Always Jem! There were some recipes in previous posts, did you try them out yet?

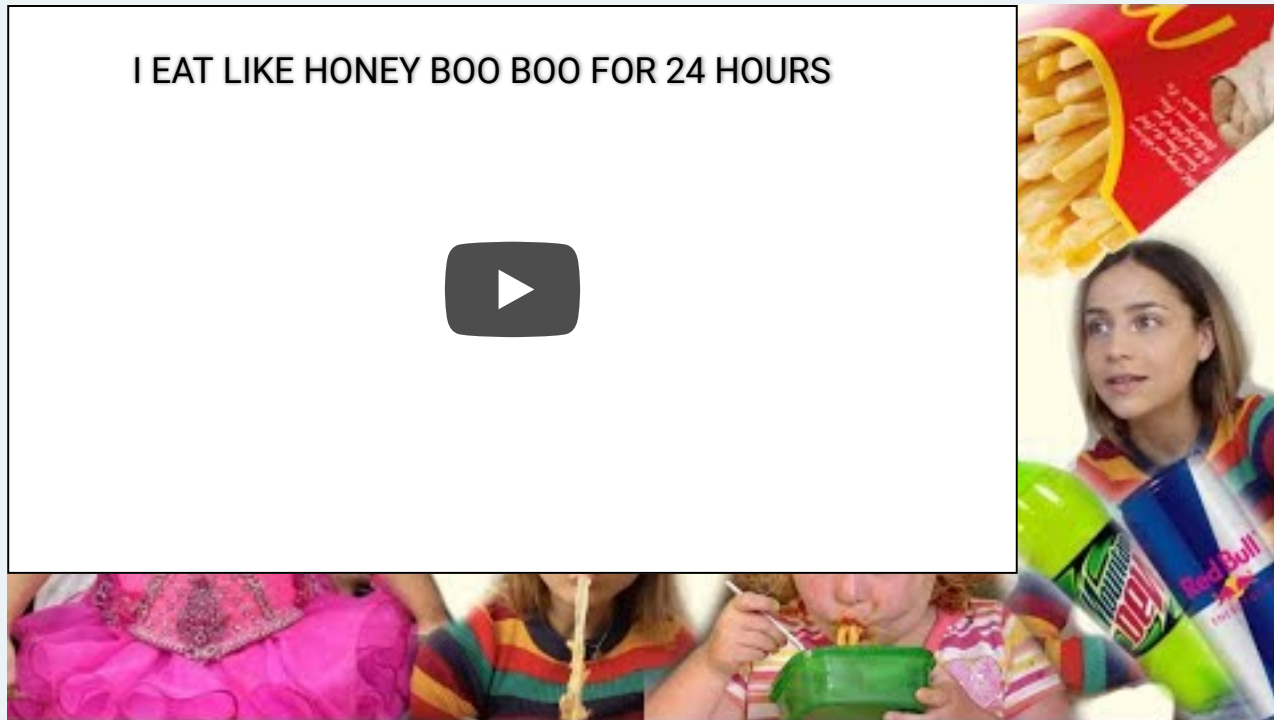

Here's a classic, a treat for you and Azastan and all the fans of the titular Mama June! It's lovely for the Summer... you guessed it, it's How to make easy-layered Boston Cream Pie w/ the titular Mama June! It looks a little complicated, but you can stop and start the video as needed. And this deliciousness can be brought to a friend's house, or to a cookout... Maybe Foggy will make some for Wifehorn! 😊

How to make Boston Cream Pie w/ Mama June

And for even more fun... EAT LIKE HONEY BOO BOO FOR 24 HOURS! It's all laid out in this wonderful clip below. Bon Appetite!

As she says in the video, "Follow in their grease-laden footsteps..." 😊

Yes, thank you for updates! I think the cryogenic thing sounds a bit much, personally. I am a migraineur, and just thinking about how cold it is makes my head hurt.

Also, Boston creme pie is decidedly NOT a favourite here, so I won't be trying that one.

What kind of chocolate cake recipes are on offer?

