Youth Honored At Bunker Hill Housing Development Family Carnival

Allen and Tom McGrath, both receiving Good Guy Awards; Greg McNeil and Nano Arroyo, both leadership; Dick Centola, athletics; Peter Truong, education; Rev. Ronald Coyne, pastor, St. Catherine Parish; and John Nucci, former president, Boston School Committee.

I Wondered Who He Was

by Ed Loan

(Townie John Daly, who celebrated his 100th birthday in February, shared his memories of Charlestown from the end of the 19th century through World War I when he served in the U.S. Army in Germany. He returned home, set out once again in the vaudeville circuit and fell in love with Lola.)

John Meets Lola

The returning veteran wasted no time in looking up his Uncle Eddie and getting back on stage. It was while on tour that John watched a young Australian acrobat named Lola Brown perform. After the show John paid her a visit, but the young woman's grandmother told John that she was engaged. Laughingly John said that her grandmother told all the young men that to discourage them.

Burns To Compete For America's Perfect Teen Title

JENNIFER BURNS

Jennifer Burns, daughter of Kathleen Burns of Tufts Street, Charlestown, has been selected as a contestant in the America's Perfect Teen Pageant for Massachusetts to be held at the Holiday Inn in Worcester on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1. The pageant will select the state's representative to the America's Perfect Teen National Pageant to be held in October in Myrtle Beach, S.C.

Burns, who was selected as an entrant at large, will be competing with girls from all over the state for this title. She is a senior at Boston Latin School. While in high school, Burns has participated in cheerleading, SADD and Key Club, and is a member of the National Honor Society. Her other activities include the Mayor's Youth Leadership Corp., CYO cheerleading, CYO softball and modeling.

HOW CAN YOU KEEP TRACK OF IT ALL?

Looking at houses can become overwhelming for many prospective buyers. After a while, it can all run together, and you have trouble remembering which homes you liked a lot and which ones you didn't. When you're out looking, you can use a few tricks that good Realtors use to remember what we've seen.

Take a little spiral notebook and a pencil with you. Jot down the address of each house you see and make some notes on its major features. Write down one distinctive feature that will help you remember it. Maybe it had unusual mouldings in the dining room, or perhaps there was a big apple tree in the back yard. If the house was of particular interest to you, put a big star on the top of the page to remind yourself that you'd like to see it again or even write an offer on it. If there are features for which you have a strong preference, or if you eliminate a house from consideration for any reason, be sure to tell the agent who is helping you. This way, the agent can show only the homes that meet your special needs, and save you a lot of time and effort in your search.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Monument Properties. Call us at 241-5900 or stop by our offices at 85 Warren St. in Charlestown.

THANKSGIVING
NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
 Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue, and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, for you I have recourse from the depth of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition, in return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked.
 Say three Our Fathers, three Hail Mary's and Glorias. Publication must be promised. St. Jude pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. This Novena has never been known to fail. I have had my request granted. Publication Promised. C.M.B.

Not For Nothin' ...
But Have You Heard ...

