

Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force Oppose Sale Of State Public Housing

The Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force will be joining hundreds of other public housing tenants from across the city and state at a State Legislative Hearing at Gardner Auditorium on Wednesday, March 27th at 5:30 p.m. to speak out against the sale of state public housing and in support of Senate Bill 948, which would prevent such sales.

Tenant concern stems from a 40 year old state law, MGL Ch. 121B section 34, regulating the issuance of state construction bonds for public housing. It requires the sale of these housing developments after the bonds are paid. Evidently, the legislature then believed there would be no need for public housing in forty years. Today, with over 50,000 people living in BHA Housing and thousands on waiting lists, the need is apparent.

"Our BHA neighbors need our help to stop the sale of state public housing," stated Mary MacInnes of the Task Force. She went on to say, "If we want to stay here in Charlestown, we have to be prepared. If our development was directly affected, we would be looking for help from residents in state projects."

Tontine Crescent Associates Awarded Final Designation For Main Street Development

The Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) today gave Tontine Crescent Associates, Inc. final designation for the Charlestown Crescent, a $10 million development along the curved section of Main Street immediately adjacent to the City Square area.

The developer for the project is Charlestown resident and developer James Adams, who has rehabilitated over 100 units of residential and commercial properties in Charlestown for the past twenty years, including the Warren Tavern and the Thompson Green.

The Charlestown Crescent, designed by Barry Koretz Associates of Boston and financed by Mutual Bank of Newton, is expected to be completed in approximately 18 months and will consist of two crescent buildings in a crescent-shaped curve 300 feet long. It will include 57 condominiums, 18 rental units, 90 parking spaces, and 16,000 square feet of rental offices.

Included on the site closest to City Square will be the Charlestown Veterans' Memorial Park, the City of Boston's first general veterans' memorial, dedicated solely to veterans of all our country's wars.

The Charlestown Memorial Park, which will be 2,000 square feet, will be the result of a national design competition attracting submissions from both practicing design professionals and students alike. The entrants will be judged by nationally recognized designers and architects and cash awards will be made to the winner and the other finalists.

The competition, to be formally announced in May will be overseen by an Advisory Committee chaired by Charlestown resident James W. Conway. Committee members include Judge Mary M. Brennan, Professor Walter T. Greaney, Jr., Judge Walter E. Steele and Don R. Brown, AIA.

With special attention to every detail, Adams believes that the Charlestown Crescent will be the "Gateway to Charlestown."

TODAY: This photograph is the view of Main Street today from the corner of Winthrop Street. The elevated structure has been removed, leaving the street undeveloped and vacant. By the end of 1986, the Charlestown Crescent, a $10 million development, will give new life to the historic City Square area.

TOMORROW: The model of Charlestown Crescent gives the perspective of how the "Gateway to Charlestown" will appear in 18 months when construction of this development is completed. This view shows Warren Street in the foreground with Main Street to the right and Park Street to the left. CharlesNewTown Board Proposes Site For Police Substation

by Marianne Martin

Close to four years ago, the Charlestown Police Station was forced to close its doors in City Square, but behind the scenes, several individuals have been quietly lobbying to return the police back to a Charlestown base.

Both residents and police have expressed a desire to reopen the station, however, there lies in opposition the common enemy — money.

Due to Proposition 2½, which placed a cap on property taxes, the City Square station was forced to close since Boston is a city supported by property tax and approximately 60% of the city's property is tax exempt.

Last year, Deputy Superintendent of Area A, Joseph V. Saia, proposed opening a substation in Thompson Square, in the office space adjacent to Store 24.

While Saia states, "I almost had it in there," with Store 24 offering to donate the space as well as pay for utilities, the problem became one of lack of adequate personnel to man the station.

According to Saia, due to limited monies, the police department has not hired additional personnel in almost two years, while at the same time, the department has experienced a depletion of staff as members leave the force for one reason or another.

Saia stated despite this setback to establish a substation in Charlestown, he will continue fighting.

A second attempt at opening a substation began over a year ago, when the Board of Directors of CharlesNewTown submitted plans for renovating the vacant storefront abutting The Godfather Pizza Shop on Medford Street into a substation.

