Cable Foundation Tailors News Program To The Community

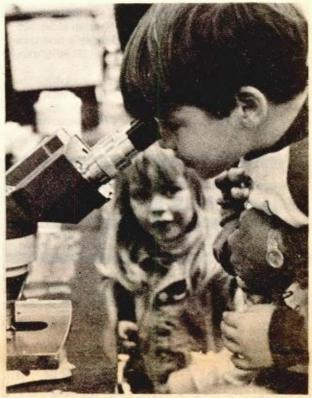

"The Neighborhood Network News," Boston's newest nightly news program, will begin cablecasting Monday, February 6, 1984, over the Boston cable television system.

A joint project of the Boston Community Access and Programming Foundation (BCAPF) and the Boston University School of Public Communication, "The Neighborhood Network News" will cover local news in the city of Boston as well as city-wide stories from a neighborhood perspective.

The five-night-a-week program will originate from facilities in the Boston University School of Public Communication, and will be cablecast on forecasts that started with the prediction of snow flurries and proceeded upward to a foot of snow! The question on everyone's mind was "How are we ever going to deliver the Christmas Baskets?' As dawn broke on Saturday, committee members breathed a "sigh of relief", for although it was still snowing, streets had been salted and cars were able to navigate the

Members of the "Townie Santa" committee spent Friday night, December 23rd peering out of their respective windows and listening to weather

The non-perishable items had been packed in large wicker baskets the previous Wednesday night and from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. Saturday, helpers worked feverishly to pack foods perishable homemade sweets, and a holiday plant in shopping that would accompany the basket.

Orange juice, milk and loaves of fresh bread had been donated and delivered by Rosey Dairy in conjunction with H.P. Hood on Friday and the holiday plants, a gift of Kerrigan Florists, arrived on Saturday

While the baskets were being completed at the Mary Colbert Apartments, Bob Scalli and his family were utilizing the facilities of his catering business to prepare a hot turkey dinner to accompany the 100

The one remaining

concern for the "Townie Santa" committee on last Saturday morning was how many people would appear to assist in delivering the baskets. As one committee-woman stated, the "elves" were there in full force - families including their children, men, women, the delivery men from Jenny's Pizza, girls from the Boys and Girls Club - so many, in fact that it was impossible to note all the names. In order that no one is omitted, the committee extends a big "THANK YOU". You know how important you were to "Townie Santa" and to the recipients of these Christmas baskets.

The committee put a great deal of thought into the purchases and solicitations made for the baskets. Staple goods such as tea. coffee, jelly, crackers, soup, canned vegetables and fruits, sugar, etc. were included along with a variety of toiletries such as deodorant, powder, mouthwash, shampoo, hand cream - to name just a portion of the contents of these baskets.

Local merchants and residents were most supportive of this endeavor, which was truly an act of caring and sharing. Donations ranged from a $1.00 chance on the Christmas Bonanza to $500 and also included groceries and produce that were included in the baskets.

The many hours of time and energy extended by local residents - all in the 'spirit of Christmas'', with no one person or organization singled out for praise or glory, is unique and is reflective of the pride many residents have in this community and their willingness to share their Christmas with others Many of the delivery persons stated that this project "made their Christmas" and the response from the recipients was most heartwarming.

Even though the number of baskets was limited (a total of 105 delivered), the Townie Santa' committee felt that persons whose names were submitted to "Townie Santa" should receive a remembrance, and so fruit bowls and a Christmas card were delivered to 30 additional Charlestown

"Townie Santa" is now looking ahead to Christmas 1984. A meeting of the committee will be held in January to review this past Christmas gift distribution and make preliminary plans for next year.

Contributions will be acknowledged as the final reports are prepared. Donations were received this past week from:

HESITATION CAN BE COSTLY

Once you put real estate on the market, you have to make up your mind to move when the right offer comes. Your asking price should come pretty close to your selling price if you have priced your property realistically. The right offer may be your first offer, and if you turn it down, you may never get another as good.

However, the offer should be a written one - the only kind that has any real significance and on which you can depend.

