How to Method To Convert Page File To Doc or Docx?

1. Open Page File in Window:

For this, you should right-click on the .pages file in Windows and then you have to choose Rename. Now at the end of the filename, you should replace .pages with .zip. When you rename it, you have to open that file which is now becomes a zip file. Then in the folder named Quicklook, you should open it and there you will see a file named Preview.pdf. Now it is converted in the pdf format. If you want to open it in Windows 7, then you must have a free pdf reader like Adobe Reader but remember you can also use Microsoft Word to open a pdf file. But in Windows 8 or later, it contains a built-in pdf reader. You just have to open the Preview.pdf and then it will open up in the reader. If all the content is text, then you can copy the text and just save it in a Word document. To select the all content, you have to press Ctrl + A key. After this, you should press Ctrl and C key together to copy it. Now, you have to open a new Word document and then press Ctrl and V key just to paste the copied content in the Word document. Here, all the text will be copied. You just have to save the document. And remember it will saved in doc format. www.office.com/setup
