Directors Elected To Kennedy Board

The Kennedy Center's APAC Election was held on Tuesday, September 20th. The fact that there was no competition for the seven precinct seats and the two at-large spots resulted in a low voter turnout.

A total of 83 votes were cast. Those elected to the Kennedy Center Board were: Precinct 1 - Phil Coleman, Precinct 3 - Robert Wallace, Precinct 4 - Joseph Kent, Precinct 6 - Tom Cunha, and Precinct 7 - Charlie Johnson. There were no candidates from Precincts 2 or 5.

In the At-Large race, two candidates were elected to the two vacant seats. David Flanagan, with 62 votes, was elected to a two year term and Ed O'Connell, with 41 votes, CharlesNewtown Co-Op are faced with a decision on whether or not they should dissolve their co-operative living arrangement or possibly face foreclosure or receivership in the future.

In an emergency membership meeting called last Monday night, residents of the 13 year old complex were told that their board of directors had been investigating the possibilities 'syndicating" the co-op as a means of pulling the complex out of severe financial difficulties.

CharlesNewtown was originally developed to become a non-profit co-op whereby program residents of its 262 units were actually owners with equity rather than tenants. Each owner had to initially invest approximately $250 to "purchase his apartment and then pay a monthly carrying charge to be used towards the co-op's operating expenses.

apartment at a later date for a profit, however, as the value of the complex had decreased because of shoddy construction and negligence, a resident who has invested in the co-op can not even recover his initial investment.

Housing and Urban Development (HUD) estimates that CharlesNewtown needs an additional $1 million to improve its facility and pay off its debts, however, HUD is reportedly unwilling to allot any more to the co-op. Residents were told that the $109 thousand monthly income was not enough to pay the $130 thousand monthly expenses and that the future could mean foreclosure or receivership

Faced with this possible future, residents were asked to consider a proposal by realtor Phillip Quinn to syndicate the co-

Community School News

The Community School Program will be starting on its Fall Programs very soon. Already registration has begun for the G.E.D. Preparatory Classes scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Testing for these classes will occur on Tuesday, September 27th and Thursday, September 29th at 6:30 p.m. at the High School Community School Facility.

Aerobics will begin on Monday, October 4th, at the Kent Community School Facility on 50 Bunker Hill Street. It will meet each Monday and Thursday night from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. Registration can be made now or on the first night. The cost of the class is $25.00 for 10 weeks. This fee can be budgeted over the first three weeks of the class. Pauline Davis will return as the Instructor.

Graphic Arts will be offered once again. The Program site and the course format will be different, however. This course is taught by staff from the Museum of Fine Arts on Tuesday evenings from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. at the High School Community School. It is designed for students of all levels of ability in a variety of printmaking techniques including woodcut, engraving, stencil printing, silkscreen, and fabric printing. There will be several trips to the Museum to view permanent and special exhibitions of prints and will be highlighted by a discussion with Curatorial Staff. Use this course to put your impressions of Charlestown and its

by Sal Giarratani

"Linkage" has become a buzzword in this year's mayoral campaign as all the candidates are supporting some form of linkage between downtown construction and neighborhood housing.

Many candidates support a surcharge tax concept on new businesses entering the city or old businesses expanding. I believe it is in the best interest of business to work with the city in attaining decent and affordable housing in Boston's neighborhoods.

The business climate of the city in many ways depends on Boston being liveable. A "world class" city can not be an oasis for the rich and a refuge for the poor.

I believe business should be asked to take a direct hand in the housing crisis just as business has taken a direct hand through the Boston Compact in the educational picture.

Bring the private sector into public housing. Let companies like John Hancock, State Street Bank, Bank of Boston, Jordan Marsh, etc. get involved in the neighborhoods. They have the financial resources to rebuild public housing and new private housing. Its one thing for them to support mayoral debates at Faneuil Hall and another for them to put their money where their mouths are.

Adult Swim is scheduled for Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights from 5:00 to 6:00 p.m. and 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. and Wednesday nights from 6:00 to 7:30 p.m.

Council Elections have been scheduled for Tuesday, October 25th. The Council will announce particulars of the election in next week's Patriot.

