Alfred and Rudy immediately stood behind Jackie. They looked at the source of the sound in the alarm. As the footsteps got closer, they saw who had come.

There were two people who appeared, and both of them wore different masks. They looked to be dressed similarly, and had blue clouds on their clothes.

Rudy frowned, “More warriors from the Sacred Water Continent…”

He did not have a good impression on the Sacred Water Continent.

Those two should have already noticed them early on, but they had walked over to reveal themselves, letting Jackie and the others hear their footsteps before walking over in broad daylight. It seemed like the two of them did not regard Jackie’s party as anything at all.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he stared at those two coldly.

Their masks were both different. The one on the left had a black panther mask on, while the one on the right had a mask with blood red clouds.

Chapter 3338
The man in the panther mask suddenly laughed, “How lucky are we? Only one of these three can fight. The other two are trash!”

The man with the clouds on his mask scoffed, “Don’t be so happy. The other four might be even more trash. We should deal with this place quickly. He’s still waiting for us to report on the numbers. We should use the same method as before and get a bit more Heartblood.”

The two of them were talking without any fear, not caring that Jackie and the other two were listening at all.

Rudy locked right into the key words.

He looked at Jackie and whispered, “What’s Heartblood?”

Jackie raised an eyebrow as various guesses surfaced in his head. All those things he did not understand from before started to make sense the moment he heard the word Heartblood, but it was not the time for explanation.

He turned to shoot Rudy a look, making Rudy retreat for the moment. Rudy hurriedly pulled Alfred back. Even though he did not want to admit it, the two of them were just burdens. They were useless during moments like these.

To stop their opponents from suddenly attacking, Rudy and Alfred did not retreat two far.

They merely made sure to get a few dozen meters away.

The two masked men still talked amongst themselves even when they saw Rudy and Alfred retreating, not caring at all.

Rudy sighed, lamenting how useless he was. Even their opponents did not care about it. It was not that they did not see what was happening, but they did not care. In their eyes, only Jackie was really an opponent.

Even if Rudy and Alfred frantically ran away, they would not be able to escape the masked men.

After their conversation, the masked men finally looked at Jackie. They looked at Jackie like they were looking at a death row inmate.

Jackie coldly met their gaze, not showing any emotion the whole time. It was like the two standing in front of him were not strong opponents at all. They were just weaklings he could get rid off at any moment.

The panther-masked man was unhappy about that.

He had already killed two since the slaughter game started. Every person he met would always tremble in fear and look at them in alarm.

Yet, Jackie was incredibly calm, as if nothing would affect him at all.

The panther-masked man scoffed, “Brat, aren’t you afraid? Are you just pretending? Or is there something wrong with your head?”

In the panther-masked man’s mind, Jackie could only be so calm for one of two reasons.

One, he was pretending to be calm to put on an act. Two, there was something wrong with his head, and he did not know what he was facing at all.

Jackie took a deep breath and said calmly, ”You’re the third and he’s the fourth.There’ll still be the fifth and sixth after this. I just don’t know how many I need to kill to place in the top three.”

Jackie’s words managed to stun them.

The panther-masked man blinked, not believing what he was hearing for a moment.

What was that guy saying?

He said that they were going to be his third and fourth?

There would even be a fifth and sixth.

Did this guy really think he could kill them?.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3339 - 3340 -

Chapter 3339
The panther-masked man's lips twitched, feeling like he had heard a great joke, "Are you crazy? Have you been scared dumb? Who gave you the courage to think that you'd be able to kill the two of us!"

"You wouldn't even be able to face us one-on-one, let alone two against one. Even two of you wouldn't be able to face me. I've seen quite a few warriors from second-grade worlds, but you're the first one who's so arrogant."

As he said that, he narrowed his eyes and looked at Jackie with a cold expression. That look seemed like he wanted to rip Jackie apart.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, not really wanting to bother with him at all. He was incredibly calm at that moment, not showing any changes at all.

The panther-masked man felt more and more annoyed by Jackie. He pulled out his sword from his storage space.

"Brat, You'll pay for everything you've said! I was planning on just torturing you for an hour before letting you die, but I've changed my mind. Since you're so arrogant, I'll make sure to torture you for two hours to clam myself!"

Those words were like nothing to Jackie. It did not cause him to react at all. Jackie stood there as calmly as ever.

The cloud-masked man frowned at how Jackie was acting.

He whispered to the panther-masked man, "I think this guy is a bit strange. We should be careful when we act."

Hearing that, the panther-masked man did not think much about it.

He scoffed and looked at the other man in disdain, "Can you stop being so paranoid about everything? What part of this guy looks threatening? There's clearly just something wrong with his head. Even if he was threatening, would he be able to beat the two of us?"

The cloud-masked man sighed.

He felt like something was different about this guy. He could not tell how strong that guy was at that moment, but his intuition told him that Jackie was stronger than an ordinary third-grade world warrior.

However, he still chose to shut his mouth. He mumbled to himself that, even if Jackie seemed a little strange, Jackie was still from a third grade world.

The panther-masked man said coldly, "You're just too overly careful. I'll admit that they have some strong warriors in third-grade worlds, but it's nothing like ours in number.

We've already looked up all the pictures of the strong warriors from the third-grade worlds before this anyway. It's the first time I've seen this face."

The cloud-masked man took a deep breath and nodded earnestly. He really was being overly cautious.

At that moment, Jackie finally said something, "I have a question. Could you two help me answer it?"

The two of them were stunned when they heard that.

The panther masked man's lips twitched helplessly, feeling like Jackie was acting stranger and stranger. He was even asking them a question in a situation like this. However, since they were about to torture him to death, there was no reason not to answer a question.

The panther-masked man raised an eyebrow as he nodded with interest. He wondered what kind of question it would be.

Jackie said slowly, "Why are you trying to kill warriors from third-grade worlds? I know that the slaughter game is a deathmatch in itself, but killing is the main draw. If you want to get the rewards, you can just kill your opponents. There's no need to torture them to death unless you have some deep grudge. The two of you don't look sick in the head, so why?"

Chapter 3340
The panther-masked man smirked and revealed a cruel smile, "You're the first warrior from a third-grade world to ask me that. Since you're about to die, I'll be merciful and answer your question."

"It's because we'll only be able to get your Heartblood by torturing you. We need a lot of Heartblood. Killing you will get us five million spirit crystals as a reward. With your Heartblood, someone will exchange it with us for a large amount of spirit crystals. The Heartblood from a single person can get you like six million spirit crystals."

Jackie's eyes widened as anger slowly burned in his heart.

His calm exterior was finally starting to crack.

So the torturing of the warriors from third grade worlds was for the sake of their Heartblood. Heartblood could get them spirit crystals.

Jackie took a deep breath, suppressing the anger in his heart. He continued with a low voice, "Do you need to torture someone to get their Heartblood?"

The panther-masked man answered with a laugh, "Of course you do. Only when a person experiences true hopelessness will their blood start to flow frantically. A lot of bleed essence will flow into the heart. The more pain and despair there is, the more Heartblood there will be. That's why we're willing to slowly torture you with our time."

Jackie's expression soured greatly when he heard that.

The answer had successfully ignited his fury.

Those people did not View warriors from third grade worlds as people at all, but prey to be hunted. Before they were killed, all the value had to be extracted.

Jackie's breathing got quicker. There was a cold glint in his eyes.

Rudy and Alfred started to tremble when they heard that answer too. They were both furious, wanting nothing more than to rush in to fight to their deaths. That answer was far too cruel and unacceptable.

Anger and rage slowly accumulated in their hearts.

Rudy could no longer control himself.

He shouted out, "You're so despicable and shameless! For the sake of Heartblood, you tortured so many innocent people to death. Don't you think that's cruel?"

The panther-masked man laughed out loud at Rudy's question. He felt like the three in front of him were incredibly amusing.

He coldly looked at Jackie and the others, "Who do you think you are? Torturing you is despicable and shameless? Don't flatter yourselves. You should be thankful that you became spirit crystals for us. This world has always been survival of the fittest. You're no match for us, so we can naturally treat you however we want."

Those words cause the three of them to get even angrier.

Rudy was so angry his hands were shaking, "That's too much! What is he trying to say? Does he think we're subhuman?"

Jackie nodded. After taking a few breaths, he composed himself.

He narrowed his eyes, not wanting to say anything else. Their opponents had run our of patience as well. They wanted torture the three of them sooner to get more Heartblood.

The masked men exchanged a look, and the two of them split up, one to the right and one to the left. They started to get closer to Jackie.

The cloud-masked man pulled out a sword from his storage space as well.

The two of them were like soldiers in the night. They were surrounded with murderous intent. Any warriors who were weaker would have collapsed when surrounded by that intent. Yet, it was nothing to Jackie at all.

Jackie did not pull out a single weapon.

He merely looked at the two of them coldly, forming seal after seal with hands. Those seals constantly danced around in the air, slowly merging together to form a Broken Soul Blade.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3341 - 3350 -

Chapter 3341
The moment the Broken Soul Blade solidified, wind howled around it. With the Broken Soul Blade as the center, the air around it constantly moved.

The power constantly clashed and fused, turning into a vortex of power. Looking at that scene, both the masked men frowned at the same time. However, they did not retreat.

The panther-masked man said in a low voice, “I have to say. This guy really does seem a little dangerous. We mustn’t delay it anymore. Let’s end things quickly.”

The moment that was said, the two of them rushed right at Jackie. They attacked with their swords in hand at the same time.

There was a cold look in Jackie’s eyes.

He looked like a death god in the dark as he pushed his hands forward. The Broken Soul Blade shot forward at the two of them like an arrow.

With two clear twangs, the two of them felt their arms go numb. It was as if the swords in their hands had clashed with a large mountain. Right after that, a strange energy rapidly climbed up the swords in their hands.

It was a rotting force that caused them to freeze. The swords in their hands seemed to constantly crumble like hot steel that was thrown into ice. They paled as they quickly retreated, but it was already too late.

That energy had already climbed into their hands, entering their body through that.

The two of them felt like their souls were being bit apart by ten thousand ants. The pain was indescribable.

Suddenly, the two of them cried out in agony. Everything had happened too quickly. They were already on the ground before they could even react.

With a clang, the pain had caused them to lose control of themselves. They could no longer even hold their swords.

The panther-masked man shouted loudly, “What is this?! It hurts! Why is it so painful?!”

The two of them cried out in agony as they rolled on the ground. Their arrogance from just now had completely disappeared.

Jackie scoffed as he looked at the two of them with a cold expression in his eyes.

The two of them might be from a holy grade clan, but they were definitely not chosen disciples. At the most, they were just inner disciples. Jackie would not even be afraid to go against two chosen disciples, let alone inner disciples.

He had spoken so much with the two of them earlier merely because he wanted answers.

Jackie took a deep breath as he slowly walked towards them.

The two of them were already rolling on the ground, looking like pathetic beggars.

Rudy rushed over as well. He was quite happy looking at how much of a pathetic state the two of them were in.

He could not stop himself from punching the panther-masked man in the face, but that little bit of pain was only able to cause the masked man to flinch a little. After all, he was going through the most painful thing in the world, so being punched was nothing at all. On top of them, he had already lost his senses. Other than crying out in agony, he did not react at all.

Rudy huffed and said, “Let’s see if you can still show off and act arrogantly in front of us? Aren’t you so amazing? Why can’t you toot your own horn anymore?!”

Alfred rushed over angrily as well, kicking the two of them.

After torturing them for a moment, Jackie dispelled the energy in their souls for a moment.

When the pain diminished, the two of them slowly came to their senses.

Chapter 3342
As the pain slowly diminished, they started to weakly open their eyes.

The moment the panther-masked man looked at Jackie, his whole body froze as it shuddered slightly. He looked at Jackie like Jackie was a death god from hell.

His breathing got more erratic, and the muscles on his face refused to cooperate. He tried to retreat, but his body could not respond after the intense torture he had been through. He only managed to move a little to the back before he collapsed.

The other one was full of fear as well, not even daring to look at Jackie.

Rudy was incredibly happy at the state they were in.

He scoffed as he said to the two of them, “Didn’t you say us warriors from third grade worlds were all trash? Do you still think so? Say something. Why are you acting like you’re mute? Weren’t you having a lot of fun earlier? You said we were all prey that you could hunt at any moment.”

The two of them gulped. They knew better than anyone else what they had said.

The panther-masked man took a deep breath as his expression slowly turned more serious.

He had to admit that he made a mistake. And that he had fallen into Jackie’s hands.

If it were anywhere else, the panther-masked man might have tried to beg for mercy, but where they were at that moment, there was no coming back from a heavy injury.

Since he was going to die for sure, then he decided to not hold back. The man sneered, but he started to cough violently after being tortured for so long.

As he coughed, he shouted out, “I’m not wrong! The warriors from third grade worlds are all just animals waiting for us to slaughter!”

Rudy and Alfred stiffened in anger. They never expected the panther-masked man to remain stubborn even at this stage.

Rudy stamped on the panther-masked man‘s chest, sending him to the ground.

They were surrounded by grass, or it would have caused a lot of dirt to fly up.

The panther-masked man’s face twisted in pain as his breathing sped up. A mouthful of blood came out of his throat as he started to cough intensely again. However, he refused to submit no matter how much he coughed.

With one hand to support him, he tried to stand up again. Alfred rushed over and kicked him on the chest again. The man fell on the ground, but he did not continue struggling to get up.

He coughed violently as he sneered.

Since he was already lying on the ground in such a pathetic state, he did not care anymore, ”What? Are you feeling guilty after what I said? Are you refusing to admit that you’re just our prey? So what if you hit me?! If you can, kill me right here!”

Rudy was so angry that he wanted to do it, but Jackie stopped him.

The panther-masked man did not look like an idiot. He must have his own reasons for saying all of that. Rudy clearly did not realize that.

When Jackie pulled Rudy back, Rudy mumbled, “Jackie, why are you stopping me? Do you not hear what this guy said? If we don’t teach him a lesson, he’ll let it get to his head! Let me beat him up properly and we’ll see if he’s still going to be stubborn!”

Jackie sighed helplessly.

He lowered his voice and said, “Don’t get angered by him. He wants to use you to end himself. He doesn’t look like an idiot at all. Hurry up and go to the side. I still have some things to ask him.”

The moment Jackie said that, Rudy slowly realized what was happening.

He turned to look at the panther-masked man on the ground to see a sliver of disappointment in the man’s eyes. Even though the man wiped it away very quickly, Rudy still caught it.

Chapter 3343
Rudy's lips twitched. He had almost let his emotions carry him away.

If Jackie had not stopped him, he would have fallen for it. That guy just wanted to anger him to the point where Rudy would end him while Jackie was distracted. He did not dare to kill himself, because he was worried that Jackie would react in time.

It would be the worst for him if Jackie managed to react in time when he tried to kill himself.

Rudy sighed, not wanting to continue on with this. He was afraid that he would be tricked again. So, he rubbed his nose and stood back

Jackie coldly looked at the panther-masked man.

He knelt down slowly as he said plainly, "Do you really want to die right now?"

The panther-masked man's lips stiffened as he looked at Jackie in alarm.

After a long moment, he said in a low voice, "I can't believe I was so unlucky to meet such a master. I'll admit that there are masters in third-grade worlds, but meeting someone like you is not even a one in twenty chance. I can't believe I was so unlucky to meet one…"

"I'll admit it! I'll admit your talent and skills are amazing, but I won't retract my words. You warriors from third grade-words are just prey. As long as we want to, we can slaughter all of you!"

As he said that, he looked right into Jackie's eyes.

When Rudy heard that, he clenched his fists, wanting to rush forward and slap the person. However, he held back after what happened earlier, looking at the panther-masked man in anger.

Jackie smirked as he said, "Are you not afraid I' ll torture you?"

The man's hands shook, but he quickly calmed down.

He took a deep breath as he looked at Jackie with a cold gaze, "What's the point of being afraid? If I'm afraid and I beg you for mercy, would you let me go? It's impossible. I know my place. Since that's the case, why would I toss aside my dignity to beg you?!"

After saying that, he struggled to get up from the ground. He supported his body with one hand as he looked up at Jackie shakily with a resolved gaze.

He said with a hoarse voice, "Even if you torture me, you can't torture me for that long. Don't forget, your companions are being attacked right now. If you're too late, they'll all die. Are you going to just let them die?"

Jackie raised an eyebrow after he heard that.

He looked at the masked man with some interest. That guy was definitely quick with his words. In the end, the guy was afraid of Jackie torturing him. Otherwise, he would not have said all of that.

He wanted Jackie to quickly end him and head over to help his companions.

Jackie scoffed, saying with disdain, “They aren’t my companions. We’re just working together. We’ve only known each other for half a day…”

The moment he said that, Jackie looked as the man’s body completely stiffened, not expecting Jackie’s relationship with them to be so shallow.

Chapter 3344
Jackie reached out and patted the masked man on the back, “You give me a good reminder though. If I’m there too late, the battle would have ended, and I wouldn’t be able to get anything. You have three of you there. On top of the two of you, there are five in total. Five million per person, I’d be able to get a total of twenty five million.”

The moment that was said, the masked man’s eyes stopped moving.

His mouth widened as he recalled what Jackie had said earlier. The two of them had thought that there was something wrong with Jackie’s head.

Jackie had said before that there would be five and six after they were three and four.

They thought that Jackie was just crazy at that moment, or Jackie wouldn’t have been so arrogant. Now, he realized that Jackie was not arrogant, but rather just confident in his skills. He had been the ignorant one.

Jackie slowly stood up, “I do plan on going there quickly, I just don’t know if I’ll make it in time.”

Hearing Jackie’s words, the two masked men shuddered, unable to say anything. Before they say Jackie’s true skills, they had thought that everything Jackie said was a joke. Yet, when they saw how strong Jackie was, they could not longer laugh. They were even worried for their companions.

If Jackie rushed over and the fighting had still not ended, then he would completely clean up the place. The three of them would not have had the time to recover after a battle.

There was no way they would be a match for Jackie.

Their companions would also look down on Jackie thanks to his background as well. They would end up just like the two of them, turning into his rewards. The two of them felt a chill in their hearts.

Jackie furrowed his eyebrows as he turned around. Whether the group of four could survive was not as important as the companions of the masked men were still there. As long as the three of them were still there, then Jackie was confident in dealing with all three of them.

Alfred was observing Jackie's expressions, and could guess what Jackie was thinking. He took a deep breath. He was still a little afraid when it came to Jackie, but his intense hope had won over that fear.

He stepped forward and said to Jackie, "Can I stay behind? I want to get their Heartblood. Even though I don't know what's the point of it, it has to be useful since they offered such a high price. I might as well stay behind and get their Heartblood for you…"

As he said that, his voice shook slightly.

He looked up at Jackie with worry. He would immediately shut up if he realized anything was wrong, but Jackie seemed calm. He could not see any unhappiness.

Alfred mustered up the courage to continue, "I know it's a little cruel, but these two treated others just the same way as well. Don't do unto others what you don't want done unto you, I don't think it's wrong…"

Thinking about that, a sliver of hatred flashed in Alfred's eyes.

If Jackie had not suddenly appeared to save him, then he would have ended up like those dead warriors from the third grade worlds. After being cruelly tortured, his Heartblood would be retrieved and sold at a high price.

Just thinking about it, Alfred could not suppress his rage.

Jackie laughed and patted Alfred on the shoulder, "You'll be in danger if you stay behind alone."

Alfred shook his head in determination, "I'll leave as soon as I can. If I really do end up in danger, then I'll just chalk it down to being unlucky. There's nothing much to say about it."

Chapter 3345
Jackie raised his eyebrow with some surprise. He quite liked Alfred's personality.

Since Alfred was already determined, Jackie decided to agree with it. Hearing Jackie's conversation with Alfred, the two on the ground looked horrified.

The two of them exchanged a look, and they saw despair in their eyes. Alfred slowly turned around and retrieved a dagger from his storage ring. He coldly looked at the two of them on the ground.

He let out a faint smile, "It's my turn after this!"

Not far away, the four who were originally sitting down and resting were already nowhere near as calm as they were.

At that moment, only three of them were holding on as one of them lay out on the ground. Conor lay on the ground hopelessly. He clutched his bleeding chest as he breathed erratically. Blood flowed from his lips to stain his clothes.

The attack was incredibly sudden. The three of them had lost any initiative in the ambush. On top of that, their opponents were incredibly strong. They were no match for their opponents at all. Even though their opponents had one less fighter than them, they could still not gain an advantage.

A man in a tiger mask quickly stabbed him in the chest. His blood frantically spurted out. After that, someone else had hit him in the chest, causing him to fly and crumple on the ground with heavy injuries.

He realized hopelessly that, unless a miracle happened, the four of them would die here.

At that moment, Conor suddenly thought of Jackie. He felt like Jackie was incredibly lucky to have managed to avoid this. He even started to hate Jackie for not being a proper scout.

If Jackie had realized that their opponents were near, they would not have been ambushed like that, and would not have lost so completely.

Based on how these people had been acting, he would definitely go through excruciating torture.

Thinking about that, Conor felt even more helpless. He clenched his teeth and immediately made a decision. Rather than being tortured by those people, he felt like ending himself would make his death cleaner.

At that moment, footsteps could be heard from afar.

Everyone there looked towards the source of the sound. When they saw Jackie and the others rushing over quickly, the three masked men immediately gathered at the center in alarm.

When they saw Jackie, everyone there was shocked.

Frederick was the first to react. He had a happy look on his face as he shouted at Jackie, “These people aren’t weak! Be careful!”

Everyone knew that, even if he did not say that, Jackie would have realized it just from the situation. However, Frederick still wanted to say it to leave a good impression on Jackie.

He wanted to show Jackie that he cared for Jackie as his companion. In truth, Frederick was afraid that Jackie would turn and run if Jackie thought that he would not be able to win. Then, they would have no hope at all.

Jackie obviously knew what Frederick was thinking. He scoffed and did not answer Frederick. Instead, he looked at the three masked men.

The three masked men looked at Jackie in alarm and suspicion.

A man with the mask of a green dragon said to Jackie, “You’re still alive?”

Chapter 3346
Jackie raised an eyebrow, acting like he did not know anything as he asked curiously, “Why wouldn’t I be alive?”

When he said that, the three of them were taken aback.

The man in the tiger mask frowned and said, “What are six and seven doing?! Are the two of them slacking off?”

A man with a black snake mask shook his head, “I don’t think so. They might not be that reliable normally, but they still know that this is important. They wouldn’t dare to slack off right now. They must have failed to kill this guy because of something unexpected.”

The tiger-masked man’s eyes shone in fury, “What kind of surprises could there be?! The two of them are just so unreliable. What do we do now? Another two appeared…”

The snake-masked man shook his head as he looked at Jackie before looking at Rudy behind Jackie.

After he looked at Rudy, the snake-masked man scoffed as he said with disdain, “The guy in front will be a bit troublesome, but the guy behind is just trash. Haven’t we already investigated it? The three of them were from Hestia Continent. How could such a useless place have anyone strong? Don’t worry, leave this guy to me. The two of them will just delay us a little.”

Conor looked at Jackie’s figure and scoffed in his heart.

He looked at Jackie’s figure and scoffed in his heart. He suddenly felt a little glad.

He thought that Jackie had been lucky enough to escape, but Jackie had actually ran right back to them. There was no one else to blame but himself. In Conor’s eyes, Even if Jackie was here, they would not be able to survive.

Their opponents were very strong. Conor felt like the three of them were probably from a holy grade clan. They might not be chosen disciples, but they were at least inner disciples. The three of them all used lower ultimate god rank techniques. They were no match for those masked men at all.

The tiger-masked man looked at Jackie coldly. He found it stranger and stranger.

Jackie was acting too calmly. He did not seem afraid to face the three of them at all. It was as if he felt like the three of them were not worth being scared of.

The masked man frowned and said, ”Brat, you’ve got some guts. You don’t seem afraid at all even facing the three of us. Should I be praising you for being bold, or should I just say you’re ignorant?”

Hearing that, Jackie’s lips curled up into a smile.

He was saying the same thing as the other two, with practically the same expression and tone.

Everyone was stunned when they saw Jackie smiling.

They felt like everything Jackie did was strange. It was like Jackie was completely crazy. It was one thing to not be afraid of a strong opponent, but Jackie was actually smiling. The more they looked, the crazier Jackie seemed.

The snake-masked man gave Jackie a once over, wanting to say something. However, he remained silent in the end.

The man in the dragon mask was furious.

He stepped forward and shouted at Jackie, “What are you laughing about? Do you think what we’re saying is funny?”

Jackie nodded sincerely. Of course, he did.

Would he laugh if he did not?

When Jackie nodded, everyone was stunned again. He actually nodded. He really was crazy, or he would not be doing any of that.

Chapter 3347
Frederick suddenly frowned as he looked everywhere.

Various thoughts surfaced in his head. He wanted to say something, but he felt like there was nothing he could say that would help. In truth, what he wanted to do was to rush over and shake Jackie awake.

Jackie had laughed enough and did not want to waste anymore time.

He had the confidence to win if he was up against two opponents, but if it was three, it would take more effort.

He turned to look at those three who were still standing, and he said, “Can the three of you try to hold two of them back? Just five minutes should be enough…”

Frederick widened his eyes at that, feeling like Jackie really was going crazy.

Did Jackie think that he could deal with one of his opponents in five minutes?

Who did he think he was?

Could Jackie really have gone mad?

Of course, he could not say that at that moment, and was merely starting to panic, not knowing what to do.

Frederick was one thing, but Conor could not take it anymore. Even though he was on the ground and heavily injured, he still shouted, “Are you crazy? Do you know what you’re saying? Do you really think you’re a match for any of them?”

Jackie frowned as he looked at Conor in exasperation.

Before he could say anything, Rudy could no longer hold back. He had not liked Conor from the start. Conor had mocked them the whole time, and even asked Jackie to toss him aside. He already hated Conor.

He narrowed his eyes and said to Conor, “Just because you can’t do it, it doesn’t mean Jackie can’t. You were bragging so much earlier, so why are you on the ground right now? You’d better just shut up and stop annoying us.”

Conor was so infuriated by Rudy that his hands shook. He spat out another mouthful of blood as his eyes reddened.

He rushed at Rudy and shouted, “What did you say?! I won’t let you off!”

Rudy did not even bat an eyelash at those threats.

He scoffed and said in disdain, “You won’t let me off? How are you going to do anything to me? Are you going to stand up and fight me? Can you even do that anymore?”

Conor shook in anger. He started to hate Rudy even more than the three masked man. He wanted to just rip Rudy apart at that moment.

Jackie sighed in exasperation. He looked at Conor coldly.

Before this, he would not have bothered to waste any time on Conor. However, Jackie had gotten sick of listening to Conor’s words, so he happened to get set off at that moment.

He took a deep breath and looked at Conor like he was looking at a beggar by the streets, “From a certain angle, your attitude is pretty similar to the warriors from second-grade worlds. You’re just too weak… You’re as weak as paper. Even calling you trash would be praising you…”

“Rudy’s right, you just love to brag. You were so arrogant earlier, so I thought you’d at least be in second place among the four of you, but now it seems like you’re the weakest.”

Jackie was being honest with his words.

Conor had been so annoying because Conor looked down on the weak. When he found out that Jackie was from Hestia Continent, he quickly made his judgment. No matter what Jackie did, he would disapprove.

Chapter 3348
He was no different from those warriors from second-grade worlds who love to show off how strong they were. The only difference was that Conor was not as strong as them. Yet, he acted in the same way as them.

Conor’s expression darkened. He looked at Jackie with clenched teeth, and his hatred for Jackie soared.

“I won’t let you off even if I have to haunt you!” Conor said hatefully.

“Have you wasted enough time?” the tiger-masked man said with a frown.

Jackie was acting too strangely, so the man wanted to end things quickly. He did not want to waste any more time.

He stepped forward and walked towards Jackie.

As he walked, he said, “Brat! Didn’t you say you wanted a duel? You even said you’d deal with one of us in less than five minutes. I’ll give you a chance!”

As he said that, he looked at fame with a cold gaze.

The man was already thinking about how he would torture this guy who did not know his place. He wanted Jackie to know the gap between them. He meant to wake Jackie up.

Frederick and the others exchanged a worried look with each other.

They did not think that Jackie could win, and felt like Jackie’s actions were all absurd. However, Jackie did not care what they were thinking at that moment.

The tiger masked man walked over, and Jackie merely said coldly, “The three of you deal with the other two. Help me stall for time.”

Frederick’s lips twitched helplessly.

In the end, he could not stop himself from saying, “Are you able to?”

Jackie could not be bothered to answer Frederick.

He started to form seals with his hands, and after a few moments, the Broken Soul Blade appeared in front of him. The vortex of energy constantly spun around him.

Ever since he learned a storm god rank technique, Jackie had experienced how terrifying it’s power was. Even at the first stage of Soul Sky, its power had already exceeded Destroying the Void.

The tiger-masked man could not help but sneer when he saw that Jackie was already starting to attack, “Do you want to die that badly? I’ll grant you your wish! Let me tell you, I love to torture people I don’t like. I really dislike you!”

“When you’re screaming in pain as I torture you later, you’d better not beg for mercy from me. It’s useless even if you do that!”

As he said that, he looked right at Jackie.

He was surprised when Jackie acted like he did not hear that threat at all. It was as if Jackie felt like his words were not worth listening to at all.

His whole body shook as he retrieved a sword from his spatial ring. Since Jackie seemed to show no emotions at all, he would use his actions to show Jackie how being tortured felt like.

He shot forward as his blade glowed in a cold light.

A massive force started to circular his sword. He aimed his sword right at Jackie's head. With a slash, the attack charged right at Jackie.

Jackie's expression did not change. Just like before, he pushed his hands forward, and the Broken Soul Blade charged forward rapidly. The gray blood's energy clashed with the other man's attack. With a massive boom, they started to hear cracks.

Before anyone could react, the masked man's sword shattered in the air.

The masked man widened his eyes and mouth as he looked at everything in shock. However, the shock did not last that long.

After the Broken Soul Blade Shattered the sword, it charged at the masked man's chest without stopping.

Chapter 3349
It was so quick, and they were not far away with. Even a chosen disciple from their clan would not be able to avoid it, let alone the tiger-masked man.

The man let out a cry of agony in the air. He clutched his chest with his hands as his face suddenly paled.

Right after that, he seemed to lose all his energy as he fell to the ground. With a bang, the man fell face first onto the ground.

Frederick was stunned. He had his mouth widened as he held his weapon with both his hands. His whole body stiffened.

After a long moment, he rubbed his eyes to make sure he was not dreaming.

Then, he let out an elated expression as he said, "He's actually so strong! We really picked up a treasure! It looks like we're saved!"

As he said that, he sounded a little choked up.

Before Jackie appeared, he had already planned for the worst.

In the worst case, he would just kill himself before he fell. Then, he would not need to be tortured. However, he felt reluctant to even entertain the thought, but there was nothing he could do about it.

Reality would not change just because he was reluctant. He just never expected to suddenly see a glimmer of hope.

After the masked man fell on the ground, he constantly rolled around in pain. He could not stop his cries of agony. Other than Jackie, the others shivered when they heard those cries.

It was easy to see how much torture the masked man was going through from those cries.

The other two masked man started to look at Jackie differently. The disdain was already gone from their faces. All there was left was fear and shock.

Jackie walked forward and looked at the two of them, “You asked me why I was laughing earlier. Let me explain it to you know. It’s just that the two of you said the exact same thing as the other two masked men earlier.”

The moment he said that, the two remaining masked men could no longer remain calm.

They suddenly understood everything. Their companions had not gone and done something else, but had died to Jackie.

The two of them took a step back. They no longer had any other thoughts in mind.

They just wanted to hurry up and leave. Jackie was too horrifying. Their companions had already died to him, so the two of them would definitely struggle. Even if they were lucky enough to not die from Jackie, there was still the other three.

If all four of them worked together, it would be incredibly difficult for the two masked men to run.

They exchanged a look, and could see what each other was thinking. Neither of them spoke as they started to retreat, attempting to distance themselves from Jackie.

However, Jackie was no idiot. He would not let them just run like that.

He looked at Frederick, “What are you all staring at? Don’t you see that those two are trying to run? Go stop them!”

Only then did Frederick react.

He immediately moved to stop the two of them, but the two of them were already ready. If they did not run at that moment, they would not be able to again. For the sake of surviving, they put in everything they had.

Frederick and the others attacked with full force as well, but they were still beaten back by the two.

Jackie could not help but shake his head at the sight. However, the two of them were still delayed enough to give Jackie enough time to do something.

Jackie activated the laws of space and disappeared from the spot.

When he appeared again, he was behind the two of them. They were terrified when they saw Jackie suddenly appearing.

Chapter 3350
The two of them never expected Jackie to be so quick. In just a blink of the eye, he was already behind them.

The dragon-masked man shook in fright. His eyes looked like they were going to pop out of their sockets.

Before he could cry out in agony, he felt a chill in his chest. With a squelch, he saw that his chest had already been pierced by Jackie. Blood flowed out like a fountain, staining his clothes.

Jackie expression was still cold.

After that stab, he quickly pulled out his blade and sent out another stab.

The snake-masked man cried out in agony as well. The two of them were no match for Jackie. More precisely, they had no right to even face Jackie.

They were just bugs that could be killed at any moment in Jackie's eyes. They were not even able to withstand Jackie's attacks, let alone fight back.

Earlier, Jackie's stabs had contained the powers of Destroying the Void and Soul Sky. Even if the two of them had used any protective techniques, they would not have been able to stop Jackie.

With two thuds, their bodies violently fell on the ground. Pain flooded their minds as they cried out in agony.

Those three who had been so arrogant earlier had become wretched dogs that were just writhing on the ground.

Soul attribute attacks left no room for doubt. No matter how strong one was, they would still not be able to withstand injuries to their souls.

Jackie slowly descended, and calmly kept his blade. He walked forward and slowly got closer to the three who were struggling on the ground.

Frederick and the others were stunned.

All of them had widened eyes as their lips twitched. They could not believe what they were seeing. They even forgot to breathe at that moment. After all, everything Jackie had done seemed unbelievable to them.

Jackie looked so unremarkable. He did not seem like some great warrior at all. He also lacked the pride of a great warrior.

Frederick's lips twitched as he whispered to Len next to him, "This is a miracle. I thought we were dead for sure. I can't believe we accidentally managed to save ourselves."

Len's pale face was gradually regaining some color.

He had been seeped in despair earlier, and had already planned on killing himself. After all, he knew very well that he would have to wait to be tortured the moment he was too injured to move. He did not want to die in such a pathetic manner.

Len took a deep breath. His hands were clenched tightly as he turned around and said emotionally, “We really were lucky. If Jackie wasn’t here. We would have been dead. We might even have been tortured.”

Saying that, he gulped emotionally. Tears were gathering in his eyes and his breathing got quicker.

He reached out and grabbed Frederick’s arm.

He said through clenched teeth, “These despicable men look at us like we’re prey. They think that we’re just livestock that they can slaughter however they want. They think we’re all trash! We finally managed to get one back!”

They had been struggling the whole time. Even though they did not say anything, they felt a lot of pressure in their hearts. It was like a large stone was pressing down on their hearts, suffocating them.

Len sniffed and continued, “Even if I don’t want to admit it, that’s still the truth. We have some strong warriors in the third grade worlds, but we still end up in a pathetic state facing the second grade worlds.”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3351 - 3360 -

Chapter 3351

”Those two were like mountains planted right in front of us. Even though they knew that we have excellent geniuses in third-grade worlds who can squash them, they acted like they’d never met any! Well, they finally met one now, and I feel so much better.”

Frederick nodded emphatically.

Their group was made to go against the Hunting Alliance. They might not be willing to admit defeat, but some things would still come true even if they did not expect it, just like Len had said. They finally managed to vent some of their frustrations.

Jackie looked at the three that were on the ground with a cold look, his smirk matching the apathy on his face.

No one knew what he was thinking, but when they saw Jackie’s expression, it was obvious he was in an unforgiving mood.

Jackie furrowed his eyebrows as he looked toward the east where they had just come from.

Frederick looked at Jackie before he whispered to Len, “Why do I feel like he’s waiting for someone?”

The moment he said that, he could hear footsteps coming from the east. Everyone was on alert as they looked toward the direction before spotting a familiar face running towards them with a happy look.

He ran as he waved, “Don’t be afraid, everyone, it’s me!”

It was Alfred. Even though he had not recovered, he had already forgotten all about the pain in his body in his apparent excitement.

As he ran over, he looked toward Jackie, visibly worried as though Jackie would vanish if he was to take his eyes off of him.

Jackie’s lips curled up, liking Alfred’s personality more and more.

When he arrived next to Jackie, he started to pant, having ran his entire way here. He pulled out two bottles from his storage ring like he was offering a treasure, putting it in Jackie’s hands.

“I got some. There’s quite a lot!”

Jackie nodded gladly and said, ”Did you manage to find out about anything?”

Alfred nodded vigorously. He wiped away the sweat on his forehead as he took out a map, placing it in Jackie’s hands.

Jackie opened up the map and took a look. His lips slightly curled up, “Not bad. If they’re not lying, then it’ll be much easier to proceed!”

Alfred slapped his chest and spoke with assurance, “Don‘t worry, I used special methods to make sure this map is real. After carefully looking at it, I can verify that it’s real. Even if there’re any errors, it’ll be from their own mistakes.”

Alfred excitedly added, “The two of them still died to you. I didn’t do anything in the end, so they still died to your technique.”

Alfred deliberately lowered his voice when he said that, so no one heard him at all.

Jackie was pleased with how self- aware Alfred was being and thus nodded at him. “You’ve done well. Saving you was the best decision I’ve made recently.”

The praise caused Alfred to blush elatedly. The two of them talked, and everyone else wondered what they were speaking of.

Frederick was all curious about everything Jackie did at that moment. As the two of them talked, he tried to listen to everything they said. Alas, Frederick regrettably realized that he did not understand what they were talking about.

Chapter 3352
Frederick turned to look at the others and saw that both Len and Trent were confused as well. He then let out a slight cough and sighed helplessly.

At that moment, he was not in a good position to walk forward and ask, having a feeling that Jackie might not even answer him if he did.

Jackie put the map into Mustard Seed with a smile before he walked toward the three.

As Jackie was talking to Alfred, Rudy had run over and gathered the three individuals writhing on the floor.

At this point, they had lost all rationality, and Rudy, allowed to do with them as he pleased- practically dragged all three to the same spot.

Jackie walked over to the three of them, and with a wave of his hand, the energy in their bodies gradually slowed down. The pain decreased, and they slowly regained consciousness.

The first to sober up was the snake-masked man. The moment he did, his eyes fixated on Jackie.

He managed to collect himself, and while various ideas floated in his mind, all of them pointed to one thing, his days were numbered. Jackie would never let him go, so he would surely die.

Thinking about that, the snake-masked man let out a bitter smile, already conceding.

Jackie let out a laugh before he looked at the man. “I thought you’d beg for mercy.”

Hearing that, the snake-masked man snorted and said, “Even if I kneel and beg you, you won’t let me go anyway. I’m no idiot. If our places were swapped and I’m the one in your shoes, I wouldn‘t forgive you either. In the same way, you won’t let me off no matter how much I beg. If that’s the case, why would I waste my breath?”

Jackie pursed his lips and nodded. “You’re right. You seem much more logical than I thought. Even when you’re staring at death, you’re still level-headed. That’s quite rare. ”

Staring at death…

These words slammed into the snake-masked man unforgivingly. He started to cough violently, looking like he was about to die at any moment.

Blood flowed from the corner of his mouth. Even if he did not check his body, he knew that his soul was almost entirely corrupted. Unless he had a divine pill of sorts, he would not be able to survive the day.

The other two had regained their conscious thought as well. They looked at Jackie in fear as all of their earlier arrogance disappeared.

The tiger-masked man pointed at Jackie with a shaking finger. “You…You lied about yourself!”

Jackie rolled his eyes at this.

Excuses, again. Every time someone lost to him, excuse after excuse would come his way, and at this point, Jackie was too lazy to argue after hearing so much.

He took out the two bottles that Alfred had given him, shaking the bottles in front of them. “What do you think these are? ”

The three of them stiffened at the sudden question, looking to be on full alert.

No matter what Jackie did or said, it was definitely not to their benefit whatsoever.

The snake-masked man gulped. “How could we know what’s inside? Just tell us. We’re all sitting ducks for you to do whatever you want to, anyway.”

Chapter 3353
Jackie raised an eyebrow as he shook the bottle in his hand. The contents sounded liquid-like, given the minute sloshes heard.

“I asked you to guess because you’re very familiar with this…”

The tiger-masked man and the dragon-masked man looked at Jackie suspiciously. They wanted to know what Jackie was up to, but they wisely kept their mouths shut and waited for him to speak.

The snake-masked man, however, was different. When Jackie brought up how they would be familiar with the substance, he quickly frowned as a terrifying thought surfaced in his head.

His breathing slowly sped out and he said in a raspy voice, “It’s Heartblood. It’s their Heartblood!”

Jackie had a flash of surprise in his eyes as he gave the man a thumbs-up. “You’re smarter than I thought. You reacted so quickly. Many people can’t compete with you in that department.”

Jackie’s response proved that the snake-masked man had guessed right. The man’s face turned pale at that moment as he lost all his rationality in his anger.

He shouted right at Jackie, “How could you do that? You tortured them to death?!”

Jackie would not have blinked even if he shouted until his throat was hoarse. He was amused by what the snake-masked man said.

He snorted as he looked at the man coldly. “Don’t you think your words sound ironic? I suppose you three are the only ones allowed to be cruel, huh? You’re the ones allowed to torture us with cruel methods, but you’re complaining when I did the same?”

The snake-masked man trembled in anger as his face turned from hot red to pale white.

The tiger-masked man and the dragon-masked man were still stunned as they looked at the bottles in Jackie’s hand in horror.

Their fellow disciples had been tortured to death by Jackie, so what awaited them?

Were they going to be tortured and have their Heartblood retrieved, too?

Just thinking of this made them both tremble, and they looked like they were about to faint at any moment.

Frederick covered his mouth in surprise as his opinion of Jackie shifted once more. He had thought that Jackie was a morally upright person, but he had just seen Jackie’s cold and emotionless side. Jackie was capable of doing anything.

Frederick whispered, “We absolutely can’t offend him!”

When Trent and Len heard that, they nodded vigorously in agreement.

Jackie shook the bottle in his hand and said, “Do you think I’ll be able to get twelve million spirit crystals with this Heartblood?”

That caused the three of them to shiver again. They felt like the person in front of them was not just strong but hard to decipher as well. They could only describe Jackie as a demon that crawled out of hell.

“You won’t be able to!” snarled the snake-masked man. “You’re not a warrior from a second- grade world, you’ll just end up being surrounded if you go there! You should just throw the Heartblood away. It won’t be of use to you!”

Jackie laughed as he slowly stood up.

“I’I refuse to. Do you think I don‘t know what you’re thinking? You’re just saying that because you’re worried that I’ll torture you the same way I tortured the two of them. I regret to inform you, however, that I’ll be retrieving your Heartblood even if it was useless to me. You’re just paying for what you’ve done.”

Chapter 3354
After that, Jackie turned and shot Alfred a look. Alfred nodded before he rolled up his sleeves and walked to the three of them in excitement.

Not bothered with doing things like this, he slowly walked to Frederick, followed by Rudy.

Jackie had just been about to say something when he was interrupted by an unhappy voice, “Did you need to do that? What was the point of putting on a show in front of us? Was it fun acting?”

The person who spoke was Conor, who was heavily injured on the ground. He was helped up by Trent and was walking over when he accused Jackie loudly.

Jackie looked at Conor incredulously.

Conor sounded terribly slighted, as though Jackie owed him a hefty amount of money. His tone even baffled Trent, who stared at Conor incredulously.

How could he dare to speak to Jackie in that tone?

Frederick frowned unhappily.

As the leader of their group, he had to speak up when the time was right. “Conor, are you dizzy? What act are you talking about? How could you say something like that? I saw you crumble on the ground with heavy injuries just now. You must’ve hit your head. You should just take some rest.”

Conor’s face was incredibly dark when he heard that.

He scoffed and said nonchalantly, “It seems like you just go wherever suits you. You didn’t have this attitude before this, but you’re now lecturing me. You seem to think you’re being very reasonable, but am I wrong?”

“Was Jackie not putting on a show from the start? If we knew that he was this strong, how could we have sent him to stand guard? We wouldn’t have suffered all of this, and I wouldn’t have been heavily injured!”

As he said that, Conor glared at Jackie viciously as if he was the one who wronged him, as though his injuries were all due to Jackie.

He looked at Jackie with anger and hatred, rendering Jackie speechless.

With how Jackie was, he would not have bothered with Conor if he remained quiet by the side. After all, Jackie’s time was valuable, and he did not want to waste any time on useless people like Conor.

Conor would be dealt with by someone else eventually, anyway.

Yet, Conor was even trying to cause him trouble at that moment, acting so proudly that those who did not know the situation would have thought that he was the one who defeated the three masked men.

Rudy was so angry he was at a loss for words.

He curled up his fists and rushed forward, pointing at Conor. “Who do you think you are? What gives you the right to know what Jackie’s level is? He never acted from the start!”

“Why don’t you just call yourself ignorant? You can’t even see further than your own nose! You’re full of problems but just love talking about others. You should just shut your mouth, or you’ll end up no better than those three.”

When Conor heard that, not only was he not scared, but he even started to laugh.

Even Jackie was confused by the way he was acting.

Did Conor think that he would let him go no matter what he said?

Frederick frowned as he grabbed Conor’s arm. “Can you not talk so much? Are you trying to kill yourself here? Do you want someone to do it for you?”

Conor pulled his arm away as he looked at Frederick in disdain. He mentally rebuked the man and thought him to be a person that would latch onto whoever was stronger.

Chapter 3355
At this moment, Conor decided to not have anything to do with Frederick anymore. He was forced to team up with them due to the circumstances, but once they were out, he refused to say another word to him.

Frederick could see the disdain in Conor’s eyes, and no matter how mild-tempered he was, he would not tolerate such behavior. He scoffed and turned around, no longer bothering with Conor.

Trent looked at Conor exasperatedly, wondering if the man had hit his head too hard. Otherwise, he would have never jeered at Jackie after seeing what he was capable of.

He should be respectful toward Jackie instead, yet Conor seemed intent on offending Jackie as much as he could. Even Trent was frowning at what Conor was saying, let alone Jackie.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he looked at Conor coldly. “You sure dare to talk. Aren’t you afraid that I’ll attack you?”

Conor scoffed as he turned away. ”I know you’re not that type of person. Even though you’re skilled, you’re a man with proper conduct. It’s not like I’m provoking you. I’m just speaking the truth.”

Even Jackie could not understand what he was thinking at that moment.

Not provoking him?

His words were actually demeaning him!

Conor looked like he wanted to shout at Jackie and berate him for not telling him the truth, yet he even tried to say that Jackie was ‘a man with proper conduct‘.

Conor wanted to tell everyone that Jackie would not be acting properly if he did anything to Conor.

Hearing that, Jackie sneered. It was the first time he got so angry that he smiled.

Trent and Len looked at Conor as their lips twitched, truly believing he was a fool, through and through.

Len took a deep breath and exasperatedly demanded, ”Do you really think that way? Are you not joking?”

Conor’s face darkened when he heard that.

He shouted, “Why would I be joking? Am I wrong? If Jackie was honest with his skills in the first place, nothing would’ve happened. With him in front of us, we’d be safe. I wouldn’t have needed to get so injured! Who else would I blame?”

That was rotten logic, of course. Trent wanted to correct him, but he did not know what to say, knowing that Conor might not truly listen to any sort of reasoning. Even Rudy could not be bothered arguing with Conor.

Jackie could not stand it as he sneered. “You really do think you’re special. Why do I need to tell you about my skills? Why do I need to protect you?”

“Because we’re a team!” yelled Conor. ”Since you agreed to join this team, you have a duty to protect everyone else!”

Jackie let out a slight laugh, not wanting to bother arguing with that idiot.

No matter what he said, Conor would just think that he was wrong. Since that was the case, Jackie would grant Conor his wish.

Jackie slowly pulled out his sword from Mustard Seed.

Conor frowned, confused by his actions.

He truly believed Jackie would be of some virtue, at least, but as he felt a burning pain in his chest, he realized that Jackie’s sword had pierced through his chest.

Chapter 3356
The blood flowed as the pain registered in Conor’s mind.

Frederick and the others froze, and their expressions were unnatural. Even though they felt like Jackie would punish Conor in some way, they did not expect Jackie to outright kill him.

Conor fell to the ground the moment Jackie pulled out the sword, and he was in so much pain that he clutched his chest, trying to stop the bleeding to no avail. After all, he was already heavily injured. Coupled with that strike, no one could save him.

The color in his cheeks slowly diminished. “You dare to kill me?!”

Jackie was exasperated as his lips twitched.

He said, “Why can’t I? Why wouldn’t I dare to? Who do you think you are? I don’t know why you’re so sure that I won’t do anything to you no matter what you do.”

Blood flowed out of Conor’s mouth. He started to cough as he reached the end of his life.

As he opened his mouth, all that they could hear was the sound of blood flowing out as no proper words could be formed.

Everyone merely watched as Conor shut his eyes and passed away.

Jackie turned to look at Rudy, saying sincerely, “In the end, he never answered. What made him so certain that I wouldn’t attack him?”

Rudy frowned, deliberating on the question before he said, “He must’ve thought that you were a righteous person. Even if you kill people, you’d only kill those that needed to be killed. He felt like he did nothing wrong and that you’re the one in the wrong. That’s why he was that fearless.”

Hearing that, Jackie felt even more helpless. “He acted without regard for anything because he believed in my character? He felt like I’d forgive him no matter what he said?”

As he said that, Jackie scoffed at how ridiculous Conor was. Jackie’s moral character was only applicable to his friends. To everyone else, he did not care in the slightest.

Conor had already provoked Jackie before yet still hoped that he would save him. Jackie felt like it was a complete joke.

He did not regret killing Conor this quickly. In fact, he thought he should have left Conor alive to slowly be tortured. Only then would Conor realize how laughable his thoughts were.

At that moment, Alfred was already done as well. The three masked men could no longer hold on as they died at the same time.

Alfred took the bottles that contained the Heartblood and happily walked over to Jackie, who then placed the bottles in Mustard Seed. Even though he did not know what they could be used for, they must be incredibly useful if such a huge price was being paid for them. He would keep them and see what happened.

Meanwhile, four men in cotton robes were walking out of a valley a distance away. Their clothes seemed to be of good quality, but they were in completely different states.

The first two looked completely disheveled. Their clothes were completely ripped, and blood flowed down their robes. They had chains on their limbs, and they had an ashen look on their faces. They looked like they were about to die.

The two behind them looked to be in a much better state. Their limbs were free from chains, their bodies uninjured, and their clothes not tattered. As they walked, they chatted.

If Jackie were there, he would be able to tell that the two in front were from third-grade worlds while the two behind were from the second- grade world, the Sacred Water Continent.

They had clouds on their robes and looked incredibly arrogant.

“I don’t know what they’re thinking. It’s not like they need the spirit crystals, but they insist on having us send these over. Can’t we just get the Heartblood? Why do we need to go through so much trouble? We’ve been through so much trouble on the way. Even if we send them into their hands, we’d just get a few words of praise. I refuse to do something so tedious in the future!”

As Edson Chavez said that, he had a frustrated look on his face, evidently displeased by his situation.

Chapter 3357
Hector Moralex let out a slight laugh as he shook his head helplessly. “Can we really do anything about this? Since we’ve agreed, we should just do a good job. Stop nitpicking and complaining. Even if we’re just praised a little, it’ll be worth it if they just remember us. In the future, they can help you with anything you want easily.”

When Edson heard that, he shrugged nonchalantly. “What could I possibly need their help with? I’m pretty sure that they’ll act like they don’t know me if anything really happens. If I ask them for help, it’ll be a miracle if they don’t curse and swear at me, let alone help me.”

Hector nodded, feeling rather dejected upon hearing this. Even if he did not want to admit it, he could not change the truth. In the eyes of those geniuses, they were just there for labor meant to work for those geniuses.

The more Edson spoke, the angrier he got. He just started to complain loudly.

“It’s not like we had a choice on whether or not to agree back then. If we didn’t agree to them, it’s obvious how bad the consequences would be…”

“I looked around at that moment. Out of a hundred people, ninety-nine of them weren’t willing, but they were forced to agree in the end…”

Hector shook his head. “Whatever, pay it no mind for now. We should focus on transporting these guys.”

After saying that, Hector looked toward the two in front of them. One of them was walking with a straight back.

Pursing his lips, Hector proceeded to take a whip from his storage ring.

With a crack, it violently smacked against the man's back.

The man let out a cry of agony as he fell forward slightly.

Hector let out a satisfied smile at that. "Christian Skye, are you still refusing to admit defeat? You'll be horribly tortured soon. Rather than acting so proud, you should think about what you're about to go through."

Christian took a deep breath as hopelessness flashed in his eyes.

Still, he refused to accept defeat this way. He had gone through numerous trials and tribulations from a young age, yet he survived with all, gritting his teeth. Christian was not afraid.

He would not bend down to those demons in front of him.

Jackieson Hue, who was next to him, gazed at him worriedly before whispering, "Why are you being stubborn with them? You'll have an easier time if you just follow what they want. It doesn't mean that you're throwing away your dignity; you're just forced to do that. If we want to run, we can't be stubborn with them. It won't do us any good!"

Jackieson did not want to resign himself to his fate. Even though he was held captive by warriors from second-grade worlds, he was persistent in trying to find escape routes.

Christian sighed as he said, trembling, "But our chances of running away are very slim. The two of us are already heavily injured, and we're no match for them. Unless a miracle happens and a strong warrior from a third- grade world saves us, we won't be able to survive."

Saying that, Christian started to pale. He knew what his situation was.

He felt helpless, but there was nothing he could do about it.

Christian clenched his teeth and said, "These despicable men… I won't ever forgive them. I wish I could return the pain I'm suffering right now a hundredfold!"

Jackieson sighed.

Would they even have a chance?

Even if they did, how would they get their revenge?

As they thought about it, a figure suddenly appeared in front of them.

The two of them were stunned as they stopped in their tracks.

Both Edson and Hector shut their mouths as well.

The four of them looked forward and saw a man in deep gray robes standing right in front of them resolutely.

Chapter 3358
Whoever this newcomer was, he did not have the marks of any second-grade world on him. It was obvious that he was from a third-grade world.

Hector and Edson looked at that person.

Someone who suddenly appeared like that was ill-intent, for sure. However, when they asked for the person‘s identity, they felt all too amused.

This man jumped straight into danger!

Was he there to give them free rewards?

Jackieson and Christian stared right at the man. He looked incredibly calm as if he was untroubled by whatever it was that took place between them.

The kind-hearted Christian felt moved upon realizing he, too, came from a third-grade world. He raised his neck as he mouthed out some words without making a sound. Christian wanted him to leave.

Jackie’s lips curled up into a smile.

Just for that alone, he would save these two.

Jackie had not appeared here by coincidence. When he had Alfred stay, it was not because he wanted their Heartblood. Since time was tight, Jackie needed some information that he did not have the time to retrieve, so he left the task to Alfred.

Alfred did not betray Jackie’s expectations.

He had managed to obtain everything Jackie wanted and even made a map for Jackie. No matter how the other side looked at him, Jackie still remained calm.

He took the map out of Mustard Seed, matching it against the terrain a few times to make sure he was not wrong, and noted he would reach his goal in just another 10 kilometers.

The four of them appearing must have meant that they were going to the same place as he was.

Hector saw Jackie calmly taking out the map, looking around as if he was determining his location.

His face darkened as he looked at Jackie with a cold gaze.

What was this guy trying to do?

Jackie was ignoring him and Edson, both from second-grade worlds, and was still looking at his map!

Hector scoffed as he narrowed his eyes. “Are you just being an idiot, or are you too prideful for your own good, brat? Do you think that the two of us won’t do anything to you if you don’t attack?”

“Just look at where you are. I’ve never seen someone voluntarily giving themselves up like you are.”

Jackie’s expression remained flat as though everything Hector said were mere nonsense.

After he determined his location, he slowly put the map back into Mustard Seed.

He slowly said, “Let me give you a kind reminder, you’re the one being very prideful here. Do you really think that you can beat any third-grade warrior you meet in the slaughter game?”

Jackie wondered why the warriors from second-grade worlds were so confident.

When they faced him, they seemed to be so sure that he was a weakling before they ever saw him do anything. It was because of that attitude that every second-grade warrior who crossed Jackie paid with their lives.

When Hector heard that, he laughed as he looked at Jackie mockingly. “Are you trying to tell us that you’re a great genius from a third- grade world that can kill us?”

He laughed uproariously. It was like Jackie had said an incredible joke.

Edson, too, felt like it was hilarious as well. They looked at Jackie like they were looking at a brainless animal.

Chapter 3359
After having his fill of laughter, Edson jeeringly remarked, “Do you think we’ll just believe what you say? If you were a genius or someone slightly strong, we’d be able to tell in an instant. We’d have been on guard, but you’re not. You’re just an idiot trying to act like you’re strong in front of us!”

Hearing that, Jackie had a curious glint in his eyes.

There was a thought in his mind.

Could these people have looked into all of the geniuses of third- grade worlds?

Could they have remembered everyone who was skilled?

Comparatively, he was sort of a dark horse that had suddenly appeared, so he was not among those geniuses. That was why no one knew him.

Hector raised four fingers. “In this slaughter game, there are only four noteworthy warriors from third-grade worlds, and we’ve memorized how all four of them look like. As long as we meet them, we’d be on guard. However, not a single one of them looks like you.”

“Stop with the act; don’t think that we’re idiots. We didn’t just take part in the slaughter game for those five million spirit crystals, and we have more important things to do.”

Jackie slowly nodded.

If he did not know those secrets, he might not have understood what they meant. However, he knew very well what they meant after he found out about the Heartblood.

The Heartblood was incredibly important to them.

They had spent a great deal of effort crafting a map of the slaughter game. After that, they put up a gathering point and sent out a lot of strong second-grade world warriors inside the slaughter game to retrieve the Heartblood.

They had to have some grand plan for it, and to prevent unnecessary events from happening, they would naturally have observed the participating warriors from third-grade worlds.

The moment they saw any strong warriors from third-grade worlds entering, they would immediately take note and notify all participating second-grade world warriors, thus preventing bigger problems from arising.

Jackie sighed as he started to look around.

He did not know why they were collecting so much Heartblood, but he had decided to find out before having them pay for it. If it was something beneficial, he would take it for himself.

After thinking about that, Jackie no longer hesitated.

He looked up at Hector and Edson, coldly saying, “I’d advise the two of you to treat this seriously, then I’d at least have a good time killing you. If you look down on me, then it’ll feel like I’ m just killing livestock. It’ll be too boring.”

The moment he said that, Edson and Hector’s expressions soured.

Hector said with a huff, “Brat! You’re really crossing the line here. Since you want to die so badly, I’ll grant you your wish!”

Christian started to try and struggle against his chains, but the chains were made with a special material.

He was heavily injured as well, so he was not capable of running, though he still tried to put up a fight.

He struggled as he shouted at Jackie, “Just hurry and leave while you can! Are you crazy?! You’ll be tortured if they capture you!”

Jackieson shook his head helplessly.

He sighed, already resigning Jackie to a fate that was worse than the two of them. If they were going to be tortured for four hours before they were killed, then Jackie would be tortured for eight.

Chapter 3360
The two warriors behind them were not easy to deal with.

They were vicious and never regarded warriors from third-grade worlds as people. They merely treated them as livestock that could be killed at any moment.

Christian was struggling immensely, causing Hector to frown as he whipped Christian again.

Christian fell to the ground as his back burned hotly.

Jackie frowned, and his calm expression finally turned serious.

Those second-grade world warriors' hands were all stained with the blood of third-grade world warriors.

Jackie was someone who would ignore anything that was not too outrageous. After all, it was his belief that the world was branded with the 'survival of the fittest' notion, and death was common news. However, he could not remain calm at the current situation.

Jackie's hands moved as he formed countless seals that materialized in the air, quickly fusing together.

A faint black glow could be seen from the middle of the fusion, and a one-meter-long blade appeared in front of everyone.

Edson and Hector exchanged an incredulous look. They felt like Jackie was crazy and refused to drop whatever facade he crafted.

They had seen through him, but he still insisted on acting like he was an amazing genius. It was both hilarious and frustrating.

Hector scoffed as he took out his weapon, rushing forward. They would be too kind to him by facing him at the same time, and Hector planned on finishing things in one blow to show Jackie the gap between him and geniuses from second-grade worlds.

Jackie sighed helplessly when he saw Hector attacking alone.

The moment Hector attacked, Jackie could tell the limits of Hector's strength and estimate who he was. Even if he was from a holy grade clan, he would only be an ordinary inner disciple.

Hector could not be anything spectacular at all.

Jackie pushed his hands forward, and his Broken Soul Blade shot forward like a cannon, swiftly clashing with the sword in Hector's hand.

Everyone heard a crack as the sword shattered the moment it clashed.

Before everyone could react, the gray Broken Soul Blade had pierced through Hector's chest. The man had not even been able to cry out in agony before he fell to the ground.

The Broken Soul Blade had not diminished in strength after piercing through Hector and continued to charge toward Edson, who was not far away.

The horrified Edson lunged upward, trying to turn around and run immediately.

Hector had not held back earlier, but his weapon had been shattered right away, and he was basically punctured before slamming onto the ground.

Edson was no match for Hector, so there was no way he could fight against Jackie.

It was madness incarnate!

Jackie had not been acting or putting on a show; he really was that strong.

They were screwed, and they could never survive this! Edson was completely terrified at that moment.

He regretted doubting Jackie. If he had, he might have been able to leave. Yet, he practically stood no chance at that moment.

As the thought surfaced in Edson's mind, he felt a chill in his chest before pain flooded in his mind.

He looked down to see the same gray blade piercing through his chest. The pain of his soul being ripped apart started to spread from his chest, and his cries of agony soon followed.

The intense pain rendered him incapable of thought as he collapsed on the ground, and he then began to spasm, as did every other warrior who had been hit by the Broken Soul Blade-unable to control himself at all.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3361 - 3370 -

Chapter 3361
Jackie sighed helplessly. If it had been the two of them together, the battle might have been a bit more interesting. Yet, those two had been too confident.

They had dared to charge at him alone, so killing them was as simple as chopping up vegetables. It had not been interesting in the slightest.

Both Jackieson and Christian were stunned. They froze as their eyes widened.

Their lips constantly twitched as they looked at the two who were rolling on the ground. They did not know how to react at that moment.

Everything that had happened was just too much of a shock for them.

The chains on their arms were cut from the middle, and their arms were suddenly free. Turning around, they noticed that the chains had all been cut by Jackie, which was when they slowly started to react.

Christian's eyes were completely wide as he stared right at Jackie, unable to say anything.

Jackieson was the first to react.

He rushed to Jackie and greeted him, "Thank you, hero! Could I know your name?"

It was Jackie's first time being called a hero.

He could not stop himself from letting out a laugh before he shook his head and said, "I'm not a hero. I just couldn't stand the sight of these people."

When Jackieson saw that Christian was not doing anything, he hurriedly tugged at Christian's sleeve so he would thank Jackie with him.

Only then did Christian snap back to reality. Jackie shook his head, telling them they did not need to be that courteous. It was no big deal to Jackie. Even without the other two, Jackie would have killed Edson and Hector anyway.

He waved to those who were hiding by the side, and all of them appeared.

This time, it was not just Alfred and Rudy who came over. Even Frederick's group did as well. Christian and Jackieson were stunned when they saw so many people appearing at the same time.

Jackie gave a few brief introductions before having the two of them immediately rest to recover.

They nodded.

Jackie frowned as he looked into their injuries. After looking at them, he shook his head helplessly.

He had planned on bringing them with him, but their injuries were far too severe. Bringing them along would increase the risk too drastically, so he decided to find a safe spot for them to wait for the end of the slaughter game.

The two of them have complete trust in Jackie. No matter what Jackie said, they would follow. They found a relatively secluded spot to rest momentarily.

Jackie took out the map from Mustard Seed and showed it to everyone.

He pointed at a marked place and said, “The goal is to get to this place. It’s about ten kilometers away. It is called a small gathering point by those people. Part of them would bring heavily injured third-grade warriors over to be exchanged there…”

“After that, the ones who took the warriors would bring the injured third -grade world warriors to the endpoint. This is where we need to strike. We can save the warriors and kill the others as well. ”

After witnessing Jackie’s true skills, none of them dared to go against Jackie’s ideas.

No matter what Jackie did, they would follow him obediently. That was the advantage of the strong.

Jackie had already killed a total of seven warriors.

Chapter 3362
In order to earn more spirit crystals and end up in the top rankings, he needed to kill even more warriors from second-grade worlds.

He would end the lives of those arrogant people. That was Jackie’s final goal.

Len sighed as he summoned up the courage to say, “I’m not being cowardly, but I just feel like this is too dangerous. I know that Jackie’s talents are exceptional, but there’s always strength in numbers. If our goal is the final point, there’ll definitely be a lot of strong warriors there. It will be hard for you to avoid danger once you’re there.”

Jackie nodded, not disagreeing.

Len was right, but Jackie had already thought about that.

He looked up and told everyone, “That’s why we’ll need to work together to prevent me from getting too outnumbered. I know you’ll say that it’ll be difficult to gather the warriors from third-grade worlds. In the first place, finding them won’t be easy, but I don’t think it’s too big of a problem, since we still have enough time.”

The moment he said that everyone looked at each other.

Rudy was the closest to Jackie, so he would naturally not hold back on asking questions unlike the rest.

He turned to look at Jackie and said, “There’s still enough time? Why do you say that? The slaughter game will end when there are only a hundred left. I feel like quite a lot have probably died. It should be ending not too long later.”

The slaughter game had a total of two hundred and twenty participants, and only a hundred of them would be able to survive.

They had seen so many corpses, coupled with the ones that Jackie had killed, there should have been at least three to four dozen dead. Moreover, adding up the corpses that they did not see, Rudy felt like there should be at least sixty or seventy that were already dead.

Only another fifty or sixty needed to die for the slaughter game to end.

It probably would not take that much time, but Jackie seemed to think that they would still be in the slaughter game for quite a while.

Jackie let out a laugh as he looked into the distance.

His tone was soft but exceptionally firm, “We’ll still be here for at least a week.”

Everyone was stunned at those words as they looked at Jackie with confused expressions.

At that moment, no one voiced any questions and merely waited for Jackie to answer.

Jackie’s skills were amazing which caused Jackie’s words to sound more convincing.

He sighed and said, “Those two did not kill Christian and Jackieson right away, and instead took them to be exchanged. After that, they would be taken to somewhere further away…”

“Normally, they would not need to go through so much trouble at all. Even if they wanted the Heartblood, there’s no need to transport them so far away and let them live till the final destination. They have to have a reason for that…”

“Of the corpses we’ve seen and the ones that have died at my hands, there are about thirty to forty people. Normally, your guess would be right. There should be a lot more corpses that we didn’t see. However, due to the current situation, I disagree with your thinking…”

“There are probably a lot of warriors from the third-grade worlds that have been injured and are being sent to the final destination where we can’t see them. They would die immediately and will be slowly tortured.”

Chapter 3363
When Rudy heard that, he shivered.

He absolutely hated the warriors from second-grade worlds. They could no longer be called human, but demons that crawled out of hell.

However, Rudy still asked, “Why do they need to go through so much trouble? What’s the advantage of delaying things for so long? If they want the Heartblood, wouldn’t it be simpler for them to get it right after they deal with the warriors? There’s no need to waste so much time and effort.”

Jackie took a deep breath and said with some uncertainty, “I think that they’re purely doing it to delay things. Only by delaying the time long enough will they be able to kill all of the warriors from third-grade worlds and obtain even more Heartblood…”

“Just think about it. Those warriors from the second-grade worlds gathered so much information to be able to pull this off. They even put in so much effort to create the maps and offered so much spirit crystals as rewards.”

“Everything points to the fact that they have some grand plan. Since they had spent so much effort and so many spirit crystals, they would naturally need to make things thorough…”

“They won’t allow any warriors from third-grade worlds to step out of space. I feel like those madmen might even start attacking the warriors from second-grade worlds in the end.”

Len’s lips twitched as he rubbed his head, unable to stop himself from saying, “If your guess is right, then it’s just crazy. I don’t even want to think about what’s going to happen next. ”

Frederick sighed, “They’re all madmen in the first place. To accomplish their goals, they’ll stop at nothing. They kill people like livestock, so we can’t think of them as regular people. I even feel like nothing they do will be normal.”

As he said that, Frederick was full of hatred.

Everything they did showed that they did regard warriors from third-grade worlds as humans.

They merely saw them as sacrifices to extract every bit of value from. Frederick absolutely hated them just thinking about it.

Jackie looked up slightly and said, “All of the warriors from the third-grade worlds who entered this space have been remembered by the warriors from the second-grade worlds. They’ll count the numbers, and they won’t let anyone off.”

Jackie’s guess caused distress to everyone there. Even though it sounded absurd, the fact that he was saying it made it even more believable.

It might very well be the truth.

If all of that were true, then what awaits for them would be several times more dangerous than they thought. Even if they hid, the madmen from the second-grade worlds would just slowly stall for time until every single one of them was found.

They would not have anywhere to hide, and only cruel torture awaited them.

Jackie sighed helplessly, “That’s why my plans aren’t for the sake of revenge, but because we have to do this. Even those four who are incredibly strong will end up being killed after being pursued by large numbers of warriors. Even they wouldn’t be able to escape, so we’re doing this for self-preservation.”

Jackie’s words served as an alarm in their heads. Even if they were scared, they had to put all of that aside.

It was because they were already forced into a corner. There was no point in continuing to hide. They would be found in the end.

Jackieson asked shakily, “Are you sure they won’t let anyone off? If they just can’t find someone, will they continue to stall for time until the last person is found?”

Chapter 3364
He had naturally said that because he still had some hope in his heart. After all, Jackieson’s skills were not great.

In the group, he was only stronger than Alfred and Rudy. Facing warriors from second-grade worlds, he was just cannon fodder. He was also heavily injured at that moment, so there was no way he would be useful at all.

Jackieson felt like the only thing he could do was to find a safe place to hide and wait for the end result.

Jackie looked at Jackieson helplessly, saying in a cold voice, “There’s no way anyone will be let go. Just think about it. The warriors from the second-grade world are using cruel methods that can’t be tolerated. If the news gets out, what will the warriors from third-grade worlds do?”

“They’ll definitely team up to go against all the warriors from second-grade worlds. Then, things won’t be good for them in the future…”

“To stop something like that from happening, there’s no way they can spare anyone. The slaughter game has a high death rate in the end. The warriors from third-grade worlds have a sixty to seventy percent chance of dying…”

”If it got any worse, it’d be seventy or eighty percent. As long as no one mentions anything, the warriors from the third-grade worlds won’t find out about this secret for the moment. Even if they did notice, it would require the other worlds to realize something was wrong too.”

Jackie’s explanation caused everyone to understand.

Rudy frowned and said, “So they’ll stall for time as long as possible, and not let anyone who finds out about this survive. It’s pointless to hide. They’ll do everything they can to find those who are hiding.”

Jackie nodded.

After that, he said the horrifying truth again, ”They’re incredibly prepared. Before the slaughter game, they must have already thought about all the potential problems…”

“They would have thought about people hiding from them as well. They won’t let anyone go, so they must’ve figured out a plan against that too. They might have brought in something special to find the hidden warriors.”

Jackieson’s expression stiffened as he started to pale.

He looked down with a pained expression, “Why are they doing this?! Why do they need to be so cruel?! Do they see everyone else as animals?”

Christian frowned and said, ”Are you trying to reason with the warriors from second-grade worlds? If they had any humanity, they wouldn’t have done all this. The fact that they’re doing this means they don’t see us as human at all.”

“They’re killing us like livestock. They won’t feel guilty about it at all. Why are you being so naive right now, asking why they’re being so cruel? Do you even need to ask?”

Jackieson gulped, going completely silent.

Christian clenched his fists tightly, ”Those people will pay! Even if I die, I’ll drag them down with me. These animals need to die!”

Jackie looked at Christian and patted Christian on the shoulder, “You probably won’t die. As long as all of us work together, we won’t die here. What we need to do right now is fight back! We need to find all of the warriors from third grade worlds that are still alive to launch a counterattack. If things go on, our only end is death!”

Christian nodded vigorously, “You’re right! If we don’t fight back, the end will just be even worse!”

Len looked at Jackie before he looked at the emotional Christian, “How are we going to find the other warriors? We were only able to form our group out of coincidence as we happened to meet on the road…”

“Are we going to scatter all over and try to find warriors from third grade worlds to convince them to join us?”

Chapter 3365
Jackie shook his head, saying seriously, “That would be too dangerous and inefficient. The more time we delay, the more dangerous it will get. We need a better way.”

Rudy got excited at that, ”What way?”

Jackie glanced at Rudy, not answering his question.

At the valley ten kilometers away was a meeting point for the second-grade world’s warriors. At that meeting point were two warriors with bamboo hats.

They looked incredibly lazy as they chatted. They were disciples from the same clan. The older one on the left was called Manuel Herro, while the one on the right was Marc Loon.

Manuel shook his head and said, “I don’t know what those big shots are thinking. Is there a need to make such a big fuss? We’ve basically been laboring so much because of that…”

“I wasn’t even planning on taking part in the slaughter game. A test like this isn’t worth it for me, but I was still forced to come here.”

Marc sighed helplessly, ”Why do we always end up in difficult things together? You were forced in, but so was I. That person said that I would have to give a lot of Heartblood if I didn‘t join this.”

“However, if I joined, I won’t need to offer a lot of Heartblood, and I would get rewards as well. He made me choose, but isn’t he just threatening me? Did I really have a choice? I just had to lower my head and say yes.”

Manuel sighed before his eyes lit up and he said, “Do you know why they need so much Heartblood for? Is it to activate some treasure or make some weapon? Maybe it’s to lure out something amazing.”

Marc smiled in exasperation, “Manuel, if you don’t know, then how would I? All we can do is listen to them. At least the ones who are dying aren’t warriors from second-grade worlds. ”

Manuel nodded with a smile, ”You’re right. We’re not the ones dying anyway. The warriors from the third-grade worlds should just die. It’s better if all of them die…”

“They still don’t know what they’ll be facing in the future. I don’t know what the point of the Heartblood is, but there‘s something I did find out. Those people already decided that they would not let any warriors from third-grade worlds leave this place to prevent any third-grade worlds from seeking revenge after finding out. Even though we wouldn’t be scared of that, it’s still unnecessary trouble.”

Marc raised an eyebrow, “Are they even worthy of revenge? They’re just trash. We don’t have to bother with them at all. There’s an uncrossable gap between second and third-grade worlds. The difference in strength is immense. They would pay a drastic price if they wanted revenge. I don’t think they would dare to do it.”

Saying that, both of them got a bit excited.

In their eyes, warriors from third-grade worlds were completely beneath their notice.

The third-grade worlds were not worthy of standing on the same field as them at all. They were enjoying criticizing the third- grade world. They insulted the third-grade world constantly.

After talking for a long time, Manuel interrupted Marc.

“Let’s stop talking about that first. We can’t forget our job. We’ll be punished if there are any mistakes. It’s already four hours, where’s Hector? Could something have happened along the way?”

Marc smiled and said, “How could anything have happened? Hector is still an inner disciple of a holy grade clan. Among the warriors from the third-grade worlds, only the strongest of them would be able to stand up to Hector… I think you’re being too worried.”

Manuel nodded slowly, “You’re right, but for some reason, I have an uneasy feeling in my heart. Could I just be overthinking things?”

Chapter 3366
Marc let out a laugh before he nodded and said, “You’re just overthinking things. This is just a simple exchange job. What sort of accident could happen? The two of them must be late because they’re slacking off.”

Hearing Marc’s words, Manuel felt a bit exasperated.

He turned to look at Marc seriously, “I feel like you’re being so optimistic. Even though the warriors from the second-grade worlds this time are stronger than usual, there might still be some accidents that can happen. The third-grade worlds still have some strong warriors on their side.”

When Marc heard that he shook his head in an uncaring manner, “What sort of surprises could there be? You’re right, there are some strong warriors from the third-grade worlds, but we already know about all of them. We can just avoid them if we see them. Those two shouldn’t be that stupid…”

“As for the rest, you don’t have to be concerned. The two of them are still from a holy grade clan. They aren’t even regular outer disciples, but inner disciples. Normal warriors from a third-grade world wouldn’t be a match for them at all. There shouldn’t be any surprises.”

Manuel nodded, feeling like Marc made sense. However, he still could not stop himself from worrying.

He kept on feeling like something unexpected might happen, but he could not say why. The strange feeling kept on persisting. Then, they suddenly saw a figure slowly walking toward them.

The person’s clothes were familiar.

They had gray robes with blue clouds on them. It looked like a warrior from the second-grade world, the Sacred Water Continent.

Looking at that figure, Marc pointed over with a smile, “Speak of the devil, isn’t that Hector? That’s strange… Why is he alone? Where is Edson?”

“Where are the people they’re supposed to be sending? Didn’t the sound array say that they managed to capture two warriors? Why is he alone? Did something really happen?”

As they said that, both of them froze as they started to go on alert.

It was still far away, and Marc shouted at the person, “Hector, what’s your situation?! Why are you alone? Where did Edson and the ones you captured go?”

The person did not answer Marc and merely continued to slowly walk toward them. That was when both of them started to feel like something was amiss.

Manuel frowned as he stared at the person.

After observing the person, he whispered, “There’s something wrong with this person. He’s not Hector. Just look at how he’s lowering his head and not letting us see his face!”

The moment he said that, the person in front of them looked up.

They saw that it was not Hector. It was a man wearing Hector’s robes. The man looked a few years younger than Hector.

His gaze was firm and his footsteps were steady. Even when he was being observed, his expression did not change. It was like nothing that was happening around him mattered to him at all.

Marc turned to look at Manuel. Both of them felt something off.

Marc narrowed his eyes and said coldly, “Who are you? Why are you wearing Hector’s clothes?”

The person who was wearing Hector’s clothes was Jackie.

He had put on a disguise to get closer. He thought that he would have been noticed immediately, but those two had let down their guards too much.

When he walked over, they had not tried to check him with their senses at all. Instead, he was allowed to get closer to them.

It was only when he was thirty meters away did they notice something wrong.

Chapter 3367
Manuel frowned as he coldly looked at Jackie, “Speak when you’re spoken to! Who are you?!”

Jackie smiled, not continuing to go forward as he straightened his body, letting the other two observe him.

Manuel’s lips twitched, “Did I jinx it? I was right, something did happen to the two of them!”

The moment he said that, Marc produced a patrol charm from his spatial ring.

His hands started to form seals that went into the patrol charm. The charm glowed yellow before it started to crumble, fusing into the surrounding space. A strong sensory wave exploded outward incredibly quickly.

Jackie could clearly feel that wave observing his body before it started to stretch further back.

After taking a breath, the wave stopped. With Marc at the center, he had managed to observe a kilometer-wide radius.

Marc said in surprise, “There’s no one! Other than this brat, there’s no one hiding around us!”

The patrol charm was a high-grade array that would scout everything within a kilometer when it was activated. Every living being would be sensed. After using it, Marc was shocked to notice that there was only one person there. No ambushes were lying in wait.

He was so shocked that he did not know what to say.

Manuel turned around after Marc said that. He had a look of surprise in his eyes as well. Both of them felt like it was unbelievable.

They thought that Jackie was just a scout and that there should have been quite a few people lying in wait around them, trying to surround them. Expectedly, that person was acting alone.

What was he trying to do?

Was he trying to face both of them?

Was he that confident in himself?

Marc scoffed and said to Jackie, ”Brat, did you come alone?!”

Jackie nodded calmly, admitting it without any hesitation.

Marc was speechless when Jackie nodded.

That guy really was honest. Jackie had actually answered him just like that.

Jackie’s expression was incredibly calm as well as if he was not afraid that they knew.

Marc had a look of disdain on his face, “Where did you get those clothes? What are you here for? Don’t tell me you’re here to kill us?!”

Jackie laughed as he answered the man slowly, “These clothes are Hector’s. You’re right, I did come here to kill you, but I don’t plan on killing you immediately. I need some information from the two of you. I’ll only kill you after I learn what I need to.”

Both Marc and Manuel were stunned when they heard what Jackie had to say, as well as Jackie’s calm expression when he said all of that.

They were confused and shocked, finding something incredibly odd about what was happening.

Marc said, “I don’t know this kid. I’ve never seen him from the images they sent. Did I forget, or is this guy just crazy?”

Chapter 3368
Manuel turned to look at Marc.

He took a deep breath before he shook his head, “You’re not mistaken. I’ve never seen this kid either. However, we can’t underestimate him. Everything about him is strange. We shouldn’t fall for his tricks.”

Marc frowned as he said in an incredulous tone, “What kind of tricks can he have? This kid might seem a little strange, and his words might be hilarious, but there’s no way he can face the two of us alone. No matter what, we’re still from a holy grade clan, and we’re above average among the inner disciples.”

“Unless it’s one of those four, we don’t have to worry at all. I feel like Hector and Edson must have stumbled upon something problematic on the way, and Hector must have died for this kid. He should be a little skilled, but that victory went to his head. He must think he can beat the two of us alone, and came here for the rewards…”

After he said that, Marc started to laugh at Jackie mockingly.

He felt like Jackie was just an idiot who had let one win go to his head, thinking that no one could beat him.

Manuel did not agree with Marc’s thoughts.

He turned to look at Marc seriously as he said quickly, “Don’t be too optimistic. Be careful. Even though what you said sounds reasonable, it doesn’t mean it’s the truth. What if this kid is so skilled that both of us can’t defeat him?”

Marc frowned as he looked at Manuel unhappily, “Manuel, you’re being too careful lately. What I’m saying is the answer, there’s no way it’s anything else. If he’s really that strong, why didn’t we get any of his images? Today, the leaders have made so much preparations.”

“How could they have missed out on anything? All of the exceptional geniuses have been noted down by them. They’ve already looked into all of the participants from the third-grade worlds carefully. After figuring things out, they managed to determine the four most dangerous ones as well as two stronger ones. This kid isn’t among them!”

Manuel gulped as he said anxiously, “That’s not a guarantee! We should still be careful. Let’s attack together later. You have to use your full force! We need to kill him in one blow!”

Even though Marc felt like Manuel was being an overly cautious coward, he still nodded in the end, indicating that he would put his all to prevent anything unexpected.

Jackie calmly stood in front of them, not showing any emotion as he listened to their discussions.

Marc looked at Jackie for a while, and could not help but ask, “Brat, looks like you’re very confident. Do you think you can kill both of us?”

Jackie laughed as he said calmly, “Killing both of you is just too easy. I just listened to the two of you talk because I wanted to see how you would decide to attack. You’d better attack me together. That would be a bit more interesting for me.”

Both of them were stunned when they heard Jackie’s words. He was really crossing the line.

They exchanged a look of anger and no longer waited. The two of them rushed at Jackie at the same time.

When Jackie saw their attack, he finally moved. His hands constantly moved as he formed seal after seal, condensing into a blade in the air.

His expression did not change as he pushed his hand forward. The Broken Soul blade shot right at the two of them. With a boom, their techniques clashed in the air.

Right after that, two cries of agony could be heard.

Chapter 3369
Manuel and Marc clutched their chests at the same time as their expressions twisted in pain. Both of them collapsed on the ground at the same time, and the swords in their hands shattered from Jackie’s broken Soul Blade.

The two of them constantly writhed on the ground like a worm that had been cut into two.

Jackie smiled, not hesitating to walk toward both of them.

At a cave ten kilometers away, Rudy and the others were sitting down cross-legged. A few of them had serious expressions on their faces, especially Jackieson. He had a hint of hopelessness on his face as well.

Jackie had left alone to deal with the two who were at the meeting point while the rest of them were made to stay in the cave.

Frederick and Len were not there but had gone to contact others. The ones who remained had sunken looks on their faces. As time passed, all of them started to feel like Jackie’s guess was the actual truth. However, the more certain they were of it, the more fear they felt.

They were in a battle to death with only one side who could win and have the right to leave this space.

Jackieson regretted participating in the slaughter game. He had thought that he would not die if he was just a bit careful.

After he entered, he found that the situation was incredibly different.

If Jackie had not saved him earlier, there was no way he would still be alive.

The more he thought about it, the more his body trembled in fear.

Christian was not much better either. At that moment, he was constantly thinking about what Jackie had said the other day.

As the few of them were deep in their thoughts, Christian suddenly voiced a question, “Why are they just leaving the corpses there for all to see? After they have killed and gotten the Heartblood, they could have just dealt with the bodies…”

“Even if they just burned the bodies away, it would be better than just putting those bodies on display. At the very least, we wouldn’t have overthought things, and we would not have been able to figure things out…”

“Wouldn’t it be easier for them if we did not know anything? Jackie would not have been able to guess their goal.”

When that was said, everyone looked up at the same time.

Christian was right, but the others could not figure it out.

Rudy said with a frown, “They have to have a reason that they’re doing this! There’s no way they would make such a rudimentary mistake with such an intricate plan. We just can’t figure out why.”

Trent said, “I feel like anything they do would be beyond my comprehension. They’re not even humans in my mind anymore. They’re just a bunch of deviants. I wouldn’t be surprised no matter what they did.”

Rudy was a bit exasperated when he heard that, “Even if they are, we should still try to figure out what they’re thinking. Knowing your enemy is the first step to victory. Only by figuring things out will we be able to figure out a plan. I don’t thinkI can, though. Why don’t all of you discuss it together.”

The others exchanged looks of helplessness.

Chapter 3370
Jackieson said, “I just can’t understand anything they do anyway. I can’t figure out why they would do this and let us figure out their goals. Would they have anything to gain from that? I feel like there are only negatives…”

“We’ll end up fighting back, and the more cowardly ones will end up hiding, causing them even more trouble. Dragging things might not be good for them.”

Christian nodded emphatically, feeling like Jackieson was right.

After Trent thought for a long time, he suddenly said, “Don’t use our logic on them. Since they’ve done it, it must benefit them in some way. When we notice something wrong with the situation, we won’t just fight back. We will also start to feel fear. We’ll constantly be tortured by fear.”

”Fear and pain are things that can speed up blood essence flowing into the heart. That’s also why they’re torturing us. Pain will cause blood essence to flow into our hearts and form Heartblood.”

When he said that, everyone widened their eyes.

Rudy nodded and shot Trent a thumbs up.

“You’re still the most reliable one. Why didn’t I think about that? That has to be the reason. All these people are putting in so much effort to gather even more Heartblood. Even though we still don ‘t know what it’s used for, there has to be a reason they’re putting in so much effort for it!”

Jackieson’s expression froze as he started to tense up.

He said in a rough tone, “Those despicable animals are even worse than I thought. In order to torture us, they’re tryng everything they can. We shouldn’t fall for it…”

“We really are living in fear at the moment. We’re afraid of the future and afraid of the uncertainty of death. It causes us to feel even more tortured. I can even feel my blood essence flowing into my heart, fulfilling their wishes!”

As he said that, pain could be seen in Jackieson’s eyes.

Jackieson hated the warriors from the second-grade worlds incredibly deeply. He wanted nothing more than to rip them apart, but his abilities were limited, so he was forced to suffer in this endless pain.

Christian sighed as he looked into the distance, “This has always been a world where the strong dominated. I thought that I was already used to cruelty, but it looks like I was too naive. I never expected this world to be so much crueler than I had thought.”

No one could hold back from sighing. No matter what they did, there was no way they could change the situation in front of them.

They were forced to hope that someone as strong as Jackie would be able to turn the tables. At the very least, they wanted to leave this place alive.

Trench said helplessly, “I wonder how Jackie is doing. Could he have stumbled on anything inconvenient?”

In truth, Trent wanted to ask if Jackie would be in danger, but he changed what he said. After all, someone as strong as Jackie would not be in any danger unless Jackie wanted to.

He was worried that something unexpected would happen to Jackie because Jackie was the hope in his heart. If anything happened to Jackie, then they would lose their last flicker of hope.

Trent despaired just thinking about it.

Right at that moment, they heard footsteps coming from outside, and everyone was on full alert.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3371 - 3380 -

Chapter 3371
Len was the first to stand up.

He took out his weapon from his storage space and stared out in alarm. When he saw that Jackie was the one there, he let out a sigh of relief.

Jackie was dragging Manuel and Marc into the cave, with both of them completely tied up. He tossed the both of them inside, and they let out cries of agony as they started to roll on the ground.

When all of them saw that sight, they were completely relieved.

Jackie had perfectly accomplished his task, getting the two of them back here without being injured at all. Even though they expected the result, they were still a little worried before they saw it for themselves.

Jackie looked over at them and merely nodded before he walked over to Marc and Manuel.

He kicked Manuel, causing Manuel to grunt before he rolled on the floor.

Jackie controlled the power of the Broken Soul Blade and had not destroyed Manuel's soul too much. At that moment, both of them were still conscious.

Manuel was trembling in pain, but he clenched his teeth and bore with it, not crying out in agony.

When he was tossed into the cave, he looked around and seemed to have figured something out when he saw so many warriors from third-grade worlds gathered there. He looked down, gesturing like he was not willing to talk.

Marc was not as resolved as Manuel was.

He was crying out in pain, pleading to Jackie, "Please let me go! Once I get out, I won't say anything! As long as you let me go, I'll give you anything you want!"

Seeing his fellow disciple being so soft, Manuel scoffed as he said in a low voice, "Even if you get on your knees and beg, he won't let you go. Where do you think this is? If he kills you, he'll get five million as reward and add another body to his name. Just think about it. If you were him, would you let yourself go?"

Marc shut his eyes despondently, not willing to believe it. However, his reason told him that Manuel was right.

If he was in Jackie's position, there was no way he would let him off.

Marc bit his lips and he shut his mouth hopelessly. He silently bore with the pain.

Jackie laughed as he coldly looked at Manuel. He slowly knelt and looked into Manuel's resolute eyes.

"You're more stubborn than I thought. I definitely won't let you go, but there's something both of you need to understand. I can kill you quickly or I can slowly torture you until you die. It's your choice to make."

The moment he said that, Marc started to shake in fear as he looked at Jackie with an open mouth.

He could not find the words at that moment, even forgetting to ask for mercy. All he could feel was hopelessness and despair.

Manuel looked at Jackie coldly, refusing to say anything.

Jackie did not plan on listening to them and merely said, "Both of you, listen up, tell me everything you know, and I'll end you quickly. If you lie or refuse to talk, then what awaits you is endless torture… I have all the time in the world. I can slowly play around with your two."

Marc gulped as he tried to shrink back, yet he had been tied up very well. He was not able to move much at all.

At that moment, the cave was incredibly silent. No one spoke.

Rudy and the others quietly stood behind Jackie, and Marc and Manuel were both in a complicated mood.

Chapter 3372
After a long moment, Marc said as he trembled, "I don't know a lot. What do you want to know…"

Before he could finish, Manuel stopped him, "Are you really that spineless? They haven't even started torturing us, and you're already in such a hurry to help them. Don't let me look down on you!"

Hearing that, Marc was anxious as well.

He mumbled, "What's there to be stubborn about? It's not like I'm betraying our clan, I just don't want to sell my soul for them. I was threatened to come into this place in the first place!"

"Why do I need to help them guard their secrets?! In the end, I'll die anyway, so why don't I die a quicker death? At least I won't be tortured. It's not like doing this will…"

Hearing that, Manuel scoffed, "You really are spineless. Even if it's not for their sake, you have to remember that you're a warrior from a second-grade world. You're not on these people's side. For the sake of your dignity, you shouldn't toy around like that. You're just saying whatever they want you to do, what a coward!"

Marc's face reddened in anger, unable to say anything.

Rudy frowned as he snorted before he said, “Will things end well just because you Show some backbone? At least being spineless will grant him a quick death. If you clench your teeth and bear with it, you’ll just be tortured for even longer.”

“Once we capture even more people, we’ll manage to figure things out eventually anyway. You being stubborn just feels like a joke to me. It’s one thing if you want to be a joke, but you‘re even forcing someone else to follow you. What kind of hero do you think you are?”

Manuel clenched his teeth and said, “We’re just prisoners that you can do anything you want with right now anyway. You’d seem to be in the right no matter what you say, but don’t be so pleased with yourselves. You wanted the truth, right?!”

“Then let me tell you! None of you will be able to leave this place alive. Once I die, you’ll be following me! Remember! It’s all of you!”

After saying that, Manuel started to laugh out loud in a cruel manner.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he started to show some interest.

Manuel’s words had the opposite effect of what he wanted. He had wanted to threaten Jackie and the rest of them, but the moment he revealed the truth, it had proven Jackie’s thoughts were right instead.

Jackie narrowed his eyes and looked at Manuel coldly.

He said slowly, ”Actually, I already knew about that even if you didn’t say it. Didn’t you already plan to not let a single warrior from third-grade worlds walk out of this place?”

“If we die, it would save you a lot of trouble. The warriors from second-grade worlds who entered this time were all meticulously chosen by certain people. All of them are skilled and intelligent. In order to get even more Heartblood, you’ll stoop to any method…”

“I know that they’re controlling the number of deaths. By doing so, they would have unlimited time to use. After all, only after a hundred and twenty people die will the slaughter game end. You’ll use this time to the fullest, finding every single hiding warrior and making sure you torture every single one of them to obtain even more Heartblood!”

As Jackie said that, Manuel’s expression gradually darkened. That was because everything Jackie said was completely true.

When Jackie saw that Manuel’s face was darkening, he felt like everything he had speculated was completely true.

Chapter 3373
He really did hit it right on the mark. Those crazy people were far too cruel.

Jackie took a deep breath as a resolved look showed in his eyes. All of his decisions were right. There were no problems at all. It looked like he would be fighting a long battle with those people after this.

If they wanted to survive in this place, they would have to make those people pay. That way, they would be able to reduce the losses and end the slaughter game faster.

The others could see that as well.

Jackieson's face was as white as a sheet of paper. He started to get emotional again as his hands trembled. He even started to lose his footing a bit as he took a deep breath. Barely managing to stop himself from falling to the ground.

The others had sour looks on their faces as well.

Since Jackie's thoughts had been verified, it meant that they had a bitter battle ahead of them. A lot would die from the battle, but dying was still better than being tortured to death. At least they would not go through so much pain before they died.

Jackie sighed as he slowly stood up. He had a dark look on his face as well.

No matter how strong Jackie was, he could not stand up against absolute numbers. That was the truth. He needed others to help him to end the game.

Jackie took a few deep breaths as he composed himself, lowering his head as he asked again, "Just tell us everything you know. I actually already know a lot…"

"If you don't tell me more, I won't have the patience to play around with you anymore. I'll just start letting you suffer to pay for those dead souls!"

Marc was so scared that he almost stopped breathing.

He hurriedly said, "I'll talk! I'll tell you everything, but I don't know that much. I don't know if you already know what I do…"

Marc no longer cared about anything else at that moment. Just like he had said earlier, he did not want to suffer for those people. Even if he kept his mouth shut, he had nothing to gain for it.

What awaited him was incredibly cruel and torturous. He could not even stand thinking about it.

At that moment, Manuel was in no state to stop him. He was deep in shock, and various thoughts were swimming in his head.

Manuel was in a panic at that moment.

Marc said anxiously, "I actually don't know a lot! I just know a little. The strongest geniuses of Sacred Water Continent and Golden Continent are all working together. They threatened us and made us listen to them, helping them obtain Heartblood."

"We might be inner disciples of holy grade clans, but we're still not on their level in the end. If we didn't follow what they wanted, we would just be targeted by them. That's why we ended up coming into this place to help them do all these unbelievably cruel things…"

Jackie could not help but sneer when he heard all of that.

Marc was quite smart to try and clear his own name, but Jackie was not someone who would believe in someone's innocence from a few words.

Marc only regretted what he did because of his current situation. He was surrounded by warriors from third-grade worlds that would torture him at any moment.

Jackie shook his head and said, "Continue!"

Marc gulped, continuing, "Our task was to receive those people… Those…"

Chapter 3374
Before he could finish, someone could be heard from outside, "We found someone!"

Jackie raised an eyebrow, stopping Marc from continuing as he stood up to head out of the cave.

He saw an excited Frederick leading a group of people over.

When the group entered the cave, the spacious cave suddenly felt a bit small. Frederick excitedly introduced everyone to Jackie.

The one in front was the strongest disciple from Frederick's clan. He was one of the four strongest third-grade world warriors that entered the slaughter game.

His name was Agelt Wryn. Just from his attire alone, it was easy to tell that he was no ordinary person.

Jackie nodded at that person.

Before they got there, Frederick had already talked about Jackie and described Jackie's skills as well. Even though Agelt felt like Frederick was exaggerating things, he trusted that Frederick would not exaggerate by that much. Hence, he knew that Jackie was definitely no ordinary warrior.

When it came to the strong, they all had very similar attitudes.

Agelt ignored all of those people behind Jackie, and merely nodded at Jackie to show respect.

Jackie nodded at him as well. Agelt motioned with his hand for them to sit down to talk.

In order to ally himself with even more warriors from third-grade worlds, Jackie had thought of a plan.

He wanted all of them to use sound arrays to broadcast Jackie's hypothesis, doing as much as they can to contact even more warriors. Then, they would find a place for them to gather.

Frederick was lucky enough to meet one of his fellow disciples that could contact Agelt.

After everyone sat down, Agelt anxiously said, “Are you sure they’ll try to kill all of us?”

Jackie nodded seriously as he looked at Agelt meaningfully.

Sure enough, it was just as he thought. Those stronger warriors thought about escaping before fighting back when they heard about this.

Agelt had asked that question simply because he wanted to know if he would be able to survive if he did not participate.

When Jackie nodded, Agelt’s face paled a little. However, those who were strong were naturally more confident.

He took a deep breath and said helplessly, “So we’ll have to face them to death! Either they die, or we do!”

Jackie nodded again.

A warrior from Chaos Continent behind Agelt frowned and said, ”These dogs are really crossing the line here. Just because we weren’t fighting back, they act however they please. They’re even trying to kill all of us off. I’ve already made my decision. Even if I die, I‘ll drag a few of them with me! I won’t let them have all their fun!”

The moment he said that, quite a few people agreed with him. All of them raised their hands, indicating that they would make their enemies pay even if they had to die.

When Jackie saw how invested they were, he suddenly felt more confident.

It seemed like they were still quite intelligent. They knew that it would be an intense battle and that a lot would die. They could very well die themselves which was why they said they would drag a few down even if they had to.

Agelt turned to look at them with a slightly cold expression before he looked back at Jackie, “Do you have any good plans?”

Jackie looked up and said seriously, “The plan is simple, we break them down one by one, and then we fight them to the death. Even if these warriors from second-grade worlds are all strong, there are not many who are well and truly skilled…”

“I’m more worried about fighting an all-out battle. Their numbers far exceed ours, we’d end up being on the defensive side. So we have to focus on eliminating them one by one after this. That would take some pressure off of me.”

Chapter 3375
After Jackie said all of that, the others did not feel anything wrong, but Agelt frowned as an unhappy glint flashed in his eyes.

He felt like Jackie was being arrogant.

Jackie did not seem to care about anyone else at all, wanting to use his own strength to solve the problem. Everyone else would just assist him.

Agelt took a deep breath, thinking to himself that Jackie was unbelievably arrogant.

Jackie wanted him to be a support member?

What gave him the right to decide that?

Agelt had never seen Jackie's skills and merely felt like Jackie was just a better-than-average warrior that could not be compared to himself.

Jackie saw the unhappiness and disdain in Agelt's eyes and knew what Agelt was thinking. However, he did not care.

As time passed, Agelt would find out who to put his hopes on.

That warrior from White Marsh Continent rubbed his face and sighed, "I don't know how many have been taken away by them, and what they're going through… I was almost captured earlier. Thankfully, I was smart enough to run without a second thought the moment I saw someone coming over…"

"My fellow disciple thought I was being paranoid and didn't flee with me. In the end, he was captured, and I don't even know if he's dead or alive."

As he said that, he clenched his fists furiously.

Alfred said angrily, "I'll make sure these despicable animals pay the price! I'll make them beg for mercy!"

He had been tortured initially. If Jackie had not saved him, Alfred would probably have been captured and sent to a certain location, going through various forms of torture.

They wanted to kill all of the warriors from second-grade worlds. They wanted the warriors of second-grade worlds to feel the fear and pain they have experienced.

After an hour, Len brought some men over as well. Jackie was happy to see that Len had also found one of the four strongest warriors.

That person was Braum Rock from Chaos Continent.

Braum, was different from Agelt. Braum already knew about Jackie. After all, White Marsh Continent and Chaos Continent had been with the warriors of Hestia Continent in the level seven cities.

Jackie had given the warriors from those two continents a deep impression. It was natural that Braum knew of Jackie.

Agelt was from Lycan Continent, he had never heard of Jackie at all and naturally knew nothing about Jackie.

The moment Braum entered the cave, he saluted Jackie immediately and was very friendly.

Jackie was surprised at how Braum was acting.

At that moment, there were thirty-two people within the cave. Other than the two on the ground, everyone was from a third-grade world.

Braum exchanged some pleasantries with Jackie and moved on. All of them were in a circle as they discussed their plans.

Braum said immediately, “Jackie, you’ll be our main force, so just say what you want to. As long as we don’t see any problems, we will follow your plans.”

Hearing that, Agelt looked at Jackie with surprise before he looked to Braum.

No one knew what he was thinking at all.

Jackie nodded and did not bother to hold back as he repeated the earlier plans.

After that, Jackie took out a map from Mustard Seed, putting it in front of everyone, ”This a simple map. The most skilled warriors from the second-grade worlds are gathered in this forest…”

“The place is incredibly strategic, so let’s leave this till the end. We’ll clean up the warriors from second-grade worlds elsewhere for now!”

Braum took the map and looked at it in detail, “All these meeting points are placed in good locations. It looks like they’ve thought about every decision carefully.”

Chapter 3376
In truth, Jackie’s plan was very simple. To beat the greatest numbers, they had to slowly eliminate their opponents before engaging in the final battle.

After Jackie gave an overview of his plans, he said something very important.

“During this period, if they can’t stand us fighting back, then they’ll give up on controlling the numbers, letting the death toll reach a hundred and twenty, so the slaughter game will end. If we kill enough of them, the number might reach a hundred and twenty as well, and the game will end, signifying we’ve achieved our goa.”

”Even though everyone’s furious at the warriors from the second-grade worlds, you have to remember one thing, everything we’re doing now is for the sake of leaving this isolated space so we won’t be tortured and killed by then. As long as we’re alive, there’s still a chance for anything. Don’t just focus on killing, and don’t ignore your life.”

As long as enough people die, even if they did not reach their final battle, they would still be able to leave this place.

Once they got back to Weinhord City, they would not be able to do much of anything due to the laws of the city. Then, news of what happened would spread, and all of the third-grade worlds would be wary of them, preventing unnecessary deaths.

When Jackie said that, everyone nodded simultaneously.

Agelt took a deep breath as he frowned and said, “I really wonder why those guys need so much Heartblood. What’s the use? Could it open some treasure?”

Jackie glanced at Agelt silently. However, his words stirred the curiosity of everyone else as they discussed the possible uses of Heartblood.

Jackie could not help but scoff internally.

Agelt had other intentions for asking that, and they were not innocent.

The warriors from second-grade worlds deployed cruel methods and had such a detailed plan, and it gave Agelt the impression that Heartblood was very useful. It might end up leading to some treasures. He wanted a hand in it as well, so he could benefit from it.

Jackie did not bother discussing that with them and merely listened as they talked about it.

A warrior from the Lycan Continent said, “These guys must’ve found out a secret or something. Heartblood has to be a substance of great importance, or they wouldn’t have spent so much effort to gather so much Heartblood. We should question them after this…”

“We need to be as cruel to them as they are to us. After that, we’ll be able to dig out all the secrets. We can announce it to everyone so their plans will fall apart!”

“You’re right! That’s what we should do! If Jackie hadn’t guessed their intentions and gathered us here, we’d still be in the dark right now. We’d just be waiting for them to slaughter us!”

“Those despicable guys need to pay the price. Otherwise, they’ll just think that third-grade worlds can be bullied. They’ll look down on us in the future no matter what happens!”

“I never liked them in the first place; these guys are only good at bullying the weak. It’s not like we don’t have powerful people in third- grade worlds. Just because they’re from second- grade worlds, they think they’re better than us and look down on us…”

“I admit that there are strong warriors among them, but it’s not like all of them are strong. There are still a number of them who are barely noteworthy, but even those warriors look down on us. It’s not like they’re better than us, we’re just from different places!”

Chapter 3377
The crowd got more excited as they talked.

All of the hatred in their hearts was voiced out. Ever since they interacted with the warriors from second- grade worlds, nothing good ever happened as they ridiculed them.

Before, they had to just accept most of it as long as it did not cross the line, but as they felt even more pushed to the corner, they wanted to fight back.

Whether it was in this space or after they went out, they would no longer hold back out of fear. That was because they knew very well that fear would just cause them to retreat even more, giving everything to those arrogant warriors from second-grade worlds.

Rudy, sitting behind Jackie, felt that it was pointless as he watched everyone being emotional.

He whispered to Jackie, “I feel like they just like talking. Once they go out, they’ll start considering a lot more things. They’ll never actually end up becoming mortal enemies with the warriors from second-grade worlds. After all, wanting to really fight back comes with a price…”

“They’ll probably hesitate when their lives are at stake. There’s no meaning to what they’re saying now.”

Jackie chuckled at Rudy’s words. He turned and gave him a nod, feeling like he was finally maturing. Rudy was no longer the brat from before that believed in everything everyone else said.

Rudy coughed before he continued to whisper, “Agelt doesn’t seem like someone we’ll get along with. I can see from his expression that he doesn’t really want to lower his head to you…”

“It’s honestly not that important to us, though. He just needs to be useful at the right times, though we can’t lower guard down around him. I feel like he’ll want to compete against you in the future. You should be careful.”

Jackie nodded. He had thought of that as well.

He whispered back, “As long as he doesn‘t hold us back when it matters, let him. He’ll understand how laughable his actions are in the future.”

Rudy nodded. The two of them exchanged a look, and various emotions could be seen from that.

60 kilometers away from the cave, at a shallow river, six warriors from second-grade worlds gathered. All of them had serious frowns on their faces.

Manson Rose took a deep breath. “Is there still no news from that side? How many have we lost contact with?”

Hirving Ochoa solemnly replied, “A total of ten are missing. Five of them are escorts, while the other five are meant to exchange prisoners. Those ten haven’t been contactable practically within the same day. I’ve tried my best to reach them, but there’s no news at all. We should make preparations for the worst.”

Marson raised an eyebrow and said, “It looks like those animals have learned to fight back, working together against us. However, the more they do that, the worse their fate will be. Those ten are about average in skill. They’re nothing compared to us. We’re prepared as well, so these things won’t happen.”

Uriel Masquez, who was standing at the back, said with a worried expression, ”Those who went missing are all pretty decent. Even though they’re in the middle of inner disciples, a few of them are still among the top fifty. We can’t find them anymore…”

“It means that those third-grade world fools managed to gather a portion of their forces. They reacted quite quickly. We thought they’d only notice what we’re doing around the third or fourth day.”

Chapter 3378
Manson laughed and said, “We underestimated them, alright. No matter how their skills are, they’re quite smart. Still, does it matter that they’re working together? They barely pose a threat! Those who have died were cannon fodder to us anyway. They won’t affect the greater plan…”

“Those animals who are fighting back need to pay dearly, though. Those who’ve killed warriors from second-grade worlds will suffer a fate worse than the other warriors. We’ll make sure to drag out the time and slowly torture them!”

Uriel was always a worrywart. He felt like with what was happening, even they needed to be careful.

He walked forward and said to Manson, “You’re right, Manson, but I still feel like we should bolster our defenses. Even though they’re just fools from third-grade worlds, it won’t be too easy to deal with them if too many of them gather.”

Manson looked at Uriel, smiling as he said, “You’re being too cautious. Even if a lot of them are gathered together, it’s not like we’ll meet them. There are dozens of warriors from second- grade worlds still living right now, and we’re just some of them.

“Unless we’re incredibly unlucky, there’s no way we’ll meet them. Also, these people will need to gather a lot of numbers to turn the tides in their favor. They can’t afford to split up, so the chances of us meeting them are even lower.”

Uriel could not say anything to that. He actually wanted to argue, but he was not as authoritative as Manson.

If Uriel continued, he would definitely be upset. However, Uriel still felt like Manson was taking things too easily. Even though those warriors from third-grade worlds were not that strong, there was still strength in numbers.

If enough of them were gathered, they would still be a threat.

Hirving turned and patted Uriel on the shoulder. “When did you become so cowardly? Even if those people charge in right now, do we not know how to run? Sure, it’s a little embarrassing, but it’s still better than dying. Then, we can spread the news and gather a lot of people too. We won’t be afraid of them in that scenario. There’s honestly nothing much to worry about.‘’

Uriel sighed helplessly, having nothing else to refute with. All they could do was wait at that moment.

Manson took out a piece of paper to note down those who were missing.

“Make sure to always remember your task, it’s the most important. Bring these people back so he’ll know what’s happening.”

Uriel accepted the piece of paper. He wanted to look it over when they suddenly heard footsteps from the distance.

The six of them looked up at where the footsteps were from, and they saw five men slowly getting closer to them.

Out of the five, they recognized two of those men. The first was Agelt from the Lycan Continent, and the other was Braum from the Chaos Continent. The two of them were two of the strongest warriors from the third-grade worlds that had entered.

When the party of six saw who was there, they froze.

Manson turned around angrily. “You really jinxed it! Ugh! There’s no need to fret, though, we have six on our side while they have five. Of those five, two of them are somewhat strong, while the others are nothing to worry about.”

Uriel’ s lips twitched as anger flared in his heart, but he did not say anything.

Manson was crossing the line. Uriel’s worries had clearly been right, but this guy was blaming him for j inxing it!

It did not matter. It was not the time to think about that.

Manson narrowed his eyes slightly before he took out a sword. The others pulled out their weapons as well.

Jackie stood in the middle, trying not to stand out.

Chapter 3379
Braum walked in front, and Agelt was right behind him.

The two of them looked incredibly confident, and their murderous intent soared as they got closer.

When they were about 30 meters away, Braum stopped in his steps, which the others followed. The two sides looked at each other, and the atmosphere was incredibly tense as though an intense battle could happen at any moment.

Manson scoffed. “Did you come here to challenge us?”

Manson sounded unhurried in the way he spoke, not regarding his enemies as worth his notice at all.

Braum scoffed. “A fight to the death against you? Don’t be too arrogant. We just came here to kill you. It’s better to be the one doing the killing, after all.”

Manson chuckled at this and sneered, “I know you’re a decent fighter and that you’re confident. You might be able to win against an ordinary warrior from a second-grade world, but I’m no ordinary warrior…”

“I’m a chosen disciple of a holy-grade clan in the Sacred Water Continent. Your small tricks barely intimidate me!”

Jackie could not help but raise an eyebrow when he heard that.

They had already planned everything out before this and expected these warriors to be stronger than the ones from before.

Just as Jackie expected-they were not inner disciples but chosen disciples instead. However, Jackie estimated that they were not high up in the rankings.

So what if they were chosen disciples?

He had killed plenty.

The Sacred Water Continent was just slightly stronger than the Golden Continent, so there was nothing much to be concerned about.

Jackie’s expression did not change, but everyone else stiffened. When they heard that the one in front of them was a chosen disciple, they suddenly felt a lot of pressure on their shoulders.

A few of them turned to look at Jackie slightly. When they saw that Jackie was still calm, they let out a sigh of relief.

Hirving scoffed and said, “Since you want to die so badly, we’ll grant you your wish. We’ll be able to help my eldest senior solve a problem too. Once you die, the warriors of the third-grade worlds will lose their heads. Everything will be solved!”

Jackie took a deep breath as he walked forward ahead of the rest.

He looked at Manson, pointed at him, and said, “Leave him to me. Help me hold the others back. I’ll need about five minutes.”

In truth, five minutes was too much, but to prevent any unexpected surprises, that was the time Jackie gave.

The others did not feel anything about that, but Agelt looked like he had been deeply insulted. He turned around to look at Jackie unhappily.

He said coldly, “What’s the meaning of that? I don’t care if you want to deal with the one in front, but what do you mean by helping you hold the others back? Do you think we won’t be able to handle the rest of them? That we’ll need your help?”

Braum frowned, wanting to say something when Jackie stopped him.

Jackie was very cold at that moment, like a crescent blade.

“I know you’re not happy about me, but you need to choose the right time to voice your bitterness. Look at the situation! Is it the time to talk about that? Just do what you’re told. If you don’t believe me, you’ll see the aftermath. The truth will answer all of your questions.”

“If you’re not willing to play along, just leave. I won’t stop you.”

Agelt clenched his hands in anger. He took a step forward and was about to argue when Braum stopped him.

He looked at Agelt unhappily, and said in a similarly cold voice, “Jackie’s right. Look at the situation. What’s the point of arguing? Handle the matter first.”

Chapter 3380
Agelt gritted his teeth as he looked at Jackie, behaving as though he had been gravely insulted.

Jackie did not want to see how emotional he looked, though.

This guy was even more uncooperative than he thought!

Why was he trying to fight at a time like this?

His arrangements were fine. It was the most reasonable arrangement based on his skills. He knew that Agelt was not happy about it, since he felt like he was no weaker than him and did not need to listen to him.

Agelt felt like Jackie’s tone was arrogant as well.

Jackie took a deep breath as he ignored Agelt. When Agelt saw that Jackie was looking away as if he was causing trouble for no reason, he grew even more furious.

He glared at Jackie and said, “I know it’s not the time for this, but you keep having this attitude about you. You speak like you’re the leader. Anyone who can lead me at least needs to be stronger than I am. You don’t have the right!”

Braum’s lips twitched helplessly. Agelt was sick in the head, he had to be!

He grabbed Agelt’s arm. “If you keep this up, we’ll all die here! Can you just shut up and let us deal with this before you speak?!”

Agelt scoffed as he turned his head away unhappily. He did not continue causing trouble, but he was still unhappy.

Meanwhile, their six opponents were momentarily baffled.

Manson smiled and said, “I can’t believe you’re all uncoordinated. You want to work together to fight us with just that? You’re all useless! Fighting you will only stain our hands. You’re nothing worth our notice at all!”

Hirving nodded from behind Manson, scoffing as he continued, “You really are a bunch of dogs not worth our time. Trying to beat us with just you? You’re just a small fry, and just swimming around in the pond is already difficult for you. You’d just be eaten up by a bigger fish the moment you’re thrown into a river!”

Jackie looked up at the six of them coldly. He had already planned things out, and he had told the others some of it while keeping some of them to himself.

He took a deep breath, not angered at their opponent's words at all. Instead, he smirked.

He held his head high and said, "You can't be the judge of whether or not we're weak. In my eyes, you're the animals. You're just dirt that I can disperse any time I want to. I can make you disappear from this world at any moment, and I'll use the cruelest way to do it as well- just like how you did to others."

As Jackie said that, Manson and the others started to laugh out loud. They looked at Jackie like a complete idiot. Manson was laughing in an especially exaggerated manner.

As he laughed, he pointed at Jackie and said, "Do you even know what you're saying? I can't stop laughing. When did a piece of trash like you dare to challenge us? You're not worthy! I've finally seen how deep ignorance can go!"

Hirving nodded and sneered, "He's not just ignorant, he's completely dreaming, too. Who does he think he is? Is he the top disciple of a holy- grade clan? He's so arrogant!"

"If you were a warrior from a first-grade world, I might actually be inclined to believe you. Someone like you saying what you just said is just a joke. I really don't know what's in your head. Do you think you're unbeatable?"

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3381 - 3390 -

Chapter 3381
Agelt scoffed as he coldly glanced at Jackie, mentally telling himself that Jackie deserved the insults.

This man really did not know his place and seemed capable of saying anything.

Jackie, however, remained calm, as if everything they said was just nonsense that could not affect his composure at all.

He chuckled and said, “I know you don’t believe me, but that’s fine. I’ll prove to you which one of us is the fool here.”

After saying that, Jackie took a step forward and said to Manson loudly, “Didn’t you think you were stronger than me? Why don’t we have a match to prove it?”

When Jackie said that, he had an abnormally serious look on his face. He did not seem to be joking at all.

He only noticed after they arrived there that they had six opponents while there were only five on their side. Other than himself, Jackie did not feel like anyone on his side would be able to defeat their opponents, so he devised a new plan.

Before the two of them fought, Jackie wanted to try to eliminate the strongest one before dealing with the rest. For the sake of the bigger picture, he had to take every step carefully.

No one else knew what Jackie was thinking.

Jackie bemused Agelt. He did not think that Jackie would be able to kill Manson and instead felt like he himself would be the one to clean up after everyone, being the determinant of this whole battle.

That had been Agelt’s thoughts the whole time, so when he heard what Jackie had said, it provoked him enough to stand out and voiced his complaints. However, the others did not know what Agelt was thinking at all. Even if Jackie knew, he would just think that Agelt was dreaming.

Manson’s smile disappeared as he narrowed his eyes, glaring right at Jackie. “Brat! You’re even more outrageous than I thought. Do you think you can really beat me?!”

Jackie nodded emphatically and added, his tone serious, “If I didn’t think I could face you, I wouldn’t have asked for it. If you don’t think you can beat me alone, you can always get another team member. I can deal with two of you at once.”

Manson was red with fury. “How dare you?! You’re unbelievably arrogant. Who do you think you are, taking on two of us at once? Are you done bragging? There really are miracles everywhere! You’re the biggest idiot I’ve ever seen!”

As he said that, Manson's voice shook a little in his rage. He felt like everything Jackie said was an insult to his dignity. There was no way Manson could stand it. Other than Braum, everyone else thought that Jackie was crazy.

He had to be crazy to have said this, possibly trying to anger them, which he succeeded in doing. Manson was quite angry, and he could no longer stand it as he rushed right at Jackie.

