LIMITED EXCHANGE TIME FOR ZIM

I strongly advise you all to at least pay some attention to the Summary portion of these posts. It appears to me that there will be NO exchange/redemption of the Zimbabwe currency/bond after about 31 days from the release of the RV. That is for the "Tier 5" people, or the "John Q Public" zim holders, or the unaware currency holders. Those are all terms for those currency holders who do not pay attention to the news of the RV/GCR. These people will still be able to exchange Dinars, Dong, Rials, and other currencies, but THERE WILL BE A TERMINATION of the handling of the ZIM.

For those of you who only occasionally pay attention to what is going on, if you find out about the RV being underway, there is a whole month in which you will be able to get an appointment and exchange, or redeem, your zim. But if you miss that 31 day window, YOU WILL NO LONGER BE ABLE TO EXCHANGE. That is the situation as far as we understand it today.

WIKILEAKS BOMBHELL: 'IF TRUMP DOESN'T TAKE CLINTON DOWN, WE WILL'

"Hillary Clinton's crimes will not go unpunished. If she is not formally charged for mishandling sensitive material we will have no choice but to release proof that she is guilty of high treason against the United States for selling patented military secrets to the Saudi Arabian government. We also have proof that she is guilty of crimes against Russia, Uzbekistan, Lithuania, Caledonia and Brazil. The United States would be doing her a favor by putting her in prison and saving her from the severe punishments several of these nations would impose."

The Real John McCain vs. the Current Media Legend.

August 30, 2018 by David Blackmon

The Evening Campaign Update

(Because The Campaign Never Ends)

[Note: I've been criticized quite a bit this week for being too nice in the things I've written about John McCain following his death. That's fine – I never served in the military and thus am quite reluctant to be overly critical of anyone who did. Still, the media's absurd hero-worship of McCain as a tool for beating President Trump about the head has grated on me, as it has many readers. Earlier today, I received the text below in an email from a friend who has himself served our country in stellar fashion in the U.S. Navy for many years as a Naval Aviator and combat pilot. I'll let this man's words speak for themselves.]

The more you know about the real-life of John McCain, the less likely you are to want to honor him at his funeral. It seems that his dying wishes of excluding some who knew him best might simply be out of fear that they would speak the truth about him, instead of the more popular mythology.

John S. McCain was born with two silver spoons in his mouth. His grandfather was a 4-Star Admiral as well as his Father. He tapped into his family legacy for an appointment to the US Naval Academy where he was a terrible student fraught with poor grades and demerits. He graduated at the bottom of his class at Annapolis (894 of 899) and again only his family connections can explain that low of a graduate obtaining a coveted slot in flight school. His flying career validated the Navy's standard pilot selection criteria, as this family "golden boy" crashed two aircraft and destroyed a third out of negligence and "flat-hatting". (He flew one into the water, he ran out of gas on the way home from the Army/Navy game, and he clipped power lines in a 3rd). Your standard pilot would never would have been allowed to keep flying with even one of his incidents of incompetence, but the Admiral's son got promoted.

Again working his family connections, he worked a transfer from an A-1 unit to an A-4 squadron where he again found himself over his head. Green in the aircraft, inexperienced in the tactics, and disliked by his squadron-mates, he forced his way to the head of the line to lead the mission of his famous shoot-down.

—Let's be clear. It took giant brass balls to fly these missions. Everyone who has ever strapped on a military aircraft and taken off from a ship to fly into combat deserves at least a modicum of respect. Still, the truth about what happened is important.—

With that said, there is no doubt that John McCain was shot down due largely to his own incompetence as a pilot. In his own book, he admitted that he didn't follow proper procedures for a missile warning, and his squadron-mates refute his account of the shoot down. He claims that he disregarded the missile warning to get his bombs off. Witnesses and the official report show that he failed to pull out at the proper altitude and was shot down by AAA. Both accounts add up to pilot error.

While in captivity, John McCain recorded propaganda to be used against the United States, he gave information that endangered (and likely cost) the lives of other Americans, and used his father's position for preferential treatment while in captivity. Some of those recordings are available in the National Archives, others remain classified. Many are used to teach current officers what examples of the US Code of Conduct for POWs would be. McCain's conduct in captivity was much closer to that of Bowe Bergdahl than it was Louis Zamperini.