- Round Of Applause ... for Charlestown's high school and college age kids who worked so hard this summer in the parks, at the pools and cleaning streets, vacant lots and whatever else needed attention. You did a great job and deserve a pat on the back. Thanks from a grateful community!
- Oops ... Last week's story on the long-awaited street reconstruction contracts was in error when listing Washington Street as the third street seeking to be included in the project. Winthrop Street is requesting to be added to the list of 26 streets to receive repairs. Although residents of Washington Street say that the condition of their street warrants reconstruction, unfortunately it will not be included in these four contracts.
- Bible School ... at St. Mary parish is holding registration for children 3 to 5 years of age. Contact Mary Wilkins at 242-4664, Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m.
- Still Looking ... for veterans of Pearl Harbor! Anyone with stories to share on their experiences on the day that "will live in infamy" is asked to call the Patriot at 241-9511.
- It's That Time Again ... for the annual World Halfball Tournament. This year's event will take place on Sept. 21 and 28. For more details and registration info, call Bob O'Neill at 242-2788.
- Kudos To Tom Donahue ... for his great work during the aftermath of Hurricane Bob. Calls received at this office inform us that Tom worked through the night helping those who needed it, as usual adding that little extra that makes each person feel special. Thanks, Tom.
- Speaking Of Tom ... news from a reliable source tells us that he'll soon be walking down the aisle! Not to worry though, ladies, he's still one of C-town's eligible bachelors. He'll have the pleasure of escorting his daughter Kim into wedded bliss as she takes her vows in West Palm Beach this week. Congrats to the entire clan!
- Tickets Goin' Like Hot Cakes (pun intended) ... for the Charlestown Friends and Labor Breakfast with Mayor Ray Flynn. The full-course breakfast will take place at the K. of C. hall on Sunday, Sept. 15 between 9 and 11:30 a.m. Don't be left out! Call to reserve your $15 per person tickets today. Contact Kathy Giordano at 241-9511 or Dave Dow at 242-7549.
- This Week's Special Birthday Celebrant ... is Rev. Isaiah Sears, retired pastor of the First Baptist Church, who'll be turning 76 years old on Aug. 30. Warm wishes of the day go to the good Reverend at his 20 Devens St. home.
- We Understand That ... Alice O'Brien of Green Street, being the special lady that she is, has been allowed to celebrate her birthday for the entire month of August! Well, good for you, Alice. Let us not be the last to wish you many more happy years sharing your special joy with family and friends!
- Happy 22nd Wedding Anniversary ... wishes go out to Larry and Nan Brophy who'll be celebrating the occasion with a mini-vacation to ole Cape Cod.
- What A Tomato ... thanks to Jim Hall who generously supplied the staff of the Patriot (and any visitors who happened by at the right time) with the most delicious garden tomatoes from the Charlestown Community Gardens. We appreciate your thoughtfulness, Jim!
- Volunteers Needed ... for this weekend's Jerry Lewis Labor Day Muscular Dystrophy Association Telethon. If you can spare a few hours to help out, call 461-0310 and let the good people know.
- Look To The Sky ... Radio station WBCN will sponsor a fireworks display over Dorchester Bay this Saturday, Aug. 31 starting at 10 p.m.
- Four Season's Sale-A-Bration ... at St. Mary Parish this fall will feature craftware designed to include all seasons and major holidays. If you'd like to join in the preparations with your creative talents and ideas or just want to join in the fun, drop by the Parish Hall on Winthrop Street each Tuesday night at 7 p.m. ... Mark your calendar for Saturday, Oct. 19 for the gala event!
- 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 ... Counting down to the first day of school, kiddies! Hang in there, parents. You'll make it!!! Only 7 days left!
- Trash Pick Up Will Be Late ... Monday, Sept. 2nd is Labor Day which means trash pickup in Charlestown will be a day late all week! However, street cleaning will go on schedule according to the posted signs in your area.
- Excuse Me ... Don't mean to bother you, but I'm getting ready for September — It's National Courtesy Month!
- Can't Believe ... it's already here, but ...
 Have a Happy and Safe
LABOR DAY!

★ Main Street — An estimated $15,000 in damage was caused by a Sunday morning fire at 280 Main St. in the Mishawum Park section of Charlestown. The Aug. 25 fire started at 9:44 a.m. in a first floor apartment of one of the development's three-story wood dwellings. No injuries were reported, and all residents of the area were safely evacuated.

The Boston Fire Department Arson Squad is investigating the blaze.

★ Charlestown — The Board of Directors of the BRA voted approval on the following requests at their Aug. 21 board meeting . . .

— 50 Old Rutherford Ave. . . . A certificate was issued to James Cushman on the completion of a two-family dwelling on Parcel R-59C;

— 71 Russell St. . . . Final designation was awarded to Kerry Campbell as redeveloper of Parcel R-32 to construct a two-family dwelling on the site;

— Charlestown Navy Yard . . . The board gave authorization to file the Final Supplemental Environmental Impact Report (FSEIR) for the Charlestown Navy Yard Master Plan with the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs; — Building P, Charlestown Navy Yard . . . Tentative designation was awarded to Conroy/Heafitz Development Co. as redeveloper of Building P and further authorization to enter into an early entry agreement and lease commencement agreement was granted;

— Chowdapest . . . A one-day license agreement with Horizons for Youth was approved for use of the area around Dry Dock

2 in the Charlestown Navy Yard for the organization to hold its Ninth Annual Chowdapest on Sept. 15;

