PRAYER TO ST. JUDE

To be said when problems arise or when one seems to be deprived of all visible help, or for cases most despaired of.

Most holy apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations and sufferings, particularly - (Here make your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen. Thank you for favors granted.

THE REAL ESTATE WEEKLY

Carolyn Sideman, Monument Properties

IF YOU WANT TO READ THE WHOLE THING!

When you buy a house, you're asked to sign an amazing number of documents, especially if you're obtaining a mortgage. While it may seem prudent to read all of these papers before signing, it may not be practical to do this at the settlement. If you're the type who really does have to read everything first, we have some suggestions.

In an ideal world, the settlement attorney would have everything ready for your perusal several days before the big event. What often happens, however, is the lender delivers the paperwork to the settlement office at the last minute — sometimes later than that. If you insist on reading everything, including all fine print, you'll probably draw some serious groans from the others at the table. One solution is to request copies of all standard forms a week before settlement, since most of the papers are boilerplate. Then at settlement, you just check to ensure the blanks were correctly filled in.

If there's a move in your future, the professionals at Monument Properties are ready to serve you.

BREAST CANCER

- One in every eight women in the United States develops breast cancer.
- The cause of breast cancer is not known. However, risk factors have been identified.
- Breast cancer is diagnosed with self and physician examinations of the breasts, mammography, ultrasound testing and biopsy.
- There are many types of breast cancer that differ in its capability of spreading to the other body tissues.
- Treatment of breast cancer depends on the type and location of breast cancer as well as the age and the health of the patient.
- Between the ages of 50 and 75, yearly mammograms are recommended. Between the ages of 40 and 50, mammograms should be discussed with your health-care provider.

"Your mammogram is suspicious for breast cancer."
"Your biopsy was positive for breast cancer." These are among the most terrifying words a woman can hear from her health-care provider. Breast cancer elicits so many fears including those related to surgery, death, loss of body image and loss of sexuality. Each woman needs to make sure that she has all of the information she needs to make the best decisions concerning her care. Optimally, these issues are best discussed with your health-care provider on an individual basis.

Who is at risk for breast cancer? Currently one in every eight women in the U.S. develops breast cancer. The exact cause is not known and most likely involves many factors including genetic, environmental, nutritional and hormonal.

Breast cancer is more common in high socio-economic groups, unmarried women, women from urban areas and Jewish women. The most prominent risk factors are age and gender. Men can develop breast cancer, but women are 200 times more likely to develop it than men. Breast cancer is 400 times more common in women who are over 50 years of age than those who are between 20 and 40. Family history of breast cancer will increase the risk of developing breast cancer in a woman three to five times.

Recently, a breast cancer gene called BRCA1 has been identified. This gene is felt to be responsible for only two to four percent of all breast cancer cases. Currently, the test for this gene is only available at certain research centers.

Women who started their menstrual periods before age 12, those who have had delayed menopause which would be after 55, and those who have had their first pregnancy after the age of 30 have a mildly increased risk of developing breast cancer. Pregnancy and breast feeding have a protective effect in preventing breast cancer.

Mammography and breast examination serve as the foundation in screening for breast cancer. Mammography is an x-ray examination of the breast. It has the ability to detect a cancer in the breast when it is quite small, long before it may be felt by breast examination. Some 85 to 90 percent of all breast cancers are detected by mammography, while just 10 to 15 percent of breast cancers are not visible on mammography but can be felt on physical examination of the breast.

It is extremely important for women to have a regular breast exam as well as mammograms in order to most fully ensure that she has no evidence of breast cancer. Breast examinations should be performed by the woman's health care provider during the routine physical examination. It should also be performed monthly by the woman, herself, using the techniques of self breast examination. The best time to do a breast self examination is three days after the menstrual period has stopped.

An ultrasound test uses sound waves to visualize the structures inside the breast. It is often used to distinguish between cysts, which are fluid-filled, and solid tumors. If an area is suspicious for cancer, a biopsy, which is the removal of a piece of the tissue to analyze under the microscope, is usually performed to confirm or deny the diagnosis. Some 80 percent of biopsies are not cancerous.

