★ VOLUME 25 NUMBER 27 CHARLESTOWN, MASS. PRICE 10¢ THURSDAY, MARCH 3, 1983 ★

Pee Wee Team Reaches Quarter Finals

Woman Voted "Mayor Of Charlestown"

Lillian Welch Boutilier won the "Mayor" race of the Charlestown to Charlestown Committee, winning a trip to Ireland, along with the Charlestown Rose. The committee raised $5659.

The Charlestown-to-Charlestown Committee was formed to raise seed money to send the Charlestown girl who wins the Rose of Tralee contest and her escort to Charlestown in County Mayo, Ireland. This contest is slated for June 3, 1983 at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

To raise this money, the committee came up with a contest in which the person who sold the most raffle tickets (Votes) for a trip to Ireland would become the Charlestown Mayor, and winner of another round trip ticket.

The winner of the raffle for a round trip for two to Ireland was John O'Leary of Cook Street, Charlestown.

"We thought we would only be able to raise seed money," said Dennis McLaughlin. I never thought we'd raise this much. We'll still have money left over."

Other candidates were Bill Griffin, John Flaherty, June Reilly, Lester Boyce, Danny Ring and Terry Ring.

The Charlestown Mayor appeared in Boston City yesterday to be congratulated by city councillors and to give her "State of the Town" address.

Voke Committee Kills Deleading Bill

Charlestown representative, Richard A. Voke, chairman of the Health Care Committee, sent H. 2707 to the floor of the House of Representatives with a report that the legislation "ought not to pass."

Representative Voke announced that the unfavorable report would, in effect, kill the legislation proposing to loosen controls on lead removal procedures.

Representative Voke is a strong opponent to this legislation and explained "Any further relaxing of controls would result in a more widespread lead poisoning problem in Charlestown. I feel the Massachusetts deleading regulations are sound and should remain intact for the continued well being of Charlestown."

Rep. Voke encourages Charlestown residents to contact the Committee on Health Care at 722-2130 if they desire any further information on current deleading or paint removal regulations.

"Triumph And Tragedy"

St. Mary's Parish, Charlestown, extends an invitation to you to attend the fifth annual presentation of "Triumph and Tragedy." The play, written by Richard Wilkins, is a re-enactment of the intense experiences of Holy Week. The production is enhanced by the original music of Mary Wilkins, Director.

Dress Rehearsal is scheduled for Tuesday evening, March 29, 1983 at 7:30 p.m. The play will be held on Spy Wednesday, March 30, 1983 at St. Mary's Church, Warren Street at 7:30 p.m.

During this special time of religious tribulation, a

COMMERCIAL SPACE

We have several offices/commercial spaces for lease, 400 sq. ft. to 4000 sq. ft. Some will renovate to suit a tenant's needs. This week's special is a 1000 sq. ft. first floor office space, including heat for $495/month.

Call Bernie Tuttle or Bill Galvin for further details.

ASBESTOS LUNG DISEASE

Asbestos dust causes serious lung ailments; the diseases appear suddenly, years after exposure. Today numerous shipyard workers, masons, and pipefitters of the 1930's-1970's have lung afflictions because they inhaled asbestos particles many years ago.

If you worked in one of those professions then and now have a lung disease, you may be eligible to receive money damages or workers' compensation. Relatives of living and deceased victims can also recover in some cases.

To learn your rights free of charge, or to bring an asbestos claim, contact:

Homeless Hotline

Governor Michael S. Dukakis has announced that the statewide homeless hotline was being increasingly utilized by people seeking shelter, and could be called a successful innovation.

"In the ten days of the hotline's operation, over 300 calls have been taken," the Governor said. "Of those, 55% have sought emergency shelter, 30% anticipated needing shelter very shortly, and 15% have wanted information or offered assistance."

"The hotline people can deal with numerous other sorts of crisis besides homelessness, and are ready on a 24-hour, 7-day basis to answer questions and solve problems. We would like to see this service utilized to the maximum extent by people facing urgent problems."

The toll free hotline number is 1-800-462-2400.

Redecorate For Spring!

Does your house have the winter blahs? Learn to make some changes now that will keep your home attractive for years to come, when interior designer Thomas Kenney speaks on "Interior Design for a Charlestown Home" at the next Charlestown Library Parents' Discussion Group meeting, Friday, March 4, at 10:00 a.m.

Mr. Kennedy, has been an interior designer for 18 years and is the current president of the New England Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers. His firm, Saffron House, has been in existence for the past 12 years and recently moved to Newbury Street from Charlestown. As a resident of Charlestown for the past eight years, Mr. Kenney is familiar with the homes in his community, and eager to share his decorating ideas with Charlestown neighbors.

For more information about Mr. Kenney's program, or other programs of the Parents' Discussion Group, please call 242-1248 or stop by the library at 179 Main Street.

The library has several periodicals to help the homeowner redecorate. Two old stand-bys are "House And Garden" and "Better Homes And Gardens." The lavishly illustrated "Architectural Digest" also is concerned with interior design as is "The Old-House Journal"; although the emphasis of the latter is on restoring the structure of an antique house, there are interior decorating ideas included for the old home. Except for the current month, each magazine in the branch library can be borrowed. While it is difficult to keep new interior decorating books on the shelves, one popular book currently available is Phyllis Sloan Allen's "Decorate For Living" which offers practical advice on everything from selecting a rug to caulking windows. Happy decorating!

"Triumph And Tragedy"

time when Christians remember the significance of sacrifice and forgiveness, you have an opportunity to experience the overwhelming debt that we owe to the spirit of redemption.

Take some time from your busy schedule of family, home and other responsibilities to remember your religious heritage. Let the tension of competition, the ambition of striving, and the humdrum nature of existence be surpassed by the rite of up-ritual renewal.

Be awakened by Christ's suffering. Be challenged by your Savior's forgiveness. Be inspired by your neighbors portrayal of the most significant aspect of your life.

Open House For Education Alumni

The Bunker Hill Community College Alumni Committee announces a "Career Reception/Open House for Office Education Alumni" at the college in Charlestown on March 16 at 7 p.m.

The guest speaker will be Mardy Wheeler, director Education/Clerical, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. Her talk will be entitled "Assertive and Strategic Communication for the Office."

The occasion will be an opportunity for graduates from 1975 to 1982 to share career and academic experience, reestablish old friendships and make new ones among alumni, faculty and staff.

State Seeks To Return $17 Million In Unclaimed Funds

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane has released the names of 42,000 Massachusetts Residents who are due more than $17 million in abandoned accounts.

The largest single amount is due a Boston woman whose name appears on an account worth more than $150,000.

Under the state's Unclaimed Money Law, bank accounts, insurance proceeds, uncashed gift certificates, payroll checks, customer overpayments and the like that have gone untouched for at least five years are deemed to be abandoned. All such accounts are to be reported to the Treasurer, who then attempts notification. Last year Treasurer Crane returned more than half ($18 million) of the $35 million in reported abandoned accounts to the rightful owners or legal heirs.

Crane said compliance with the law is improving. Nevertheless, he said he is not totally satisfied. "We have had to assume the role that rightfully belongs to banks, insurance companies and other institutions. It is apparent that less than a sincere effort is being made by some of these institutions to find the owners. How can anyone fail to locate unclaimed owners such as: The Internal Revenue Service; Sears, Roebuck and Company; Boston City Hospital; or the Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston," the Treasurer asked?

Crane noted one important aspect of the Unclaimed Money Law requires that "until claimed, all funds are kept in the state's General Fund where they are invested for the benefit of all residents and taxpayers here in Massachusetts."

Quinn Scholarship Winners-Where Are They Now?

The Michael P. Quinn Scholarship Fund has been in existence since September 8, 1969. Over this time 13 talented Charlestown residents have been awarded the Quinn Scholarship. In the following weeks we will profile these individuals to keep you up to date on these past winners and their accomplishments. The biographies will follow no specific chronology, but will serve as a reminder and keep-sake to the many fine people of Charlestown who have supported the fund over the years and made it a success.