Foggy's been calling every day desperate for news about the titular Mama June and the latest dish on Season Five. Foggy, your Golden Ticket has come in!! 🍌 Drumroll please!

BREAKING: Season Five of Mama June: From Not To Hot is a LOCK! And... the titular Mama June will be on the show! And... Season Five will start airing in March 2021!

Mama June: From Not to Hot: June Shannon Back for Season 5! This was just way too exciting to wait until Friday! 🥳

‘Mama June: From Not to Hot’ - June Shares Major Update - New Airdate Revealed

July 26, 2020 Jeannie Daigneault

Mama June: From Not to Hot star June Shannon (Honey Boo Boo's mom) recently shared the news that is sure to excite her fans. Now, she's doing so much better and is eager to share her journey with the world again. So, check out what's next for the WEtv reality star. June Shannon from Mama June: From Not to Hot just stated that she and her family will be back for an all-new season. Last time, June Shannon wasn't around much because she and Geno Doak were struggling with their addiction. Thankfully, they committed to rehab and are clean and sober.

Now, Mama is in a really better place and about to share her life. No doubt, viewers are sure to be ecstatic for Mama to a part of the action. And, they are also bound to be curious as to what the next round of Mama June: From Not to Hot holds. For Mama, and for the rest of the Shannon crew. According to Mama June: From Not to Hot fan-favorite June Shannon, filming is set to start back up this August which is only a few weeks away. Of course, people are ecstatic that Mama wants to return. And, they are curious who will return when the fresh episodes are back on. Of course, Alana Thompson (aka Honey Boo Boo) will be on. And, it seems likely Joanne "Doe Doe" Shannon may be back as well.

As for the other cast members such as Mike "Sugar Bear" Thompson and his wife Jennifer Lamb Thompson, it's unclear. Last season, they were ready to fight Lauryn "Pumpkin" Shannon for custody of Alana. But, now that Mama is back and better than ever they may not be able to push for custody on Mama June: From Not to Hot. June Shannon from Mama

June: From Not to Hot is back and she warns folks that they better get ready for her. With shooting ready to resume next month, the show expects to be on in March of 2021. But, fans aren't sure what is in store. Hopefully, we will see Mama reconnect with her family and get close with her children again. Of course, that is all they want. No doubt, they miss her terribly.

Also, it will be interesting to see how they handle her relationship with Geno. Remember, they all blame him for Mama's downward spiral. So, they may never be able to accept him in Mama's life again. Perhaps, that may put a strain on their reconciliation. Watch June Shannon come back and stay tuned for the premiere of Mama June: From Not to Hot next March.

Re: Here Comes Honey Boo Boo, Again! Mama June Shannon Indicted for Crack -- It's Complicated. Season 5 Airs Mar 2021!

Fri Sep 04, 2020 6:08 am

It's Friday! As you can see from all the comments above, clearly everybody at The Fogbow has been desperate for more information about the titular Mama June and her family! While WEtv hasn't officially confirmed it, friend of The Fogbow Doe Doe has... Season 5 is ON! So there will be so much to look forward to and so many important questions to be answered. As Foggy would say, more will be revealed. To try to satisfy the demand, and to kick off Labor Day Weekend, here's a little update for the best forum on Earth!

First off, Happy 15th Birthday Alana! Cake for everybody!

Mama June's Youngest Daughter Alana 'Honey Boo Boo' Thompson Turns 15

The teen reality star received a sweet gift from girls group Sorellé

By Natalie Stone August 31, 2020 03:48 PM

Happy birthday, Alana "Honey Boo Boo" Thompson! June "Mama June" Shannon's youngest daughter turned 15 on Aug. 28 and received a special gift from the girl group Sorellé, who serenaded the teen by singing "Happy Birthday" a cappella in a personalized video. "So excited I just got this Happy Birthday video from @sorellemusic !!! I ❤️ them ...Thank you 🍷," Honey Boo Boo captioned the post, which was shared to her Instagram over the weekend. The Dancing with the Stars: Juniors alumna also received some birthday love from WE tv – the network which airs her family's reality series, Mama June: From Not to Hot. "#HappyBirthday @honeybooboo! Wishing you a slice of happiness! 🍰 #MamaJune," WE tv wrote alongside a photo of Honey Boo Boo standing beside a light-up "Happy Birthday Alana" neon sign.