In the air, his hands constantly formed white seals. Those seals distorted in the air, fusing into the surrounding space. A second later, snowflakes of various sizes started to appear as the surrounding temperature started to drop.

Every breath they took produced white clouds.

Chapter 3382
Manson stood among the snowflakes before he quickly charged right at Jackie.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he started to form seals with his hands. In just a moment, the Broken Soul Blade appeared right in front of him.

Jackie was insignificant, Manson mused to himself, so much so that he could be killed with just a pinch like an ant. He clapped his hands, and all of the snow in the air fused into one, forming a triangle. It had an incredibly cold aura as it charged right at Jackie.

Jackie pushed forward, and the Broken Soul Blade shot forward like an arrow, shooting right at Manson. In a flash, the two techniques clashed.

Everyone heard a cracking sound, and the ice started to shatter into countless fragments.

Those fragments shot out incredibly quickly, and with the cold energy within, they formed large craters on the ground when they landed. Everyone rushed to avoid them when they saw that.

Countless craters were formed as dull explosions were heard.

By the time they looked over, the proud Manson had already fallen to the ground. He had a look of pain on his face as his whole body trembled. His mouth was open as he let out cries of agony.

No one knew how to react to that sight.

Manson actually lost!

He lost after a single strike, leaving him no room to fight back at all. At that moment, Manson lost all his dignity as he rolled on the ground.

Jackie saw that sight several times a day and was already used to it, but the same could not be said for the others.

Braum's expression did not shift too grandly, he knew Jackie was no normal human. Regular chosen disciples from holy-grade clans were no match for him. Meanwhile, the others struggled to accept that Jackie had beaten Manson, especially Agelt. His eyes were completely wide, and his lips twitched.

He looked at Manson crying on the ground in agony before looking at Jackie, who was still as calm as ever.

He started to feel like the world was an illusion and started to doubt reality itself.

Was he dreaming?

He pinched himself, and the pain told him that everything was, unfortunately, real.

Jackie was actually that powerful, and he was not bragging at all!

Manson really was no match for Jackie!

Agelt took a deep breath, feeling like he had a moment of realization. This explained why Jackie's tone had been so arrogant, he was so talented and capable that it translated into his actions.

Jackie did not care about what the others were thinking at all. His gaze was fixed on the other remaining opponents.

Hirving was stunned, evident in his demeanor. His mouth was wide open, and he looked like he was frozen in place.

Looking at that scene, Jackie frowned as he turned to say to the ones behind him, "What are you doing just standing around? Attack! If even one slips away, it'll bring us trouble!"

Jackie then quickly activated the laws of space and disappeared.

Uriel was the first to react. The moment he saw Jackie disappear, a sense of danger filled his head.

He did not even bother thinking as he grabbed Hirving and turned around to run.

At that moment, he did not care about Manson anymore, he brought it upon himself after all. The fact that Jackie had heavily injured Manson meant that they were no match for Jackie at all.

He had not been lying.

Chapter 3383
With his skills, he could have faced two of his opponents at once. On top of that, he had help by his side. If they did not hurry and run, then endless torture awaited them!

Uriel pulled at the others and started to frantically run away.

Jackie picked up the pace of his pursuit.

At that moment, Uriel and the others scrambled away like dogs. They were frantically retreating, not even knowing where they were heading. All they knew was that it was the only way they would be able to survive.

After a few moments, Hirving felt a gust of wind behind him. He turned to look and was absolutely terrified when he saw that Jackie was already behind him.

Jackie aimed the sword in his hand at Hirving's back, and he let out a cry of fear as he sped up. Yet, Jackie was even faster than he was.

Intense pain spread throughout his being from where his chest was pierced.

As he looked down, he saw that a gray sword had pierced him, and blood stained his clothes. The next second, the intense pain of his soul being ripped apart spread from his chest to his whole body. He looked like a deflated balloon as he crumbled and fell to the ground.

Jackie pulled out his sword and continued to pursue the next one. After an hour, other than Manson who was still struggling on the ground, everyone had died to Jackie's sword.

When the dust settled, Jackie's companions exchanged looks of shock. They had come as a group but were useless as Jackie settled them all.

All they did was stand by the side, intimidating their opponents. They stopped their opponents from attacking Jackie together. After all, It would be hard for Jackie to handle six at one time.

Jackie's expression remained unchanged after he wrapped up everything.

He arrived next to Manson before he lifted Manson up and said without turning his head back, "Let's head back. This guy still has his uses. Knowing your enemy is the key to victory. We need to get even more information out of his mouth if we want to be sure of our win!"

Jackie's words were like gospel at that moment.

Everyone listened to him. Even Agelt listened wholeheartedly. They followed behind Jackie, arriving at their cave gathering spot Where Rudy and the others remained.

After all, they were inferior in terms of battling and would only be a burden if they followed. It was better for them to wait at a safer location.

When the warriors in the cave saw that Jackie and the others were back, they got up excitedly.

They were even more excited when they saw that Jackie brought someone with him. After they entered the cave, the warriors waiting there started to ask about the situation.

Some of the warriors that were closer to Agelt hurried forward and said, "Agelt, you've worked hard. Everyone else did, too. You must've had a great victory. You even caught a hostage. With you around, even warriors from second-grade worlds stand no chance!"

Agelt pursed his lips awkwardly, not wanting to accept the praise. After all, they had done nothing other than say a few words. All the glory belonged to Jackie. Yet, there were some who could not tell that Agelt was feeling awkward at that moment.

One of them tried his best to flatter Agelt and said, “You’re not injured at all. It looks like the battle ended very quickly! They’re not on your level, huh? Did they get scared the moment they saw you?”

Chapter 3384
Agelt frowned when he heard that, cursing the guy in his mind. He felt so awkward that he did not know what to say.

To stop himself from being in a similar situation, Braum stood up and said, “We didn’t do anything at all. All six of them died to Jackie. His skills are beyond imaginable. None of them were a match for him at all.”

The moment he said that, the cave fell quiet.

Quite a few of them were so shocked that their jaws hung open as they turned to look at Jackie.

At that moment, Jackie did not care about what anyone else was saying at all as he dragged the whimpering, struggling Manson to the deepest part of the cave.

The pain in Manson’s soul rendered him unable to think properly. Jackie waved his hand, controlling the power of the Broken Soul Blade so it no longer ripped Manson’s soul.

The pain slowly decreased, and Manson slowly recovered. He panted heavily, looking like his head had just been shoved into water.

Cold sweat stained his clothes, and his face was white as paper. When he saw his surroundings, his entire body stiffened. If it was not for the fact that he was still breathing, Jackie would have wondered if he was dead.

Manson gulped as he started to retreat backward.

Jackie smiled as he patted Manson’s shoulder, saying coldly, “You wouldn’t be able to do anything now, even if you could shrink your points. You should be able to tell. I didn’t kill you and brought you back instead for a reason. Why don’t you guess why I did this?”

Manson’s lips stiffened as he looked at Jackie in dread.

He had too much fear in his heart and knew what he was going to face soon. He looked to the corner and could not help but shudder. This time, it was not from the pain, but from the intense fear.

Jackie scoffed and said, “You better know your place. I’m still feeling patient right now, but if you avoid any questions or try to lie to me, my patience will vanish in the blink of an eye. I told you that I have all the time in the world and hundreds of ways to torture you. If you want to experience it, I don’t mind giving you a taste.”

At that moment, Manson shuddered even more.

He did not even dare to look at Jackie. Thinking about how he had laughed at Jackie when he warned him before their battle, he suddenly realized that he had been the laughable one.

He had been the ignorant one, and Jackie had not lied at all. Manson was the one who walked into the pits himself.

These thoughts surfaced in his head as his breath grew labored, but there was nothing he could do.

He was already right on the chopping board at that moment, and he could not even kill himself.

On the other hand, Jackie was in no hurry when he saw that Manson was not talking. He instead reached out to grab Manson's shoulders.

Jackie continued, "I just want to ask a few simple questions. If you answer me, I'll kill you quickly. If you grit your teeth and refuse, that's fine too. I'll just have to waste some more time…"

"You felt what I can do just now. Didn't it hurt? If you don't answer me, you'll be in even more pain later. If you lie, the pain will increase by five times."

Jackie was expressionless even as he threatened Manson.

When Manson thought of the pain he had felt earlier, he could not help but start twitching.

Chapter 3385
The pain was too inhumane to bear.

It hurted so much that Manson could not even form thoughts or control his body. It felt like he had been thrown into a pot of oil and fried a thousand times. Even being in hot oil would have felt better.

"What do you want to know?" said Manson raspily. "I… I don't know that much. I might be a chosen disciple, but I'm not that high up in ranking, so my position isn't that high either. I know very little about the important secrets…"

"In truth, there are some things I do want to know, but I never had the courage or the means to find out. You… You shouldn't hold out too much hope."

Jackie sneered as he stared at Manson and spoke, his tone so cold that Manson shuddered, "Don't try to brush things over here. I'm not one you can sway with a word or two. You should come clean and tell me everything I want to know."

"You're lying when you say you don't know and you don't dare to find out. Since you're being dishonest, then I'll give you what you want!"

The moment he said that, intense pain wracked Manson's soul again as though being slowly ripped apart.

He could no longer control his body as he spasmed on the floor.

Everyone took a few steps back when they saw what was happening. Even if they hated warriors from second-grade worlds, Manson's cries of agony were straight out of a nightmare, so much so that everyone felt a sort of sympathy for him.

Those warriors who were mentally weaker hid behind others. They started to look at Jackie with even more respect.

After five minutes of pain, Jackie controlled the power of the Broken Soul Blade to not hurt Manson's soul anymore.

Manson slowly started to breathe normally again, but his face was incredibly pale as if all the blood had been extracted from it.

"Now, answer me. What's the use of Heartblood? Where are the leaders of the second-grade worlds?" Jackie interrogated.

"How are their skills and what are their names? Tell me everything you know. Don't try to be stubborn. I can tell you that I have all the time in the world to waste on you. If you don't mind the torture, you can continue being stubborn."

Manson's entire body shook as he immediately said, "I'll talk! I'll tell you everything I know! Don't torture me anymore!"

Jackie smiled and said, "Let's see how you perform."

At that moment, Jackie might have a smile on his face, but he looked like a demon straight out of hell to Manson.

Manson's body shook, and his voice equally quivered as he whimpered, "I'm not lying. I really don't know that much. I want to know what Heartblood is used for. I did try to find out, but no one is willing to tell me!"

100 kilometers away from their location, at a cave 10 times bigger than Jackie's, a lot of warriors were gathered there.

A small number of them were from second-grade worlds, while most of them were from third-grade worlds. However, there was not a single warrior from a third-grade world that was standing.

All of them were lying in the freezing cave, their bodies shivering vehemently. They were chained up as numerous wounds decorated their bodies.

The warriors from second-grade worlds took amusement in torturing them.

Chapter 3386
The warriors from the third-grade worlds that were lying on the ground were mostly already tortured to the point that they had lost their sanity, but they remained alive. Those warriors from second-grade worlds would not allow them to die.

When they noticed anyone about to die, those people would be fed pills so they could be kept on the brink. They were strictly controlling the number of deaths.

In the center part of the cave saw three people sitting down. Three of them had different clothes on. When the other warriors from second- grade worlds looked at those three, they had fear in their eyes. It was obvious how highly regarded those three were.

The one on the left was from the Golden Continent. He was Jake Hall, a chosen disciple from a holy grade clan that was ranked tenth place in his clan.

The one from the middle was from Sacred Continent, called Guardio Montes, who was also from a holy grade clan, ranking ninth among their chosen disciples.

The one on the right was called Florian Banes. He was from Golden Continent, but from a different holy grade clan than Jake. Florian was the eleventh place in his clan.

The three of them were close in terms of skill. If they were to get down to it, Guardio was slightly stronger.

He sat in the middle and was the leader of this particular task in the slaughter game.

A warrior from Sacred Water Continent rushed over to Guardio's side, whispering for a long time into Guardio's ear.

Guardio's frown gradually deepened.

After hearing what that person said, Guardio waved the person away.

When the person left, Guardio said coldly, "It looks like we've underestimated these guys. We thought they were just little fish, but they're biting back right now. Already twelve of our warriors have disappeared. They're moving really quickly, and are leaving no trace behind."

Jake scoffed and said, "They're just biting at nothing. Fighting back like that will only give us some small losses, nothing of notice at all. We didn't care about them before because we thought they were not strong at all. Now, it seems like it's time to teach them a lesson."

Florian nodded as a cold glint flashed in his eyes, "Leave this to me. I want to deal with them myself. I'll skin all of them alive so they know what the consequences of going against us are!"

Guardio looked at Florian, frowning as he said, "Don't be too careless. Don't forget, a chosen disciple is among those who went missing. If they weren't skilled, they would have died before they could do that. Now that all those people are missing, they're probably not in any good condition. We need to increase our alertness to prevent any mistakes."

Florian scoffed, not paying it any mind, “They’re just trash. How big of a splash could they possibly make? As long as I’m there, none of them will be able to run. Manson and the others should already be dead…”

“However, I feel like Manson probably didn’t lose because of his skill, but had been tricked instead. No matter how much you look down on them, they’ re still somewhat smart. Manson’s an impulsive guy, he was probably tricked quite easily.”

Jake nodded, agreeing with what Florian said. Guardio felt like they were looking at things too lightly. Even though Manson was impulsive and arrogant, Manson was still no idiot.

He would definitely unleash his full strength when faced with danger, but they still lost contact with him in the end. It meant that the situation was worse than they thought.

Guardio took a deep breath as he said seriously, “Don’t think that they’ll be easy to deal with. Even though they’re from third-grade worlds and we’ve looked into them, there might still be some mistakes. If some expert managed to sneak in, then the situation would be much more complicated.”

Florian looked away, clearly not agreeing with what Guardio said. However, he could not say anything back

Chapter 3387
The two of them went silent again. After a long time, Jake said, “How much more do we need? After this round of torture, we still need to go on…”

“This task is so troublesome that I’m regretting accepting it. If it wasn’t for the fact that I’ll be able to pick out two treasures for myself once the Vibrant Hall opens, I wouldn’t have accepted this task.”

Florian joined in on that, “Obviously! If it wasn’t to open up the Vibrant Hall, I wouldn’t be wasting my time here. I don’t have that free time.”

Jake sighed and said, “Those warriors from third-grade worlds are no idiots. Once the slaughter game ends, they will notice something amiss after a day or two. Then, things will be a lot more difficult if we want to do anything else. Even so, we have to keep on doing this.”

Florian sighed, saying unhappily, “Those small operations already got us the Heartblood of two hundred people, but the higher-ups said that two hundred is far from enough. Opening the Vibrant Hall needs at least over a thousand. Even two or three thousand might not be enough…”

“We would need at least four to five thousand to completely open the Vibrant Hall. Otherwise, the place would not have been sealed for that long. Even after two five-hundred-year cycles, no one has opened it before. We’re putting a lot of effort into opening that place up.”

Jake shook his head and said, “There’s nothing we can do about it. If we left it aside, the warriors from the other second-grade worlds would not. Then, they might end up opening it before us. We would only get the scraps that are left behind.”

Guardio sighed as he said with a lowered voice, “It’s a task from the higher-ups and we’re forced to complete it. You know how those guys are. We’ll end up being punished if we don’t complete it. If that happens, we should be happy if the punishment isn’t too bad. We wouldn’t even have the time to consider our own benefits.”

Thinking about all of that, Jake was incredibly frustrated, but there was nothing he could do.

Just as everyone was lamenting their situation, Florian suddenly heard a noise by his ear. He looked over toward the noise, and a voice entered his head.

Florian suddenly stood up as he looked in that direction.

The others looked at Florian, and Guardio said, “Who sent you a sound transfer?”

Florian clenched his teeth as he said in anger, “It’s from Manson’s sound array, but the person who sent it isn’t Manson. It’s the piece of trash that captured Manson. He wants to come and find me! He wants to challenge me to a duel to the death!”

Florian scoffed with a look of disdain.

That guy really did not know his place. Issuing him a challenge?

Did he think that he could defeat Florian just because they managed to capture Manson?

Manson was nothing to Florian. Anyone who could capture Manson was nothing to Florian either.

He sneered and said, “Since he wants to die so badly, I’ll grant him his wish! I’ll let him suffer the consequences of challenging me!”

After he said that, Florian rushed to find the person who sent him that message, but Guardio stood up to stop him.

Florian looked at Guardio and said in confusion, “Why are you stopping me? ”

Guardio’s lips twitched helplessly, internally cursing Florian for being a numbskull. He had clearly said that the situation was unusual, yet, Florian was still being led around by his own emotions so easily.

Guardio said, “What if it’s a trap? Are you going to just rush in?”

Chapter 3388
Not only was Florian not thankful at all after hearing that but absolutely furious as well.

He felt like Guardio was looking down on him by saying that.

What could he even amount to if he could not even deal with riff-raff from third- grade worlds?

Guardio was doubting his skills by saying that.

Florian scoffed and said, “They’re trying to trick me? Do you think they can? Even if it is a trap, it will be broken through in front of absolute skill…”

“None of them is a match for me. On top of that, I won’t be bringing any fewer men than they have with me. Only torture awaits them. They’ll be slaughtered like nothing!”

As he said that, Florian was incredibly prideful. It was as if no one was a match for him at all.

When Guardio heard that, his lips twitched helplessly. He still had a lot to say, but it was obvious that Florian would not listen.

Florian wanted to walk into a death trap. His own biases made him look down on third-grade world warriors, and made him feel like those warriors could do nothing to him. That was why he was so prideful.

Guardio knew very well that it would be hard to change those thoughts. However, he was forced to deal with their current situation.

If Florian actually dies in a trap, then their slaughter alliance would have lost a key general. The situation would be even worse. Even after he had said so much earlier, the other two did not listen at all.

It made Guardio frustrated and exasperated.

Guardio took a deep breath before he placed his hand on Florian’s shoulder, saying seriously, “I know you have the ability to deal with any problems, and I know you’re not that much weaker than I am, but even if I was the one going, I’d still be incredibly careful…”

“Looking down on your opponents can destroy all your plans, don’t you know that? Even if those warriors from third-grade worlds aren’t as strong as us as a whole, you still can’t ignore them and feel like you’re invincible!”

As he said that, he was interrupted by Florian, “I know what you want to say. You want me to regard them with caution, but I can’t do that. That would be an insult to ourselves. I’ve interacted with quite a few warriors from third-grade worlds after entering the Whirling World…”

“Not a single one of them was a match for me. They come from places with no resources. There’s no way they can compete with us at all. I just need to point my finger, and they’ll be so scared that they start shaking. If I need to regard these people highly, then what’s the point of me learning how to fight?”

Florian seemed incredibly firm with what he said. It was as if anything else Guardio said would be an insult to him.

Guardio’s lips twitched in exasperation. He was so angry he did not know what else to say. Florian’s words seemed reasonable, but he was actually just forcing out excuses.

He was making excuses for his pride. In the end, he was just arrogant. He could not look at things calmly.

The matter was incredibly important, and Guardio did not want any mistakes. Yet, those two did not seem to have the same attitude.

Guardio could not stop himself from getting angry.

“Even if you’re right, can’t you think about it? Are all of them really trash? Is there not a single one of them that could be stronger than you? As long as there’s just one, then you might never come back. I’m just concerned for you as well as the bigger picture…”

“Can you not be stubborn? This is not somewhere you can do anything you want!”

Right as he said that, Florian’s expression changed. He frowned as he looked at Guardio angrily.

The tension between them was incredibly thick. Jake saw that the situation was bad and immediately stood between the two of them, trying to diffuse the situation.

Chapter 3389
Jake said in exasperation, “Don’t get so emotional. If the two of you end up fighting, wouldn’t it just benefit our enemies?”

“Both of you, calm down! We can’t get emotional with this. Guardio is right, but Florian has his points too. Both of you have your own logic, but thoughts can’t solve problems. We should stop fighting and figure out a solution.”

Guardio took a deep breath as he said, “There’s only one solution, which is to treat this seriously. We have to gather our forces. We have a strong fortress here that they won’t be able to attack.”

Guardio’s suggestion was reasonable, but in Florian’s eyes, it was completely different.

Florian said angrily, “Why are you acting like such a coward? You second guess and doubt everything. Just listen to what you are saying. You want to strengthen our base so they can’t attack? Who do you think they are? Who do you think we are? Why are you praising them at our own expense?”

“You act like they’re so strong and we’re so weak. Turn around and look. Those lying on the ground are all warriors from third-grade worlds. These pieces of trash can’t even fight back against us at all, but you seem to think they’re unbelievably strong!”

When Guardio heard that, he shook in anger. He felt like Florian was a complete imbecile, prioritizing his pride and dignity over anything else.

At that moment, Guardio was furious, “Since you think that the warriors from third-grade worlds are all trash, then tell me how those twenty warriors died? Why did Manson fall to them? Isn’t Manson a chosen disciple? If they’re so weak, how did they get him?”

Hearing that, Florian’s expression stiffened.

He wanted to retort but was stopped by Guardio, “Stop trying to argue. The normal warriors from third-grade worlds really aren’t anything, but you have to admit that they do have strong warriors among them.”

“The situation is as it is because something unpredictable is with them. That unpredictable factor is affecting the whole situation. If you’re impulsive, you’ll fall into their trap. They sent you a message precisely because they want to lure you out to deal with you!”

Guardio was practically shouting all of that. He was angry as well, but Florian seemed intent on not listening.

Florian felt like Guardio was just looking down on him, and that feeling blinded him.

He replied angrily, “You might be scared, but we’re not! I refuse to believe that they’ll kill me if I go there.”

After saying that, Florian pushed away Jake and Guardio.

At that moment, he was acting completely from the anger in his heart, and would not listen to any advice. Even Jake felt that Florian was being too emotional. However, Jake knew that Florian would no longer listen to anyone else.

Florian was intent on proving that he would not fall for a trap, and would kill all of their opponents. Guardio’s lips twitched, not continuing to stop Florian as he stood in place.

Chapter 3390
Looking at Florian’s retreat, all Guardio could do was sigh.

Jake turned to look at Guardio, sighing helplessly, “Are we being too careful? Florian’s not weak. If we don’t hold back, there are not many warriors from third -grade worlds that could match up with him…”

“Before he started the game, we’d already looked into all of the participating warriors, estimating their skill. All of those skilled warriors are already in our records. Florian might be impulsive, but he’s not stupid…”

Before he could finish, Guardio stopped him.

Guardio turned around and said, “Why is your head still trapped in the air as well? With how things have gone, don’t you see that there’s a new variable among the third-grade worlds?”

“We never noticed it before. You’re right, we already looked into all of them before the slaughter game started, but there might be some slips. If that person who we missed out on is incredibly strong, even stronger than me or you, then we’d be done for if we don’t treat this seriously!”

Jake’s expression stiffened. He whispered, “Really? Is there really a new variable?”

Guardio took a deep breath before he said in exasperation, “I believe there is, so we should plan for the worst…”

“To prevent any surprises from stopping our flow of Heartblood, we can’t leave this place. I couldn’t stop Florian, so it was time to figure out a new plan. We have to plan for the end…”

Florian brought six men out of the cave.

He started to head toward where the sound had been transferred from. He was filled with uncontainable rage. He wanted to kill all those who challenged him. However, he still maintained his rationality, no matter how angry he was.

Time slowly ticked away, and they finally arrived at a lush green plain.

The plains were limitless. There was nothing to hide in at all. The green grass had even filled up the whole field. There was not a single tree in sight. Florian took a deep breath when he saw the plains.

It was a good place for a challenge. It was impossible to hide there.

Florian turned to the warrior behind him and said, “All of you, don’t worry. I won’t let my anger control me. If there are too many opponents, we can just retreat without consequences. If they don’t have that many people, then we can just charge forward and move them down. Let them feel how much better we are, and let them regret everything!”

All of his fellow disciples nodded as they agreed with Florian, “Florian, you’re amazing! You’ll definitely lead us to victory! These third-grade world warriors will quickly find out how wide the gap between us is. We’ll have them regret going against us!”

Facing those words of respect, Florian was enjoying things immensely. He hated Guardio for overthinking things, always nagging and holding back. It was not fun at all.

Unfortunately, Guardio was the strongest of the three and also the leader of this task.

In the past, Guardio would probably have been more polite no matter what Florian said. Guardio had nagged Florian to be careful.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3391 - 3400 -

Chapter 3391
This time, he had gone against Guardio, so he had vented some frustrations.

As those thoughts ran through his mind, a group of figures was walking toward them from a distance. It was too far away, and they could not tell how many people there were.

Florian could not stop himself from feeling a little worried. Even though he was smart enough to retreat if there were too many enemies, he did not want to leave just to be laughed at by Guardio.

After five minutes, the figures got clearer. At that moment, he could tell how many people there were.

Florian smiled excitedly, “There are only eight of them! This is good! We don’t have to retreat, then. We can kill them all!”

The warriors next to Florian looked excited as well. If they obtained a complete win, they would be able to earn themselves some praise from their fellow disciples. After another five minutes, their opponents arrived in front of them.

The two sides faced each other, and Florian immediately looked at Jackie, who was standing at the front.

He pointed at Jackie and said, “Were you the one who sent the message? You were the one who said all of that?”

Jackie nodded honestly. He looked right at Florian before he looked at the warriors behind Florian.

Jackie’s tone was calm, “Are you the only one here? Did Guardio and Jake not come with you?”

Jackie had gotten a lot of information from Manson. Other than the most important thing, he already knew everything else he needed to. He knew that the person standing in front of him was Florian, a holy grade clan disciple ranked at eleventh place.

Florian was a proud and arrogant person, someone with more brawn than brains. Hearing Jackie’s words, Florian’s anger surged again.

He scoffed, “Brat, who do you think you are? Do you think we need so many to deal with you? You should be proud that I’m here to kill you, and yet you still want the three of us to face you? You’re overestimating yourself!”

A warrior behind Florian said, “That’s right! Who do you think you are?! Do you think you’re the top disciple of a holy grade clan?”

“Florian will easily kill you. There’s no need for the rest of them at all. Even I can kill you easily, let alone Florian!”

Jackie did not look angered by those words at all. Instead, he felt even calmer. He loved facing opponents like that.

The more they looked down on him, the easier things were for him. He looked at Agelt and the others next to him. Even though he had never seen Agelt or Braum fight before, he could estimate their strength.

They should definitely be capable of stalling for time, but expecting them to win was impossible. They would only be good for stalling, and Jackie would need to do the rest. Furthermore, Jackie did not trust them.

Jackie took a deep breath as he coldly looked at Florian, “No matter how much you like to brag, I still think that you’re a group of trash… You’re Florian, right? You sound so proud of yourself. Arrogance needs to be backed up. Why don’t you fight me yourself?”

“If you can beat me, I’ll acknowledge your pride, but if you can’t then I’ll do what I want with you.”

Jackie planned on using the same strategy against them. If he dealt with the strongest one, then the rest would be easy to deal with.

Chapter 3392
When Florian heard Jackie’s words, he scoffed in anger.

He had the same reaction as Manson. The two of them had more or less the same personality. Jackie expected that response as well.

Florian laughed as he said, “You think I’m the one heaping praises on myself? It’s funny that you say that because I should be the one saying that to you! You’re hilarious. I wonder what’s in your head!”

As he said that, Florian coldly looked at Jackie as if he was a complete idiot.

No matter how Florian looked at him, Jackie still had the same calm expression on his face. It was like nothing would affect his mood at all.

Jackie calmly continued, “Everyone knows how to brag, but not many can back it up. I’m still going to say the same thing. If you’re so arrogant, then use your skills to prove yourself. Otherwise, you’re still just a braggart…”

After he said that, Jackie walked forward.

His hands constantly moved, forming seal after seal. He was about to attack, which stunned Florian. His lips twitched, not expecting that Jackie was being serious.

Florian thought that Jackie had just been trying to mess around. He never expected that Jackie would actually stand out to fight him alone.

Florian got frustrated as he thought about it. He felt like he needed to teach Jackie a lesson. However, before he did anything, Florian felt like there were still some things he needed to make clear.

He scoffed as he raised an eyebrow, saying, “Fighting you alone would be doing you a favor. However, I feel like I should grant you your wish since you want to die so much. I’ll teach you a lesson myself. But, you need to answer one of my questions before that.”

Jackie laughed and said, “Are you trying to ask me how Manson fell to my hands?”

Florian’ s lips froze as surprise flashed in his eyes.

Jackie was smart, guessing what he wanted to say before he even said it.

Jackie continued, “Manson fought against me. He lost, and I captured him. That’s what happened.”

Florian sneered, “I refuse to believe that! No matter how weak Manson is, he’s still a chosen disciple of a holy grade clan. Even though he’s not that highly ranked, his skills are still solid!”

“You must have used some tricks to capture him, and I think that you probably want to do the same to me! However, you should stop with those thoughts. In front of absolute skill, your tricks are all worthless!”

Jackie raised an eyebrow, almost starting to laugh.

He really did use some tricks. And Florian was right, Jackie was using the same tricks on Florian. It was a pity that Florian did not believe him when he was being honest.

Since that was the case, Jackie did not want to waste any time.

He laughed and said, “You can think whatever you want, but I don’t really like listening to pointless chatter, nor do I like listening to people bragging. If you’re really so strong, show me!”

There was no need to continue after what was said.

Florian had completely been angered by Jackie’s casual attitude. Jackie’s words were incredibly harsh to his ears.

Florian said, “Since you want to die in my hands so much, I’ll grant you your wish!”

Chapter 3393
After saying that, he rushed into the air, constantly forming seal after seal.

Suddenly, thunder roared in the skies as purple lightning filled their surroundings.

Florian’s voice could be heard, “The technique I’m using is the lower ultimate god rank technique, the Army Destroyer. I’ve already reached the second stage of the technique, and I’m just a sliver away from mastering it. Many geniuses have died from this technique. You should be proud that you’re facing it!”

When Jackie heard that, he laughed as he slowly formed his response.

The Broken Soul Blade was formed and floated in front of Jackie. Florian’s words did not affect him, but they instilled fear in Agelt and the others.

Even though they were using lower ultimate god rank techniques as well, they were very far away from reaching the third stage. To them, it was incredibly far away. They would need months and years to reach that level, but Florian was just a sliver away.

The gap was right in front of them, forcing them to admit that their skills really were inferior to warriors from second-grade worlds. That feeling was suffocating.

Agelt turned to look at Jackie’s straightened back and suddenly regained his confidence. Even though he was not as strong as them, there was someone from the third-grade world that was stronger.

The moment the Broken Soul Blade was formed, Florian could immediately tell that Jackie was using a soul attribute technique.

He suddenly laughed, “You’re actually a soul attribute warrior! The heavens do smile upon me. Lightning techniques counter soul attribute techniques in the first place. Unless your technique is higher level than mine, you’ll just die even quicker. You won’t even be able to fight back as you’re turned to ash!”

Jackie smiled as he said, “Why do you like talking so much?”

Florian was immensely angered by that.

Jackie’s words were just far too direct, and everything he said just infuriated Florian.

Florian let out an angry roar as his hands started to form seal after seal again. The thunder in the air started to gather, fusing to form various figures. Those figures had various weapons in their hands and formed ranks in the air. They looked like a thundering army.

Florian let out another angry roar, and those soldiers started to raise their weapons to charge at Jackie like they had received an order.

Florian’s thunder army immediately charged at Jackie.

Jackie frowned a little as he charged right at that army.

The Broken Soul Blade expanded in the air, growing by at least ten times. Soul energy covered its whole body. In just a flash, the army clashed against the Broken Soul Blade, causing crackling sounds to be heard.

The purple light filled every inch of the place, blinding everyone’s eyes with how bright it was.

The ones standing below had to use their hands to shield themselves against the light. All they could hear was the crackling and explosion of thunder, like countless cannons exploding around them.

Agelt felt his hands going numb. The lightning had even affected him. Thankfully, he was not the main target and had merely been affected by the shockwaves.

The situation merely lasted for a few moments before the stray lightning slowly disappeared.

Chapter 3394
The crowd was finally able to open their eyes to get a look at the situation.

When they saw what had happened, all of them widened their mouths in shock, especially the second-grade world's warriors on Florian's side.

They saw Florian lying on the ground. A gray blade was stuck to his cheek, and he constantly twitched. Jackie stood next to him, looking down at Florian coldly.

Jackie never spends too much strength in any battle. After all, there was a massive gap between him and those people.

Jackie slowly kneeled, looking at Florian's painful struggle. At that moment, Florian still had a sliver of rationality to him and was able to hear what Jackie was saying.

Jackie's voice was very low as he whispered, "You're right, the lightning attribute naturally counters the soul attribute, unless the technique I'm using is of a higher level than yours, there's no way I can win. You were right…"

"What I'm using is of a higher level than yours. You're only using a lower ultimate god rank technique, while the Soul Sky that I used was a storm god rank technique. It's an entire realm higher than yours! That's why you're not a match for me at all. Manson could not even touch me."

Jackie's words sent Florian deep into despair. If he had not seen Jackie's skills, he would have thought that Jackie was lying when he heard that. Yet, he had to believe it at that moment.

The skill Jackie had used was definitely a whole realm higher than his own. Otherwise, there was no way he would have lost so completely.

Jackie's lips curled up into a smile of disdain, "Those people died at my hands just like that. Your fellow disciples died to me as well. This is the consequence of you second-grade world warriors being so arrogant and looking down on everyone else!"

Florian opened his mouth but found himself with nothing to say.

His eyes were about to pop out of their sockets.

At that moment, he regretted his decision to face Jackie alone. If he had not done so, three of them working together should have been able to beat Jackie. Yet, he had blinded himself, refusing to listen to anyone else. That was why all of this had happened to him.

When Jackie finished saying all of that, he slowly stood up to look at the other warriors from second-grade worlds.

Only then did they realize that the tables had turned. The little sheep they thought they could just slaughter at will had turned into bloodthirsty wolves. The six of them paled as they started to panic.

They exchanged looks of fear with each other.

Jackie laughed as he turned to look at Agelt and the others, “Hurry up and attack. We can’t give them any chance to survive!”

At the massive cave fifty kilometers away, both Guardio and Jake sat at their original spots, like they had been doing before.

As time passed, Guardio felt more and more unsettled, feeling like something had happened.

After an hour, Guardio opened his eyes as he looked at Jake, saying, “Contact Florian. See if you can reach him.”

When Jake heard that, his expression stiffened. Even though he did not like hearing such depressing thoughts, he still did it. He took out a sound array from his storage ring, forming a few seals before the array burned up.

He transmitted what he wanted to say into the sound array, “Florian! Report your location! If you’ve dealt with them, then come back now!”

The sound array burnt up, and they quietly waited.

After ten minutes, they still did not receive a response. Jake started to panic at that.

Chapter 3395
If they had lost contact with Florian as well, then the situation would be incredibly bad. It proved what Guardio had said before.

Compared to how panicked Jake was feeling, Guardio was much calmer. He had already guessed that it was possible, so he was still calm.

It was because he had already expected it when he tried to stop Florian, but Florian refused to listen. As time passed, Jake got more and more nervous. He could not even remain seated.

He stood up from the mat and paced around anxiously.

After another ten minutes, there was still no news.

Then Jake, who was in complete panic, looked at Guardio said, “You were right, there really is an unknown variable among the warriors from the third-grade worlds. There’s someone who we didn’t account for among them, and he’s our biggest threat!”

“Even Florian fell to him! Who is that person?! I have an even more depressing thought. What if it’s not just one person, but two or three of them?!”

Guardio shook his head and said, “No need to panic. There should only be one person. If there were two or three, then we wouldn’t be sitting here so safely right now. They should already be here!”

Jake looked at Guardio with some surprise, “How are you so sure?”

Guardio shook his head, “Manson isn’t an idiot. Even though he doesn’t know much, Manson should still know our names and our backgrounds. He should have spat everything out after being tortured a little…”

“It’s precise because he revealed everything that Florian received in that message! Since they already know everything, but never changed their plans, it means that they don’t have the confidence to beat all of us. They might not even have the courage to appear in front of us. So, I’m guessing that there shouldn’t be that many! There should only be one!”

Jake felt like Guardio’s analysis was reasonable. Before that, he even felt like Guardio was being too careful, just like Florian did. He finally understood that he and Florian had been the impulsive ones.

They were not just impulsive, but stupid. They fell for their opponent’s plan, and Florian was done for. They had basically lost an arm, and the situation would only get worse.

Jake started to panic.

He walked around in circles as he started to say anxiously, “What do we do next? We can’t just let them strike at us! We need to figure out a way. We can’t lose any more men!”

Guardio took a deep breath as his eyes flashed helplessly, “We have to make plans for the worst case scenario. The hunters have become the hunted. If we keep insisting on following our earlier plans, then we’ll have to pay a painful price.”

Jake frowned and said, “what do you mean? The worst case scenario? Don’t scare me…”

Guardio shook his head as he said slowly, “The worst-case scenario is us killing off these warriors from third-grade worlds. After all, there’s only one way to leave this place. Once a hundred people have been shaved off, we’ll be able to leave this place since the game will end. However, we’ll have to bear with their anger after we’re out. It’s still better than dying.”

The moment he said that Jake looked like he had been slapped a few times, “You’re saying that we have to end the game to save ourselves?!”

Guardio nodded helplessly. Jake looked incredibly deflated as he sat back down on the mat.

His lips trembled as he said, “How could this be? I don’t want to! I want to meet him! Whether it’s just one person or two, we should still see who that person is!”

Chapter 3396
Jake understood what Guardio was saying. When he heard that, he knew that Guardio was already preparing for the worst, to cut their losses down to the lowest possible number. Yet, no matter what, Jake still wanted to see that person.

He wanted to remember what that person looked like, and wanted to remember this defeat forever. Guardio sighed, not answering Jake.

Jake said quickly, “I know you want to end this slaughter game, and increase the death toll to a hundred and twenty. Since you’ve already decided to do that, I won’t say anything. I just have one request, I need to see this person… We at least need to see what he looks like and learn his name. After we’re sent out, we’ll be blamed immediately. It would be too late to look into things.”

Guardio looked at Jake meaningfully while feeling frustrated.

He wanted to see who that person was as well, but to stop any unexpected surprises, it was better if he ended the slaughter game right away to keep their losses as low as possible.

At the very least, they could still use this as an excuse when they got out. Otherwise, those people would not let him and Jake off easily.

The plan was supposed to be foolproof, but it had completely crumbled. They only got half of the expected Heartblood, so that person would definitely be unhappy.

He would definitely be punished. Guardio sighed before he said seriously, “We can’t let our emotions dictate what we do. I know you really want to meet that person, but if we see him and any accidents happen, then we would suffer losses that we never should have.

“We’ll be questioned after we get out, and our punishments would be even worse. The original punishment was already hard enough for us to bear, if it was any worse, don’t you know how badly we’ll suffer?”

Those words caused Jake’s mouth to freeze. He looked incredibly ashen as he sighed despondently.

Those guys would never hold back to accomplish their goals. The three of them had been ordered to complete the task, and it was not something they could refuse.

If they did well, they would get amazing rewards. If they did not, they would immediately be questioned and even locked up. Then, once they left the Whirling World, nothing good would be waiting for them.

The moment Jake thought about the future, he felt like those originally bright skies had been completely covered by dark clouds. The future was so dark that he might fall into a pit if he was not careful. Jake felt more and more scared, but he did not want to give up.

He clenched his fists tightly as he clenched his teeth and said, “It’s already so bad anyway. So what if it gets worse? To prevent any unexpected accidents, we can make a new plan. I don’t want to leave just like that…”

“Even if I know I’m not a match for him and the two of us can’t fight against him together for the sake of the plan, I still want to meet him. I want to know who forced us to this state.”

Guardio sighed helplessly, not expecting Jake to be so stubborn. He did not want to go on anymore and merely nodded slightly, agreeing to Jake’s request. Jake narrowed his eyes, thinking about Florian.

He said, “That person won’t kill Florian so quickly. He’ll probably spend some time finding out even more things from Florian’s mouth. Do you think Florian can hold on?”

Chapter 3397
Guardio raised an eyebrow. He had never cared much for Florian, feeling like Florian was just a hotheaded man who did not care for anything.

The truth had proven that Guardio’s judgment of Florian had been right. Florian was just a simple-minded person.

If he was just a bit smarter and a little less arrogant, that would not have happened to him.

At that moment, Florian had already been dragged into the cave where Rudy and the others were.

Jackie dragged Florian into the cave like a pig. At that moment, Florian had already regained his rationality. However, his soul was so damaged that he was already a cripple. Unless he takes a miraculous medicine, he would not live for longer than two days.

Everyone looked on as Jackie threw the man inside, and all of them clenched their fists emotionally.

Manson had already told them everything he knew. At that moment, they knew that Florian was one of the three leaders of the alliance.

So many third-grade world warriors had died at Florian’s hands.

They would not be angry if those warriors had just been killed with one strike, but they had seen how warriors from third-grade worlds were tortured. Their bodies were full of scars, and their eyes widened before they died. They were tortured inhumanely.

All those sights were deeply ingrained in the minds of all the warriors from third-grade worlds.

He was the one who had organized their actions.

A warrior from Chaos Continent could not help but walk a few steps forward, trying to beat him up, but he was held back.

“Calm down, we’re all angry here. You don’t have to be in a rush to beat him up. The fact that Jackie brought him back alive means that Jackie has his own plans. If you ruin his plans, you’d be in the wrong!”

That person realized that he was acting too rashly. He was still angry, but he merely stood by the side and stared at Florian with widened eyes. Everyone else was looking at Florian furiously as well.

If looks could kill, Florian would have already died a thousand times.

Jackie knelt next to Florian and coldly looked at him. Florian’s lips trembled slightly as he panted, wanting to retreat. However, he was someone who would rather lose his life than his dignity, so he did not retreat backward. Instead, he looked Jackie right in the eye, not admitting defeat.

Jackie smiled, “You’re quite stubborn. Aren’t you worried that I’ll torture you later?”

Florian clenched his teeth and said, “What kind of nonsense are you saying?! I’m already a sitting duck right here. You can do whatever you want to me. Just torture me however you feel like. However, I won’t admit defeat no matter what!”

“Don’t even think about getting any news from me. So what if you’re strong? There are people stronger than you from the second-grade world! They’ll take revenge for me!”

Florian had said all of that angrily as he stared right at Jackie.

Jackie sighed helplessly.

Florian was more stubborn than the others he had captured before. Even if he understood that he would go through excruciating torture, he refused to admit defeat.

Jackie had no reason to care about Florian’s stubbornness.

He said calmly, “There are only two paths in front of you. You can answer whatever I ask without lying.”

Chapter 3398
“The second option would be for you to remain stubborn until the end, but I’ll make sure you endure the most painful torture in the world. I don’t plan on killing you either. I’ll let you leave this slaughter game alive. You’ll get to have your fellow disciples take care and try to cure you…”

“However, I’ll let you know something. Your soul’s already injured. Unless you have some divine medicine, you’ll only be a walking dead man. You’ll be tortured every moment you’re alive. I’ll sever your limbs, so you won’t even be able to die.”

“Your fellow disciples will probably not bear to just kill you like that. You’ll watch as you keep on suffering, trying to use every way they can to save you. It will be useless! There’s still a year and a half until the Whirling World closes. You’ll be living through torture for all that time…”

Every word Jackie said felt like a needle piercing into Florian's heart.

No matter how much Florian could bear, he could not help but shudder after he heard that.

Just thinking about how he would be tortured for a year and a half filled Florian with dread. He wanted to kill himself right there. It really was an excruciating torture.

To stop Florian from killing himself, Jackie even wanted to sever his limbs. That was unbelievably cruel.

Florian clenched his teeth and said, "You're shameless and despicable! You're so sinister! Are you not afraid of retribution for doing this?! You'll pay for it!"

Florian frantically cursed at Jackie. At that moment, that was all he could do.

When Jackie heard that he sneered and said, "Don't you think your curses are a joke? Comparing methods, you're far crueler than I am. Countless warriors from third- grade worlds have been tortured to death by your hands. How could you say all of that?"

"If we're really talking about retribution, you deserve several times more than anyone else. You wouldn't be able to repay it all in your lifetime!"

Florian's mouth froze, unable to say anything. His curses had incited the anger of the other warriors from third-grade worlds.

A warrior from the Lycan continent shouted, "You warriors from second-grade worlds are so shameless. You're the only ones allowed to kill us with cruel methods, but we're not allowed to fight back? As long as we fight back, you say that we're cruel?"

"Can you use your brain before you speak?! Who can be crueler than you guys?! All those corpses on the ground that have been tortured by you to their death! Your situation is so much better than theirs!"

A warrior from White Marsh Continent nodded and said, "These people really are exasperating. They can do anything they want to others, but others can't fight back at all. Anyone who fights back is wrong. An attitude like that is so disgusting."

"The warriors from second-grade worlds have lost quite a bit. They've paid a price for their actions! When we get out, we need to tell everyone their plans. Then, we'll be prepared for anything they want to do!"

Jackie quietly listened to everyone. After a moment, he looked down at Florian again.

Chapter 3399
"I have more than enough time to play with you right now. Keeping quiet will do you no good. You're not gathering the Heartblood for yourself anyway. You're probably gathering it for your fellow disciples, right? Are you trying to be loyal to them by not saying anything?"

Jackie's tone was very calm while saying that as if he was not talking about anything important at all.

Jackie knew very well that Florian would slowly lower his guard if he said that. It was because someone as arrogant and prideful as Florian could never truly be loyal to anyone. He definitely did it for his own benefit.

Sure enough, Jackie was right. Florian's expression changed when he heard that.

He slowly lost his stubborn expression as his eyes started to dart around, and various thoughts surfaced in his head.

That was right!

Was he just showing his loyalty to his eldest senior by being stubborn?

Why did he need to do that?

He never got any benefits usually, and he would only be remembered when there was something for him to do.

Furthermore, he was even forced to agree to be harshly punished if he could not finish the task.

Just thinking about that, Florian felt incredibly unhappy.

Why did he need to be loyal to that person?

Why did he need to suffer so much for the sake of that person?!

What was he going to get out of it?

Just looking at how Jackie was smiling while saying all those horrifying things like severing his limbs and torturing him just made him feel like he would go crazy.

Paying a price like that all for the sake of protecting a secret that was not even his own!

How was that worth it at all?

Florian took a deep breath as he thoroughly resigned himself.

His tone was somber and had a hint of reluctance, "You're right. Even if I keep my secrets, no one will think I did well anyway. Why do I need to do so much for him when he doesn't do anything for me normally?"

When Jackie heard that, he felt relieved.

Florian frowned and said, "You have to promise me. As long as I tell you all my secrets, you will give me a quick death! I don't want to live anymore anyway."

Jackie nodded in agreement.

After a sigh, Florian continued, “You want to know what Heartblood is for, right? Let me tell you truthfully. There’s only one use for Heartblood, which is to open the Vibrant Hall! The Vibrant Hall hasn’t been opened in a thousand years…”

“Legend has it that there are countless treasures within. After entering the hall, anyone who passes the tests will get even more. Some people soared in skill because of these treasures, greatly changing their own levels. Their powers soared so much that they became top disciples of their clans…”

Saying that, Florian had an incredibly serious tone. It was obvious how important the Vibrant Hall was to him.

He thought about his situation and felt like all of that no longer had anything to do with him.

He said with an ashen look on his face, “Opening the Vibrant Hall needs a lot of Heartblood. Since it is the essence of a person-there is tremendous power in it…”

“Wanting to open the Vibrant Hall needs at least the Heartblood of three to four thousand people. You can’t use Heartblood from regular warriors either. They need to be stronger ones! There’s no point in killing lower-level warriors.”

Chapter 3400
Hearing that, a look of surprise flashed in Jackie’s eyes, but he quickly pushed it down.

Florian continued to say helplessly, “I should have been able to follow them inside and obtain some treasures after completing the task, but it has nothing to do with me anymore. If you manage to get in, take as much as you can. Everything inside is amazing! Plenty of warriors have had their fates changed because of the Vibrant Hall!”

Jackie frowned as he asked something important, “Where’s the Vibrant Hall?”

Florian answered, “The Vibrant Hall is among the level two cities. As long as you enter a level two city, you’ll be able to find it. That’s because the Vibrant Hall is the most obvious place in the level two cities. Even if you find it, it doesn’t mean you can get in. You still need a lot of Heartblood to provide the energy…”

“We planned out everything precisely because of that. Second-grade worlds are competing with other second-grade worlds as well. In order to not let these things fall into the hands of the warriors from other worlds, the Golden Continent and Sacred Water Continent temporarily worked together to form this plan…”

“Unfortunately, way too much Heartblood is needed. Even after so long, we’ve only managed to gather the Heartblood of a few hundred people. There’s still a long way until we reach our goal.”

Jackie quietly listened to everything Florian said, and his expression got more and more serious.

He had a thoughtful look on his face, feeling like he needed to make some plans early on. Since there are so many amazing things in the Vibrant Hall, Jackie could not miss it.

He had to enter the Vibrant Hall when it opened no matter how dangerous it was.

Florian took a deep breath as he looked at Jackie, “Can you kill me now? I don’t want to live anymore!”

Jackie nodded, taking out his gray sword from his storage ring.

As he was about to attack, a wisp of fire suddenly appeared in front of Florian.

Jackie raised an eyebrow. Someone had activated a sound array, constantly sending messages to Florian. However, only Florian could hear it, no one else could.

When Florian heard that, his expression changed.

Jackie was curious about that.

Florian never reacted to any of the earlier messages, but he seemed to have heard something amazing this time. He first frowned before he looked at Jackie in surprise, like he did not know what to say.

Jackie frowned and said, “Just tell me what you want to. There’s nothing to hold back on anymore anyway.”

Florian thought about it and agreed, so he started to speak, “Guardio invited you to meet at the place from earlier. He said he doesn’t want to fight you but just wanted to see you satisfy his curiosity…”

Hearing that, Jackie was surprised.

He knew that the other two already knew that Florian had been captured. Jackie had thought that they would start being careful after knowing that. Yet, they had actually invited him to meet them.

They said they wanted to satisfy their curiosity.

What was there to be curious about?

Jackie could not help but scoff, feeling like they were being absurd.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3401 - 3405 -

Chapter 3401
Nonetheless, Jackie decided on going.

That place was a wide-open field with nowhere to hide anything, and he was very confident in his abilities. Even though the other two might be a bit difficult to handle, the two of them were no match for him if he used the full extent of his abilities.

The other warriors could be dealt with by those who went with him.

After two hours, Jackie arrived at the arranged place where Guardio, Jake, and five other warriors waited.

When he saw how serious all of them looked, Jackie could not help but wonder what they were thinking.

As he thought about it, he continued walking toward them. After another five minutes, Jackie stopped about 60 meters in front of them. Since he was standing the furthest in front, the two of them stared at him.

When Jackie stood still, Jake shouted out hoarsely, “I was wondering who it was. So it’s you!”

Jackie raised an eyebrow curiously, not expecting the man to recognize him. He looked at Jake, thinking about it for a while before noting that he had never seen him before.

Jake did not wait for Jackie to ask any questions and added, borderline shouting, “Who did the screening? How did they miss out on such a big problem?!”

Jake was incredibly emotional, so much so that his hands were clenched and his whole body was trembling. Moreover, he looked rather crazed.

Guardio looked at Jake in confusion. He did not recognize Jackie at all; it was his first time seeing Jackie.

When he saw how emotional Jake was, the curious Guardio reached out to grab Jake’s arm. “Who is this person? Why are you so emotional?”

Jake replied, “Do you remember me telling you that I had three juniors who lost to a warrior from a third-grade world? It’s this guy. His name is Jackie. His image has already been circled around our clan!”

“Every single warrior from the Azure Clan knows who he is! I shouldn’t have slacked off when they were doing their checks. I should’ve followed them and looked through every single person. If I was doing the checks, I would've seen him immediately! This guy just brings disaster!"

Just thinking about Jackie's record, Jake could not help but shiver.

Both the 33rd and 32nd-ranked disciples had fallen to him even when they attacked Jackie together. After that, a chosen disciple ranked in the top 20 but whose true strength was in the top 15 had lost to him as well.

Just with those results, Jake believed that Jackie would at least be ranked in the top five in his clan.

He would definitely not be able to stand up against Jackie.

Jackie had completely turned the tides just with his own strength, which made Jake even more sure that Jackie was the scourge of the Azure Clan.

Jake's hands trembled slightly. "I can't believe it's you! I thought that you wouldn't arrive in Weinhord City so quickly, but I was wrong. I can't believe we were unlucky enough to meet you!"

Jake's lips trembled as he spoke. His expression looked so sour that it looked like he had eaten a fly.

He turned around and said helplessly, "If it were anyone else, the two of us might've been able to face them together. If it's Jackie, then forget about it. I don't have the confidence. Even if the two of us work together, I'm still not confident in beating him. This guy really is a variable. Not only that, but he's… He is a complete monster, too."

Chapter 3402
"You must be thinking that Jackie must be from the Chaos Continent or Lycan Continent at worst, but that's not the case. This person comes from the weakest continent there is, Hestia!"

Jake's expression was completely twisted as he said all of that.

When he found out the information, Jake refused to believe that a brat from Hestia was able to cause the Azure Clan so much trouble. Even chosen disciples were no match for him.

He knew very well the kind of place Hestia was. It was a completely resource-deprived place. He thought that the strongest warrior from that place would only be able to be a runner disciple or an outer disciple, yet all of the sudden, a phoenix from a garbage dump raised and became a dark horse.

When Guardio heard that, his eyes widened abruptly. “What did you say? This guy is from the Hestia Continent?!”

As he said that, his face was full of disbelief.

Knowing the sort of place Hestia was, he was completely mystified that such a worthless place produced a warrior as strong as Jackie, and the shock was evident on his face. Even him working together with Jake would not be able to beat him!

He did not doubt the truth in Jake’s words. He knew that no matter how flawed Jake was, Jake was a prideful warrior, so the fact that Jake said all of that indicated that it was true.

Guardio’s lips twitched, and he started to look at Jackie with a completely different expression. Even his emotions started to feel a bit twisted.

The fact that he could not even stand up to a brat from a worthless third-grade world kept on echoing in his head.

He could not accept it, but there was nothing he could do about that. The truth was right in front of him. Unless he was crazy enough to try to work with Jake to fight Jackie, he would need to accept it.

There were thousands upon thousands of warriors in Weinhord City’s Three Deer Stage. Among those warriors, a third were from second-grade worlds while the rest were from third-grade worlds. They were all gathered there to witness the final results of the slaughter game.

The ones who survived the slaughter game would be sent to the Three Deer Stage, and the top-three placements would be revealed in a massive scroll.

Some of the warriors gathered there were waiting for their fellow disciples, while the others were just there to watch the show.

Most of the warriors from third-grade worlds looked visibly grim. They had been pushed around by the warriors from second-grade worlds, and each time they looked at a warrior from a third-grade world, they would feel incredibly uncomfortable.

As time slowly passed, the warriors gathered gradually lost their patience, especially the warriors from third-grade worlds.

A warrior from the Lycan Continent said to his fellow disciple, “What’s taking so long? Why hasn’t it ended? It’s already a day later than any other slaughter game before! Did something happen? Is the situation completely messed up? Why aren’t they out yet? We were told to wait for their triumphant return, and I hope nothing bad happened.”

His junior next to him frowned and said, “There shouldn’t be any problems. They just have to wait until a hundred and twenty people die for the game to end. Perhaps the ones who entered this time are closer in skill, so the battles last longer. That might be why it’s been dragged on for so long.”

The moment he said that, the warriors next to them joined the conversation as well. Even though they did not know each other, it did not stop them from talking.

A warrior from the Chaos Continent said, “Something unexpected must’ve happened for the time to drag on, I can almost feel it. Still, it shouldn’t be so long. At the very most, it’d be half a day. It’s already a day, but there are no signs of them coming out. I wonder how much longer we’ll have to wait. I’m starting to get anxious.”

Chapter 3403
The one standing next to him nodded. “I’m anxious, too! Everyone waiting here is anxious. I’m worried that we’ll get some bad news. I should’ve stopped my junior back then. I shouldn’t have let him join this stupid slaughter game. The death rate is depressingly high, and it’s too dangerous…”

“It’s not like there are no other ways to earn spirit crystals. What need was there for him to take such a huge risk to join the slaughter game?!”

The moment he said that, there were calls of agreement throughout, and more of them started to discuss it.

”That’s right… The death rate in the slaughter games is way too high. Even though the game will end once a hundred and twenty people die, most of them who’ll die are the warriors from third-grade worlds, and they have a seventy-percent death rate. Just thinking about such a high number of deaths makes me shudder!”

The moment that was said, everyone’s expression soured. Even though they did not say anything, their hatred for warriors of second-grade worlds still reached its limit. The warriors from second-grade worlds and the warriors from third-grade worlds were already reaching the peak of their conflict.

A warrior from White Marsh Continent said curiously, “Did you notice? They seem much quieter this time…”

That person was referring to the warriors from second-grade worlds.

He would naturally not name any names, worried about being targeted, so he chose to be vague in voicing his thoughts. The others naturally understood, and they started to talk about it.

“That’s right. Before this, the Three Deer Stage will have a lot of warriors gathered here when the slaughter game is about to end. They’d try to show off in front of us, and always try to mock us…”

“I don’t know what happened this time. Those guys might still be gathered together and separated from us, but they’re not actively running their mouths, accusing us of ‘not knowing our place’. It’s strange. Did they have an epiphany or something?”

The moment that person said that, someone immediately shot back, “Even if pigs can fly, these people will never gain any self-awareness without a prompt. They’ll do whatever they can to push us down as long as they get the chance to. They just want to show us how noble they are. There must be something wrong going on here.”

“What could be happening? I think it’s because the warriors from second-grade worlds who entered this time are all just not that strong. The ones in the top three might be warriors from third-grade worlds. They anticipated the result, so they aren’t daring to act arrogant!”

“I think so too. Why else are they so quiet? They’re gathered here, but they’re not talking or loudly shouting at anyone. It’s like they’ve become mute.”

The discussions were heard by the warriors from second-grade worlds, and their anger soared. They did not act as arrogantly as before because they did not want their plans to be exposed.

They wanted to avoid any trouble as long as it was possible, hence their silence. Unexpectedly, these useless third-grade world warriors belittled them!

They felt like they were completely smeared. The warriors from second-grade worlds could no longer remain calm.

An inner disciple from a holy grade clan suddenly shouted at the warriors from the third-grade worlds, “What do you know? We just don’t want to bother you guys. Are your ears itching because you haven’t been shouted at? Will you only be happy if we mock you a few times?”

“The top three places in the slaughter game will always belong to the second-grade worlds. There’ll never be anyone from a third-grade world! You’re dreaming here. You’re just lumps of trash bags! All you’re good at is bragging!”

This time, the warriors from the third-grade worlds were in a complete uproar.

Those words were just far too ugly. The insults had never been so bad before.

Chapter 3404
The warriors of third-grade worlds were enraged to have been insulted by such words.

They wanted nothing more than to fight all the warriors from the second-grade worlds, yet they knew very well that the warriors from second-grade worlds were stronger than them on average.

However, there were warriors from over ten third-grade worlds there, and they had the upper hand in numbers, so a clear victor could not be easily decided if they ended up fighting.

Those from second-grade worlds had pushed them down too many times, so they had piled up a lot of anger.

A warrior from the Lycan Continent shouted out loudly, “I know that second-grade worlds have a lot of strong warriors, but do you think there are none from third-grade worlds? We have powerful prodigies, too. We have more prodigies than you, too!”

“Don’t think you can keep waving your ‘we’re from a powerful origin’ card to our faces. We haven’t done anything against you before this just because we don’t want the trouble, but you kept trying to cross the line!”

Everyone around him agreed, cursing at the second-grade world warriors for not knowing their place. Ever since they started to be grouped up with second-grade worlds, they had been looked down on in every front.

Those warriors from second-grade worlds were clearly not that god-like, but they relished in acting as though they were superior.

No matter what the actual situation was, they decided that they were better than warriors from third-grade worlds just because of where they were from.

A warrior from a third-grade world shouted, ”It’s not like every one of you is a genius, so why are you acting like you’re an omnipotent being? You keep trying to show off in front of us.”

“You do have strong warriors on your side, but do you think we don’t? You have so many wandering warriors, which is pretty much the same as us. I really don’t know where you get your sense of superiority from!”

When the warriors from second- grade worlds heard that, they refused to show any weakness.

A warrior from the Golden Continent said loudly, “We’re just stronger than you; that’s why we’re superior! We’re a level higher than you. Curse your luck to have been born in a third-grade world, then. If you hailed from a second-grade world, I’d look at you as an equal!”

When that was said, it ignited the anger of third-grade world warriors. The arguments got more and more intense. If it was not for the fact that they still knew to hold back, they would have started fighting on the spot.

A warrior from the Sacred Water Continent frowned as he lowered his voice, saying, “Why are all of you quarreling with those scraps? What’s the point? Will you be able to win anything?”

“In the end, the results are what matters. Just let them say whatever they want…”

“They’ll just be slapped in the face anyway. Do you think they can even dream of being high up in the rankings? Ever since the slaughter games started, no third-grade world warrior has been able to climb on that board. They’re just dreaming by saying all of that. Just let them dream on.”

After that person said that, quite a few warriors from second- grade worlds agreed.

A warrior from the Sacred Water Continent said, “They’ re just being loud right now because they don’t know anything. Once the slaughter game ends, they’ll be stunned when they see who survives.”

Chapter 3405
Saying that, the warriors from second-grade worlds immediately lowered their voices, not wanting those from third-grade worlds to hear them.

“Lance is right. Do we really need to waste our time and effort on them? Let them feel with themselves for now. They’ll be crying soon enough.”

An inner disciple from Azure Clan laughed and said, “Even before the results are out, we already know who’ll be in the top three. They’re all blindly trying to guess like idiots. They’re even saying that their men, too, can be at the top of the slaughter game rankings! I can’t believe they’re not afraid of being laughed at!”

An outer disciple of Azure Clan laughed and said, “The results aren’t out yet, so they can say whatever they want. These people are already used to living in filth. They sure love dreaming. We shouldn’t be so petty with them.”

“Guardio will be in first place, Jake will be second, and Florian will be in third place anyway, and that won’t change! Let them feel happy about themselves for now. There’s no point for us to stoop to their level.”

“You’re right. They can say whatever they want to, ’cause it won’t happen anyway. We should just keep quiet so we don’t stir their suspicions. Their happiness won’t last that long, and their laughter will die down soon enough.”

Slowly, the warriors from second-grade worlds no longer bothered quarreling with the warriors from third-grade worlds.

The warriors from the third-grade worlds no longer bothered arguing since the other party was quiet, but their suspicions remained as they could not shake off the feeling something was amiss. However, they could not figure it out.

Time slowly passed, and after another hour or so, the Three Deer Stage finally showed some movement.

A vibrant light suddenly surrounded the whole stage, causing everyone to hold their breaths. Everyone knew that the results were about to be announced.

A massive scroll materialized at the center of the stage slowly flying into the air. After that, the scroll was slowly opened. The slaughter game only announced the top ten rankings, and it would start from first place.

Their shock was only warranted when they saw Jackie's name.

A warrior from Hestia said as his lips trembled, "Jackie is in first place…With twenty-one kills! He hails from Hestia, and he's in first place! Quick, have a double-take! Did I misread that? Am I hallucinating?!"

His fellow disciple next to him said, "No, you read right! Just look at everyone else's faces. They look the same as you! If it's a hallucination, then everyone must be hallucinating at the same time!"

Jackie's name was in first place, while Guardio was in second place, and Jake was in third. In fourth place was someone called Chandler.

The warriors from the second-grade worlds were all stunned. Florian's name was nowhere to be seen among the top ten at all!

Where did he go?

A chosen disciple from Azure Clan said stiffly, "Could something have happened to Florian?"

"Impossible! Florian ranks at the eleventh place among chosen disciples. With his skills, there wouldn't be any problems for him to sweep the slaughter game. There's no way anything happened to him! Florian must've had some other plans and ignored the rewards!"

After that person said that, everyone else was quiet.

No one agreed with him, and no one spoke. Everything in front of them had stunned the warriors from second-grade worlds. They could not believe what they were seeing!

All of them had stiff expressions on their faces.

At that moment, a warrior from a third-grade world said loudly, “Do you see that? Who’s in first place?! I’ve already said that there will be a warrior from a third-grade world in the top three! You refused to believe it and even tried to insult us!”

“Open your eyes and look! Who’s in first place?! Is it a warrior from a second-grade world?!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3406 - 3410 -

Chapter 3406

“You were so happy with yourself and tried so hard to push us down, so why the silence now? Weren’t you so sure that the first three placings would all be warriors from second-grade worlds?”

“Why aren’t you saying that anymore?! How does it feel to slap yourselves in the face? Did it feel good?”

Right after that was said, the expressions of the second-grade-world warriors soured.

They had just been talking about how warriors from the third-grade worlds would not be able to say anything after the results were out, but to their utmost shock, their words came to bite them in return.

It was Jackie’s name instead listed in first place.

The warriors from the Golden Continent were already very familiar with Jackie’s name.

The warriors from Azure Clan all had dark looks on their faces when they saw Jackie’s name. It was like their families had been killed overnight.

An inner disciple from Azure Clan said, “That’s Jackie! Could it be that guy who defeated three of ours in the level six city?!”

Another disciple next to him said, “Not only did he defeat three, but there’s already four if you count Nevada as well. If he was in the Azure Clan, he’d probably be ranked in the top five. I don’t think it’s a surprise that he’s in first place.”

Most of the disciples from Azure Clan agreed with that assessment. After defeating three chosen disciples from Azure Clan, all of them had a deep impression of Jackie, and they tried to estimate his skills.

After thinking about it, they came to the conclusion that Jackie’s skills should be among the top five of chosen disciples in a holy grade clan. Regular chosen disciples would be no match for Jackie.

“I have an uneasy feeling in my stomach. If Jackie’s here, then could Florian not be in the rankings because he… He died to Jackie?!”

The moment that was said, everyone exchanged looks with each other.

Quite a few people wanted to disagree with that loudly, but they could not bring themselves to open their mouths to say it because they felt like it was a definite possibility. The possibility was quite large as well.

Jackie was an unknown variable to their plans this time, and this man would no doubt hinder their plan.

After a frantic wait, the space around the Three Deer stage started to distort as a sign that there were people being transferred over. After a few moments, 100 survivors stood on the stage.

In the very middle was Jackie, wearing his gray robes. Not too far away from Jackie was Jake and Guardio, their expressions hardened. If anyone looked closer, they would notice that the two of them seemed to be forcing themselves to remain calm.

At that moment, the warriors from the third-grade worlds were in an uproar. There were those who loudly shouted at anyone they recognized on the stage.

A warrior from Hestia cheered loudly, “Alfred! Over here! We were waiting for you! I know you’d come back safely!”

Alfred immediately looked over when he heard the cheering.

When he heard what his fellow disciple said, Alfred let out a wry smile. If Jackie had not been there, he would have already been tortured to death.

How could he have gotten out so easily?

Just thinking about that, Alfred could not hold back his hatred. He turned around and gave Jackie a deep bow.

Before they got out, he had told Jackie everything he wanted to say. Jackie asked not of any sort of gifts in return and only wanted Alfred to live on properly.

After that bow, he turned around and walked down.

Chapter 3407
The surviving warriors from third-grade worlds emotionally returned to the people they knew.

Meanwhile, second-grade world warriors looked visibly troubled when they saw that many third-grade world warriors had survived.

They knew that their final goal in the plan was to not let any warriors from third-grade worlds survive, using the cruelest methods they could to get even more Heartblood. Alas, it all seemed for naught as many from third-grade worlds had survived.

In fact, the losses the second-grade worlds suffered were even higher than the warriors from third-grade worlds' this time!

When they realized that, the warriors from second-grade worlds could no longer keep their composure.

"What's happening?" asked one of them. "Why did so many of them survive?!"

"Did any of you see Hirving? How is he not here?!"

"It's not just Hirving, Uriel's not out either! Both of them are chosen disciples! How could they not have survived? What happened? Why did it come to this?!"

The Three Deer Stage only sent out the warriors that survived. If a person was not there, it meant that the person was dead. However, a few warriors from second-grade worlds could not accept this fact. After all, many of the warriors who did not make it out were incredibly strong, even stronger than most of them there.

Regrettably, not that many of them managed to walk out of the slaughter game alive. Quite a lot of them could not accept it.

How did it get to this?

What happened in that isolated space during the slaughter game?

Jackie calmly walked down the Three Deer Stage, and a happy-looking Rudy was following behind him.

Rudy had naturally trusted Jackie's skills and that Jackie would be able to get him out of the slaughter game. However, before he came out in the end, he still had his worries. After all, the slaughter game was a plot this time.

Jackie needed to deal with far too many people, and any small mistake would throw all of them into danger. Thankfully, he dealt with all the problems, and they managed to get out easily.

After walking down the Three Deer Stage, the warriors that gathered around it made a path for them. Walking through the crowd, Jackie could hear their whispers.

"Jackie killed twenty-one people! One person gets him five million spirit crystals! Just from this slaughter game alone, he managed to get a hundred and five million! Goodness… That's a hundred and five million!"

"I've never seen so many spirit crystals in my life!

“It’s so frustrating comparing myself to these people. Most people would be thankful enough just to survive the slaughter game, but not only did he escape unharmed, but he even managed to make a hundred and five million spirit crystals! That’s too big of a difference!”

“Let’s not think about that anymore. I heard one of my seniors mention that they only managed to get out of the slaughter game thanks to Jackie’s help. Otherwise, not a single one of them would’ve made it out…”

“Really? Did something happen?”

Hearing all those whispers, Jackie’s face betrayed no emotion. Yet, Rudy’s lips curled up as he walked by his side.

After the two of them walked out, Jackie headed straight for the nearest inn. Getting out of the slaughter game was within his expectations, but getting out of it safely had consumed much effort. He planned on resting for two days before making plans for the future.

Chapter 3408
The inn was not far away from the Three Deer stage, and it took Jackie and Rudy only an hour to reach their destination.

Jackie did not say another word as he took out the spirit crystals to get a room for 10 days.

When the two of them went upstairs, Rudy could no longer hold back as he gushed, “Those two were so scared of you! I thought that they wanted to see you because they wanted one final showdown. I didn’t expect that they weren’t lying at all.”

“They actually were just curious and wanted to see how you looked and what your name was. After that, they told their subordinates to kill all of those that were still being kept barely alive, sending the number of deaths to a hundred and twenty to end the slaughter game…”

As he said that, Jake’s expression flashed in Rudy’s mind.

When Jake looked at Jackie, Jake looked like he had swallowed a fly. He looked to be suffering incredibly.

He seemed furious at Jackie, but there was nothing he could do. When he knew that Jackie had been the one taking the charge with everything, Jake already knew that there was no way they could turn things around, they had lost.

The plan could no longer go on, so they quickly ended the slaughter game to keep their losses to a minimum.

Rudy laughed as he said, “That Guardio had such a long look on his face. He looked at you as if he wanted to rush forward and bite you. He must hate you immensely right now. He must be thinking that they would’ve finished their tasks easily if you weren’t around. Not only did they fail their task this time, but they‘ll be punished when they get back, too!”

Rudy‘s smile threatened to split his face apart.

He narrowed his eyes and continued, “These presumptuous guys think that they can rule over the Whirling World just because they’re somewhat skilled. What a joke! I think they’re like a bunch of shrimp who only dare to bully the weak. When facing anyone strong, their pride completely evaporates. It‘s hilarious!”

Jackie nodded with a slight smile.

Rudy sat on the chair and continued, though this time sounding somewhat irked, “They’ve suffered this time. Jackie, you need to be prepared. You’ll end up on their hit list, and they‘ll do their best to cause you trouble everywhere.”

Jackie nodded. “They’ll try to figure out a way to kill me. However, ever since I arrived at Hestia, my enemies never stopped coming for me. If they want to kill me, they‘ll have to pay the price for it with their own flesh. I’ll make sure they understand that nothing good comes from trying to go against me!”

The Whirling World’s various rules meant that most places within the cities prohibited any fighting.

If they wanted to kill Jackie, they would need to operate within the rules. However, Jackie viewed the rules as tools for him to do what he wanted to. If they fought within the rules, it was hard to say who would win.

Rudy poured some tea for Jackie. “Do we have any plans after this? There are still a few places in Weinhord City. Are we going to continue staying here, or are we going to leave for the next city? With your Crystal Badge, we can go wherever we want anyway.”

Jackie shook his head. “We won’t leave Weinhord City for now. There are still a lot of great places we should go to. Also, I feel like they‘ll try again since their plans failed this time. I’m not trying to be righteous, but I want to make them feel fear.”

When Rudy heard that, he raised an eyebrow curiously. “What are you planning to do to intimidate them?”

Jackie let out a smile as he said slowly, “It’s very simple. They’ll keep trying to challenge and target me after this. I‘ll take the chance to inflict a little bit of pain on them.”

Chapter 3409

“Once enough of them try their luck, they’ll need to think of the retribution they’ll have to go through if they continue to target me. These people might hate me, but as long as I can make them feel fear, they’ll have no choice but to concede and zip it.”

Rudy nodded vigorously after he heard that, saying in approval, “You’re right! That’s exactly what you should do! You should make them feel pain. Make sure that they know they’ll just keep suffering if they continue. They‘ll realize how stupid everything they’re doing is once they see that they‘ve suffered too much.”

Jackie sipped his tea while saying, “We’ll be facing more of them in the future, and we’ll be facing even more warriors from second-grade words. We have to enter the Vibrant Hall. Once the news spreads, countless people will want a piece of the pie. Warriors from third-grade worlds will join too.”

Rudy‘s lips twitched as he straightened his body and said, “Warriors from third-grade worlds? Do they not know their place? If they join, they‘d just be cannon fodder…”

“Vibrant Hall is among the level two cities. Weinhord is just a level four city, and three second-grade worlds are already gathered here. If they continue advancing, even stronger second- grade worlds will be competing against us. The dangers and death rates would just keep increasing.”

“Those who aren‘t strong enough have to either stay in lower-level cities or end up being cannon fodder, easily killed by the strong. Even I can see that, so why can‘t they? Why would they still try to interfere? Do they not want to live anymore?”

Jackie sighed as he looked out the window. “Any warrior will be beguiled by treasures. Even though everyone realizes this, it’s hard for them to not be tempted by this…”

“Those who are confident in their own skills might say that they won‘t dare to participate, but their hearts are most definitely intrigued. They’ll all just wait for a chance. Even if they know that they may die, they‘d still want to try.”

Hearing that, Rudy sighed, he felt like Jackie was right.

A lot of warriors were crazy fanatics who would disregard their lives for treasure and resources, thinking they would have a strike of luck.

As long as they managed to survive, they would be able to get the treasures and their abilities would soar, earring admiration everywhere.

Rudy sighed and said, “These people insist on trying their hand at something that’s almost certain death, but I’m not surprised at all. I suddenly feel like I‘m the smartest person.”

Rudy had resigned himself to his fate. After all, he completely relied on Jackie to reach where he was. He would not even dream about touching something like that.

The next day, Jackie brought Rudy downstairs to drink some tea while they listened in on conversations to gather some information.

The inn was a great source of information. Many warriors gathered here to drink and talk, saying things that they did not necessarily have to.

Jackie looked downstairs and noted that they were all warriors from third-grade worlds, and not a single warrior from a second-grade world was in sight.

It seemed like the warriors from second-grade worlds wanted to separate themselves from the warriors from third-grade worlds no matter what, just to show off their status.

Chapter 3410
They would always choose to gather where warriors from third-grade worlds were not present.

To prevent any trouble, Jackie put on a disguise as he and Rudy sat at a corner of the inn, and the two drank tea as they listened to the discussions.

A man wearing black robes loudly ranted, “This is too much! What more do they want?! They‘re showing their hands now. Do they think we’ll still fall for it? I can’t believe they can be so cruel!”

“Killing is killing. None of us have clean hands anyway. However, they don‘t care what they do for the sake of their goals. They tortured so many third-grade world warriors to death for the sake of their Heartblood!”

“To stop the information from getting out, they even tried to kill all third-grade world warriors in that slaughter game! Their methods are cruel, and their hearts are despicable! I hate that I’m too weak to kill them all myself!”

A bearded man next to him sighed and said, “Those guys act so fearlessly probably because they feel that we won‘t dare to fight back. They don’t even think we‘re people at all. They look at us like livestock that they can kill at any time!”

“As long as it benefits them, they’d probably be willing to even eat us alive! This has nothing to do with cruelty. In their eyes, cruelty doesn’t exist. They just think this is all natural!”

These third-grade-world warriors were furious as they lamented and ranted. All of them gritted their teeth as they spoke, wanting nothing more than to find a warrior from a second-grade world to fight them to the death.

Even Rudy's face was turning red in anger. His eyes looked like they were going to pop out of their sockets.

He gritted his teeth and said, "I say we exact vengeance on those men given the chance. What do you say, Jackie? These warriors from second-grade worlds have gone too far!"

Jackie pursed his lips helplessly. "I don't know how many times I've heard you say they've crossed the line within a day. Can't you say anything else? Don't think about it anymore. In the eyes of second-grade-world warriors, it's not crossing the line at all. It's just that it makes us angry hearing about that. There's no need to try looking for revenge; we should just do what we need to."

Rudy nodded seriously.

The others grew rowdier.

The purple-robed man said angrily, "They won't stop here. They'll try everything they can to collect even more Heartblood! Who knows how many will die because of them!"

The others nodded at that person's words.

A lot of them started to lament the fact that they could not control their own fates.

The bearded man said, "Thankfully, Jackie managed to safeguard them. If he wasn't there, those people wouldn't have walked out alive. If they all died, we wouldn't know what happened to them even if we noticed. Then, we'd have nothing to say!"

The moment that was said, everyone's expressions darkened.

The purple-robed man sighed before he said, "What do we do now? Are we just supposed to wait and pray that they don't continue targeting us? Are we not going to fight back?"

Someone else replied, "Of course we want to fight back! Everyone here does! Yet, the truth is right in front of us, and there are always some problems we have to consider. The warriors from second-grade worlds are just stronger than us as a whole. We'll have to pay a huge price to fight back."

"The only thing we can do is to avoid any of the plots and stop ourselves from becoming their prey. We should always be on the alert and watch out for each other. They wouldn't be able to kill us if they tried."

"So we're just supposed to bear with it? My senior was tortured to death by them! Can't I take revenge?"

“None said that you can’t, but the price of revenge is steep. We need to act when the time is right, and not fight every battle we see. We have to think about things clearly! We also need a leader that can face them!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3411 - 3415 -

The moment that was said, everyone widened their eyes. Everyone knew who would have to be that leader.

The bearded man touched his beard and said, “Other than Jackie, no one else has the skills to do it. As time passed, I learned a lot about Jackie. Even though he’s from Hestia Continent, talent surpasses anything. He’s never lost before. I heard those warriors from second-grade worlds say that Jackie’s skills should be at the level of a top-five chosen disciple in a holy grade clan.”

The others agreed, “Of course, it has to be Jackie! No one else would be able to lead us other than him! Where‘s Jackie, though? Up till now, I‘m not even sure if he‘s still in Weinhord City!”

Jackie immediately lowered his head in the corner. Thankfully, he had put on a disguise before he left the room, and no one recognized him.

Rudy immediately lowered his head as well.

He whispered to Jackie, “They want you to be their leader? Do you even want to do that?”

Jackie’s lips twitched somewhat helplessly when he heard that.

He turned around to look at Rudy, “Let them say what they want to, why are you thinking that was as well? Do you really think I would be a leader? Would it benefit me at all? Would they really be willing to follow me?”

“Of course, Iwill be doing some things, but I‘ll never be that so-called leader. It’s something that requires so much effort, but for no benefit. I don’t even plan on returning to Hestia Continent after leaving the Whirling World, so the position is pointless to me.”

Rudy nodded immediately, “I wasn‘t thinking properly. I just wanted revenge, to make those warriors from second-grade worlds pay!”

Jackie sighed helplessly, reaching out to pat Rudy on the shoulder, “Why are you so adamant about making them pay? There’s no way we can kill all of the warriors from second- grade worlds. In the end, we’ll still need a conclusion. What we want is to make them feel enough pain that they‘ll be scared of my abilities.”

Rudy nodded, not continuing to dwell on the issue. However, the people around them started to argue yet again.

A warrior from White Marsh Continent raised his voice and said, “We can‘t put all our hopes on Jackie. We don‘t even know where he is right now. To a genius like that, he’d only be concerned with treasures. He probably wouldn‘t want to be a leader even if we make him ours. If he doesn’t want to do it, there’s nothing we can say.”

“You‘re right, but we have to try no matter what! Don‘t you know this? There are already problems at the Demon Spirit Kingdom!”

The moment that was said, a wave of surprise was felt. Everyone turned to look at the person who was speaking.

That person had green robes on, and he coughed awkwardly when everyone turned to look at him, “Do all of you really not know?!”

The person next to him said in confusion, “What kind of problems could there be with the Demon Spirit Kingdom? You only need to kill demons and beasts to earn rewards there! You don‘t need to kill anyone, so how could there be problems?”

The man in green robes sighed, “So you really don‘t know? Those people really are despicable. As long as they can attack, they don‘t care about anything else! It’s true that you just need to kill demons and beasts in the Demon Spirit Kingdom.”

“However, the rules state that only the top three can get prizes while up to thirty can participate! These depraved guys started to form groups of twenty to enter after the last time. After that, they would attack the warriors from third-grade worlds! Since those warriors did not know that they would be attacked, they panicked and suffered total losses!”

Chapter 3412
Quite a few people were stunned when they heard that.

Someone asked loudly, “Doesn’t the Demon Spirit Kingdom prohibit fighting each other?”

The green-robed man nodded and said, “It’s true, there is a restriction against fighting each other. That Demon Spirit Kingdom saw ten warriors from third-grade worlds enter, and not a single one of them was left alive…”

“On top of that, their plans are already known to all of us, so we’re suspecting that they came up with a plan to work together and kill all the warriors from third-grade worlds. This time, there’s no one like Jackie around to save them, so not a single person survived!”

A warrior from Lycan Continent trembled in anger, “Did they not give any explanations? Did no one question them?”

The man sighed helplessly, “We have questioned them, but that was the extent of it. No one dared to do anything else. They gave their reasoning as well, but that reasoning was just exceptionally hilarious. They actually said that the warriors from third-grade worlds that entered this time were all killed by the beasts due to their lack of skills. The warriors from second-grade worlds didn’t do anything at all!”

“It’s all a load of crap! What kind of excuse is that?! If there are those not skilled enough who end up being killed by beasts, there‘s no way all of them would! There would definitely be a few left alive! Do they really think we‘d believe in that reasoning?”

The man shook his head, “Of course, no one believed it. They voiced out questions, and the warriors from second-grade worlds answered. Only, their answers were as good as nothing!”

“They merely claimed to not know anything and blamed us for not looking at ourselves in the mirror. They blamed us for insisting on going to such a dangerous place despite being so weak, and claimed that the dead had nothing to do with that!”

The moment that was said, the sound of a cup being shattered could be heard.

Someone violently threw the teacup on the ground, causing a commotion . The warriors in the inn were all furious after hearing that.

No one would believe such a ridiculous reason. They still insisted on acting that way. It proved that those people did not treat the warriors from third-grade worlds as humans at all.

The anger surged in their chests, and no one could remain calm. Even Rudy started to pant angrily as he stared right at the teacup in front of him, not saying anything.

Jackie sighed slightly, sipping some of his tea.

The tea was actually quite fragrant, but other than himself, no one there was really enjoying the tea. They had all been taken over by anger and wanted nothing more than to rush out to demand some justice.

However, Jackie felt like those thoughts were quite amusing.

Their skills were not up to par, and there was no way to fight such a huge group battle anyway. All they could do was show their anger, but there was no way they could act on it.

The green-robed man saw that the crowd was starting to get angry, and he felt like his words had affected the confidence of the warriors from third-grade worlds, so he hurriedly said, “However, their plan only worked once. We thought of a way to counter that. In the future, we will always only register as groups of twenty…”

“Once we enter the Demon Spirit Kingdom, we will determine each other’s locations through sound transfer arrays, and start hunting in groups. It‘s no longer about the results, and instead about keeping alive.”

Chapter 3413
“The warriors from second-grade worlds are still trying to do something, but their numbers are much fewer, and we’ve been on high alert. They might have tried, but they haven’t succeeded yet!”

The green-robed man’s words did nothing to calm the crowd. A warrior from Lycan Continent said helplessly, “Are we just going to keep getting pushed around like this? They challenge us everywhere, but we‘re just forced to think of ways to stop them. Will it keep on being like that?”

Those words frustrated everyone even more, but they could not figure out any way to solve the problem.

They really wanted to say that they would fight those warriors from second-grade worlds with their numbers, but none of them could voice it out.

In the end, Weinhord City did not allow fighting other than in specific areas or special matches.

Various restrictions stopped them from using their numbers to their advantage. Yet, the warriors from second-grade worlds could use their skills to keep on attacking them.

All of the warriors from third-grade worlds started to feel tired.

Rudy said, “Jackie, do you think there’s any way to solve this?”

Jackie shook his head, “There are no solutions. This world is a world where the strong eat up the weak anyway. The Whirling World’s various rules target the individuals, and not the groups, while the only advantage the third-grade worlds have is numbers…”

“Whether it’s in terms of overall strength or number of geniuses, the second-grade worlds still hold a huge advantage. On top of that, the warriors from second-grade worlds are very ambitious. They won’t stop until they get enough Heartblood. So, just like what they said, they‘re only going to suffer and figure out ways to deal with it after that. Only then will they be able to reduce their losses!”

Rudy‘s lips trembled, not wanting to accept the truth, but there was nothing he could do about it.

As someone weak, he could empathize with how helpless everyone else was feeling there. The part that Rudy could not accept the most was that the warriors from second-grade worlds did not even see warriors from third-grade worlds as humans, but as livestock that could be dealt with any way they wanted.

He could not accept that at all. Just thinking about it made Rudy incredibly furious. However, his abilities were limited, and there was nothing he could do. So, he was forced to suppress the anger in his heart.

Slowly, Rudy started to lose control of his anger.

Jackie saw the dark look on Rudy's face and could tell what was on Rudy's mind.

He pushed the tea in front of Rudy.

"Don't think too much. In the future, you'll see even more things. If you keep on having this attitude, you'll just end up getting angrier and angrier. There are even more things that can't be solved in the world. Unless you have abilities that defy any expectations, you should just forget about it."

Rudy nodded but no words came from his mouth.

Jackie drank his tea and said, "I'll go somewhere after this, but let's return to the room so I can absorb the hundred-soul herb."

The hundred soul herb was his final reward in the slaughter games. He was allowed to choose one reward from ten treasures, and Jackie immediately had his eyes on that. The hundred soul herb was not the most valuable among those treasures, but it was the most beneficial to him.

At that moment, he had already reached the first level of master of Soul Sky and could use the Broken Soul Blade, but that was just the start.

He was still very far away from the second stage. He needed a lot of soul attribute treasures to support him. Only with those would he be able to improve even more.

Chapter 3414
Absorbing the hundred soul herb took two days and two nights.

The moment he finished, Jackie opened his eyes as a hint of exasperation flashed on his face. Rudy was always by Jackie's side.

When he saw the look on Jackie's face, he asked curiously, "What? Did something bad happen?"

Jackie shook his head as he sighed, slowly standing up. The exasperation on his face got even thicker.

Rudy felt even more curious at that, “If there are no problems, then what’s with the expression?”

At that moment, all of the energy had already been extracted from the herb by Jackie. The herb had already turned into gray ash.

Jackie looked at those ashes and said, “The hundred-soul herb is worth sixty million spirit crystals, and it’s something you might not even find if you can afford it in the Whirling World. Yet, it‘s not as useful as I expected after absorbing it. If I need to walk ten steps to get to the second stage, I haven’t even managed to take the first step…”

“I need to absorb another one for me to truly have taken that first step, but what about the nine other steps? Just taking this one step would already cost me sixty million!”

“Do you know what sixty million is?! It’s a third of everything I have! I felt exasperated because I realized that the resources I‘ll be needing in the future will only get more and more. I don’t really know how to feel.“

Jackie was being truthful. A hundred soul herb was considered a holy grade item, and it was worth around 55 million to 63 million spirit crystals. Even though the price was uncertain there was no way it would be lower than 55 million. The normal price should be as Jackie said.

That price was quite expensive to Jackie. After all, even after spending so long accumulating spirit crystals, he only had about 170 million.

Jackie‘s savings were already immense compared to anyone else, but it was far from enough for Jackie.

Jackie needed at least fifty of such a valuable treasure. His future training would need even more valuable treasures.

Just thinking about that gave him a headache. He needed to find a solution to that problem.

Rudy licked his lips by the side. Jackie‘s fortune was already something Rudy felt like he would never be able to get.

If Jackie gave Rudy all his spirit crystals, Rudy would even start laughing in his sleep. That amount of spirit crystals was a sum that Rudy felt he would never be able to finish using. Yet, Jackie felt like it was not enough.

Rudy could not help but shake his head at the difference.

After a moment, Rudy said, “Then we have to figure out a way to make even more spirit crystals!”

Jackie took a deep breath and said seriously, “Other than the resources I need for training, I still need 900 million spirit crystals to buy ninth-grade crystals.”

That was the first time Jackie had mentioned that to Rudy.

Rudy‘s mouth widened at that, “What did you say? You still need 900 million?! Oh my god, isn’t that too much?! How long would you need?”

Jackie took a deep breath as he quietly poured himself some more tea, taking a sip as he said, “As long as I constantly improve my alchemy, making more spirit crystals won’t be a problem when we leave the Whirling World.“

Rudy did not know much about the path of a warrior, since his talents were limited, but Rudy was still a little confident when it came to alchemy. Hearing Jackie say that, he straightened his body.

Chapter 3415
“You want to make 900 million from alchemy? You should know better than I do how hard that is. If you want to get to that point with alchemy, you’d at least need to become a ninth-grade alchemist. Even that might not be enough. A holy-grade alchemist is more like it!”

“You know what a holy grade alchemist is better than I do. Hestia Continent doesn’t even have a single one. It might not even have a ninth-grade alchemist. Improving your skills in alchemy doesn’t just need talent, you need a lot of time as well…”

“You need to keep on trying and trying, learning from your errors to improve. I know that you’re incredibly talented in both alchemy and combat, but alchemy is different from fighting. You can‘t become a holy grade alchemist in a short time with just your talents.”

Rudy looked at Jackie seriously as he said all of that.

In truth, Rudy felt like he was wasting his time. If he thought about it, Jackie would have too. However, he did not know how Jackie wanted to make so much through alchemy despite knowing that.

Rudy felt like it was not realistic at all. Becoming a holy grade alchemist needed a lot of time. One needed to constantly refine pills to accumulate enough experience through their errors to improve.

In the end, he knew that there had never been a holy grade alchemist in Hestia Continent.

It was far too difficult to achieve. It was a height not achievable for the alchemists of Hestia Continent.

Jackie sighed as he looked at Rudy, “Of course, I know that. However, this is the only path I have. After all, I‘ve never thought about entering any clans or groups. I can only rely on myself.”

Ever since entering Hestia Continent, Jackie had entered two clans but had failed to benefit much from them. Instead, he felt like his freedom had been restricted, and he had been tied down. Yet, sometimes, he felt like he needed to give as much as he took from the clans.

After all, clans were no idiots. They needed large amounts of resources to raise a warrior, so they naturally needed something in return.

Jackie felt like he could not make himself part of a clan, and there was no way he would allow a clan to be the one to raise him, so he needed to rely on himself in the end.

He was already prepared. When it came to becoming a holy grade alchemist, others might think that it was something impossible, but it was the opposite for him. As long as he wanted to, he could do it in a few years.

After all, he had absorbed the memories of an ancient hero. As long as he completely synchronized the memories with his body, it would not be difficult to become holy grade alchemy. He could even improve on those memories.

Jackie reached out and patted Rudy on the shoulder, saying seriously, “We’ve already known each other for so long. You know me quite well. When have I ever said something I could not do?”

Rudy said seriously, “Of course, I know you‘ll be able to do what you set out to do. I‘m not saying you can’t become a holy-grade alchemist, I’m just saying you’ll need a lot of time…”

“Once you become one, you’ll just get more and more spirit crystals. I just feel like the pace of your growth as an alchemist might not be able to catch up to the spirit crystals you need.”

Jackie nodded, saying with a smile, “Don‘t worry, it will. As long as I want to, any amount of spirit crystals isn’t a problem…”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3416-3420 -

Chapter 3416
Rudy felt like Jackie‘s words seemed incredibly confident, and his admiration for Jackie reached its peak.

The next following day, Jackie brought Rudy to the Demon Spirit Kingdom to sign up.

The Demon Spirit Kingdom was one of the tests for warriors in Weinhord City. Countless demon spirit beasts would appear there. Those beasts came in various shapes and sizes, but all of them sported a pair of green eyes.

The task for the warriors was to exterminate those beasts. After that, they would be ranked based on the number of beasts they managed to kill, and only the top three would be rewarded.

Similarly, the beasts would attack the warriors as well, and there was a chance to be killed by the beasts if one was not careful. Quite a few warriors died in the Demon Spirit Kingdom. However, the numbers kept on rising, and most of them were warriors from the third- grade world.

On top of what had happened in the slaughter game, the warriors from the third-grade worlds were on high alert.

They could tell that the sudden rise in deaths was the doing of the warriors from the second-grade worlds. The aim was to gain even more Heartblood to open the Vibrant Hall.

The Demon Spirit Kingdom was on the westernmost side of Weinhord City. From afar, quite a few people gathered there for registration could be seen.

When Jackie and Rudy arrived, the registration area was incredibly noisy. Quite a few people were shouting at one another with red faces.

Jackie frowned, not expecting such an explosive sight to greet him the moment he arrived.

There were two sides of people standing in front. Looking at their attire, it was clear that the ones on the left were warriors from third-grade worlds, while the ones on the right were warriors from second-grade worlds. Both sides were shouting at each other, and it was incredibly noisy, making Jackie annoyed.

Rudy widened his eyes and said, “What are they fighting over? Why are they talking about queueing up and ruining the rules?”

Jackie raised his hand and interrupted Rudy's questions, "Just listen for a bit. If we can't understand, then we'll ask others."

Cloud Cummer from a third- grade world was so frustrated he felt like crying, "You're just too much! Why are you acting so high and mighty when you cut the queue? The ten of us came together to participate in the Demon Spirit Kingdom! Why are you trying to stand between us?"

"No matter what, there are rules to be followed. Why are you warriors from second-grade worlds so shameless? Are you throwing away your dignity just for your goals?"

The one standing in front was Stephen Flynn from Golden Continent, he scoffed and said, "Stop talking about all this nonsense. So what if we cut the line? Does it cause you to lose anything? We just want to take part in the Spirit Demon Kingdom as fast as possible. We're just killing beasts anyway, and not you guys. Why are you being so worked up for? Stop being shameless!"

When Cloud heard that, he was furious. Kesh Burr, who was right behind him, was absolutely furious as well.

"Stop with your nonsense! Don't think that we're stupid. Do you think we can't tell what you're planning? Why aren't you trying to cut the queue in front of us? You insist on cutting right at the eleventh place. You're not just doing it alone, you're even bringing fifteen others with you!"

"You already know we're on alert against you. Every time we take part in the Spirit Demon Kingdom, we'll join in groups of twenty. If you want to participate, you'd only be able to get ten people in. Just the ten of you won't be able to do anything to twenty of us, so you never got a chance!"

Chapter 3417
"You're so nervous that you're even cutting the queue!"

"If fifteen of you squeeze in, then only five spots will be left! You'd have a much easier time doing whatever you want to! If we enter, just surviving will be a problem!"

"That's right! Kesh is right! You warriors from second-grade worlds never have any good intentions. All you think about is how to kill us off! Yet, you have the gall to pretend as if nothing happened!"

"Do you think everyone else is an idiot who can't see what you're trying to do? Aren't you just cutting the queue because you want to ruin our plans? You won't dare to do anything against twenty people, but you would if it's fifteen! The moment we enter, you'll definitely attack us!"

Hearing that, Jackie finally understood what they were fighting over.

Rudy curled his fists up in anger, “These warriors from the second-grade worlds really are doing whatever they want now. In order to get Heartblood, they’re even doing something as shameless as cutting the queue. They’re doing everything they can to achieve their goals!“

Rudy was already panting in anger. His eyes were so wide they looked like they were about to pop out of their sockets.

The actions of the warriors from second-grade worlds were no longer just despicable, they were just absolutely shameless!

Yet, the caretakers did not stop their actions. After all, they were just quarreling. They still knew how to hold back from outright fighting.

Rudy’s face was red, “What do you think should be done now? If fifteen of them enter, there’s practically no hope of making it out alive!”

Jackie nodded.

They‘re already doing something so shameless, so they must have definitely already planned things out. To get the Heartblood, they were practically doing anything they could do. Since they had already planned everything out, there was no way they would let any of those fifteen come out of the Demon Spirit Kingdom alive.

He was absolutely speechless at their actions, but there was no clear solution to what would happen.

Rudy lowered his voice and said, “Those warriors from the third-grade worlds who have already registered and the other ten are quite dumb. Since the queue was cut, they should have just cut it back and it would have been done?”

Jackie frowned, “I thought so as well, but the fact that twenty-five have already registered must mean that those people could not get their places back. Something must have happened there…”

Jackie quietly looked at the warriors from the third-grade worlds who were still quarreling without stopping. They were intensely quarreling that the loudest ones were starting to feel their voices go hoarse, feeling incredibly frustrated. After all, this was a matter of their life and death. They were in an incredibly desperate situation.

Kesh pointed at the warriors from the second-grade worlds and said, “You shameless, despicable fiends! You’ll pay for this eventually! You‘ve done so many despicable things, but you’ve paid quite the price for them. Don’t think that the warriors from third-grade worlds are easy to bully. You’ll pay for everything you did! You’ll definitely regret it!”

When Stephen heard that, he started to laugh. There was disdain in his eyes.

He then gave the other party snort of disgust, “I really don’t understand what you’re saying. What will we be paying for? What kind of shameless things have we been doing? Is registering for the Demon Spirit Kingdom something shameless?”

“You call others despicable and shameless, but I feel like you’re just a bunch of idiots. What are you even saying? We haven’t bullied you guys at all…”

“Let’s not even talk about what we‘re doing for now. You can’t make us pay for anything anyway! Even if there are some losses, it’s nothing to us warriors from second-grade worlds.“

Chapter 3418
Stephen was speaking in an incredibly annoying manner.

He had clearly done something so shameless, but he acted like there was no such thing. He was even snidely insulting the warriors from the third-grade worlds for being too weak to make the warriors from the second-grade worlds pay.

The men who had already registered got more and more frustrated. They wanted to just fight on the spot.

Kesh loudly shouted, “Don’t force us into a corner! If you force us, we could do anything. We‘ll just make sure we die together! Don’t think we‘re scared of you!”

Eduardo, who was behind Stephen, was a chosen disciple from Sacred Water Continent. When he heard Kesh’s words, he started to laugh loudly.

“Just listen to what you’re saying. Are you trying to tell us that animals will bite back when they’re cornered? What of it? There’s no use, we‘ll just kill all the animals anyway. We’ll be able to deal with it.”

Eduardo had just called all the warriors from third-grade worlds animals, which completely ignited the anger in their hearts.

Quite a few of them started to curse.

“You fiends! You’ll be killed by someone else eventually. You tortured others to death, and you‘ll be tortured to death one day. Stop trying to sound so smug. If you have the skills, let’s just fight outside the city…”

“The second-grade worlds get to have a complete battle with the third-grade worlds. There are no rules or restrictions there, and we can kill each other all we want. Then, you‘ll finally lose more men!”

When Eduardo heard that, he said with contempt, “So you‘re just planning on swarming with numbers? You‘re not fighting in terms of skill but in terms of numbers? Don’t you think that’s just a complete joke?”

“The reason there are fewer second-grade worlds in Weinhord City isn’t that there are fewer warriors from second-grade worlds, but just because there are a total of three second-grade worlds in this city, while there are ten third-grade worlds!”

“If you have the ability, then say that once you’re in level three cities. You’ll finally realize who has more men!”

Kesh waved it off, “Stop with all that, what is the meaning of this right now!”

Stephen raised an eyebrow. He was the leader of the warriors from second-grade worlds who were taking part in this test. He had the absolute final say in everything.

He said with a cold smile, “We’re not trying to do anything. You should spare your efforts. There’s nothing to fight about. We‘ve already registered, and the laws stop us from giving up our spot. Anyone who goes against that will be killed. So, we’ll definitely be taking part, and all of you will too. There’s nothing else to say about it. Don‘t waste your time.”

The moment he said that, everyone suddenly went quiet. Even though Stephen was a hateful person, what he said was right. There was nothing else to say about the situation.

It could no longer be changed, and they had to accept it. They were forced to enter the Demon Spirit Kingdom.

Kesh sighed. His face was completely ashen as if the end was coming.

The ten of them who had already registered had painful looks on their faces. It was like they had lost their families.

Eduardo snorted and said, “Let me remind you, there are still five spots left. Rather than quarreling with us, why don’t you talk to your fellow disciples and friends to quickly take up those five spots? Otherwise, we‘ll take up the last five spots, and you’ll only have ten to our twenty.”

The moment that was said, everyone‘s expressions changed again.

Cloud’s hands were trembling. The problem really was very difficult. If no one else from third- grade worlds registered, then the ten of them would end up facing twenty warriors from second-grade worlds.

The situation would be horrible.

If they were split evenly, they would still have a chance of surviving.

If it was ten against twenty, then they were practically assured of dying. Cloud and the rest turned to look at the other ten warriors who had been planning to register.

Chapter 3419
Yet, those ten immediately averted their gazes. They either looked down at the ground or started to look left and right. At their expressions, Cloud's group felt a chill in their spines. All of them knew it was a fiery situation that they could not jump into.

No one dared to be the hero at a time like this. Saving the others was basically the equivalent of jumping into a volcano. When it concerned sharing benefits, everyone acted like good friends. When it came to their own safety, all those friendships were thrown out the window.

Cloud's lips trembled, "What is the meaning of this? We said that we would share everything and survive this together! Why aren't you even willing to sign up now?"

The other ten all looked incredibly reluctant. Even though Cloud and the others were questioning them, they still refused to sign up in such a situation.

Those warriors from second-grade worlds were obviously already prepared.

They planned on killing everyone who entered. If that other ten signed up at that moment, it would be the equivalent of throwing their own lives away. They were naturally reluctant to do that.

Looking at that scene, Eduardo started to laugh out loud.

"It looks like your good friends aren't even looking at you anymore. All this talk about revenge and paying the price, you can't even do that. They're already sure that you'll die inside. Even though we won't do anything, they still think you'll die. Your brothers don't have any faith in you at all…"

The moment he said that, Eduardo heard a low voice, "The two of us will sign up!"

That voice attracted everyone's gaze.

The crowd had been too focused on quarreling, so they never noticed that someone had walked over to sign up. When they turned to look, they saw two figures standing there.

After Jackie wrote his name down, he calmly turned around. His familiar face appeared in front of everyone.

The warriors from second-grade worlds started to panic at that. Eduardo still maintained his mocking expression, but it was obvious that his face had stiffened when he saw Jackie.

Cloud's lips troubled as he said in disbelief, "Jackie?"

Jackie nodded, calmly looking at Cloud. When Cloud saw Jackie nod, no one could remain calm.

Eduardo looked like his tail had been stepped on, "You want to take part in this? Why are you taking part in the Demon Spirit Kingdom?! How can you…"

Before he could finish, Jackie interrupted him, "Am I not allowed to participate? Which rule in Weinhord City states that I can't?"

The warriors from the second-grade worlds started to panic at that. All of their faces froze, and they looked like they had eaten a fly.

Jackie's appearance had thrown their plans into disarray. With him around, it was hard to say who would survive.

Eduardo's hands trembled, "What is the meaning of this?! Are you insisting on going against us?"

When Jackie heard that, he showed a confused expression, "What do you mean? Why would I take part in the Demon Spirit Kingdom going against you warriors from second-grade worlds?

"Didn't you say you wouldn't do anything? I've never been someone to do anything to those who don't touch me. If you won't do anything, then I won't do anything either. Since we're just going to coexist in peace, why would you think I'm going against all of you?"

Hearing that, quite a few warriors from third-grade worlds could not hold back their laughter.

Jackie's words hit it right on the spot, using what those warriors from second-grade worlds had said right back at them.

Chapter 3420
The warriors from the second-grade worlds all had dark looks on their faces at Jackie suddenly joining. Stephen even looked like he wanted to rip Jackie apart.

He stared at Jackie viciously, and his lips trembled slightly, wanting to say something, but unable to find the words to say.

Facing the trash from the third-grade worlds, he would say anything he wanted to, but facing Jackie, there was nothing he could say. That was the power of the strong.

Jackie' s existence gave the warriors from the second-grade worlds a sense of pressure and the warriors from the third-grade worlds some motivation. They were suddenly reinvigorated and fought to sign up. In just a few moments, the five remaining spots were filled up.

After the registration was complete, the final names were settled. There were fifteen warriors from second-grade worlds and fifteen warriors from third-grade worlds.

If Jackie had not appeared, no one would have thought well of the third-grade worlds. Yet, Jackie was like a flag that stirred up the confidence of the warriors from third-grade worlds, pushing down the warriors from second-grade worlds at the same time.

The situation had suddenly changed. Cloud looked at Jackie emotionally and had a lot to say, but the words were stuck to his throat.

Kesh clenched his hands tightly. All that hopelessness had disappeared, thanks to Jackie joining.

Jackie did not react at all to what everyone else was doing. There were only two goals in his participation in the Demon Spirit Kingdom in such a flashy manner.

The first was to win the prize at the end by killing a lot of beasts. The second was to shock the warriors from second-grade worlds, letting them know that there would not be any good consequences waiting for them if they targeted him.

There was still an hour until the Demon Spirit Kingdom would start. Everyone waited there, and the discussions never stopped.

Jackie stood by the side, closing his eyes to rest. He did not care about what anyone else was saying at all, pretending that he did not hear anything.

After Stephen was silent for a long time, he could no longer remain calm. In just ten minutes, he had heard a lot of frustrating discussions, saying that the warriors from second-grade worlds were very unfortunate this time and that a lot of them would die. There were even those who said that he would definitely die.

After Stephen heard all of that, the anger in his heart kept on burning. He had still been able to bear with the first few words that were said, but after a while, Stephen could no longer hold it in.

He shouted at the warriors from third-grade worlds, “What are you being so pleased with?! Jackie might be strong, but it doesn’t mean anything. If the fifteen of us work together, we’ll be able to handle anything…”

“So what if Jackie is strong? They’d only be able to come at us if all fifteen of them are strong. Otherwise, they’ll only be able to protect themselves. If the fifteen of us work together, no one will break through our defenses!”

He said those words in an incredibly resolved manner.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, opening his eyes to look at the angry Stephen. Feeling Jackie’s gaze, Stephen looked over rudely.

Their gazes met in the air. Jackie merely smiled, not saying anything. Stephen felt like Jackie was feeling weak because Jackie did not say anything, and he suddenly felt encouraged.

He shouted at Jackie, “I know you‘re strong, but the fifteen of us aren’t weak either. If we work together, even the top five in our clan would be afraid!”

After Jackie showed off his skills, a lot of people started to speculate that Jackie’s skills would put him in the top few places in holy grade clans.

Quite a few of them felt like Jackie should be in the top five, while there were even some who put him in the top three.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3421-3425 -

Chapter 3421
Stephen said that to dispel some of Jackie's pressure. He was trying to bolster the morale of the warriors from second-grade worlds. He could not allow them to keep continuing that way.

Jackie could not help but let out a cold smile when he heard that.

While keeping his eyes close, he said, "You're just like all those fellow disciples of yours. Your words are just nonsense. What's the point of saying all of that? Are you trying to act like you're very capable in front of me? Are you trying to stand up for yourselves?"

"You should just forget about it. No matter what you say, it won't affect anything. If you're really that confident, then come look for me the moment you enter the Demon Spirit Kingdom! Use your skills to prove your worth."

After Jackie said that, Stephen's expression stiffened.

The corner of his lips trembled. That imperious aura of his was suddenly completely extinguished by those words.

Facing Jackie alone?

He would be crazy to do that!

Even though Stephen was confident in himself, he would never dare to face Jackie alone.

Jackie's skills could be in the top five or top three in a holy grade clan. Even if he was a chosen disciple, he was not ranked that highly. Facing Jackie head-on was suicide. There was no other result.

He had remained stubborn just because all fifteen of them were quite good in skill.

All fifteen of them would not be afraid of Jackie alone!

Seeing Stephen's expression stiffened and not saying a thing, the warriors from third-grade worlds were in an uproar.

They had constantly been beaten down by the warriors from second-grade worlds earlier, and it had been incredibly suffocating. Since they had the chance, they would naturally need to fight back.

Kesh shot right back, “You’re feeling good about yourself, aren’t you? Go on, continue showing off! Why aren’t you saying anything else? Didn’t you say you were very strong? Jackie’s willing to fight you, so why won’t you answer?”

“Are you not daring enough? Don‘t you warriors from second-grade worlds always look down on us, saying that third-grade worlds are trash? Jackie’s inviting you to a match as a warrior from a third-grade world, why won’t you agree? Where did that aggressiveness go to?”

Stephen‘s face reddened in anger. His lips constantly twitched, really wanting to shout back at them, but there was nothing he could say.

Did he really dare to talk back to Kesh?

Of course, he did not!

He was not daring enough to face Jackie. However, he was not willing to just shut up like that. He did not want to seem so weak in front of the warriors from third-grade worlds.

Eduardo frowned as he grabbed Stephen’s arm.

He whispered, “Let’s not quarrel with them. In the end, the results will do the talking for us. They must feel like Jackie will lead them to victory. With him, they‘ll be able to fight back against us. Then, let’s use our skills to prove that even him, won‘t be able to touch us if we work together!”

Hearing that, Stephen‘s expression slowly calmed down.

He shut his mouth, so there was no reason for the other side to continue as well. The conversations slowly died down, but the hatred in everyone’s eyes was incredibly terrifying.

Time slowly ticked away. An hour quickly passed, and the skull-masked caretaker announced that the Demon Spirit Kingdom was starting.

All of them slowly snapped out of their thoughts.

Chapter 3422
At that moment, everyone’s expressions were serious.

Various emotions were running through their faces, but no one spoke at all. Everyone silently went on the transfer array, looking at the space distort as their bodies got completely enveloped by the spatial power.

When everyone was almost sent off, Stephen suddenly said, “We‘ll see who the idiots are! You won’t get what you want!“

The moment he said that, everyone‘s figures disappeared on the transfer array. All thirty of them had been sent to a separate space.

The moment they were being transferred, Jackie put Rudy into Mustard Seed while everyone else was distracted. They would not be sent to the same place, but to various locations around the Demon Spirit Kingdom. With Rudy‘s skills, there was no way he would be able to survive alone, so keeping Rudy by his side was better.

After ten minutes, the distorted space slowly disappeared.

When his feet landed on the ground, Jackie finally saw his surroundings clearly. It was a dense forest, and the trees obstructed most of the sunlight.

It was quite dim around them, and the air was very humid. A wet rotting scent assaulted his nose.

Jackie frowned as he sent Rudy out of Mustard Seed.

Rudy widened his curious eyes as he looked at the trees around them.

He said in surprise, “Why are there so many vines?! All these trees are completely wrapped in vines!”

Jackie was no stranger to forests. He had gone into quite a lot of forests where the sun did not reach the ground. However, this forest still stirred the curiosity in him.

The massive trees had thick vines around them. They climbed the trees which made the trunk appear full of green leaves. Even the ground had countless vines. It was like a forest that was covered in vines.

It was green everywhere, and the floor was a bit damp, but to warriors like them, the dampness did not affect them at all.

Jackie patted Rudy on the shoulder, “Stop gawking. We need to meet up with them to avoid any trouble.”

Before entering the Demon Spirit Kingdom, he had already discussed the matter with the other warriors from third-grade worlds.

They would leave their own marks on each other, determining each other‘s location in the Demon Spirit Kingdom before they gathered toward Cloud. Jackie felt where Cloud was, and it was about fifty kilometers away from him.

Comparatively, he was not that far away from Cloud. The furthest one was about a hundred kilometers away.

Rudy nodded, and the two of them started to walk toward Cloud.

To prevent any surprises, the two of them did not fly in a rush, and instead slowly moved forward in the dense forest. Even though the dense forest that stopped them from going too quickly, it still did not take them that long to get close to Cloud.

Jackie leaped ten meters away, and Rudy followed behind him. The trees swayed thanks to Jackie, and the leaves started to rustle a little.

Rudy had just been about to praise Jackie for being so strong that Jackie got a tree to sway when Jackie stopped in his tracks.

He stopped in surprise as well.

He quickly rushed to Jackie‘s side and looked at Jackie curiously, “What is it? Why did you suddenly stop?”

Chapter 3423
Jackie frowned as he started looking all over.

He looked to the left, then to the right, then repeated again.

Looking at Jackie, Rudy realized that Jackie had noticed something, so he wisely shut up.

After looking around, Jackie turned to look behind him, “I felt a strange divine sense sweep across my body just now. There must be something observing us from our surroundings…”

Rudy raised an eyebrow, whispering, “Is it Stephen’s men? That would be such a coincidence that we’re so close to them.”

Jackie took a deep breath as he looked around again, saying, “It’s probably not them! It wasn’t a human presence. I’ve been training for so long in the soul attribute, I can clearly feel other people…”

”What I felt just now was different. It fluctuated very weirdly. It didn’t feel human at all. Don’t forget what we’re here for.”

When Rudy heard that, he immediately reacted. He gaped as he quickly looked around himself.

He widened his eyes and asked, “So you’re telling me that it was a beast?”

Jackie nodded, taking a deep breath as he let out his senses, sweeping their surroundings. Yet, he did not notice anything, which Jackie found even stranger. Rudy's mouth twitched, and he looked a bit out of place.

He whispered to Jackie, "Those beasts can use divine senses? It looks like they must be quite intelligent creatures…"

Being able to use divine senses meant that their soul was not weak.

If their soul was strong, then they would be quite intelligent as well. Many beasts are not able to use divine senses because of their souls. The fact that this one could meant that it was probably quite intelligent.

Jackie sighed as his expression turned serious.

He nodded, "I underestimated these beasts. What is it trying to do?"

The moment he said that, Jackie's expression changed.

He had been constantly using his divine senses around him. At the last second, he felt four strange shapes quickly coming toward him. Jackie frowned as he walked to the side, pushing Rudy behind him.

After a few moments, Rudy's eyes widened immensely. He had never seen those things before. It was four things that looked like humans but were not.

Rudy took a deep breath, guessing that those four were demon spirit beasts. Those beasts looked incredibly different from what Rudy thought they would look like.

The four beasts were all about a hundred and ninety centimeters tall. They looked incredibly strange and had human-like features. Yet, their skin was of various colors.

The two in front had six wings on their backs. Their bodies were full of strange patterns. They looked like dragonflies with human faces.

Of the two behind, the one on the left looked like a frog with a human face. It was dark green, and its body was covered in a layer of mucus. The mucus even bubbled, looking like they were going through chemical reactions, making for quite a creepy sight.

Chapter 3424
The one on the right had dark skin and sported four claws. It looked like a black panther.

Rudy's lips twitched and he said, "What the heck are these things?! Why do they look like this?!"

It was hard to blame Rudy for reacting like that.

He had seen quite a few beasts before, but in Rudy's mind, beasts should look like beasts, and humans should look like humans. Once beasts reached a certain level, they would be able to turn into humans.

They were definitely not like those four in front of them, not human nor beasts. It looked incredibly disgusting.

"You didn't make a mistake this time, but can you really not tell how strong this kid is?" the beast that looked like a dragonfly said to the other one that looked similar to it.

The one called Orgh frowned, unhappily looking at the beast next to him, "It's not like I made a mistake last time. That person's reinforcements were very far away. No matter how hard I try, my divine senses can only reach two kilometers! It's not like you weren't there, Stye, so why are you being so snide?!"

Style snorted, "I'm not. The last time, if Olalo hadn't been quick with his help, we'd have died to that brat! We wouldn't have had the chance to make up for the mistake! This time, you'd better focus. If you make another mistake, I won't be able to help you with the king!"

The four demon spirit beasts were talking in front of Jackie and Rudy without any fear at all. They did not seem to care about Jackie and Rudy at all.

Rudy was confused by the conversation.

Jackie's expression was cold as he remembered everything that was being said.

He felt like the situation was strange. They entered the Demon Spirit Kingdom to hunt these beasts, but judging from what the beasts were saying, it was as if the humans were the prey.

Rudy whispered to Jackie, "Jackie, why do I feel like it's a bit strange? These beasts don't seem afraid of us at all?"

Jackie nodded as he took a deep breath, "The situation's definitely strange. Didn't we hear at the inn that these beasts are all very smart? To kill them, we'd need to attack from a range…"

"It' s because those beasts would run the moment they see anyone. Yet, it doesn't seem like the case at all. Not only are they not running, but they're also even discussing things right in front of us!"

Rudy nodded emphatically.

His heart beat quickly, “What do we do? Should we meet with the others first? We shouldn’t fight these beasts. After all, it’s you going one against four… No matter how strong you are, they have the numbers. I’ll only drag you down!”

Jackie frowned as he lowered his voice and said, “Stay quiet and observe the situation. I’m in no hurry. If the situation is bad, we can run then.”

Jackie had a trump card, which was the laws of space. If he could not beat them, then he could put Rudy into Mustard Seed and use the laws of space to run, but that was only if things got desperate.

Ever since he mastered the Broken Soul Blade, Jackie was incredibly confident in his abilities. Unless his opponent was several times stronger than he was, he was not worried.

Chapter 3425
The four beasts were completely ignoring Jackie and Rudy as if they were already certain that the two of them would not be able to reveal any of their secrets.

