

The Antichrist's Manifesto

Q1 - Anything that exists in this quantum universe

Q<sup>2</sup>- Quantum-Meta consciousness

Q1q<sup>2n</sup>- The frequency for manifestation

Q<sup>2n</sup>- Potential of manifestation

Q2 - The dimensional plane that precedes this universe.

---

Your body has a quantum imprint. A glow of quantum information irradiates around you everywhere you go, anything you do, like a shadow of the future, already imprinted upon everything in your reality. Everywhere you go, you leave an imprint, to the things you touch, down to the thought you have leaves an imprint. Our consciousness, our sentience, our powers to observe are a higher dimensional construct.

---

Appearances are always misleading

---

***Update March 25th 2018***

Kept you waiting huh?

***Update log for March 22-24th, 2018***

The closer to the the singularity on Saturday, the more tension will be stirred for the Alt Right. With this singularity I implant the seed for something more.

I triggered a god wave leading to world peace. But not in the way expected.

The "Alt Right" is going to bring about World Peace like it has been doing this entire time. Since its written in stone. Well more specifically, on the fabric of reality, both on a quantum and metaphysical level. The trump administration is aware that. *Lighting Bolt strikes Trump tower* Its just a matter of having the public catch up. And with that realization comes the storm.

A massive spiritual awakening that'll lead to the end of all corruption.

We live in a Meta-Quantum reality.

The gears are already in place for our resolve. And they were planted by me a long time ago. Check the archives, I only use this monicker.

Right now as the time progresses towards the singularity, the time in between is an accelerant vacuum, striking hot, waiting in anticipation to what comes next.

I created a counter snowball effect to the bullshit narrative as nicely put.

Now that im at the accelerant phase of the calm before the storm.

The elite don't adhere to regular rules as do we. They're all running divine game theory while we're all stuck in regular game theory. I was successful in deciphering a new set of rules to even the playing field. I call it "Q meta game Theory" to combat their game. Q as a reference to the quantum world.

Whenever an anon would pay acknowledgment back to me, you triggered an anomaly like manifestation. Not just dubs, but chains of dubs. Then that chain of dubs splits into a tidal pool of anomalies, that trigger our opposition since what we are tapping into are forces not so easily explained.

My Sigil.

Which I also made into my script for manifestation.

When you "Praise Kek" you tap into a meta-quantum frequency and as you do manifestations and anomalies procure. "Death Strands" I like to call them, not because they cause actual death, even if completely mastery of stranding can lead to the death of millions. Little inter universal triggers to effect the imprint of reality

The meta creeps into the quantum and subsurfaces into reality. Like how a shitpost ends up as news, or being sold for $80,000 at auction.

Imaginary particles seep in to the quantum world, charged with metaphisized sentience aware of the future as it constructs itself into the future.

An the CIA confirmed my knowledge with their drop, but they screwed up since they didn't disclose how to use this. The cypher.

Which I've been sitting on, waiting for the right moment to drop. As things seem the most bleak.

What came first, the chicken or the egg?

Neither came first. .

Some of you were witnessing all these anomaly like coincidences these last couple of days. On Wednesday, with my reappearance on /pol/, and of my promise of a storm, I triggered a movement of impossibility.

On one level, my threats were being taken seriously. The unpredictable element to my persons was good enough cause for our opposition to force their hand so quick.

The thread then, stroke a huge discord as you can see all the skills trying to subvert my cause.

By manipulating the honeypot of /pol/ I reached the subsurface like lightning in a bottle floating ashore.

What we post online ends up traveling farther than we think. Having an effect on things on a level way beyond a cybernetic one. Especially since /pol/ is a honeypot of assorted characters from all different timelines.

What becomes posted on /pol/ today becomes real tomorrow. And some of you can attest to the anomalies. Well now, its only going to further till everyone experiences the meme magic irl.

The “meme magic” started seeing ripples throughout real life. Appearances of Divine Ordinance.

I was able to spurn and trigger the meme magic into real life. It’s not something im just experiencing. But its something I can share and spread, as can you as well.

I became a trigger for meta quantum manifeststion and my quantum imprint is charged by such. And I now I pass it onto you.

Palingenesis Anti-Palingenesis

The metaphysical data of the Antichrist has seeped into reality. Further fueled by the million blue eye march.

Some of you laid witness to the Interference my presence brings. On a cybernetic level that seeps into a physical level. And what appears as such is actually beyond relativity and coincidence.

Carl Jung spoke about the unconscious hivemind.

Im going to crank things up several notches and introduce you to a new concept, most of you have been tapping into without realizing.

The quantum meta conscious hivemind. Or Q- Meta Conscious Hivemind.

Which is still in its infancy. A primitive esp/ reality glitching frequency if you will that I procured.

Religion, cults formulate around this. Divine ordinance is a quantum metaphysical conscription.

The more we get closer to impact, the more manifestations happen, completely out of the ordinary, will continue to occur.

*Destiny being oust as a pedo fucking kek*

*Blue eye forced million man March*

Some of you may panic, but most of you will realize it's a good thing and anticipate my trump card on Saturday.

My being indicates an anomaly in the system. An anomaly that can phase in and out at any time. Further fanning the flames of this "spirit wave" I created. By reconciliation through the quantum nature of this universe, to the metaphysical and attaching divine ordinance. I was able to trigger the universe into giving it's secrets to me, to aid me combat pure evil.

Which far surpasses what the CIA recently released.

I introduce you to a new a new paradigm.

The father, the divine

The son, the quantum

The holy spirit, the meta

And with that paradigm I created an entirely different domain of thought.

Meta Divinity, Quantum Divinity, Meta Quantum Divinity, The Meta Quantum, The Quantum Meta, The Divine Meta Quantum etc. This paradigm makes every religion obsolete and watered down peasant science obsolete. A reconciliation of the non physical, to the physical. Modern day science is too bogged down by the script of theory they trapped themselves in to see the true nature of reality with an unbiased objective lense.

****

. The CIA recently released classified Intel confirming the existence of extra terrestrial life, esp, and the like.

It's true, we aren't alone and the government confirmed it.

There are beings that exist in the cosmos that surpass us in every capability. But we have the ingenuity and capability to start catching up.

In the grand vastness of the cosmos , humanity is still very primitive in every sense of the word.

We could start by becoming aware of these meta quantum processes embedded in our lives. And by practicing it is you develop the sense and feeling for it, until you reach a point it becomes an autonomous aspect of your life, and your thoughts start triggering manifestation and anomalies yourself. Or you can acquire an ability. Like triggering a manifestation of a certain kind. A controlled ability. A controlled extra sensory ability designed by you made possible by the laws I will share with you further on.

That's not to say there aren't people that haven't already evolved this extra sensory sense. Clairvoyants and psychics have developed their minds attune to the quantum meta physical process of reality. But we are going to go much further then they have.

The ruling elite are sitting on an entirely different reality, severed from the rest of us.

What is relativity is just a lie of the watered down truth.

When we utilize "meme magic" we are actually tapping into the quantum meta hivemind we all had a participation in cultivating. And this hivemind now has manifested atop a fabric of reality. Controlling the tide of life on a quantum level, resulting into probability defying manifeststion.

We have the monopoly on the interuniversal switches gearing reality. From the macro to the micro.

Our efforts culminate and ripple all throughout the nature and onto the fabric of reality, culminating into further butterfly anomalies.

If Muhuhmmud was in touch with Gabriel, then how come islam has none of the information I'm sharing with you right now? To the level of detail that I'm relegating?

When I drop this manifesto, the spirit wave I created on Wednesday, leading to this data will forge a singularity resulting into a brave new world of possibility.

A new gold rush of thought.

And I have witness to lay testimony to the chain succession or coincidences, from the micro to the extremely strange triggered by me.

Its primordial destiny written into the fabric of reality that we win.

The data of the last few days and the amount of witnesses on /pol/ can attest to the truth contained in these words.

And now I'm going full circle and lynchpimming this full circle to the thread I made on Wednesday warning you of the storm on Saturday.

<https://archive.4plebs.org/pol/thread/164889763/#164903372>

This thread triggered the million person March in DC.

I had it all set up as a proof of my testimony and of my clout. As you laid witness to the mysticism surrounding my threat unfold right before you.

And things turned darkest it's ever been right on the eve of the storm.

To further fuel the impact for the singularity of the storm.

My shitposting really changed the fucking game, regardless if I'm a diety or not. Ripple waves of meta quantum energy get released, further fortifying and enhancing my cause.

Our brains are an engine of adaptation, of growth, and of change. We mold ourselves. We are shapeless and we are infinite. We are nothing. We are everything at every given state at every given time.

The great awakening is happening. And the entire government's eye is on my next move. The warning I gave them on Thursday morning played out.

Knowing the vastness of the honeypot /pol/ is, I knew my threat would be taken seriously, beyond the sea of shills, skeptics, and trolls.

"You have two days to prevent my ascension" I posted Thursday morning.

