Neighborhood Council Readies For Upcoming Election

by Kathy Giordano

It was announced at the Oct. 6 monthly meeting of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council that an election will be held on Saturday, Oct. 24, for seven at-large council seats. The election will take place at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 75 West School St. between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Election Committee Chairman Tom Cunha stated that nomination papers will be made available on Friday, Oct. 9 at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St.; The Charlestown Patriot office, One Thompson Square; and the John F. Kennedy Family Service Center, 27 Winthrop St. Nominations papers must be returned by Tuesday, Oct. 20.

To be an eligible to run for the council, a candidate must be at least 18 years of age and be a Charlestown resident. Each candidate must obtain 25 signatures from residents supporting his/her election bid as part of the nomination process.

Residents seeking further information on the election can call Judy Evers, community liaison from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services at 635-3485.

The council meeting was sparsely attended by both residents and council members. Council members present included Chairman Peter Looney, First Vice Chairman Cunha, Second Vice Chairman Mel Stillman, Secretary Jim Mansfield, Marty O'Brien, Bob Scalli, Bill Galvin, Jim Conway, Bob Wallace, Moe

Gillen, Jeanne Davis, Judy Brennan and Kevin Roche.

Vincent Ragucci, community relations coordinator from the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA), informed the council that a meeting was being held with the J.M. Cashman Co. and MWRA Executive Director Douglas MacDonald at the same time as the council meeting was taking place. He stated: "We hope that Cashman will come to a resolution with the situation," referring to the contract between Cashman and the MWRA to haul landfill from Deer Island to the former Amstar Sugar refinery on Medford Street by barge and transport the soil from the site by truck to landfill areas elsewhere in the region. On Sunday, Sept. 27, Charlestown remembered and memorialized one of her native sons and fallen heroes — PFC Thomas F. Logue — who had made the supreme sacrifice, the laying down of his life in the service of his country, in World War II.

The impressive ceremonies of the day, sponsored by Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion, began with a Mass in the Boston National Historical Park section of the Charlestown Navy Yard aboard the stern of the USS Cassin Young, a Fletcher Class Destroyer that saw action in World War II and Korea.

The overflow crowd heard the Mass from the adjoining pier. Celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. William J. McConnell of St. Francis de Sales Parish, a retired U.S. Navy Commander and Chaplain who served with the Marines. Assisting him in setting up for the service was Michael Tognarelli and reader at the Mass was Michael Walsh, past commander of Post 26.

★ Charlestown Neighborhood Council Meetings . . .

Public Safety Meeting

Chairman Mel Stillman has announced that the Public Safety/Police Community Relations meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St. A representative from the Boston Police Department's 911 emergency line will be present to discuss concerns and answer questions. All are welcome.

Rezoning Charlestown

The Planning and Zoning Committee will meet on Monday, Oct. 26 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St., according to Chairman Tom Cunha.

The meeting will continue to focus on the use and zoning of the five parcels in the City Square area that will become available upon the completion of the Central Artery/North Area (CANA) roadway reconstruction project. Representatives from the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA), the Massachusetts Highway Department and the Division of Capital Planning and Operations will be present.

Residents and business persons, especially abutters to the City Square area, are encouraged to attend.

Public Safety Committee

Chairman Peter Looney has announced that a meeting of the Public Safety Committee will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 27 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown District Court, City Square. The meeting is being called to discuss the signs on Rutherford Avenue, parking in City Square and the overall traffic situation in the area. All are welcome to attend.

★ 425 Medford St. Update . . . In the week since residents held an informational picket at the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) offices in the Charlestown Navy Yard and a Stop Work Order was issued to the MWRA prohibiting the transfer of landfill from Deer Island onto 425 Medford St. by J.M. Cashman Inc., there has been relatively little activity on the former Domino Sugar refinery site.

Meetings have reportedly been taking place between Cashman, the MWRA and elected and appointed city officials, but a permanent resolution to the transfer of landfill and the resulting truck traffic has yet to be announced.

★ For The Record . . . In an article in the Oct. 7 edition of the Boston Herald's Inside Track column, entitled "Foes of Figs eatery are the pits," reference was made that "a couple of disgruntled neighbors have launched a harassment campaign against restaurant owners Todd and Olivia English . . . They've written anonymous anti-Olives letters to the Charlestown Patriot." . . . For the record, the Patriot has not received nor printed anonymous letters relative to the moving of Olives to City Square or the opening of Figs.

★ Street Reconstruction Update . . . According to their attorneys, St. Paul Mercury, the bonding company for the John Mahoney Construction Co., signed a contract on Oct. 6 with Mario Susi & Sons for Susi to complete the street reconstruction. To accelerate the resumption of construction, the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) Board voted last week to accept Susi as the completing contractor and to allow the execution of an agreement between the bonding company and the BRA. Presently, the final revisions to a BRA-St. Paul agreement are being reviewed by both sides. Barring any unacceptable language in these revisions to the agreement, Susi could potentially begin work on Tuesday, Oct. 13.

Meanwhile, Bryant Associates has been meeting with Susi to go over scheduling, crews, the status of the job, punchlist items to date, subcontractors, mitigation programs such as leafletting, signs and traffic, and details of work to be completed on each street. The BRA and Bryant have also been attempting to assist in locating a new construction/storage yard. More definitive information, especially on the schedule, will be addressed in next week's issue. However, Mario Susi has stated that his main objective this year will be to prepare and close up all the streets currently under construction including putting final pavement on those streets almost completed, prior to winter.

Over at the Forty Flights, the Mead Street Stairs, all the base foundation slabs for the stairs have been poured and the Middlesex Corp. is currently installing the formwork and rebar for the southerly wall of the new stairs. Once the south wall is poured, they will move over to the north side, in approximately two weeks, to do the same.

The emergency telephone system has been discussed with Susi and is being reviewed. Calls should still be directed to Community Liaison Peter Looney at 722-4300 ext. 5674.

PACKING UP TO SELL

Your agent has just gone through your home and has many suggestions about how to make it look terrific. It sounds good, but you're feeling a little overwhelmed by all of the work involved in clearing out and packing up possessions you've accumulated over the years.

Go through and decide what to throw out, what to give away and what to keep. Be ruthless! Remember that you can get a tax deduction for anything you give to a charitable organization. Pack up whatever you do decide to keep that you aren't likely to need between the time you list your home and the time you move. This has two important benefits. First, if it's packed in a box and stored neatly away, it will help you maximize your storage space and keep your home uncluttered, thereby increasing the chances that it will sell more quickly for top dollar. Second, you'll have to pack it up when you move anyway, and doing it ahead of time will give you a head start toward making moving week almost a breeze.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, consult the professionals at Monument Properties. Please call us at 241-5900 or stop by our offices at 85 Warren St., Charlestown.

'Gary & The Girls' To Perform At The K. of C.

"Gary & The Girls," a top-40 group that features three talented female vocalists, have received much notice recently on the entertainment scene.