The management of breast cancer is quite varied and complex. The subtleties of each case make it most important for each woman to discuss her options with her medical professionals. The best chance of eliminating breast cancer is prevention. However, we currently do not have the knowledge to prevent breast cancer.

The capability of diagnosing breast cancer in a much earlier stage than in previous years does exist. Early diagnosis of breast cancer can be achieved with a routine mammography and early biopsy of any suspicious lesion. The earlier a breast cancer is found, the better the chances are of a total cure. The more we educate ourselves about breast cancer issues, the greater the likelihood of controlling this deadly disease.

BOB D'S BEAT BY BOB DeCRISTOFORO

♣ College Board . . . Northeastern loves home cooking, and this week "Ram" was on the grill. Rhode Island visited Parson Field, and close to 5,000 people watched the Huskies win, 24-17. Dave Klemic led the attack and the assault on NU records scoring three touchdowns.

Merrimack moved to an impressive 3-1, stopping Stonehill 7-3. Plymouth State is undefeated. The Panthers topped Norwich 20-17. Big Cat was Jeff Parker, who had two touchdowns.

Bridgewater State pounded Worcester State 34-16. Townie Tim O'Shea had a couple of touchdowns for the Bridgewater Bears.

In Louisville, the Boston College Eagles were grounded, 52-28. Speaking of the Eagles, the BC Hockey Team will have their annual "Maroon and Gold" Intra-Squad game this weekend. Admission is free. Call BC for details.

♣ "Monument Ave." . . . Thanks to Gloria and the Patriot, some of us had the opportunity to attend a special showing of the made-in-Charlestown movie, "Monument Ave.," which is now playing at Copley Place. Each of those who attended came out with their own opinion. Here is mine. The familiar scenes, and knowing some of the local faces kept my interest, and the stars did their jobs well. The content of the film made it a very unpleasant experience. Fact or fiction, it does not portray Charlestown in a very good light. Would I go to see it again? No!

♣ At Fenway . . . The Charlestown JAFROTC team presented the colors before the Baltimore-Red Sox game on Friday. Members of the squad participating were Xaymara Saez, Migel Alarcon, Katie Boutwell, Francisco Salmoron, Kelleigh Harrington, Mike Laking and Alvaro Membreao.

♣ High School Prep Notebook . . . In Boston City League action, defending Superbowl Champ Boston English got two first-half touchdowns from John Rice and Mustapha Alabi to hold off a stubborn Charlestown team. QB Fred Arroyo put Charlestown in reach, scoring on a four-yard run early in the second half. Key to the drive was the excellent play of senior back Cedric Warren.

Over in Eastie, the Jets continue to soar. Ricky Bisson and John Cinelli had the TDs to lead East Boston past West Roxbury 12-6. O'Bryant picked up a win, defeating Dorchester 26-6. OB scorers were Chris Smith, Alexander Irving, Robert Nichols and Jason Whyte. Madison Park stopped Burke 18-0. Jimmy Holder, Lonnie Fulse and Greg Young had the points.

Manny Goncalves started the South Boston scoring parade, followed by Jason Pollari, Yves Vatal and Keon Finklea as Southie rolled over Brighton 28-0. Anthony Godding and Mike Fitzgerald had touchdowns for Latin Academy, but LA couldn't hold off Cohasset 32-14 in a non-league contest. Boston Latin made it two straight, defeating Bedford 27-13. Steve Barry had two touchdowns for the purple.

City A Standings: East Boston 1-0, English 1-0, South Boston 0-0, West Roxbury 0-1, Charlestown 0-1.

City B Standings: Madison Park 1-0, O'Bryant 1-0, Brighton 0-0, Latin Academy 0-0, Dorchester 0-1, Burke 0-1.

Everett whipped Revere 48-12. Diamond Ferri had three touchdowns. Catholic Memorial tipped Quincy 14-7, and BC High nipped New Bedford 7-6.