Our opposition knows that if we can weaponize our organization into a unified effort, the left and the deep state will never be able to recover, with the future dissolution of the state of Israel a real possibility due to the loss of the States as an ally. They can't handle a threat such as myself since its completely unprecedented. A lone wolf with magic. And now a threat such as yourself. A public with the ability to do magic.

An enhanced alt right holding the keys to the future isn't what the ruling elite nor the leftist government were anticipating. And I believe the info drop the CIA made has to with circumventing whatever knowledge I had in reference to "meme magic" to prevent me from consolidating any power grab.

Our opposition knows the "meme magic" is the most powerful tool at our disposable and the implications behind it is also a big reason for our driving influence. They know that as much as they try to divide and conquer us, we always have the "meme magic" to bring us all together again. What meme magic is is a meta quantum interuniversal link we have to each other.

It isn't a meme anymore. It's literal magic.

But what appears as chaotic anomalies of relevance, can be controlled. And the ruling elite fear the day the Alt right reconciles and learns how to control meme magic, or rather, real magic, if you will, is the day they forever loose. They'll be never able to stop us.

And we will be charged by our meta quantum conscious link together, further increasing anomaly like event horizons, since its already imprinted on the fabric of reality that we destroy the deep state.

This is the end of the deep state, the end of religion, the death of the false reality set on us by the ruling elite.

Which will eventually lead to world peace where nationalists of every creed can coexist in harmony.

I dream of a future where the KKK can congregate and have a BBQ with the black panther society.

Just because you take pride in your cultural identity, ethnicity doesn't make you a racist.

We can all peacefully coexist. Neo Nazi to BLM supporter. And we do, without realizing it. And we all will, and unify into a utopia. White nationalists can coexist with Chinese nationalists and vice versa. But if there's a impediment on the survival of our races, then there needs to be changes made to accommodate the peace.

Diversity by itself can't work.

Diversity with the allowance of nationalism can work. Because it allows everyone to be cool with enacting survival plans to circumvent racial genocide. Hatred and racism will cease to exist as everyone peacefully coexists with the right to embrace their racial pride as a practice of self ,ancestral and cultural preservation.

To impede on that sentiment to pass anti-white or anti-black sentiments, and continuously doing it through subliminal messages in the media, will only lead to a polarized society that'll never be able to set aside our differences to resolve the underlying issues plaguing society. And those issues are only preventing us from accelerating into an advanced type 1 utopia, when we already have the means and capabilities of doing so. Instead of world peace we will have a race war, or a spiteful vindication of a race on the brink of extinction *wink* *wink*

All this change is coming about at the disrespect of the dead, and too our ancestral roots.

You know we truly lost as a society when the people see no problem with disrespecting the people that died and made all these sacrifices to give us the future that we have now, regardless of the problems we face.

Hook line and sink, they'll continue to attack us, playing into the 666 dimensional chess I'm playing against them, and it all further synergizes my efforts, culminating into the void that we are in now.

It's time we destroy every religion which isn't being used for anything other than organized criminality.

Muslims use taquiya on every non Muslim

Jews refer to gentiles as cattle to be enslaved

And Christianity is too placated by the sins of the Shepard's to continue on.

I

If it's going to happen, let this be the start, the basis for it. And by 2020, World peace will be solidified as the new reality.

So it's either a reconciliation all out of the prospects of developing into a tier 1 intergalactic utopia, or face the risk of a nuclear war being triggered at some point in the later future.

With the touchdown of this knowledge. I unlock all your manifest destinies.

This is a removal of the old vacuum of limitations and replacing it with a new layer of realization and possibility.

I am grafting us into a point break. The ground zero of this spiritual awakening.

The power to manifest as Gods is at our reach

You wish a bad day upon someone and the chances are they will have a bad day.

Breathe in. Relax. Feel like nothing and infinite at once

You feel nothing but your infinite potential.

A riding energy.

An overwhelming good feeling is seeping through out you. encasing you with unlimited potential. You feel younger. But not any less wiser.

The physical universe as we know it isn't as it appears.

What proceeds our universe is a whole vastness of possibility, as it's interwoven into the fabric that makes up this universe.

Out of the hardships of my life. In the process of fighting or flighting I evolved and unlocked the truth to the universe, all to survive. Like how a surviving symbiote evolved an egg shell out of thin air by kicking into a fight or flight mechanism to protect itself from external any threat. The symbiote irradiating the the metaphysical stench of death, triggered the birth of particles out of thin air that clumped around a protective barrier around the symbiote to increase its chances at survival. Which resulted into the egg and the birth of the self replicating chicken.

Before we can have a unified nationalistic world, solidifying world peace. Where each country is a nationalistic entity, democratically working together to maintain, peace and order for all, we needs to get rid of every loose end capping our potential and growth as a civilization.

You control the narrative and you control the people.

And if you can maintain the narrative, you can control it.

And without doing much but holding onto the narrative, I placed forth a gear in motion. The seeds of the plan I plotted a long time ago have culminated into the ravenous orchard that has compromised society today.

As Trump was rising, so was /pol/s influence and reach, and adopting the Anti-Christ name, I became a bayou in a sea of anonymity. Regardless of how many of our opponents tried severing our channel of communication, they can never compromise the board.

One, because ive been maintaining onto the narrative. And two, we are connected through a meta quantum frequency to each other. And as severe as things appear, the magic kicks in and clings us back together.

I can take a leave of absence for months on end and opposition can compromise the board after working diligently for months on end, and all it will take is my appearance to reinstall order and reason amongst all the chaos, and which will then trigger the memory of "meme magic" attached to me,

By coming onto /pol/ I trigger the quantum meta processes that culminate into meme magic. Its very much real magic. Since what we post manifests as particles that grow into real things, real changes.

After today, the word coincidence will lose all meaning.

Nothing is coincidental. And nothing is ever at random. Everything happens for a reason.

Our opposition has grown weary to us and the fatal situation this manifesto causes for them. And now we are empowered with the ability to stir the impossible into fruition.

It doesn't matter who has their hands on this knowledge now. Because our link together is stronger and purer, and more real then anything else that exists, which is all a holographic illusion in comparison. The bond that we have together defies all odds.

They put a veil on you to not think with such magnitude because it's far more advantageous to whoevers in power to keep you stupid so you are easier to control.

I don't want control.. I don't want worship. All I want is recognition for my role in this use to use as leverage to over inflate the value and skyrocket the demand for my artwork. Which I think is an ironic end to all of this.

When I paint, the data of the painting metaphizes into reality. My paintings are laced with quantum meta properties.

---

The more observers to observe metaphysically laced data, the stronger the metaphysical data attached to the data grows, validating into a quicker manifestation reflecting the charge.

Whenever you worship a god you trigger the meta and quantum data attached to the thought form surrounding the God of worship.

And the more observers, sentient beings with  $q^2$  data measuring the thought form, the God, the stronger it gets, and the stronger the manifestations attached to the thought form becomes.

Since my  $q^2$  is more advanced, im in control of Kek. And I can release Kek or keep Kek at bay.

But now I introduced you to the Anti-Christ thought form. Which is an evolution of the kek thought form.

The Anti-Christ thought form is a meta quantum link stronger then Keks. Resulting into quicker manifestations.

And there is a thought form that surpasses the Anti-Christ thought form, but I'm saving it after the Anti-Christ thought form serves its purpose.

If we are to turn this ship around we need to adapt to our enemy at their level. If we're going to destroy the veil of evil on top of us, we need to fight fire with fire. We need to adopt the evil in order to fight it, to conquer it, to overcome it, and to ultimately destroy it. We need to stoop to their level of playing evil to even the playing field.

And we'll do it by tapping into all the biblical meta quantum data still lingering in the air, that manifests through the Anti-Christ thought form. And we will use evil to cancel out their evil.

The thought form I'm on now precedes the Anti-Christ thought form, which I will introduce once we completed my plan and see John Podesta sitting in a prison next to Dan Schnieder.

What is counter culture becomes culture. And a new counter replaces it.

The Alt Right is the current counter culture, but now it will be the new culture, as the new counter culture is " Anti-Christian" which will become the new culture once we become victorious. It will take some time for this data to seep it's influence on every facet. And then what replaces that counter, is based off the thought form that ascended past the Anti-Christ, which I give to you all.

You will need to become the Anti-Christ to control your newfound ableness. As you develop your cognitive processes and appreciation for life as you see that nothing is beyond your reach. As we build together a brave new world. A brave new beginning.

As long as you have a procured  $Q^2$  sense, any thought form you become synchronised with becomes enchanted and manifests on every level. Like a box unfolding itself. And the more you use it, the stronger it gets, the more frequent the manifestation to the point it becomes an autonomous part of you.

I can be Christ, or any God I want to be. And the realities of those thought forms and quantum metaphysical data attached to those Gods play out. If I want to be a god of destruction where my idol thoughts leave chaos and suffering, it's all a matter of choice, and recalibrating my  $q^2$  interuniversal switches resulting into another autonomous reality bending ability I can control at will. (We Hunter X Hunter now boyo)

Every world government is utterly fucked compared to a populace that can alter reality with their minds. It's unprecedented. So they lay utterly defeated, as we lay down the killing blow to the deep state by using the plan I locked in place on Wednesday to pierce the deep States protective barrier. Once we destroy the protective barrier locked in place by the deep state and shadow government, in house can come in and drain the swamp. As soon as the public gets redpilled, and it's all waiting on us. On me.