Just remember that a legitimate offer should be accompanied by a good-sized check depending on the selling price. Never accept a verbal promise and take your property off the market. The next day, a good sale may be lost if you are tied up in this type of questionable transaction. You'll never have to worry about this situation arising if the sale of your property is in the hands of a Realtor.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at ETHEL MAC REALTY, INC., 10 Aliston Street - Phone: 242-2006. Professional Service you can trustl

The brochures for the Irish tour are ready. Those of you who have sent in the coupon will be receiving them shortly

John McLaughlin reports that he has received requests for information from as far away as Texas. A "Townie" living there is interested in the trip. John also reports that a Charlestown woman has received the trip as a Christmas gift from her children. Needless to say, interest in the trip is growing. Seats on the tour are going to become hard to get so don't get shut out. Cut out our ad in the Patriot and get the information early.

The ballots for the 'Mayor's' race are also ready and anyone wishing to run for "Mayor" should contact the election committee. Arthur Hurley. Marty O'Brien, Paul Morceau, or Dennis McLaughlin. The only requirement is that a candidate must be a Charlestown resident. Anyone can vote no matter where they live. This is a very liberal election committee. As long as you pay your buck your vote will count.

Don't forget that the 'Mayor' will be sent on the tour along with our new Charlestown "Rose" (to be selected in June) and her escort. The "Mayor" will lead a group of two hundred "Townies" to the International Rose Contest in Charlestown, County Mayo and will visit the rest of Ireland on the tour.

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen, D.M.D.

WHAT IS A "CAP"?

A "cap" or crown is used to restore proper form and function to a tooth which is structurally defective or has been broken down by decay or injury. With few exceptions most crowns completely cover the tooth.

Complete crowns are made of metal, acrylic, or porcelain, alone or in combination. The most naturallooking and durable material is porcelain fused to a metal core.

In preparation for a crown, a small portion of the outside of the tooth may have to be reduced in size. This is to allow adequate room for the thickness of the crown material. In this way the completed restoration duplicates the original contour and size.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of Jeffrey D. Cohen, D.M.D., 338 Main Street, Charlestown, 242-3550.

Thanks To The People Of Boston

by Mayor Kevin H. White

This is my final column as mayor, and basically it contains just one message: thanks

On Nov. 7, 1967, you elected me to my first term as your mayor, and in the three subsequent mayoral elections you awarded me three more terms. I want to thank you, the people of Boston, for granting me the opportunity and honor of serving our city as mayor for the last 16 years.

Now it is time for me to bow out as mayor and to move with mixed emotions - into a new phase of my life. As the philosophers among us often observe: Every ending is a new beginning.

Looking at my own future, I want to make this one observation: I'll always be a Bostonian. To my way of thinking, that is a proud statement that can brighten anyone's out-

But the important consideration is Boston's future, which the city will pursue with new leadership. As I said last May 26 in announcing my intention not to seek reelection, Boston is well-positioned for a bright future.

Our city stands on a solid foundation. Boston's private sector economy is strong, with development continuing at a level unprecedented in the city's history. The severe fiscal challenges of Proposition 21/2 and Tregor have been met, and the city's fiscal condition stabilized. Gains have been made in public education, housing, minority hiring and human rights - and the climate for further progress has been nurtured. The list goes on to include the broad spectrum of city government, to include policies and programs that touch every home in every neighborhood.

Optimism is part of this solid foundation on which Boston stands. People believe in Boston. Bostonians believe in Boston; they have pride in their city. This is not to say they have no complaints, but back a Bostonian up against the wall ... and watch him come back fighting for his city, and for her city. Bostonians are proud of their city and they have a right to be.

Outside these city limits, there is respect for Boston. Sometimes our city is criticized. But make no mistake about this: Boston is respected for what she has accomplished and for what she stands for. Boston faces - and solves - her problems.

Boston isn't perfect; name me a place that is. Boston has made mistakes: tell me of even one community that hasn't. But Boston has energy, talent, and ambition. Boston has a mind that is open to new ideas. She welcomes those ideas from any woman or man, of any race, creed, color, or national origin. Our city works at eliminating prejudice.

Boston has history and a grasp on the promise of tomorrow. She has a heart and soul. Boston has character. Bostonians have earned the right to be proud of their

Today, Boston is a great city, and it will be a greater city in the future ... thanks to you, the people.

Soon I'll be leaving the mayor's office and Raymond Flynn will be entering, with my most sincere wishes for his success in leading our Boston to new achievements

As a private citizen, I'll continue to feel privileged to be a Bostonian. As mayor these past 16 years, I have been well aware that, in the final analysis, the success and progress of a city are forged by her people.