Russell Grogget had the St. Clement touchdown, but Hudson Catholic won the battle, 23-6. East Bridgewater shutout Matignon 23-0, and St. John's Shrewsbury edged Malden Catholic 16-14.

Arlington upended Arlington Catholic 14-7 in the crosstown battle. Archbishop Williams stung Savio Prep 20-12, and John Passemato, Mike Juliano and Jim Rabideau were the heroes as the Tigers bested St. Mary's Lynn 32-6.

POP WARNER CORNER

The bandwagon is getting full as the local 11 sent Dedham on its way back down the Expressway with two wins and three loses on the day. This past weekend was a major test, as the Townies have not had a victory in quite a few years against the always tough Dedham Dynamos. Closing out Sunday with three wins was a statement within itself and the noise this one-square-mile is producing in the known football circles of Natick, Walpole and Weymouth is one to be proud of.

The highlight of the day takes us to late Sunday afternoon as the "E-Team" broke into the win column for the first time in three years as they thrashed Dedham 26-12. You may remember that last week I told you they were ready to break out . . . and break out they did. Cameron Ortiz had an outstanding day, scoring three touchdowns and Michael Cain closed out the scoring with his first touchdown of the year. Patrick McGrath and Franklin Reyes added conversions for the Mighty Mites. Eric Reid, Joseph Twomey and Matthew Buckley all had very good games in a winning effort. Thanks to all the fans who stayed and supported the Mighty Mites.

The "B-Team," in their first big test of the year, continued their winning ways as they shutout Dedham, 18-0. Marc Doe, Jimmy Murphy and Bucky Jones each scored a touchdown as they improved to 3-0 on the year. Michael Simensen, Scott King and Len Guiteirez were outstanding throughout the game.

The "C-Team's" winning ways came to a screeching halt as Dedham prevailed, 26-0. John Villalona, Jonathan Libby, Brent Getchell and Ryan Dyer gave game ball performances as the C-Team heads into week four with a very respectable record of 2-1.

Matty Dyer plunged in for the only score of the day as the "D-Team" shutout Dedham, 7-0. This was a brawl to end it all from start to finish and both defenses excelled throughout. Tom DeRosa, Pat Fidler and Neil Gillis came up with stop after stop to lead the Charlestown defense. Ryan Collins, Tyler Tollis and Micah Young came up with some big plays to lead their team to victory and improve to 3-0 on the season.

The "A-Team" simply could not generate any offense against a tough Dedham "D" and ended up on the short end of a 21-0 score. Shining for Danny Ryan and crew were Bobby Stone, Luis Cruz, Lawrence Durham and Jose Zayas. The A-Team heads to Norwood this Sunday, tied for second place at 2-1.

The Townies travel to Norwood and Braintree the next two Sundays and do not return home until Oct. 18 against Dorchester. Thank you to all the parents and friends . . . we can't say enough about our fan support this year.

It was another great week for our cheerleading squads who all performed admirably during halftime and throughout all the games. It was a great performance by the B-Team cheerleading squad who performed a dance routine as they get ready for competition with the A-Team. All the girls deserve recognition, as they all have been the consummate host when welcoming opposing cheerleading squads and have received praise from opposing cheerleading squads when on the road.

As this is a busy 12-week season, you always forget someone who is there week in and week out, and never gets recognized. Kevin McCusker has been with the program long before any member of the current Board of Directors and is at the field each Sunday before the sun rises and is the last to leave when the sun sets. Kevin has been with this program through thick and thin and without people like Kevin, there would not be a Pop Warner program. We just wanted to say "Thanks!"

We'll see you all in Norwood this Sunday and directions are available down at the football field.

Tickets are available down at the football field for Mottown Night at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 75 West School St. at 7:30 p.m. on Friday evening, Oct. 16. Kevin McGoff will be banging out one disco hit after the next. A $10 donation will get you on the dance floor!

Boston Public Schools To Give Admission Test For advanced Work Class Program

The Boston Public Schools (BPS) will test students enrolled in grades 3, 4 and 5, who do not currently attend a Boston public school for possible entrance into the BPS Advanced Work Class (AWC) program in September 1999.