Their unique style of singing, dancing, comedy and a flair for showmanship make this band a 'must see' for a night out for entertainment and dancing. The group will be appearing in Charlestown at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 75 West School St. on Friday, Oct. 16 at 8 p.m., presented by the Bunker Hill Associates.

This new act is best described as a four-piece dance band with a three girl floor show. They feature something for everyone, songs by many of the great girl groups past and present, as well as current top-40 hits.

The band's leader, Paul Gary, tells of the band: "We enjoy playing songs from all eras and in all styles. We like to surprise our listeners by going from one style to another."

"The unique aspect of this production is watching the dancing that the girls have added to the songs they sing. It's a whole lot of fun! The girls love to dance and the audiences love to watch the girls have fun."

The girls also have a wonderful approach to entertaining... Their ability to banter with the audience in a light, playful, good-natured way creates an entertainment atmosphere that makes everyone feel welcome.

The act, now known as "Gary & The Girls," originally started as a duo in the early '80s and has emerged as a four-piece band.

Paul's musical partner and wife of five years, Beth, recalls the changes: "We did it a bit differently, we started using an IBM computer to perform all our orchestrations. Paul has been arranging music and producing albums for clients for many years. Now, instead of writing the music down on paper and giving it to each musician, he actually plays each part from his piano into the computer. The results are just incredible, our songs always sound better than the original recording."

In the fall of 1990, Paul and Beth added two lead vocalists, Kim Casey and Jill Anthony. The new band needed a name.

As a joke, Kim suggested: "Gary & The Girls." We all laughed. We thought that it sounded a bit too rock 'n' roll for us. Eventually, we decided to go with it because the name has an unforgettable sound."

Jill Anthony hails from Methuen, and is featured as the band's phenomenal vocal talent. She is stunning audiences with her amazing Motown/Blues/R&B singing style along with the added vocal ability of songs by Bette Midler, Patsy Cline and Alannah Myles.

Beth, the band's multi-instrumentalist, vocalist and entertainer, plays tenor sax, guitar and sings. She has a warm vocal sound reminiscent of Karen Carpenter. Her version of Louis Armstrong's What A Wonderful World is always a crowd pleaser.

Kim, the band's top-40 vocalist and comedic talent, steals the spotlight with her amusingly outlandish version of Madonna's Hanky Panky. Kim has one voice that sounds like Paula Abdul, but when she steps up to the microphone to sing a rock 'n' roll song, this petite five-footer can sound out in a powerful Bob Seger-style voice that astounds everyone.

Jill tells how the show has developed over the last few months: "We knew we had something special when our audiences just started watching... our act turned into a show and the amazing part of it was, we never intended it to be that way, it just happened!... It's great, we have the best of both worlds. We're a show band and dance band, we love it if the people dance, and it's just great if they'd just like to watch, too."

Kim, the band's choreographer, originally from Houlton, Maine, sums up the act in this way: "We have a large demographic appeal; everyone enjoys our show. We're lucky to have the best of everything: people love to watch a band that can create this kind of magic."

Tickets for the Oct. 16 show are $15 per person, and are available from Tom Cunha, Peter Looney, Paul Herrick and Bud Whelan.

contract would create 400 truck trips on Medford Street between 6 a.m. and 10 p.m. each day.

Ragucci stated that as a result of the Neighborhood Council's rejection of the transport site on Medford Street, as voted at the September monthly meeting when members were first informed of the situation by a Cashman Co. representative, and subsequent action taken by the community in protest of the use of the Medford Street site, "We think it will be resolved to the best for both parties," he stated.

Ragucci informed the members that Charlestown non-profit organizations designated by the council as recipients of a portion of the $50,000 grant from MWRA should be receiving their checks within the next week. The grant is part of a mitigation agreement between the city, the MWRA and the Neighborhood Council for the use of the former Revere Sugar refinery on Medford Street as a personnel transfer site for the Boston Harbor Cleanup project.

Dorothy Steele, Massport community liaison, informed the council that Massport will hold an in-house meeting on Oct. 15 to discuss the landscaping plans for a buffer zone on Medford Street outside the former Revere Sugar refinery, now Massport property. After that meeting, she stated, Massport would be willing to come before the council to discuss the landscaping proposal with the neighborhood. Mitigation Committee Chairman Gillen stated that he would set a meeting date for these discussions and announce it in the Patriot.

Development Committee Chairman Cunha was asked by Wallace for an update on the Whydah Pirate Complex proposal for the Charlestown Navy Yard. Wallace stated that stories in the Boston daily newspapers had referred to a possible site change for the complex to Tampa, Fla. Galvin added that he was "upset" with the news articles informing him of the situation without the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) contacting the council regarding any change on the proposal.

Cunha stated that he had not received any correspondence from the BRA or the Pirate Complex developers informing him that any other site was being considered. He later told the council that he would take on a leadership role, not as a council member but as a resident of Charlestown, to do all he could to fight for the construction of the complex in the Navy Yard. For that purpose, he stated, he would put together a committee of interested residents, inviting fellow council members to join the committee.

Cunha also stated, in reference to Boston Globe articles on development plans for the Charlestown Navy Yard, that he would wait for a proposal to come forward from the BRA regarding the locating of the Spaulding Rehabilitation Hospital at the Yard's End section of the Navy Yard and other development issues before holding public meetings. "I'm not going to hear every hair-brained notion until they come up with a plan," he stated.

Cunha also reported, as chairman of the Planning and Zoning Committee, that two meetings had taken place in the past month at which time the rezoning process was outlined by the BRA and residents were given a chance to include their ideas in the planning. Participation by community residents, he said, was outstanding. The dates of future committee meetings, including the agenda, will be published in the Patriot.

When the floor was opened for residents to address the council, Alice Krapf made a request that the council intercede with the YMCA in the Charlestown Navy Yard to develop programs for infants and children from the community. She was informed that the intent of the new "Y" was for the use of service personnel, a shelter for women recovering from drug and alcohol abuse and programs for men and women ages 18 and over. Many council members spoke on behalf of the numerous programs offered at the Boys & Girls Club and Charlestown Community Center for the children of Charlestown and urged Kraft to speak to Club Director Jerry Steimel about additional programs she wished to see instituted in the community.

Looney told Kraft that he would be willing to set up a meeting with her and the acting director of the YMCA, Paul Harvey, to discuss possible programs for children at the new facility. The council would not take a position on the request.

Al Reilly, operator of a garage that was taken by the BRA to construct the new Mishawum Street in Sullivan Square, requested assistance from the council in applying for the use of that land, now re-opened by the BRA for development. He stated that he had seen a notice in the Patriot regarding the property and needed advice on how to go about bringing his business back to the area.

Galvin volunteered to take Reilly through the RFP (Request For Proposals) process with the BRA, required prior to the disposition of the land parcel.

Looney, who is also the community liaison with the Street Reconstruction Project, announced that a new contractor was hired by the bonding company, Susi Construction Co., and that work would begin within the next week to pave streets and sidewalks already worked on by the previous contractor, Mahoney and Co., to ready them for the winter. No new streets would be opened until the spring, he stated.