— Shipyard Park . . . The board approved a one-day license agreement with the Veterans Committee of Massachusetts to conduct preliminary sub-surface testing to determine what additional below-surface support might be necessary in order to construct the Korean War Veterans Memorial;

— Section 61 Findings . . . The board granted authorization to file a Section 61 finding regarding Building A of the proposed Biomedical Research Center at Parcel 7, the Parcel 4 hotel and the Pier 9 marina in the Charlestown Navy Yard. Also, authorization was given to complete qualitative wind and shadow analyses for the Charlestown Navy Yard Section 61 Finding and FSEIR;

— FSEIR . . . Authorization was granted by the board to execute Amendment No. 1 to the contract with HMM Associates Inc. to finalize the air quality and infrastructure components of the Charlestown Navy Yard FSEIR. Also, the board gave authorization to execute an amendment to the contract with TAMS Consultants Inc. to finalize transportation and traffic related studies for inclusion in the FSEIR;

— Shipyard Park . . . The board authorized the BRA to seek funds from the Browne Fund and to solicit proposals for a statue at Shipyard Park commemorating the residents of Boston that worked at the Charlestown Navy Yard; and — Mead Street Steps . . . The board voted approval to allow repairs to the Mead Street steps to proceed to the public bidding process. The vote separated the stair repairs from the Charlestown street reconstruction contracts, allowing contractors to bid solely on the reconstruction of the stairs located between Russell and Bunker Hill streets. The amended contract with Edwards & Kelcey extends through March 31, 1992, and will be funded by Capital Planning.

Groundbreaking Ceremony Marks Return Of Armed Services YMCA To Charlestown

by Kathy Giordano
Under a sunlit August sky filled with warm summer breezes, the Armed Services YMCA returned home to Charlestown after a four-year lapse in its 75 year history with this community. It was forced out of its City Square location when the state took the property by eminent domain to make way for the Central Artery North Area highway reconstruction project. The new era began on Aug. 13 with groundbreaking ceremonies in the Charlestown Navy Yard for a new building that is expected to open in the fall of 1992.

After a three-year city-wide search for an appropriate site, the Navy Yard's Parcel 150 proved to be the most suitable location for the facility. In his address before 200 dignitaries and community residents at the groundbreaking ceremonies, Boston Redevelopment Authority Director Stephen Coyle expressed the sentiments of those in attendance, explaining:

"The Charlestown Navy Yard was the first home for the U.S. Naval Academy 191 years ago. We may have lost that Naval Academy but are very happy to have gained the Armed Services YMCA."

The architectural firm of J.W. French Associates Inc. of Charlestown was commissioned to develop a modern facility beneath an historically accurate facade under guidelines set down by the BRA and the National Park Service.

By incorporating artifacts from the demolished City Square building into the design and with research in the NPS archives, a concept for an historically significant structure evolved. The structure will enhance the surrounding buildings designed by Alexander Parris in the mid-1850s, which form the present day Navy Yard Plaza. In addition, the building will offer state-of-the-art athletic facilities and living accommodations.

The new YMCA will face Second Avenue where the Y's major building access will be from an arched entrance that will run through to Third Avenue. A secondary entrance will be located on adjacent Ninth Street, providing access to the facility's restaurant and day-care center.

The six-story structure will house the needs of both the military population and the Charlestown community with social, recreational and support facilities augmenting the proposed 152 living units.

The recreation facilities included in the building's design are an indoor pool, an exercise/fitness center and a gymnasium with attendant locker room facilities and sports shop. In addition, a basement layout includes a game room, plus entertainment and lounge spaces. A fifth-floor function room will provide space for many community-oriented activities as well as social and official functions of the YMCA.

Architect Jack French pointed out that a significant element of the new facility will be units set aside for women in drug and alcohol recovery or in crisis situations to allow them to live with their children while receiving counseling. Affordable rental units for Charlestown elderly residents will be intermingled with units of short-term housing for military personnel and their families.

Paul Barrett, BRA assistant director for Harbor Planning and Development, added that in addition to 150 construction jobs being available over the next year through the building's contractor Peabody Construction of Boston, permanent jobs within the YMCA facility lity will become available upon its opening.