Registration forms for this special administration of the Stanford 9 Achievement Test in reading and math have been sent to all private and parochial schools in the Boston area and to branches of the Boston Public Library. Students may take a test in English or Spanish. Students should report to Boston Latin School no later than 8:30 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 24. They may bring a snack.

AWC, which features an enriched curriculum and smaller class sizes, is offered in grades 4, 5 and 6 in schools in each of the city's three school assignment zones. Spanish bilingual AWC is also available in a few schools. Admission to the program is based on three criteria: performance on the Stanford tests, program capacity and racial percentages. Parents of applicants will be notified in the spring of 1999 if their children are eligible to attend the program.

For more information, call Shirley Burke at 635-9514.

Boston National Historical Park To Unveil Handbook On The Revolution

The full story of Boston's revolution includes the belief and political practices that an assorted group known as "the people" brought with them to the conflict with Britain. The new National Park Service Handbook, "Boston and the American Revolution," explores Bostonians' ideas of liberty, not through the eyes of the town's most prominent men, but through the eyes and actions of 18th-century shipwrights and shoemakers, barrelmakers and goodwives, tavernkeepers, shopkeepers, and sailors.

Special features of the handbook highlights Boston's role in coastal and trans-Atlantic trade; artists and artisans in colonial Boston; a typical day on the Boston waterfront; the impact of the Sugar and Stamp acts on resistance to British authority; the Boston Massacre; the Boston Tea Party; Boston's African Americans in the Revolutionary era and after; the encounters at Lexington and Concord; the Battle of Bunker Hill; and how the occupation and fortification of Dorchester Heights helped drive the British out of Boston.

"This handbook interestingly and importantly emphasizes the idea of liberty advanced by ordinary men and women in colonial Boston," said Martin Blatt, historian for Boston National Historical Park.

In a reception at Faneuil Hall today, Oct. 1, that will be attended by Boston Public Schools Superintendent Thomas Payzant, the Freedom Trail Foundation will announce its donation of copies of the handbook to each of the Boston Public Middle School libraries, as well as to each of the 26 branch libraries of the Boston Library System and to the City of Boston Community Centers.

The beautifully illustrated 96-page handbook is an accessible, full-color guide for the general public, students and educators. It is available for purchase from Eastern National bookstores at two locations in Boston: Boston National Historical Park Visitors Center at 15 State St. and at the Charlestown Navy Yard.

'An Evening With Claude Monet'

The Charlestown Artists' Group and the Boston National Historical Park invite the public to join them for an evening with Claude Monet and Professor Paul Hayes Tucker on Thursday, Oct. 8, at 7 p.m. at the Commandant's House in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Tucker will speak about Claude Monet's life and art which spanned the last two centuries (1840-1926). Monet's 19th century influence is evidenced by his leadership in the impressionist group with the painting, "Impression: Sunset." Later in the century, he devoted his art work to several series - the Rouen Cathedral, his cypress trees and his grain stacks, for example - all of which were exhibited at the Museum of Fine Arts Boston in 1990, curated by Tucker.

The current Monet exhibition at the Museum of Fine Arts Boston continues through Dec. 27.

You will not want to miss the opportunity to hear Tucker speak on one of this and last century's premier artists, and to participate in this unique Charlestown happening. Autographed copies of Tucker's books will be available to purchase.

Tickets for the event are available through the Artists' Group of Charlestown, P.O. Box 281, Charlestown, Mass. 02129, or by telephoning 242-4046 or 242-4485.

Warren-Prescott School News

The Gathering

A group of parents and friends of the Warren-Prescott School meet with the principal, Domenic Amara, informally every Friday morning to discuss ways in which to help the school achieve its objectives. Recent discussion have centered around fund raising, increasing the parental network, and providing useful information to parents.