Orgh shouted, “Olalo, you speak up! Stye is just purposely trying to blame me! It’s already not the first time he’s spoken like that! It’s so annoying! Once I get the reward and my skills improve, I’ll never stay on the same team as you again!”

Stye seemed agitated when he heard that.

His wings started to speed up, “Improving your skills? With your talents? Can you not joke around like that so much?”

Listening to their conversation, it was evident that their intelligence was on par with humans.

Jackie frowned as he whispered to Rudy, “These demon spirit beasts are far too different from what we’ve heard of from others. I feel like these beasts aren’t just as intelligent as humans, but their skills don’t seem average either. They even managed to form groups and move around like humans. Why didn’t we ever hear of that? Is our information lacking, or did anyone not know about it at all?!”

The situation was far too different from what Jackie expected. He even sniffed a plot at hand.

After the four beasts quarreled for a long time, the one with a panther body finally roared impatiently.

“Can the four of you shut up?! What’s the point of arguing so much right now? If you screw up the task, the king won’t let any of you off! The two of you have quite a lot of blood in you. The king might just suck it all dry!”

The moment that was said, the two beasts immediately stopped bickering.

The threat behind those words was incredibly heavy to the two of them. Not only did they shut up, their lips even trembled slightly. There was fear in their eyes.

It was obvious that the two of them were incredibly scared of that so-called king.

Jackie frowned. From their words, he realized that something was wrong. After they stopped fighting, the beasts looked at Jackie and Rudy again.

The panther-like beast was called Setia and was the strongest amongst the four, “A human that we can’t see through, and a human piece of trash. How did the two of you end up together?”

It was speaking to Jackie. Rudy’s face darkened when he was called trash. Even though he was self-aware, he still did not like being called trash.

Jackie frowned as he looked at the beast, “You don‘t seem to be afraid of humans? The information I received was different. Did you just hide it too well?”

The four beasts started laughing out loud when they heard that. Their laughter was heard throughout the forest.

Rudy could not help but shrink back when he heard that. They were beasts with human heads, and they were laughing so hard. It was an incredibly chilling sight.

Orgh said as it laughed, “You humans really are simple-minded. You think whatever anyone lets you see is real. We’ve been in this space for so many years. We’re no longer those demon spirit beasts that only know how to run away…”

“We’ve already gained intelligence no lower than humans. As long as we absorb enough blood, our abilities will improve! You see us as prey, and we see you as prey too!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3426-3430 -

Chapter 3426
Orgh might not have explained things in great detail, but Jackie understood just thinking about it.

The fact that the beasts said that the humans believed whatever they saw, meant that the beasts deliberately created a false image of themselves and fooled the humans who managed to get out.

It seemed like a few humans had been hunted down because of this, and the brass absorbed the blood of the humans to nourish themselves.

Jackie took a deep breath as a vicious glint flashed in his eyes.

Were his opponents unlucky, or was he?

After learning a storm-god rank technique, those beasts could not tell how strong Jackie was, but it barely concerned them as there were four of them against Jackie and Rudy. Even though they did not know how strong Jackie was, they knew how strong Rudy was.

In their eyes, Rudy was a weakling that could be dealt with in one blow. Thus, their only opponent was Jackie, and only one outcome was possible no matter how strong he was.

Setia sneered, “Alright. You’ve asked your questions and we were merciful enough to satisfy your curiosity before you die, so be prepared to die!”

The moment that was said, the four beasts charged at Jackie at the same time.

The two dragonfly-like beasts in front buzzed their wings, causing shockwaves to come out from the wings. These waves were visible enough that they could be seen with the naked eye, and they were strong enough to devastate anything they grazed. Even massive trees were turned into nothing but mere logs!

Jackie grabbed Rudy and placed him in Mustard Seed. It was better, after all, for Rudy to be in Mustard Seed, away from harm’s length, as he would only be distracted.

He then retreated, pulling away from the four beasts. His hands formed seals that then fused in the air, quickly becoming a blade. The Broken Soul Blade floated in front of Jackie.

He furrowed his eyebrows as he sent the Broken Soul Blade right at Orgh.

Orgh smirked disdainfully as it faced the Broken Soul Blade, musing that Jackie was putting up a pitiful fight before dying. Jackie, to Orgh, was worth no notice whatsoever. However, disdain held no other power than existing as a mere feeling.

It still generated shockwaves with Stye next to it to try and destroy the Broken Soul Blade. A surge of immense energy burst out, right at the Broken Soul Blade.

The Broken Soul Blade was like a slash that could not be stopped. The moment it clashed, it immediately broke the energy wave into two parts. The energy wave had no way of destroying the Broken Soul Blade at all. After the energy wave was split into two, the Broken Soul Blade continued to go right for Orgh.

Orgh let out a cry of anguish as the Broken Soul Blade pierced its chest. There was a sizzling sound as its soul started to rot from its chest. Green blood evaporated into mist the moment it touched the Broken Soul Blade, dispersing into the surrounding air.

Orgh wailed in anguish as it fell to the ground. It lost all rationale as it rolled on the ground in pain. The other three beasts widened their eyes.

The four of them underestimated their opponent!

They thought that Orgh and Setia's attacks would have been enough against Jackie's technique, yet their attacks did nothing to even slow it down. The sight rendered them stunned, and by the time they regained their senses, it was already too late.

The other three beasts were stunned as they looked at Jackie with widened eyes.

Chapter 3427
Jackie raised an eyebrow as his confidence surged.

Despite their appearance, these four beasts barely lived up to their imposing features. Their skills were just around the level of low-ranked chosen disciples in holy-grade clans. It was no wonder they were not worried about surprises when they saw Jackie and Rudy.

Other than Jackie himself, any other warrior who entered the Demon Spirit Kingdom would be no match for the four of them.

Jackie took a deep breath, no longer hesitating as he used the Broken Soul Blade again.

At that point, Stye, Setia, and Olalo, after knowing how skilled Jackie was, instantly became defensive. When they saw Jackie attacking again, the three of them met Jackie's attack at the same time.

Four techniques clashed in the air with a boom before the beasts were sent flying.

Jackie quickly activated the laws of space with his sword in hand. He disappeared from his spot, and when he appeared again, he was already right next to Stye.

Stye's eyes widened in disbelief. It stared at Jackie, who had suddenly appeared, but Jackie did not look away at all as he stabbed Stye. The blade pierced its chest, and it ripped out a cry out of Stye.

"H-How is this possible? How are you so strong?! Even the three of us together are no match for you!"

Jackie did not answer Stye and instead went straight for the next one. In mere seconds, the three remaining beasts were all dealt with by Jackie.

Rudy appeared from Mustard Seed again. He looked at the four beasts lying on the ground, bleeding, and he covered his mouth in shock.

"It wasn't even that long, and these four are already dealt with! Jackie, you're so amazing!"

Jackie smiled wordlessly.

He quickly walked toward Setia who, though with a large hole on its chest, was still alive. Alas, the rapid blood loss guaranteed that Setia would not survive.

Jackie knelt and coldly looked at Setia. "I have many ways to torture you. If you don't answer my questions, I'll take my time with you."

Setia laughed when it heard Jackie's words.

Hearing the laugh, Jackie realized something was wrong, and tried to do something immediately. However, he was already too late.

Setia's throat moved, looking like it had swallowed something. In just a few moments, black blood flowed out of its nose. It was dead.

Jackie's lips twitched as he looked at the other three who died in a similar fashion. They must have swallowed a pill that could kill them instantly.

Jackie almost cursed at the sight.

Rudy frowned. "These guys are so sly. They came prepared, having suicide pills in their mouths to swallow should things go south!"

Jackie took a deep breath, saying helplessly, "We didn't know that the beasts would be so decisive. To not reveal any secrets, they already had poison in their mouths. We couldn't have stopped that."

However, it meant that the beasts were hiding a massive secret. The more Jackie thought about it, the more he wanted to find out.

Rudy burned the corpses of the beasts, and he only followed Jackie after making sure there were no traces of their activity left behind.

Chapter 3428
The journey that ensued was much calmer in comparison to Jackie and Rudy. There were no more strange divine senses sweeping through them and no sudden attacks to delay them.

In just 20 minutes, they saw Cloud.

They had gone through a dense forest the whole way. The vines were covering every single three, and greenery filled every corner of the Demon Spirit Kingdom.

To allow the warriors from other third-grade worlds to quickly find him, Cloud found a relatively spacious spot. Even though it was still covered with trees, it was not as densely packed. There was more of a distance between each three.

Rudy and Jackie were about 100 meters away from Cloud when they saw him. Cloud immediately opened his eyes to look over when he heard movement.

When he saw that it was Jackie, the look of concern on his face quickly turned into one of happiness.

To Cloud, or perhaps every warrior from a third-grade world, Jackie was the key factor in all of this. With Jackie around, it was as if they no longer had any problems.

Cloud waved at Jackie. ”Jackie, over here! ”

Jackie nodded and quickly made his way toward Cloud.

When he arrived next to Cloud, Cloud greeted, though his voice feeble with emotions, “Was your journey safe? Did you run into any trouble?”

Jackie raised an eyebrow. Of course he had, and luckily, it was he who ran into trouble and not anyone else. Any other warrior who participated in the Spirit Demon Kingdom would have died if they met that situation.

Jackie did not plan on saying this, so he instead shook his head at Cloud. “I did meet some trouble. Let’s talk after everyone’s here.”

Hearing that Jackie had indeed encountered trouble, Cloud’s eyes widened. However, since Jackie had said so, he did not voice any questions.

Jackie had told Cloud to not get excited and to wait for everyone to be gathered, thus Cloud nodded, though not without doubt.

He had thought that he would be the fifth or sixth to group up with Cloud, but he ended up being the first. It seemed like he was the quickest.

Jackie took out two mats from his spatial ring and placed one down for Jackie. Jackie nodded, and all three of them sat down.

Giving Jackie a once-over, Cloud noted that Jackie's clothes were still intact, and his energy was very stable. Jackie did not look like he had gone through a battle.

This confused Cloud even more. Anything that Jackie would call 'trouble' would not be a small matter.

Did Jackie meet Stephen's group, or did something else happen?

Jackie shut his eyes and rested. Various thoughts surfaced in his head, including everything the Demon Spirit Beasts had said, and he even recalled a few key phrases.

It was definitely no simple matter, and it involved a massive secret. If they did not deal with it well, it could bring them a huge problem.

Jackie did not care about a few strays. After all, the four beasts together were no match for Jackie. He was worried about the Demon Spirit Beasts they called king.

When Orgh and Stye were arguing, Setia mentioned the 'king' to shock them. The two of them were scared stiff when they heard that they would be absorbed by the king if they did not do well. Jackie even recalled how Orgh shivered at the name. It was obvious how threatening this 'king' was.

Whether it was the humans or the beasts, both sides respected the strong. The fact that the king was so feared meant that he had to be incredibly strong.

Thinking about that, Jackie lost a bit of confidence.

Who would win if he went against the king?

What level was that king at?

Chapter 3429
This thing was not widely known among humans either.

When they were in Weinhord City, Jackie had listened to others discuss the Demon Spirit Kingdom quite a bit, but none of them mentioned the king of the Demon Spirit Kingdom. None of them had mentioned that the beasts were sentient either.

He did not know if he had missed out on such an important detail, or if the beasts hid this so well that it was not spread out at all. It was better if it was the former. It if was the latter, then it would be more troublesome.

Thinking about that, Jackie's lips twitched. It was as though trouble followed him wherever he went!

However, Jackie did not dwell on it too much. He was not someone who would flee from problems. Since there was an issue, he would just need to figure out a solution. In his mind, there were no problems that could not be solved.

Rudy, on the other hand, was a bit uneasy. He was not as confident as Jackie. He, too, listened to everything the beasts had said, and he guessed that the beasts were holding a huge secret. However, he could not figure it out just from what he learned earlier.

He wanted to ask them more questions, but those beasts killed themselves before Jackie got the chance to interrogate them.

Rudy was more frustrated as he thought about it, and he opened his eyes to look at Jackie next to him.

He coughed as he rubbed his nose, asking, "What do you think those creatures were planning? I've been trying to figure it out, but to no avail. The more I think about it, the more frustrated I am. I can't calm down at all!"

Cloud was even more suspicious when he heard that.

A plan?

Could Stephen and the others be planning something?

He looked over to see Rudy looking at Jackie hopefully. Jackie slowly opened his eyes.

He took a deep breath and said, "Don't dwell on it if you can't understand. We know too little right now, and using what we know to speculate would just be pure guesswork. Rather than thinking about all that, it's better to think about how we can learn more."

Rudy's lips twitched as he sighed before he said, "I'm just so curious. It's so different from what I thought. I feel like their plans will involve us! If we don't quickly figure it out, we might end up being caught on the back foot!"

Jackie nodded. "Of course it's going to affect us, but you can't figure it out anyway, so don't worry yourself like that. Let's wait for everyone to finish gathering for now."

Cloud could not understand what was going on, and he said anxiously, “What are you two talking about? A plan? What can’t you figure out? What happened that’ll affect us? Did Stephen’s group try something again?”

Jackie looked at Cloud and said, “It has nothing to do with Stephen. It’s something else.”

Cloud was even more stunned when he heard that.

It was not Stephen?

Then who could it be?

Seeing that Cloud was so anxious, Rudy said clearly, “It’s because of those Demon Spirit Beasts! Those beasts aren’t simple beasts! We were hunted by them on the way here! If Jackie wasn’t strong enough, we’d have died!”

Chapter 3430
Cloud’s eyes widened in sheer shock when he heard that. He was even more confused after that explanation.

Was it possible for the Demon Spirit Beasts to try and kill humans?

Since when did these beasts, those that would run the moment they saw humans, even, get so bold?

Hearing Rudy’s tone, it was like the beasts that tried to kill them were special.

Jackie seemed to realize something when he saw Cloud’s open eyes.

He stopped Rudy from continuing and he looked at Cloud with an earnest look. “Why are you so surprised? Are the Demon Spirit Beasts that weak to you? Did you know that the Demon Spirit Beasts have a leader they call the king?”

Hearing that, Cloud was even more confused.

He took a deep breath before he answered, “A leader? A king? What exactly happened? From what I know, those beasts are just prey. Their skills are average, and they’re rather timid to the point of fleeing, so we need to pursue them if we want to kill them.”

Hearing Cloud’s words, Jackie and Rudy exchanged a meaningful look. The two of them fell silent together. There were various thoughts in their heads.

Rudy got more scared as he thought about it, and Jackie had many complicated thoughts.

The two of them had differing expressions, but Cloud was even more shocked to see that. Their expressions meant that what they said was very important and hard to deal with, and it affected them.

Cloud had a stomach full of questions. He got more and more anxious thinking about it, yet neither Jackie nor Rudy explained themselves.

After a moment, Cloud could no longer stand it. “Can the two of you tell me what’s going on? I’m so confused…”

Right as he said that, they suddenly heard some rustling. When the three of them looked over, they saw a familiar figure quickly coming over.

It was Kesh!

Cloud held back the questions for the moment as he stood up to greet Kesh.

Five minutes later, four others appeared. A small wave of people had gathered.

After some pleasantries, Cloud had them sit. Everyone saw that something was off with Cloud’s expression. He looked anxious and doubtful.

Cloud did not bother with what the others thought of him. All he wanted to know was what happened to Jackie.

Looking at how Cloud was looking at him, Jackie knew how anxious Cloud was. However, Jackie was in no hurry to answer and looked at the rest instead.

“Did you have a safe journey? You didn’t encounter any dangers, did you? Did any divine senses sweep over you?”

Everyone shook their heads.

Kesh said, “The journey was very quiet. I went very slowly, worried that I’ll meet any unnecessary problems.”

The others conveyed that their journey was completely safe as well. Other than the vines that were everywhere that obstructed their sights, it was all uneventful.

Hearing what everyone said, Jackie’s frown never relaxed.

The others looked at Jackie with confusion when they saw Jackie’s expression. He no longer hesitated when he saw all the confusion. He told them all about what he had experienced.

If it had been anyone else who said it, they would probably not have believed him. However, Jackie had been the one to say it. Even if they did not believe it, they would force themselves to.

Cloud frowned, and his eyes widened. “Jackie saw beasts that had human heads and beast-like bodies. They had intelligence that matched humans, and they got a king, too!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3431-3435 -

Chapter 3431
Cloud's lips trembled slightly as he spoke. It was obvious how shocked he was.

Jackie merely nodded, adding no comments to Cloud's remarks.

Suddenly, everyone exploded into conversation upon hearing the information Jackie conveyed to them.

They never saw it coming, and it far exceeded all of their prior knowledge. It had even burned away their confidence. All of them had ashen looks on their faces.

A mustached warrior from a third-grade world blurted, "Where the heck have we come to? Four Demon Spirit Beasts, equal to holy-grade clan chosen disciples in skill, came out of nowhere! Isn't that too horrifying?! We would've died if we were the ones to encounter them!"

"Why is this happening? Is the Demon Spirit Kingdom that difficult? Why does no one know that the beasts look like this?! Have you ever heard of Demon Spirit Beasts having human heads and animal bodies?"

All of them shook their heads when they heard the question.

They had looked into the Demon Spirit Kingdom before they joined for their own safety, but no one had talked about any beasts looking like that before!

Kesh inhaled deeply. "Quite a few people have come in before. I've asked them about it, and they've all said that the Demon Spirit Beasts don't look that much different from the usual beasts we've seen. The only difference is the fact that all of them have a few wings!"

"They described these beasts as being swift and agile, so much so that it took a lot of effort to catch up to these beasts and kill them! Those who came to the Demon Spirit Kingdom before all say that the Demon Spirit Beasts are nothing special, and that it's not hard to kill them. The only difficult thing is catching up to them…"

"They said that those beasts run at the sight of any human. They're incredibly cowardly, and don't look that intelligent!"

Jackie had a serious look on his face after hearing what was said.

After contemplating in silence, he then spoke, his voice stern, "It's not that the ones who participated in the Demon Spirit Kingdom have never seen the beasts with human faces and beast bodies, but that everyone who has seen them has died. That's why this has always been a secret, until me."

The moment that was said, everyone's expressions darkened even more. The more they listened, the more they realized the gravity of the situation.

It was possible that the warriors who they thought had been killed by warriors from second-grade worlds had actually all died to those Demon Spirit Beasts!

They never expected that they would not just need to face one danger in this place, but this unexpected threat as well.

Suddenly, everyone started to regret taking part in the Demon Spirit Kingdom.

The warriors from second-grade worlds were already a pain in the neck, but these difficult Demon Spirit Beasts appeared out of nowhere!

Some anxiously clutched their hair, while some covered their faces. Everyone was in a bad mood. At that moment, they were incredibly frustrated that there was nothing they could do about it. They did not even have a solution.

The mustached man said, "I have a solution. Hurry up and end this so we can leave this stupid place! Once we're back in Weinhord City, I'll just find a place to stay. I won't join any stupid games anymore. This place doesn't suit me!"

Chapter 3432
The moment that was said, everyone nodded.

Cloud said somewhat helplessly, "Let's not talk about this for now. We should just think about how we're going to face these dangers right now. No matter what, we need to stay here for two days and two nights. We'll only be able to think about anything else after that."

That was possibly the only thing they could be thankful for.

The Demon Spirit Kingdom had a time limit. Once everyone spent two days and two nights there, the final rankings would be counted, and the first three places would get the rewards and spirit crystals.

"It's because of these rewards that so many warriors signed up for the Demon Spirit Kingdom. If they knew how dangerous the situation was, they wouldn't have participated even if the rewards were several times better!"

When the man heard what Cloud said, he sighed. "I can't figure out anything better. I feel like we're in a depressing situation. The most important thing is the fact that we don’t know what those beasts want at all. What kind of secrets are they hiding, and what will they do to us? If we don’t even know that, how will we figure anything out?”

Rudy frowned. “So what we need to think of right now is how we’re going to find out even more secrets. We need to dig all of these secrets out. Only by knowing their plans will we be able to counter them!”

Everyone else nodded, feeling like Rudy was right.

Kesh looked at Rudy and said, “We’ll need to capture them if we’re going to dig out their secrets. We need to hunt these beasts and disable them from killing themselves before we get them to talk!”

Rudy nodded. That was the only thing they could do at that moment. The only problem was, they did not know where they could find those Demon Spirit Beasts.

The mustached man said, “Where are we even going to find them? The Demon Spirit Beasts know the geography here. I bet they already know where we’ll be sent to when we’re sent over here while we don’t know anything about them. If it wasn’t for what you went through, we wouldn’t even know they existed…”

Everyone felt helpless when that was said, and it felt as though they had hit a dead end with no way out.

Jackie frowned as he looked to the distance.

As time passed, more and more people gathered.

Jackie counted until a total of 13 people gathered. Two were not present. He estimated the time in his head. Even if they had been far away, they should have already been there.

Why were the final two so late?

He frowned and told Cloud, “Who are the last two who haven’t arrived?”

If Jackie had not joined abruptly, Cloud would have been the leader of the second-grade world warriors. He was familiar with everyone who had joined.

After looking from left to right, Cloud frowned and said, “It’ s Collin and Simon. Why are they not here yet? Could it be…”

Before he could finish, Jackie said anxiously, “Hurry and look into where they are, now!”

They had all left marks on each other to determine their locations.

The moment Jackie said that, everyone shut their eyes and tried to feel where Collin and Simon were. However, all of them widened their eyes in shock.

Cloud paled a little. “I can’t feel the marks on them anymore. Can any of you still feel them?”

Chapter 3433
Everyone shook their heads.

Jackie could not feel the marks he left on them as well. It was obvious that something had happened, and everyone shivered at the possibility.

They never expected something to happen so quickly.

Kesh frowned and said, “Could it be those people?”

He was referring to the warriors from second-grade worlds.

However, Jackie shook his head firmly. “It’s probably not them. Even though they’re our enemies and won’t show us mercy, they probably won’t delay anything for the sake of safety. They try to gather together as fast as possible. They’re worried about me, so they’ll be exceptionally careful. Even if we’re going to fight, it’ll be in the future, not now.”

Everyone nodded at those words, agreeing with what Jackie said.

Jackie narrowed his eyes slightly. “The two of them are probably done for. It looks like those beasts didn’t just hunt me but others as well. I doubt they sent fewer members to hunt the others. The outcome is inevitable, they couldn’t have survived.”

“I just never expected them to be so smart, removing all the marks on the ones they killed. It means they knew that we left marks on each other before they attacked. To hide their secrets, their every move is conducted meticulously. They’re not leaving anything to chance!”

Everyone frowned when they heard what Jackie said.

Kesh sighed before he said, “Collin is from my clan, and we’re rather familiar with each other. I know he’s always been a careful person. If he met any warriors from second-grade worlds, he would’ve turned and run. This meant that whatever danger he encountered this time spared him no chance to run whatsoever.”

The moment that was said, everyone grew somber as their expressions darkened even more. The situation had gotten even worse.

Jackie frowned as he thought of other possibilities and situations. However, it did not mean he managed to figure anything out.

Instead, the thoughts caused his mind to be in more and more of a mess. He could not understand the secret behind everything.

Cloud said helplessly, “We have to stay in groups from now on. As long as we don’t act alone, they won’t have a chance to do anything. We can take the chance to capture a few beasts as well. No matter what, we need to find out what they’re plotting!”

Jackie smiled wryly. If only it was so simple.

The situation was very bad for them at that moment. If they wanted to find information for certain situations, they would need to pay a price. It did not help that they had to be on the lookout for second-grade world warriors as well.

They needed to constantly be on alert lest they indirectly placed themselves in danger.

The mustached man saw that everyone was in an incredibly heavy mood and felt like it could not continue. “Let’s not be too disheartened, everyone. Where there’s a will, there’s a way! As long as we have the determination, these problems will be solved!”

Jackie looked at the man. “You’re right. Everyone, don’t be too depressed, it won’t solve any problems. From now on, we need to be on high alert. Otherwise, we might end up suffering.”

Everyone looked at each other. Despite the despondent feeling they had, they were forced to muster their spirits.

No one wanted to die here, whether it was to warriors from second-grade worlds or to the Demon Spirit Beasts.

Chapter 3434
As everyone struggled with the depressing feeling, Jackie suddenly looked to the distance. He narrowed his eyes slightly as he looked right to the west.

Everyone looked over as well, and they saw a group of people heading right for them.

Jackie frowned, not expecting them to be so quick.

Stephen had a dark look on his face. He seemed angered, like he had suffered some grief. The 13 men behind him did not look that happy either, equally solemn as though they had just gone through a funeral rite.

All 14 of them stopped in front of Jackie and the others, looking like they were about to fight.

Everyone on Jackie's side stood up and looked at Stephen and the others alertly.

Stephen's group stopped about 100 meters away from Jackie, and Stephen shot Jackie a cold stare. "Seems like I was right; you are here!"

Jackie could clearly see Stephen's twisted expression as the man spoke through gritted teeth, glaring at him so pointedly. It was obvious how angry Stephen was at him.

Facing Stephen, Jackie frowned, rather confused by Stephen's behavior.

As an enemy, Stephen hating Jackie was natural, but the hatred he exhibited at that moment seemed far beyond relief. It was as if something had happened.

The situation was a bit strange.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, not saying anything as he quietly waited for Stephen to continue.

Stephen got even angrier at Jackie's nonchalant demeanor.

He scoffed and said, "I'll admit that you've won a small battle, but so what? Only one of us died while fourteen of us are still here. You won't be able to kill us all alone!"

Jackie was surprised at Stephen's words. The other warriors exchanged looks with each other as well.

Earlier, Jackie had not mentioned any warriors from second-grade worlds when he talked about what happened in the Demon Spirit Kingdom.

Could something have happened in between?

Jackie had met a warrior from a second-grade world and dealt with him. Everyone looked at Jackie, but he merely had a look of confusion in his eyes, much to everyone's bewilderment.

Before Jackie could even say anything, Rudy hurriedly said, "What nonsense are you spouting now? Killed one of yours? Even though it's not that hard, it doesn't mean we should accept blame for something we didn't do!"

Stephen sneered coldly, "Don't try and fool me with that act! I've already determined that one of ours has died! The mark I left on him was forcefully removed by Jackie! Don't think I'll believe anything you say!"

Eduardo, standing behind Stephen, chimed in. "Stephen's right! Don't act like you don't know anything. You think we don't know what Jackie did?! Just because he was unlucky enough to meet Jackie, it doesn't mean we'll just let this go! We'll have our revenge!"

“We already have fourteen people gathered here, and you won’t have the chance to do anything anymore! Even if someone has to die, it’ll be you third-grade world warriors!”

Rudy was in utter disbelief. Since when did they meet anyone?

Stephen and his lackeys seemed so sure of themselves as though they had witnessed everything for themselves.

Chapter 3435
Rudy sneered and said, “Why would you think Jackie had a hand in whatever it is you’re accusing him of? I’ve been with Jackie the whole time. Even though there was a small problem between our travels, we never met any warriors from second-grade worlds!”

“This has nothing to do with Jackie at all, so don’t try blaming Jackie!”

Eduardo’s expression soured. “Like we’d believe you! Who else but Jackie could’ve done it? Even if Carlton was not as strong as I am, he was still a chosen disciple from a holy-grade clan who was at my level. His skills weren’t to be underestimated, and no one other than Jackie would’ve been able to face him alone! There’s nothing that would have threatened his life other than Jackie!”

Stephen looked at Jackie coldly, slowly saying, “You’re still not going to admit it? I thought that you’ll always admit to anything you did happily. I can’t believe you’re willing to put on a show like this, acting innocent after you killed someone!”

All the warriors from second-grade worlds looked at Jackie incredibly angrily, feeling like he was shameless by refusing to admit he had killed someone.

A warrior from a second-grade world, who was wearing a deep blue robe, gritted his teeth and said, “I’ll admit that you’re so powerful that even Carlton isn’t a match for you, but so what? At least his moral standing is better! If he killed someone, he wouldn’t pretend to be innocent like what you’re doing!”

Jackie’s expression darkened as he heard that.

At that moment, he had guessed what had happened, and the other warriors from third-grade worlds did too.

Cloud said loudly, “It’s not like you witnessed it, so why are you slandering Jackie? What do you mean, he’s not willing to admit it? Jackie’s never been someone like that. If he said he didn’t do it, then he didn’t! This Carlton guy didn’t die at Jackie’s hands. He was killed by beasts!”

After Cloud said that, the others nodded as well.

All of them had guessed the only potential truth, Carlton, and the missing Collin and Simon, had died to the Demon Spirit Beasts.

If Jackie was not as skilled as he was, they would never have known the truth.

Carlton was not as skilled at Jackie, so the consequences were obvious. However, the warriors from second-grade worlds did not know about this. Based on their assumptions, they were sure that Jackie killed Carlton.

When Stephen heard what Cloud said, he got even angrier. He looked like he was ready to explode at any moment.

Stephen said angrily, “What did you say? Carlton died to Demon Spirit Beasts? Please, Cloud! Is your head alright?! Do you think we’d believe that?”

“How could you give such an absurd reason?! A Demon Spirit Beast, capable of killing him? What do you think those beasts are?! Do you think I don’t know how powerful they are?”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3436-3440 -

Chapter 3436
Stephen was fuming in anger as he spoke. His hands constantly trembled.

He felt like Cloud was treating the warriors from second-grade worlds like idiots. He was crossing the line!

Those Demon Spirit Beasts were as cowardly as rats, running at the sight of any human.

If Carlton crossed paths with them and they were not fast enough, they would be killed by Carlton immediately. How could he have been the one to be killed by them?

Eduardo was about to laugh from frustration, “Cloud! Just because Jackie’s around, doesn’t mean you can live without fear! Jackie is strong, but as long as we all attack together, we can still kill you!”

Cloud’s lips twitched in exasperation. He could feel that Stephen and the others were so angry because they felt like he was deliberately insulting Carlton, but he really did not have any intentions like that. He was just speaking the truth.

Kesh was even more exasperated. He reached out to pat Cloud on the shoulder, gesturing for Cloud not to continue.

He took a step forward and said to the warriors from second-grade worlds, “Cloud isn’t trying to play around with all of you. He’s speaking the truth. You have people who have gone missing on your side, so do we. We only have thirteen of our men. Two of them had gone missing.”

“Just like Carlton, the marks we left on them have been forcibly removed as well. We should be suspecting that you’re the ones who did it, but we don’t! It’s because something happened to Jackie when he was coming to meet the rest of us!”

Stephen and the others did not know what they were saying at all.

Stephen scoffed before he said, “Don’t try to confuse us with some weird excuses! The truth is right in front of us. Unless you have proof, no one will believe you!”

Kesh was just about to say something when Jackie stopped him.

Jackie coldly looked at Stephen and the others, and a thought surfaced in his mind. Even though he did not really want to do that since he really did not like them, the situation forced him into it.

After all, he did not know what would happen after they found out what was going on in the Demon Spirit Kingdom.

He did not know how strong the so-called king was, and if he could even go against it. Before all those questions were made clear, he needed to make plans for every situation.

Jackie coughed as he frowned and said, “Let me ask you something! Tell me, if you say that I killed Carlton, then why wouldn’t I admit it? Why would I act innocent in front of you guys?”

Eduardo scoffed, “How would we know that? We’re the ones who should ask you that. Why aren’t you admitting it?”

Jackie took a deep breath. It took patience dealing with idiots.

Jackie replied, “Because it was not me! Just think about it. Carlton should be dead, but he did not die to me instead he was killed by the Demon Spirit Beasts! We have two over here in the same situation. I was hunted by beasts on the way here!”

When that was said, all of the warriors from second-grade worlds opened their eyes in disbelief.

Chapter 3437
“You’re actually making up stories for your act. The Demon Spirit Beasts hunting you down? Those beasts who run away at the sight of any human? Do you think we’d believe you if you just randomly made a story up?”

“Those lies are really unbelievable! Do you think we wouldn’t look into the Demon Spirit Kingdom before we came here?” Stephen asked.

Jackie’s lips twitched helplessly. He never expected those people to be so stubborn.

He turned to look at Cloud, “I don’t want to waste time on them. Tell them what I told you before.”

Cloud nodded, patiently telling the warriors from second-grade worlds what had happened to Jackie. He even described the appearance of the beasts.

Stephen’s expression hardened a bit when he heard what was told. Eduardo did not believe it at all, and even felt like Jackie had a plot behind the story!

Eduardo sneered and said, ”You really know how to make up stories. If I wasn’t smart enough, I would have believed you. You even gave it so much detail so it’s more believable!”

“Unfortunately, I’m not that foolish. I won’t just believe anything you say! If the Demon Spirit Beasts really have such a large secret and have always hunted humans, why hasn’t there been any information?!”

Cloud was exasperated.

He frowned and said, “These beasts are as intelligent as humans. To conduct their plans, they would naturally not allow information to leak out. If the matter was spread to humans, it would be much more difficult for them to continue!”

After Cloud said that, Eduardo started to laugh out loud. He had a look of ridicule in his eyes.

It was obvious that he did not believe Cloud at all.

Eduardo said as he laughed, “Such an absurd reason? I almost believed you! What a joke! There are no perfect secrets! If the beasts really are as you say, this would definitely have started spreading! Someone would have seen it before!”

”You even talk about kings? That’s even more unbelievable. The Demon Spirit Beasts do not organize themselves. They’re all incredibly low in intelligence. It’s nothing like you said!”

After Eduardo said that, Jackie sighed at him helplessly.

There was no point talking to someone like Eduardo. Once he was certain that you were lying, he would not believe anything unless he witnessed it for himself.

Jackie waved it off, “You can believe it or not, that’s not important. So what if you think Carlton died to me? Can you really get revenge for him?”

Jackie’s tone was cold and confident.

Eduardo was suddenly red with anger.

Jackie was right. Even if Carlton had really died to Jackie, what could they do?

Were they going to face Jackie head-on?

That was a joke!

Even two or three of them together would be no match for Jackie!

On top of that, Jackie had warriors from other third-grade worlds around him!

A battle would definitely bring heavy losses they would not be able to take.

At that moment, Jackie already had a plan in mind. If it was not for the plan, he would not have bothered talking to them.

For the plan to go smoothly, he was forced to patiently talk to Stephen, “I’m not lying, I don’t need to either. The Demon Spirit Beasts have a terrifying secret that they’re hiding. It might even end up involving all of us!”

Chapter 3438
Stephen immediately asked after hearing what Jackie said, “What do you want to say?”

Jackie took a deep breath and said in a serious tone, “We should have a temporary truce! No one is allowed to touch anyone! We should be on alert against those beasts.”

The moment that was said, everyone was stunned.

Everyone fell into silence. Jackie could not help but smile wryly. He had expected this silence. The second-grade worlds’ conflict with the third-grade worlds was already something incredibly evident.

They were practically mortal enemies who hated each other to the bone. It was hard to accept a truce, but there was nothing they could do to face this situation.

The third-grade world warriors were still fine. After all, they completely believed what Jackie said.

But, the warriors from second-grade worlds were different. They were more apprehensive.

In the first place, they doubted what Jackie had said. Even if it was true, his suggestion might have a plot behind it. After all, their relationship was incredibly tenuous. In their eyes, it was only natural if it was all a plot.

Stephen frowned, not saying anything. He was deep in thought, constantly weighing the benefits of the plan.

Everyone behind Stephen had bitter looks on their faces, clearly not knowing what to do.

Eduardo was furious at how uncertain they looked, ”What are all of you doing?! Are you really going to believe Jackie’s words? Don’t forget who he is! He’s not our friend. He’s our number one enemy. Are you really going to believe our enemy just like that?”

“We’re just going to stop because they said so? He must be scheming something in his head! He might want to kill us all off!”

“What he said earlier was all just a lie! Demon Spirit Beasts?! A king?! I refuse to believe it!”

The warriors from second-grade worlds did not know what to say at how frustrated Eduardo was.

A warrior from Golden Continent said meekly, “You’re right, but what if what he said is true? What do we do? If we end up getting hunted by those beasts, we won’t be able to do anything about it…”

After that, he did not dare to continue, because Eduardo was looking at him furiously.

He shouted out, “You’ve all been brainwashed by Jackie! So what if it’s real?! The Demon Spirit Kingdom has opened so many times. Every time, there are survivors.”

“We have so many warriors from second-grade worlds here. Nothing will happen if we’re careful! If the fourteen of us stay together, no one will be able to harm us.”

Eduardo got angrier and angrier as he spoke. He hated everyone for being so easily swayed by Jackie.

He took a deep breath and said, “No matter how strong this king is, he won’t touch us if we don’t do anything to him. We just need to survive for two nights, and we’ll be able to leave this place.”

“I don’t know if the Demon Spirit Beasts have any schemes, but this kid is definitely trying to harm us and kill us all. Listening to him is suicide!”

Chapter 3439
Eduardo got more and more emotional as he spoke. He wanted nothing more than to grab them by the collar and shout right into their faces.

Jackie’s lips twitched helplessly.

Eduardo was too stubborn. If he did not care about his plans, Jackie would have just shut up and forgotten about Eduardo.

However, with his plan in mind, Jackie could not help but say, “We’re just going to not do anything to each other, how could this be a scheme? If you feel like it’s one, then how will it cause you any losses?”

Eduardo raised an eyebrow and said, “Of course, it will. Otherwise, you wouldn’t have gone through such pains to craft this story so that we can believe you. Out of the blue, you suddenly asked for a truce, I refuse to believe you’d be so nice.”

“Let me tell you, I’m not like the rest of them who’ll believe anything you say. You can forget about it. I won’t fall for it.”

Jackie rolled his eyes in exasperation. He knew that it was a complete waste of time talking to that guy. Eduardo would not believe him anyway.

He turned to look at Stephen, who was still deep in thought instead. Stephen had his head lowered at that moment, it was hard to tell what he was thinking.

Jackie said to Stephen, “Have you thought about it? There’s honestly nothing much to think about. It’s not like you’ll suffer any losses if you do what I’m suggesting. Everyone can just gather here and wait for two days and two nights. Once the Demon Spirit Kingdom ends, everyone will get out safely. Then, it’ll all be done. There’s nothing to think about at all. ”

That was Jackie’s plan.

In the next two days, everyone would peacefully get along, and not attack each other. There were so many people there. Any intelligent Demon Spirit Beasts would not attack them. Once they were sent out, nothing here would have anything to do with Jackie anymore.

At the most, he would just let people know what he knew so that everyone would be more cautious.

Stephen looked up after Jackie spoke. He could not figure out any flaws in it.

If Jackie was not lying, his suggestion would be the best idea.

They would gather there, not hunting any beasts and not caring about their results. They would just quietly wait for the Demon Spirit Kingdom to end and get out peacefully. However, Stephen was worried that it would be a plot from Jackie. They might not escape unscathed.

Jackie sighed helplessly, ”I know what you’re worried about, but there’s no need for that. I don’t want to fight you at all right now. You have fourteen men with you anyway, you’d be confident enough to face me. I’ll be right here, you’ll be able to see everything I do.”

Jackie’s words were slowly convincing Stephen.

After thinking about it, he finally nodded. If Jackie was being truthful, then they could absolutely not afford to be careless. In the end, they were in Demon Spirit Beast territory.

If the beasts really had so many experts, then even fourteen of them might not be able to stand up to the beasts. Working with the warriors from third-grade worlds was the safest choice.

Eduardo almost exploded when Stephen nodded!

He grabbed Stephen's arm and shouted, "What do you mean?! Do you believe this brat too? He's lying to you! Are you crazy? He's our enemy! How could you listen to our enemy, not attacking just because he asked you to? Aren't you worried…"

Chapter 3440
Before he could finish, Stephen interrupted him, "I know your concerns, but I've already thought it through. We won't suffer any losses from a truce. He will just be there, and we'll see everything he does. As long as we remain on alert, no surprises will happen."

Eduardo paced around on the spot angrily. He felt like Stephen was crazy to believe Jackie. He refused to believe what Jackie had said at all.

In his eyes, Jackie was an expert at scheming. Nothing Jackie said could be believed.

Eduardo was just about to say something when Stephen raised his hand to stop him, "Don't say anything else right now. What's the point of fighting them anyway? Ever since Jackie joined, I haven't even considered getting a prize from the Demon Spirit Kingdom."

"Don't forget, only the top three places can get rewards, there's no reason not to get along."

In truth, Stephen was a bit guarded with his words for the sake of his own dignity. After all, he did not want to admit that he was weaker than Jackie, even if it was the truth.

Jackie's sudden entry had completely shattered Stephen's confidence. They would need to beat Jackie to place in the top three.

As the leader of the team for the Demon Spirit Kingdom, he needed to think about the bigger picture.

He could not forget everything for the sake of the rewards. If too many people died, he'd be questioned even if he won. It was better if they held a truce so everyone could get out safely.

Eduardo felt like he was going to die from his anger. He knew Stephen somewhat well. Everything Stephen said indicated that he had already decided to follow what Jackie wanted.

Just as he was about to explode in anger, they heard the sound of a bird from the skies. Everyone looked up to see a massive sparrow fly past. It looked like a very ordinary beast.

That beast was about the length of two people, while its wingspan was as large as five to six people. It flew by and looked at the people below. After that, it cried out a few more times as it headed toward the west.

Everyone had seen that, and Jackie frowned, saying, ”Something feels wrong…”

Eduardo sneered in disdain, “What’s wrong about it? This doesn’t make sense with your lies, right?! Just look at that beast that just flew past. That’s a Demon Spirit Beast. It’s completely different from what you described. It has no human head!”

Jackie did not bother with Eduardo at all. He looked up at the sky until the beast disappeared before he averted his gaze.

Eduardo stomped on the ground, “That beast is quite slow! We’ll still be able to catch up if we go for it now! I know you’ve already decided to listen to Jackie’s plans, siding with the enemy. I’m fine if you don’t want rewards! However, I want my rewards. Otherwise, why did I enter the Demon Spirit Kingdom? Don’t you think it’s stupid to waste two days just like that?”

After he said that, Eduardo turned to look at the other warriors from second-grade worlds, “I don’t know what the rest of you think, but I’m sure that Jackie is lying. You shouldn’t listen to him. I don’t care if they don’t want any rewards, but there are only three spots for the rewards. Who wants to come with me?”

With Eduardo’s personality, he felt like it would be better for him to go alone, but it was unsafe to hunt alone, so he wanted to encourage others to go with him.

Most of the warriors from second-grade worlds were much more apprehensive after hearing what Jackie had said. They felt like it was better to stay there. However, there were some who thought differently.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3441-3445 -

Chapter 3441
Thorn was from a holy grade clan. He was not a chosen disciple, but he was ranked highly among inner disciples. He walked to Eduardo's side.

"Eduardo, I'll go with you! I don't believe what Jackie had said either. I came in here for the rewards, and I don't want to waste my time!"

Eduardo's smile almost split his face apart when someone went to his side.

He reached out and patted Thorn on the back, "You're making a smart choice!"

The moment that was said, a few more beasts flew by above them. Those beasts were not that quick, and they did not seem to have noticed the humans below them.

Eduardo was incredibly excited at that, and he threw aside all his reservations.

"Let's go! It'd just be a waste of time to continue waiting here. We just need to be a bit more cautious, and nothing will happen to us. Once the Demon Spirit Kingdom closes and we're safe with our rewards, they'll definitely be incredibly jealous!"

Thorn was equally as excited. After he nodded, he left with Eduardo.

Jackie's expression never changed. He would not stop the two of them from going anywhere. Even if two fewer people meant less help, those two would only cause trouble if they stayed.

Stephen was different. Once the two of them left, it would be dangerous for their team regardless of if they returned or not. The danger would not just be from the Demon Spirit Beasts, but Jackie's group as well.

Jackie was no slouch.

The warriors from second-grade worlds would have two fewer people, which meant that they would only have twelve of them. Their numbers would weaken their group as a whole.

Stephen frowned as he said to Eduardo, "I know you won't listen to anything I say, but you have to make one thing clear! We're a team, you can't just throw us aside for yourself…"

"Your skills are in second place in this team. You'll be needed for anything important! If you take him away, you'd just be harming your own people!"

When Eduardo heard that, he said casually, “Then you can just follow me over there! I told you not to listen to our enemies. If you insist on being stupid and staying with them, then you’d have been killed by your own stupidity! You can listen to Jackie if you want, I won’t listen to him!”

After he said that, Eduardo turned around to leave.

Stephen frantically stood in front of him, “Listen to me! Jackie doesn’t seem to be lying. If he was, he wouldn’t have made such a detailed story up. The Demon Spirit Beasts really can absorb human blood!”

Stephen was basically talking to a wall at that moment. Eduardo refused to listen, even feeling like Stephen was trying to harm him.

Eduardo reached out and pushed Stephen away, “You’re not my master! We’re not even from the same clan. You have no right to make any decisions for me! I know what you’re thinking. You can’t get the rewards, so you don’t want me to get them too! I won’t be so dumb!”

Those words were incredibly harsh. Even though they had known each other for quite long, they were not from the same clan. Hence, the trust was comparatively lower.

Chapter 3442
Things had already escalated to that degree.

If Stephen continued to convince Eduardo to stay, he would really end up being suspected of trying to drag Eduardo down. Stephen definitely did not think that way as his body stiffened and his breathing started to quicken. His anger was starting to get to his head.

The more he looked at Eduardo, the more he wanted to punch Eduardo in the face. That brat really was getting too arrogant. Stephen was trying to give some advice and had given Eduardo very solid reasoning. It was one thing to not listen, but it was another to twist his intentions.

Stephen looked away, “Whatever! If that’ s how you really want to think, then I have nothing else to say. You’ll think that I’m trying to drag you down no matter what I say anyway…”

“Since you’ve made up your mind, I won’t stop you. However, if you regret it and rejoin the team, you can’t be so stubborn anymore. You have to listen to me for everything! You can’t have your own opinions anymore!”

Eduardo scoffed, letting out a look of disdain. Once he killed enough Demon Spirit Beasts, he might decide to return to the team. Whether or not he listened to Stephen would depend on how he felt.

However, for the sake of his freedom at that moment, Eduardo nodded. Stephen finally looked more relaxed after that, but he was no idiot. He knew that Eduardo was not so easily convinced. Eduardo might just be agreeing for the sake of convenience.

Stephen had already decided to not stop Eduardo. He took a step back and gave way.

Eduardo finally let out a smile as he turned to nod at Thorn. Thorn excitedly followed.

The two of them started to rush in the direction where those beasts went. Everyone looked as if they disappeared and suddenly did not know what to say. A few warriors from second-grade worlds felt very conflicted.

They felt like staying and leaving both had their own merits. After all, if the team was not moving, and they left to kill the Demon Spirit Beasts, they would definitely end up in the top three. Those amazing treasures would be theirs. However, if what Jackie said was true, then it was very possible they would lose their lives.

All of them frowned at the thought. They looked on as those two left.

Both Eduardo and Thorn sped over quickly. They went through the dense forests excitedly, especially Thorn.

He felt like his big break was right in front of him. As long as he seized the chance, he would get closer to becoming a chosen disciple. Then, he would get whatever he wanted. All those people who had looked down on him would kneel before him.

Thorn got excited just thinking about it.

As they sped forward, he said to Eduardo, “Eduardo, you’re so smart! Everyone’s been fooled by Jackie. They believe anything he says. Demon Spirit Beasts with human heads? Those are all lies. They don’t exist at all.”

“He must have some big plot behind everything. They aren’t killing beasts at all. If just the two of us are doing it, then we’ll share all the treasures later!”

Eduardo laughed out loud. He was incredibly happy at that moment.

”You’re right! Those people are afraid of everything. Jackie just spoke a few words, and they didn’t dare to do anything because they were afraid of dying! We really managed to profit this time. We’ll both improve greatly if we get these treasures! They’ll all be green with envy!”

Chapter 3443
Thorn nodded enthusiastically, his smile was almost about to split his face.

At that moment, they suddenly heard some rustling next to them, as if something was speeding through the leaves.

Both of them were stunned. A look of happiness flashed in Eduardo's eyes.

Luck was on his side!

They had just been there for not that long, and they already met a Demon Spirit Beast. No matter how many they meet, all of them would die for him.

As he thought about it, he said to Thorn, "Take out your weapon! Don't let any beasts escape us!"

Thorn nodded. Suddenly they hear the sounds of gears moving.

Eduardo stiffened, feeling like that sound was a bit strange. The next moment, he widened his eyes so wide that they looked like they were going to pop out of their sockets. It was because he saw a massive pincer rapidly approaching him.

Eduardo jumped up and immediately avoided it. However, he had just taken two steps back when he felt his leg tighten.

Looking down, a long and sticky thing had wrapped around his leg, causing Eduardo to be immensely shocked.

He shouted out, "What is this thing!?"

He did not think too much about it since it was a dangerous situation. He took out his weapon and cut it to release his leg.

His sharp sword slashed at that thing, but it did not break at all. The sword ended up getting stuck on it, causing Eduardo to be completely stunned.

Right after that, he heard even more rustling. When he looked up, his breathing stopped!

What were those strange-looking things?!

More than ten beasts with human heads were in front of them. All these beasts had unique appearances. They looked at Eduardo and Thorn with a sharp glint in their eyes.

Three of them had toad-like bodies. They opened their eyes and spat out their thin and sticky tongues. That was when Eduardo realized what was wrapped around his foot!

Eduardo said, "So it's true!"

He had not believed what Jackie had said just now, thinking that Jackie had been spewing nonsense. He thought that Jackie had only been so detailed because it was a trap, and whoever fell into it was an idiot.

He thought that he was the smartest one, always on alert. Only then did he realised that Jackie had not been lying!

He had been the idiot!

At that moment, he heard a cry of agony by his side.

Eduardo looked back and saw that Thorn's whole body had been captured by a tongue.

A spiked beast floated in front of Thom. It slowly cut Thorn's body apart, and blood began to flow out. Blood stained Thorn's clothes, causing him to struggle and shout out in agony.

Eduardo was looking at it all and felt a chill throughout his body. As a chosen disciple, he experienced a lot of hardships. With all his experience, it was obvious what he needed to do next.

Chapter 3444
He could no longer help Thorn. He needed to quickly escape himself. Otherwise, what happened to Thorn would happen to him!

Eduardo roared angrily as he formed seal after seal. The seals quickly fused in the air. The light around him began to dim as if the sun was setting. Of course, the darkness only surrounded Eduardo.

Countless seals fused into pitch-black seeds. Those seeds quickly spun in the air, absorbing all the light around him like black holes.

Eduardo shouted out, "Break!"

Those black seeds quickly charged at the tongue that was holding Eduardo's foot. The moment the dark seeds touched the tongue, they started to swallow everything.

The tongue was constantly being pulled. It lasted for just a moment before it was destroyed. In the end, the tongue fell, letting go of Eduardo's foot.

When Eduardo saw that, he finally breathed a sigh of relief. He did not even bother thinking as he immediately sped away. However, he had only escaped for a moment before he was caught by a tongue again.

At that moment, Eduardo was already struggling crazily.

Unfortunately, his luck had abandoned him. It was not just his left foot that was caught, but his right as well.

He turned to look, and five of those toad-like beasts had their mouths open, spitting out five tongues!

Their eyes were looking right at him!

Eduardo's heart chilled at that scene. Before he could keep struggling, his hands were wrapped by the tongues. At that moment, all his limbs had been locked in place. Even his waist had a tongue on it.

His breathing was frantic as he cried out. He tried to get his friends to save him, but it was wishful thinking. They had advanced so quickly earlier. He was already twenty kilometers away. No one would hear him even if he ruined his throat by shouting!

At that moment, the place where the warriors had gathered was abnormally quiet. The decision from earlier had been agreed to by everyone. All of them set aside their grudges for the moment, and no one made any remarks since. None of them showed much emotion on their faces.

However, they still had their conflicts in the past. Even if it was a truce, they did not sit together. Instead, there was a fixed meter gap between them. They sat on two sides. Jackie was at the center of the warriors from third-grade worlds.

Meanwhile, Stephen was at the center of the warriors from second-grade worlds.

Time slowly passed. After about an hour, the silence was broken by Jackie. He opened his eyes and looked toward Stephen.

"Check to see if the two that left just now still have their marks on."

The moment he said that everyone opened their eyes at the same time.

Stephen frowned, not wasting any time in letting his senses out to feel the mark he left on Eduardo and Thorn.

After a few moments, Stephen's eyes narrowed as he said in a hoarse voice, "I can't feel them anymore…"

The moment that was said, everyone's hearts jumped in fear.

The warriors from second-grade worlds all sent out their senses to try to feel the two of them as well.

All the warriors had placed their marks on each other before they left. Everyone was trying to feel the mark they had left on Eduardo and Thorn.

Chapter 3445
Stephen turned to look at the others behind him.

Everyone had an incredibly serious expression on their faces. Stephen felt his heart sinking. It meant that no one could feel the mark. It meant that Eduardo and Thorn were definitely not in good condition!

A warrior from a second-grade world said with a trembling voice, ”It’s only been an hour! How did they…”

He was right!

Only one short hour had passed, and something had already happened. It was too quick.

Stephen’s heart pounded rapidly. He could not calm down. However, he knew that the situation would only worsen if he did not calm down. He took a few deep breaths, composing himself.

Jackie looked at Stephen coldly, regarding Stephen in a better light.

He really was the leader of that team. He always kept himself calm in every situation. Sometimes, impulsiveness would not solve problems, and would only exacerbate the problem.

After five minutes, Stephen looked at Jackie, “I’ll admit, I doubted your words before this, but that doubt is gone now. The situation now is terrible!”

Stephen was incredibly frustrated. Those two were probably already dead. In truth, he was not too sad about that.

He was sad because the two of them dying meant that the warriors from the second-grade worlds were weaker. They were even less of a match for Jackie’s faction. After that, they might end up being cannon fodder for Jackie.

Stephen really hated Eduardo at that moment. That guy could die due to his arrogance if he wanted to, but his death had caused a result like that. All the warriors from second-grade worlds had to shoulder it.

Stephen took a deep breath and said, “What do we do next? If we just sit here patiently and don’t get tempted to go hunting for the beasts, there shouldn’t be any more problems.”

Jackie shook his head, “I don’t think it’ll be that easy. Even if we just sit here, things can still happen.”

The moment that was said, Stephen was stunned, “Things will still happen? What will happen? They probably won’t move so easily when we have so many gathered here!”

Jackie shook his head helplessly, “They’ll definitely attack. No matter what kind of price they have to pay, they’ll try to kill all of us.”

When Jackie said that, he left no room for doubt.

Stephen and the others felt their hearts racing as they paled.

A warrior from a second- grade world asked loudly, “Why do you say that?! Why would they want to kill us no matter the price?!”

As the intense debate went on, the beasts already had some new movements.

A team of fifty Demon Spirit Beasts with the beast Karsh as the leader was rapidly approaching their location.

Karsh had just let a few lower leveled demonic beasts observe the humans from the air. After determining the numbers and position of the humans, they stopped about a kilometer away from where Jackie was.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3446-3450 -

Chapter 3446
Karsh said loudly, “Move based on what we planned! Remember, before we attack, don’t let yourselves be seen. The moment you notice anything, send out a message!”

All of the beasts answered at the same time, “We will follow the orders of the great leader!”

Forty-something beasts left, leaving five behind.

Karsh had a long body. Its upper half looked more or less like a human, while the lower half of its body looked like an incredibly big praying mantis. It frowned, looking in the direction where Jackie’s group had gathered, not saying a thing.

Mijas raised an eyebrow and said, “I don’t know what the King is thinking. Why he panic? Didn’t we say we would slowly pick them off? Why are we going to kill them all off this time?”

Karsh’s lips twitched in exasperation when he heard that. It turned to look at Mijas, wanting to smack the other party on the head.

It said coldly, “Are you stupid? Do you not know of Setia and the others disappearing? Other than seeing some remnants of battle, the four of them have completely disappeared! They’ve definitely died, so the king is making us spare no one.”

Mijas still did not understand. It frowned in thought for a while before saying again, “If they died, then they died. Isn’t it normal for one or two to die for every task? Even though all four of them died this time, it’s still not completely unacceptable.”

“They were just unlucky to meet someone that killed all four of them, but surely we don’t need such drastic actions? Surrounding such a large group of humans, we’ll definitely have to pay a huge price. It’s not worth it for those four.”

At that moment, even Besant by the side could not stand it.

Besant frowned and said, “Who told you we’re doing all this to avenge those four? Do you even have a brain?!”

Mijas was clearly angered at being called brainless.

It scoffed and said, “Then what’s the reason? Stop trying to act like you’re so smart, okay? I only asked because I can’t understand. ”

Besant scoffed and said, “You’re still unhappy? What other reason could there be? Of course, it’s to stop those people from spreading our secret out to other humans. After they get out, they’ll definitely start spreading what happened here. Then, our plans will be revealed to everyone, and it’ll be much harder for us to do anything!”

“That’s why we’re willing to pay such a huge price to kill the humans who know about the secret. We need to bury the secret in the Demon Spirit Kingdom!”

“Furthermore, the king just needs the blood of ten more humans. To make a breakthrough and level up. Then, even if stronger humans enter, they won’t be able to cause us any trouble!”

Mijas’ lips twitched. It suddenly found itself at a loss for words. So that was the reason.

Why did it not think about it?

It had thought that the king was looking for revenge, which Mijas found very strange.

Since when was the king so compassionate?

Karsh reached out and interrupted their discussions, “Let’s not waste any more time. That guy is a little strong. We have to use our full power later. We can’t let him escape. We’d still have a chance to cover it up if the others escaped, but if that guy escapes, it’ll be hard to kill him again!”

That person Karsh was referring to was known by everyone. They gathered there precisely because of that person.

Chapter 3447
Mijas’ lips twitched, “The humans aren’t just going to sit there either. We managed to smoothly complete all our tasks before this because the humans didn’t know we were hiding our skills. Furthermore, we had the advantage in terms of numbers before this. We’ve already lost some of those advantages.”

“That guy has definitely told our secrets to everyone. They’ll definitely be on guard. We won’t have it so easy this time. A lot of us will definitely die for this, especially to kill that guy! I can’t even guarantee that I’ll be able to survive!”

Saying that Mijas felt a chill in its heart. It knew that the task was incredibly difficult this time.

A lot of them would probably die to the humans. However, it was forced to perform this task. It was a possibility that they might not survive the task, but if they went against the king’s orders, they would definitely be killed by the king.

Besant frowned, “Don’t be so depressing. Don’t think of our opponent that strong.”

“This time, we brought fifty with us. I just got a message from the king. To guarantee the success of this task, he sent another thirty. We have so many of us, if we still can’t deal with them, we’d have to just accept that we’re unlucky.”

Karsh turned to look at the ones behind it, “Don’t be so depressing. At this moment, we have to toss aside those thoughts. We have to use our full potential!”

At that moment, Jackie did not know that they had been surrounded by the beasts. He held up a piece of paper and listened to everyone else as he drew on it.

Stephen had an anxious look as he stared at the piece of paper in Jackie’s hand. His eyes trembled slightly, it was obvious how distraught he was.

After Jackie drew for a long time, Stephen could finally not resist asking, “We’re going to move locations right now?”

Jackie nodded, not even looking up as he said, “After we determine our location, we’ll make a move immediately. We can’t stay here for too long. It’s not like you haven’t noticed it. A few more low-leveled beasts have been flying by. They’ve already confirmed our location, and are observing our every move!”

Stephen no longer dared to doubt Jackie’s words. After all, they’ve already paid the price for doing so.

He frantically walked around on the spot, his mind constantly thinking about what Jackie had said.

Jackie said that the beasts will definitely try to trap them. Stephen asked why Jackie was so sure.

Jackie answered in a serious voice, “It’s because they are aware that we already know their secret. To hide their secret so they can kill even more humans in the future, they will definitely not let us go. They will figure out a way to make all of us stay here!”

Everyone felt a chill when they heard that.

They finally understood how dangerous their situation was. Even though so many of them were gathered there, it was still not safe.

Jackie frantically drew on the paper to figure out the geography of the place. He wanted to find a place that was easy to defend and hard to attack.

He frowned and asked, “That large, circular lake, is it in the west? Are you sure it’s directly west?”

Jackie was speaking to one of the warriors from a second-grade world.

Chapter 3448
That warrior nodded emphatically, ”I’m sure it’s in the west. At that time, I was scared of any danger, so I went around my surroundings. I confirmed that the lake is right there!”

Jackie nodded before he drew the lake on that piece of paper.

They had been sent to various corners of the Demon Spirit Kingdom and had gathered there together. In order to quickly find a place that was easy to defend, Jackie had everyone tell him what they saw on their way over.

Jackie stared at the western side for a moment before he frowned and shook his head, “No! That place is only good because it gives us a wide vision, we can’t say it’s that easy to defend. If they suddenly attack, we’ll only be able to retreat in one direction as we fight. We’ll definitely suffer heavy losses…”

After Jackie denied that position, he asked everyone else again, “Did you see any valleys or caves on the way over? Even mountaintops are fine.”

Kesh glinted in his eyes as he raised his hand excitedly, “I remember somewhere! That place should be quite easy to defend!”

Jackie nodded, allowing Kesh to continue. Kesh took a deep breath and recalled what he remembered.

“That place is a somewhat tall mountain range. There’s a canyon behind it. The canyon is so narrow that only two people would be able to walk through at a time. Do you consider that easy to defend?”

Jackie had a sparkle in his eyes as he straightened his back and nodded, “Of course it is! Why didn’t you say so earlier? Did you not remember it?”

Kesh shook his head.

He took a deep breath before he said, “I didn’t mention it earlier because I felt like the place was a little strange. When I stood at the mountain range, I could see the end of that canyon…”

As he said that, he paused and frowned, “There was mist at the end of the canyon. It covered the whole area and seemed endless. I found it strange, so I wanted to see if there was anywhere else…”

When Jackie heard that, he raised an eyebrow.

He drew the mountain range on the map, but he did not say anything. He looked at every position in detail, and he thought for a moment before he pointed right at the mountain range, “Let’s take a gamble then! We’re leaving for this place now!”

Everyone exchanged looks of worry with each other. However, they could do nothing about the matter.

Everyone was already treating Jackie's words as gospel. After all, those who did not listen to Jackie ended up dying. They naturally refrained from voicing any dissent.

After they moved for about a kilometer, they suddenly noticed eight Demon Spirit Beasts with human heads in front of them.

Other than Jackie and Rudy, it was the first time the rest of them had seen the beasts that looked like that.

Everyone was stunned as they pulled out their weapons and prepared for battle.

Those beasts did not hesitate at all when they noticed the humans. They tossed out a signal array. The signal exploded in the air like fireworks, and the shockwaves were transmitted out.

Chapter 3449
Jackie's lips stiffened, "Let's deal with it quickly! Kill them!"

They could not afford to hesitate at that moment. Everyone knew that they had been surrounded by the beasts. If they delayed any longer, the other beasts would definitely surge over.

To prevent that from happening, they had to deal with the battle quickly!

Jackie formed seals with his hands, and a hundred Soul Swords condensed in the air.

There were a lot of enemies, and Destroying the Void attacked in a wider area!

Before Jackie could use his skill, a large pincer came from the left. Stephen happened to be standing there.

Stephen raised his sword and slashed down. Snow danced around his sword as the temperature around them dropped rapidly. The blade clashed against the pincer.

The pincer was sent flying back, and the snow on the sword scattered as well.

Stephen stiffened. Even though he did not use his full power, it was still seventy to eighty percent of it. He never expected a third of his technique to have been blown away as he struck his opponent!

It was obvious how strong their opponents were.

He was a chosen disciple from a holy grade clan. Even if he was not among the highest ranked, normal warriors were no match for him! Yet, a random Demon Spirit Beast was already so powerful. It shocked him quite a bit.

Stephen clenched his teeth and his expression turned serious.

Jackie had not been exaggerating at all. The situation was even more serious than what he had said.

At that moment, Jackie let out a shout. Stephen looked over to see a large gray blade in front of Jackie. The blade was condensed through a hundred Soul Swords.

Jackie pushed forward, and the blade shot forward like an arrow, charging right at three beasts.

Those beasts all looked similar. They had two massive pincers as hands. The pincers were their weapons. Those beasts used their pincers to clash against the massive Soul Sword!

The others attacked at the same time as well, facing the other beasts.

At that moment, all of them heard a sizzling sound.

Quite a few people turned over to look. That massive Soul Sword immediately wrapped around those pincers the moment they clashed. The pincers turned black and started to sizzle!

In just a few moments, their pincers had turned completely black and watery.

The three beasts let out cries of agony as they were surrounded by the rotting properties of Jackie’s soul attribute.

They started to emit gray smoke and looked like they were decaying.

Stephen and the others froze at the sight, especially Stephen. His lips trembled slightly as he looked at everything in disbelief.

He had just clashed against those massive pincers, so he knew how strong they were better than anyone else. His technique had almost been broken through, but those beasts crumpled like paper facing Jackie’s attack!

Quite a few warriors from second-grade worlds shrunk back at the sight, incredibly glad that they were working together. Otherwise, they would definitely not be at an advantage if they fought. It was even possible they would all be killed by Jackie.

Jackie had dealt with three in one go, so the others were not worth mentioning anymore. In just a few moments, they had eliminated all the Demon Spirit Beasts!

Chapter 3450
With a wave of his hand, Jackie led everyone and continued westward. Once he and the others left, forty Demon Spirit Beasts gathered where the battle had been ended.

Karsh stood in the middle of the beasts.

Its eyebrows furrowed tightly as it looked at the battlefield angrily.

Their companions had been slaughtered by the humans, and their corpses were left scattered all around. It was obvious how intense the battle had been.

Mijas' lips trembled, and his voice shook a little, "Eight of ours didn't even manage to delay them at all! They're so strong!"

If it was any other moment, Karsh would have berated Mijas for praising their opponents, but it could not say anything at that moment, because it thought the same too.

Those humans were stronger than they thought!

Even though the humans had more numbers, they still had eight of them!

It was perfectly possible to stall for a moment, but reality ended up being completely different. Their companions had been killed in just a few moments. The opponents left immediately without any delay, not even taking care of the corpses.

Even Karsh was panicking. Besant walked over to Karsh and said seriously, "The situation is worse than we thought. It's obvious they know that we're surrounding them if they suddenly move like this. What do we do next?"

Karsh took a deep breath. He had a dark expression on his face, "What else can we do?! Issue the order. Call out two times the amount of lower leveled beasts and have them search everywhere! We have to find them! If they escape, our days will be much harder ahead!"

Besant nodded and immediately turned to spread the order. Karsh had a frown as it looked to the west, "They're heading toward that direction, but if I was them, I would probably change course. When we search, we can't leave out any directions."

"Even if there's still over a day, it's perfectly possible for them to hide for that long if they do it well. We can't relax at all. You know how the king is. If we fail, he'll eat us all!"

All of the beasts stood up, not daring to delay things at all.

After two hours, Jackie and the others arrive at the place Kesh talked about.

They were among mountains.

In front of them was a dense forest, and behind them was a canyon. To hide, Jackie and the others were behind the mountains. They could observe the forest constantly and could retreat into the canyons whenever they wanted.

Jackie hurriedly arranged for men to constantly keep watch. He sent out his divine senses, looking through every blade of grass around them.

Rudy looked at Jackie with some worry. He felt like that was the most dangerous situation they had ever been in in the Whirling World. It was not that there had been no dangers before this, but that Jackie had always been in control.

It was different this time. Even if Jackie was not afraid of most of those beasts, there was a king that had never appeared to back them.

That king was what Jackie was afraid of. He could feel that Jackie did not know if he was even a match for that king. That was why Jackie was in such alarm.

Thinking about that, Rudy took a deep breath and sighed.

The others were in no better state. Even though they had arrived safely, Jackie had guessed everything. The situation really was bad. If Jackie had not been so decisive, they might have ended up being eaten by those beasts. Even if they broke through in the end, they would have suffered heavy losses.

Stephen sat on the ground despondently. There were various thoughts in his head.

Jackie suddenly said to Stephen, ”Speak up if you have something to say. Don’t just stand there looking frustrated.”

Jackie felt a bit helpless at how depressed everyone was acting. It was not good for them. If they lost their confidence in battle, the consequences would be dire.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3451-3453 -

Chapter 3451
Stephen sighed helplessly, feeling like he was nothing compared to Jackie.

“How strong do you think their king is? Will you be a match against him?”

That was what Stephen was most worried about.

They might be able to take care of the beasts should there not be an overwhelming number of them, they were only concerned if they could stand against the king. That was because Stephen had no way of knowing how strong that king was.

He did not know if their strongest fighter, Jackie, would be able to stand up to him. If he could not, then the king would kill all of them if it decided to attack.

Just thinking about it terrified Stephen. He never expected himself to end up being in such a terrible situation.

They thought that their biggest enemy in the Demon Spirit Kingdom would be Jackie, yet in a twist of fate, Jackie became their pillar of hope, and their opponents became the beasts they thought were mere prey!

Jackie sighed.

Not being the one to exaggerate the truth, be said slowly, “I don’t know. All we know right now is that this king exists, and we don’t know anything else about it. I don’t know if I’m a match for him either…”

“It’s because I don’t know that I brought all of you here. Everyone should be on their guard, or the situation will only get worse!”

Everyone nodded, but their expressions did not improve at all.

Cloud shot Jackie a meaningful look. Even if he knew that it was best not to cause any trouble at that moment, he was just too worried.

He leaned over and said, “What do we do if we notice them coming? Are we going to retreat or fight them before we leave?”

Jackie frowned, thinking for a moment before he answered, “It depends on the situation. We’ll see how many there are.”

After he said that, Jackie looked into the skies.

He saw that there were no clouds at all and continued, “Don’t just pay attention to the ground, look up as well. The moment you notice any lower-leveled beasts flying over, take them down at once. Don’t let them off! We can’t let those beasts report on our situation!”

Everyone nodded. They suddenly felt like they were surrounded by problems everywhere.

Rudy whispered to Jackie, “If we can’t hold this place, are we going to retreat into the fog? I feel like it’s even more dangerous!”

Jackie turned to look at the end of the canyon. It was shrouded with the fog, obscuring their sights.

Jackie said seriously, “If there’s nothing else we can do, then that’s our only choice. Make sure you follow me closely then. We were sent everywhere in the Demon Spirit Kingdom except for the fog. It means that place is problematic!”

“I’ll have some people check to see if it’s poisonous. If it’s not, we’ll be able to enter. Even if it might end up being more dangerous, it’s not like we have a choice.”

Rudy’s expression darkened as his heart started to beat rapidly. A tremendous sense of danger enveloped his body. He looked at Jackie helplessly.

After a long time, he said, “Let’s hope we’ll never meet that king.”

Jackie smiled and patted Rudy on the shoulder, not saying anything.

Chapter 3452
Jackie frowned as he looked at the skies.

At that moment, there were three lower leveled beasts at his feet, and all were dead. In four short hours, three beasts had already flown overhead.

To prevent unnecessary troubles, they killed everything they saw.

The situation seemed worse than before. Even if none of the lower-leveled beasts managed to escape them, the Demon Spirit Beasts would surely notice their absence and would attempt to locate the others afterward.

Stephen looked at the dead beasts.

After a moment, he slowly said, “We thought that those things were Demon Spirit Beasts. No one expected that the higher-leveled beasts merely used those things to trick us!”

“We were fooled! We thought that humans were the ones who killed our fallen brethren, but we were just prey from the beginning!”

Stephen felt more amused at how he thought of things before this. He was so full of himself.

Kesh’s expression started to darken.

He looked at Jackie and said with some worry, “We can’t just continue like this. It’ s time we figure something out.”

Jackie nodded. He looked around him. After looking around, he slowly knelt and touched the soil.

The area was full of small hills, and the ground was covered with weeds.

After he observed it, he stood up and said, “We’ll dig a hole here…”

Pointing east at a hill, Jackie added, “This place can obstruct their line of sight. Even from the air, they won’t have much line of sight. Later, we’ll set up some shelters and block the whole place up. Once we’re done with them, they won’t notice us unless they come here themselves!”

Everyone walked over and looked at where Jackie was pointing. After looking at it for a long time, they were sure that it was the best place to hide.

With their actions determined, everyone rolled up their sleeves.

It did not take long for them to finish digging a cave. They emptied out the hill and dumped the soil into the canyon below.

The cave was just nice for about all 20 of them. After they finished digging, Jackie had everyone hurry inside before he put up stray mats around them to cover the hole as best as he could.

Jackie was the last one to enter the cave.

The moment he entered, someone started to complain, “This sucks! I thought that we’d be able to kill everything in sight after we entered, but we’re forced to hide to this degree.”

“Once we get out, I’ll let everyone know of the situation. We’ll gather our strongest and enter the Demon Spirit Kingdom to kill all those disgusting beasts!”

Jackie raised an eyebrow. It was obvious that person was from a second-grade world.

How typical of them. As long as they felt like they were suffering, they would do their best to get revenge.

Stephen saw that Jackie had entered and immediately said anxiously, “Do you have any plans after this? Are we just going to hide here? I feel like even if we’ve set up a ruse like this and dug up such a large cave to hide in, we can’t be at ease. I feel like they’ll eventually find us!”

Jackie nodded, “They’ll scour the whole Demon Spirit Kingdom as much as they can, no doubt. They’ll probably not leave a single stone unturned, carefully checking through everything!”

“They lived here all this time, so they know about the place very well. It‘s only a matter of time until they find where we’re hiding.”

Chapter 3453
Everyone started to get agitated when Jackie said that.

They thought they were safe in the cave and that they would be able to wait until they were sent out, yet they underestimated the beasts. Even with these arrangements, their safety was still not guaranteed.

All of the warriors were anxious as they started to discuss things.

A warrior from a second-grade world said with a dark look on his face, “Jackie, since you already know they’ll find us, then you should have a plan, right? What are your plans? You can just tell us, and we’ll all just go along with it.”

The warriors from the second-grade worlds could not be too intimate with Jackie since they still had a conflict with the third-grade worlds, but they could not afford to be disrespectful either. Otherwise, it would be too late for regrets if Jackie decided to use them as cannon fodder.

Thinking about it, they decided to treat Jackie with more respect. Jackie’s skills did warrant this respect, after all.

Jackie sighed as he said with a frown, “We don’t know what sort of skills they possess. They might not even need to look through everything to find out where we were. Compared to waiting for them to attack us, it’s better for us to seize the initiative…”

“We need them to suffer casualties and deplete their resources. The less they are, the safer we’ll be!”

As he said that, Jackie looked around the cave again, “I had all of you dig this cave both to hide ourselves and to set up a place to rest. I decided to bring a group of elites out to kill them and cause panic.”

Everyone widened their eyes at Jackie's words.

A warrior from a third-grade world said in a shaky voice, "Jackie, you'll bring the strongest warriors out and leave the rest of us here to wait for your return?"

Jackie nodded.

The others felt some panic seeing Jackies' answer.

A warrior from a second-grade world said anxiously, "If we stay here and we're noticed, we're all done for. We won't even be able to fight back!"

If the strongest ones left, then it would be like they had lost their roofs during a storm. It was a horrible situation just thinking about it. Even the warriors from third-grade worlds could not stay calm.

A third-grade world warrior in black robes said with some worry, "I know we're basically burdening everyone at the moment, but hey, we have our uses, too! If they attack us, we'll be able to relieve some of that pressure. You can't just leave us here."

The more they spoke, the more worried they were. It was as if the ones that remained were just trash to be abandoned by the strong.

A warrior from a second-grade world said, "Did you already make plans for the worst? You're planning on throwing those you think aren't useful aside and using your limited powers to protect yourselves?"

Jackie furrowed his eyebrows at their words. "What are you even talking about? We're not leaving to escape! We're trying to exterminate as many beasts as we can."

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3454- 3455 -

Chapter 3454

“I’m guessing that these Demon Spirit Beasts aren’t that many, there can’t be endless amounts of them. The more of them we kill, the higher your chances of survival! I acknowledge something else, too, even the stronger among us won’t be able to escape just relying on ourselves!”

Jackie’s words calmed them down a little, but it was still not enough.

He then continued, “All of you take turns to be on the lookout, and utilize our geographical advantages as well. The moment you notice anything, swiftly send us a message right away and retreat to the end of the canyon. Don’t hesitate for even a second. We’ll be back as soon as possible!”

After saying that, Jackie pointed out a few men. “Cloud and Kesh, as well as Stephen and Trey. The four of you will come with me.”

All five of them, including himself, were the strongest of their entire alliance, and they could stand their ground as long as they were facing less than 15 opponents.

Cloud, Kesh, Stephen, and Trey immediately nodded.

Jackie looked at Rudy. “You should stay behind. The moment you notice anything wrong, retreat into the fog. We can communicate through sound arrays.”

Rudy nodded vigorously. In truth, he did not want to stay with these people, and he was far safer if he was with Jackie. However, he did not object to the other party’s arrangements either.

He could tell that Jackie had other intentions with this arrangement.

Everyone knew he was close to Jackie. The fact that Jackie left him here was an assurance to those who remained.

About 50 kilometers away from them.

Karsh frowned as it listened to reports from its subordinates, which was a snake-bodied beast reported.

“There’s nothing wrong with the other directions. Only three lower-leveled beasts that went to the west have yet to return. ”

Karsh nodded. Its cold eyes looked toward the west as it said, “I thought that those people would change directions, but they’re still in the west.”

Mijas, standing behind Karsh, said, “I feel like those humans aren’t running without a goal. They must’ve determined where they wanted to go before they started to run.”

Karsh looked at Mijas with some praise. It was the first time Karsh noticed that Mijas had a brain. Before this, no matter what Mijas said, it sounded like an idiot.

Karsh sighed, “Gather all the Demon Spirit Beasts. We’ll head to the west now!”

The beasts behind Karsh acknowledged it.

Karsh had a deep frown.

Standing at about a meter and a half, it straightened its back and thought for a moment before it said coldly, “Isn’t the misty canyon toward the west? Are they aiming for that place?”

Mijas and Besant froze at this. Their eyes darted all around as they exchanged a meaningful look.

Karsh said, “I sure hope not. If those humans rush in, we’d have to leave without anything. Of course, I don’t think they’ll be so impulsive. “

Chapter 3455
After another two hours, the Demon Spirit Beasts gradually shrank their area of search and slowly zoned in on the misty canyons.

Karsh looked at the hill in front of it with a dark expression.

Mijas said anxiously, “What do we do next? Are we going to surround the place?”

Karsh took a deep breath and said, “The situation isn’t in our favor. It’s an important moment for the king, so we can’t make any mistakes.”

Karsh then turned and looked at its subordinates closely.

“Are all of you sure that they’re here? Have you checked everywhere else carefully? Were there no errors? If we’re wrong and we waste a lot of time, allowing these humans to escape the Demon Spirit Kingdom, it won’t end well for any of you. The king won’t let you off the hook!”

The subordinates answered respectfully, “Understood! We’ve looked everywhere else and have even sent out those with strong divine senses to sweep the area, noticing nothing amiss afterward. In the end, we’re sure that they’re in front! They’re either at the hills or in the canyon.”

Karsh nodded, yet his gaze was dull with slight worry. “How many are here?”

Besant said respectfully, “Including us, there are ninety-three. The thirteenth prince is here too.”

Hearing that the thirteenth prince was present, Karsh had a conflicted look on its face.

Its lips twitched as it said unhappily, “Why is he here? Does he think this place isn’t enough of a mess?”

Besant hurriedly shot Karsh warningly due to its choice of words.

Karsh took a deep breath, and its expression soured.

The task was already a heavy burden that greatly stressed it out, yet the thirteenth prince added to that stress.

Karsh was incredibly unhappy about it, but it did not dare say anything. After all, the thirteenth prince was not a title to be trifled with. Even if it was the leader, it had to watch its words.

“We’ll do what we planned to do. Split into nine smaller groups and disperse to nine positions. We’re not to give them a single opening to run to!”

Mijas and the other beasts nodded emphatically.

Karsh added right after that, “Don’t be too rash with your actions. We’ll make our move once we know where they are. Mijas, go talk to the thirteenth prince and have him bring a group to the east. Don’t do anything without my orders.”

Mijas nodded and turned around to make arrangements.

The thirteenth prince frowned as it listened to Mijas’ orders. Even though he did not want to bother with Mijas, it was still necessary to keep up appearances.

Looking at Mijas leaving, the prince said coldly, “You sure love to act superior in front of me, yet you’re as obedient as a dog before my father. Once I ascend to the throne, none of you will be able to escape!”

The thirteenth price had two loyal underlings next to it. One of them was a beast with a leopard’s body.

It smiled. “Trash like them won’t live that long. You don’t even need to do anything, they’ll die to someone else soon.”

The other beasts behind them nodded. All of them started to say what the prince wanted to hear.

“That’s right! He dared to tell you what not to do as if he’s your leader. They’re not worthy, and they really don’t know their place. You’ll absorb all of their blood eventually.”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3456 - 3460 -

Chapter 3456
A snake-bodied beast bent down and said, “Don’t pay too much attention to these underlings, they’ll meet their end eventually. You came to do your best so the king will know that you’re more capable and loyal than the other princes.”

The thirteenth prince nodded, composing itself.

The task at hand was more important. It could deal with the others another time. The king had a lot of children, and the thirteenth was only one of them.

There were not enough resources to go around. If it wanted to grow strong quicker, then it would need to gain the favor of the king so it could get even more resources. Otherwise, it would not have just left his life of luxury to kill the humans itself.

The snake beast smiled and said, “Don’t worry, all of us here have been with you the whole time, loyal only to you. The task this time is very important, and the king is observing it closely…”

“We’ll gladly risk our lives to make sure you complete the task well. When you kill those pests with your own hands, the king will look at you differently!”

That was what the prince was most concerned about. It did not care about the arrangements that Karsh had made for it. It could ignore the requests to not act recklessly. It would hide by the side and find a chance to kill those humans.

The prince heard that one of the humans that came this time was incredibly strong, so much so that regular beasts were no match for him.

The thirteenth prince was intrigued by this and wanted to kill that person itself. It would bring the human’s head to its father and earn some glory.

Suddenly, the rustling of leaves could be heard from above. All of the beasts there looked up to see five men in robes slowly descending.

There were a total of five of them, and the one in front was empty-handed. The others all had their weapons out, and they seemed prepared.

The thirteenth prince was stunned to see them.

Were those five of the runaway humans?

They dared to show themselves!

The thirteenth prince frowned and shouted, “Had enough of hide-and-seek, have you? You’re sick of living, huh? Nice of you to come to your own death.”

Jackie landed on the ground and faced the prince.

The five of them had been hiding the whole time and had overheard the whole conversation between the prince and Mijas.

Jackie looked at the prince and knew that this beast was different from the rest, being the offspring of the so-called king.

From the earlier conversation, it was obvious that the thirteenth prince was ambitious.

Jackie wanted to launch an ambush. After all, any regular beast would probably immediately release a signal if they appeared like that. However, after understanding the prince’s personality, Jackie decided to simply reveal himself.

The thirteenth prince was proud and narcissistic. Unless it noticed that it could be in danger, it would not release any signals.

In the eyes of someone like that prince, giving out a signal was basically a cry for help. It would deal with anything it thought it could deal with alone.

The prince looked at Jackie coldly. “You humans are really strange. You change your mind so often. Are you planning on fighting to the death by coming out like that? You should just forget about it. The five of you are no match for us.”

The snake-bodied beasts looked at Jackie and the others before leaning in closer to the prince, whispering, “Should we signal the others, my liege? It’s better to be safe…”

Chapter 3457
Hearing that, the thirteenth prince glared at the snake beast unhappily and sneered, “What signal?! Open your eyes and look. We have nine of us, and they’re only five. I’m right here as well.”

“Do we need to ask for help? If the nine of us can’t deal with five of them, don’t even bother with the signal. We should just die!”

The snake beast did not dare to speak anymore after being scolded like that. The prince did not lower its voice when it spoke, and Jackie heard everything.

Jackie could not help but smile. It was just like he expected.

He found himself sometimes intrigued by those narcissistic sorts. Even though they spoke harshly, their actions did end up sparing him a lot of trouble.

Jackie took a deep breath as he turned to Stephen and said, “The prince and the two behind him are mine…”

“We’ll do what we’ve planned. I’ll be the main attacking force while you guys guard my back. Buy me some time, we’ll deal with everything so they won’t have the chance to send out any signals.”

Stephen and the others nodded. Jackie no longer hesitated as he formed seals that danced in the air, forming a blade.

After absorbing the treasures he had gotten, Jackie’s Soul Sky improved, and the Broken Soul Blade was much stronger.

A storm god rank technique was terrifyingly strong. To prevent anything unexpected from happening, he wanted to deal with the prince before the rest.

The prince smirked when it saw that Jackie was attacking. “You really don’t know your place! Since you want to die so badly, I’ll grant you your wish!”

The prince looked different from the other beasts. It looked quite similar to a human, but it was two and a half meters tall and had greenish-gay skin like tiles on a floor. Its hands constantly moved, forming seal after seal as well.

Suddenly, thunder roared as sparks formed around it.

The prince let out a shout and raised its hand. A bow of thunder formed in its hand. It narrowed its eyes slightly as it pulled the bow. Countless sparks gathered on the bow, crackling.

At that moment, the prince looked like a god of thunder. It aimed its bow and arrow right at Jackie’s forehead as it shouted, “Die! ”

The arrow shot out, and Jackie pushed forward as well.

The Broken Soul Blade shot forward incredibly quickly.

The two attacks clashed with a loud noise.

The thunder and the dense black color clashed together, and no one could tell what was happening. Probably because they were confident in the prince, and also because they knew how narcissistic the prince was, but the other beasts did not attack.

Stephen and the others did not attack since the beasts were not moving. The battle suddenly became a duel.

Two sides stood on different ends as they looked at the fight. No one could tell what the situation was.

Chapter 3458
Then, there was a cry of agony, and a figure shot out right after that, rolling on the ground.

The thirteenth prince clutched its chest as it spasmed on the ground frantically, rolling and writhing as it did.

At that moment, all of the beasts panicked as they rushed to the prince's side.

"My liege, are you alright?!"

"Hurry and help the prince up!"

"Ah! Look! The prince's chest is turning black!"

The cries filled their ears. If the prince was still conscious at that moment, it would be scolding them for spouting so much nonsense. However, the pain filled his mind, and he could not even form the most basic of thoughts. All he could do was roll on the ground.

Jackie's hands started to move again, and 100 Soul Swords appeared in front of him. He clapped his hands together, and the Soul Swords fused.

Jackie shot a look at Stephen and the others.

Stephen and the others acknowledged it, and the five of them attacked the remaining beasts at the same time.

Suddenly, there were sounds of battle everywhere. In just a few moments, they had handled all of the beasts!

Stephen and the others might not be as strong as Jackie, but they were capable of facing the Demon Spirit Beasts that were not too strong.

Thanks to Jackie's terrifying abilities, he helped the others once he killed three himself, and the battle was immediately over. Other than the prince, the other beasts were all dead.

Jackie knelt next to the prince and looked at its condition.

He raised an eyebrow and said, "Not bad. His defenses are stronger than normal humans. If a human had been dealt this blow, half their soul would be gone, but he only lost a third."

Stephen and Trey felt a chill when they heard that.

Jackie had killed the prince with one blow. The opponent did not even have the chance to fight back, yet Jackie still praised its defenses.

They felt thankful that they were on the same side as Jackie. If those beasts were not around, they would probably be the ones who were dead. With Jackie's skills, dealing with them was no problem at all.

Jackie took a deep breath as he slowly stood up. "Let's bring him back. I want to interrogate him."

They dealt with the other corpses before they brought the struggling prince away.

It took some time before the other beasts realized that something was wrong.

After another 10 minutes, Karsh and the other beasts gathered at their spot. Karsh came to observe the traces of battle himself. When he felt the lightning around him, Karsh stiffened.

He turned around and shouted angrily, "Let me ask again… Did any of you see the thirteenth prince?!"

All of the beasts shook their heads.

Frantic footsteps were heard.

Besant rushed over to Karsh's side and whispered, "I looked around and couldn't find the prince and his men. It seems like they disappeared…"

Besant felt incredibly anxious when it said that. There were traces of an intense battle here, and they noticed remnants of electricity.

The thirteenth prince's constitution was unique, and it had a close relationship with the lightning lament. Its natural-born technique was the blade of lightning.

Chapter 3459
The site of the battle had been cleaned up, but it was impossible to remove all traces of battle. Even after looking around another two times, they could still not find the prince and the others.

It was obvious to everyone that the prince's group must have been ambushed by the humans, and from the looks of things, it did not end well for the prince.

Karsh's hands trembled slightly as anger boiled in its heart. It hated those humans, and it hated the prince for insisting on following them. It was one thing that the prince had gotten itself killed, but the rest of them would be punished as well!

The thirteenth prince might not be the most excellent of the princes, but the king still placed a lot of importance on the prince. The fact that the prince died while serving under Karsh meant that the king would surely put Karsh into judgment.

Karsh started to breathe a bit quicker, and its eyes reddened.

At that moment, the other beasts did not even dare to breathe. They knew how severe the problem was. Karsh would be bearing the brunt of it!

Karsh turned to look at Mijas. "I remember the prince was still fine when I sent you over fifteen minutes ago…"

Mijas nodded. It meant that the battle should not have happened that long ago.

Karsh added, "We only noticed the signs of battle five minutes ago. It means that everything happened within five to ten minutes."

Karsh was trying to make sure how fast the battle lasted.

The more it thought about it, the more sour its expression was. It was even starting to grit its teeth.

Mijas stood by the side in confusion.

It whispered to Besant, "Karsh doesn't look happy at all. Did he figure something out?"

Besant's lips twitched, wanting nothing more than to hit Mijas on the head.

"We noticed something off five minutes ago, and everything is cleaned up. It means that the battle was over incredibly quickly, and they cleaned up the scene too! Everything was done very efficiently. Do you think this is a good sign?"

Mijas finally reacted to that.

It nodded, only half-understanding it. "Karsh is worried that these ambushes won't stop happening…"

Besant nodded.

Mijas looked around. "What do we do next?"

Besant sighed. “It’s because Karsh doesn’t know what to do next, hence the frustration. They have the advantage at the moment, while we have the numbers. It’ll be easy for them to continue attacking us like this.”

“If we want to reduce our losses, we’ll have to gather everyone together, but we won’t be able to surround them that way…”

Besant paused, looked around, and said, “That’s not even what Karsh is the most frustrated about.”

Mijas was even more confused when it heard that. Its mind was slow in the first place, and Besant was being vague, causing Mijas to get anxious.

It reached out and grabbed Besant’s arm. “Get to the point, why don’t you? What’s the point of keeping things to yourself?”

Besant’s lips twitched, knowing that Mijas would grow irate if Besant did not explain things clearly.

Besant was forced to explain, “If you’re ambushed, what would be your first reaction?”

Chapter 3460
Mijas paused for a moment before it finally slapped its leg in realization. “The prince didn’t give us a signal!”

Besant nodded, lamenting that Mijas finally realized the situation.

Calling for allies when one was ambushed was basic knowledge, but all of them knew of the prince’s temper.

The thirteenth prince often resorted to doing things alone just because it had some skills. On top of that, the prince barely faced any repercussions for his mistakes, solely because he was the prince, which only worsened his attitude.

As long as the prince felt that it had an advantage, it would attack without bothering to notify its allies. That was what Karsh was most angry about.

If the prince had given them the signal, they would have rushed over, and the losses could have been kept to a minimum. The prince did none of that!

It caused the situation to escalate to that level.

The more Karsh thought about it, the more frustrated it was.

It faced Mijas and Besant and said, “This is just very troublesome. If the prince had just been killed, then it‘s not that bad. I’m worried that he’s not dead and that the enemies have him. The situation will be bad in that case…”

At that moment, Jackie and the others returned to their hideout in the cave.

When Rudy and the others saw them returning triumphantly, they were all excited.

Jackie did not bother talking to them as he dragged the prince, who was still writhing in pain. He tossed the prince inside and followed over.

The cave was not that big, but there was enough space for one more. All of them looked toward the prince.

The ones who did not follow Jackie were all very curious about what happened outside. Stephen was in no mood to explain things to them. His eyes never left the prince.

Cloud was different as he patiently told everyone what happened.

Jackie waved his hand and temporarily stopped the power of the Broken Soul Blade.

When the pain diminished, the prince slowly opened its eyes. It was a bit startled. After all, it was surrounded by humans the moment it opened its eyes. It even wondered if it was dreaming. However, all that confusion disappeared the moment it saw Jackie’s face.

It could not help but shudder. All of its arrogance had vanished.

Jackie laughed as he coldly looked at the prince, asking, “Do you want to guess why I kept you alive?”

The prince, despite his pompous nature, was an intelligent beast.

The fact that it was still alive meant that they wanted to know what he knew.

The prince gritted its teeth as it stared at Jackie. It did not say anything and looked like it was going to defy Jackie until the end.

Jackie let out a laugh as he took out a short dagger from Mustard Seed. He placed the dagger right against the prince’s neck.

“I’m not really a nice person, and time is ticking. You’d better be smart about things, or I’ll make you… You remember how pained you were just seconds ago, don’t you? Do you want to try it again?”

The prince’s lips trembled as all its muscles shuddered in his fear.

Thinking about the pain, it could not stop itself. That pain caused it to lose control, and the prince even felt like it was worse than being thrown into boiling oil.

Its hands trembled as it lowered its head and said, “I don’t know anything!”

Jackie laughed, kneeling next to it as he then said, “Do you think I’ll believe you? You’re the thirteenth prince. You’re a noble that’s high up in your society. No one will believe you if you say you don’t know anything.”

At that moment, the prince wished that it was not sought after that badly. It would have just been killed off instead of being tortured.

Stephen, however, was not as patient as Jackie.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3461 - 3465 -

Chapter 3461

The pressure slowly got to Stephen. He urgently wanted to know how he could make sure he was safe.

Jackie frowned and pulled Stephen away.

He said unhappily, “Control your temper. You’d be doing what he wants if you kill him!”

Stephen’s hands trembled, and his expression remained incredibly angry. His lips were trembling from anger as he stared at the prince viciously. He slowly calmed himself at Jackie’s words.

Jackie sighed in exasperation, nodding at Stephen.

There was no need for Stephen to care about it at all. Stephen understood what Jackie meant, and he was forced to retreat while controlling his temper.

Jackie looked at the prince again, “I’ll give you one last chance! If you don’t say anything, I’ll let you live!”

Those words stunned the prince, but Rudy understood what Jackie meant because Jackie had threatened others like this before.

Before the prince could ask, Jackie continued to say, “I’ll use my technique to slowly eat your soul away. Without your soul, you won’t be able to use your power, and won’t even be able to control yourself. However, I won’t kill you. I’ll snap all your limbs and toss you outside.”

“You’ll live. As the prince, your race won’t give up on you. You’ll live like that, but all your former competitors will mock you mercilessly. It will be like hell on earth.”

Jackie’s words were like nails slamming into the prince’s heart.

The strong ruled the Demon Spirit Kingdom. Without his strength, he would live a pathetic life.

Behind all that talent and who he was, he had offended many people everywhere. They would definitely not let go of the chance to torture him. He would not even be able to kill himself and would be forced to bear the humiliation.

Thinking about that, the prince could not help but shudder.

The fear was worse than the pain of his soul being eaten away just now. He started to breathe faster as he slumped down, thoroughly defeated by Jackie.

Jackie smirked.

The others could do what they wanted, but he did not want to meet Jackie ever again.

Jackie was just too scary, whether it was his methods or his skills, both of them caused Stephen to feel great fear.

The prince was finally subdued. It gulped and said, “Ask me whatever you want. I’ll tell you everything I know, but grant me a quick death.”

Chapter 3462
As Jackie’s interrogation continued, Karsh’s side looked like they were in complete panic.

The other beasts looked incredibly anxious as well. They did not dare to say anything for fear of interrupting Karsh’s thoughts.

All of the Demon Spirit Beasts realized how serious the problem was. Those humans were different from what they had expected.

If the matter was not resolved soon and the humans managed to safely leave the Demon Spirit Kingdom, then Karsh’s life would be at risk.

Besant frowned, standing by his side. It was hard to tell what Besant was thinking.

Mijas looked at Besant and whispered, “Don’t you think Karsh looks anxious? You’ve always been smart. Go give him some suggestions.”

Besant rolled its eyes, glaring at Mijas, “Just shut up! Don’t push me into the pit of fire. There are no correct suggestions right now. I don’t have any good ideas either. If we gather all our forces, the humans might just take the chance to escape.”

“After all, we haven’t even been able to tell where they are. If we split up, it’ll be more dangerous. There are a few incredibly strong geniuses among those humans. If we split up, it would just be an open slaughter for them. More and more beasts will die. It would be the death of us too!”

Saying that, Besant could not help but sigh, feeling like the future was not very bright. Everything they could do seemed wrong.

Mijas could not accept it and clenched its teeth wanting to say something. Yet, it was too simple-minded to figure anything out.

Besant took a deep breath and said, “More importantly, time is of the essence. If Karsh can’t decide, then the situation will only get worse.”

The time was tight for two reasons.

Firstly because the Demon Spirit Kingdom was only open for a limited amount of time. After another day, the kingdom would close again. Those humans who are alive would be sent out, and the secret would be exposed. Then, their future would be tumultuous.

On the other hand, they were worried that the humans would attack again, launching another ambush. There were fewer humans than beasts, and the humans were in unknown locations.

It was very easy for the humans to take advantage of any opportunities. The more beasts that died, the more they would be responsible for it.

It was no wonder that Karsh was so frantic. Mijas looked at Karsh, and could not figure anything out.

It said helplessly, “The king still doesn’t know anything. I wouldn’t dare to think of what would happen to us if he knew. Even if he can’t do anything to us now, once everything is over, we’ll be in for a world of suffering.”

Chapter 3463
Besant shook its head helplessly. It was something unavoidable.

It was a blood-red lake that constantly rippled. A thick smell of blood filled the whole place.

Anyone who did not have strong willpower would be completely shaken by the place and start vomiting or even fainting.

At the center of the lake was a round stage that was about hundred and fifty meters wide. There was a Demon Spirit Beast that sat there with its eyes shut. Other than having horns on its head, it was no different from a human.

It had white skin and even wore a human robe. If it did not have those horns, even Demon Spirit Beasts would not be able to tell what it was.

The Demon Spirit Beast had a dark cloud above it, and thunder constantly flashed within those clouds. Frantic footsteps could be heard, and the beast widened their eyes as it looked toward the distance.

Outside the Blood Lake, a beast with a snake’s body kneeled, “My Lord! The situation is bad! The thirteenth prince is lost. Those humans are too cunning. They ambushed us. The leader is completely unable to make a decision right now.”

The beast beneath the clouds was the king of the Demon Spirit Beasts, Diante. Diante breathed out dark coloured gas, and its golden eyes glinted danger in them.

“They’re all trash! All those assurances Karsh gave before they mobilized was just a load of crap. It was easy to say, but he’s useless at everything! What’s the point of having him around!”

The snake beast knelt on the ground, looking down with its body trembling slightly.

At that moment, it was filled with fear. Facing the king’s rage, he could not utter a single word.

Diante shut its eyes again and shouted, “Tell Karsh that he needs to deal with them in six hours! If he can’t, then he’ll be facing me!”

The snake beast immediately nodded its head frantically as it retreated into the fog.

Diante took a deep breath as it looked up at the thunderclouds.

It mumbled, “There’s still a bit left! I just need thirteen more humans! Once this is finished, I won’t be afraid of anything. No one will be able to touch me. Once I get out of the Demon Spirit Kingdom, I’ll be able to do whatever I want in the vast world!”

When Karsh heard Diante’s orders, its body completely stiffened. It merely nodded, not saying anything. However, it was obvious that Karsh was starting to feel the pressure.

He was panicking.

Six hours was not long, but it was not a short time either. If their opponents were not so difficult, it would be enough.

When Mijas heard that order, its face reddened in panic as it started to walk around in circles.

Chapter 3464
Besant placed its hand on Mijas, “Just keep quiet! Stop making a scene!”

Mijas’ lips trembled a little, “I’m just panicking, okay? What do you think we should do?”

Besant sighed, “What else can we do? Let’s take things a step at a time. I think Karsh has already thought about it.”

At that moment, Karsh suddenly said, “Gather everyone right now! We’ll head to the highest point!”

All of the beasts were stunned upon hearing that order.

Besant said anxiously, “If they’re not at the highest point and are gathered anywhere else, wouldn’t they have the opportunity to slip away if we gather everyone up? If they manage to slip away from our sights because of that, then the situation would be disastrous!”

Karsh said, “Do you think I didn’t think about that? This is the only choice we have. We don’t have any time to delay things anymore. We’ll just have to take a gamble! If we win, then it’s all good. If we lose, than half of us here will probably die!”

No words

Karsh took a deep breath and waved, “Alright! This isn’t the time to be unsettled! Hurry up and follow my orders!”

No words

Karsh looked at the peak of the mountain.

No words

It turned around and looked at all the other beasts. It could not hesitate at all at that moment.

It pointed at the top of the mountain, “Advance with me!”

With that order, all of the beasts followed behind Karsh, advancing toward the highest point.

No words

It widened its eyes and shouted at Karsh, “Here! They’re over here!”

The moment that was said, all of the beasts rushed over. Karsh was at the front, and its eyes were fixed on the cave.

The cave was completely covered up. If they had not looked at it closely, they would not have been able to tell that there was a cave. It was obvious that it had been dug out as cover.

Chapter 3465
Karsh could not let anyone slip through!

Karsh's hands trembled, and its breathing started to get erratic. It constantly looked around.

"They've left… When did they leave?!" Its voice turned hoarse, and it was in despair.

Besant froze, feeling like the situation was slipping away from their control. At that moment, it could not say a single word.

Besant merely watched as Karsh froze on the spot it stood. Karsh started to breathe heavily, and its hands shook slightly. Even its weapon was shaking.

After a few moments, Karsh turned around and shouted at the beasts behind it, "Hurry up and go out! Look at the surroundings! Make sure you check everything! They should not have left that long ago, they might still be nearby! All of you remember this, if those humans escape, none of us will get out of this unscathed!"

No words

No words

If it did not make sure to carry out the next steps, then only death awaited him. Diante would even eat him alive.

No words

Karsh stood next to the cave, coldly looking on as the other beasts searched. After a while, the only conclusion was that the humans had already left the place, not leaving a single trace behind.

Karsh was furious at that.

It clutched its fists, "How could this happen?! This should not be possible! Before we gathered, all of us were spread out everywhere. They did not have the chance to escape then. After we gathered, we had our eyes on the peak the whole time, but we didn't notice anything amiss.."

"There's no way they could have left during that time, but they still disappeared. Where did they go?!"

Karsh could not understand it. It had made the final decision after thinking about it deeply. It had gambled that the humans would be at the peak, and it had been right. However, the humans had already left.

When did they leave?

Thinking about it for a while, Karsh could not understand when they did so. They should not have had the chance to!”

Karsh panted roughly, its entire body was trembling.

Besant was panicking as well. It rushed over and looked down from the highest point before looking at the cave again.

It said, “They left, but they did not leave in our direction!”

After it said that, Besant pointed at the fog.

Karsh’s eyes widened as it suddenly turned around. Only then did it realize that it had panicked too much, and did not realize that point.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3466 -3470 -

Chapter 3466
Those humans did not just need to pass through them to leave. They could go through the fog behind them as well.

Karsh's voice was low, and it trembled a bit, "How likely do you think it is that they're already within the fog?"

Besant looked at the cave, and its voice sank a bit as well, "There's a ninety percent chance! I've already examined everything just now. All the soil was freshly dug up, and the footprints were just left behind as well."

"The cave should be recently made. They dug it up to avoid us finding them. Yet, they're not here right now, and we were always down below. They did not have the time to escape, so there was only one possibility. They entered the fog!"

No words

No words

Karsh was starting to panic, "If they find the Blood Lake, then we're all dead!"

Entering the fog was even worse for them than losing a lot of their numbers to a massive battle.

Diante's temper was intense. As long as it was not happy, none of them would get out of this unscathed.

Besant hurriedly said, "There's actually no need to worry! The Blood Lake is at the most important point of the fog. Even we rely on our memory to get there. There's a good chance we could end up lost as well. Because the humans have never entered, unless someone leads them, there's no way they will reach the Blood Lake!"

Karsh took a deep breath, not saying anything.

At that moment, all it could do was constantly pray that the humans were unlucky enough to get lost in the fog and that none of them would get close to the Blood Lake.

Karsh looked up at the fog and said, "The Sky Locking Array should have already been activated. No one can enter Blood Lake, but they can still get close to it. As long as none of them disturb the king's trial, we should be able to make up for our faults!"

"Listen to my orders right now! All beasts are to follow me into the fog and look for the humans! The moment you find them, immediately issue a signal!"

All of the beasts nodded at the same time. All of them entered the fog at the same time.

At that moment, Diante was already preparing to undergo a trial at the center of Blood Lake.

No words

Right at that moment, it heard footsteps from afar again. Diante frowned as anger surged into its mind.

It wondered which beasts dared to get close to the Blood Lake at that moment. They must not be afraid of it getting angry and killing them!

No words

Chapter 3467
The person appeared to be in a green robe and had a handsome face. That person walked right to the edge of Blood Lake.

Diante frowned, “A human?”

That person was none other than Jackie.

He smirked as he looked at Diante in the middle of the Blood Lake. He narrowed his eyes slightly.

The prince was honest and had not lied. The so-called king really was there, and it was an important moment.

No words

Jackie looked up at those runes and smiled, saying, “This is a perfect time, I wasn’t off by even a second!”

That was the Sky Locking Array. It was an array Diante put up to ensure he was not disturbed during the trial.

No words

The trial was about to start, and Diante was about to enter its weakest state. However, it was still able to fight back.

Diante coldly stared at Jackie.

It suddenly smirked, “Brat! What are you called? In so many years, you’re the first person who managed to get into Blood Lake alive. I can’t believe you’re so bold!”

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he smiled at Diante, “I heard that the Demon Spirit Beasts had a king. I was surprised, honestly. I’d already messed up all those guys, but the king had never once appeared. Now, I finally understand…”

After the prince had been subdued, it had told all its secrets to Jackie.

The king had actually never made an appearance to protect itself. It was about to go through a trial by lightning.

No words

Normally, that so-called king should have already died many years ago.

No words

Jackie had found it strange when he heard that the beasts had a king. That was because it was completely different from what he expected. It went against the laws of the Whirling World as well.

The Whirling World had so many rules in place. Even if they killed each other or anything else, it was all within the rules. Nothing ever exceeded the rules.

No words

Jackie raised an eyebrow and said, “I thought you were absorbing the blood to make yourself stronger, but you’re actually using it to defend yourself against the lightning.”

No words

At that moment, there was a layer of blood above Diante. It was very dense, and there was about fifty or sixty people’s worth of blood.

Chapter 3468
No words

At that moment, all of the blood in their body had been extracted. They were assuredly dead.

Jackie sighed, “So from the very start, the prey was actually the hunter, and the hunter was the prey. I suddenly find it quite funny.”

No words

Diante narrowed its eyes, immediately seeing through everything, “It looks like that disloyal son of mine told you everything. They really are all trash, both Karsh and the thirteenth! They can't help me during an important moment, and are just burdens! Once I go through this trial, I'll slowly make them pay!"

Jackie ignored it and continued speaking, "As long as you go through this trial and absorb the blood of another thirteen humans, you'll be able to use the dense blood to finish an array. The lightning won't be able to sense you anymore, and you can get out of here."

There were two uses for human blood.

No words

With enough blood to cover every area of its body, it would even make the laws think it was human. Then, it could use that to get sent out of this place.

No words

It said loudly, "It's just like you say. As long as I have enough blood, I will be able to leave this place. With my current abilities, it will be incredibly easy to deal with you humans! I've been trapped here for so many years. I'm already tired of all these restrictions! Once I get out, I'll constantly grow stronger and become one of the strongest beings!"

No words

Jackie could not stop himself from laughing. "You really are something else! I can assure you, this place is even safer. You'll only die if you leave this place. Don't think that humans are that weak."

Jackie was being truthful.

The outside world was vast, but that small Demon Spirit Beast regarded itself too highly.

No words

Jackie scoffed, not wanting to dwell on the problem anymore. At that moment, he leaped up and headed for the stage at the center.

Diante looked at Jackie coldly, not attacking.

When Jackie got to the edge of the stage, Diante snorted and looked at Jackie in disdain. It pointed at its chest. There was a faint red glow there. It said coldly, "Are you trying to kill me for this blood essence stone?"

Chapter 3469
Diante laughed when it heard that. It started to look at Jackie like an idiot.

Diante looked at Jackie in interest, “Do you know why I haven’t attacked you?”

Jackie answered, “It’s because you’re confident in yourself. You think that I won’t be able to harm you even if you’re going through a trial. After all, I’m alone here.”

Diante nodded.

No words

No matter how strong Jackie was, there was no way Jackie would be a match for him. He had gone through so many trials. He was not something humans could defeat!

No words

Jackie sighed helplessly.

No words

The clouds above them continued to darken, and the sound of thunder was more and more frequent. It meant the trial was about to begin.

Jackie looked up into the sky, and various emotions flashed on his face.

Diante raised an eyebrow and said, “I can actually attack you right now, but I don’t plan on doing that. I want to kill you when the trial is going on so you’ll know how dumb your earlier ideas were. I want you to know what hopelessness is. You’ll taste the difference between the two of us!”

Jackie laughed and shook his head slightly.

No words

It wanted to prove that, even when it was weak, Jackie was no match for it!

No words

Diante was confused, not understanding what Jackie was doing.

Jackie did not bother explaining either as he coldly looked at Diante.

No words

Jackie merely watched quietly, as if he was waiting for something. Right after that, many footsteps could be heard from afar.

Jackie looked over and saw countless beasts gathering around.

Those beasts widened their eyes when they saw Jackie on the stage. All of those beasts' lips were trembling, especially Karsh's. That was the worst-case scenario.

He never would have expected the human to enter the Blood Lake, let alone go as far as the stage at the center, standing in front of Diante.

Karsh was starting to feel hopeless.

The lightning constantly descended, and Diante calmly withstood the strikes.

When Jackie saw that Karsh and the others were there, he finally made his move.

He took a deep breath and started to form seals. A blade slowly formed in front of him!

Chapter 3470
The moment Karsh saw Jackie moving, it was stunned.

No words

Jackie was even on the stage in the middle, standing not too far away from Diante.

Karsh's lips trembled as it said, "Crazy! That guy is crazy! What's he planning to do? Fight the king? Just him alone? Did he think that the king would be no match for him because of the lightning?"

As it said that, Karsh could not help but sneer.

That guy was too naive. So what if Diante was going through the lightning trial?

No words

Diante could still fight even during the trial!

Mijas blinked, "Is he trying to kill the king to get the blood essence stone?"

No words

There had to be a reason behind everything.

No words

Besant's lips twitched, "He really is crazy!"

As it said that, its expression was a bit twisted. It widened its eyes as it looked at the lightning strike the stage. The sounds filled up the air as the lightning constantly fell.

No words

Jackie constantly formed seals.

At that moment, he was incredibly serious. It was probably the most dangerous battle he would go through in the Whirling World. In truth, he was not confident. After all, he did not know how strong Diante was.

No words

Life was filled with danger anyway. If he succeeded, he would rise even higher. If he lost, then he would descend into hell.

Diante laughed, “Brat! Since you look so calm, you must think you can kill me with those skills of yours.”

Jackie raised an eyebrow, not saying anything.

Diante did not seem to care that Jackie was not answering it as it said, “Let me tell you this. Thanks to the restrictions, I haven’t broken through the final stage of the innate level just like you. However, my powers have long since exceeded it…”

“The moment I get out of the Whirling world, I’ll be able to reach the divine-solidifying level, and I’ll have the ability to protect myself no matter where I go.”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3471 - 3475 -

Chapter 3471
“I managed to become the king of all these beasts thanks to my technique, not because of my level! I’m different from you humans. I can’t use techniques other people created. I can only rely on my own natural-born ones!”

“I’ve already reached the storm god rank with my technique! You’re a mere human who’s nothing more than an ant in my eyes. I can kill you with just a flick!”

No words

No wonder the beasts were all so afraid of it. No wonder it was so fearless.

No words

Jackie frowned and took a deep breath, “What stage have you gotten to?”

No words

Diante scoffed and said, “I’m only one step away from the second stage. Brat, are you scared now? It’s already useless, though! You’ll definitely die at my hands today!”

No words

So what if Jackie knew?

It was still the truth that could not be changed.

When Jackie heard that, he took two deep breaths and tossed all the uncertainty and fear away from his mind. He started to form even more seals, not wasting any time as he prepared to fight.

No words

Diante suddenly felt offended by that. However, it only lasted for a moment before it forgot about it. Its right hand condensed the blood to shield against the lightning while its left hand started to form seals.

No words

The snakes started to gather together incredibly quickly. The greenish-gray glow flashed on those snakes.

No words

Diante sneered, “This is my natural-born technique, brat! Even though I’m not in my best state right now, you’re still no match for me! As long as you touch the poison gas, it will break through your true energy. Your body will rot away after being contaminated, and nothing will be able to save you!”

A sinister glint flashed in Diante’s eyes.

No words

Chapter 3472
The broken Soul Blade started to buzz!

No words

All of the beasts widened their eyes at that moment. Even though they felt like Jackie would be no match for Diante even if there were two Jackies there, they were still interested.

Mijas raised an eyebrow, “This brat is dead! Nothing can save him!”

The moment Mijas said that the Broken Soul Blade clashed with the green sword!

Bang!

No words

Rocks flew all around the stage from the explosion. A crater had formed on the ground. The poisonous liquid dripped on the stones, quickly melting the stones! Jackie clutched his chest and started to cough a few times.

No words

His hands started moving again, forming seals that started to merge in the air. A hundred Soul Swords floated in front of Jackie.

Jackie clapped his hands together, and a hundred Soul Blades merged into one. It went into the sword in Jackie’s hand.

Jackie’s expression turned cold. At that moment, he tossed all thoughts aside as he looked right at the center of the stage. He shot forward like an arrow.

No words

At that moment, Diante was no longer as confident as before. It clutched its chest with its left hand, and there was even green blood flowing out of its mouth. Its whole body was trembling.

No words

Thankfully, it was not at full force, and Diante quickly had it under control.

No words

Diante was panicking at that moment.

It did not expect Jackie to be so strong! Diante shouted at Jackie, “Stop right there!”

Jackie completely ignored Diante. If he stopped at such a good chance, then he would really be a fool. With a squelch, the slash went right into Diante’s left chest. Destroying the Void’s power suddenly started to rip into Diante’s soul.

No words

Jackie clenched his teeth and sent out another strike. He needed to kill Diante before Diante could fight back!

Diante was a threat to him. He could not let Diante live for a second longer.

While Diante was suffering from the pain, Jackie slashed right at its throat. After his strikes, Diante could no longer sustain the blood.

No words

Chapter 3473
No words

How could he forget this?!

No words

The most important reason for killing Diante was the blood essence stone in Diante’s body. If such a valuable stone was scorched to crisp by his carelessness, then even Jackie would feel emotional.

No words

There was pure silence outside the Blood Lake.

No words

Were they hallucinating?

Their king had been killed?

By a human at that?!

Mijas' voice trembled as it said, "Didn't the king say that his technique was already at the storm god rank? How did that brat beat the king? Could he be using a storm god rank technique as well? How?"

No words

The king was so strong. Even when the king was not at full power, Diante was still far above a mere human.

That brat really was strong, but he should not have been able to compete with the king.

How could this be the result?

Besant looked at the shocked Mijas and sighed, "Who are you asking? Who do you think can answer you?!"

Quite a lot of warriors had gathered around Weinhord City's transfer array toward the Demon Spirit Kingdom.

No words

Slowly, everyone there started to wonder who would be in the top three and obtain the rewards. Those discussions disturbed the short silence.

No words

Meanwhile, the warriors from the third-grade world said that the warriors from the second-grade world only knew how to brag. They did not think of who was in the Demon Spirit Kingdom. With Jackie there, no one would be able to take the first place away. With Jackie there, even survival was a problem for the warriors from second-grade worlds.

No words

A warrior from Golden Continent shouted, "Stop mentioning Jackie! Is he a god? Do you think the warriors from third-grade worlds will be fine just because he's there? Stop joking! No matter how strong Jackie is, he's still alone."

Chapter 3474
"None of the warriors from second-grade worlds who entered this time might be a match for Jackie head-on, but all fifteen of them will be together! Even Jackie won't be able to do anything to them…"

“You should be more aware. Jackie might end up being reckless and losing his life. It’s not impossible!”

No words

A warrior from a third-grade world shouted, “Stop with your nonsense! Even if your whole family dies, Jackie will still be fine. You’re just jealous of Jackie’s skills. He’s strong enough to beat all you warriors from second-grade worlds up!”

Suddenly, the atmosphere was incredibly tense. Both sides could not stop cursing at each other.

No words

At that moment, they did not hold back. Their words were incredibly harsh, and the warriors from second-grade worlds were furious.

No words

They forgot about time after arguing for a while. It was only when the transfer array started to glow did they realize time was up.

A warrior from a second-grade world said, “No matter what all of you say, it won’t change the results! Quickly count how many warriors from third-grade worlds I left. I think you should be thankful if there are even five left!”

No words

They immediately shouted back, “Stop with your nonsense! Who knows how many will die? I think none of the warriors from second-grade worlds will survive!”

No words

After counting the numbers, quite a few of them let out sighs of relief.

No words

The warriors from third-grade worlds were just about to gloat when they froze. That was because they saw all the warriors from second-grade worlds turn to bow at Jackie before they walked back.

No words

It was not just the warriors from third-grade worlds that did not understand, the warriors from second-grade worlds did not understand either. All of the warriors there exchanged looks of surprise. They were incredibly confused.

No words

Chapter 3475
No words

Jackie did not bother looking at how the others were reacting to them. He turned to nod at Cloud and the others before he left with Rudy without even turning around.

No words

All of the warriors in Weinhord City were shocked.

No words

That explained why Stephen was so respectful to Jackie. As for what happened after that, Jackie did not care and did not want to know. He already got what he wanted, and was not in danger anymore. Even if he suffered some injuries, the injuries were nothing to him.

No words

After five days, Jackie was done.