According to Donna Hennessey, the onsite manager for the housing cooperative of 262 families, the Board approached Mayor Raymond Flynn with their proposal last October, after which, the Board met with police and city officials and discussed renovations necessary to convert the space into a substation.

The Board agreed to "foot the bill" for the station by paying all utilities and renovation expenses.

Hennessey stated the proposal by the cooperative would supply the space at "no cost to the city or taxpayers and there are no strings attached - no lease and no commitment."

The Board then hired an architect at a cost of $600 and blueprints were submitted to City Hall for approval.

The total investment for the renovation and maintenance of the substation would, according to Hennessey, require a $10,000 investment by the cooperative.

Hennessey reported that she was notified the plans were approved this past December by City Hall and forwarded to Police Headquarters.

According to Thomas Terranova from the City of Boston Public Facilities Department, the plans have not been approved.

Terranova stated the requirements for a substation are "above and beyond" those provided in the CharlesNewTown plans.

"We can't utilize the area they have," stated Terranova, "There would be extensive work. We need a much larger space."

Since Charlestown is not within sufficient proximity to the main station, a substation, in order to properly service the area, would have to provide facilities similar to the main station.

Terranova stated there would have to be area sufficient to house two interrogation rooms, which would allow privacy to both victims and those arrested; approximately six holding cells; and locker and changing space for the police officers.

In total, a substation would require "several thousand square feet," stated Terranova, something the storefront on Medford Street does not provide.

Terranova stated the CharlesNewTown space did not provide such space and "with a high crime area, a lock up area is needed."

At the last police community relations meeting held on March 12th, Lieutenant Ray Lowney told residents it was his personal feeling that there would never be a substation in Charlestown, nor did he wish to see one open. According to the officer, a physical structure would not assure better police protection to the area.

"You have to have a number (of police officers) protecting you, not a building," stated Lowney. A physical structure which may provide a "sense of security" to the community is not as effective as the centralized station with a mobile police force, said Lowney.

Saia, on the other hand, disagrees with Lowney stating, "We're still pushing for it. I have always made it known to both the mayor and the commissioner."

Saia stated he is also realistic. "Right now, I can't see opening a substation until the city gets help from the state to aid the $30 million deficit."

"I'm always pushing for a substation in Charlestown," stated Saia, "Hopefully, we'll get it."

Saia stated if and when there is a substation in Charlestown, the location of it would be best in either Thompson Square or City Square which is accessible to the whole town by public transportation.

Regardless of location, there is a desperate sense of urgency for the substation. According to those interviewed, there is too much vandalism, larceny, drugs, and murder in Charlestown.

"You can't tell me there is no crime in Charlestown," stated Hennessey, "If the substation were in New-Town they (the police) would be a lot closer to the source."

"There have been three murders in this area in the past twelve months," stated

Hennessey's assistant Marguerite Griffin, "and that's three too many."

Griffin stated no one "expects miracles" from a substation, "but if it stops one murder or one break in, then it's worth it."

Representative Voke Co-Sponsor Of Consumer Utility Board Bill

Representative Richard A. Voke is one of a number of General Court members co-sponsoring S.872, an act establishing the creation of a Consumer Utility Board (CUB) in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. This bill is a refile of last year's CUB legislation, which died in the waning days of the 1984 session.

Non-partisan and citizen-controlled, CUB would be an organization devoted to representing the interests of gas, electricity, and telephone service consumers. The act would allow the organization to solicit voluntary contributions by placing an insert in utility bills. Once $100,000 in contributions was collected, members would elect a Board of Directors, which

Enlists In Air Force

Mark P. Mackley, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Mackley of 98 Walford Way, Charlestown recently entered the Air Force Delayed Enlistment Program, according to Staff Sergeant Larry R. Mann, Air Force Recruiter in Boston.

The 1983 graduate of Christopher Columbus High School is scheduled to leave for basic training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas on July 24, 1985.

Plans are for Mackley to receive technical training in the Photo Specialist career field for which transferrable college credits will be awarded.

