Court Orders Immediate Repair Of Green Street Sewer Leak

Legal action was taken by the City of Boston this week to resolve the problems that have occurred regarding the repair of the sewage leak on Green Street which has been pouring waste out onto the street for almost five months.

At the request of Dan McNamara, principal inspector of the Housing Division of Inspectional Services, City attorneys filed for civil action in the Boston Housing Court. The case was heard by Judge E. George Daher on Wednesday, October 7.

Attorney Howard Russell presented the case for the City of Boston. He pointed out that this unsanitary issue has to be addressed. There was no dispute between the parties that their common drain was at fault causing this leak.

In a prior agreement, which was signed by two of the three parties, the three would hire a contractor to determine the exact source of the leak and to repair the damages, splitting the cost

McNamara had stated that the owners of 44 High Street and 14 Green Street had signed the agreement.

The owner of 46 High Street had told McNamara that he would like to connect his sewer line into the (continued on page 16)

Charlestown Has Lost A Good Friend And Neighbor

by Edward Codair

On Sunday, October 4th, Charlestown lost a friend, a neighbor, a hero.

On this day, Joseph Tognarelli, while visiting friends at North Adams State College, passed away.

Circumstances around Joe's passing are typical Joe. While caught in a snow storm, a power line came down and landed on the house Joe was staying in, causing a fire. Joe was the first person out of the house and he immediately tried to knock the power line from the house to save those inside. The result of Joe's heroism was Joe's death by electrocution.

Another young hero, David Langone, valiantly tried to save Joe and wound up getting seriously burned and may lose both of his arms.

Joe was a graduate of Dom Savio High School, Class of 1986. A scholarship is being established in memory of Joe at Dom Savio.

Donations in Joe's memory may be sent to:

HOLDING THE SALE TOGETHER

Many of our listings come from people who tried to sell their own homes, and who thought they had been successful. All too often, however, "By Owners" learn the hard way that selling their home is easy, but keeping it sold and getting their buyers to the settlement table is another story.

What are some of the pitfalls? First of all, face to face negotiations with a buyer can be hazardous, even if they really want the house. Then there's the paperwork. Stationery store contract forms rarely cover all of the requirements in your city or state regarding taxes or various disclosure laws, and this may create major loopholes allowing buyers with cold feet to back out at the last minute. Once you have come to terms, how can you be sure your buyers will find competent professionals to handle their loan and complete the settlement? What if there are problems with the structural inspection or termites pop out of your woodwork? These are just some of the areas where our experience and expertise serve our clients every day in completing successful transactions!

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling a home, talk to the professionals at Century 21, Silva Realty Associates. Come by our offices at 142 Main Street, Charlestown or call us at 242-7470.

Hollywood Next???

Charlestown has become the setting for a myriad of film productions, from "Spenser" to commercials for every type of product imaginable.

In the midst of all this Hollywood glamour is a local gal whose star is shining as brightly as any and who is quietly going about making a name for herself in television, modeling and fashion photography. Chartown's rising star is Denise Houlihan.

Denise appeared in the season's premiere of "Spenser: For Hire," with viewers only catching a brief glimpse of our local model and mother. She has since shot two more episodes in which she has speaking parts.

Denise is a member of the Screen Actor's Guild and has been modeling professionally for the Chute Agency on Newbury Street, Boston for the past three years. Her photograph has appeared in The Boston Globe magazine section, Vogue and numerous local store flyers. She has modeled on "People Are Talking," "Morning Live!," and currently appears in a

DENISE HOULIHAN

L'Eggs commercial.

Though Denise has been "low-key" about her current success, her friends and family want her to know how proud they are of her accomplishments.

Denise lives on Polk Street with her five children, John 16, Shannon 14, Seamus 13, Breandan 12, and Caitrin II.

The crane has arrived at Shipways. Its origin is moot; but we know it didn't emigrate from Ipswich. Its long tentacles soar over the Shipway Condominiums. The scope of its employment is rampant with speculation. Bandied about is that the Shipways structure will be removed to make way for additional public access. Also, there is talk of expanded slips for the burgeoning demand of boat owners. Awaiting word from the Corps of Engineering on this grandiose proposal.

Another work activity is being advertised in the Shipways mailroom. Commercial condo Unit C5 is seeking a clerical employee. To discuss this personnel position, please call 242-5565.

Landscaping, maintenance and parking were the paramount issues at the Annual Shipways Condo meeting held at the Hull Room on September 22nd. Additionally, Phil Carlson, Jack Cullen, Howad Corbin and T. Fernottzi were elected to the Board, joining Commercial Representative Kevin Farrell. A proper mix of residential and commercial interests will make for a busy and productive season.

Numerous locations within the Yard were being used for the television series "Spenser" during the week of September 28th. Booming with activity and klieg lights was the area adjacent to Blossoms. Teamsters from our Local 25 house scurried about to make the scenes become a reality. First Run catering once again graced the sights with its hearty fare. Wholesome meals were being served on September 30th, but I didn't observe a "Townie" tradition - skirt steak. All the followers were gawking for a glimpse of congenial star - Robert Urich. At first glance, I thought the car bearing license plate KOJAX 3 was a prop. As Jimmy Durante coined, "everybody's trying to get into the act." All the raves were being bestowed on the crew and AFTRA members. Let's hope the ratings sustain this popular series.

USS Constitution Undergoing Maintenance

One of the masts of the USS Constitution is being partially dismantled for maintenance. However, public tours of the world's oldest commissioned warship will continue uninterrupted.

The work to remove Constitution's bow sprit began on October 1st. The delicate removal process, coordinated by the Supervisor of Ship Building Conversion and Repair Boston, will continue through mid-October.

The bow sprit provides 60 per cent support for the foremast. Portions of the foremast also will be removed to facilitate the removal of the bow sprit, which has not been refurbished since 1941. All paint finishes and rotted woodwork will be removed and then laminated, to decrease the need for regular maintenance and increase the overall service life.

Modern Day Samaritan Dispenses Help And Good Will

by Mary Ziniti

When Jesus Christ walked the Earth 2000 years ago, he told a story to his disciples about a man who was robbed, beaten and left half-dead by the roadside. A priest and a Levite both passed by without offering assistance. But a Samaritan who also journeyed in the same direction not only stopped to help the victim, but also brought the injured man to an inn where he paid all the injured man's expenses. Thus, the tale of the Good Samaritan lives on in history.