No words

Soul Sky improved as well, and he was another step closer to the second stage.

No words

When they arrived in front of the level three city, Chaos City, they finally saw people passing by.

Rudy stood in front of the walls and looked at the massive sign, mumbling, “Chaos City! Just the name itself is chaotic enough. I wonder what’s inside…”

Jackie walked next to Rudy and said one word, “Killing.”

Rudy raised an eyebrow, looking at Jackie curiously.

No words

Just looking at the name felt like it would be a slaughterhouse inside. On top of what Jackie said earlier, Rudy shuddered even more.

Jackie looked at Rudy and slowly explained, “Chaos City has fifty-three third-grade worlds and twenty second-grade worlds. It’s true chaos inside. There were two level three cities. One is Cloud City and the other is Chaos City. Most warriors actually go to Cloud City. It’s much safer there, and there’s no non-stop killing.”

Hearing that, Rudy understood something else.

He widened his eyes slightly as he asked nervously, “So you’re saying that it’ll be very dangerous inside and that many people will die.”

Jackie nodded, patting Rudy on the shoulder as he slowly explained the rules of Chaos City.

No words

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3476-3480 -

Chapter 3476
Chaos City encouraged killings, so much so that every person or beast killed within its vicinity would yield rewards. Most rewards were spirit crystals or materials, but the most valuable rewards were golden keys.

The golden keys would unlock a random reward. There was a chance to get a golden key just by killing one person or beast, but there was also a chance of not seeing a single golden key after killing a hundred.

However, the moment a person got one, they could head to the Stage of the Nine, using the golden key to open it.

The stage would give out a valuable reward based on the number of golden keys. The more golden keys one had, the greater the value of rewards. Thus, death was a common occurrence in Chaos City.

Warriors who wanted to gain something from the danger all frantically went inside. They got to enjoy killing for treasures within.

Hearing Jackie talking about the rules of Chaos City, Rudy's jaw dropped in surprise, and he struggled to shut it.

"My, my… That's absurd, no? Encouraging killing? Weaker warriors will easily die if they enter! Isn't this absurd?! I saw many subpar-looking warriors entering just now. Are they all crazy? Aren't they afraid of being killed?"

Rudy felt rather bewildered. The rules sounded ridiculous, yet many people entered the City. Rudy felt like they had all lost their minds in the pursuit of treasures.

Since killing would yield the keys to opening the Stage of the Nine, then Chaos City basically became the playground for the powerful.

The strong could kill the weak as much as they wanted, and warriors who were just average in skill would just be slaughtered by the strong. Yet, Rudy could not understand why there were still so many warriors who entered that did not seem to be that strong.

Jackie laughed, patting Rudy on the shoulder. "You can't think of it that way. The strong wouldn't bother killing the weak because it's a waste of time…"

"They'd rather use that time to deal with the other strong warriors. Didn't I tell you before? You can't put the golden keys into spatial storage. You can only hang it on your person."

“If someone who has golden keys dies, their keys will be taken away by their opponents. Just think about it. If you’re the more powerful individual in this game, would you go on a killing spree against the weak to get the keys that you might not get, even if you killed a hundred other warriors? Or, would you kill the warriors that already had golden keys with them?”

Spatial storages collapsed with a person’s death, and everything inside would disappear. No one would be able to get anything from it. However, the golden keys were not allowed to be put inside, and one had to carry them around. The strong would only look at the warriors with golden keys on them and would not waste time on regular warriors.

Jackie laughed and continued, “Those with golden keys will also be surrounded by a red aura. The more keys they have, the more circles will be glowing around them.”

Rudy immediately understood.

Those warriors with golden keys were like torches in the darkness. The strong would be completely fixated on them, ignoring all the weaker warriors.

Then, even if a weak warrior happened to get a single golden key, it would not attract that much attention since there were just too few. It would be obvious from the number of golden circles.

Rudy nodded emphatically. “So that’s it! That explains why many people are rushing in even though it’s so dangerous…”

“It’s actually not as dangerous as I thought. As long as you’re not that unlucky, it won’t be too dangerous to get treasures from the Stage of the Nine…”

After understanding the rules, the two of them stopped hesitating as they walked into Chaos City.

It was a completely gray world with a blood moon hanging in the sky. The ground was black and cracked due to the dryness. Just walking on it gave out a crackling sound. The atmosphere was filled with the aura of death.

Chapter 3477
Warriors that were more cowardly would immediately have a mental collapse just from the aura of this place alone.

Rudy’s skills were below average, and he would be able to stay at a level eight city at the most. He had relied on Jackie to get this far. Even though he was not that cowardly, he was still affected by the atmosphere.

His hands trembled slightly, and his breathing grew erratic. He followed closely behind Jackie, not even daring to breathe deeply, and a dreadful feeling, as though he was about to die, encompassed him. He felt like he would be killed at any moment, leaving the world forever.

Rudy's voice trembled slightly. "Jackie, walk slower. I can't keep up. This place is just too scary. Chaos City is a completely different world than I thought…"

Jackie did not know how vast Chaos City was, but he could not see the city walls after entering. It was an endless wasteland around them. The blood moon hung in the air, and everything felt very ominous. It was as if zombies would jump out at any moment.

Jackie smiled helplessly. "If you can't take it, enter Mustard Seed for now. I can handle things myself."

Jackie saying that was a bit redundant. Even if Rudy was next to him, he would not be able to help anyway. He was a burden that could just help with a couple of words at most. He might not even say the right things.

Rudy's hands shook constantly, and he nodded after thinking about it. There was no point in him staying outside anyway; he would just gain some experience at most.

At that moment, Jackie raised his head and coldly looked forward. Rudy immediately hid behind Jackie, not even daring to look past his shoulders. Footsteps could be heard from the front. Two figures, one plump and one slim, slowly got closer.

The fatter one crossed his arms as he smiled at his skinny companion. "I told you our luck will hold out! You refused to believe me! Just look at those two in front of us. One of them is clearly trash. I can't tell how strong the other is, but it's obvious he's from a third-grade world. How lucky we are!"

The two of them talked to each other without fear, completely looking down on Jackie and Rudy.

The skinny man nodded and looked at Rudy, who was behind Jackie.

After looking at Rudy for a long time, he looked at Jackie and said, "Brat. What were you thinking of, coming to a place like this? You came with a useless person, too. Are you just looking to die quicker? Even though we might not earn anything much from killing the two of you, some spirit crystals are better than nothing!"

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he looked at the two in front of him coldly.

The fat man laughed. "Let me teach the two of you a lesson today, especially in what 'regret' means. Warriors of your caliber should have just gone to Cloud City. You might’ve been able to survive that way. You insisted on coming here, so don’t blame us for this!”

He took out a meter long sword from his spatial storage as he said that. He had a big smile on his face, looking at Jackie like a trapped rabbit.

The thin man took out his weapon as well. It was a golden whip.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, finally responding to the two of them, “Just our luck, then. We bumped into two warriors that have nothing.”

The two of them looked aggressive, but they did not have any golden circles around them, signifying they did not have any golden keys. If those two had not challenged them, Jackie would not have bothered to even fight.

The two of them were stunned at what Jackie had said.

Was he insane?

Did he just say they had nothing?

What was the meaning of that?!

However, Jackie did not give them any time to think. He formed seals with his hands, and 100 Soul Swords materialized in the air. He waved, and the swords merged into two swords. He then aimed one at each person.

Chapter 3478
Seeing Jackie preparing to attack, the fat man cackled as though mocking him for not knowing his place.

Every warrior from a second-grade world had special marks on their clothes. Warriors from the Golden Continent had dark gold patterns, while warriors from the Sacred Water Continent had blue clouds.

There were intricate patterns on those symbols to prevent replication from other parties, and warriors from second-grade worlds and third-grade worlds knew those symbols by heart.

The fat man and the thin man both looked at Jackie and Rudy, and they could immediately tell that they were from third-grade worlds. Their origins were like a label of strength, and both men looked down on warriors from third-grad e worlds.

Even though they knew not every warrior from a third-grade world was weak, not many of them were powerful either. It was unlikely for them to meet any powerful ones, anyway. Furthermore, Jackie, though both men could not deduce his prowess, brought along a good-for-nothing warrior with him.

Even if they could not see how strong Jackie was, they deduced he could not possibly be any stronger, seeing as his companion was squashable.

Chaos City was not a charitable place. It was impossible to tell how many people entered and how many people died there. Everyone knew how dangerous that place was, but Jackie brought a useless companion with him. It meant there was no one strong enough for Jackie to bring along. Otherwise, he would have brought a better companion!

They probably failed to see how strong Jackie was because of some special object that could block their senses, but that was not important. All they needed to do was kill both men to get their rewards.

Whether it was spirit crystals or some materials, it was better than nothing. The two of them never planned on getting any valuable treasures in Chaos City. They just wanted to kill a few men to earn some rewards.

If they happened to get a golden key, they would make their way to the Stage of the Nine to get their treasures. They did not want to carry a key with them while they looked for another one at all.

The two of them knew very well that they would not be able to survive any strong warriors with their skills. Bringing a key along everywhere was equivalent to signing a warrant for one’s death!

The fat man looked at the Soul Sword that was aimed at him and laughed. “What kind of technique is this? I don’t feel any energy from it at all! Is it really that pointless?”

In their eyes, energy fluctuations represented the strength of a skill, and Jackie’s technique did not have any energy fluctuations at all. At least, the two of them could not feel any. On top of that, this whole situation only seemed more hilarious when they noted Jackie’s origin.

How could dolts like them dare to enter Chaos City?

Jackie smirked, not bothering to respond to what the two of them were saying.

When the fat man saw the smile on Jackie’s face, he was furious.

How dare Jackie laugh at them?

It was like he was mocking them for being ignorant!

The fat man gritted his teeth and spat, “Brat! How dare you? You’re mocking us?! I planned on just killing you quickly, but I’ve changed my mind now. I’ll torture you before I kill you so you know the consequences of mocking me!”

Chapter 3479
The moment he said that, the fat man started his attack.

He formed multiple mud-colored seals that danced in the air.

Crackling could be heard around him, and the seals formed a layer of a brown glow above him. Right after that, rumbling could be heard. Rocks could vaguely be seen moving within the glow.

He pushed forward, and the flow shot toward Jackie.

The fat man shouted, “Let’s see if I can bury you alive!”

Countless rocks formed within the muddy glow. Swiftly and burning hot, these rocks shot toward Jackie.

Jackie smiled. Ever since entering the Whirling World, he had seen many things and experienced a lot of battles.

He could immediately tell that the fat man’s technique was not at the ultimate-god rank and was still at the upper earth rank. Whether it was second-grade worlds or third-grade worlds, there were only a certain amount of geniuses. In the end, geniuses took up the minority.

Jackie had mostly met the strongest warriors from each world, so they naturally used higher-level techniques. However, most warriors still had an average skill level. Even though his opponent was from a second-grade world, not everyone from a second-grade world came from a holy-grade clan. The fat man was probably from a lower-level clan.

Even though he was still impressive to most, he posed no threat to him whatsoever.

The thin man attacked as well. He started to form blood red seals, and the seals danced between his fingers like flowing blood, constantly fusing together.

In just a few moments, he formed a curse that was about the size of a palm. The thin man shouted and pushed forward, and the blood curse shot right at Jackie.

It started to expand in the air, becoming the size of half a person. The two of them attacked at the same time, cutting off any path for Jackie to retreat.

The two of them wanted to end things in one attack. Even though they spoke as if they were not afraid of anything, they still did not hold back at all in fear something unexpected could take place.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he pushed his hands forward, shooting the Soul Swords forward like arrows toward his opponents. Three techniques clashed in the air at the same time as countless rocks slammed into the Soul Sword.

The fat man was smiling, already certain that his attack would pulverize the gray sword. However, his smile did not last for even half a second as the Soul Sword did not stop at all, piercing through his technique and unleashing gray-colored energy. The energy completely swallowed up all his rocks.

His attack failed to stop the Soul Sword!

Against the Soul Swords, it would have been useless no matter how many rocks he managed to form.

The moment they touched the sword, they were completely swallowed up, disappearing into the air.

The Soul Sword shot right at the fat man, not stopping at all. The large blood curse also clashed against a Soul Sword. With a crack, it shattered, unable to stop the Soul Sword as well.

Those two techniques did nothing against Destroying the Void, they had not been able to stop it at all!

The fat man and the thin man were not that far away from Jackie. They were confident in themselves before, but even with the two of them working together, they failed to stop Jackie's attack.

Chapter 3480
It was because of that that Jackie's two opponents failed to react when the Soul Sword was in front of them.

The fat man's smile froze on his face as his eyes widened and his whole body stiffened.

With an audible squelch, the two Soul Swords pierced through their chests, and only then did they realize that they made a grave mistake. Even with both of them using their full might, they were no match for Jackie at all. They failed to even slow down Jackie's technique!

How drastic was the difference between them needed to be for such a result?

Pain spread from their chest to their whole body, and the fat man could no longer laugh as he collapsed to the ground. His whole body started to twitch in pain. The thin man fared no better than his companion. His lanky body constantly rolled on the ground as he cried out in agony.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, amused by the two of them that were on the ground.

Rudy sighed in exasperation. “And to think these two said they were lucky!”

Just thinking about that, Rudy could not stop himself from laughing.

He quickly walked to the two of them and said to the fat man, “Do you still think you’re lucky?”

Jackie raised his hand and controlled the power of Destroying the Void, lowering its strength. The two of them regained some conscious thought.

Rudy asked again, and when the fat man heard that, he spat out a mouthful of blood.

He shuddered and said, “Please have mercy! I was just speaking nonsense! Please spare the both of us… We were ignorant! Please ignore what we said. We won’t trouble you anymore!”

Jackie’s strength left the two of them with no thoughts of even trying to fight back at all. The two of them completely forgot about Jackie’s background, and all they wished for was for Jackie to let them go.

Jackie laughed, not even saying anything.

With his sword in hand, he slashed at their next, killing them instantly. Right after that, two glowing lights slowly condensed from their chests. The fat man condensed a piece of purple gold while a golden key was on the thin man’s chest.

When he saw that golden key, Rudy’s eyes widened. “Wow, it’s a golden key! Aren’t we just too lucky? We found a golden key after just two people!”

Jackie smiled, pleased with the outcome. He never expected to get a golden key after dealing with both of them.

He reached out and held the key, and his body suddenly had a golden circle around it. It was not that bright, but it was still visible from far away.

Rudy touched the golden circle curiously but did not feel anything at all. It was purely just a sign.

Rudy looked on as he said, “You’re like a human lighthouse, you know? It looks like we’ll be attracting a lot of people from now on. It’ll be fine if there are only a few, but it’ll be troublesome if there are more.”

Jackie smiled and patted Rudy’s shoulder. “It’s just one golden circle. It’ll only attract some small fish. We met so many geniuses before, but those people are a minority in their worlds.”

“Don’t think they represent the normal standards from their worlds. It’s only when there are a lot of those geniuses that I’ll be troubled. I don’t care about these scumbags at all.”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3481 - 3490 -

Chapter 3481
Jackie's words boosted Rudy's confidence, so much so that he wanted to give him a round of applause. These words were what the strong would say!

Jackie tied the key to a string and hung it on himself. After that, he took the piece of purple gold that was only about the size of a fingernail.

Rudy did not recognize it. He looked over curiously and pointed at the piece of gold. "What's that? Is it a valuable spirit crystal?"

Jackie shook his head. "This is a piece of purple gold that has a lot of spiritual energy in it. It's more or less the same as a spirit stone, but it's more valuable than one. A piece of gold the size of a fist is worth about ten million spirit crystals. This one here should be worth a million."

Rudy gaped at that. A piece of gold the size of a fist was worth 10 million spirit crystals!

It was really hard to fathom.

Back then, Rudy lived a very ordinary life. Even though he thought that he was much better off than others and had a lot more potential than his fellow disciples, he realized how much of a joke his thoughts were after entering Phoenix Valley.

During that time, he thought that 10000 spirit crystals were already a huge sum, and a million spirit crystals was a number he would not even dare to think about.

The purple gold was used in more or less the same way as spirit crystals. The spiritual energy could either be absorbed or used as currency.

Jackie looked at Rudy and said, "Purple gold is considered a more luxurious form of currency in second-grade worlds. Normal clans still use spirit crystals as currency, but some larger clans use purple gold as their most common form of currency."

Rudy nodded, his eyes fixed on the purple gold. In truth, he had a lot of spirit crystals at that moment-about 10 million spirit crystals. However, it was at this moment he knew.

10 million spirit crystals were only able to get a piece of purple gold the size of a fist.

Rudy suddenly felt like he was poor again. He shook his head, cursing himself for being greedy.

After Jackie kept the purple gold, he burned the two corpses and looked to the distance.

It was a complete wasteland, and there was not even wild grass around them. There was a sinister aura everywhere as if cruel things had happened in the land.

Rudy followed Jackie's gaze and shuddered. "I got the chills. I feel like there are horrors all around this place. I'm not a complete coward, but I still feel a chill behind my neck. Where are we going next? Should we go look for the Stage of the Nine? We can just use the golden key to get treasures right away."

"I know you have bigger goals, and you'll want to collect more golden keys to get more valuable treasures. One golden key is nothing, but we can give it a try to see what kind of treasure we'll get."

Jackie smiled and said, "We're walking targets now, and trouble will probably come find us in just a moment. We can wait to go to the Gate of the Nine."

Jackie was the one who determined their destination.

There was nothing else in the sky other than the blood moon. There were not even trees around them.

Rudy could not even tell what direction they were going in. Jackie did not explain it. He merely advanced behind Jackie.

Chaos Continent seemed isolated from the whole Whirling World. They had not even seen any city walls since they entered. It was like a complete wasteland in front of them.

After about four hours of walking, they finally saw people ahead of them.

Chapter 3482
Those people could see the faint golden circle around Jackie from afar. Every warrior who entered Chaos City knew what those rings represented, so upon seeing Jackie, they turned around to leave, not wanting to cause trouble.

Rudy said emotionally, "We've walked for so long before we saw a single person. This place is quite desolate. Didn't you say fifty third-grade worlds and twenty second-grade worlds were gathered here? Why haven't we seen anyone after walking for so long?"

"Is Chaos City just too large, or are there just too few people here? We saw quite a few people entering just now, but who knows where they went."

Jackie smiled and explained, "Chaos City should be in an isolated space. Don't forget, the city walls disappeared just after we took a few steps into the city. It means that the city gates are in a separate space."

“You end up in a new space just after taking a few steps. The city gates are basically a simple transfer array, and we were probably sent to a random location within the space. That’s why we didn’t see anyone when we got in…”

“Chaos City is massive, but as long as you keep walking further in, we’ll see more people. We’re heading toward the center of Chaos City.”

Rudy nodded, thinking about what Jackie said. “So you’re telling me that the city is basically one huge circle. The further inside you go, the more people there will be.”

Jackie nodded, that was basically the gist of his words.

Rudy nodded.

Furthermore, there were more Stages of the Nine the further they went. At the centermost spot, there was a 300-meter wide stage.

He nodded thoughtfully at this. It seemed like they would be meeting more people.

Just as he was thinking about that, they suddenly saw six people ahead of them. Those six were split into two small teams of three, and they were rapidly getting closer to Jackie.

Rudy immediately knew that they did not have good intentions and immediately hid behind Jackie.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he looked at these six ahead of them.

The one in front of the group to the left had two golden circles around him. There was someone with one golden circle behind that man, and the last one did not have any.

The group on the right was the same as well. The one walking ahead of them had two golden circles, the one in the middle had none, while the one at the back had one. Each golden circle represented a golden key, so there were six golden keys between the six of them.

Jackie stood there in place, not moving as he looked at those people rushing over with strange expressions on their faces. They all seemed to have a look of hatred, and the group on the left seemed to be looking at the group on the right in anger.

They stopped about 50 meters away from Jackie.

Vicenze Claw narrowed his eyes as he hatefully looked at Aurum Sun on the right and said, “Why are you so annoying? You go everywhere we do. Can’t you make your own decisions? You can only be so shameless. Do you think you can succeed just by executing the same plan? We won’t let you get what you want this time!”

Aurum scoffed, looking at Vicenze in disdain. “Stop your nonsense! Shameless methods? Chaos City is all about one’s skills. If you can’t get the keys, then it’s because you’re useless. Shameless methods? You talk like you’re doing amazing charity. What a joke!”

Chapter 3483
Vicenze’s face reddened in anger as he said through gritted teeth, “We were the ones who killed those people. While we were getting rid of the last one, you suddenly rushed out and took the keys. Stealing from others… Is that a skill?”

Goldstein, who was behind Vicenze, was absolutely furious. “You’re so shameless! You were already hiding by the side long ago and waited for us to fight until only one was left before suddenly jumping out. What’s the difference between you and bandits? You even claim to have done all this with your skills? Is being shameless a skill?!”

Aurum thought nothing of those words and replied in a pleased manner, “It is a skill! If you were strong enough, you would’ve noticed us, but you didn’t have the skills to notice us.”

“It’s only normal that we managed to take advantage of you. If you’re not happy about it, why didn’t you just fight us back then and take the keys back? If you’re incapable of reclaiming the keys, then stop with your nonsense!”

The person behind Aurum, Tony, laughed. “Aurum is right! If you don’t have the ability to get it back, then stop harping. You’re acting like you suffered greatly. Chaos City has always been a place where the strong triumphed over the weak. If you want to talk about justice, then you should have gone to Cloud City. It’s much safer there!”

After saying that, he looked at the team on the left with a mocking expression.

Vicenze and the others shook in anger.

The last person in the group on the right, James, snarled through gritted teeth, “Shameless men truly are capable of anything! Are you not afraid of the consequences? You’re even trying to make up reasons to steal what belongs to others! How disgusting!”

“The battle used up a lot of our true energy, yet you ran right after you stole our things. We’d be at a disadvantage if we followed! Do you think we’re dumb? You just happened to find the best timing to take action!”

The two sides faced each other, and both sides had anxiety and impatience on their faces.

Rudy’s lips twitched at the situation!

The six of them completely ignored Rudy and Jackie as they fought among themselves. It was like Jackie and Rudy were already dead and free for them to handle as they pleased.

Jackie looked at Rudy and could not help but smirk.

He whispered, “I told you we didn’t need to look for the Stage of the Nine yet, there will be people looking for trouble on the way. It’s better for us to collect more golden keys before we go looking for the stages.”

Rudy looked at Jackie worriedly and looked back at the two groups before he whispered, “There are six of them. Will it be troublesome?”

Jackie stared at the six men. They were shouting at each other and were not paying attention to Rudy and him at all.

Jackie smiled and said, “At most, the six of them are just outer disciples from holy grade clans.”

Rudy relaxed when he heard Jackie’s words. He paid attention to their bickering once again.

Rudy felt like the two sides might end up fighting each other before they spared Rudy and Jackie a glance!

Chapter 3484
Jackie raised an eyebrow as he sighed in frustration. These people seemed to have a lot of time, but he did not have the time to waste on them.

“Can all of you just shut up? Do you have a lot of time on your hands?” said Jackie, his tone cold. “Since you’re giving me six free keys, I’ll do you the honor of fighting you head-on.”

Jackie’s words stopped them from bickering.

The six of them looked at Jackie at the same time with strange looks on their faces. They never expected their prey to talk to them like that. It was hilarious!

Vicenze scoffed and said, “Hey, do you know what you’re doing? Are you crazy, or just stupid? Do you not see the patterns on our clothes?! You’re just a lowlife from a third-grade world, but you dare to challenge us? I feel like my eyes have been opened today!”

The exasperated Aurum said incredulously, “What did you say just now? We’re giving you six free keys, you say? Do you think you can actually beat us all? It’s six against one. Are you crazy?”

There truly were wonders everywhere.

A brat from a third-grade world was actually speaking so arrogantly as if the six of them were sitting ducks.

Tony laughed when he heard Jackie's words. Jackie had to be stupid to have dared speak like that to them!

Jackie did not care about their laughs. He was already used to it and rather desensitized to all of that. If he had heard all of that back before, he might have been angered, but Jackie was incredibly calm at that moment.

He smiled and said, "You think I'm prey? You think victory against me is already in the bag-that not only will you get a key, but you'll even get two rewards. If you're lucky enough, you'll get an extra key out of it."

Vicenze raised an eyebrow. "It looks like you have some intelligence. You know what we're thinking, but since you know, why the brazenness? Do you think we won't fight you?"

Jackie calmly looked at the six of them. Jackie's words just now had stopped their argument. All of them were looking at Jackie like he was crazy.

Jackie took a deep breath and said, "With your talents, you probably only have upper earth rank techniques at best. It won't be that much trouble."

Jackie's words greatly amused them.

Was he mocking their upper earth rank techniques?

He must be an idiot to have spoken so boldly!

The six of them were at a loss for words.

Aurum said in exasperation, "Are upper earth rank techniques that weak? You talk like you know a lower ultimate god rank technique!"

Aurum was irate at Jackie's words. Where did this insolence masked as bravery come from that he could talk to them in such a manner?

Tony was behind Aurum, and the man behind Tony was Luca.

Luca frowned and stared at Jackie, giving him a once-over.

"Should we be careful about this guy?" he spoke, sounding rather worried. "This guy doesn't look like he's crazy. He might be talented."

Aurum completely disregarded Luca's advice as he pointed at Rudy next to Jackie.

Chapter 3485
"These two are from a third-grade world. Even if I can't tell how strong this guy is, the one next to him is just a lowlife. Even if he's a bit skilled, he wouldn't have said something so arrogant! This guy is probably just trying to scare us with his words!"

Luca, still a bit worried hearing this, pursed his lips. "Why don't we attack them altogether? After that, we'll face each other for the rings"

Aurum looked at Luca silently, but his action looked like he was blaming Luca for being cowardly. He felt like he was shameful.

Tony was a straightforward person, and he turned around to look at Luca unhappily. "The six of us, face him alone? How could you say that? You're fueling his pride here. He should be honored if even Aurum dealt with him. This guy is just a madman, yet you're believing him? Are you crazy, too?"

Luca's lips twitched as he immediately shut his mouth and said nothing else. After all, he would just get berated even more if he continued.

Jackie sighed, no longer caring about what the six of them were saying.

His hands started to form seals, and the Soul swords quickly formed. 10 Soul Swords represented the first stage of Destroying the Void. He had split 100 Soul Swords and fused them into three massive Soul Swords.

Each of the Soul Swords was capable of unleashing power equal to the first stage of an upper ultimate god rank technique.

He looked up at Aurum and the others before looking at Vicenze's group.

He raised an eyebrow, aiming the Soul Swords at Tony, Vicenze, and Aurum.

When the six of them saw that, they were speechless.

Jackie really was something else. Even if it was not one against six, he was still targeting three in one go, much to their bewilderment. It looked like Jackie was not pretending at all, he was just crazy.

Vicenze said in exasperation, "There is something wrong with his head after all. I'd praise him a little if he could face one of us, but he wants to face three of us simultaneously."

All of them were speechless, feeling like there was something wrong with Jackie.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, saying calmly, “You’d better hurry up and attack. Otherwise, you’ll lose your chance!”

Tony narrowed his eyes. “You really are arrogant, brat! Do you know what you’re saying?!”

Jackie raised an eyebrow, nodding coldly, “I asked you to hurry up and attack, or you’ll lose your chance. I’m not joking.”

Tony was furious. He felt like he was being challenged. He rolled up his sleeves and prepared to teach Jackie a lesson. Aurum and Vicenze took out their weapons as well. Even if they were not taking it seriously, they still had to take Jackie’s attack.

Jackie pushed his hand forward, and the three Soul Swords shot forward. The three of them attacked at the same time, aiming right for the three Soul Swords!

With a few explosions, a cry of agony could be heard. Tony had rushed forward, blade in hand, but he had been sent flying by the Soul Sword.

Chapter 3486
Tony was thoroughly shocked.

Right after that, he felt a chill in his chest. The Soul Sword had pierced through his chest, and the pain of his soul being ripped apart was felt. He suddenly lost all ability to even think as he collapsed onto the ground.

The other two were in just as bad of a situation. The two of them had not been treated seriously at all. Even though their weapons had not been sent flying, they had not been able to stand up to the attack.

All three of them were stabbed with the Soul Swords in their chests at the same time.

Destroying the Void’s power instantly penetrated their bodies. The pain in their chests spread to their entire body. They cried out in agony at the same time, writhing on the floor like worms.

Everything had happened far too quickly, and the other three did not have a chance to react at all. All three of their eyes were completely widened, and they were gaping as they saw their teammates falling to Jackie’s attack.

They were in so much pain that rolling on the ground was all they could do. It was far too shocking.

The other three were in disbelief that they felt like they were dreaming.

Did Jackie defeat the three of them in one go?

Even though Aurum had underestimated Jackie, he had still used at least eighty percent of his strength!

Even so, he was still no match for that person! Jackie was actually much stronger. No wonder he had acted like they were beneath him earlier. Everyone thought that he was crazy, but they finally realized otherwise.

Jackie had looked down on everyone because he really did have the skills. He might be a warrior from a third-grade world, but he was no ordinary warrior. He was probably one of the strongest warriors in his world!

Even if he was in a second-grade world, he would still be the chosen disciple of a holy grade clan.

The truth was displayed for all to see. The other three suddenly found themselves breathing incredibly quickly as they shuddered.

Jackie was terrifying!

He was a demon. Why were they so unlucky to meet a monster like that?

Goldstein exchanged a look with James. Both of them could see the fear in their eyes. Even Goldstein's eyes were trembling.

He lowered his voice and did his best to control his trembling, "Run!"

He merely said that before he started to run without hesitation, using all his true energy as he crazily ran away.

It was obvious that their opponent had the skills to easily kill them. If they stayed on, they would only die. If they tried to run away, they would still have a sliver of hope. After all, they were in Chaos City. Death was the main theme. If it were anywhere else, they might have considered begging for mercy, but it was useless there!

The three of them ran as fast as they could, scattering!

At that moment, they discarded every thought but themselves. Surviving was better than anything. If they stayed behind, they would just be slaughtered by Jackie. Rudy blinked in surprise, mumbling to himself as he looked at them running away.

"I thought they would work together to try and fight back, but they turned out to be cowards. They ran away almost immediately…"

Jackie did not hear Rudy mumbling to himself. The moment the three of them ran, he immediately followed. They were in Chaos City. The more he killed, the more rewards he would get.

Chapter 3487
These people were going after Jackie anyway, so it's only natural that Jackie took their life instead!

Jackie activated the laws of space and disappeared from the spot. The next moment, he was already a hundred meters away.

The three of them were quite smart as they did not escape in the same direction. Jackie was alone, so he could only go after one of them. However, Jackie had already seen through their plans.

He raised an eyebrow as he scoffed. Before the three of them had started running, Jackie had already placed a mark on all of them. He could determine their location at any time. Furthermore, he was very quick.

James was running toward the southeast. He did not even dare to look back.

He clenched his teeth as he mumbled to himself, "We're so unlucky! Why did we encounter such a huge problem so soon?!"

Jackie had immediately gotten rid of the three strongest ones there almost effortlessly.

Aurum, Vicenze, and Tony were all stronger than he was. However, they were still no match for Jackie. They did not even have the right to face Jackie.

The three of them had been dealt with so easily even when they were working together. They would be nothing in front of Jackie if it was a duel. James was incredibly worried.

If they had just listened to Jackie and realized that Jackie would not be easy to deal with, they might have had a chance if all of them worked together. However, it was already too late. Vicenze was done for!

The more James thought about it, the more scared he got. Jackie was not just a mere problem in his mind anymore.

Just as he was thinking about it, he suddenly heard the wind howling next to him.

He looked over and his eyes were so wide they almost popped out of their sockets. At some point, Jackie had actually caught up to him.

He looked at the smirk on Jackie's cold face. It was a smile he would never forget. The gray sword in Jackie's hand stabbed out the moment James looked back.

With a pierce, he felt his back hurt as blood began to shoot out. He cried out as he collapsed onto the ground.

Jackie kept his sword and landed on the ground as well. He walked over to James and looked at James with a frown. When he saw the golden key that was with James, he did not hesitate to take the key for himself.

James was writhing on the floor in pain. Jackie did not even bother sparing him a second glance as he stabbed James right in the chest, ending his life.

A flash appeared, and the reward for killing James appeared in front of Jackie. It was another piece of purple gold. This piece was smaller than the last one. It was only about half the size of the last one. It meant that the prize for killing James had only been five hundred thousand spirit crystals.

Jackie raised an eyebrow at the reward, feeling like he had lost out. However, he did not think too much about it. After all, he still had two targets to deal with.

He immediately turned around and went for the next target.

Luca had been the one to run the fastest and was also the most anxious one. He had warned Aurum and Tony to not underestimate Jackie. It was a pity they did not listen.

They felt like he was being too careful, but they were the ones who were probably at their last breath. Luca could not help but shudder as he thought about Jackie's cold and calm face.

Jackie really was that strong. A genius among geniuses!

Chapter 3488
He had been telling them the truth, but no one believed him. They ended up suffering great losses. They had thought that there was something wrong with Jackie's head.

Right then, Luca really wanted to grab all of them by the collar and tell them that was the consequence of pride!

They had been the ones with something wrong with their heads!

Luca furrowed his eyebrows, feeling like something had changed about the space around him. He had used the law of space before, so he had a natural sensitivity to that.

A few moments ago, there had been a slight space distortion behind him. It was like something had ripped space apart to chase after him. Luca shuddered.

'Could that guy be using the law of space techniques?'

The moment the thought flashed in his head, he felt a painful stab in his back. He turned around to see a familiar face.

Jackie was looking at him with a cold expression. The sword in Jackie's hand was stabbed into his back, and blood dripped out.

Luca reached out and said, "Why are you so strong?! Who are you?! There's no way you're a warrior from a third-grade world! Warriors from third-grade worlds can't be as strong as you!"

At that moment, Luca already knew that he was done for. He only had some questions on his mind that he was asking with his dying breath.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he said coldly, "I'm from Hestia Continent. My name is Jackie White."

He quickly revealed who he was. Luca's eyes widened even more when he heard that Jackie was from Hestia Continent.

His lips twitched, "What did you say? You're from Hestia Continent?"

Luca had already read about the various levels of power in the different worlds. Luca had seen Hestia Continent's name a few times. When they entered Hestia Continent, he had even looked into it, so he understood more about Hestia Continent than any other world.

He was interested in Hestia Continent because of the massive barrier that had suddenly appeared to cut Hestia Continent out. Hestia Continent was completely isolated. Their resources were limited.

There was no way they could cultivate such an incredibly strong warrior!

Yet, Jackie had no reason to lie to him. He took a deep breath, full of disbelief and having no choice but to believe Jackie.

Jackie was actually from Hestia Continent!

A warrior from that unassuming place had actually killed him so easily!

That was absurd. He could not accept it, but it was the truth.

With another grunt, Luca spat out a mouthful of blood as he dropped. His golden key was taken away by Jackie as well.

The reward for killing Luca was an eighth-grade herb. Compared to that small piece of gold, this was clearly several times more valuable.

The last target was Goldstein, who was already seven or eight kilometers away.

Jackie frowned, suddenly wondering if he should continue to give chase. Goldstein did not have any golden keys. The six of them had six keys between them, but not everyone had a key. Vicenze had two, and Aurum had two as well.

The other two were with Luca and James. Tony and Goldstein did not have any keys on them. If he chased after Goldstein, he would just get another reward.

Chapter 3489
Goldstein was already too far away. It would require some effort to catch up.

After thinking about it, Jackie decided to give up. The most valuable thing in Chaos City was the golden keys. He had gotten six from this battle, which already satisfied him. If he wasted any more energy chasing Goldstein, it would not be worth it.

Thinking about it, he shook his head and returned to the scene of the original battle.

At that moment, Rudy was kneeling next to Vicenze, supporting his head on his hand while mumbling something. To not waste any time, Jackie rushed over and left Rudy there.

Even though Jackie had dealt with them quickly, he still regretted it when he saw Rudy.

Rudy was just too weak. Jackie had left Rudy alone just like that. If anyone had suddenly jumped out to attack Rudy, he would not even be able to fight back.

If anything similar happened in the future, he would need to properly make arrangements for Rudy first.

Rudy immediately waved at Jackie excitedly when he saw that Jackie was back.

Jackie nodded at Rudy, not wasting any time as he walked right to Vicenze. He reached out and grabbed the two keys from Vicenze before turning around to take the keys off Aurum’s body as well.

After that, he killed the three of them. The rewards were a piece of purple gold the size of a fingernail, a seventh-grade pill, and a seventh-grade herb. All three rewards were nothing amazing to Jackie.

Jackie sighed, smiling as he said, “I was just too greedy. I thought I would be able to get another key if I killed all five of them.”

Rudy looked up and smiled, saying, “Didn’t you tell me getting keys was all about luck? If you’re lucky enough, you’ll get a key just after one kill.”

“Sometimes, you get so unlucky that you don’t even get a single key after a hundred kills. We were already lucky enough to get a key after just two kills. On top of that, you just got six keys, which makes seven total!”

At that moment, there were seven golden circles around Jackie. The golden circles were quite eye-catching on top of each other. At that moment, Jackie really was a human lighthouse. The glow on his body was visible from four kilometers away.

It would probably not take too long for those looking for danger and profit to come to try to kill him for the seven golden keys.

Jackie took a deep breath, putting the keys in his palm.

Jackie frowned and said, “It’s not going to be easy dealing with too many people. We need to figure something out. We can’t just be a lighthouse that constantly attracts those people.”

Rudy was like an accessory to Jackie. Other than being able to talk to Rudy, Rudy was quite useless. When more opponents came about, even Jackie would find it difficult, so he needed to figure something out.

After Jackie thought about it, he suddenly turned around. He put the six keys in his hand into Rudy’s, and suddenly, there were six fewer circles around him. Rudy started to glow, and he was stunned as he looked at Jackie in confusion.

Jackie did not explain anything as he sent Rudy into Mustard Seed with a wave.

Rudy suddenly disappeared, and the glow was gone.

Jackie widened his eyes in excitement, lamenting that Mustard Seed was so amazing that even the laws of the Whirling World were unable to sense it.

Chapter 3490
The Golden Key could not be placed into any regular spatial storage, but Mustard Seed was different. Even with the Whirling World’s strict laws, it could not restrict Mustard Seed. It was an amazing piece of treasure.

Rudy was taken out of Mustard Seed again which greatly confused him. Jackie briefly talked about the situation, and Rudy was incredibly excited thinking about it. That meant they were no longer just walking pieces of bait. Putting the golden keys into Mustard Seed meant there would be no problems no matter how many golden keys they collected.

After four hours, Jackie and Rudy advanced about fifty kilometers ahead. It was still a complete wasteland around them. Other than the blood moon in the skies reddening a little more, there were no changes at all. The deeper they walked, the more apprehensive Rudy felt.

He was worried that another group would appear.

Jackie did not put all the golden keys into Mustard Seed, leaving one on him. That was to attract weaker warriors to come to fight him over the key. They would think that he was the prey, but in Jackie's eyes, they were the prey.

After advancing for another kilometer, they saw the distant figure starting to get closer to them.

When the person saw Jackie, he immediately stopped. Even though it was very far, and they could not even see that person's expression. However, it was obvious from that person's actions that he seemed a bit fearful of Jackie.

Since he was fearful, he would probably not attack out of a sudden.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, ignoring that person. If the other party did not attack Jackie, he would not attack them.

As he walked forward for another five minutes, the person that stopped in the distance suddenly started to walk toward Jackie and Rudy quickly.

Jackie frowned as he looked at the approaching person. That person was incredibly tall and well-built. There was blood flowing from his forehead, and his lips were bloody too. His body was quite damaged, so he had probably just gone through a battle not too long ago.

When that person saw Jackie's face, he seemed to be trying to determine who the other party was. Jackie raised an eyebrow, not saying anything.

After a few more moments, that person greeted Jackie, "Are you from a third-grade world?"

There were differences between warriors from third-grade worlds and second-grade worlds. It was obvious just from the attire. Jackie did not have any special markings on his clothes, and he was with Rudy, who was not that strong. It meant the other person was quite sure that Jackie was from a third-grade world.

Jackie turned to look at that person as well. That person did not have any special markings on his clothes either, so that person was also from a third-grade world. The person seemed polite in Jackie's eyes, so he nodded honestly.

That person took a deep breath and introduced himself.

That person was from a ninth-grade clan in Sky Peak Continent and was a chosen disciple. His name was Chad Lee.

Sky Peak Continent was around the same level as Lycan Continent. They were not at the top of third-grade worlds, but not weak either. Chad was definitely among the stronger warriors around.

He was a lone warrior, and would regularly move alone. Before he came into Chaos City, he never thought of advancing with anyone else. However, after he entered, he had to lower his head.

When he saw Jackie from afar, he did not greet Jackie because he was uncertain. He only went closer to Jackie after seeing what Jackie wore.

Rudy blinked as he said, “So you came here to form a group with us?”

Chad nodded, he looked at Jackie helplessly, “For you two, advancing with someone you don’t know probably doesn’t seem safe, but I can guarantee you that I won’t do anything that crosses the line if you don’t stab me in the back. Those pieces of trash are just trying to cause trouble for the warriors from third-grade worlds.”

As he said that, he took off the key he had hanging around his waist, “Some warriors from second-grade worlds are so shameless that they’re just staying put in one place to steal from us third-grade world warriors. I was planning on exchanging my keys for some treasures at the Stage of the Nine earlier.”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3491-3500 -

Chapter 3491
“Yet, I was ambushed by the warriors from second-grade worlds who were hiding there. If I wasn’t skilled enough, I would have died there!”

“An ambush is one thing, but they were acting so arrogantly! They asked me to just be obedient and give them my golden keys and kill myself! It’s like giving the keys to them would be an honor to me!”

As he said that, Chad twitched slightly as he started breathing heavily. His eyes were full of anger. Even Rudy was clutching his fists in anger after hearing that, let alone Chad himself.

Jackie frowned, rubbing his head helplessly. No matter where he went, as long as the second-grade world and third-grade world warriors were in the same place, there would be conflict!

The warriors from second-grade worlds all looked down on warriors from third-grade worlds. Even if their actions were shameless, they would think that the warriors from third-grade worlds deserved it. They would always look down on the whole of Whirling World from their high pedestal.

Rudy scoffed, “Those dogs! They’re so disgusting!”

Jackie pursed his lips and looked at Chad, “Remember what you’re saying now. We’ll only be able to form a stable team if we don’t betray each other…”

Chad looked at Jackie in surprise. He had thought that it would take some time to convince them all, but Jackie had agreed so quickly.

Chad immediately said, “Don’t worry, I’m not that sly of a person!”

Jackie nodded, not saying anything else.

Chad went toward the Stage of the Nine again. He had two golden keys with him and planned on exchanging them for treasures before he did anything else. Of course, he definitely wanted more golden keys, but he would attract too much trouble if he had too many. It was better to exchange two keys for some treasures first.

When Jackie heard his plans, Jackie did not disagree, indicating that they could go to the Stage of the Nine.

Chad frowned and said seriously, “We’ll have to be careful! The closer we are, the more bandits there will be! All of them are from second-grade worlds! Even though they are bandits, they insist on looking good. They keep preaching about the survival of the fittest, and challenge you to take it back from them!”

Chad got angrier and angrier as he spoke.

Jackie nodded, looking at Chad, “Why don’t you try and recover first? Don’t worry, I’ll protect you. No one will be able to hurt you.”

Chad wiped the blood off his face with his sleeve, not really looking like he cared, “They’re just minor injuries. It’s fine.”

Jackie did not insist further after Chad said that. The three of them advanced to the Stage of the Nine together. There were countless stages all over Chaos City. The location of each stage was transmitted to their brains after they entered Chaos City.

Every warrior in Chaos City would clearly know the location of every stage. The one closest to them was about ten kilometers away. They were in no hurry and moved slowly in that direction.

That was to prevent any sudden ambushes. With Jackie’s skills, it would be no trouble dealing with some minor annoyances, but he was afraid of any unexpected incidents. If someone strong suddenly showed up, it might be difficult.

The three of them chatted away as they went. Rudy and Chad had a long conversation.

In truth, Chad was not someone who spoke a lot, but they were talking about the warriors from second-grade worlds the whole way. Chad suddenly found himself having a lot to talk about due to his hatred for them.

Chapter 3492
The two of them were just cursing at the various despicable things that warriors from second-grade worlds did.

Jackie merely followed behind them, not saying anything. The way forward was still an endless wasteland. It was as if there was no end in sight.

“I really don’t know how those disgusting people can bring themselves to be so shameless! Do they really think we’re scared of them? Of course not! We just don’t want any trouble, but those people think we’re scared of them and end up just getting worse and worse!”

“Just wait! We’ll end up with a full-blown war eventually! Then, we’ll pull something big and they won’t be able to walk out unscathed. Let’s see if they can still be arrogant then!” Rudy said viciously.

Most of the second-grade worlds were indeed stronger than third-grade worlds in overall strength, but so what?

They had strength in numbers! Even if their average warrior was not as strong as a warrior from a second-grade world, they could make up for it with their numbers. The total number of geniuses would be comparable.

If it was an open war, it was hard to say who would win! Rudy favored the combined strength of third-grade worlds more. He felt like they would definitely win by sheer numbers!

Chad nodded and agreed, “That’s right! We have so many people, and we’re not just going to sit quietly and get pushed around! It’s just that we’re not working together right now. If we end up being forced to work together by them, then the warriors from second-grade worlds won’t be able to keep on smiling!”

Chad hit the most important point. If they really did all work together, then the warriors from second-grade worlds would not be able to handle them.

However, the third-grade worlds all had their camps with their plans. Even if they formed teams, it was just temporary. The moment their interests were at stake, any alliances would suddenly fall apart.

It would be different if the warriors from second-grade worlds forced them into a corner. If they were forced to, then any plans could be tossed aside. Everyone could work together to fightback until the end. Then, any advantages the warriors from second-grade worlds had would shatter, and they would not be able to be so arrogant anymore.

He had seen too many similar things along the way.

Rudy felt like the various actions of the second-grade worlds showed that they had never treated warriors from third-grade worlds as humans.

They tortured them for heart blood and stole from them when they wanted golden keys.

Those shameless and despicable guys did so many atrocious things, but they still did not seem ashamed at all. They spoke as if the warriors from third-grade worlds are indebted to them.

Rudy felt like it was enough, and wondered if they could just fight a large battle. He wanted to see those shameless guys suffer massive losses and pay a price. He wanted them to see the corpses of their allies piling up. Only then would they know how stupid they had been.

Being arrogant only brought death.

The two of them spoke more and more intensely, and Jackie merely listened quietly behind them. He found himself completely speechless.

They were being too absolute with their words and thought of everything too idealistically. The warriors from second-grade worlds would pay a heavy price, but would the warriors from third-grade worlds not?

There were a lot of warriors from third-grade worlds, and a lot of strong ones too, but if they start fighting, the number of casualties would not be lower than the second-grade worlds.

Calmly looking at it, anyone would know that a true war was impossible. The warriors from second-grade worlds only acted so fearlessly because they knew that.

Jackie smiled helplessly, “The two of you should quit dreaming. Pay attention to your surroundings.”

“Haha, there are another three! Three keys! Not bad!” Fareed walked out from a crater on their left with his hands on his waist.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he looked forward. There was a huge crater that had been dug up about a hundred meters away from them. The crater was incredibly deep, capable of fitting ten people. They had been vigilant about their surroundings earlier but had failed to notice that crater.

They never expected anyone to dig up a crater to hide there.

Chad’s expression stiffened as he said with clenched teeth, “It’s these guys again!”

Chapter 3493
Jackie looked at Chad curiously and asked, “Do you know them? Were they the group that attacked you?”

Chad shook his head, “No! But they’re definitely here to steal our keys. They’re all the same!”

It was no surprise that warriors from second-grade worlds looking to steal their keys were there. After all, they already knew about it before. However, Jackie never expected them to appear so suddenly from a crater they had specially dug up.

Fareed dusted off the dirt on his clothes as he smiled, looking at the crater behind him, “Why aren’t you coming out yet? Are you waiting for your birthday?”

Someone inside cursed, “Idiot! What do you know?! Do you know how to launch a proper ambush?! Don’t you know how to attack quickly and end things quickly?”

Fareed rolled his eyes, “Quit trying to act like you’re so smart in front of me. There are only two of them! The other one is complete trash. Why do we need to ambush them?! Just come out.”

Mikael, who was in the crater, jumped out after activating his true energy. After a few moments, he landed on the ground next to Fareed.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he said casually, “Is it just the two of you? Is there no one else inside?”

He looked forward, but the crater was too hidden. He needed to get closer if he wanted to look into the crater.

Fareed was speechless.

Was that guy crazy?

It was one thing to not be afraid of them, but he was talking to them in such a dismissive tone. It was as if he was not bothered by them at all. Even if another two jumped out, he would still not care.

That attitude really riled Fareed up.

‘That guy was acting too carefree!’

‘Did he think warriors from second-grade worlds were beneath him?’

Fareed already thought of a hundred ways to torture Jackie to make Jackie regret it.

“Oh, there really are all sorts of people in the world. I haven’t met people who want to die as badly as you! Brat, do you even know the consequences of your words?” Fareed asked.

Jackie’s expression was completely calm.

It was like the two in front of him were just beggars by the street who would not threaten him at all, “What would the consequences be? Tell me…”

Jackie’s nonchalant attitude deeply struck them. They felt like they were being looked down on.

A warrior from a third-grade world actually dared to do that!

Fareed looked at Jackie coldly, “Brat, you’ll regret this!”

Rudy was speechless as he listened. Anyone who did not do what warriors from second-grade worlds wanted would be threatened by them with regret!

Regret?

Jackie and Rudy would not know the meaning of that word!

The ones who regretted it were always those who went against Jackie!

Rudy raised an eyebrow and said, “Are the two of you not tired of acting like clowns? Stop talking about regrets! If you have the skills, then attack! If you don’t, then just wait for your death!”

Fareed and Mikael were stunned at those words. That was usually the tone warriors from second-grade worlds would use. Now that it was directed back at them, they were furious.

Chapter 3494
Chad’s expression was still incredibly cold as he stared at them with hatred.

He could no longer hold back, “You dogs! Don’t think you can do whatever you want just because you’re from a second-grade world. What do you think second-grade worlds are?”

“All you do are shameless things and go around acting like you’re strong. Regret?! What regret? You two bandits aren’t worthy of saying things like that!”

Chad had practically shouted everything out. He felt incredibly good about it. Those shameless dogs disgusted him!

Even as bandits, they were trying to act like they were superior!

It was a joke!

Being shouted at like that, Fareed could not remain calm. He had planned on trying to get a feel of Jackie and Chad first. After all, the two of them were worried about surprises as well.

They were so proud of themselves, but they never expected the warriors from the third-grade worlds to fight back so intensely!

Fareed could bear being shouted at by the strong. He would clench his teeth and swallow his pride when he was shouted at within his clan, but he could not accept suffering from it by warriors from third-grade words!

He attacked right away. He wanted those two to pay!

His target was Chad. After all, Chad's words had thoroughly infuriated him just now!

He started to form seals with his hands, and an intense golden glow started to shine. Countless golden seals reacted with each other. They formed an intricate pattern, and slowly condensed into seven golden pythons. The seven pythons all had their mouths wide open. They had fangs that were soaked in venom.

Those snakes flashed as their eyes stared right at Chad.

Chad shouted and attacked at that moment as well. All of his anger toward the warriors from second-grade worlds had accumulated in his heart. He had already hated them to the bone.

His true energy roared frantically, and seals flowed out of his hands. Blood-red seals fused into a large blood-colored blade!

Chad looked incredibly crazed. Those warriors from second-grade worlds never treated them as humans, doing whatever they wanted, as if they were livestock for the second-grade worlds to be slaughtered at any moment!

What gave them the right?!

Chad got to where he was all from his own skills, were warriors from second-grade worlds supposed to just be better?

He wanted those guys to pay a painful price!

He wanted them to know that those despicable thoughts would lead them to their deaths!

Chad shouted and pushed forward. The sword carried a bloody aura as it slashed right at the pythons!

Jackie did not make a move. He had his attention on the two that were fighting and was prepared to make a move at any moment. He had some of his attention on Mikael as well, preventing Mikael from doing anything.

Chad was incredibly angry at that moment and needed to vent. Jackie felt like the other party was more than capable to deal with Fareed, but he would not be able to deal with two of them.

The pythons had their mouths open as they bit down on the sword.

Rudy looked at the explosive power and was a bit afraid. He looked at Jackie and started to panic a little when he saw that Jackie was not planning to attack.

“Jackie! Why don’t you help out?”

Chapter 3495
Jackie turned to look at Rudy, “He can deal with it. That bandit isn’t from a high-grade clan. Even if warriors from second-grade worlds had messed-up minds, disciples of high-grade clans would never become bandits.”

Rudy took a deep breath, feeling like Jackie was right. It was not like every warrior from a second-grade world was strong. Normal warriors made up most of them. It was just that they acted very arrogantly so they could feel special in front of warriors from third-grade worlds.

With a bang, the two techniques clashed in the air. The first three pythons disappeared immediately, being sliced into pure energy. The other four managed to withstand the first blow.

The pythons then wrapped around the body of the sword while the sword constantly released sharp energy, trying to slice through the snakes. The pythons’ bodies were constantly broken apart, but they constantly regenerated!

The four pythons wrapped tightly around the sword, and the blade constantly moved. The energy was bursting out everywhere, and the pythons cried out in the air. Yet, they did not relax their grip at all. The two techniques clashed against each other, and it was hard to tell who was winning.

Mikael had a look of surprise on his face. He did not expect Fareed to be so closely matched with that guy.

He turned to look at Jackie, and there was a look of alarm on his face. He was getting impatient and wanted to help Fareed deal with that warrior. However, there was still another standing there.

If he attacked, that person would not just stand by idly. It might end up becoming a battle between the five parties. Even though the one on the left did not seem strong at all, there was still strength in numbers. If the one on the right was as strong as the one that was fighting, he might not be able to handle it, and it would be trouble.

At that moment, Mikael was already thinking about retreating. After all, he was not absolutely confident. He felt like they might have bitten off more than they could chew.

At that moment, Fareed shouted out angrily, “Brat, I can’t believe you’re actually quite decent! No wonder you were so arrogant to talk to me like that! However, don’t be so pleased just yet! You’ll be dying today!”

After that, Fareed let out a roar, forming even more seals that constantly flew in the air. Fareed pushed forward, and the seals shot into the four golden pythons.

Chad pursed his lips as his eyes started to redden.

The golden pythons became even stronger after absorbing those seals. The sword had originally still been able to constantly shake and unleash its sharp powers. Yet, it was already completely held by the pythons at that moment. It could not move at all, and could not unleash its destructive power!

Rudy was getting anxious.

He turned to look at Jackie and said, “Jackie! You should attack now! I think Chad’s about to lose.”

Jackie shook his head, still looking up without any intention to attack.

Rudy gulped, wanting nothing more than to help. In truth, he had only known Chad for a few hours, but because they were quite compatible, he had already considered Chad as a friend. On top of that, those two would be even more arrogant if Chad were to lose, which Rudy did not want to happen.

Mikael looked over and saw Rudy’s anxious expression.

He said, “What’s the point of being nervous? That guy can’t possibly beat Fareed. You should just surrender. Stop struggling for no reason. Knee! and beg us, and hand over your keys then we’ll make sure you die quickly!”

Chapter 3496
“What utter nonsense!” Rudy furiously shouted, “What are you even talking about, dog?! The one who should be begging is you!”

Rudy felt like he was going to die of anger. After that, he turned to shoot Jackie a pleading look, hoping that Jackie would do something in time. However, Jackie’s expression did not change, and his body did not move at all.

Rudy pursed his lips. If Jackie did not lend a helping hand, Chad would lose. That would be really embarrassing. Chad was already injured in the first place. Any additional injury would inflict emotional wounds as well!

He felt like he could no longer wait, and was just about to say something to Jackie again when an intense red light shot out in the air.

Chad let out a furious roar as his whole body started to glow red. His hands constantly moved, and blood-red seals were constantly formed!

Countless seals began to surround the sword. The sword started to glow intensely, and its power constantly exploded outward, causing the python to start to crack. The speed of its recovery could not catch up to the speed it was being torn apart.

The four pythons started to struggle intensely, and Fareed started to panic. He hurriedly formed even more seals, but before he could send them to the pythons, the blood-red sword exploded intensely.

There was a sudden boom, and the python was completely blown apart. The blood-red sword had managed to escape, and the red energy constantly flowed to the tip.

Chad shouted out, “Die!”

The blood-red sword shot forward at Fareed like an arrow.

Fareed jumped in fright, and he hurriedly tried to protect himself as he retreated. However, it was already too late.

The two of them had not been far away from each other in the first place. With the fact that their techniques had clashed in the middle, Fareed did not have much time to react!

The sword pierced right through Fareed’s protection, and Fareed let out an angry roar as he frantically retreated. Yet, it was all for naught. No matter how much he tried, he could not make enough distance.

Fareed’s cries of anguish could be heard as the sword pierced into him. The energy shot right into his body, and it sucked his blood dry.

Fareed’s blood turned into the power of the sword, and it suddenly became much stronger! At that moment, no one could save Fareed. His true energy could no longer be used, and his body could no longer support itself. He let out a cry and fell to the ground.

With a boom, Fareed collapsed on the ground heavily.

Mikael was shocked. Fareed had clearly been inches away from winning, but the guy had turned the tables, exploding out with such terrifying power that destroyed the golden pythons!

The loss had come far too quickly. Mikael had his mouth open wide, unsure of how to react!

Rudy clapped frantically, incredibly happy about it. He had thought that Chad would lose, and he was about to ask Jackie for help again. Yet, the tables had turned so quickly. Defeat suddenly turned to victory, and Fareed was on the ground!

He turned around and looked at Mikael proudly, saying, “Did you see that?! Who’s the one who should be kneeling and giving up their golden keys?”

“So what if you’re from a second-grade world?! You still lost to us. All you do is brag. You just like to constantly talk, but you still lost so badly. Don’t you think it’s embarrassing?”

Mikael took a deep breath. His face was completely red. Of course, it was embarrassing. Mikael wanted to dig a hole for himself and hide in it!

Chapter 3497
However, he still had his wits about him. It was not the time to be overcome with emotion. He looked at Jackie and turned around to run without a second word!

Jackie scoffed as he shot forward and gave chase. He had not attacked earlier because he wanted to see Chad’s abilities. There was no way he could let this guy run away.

Mikael said as he ran, “Just you wait! I’ll bring my fellow disciples over! Then, you won’t be able to get out of this!”

The moment he said that Jackie suddenly stopped chasing after him. He looked at Mikael retreating, not moving at all. It was like he had been stunned in place by Mikael’s words.

Chad and Rudy were both stunned at that.

Why was Jackie not chasing after them?

Chad said anxiously, “Why did you stop?! You have to get him! Did you not hear what he said? He’s going for reinforcements!”

Chad was practically shouting that out. Even after seeing his abilities, that guy still wanted to get help. It meant that his fellow disciples should be quite strong.

If the two of them were not far away and managed to hurry over in time, then they would be in a difficult spot. Even though he had beaten Fareed earlier, he had been forced to use his trump card. If there were warriors that were stronger than Fareed, he would not be able to beat them.

Rudy did not say anything at all.

Compared to Chad, he knew Jackie much better. No matter how fast Mikael had run, he would not have been able to get away if Jackie did not want him to.

He did not understand why Jackie stopped his pursuit, but Rudy trusted that Jackie had his own reasons.

Jackie turned to look at Chad and said, “I heard what that guy said. It’s precise because I heard that so I stopped chasing. Let’s just wait here for his fellow disciples.”

Chad was stunned by Jackie's words. He looked at Jackie in confusion, suddenly not knowing what to say.

Was Jackie's head alright?

Did Jackie know what he was saying?

They were getting reinforcements, but Jackie was not leaving and instead waiting for them to come over.

Did Jackie feel like they did not have enough enemies?

Did Jackie think he was not in enough anger?

Chad's look had been quite obvious, and Jackie could naturally tell what he was thinking.

Jackie smiled and said, "I have my own plans. You don't need to worry."

That caused Chad to feel even more unsettled instead. Chad felt like Jackie was a mystery.

Chad's lips twitched as he hurriedly said, "That guy will definitely be bringing reinforcements that are stronger than him. You should be stronger than Fareed, but I'm only good enough to defeat Fareed. If any more came, I won't be able to defeat them. If you have the skills to fight more than one, then I can help you hold Mikael back. It's just that, I don't think you can."

He did not hold anything back and was incredibly straightforward. He had not known Jackie for that long and had never seen Jackie in action. Even so, Chad estimated that Jackie should be more or less at his level.

Even if Jackie was stronger than him, he would not be that much stronger. After all, they were from third-grade worlds.

Unless Jackie was a top-chosen disciple, he would not be that much different.

Chapter 3498
Jackie nodded emotionlessly after hearing Chad's words, "I know. Don't worry, there won't be any surprises."

Chad's lips were constantly twitching in exasperation, feeling like Jackie was very conceited. Jackie might really be strong, but going against more than one opponent?

Various thoughts surfaced in Chad's head. He had never liked to overthink things.

If he could not understand it, then he would just forget about it. He felt like his mind was going to get overworked, so he decided to just forget about everything. Since Jackie was confident, then he would just listen to Jackie. After all, if anything happened, he would not be the only one in danger.

When Jackie saw that Chad had stopped saying anything, he stepped forward and looked toward where Mikael had left.

Time slowly ticked away.

After about ten minutes, three figures started to speed over toward them from a distance.

The three of them were running side by side. The one on the left was Mikael. His previous expression filled with shock had disappeared. Even though there was still hatred on his face, it was mostly filled with excitement for revenge.

Jackie smirked as he let out a faint smile.

Fareed had already been dealt with. The two keys Fareed had were taken by Chad and he was planning on giving one to Jackie. After all, without Jackie's help, Chad would not have been able to face Fareed alone.

However, Jackie refused it as Chad had fought that battle himself. It was just a key anyway. He had a bigger goal in mind. He did not care about one key.

Mikael shouted out from far away, "You really are bold! You actually didn't run away!"

The three of them stopped about eighty meters away from Jackie and the rest.

Mikael looked at them with an expression full of hatred.

Jackie felt like he already saw them as mortal enemies. The other party looked like a wild dog who had found a strong master at that moment.

"You didn't even bother running! Do you think the three of you can face the three of us? My fellow disciples here are both stronger than Fareed! Fareed just underestimated you just now. Otherwise, he would not have lost!" Mikael sneered at Jackie.

He held his anger while speaking.

Rudy started to laugh out loud, saying mockingly, "How could you even bring yourself to say that? Did you forget how frantically Fareed tried to block that attack just now? He was practically using all his strength, but he still wasn't a match for my friend! What are you even talking about right now?"

Mikael's face reddened in anger. He looked at Rudy and clenched his teeth in anger.

Mikael said, "How dare you laugh at me? Very well! I'll remember you! Keep laughing. You can laugh as much as you want! You won't be able to laugh anymore soon. I'll teach you the consequences of laughing at me. I'll make sure to skin you alive!"

As he said that, Mikael's face was full of venom as he glared right at Rudy as if Rudy had killed his whole body.

Rudy rolled his eyes, not caring about it.

Beside Mikael were his elder brothers, Josui and Joaqim. The few of them were brothers not by blood, but by circumstance.

Mikael was the youngest and was basically an errand boy. A few of them were basically bandits and targeted warriors from third-grade worlds.

Jackie looked at Chad, who was breathing heavier and heavier.

At that moment, Chad's fists were clenched tightly as he looked at them with clenched teeth. His anger had almost swallowed up his reason.

Jackie raised an eyebrow. Before he could figure out the reason for Chad's anger, Joaqim spoke.

Chapter 3499
"I was wondering who it was, turns out it's you. I thought you only knew how to run, and I was thinking you wouldn't show up here anymore. I never expected you to be so bold to return again. You even brought two helpers along."

"Did you think that these two helpers would help you beat us? Stop joking around! Even if you bring four more over, it would be nothing. In front of us, all of you are nothing!" Joaqim said indifferently to Jackie.

Jackie immediately understood Chad's rage.

Chad's injuries had been inflicted by them, and he had probably been humiliated quite a bit as well. It really was a coincidence.

Chad furrowed his eyebrows tightly, and his eyes reddened, "You shameless and despicable bandits! I won't let you go!"

Joaqim started to laugh, not hiding his mockery at all, "Who do you think you are? You won't let me off? Are you worthy of saying that? You're just a defeated warrior. If you weren't so good at running away, you'd already be a corpse right now. Since when did you get to be so arrogant?! If you have the skills, then don't run away. Let's fight right here!"

Chad's face was red. Even though his heart was filled with anger and his whole body was trembling, the truth was still the truth. He really was no match for them.

Not too long ago, he had been forced to run away with his tail between his legs just to stay alive. Otherwise, he would not have been here with Jackie.

Jackie coughed slightly, turning to say to Chad, "Calm down. What's the point of getting so angry? Just leave everything to me. You just need to help me hold back Mikael at most."

Chad looked at Jackie in surprise. He had a lotto say, but he swallowed back his words.

He looked at Jackie firmly, and after a moment, he said, "I trust you!"

Jackie raised an eyebrow at that, praising Chad's personality. He smiled, not saying anything else as he turned to look at Joaqim and the others.

At that moment, Josui laughed, "You won't be able to escape this time! He needs to properly torture you. Even though I don't know how Fareed lost to you, he's still our younger brother. We need to seek justice for him."

Jackie had not planned on saying anything, and wanted to fight right away, but he could not stand it after hearing Josui.

He said in exasperation, "Justice? How can you even say that? What justice? Bandits have a sense of justice now?"

Fareed and Mikael had hidden in a corner to rob others. Fareed lost his life because he was not skilled enough, so he deserved it.

That guy said he wanted justice! It was a joke.

Jackie took a deep breath, saying to Chad, "What are those two called? Do you know what clan they're from?"

Chad nodded, introducing them. He did not know what clan they were from, but he knew their names.

Jackie scoffed. The one called Joaqim had a disgusting aura about him.

Jackie was absolutely disgusted by how narcissistic the warriors from second-grade worlds had always acted.

Joaqim narrowed his eyes, “Yes, we’re seeking justice for him. Do you have anything to say about that? You trash from third-grade worlds were meant to be our prey anyway. So what if you’re killed?! The fact that you dared to go against us is a great crime! You should be punished with death!”

Even Jackie could not remain calm at that.

Rudy jumped in anger, shouting out, “You dogs! Prey? Who do you think you are? I’ll make sure you kneel in front of me later!”

Rudy was furious, and Chad was even more so. His hands were trembling, and his face was full of rage.

Jackie sighed as he reached out to grab Rudy’s shoulder, “There’s no point trying to argue with them. Since they’re so arrogant, let’s get rid of that arrogance with our own hands!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3501-3510 -

Chapter 3500
When Jackie said that, he had not lowered his voice.

The two in front of them had been able to hear everything clearly. Joaqim scoffed, looking at Jackie in exasperation. Jackie really was brave to have dared to say all of that. He was looking down at them.

Did he want to get rid of their arrogance himself?

How absurd!

Josui sneered, “You really do see something new every day. I’ve seen arrogant warriors from third-grade worlds, but it’s the first time I’ve met one as arrogant as you!”

Jackie raised an eyebrow, looking at them coldly. There were three golden rings around both Josui and Joaqim. It meant they had three rings each.

They had six in total, which was great news for him.

He smiled and turned around to look at Chad, “Just keep an eye on Mikael. Leave the rest to me.”

Jackie’s voice was calm, but his gaze was firm.

Chad’s lips twitched. His experience told him that Jackie was acting a bit overly arrogant. His opponents were using lower ultimate god rank techniques!

Jackie would already be quite capable if he was able to beat them one on one. One against two was crazy.

However, Jackie’s calm tone and resolved look made it so Chad had nothing to say.

He merely nodded and whispered, “Okay, but you need to be careful! Those two aren’t easy to deal with! Fareed used a lower ultimate god rank technique, and those two are stronger than him.”

“They’re naturally using lower ultimate god rank techniques too. Fareed was not even at the first stage of proficiency. Those two are stronger than Fareed, so they should already be over the first stage. Lower ultimate god rank techniques can’t be underestimated! You have to be incredibly careful!”

Jackie nodded slowly. Rudy smirked when he heard Chad.

He let out a confident smile as he patted Chad on the shoulder, “Don’t worry, they’re just ultimate god-rank techniques. They’re nothing to Jackie!”

Rudy was not exaggerating at all.

Lower ultimate god rank techniques really were nothing to Jackie. After all, he had two techniques. The weaker one was Destroying the Void, which was already at the upper ultimate god rank technique. And he had already mastered it.

Chad did not know all of that. He felt a bit confused at Rudy’s confident smile and felt like it was all very strange.

He looked at Rudy before looking at the calm Jackie, suddenly not knowing what to say.

Joaqim and Josui had heard all of that, and they felt deeply amused.

Ultimate god rank techniques were nothing?

That was not just mere arrogance. They even felt like the guys in front of them were really crazy. They were living in a dream.

Not even chosen disciples from holy grade clans could say anything like that, so where did those two get all the confidence from to say such absurd things?

It was like lower ultimate god-rank techniques were beneath them.

Joaqim’s lips twitched, “Those two really are crazy! They don’t know their place. Do they think they’re unbeatable just because they beat Fareed?”

Mikael’s lips were twitching as well.

He looked at them with exasperation as he scoffed and said, “Hey, guys, are you delusional? Did you say that lower ultimate god rank techniques are weak? You’re talking like you know upper ultimate god rank techniques!”

Chapter 3501
Jackie took a deep breath, deciding that he no longer wanted to waste time on them.

He shot up into the air as he formed multiple seals, materializing 100 Soul Swords in front of him.

The Soul Swords glowed with gray runes and radiated with the power of the soul that flowed within the Soul Swords. If one was to look closer, it was as if countless little snakes slithered around the Soul Swords.

Joaqim and Josui exchanged looks and saw the disdain they felt for the other side.

Joaqim scoffed and said, “Leave this to me! If the two of us attack together, we’ll just embarrass ourselves.”

With that, he leaped into the air.

Josui, on the other hand, stood still with his arms crossed, showing no indication that he would do anything. He had a cold smile on his face as he looked at Rudy and Chad.

While Chad sighed in relief, knowing this was no two-against-one battle, and felt slightly less burdened, Rudy shook his head.

If it was one-on-one combat, this battle had no more meaning to Jackie.

Jackie looked at Joaqim in the air and raised an eyebrow in exasperation.

Joaqim scoffed, not wasting any time talking as he started to clench his fists. Two red flames rose from his hands, floating around his skin. There was an intense energy within.

Narrowing his eyes slightly, Joaqim shouted, “My technique is a lower ultimate god rank technique, Explosive Fists, and I’ve trained it to the first stage. Even those from holy grade clans know to respect me!”

“You’re just a brat from a third-grade world, yet you speak so arrogantly! It’s time for you to experience how big the world is, brat!”

Joaqim clenched his fists tightly as he activated his true energy and charged at Jackie. His fists contained explosive energy, and the flames were charging at Jackie quickly.

Jackie smiled, fusing 50 Soul Swords into one to form a giant Soul Sword. He pushed forward, and the gray Soul Sword shot out as well. In a flash, the flaming fists and the giant Soul Sword clashed.

The intense flames seemed to have been extinguished the moment they clashed against the Soul Sword. Those fists were no match for Jackie’s Soul Sword at all! The energy within the Soul Sword did not even seem to have diminished at all as the Soul Sword shot forward, not slowing down.

Joaqim’s eyes widened in disbelief.

The Soul Sword was incredibly quick, and it did not take that long for it to reach Joaqim. He let out a roar as he started to form more seals.

The flames around his fists burned even more intensely. He gritted his teeth as his fists shot right at the Soul Sword, but it was still not enough to stop it. No matter how intensely the flames burned, they were extinguished the moment they clashed against the Soul Sword.

“Ah!”

Joaqim let out a roar as he swung his fist again. The Soul Sword finally clashed with Joaqim’s actual hands, but it pierced right through his fists.

Chapter 3502
Joaqim merely felt like his hands were ripped by a formless energy. Even though there were no wounds on his hands, his soul felt like it was ripped apart from the inside.

The Soul Sword harmed a person’s soul, and Joaqim looked on as the Soul Sword pierced through his hands right into his chest.

A wave of unbearable pain started to spread from his chest, and Joaqim’s eyes widened as his muscles began to pulse from the intense pain. He could not even control his own breathing. His true energy stopped circulating, and he started to fall down.

With a boom, he slammed onto the ground face-first.

Everyone looked at the scene with widened eyes.

Joaqim lost in mere minutes!

How Joaqim struggled to survive was etched into their eyes. Even struggling so frantically, Joaqim was still no match for his opponent. They were not at the same level at all. Even more terrifying was the fact that Jackie had not used his full strength.

Of the 100 Soul Swords he formed, Jackie had only used 50 of them!

The thought crossed Josui and Mikael’s minds, both shell-shocked by the turn of events. They finally realized that they had crossed someone far too powerful for themselves. Jackie had not been bragging at all, lower ultimate god rank techniques were indeed nothing to him.

Mikael’s whole body was trembling. He did not even dare to look up. He did not even have the courage to look at Jackie. He felt like his body was completely submerged in ice, and it was so cold that his whole body was frozen.

Josui was not much better. He seemed to have lost the ability to even think.

When Joaqim fell to the ground, he did not faint on the spot. Instead, he spasmed on the ground, writhing like a worm as he groaned in pain.

They knew Joaqim. If he was conscious, he would have never allowed himself to act in such a sorry manner. Joaqim had way too much pride for that.

The fact that he was in such a state meant that he was already at the limits of pain.

Josui shuddered as his hands trembled.

Was Jackie even human?

Could that guy really have an ultimate god rank technique?

That was absurd!

Were warriors from third-grade worlds that strong?

Josui gulped, and he even started to breathe frantically. His fear did not last that long. A gust of wind blew over, and he looked up.

At some point, the 50 other Soul Swords had condensed into a giant Soul Sword and quickly charged at him!

Josui shrieked as his face twitched in fear. He was so scared he was about to pee in his pants!

At that moment, he ignored everything as he turned around to run.

There was nothing he could do, his opponent was too strong. Even if he was the top disciple of a holy grade clan, he might not even be able to beat that guy!

What else could he do but run?

Alas, he underestimated Jackie's skill. The Soul Sword had the laws of space within, and its speed was doubled.

Josui frantically ran, but he only lasted a few seconds before the sword caught up to him.

The sword violently pierced into Josui's back. With a cry of agony, he fell to the ground.

Chad's jaw dropped, and his eyeballs were about to pop out of their sockets. He still remembered how Josui had been so prideful and disdainful.

Chapter 3503
Chad recalled how he and Josui laughed at warriors from third-grade worlds, deeming them worthless. They had been so harsh with their words, but in a shocking twist of fate, it was them writhing on the floor like worms.

It had not even been that long, but the situation was overturned too swiftly.

Chad's lips trembled as he recalled what Jackie had said before, and his words were etched into his mind.

Before the battle, he did not lack confidence. Chad even wondered if Jackie was crazy. After all, he believed so strongly that Jackie could not possibly beat two of them at once.

Chad took a deep breath. His hands constantly trembled, and he was so emotional that he was at a complete loss for words.

Jackie activated the laws of space, appearing next to Josui. At that moment, Josui was completely lost in the pain.

Jackie reached out and grabbed the golden keys from Josui's waist. Three golden keys shone brightly. Jackie held them all and looked at Josui coldly. Without any hesitation, he put them on himself.

Meanwhile, Mikael gulped as he looked at Chad, then at Jackie. At this very moment, he realized he could no longer escape.

He was in an incredibly awkward position at that moment. Chad and Rudy were to his left. He was in the middle while Jackie was to the right. Even though there was some distance between them, it meant nothing when taking Jackie's speed into thought.

Jackie would instantly appear next to him if he wanted.

Mikael's lips trembled slightly as a wave of calmness washed over him. After all, the realization of having no more options settled in his mind, and he could not even beg for mercy.

Chaos City was a place where death ruled supreme. If he died, they would be able to get rewards. Just from that, there was no point in him begging for mercy.

Beads of sweat formed on Mikael's head. He felt a chill in his heart as his whole body stiffened. His anxiety commanded his breathing, resigning himself to fate.

When he looked to the right at Jackie, he gritted his teeth and made a decision.

He was going to die anyway. He took out a spirit carving charm and held it in his palm.

When Chad saw that, he immediately shouted, "Jackie, he's trying to record how you look and transmit it! Stop him quickly!"

The spirit carving charm was a special array. It was so expensive that normal warriors could not afford it. The one in Mikael's hand was given by his father. There was no way he could have been able to afford it himself.

The spirit carving charm was special. It was similar to a sound transfer array but much more complicated. He could record a person's appearance and quickly send it to the person he wanted to. Mikael felt like he was about to die anyway, so he wanted to do something before he did.

He wanted to transmit Jackie's appearance, letting all the warriors from second-grade worlds know that Jackie was a bringer of disaster. He wanted them to take revenge for him!

The thought of this scattered his fear and calmed him, and he regained control over his anxiety.

Mikael's hands constantly moved as he formed seal after seal. The seals started to quickly flow in the air, and the spirit carving array quickly absorbed them inside. After that, there was an intensely bright light as the charm was burnt.

Chapter 3504
Jackie frowned, activating the laws of space again.

In just a moment, he appeared next to Mikael, but it was too late. The charm was already burnt, and Jackie's image had already been sent out as the charm turned to ash.

Mikael's lips curled up into a smile as he turned to look at Jackie.

He had a crazy look on his face as he sneered, "They'll avenge me for sure! They definitely will!"

The moment he said that, he slammed his fist onto his head, and an explosive force killed him.

Rudy stomped his feet on the ground anxiously, incredibly frustrated.

"That dog!" he snarled. "We should've killed him first! No, that would've been too nice for him, still… We should've slowly cut him into pieces!"

Chad sighed. It was too late. Jackie's face had been identified, and Mikael killed himself before they could do anything. Everything was finished, and the outcome could no longer be reversed.

Rudy gritted his teeth and said, "This guy really is decisive! He killed himself the moment he did what he wanted! He's bold, I'll give him that…"

Rudy practically hissed these words through gritted teeth in his rage.

Chad looked at Rudy and shook his head, saying, “I don’t think he was brave”

Rudy frowned, thinking about those words and admitting that Chad was ultimately correct in his assumption. He would have done the same thing had it been him in Mikael’s shoes, at least he would suffer less.

Rudy sighed as he walked to Jackie’s side and worriedly asked, “What do we do now? Do we need to disguise ourselves?”

Jackie looked at Rudy. With what happened, they would need to disguise themselves if they wanted peace of mind.

However, he shook his head after deliberating on the matter. He turned and walked to Joaqim and, reaching out, grabbed the three keys on Joaqim’s waist. This meant Jackie had seven golden rings on him.

Jackie deliberately held one key for the sake of attracting enemies while he kept the other six keys in Mustard Seed.

In total, Jackie had 13 keys. That number should be enough to get a good treasure, but it was still far from Jackie’s goal.

Chad walked to Jackie and looked at the golden rings around Jackie in admiration. He had given himself a goal before this. He wanted to get at least five rings for it to be worth it.

Jackie had gotten six rings so easily. With Jackie’s skills, obtaining 10 more would be all too easy for him.

Chad could not help but lament the gap in their skills.

Jackie turned to look at Chad, smiling wordlessly.

Rudy said, “Where do we go next?”

He was looking forward to what they would do next.

He had been rather worried when they first entered Chaos City and when he found out about the rules.

He wondered how many battles they would have had to fight to get even one key, but it seemed as though his worries were unnecessary.

Chapter 3505
As long as an individual was strong enough, keys would come to them with no sweat. It had not been that long, but Jackie managed to collect 13 keys.

Rudy believed that it was just the start.

Jackie took a deep breath and looked into the distance. “We’ll continue walking to the Stage of the Nine. It happens to be toward the middle anyway.”

Chaos City was like a huge circle. The closer to the center it was, the more people there would be. All of the warriors who entered Chaos City only advanced in one direction, which was the center.

The Stage of the Nine that was closest to them happened to be closer to the center compared to them. All they needed to do was to continue advancing.

After dealing with the three, Jackie and the others continued forward.

At that moment, Chad seemed to be a lot calmer as his worries were cast aside. With Jackie by his side, they were in no immediate, fatal danger unless they were unlucky enough and met a top chosen disciple from a holy grade clan or a gang of warriors from second-grade worlds.

Anything else would just be free kills for them.

After a while walking forward, Chad said with excitement, “We have about three kilometers to go! I can’t wait. I wonder what kind of treasure I’ll get with three golden keys? I bet the price should be over ten million. Otherwise, it won’t be worth me fighting so many battles.”

Rudy nodded. “I think so, too. A golden key won’t be so valuable on its own, but three should be enough.”

As the two of them talked, an explosion ahead of them went off.

The three of them were stunned, and they immediately headed toward the source of the explosion. The explosion was a distance away from them. They could see the shockwaves from the explosion but could not tell what happened.

Before the three of them could discuss what could have happened, more explosions happened. They could see energy waves of different colors, and it was obvious that a battle had taken place.

The three of them exchanged looks of surprise.

Jackie frowned. “Let’s go take a look! Two of you, be careful and follow closely behind me. If anything happens, leave me and run.”

Rudy and Chad nodded. There was no need to say anything at that moment. Jackie was the strongest among the three of them, and he could definitely buy them some time should anything dangerous happen.

The two of them would already be lucky enough to defend themselves. They had to run away while Jackie was buying them time.

They quickly advanced, and the closer they got, the more shocked they were. As they got closer, they could see countless figures moving around. It was an all-out battle with more than a hundred people.

The battle was incredibly intense, and both sides were fighting with their lives on the line.

To prevent anything unexpected, the three of them stopped about a kilometer away from where the battle took place, and they could see the situation clearly.

After observing the battlefield, Jackie determined that it was a battle between second-grade and third-grade worlds.

The warriors from third-grade worlds were on the left, while the other side was on the right.

The two sides looked incredibly furious. Attacks of various attributes clashed in the air, and the ground was full of craters.

Dust and energy flew everywhere, and the ground was littered with corpses. Fresh blood flowed all over like a river. It was a shocking sight.

Chapter 3506
Rudy covered his mouth. “What’s going on?! They actually started fighting!”

Back then, they had discussed the possibility of an open war between second and third-grade worlds.

At that moment, Jackie had determined that it would probably not happen. After all, the third-grade worlds all had their own plans, and even if they did not like the warriors from second-grade worlds, they would not start fighting so easily.

If they did, warriors from third-grade worlds would suffer a greater aftermath than those in second-grade worlds. Since that was the case, they should not have started an open battle so easily!

Jackie took a deep breath as he looked at the intense battlefield, not knowing what to do. Something unforgivable must have happened, or such an intense battle would not have happened. With another massive boom, Jackie saw a warrior being blown to bits. His arm had been split in two, and his other body parts were catered everywhere.

A few others were harmed by the shockwaves, but even so, the battle continued. No one stopped. Everyone was incredibly murderous.

He could vaguely hear people shouting.

“You despicable animals! Just because we haven’t fought back, you think we’re worthless?! Did you think we’re just livestock for you to do whatever you want with?! Let me tell you: Even if I die today, I’ll drag you down with us!”

“Who do you think you are?! Do you think you have more geniuses than us? We outnumber you by a great deal! When it comes to geniuses, we have no fewer than yours! You tortured us before, and we didn’t do anything about it. You came to Chaos City to do the same thing! I’ll make you people pay dearly for your transgressions!”

The warriors from second-grade worlds did not back down as they retaliated loudly.

“You’re right, you are livestock to us! We can kill and torture you as we please! We need a lot of Heartblood, so are we supposed to torture ourselves? Don’t talk about numbers”

“That’s right! We kill you because we have the skill! You don’t have the skills to kill us! Stop calling us despicable. You’re weaklings, so you should serve the strong. It’s your fate! You can’t escape it!”

Jackie immediately understood what happened.

It appeared the warriors from third-grade worlds had noticed that the warriors from second-grade worlds were torturing them once again.

The warriors from third-grade worlds could not accept the fact.

They were fine being killed, but they were not fine being tortured for Heartblood. The warriors from third-grade worlds were left alive to slowly be tortured until fear filled their bodies, when the blood essence in their bodies would rush to their hearts.

The more fear there was, the purer the Heartblood would be. It was because of that that they used such cruel methods of torture.

The warriors from second-grade worlds did not regard the warriors from second-grade worlds as humans at all. It completely angered every warrior from third-grade worlds. They had finally been backed into a corner.

The anger had accumulated far too great, and it was completely ignited.

The battle started, and it was incredibly intense. However, every warrior from a third-grade world had thrown aside all their own considerations, fighting this battle for their sake, and the sake of their own people.

Rudy's hands trembled as fury burned in him. "They're at it again! I thought they'd stop after we exposed their plans and not use such cruel methods again. I can't believe I overestimated them…"

Jackie sighed as he turned to look at Rudy.

His voice was cold as he remarked, "They have to open the Radiant Hall, and it needs a lot of Heartblood. Just like that man said, they can't do it to themselves, so we're the natural targets."

Chapter 3507
The moment that was said, Chad said in a trembling voice, "It's Quinton! Jackie, look! My elder disciple has been surrounded! Please, help him!"

Many people were on the battlefield, and it was hard to tell them apart. A few people were at the fringes of the battle as well.

Comparatively, they were more split up, and it was a battle between teams. Teams from second-grade worlds would face similar teams of warriors from third-grade worlds. The closest battle to Jackie and his companions was about 100 meters away from them.

Chad immediately spotted his familiar fellow disciples. Quinton led his disciples and was fighting a small team from a second-grade world in an intense fight.

Quinton's side was on the losing end, alas. They had been surrounded by a team of eight.

Chad could tell that their opponents planned on finishing them all-no survivors allowed. He panicked at that.

Quinton was responsible and did his role as the top disciple, protecting all the injured disciples. He himself fared no better, with all the wounds on his body, but he merely gritted his teeth and stood his ground.

Quinton knew that they were no match for their opponents; they were far too inferior skill-wise. Even if they had two or three more people, the outcome would not change whatsoever.

The leader of the team from the second-grade worlds was called Brian Delly, who hailed from a holy grade clan. He was highly ranked among chosen disciples and felt like Quinton was beneath his notice.

Quinton clutched his chest as he tightly held his weapon in his other hand. He had bloodshot eyes as he protected his fellow disciples, planning on fighting back until the end.

Brian laughed as he looked at them in disdain. “You’re planning on fighting until the end? Do you think you can drag us down with you? Forget about it. You think you’re worthy?”

“All you’re worth is being tortured by our hands. Even though we can’t get your Heartblood if we kill you like that, it doesn’t matter. We’ll get what we need. I still have plenty of chances to kill your other companions!”

Quinton and the others were furious when they heard this.

Kane, who was behind Quinton, shouted, “Let’s fight them to the end, Quinton! I don’t care about anything else. I don’t even care if I die. I want to make them pay!”

“That’s right!” sounded the resounding cries of his Quinton’s companions. “Who cares about death? I’ll take one down with me. If I die, I die! If this goes on, we’ll die somewhere else anyway!”

Quinton frowned, helpless at how fearless his fellow disciples were acting. He did not want them to die here, but there did not seem to be any other possibility at that moment.

He gritted his teeth and shouted, “You’re right. Very well! Let’s fight! We have to drag them down, even if we die!”

Brian and the others sneered at those words. In their eyes, the warriors from third-grade worlds were not even worthy of touching them. They would not give those warriors any chance to fight back.

They and these third-grade warriors were nowhere at the same level. As long as the second-grade world warriors were quick, warriors from third-grade worlds would not even last a few seconds!

Chapter 3508
Quinton and the others decided then and there that they would die together. They coldly looked at their opponents.

There was no other choice in that situation for them. Even if they had to sacrifice themselves, they had to injure their opponents in some form. They could not surrender as nothing good would come of it.

Quinton took a deep breath and composed himself. Nothing was left except for resolve.

He looked at Brian's mocking expression. Quinton knew what they were thinking, and he knew that they scorned warriors from third-grade worlds.

That did not matter. If they fought back with full force, they would be able to make their opponents suffer the consequences of such actions.

Quinton took a deep breath and shouted, "Hear me, brothers! We'll burn our blood essence and charge forward. Even if we lose our lives, we have to make sure they suffer for all their crimes against us. If we can only drag one of them down to hell with us, then so be it!"

All of them nodded, their eyes burning with resolute and sheer rage.

They were committed to dying for their cause when a familiar voice suddenly rang out, "Quinton, don't be rash! I've come to save you! They won't be able to hurt you!"

Hearing that voice, all of them looked to the source.

Quinton's lips twitched when he saw a familiar figure. He saw Chad waving at them frantically.

He frowned, immediately shouting, "Hurry and leave! Flee this instance! You're the only one left! You have to leave Chaos City!"

Their clan had sent in over 30 disciples, yet only about a dozen of them remained.

Chad had always liked to move alone like a lone wolf, ignoring everything and going around on his own.

It had been a few months since Quinton last saw Chad, and the irony was that they finally reunited in such a grim situation.

Quinton had thought that Chad would at least survive for their clan, but there he was.

Was that any different from suicide?

Not only did he not run off, he even remained and claimed he could save them!

Quinton was incredibly anxious, yet Chad actually sighed. He was so reliable regardless of the situation.

If Chad had been alone in that situation, he would have run for the hills. However, Jackie was with him. What he would have been afraid of was no longer that scary.

Kane frowned as his expression darkened. “What are you so excited about? Hurry and run! If we told you to run, forget about saving us! Do you think you’re unbeatable?!”

They were already resolved to die, and they did not want to drag another person with them. To them, Chad was like the last sprout of hope left. If Chad died as well, then the clan would be deeply affected after the Whirling World closed.

After all, the clan had sent all of their disciples with high potential inside the Whirling World. If no one was left, then a whole generation would be gone, and the clan would be greatly weakened.

Any survivor would be good. Even the disciples that were not friendly with Chad did not want Chad to act stupidly.

At that moment, they wanted Chad to abandon them. All of them were focused on Chad, and they did not even notice the two men behind him.

Chapter 3509
“Hahaha!” Brian cackled as he looked at Chad as though the man was a complete idiot.

Did this fool just say he would save Quinton?

Him, alone?

Was he planning on turning the tides alone?

That was absolutely hilarious!

The other warriors from second-grade worlds started to laugh as well.

Brian said as he laughed, “And how do you plan on saving them, brat? Are you thinking of facing off against more than one of us? Or maybe you plan on facing all of us? Do you think you’re the top disciple of a holy grade clan?”

The expressions of all who heard that changed.

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he looked at Brian with interest.

Chad looked at Brian hatefully and gritted his teeth.

He pointed at Brian and said, “Don’t think you can win this battle! It’s impossible! The third-grade worlds have talented people everywhere, and some of them are incredible leaders. If they gather, warriors from second-grade worlds will be powerless before their might!”

Chad had not been able to say anything like that before because he had never seen anyone that amazing from a third-grade world before. Even though he knew that third-grade worlds had unbelievable talents as well, he had never seen them. Ever since Jackie appeared, his courage was reignited.

When Brain heard that, he burst into laughter once more.

The other warriors from second-grade worlds were laughing in an exaggerated manner as well, all while sneering and taunting them.

“You warriors from third-grade worlds really know how to console yourselves. Leaders, you say? Talents? Those so-called talented leaders you have look ordinary to us. The second-grade worlds have true talents.”

“Just a few of them will be able to kill all of you. Just look around! See who has the most deaths?! I won’t waste any time with you. After killing you, I’ll deal with the other pests from third-grade worlds!”

The moment he said that, his eyes suddenly shifted toward the figure next to Chad.

This man had four golden circles around him, meaning he had four golden keys.

Brian raised an eyebrow, immediately focusing on Jackie and deducing afterward that he was no doubt from a third-grade world. If that were the case, Jackie would have to die as well, and those rings would be his.

Brian smirked as an excited look flashed in his eyes.

Chad had three circles around him, which made for a total of seven keys between the two of them. There were also the golden keys on Quinton and the rest.

The battle was incredibly profitable.

Brian looked at Jackie and said, “Not bad! Looks like you’re lucky enough to get four golden keys, but this luck is mine now. The two of you have seven keys in total. The rest will be given to my fellow disciples, but the ones you have are mine.”

As he said that, his smile was so wide it reached his ears. It was obvious how happy he was.

When his fellow disciples heard that, they widened their eyes.

Brian did not want the keys on Quinton and the others, and it was all theirs!

To them, these were glad tidings!

Chapter 3510
Brian's companions immediately gushed with flattery.

"Brian, you're so generous and heroic! We're so lucky to be able to work with you!"

"Thank you for your generosity! In the future, we'll be completely loyal to you!"

There were various words of flattery that Brian deeply enjoyed.

In truth, Brian was not that generous. He wanted to keep all the keys to himself, but he knew that he would lose respect if he did so. He might end up being stabbed in the back.

His fellow disciples were all cunning. If he took everything for himself, the consequences would be dire. Seven keys were already quite a lot, and the rest of them were not that much anyway. He would absolutely make sure he profited.

While Brian and his lackeys felt gratified, Quinton's side wallowed in despondence.

All of them frowned, cursing their situation.

Quinton did not know what to say at that moment. At Brian's words, the rest of them noticed Jackie as well.

Seeing as Jackie had been with Chad, and Jackie was from a third-grade world, Quinton could guess that the three of them formed a temporary alliance to get by. He knew Chad very well. If Chad had not been forced to, he would not have forced a team.

That was because Chad felt it was troublesome. However, when Chad joined a team, he would not mistreat his teammates.

Quinton took a deep breath and said to Chad helplessly, "Don't be an idiot. Hurry and flee. You don't need to care about us just make sure you survive!"

Quinton had no other thought than to make sure Chad managed to escape at that moment.

The further Chad ran, the better. He did not want Chad to come back at all. All he wanted was for Chad to remain safe until Chad could leave the Whirling World.

Chad naturally knew of Quinton's worries and thus emotionally yelled, "Don't worry, Quinton! I said I'll save you, so believe in that!"

He reached out and patted Jackie on the shoulder. "He can save you!"

Brian could not resist laughing again, feeling like they were clowns.

No matter how much he and his companions laughed, however, Jackie remained calm the whole time as he looked at Brian coldly.

Brian had four golden circles around him.

Jackie raised an eyebrow and said, with a tone of disappointment, “Why do you only have four golden rings?”

Brian was trying to show his superiority in every way, so why did he only have four keys?

Someone as strong as him should have at least ten.

Brian suddenly stopped laughing at Jackie’s words. His lips twitched, wondering if he had misheard.

What did Jackie say?

Did he just ask why he only had four keys?

In such disappointment, at that?

Was that guy planning on killing him to take his keys, but lamenting that he had too little?

Brian’s lips twitched as he stared at Jackie. When he realized he was not mistaken, he did not know what to say.

What an arrogant man.

Was he crazy?!

When Quinton heard Jackie, Quinton widened his eyes as well as he looked at Jackie in confusion.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3511-3520 -

Chapter 3511
Kayn's lips twitched as he whispered, "Does this guy who's with Chad know what he's talking about…"

Quinton narrowed his eyes, "Let's not be in such a hurry to judge. Chad is not someone who makes rash judgments. The fact that he said that means that this guy definitely has some skills. Chad saw it for himself before, but I just don't know if those skills are enough to get us out of this."

Kayn widened his eyes as he looked at Quinton in exasperation, "Quinton, what are you even saying? Our situation isn't something just one or two people can help with."

"Unless this guy is unbelievably strong that he can beat two or three people by himself, no one will be able to save us. We shouldn't put our hopes in the two of them."

Quinton sighed, suddenly not knowing what to say.

Brian's closest friend, Andor, looked at Jackie in disdain, "Brat! You really don't know your place!"

Jackie completely ignored Andor as he looked at Brian, "You still haven't answered me. Why do you have four golden keys? Those disciples next to you even have three each. As their leader, you should have at least double what they have, so why do you only have four?"

Jackie looked at Brian in confusion. His tone was completely calm as if Jackie was in no danger at all.

Brian looked at Jackie coldly and started to laugh.

He narrowed his eyes and a cold look flashed on his face. It was as if Jackie was genuinely asking those questions.

Genuinely lamenting that Brian only had four golden keys completely trampled over Brian's dignity. That piece of trash from a third-grade world actually dared to talk to him like that.

The more Brian thought about it, the angrier he got.

He could not help but clench his fists, "Brat! I've seen people asking for death, but none are as suicidal as you! So what if I have four? Do you think you can take it for me? I've been busy with some tasks before this and did not have the time to fight for any golden keys, that's why I only have four. How dare you look down on me?!"

Jackie raised an eyebrow, saying casually, “I’m not looking down on you, I’m just curious. Whatever! Four keys are still four. This won‘t be the only battle anyway.”

Brian was even more confused by Jackie’s words.

Did Jackie know what he was saying?

Was there something wrong with his head?

It was like Jackie was an emissary sent to save the world, and would be able to turn the tables alone. Jackie spoke with a tone as if everyone was beneath his notice.

Brian was utterly speechless. Andor was even more furious.

He turned to look at Brian and said, “Brian! Leave this kid to me! I want him to know how hilarious his thoughts are!”

Saying that Andor pulled out his weapon, preparing to rush over. However, he was stopped by Brian.

Brian looked at Jackie, “Leave him to me! I want to teach this guy a lesson personally!”

Jackie’s words had thoroughly angered Brian.

Brian was someone who dealt with anyone who offended him on his own, so he would not leave Jackie to Andor.

Chapter 3512
Brian took a deep breath before he turned to look at Andor and said, “Help me keep an eye on them. Leave these two to me!”

Quinton started to panic when he heard that.

If Brian was fighting himself, then Chad would have no way to escape. After all, Chad’s skills were not even at Quinton’s level.

Brian was a chosen disciple of a holy grade clan. Whether it was talent or ability, he was far above any regular warrior. On top of that, he had been angered by Jackie’s words, and would definitely not hold back.

It would be incredibly difficult for Chad to flee.

Quinton’s lips twitched, already grieving the two of them.

Kayn could not help but curse, “What are these two thinking?! Do they know what they have done?! He asked them to run, but they refused. Do they think they’re heroes? That guy next to Chad, what is that guy saying? Does he insist on thoroughly angering Brian?”

The other disciples next to Kayn cursed as well. The situation was already quite bad, but they still insisted on making things worse.

They did not know what Chad was trying to do at all. Quinton was the only one who kept on looking at Jackie. He kept feeling like Jackie was skilled. It was just that he did not know if that skill would be useful enough for this battle.

Of course, he did not voice any of that out and merely prayed in his heart silently that he was not mistaken.

Brian was thoroughly angered at that moment, and only had one thought in mind. He would show that brat what being truly strong meant!

He started to form seals. Quinton and the others panicked when they saw that Brian was attacking right away and immediately pulled out their weapons.

At that moment, Chad suddenly said, “Quinton, don’t fight! You still don’t know who will win! Just wait and see!”

Chad was incredibly confident as he shouted that. Even Kayn could hear the confidence in Chad’s voice.

Kayn’s lips twitched as he shot Jackie a meaningful look.

Could that guy really be so strong that he was good enough to face Brian?

However, Kayn had never seen Jackie before.

The strong warriors from all the third-grade worlds were known amongst them. After all, there were only a few dozen that were truly strong. None of them looked like Jackie at all. Kayn and the other warriors could not stop themselves from being worried, but Chad’s words stopped them from doing anything.

Since Chad said so, they would wait and see. A miracle might happen.

When Brian heard Chad’s words, his eyes lit up in mockery, “You really don’t know your place!”

At that moment, Brian no longer wanted to waste any time talking.

He formed seals with his hands that danced in the air. Suddenly, howling winds were heard as the surroundings dimmed. With Brian in the center, the surroundings turned gray, as if they had entered hell.

Winds were blowing at the dirt on the ground, and the surroundings turned blurry. Right after that, white figures started to appear from the ground. Those figures were human-shaped, but they were transparent as if they were just white shadows.

Slowly, the number of white figures increased. One could even see organs on those figures, but those organs were distorted.

The mouths were incredibly large, with two long fangs protruding out. They were like evil ghosts from hell.

Brian formed even more seals, and the ghosts seemed to have heard summons as they started to gather where the seals were.

Slowly, everyone started to hear cries of agony. There were those of men, women, and children. Various cries were heard. It was as if they were in hell. Brian let out a roar, and all of the ghosts gathered together and started to fuse into a massive sword.

Brian sneered and said, “My technique is the lower ultimate god rank technique, Evil Ghost Slash! For the sake of this technique, we’ve refined over a hundred souls to turn them into evil ghosts for my use! Brat, you’ll become one of them soon! I’ll take out your soul and refine it every day. You’ll be tortured like you’re in hell!”

Chapter 3513
Everyone started to shudder when they heard about the evil technique.

Brian was not human!

That guy was a complete monster. No ordinary person would use such a sinister skill. Many people must have died for Brian to use the technique.

In truth, death was not that hard to accept for warriors. Death was just death, but torturing the soul after death was something most warriors could not accept. It was not something anyone could do.

Jackie could not help but be affected by the sight. He took a deep breath and formed countless seals. This time, he would be slaying an evil monster!

That guy could not be allowed to live a moment longer.

That thought had just flashed in his mind when he heard Rudy say, “Jackie! You can’t just let him die like that. You should let him survive until the Whirling World closes!”

Rudy was practically shouting those words across. He never felt like he was some morally upright hero, but he could just not accept such cruel methods. He could feel those souls that were refined by Brian were probably all talentless and powerless warriors like himself.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, nodding after some thought.

Rudy was right, he could not just die like that. He should suffer first.

Jackie shot forward and started to form seals. A gray blade appeared in front of him.

Broken Soul Blade had tremendous soul attribute power within. Storm god rank techniques were just far above ultimate god rank techniques, let alone lower ultimate god rank ones!

The ghostly sword slashed right at Jackie. He did not even blink an eye as he pushed forward, shooting out the Broken Soul Blade.

Suddenly, the Broken Soul Blade clashed against Brian's technique. With a massive boom, the sinister howling intensified. It sounded like nails running through glass, and quite a few people covered their ears.

Brian's technique shattered in sudden.

The ghostly sword form from dark spirits was no match for the Broken Soul Blade at all.

In next second, the Broken Soul Blade completely consumed Brian's technique!

It happened in just a flash!

No one there expected the situation to happen so quickly.

Brian still had his pleased smile on his face, as if he would kill Jackie in one blow when the Broken Soul Blade appeared in front of him. His whole body froze as he felt a chill in his heart. His eyes widened.

His mouth opened slightly and he was full of disbelief!

He had actually lost so quickly, not even slowing down his opponent's attack! Brian shuddered, unable to accept the truth.

Yet, at that moment, he did not have the time to feel shocked as he immediately reacted.

He started to form seals again, and the sinister wind started to howl as the white figures stood in front of him as shields. As he summoned up those souls, he frantically retreated.

The moment the Broken Soul Blade clashed with the shields, Brian could hear clear cracks. He was shocked to notice that the shields had been absorbed the moment they touched the Broken Soul Blade.

Chapter 3514
After swallowing those souls, the Broken Soul Blade went right through Brian's chest.

Brian's technique was a lower ultimate god rank technique, and he was not even at the second stage.

Jackie's technique was a storm god rank technique. Even though he had not reached the second stage with it, there was still a world of difference between the two techniques.

Brian's technique was not a match for Jackie's at all. They were at completely different levels.

Evil Ghost Slash and Soul Sky were both soul attribute techniques. When Evil Ghost Slash touched Broken Soul Blade, it was immediately swallowed up. Evil Ghost Slash had not been able to fight back at all. The pain of his soul being ripped apart spread throughout his whole body.

Brian let out cries of agony and even started to roll around. His body constantly writhed as his muscles spasmed from the pain. It looked like he had lost control of himself.

In the end, he has not lasted more than three seconds.

When Broken Soul Blade's energy spread throughout his body, he could no longer control himself as he lost control of his true energy and fell to the ground.

The warriors below all had widened eyes and opened mouths except for Rudy and Chad. The others could not accept it at all. Brian was a chosen disciple of a holy grade clan. The title was not just for the show.

To be a chosen disciple of a holy-grade clan, one would need a lot of talent and skill. They needed to go through a lot of hardships to earn the title and stand over anyone. They needed to earn everyone's respect, but Brian was now in an incredibly pathetic state. Even with his full might, he had failed to stand up to a single attack from Jackie.

Jackie was just too strong.

It had shattered any of their expectations. Jackie was so strong that everyone widened their eyes, unable to accept it.

Andor and the others had been incredibly relaxed at first, waiting to watch the show. Yet, their bodies were completely frozen at that moment.

Kayn's lips twitched as his eyes widened, "Chad's teammate is so strong! What kind of skill is that?! He must at least be the top three disciples at a holy grade clan."

Quinton took a deep breath, nodded slowly, and then proceeded to shake his head. His eyes constantly moved as various thoughts flashed in his head. He was excited yet incredibly emotional. He was worried that what he saw was all a dream because it was far too unbelievable.

Quinton had thought that Jackie was strong, but he never expected Jackie to be that strong. Even Brian had not been able to stand up to a single blow.

Kayn blinked in confusion and said, “What do you mean, Quinton? Do you agree with me or not?”

Quinton took a deep breath and his voice trembled, “I agree that he’s strong, but I don’t think he would only be in the top three. Just think about it. Jackie’s attack had been so casual, and even though Brian had used his full force fueled by his anger, Brian was still no match for Jackie.

“He sent out countless souls and shields, but it was useless. They were destroyed by Jackie immediately. How strong could Jackie be?! I’m sure that he’s not just in the top three, he might even have the skills of a top disciple.”

As he said that, Quinton’s voice was trembling. Kayn nodded slowly. It was not like they had not seen strong and talented warriors, but it was the first time they had seen someone at Jackie’s level.

Chapter 3515
Hilariously, he had even doubted Jackie before and thought that there was something wrong with Chad, saying things that did not make sense.

Assuming that Chad did not realize the severity of the situation at all, it seemed like he was the one who was a joke. He had failed to see how exceptional Jackie was.

At that moment, the other disciples behind Jackie could no longer stay calm.

They finally recovered from their shock and started to ramble, “Quickly, pinch me! Am I dreaming right now?! How is this guy so strong? I thought he was just bragging!”

“It’s not just you. Everyone here thought he was bragging. When the duel started, I thought he was done for it, but instead, Brian was the one who fell! Just look at Brian’s sad state. He’s probably the one who believed in that guy’s words the least, and now he lost so badly.”

Everyone there had wondered if there was something wrong with Jackie when they heard his words. They assumed that he must be delusional, or he would not have said something so absurd.

He had even remarked that Brian had too few golden keys.

Everyone thought that it was too arrogant of Jackie to say that. He must have not realized what being a chosen disciple in a holy grade clan meant. Yet, it seemed that they were the ignorant ones.

Jackie's words came from the confidence in his skills!

If they were as strong as him, they would have said the same things.

Jackie then slowly walked over to Brian, who was constantly writhing on the ground.

At that moment, Brian could not even think straight thanks to the pain. His whole body was constantly twitching, and he could not process a single thought.

Jackie's lips twitched as he reached out and grabbed the four keys from Brian's waist.

He raised an eyebrow, "You said you were from a second-grade world and a chosen disciple of a holy grade clan. You have amazing talent and ability, so why do you only have four golden keys? You said you were delayed by some matters, so I guess I was just unlucky to have done all that only for four keys. What a pity."

To prevent any unnecessary trouble, Jackie had kept all the keys he had gotten into Mustard Seed, only leaving four with him. On top of those four keys, he had a total of seventeen.

Earlier, Jackie was just filled with pity. Someone so strong should have had ten keys at least. He sighed as he shook his head helplessly.

When others saw that, their lips twitched, not knowing what to say.

If Brian was aware enough at that moment, he would have spat out blood and fainted at Jackie's words.

Kayn's lips twitched, lamenting, "So that person wasn't trying to anger Brian. He really did think that Brian was useless."

Another warrior behind Kayn said, "He said that he was unlucky enough to only get four keys from Brian?! My god, it's so frustrating. We were happy enough to see a miracle just now, hoping that we could escape Brian and survive this battle, but this guy just thought about the keys Brian had, and even truly felt that Brian had too few keys with him!"

Chapter 3516
The more they talked about it, the more absurd they felt the situation was. They wondered if they were dreaming. Otherwise, how could the situation be so surreal?

The warriors from third-grade worlds finally had a new lease on life, and they suddenly felt a glimmer of hope for their future.

The warriors from second-grade worlds were incredibly worried at that moment. They no longer had any of the pride they had before, and they all looked like they were prepared to retreat.

Jackie suddenly turned around to look at Andor.

That guy had been so arrogant earlier and did not hold back with his words. Looking at how he was treated, that guy was probably strong, second only to Brian. Since that was the case, he needed to be dealt with next.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, not stopping for a moment as he charged forward.

He started to form seals as a hundred Soul Swords formed into one massive Soul Sword!

The scene caused the team from the second-grade world to panic. Jackie had attacked them without any warning.

At that moment, they were still in shock. Jackie’s decisiveness shocked them again, but their experience in battle quickly made them react. The pride they had earlier had been completely discarded. The only thing on their mind was to survive, so they hurriedly scattered.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, forming even more seals.

The Soul Sword split back up into a hundred. Clapping his hands together, forty Soul Swords merged into one, while the remaining sixty Soul Swords merged into three different ones.

Not a single warrior from a second-grade world was innocent in Jackie’s eyes. Their hands were all stained with blood. Looking down on the lives of warriors from third-grade worlds and torturing them to death. There was no way Jackie would let any of them go easily.

The Soul Sword formed from forty swords shots at the strongest one there, Andor. Jackie even applied the laws of space, so the attack would be much faster.

They were not that far in the first place. Jackie had attacked so quickly that the opponents did not have any time to react.

Andor clenched his teeth and started to run away frantically. At that moment, he did not even know where he needed to run, he just wanted to distance himself from Jackie.

When he heard the sound of howling wind, Andor let out an angry scream in his heart!

‘That guy is a monster!’

Why were they so unlucky to meet him?!

Brian might not be at the top of the top among the chosen disciples, but he was not at the bottom either. Compared to Brian, he was not as strong. Brian had lost so badly, so there was no way he could do anything. He could not think about anything else but to run away as far as possible!

He suddenly felt an incredibly fast source of energy going for his back which made Andor start to sweat. He soon realized that the situation was bad, and he had to put his life on the line.

Andor clenched his teeth and started to ignite his blood essence.

The blood essence in a warrior’s body was incredibly limited. Once it was lost, there was no way of getting it back.

At the very least, he would no longer be able to get stronger. In the worst-case scenario, he would die. However, burning his blood essence could still increase his skills temporarily.

Andor had burned his blood essence but did not even think about fighting back. Instead, he sped himself up. Unfortunately, the Soul Sword had the laws of space incorporated. It was horrifyingly quick. Even after the blood essence increased his speed, Andor was still not fast enough.

He suddenly felt a chill on his back, and an intense pain burst out!

He looked back slightly. Before he could even see his injuries, he noticed a fellow disciple of his not far away with a gray sword on his back.

Chapter 3517
There were not many energy fluctuations from the sword, but it contained immense destructive power.

That fellow disciple cried out in agony, and started to fall, collapsing on the ground and then dying.

When Andor saw that, he felt completely hopeless. He saw that the wound on his back was from a similar gray sword as well. The pain was just as unbearable!

“Ah…” Andor let out a cry of agony as he fell to the ground.

Jackie had instantly killed four in one go. It completely stunned everyone there!

Quinton looked around and the anger he had suppressed surged up.

He turned to look at his fellow disciples, “What are you waiting for?! Kill them! Those dogs never thought of letting us off!”

Kayn and the others had been forced to a desperate corner. They had planned on dying with their opponents after being thoroughly humiliated. That feeling was like a fire that completely ignited in their hearts. They could never forget it.

Looking at them flee like dogs, they were naturally happy to give chase! They wanted those animals to feel how it was like to be desperate!

They immediately raised their weapons, planning on killing the few warriors that were still alive.

Jackie frowned and immediately stopped them, “Everyone, come back! Don’t go over!”

Jackie was already a true hero in everyone’s eyes. He was a genius that no one could compare to.

At those words, everyone stopped. All of them turned to look at Jackie.

Quinton looked over, puzzled, “Why shouldn’t we give chase? The ones remaining aren’t strong at all. We can definitely kill them all!”

The hatred had accumulated too much, and Quinton and his men could not bring themselves to let those men off.

Jackie sighed as he slowly walked in front of them.

“Don’t chase the poor. Those people are running right into the fray. If you give chase, you’ll head right into the whirlwind of battle. In the most central location, warriors are dropping like flies. If you go in, you might end up getting caught up in it all.”

Quintons’ expression stiffened. He was incredibly reluctant, but he had nothing to say.

Jackie’s words were reasonable. Those men were smart.

For the sake of getting away from Jackie, they had thrown themselves into the center of the battle. The main battlefield was a complete mess filled with corpses everywhere. They would get caught if they were not careful.

The warriors there did not care who they were killing. Rushing in was definitely not wise. However, Quinton was still unhappy. Those despicable men had forced them into such desperation.

Brian had even said that he would not let Quinton and his men die easily. Brian would make them pay a final price, extracting the Heartblood from all of them. It was as if the warriors from third-grade worlds were just livestock.

It was only when they were forced into a corner did they think of dragging their opponents down. Even if they lost their lives, they would bring down whoever they could.

Those arrogant warriors from second-grade worlds would be dragged down to hell with them. Quinton was incredibly unhappy to see them get away.

Chapter 3518
Even without Quinton saying anything, Jackie could feel the hatred in Quinton's heart.

At that moment, Chad had walked over to Jackie's side. Even though Chad was not that intelligent, he could still feel Quinton's rage and reluctance.

If Jackie had not appeared, Quinton would have been dead.

However, Quinton needed to keep his calm at that moment. The battlefield was no playground. If they rushed in blindly, they could very well die. Even if they were filled with hate, they needed to survive for revenge.

Chad said, "Quinton, calm yourself down, those men won't be able to survive! Isn't Brian still alive? Andor's not dead either. The both of them just can't control themselves at the moment. You can do whatever you want with them, just don't rush in. It's too dangerous over there."

They were at the edge of the battle, far away from the center. However, it was still not that far, and as they spoke, they constantly heard explosions coming from within.

Various energies were clashing in the air, and techniques of various attributes constantly fought against one another.

Death was everywhere. Just turning over, they could see someone exploding into pieces, and another person having his head cut off.

Quinton sighed, knowing that he had been too impulsive earlier. His hatred had clouded his eyes, and he had lost his judgment. Thankfully, he was already composed.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, “Hurry up and tend to your injuries. You can do whatever you want with those two. This is a battle between worlds. After you’re done here, you’re needed on the main battlefield!”

Quinton nodded.

Rudy looked at the intense battlefield with a serious expression.

He turned to look at Jackie, and his voice trembled, “This is horrible! When will the battle end? How will we know when It ends?”

The participants numbered in the hundreds, and the death toll was already at three digits. There were corpses everywhere, and both sides were already filled with killing intent. Rudy felt like the battle would never end if this continued.

There were still warriors from various worlds who were constantly joining in, so the scope of the battle constantly expanded. If that continued, Rudy could not imagine how many more would die.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, “There are only two things that will end this battle.”

Rudy’s ears perked up as he looked at Jackie earnestly.

The others looked over and waited for Jackie to explain as well.

Jackie sighed as he said seriously, “The first situation will be if the balance of the battle is lost! There are more and more warriors from third-grade worlds, and the second-grade worlds had suffered too many losses for there to not be any other possibilities.”

“Then the warriors from second-grade worlds will realize that they need to leave the battle! Then, the battle will end. Of course, there’s the opposite as well. The third-grade world’s warriors start to diminish to a number far lower than the warriors from the second-grade world. Then, the ones who will suffer will be us.”

“The second situation will be for truly strong warriors to appear. Those warriors will be enough to tip the scale!”

As he said that, Jackie paused for a moment, thinking for a bit before continuing, “This battle might be fought among hundreds of warriors, but truly strong warriors won’t need too long to turn the tide…”

“Among the hundred here, the truly strong warriors should only number less than twenty. Those warriors are the true main characters of the battle. The fact that the battle is being dragged on means that they are fighting on equal ground at the moment.”

Chapter 3519
Rudy frowned, feeling like he only understood half of it.

Rudy agreed with the two possibilities of how the battle would end, but he could not understand how the battle was in the hands of so few people. He felt like it was just a completely chaotic battle.

Everyone was already filled with rage. No one cared who was weaker or stronger, they just wanted to see blood being spilled.

About five hundred meters away from Jackie, and the heart of the battle, there were over ten warriors gathered there. Strangely enough, all of them were not attacking at all.

Just slightly outside of that center, everyone was fighting without regard for their lives, but the ones there were not fighting at all.

Chulanne clutched his chest as blood flowed out. He had been careless earlier and had been struck by Thamus. Luckily, it was just a slight injury that would not affect the overall battle. However, the situation was not looking good.

The warriors from third-grade worlds were slowly losing their ground. If their top disciple did not arrive soon, then they would probably end up losing soon enough and more people would die.

Harold anxiously helped Chulanne up as he said, “Are you alright?”

Chulanne shook his head slightly as he glared at their opponents.

The center of the battle was naturally split into two sides. The warriors from third-grade worlds were in the east while the warriors from second-grade worlds stood in the west. The two sides faced each other, and both sides had a murderous aura about them. Neither side was willing to give an inch.

The battle was not just for them, but for the worlds that they belonged to. Hundreds of lives had been lost, so it could not end easily. Both sides seemed incredibly imperious. Chulanne was the leader of the warriors from third-grade worlds, he felt like his burden was incredibly heavy.

If the warriors from third-grade worlds lost, then he would just die as a punishment. Even though the situations seemed even, the warriors from third-grade worlds were slowly losing ground.

Harold frowned, “How long more does he need to get here?”