At the groundbreaking ceremonies, speakers praised the YMCA for its years of dedicated service to the armed forces personnel assigned to the Boston area.

Brig. Gen. John White, ANG (Ret.), who acted as master of ceremonies for the event, commended Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and House Majority Leader

Rep. Richard A. Voke for the tremendous support they gave to the YMCA in securing the site and the funds necessary to build the new facility.

Col. John Yates, USMC (Ret.), the president of the YMCA Board of Trustees, thanked the community and the Charlestown Neighborhood Council, in particular Chairman Dennis McLaughlin and Veterans Committee Chairman Jim Conway, for their efforts on behalf of the Y. He expressed the happiness of all those affiliated with the Y as they celebrated the return of the Y to its Charlestown home.

With some hard work and persistence on the part of John, the two were married in 1921.

JOHN AND LOLA DALY, shown in 1933.

The Dalys Begin Life Together

The union would be yet another milestone in John's life. The ingredients for a perfect recipe were coming together. Throughout the 20s, the two managed not only to tour but also to start a family beginning with daughter Lola and later a son Jackie.

Things went pretty well for the couple until the crash of 1929. John recalled: "We had to stop touring because the average person didn't have any money to see a show." John remembered that one day a friend from Bartlett Street approached him, seeing that not performing was really bothering Daly. His friend suggested that he and Lola open a studio where they could teach dance and acrobatics.

A Dance Studio For Charlestown

John said that the idea of a studio was the farthest thing from his mind, but he and Lola were willing to try it. The year was 1934 when the Dalys opened their doors for business at 478 Main St., just across from Charles Street. From 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. pupils learned acrobatics and various forms of dance all for 25 cents. Although slow and discouraging at first, an institution had been born that would soon increase in popularity — the magic had begun.

From the studio's front stairs John could look down the street to Sullivan Square. Much had come and gone, but his memories would always remain of a time and place where boyhood dreams were born. After many years on the road, John had finally come home. It was also during the studio's early years that the Dalys' third child, Edward, was born.

War Touches The Daly Family

John recalled watching the world drift toward war once again. Just like the previous war, Daly's life would once again be interrupted. But this time it would tear at his and Lola's very soul.

Daughter Lola enlisted with the Women's Army Corps. Soon young Jackie, too, left for duty in the North African campaign. With a long breath Daly recalled being notified that his daughter had been killed in a jeep accident. "She was a beautiful girl and a fine entertainer," he snapped.

Putting his first love on hold as he had done over 20 years before, John left the dance studio for a job in the Charlestown Navy Yard. He noted: "I was a driller from 1943 until 1946, a job I knew nothing about, but I couldn't help the war effort by teaching dance."

The Dancing School Flourishes

In the years after the war, John and Lola were able to put their full efforts into the studio which began to excel in a way the couple never imagined, attracting students from near and far. A great many skaters would pass through the school in an effort to improve the dance portion of their acts. John proudly boasted: "Some of the kids went on to become American figure skating champions and later traveled with the Ice Capades. Others went on to dance on Broadway with the Rockettes."

A Student Remembers

A former student of the Dalys, Ginny (Robinson) McGonagle, recalled her relationship with the Dalys and their dance studio with great enthusiasm. She told of the couple and the studio where she studied tap, acrobatics and ballet for some 14 years.

"I entered the studio for the first time when I was 6 years old. I can still see the high ceilings, the hardwood floors and the large pot-belly stove used to heat the dance space. Carpeting on the floor used as running space was surrounded by all the finest equipment," Ginny said. Ginny remembered the photographs of the studio's many students as well as its recitals lining the studio walls.

Laughingly the former student recalled her after-school lessons which cost $1. Saturdays were even more special. She said: "I would be at the studio from 9 in the morning until 6 at night and most of the time the Dalys served us cookies or some sort of goodies."

Ginny remembered the Dalys as being talented and marvelous people. Continuing, she said: "They went beyond their allotted tasks. They took an interest in your lessons and your safety. I can remember feeling like part of their family and even being invited to their home on Christmas." McGonagle concluded: "It was very prestigious to study with the Dalys."

The End Of An Era

The dance studio moved from Main to Miller Street in 1961. The new studio, on the former site of Jimmy Kelley's Dance Land at the corner of Main and Miller streets, was open for four years.

