Communicating Empathy
THE HEART-HEAD-HEART™ METHOD

Team Leader's Action Plan

Dear Team Leader:

According to the landmark study “Global Perspectives on Patient Experience 2018” by The Beryl Institute, when assessing the patient experience, above all else patients, families and coworkers value personal connection, empathic communication and respectful treatment. Yet, in today’s hectic, high-pressure healthcare environment, healthcare staff and providers have become so busy and task-oriented that personal connection, empathic communication and respectful treatment suffer. The result is that while people on our teams are caring people, their caring may not come across to the people they serve.

Communicating Empathy: The Heart-Head-Heart™ Method helps team members embrace and use the powerful Heart-Head-Heart method to make their caring felt in their everyday interactions. When patients, families and coworkers FEEL their caring, they become less anxious and more trusting, confident and cooperative. In short, they feel safe and supported in your team’s caring hands.

The Communicating Empathy Team Leader’s Action Plan:

1. Provides an overview of the Communicating Empathy program and the Heart-Head-Heart Method, as well as the steps in the implementation process.
2. Describes your responsibilities as team leader and provides you with important, step-by-step actions to ensure your team gains competence, confidence, and consistent practice of Heart-Head-Heart.
3. Informs you on where to find the tools and resources you’ll need as you work through the Team Leader’s Action Plan.

Thank you!

YOU are pivotal to the success of Communicating Empathy: The-Heart-Head-Heart Method and to engaging your team in being much more effective communicators.

- THANK YOU for modeling Heart-Head-Heart with your team, patients, families and colleagues.
- THANK YOU for making empathic communication a norm and expectation with your entire team.
- THANK YOU for inspiring and coaching your team to embrace and use empathic communication in all of their interactions.
- THANK YOU for your leadership.

With appreciation,
The Language of Caring and Planetree International Team

A. Program Introduction & Overview

1. Purpose

Communicating Empathy: The Heart-Head-Heart™ Method helps people, including those in healthcare, express their empathy and caring effectively and consistently. This do-it-yourself program enables leaders at every level to engage providers and staff in mastering and consistently using the proven Heart-Head-Heart communication method to enhance their interactions. It is grounded in best practices developed by Language of Caring® and instituted in healthcare organizations nationwide.

Expected results include:

- Increased employee engagement as staff connect more often with patients, families, and coworkers
- Greater patient engagement and improved outcomes
- More productive team interactions through greater collaboration, cooperation, and less conflict
- People expressing empathy, compassion and support to reduce anxiety and promote healing

A growing research base demonstrates the power of empathy in positively transforming the patient, family and coworker experience in healthcare. Research shows that by communicating with empathy in every interaction, each member of the healthcare team produces benefits for patients and families, colleagues, the organization, and themselves. The Heart-Head-Heart method is a simple, yet powerful, mental model that helps people communicate with empathy and caring which leads to remarkable results.

The Results of Communicating with Empathy in Healthcare Interactions

- Reduced anxiety, as well as greater trust, engagement, and cooperation among patients and families
- Fewer difficult situations, complaints and lawsuits
- Stronger patient commitment and adherence to their care plans
- More positive patient outcomes
- Greater appreciation from patients and families
- Greater patient retention and loyalty
- A more positive grapevine about your organization
- Providers and staff who feel more engaged and gratified in their caring work
- Improved relationships outside of work, with friends, family, teachers, business contacts, and more

2. Background and Facts

These days, people in healthcare feel extremely pressured. They have many priorities, responsibilities, and a combination of stresses they experience at work and beyond. As a result, there is a tendency for them to predominantly use “Head” or task-oriented communication. This looks and sounds like communication based mostly in explaining what they’re doing, gathering information and describing actions/options/plans. What is missing are expressions of caring or “Heart” communication including verbal and non-verbal behaviors associated with empathy, appreciation, sincere regret about pain, anxiety and inconvenience, and observable actions that are tied to the emotional and connected personal experience.

Of course, people rely on us for “Head” communication. They need and want information, options, answers, explanations and choices. However, interactions that include solely Head messages feel impersonal. Patients and families often think, “These people may be competent, but do they really care about ME as an individual?”

- Heart Communication: We tune into and acknowledge feelings and anxieties, respond from our hearts, and connect to the person as an individual.
- Head Communication: We explain tasks, information, options, plans, and the business at hand.

Communicating “Heart” eases people’s anxieties. It personalizes care and service while building the trust and comfort key to engaging patients and families. When staff members communicate exclusively from their heads, does that mean they don’t CARE? Absolutely not. It’s just that their caring does not come across in the way they intended. The result: The people they serve do not FEEL their caring and emotional support as part of their experience. The Heart-Head-Heart method is based on the premise that complete, effective and satisfying communication has both Heart and Head communication.