Chulanne sighed as he looked into the distance. He had used the sound transfer array earlier, and the eldest disciple had said that he was hurrying over. Yet, there was no indication of his location or how long he would need.

They were forced to clench their teeth and hang on.

Thamus was the leader of the warriors from second-grade worlds this time. He was the strongest person there. He was a top-five chosen disciple, and he was from one of the top second-grade worlds.

His status as a chosen disciple meant a lot more than a chosen disciple from Golden Continent. He was no regular warrior from a second-grade world, and he was very confident in himself and this battle.

Even though they had lost quite a lot on their side, it was still at an acceptable level. There were a lot who had died this time. After the battle ended, he could look for those warriors who were still barely alive to collect their Heartblood. It would be worth it.

Cadian came from the same world as Thamus. The two of them were from the same clan. Cadian was only slightly weaker than Thamus and was ranked slightly lower. However, faced with these warriors, he was still one of the strongest ones there.

Chapter 3520
Cadian scoffed and said, “Thamus, what do you think those pieces of trash from third-grade worlds are thinking right now?”

Thamus smiled, his face full of disdain as he said coldly, “Do I even need to guess? They have their thoughts written on their faces. Aren’t they just waiting for reinforcements? It looks like the guy they are waiting for is quite strong. There might even be more than one…”

“But there’s something wrong with their brains. They can ask for help, so can’t we do that too? Even though I can’t mobilize the strongest ones, our top disciple is coming over. As long as he’s here, it’ll be much easier to deal with these pieces of trash.”

Cadian nodded.

He had an excited look on his face, “These simpletons really think that they’ll have a right to do anything after this battle, that we’ll be afraid of them. What a joke. Compared to those that died, the Radiant Hall is far more important.”

“We’ve expended so many resources to open the Radiant Hall. How could we give it up so easily? They’ll always just be livestock to us, for us to do whatever we want with.”

Thamus smiled, very pleased with himself, “He should be here in just a few minutes. We’ll let them be happy for a bit. They won’t be able to laugh anymore soon.”

The moment that was said, the explosions around them weakened a bit. The sounds of shouting got louder. A few of them turned to look and saw that a small group of people had gathered together in the chaos.

A one-eyed warrior shouted at the group of warriors from third-grade worlds, “It’s you! Stop putting on an act! Don’t think I don’t know it’s you!”

Jackie sighed helplessly. He already had a mask on, not wanting to be recognized. However, he was still recognized.

For the sake of ending the battle quickly and so the warriors from third-grade worlds could win, Jackie led Quinton and the others toward the center of the battle. He was quite well-known among the warriors from the second-grade worlds.

Golden Continent and Sacred Water Continent practically all had Jackie’s image in their hearts. To prevent himself from being attacked en masse, Jackie had put on a mask before entering, but he was still recognized.

The one-eyed man said, “My fellow disciple was just careless enough to die to you. I thought you’d be more careful after your image was transmitted, and you wouldn’t dare come here. I can’t believe you’re so bold. I really benefited this time!”

When that was said, the one-eyed man stared right at the circles around Jackie’s body with his one working eye. To not expose his secrets, Jackie had not put the four keys into Mustard Seed in front of everyone.

At that moment, there were eight golden rings around Jackie. It was incredibly eye-catching.

He then raised an eyebrow, smiling coldly, “Which one is your fellow disciple? I’ve killed so many warriors from second-grade worlds. How am I supposed to know which one he is?”

Jackie’s tone was calm and casual. The one-eyed man was furious when he heard that.

He clenched his teeth and shouted, “Brat! How dare you act so arrogantly! Don’t think you can do what you want in front of us just because you’re a little skilled! I’ll make sure to kill you today!”

In truth, the one-eyed man did not care about taking revenge for his fellow disciple. He only cared about the rings around Jackie, the eight golden keys. To everyone there, each key was incredibly valuable.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3521-3532 -

Chapter 3521
Eight golden keys would yield quite a valuable treasure, so a lot of them were quite tempted by the sight.

When the one-eyed man said that, the other warriors around him laughed.

One of them straight up said, “Stop trying to act like you’re such a nice person. You’re just after this guy’s eight golden guys. You just didn’t want to look bad. Do you think you’re worthy of getting those keys? So many people are targeting them! This guy’s keys won’t be yours!”

The battle was continuing, and Jackie’s appearance was just a distraction that caused the fights to temporarily stop. However, many of them knew very well that it was just temporary. After the one-eyed man was mocked, he stared at the person angrily, unwilling to admit it.

He wanted to argue, but he was interrupted by someone else, “Stop with that nonsense! Anyone capable will get those keys. If you have the skills, then go fight over it yourself!”

Jackie was quite exasperated. He was still standing right there, but everyone was talking about how they would distribute the keys he had. Jackie felt quite amused.

Quinton and the others raised their eyebrows. None of them said another word.

Those people really needed to look at themselves in the mirror if they wanted to take what belonged to Jackie.

The warriors from third-grade worlds had temporarily reached a consensus to work together, so naturally, none of them would try to take Jackie’s keys. The earlier discussions were all from warriors from second-grade worlds.

Chad scoffed, “They really are ignorant. How dare they try to even touch Jackie? They really want to die!”

Chad’s words were only heard by a few people next to him, so they did not gain that much attention.

The warriors from second-grade worlds were still trying to fight over Jackie’s keys. At that moment, they heard a boom from afar. Everyone looked over to see a golden glow speeding over.

Chulanne said emotionally, “Robert! He’s finally here!”

When the warriors from third-grade worlds heard that it was Robert, they were incredibly emotional.

Jackie knew very little of the third-grade worlds. After all, he had always acted alone. Even if he had worked together with the third-grade worlds before, he had never asked about the strongest warriors from third-grade worlds.

“This is great! Robert is finally here. Everything will be fine now. Those dogs are going to die! They pushed us back for so long, it’s time for us to fightback! They won’t be able to get out unscathed this time!”

“That’s right! I was still wondering if one of the strongest will come to save us. Even if Robert isn’t the best among them, he’s still more than enough for this battle!”

Robert was like a pillar of strength to the warriors from third-grade worlds that were gathered there. He slowly descended, and everyone started to calm down.

Jackie raised an eyebrow, looking at Robert curiously.

Listening to everyone’s discussions, it seemed like Robert was among the strongest warriors from third-grade worlds. It was just that this was the first time Jackie heard of his name. He had never heard anyone mention the name before, but from the expressions, it was as if Robert was someone everyone should know.

Chad gulped as he said in a low voice, “I can’t believe it! I thought they didn’t care about us at all!”

“When we were being pushed down, those people acted like they did not see anything. They never helped us fight back. I thought that, even if all the warriors from third-grade worlds were slaughtered, they would just look on from the top, acting like they did not know anything and see anything.”

Chapter 3522
Quinton turned to stare at Chad, “What kind of nonsense are you talking about? The situation further in is even more complicated. I heard that the fighting there is already at a stage where there’s no winning. No one is willing to give in, and more people are dying.”

Chad raised an eyebrow, clearly not agreeing with what Quinton said.

If it was before, Chad would have not dwelled on the problem. Yet, ever since he got to know Jackie, he felt like a lot of things had been cleared up.

Was Jackie weak?

Even compared to those self-proclaimed heroes, he was no slouch.

Yet, Jackie never looked down on him. Jackie would not ignore any cries for help and let the warriors from third-grade worlds be oppressed.

Comparing the two sides, Chad could no longer hold it in.

“The situation there is even more complicated, but it’s not like they can’t help us at all. They clearly just aren’t willing to. The moment they have to give anything up, they just don’t care about us.”

“Even though we can’t say that what they’re doing is wrong, they keep on putting themselves on such a high pedestal. They just give us all sorts of orders, and they punish anyone who doesn’t follow what they want! They abuse their power but are never responsible when they need to be. Who do they think they are?”

As he said that, Chad never lowered his voice, and the people around them could hear everything clearly.

Quite a few of them looked around, but no one voiced out to agree or deny it. Everyone knew the situation, but no one wanted to talk about it. If they were heard saying anything, the consequences would be bad.

Chad did not care at that moment, he felt like they could do whatever they wanted to. He just needed to voice out his thoughts.

Quinton anxiously pulled Chad’s arm, “Shut up! What are you talking about?! Do you think you’re qualified to talk about this?! The strong have their own things to do. You’re not them. You wouldn’t know.”

Quinton was trying to stop Chad.

Chad raised an eyebrow, deciding not to continue for Quinton’s sake, but he was still unhappy.

Rudy looked at Robert and raised an eyebrow, whispering to Chad, “What’s this about the inside and outside? Are the stronger warriors all inside?”

Chad nodded, “The inner region is the main battlefield for fighting over rings. I heard some of them even have fifty rings on them. Compared to the inner region, the outer region isn’t worth anything. They wouldn’t easily come to the outer region, and would only fight over the keys in the inner region.”

“Even if the outer region is suffering heavy losses, and even if we’re currently going through a large-scale fight here, to the strong, it’s just as simple as a few people dying. It’s nothing worth thinking about…”

As he said that, Chad paused.

There was a serious expression on his face before he added, “I’m actually very surprised that Robert is here. With how he is, he would never have come here so easily. Something must have happened inside, or he must think that this battle will affect his own profits…”

Rudy nodded.

Chad’s words were very reasonable. Those so-called strong warriors never bothered with anything unless it concerned themselves. Otherwise, they would not care about the deaths of other warriors from third-grade worlds.

Chad narrowed his eyes slightly as he continued, “Even more despicable is the fact that they just casually issue orders whenever they think we’d be useful. It’s as if we’re just their slaves.”

Chapter 3523
“When our lives are at stake, they’d just casually ignore it. They would not interfere unless it affected them. To them, the number of deaths is not significant enough for them to bother with.” Chad said that with rage in his eyes.

When it came to those who called themselves strong, he had a lot of negative opinions about them. Every time those stronger warriors needed them, they would appear and act like they were superior.

When the regular warriors needed the stronger warriors, they would act like superiors and not care about the death of regular warriors at all. The two of them whispered to each other for a long time, and Quinton stood there, frowning.

He reached out and grabbed Chad’s arm, whispering, “Can you please be quieter? Stop saying whatever comes to your mind. Don’t forget, there are eyes and ears everywhere. If what you said gets out, those people will end up targeting you. Do you think you’ll be able to escape the consequences?”

Chad sneered, not caring at all, “Let them if they want. Do you think I’m scared of them? When we need them, they’re never around. When we don’t need them, they appear in front of us to show off. It’s disgusting.”

Quinton frowned as he clutched Chad’s arm tightly, “Stop with your nonsense! Keep these words to yourself in the future! Don’t say it out loud!”

As they were arguing, the battlefield had become incredibly tense.

When Robert landed, Chulanne and the others rushed over to Robert. All of them looked at Robert like he was the light at the end of the tunnel.

Chulanne was finally able to relax.

He exclaimed, his eyes appearing reddened, “Robert, you’re finally here! If it were any later, I don’t even know if I’d be able to see you again. Those despicable guys are trying to push us down, torturing us to no end. They are so cruel! They don’t treat us as human beings at all!”

Chulanne became increasingly emotional as he spoke. His voice was turning hoarse. He had three fellow disciples who had just left the squad for two hours, but when they saw them again, they were already corpses, mutilated beyond belief.

Even though they were dead, their eyes were still wide open. The fear in their eyes was evident. It was not the first time warriors from second-grade worlds did something like that. On their way, they saw countless corpses in similar horrible states.

Those warriors from second-grade worlds treated them like livestock to be killed at any moment. All of the anger that had been accumulating exploded, starting this massive battle.

Robert raised an eyebrow as he coldly looked at Chulanne, ”Don’t they do this often? Do you not know about it? Since you know, then you shouldn’t be splitting up. Warriors from third-grade worlds should just gather together, then they would not have any chance to do anything.”

“What’s the point of fighting this battle? What can you prove? I always thought that you were meticulous when you did things, and I thought you would never do anything impulsive. It looks like I was wrong, you’re also one of those people who let your emotions get to your head.”

Chulanne was stunned at those words. His eyes widened, and his lips trembled. He wanted to explain, but he was stopped by Harold.

Chapter 3524
Harold pursed his lips, hurriedly saying in a respectful tone, “You’re right, Robert, but we didn’t have a choice. Too many of our fellow disciples have been tortured to death, and they even formed groups to rob us. We’ve already been forced into a corner. If we don’t fight back, we’d have to just let them do whatever they want to us.”

Robert narrowed his eyes as he looked at Harold.

He had a hint of disdain in his voice, “What do you mean you were forced into a corner? There were clearly other things that could have been done, but you chose this. You just insist on causing us more trouble.”

After he said that, Robert turned to look at the warriors from second-grade worlds, ignoring the rest of them.

Chulanne's hands were trembling from all the emotion whirling in him. His initial excitement had turned into shock and frustration.

He felt like he was about to be filled with so much frustration that he would explode.

What did Robert mean by those words?

Was Robert blaming him for starting this fight and dragging Robert into it?

Chulanne's fists clenched tightly, and all the muscles on his body were incredibly tense as well. The wound on his chest even widened because of his heavy breathing, bleeding again.

His face was even beginning to pale from the anger. Harold held Chulanne's wrist tightly, not wanting Chulanne to act rashly.

Chulanne turned around, and his eyes were full of rage. Harold naturally knew why that was the case. However, they could only remain silent then.

All Harold could do was shoot Chulanne a look to hold himself back. They needed to rely on Robert at that moment!

Jackie was not too far away from them. He could clearly see Chulanne's every action. Even if he could not hear what they were saying, he could still read the situation from Chulanne's expression.

He raised an eyebrow. Those so-called heroes really were not great people.

It was just like Chad said, when those people were not needed, they loved to show off their power. The moment they were needed, they were the first to run away, coming up with various excuses for their actions. They were never at fault, it was always someone else.

Even if so many warriors from third-grade worlds had died, it was just a simple number in their eyes.

Thamus narrowed his eyes, "I was wondering who it was, so it's you. It looks like things aren't going that well inside."

Thamus' words had another meaning behind them. Others did not understand, but Robert did.

Robert smirked viciously, "I thought you would be completely terrified when you saw me, I can't believe you can put on such a good act. Aren't you afraid that I'm here?"

Thamus' face froze as he angrily shouted, "What nonsense?! Who's the scared one? You should be the one pissing in your pants! Don't think you'll be able to turn the tables alone! Who do you think we are? Don't you see how many warriors from second-grade worlds are gathered here?!"

Robert scoffed, "Don't think I don't know what you're trying to do. Don't worry, I won't let you pull off your petty tricks!"

He started to form seals immediately after which produced sounds of explosions within his hand. Balls of fire formed around his hands, and the surrounding air seemed to dim.

Everyone was illuminated by the orange glow.

Jackie looked up slightly at the immense pressure, pursing his lips with some surprise.

Chad said in surprise, "So it's the middle ultimate god rank technique, Crimson Meteor."

Chapter 3525
Thamus frowned as a reluctant look flashed in his eyes. He could not help but look to the back, wondering where his eldest disciple was.

Robert could see what their plans were and knew they were waiting for reinforcements.

He would obviously not give them the chance as he wanted to deal with all of them before the reinforcements could arrive.

Thamus once again looked back at the orange-red glow. Robert's technique was known to warriors from both the third and second-grade worlds.

He used a lower ultimate god rank technique, so he was no match for Robert. None of the second-grade world warriors there was a match for Robert at all.

Thamus clenched his teeth and said to Cadian, "We have to work together later! Stall time as long as possible! Otherwise, we'll all die here!"

No matter how intense the earlier battles were, they had been on an even playing field. Robert's appearance had shattered that balance. The technique he used was a middle ultimate god rank technique. It was enough to fight even two of Thamus.

On top of that, there were the other warriors from third-grade worlds as well. Robert would just need to deal with the stronger ones, and the others would have no ability to fight back. Only death would await them.

Cadian's hands trembled as he said with worry, "Thamus, how long do we need to stall for?"

Thamus's lips twitched, clenching his teeth as he said, "For as long as possible!"

Both of them started to form seals as they pushed out all the true energy in their bodies, planning on fighting Robert to death.

At that moment, an icy blue ray descended from the skies.

Suddenly, the temperature dropped. Thamus widened his eyes as he turned to look behind him.

A man in blue robes rushed over from afar. The man seemed to have a vicious look, and his whole body was covered in icy blue energy. The person was incredibly quick, arriving in front of everyone in a flash.

Thamus said excitedly, "Horace, you're finally here! If you were any later, these pieces of trash would have tried to pull something!"

Horace smirked as he said coldly, "Don't worry, the pieces oftrash from third-grade worlds will never amount to anything in front of us. They'll always be our prey!"

Looking at who it was, Robert's expression stiffened.

That nonchalant attitude of his had completely evaporated as he said, "It's actually this guy!"

Horace was someone who was among the stronger warriors from second-grade worlds. He was ranked in the top three of his holy grade clan!

His skills were incredibly powerful. All the warriors present had heard of Horace before.

Quinton stiffened, "We're done for! I can't believe it's him…"

Jackie raised an eyebrow as he looked at Quinton curiously. After that, he looked at the warriors from third-grade worlds around them. None of them looked happy about the situation.

When they saw who had arrived, their excitement completely disappeared. All of them had stiff expressions. It seemed like Horace was not weak. He was definitely stronger than the arrogant Robert.

Chapter 3526
Even Robert's expression stiffened.

With his hands, Horace formed ice-blue seals that danced and fused in the air. He pushed his hands forward, and an icy-blue light appeared behind him.

A massive snowflake that was about three or four people tall appeared. It had countless seals etched on it, and the snowflake slowly spun behind Horace, who had a sinister smirk on his face.

When everyone saw the scene, they froze.

Someone said in a low voice, “A world avatar! Horace managed to form a world avatar! We’re doomed! We’re done for now!”

Rudy merely stood by the side, puzzled as he heard everyone talking about world avatars, the power of avatars, and ice avatars.

He never heard about world avatars before, but listening to how everyone was speaking, it seemed like it was a big deal.

To not make himself seem like a complete fool, he immediately looked at Jackie with curiosity.

Jackie let out a smile as he patted Rudy on the shoulder and explained in a whisper, “World avatars are basically manifestations of special powers after absorbing the laws of heaven and earth into your body. Forming a world avatar will strengthen your body and increase the explosiveness of your techniques.”

Rudy was still puzzled as he listened on, but he more or less understood the gist of it. It was like giving a boost to one’s skills.

If that person was using a lower ultimate god rank technique and mastered it to the first stage, the technique would be as strong as if he had mastered it to the second stage with the help of a world avatar.

Rudy frowned and asked, “It looks like a world avatar should be quite hard to learn. Even after meeting so many people, it’s the first time I’ve ever seen anyone using one.”

Jackie nodded, continuing to explain, “Forming a world avatar is the equivalent of being enlightened in the laws of the world. This Horace is using an ice avatar, which means he was enlightened in the laws of ice, condensing it within him to form the avatar…”

“Comprehending the laws of ice requires a high level of understanding. You need to be in the right place at the right time as well. Regular folk will never get to achieve this. Even some warriors at the divine solidifying realm won’t be able to successfully form one if they’re not talented enough.”

Rudy blinked. In truth, even if Jackie did not explain the last few sentences, he would understand regardless of how difficult it was.

Even with so many geniuses within the Whirling World, they had only seen one person who ever mastered it in so long. It was obvious how difficult it was.

That explained why everyone was so shocked. Even Robert's expression darkened at that moment. With a world avatar, the battle suddenly became much harder for him.

Robert also had some difficulties he could not voice out. He could not reveal all his emotions on his face, or it would greatly damage his dignity.

No matter how strong his opponent was, he was a leader among the third-grade worlds. If he revealed his fears, it would greatly damage his reputation. If the matter ever spread to others, he would not be able to accept the embarrassment.

The beautiful seals constantly fused around that massive snowflake. It let out a vibrant and light blue glow, completely surrounding Horace with the light.

Horace's smirk grew malicious. Even if Robert was able to keep his composure, he could still see the fear that he so desperately tried to hide. He loved seeing those expressions on the faces of his enemies.

It stroked his ego to great lengths every time he saw it.

Chapter 3527
Horace never thought of third-grade-world warriors as people at all. In fact, he saw them as mere lambs for slaughter, so these 'lambs' trying to fight back against him was a tremendous insult to him.

He would use the cruelest methods to punish the lambs who tried to retaliate, he wanted them to regret even thinking about it. He loved seeing fear, panic, and pain on the faces of his enemies.

Horace got more excited.

"Hahaha! Are you afraid now? You should keep your cool, because even more horrifying things will come. You haven't seen anything yet!"

To the third-grade-world warriors, Horace was like a wild beast that crawled out of hell, and they felt chills just looking at him.

Meanwhile, warriors from second-grade worlds were all smiles, evidently elated.

With Horace around, everything was in their grasp with no possible overturn of events. They would be triumphant and trample on the warriors from third-grade worlds, who would surely submit their golden keys to them.

A warrior from a second-grade world loudly gushed, “Horace is amazing! Those third-grade-world warriors are already too scared to even say anything! They look like they’re about to piss in their pants!”

“Exactly! They were so arrogant before this, but now, they look like they’re about to cry. It’s just the start! You’ll quickly know how it feels to be in hell! You’ll never be able to fight back!”

Thamus let out a deep breath as he looked at the world avatar behind Horace with admiration and security. He wondered when he would ever be able to form one.

Rudy was in no mood to bother thinking about how the people around him were feeling. His thoughts were fully on the world avatar. To him, no one was as talented or as capable as Jackie.

A world avatar might be something incredible to most of them, but it should not be that hard for Jackie to master. However, Rudy was sure that Jackie did not have one.

His eyes widened as he asked, “Jackie, why don’t you have a world avatar? Could it take a lot of time to master?”

Rudy had tremendous confidence in Jackie and felt like he did not have a world avatar purely because he did not have the time. It was not a matter of talent at all.

Jackie raised an eyebrow and said with a smile, “A world avatar doesn’t just need time and talent to learn. You need to be in the right place at the right time as well. You need to find somewhere dense with the laws of your attribute.”

Rudy looked at Jackie, still not understanding what he meant.

Jackie continued to explain, “To comprehend the laws of the world and condense a world avatar, you have to be ridiculously talented. Even the laws of the world can be split into attributes. For instance, the martial techniques I’m learning are of the soul attribute. If I want to learn the laws of the world, I’d need to head to somewhere incredibly dense in soul attributes.”

Rudy grew even more confused as he listened, but Jackie did not get frustrated as he merely worded things better for his companion.

The laws of the world encompassed a lot of things.

Comprehending the laws of the world did not mean understanding everything, but only a small part of it.

Chapter 3528
Everyone had attributes they were good at, so when choosing the laws to comprehend, they would usually choose the ones they specialized in.

Jackie used Horace as an example.

Horace was well-versed in ice techniques, so it was only expected that he chose to comprehend the laws of ice and naturally formed an ice avatar.

Only then did Rudy understand the gist of it all.

Understanding the laws of the world merely meant understanding a certain attribute. That was because the laws of the world encompassed everything. No one could ever understand everything, so they were forced to choose one, which was what they were best at. That way, they could be enlightened to a certain degree and form a world avatar.

Jackie patted Rudy on the shoulder and continued, “World avatars are separated into nine stages. Horace probably only managed to learn the first stage.”

Rudy blinked, asking curiously, “If you form a world avatar and reach the first stage as well, whose avatar would be stronger?”

Jackie smirked slightly and said with absolute confidence, “Me, of course. The powers of various avatars are different. Not only do laws naturally interact with each other to affect their power, but the purity of various avatars is different as well, and it affects the power.”

“This guy might have a world avatar, but it’s not that pure. Even if he steps into the second stage, he won’t be able to beat the first stage of my avatar.”

The moment Jackie said that, Rudy relaxed.

Jackie had not formed a world avatar purely because he had not found a place with the laws of the soul. Only if he found a place like that would he be able to absorb the laws of the soul that formed in the world, successfully condensing a world avatar.

To Jackie, there was no such thing as lack of comprehension. After all, he had the memories of the ancient seniors.

He never had a problem when it came to comprehending anything. Those ancient heroes had reached the ninth stage of the world avatars when they were alive.

With all that experience in front of him, he just needed to slowly advance, and he would be able to form a world avatar.

Jackie sighed helplessly. “It’s just a pity that I haven’t found anywhere like that. Compared to the five basic attributes, the laws of the soul are hellish to understand. It’s incredibly rare for any natural place to have them too.”

As he said that, he lamented, “I wonder if I can find anywhere like that in the Whirling World.”

The Whirling World was incredibly vast. It was a completely isolated space and was different from regular worlds. Jackie did not know if there was anywhere with natural laws of the soul.

Jackie forgot to whisper the last few words amid his lamenting, and Quinton and the others had heard it all.

Quinton turned and said excitedly, “There is! Of course there is! There even is one in Cloud City!”

When Jackie heard that, his eyes widened, turning around to look at Quinton.

Quinton, seeing Jackie’s anxious expression, cut to the chase and answered, “There’s somewhere called Cloud Valley in Cloud City. It’s filled with various laws. Quite a few warriors enter and end up staying there for one or two months to use those laws to form world avatars. There’s somewhere rich with laws of the soul as well! It’s at the western side.”

Chapter 3529
After Quinton explained things, Chad added, “Horace never mentioned successfully forming a world avatar before. He suddenly brought it out, so I think he must’ve just formed it not too long ago. I feel like he must’ve formed it in Cloud Valley.”

Jackie took a deep breath. It had been something he had been worried about for a long time.

He had been worried that he would not be able to find anywhere with the laws of the soul, but there was one such place in Cloud City after all! It seemed like his next stop would be that place.

He needed to form a world avatar before concerning himself with anything else. With the help of a world avatar, his skills would be much better. Then, he would be even more confident when the Radiant Hall opened.

As they talked, the battle was starting to take place. The two reinforcements were incredibly strong, but Robert was severely doubtful of himself. After seeing Horace’s world avatar, he felt like Horace would not let him off if he lost to him.

If he died, they would start to slaughter all the warriors from third-grade worlds, which would spell the end of the third-grade world warriors. He could even imagine how terrible the situation would be.

Chulanne clenched his fists, lacking confidence as well, but alas they did not have any other way out of the situation. He had hoped that Robert would be able to defeat Horace. After all, without them actually fighting, Chulanne did not want to judge who was stronger so quickly.

Horace looked at Robert coldly. “I’ve never liked you. You even dared to steal our keys before this! Looks like you’ve got some guts! I’ll use this chance to properly deal with you before I deal with the rest of them. All of you will die by my hands! You won’t even have a chance to struggle!”

As he said that, he started to form seals again.

A crescent moon suddenly appeared above Horace, and the moon emitted an ice-cold glow.

Horace scoffed. “The technique I’m using is the middle ultimate god rank technique, Frost Moon Slash! With the ice avatar, I’ll be able to use this technique to the strongest! Unless you’re using an upper ultimate god rank technique, you stand no chance of surviving.”

The moment that was said, Robert gulped.

His technique was a middle ultimate god rank technique as well, but he did not have a world avatar, so he could only use the technique to the second stage.

Horace was probably at the same level, but with the world avatar’s help, his position was elevated to a whole new stage.

Robert’s lips twitched, realizing how much of a dangerous situation he was in.

The warriors from second-grade worlds were akin to hungry wolves. In their eyes, he was just fresh meat that they could, at any moment, rush in and go for the kill. Any moment of carelessness might cost him his life.

Various thoughts surfaced in Robert’s head, and he felt a chill over his body.

He turned to look at Chulanne and the other third-grade world warriors behind Chulanne. All of them were looking at him with hope, as if he was their guiding light.

Yet, he found it hard to accept those looks at that moment.

His lips twitched as he made a decision. His true energy circulated in his legs before he stamped forward, shooting himself into the air.

As his companions hopefully watched on, he immediately turned around and ran, not even sparing another glance to the warriors from third-grade worlds beneath him.

Chapter 3530
Everyone watched on as Robert flew away, unable to react or utter a word as some jaws slackened in surprise as well.

Chulanne's eyes looked like they were about to pop out of their sockets. Looking at the retreating figure, he finally reacted.

Robert was a complete coward. When the situation grew dire, he tossed all of them aside and left!

He did not even bother saying anything and merely shot them a glance!

Slowly, the rest of them started to react as well. The warriors from second-grade worlds burst into laughter as they jeered, "This guy actually ran! He ran just like a dog!"

"What could he do if he didn't? Was he really planning on facing Horace head-on? As if! He's just a pest from a third-grade world. Even if he has some skills, he's just slightly better than the rest of his pesky companions. He's no match for Horace at all!"

"He'd just be waiting for death! He doesn't want to die with the rest of them, so he decides to flee. Honestly, he made the smartest choice."

Chad's lips froze. He was absolutely furious. "That dog left us and fled on his own! He dared to do that! He was all smug as if we were the ones dragging him down. The moment he saw that he'd lose, he turned and ran! This is absolutely absurd!"

Chad's hands were trembling in anger as he breathed heavily.

It was just too much. The warriors from second-grade worlds were despicable, but Robert was even more so compared to them. He was absolutely disgusting.

Chad, meanwhile, felt like he was going to gag. Jackie, too, was at a loss for words. Everything just seemed too surreal.

He thought that Robert would immediately attack, but Robert actually turned around and ran, not even bothering about his reputation!

It was such a despicable, shameless act that all the warriors from third-grade worlds were plagued with sorrow. No matter how loudly the warriors from second-grade worlds were laughing, there was nothing they could do.

Horace was speechless. He could have chased after Robert, but he remembered his task.

Robert came second. Dealing with those who were fighting back was the most important thing to be dealt with. If he chased after the other party, things might end up ruined, so he controlled himself.

Horace's lips twitched. "He really is an embarrassing fool, through and through. I even thought he was skilled. I can't believe this…"

Chulanne was so furious that he was about to faint.

He clenched his fists tightly as he said through gritted teeth, "That dog! He dared to say that we gave him trouble! He acted like he was our savior, but he left us behind and fled at the sight of danger! How despicable!"

Even the mild-mannered Harold cursed, "Vermin! Just you wait! If I survive this, I'll make sure you pay!"

Everyone hated Robert to the limits at that moment. In truth, they already knew what awaited them, but they were just too furious at how Robert had abandoned them so easily.

Horace did not even see the warriors from third-grade worlds as humans. To him, even those who stood at the top of the third-grade worlds amounted to almost nothing.

Chapter 3531
Rudy, on the other hand, was not as angry as everyone else from third-grade worlds. He was merely disgusted at Robert's behavior and abhorred those like that.

He remembered how everyone looked at Robert with so much hope. Anyone who had just a bit of kindness in their hearts would never have done what Robert did.

Rudy's lips twitched as he said, "This guy's heart must've been fed to the dogs, or perhaps he was just a dog all along. How could he do something like that?"

The warriors from third-grade worlds merely felt despair and hopelessness.

They could see how ruined their future was. These second-grade-world warriors would never let them off the hook, and they did not want to be killed off just like that.

They could scatter and flee, but it would be too tragic and dishonorable.

Chulanne took a deep breath before he suddenly shouted, "I don't know about you, but you can run now if you wish. It's fine to run, and it's fine to stay as well!"

“I’ll stay and fight these despicable men until I draw my last breath. Even if I die, I won’t go down without taking a few of them with me!”

Chulanne’s loud proclamation reached the ears of every warrior, and his words even sparked a fiery hope within them.

“That’s right! Even if I die, I must drag them down with me! It’s just death no matter what I do! They’ll get to us anyway, so I might as well die with honor!”

Even though a few of them wanted to leave after losing all hope, most of them had reached their breaking point and would rather die than live on the run, being worried about being killed at any moment.

Horace started to laugh out loud as he looked at Chulanne in disdain. “You’re still thinking about taking us down? Do you think an ant like you can even do that? I won’t deal with the rest of them for now-let me kill you first!”

“Come at me then!” roared Chulanne. “Don’t think that I’m afraid of you!”

Horace started to form seals with his hands, and the crescent moon in the air got brighter.

The ice avatar behind Horace was putting a large amount of energy into the crescent moon. The Frost Moon Slash grew fuller with energy until it looked like it was going to explode.

Chulanne narrowed his eyes slightly. He had dismissed the thought of death. He knew that he would not be able to survive if he fought Horace, but he no longer cared about that.

He started to form seals with his hands, wanting to burn his blood essence when all of a sudden, a figure suddenly rushed out from the crowd.

That person was forming seals with his hands, and a broken blade appeared in front of him, containing dense amounts of soul energy.

That person was Jackie!

Before everyone could react, he jumped out from the crowd and rushed right at Horace.

Horace frowned in surprise at the sudden appearance. “Another suicidal brat!”

It was not that difficult for Horace to kill one or two of them at all. He sneered as he shot the crescent moon right at Jackie!

Jackie’s expression was calm as if the attack was beneath his nofice.

Everyone’s eyes widened at the sight. Chad was starting to shake in nervousness. He was confident in Jackie, but that did not mean he could not worry. After all, Horace wasjust too strong. He even had a world avatar!

Chad took a deep breath. “He’ll be fine! Horace is no match for Jackie!”

Quinton and the others next to him had their fists clenched as well.

Jackie was their final hope!

Chapter 3532
However, other than a few of those in third-grade worlds, the others did not know who the one rushing forward was at all.

All of them felt like Jackie must have been forced to the point of insanity and wanted to end his life quickly. Otherwise, he would never have rushed forward so blindly.

As those thoughts floated in everyone’s minds, Jackie’s Broken Soul Blade clashed against Horace’s Frost Moon Slash.

As these two techniques came to blows, a series of explosions were heard.

Two intense energies clashed in the air, trying to devour each other. Shockwaves were produced, and the warriors closer to the center were blown back by the energy. The clash was too powerful, and everyone could even see a small energy cortex being formed at the center of the clash.

Everyone’s eyes widened as they looked to the middle.

In the middle of the clash, a sudden shout was heard by everyone.

Everyone perked up unblinkingly. Even with the explosions, everyone could hear that Horace was the one who shouted.

What happened?

Why was Horace so shocked?

He sounded as though he was surprised.

The next second, a cry of agony was heard as a figure shrouded in a faint blue glow started to free-fall. With a boom, that person plummeted to the ground!

Everyone’s eyes were about to pop out of their sockets at that moment, because the one who fell from the air had not been the hotheaded man who rushed forward but Horace instead.

Whatever world they were from, Horace was a transcendent figure to all warriors. Horace was far stronger than them, and they would never be able to catch up to him.

Not a single warrior there was a match for Horace, but the scene in front of them indicated that Horace had lost!

“Hah! Is the one who’s on the ground Horace? Have I gone blind? Am I hallucinating? How could he have lost to that guy?”

As that was said, he paused, not knowing how to continue.

Someone around could not help but say, “Why is he on the ground? Did his technique backfire on him?”

The person could only think about it that way. After all, he could not believe that someone had been able to beat Horace. In just one strike, Horace’s attack crumbled, so they wondered if Horace’s technique rebounded on him.

That was the only excuse that person had to calm himself down from the shock.

At that moment, it was not just one person who was full of disbelief. Every single person had a face full of disbelief, including Chad. This was far too unexpected.

Even Horace, who had been so arrogant and strong, was suddenly defeated in one blow by someone who appeared out of nowhere.

He was writhing on the ground like a worm, not getting up even after so long.

Was this real?

They could not even believe it. They felt like they were dreaming.

Jackie slowly landed on the ground as he glared at Horace, who was on the ground and clutching his chest.

It was not just the warriors from them, even Horace had no idea what had happened.

The two techniques clashed, and it never seemed like an even battle from the start. Jackie’s technique broke right through his, and that broken blade quickly shot right at him, rendering him unable to react.

To him, Jackie was not beneath an ant.

The fact that Horace was even bothering to deal with Jackie should already be considered as honoring Jackie, but Horace ended up losing so badly!

That broken blade contained the power to devour souls!

Thankfully, Horace was skilled. The moment the blade touched his chest, he swiftly summoned up all the true energy in his body to shield his chest. Seconds later, however, he heard a cracking sound from his chest as the power of his ice avatar was slowly devoured!

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3533-3534 -

Chapter 3533
Even if he expended all the power in his body, Horace would still fail to deflect Jackie's gray blade.

It broke through his defenses and pierced his body. The pain of his soul being torn apart caused him to cry out in agony as he fell from the air.

Horace was someone who placed a lot of importance on his dignity. As long as he could still control himself, he would not have let himself look like that.

However, facing Jackie's power, all he could do was push all the true energy in his body to fight against that energy. Otherwise, he would not live to see another day!

Horace clutched his chest and trembled, staring right at Jackie. "Who are you?! Where did you come from?!"

Anyone as strong as him should not have been here. They should have been fighting in the inner region.

Why would they have much time to spare and come here?

The person in front of him was someone he had never seen before either. When it came to the strongest warriors from third-grade worlds, he should have at least seen recordings or drawings of them, even if he never met them before.

He had no idea of the man's identity.

He was so sure that he had never seen the person before, so where did this man come from?

Jackie let out a laugh as he quickly walked to Horace.

Horace's heart was beating rapidly as he started to crawl backward frantically, shouting, "Stop right there! Don't come any closer! Don't think you can do whatever you want just because you defeated me!"

"I have other cards up my sleeve. If you push me into a corner, even if I have to burn my blood essence, I'll fight you! You'll end up injured, no matter how strong you are! Nothing good will come for you!"

Horace's eyes went wide as he tried to puff his chest. In truth, however, Jackie could see the fear he so desperately tried to hide.

Horace was afraid. Even though Jackie's attack had not killed him immediately, Jackie still managed to harm Horace's soul gravely.

Without miracle-working medicines, he might never be able to improve anymore in his life.

Jackie let out a laugh as he said in a nonchalant manner, "Do you think your threats will work on me right now?"

Every other mini-battles stopped as everyone looked in his direction. Whatever world the warriors were from, all of them felt like everything seemed like a dream.

Warriors from second-grade worlds were already deflated. Their eyes started to dart all over as a sliver of apprehension appeared in their eyes.

Thamus and the others, who had been smiling earlier, suddenly found themselves staring at Jackie. Even though they still held their weapons tightly, it was obvious that they were filled with fear and anxiety.

Cadian stood behind Thamus and said in a trembling voice, "Thamus, who is this person? Where did he come from? I remember he came from the crowd, so it must mean he's been here all the time…"

Chapter 3534
As that was said, Cadian's mind was a complete mess. He found himself scrambling for words as his anxiety skyrocketed.

Everything that happened overturned the scenario once again, all too swiftly.

Thamus' expression was dark.

With a sword in hand, his eyes reddened. "I don't know! Regardless, he's from a third-grade world, which means he's against us… Have you seen him before? We've all seen the images of all warriors from third-grade worlds that are slightly famous, but I've never seen this guy before. This has to be my first time…"

Cadian nodded before he suddenly had a thought.

He recalled something important as his voice raised, "Is this Jackie?!"

Everyone's eyes widened at the question.

Some never heard of Jackie before, but the others had Jackie's name etched into their minds. Warriors from the Golden Continent and Sacred Water Continent, in particular, greatly suffered due to Jackie.

With Cadian's words, the short silence shattered as an uproar occurred among the warriors.

"He's Jackie! He might be wearing a mask, but I know that figure anywhere! The mask only covers half his face. From his lower face and his technique, I'm sure this is Jackie!"

Those who never heard about Jackie started to ask around, wondering who he was and why those who knew of Jackie were so excited. Those who knew of Jackie suddenly gossiped, telling everyone about him with their own flair added in.

Everyone started to understand that Jackie was no simple person.

Cadian knew of Jackie because he had a good friend from the Sacred Water Continent. After Jackie had pushed them back so badly, his friend told him all about Jackie.

Jackie was from Hestia, a continent considered to be on the bottom of third-grade worlds, and none of them even bothered to rank any warrior from Hestia highly.

Chaos City had 50 third-grade worlds and 20 second-grade worlds within. Compared to before, there were just too many strong warriors within. The fact that most of them did not know who Jackie was was only natural. After all, Jackie only ever interacted with three second-grade worlds before.

Cadian told Thamus about Jackie in the quickest way possible.

Thamus took a deep breath as he looked at Jackie with a different expression, shocked at the fact that someone so strong appeared from such an insignificant third-grade world. Even Horace with his avatar was no match for Jackie.

It was obvious how strong he was. He had seen his prowess and noted that Jackie did not use an avatar.

It was possibly because Jackie did not think Horace was worth using an avatar on at all, or that Jackie did not have an avatar yet.

Regardless, Jackie's strength was already etched into his mind. Horace's whole body was trembling, partly because of the pain, and partly out of fear. He had heard the discussions around him and realized that Jackie was a monster.

Even though the Golden Continent and the Sacred Water Continent were not among the best second-grade worlds, the fact that Jackie managed to push two worlds down on his own was enough to state his abilities and talents.

Horace lamented, "Curse my luck!"

He felt like he was just insanely unlucky to meet someone like that.

Jackie smiled. “Not bad. You have twenty golden keys with you. It looks like the inner region must be a nice place…”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3535-3536 -

Chapter 3535
Jackie's words felt like a nail was hammered into Horace's heart.

This brat viewed him as a mere treasure chest of golden keys!

Horace raised his voice and said, "Let me go, and I'll act like nothing happened! You can do whatever you want with them! If you insist on coming for me, you'll pay the price. Don't think that…"

Before he could finish, Jackie vanished from the spot, much to Horace's horror as his eyes widened.

Something was wrong.

He frantically retreated, but the next second, Jackie appeared in front of him with a dagger in hand.

The moment he looked up, Jackie raised the dagger and stabbed it right into his throat. Blood spurted everywhere, and Jackie calmly avoided the splatter.

Horace did not even get the chance to cry out in agony before he died.

Jackie sneered. He would not waste his time listening to this man nor would he let that man escape. Even before Horace died, he would never have expected that Jackie was not just incredibly strong but could use the laws of space too!

After having dealt with Horace swiftly, Jackie calmly looked at the warriors behind him.

At that moment, a few of them could not even speak.

Chulanne finally let out a sigh of relief, recovering from his shock. Everything happened too quickly, and it seemed too surreal. He thought that he was going to die, but he had been saved by someone so monstrously strong.

Robert, who only knew how to act superior moments before his death, seemed like nothing compared to Jackie.

Chulanne was too emotional. Suddenly, tears filled his eyes and he started to cry.

Harold was not much better. He was so sure that many warriors from third-grade worlds would die with them, but Jackie descended like a god and saved them.

Harold’s hands shook as he said to Chulanne, “Chulanne, we’re saved! We don’t have to die. It’s time for these dogs to pay!”

Chulanne nodded emphatically as he said, choking on his tears, “Finally, we won’t be toyed with anymore! We can finally fight back!”

The moment that was said, Jackie shouted, “What are you waiting for? Leave the two in front of me! The rest will be up to all of you! Don’t let a single one of them run away!”

Jackie’s words stirred the hearts of everyone there.

All of the warriors from third-grade worlds suddenly had a boost of morale. They summoned up their true energy, and the battle continued!

Jackie already had his eyes on Thamus and Cadian.

The others could run away, but he could not let the leaders run. It was obvious how many warriors from third-grade worlds had died at their hands without even needing to hazard a guess.

Jackie was no dispenser of justice, but he had basic kindness. Those who did not view warriors from third-grade worlds as humans at all should not be allowed to live!

He shot forward, charging right at Thamus and the rest. They were incredibly scared and immediately turned around to run!

Chapter 3536
At that moment, they had nothing else on their minds except for their own survival.

The warriors from second-grade worlds had always been the aggressors anyway, so they did not have that much hate in their hearts. They just thought about their own benefits.

The warriors from third-grade worlds had been forced to a level where, even though they could still run, they had all abandoned the thought of living such a pathetic life. They had been forced to the point where they would rather die while dragging their enemies with them.

Back then, the warriors from third-grade worlds had already hit rock bottom. The warriors from second-grade worlds were not in the same situation. They were never tortured to death, and they had always been the ones throwing their power around.

The moment they saw that they had no way of winning, they naturally thought of running away first. They did not care about anyone else but themselves.

Thamus retreated frantically. He immediately attacked anyone that was in his way, no matter what world they were from!

He raised his sword, “Don’t stand in my way!”

He slashed his sword forward, not even looking back as he continued forward. Cadian was even more ruthless, constantly slashing his sword in front of him, worried that anyone would stop him and delay his retreat. At that moment, he did not care who it was.

Anyone who stood in front of him would die!

There was suddenly a river of blood as countless died and got injured. However, those people had not been able to run that far away. In just a few moments, Jackie caught up with them and did not hesitate to attack!

A hundred Soul Swords condensed into two massive ones. Each one shot right at their hearts!

With those stabs, the two Soul Swords violently penetrated their backs.

The pain of their soul completely swallowed their thoughts as the two of them shouted out in agony. They immediately stumbled.

Jackie deliberately spared their lives, continuing to pursue them. The two of them were the main instigators of everything. He would not allow them to die so easily, so Jackie wanted to keep them alive until the end. Without a strong pillar to lead them, the warriors from second-grade worlds fell like flies.

Jackie had sucked away all of their confidence.

Most of them ran away without fighting back. The warriors from third-grade worlds would naturally not let them off as they started a frantic pursuit.

Chulanne and the others had reddened eyes. Before this, they had been forced into desperation by the warriors from second-grade worlds. If Jackie had not appeared, the warriors from third-grade worlds would have already died.

Hatred and anger piled up in their hearts, and they exploded at that moment.

Chulanne raised his hand, “Warriors from third-grade worlds, listen to this order! No one is to let any of these dogs go! We’ll let them have a taste of pure suffering!”

At that moment, all the warriors from third-grade worlds were already going crazy. Their hatred and suffering had clouded their rationality. They did not care about anything else.

They just wanted to make the warriors from second-grade worlds pay, to make them feel pain.

With Jackie at the helm, the warriors from third-grade worlds were much safer.

In the next hour, most of the ones who died were from second-grade worlds!

Finally, the warriors from third-grade worlds had won the battle. Even though a small number of warriors from second-grade worlds managed to flee, it was a negligible number. Most of them had died there, and the corpses piled up into mountains.

A little creek made up of blood had formed there. Many had lost their lives.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3537-3538 -

Chapter 3537
Jackie took a deep breath.

From that moment on, the warriors from second-grad e worlds would have to think about the consequences before they did anything despicable. They would not dare to treat warriors from third-grade worlds as livestock anymore.

Not long after, Jackie and Rudy bid their farewells with Chad and the rest, leaving by themselves.

Before they left, Chulanne and the others expressed their immense gratitude.

Jackie shook his head, saying it was nothing. He never liked the warriors from second-grade worlds anyway, so he had been completely willing to help them.

He had earned quite a bit from the battle. Most importantly, he had managed to gain a lot of keys. There had been a total of over a hundred keys there, but Jackie merely took only forty-one keys, leaving the rest to everyone else.

Rudy had something to say about that.

He whispered to Jackie, “You were the key to this battle. Without you around, the warriors from third-grade worlds would have been the losers. Why would you split the spoils evenly with them? You should have taken the majority of the keys. At least, you should have taken eighty!”

Jackie smiled and shook his head, “This is already a lot. After all, there are so many of them there. If I took eighty keys in one go, it would be too immoral. I don’t want to do it either. We have more chances in the future. The inner region is even more interesting than the outer region. There are more chances to get golden keys, so there’s no reason to be fixated on this.”

Even though Rudy still felt like Jackie had taken too little, he knew that Jackie had always acted however Jackie wanted to. Since Jackie had said that, Rudy decided against saying anything else.

Chad had wanted to continue following Jackie, but Jackie still rejected it after some thought.

In the end, he only trusted Rudy. Even though Chad had some skills, he would just be a burden if they continued advancing. After all, the ones in the inner regions were all incredibly strong warriors. He would only be able to protect Rudy, another person would be too much.

Jackie's goal was the centermost point of Chaos City, so he did not bring Chad along in the end.

After leaving the main group, Rudy was in a good mood. He followed behind Jackie and continued walking forward as they chatted.

He then raised six fingers.

He waved them in front of Jackie, "I counted it all, and you have sixty -two golden keys right now! With so many golden keys, you'll definitely be able to get an incredibly amazing treasure, but I don't think you'll be exchanging them immediately, right? You should just accumulate another thirty or forty."

Jackie turned to look at Rudy, shaking his head before he said, "I was adjusting the direction just now. Even though we're still moving toward the inner region right now, we're going slightly off-center. We're going toward the southeastern side."

Rudy widened his eyes, looking at Jackie in confusion.

Jackie smiled and explained, "That's because there's a stage of the Nine about three kilometers further ahead."

Rudy was stunned at that.

It turned out they were going toward a stage of the Nine. They had been aiming for one of them while they were advancing with Chad anyway. They only stopped because of the massive battle. After dealing with that, Rudy had thought that Jackie had decided against going to the stage.

Jackie patted Rudy on the shoulder and said, "I wasn't planning on going to the stage of the Nine before this, but I suddenly acquired so many golden keys. After finding out how complicated the situation is in the inner region, I'll need to get even stronger to gain more benefits. So, it's better to get my treasure first."

Chapter 3538
Jackie had already thought things through before he started moving. Rudy nodded, feeling like Jackie's words were reasonable.

The two of them continued advancing for another three kilometers and saw the stage of the Nine from afar. The stage was about ten meters wide and was adorned with bright crystals. It looked like a large transfer array.

The two of them arrived in front of the stage, and Jackie said to Rudy, "Wait here."

Jackie then walked up the stage. Possibly because of how many warriors had been in the battle earlier, both of them had thought that there would be a lot of warriors around the stage.

Yet, they noticed there was no one there when they arrived. It spared quite a lot of trouble. Jackie took out all sixty-two keys and put them all at the center of the stage.

The stage suddenly glowed white, and the sixty-two golden keys fused into a golden liquid, flowing into the stage of the Nine. A sliver of information appeared in Jackie's mind.

Jackie's body stiffened before he let out an expression of pleasant surprise. The stage of the Nine was quite kind. It did not randomly give out prizes, but would let the warrior choose what attribute they wanted the prizes to be.

Jackie chose the soul attribute without any hesitation.

The stage of the Nine let out a golden glow. After the light disappeared, three treasures appeared in front of Jackie.

Rudy was incredibly excited when he saw that. Rudy had never seen any of the three and did not even know what they were called or what attributes they were.

Rudy said excitedly, "You got all of them? You managed to get three treasures in one go. That's not bad!"

Jackie smiled and shook his head, explaining, "I only get to pick one out of the three. It's not that amazing."

He then looked at the three treasures, pointing at them from left to right, "This pill is called the Seven Soul Nurturing Pill. It's an amazing holy-grade pill worth an exorbitant amount of spirit crystals! I might not be able to afford it even if I used everything I had."

"The one in the middle is the Nine Soul Herb. It's worth an incredible amount as well, and the last one is a Soul Crystal. You can't even find them in third-grade worlds. You can only buy them in second-grade worlds. They're worth an incredible amount as well."

All three of those items were amazing treasures.

Jackie wanted all of them, but he was forced to settle for one with the keys he had. Even though Jackie did not talk about what they could be used for, the price was enough for Rudy to understand how incredible they were!

Rudy took a deep breath and said excitedly, "It's a pity that you can only pick one. If only you could take all of them."

Jackie raised an eyebrow, saying firmly, “Don’t worry. As long as I have enough time, I’ll be able to get all of them.”

It was just the beginning. He had not been in Chaos City for that long. He even planned on staying for a week in Cloud City next, going to the Cloud Valley. A week would be enough time for him to gain enough golden keys.

After thinking about it for a moment, Jackie placed his hand on the Soul Crystal.

The others were incredibly amazing as well, but compared to the other two objects, the Soul Crystal was much more useful to Jackie at that moment. The Seven Soul Pill was used to repair injuries to the soul but Jackie did not need that at the moment.

The Nine Soul Herb might also increase the power of the soul, but it was not as effective as the Soul Crystal. In the end, Jackie chose the Soul Crystal. The Soul Crystal lit up, and Jackie could feel the energy flowing within when he held it.

When Jackie chose the Soul Crystal, the other treasures immediately disappeared.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3539-3540 -

Chapter 3539
Jackie took a deep breath before he walked down the stage of the Nine.

Rudy was already getting quite anxious waiting below. His eyes were fixed on the Soul Crystal in Jackie's hands.

Jackie sighed, "Let's find a safe place for me to absorb it before we do anything else."

The inner region was different from the outer region. The fights there were more intense, and death happened more frequently. There were not just enemies, but various beasts as well.

Hearing the other warriors from third-grade worlds talk about the inner region, the beasts inside were all incredibly large, and could easily kill warriors.

The chances of getting golden keys would be greatly increased.

Jackie and Rudy chose a spot that was in between the outer and inner regions. To avoid being disturbed, Jackie had set up a formation around them.

After a whole day, Jackie had completely absorbed the Soul Crystal.

Jackie looked on as the Soul Crystal crumbled away after being completely absorbed. The Soul Crystal had brought him a tremendous breakthrough. No wonder it was worth so much.

After absorbing it, Jackie successfully reached the second stage of Soul Sky from the first. The first stage was called Broken Soul Blade, and the second stage was called the Soul Burst Ring.

Jackie was anxious to try it out and see how strong the Soul Burst Ring was.

Jackie took a deep breath as he looked at Rudy, saying, "We're going forward!"

The closer they got to the inner region, the more barren the land was.

He believed that his name had probably already spread across Chaos City after that large battle. To prevent any unnecessary trouble, Jackie and Rudy put on their masks.

The blood moon in the sky looked more and more vibrant. It was so red that it seemed like blood could drip out at any moment.

Rudy frowned, “Another three passed! The further inside we get, the more people there are Yet, no one has tried to cause us any trouble at all. Why is that so?”

He had thought that the further inside they got, the more people would try to attack them to get the golden keys. Then, they would be able to counterattack and gain all their opponent’s keys. Yet, the moment they stepped into the inner region, they had met a lot of people, but none of them was bothered with Rudy and Jackie.

Most of them merely glanced at them before advancing, ignoring them. Rudy was both surprised and frustrated.

They continued moving forward for twenty kilometers, but nothing had happened.

Jackie pursed his lips when he heard Rudy, “Have you forgotten that we’ve already exchanged all of our golden keys? We don’t have a single golden ring around us right now, so they naturally wouldn’t bother with us. It’s completely pointless for them to fight us.”

Rudy had a look of realization, finally recalling that they had exchanged all their golden keys for treasures.

At that moment, the two of them were empty-handed. Unless there were some really bored people, not one would be interested in the two of them at all.

Rudy slapped himself on the forehead and laughed, “I actually forgot about that. We should have left one key on us back then. We might have been able to attract some opponents with that.”

Jackie smiled and shook his head, “Just look at the warriors that passed by. They had at least six or seven keys with them. Warriors like that would not be interested in warriors with one key at all. If you want them to attack us, we’d need to have at least ten golden keys on us.”

Rudy nodded.

Right at that moment, heavy footsteps were heard from afar. It was like something massive was getting closer to them.

The two of them looked toward the source of the noise at the same time.

Chapter 3540
It was the first beast Jackie had seen in Chaos City.

The beast’s massive claws caused the ground to rumble. Even from afar, Rudy was shocked by its massive size.

Rudy's mouth widened, "It's huge! It's the size of a small mountain! It's the first time I've ever seen a beast so big!"

Jackie laughed and said, "It's not that big. Most of Hestia Continent's beasts aren't small either. You have never seen them before because you rarely venture out."

The beast was about fifteen meters tall and thirty meters long. It was massive but quite agile. It ran incredibly fast and seemed to strangely defy its size.

Jackie did not say that for the sake of teasing Rudy.

Hestia Continent really did have a lot of large beasts. However, those beasts usually lived deep in the forest, and rarely interacted with people.

Rudy was a normal alchemist, and he would normally just interact with the materials for his pills. He did not know much about beasts in the first place.

Rudy's lips twitched as he looked at the beast that was running over, "What is that thing called? Is it found in Hestia Continent?"

The beast had a goat's head and the teeth of a hound. It had a layer of the incredibly hard outer skin, and its limbs were thin and filled with gray fur. It looked quite strange.

Jackie said, "This beast is called the Flaming Rhino. An adult Flaming Rhino would be at the divine solidifying realm at least, but in the Whirling World, both man and beasts were all restricted to the final stage of the innate level."

Rudy blinked and said, "Then, is it dangerous? Of course, no beast would be able to threaten me. I'm just asking if this beast is considered strong by normal warriors."

Jackie nodded, "Of course it is! It has a natural-born technique, the Flaming Horn, which is already at the middle ultimate god rank. Regular warriors are no match for it at all. This guy has incredibly thick skin and an incredibly strong defense as well. Normal warriors would not be able to break through its defense at all."

The Flaming Rhino was getting faster and faster. After their short conversation, the Flaming Rhino was already less than a kilometer away from them.

"Jackie, look! I was wondering why this guy looked crazy. It's just constantly running forward! It even used its skill earlier. So there are actually three men around it!" Rudy said in surprise.

Jackie saw it as well. As the Flaming Rhino charged forward, there were a few figures around its head and waist.

As it got closer, Jackie figured out that the three men were constantly attacking the Flaming Rhino. Three differently colored energies were constantly being unleashed, clashing into that rhino's body.

The rhino raised its head and let out a roar!

At that moment, the Flaming Rhino was clearly angered. Even though it had an incredibly strong defense. It was still injured after the constant attacks. Its thick back had fresh wounds on it.

Suddenly, the Flaming Rhino no longer ran forward. It stood in place and its belly started to suddenly expand as it took a deep breath. It was as if there was liquid moving inside its belly as it started to rumble.

Jackie heard someone shout, "Not good! Get away!"

Suddenly all the three men scattered.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3541-3542 -

Chapter 3541
The Flaming Rhino opened its mouth, and it shot out balls of fire.

The balls of fire were a purplish-red color and extremely hot. The surrounding air started to distort when the flames passed through!

The earth itself started to shake as the balls of flames struck the ground, exploding and forming massive craters!

Most of the balls of fire had been targeted at those three. Thankfully, they had reacted in time. Other than the man with a black mask who did not manage to avoid it in time, resulting in the flames burning his arm, the others were fine.

However, the situation did not look good. At the moment, the Flaming Rhino was already completely agitated. It would not let those three puny humans off.

The man in the black mask looked at his burnt arm and his eyes lit up in rage. He took out some medicine from his spatial ring to apply it to his wound.

“How long are the two of you going to be stubborn? Can’t you just work together as I said? This guy isn’t a beast we can take on alone!” The black-masked man said while holding back his anger.

A bald man coldly looked at him, “Stop trying to fool us! Are you joking? Isn’t working with you just walking into a trap?! The three of you are from second-grade worlds, wouldn’t I be crazy to work with you when I’m from a third-grade world? Compared to the two of you, I think that the beast is easier to deal with!”

The three of them did not know each other and only happened to bump into each other while trying to kill the Flaming Rhino.

The bald one was from a third-grade world, while the other two consisted of a handsome man in white robe and a mysterious man in a black mask.

The white-robed man scoffed in contempt, “Stop trying to play the victim. My goal is this big guy. You only have three golden keys with you, do you think we want you?!”

The bald guy was very unhappy to hear that.

He ignored the wild beast as he shouted loudly, “Don’t act like you’re so innocent. Do you think we don’t know how many despicable things you guys have done? How many warriors from third-grade worlds have you tortured? You've got no right to look down on me."

"So what if I have three keys? With how you guys are, would you let me go? Working with the two of you is just crazy. Once we kill the Flaming Rhino, the two of you will definitely work together to torture me! Don't even think for one moment that I'll believe you."

The black-masked man started to get anxious at that, "Then what do you want? Even if we aren't working together, aren't we still attacking the Flaming Rhino at the same time? I just want you to listen and attack the rhino's weak point, and not blindly attack."

The bald man scoffed, narrowing his eyes as he said, "I'm not blindly attacking!"

He did not continue with his words. He knew that once the beast died, the other two would definitely start to attack him, killing him for his keys before they split the spoils.

He was attacking the Flaming Rhino, but not hitting the rhino's weak points at all. He was merely attacking where the skin was thicker. He would just thoroughly anger the rhino.

He had been looking for the chance to kill one of those two. Only then would he be willing to talk about working together.

The white-robed man coldly looked at the bald man, his eyes were full of hatred.

Chapter 3542
The black-masked man had not been able to see through the bald man's intentions, but the white-robed man had. Yet, he could not explain things in front of the bald man. After all, if he did, then there would be no way they would ever work together.

The Flaming Rhino was incredibly hard to deal with. Its natural-born technique was already at the upper ultimate god rank.

The three of them would never be able to take on the rhino alone. Only by the three of them working together would they be able to beat the rhino.

The white-robed man scoffed as he muttered, "I guess you have a brain."

The bald man was right. The white-robed man definitely did plan on immediately getting rid of that piece of trash from the third-grade world if they worked together and managed to kill the rhino.

The white-robed man looked down on warriors from third-grade worlds.

Even if that warrior was skilled, the white-robed man would still look down on him. He felt like warriors from third-grade worlds were all beneath him. Working with the bald man was a forced option.

Even two of them together might not be able to beat the Flaming Rhino. They needed help from a third person to kill the beast. Furthermore, the white-robed man planned on dealing with the bald man before dealing with the black-masked man as well. Even though they were both from second-grade worlds, it meant nothing in front of profit.

Only he was the most important want. He wanted to benefit from everything. The bald man was clearly not going to play along, which infuriated the white-robed man. He clenched his fists. Looking at the bald man venomously.

The black-masked man frowned and said, “Baldie, can you not let your thoughts wander like that? I’m not planning on taking it all. Once we kill the beast, we can split everything evenly. The two of us won’t work together against you. You don’t have to worry.”

The bald man started laughing when he heard that.

His face was full of disdain as he said, “Do you think I’m a three-year-old child? Do you think I’ll believe anything you say? You say you won’t work together against me, but will you actually keep to your promise? Don’t think I’m a fool.”

“We all know how you guys are. You don’t see us as humans at all. In your eyes, I’m prey as well. The moment you are done dealing with the Flaming Rhino, I’ll be up next.”

As he said that, the bald man had a mocking look on his face. He was no idiot, so there was no way he would work with the other two.

The black-masked man frowned angrily, “Then what do you want? Are you just planning on wasting your time? What are you planning!?”

The bald man said in disdain, “Why do you care? I just won’t work with the two of you.”

The white-robed man narrowed his eyes, already completely angered. Since the third-grade world warrior was not going to play along, then he would not hold back.

The white-robed man turned to look at the black-masked man, “Hey, stop wasting time with this brat. He’s clearly intent on going against us. Since that’s the case, what’s the point of leaving him around? Let’s kill him before we deal with this beast!”

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3543-3544 -

Chapter 3543
The moment that was said, the bald man's expression darkened.

He stared at the white-robed man hatefully, "I was right. You despicable and shameless men will do anything. One second, you're asking to work with me, the next second, you want to kill me! It would be stupid of me to work with you!"

The bald man had his teeth clenched. He never liked the white-robed man. The man only looked at him with disdain. He was no idiot, he had naturally seen through it. If he had really worked with the two of them, then he would be crazy!

The black-masked man still wanted to work with the bald man. He was not as greedy as the white-robed man. He merely wanted to get rid of the beast. Yet, the white-robed man had said something like that and completely destroyed any chance for negotiations.

The bald man never trusted them to begin with. It was all done for, at that moment.

The black-masked man was frustrated, but he knew that there was no longer anything he could say. Just as he was thinking about everything, he happened to see two figures in the distance.

The three of them had been fully focused on the Flaming Rhino and had not paid attention to their surroundings. Only then did the black-masked man notice the two figures looking at them.

One of them was a man in dark green robes, while the other was a man in light blue robes. The two of them were not that far away, and he could clearly see that the two of them were looking over with interest as if they were watching a show.

The masked man frowned, not happy about being stared at like that. However, when he saw what they were wearing, he had a sudden thought in his mind, finally finding a solution.

At that moment, the white-robed man and the bald men were looking at each other with animosity. The atmosphere was incredibly tense as if they were about to fight at any second.

The black-masked man hurriedly said, "Hey, baldie. Didn't you refuse to work with us because you were alone? Just look over there! Those two are from third-grade worlds. If the three of them join, then you would have one extra person by your side. Wouldn't it be easier to work together then?"

The black-masked man knew what the bald man was worried about. After all, the bald man was probably uncertain because it was two against one. If two others joined the bald man's side, then those worries would be gone!

The white-robed man frowned, glaring at the black-masked man unhappily, "Are you crazy? Three of us splitting the spoils is already bad enough, but you're adding two more! What would we even get if we split it five ways?"

The white-robed man refused to agree at all. The Flaming Rhino was incredibly strong. They would be able to get at least six keys after killing it. It was already not enough for three of them. Adding two more would make things worse.

The white-robed man was planning on stealing the rewards from the beast and the three keys the bald man had as well. If he could, he would take the keys from the black-masked man too!

There were not that many people, so he would be able to get what he wanted with just some small tricks. Adding another two would make things harder.

After all, the warriors from third-grade worlds were incredibly united at that moment, especially when facing warriors from second-grade worlds.

At that moment, the white-robed man could not help but curse the black-masked man!

The bald man looked over and immediately made his decision.

He turned around and nodded, "Alright, if those two join, then I won't be worried about you two stabbing me in the back!"

Chapter 3544
Jackie was not standing that far away, and the three of them were not that close to each other in the first place.

They were practically shouting at each other, so Jackie had heard everything clearly. He did not expect the topic of the conversation to shift to him.

Jackie smirked, unable to stop himself from letting out a slight laugh.

The white-robed man reddened in anger as he shouted crazily, "What kind of stupid idea is this?! Are you crazy? The three of us would already be struggling to split these rewards. If another two join, then what would we even get?! It would be better to just give up on killing the beast."

The three of them were fully focused on each other, and none of them were attacking the Flaming Rhino.

The Flaming Rhino finally got a chance to rest and recover. Earlier, the Flaming Rhino's back and stomach had been injured. At that moment, it was panting roughly, using its true energy to heal itself.

The Flaming Rhino had a certain level of intelligence as well. Even if it was not as smart as humans, it was still capable of thinking.

Its eyes were constantly darting between the three in front of him. It knew that it was their target, and knew that it was no match for the three of them working with each other. So, it was trying to look for a path of escape, but it was not like it could just flee immediately.

It was quick, but not as quick as those humans. The moment it tried to escape, the three of them would notice, and it would die.

Hence, the Flaming Rhino was constantly trying to figure out how it could manage to escape. Everyone there, whether man or beast, was basically plotting something of their own.

The white-robed man felt like his plan was about to be foiled, and he was incredibly unhappy about it. He was like an old lady in a market as he frantically shouted, asking if the black-masked man was crazy.

The black-masked man felt quite exasperated. He really wanted to kill the beast in front of them.

The beast was not made from true energy, but an actual, living beast. If they managed to kill it, they would not just be able to get the rewards, but even retrieve its spirited core and other useful materials.

Considering how thick its skin was, it would be worth quite a bit. Furthermore, the spirited core was incredibly useful.

The golden keys were not that important compared to that. What he wanted the most was the beast's spirited core. Of course, he knew that the rewards would greatly diminish if they split it five ways.

Yet, the rewards were not as important to the black-masked man, so he did not mind splitting it more.

Rudy stood next to Jackie and listened to everything, feeling incredibly annoyed.

He turned to look at Jackie, but Jackie's expression was calm.

Jackie did not look like he had anything to say, and Rudy did not know what Jackie's plans were, so he whispered, "Jackie, why don't we work with them?"

As he asked that, Rudy's mouth froze, feeling like he had said something wrong.

Why would they work with those three?

With Jackie's skills, did he genuinely care about them?

Jackie's skills were far superior to all three of them.

Jackie could not help but laugh, saying in exasperation, "Don't be stupid."

Rudy nodded, "I just got too dizzy listening to them…"

The moment he said that, the bald man's voice was suddenly right next to them, "Are the two of you willing to work with us?"

Those two warriors from second-grade worlds did not look at the bald man as a threat at all. They wanted him to die, so there was no way the bald man would want them to live.

The bald man was naturally happy to have more helpers by his side.

Other than the few warriors from third grade worlds who stood at the peak, the other warriors from third-grade worlds all hated the warriors from second-grade worlds to the bones. Those shameless and despicable things treated warriors from third-grade worlds like animals.
They had done so many disgusting things to the warriors from third-grade worlds. Furthermore, they constantly looked down on warriors from third-grade worlds as well, looking at them with expressions full of disdain.
Those feelings caused the bald man to utterly hate the warriors from second-grade worlds. No matter who it was, as long as he had the chance, he would not let them off easily!
Jack smiled and shook his head at the bald man, “I don’t plan on working together. I can deal with this big guy. Just help me hold the white-robed guy back later. You can have all the golden keys on him.”
Jack was incredibly calm when he said that, as if he was just talking about his next meal.

All of them were stunned when they heard that. All of them had their eyes widened at what Jack said. He was planning on killing the Flaming Rhino alone? He did not plan on letting the white-robed man off?! Was that not crazy?
The white-robed man's expression darkened as he looked at Jack viciously.
He shouted out, "Brat! You shouldn't daydream like that! You can deal with a beast that has a middle ultimate god rank technique alone? Not only that, you'll deal with me too?! You really are crazy. If I didn't know better, I would have thought that you were the strongest person from the third-grade world!"
Jack's lips pursed.
To prevent any unnecessary trouble, he had already put on a mask. At the moment, those three did not know what he looked like at all.
Rudy scoffed, looking at the white-robed man in disdain, "Warriors from second grade worlds really are all the same. Weren't you just acting so angry earlier because working with us would ruin your plans? Weren't you planning on taking everything for yourself?"

The white-robed man did not seem guilty at all of being exposed. He did not think there was anything wrong with his plans at all.
Instead, he looked at Jack in disgust.
He snorted, “You trash from third-grade worlds only know how to insult others! What plan could I have had? Stop trying to frame me! You’re just delusional, and you think you’re so special that people would target you. Don’t be so disgusting! Who do you think you are?”
Rudy scoffed, “Every time I listen to you guys speak, I feel like slapping you with a shoe. You act like you’re so noble, but the things you do are so shameless!”
“You looked at us with such disdain earlier. Are you looking down on us? We look down on you two as well! You’re just like a worm that’s slightly larger than usual. Just looking at you makes me want to puke!”
Rudy even gagged a few times after he said that, causing the white-robed man to tremble in anger. In the white-robed man’s world, only he was allowed to look down on the warriors from third-grade worlds, and not the other way around.

He looked at Rudy with clenched teeth, wanting nothing more than to rush over to rip Rudy apart. He felt like his dignity had been trampled over, which was not something he could stand.

“Brat, how dare you talk to me like that?! It looks like you’re already sick of living. Since you want to die, I’ll grant you your wish.”

The moment he said that, he was tempted to start attacking, but he looked at the bald man and the black-masked man.

After thinking about it, he held back. If he attacked in this situation, it was very likely he would be at a disadvantage.

The two around him could decide to take the chance to attack him at any moment. Then, he would lose everything. However, it was not like he could just take those words. The white-robed man felt like he was going to faint from the anger.

Jack coldly looked at the white-robed man, “You should be honored that I’m even bothered to talk to a clown like you.”

There were plenty of people like the white robed man in second-grade worlds.

He had met so many of them. Those people always looked down on the warriors from third grade worlds and acted like they were the only ones allowed to feel superior. Every time Jack met them, he felt he was rendered speechless.

The white-robed man grew furious, “What did you say?! Who are you calling a clown? The clown is clearly you!”
The white-robed man absolutely hated those two in front of him.
He clenched his teeth and said, “The two of you are only good at bragging! Who do you think you are, saying that you can deal with this Flaming Rhino alone? Please look at yourself in the mirror before you say things like that. Do you think you’re that strong? It’s a complete joke!”
The bald man looked at Jack meaningfully.
He had been silent the whole time after hearing what Jack said. He merely constantly tried to measure Jack, feeling like Jack was hiding something. Even though he felt like Jack’s words were a bit absurd and exaggerated, he still did not say anything.
Jack’s lips curled up as he smiled.
He turned to look at the bald man and said, “If you insist on working with me, then do as I say. Restrict this guy for the moment and don’t let him cause any trouble. Stop him from running away as well.”

The bald man frowned and thought about it. After being silent for a few seconds, he slowly nodded, agreeing.
Jack nodded at the bald man and ignored the other two.
His hands started to move as they formed seal after seal. Countless seals started to glow in black light, fusing in the air. After a few moments, a round ring about the size of two palms appeared in front of Jack. That was the Soul Burst Ring.
The Soul Burst Wrong was formed with countless seals, and the gray seals had special blood-red seals mixed within. Both seals resonated with each other, giving out a mysterious and sinister aura.
Jack shot up into the air, and the ring slowly spun in front of Jack.
It started to cause the energy around it to spin as well, and even the air started to get distorted.
Jack looked right at the Flaming Rhino, and the Flaming Rhino was looking at Jack carefully at that moment as well. Its intuition told it that Jack would not be easy to deal with, and it started to retreat.
Jack smirked and said, “This is my first time using this technique. I planned on leaving it for the warriors from second grade worlds, but not many of them can really withstand this. You'd be the perfect test subject."

The moment Jack said that, he pushed forward. The Soul Burst Ring rapidly spun, forming a cyclone as it quickly shot at the Flaming Rhino.
"Brat, how dare you talk to me like that?! It looks like you're already sick of living. Since you want to die, I'll grant you your wish."

The Flaming Rhino let out another roar as it unleashed its natural-born technique. A massive ball of fire was spat out from its mouth, and the two attacks clashed in the air.
They had thought that it would unleash a massive explosion, but strangely enough, the moment the flames touched the Soul
Burst Ring, the attack seemed to lose its effectiveness.
It was quickly neutralized by the Soul Burst Ring, and before anyone could react, the Soul Burst Ring had already disappeared.
The next second, the Soul Burst Ring shot right at the Flaming Rhino. The rhino had already reacted. It was no match for Jack at all. Its attack had actually been so insignificant to Jack. It did not even think as it turned around to run, practically using all its strength.
It knew that it would be dead if it was not able to flee. However, it underestimated the ring’s speed.

The Flaming Rhino had just turned around when the Soul Burst Ring already reached its body. Suddenly, the Soul Burst Ring expanded, completely surrounding the rhino. After that, an explosion was heard by everyone.
It was as if a hundred bombs had been thrown at the rhino. The intense explosions caused the Flaming Rhino to fall. Its thick skin had been burnt to a crisp, and it had stopped breathing.
Jack took a deep breath, looking at his own hands. That power was completely expected. After all, it was a storm god-rank technique. The power the second stage could unleash was far higher than the first stage.
The other three were all stunned, especially the white-robed man. His mouth was completely opened wide.
The three of them had failed to deal with the beast, but Jack had dealt with it all by himself so effortlessly. It was as if it had been no trouble at all. The white-robed man’s lips shook as his heart filled up with fear.
Jack had not been bragging. Jack really had the skills. He was in danger!
At that moment, the white robed man did not even dare to look at Jack.

Looking at the corpse of the Flaming Rhino, the white-robed man felt a chill in his heart. He started to panic as he retreated. At that moment, various thoughts started to surface in his mind.
If he did not run at that moment, he would probably never have had the chance to run again.
He completely discarded all his pride and arrogance. All he wanted to do was to survive at that moment.
The black-masked man was doing no better. He looked at everything with a dumbfounded expression.
If Jack was in a second-grade world, he would be one of the top warriors as well. He had actually gotten involved with someone like that. Even if he had not spoken as harshly as the white robed man, warriors from third-grade worlds and warriors from second-grade worlds were mortal enemies!
The black-masked man took a step back. He no longer cared about the spirited core. He just wanted to live.
Jack had a smirk on his face.
The black-masked man and the white robed man exchanged a look. Two of them turned around at the same time as they fled in opposite directions!

The bald man finally snapped out of his shock, clenching his teeth as he chased after the white-robed man!
Jack smiled and formed some seals again. A hundred Soul Swords condensed into one, aiming at the white-robed man’s back as it shot rapidly forward!
He had added the laws of space to the Soul Sword as well, so its speed doubled!
The white-robed man was frantically fleeing. Even though he did not turn back, he could still feel the killing intent.
He knew the bald man would not let him go!

The white-robed man thought about fighting for his life.
The bald man was at his level at most, anyway. He had already met one monster, he doubted there would be a second one. He constantly thought about what to do and clenched his teeth when he made the decision. As long as the bald man caught up, he would attack immediately and hope to catch the bald man off guard.
That monster had asked the bald man to keep an eye on him, so the monster would probably not attack.
He had just been thinking about it when he felt a pain in his back.
Before he could even turn around, the bald man was already in front of him. He had already planned everything out, but at that moment, his body was in too much pain for him to even move. Even though he did not turn back to look, he could clearly feel a sword piercing his back.

The sword was made of energy. After it stabbed into his back, the energy exploded, frantically ripping his soul apart. He turned over slightly and happened to see the bald man's sneer.
At that moment, the bald man's eyes were full of disdain.
The man raised an eyebrow, looking at the white-robed man, "Weren't you acting so arrogantly earlier? Why can't you say anything anymore?"
The white-robed man twitched as he looked at the bald man hatefully, but there was nothing he could do.
The bald man's eyes flashed in hatred, "For so long, you shameless dogs were the ones pushing us down. Did you think we wouldn't fight back? You were looking down on us? Who do you think you are?!"
As the bald man said that, he took out a dagger from his spatial ring. He waved it in front of the white-robed man, and the dagger glinted in a sinister light.
He smirked as he said, "What do you think I'll be doing now?"
The white-robed man had already been struck by the massive Soul Sword. His soul was in so much pain that he had never felt before, constantly being ripped apart.

If Destroying the Void's full power had been unleashed, the white-robed man would have lost all rational thought to the pain. He would not even have been able to control his own body, let alone talk.
However, Jack deliberately controlled Destroying the Void's energy. When the massive Soul Sword pierced into the white-robed man's body, it did not unleash everything immediately. Instead, it was slowly devouring the white-robed man's soul.
The white-robed man was sweating in pain, but he still retained his rational thought. Looking at the dagger in front of him, the man felt a chill in his heart. His lips were twitching as his eyes trembled. He did not even dare to look up, feeling only fear at what was going to happen.
The bald man said, "What? Are you scared now? Weren't you so arrogant earlier? You looked down on us as if no one from third grade worlds could face you. Why are you suddenly different now?"
As he said that, the bald man stabbed forward. Blood sprayed all over as a cut formed on the white-robed man's face. He let out a cry of agony as his whole body trembled. His fear caused him to want nothing more than to flee. However, he clearly knew that there was no way he could flee. The bald man would not let him go.

The white-robed man said shakily, “Let me go! I’ll give you anything! As long as you let me go… We can talk about it!”

The bald man sneered as he said, “Then, take out everything you have in your spatial storage, and I’ll consider letting you. go.”

The white-robed man’s eyes widened when he heard that.

Normally, even if a warrior were to die, they would not take out their fortunes from their rings. It was a final form of dignity for the warriors, not leaving anything behind for their opponents even if they died.

When a warrior dies, their spatial storage would collapse, and their opponents would get nothing.

The white-robed man clenched his teeth in refusal!

The bald man raised an eyebrow, not surprised at all.

He scoffed, “Since that’s the case, then we’ll slowly have fun. Honestly, I’m very interested in collecting Heartblood.”

Those words felt like a bucket of cold water being poured on the white-robed man. He felt like his whole body was frozen. Since the Soul Sword was in the white-robed man's body, Jack allowed the bald man to do whatever he wanted.

He looked at the Flaming Rhino. At that moment, the beast was already dead, and its massive body was on the ground.
Jack walked over to the Flaming Rhino, and a faint golden glow was slowly condensing above the Flaming Rhino. Eight golden keys formed, causing Jack to raise an eyebrow as they fell into Jack's hands.
Killing one rhino had given him eight keys. Sure enough, the inner region was the main event of Chaos City.
Jack looked up and saw where the black-masked man was fleeing toward. Earlier, the two of them had run away in opposite directions.
He only attacked the white-robed man, not bothering with the black-masked man.
At that moment, the black-masked man was already gone.
Rudy looked on as Jack looked toward the direction where the man had fled and said curiously, "Why didn't you kill him just now?"

Those two warriors from second-grade worlds were insignificant ants to Jack. They were not worth being afraid of at all, even two against one. However, Jack had let the black-masked man go and only dealt with the white-robed man, which made Rudy curious.
Jack turned around and smiled, “The white-robed man was targeted because he kept on trying to challenge me. The black masked man did not do that. It’s fine to let him go. After all, this is Chaos City.”
Rudy nodded as Jack was right.
It was not a regular city, Chaos City was full of death. Regular warriors were grouped with masters. Anything that happened there would not be strange at all.
That guy never crossed the line, so it was fine to let him go. Even if he managed to guess Jack’s true identity, it was still fine.
After all, Jack’s name was already known everywhere. Adding one more story to his name was no big deal.
Not only had the Flaming Rhino rewarded Jack, but its body had great uses as well. The core could be sold for a high price, and the skin was good material for weapons. It was just as valuable.

Jack briefly tidied up the scene.
Ten minutes had passed, and the bald man was done as well. The white-robed man was already dead, and he had died a horrible death similar to the warriors from third grade worlds who were tortured to death.

• • •

The white-robed man had definitely tortured a lot of warriors from third-grade worlds to death.
He looked down on the warriors from third-grade worlds and felt like he was too noble to be compared to them. The fate that befell him was ironic since he ended up just like those he tortured.
The bald man collected some Heartblood and walked right in front of Jack, saluting Jack before producing the five golden keys he got from the white-robed man, “Lord Jack, please have these…”
‘Lord Jack?’
He had never revealed his identity before, but the bald man actually recognized him.
The bald man saw Jack’s expression and guessed what Jack was wondering, He let out a smile and said, “I more or less know all the top warriors from third-grade worlds. Their voices are familiar to me. It’s the first time I ever heard your voice. On top of that, you are wearing a mask…”

“I heard of the recent news and managed to determine who you are from that. Only Jack who had easily killed Horace would have such extraordinary skills.”
Jack smiled, not accepting the golden keys, “I already told you. Once he’s dead, the rings on him will be yours.”
The bald man shook his head, “I already took the reward for killing him. I got two golden keys. These five are what he gained before. I’m already happy with two keys. If you hadn’t appeared, I don’t know what would have happened.”
The bald man was not trying to flatter Jack, he was merely speaking the truth.
If Jack had not appeared, the bald man did not know if they would end up working together or if he would manage to kill one of them.
Jack did not dwell on it, accepting the keys after nodding. With the eight he had gotten, he had accumulated thirteen.
The bald man bowed, “I can’t believe I was so lucky to meet you when I was in danger…”
All of the warriors from third-grade worlds were already referring to Jack as Lord Jack.

Jack’s skills along with his heroics had earned him that title. At least, the other strong warriors from third-grade worlds were not worthy of it.

After all, those people always held themselves above everyone else, not caring about others at all. They only cared about their own benefits. After a few more pleasantries, Jack and Rudy parted ways with the bald man, continuing toward the center.

The deeper they walked, the more dense the aura of death was. Even the redness of the moon in the skies turned thicker.

Rudy’s lips twitched as he constantly shuddered. The aura of death was too heavy, and he was a little too weak to handle it.

However, he did not want to go back to Mustard Seed, feeling like he was gaining experiences every moment he stayed out,

“Jack! Look over there! Two people are rushing over!”

Rudy pointed at the figures in front.

The further in they went, the more people there were. In just three kilometers, they had already witnessed around seven or eight warriors rushing toward the outer region in a rush. Looking at Jack and Rudy, they merely spared them a cold glance before continuing forward.

To attract attention, Jack had put seven keys on himself, but it had failed to attract them.
He frowned, feeling like something was wrong, “Something might have happened.”
Rudy’s lips twitched, “Could another large battle have started? The third-grade worlds started fighting the second-grade worlds again, and this time the scale is very large, and too many have died for the people in the inner region to ignore.”

Jack frowned and said, “It’s definitely possible, but I don’t think it’s very likely. Alright, let’s not blindly speculate. We’ll know the moment we enter…”
Right after he said that, another person ran toward them.
When that person saw Jack’s group, he had a look of surprise on his face before a sneer was present on his face. The one who came out from the inner region was quite close to Jack this time and quickly arrived in front of him.
He sized up Jack, and Jack could see the amusement in his eyes. It was as if he was mocking Jack’s every action and thought he was an idiot.
Jack was very curious. ‘Why did he look at me with such a peculiar stare?’
The two of them clearly did not know each other.
Just as Jack was confused, that person said coldly, “Another idiot!”
Jack frowned as he started to form seals. The Broken Soul Blade appeared in front of him.

When that person took a few steps forward, Jack immediately attacked. The Broken Soul Blade that was full of energy appeared in front of that person, causing the man to completely stiffen and widen his eyes, counter-attacking right away.
The weapon he took out of his storage ring was a spear about a meter and a half long. The man thrust his spear forward, clashing with the Broken Soul Blade.
Alas, the spear's energy could not break the Broken Soul Blade at all. The man heard what sounded like something cracking before he looked down and noticed that it came from his fracturing long spear.
His eyes widened, immediately realizing he was no match for Jack. The two of them were not even at the same level!
Jack controlled the Broken Soul Blade and clashed with his opponent's attack but did not continue the attack. The blade merely floated in the air, still in front of his opponent.
That person's eyes widened, realizing that Jack did not want to kill him and merely wanted to block him. His hands trembled as his heart beat rapidly.
If Jack wanted to kill him, he would have been a dead man.

Jack was a master among masters, and the man felt like he needed to be careful or he would forfeit his life.
The man’s voice quivered as he stammered, “W-What do you want?! I was just talking without thinking. Please forgive me… Just let me go, I’m insignificant anyway!”
Rudy remembered the man’s mocking expression from earlier, but he no longer acted the same way after being humbled the hard way.
Rudy scoffed. “You’re definitely insignificant!”
Jack was in no mood to waste any time and immediately said, “Why did you look at me like that just now? Why are so many warriors running out?”
That person said respectfully, “It’s just pure chaos inside right now. A lot of the beasts are starting to fight back. The more intelligent ones are leading the less intelligent ones and frantically killing humans. For the sake of the blood beads, they’re really going all out!”
It was not just Rudy, but Jack was surprised to hear that, too.
The beasts working together to fight the warriors?

It was something Jack never thought was possible. The fact that so many people were running out meant that something had happened inside.
They thought it was a battle among warriors, which was expected, but it turned out to be a skirmish between humans and beasts.
What were blood beads?
Jack had never heard of this before.
That person could tell from Jack’s curious expression that he probably did not know what blood beads were.
To get on Jack’s good side, that person started to explain in detail.

When humans killed beasts, Chaos City would give them rewards.
Some of the rewards were pills or materials, while some of them gave out purple gold. The most valuable rewards were the golden keys.
Beasts, too, would earn something when they killed humans, but they would only get one reward. The moment they killed humans, the beasts would get a blood bead.
After absorbing the blood bead, their defenses would be strengthened, and their wisdom would be increased. It was basically a spirited pill for beasts. Thus, while humans were trying to kill the beasts for rewards, the beasts were eliminating humans for the same reason. The stronger the beasts, the more intelligent they were.
The strongest ones would sometimes be even more intelligent than humans. The strong ones would naturally not be willing to just be prey for the humans, thus a large battle broke out.

At the deepest parts of the inner region, every single corner was filled with bloody slaughters. No one knew the number of beasts and humans that have perished.
It was not just a complete battle between humans and beasts either.
The petty schemes between humans never ended. Warriors from third-grade worlds and warriors from second-grade worlds hated each other, as they always did. They constantly tried to sabotage each other just to gain the upper hand.
The inner region was no longer a place normal warriors could stay. Even warriors that were slightly more skilled than average did not dare to stay there for too long. Only the cream-of-the-crop warriors dared to stay in the deeper regions. Even so, death loomed large.
After hearing that person’s explanations, Jack allowed the man to walk free.
The man frantically ran away, not even remembering to thank Jack.
Jack took a deep breath. He had not expected the inner region to be in such a chaotic state. Even he needed to be careful, or he could very well lose his life.

Jack was confident in his abilities, but it did not change the fact that he stood alone. If had to fight off one too many warriors, he would not be able to handle them. If he was ambushed, the situation would be terrible as well.
Jack frowned as he looked forward. It was a complete wasteland in the distance.
Rudy said hoarsely, “How did things end up like this? No wonder so many of them booked out of there. If it was me, I wouldn’t even have been able to run away.“
Jack frowned, not dwelling on the problem. “Let’s forget about that for now and advance. Just remember to be careful.”
Rudy nodded.
He knew Jack was not someone who gave up easily.
After entering Chaos City, Jack was determined to venture into the deepest corner. No matter how dangerous it was, he would give it a shot.
With Jack’s tremendous skills, the danger would be lowered. The two of them advanced for two more kilometers.
At that moment, the ground started to have cracks on it, and even the air was drier. It felt like they had entered hell.

Right at that moment, they could hear thunderous stomps coming from afar as if they came from very large feet.
Rudy looked over and saw a massive object getting closer to them.
The massive object had a figure in front of it. It was too far, so they could not tell what that person looked like.
Jack raised an eyebrow. “It’s a Crimson Tortoise.”
A Crimson Tortoise was about equal in strength to a Flaming Rhino. It was not a beast a regular warrior could handle.
It was the second beast they had encountered, and every one of them was strong. He did not know if it was a coincidence or if the beasts were all just at that level of strength. If it was the latter, then the situation deeper into the area would only be worse.

Rudy looked at the Crimson Tortoise excitedly.
The Crimson Tortoise was massive, and it was the size of a small hill. It had very thick limbs and a thick shell on its back.
Its whole body was fiery red, and the beast even had hair on its head that was made of fire. Its whole body felt like it was filled with explosive energy.
Rudy patted Jack on the shoulder excitedly. “This is practically a free meal for us! That guy in front won’t be able to beat the Crimson Tortoise.”
Jack nodded, standing in place as he waited for the Crimson Tortoise to come their way. Yet, he was surprised when the individual suddenly changed directions when they were getting closer.
The Crimson Tortoise behind him changed directions as well, heading toward the west.
Both Rudy and Jack were stunned.
They truly believed the figure and the tortoise would come their way so Jack could deal with the tortoise, yet they so abruptly switched directions midway.

Rudy got anxious at that. Their prize had been right in front of them before it literally walked away. There was no way he would be able to stand that.
He had just wanted to say something when they suddenly heard some swishing sounds next to them. Rudy looked over and saw three unique-looking warriors quickly speeding over from afar. In just a few moments, the warriors landed in front of them.
The one in front had a scar that went down to the bone. Of the two behind him, one of them had triangular eyes, while the other one had a large, flat face. The three of them were dressed up in third-grade world warrior attire and had excited looks on their faces as they stood in front of Jack and Rudy.
The scarred man had a large red sword in hand. He had a bloodthirsty smile as he said, “Not bad! It’s another fat sheep! The brat before this gave us five golden keys, and you’re giving us seven right away. Our profits today will be great!”
The scarred man laughed arrogantly as he looked at Jack.

He was completely bloodthirsty as if Jack was a lamb for slaughter that had been gifted to him. He looked like he wanted to just eat Jack. Rudy's lips twitched.
'Robbers, again…'
Still, this would work in their favor.
Jack smiled as he looked at the three in disdain.
"You sure are confident…"
The scarred man scoffed. "Brat, this isn't the outer region. You sound like you're skilled or something, but nothing you do will topple the three of us!"
The triangular-eyed man sneered as he added, "Big brother, why are you wasting time on them? Just kill them. All of the thirdgrade world trash that's slightly more talented will behave this way."
The scarred man raised an eyebrow. "I just feel like this guy is interesting. The brat next to him is clearly just a pest that doesn't even have a stable foundation. I wouldn't even want that guy as a slave, yet I can't see through this guy. It doesn't matter. No matter how skilled he is, he's still alone. How gutsy he is to come into the inner region alone!"
As he said that, the scarred man had an inquisitive tone to his voice.

Any warrior who managed to get here should not be stupid.
The inner region was incredibly dangerous, and everyone knew that. Even so, Jack came with nothing but a useless companion.
lf Jack was not immensely skilled for them both, then he was just plain stupid.
The scarred man was suddenly worried.
If Jack was hard to deal with, then would the situation not be bad for them?
The two behind him did not have the same realization. They just felt like there was no need to waste any time on Jack. They just wanted to kill him and move on to the next target.
The flat-faced man said in exasperation, “How could he be interesting? I can’t tell at all. All I see is an arrogant fool. He’s probably never been properly beaten up before. Let’s teach him a lesson and show him what kind of place this is!”

The two of them only had their eyes on the seven keys Jack had. They wanted to slay Jack swiftly so they could get them.

The scarred man frowned as he turned to look at the other two. “Just wait for a moment, there’s no reason to be in such a hurry.

Something is wrong with this guy.”

The triangular-eyed man said unhappily, “Please! You’re just being too careful. What kind of problems could this guy have? I, for one, feel like he deserves a beating! Let’s not waste more time. Let’s just deal with him and move on to our next target.”

The scarred man motioned for the triangular-eyed man to be quiet before he suddenly said, “Do you know Jack, brat?”

Jack was stunned when he heard that.

The scarred man was quite sharp, he tried to guess who he was.

Jack had a mask on and was moving in the inner region alone, so the scarred man could not help but wonder if he was the rumored man.

Jack’s name had been spread all around Chaos City, so much so that even the warriors that stood at the top of second-grade worlds were wary of him. His skills were not to be underestimated. A warrior like the scarred man was nothing in front of him!
Even though the scarred man felt like he was probably not that unlucky to meet someone like Jack, he still felt the need to ask.
Jack pursed his lips and slowly took off his mask. A familiar face suddenly appeared in front of all three of them.
The three of them were immediately stunned. Their jaws slackened, and they were so shocked that their jaws were about to hit the ground. The scarred man slapped his face, cursing his rotten mouth.
It was Jack!
He was that unlucky, and they even ran their mouths claiming his keys were theirs for the taking!
At that moment, the scarred man saw himself as a total fool.
Jack was above them all. Even though there were three of them and Jack was alone, they were still no match for Jack.
The other party could kill them off easily, and that was the undeniable truth. They were the ones who would be giving their keys to Jack.

The scarred man felt like he was about to stop breathing. His whole body trembled.
The triangular-eyed man’s lips twitched. “Am I seeing things? Why do I feel like I just met that bringer of disaster, that he’s right in front of us? Am I dreaming?”
The triangular-eyed man felt like crying at that moment.
The scarred man was not even in the mood to answer.
He stepped back and shouted out, “Run! Get away!”
As he shouted, he summoned his true energy and frantically fled. Unfortunately, Jack would not give them the chance to live.
Anyone who dared to rob him would pay the price.
Jack quickly formed seals, and the Soul Burst Ring immediately appeared in front of him. The Soul Burst Ring spun rapidly, and Jack let out a cold laugh as he pushed his hands forward, sending the ring at the three of them.
The ring expanded in the air, suddenly covering the three of them.
Seconds later, a deafening explosion resonated throughout the skies. The three of them were blown to dust, and only their golden keys remained. The golden keys were made of special materials. Even if Jack’s technique was at the storm-god rank, it could still not damage the keys.

Jack smirked as he looked at the 15 keys scattered on the ground and slowly walked over to collect them. Coupled with the 13 keys he had, Jack had 28 golden keys.
Rudy laughed excitedly. “We’ve managed to get twenty-eight golden keys, and it didn’t even take that long. I thought you’d need to spend an entire day to reach this number. I don’t get angry at all when I see people coming to kill us. After all, they’re practically giving away their golden keys to us.”

Chapter 3555

Jack lifted his head and looked around before he told Rudy, “We continue forward.”

The moment that was said, they heard heavy footsteps from ahead, and it was obvious that it was not a human’s. It must be from a massive-sized beast.

Jack once again looked over, seeing an Ice Toad leaping over from afar.

Strangely enough, someone was in front of the Ice Toad, which reminded them of the figure with the Crimson Tortoise. Jack frowned, immediately feeling like something was off.

“There’s another one, and there’s someone in front of this one too,” remarked Rudy warily. “What is happening?”

What made Jack and Rudy even more curious was the fact that the massive toad actually changed directions as well, going in the same direction as the Crimson Tortoise. Even Rudy realized something was wrong.

“There has to be a problem,” insisted Rudy. “Something’s happening! Jack, let’s go take a look!”

Jack nodded. “Let’s go there right now.”

The two of them increased their pace, following the massive Ice Toad. The toad was not that quick, so the two of them were able to follow closely behind.
There were positives and negatives about massive beasts.
Normally, the larger beasts were very sturdy and strong, but they rarely moved quickly on account of their size.
To not attract attention, Jack and Rudy made sure to keep some distance. The two of them followed the Ice Toad for four kilometers, and everything the persona and the beast did were seen by them.
Rudy's eyes widened as he said, "Is he activating a transmission rune?! This person is strange. I feel like he's not that slow. If he wanted to flee, it wouldn't be too difficult…"
"He just keeps running forward and attacking behind him, angering the Ice Toad before he quickens his speed to avoid the toad's attack. After that, he'll slow down and keep an even pace. It's like he's just luring the beast forward, but where to?"
Jack frowned, suddenly having a thought in his mind.

To keep the element of surprise, the two of them kept their distance, so he could not see what that person was wearing and if they were from a second or third-grade world. Regardless, something was amiss with that individual.
Rudy frowned and asked, “What do you think he’s saying through the transmission rune?”
Jack took a deep breath as he continued forward, saying in a low voice, “He might be trying to confirm his location. After all, there’s still a Crimson Tortoise that’s around the same level. The fact that they’re acting similarly means they must have the same goal. I wonder whose plan this is…”
Rudy nodded, feeling like Jack was right. The man probably tried to determine the other person’s location.
Rudy had various thoughts in his mind, but he was not as smart as Jack.
After a long time, he could not figure it out. “What exactly are they doing? Jack, do you know?”
Jack shook his head. “I have some guesses, but without any evidence, I can’t be sure. Let’s not throw out any wild guesses.
We’ll see where they’re going.”

Time slowly ticked away. Two hours passed before the Ice Toad finally slowed down. The person in front of the toad once again started to communicate. This time, he activated two transmission runes at the same time, seemingly making a final confirmation.
Jack did not want to get too close, so he started to slow down.
Rudy frowned and said, “It should be around here, but I don’t see anything at all. I don’t even see that Crimson Tortoise.”

• • •

The moment Rudy said that, a rumble could be heard from ahead of them. Lifting his head, he spotted the Crimson Tortoise he had just talked about.

The massive shell was filled with red-colored seals, and its whole body was surrounded by heat waves. In front of the Crimson Tortoise was a man in gray robes, the man they had seen.

Rudy's lips twitched. "It's a plot! This is definitely a plot!"

Anyone would have been able to figure that out. It was just that Rudy could not understand why they were doing that. He anxiously pulled at his hair, and his heart was beating rapidly, getting more and more anxious as he thought about it.

Rudy looked at the two that were far away. "Those two are warriors from second-grade worlds, and they must be plotting against those from third-grade worlds. Surely we can't just do nothing about it!"

After that was said, Rudy shut his mouth and held his tongue. Even though the two of them were from Hestia, a third-grade world, they could not stick their hands into everything as though they were saviors of third-grade worlds.
The other warriors from third-grade worlds would not truly appreciate them, anyway. It was a world where the strong were worshiped; hard work got nothing. When there were no benefits for themselves, it was better to not interfere with anything.
Jack turned to look at Rudy. “We’ll look at the situation for now, but let’s keep following them. If we’re patient enough, we might gain something. We came here for ourselves, not to save anyone. It’s not like anyone will thank you for it, anyway.”
Rudy hurriedly nodded, no longer daring to say anything.
The two that were far away started to close in. The one in front of the Ice Toad made a hand signal to the one in front of the Crimson Tortoise.
Jack and Rudy could see the other man nodding. The man in front of the Ice Toad immediately changed directions to head southeast.

The one with the Crimson Tortoise went northeast. The two of them seemed to be heading in two different directions at a 45-degree angle, but Jack was almost sure that they were headed to the same place.
Rudy said anxiously, “Jack, they separated. Who are we going to follow?”
Jack took a deep breath as his eyes darted around. Various thoughts formed in his head. It was an important moment. If he was not careful, he could very well lead himself to disaster. He needed to keep absolutely calm to make the best decision.
After a few moments of silence, Jack pointed forward. “We won’t follow either of them. We’ll go east!”
Rudy was stunned. His lips froze, and he was going to ask the reason.
However, Jack did not plan on explaining as he shot forward, going as quickly as he could toward the east.
Rudy opened his mouth but did not say anything in the end, only following Jack.
He was sure that Jack knew where to go, but not the reason they were going there. He did not know why Jack made the decision. It was clear that following one of the two was the safest choice, but Jack never made the wrong decision before.

Rudy swallowed his questions.
As they proceeded eastward, Rudy was surprised to notice that the wastelands were starting to change in shape. Small hills began to be seen. The ground was uneven as if it had been smashed out by something.
Rudy looked down to inspect it as he went forward. Some of those craters were formed by attacks, while some were natural.
They were heading trite toward the east, which happened to be right at the center of Chaos City.

It meant that they were constantly advancing deeper into Chaos City.

Rudy remembered what those people had said. The inner region was in complete chaos, and a few people had perished inside. Warriors below average did not dare to go in.

Even those who were slightly stronger did not dare to stay there for so long, while a lot of warriors frantically escaped the place.

Those words played in Rudy’s heart. The more he thought about it, the more worried he got. Even though Jack was powerful, he could be threatened if there were too many people. Rudy was worried that their opponents would pull off petty schemes. That way, he really wondered if they could get out of it.

He sighed, telling himself that he could not possibly convince Jack to turn back. Moving forward was the only option.

Just as he was thinking about all of that, Jack suddenly stopped. He turned and grabbed Rudy’s arm. The two of them landed back on the ground.

Rudy said nothing as he followed Jack down. When he landed, he finally realized how special this place was. The ground might be completely barren without even a single blade of grass, but it was still uneven. The craters were one thing, but there were a lot of hills in front to obstruct their vision as well.
He looked up and could only see a few dozen meters around him. If he wanted to look further, he would need to go up in the air.
Jack frowned and said, “Two kilometers forward, I see eight warriors from third-grade worlds gathering. They’re doing something, but I can’t tell what it is.”
Rudy blinked and asked in confusion, “I doubt the warriors from third-grade worlds would do anything to us if we flew over, so why did we stop?”
Jack took a deep breath, and there was a cold glint in his eyes as he said, “I think they’re the targets.”
Rudy was stunned at that, not understanding what Jack said.
Jack grabbed Rudy’s shoulder. “Don’t ask for now. You’ll find out soon.”

Rudy nodded and shut his mouth. After another five minutes, he suddenly heard a familiar rumbling as heavy limbs stepped on the ground.
Rudy’s eyes widened. “It’s true! Should we go up and take a look?”
The moment he said that, there was more rumbling coming from the exact opposite direction of where the first sound came from.
A massive object was rapidly heading toward them.
Jack was right. The two humans in front of the beasts were aiming forthis place, and their target was the eight warriors.
Jack took a deep breath, rushing forward. “Let’s go take a look!”
Rudy nodded, following Jack as they quickly headed toward where those eight were.
***
Dagda King opened up his flask and took a few gulps of alcohol. His face was a bit red, and there was hatred in his eyes.
“Those shameless, despicable men. They’re so depraved that they’ll stop at nothing!”
Airn, who was next to Dagda, frowned and said, “Are we just going to wait and see? They’ll do something to us, and all we can do is react instead of fighting back? Didn’t we win that major battle before this? Those guys must’ve suffered heavy losses!”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3558

• • •

“Of course, if Jack hadn’t appeared, we might’ve lost, but a win is still a win. It bolstered our morale, so why are we afraid now? If we work together and make them suffer a loss again, they won’t dare to cross the line!”
All eight of them were from the third-grade world, the Fire Continent. They were very famous, and all of them were among the top of the continent. They were proud of themselves, and anyone from the Fire Continent was respectful of them.
However, ever since they entered the Whirling World, they found themselves suffering more each day. So many warriors were stronger than them, especially those from second-grade worlds who insulted them at every chance.
It was not like all the warriors from second-grade worlds were stronger than them either. In fact, most of the warriors from second-grade worlds were not even a match for them. However, those warriors still loved to gloat and show off, which disgusted the eight of them.

The eight of them had formed a team within Chaos Continent. Even though they had earned quite a bit, it had not been smooth sailing. Thankfully, the eight of them united made a solid team, so they had not suffered major losses. It was just that they were unsettled, and the fear of the future caused them to be in a bad mood.
Dagda looked at Airn. “In the end, the third-grade worlds are lacking a true leader. We’re all scattered, and everyone is afraid of losing something. Unless they’re forced to the limits, there’s no way they’d work together against the second-grade worlds.”
“This place is also close to the deepest part of the inner region. All the warriors here are incredibly strong yet even more petty than average. Working with them would be even more difficult. For those reasons, it’ll be very difficult to fight back against the second-grade worlds!”
A man in green robes who was next to Airn was a fellow disciple of Dagda’s. That person had a sad look on his face.
“The ones who are the strongest don’t care about everyone else at all. Even if all the warriors from third-grade worlds died before them, they wouldn’t care as long as they could benefit from it. After all, they’re all selfish, and regular warriors already know that.

Other than Jack, the regular warriors don’t have any hope for the strongest warriors at all.”
The moment Jack was mentioned, the eight of them had a new topic of conversation.
Airn raised an eyebrow and asked, “I heard that Jack is from Hestia, the continent surrounded by a special barrier. If not for the Whirling World, they would still be cut off from the other worlds. I heard that resources are incredibly scarce there…”
“They don’t really interact with other worlds as well. Other than Jack, all of them are very mundane. Do you think Jack is the diamond among coal? Maybe Jack is just an unknown variable, or maybe he has some secrets.” Dagda shook his head. “Who knows? We’re just guessing right now. It’s not like we’ve seen Jack before. Honestly, I really want to meet him. I feel like he must have a very unique past.”
The man in the green robes shook his head. “Let’s forget about Jack for now. We should think about what we’re doing next. I don’t think we can stay here anymore. Who knows what will happen if we do? It will probably not be anything good…”

“When we came over, didn’t we see so many corpses on the road? None of them looked like their death was easy. It’s obvious they were tortured by warriors from second-grade worlds for Heartblood.”

“They killed so many at once and put them so obviously for all to see. Isn’t that just to make sure that warriors from third-grade worlds see it to inspire fire and cause us to produce even more Heartblood?!”
Saying that, the green-robed man’s face soured. He gritted his teeth, and there was hate in his eyes.
“Those dogs… They should all go to hell!”
As time passed, the inner region’s battles grew even more intense. The number of deaths rose rapidly, and the warriors from second-grade worlds used even more ruthless methods.
Many warriors from third-grade worlds had died. Just thinking about that made the eight of them furious.
Unfortunately, even with the eight of them together, they were unable to get revenge. If they were not careful, they might even die.
Dagda sighed. “Let’s go in a bit and leave this place…”

Dagda was the strongest among the eight of them, followed by Airn. Thus, the two of them made all the decisions. Dagda decided to leave, and among the other seven, four of them silently agreed. The other three, however, seemed not too pleased with the decision.
One of them said, “I feel like we don’t have to be in such a hurry. I know it’s very dangerous inside, but we’re only on the outskirts. We aren’t really going that deep. Even though it’s dangerous here as well, the danger level isn’t as high.”
“The inner region’s deepest parts are the true hell. I know that this place will slowly become incredibly dangerous too, but it’s still safe now. We’ll have to leave eventually, but it’s probably not right now. We’ve been here for a week, but we haven’t even gotten fifteen golden keys on average.”
“Even if we’ll get some good things, I still feel a bit reluctant to leave right now. It’s a bit of a pity. Even if this place is dangerous, there are a lot of opportunities here too. If we stay for a bit more, we’ll be able to get more keys. Why don’t you think about it again, Dagda?”

When he finished saying that, the other two nodded in agreement.
In the end, they were not very happy with the number of golden keys they earned. They would only reap more rewards if they had more keys.
They had taken such a huge risk, and had fought so many battles and experienced so much, but they were just going to bring a little over ten keys back. They were a bit reluctant to accept that.
The others who agreed with Dagda were not very happy as well, but they were more worried about the dangers they might meet if they remained there. If they encountered anything they could not handle, there would be nothing they could do about it.
Dagda sighed. “I know what you’re all thinking, but I’ve made my decision after much deliberation. We can’t stay here anymore.
Those dogs will just get more vicious…”
“Don’t forget how much Heartblood is needed to open the Radiant Hall. Tons and tons need to be poured into it. They should’ve gathered quite a bit already, but it’s still far from enough. If the circumstances permitted if, they’d even kill their own. For the Radiant Hall, they've thrown everything else aside, focusing on doing everything they can to obtain the Heartblood. It's just too dangerous to stay here."

The three of them exchanged looks of helplessness. After thinking about it, they nodded.
Dagda was right. No matter what happened, the warriors from second-grade worlds would probably not give up on opening the Radiant Hall.
It was said that the Radiant Hall had treasures that could even strengthen a person from their very roots. Those treasures were incredibly valuable.

• • •

Right at that moment, they suddenly heard rumbling from a distance. It was like massive hooves were racing across the grounds.

They noticed it at the same time, and all of them stood up to look into the distance. Yet, their vision had been obscured by the hills.

Dagda frowned as he patted Airn on the back. “I’ll go take a look. All of you, wait here!”

The moment he said that, Dagda shot up into the air to look at the situation. Looking around, Dagda’s heart almost jumped out of his chest

A mature Crimson Tortoise was rushing toward them from the left, while a massive Ice Toad was leaping their way from the right.

There was even a Red Fox Beast charging at them from behind.

The three beasts all had warriors who were wearing the same clothes in front of them, leading the beasts with the eight warriors at the center!

Dagda’s face darkened, immediately realizing how bad the situation was. It reeked of a plot.
The eight of them had probably been targeted by the warriors from second-grade worlds. Their Heartbloods were probably the cause of this ambush.
About one kilometer away from Dagda, Jack and Rudy stood on a hill, frowning as they looked right at Dagda’s direction. They could see Dagda in the air at that moment.
“It’s true after all. This is really happening!” exclaimed Rudy anxiously. “To kill others, there’s nothing they won’t do!”
Right after he said that, Rudy turned to look at Jack. He wanted to ask Jack if they should save those eight pitiful warriors, but he swallowed his words before he said that. He did not want to disturb Jack’s thoughts.
Jack narrowed his eyes. “This isn’t right. We can’t be reckless right now.”
Rudy looked at Jack curiously. “What’s wrong?”
Jack took a deep breath as he turned to look around. However, the hills obstructed most of his vision, and he could not see anything at all.
He frowned, thinking about it seriously. “In the first place, they shouldn’t be doing all this just to kill those people.”

Jack was incredibly sure as he said that, and Rudy blinked, asking, “And why isn’t killing their sole purpose? What else do they want? Could they be aiming for Heartblood?” Jack nodded, answering, “Their main aim should be to get Heartblood. Let me ask you, how have the warriors from secondgrade worlds been treating the warriors from third-grade worlds? Do they hate the warriors from third-grade worlds as much as the other way around?”
Rudy thought about it earnestly and shook his head. “No. There’s not much hatred in it. The warriors from second-grade worlds just treat third-grade-world warriors as lambs for slaughter. They see warriors from third-grade worlds as livestock, and nothing comes from true hatred.”
Jack took a deep breath and nodded honestly. “That’s why there’s something wrong.”

When that was said, they suddenly heard a few explosions.
Jack and Rudy immediately looked toward the source of the explosions. The three beasts had already started fighting with the eight warriors, and energy waves of various colors could be seen. Even if it was a distance away, Jack could tell that those eight warriors were no match for the three beasts.
After all, those three beasts were not weak. Their natural born techniques were at the middle ultimate god rank. If the three beasts were warriors then, they would stand at the top of the hierarchy.
The eight warriors might not be weak, but they were still not at the level of those three beasts. Thankfully, they had numbers so they started with an equal playing field. However, that would not last long and would soon be quickly destroyed.
Rudy frowned and said anxiously, “What’s wrong with the situation? Jack, my brain is full right now. Just tell me. I can’t figure it out.”

Jack nodded, “Heartblood can only be collected when a person is alive. Once they die, it would be of no value no matter how much is collected. So, they have to keep those warriors alive if they want Heartblood…”
“Those beasts aren’t warriors from second-grade worlds. The beast has a natural animosity toward humans. The moment the beasts attack, they attack to kill their foes. If they kill the humans, they would also get blood beads. I already said it, those warriors want to collect Heartblood, they aren’t just looking to kill.”
Rudy understood it immediately. If they were aiming for Heartblood, then they would need to guarantee that the group of eight was not killed by the beasts. However, there was no way those there would be able to accomplish that. That was why Jack said there was something wrong with the situation and did not attack immediately.
Rudy said seriously, “So, you think people are lying in wait here?”
Jack took a deep breath, “Yes! It’s no Ionger just a suspicion. I’m already sure of it. The two who were leading the beasts earlier had been constantly communicating to exchange their locations, but they should have been communicating with the other warriors from second-grade worlds as well.”

Jack paused as he narrowed his eyes and continued, “This is such a huge plot, but it’s only targeting those eight warriors. Even if they kill all eight of those warriors and gather all the Heartblood, there are still some things I can’t figure out…”

Rudy widened his eyes, “I think it’s very worth it! Jack, just think about it. The eight of them have quite a lot of golden keys. When the eight of them die, not only would you get the Heartblood, but the golden keys as well…”

“The three beasts aren’t cheap either! After killing the eight warriors, I doubt they’ll let those beasts off!”

Jack turned around in surprise. He nodded slightly, “You’re right! You hit it right on the head. The eight of them are definitely the goal, but the three beasts are as well. After killing the three beasts, not only would they get rewards, the beasts have cores that can also be sold at high prices. It’s definitely worth it!”

Rudy nodded. Jack narrowed his eyes and looked around, “Let’s not go over. We should look for the ones that are hiding first!”

Bang!

The fox swiped on the ground, sending up a dust cloud.

Thankfully, Dagda had been quick to dodge, or it would have been his blood instead of dust!

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3562

• • •

The Red Fox Beast was incredibly hard to deal with. It was quick and its claws were incredibly sharp. Regular weapons could do nothing against the claws at all.

Dagda clenched his teeth and his eyes reddened. He clutched his left arm. No matter how fast he dodged, he had still been injured by the sharp claws even though he did not get killed by the fox.

Thankfully, the wound was not too deep and did not affect his ability to fight. However, it meant that this battle would not last too long. There might be eight of them, but they were still no match for the three beasts.

Beasts had never lived together harmoniously, but when they faced the same opponents, they would work together.

Airn wiped off the sweat from her forehead. The Crimson Tortoise’s natural-born technique was nothing to be trifled with.

Every time it used the technique, it would dramatically increase the temperature. Earlier, he had just narrowly avoided a blast, but he still failed to avoid the high temperatures. If he had not dodged far enough, even his eyebrows would have been burned.

The eight warriors were all in a circle. They worked together to fight and left no holes. That was the only way they had barely managed to hold on.
Airn panted while saying, “Dagda! Figure something out! We can’t hold on much longer. We won’t be able to beat them. We have to escape!”
Dagda nodded, he was looking for a chance as well. They were being attacked in three directions by the beasts, so the only way for them to escape was toward the south.
However, the three warriors from second-grade worlds were standing there and looking on coldly. Dagda did not know how strong those three were, but they were definitely not slow. They must have learned some highly ranked speed techniques which was why the three beasts had not managed to catch up. The eight of them ended up being the targets instead.
The three warriors did not leave and merely watched on coldly. It was obvious that the three of them had deliberately lured those beasts there.

If the eight warriors escaped in that direction, they would definitely be stopped. Then, they would face attacks from all four sides, and the situation would be disastrous.
The person behind Dagda was the one who had voiced out against leaving before. That person had a sour look on his face, “I regret everything so much! I can’t believe these guys are so despicable. Even before he stepped into the deeper parts of the inner region, they’re still using such despicable methods against us!”
Dagda shouted out, “Is it the time to say this? Just shut up!”
Four hundred meters away from the battle, there was an intricately laid concealment formation.
The formation had three people inside who were coldly observing the battle. They were waiting for the perfect moment when both sides were heavily injured. Then, they would rush out and attack both sides with the other three.
The six of them would be able to get everything they wanted. The one standing at the front was Goran Minsk, from the secondgrade world, Triflame Continent.
Behind him were his fellow disciples, Morrison and Reyes.

Goran raised an eyebrow and said, “I think they’ll be able to last for five more minutes. Do any of you want to take a bet? I’ll bet three golden keys.”
Morrison smiled and shook his head, saying, “Goran, you’re too rich. You just took out three golden keys to bet just like that. I can’t afford it. If I lose, I’d be gutted.” Reyes scoffed at Morrison, saying with disdain, “And you get so unhappy when I call you stingy. Can you really not afford three golden keys? You have over thirty on you. You’re already feeling the pain with just a tenth of your keys.” Morrison’s lips twitched as he looked at Reyes unhappily, “I don’t spend recklessly as you do. I just like to take care of my money properly. Three more golden keys might actually get me a higher-ranked treasure. It might be worth several times more.” Ryees scoffed, “Dream on! Do you think the ones who designed the Whirling World are idiots? With just three keys, you want a whole different level of treasures?!”

“Do you really think your intelligence can compare to the ancient heroes? It’s one thing to talk about it when it’s just us, but make sure you don’t let any outsiders hear you. Otherwise, they’ll definitely laugh at you. They’ll even wonder if there’s something wrong with your head. They’ll start questioning how people even get into our clan.”

The moment that was said, Morrison was practically stomping his foot in anger.

His face reddened as he pointed at Reyes, “What did you say, you…”

Before he could finish, he was interrupted by Goran, “Alright, both of you shut up! Why are you fighting right now?”

Just as they were quarreling, Jack slowly closed in on their position with his mask on. With the concealment formation, the three of them could not be seen by anyone outside at all. That piece of land would seem completely empty. Of course, that was if the other side did not touch the formation.