The next monthly Neighborhood Council meeting is scheduled to take place on Tuesday, Nov. 3. Since that is Election Day, it is doubtful that the council will meet. When a meeting date is established, the Patriot will publish the information.

Baker Receives Diploma At Nursing School Graduation

A capacity gathering attended the recently held graduation exercises for the Class of 1992 of the Chelsea Soldiers' Home School of Practical Nursing.

Margaret Baker of Charlestown was among the 31 students awarded diplomas during the impressive commencement program held in the Martin Auditorium.

Commandant William D. Thompson, in his welcoming remarks, praised the students and faculty for combining to make the School of Nursing at the Soldiers' Home "one of the leaders in practical nursing education in the entire New England area."

"Our school meets the highest standards for determining excellence in the training of LPNs, and that's due to the efforts of our outstanding faculty and the commitment to education by our students," said the Commandant.

The keynote speaker was state Sen. Thomas F. Birmingham. He extolled the value of the School of Practical Nursing, congratulated the staff and graduates and pledged to continue his efforts to ensure that the Home and the school receive adequate funding from the state in the future.

Commandant Thompson thanked Birmingham for the tremendous legislative support that he, along with House Majority Leader Richard Voke, has given to the Home and School of Nursing.

St. Mary's Church Centennial Celebration To Take Place Sunday

by Kathy Giordano

Throughout its 164-year history, St. Mary's has remained an anchor of stability during difficult periods in history whether in the community, the nation or worldwide. Time and again, its parishioners have responded with acts of generosity, sacrifice and bravery. As in every aspect of society, any gathering of individuals will only achieve its full potential when challenged by dynamic leadership. St. Mary's has been blessed with such guidance through the pastors, clergy and religious who have served the parish with distinction.

In 1830, the Rev. Patrick Byrne was appointed the first pastor of the newly constructed church on Richmond Street. His parish spread as far as Reading, Mass. to encompass the needs of those who worked at the Boston Navy Yard and the glass works in East Cambridge.

The Rev. George F. Goodwin, a native of Charlestown and a convert to the

In 1881, another son of the parish, the Rev. John W. McMahon, became its pastor. Under Father McMahon's leadership, which lasted 57 years, St. Mary's prospered and expanded to its greatest prominence. Father McMahon understood the needs of his ever-growing flock and challenged them to invest in a spiritual legacy that has been enjoyed for generations.

To better understand and appreciate the sacrifice and generosity of the parishioners of the 19th century, it is necessary to realize their way of life and the world they lived in.

Shortly after the formation of the parish in 1828, the residents of the community experienced the wrath of anti-catholic sentiment that was prevalent in the region. In 1834, the Ursuline Convent on Mount Benedict in neighboring Somerville, was burnt to the ground. Undeterred by that action, the Catholic population came to the area in droves and St. Francis de Sales parish was established.

cause. Locally, Charlestown saw bits and pieces of its area absorbed by neighboring communities and in 1874, too small to function independently, it was annexed to Boston.

This historic era, which also saw the construction of a memorial to the patriots of the Battle of Bunker Hill erected on Breed's Hill, later to be known as Monument Square, brought many demands on the people of the community. To their credit, they rallied to each occasion and created the Charlestown we now enjoy as we enter the 21st century.

In the mid-1880s, Father McMahon undertook the task of building a larger church. With architect Patrick Keely, Father McMahon constructed a new church on Warren Street to replace the original brick structure on Richmond Street. The cornerstone was laid on Oct. 23, 1887 with Archbishop John J. Williams presiding at the ceremony. A formal dedication of the building took place on Oct. 2, 1892 and the consecration of the church occurred on May 29, 1899.

With the completion of the new church, he expanded the parish facilities to include the rectory house on Monument Square. In 1902, he opened a school on Warren Street, next to the church, bringing the Sisters of St. Joseph to the parish to teach. A convent was needed, and the building next to the rectory was added to the property list of the parish.

To meet the spiritual and social needs of the parish, a hall was built in 1914 which became known as the Holy Name Clubhouse. This facility, located on Winthrop Street across from the historic Training Field, soon proved to be inadequate to accommodate the organizations formed by the men and women of the parish. In 1917, Father McMahon purchased the building adjacent to the convent on Monument Square, previously owned by the Catholic Literary Union, and created St. Mary's Women's Club.

The church school received additional classrooms as well with the acquisition of the Annex building on Winthrop Street, now the home of the Kennedy Cen-ted the eighth pastor of the church. He was well known in the general area because of his distinguished work for many years with the Little Sisters of the Poor in Somerville. His manner was that of a priest of exemplary pastoral kindness and thoughtful dedication as he carried on the parochial tradition of Monsignor Allchin and St. Mary's.

Father Flaherty did much in the way of renovation for all the buildings of the parish: the schools, the upper and lower churches and the convent. His provision of a chapel in the rectory remains a testimony to his de-several years ago.

The Rev. William P. McDonough, the third native son appointed pastor, came to St. Mary's in 1968. He had come home to familiar territory, having grown up within the shadow of the church. His homecoming was tempered by reality as Father McDonough was called upon to lead his people during the most difficult days of recent decades.

The population of Charlestown was dwindling. The Navy Yard closed. Years of upheaval of the '60s and '70s tore at the core of the community. Vietnam, Watergate, college campus rivotion to prayer. His colorful and interesting speaking talent made him a legend with the school children as he thrilled them with stories of Zulo, Midnight and other favorites which he wove into serial-sermons.

During his pastorate, the winds of the Vatican Council II brought many changes into the structure of parish life. This was also a difficult time in the community with the intrusion of urban renewal into the lives of its residents. His spiritual leadership was tested and surpassed expectations as he became respected and admired by residents of all faiths. He remained pastor until 1968 and retired from active ministry in 1977. He, too, was elevated to the rank of Monsignor while stationed at St. Mary's. Monsignor Flaherty passed away ots, social revolution, rebellion and the generation gap were all words of the time. During these days, Father McDonough labored to keep St. Mary's alive when the future of many parishes was in jeopardy.

Due to financial burdens, the decline in religious vocations and the increased cost of education, he was forced to close St. Mary's School in June 1973. This was a most painful experience for the parish and no one felt the pain more than Father McDonough. In spite of the setback, he kept the parish abreast of the changing times and undertook necessary work to maintain the church.

Father McDonough died in July 1974, after a long and difficult illness. Fortunately he lived long enough Catholic faith at age 16, succeeded Father Byrne, but enjoyed only three years as pastor before his death. His successor was the Rev. Patrick F. Lyndon who, in the six years of his pastorate, responded to the spiritual needs and growth of the parish by adding to the original structure of the church.

An ever-increasing population caused the Rev. George A. Hamilton, the next pastor, to undertake the construction of nearby St. Francis de Sales Church in 1859. Father Hamilton died in 1874, the same year his successor, the Rev. William Byrne, became pastor.