JAMES MICHAEL LAMBERT

Jim Lambert graduated from Catholic Memorial High School in 1981 to become the 12th winner of the Lt. Michael P. Quinn Scholarship. Jim is currently attending Boston College as an accounting and business major and plans to graduate in 1985. He hopes to someday earn a C.P.A. certificate and would ultimately like to become an F.B.I.

Agent.

When Jim isn't in school, he calls 79 Lawrence Street his home where he resides with his Aunt Frances and his two nieces. John Lambert, Jim's brother, is studying to be a priest at St. John's Seminary.

Jim is still very proud of the fact that he won the Quinn Scholarship. He recently stated that, "The Quinn Scholarship award enabled me to further my education. It was a big honor in my life and I am most grateful to the many people of Charlestown who made it possible. The only way I can truly pay everyone back is to go on even further and accomplish much more." Sincere words from a young man who was also President of his senior class and listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

With Jim's background, drive and determination there is little doubt that he will reach his goals. And in keeping with Jim's own words that is how he will pay the people of Charlestown back. Could anyone ask for more?

Reading Olympics Promotes Reading In Schools

The students of the Harvard-Kent School in Charlestown are now participating in the Reading Olympics program sponsored by the Massachusetts Bay Chapter March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation and the Newspaper in the Classroom Department of the Boston Globe.

The Reading Olympics encourages students to read books in order to earn Olympic style medals. A student reading 5 to 9 books will earn a bronze medal, 10 to 19 books will earn a silver medal and 20 books or more will receive a gold medal.

Participating students also receive a t-shirt iron-on, an achievement certificate and a letter of appreciation from the Reading Olympics National Honorary Chairman, Mrs. Barbara Bush.

March of Dimes Community Service Representative, Tara Goodwin feels that "The Reading Olympics offers children an incentive to read and motivates them to read books for pleasure, even after the program is completed. This program is a strong asset to any child's education." She adds "The program helps students to improve their own reading skills while aiding the March of Dimes in their fight against birth defects."

For more information on the Reading Olympics program contact the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation at 865 Providence Highway, Dedham, Massachusetts, 02026 or call 329-1360.

Impressive Ceremony Marks Installation

ROY G. BIV
by Charlie Ross

The fictitious gentleman named in our headline was brought to our attention many years ago, by an elementary school teacher in Framingham, for the purpose of presenting us an unforgettable (obviously!) way to remember the colors of the rainbow in their proper sequence (e.g. red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet), however, our acceptance of an invitation to be present at Everett Assembly's 134th Installation of Officers of the International Order of the Rainbow for Girls added a more significant dimension to our thinking on this beautiful phenomenon of nature ... and we know we found the "Pot of Gold!"

As a guest of "Townie" Dorothy Ellen Conway, we witnessed her succession to the top office of Worthy Advisor, as well as Rhonda Malone to Worthy Associate Advisor, Lori Garbarino, Elaine Mestas and Laurie Campbell to Faith, Hope and Charity, respectively. Dorothy Charbonnier of Charlestown to Recorder, Lee-Andra D'Attilio to Chaplain, Laura Sinowski to Drill Leader, Lisa Dilkey, Cherie Dilkey and Arlene Westerman to Love, Religion and Immortality, respectively, and Denise Sprague as Confidential Observer.

Past Worthy Advisor Donna Pritchett, of Winthrop Assembly No. 32, acted as Installing Officer, and was assisted by Marianne Ciovacco, P.W.A. of Everett Assembly, as Installing Recorder, Sharon Gale, P.W.A. of Somerville Assembly No. 17 (Grand Service), as Installing Chaplain. Pamela Johnston, P.W.A. of Malden Assembly No. 18 (Grand Nature), as Installing Marshall and Lynn Harrison and Julie Newell, both of Saugus Assembly No. 33, as Installing Organist and Soloist, respectively. Phyllis Murphy, P.M.A. of Everett Assembly No. 40, also presented and installed Mrs. Sandra D'Attilio as Mother Advisor. In addition, Mr. L. Gage Brown,

Chairman of the Advisory Board, and members Mrs. Verona Brown, Mrs. Barbara Ciovacco, Mrs. Beatrice Holbrook, Mrs. Eileen Hopkinson, Mrs. May Trunfio, Mr. Harry Scholfied and Mr. David Westerman were introduced to the audience by the Chair.

A large gathering of friends and relatives were joined by present and former Rainbow officers and members, Master Masons, representatives of De Molay Chapters and other notables, including a very special guest from Connecticut ... Mrs. Dorothy Scott (the "new" Worthy Advisor's grandmother) who played a large part in the provision of the too many delectables in the collation which followed.

We left with the good feeling that "rainbows" always bring, knowing that America's future is indeed in good hands ... as fortified by the pledges to God, family and country we heard between the stirring opening rendition of "The Old Rugged Cross" and the closing "The Star Spangled Banner."

Congratulations to all the new officers. Undoubtedly, you will enjoy a successful fraternal year because God is on your side!

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Prince of 314 Bunker Hill Street. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. Nee of Marshfield.

Mrs. Nee is the former Priscilla Prince.

Medical Students At BHHC

The Bunker Hill Health Center, which is part of the Massachusetts General Hospital, performs the important task of training medical students so that they will become the doctors of tomorrow. These students, primarily from the Harvard Medical School, work under the supervision of Staff doctors at the Health Center. We hope that they gain from this experience not only increased medical skills and knowledge but also an interest in making a career in providing the kind of high quality community care that the Health Center strives to give.

These medical students uniquely benefit from their contact with out-patients. A physical examination done by a medical student after approval by the patient includes a very thorough medical history (discussion with the patient of the current problem and past problems) and thorough physical examination. The physical examination is then done with a staff physician, who sees the patient and rechecks all appropriate components of the examination. The staff physician then decides on any tests or treatment that may be needed.

Some commonly asked questions about the medical student teaching program at the Bunker Hill Health Center are:

Q. Do the medical students know what they are doing?
A. They are well-trained. However, since they do not yet have the knowledge or experience of a physician in practice they are closely supervised by one of the staff physicians, and all decisions are made by the staff physicians.

Q. What happens to me when the student leaves?
Most students are at the Health Center for only one month. The supervising physician continues to see you whenever needed. In other words, during and after the student's time at the health center the staff physician is

Maritime Academy Students Take Part In Special Training Program

While many students spent their vacation breaks snuggled under electric blankets awaiting a 10:00 a.m. wake-up call, 11 area students donned Boston Edison hardhats and reported for duty as the sun was rising.

"It was a vacation for me in one sense," said Dawn Dineen from Charlestown, a 3rd class (sophomore) cadet at the Massachusetts Maritime Academy in Buzzards Bay. "I'd call it a learning vacation and believe me, I learned a lot."

Dineen was part of a special training program run by the Boston Edison Company. The two-week program was designed to show the cadets what it's like to work as an operating engineer at an industrial plant.

"We saw how a steam plant operates," said Mike Walsh, a 3rd class cadet from South Boston. "It was interesting to see the difference between Mystic's boiler and the one we have on board ship."

Edison's boiler at Mystic Station in Everett is over 200 feet high and is an early step in producing 565 megawatts of power. "The two boilers on our training ship, the State of Maine, are 35 feet high and produce about 9 megawatts of power," said Lt. Commander Win Weeks, staff assistant at the Academy. "That's quite a difference in size and energy production."

The cadets didn't stand around in awe of the boiler, though. The program kept them busy with a three-day orientation, complete with a 3-inch thick study guide. After this learning session, the cadets were sent into the plant for seven days to work with professional watch engineers.

"I spent a day on boilers, then went onto the floor of the plant and finally I went on rounds outside the plant," Dineen said. "Unfortunately, my outside duty was on the day it didn't get above 15 degrees."