In these modern times, the City of Boston has its own Good Samaritan, assisting the abandoned along the roadways. The exception is that our victims usually have overheated cars in the middle lane of the Southeast Expressway with thousands of drivers passing by them. And the Good Samaritan in this case is sponsored by a local drugstore.

The CVS/Samaritan adds to the lesson of "loving thy neighbor as thyself" by driving along local highways in order to aid thousands of stranded motorists every year with simple repairs such as replacing needed wires to engines or supplying gas for an empty tank.

The CVS/Samaritan vans began touring the highways in the Bay State in 1977 as a community service program for the drugstore chain. Today, vans patrol areas including Route 128, the Central Artery and the Southeast Expressway, and parts of Cape Cod during the summer. Additionally, the CVS/Samaritans assist drivers in Rhode Island and New York. Repairs are of no cost to stranded motorists and no one will ever be passed by without help.

In 1986, a total of 21,804 people were assisted by CVS/Samaritans in 13,978 situations. In Downtown Boston alone 2,851 people were assisted.

In addition to breakdowns, minor accidents and stranded drivers, the CVS/Samaritans also investigate abandoned cars and report them to the police.

Hull resident J. Michael Briggs, 25, drives the CVS/ Samaritan van along the Southeast Expressway every Monday through Friday from 6:30 to 9:30 a.m. and 3:00 to 6:00 p.m. come rain, shine, snowstorm or gusting wind. His territory extends from the East Milton to the Storrow Drive exits.

A recent Friday afternoon spent with Briggs exemplified the nature of his work. The Expressway rested at a stand still as thousands of people appeared to be escaping north. Even he made note of the unusual congestion, Briggs said that Friday afternoons are the "pits," but Monday mornings are bad also. He added that between winter and summer, one is no worse than the other, but both are equally tough. The extreme temperatures during these seasons cause vehicle problems such as stuck thermostats and vapor-locked gas lines.

The back of the van resembles a garage on wheels. With him, Briggs carries many necessities for automobile repairs including gasoline, wires, distributor caps, motor oil, tools and, especially, water. Briggs said that he carries lots of water with him as he described Boston as the "Overheat Capital." The front end near the driver looks like an independent communications station as the van is equipped with a tape recorder, a CB radio, a telephone, a two-way state police radio, a radio to call in traffic reports to WHDH, and a scanner. Drivers also carry first aid kits in case injuries do occur.

The first assistance of the afternoon occurred at approximately 3:45 p.m. just passed the Callahan Tunnel exit. Briggs threw on the van's sirens and pulled up behind a car that had overheated. Another car had stopped to aid the young woman in distress, but the repairs required more than a jump start.

The bearded, blonde-haired Briggs hopped out of the van in his navy blue shirt and pants that resemble mechanics' clothing. The medium built CVS/Samaritan greeted the desperate looking young female with a casual smile and a "How ya doin"?"

The Natick resident's face changed from exasperation o elation.

After pushing her car to the side of the road with the van, Briggs filled the radiator with a gallon of water and supplied two needed quarts of oil.

Also arriving on the scene was an MDC police officer who looked, sounded and joked like comedian Eddie Murphy. Officer Connie Johnson managed to relax the driver and her passengers as he jokingly threatened to write her a ticket for snagging traffic for miles. However, "the little kid in the back seat" saved her from receiving a fine, Johnson said.

With reassurance from both Briggs and Johnson, the driver continued her trip to Chelsea and called Briggs a "life-saver."

Briggs had said how helpful the MDC police were along the Expressway as they often work together in repairing breakdowns. In fact, most of the time all he deals with are breakdowns as opposed to accidents as traffic moves so slowly, he said, the worst that happens involves fender-benders.

Briggs said he found this job by simply answering an ad in the newspaper. His background consists of graduating from Bridgewater State College with a B.S. in biology and jobs ranging from teaching to working as a mechanic to employment in a cranberry bog. He described this current job as the "best" he's "ever had." To prepare for this work Briggs said that he spent five weeks riding with other van drivers as well as completing EMT training. For the hours in-between 9:30 a.m. and 3:00 p.m., CVS/Samaritans perform community service jobs of their choice. Briggs said that he hasn't chosen his yet. Sometimes he works on the care of the van during these hours.

Back on the Expressway again and already heading south, we pulled onto the exit ramp to Haymarket Square where a minor accident occurred. Briggs stepped out of the van for only a few minutes to verify that no one was hurt and gave each driver some paperwork. The form given lists all the information needed by drivers when an accident has occurred so that no one misses anything by mistake. Again we headed south.

As we reached the Mass. Avenue exit, Briggs noticed a breakdown on the north bound side already being attended to by an MDC tow truck driver. We drove over to assist.

The three elderly persons inside the standard Subaru had trouble all day driving up from the Cape. The driver is the brother-in-law of the owner of the car and a visitor from Idaho. The first two hints to his being from out of state included his good natured laugh at his predicament and his asking, "Isn't it early for traffic around here?"

As the two road mechanics worked cooperatively, a few wire adjustments enabled these people to go on their way. "It's a good thing that you have something like this (service by the MDC and the CVS/Samaritan) out here to help people," noted the elderly man with the soft Idaho accent.

For J. Michael Briggs, it's all in a day's work.

Housing And Development Committee Adjournment Halts Parcel Discussion

by Mary Ziniti

The Housing and Development Committee of the Neighborhood Council may have held its shortest meeting ever as the first order of business at its October 5 gathering was a motion by Julia Rodriguez to adjourn. The motion passed by a four to three vote.

The original purpose of this meeting was to review presentations from developers concerning Parcel R-96, located at High and Walker Streets. Rodriguez said that since the Committee has not yet made a final decision on Parcel P-2A, located at the intersection of Main and Bunker Hill Streets, they should not begin a new project.

The Committee tabled making a decision concerning P-2A at a meeting on Sunday, September 27, indicating that more information was needed regarding the number of affordable and market rate units proposed by developers for that site.

Committee member Dennis McLaughlin echoed Rodriguez's position to adjourn by stating that other "issues" need the attention of the Neighborhood Council in executive session. Although McLaughlin would not list specific issues in public before the Council met and discussed them among the members, two points did surface.