June Shannon: Can She Stay Sober on "From Not to Hot" Season 5?

by Simon Delott at September 3, 2020 10:10 am. Updated at September 3, 2020 12:02 pm.

Now that Mama June Shannon is 7 months sober, fans are itching to see if her recovery will play out on their screens. According to one of the stars, Season 5 of From Not To Hot is a go. June Shannon's sister, Doe Doe, took to Instagram after reaching a special milestone. "100K!!!! Thank you to all my fans and followers," she gushed in the caption. Doe Doe raved at reaching such a lofty follower count: "Y'all are amazing!!!! Thank you thank you." One commenter praised Doe Doe, telling her that she's "worth that plus more." Doe Doe thanked her. Another asked if she is on TikTok. Doe Doe clarifies that she is not.

"Will there be another season??" asked one worried commenter, who included a tearful emoji. "Yes," Doe Doe responded, seemingly confirming that Season 5 of Mama June: From Not To Hot will take place in some form. Now, WeTV has not yet confirmed that Season 5 is a thing. Confirming that something will happen is complicated in the entertainment industry, and it must sometimes be done at specific times for legal reasons. Other times, a network or production company is still getting its ducks in a row before things are officially signed off. But if Doe Doe is out here saying "yes" to that question, she must believe it. Our guess of course is that she has either been told by production that there will be another season, or that they are already filming. Considering that they were already many weeks into filming at this time last year for Season 4, it is entirely possible that they have dozens of hours of footage recorded already.

Earlier this summer, June showed off her six-month sobriety chip. When it comes to the fight for your own mind against the horrors of addiction, every milestone must be celebrated and cherished. Starting over in a video game may be fun. Starting over on a sobriety journey is not -- so she knows that she needs to stick with this.

We are tentatively excited by this news and hope that WeTV will soon confirm that Season 5 is officially happening. It's not just that we are curious to see how the family's story continues to unfold. Reality TV may be June's one ticket back to financial security. She's going to need to find and buy a new house. TV money can help with that.

And guess who is headed to Beverly Hills? Why, the titular Mama June! The girls had their plastic surgery, and now June and Geno are joining in. Seems like a lot of plastic surgery for one family but they're big stars so it's for the work.

by Hilton Hater at September 2, 2020 11:20 am. Updated at September 2, 2020 3:52 pm.

Based on multiple new media reports, June Shannon is not headed back to rehab again any time soon. The often-troubled reality star has been sober for months. However, according to a fresh new article in today's Daily Mail, June Shannon is headed to Beverly Hills ...

... for another round of plastic surgery!

The aforementioned United Kingdom news and gossip publication states that Shannon and her controversial boyfriend-partner-lover, Geno Doak, are both preparing for a significant makeover. The mother of four will allegedly get liposuction on her torso, a tummy tuck and also get new veneers.

Mama June, who rose to small screen fame as the parent of child beauty pageant contestant Alana "Honey Boo Boo," already underwent a drastic transformation back in 2017. She lost over 100 pounds from a gastric bypass surgery, which was the basis for her WeTV spinoff, From Not to Hot. However, the show later devolved into a cautionary tale of serious drug addiction, as Shannon admitted this past season to spending up to $2,500 per day on meth and crack cocaine with Doak. This became the true focal point of the show in recent years. The infamous parent was even arrested for possession back in March of 2019.

Along with all the personal problems related to this substance abuse - such as having her youngest daughter move out - all the progress June made on her body has now been lost. She now reportedly weighs around 260 pounds. The Daily Mail writes that Mama June is having her latest operation done by Dr. Michael K Obeng and her teeth done by acclaimed cosmetic dentist Dr. Leedia Riman of Beverly Hills.

Geno, who clocks in at 307 pounds, will be getting gastric sleeve surgery by Dr. Samuel Kashani in Beverly Hills and his top and bottom teeth done by Kalili as well.