What made it worse for Dineen was the fact that fellow classmates, also on a training mission, finally reached their destination and it wasn't located alongside the Mystic River. Their training was done on a Caribbean cruise to the Barbados.

"Freshmen, juniors and seniors go on cruises," Dineen said, "so next year I get to go."

Although Mystic cadets saw smoke stacks instead of palm trees, they still completed an important mission and that was to learn how a commercial steam plant keeps the lights burning. Much of what they saw during their two-week duty was a practical application of textbook theories. From turbines to generators to transformers, they saw it all. They didn't, however, get hands-on experience.

"We're not ready to run the plant yet," noted Matt Palmer, a 3rd class cadet from Milton, "but watching the engineers work was good first-hand experience."

Several cadets expressed interest in working in a steam generating plant upon graduation. "I've spent my college career studying to be an operating engineer," Palmer said, and one day I'd like to work in a plant like this."

According to Cameron Daley, vice president of steam operations at Edison, Palmer and the other cadets stand a good chance of getting a job interview. "We've found people from the Academy to be exceptional," Daley noted. "In fact, our chief operating engineer at Mystic is a graduate. We consider this program a good recruiting tool."

While working at the plant, however, the cadets were more concerned with catching every detail of Mystic Station than in writing their resumes. "I feel like I've learned about the plant from the ground up," Dineen said. "Part of the reason for that is because everyone was so helpful."

"Several employees brought in extra study guides and tutored the cadets. 'I'd read a section of the guide,'" Dineen said, "and before I knew it we were playing 'twenty questions'."

One of the questions was, of course, "What's a nice girl like you doing in a place like this?" "A couple of guys jokingly told me to find myself a man," Dineen said. "Right now, though, I think I'll settle for a boiler of my own."

Warning On Children's Choking Accidents

Inhaling small objects kills more kids under age 6 than any other home accident, warns the American Lung Association of Boston. Some 2,000 children in the United States lose their lives each year because of these preventable tragedies.

"Innocent-looking objects like candy and apple peels and raisins and small toys are among the things children get stuck in their throats or inhale into their lungs", says Barbara O'Neil, program director of Boston's lung association. "Almost any small item is hazardous for young children because their swallowing reflexes are not fully developed."

O'Neil urges parents and others who care for children to be more aware of what goes into children's mouths. She advises, "be especially wary of buttons, beads, coins, pins, balloons, screws, jewelry, fishing equipment and sewing supplies."

She urges parents to teach children to eat slowly, chew carefully, and never run or play with food in their mouths.

For a free brochure titled "How To Keep Your Child From Choking", call American Lung Association of Boston at 426-8330.

B.H.H.C. On-Call Emergency Service

The Bunker Hill Health Center has an on-call emergency service for medical emergency problems when the health center is closed.

This month we have implemented a new system for contacting the on-call emergency service. All patients will be asked to call the main number, 242-5700 when the health center is closed. This will be answered directly by an answering service operator who will then page either the pediatrician or the adult medicine physician on-call. The physician will then call the patient and advise what sort of action should be taken.

For adult emotional crisis or psychiatric emergencies when the health center is closed, patients are asked to call 726-2994. This is the number for the Acute Psychiatric Service at MGH. For assistance with child and/or family crisis, patients should call 884-HELP.

A Portrait Of A Boston Park Ranger

by Carl Bocchicchio

Do you ever wonder who those guys and gals are, patrolling the Charlestown Navy Yard in vehicles with blue lights on the roof and Smokey Bear hats on their heads? You probably notice these same people at visitor centers and historical sites along the Freedom Trail.

Many of you know that these uniformed men and women in our National Parks are Park Rangers, but just what does a Park Ranger do? Rangers are responsible for protection of Park resources and Park visitors. They provide enjoyment to visitors through information and interpretation of Park features and values.

A primary concern of Park Rangers is to help visitors have a safe and enjoyable Park experience. Hazard detection and accident prevention is an important part of the job, and rangers assist the public by providing information on safety, natural and cultural features, and recreational opportunities in the Park. In many Parks, evening programs, nature walks, and demonstrations are conducted by Rangers.

Law enforcement is another major concern. Protection Rangers spend a large portion of their time carrying out law enforcement activities in an effort to prevent criminal activity and to apprehend violators. Rangers must frequently provide emergency first aid and medical care when a visitor suffers an injury or sudden illness. Search and rescue of lost persons and structural fire protection are also responsibilities of Park Rangers.

Rangers protect Parks

from numerous threats, some natural, some man-made. Cultural Resource Protection activities include the protection of the historical scene and appearance of the historical site, structure, object, artifact, district, and environment. These types of historical resources constitute a major component of the cultural resources entrusted to the National Park Service, and a large portion of the responsibilities at the Charlestown Navy Yard and all of the sites of Boston National Historical Park.

Natural Resource Protection activities include, in some Parks, forest fire control, forest disease control, vegetation management (such as reducing exotic species), fisheries management, air and water quality monitoring, management of wildlife such as deer and bear, and the protection of endangered species of plants and animals. In addition, Rangers must constantly be alert to activities such as littering, sanitation violations, destruction of plants and cutting of trees, boundary trespassing and poaching.

Rangers may assist in archaeological, architectural, and curatorial research to preserve, restore, and reconstruct the historical setting. Additionally, Rangers provide security measures for properties and initiate programs to prevent and deter fire, theft and other threats without compromising integrity of the area.

Much preparation is required for Rangers to carry out their responsibilities. Generally, Rangers are selected from applicants who possess a four year college degree in a field related to Park Management, and then undergo extensive formal and on-the-job training. An orientation course is followed by a comprehensive Ranger Skills course at the Allbright Training Academy at the Grand Canyon. Rangers who have law enforcement responsibilities must then complete approximately four hundred hours of rigorous training at the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center in Glynco, Georgia. First aid and emergency medical care training is also received. Depending on where a Ranger is assigned, additional specialized training may be required in such areas as search theory and strategy, technical rescue and rock climbing, scuba, alpine skills (skiing, snowshoeing, winter survival, etc.) river running, water safety and boating safety and communication skills.

The Park Ranger's profession is one of variety and challenge. Few occupations offer the satisfaction that comes from serving the public and protecting our Nation's cultural and natural resources such as those found at Boston National Historical Park and other Parks of the North Atlantic Region of the National Park Service.

available as your doctor.

Q. How will I know if I am seeing a medical student?

You will never see a student without being told, and always have the right to refuse to see a student.

Q. How do I benefit from this?

In most cases, you would get an appointment for a full examination sooner than would be possible otherwise. Importantly, the student will be able to devote considerable time to your needs which will continue to be helpful to you over the years to come.

Your examination will be very thorough, and any problems thought out by two people instead of just one. Of course, you would also have the satisfaction of having helped in the training of a future doctor.

Q. How about the cost?

Like all visits to doctors at the Bunker Hill Health Center, you would be charged by the Massachusetts General Hospital according to the amount of time the doctor spends with you. Not according to the time spent by the student. Usually, you would be charged less than you would for such a complete exam by the staff physician alone.

Q. Are there any drawbacks?

A. Only that if you make an appointment for a complete examination by a medical student you should expect to spend the whole morning at the Health Center, to allow time for the medical history, physical examination, and review of your case by the staff physician. This is time well spent, but some people may simply not have that much time available. You may also see a medical student if you don't want a complete physical examination, but just a more limited evaluation of a specific problem.

We believe that the medical student teaching program at the Bunker Hill Health Center provides an excellent opportunity for patients as well as for the students. It also helps the staff of the health center to be exposed to current medical science and new approaches to patients' problems.

If you wish to make an appointment to see a medical student, please call Mrs. Smith at 242-5757.

Charles Weiss, M.D.

Tax Assistance Program Continues At BHCC

The Volunteer Income Tax Assistance Program (VITA) will continue until April 15 at Bunker Hill Community College in Charlestown.