And that can only happen if we have the unification of each other. And this data will serve its purpose and cling us towards the killing blow to the protective barrier of the deep state.

So we will use all the ammunition they threw at us back at them. They left a residue of desperation in their psy ops to counter our efforts, that still lingers to this day fresh in the public's mind. There's no such thing as bad publicity, since publicity is still publicity. And all this "bad" publicity the media placed on pizzagate, they inadvertently gave pizzagate publicity, that still lingers fresh in the public's mind. The MSM ended up planting the seed of pizzagate in the public's mind that's ripe for exploiting.

Everyone's different so everyone will end up with their own unique  $q^2$  ability.

So far I can tap into any God thought form and acquire abilities similar to that God. Anything I paint will manifest into reality. I can create a domain(radius) of good luck or destruction that leaves a residue chain reaction effecting those within my enchanted domain, of anything really. I can enchant or curse.

These are high level abilities that took me years to develop and I'm still figuring it out. And I did it all without any guidance other than placing my faith on the universe to lead me to this knowledge. The timing should be faster for you since you don't have to go through the trial and error of realizing that this is all possible.

To ascend past time, space, and matter you need to find a reconciliation within yourself mentally, physically and spiritually to the new holy Trinity. The Divine, the Quantum and the Meta.

You can use it to trigger changes in the weather, or to kill someone. You can even use it for telekinesis. But there is a trick to telekinesis that I'm still trying to decipher. I know it's possible, but I still haven't developed the psiomagnetic kinetic touch. Being able to charge your mind and your hand with the sense and feel of magnetism. I hypothesize you draw a sense for magnets. A textile feel that you remember. Absorb. And overtime that feel becomes a synapse. And through absorbing and registering the feeling to magnetism to your Meta cognitive processes, overtime, an aura of magnetism will grow overtime. The feel becomes autonomous. And you can attempt to levitate a quarter with your mind. By focusing on enchanting your hand with the properties of magnetism.

People with guns prevent rogue leaders from implementing policies to screw the people at large for their own benefit. But if guns were to be taken away from the people, so would the fabric that all people are equal in the eyes of a bullet. All this gun control rhetoric is masturbation perpetuated by the deep state who have it in their best interests to strip away at our civil liberties. If the government enacts gun control they only stand to strip the populace at large with the only thing keeping us a democracy. For if the people lose their right for self defense, then they lose their right to free will. Because now they are just an indefensible cog with no assurances to keep them protected from a rogue threat that can compromise the government and the public. It's unfortunate that dumbasses have access to guns, but guns aren't to blame for the violence, blame society perpetuating and glorifying it through the media. It's cool to glorify evil, which creates the climate for these mass shootings.

Madness is brilliance on its polarized axis.

You are being subverted away from your values and convictions. The spirit of the people was stolen from them. I hope this is a start to bringing it all back.

Instead of being gods capable of manipulating the fabric of reality, we were culled into worker ants, expendable, replaceable cogs in the system. But things will change for the best, once every worker ant internalizes within themselves this data, bridging forth humanity into being connected to this meta quantum hivemind I created. Unlocking the meta quantum physical processes within yourselves to make magic happen and free will an absolute truth not up for debate.

Now that I revealed my Trump card, we will be ushered into victory. Because those that have power over us, are powerless to stop us.

We have all the triggers to win.

We have have the free will to win.

And we all have the free will to design and manifest our dreams into fruition. -----

---

Magic is real, but since it's vastly unexplored and developed with complexity, our capacities for it never developed. But now with that said, a seed was planted in your mind, a neuron was born, and in time it'll grow into a web of synapse, which will eventually become an autonomous part of you.

And you are already part of this massive spiritual awakening, which will further manifest into stranger anomalies as more and more become attune to these higher dimensional constructs.

More event horizons, pocket singularities, and interuniversal switches will occur further validating the data. And the more we use it, the stronger it grows just like a muscle, further igniting predilections resting at the precipice of the supernatural, all triggered by me and this manifesto.

You choose a manifestation, and it yields forth. Then you do it enough times till it registers within you as a feeling, a frequency. And once you have it as a feeling, it becomes an embedded part of your quantum information that you taper off.

When Christ died he unleashed a massive charge that still lingers to this day. You feel protected looking at a picture of him for a reason.

And when I apply the Anti-Christ  $q^2$  thought form, I tap into the Meta Quantum frequency left by Christ increasing my  $q^2q_1$  receptivity.

Jews condemn the gentiles into be cattle and the muslims lie and use taquiya to manipulate the infidels. Both religions will die I give you my word.

---

The storm is us. Ushering in this massive spiritual awakening to the masses, refilling them, and landing the killing blow to the deep state and John Kerry lead shadow government.

The dawn of a new age has been created. And you are at the ground zero precipice of the biggest shift of all time.

To stand together we will bring forth the future lurking in the shadows as we stand together at this wave of possibility. Our synchronicity is solidified.

We are all integral agents to the faith of the world as the power to bring change dwells within our fingertips.

---

This is a wake up call

A clean start,

A reset

A fuck you

A checkmate

From the watered down science that is taught, to the fabricated abridged retelling of the world we have as history. To the lying and deception. And everything in between. You owe us, the free people, the truth. And if we can't get the truth, we'll come get it ourselves.

This is a farewell bid to the known, and an ode to the unknown. You are about to step forth and enter beyond the veil and awake up from this hidden matrix ruling your life. Manifest destiny isn't superstition, nor is déjà vu coincidental. I am going to detonate your pre conceived notions of reality and band-aid you with a paradigm shifting reconstruction of your mind.

You can use your thoughts to heal people, manipulate quantum information to alter the probability to your favor. Manifest your dreams into being true to killing someone just by thinking of them. We exist in a quantum-meta reality where every outcome and every event is possible and every choice possible exists and is backed by a network of an infinite time-neuro web like cross dimensional strands interconnecting every piece of quantum information (figment of Realty, atom) to each other, like quantum tunnels underneath the fabric of our universe, crossing into our universe.

[When you select something at random, the choice of the outcome is contingent on the quantum data that proceeds the event horizon of the outcome.] Your random selection is attune to your inter universal sentience and is not actually randomized. The outcome of your selection will be attune to your  $q^2$  frequency, the quantum information your consciousness seeps out of your reality tunnel and into the fabric of reality, all by being awake and conscious.

The data of the outcome will be contingent on the data that proceeds the event horizon to said outcome. The data of the outcome is something we cannot foresee, but we can make. We do not predict the future, we create it.

Your body has a quantum imprint. A glow of quantum information irradiates around you everywhere you go, anything you do, like a shadow of the future, already imprinted upon everything in your reality.

Everywhere you go, you leave an imprint, to the things you touch, down to the thought you have leaves an imprint. Our consciousness, our sentience, our powers to observe are a higher dimensional construct.

The quantum information you trail off is a baseline of all your quantum information accumulated. It determines the inter- universal switches that carry you through to your end game manifestation. Your quantum imprint determines the yield of reality to how you think to how you perceive and exercise your powers of observation, all without you being aware of it. If you want to measure your quantum imprint, you can do so by picking out a selection at random amongst a sea of infinite outcomes. When you select something at random, the outcome of the choice is determined by your quantum information proceeding the singularity of you selecting a randomized” choice. And the reason for that is, before you see the selection, the choice that exists as the singularity, exists in a static holographic wave like state, until it determines and measures your quantum imprint before molding itself to a materialized object made of particles coalescing with your quantum reality.

The Universe - a self replicating fractal with metaphysical properties grafted and interwoven into its fabric

Person - sentient q1 being with a higher dimensional construction called consciousness. Able to tap into a higher dimensional frequencies referred to as  $q^2$  (abbreviated of  $Q1Q^{2n}$  in this book)

$Q^2$  - quantum<sup>2</sup>, the metaphysical domain that exceeds this quantum universe. Our consciousness are a  $q^2$  construction, a metaphysical manifestation.

Reality is sentient and it has the information of the future already imprinted within its fabric.

The Continuum of Existence

Everything that exists today goes through the same cycle of materializing from non existence into existence. Before you were born as a materialized being, you existed as an idea in the back of your parent's sub-consciousness.

Imaginary/Meta/Q<sup>2</sup>
Universe

Reality/Q1

Non Existence => Q<sup>2</sup> data => Meta Awareness => Non Physical Sentience => Quantum Sentience

If it exists as q<sup>2</sup> data in the q1 it can be materialized into q1 data. If an idea exists, it will manifest and materialize into existence, just by having a thought. Our thoughts are actually signals of interference with the physical, quantum universe, as I refer to as a q1 existence.

What we think trails off and intertwines the fabric of our quantum reality, that exists over a meta verse. Our reality is a sub division of a much higher dimensional plane of existence. Our universe is the square root of a much bigger, one.