How are they affording these surgeries? By posing for celebrity gossip magazines and tabloid pictures and giving the aforementioned doctors free publicity, it seems. We speculate about this because June said on her reality show this spring that she and Geno had to liquidate all their finances. "The only reason I sold the house, we was dead f-cking broke," she admitted on air months ago, adding: "Because you know at that point, we was doing quite a bit," she adds, and she's not being hyperbolic to prove a point. "I mean, it was a couple ounces a day." "I lost who I was for a while, I do believe that. I do believe that the person I wanted to kill is in the past. I hated that person I was." Has she really turned a page, though? Can we really trust that she's on the road to recovery and won't relapse? Let's hope so.

"Hey guys, real quick I just wanted to jump on here," wrote June on Instagram in early August. "I know my birthday isn't until Monday, but I want to share this six-month blinged out chip that my manager sent me for my birthday." The polarizing star then held up a six-month sobriety coin. "It's probably the most thing I'm proud of because now me and Geno are over six months clean," Shannon continued. "This is amazing, y'all. I'm so proud of this."

Love you Azastan! Over 64,000 views on this topic, Fogbowzers can't get enough of the titular Mama June and her family.

One of The Fogbow's favorite reporters, Jeannie from Soap Dirt, noticed that Geno was getting portly. Now we know they're in Beverly Hills for liposuction and plastic surgery. Hopefully we'll have new recipes soon! Shockingly, Geno made Pork Chops that don't look like diet 😊 Jem has been eager for new recipes... Jem, could you reverse engineer this from the photo?

Mama June: From Not to Hot' - Geno Doak Breaks Diet - Is He Overfeeding June?

July 27, 2020 Jeannie Daigneault

Mama June: From Not to Hot celebs Geno Doak and girlfriend June Shannon are big on staying healthy these days. However, Geno is slacking on his diet lately with greasy fried recipes. So, he may make it harder for Mama to eat right and slim back down. Mama June: From Not to Hot stars June and boyfriend Geno Doak are all about bettering their lives since getting clean. No doubt, fans know Mama has been exercising and trying to lose weight and get fit. Recently, there were numerous photos floating around of her doing yoga and working out. Plus, she was using a supplement.

Also, Geno is unhappy with the number on the scale and he jokes that he can't bend over to tie his shoes. Of course, he says it's due to sobriety and Coronavirus. But, he hasn't made much effort to change his eating habits. In fact, he was recently in the kitchen cheffin' up some fried food for himself and Mama June From Not to Hot star June.

Lately, Geno Doak of Mama June: From Not to Hot has his chef hat on and does the cooking for Mama. And, he just shared some tasty looking fried pork chops with his followers. Not only that, but he also shared a detailed recipe with them as well. That way, folks can re-create the delicious meal themselves.

Plus, some people even shared their favorite chop recipes and tips with him. Also, it's nice to see him cooking for June as they enjoy the simple things together. Of course, it's not the healthiest meal. But, Geno Doak from Mama June: From Not to Hot says he still wants to drop weight. and. And, you still need to live a little sometimes.

Who knows, Sterngard, because everything is always filmed like a year behind actual broadcast dates. Hot? Not? I can't keep track. They are actually pretty boring in their criminal deeds -- I've had in the past two weeks around my neighborhood a murder of a drug dealer in his home and then, a week later, a sweep by LE with search warrants at various homes of individuals being known associates to the deceased hooking them up on drugs and guns. Mama June and Gino are low energy drama by comparison. 😊

And, not even sure there was a 'hot' phase as such, but this is the reality TV drama Americans crave! Seriously, Orlylicious will share the ratings again if you are a skeptic.

The titular Mama June went From Not To Hot To Not and soon To Hot again!

Still not enough news to satisfy Fogbowzers and it's tragic, I know. 🙄 But on a happier note, they're filming Season 5 which surely everyone at The Fogbow knows premieres in MARCH 2021! Something to really look forward to.

The titular Mama June and Geno are having their liposuction and other surgeries, and the COVID rescheduled court date is coming up. They are holding all this back for the new show.

One thing because everybody's been clamoring for something -- anything -- about the matriarch: New Hairdo! (After is on the right.) If only profile photos were bigger would have used it.