The service is available to all persons who wish to take advantage of it, except businesses and real estate beyond a single family home. It is especially helpful to senior citizens, the poor or persons with language problems.

The campus center will be in operation Mondays, 8-9, 10-5; Tuesdays, 8-9, 10-5; Wednesdays, 8-9, 1-5; Thursday, 8-9, 10-4; Fridays, 8-2.

Persons may call 241-8600, ext. 561 to make an appointment for the campus center or any suburban location or may walk in at any time during the hours of operation.

They are asked to bring with them their W-2 forms from employers, 1099 forms for interest and dividends, tax forms mailed by the Federal and State revenue agencies and copies of last year's returns.

Project Child Search

The Boston School Department today announced its annual March campaign to locate children and youth who are residents of Boston and who are not attending school. It is called Project Child Search.

All children have a right to a free public education. Some children may not be enrolled in school due to physical handicaps or because some parents may not understand their responsibility in this regard. Parents of such children are urged to call the Attendance Department of the Boston Schools, 726-6200, ext. 5188, or to visit the district offices in their areas.

To Hold 4-H Quiz Bowl

The Suffolk County Cooperative Extension Service will host the Third Annual 4-H Nutrition Quiz Bowl on Saturday, March 19th at Faneuil Hall Boston, from noon to 5:00 p.m. The Quiz Bowl is held to promote good nutrition among Massachusetts youth. Adults and teenagers from all counties across the state have been invited to attend.

If you're interested in good nutrition for yourself and all the family, you'll thoroughly enjoy a learning experience in proper eating habits and good nutrition, that will benefit everyone who attends, regardless of age. Plan to attend the 4-H Quiz Bowl. Admission is free.

Shedding New Light On Familiar Ground

by Mayor Kevin H. White

It's always a pleasure to be directly involved in a neighborhood celebration of an event that symbolizes and highlights - in a figurative and literal sense - significant changes affecting that community. And the recent installation of new sodium vapor street lights on Charlestown's Main Street is a perfect example of how a little bit of community and municipal cooperation can go a long way.

Recently, community businesses and civic leaders and members of the news media gathered to witness me "flicking" on the switch which brought to life some 52 of the modernized street lamps, which have replaced the old lantern-style lights. While stylistically my tastes tend to run toward the traditional styles rather than more modern designs, these new fangled lights have some attractive features - sodium vapor lights are approximately 25 percent more energy efficient than the lamps which preceded them and they also provide about 36 percent more lumination. In addition, these new lights float higher above the ground, making them less vulnerable to the vandalism that perpetually plagued the older, lower lights.

I think that in this case, the trade-off in historical authenticity is well worth the benefits rendered by the more cost and energy efficient newer models.

It's funny, but usually when I switch on lights it's Christmas time ... and I'm on the Boston Common. But then, we were all in Thompson Square watching lights come on that weren't announcing the beginning of a holiday season. It was clear to all who attended the event, however, that we were celebrating something perhaps equally important.

With the addition of the new lights, Charlestown has taken another step forward in an ongoing renaissance that will eventually make this seaside neighborhood one of the most attractive and liveable square miles in the country. And each home that is renovated, each road re-paved and each street lamp repaired or replaced helps to ensure that most desirable goal.

Charlestown residents can be rightfully proud of what has been accomplished on Main Street, as well as what's to come, and can also be truly optimistic about the community's future.

And now with some extra light to shed on the situation, it's even more obvious than before that Charlestown is basking in a special glow that will serve as a beacon to the entire city of Boston.

Recently, Larry Smith of Tibbets Town Way, Charlestown, was selected as one of the winners of Globe columnist Mike Barnicle's "Why I Hate School" Contest.

LARRY SMITH

In this contest, students of all grade levels were invited to participate in a composition contest. Smith, a senior at Madison Park High School in Boston was one of three winners in the high school division and focused his composition on racism.

"You will probably get many different reasons why kids hate school," wrote Smith. "Basically, the reason I hate it is because of that big, ugly word RACISM."

"People sometimes blow it all out of proportion and this makes going to school and studying a lot harder than usual. The press doesn't help at all by printing anything and everything that happens between a white person and a black person as being racial. Nine times out of ten the press doesn't even know if the incident was indeed racial; the only people who truly do know are the two people involved.

"Racism is particularly hard on me since I am a white student going to a school in a predominantly black neighborhood ... Now I am from Charlestown and because of that, most people would automatically assume that I am a racist. I guess at times I am but not all the time. Everybody is a racist at one time or another and I don't think that anybody can honestly deny that fact.

"Racism makes one person hate another because of his color or his face. This makes it pretty hard to concentrate in school because you're always worrying whether or not you're going to get beaten up because you're not the 'right' color. I am sure that a black person must feel the same way in a predominantly white school or neighborhood and that's why I hate school."

Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Smith.

His plans after high school include two options of studying music at the Berklee College of Music, where he has already been accepted or studying journalism and music at Bunker Hill Community College which also has accepted Smith.

Charlestown College Club

The Charlestown College Club attended a tour of Boston College on Friday, February 25th. Everyone who attended the tour enjoyed themselves and found the B.C. campus to be like a city within itself that provides any student with a great college experience and education. If you are a junior or senior thinking about going to college and would like to know of any future plans for college tours you can call Debbie Duffy at the Kennedy Center, (241-8866).

The Charlestown College Club co-ordinated by the J.F. Kennedy Center and Boys and Girls Club, also provides S.A.T. preparation and help with financial aid forms and college applications.

Dan Fitzpatrick: The Super Tiger Of Pope John Basketball

by Bob DeCristoforo
You all know about the "mild mannered reporter" who steps out of the phone booth and leaps into the air "faster than a speeding bullet." Well Danny Fitzpatrick of C'Town might not be exactly Superman, but this might be a very accurate way to describe the senior Captain of Pope John High School's Basketball Tigers.

you might not even know he is around, and this is nothing derogatory. It's just the style of a very fine young man, who everyone in Charlestown is fond of, and who is one of the finest representatives of the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club, where he learned most of his basketball skills.

But when Danny "leaps into the air" excuse me, leaps onto the basketball court, WATCH OUT. Pope John High School Basketball is going to miss him.

He has been their dominating force ever since donning the "blue and gold." He has set a new Pope John scoring record. He will be named to his second straight All Catholic All Star Team and the all encompassing phrase-Most Valuable Player - would certainly be an appropriate title.

Every coach has a high opinion of him and numerous college people have offered their praise, but the highest tribute might be the fact that every team in Charlestown, whether it be BNBL, tournament, or simply pick up, want Danny on their side, and you know that when your peers appreciate your talent you have certainly accomplished something.

This is Pope John's Danny Fitzpatrick. This is Charlestown's Danny Fitzpatrick, and even though he might be a little embarrassed by all the praise, it is certainly well deserved and long overdo.

Gives Free Homework Help

The Boston Teachers Union has initiated a new program, which began March 1st, called: DIAL-A-TEACHER. It is a service by which students may dial a "homework hotline" (BTU-6500) and reach an experienced classroom teacher, who will assist them with their daily home assignments.

DIAL-A-TEACHER is a pilot program offered to 17 elementary schools in Boston. These schools were identified partly through the results of parent and teacher surveys conducted by the BTU. The surveys demonstrated a need for better study habits and reinforcement of classroom skills.

In Charlestown, the Warren-Prescott School was identified to participate in this innovative program.

DIAL-A-TEACHER was pioneered by the A.F.T. (American Federation of Teachers) in other large urban school systems. New York began its program in 1980 and is now servicing close to 30 schools. The success of their program has brought financial support from New York's business community which has provided the funds for continuation and further expansion.

While the homework assistance program is targeted toward students and parents of specific elementary schools, no sincere student callers to BTU-6500 will be turned away. Calls will be answered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. between March 1 and May 26.