The Boston City Council has completed action on the budget for Boston Community Schools. They voted a $150,000. supplementary budget for fiscal 1984. Mark Urquhart, Chairperson of the Kent/Charlestown Council and Treasurer of the Citywide Board of Boston Community Schools, will be meeting with other representatives of neighborhood councils to determine how these funds will be dispersed throughout the City. This alone is a good reason for Charlestown residents to think twice about the possibility of running for the Kent/Charlestown Council.

Information on any of the above can be obtained by calling 242-2770 weekdays after 2:30 p.m.

Life Focus Center Pays Tribute To Anne Noone

The Life Focus Center will be closed on Friday morning, September 23, 1983 out of respect for our former employee, Anne Noone, who died on Tuesday, September 21st.

Anne continued to give of her self to her family and the retarded and handicapped at the Center, through a long and debilitating disease.

She ran the kitchen program for two years, teaching the children how to shop, cook and clean-up at their weekly dinner. Her love for the children at the Center was reflected in their warm response to her each time she entered the facility.

Some time ago, Anne taught the children the song "If You're Ever In A Jam, Here I Am" and many of the children would burst into this song each time they saw her.

Anne will be sorely missed by the staff and children of the Life Focus Center.

Funeral services will be held on Friday, September 23rd at St. Catherine's Church.

Officiating the ceremony were Paul Grogan, Director. Neighborhood Development and Employment Agency, Dr. Neil Schram, Dr. Robert Esdale, Joe Flaherty, and John Sullivan of the Bank of New England.

NDEA Director Paul S. Grogan said, "We are very pleased with the keen interest of local businessmen to actively participate in the City's efforts to revitalize Thompson Square. Today marks the official completion of our first project, a project that reflects the sincere commitment of the owners, Doctors Esdale and Schram, the Charlestown Commercial District Task Force and the City to work cooperatively for the betterment of Charlestown."

Grogan further noted that not only are the doctors continuing valuable medical services in Charlestown, but they have also created a total of 20 permanent jobs.

Located on Dexter Row at the corner of Green Street, the Charlestown Professional Building houses Charlestown Vision Associates, owned by Dr. Schram, and Dr. Esdale's dentistry practice. There is 1500 square feet of office space still available for rent in the building.

Financing for the $301,000 project has been made possible through loans from NDEA's Neighborhood Commerical Development Bank and from the Bank of New England and equity from Doctors Schram and Esdale. Through the Neighborhood Commercial Development Bank, Doctors Schram and Esdale were able to obtain a $120.000 long-term, lowinterest loan as well as free technical and architectural assistance.

Courses For Apprentice Exams

The Boston Public Schools will conduct special courses to encourage male and female students to enter the construction trades. These courses are designed to assist young adults in preparing for Apprenticeship Examinations in various trades. They will be held on Wednesday evenings at the Hubert Humphrey Occupational Resourse Center, 75 New Dudley Street, beginning Wednesday, October 12, 1983, from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m.

The content of the course will consist of sample examinations used in Mechanical Aptitudes Tests for apprenticeship programs. Verbal reasoning, mechanical aptitude, numerical understanding, and spatial relations will be reviewed. The course is open entrance, open exit; it is self-paced and based on individualized instruction.

Preparation for Apprenticeship Examination Classes provide valuable opportunities for young people interested in vocational careers.

Chowder Festival To Benefit Horizons For Youth

To New Englanders, there is only one kind of clam chowder — theirs. And a recipe calling for anything other than the traditional milk-base broth, loaded with vegetables and clams, just doesn't make the grade.

In Manhattan, they add tomatoes, and Marylanders may prefer chicken over clams. But here "Clam" chowder includes clams and milk, it's as simple as that.

Kennedy Center News

The Kennedy Center's Summer clean-up effort was aided by public and private sources. First among those who helped is City Councillor Maura Hennigan. Councillor Hennigan's Office provided resources that were essential to a successful program. Coordination with Public Works for the provision of tools are but a few of the services her staff provided. Maura's aide, David Flanagan, a Charlestown resident, was pelpful in assuring services were delivered. David was instrumental in getting the mess behind the Charlestown High School Athletic Facility cleaned up. Bob Ryan of the BRA worked with David and the Kennedy Center to assure that eyesore was finally cleaned.

COMMUNITY AWARDS

The ABCD Annual Community Awards Banquet will be held on October 28, 1983. The Award Banquet celebrates achievements by neighborhood residents in community work. Joseph Kent, our Board's President, is a deserving recipient. The keynote speaker will be Presidential aspirant, former astronaut John Glenn. Tickets are available at the Kennedy Center.