Mama June Still Dating Geno Despite Disapproval From Family Members, Family Disaster To Premiere Next Month

Khyati Gautam October 7, 2020 5:39 pm

The second season of WEtv show "Mama June: Family Disaster" is about to release in the next month. With that, the recent trailer has something to share about the storyline. The latest trailer gives a sneak-peek into June Shannon's family resenting Geno Doak. They blame him for ruining June's life and further distancing her from her family. What's more to come in the next season? Let's have a look here.

Mama June: June's Family Resents Geno For Ruining Her

June Shannon and Geno Doak were put in jail last year for cocaine possession. Although her loved ones and family have protested against her staying with Geno, Mama June remains to be around him. According to the pictures taken by the positioning, the couple was having a big plate of french fries while sipping sodas in a resort. However, in the teaser for season 2, Pumpkin says that she believes that her mother doesn't realize her doing affecting others. As for June Shannon, she says towards the end of the video that none knows the true story.

Everything About Criminal History Of Geno And June

We know that Mama June has been away from her family for her relationship with Geno. Her family clearly dislikes June's boyfriend and totally blames him for ruining everyone's lives. The couple was first spotted together in 2015 and since then, have been through a series of ups and downs. Interestingly, Geno has a criminal record and has been in rehab for a suicide attempt in 2009. Coming to March 2019, both of them were arrested for drug possession after a fight in Alabama. Geno was further charged with third-degree domestic violence and harassment.

Reportedly, Mama June sold her house because of her drug addiction. She confessed to consuming drugs that rendered her broke. So, she had to sell the property. However, this led to her daughters becoming homeless who blame Geno for June's decline. Although now the couple has been sober for over seven months now, things aren't exactly rosy.

Mama June: Geno & Shannon Are Sober, Relapse In Offing

The family's therapist Dr. Ish Major told a news tabloid, The Sun, that the couple's recovery is not necessarily a permanent break away from drugs. He shared that their sobriety is very fragile and with that, relapse is in process. Nonetheless, the two are staying together and recently made a trip for their weight loss too. Be it good or bad, through thick and thin, Geno and June are surviving it together.

Haven't seen any other reporting about this, Season 5 of Mama June: From Not To Hot: Family Crisis was discussed for March 2021. Are they sure? That would be a really fast turnaround time for the matriarch and her family. All the fans at The Fogbow would think it was Christmas!

Re: Here Comes Honey Boo Boo, Again! Mama June Shannon Indicted for Crack -- It's Complicated. Season 5 Airs Mar 2021!

Sat Oct 31, 2020 2:38 am

It's Friday and everybody's had a long busy week! So here are a few nuggets from the titular Mama June and her family to brighten your day and remind us all what's really important.

Most importantly, as always, The Fogbow was RIGHT -- the show is NOT coming back until 2021. Doe Doe liked a Twitter post laying that out so was feeling confident, but now the titular Mama June confirms it as well.

Hopefully nothing is wrong with the matriarch here. Probably just some mean kids.

'POOR THING' Mama June fans concerned for reality star as her 'breathing sounds heavy' in latest Instagram post

Kirsty McCormack

17 Oct 2020, 21:18 Updated: 17 Oct 2020, 21:22

MAMA June has left fans concerned with her latest Instagram post after she appeared to be 'heavy breathing'. June took to social media on Friday to share a video when she announced she is on Cameo and available to record messages for fans. "Hey guys, what's up? This is your girl Mama June and I'm over here on Cameo waiting on y'all," the reality star says. "So look if you want to send your friends that birthday shout out, wedding shout out, or just tell them that you miss them to pieces and you're ready to see them because coronavirus has got you missing them like crazy. or you just wanna tell some to f off. "Or you want to send someone who is actually struggling with their addiction, or you want to congratulate them on their recovery, I can do that also. "Head over to Cameo and order me out today," she adds.