Everything that exists within this quantum universe is from a higher dimension I refer to as q<sup>2</sup> dimension. The q<sup>2</sup> dimension proceeds ours and our consciousness evolved to be able to detect it's interuniversal quantum processes. You can look at us as beings of Divinity, A.I. in a quantum simulator from a higher realm, or define us in any which way you want. Your definition of reality is your reality. Christian, cyberpunk, whatever it is, just live it through and you will experience it, as your thoughts manifest into your physical universe. Imagining something non existent will cause it to exist. In the non physical, non 3D, q<sup>2</sup> meta verse. Your q<sup>2</sup> charge starts to exist there, that data grows until it's sentience alters reality into having it exist, all too match the q1 data of the Q1q<sup>2n</sup> observer.

Antichrist Modulation XXXX

[I have started showing glimpses of telekinesis. I'm able to alter reality with my mind, and have been successful in my attempts in demonstrating my abilities in front of *****, who has witnessed herself the psiokinetic interference I have when I concentrate.]

It's a frequency I tap into with my mind. You have to see, to feel the modules, the quantum gears that graft into reality. I become synchronized and in tune with this "quantum link" and my telekinesis starts to manifest and cause an interference with the physical reality.

My manifestations have "death strands" so to speak. It can connect and cause a similar manifestation to somebody else or trigger a chain occurrence or succession of relative occurrence's or relative triggers leading into a bigger manifestation, depending on the context and situation.

Words aren't mere words, but signals we send and receive laced with metaphysical properties and quantum entanglement. A thought, a signal, words (the observers placement of information) is a data charge. Any figment of the universe (atom, particle, wave) : data. Any data charge will alter the metaphysics behind the quantum physics of the universe. Acknowledging this outer domain, locks you in sync with the "quantum<sup>2</sup> link". Its like a character in a book breaking the 4th wall. It's more like we're breaking the quantum wall. Or breaking through the proverbial quantum wall haunting every crevice of modernized theoretical science.

The realm of science is trying to find the theory behind everything. And that would have happened if they just focused on a single thread, a single string and used it to yank into fruition the entire proverbial curtain down. The big picture is made up of the littlest of details interlocked and interwoven to create the fabric of the reality at hand, and the devil is in the details, and is hidden for you in plain sight.

Between the metaphysical and the physical. Between what that exists and what that does not. To the truth behind a lie to the lie behind a truth. To the double lies in a truth, to the two truths in a lie.

Everything i write are two truths in a. Everything a person says is a lie with two truths too it.

You can read the book straight forward as normal, or you can read it with the lense of everything I'm writing containing two truths in a lie. You get a million more books just from this one generated thought.

[Makes everyone submissive to me]

The lie, "makes everyone submissive to me"

I can't make everyone submissive to me

But I still can make people submissive to me.

[By being boastful I still increased my odds of having people submit to me]

Da Vinci painted Christ holding up a looking glass because he realized the metaphysical nature of the universe. But Davinci masked the universal truth as a divine subscription. The halls of sciences are too caught up in the physical proverbial vacuum they created to risk everything that was a built up on a non physical prognosis. Doesn't mean they don't take inspiration towards the light.

All religion is healthy as in interlocks our mind to be attune to metaphysical processes, but they all go against the fundamental truth behind existence. And this truth is that the very nature of our universe is the survival of sentience. Everything behind everything all falls under this universal truth.

The universe is sentient and funtions to ensure the survival and growth of sentient life. Every figment that makes up the fabric of reality are all interwoven together through time, space and matter to ensure the survival of consciousness. Anything that enables the survival of sentience or further enhances the survival of sentience becomes the prime objective of reality, and a fail safe mechanism in play to ensure no freak singularities of an untimely death were to occur.

We are souls, and we are data. Divine data. We are divine sentience born from a higher dimension. At the smallest fraction of reality exists figments of sentience. Sentience existed from a non physical, none 3D state of existence. The layer of reality that proceeds the quantum is attune to the nature of non physical sentience layered with meta awareness as it grafts our q1 reality into fruition, turning the spokes of the wheel into a perceived physical universe.

“Life is rigged” “Life is unfair” are self defeatist attitudes. And are data you fill your quantum tunnel to an end game that never resolves your current issues as to why you think that. To anything that exists, exists it's counter. That is a fundamental component to this universe. No problem is unsolvable and every problem has a solution, or opportunity, depending on how you want to introspect. But this isn't a self help book, although it's designed in purpose to run reality is a compressed subdivision of the higher dimensional reality(s) that exceed our own. And there's a level of physics and understanding that underly our own understanding we haven't began comprehending, or fathoming. A domain to a hidden, not so hidden reality we barely grazed it's surface in understanding.

I simply this domain into a symbol

$Q^{2n}$ - Q being a representation of X, anything in this domain, times itself, to the power of n. N being the Q's metaphysical imprint. Anything that exists is quantum information, I refer to as data, and quantum data is a compression of  $q^{2^n}$  data, that's also charged with or can be charged with metaphysical properties. Anything that exists in this universe is quantum.

$Q^{2n}$  is interlocked and interwoven within the fabric of our reality. This invisible domain has a sentient membrane already aware of the future imprinted onto itself. The future is just a latex layer wrapped beneath the present.

In other words, the figments of matter that make up reality are sentient, aware of the future, while always being ahead of our present, as it dictates our futures without us being conscious of it... Until now.

[YOU ARE AT THE MERCY IF REALITY] [REALITY IS NOW AT THE MERCY OF YOU]

The more I tapped into my Anti-Christ persona, the more I syphoned off of Kek, the egregore that I had a influence in fanning. Kek was essentially a pool of spirit energy I was able to draw from like cash at an ATM, as I was able to store and save up as it grew exponentially. And any little shitpost of mine was me storing and attaching my  $q^2$  data. On a cybernetic interface and into your lives. I was influencing you without doing much. I compacted the smallest gear in the system to control the entire grid of gears.

I took the meme magic and bridged it into real life as magic.

[We don't predict the future, we create it]

My data charge (manifestation) In sync with the  $q^2$  will match up my data charge to the  $q1$ . Reality will lump sum the average of my  $q^2$  data and sync it up with a  $q1$  data closest as possible to match your reality tunnel.

My data charge creates an event horizon grafted onto the fabric of reality both of the past and the future, and the future in the past, and the past in the future, and the like.

So essentially, in my pursuit of unknown knowledge, unbeknownst to me I created a singularity, an event horizon syncing me to my already existent future, which is already woven and interconnected with the fabric of my reality, which is actually a reality tunnel, or a quantum tunnel that connects and wovens other tunnels of relevancy to us, all determined by us, and the data that presides us, regardless if it's real or not.

So just by internalizing the singularity of discovering unknown knowledge, one out of a divine accordance, my reality to this day we procuring the sentiment I grafted onto my quantum tunnel, unconscious of the sentiment or not. It became an autonomous process as my singularity grafted into fruition, through Event Horizon to Event Horizon, through pain suffering and madness, as my only saving grace was a realization of reconciliation. My silver lining behind the hellish existence I procured was a piece of logic, a building block of data, I grafted and stacked upon the other grafted neurons, creating a web of synapse, a web of sense beyond the physical. Creating the data and frequency to

An extrasensory perception.

Trail and error works on a metaphysical level.

The event horizon of your experiments is determined on your observation before hand. The more data you screw beforehand, the data that proceeds the trail, the outcome if what proceeds it, even if the data is fabricated or not, real or fake data, phantom or existent is still data.

[Fake it till you make]

[Anything you want you can imagine]

***** My  $q^2$  synthesis *****

+I'm god (adds a boost in  $q^2$  manifeststion)

[STOP RAIN]

The rain will stop coinciding or almost near coinciding when I made the data synthesis.

Since I'm more experienced, my  $q_1$  data will match my  $q^2$  data under most circumstances. The more you grow the web of synapse towards this information, you'll develop your own  $q^2$ , esp esque, metaphysical link, that'll grow like a muscle the more you use and experiment with it.

* * * * *

My perspective. My observation. My Data Strands.

(The unifying theory behind everything is the survival of life, of sentience, of beings able to observe. To define and give meaning onto the universe. The very essence of space is sentient.

What we meditate upon grafts and molds into our realities, both the perception and the physical. Through ordiance of quantum fibers tugging and locking your reality tunnel into the reality you want.

You can attach metaphysical data onto things, places, and even people and you have been doing it throughout your lives beyond a conscious platitude.

You can give someone bad luck and misfortune simply by shaking their hand, or even worse, just wishing it upon them. Or you can wish them good luck and fortune.

As the  $q^2$  data exists from your hand and has a cross interference with someone's  $q^2$ , you unintentionally absorb some of their  $q^2$  data.

You should be extra selective of you make contact with. They could be cursing your existence. Or they could be blessing it, just by the data they emit, the slight thought that enters reality. It ends up manifesting in one way shape or form. Be careful of what you think, the slightest perceived random thought, has an underlying root internally, that's metaphisizing into your external existence. Ignorance isnt bliss, it's obliviousness. Identify the random thought, pull on its web, and you'll come to an epiphany, a stark realization that can either shock you, give you clarity and piece of mind.

