Take First Place In 'Dunny' Golf Tournament

THE WINNING TEAM at the second annual James F. "Dunny" Donovan Golf Tournament were presented awards at a dinner held at St. Catherine's Hall following the tourney. The second annual James F. "Dunny" Donovan Golf Tournament took place on July 15 at the George Wright Golf Club in Hyde Park. The rainy day was brightened by the 36 teams who braved the weather and made the day a tremendous success.

After a wet start, the team of Billy Boyle, Danny Doherty, Steven McLaughlin and Michael Murphy took home first place. Second place was not so easy to decide as there was a tie. Therefore, a coin toss was the judge and the team of Kevin Birchill, Sean Delaney, Boston Bruin Ted Donato and Matt Mahoney were awarded second place. Graciously accepting the third place prize was Dana Curry, Eddie Duffy, John Killoran and Tom Reagan. The "Horse's A__" Trophy, given out to the last place team, was won by now two-time and back-to-back winners Ed Gallet, Pat Locke, Pat Quirk and Larry Stackpole.

In addition, to the tournament there were two contests for closest to the pin and longest drive. Kevin Tkachuk edged out Dave Martell for the longest drive. Paul Cotter and Jamie McLaughlin won for closest to the pin.

Several ice hockey celebrities joined the locals in the tournament. They included Jimmy Vesey of the Phoenix Roadrunners; Steve Heinze and Ted Donato of the Boston Bruins; former Bruins Chris Nilan, Alan Pederson and Gord Kluzack; and New York Ranger Brian Leetch.

However, win or lose, participants in the day happily celebrated their efforts and achievements at St. Catherine's hall for the awards ceremony, the announcement of the raffle winners, a buffet catered by Victoria's of Revere and music provided by DJs Leo J. Harrington and Eric Johnson.

Lucky raffle winners were Helen Sullivan, who won a set of Ping Pongs with a bag; Ann Gill, who won $500; and Denny Borden, who won Big Bertha (continued on page 8)

Money Matters by Nicholas C. Pino

"Let us assist you in your financial planning"

KEEP AN EYE ON YOUR IRA INVESTMENTS

Many people who have Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) aren't getting the most out of them because they tend to just let them sit. Don't fall into this trap. You should continually monitor the returns on your IRA investments. If you aren't happy with the returns you're getting, you can easily move your IRA money.

There are two ways to move IRA funds from one account to another. You can use what is called a "rollover" in which the money is paid directly to you, or you can utilize a "direct transfer" whereby you never touch the funds. When moving money from one IRA to another in search of higher investment returns, a direct transfer between the two IRA trustees usually offers advantages over a rollover.

If you use a rollover, you are responsible for reinvesting the payout from your old IRA in a new IRA within 60 days. Failure to meet this deadline will cost you dearly. Amounts not rolled over within the 60-day period won't qualify for the tax-free rollover treatment and therefore, must be included in your gross income and taxed accordingly. What's more, if you are under age 59 1/2, you will be hit with an additional tax equal to 10 percent of the distribution - on top of any regular income tax that is due on the amount of the distribution. There's always a chance that an accident or error will cause you to miss the deadline, leaving the entire rollover to be taxed.

A direct transfer (from one trustee to another) preserves your options. Unlike a "rollover" in which the money is paid directly to you and you have a 60-day time limit to put it into another IRA, a direct transfer doesn't have to be reported on your income tax form because the money technically never leaves a qualified account. Also, while you can rollover your IRA only once every 12 months, no limit is placed on the number of "transfers" you can make each year.

TO SEE HOW THIS CAN AFFECT YOU, CALL TODAY!

Fifty-Three Charlestown Residents In Record-Breaking Massport Summer Jobs Program

The Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport) has hired 53 students from Charlestown to participate in its 1994 Summer Jobs Program. This year's program is dramatically expanded over the year before, funding 642 positions for Greater Boston students - an increase of 71 percent over 1993's total of 374 jobs. Funding for the 1994 program will total over $1.4 million, which represents a 76 percent increase over last year's funding level of $810,000. The 1994 program establishes Massport as the area's largest single source of summer jobs for the second straight year.

"I'm a strong believer in summer jobs as one of the best ways to give young people the work experience they need to expand their horizons," said Massport Executive Director and CEO Stephen P. Tocco. "It makes sense to do as much as we can."