Good Neighbor Award Winner

Charlestown resident Edna Boyle is among 35 citizens of the Greater Boston area named as a winner in the Good Neighbor Award Program, sponsored annually by the National Conference of Christians and Jews (NCCJ).

Boyle was recognized for her efforts to establish a beautification project at the Bunker Hill Housing Development in Charlestown.

The NCCJ honored the winners at a March 6 luncheon in the Dorothy Quincy Suite of the John Hancock Hall in Boston.

from then on would coordinate CUB's activities.

According to Representative Voke, who is a leading figure in the consumer advocacy movement, the CUB legislation would basically, "field a staff of experts to study utility issues, provide information, and serve as consumer advocates before such governmental bodies as the Department of Public Utilities, the legislature, and the judiciary." Voke continued, "It's primary objective would be to keep utility rates as low as reasonably possible and to offer policy alternatives in the areas of energy and telecommunications."

Proponents of the legislation point out that CUB will not cost the taxpayers a nickel or add a new level of bureaucracy to state government. In short, S.872 simply allows consumers to have access to the billing procedure.

"It is the potential for savings to the consumer that makes the CUB legislation so vitally important," commented Voke. "Although CUB died last year as a result of a strong lobbying effort by the utility companies, I am confident that we co-sponsors can rally our support for CUB and get it passed during this legislative session," asserted Voke.

CUB will meet its first test on March 27, when the Committee on Government Regulations will hold a hearing to solicit testimony from all sides of the issue.

Plus, to make it even easier, you can arrange to have your IRA automatically funded through payroll deductions.

Of course, while your Newworld IRA is earning high interest for your future, there's another big advantage that you can use right now. As you might have heard, contributions to an IRA are deferred from federal taxes.* Which means an individual wage earner can make an annual deductible contribution up to $2000, and working couples can deduct up to $4000. And with April 15th approaching, the tax savings alone make a Newworld IRA worth investigating.

For more information about our Newworld IRA's and CD's, stop by any of our Newworld offices or call our personal banking center at 1-800-325-5503. Or for your added convenience, just clip and mail the special coupon. We think a few painless cuts now will save you some unpleasant ones down the road.

For A Few Short Hours

by Charlie McGonagle

For a few, short, precious hours they ceased to be what they had become. Almost magically, as through a time machine they grasped the hands of a clock and turned them backward ever backward, until a quarter of a century ago became today.

They knew, each of them, that their look into yesterday would be but a glance, and that in a matter of hours they would once again be salesmen, police officers, firefighters, driver teachers, foremen, longshoremen, engineers, housewives, librarians, and business men and women. They would return to reality and to the responsibilities the years had shaped for them.

But for a few short hours, they would be kids again. This would be in a time and a place where the most important thing in their world would be tomorrow's game and Friday's dance. A time and a place where the world began and ended with each new case of puppy love. A time and a place where those who walked home alone from St. Catherine's Dance pretended it did not hurt, when in fact it did. A time and a place where drugs and other pressures of society facing today's kids did not exist.

For a few short hours, they talked to old friends and shared stories of their families. Most of them remembered that twenty-five years ago, a college education was only a dream. They remembered that, and decided their kids would have the opportunity they had missed. So, proudly, and rightfully so, they spoke of Williams, the University of Massachusetts, St. Anselm's, and Westfield.

But most of all, they remembered when they were kids, and when the common bond they shared was friendship, and how that friendship had survived a quarter of a century. They did not need a guarantee to know that bond would last a lifetime. Neither time nor distance would do anything to damage something born so long ago and built stronger by the years.

They called it Hayes Square, and though it is a place, it was but a name used to bring more than three hundred people together. Some thought that only those with the ties to Hayes Square would be there, but if that was true, perhaps there would not have been Sullivans, O'Neils, Keoughs, Farren Stevens, Collins, Dolahers, and Denneheys from such far away places as Baldwin, Pearl, Auburn, Eden, Elm, Chappie, and Oak.

It was not merely a gathering to remember a place. No, it was a gathering to remember a time and a people, and as they years have changed Hayes Square, so have they changed the people. They are not old, but they are older. Dimpled smiles are now marked with the inevitable lines the years have drawn, and many waistlines strain against too-tight belts. But those changes are but superficial. Inside, at the heart, where the true person exists, there have been no changes.

