

Molly Malone's Irish Pub

Welcome to Molly Malone's; an Irish pub as it should be!

Irish charm, Old world hospitality, lovely food, live music sessions, friendly staff and of course loads of craic; Molly's has it all!

The building you are now in was built in 1678 and it is steeped in history. But it wasn't always a pub of course, and it was built as a storage house for the spices, teas and many other riches coming in from the East Indies during the Golden Age of Holland

Fast forward to 1997 when we opened our doors as a pub, and Molly's has been a hotspot for locals, expats and tourists ever since, thanks to our cozy atmosphere and welcoming staff.

Many people always ask us who Molly Malone was and we can tell you her story begins in our beloved city of Dublin. And as the song suggests, sweet Molly Malone was a fishmonger who walked through Dublin's fair city selling fish from her wheelbarrow. A deadly fever claimed the life of young Molly Malone and her ghost is still believed to roam Dublin's busy streets...

*"In Dublin's fair city,
Where the girls are so pretty,
I first set my eyes on sweet Molly Malone,
As she wheeled her wheelbarrow,
Through streets broad and narrow,
Crying, "Cockles and mussels, alive, alive, oh!"*

*"Alive, alive, oh,
Alive, alive, oh",
Crying "Cockles and mussels, alive, alive, oh"*