Father Byrne, who also served as Vicar General of the Archdiocese, was the first priest allowed to offer Mass within the walls of the Charlestown State Prison. He left St. Mary's in 1880 to be named president of St. Mary's College in Emmitsburg, Md.

Charlestown was one of the most fashionable residential areas in Boston, mixed with mansions for the well-to-do and comfortable houses for the predominantly Irish working class. The bustling ship trade of the flourishing seaport town saw many wealthy captains and ship owners build grand houses for themselves and their families. This "Golden Age of Sail" also brought laborers to work in the Navy Yard and sailors from the ships in port. This influx in population, which rose to over 25,000 in 1863, created the need for housing that resulted in numerous rooming houses and tenement flats for the poor and needy.

The nation had been torn apart with civil war, taking many young men from the community to fight in the south for the northern to see the tide beginning to turn. The population had started to expand with the refurbishing of homes and with it the parish, in general, began to grow once again.

The Rev. Robert J. Boyle was appointed pastor in 1974 by Humberto Cardinal Medeiros. Like Monsignor Flaherty, he was a Woburnite, able to enjoy the reflection that Woburn at one time was a part of St. Mary's Parish. His arrival coincided with the gentrification of the community, adding to an already growing population. His early years, however, also saw families move away from the inner city with the upheaval resulting from school busing. His task as a pastor was difficult and troubled during this tumultuous time in local history.

Father Boyle's energy and enthusiasm showed through the adversity as he led his flock through the reforms of the Second Vatican Council. His eagerness to bring the parish into a new age brought lay persons as lectors and Eucharistic Ministers. His caring for the sick and house-bound was reflected in his institution of the annual Mass of Anointing that brings otherwise forgotten parishioners together to celebrate the Eucharist and the company of each other.

Father Boyle brought the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine (CCD) program to the children who were now left without a parish school. The program expanded under his guidance and was a model for future pastors to follow.

When he left the parish in 1984 to accept a new assignment, a group of parishioners met with the Bishop to request his return. They were so fond of him that they were unwilling to see him leave St. Mary's.

St. Mary's has been brought into the new age of the Catholic church by its current pastor, the Rev. James B. Canniff. Father Canniff was appointed in 1984 by Archbishop Bernard Law and has brought the parish forward according to the church ordinances of the Second Vatican Council.

Under the guidance of the Parish Pastoral Council, a representative body of parishioners who meet regularly to advise the pastor on church issues, Father Canniff instituted the inclusion of girls as altar servers and undertook a total restoration to preserve the upper church. The preservation has recreated the original splendor of the church built by Father McMahon and Patrick Charles Keely over 100 years ago. Under his protective direction, renovations have also taken place in the rectory and in the parish hall.

Father Canniff continues many of the traditions of the parish, including the Mass of Anointing, the annual "Triumph and Tragedy" Passion Play, the live recreation of the Holy Family in the Christmas Tableau, the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the CCD program.

Through his generosity, the magnificent church is enjoyed by many community residents and visitors with his willingness to share the parish blessings with preservation groups and the annual holiday concert of the Charlestown Christmas Walk.

Over the years, parishioners have found the time to create organizations that benefited their spiritual needs as well as provided support for the community. Many will remember taking part in one or more of the following: Holy Name Society, St. Mary's Sodality, Legion of Mary, Mothers' Club, parish shows, Majestic Knights Drum & Bugle Corps, St. Mary's Drill Team, St. Mary's Drum & Bugle Corps, adult choir, children's choir, St. Mary's Women's Club, May Procession, Easter Egg Hunt, St. Mary's Bible School and many more.

St. Mary's St. Vincent de Paul Society is celebrating its 125th anniversary in 1992, having been founded in 1877 by the Rev. William Bryne. The Legion of Mary, the first Praesidium in the Archdiocese of Boston, was established at St. Mary's.

On Sunday, Oct. 11, a Centennial Anniversary Dedication Mass will celebrate the 100th anniversary of the dedication of St. Mary's Church. The concelebrated Mass will have the Rev. Frank McFarland of the Archdiocesan Television Center as guest Homilist. The Rev. James B. Canniff, pastor, the Rev. Robert E. Casey, parochial vicar, and the Rev. Thomas Dunne, S.D.B. will co-celebrate the 10:30 a.m. Mass. This Mass will replace both the 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Sunday Masses.

However, St. Mary's will offer a 4 p.m. Mass on Saturday, Oct. 10 and a 7:30 a.m. Mass on Sunday, Oct.

Father Canniff extends a cordial invitation to all residents of Charlestown to join St. Mary's Parish in this anniversary celebration. A reception will be held immediately following the Mass at the Parish Hall, 48 Winthrop St.

If you have never seen the magnificent splendor of St. Mary's Church, this is your opportunity to do so as you join the celebration of its dedication. Past and present parishioners of St. Mary's will gather to welcome all visitors to join them in the jubilation of their church and in the recognition of those who preceded them for their contribution in the name of their patroness, St. Mary.

AWC Test For Non-Boston Public School Students

The Boston Public Schools will test non-Boston Public School students, city residents currently enrolled in grades 3, 4 and 5, who are interested in applying for entrance into the Advanced Work Class (AWC) program for grades 4, 5 and 6. Candidates should report to Boston Latin School, 78 Avenue Louis Pasteur, Boston on Saturday, Oct. 31, at 8:30 a.m.

The tests, to be administered free of charge, are the Metropolitan Achievement Tests in reading and math. Scores from both are required to be eligible.

The AWC program now functions in grades 4, 5 and 6 in schools in each of the city's three school assignment zones. Eligible students will be mailed invitations. Parents of students now in grades 4 and 5 are advised that seat availability for 5th and 6th grade programs is rather limited because students currently in grades 4 and 5 of the AWC program usually remain through grade 6.

The AWC (grade 4, 5 and 6) is also offered in the Spanish bilingual education programs. Students more proficient in Spanish will be tested with the Apprenda. This examination will also be administered at the Boston Latin School.

Parents seeking a registration form and/or additional details of this special testing should call Shirley Burke at 635-9555.

Hero Square Dedicated In Honor Of PFC Thomas F. Logue

Band of Lawrence played the Ave Maria during the Mass, provided martial and patriotic music prior to the Mass and Taps at the conclusion of the service.

Following the Mass, the Logue family, guests, color guards and the band formed a procession and marched to the World War II Memorial in the Navy Yard, honoring former employees who had been killed in action during the war.

Post 26, A.L. Commander and Chairman of the ceremonies James W. Conway made brief remarks prior to the laying of a wreath at the memorial, noting PFC Thomas F.

Logue's contributions to the war effort as a Rigger at the Charlestown Navy Yard prior to his entering the U.S. Army. Assisting Conway in the wreath-laying ceremony were Rep. Richard A. Voke, House Majority Leader; Hugh Logue Jr., nephew of the deceased veteran; and Nicholas D'Alessandro, Mass. Department Commander, The American Legion.