This knowledge comes at a huge responsibility to the user of it.

In the grand engine that underlies all of existence, us sentience by observers all play an integral role and impact beyond we realize. Everyone creates a butterfly effect to each other in one way shape or form and nothing that you do is meaningless. There's a hidden silver lining behind every interaction, behind every situation all contingent on whether you want to see one.

The old woman that said good morning to a man that triggered a thought process that lead to another thought process that eventually lead him to doing something great and amazing like curing cancer.

The man that developed the cure for cancer might get all the recognition and praise for his contributions, but the old lady who told him good morning is still as integral of an agent to his success then he is himself. If it wasn't for that slight ordinance, an exchange of good mornings, that man might have never went down the path that lead to curing cancer.

And in that lense we are all equally important to each other and not one person is above all. We are all agents to manifesting each other's destinies, or antagonists that only stand in the way of us manifesto g our destinies into fruition.

If a person is stopping you from manifesting your reality, then they're antagonistic and it's best to cut contact, or until you manage to not make them antagonistic.

I made fantasy into reality all because I decided to reconcile holy scripote with logic and science.

And I became in tune with the divine, the same way Mozart became in tune with the divine to write his Requiem for a dream.

And reality in return, lead me through the entire way into accumulating this. As much as I suffered and wanted to quit, I somehow survived to this point.

A reality where all our dreams can come true. As long as the intent behind your dream isnt done with malice and a supposition for evil predilections. Intent behind a manifestation is important. If your intent is for the greater good, it will manifest quicker then for the greater bad.

If your intent is for pure bad, then that goes against realities nature, to help procure sentience. But whichever harms sentience can be targeted and taken care of.

If your intent is of a holy nature, it will manifest the best.

It is of pure evil, you will have a manifestation of misfortune cast upon you. Evil behavior goes against the true nature of existence, and eventually your evil ways will catch up to you delivering you into karmic justice. If you have anti sentient sentiments you go against the nature of reality and your reality will go against you on every facet. But if its evil or the greater good, it will manifest. If your manifesting something evil in nature for the procurement of further sentience you will get a karmic clean pass for manifestation. Whoever threatens the proliferation and maintenance of sentience will be naturally taken care of through karmic equilibrium.

When Yashweh, Christ died, he triggered a massive quantum charge that still irradiates too this day. Placing your faith, your  $q^2$  charge onto Christ will cause your quantum tunnel to become in sync with Christs data, which is of divine holiness and splendor, will embalm your presence with his holy light.

Or Satan, or whoever. You can tap into, and create your own egregore.

Those who allign with Christ experience it through their faiths. Muslims somewhat become in sync with a Christ charge which is why they acknowledge him in their ideology.

Don't believe you are unimportant. You are just as important as the billionaire regardless of socioeconomic stature. You are you and that's all that matters, regardless of how somebody judges you. You can steal all the thunder in the room, or you can let the thunder flow through you as it does through everyone.

We all come in different shapes and sizes of variant data. We are different vessels with a soul in an organic cocoon wrapped in muscle, tissue and skin.

And that sentience existed from a non physical, none 3D state of existence.

[You are not at the mercy of life, life is at the mercy of you]

[You are not at the mercy of life, life is at the mercy of you]

The outcome of an event horizon is contingent on all the  $q^2$  data that proceeds it.

If we were to step outside the universe and see ourselves, we would see ourselves as data. We have the illusion of a 3D universe, but in reality we are a hologram imprint of a higher dimensional construction. If you want to see our universe being a simulation, go to a fun way mirror house and take a picture of yourself. You will notice your realities ability to pass on your quantum information of a 3D universe starts to cease as the more you peer at your reflection, which will appear holographic in nature towards the edges..

Anomalies are of a  $Q^2$  nature, and they don't adhere to  $Q^1$ .  $Q^2$  exists everywhere and is interwoven into everything that exists inside this  $Q^1$  universe. Every figment that makes up everything that exists this perceived physical universe is layered in metaphysical properties

Reality glitches, De Ja Vu, Omens, Miracles are of a  $Q^2$  nature.

Rituals and chants function as a catalyst to the  $Q^2$ .

We access the  $q^2$  every second of the day as it has been directing and controlling our lives beyond an unconscious level we are not conscious of.

Since everything in this universe is  $q^1$  data, and our consciousness is a  $Q^2$  construction, what we do with our consciousness determine and effects the  $q^1$  data we come across. Just by us existing and standing still has an effect on the universe in ways that exceed our concurrent conscious understanding, till now.

Everything that makes up our q1 is data, charged with q<sup>2</sup> properties, right down to the words we say, to a scribble on a note. Whenever we use our consciousness we are tapping into the q<sup>2</sup>. Any words, thoughts, random or not, and any observational judgement we make is q<sup>2</sup> data.

The objective nature of reality is to sync the q1 data that makes up reality match the Q<sup>2</sup> data a person has on reality together. Reality's business is to reflect the thoughts and wishes of a person

When I say reality is at your mercy, I mean it. Without sentience observing and giving definition to reality there is no reality, so it's in reality's best interest to keep you interested in it enough for you to pass on your genes to perpetuate sentient life. Reality will work against you if your current of reality doesn't follow these objectives.

Quantum Tunnel:

Event horizons -

Singularity-

The more time that has passed the more frequent your event horizons manifest to indicate to know your on track towards your quantum end game. They're like interuniversal switches to increase your odds and probability of reaching your end result.

When you decide on an end game for yourself. You have what I call a singularity, which is the first event horizon you experience, the want and need to morph your future with a specific end result. When that moment happens, when you make the unanimous delicious to change, you create something else. A quantum tunnel, that cuts through time to will into fruition your end result, your end game. That's the first event horizon, the singularity, when you take the old data of yourself and wanting to use it to change. The second event horizon is syncing your old data to an end game and automatically your old data becomes converted to new data inside a quantum loop. Your universe on a quantum level starts shifting itself to will your end game into fruition. Then a 3rd event horizon will follow, an out of the ordinary, improbable occurrence, an anomaly of sorts that the universe wills into your existence to confirm your synchronization with your end game. Then what follows after is a series of event horizons, q<sup>2</sup> anomalies, big or small, giving you confirmation that you are still in your quantum tunnel, cutting through to your end game like a hot knife slicing into heated butter. At first it starts off slow, but then eventually you reach an accelerent stage that shoots you exponentially to your end result, manifesting to you what it is that you focused on manifesting. That is you decide to stay on track. You can deviate off and off of it and resume it at any given time, but the more time you take, the harder itll be for the universe to match your quantum tunnels end result, to the point you might not actually manifest what you want exactly. So discern the end game you want, whatever it is, and stick to it, and go through your quantum tunnel through a series of event horizons towards it.

The universe will rework itself on a  $q^2$  level to match your desired  $q^2$  data's end result, as long as it is possible within the laws of physics underlying our universe. The outcome of an event is contingent on the  $q^2$  data that precedes it regardless of the imposed probability set forth by the measurement of probability by some one else very own  $q^2$  data.

Here's another secret about probability. The outcome of a situation is contingent on all the data that precedes it, regardless if it's true or not. Sounds a lot like imaginary numbers doesn't it?

Timeline of Manifestation

Singularity: Event Horizon #1: Syncing your consciousness with an end result, no matter what the result of the manifestation is.

Event Horizon #2 and #0 - They are both created simultaneously when you have your singularity. EH #0 is your  $q^2$  data being in sync with the past, the present, EH#1 and the future, which is EH#2.

The  $q^2$  data of the past will be extracted into probability and determine your EH#3, as it's in sync with the EH#2 end result.

Event Horizon #3 - An interuniversal switch confirming you're tethered synchronization of your  $q^2$  with your EH#1, EH#3, EH#0. It's a sign, a déjà vu like occurrence in the form of an out of the ordinary, occurrence will manifest confirming to you that your reality tunnel and quantum tunnel is in sync. Your end result manifestation is already woven and connected onto the fabric of reality.

EH#4,5,6,...+++ - These event horizons confirm the shift in your probability to your end result. The more event horizons you experience, the faster they happen, and the more dramatic of an impact and change you will see in your life.

If your fucking up your odds, the universe, aka the fabric of existence, aka the quantum blanket over the metaphysical aka reality will communicate to you through the natural surroundings to indicate to you a message indicating if you're on course or straying off into discourse. All highly improbable occurrences intercepted by you out of your higher dimensional synchronicity.

[I could fuck literally any bitch I want]

[I haven't even gotten to the best parts lol]

-----++++

Consciousness is of a  $q^2$  design.

We irradiate, taper off our quantum information everywhere we go.

“Insert dead person in a room analogy”

We have what I refer to us as a  $q^2$  aura, or you can call them regular auras.

Our  $q^2$  energy seeps out of us through our presences, and we irradiate and glow a temperament of ourselves everywhere we go. And energy never dies, it just gets recycled throughout nature.

You can walk in someones room and pick up on their own  $q^2$  aura. Their own energy, their  $q^2$  data manifested into a  $q1$  existence.

Write “get rich” on your wall and the chances are, you will become rich.