Little League News

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, March 8, 9, 10 from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, March 15, 16, 17 from 6:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Registration fee for Little League is $10.00 per family, meaning if there is more than one eligible player in the family, all are covered. To be eligible you must be 9 years old before August 1, 1983, and not 13 years old before August 1, 1983. This means if you are 13 years old August 1, 1983, you are still eligible. Everyone must bring a birth certificate which will be checked and returned at registration time.

All players, Major and Minor, must register every year. Newcomers register at the same time. All players will be given six Booster stickers; $1.00 each, $5.00 to be returned - one free one for the player. All Minor Leaguers and newcomers will return their Boosters money at tryout time. Major Leaguers who, of course, do not have to tryout, will give their Booster money to managers or me (Mr. Curtin).

Tryouts will be April 9 and 10, Saturday and Sunday, at Ryan Park at Sullivan Square at 9:00 a.m. If rain, April 16 and 17, Saturday and Sunday, same time, same park. Drafts will be at 8:00 p.m. Monday after tryouts at Memorial Hall, 14 Green Street.

A Little League Meeting will be held that same evening, following the draft.

John Curtin

Free Umpire Clinics Offered

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department, in conjunction with the Amateur Softball Association (A.S.A.), will offer free umpire clinics to Boston residents on Wednesday evenings March 9, 16, 23, and 30 from 5:45 to 8:00 p.m. in room 801.

Local softball leagues throughout the Boston area are in need of qualified umpires for the season. Working as an umpire during the summer months can be a good opportunity to earn extra money.

The umpire clinics provide instructions on A.S.A. rules and regulations, umpire techniques, and training for certification as an A.S.A. softball umpire.

All programs and facilities of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department are open to all citizens, regardless of race, sex, color, religion, national origin or handicap.

For information contact Dorothy Curran, 725-4006, at the Boston Parks and Recreation Department.

C.Y.H.A. News

This past vacation week was disastrous as far as our performance in the District Playdowns. The only team that had a chance of winning a game was the Bantam I Team which lost to Parkway by the score of 5 - 4.

We realize the effort that the boys made at all levels of play was the maximum that they could put forth, so by no means were they at fault. We were out-skated and out-shot and out-manned.

We are looking into reviving the skating clinic that we had a few years back. Since most of the parents of the program will not accept a "In House" program, we feel that we have to do something to improve the fundamentals that the boys now lack, mainly skating.

Mark Urquhart will be conducting a skating clinic every Sunday from 5 to 6 p.m. at our rink in Charlestown until the rink closes March 15. All boys from the ages of 6 to 10 are welcome to participate. You do not have to know how to skate. There will be a nominal fee charged to pay for the ice time.

We are looking for coaching prospects at all levels of play. If interested, please call Mr. Kevin Roche at 241-8200 or Ron Vitale at 623-9573. We are also looking for prospective board members, there will be four seats coming up for election in May. Please call Mr. Kevin Roche at 242-0993 or Ron Vitale at 623-9573.

TOURNAMENT NEWS

We have two Midget Teams in State Tournament play this year.

The Midget "II" Team, coached by Mo Mahoney will be skating at Wilmington on the weekend of March 11, 12, and 13. The times will be announced later.

The Midget "I" Team, coached by Danny Harrington, hosting the Tournament along with Neponset, will be playing at the South Boston rink on the weekend of March 18, 19, and 20. Times are as follows:

Friday, March 18 at 5:00 p.m. - Weymouth vs. Charlestown Saturday, March 19 at 10:30 a.m. - Plymouth vs. Charlestown

Saturday, March 19 at 4:30 p.m. - Somerville vs. Charlestown

We hope the people of Charlestown will come out and support the boys in their quest for State Championships. The boys are super, the hockey is super, and the "checking" is super.

Tryouts will be held in Winthrop on April 25, 26, 27, and May 1. Every boy or girl will be eligible providing their financial obligations are met.

There will be a Board Meeting on Tuesday, March 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the Papa Gino's. There will be a general meeting on March 9 at the Mary Colbert Apartment, 20 Devens Street, at 7:30 p.m.

Irish Football News

The Minor Board of the New England Gaelic Athletic Association ran its first fundraiser this year.

The dance, held on February 20th at the VFW Post, Oak Square in Brighton, was a tremendous success. The Charlestown Club, sponsored by the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society, was honored with a special award donated by Tom and Sheila Cummings of the Irish Hour radio program. We would like to thank the "Townies" who helped support the raffle and the dance.

For Red Carpet Tourney Applications Being Accepted

The Ninth Red Carpet Tournament, long regarded as one of the outstanding competitions for Midget (15-16 years) hockey players in this area, will be held at Pilgrim Skating Arena over the Easter week-end, April 1-2-3.

The 1983 Red Carpet event will be even more interesting than some of its earlier predecessors because of a format devised last year by Ed Taylor, Pilgrim's president and tournament director.

The field is limited to eight top-quality teams, with two games guaranteed to each entry.

"Because of the difficulty of seeding teams of this age level," Taylor says, "we will provide a second chance for first-day losers to continue in the competition."

Following this plan, there will be four games on Friday afternoon starting at 4:00, 5:30, 7:00 and 8:30 p.m., with the same schedule on Saturday.

Semi-finals will be played on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., with the championship game at 4:00 p.m.

Because of the strict limitation on the number of teams, early applications are suggested and acceptance will be on a first come-first served basis. For information, call 749-6660.

Among the 1982 entries were the Charlestown Townies, coached by Jesse O'Neil.

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen, D.M.D.

TRENCH MOUTH

Trench mouth (also known as Vincent's Infection) is an inflamed infection of the gums with the formation of ulcers. It is often accompanied by fever and a "blah" feeling. The bacteria which cause the trench-mouth infection are found in the mouths of all of us - so anyone can get it under the right circumstances. These factors include the neglect of oral hygiene, lack of sleep, alcoholic excess, poor nutrition and stress. That is probably why so many of our soldiers had this disease during World War I, when it became known as "trench mouth."

In contrast to other types of gum disease which develop over a long period of time, in trench mouth, the gums become swollen, tender and sore suddenly. While the bacteria of trench mouth are always present in the mouth, infection takes place only when general resistance is lowered and oral hygiene is poor.

If the symptoms of trench mouth occur, see your dentist at once. The disease is helped by antibiotic treatment in its early stages, but the most effective treatment is thorough and repeated dental cleanings and home care.

NEIGHBORHOOD CRIME PATROL

A rash of housebreaks, car thefts, personal assaults and purse snatchings, in the Field's Corner area of Dorchester (mainly bordering on Melville Avenue, Mather and Park Streets) has inspired a personal commitment from many residing in this "neighborhood" in the forms of organized telephone networks, other communicative efforts and mobile "Crime Patrol" sorties. Well-placed pole postings have also been utilized to alert the public to "spread the word."

Each day and evening, automobile patrols from this successfully integrated section canvas all the streets involved (and then some), bringing no small solace to residents and visitors alike. Assignments and monitoring are accomplished by selected Block Captains, in cooperation and coordination with the Boston Police of Area "C." This roving gang types of incidences, as well as drug-related offenses that were occurring with the assailants using automobiles to prey on intended victims. The increased public awareness has also resulted in a larger attendance at Station 11's monthly meetings at the Gibson Street Station.

While everyone decries the necessity for this type of citizen action in our present day society, few would disagree with our expression of admiration for this aptly named "Waldeck St. Neighbors Crime Network."

The good people of that area will, for the most part, be surprised to learn that a big, barrel-chested gentleman (?) has voluntarily been patrolling their streets ... on foot ... for some time, and has already notched one would-be pursnatcher to his credit - to say nothing of his having cleared out more than just a few suspicious "strangers." His name is "Goliath," and he's a Bull Mastiff. And, if you're wondering how we happen to know this, it's because he walks us through that area ... nightly!

Congratulations, Dorchesterites, and all best wishes for a speedy return of the peaceful neighborhood you're all so obviously willing to earn - and retain. It's certainly an idea long overdue, and we hope it catches on quickly ... wherever else needed.

