

The Paul McCartney Ultimate Archive Collection

In 2010, Paul McCartney released the first in an ongoing series of Archive Collection releases, Band On The Run. Ostensibly, the series was designed to offer the definitive versions of whichever album was being highlighted. However, it became immediately apparent that Paul McCartney (and his team) had different ideas from most fans as to what material needed to be included on his sets. There was no attempt whatsoever to make these sets “complete” or “definitive” by any stretch, as countless important tracks (both released and unreleased) went left by the wayside, leaving vast amounts of real estate on the bonus CDs unused. Nine titles have been released as of mid-2016, and for many the series has been a letdown. It has become a popular game on some forums to guess what Paul & Co. will leave off the next release. It was into this ongoing disappointment that The Paul McCartney Ultimate Archive Collection was born.

The goal of the series is a simple one: to issue versions of every Paul McCartney album (including side project albums such as McGear and Holly Days) that will include, as bonus tracks, EVERY song / mix / edit that was released from that particular era, including an extremely healthy dose of unreleased tracks thrown in to provide insight to Paul’s recording process for a given album. The idea is to present these albums as Paul should have done with his Archive series. Paul McCartney is arguably the single greatest composer who ever lived. While his work with The Beatles will always be rightfully praised and held up as the gold standard for the possibilities of recorded popular music, his solo catalog should also be given the respect that it deserves. That’s the basic premise of this series.

With that in mind, it opens the door to a lot of fun musical treats along the way. Songs that may have gone unheard by a large number of Paul McCartney fans simply due to their rarity will now be heard alongside familiar classics. Once finished, the series will offer a complete and comprehensive collection of Paul McCartney solo recordings, including every rare song, mix and edit that has been issued somewhere in the world. Sound quality is also very important to this series, and the discs do not disappoint in the slightest. Every track has been sourced for the best quality available. Vinyl rips have all been done with the care and attention to quality that this series demands. Simply put, these songs have never sounded better.

Care and attention to detail has also been given to the packaging, with original front and rear covers replicating the original LP, and the discs themselves utilizing the original vinyl LP labels. Over the course of this series, several new albums have been created to document important moments in Paul’s career (such as the One Hand Clapping soundtrack, the MTV Up Close performance from December ’92, or The Space Within Us – an audio document of Paul’s 2003-2005 live performances). For these titles, appropriate cover artwork and disc labels have been created so that they could stand alongside the released albums.

The series began with Flowers In The Dirt in May 2015. Cut to September 2016, 49 titles have been made available, including every catalog album Paul has released. The series wrapped up with two six-disc Rarities sets to incorporate any leftover tracks that couldn’t fit onto previous titles due to space considerations. This is a series that was long in the planning stages (various permutations of this series have been planned for close to twenty years). It is with great pride that we here at VOO-DOO RECORDS were able to make this series a reality.

When Paul and Linda McCartney were in New York recording 'RAM' they needed a drummer so they found a sweaty old basement in the West 40's and invited some drummers to play on a battered old drum kit. One of those who turned up and went straight for his tom toms was Denny Seiwell, a tall type with eight generations of drummers in his family, who played well and left the drum kit throbbing. After that, Paul, Linda and Denny played together on 'RAM' and then each took off for a holiday.

The Macs returned to Britain and during that time following wrote a bunch of songs at their country retreat.

When the time came to go recording again they rang Denny Laine, a Birmingham lad, and asked him if he was coming out to play. Replying in the affirmative he brought his faithful guitar, and he and the Macs, along with Denny S. (who had arrived from the States as if by magic carrying his wife who was drunk again) and his drums, proceeded.

They rehearsed a while, sang some old songs, wrote some new ones and in time headed for the big city studios. In three days they had laid down most of the tracks and by the end of a couple of weeks the album was finished.

In this wrapper is the music they made. Can you dig it?

Кто-то и был еще совсем мальчишкой, и впервые увидел этого человека по радио. Он был ослеплен. Казалось, только человек вышел из неведомых пространств — и вот перед тобой. Мне всегда казалось, что это англичанин, и только англичанин и артист (обычно в СССР, когда говорили о нем, говорили о нем, что он из Америки, что он из Америки, что он из Америки).

Впервые этот человек, мальчишкой, услышал и запомнил его. Это случилось в СССР, и вот бы представить себе мир и дружбу человека и людей.

Paul McCartney & DJ, Freelance Hellraiser TWIN FREAKS

"Those of you who were there for the European Tour will have heard our DJ, Freelance Hellraiser, cooking up some mixes before we came on and people have been enquiring about these mixes ever since. Well the good news is he's put together an album called 'Twin Freaks' using fragments from my original multi-tracks which we hope will rock your little cotton socks!"