The procession then continued out of the Navy Yard, along Chelsea, Bunker Hill and Lexington streets to the corner of Chestnut Street and Monument Square, in the shadow of the Bunker Hill Monument.

The program opened with a presentation of colors by the following color guards: USS Constitution; Charlestown High School U.S. Air Force JROTC; Dedham Post 18, A.L.; the State Commander's Honor Guard; South Boston's Martin F. McDonough Post 368, A.L.; escorted by the Medford Post 45, A.L. Rifle Squad with martial music provided by the Colonial Band of Lawrence.

Soloist Thomas Hickey from the St. Francis de Sales Choir then sang the National Anthem and, later in the program, How Great Thou Art.

Conway, Legion Past National Historian and chairman of the Hero Square Dedication, welcomed the gathering and introduced the guests that included Boston Police Commissioner Francis "Mickey" Roache.

Guest speakers at the ceremony included: House Majority Leader Rep. Richard A. Voke, Sen. Thomas F. Birmingham, City Councillors Robert E. Travaglini and John A. Nucci, Assistant Adjutant General of the Massachusetts National Guard Col. David W. Gavigan, Commissioner of the city of Boston Veterans' Services Department Thomas B. Materazzo, former Rep. Anthony "Tony" Scallio, Legion State Commander Nicholas D'Alessandro and Peter Steele, BNHP.

Hugh Logue, brother of PFC Thomas F. Logue, welcomed the gathering on behalf of his wife Eleanor, sons Hugh and Steve, and the large turnout of Logue family members and guests. He spoke of his brother's death on Sept. 29, 1944 and the shock of the family when they received the news. He mentioned how Tommy grew up at 1 Mt. Vernon St., just around the corner, and was raised with his brothers and sisters, William, Louise, Ruth and Hugh, by their parents Hugh S. and Julia B. Logue.

He told that how, at the outbreak of World War II, Tommy entered the war effort as a Rigger at the Charlestown Navy Yard and later, on Jan. 5, 1943, was inducted into the U.S. Army. Completing basic training at Camp Hulen, Texas, his outfit, the 486th AAA Battery, C Division, proceeded to York, England and eventually to France. On June 24, 1944, while in France, he joined the Third Armored Division and a few months later, on Sept. 29, 1944, he was killed in action in Germany.

Hugh Logue concluded his remarks by mentioning that the notification of his brother Tommy's death came just a month prior to his other brother Billy's marriage. They thought of postponing it, but the family thought that Tommy wouldn't have wanted it. So the marriage proceeded and later a son was born to William and Mary Logue and they named him Thomas F. Logue after his hero uncle.

The theme that carried from speaker to speaker

throughout the program was "remembering" — remembering the sacrifices of all our veterans and especially that of PFC Thomas F. Logue, U.S. Army, and others like him who answered their country's call in time of need and made the supreme sacrifice in battle — the laying down of their lives for their comrades and country.

Presentations were made to the Logue family of a Resolution Memorializing a Hero Square in honor of PFC Thomas F. Logue, sponsored by City Councillor Travaglini and passed unanimously by the Boston City Council; a city of Boston flag from Mayor Raymond L. Flynn, presented by Commissioner Materazzo; and a wreath for the Hero Square by Bunker Hill

Post 26, The American Legion.

The Rev. James Canniff, pastor of St. Mary's Church, delivered a prayer and the ceremony was concluded by the unveiling of the Hero Square by the brother, Hugh S. Logue, and the nephew, Thomas F. Logue, while the Medford Post 45, A.L. Rifle Squad fired a volley and the Colonial Band of Lawrence played Taps.

After the dedication, the band, color guards and guests formed a procession and marched down Chestnut Street to the Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion Hall where a delicious collation had been prepared by Past Commander Arthur L. Hurley and his wife Alice, assisted by members of Post 26, A.L.

RESOLUTION HONORING PFC THOMAS F. LOGUE, sponsored by City Councillor Robert E. Travaglini and passed unanimously by the Boston City Council, to Memorialize a Hero Square on the corner of Chestnut Street and Monument Square to PFC Logue was presented to his brother Hugh S. 'A Tuna Christmas' Opens Shubert Theatre Season

Tuna, Texas returns to Boston Oct. 20 through Nov. 1 to entertain legions of fans with "A Tuna Christmas," the much-anticipated sequel to "Greater Tuna," which was presented here in 1985. This all-new tale of the tiny Texas town features the original cast, Joe Sears and Jaston Williams, who wrote and created the "Tuna" legend along with director Ed Howard.

Come spend the holidays with all your old favorite citizens of Tuna, Texas and make some new friends while you're there. Sears and Williams, along with some split-second costume changes, create the 24 citizens of Texas' third-smallest town where the Lion's Club is too liberal and Patsy Cline never dies. This time, it's the 24 hours before Christmas and comic pandemonium is about to break loose as the eccentric inhabitants of this mythical town attempt to cope with season traumas such as the disaster prone, community theater production of "A Christmas Carol" and a yard-decorating contest that is being sabotaged by a mysterious Christmas phantom.

"A Tuna Christmas" debuted at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. during the holiday season of 1989, to the acclaim of critics and audiences alike. President and Mrs. Bush celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary by attending the play and then invited Sears and Williams to the White House for a command performance.

The "Greater Tuna" legend began in Austin, Texas where it premiered in 1981 and was first presented off-Broadway in 1982. Subsequent productions have been presented at the Spoleto and Edinburgh festivals in 1985, as well as all over the United States.

While audience favorites such as DiDi Snaveley, Aunt Pearl, Bertha Bumiller and Petey Fisk return for the yuletide celebration, "A Tuna Christmas" introduces the characters of Inita Goodwin and Helen Bedd, the "Tastee Kremer" girls, and Joe Bob Lipsey, director of Tuna's Little Theatre. Once again, Sears and Williams alone play these numerous and wildly diverse characters and astound the audience with their quick-change artistry.

"A Tuna Christmas," produced by Charles H. Dugan and Drew Dennett of San Francisco, will be a perfect beginning to the holiday season.

The performance and price schedule is as follows: Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m., matinees Saturday at 2 p.m. and Sunday at 3 p.m., $24.50, $29.50 and $34.50; Thursday matinee at 2 p.m., $19.50, $24.50 and $29.50.

For information and mail orders, write the Shubert Theatre, 265 Tremont St., Boston, Mass. 02116. To charge tickets by telephone, call TELECHARGE at 1-800-233-3123.

City Year Comes To Charlestown

by Gabriel Fraxa

Perhaps you've seen them. They're the 12 khaki-clad youths with a sense of purpose and the bright red jackets. They're billed as an urban peace corps by their founders, hailed as the future of America by journalists, and named as the best thing happening right now in the United States by Sen. Harris Wofford. They're City Year, and they're putting the work back into the Charlestown Working Theater.