EMPLOYMENT

Our employment services have been reduced because of cutbacks at the State level, but we are still in business. If you are seeking full or part time employment, or you are unsure of what career to choose, or you are interested in training, drop into the Neighborhood Employment Center, Monday through Friday.

VOLUNTEERS

Extra time on your hands? Looking for a rewarding experience? There are a number of volunteer opportunities available at the Kennedy Center. We work every day with elderly, children, families and handicapped people who need help. We provide recreation, education, counseling and a variety of services aimed at those in need. We could do a better job with your help. Give us a call and let us know what groups and activities you would like to work with. You will be glad you did.

SERVICES TO THE COMMUNITY

The Boston Globe article concerning the Charlestown Housing Project that ran in the Saturday, September 17, 1983 edition implied no social services are available at the Project was absurd. The Kennedy Center's primary source of clients over the previous 15 years has been Project residents. We have provided jobs and training, family counseling, drug and alcohol counseling, food stamps, nutrition services, Head Start, Pre-School and After School Day Care, Teen Center, elderly services of all types, homemaking services, educational counseling, economic assistance programs, 766 Advocacy and legal assistance to name a few. Our records document the high usage by Project residents in all our programs. We have treated the Project as an integral segment of Charlestown and attempted to bring all Project residents into the mainstream of our community. The obvious attempt to isolate the Project as a district from the rest of Charlestown is counterproductive, makes no sense and will result in needless frustration for all Charlestown residents

New Englanders are proud to point out that the earliest known clam chowder recipe appeared in 1833 in "The Cook's Own Book," and included the now-famous "New England" ingredients.

The unmistakable brew was originally prepared in ships' galleys and the homes of Northeastern sailors. But as recipes traveled across the plains of America, other locally available ingredients were substituted. More than 100 years later the "Yankees" took offense and in 1939 Maine legislator Seeder introduced a bill making it illegal to add tomatoes.

Indeed, clam chowdermaking is serious business.
And it'll get even more serious when 30 top area
food establishments square

Common, Sunday.
September 25. They'll offer

The Chowderfest,

sponsored by August A. Busch of Cambridge, will benefit Horizons For Youth in Sharon.

"We're bound to see some intense clam chowder making," said Fred Bavley of HFY, "especially in Boston, the unofficial chowder capital of the world."

Annually, Horizons For Youth provides vital services to youths with physical, emotional, social and psychological problems at its 300-acre facility.

Since its inception in 1938, Horizons For Youth has provided help to more than 70,000 children.

The Chowderfest is one of the largest fundraising efforts undertaken by HFY. Among the others are: The American Legion Walk For Youth, the Michelob Celebrity Golf Tournament and the Salute to the Boston Bruins Dinner.

TRAVAGLINI MAKES YOUTH A FIRST PRIORITY

Bob Travaglini is the ONLY candidate with a responsible program directed toward our young people. Travaglini believes that investments in youth today will reap important rewards tomorrow.

The Travaglini program includes:

- Establishing a city-wide priority for organized, well funded athletic programs.
- Working closely with the District School Committeeman to ensure funding and support for educational needs.
- Coordination of local youth organizations to maximize access to city government and ensure a fair distribution of available funds.

4. Support a coordinated curriculum in the Boston Public Schools which includes a "Back to Basics" educational program. Travaglini thinks it is intolerable that some young people, even when they finish school, are so poorly trained that they are unable to find meaningful jobs.

More summer jobs, distributed on the basis of a demonstrated need.

Charles Newtown Residents Must Decide On Dissolving Co-Op

Greg Jordan of Hunneman and Company, Inc., managers of CharlesNewtown read a list of debts currently owed by the co-op. They were: Boston Edison, $310 thousand; Boston Gas $100 thousand; and Boston Water and Sewer, $50 thousand. In addition, CharlesNewtown is late in paying their monthly $22 thousand mortgage payment.

While Jordan admitted the complex has made a dent in utility debt, he said he feared that with onset of winter the utilities will again soar, making it nearly impossible for the co-op to "catch-up."

Much of the problem lies in the lost revenues from uninhabitable apartments and lost subsidies for some families who live in the coop. Jordan explained that out of 262 living units, 25 of these units are without any rent assistance, meaning that the families pay the same rent they had in the past, but this amount is not matched by a subsidy from the city or state. This means the additional carrying charge amount must come from the coop's operating budget.