In 1965, because of John and Lola's failing health as well as a destructive break-in at the site, the studio closed its doors.

A year later at the age of 75, John came out of retirement, taking a job as a gym-

A Look Back At The Lola Daly Dance Studio

The three-part story of 100-year-old John Daly written by Ed Loan has brought to mind a myriad of memories of John, his wife Lola and their dance studio.

In December 1963, The Charlestown Patriot ran an article and photographs on the Dalys and their students as the studio celebrated over 30 years as a Charlestown institution.

This 1963 article was written by Jim Conway and the photographs were by the late Bob Gray.

by Jim Conway

When vaudeville hit the skids in the 30s, it was a blessing in disguise for Charlestown in that the community gained a top-notch dancing school.

It seemed catastrophic at the time to a young married dance team, then billed as "Daly and Lola." This was the end of their dancing career for John and Lola Daly, after having appeared at some of the finest theatres in the country.

Yet, they did not take their misfortune lying down but rather rose to the occasion and started anew in another related field — teaching acrobatics and dancing. They opened a dance studio at 478 Main St. in Charlestown, John's home town, some 30 years ago. They taught the new generation the finer points of acrobatic dancing at that address until they moved to 3 Miller St. in 1962.

Vaudeville's loss was Charlestown's gain and the town has indeed been fortunate to have such a renowned dancing school as the Lola Daly's Dance Studio.

Lola and John Daly have been dedicated to the teaching of dance, much as they were dedicated to the art of dancing when they were billed as the "Daly and Lola Dance Team." They brought down the house with the ring of applause for their fine acrobatic dancing at the R.K.O. Keith Theatre in Boston many years ago and since then they have taught many top performers.

Amongst many of the pupils that beat a path to their door, not only from Charlestown but from Belmont, Newton, Wellesley, Stoneham, Burlington, and Milton — to name just a few localities — were The Klemm Sisters, Gloria and Maria, who will appear at the 1965 New York World's Fair in the Ice Show; Alice Quessey of the Holiday On Ice Show, put in her apprenticeship at the Lola Daly Studio; and Nancy Abizald of the June Taylor Dancers.

Five world-champion ice skaters who met a tragic end in a plane crash over Belgium a few years ago were also tutored by the Dalys. They were Marabel Vinson, Marabel Vinson Jr., Lawrence Vinson, Dudley Richards and Gregory Kelley.

John Daly was born in the North End and came to nastics teacher.

His beloved Lola passed away in 1972. However through his job, John managed to keep himself busy until he officially retired in 1979 at age 88.

John In Retirement

Since retiring, John keeps busy by walking, listening to the radio and doing light calisthenics.

When asked to what he attributes his 100 years, John replied: "I didn't carouse, abuse alcohol, and I always maintained good physical shape."

Our conversation ended with a firm handshake and John saying, "Well that's my story." I got the impression, though, that the final chapter of his life is yet to be written.

Charlestown with his parents in 1896. His wife Lola was born in Melbourne, Australia and, at the age of 6, came to the United States to dance with her grandparents on stages across the country billed as the "Australian Musical Millers." She danced with them until she formed a dance team with John Daly and then later a permanent partnership — marriage.

The article of almost 30 years ago related:

A student who attends the Lola Daly Dance Studio is indeed fortunate not only to get the best in dance education but to receive a bonus as well. The bonus is the friendship, warmth and the glow of love of this aging couple who take their students to their hearts.

This is not a cold business with Lola and John, but rather a love of dance and its finer points which this wonderful couple are eager to pass on to the youth of today. The Daly's objectives are to help further the careers of those professionally inclined and give the best instruction with love and guidance to all who enter their portals.

The article concluded:

Lola and John Daly love their profession and have dedicated their lives to the teaching of dancing to youth — they are indeed wonderful people.

Free Willie Nelson Concert On Boston Common

Cablevision of Boston and the Boston Parks Department will present a large-scale free concert featuring Willie Nelson and family on Wednesday night, Sept. 4 on the Boston Common.

The show, on the Parade Ground at Beacon and Charles streets, begins at 6 p.m. and is free.

