

How to Help

Conduct research by looking at sources of expertise on Burma

- Read any article by author Bertil Lintner. foremost Western Authority on Ethnic of Burma.
- Human Rights Watch, <https://www.hrw.org/asia/burma> Plus writings by founder Roland Watson.
- Free Burma Rangers, <http://www.freeburmarangers.org/> Look at their grassroots Reports.
- The Border Consortium , <http://www.theborderconsortium.org/resources/> Look at Resources and Map Room. Pay attention to the years 2004-2012. This provides insight on Ground Truth.
- Burma Link, <http://www.burmalink.org/collection/> Look at their extensive references and links.

Write American corporations doing business with Burma and ask them what their position is on working with the present Myanmar Government. As them if they have a “First, Do no Harm” Policy regarding impacts on ethnic minorities. Do they empower local ethnic communities?

Write US Senate and Congressional leaders

Question US intentions to work with the Myanmar Government

Ask about US Policy on cross-border assistance to internally displaced persons (IDPs)

Ask about US Policy on support to ethnic pro-democracy movements inside Burma

Ask WIN to make a presentation on Burma to interested groups in your community