Eighteen units fall under the Sweat Equity Program which allowed residents to pay between 25% and 30% of their income as a carrying charge in return for rehabilitating a unit with their own money and sweat. Seven units are uninhabitable: 10 units are set aside for employees of CharlesNewtown and do not produce any income.

said Jordan CharlesNewtown has the gross potential of raising $140 thousand per month. He said that if the seven apartments could be renovated and carrying charges updated (increased), that operating expenses would be covered. However, he said the complex would still be faced with the utility debts. Should Quinn be allowed to buy the co-op, he would reduce these debts while he and the other investors would use their investment as a tax shelter. Quinn estimated he would get back $1 for every $1 he invested.

During the 27 years Quinn would pay the mortgage, CharlesNewtown residents would see things run more or less the same as now. This is because Quinn would be bound by HUD regulations. Following repayment of the mortgage, Quinn and his investors could do whatever they chose with the complex, including elling it.

Uncertainty over the future is what upset most residents, some who have lived there since it was built.

In addition, there is no guarantee that Quinn can obtain the subsidies he will need to be able to keep rents down for the residents CharlesNewtown although he seems confident he can get something from HUD.

A spokesman of Hunneman Company thinks Quinn already has a promise of subsidies from Washington, D.C.

A vote on whether or not to dissolve the co-op is scheduled for approximately two weeks from now. According to coop board president Richard Sevier, each resident will be visited by someone on the board who will take the vote. Each resident will have to sign a form indicating his/her choice.

This system evoked protest from several residents who thought the vote should be held on one day at one place.

Each voting resident will have three choices: 1.) to vote in favor of dissolving the co-op and authorizing the board of directors to use all their powers and negotiating efforts to sell CharlesNewtown; 2.) to vote against dissolving the co-op; and 3.) to vote against dissolving the coop but authorizing the board to continue investigating possibility of syndicating the co-op.

Residents Focus On Future After Sale Of Co-Op

by Maria Girvin

Most of the residential reaction to Monday evening's emergency meeting to discuss dissolving the Co-Op known as CharlesNewtown, focused on the future.

"What's going to happen to us after the mortgage is paid," was the question echoed through the evening by residents, saying they feared they would be evicted.

How did we ever get in this situation, anyhow,' asked others who recalled that the utilities were paid off two years ago after HUD provided a flexible loan to get the complex back on its feet.

"One of you say that we owe a month's mortgage payment and will owe another month soon and the other says that we always pay our mortgage payment. You're contradicting yourself," a resident stated. This was somewhat true. Greg Jordan of Hunneman, Inc. told residents that CharlesNewtown was in arrears by one month and would soon have to pay October's mortgage. In fact, CharlesNewtown is in a 30-day grace period which is not unusual for the complex. They are late, but not on the verge of foreclosure.

"Will our rents go up?" asked several residents.

"I can't say," said Quinn. "We will seek as many subsidies as possible."

Many residents scoffed at Quinn's estimate of CharlesNewtown's worth to be under $2 million. "Don't tell me," said one woman to Jordan "that no one is interested in buying this property and putting condos on it.'

One resident was applauded when she scolded the board members for not notifying people sooner about the meeting and their investigation into syndicating the development. "I don't think it right for you people to call a meeting to talk about something so complicated and then think eveeryone's going to vote." she stated. She had learned of the meeting earlier in the afternoon.

'The board sent out three notices to residents that we were going to have a meeting about this," said Richard Sevier.

'Sure, their idea of telling people about a meeting is putting a flyer on the doorknob where it can get blown away or lost," grumbled the woman.

'Several residents made negative remarks when Jordan said that syndication would be discussed with each resident individually. "They're going to put the squeeze on us," mumbled one resident.

When the voting process of visiting each person's home was explained, several residents said they wanted the vote to take place in an open room on a

'I don't like this visiting your house stuff," said an anonymous resident in a telephone interview. "What will happen is some board members will go around and tell people to vote in favor of dissolving the Co-Op, telling them that everyone is doing it. People will be afraid to go against the board."

Several residents have called the Patriot concerned over Monday's meeting and their rights as homeowners. Many of these residents did not wish to give their names for fear of repercussions from others who live in the Co-Op.

Those who did give their names did so reluctantly and only after a promise that their names be withheld.