The legendary Willie Nelson has been delighting music fans of all ages for decades. With a multitude of hits including On the Road Again, Whiskey River, Spanish Eyes and City of New Orleans, Willie's long and spirited concerts have become legendary in the music industry.

Boston Mayor Raymond L. Flynn said, "Thanks to corporate sponsors like Cablevision and others, the city of Boston has presented over 100 outdoor concerts this summer, all free to the public. The Willie Nelson concert is the culmination of this successful partnership between city agencies and private companies."

Officials asked that those attending the Willie Nelson show to take public transportation because parking in the area will be limited; reminded attendees that the police will strictly enforce regulations prohibiting public drinking, adding that violators will be arrested; and stating that since no one will be allowed into the concert area until 3 p.m. on the day of the show, fans should not arrive before 3 p.m.

St. Francis de Sales School News

• School Opens . . . St. Francis de Sales School will open on Thursday, Sept. 5. The first day of school will begin with a prayer service in the church at 8:25 a.m. for all students in grades 1 through 8, parents and parishioners. The students will sit with their class and teachers.

As part of this year's prayer service for the opening of school, Cmdr. David Cashman, USN, commanding officer of USS Constitution will present an American flag that has flown on Old Ironsides to the school. Following the prayer service and the flag presentation, members of the crew of Old Ironsides and students from the school will raise the flag on the flag pole in the yard near the church bell. This event for God and country will officially open the Jubilee Year, commemorating 100 years of continuous Catholic education in St. Francis de Sales Parish on the top of Bunker Hill.

Following the opening ceremonies, the students will go to their classrooms with their homeroom teacher. Parents, parishioners and friends are invited to gather in the school for a "Get-Together Coffee." After the coffee klatch, all parents with children in the school for the first time will meet in the school library with Father John Stagnaro, principal, and Father Daniel Mahoney, pastor, for a short orientation meeting.

TOWNIE SPORTS LINE

Marlboro Shamrocks Win 23-0 Over Charlestown Town Team

The Charlestown Town Team suffered its sixth loss this year with a 23-0 defeat by the Marlboro Shamrocks last weekend in the seventh week of the Eastern Football League season.

In the player of the week awards, Jeff McCarthy and Dennis Yeo received an honorable mention for their efforts for the Townies.

Charlestown players among the league's stat leaders in the seventh week of play include: McCarthy, rushing leader; Alan Roycroft, sacks; Derek Tammaro, kickoff returns; McCarthy, punt returns; Greg Gibbs, opponent fumbles recovered; and John Toyias, punting.

The Townies will meet the Methuen Outlaws at 5 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 31 at Nicholson Field in Methuen.

by Mike Cummings

Well, last week was the last week of the Tee-Ball season, and it was a busy one. On Friday night we had a dance at the Knights of Columbus hall and we would like to thank everyone who supported the event. A good time was had by all.

Saturday was the last game of the year, and Sunday was our cookout. It was a beautiful day for everyone and it was a great success. Trophies were given out and team pictures were taken.

The staff and coaches

• Quit Smoking - Lose Weight — A three-week self-hypnosis, quit smoking and weight loss seminar will be presented at St. Catherine School Hall on Tufts Street on Mondays, Sept. 9, 16 and 23 at 7 p.m. The seminars are being presented by E.F. Hanrahan, a certified hypnotherapist, and are absolutely free. We encourage people to participate in all three sessions.

• St. Catherine CYO Sports Banquet — On Sunday, Sept. 8, we will hold our first annual Sports Banquet honoring all the children, teen-agers and young adults who give their time to represent St. Catherine through our various sports programs.

Trophies will be awarded to some members of the following teams: boys ball hockey; fall track team; high school boys olympics; CYO boys hockey, cheerleading, eighth grade boys olympics, eighth-grade girls olympics, girls basketball, boys basketball, girls softball, boys baseball and girls color guard. The banquet will begin at 5 p.m., and will be held in St. Catherine School hall. All those who played on or coached these teams are invited. Parents are also welcome and encouraged to attend. The cost is $5 per person to help cover cost of trophies and dinner. Tickets are now on sale at St. Catherine Rectory, 49 Vine St.

• Red Sox vs. Orioles Game — We have 40 tickets to the Red Sox vs. Baltimore Orioles baseball game at Fenway Park on Wednesday, Sept. 18, beginning at 6:05 p.m. The tickets are $3 each for bleacher seats and you must provide your own transportation. Tickets go on sale at the rectory on Sunday, Sept. 1. All ages are welcome.