One point regarded holding meetings in the offices of the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) in Building 34 at the Navy Yard (where this meeting took place) and the other focussed upon the status of P-2A. Rodriguez added that neighbors had raised a concern that meetings are being held "from one end of town to the other" such as at the Working Theater and the BRA offices. Committee member Betty Golden pointed out that all meetings are open to the public regardless of where they are McLaughlin added that some of the issues he referred to were raised by this Committee. Also, he noted that other issues existed besides those discussed at this meeting. One other concern of McLaughlin's regarded the chairing of the meeting on this development project by Tom Cunha.

In addition to serving as the chairperson of this Committee, Cunha also serves as president of the Charlestown Economic Development Corporation (CEDC), a non profit, local development group. One of the developers submitting a proposal for R-96 included CEDC as the 25 per cent equity partner for the project as well as proposing that the CEDC market their 12 units.

At the start of the meeting, Cunha addressed this point and handed the chair over to Committee member Petie Hilsinger, who serves as vice-chairperson of the Committee.

McLaughlin said this chairing process should be discussed by the Council in executive session. He added that it may be proven that it is appropriate. However, McLaughlin said that if it is inappropriate for Cunha to chair this project, then it may also have been inappropriate that he had chosen the schedule and the location of the meeting.

Committee member Stephen McHugh said that he thought it was "a shame" that people had taken the time to attend the meeting only to have it "stop cold." He suggested that the developers present their plans and the Committee reconvene at a later time. Mc-Laughlin, however, said that the meeting should not take place at all. He later added that it seemed as though the Committee always ran their schedule for developers' convenience and that he is tired of doing just that, as the meeting is supposed to be for the community.

Those members voting to adjourn the meeting included Rodriguez, McLaughlin, Marty O'Brien and Mel Stillman. Those who voted against the motion were McHugh, Golden and Stephen Spinetto. Cunha and Hilsinger both abstained.

Before Cunha had turned the chair over to Hilsinger, he announced that Larry Brophy of the BRA had received a certified letter from High Street Development Corporation stating that they withdraw their proposal for R-96. Thus, the three remaining developers submitting proposals include Myerson/Allen and Company, Inc.; Stahley Corporation; and Conroy Development Corporation.

LET'S TALK ISSUES

Main And Warren Streets Reconstruction Update

by Kathy Giordano

Pavement markings, including crosswalks, are in place on Main Street between Sullivan and Thompson Squares. New signs (one way, street names, etc.) are still under production and will be installed as soon as ready.

Brick work continues along the sidewalks on Warren Street, both at the Park Street end and at Thompson Square. It is expected that the contractor will finish the sidewalks on Warren Street before moving back onto Main Street to complete the sidewalks there.

Boston Gas continues their installation work on the gas lamps. When all lamps are hooked up, the lamps will be turned on so that the old electic lights can be taken down.

The two trees that were designated to be placed outside Saint Mary's Church on Warren Street will not be placed there. Concrete has been poured and bricks will be laid to cover the two openings.

All residents are advised not to park along the reconstruction route. Cars will be towed at the owner's expense if found in the way of the contractor.

Issue No. 1 - Public Safety

Since 1981 when the Kevin White administration cut back on police and fire protection, there has been no attempt by the present district councillor to right this wrong.

* I HAVE

District One is very different and must be represented differently from the rest of the city. We are a district of tunnels and bridges that create massive traffic problems. We need a return of the fire and police protection we lost, and I have communicated this to Mayor Flynn.

I will fight strongly for full restoration of our fire and police protection. But I will need your help.

A city councillor must serve all the communities, not just those who are influential.

Help Me To Help You!

*October 2, 1987

Letter To Mayor Flynn

Dear Mayor Flynn:

I want to express my deepest concerns and fears regarding what I view as a lack of public safety in East Boston, Charlestown and North End Neighborhoods . . . the growth in these neighborhoods has been phenomenal and the need for expanded fire protection is a priority . . . Under the present "Fire Roulette" system, both East Boston and Charlestown are dependent on the fire companies located on Hanover Street in the North End for immediate and direct assistance. This "Fire Roulette" which strips one neighborhood of protection while another neighborhood is being responded to is the most risky game of chance ever devised. It puts the lives of Boston families in jeopardy.

To solve this problem, I urge you to immediately effect the return of a fire engine pumper to the Saratoga Street Station and also Engine 36 to the Sullivan Square Fire House . . .

Comedy Night A Success At The Charlestown Working Theater

by J.D.

Because it was advertised as a fund-raiser for the Charlestown Working Theater, an organization I fully support, I decided to attend "Tony V and Friends — A Night of Comedy." The comedians, including Dennis Leary, George MacDonald, Tom Bailey, Mike Bent and of course Tony V, donated their time, so I expected to smile a bit, but that was all I expected.

cans, my concept of "comedy" is based on television viewing and, quite simply, I find very little that is funny on network or cable television. Occasionally, but rarely, a movie will make me laugh but not enough to recommend it to friends. I was beginning to doubt if I had any sense of humor.

"Tony V and Friends" at the CWT has renewed my hope that there are truly funny people in the world capable of making us laugh at ourselves and the world around us. Which of the performers was the best? Depends on who you are and what you cherish. The material presented ranged from the Pope to sexuality, Charlestown to international events. All were outrageous, original and very, very funny.

Mass media comedy appeals to the middle of the road audience, using canned electronic laughter to tell us when to chuckle, when to snicker and when to applaud. These comedians released the deep down belly laugh and uncontrolled shrieks we all harbor when confronted with really good humor.

The audience applauded, roared with laughter, heckled at times and was totally entertained by these talented people. Leaving the theater with aching facial muscles and rib pain, the most commonly heard comment was "When are you going to do this again?"

T.V. keep your mediocrity, comedy is alive and well at the Charlestown Working Theater and with Tony V and his friends.

FATHER Daniel Mahoney, pastor of Saint Francis de Sales Church and Chaplain of Bunker Hill Council, offered prayers at the installation service.