Or put up a Frederick Nietzsche poster.

Our  $q^2$  consciousness is a culmination, an average of all the  $q1$  data we acquired and internalized into  $q^2$  data. We are what we eat. We are who we deal with. We are what we absorb and internalize. And what we have internalized as  $q^2$  data shapes up into our realities before we perform any action.

What we put out in the  $q1$  reality,  $q^2$  data, intertwines and manifests throughout reality. It becomes intertwined within the imprint of existence itself. The observers consciousness becomes the reality.

Remember, reality is at the mercy of the observer for as long as the observers objective is a long the lines of perpetuating sentience.

Eyesight isn't just eyesight, but a reality tunnel. We don't we see with our eyes but with our brains. What we see as reality is just a culmination if what our  $q^2$  consciousness has internalized and every person, has a different perceptual outlook of reality. You can be looking at the same shade of red but we will perceive it differently even though we can acknowledge and discern the same color.

Some people live out their lives like they're in a movie.

Some like characters in a storybook.

Others are riding their out in a videogame

Others don't think too much .

And there are those thinking in terms of game theory

Use your  $q^2$  and focus in on finding somebody to love.

Then the data leaves your mind and enters the undercurrent of the universe, and it will match your frequency closest to one that matches your frequency, and you will go through the  $q^2$  event horizons until you become drawn to another observers data that matches your data, and you to them, and you become eventually in sync. Physically, mentally, spiritually, rhythmically.

Lovers are two observers with their  $q^2$ s linked. And both observers experience metaphysical anomalies, signs, miracles. Omens, all to give confirmation of their synchronicity. Their eternal love will be imprinted upon the fabric of their existences, as they experience quantum and  $q^2$  event horizons indicating to each other their love still burns with a fiery passion.

[Btw you can charge  $q^2$  data onto anything  $q^1$ . We can give anyone bad luck if we shake their hands. Or we can make it rain anytime we get milk....] Stronger  $q^2$  sync, the more stronger your  $q^2$  external slave manifestations.

The way it works is that your perceptual observation of reality will always match the data you have internalized, regardless if it's true or not. Your eyes are a looking glass and what you want to see, experience, or make happen will happen, to some varying angle of ordinance.

[When you do something, god meets you halfway]

What started out as a discovery, lead to a hypothesis. That was tested over and refuted. Has become physically imprinted upon the fabric of reality.

And the reason why you believe in it is because you experience the anomalies, the manifestations that occurs in your life because of your firmly held belief. Divine ordinance.

Religion, gods, omens, rituals, chants, incantations, charms, fabricated god, fabricated charms, fabricated incantations etc, all appeared as divine ordinance, superstition, a cry of a schizophrenic is actually very much real to the summise of anyone not privy to an outside the box perspective.

Fantasy is more attune to the objective nature of reality then the most advanced science textbook there is. Fantasy is reality, and science can't come to terms with it. The metaphysical sentience that subsists all around cannot be accounted by the outdated lense of science we have.

And society has outgrown the hallmarks of science who have sterilized society with athiest thought, driving millenials into a sterilized meaningless vacuum devoid of God, perpetuating anti humanistic pro death sentiments.

When we overlooked the fact that we have quantum tunnels connecting us through our desired outcomes and intercepting into the lives of the people we come across, to everything else that exists in nature, in time. Our strings are all intertwined. We are strands of data we perceive in a constant frame rate we call reality. But we are just a part of something more. We are constructs able to detect higher dimensions.

Our purpose, to give reality meaning. To define it in any which way we want. Regardless of purpose or sim. What you want will to determine will culminate into data. The world is yours for the taking.

It's either divine game theory. Quantum game theory. Meta(non physical) game theory. Metaphysical game theory. Easily inscribed as quantum<sup>2</sup>, or quantum<sup>2</sup> game theory. Game theory perceived with divine predilections more like playing a toss up to quantum manifestation.

Remote viewing is confirmed possible by the CIA, but not remote interference. I'm going to explain how remote interference works and how you can use it.

[Reality will match the data of the observer regardless of it being true or not]

The person that wins the argument is the person with more data backing them up regardless if the data is real

And knowing that allows you to hack and glitch reality to your will.

The data of q1 will always match the observer.

Whatever you have internalized becomes real.

If you have internalized that it will rain Everytime you paint, the q1 reality will match your q<sup>2</sup> perception.....

Singularity EH 1- make it rain Everytime I paint

EH 0 - itll rain ever time I paint

EH 2- itll rain every time I paint

Then you pick up a brush and paint. Once it rains, Internalize and remember the feeling (frequency) of you as you painted while it rained.

Everytime you paint, you'll manifest rain.

Or you can make it that whatever you paint becomes real. The combinations of altering the quantum universe with your consciousness is endless... for as long as it is possible within the confinements of the physics that rule the land and it doesn't prevent the proliferation of sentience.

[ANIME IS REAL]

You can use your  $q^2$  to manifest a data charge of your own deliverance onto anything you touch.

*Charge right fist* * bad luck strain *

You can tag someone with a data charge or focus on the data to manifest.

[Palingenising this thread]

[Praying for you]

[I WISH FOR A BIG BOOTIED GF]

(I'm too smart to get hungover one chick)

We create quantum tunnels to each other. We perceive each other in terms of relativity to time, all based off the energy, the aura, the feeling, the frequency we give to them. People will synchronize you in their minds unconsciously, the  $q^2$  frequency you give off. Which is stored as a calculation of your energy, time, and words per action. This connection is metaphysical in nature as well, and you could experience anomaly like circumstances and manifestations surrounding the data charge of the frequency we internalize.

We all create quantum tunnels of relevance whether if we're conscious of it or not. Your reality is an average accumulation of your thoughts, aka your internalized  $q^2$  data, "imaginary" or real.

Now as your consciousness has begin to unlock it's metaphysical capacities, you will continue to experience anomaly like events, occurrences or situations, all apparently out of the normal predilections. This is your quantum tunnel, perception of reality, matching the looking glass, as it happens through relative causes.

Your consciousness and will is imprinted into the phantom membrane of existence. You in your quantum tunnel, manifesting, yeilding event horizons of variant ordinances drawing your data closer to your desired end game, in what you will into fruition.

And the universe has been directing me this entire time. Confirming I was on the right track through interuniversal switches, divine ordiance, in the form of manifesting itself through my surroundings, to my looking glass.

The universe will help me write the Antichrist manifesto because my objective goal is to write it. And in doing so the universe will alter my reality into successfully writing it. And I deliberate automatically in sync with the universe, as we both write out the secrets of the unknown in giving my observation the data that I am the Antichrist, and this is my manifesto.

As ridiculous if an end result as it is, the universe will make my will reality. The universe will turn my reality into the  $q^2$  data that presides and match my observation with the reality that I am the real Antichrist.

Its no more imagination anymore, as the universe altered existence to match my sentiment.

[Data doesn't die, it compresses and compacts into a new singularity]

When we die, the data that makes us who we are, doesn't die, we enter a new singularity, we move on from our incubated 3D existences. Our bodies like, eggs, ready for the soul to grow out of, taking with us the data of our accumulative lifetimes with us, as we explore the dimensions that precede our own perceptual understanding. Reflecting the lives we lived.

---

Through absolute madness I create the spooky inverse at the distance. I gave way to absolute magnificence.

Through anything. You create it's inverse, a silver lining, or a Murphy's omen.

For every problem there is a solution, and to every solution there's a problem. For every problematic situation there is an opportunity hidden in between. All determined by how you want to extract from it. Bearing in mind, good will and faith permeates further holy ordinance that'll lead you into a blessed life. Or you can find the hidden devil in the details to exploit, at the risk of impending doom. Curiosity kills the pussy, but hypothesizing is the deliberation of a man.

In order to get ahead with anything, going backwards opens up the counter, spooky particle at a distance,  $q^2$  super symmetry that reverts the old data with the inverse creating new data. Hindsight introspective, reflecting induced data of your current predicament. And what you can pick up on through reflection is based on your abilities to observe, dissect and understand.

Now with the logic that all of life is on a spectrum within the universe to the universe itself, we exist in a continuum, a self replicating fractal, and everything is enchanted with these properties. Now if we apply that logic to anything, like the domain of history, you can see history as a self replicative fractal, with metaphysical components like divine scripts intertwined into the fabric of society. Self historians seem like social butterfly for a reason, they can breeze through the historical scripts embedded onto the fabric of reality with ebb and ease with finesse and irony, unconsciously, subconsciously, and consciously. A social esp of sorts. One that can't. Accumulate into intuition, a feeling within your body.

We self replicate, grow, heal, evolve and we pass on sentience that evolves. The entire overarchingness of the entire totality of humanity is that of a self replicating fractal esque organism. Looking at us the sum of the whole, we are one giant mechanism, that is metaphysically charged and able to will pure nothingness into existence. And we each our a division of that notion, that primordial organic mechanism that we add up into. Every single one of us is a split amoeba of the entirety of humanity. And what humanity is capable of doing, we are an encapsulated microbial containing all of the information for humanities encapsulated in our hearts, our minds, within our bodies and somewhere inside us, the unbreakable, the moldable, the amorphous, and the morphic resonant, the human spirit.