City Councillor Ray Flynn's office has begun making inquiries on CharlesNewtown and is checking into HUD regulations and the rights of residents.

KNOW THINE ENEMY, AND DO SOMETHING ABOUT

Just about a month has elapsed since the terrorist-like attack and destruction of an unarmed, passenger-carrying, civilian airplane ... blown out of the sky over the Sea of Japan by a Russian missile, terminating the lives of 269 innocent people; men, women and children from several different countries, including the renowned and highly respected Dr. Lawrence Patton McDonald, Congressman from Marietta, Georgia. And we are as mad as we are sad!

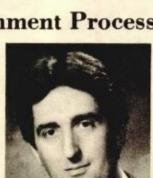

All the political experts, defense and intelligence communities, and government officials of many nations have had their say, offered their opinion and, unbelievably, (as we write) the recriminations have boiled down to an abysmal nothingness compared to the holocaust perpetrated on the victims, and the anguish of their surviving family members.

One would expect an immediate and profound apology from any government involved in such a dastardly deed, with an offer of reparations, and a promise of their being no possible repeat of such a barbaric act. Such was not the case, however, and we were to observe a denial, followed by lies, and then an admission (almost gloatingly) with a

Nucci Calls For Stable Student Assignment Process

John A. Nucci, Candidate for the Boston School Committee from District One. (East Boston. Charlestown, North End) issued a statement last week stressing his priority to "create an atmosphere of stability and predictability that Boston parents deserve." Nucci commented that "The biggest single complaint that I hear, as students return this Fall, is the unpredictability of where students attend school from year to year. Parents are confused and anxious and there is certainly sufficient reason why."

Nucci noted that student assignment processes to comply with court orders should be done, "in such a way that parents know, to the maximum extent feasible where their children will attend school from first grade right through the upper grades. The current practice of bouncing almost 25 percent of our students to a different school each year is totally unacceptable to me. I intend to make this matter a priority, if elected," Nucci

JOHN A. NUCCI

Boston College and the holder of a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Suffolk University, has been campaigning visibly and energetically across the entire district with specific discussions on the issues with concerned parents, pupils and taxpayers. "I feel it is critical that voters look closely at School Committee candidates' educational and community background before making a choice. I have been visibly presenting my positions for the past six months," Nucci added.

threat to repeat such an atrocity if similar events presented themselves.

What is alarming, from our point of view, is that so many of our fellow countrymen were shocked that this atheistic, amoral Russian government could do such a thing. They have seemingly been lulled into a sense of false security by all the high-and-mighty promises of cooperation in the area of nuclear disarmament, coupled with a much publicized Pastoral Letter from the bishops. Is it any wonder? While "freeze" advocates were making positive and visible efforts, Russia was invading Afghanistan. Still they didn't (or wouldn't) see! Truly, can there by anyone seriously involved in the SALT talks or Nuclear Disarmament policies with the Russians who are not now suspect that the Soviet Union could/would plan and effect a firststrike nuclear attack?

We rank ourselves amongst those who are far less than satisfied with the measures taken by our and other governments. Denial of air flights and restricted tourist travel for a short period of time are hardly strong punitive actions tailored to fit the crime; especially whereas we go on selling the Russians grain to feed their Red Army, supplying technological information and hardware, and countenancing their foreign (KGB) operatives throughout the country even to the extent of their roaming the Halls of

You and I can do something about it...should, and probably must! We hear much of how we're bound by economic, social and cultural ties, and how, governmentally speaking, little can be done in these areas without affecting trade agreements, the farmer in the Mid-West (hogwash!), money and banking interests, etc. ad nauseum. With the thought of 269 innocents in mind, we'll personally have no trouble not purchasing anything Russian-made, or from their satellites (e.g. plywood and vodka), will not be attending or TV-viewing any cultural exchange events (e.g. ballet, art displays, heady lectures from their visiting diplomats at our universities, colleges and lecture halls), or sporting events (hockey, basketball, ping-pong or whatever) ... including the 1984 Olympics if they are mutual participants. And, shouldn't we leave the U.N. if Russia isn't ejected therefrom? Or at least call for its removal from American soil?