Neighborhood Issues Discussed -Council Adjourns To Executive Session

by Mary Ziniti

With a full agenda and a full attendence of its members, the Neighborhood Council held its monthly general meeting on October 6. Part of that agenda called for sending the Council into executive session to discuss "issues" that have apparently caused internal strife on the Council, "issues" that a few members wanted ironed out amongst themselves.

A Housing and Development Committee meeting held on October 5 was cut short by a vote to adjourn as soon as it began so that "issues" could be resolved by the full Council within executive session. Originally, the Council was going to enter executive session early in the meeting only to continue with the public agenda afterwards. However, Council member Stephen McHugh said that the Council owed it to the public to continue with the meeting as other gatherings had been cancelled in the last few weeks.

After discussing the proper grounds that allow for executive session, the Council assured the community that no vote on any matter would occur in executive session, only a discussion of issues raised by individual members. The Council also decided to enter executive session after finishing with the public

The meeting began as David Davis, executive director for Massport addressed the Council. Davis had sent a letter to Council President John Tobin regarding the status of negotiations with the Massachusetts Water Resource Authority (MWRA) to use Piers 48, 49 and 50 as a transfer site for construction materials and supplies and to answer questions from the community. Copies of a letter from Massport to Council Chairman John Tobin were distributed to other Council members.

Davis said that after talking with Paul Levy, director of MWRA, earlier in the day, they both welcomed input from the community in their dealings. Davis' letter states that "both Authorities encourage you to establish a small working group to facilitate communication between the community, Massport and MWRA." However, he added that during delicate bargaining negotiations, it would be inappropriate for

He added that he requested that the MWRA examine possibly using a portion of the Revere Sugar Facility instead of Piers 48, 49 and 50 as this would allow trucks to turn into that facility and alleviate the truck burden that would continue down Medford Street and onto Terminal Street. Davis also added that Charlestown will not be considered for a sludge treatment site and they are "pleased with that."

community presence.

Council members had an opportunity to question Davis themselves. Tom Cunha said that they were told in February that no negotiations would occur between the two Authorities until the community consensus was heard. He added it upsets him to now hear them negotiating for a contract. Davis said that his agency shares some responsibility in the clean-up of the harbor and that they will listen to the community's advice care-

Committee member Moe Gillen asked if both agencies would work in the Charlestown health study that the Massachusetts Department of Public Health will be conducting. Davis said if it is appropriate. Massport would have some Gillen also inquired about union jobs being obtained in the area under discussion. Davis said that Massport has a person who takes specific note of such impacts on communities and he added that because MWRA is a larger agency. "they would be a better target of opportunity.

Again Gillen quizzed Davis on the possibility of Massport extending their revenue into linkage money for the community, to which Davis answered that his agency already supplies linkage money by assisting with the availability of summer jobs. He added that he thinks Massport supplies more linkage money than is expected of them.

During the portion of the meeting that was open to public discussion, Charlestown resident Virginia Goscinak asked the Council to have Davis state in writing that the area discussed will not be used later for a sludge treatment plant.

A number of residents voiced their concerns regarding the status of Parcel P-2A, located at the intersection of Main and Bunker Hill Streets.

Bill Connell and David Dow both addressed the Council regarding P-2A and both men's remarks drew applause from the almost 50 residents in attendance at the meeting. Connell, who lives across the street from P-2A, said that if a decision is going to be made on the area, there should "be more than one meeting held in (his) neighborhood.

He added that while his neighborhood is not as vocal as other sections of the town, those neighbors who may want to speak have to "travel to the other end of town to be heard," as meetings take place in various locations throughout the town. Connell said that the Council should closely examine the developers submitting proposals for P-2A.

Speaking next, Dow said he is "unhappy about the process that's been used" and also called for more meetings within the neighborhood. He also said that he "hoped" that the Council did not "arbitrarily endorse anybody's project for any reason."

Goscinak, a Charlestown Preservation Society Trustee read a letter to the Council voicing the Design Review Committee's unanimous endorsement of the Myerson/Allen and Company, Inc. proposal submitted for Parcel P-2A. She also said that the Society urged that the Council "recommend to the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) the designation of Myerson/Allen as the developer of Parcel P-2A." The letter from the Society noted the specifics of Myer-(continued on page 14)

Thank You, Representative Voke

The North Area Task Force was pleased to see Jay Ash from Representative Richard Voke's office attending the September 29th community meeting. Not only has Mr. Voke always helped in the past when problems with the state have arisen, but all the community meetings that have taken place over the last few years have been a direct result of Representative Voke's insistance the community be continually updated on all aspects of the North Area Project. Thank you Representative Voke.

North Area Task Force

Charlestown Meeting Promised

At the September 29th community meeting concerning the North Area Project in Charlestown, a concerned resident notified the Task Force that Charlestown was not included in the upcoming affected neighborhoods meetings on the Third Harbor Tunnel and the depression of the Central Artery.

The Task Force made several calls and have been assured by Dave Flanagan of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works that Charlestown most certainly will be added to the list of neighborhoods to have community meetings.

Because the Central Artery depression will start above the Bunker Hill Community College and that, along with the impact of the Leverett Circle Connector, will mean that Charlestown residents should attend this upcoming meeting.

Thank you, Ken Stone

To The Residents Of The Charlestown Housing Development

On November 2 and 3, the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force will be holding its annual election for its Board of Directors. The importance of this election cannot be stressed enough.

Over the last year, the Task Force has continued to make great progress in acting for the interests of our residents. Our ability to continue these efforts depends on the increased participation of residents in the Board of Directors and the activities of the Task Force.

Through steady, increased resident participation, the Task Force:

- Has continued work on code compliance efforts through which more code violations have been repaired faster in the homes and common areas of our development.
- Has monitored work on "Polk Street" to make sure that its rehabilitation is in compliance with promised standards, including the removal of exposed asbestos.
- Has been actively involved in the planning of capital improvements that will hopefully lead to the replacement of the development site utilities, removal of exposed asbestos, replacement of electrical panels, and the implementation of a site improvement master plan.
- Has continued to work on the beautification of Hayes Square. A $175,000 construction grant was received from the Browne Fund. Construction is expected to be completed by the Spring of 1988.
- Has continued to provide tenant advocacy assistance to over 300 residents annually in regard to acquisition of housing, correction of poor housing conditions and other tenants' rights issues.
- Has continued to provide comprehensive "employment and training" services to development residents.
- Has played a key leadership role amongst other public housing tenant organizations regarding BHA tenant participation policies, the future governance of the BHA, and the preservation of the Supportive Services Program.