The group is planning its first get-together of representative parents from each classroom to expand the parent network. The gathering will be at 7 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 5, with a traditional Lasagna supper. There will be an opportunity to chat and view the collection of informational videotapes available to parents. Helping to plan the event are Mikki Scott, Tina Perito, Maryellen Askew, Eleanor Foley, Patricia Simpson, Carolyn Sanders, Maryann Chaisson and Debbie Lang.

All teachers and parents are invited to attend this event. The first formal Open House of the year will take place after the first marking period in November. However, parents can make appointments to meet with teachers by calling the school.

School Site Council elections will also take place on Monday, Oct. 5 at 6 p.m. Parents interested in being elected to the council and commit at least one week night a month should consider attending. Parents with questions on the council should call Amara at 635-8346.

News From The Grades

Youngsters like things that go bang.

Maybe it's the thud of it. Well, the fifth grade teachers are using this to reach and teach their students about gravity. It's HEAVY stuff. There was no lack of volunteers to help Ms. Carter conduct science experiments about the pull of gravity on objects of different sizes. A big book and a little pencil were dropped from a level height and the teacher didn't even complain.

It was a good connection to the story they read about the Wayside School . . . The story tells of a teacher who tried to teach about gravity by dropping a computer and the box it came in out of the window to see which one hit the ground first. The students loved the story but, needless to say, the fifth grade teacher didn't follow it up with a demonstration of her own . . . Good thing!

The budding scientists don't appear to be shy. Neil Gillis was the judge, Casey Schievink, Jennifer Buckley, Joshua Lopez and Nevin Lonergan were the experimenters.

Ms. Rooney's class has been reading James and the Giant Peach. Students wrote how they would finish the story. Mark Fichtner wrote: "James and his friends might go so far that they would get stuck on the point of the Empire State Building . . ." Now, there's a writer with imagination. Ms. Rooney's class is reviewing fourth grade math, and building fifth grade skills. Alexandra Prophete, for example, is using mental math to solve such problems as 400×20 (8000).

Not to be outdone, the fourth grade began its first theme reading with It's Cool, It's School. Most of the students agree, although it's not perhaps "cool" to say so.

While reading Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing in Ms. Brockman's class, the students received a lesson on working as a team on school projects. After reading the story, Ryan Foley and Ronny Payton were ambitious enough to find out about monorail systems and the 4-H clubs. Ryan enjoyed presenting his finding to the class.

All the fourth grades are trying their hand at graphs . . . all kinds of graphs . . . line graphs, pictographs, bar graphs, line plots, and stem and leaf plots. Can you remember doing that in elementary school? Actually, it's important stuff if you want to get the most out of reading a map. and, in the spirit of the move to make sure every student makes it to school, Ms. Brockman's class is beginning to graph the school attendance.

The Kindergarten program has begun the year by investigating patterns in shapes, colors and sizes. They're even creating some graphs of birthdates. This is mathematics from the ground up.

Ms. DeSanctis' class has been enjoying Mrs. Wishy Washy and Caps for Sale is a big hit with Ms. Elias' class. Children are learning to recognize their names and those of their classmates. This is important stuff when you are in kindergarten.

Social skills are not being neglected, either. Ms. DeSanctis finds Mathew

Burton and Kerrin Houlihan very dependable and helpful around the room.

Two of Tina Fabiano-Champagne's students, Andrew Scott and Vanessa DaRosa, attended the 30th anniversary MGH*Charlestown HealthCare Center festival with their families. It was an educational field trip for the entire family. The class welcomes Elijah Pike who is new to the school and is already a model student.

Ms. Doherty's students in grade 1 have already met the Mean Bean. She has noticed some emerging readers . . . Timothy Lawton, William Lau, Luis Meolo and Corey Evers are just a few.

Ms. Brown's class has seen some imaginative art work like that of Tina Lee, Bao Pham, Veronica Santiago and Manet Johnson. Ms. Brown is keeping her parents informed with a newsletter. Her class is studying about the Bent Toad Gecko, the Assassin Bug and the Clown Frog.