The moment it was touched or anyone walked into the area, they would feel something wrong. Anyone with higher soul energies would even be able to see through it immediately.
When the three of them saw that someone was there, they immediately shut their mouths as they stared at the person. That person had green robes on and a white mask. He was alone, and there did not seem to be anything off about him.
It was just that the person was walking slowly as if he was just sightseeing. They were less than a few hundred meters away from the battle. Anyone would be able to hear what was going on.
Goran raised an eyebrow as he coldly looked at Jack, observing his every move.
Jack had clearly heard what was happening.
Any normal person would have gone to check on the sounds, but this person did not seem to be in a hurry at all. No matter how intense the explosions got, the person did not seem to react at all.
Walking past the concealment formation, Jack did not avert his gaze as he continued walking forward.
Seeing no reaction from Jack, Goran relaxed.

That person was probably just passing by, and would not interrupt their plans. Goran decided against doing anything about it.
Jack had gone around in one big circle before returning to his original spot, and Rudy had remained hidden the whole time.
When he saw that Jack was back, he ran over excitedly.
“Did you find them? You went over so boldly, did you really not alert them?”
Jack walked to Rudy’s side, “I found them! Don’t worry, they won’t be alerted. Those people have big plans, so they would have planned everything. There’s no way they would just hide in a corner. They would have to put up a concealment formation…” “Those on the inside could see outside, but those on the outside would not be able to see inside. If I was a normal warrior, I would not have found their hiding spot but it’s because I’m no normal warrior. A simple concealment formation like that is full of weaknesses.”
Rudy widened his eyes. He had never heard of any weaknesses before. In his eyes, a concealment formation was an incredibly high-ranked one. It was incredibly valuable as well.

Furthermore, he had seen in books before that it was impossible to notice without actually touching it or having high soul energy.
Why was it full of weaknesses in Jack’s eyes instead?
It was a completely different evaluation.
Was he just inexperienced?
In truth, it was not that Rudy was inexperienced. It was not just he, even warriors from third or second-grade worlds would not have understood Jack.
Jack only said there were a lot of weaknesses with the help of the memories he had obtained. With those memories, the concealment formation was useless in his eyes.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3564

After all, Jack’s memories were from experts at the peak of a first-grade world. Those experts had to go through a lot to get to their level. What they had seen and experienced was not something normal warriors would ever encounter.
Those guys thought that their concealment formation would be able to block anyone’s perception, but in his eyes, it was completely useless. Concealment formations had a unique energy fluctuation. Jack’s soul was incredibly strong, and he immediately felt it.
The spot of the formation did not seem to fit with the surrounding area. Simple formations like that would be impossible to deal with by anyone else, but they were just filled with holes in Jack’s eyes.
Just by using his soul to change a few of the energy runes, he would be able to see inside immediately.
He had clearly seen those three observing him in earnest. The three of them had robes that were special to warriors of secondgrade worlds. On top of that, it was easy to tell from the pride on their faces that they were no ordinary warriors, and were not weak.

Rudy stood there quietly, looking at Jack’s ever-changing expressions.
He frowned and said anxiously, “They won’t hold on for much longer! Should we go help them?”
Explosions were constantly heard ahead, and various waves of energy constantly clashed in the air. The eight warriors were getting weaker and weaker. Even if they were barely holding on, Rudy was sure that they would not be able to last much longer.
If they did not do anything, it would be impossible to save those eight warriors. However, when Rudy said that, he felt a bit guilty.
He was feeling anxious, but he could not help at all. They would need to rely on Jack to turn the tables.
Rudy pursed his lips, suddenly feeling like he was completely useless.
Just as he wanted to retract his words, Jack suddenly said, “Go into Mustard Seed for now. Leave the rest to me!”
After that, Jack waved, and a dense power of space started to wrap around Rudy, suddenly causing Rudy to disappear.

They were in a dangerous area after all. If a strong warrior spotted Rudy along the way and decided to kill him, there was no way Rudy could even fight back. After all, Rudy's skills were only sufficient for level nine cities.
Jack turned to look at the distant battle. At that moment, all eight warriors were already injured, and they seemed to all be barely holding on.
He could even tell that the strongest one among the eight was clenching his teeth with reddened eyes.
Jack sighed as he activated the laws of space, disappearing from the spot.
Dagda's hands trembled slightly. The pain in his arm told him he was losing time. If he did not end the battle quickly, than he would not be able to bear his injuries anymore. It might just end up dying right there!
Airn's eyes were red.
He had already planned for the worst, "Dagda! We have to launch our final assault or we won't have any more time! We've already expended at least a third of our true energy. If we keep going like this, we'll just die! No matter what, we should at least try something. Even if we have to die, at least we'll die a good death!"

Dagda looked at Aim emotionally. Various emotions were running through his head. His memories constantly surfaced. He had left his family to participate in his clan’s tests, and from his talent, he had become an inner disciple, slowly climbing upward.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3565

Many geniuses had lost to him on his road to improving himself before he became a chosen disciple, and was sent to the Whirling World by his clan. He still remembered what the head of his clan told him before he left.
He was told to watch out for danger. Even though there were opportunities where there was danger, he still needed to watch out for himself.
His life was the most important. He was told to make sure he left the Whirling World alive. He had assured everyone that he would not disappoint them and that he would become someone truly strong after going through the Whirling World.
Those dreams he once had were quickly disappearing. Even though he did not want to admit it, the reality was right in front of them.
The chances of them making it out alive was probably only at thirty percent. Even thirty percent could be considered an overestimation. The other warriors around him were also starting to tear up.

They could guess what the results were as well.
Death was something they found hard to accept.
Even though they knew that the Whirling World was a place filled with death, they felt true fear when it was right in front of them.
Dagda took a deep breath and forced himself to throw those thoughts aside.
He shouted out, “We can’t go on like this. I’ve already looked at them just now, and the Crimson Tortoise should be the weakest one. It’s our only chance, so listen to my orders later!”
The green-robed man was on the verge of tears, “I feel like it’s too dangerous! We might not be able to do it!”
He really was scared at that point. After all, it was the most dangerous situation he had ever been in.
Airn’s lips stiffened as he turned around to glare at the green-robed man coldly, “This is our last chance! Toss your fear aside.
Even if we die, we have to at least try!”
Airn’s words stirred their hearts.
All eight of them clenched their teeth as they tried to compose themselves, waiting for Dagda’s orders.
Dagda stabbed his sword forward again, and a red glow shot out right at the Ice Toad’s massive tongue.

The Ice Toad’s tongue could shoot out as far as twenty meters. There was a sticky and disgusting liquid on it, and it was also incredibly frosty. The liquid would stick to anything the tongue hits, and ice would form around the place it touches. Unless they tore away their flesh, they would be completely wrapped up by the long tongue, never able to get out.
Forcing the tongue back, Dagda panted. At that moment, he was still recovering his strength. Right as he was at his weakest, the fox launched forward to strike him.
Dagda’s expression darkened. It was very possible that he would not be able to avoid that strike.
Airn was on the other end, and would not be able to get to him.
The green-robed man who was closest to Dagda immediately helped. However, before the man could even do anything, two fireballs the size of his fists were launched at him.
The green-robed man was forced to defend himself, losing the chance to help Dagda.
Dagda’s heart chilled at that, feeling that getting struck by the fox would at least cause him to lose half of his fighting capabilities.

In such a serious situation, it was as good as losing a whole limb. He had lost sight of any chance at victory. Yet, no matter how dire the situation was, Dagda did not want to give up just like that. He held his breath and planned on blocking the fox.

• • •

At that moment, the fox’s head was incredibly close to Dagda. Its sinister eyes were filled with murderous intent.

Its sharp claws hit Dagda’s sword, and Dagda could clearly hear his sword starting to crack the moment it was hit as if it was about to crumble.

Dagda closed his eyes, knowing that he was at his limits.

He took a deep breath and summoned up all his strength, “I’ll fight you to the death! Even if I die, I’ll make sure to cause you some serious injury first!”

Dagda was already prepared to risk everything, but an intense howling wind was suddenly heard coming from afar. Right after that, he heard the fox cry out in agony.

Dagda suddenly opened his eyes. He saw a man in dark green robes holding a gray sword in hand, hitting the claws away in one blow. The fox’s main weapons were its sharp claws. That man had actually sliced the fox’s right claw in half from one strike!

Blood splattered everywhere. Dagda had not been able to react at all when the blood splattered all over his body. A thick smell assaulted his nose, but it did not affect Dagda at all. Dagda looked at that man as if he was looking at a god.
The others finally reacted as well. All of them widened their eyes as they looked at that man in surprise!
Airn could not help but say, “So strong!”
They had fought the fox for so long and had not been able to do any significant damage to the fox at all. Yet, that man had sliced away one of the fox’s claws the moment the man attacked. The gulf between them was obvious.
Dagda’s voice was a bit hoarse, but he still said, “Thank you so much!”
Jack turned around and nodded slightly, not saying anything.
The three warriors from second-grade worlds who were looking on could not remain calm at that moment.
The three of them had tried so hard to lure those beasts there so the three beasts and eight warriors would battle it out and end up injured so they could reap the benefits.
Yet, someone had suddenly appeared and disrupted their plans.

The one in the middle was a short-haired man. The short-haired man stared coldly at Jack, and his eyes were full of anger.
Jack scoffed at the short-haired man.
Jack was a man of principle. If the other side did not do anything to him, then it did not matter if they were from third or secondgrade worlds, He could not attack them first. However, this time, he had been disgusted by their despicable methods.
Those arrogant men had always treated warriors from third-grade worlds as prey that they could do anything with. The methods they used were so underhanded. Other than those incredibly selfish warriors from third-grade worlds, anyone else would not be able to remain calm at the sight.
The short-haired man let out a smile of disdain as he looked at the other party. Jack wore a mask, so he could only see Jack's cold eyes.
The short-haired man said, "You're a bit skilled, but don't be too happy! No matter how skilled you are, you won't be able to get out of this alive since you decided to interfere. You'll die here just like those eight pieces oftrash. It'll be the price you pay for interfering with us."

No 1 Supreme Warrior

The short-haired man’s tone was incredibly cold. When the eight warriors heard that, their expressions darkened greatly.

Airn shouted, ”You’re the ones who shouldn’t be so pleased with yourselves! Even if I have to die today, I’ll make sure you pay the iron price!”

Air felt like he was going to blow up from his anger. Those guys talked in such a disgusting manner. At that moment, he truly did want to put his life on the line to make those three pay.

Jack smirked, not saying anything. The others could not understand what the short-haired man actually meant, but he understood. Other than those three, there were still another three who were hiding in a concealment formation not far away.

If the six of them attacked together, it really would be difficult. It was because of that, the short-haired man was acting so arrogantly.

However, Jack did not mind. Even with another three, he would still have the ability to make them pay a painful price!

The fox temporarily stopped attacking after half of its claw was lost. It retreated and licked its wounds, but its eyes were full of rage. Jack had thoroughly angered the beast, and with the beast's temperament, there was no way it would let Jack off.

It suited Jack perfectly. The other two beasts had stopped for the moment because of what happened as well. The intense battlefield suddenly turned strangely quiet, but everyone there knew that it was just a temporary peace. It would not take that long for the peace to be broken!

The three in the concealment formation were stunned when Jack appeared. After all, Jack had just passed by earlier and did not seem to act strangely at all. Yet, Jack had suddenly appeared just like that, which caught them off guard.

Reyes frowned and said, "What is happening?! Why did this guy suddenly appear there?! Wasn't he moving forward? Why did he suddenly turn around? Did he suddenly change his mind? Was he not planning on interfering, but ended up deciding to?"

Morrison turned and rolled his eyes at Reyes, “What are you even saying? He’s already on the battlefield anyway, so what’s the point of trying to figure out why? Right now, we need to figure out how to deal with this!”
Reyes was speechless after Morrison’s words.
Goran sighed and said, “Is this the time to fight? Keep quiet!”
Morrison knew how to read the mood and immediately decided against continuing to exchange words with Reyes.
He said, “What do we do now? Should we go there right now? I feel like the other three might not be able to handle the situation.
That guy doesn’t seem weak. He managed to slice the fox’s claws in one slash. That’s not something an ordinary warrior can do.”
Goran nodded as various thoughts surfaced in his head.
After a moment, he said coldly, “We’ll wait a bit more! This isn’t the time to strike! We need to wait until both sides are heavily injured before we reap the benefits, and not join in too early, dragging ourselves inside. The three of us aren’t as fast as the other three. If we join now, we could very well end up injured. Don’t forget what we’re meant to do, and don’t forget our goal.”

Morrison nodded seriously, feeling like Goran was right! The situation was not that bad at the moment.
Jack turned to look at Dagda.
At that moment, his back was facing the three warriors, and only the eight warriors from third-grade worlds were facing him.

Chapter 3568

Jack lowered his voice and said quickly, “Listen to my orders after this!”

Jack had said it incredibly quickly, and normally, the other side would hesitate. He could clearly tell that Dagda had some hesitation on his face.

It was expected. Even though Jack had just saved him, it was not like Dagda would completely believe Jack. After all, Dagda was also afraid of being used as cannon fodder. In this situation, it would be incredibly easy to sacrifice the eight of them.

Even though Jack could see Dagda’s hesitation, Dagda still nodded after a few seconds of silence. There was no other way around it. Without Jack around, he might have already lost the ability to fight, and the eight of them would have met a cruel death.

Jack raised an eyebrow as he raised his hand to take off his mask. His face was completely revealed to the eight of them.

When they saw Jack’s face, all of them widened their eyes. Airn gaped, feeling incredibly stunned!

Dagda almost lost his voice, “It’s you…”
It turns out to be Jack!
The Jack that regular warriors from third-grade worlds all regarded as a hero. He had saved the warriors from third-grade worlds more than once but was like a lone wolf that rarely moved in any groups.
After accomplishing something, Jack would immediately disappear. No one knew where he was going. They could not believe how lucky they were to meet Jack at such a crucial moment!
Airn was starting to breathe heavily. He admired Jack a lot. He knew that Jack was from Hestia Continent.
The fact that Jack managed to reach such heights in terms of skills truly was worthy of respect. Even if Jack had some secrets, he still needed to rely on his own talent.
Jack frowned and said, “Don’t act surprised! We can’t let them guess it!”
The moment he said that, all of them realized that Jack had taken off his mask after turning around to not alert their opponents of his identity. He planned on catching them off guard.
When Jack saw that the eight of them were very obedient, he quickly assigned their tasks!

All eight of them nodded, assuring that they would do their best to accomplish those tasks. With Jack by their side, all of them were full of confidence.
Jack turned around again, and the three beasts were starting to move again.
Earlier, his sudden attack had instilled fear in those beasts, but it could still not dissuade the three beasts from wanting to kill the humans. Unless they felt that their lives were in danger, they would absolutely not turn around and run!
After all, they would be able to get blood beads just by killing humans. After absorbing the blood beads, they would become even more powerful. Humans were basically moving treasures in their eyes that they would not let go of easily!
Jack ignored those beasts as he looked at the three warriors!
The short-haired man stared right at Jack. If looks could kill, Jack would have already died a hundred times.
Jack shot Dagda and the others a look, and the eight of them nodded at the same time.
Jack smirked as he started to form seals. A ring that was the size of a head appeared in front of Jack. Red runes that constantly changed were on the ring, and the glow illuminated his face, giving Jack a sinister look to him.

He shot forward incredibly quickly. His target was those three who were incredibly quick!
The other eight would hold back the three beasts so the beasts would not trouble Jack.
The three of them were stunned when they saw Jack rushing at them alone. They had seen Jack giving out orders as well, but they never expected Jack to ask the eighth warriors to hold back the three beasts while he attempted to fight the three of them alone!
At that moment, they felt incredibly amused.
The other party might be skilled, but they had three of them, while he was alone. They felt like he was just committing suicide by rushing at them!

The short-haired man scoffed while he started to form seals.

Countless seals began to fuse into the sword he had in hand. The three of them were not afraid of Jack at all, feeling like Jack was acting too boldly!

However, just in case, the three of them still planned on attacking with all their might. They pulled out their weapons at the same time, activating their techniques as they attacked Jack!

Jack did not even blink. If he had not gotten Soul Sky to the second stage, Jack might not have been so confident. However, it was different from before. He had a storm god rank technique.

The three in front of him only had lower ultimate god rank techniques that were at the second or third stage at most. Even if the three of them attacked together, they were still no match for Soul Sky.

The Soul Burst Ring rapidly expanded in the air, completely surrounding the three techniques that were rushing at Jack!
The three of them felt a wave of tempestuous energy charging at them! Before they could react, they heard three explosions near them!
They looked on as their own techniques were utterly destroyed, disappearing, and they were completely stunned.
They knew that the person in front of them would not be easy to deal with, but they never expected him to be so strong!
Even the three of them working together was no match for him at all. After the Soul Burst Ring destroyed those three techniques, it continued to charge at them.
The three of them had just spent all their power and were incredibly weak. They tried to summon up their true energy to protect themselves, but it was completely useless!
The Soul Burst Ring enveloped them and exploded again! The three of them died in an instant.
Jack had only used a few seconds to do all of that.
The other warriors were still holding back the three beasts. The explosions attracted their attention, and they looked over to see those three arrogant warriors being completely blown apart, falling onto the ground with blood splattered all over.

Dagda was completely stunned, and was almost hit by that red fox’s remaining claw! All of them were gaping as they looked at Jack in disbelief.
They knew that Jack was incredibly strong. They had heard quite a few stories about Jack, but personally seeing it was completely different. The three of them were at a loss for words from the shock.
It was not just them who were shocked. Goran and the others were completely frozen as well, unable to say anything.
When Jack rushed forward, they thought that he would die. After all, Jack was going against three enemies alone. Yet, it had been the complete opposite. Jack fought against those three and won without any pressure at all.
Morrison could not help but say, “That’s a monster! My god! He’s absolutely a monster!”
Those skills would even be able to stand up to those at the top of second-grade worlds. Most importantly, warriors of that caliber, should not all of them be in the deepest part of the inner region?

Why did one of them suddenly appear here?
The three of them were shocked and confused!
Reyes said, “What do we do now? Should we give up? Or should we go over?”
Morrison was incredibly anxious at those words, “What are you even saying?! Go over? Do you want to die?! Didn’t you see how those three died?!”

The three beasts were too strong. No matter how well the three of them worked together, they were unable to gain an advantage.

They were holding on, but it did not mean it would last forever. As time went on, the eight of them would gradually lose.

Jack looked on for a moment before he said to Dagda, “Alright, it’s time!”

The moment that was said, Jack attacked again. A hundred Soul Swords condensed into a massive Soul Sword, shooting right at the Ice Toad. The Ice Toad was not as intelligent as humans, but it still had a certain level of intelligence.

Earlier, Jack had dealt with three humans in one blow. The three beasts remembered it clearly, the Ice Toad naturally did not face Jack head on, and immediately dodged to the side.

There was immediately an opening amongst the three beasts, and the eight warriors slipped out of the opening, breaking through the beasts. Jack nodded at the eight warriors and immediately turned around to rush at the concealment formation!
The eight of them quickly followed behind Jack. The three beasts chased after them, and the three warriors in the concealment formation widened their eyes. They were being led toward them! What were they going to do? Did they notice them?
The three of them suddenly broke out in cold sweat as their eyes widened. Their hearts were racing, feeling like it was going to jump out of their throats the next moment.
Morrison was completely terrified, “What are they doing?! Did they notice us? That’s impossible! Concealment formations can shield us from most senses. That guy clearly just walked past us just now, not touching the formation at all. He could not have noticed us!”

Reyes frowned, his expression darkened as well, “He didn’t notice us? Then what are they doing?! That guy should be able to deal with those three beasts with no problem at all, but he refused to kill them, and led them to us instead!”

Goran’s heart was beating rapidly. His eyes were about to pop out of their sockets.

At that moment, he deeply felt what the true meaning of panic was. He did not know if he should flee the concealment formation right away or gamble his life and remain put. He was not sure if those people were targeting them, and if those people noticed them or not!

The moment they left the concealment formation, they would lose their only security net. All of them would be revealed, and the moment they were, the other side would not let them off. After all, they were so close, that guy would definitely start to attack them.

If they did not speak at all, they might be able to stay there! He wondered if they should gamble on the other side to not notice them. If that were the case, then staying there would be the safest!

Time was going by quickly, and the more they waited, the more tense the situation was.
Just as he was hesitating, Jack and the others already appeared in front of them. At that moment, Jack suddenly raised his hand, and Soul Swords appeared.
The three of them immediately understood that Jack had already noticed them a long time ago. Looking at the attack that was coming toward them, the three of them did not even think about it as they immediately fled the concealment formation. The three of them suddenly appeared, and Dagda and the others were stunned.
Airn’s lips twitched, “So they really are here. Those dogs were lying in wait to ambush us. ”
The battle earlier had happened too quickly, so they had not been able to think about the details, and had not bothered to think about their opponents’ goals.
Looking at the three that were concealed, they were suddenly furious. When Jack told them about it, they might have believed Jack, but there was still a sliver of doubt in their minds.

When they saw it, they suddenly felt their blood boiling. They were incredibly heated up!
Jack raised an eyebrow as he immediately went for those three. Those three were terrified when they saw Jack coming for them and attempted to scatter.
However, Jack was already prepared. He activated the laws of space and suddenly disappeared. When he appeared again, he was already in front of Morrison.
Morrison was so scared that he almost cried when he saw Jack. He widened his mouth, wanting to scream, but his terror had seized all his strength, and he was not even able to make a single sound.
Jack smirked, not intending on attacking. Jack merely stood in front of him.
Morrison held his breath, looking at Jack doubtfully.
Why was Jack not attacking?

However, the moment the thought surfaced in his head, he felt a cold chill from behind him. Morrison turned around only to see a sticky tongue with cold energy around it shooting toward his waist.

By the time he raised his weapon, the tongue was already wrapped around him. Morrison felt an unbearable icy frost starting to spread from his stomach to his whole body. He did everything he could to struggle, but he failed to free himself.

The tongue continued going around his body. The long tongue was like vines that were holding Morrison firmly in place!

The icy tongue was not just full of cold energy, but poisonous as well. Morrison's whole body was frozen solid, and his face was completely pale. His hands shivered slightly, and it felt like all the blood in his body was frozen.

Jack saw that Morrison was unable to escape and immediately turned to look at the other two. Jack had told Dagda and the others to hold the other two back and leave one to himself.

Dagda and the others did their jobs very well. The eight of them were split into two groups, with four stopping Goran and the other four stopping Reyes. However, compared to how easily he had dealt with things, the situation there was more complicated.

After all, they were not as quick as Jack was, and were not able to force their opponents to be exposed to the beasts.

To quickly resolve everything, Jack shot forward and immediately rushed over to help the eight of them.

He sent Reyes and Goran right into the range to attack the beasts. With Jack's help, everything was resolved incredibly quickly.

Jack did that because he wanted the three of them to get a taste of their own medicine.

Did the warriors from second-grade worlds not want to let the beasts fight the warriors from third-grade worlds until both sides were heavily injured?

Hence, Jack would let the three of them die to those beasts, but not that easily!

When the three of them were about to lose their lives, Jack dealt with the beasts, letting them live. At that moment, the three of them no longer had any ability to fight back. They were not far away from death!
Jack tossed the three of them on the ground, coldly looking at them.
At that moment, they had already lost all hope.
Jack took off his mask, and when they saw his face, they were shocked.
Goran had been completely burnt by balls of fire, but his throat was still fine.
When he saw Jack’s face, Goran shouted crazily, “It’s you! It’s actually you!”

It was actually Jack, the unbeatable warrior that was beating all the warriors from second-grade worlds.

He had heard about Jack, and the other party's various exploits were known to them. Ever since Jack appeared, not a single warrior from a second-grade world had ever beaten Jack.

Jack was like a curse. All the warriors from second-grade worlds that had faced him had lost.

Before entering Chaos City, he even told his fellow disciples, "I hope I never meet Jack in my lifetime. That guy is a complete anomaly. His skills can't be underestimated, and whoever meets him will just be unlucky."

Reyes had said casually, "The Whirling World is so big, and the third-grade worlds only managed to produce one Jack. We won't be so unlucky to cross paths with him!"

Yet, it seemed like they really were that unlucky!
Jack looked at their complicated expressions and smiled, “You know who I am?”
The three of them were speechless. They did not just know the other party, they had constantly heard of Jack. His face had already been spread around all the second-grade worlds. Practically every warrior from a second-grade world knows him.
He was already regarded as a star of calamity in the second-grade world.
Jack took a deep breath, looking into the distance as he said calmly, “You warriors from second-grade worlds always seem to have a superiority complex. You never see others as human at all. Now, I’ll leave you to the eight of them.”
The eight of them were incredibly eager.
If Jack had not appeared, they would not have been able to leave this place alive, and they would have been tortured until they died as the warriors from second-grade worlds extracted every last bit of value out of them.

Just thinking about that, the eight of them were absolutely furious and filled with hate.
Hearing that, Goran and the others were terrified. They knew that the eight warriors would not let them off easily, and they would be slowly tortured for a long time. At that moment, the three of them wanted to kill themselves.
Jack immediately understood what they wanted to do from their expressions, and raised his sword to sever their limbs. They would not be able to commit suicide with that.
He smiled before turning around to look at Dagda and the others.
At that moment, Dagda was full of admiration and respect for Jack. In their eyes, Jack was an unbeatable god and the hope of all the warriors from third-grade worlds.
Jack nodded Dagda, “I’ll leave these men to you. I still have other things to do, so I’ll take my leave.”
Dagda felt a sense of pity when he heard that. They still wanted to stay with Jack. After all, it was incredibly hard to meet someone as strong and talented as him. Furthermore,

Jack also saved their lives. However, they merely expressed their thanks in the end. It was because they knew that they were just people who Jack had happened to save by chance.
For Jack to spare the time to talk to them was already something they were grateful for.
After five minutes, Jack finally stepped into the deepest parts of the inner region. It was even more of a barren land there, and the smell of blood was even thicker.
He pulled Rudy out of the Mustard Seed and told Rudy about what had happened earlier.
Rudy said emotionally, “We gained quite a lot this time! You gained another seventy-one golden keys! On top of the twenty-eight from before, you have ninety-nine total! My god, you managed to get even more than before so quickly. If you use the golden keys at the stage of the Nine, you’ll definitely be able to get something much better than last time!”

Rudy got more and more excited as he spoke. Even his hands were trembling.
Jack nodded with a smile, “I’ll leave five keys for you. You can go exchange something as well. Even though you’re an alchemist, it’s not bad to strengthen yourself.”
Hearing Jack says that, Rudy became emotional as tears threatened to fall. Jack did not blame him for dragging Jack down, and even gave him something!
For him Jack really was his great benefactor!
***

The two of them advanced as they talked and slowly realized that something was wrong. There were more and more corpses on the ground. Sometimes, two or three corpses would be scattered around, and other times, they would see seven or eight corpses stacked together, tainting the ground full of blood.

Those corpses had not been buried or burned at all. Upon closer inspection, they noticed that the corpses had died horribly.
The corpses were riddled with wounds. Some wounds were from claw marks, while others were bite marks. Some of them even had their stomachs opened up with their guts spilled out.
Rudy had seen many corpses before, and his ability to withstand sights like those was already quite high. However, even he was having a hard time. He felt like he was about to puke at any moment. It was just too disgusting! How did things end up like that?
Before this, around three-quarters of the dead were warriors from third-grade worlds, and only a quarter of them were from second-grade worlds. However, after entering the deepest part of the inner regions, he was shocked to notice that it was now half and half. Neither side seemed to have an advantage.
Two-thirds of the dead had probably come from the beasts. The wounds on their bodies were too obvious.

It was immediately recognizable. It seemed like the beasts in the deepest parts of the inner region were even fiercer than they had thought.

Rudy said after a long time, “Isn’t this too crazy of a sight? No wonder those who were inside were running away so frantically!

So many people have died. Other than the warriors that are stronger than normal, who would continue staying inside? It’s just too dangerous.”

As he said that, he even wondered how many people were left in the deepest parts of the inner region. After all, so many have died.

Only those who were incredibly brave or unconcerned about their lives would remain inside. Everyone wanted valuable treasures, but they would need to keep themselves alive to have them.

No matter what, warriors valued their lives. Unless they were really obsessed with treasures at the expense of everything else, they would probably not remain there.

Jack sighed as he looked into the distance. There were no traces of life to be seen anywhere near them.

He frowned and said, “There should still be some people who are remaining in the deepest parts. They probably feel that danger comes with opportunity and them being in such a dangerous environment would mean that they would gain much more than everyone else, bringing them to greater heights.”

Many people felt that way. Jack had encountered quite a few.

Rudy raised an eyebrow, wanting to say something when he suddenly saw two people frantically running outward in the distance.

It seemed like the two of them were like those Jack and Rudy had met. They must have not been able to stand the dangers of the deepest parts anymore and were fleeing fortheir lives. Of the two, one of them looked thin and a bit weak, but Jack and Rudy would not judge from appearances.

After all, in the martial world, appearances could be deceiving.
Anyone who could run out of the inner region would probably be at least somewhat skilled.
The other one seemed muscular but had an incredibly small nose. His face looked very strange.
The two of them looked at Jack and Rudy, widening their eyes. After that, they exchanged a look.
Jack could see exasperation and mockery in their eyes. It was as if they were saying that he and Rudy were just suicidal.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3575

Seeing that expression, Jack was not surprised at all. Instead, he felt like it was quite normal. As they walked into the inner region from the outer region, he had seen so many with looks like that.

Rudy was clearly a bit uncomfortable. Those two were clearly not interested in him and Jack. Even if Jack had thirteen keys on him, and thirteen rings were glowing around Jack, the two of them still ignored him.

Jack raised an eyebrow as he used the laws of space, disappearing from the spot as he appeared in front of them.

The skinny man and the small-nosed man were both shocked as they looked at Jack in alarm.

The thin man immediately pointed his weapon at Jack, “What do you want?!”

Jack raised his hands in mock surrender as he said sincerely, “I don’t have any intentions. I just wanted to ask you two things.”

The small-nosed man frowned and said unhappily, “We have no interest in answering any questions, ask someone else.”
After he said that, the two of them planned on circling around to continue forward.
Jack was exasperated as he took out two pieces of purple gold the size of a thumb, “This is the fee.”
The two of them were stunned. The skinny man raised an eyebrow, grabbing the purple gold quickly.
He coughed and said, “Fine, what do you want to ask? Our time is limited. We don’t want to stay here for too long, so hurry up.”
Jack nodded, asking seriously, “What’s the situation inside right now? Is it too bad for even those who are a bit skilled?”
The small-nosed man looked at Jack with a complicated expression, as if he was confused.
He coughed and said seriously, “I would advise you against trying to go in to try your luck, and this guy with you will probably be of no help. You’d just end up going in alone. The situation is incredibly bad inside. You’ll be in great danger if you go in alone. I’ll just tell you straight up, you'll die if you go in. There's no other possibility."

The man said that incredibly firmly.
Probably because of the purple gold, there was atone of sincerity in his voice.
Jack nodded, asking, "Why is it so bad? Are the third-grade worlds and second-grade worlds fighting an open war?"
The skinny man sighed, "It's not just that. They're all crazy. Not a single person there is normal. For the sake of treasures, they're all going crazy."
To leave that place as soon as possible, the skinny man spoke very quickly.
He told Jack about everything, and after he finished, Jack and Rudy both frowned.
None of them expected the situation to be that bad.
Warriors from second and third-grade worlds already had a deep conflict with each other after everything that has happened. It was something that would never go away. They saw each other as enemies and wanted to kill each other. No one was willing to give way.

Even more, resources meant even more competition. There were many incredibly strong warriors in the deepest part of the inner region, and the fighting was even more intense. For the sake of beating their opponents, they were willing to resort to any means necessary, including using beasts.

Unbeknownst to them, however, the beasts had other plans.

The beasts that were at their peak were no less intelligent than humans. The strongest beast in Chaos City was a Black-scaled Tiger. Its natural-born technique was at the upper ultimate god realm, thus most of the warriors were no match for the tiger at all.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3576

It was also quick-witted with more than enough intelligence to scheme against humans.
The warriors from second-grade worlds tried to use the beasts against those from third-grade worlds and thus contacted the tiger to work with them. They would tell the beasts where all the warriors from third-grade worlds were, allowing the Black-scaled Tiger to lead a horde of beasts to kill the third-grade-world warriors.
However, the beasts had to keep the warriors alive so the warriors from second-grade worlds could retrieve the Heartblood. After that, the beast could kill the warriors from second-grade worlds for the blood beads.
The second-grade-world warriors' offer was accepted by the Black-scaled Tiger, but oddly enough, the warriors noticed that many of their own died as well and it was at the hands of beasts.

They slowly realized something was wrong, and when they investigated the matter, they were furious.
The Black-scaled Tiger was working with those from third-grade worlds as well!
Both sides provided information about each other, and the Black-scaled Tiger pretended to work with them.
It might have seemed that the tiger was accommodating all their requests, but the humans had, in fact, been duped!
The humans were infuriated. They cursed the Black-scaled Tiger for being shameless and despicable, but the tiger was not a human in the first place, having no sense of morality.
Everything it did was in consideration of its own benefits, it did not care what the humans said at all. It did as it pleased, gaining massive benefits.
In the end, humans died in massive numbers, and the inner region was filled with blood. Too many humans had died, and they could not bear their anger. There was too much hatred between all three sides, so they agreed to settle everything through one battle.

Practically every warrior in the deepest parts of the inner region rushed to the largest stage of the Nine at the deepest parts of the inner region. The battle immediately started, but the casualties skyrocketed dangerously.
Those who saw that the situation was bad and felt like they would just end up being cannon fodder gave up and tried to escape.
Those two were among those that felt like they would not be able to gain anything when the large battle started and would die instead. That was why they were fleeing in such a hurry.
The skinny man sighed, saying helplessly, “It’s complete chaos in there. Nowhere is safe in the whole inner region, so I don’t even plan on staying here anymore. I even feel like leaving Chaos City. It’s just too dangerous here!”

“I saw so many corpses the whole way. Death is so common in Chaos City. I was so excited at the start, but now? I just feel exhausted.

“It’s much better for me to go to Cloud City. Even though the challenges there aren’t any easier, it’d at least be safer. As long as I don’t take any risks, I won’t be in any danger. It’s different here. Even if you don’t do anything, danger comes at you from all corners.”

After saying that, he sighed, as if he had comprehended something important in life.

He turned to look at Jack. “Hey, I think you should just leave this place with us. You’re just going to die if you go in there.”

Jack knew he was speaking sincerely, so he nodded. “Thank you for telling me that. We’re just going to take a look inside. If the situation is bad, we’ll come out. My skills are decent enough that I can take care of myself. I’ve been in Chaos City for so long that if I don’t take a look at the final destination, all my efforts will be for naught”

• • •

Hearing Jack's words, the skinny man made no arguments and merely nodded. After that, he walked toward the outer region with the small-nosed man.
Looking at the two of them slowly leaving, Jack had various emotions in his eyes.
Rudy turned to look at Jack meaningfully. "Jack, why were you so polite? I thought you'd teach them a lesson, but you gave them gold."
Jack smiled and patted Rudy's shoulder. "There's no reason to fight if the other side has no intentions of doing anything to you. If I use strength in every situation, I'd be no different from the guys you hate. I only attacked that guy when we entered the inner region because he had been rude. I would've treated him politely if he wasn't like that."
Rudy nodded. That was how the powerful ones should act, not like those second-grade world warriors who treated warriors from third-grade worlds like trash.

As they advanced, more corpses were spotted on the ground.
Jack was beginning to feel numb looking at them.
The more they advanced, the worse the situation was. After they walked for another 10 kilometers, they started to see clashes of energy of various colors constantly clashing in the distance. They could even hear the roars of wild beasts.
The massive beasts constantly unleashed their attacks. The humans were not falling behind either, frantically unleashing their own. Seeing this, Rudy was shocked, even though he already expected it.
He pursed his lips, clutching his chest as he said, “What pressure! Even so far away, I can still feel the surrounding air tainted by the crazy amounts of energy. It feels like even the atmosphere is explosive and full of pressure!”
Jack nodded, his expression turning more serious.

Rudy gulped and said carefully, “Jack, I think we should be more careful. This is different from all the other times. The battle is several times more dangerous than the last one. None of these warriors or beasts are weak at all! If we join it, the chances of us getting out…”

Rudy stopped himself. He felt like he had said similar things so many times before, and each time, Jack had easily dealt with the problem.

Jack had never encountered anything he could not handle.

Rudy felt like he was just being a worrywart.

However, the moment he said that, Jack turned and said, “You’re right, we can’t participate in this straightforwardly. Battles of this level are like a tidal wave, and it’ll be very easy to end up trapped inside if we’re not careful. Even though it probably won’t cost my life, I may get injured in the process.”

During the battle from before, Jack’s participation had turned the tides since everyone there was not that strong.

The one ahead of them, however, was different. Even if Jack joined in, he was not confident that he would be able to determine the winner. After all, everyone who participated in this battle was incredibly strong.
Rudy looked at Jack in shock and gulped. This was the first time he heard Jack treating anything so seriously. It seemed like even Jack felt the pressure.
After all, this was a collection of the strongest warriors from second and third-grade worlds. Even Jack had to tread carefully.
Rudy frowned. “Then, should we just avoid this?”
To Jack, as long as they were not in the deepest parts of the inner region, there was nowhere that would be any threat to him.

Jack shook his head. He had planned out his next steps. Whether or not he would succeed would depend on his luck, but as long as he managed to do what he needed to, he would benefit a lot.
Jack took a deep breath before he said, his expression stem with resolute, “We can’t leave; we need to join them. Not only that, but we have to emerge as victors.”
Rudy had a look of complete shock as he stared at Jack, realizing how committed he was. Earlier, Jack had just said that he was right, that going in would put himself in a lot of danger. This battle was already a huge problem for Rudy. Participating was equal to throwing oneself into the problem with not much to gain from it!
Rudy’s lips twitched, suddenly finding himself at a loss for words.

Various thoughts played in his head. If they joined, Jack would definitely attract attention with his skills. His identity might even end up being exposed over some minute detail. Then, the warriors from second-grade worlds would do everything they could to attack Jack.

They could not even rely on the warriors from third-grade worlds this time. All of them who were in the battle were those who stood at the top and were selfish. They would not even blink when regular warriors died in front of them as long as it did not affect them personally, let alone Jack.

Meanwhile, Rudy supposed it was not just the warriors from second-grade worlds who hated Jack for various reasons.

A fraction of the third-grade-world warriors probably hated Jack too. After all, Jack was practically a god in the eyes of the regular warriors from third-grade worlds, and those who sat at the summit of these worlds never protected the regular warriors when it was needed.

Instead, a warrior from Hestia that appeared out of nowhere had saved them. The ones that stood at the top had lost a lot of their respect and authority from that.
Rudy was sure that all of those people probably pinned the blame on Jack. They were the ones at fault, but never would they concede to this.
The ones gathered there were all the warriors from third-grade worlds who hated Jack the most. The moment Jack's identity was exposed, he might end up getting attacked en masse.
Just thinking of this made Rudy anxious.
He looked up and said seriously, "Think this through, Jack. Didn't you say that you could be trapped in the tidal wave if you join?
It won't be easy for you to escape then. Just think about it, if your identity is exposed…"
Before Rudy could finish, Jack stopped him. He turned and patted Rudy on the shoulder. "I know what you're worried about, but I've already thought about it. Don't worry, I won't put myself in danger."

Jack stopped at this, not going into detail regarding his thoughts. However, Rudy was more worried because of that. He felt like he was at the edge of a cliff.

He understood how Jack was. Once he decided on something, nothing Rudy said would sway him. He knew that he should trust Jack’s decision, but he could not help but worry.

Just as he was panicking, he saw four people gathered together in the distance.

Rudy’s attention was suddenly attracted. He looked over and noticed that on the fringes of the battle were groups of two or three, or groups of four to five sitting on the ground together.

Since it was quite far away, Rudy could not see what was happening. He could just vaguely make out that those who were at the corners did not look to be in a good condition. Some of them were clutching their arms, and some of them had their legs bandaged, too. They were probably warriors who, though injured, had survived, forced to tend to their wounds on the fringes of the battle.

Jack saw it as well. He frowned as his eyes roamed the area, looking like he was planning something important.

Rudy had just been about to ask Jack what he was thinking when Jack raised his hand and said, “Follow me there. Make sure you stay behind me. No matter what happens, don’t leave my side!”

Rudy nodded. At the northwestern corner of the battle, two groups of warriors were gathered.

There was a distance between them, since they were from second-grade and third-grade worlds respectively. They looked at each other with animosity but did not attack. Both groups were injured and had been forced to leave the battlefield to recuperate. Resuming their battle would only result in deaths.
There were only three warriors on the corner of the third-grade worlds. They were all from the same clan and had supported each other the whole way. They were closely tied, but they did not get along that well. They only formed a group because they knew each other and were from the same clan. The three of them were above average among warriors from third-grade worlds, or they would not be in the deepest parts of the inner region.
Early, they had been struck by a beast. An intense explosion rendered one of them heavily injured, while the other two suffered minor injuries.

The one with the worst injuries was called Olesm, the youngest disciple among them. The strongest one among the three of them was the strongest chosen disciple from their clan, Calruz.

At that moment, he was clutching his injured arm. His eyes were looking right at the battlefield, and countless thoughts were running through his mind.

Toren frowned as he looked at Calruz. The three of them knew each other. After spending much time around each other, they knew of their tendencies. He immediately knew what Calruz was thinking.

Toren scoffed and said, “Can you stop worrying?! How many people do you think are thinking the same thing here? Do you think there’s no one else who’d want to pick up scraps? It’ll just lead to another intense battle. Those of them at the top aren’t idiots either.”

“Do you think they’d let us take advantage of the situation? We should just leave now with how the situation is! That’s the best choice! Hesitating will just be wasting our time. You'll just end up pushing yourself further into danger! Can you just listen to me?!"

Calruz turned around. His eyes had turned red at some point. Both of them seemed incredibly angry.
"Can you shut up?! Do you think I don't know how bad the situation is? Don't you think I don't know how dangerous it would be to stay? I haven't decided yet because I have my considerations! What's the point of yapping around like you?!"
Toren's lips twitched in anger. If he was not propping up Olesm at that moment, he would have slapped Calruz.
"Calruz, can you just calm down? Look at how injured Olesm is! Do you think I don't know why you can't decide? I know you don't want to leave because you think you don't have enough golden keys!"

Calruz gritted his teeth as he glared at Toren viciously, silently.

Toren took a deep breath, looking at the golden rings around Calruz, and he counted 23 of them. That was already enough. If they continued, they could very well pay clearly with their lives!

Toren continued, “Please, Calruz, can you not be crazy?! Twenty-three golden rings are more than enough! Compared to normal warriors, our treasures will be dozens of times more valuable than theirs! If we stay, we’ll lose our lives, and you won’t be able to exchange those keys if you’re dead! Why don’t you understand that?!”

Calruz gritted his teeth, thoroughly infuriated by Toren. “Do you think you’re smart? If we can’t even compare to normal warriors, then we should just kill ourselves! We’ve struggled so much to get to the inner region from the outer region. We spent so much time and effort on so few keys! I don’t want to leave just like that!”

Toren did not know what to say at that point, believing that Calruz was lost in his mind. No matter what he said, Calruz would not listen.
Toren took a deep breath, gritted his teeth, and said, “I don’t care anymore. If you want to stay, then stay here alone. I’ll leave with Olesm. He’s already so injured, and he needs a quiet place for him to recover!”
Calruz turned around, no longer able to suppress his anger.
The three of them had managed to get to the deepest parts of the inner region alive because of their teamwork. If two of them left and left him behind, there would be no reason for him to stay. He might even end up getting killed!
Calruz frowned and grabbed Toren’s arm. “You dare?!”
Right at that moment, the three of them suddenly heard footsteps.

They turned around immediately to see a masked man in dark green robes slowly walking toward them. That person was walking in a very casual, confident manner as if there was not an intense battle going on around him.

Calruz frowned. “Who are you?”

Jack closing in naturally alerted them. If he had markings of warriors from second-grade worlds on him, they would have attacked immediately.

Jack immediately stopped, maintaining a safe distance from them.

Earlier, Jack had observed them for 15 minutes before he slowly walked over. He was about to say something when he suddenly heard a roar.

He turned around to see a golden python about 30 meters long and the thickness of two people quickly flying toward them.

That golden python also had two beasts that were at about the same level behind it. The golden python was probably in the middle in terms of strength when it came to three of those beasts.

Normal warriors were no match for it at all.
Even Jack was surprised by the beasts' sudden appearance.
After that, a few beasts started to leave the middle, attacking the warriors that were recovering at the sidelines.
Jack frowned, suddenly understanding what those beasts that had left the main battle were planning. Jack had observed things for a long time. He had vaguely heard what the ones around him were talking about. They were just trying to decide what to do next.

Some had left the center of the battle after being injured, and there were those waiting at the sidelines for an opportunity to kill people and steal the keys once the battle was over.

A few had that plan in mind, but the beasts did not think that way.

Many people were gathered at the sides, most of them already injured. In the eyes of the beasts, they were blood beads that they could harvest!

The golden python and two other beasts rushed over, catching Calruz and Toren off guard as their eyes widened, and their hearts nearly leaped out of their chests. The two of them never expected danger to come so quickly!

If Olesm had not been so badly injured, they might have been able to deal with it. At worst, they could have fled as they fought back. However, Olesm was injured, unable to even stand up straight, let alone help.

The two of them would need to avoid the attacks while they protected Olesm. This was the moment they believed their end had come.
Toren cursed at Calruz internally. The man's greed for the keys, resulting in his unwillingness to leave, landed them in the worst predicament possible!
The three powerful beasts charged at the three of them. The two of them who were still able to fight were already injured. The chances of them getting away was only 50 percent!
It was not the time to think about it.
Toren took a deep breath and suddenly turned to look at Jack, and said, "Hey, can you help us fight these beasts? We won't trick you, don't worry!"
Even though they could not tell how strong Jack was, there was no other option for them. Working with that person might give them a chance to survive.

Surprisingly, Jack raised an eyebrow and said very casually, “Can’t the two of you stand aside? Don’t waste my time.”
Calruz and Toren were both stunned by his words. They wondered if they had misheard it.
Jack asked them to give way so they did not waste his time?
What were they wasting?
Was he going to face those three beasts alone?
Was he crazy?
Was he daft?!
Calruz’s lips twitched as he shouted, “Are you crazy? You’re trying to fight three of them alone?!”
Jack frowned, not caring about the two of them as he pushed Calruz away from his path.
Calruz’s mind went blank. He never expected that Jack would push him aside. This man truly was planning on fighting the three beasts alone!
One person against three beasts!
No one knew where Jack had come from, but he was way too arrogant.
Did he even know how strong the golden python was?

Even if Calruz and Toren fought one golden python at the same time, no one could be sure who would win!
At this point, Jack had started to form seals. The seals quickly fused in the air, forming two rings the size of palms. The Soul Burst Rings were completely gray, and there were small red runes on them that shone brightly.
He looked up at the golden python 10 meters away from him.
He smirked as he pushed forward. The Soul Burst Ring quickly shot out.
The python opened its mouth and expelled a golden beam.

The two other beasts unleashed their attacks as well.

After a moment, all the attacks clashed in the air, causing a massive explosion that formed a crater on the ground. Dust flew all around them, obscuring most of their vision.

However, they could still hear cries of agony, and before too long, silence fell.

Slowly, the dust began to settle. They could once again see what was in front of them.

Calruz was stunned, still rooted where he stood after being pushed by Jack.

His eyes were fixed forward as he looked at the golden python's mangled corpse. Then, he looked at the corpses of the two beasts behind that were not whole either.

His eyes widened as his lips twitched. His heart was thumping wildly, and he even forgot to breathe. His hands trembled slightly as he looked at Jack again.

How was the other party so skilled?!

There was a massive gulf between them, especially skill-wise. He was like an ant on the ground, while Jack was like a golden phoenix in the skies.
Calruz broke out in cold sweat, quickly forgetting the words he wanted to say. Someone as strong as that never bothered with the weaker ones' survival. The moment they were provoked, they might attack right away!
Toren was quite scared as well, but he was thankful.
If Jack was not there, he and Calruz would have been dead!
Toren saluted Jack. "Thank you for saving us!"
Jack raised an eyebrow, merely glancing at Toren. He did not say anything and merely rushed forward.
Jack immediately took the keys without any delay. Coupled with the 99 keys he had, his keys totaled to 131 golden keys. The rewards for turning in those keys would be a big surprise for him.
To avoid any unnecessary trouble, Jack only had eight keys with him at that moment. On top of the thirty-three keys that he had just gotten, there were a total of forty golden rings on him physically at that moment.

Calruz looked at him with a face full of admiration. However, he could only admire it. When faced with someone so strong, he did not even dare have any greedy ideas.
Jack took a deep breath as he looked around. There were a few warriors around them who noticed what happened, but there were not that many, so it did not make too much of a commotion.
Jack relaxed at that. He turned around and looked at Calruz.
Calruz immediately straightened his back, stiffening as his eyes shook slightly. If the person in front of him took offense to his mannerisms, there was a chance that he would die.
At that moment, Calruz could only pray to himself.
When Jack was next to him, he first gave Calruz a once-over before looking at Toren next to him and Olesm on the ground.
Other than Olesm, the other two only suffered minor injuries.

Jack said in a serious voice, “I’ll give you a choice, work with me, and I’ll guarantee your safety. After that, I’ll give the two of you five golden keys each. Of course, you can choose to not work with me too.”

Calruz and Toren were so astounded that they did not know how to react.

A powerful warrior wanted to work with them. It was not just a simple order either, Jack would give them a reward. Even though it was only five golden keys, it was a decent reward.

Calruz coughed, carefully turning to look at Toren, unable to decide.

Toren did not even dare to frown, worried that Jack would be unhappy. He merely lowered his head slightly, thinking through everything Jack had said.

Toren wanted to leave immediately. It was just too dangerous there. It was no longer somewhere they could stay behind. In fact, he did not completely trust what Jack said that the other party would guarantee their safety. Even though Jack was incredibly strong, he could not gain Toren’s complete trust. After all, it involved his own life.

They were not at Cloud City but at Chaos City instead, where death was everywhere. They were at the most dangerous place in the whole Chaos City.
Nonetheless, he was worried that the man in front of him would kill the two of them if he did not agree. Toren's heart was conflicted as he started to breathe heavily.
Right at that moment, Calruz spoke, "Alright, I'll work with you, but you have to guarantee our safety! My fellow disciple won't be able to help you since he can't even stand up right now."
Toren looked right at Calruz.
If Jack was not right there, he would have slapped Calruz viciously-and a few times, for good measure. Calruz was so greedy for any profits or benefits. Even if they wanted to work with Jack,they should listen to what it entailed!
He did not even bother asking that before he agreed, which was foolish. Toren was so angry that his lips trembled.

Calruz looked at Toren and said casually, “Why are you so angry? This is the only choice we have anyway. Are you not going to agree? If you take too long, this warrior might get angry. Do you want to die?”

Toren clenched his fists, too angry to say anything.

If Calruz was not his senior, he would have attacked Calruz at that moment. However, since Calruz had already agreed, it was too late for Toren to say anything else.

He was forced to accept it. At that moment, he really did have no other choice.

Toren took a deep breath and put a smile on his face. “What do you want us to do?”

Jack pointed at the intense battle. “The two of you, lure the beasts here. You don’t have to fight with them, of course. After that, you can hide behind me and leave the rest to me.”

Toren gulped, breaking out in cold sweat again. The two of them needed to lure beasts?

That was not something easy. It was equal to putting themselves in the thick of battle!

Before he could say anything, Calruz spoke first, “Are we supposed to rush inside to attack the beast? We won’t be able to do that. The moment we step into the battle, we’d be surrounded by enemies. We won’t just be attacked by the beasts, and the warriors from second-grade worlds are no slouches either!”

Before he could finish, Jack raised a hand and interrupted him, “Don’t worry, I won’t send you two to your deaths like that. You just need to look for chances to attack the beasts at the fringes.”
At that moment, Rudy had hurried over from afar.
Jack had arranged for him to stay at a safer spot earlier instead of bringing him along when he first attacked the golden python.
Since the situation was calmer, Rudy walked over.
He looked at Jack and noticed that he was getting even more confused.
Jack was just planning on dealing with the beasts that were at the sides, not wanting to bother with the strongest beasts that were at the center. However, he clearly said that he wanted to be the final victor.

His words and his current actions were a bit conflicting. If it was anyone else, Rudy would have thought they were just bragging.
However, since it was Jack, he would not think that way.
Jack was not someone who would exaggerate things at all. No matter what, he had always said things as they were.
Since that was the case, Rudy was even more confused. However, it was not the time to talk about that. He merely looked on quietly.
Since the two warriors had agreed to work with Jack, they were forced to agree to his plans. Furthermore, Jack had only told them to lure the beasts at the fringes toward him, which was much safer.
Calruz and Toren exchanged a look. Even though they could see the reluctance and worry in each other's eyes, it was too late for regrets. Thus, the two of them turned around and walked into the battlefield again.
After a few moments, two massive beasts chased after Calruz and Toren as they roared. Both beasts were evidently enraged.

One of the beasts was called the Silver Beast. It was not as strong as the golden python, but it was still at the same level as the red fox.
The other beast was called the Thunderflame Wolf, and it was around the same level of the Silver Beast.
Both of them used middle ultimate god rank techniques. Calruz and Toren could work together against one, but they would not be able to deal with two at the same time.
After the two of them used their attacks, they easily lured the two beasts toward Jack.
Jack raised an eyebrow as he stood in place, easily forming seals with his hands. In a flash, the Soul Burst Rings were formed.
His hands held up the Soul Burst Rings, aiming right at the two beasts before he pushed forward. The two rings expanded) rapidly, surrounding the two beasts behind them.
Calruz and Toren had not even been able to react when they heard explosions behind them.

The two of them were pushed forward a few meters by the explosion. Turning around, they could see that the beasts that were chasing them had been blown to bits.
They were flabbergasted once more, deeply impacted. Beasts that were so strong in their eyes were as fragile as paper against god-like warriors. It really was frustrating.
To not attract the attention of certain people, Jack did not remain in one place for too long. He only remained at the fringes of the battle for an hour, but the rewards had been amazing.
He had killed almost 30 beasts. Other than the 32 golden keys he earned, he had gotten another 95 keys. On top of the 131 keys he had before, he had a total of 226 golden keys.
That number excited even Jack. However, he knew that he could no longer remain there. He was frantically killing beasts at the sides, and even killed a few stupid warriors from second grade worlds. He would definitely start attracting attention soon.

Those strong warriors were not just there for show. If they truly worked together against Jack, it would be troublesome. For safety's sake, Jack led Rudy away from the battle after an hour. However, they did not go that far, and only found somewhere comparatively safer.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3585

They were about two kilometers away from the battlefield, so they could observe the battle without getting involved.

Rudy looked incredibly excited. 226 golden keys were amazing. If all of them were used to exchange for resources, it would earn them a treasure that even a divine solidifying realm warrior would want!

With that in mind, Rudy was even more excited than Jack. After all, Jack was his greatest benefactor. The stronger Jack was, the safer he would be.

Rudy looked at Jack and said excitedly, “This was worth it!”

Jack nodded as he looked at the battlefield.

Rudy looked at Jack curiously, “I thought you’d kill those two.”

Jack shook his head.

He had been hiding by the side and only walked over because he was sure that the three of them already decided to leave. One of those three, Olesm, was heavily injured as well.

Even though the man named Calruz was unwilling, he forgot all of that the moment the golden python rushed over. After the three of them finished their end of the deal, they would definitely leave right away, so he did not need to kill them to silence them.
Rudy frowned and said, “I thought you were planning on striking quickly, killing as many enemies before they noticed you so they won’t get to do anything. Even if they worked together, they wouldn’t be able to beat you.”
Jack could not help but laugh at that.
He turned and said in exasperation, “How could it be so easy? Do you think they’re idiots? I came out after an hour because I was worried they’d notice something strange…”
“Just look. Even after so many have died, even after I killed so many beasts, the battle hasn’t dissipated. There are still so many of them there. How many would I have to kill to turn the tides?”
To Jack, it was impossible.

Rudy raised an eyebrow. “Aren’t we going to leave? I thought you’d be in a hurry to leave Chaos City and go to Cloud City to get your world avatar…”
Jack looked at Rudy. “No, it’s still not time yet. Didn’t I tell you I’d be the biggest victor in the battle?”
Rudy was stunned again when he heard that. He looked at Jack with a puzzled expression. “You’re planning on continuing?”
Jack shook his head, but stopped himself and nodded. Rudy was confused at that.
Jack smirked and explained, “This battle will probably not last for much longer. All sides are keeping track of their losses. If they fight until only a few dozen from each side are left, the losses will be too disastrous. Eventually, they’ll realize that the battle is costing them just as much as it is their enemies. The moment they notice that, the battle will stop, and the strongest ones will try to save themselves…”
Saying that, Jack shut his mouth as a look of interest flashed in his eyes.

At that moment, his eyes were fixed on the most important figure in the battle-the massive Black-scaled Tiger.
The Black-scaled Tiger was more than six meters tall. Compared to the other massive beasts around it, it was not that tall, but was nonetheless massive against humans.
Its agile body constantly danced around the warriors, attacking them, its two claws filled with energy.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3586

. . .

The Black-scaled Tiger would send a warrior hanging for their life with just a slash whereas those even weaker warriors would die from just one strike.
After the warriors die at the hands of the beasts, they would immediately form blood beads.
The tiger would get much more excited with each blood bead it acquires. Blood beads were like treasures for the beasts. After absorbing enough blood beads, they would be able to level up their skills.
At that moment, the Black-scaled Tiger looked like a wolf in a rabbit den.
Jack quietly observed everything the tiger was doing. It reached out its massive claw and struck at a warrior before it opened its bloody mouth to rip the warrior’s throat apart, using its natural-born technique to take the warrior’s life.

Rudy stood next to Jack, looking up at the battlefield in front of him. He could not tell what Jack was planning on doing, but his intuition told him that Jack had grand plans.
Time slowly ticked away, and the three sides slowly found themselves unable to go on for much longer.
After all, the number of deaths was rapidly increasing. If that went on, they would not be able to take it.
The warriors from third-grade worlds were the weakest, but they had the numbers as an advantage. The warriors from secondgrade worlds were strong, but they could not stand against the many opponents.
Furthermore, the warriors from third grade worlds already hated warriors from second-grade worlds to the bone. They fought with the warriors from second grade worlds with everything they had. The losses were immense.
Nothing needs to be said about the beasts. There were beast corpses everywhere on the ground. After all, the beasts were already larger than humans, and were not as afraid of death as humans were.

Most of the beasts were not as intelligent as humans, but it just meant the beasts fought with much more intensity. They did not care about their own lives once they started fighting, especially when the scent of blood around them started to thicken, stirring up their bloodlust.

There were corpses upon corpses on the ground. Just looking around, the ground was completely covered in blood.

Finally, a warrior from a second-grade world suddenly shouted loudly, “Let’s all stop! There will be no results if we continue fighting! Even more, we will all just die!”

As he shouted, he used his true energy which amplified his voice. Even though there was a distance between them.

Jack could clearly hear it. He raised an eyebrow.

Since it was too far away, he could not tell who had said that, but it did not stop Jack from guessing who it was.

Jack smiled coldly, “Sure enough, they get so scared the moment their lives are at stake. The battle is already at the point where the strongest ones will start dying if it continues…”

“As the strongest ones from their worlds, they’re not only incredibly skilled but incredibly scared of dying as well. So many had died before, forming piles of corpses, but they never called for the fighting to stop. When it’s about to be their turn, they immediately shout for a ceasefire.”
Rudy took a deep breath. There was intense anger on his face.
Those guys were the most selfish. They were the ones who started the battle, but they were not the ones who had to sacrifice themselves. Whether it was the warriors from third grade worlds or second-grade worlds, they were split into four kinds.
The first kind was the weaker warriors. Those warriors would not be able to enter higher-leveled. cities as well. Rudy was one of them.
The second was the regular warriors. Those warriors made up about sixty to seventy percent of all warriors, and they were the ones most likely to die as well.

The third was the ones that were above average. Those warriors were strong, and all had significant positions in their worlds.
The last kind was the warriors that stood at the top. They were the most selfish group. The one that happened to shout loudly was one of those warriors. They were usually the strongest warriors of their worlds and had a lot of speaking power. They were talented beyond compare, and all of them had a lot of power and influence.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3587

However, those people were usually narcissistic, regarding everyone else as beneath them.

Rudy had thought that those warriors might not care about the regular warriors, but would at least care about the warriors that were above average.

After all, those stronger warriors were only a bit weaker than those that stood at the top and had significant positions in their respective worlds. However, it did not seem like the case at all.

Most of the ones that had died during the battle were above-average warriors. They were stronger than normal warriors, or they would not have stayed in the deepest parts of the inner region. They were incredibly confident in their skills, and that was why they stayed behind.

However, that was also why they did not survive. Those warriors that stood at the top did not care about anyone other than themselves. They would only call for a stop when they were in danger themselves.
They had clearly seen so many of the stronger warriors die in front of them, but they had ignored all of it.
The more Rudy thought about it, the more saddened he was.
Those warriors that were above average were all incredibly well regarded in their own respective worlds. Even the external elders would have respected them. Yet, they had lost their lives there. It was such a tragedy, their lives were just about to start.
Jack asked, “I thought you would ask me how I’m sure that the one who shouted was one of the strongest warriors.”
Rudy smiled and answered, “That’s obvious. Only those people would have the authority to say something like that. If anyone else said that, they would just be ignored.”

Jack nodded. Earlier, he had just been waiting for someone to call for a stop. Even though they were too far for him to see them clearly, he could feel how rotten that person's heart was.

Jack sighed as he said sadly, "Honestly, those who are at the top are all winners. Even the strongest of the beasts are winners too. The others were just here to give their lives for the winners…"

Rudy blinked curiously. He looked at Jack with a questioning glance.

Jack sighed and he patted Rudy on the shoulder and said, "Just look at all those dead bodies on the ground. Who do you think will get the keys on their bodies?"

"Those humans that were killed by the beasts, who would get their blood beads? Those who were waiting by the side to pick up the scraps? Do you think they would dare? The strongest warriors are all still e, and not even that injured…"

Rudy's heart skipped a beat when he heard that. He had a terrifying guess in his mind.

He had never thought about that at all, but after what Jack had said, Rudy had a moment of realization. He opened his mouth, not saying anything, but his silence trumped anything he could say.
Jack smiled and said, “You’re right, it’s possible for that to be their goal the whole time. They wanted to find a reason to start a war so they could reap the benefits of it. It’s just that those who were following them had to suffer for that goal.”

“Even before they died, they probably never expected that they would just be crops to be harvested in the eyes of the top warriors. The top warriors had merely shouted and attacked a few times, but it was the others who lost their lives.”

Rudy was speechless for a long time after hearing that. He really had underestimated human nature.

Just like Jack had said, the true winners of the battle were those that stood at the time. They used their authority to carry out their despicable methods. however they wanted to, killing others to gain their keys.

Jack smiled as he narrowed his eyes and continued, “We need to wait! Once they leave, we’ll…”

Two hours later, the Black-scaled Tiger returned to its den.

It was a small valley, and it was at the center of the valley. It had used its sharp claws to dig out a cave. There was some wild grass he had gotten from somewhere. After that intense battle, it had obtained a few dozen blood beads.
It absorbed a portion of it, and there were still twenty left. It felt like it would definitely reach a new level of power after absorbing fifty of them.
It started to lick the wounds on its body. Even if it was the strongest among all the beasts, it had still failed to avoid getting injured. After all, the attacks that were flying around did not care who they hit.
However, it had only suffered some minor injuries. It would be able to recover after some rest. The beasts that were in Chaos
City were not able to leave the place due to some restrictions.
The most terrifying thing was that they would also fall into a deep slumber when the Whirling World closed, all the way until it was opened again and humans entered the world.

Just thinking about that made the tiger bristle with anger and hatred.
Its level of intelligence was on par with humans. There were some things that it realized just thinking about it.
It would not let those people get whatever they wanted! Even the heroes that created the Whirling World would not be able to subdue it!
It had just been a small beast initially, being born in this place.
Only a small fraction of its memories before he gained sentience remained, but those memories were enough to cause a chill through its body.
It could remember many other smaller beasts just like it. However, they had all been slaughtered by humans. Less than a tenth of them survived. It had started life in the outer region of Chaos City. As it slowly improved and gained the ability to protect itself, it slowly advanced inward.
Battle after battle, it had been fortunate enough to survive all this time, killing quite a few humans and being granted blood beads. Its power and intelligence slowly increased after absorbing them.

It was slowly beginning to understand that it only existed for the sake of training humans. It was like a large grindstone that could kill the weak and make the strong even stronger. However, it was not willing to resign itself to that fate. It wanted to keep growing stronger. It wanted to break through its limits. Then, no human would be able to beat it!
No one would be able to treat it as a stepping stone. It would no longer be a training post for the humans, and the humans would be its stepping stone to the top!
Just thinking about that, the tiger’s eyes shone. It was suddenly filled with hope for the future.
Right at that moment, it could suddenly hear soft footsteps in the distance.
As one of the strongest beasts, it had a very high level of perception. It could hear even the most minute sounds from a great distance.

The tiger suddenly looked up, and its eyes were focused right on where the sound was from. It could see a green-robed man slowly walking toward it from a distance.

The tiger grunted, feeling excited.
Its food was walking right into its mouth, so how could it not eat it up?
Every time it saw a human, it would just feel excited. Every human was just a stepping stone for him to reach greater heights!
It slowly stood up on its limbs, trying to keep itself quiet so that humans would not notice him.
The person did not walk too slowly, or too fast. Every step was incredibly steady. The man did not have too much emotion on his face, as if he did not see the cave at all. He slowly walked until he reached the front of the cave.
There were about six meters between him and the cave when he stopped. He looked right into the cave with his cold gaze.
The Black-scaled Tiger was already hiding and waiting for him. The tiger was amused that the man had actually walked to the cave.

It was an incredibly short distance, the man would not be able to avoid any attacks. With that in mind, the tiger immediately launched itself forward, baring its large claws. It really wanted to see how shocked and terrified the fragile human would be when he saw it.
The human would definitely freeze up, and his eyes would widen. He might even pee his pants. The tiger had. seen plenty of human like that before. Other than those who stood at the very top, almost all of the warriors turned around and ran the moment they saw it, or they would freeze up completely, not even able to run away.
However, the Black-scaled Tiger never expected a calm expression to greet him the moment it was out of the cave.
There was no panic and no freezing. There was no fleeing at all. The human merely looked at it peacefully, and even smirked.
The tiger was immediately stunned!
What was wrong with this person?
Was he crazy?

Was he blind?
The tiger had planned on killing the man in front of it with one blow, but he was caught off guard.
Jack smiled and said, “You really are just slightly injured, just like those others…”
When the tiger left the battlefield, Jack quietly followed until the tiger reached its cave. Initially, the tiger even thought that Jack was blind.
However, hearing what that man said, the tiger immediately understood that the man already knew that the cave was its den.
The man had purposely come to face it!
When the tiger realized that Jack was no idiot, the tiger suddenly felt like it was being challenged. The tiger was already intelligent enough but was unable to transform due to lacking the power to do so.
However, it could speak human words and communicate with humans without issue. It was just that his voice still retained the unique traits of a beast.
Its voice was rough like a person with a cold, “What are you doing here? Are you trying to make a deal with me?”

Just saying that made the tiger feel amused. Those humans could be incredibly despicable with their methods. They did not care about their so-called fellow disciples at all. They merely cared about their own profits.

Jack sneered, “I’m not like them. I won’t play any tricks either. I just came here to send you off on your final journey…”

Hearing that, the tiger was stunned.
Was it mistaken?!
This guy wanted to kill it?
On his own with no help?
Even though the tiger could not tell how strong the man was, it did not change a thing.
The Black-scaled Tiger ruled over the whole of Chaos City. Unless a few of the strongest warriors attacked it together, there was no way they could kill it!
That man that had come out of nowhere actually said he wanted to kill it!
It was such a joke. That person did not know his place!
“Brat, do you know what you’re saying? You want to kill me?! Just you alone? Do you not know who I am?” The Black-scaled Tiger started to suspect that the man did not even know how strong it was.

Jack said calmly, “You’re the Black-scaled. Tiger. Your natural-born technique is already at the upper ultimate god rank. You’re the king of the beasts in Chaos City, and you benefited a lot from the battle just now.”

The Black-scaled Tiger glared at Jack. Since the brat knew everything, why was that man challenging it, even saying he wanted to kill it?

Could that man really be that confident?

The Black-scaled Tiger could not help but feel alarmed. However, after thinking for a few moments, it felt amused.

How strong could the man be?

Could the man use an upper ultimate god rank technique?

Just as it was thinking, Jack’s hands moved, starting to form seals. The Soul Burst Rings slowly appeared.

The tiger was alarmed. That man was for real. He was not bragging about wanting to kill it!

Jack did not want to waste too much time there. After dealing with the tiger, he still had other things to do.

The Soul Burst Ring quickly spun in the air. Even the surrounding space was getting distorted. The Black-scaled Tiger began to use its own technique as well. A black vortex started to condense in front of its massive mouth!
The vortex seemed to swallow everything as it shot right at Jack.
Jack did not panic, pushing his hands forward as the Soul Burst Rings shot forward incredibly quickly. The black vortex clashed with the Soul Burst Ring in the air.
The two forces clashed with each other, and the black vortex tried to swallow up the Soul Burst Ring. However, the Soul Burst Ring was a storm god rank technique.
The upper ultimate god rank technique was no match for the Soul Burst Ring at all!
The black vortex immediately shattered into pieces upon contact. The power did not even last for that long before it was destroyed by the Soul Burst Ring!
The tiger’s eyes widened in shock.

It suddenly found itself unable to react when it witnessed what just happened. His skill which no one had been able to beat before had actually been defeated so quickly.
Right after that, a gust of wind was felt. After destroying its natural born technique, the Soul Burst Ring did not slow down at all. It charged right at the Black-scaled Tiger.
The tiger shook in fear, not daring to look down on the technique at all!
It turned around, wanting to or at least avoid the attack. Yet, it had been too confident earlier, not believing that Jack would be difficult to go against at all.
Right behind the tiger was the cave it dug for itself. It went right into the cave the moment it fled!
The Soul Burst Ring shot in as well. Right after that, a massive explosion in the cave could be seen. The cave was completely swallowed up by rubble.
Jack could vaguely hear the tiger crying out.
The tiger had been completely buried, unable to even move, but it was already too late for regret.

It never expected the stranger in front of it would be so strong.
No wonder the man had been so confident, not even showing any emotion when he revealed himself. The intense explosion heavily injured its whole body. It was just barely alive at that moment, and it knew that it would not remain alive for that much longer.
Right at that moment, a crack could be heard next to it. It moved its head with great difficulty and saw Jack pushing down on the rock that was on its body.
Jack still showed no emotion as he knelt next to the tiger, coldly looking at it, “Did you feel like you were the smartest one ever when you made that plan with those shameless and despicable guys? You’re the final winner. How do you feel now?”

The tiger’s whole body twitched as it opened its mouth, trying to say something. However, nothing came out.
The tiger’s last impression of the world was the man calmly pulling out a gray sword from his storage space. The sword was aimed right at the tiger’s throat.
***
After a day, Jack and Rudy arrived at Cloud City. The whole time, Rudy had been talking without stopping. He was just too excited. Killing the tiger, Jack had actually been awarded fifty golden keys.
On top of the two hundred and twenty-six golden keys from before, Jack had a total of two hundred and seventy-six keys.
He put all of those keys on the biggest stage of the Nine without any hesitation, redeeming it all for treasure.
Rudy widened his eyes, “So, the supreme soul wisp should be worth a lot, right?”
Jack nodded. His keys had managed to get him a small bottle of supreme soul wisp. Even he did not know what that was used for. That was his first time hearing of it, and even the memories of the ancient heroes yielded nothing. However, it was definitely something incredibly valuable.

Two hundred and seventy-six golden keys would definitely have given him something priceless!

Jack took a deep breath, suppressing his excitement.

They looked up at the massive Cloud City. After they left Chaos City, Jack, and Rudy immediately headed toward Cloud City.

There were many challenges in Cloud City, but they did not catch Jack's eyes at the moment. Nothing was as important as him forming his world avatar. His target was Cloud Valley which was within the city.

Cloud Valley was deep in Cloud City. He had heard that there were various challenges one had to go through to get to Cloud Valley. The only way to qualify to enter Cloud Valley was to pass those challenges.

Rudy turned around and looked at Jack. He knew better than anyone what Cloud Valley meant to Jack.

Forming a world avatar was the most important thing for Jack at that moment. Possibly because he had been in Chaos City for too long, but Rudy felt a bit uncomfortable when he entered Cloud City.
There were so many people in Cloud City, and everyone no longer looked at each other with alarm and murderous intent, but just calmness.
They were not allowed to fight in Cloud City without reason. Even though the warriors of the third-grade world and second-grade worlds were still not friendly with each other, no one fought within Cloud City. Everyone had their matters and goals to attend to.
Jack walked past the crowded streets and went toward the northeast. Cloud Valley was in that direction.
The moment he stepped into Cloud Valley, Rudy was shocked to notice that Cloud Valley had even more warriors than Cloud City did.

• • •

“I can’t take it anymore! I’ve tried both sides, and nothing has happened. I should just go somewhere else. I think I can’t get a world avatar in the Whirling World,” A man in gray robes said sadly.

A man that was standing next to him patted the gray-robed man on the shoulder, “Don’t be sad. It’s so difficult. It’s already quite good if one out of five can succeed. Everyone’s just here to test out their luck like you. Only those with talent and skill can condense world avatars in Cloud Valley!”

As the man said that, he sighed as well. Even though he did not take part in the evaluation, he knew his place.

He was reasonably talented, but he was nowhere near good enough in front of all those masters.

Most of the warriors over there lamented the fact that they were not talented enough or not strong enough. They were not as skilled as the others around them and lamented the fact that they could not condense a world avatar.

A world avatar meant a lot to every warrior. Condensing a world avatar would directly raise the level of a person's power.
Their battle ability would go up a level as well, and the benefits were long-term. A world avatar had nine levels. After reaching each level, one would level up even more.
Condensing a world avatar needed somewhere that was full of the laws of the world.
Those places were incredibly rare, both in the outside world and the Whirling world! In the whole of Whirling world, only Cloud Valley contained such a place, but one needed to obtain the rights to enter.
Rudy sighed. There was no way he would ever be able to form a world avatar in his life. He was just there to watch.
However, he could not help but rue the fact that those who would seem like absolute masters in front of Rudy did not even manage to get into Cloud Valley.

Right at that moment, he heard an angry shout, “I refuse to believe it! This Killing Illusion Array might be able to trap me once or twice, but I’ll definitely succeed this time! I was just careless last time!”

A clean-looking man shouted out in frustration. He looked incredibly angry and his hands were tightly clenched.

It was obvious how emotional he was at that moment. The one in front of him was probably a fellow disciple of his.

That person frowned helplessly, “What’s the point of getting so emotional? If this array was so easy to get through, then there wouldn’t be so many who have failed. Each time, you’ll need to face at least two opponents…”

“By the time you reach the sixth stage, you’ll face a warrior that has already mastered the second stage of a lower ultimate god rank technique and one with the first stage. Even reaching that far means you’ll have already passed five stages. It wouldn’t be easy for anyone.”

“Whether you make it through or not, don’t get so emotional! You didn’t fail because you were careless or because you weren’t prepared enough. You just weren’t able to pass all six stages! By the time you reach the fifth stage, you’re already almost spent.”

The man clearly did not agree with what his fellow disciple said. He did not want to accept his own failure.

He clenched his teeth slightly, looking incredibly indignant.

He said, “You’re wrong! I’m the one who entered the illusion, not you! Don’t make such judgments. I was just careless, and that’s why I failed. If I had just changed the order a bit, it wouldn’t have ended like this.”

As he said that, his eyes were wide. His eyeballs looked like they were going to pop out of their sockets.

He had practically forced those words out through his clenched teeth. That person looked like he was going crazy. He tried reasoning with his fellow disciple that it was the wrong judgment, that he was not weak!

Everyone shook their heads silently when they saw how he was acting. It was because everyone else knew that his fellow disciple was right.

The man was not willing to admit to his own faults and face the truth that he would not be able to enter Cloud Valley.

Not being able to enter Cloud Valley meant not being able to comprehend the laws and condense a world avatar. To proud masters, it had a significant impact!

Many of them could not accept that fact!

Rudy sighed, looking up at Jack and sighing, “Actually, those masters don’t seem to be able to take much mentally. They can calmly face life and death, but they can’t accept it when they’re not as good as others. All of the warriors who are here are among the best warriors in their respective worlds…”

“Even if they did not stand at the top, they were warriors that were ranked highly. However, not even being able to enter Cloud Valley would definitely impact them greatly.”

Jack sighed, looking up at the warriors around them. His voice sank a bit, “Everyone has to face their own weaknesses. Pride is the greatest downfall of man. If they can’t even get past this, they won’t be able to do well in the future either as there’s always someone stronger.”

Second-grade worlds were not the end. There were also first-grade worlds after that. There would be even more masters there. Those so-called experts might not even be anything in first-grade worlds.

Jack shook his head with a smile when he thought of that.
He reached out and patted Rudy on the shoulder, “Alright, let’s go in!”
Rudy said, “To the Killing Illusion Array?”
Jack shook his head, “If we want to enter Cloud Valley, we’d need to obtain the Valley Entrance Pass. Only those with the pass can enter Cloud Valley. Cloud Valley is actually in a different space, and this is only the entrance. There are two ways to gain a Valley Entrance Pass. The first way is simpler.
“You’d need to test your body’s compatibility with the laws. If you have over sixty percent, you’ll be awarded a Valley Entrance Pass. If you don’t have that high of compatibility, you’ll have to go through the Killing Illusion Array. Only by going through that would you be able to get the pass.”
The rules were actually very simple. There were only two options.
When Rudy heard that he widened his eyes, “The first method is actually that simple? Do you just need to test your compatibility? Then, Jack, you'll have an easy time. I thought you'd need to go through a few challenges."

Jack shook his head and smiled, "Even though the first way is simple, not many can actually get a Valley Entrance Pass straight away. Even though I've always been confident in myself, I can't help but feel a bit worried…"
A person's skill did not mean that they would be compatible with the laws.
Jack had relied on the memories he inherited the whole time. It had nothing to do with his own body. As for his compatibility, he was not that confident.
After the two of them talked for a while, they walked to where they needed to test their compatibility. There were sixty-six stones on the massive plaza.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3594

• • •

The stones were around half the height of a person.
A warrior needed to stand on the stones to test their compatibility. There were nine crystals on the stones, and they would light up based on how compatible a person was with the corresponding laws. However, the stones were not that efficient.
A warrior might not get their results immediately standing on it. They needed to wait for a while, sometimes up to five minutes.
Many warriors were waiting to be tested, and there were only sixty-six stones, so it caused a massive queue.
Thankfully, everyone knew that causing trouble would only waste more time, so everyone wisely queued up. The plaza was incredibly large, but the line spanned until the outside of the plaza.

Looking at the many people in front of them, Rudy widened his eyes, “How long will we have to queue up for? It’s not moving that quickly either. I feel like we’d be lucky if it gets to us in ten to twelve hours.”
Jack nodded, looking into the distance. The stones looked like they were only the size of a nail from where they were.
He sighed, there was nothing to say about their situation. They were forced to queue up obediently.
Jack stood in front of Rudy.
Rudy had not planned on queuing up, but there was no reason not to take the test. He did not need to pay for it anyway.
The two of them stood at the back of the line for the thirty-seventh stone. Rudy looked over and did an estimation in his heart.
There were at least a thousand people in front of them. He took a deep breath. There was a lot of noise around them, and it filled his ears. Rudy felt annoyed at that. After being with Jack for so long, he started to hate noisy environments as well.

After the two of them started queueing up, neither of them spoke. It was because both of them felt like they would not be able to hear anything even if they spoke anyway. Everyone seemed intent on chattering nonstop.
A man with a mustache shook his head and said, “If I fail here, I’ll go to the other side immediately! I wouldn’t try to test myself again! Stop wasting your time…”
“Do you think the stones would lie to you? If you can’t, then you can’t! You’re so far away from getting the pass as well, only two crystals lit up! What’s the point of queueing up again? I think you’re just refusing to accept the truth!”
The person that was being spoken to looked a bit ugly. His features all seemed out of place. One of his eyes was bigger than the other, and his mouth was even slanted. The ugly man sniffed in disdain.
He shouted, “What do you know?! Once you stand up there, you’ll know why I wanted to get tested again!”

The mustache man scoffed and looked at the ugly man. It was obvious that the ugly man was just trying too hard.
He narrowed his eyes and said, “Stop trying to twist things. If it’s really as you say, then wouldn’t more people queue up again?
You’re the only one being stubborn!”
The ugly man clenched his teeth, visibly angered at those words.
He said in a low voice, “Just shut up! The test of compatibility needs both your body and spirit!
During the test, I was distracted by others and didn’t manage to activate my soul, that’s why I only got twenty percent! If you were me, you’d be unhappy as well!”
The mustache man laughed, saying in disdain, “Stop trying to come up with weak excuses for yourself! If you can’t, then you can’t! Even if you take the test again, the results would be the same!”

• • •

• • •

The ugly man clenched his fists as he heard that, wanting nothing more than to punch the other man, “Just shut up! I’ll say this again, shut your mouth! Otherwise, I’ll rip it out!”
The mustache man laughed when he heard that, “What? You want to hit me? Let’s just forget about what would happen if you broke the rules, even without the rules in place, you would still be no match for me. Stop thinking so highly of yourself! You’re nothing in my eyes!”
The two of them started to argue more and more. The ones around them could no longer take their bickering.
At that moment, someone said loudly, “Hey, both of you! Shut up! Look who’s here!”
The two of them looked over at the same time. Jack was intrigued as well, and he looked toward where that person was pointing. A few men who were quite extravagantly dressed walked over with their heads held high. Those men clearly did not have good intentions.

At that moment, someone said, “Those warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent are getting bolder!”
“That’s right! They’re relying on the fact that no one wants to offend those from their world. However, they can’t keep trying to push the boundaries. Once or twice is fine, but no one can stand it if they keep on doing this!”
“Hey, can you keep it down? Don’t you know how those from the Swelling Tide Continent and the Star Continent are?”
“Those people are really united. The moment they hear anything like this, they’ll definitely come looking for you! It’s one thing if they were just going to cause some trouble, but those people will stick to you like glue, constantly causing you trouble. No one can stand it.”
Jack raised an eyebrow. It was his first time hearing the names of those worlds.
Looking at how those warriors were dressed, they had special symbols on their clothes, so Jack immediately saw that they were from second-grade worlds.

They looked like thugs on the streets. Everyone was obediently queueing up, but they did not seem to care as they walked directly forward.
Jack’s intuition told him that there was only one thing they could be trying to do with the way they were acting.
Rudy frowned and said, “It’s warriors from second-grade worlds again! Each time they appear, they never fail to disgust me!”
Jack smiled and shook his head, not saying anything.
The few of them walked to the front of the line, and just like Jack expected, they pushed away the warriors that were queueing up, blatantly cutting the line! The warriors around them looked furious but did not dare to say anything.
Quite a few warriors seemed incredibly angry, but no one said anything!
Jack frowned, closely observing everything but remaining silent.
A warrior in front of Jack had never seen that situation before.

He had just arrived at Cloud City not too long ago, and he asked curiously, “Are the warriors from Swelling Tide Continent really so strong that no one dares to do anything to them?”
Everyone around them seemed to either smile bitterly or in exasperation at that.
A man in purple robes said helplessly, “No one would dare to do anything to them. Initially, some spoke up against it. That person was immediately targeted by every single warrior from the Swelling Tide Continent. He was targeted everywhere he went. Those people stick to you like glue and they’re impossible to deal with!”

• • •

• • •

“Most importantly, the warriors from that world are strangely united! The moment you offend one of them, all of them will go against you. It’s because of that everyone just bears with it unless it harms them then no one would bother tolerating all that trouble.”

Rudy clenched his teeth. He hated things like that, but there was nothing he could do about it. It was not like he could suddenly make an enemy out of all the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent. Hence, most of the warriors were just forced to accept this!

Rudy’s hands trembled slightly as he looked at Jack and said, “Luckily, we aren’t in the front right now! Otherwise, I’d be infuriated,” Jack raised an eyebrow as he looked at Rudy calmly. Some things could really not be avoided.

As time slowly ticked away, a whole ten hours passed. It was finally almost their turn to be tested.
When there were only ten people in front of them, Rudy was already mumbling to himself excitedly, “It really is difficult! I counted it just now. The chances of passing are almost less than one in a hundred! It’s just so hard!”
Jack raised an eyebrow, not surprised by that at all. If it was that easy, there would not be so many people trying to pass the Killing Illusion Array.
Right at that moment, some commotion could be heard from afar.
Jack looked over and saw three warriors from Swelling Tide Continent who were walking past the crowd from a distance.
They were walking incredibly quickly, and the discussions that had stopped started again, “It’s Case Olsen! Didn’t all of them go toward the level two cities already? Why are they suddenly back?”
“I think they must have admitted defeat! There is always someone stronger. Even though they were among the strongest warriors, it would be much harder for them to keep up with their arrogant ways in a level two city. That's why they came back.

They're probably trying to form a world avatar and increase their power before they try the level two cities again."
"You're right! I think so too. They were always so full of themselves before this. They must have found themselves lacking in the level two cities, but they weren't willing to give up, so they came back here to improve themselves…"
"What do you think is at the level of two cities other than the Radiant Hall? Why have so many struggled there? I heard a lot have died inside too."
"Let's not talk about that for now! Those three are clearly here to cut the line! They're right between our two lines! They'll be here soon. We can't let them hear us!"
Everyone immediately shut their mouths.
Jack raised an eyebrow. It was the first time he heard about Case Olsen, but from the discussions, he got the gist of who that person was.

Case had a frown on and looked incredibly unhappy as if everyone owed him a lot of money. No matter who spoke, he would beat that person up properly.
Quite a few of the warriors seemed terrified at the sight of Case!
They had even deliberately distanced themselves so the three warriors could advance quicker!
There were fewer and fewer people in front, and it was quickly about to be Jack's turn.
Rudy felt incredibly uneasy about that. Sure enough, those three stood right in front of Jack.
Case calmly looked at Jack as if he would slap Jack if the other party did not give way.
Case pointed at Jack, "Get lost and head to the back!"
Jack laughed. He could not believe how arrogant that man was. Even when cutting the queue, he acted like this!
Jack took a deep breath, pushing back his anger. He was rarely angered so quickly by anyone.

He looked up at Case and said coldly, “Who do you think you are? You’re acting so shamelessly, but you act like you’re in the right. Who gave you the courage to do that?”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3597

. . .

Jack had not lowered his voice when he said that, so everyone heard Jack clearly.
Quite a few of them widened their eyes as they looked over!
Who was that?
How could he talk to Case like that?!
Did he not know that Case was from a holy grade clan in Swelling Tide Continent?!
Case was among the top five chosen disciples there!
Normal warriors would never dare to provoke Case. Swelling Tide Continent was not just united, they were also among the stronger second-grade worlds.
Case widened his eyes in disbelief. He could not believe that someone had actually denied his order and even spoken to him so harshly!
Octavius, who was behind Jack, immediately stood forward.

He glared at Jack, “Brat! Do you want to die?! How dare you talk to Case like that?!”
Jack took a deep breath, already thoroughly angered. Jack was not afraid of anyone anyway, no matter where they were from.
He scoffed and said, “Who do you think you are? What gives you the right to have me make way for you like that?! If you want to get tested, shouldn’t you be queueing up? What’s the problem with what I said? Are you not trying to cut in line? Are you not shameless?”
The moment that was said, everyone around Jack suppressed their laughter.
Quite a few of them already disliked the Swelling Tide Continent. The whole continent tried to use their unity to do whatever they wanted.
No matter who had a conflict with them, those people would start acting like mad dogs! With all the laughter, the three of them looked absolutely furious!
Case looked at Jack with clenched teeth, “You should be glad for the rules in Cloud City! Otherwise, we’d have already ripped you apart!”

Jack’s lips twitched helplessly as he evaluated the three of them, “Stop trying to disgust me. Who do you think you are?! Can you stop acting like a fly and disturbing me?!”
Case had already lost his temper completely. If looks could kill, Jack would have already died a thousand times. No one had ever talked to Case like that!
He needed to teach Jack a lesson and have Jack pay a price for his behavior.
He clenched his teeth and looked at Jack, “Brat! If you kneel and beg for mercy right now, I’ll leave your corpse intact! Otherwise, you’ll die a horrible death!”
Jack shook his head in exasperation, “I hear threats like that too often. Let me say it again! Can you please just get lost and stop disturbing me? I don’t care how strong the Swelling Tide Continent is. If you have the skills, then come fight me. However, let me warn you, once you do anything, it will be too late to regret it.”

Cloud City was not Chaos City. They could not attack in groups. Even if they wanted to cause him trouble, they would need to do it within the rules.
There were some things they could not do at all. To Jack, it would be very easy to destroy them!
Case sneered at Jack’s words, looking at Jack, “What did you say? We’d regret it? Do you even know what you’re saying?”
Case even wondered if he had misheard Jack. Jack actually said they would regret it.
What a joke!
Was that guy crazy?

Case narrowed his eyes at Jack, and his anger soared. However, he slowly calmed down as time passed. Something was wrong with that guy!

It was not like Case had never seen any idiots or anyone trying to put on an act before. The person in front of him was acting too arrogantly. The man clearly knew who he was, and clearly knew that he was from Swelling Tide Continent as well as the consequences of offending him. That was something everyone there knew.

So how did the man dare to go against him and say all of that?

Was the man not afraid of them seeking revenge?

Was the man not afraid of being tortured?

Unless the man was one of those warriors who stood at the top, there was no other way the man would act like this. Or maybe the man was doing it on purpose!

Otherwise, where did he get all that courage from?
The strongest warriors in the Whirling World were not at Cloud City at all. They had all rushed over to the level two cities, and would not leave that easily.
Those at Cloud City were mostly just the stronger warriors. Looking at Jack, he did not seem to even be at that level.
Case took a deep breath as he started to say, “Aren’t you happy you got others to laugh at me? You accomplished your task, didn’t you!”
The moment he said that, the laughter diminished quite a bit.
Jack raised an eyebrow, not understanding what he was saying.
Case’s expressions had changed quite a few times, and it was unclear what he was thinking.
Jack did not expect him to say something like that. It was strange.
Case did not care if Jack answered him or not as he merely scoffed and continued, “You act like you aren’t afraid of anything, but don’t think we’re idiots here. I know most of the really strong warriors, and not a single one of them looks like you. Don’t tell me I don’t know you because you have a mask on. None of the truly strong warriors would hide their faces behind a mask!”

Jack frowned, completely speechless.
However, he was still curious as to what the other party was getting at.
Case started to raise his voice and say, “Could you think that the others here would regard you more highly because of your actions? You’re just being a complete idiot now. Unless you’re one of those warriors who stand at the top, how could you have the courage to challenge me and the whole of Swelling Tide Continent?!”
He said all of that incredibly pridefully.
The onlookers could not help but suddenly look thoughtful. Even though they did not like Case, they had to admit that Case was right.
A normal warrior would not have spoken up so harshly even if they were feeling rebellious.

It was as if Jack did not care about revenge from the whole Swelling Tide Continent at all.
It was as if Jack was not afraid of anything, but was that possible?
Just like what Case said, Jack was either crazy, or Jack had other motives!
What could the motives be?
Jack could not help but laugh after hearing all of that.
Case really did have a strong imagination to think that he was trying to accomplish some task.
Case coldly said, “You must have been sent by Kendall! I knew he would try and do something behind my back, but I can’t believe he was employing such a lowly method. Honestly, you’ve accomplished nothing other than disgust me! You’re just a dog that belongs to Kendall, what’s the point of barking so loudly? It’s not like you can actually do anything to me!”

In just a few words, Case had designated Jack as a dog and determined that Jack was acting this way under orders.

Everyone was suddenly looking at Jack differently. Even though being a dog was honestly nothing much, it was still not the nicest thing to hear.

Rudy was so angry his face was turning red. Who was Kendall even?

Case had fabricated everything to insult Jack. That disgusting man was calling someone else disgusting instead! It was as if he was not the one in the wrong and he was not the one acting shamelessly!

His skills in twisting the truth were admittedly admirable.

Jack scoffed as he looked at Case coldly, “Stop trying to smear me. You speak as if you’re telling the truth. You told me to not act like everyone else is an idiot, but I should be telling you that instead. Did you forget how our conflict started? Even if you're an idiot, you should at least retain some memory!"

Hearing that, everyone immediately realized that they had only started fighting because Case had tried to cut in line!
Jack had been perfectly fine otherwise, but Case had come over to cause all that trouble.
If Jack really was there for a certain task, should he not have been the one to start the conflict?
This was more of a coincidence. There was no way anyone could determine who Case would end up trying to cut in the line. So, it completely invalidated what Case had been saying.
Case's lips stiffened, suddenly unable to say anything. In truth, he had actually believed what he said earlier, and he had not just been making something up. However, Jack's words gave him a moment of realization.
Jack continued, "You should just stop trying to make up lies with that empty head of yours. You and your people are already so used to your tyrannical ways. Is it wrong if someone else doesn’t want to cooperate? Can you stop with your disgusting thoughts?! And you said I disgust you. You’re clearly the one annoying me like a fly!”

Case’s face was absolutely dark at that moment.

He said through clenched teeth, “Then tell me, what gave you the courage to go against me and the whole of Swelling Tide Continent?! Don’t tell me you don’t care at all. There’s no way anyone would believe that!”

Jack’s lips twitched as he smiled coldly, “I just don’t like your disgusting ways.”

After saying that, Jack could not be bothered to say anything else.

The person in front of Jack had already completed his test. Only three crystals had lit up, meaning that person was only thirty percent compatible with the laws, far away from the sixty percent needed.

That person shut his eyes sadly. It was just too improbable. It was too hard to get a Valley Entry Pass from the stones here.

That person sighed as he slowly walked away.
The moment that person walked away, Jack did not hesitate to walk up the stone.
He truly did not want to waste any more time on Case.
Case’s lips twitched as he stared at Jack furiously. That look was filled with intense hatred.

• • •

All of the warriors there had the same thought in their minds, that Jack was done for, and that the Swelling Tide Continent would never let that go.

Jack’s actions had not only challenged Case but the whole continent. With how the warriors from that continent were, they would never let Jack off.

They would target Jack endlessly. Unless that masked man finally dies at their hands, they would never relent!

Some of the warriors were feeling sad for Jack while some were amused.

On the other hand, Jack did not care about how anyone else was thinking at all. At that moment, his full focus was on the stone.

After he stood there firmly, a faint energy enveloped Jack’s body, and an old voice could be heard in his mind, “Focus your full attention! Summon up all your true energy and use all your soul energy to fuse with this energy!”

Jack took a deep breath, summoning up all his power as that old voice had said, putting it into that thin energy around him. Time slowly flowed, and the stone finally showed results after about five minutes.
He then looked down and raised an eyebrow. There was a glint of surprise on his face. After that, he heard some laughter.
“I was wondering how strong you were! You’re just trash! Only two crystals lit up. With compatibility like that, there’s no way you’re that strong! Brat, stop trying to put on an act in front of me! You’ve been exposed! You were just ordered to challenge me!
A complete dog!”
Octavius started to laugh as well, mocking, “This guy probably thought no one would be able to expose him if he bragged enough. It looks like he was just completely forcing it!”

“Two crystals being lit up means a twenty percent compatibility. Even though compatibility can’t determine a person’s strength, it’s obvious how weak you are with that level of compatibility! If your compatibility is low, how strong would your technique be?”
Mastering a technique needed talent. A warrior needed to be strong in every way to master a high-level technique. Low compatibility in a person meant that their comprehension was also bad.
They would not be able to comprehend the laws, and only beneath the laws were the attributes.
That was why Octavius said that low compatibility meant someone would not be able to master a strong technique. They were already limited in comprehension.
Jack sighed, he was actually surprised at the result. After all, he was using a storm god rank technique.
He should not have had such low compatibility, but that seemed to be the case. He was only twenty percent compatible.

Jack frowned thinking about it. He suddenly understood, he had not relied on his comprehension to reach where he was.
A person needed to advance on their own merits, but Jack's way forward had already been paved by the memories he had, and he just needed to walk along the path. That was why he had advanced so smoothly. All the hardships everyone had were nothing to Jack.
That was why Jack had never noticed his low level of compatibility. If he had advanced himself, he would probably still be at West Cercie State.
Jack sighed, not dwelling on it. There was no point as the results did not change what Jack needed to do.
He slowly walked off the stone.
Rudy was the next in line. He widened his eyes in disbelief.
Jack was surprised at the result, but Rudy had been completely shocked.

Rudy had been with Jack for so long in Jack's journey, and no one knew Jack's talents better than he did.

With so much talent and skill, Jack was only at 20% compatibility. Rudy could not accept that at all. It felt too absurd!

How was that possible?

It was unthinkable!

Having low compatibility with the laws meant that it would be very difficult for Jack to master the attributes as he trained. That was because attributes were subsets of the laws.

Since it was hard to understand attributes, it meant that Jack would not be able to use high-level techniques at all. That was a natural consequence. Yet, the skills that Jack used were far greater than any ordinary person could imagine. Otherwise, he would never have been able to reach his heights. No one ever managed to defeat Jack.

Rudy gulped and blurted in disbelief, “The stone is probably damaged… The results aren’t accurate! They can’t be!”
When everyone around him heard that, everyone laughed in disdain. After all, they knew nothing about Jack and felt like Rudy refused to accept the truth.
Those stones were created along with the Whirling World, and if anything was wrong with the stones, it meant there was something wrong with the creator.
How was that possible?
At that moment, Octavius said coldly, “Stop wasting everyone’s time. If it’s your turn, then hurry up and get tested. What’s the point of saying all of that? Do you like wasting time?”
Octavius’ words were spoken with the intent of making everyone hate Jack and Rudy.
Rudy’s lips twitched as he turned and glared at Octavius.
Octavius scoffed before he held his head high and said, “What? Are you not happy? Am I not right? Aren’t you just wasting everyone’s time?”

Rudy took a deep breath and said, “I’m not going to do it anymore.”
Rudy thus gave his spot to the person behind him. He had just been there for fun, anyway. After all, he was not talented enough to be worth any notice. He would not get any decent results.
If all of the commotions had not happened, his results would just be him satisfying his curiosity. Unfortunately, many people were looking at them at that moment. If his results were bad, they would be mocked in various ways, which might also drag down Jack. Since that was the case, he decided against getting tested.
Octavius laughed. “It looks like you finally realize the kind of vermin you are. You don’t want to embarrass yourself in front of us, right?”
Case and Jimmy, who was behind them, laughed as well. The three of them had a very good relationship with each other.
Jimmy had been quiet all the while not because he was a good person, but because he had just been waiting for the right time.

He had wanted to continue with what Octavius was saying to make Jack look worse, but Jack had said something instead.
At that moment, he was already next to Rudy and patted him on the shoulder. There was no reason to continue arguing anymore.
Jack looked at Octavius to say, “You’re going to target me, right?”
Octavius had thought that Jack would turn around and run away, seeing how embarrassing his result was, yet Jack actually asked that question, which only amused him.

Octavius scoffed and said, “Do you need to ask? I told you you’d pay the price!”
Jack calmly continued, “Then, once I’m out of Cloud Valley, I’ll participate in the fog battlefield with all of you.”
It was not just Octavius, but everyone else who heard Jack was stunned as well.
What was wrong with this guy?
Was he unaware of what he said?
Did he forget the results?
He wanted to enter Cloud Valley with just 20% compatibility?
He even said that he would take part in the fog battlefield with them after coming out of Cloud Valley!
Was he crazy?
Case was speechless at that, already sure that Jack was crazy. There was no point in wasting his breath on a madman, but it was not like he could just not say anything. He would end up losing his pride if he held back.

Case’s lips twitched, wanting to rush forward to beat Jack up, but he was forced to hold back due to the laws of the place.
He gritted his teeth and said, “Are you crazy? Do you know what you’re saying? Everyone saw your result, and you still want to enter Cloud Valley?”
Jack raised an eyebrow. “Did you drop your brain? There are two ways to enter the valley. Everyone else knows about that except you!”
Case‘s lips stiffened, feeling like he was about to faint from the anger. This guy called him brainless!
Of course he knew there were two ways to obtain the Valley Entrance Pass. If one was not compatible enough, they could try going through the Killing Illusion Array and needed to pass six stages for the pass.
This guy only had a 20% compatibility, yet he still wanted to try his luck on the Killing Illusion Array?!
Case refused to believe that guy would be successful. He did not even think about it, but the guy actually used that against him, much to his anger. He started to pant as he looked at Jack intensely. He wanted to rip Jack apart.

Case gritted his teeth and said, “You only have twenty percent compatibility, and you’re trying to brave the Killing Illusion Array?!
You’re really confident in yourself, aren’t you? With that bit of compatibility, it’s obvious how weak you are. Even reaching Cloud City is already your limit, and you’re still trying to take up the challenges. Just be honest, are you mad?”
Jack raised an eyebrow, his face devoid of emotions. It was as if nothing Case said would affect him.
All of a sudden, Jack smiled and said, “I know you won’t believe me, but that’s fine. As long as you promise me that you won’t change your mind, you can think whatever you want to.”
Case’s lips twitched, looking at Jack like he was sick. Octavius and Jimmy were the same as well.
Everyone looked at Jack incredulously, feeling like he was psychotic.

Someone whispered, “Did this guy go crazy? He sounds like he’s certain he’ll be able to enter Cloud Valley. He even wants to go to the fog battlefield with those people. I don’t think he even knows what the fog battlefield is! How else would he be this cocky? Does he want to die that badly, or is he just too confident?”

The person next to him laughed and said, “I can assure you, he definitely knows the rules of the fog battlefield. Anyone who reached Cloud City on their own would have received information about the city.”

• • •

Chapter 3603

“Everyone knows of Cloud City’s various rules. Just look at how arrogantly he’s acting! He probably doesn’t think that the fog battlefield is dangerous at all. I think he’s just messed up. He doesn’t have blind confidence; he’s just bragged too much and isn’t willing to admit he’s wrong.”

After he said that, a lot of people around the man nodded in agreement. They felt like Jack deep down knew his place yet was stubborn to admit it due to his pride.

In the end, they were not allowed to fight without any reason there. No matter how angry the other party got, all they could do was say a few words.

Jack already offended them anyway, so he might as well say a bit more and it would not change anything.

Case felt like he would just get more frustrated arguing with Jack, but he still did not want to let it drop.

Case clenched his fists. “Remember what you’ve said! Fine, I’ll hold you to your word. If you have the ability to get in Cloud Valley…”

After he said that, he paused. His lips twitched as if he was embarrassed to even say what he was saying.

However, he forced himself to continue, “When you come out of Cloud Valley, I’ll wait for you at the entrance. Everyone here can be our witness! Then, we’ll go take part in the fog battlefield. It’ll be down to your skills if you can survive!”

Case then pushed away the next person in line, cutting in with his two fellow disciples. The person who was pushed away stiffened, his face evidently souring in displeasure but decided not to act on it. After all, he did not have Jack’s courage to face the Swelling Tide Continent.

Case quickly got on the stone. Jack raised an eyebrow, remaining in place and not leaving. He waited to see Case’s results.

Noticing Jack was waiting, Case scoffed and said, “Do you think I’ll embarrass myself like you did?”
Jack said in exasperation, “Why are you so full of nonsense? Can’t you just shut your mouth?”
Case was so angry that he almost lost his breath. He could not bear talking to this guy anymore. After all, no matter how angry he got, he could not attack him, so he was forced to swallow all his anger.
His results came out very quickly, revealed in just a moment.
Six crystals lit up around the stone, and the air around him let out a red glow as a Valley Entrance Pass materialized and fell into his hands.
Case smiled confidently. Sure enough, he got the pass just like he expected.
Geniuses were geniuses, and they could not be compared to those who faked to be one.
Case let out a confident smirk as he looked at Jack mockingly.
Everyone started to look at Jack below but saw that Jack’s expression was still calm, as if he had expected that result. Even though Jack had a mask on, it only covered half his face.

They could still see Jack’s expression through his eyes and the other half of his face. Quite a few people raised their eyebrows, and some began talking among themselves.
“Let’s not talk about anything else. When it comes to keeping their cool, I don’t think anyone here can beat this guy. If it was me, I would’ve dug a hole for myself in the ground from the sheer awkwardness, but he isn’t even batting an eye. I’m impressed!”
“What do you think he’s thinking? I think he’s just crazy. Even though the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent are a brazen bunch, he’s acting like he doesn’t care. Unless you’re incredibly skilled or you come from a powerful background, you can’t do that. I don’t think he has either!”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3604

• • •

“Who knows what he’s thinking? We’ve seen what happened anyway, and they’re not going to let him off the hook. He’s going to suffer now. None of the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent are going to let him off! They won’t rest until they torture this guy to death!”

“He knew what’ll happen but still insisted on facing them head-on. What do you think he’s thinking?”

“Whatever, let’s stop guessing. Unless we’re him, no one will know what he’s thinking. We don’t need to know either. After all, he’s probably just a madman.”

Case walked down the stone, and Octavius went up right after that. The results came out very quickly as well. He managed to get his entrance pass in just a few moments. Everyone looked at them with looks of admiration, lamenting that the strong would always remain at the top of the pyramid.

When they went through the tests, only one out of a hundred was lucky enough to pass, but those two managed to get it in just one try.
Prodigies would always be prodigies, no doubt.
Jimmy took a deep breath, suddenly feeling like the weight on his shoulders was heavy. His two elder disciples had gotten the entrance passes. If he could not reach 60% compatibility, it would be so embarrassing.
After Octavius got off the stone proudly, Jimmy walked up the stone. He started to summon all the energy in his body.
After a few moments, the crystals that lit up gave an obvious result.
Jimmy’s lips stiffened. He had failed!
Only five crystals had lit up, but a failure was a failure. He had not gotten 60%. Compared to his elder disciples, he was still a level lower!
Jimmy’s face reddened, feeling like he had never been so embarrassed before.
Case frowned. He could see Jimmy’s awkward expression and stiff body, and it was obvious what Jimmy was thinking. He did not think much about it.

He raised his voice and said, “Come down! There’s nothing embarrassing about it. You’re just one crystal away. There are some who got two crystals and are still so confident.”
Jimmy looked at Case and said miserably, “I’m not crazy…”
No matter how difficult it was, he still had to accept it.
Jimmy walked off the stone with a depressed aura.
When he returned to Case’s side, Case glared at Jimmy. “What’s there to be so depressed about?!”
Case looked like he suddenly thought about something.
He smirked as he said, “I won’t waste my time on that brat. Since you can’t go into Cloud Valley, go look at that guy’s results. Isn’t he about to enter the Killing Illusion Array? You can go see how he does…”
No matter how angry he was, he needed to get his priorities straight. He came back to form his world avatar in Cloud Valley to improve his skills, not to fight with a brainless twat.

He needed to enter Cloud Valley before anything else. Thus, he decided to have Jimmy keep an eye on Jack. They could not let that guy escape!
Jimmy naturally understood what Case meant and nodded, “Alright, don’t worry, Case.”
Case let out a cold smile before he turned around to look at Jack, saying mockingly, “Brat, you were so confident before this.
Make sure you don’t regret anything. Jimmy here happens to be free. He’ll see if you can get the entrance pass from the Killing Illusion Array.”
Jack’s only response was a cold nod.
Case stiffened. Every time he spoke to Jack, it was like speaking to a wall. Jack did not react at all, and the one who ended up frustrated was himself.

• • •

Case’s lips twitched. He decided to turn away, shooting a look at Octavius. Octavius nodded, and the two of them took their entrance passes and entered Cloud Valley.
Only Jimmy was left behind, facing Jack.
Everyone looked at them, amused.
Looking at the three men, some people felt like Jack was shooting his foot. The man surely did not expect anyone to stay and keep an eye on him.
In truth, Jack did not even think about that at all. Since someone was there to look at him, he would simply allow it. It was not troublesome, anyway.
Jack said calmly, “You can follow me if you want, but don’t start talking nonsense. I don’t have the time to waste on you.”
After saying that, Jack left without turning around. The Killing Illusion Array was right on the other side.

Jimmy’s lips twitched, wanting to ridicule Jack, but he did not want to be irritated in the process. Thus, he swallowed his words and followed behind, going toward the Killing Illusion Array. At that moment, everyone started to get interested.

Some people did not even bother queueing up anymore, deciding to follow them to watch what happened.

After all, Jack had been so confident as if everything he said would happen. Quite a few people wanted to see what would happen to Jack, and wanted to witness how many stages he would be able to get past in the Killing Illusion Array.

A few people followed Jack and the others to the point that, in the end, it became a large gathering of people. All of them gathered where the Killing Illusion Array was.

The Killing Illusion Array was at a large circular plaza lit up with vibrant lights. The plaza was very wide, and there was a sea of people there.

The whole plaza had countless illusory stones around them.

Anyone who wanted to pass needed to put five million spirit crystals or the corresponding amount of purple gold into those stones to activate the Killing Illusion Array. Then, the person going through the test would need to sit on the illusory stone upon activation to go through the test.

They did not need to undergo the tests physically, of course. The illusory stone would form an exact clone of the person, sending the person into the Killing Illusion Array to go through the test. No matter how much damage one suffered in the illusion, their actual body would not be harmed.

Jack told Rudy all about those rules on the way. As Jack's subordinate, Rudy did not receive all the rules when he entered Cloud City.

Rudy finally understood what the Killing Illusion Array was.

He smiled and said, "That's not bad. It saves time, effort, and trouble. Even if you get injured there, it won't be too bad."

Rudy was happy for a moment before he turned to look at Jimmy behind them in annoyance.

Even though Jimmy did not dare to do anything to them, he was like a fly on the wall, annoying him with just his mere presence.
Just looking at the guy made him think of how the three of them had humiliated him and Jack.
Rudy said, “They should be happy that we can’t fight here, or you wouldn’t let them off easily!”
Jack smiled and said, “This is fine. As long as they keep to their word, they’ll pay the price.”
Rudy looked up at Jack earnestly. “Jack, I wasn’t acting out back there. That stone must be broken!”
He knew very well how strong Jack was. He refused to believe Jack was so strong with only 20% compatibility.

• • •

The moment Rudy saw only two crystals lit up on the stone, he was stunned.
He could not believe what he was seeing at all. After all, his experiences were far more convincing than anything else, so he found it hard to accept the results that the stone showed.
Nonetheless, everyone had a point-the creator of the stone was the same person who created the Whirling World. Even if everyone there was wrong, that ancient hero could not be. Otherwise, he would never have been able to make the Whirling World.
The world was able to host innumerable warriors, too. Those conflicting feelings continued the whole time, causing Rudy’s mind to feel scrambled. He did not know whether or not to believe the stone.

However, his past experiences told him that Jack's results could not be that bad. There were nine crystals on the stone, and Jack would have at least lit up eight of those crystals. Only that would reflect Jack's skills.

Jack smiled, saying calmly, "The stone wasn't wrong. I do have twenty-percent compatibility."

Rudy's lips stiffened, not knowing what to say. Even after Jack admitted it himself, he was still doubtful.

Alas, the truth was in front of him and Jack made no arguments, so he, too, had nothing to refute with.

He took a deep breath and said helplessly, "But you're powerful! Even if the strongest warrior from second-grade worlds stands before you, he'd still be no match for you. Even Case could light up six of those crystals, so there's no way you can't!"

Rudy's words carried all his suspicions.

Jack nodded. In truth, Rudy was not wrong. However, he really had too many secrets and had only been able to reach his heights due to those secrets. He did not need talent at all.

Others had to undergo many difficulties when it came to getting stronger, but Jack walked a paved path without any obstacles - all thanks to the ancient heroes that paved the way for him.

He just needed to take things one step at a time. Of course, there were some things that could not be explained, and it was not the time to explain them anyway.

Jack patted Rudy's shoulder. "I'll explain all of that in the future."

Rudy sighed. Even though he felt frustrated, it was not the time for any explanations.

At that moment, a sharp-nosed man shouted, "I already said to not put the third stage in front. Just follow the order we agreed on, and you'll succeed! You're like a stubborn mule… Look at what happened! You wasted five million spirit crystals! Do you not care about that?"

The sharp-nosed man was shouting at top of his lungs, and the one being shouted at looked smaller than he was. He had a pair of very small ears as well.

The small-eared man looked at the sharp-nosed man unhappily and said, “Your order is wrong too! Everyone has their own ways. I put the third stage in front because it’s the hardest for me! The second and third stages aren’t that hard!”

The sharp-nosed man’s lips twitched, looking like he was talking to an idiot.

He pointed at the small-eared man. “Is there something wrong with your head?! The third stage is the hardest, you say? Who told you that?!”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3607

• • •

The sharp-nosed man put up two fingers. “Two lower ultimate god-rank techniques at the first stage! Three upper earth-rank techniques! It looks like a lot, but it’s not that hard!”

“You can slowly challenge a lower ultimate god-rank technique before challenging an upper ultimate god-rank technique. If you do that, the third stage will be very easy! You just need to have enough focus and attention on the first stage!”

The small-eared man started to look like he agreed with some of what the sharp-nosed man said, but he refused to admit he was wrong and thus stubbornly said, “The first stage should be the hardest, but I think…”.

Before he could finish, the sharp-nosed man interrupted, “Just shut up! Just ask anyone here. Who thinks the first stage is the hardest?! Why are you arguing with me? Stop trying to be smart. Even when you lose, you refuse to admit it!”

“Don’t forget, you can only take part in the Killing Illusion Array three times. You’ve already wasted two chances, and you only have one chance left! If you still can’t do it, then it’s just not meant to be. You might never be able to form a world avatar!”
Hearing that, the small-eared man got anxious, unable to accept anyone telling him that he would not be able to get a world avatar.
Like an angered cat, he growled, “Don’t jinx me! I only did that after thinking about it deeply! Do you really think I don’t care?”
Saying that, the man’s eyes started to redden.
Rudy stood there, stunned. He did not understand at all, so he turned to look at Jack curiously.
Jack smiled as he slowly explained.
The Killing Illusion Array was split into six stages. The order could be determined by the challengers. They could choose the hardest stage to start with and could also choose the weakest one to warm up for the next challenges.

As long as they could pass all six stages, the Valley Entrance Pass was theirs!
Those two were arguing so much because the order could determine one's success as well. After all, the moment the challenges started, they would not get any chance to rest. Some challengers who were confident with their stamina would start with the hardest stage so they would have enough stamina to slowly go through the remaining rounds. If they started from the weakest one and used up too much of their power and focus, they would not have enough strength when faced with the hardest stages. Thus, everyone would carefully pick their own order when it came to those challenges.
Jack put up six fingers. "The sixth stage is the easiest and requires you to kill three illusions that have mastered upper earth rank techniques. The fifth stage is one level higher, needing you to kill five of those illusions. The fourth stage is much harder, needing you to defeat three illusions with upper earth-rank techniques and one with a lower ultimate god-rank technique.”

Saying that, Jack paused for a moment when he noticed that Rudy’s jaw slackened in shock. To Rudy, it felt like it was too difficult, and it was only the fourth stage!

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3608

• • •

Jack smiled and continued, “The third stage is even harder, needing you to kill two illusions with the first stage of lower ultimate god-rank techniques and three with upper earth-rank techniques.”

He then put up two fingers and said, “The second stage is more than twice as hard as the sixth. You need to kill three illusions with lower ultimate god-rank techniques.”

Rudy’s lips twitched. In truth, if it was just one of them, the skill ceiling would not be that high. After all, most of the warriors gathered in Cloud City were not weak.

However, the challengers need to face three illusions with lower ultimate god-rank techniques at the same time!

The spike of difficulty was too high!

Quite a few of them failed at the second stage, let alone the first stage.

Jack said, “Actually, I feel like the first stage isn’t as hard as I thought. The challengers only need to defeat two illusions that have gotten their lower ultimate god-rank techniques to the second stage.”

Rudy’s lips twitched, saying helplessly, “When it’s you, it isn’t difficult at all, but other warriors will say otherwise. Even those among the upper end of the ladder will find it hard to complete all six stages!”

No wonder those two were arguing so much. Rudy sighed. If he had their level of skills, he might have struggled just to figure out the order. After all, it concerned their future accomplishments.

No one was willing to end up being much worse than all those around them just because they could not get through this.

Rudy looked at the sharp-nosed man and said to Jack, “You only get to challenge it three times?”

Jack nodded. There were a lot of stones around the plaza, but there were also a lot of challengers.

If the challenges were not limited, no one would ever be able to get their turn. With this rule, every warrior valued their challenges a lot.
Some of them sat by the sides to calm themselves to prevent regretting their choices. They tried their best to play out the challenges, doing their best to make it as easy as possible so they could complete them. Unfortunately, a lot of the warriors just could not get through it no matter how well they arranged things. If they wanted to easily get the Valley Entrance Passes, they needed to have enough skill.
Many of them would place the blame on whatever they could instead of recognizing that they themselves and the failings of their skills and foresight-were the problem.
Those warriors that had been following Jack started to rub their hands as well, wanting to try it out. After all, they had three chances. Even if they wasted one, they still had two more.

In truth, not many of them felt like they would be able to get the passes from their compatibility. After all, high compatibility required a lot of talent.
They knew themselves how talented they were. Many of them had their hopes on the Killing Illusion Array, feeling that they would be able to use their skills and their wits to obtain the Valley Entrance Pass.
Among them, a man in purple robes shook his head and said, “I’ll pass the first stage first. If I can’t even pass that, I shouldn’t bother trying anymore.”
The first stage was the hardest, so many of them chose to put the first stage first. After all, their focus and power would be at their highest when they first enter.
It was when they were at their strongest that they would be able to show their full strength.