The successful continuation of these efforts directly depends on having more residents getting involved with the Task Force. Our ability to tackle additional problems also depends on increased resident involvement.

Our upcoming election for the Board of Directors provides a meaningful opportunity for interested residents to get involved in these and other activities. Our future organizational health depends on such involvement. Prior experience is not necessary. Our staff provides any assistance required to effectively carry out our responsibilities.

By working together, we can achieve needed improvements for our families and community. We encourage any resident interested in the future of our development to consider running for our Board of Directors. Nomination petitions and election rules are available at the Task Force Office (76 Monument Street) and the BHA Management Office (55 Bunker Hill Street). The nomination petition deadline is Monday, October 26 at 5:00 p.m.

Thank you for your consideration. Sincerely,
Theresa A. Titcomb, Chairperson
Mary E. MacInnes, Vice-Chairperson
Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force

In Support Of Mr. Hamano

Chief Justice Samuel E. Zoll District Court Department Holyoke Building Holyoke Square Salem, MA 01970 RE: S. John Hamano, Esq.

Clerk-Magistrate Charlestown District Court

Dear Chief Justice Zoll:

My name is Patrick J. Sweeney, and I am an attorney with the office of Rowerdink and Orlandi, P.C., 1266 Furnace Brook Parkway, Quincy, Massachusetts; and I am writing to you concerning the Clerk-Magistrate of the Charlestown District Court, Attorney S. John Hamano.

As you are aware, Mr. Hamano has, as a result of a recent incident in Charlestown, been the subject of various stories in the media, in which Mr. Hamano's professionalism and concern for others have been questioned. In light of the foregoing, I feel it necessary to forward this correspondence.

Although I have only appeared in Charlestown District Court on three or four matters, as a life-long resident of Charlestown (as is my wife and our families) and due to my representation of a great many individuals and businesses from Charlestown, my involvement with various community organizations and as an attorney with seven years experience in a firm specializing in civil and criminal litigation, I feel qualified to comment upon Mr. Hamano's work as Clerk.

In my opinion, Mr. Hamano enjoys a deserved reputation as a hardworking, fair-minded individual whose professionalism is unquestioned.

Although I cannot argue the particulars of Mr. Hamano's decision, in that my only knowledge as to the same arises from the information appearing in the newspapers, I offer the following comments.

It is my understanding that Mr. Hamano's actions in receiving the Complaint and marking the same for a Hearing are consistent with the manner in which hundreds of similar matters are handled by our District Courts every day, and his actions were not in any manner out of the ordinary.

It has been suggested that Mr. Hamano as a Charlestown resident may have been "protecting one of his own." This remark contains two implications, both of which are erroneous and demeaning. First of all, as I have noted above. Mr. Hamano is open and fair minded in his duties as Clerk-Magistrate and to suggest that he may be biased in favor (or against) a particular individual is not only wrong, but insulting.

Second, this remark implies that the individual, who was allegedly involved in the incident, is typical or representative of Charlestown residents, including Mr. Hamano. This is not only unfair and derogatory to Mr. Hamano, but is equally insulting to the other good people of Charlestown, who (need I say) comprise the vast majority of our community.

John Hamano is an individual whose honesty, diligence and respect for others have earned him a well-deserved reputation as a member of the bar and a public servant in our Court system. I trust that when you've had an opportunity to review the current matter in depth, as well as his past record of service, you will come to the same conclusion.

Thank you for taking the time to read this correspondence and, should you desire any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

> Very truly yours. Patrick J. Sweeney, Esq.

Would Welcome "Townie" Support In Finding Site For Memorial

Dear Gloria.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to you for publishing the letter submitted by Sal Giarratani in your August 27, 1987 edition.

At times like these when everything dealing with the Vietnam War is stymied with protest, it is encouraging to see that people still care about the American veteran. The sacrifices of all veterans should not go unnoticed.

The Boston Vietnam Veterans Association (BVVA) has been fighting the "red tape" for almost two years now trying desperately to obtain a piece of land to site the state memorial, approximately 10,000 to 12,000 square feet in size.

The interest of the BVVA is not one of a self-serving nature. We believed that over 11 years was long enough to wait to get the wheels in motion.

Massachusetts is "where it all began," yet we are one of only ten remaining states to honor this generation of patriots. This is why we undertook the responsibility of attempting to crect this memorial to our fallen and missing comrades.

Many people are not aware that America's first involvement in Vietnam was not in the 1960's. It all began in 1845, when the USS Constitution, "Old Ironsides," was asked by the French government to go to Vietnam (Co Chinh) to attempt the rescue of a French Bishop slated for execution. A joint mission of the Navy and Marines ensued.

"Old Ironsides" arrived in Da Nang Harbor (Turin Bay) in May 1845. The ship stayed 16 days and returned home

Charlestown Teens And Parents Do Care

Dear Gloria,

After reading the October 1st issue of the Patriot, I have to remark on the article about the Charlestown Teen Connection.

I attended the Awards Dinner at the Knights of Columbus and was amazed when I walked into the hall to see the large number of people, not knowing at the time they were parents of the Teen group. Those parents should be congratulated for taking the time to attend with their teenage sons and daughters.

Lately, Charlestown has been getting bad reports from the media. It would be a good idea to publish this article in the Herald and Boston Globe, to show that parents in Charlestown do care.

Carolyn Wrenn Shannon should receive the medal of the year for all the unselfish work she has done throughout the years; taking care of her family, her cheerleading tasks, etc. Charlestown has an excellent leader with her and I'm sure the group will enlarge through her efforts.

Pat Considine should also be given an "A" for his efforts on behalf of the teens.

It's too bad that more teens from the three housing developments don't take an interest.

I've been listening to the kids of this town complain for years that they have nothing to do. Now we have programs in the town, be it Community Schools, the Boys and Girls Club or the newest group in town for girls "Girls R Us."

Kids, there are things to do and people that do care. With all the drug and alcohol problems we have around, it would be worth your while to turn your young lives around before it's too late.