Time has taken many of them to other places, but they proved, just by being there, that a large part of them has never been able to leave. They cannot forget the pride their community shared when its high school won State Championships, and those who attended intown or parochial schools still find it difficult to explain their allegiance to "The High School." They are sorry that the power of politics and government has taken that from the kids who live in their community today.

They were surprised by the number of names which still fit the faces, and only slightly embarrassed when one of those faces was slow to prompt a name. After all, a quarter of a century is a long time. They were surprised, too, how quickly their minds flashed back to Saturday morning hockey games, Friday night dances, Sunday night at the "Hippie," the Boys' Club swimming pool, the "Oily" on an icy winter's night, the Hard-Top Softball League, Bond Bread, Fathers Smith, Gallagher, and Lucid, Chi-Rho, ski trips, drive ins, Revere Beach, the Cyclone, the Townies, the Falcons, and so many other things.

For a few short hours, they were able to return to all those things.

Some danced with old beaux, and perhaps for just a second or two, felt the spark which once brought them together.

They laughed and they sang, but most of all they talked and remembered.

And when the doors closed, signaling the end of those few magical hours, each of them knew there were some things they would never forget. Never.

Claire Cullen Lynch and her committee members are to be congratulated for the wonderful job they did in bringing together some three hundred people who were the "kids" in this town a generation ago.

Also, it has been nearly twenty-five years since Walter Papisadoro, Paul Troy, and Richie Powers graced an audience with their own rendition of "At The Hop." To the delight of all, they brought it back at the Hayes Square Reunion.

2. Graduate from high school in June 1985.

Applications are available in the Guidance Offices of Boston area parochial high schools and at Charlestown High School or contact Matthew J. O'Neil, Jr. at 23 Cross Street, Charlestown (telephone 241-9282).

More Adult And Player Involvement Needed To Continue Babe Ruth Baseball

The Charlestown Babe Ruth Executive Committee is making plans for starting their ninth consecutive year. However, the continuation of the program is in jeopardy. Unless more adults come forward to volunteer their services, we cannot continue to function.

In addition, there has been a decrease in the number of boys and girls signing up for the League.

Unless there is a significant increase in the number of boys and girls registering for the 1985 season, the Executive Committee of Joe Ryan, Phil Kelly, Kevin Connolly, and Phil Carr, have no alternative but to disband the League.

Pop Warner Football is suffering this disease, don't let it happen to baseball.

Any adults interested in helping, call Phil Kelly at 242-0646.

MEDICAL STUDENTS AT THE MGH-BUNKER HILL HEALTH CENTER

The MGH-Bunker Hill Health Center performs the task of training medical students so that they will become the doctors of tomorrow. These student, primarily from the Harvard Medical School, work under the supervision of staff doctors at the Health Center. We hope that they gain from this experience not only increased medical skills and knowledge, but also an interest in making a career in providing the kind of high quality community care that the Health Center strives to give.

Both patients and students benefit from their contact at the Health Center. A physical examination done by a medical student, after approval by the patient, includes a very thorough medical history (discussion with the patient of the current and past health) and a thorough physical examination. The student then discusses the history and physical examination with a staff physician, who sees the patient and double checks the results of the examination. The staff physician then decides on any tests or treatment that may be needed.

Some commonly asked questions about the medical student teaching program at the Bunker Hill Health Center are:

Q. Do the medical students know what they are doing?

A. They are well-trained. However, since they do not yet have the knowledge or experience of a physician in practice, they are closely supervised by one of the staff physicians, and all decisions are made by the staff physician.

Q. What happens when the student leaves?

A. Most students are at the Health Center for only one month. The supervising physician continues to see you whenever needed. In other words, during and after the student's time at the Health Center, the staff physician is available as your doctor.

Q. How will I know if I am seeing a medical student?

A. You will never see a student without being told, and always have the right to refuse to see a student.

Q. How do I benefit from this?

A. In most cases, you would get an appointment for a full examination sooner than would be possible otherwise. Importantly, the student will be able to devote considerable time to your needs, which will continue to be helpful to you over the years to come. Your examination will be very thorough, and any problems would be thought out by two people instead of just one. Of course, you would also have the satisfaction of having helped in the training of a future doctor.