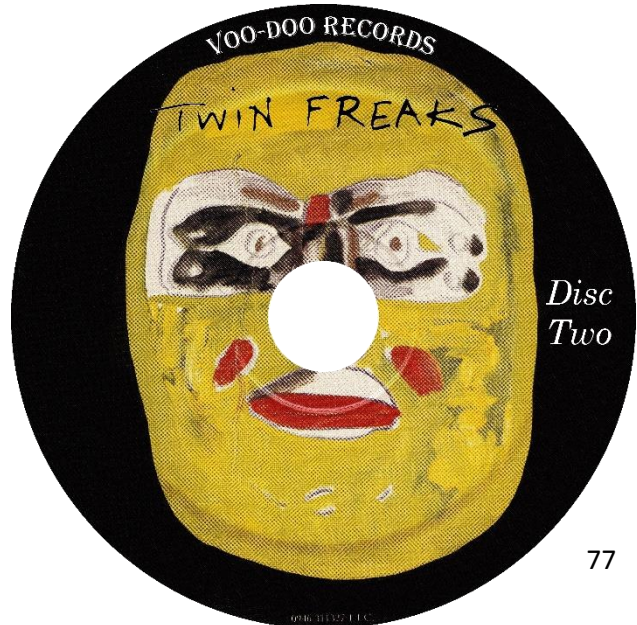

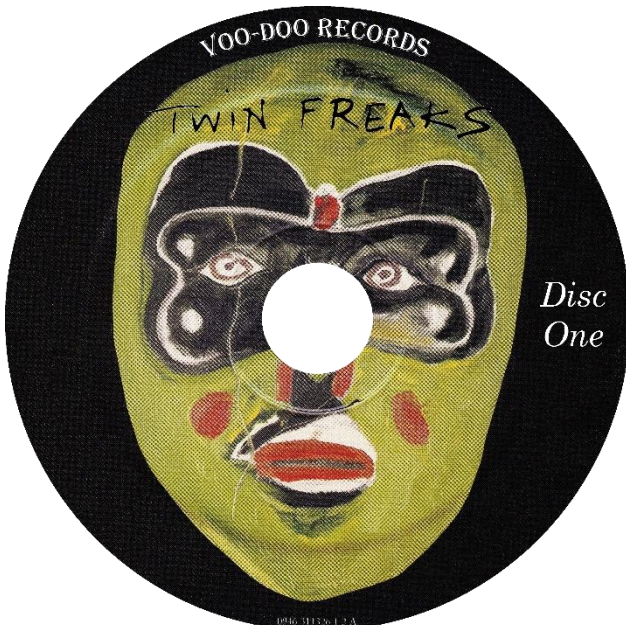

Paul McCartney.

"THIS HAS TO BE THE MOST SURREAL GIG EVER. THE MANAGEMENT HAS ASKED ME TO POINT OUT NO SHOPLIFTING PLEASE." PAUL McCARTNEY JUNE 27, 2007

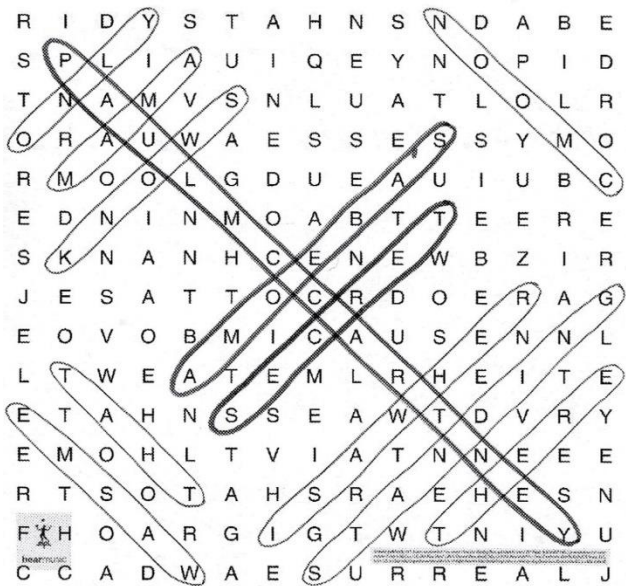

IT WAS NOT YOUR AVERAGE GIG, EVEN BY PAUL McCARTNEY STANDARDS: A FREE SHOW, INSIDE THE MAMMOTH AMOEBA MUSIC HOLLYWOOD RECORD STORE, STARRING THE FORMER BEATLE HIMSELF. A FAR CRY FROM McCARTNEY'S USUAL STADIUM SHOWS, THE AMOEBA WAS AN UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL ONCE-IN-A-LIFETIME OPPORTUNITY. IN THE PACKED AUDIENCE, SMALL CHILDREN AND GRANDPARENTS RUBBED ELBOWS WITH THE LIKES OF RINGO STARR AND WOODY HARRELSON, YET THE MOMENT McCARTNEY DOVE INTO OPENER 'DRIVE MY CAR' THE YOUNG AND THE OLD, THE FAMOUS AND THE COMMON PERSON STOOD EQUALLY WITHIN THE BOND OF SONG. THIS IS WHAT MAKES PAUL McCARTNEY SUCH A HUGE PRESENCE. HIS MUSIC SEAMLESSLY CROSSES OVER FROM GENERATION TO GENERATION WITH EACH MAKING HIS SONGS THEIR OWN. FEW THINGS IN THIS LIFE CAN BRING TOTAL STRANGERS TOGETHER AS ONE. ON A WEDNESDAY SUMMER NIGHT, AT A RECORD STORE IN HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA, NEARLY ONE THOUSAND PEOPLE STOOD TALL AND SANG 'HEY JUDE' ALONG WITH SIR PAUL McCARTNEY, AND FOR A FEW MOMENTS EVERYTHING WAS GOOD IN THE WORLD. NO, IT CERTAINLY WAS NOT YOUR AVERAGE GIG, AND THOSE IN ATTENDANCE SURELY SENSED PAUL FELT THE SAME WAY. "I'D LIKE TO TAKE A LITTLE MOMENT TO TAKE THIS ALL IN," HE SAID. "I WAS THERE, I WAS THERE AT AMOEBA." MARCUS KAGLER, HOLLYWOOD