The Heart-Head-Heart Method

The Heart-Head-Heart Method is a mental model that prompts people to start their communication with a Heart message, move to a Head message (the business at hand), and end with another Heart message. Here’s how it works:

- ♥ Heart: Speak from your heart first. Show personal caring and empathy. (eg: That sounds so upsetting for you! I’m worry that happened!)
- 🗨️ Head: Then speak from your head. Meet people’s needs for action, information, solutions. (eg: Let me explain... The options are... Here’s what I’ll do...)
- ♥ Heart: Then, speak from the heart again. Close on a personal or feeling note. (eg: I’m so glad you told me about this. I want to make things right for you.)

The Heart-Head-Heart Sandwich metaphor is a simple, visual way to remember to mix Heart and Head messages in a 2:1 ratio. The Language of Caring team has found that the Sandwich metaphor helps people remember and apply Heart-Head-Heart in their everyday situations.

The fact is...

People don't care how much we know unless they know how much we care.

Who is this program for?

For everyone! Nurses, physicians and providers, technicians, support services, leaders, all staff across the continuum of care, etc.

And for every type of healthcare organization. Healthcare systems, hospitals, long-term care facilities, hospices, medical groups, health plans, outpatient centers, emergency departments, express care centers, pharmacies, home healthcare services and more!

It is also an effective intervention for departments or teams within organizations.

How does the Communicating Empathy program fit with other change initiatives?

By helping everyone communicate with caring, even under pressure and stress, Heart-Head-Heart can help you humanize and make more effective your implementation of performance improvement efforts including LEAN, your Electronic Health Record transition, mergers and acquisitions, safety initiatives, and much more. Communicating empathy is the “how” that ensures helpful and encouraging communication takes place, which is key to strengthening every other initiative's results.

3. Program Components

The Communicating Empathy program consists of three different parts:

1. Planning and Preparing Leaders
2. Communicating Empathy Workshop followed by Mastery and Habit-Building
3. Sustainment and Further Improvement

Program Planning and Preparing Leaders

Program Planning comes first. This guide will walk you through the decisions you'll need to make to implement the Communicating Empathy program and get the results you want. Next, in alignment to your decisions, you will prepare facilitators to facilitate the workshop and leaders to lead their teams in mastery and habit-building.

Communicating Empathy* Workshop

The Communicating Empathy Workshop is the training component of this program. This 60-minute workshop is critical to ensure every staff member understands and can apply the Heart-Head-Heart method. Then, following the next steps in the Team Leader's Action Plan, leaders use tools and resources to achieve concrete performance improvement, skill mastery, and results. The recommended time frame for the workshop and Habit-building is 8–16 weeks depending on your preferred timeline.

Sustainment and Further Improvement

After mastery, the challenge is ongoing sustainment. The goal is to reinforce and strengthen use of Heart-Head-Heart so empathic communication becomes a reliable, consistent and impressive feature in communication interactions over many years. It is essential to onboard new team members via your organization's new employee orientation or department-specific orientation, so Heart-Head-Heart continues to stay present in your organization. Other sustainment tactics include reminders, refreshers, adjustments to job descriptions, performance reviews, and more.

B. Your Responsibilities as Team Leader: The Team Leader's Action Plan

1. A Few Notes on the Action Plan

You are pivotal to engaging your team(s) with Communicating Empathy—the program and the Heart-Head-Heart method. It is truly up to you to make Heart-Head-Heart take hold and become a universal language that you and your team use daily in interactions with patients, families, and coworkers.

To engage your team and produce the results you want, you will need to devote focus, time and energy to leading your team through the Team Leader's Action Plan.

What exactly will you need to do to be successful?

Based on years of experience partnering with healthcare organizations to achieve sustainable performance improvement, the Language of Caring team has identified the critical actions team leaders need to take in order to get sustained improvement.

You will find these in the team leader's action plan a few pages below.

Resources/Tools

The Team Leader's Action Plan, lists specific activities and references several Resources/Tools you'll need for them. When an action step references a Resource/Tool you can easily locate it in one of the following source documents denoted in the column labeled Resources/Tools.

The Resources/Tools include:

1. Workshop Facilitator's Guide. Step-by-step facilitation instructions for the one-hour foundational workshop. Includes instructions for accessing the PowerPoint and videos.
2. The Heart-Head-Heart Handbook. This is a booklet to be given to each program participant. It includes the handouts that will be used in the workshop, and also much more to reinforce, enliven, and support effective learning and use of Heart-Head-Heart in people's lives at work and beyond.
3. Habit-Builders Guide. Series of very short group activities for huddles or meetings—to help staff review, master and prepare to use Heart-Head-Heart in their everyday lives.
4. Toolbox. Specific templates, worksheets, assessments, and more—to make each action step clear and easy to carry out.
5. Program Overview Video. A high-level overview video of the Communicating Empathy program - includes purpose of the program, components, implementation advice.

2. The Team Leader’s Action Plan

The Team Leader’s Action Plan outlines and sequences, in concrete terms, the recommended actions each leader should take to effectively engage their team and support them in achieving skill mastery, consistent use and sustainment. The Action Plan refers you to tools and resources to make each action clear and easy for you.