I'm proud to be one of you.

Thanks.

Happy New Year

It is with genuine appreciation of your friendship and patronage that we extend this heartfelt good wish...

Accepts Lead Paint Task Force Position

Representative Richard A Voke announced that he will accept an offer from the Massachusetts Department of Public Health's Childhood Lead Poisoning Prevention Program. (C.L.P.P.P.), to serve on its Abrasive Blasting task force.

Citing Voke's

"...demonstrated concern with respect to public health issues...". Terrell E. Samuels who is Director of C.L.P.P.P. offered the position earlier this month.
In accepting the position, in which he serves without

Snow Emergency Procedures Outlined By D.P.W.

In preparation for the winter ahead, the Boston Department of Public Works is once again issuing snow emergency guidelines and procedures to assure public safety during winter storms.

A "Snow Emergency" is usually declared in the city after six to eight inches of snow has fallen or when a substantial snowfall is anticipated. During a "Snow Emergency" the Snow Emergency Center in City Hall will be operable. Residents with problems requiring immediate attention during a snow emergency can call the center at 725-3050 for assistance. During normal conditions residents should call the Department of Public Works at 482-530.

During a snow emergency there is no parking on major arteries where posted. If, in addition, a residential ban is declared, parking will only be allowed on the odd side of residential streets.

Residents are urged to listen to local radio and T.V. broadcasts during a storm for information on snow emergencies.

According to Joe Canavan, superintendent of Public Works, "It's essential that residents follow a few simple steps during an emergency. This will facilitate the quick removal of snow from city streets and help public safety allowing fire equipment, police vehicles and ambulances easy access to all areas."

Canavan urges the following:

 Don't park cars on the corners of streets. Plows are frequently unable to make it down a street until these vehicles are towed away. An individual who leaves a car like this is jeopardizing all his neighbors.

• Shovel snow either to the front or back of your car or on the edge of the sidewalk, not back into a cleared street. Snow shovelled back into the street becomes packed down and often turns to ice, again presenting a hazard to emergency vehicles.

 If you have to abandon your car, try to pull it to the side of the road.

 Listen to weather forecasts. If there is a chance of snow use public transportation, and continue to use it until city streets are clear.

Three Wise Men

By Helen Harrison

Christmas has come, The gifts exchanged were few, There still is much excitement, Over "things" that are new.

Is the Christ Child's birth forgotten? We don't seem to be aware — That VISITORS are coming, And soon they will be here.

They wish to honor the Christ Child,
These men travelling from afar —
They know that they soon will find Him,
As they are following a bright star.

They are coming to pay homage, To their newly-born King, Gold, Frankincense and Myrrh— Are the gifts that they bring.

Tell your children the story, Of the Three Kings of old — The Christmas Book isn't closed, Until their arrival is told!

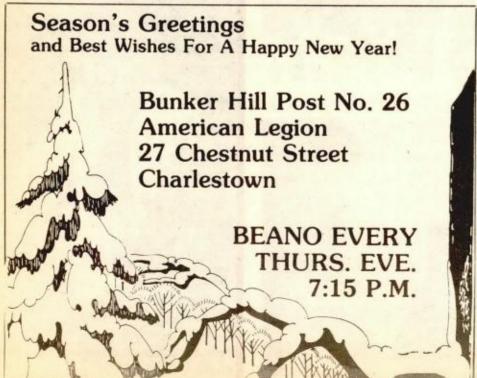

Is there a light in your window To show the Wise Men the Way? Keep up the traditions— We need them today.

Nucci Campaign Nominated For Award

The recent District One School Committee campaign waged by the victorious John A. Nucci, was nominated for the "Best Campaigning" Award for Boston District School Races by the Rendon Report, a state-wide monthly review of Democratic Politics. The report handed out its annual "Golden Donkey Awards" at a downtown reception last week which was attended by Mayorelect Raymond Flynn and numerous other federal, state and city elected officials. The two other nominees for the award were the recipient Abigail Browne (District 8 - Back Bay, Beacon Hill, Mission Hill) and Paul Barret (the unsuccessful District 2 candidate - South Boston, South End).

The Nucci campaign gathered the highest total of votes of any District School Committee candidate in the entire City of Boston and was victorious by the largest plurality of any District Council or School Committee candidate across Boston. In addition, it is noted that John Nucci received the highest vote total by an East Boston candidate.

proportionate to total population, in the history of that community.