City Year is a group of 225 youths, ages 17 to 23, chosen from a pool of 900 applicants from Boston and all of its neighborhoods, suburbs like Lynn and Weston, and states as far away as Mississippi and California. The organization is largely privately funded and committed to community service in the Boston area.

City Year was founded four years ago by Alan Khazei and Michael Brown, two Harvard Law students. The first program lasted eight weeks and consisted of 50 corps members. The program now runs September through June, with work going on in the five corps divisions: Chelsea, Environmental, Housing and Homelessness, Youth Leadership and Schools.

Each City Year day begins at 8:20 at Government Center with Physical Training (P.T.). P.T. is designed to energize the corps and focus them before beginning that day's service. After P.T. and a brief meeting, each of the 20 teams head toward its service site, where work continues until 5 p.m.

For two weeks, City Year's Bain & Co. team gave the Charlestown Working Theater a face-lift. The community theater, which has been idle for over one year, has been repainted, replastered and generally made ready for its opening later this year.

Kristin and Jennifer Johnson, the new co-directors of CWT, approached City Year at the end of August about renovating the theater. "We saw them walking around in their red jackets and said 'Hey, let's get them to help us out,'" said Kristin. "I think the project went really well. We got much more done than I had hoped we would," she continued. "It's been a very enjoyable experience."

"I thought that when City Year came, there would be certain things that wouldn't get done. But they got so much completed — we're well on our way to being ready," said Jennifer. "We'd still be at step one without City Year."

"The team has surpassed all expectations that I had for them on this service project," said Team Leader Saskia Greenberg. "I'm really excited by the incredible opportunity that this year will give them."

Freddy Wong, 21, from Chinatown, went to the Harvard-Kent School for six years and then the Clarence Edwards Middle School for another three. Wong was happy to be able to help in the community where he went to school. "I wanted to go back to my old school to visit my teacher and talk with her about the past few years of my life. I'm glad that I have this opportunity to come back and help this community look good," Wong, who graduated this past year from Boston Technical High School, says he is "still searching" for plans after City Year.

Scot Collins, a Charlestown native from Mishawum Park, is an 18-year-old graduate of Newman Prep in Boston. Collins enrolled in City Year after last year's corps made a recruiting trip to his school. "It sounded like something I wanted to do. I wanted to work with people, to make friendships... that's what this organization tries to do, to make friendships."

Collins started the program as one of the few experienced painters on the Bain & Co. team. "We've done a pretty good job painting. I'm impressed that people have been quick to pick up these skills and, when it's needed, they've been good about accepting criticism," he said.

Collins, who hopes to attend hairdressing/beautician school after City Year, knows what he wants to get out of the program. He related: "I want to grow. I want to get better at interacting with other people and to feel like I've made a difference in someone's life, to hopefully have some kids see me as a role model; to get them to want to make a difference, too."

Denise Brown, 22, from Lynn, got involved in the program through a co-worker at the Bank of Boston. "I feel that we're doing really well. I didn't expect that this old firehouse would look so good." It should be noted that Denise is now Denise Brown Nwachukwa as she married Ejimah Nwachukwa on Monday afternoon at 4, just a few hours after being interviewed for this article.

The Bain & Co. team will be working in the Schools division after completing their work in the theater. In addition to Brown, Wong and Collins,

Bryson, Jeannie Koops, Gabriel Fraxa, Byron Israel, Denise Brown, Tiba Joseph, Cathy Guerner, Scot Collins, Diana Seda, Fred Wong and Saskia Greenberg.

the team consists of: Diana Seda, 22, Allston; Tara Kina, 17, Wakefield; Michael (Tiba) Joseph, 20, Dorchester; Byron Israel, 19, Hyde Park; Cathy Guerner, 20, South End; Daniel Bryson, 20, Roslindale; Gabriel Fraxa, 18, South Hamilton; Jeannie Koops, 17, Winchester; Caroline Arsenault, 23, East Boston; and Team Leader Saskia Greenberg, Jamaica Plain.

Jeannie Koops applied to City Year because she saw it as a wonderful opportunity to perform community service. After the year, Koops will attend either Stanford University or Wellesley College. "City Year is an amazing opportunity for me to give back while receiving a cross-cultural education. This year will show me what I as an individual can do to make the world better," said Koops. "I'm amazed by the progress we made at the theater, and see it as just a taste of what's to come."

Jack The Barber To Be 'Roasted!'

by Ed Loan

Charlestown "legend" Jack the Barber will be taking part in a benefit roast of himself. All proceeds from the event will help some very special young people — the youth of Charlestown! The barber's participation in the event is yet another example of his ongoing dedication to this community.

From Jack's West Roxbury home, where he is speedily recovering from his recent hip surgery, the barber cheerfully stated: "My operation was a complete success and although I have some pain and have lost a few pounds, I'm getting around pretty well on crutches." Jack sends his regards to his numerous friends and has greatly enjoyed the many cards and telephone call that have been pouring in.

All proceeds from the upcoming roast will go to the Charlestown Youth Athletic Fund Inc. (CYAF). CYAF was incorporated in May of 1990 in response to the rising costs of sports which often prevent many of our youth from participating in valuable programs. Through the efforts of CYAF Inc., local youth will have access to athletic programs that will enable them to realize their potential, develop leadership skills, build character and foster a sense of teamwork and community — a path toward self improvement.

Bob DeCristoforo

■ We Are The Champions . . . "Charlestown Pride" won the Rock Hill Basketball Championship on Sunday afternoon in the third and deciding game of the best-of-three series, defeating the 1991 champion, City Style of South Boston, by one point in a superb come-from-behind win.

Participants in this game were: Joe Fitzpatrick, Jason Gallagher, Derek Gallagher, Greg Jackson, Dan Ryan, Pat Woods and Leo Boucher. I could go into detail about each of the players and their contributions during the year and in the series, but simply stated, the good guys finally won, and Bob D. couldn't be any prouder.

Charlestown Pride would also like to thank its many supporters who attended the games throughout the year. You added something special to the games.

■ Back To School . . . Right here in Charlestown we have a valuable educational tool which many are not too familiar with.

The Back To School program is a one- to two-year alternative transition program for Boston Public School students 12 to 15. The goal of the program is to provide students with skills and support needed to return to public school. Back To School provides basic skills in all subject areas under the Boston Public School curriculum guidelines with a 10 to 1 student-teacher ratio.

There are four Back To School sites around the city, and the Charlestown site is at 76 Monument St. Mary Carroll is the director and, for more details, you can call 635-5221. It's an excellent program to look into.

■ CHAD Community Breakfast . . . Congratulations to Charlestown Against Drugs on its first Community Breakfast held last Saturday at the Knights of Columbus hall. A good crowd was in attendance, and the breakfast will surely become a yearly event.

■ "For Girls Only" . . . The award-winning "For Girls Only" program is gearing up for another exciting year. Plans are now being finalized for the October meeting. A mailing will be sent directly to last year's membership. All girls are welcome, and Julie Doherty at 242-1776 has more details. Watch this column for information and the date of the meeting.