Q. How about the cost?

A. Like all visits to doctors at the Bunker Hill Health Center, you would be charged by the Massachusetts General Hospital according to the amount of time the doctor spends with you, not according to the time spent by the student. Usually, you would be charged less than you would for such a complete exam by the staff physician alone.

Q. Are there any drawbacks?

A. Only that if you make an appointment for a complete examination by a medical student, you should expect to spend the whole morning at the Health Center, to allow time for the medical history, physical examination, and review of your case by the staff physician. This is time well spent, but some people may simply not have that much time available. You can also see a medical student if you don't want a complete physical examination, but just a more limited evaluation of a specific problem.

We believe that the medical student teaching program at the Bunker Hill Health Center provides an excellent opportunity for patients, as well as for the students. It also stimulates the staff of the Health Center to keep up-to-date on medical science and new approaches to patients' problems.

If you wish to make an appointment to see a medical student, please call Mrs. Smith at 242-5757.

Boys And Girls Club Road Race Organizers Call For Volunteers

One of the first signs of spring is the annual call for volunteers by organizers of The Battle of Bunker Hill, the annual 10K road race to benefit the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club.

Because the race gets bigger each year, race organizers Denny Borden and Rob Ferris need manpower to make the event a success. The race will take place on Sunday, June 16th, before the start of the Bunker Hill Day Parade.

Volunteers are needed to fill several positions, including:

Race Course Monitors - monitors are stationed along the race route and at the finish line to alert runners to mileage and time.

Registration Personnel - for pre-registration on the day of the event.

Eligible Charlestown residents must pick up food in the neighborhood designated on their pre-registration card.

Distribution of butter and cheese will take place at St. Catherine's School Hall, Tufts Street on Tuesday, March 26 from noon to 4:00 p.m. and at the Kennedy Center, 27 Winthrop Street on Wednesday, March 27 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Charlestown Police Line

From the desk of

Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia, Jr.
Commanding Officer, Area A
Charlestown, Downtown, East Boston, Beacon Hill

On March 6, 1985 at 2:20 a.m., Police Officers stopped a motor vehicle at Alford Street for a red light violation. The operator of this vehicle was asked to produce a license and was unable to do so. At this time, the officers conducted a search of the operator and discovered a container with some unknown pills. The operator, identified as a 19 year old Boston man, was placed under arrest, taken to Area A, and booked for violation of the drug laws. The drugs will be sent to the lab for analysis.

On March 6, 1985 at 12:00 p.m., as a result of information received from the Somerville Police Department, Detectives of Area A responded to Somerville District Court. On arrival, the Detectives arrested a 15 year old Charlestown man on a warrant issued from Charlestown District Court. The suspect was taken to Charlestown District Court for arraignment.

On March 8, 1985 at 2:55 a.m., Police Officers responded to a radio call relative to shots being fired at O'Meara Court. On arrival, the officers observed a white male bleeding profusely from bullet wound to the chest area. The officers immediately began to administer C.P.R. and the victim was removed by ambulance to Massachusetts General Hospital. The victim was pronounced dead a short time later. After conducting an investigation, police officers went to 49 Corey Street where they arrested a 19 year old Charlestown man. The suspect was transported to Area A and booked for murder.

On March 8, 1985 at 10:40 p.m., a Police Officer responded to Main and Dunstable Streets on a radio call. On arrival, the officer observed a large group of youths scattering in all directions away from a male suspect. This suspect jumped into his motor vehicle and fled at a high speed onto Salem Street. At this point, the suspect was observed throwing a revolver out of the window of the vehicle. The officer recovered a .22 caliber revolver and later apprehended the suspect. The suspect, an 18 year old Charlestown man, was conveyed to Area A and booked for unlawfully carrying a firearm.

On March 9, 1985 at 5:50 a.m., Officers of the Housing Police observed a 17 year old Charlestown resident at 49 Corey Street. This suspect was known to have two warrants issued from Charlestown District Court. The suspect was placed under arrest and transported to Area A. He was booked on the warrants for possession of a Class C substance and larceny of a motor vehicle.