IF YOU'RE IRISH, AND EVEN IF YOU'RE NOT

Acceptance of an invitation to attend NORAI's Thirteenth Annual Banquet the evening of February 19th, which was kindly proffered by our fellow members of the Boston Unit of Irish Northern Aid, resulted in the notching of a remarkably memorable evening into our memory book. We were at once overwhelmed and humbled to receive head-table status amidst so many distinguished notables and luminaries ... all of whom have made more than just significant contributions to the perpetual pursuit of unity and freedom for Ireland. We extend gratitude and sincere appreciation to President James Maunsell, Banquet Co-Chairmen Mary Laliberte and Michael Fleming and the entire Committee for thinking of us in such a nice way.

Space prevents us from listing all the names and units, which included representations from all over Mass., as well as delegations from New York, New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island, but please allow that we mention our tablemates to the right and left, namely Fr. Walter Martin, S.J., beloved Chaplain to the Boston Seaport, and So. Boston's Joe "O'Casper."

Singled out for very deserved individual honors were Michael Conway, President of I.N.A., Nashua, N.H. Unit, Joseph F. Kelly, one of the founders of Charlestown's I.N.A. Unit, Rev. Walter J. Martin, S.J., and Professor Albert J. McAloon of Middleton, R.I., one of the founders of the Committee for Justice in Northern Ireland and a charter member of Rhode Island's I.N.A. Our only complaint with the evening's keynoter, Hon. Sean Patrick Walsh, lawyer and former New York Assemblyman, is that we don't have the advantage of his wisdom here in Boston ... on a fulltime basis. In his principal address, this eminent writer, historian and speaker fired everyone up with his strongly expressed sentiments on Irish history and culture. We all went home the better for it, and with the wind at our backs!

"Blessed are they that hunger and thirst after justice, for they shall have their fill." That particular Beatitude (from the Sermon on the Mount) best exemplifies (at least for this writer) who we are, what we are doing, and why. Through membership in Irish Northern Aid, we have the privilege of assisting in the alleviation of suffering of the families of Irish political prisoners but, and make no mistake about it, were we in Ireland we would undoubtedly, and proudly, be members of the Irish Republican Army (I.R.A.). If one has qualms understanding the IRA's courage and their patriotism, perhaps they also have problems understanding the gallantry of our own Revolutionary War "Patriots" (53% of whom were Irish) who fought under a "Terrorist" using "violence" against the British - named George Washington.

In all charity, we'll merely suggest they have yet another look at the Bunker Hill Monument and Dorchester Heights, and then try to figure out what "The shot heard around the world" was all about. And we'll leave the matter rest for the while by asking all to keep this Irish thought in mind, "For those who understand, no explanation is necessary - For those who don't understand, no explanation is possible."

Up the I.R.A., and Up Wexford! Will somebody out there please give me that.

Massport Responds

February 28, 1983

Dear Editor:

I read with interest your recent letter to the Editor (Is Charlestown an Impacted Area?) from John P. Kelly. Specifically, Mr. Kelly asked whether Charlestown was an area "impacted" by Massport's operations and, if so, what was our policy regarding "this matter." As Massport's Public Affairs Director, I would like to answer some of the questions Mr. Kelly raised.

The first answer is yes. Charlestown is clearly a neighborhood affected by Massport's daily operations. The residents of communities where our properties are located — Charlestown, East Boston, South Boston, and Chelsea, in particular — live in daily contact with the impacts of our facilities, whether it be aircraft noise or street traffic.

Our policy of working with local communities to mitigate these impacts is very clear cut. Under the direction of Massport Executive Director Dave Davis, an agency-wide commitment has been made to work closely with communities to find ways to solve problems and balance competing needs.

In Charlestown, this commitment has taken many forms. In planning for the reuse of Hoosac Pier, Massport representatives met regularly with Charlestown groups to discuss job opportunities, traffic concerns, and waterfront access. As a result, Hoosac Pier is being developed in a way that will benefit local residents. We have worked closely with Charlestown residents to make the Chelsea Water Street Connector a reality. This project will go a long way toward minimizing Navy Yard and Moran Terminal truck traffic on residential streets. We also established the Charlestown Advisory Committee, coordinated by Phil Orlandella of the Public Affairs Office, to work closely with neighborhood residents during the deleading and re-painting of the Tobin Bridge. In 1981, Massport invested $30,000 to build a park and play area at the corner of Lowney Way, Mt. Vernon, and Prospect Streets. Once vacant land, the Lowney Way Park is now enjoyed by children and senior citizens alike.

Massport also has a long-standing practice of lending financial support to nonprofit organizations and activities in communities affected by our operations. Massport has sponsored the Charlestown Special Olympics since 1980, is a regular contributor to the Charlestown Youth Hockey Tournament, and has fully sponsored the Andrew Puopolo Basketball Clinic the past two years. We have also awarded $1,000 in scholarships to students at Charlestown High School each year since 1978.

Other Charlestown organizations which we have supported included: the Kennedy Center/Housing Development for the Elderly and Handicapped; the Charlestown Youth Organization/Winter Skating Program; the Charlestown Community Center; the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club Basketball Tournament; and the Charlestown Little League, Hockey, and Babe Ruth teams. In fact, over the past four years, Massport has contributed $30,000 to various community organizations and programs in Charlestown.

Finally, Massport has a policy of sharing its growth with others. It is our practice to hire residents from communities most affected by our operations; local residents now comprise 26 percent of our workforce. Of these, 19 are Charlestown residents.

I hope I have answered Mr. Kelly's questions and those of other Charlestown residents. If anyone has further questions about Massport and its policies, please feel free to contact me or Phil Orlandella of the Public Affairs Office. We look forward to continuing to work closely with the Charlestown community to ensure that our policies and our operations have as positive an impact as possible.

Sincerely,
Patrick B. Moscaritolo
Director of Public and Governmental Affairs

Thank You

A BIG THANK YOU to the people of Charlestown from the Boys and Girls Club Little Patriots Nursery School. Your help in saving Campbell, Franco-American, V-8, Prego, Swanson, and Recipe dog food labels was greatly appreciated. Your thoughtfulness was overwhelming. And because of your assistance, we were able to get the following for the children: a player/recorder, a 5-pound box of modeling clay, and three educational games. We collected over 2300 labels and had 1200 bonus points.

We will continue collecting labels for next year's contest. We would be grateful for your help in saving them again.

Urges Support Of Bill Limiting Term Of Mayor

Dear Editor:

I am writing to urge support for House Bill 1873, which concerns placing a limit of eight years' service for Mayors of Massachusetts cities with a population over 150,000. The ultimate choice will rest with the cities' voters, but in order to place a referendum on the ballot, the current bill must be passed by the House and Senate.

I feel that such a control is needed in our larger cities, where the position of Mayor brings with it a great deal of power. While I find nothing wrong with a Mayor succeeding himself, I feel that a system which permits one person to continually perpetuate himself or herself in office should be changed. Mayors of large cities should be allowed to make their contributions in a planned and timely manner, and then move on to allow others to come in and do likewise. The option will remain open to return at a later date, should the voters so dictate.

Currently, the bill is in the joint Committee on Local Affairs. In order for it to be recommended out of committee, and continue to be considered, it is important for local Representatives and Senators to voice their concerns to committee members. Everyone who would support such a law is hereby urged to contact their local Representative and Senator and voice their support. Only in this way can popular support be shown.

This is not a personality issue; the need for reform lies within the law itself. The crucial issue is where the final decision lies. It must be that for the voters themselves.

Sincerely,
Maura A. Hennigan
Boston City Council

My Thanks

Thank you to all my family and to all who were so thoughtful to visit and remember me with beautiful bouquets of flowers, plants, gifts and so many, many cards. Plus a special thank you for the surprise Valentines' Party brought to me in the hospital by five very special gals. You all made my hospital stay a lot easier. I'm so very grateful to you all, especially for your prayers.