To Carolyn and Pat, once again thank you for caring. Keep up the good work!

to Boston, its home port. The rescue attempt was unsuccessful as the bishop was executed before they arrived. As history has it, "Townies" were probably America's first "Vietnam Veterans."

I agree with Mr. Giarratani, that "Townies" have always been proud and supportive of our veterans.

Members of my family have lived in Charlestown for over a century. My grandfather fought in World War I, my father in World War II, my uncle in World War II and Korea and my brother and cousins in Vietnam. We're extremely proud of our heritage and of our service to our country.

When we marched in the Bunker Hill Day parade this June, we received an overwhelming response from the onlookers. One gentleman, who only identified himself as "a proud Townie," suggested that we try to site the memorial in the Navy Yard because of Charlestown's unique link to Vietnam.

If the people of Charlestown can help us to obtain a proper and fitting site for this long overdue tribute, I'm sure that the families of these heroes, Vietnam veterans, veterans in general and the public, would be eternally grateful.

Again, thank you for your commitment to all veterans and to this project, and a special "thank you" to Mr. Giarratani and all "Townies" who have been and will be supporters of this endeavor.

Scott F. Ployer, Executive Director Massachusetts Vietnam Veterans Memorial Fund

A Seminar For Youth On Sexuality

by Father Brian Murdoch

In September at a public forum on AIDS at the Charlestown High School, Dr. Roger Sweet from the Bunker Hill Health Center and one of the panelists asked the teens in the audience who were sitting rather vigilantly in the front row -"In your schools do you have any discussion on AIDS or sex education?" Their anxious facial expressions and heads rolling from side to side reinforced their answer - "No." Several parents following this effort at the high school urged me to think of offering some course on this hot, yet difficult, topic.

So after checking around and in response to this need, I decided to cast the pastoral net and see what resources we could haul in for this urgent issue. This Sunday, October II at 12:30 p.m. at Saint John's Episcopal Church, 27 Devens Street we'll find out. The plan is to extend through our little youth group a program seminar on sexuality for youth that will be shaped according to participants. This being the first time we offer this seminar, it will be open ended in terms of duration, somewhat flexible regarding the content presented weekly, while intentionally comprehensive.

The key to the success of this seminar will be the input of parents and teens along with clergy and professional guest educators. My perspective for this seminar is that we need to establish a comfortable working relationship, Parents, any concerned leaders, and teens come check out what could be a fun and life changing seminar. We will begin with a simple lunch and end with a shared goal — better sexuality. Call Father Brian Murdoch at 242-1272 for more information and to register.

Columbus Football Friars Shock St. Mary's, Defense Sparks 20-12 Victory

by Bob DeCristoforo, Athletic Director

Interceptions, blocked punts, fumble recoveries ... three items the defense coach talks about, three items the defense dreams about, and when capitalized upon, three items that win football games.

On the Sunday that Roger Clemens won the Cy Young Award, NFL Scab games took place, and the Detroit Tigers won the American League East, the three items mentioned above gave Christopher Columbus High School their first victory of the '87 season and Head Coach Jack Morris his very FIRST VARSITY WIN

It was definitely a day to stay home, or in some places to shovel snow, but the ones who braved the elements at Manning Bowl in Lynn saw quite a football story unfold, and if you were one of the Columbus faithful, you went home just as elated as the team and the staff.

Senior Michael DiFronzo played what he called "his best game ever" and senior Danny Tucker may have realized the talent that he has. Hard working junior Tommy Alessandro was jubilant in victory and junior Mike Rakes played another outstanding game.

DiFronzo put Columbus on top quickly. He took the punt he blocked into the end zone for a 6-0 lead. A great offensive series spearheaded by Alessandro and Kevin O'Donnell, produced the next TD as QB Rakes went in with the sneak, and before the half ended, a Danny Tucker interception and his twenty yards plus run gave the Friars an 18 point lead. Alessandro got the points after on the pass from Rakes.

The heavily favored Saint Mary's team fought hard in the second half, scoring two touchdowns, but the Columbus defense stayed relatively solid both causing and recovering fumbles. Some fine punting by Mike DiFronzo also helped to keep Saint Mary's out of reach

On Monday, October 12 the Football Friars travel to Bishop Fenwick for a 10:00 a.m. Holiday game.

Senior Joe Middleton and junior Paul Dodge represented Columbus in the South Boston Neighborhood House Road Race. Columbus will also have runners in the weekend East Boston Columbus Day Road Race.

Upcoming games for the Columbus Girls' Volleyball Team include Keith Catholic, Newton Catholic and Saint Mary's of Lynn.

The first Athletic Department-hosted field trip took place on Saturday as members of the school community attended the Red Sox Game at Fenway Park. The Athletic Department will be hosting many such events during the year.

"Townies"

The Killoran brothers, Michael and Kevin, had a lot to do with the Matignon football win this past week. Congratulations to two more fine representatives of Charlestown's future.

Charlestown resident Josephine Healy asked that the Council assist in establishing resident parking in the town. She said that residents have difficulty finding spaces near their homes and "two out of every three cars (parked on neighborhood streets) are from out of state." Healy added that she does have a parking sticker, but the matter is not enforced. Council member Moe Gillen, who chairs the Basic Services Committee that will handle the issue, said that it will be addressed as soon as the Committee can arrange a meeting with the Traffic Department of the City.

Finally, Bill Turville addressed the Council as the last resident to speak during the open floor session of the meeting. Turville asked that the Housing and Development Committee meeting, cut short on October 5, be rescheduled adding that it was "unfair that the community was let down that way." Tobin said that he was as surprised as Turville was when learning the outcome of the committee meeting.

Committee chairpersons did submit reports prior to the Council adjourning to executive session.

In his report for the Basic Services Committee, Gillen said that his Committee met with officials of the National Park Service to discuss re-routing the Freedom Trail so that visitors may safely avoid the reconstruction of the Central Artery. Peter Steele, curator for the Boston National Historical Park, made a presentation to the Council that detailed where the new Freedom Trail route would go.