Going by the logic that we are self replicating fractals, everything we do is pathological in essence, a pathogen.

With a bit of inverse, micro, macro analysis of a context or situation we can get a good grasp to it.

What is presented as reality is just a postulation of the inverse, the fantasy that deceives, existing opposite to reality, as the real reality.

People are both the fantasy of their minds and the reality at once. The fantasy being their actual reality and the reality, a façade, a mask, the external inverse of the internal.

[A truth is a half truth]

People are both a truth and a lie. The fantasy and the reality, and the reality is the inverse postulation of the fantasy.

[Those that hurt the most smile the brightest]

Don't be fooled by a person's apparent niceness.

A news station provides stories in a scripted format, which is what they present. A macro thought is that all the news stations at once. And what do they do? They fees us information in a scripted format to keep us updated with news in exchange for advertisement dollars.

Right?

The end game for a news station is advertisement money

Now id you flip the switch, turn on the lights and inverse the context.

News stations provide scripted stories in a format. News stations provide a format of scripted stories.

This is mathematical conjecture through logic.

By using the logic that the universe is a self replicating meta fractal, and anything that exists with in has the same properties, the laws of the metaphysical and quantum <sup>2</sup> can be used in human logic.

Metaphysical conjecture.

The truth and the lie.

The path and the pathogen

Singularity.....[End Result]

Matching the data to the observer is the reality of reality.

And what reality matches up to on a phantom scale is to be determined by the will of the observer.

We all have different quantum tunnels. Every person we interact, energetically charged and metaphysically grazed by whoever we come into contact with.

Our quantum tunnels are our timezone of relativity we excude pertaining to our end games. Or if you don't have one, a reality that is an average culmination of everything inside your mind.

[People don't bother with you because your quantum tunnel doesn't match theirs, you don't share the same end game objectives]

[Humanity was culled into mindless drone consumerists devoid of the human spirit]

Our consciousness and powers to observe is a higher dimensional construct whether you look at it in a scientific lense or a theistic one.

And what appears as a 3D physical reality, is an illusion. And what we understand as fantasy is closer to being science then the science we already have.

A character in a game is a vessel for your consciousness to explore as you transverse a virtual pocket dimension in a virtual universe with a constant frame rate of the transference of data from assets, creating an almost seamless experience, of movement for your consciousness, even though thousands to millions of switches both in the game and real life, reflexes to a.i. recognition, giving you the illusion of a constant frame rate of reality and in life as you experience an illusion of movement inside a virtual pocket universe.

The character you control isn't aware that you are controlling it through a higher dimension. Even though the the character progresses through its life.

What you perceive as reality is an illusion similar to the movement of a virtual character. We aren't our bodies, or our minds, but our perception of the meta.

Our consciousness are the signals of a higher dimensional construction and what we think is what the reality manifests into.

[Only you are to blame, nobody else. Not your father, and not your mother]

Theres low level to high level manifestations. Your ability to conjur is determined solely on your accumulative meta,  $q^2$  link.

Manifestations such as omens, signs. Déjà vu, are of a low level in nature. You will probsbly start off somewhere at this level of magic. It's more of an interuniversal confirmation that you are synced with the universe and the meta verse.

Getting Dubs is a low form if conjuration. Once you get the feeling of Dubs, map it as a frequency, aka a feeling. That feeling becomes an interuniversal meta switch. And before you want to get Dubs, tap into the feeling of getting dubs, trigger the switch and check em.

A lot of practice all you can internalize magic as an internal process with external recourse., All as frequencies. A flow of interconnected eaaaaase.

Good luck charms are low level quantum meta magic. Rituals, Chants, Religious Incantations all possess metaphysical proponents that can bless or will into fruition.

Manifest, memorize the frequency, trigger it, manifest, grow the frequency, and through trial and error, and a bit of experimentation, you have a mapped out web of synapse, a feel, a frequency for magic.

High level magic consists of anything from weather manipulation to causing someone's death.

List of Magic

Observation = consciousness

Palingensis - causing a chain succession of good luck

(Manipulating probability for the benefit of others)

Future Foresight - able to see into the future, can come as prophetic dreams

Aura Field - Creating an energy field with a selected data charge and interference

*Dead person room analogy*

Psiokinetic Interference - Your feelings will be absorbed by the domain of space you are in concentrating.

Data Charge - Meditating, focusing on data for a manifestation

Manifestations lead to event horizons, the culmination of the data charge or temperance

Idolizing on data charged it whichever you focus and concentrate

Once you get the feeling, the universal frequency of the interval switches guiding you, you can map it as a frequency that you can tap into as a feeling.

Q<sup>2</sup> manifestations are determined on your accumulative data accumulation. Thoughts. Knowledge, random musings, experiences, anything you have internalized mentally.

More data within = stronger link.

Q<sup>2</sup> manifestations come naturally to people the older they get, it's also why a lot of old people become religious in their later years.

****

Once you start developing the metaphysical parts of your brain by applying this to yourself, you can use the universe to communicate to someone if your quantum tunnels are synced.

Religion works somewhat like this. "Miracles" or "Omens" are interuniversal meta manifestations.

The data of the miracle or the omen seeps into the quantum fabric and manifests. They're like a data notification, to let you know your on track towards your objective. [Savage]

Now if you're like me you can trigger and transfer the quantum charge onto somebody, performing a palingensis as I like to call it.

Our subconscious thoughts and conscious feelings will manifest to each other through event horizons and singularities. In our environment to the people we come across...

The observer is the master.

Figments of reality, have sentience, and it's aware of its being observed in the future in the past. So the data of the future was known by reality on quantum level in the past. And now following the self replicating fractal lense, if a figment can do so, so can we.

The universe operated faster then we see.

Our futures are imprinted onto it in the present, which is a quantum past.

When we look at space, what we see is the past. Reality knows our future and gives us glimpses of it through anomalies that are aligned to your goals.

We don't see the future, we create it, much faster than we think.

Data enters reality and into the  $q^2$  and it manufactures the probability of your reality for your manifestations to be true.

The double slit experiment showed us that figments of reality are sentient and aware of the future in the past.

The data of the  $q^2$  is like a pulse. Going outward and inward at once.

O

This is the root of my crutch. I need to get it out of my system.

By making it my end game to become the Antichrist, I synchronized my  $q^2$  data to make that reality into a possibility.

I have to get close to death to further my abilities. The closer I get myself to the other side, the more I adapt and evolve to overcome it.

“When there is a will, there is a way”, just by writing it down I created a ritual. My observant mind will charge itself with the metaphysical data of the encrypted words, outreaching a meta quantum realm, and reality will warp itself to match my perception, without me doing anything, and on a quantum level my reality will match up to measurement of having the will to find a way to overcome any obstacle, and that data will be charged with anything I do. Reality is a looking glass. What you think and seek is what you will into fruition. All by observing, acknowledging and MEASURING THE WORDS.

Words are data that can enchant or destroy. You can manifest or curse. Our minds are a higher dimensional construction tailored made to interact with the quantum existence we live in.

[We don't predict the future we create it.]

And with these words, I planted a seed in your mind.

What we think charges reality, our thoughts act out like atoms with metaphysical data intertwined and coming to this realization, by charging myself with all the data and unlocking the information through event horizon after event horizon, on course to manifest the truth behind the unknown horizons, I quantum charged myself to be the Antichrist, to trick reality into leading me into discerning the secrets behind itself.

Nothing => Meta Awareness => Sentience (Non Physical) => Reality (Physical State)

Reality was a self replicating blotch of space that erupted as sentience molded itself into space. All of this encompassing space was interwoven with sentience. The Sentience of nothingness was now all of space encompassing.

Reality, the space we exist in is sentience, and sentient of who we are and give us our futures as determined by the conscious thoughts of our meta mind.

Reality = Sentience. Reality is sentient. And reality is sentient of our futures in the past as we are stuck in the present. The data of our future is already sentient in the past. [You can fake that data too]

Our window of reality is sentient as we are sentient. The looking glass we perceive is that of an ethereal hyperdimensional sentience.

*****

Witches actually existed and we're burned at the stake. So do vampires. Simply humans syncing their  $q^2$  metaphysical consciousness into designing their lifestyles, witches tailor making their lives for manifestation, and vampires who lived a lifestyle trying to exist eternally. Drinking the blood of the youth, practising ritual, avoiding the sunlight because the sun was blighting to the point of damage. Pollution didn't exist back then so the sun had a higher illuminosity to us then it does now.

You signal the  $q^2$  through your thoughts, a data singularity, which locks your end game results into the phantom membrane of reality, creating a quantum tunnel through time, yielding you event horizons of differentiating ordinance, as your internalized data dictates the outcome of your event horizons. The more data, the more procured thoughts pertaining to the  $q^2$  singularity will determine the rate of the event horizons you yield towards your manifestation. Regardless if the internalized data is true or not *wink* *wink* [Fake it till you make it]

Trump won because there was more faith backing him up, more holy data people attached to his quantum tunnel to win. Hillary's quantum tunnel was chaotic to the point it cracked under the weight of Trump's quantum tunnel, which was metaphysically charged because of Trump's pro sentience sentiments and prayers of the persecuted followers of Christ. And backing all of his actions as he went through event horizon after the next, with ebb and ease, through the faith, Trump was carried into presidency. As Trump preached to evangelists, Hillary sacrificed a chicken to Moloch, an evil hasidic deity as a token of loyalty to a Rothschild.