Tomes could be written about the many, many instances where the Russian government has broken accords, covenants, treaties and arms agreements but our leaders still insist on the primrose path in negotiating with these - -Perhaps we should we should have someone from the Baltic states of vestervear, or from any of the present Captive Nations enjoined with our negotiating teams. It would, at least, take the sting out of the present allegations - from all sides - that we have become a weak-willed, spiritless nation, ever ready to indulge 'the bear" whatever his trespass on human dignity and rights. If our fallen patriots could arise, is it not fair to assume that they'd be ashamed of the lot of us?

Not enough said, but we'll let it rest here for the while. If you've read this far and our message truly hasn't gotten through, maybe you'd prefer to curl up with a good book. We suggest Orwell's "1984."

Representative Voke Reacts To Coal Conversion Scheme

Representative Richard A. Voke, reacting strongly to Boston Edison's Draft Environmental Impact Report, has been in close contact with the state's Department of Environmental Quality Engineering with his concerns over the Edison Coal Conversion Scheme. He wants the state environmental authorities to know that the residents of Charlestown want their questions and concerns addressed in a concrete manner.

Representative Voke has opened up a dialogue with DEQE Air Quality specialists. In recent discussions the Representative informed the state's Director of Air Quality Monitoring that he was dissatisfied with Edison's DEIR and that he was particularly bothered by Edison's lack of discussion Charlestown's air quality and their blatant lack of discussion of impacts on Charlestown as a whole.

Representative Voke, in his initial letter to the Secretary Environmental Affairs, objected strongly to the document submitted by Boston Edison. He called upon Edison to broaden their discussion of scrubbers and address the possible health impacts on Charlestown. In addition he and members of the community met with Edison officials in August to express in person, and explain in detail, the things they want addressed fully. Voke pledges to stand firm on the issue of Charlestown's air quality He feels that the monitoring done in the Charlestown area is insufficient and that the only way an accurate reading of air quality can be taken is if a monitor is placed in a strategic location in Charlestown. Voke is taking steps to correct the lack of monitoring. He outlines it in the following comment. "I have contacted top officials in the Boston Company Edison requesting that they install a monitoring system in Charlestown. I feel the request is quite reasonable since the state air quality experts have agreed to take on the responsibility of maintaining the equipment. I believe that Edison should take on the responsibility monitoring in the community which is most likely to suffer the greatest impact. The system will enable state air quality officials to keep a watchful eye over Edison.

Representative Voke will continue his close contact with DEQE and with Edison also. His contact with DEQE demonstrates to Edison officials that he intends to play a prominent role on this issue. He feels that his rational contact with Edison will help produre and help rectify many of the critical deficiencies the Draft in Environmental Impact Report. The Representative encourages persons concerned with the

by Bob DeCristoforo Athletic Director

Christopher Columbus football Friars got off to a poor start in the first weekend of school action losing to Charlestown 26-6 in the home opener at Hormel in the nonleague interdivisional contest.

Calvin Scott was the key man in the "Townie" offense, figuring in three of the four Charlestown touchdowns. First he optioned passed 30 yards to Reggie Knight for the first TD, then he ran five yards for the second score (Steve Byrnes rushing for the conversion) and then his fine 65 yard blast was the third TD of the day.

Brian Columbus' O'Donnell finally put the Friars on the board cutting the lead 20-6 via a 5 yard down run, but Steve Byrnes score with seconds to go in the half was definitely the "Game Breaker" reestablishing a very comfortable Charlestown halftime lead.

If the first half belonged to the C'Towners the second belonged to Columbus. The Friar defense kept Charlestown off the board, and the Friar points were added by senior Co-Captain Jim O'Brien on a one vard run.

Despite the outcome, Columbus Q.B. Mike Wallace, in his Varsity debut, moved the team well in the field, and he has all the ability to be a fine signal caller for the Friars.

Columbus have transferred to Charlestown High. This is the second year in a row that North End State Representative Sal DiMasi, A Columbus grad, has sponsored the game.

Speaking of Columbus grads, this seems to be the year they are getting involved. Filming the game for the Friars was grad Ed Loan, and announcing the game was grad and newly appointed School Development Director Dave McKay. There was also a large delegation of Columbus Alumni in the stands, and rejoining the coaching staff is Columbus grad, Frank Segadelli.

In the C-Team game. Everett won by the score of 12 to 0. It was a defensive battle and with a little more offense, this team should do a lot better this week against East Boston. The games are at home this week starting at 9:30 a.m.