One distinctive feature of Massport's program is that more than half of the positions are outside the Authority. Since 1991, Massport has provided funds to more than 60 service programs throughout Greater Boston so that these programs could hire additional staff for the summer.

In 1994, Massport is paying for 370 students to work in a wide range of social service programs, including peer counseling, day care, elderly assistance, community health centers, summer camps and recreation. In some cases, Massport's support will save programs that were being eliminated due to local budget cuts.

Massport's Community Summer Jobs Program is the only one of its kind in the nation that helps to mitigate the effect of airport operations on impacted communities.

Within the Authority, Massport has hired high school, college and graduate students for summer employment for the past 14 years. This year, Massport is supplying 272 jobs throughout its facilities as a means to help students finance their education. Whenever possible, students are placed in jobs related to their majors in school. Summer placements include positions in marketing, finance, aviation, computer science, business administration and human resource manage-

In total, the two components of Massport's summer jobs effort in 1994 add up to 642 jobs at a funding level of $1.65 million.

The following is a list of Charlestown residents who received employment through the Community Summer Jobs Program and the Charlestown agency they are working in this summer.

Camp Bunker Hill: Nicholas Cunha, Jennifer Evers, Kathleen Evers, Daniel Kelley, Eric Paquin and Christine Southern.

Charlestown Boys & Girls Club: Lori Burke, Sharon D'Urbano, Derek Gallagher, Natasha Lyman, Merry Sullivan, Peter Truong and Kimberly Weafer.

Courageous Sailing Center: Annemika Aterna, Rocco DePace, Heather Richard and Mark Van Note.

molo, Matthew Ezekiel, Paul Flynn, Michael Marino, Kathleen Murray, Melissa Pacheco, Melinda Pierce and Eileen Rooney.

Bunker Hill Youth Outreach: Janice Marie Casey, Michael Erardi, Sean Getchell, Luis Rivera, James Saccardo, Greg Staples and James Yandle.

Also, Community Jobs Program participant Chris Flynn was assigned to a position at the Chelsea Department of Public Works.

Finally, the following Charlestown residents were assigned to positions throughout Massport: Jill Emerson, Keith Florentino, Melanie Getchell, Suzanne Melanson and Patricia Reilly.

DOG DAYS?

While most Realtors are animal lovers with pets of our own, we've also shared stories of having fingers or ankles nipped by furry creatures that have lived in our listings. Or we open the door to a home, and a purebred Persian kitten scoots through our legs toward the nearest busy street.

If you have pets and you're about to put your house on the market, work out the showing arrangements carefully. It's important that we communicate to colleagues what to expect when they pass through your front door. While it's rare for pets to pose significant problems, a few do - especially very big dogs. Occasionally, we run into buyers (or agents) who are allergic to dogs or cats. Some are even a little bit phobic. It can be difficult to get a buyer excited about the possibility of living in your home if he's sneezing or cowering in a corner afraid of being Fido's dinner. If you know there might be a problem, we can arrange ahead of time for you to walk the dog, vacuum up the cat dander or do whatever is needed to make sure the showing goes smoothly.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Monument Properties. Call us at 241-5900 or stop by our office at 85 Warren St., Charlestown.

"Flower Power" was used to describe Bunker Hill Florist at One Thompson Square. It noted: "If you want posies that impress, Bunker Hill Florist can be relied upon to do it with elegance and style" . . . A "Hidden Oasis" is what the Tavern on the Water on Pier 6 in the Charlestown Navy Yard was called. The magazine related: "Opened eight months ago, the Tavern has great water views, outdoor dining and outrageous sunset jazz entertainment in the summer on Thursdays and Fridays. Come by car, water taxi, or sail over on your yacht." This new oasis is owned by Kathy and Bob of The Warren Tavern . . . A new bakery, Biga Breads at 50 Terminal St., was also in the best list. The comments were: "We could live by bread alone if it came from Biga Breads, the fledgling bakery that already has an enthusiastic following for its crusty peasant-style loaves. Olive bread and black currant and molasses loaf are especially popular but our favorites are the sour cherry and walnut and the chewy classic baguettes" . . . nice to see our locals getting a pat on the back!

