

SUMMARY

Rakel Rut Valdimarsdóttir

Education:

Technical college of Reykjavík, specialty: hairdressing, 1987-1990, passed final examination (Journeyman's Examination) February 1991. Studied in the Design Department at the Technical College of Hafnarfjörður, took courses in silversmithing at Kvöldskóli Kópavogs. Instructor at Stóru-Vogaskóli (elementary school) student's age, 6-16. Teaching textile, woodcraft, design, silversmithing and also children who for some reason couldn't cope in a class (2007-2010). University of Iceland, Faculty of Teacher Education, 2008-2011. Teacher education with specialisation: textiles. Awarded with a degree of Baccalaureus Educationis B.Ed, June 2011, with First class examination.

2015, moved to Denmark, taught Icelandic to Icelandic children, also private teaching in Icelandic for German adults. University of Iceland, Faculty of Teacher Education, teaching and learning studies, specialty: arts and technical education. Wrote a teaching material in Vattasaumur (Needle-looping), an ancient textile technique. Awarded the degree of Magister Educationis M.Ed, with first class examination, (2014). Moved back to Iceland 2015, started teaching again at Stóru-Vogaskóli (2015). Teaching; textile-, cooking-, drama and song- classes, also Danish for children with special needs. 2016 got a license to teach on higher educational levels.

Work for the benefit of society:

Joined the Education Committee of the Sports Association of the Disabled in Reykjavík. Tour guide in competition traveling abroad (1991-1993).

Chairman of the Youth Society Þróttur in Vogar (2005-2008).

Board member of the Vogar environmental committee (2006-2010).

Board member at educational committee organized by the Icelandic Youth Society (2006-2007).

Board member of the cultural- and leisure committee of Vogar (2018-)