■ CYO Ball Hockey Schedule . . .

Monday, Oct. 12 Penguins vs. Lightning
Devils vs. Blues
Tuesday, Oct. 13 Sharks vs. Senators
Lightning vs. Blues
Wednesday, Oct. 14 Penguins vs. Sharks
Devils vs. Lightning

All games are played at 3:30 p.m. in the New and Old Cages.

■ Friendship League . . . Last year we took an All-Star team to South Boston to participate in the South Boston Friendship League All-Star Game.

As a direct result of the success of that game, a Citywide Friendship Games League is being formed and we have been invited to participate.

This ball hockey league is for youngsters 13 to 15, and it will be a Saturday morning traveling team league. Interested youngsters should speak to me, Bob D., at 635-5169 or 635-5237. The roster is limited and there may be a tryout.

'Charlestown Pride' Captures Title

by Kevin Devlin

On Oct. 4, "Charlestown Pride" defeated South Boston's City Style 72-71 to capture the 1992 Rock Hill (Savin Hill) Men's Open Basketball title.

Charlestown Pride won the opening game of the two out of three series, playing flawless basketball and winning by 18 points. Arthur Fritch's defending champion City Style responded in similar fashion in the second game, defeating Charlestown by 13 points to set the stage for the sensational finale.

City Style looked as if they were going to capture back-to-back titles, as they led by eight mid-way through the second half. The feisty Charlestown squad began a comeback which eventually led to a one-point victory.

Charlestown's quick and flashy guard Joe Fitzpatrick, named the Unsung Hero, led his team with 19 points, while Derek Gallagher contributed 18 points. Billy Connolly, the 1991 MVP and the 1992 co-MVP, netted 23 points including five treys and continued his sharpshooting ways, while Bobby McGarrell hit for 17 points.

Both teams played aggressive, intelligent team basketball through the series. Hats off to the Fritch Club for a great season that fell oh so short, and congratulations to the 1992 champions Charlestown Pride.

The Charlestown Pride club is the first team from Charlestown to enter as well as win the Rock Hill Championship. Just a little footnote for trivia buffs.

Charlestown Townies To Meet Randolph In Second-Round Playoffs

The Charlestown Town Team will meet the Randolph Oilers in the second round of the Eastern Football League playoffs at 5 p.m. on Sunday, Oct. 11 at the Randolph High School Field. Randolph has a 8-2-0 record in the regular season, while Charlestown ended its 10-game series at 4-6-0.

Charlestown player Jeff McCarthy was named to the EFL All-League Selection list. He was named to the second team as wide receiver and to the first as special team.

Executives Spend A Day At Play For The United Way And BGCB

The Boys & Girls Clubs of Boston (BGCB) was proud to be one of over 60 agencies who participated in the United Way of Massachusetts Bay Community Care Day last month. This event brought together over 1,000 corporate volunteers to various agencies, and the BGCB hosted 100 of those volunteers.

BGCB teamed up with the New England Telephone Company for a full day of work and play. It was an opportunity for United Way's corporate donors to see how their contributing dollars work in the community up close and personal. For many it was the first time stepping into an agency supported by the United Way and doing hands-on volunteer work.

The volunteer activities with BGCB were exciting as executives rolled up their sleeves for an afternoon of work and recreation with BGCB club members at the clubhouses in Charlestown, Roxbury and South Boston. In addition to building bookshelves and painting clubhouse walls, the volunteer group swam in the pools, played basketball in the gyms, created projects in arts & crafts area, read in clubhouse libraries, programmed on computers and cooked in the kitchens.

Wiping sweat from his brow, a volunteer declared, "This was a great way to spend a day helping these kids. I feel so good. It is nice to write a check, but I will be coming back to be directly in touch with the people I am trying to help through the United Way."

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE employees they try some of the activities at the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club.

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

Most holy apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things most despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly — (Here make your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen. Thank you for prayers answered.

Pop Warner Corner

The A-Team lost to Scituate 36-0 in Charlestown Pop Warner Football action this past weekend. The A-Team stars of the game were Tim Monaco, Ben Burnett, Jimmy White, Dominic Tamburello, D.J. O'Brien, Brian Ward and Joe Brennan who all played gutsy, heads-up football on offense and defense.

In another solid game, the C-Team lost to Scituate 25-0. On offense, the run-ing by Mike O'Leary was sparked by the blocking of Jimmy Garvey. Quarterback Chet Ferreira gave a super effort in rushing. Russell Groggett, Phillip O'Neill and Ian Burke were very instrumental on defense with excellent tackling.

The D-Team had a good showing against Scituate, scoring twice. The final score was Scituate 25, Charlestown 12. Offensive stars were Ray Ortiz, with 165 yards rushing, Danny Devlin and Chris Michaels. Defensive stars were Stephen Simensen, Kevin O'Neill and Andrew Grzelczyk.

Anyone not playing football this year who has not turned in his equipment is asked to do so. Contact Jack Schievink at 241-7767 to arrange for the equipment to be returned.

The main goal of the organization is to raise $1 million to endow a permanent trust. CYAF is made up of a group of Charlestown neighbors — youth, old, newcomers and Townies — concerned about the future of Charlestown's young people.

Jack the Barber, whose name is synonymous with Charlestown athletic programs, is an honorary board member of CYAF, sponsor of the roast. According to Jack: "Such a fund is terribly needed in the town, and it's great to see such a diverse group of people working toward the same positive goal."

A roast committee has been hard at work for some weeks now, putting the affair together. The event is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 13 in the upper hall of the K. of C. on 75 West School

St.

A hot and cold buffet will be prepared by Bob Scalli and served from 7 to 8:30 p.m. A speaking program, under the direction of committee member Bill McCabe, will follow from 8:30 to 10 p.m. McCabe is currently looking for anyone with interesting stories about Jack, and asks that they please contact him. Music spanning the 44-year career of the barber will be featured by D.J. Dennis Moore.

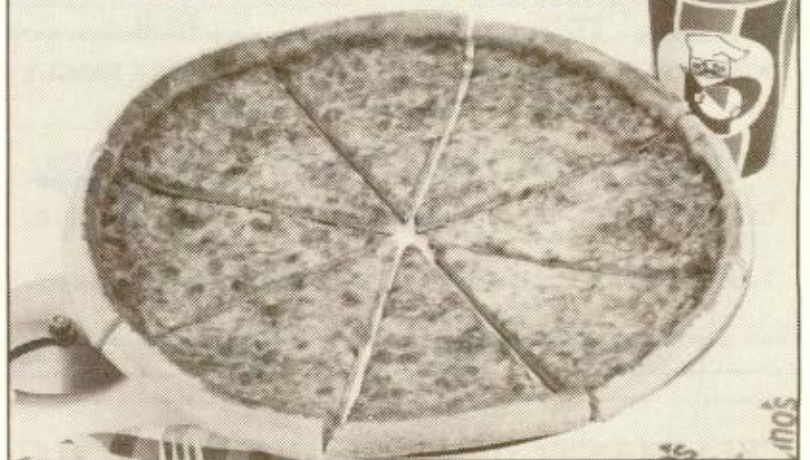

So mark your calendar for Nov. 13, an evening which is sure to be a four-star event! Make it a time to enjoy good food and music as well as the company of Jack the Barber. Renew old friendships, relive the glory days of the legendary Townies, sit in Jack's famous chair one last time — and all for a good cause — our kids!