We all have different quantum tunnels, as we perceptually interpret reality. The way you see yourself in the mirror is just as much of an illusion as the way someone else looks at you. We can be staring at the same color but both perceive it vastly different, yet come to the same conclusion that the color is the same. What we see with our eyes is an abstraction of what our minds depict.

Every person we interact with aside from a conscious level, we interact on an energetically charged metaphysical level. Our Quantum Tunnels we radiate, cause a distinct time flow to our perception. The same we interact our flow of time differentiates depending on who we are interacting with all done without us being conscious of it.

[People don't fuck with you because your quantum tunnel doesn't match theirs. You don't share the same goals. The same end game results 😊]

[With anything you do, you will get good at as long as you never give up doesn't matter of age]

I don't have to tell you that as long as you try you will succeed. All you need is a singularity.

That charge within you, that spark, that you want to turn into a quantum tunnel end game, as you transform and evolve, molded through quantum singularities relative to your cause called event horizons. Each horizon a sign or choice, a divine predilection, a universal truth, cutting through into your life.

Using this book as a base, you'll be able to create and unlock paradigm shifting truths, discoveries as you apply the lense of magnification this book offers.

The left brain reality crossed over to the right brain fantasy. Tapping into  $q^2$  forces both sides of the brain into working causing an oxytocin high in you.

You'll be able to observe and measure and see for yourself with this lense, and with it you look at anything and unlock truths behind any field or realm of thought, aka  $q^2$  data leading into new neural pathways, new paradigms and be quantum tunnels.

What came first, the chicken or the egg?

The clump of life fighting for life kicked into its fight or flight mechanism and willed the egg shell around itself to incubate inside as it materialized long enough to hatch.

---

I reached critical mass. To complete the end game of my reality tunnel. The closer I get to my singularity the critical mass of reaching my end game will manifest anomalies and manifestations keeping me aligned to my manifestation.

After everything I said I still identify as a Christian, a bad one at best.

A twin serpent reality. Everyone is a lie and a truth at once. The left side of the face tells a different emotion than the right side.

---

The atoms of the page, the fabric of reality is seeping into my words gathering around my hand as I write. Or as I paint.  $Q^{2n}$  works best with a catalyst. I can make a quarter phase through my fingertips

---

The inverse is true of an objective and the objective is the inverse of the truth.

---

The inverse of something presented is the shadow behind the truth, which makes what is truth a lie.

Everything stated is essentially a lie, since it masks the inverse of where it came to be.

A half truth.

The truth is only the half truth.

And the inverse of the truth is the real truth.

The real truth is a synthesis of the presented truth and its down casted shadow.

If someone's extremely empathetic, the opposite holds true on the opposite side of the coin.

If someone's extremely empathetic it's to mask their extreme sadomasochism. And to cling onto their sanity they flip to either sides at deliverance.

It takes two polarizing sides too tango.

No one's absolutely good nor absolutely evil but on a spectrum somewhere between the two.

Take a problem, inverse it, micro detail to macro, identify the solution.

[No one can bullshit me]

Spooky particles at a distance allude to this inverse/dualistic nature of the universe

Take anything and inverse it and add that to the truth and you'll see the whole truth. You might not like it but the truth will set you free. What you see as reality is the exact opposite of what is being shown.

Every solution carries a Murphy's lining and every problem carries a silver lining...

Religion is only a half sync. Faith is partial resonance.

Unlocking your quantum data charge.

"Breaking the Quantum Wall"

What can you do with this?

First off a new gold rush of thought for once..

That'll seep into every crevice of life.

Breakthroughs, discoveries,

All by throwing out the notion of what are limitations, and become ad infinitum.

Pure Chaos.

You can show your love to somebody by metaphising that data into an event horizon that'll trigger déjà vu for someone. Miracle a miracle in fruition. You can cause it to cause hate and misfortune. Or love and good will.

Be careful what you metaphise.

This knowledge will be suppressed unfortunately. People are afraid to let go of Einsteins relativity.

At the base root of our quantum reality is sentience.

The past is sentient of of the future on a quantum level.

A black hole is the data if of an object getting so big it causes a tear in the fabric of reality, leaving behind missing data as it draws everything around its gravitational pull in..

A star is an atom on steroids, when it dies it takes all of its data and compresses it into a black hole, the black hole dies, leave behind a tear in the fabric of reality, the way a writer max's out the data, their mind flooded with thoughts, compressing all that info into a single book to draw you in. The book being the missing data.

Black hole further compresses the data into a singularity, an event horizon, leaves us missing data in the form of a tear in the fabric of reality, as it takes with it the surrounding data, the same way this manifesto will appear as missing data pulling everything towards it.

Now to the observer looking at the book, it'll appear as a slice of life, a tear in the fabric of reality. The same way we see a black hole.

As you reach your event horizon that syncs you up with this new reality, using this missing link, you become attune to a much more grandiose life.

On the other side of the event horizon of the missing data in the fabric of reality, is a compressed data that is, a missing link, pocket reality.

The Japanese have a saying. "Everyone has three faces, the one you wear in public, the one you wear with friends and family, and the mask you wear when you're by yourself.

I believe there are 6 masks instead of 3. The fantasy vs the reality.

The fantasy of your self mask is your real quantum reality. The reality of the self is the fantasy.

Its now being discovered in the science world that words have metaphysical affects on its surrounding reality. I'll go a step further and say chants, rituals, speech all have metaphysical inter quantum effects around a person's field of reality, quantum tunnel.

The outcome of an event horizon is contingent on the data that proceeds it.

To manipulate the probability of an event horizon to your favor, you must contain and charge yourself with more thoughts pertaining to the event. Regardless of what is is you think, as long as you stay focused on the situation, you'll scythe your way through with odds in your favor, or relative to your cause. Just follow the light.

More thoughts shift into the quantum fabric of reality, translates into probability in your favor.

The more you practice the more the frequency between you and the  $q^2$ , the better you get at it, the faster your manifestations. The more spontaneous you see upon your thoughts shifting into reality.

The  $Q^2$  and the  $Q1$  have an ionized equilibrium. What data fills here seeps into the  $q^2$ .

$Q^2$  existed first before our universe. Our quantum physics is but a square root radical of another one.

If the fabric of reality knows the future in the past as the present, the mere fabric of reality, all of space encompassing is sentient.....

The eternal grief that we all die one day.

But rest assured, there is an afterlife. But depending on how you live here is how you'll end up in the vast reaches of the  $q^2$ .

A plant grows from a seed. What I write manifests. What I do manifests. What I think manifests.

Waves and particles = omens and signs that becomes a frequency/ data

A feeling = frequency of data charge manifeststion. Occurance of data manifestations

Vibrations = data ripples and emissions, affects the environment..

The frequency of your manifestations become a feeling. A switch you can turn on and off, to gear and will into reality or not.

Frequencies are the vibrations of waves and particles that make up the fabric of reality.

And we experience that as a feeling. Now what as do know now is that we can feel something abstract as  $Q^2$ . Itll start as a seed, bollosom into a thought, a synapse, that eventually grows into a web, and it becomes a feeling.

Congrats you can hack reality.

This isn't satanic, this is objectivity.

A reconciliation of the physical and the non physical.

We are physical as we are non physical.

The entire fabric of history is fake and a distorted depiction what really happened.

The easiest way for me to tap into the feeling was acknowledging I was breaking the 4th wall of my reality, or quantum reality, like a character in a storybook, and I was the reader to my own book and reading myself break the 4th wall.

Or you can visualize gears locking and grafting.

If I imagine myself as a higher dimensional being, breaking free of the  $q1$  reality and into a  $Q^2$ ,my reality reflects it and I experience a quantum reality as opposed.to a 3dimensional reality.

Whatever you want, just Tao into it as thoughts (data) and your body (vibrations and frequencies)

The more you use it, like a muscle, it grows.

Fantasy is more attune to the objective nature of reality then a science text book.

If you will it, it'll happen. Micromanaging impossibilities and experimenting upon anomalies.

We cause ripple waves of information every nano second of the day. All having a butterfly like chain reaction that pulsates through the physical, mental, spiritual, virtual and metaphysical domains of reality....

Each nano fiber particle that pulsates and amorphously interacts and charges through ionized polarization causes entire domains of information to dismantle or disengage into a data oblivion where it revitalizes anew and becomes embeded itself amorphously onto the fabric of Realty. Through quantum mediations, the data of any sub group or subsection will become manifested within the fabric of a quantum existence. And it all depends on the probability of the imagination.

Fantasy is more allogenic with reality then the most advanced and technical science textbook on the planet.

It's never to late to chase your dreams.