■ Bunker Hill Youth Awards . . . On Saturday, I had the privilege of announcing the 1991 recipients of the Bunker Hill Youth Awards. Fifteen young men and women were selected for their accomplishments in the areas of education, athletics, leadership and community service. The awards were presented to each youth by Mayor Raymond L. Flynn as part of the Bunker Hill Housing Development Family Carnival. The award recipients were Chris Russell and Peter Truong - education; Marc Dollosa, Danny Dollosa, Anthony Matson and Richard Centola - athletics; and Kim LaVallee, Carol Jean Fornash, Dan Dollosa, Ming Ngan, Tommy Gould, Nano Arroyo and Greg McNeil - leadership.

Good Guy Awards were presented to Tom Allen and Tommy McGrath in the area of community service.

The Bunker Hill Teen Council also presented plaques to the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force and to BHA Manager Jeanie Guiggi for "their continued support to the teens of Bunker Hill."

This was the first time youth awards have been presented to the young people of the Bunker Hill community and we hope to make it an annual event.

■ Football Time . . . Seeing Kirk Titcomb carrying his Matignon football gear home reminds us that this is the week when high school footballers begin practice.

Under a new system, league champions will be going into the December playoffs in six new divisions. Superbowls are history, as is the rating system.

■ See You In '92 . . . Another casualty of Hurricane Bob was the 1991 Rookie Ball finale. My thanks to all the participants for making Rookie Ball a great success. A special thanks to the staff at the Charlestown Community Schools (now Charlestown Community Center), in particular, to Paul Martell for all his help during the season.

Hopefully, we will see you all in 1992 for the third year of Red Sox Rookie Ball in Charlestown.

■ Cathy Kennedy-Marsden . . . A special thank you to Cathy Kennedy-Marsden for her good works with the younger kids at the Bunker Hill Housing Development. I wish her every success in her future plans.

■ Red Auerbach Tournament . . . Jonathan Owens was invited to participate in the second annual Red Auerbach Fund Basketball Tournament held over the weekend at Boston University.

Owens played on the Boston I team and was a fine representative of Charlestown. He had an excellent three-game tournament. Jonathan will be attending Everett High School in the fall.

■ Bunker Hill Ball Hockey . . . Hurricane Bob (no relation) put a damper on most outside activities including the Bunker Hill Summer Ball Hockey Playoffs.

After a three-day delay, JAFT topped Newtowne in the semifinal round and now moves into this week's finals against Butt Pirates.

The Bunker Hill Junior Ball Hockey Playoffs will also be in full swing. Champions in both leagues should be crowned this week.

■ School Bells . . . Another school year begins next week. As so many prepare for this annual event, I wish each of you much success in your educational endeavors. Many of you will be going on to new challenges — junior high, high school or college. Get the most out of wherever you are going, and like the saying goes, "Be all that you can be." Education is still the key to your success.

The CHarlestown
Against Drugs
Corner . . .

The city has received federal funding to empower communities to develop education and prevention programs/activities regarding substance abuse, chiefly involving drugs and alcohol. To this end, Boston Against Drugs is conducting a needs assessment to determine the present level of collaboration among the resources in Charlestown. Your response will be treated confidentially — your candor will be valued. We appreciate the time you are taking to answer these questions.

Neighbor Helping Neighbor

Charlestown Inter-Agency On Aging (CIA) volunteers are now joining together to help provide individualized assistance to elders in Charlestown.

Volunteers are needed to make a time commitment of one to two hours per week. Services may include companionship, friendly visiting or help with errands and shopping. Volunteer escorts are also needed for medical and dental appointments, a time commitment of two to three hours per week or bi-weekly. In addition, volunteer receptionists are needed for six to eight hours per week with a minimum commitment of six months.

The CIA was started in January 1979 and is a community-based task force comprised of organizations serving people over 60 years of age who reside in Charlestown. The current membership has representation from the Charlestown Branch Library, Charlestown churches, Charlestown Community Center, Charlestown Healthy Aging Program (CHAP), Family Service Association of Greater Boston, John F. Kennedy Family Services, MGH-Bunker Hill Health Center, Boston Senior Home Care, Boston Visiting Nurses Association and the Salvation Army Family Service Bureau. Now forming from this group are the CIA Volunteers.