Love you,

CHARLESTOWN THEATRE UPDATE

People interested in participating in CWT's spring production should plan to attend a Thursday, March 3rd meeting at the theatre, 442 Bunker Hill Street, at 8:00 P.M. sharp. Also, AUDITIONS for CWT's spring production will be held March 8, 10 and 11th at 8:00 p.m. (For more information call the theatre after March 5th.)

Thanks For The Flag

Through this letter in the Patriot, I would like to thank Kay Dunbary for the donation of the beautiful American Flag that she so proudly donated to the Bunker Hill Council No. 62, Knights of Columbus, Charlestown.

The officers and members are very appreciative and thankful for this donation. The flag is now flying at the K. of C. Building, 75 West School Street.

Once again, thank you very much.

Appalled At Selfish Behavior

Dear Editor:

I am appalled at the selfish behavior that some residents of Charlestown show during the winter-time. Specifically, I refer to the "reserving" of parking spaces by placing (unsightly) furniture, trash cans, milk crates, etc., on the street. Anyone who shovels his or her car should be able to park anywhere along any street.

Frequently there are enough places to park near one's home, as long as one is free to park in different areas along a street, since residents need parking spaces at varying hours of the day and night. When parking spaces are blocked by chairs, this informal system of fitting cars where space permits is thrown off. Residents are selfish to claim a right what they do not own - a parking space - and guests suffer needlessly, as space is wasted by inflexible boundaries set up by those who "reserve" spaces. When the snow melts and parking places are still "reserved", or cars are vandalized for parking in "someone else's space," one really begins to question the morals of some residents.

I appeal to all residents of Charlestown to stop "reserving" parking spaces that they are not entitled to.

A Concerned Resident

Task Force

Dear Editor:

The Bunker Hill Housing Development has a wonderful working Task Force. We should be very proud to have a man like Edward Sweeney as Chairperson. Mary McInnes as Co-Chairperson, giving of their time and efforts for us without sometimes even a thank you. Please try to cooperate and do not bother them all hours of the night. They do not receive a salary or do they live rent free as some people are saying.

Thank you,
Cecilia Wagner

Thinking Out Loud

by Sal Giarratani
CAMPAIGN 83 ROLLS
 N - Citywide candidate for the Boston City Council, Diane Modica of East Boston officially announces her candidacy on March 9 at Lombardo's in East Boston. District candidate Bob Travaglini is running hard in the First District and his first piece of campaign literature is superb. Meanwhile, the Southie district has a real race for school committee with Joe Casper tackling Dan Yotts of the anti-busing movement. Yotts has been an outstanding community leader for Southie for a long long time. He has always been there when needed.

COWBOYS HATS DEPT.
 - I like cowboy hats and wear one often and I just wanted to thank Bert Reynolds for setting the record straight. "The only time you take a cowboy hat off," said the Hollywood superstar," is to scratch your hair." It can be worn indoors as well as outside on the range.

MUSTACHES - I've taken to growing a mustache, something I've not done in a dozen years. I'd tell people, I look like Lech Walesa but I can't begin to pronounce his name, so I just tell people it's the Tom Selleck look.

POKASKI TIME - Dan Pokaski, Clerk of the Criminal Court is having a time at the Cobblestone in Charlestown on Friday, March 4. His "Townie" support is strong after all, Dan was born here.

POLICE PATROLS - Give me a one, give me a two, that is the question. Should there be one-manned cruisers patrolling the city's neighborhoods or should the status quo two-manned units continue? I personally believe a cop takes a safety risk patrolling alone. A partner is not a luxury item.

I wish Police Commissioner Joe Jordan stopped comparing Boston to Flint, Michigan or San Diego. Thems apples and oranges. Another political ploy is to psych the public into thinking police protection has been increased.

Perhaps, its time to give the governor back authority in appointing Boston's police commissioner. The last good commissioner we had was Edmund McNamara.

CREDIT WHERE ITS DUE DEPT. - The White Machine is rebuilding like the Bionic Man and one of the names at the top of the list is Dorchester's Brian Leahy, a political operative par excellence. Leahy will be one of the top three in the new structure of the mayor's organization and will have supervision of the southern third of the city.

It appears Brian and I will never be political allies. Both of us were political adversaries during our college days at Boston State back in the late Sixties and early Seventies. I always respected him and I hope he, me. We always knew where we stood against each other. We were honorable opponents I believe. I remember the ways we reacted to one another. He was "Boss Brian" in my campus newspaper columns.

Well, both of us are older and I'm sure wiser.

I'm not surprised by his move up the political ladder. Back in 1969 he ran for School Committee and lost but had a good campaign. I even voted for "Boss Brian" because at least I knew him.

Kudos to "Boss Brian" and I'm sure we'll be hearing more from him because Brian Leahy definitely has a place in Boston's political future.

C.H.S. Students Visit Honeywell

On Tuesday, February 1, Charlestown High students Steve Burns, Bob Cucinotta, Steve David, Christina DeJesus, Reggie Knight, Brian Lam, Natassa Mason, Pat McAfee, Jose Palmarin, Christine Upton, and Pat Yulfo, were hosted to a tour of the Honeywell Information Systems facility in Waltham. The purpose of the tour was to introduce the students to the different opportunities available in the computer field. The trip included talks by Honeywell's Operations Manager, Personnel Director, and a programmer; a tour of the multi-million dollar computer room; and a basic introduction to computer programming.

The tour was a cooperative effort of Charlestown High School and the Kennedy Center; with staffing provided by the Center's Community is the School Program and Neighborhood Employment Center.

It's A Boy . . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Luce, III are very proud to announce the arrival of their first child, a boy, Adam Kevin Luce on February 21, 1983 at the Malden Hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 2 ounces and was 20 1/2 inches long.

The maternal grandparents on this happy occasion are Mr. and Mrs. James O'Malley, Sr. of Squantum and on the paternal side are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn W. Luce, Jr. of Bunker Hill Street, Charlestown. Adam is the 22nd grandchild of the O'Malleys and the 2nd for the Luces.

The paternal great grandmother is Mrs. Edith V. Rowe of Waukegan, Illinois. Adam is the 7th great grandchild of Mrs. Rowe.

14th Annual Quinn

Scholarship Dinner Dance

On Saturday, April 9, 1983, the Fourteenth Annual Michael P. Quinn Scholarship Dinner Dance will be held in the Preble Room at the Charlestown Navy Yard. The fine program will commence with a 6:15 p.m. social hour followed by a six course dinner by Mr. Joseph and topped off with great entertainment and dancing. Tickets are $15.00 per person. They may be purchased by calling 242-5445 or writing to Charlestown P.O. Box 216.

As we enter the era of restrictive budgets for higher education we need all the support available. Please circle your calendar for April 9, 1983. Our dual goal of having a good time and making a "Townie's" college dream a reality will be accomplished.

A Journey To Future, Glory, Happiness . . .

Editor's note: Rev. Thomas F. Conway, pastor of St. Catherine's Church in Charlestown and the author of several books on religious education, has written a series of Lenten messages. This is the third article in that series.

Abraham - "Our Father in the Faith."
 Abraham was worried because he had no children - that all the gifts of God would be inherited by his servant. The Lord took Abraham outside: "Count the stars."

Then the Lord added, "Just so shall your descendants be."

"Abraham put his faith in the Lord."
 Abraham was troubled. God gave him a clue to his future. Abraham believed.

On the third Sunday of Lent we examine the Journey from death to new life; from this life into glory.

Peter, James and John saw on the mountain, but did not understand - yet. We try to describe in human terms something beyond human understanding. We don't understand - yet.

Moses and Elijah speak of the movement of Jesus to death to glory as a "Passage."

This fits with our theme of Journey.

Jesus gave hints or clues to his three apostles of his own Pascal journey.