On March 9, 1985 at 6:15 p.m., while on patrol in the area of Hayes Square, Police Officers observed a motor vehicle being operated on the wrong side of the street, without headlights on. The officers stopped the vehicle and approached the operator. The officers observed that the operator was glassy-eyed with a strong odor of alcohol on the breath. The operator, a 46 year old Charlestown woman, was placed under arrest, conveyed to Area A, and booked for operating while under the influence of alcohol.

On March 9, 1985 at 10:14 p.m., Police Officers, while on routine patrol on Main Street, observed a motor vehicle, which had been reported stolen. When the officers displayed flashing blue lights, the vehicle sped off at a high rate of speed. The officers gave chase, covering numerous streets throughout the Charlestown area. The vehicle then turned onto Main Street where it struck two vehicles while traveling on the wrong side of the street. At this time, the suspect's vehicle came to a stop and the operator exited the vehicle, attempting to flee. The suspect, a 23 year old Charlestown man, was apprehended and removed to Massachusetts General Hospital for treatment of a head injury suffered in the crash. He was treated and released to officers of Area A. He was taken to the station and booked for larceny of a motor vehicle and numerous moving violations. The operator of one of the vehicles, which was struck head-on, received head, neck, and back injuries and was removed to the Massachusetts General Hospital for treatment.

The next Community Service Meeting will be held on Tuesday, April 9, 1985 at 7:00 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill Street.

Congress Group Named Developer For Navy Yard Buildings

As the rehabilitation of the Charlestown Navy Yard continues, several new offices and retail centers are nearing the construction phase. Located in the Historic Monument District, Constitution Office Park will encompass the renovation of Buildings 149 and 199. Formerly the Operations Center for the Navy Yard, the completed renovation will include 650,000 square feet of commercial space over ten floors. Approximately 1,300 covered parking spaces will be located on nine levels in Building 199, adjacent to the 149 renovation. Both buildings are expected to receive historic certification from the Secretary of the Interior.

Buildings 149 and 199, conceived and developed by The Congress Group, Incorporated,

Kennedy Center Board To Meet

will be leased from the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) for a term of 80 years. The Congress Group, a leader in the creative re-use of older commercial properties, has been named designated developer by the BRA and has retained the architectural firm of Huygens & DiMella, Inc. as project architect and Morse/Diesel, Inc. as construction manager. Construction financing is expected to be provided by Chase Manhattan Bank, N.A. for Building 149 and proceeds from the sale of MIFA Bonds has been designated for Building 199. The total project cost will be in the vicinity of $60,000,000.

Under the guidelines set by the BRA, more than 1,000,000 square feet of office and retail space will be developed in the completed Navy Yard. Constitution Quarters (367 residential units with parking), the marina (100 slips), the marina restaurant and award-winning Shipyard Park and Waterfront Promenade are already in place. When completed, the Navy Yard will provide working, parking, dining, shopping and recreational facilities to more than 7,000 employees.

Construction of Constitution Office Park is scheduled to commence in April with actual tenant occupancy slated for August 1986. The upper six levels of Building 149 will offer full views of the harbor and Boston skyline. Lower floors will look onto attractively landscaped pedestrian spaces and historic shipyard buildings.

"The rehabilitation of the Navy Yard is creating a suburban-style setting with prime commercial and residential space in an area of Charlestown which had previously fallen into disuse," says Richard Graf, project manager for The Congress Group. Constitution Office Park will offer the advantages of both city and suburban developments targeted at the growing financial services and high-tech industries in the surrounding areas. The Robbins Group, a Boston-based brokerage firm, has been selected as exclusive leasing agent to market the project.

Butter and Cheese Distribution

The Kennedy Center will be distributing butter and cheese to eligible Charlestown residents on Tuesday, March 26, 1985 from noon to 4:00 p.m. at St. Catherine's School Hall, Tufts Street, Charlestown.

The butter and cheese will be available on Wednesday March 27, 1985 from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Kennedy Center, 27 Winthrop Street, Charlestown.