In the B-Team game, Everett won by the score of 14 to 0. In this game, Charlestown got in the hole real early when Everett intercepted a pass and went in for a touchdown. This team has some real good football players and should win some games this year, but they have not been showing up for practice. If you kids want to win, get down to prac-

In the A-Team game, Charlestown beat the defending G.B.L. Champs Everett by the score of 12-0. Charlestown scored in the first half on a brilliant run by Jimmy Donovan. In the second half, Charlestown scored again. The touchdown was set up on some great running by Brian O'Callahan. The touchdown was scored on a two yard plunge by Steve Chiappa. Charlestown's defensive and offensive lines were super.

I am sorry to say I did not get to see as much of this game as I would like to because some of our Charlestown and Everett boys and girls were over the other side of the field starting trouble. If you are out to start trouble, stay home. We do not like to report you to the Police because we think you can control yourselves, but if this happens again, we will call them and you will be removed.

I would like to thank everybody who helped me during the week and on Sunday. I could use more help early Sunday morning around 8:00 a.m. carrying the table and scale and other equipment over, so we can get the games started on

Senior Park League Football

Commissioner Robert McCoy announced that Boston Parks and Recreation's Senior Park League Football will kick off the first week in October.

Teams from throughout Boston are invited to join the league. Senior Park League Football is now in its 53rd year and is one of the oldest amateur football leagues in the country.

Dorothy Curran, Director of Recreation, said at a recent meeting of coaches, 'We are looking forward to a banner year. The spirit and enthusiasm of the teams are tremendous and the 1983 Senior Park League Football will certainly have a championship season.

Coordinated by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department, the League will play until the first week in December and will culminate with a city-wide championship series

LET THERE BE LIGHT

Your telephone rings. It is your REALTOR saying that he is coming right over with a prospect. You hang up the phone. What's the next thing you do? Turn on every light in the house. Why?

Because you want to give the prospect the best image you can of the comfort, beauty and livability you are offering. In other words, you want to sell a home not a house. And full illumination is the best way to give your home that "lived-in" look. Furniture and rugs and fixtures take on a warm glow from the proper lighting. Here are a few "bright" ideas:

Turn on every lamp in the living room, bedrooms and family room. Be careful about turning on the overhead lights in these rooms for it could be harsh and make the room look uninviting. Turn on every light in a storage room or closet. Go all out in illuminating the kitchen - the cheerier the better. Brighten up the bathroom too - but carefully choose the right wattage for bulbs by the mirror, pick the most flattering one. Remember, it's just as important to have lights on in the afternoon as it is for a night-time showing.

Rat Problem In Local Area

It used to be nice to look out your window early in the morning and see the sunrise. That is, unless you happen to live on West School or Main Streets. If you look out of your windows there, all you can see is cat-sized rats running around the dumpsters on the West School Street side of the Bunker Hill Mall. These dumpsters are used by McDonalds and Papa Gino's. The Board of Health was called about this in the spring, and it was exterminated once but nothing else has been done to alleviate the problem. It is a disgusting and fearful sight. How long will it be before they take up residence in Mishawum, especially in the bottom elderly apartments?

What is happening in Charlestown that it is getting so run down and dirty and running into rats? Does anyone have the answer to this problem, which is becoming worse every day?

Maybe the owners of the property that allows these conditions to continue would like to have some of these rats left at their doorsteps to see what it's

If any of you rats out there are educated and can read this, have no fear of running out of garbage to eat! When you finish at the Mall dumpsters, hop on over to the Mishawum dumpsters. When they get emptied, the garbage is left covering the ground and is never cleaned up by the maintenance men who work there, so there is always plenty to eat.

Voke Criticizes Delay In Opening Local MDC Ice Skating Rinks

The following is the text of a letter Rep. Voke sent to MDC Commissioner Geary regarding opening date of local skating facilities:

Mr. William Geary

Commissioner

Metropolitan District Commission 20 Somerset Street, 5th Floor

Boston, MA 02108

Dear Commissioner Geary.

I am writing to you, at this time, to express my disapproval of and objection to plans to delay the openings of local ice skating facilities in my district.

I find the opening date of November 14 to be completely unacceptable and totally incompatible with the goals and schedules of the youth hockey associations functioning in my district. The Charlestown Youth Hockey Association and Chelsea Youth Hockey, Inc., both utilize and depend on the early Autumn openings of the MDC rinks located in their respective communities.