Even after the Easter resurrection, these apostles still found it hard to believe.

Two thousand years later in our Journey of 1983, we still examine the clues of future glory.

Will we take time this lenten season to fast, to perform works of charity and penance to clarify our goals in life?

We are still a troubled people. We see problems in the world. We experience anger and tension in our families. We know we can do better in our personal lives. St. Augustine said this beautifully: "Our hearts are restless - until they rest in thee."

On this Sunday in Lent we reflect on God's promise of future glory. Peter, James and John give us some help for a better understanding Faith is still needed. As it was for Abraham and the apostles, so too we need God's precious gift of faith. Our prayer should first listen for God's help and direction. Our prayer should seek an increase in faith, particularly in things we don't understand. But, the more we understand, the clearer our goals become. We set before us eternal life - glory. We increase our desire, our hope for glory - eternal happiness. We realize this goal is achieved through love of God and love of neighbor.

St. Paul says: "There are in the end three things that last: faith, hope and love and the greatest of these is love." (1 Cor. 13:13)

A Symbol—A visual this week can be three words: Future - Glory - Happiness. Some families may put these words on a banner or a poster. Others, even our elderly living alone, could cut these words from a newspaper or magazine and place them in a prominent place, like on your refrigerator. These words will remain us of our goal in life.

Discussion Questions:

Read any of the three accounts of the Transfiguration: Luke 9:28-36; Mark 9:2-8; Mt. 17:1-13.

Consider: How did these men, Peter, James and John, feel on the mountain?

Did Peter feel foolish suggesting putting up tents?

Why did Jesus want this event kept secret until after his resurrection?

Was it because the others would not or could not understand?

D.S.S. Area Advisory Board Seeks Youth To Help Develop Social Services

Are you between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one, living in Charlestown area? Are you concerned about the pressures facing teens today? Do you have ideas about the best way to help kids who are in conflict with their families, in trouble in the courts, or pregnant and leaving school? If so, you can have a chance to advocate for adolescent needs as a member of the local citizen Advisory Board for the Massachusetts Department of Social Services. Suzanne Palma, Harbor Area Director for the Department, is now recruiting young people to serve on the Area Advisory Board. As Area Board Members, Palma expects that youth will have a "Unique opportunity to represent their peers and help develop social services that are responsive to adolescents' needs."

The Department's Commissioner, Dr. Mary Jane England, encourages youth to become involved in the agency. "I consider citizen involvement a crucial element of the agency's success," she states, "and since over half of our caseload is adolescents, we need to hear from them directly about their needs and concerns." DSS, a two year old agency, is currently developing new approaches to adolescent services such as programs for pregnant and parenting teens and programs to help families with teens work through problems before crises occur.

Young people chosen as Area Board Members will receive orientation and training at a two-day conference in April when they will meet approximately eighty other newly selected youth board members from across the state.

Palma invites interested young people to call her office at 569-8310. Nomination forms must be received by March 15, 1983.

Charlestown Police Line

From the Desk of Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia Jr.
 Commanding Officer District A
 Charlestown, East Boston, Downtown

The next Monthly Police Community Meeting will take place on March 8th, at 7:00 p.m. at the Kent School. I urge all of you to attend this meeting. If you have questions and or recommendations that you feel should be heard I ask that you let me know what is on your mind.

On Friday, February 18, during the early evening, a Charlestown boy was walking his dog at Main and School Streets. He was suddenly accosted by an unknown white male who was about 30 years of age. The man pulled out a knife and stated, "I'm going to stab your dog." As the youth stood stunned, the man directed the knife at him. The boy fled home with his dog, and told his parents what had happened. They immediately called the police. An investigation was conducted by Sgt. Det. Graham and Detective Donahue both of Area A.

With the cooperation of the community of Charlestown and in particular with the parents of the youth, attention was directed to an adult male of 12 Putnam Street, Charlestown.

On Tuesday, February 22, the suspect was positively identified by the boy as the one who was going to stab his dog and directed the knife at him.

This subject was also identified and charged with another incident in which he terrorized Charlestown residents with a knife.

Aware of the threat to the community by this subject, Justice Mary Brennan of Charlestown District Court set bail at $25,000. The defendant is presently off the Charlestown streets awaiting trial in the Charles Street Jail.

Kent Students Learn About Marvels Of Life

STUDENTS of the Kent Community School in Charlestown are shown with chickens, which they were able to observe hatch from eggs in the classroom. The children learned about the marvels of life during the twenty-one day incubation periods of the eggs. This learn by doing project was provided by the Suffolk County "learn-by-doing" Co-operative Extension Service 4H Youth and Development Program. Any school, youth organization, or agency interested in this project and a variety of other projects, should call 482-0395 or send a letter of request to: The Suffolk County Co-Operative Extension Service 4H Youth and Development Program, University of Massachusetts, Downtown Boston, MA 02155

Respite Care Service Available

Toward Independent Living and Learning (TILL) Inc. has been providing respite care services to the families of individuals with mental retardation living in Charlestown, since July 1982.

TILL, Inc. is a non-profit human service agency providing community based services to individuals with mental retardation.

Respite care is temporary; it is provided in or out of the home. The purpose of respite care is to offer the family relief from the care of their chronically disabled member. It allows them to attend to personal business, take a vacation, or go out for the afternoon or the evening.

Respite providers are thoroughly screened, attend relevant training sessions, and often have previous experience with the mentally retarded population.

If you would like more information about respite care and other services that TILL offers, please call 329-6150.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY WITH A DEADLY WEAPON

At approximately 3:55 p.m. on the 18th of February, an MBTA Starter called for assistance with a disorderly person at Sullivan Station. The man was waving an MBTA pass which was checked and found to be stolen. The man then wandered into the bus way and rolled in the street. The starter attempted to quiet the man down, who then began resisting. At this time the starter tried to restrain him and the man, whose eyes were bloodshot, started swearing and kicking and at one time kicked the starter in the shoulder and the head. Officers restrained the man, a Bartlett Street resident, and conveyed him to District A where he was booked on Assault and Battery with a deadly weapon, assault and battery and being a disorderly person.

TRAIN AND TRUCK ACCIDENT

On February 18 at 12:15 p.m., the driver and owner of an 18 wheeler tractor trailer rig backed his vehicle into 50 Terminal Street, and began unloading the vehicle. The cab of the truck was on the B&M Railroad tracks. The driver's brother was asleep in the sleeper of the cab of the truck. There was a B&M box car on the tracks outside Somerville Lumber and somehow the box car started to roll and struck the cab part of the truck, causing damage to the right front wheel the right side of the fender and right bumper side. No injuries were reported and the man inside the cab at the time of the accident was not injured.

ARREST LARCENY OF MOTOR VEHICLE

On February 20 at 4:50 a.m., officers responded to a radio call to the area of O'Reilly Way on a report of two motor vehicles racing. Upon arrival the officers chased two vehicles, one a 1977 Dodge, the other a Maroon Sedan on Tufts Street both headed towards Walford Way. Officers then pursued the vehicles on Walford Way towards Medford Street in the direction of Sullivan Square. While on Medford Street, the Dodge struck a parked vehicle causing extensive damage to the vehicles. The suspect fled the vehicle and was apprehended by officers at Baldwin and Medford Streets. The Dodge was reported stolen earlier in the morning.

The suspect was transported to District A where the Main Street resident was booked for larceny of a motor vehicle, advised of his rights, and charged with driving under the influence.

ARREST FOR UNLAWFUL TRESPASSING

On February 19 at 7:50 p.m., officers observed a Winthrop man on Corey Street and Walford Way. Knowing of a Court Order in effect from Charlestown District Court, officers placed the subject under arrest for Unlawful Trespassing. He was conveyed to District A and booked.

These were just a few of the incidents in and around the Charlestown Area. Again I ask all of you to make an effort to be at the Community Meeting on March 8th at the Kent School at 7:00 p.m.