• They're Still Waiting! . . . The infamous team of Peter, Sheila and Jack left one important aspect of the recent Scavenger Hunt undone . . . and they are going to be hounded until it's completed . . . It seems as though one stop during the recent Friday night madness was at the 99 Restaurant & Pub in the Bunker Hill Mall. Each team was given a note by the hostess with the mostess, Lorraine, as they entered the restaurant telling them that the team must sing for the bartenders in order to get their clue . . . Well, according to a reliable source, the hostess stepped away from her station, Peter saw the envelope with the clue and headed out the door, never gathering his team to do the required singing . . . Peter, Sheila and Jack - they are waiting for you three at the 99 and you had best make a date to serenade the staff . . . Remember, it's not over until the fat lady sings!

• A Scheduling Error . . . by BNN-TV resulted in the Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Exercises, produced by Kevin Burke, not being cablecast on July 24. However, it will be shown this Sunday, Aug. 7 at 10:30 a.m. on Cable Channel 3.

The James Donovan Scholarship Committee raised $15,000 from the tournament which will be distributed throughout the community in Jimmy's name.

James "Dunny" Donovan was a man who died far too soon, last April at the age of 23. He was a lifelong Charlestown resident, a member of the Boys & Girls Club, a member of St. Catherine's parish and a student at Bunker Hill Community College. He was also involved in many sports throughout his life including football, hockey and had started golfing. Jimmy left behind a lot of family and friends who wanted to cherish his memory. Therefore, the James F. Donovan Scholarship Committee was established last October.

Jimmy's family and friends united to keep his spirit alive. Last year they sponsored the first annual Golf Tournament and the "Dunny Cup," which proved to be a coveted ball hockey crown that was sought after by 14 teams from Charlestown and other parts of Boston.

In addition, to these events the committee has given back to the community. Last year, eight children at Charlestown Catholic received scholarships for school. The committee donated money to the Bunker Hill Day Parade and sponsored the tee-ball team "Dunny's Pals."

This year, the committee plans to continue their scholarships to Charlestown Catholic, and they will also give out four scholarships to children entering high school. They have also given money to the Boys & Girls Club and will sponsor a Charlestown Youth Hockey In-house hockey team this season.

The eulogy of a famous doctor who died in 1927 reads: "When an ordinary man dies, his friends are grieved at the time, and then things go on about the same. Once in a while there occurs a rare spirit of such beauty and radiance that the loss is greater and more permanent. [His] was such a spirit; the kindly touch of his hand, the obvious good will and friendliness that shone in his smile, marked him as a man entirely apart from the ordinary."

Many people who knew Jimmy could use these same words to describe him. It is this same sense of respect and dedication which have led the family and friends of James F. "Dunny" Donovan to pay tribute to his uniqueness and life. His spirit and smile will always be passed on and remembered.

Donations can be made to the committee by sending them to: James F. Donovan Scholarship Fund, 140 Main St., Box 12, Charlestown Mass. 02129

SJC Program Gives Youths Their Day In Court

Yohan Germosen of Charlestown, a student at Charlestown High School, is among 32 Boston area high school students who are learning about the Mass. judicial system this summer from a unique perspective, inside the courthouse. The Judicial Youth Corps is the nation's first court-sponsored program to combine law-related education with paid summer internships in the courts for high school students.

Founded in 1990 by Supreme Judicial Court Chief Justice Paul J. Liacos, the 16-week program is designed to expand young people's understanding of fundamental legal values and to foster an appreciation of the judicial system through education and hands-on interaction with the courts.

This year, students from Boston Public Schools, parochial schools and Revere and Winthrop High Schools were selected to participate in the program, based on teacher recommendations and individual interviews with court personnel.

From a volunteer faculty of judges, lawyers and various court personnel who also act as mentors, the students learn about subjects that affect their lives, such as juvenile law, domestic violence and violence prevention, criminal justice, small claims and housing and family matters. Students are given the opportunity to observe actual trials involving these subjects as well.

Following an eight-week orientation in the spring, students began working last week in the various courts throughout Suffolk County. The students are paid an average total of $1,200 for their eight-week summer job, in which they are responsible for filing court documents, maintaining records and answering telephones.

The Judicial Youth Corps program has been recognized nationally with a merit award from the American Bar Association as an "outstanding community partnership program that promotes greater understanding of the justice system."

Thank You Everyone!

Dear Gloria,

St. Catherine's held its first Adult Scavenger Hunt on July 22. The 72 participants had a great time. We couldn't have done it without the help of local businesses, namely The 99 Restaurant and Pub, The Tavern on the Water and Blockbuster Video in Charlestown, Louie's Ice Cream in Somerville and the Boston Fire Department, Engine 1 - Ladder 8 in the North End, all enthusiastically joined in the fun.