If they were not able to pass the first stage even with their full might, there was no hope of them passing anyway!

A white-robed man shook his head. “Hold on! You should start with the fourth stage to give yourself some confidence. There’s no limit to the time you can use during the challenges anyway, so you can recover as you fight! Just deal with the earlier stages first, and you can use your power in the first stage!”

“That way, your chances for success will be much higher. After all, if you do the first stage first, you’ll still need to be wary of the later stages, and you won’t want to use up too much true energy. You might look like you’re at full strength, but you’re actually holding back, and the skills you can use are limited!”

When that person said that, everyone else nodded, feeling like he was right.

However, someone else jumped out to refute him, “You’re right, but not quite so. You have to think about things holistically. If you put the first stage in front, you can measure your skills and see how likely it’ll be for you to pass, or how much hope you have…”

Those people discussed things for a long time, with some agreeing and others disagreeing. Everyone had their own views. After all, there was no perfect order.

After a long time, an unfriendly voice spoke up, “You’re all just unwanted vermin. Without enough skill, you won’t be able to pass no matter how you go through the stages!”

Jimmy let out a sneer as he looked at all the warriors around him.

When they heard Jimmy’s words, they felt anger in their hearts, but no one spoke. They were not as daring as Jack and dared not to offend the Swelling Tide Continent. Jimmy was quite high up in that world as well. He was skilled too, so it was not worth fighting him. Furthermore, they had nothing to say about Jimmy’s remark.

Skill was the most important thing to pass it. No matter how well one arranged things, they had no hope if they were not skilled enough.
Jack raised an eyebrow, glancing at all of them silently.
Jimmy suddenly turned to look at Jack. All the hatred in his eyes was evident.
“Did you forget what you said just now, brat? Don’t regret what you said. I won’t allow you to go back on your word! Hurry up!
Don’t waste my time!”
Even though he had not passed the compatibility test, it did not mean he could not enter Cloud Valley. That was what the Killing Illusion Array was for. Jimmy trusted in his skills. He felt like he would be able to pass it very easily.
Case asked him to keep an eye on Jack, but he was more focused on the Killing Illusion Array. He thus decided to watch as Jack joined the Killing Illusion Array.
Once Jack embarrassed himself, Jimmy’s task would be done. After that, it would be his turn to show off!

Jack’s lips twitched in exasperation.
Rudy was right, that guy was just like a pesky fly. Everything he said disgusted Jack.
Jack took a deep breath before he turned around to look at Jimmy coldly. “Can you shut up? I decide when I challenge it. If you want to challenge the Killing Illusion Array, I won’t stop you, but stop yapping at me.”

Jack had met many warriors from second-grade worlds with the same kind of attitude as Jimmy had. They always wanted to show how special they were, and they would do their best to use their words to push others back.
He regularly had to deal with nonsense like that. He did not bother with it at all.
Jimmy’s lips twitched as he glared at Jack viciously.
He gritted his teeth and looked at Jack. “Fine, keep being proud of yourself! Let’s see how long you can maintain this farce! Once you start, people will know you were just bragging! Let’s see if you still have the guts to talk to me like this afterward.”
Jack scoffed as he looked at Jimmy in disdain. He took out a piece of purple gold from Mustard Seed. It was not too big, only about the size of half a fist worth five million spirit crystals. The illusory stone nearest to Jack happened to be empty.

Not wanting to waste time, Jack walked over, but the moment he did, he heard Jimmy speak, “You just love to brag, don’t you?!
Do you still remember what you said? You said so confidently that you’ll easily get the Valley Entrance Pass and then participate in the fog battlefield with Case! I heard all of that!”
Jimmy deliberately raised his voice, attracting a lot of attention from the people around them. Not to mention, the Killing Illusion Array had a high level of eliminations as well. Everyone who challenged the array had a certain amount of respect for it. Jimmy deliberately shouted all of that so everyone else would know that Jack was just an arrogant fool who only knew how to brag.
Thus, a few of them started to look at Jack mockingly, chuckling at him as though he was a clown.
Some of them deliberately raised their voices as they talked.

“Where did this guy come from? There are so many people here. The only ones who would dare to guarantee they’ll pass are all the best warriors of their worlds. This guy doesn’t look like anyone notable at all. Everyone knows how to brag, of course. After all, talk is cheap.”

“What do you think the Killing Illusion Array is, brat? Do you think it’s like your home that you can easily get by? Stop joking around, okay?! Stop bragging so much! It’s one thing to disgust yourself, but you disgust others too!”

“That’s right! You even said you want to take part in the fog battlefield! Who do you think you are? Aren’t you afraid of dying? Aren’t you afraid they’ll take your Heartblood once you enter the Radiant Hall?”

“Forget about it, all he knows how to do is brag. He won’t listen to us. Look at him, he’s about to activate the illusory stone! He’ll know very soon how much of a joke his thoughts were.”

Jack took a deep breath, looking at all those who spoke coldly.

He hated those people who were just there to gossip. They clearly did not know the true situation yet talked without stopping the moment someone fanned the flames.
At that moment, someone shouted from afar. It was that sharp-nosed man.
The man was frowning. “I said it so many times, but you refused to listen to me! Do you even know how to think properly?!”
The man he was talking to was not the small-nosed man he had been lecturing earlier, but a square-faced man who challenged the array a few moments ago.
The three of them were from the same clan and had come to Cloud City to face the challenges. The sharp-nosed man had been too loud, and he, too, attracted a lot of attention. Everyone who was looking at Jack looked his way instead.
The square-faced man was sitting in front of the illusory stone. His eyes were shut tight as he tried to challenge the array.

Unless they passed or failed, the challengers would not wake up. At that moment, the square-faced man seemed to be in a difficult spot. Even though his eyes were closed, they could see his eyeballs constantly moving about and the sweat forming on his forehead.

His arms were on his legs, and his fists were clenched tightly. He looked incredibly tense. He was already at the most important moment. There were six crystals on the illusory stone. It represented the six stages. Everyone could see the situation from the crystals on the stones.

The square-faced man had the third and fifth stones lit up, while the rest were dimmed. It meant that he had only passed the third and fifth stages. Even though his body would not be harmed, they could tell from the body condition he was in.

Everyone could tell that he was not really able to hold on. However, he had only been able to pass two out of the six stages.
If this went on, he would only be able to light up another stone at most before the square-faced man failed. That was why the sharp-nosed man was so angry.
He pointed out two fingers and said to the small-eared man, “It’s been so long and he only managed to pass two stages! With his energy reserves, he’ll only be able to last another five minutes at most before he fails! He should not have wasted all his time on the third stage!
“He should have dealt with the easier stages before dealing with the harder ones. Then, he can use up all his strength without any reservation. Only then would he be able to pass! Otherwise, all his efforts would be wasted!”
The small-eared man’s lips twitched, feeling frustrated. Earlier, he had just been berated. When the square-faced man’s results were man, he was still the one being berated. He just felt incredibly frustrated, but there was nothing he could say about it.

The sharp-nosed man frowned and continued, “Time is our most valuable weapon! If we use it properly, we can pass! I’ve already told the two of you what to do so many times before you activate the illusory stones, but you refused to listen!”
The more the sharp-nosed man spoke, the angrier he got. He wanted to slap the two of them in their faces at that moment. In truth, the sharp-nosed man was not just berating them for the sake of it, he had his reasonings.
After activating the Killing Illusion Array, they needed to use every second wisely. They could not waste too much time on the easier stages. Wasting time was equal to wasting energy. Then, when they reached the harder stages, they would not be able to use their full power.
They would already have used up most of their strength and lost because of that. There were quite a few complaints about them.

Someone was covering his face and sighing, “I didn’t know how to plan things out properly. I shouldn’t have wasted so much time on the fourth stage. I used up most of my true energy on that stage. After that, I didn’t really have the strength to win anymore…

“The first time I tried, I didn’t have any experience and I did the same thing. Before you challenge the Killing Illusion Array, you have to think things through. However, I never expected myself to waste so much time on the easier stages, causing myself to lose…”

When Jack heard all of that, he glinted in his eyes. He turned to look at Jimmy, changing his mind.

He had planned on activating the illusory stone and challenging the Killing Illusion Array right away. However, it would be less amusing if he did that.

The fog battlefield was a fun thing. He felt like he needed to make those guys be more careful, so the fog battlefield would not be that boring.

No 1 Supreme Warrior

If he did not make them pay the right price, they would not be afraid. He had to make sure they felt enough pain so they would not cause him any more trouble in the future.
In Jack’s eyes, the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent were like troublesome wild dogs. He had to make sure they suffered enough. pain so they would not cause him trouble in the future.
With those thoughts in mind, Jack made his decision. He turned to look at Jimmy.
Jimmy raised an eyebrow and looked at Jack. He had no idea what the other party wanted and why Jack was looking at him?
Jack smiled before turning around and walking a few steps forward causing Jimmy to frown. Could the guy be regretting things and not planning on challenging the Killing Illusion Array?
Everyone else was curious too.

Jack suddenly laughed and said, “Why don’t we make a bet?”
Jimmy’s lips twitched.
What was he trying to do this time?
He looked at Jack with hatred. Jimmy was certain that Jack was not going to challenge the Killing Illusion Array because Jack would certainly fail, and all his words would be exposed.
He must be trying to set a nice stage for him to retreat.
Jimmy would not let Jack get what he wanted.
Jack had said such nasty things earlier and embarrassed them, so there was no way he would just let it slide.
Jimmy smirked and said, “What do you want to bet? Let me make things clear, no matter what you say, don’t even think about escaping. You have to challenge the Killing Illusion Array!”
Jack nodded, “Don’t worry, I’ll definitely challenge it, but it’ll be boring if I challenge it just like that. Why don’t we make a bet on top of it? I'll put forty million spirit crystals at stake. If you win, then I'll give you forty million. If you lose, you have to give the same to me."

Jimmy raised an eyebrow, saying nonchalantly, "Fine! What do you want to bet on? As long as you take on the challenge, I'll join you till the end."

Jack said, "We'll bet on the time! You want to challenge the Killing Illusion Array anyway. Let's bet on who can finish it in the least amount of time."

The moment Jack said that, everyone was stunned again. They thought that Jack really knew how to put on a show.

Jimmy scoffed, looking at Jack in exasperation. He felt like Jack was just there to be laughed at. It seemed like Jack wanted to bet on who would complete the array in the least amount of time.

The bet did not seem like much, but why was Jack so confident he would win?

In Jimmy's eyes, Jack should be happy if he was able to complete three stages, let alone all six of them. Jack even wanted to see who took the shortest amount of them.

Jimmy was so speechless he did not know what to say.
One of the warriors that came with them could no longer take it, saying, “Hey, you sure know how to talk! You even want to compete to see who would take the shortest time. You should be worried about passing in the first place!”
“That’s right! This guy talks up a storm. Does he think he’s that amazing? He even wants to bet forty million spirit crystals. Do you think he’s actually crazy or is he just that confident?”
“I think he’s actually crazy. Anyone with just a bit of intelligence would not do that. With just twenty percent compatibility, there’s no way he’s that strong. He’s just a regular warrior. Jimmy might not be as strong as Chase, but he’s still one of the stronger warriors.
“He will definitely pass the Killing Illusion Array, and won’t even take that long. I don’t know what’s giving this guy the guts to compete against Jimmy!”

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3613

“Does he even know what he’s doing?! He’s even betting forty million. How crazy!”
No matter what everyone else said, Jack did not show that much emotion on his face. He looked at Jimmy calmly, waiting for Jimmy to respond.
Jimmy looked back at Jack with a speechless expression as if Jack was crazy.
However, his exasperation was one thing. Forty million was no small number. Since the guy wanted to give it to him, he had no reason to refuse.
Jimmy scoffed and nodded, “Since you want to gamble so much, I’ll grant you your wish. We’ll do as you say. If I lose, I’ll give you forty million spirit crystals. If you lose, you have to give me forty million!”
Jack nodded calmly, not looking worried at all.
Jimmy’s lips twitched as he looked at Jack, feeling like there was something wrong with Jack. From the first moment he talked to Jack, Jack had never acted normally. Jack had practically offended everyone he could. Jack took out four pieces of purple gold from Mustard Seed that were worth ten million each. He put them in his palm.

“You have to try to win. If you win, these pieces of gold are yours.”
When Jack said that, many others felt incredibly exasperated.
Jack never relented, as if he was just trying to tempt Jimmy into doing his best. He did not sound like he thought Jimmy could win at all. It was as if Jimmy was an ant that could be killed at any time in Jack’s eyes.
Jimmy looked at Jack and was speechless, “Looks like you really are crazy.”
Initially, everyone thought that Jack had something up his sleeves, but slowly, they started to agree that there was something wrong with Jack’s head. Otherwise, there was no way he would say anything like that.
Jack scoffed, not caring about it. For the sake of his future plans, he would bear with whatever this guy said.

He pointed at the illusory stone and said, “You can go first. Don’t worry, I won’t try to run. I’ll wait for you here.”
Jimmy raised an eyebrow, not believing what Jack said at all. He even felt like Jack was doing all of that in order to escape.
The moment he activated the Killing Illusion Array unless he passed or failed, he would not be able to abandon it in the middle.
Jack was planning on running away during that period when he could not do anything.
Jimmy scoffed, “Brat! I was wondering what you were putting up an act for, so that’s your plan…”
Jack interrupted him before he could finish, “Just say it if you don’t have the guts! I don’t mind going first anyway. I’m just worried you won’t want to bet against me after that.”
Jimmy could not help but laugh when he heard that. The other party really did have a screw loose, or he would not have said something like that.
The ones around them could not help but laugh.

“Every time you say something, you render us speechless. Do you think that Jimmy will not want to compete against you once he sees your results? That he’ll be too scared to bet against you?”

Chapter 3614

Jack turned to look at the person that was talking.
That person came from a second-grade world and did not look too great. His mouth was exceptionally big.
That person had mocked him quite a bit before this. Every time Jack said something, that person would add a few words.
Jack narrowed his eyes, remembering how that person looked. If he had the chance, he would definitely make sure the bigmouthed man regretted what he said.
Jack turned around and looked at Jimmy, “I’m not trying to provoke you, I just think that you might not have the guts to challenge me anymore if I go first.”
Jimmy was getting frustrated when he heard that, “Hey, brat, stop trying to talk as if you’re some amazing master. No one is going to question you if you don’t say anything. Can you please look at yourself in the mirror?!”

“Are you even capable of achieving any results with your meager skills? I don’t even think you can pass three stages, let alone six!”
Rudy could no longer hold back.
He started to shout, “Stop looking down on others! If you think he’s wrong, then do as he says and use your results to shut us up. Otherwise, you’re just feeling guilty!”
Jimmy’s lips twitched. If he did not do as that guy said, then he was feeling guilty.
Was he the one who was afraid of taking up the bet?
What a joke!
How could those two even say that?
Everyone else around them did not even know what to say to that.
They felt like the situation was getting more and more absurd. No one knew where those two got the confidence to say all of that.
Jimmy scoffed, “Whatever! I would be stupid to keep on arguing with you. Since the two of you want to see my results so much, I’ll grant you your wish. I’ll take the challenge first, but everyone, don’t let them run. If I win, I’ll split ten million with all of you!”

Everyone got interested when they heard that. Even though there were quite a few of them gathered there, ten million was not a small number. It was a nice little bonus.
Quite a few of them guaranteed, “Don’t worry! Leave this guy to us. Even if he wants to run, we’ll surround him and not let him leave until you come out with the Valley Entrance Pass.”
Jimmy relaxed when he heard that. He turned to look at Jack coldly. After that, he did not waste any more time as he walked right over to the illusory stone.
Jack should have been the one sitting there, but it was fine. Jack would be challenging it eventually anyway. He would use his skills to show everyone how much of a piece of trash Jack was.
Jimmy sat in front of the illusory stone. He took out a small piece of purple gold from this ring and put it into the stone. Colorful light then shone out of the stone.

After that, Jimmy slowly closed his eyes, and his clone formed in the array!

Chapter 3615

The illusory stone had been activated, and everyone surrounded Jimmy, watching the crystals on the stones.

At that moment, not a single one of the crystals lit up, but everyone knew that all of them would eventually.

The large-mouthed man said in admiration, “Which stage do you think he’ll challenge first? Even though none of the stages will be that difficult for him, we can use this as a reference. After all, it’s still not an easy challenge, and he needed to bet on time too.”

As he said that, he started to laugh. The others around him laughed as well. After all, those warriors that knew of the whole situation just felt like Jack was acting in an absolutely absurd manner.

Someone there said, “Hey, everyone, stop laughing. If this guy wins, I’ll write my name backward from now on. Jimmy probably doesn’t really care too much either. As long as he doesn’t run, let’s leave him be. We should be looking at how Jimmy’s challenging everything.”

All of them nodded, feeling like that person was right.
Jimmy might be very angry, but he probably did not see Jack as a challenge at all. After all, the guy was just acting like a complete clown.
No one believed a single word that guy was saying.
Jack did not care about what everyone else was saying at all, but Rudy whispered unhappily, “These idiots have no eyes. You’ll completely shock them later!”
Jack smiled, “Ignore them, you don’t have to care about how they are.”
Rudy nodded, not continuing. However, he still looked unhappy.
After about five minutes, the fourth crystal on the illusory stone lit up.
Everyone widened their eyes, mumbling, “So he chose the fourth stage first! The fourth stage isn’t easy. He passed it so quickly!”

“That’s right! Three illusions with upper earth rank techniques and one illusion with a lower ultimate god rank technique. Many people have been stuck there. I can’t believe he put that stage first. It’s obvious how confident he is. He didn’t even waste that much time.”

Everyone looked at the illusory stone. eagerly, even forgetting about Jack. He was able to peacefully sit there.

After another five minutes, the third crystal lit up.

Everyone was surprised. Many of them put the third stage in front because the third stage had the most numbers even if it was not the strongest.

If the third stage was toward the back, they could easily waste a lot of time. It was better to have it in front so they could use the fastest time possible to get past it!

After another five minutes, the second crystal lit up. At that moment, a lot of them held their breaths. The hardest stages were the first three. Jimmy had already passed two of them. As long as he maintained his condition, it would not be hard for him to pass everything, nor would it take that long.

At that moment, quite a few people had looks of admiration and jealousy on their faces.
They were regular warriors who found it incredibly hard to pass the challenges, but it did not seem difficult to Jimmy at all. Jimmy was just that much stronger than them.
They were nothing compared to Jimmy. Even touching Jimmy’s feet was a bit of a stretch.
They lamented the gulf in talent.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3616

Time ticked away, and after another five minutes, the crystals showed no signs of changing.
Everyone started to wonder what was happening.
The initial progress had been so quick, so why did everything suddenly stop?
Has Jimmy run out of energy?
It did not sound possible. Jimmy was not weak, and the Swelling Tide Continent was one of the stronger ones as well. Jimmy should not be stuck there.
Then, everyone suddenly noticed that Jimmy was frowning. His hands were clenched tightly. It was obvious he was not in a good condition. Even though the physical body did not need to fight, the physical body still controlled the clone.
The clone would affect the physical body's mental condition. It was obvious that Jimmy was facing something difficult which shocked everyone. However, it did not last for too long.

In just a few more moments, the crystal representing the first stage was lit up. Everyone suddenly realized what happened.
No wonder Jimmy had been stuck for so long, he had been at the hardest stage.
The first stage involved two illusions that were already at the second stage of mastery of a lower ultimate god rank technique.
Those illusions were attacking at the same time and applied quite a lot of pressure.
After the three hardest stages were dealt with, all that was left were the fifth and sixth stages.
In five short minutes, all of the crystals were lit up. Jimmy had used less than half an hour in total. The time could not be considered very short among all those that passed, and could only be considered. average.
However, not many had actually passed in the first place. Those that passed were already among the strongest warriors.
The moment he passed, a radiant glow flashed, and the Valley Entrance Pass materialized in the air, falling into Jimmy’s hands.

Jimmy had a smile on his face as he looked at the pass in his hands. Even though he had been in a bit of trouble during the first stage, he still managed to hold on. He might have used a bit more time, but he was quite satisfied.

Once he enters Cloud Valley and forms a world avatar, his skills would improve to the next stage. Then, no one would dare to look down on him.

“Congratulations on getting the pass, Jimmy!”

“We were right. With Jimmy’s skills, the Valley Entrance Pass was already in the bag!”

There were congratulations everywhere. Jimmy could not stop the smile on his face. He loved being admired. Only the truly strong would receive that much admiration.

He might not be as strong as Case at that moment, but he had faith that, as long as he had enough time, even the strongest in the second-grade worlds would not be a match for him, let alone Case. He wanted to stand above everyone!

At that moment, he felt incredibly proud, as if everyone there was beneath his notice.

Right at that moment, Jack's voice was heard by everyone, "Since you've already completed the challenge, hurry on down. Stop taking up space. I still have other things to do, so quit wasting my time."

The moment that was said, the earlier atmosphere was completely broken.

Everyone turned to look at Jack incredulously. They found themselves speechless as they looked at Jack.

They could not understand what Jack was thinking. Jack never ceased to amaze everyone.

Did he not know how exasperating he was?

Jimmy was feeling incredibly frustrated. Jack constantly provoked him. Everything Jack said was worse than the other. This time, it ignited Jimmy's anger. He scoffed as he walked down the illusory stone to Jack.

He coldly looked at Jack, "Very good! You never cease to amaze me! I'm down now! Let's see what other tricks you have to pull!"

Chapter 3617

Jack raised an eyebrow, not even sparing Jimmy another glance as he walked in front of the stone. He ignored all the other noises as he sat down.

The discussions around him got louder, wondered what sort of excuse he would have, but he actually went over.

“What could his excuse be? With things at this stage, excuses are useless. He’s the one who brought this onto himself. He’s already said so many nasty things. He no longer has any path to retreat to. I want to see how he’ll act after his results are out!”

“I’m really looking forward to the results too. His expression will definitely be very interesting. He won’t be able to say anything then!”

“Who knows? This guy always surprises us. He might end up with a lot of excuses once the results are out, but it will all be useless then.”

Jack took a deep breath, not caring about what everyone else was saying at all. He shut his eyes, and his soul was sent into the illusory stone.

Suddenly, his body felt blank. When he opened his eyes again, he was in a foreign space.

It was a completely green grassland. The space was flat around him. Looking over, the grass extended all the way to the horizon.

At that moment, there was an old voice in Jack’s mind, “Choose your stage!”

Jack did not hesitate to choose the sixth one. That was because the order was not important to Jack at all.

After he chose the stage, six black figures appeared in front of him. All three of those figures had human shapes, but the details were blurry.

He could not see them clearly, but he could see the weapons in their hands. All of them had silver swords.

The next moment, they started to charge at Jack.

Those three figures were using upper earth rank techniques. They were nothing in Jack’s eyes.

Jack frowned slightly as he started to form seals. Ninety Soul Swords materialized in front of him.

Jack clapped his hands, and the Soul Swords condensed into three large ones. He pushed forward and struck all three of those figures.

In just a moment, the Soul Swords pierced into the figures. The figures did not even last for half a second before they turned into gray mist, disappearing into thin air.

At that moment, Jack was completely emotionless. However, the outside world was not as calm as Jack. It only took three seconds after Jack shut his eyes before the sixth crystal lit up.

Everyone had still been talking when someone exclaimed, “What?! That’s quick!”

They had still been insulting Jack when the sound attracted their attention. Everyone looked over to see the lit-up crystal, and they could not remain calm.

Even though it was the crystal that represented the sixth stage, it was still way too fast. They felt like Jack had just shut his eyes when the crystal lit up. That speed was incredibly quick!

The large-mouthed man pursed his lips, “There’s nothing to be surprised about. It’s just the sixth stage, no matter how fast he was. This guy must just be trying to shock us! He probably paid a large price to do this. He must have used up all his true energy! If I don’t hold back at all, I could finish the sixth stage that quick too!”

No 1 Supreme Warrior

That large-mouthed man had practically shouted that out. He looked like he was worried that they would talk about Jack too much.

After all, he had insulted Jack too much earlier. He did not want to admit that he was wrong, so he frantically talked down to Jack.

He tried to find every excuse possible to show that Jack had managed to pass so quickly because Jack had not held back at all and that Jack would not be able to pass the later stages so easily. Jack would definitely fail!

With how frantically he was explaining things, quite a few of them agreed with him, feeling like he was right. After all, Jack never did anything normal.

Right at that moment, the crystal representing the fifth stage lit up!

The discussions stopped instantly.

Everyone widened their eyes as they looked at the second crystal that lit up, unable to say anything.
When the first crystal lit up so quickly, they could still use all sorts of reasons to convince themselves, but when the second one did just as quickly, they found themselves unable to say anything.
The reality was more convincing than anything else. Jack's speed rendered them speechless. Even if he passed the sixth and fifth stages, the shocking speed meant that his skills were not ordinary.
Rudy scoffed as he looked at the large-mouthed man, "Why aren't you saying anything now?! Didn't you love to harp on just now? You loved to mock him and constantly pile on. Why aren't you saying anything else right now? Have you realized that all those excuses you made are no longer convincing?"
The large-mouthed man stiffened. His expression was a bit sour. He opened his mouth, wanting to say something, but he was unable to give any explanation.

Jimmy frowned and raised his voice, “Don’t be so pleased just yet. This is just the start. He’s only passed the fifth and sixth stages. The truly difficult stages are still to go. The fifth and sixth stages are easy. Most of the warriors here can pass it. He’s just a bit quicker than normal, there’s nothing to be proud of!”
Rudy raised an eyebrow, not getting angered by those words. Instead, he looked very calm and confident. Jimmy scoffed, continuing with disdain, “It’s just a small accomplishment, and you already look like you’re beside yourself. Trash really loves to show off!”
The moment he said that, the fourth crystal lit up as well. Jimmy’s disdainful look suddenly vanished. Everyone started to whisper in a discussion.
When it was the sixth and fifth stages, all of them could use the difficulty to make excuses. However, they no longer had any excuses. The fourth stage was not that easy anymore. Quite a few people lost to that stage.

Jack had lit that crystal up so quickly. It meant that he was definitely stronger than most of the warriors there.
Even Jimmy found it hard to say anything. His stiff expression slowly relaxed, but he started to have a serious look on his face.
He never expected that brat to actually be somewhat skilled.
It might just be the fourth stage, but it was still so quick. Even Jimmy could not say that he would be able to pass the fourth stage so quickly. Jimmy gulped, finally realizing the severity of the matter.
His attitude did not last for that long when the third crystal lit up. At that moment, everyone started to even breathe slower from the shock.
A thought flashed in their mind. Everyone wondered if Jack had actually not bragging at all.

He had been so arrogant earlier not because there was something wrong with his head, but because he really did have the skills to back it up. He had not been bragging but speaking the truth.

When they thought about that, everyone's expressions changed.

Someone mumbled to themselves, "What? Could this guy have been speaking the truth the whole time? If he was, then we can't underestimate this guy. Case might actually be nothing in his eyes."

Everyone nodded at that. Jimmy was not far away, so they did not dare to speak ill of Case too much. However, no one there was an idiot. They understood what it all meant.

Jimmy started breathing roughly as he looked at the illusory stone. At that moment, he was completely stiff.

He had complicated emotions, but he was doing his best to control himself. He could not reveal his thoughts, or he would end up being laughed at.
He clenched his teeth and whispered to himself, “This guy is a potential problem. I can’t let him live…”
The moment he said that, the crystal representing the second stage lit up. At that moment, quite a few people covered their mouths as they said in surprise, “What?! Isn’t this too crazy?! That guy really is that strong!”
“I thought he was just bragging before this, but he really does have the skills. I was even laughing at him just now. He’s already completed the second stage within such a short time. If he manages to complete the first stage with that speed, he would really be something else. With those skills, he’d be someone amazing no matter what world he’s from!”
“He has a mask, so we couldn’t see his face. Even if he’s a bit famous, we can’t tell who he is.”

Everyone slowly realized that the mask might not be hiding his ugly looks, but instead preventing anyone from recognizing him.
The most important question came up then. If he was doing that, then why did he not want anyone to recognize him?
Various thoughts surfaced in their heads as they started to guess wildly. Quite a few of them started to look at Rudy. In this world, strength was power and honor. They thought that Jack was weak before, so they did not care about Jack.
At that moment, they finally realized that Jack was strong. They no longer dared to discuss things so fearlessly. Even if they had anything to say, they would whisper so Rudy could not hear them.
Rudy’s face twitched in disdain. All of those guys just loved to bully the weak. Just like Jack said, there was no need to care about how they were acting. No matter how much he says, skills are the best form of proof.
Right at that moment, the last crystal lit up, and Jack slowly opened his eyes.

A vibrant glow condensed above him as the Valley Entrance Pass descended and slowly fell into Jack’s palm.

The pass was cold to the touch, and Jack could feel endless energy coming from it.

Jack smirked, revealing a smile. Those six stages were incredibly simple to Jack. Even the hardest stage was just two opponents with lower ultimate god rank techniques.

He used a storm god rank technique. It was far more powerful than them. Those opponents were just like paper in front of him, not a problem for him at all.

Jack looked up at everyone. At that moment, all of them had interesting expressions on their faces. They no longer looked at him like an idiot and were instead full of respect and fear. Quite a few people even avoided his gaze.

That large-mouthed man from earlier looked like a dog that had just been beaten up. He hid behind and was too scared to show himself.

From the sixth stage to the first, Jack had taken less than five minutes. For anyone else, five minutes might not even be enough for one stage.

Jack had been a complete clown in their eyes, but he had turned into an ace suddenly. Jack scoffed as he slowly walked down the stone. He did not care about what those people thought. It was a waste of his time. However, he would not just leave it be.

Jack looked at the large-mouthed man behind everyone, and he said in a low voice, “Don’t think you’re safe just because you’re hiding behind everyone. Didn’t you have such a good time talking just now? You said I didn’t know my place wanting to compete with Jimmy. Do you still remember your words? A man’s words are worth everything. If you can, why don’t you repeat everything you said?”

The large-mouthed man shuddered in fear, not even daring to breathe. He did not even dare to recall everything he had said earlier.
Anyone who passed was already stronger than he was, let alone someone who passed at such a shocking speed. It was as if those six stages were not difficult at all.
It showed how strong Jack was. He even started to wonder if Jack would be able to defeat him with just one hand! Offending someone as strong as that really was a horrible decision. He was already starting to thoroughly regret it. He should not have been so itchy with his words!
His lips twitched as he slowly looked up with an apologetic smile, “Sir, I had such foul behavior earlier! Just think of me as nobody and let me go. I really didn’t mean to offend you. I was just blind, and didn’t know you were that strong…”
The large-mouthed man’s eyes were already starting to redden from the fear. He was worried that Jack would start targeting him.

Even though Cloud city was not somewhere you could kill without abandon, there was no way he would be able to hide forever, never taking up any challenges.
The moment he did, he would be in danger. It would be too easy for someone that strong to target him.
Furthermore, skilled warriors would definitely have followers. Those followers were probably not weak either. If he was targeted by that man and the followers, he would have to live his life in fear.
Suddenly, he tossed aside all his pride, practically begging Jack to let him off. Jack scoffed as a cold look was on his face, “Don’t ever let me see you again. If I see you, I’ll harvest your Heartblood.”

The moment that was said, the large-mouthed man's whole body stiffened. Those words were already a punishment to him. He was going to leave, but he would have to leave Cloud City.
He was reluctant, but he was worried about the consequences of offending someone as strong as Jack.

If Jack ever saw him again, he would really die. With that in mind, the man clenched his teeth and straightened his body, guaranteeing, “Sir, don’t worry. I’ll get lost right now!”

After he said that, he did not even turn back as he left in a hurry. It got much quieter around them as everyone exchanged looks of worry, afraid that they would be targeted next.

Jack said coldly, “You should all be glad that we can’t fight in here, or you’d all be dead…”

All of them were gossiping about who constantly ridiculed Jack just now. They had talked badly about Jack so much that Jack was being truthful about what he said.

If they were in Chaos City, none of them would have been able to escape. Everyone got even quieter. Most of them did not dare to meet Jack’s gaze. That was the power of the strong.

Jack ignored them as he looked at Jimmy. He quickly arrived in front of Jimmy.
He reached out and said to Jimmy, “You’ve lost. Forty million spirit crystals. Surely you won’t go back on your word?”
The moment he said that, everyone else regained their interest as they looked over. Everything that had just happened had shocked everyone so they had forgotten about the bet.
They still remembered when Jack first brought up the bet. Jack had sounded crazy to everyone there. It would have been amazing if Jack could pass, but Jack even wanted to compete to see who was faster. It seemed like they were the crazy ones.
Jack was truly, undoubtedly strong! He bet against Jimmy because he was confident. His confidence had been proven right.
Jimmy had lost completely as he had needed half an hour, while Jack did not even take more than five minutes. It was obvious who was stronger.

At that moment, Jimmy’s expression was completely dark. He stared at Jack’s face as if trying to see into Jack’s mind.
Unfortunately, he was not able to see anything. He clenched his fists and pursed his lips. He was not happy, but Jack really was stronger than him. Even though he did not want to accept that fact, there was nothing he could do about it.
Jack let out a smile of disdain when Jimmy looked at him angrily, “Are you really going to go against your word?”
Jimmy was even angry at that point. He clenched his teeth and said, “Who said I was going to do that?! I just think you’re cheating!”
After he said that, he took out four pieces of purple gold and tossed them into Jack’s hands.
Jack raised an eyebrow, saying coldly, “Cheating? What? Are you still planning on insulting me?”
Jimmy narrowed his eyes and clenched his teeth as he looked at Jack.
He hated the other party!

If Jack had just been a bragging idiot, he might have been angry at what Jack said, but he would not have hated the man so much.

No wonder the man was talking so recklessly, not caring about the Swelling Tide Continent at all. Case was someone that could not be offended in the eyes of others, but he did not care at all.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Everything that had confused him was immediately clear the moment he saw how strong the person was. He was no idiot and had not been purposely annoying them.

He truly did not care about Case, and truly did not care about any revenge from the Swelling Tide Continent.

Jimmy took a deep breath and his eyes shook slightly. He was starting to regret things. If Case saw that person’s abilities, Case would probably regret going against that person too.

Everyone knew of how the Swelling Tide Continent acted, but they were no idiots. They still held back when they were facing someone truly strong. After all, the strong were not to be offended.

If the strong really wanted to fight back, it would cause quite a lot of losses. After all, it was not that easy to kill someone that strong, especially in Cloud City.

He clenched his teeth, looking at Jack with a hint of resolve. They had to kill Jack. If they knew how strong Jack was, they would never have offended Jack. However, since they already did so, they could not let Jack live. Otherwise, it would be dangerous for the Swelling Tide Continent in the future!
“You cheated and I fell for it! Are you really that poor? For forty million spirit crystals, you abandoned your pride as someone strong?” Jimmy glared right at Jack.
Jack raised an eyebrow as he let out an exasperated smile, “I cheated?”
Jimmy nodded, “You only lit up two crystals for compatibility! With your skills, how could you only be twenty percent compatible?
Who are you lying to?”
Those words served as a reminder to everyone. That was right! Everyone mocked Jack because Jack only got two crystals to light up. That was the result of a very average warrior.

Even though compatibility did not directly translate to skill, it was still a part of a person's talents. Such a low level of compatibility meant that a person's talents. were not great. If their talents were not great, there was no way they could be that strong.

It was because of what happened that everyone had the impression that Jack was a braggart and a madman!

Jimmy continued, "I don't have amnesia. I won't forget how you performed on the stone. Just to win, you truly don't care what methods you use!"

Jimmy's mind worked very quickly, immediately describing Jack as a despicable man who had no pride when it came to earning spirit crystals.

At that moment, quite a few people started to look at Jack with disdain. They were definitely scared of his strength and definitely did not dare to go against Jack, but acting as shamelessly as that definitely made them look down on him.

Jack did not care what the others thought about it, but he would not stand by as he was slandered like that.
Rudy was furious as well.
He rushed over and shouted, “Who cares about those spirit crystals?! It’s just forty million spirit crystals. You think it’s some amazing fortune, but it’s nothing to us. Who do you think you are?! Do you really think we’d try so hard to trick you just for that small amount?!”
Jimmy narrowed his eyes, looking at Rudy with anger and hatred. The two of them looked like they were going to fight at any moment!
Jimmy glared and said, “Am I wrong? You’re already panicking now! You’re already feeling guilty!”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3623

• • •

What do you mean by that?!” Rudy clenched his teeth, “You’re just not being reasonable at all. You talk like we’re scamming you!
Tell me, how did this whole conflict even start? Were we the ones trying to cut the queue? Were we the ones who challenged you first?”
Jimmy shot back, “We were the ones who cut the queue! So what? Was I the one who mentioned the bet?”
“You!” Rudy almost bit his tongue in his anger.
Jack reached out and pulled Rudy back. There was no reason to fight like that.
In truth, it was still very rowdy everywhere else except where they were as it was dead silent because of the fight.
Jack took a deep breath and put on a calm expression.
Jimmy’s words had been nasty. He was just trying to accuse Jack without any regard for the truth. Any warrior who was not as calm as he was would have probably been fuming in anger by then.

However, Jack never showed any emotion the whole time. No matter what Jimmy said, Jack was indifferent to it.
Jack's tone was calm, "You're not worthy."
It was just three words, but those three words alone had managed to clear most of his name.
That was right!
It was just that simple. Jimmy was not worthy!
Who did he think he was?
The two of them had yet to fight one another, but it was obvious who was stronger after the Killing Illusion Array.
Jack could definitely trample all over Jimmy. Even if Jimmy used his full might, he could not do anything to Jack. There was too big of a gulf between them.
Someone on the level of Jack would not care about forty million spirit crystals at all. There was no need for him to trick a warrior that was weaker than him either.
Jack had woken everyone up. Jimmy's face looked incredibly dark. His heart felt like it was burning. No matter what he said, it would not change the difference in their strength.

Strength was the most convincing thing.
Jimmy’s whole body was shuddering from the anger, but there was nothing he could do.
There was an insurmountable gap between them that no amount of words could cover.
Jack sneered, “I bet against you so you will feel how bad it was when you lost. I wanted to show you how much of a joke your actions were in my eyes!”
Jimmy’s fists were tightly clenched while trembling. His lips were pursed, unable to say anything. The more he acted like that, the more amused Jack was, “Remember our agreement. I’ll wait for you at the fog battlefield. I trust you won’t go against your words.”
Jack looked at Jimmy one last time before bringing Rudy into Cloud Valley, no longer sparing Jimmy another glance.
Looking at Jack leaving, everyone was speechless.

Jimmy’s eyes widened as he clenched his teeth in hatred. That person said he would be waiting at the fog battlefield, that he hoped they would not go back on their words!
What did that person mean?
It was obvious that the person wanted to kill him!
“You won’t get what you want! You’re stronger than me, but are you stronger than everyone from the Swelling Tide Continent?”

Jimmy’s anger was already at its limit. He did not like being threatened, but he was powerless in front of someone so strong.

Various emotions overtook him, and it was all caused by that man. He would make that man pay. He would not let that man continue to show off in front of him.

Some sinister plots surfaced in his mind. He already knew how he was going to tell Case about everything.

If Jack knew what Jimmy was thinking, Jack would definitely encourage Jimmy. It was precisely what Jack wanted.

Jack wanted the experts of the Swelling Tide Continent to all appear at the fog battlefield. He wanted to leave a deep impression on them so every warrior there would tremble at the sight of him.

He needed to be thorough. Only when they truly felt the pain would they stop trying to cause him trouble. That was something he had learned in the Whirling World.

With that in mind, Jack smirked. Ever since Case challenged him, his grudge against the Swelling Tide Continent had started.
The entrance to Cloud Valley was enveloped by a radiant and vibrant light. Looking around, there was nothing except that light.
Only one with the Valley Entrance Pass would be able to enter.
Jack looked at Rudy. While no one noticed, he pulled Rudy into Mustard seed again. They were completely shrouded in light, everywhere they went were lights of various colors.
The ground was not even either. Every step he took felt like he was going to fall at any moment. Jack reached out to feel around him. He could even feel waves of energy circulating around his fingers. The air was filled with different forms of energy.
The energy was incredibly pure, formed by the natural laws around them. It was the power of the laws of the world. To condense a world avatar, he needed to absorb all that power into his body, controlling that energy and gathering it around his core.

He needed to control the energy and carve seals around his core with it. The first stage of a world avatar needed ninety-six seals. Jack took a deep breath as he started to form seals. A Soul Burst Ring appeared in front of Jack.
The energy that was formed by the laws of the world would not flow into his body. He needed to control it himself, slowly drawing it in. The Soul Burst Ring slowly expanded in the air, quickly becoming ten meters wide.
The massive ring surrounded a lot of energy that was formed by the laws. Jack focused on himself, using the Soul Burst Ring to slowly absorb the energy into his body.
Crack!
Jack felt his bones crack. The energies were without form, but they felt solid and heavy the moment they went into his body. It slowly reached his chest, and Jack felt like there was a massive rock pressing down on his bones.

His bones could not handle the weight and started to let out cracking sounds. Pain surged through his body. Jack clenched his teeth, immediately circulating his true energy to push a bit of the energy out.

His body had its limits. He could not absorb too much in one go.

Energy the size of a fist had been condensed to the size of a fingernail. He could not be greedy.

The energy was carefully moved to his core by Jack. Jack immediately activated all his true energy to carve the runes into his core!

All of the warriors who entered Cloud Valley would enter an isolated space. They would not be able to see or interfere with each other. At that moment, Case clenched his teeth as he slowly moved the energy into his body.

He was only using an ultimate god rank technique. He could control a lot less energy than Jack. He could control energy the size of a fist, but Case was only able to manage the size of a fingernail.

Chapter 3625

Even so, he still felt like the energy was exceptionally heavy and hard to control.
When he carved the seals, he was so tired that he was drenched in sweat. No matter what world avatar it was, they still needed to carve ninety-six seals. At that moment, Case had already carved thirteen.
Those thirteen seals had a lot of flaws on them, but Case no longer cared about that. He wanted to focus on carving all of them first.
The world avatar had a unique point to it. Even though ninety-six seals needed to be carved, only fifty-seven of them needed to use a world avatar.
Of course, the more perfect the seals were, the stronger the world avatar would be. However, Case no longer cared about how perfect his seals are. As long as he could make sure that fifty-seven of the seals could be, it would already be quite impressive.

He did not know what was happening outside at all.
“Aren’t you going in?” A black-robed man from the Swelling Tide Continent looked at Jimmy and said.
The man might be from the same world, but he was no match for Jimmy and the others. He was just an inner disciple from a holy grade clan.
Jimmy was among the higher-ranked chosen disciples. The two of them were like an official and a commoner.
Jimmy took a deep breath. The other party had already entered Cloud Valley for two hours. He should have entered Cloud Valley as well since he had an entrance pass.
However, Jimmy stood in place, not moving as he looked right at Cloud Valey’s entrance, deep in thought.
The black-robed man felt like something was wrong with Jimmy. He wanted to curry some favor but was worried he would say the wrong thing.

Jimmy raised an eyebrow and said, “I’m waiting for Case to come out so we can make arrangements for the future.”
They could not let that man off. That man would bring disaster to them. Jack had not only humiliated Jimmy but threatened Jimmy as well. With Jack’s skills, they could not let him off easy.
They had to kill Jack so nothing disastrous would happen. The black-robed man took a deep breath, feeling Jimmy’s expression incredibly scary at that moment. Jimmy looked like a demon that just crawled out of hell, and was waiting for his prey!
“In a bit, help me spread the news. Try to get the stronger disciples. If they don’t have anything important, ask them to hurry on over. We can’t let that man off, he’s too dangerous!”
The black-robed man nodded vigorously. He realized how serious the situation was as well. Jack was like a ticking time bomb in the eyes of the Swelling Tide Continent.

After getting the order, he did not hesitate at all as he gathered up their men to spread the news. Jimmy remained standing in place.

Jimmy looked at the entrance and mumbled to himself, “Who are you? There’s no way you’re someone unknown. I’ll definitely find out who you are. You went against the Swelling Tide Continent, you’ll have to pay the price!”

Jack took a deep breath. After working hard for two hours, he managed to carve three seals. It was just so hard!

• • •

Every single one of the seals was composed of over 100 strokes.
Ishac needed to control the energy and slowly carve it stroke by stroke while making sure there was nothing left out in the middle.
Time slowly ticked away, and after six hours, Ishac only managed to carve 10 seals.
It was just too slow. To get to the first stage, he needed 96 seals, and with only 10 seals carved, he was 86 seals away. He felt like he had just taken one step in a long journey.
He was allowed to make mistakes with the seals as long as he could ensure that 57 of them could work properly, but he did not want any mistakes.
Everyone else was just not able to realize it when they made mistakes since they had no experience with carving the seals, but Ishac was different. He had his absorbed memories, and the two heroes were top existences from a first-grade world. They truly stood at the peak and had formed all nine stages of their world avatars.

With so much experience, it would be such a waste if Ishac made any mistakes.
It came to the sixth day, and Case finally managed to form the first stage of his world avatar.
Even though he managed to carve out 96 seals, he was barely able to make do with 57 of them that were working.
Nonetheless, he was satisfied enough.
Furthermore, he was already at his limits.
Controlling the energy that came from those laws was not easy. He needed a strong amount of energy from himself to control it.
When he left Cloud Valley, the energy in his body was already spent. At that moment, he felt completely weak as he swayed in his step, having to stop after every step just to catch his breath.

He looked like he had fallen deathly ill. However, no matter how bad his physical condition was, it could not affect his good mood.

No matter what, he successfully formed a world avatar, and his combat prowess in the future would increase by quite a lot with that in his pockets. Even his speed had increased. The mere thought pleased Case immensely.

Back in the outer world, noise filled his ears. A familiar feeling came back to him, and he slowly recovered from his euphoria.

Case was one of the strong, so he needed to maintain that image. To him, regular warriors were not even worthy of wiping his shoes.

Since he was powerful, he must not show an image of him being too ecstatic. He needed to keep up his image. No matter how happy he was, he needed to maintain an aloof image so everyone would feel how impressive he was.

“Case is out! Jimmy, look!” There was a voice from afar.

Case looked over and saw Jimmy standing at a distance, looking at him with a frown. He frowned as well, showing an unhappy look on his face.

Of course, Jimmy needed to maintain his image as well, but why was Jimmy looking at him like that?

Also, where was that brat?

Why did he not see the guy?

He told Jimmy to keep an eye on that man before he entered Cloud Valley, and he would make sure that brat paid his dues once he came out of Cloud Valley.

He wanted that hooligan to pay a heavy price and to know the consequences of going against the Swelling Tide Continent.

Case was irked the moment he recalled Astor's face. In his impatience, he wanted nothing more than to see that man again.
At that moment, Jimmy hurried toward Case with an anxious look on his face.
Case frowned, feeling like something was wrong with Jimmy's expression.
Could something have happened?
At that moment, he was not in a good condition. Even though he had gained a lot, he had used up all his true energy. He felt like he was barely keeping himself standing upright.
Jimmy could tell that Case was in a weaker state and swallowed what he was about to say.
He reached out to support Case, but Case did not care about that at that moment.
He frowned and asked, "Where's that guy? Where's the masked guy? Don't tell me he ran away. Can't you even do something that simple?!"

Case was absolutely furious. If that guy escaped, he would not let Jimmy off easily. After all, Astor had insulted and embarrassed him in public. Not only that, but Astor mocked the whole Swelling Tide Continent as well! The man would pay a hefty price for his transgressions, and he would make sure of that, or his anger would not be quelled.
Jimmy's lips stiffened. He had been berated by Case the moment he came out. He felt annoyed, but he did not dare to say anything. After all, Case's skills were there for him to see, and Case was his fellow disciple as well. No matter what, he could not retaliate.
Case got even angrier when he saw Jimmy not answering.
He gritted his teeth and said, "Speak up! What happened? Why are you the only one here? Where did that brat go?!"
Jimmy took a deep breath. "He didn't go missing. I just couldn't keep him here."
When he said that, Jimmy felt like he was in a difficult position. Things had already advanced to this level, and he felt very helpless. He felt like there was nothing he could do. It was not like he could just forcibly stop Astor from entering Cloud Valley nor could he have followed Astor in.

After all, once anyone entered Cloud Valley, they would be sent to an isolated space. They could not interfere with each other and he could not possibly follow him, so he was only able to watch as Astor entered Cloud Valley, unable to do anything.

Case did not know what happened, so he got even angrier when he heard what Jimmy said.

“What do you mean, you couldn’t stop him? How could that happen?! Even if you couldn’t attack him, you could’ve followed him.

You could’ve had someone report to me after that! This guy wouldn’t have the guts to walk out of Cloud City. There are no rules outside of the city. If he left, he’d fall right into our hands!”

Jimmy shook his head as his expression twisted. It felt like anything he said would be wrong. After all, Case had not seen anything.

To Case, Astor was an insignificant ant that had just been bragging all the while. Without the rules in place, he would have attacked Astor.
Jimmy sighed helplessly. “It’s not like that. He didn’t leave this place, but I couldn’t follow him either.”
Case was even more confused at those words. If anything, Jimmy’s words served to only confuse him. What exactly happened?
At that moment, Case had lost all his patience.

Chapter 3628

Case straightened himself and frowned, saying coldly, “What happened?! Stop beating around the bush and tell me everything!”

Jimmy’s lips twitched as he tried to figure out what to say after that. He said helplessly, “After you entered Cloud Valley, that guy went to challenge the Killing Illusion Array. I was with him to see his results, but he asked me if I wanted to bet against him. The two of us would compete to see who needed less time.”

Jimmy was only embarrassed by the things he said, but had to fess up. He did not want Case to find out from anyone else, so it was better for him to just explain everything.

Case said with an exasperated look, “What? That guy wanted to bet against you? Isn’t he overestimating himself too much? Who does he think he is? The Killing Illusion Array isn’t something that easy to pass. He even thought he was faster than you?! What a joke!”

Case was baffled by what Jimmy said, genuinely wondering if Abraham was deluded. Everything the guy did just seemed to be crazier by the minute. It was one thing to brag, but he even bet against Jimmy.
It was like he thought he was a strong warrior that could breeze through everything! Case felt more amused as he listened. If that guy was in front of him at that moment, he would definitely be viciously mocked!
However, something felt off to Case.
He noticed that Jimmy’s expression was stiff. Should Jimmy not be laughing at that fool with him?
Why did Jimmy look so troubled?
Case frowned. “And what happened? What’s with that expression? Did that guy say some things to humiliate you again?”
That had to be it, that idiot’s lips spew nothing but poison. Even when Case argued against him, he himself nearly got run over.
That guy’s words were just so venomous!
Had Jimmy ended up embarrassing himself in front of everyone?

Jimmy took a deep breath, looking like he had summoned up his resolve. “He did humiliate me, but he won in the end!”
“What?” Case practically shouted that, his eyes widened in disbelief, wondering if he had misheard it.
What did Jimmy say? That guy… He won? How could that have happened?!”
Case took a deep breath as he grabbed Jimmy’s arm. “What do you mean, he won? Did he pass?”
Jimmy nodded. No matter how reluctant he was to say it, he had to. He pushed back the discontent in his heart.
“He won. He was faster than I was. He passed the six stages and got the Valley Entrance Pass. I couldn’t follow him in. You know this, too. In Cloud Valley, we’d be split up into separate spaces. Even if I enter, I won’t be able to follow him. He’s currently in Cloud Valley forming his world avatar.”
Jimmy’s every word felt like a strike of lighting to Case.

He could not believe what he heard was true. That brat who only had a 20% compatibility passed even faster than Jimmy did!

Despite Jimmy's confession, Case felt it was too surreal.

'How? Who was that guy? That guy was just an insignificant man in Case's eyes. All he knew was to brag!'

Case took a deep breath. He felt like his eyes were about to catch fire.

"Tell me everything again!"

Jimmy could do nothing but repeat everything. Case was finally sure that he had not been hearing things, that everything he heard was indeed true. He gritted his teeth as his eyes widened in anger. He felt like his whole body was burning.

That guy who came out of nowhere was causing him trouble at every front! He was getting more and more troublesome as well. Case thought that he would just be dealt with easily, but he was actually so strong.

Even stronger than Jimmy!

Jimmy frowned as he grabbed Case's arm. "Case, we should forget about anything else for now. The main thing we have to do is focus on figuring out how to get rid of this guy. He's a seed of disaster and is an enemy. As long as he gets the chance, he'll seek revenge on us. We can't give him that . chance!"

Case's eyes lit up.

Jimmy was right, this guy would bring disaster. They could not let him stay alive!

Case needed to properly plan everything out. He needed a perfect plan to make sure this guy was killed in Cloud City!

At that moment, George had completed 94 seals in Cloud valley. The space did not have night or day, and he was not paying attention to the passing of time. He did not know how long had passed and was only focused on constantly forming his seals. Thankfully, he used a storm god-rank technique, which made it a lot easier for him to control the energy. He had so much experience with him as well, so he could quickly identify any mistakes. Through his constant hard work, not a single seal had a flaw.

After an unknown amount of time passed, the last seal was finished. At that moment, George had 96 avatar seals glowing in a faint golden glow within him.

George took a deep breath, finally opening his eyes.

After all his hard work, the world avatar he formed was close to perfection. His avatar was able to unleash its full force. He could finally exit!

George slowly got up, but at that moment, his bones made snapping sounds.

Having sat for what seemed to be a long time, his body was completely stiff.

George smirked. After working so hard for the past few days, he finally had his reward. A world avatar with a storm god rank technique meant that he was practically unbeatable in the Whirling World.

Once he left Cloud Valley, he finally realized that the entrance and the exit were in the same spot.

Noise filled his ears once again, and George felt like he had just returned to civilization. There was a huge crowd in front of him as everyone talked about the order they took the Killing Illusion Array, lamenting their failures.

All of that no longer had anything to do with George. He had passed that step, moving on to the next stage.

George smiled as he tossed all those thoughts aside. His next objective was the fog battlefield. He did not know if those people would be waiting for him there. The moment that thought flashed in his mind, an unkind voice was heard.

George turned around and saw a familiar face. There was Case, with Octavius and Jimmy behind him.

It was not just those three familiar faces either. Upon closer inspection, there were other warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent behind them.
The three of them walked to Frank, blocking his way.
Frank smirked at this, and he wondered if someone was looking after him from above. He had just been wondering how much effort it would take to find those people, yet there they were, waiting for him and even stopping him on his way.
Case looked at Frank with an expression that was no longer disdain. It was a complicated and serious look, as if Frank was a different person.
Case took a deep breath. “Do you still remember what you said before this?”
Frank nodded. Of course he did, and very clearly at that.

“Are all of you planning on joining the fog battlefield with me?”
Case narrowed his eyes as he gave Frank a once-over. In truth, he had been trying to see how Frank would react to all of them.
They waited here because they wanted to take part in the fog battlefield, using the chance to eliminate a threat.
They had gathered all of their strongest to deal with Frank together. He thought that Frank would have figured out that he was waiting there with all those people for Frank.
Should Frank not be afraid at that moment? Why did he look excited instead?
It was as if they did not matter at all.
Case’s expression darkened. He knew how strong Frank was, and he could no longer laugh at him for being an ignorant fool. It seemed like Frank was just very confident.
Even after seeing all of them work together, Frank did not seem scared at all.
It seemed that he probably managed to form a world avatar at Cloud Valley as well and the mere thought frustrated Case. The stronger Frank was, the more worried Case would get.

Case wanted to kill Frank as soon as possible.
Case scoffed and said, “You don’t seem afraid at all. Even though there are only twenty participants in the fog battlefield, there are many of us and only one of you. Are you not scared at all? Are you that confident to face so many of us?”
In truth, he should not have asked that. After all, they had the advantage. If he asked that, it was possible that Frank would just leave and not enter the fog battlefield with them. There would be nothing they could do about it. After all, they could not fight here nor could they force anyone to the fog battlefield.
However, Frank looked very amused, and Case hated facing confident expressions like that.
Frank smirked as he looked at Case’s group of three and the others behind them.
They all seemed to be warriors that were above average, but Frank did not care at all. He raised an eyebrow. “You expect me to be afraid of you guys? You’re not worthy…”

Frank’s remark was akin to a slap on their faces, and their expressions swiftly changed.
What did that guy say?
They were not worthy?
That was a direct insult to their honor!
Not a single one of them could remain calm.
Octavius rushed forward, glaring at Frank and looking like he wanted to rip Frank apart. “What did you say? We’re not worthy?!
Do you think we can’t kill you with our numbers?! Who do you think you are? Even a deity would bow to all of us!”

Anderson scoffed as he shot Octavius, who was obviously in a state of irreversible rage and looking like he would blow up any moment, a glare.

Anderson said in exasperation, “Is your brain made out of mush? So many of you are working together, so I’d definitely be serious about it, but you can’t threaten me at all. Do you not know what kind of place the fog battlefield is? It’s fog everywhere, dampening your senses. Once you go in, it’s like there’s a blindfold over your eyes…”

“You won’t be able to see anything more than ten meters away from you. You won’t even be able to work together. At most, it’ll be two of you against me, though you’re all hardly worth fretting about. You won’t be of any threat to me at all if it’s just the two of you, so you’re not worthy.”

Anderson was merely being his honest self. Astor did think that they were just there as cannon fodder to him.
However, after they heard what Anderson said, all of them looked like they were about to blow up from the anger. They wanted to fight Anderson to the death right at that moment as if they had been gravely insulted.
Unfortunately, Anderson was just speaking the truth.
Case was red with anger. Astor gritted his teeth as he looked at Adrian, his eyeballs threatening to pop out of their sockets.
It was obvious how angry he was. Nonetheless, he reached out and grabbed Octavius‘ arm, pulling the man back.
“It’s pointless to keep arguing here with him. Since he’s looking down on us, we’ll use our skills to teach him a lesson!”
The fog battlefield was on the eastern side of the city. The massive plaza it was on looked incredibly luxurious.
Compared to the other areas where challenges were, it had lesser people. However, every warrior who came to the plaza had a murderous aura around them.

They looked like generals who had gone through a lot of war or assassins who had gone through life and death. Every one of them looked like they were about to kill someone the next moment.
The fog battlefield needed 20 challengers to start. Every one of them would receive a skeleton badge. After entering the fog battlefield, there were no longer any rules; people could do as they pleased.
They could kill their opponents whenever they wanted, and vice versa. Every warrior who entered the fog battlefield was incredibly confident in themselves. They felt like they would be able to achieve a lot in the fog battlefield, killing a lot of opponents to get the skeleton badges.
The skeleton badges were very useful. The more badges one had, the more valuable the rewards that would be received.
There was only one way to get a skeleton badge, which was to kill the person who had it and take it from them afterward.

There were no regulations on how many people would survive the fog battlefield. The only condition set in stone was that the more skeleton badges one had, the better their rewards would be.

Just that alone stirred many of the challengers into excitement. Hence, all of the warriors who stood on the plaza and wanted to participate were full of murderous intent. All of them looked like they would start a slaughter at any moment.

At that moment, a red-haired man was pulled back by a round-faced man on the side of the plaza.

“Are you crazy? You know what kind of place this is. Everyone here is insane, and you’re out here trying to fight against a bunch of crazies! You’d just be eaten alive. We should just take part in some normal challenges!”

The red-haired man was trying his best to pull away, but the other man was firm with his grip which prevented him from leaving.

The red-haired man’s lips twitched. “It’s heaven spirit grass! The thirteenth disciple got a heaven spirit grass with just five skeleton badges! It’s a holy-grade item, yet it was easily obtained!”

“Even in the outside world, it’s worth at least seventy million spirit crystals, what more in the Whirling World! Do you know how much that is?! It’s more than everything I have!”

70 million spirit crystals were 70 whole pieces of purple gold!

That number might not be too large in the eyes of the ones on top of the food chain, but it was a substantial amount. When it came to warriors that were just above average, it was an incredible figure.

Most warriors at that level would be considered quite well off if they had 20 or 30 million spirit crystals. Most regular warriors did not even have 10 million! It was no wonder that man was so excited by everything.

The round-faced man frowned. “Don’t forget, he was just lucky to have been able to get five skeleton badges. George happened to stumble upon a few strong warriors fighting each other and hid by the side to take advantage of the situation!”

“If it weren’t for that, he would never have been able to defeat five opponents with his skills! George felt that way too. Did you forget? Anyone who enters the fog battlefield is prepared to fight with their lives at stake. Even being able to survive is something fortunate.”

The round-faced man seemed to be speaking from his heart.

All of the warriors who entered the fog battlefield had absolute confidence in themselves. They had supreme murderous intent and were not there to play around. It was very easy to lose one’s life there.

However, the red-haired man was unswayed. George forcefully pulled away, finally managing to escape.

George frowned and said, “I know you mean well, but I’ve made up my mind. I will be participating in the fog battlefield. I know my limits, and I won’t push my luck if I happen across someone powerful…”
“We’re surrounded by fog that cuts off our senses anyway. As long as I’m fast enough and hide within the fog, they won’t be able to do anything even if they want to kill me. Don’t worry, I’ll always prioritize my life. I’m going in to get lucky, not to kill myself.”
The red-haired man spoke like it would be easy, but the round-faced man still felt like his companion had lost his mind.
If it was that easy, many of the regular warriors would have stepped forward to challenge the fog battle.
They just needed to look for any easy advantages, anyway.
The round-faced man sighed helplessly, shaking his head and deciding against arguing.
George knew that whatever he said would be pointless. George would only be able to pray for his fellow disciple’s success, that he would not meet anyone strong enough to kill him in a flash.

Suddenly…
“Look! Isn‘t that Case?” shouted one of the people present, and many were attracted by the shout.
Looking toward where that person was referring to, they saw 21 people walking over from afar. Of those 21 people, Case stood at the front toward the right. There were a few more familiar faces that quite a few people there knew, but they were not known because they were amazingly skilled but for the fact that they were not to be provoked.
Any conflict with them would end up attracting a lot of trouble.
A few people frowned when they saw Case and walked to the corner immediately, not wanting to be too close to that group.
Case let out a smirk when he saw how everyone was looking at him. George smiled, looking pleased with himself.

Case was pleased by how nervous people were around him, and it filled him with pride. The weak only knew how to fear the strong, and he was feared because he was strong.
Joe looked at Rowan with a proud expression. Feeling Case's gaze, Rowan's lips twitched helplessly.
This man had no self-awareness at all. Everyone remembered him not because he was strong but because he was annoying. None of the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent had any real honor.
They were just like a beehive. The moment one of them was provoked, the whole swarm would attack. People did not want the trouble and would naturally keep their distance, yet Case believed he was revered. Rowan just felt like Case was a joke.

Case even laughed at Bjorne, saying that there was something wrong with Rowan's head, but it seemed like the case was, in fact, vice versa.
Rowan could not be bothered to entertain Case, and he continued watching forward.
Case was infuriated by Rowan's expression.
Joe had just composed himself, yet that nuisance managed to get on his nerves again!
Joe made up his mind to make sure to show off in front of Rowan. Joe needed him to know how much better he was. Joe scoffed and quickly walked forward, going to register his name.
Everyone around looked like they had been blown away by a strong wind as Case walked over. Everyone who was standing in the middle immediately made way for Case.
Case walked in like a king, feeling like he was royalty, and he walked toward the registration area.
Rowan's lips twitched in exasperation, musing to himself how foolish Case was.

The caretaker at the registration area did not care who was there at all. They would merely do their job of registering people with flat faces.
Thankfully, the last fog battlefield had just ended. 20 of them entered, and only two survived. One of them had eleven skeleton badges while the other had seven. They managed to get some amazing things before they left, evidently pleased with themselves.
The treasure a person received was considered a private matter, and the victors could choose whether or not to announce their rewards. Those two chose not to tell anyone what they got, but it was obvious from their smiles that they obtained something amazing.
The reason why so many people seemed to know about the treasures there was because it was either announced by the victors or they got to know it from their fellow disciples.
Even without a lot of skeleton keys, the rewards were still of great value.
Just that alone attracted many people.

After one battle ended, a lot of them were still hesitating, wondering if they should sign up or not. Case was the first person to sign up, while Rowan and the others followed behind.
Initially, everyone had their focus on Case.
A few warriors who wanted to sign up forgot about it when Case appeared.
Case and the others might be like annoying bees, but he was still strong. Joe could somewhat consider himself a top-tier warrior, so everyone was worried about his abilities.
Case had so many other warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent with him as well. They were very united. It was obvious they were planning something.
At that moment, some of them started to notice Rowan.
Rowan wore regular clothes that did not have any of the markings of a warrior from a second-grade world, which meant that Rowan was from a third-grade world.
A warrior from a third-grade world really stood out amongst so many warriors from second-grade worlds. On top of that, the identity of Case and the others immediately caused everyone to link everything.

“Who is this person? Why is he signing up with Case and the others? Is he one of their subordinates?”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3634

• • •

“How could he be their subordinate?” someone shot back.

“Use your brain a little here. What kind of dog looks prouder than its owner? Ever since we saw this guy, he’s never even glanced at Case. Do you think a subordinate would dare to do that?”

After that person said so, quite a few people nodded in agreement. The masked man never said anything the whole time as if everything happening around him had nothing to do with him.

That calm demeanor was not something a subordinate would have. Since he was not a subordinate, who was he?

The Swelling Tide Continent’s impression of the other warriors was too deep. They would always stick together and would rarely interact with other warriors.

The moment they interacted with any outsiders, conflicts would somehow arise.

Could that person be an enemy of the Swelling Tide Continent?
That thought played in the minds of a few people, and all of them slowly felt like these men did seem to be at odds. Even the redhaired man was no longer interested in talking to the round-faced man.
Richard walked to the middle of the crowd, looking at Josua and the others. A total of 16 of them had registered, and 15 of them were from the Swelling Tide Continent and had notable prowess. Only Josua was from the third-grade world, Hestia.
Josua did not seem to care about the situation at all. It was as if the 15 warriors were not a threat to him.
The more Josua acted like that, the more frustrated Case felt.
Josua was just too good at acting. Even if it was one of the warriors who were at the peak, they would still think about it before facing 15 other warriors. After all, even with the special nature of the fog battlefield, they were no idiots.

They naturally figured out a lot of plans to deal with their opponent. Anyone with just a hint of intelligence would know that.
Josua did not seem to be someone with an empty head, so Case felt like Josua knew this.
Yet, Josua insisted on putting up an act until the end.
Case gritted his teeth, loathing how irksome Josua was.
Who did he think he was?
Did he think his facade would fool others just because he looked unbothered?
When Josua had agreed to go to the fog battlefield with all of them, Case felt like there was something wrong with him. Richard refused to believe Josua was under no pressure at all even when faced with 15 of them.
However, the other party was not just good and pretending, but putting on a show as well.
Richard clearly saw a look of excitement on Josua's face earlier.
Facing 15 opponents, he was still able to look excited.
How could that not just be an act?

Even at that moment, that expression remained plastered on his face. Even those that were around them could not see any flaws in the act. They were even wondering if Josua was a part of the Swelling Tide Continent's group, which could explain his calm demeanor. Case scoffed as anger surfaced in his eyes.

Richard suddenly said loudly, "Is it really worth dying for your honor and dignity?"

Richard had held back those words for a long time, worried that Josua would somehow regret his decision. However, it was all already set.

Since Josua had signed up, Josua would not be able to flee. There was nothing for Case to worry about anymore.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3635

• • •

Furthermore, he absolutely hated Rowan's look of indifference.

Rowan's lips twitched helplessly. George turned to look at the sign-up sheet, only to notice that the 16 of them, including himself, were the only ones who signed up.

There were four empty spots to be filled before they could start, and if no one signed up, they would be forced to wait. If he ignored that guy, he would continue making a fuss. Even though Rowan did not want to bother, there was nothing he could do about it.

Rowan said coldly, "Stop living in your own fantasies. How would you know what I'm thinking? What's this talk about dignity? It's all just your imagination. Do you think you're worthy of me putting my life on the line for my dignity?"

That group of people, especially Case, overestimated themselves too much.

They thought that he was only challenging them because he did not want to be embarrassed. It was as if they were so important.
In truth, Rowan merely did so because he wanted there to be more of a challenge in the fog battlefield. After all, it would just be nonstop killing once the fog battlefield started. If it was just going to be a one-sided slaughter, then it would just be too boring.
Rowan wanted to challenge himself on the battlefield, which was why he made the bet with Jimmy at the start. George wanted to stir Jimmy's thirst for revenge so Jimmy would exhaust all the power of the Swelling Tide Continent to face him in the fog battlefield. Of course, they would never have guessed Rowan's real intentions.
They would just try to understand Rowan's actions with their own mindsets. In their eyes, Rowan was just pretending to be larger than what he was and was a stubborn mule. Those words were more than enough to tell everyone around them what happened.

Quite a few of them looked at Rowan with surprise. Around two-thirds of them felt like Rowan was crazy to go against the Swelling Tide Continent so brazenly. Most importantly, he was facing 15 of them alone. It was just absurd!

No matter how confident he was in his skills, there was no way he should be doing that. Even though there was a dense fog around the battlefield, it was still not a guarantee that he would not battle anyone where he would not be at a disadvantage with how many his opponents were. Then, there would just be endless trouble.

A few people had left Cloud City just to avoid being targeted by Case. No one expected Case to be back and to have gotten into a fight with someone else so quickly. It was crazy!

All of them could see that Rowan's tone was incredibly calm as well. It was as if Rowan did not have fifteen opponents in front of him, but 15 ants that he could kill at any moment.

The crowd started to murmur among themselves.
“Do you think this guy is putting on an act, or is he skilled enough to go against fifteen people?”
“He’s obviously acting. Even the strongest warrior from the second-grade worlds would think before fighting fifteen opponents who are all above average. No one would act as if there’s no danger like this guy is doing. It’s like fifteen men are nothing to him.”

"You're right, but I still think that the guy should be quite skilled. He might actually be able to get out safe and sound."

"You should shut your mouth right now! Where do you think you are? Don't you know how Case is? Things won't end well for anyone who offends him. That guy is so rude as well. Case is already furious-there's no way Case would let that guy live!"

"I still feel like the masked guy isn't just putting on an act. If he was, he wouldn't be like this. I feel like he's not giving out the aura of someone who's hiding anything. Instead, Case is the one who feels like he's losing control of himself."

Case's eyes widened as he glared at Jack viciously. If looks could kill, Jack would have been dead a few thousand times already. It was not just him who was looking at Jack like that either. The others with him were also looking at Jack with a similar expression as if they wanted to chop Jack into pieces.

Jack was already used to getting looks like that. Ever since he came into the Whirling World, he would get those looks at least five times a day.
Octavius felt like he was about to explode from anger. Every time Octavius saw how calm Jack was, he would feel insulted.
There had been quite a few people who had insulted them before, but whenever they were together, those people would always be afraid. They would never remain that calm.
However, this guy was completely different. It was as if nothing they did or said could affect that guy.
That guy was treating them as if they were just empty air. He did not care about them at all.
Octavius loved to see those people who offended them fall into fear. However, this guy was just too good at keeping on his act. Ever since the start, he had been calm and collected, which infuriated Octavius.
He clenched his teeth and told Jack, "Brat, keep putting on an act, you won't be able to keep it up for that long. You'll realize the consequences of everything you did."
Jack raised an eyebrow in exasperation as he looked at Octavius' furious expression.
He merely felt that it was incredibly amusing.

Jack smirked and smiled calmly, "I hope that I'll meet you first the moment the battle starts. Let's see if you can keep talking like this Jack's tone was incredibly calm, but it was filled with confidence which made Octavius stiffen. He coldly snorted as he shouted as hard as he could, "Don't worry, you're the one who'll be crying in the end!"
He sounded like he had no confidence at all when he said that. Even if he hated that person, he could not ignore that person's skills. Otherwise, they would not have gathered fifteen men to deal with just one person. If it was a straight-up fight, none of them had a good chance other than Case.
However, everything would end on the foggy battlefield no matter what. There was no way that guy would survive.
Jack sighed, not wanting to bother with them anymore.
He said coldly, "Since you have so much confidence that you can kill me, can't you just shut up right now? Every time you speak, it's as if there's another mosquito buzzing around my ear. It's really annoying."
Those fifteen men were furious when they heard what Jack said.

That guy actually said they were noisy like mosquitoes?
How dare he! Quite a few of them wanted to rush over in anger, but they were stopped by Case.

Case turned to look at his fellow disciples, "That's enough! There is no benefit in trying to argue with this guy. Since he's so confident, let's use our skills to show him how much of a joke his confidence is. We'll continue on the battlefield."
Case had clearly felt how well Jack could speak before.
For everything Case had to say, Jack would shoot ten sentences back. Furthermore, everything Jack said would hit him precisely where he was the most vulnerable. It greatly infuriated him.
They would just embarrass themselves if they continued speaking there. They would have the time to torture Jack later anyway!
They would use their skills to teach him a lesson! They wanted to show him what the consequences of his actions were!
The warriors there looked at Jack before looking at the other fifteen. Quite a few of them were really anticipating what would happen after that. It was just a pity that most of them did not have the guts to participate. Joining the fog battlefield in this kind of situation would just put them in a dangerous spot for no reason.

Once the fighting started, those who were just watching might end up being dragged in.
The foggy battlefield was not a place to spectate things. Everyone was an enemy the moment they stepped into the place.
Everyone would receive a skeleton badge once they join the fog battlefield. Every additional badge meant their rewards would be even more valuable.
With that in mind, everyone who entered the fog battlefield would do their best to kill their enemies!
The red-haired man clenched his teeth. He looked at everything that was happening and made a decision. He walked right over to the registration area.
However, he was stopped by the round-faced man again. The round-faced man really thought that the red-haired man was crazy.
Even if he wanted to challenge the fog battlefield, he should be challenging it at the right time.
Did he not see the conflict between that masked man and the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent?

The round-faced man said in exasperation, "Is there something wrong with you? Do you want to join in this kind of situation? Are you sick of living? You just want to die, right?"
The red-haired man frowned, wanting to push the round-faced man aside. However, the round-faced man still meant well, it would be too rude of him to be so rough.
The red-haired man said patiently, "I'm not crazy, you're just not that smart. This is the best time to take advantage of the situation. That brat will end up fighting those people, and both sides might end up heavily injured. I'd be able to take advantage of it all!"
Hearing what the red-haired man said, the round-faced man no longer knew what to say. It was very easy to fall into danger while waiting to take advantage of the situation. After all, the other challengers were no idiots either.
Even though the fog battlefield was able to mask any senses, it was not like nothing could be seen. There was a good chance any observers would be caught. Then, those observers would end up having their dreams destroyed.
It was often not good to have too much of a perfect picture of things.

The round-faced man said helplessly, "I think you shouldn't try to join in the commotion at this kind of time. It's very easy for you to end up becoming collateral damage. Do you think they won't know what you're planning when they see you? On top of that, your senses are blocked on the battlefield, you won't know where they're fighting at all..."
"If you wander around aimlessly, you might stumble into any opponents very easily. Do you think you'll be able to escape unscathed if that happens? Stop using your earlier reasoning on me, it doesn't make sense at all. If you meet someone fast, you wouldn't even be able to use the fog to hide. You wouldn't be able to run at all."

Chapter 3638

When that was said, even the round-faced man started to feel like giving up.
However, he felt like some things needed to be said, "Hey, don't blame me for nagging you. Don't forget what the master said. If you don't come out of the Whirling World alive, he's going to hold me responsible!"
The red-haired man frowned as he pushed away the round-faced man's hand, "What you say might really happen, but I don't think I'd be that unlucky. Alright, that's enough, I'm going to sign up right now!"
At that moment, the red-haired man was already thoroughly annoyed by the round-faced man. He no longer cared about anything else as he walked over to the registration area.
The round-faced man sighed helplessly, but he did not stop the other man. He knew that it was already pointless. If he continued to stop the other man, it would just cause the man to hate him and that would not be good.

The round-faced man said miserably, "I already did what I should anyway. Even if the results aren't ideal, it will no longer be my fault. The red-haired man was not the only one with those thoughts. After about five minutes, a total of four others had registered.
After twenty of the warriors gathered, they stood on the transfer array."
All of them had differing emotions on their faces, but the calmest one was Jack. It was as if Jack was not going to the fog battlefield that was full of death, but just a suburb in the countryside.
The moment the transfer array activated, Case looked at Jack and said in a dark and cold voice, "You'll regret this!"
Jack raised an eyebrow as he turned to look at Case, "Same to you..."
The moment that was said, the transfer array's activation was done. All twenty of them were wrapped up in distorted space and sent somewhere faraway.
After about five minutes, Jack noticed that he had arrived in a completely blurry world. He was completely surrounded by white fog. As he let out his senses, he realized that he could only feel things that were around seven meters away from him.

Jack's soul was strong, so his senses were naturally stronger than a regular person. Even so, he could only feel around such a limited area. However, it was not enough to make Jack nervous.
Jack's lips curled up into a smile, it seemed like he would be having some fun!
He did not stop in place, and instead started to walk in a direction he had chosen!
The fog did not just obscure one's senses, it even stopped the sound from getting past. Even though the sound was not as badly covered up, it was still incredibly muffled.
Jack would not even be able to hear a battle going on if it was a couple of hundred meters in front of him. Jack was no idiot. If all fifteen of them fought him, it would definitely not be a good situation.
However, he did not need to worry about that on the foggy battlefield. Even if they had a lot of plans for dealing with him, there was no way it would all take effect immediately.
Jack needed to use this opportunity to ruin their plans!
Octavius looked up, and everywhere was covered in white fog. The situation was worse than he thought, but it was still fine.

They had already prepared a plan. He took a deep breath as he counted his footsteps and walked fonNard. There should be a pile of rubble in front.
As long as he saw that, it would mean that he was already very close to his goal. As he mumbled on, he quickly walked forward.
To stop any surprises from happening, he needed to be quick!
Right at that moment, a rock suddenly flew toward him from the left.

Octavius quickly looked toward the left in shock. All he could see was still white fog. Both his sight and hearing were obscured.

He cursed, suddenly on full alert. He wondered which idiot was using rocks to scout ahead.

He clenched his teeth. It was an urgent moment. No matter how much he wanted to beat up that guy, he still needed to get things done beforehand. Just as he turned around and continued forward, another stone was thrown over.

That one was quick and vicious, there was even true energy around it. Octavius avoided it, but he heard a boom. A small crater had formed on the ground!

Octavius clenched his teeth, no longer able to hold back as he walked to the left.

Before he completed his task, he would beat up that idiot who was throwing the stones! He walked very quickly, and he started to vaguely make out a figure very quickly.

The person had a straight back and was wearing green robes. A sense of familiarity filled his mind as Octavius immediately froze, realizing something wrong. Right at that moment, that person turned around.
Jack smiled, "Not bad! I can't believe it's you!"
At that moment, Jack still had a few more stones in his hand.
Octavius started to panic. Turns out, he had been the one throwing the stones. Octavius' hands trembled as he quickly retreated.
Various thoughts surfaced in his head.
That guy was not weak. Jimmy had been no match for him, and Octavius was just a bit stronger than Jimmy. If Octavius fought the guy, the chances of winning were probably only around twenty percent, but if he ran at that moment, it was very easy for him to get lost, which would ruin the final plans!
Just as he was mulling over it, Jack was already walking toward him. Jack maintained a smile on his face as if nothing that was happening around him concerned him.
The smile angered Octavius. Octavius clenched his teeth, "You dog! Don't think I'm afraid of you just because you have some skills! I'm telling you, even if it's one against one, I might not lose!"

At worst, Octavius could run away in the end. Just because he could not win did not mean he could not run! The fog obscured all senses anyway. As long as he hid fast enough, he would be fine!
With that in mind, he immediately straightened his back. He did not want to look afraid!
Jack looked at Octavius preparing to face him and started to laugh. This suited him perfectly. If Octavius had turned around to run, Jack would at least need to spend some effort. Since Octavius decided to fight him head-on, it saved a lot of time and effort.
Jack was very happy that Octavius did not seem to know his place. Jack hoped that the other warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent would be like that too!
Octavius frowned, feeling incredibly furious when Jack laughed.
How dare that dog laugh at him! Was he being laughed at for not knowing his place?
Octavius got angrier and angrier as he thought about that.
He wanted to rush forward and just choke Jack at that moment. However, he knew that he was not facing an easy opponent. He needed to deal with it calmly!

"Come," Jock said calmly.
Octavius found himself even more furious. How dare that guy talk to him like that!
It was as if he was being instructed.
Octavius clenched his teeth, unable to hold back anymore!
He started to form seals with his hands, and a tiger appeared in the air. A dragon was circling the tiger as well!
Octavius shouted, "I'm using the lower ultimate god rank technique, the Dragon Tiger Fist! I've already mastered it to the third level! Unless you have a middle ultimate god rank technique, you'll be no match for me at all!"
Looking at the tiger and dragon in the air, Jack suddenly realized something.
He laughed and said, "Could you have failed to form your world avatar?"
Those words were like stabs in Octavius' heart.
Even his face was twisted! Jack was right. After a few days in Cloud Valley, he had failed to even condense a single perfect seal.

Even though he had been able to form a few, the ones he formed were either problematic or useless. He had completely failed. It was as if he had done nothing at all. Case had managed to succeed because even though Case had failed a lot of them, he still succeeded with quite a few.
He managed to form fifty-seven usable seals out of ninety-six. As long as he had fifty-seven seals that could be used, a world avatar could be formed. However, Octavius had clearly failed.
Even though he had successfully gotten a Valley Entrance Pass, he still failed in the end. It impacted him deeply. If it was not for their plans, Octavius would have tried to find somewhere he could be alone for a few days.
Jack had exposed him right away. Octavius' anger soared. He clenched his teeth, "Brat! I'll destroy you!"
Jack immediately knew that he was right at Octavius' tone!
Jack smiled, no longer wasting any time on Octavius as he started to form seals in the air.
They condensed and formed a blade.
Jack had been using Soul Burst Ring against most of his enemies, and it was his strongest attack, as it was able to blow his enemies apart every time. However, he decided on Broken Soul Blade this time.

There was a simple reason for that. Even though Soul Burst Ring could kill his opponents easily, it was far too destructive. It would form a large crater around the area, and the explosion would be spread very far away.
Even though the fog battlefield was large and the fog did muffle some sound, he still wanted to be safe.
The Broken Soul Blade
floated in front of Jack. The blade was filled with countless seals. The power of the soul surged around the blade.
At that moment, Octavius was already going crazy with his anger at Jack. He clenched his teeth and launched himself forward, charging at Jack like a fierce tiger.
He punched right at Jack's head!
Jack could clearly hear the roar of a tiger and dragon. Octavius was not weak, but he was nothing to Jack!
Jack scoffed, pushing his hands forward as the Broken Soul Blade quickly shot forward.

• • •

The Broken Soul Blade clashed violently with the Tiger Dragon Fist. An explosion was heard, and Octavius felt like he was punching a steel mountain. After that, it felt like poisonous gray energy was climbing up his fist.
The Tiger Dragon Punch's power surrounded his fist, so every time he struck an opponent, he was always fine thanks to the protection of that energy. However, his usually strong attack had completely burnt away when it touched that gray energy!
Octavius widened his eyes as he looked at his fist in disbelief.
Right after that, a bone-piercing pain started to spread from his fist to his whole body!
He could not help but cry out in agony as he rapidly retreated. He knew he was probably no match for his opponent, but he never expected there to be such a wide gulf. His Tiger Dragon Fist had been no match for his opponent at all. Not only that, it had been defeated in an instant!

Only then did he realize how idiotic his earlier decision had been. Octavius only had one thought in mind at that moment, which was to run!
He needed to escape the place immediately. Otherwise, he would lose his life. He hated his opponent. If he could, he wanted to rip his opponent apart. In the same vein, his opponent would never let him off! Octavius clenched his teeth and frantically held back the pain as he turned around to flee. However, he overestimated his willpower. No one could withstand the pain of their soul being eaten.
An intense pain had spread from his hand to his whole body. He had just taken a few steps when he completely lost control of all his true energy. He immediately collapsed on the ground. After that, he could not even control his own body. He was like a beast that was just crying out on the ground.
At that moment, Jack casually walked over. Octavius was rolling on the floor without any regard for his own image. If he could still control himself, there was no way he would allow himself to show such a sight. However, he could not withstand the pain of his soul being eaten away.

Jack smiled, walking to Octavius' side.
He took out two bodies from Mustard Seed, tossing them next to the other party so Octavius could see them clearly.
Jack controlled the power of the Broken Soul Blade, reducing the speed of his soul being eaten to allow Octavius a moment of consciousness.
Octavius was panting. His whole body was full of sweat, it was like he had just been fished out of a pond. When he could control his body, he immediately saw those corpses next to him. He widened his eyes, not even able to breathe anymore.
He was filled with fear as he shuddered. He knew those corpses very well. They were his fellow disciples who had entered this battle with him. Yet, not too long had passed, and they were already dead. There was no doubt that Jack had killed them.
Octavius gulped, not even daring to look up, "Who are you?!"
If he had really seen Jack's skills before, he would never have joined Case in this battle against Jack. After witnessing Jack's skills, he finally realized how much of a joke his earlier thoughts had been. Jack was not just incredibly strong. Jack's skills could be considered at the top of the second-grade world! He even wondered if six or seven of them working together would be able to beat Jack!

Octavius shuddered. "I know I won't survive, but can you tell me who you are?! There's no way you're someone unknown! If that's the case, why won't you show your face?"

• • •

No.1 Supreme Warrior by Moneto

• • •

Compared to his opponent, Octavius felt utterly insignificant. Even if there were two of himself, he would still not be able to win.
There was no way someone that strong was unknown. He just wanted to find out who that person was.
Jack smiled as he slowly pulled down his mask.
When Octavius saw Jack's real face, Octavius' eyes widened, "You're Jack?"
Jack nodded calmly.
Octavius' lips twitched, "I can't believe it's you. I heard you're from Hestia Continent?"
Jack had shown very good results in Chaos City. He had managed to resolve a large battle by himself. Hence, his name had already spread everywhere. The most interesting thing about him was where he was from. Hestia Continent was a completely useless place. Even among third-grade worlds, Hestia Continent was among the worst.
There was no way someone that strong could come from a place like that.

When Octavius heard about it, he found it hard to believe. He felt like it was just a rumor. He never expected he would actually meet Jack and even die at Jack's hands.
It was absurd!
Octavius scoffed as his eyes reddened.
He sounded incredibly reluctant, "Why did you not show your face? If we knew it was you, we wouldn't have caused you any trouble."
As he said that, he sounded like he was blaming and questioning Jack.
He felt like Jack had caused all of this because Jack had hidden his face, causing no one to recognize him.
Jack merely felt amused at those words, "If you don't want any consequences, then don't do anything that would bring them about in the first place. The Swelling Tide Continent has waived its power around like nothing. So many people have been done by you guys, and you guys have forced so many people to leave..."
"Most of those warriors you've bullied are just those who obey the rules and don't cause any trouble. They were forced to leave

Cloud City by you, and some of them have even died because of you. You should have known there would be consequences for doing all of that. All of your sins have finally caught up to you."
Jack's tone was very slow. He showed no emotions and merely spoke as if he was just explaining simple logic.
Octavius started to catch as his body shook.
Even though Jack was controlling the power of the Broken Soul Blade to not destroy Octavius' soul that quickly, it was just slowing the power down. It had not stopped at all. Octavius could still clearly feel his soul being ripped apart.
That pain caused his whole body to shudder. His muscles were moving uncontrollably. His expression was twisting beyond his control as well. Octavius felt completely despondent. It was not just the pain, but also the fear of death descending upon him.
Jack looked down at Octavius coldly, "Do unto others what you want to be done unto yourself. You are just suffering from the consequences of your own actions. There's nothing to be unhappy about. If it wasn't me, someone else would have done it."

Octavius's heart was beating rapidly at that moment as plenty of images surfaced in his head.
All those people who had offended him before. Octavius had dealt with them cruelly. When they took part in challenges, Octavius would have people go over to constantly mock and provoke them.
They would never get a chance to escape. Some of them were even tortured to death, while some of them left Cloud City completely.

Chapter 3643

He still remembered the expressions on their faces. It was the same as his at that moment.
Octavius smiled bitterly. No matter how unhappy he was, he had to admit that Jack was right. He reaped what he sowed!
"What's happening? Is it just too far?" Case frowned and said.
He had already arrived at the predetermined spot. There were eight others with him. Another six were still not there.
As time slowly dragged on, the situation seemed more and more problematic. After all, this was not a nice place. The fog battlefield was full of the aura of death. Death was everywhere in this place.
For the skeleton badges, anything could be done.
Case sighed and continued, "We'll wait for a while longer. If they don't arrive, we'll just depart first. I trust in their skills. I've looked at all the other challengers. Other than that guy, no one else is worth our notice. They're all just trash. If anyone met them, it would take some time, but there shouldn't be any problems..." However, if they met Jack instead, the situation would be very bad. But, Case felt like even if some of them were unlucky enough to meet Jack, it could not be all six of the missing ones.

The one behind Case at that moment was Maurice, who was from their clan.
Jimmy stood quietly beside Maurice. His expression was incredibly serious at that moment.
As time slowly passed, he constantly looked around, observing his surroundings. Yet, no one was there, which caused him to get more and more anxious.
Maurice said, "What are you looking around for? Even if someone is here, you won't be able to see them at all. Once they're close enough, everyone will see them."
Jimmy sighed, saying with worry, "Why isn't Octavius here? Could he have encountered any trouble?"
Maurice raised an eyebrow. He had been thinking about other matters and had forgotten about Octavius.
Jimmy had served as a reminder. Octavius should have already arrived after so long. The others who had not arrived were mostly all weaker than Octavius. Even the strongest among the other five was almost at Octavius' level. With Octavius' skills, if there were no surprises on the way, he should have already arrived.

Did he meet some trash that he could not handle?
Maurice consoled, "There's no way anything would happen to him. Have you forgotten about his skills? He must have met a few pieces of trash on the way. Even though ants are small, they're still worth something..."
"If he killed them, he would get the skeleton badges. He might be able to get something good from them. If I met any, I would attack as well. It might waste some time, but it would be very profitable."
It was not just Maurice who felt that way. Other than Jimmy, the others thought so as well. Even though they had participated in the fog battlefield to get rid of Jack, the rewards they could get were still something on their minds.
After solving the most important problem, they could profit from it as well. It was naturally a happy matter. They would definitely have done it happily if they were in that position. It was just that they had a very easy time arriving at the gathering spot, not meeting anyone else.

Jimmy looked up and said seriously when he heard that, "It's not like that! All of you would definitely do something like that, but Octavius absolutely wouldn't."

"He would prioritize eliminating Jack over everything else. He would not let anything delay him. I've been with him for so long. I understand him the most here. Something definitely happened if he's still not here..."

As he said that, his voice started to tremble. Various uneasy thoughts surfaced in his mind.

There were some things he did not dare to say because he was worried he would jinx it, but the more he thought about it, the more worried he was that it actually happened.

Someone behind Jimmy laughed and said, "Jimmy, you're being too sensitive. It's not like you can read his might. How could you anticipate his every move? Even though Octavius is a very serious person, there's no way he wouldn't be tempted by such a large treasure. You're just overthinking things."

"Is that so? I don't think that's the case," A cold voice was suddenly heard in front of them.

Everyone stiffened and turned to look at the source of the sound at the same time.

A man in dark green robes and a black mask was walking through the fog toward them. Since the fog obscured their sight and they were standing in a circle not too far from each other, Jack had only been seen by them because they were already within seven meters of each other. When everyone saw who it was, practically everyone pulled out their weapons from their storage spaces.
Jack was still very calm at their reaction. Everything was within his expectations.
Case looked at Jack with alarm. He held a round ring in one hand that had various beasts carved on it. There was even a dark red glow to it. That was probably his weapon.
Case raised his weapon and aimed it at Jack, "Why are you here?"
The gathering spot they chose was not near the center of the fog battlefield at all. It was quite secluded to avoid being noticed by Jack. Otherwise, it would affect their plans. Yet, even despite their careful planning, Jack had found them.
Jack did not seem to have accidentally stumbled upon them either. It was like Jack already knew they would be here.

The fog battlefield was filled with fog that obstructed sight and sound. If Jack had not known that they would be gathered there, he would not have been so calm.
Jack said, "Don't think that you're so smart with your schemes. If you think everyone else is an idiot, you'll end up being an idiot."
Case's eyes suddenly widened as he shouted, "You interrogated and killed people!"
Case suddenly understood why Jack was there.
Jack probably already knew where they were gathering. It was obvious that he had found out from the other disciples that had not arrived.
Jack actually used such a cruel method!
When the others heard what Jack said, they realized what happened as well. All of them started to look at Jack in anger, raising their weapons at Jack in a challenging manner.
However, they were already acting from pure anger at that point.
Jack looked at all of their furious expressions. All of them looked like they were burning in anger as if their whole family had been killed overnight.
Jack could not resist laughing at their expressions. However, the smile never reached his eyes.

His eyes were completely cold, "Why do you look like that? Do you feel very angry? What gives you the right to be so angry?"

• • •

• • •

Maurice clenched his teeth and said, "What kind of nonsense are you speaking? Isn't it obvious why we're angry? You've killed our companions so cruelly, and you're asking us why we're angry?!"
Jack sneered as he coldly looked at the furious Maurice, "This is just retribution. You really don't need to be so angry."
Maurice's face reddened in anger as he said, "What retribution?! Stop trying to explain your actions."
Jack raised an eyebrow, not angered by that at all.
Instead, he looked even calmer, "Just think about how many warriors you've tortured to death or forced out of Cloud City. Those warriors were just as angry as before. Their anger was caused by all of you, so this is just what you deserve. There isn't anything to get mad at."
Case was trembling from his anger, "Just shut up! Don't think we'll be afraid of you just because you're good at putting up an act!

No matter what you say, it won't change what's waiting for you!"
"Open your eyes and take a good look. You have nine enemies! Do you really think you're capable of defeating nine enemies?
Even if you're one of the top warriors, there's no way you'll be able to beat nine of us. We're not useless!"
Jack raised an eyebrow, looking at all nine of them.
To deal with Jack, Case did pull out all the stops as he had found so many strong fellow disciples. All of them were aboveaverage warriors.
Case should have managed to obtain the first stage of his world avatar as well. Jack estimated that Case was probably not the only one among them who had done so. Facing nine opponents really did pressure Jack a bit.
However, that was exactly what he wanted. After entering the Whirling World, Jack had found it hard to find any decent opponents. With the suppression of the strength, very few people could truly threaten Jack with just their techniques alone.
Jack could have clearly not wasted any time in shutting those people up in the Killing Illusion Array, but he had deliberately bet against Jimmy so Jimmy's anger would cause Jimmy to want revenge. It was all for this moment.

Jack took a deep breath and an excited look flashed in his eyes. It did look a bit strange, Maurice, in particular, wondered if he was seeing things. Jack's eyes were actually lit with an eagerness for battle!
Did he really think he would be able to defeat all nine of them?
Did he just go crazy from all the pressure of facing such strong opponents or did he actually have that skill?
After the last thought flashed in Maurice's mind, Maurice shook his head. That was just absurd.
Jack might be able to beat two or three of them at once, and maybe even four, but it was impossible to beat all nine of them. The nine of them were no weaklings. They had experienced many trials, and many geniuses had died at their hands!
The nine of them would even be able to defeat the strongest warrior in the Whirling World if they worked together!
Unless that guy had broken through the limitations of the laws, it was absolutely impossible to beat all of them!

• • •

There were only two ways to explain what that man was doing at that moment. Either he was really crazy, or he was overconfident in himself, thinking he would actually beat everyone with his meager skills. Maurice could not help but let out a cold laugh at that. At that moment, he only had one thought in mind. He wanted a complete victory. He wanted to show that man his place so that man would realize how much of a joke his thoughts were.
It was obvious Maurice was not the only person who thought that way.
Case took a deep breath.
There was anger and mockery in his eyes, "Brat, I've seen many people who're filled with confidence, but it's my first time seeing anyone with as much confidence as yours. Even those people who love to brag about themselves would never dare to say they would be able to take on nine opponents at once!”

"We're no slouches either. Including me, three of us can form world avatars! If we attack with our full might, even the strongest warrior in the Whirling World would have to run!"
"Who do you think you are? You just happened to have some skill, and you've already forgotten your place. I'll show you how vast the world is today!"
"That's right, let's show him how much of a joke his thoughts are!"
There were a lot of agreements at that moment. Everyone had their fists clenched tightly, already thinking about Jack being completely beaten up by that.
At that moment, the red-haired warrior had already snuck over from afar. Even though the fog had obscured sight and sound, it was not like no sound could come out at all.
The red-haired man waited patiently like a thief. He was worried he would be killed by any of the strong warriors, but also eager to take advantage of the situation. He had been lucky enough to actually stumble upon this place after wandering around.
Earlier, Jack had been talking to Case and the others, and in their anger, they had been incredibly loud. The red-haired man happened to hear them, and he hurried over toward the source of the noise.

He did not dare to get too close, worried that he would be noticed. He merely hid by the side.
The red-haired man looked at the tension on both sides and lamented to himself, "This guy is just crazy. He thinks he can defeat nine opponents by himself?"
The red-haired man felt that anyone who had heard that earlier conversation would be asking the same thing as well.
At that moment, Jack had a calm look on his face. He showed no emotion at all as if what was about to happen had nothing to do with him.
Case and the others were already used to Jack acting like that.
They thought that Jack was actually just putting on an act and that Jack was actually incredibly anxious. Every time they saw Jack's calm demeanor, they wanted to rip that fake mask off.
They finally had the chance. They were incredibly eager to step into battle.
Right before they fought, Jimmy suddenly shouted out, "Hey, did you see Octavius at all?!"

Jack looked at the anxious Jimmy and smiled, "I did see him. He was the one who told me the location. Otherwise, I wouldn't have found you so quickly."
Everyone widened their eyes at that. Jimmy shouted out, "You're just a load of crap! Even if you caught Octavius, there's no way he would be threatened by you into giving up our location!"

• • •

Jack laughed, remembering how reluctant Octavius looked right before he died.
Jack had let Octavius live for a bit longer because he wanted to show Octavius that Octavius deserved what happened and also because he wanted the answers Octavius had.
The two he had killed before Octavius had been very stubborn. They had killed themselves while Jack was distracted. To prevent that from happening, Jack had made sure to sever Octavius' limbs so he had no chance.
In truth, Octavius had folded before Jack tortured him for too long, telling him everything.
Before Octavius died, he even remarked that he deserved what happened.
Jimmy looked at Jack hatefully, wanting to rip Jack apart, "You're a liar! Octavius has always had a lot of willpower. There's no way he would have done that. You must have gotten the information from someone else and you're just trying to smear him! I won't fall for it!"

"Listen here, I'll definitely get revenge for Octavius! I'll make sure you pay the price. I'll have you go through the torture that's a thousand times worse than what Octavius went through!"

Jimmy was practically shouting all of that. He absolutely hated Jack. He wanted to rip Jack apart.

Jack scoffed, not caring at all.

At that moment, there was nothing else to say. All they could do was fight! Everyone was incredibly focused.

Case's hands started to move as countless seals formed in the air. A massive tongue appeared. The tongue was covered in a disgusting liquid, and there were countless thorns on it. On the tongues were various seals that looked disgusting and sinister.

Jack frowned, wondering what kind of technique it was to bring out something like a tongue. It looked like part of a monster's body. He wondered where Case learned something like that.

After Case finished that, he summoned up all his true energy again.

A blurry body formed behind him. The body looked like a dog with a lion's head. It looked like a beast, but it was too vague to tell.

Jack raised an eyebrow, seeing that it was Case's world avatar. Even though world avatars were manifestations of the laws of the world, it was closely tied to everyone personally. Everyone would form a different world avatar. Case's world avatar was the figure of a beast. On top of the technique he was using, Jack wondered what attributes the world avatar was.
However, it was not the time to ask any questions. The moment Case took action, his fellow disciples did as well. None of them held back as they summoned up their full strength!
They planned on dealing with Jack in one blow.
Jack took a deep breath, finally feeling some pressure that had eluded him for so long. He formed seals with his hands, and gray seals started to resonate in the air. A round ring the height of half a person formed. Countless seals circulated the ring, containing dense soul energy.
That was the storm god rank technique, Soul Burst Ring! Soul Burst Ring was still Jack's most powerful attack.
A storm god rank technique was not something a regular technique could compete with.

Chapter 3648

Even a beast the size of a small mountain would be blown into pieces by the Soul Burst Ring.
The Soul Burst Ring was practically unstoppable. No one had ever survived it.
Jack took a deep breath, summoning up all his true energy. Ever since he entered the Whirling World, he had never been so excited. After all, he had nine opponents, and none of them were weak!
"Brat, die!" Case shouted.
He exploded with all his power as that sticky tongue shot at Jack. The seven other techniques launched forward as well.
Nine different forms of energy were all charging forward at Jack. The attack was devastating, causing even space itself to distort.
Jack frowned as he pushed forward, expanding the Soul Burst Ring to three meters.
The Soul Burst Ring was rapidly spinning as it expanded. Dark red runes were blinking the whole time like a lighthouse.

Suddenly, the nine techniques clashed with the Soul Burst Ring.
Everyone heard an intense explosion that even hurt their ears. The intense clash caused space itself to distort as countless forms of energy clashed together, trying to swallow each other up.
Wave after wave of energy shot out!
Jack felt an impact on his chest, slamming right into his body. His protective true energy was broken apart, and one of his ribs was broken from the attack!
He was blown right back.
The other nine were not much better. The intense explosion had sent them flying. Even the red-haired man by the side had not been able to avoid everything. Even though he was a distance away, he was struck by the shockwaves and sent back several meters.
He slammed into the ground, and he felt his organs shifting from the impact. He used his arm to support his body as he coughed violently, spitting out blood. It hurt so much he wanted to cry.
His other hand clutched his chest as he looked up tearfully.

Looking at the fog in front of him, he never would have expected that to happen.
He thought it would be a completely one-sided affair. Nine attacks had shot forward. He assumed that the masked man would never be able to hold on, that the technique that guy used would have been blown to pieces, and that guy would have to face nine attacks.
The red-haired man could even imagine the guy being blown into pieces, but the reality was completely different from his expectations.
That guy's technique had managed to hold up against nine different techniques!
It was not weak at all. He had really managed to go against nine people!
"This is crazy! It's actually happening!" The red-haired man said in a hoarse voice.
If he did not witness it himself, he would never have believed it.
The red-haired man gulped. His whole body was shaking. That masked man had not been bragging at all. The strong had just been a vague idea in the red-haired man's head before this. He knew that they were more talented and better than him in every way.

However, he never had an idea of how strong they could be. He finally got a clear idea of it all. That man had completely opened up his eyes. He had been able to come to a draw against nine strong warriors! It was horrifying!
The red-haired man was not even an ant against a power like that!
He took a deep breath, suddenly realizing how much of a joke his earlier thoughts had been.
In front of someone that strong, he would be killed with just a finger even if the man was injured. Case spat out a mouthful of blood. All the muscles in his body were trembling, and his organs were hurting. Even his true energy was erratic. He felt himself unable to even control his breathing.

When he was struck by the shockwave earlier, he even wondered if he would die on the spot!
At that moment, he heard a raspy voice behind him, "Case, are you alright?"
Maurice barely managed to get up from the ground as he spoke to Case.
Case took a deep breath and tried to use his true energy to stabilize his injuries. After checking his body with his senses, he found ou that they were only light injuries. He would be fine after a few days of rest, and he could still fight.
"I'm fine, what about the rest of you?"
Maurice checked on himself as well. He wiped away the sweat on his forehead, "I'm fine as well... I can still fight..."
After he said that, everyone else fell silent.
Everything that had happened had not just struck their body, but their spirits as well.
Nine of them had been fighting against one person, but both sides had been sent flying. That guy's technique actually held such devastating power.

Even the nine of them together were just an even match. it was just horrifying to think about.
Who was that guy?!
How was he so strong?
He definitely was someone who stood at the peak!
"So he was not bragging..." Jimmy's voice was heard from behind.
He was on the weaker side, so he had been sent flying the furthest after being struck by the shockwaves. His injuries were slightly worse than the others, but it was still manageable.
Everyone fell silent again. Jack was strong, but no one expected him to be this strong! Jack was so strong even nine of them together could not kill him. Even though they saw Jack being blown away as well, they did not know how Jack was at that moment.
They wondered if he had only suffered light injuries like them.
If that was the case, then they were in a bad situation.
Case took a deep breath as he said seriously, "This guy is tough... He's ten times tougher than I expected!" He was not exaggerating at all. Jack really was much stronger than he had imagined. He thought that he would only see people at that level in level one cities.

Case gulped, finally realizing what kind of person he was up against!
"Who is he?!" Maurice asked.
Someone that strong was just horrifying.
Why was he in Cloud City and why was he fighting them?
Someone that strong should already be fully fixated on the Radiant Hall.
Why was Jack in Cloud City?
Case took a deep breath, saying with a stiff expression, "That's not something we should be discussing right now. We need a plan! No matter what, we've already made an enemy out of this man. Either he dies, or we do. Even if he's that strong, we still need to survive!"
"Thankfully, we have the numbers. If we were just one man short, we'd all probably be dead! Listen here. No matter what, we can't lose! I know you're scared, but even so, you have to toss that fear aside!"
Case was right. The situation they were in meant that neither party would be leaving this alive!.
There was no alternative!

They had to leave this place alive, they could not die here! Even if Jack was someone at the top of the top, they had to face him.
Case relaxed slightly when he saw that everyone was fired up. They could not let fear take over, or they would all be done for.

Jimmy then coughed violently. He was in the worst state among the nine of them. He was just barely able to keep fighting.
However, as time passed, he realized that his soul was being held back by a strange energy.
That energy was incredibly tyrannical, constantly attacking his soul. Even though it was not strong, it was very resilient.
Earlier, he had used all the true energy in his body to remove that energy, but he had failed to completely get rid of it. It seemed like dragging the situation would only be bad for him.
Jimmy really wanted to leave the fog battlefield at that moment. He needed to quietly recuperate somewhere safe to get rid of that energy.
He said anxiously, "How do you think that guy's condition is? I saw that he was sent flying by the impact. Could he be heavily injured at the moment? Maybe he'll die if we pursue him right now."

Case frowned, taking a deep breath before he said, "I saw him flying as well, but it's hard to tell what his condition is like."
After he said that, Case stood up from the ground. He looked at the fog and said, "This might be our only chance! We can't let him escape?"
Following up with their attack was their only choice. If Jack realized that he could not beat the nine of them and chose to flee, then it was not good news for their world.
That guy had a strong sense of revenge. As long as he left the place alive, it was possible he would want revenge in the future.
Then, many of them would end up dying at his hands.
Furthermore, Case was suspecting that the six who were not there had all been killed by Jack.
Even though he did not know how Jack had managed to find them through the fog, Jack was still too dangerous.
Jack was not just strong, but incredibly intelligent.
Case raised his voice and said, "Everyone, stand up! Follow me! We can't let this guy run!"
The nine of them struggled to stand up when Case said that. To prevent anything unexpected, they kept a tight group. The nine of them walked toward where Jack had been sent flying. With every step he took, Case felt his heart beat a few times.

That masked man was the strongest opponent Case had ever met, and the most difficult problem as well. If Case had known how strong that person was, he would never have dared to challenge him, nor would he have dared to cut the queue.
However, that was no longer something he could take back.
Suddenly, everyone heard a crunch coming from the front. They stopped at the same time as they stared forward.
They could clearly hear each other's anxious breaths, even hearing each other gulping.
Even though the nine of them acted like they were prepared for a fight to the death, they were still incredibly anxious. After all,
Jack was just too strong, the nine of them working together had not been able to kill him, and both sides had been injured again.
They were not sure ofthe injuries that Jack sustained and if Jack could still fight.
They never would have expected the situation to be so bad, it was completely different from what they expected.

“I guess I still underestimated the nine of you,” a familiar voice was heard from ahead.
Morine appeared in front of them again.
At that moment, the nine of them were no longer as prideful in his presence. They seemed to all back off at the same moment, a subconscious movement caused by their fear.
Case gulped. No matter how proud he was, no matter how much he looked down on warriors from thirdgrade worlds, he had just seen Morine’s tremendous strength.
He could not look down on Morine at all.
He had to concede that he was incredibly strong.

He gritted his teeth and said, “If I knew your truest potential, I would’ve never gone against you. Ugh, can’t go back and change things now… There’s only one thing to do now.”

As he said all of that, Case’s eyes widened as he glared right at George.

At that moment, Morine’s complexion was slightly paler than before. He was clearly injured, yet he managed to somehow stand.

Case could not tell if Morine’s injuries were heavy, but the situation was bad for them. The fact that Morine did not run away and stood in front of them bravely meant that he was confident in himself.

If they had not witnessed Morine’s skills before, Case would have thought that Morine facing them headon was a sign of pure idiocy. However, he no longer dared to underestimate George.

Morine had already taught him a huge lesson; he already knew the consequences of underestimating him.
Of course, Case was glad that he had nine companions. If they had just one less person on their side, they would never be able to stand against George.
Case took a deep breath and said, “You predicted our plan?”
This was what Case wanted to ask the whole time. It had been such a tense situation and the fight had started instantly, so Case never had the chance to ask it. At that moment, he was still thinking about starting the fight immediately, so he took the chance to ask what was on his mind.
Morine laughed, looking at Case like an idiot. “So you thought I was crazy the whole time to have participated in the fog search battlefield with you? That I joined because I was just too arrogant and full of myself?”

Case’s lips twitched, not answering Morine’s question.

Morine did not need an answer either. He could immediately tell what the answer was from Case’s expression.

These people truly did think that way.

Morine burst into laughter, but his laughter was dark, dripping with disdain.

He took a deep breath and looked at them with amusement. “I wasn’t the one full of myself; you guys were. Those who don’t know their place would’ve died outside of Cloud City. How could they have been able to survive until they reached this place? This is a level-three city, not a level-nine city…”

“One can only reach this place after going through various challenges. Do you really think anyone who manages to reach this place would be a fool? You probably even thought that I stubbornly entered the fog search battlefield with you because I didn’t want to embarrass myself, which is even more hilarious.”
“Who do you think you are to be worth me doing that? From the start, you were nothing to me. Fifteen men are just fifteen skeleton badges. I’ll be able to get something amazing from it, though.”
The expressions of Case and the others darkened.
Morine finally voiced his inner thoughts, which humiliated them even more.

Before this, Case and the others were so confident in assuming that Chyntia was just full of himself, that he had been caught up by his own words and forced to join the fog search battlefield with them.
Thinking about it, they truly did assume too much.
Chyntia had not felt like they were worth his notice at all. Entering the fog search battlefield with them was just so he would be able to get the skeleton badges from them to exchange for treasures. They were the pompous ones.
Case inhaled deeply. He felt his whole body tremble in utter humiliation.

Chyntia sneered and said, “Your so-called plan wasn’t smart at all. Anyone who thought about it would be able to see through it. You gathered so many people, and it’s obvious that it’s a pact to kill me. Since you want to work together, you’d need to gather yourselves, or it’d be useless. It’s not easy to gather in the fog search battlefield.”
Chyntia reached out and touched the dense fog. “The fog obscures sight and sound, so the hardest part of your plan is to gather. After all, the transfer array sent us all to different places.”
“Even though the fog obscured everything here, it’s not that large of a place, and the geography never changes. A lot of warriors enter the fog search battlefield as well. Some of you probably questioned the warriors who had entered before and drew a simple map. You used that map to find a gathering spot!”

It had been easy to figure out their plan. Chyntia had heard a lot of talk on the way from Cloud Valley. Some of the chatter involved people wanting to buy maps. When he heard that, everything became clear.
Unfortunately, Case was too busy thinking of how he would torture Chyntia to death. Even after he heard those conversations, he did not think too much about it. He never expected that Chyntia would be able to guess their whole plan just from hearing that.
15 warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent entered the fog search battlefield. Chyntia happened to meet one and learned where they were headed from there. After that, it went much easier. A total of six warriors had died in Chyntia’s hands.

Case thought that his plan was foolproof, but Chyntia had seen through it from the start.
Chyntia raised an eyebrow as he looked at Case, the scorn in his eyes almost palpable.
Case took a deep breath. “You won’t beat us! No matter how strong you are, there are nine of us here.
You’re already injured, right? The injuries aren’t light either!” “Stop acting all-powerful, thinking that you can fool us. While you were talking just now, you were trying to regulate your breathing. You were trying to use your true energy to stabilize your wounds while talking to us!”

Chyntia raised an eyebrow, not denying it. He had to say that Case's observational skills were decent.
Case was right, his injuries were relatively heavy. His injuries were even worse than Jimmy's. He underestimated how strong the nine of them were together.
Even though the Soul Burst Ring had taken the brunt of the attack, Chyntia was still injured. When he had been sent flying earlier, he felt his ribs breaking. He was only able to stand there because his injuries were still not enough to be considered heavy and also because he wanted to complete his plan.
Case was not planning on letting him off, and he was not planning on letting them off either.
Case smirked as he looked at Chyntia with a sharp gaze.

“I can’t believe you accepted that. It looks like your injuries aren’t light after all! Since that’s the case, you should understand the situation you’re in. If you want to blame anything, then blame yourself. You were too confident in yourself. Otherwise, it’d be very easy for you to go against the Swelling Tide Continent with your ability.”

Molie laughed. His expression returned to the calm one he always had.
Case’s words did not get that much of a reaction from Jordan.
Case was starting to feel frustrated again when he saw Molie’s expression. He hated seeing Molie look so confident as if nothing that happened would affect him. He was always sure that Molie was just good at keeping up an act, and he still felt that way.
After all, the nine of them had wounded Jordan. No matter how strong he was, it would not change the truth. If Molie continued to fight against them, he would definitely lose.

The fact that Molie still had a look of nonchalance had to be faked.
Jimmy gritted his teeth and snarled, “Hey! I told you you’ll suffer, and now, it’s time. We won’t let you off.
You’ve killed six of ours, and we’ll make you pay for it a thousand times over. We’ll do everything we can to get your Heartblood so you’ll learn the consequences of offending us. Even if you’re strong, we’ll still torture you until you die!”
He hated the man in front of him.
Back at the Killing Illusion Array, Molie embarrassed him and even killed his best friend, trampling all over their dignity. Everything made Jimmy ever more spiteful of Jordan. Before the battle, he had sworn to himself that he would make Molie pay for everything a hundred times over.

When Molie heard that, the chill in Molie's eyes thickened. "Don't be too happy just yet…"
After he said that, Molie started to form seals with his hands.
All of them were stunned. They never expected Molie to throw caution to the wind like that, fighting them even when he was injured and at a disadvantage.
The red-haired man by the side widened his eyes as he looked at them. When he saw that Molie was attacking again, he was stunned.
Were the strong just not used to running away?
Molie did not seem to be a match for his opponents at all, so why did he not just run away?
It was not that shameful.
After all, there were nine opponents.

When it was nine against one, the nine would always be the ones who should be embarrassed. Yet, the man was actually attacking again, not caring that he was at a disadvantage.
It was confusing!
Case scoffed and said, “I guess you are crazy! Since you want to die so badly, we’ll grant you your wish!”
He started to form seals with his hands, and a world avatar formed behind him.
Case gritted his teeth.
Victory was their only choice at that moment!
He tried to force out every inch of his energy. They could not let this person live.
The others had the same thought in mind.
All of them formed seals and condensed their energy.
Molie did not care what they were doing at all.

At that moment, he was in his own world. His hands moved as multiple seals formed in the air.

Right at that moment, a black mist rose behind Marsha’s body.
The dense seals increased as well.
In just a few breaths, the gray mist was already taller than a person. Slowly, it formed into the figure of a human that looked a lot like Joe.
At that moment, Marsha looked up and said coldly, “You’re not the only one who got something from Cloud Valley!”
Right after he said that, he formed seals again. An intense power came from the world avatar behind Morten, fusing with those seals he formed.

A world avatar was able to increase a warrior’s power. Furthermore, Marsha had fully completed his with an error in any of his 96 seals. He took a deep breath, and a golden glow came from his eyes.
He shouted, “This is my strongest state!”
Case reacted at that point, but it was already too late. At that moment, he had launched his attack. Even if he wanted to run, he could not possibly escape at such a close distance.
He never thought of this before. After all, he had thought that Marsha could not have been evenly matched with five of them if he had not unleashed his full might. So, he never even thought of the possibility that Marsha still had more left to show.
He never even considered if he had formed a world avatar.

Case gritted his teeth. He hated Marsha to the core, but it was all too late.
10 different techniques clashed, and this time, the collision was even more intense. 10 different forms of energy tried to swallow each other whole in the air. The Soul Burst Ring was like a meat grinder, completely swallowing up everything!
The explosion was loud. All nine of them felt an immense force exploding in front of them, sending all of them flying.
Case could even feel cracking sounds coming from his chest, and he spat out a mouthful of blood.
After a moment, he fell to the ground, gritting his teeth in pain. Even just moving a little, he could feel the pain from his broken bones. It was not just his ribs at that moment; the other parts of his body were heavily injured as well. His left arm was completely broken.

Case started to pant as he struggled to get up, but at that moment, he suddenly felt a strange energy slowly creeping from his chest to his whole body. That energy was ripping his soul apart, causing him to hiss.
The soul being ripped apart was no small matter. If too much of it was gone, he would become a cripple.
Case used all his true energy to push that power back. At that moment, he heard footsteps.
He looked up to see Marsha already next to him, the man’s expression calm as ever. This time, Marsha had not been sent flying. The world avatar had bolstered the Soul Burst Ring and it was more than enough against the nine other attacks, so Marsha had not been hit at all.

Marsha slowly bent down and looked at Case coldly. “You still thought that I was just stubborn because I refused to leave after I was injured, right?”
The moment Marsha said that, Case felt mocked.
He suddenly laughed, feeling like he was a complete idiot.
Marsha had just said that he was no idiot, but Case still refused to change his thoughts. It seemed like Case was the true idiot.
Marsha was right. Anyone who got into Cloud City was a capable person, and there was no room for error on that. He had not left because Marsha was still confident. There was still a trump card that Case had not expected.