Be sure to watch future editions of the Patriot for "Roast Updates" as this epic event unfolds. Don't be left out! Tickets, which are $25 per person or by tables of 10, are currently available from the following committee members: Tom Annaratone, 242-2027; Sheila Brown, 242-2683; Buddy Coleman, 242-2063; Dennis Collins, 242-2839; Tom Desmond, 241-8932; Kevin Gallagher, 242-7313; Peter Looney, 242-4032; Robert McGann, 242-7339; Martin O'Brien, 242-1939; Eric Philippi, 241-8185; Jack Sheehan, 337-3878; Dan Smith, 242-7420; John Tobin, 241-7222; James Walsh, 241-9429; Bill and Maureen McCabe, 242-9068; Walter "Bo" Batchelder, 233-4259; or Phil Carr, 242-1509.

CHAP News . . .

Seven members of the Charlestown Healthy Aging Program (CHAP) recently attended the annual meeting of the Massachusetts Association of Older Americans (MAOA) at the Kennedy Library.

Topics discussed were relevant to the present day crises of senior citizens. A video on national health care and a discussion on the preservation of Social Security and Medicare were extremely informative.

vised those present on the necessity of contacting representatives and senators on legislative bills. This has been a goal of CHAP since its formation five years ago. Do you belong to CHAP's phone tree?

On Friday, Oct. 23 at 10:30 a.m. CHAP is sponsoring a workshop on the Proxy Law at Constitution Co-op Apartments, 42 Park St.

Do you know all about the law? Age is not an issue when discussing this law. All should be knowledgeable about all aspects of the law.

Rose Sidom from the Legal Office will be the speaker. She is well-known for her knowledge of the law. Remember, the law pertains to persons of all ages.

All are welcome to attend.

A Proud Townie?

Dear Gloria:

I was always a proud Townie until Saturday, Oct. 3 when my handicapped brother was beaten and robbed in the Bunker Hill Housing Development.

I grew up in Charlestown and always felt safe and proud to live here. Since Saturday, my thoughts have changed when I think that some people would rob a handicapped person.

My question now is "What do people mean when they say I am proud to be a Townie?"

Congratulations

Dear Matt:

There are several reasons for writing to you at this time. First of all, I would like to send a heartfelt apology for neglecting to include your name in the Pop Warner thank you note published in the Oct. 1st issue of The Charlestown to the Charlestown clubhouse, we have been able to keep our parents, kids and community abreast of programs and activities available at our facility. Most importantly however is the recognition you have given to clubhouse members and staff. What a thrill it is for a child to see his or her name in print; to have an article for the scrapbook and to send to grandparents!

As an organization heading into our centennial year, we recognize that our successes would be fewer without the support of other community institutions like the Patriot. We salute you on your 35th and wish you continued success.

Sincerely,

Frances K. Moseley

Sincere Thanks From The Logue Family

To The Editor:

On behalf of myself and the entire Logue family, I wish to express my sincere thanks for the dedication of the street corner to my brother, PFC Thomas Logue. The effort of James Conway and the American Legion Post ensured that this fallen hero received his proper recognition.

The Mass on board the USS Cassin Young, the wreath laying, the band, the participating American Legion Posts and the auspicious speakers combined to create an air of dignity, reverence and American pride. The participation of my neighbors and fellow Charlestown residents who stood and watched the unveiling added a sense of community and fellowship to the occasion.

As we stood on the street and watched the unveiling, and subsequent times when I have passed the corner, I realize my brother and his sacrifice will never be forgotten. Thank you, James Conway, and the American Legion for your effort to ensure that veterans and their families will continue to be recognized for their sacrifice.

Gratefully yours,
Hugh S. Logue

Thank You, Matt Stillman

Patriot. This was not done intentionally, but was an unfortunate oversight on my part, since I proofread the draft of the letter.

Please be assured that there is not one single person who has any dealings with the football league who does not realize WHO initiated and brought the program to fruition. We are all in agreement that without your diligent, hard work and leadership, there would be no league in Charlestown today.

I would also like to make a personal promise to you, and that is to take every action necessary to ensure that this program is successful. I'm sure that our beliefs are in concert when I say that the youth of Charlestown deserve no less.

I wish only the best for you in your chosen vocation.

Thank you and GOD BLESS!

Respectfully yours,

Jack Schievink, president
Charlestown Pop Warner Football

Sludge! . . . Cancer?

Before 200 truckloads a day of sludge are brought into Charlestown, residents should demand an explanation of what steps have been taken to determine the reasons Charlestown was reported having the highest rate of cancer in Boston!

Attend your Neighborhood Council meetings. Support the residents who are blocking Medford Street in the area of Domino Sugar!

St. Mary's Christian Adult Organization

Young adults from Charlestown are forming a group at St. Mary's Church to come together for social and spiritual activities. Anyone who is interested may obtain information after the 10:30 a.m. Centennial Mass on Oct. 11. There will be young adults who will attend the reception at St. Mary's Hall following the Mass to answer any questions for those interested in joining.

The first meeting of the group will be on Sunday, Oct. 18 in the parish hall, following the 11:30 a.m. Mass. Jim Breen, the director of the Archdiocesan Young Adult Ministry, will speak about the work of young adult groups already established in the Boston area. All are welcome — married and single — 20s and 30s!

For further information, call Father Casey at 242-4664.

Cub Scout And Boy Scout Registration

A meeting will be held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 15 at the American Legion Hall, 23 Adams St. to register boys for Charlestown Cub Pack 2 and Boy Scout Troop 2, sponsored by Bunker Hill Post 26, A.L.

The Boy Scouts of America, founded in 1910, is celebrating another year of membership growth in Charlestown. Since 1989, Boy Scout, Cub Scout, Tiger Cub and Exploring membership has more than doubled in the communities of Charlestown, Chelsea, East Boston, Everett, Revere and Somerville. On Oct. 15, the local Scout units will have registration for new candidates.

In these tough economic times, more parents are realizing that Scouting is a relatively inexpensive program which prepares young people for the challenges they will encounter in the future. Through its outstanding advancement program, exciting activities and great role models, the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts positively influence the lives of millions. With a strong scouting background to help them, many young people are better able to realize their full potential in life.

• "Clowns-A-Poppin '92" — The cast of our 1992 show is ready to perform this weekend, Oct. 10 and 11. For many, transportation can be through family members or neighbors. Those in need of a ride can call the rectory at 242-1750 and ask for our secretary. All other parishioners