I feel strongly about and am an ardent supporter of athletic programs which involve the youth of my district. The hockey programs in my district are well known for instilling within their teams and players a spirit and sense of competition unmatchable anywhere. They have traditionally relied on the state owned arenas and their programs depend of the relatively low cost ice time.

I am distressed at the fact so little sensitivity was displayed in your recent decision to delay the openings of the ice skating rinks in my district. My district and others like it. lying in the MDC region, have suffered greatly by past similar MDC decisions.

Thank You

September 19, 1983

To the members of the Charlestown to Charlestown committee and residents of Charlestown:

Once in a lifetime an opportunity comes along that is totally captivating. I had such an opportunity this summer.

When asked by my aunt, Alice Lynch, upon her return from bowling one night, if I would walk down a runway to go to Ireland, I responded "Sure." I never thought twice about it at that period of time, as nothing was definite yet.

The night of the Charlestown Rose Contest was thrilling as well as nerve racking. Every girl was anxiously awaiting the final outcome. It came as a shock when I heard my name called, thus, beginning a chapter in my life which I will always remember.

Ireland is as beautiful as the people who occupy it. Warmth is generated to all who are aware of it. My two weeks in Ireland brought my mother and I much happiness. For that reason alone, I wish to thank the following people: To the Charlestown to Charlestown Committee for making one girl's dream come true. Never did I think it possible, being only 19, to see such a wonderful country so early in my life. To the members of my family, who were and still are so supportive of me. Finally, to two very special and dear friends of mine for their confidence and reassurance. No names need be mentioned, for they know who they are.

I would like to apologize for being so late in thanking these people, for I do not wish them to think me ungrateful. Upon returning from Ireland, I found myself bogged down with school work.

Thank you all so very much.

Love, Kathleen M. Browne

Grand Knight Modica Outlines Platform On Public Safety

Diane Modica, candidate for the District 1 seat on the Boston City Council, outlined her position on public safety.

In presentations recently before a number of groups of elderly citizens from Charlestown, East Boston, and the North End. Modica showed her no-nonsense approach to combating crime in the City with a well thought out seven point program which includes

•the immediate reopening of the neighborhood police stations, including District 7 in East Boston and District 15 in Charlestown. Modica made clear that she would not be satisfied with merely reopening the stations with 'skeleton' staffing and would push for more permanently assigned officers in each of the stations.

·along with the reopening of the district stations, Modica emphasized the need to have the same

Deputy Superintendant Joseph V. Saia Jr. Commanding Officer District A East Boston, Charlestown, Downtown

Now that the summer months are over, we will once again be starting our Community Service Meetings. I hope that all the residents of Charlestown had a safe and enjoyable summer. The Community Service Meetings will be held on the second Tuesday of each month. The first meeting is to be held on October 11, 1983 at the Kent School, 50 Bunker Hill Street and will be held at 7:00 p.m. The meetings are for the benefit of the Boston Police Department.

We will be discussing the progress we have made during the summer and also the plans we have for your community during the upcoming winter months. I am looking forward to meeting with you once again. Remember the more we see and hear of you the more we will be able to know your specific needs and the needs of the community.

On September 13, 1983, officers received a radio call to First Avenue and Eighth Street. Upon arival, officers spoke to the victim who stated that three white males were attempting to steal a bicycle from the above location.

When they saw victim approach, the first suspect took out a knife and threatened the victim. The second suspect at this time struck the victim on the head with a slap stick. The victim then stated that he struck the second suspect with his fist. The first and third suspects then assisted second suspect in fleeing the scene. The incident is to be further investigated.

On September 12, 1983, a victim identified his bicycle which had been stolen from his place of work. A suspect was arrested and charged with receiving stolen goods, read his rights and taken to District A

On September 11, 1983, Sergeant Detective Graham, Detective Ross, and Detective Callanan observed a 1973 Chevrolet Camaro on Austin Street. The vehicle had one headlight and only a paper license plate. The vehicle was stopped and after a brief investigation it was determined that the vehicle was stolen. The two suspects in the vehicle were arrested for Larceny of a Motor Vehicle. They were read their rights and taken to District A.

Demonstration

The Gardens for Charlestown, located at the Sullivan Square Community Gardens, will sponsor a demonstration in liming and soil preparation on Saturday. October 1, 1983 at 9:30 a.m. The demonstration will be conducted by Kevin Duffy, a Horticulturalist. Everyone is welcome.