The awards ceremony. which was punctuated with moments of satirical humor, was a huge success. In announcing the nominees for Nucci's category, former City-Councillor and candidate for Mayor. Larry DiCara called Nucci, who stands over 6'3" the tallest Financial Aid Hot LineItalian candidate ever elected in the City of Boston." Nucci. who will be inaugurated on Monday. January 2. commented that 'I am proud to know that the Rendon Report recognized the viability and success of our campaigning in District One. I intend to do my best to live up to all these many expectations." concluded.

Doris Sponsored Legislation Expands Cut-off Statute

Senator Francis D. Doris (D-Revere) announced the signing of legislation he cosponsored. The bill is a revision of Chapter 164 of the Massachusetts General Laws and expands the current shut-off statute prohibiting utilities, i.e. Gas and Electric Companies, from shutting off service in households where there exists a serious illness or where there resides an infant under 12 months.

The Senator commended the efforts of his fellow legislators, for passing this legislation in an expeditious manner by stating. "It is our duty as representatives of the people to protect those compromised by unfortunate circumstances and as a result are unable to help themselves."

In addition to expanding the definition under this statute, the legislation also provides for the Department of Public Utilities to honor valid doctor certificates and to assess fines of up to $100 to utilities found in violation of this statute.

Concluding his remarks upon the signing of this bill, the Senator expressed his content by stating. "I am gratified to know that especially during this winter season there will be protection for citizens in need."

Zoning Code Amendment Establishes Linkage Payments

The Boston Zoning Commission has approved an amendment to the zoning code which establishes procedures for requiring linkage payments by developers to a fund for neighborhood housing.

The zoning amendment requires developers proposing a project of more than 100,000 square feet (excluding parking space) to file a development impact project plan with the Boston Redevelopment Authority. The BRA, as part of its review of the proposed project, would establish a housing exaction payment and require the developer to

with the BRA and the Neighborhood Housing Trust

As part of that agreement, the developer would pay the housing exactment to the Neighborhood Housing Trust, which has been established to develop new and rehabilitated housing for low and moderate income families. The payment would amount to $5 for every square foot of proposed development, with payment made over a period of 12 years.

We now do waxing

Mayor Kevin H. White, hailed passage of the zoning amendment, saying, "We now have the mechanism for implementing linkage payments. The beneficiary of this zoning amendment will be the people in our neighborhoods. Largescale development anywhere in the city, not only downtown, will generate revenues that will go directly to the production of housing in our neighborhoods."

The BRA, as city planning agency, serves as advisor to the Zoning Commission and in that capacity had recommended the "linkage" zoning amendment. BRA Director Robert J. Ryan said the zoning amendment had been worked out by the BRA staff and Mayor's office in consultation with the city's law department.

10th Anniversary Of Budweiser World Of Wheels

Hit recording group Paul Revere and the Raiders, which has been going strong for more than 20 years, appears in concert at the 10th Anniversary Budweiser World of Wheels custom car and motorsport show January 6-8 in Boston's Bayside Exposition Center.

The Budweiser World of Wheels is the largest automotive event in New England, featuring more than 200 custom vehicles of all types. The show also is part of the $750,000, 200event, annual Winston Championship Auto Show series and is the only International Show Car Association-sanctioned, 5-A-rated event in New England.

Special attractions, like the Raiders' concert and personal appearances by TV stars Audrey and Judy Landers and the New Laurel and Hardy, make the show an entertainment event for the whole family.

Paul Revere and the Raiders, which began as a gimmick to promote Revere's drive-in restaurant in Boise, Idaho, has recorded five gold albums, making it one of music's top gold record producers. At one time the group scored 25 consecutive hits with songs like "Louie, Louie" and "Kicks." After 20-plus years in the record business, Paul Revere has outlasted 35 other "Raiders," the most famous being lead singer Mark Lindsay.

Other attractions at the Anniversary

Budweiser World of Wheels include a contest sponsored by ADAP Discount Auto Parts Stores and WCOZ Radio to give away a specially customized Sprint T Roadster. Any licensed driver at least 20 years old can register to win at any ADAP location and at the Budweiser World of Wheels.

Jim Mulleague and Rick Underwood as remarkable duplicates of Oliver Hardy and Stan Laurel bring this familiar comedy team back to life at the show.