Teams of "scavengers" went to these places to find clues and were even allowed to sing at the "99." We are very lucky to have so many businesses in Charlestown that support so many local activities.

A special thank goes to our volunteer bartenders, Paul Rizzo, Jim McIsaac and Patty Awbrey. They help out at most of our events. We truly appreciate their time and generosity.

And one more word of thanks goes to the Adult Activities Committee, Mary Rizzo, Barbara McIsaac, Lois Gallagher, Marianne Lacey and Kathy Whitehouse, who continue to put on great fun times for adults in Charlestown.

We're looking forward to the Adult All-Nighter in the fall!

Sincerely,
Mary Featherston

Good News In Heavy Boston Traffic!

The honorable John F. Gilmore was a former State Representative from the Charlestown District of the city of Boston. He was also a Justice of the Municipal Court of the Charlestown District.

Perhaps the name Gilmore is familiar to you. If you listen to radio traffic reports, undoubtedly you've heard conditions described on the Gilmore Bridge.

The Gilmore Bridge was dedicated in the 70s. From the O'Brien Highway into Charlestown, spanning the railroad tracks, this is one of Boston's busiest bridges.

Five to six days a week, I approach the Gilmore Bridge from the north, taking the Sullivan Square exit off 93 south. I travel New Rutherford Avenue alongside the Hood Plant and reach the Gilmore Bridge at Bunker Hill Community College.

Having traveled over the Gilmore Bridge for the last 16 years, I conclude this is one of the friendliest places to drive in all of Boston. I've never had to struggle to join the flow of traffic on the Gilmore Bridge. Inevitably, in a short time, vehicles slow down to allow newcomers to join the flow. I find the same speedy courtesies extended to me and other drivers when it is necessary to make a lane change on the bridge.

One morning, while stopped on the Gilmore Bridge waiting for the traffic to move, I was startled by a knock on my door window. I cautiously rolled my window down part way and was greeted by a smile and a large collection of keys extended to me. "I saw these hanging from your trunk, thought you might need them." After closing my trunk early that morning at home in New Hampshire before leaving for work, I had forgotten to remove my keys from the lock.

Some mornings, traffic backs up to the Hood Plant and beyond. Drivers struggle in stuttering stop and go efforts. When crawling up onto the Gilmore Bridge, patience and concern for others dominate.

The Honorable John F. Gilmore is honored indeed by the thoughtful, generous individuals who navigate his bridge during the busiest, most stressful time of the weekday commute.

The Issue Is Control

As it was in the era that forced prohibition down the throats of the American people, the only thing the fanatics of that dark period in our history succeeded in doing, was to create the largest criminal empire in United States history. It is still with us today.

In the end, after 13 agonizing years, they lost in their crusade to abolish the sale of alcohol in America. Not unlike their predecessors, the anti-smoking fanatics of this day are forging ahead with the same zeal to prohibit smoking in America.

As with all fanatics, they offer no compromise which would be acceptable to most fair-minded Americans. All they want is conformity to their position, regardless of cost.

If the crusade against smoking is successful, and prohibition is implemented, it will result in the loss of billions of tax dollars from the sale of tobacco products.

One would have to be a fool not to realize this loss of revenue will have to be made up by the already burdened middle class taxpayers.

I fully appreciate that smoking is offensive to some people and they should not be subjected to environs where people are smoking.

This is where compromise should take place. In the work place, designated areas should be provided to satisfy smokers. With regard to restaurants and bars, there should be both smoking and non-smoking facilities enabling people to make their own choices. The decision should be made by the entrepreneur.

I Do Not Support Decriminalization Of Drugs

To The Editor:

Legalization of drugs has been proposed by my opponent in the race for Clerk of Suffolk County Superior Court for Criminal Business as a means to "unclog the courts" for "more serious cases." Does my opponent, with no legal education or experience, even know how a case gets to Suffolk Superior Court? The "more serious cases" are the cases which are in the Superior Court.

Drug legalization would add to the problems our society faces. Many of the serious crimes committed today are committed while the perpetrators are under the influence of an intoxicating substance or mind-altering drug. Legalizing drugs would increase drug supply and availability and, therefore, increase crime.

Should the person elected as the next Clerk of the Suffolk Superior Court for Criminal Business be a person who rationalizes the lax attitude of some in a generation who experimented with drugs? As the Clerk of Court may set bail,

But the issue is far greater than the general public has been led to believe, that of health, based on the somewhat dubious EPA report on the effects of second-hand smoke.