But rather than be impressed by her announcement, many of June's fans were concerned. "Hope you're doing ok you breathing sounds heavy 🙄 glad you're getting back on track with everything!!" one person commented. One fan was concerned with Mama June's 'heavy breathing' A second person wrote: "You don't sound good in this post June. Hope you're okay." A third follower added: "You poor thing what is wrong? You sound congested and winded. Do you have Covid? What is all over your face?" A fourth person commented: "Did you have a tracheotomy? I hope you are ok."

The post comes after Mama June revealed she is returning to her reality show as she celebrates nine months sober after her arrest and crack addiction. Mama June, whose real name is June Shannon, took to Instagram Live on Wednesday to answer some of her fans' questions and let them know she had been doing well despite being MIA. The blonde star recently revealed that she is returning to her reality show. When she opened up the chat for fans to ask her whatever they wanted to know, a follower quickly asked if the show was coming back for a new season.

"Yes, the show is coming back," the Mama June: Family Tragedy star said. "Production did start last week, but we're not coming back until 2021. "So it is what it is. And will I be back? Yes, I will," the 41-year-old said when another asked if she would be part of the cast.

‘Mama June’ Fans Slam Geno Doak For ‘Trashy’ Tattoo

October 29, 2020

Mama June fans know that Geno and June Shannon finally agreed on rehab for their very costly addictions. Both of them live in Florida for now, but they hit the road to Knoxville, Tennessee recently. And, June gave a shoutout about supporting small local businesses as they travel. Two photos revealed Geno Doak. And one that revealed his new tattoos seemed inexplicable. Since the last season of the show detailed their addictions, Geno stayed very quiet on Instagram. In fact, he seems way quieter than he used to be, and not so abrasive. We reported that the occasional photo of him surfaces. And, back in July, June shared some photos of them at the beach. Some commented that it looked like Geno put on a bit of weight. And some critics feared he might swap a drug addiction for a food addiction.

Well, in the newest pictures that Mama June shared on October 28, Geno looked much bigger. Taken aback, one critic noted, “replaced one incredibly unhealthy choice with another, slightly less unhealthy choice. That’s it.” And another fan noted, “D*mn Geno packed on the pounds!!” However, one person spoke up saying that he puts on weight because of “sobriety” and he looks “much healthier.” But as fans swiped through the photos, their attention turned to his inexplicable tattoo. WEtv fans took a close look at Geno Doak’s tattoo that he got done. And, they seem amazed as to why anyone would choose that particular picture. It revealed a dog. But, not just a dog. The dog squatted down as they do, and deposited a poop. As you can imagine, fans said plenty about that. One of them wrote, “Why in TF would he get a dog taking a poop omg.”

Then, another Mama June: From Not to Hot fan asked, “Why would you want a dog that is sh-tting on your arm🤢.” One follower even suggested maybe he made a bad decision “cus he’s high af 😂.” But, one follower noted, “I don’t understand the dog taking a sh-t tattoo.. is there a story to it? Thank God he got it where it’s easy to cover up with a shirt. It would look terribly tacky going someplace professional or whatever.” Lots of WEtv fans complained that Geno’s just “trash” and took June down with him. One person told June that she “shouldn’t be with Geno.” And, another one commented, “A dog pooping... yup. Still keeping it classy I see.” Geno Doak picked up a lot of haters as many people believe he took June into the world of drugs and casinos. And, they blame him for blowing June’s money.

But to end on a heartwarming note, here's a nice story from one of The Fogbow's favorite reporters, Jeannie Daigneault of Soap Dirt.

'Mama June: From Not to Hot' - June Reaches Out to Help Addicts Everywhere

October 16, 2020 Jeannie Daigneault

Mama June: From Not to Hot star June Shannon is reaching out to those who struggle with addiction and tries to stay close to support them. Recently, June assured her loyal followers that she will keep in touch. Plus, June Shannon answered some questions and shares how she stays sober during COVID. Mama June: From Not to Hot fan-favorite June Shannon spoke out recently telling fans things are going awesome. Currently, June Shannon and Geno Doak are almost 9 months sober. They will hit the nine-month mark on the 27th of this month. Now, she wants to reach out and let her fans know she's not ignoring them. Right now, Mama is flooded with messages to congratulate June Shannon and her man Geno on their recovery. And, others sharing their own stories as well.