Audrey and Judy Landers will make personal appearances throughout the show. Audrey plays Afton on CBS-TV's "Dallas," and Judy has played a number of TV roles in such series as "Sheriff Lobo," "BJ and the Bear" and "Love

These attractions will join fabulously customized cars, including the Botown Express, the only twin-jetpowered dragster in the world, the "Coyote" race car driven on ABC-TV's "Hardcastle and McCormick" and other famous custom vehicles like the "Outlaw," "Lil" Red Roadster" and Car Craft Magazine's "Pro Street Malibu."

Located at Boston's

Bayside Exposition Center. the Budweiser World of Wheels' show hours are 5 11 p.m., Friday, January 6, noon to 11 p.m., Saturday, January 7; and noon-10 p.m., January 8. Admission is $6 for adults; $2 for children 6-12; and free for children under 6. Free shuttle buses will run continuously between Bayside and the MBTA's JFK/U. Mass. stop throughout the show.

Channel 3 at 5:30 p.m. and again at 8:30 p.m. The Foundation will maintain full editorial control over the content of the newscast.

"Our goal is to provide public access news," said Hubert Jessup, general manager of the BCAPF. 'Currently, there is a void in the video coverage of Boston's neighborhood news events and issues by the electronic media. We intend to fill that void."

According to Jessup, an anchor will be chosen soon, and announced by mid-January. Rory O'Connor, a veteran of Channels 5 and 2 and the Real Paper, will be the news director.

Several aspects of "The Neighborhood Network News" will be unique. First, it will be one of the few community-based, community service daily cable television news shows in the country. The aim of the program is to provide news of, by, and for the residents of Boston.

At the core of the operation will be a "neighborhood network" experienced. professional reporters culled from at least 20 of the city's many fine community newspapers. Already engaged in day to day neighborhood newsgathering, these reporters offer both a local perspective and a depth of knowledge and understanding about the communities they serve. To date, a total of twenty community newspapers have agreed to participate in "The Neighborhood Network News." Their combined circulation is nearly 300,000 readers. The participating newspapers

OPEN HOUSE SESSIONS

Plans are underway for an open-house on Friday, January 6 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Social services agencies, school personnel, local businesses and civic organizations have been invited to attend an information sharing meeting. The community school staff will present information about its new programs: external diploma, college credit courses, basic skill instruction, GED preparation. JOB Search, and On-Site Babysitting. The goal of the open house is to have the different groups share information about their specific programs and establish a unified system of providing Charlestown residents with educational and Vocational services.

An open house for prospective students will be held Thursday. January 12 from 6:00 to 8:00 p.m. Individuals who are interested in getting information about the adult education programs can meet with teachers and counselors and visit classes. Course registration and GED test registration will also take place at that time.

GED TESTING

The next series of GED Tests will be scheduled on January 17, 18, and 19 from 6:00 to 9:30 p.m. The deadline for registration is January 12.

BHCC through its pairing agreement with Charlestown High School, has begun to plan for future BHCC and CHS collab-orations. The pairing between BHCC and CHS, under the direction of Dean William M. Craft of BHCC and Headmaster Robert Murphy of CHS, will give priority attention to the incoming Fall 1984 freshmen class of CHS. The program will emphasize diagnostic placement of all incoming students, together with more individualized counseling and attention to the strengthening of basic academic skills. The program will involve CHS faculty, the BHCC/CHS Learning Center and graduate counseling interns from area universities.

Facts About Drugs — F.A.D.

Drinking and Driving. Don't Drink and Drive. Mothers against Drunk Driving. Students Against Driving Drunk.

How many of us say, "But I've only had a few, I'm not drunk." And we believe it. And we believe our

The first area of the brain that is affected by alcohol is the judgement. Therefore, we should listen to someone who has been drinking and realize that they are not able to make really good decisions. You don't have to tell him this, just don't let him drive. And before you go out to drink, before your friends drink, make all the decisions on how you get home.

Facts on alcohol use:

1. It takes one hour to get one beer out of your body. Three hours to get three beers out of your body.

2. Three beers (or three glasses of wine, or three drinks) in one hour will bring your blood alcohol level up to .10 (legally drunk when driving) for most people.