When McCain got home, he used the fame brought about by his father's position to live a "rock star" life. Instead of happily reuniting with his wife and three children, he had multiple affairs, abandoned his family and married his wealthy mistress less than a month after his divorce. His conduct is even more disgusting because it was largely due to the fact that his wife had been in a car accident. He didn't just leave a woman who he had grown apart from due to the stress of war. He abandoned the badly injured mother of his children because a wealthy pretty alternative was available.

McCain then he used his celebrity and dubious "hero" status to get into a political office where he sold his support to the highest bidder for the rest of his life. The media gave him the nickname of "Maverick", since he would often go against his party. The name "Turn Coat" would be much more fitting. McCain voted against improving the VA, while somehow amassing a $13+ million-dollar fortune as a retired officer on a disability pension plus a senator's salary. Pretty neat trick for a "public servant" to be insanely rich, especially when his prenuptial agreement with his wealthy 2nd wife mandated total separation of finances.

It makes me want to vomit that there is discussion about appointing one of McCain's daughters to his Senate Seat. Family connections alone got a terrible student (894 out of 899 at the Naval Academy) a pilot slot that he didn't earn. Family connections alone propped up John S. McCain when he destroyed three aircraft out of negligence. Family connections alone kept John S. McCain from being kicked out of the Navy for his personal conduct after he returned from Vietnam (adultery is punishable by the UCMJ, and his conduct would have been career killer in today's Navy). The McCain family produced two four star admirals who were outstanding Naval Officers. For goodness sake though, the McCain family has cashed in plenty on those men's accomplishments. John McCain's failures at every position he has ever held are a case study in the dangers of nepotism. It is time for this family's influence to end.

John McCain was a fraud when he was alive, and the mythology after his death is even sillier. The liberal media loves him because his last act in congress was to prevent a milestone accomplishment for President Trump when McCain betrayed Republicans and voted "thumbs down" to the repeal of Obamacare. Somehow, again, voting against something that you campaigned for made John a "Maverick" and not a "Traitor".

There are good and honest men with much more modest "accomplishments" due to the simple facts that they didn't have a powerful father, and they refused to stray from their principles. You can find them at your local fire station, VFW, Legion Post, School Board, and coaching youth sports. You find them married to wives they took vows to, and raising children they love and cherish. You can find them earning honest wages in business or in service. All of these men have values and character that was NEVER displayed by John McCain.

The more anyone knows about John McCain, the less there is to like.

PBS Documentary Gives Virtual Proof NSA Could Have Stopped 9/11, But Didn't

This message is also available at this link.

Dear friends,

The Spy Factory is a penetrating documentary produced by PBS Nova which gives virtual proof that the NSA could have stopped 9/11.

Based largely on the excellent work of bestselling author and former ABC News investigative producer James Bamford, The Spy Factory leaves no doubt that the NSA was following several of the alleged hijackers for many months before 9/11 and refused to share the vital information they gathered with the FBI or CIA.

Among the many other strange incidents presented is how starting in 1996, the NSA was able to listen in on all of Osama bin Laden's private phone conversations with Al Qaeda's headquarters in Yemen. As

Bamford states towards the end of the documentary, "the NSA had all the information it needed to stop the hijackers."

James Bamford is the intrepid journalist who broke the story on Operation Northwoods. He presented declassified documents on this top secret operation revealing that "in the early 1960s, America's top military leaders reportedly drafted plans to kill innocent people and commit acts of terrorism in U.S. cities to create public support for a war against Cuba" (see ABC News article here). Though this shocking news was reported on ABC, no other major network picked up the story.

The astonishing Northwoods documents show that the top Pentagon generals were willing to kill US civilians and falsely blame it on the Cubans as a ruse to get the American public to support war against Cuba. In the same fashion, could 9/11 have in some way been a means to get the US involved in a never-ending war in the Middle East?

In the beautifully produced, 52-minute PBS documentary Spy Factory, interviews with Bamford and numerous former officials of the NSA show that we are far from understanding all that happened on that fateful day.

Among those calling for a new, impartial investigation of 9/11 are 50 government and military officials, over 3,000 architects and engineers, over 100 professors, 250 pilots and aviation officials, and 300 9/11 survivors and family members. As detailed in the links provided, they have all publicly stated that the 9/11 Commission Report is fatally flawed. Among these respected individuals are two former U.S. Senators, a former FBI director, the former president of Italy, and many more.

Hundreds of major media articles also raise serious questions about the official story of 9/11. You can find a two-page summary of dozens of these articles with links for verification at this link. A longer ten-page summary at this link goes into much more detail.