Additionally, Gillen said that the Human Services Committee, which Gillen also chairs, sent a letter of support to Doctor Roger Sweet regarding a Charlestown health study that the Mas chusetts Department of Public Health will con-

Cunha, chairperson of the Housing and Development Committee, jointly submitted his report with vice-chairperson Petie Hilsinger concerning the meeting held on October 5. Cunha said that his Committee has met three times, twice regarding P-2A and once to discuss Parcel R-96, located at High and Walker Streets. He then asked Hilsinger to continue the report of the October 5 meeting as he had turned the chair over to her at that meeting. Hilsinger reported simply that the meeting had been adjourned before any discussion occurred.

The last of the Committee reports came from Dennis McLaughlin, chairperson of the Planning and Zoning Committee. He said that the Committee met with Ray Melone, a representative from the Allston/ Brighton Planning and Zoning Advisory Council (PZAC) who offered experienced advice. McLaughlin said that the most notable information that Melone gave the committee concerned moratoriums which are not legally binding as they are only voluntary.

McLaughlin also informed the Council that his committee's meetings will temporarily be postponed as helpful information has not yet been gathered for it by the BRA. Council member Peter McClure said he "respected" the frustrations of the group, but said he believed that meeting postponements should be a committee decision not McLaughlin's alone. Mc-Laughlin defended himself by saying that he wanted to save people an evening before they went to a meeting that would go nowhere.

He added that he spent many hours contacting people before they went to the meeting place. A few committee members said Mc-Laughlin missed them in his efforts.

Goscinak, a member of the community panel assisting the committee, suggested that they hold an informal community meeting on October 15. She added that they should "put the fire under the BRA" by holding meetings that say "come join us.

To conclude the public session of the Council meeting, Tobin said that the location of a voting site has not yet been established for the October 24 Council elections.

That decision, he said, rests with the Election Committee, chaired by Stephen Spinetto. Tobin added that to date, 20 individuals have obtained nomination papers. Those papers must be returned to One Church Court by October 16 in order for candidates to be eligible to run for a Council seat.

- FLU SHOTS -

The flu season will soon be upon us again, and now is the time to get the flu vaccine to prevent catching the flu once the epidemic begins. Influenza or "flu" is a disease caused by a virus that leads to the sudden onset of fever (usually at least 101 degrees), sore throat, and cough. The fever, tiredness, and aches and pains that go along with the flu often last several days. Influenza is serious by itself, but some people go on to get pneumonia as a result of a flu infection. In addition, people with chronic illness such as diabetes, heart disease, or emphysema may find that these diseases get out of control when they have the flu. The result is that as many as 10,000 Americans die each year during flu epidemics. To try to prevent serious illness, hospitalization and death, the Center for Disease Control recommends that anyone with heart or lung disease receive a flu shot. Moreover, people with kidney disease, anemia, diabetes or other chronic disease, and healthy adults over 65, are good candidates for the flu shot. Ninety percent of the deaths caused by the complications of influenza are in people 65 or older.

The flu vaccine enables your own body to make antibodies against the type of influenza that is expected to be around this year. The vaccine is made from inactivated influenza virus. It protects against catching influenza; it does not prevent the common cold or other respiratory infections.

The vaccines used in the past few years have been associated with only a few reactions. The most common reaction, which affects less than a third of people vaccinated, is soreness and redness of the arm at the site of the shot. Occasionally, people will develop mild flu-like symptoms for one or two days, starting within hours of getting the shot. This happens mainly in people who have never had influenza. Most people who get sick a day or two after getting a shot have gotten an unrelated illness, not something caused by the vaccine. Very rarely, people have an allergic reaction to the shot. Thus, anyone with a history of allergies to eggs, which are used in the preparation of the vaccine, should not get the flu shot. There is no risk of getting Guillain-Barre syndrome, the illness sometimes associated with the 1976 swine flu vaccine.

The best time to get the shot is in early fall, before you have had a chance to come into contact with others who have the flu and could give it to you. If you are over 65 or have a major medical condition, you should seriously consider getting a flu shot. FREE flu shots are available by calling the Bunker Hill Health Center at 242-5757 for an appointment.

- · Up, Up and Away . . . Did you notice? . . . On Sunday, October 4th, children and staff of the First Baptist Church in Charlestown, under the direction of Marion Gray and Pastor John Wilbur, released 100 balloons with bible messages and names and addresses for people who find them to respond! Should be interesting to hear about the results. Stay tuned!
- A Name Is A Name . . . A second glance was taken when one of the supervisors overseeing the job of laying the new brick sidewalks on Warren Street was introduced as Kevin White. Although "hizhonor" is often thought of, it was unexpected to find him wearing an orange vest at Thompson Square! . Seems this Kevin is no relation - not even a look alike!
- Thank You . . , to Ken Hall and Bernie Kelly for helping an "over-the-hill" damsel in distress this past week! New battery bought - problem over!

- Class of '62 . . . The office staff at the Patriot wishes to thank the Reunion Committee of Charlestown High's graduating class of 1962 for being so kind in expressing their gratitude to us. All are glad that the reunion was such a grand time!
- Reminder . . . If your car displays a red inspection sticker and the number in the center is a "10" you must have your car inspected this month -October!
- Question? . . . Why is one half of the same side of Cordis Street posted for a different week for street
- While We're Asking Questions . . . Why are they digging up the sidewalks on Bunker Hill Street - causing traffic headaches - when it's difficult to get through our town with all the other reconstruction going on?
- It's Beginning To Look A Lot Like Christmas . . . Already news is trickling in about annual Xmas Bazaars! Saint Mary's is the first heard from with their annual grand event being held on Saturday, November 14. Word has it that the weekly workshops are producing quite a number of spectacular items. Stay tuned . and mark your calendar!
- · Celebrating Birthdays . . . this week are Tim Conway of Belmont Street and Peter Scott of Pawcatuck, Connecticut, who, we're told, patiently awaits the arrival of his copy of the Patriot each week! Our warmest best wishes to you both!
- · Tid Bits . . . Green Street is still leaking sewerage - five months and counting! but, we hear excavation should start this week - stay tuned! . . . Thank you B.R.A. It was so nice to notice that your newly printed business cards finally show a Charlestown address, unlike other businesses located in our fair town who give a Boston address and our zip code. Charlestown phone book is great except for the big mistake on the back cover giving Somerville phone numbers in case of an emergency! Check it out and make the proper corrections now before you need them in a hurry! . . . It was nice to see the Wylie Van Wart Square sign go back up at Church Court this week . . . Twenty residents have taken out applications for the seven seats on the Neighborhood Council. All precincts have been covered. Applications must be returned by Friday, October 16th at 5:00 p.m. . . . Why is it that when you're waiting at a red light and it turns green - that's when a pedestrian decides to cross the street? . . . The Charlestown Economic Development Corporation got the "go ahead" from the Board of Appeals on Tuesday should see activity on their Main and Baldwin Streets parcel soon . . . I'm sorry you summer die-hards this is the best time of the year - especially to live in New England! . . . but have you noticed the thick coats on the squirrels - that's supposed to mean it's going to be a COOoold winter!