3. Any drink mixed with other drugs (valium, pot, barbituates, cocaine, etc.) has a compounded effect. In other words, it is difficult to know if a drink plus a drug would make it impossible for you to drive safely. Moral: Do not mix your drugs and drive.)

4. New Year's punch tastes good, but you can not usually know how many "drinks" you are having with one small glass. It might be equal to two or even three shots of whiskey (too much to drive.)

5. Drunk driving charges, even first offense, generally bring a fine, a sentence to an eight-week driving under the influence program, and loss of license for a period of time (30 day minimum.)

6. Teenagers are inexperienced at both drinking and driving. Even small amounts - for example, one beer per hour, can impair a young person's driving. 7. Talk to your teenagers about drinking and driving.

but parents should practice what they teach. This year make your New Year's resolutions include: I will never drink and drive.

the end of the first five-week courses," Howarth says. ComputerPlace offers several sections of "Computing Creatively," which teaches BASIC with one student to each computer and a self-paced lesson plan individualized to meet the student's own interests. The course is available to adults and children 10 years of age and over.

PASCAL is designed for high school students and adults who have had a prior course in another computer language. PASCAL is a more advanced computer language widely used at the college level. It has been selected by the Educational Testing Service for Advanced Placement

The first class in LOGO, a graphics-based language, is filled, but the course will be offered again later in the winter. LOGO is for children aged 8 to 12 who will share a computer with their parents.

Teachers may choose from a listing of 12 courses, including PASCAL. Geared to the needs of teachers at all grade levels and at all levels of experience from beginner to expert, the workshops are offered free through a grant from the Lowell Institute. There is a small materials fee. These courses are developed and presented by the faculty of Technical Education Research Centers, Cambridge, a nonprofit organization which has given instruction to more than 2000 teachers and administrators nationwide since ComputerPlace courses and workshops run in late afternoon, early evening, and Saturday mornings. The facility has its own entrance adjacent to the stairs leading to the Museum from the garage. Parking is free for course par-

Your Child's Health

The Child With Recurrent Ear Infections

Children who have a number of ear infections within a short period of time are cause for concern. Not only are the children and parents miserable, but everyone worries about long-term effects on hearing and

Because of the changes in the structure of the ear as a child grows, most children outgrow their ear problems. Unfortunately, there is a significant group of children under the age of three years who have many infections. Hard-and-fast rules as to how many infections are cause for worry do not exist. Many doctors say that a child with three or more infections in a given season (three to four month period) requires some form of special treatment.

There are two forms of therapy that have been shown to be effective in preventing ear infections. The first is low-dose antibiotics. The most common drugs used for this purpose are amoxicillin or a sulfa drug given once a day for a period of several months. After this time, the antibiotics are usually stopped and the child is observed. If ear infections continue to occur, the antibiotics may be reinstituted for several more months. Low dose antibiotics are not fool-proof. Some children get ear infections even while on the antibiotic. If a child has two or three infections on low-dose antibiotic therapy, the placement of tubes in the ears is usually the next step. This is an operation in which small plastic tubes are inserted through the ear drums. The tubes prevent the accumulation of fluid behind the ear drums, and therefore eliminate the medium in which bacteria grow. Tubes usually stay in place for about a year before they come out on their own. By this time, the child has usually outgrown his her ear problems.

Tubes, like low-dose antibiotics, do not work a hundred percent of the time. The tubes can get clogged or dislodged, and, thus, do not function properly. In these cases, the child may need to have the tubes replaced.

The pediatrician is usually the person who makes the decision about starting low-dose antibiotics. If this treatment is unsuccessful, an ear, nose and throat specialist is consulted about the need for tube placement. In addition to these measures, children with recurrent infections should have their hearing evaluated

"Peep Hole" Drivers - Danger On The Road

"Peep-hole driving" is one of the most dangerous of all "winter sports," the American Automobile Association said.

"Drivers who do no more than turn on their windshield wipers to make small holes to peep through after a snow fall certainly show their inexperience,' according to Caroline J. Hymoff, Manager of Safety Services for AAA Massachusetts. "In icy weather these same drivers scrape clear a small area of the windshield and try to navigate before the defroster has a chance to clear the windshield adequately.

"Good drivers know they must be able to see in all directions. You'll never find an expert driver in a snowcovered vehicle practicing 'peep-hole driving.

