Legend has it that the royal Rajput rulers are descended from the Sun God. The golden sun, representing the Sun God, is still the royal insignia of the Maharana of Mewar.

Udaipur was voted the world's best city for travelers in an online poll by Travel + Leisure magazine (2009). Udaipur is also referred to as the "Venice of the East" and the "Kashmir of Rajasthan". Tourists to this enchanting old-modern town in the heart of the Aravalli mountain range, with tones of history, swear by the lovely sunsets in the backdrop of the lakes. There are three interconnected lakes within the town - the Fateh Sagar Lake, the Pichhola Lake and the smaller Swaroop Sagar Lake.

The chequered history of Mewar is showcased in the city of Udaipur, which is akin to an oasis in the desert state of Rajasthan. It is a rich and beguiling tapestry of lakeside palaces, forts, temples, havelis and gardens, reflecting the varied influences of the centuries.