Orientation and training will be provided for the volunteers. For further information, contact Ann M. Marino, Zelma Lacey, Sister Ann Rita Sullivan, O.P. or intern Tom Peddle from Bunker Hill Community College at 241-7010, or leave a message at 241-8866, ext. 10.

New Social Security District Manager Visits Charlestown

Arlene C. Lopes was recently named district manager for the Social Security Office in Boston. Lopes has been with the Social Security Administration for 24 years, has worked in offices in Roxbury and was formerly district manager in Malden.

Lopes, who is touring sites in the Boston district, recently visited the Kennedy Center in Charlestown. With her was Roger Peloquin, Social Security representative, who is well known to the center. Lopes visited with the staff and discussed the programs provided by the center. They also visited the Senior Lounge on Bunker Hill Street and talked with the staff and some of the seniors.

CHAP Meeting

Charlestown Healthy Aging Program (CHAP) will hold its first meeting for the year at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 10 at 42 Park St.

The schedule for the year will be planned and Ann M. Marino will introduce the new Charlestown Volunteer Program.

All are welcome.

A Big Thank You To Our Little Hero

Dear Gloria,

On Sunday, Aug. 25, there was a fire at 280 Main St. The sharp eyes of 7-year-old Jimmy Kissane, who lives at 280A Main St., spotted the fire and woke up his mother a baby brother so she could call the fire department. Because of this little hero and the quick response of the Boston Fire Department, the fire was contained to the one apartment and Jimmy's home was saved.

A big thank you goes out to this little hero and the Boston Fire Department. If it wasn't for you, Jimmy, things might have been worse.

Thanks again,
Your Family and Neighbors

Thank You

We would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to all who were involved with the CYO Tee Ball. The kids had a great time and it was a tremendous success!

We would also like to give a big thank you to our coach, Walter Buhay, for always making our practices and games so enjoyable. You're a great guy and a #1 Coach!!

Your Team — Russ's A.A.

Thank You

Dear Gloria,

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the members of my family and friends for their cards and well wishes while I was a patient at Mass. General Hospital.

I wish to extend a special thank you to J. Henry Murphy and the nurses and staff on the seventh floor of Ellison Towers.

Thanks especially to Father Ron Coyne of St. Catherine Church who visited me during my confinement. I deeply appreciated that.

Sincerely,
Phillip J. Kelley

Thank You

To Our Friends and Extended Family,

Thank you so very, very much to all who attended the wake or funeral; to all who sent spiritual bouquets, sympathy cards and flowers; to all who made donations in George's name; and to all who thought about George.

The Family of George R. Harrington

Makes Me Proud To Be A Townie

Dear Gloria,

Many times we have heard the term "Proud Townie," and just as many times we can pause and wonder what, exactly, does the term Proud Townie mean. I would like to share a story, one of hundreds I'm sure, that makes me proud of being a Townie.

This story concerns Phil Carr. It is a tale of compassion, caring and quiet dignity.

Late last year, my daughter was babysitting for a neighbor whose mother was dying in the hospital. The neighbor returned home with the news that her mother had died. This very young woman was new to Charlestown and the area, had no money and no relatives living nearby. When my daughter asked about the funeral service, the woman was distraught. She said her mother was going to be transported from the hospital to the gravesite without a service of any kind.

There were very little resources and no support systems for this woman to turn to. My daughter called me and asked if there was anyone who could help. I, in turn, called Phil Carr for advice.

On New Year's Day, Phil came out of his home to meet with the young woman. Phil knew neither the young woman nor her deceased mother. Somehow Phil, through personal effort and enormous giving of his time, arranged for a wake for a few relatives who could get up from Gloucester and a funeral service from St. Catherine Church. Phil did all this without recognition, except for myself, my daughter and the young woman. He did this for a young woman who was a stranger in town and had nothing.

As I sat with hundreds of Townies at Joe Kent's funeral and thought to myself we had lost a good man, I looked back and saw Phil Carr, as usual, quietly doing his job. I thought, in this place at this time I know why I consider myself . . .