Throughout the winter, make a habit of removing all snow from all windows, and from as much of your car as possible," the AAA official said. "Snow left on the hood can blow back against the windshield when you are moving along. Snow on your car's roof can be blown off and may hit another car.

Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia Jr. Commanding Officer, Area A

Downtown, East Boston, Charlestown, Beacon Hill

On December 18, 1983, Officers responded to 465 Medford Street. Upon arrival, the Officers spoke to a security guard, who stated that the driver of a U-Haul truck had offered him $40 to take a walk. The truck then backed up to the Summerfield Furniture Warehouse located at the above location. Upon receiving this information, the Officers advised the guard to allow the truck to leave the premises. Approximately twenty minutes later the truck left the

Dukakis Signs Victims' Rights Legislation

Sweeping reforms guaranteeing crime victims and their families rights never before afforded them was signed into law by Gov. Michael S. Dukakis who said the measure made "Massachusetts one of the most progressive states in the nation in dealing with the forgotten person at the scene of a crime - the

Among other things, the new law will force criminals to pay for programs to help their victims. Fines will be paid into a new Victim and Witness Assistance Fund which will provide a wide range of services to crime victims.

"For the first time in this state's history, we now have a law mandating that victims of crime be treated properly as they travel through our criminal justice system," Dukakis said.

In addition to the new fund, the Victims' Rights Law requires that victims and witnesses be informed of the final dispositions of all cases, that victims and witnesses be notified about changes in court scheduling, that they be informed of available protection and financial assistance, and that victims of violent crime have a voice in the sentencing of their assailants.

district Many attorneys' offices in the state have had some programs to help victims," said Lt. Gov. John Kerry.

vice-chairman of the Governor's Statewide Anti-Crime Council. Kerry established the first such program in Massachusetts when he was First Assistant District Attorney for Middlesex County.

"But, with the signing of this bill, we can be proud of the most comprehensive victim-witness program in the country," Kerry added.

The bill creates the Victim and Witness Assistance Board, a fivemember group consisting of the attorney general, two district attorneys appointed by the governor and two members of the public, one a crime victim, appointed by the governor. Board members will serve without pay

The board will appoint an executive director responsible for carrying out all of the victim and witness programs established by the bill. The programs will be funded fines-$25 through assessed those convicted of felonies and $15 from those guilty of misdemeanors.

The bill will also:

•mandate that victims and witnesses be informed by the court and the district attorney of how to apply for any witness fees:

·provide victims and witnesses with employer and creditor intercession services:

·require that victims, family members and witnesses be provided a secure waiting area or room during court proceedings.

premises and was stopped by the Officers in Sullivan Square. The Officers then asked the driver to open the rear door of the vehicle. He consented and inside was four pieces of china. valued at approximately $1200. The suspect was then placed under arrest along with two other occupants of the vehicle. The driver was charged with B&E, Larceny, and Possession of Burglarious Tools (a master key). The second and third suspects were charged with B&E and Larceny.

On December 19, 1983, an Officer performing a paid detail at the Bunker Hill Mall observed a man causing a disturbance by screaming and kicking the glass of two telephone booths. The man had already broken two of the glass panels connected to the telephone booth. The Officer then tried to place the suspect under arrest, at which time a scuffle ensued. The suspect was handcuffed with the assistance of another Officer on the scene. While the suspect was being transported to District A, he again became violent and kicked out the rear window of the transporting cruiser. The suspect, a 32 year old South Boston man, was brought to District A where he was charged with Disorderly, and Willful and Malicious Destruction of Property.

On December 20, 1983, Detectives from the District Attorney's Office arrested a Somerville man on Rutherford Avenue for Possession of Class B substance with intent to distribute. The Detectives had received information that the suspect was driving a black Dodge Charger, and had in his possession a quantity of drugs. The suspect was spotted and pulled over and had 14 packets of what appeared to be cocaine. The suspect was then brought to District A where he was advised of his rights and booked.

On December 21, 1983 Detectives from District A made a peaceful entry of an apartment on Old Ironsides Way by virtue of a search warrant issued from the Charlestown District Court and placed the occupant under arrest for illegal possession of a firearm. The suspect, who had a 22 caliber handgun in his possession, was taken to District A where he was read his rights and booked. The suspect arrested is also a suspect in several incidents in the Charlestown area.

The next Community Service Meeting will be held on Tuesday, January 10, 1984, at 7:00 p.m., at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill Street.
