

Five Crucial Tips For Choosing Ceramic Floor Tiles

When we talk about flooring, one of the top alternatives for flooring is ceramic tiles. Ceramic tiles are a favored product because of their clean and hygiene-friendly qualities, their cost and the wide variety. Generally, you can choose between unglazed and glazed tiles. This article outlines five key aspects to take into consideration when selecting ceramic flooring tiles.

It is important to ensure that the ceramic floor tiles blend with the style of your home.

When choosing floor tiles made of ceramic, consider the home style. It is important to ensure that the tiles you select fit with the overall design of your home. For instance, it will definitely look unappealing when you put in elaborate Victorian ceramic tiles for the flooring of a minimalist, modern home. In the ideal scenario, ceramic flooring tiles will make your home appear larger and minimalist for a living space.

The Dimension of the Room

It is also essential to consider the size of the room in which the ceramic tiles will be put in. Large ceramic tiles will make a room appear bigger and more spacious as opposed to smaller like 60x60cm. However, small to medium-sized ceramic tiles are commonly employed in bathrooms. Allowing grout space between smaller ceramic tiles in bathrooms can improve traction and lessen slippage. Small ceramic tiles can be used as backsplashes in kitchens. ### The Colour of the Ceramic

To create the mood of a room it is essential to select the appropriate color for the ceramic. Rooms appear to be larger when they are decorated with brightly colored ceramic tiles. Ceramic tiles that are pastel or creamy can, for instance, permit small spaces like bathrooms to appear larger than they actually are. Darker ceramic tiles can create a warm atmosphere, especially in larger rooms with enough lighting.

If you have areas that are used frequently, you can consider applying a mix of color ceramic tiles. This contrasting colour can help disguise floors that get filthy quickly. A good example would be mixing grey and white or brown and tan or even textured ceramic tiles to achieve this look.

The pattern and Texture of Ceramic Floor Tiles

The choice is completely dependent on the preferences of the owner of the house. Choosing between glazed or unglazed ceramic tiles, either plain or patterned, is the choice of each individual. The most important thing to keep in mind is that ceramic tiles that are glazed are more easy to clean while ceramic tiles that are not glazed tend to require polishing to ensure they don't stain or get dirty easily.

Grout

Grout, a mortar or paste that is used to fill crevices and gaps between floor tiles is also a crucial element in determining a pleasing colour contrast for floor tiling. Pick grout that is a different color to the tile's. This can improve the interaction between patterns and lines. This creates a seamless and spacious effect in the flooring with grout that is the same color as the tile.