Let no one doubt, the issue is control.

The social engineers are not going to stop if their crusade against smoking is successful. They have been trying for decades to ban peoples' right to keep and bear arms, and a victory over smokers will only further their resolve toward further bans.

Who knows, they may even go after alcohol again. Certainly it is not beyond the realm of possibility they will prohibit advertising of beer on television and in print.

Another infringement of free speech in America.

A visionary once said, "Never underestimate the stupidity of the American people." How appropriate that quotation is today.

If the American people fail to regain control of our government, all that our predecessors fought to protect will be lost, and America will be ruled by tyranny.

And, we better regain control fast before we turn over the best health care system in the world, to an intrusive bloated bureaucracy which will exact total control over our health needs.

To illustrate: Has the federal government ever entered into a policy that has been efficient and cost-effective?

The answer is all too clear.

'S.S. John W. Brown' Steams Into Boston Harbor Aug. 23 - Charlestown W.W. II Merchant Marine Veterans To Be Honored

The S.S. John W. Brown, one of only two remaining World War II Liberty Ships, steams into the port of Boston for the first time, on Tuesday, Aug. 23. This fully-restored floating memorial, dedicated to the men and women who built, sailed and defended the World War II Liberty fleet, will dock at the Charlestown Navy Yard at approximately 8:30 a.m.

The ship will then be open to the public from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. through Friday, Aug. 26 and again on Sunday, Aug. 28 from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Admission to the ship is free, with voluntary contributions strongly encouraged.

During the early years of World War II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt organized an unprecedented emergency shipbuilding program. In order to build ships faster than the enemy could sink them, more than 2,700 Liberty ships were produced between 1941 and 1945. These were not warships, but merchant vessels that carried two-thirds of all the heavy equipment, weapons and supplies needed to launch the Allied offensive.

About 2,500 Liberty ships survived the war. Now, only the John W. Brown and the Jeremiah O'Brien, berthed in San Francisco, remain intact and are fully-restored.

The remarkable restoration of the John W. Brown was undertaken by Project Liberty Ship Inc., a non-profit, all-volunteer organization. In the past six years since Project Liberty Ship retrieved the Brown from the reserve fleet in Virginia, more than 250,000 man hours and $2.8 million have been spent to restore the ship to steaming condition, reactivating her as a maritime museum and memorial. In 1991, the John W. Brown sailed under her own power for the first time since her seagoing career ended in 1946.

The crew serving aboard the John W. Brown is unique. Now in their 60s and 70s, many of the volunteers were officers and crewmen on the Brown, or on other Liberty ships during the war. These veteran merchant mariners, shipyard workers and Naval Armed Guardsmen remain dedicated to keeping the history of the Liberty fleet alive. Visitors to the John W. Brown will survey a vessel restored to look as it did at the end of World War II and meet original Liberty ship crewmen at work.

A rare opportunity to sail aboard the John W. Brown is offered on Saturday, Aug. 27 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A six-hour "Cruise Into History" will feature tours of the ship, displays of authentic period military gear, World War II aircraft fly-bys, dancing to 1940s music of a live Big Band, a continental breakfast and a buffet luncheon. Tickets for the cruise are $100 per guest (tax deductible) and can be obtained by writing to Project Liberty Ship, P.O. Box 1542, Fort Washington, Penn. 19034.

Mobil, which supplied the lubricants needed for the engines of the John W. Brown, is also supporting the ship's voyage to Boston. Says Gerhard Kurz, president of Mobil Shipping, the transportation company, "The restoration of the John W. Brown evokes a real sense of the tremendous effort required to maintain open sea lanes in time of war. During World War II, more than 50 ships in Mobil's fleet were either sunk or badly damaged in the line of duty.

"Being involved in the Liberty ship project allows us to underscore Mobil's significant contributions to the war effort. More importantly, however, we honor the heroic sacrifices made by the men and women who served, and remember their courage, determination and devotion to duty."

On Sunday, Aug. 28, Charlestown residents who served in the Merchant Marines during World War II and made the supreme sacrifice will be honored. The men and women who served as Merchant Marines during that war have recently been designated as veterans. Plans for the ceremony are being coordinated by the Charlestown Veterans Committee, Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion and the administrators of the John W. Brown.