Charlestown Branch Library To Feature Series On Charlestown

The Charlestown Branch Library will present a fiveweek series on "Charlestown, The Making Of An Urban Village," beginning on Thursday, October 15. The program, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Library, 179 Main Street, will feature Thomas N. Brown, Professor of History at the University of Massachusetts/Boston.

Charlestown is a small place on a narrow peninsula with a long history. Its residents possess, to a degree unusual in modern America, a powerful sense of belonging to that place and to that history. This series will look at events in Charlestown's history with a view towards understanding that keen sense of place which gives Charlestown the character of "urban village.

The topics of the series

October 15 - Colonial Charlestown and the Battle of Bunker Hill;

October 22 - The Phoenix from the Flame: Charlestown's Recovery and Rivalry with Boston;

October 29 - Annexation and Industrialization: The Flight of the Old Middle Class, 1847-1910;

November 5 - The Irish and Charlestown's Renewed Sense of Identity, 1910-1975; and

November 12 - In Retrospect: Memory and the Awareness of Place in the Making of a Townie.

In testimony during the hearing, Attorney Pat Sweeney, who represented Memorial Hall owners of 14 Green Street, and Attorney Barry Korman, who represented the High Street Condo Association owners of 44 High Street, both indicated that the problem was that of the common drain utilized by the three owners and should be corrected

Michael Powers, attorney for Christopher Hafferty owner of 46 High Street. said the agreement was reached prior to Hafferty obtaining an attorney. He indicated that Hafferty wished to run his own line to connect into the High Street sewer line.

Judge Daher stated that all three parties must participate in the cost of the repair to this line. He said that the problem has to be solved now as the health of the community is being held hostage. He thus granted the relief on the matter as was sought by the City.

The Judge ordered the work to begin promptly, before cold weather makes excavation impossible and before someone gets sick.

The task of excavating the area to survey the sewer lines, determine the source of the leak and to make necessary repairs is scheduled to begin on Monday.

DiLibero Asks Mayor's Help To End "Fire Rouletté"

District One City Council Candidate, Maria DiLi bero has called on Mayo Raymond Flynn to help he to end the "Fire Roulette system of fire protection which imperils the families of East Boston, Charlestown and the North End. DiLibero released a copy of a letter she has sent to the Mayor soliciting his support in her effort to bring back fire equipment to stations in East Boston and Charles-

DiLibero said, "Under the present 'Fire Roulette' system, both East Boston and Charlestown are dependent on the fire companies located on Hanover Street in the North End for immediate and direct assistance. This 'Fire Roulette,' which strips one neighborhood of protection while another neighborhood is being responded to, is the most risky game of chance ever devised."

DiLibero noted that it was not the Flynn Administration that devised this system, "but I am hoping that your administration will put an end to this ill-conceived plan which is based on probility statistics. I believe that there are people in your administration, like you, who must realize that statistics do not save lives or extinguish fires . . . and DiLibero urged the Mayor "to do what the present City Councillor has been unable to do" and that is to return the fire engine pumper to the Saratoga Street Station and to return Engine 36 to the Sullivan Square Fire House.

DiLibero said, "That would be a good faith start to rebuilding adequate and sorely needed fire protec-

Tips On Home Security Presented At Police Meeting

by Mary Ziniti

The Boston Police/Community Relations Meeting resumed its monthly meeting schedule on September 8. The guest speaker, Crime Prevention Officer Bob O'Leary, addressed the issue of home security, with only a few Charlestown residents in attendance.

Officer Joe McNulty of Area A, who usually conducts these meetings, said that he invited O'Leary to speak because of the large number of house burglaries occurring in the town. He said that many thieves gain entry to homes through windows that residents leave open during the good weather to provide ventilation. O'Leary added that opened and unlocked doors also offer intruders easy access

In his demonstration, O'Leary used the model of a double hung, wooden window to show methods thieves use in gaining entry. He used this same window in demonstrating preventive measures that residents may exercise to prevent entry.

Burglars can force open windows, even locked ones, manually or with the aid of a screwdriver, according to O'Leary. He added that thieves are careful not to break any glass as that would only attract unwanted attention to the situation.

Methods of securing windows, in addition to the scallop locks typically used with this window, include venting locks and blocks of wood that attach to the sides of the upper part of the window so that the lower half cannot be raised. Additionally, O'Leary demonstrated how to pin the double hung window with nails that can be removed easily by the owner in the case of an emergency or simply to open the window.

He added that residents should pin windows that have air conditioners in them as intruders may pry the windows open with a screwdriver. O'Leary said not to use the pinning method on modern, aluminum windows because it will cause damage. For additional security for modern windows. O'Leary said to contact the manufacturer for correct methods. Another tendency of people in the summertime, according to O'Leary, is to leave doors opened or unlocked, which offers an additional means of entrance to intruders. "The general rule is, if a door is not in your sight, lock it," said O'Leary.

Robbers will enter homes even if the owner is occupying another part of the house, In particular, O'Leary noted that even nine and ten year old youths are sometimes guilty of this act. He added that these younger people "get away with it because of their age," even if someone in the house catches them. When confronted by the resident, these youths often give some excuse for being in the house and then are quickly dismissed from the premises to end the situa-

O'Leary said that most burglaries happen in the daytime because residents work, leaving homes unoccupied and thieves blend into the neighborhood more easily. At night, the unfamiliar appears more suspicious. McNulty added that most recent Charlestown break-ins have occurred in the Housing Development in the Hayes Square area.

O'Leary's advice to residents when a number of burglaries occur in one neighborhood is to "find a common weakness. Neighbors talking among themselves may discover that the thief used the same method to gain entrance in each instance, O'Leary