Also, Mama June: From Not to Hot devotees are thanking June Shannon for her platform. However, she says there's absolutely no need for thanks. Mama feels blessed that so many folks look up to her. But, she says that you must earn your sobriety - it's about you and no one else. Lately, Mama is getting a lot of questions on how to get into a facility. Unfortunately, many treatment centers are double-booked. This means someone is already on the waiting list for each bed. Mama suggests trying a different town or even state if you can't get into the facility you want. Also, if you need treatment and don't have health insurance many centers will work out a payment plan with you. You just tell them how much you can afford and they will work with you. No doubt, this must be comforting for Mama June: From Not to Hot fans who are dealing with addiction.

One Mama June: From Not to Hot viewer asked for advice on how to stop from relapsing during the Coronavirus pandemic. Mama says it's key to have a support system so you don't feel alone and resort to drugs again. Mama also says if someone wants to do a live video with her so they can share like they would in a meeting they can reach out to her. Then, they would be her "guest star" and that's a great way to connect and keep from slipping. Also, Mama does Zoom meetings regularly which helps her a lot and she speaks at different facilities. Mama loves that recovering addicts come to her with their stories. She loves hearing about them and she can relate. So, helping others who are recovering helps to keep her on track as well. Mama keeps herself busy guiding others through addiction and it helps her as much as it helps them. Clearly, it keeps the Mama June: From Not to Hot celeb going strong.

Mama June: From Not to Hot's June Shannon wants to start a social media recovery group. In the group, addicts who are in recovery or struggling with relapse can meet every so often in a group chat. The goal is to build a bigger support network. You could meet others that are in recovery all over the world. And, perhaps you could end up being an important part of someone's story. And, find someone who is an important part of your story as well. Sometimes, friends and family can be judgmental. So, it is essential to have a safe space with others who are in the same boat. Mama is very eager to start an online page for recovery to help as many folks as possible. Be sure to keep up with June Shannon as she stays strong and gives back to people all around the world.

Mama June Unveils New Makeover After Undergoing Plastic Surgery on Her Chin: See Her Look!

Nov 7, 2020 2:46 pm By Emma Hernandez

New look! June “Mama June” Shannon showed off her latest makeover in a photo shoot after undergoing plastic surgery for her “triple chin” and dental work for a new set of veneers. The From Not to Hot star showed off the results of her chin and neck liposuction procedure in a flowy burnt orange top with black leggings. June, 41, smiled as she flaunted her slimmer face while flashing her new veneers and new hairstyle as well.

Before her plastic surgery makeover, the former Here Comes Honey Boo Boo star enjoyed a pampering session at a Beverly Hills salon in September. Hairstylist Pamela Brogardt helped the longtime reality TV personality revamp her look by giving her a haircut, dyeing her hair a lighter shade of blonde and styling it with a sleek blowout. “June loves her new hair, it’s easier to take care of,” June’s rep, Gina Rodriguez, told Life & Style at the time.

Gina, who often appears alongside June on her hit We TV series, also revealed the Georgia native originally traveled to California in the hopes to undergo liposuction and a tummy tuck, but she had to change her plans last-minute. “She was unable to do it because the fat is deeper,” Gina explained. Because of the complications, June opted for chin and neck lipo instead. Despite the slight change in her plastic surgery plans, June will continue to look into other procedures that will help her achieve her desired weight loss goals. “She is considering doing a gastric bypass,” Gina added.

June previously documented her impressive weight loss transformation on Mama June: From Not to Hot. After undergoing gastric sleeve surgery in 2016, June lost a total of 300 pounds. To enhance her new figure, she also underwent several other procedures like breast augmentation surgery and skin removal surgery. Now that June has refreshed her look, it seems she’s looking forward to a positive future. “New month, new beginning, new start, new mindset, new focus, new intentions, new results,” read a message June shared via Instagram on November 1. “So true thought I would share this with y’all and every day is a new day u [sic] just have to tell yourself, ‘I’m going to do better today then [sic] I was yesterday,’” she added in her caption.