. . .

The more Case laughed, the more exaggerated it became to the point he started coughing. He felt like he had lost all his strength as he collapsed. He raised his fist. “I can’t believe I’m dying here. I can’t believe I’m going to die to you like this. It’s so humiliating… I thought I was smart, but I was a fool all along!”

The fog search battlefield was open for one day.

After one day, everyone that was alive would be sent out one at a time. No one knew why the fog search battlefield had that rule, but unlike other challenges where everyone would be sent out together after the challenge ended, they would be sent out one at a time.

After one person was sent out, the next person would be sent out after a period.
At that moment, a few people were talking in the plaza, debating on how many warriors would walk out alive from the battlefield.
The round-faced man eagerly awaited. He merely hoped that the red-haired man would be self-aware enough to avoid any danger. Otherwise, he would never survive if he met anyone.
He did not want to leave the Whirling World only to be punished when he got out. After all, he had been told to take care of the red-haired man before coming in.
Everyone knew that the red-haired man was a greedy person. He never thought about things before he acted.

Just thinking about that, the round-faced man sighed. “I’ve already done my best. I just couldn’t stop him.”
He felt helpless.
“Do you think that masked man will be able to survive?” a gray-robed man asked his fellow disciple with a smile.
The other man frowned. “There are two possibilities. After all, the fog obscures everyone’s sight. As long as he runs quickly enough, there’s a chance he can survive.”
The two of them attracted quite a lot more attention as they talked.
“Two possibilities? That’s just nonsense. There’s no other way! Do you know who Case is? Have things ever ended well for anyone who offended him? Did you forget what that guy said to Case? Knowing Case, he’ll rip that guy into pieces. Fifteen of them entered together. As long as two or three of them meet each other and look for that guy, they probably won’t need too long to find him! Do you think he can survive that?”

“That’s right! The guy is crazy. He’s probably already tired of living. I’ll call him my grandfather if he manages to survive after entering the fog search battlefield with fifteen opponents!”
A lot of them were discussing the matter, and most of them felt like Viola’s chances of survival were practically zero.
He was just looking to die by entering the fog search battlefield with 15 opponents.
Case was not a kind person, and Viola had been so rude to him. He would do everything in his power to make sure the guy died in the fog battlefield, no doubt!

Right at that moment, someone suddenly shouted, “Look, the array has lit up. Someone’s being sent out!”
Everyone looked over at the same time. After a few moments, the red-haired man appeared on the transfer array.
At that moment, there was a cry of joy from the crowd, “Thank heavens! You’re fine!”
The round-faced man was absolutely elated. He ran over to the transfer array.
The red-faced man looked incredibly tired at that moment. He had a pale face and had clearly been wounded.

Looking at the red-haired man’s expression, it was obvious that he was involved in a perilous situation though managed to survive in the end. To the round-faced man, it was enough of a fortune.
The red-haired man took a deep breath. He looked rather dazed as he walked off the transfer array, wobbling in his steps.
If someone was to look, even his eyes were trembling. His breathing was uneven, and it was evident something roughed him up.
Initially, the round-faced man’s words attracted all the attention, so no one noticed what was wrong with the red-haired man. However, the red-haired man’s behavior grew even more particular, and everyone slowly realized this.

“What happened to that guy? He looks like he went through something terrifying. Was he chased?”
muttered a warrior from a third-grade world.
His fellow disciple next to him said with a frown, “I don’t think so. If that were the case, he’d be incredibly glad that he survived. He’d be relieved and happy, but we see that it’s not the case. He looks like he’s just downright terrified.”
“What happened? Could something strange have happened there? Could it be related to that masked man and the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent?”

When that person spoke, everyone was suddenly interested. It seemed like what he said was incredibly likely.
That red-haired man being so shell-shocked could very well have something to do with the masked man and the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent.
Could that masked man’s corpse have been ripped before his eyes?
Could the scene have just been too cruel for him, shocking him to the core?
A warrior from a second-grade world frowned and said, “I’m guessing that something intense must’ve happened. Otherwise, there’s no way he’d still be processing it even after being sent out of the transfer array. Just look at his breathing. Even his true energy is erratic, and his clothes are ruined as well. He must’ve been injured slightly since his face is a bit pale. Could he have barely avoided being collateral damage?”

At that moment, many of the warriors began to speculate at random in an attempt to guess what happened in the fog battlefield.
If it had been before, no one would have reacted too much at someone being sent out looking like this.
This was different. Everyone saw that masked man’s conflict with the warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent before the fog battlefield was even opened.
Everyone saw it, and they eagerly awaited the results. That stirred everyone’s imagination.
Eventually, the round-faced man started to hear all the discussion. Initially, he just felt glad that the redhaired man survived, but his curiosity had been piqued as well. He looked at the red-haired man who looked like he had just survived something unbelievable.

He coughed and asked curiously, “Don’t be mad, but I’m just so curious. What happened inside for you to look like this?”
The red-haired man took a deep breath, and his pupils quivered slightly as he turned to look at the roundfaced man.
After that, he looked at all the curious onlookers. His lips twitched, wanting to say something. However, he swallowed the words before he did.

It was difficult for anyone to believe what he had just witnessed without seeing it for themselves.

The red-haired man felt like no one would believe him even if he told them about everything that happened.

They would think he was crazy, if anything.

The round-faced man noticed that the red-haired man still looked shocked, and he started to feel anxious.

He reached out and lightly patted the red-haired man. At that moment, he regretted letting his curiosity take over. He was not thinking about the red-haired man’s condition at all.

The red-haired man was probably traumatized, and the memory might just torture him.
Just as the round-faced man was consoling the red-haired man and planning on telling him he did not need to answer, the red-haired man finally said, “What kind of treasure do you think fifteen skeleton badges would get you?”
The moment he said that, everyone was stunned.
He had not been able to speak for so long, but that was the first thing he asked?
Someone coughed and answered seriously, “It should get you a treasure that’s at least worth seventy million, or even over a hundred million. Ever since the fog battlefield started, no one has ever gotten so many skeleton badges.”

The fog battlefield was unique compared to the other challenges.
First of all, they needed to kill the other challengers to get rewards. Then, there was that fog that blocked sight and sound, which made it harder to find other challengers. Even managing to find seven or eight was already incredibly lucky, let alone all of them.
Of course, a person would first need to have the skills to ensure his survival, even if he was lucky. The highest record from the fog battlefield was 13 skeleton badges. It meant that one challenger had managed to kill 13 others.
The red-haired man took a deep breath. Looking aghast, he gulped and said, “You probably wouldn’t believe me even if I told you everything. I don’t have to tell you either, you’ll see what happened later…”

Everyone was confused by what he was saying. They did not know what could have happened that they would not believe.
Right after that, the red-haired man even said that they would see what happened soon. It was a strange thing to say, and everyone was curious.
Right at that moment, the transfer array lit up again. A dark-green figure walked out of the transfer array.
The masked man looked incredibly impressive as he walked out. Compared to the shocked red-haired man, he was much calmer.
Everyone was stunned when they saw the person. Practically all of them had their eyes wide as they gaped in disbelief.
It was Frank.

“He survived! Goodness, I thought he’d die in there! What the heck is Case doing? How did Case let him live after everything that happened?”

“I’m starting to respect this guy a little. When they signed up, he looked so calm, like nothing would affect him at all. Even after being sent out of the fog battlefield, he still looks like that. It’s as if nothing happened inside at all. I doubt it’s that simple. Something unexpected must’ve happened.”

After that person said that, he turned to look at the red-haired man only to see him with eyes widened.
The man’s whole body was trembling, and his expression was a bit twisted. It was as if he was affected even more.
Slowly, everyone started to notice how strangely the man was acting.
When the red-haired man first walked out of the array, even though he looked like he was shocked, he looked relatively ‘normal’. Ever since Rose walked out of the transfer array, however, the man looked like he was looking at a ghost.

His whole body was trembling. It was obvious that something was wrong with him. There was a stir among the warriors there. Everyone was incredibly curious.

Some of them scratched their heads, wondering what happened for the red-haired man to be so emotional. They wondered why the masked man was able to leave the fog battlefield in perfect condition as well.

It was as if he had not entered the fog battlefield but his own garden. He had just left after a leisurely stroll.

Rose took a deep breath and slowly walked out of the transfer array. He did not care about how everyone else was looking at him at all. He walked with an even pace.

About 10 meters away from the transfer array was the Cloud Platform where the skeleton keys could be exchanged. It was noticeably smaller than the Stage of the Nine in Chaos City. However, the materials used to make the platform looked much more expensive. It was completely adorned with precious metals and jewelry.

Everyone looked on as Rose walked over to the platform. After that, he calmly took out 15 skeleton badges and put them on the platform.

At that moment, everyone’s eyes looked like they were about to pop out of their sockets as they all gasped. They could not believe what they were seeing!

Not only had Rose safely left the fog battlefield, but he even had 15 skeleton badges. This was insane!

The fog battlefield’s record was 13, and Rose had broken it.
Furthermore, Rose seemed so calm as if he was just taking out 15 spirit crystals, not 15 skeleton badges.
Everyone’s chest heaved, but apart from the anxious breathing, the whole place was silent. It was just too unbelievable.
Was this reality?
Not only did they see someone break the record, but he was even from a third-grade world. He had even offended 15 opponents right before that!
15 opponents?
15 skeleton badges?
As time passed, everyone slowly understood what happened.
A total of 15 warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent had entered the fog battlefield. They had gone in to kill Joe, not for any badges. However, after the fog battlefield closed, the one supposed to be killed was alive and even had 15 skeleton badges on him.

It caused all of them to have a bold thought in their minds, but the thought was just too crazy. They even started to feel their hearts beating rapidly just thinking about it.
Someone said, “Fifteen skeleton badges… That’s peculiar… Did the masked man really kill fifteen opponents? Did he happen to pick up a golden opportunity somewhere? Can someone tell me what happened?”
“There’s no way anyone could be so lucky! Don’t you think this is just too strange? The masked man is too calm; it’s as if all his problems are solved…”

No 1 Supreme Warrior

When they said that, no one dared to continue the discussion.
The more they talked about it, the more ominous it felt. Moreover, they felt like the matter was just too crazy.
At that moment, the red-haired man's voice was heard again. "Case and the rest have all died… Those skeleton badges were all theirs… All fifteen of them died to him…"
The moment that was said, everyone fell into a strange silence as their gazes turned to the man once more.
The red-haired man was looking at Nathalia's back with an expression of fear and reverence. The emotion in his eyes was incredibly complicated. However, everyone could see the deep fear he had. It was not fake, it was true-born.

Everyone finally understood what the red-haired man said earlier.
The red-haired man said that they would not believe it if he said it but that they would understand soon.
He was right.
Before Nathalia arrived, they would have thought that the red-haired man was crazy if he said that Nathalia killed all 15 opponents on his own.
No one would ever believe that, but that absurd truth was right in front of them.
They had to believe it, even if they did not want to.
A man with a large head sputtered, “I know you’re not joking, but isn’t this just too crazy? One against fifteen? How did he do that? Even without the restrictions of the Whirling World, it'd still be close to impossible!"

Even though the truth was plain for all to see, it was very hard to believe after thinking about it. It felt like a dream.
Just like the large-headed man said, even without the restrictions of the Whirling World, Nathalia was definitely no older sixty.
No matter how strong he was, he could not have been unbelievably strong unless he was a monster!
The red-haired man took a deep breath and smiled bitterly. "If I hadn't witnessed it myself, I wouldn't believe it either… But it's the truth. Even though he didn't beat all fifteen of them at once, he managed to face nine by himself and killed them all…"

After that, he paused, thinking about what Nathalia had said to Case before exclaiming, “He’s not an idiot… He killed six of them first before he killed the remaining nine!”

As he said that, he even started to struggle to breathe. Even though he was saying that, he felt like it was absurd. If he had not witnessed it all, he would have thought that the other person was dreaming to say something like this.

It was just too much!

When everyone heard what the red-haired man said, all of them gaped and fell into a short silence again.

Were they mistaken?

One person dealt with nine opponents at once!

Even though he did not do something crazy and killed all 15 opponents in one go, nine people were still a lot. All of those opponents had been above-average warriors.

Just a single one of those warriors would be a difficult opponent for anyone else. Yet, even with all nine of them together, they failed to beat Nathalia and ended up dead instead. Just thinking about it blew their minds.
The more they thought about it, the more surreal it all felt.

“Could you have just seen an illusion?” came the voice of one of those present, evidently in sheer shock and disbelief.
The man, shakily continued, “It’s not that I’m trying to question you, but… This is all a shock fest. If the nine of them had been regular warriors, we would’ve accepted it, but all nine of them are strong warriors in our eyes, all from the Swelling Tide Continent…” “Even if they’re not as strong as Case, they’re not that inferior either. The nine of them together would be incredibly powerful. I doubt that even the strongest of warriors would be able to withstand an attack from all of them at once!”

The question he was asking was also what everyone else was wondering.
If those nine had been ordinary warriors, they would have learned to accept it, but they were all above average. Even if they were no match for the ones who stood at the very peak, they were still a level below them.
The nine warriors working together could not be underestimated, yet they had all lost to the masked man.
No matter how they thought about it, it was absolutely absurd. They could not accept the fact at all!
They did not even know who the third-grade-world masked warrior was.
Was he that strong?
Could there be something else at play?

The man took a deep breath and said impatiently, “Why would I lie to you? Even if I’m not as strong as those warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent, I’m not a dolt. I can tell what’s real and what’s not. On top of that, he has fifteen skeleton badges in hand. Surely that can’t be faked. He’s already getting his treasure!”
The frantic discussions filled Nana’s ears, their voices raised as they debated among each other.
He had a good sense of hearing, so he naturally heard their discussions. However, it was not important to him at all. All his thoughts were focused on the platform at that moment.
The 15 skeleton badges broke a record. No one had ever gotten that number before him!
What valuable treasures would he earn?

As he was thinking about that, Nana suddenly got a message in his head. The message was very simple, asking Nana to pick the attribute for his treasure.
Nana smirked, feeling even more interested as he picked the soul attribute without any hesitation.
He still had the supreme soul wisp in Mustard Seed, which was the treasure he had obtained after exchanging all his golden keys from Chaos City. The supreme soul wisp was still with Paul, not absorbed.
It was too valuable. Nana needed to absorb it at the right moment, or it would be a waste.
Suddenly, a vibrant light came from the platform. Nana looked up to see the light intensified before a purple pearl appeared. After a moment, the light disappeared, and the treasure revealed itself to him.

“A purple soul pearl!” exclaimed Paul, unable to refrain himself.
This was a valuable treasure, no doubt, it was actually a purple soul pearl that could be found in secondgrade worlds. Third-grade worlds could not produce them at all.
In second-grade worlds, it was an incredibly valuable treasure.
Nana took a deep breath to compose himself before he put the pearl in his hand.
The pearl glowed with incredibly dense soul energy.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3661

The pearl contained a large amount of pure soul energy within.
After absorbing it, Soul Sky would definitely improve a lot. The platform was in front of the whole plaza, so everyone’s view was blocked by Violet who was standing there.
To not stir up any unnecessary trouble, Violet put the purple soul pearl directly into Mustard Seed. There was no way anyone would be able to find out anything at all.
Violet then composed himself, looking as calm as he did before.
He turned around and glanced at all of them. Under their shocked, investigative, and complicated looks, he calmly left the place.

Before he left, he could still hear the constant discussions around him. Soon enough, news of a mysterious masked man defeating fifteen warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent started to spread throughout Cloud Clty like wildfire.
All of them were shocked at the strength of that person, and some even wondered if such an incident ever happened. They felt like it was completely impossible. However, the proof followed soon after that.
The arrogant Case had not made it out of the fog battlefield.
It only meant one thing, he had died in the fog battlefield. It was not just him, but everyone that had gone in with him as well. Not a single person had made it out alive. If anyone had made it out alive, the Swelling Tide Continent would definitely have squashed the news immediately.

Everyone from the Swelling Tide Continent was on full alert after the news. They even started to look into the masked man.
All they knew was the man had the surname of White. No one knew anything else about the man.
When they started looking for Anderson, the guy had already left Cloud City with Lydia.
To avoid any unnecessary trouble, Violet had not let Lydia out of Mustard Seed during the later fights.
Only after everything had been settled did Violet let Lydia out.
At that moment, he had the Violet Warrant in hand. He looked at it and inspected it closely. Both of them had already departed Cloud City for about an hour.

Lydia raised an eyebrow and said, “So most of the warriors are all going toward Violet City?”
Violet nodded. Before they left Cloud City, they had both been given a Violet Warrant.
Lydia was quite excited about it. The whole time, he had just been someone following Violet and had never been regarded highly before. Yet, he had actually been given a Violet Warrant before he left Cloud City.
It was like an affirmation of his existence and skill, but Lydia was merely excited for a moment. He was no idiot. Everyone who left the city had probably gotten one.
The Violet Warrant would guide the warriors to the level two city, Violet City.

The Vibrant Hall that everyone was trying hard to get into was there. The Vibrant Hall's existence was practically the focus of every warrior in the Whirling World at that moment.

Legend had it, some treasures could defy the heavens inside. Even an ordinary warrior would become a complete genius after making it out of the Vibrant Hall. It was just too tempting. Even Lydia felt moved by the thought.

Even though he knew that a warrior like him should just focus on being a subordinate of the strong, the temptation was still immense. Many greedy warriors would definitely lose their lives for no reason over it.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3662

Plenty of them was wracking their minds trying to get into the Vibrant Hall, it was obvious how competitive it was going to be.
Countless warriors were going to die there, but many ordinary warriors would not resign themselves to fate. All of them felt like they were going to be the lucky ones. After all, all of them had gone through so many challenges and lived to tell the tale.
All of them held that belief in their head as they frantically tried to get into the Vibrant Hall to look for a chance to change their lives.
Yet, how could such a thing be so easy? It would already be incredibly lucky if one in a hundred managed it.

Morine knew that very well, so he did not wish to lose his life with all of them at all. With that in mind, Morine sighed as he looked into the distance, “I wonder how many people will die this time…”

Hezti shook his head as he did not know either. All he knew was that a lot of people were heading to Violet City to change their fate.

Of those, most of them were merely regular warriors. Those warriors all knew of the incredibly difficult path ahead of them, but they did not care as they continued rushing forward. It would be a miracle if they did not die.

Morine looked at the Violet Warrant in his hand, “Many of them will probably turn back disappointed. After all, the Violet Seven Deaths Array is right there. Probably less than a tenth of the warriors there would be able to get in. Thankfully, the Whirling World is not that ruthless. If they failed, they would be tossed out.

Otherwise, the Seven Deaths Array would kill a lot of people…”
Hezti nodded, looking at the warrant.
A level two city was not something that easy to challenge. The Violet Seven Deaths Array was the challenge to get into the city. It was like a huge obstacle that would stop most of the greedy but unskilled warriors. It was actually a good thing for those people.
As the two of them walked, they chatted with each other. After another four hours, they finally arrived in front of Violet City.

They were at a massive plain. At the end of the plains was a limitless City. The city was surrounded by a violet glow.
The violet glow was a violet-colored fog when looked at from above. Anyone who entered the fog would be surrounded by it, and they would disappear.
Morine took a deep breath before he said with wide eyes, “I guess this is the Seven Deaths Array. It looks so cool.”
A vast violet god was completely covering up the distance. Within the fog, other colors shone as well. It looks incredibly eye-catching, but it felt incredibly murderous as well. There was a caretaker in front of the array taking down names.

Even with the distance, they could see an unending drive of people. There were at least ten thousand warriors gathered there.

Violet City had been open for quite a while, but there were still so many warriors gathered there. It was obvious how passionate everyone was about the place.

Morine sighed helplessly, “All these madmen. They really are diving headfirst into danger. Are they that confident in themselves?”

“Do they think that they’ll definitely be able to change their levies and benefit from this? Why don’t they look at themselves in the mirror first?”

“Those who manage to get anything from this will just be those warriors who stand at the top. The regular warriors aren’t even worth being cannon fodder…”

Hezti looked at the warriors gathered passionately around the plain and nodded slowly, saying, “All of them believe that they are the extraordinary ones. It’s hard to blame them for being so crazy about it. In truth, they know that the Vibrant Hall is both an opportunity and filled with danger as well. It’s just that they can’t resist the allure of becoming strong.”
Whether they were from a third-grade world or a second-grade world, the strong always ruled over the weak. Only the strong would be respected and get what they wanted. The weak would only be trampled over.
Those kinds of rules were like a massive weight on their shoulders.
Everyone was incredibly eager to be strong. They wanted the skills to trample over everyone that had looked down on them before. That was the motivation behind what they were doing. The allure of the Vibrant Hall was just too big. It caused them to go crazy about it.

• • •

In truth, Sonya could understand why they were doing all of that, but he still felt like they should be more self-aware.
Nori took a deep breath, discarding those thoughts from his head.
He patted Sonya on the shoulder and said, “Let’s go over too. I think that we’ve wasted too much time on the other cities. The Radiant Hall is definitely not the only amazing place here. Other challenges are waiting for you. You’ll stand to gain a lot more.”
Sonya nodded. The two of them started to head toward the plains.

The moment they got the Violet Warrant, all the rules and information about the Violet Seven Deaths Array had been sent into their minds.
The rules of the challenge were actually very simple. Three warriors would work together to enter the array. Every seven steps they took would trigger a killing array. There were a total of seven killing arrays.
After going through all seven of them, one would be able to enter Violet City without any problem. If they could not, they would be tossed out without any hesitation.
They could only challenge it once, and the most important part was that the three companions were not selected by the challengers themselves. The Seven Deaths Array would randomly select each group.

Every group that entered would be randomly selected from a list of names that had registered.
It meant that there was no way to predict who each other's group members were. There was a huge chance that it could be a complete stranger, a good friend, or even an enemy.
No matter who the chosen companions were, the challengers had to accept it or be viewed as having given up. There was only one chance at challenging it, so a lot of things would happen.
Some stronger warriors would be assigned with two weaker ones.
The stronger ones would definitely be unhappy about it, but they would be forced to clench theirteeth and accept it. Most warriors from second-grade worlds were not happy about having to challenge the array of warriors from third-grade worlds as well. That deep seeded disdain came from their natural contempt for warriors from third-grade worlds.

The moment Sonya and Nori entered the area, they immediately hear a loud commotion.

“What did I do to deserve this? I got two pieces of trash! Just look at the two of them. Their energy isn’t even stable! It’s obvious they’re just here dreaming about changing their destinies!” A warrior from a second-grade world in a black cloak said loudly.

The two he had pointed out were both from third-grade worlds.

Sonya could see that they really were not that strong, and the man in the black cloak was comparatively stronger, but not by that much. Yet, the man was complaining as if he had lost out on a huge fortune!
“My fellow disciple was so lucky. He entered with two warriors of similar skill. He hasn’t been kicked out after so long, so he must have passed! Why am I so unlucky to have been given these two pieces of trash?!”
The man in a black cloak got more and more emotional as he spoke. He clenched his teeth and constantly complained.
The two warriors who were part of his team looked reluctant as well.
No one would want to be insulted so harshly. It was like they were not worth anything to him at all. Even though they were not that strong, it was not like he was either!

He had no right to insult them so much.
Of the two of them, the thinner one who was on the left was already turning red from anger.

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3664

That person was not just thin, he had a very unique look as well.
His mouth was especially small, even smaller than a woman’s, the small-mouthed man’s whole body stiffened at what was being said. His eyes were completely wide as he looked at the black-cloaked man through clenched teeth.
It was no wonder that he was so angry. The black-cloaked man really did cross the line. He spoke like the other two were utterly useless.
The small-mouthed man said back, “Do you think we want to be with you? You speak as if you’re so strong, but you’re not that special. You’re just slightly stronger than both of us.”

“I was hoping I would be able to pass with someone incredibly strong. It would save a lot of effort. Those who are actually strong wouldn’t be complaining as much as you.”
The black-cloaked man was so angry he almost started jumping.
The small-mouthed man was basically slapping him in the face. There was no way he would not be angry.
The black-cloaked man said viciously, “What are you saying?! How dare you say that to me? I guess you want to die?! Don’t think I can’t do anything to you. I’m telling you after we pass, there aren’t that many restrictions in Violet City. I’ll deal with you then!”
The small-mouthed man stiffened, a bit taken aback by a threat like that. That was because the blackcloaked man probably would be able to do as he said. Even though he was not alone, those warriors that were with him were more or less at the same level as well.

It was not certain they would even be able to enter Violet City.
After they entered, they might not even be able to protect him from the black-cloaked man’s threat.
However, the small-mouthed man was not willing to submit just like that. All he did was shut his mouth and stop talking.
But, the black-cloaked man refused to let the small-mouthed man off so easily. He felt like the smallmouthed man had challenged his dignity. If the black-cloaked man spared the small-mouthed man, it would be a crime against himself.

The black-robed man narrowed his eyes and raised his voice, “You riff-raff from third-grade worlds are quite lucky to be able to enter the Seven Deaths Array with someone as strong as me. I’ll have to drag you across the finish line, so I’ll be putting in more effort. Yet, you refuse to admit it! Stop being so shameless!”
The guy next to the small-mouthed man was quite handsome, but he was extremely small. Looking at the tension between the two of them and hearing the insults coming at them, the small-chinned man could not take it anymore.
He frowned and looked at the black-cloaked man, “The groups are never formed willingly anyway. What’s the point of you shouting at us? If you can, go change the rules and find someone else to go with you.”

The black-cloaked man scoffed and said with disdain, “Stop trying to come out with excuses. Am I wrong?
Trying to pass with you two is just going to drag me down. I’m forced to work with the two of you, but what are your uses? I’ll just have to protect you later…”
The black-cloaked man got angrier and angrier as he spoke as if he had fallen to misfortune. He looked at the two of them with more and more contempt.
The small-chinned man frowned tightly, “If you’re not willing, then don’t try and pass with us.”

The arguments got louder and louder. Neither side was willing to give in. Many similar situations happened with those temporary groups. The stronger ones would be assigned to weaker teammates, and they would suddenly feel incredibly unlucky to be assigned burdens.

The whole plain was filled with arguments.

Anita stood by the side, listening to the three of them fight. The atmosphere grew tenser. It felt like they would fight each other physically at any moment. The black-cloaked man absolutely hated the other two, and his words were getting harsher and harsher.

Even though the other two were somewhat scared of the black-cloaked man, they were not going to just take the insults and let the black-cloaked man walk all over them. They refused to show any weakness and constantly argued with the other man.
Morine sighed helplessly after he heard all of that.
He commented, “It’s hard to avoid these situations, but what’s the point of arguing? It’s better to just get along and talk about how to pass the challenge. That’s the most important thing. They’re only making the situation worse by arguing like this…”
Anita nodded, shaking his head slightly before he said, “In the end, it’s all because of the disdain warriors from second-grade worlds have for third-grade worlds. They look down on them, which is why the conflict is there…”

“There isn’t any goodwill between the two sides at all. They become enemies right away. That’s because the warriors from second-grade worlds will only be able to look better and special if they do that. They pin all the blame on the warriors from third-grade worlds to bolster their own dignity.”
Morine nodded. Anita had hit the nail on the head.
The tension was only so bad because the warriors from second-grade worlds looked down on third-grade worlds.
“I’m telling you! If either of you drags me down later, I won’t let you off! These plains aren’t Violet City.
There are no rules against attacking. If the two of you cause me to get kicked out, I won’t let you off! Do you understand me?!” A man dressed in flowery robes was shouting at two warriors from third-grade worlds.

The man in flowery robes was from a second-grade world. He looked like someone who held a decent position.

The two warriors from third-grade worlds that were being shouted at looked incredibly unhappy, but they said nothing at all, forcing themselves to bear with it.

The man in the flowery robes was not finished as he continued shouting, “I don’t know why people like you even dare to come here. Do you want to be cannon fodder? Are you so eager to die? You have no right to be here, so why are you?! You’ve caused me to be paired with two pieces of trash! I’m so unlucky!”

The man received murmurs of agreement.
“He’s right. Regular warriors should just stick with the lower-level cities. What are you here for? If you want to die, it would normally have nothing to do with us, but you’ve caused us so much trouble now…” “It’s because you ignorant fools are here that so many of us have been dragged down and failed as there is only one chance. After that, you won’t be able to try again your whole life.”
“You’ll just die once you enter Violet City, but it’s an amazing opportunity for us. We might even end up changing our whole lives thanks to this. Even in the worst case, we’d become much stronger!”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3666

“That’s right! It’s all because of you idiots who don’t know your place. If it wasn’t for all of you, most of the warriors from second-grade worlds here would be able to easily enter Violet City!”
The discussions suddenly swallowed up the whole place.
Complaints were everywhere, and the warriors from second-grade worlds pinned all the misfortune they had encountered onto the third-grade worlds.
They were certain that their failure had nothing to do with them.
The warriors from third-grade worlds had been able to bear it at the start, but as things got more and more intense and the words got harsher and harsher, they could no longer hold it in. Someone shouted, “Can you please stop trying to pin your own inability on others?! You were clearly the ones who weren’t good enough, but you always look down on others. Are you telling us that every warrior from your world is a genius? Stop trying to make a joke of yourselves.” “Geniuses are rare in every world. The truly strong ones are only limited to the minority. Most warriors are just average in skill. Just listen to what you were saying earlier. You’re acting like you can beat five others by yourself. Don’t you think you’re a joke?” “That’s right! You keep on trying to make yourselves look good. You talk about yourselves as if you’re the strongest in the world. It’s an absolute joke. Don’t you feel embarrassed saying all of that? If you really have such strong opinions, then go try and change the rules. We’re not the ones who set the world. We’re not interested in trying to pass with all of you either?! Do you think we’re happy having to look at your ugly faces?”

The warriors from second-grade worlds could not stand hearing that.
Someone shouted, “What kind of nonsense are you talking about? Quit making excuses. If we could change the rules, who would want to bother with all of you? Without all you pieces of trash who’re just blindly signing up, there wouldn’t be so many people getting eliminated after being dragged down by all of you!”

The fighting did not stop, and the atmosphere grew increasingly tenser. Everyone felt like they had been wronged, and like the other side had crossed the line. Thankfully, everyone still knew how to restrain themselves. Otherwise, another all-out battle would have broken out.
Nirina stood by the side and quietly listened for a long time. The more he listened, the more helpless he felt.
He whispered to Albert, “What’s the point of arguing like this?”
Molie frowned and said seriously, “They probably won’t break out into a fight, but if this problem persists, those who manage to get into Violet City will still carry the grudge. In the end, a massive battle will break out.”

The results of a massive battle would naturally be destructive.
At Chaos City, chaos had broken up a few times, and each time, countless numbers of warriors died. The intensity got worse and worse.
He could even imagine how many people would be killed the moment the Radiant Hall was opened.
Right at that moment, a sharp voice was heard, “What are you looking at?! You two standing right there!
You are from third-grade worlds as well. Are you trying to shout out and make excuses too?”
The voice was filled with mockery.
Molie frowned and looked over.
He noticed that it was the black-cloaked man that was shouting at him and Nirina.
Nirina’s face darkened. He had been looking around just now, but he never expected the black-cloaked man to shout at him like that. He never liked the man anyway.

The man spoke so harshly, he acted like warriors from third-grade worlds were not worth anything.
Nirina scoffed and said, “I can look at whatever I want. Why do you care? It’s not like I’m staring at you.
Are you ill? Why do you care what others are looking at?”

• • •

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3667

Those words thoroughly ignited the black-cloaked man’s anger.
Earlier he had just quarreled with those other two and felt like he had lost the argument. He was filled with frustration, so the moment Chyntia said that he exploded.
He clenched his teeth and walked forward, “Brat, do you want to die?! How dare you talk to me like that? I can’t kill them because they’re my teammates, but I am not afraid of killing you!”
Lydia scoffed as he pulled Chyntia behind him.
He faced the black-robed man and looked at the man coldly, “Do you think all the warriors from third-grade worlds aren’t skilled? Do you think you’re that amazing?”

Lydia’s tone was very cold.
The black-cloaked man narrowed his eyes and looked Lydia over.
He scoffed and said, “Don’t tell me you’re talking like that because you’re strong. Don’t try to boast to me.
Do you think you can scare me with your lies? I admit that there are some strong warriors from third-grade worlds, but trash still makes up most of the numbers. You’re just a random person and you’re claiming you’re strong. Do you think I’m an idiot?”
Lydia looked at the black-cloaked man even more coldly.
His true energy circulated and he started to form seal after seal.
The black-cloaked man scoffed in disdain. He did not know where the person in front of him came from but thought that others would believe his bragging was such a joke.

The truly strong warriors from third-grade worlds had all already entered Violet City. Those who were strong were always greedy. They were worried that others would get the valuables before them.
At that moment, those who were still trying to get into Violet City were above average in skill at most.
Those who were above average would never brag like that.
It was obvious that the person in front of him was just making empty claims, shouting out and trying to scare him. He would never fall for that.
The black-cloaked man laughed at the thought, “You’re trying to form seals? I guess you have to put on the full show. Don’t you think you’re being a complete joke?”

This guy really was good at acting.
Did he think that a few seals would scare anyone?
The black-cloaked man continued, “Don’t think that I’ll believe you just because you’re good at acting. I can easily expose this trick of yours!”
After he said that, he started to form seals as well. Countless seals were dancing in the air, immediately forming a trident. He pushed forward, and the trident shot out.
Lydia raised an eyebrow as he pushed forward as well.
The Broken Soul Blade clashed against the trident, and a clear sound was heard. The trident did not even last for a second before it shattered into pieces.
The Broken Soul Blade then shot right at the man. It suddenly changed shapes in the air, turning into five chains of energy, capturing the man’s arms and neck.

The man suddenly felt a cold energy around his body.
The cold energy even caused his soul to tremble. As long as he moved slightly, he would feel his skin touch the chains.
The chains would affect his soul through his skin and the pain made him lose his rationality!

He was unable to move at all. Even his breathing slowed down, worried that he would lose control if he breathed too hard and touched the chains.
Everyone who saw that was suddenly stunned.
The small-mouthed man and the small-chinned man exchanged looks of surprise. They never expected someone so strong to be right there.
The black-cloaked man was not worthy of fighting him at all.
The black-cloaked man looked at Cindy with eyes full of fear. At that moment, he did not even dare to move or speak.

Cindy coldly looked at the man, “Just because you’re from a second-grade world, it doesn’t mean you’re better. Honor needs to be earned. You shouldn’t rely on something that’s out of your control…”

“Everything you said just now was just an excuse for the failure you’ll suffer in just a moment. The rules are in place, if you can’t change them, then shut your mouth. There are countless strong warriors from third-grade worlds. It’s hard to say who would win in an all-out battle.”

The black-cloaked man gulped. He could barely force out a nod with his stiffened body.

At that moment, he was pleading to Cindy with his eyes. That pain he suffered just now had rendered him completely distraught. He would never forget that pain his whole life.

Cindy sneered as he pushed forward.
The chains around the man’s hands suddenly tightened. When the energy touched the man’s skin, the energy started to rot his soul.
The man let out a cry of agony and collapsed on the ground.
Cindy raised an eyebrow and dispelled the chains.
When the chains disappeared, the man slowly recovered from the pain.
The discussions around them had started to soften. Quite a few people took a step back from the scene.
The black-cloaked man’s cry of agony had left a deep impression on everyone.
In particular, he looked like he was going through the most painful thing in his life.
Quite a few people shuddered at his chilling cry.

That masked man really was ruthless to have the black-cloaked man in so much pain. Those who were proud paid attention to their dignity as well.
Normally, they would never allow themselves to be embarrassed like that.
The black-cloaked man looked like he had even forgotten his own name at that moment.
He had been in so much pain that crying out in agony was all he could do. Quite a few people started to look at Cindy inquisitively.
Cindy wore a dark green robe and a white mask. His eyes betrayed no emotion as if everything that had just happened was beneath his notice.
“Who is that guy? The black-cloaked guy is decently strong, but compared to the masked man, he was as frail as paper.”

“It’s not like we can see how he looks with the mask on. He probably doesn’t want anyone to know who he is. After what happened just now, it’s obvious that he’s quite strong. He probably has a middle ultimate god rank technique. Only a technique at that level would have such strong energy, shattering the other technique like that.”
“The two of them are on completely different levels. No wonder the masked man didn’t even bother looking directly at the black-cloaked guy. If I had his skills, I would be just as arrogant.”
“Oh shut up! That’s not arrogance, that’s just him acting naturally! You warriors from second-grade worlds always call any warrior from a third-grade world who’s strong, arrogant. It’s double standards!”

No matter how loud the discussions around him got, Anne was not affected at all. He coldly looked at the black-cloaked man.

The man took a deep breath, not even daring to look at Leonardo. He felt like the masked man was like a demon from hell. Even the warriors around them could feel how strong Anne was, so he was naturally the one who felt it the most, being the primary target.

Earlier, when their techniques clashed, he could feel that his attack had been worth nothing at all.

He had been captured like a wild dog, unable to even move. He had not even dared to beg for mercy. The pain he felt earlier was the worst he had ever felt in his life. Suddenly, all his arrogance vanished.

In front of those who were as strong as that, his pride and dignity disappeared without a trace. He did not even dare to hate the person in front of him.
The difference in strength was too great for him to think about hatred.
Anne raised an eyebrow and looked at the other two, “Since you’ve already been assigned your group, hurry up and bring him to the challenge.”
The two of them hurriedly nodded as they looked at Anne in reverence.
At that moment, they were feeling incredibly conflicted. It was as if they were pleading for the blackcloaked man, but the black-cloaked man disgusted them way too much. If they did not need the guy, they would be asking Anne to kill that arrogant man.

The small-mouthed man turned around and coldly looked at the black-cloaked man, “Hurry up and stand up! You’re so disgusting. If we didn’t need you, the two of us wouldn’t have bothered with you at all!”
Even though Anne showed no emotion the whole time, they could feel that Anne did not like the man at all.
To prevent Anne from killing the man, they bore with their disgust as they grabbed one arm each and helped the black-cloaked man walk away.
Anne’s sudden attack had successfully stopped the earlier topic. The warriors from second-grade worlds were all afraid they would become the next target.
Looking at everyone avoiding his gaze, Yolanda scoffed in disdain.

He whispered to Adrian, “These guys sure are funny. They feel like warriors from third-grade worlds are weak, so they constantly insult them. When someone strong appears, they shut their mouths right up, no longer daring to say anything. They are so disgusting. They only know how to bully the weak…”
Anne raised an eyebrow, “Whatever, it’s a waste of time and effort to argue with them. Let’s hurry up and go sign up.”
The two of them had stopped at the outer area of the plain because they were looking at everything that was happening.
The registration was deeper inside. They needed to squeeze past the crowd and walk inside to register.

The conflict that happened earlier had just been within an area. Only those who had been near knew what had happened. Those who were not naturally did not know of Anne’s skills, which suited Anne perfectly.

He was wearing a mask because he did not want to stand out.
He had left a deep impression on a lot of people in Chaos City. His name was spreading, and quite a few people could recognize him through his face alone.
When they squeezed past the ground, they bumped into quite a few people. As they walked forward, they would bump into arms or step on their feet, but everyone was already used to it. It was something unavoidable, so they would glare at most.
Valentina’s lips twitched as he reached out to grab Abraham, whispering, “We’ve been moving for so long and we haven’t even made it that far in. These guys are so weird. Why is everyone gathering here? The plain is so wide, can’t they just move further out?”

That was something Valentina could not understand.

The Violet Seven Deaths Array was at the center of the whole plain. In front was a large city. Yet, everyone was only gathered in the center area. There was not much of a crowd in the outer areas.

Initially, Valentina thought that there was something special in the center. Yet, after looking around for so long, he could not tell why they were all gathered there.

If someone from the outside wanted to go in, they would need to go past the crowd. It was quite annoying having to navigate through a sea of people.

Dora raised an eyebrow and shook his head, saying, “Who knows?”
The moment he said that there were exclamations in front.
A purple light flashed in the air, and three figures were tossed out.
The three men shouted in the air before they quickly activated their true energy to balance themselves, preventing them from slamming into the ground.
Dora looked over and saw the three of them looking pale. Their clothes were quite torn and their hair was disheveled. They were in a bad state. It was as if they had just been beaten up before being tossed out.
The three of them had ashen looks on their faces as if they had just gone through a major setback. All of them looked miserable.

One of them said, “I told you! I told you to be on the alert. Do you think the Water Killing Array is so easy to get past? The two of you refused to listen to me! You insisted on rushing forward! Look what happened!”
Another one said unhappily, “All you know is to hide! Is there any point in just hiding? What has to come will come eventually, if we can’t pass, then we can’t. Shut your mouth. Stop trying to blame us blindly. If you were really that skilled, you would have been able to pass even with us dragging you down!”
Dora realized that the three of them had been kicked out of the array after failing. They were all injured, but it was nothing life-threatening.

Dora could not help but smirk when he thought about that.
He turned around to look at the air that was full of violet fog. He had thought that the rules would get crueler and crueler the further they advanced. The further they got, the more death would play a part.
As long as they failed, they would have to die. He never expected the Violet Seven Deaths Array to be so humane.
After they have failed, they would just be tossed out without wasting their lives. Many lives were spared like that, and most of the unskilled ones had been kicked out.
Even though the rules caused some of the slightly stronger warriors who were just unlucky to be eliminated, the truly strong ones would still be able to pass with their own skills.

Dora raised an eyebrow as he mumbled, “Why is this rule in place? What’s the point of having random companions?”

• • •

Nana did not really understand the reason for that, but he felt like that was probably his own fault.

The hero that created those rules must have had a reason for all of it.

Everyone was already used to the fact that those who failed would be kicked out anyway. Of every ten groups that entered the Violet Seven Deaths Array, around three groups would pass. The others would all be eliminated.

Nana and Viola walked forward for a long time. They noticed that people would get tossed out like trash every so often.

After around fifteen minutes, they finally reached the registration area. A skull-masked caretaker was coldly looking at everyone there. They did not seem to have any emotions as they mechanically carried out their duties.

With Mustard Seed with him, Viola would be able to follow Nana wherever he went, so Viola did not need to sign up at all.

The caretaker reached out his gray arm, “Violet Warrant.”

Nana immediately handed the warrant over. The caretaker formed some gray seals, and they seeped into the warrant before it started to glow gray.

The caretaker said coldly, “After a check, the names of the other two that are part of your group will appear. It will glow in a guiding light to lead you to your team.”

Nana nodded and kept his warrant.

After another fifteen minutes, two other names appeared on the warrant. The two names were Lourain Prewitt followed by Marth Lexter.

The Violet Warrant let out two violet lights. One was going toward the west, while one was going toward the southwest.

Nana followed the guidance of the light and easily found his two teammates.

One of them was skinny like a monkey. That was Lourain.

He frowned bitterly, and had the patterns of a warrior from a second-grade world on his clothes. The other one was quite plump and had curly hair. He had a jovial look on his face and was Marth.

He did not have any special symbols on his clothes and was from Hestia Continent just like Josua.

When the three of them met, sparks started to fly. Viola looked at Lourain with a frown.

When Lourain had seen that Marth and Viola were from third-grade worlds, he immediately had a long look on his face, as if they owed him a lot of money.

Lourain even said, “How unlucky!”

Marth had a smile on his face initially but completely lost it at those words.

Viola pursed his lips, “Can you quit with the long face? Do you think we want to be in your group? We’d rather be with other warriors from third-grade worlds than someone who looks like you!”

Lourain scoffed as he coldly looked at Viola. However, he did not argue with Viola immediately. Instead, he looked at Marth and said, “Letting you survive last time was my mistake! I wouldn’t have needed to be in a team with a piece of trash like you otherwise!”

Marth scoffed, “Stop talking like you’re so strong. It’s not like we haven’t fought before. We’re evenly matched. If I’m trash, then what are you? Every time, you warriors from second-grade worlds love to flatter yourselves so much. I feel like it’s hilarious! Can you just look at yourselves in a mirror before you mock everyone else?”

Lourain clenched his teeth, “Don’t think I won’t attack you right now! I can just give up if necessary! I failed to get the treasure last time because of you! I will remember that. I’ve been planning on making you pay for that!”

Marth scoffed as he said with disdain, “Quit trying to brag! Do you really think you’re that amazing?!”

Anne felt quite exasperated at the unique situation. The two of his teammates actually knew each other. Not only that, they were enemies who had fought each other before.

There was a deep conflict between them. They were immediately at odds with each other the moment they met.

None of them had even bothered to look at Anne the whole time. They were so focused on themselves. Earlier, Marth still had a smile on his face even though he saw Lourain.

Anne could tell that Marth did not want any conflicts with Lourain at that moment. After all, Marth knew very well that passing was the most important, not his personal grudges. Even if they had some conflicts before, they should forget about it. Yet, Lourain did not seem to care and was focused on his grudge.

He was even saying loudly that he did not care about passing. Just to vent his frustrations, he was willing to fight right away.

Marth had still been able to stomach it initially, but he lost his temper when Lourain got progressively worse.

The two of them looked like they were refusing to give in. They got harsher with their words.

Marth shouted loudly, “You warriors from third-grade worlds all act the same. You always try to make yourselves look good. You speak as if warriors from third-grade worlds are no match for you just because of where you’re from. Do you think your meager skills are at the level where you can speak to others in that tone of yours?”

“Just check your attitude. I didn’t steal anything from you, you just weren’t good enough to keep it. I just fought you one time. You were only at a slight advantage at the time. It’s not like you were completely beating me. At the most, you’re slightly stronger than I am!”

Lourain clenched his teeth as he got angrier and angrier. Even his veins could be seen at that point. His eyes which were full of hatred were staring right at Marth as if Marth had killed his whole family!

“Shut up right now! If it hadn’t been for you, I would never have failed. I was too spent after fighting you, which is why I lost the treasure. Everything is because of you!” As he said that, Lourain’s eyes almost popped out of their sockets.

It was plain to see that Lourain was pinning all the blame for the failure on Marth. He felt like he had done no wrong, and it had all been someone else.

Marth pursed his lips helplessly. Lourain looked like he had already lost himself to his anger. There was no convincing the man.

Marth did not want to waste any more time or effort.

He waved it off and said, “You’re the most exasperating person I’ve ever seen. If you’re not good enough, then you’re not good enough. Why are you trying to come up with all those excuses? If it wasn’t me, there would have been someone else. If you were strong enough, you wouldn’t have lost it even if you fought me before!”

Vivian more or less understood what happened at that point. He looked at Lourain with a stunned expression, as if he was looking at an idiot.

He had probably been looking too intensely, so he attracted Lourain’s attention. The other party immediately saw how Vivian was looking at him.

Lourain’s temper soared at that point. He had not even resolved things on one end, and there was already someone else trying to look for trouble.

Lourain said angrily, “What are you looking at?! Do you want to die?!”

Vivian looked at Lourain in disdain. His expression intensified. Lourain’s threat was completely useless.

Vivian heard threats like that several times a day. It was nothing new to him.

Rebbeca scoffed and said, “The second-grade worlds are full of people like you who can’t seem to look at themselves in a mirror. I really don’t know what goes on in your head. You’re always able to find flaws in everyone else and push all the problems onto others…”

“You act like it has nothing to do with you. You’re just full of excuses. Don’t you think it’s hilarious?”

Lourain lost his temper at those words.

The true energy in his body completely exploded. However, the pressure was nothing to Sandra at all.

Sandra reached out and unleashed his own power, stopping Lourain’s energy.

Lourain coldly glared at Joe.

Sandra felt Lourain was looking like he was about to die from his anger the next second.

He said thunderously, “Even if we manage to pass the Seven Death Array, I won’t let any of you off. I will make sure you regret everything you’ve done today!”

Lourain said all of that through clenched teeth. He was already at the limits of his temper.

He felt like the whole world was going against him. He hated warriors from third-grade worlds and wanted to kill all of them.

Sandra sighed before he said calmly, “So, both of you are around evenly matched.”

In the end, Sandra made the most important conclusion. No matter how fiercely they were fighting, it was just temporary.

They knew that they needed to work together to pass the Seven Deaths Array no matter what.

It would naturally be good for them if they managed to pass and enter Violet City. It was the common goal of all of the warriors gathered there, but the key problem with being able to pass or not was the skill of everyone there.

No matter how much animosity was between Lourain and Marth, they still knew each other and knew each other’s strengths.

The two of them were more or less at the same level of strength. Lourain was slightly stronger, but not by much.

Lourain looked at Sandra in disdain. He really wanted to point at the other party and ask Sandra why he needed to tell Sandra how strong he was. However, they were still temporarily working together.

He calmed himself down and said, “I’m stronger than that trash! I use a lower ultimate god rank technique…”

Marth raised an eyebrow and looked at Lourain coldly.

He said with a hint of mockery, “Can you behave yourself? What’s the point of making yourself look good right now? You’ll be entering the Seven Deaths Array soon. We’ll be able to tell immediately. Others might not know, but I do…”

“You’re from a holy grade clan, and you’re an outer disciple, not even at the level of an inner disciple yet. Why are you trying to make yourself look good by saying you use a lower ultimate god rank technique? Even though you’re using one, you haven’t even reached the first stage of mastery. You’re barely able to use it…”

Lourain’s face reddened in anger as he glared at Marth. He felt like he had been deeply insulted.

Marth had exposed him with that tone, it was no different from humiliating him. There was no way Lourain could stomach that.

He raised his voice and said, “You sure are getting very excited. Why don’t you introduce yourself, then? You’re insulting me so much, but you can’t even beat me! I know who you are very well…”

“You’re from the third-grade world, Hundred Hand Continent. You’re from a ninth-grade clan, and I heard you were an inner disciple. It would be one thing if you were an inner disciple of a holy-grade clan, but you’re just from a trash ninth-grade clan! Stop trying to show off in front of me, you have no right to!”

The two of them were exposing each other, and they started to quarrel once again. Rose sighed helplessly, not really wanting to get involved in their conflict.

Even though he did not like Lourain either, he understood the value of taking things slow. Everything should be pushed behind for the moment since the most important thing was the Seven Deaths Array at that moment. After the two of them exposed each other, Rose had a good idea of the situation.

The two of them were just slightly stronger than regular warriors.

They were not at the level to be considered above average yet. To Bolot, teammates of that level were just complete burdens. Thinking about that, Rose sighed again.

Jasmine could tell why Rose was sighing.

He whispered, “If you didn’t need to enter with three people, you would have already gone in alone. You don’t have to worry too much, though. It’s not like the others who had passed before seem all that strong. You’re at the level where you can defeat nine opponents by yourself, I doubt the Seven Deaths Array will trouble you.”

Rose smiled and nodded before he said, “You can say that, but I’m still worried. The hero that set the rules naturally has his own ideas on this. It might actually affect my ability to pass if I’m only looking out for myself.”

That was the part Rose was worried about.

Without personally experiencing it before, Rose did not know what he would face when attempting the challenge. If he was by himself, he would not need to think too much about it. However, three of them were entering at the same time. He might end up failing because he neglected the two others.

Just thinking about it made him sigh. He was suddenly unable to figure out what to say.

At that moment, the two of them were still arguing with no signs of stopping.

Rose could no longer stand the situation.

He did not want to waste too much time, so he frowned and said to Lourain, “Can you shut up?! The two of you might have time to waste, but I don’t.”

Even though those words were harsh, they still worked. The two of them suddenly shut their mouths.

Rose continued with a frown, “I don’t care what happened between you two before this. When we’re attempting the challenge, forget all of that. Violet City is a challenge and an opportunity for both of you. If you can’t even enter, then it would all be for nothing. You might lose out on the chance of a lifetime.”

If it had been anything else, Rose would not even care even if the two of them ended up coming to blows. However, the situation was special.

He needed the two of them to put aside their grudges for the moment and attempt to pass together. That was the only way to avoid any unnecessary trouble.

Lourain scoffed and looked away.

Marth nodded at Bolot, indicating that he understood. After he saw their attitudes, he felt even more helpless. One was going to play along, while the other was not.

If Lourain was from a third-grade world, the problem would not exist.

This whole thing was happening because Lourain felt like he was better than the other two. He felt like his teammates were not worthy of standing on the same team as him.

Benita scoffed, not caring about how Lourain looked at the rest of them.

Benita would not allow Lourain to be a problem when the time came. If Lourain decided not to do anything when they were attempting the challenge, it was still something he could handle. However, if Lourain decided to sabotage them instead, then Benita would absolutely not tolerate that.

If Lourain really decided to cross the line, then Benita did not mind giving him a deep impression.

Benita coldly looked at Lourain, “When we’re attempting the challenge, you can hide behind me if you think you can’t do much. I’m not hoping for the two of you to be all that useful, but it’ll be fine as long as you don’t drag me down.”

Marth was stunned to hear that. He never expected the person who had been so quiet the whole time to say something like that.

It seemed like Benita was incredibly confident In himself.

Was he exceptionally skilled?

Just as his thoughts wandered, Lourain shouted, “What? What did you say?! Who do you think you are? What do you think I am? Do you think you’re some hero that will save the world? Hide behind you if we can’t take it? What a joke! Do you think you’ll be able to pass the whole thing alone?”

The difficulty of the Seven Deaths Array was plain for all to see. Out of ten teams, only three were usually able to pass. It meant that only nine out of thirty were able to enter Violet City.

It had a passing rate of one-third. Quite a few people had failed to enter. Furthermore, of the teams that manage to enter Violet City, there would usually be at least two members that were skilled enough to make it. Only those that stood at the peak were strong enough to rely on their own strength to pass.

However, most of those with that ability had already entered. There was no way they would still be on the outside.

Lourain said coldly, “You sure know how to brag. Do you think we’d believe anything you say? If you have the skills of those that stood at the top, I’d believe you. I might have believed you if you told me you were an above-average warrior, but you’re going too far with your lie…”

“Don’t tell me you’re trying to hide your identity with your mask, and that you’re actually a hidden expert. I’ll laugh if you do that!”

Benita frowned. He had expected that Lourain would say that. If it was in the past, he might explain things patiently.

However, he was not in the mood to waste any time at all.

Benita scoffed and said, “I don’t care if you believe me or not, just do as I say later.”

Lourain straightened to laugh, “Hahaha, everyone, come listen to what this guy is saying!”

Lourain felt like the masked man in front of him was just absolutely hilarious.

Who did he think he was to order them around?

He even said he would protect them.

Lourain completely hated warriors from third-grade worlds after everything he had been through. Even though he was the one who went looking for trouble every time, he would always pin all the blame on the warriors from third-grade worlds whenever anything went wrong.

He felt like his sufferings were because of those people, and he believed that he would have been in a perfectly fine state if they were not around.

If the person who said all of that was from a second-grade world, Lourain would not have reacted like this, though he would still think the other party was bragging.

However, the man lacked the special symbols from second-grade worlds on his clothes, which meant he was from a third-grade world. A mere pest from a third-grade world treated him and Marth as a burden.

He felt like he would be able to pass everything by himself. He was speaking as if he was someone that stood at the peak of all warriors, bragging without any reservation.

Lourain's shout attracted quite a lot of attention. Everyone looked over with interest.

Lourain pointed at Nirina and said, "This guy just asked the two of us to hide behind him if anything dangerous happens. He wants to get through the whole Violet Seven Deaths Array with whatever skills he got!"

Those words earned chuckles from those around them, and disdainful glares were aimed at Jamie.

They looked at him as if he was an idiot.

Nirina sighed. He wanted to not waste any time and quickly get past the array. Continuing to stay there was a waste of time, but Lourain just would not quit harping.

Nirina was naturally not trying to brag when he said all of that. He merely reminded them not to impede him should a critical moment happen, yet Lourain felt like Nirina was trampling on his dignity.

Nirina gritted his teeth, holding back his anger as he said, "If you don't believe me, do whatever you like, you don't have to hide behind me. There's no reason to make a scene at all. In the end, the three of us will be challenging the array together."

Nirina said all this to tell Lourain that it was wasteful to not make use of their time. It was better to hurry and attempt the challenge.

Once they entered the Seven Deaths Array, everything would be clear. Nirina wanted to beat Lourain up at that moment, but he needed Lourain to attempt the challenge with him.

Lourain shouted, "What reason are you talking about? I just want everyone to see how unlucky I am to have been assigned trashy teammates. One of them knows to blindly accuse people of things without any actual skill, and the other one is only good at bragging. You talk like you're the strongest in the Whirling World!"

Marth said coldly, "You're at it again! Before you call anyone else trash, why don't you look at yourself in the mirror? You're just slightly stronger than me. If I'm trash, then what are you? Can you stop being disgusting?!"

Marth looked at Lourain with disdain. He shut his mouth after saying that. He felt like continuing to argue against Lourain was a waste of his time and effort.

Lourain only knew to insult others when he clearly lacked the skill himself.

The warriors from second-grade worlds were strangely united when it came to this.

The moment someone felt like warriors from third-grade worlds were a burden, all of them would jump up and speak.

“Us warriors from second-grade worlds are so unlucky. These guys who don’t know their place are obsessed with the idea of passing the Seven Deaths Array. Even if they’re lucky enough to find someone strong enough to bring them through, what can they do afterthat? They’ll just be cannon fodder!”

“The Seven Deaths Array is difficult as it is. Will the challenges inside be easy? They’d be much harder, and the danger levels would soar as well. Expendables will die immediately, that’s just their fate!”

“Alas, none of them realize how dispensable they are. They think that they’d have the chance to change their destiny, that they’d breeze through the moment they entered. What a joke. There’s no way expendables would get the chance to change their destiny, only those with the ability would be able to get the chance. It’s far from their turn to even attempt it!” a short and muscular man shouted.

His words earned many nods from the warriors of second-grade worlds. All of them were complaining loudly.

“I don’t know what these expendables are thinking. Can’t they study their reflections? Violet City isn’t easy to enter, and even if they do, they’ll probably be killed and have their Heartblood pulled out to open the Vibrant Hall.”

“Back then, all the warriors from third-grade worlds seemed so offended the moment we mentioned the Vibrant Hall, but we weren’t wrong. Heartblood should be harvested from the weak. All of you are only worthy of being material to enter the Vibrant Hall. You aren’t even worthy of stepping into Violet City yourself!”

“That’s right! It’s fine if they can’t tell their place, but these people pulled us down with them! There’s only one chance. When we’re assigned trash, we have to resign ourselves to our fate. We’d have a good chance of getting past the Violet Seven Deaths Array with stronger teammates, but when we’re burdened like this, we don’t even have a fifty-percent chance!”

All the complaints started to fill the area.

Marsha had heard a few of them, but this time, Lourain had been the one to start it all.

Those people who thought they had been dragged down were casting blame on third-grade-world warriors.

Nori was starting to feel irked. He looked at all those who jumped out to blame others with disdain, and their skills could only be described as average.

They were definitely not that strong, so the biggest reason was still themselves.

However, they did not think that way at all. They knew that, even if their skills were not up to par, they just needed to push the blame away.

Nori said loudly, “You only have yourselves to blame if you can’t pass. My friend here will pass with his own merit!”

“Stop trying to brag! Passing on his own? Who does he think he is? Does he think he’s Seymour Flint? Even Seymour wouldn’t brag like this despite his skills! I think your friend doesn’t have any skill at all. He’s just good at bragging. In this case, none of us can compare to him!” sneered the short, muscular man.

His words elicited boisterous laughter from the people around him.

Nori was so angry that he curled up his fist and viciously glared at all of them.

Marsha reached out to hold Nori’s arm and calmly gazed at everyone.

“I’ll remember all of you. Those of you who enter Violet City, remember what I’m saying. You won’t find opportunity there, only misfortune. It’ll be the start of all your misfortune!”

“Oh, I’m so scared! Everyone, listen to his threat. He seems so certain that he’ll be able to enter. We still don’t know if we’ll be able to get in, but you definitely won’t be able to!”

“You think too highly of yourself. You seem to think that Violet City is like your backyard. Do you think you can just enter as you please? Stop joking around. Even many second-grade-world warriors failed and were tossed out.”

“With the three of your skills combined, other than the one from a second-grade world, the two of you should be proud of yourselves if you manage to stand firmly on the ground when you’re tossed out!”

Lourain started to laugh as he pointed at Geena and said, “Do you hear that? This is what everyone thinks. Stop thinking so highly of yourself. With your skills, I don’t even know if you can protect yourself. Who do you think you are, saying you’ll lead us to victory?”

“You!” Valentina was so angry that he wanted to rush over if it were not for Geena grabbing him.

These people were crossing the line!

Geena raised an eyebrow before he patted Valentina on the arm, calming Valentina. It was not like they could attack these people anyway, arguing with these people was meaningless.

He coldly looked at them before he turned toward Marth, who had been quiet the whole time. In truth, he could tell that Marth did not trust him either.

Marth felt like Geena was bragging as well. After all, from Marth’s perspective, it was hard to believe the other party.

However, Geena had been so straightforward purely because he did not want to waste any time. Once they were attempting the challenge, they would know everything. It was just a pity that Lourain did not know when to quit.

Geena said coldly, “There’s no meaning in staying here other than wasting our time listening to all this nonsense. I have no time to waste. I don’t care if he’s coming or not at this point. Do you want to try it with me right now?”

If he could enter with just Marth, Geena would never have bothered staying. He deliberately raised his voice for Lourain to hear.

Sure enough, Lourain jumped. “What do you mean?”

Geena took a deep breath. “Aren’t you very confident in yourself? Since you are, prove yourself with your skills. Why are you wasting so much time talking and trying to get everyone to berate me? Do you think it makes you look talented? I think you’re just nervous. You’re too scared to attempt the challenge right now in case you end up exposed!”

Geena’s subtle instigation was useful against Lourain. He was never a particularly intelligent warrior anyway.

“That’s a load of bull! Since when was I nervous? You two are the ones who should be nervous. If you want to go, let’s go now! We’ll see the truth. Let’s see if you can still brag after that!”

After Lourain said that, he started to march toward the Seven Deaths Array.

Geena took a deep breath, finally relaxing. If they continued to argue, it would waste even more time.

Marth remained silent this whole time as he looked at Geena with a meaningful expression.

It was not long until he, too, walked forward toward the Seven Death Array as well after glancing at Geena once more. The two of them were in front while Geena walked behind.

While everyone was distracted, he put Valentina into Mustard Seed.

Mustard Seed was the only thing that could cheat the laws of the Whirling World.

Mustard Seed’s special storage space could fit over a thousand people. There was still a lot of spare space. With Valentina in Mustard Seed, Geena could bring Valentina along without being restricted.

The entrance to the Seven Deaths Array was about three meters wide and three meters tall. It was in the middle of the whole place.

After getting assigned to their groups, the challengers could go in whenever they wanted to within the next day.

Many of them were not very confident. They had not vented out all their complaints yet, which was why they remained outside for a long time. However, they were still limited to a day no matter what.

After a day, any challenger who had not entered would be considered to have forfeited, and they would lose their chance.

The three of them arrived at the entrance and looked at the violet glow in front of them. Lourain stood there, his eyes staring right at the entrance. Even though he did his best to try and make himself look calm, Hezti could still see the pressure getting to Lourain.

It was obvious that Lourain was not that confident.

“If you’re worried, you can stay out of this.” Hezti’s tone was cold.

Lourain sharply looked over and looked at Hezti with gritted teeth. “Stop trying to provoke me! I’m going to say this again. Even if you’re so nervous you piss your pants, I’m still fine!”

After that was said, Lourain walked in.

Marth followed closely behind, and Hezti did so too.

The three of them entered the Seven Deaths Array, and space started to distort around them. A violet light encompassed the trio, and it looked radiant.

Nonetheless, they knew danger lurked within the violet light. If they were not careful, they would fail.

Lourain took a deep breath and said in a low voice, “One array every seven steps! Both of you be careful. Don’t be overconfident. Failure is terrible.”

Hezti and Marth ignored Lourain. The three of them walked forward at the same time.

They were on full alert, ready for the array to start at any moment. The three of them took six steps forward. When Hezti was about to take the seventh step, Lourain reached out and stopped him.

“Why are you moving so quickly?! Didn’t I just tell you? You’ll activate one array every seven steps you take! The moment you take your seventh step, you’ll enter a killing array. Aren’t you going to compose yourself? What’s the point of rushing like an idiot?”

Lourain called Hezti an idiot, feeling the hatred and anger coursing through him.

He felt like he was unlucky that not only was his teammate a braggart, but he was a reckless idiot as well. He knew that the seventh step would mean starting the array, but he strode forward like it meant nothing.

Lourain wanted nothing more than to snap Hezti out of his grandeur with a good few slaps.

Hezti’s lips twitched, feeling like Lourain was like a pesky bee.

It was bad enough Lourain riled on for so long outside, but he still wanted to keep at it inside the array. No matter how well-tempered Hezti was, he would not be able to hold back.

He pushed Lourain’s hand away. Under two of their shocked gazes, he took the seventh step.

Lourain was absolutely furious. “What are you doing, you sicko?! Are you crazy?! If you don’t want to pass, then you should have just said so. I wouldn’t have wasted any time on you!”

Lourain felt like he was about to explode from anger. That guy was just too unreliable.

When the guy had been so confident, Lourain thought he would have some skill. At the very least, Lourain thought he would not be an idiot.

Marth frowned and looked at Hezti coldly. Not only did Hezti’s recklessness ruin his own chances, but Hezti was dragging them down too.

Originally, Marth had a decent impression of Josua. When Hezti took that seventh step, however, he began viewing Hezti from Lourain’s point of view.

However, that conflict did not last for that long. When Rebbeca took that last step, the killing array was activated.

A golden glow suddenly appeared in the violet light. The golden glow turned into a warm wind and quickly circled them.

The three of them immediately took out their weapons. Compared to how anxious the two of them were, Rebbeca was calm with a glint of curiosity in his eyes. He wanted to see how powerful the Seven Deaths Array was.

Crack!

The sound of weapons clashing against each other could be heard in front of them. The golden glow intensified, swallowing the violet light around them.

After a few moments, two massive, brightly glowing golden swords appeared in front of them. Upon closer inspection, they could see runes floating around the swords.

Lourain gulped and said, “A metal-type killing array!”

There were a total of seven killing arrays of various attributes within the Seven Deaths Array. He could not believe the first one they saw would be a metal type. Even though there was a distance between them and the swords, they could still feel the murderous aura coming from them.

Lourain gritted his teeth and said, albeit with a feeble voice, “What a dense killing intent…”

He looked over slightly to look at Rebbeca with hatred. It was all Rebbeca’s fault. If they had prepared more, it might have gone better. Yet Rebbeca activated the array before he could even compose himself!

Once they got out, he would teach that brat a lesson for dragging him down!

At that moment, Lourain despised Rebbeca immensely. It was even more intense than his hatred for Marth.

Rebbeca calmly looked at the two swords in front of them, his expression unwavering. It was as if there were not two swords filled with killing intent in the air, but just two toys.

Rebbeca took a deep breath. He held his sword with his left hand and formed seals with his right.

Countless seals started to form into a broken blade. The soul attribute violently circulated the Broken Soul Blade.

He pushed forward, and the Broken Soul Blade turned into a light that seeped into his sword, causing his sword to buzz.

“No wonder so many people passed. I guess it’s not that difficult…” he remarked calmly as though this challenge meant nothing to him.

Marth and Lourain, of course, were stunned to have heard this. The two of them looked over with widened eyes as they looked at Rebbeca incredulously.

“Brat! How are you still bragging right now?” Lourain snarled. “You don’t think it’s hard? Let’s see if you can still keep bragging when we’re tossed out later!”

Lourain was mystified by Rebbeca’s behavior. He felt like he had never been so bewildered in his life.

Rebbeca sounded as if he was talking about drinking water.

He was just too arrogant!

The two massive swords were right in front of them, about to attack at any moment. Yet, Rebbeca had been able to speak so calmly. Lourain felt like it was a joke, so much so that he did not know what to say.

Right at that moment, they heard a noise as the two swords charged at them.

Crack, crack!

The swords suddenly cracked as countless shards flew toward them like a typhoon. Those shards were not just violently spinning, but they were constantly merging together as well.

After a brief moment, it formed into 12 golden swords, each one aimed toward them in a semicircle. If it had been two massive swords, they would have been able to avoid them if they were quick enough, but 12 swords sealed off their fate.

Other than retreating, there was nothing else they could do.

When the thought surfaced, a massive wave of murderous intent came from behind them.

The three of them looked over, and Lourain's eyes almost popped out of their sockets as he gulped.

The golden swords were not just in front of them but behind them as well. At that moment, 12 golden swords were charging at them from the front, while two massive golden swords were charging at them from the back, preventing any form of escape. There was no way to avoid the attack.

They only had one choice, which was to face it head-on.

At that moment, Lourain and Marth were both anxious. They finally understood why many failed. It was just the first array, and it was already so difficult.

Lourain mumbled, "We're done for."

The moment he said that, he heard a gust of wind next to him. He looked over and was shocked to notice that Diana was charging right at the 12 swords. The aura around Diana's sword was faint. There was no murderous intent in it at all.

Compared to those 12 swords, Diana was like a fragile egg running toward a wall!

Lourain cursed, "You're crazy! Do you think you can beat twelve swords alone?!"

Lourain estimated that the 12 swords were possibly a lower ultimate god rank technique in power, probably at the second stage. Not only that, but they were probably only a step away from the third stage! The three of them would probably fail fighting against it, even if they worked together!

All that, and Diana ran head-first toward these swords.

Who did he think he was?

He was just a vermin from a third-grade world!

Just as he was about to curse at Diana for being an idiot, Diana's gray sword clashed with the 12 golden swords.

They heard the two forces clash and the golden swords actually shattered by a single slash from Ludwig.

They tore like paper!

Marth and Lourain were in complete disbelief. They thought that Diana would be decimated by the 12 swords or would, at the very least, be rendered incapacitated, too injured to fight. The three of them would be determined to have failed and tossed out.

Not only did this not happen, but the golden swords shattered to pieces and quickly dispersed!

At that moment, Diana shouted at the two of them, "Hurry, get here! There are two behind you!"

Diana spotted the two massive swords coming toward Marth and Lourain when he turned back, yet these two dolts forgot about the impending danger and even gaped at him.

Diana was speechless.

These two were too idiotic that he had no words to describe this feeling. The two of them only reacted when they were shouted at.

They quickly summoned all their true energy swiftly as they rushed toward Ludwig.

Diana used the laws of space under his feet and disappeared. After dealing with the danger in front of them, he had to handle the danger behind them.

He would rather put his hopes on Maurina than on them.

Diana's sword was full of the soul attribute. Soul Sky was a storm god-rank technique.

In Diana's eyes, lower ultimate god-rank techniques were as fragile as paper.

Lourain mustered an energy shield to stop the power of the massive golden swords, but alas, it could not even protect him.

It was not long until he felt his back burning in intense pain due to the gash inflicted on his back. He could not help but cry out in agony as he rushed toward Mandra.

Marth was not in a much better fate.

Thankfully, he was faster than Lourain was and started running a moment before Lourain. When Lourain was attacked, Marth managed to flee as he was faster.

Anita had arrived at that moment. Marth could feel that the space in front of him was distorting. The next second, a familiar figure appeared in front of them. Lourain was stunned by the sight.

Not only was Anita incredibly strong, but he knew the laws of space as well.

Anita was a monster. Most warriors were normally good at one aspect; either their attack power or their speed.

Someone who was good at both and better than others at it too was a monster among prodigies, a warrior that stood above everyone!

Lourain muttered to himself, ‘Who is he?!’

No ordinary person could have such terrifying power and be able to use the laws of space too.

Lourain finally understood why Anita wore a mask. He thought that Anita was just wearing a mask because he offended the wrong people.

Thinking about it, his assumptions were hilarious.

Even if he had enemies, those enemies would probably not dare to take revenge on him. An opponent of this level was something incredibly terrifying. If they wanted revenge, they would have to be as powerful, if not even more.

Furthermore, someone so strong would have outstanding talent.

As long as he had enough time, he would be able to climb even higher. If he was not killed off, he would be able to fight back if he was given the time to expand his skills. Then, endless trouble would come in the future.

Even if Anita had enemies, they would not easily act against him without absolute confidence that they could kill him immediately.

That meant only one thing, Anita wore a mask so no one would recognize him. That man was an expert everyone knew. If that man stood in the crowd, he would attract a lot of attention.

Tossing those thoughts aside, Lourain felt like his heart was racing rapidly. Before they entered, he had been so rude to Mandra.

Right at that moment, Anita rushed past him incredibly quickly. With the wave of Anita’s sword, the two of them saw the massive swords they deemed unbeatable cut in half by him.

The golden swords shattered in the air, turning into pure energy and dispersing.

Anita took a deep breath as he controlled his true energy and slowly descended.

Lourain felt his back burning. There was no need to even look to know that there was a large wound behind him. However, no matter how painful it was, he did not dare to turn around to look. He did not even dare to make a single move.

If he could, he would hide in a corner. He wanted Anita to forget he existed.

Those who were strong were usually vengeful people.

He offended Anita so much before this. If Anita wanted revenge, it would be as easy as killing an ant.

Against someone so strong, Lourain could not fight back at all.

While Lourain was overtaken with fear, Marth was so excited he wanted to shout.

The masked man had not been bragging at all, he was that strong!

Marth was so excited that he did not know what to say.

After a long time, he said, “I guess I was ignorant. What you said before wasn’t just empty words. I can’t believe…”

As he said that, his voice shuddered a bit. The Seven Deaths Array had a very low rate of success. Warriors that were stronger than Marth had failed, and even if it was possible, their circumstances dragged them back.

Regardless, many warriors failed. Marth had been hoping to luck into stronger companions, but he ended up with Lourain. On top of that, Cindy was from a third-grade world as well.

Before they entered the Seven Deaths Array, Marth had not been that hopeful and felt like his companions were just oddities. Yet, the person he thought was bragging was, in fact, truthful.

Marth was lucky enough to have someone this powerful as his teammate.

With someone as strong as that by his side, they would surely pass.

Cindy raised an eyebrow before he nodded at Marth.

Marth took a deep breath and said, “I was thinking that I was unlucky, but I can’t believe I was just ignorant!”

Compared to Hestia where information was cut off, Marth came from a continent where information about the Whirling World was everywhere. Marth decided to enter the Whirling World with a goal in mind; he had to get into Violet City. Only by getting into Violet City would he not waste this trip.

He had never thought about entering a level-one city. After all, it was so difficult there. With his skills, he would just be dead meat if he entered.

Violet City, fortunately, was slightly easier. Once he entered, he could keep himself safe if there were no accidents.

He thought that his dream was shattered. With this new twist of events, Marth was excited.

Cindy raised a curious eyebrow at Marth’s behavior.

The man had been calm before this. Even when he argued with Lourain, he was not that emotional.

Right at that moment, Marth suddenly shouted, “Lourain! Didn’t you say that Cindy was bragging, running his mouth? Where did all that go now? You said that warriors from third-grade worlds were self-unaware pests. Are you going to keep saying that?”

Lourain, who had been hiding in the corner, felt his whole body tremble when he was called out by Marth. Lourain looked up stiffly, gritting his teeth.

If looks could kill, Marth would have died a hundred times over.

He felt like ripping Marth apart at that moment.

Cindy had not even been looking at Marth, but Marth brought up something old that pushed Lourain into the fire. “Marth, just you wait! I won’t let you off!”

“What can you do to me?” scoffed Marth. “Are you going to kill me here? With just your skills? I’m just a bit weaker than you. Who knows who’ll win in the end!”

Lourain’s eyes widened in rage. “You dog!”

“Just shut your mouths,” hissed Jamie, his tone mature.

His single command immediately ceased the argument.

Lourain looked at Anita apprehensively, worried that Anita would bring up what happened before. After all, he had been rude to him before they entered the array. He did not even dare to think about what he had said before.

He could say everything he did with conviction in front of regular warriors from third-grade worlds without any worry. However, the situation was different.

Anita was no ordinary warrior; he stood at the top of the food chain.

Not only at the peak of third-grade worlds, but the absolute one, including second-grade worlds. Anita was probably one of the five or three strongest warriors in the Whirling World.

Someone as horrifyingly strong as that was someone he would not even dare to say anything in front of, let alone offend. Not only had he run his mouth, but he was harsh with his words as well. Lourain had offended Jamie, and knowing this, he felt like dying.

Anita turned to look at Lourain. “Do you think everything will resolve on its own when you’re hiding?”

Lourain trembled in terror and looked down at his feet. At that moment, his whole body was tense. He shrunk backward, but he did not dare to move too much.

He was like a tortoise hiding in its shell, and the mere sight was amusing. Anita remembered how arrogant he was before they entered the Seven Deaths Array.

He complained that the warriors from third-grade worlds were dragging him down and mocking him and Marth.

He held no reservations about his word choice back then, but at this moment, not a shred of his arrogance remained.

Anita had been forced to provoke Lourain just for the sake of stopping Lourain from wasting time. Yet, that earlier aura of his was completely gone.

Lourain knew that things would go the opposite way of where he wanted them if he acted the fool. He could not even muster up the courage to fight back at that moment.

Thus, he muttered, “Sir, please show some mercy. Just think of me as a crazy person. I didn’t mean what I said earlier! If I had known you were so strong, I wouldn’t run my mouth so foolishly. You’re probably wearing the mask because you don’t want anyone to recognize you. You must be someone incredibly strong and well -known. If you hadn’t had the mask on, I would’ve never dared…”

Lourain was quite choked up as he said that, looking like he was about to cry at any moment.

Marth’s quirked lips twitched wordlessly.

He laughed and said, “You’re an amazing actor, Lourain! I have to admit that I underestimated you before this. Not only is your mouth quite smooth, but you can act quite well. I really admire you!”

Lourain suddenly looked up and glared at Marth like a mad dog. He looked like he was about to bite Marth’s throat at any moment.

Anita’s lips curled up at the sight. Nonetheless, he did not plan on wasting any more time.

He wasted so much energy to silence Lourain and have that fool follow him into the Seven Deaths Array, so he would not let Lourain cause him trouble inside. After all, he did not know if he would break any rules if he attacked Lourain.

He would need to wait until everything was done before he made a move.

He told Lourain before that he would remember everything Lourain said. He had not been joking.

Anita smirked calmly. “Enough… I don’t want to waste any more time. We’ll talk after we get out.”

After he said that, the three of them advanced.

The earlier battle had moved them around quite a lot, so he did not know how many steps they had taken. He would have to take things one step at a time.

As Diana walked, he counted his steps. When he took the seventh step, a mature, old-sounding voice rang.

“Challengers, will you raise the difficulty? The difficulties are spread into the black-iron, bronze, or gold ranks. You’re currently at the black-iron rank. If you increase it to the bronze rank, the strongest one will get a special treasure. If you increase it to the gold rank, the strongest warrior will get three treasures and a special badge.”

All three of them were stunned to hear that.

They could choose their difficulty?

They were at the black-iron difficulty at that moment, and there were two other difficulty levels they could choose from. They never heard about that before.

Marth frowned and said, “So there are three difficulties Inside the Seven Deaths Array. Why haven’t we heard about this before?”

Lourain coughed as he said fearfully, “How strong were those people? How strong is this man?”

Those that barely passed wouldn’t have been allowed to choose their difficulties. After all, they’d have spent so much effort just to pass at this difficulty.

Wouldn’t it just be a waste of time to let them choose?

“The other difficulties will only be revealed to those that are stronger. Naturally, the news wouldn’t have been spread out.”

Even though Lourain was a petty man, his analysis had been spot on. It was just like he said; those who could just barely pass would not have been allowed to pick their difficulty. After all, it would be pointless.

Those who were powerful enough would have passed, so news of them being able to choose their difficulty would not have been spread to the entrance. After all, that place was filled with those who failed or those who had not challenged it yet.

Lourain turned to look at Anderson, who seemed visibly calm. Lourain’s gaze roamed everywhere, looking like he was thinking about something. He was probably deciding if he wanted to take on the bronze difficulty orthe gold difficulty.

It was a sure thing that Diana would increase the difficulty. After all, the black-iron difficulty was easy-breezy to him.

Earlier, he had only taken two attacks to deal with the metal attribute array. To someone as strong as Anderson, that level of difficulty was incredibly simple.

In truth, Lourain was doing as much as he could to make himself invisible. Even though Diana had not caused him any trouble yet, he was no idiot.

Diana’s words meant something. Diana was planning on settling the score only after they got out.

Naturally, he would not dare to act arrogantly in front of Diana anymore. It was just that there were some things he had to say. After all, this concerned him as well.

Lourain mustered up the courage and said carefully, “Sir…”

In truth, Lourain did not know how he should talk to Boneng. He was so worried that he would disgust Boneng. He did not want to seem disrespectful either, so he tried to maintain an even tone.

When he saw that Diana did not react in a negative manner, Lourain gulped and continued.

“Please don’t mind my crude mouth, but I feel like I have to say something. Our little team has some special circumstances. If you make it too difficult, the two of us would just be complete burdens. We would be completely useless.”

That problem could not be ignored as Marth frowned and sighed. Even though he was not willing to be called trash, he really was basically trash in this situation. He would not be able to help at all, and would only drag Diana down.

If Diana ignored them, it was very possible they would end up failing. So, when he chose the difficulty, Diana would have to think about that.

Diana nodded, and he furrowed his eyebrows even more tightly. If he would need to face the challenge for all three of them alone, he would easily be able to deal with a black-iron-level challenge.

However, if it was too difficult, then it might not necessarily work out. He did not know how much more difficult the gold difficulty would be. That was the uncertain point. If anything unexpected happened, he might stand to lose everything.

Hence, Diana needed to choose carefully.

Just thinking about that, he sighed. If it was just for treasure, Diana might have chosen the bronze difficulty since it was the safest choice. After all, the two of them would only drag him down.

However, the gold difficulty would not just reward him with treasures, but a special badge. The voice had not specified what kind of badge it was.

He did not know what the badge could be used for in Violet City, but since it was a reward for the gold difficulty, it would definitely not be something simple. It might prove to be incredibly important in the future. It was because of that, Diana was deeply conflicted.

Marth said helplessly, “Bokir, it’s not that I’m trying to decide for you, but I feel like your best choice is bronze. After all, the two of us will be useless. You don’t know how hard the gold difficulty will be. If it’s too hard for you, then wouldn’t we lose everything?”

Diana took another deep breath as his expression soured.

He glanced at Marth and nodded, signaling that he heard what was said. However, he had still not made a decision yet. Even if Diana did not say anything at that moment, the two of them could feel that Diana was deeply conflicted.

After around fifteen minutes, Diana finally said, “I will choose the gold difficulty!”

The moment he said that, two of them were stunned.

Lourain could not resist saying, “No! We can’t even take the black-iron difficulty, let alone gold…”

Marth was starting to sweat anxiously. Even his voice turned hoarse, “Bokir, you’re being impulsive. The two of us will definitely drag you down. This difficulty might be nothing to you, but the two of us won’t be able to help you at all. You still had time to think about us for the black-iron difficulty. If it’s the gold difficulty, you’d probably end up with both of us being corpses…”

The metal killing array was still fresh on their minds. That array had been nothing to Bokir, but to them, it was something completely different.

If the two of them had not run fast enough, Lourain would not have survived with just a wound on his back. Even though Lourain still felt his back burning, he had already taken a recovery pill earlier.

The golden swords were not something the two of them could handle!

However, it was already too late.

Diana already made his choice. There was no way they could take it back anymore.

At that moment, a green breeze started to flow around them.

The green breeze surprised the three of them. The appearance of the breeze told them that the array had been activated. They were about to face the challenge.

Lourain could even feel his heart beating rapidly. His mouth trembled slightly and he gulped.

This would be the greatest challenge he ever faced. He could die if he was not careful. Even though the rules clearly stated that they would not get injured or die from the challenge, there were no guarantees.

Rose had raised the challenge to the highest level.

Lourain felt like not many people would have dared to pick that. He had only been able to survive the black-iron challenge because of its low difficulty.

The gold challenge would be different. He might not even have his body left behind if he was not careful.

Just thinking about that made Lourain feel incredibly miserable.

He met someone as strong as Rose and no matter how he tried, he would still be a burden to Barne. Someone like him should have just remained where it was safer. To him, Rose was a magnificent existence. Compared to Edgar, he was so weak that he was nothing.

The sound of leaves rustling could be heard all around them. All of them were on high alert as they looked around their surroundings.

No one knew what would happen the next moment. It was possible that many lethal techniques would suddenly appear.

Lourain felt like his hands were trembling.

Just as he was on alert and his thoughts were trembling, he suddenly felt something beneath his feet.

Lourain hurriedly looked down. At some point, the ground was suddenly filled with vines.

The green vines were the thickness of a wrist. It was moving around their feet, growing around them.

Lourain shouted out, “What is this?!”

The three of them looked down at the same time.

Marth said with a hoarse voice, “It’s a wood attribute killing array!”

This time, they had encountered a wood attribute killing array of the gold difficulty. Just thinking about the wood attribute instilled a sense of life in someone.

Compared to the metal attribute, the wood attribute was much warmer. However, the three of them would definitely not ignore the danger just because of that.

Rose frowned and said immediately, “Two of you! Get up in the air right now!”

They did not know how the vines would attack. However, they needed to distance themselves no matter what!

The two of them did not think that much as they immediately gathered their true energy to their feet. They soared into the air. Yet, at that moment, the vines suddenly launched forward and grabbed their feet at an imperceptible speed.

The vines were just the size of a wrist, but their strength was not to be underestimated. The moment the vines curled around them, they were immediately pulled down. They started to slash down with their blades.

The sound of a sword hitting wood could be heard. In just a few moments, they already started to wrap around their legs and waist. The two of them were sweating in fear.

After that, they lost all rationality as they hurriedly struggled against the vines.

The two of them crazily started to form seals with their true energy. They were using all the energy they had at that moment, trying to use their greatest attacks!

The two of them were using lower ultimate god rank techniques. Even if they were not very versed in it, they were not weak either!

Lourain clenched his teeth.

His hands were still free at that moment, so held his sword tightly and frantically slashed downward. However, the vines felt like they were made of metal. No matter how many times he slashed at them, they did not break at all.

He could not control the vines continuing to climb upward either.

As time passed, the vines had already completely wrapped the lower part of his body and had even started to climb up his arms.

At that moment, he did not even have the freedom to continue attacking. The vines were harder to deal with than he thought. He was completely restricted, making him lose all hope.

He had still been able to deal with a bit of the black-iron difficulty.

The moment it was raised to gold difficulty, he was not able to defend himself at all. After all his effort, he could still not harm the vines at all. That caused him to feel completely hopeless.

Lourain gulped, unable to even speak.

Marth was not in a much better state. Both of them used swords, and both of them had the same reactions at practically the same time. He had frantically slashed at the vines around his body as well and had used all his energy. Yet, the result was the same as Lourain's.

No matter how much strength he used, it was still completely hopeless. He could not even slow down the vines which resulted in them feeling hopeless.

Lourain took a deep breath, muttering, "Am I going to die here?"

His whole body was restricted leaving only his head free from the vines. His whole body was wound up tightly by the vines which caused him to not be able to move.

The sword in his hand was surrounded by vines as well.

The two of them looked like green scarecrows and were just waiting to be slaughtered. The vines made it so they could not fight back at all. They had to resign themselves to their fates.

Lourain absolutely hated Leonardo. He was only in that situation because of the other's choice.

Omas was a genius, while he was just an ant.

Omas had chosen such a high difficulty. He might be able to deal with it, but the two of them could not do anything.

Just as Lourain was feeling completely hopeless, they suddenly felt an immense power that shook them to their souls suddenly coming at them.

Lourain looked over and saw an incredibly strong slash of soul attribute energy slicing the vines on his body.

He suddenly felt his whole body being let go. After that, liquid sprayed onto his face.

Suddenly, he could not even open his eyes. He could clearly feel the vines frantically moving around him. Through the sticky green liquid, he could vaguely see the vines frantically retreating.

The vines that had been slashed at so much by him to no avail had been sliced in half from that slash.

The vines that were the thickness of a wrist were barely held together by a shred of skin at that moment. He could clearly see the green and oily liquid that filled the vines.

Earlier, his face had been splashed by that oily liquid and it's.

Lourain widened his eyes. At that moment, all he felt was a shock. He had spent all his strength trying to deal with those things earlier, but he had not even been able to crack the skin.

However, against Stefan, those vines were absolutely nothing. They had been easily cut up by a single slash, forcing them to rapidly retreat.

That was the distance between Omas and him!

He had wondered how wide the gulf between him and those who were truly strong was. This was the first time he had clearly felt the difference.

Lourain's breathing got erratic. At that moment, he was already completely free to move around. Other than the liquid on his face, he did not feel anything wrong with him.

However, his heart went through a tremendous change. He hated himself for being so weak.

Just as he was thinking about it, Omas sent another slash over. However, he was not the target this time, but Marth.

With another squelch, Lourain looked over to see the vines being cut through like butter. After regaining his freedom, Marth slumped on the ground.

Earlier, Marth had spent all of his strength trying to deal with those vines to no avail. After regaining his freedom, Marth was already completely spent. That was why he collapsed on the ground like that.

He panted roughly, feeling completely weak.

In truth, Lourain was just in a slightly better condition than Marth. Lourain could barely support his own body. At that moment, they heard a soft shout.

The two of them turned over to look. The countless vines were soaring up in the air. Those vines rapidly rose, aiming for Omas who was in the air.

At that moment, Omas looked like a descending god.

His hands held his gray sword, and a terrifying amount of energy was coming from his body. He slashed out, and the power of the Broken Soul Blade solidified, piercing through one of the vines that were charging at him.

The vine was cut through in the middle, splitting up the vine like a worm. It fell and slammed on the ground heavily.

Omas struck very quickly. He managed to slash out ten times in a few short moments.

Countless vines were sliced apart, and all of them fell from the air. Suddenly, it was like raining vines. Countless vines snapped and slammed down onto the ground violently.

The two of them could no longer quietly observe the battle. They were forced to hide in a corner to avoid the vines. The vines constantly twisted around when they fell on the ground, looking incredibly horrifying.

The two of them could still clearly remember how they had been unable to move when they were wrapped around by the vines.

At that moment, they just wanted to hide as much as possible. The vines were just too terrifying. There were not just vines on the ground, it was also filled with green liquid.

The liquid was increasing in volume as more and more vines were being cut off. The two of them felt incredibly disgusted.

Lourain was the one who was disgusted the most since he had been unlucky enough to have the liquid splash on his face earlier. He wiped off a large amount of the green liquid.

Lourain looked at it and felt his stomach churning. He felt like he was going to puke the next moment. However, Marth did not see that at all. His eyes were firmly fixed on Omas who was fighting in the air against the vine.

Marth took a deep breath and said, “It looks like we’re just trash. Are those vines actually sentient? They know how to deal with the most difficult ones first. After that, both of us won’t be able to run away. The vines are completely ignoring us. They’re all only attacking Hezti!”

When he said that, he paused for a moment.

He widened his eyes as if he just remembered something.

“I think I heard of Hezti’s name before. I just don’t really remember it. If he hid his looks, could he be using a fake name too? If he didn’t fake his name, I’d definitely heard of him before. However, I’ve never had a good memory. I really can’t remember where I heard that name before…”

At that moment, Marth was stressing himself out.

Hezti’s name was so important to him at that moment. He really wanted to know who Hezti was. He wanted to know who that incredibly strong warrior who appeared was!

Why was he so strong, and why had he not stepped into Violet City yet?

Various thoughts surfaced in Marth’s head.

Lourain coldly looked at Marth, “Don’t be so emotional. So what if you know who he is? Will you be able to keep relying on him? Would he allow you to do that?”

“Even if you want to lick his boots, you would need to see if he’s willing to or not. Someone as strong as him only sees us as little ants. We’re completely useless to him, and will only burden him. You want to get closer to him, but he won’t bother with you at all.”

Marth’s lips stiffened before he turned to look at Lourain coldly.

At that moment, Lourain was like a piece of crap in Marth’s eyes.

Lourain completely disgusted Marth. The two of them had never gotten along anyway. They were enemies who would never be able to resolve their hatred for each other. Since that was the case, Marth decided not to hold back.

He scoffed and said, “Why are you trying to be so snide? Even if he doesn’t want to let me go along with him and even if he looks down on me, so what? At least I haven’t offended him.”

“At the most, he’ll just ignore me because I’m a troublesome ant. You’re completely different. You were so rude to him before this. You kept on mocking him and calling him an idiot. You even got everyone else to mock him with you. You mocked all the warriors from third-grade worlds. Someone as strong as him will probably remember all the grudges he has. Do you think he’ll let you off easily?”

Those words completely shut Lourain off.

Lourain’s face soured completely. He had said what he did to provoke Marth.

At the very least, he wanted to annoy Marth. Yet, Marth had managed to completely shut him up after a few words.

Lourain’s hands constantly shook. His eyes were reddened as he gripped the sword in his hand tightly. He felt like piercing forward the next moment, slicing Marth’s head off. He was so emotional because everything Marth said was true.

He had really thoroughly offended Hezti before this. He had even caused all the warriors from second-grade worlds to laugh at Hezti with him.

He mocked Hezti for not knowing his place and mocked the other party for dreaming. Back then, he had felt very good about himself.

All the anger he had felt for Marth had surged forward, but he never would have expected that the person he was certain was just bragging had not been bragging at all. He had been the clown the whole time.

The more Lourain thought about it the angrier he got. This matter had been weighing heavily on his mind the whole time. However, he was being laughed at by Marth, which immediately set him off.

Lorain raised his sword and aimed it at Marth’s head, “Brat! I think you’re just getting too ahead of yourself. Don’t think I won’t do anything to you. Even if I’ve offended him, I can still kill you before I die!”

He hated Marth to the bone at that moment. He wanted to rip Marth to shreds.

“Have you said enough?” Nirina’s cold voice was heard behind him.

Abraham stiffened and he quickly turned around only to see the vines that had surged upward earlier had all already been completely out up.

They were all on the ground.

After the vines were cut up, they lost all ability to fight. They were writhing on the ground like snakes that had been cut up in the middle.

Nirina stood not far away from him.

Nirina’s right hand still held the gray sword. The gray sword was dripping with green liquid.

Abraham took a deep breath, suddenly finding himself unable to speak.

Was it all over?

They had managed to pass the stage?

The fines were like badges on the ground that showed off Nirina’s excellence. In the whole Whirling World, Nirina’s skills were absolutely in the top five or even further in front than that. Warriors with that level of skill all stood at the top of the mountain, looking down on regular warriors.

They would not bother with regular warriors or even those that were above average. They saw those people as mere tools or stepping stones, or sometimes even slaves.

Abraham felt like he was very far removed from those kinds of people before. Even if he wanted to be a dog serving under them, they would not want him anyway. After all, Abraham was not even skilled enough to be considered above average.

He was only between the realm of a regular warrior and an above-average one. He thought in the past that he would never even be able to speak to someone at that level in his life because those people saw the rest of them as mere ants.

Yet, he had not only been able to talk to a warrior like that, he had offended one too. He had even mocked such a warrior relentlessly.

Just thinking about it made Abraham feel like he was dreaming. He felt like he must have been crazy before this.

Abraham gulped before he shut his mouth wisely, not saying anything else.

Looking at how obedient Abraham was being, Rose almost laughed out loud. He looked at Abraham with a mocking expression. He still remembered how arrogant Abraham had been, acting like warriors from third-grade worlds were not worth anything at all.

Yet, at that moment, Abraham was completely different. However, since Nirina had warned them against arguing anymore, Rose would naturally not dare to go against Nirina’s wish.

He looked up at Nirina and said, “Paul, have we passed?”

Nirina turned to look at the vines that were all over the ground, “We should have passed. However, it’s only two out of seven. There are still five killing arrays waiting for me.”

After saying that, Nirina looked at the other two with a frown, “It looks like the killing array is only aiming for me. Those vines merely restricted you earlier and did not attack me. It was completely different for me.”

“The voice earlier had been very clear. All the rewards would just be given to the one who is the strongest. Since that’s the case, the two of you should be safe. Later on, just focus on protecting yourself and hiding no matter what.”

The two of them nodded. In truth, they felt it as well. Those vines did not seem to have any intention of attacking them. The vines merely restricted their movements.

Right at that moment, all the vines on the ground no longer twisted around.

The wounds suddenly glowed green.

There was more and more green light coming from the wound. Slowly, all the vines dissipated into the air. Even the green iquid on Bolot's face turned into a green light and disappeared.

Looking at that, Rebbeca could not help but lament the fact that the hero who created this array must have been one of the greatest figures from ancient times.

Those vines from earlier felt incredibly real. If he had not seen that, he would not have believed that the vines had merely been formed with energy.

All of them looked at the scene in shock.

Diana gulped and said, "If it was me facing the attacks from those vines, I probably wouldn't even last a second…"

Bolot could not help but scoff at those words. He really wanted to viciously mock Diana.

Diana could not even handle the black-iron difficulty, let alone the gold difficulty. It was just impossible.

Rebbeca did not dwell on the Issue at all as his time was very valuable. He did not want to delay anything.

He said to the other two, "Follow me…"

After that, he started to walk forward. The moment the killing array ended, taking seven steps forward would trigger another one. Rebbeca knew of that, so he was already prepared after he took his seventh step.

Suddenly, he heard some splashing. It sounded like a river flowing past the shore.

Rebbeca raised an eyebrow, "A water attribute killing array."

Even though every stage seemed hard, it stirred Rebbeca's thirst for a challenge.

The sound of water got louder and louder. Initially, it was like a small creek. After that, it started to sound like a raging river. It slowly got louder and louder until it felt like they were at a waterfall that was hundreds of meters tall.

Diana said hoarsely, "Why do I feel like we're about to drown?"

It just sounded so realistic. It was quite scary.

Bolot frowned. With the sound of the water crashing, vapor started to fill up their surroundings.

Rebbeca held his sword tightly, preparing to fight at any moment.

The water vapor started to obscure their sight. Suddenly, Rebbeca felt like he had returned to the fog battlefield because the vapor was so thick he could not see ahead.

It then went completely silent. They could even hear each other breathing at that moment.

Bolot was so scared his lips were constantly trembling. Everything that was happening was just too strange. He was consoling himself by telling himself that he was just a spectator. As long as he did not provoke anything, he would not be targeted by the array.

However, the constantly changing environment caused him to be incredibly tense. He could clearly hear Diana's gulp at that moment. It seemed like Diana was not having a good time either.

Of the three of them, Rebbeca was the calmest. He had not shown much emotion the whole time. He merely looked at everything with a cold expression, maintaining an incredibly alert state.

The water vapor slowly gathered. In front of the three of them, three incredibly smooth mirrors appeared.

The mirror reflected their looks, which surprised Yolanda and Mandra even more. They stood there and watched their reflections with stunned expressions, feeling like they looked incredibly strange in the mirror.

Mandra could not take it anymore, “What’s happening? Why is it one way one moment, and another way the next!”

If it was just a pure attack, it would cause them to be fearful, but it would not torture them mentally. After all, they were not the main characters. Diana was the main target of the array, and they just happened to be there.

However, the constant changes felt a bit unbearable. It was as if they had walked into an incredibly scary world where the two of them had lost all of their skills. It did not feel good at all. It was complete torture.

“Holy crap!” Yolanda suddenly cried out. Mandra looked over and saw that Yolanda’s expression was quite twisted.

His eyes were completely wide as if his eyeballs were going to pop out of their sockets.

Mandra’s expression stiffened, “What are you doing?! What are you shouting at?! Are you just trying to scare me?”

He was actually incredibly terrified at the moment, but he still stubbornly tried to act otherwise.

Yolanda took a deep breath. He felt like he was in an incredibly bad state.

At that moment, even Diana saw it as well. Yolanda’s lips were trembling, even his eyes were as he said, “Mandra, look at those mirrors. I think there’s something wrong with them.”

Mandra was starting to feel anxious, “What’s the problem?! Can you please be clearer? Stop making me panic!”

Yolanda ignored Mandra as he said to Mandra, “My reflection in the mirror suddenly smiled at me just now. It really did! I’m sure I’m not mistaken. There’s definitely something wrong with the mirror. Just look!”

As he said that, Yolanda’s voice trembled. After all, that scene he had just witnessed just now was just too terrifying. It was like a nightmare!

The moment he said that, Diana did not really react.

However, Mandra’s face paled completely, “Stop joking around, it’s not funny at all!”

The moment he said that, he suddenly noticed that his reflection in the mirror moved by itself. It narrowed its eyes at him as if it was observing Mandra in reality.

It was just too terrifying for Mandra!

It was not just Mandra’s reflection that was moving, even Diana’s was starting to at that point. Diana’s reflection cracked its neck as if it was getting ready. Under Diana’s cold gaze, the reflection suddenly walked out of the mirror.

The reflection in the mirror did not just look exactly like Mandra, it was dressed exactly the same way too. Even the gray sword in Diana’s hand had been completely replicated!

“W-what exactly is going on?!” Mandra felt like he was going to go crazy.

That reflection of him walked out of the mirror with a strange smile. It was looking at him with mockery as if the reflection was there to replace him.

He took a deep breath, feeling completely off at that moment.

Why was all of that happening?

What was he supposed to do next?

Was Rose not supposed to be the target?

He was just tagging along for the ride, so why was he suddenly being treated the same way as Rose?

He was suddenly facing a replica of himself too!

Rose did not dwell on his thoughts like the other two were. The moment his replica walked out of the mirror, he immediately attacked!

He constantly formed seals that flew in the air. They fuse, and the Broken Soul Blade appeared in front of him.

The moment Rose moved, the replica started to move the same way as well. It started to form the same seals as Richard, and it created the exact same Broken Soul Blade.

When Rose saw that, even Rose had to raise an eyebrow. The copy could use Soul Sky as well. It was too shocking.

However, he did not think too much about it at that moment. No matter how many tricks the replica had, the array would be broken through as long as he dealt with his opponent!

He pushed forward, and the Broken Soul Blade launched ahead. He wanted to see if his Broken Soul Blade was stronger than the clone's!

Rose and the clone were not that far apart in the first place, so the two blades immediately clashed together.

There was an incredibly loud sound as the Broken Soul Blades clashed, immediately exploding!

The energy shockwaves started to spread everywhere. Rose felt himself being pushed away by the shockwaves, but he reacted quickly. He quickly activated his true energy to stabilize himself so he would not fall like a wet dog.

Rose's feet planted firmly on the ground, but the impact was so great that he had to try to maintain his balance. At that moment, Rose could feel his heart beating rapidly.

It was all just too surprising. Rose could not believe that the clone's skill was actually on the same level as his. Not only did the clone look exactly the same, but the techniques were the same too.

What could he do?

Ever since he entered the Whirling World, Rose had met so many opponents. Even though those opponents varied in strength, all of them had fallen to Rose in the end. When it came to single combat, no one had ever been a match for him. Yet, he had just encountered one.

It was just that his opponent was a complete clone of himself.

While he was shocked, he marveled at how special the array seemed. His replica had been sent flying just like he had. What surprised Rose was that the replica had been able to stabilize itself mid-air as well, landing firmly on the ground.

He could feel that the impact had caused the replica to adjust its balance as well. When Rose saw everything, he did not know what to say.

Facing his clone really did feel like looking into a mirror. Even their movements were exactly the same.

Rose was suddenly a little caught off guard. The metal and wood attribute arrays had been equally challenging, but Rose had not stumbled at all, maintaining his calm the whole time.

That was because Rose could figure out how to get past the array for both the earlier challenges. However, the water attribute killing array left Rose lost. The clone could use his own techniques, and the power behind the techniques was equal to his.

He was strong, but the clone was just as strong as he was. If that was the case, then he was completely stuck. If he fought his opponent in an intense fight, then both sides would end up heavily injured. Nori was not even sure if his clone could actually get injured.

After all, that was a clone made out of the water attribute. It was not a real person. Ever since he entered the Whirling World, he had never been caught off guard before. He was in a complete bind, unsure of how he needed to progress.

Right at that moment, he suddenly heard a shout from afar.

Josef was shouting as he fought against his replica. No matter what technique he used, his replica would fight back in the same way. Those techniques would clash in the air with no result at all.

No one could do anything to the other.

Josef was clearly very unhappy with the situation.

He shouted out as he attacked, “What is happening?! This fake me knows my techniques! It’s using it in the exact same way as I am! Surely it won’t kill me and replace me?”

The more Josef thought about it, the more horrifying it sounded.

He felt like he could be right. If it was really as he said, then it would just be too scary. His true self would tragically die in the killing array while his fake self would replace him!

Nori’s lips twitched when he heard what Josef said.

The replica was completely made with the water attribute. The moment it stepped out of the killing array, it would disappear.

There was no way it would be able to replace Josef like what Josef thought. If that array really had the ability, then it would be astounding. However, no matter what, the situation was not progressing well.

Nori did not know what he needed to do at that moment. He did not know how to breakthrough this killing array.

Lydia’s face was dark as he fought his own clone as well. Even though he was not shouting around like Josef was, he was worried just the same. However, he was not worried about whether or not his clone would replace him. It was just that the situation would be bad for him if it continued.

Lydia took a deep breath and shouted at Albert, “Albert, our energy is limited. If we keep at this, we’ll lose our energy eventually. Then, even trying to pass this stage would be hard, let alone the next one. The gold difficulty really isn’t easy. Each stage is harder than the next!”

When Lydia said that, it served as a reminder to Moses.

Lydia was right. There was no way they could drag the situation on. His clone was not a real person, but a clone formed with energy.

His true energy would be spent eventually, but his opponent would never be exhausted. If they dragged things, then they would lose.

Then, they would be tossed out by the Seven Deaths Array. They would be done for. The treasures and the Vibrant Hall would have nothing to do with him. Ever since he found out about the Vibrant Hall, Nori had already made it a goal for himself that he would get inside.

After all, there were amazing treasures that could increase one’s potential inside! If he failed to even get into Violet City, then it would all be for naught.

Nori suddenly regretted his choice. It was his first time feeling that remorse.

After all, this problem he was facing did not seem like it was possible to overcome at all. Even if Yolanda was incredibly skilled, he could not stop himself from panicking.

Just as he was thinking about it, his clone suddenly shot forward. The clone was holding the gray sword in hand, and the soul attribute was frantically surging around the sword.

Yolanda could clearly feel the power of the Broken Soul Blade behind it. The clone must have used the Broken Soul Blade while Yolanda was distracted, merging the technique with the sword.

The slash that was coming at Yolanda contained incredible energy.

If Barne was the one standing there, he would probably not even be able to move after the energy locked into him. After all, Soul Sky was already at the storm god rank. Normal warriors were not able to handle it at all.

Yolanda suddenly felt like the situation was unique. He had only ever used the Broken Soul Blade on his enemies before. He had never felt how it was to be locked into the Broken Soul Blade.

At that moment, he clearly felt how powerful the technique was.

Yolanda took a deep breath, not wanting to clash with his clone head-on. After all, Diana had just told him that continuing to fight like that would waste a lot of true energy. The moment they were completely spent, they would just be sitting ducks. There would be no way to turn the tables.

He could not allow such a situation to happen. Yolanda activated the laws of space under his feet, disappearing from the spot immediately.

He wanted to distance himself from his clone. When he appeared again, he was a distance away from where he was. However, Yolanda never expected the clone to disappear as well. Yolanda saw that and was immediately on high alert! There was something wrong!

Could the clone also use the laws of space?

The moment Yolanda thought about that, he suddenly felt a breeze behind him. He did not even think about it as he immediately rushed forward. At the same time, he pierced his sword backward.

The two swords clashed together, and the dense soul attribute exploded outward, causing shockwave after shockwave. Yolanda used that force to distance himself from the clone behind him.

At that moment, Yolanda's eyes were wide in disbelief. He was thankful that he had reacted in time. Otherwise, that strike would have opened up his back.

That was not the most terrifying part. He knew very well the destructive capabilities of the Broken Soul Blade. If a wave of that energy seeped into his body, he would lose his mind from the pain. Then, no one would be able to save him, and he would definitely lose.

It could use the laws of space. It was using it with such familiarity as well.

The clone was no different from Yolanda!

Even though the clone had managed to use the Broken Soul Blade with the same amount of power, Yolanda had thought that the clone was just able to replicate himself and the attacks he had. He did not expect the clone to even have his mastery and control of the laws of space.

Suddenly, he lost some of the hope he had. The difficulty of the water-killing array had greatly exceeded Yolanda's imagination.

It was an opponent just like him. All of his techniques belonged to his opponent as well. If that was the case, he did not seem to have a chance at winning at all.

Yolanda was out of ideas at that moment. He could not figure out how he could handle the clone. It was like an impossible question was right in front of him.

Yolanda took a deep breath, 'Could the water killing array be here as an insurmountable wall that the challengers will never be able to get past?'

That was the only thing he could think about at that point. Otherwise, he could not explain it at all. If this continued, he would not be able to triumph. His true energy would be depleted eventually. Then, he would end up being slaughtered.

Benita clenched his teeth at the thought.

He could not believe that he would encounter the greatest problem he had ever encountered there. It was possible he really had been reckless.

He should not have chosen the gold difficulty. That difficulty was meant to push challengers away!

With a bang, Bjorne and his clone took a few steps back. He was panting roughly, and his eyes were red. That earlier strike had truly shaken him.

Blood was flowing down from his wounds. The clone had wounds as well, but it did not bleed. Only blue-colored orbs of light were coming out of its wounds.

“How dare you mock me!” Bjorne widened his eyes.

He could clearly see his replica let out a sneer at how much he was struggling.

He could see that his clone was mocking him, and it infuriated Bjorne greatly.

That clone was despicable enough to laugh at him! Bjorne felt like he was about to completely lose his temper. Ever since he met Stefan, not a single good thing had happened.

At that moment, Bjorne was starting to lose control of himself.

He shouted loudly at his clone, “What are you smiling at?! Are you laughing at me?”

Jasmine could not help but roll his eyes at Bjorne when he heard that. Bjorne really did always have a screw loose in his head. The opponent in front of him was not even a real person, but an energy construct.

What was the point of shouting at it?

Bjorne did not care about what everyone else was thinking. The sneer on the face of the clone was already completely infuriating him.

“I’m asking you what you’re smiling at?! Do you think I can’t beat you? Are you smiling because you know everything I do? Good! Very good! You know everything I do, right?! Let’s see if you can use the sixth stance!”

The sixth stance was only something Bjorne could barely use. If he was lucky enough, he would be able to use it. If he was not, he would fail. His true energy would even go astray because of it. If Bjorne practiced for two or three more months, he would probably be able to use the sixth stance easily. However, he was still not familiar enough with it at this point.

However, Bjorne was already completely crazy with anger. He felt like the smile on that clone’s face was just laughing at him for not being strong enough. Even the clone was mocking him. There was no way Bjorne could remain calm at that. He just felt wave after wave of anger in his heart.

He needed to use his strongest attack. He did not care if he could use it properly or not.

He only had one thought in mind at that moment, which was to use all his strength to prove himself to that fake!

If he had said that out loud, Nana would definitely have mocked him. Even Anne would probably laugh at him. After all, the thing in front of him was probably not capable of sentient thought at all. It was just a body of energy.

There was no reason to try and pick a bone with something like that. However, he was already too angry to care.

Bjorne clenched his teeth and shouted out, “Take this!”

He started to form seals that danced in the air. A purple moon suddenly appeared.

Under the purple light, Bjorne’s sword glowed vibrantly. It was as if the sword had been covered in a purple sash. Feeling it, one could sense the rich amount of power around his sword. In particular, where the purple light glowed was filled with energy.

At that moment, Bjorne was just furious. He looked like his whole family had been slaughtered in a single day.

He clenched his teeth and rushed at the clone, “How dare you laugh at me?! Just die!”

He held his sword and raised it high, aiming right at the clone. When he struck down, a purple slash headed right for the clone’s chest!

The clone suddenly frowned like a human, as if it had encountered a problem.

It raised its sword and slashed forward as well, but it was still using the fifth stance. Right after that, there was a massive explosion. The replica had not been able to stand up to the sixth stance and was sent flying.

The replica flew far away and slammed into the ground violently.

Anne had seen it clearly. There was a wound on the chest of the replica that was leaking out a faint blue light. The clone had actually been injured.

Instead, the true Bjorne was standing there looking at everything with wide eyes and a stunned expression. Even he never expected that he would succeed with this attack.

Before this, every attack had been a draw. His opponent would be injured, but so would he. Every time, they used the same technique.

The fifth stance had been used so many times to no effect.

This time, he had used the hard-to-control sixth stance, but he thought that his opponent would have used the same technique as usual. Yet, it was different from what he expected. He had used the sixth stance, but the clone used the fifth stance!

Bjorne widened his eyes and muttered, “What is this…”

Suddenly, he found himself confused.

Anne straightened his body and widened his eyes. Countless thoughts flashed in his head.

Suddenly, he felt like he had been enlightened. All the problems had been solved.

So that was it!

That was how he could break the water-killing array. He had overthought things. He thought it was impossible, but it was just him overthinking!

Anne took a deep breath. He turned around suddenly and looked at his clone!

At that moment, his clone was looking at him coldly, trying to find an opening.

If there was, the clone would definitely attack immediately. Anne took a deep breath and started to form seals that twisted in the air. A small ring slowly materialized in front of Moses. It was the Soul Burst Ring.

Countless red runes danced around the Soul Burst Ring like a spirit in the night.

The Soul Burst Ring started to spin rapidly. It spun so fast

Molie frowned, “It’s all down to this!”

He rushed forward, running right at his clone. He pushed his hands forward, and the Soul Burst Ring exploded toward Moses.

When the replica saw Molie’s Soul Burst Ring, its eyes widened slightly. It seemed surprised and confused. However, it did not hesitate for too long. It merely stopped for a moment before starting to form seals again.

The Broken Soul Blade appeared right in front of it again.

Molie’s lips curled up at the sight. It looked like he was right! It really was just that simple.

Bang!

With a loud explosion, the Broken Soul Blade and the Soul Burst Ring clashed together violently. All that soul energy in the Broken Soul Blade was crashing into the Soul Burst Ring without any reservation.

When the Soul Burst Ring touched the Broken Soul Blade, it suddenly expanded and swallowed the Broken Soul Blade Whole.

After that, there was an intense explosion. Two energies of the same power were trying to fight each other at that moment. It caused cracks to form in the surrounding space, and in the end, the Soul Burst Ring won!

The Broken Soul Blade shattered to pieces, turning into soul attribute energy. At that moment, the Soul Burst Ring’s remaining power quickly spun, absorbing the pure soul attribute into its body and strengthening itself.

The Soul Burst Ring immediately continued forward, charging right at the clone. At that moment, the clone had already spent its energy and was still not able to form the Broken Soul Blade again so quickly.

With a crack, the Soul Burst Ring enveloped the clone’s sword. A sharp and intense sound could be heard as the clone gritted its teeth and tried frantically to stop the Soul Burst Ring.

Right at that moment, the real Molie appeared in front of the clone, and wasted no time in attacking. His sword pierced right into the clone’s forehead. At that moment, the clone had just been fully focused on the Soul Burst Ring.

He could not fight back against that strike at all. Molie’s sword pierced right into the clone’s head, and a faint blue light frantically flowed out of the clone. Whenever the clones were injured, the blue light would disperse from the injuries, but it was never that much.

This time, it was different. The moment Molie pierced the clone’s forehead, the blue light surged out of the wound. After that, the clone exploded with a boom, disappearing and dispersing.

It had finally ended. Molie took a long sigh. He had been right. It was thanks to Frank that he figured it out. Without Frank, he would have probably taken a lot more time to figure it out.

Things went much better after that. With Molie’s skills, dealing with Frank and Valentina’s clones was incredibly easy. The two cones were dispersed into blue light.

After everything ended, all three of them felt reinvigorated. Frank wiped the sweat from his forehead. He had thought that they would fail.

He thought that they would have been thrown out like trash just like those before them. Not a single one of them could accept that.

The three of them were silent for a long time before Paul said, “I was so scared. I thought we would lose. I even started to feel like this stage was just to confuse us, that there is no way to pass at all!”

Rebbeca had thought so as well at one point. The same weapons, the same techniques, and the same person. It was the most equal of opponents. In that situation, they did not know how to pass at all.

Fiona coughed and said, “I guess I was overthinking. We thought the fake clone used everything we knew, but that was not the case. We just needed to use our strongest technique…”

Paul nodded. When they were at their wit’s end, they had managed to find a new lease on life.

Rebbeca shook his head, disagreeing with Fiona, “It’s not like that. If all of us had used all our power during the wood attribute killing array, then this stage would be completely impossible to pass!”

When Rebbeca said that, the two of them looked at Rebbeca in confusion, clearly not understanding.

Rebbeca took a deep breath before he continued, “Paul, you practically used all your strength during the wood-killing array. I think you never used your strongest technique because you haven’t mastered it fully.”

Rebbeca had been looking when Paul used the sixth stance. He could clearly feel that the energy in the strike was not too stable. There seemed to be many imperfections. It was obvious that Paul was just barely able to use it.

Paul nodded, admitting to it. Rebbeca continued, “So, you could have failed to use it. Then, the sixth stance is not really your strongest attack. The clone did not know it not because it’s your strongest attack, but because you’ve never used it.

“No matter how amazing the Seven Deaths Array is, there’s no way it can just enter our minds and look through our memories. It would be too absurd if it could. I don’t think it can at all. It managed to replicate our techniques because we used them before. I doubt it can replicate anything we never used before. That’s the way to get past the water-killing array.”

The two of them finally understood it after Rebbeca’s explanation. So that was the case! In truth, only that would explain everything upon closer thought. Earlier, they had just been too shocked by the array to think about it Rebbeca was right. No matter how amazing the Seven Deaths Array was, there was no way it could peer into their minds to extract their knowledge. Even if it could replicate their techniques, it could only replicate those they had used before.

Thinking about that, the two of them could not help but sigh. The challenges were getting harder and harder. Thankfully, Rebbeca had held back before this. Otherwise, they would not have been able to pass.

Paul pursed his lips and said, “This is just too hard. It’s just the third array. There are still four after this. I wonder how hard the later ones will be…”

Rebbeca did not answer that question. Rebbeca merely sat down and started to rest. He had spent quite a lot of his strength in that big battle. Things would only get harder, so he needed to make sure he was in the best state to deal with the later challenges.