Ms. Linstrom has also been sharing the excitement of reading with her students. Hector Kilgoe, Anthony Rivers and Henry Viereck are well on their way to Tolstoy and Shakespeare while Cameron Smith and David Zimmerere seem to have a flair for the arts, as does Henry Viereck.

Calling The School

If you need to call the school, Sharon Sodergren will most likely be there to answer the phone and direct your call. She may be reached at 635-8346.

THE 1998-1999 SCHOOL YEAR is off to a great start at the Warren-Prescott School. On the left is Jimmy

Doe, the school custodian, who is glad to have the children back in the building . . . In the center are fourth graders in action . . . At the right, Scarlett Calderon takes a bite out of science.

Thanks For The Wonderful Night

To Fittzi and Halligan Club Members,

Thanks for the wonderful night of Sept. 11 at the Irish American Club!

The food was excellent, and the D.J. was super. It was a fun night.

I'm sure all who attended appreciated the effort that went into the planning of this reunion.

Thanks again,
Honey McCreevan

Thanks For Your Cheers!

Just a quick letter this week to thank the wonderful Charlestown supporters who spent another Sunday in such warm weather cheering on our girls and boys against Dedham.

The girls were loud and clear doing mounds and dances. Brendan did a great job as our D.J., and even after a fun night at "Joey and Maria's Wedding," the coaches and the board were there in spirit and in body.

Thanks for supporting our concession stand and our 50/50's. Jimbo Tucker has it down to a science, now.

There has been a date change for the girls' competition day. It is going to be Oct. 24 in Dedham, starting at 10:30 a.m.. The B-Team girls will be the first ones on the floor to compete. Tickets are now on sale at the field at $5 each. The A-Team girls are scheduled to go on last, at about 3:30 p.m. Their tickets are also $5.

Please come and support our girls. Remember, they are working hard to show how much pride they have in themselves and our town.

Again, thanks for the support, and we will be back at our home field in three weeks. Until then, we will be on the road. Away games are a lot of fun also . . . so come join us!

Thanks,
Lisa McGoff Collins,
Pop Warner Cheerleading Coordinator

A Big Thank You To The Tenants Task Force

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to my colleagues on the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force for their time and hard work in running the games and helping put together our Unity Day celebration, making it the success that it was. A special thanks to Eddie who came directly from work, and to Mary Baker for her commitment to her community and friends.

There were many helping hands including managers Joan Cass and Theresa McDougall, who spent countless hours with me, driving long distances to purchase and gather the many gifts and prizes.

The people involved, including Judy Evers, and others too numerous to mention here, made that "Circle of Love" that was so evident on that memorable day. The day was made even brighter by our two tiny "Task Force Tots," Lauren McNabb and Tiffany Gilgunn.

Also, congratulations go out to the winners of the raffle. They were: first prize, a VCR, Dot Graham; second prize, a gift certificate to the 99 Restaurant, Peter Igor; third prize, scratch tickets, Carolyn Saunders; and the lucky winner of the special raffle, the Mo Vaughn autographed baseball, was Elvira Correia.

Thanks again, Task Force members!
Sincerely,
Phyllis Senna, chairperson
Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force

'Childhood Nutrition' For Parents At The Charlestown Library

Nancy Stutzman, a home economist formerly with the UMass Cooperative Extension Program, will discuss "Childhood Nutrition" during the weekly Parents Discussion Group meeting at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., on Friday morning, Oct. 9.

Meeting the nutritional needs of active "junkfood-eating" youngsters can be a real challenge for parents, along with the problem of planning healthy meals for everyone. Stutzman will discuss ways to meet nutritional challenges by offering some sensible suggestions on how to ensure that children maintain a healthy diet.

The 10 a.m. program is free and open to the public. For information, call the library at 242-1248.

Money Matters

"Let us assist you in your business and tax planning"

by Nicholas C. Pino
Counsellor to Small Businesses

IS YOUR BUSINESS READY FOR THE YEAR 2000?

You may think all the recent year 2000 (Y2K) hoopla does not apply to you. However, if you have customers, suppliers, a bank, utility, government agency, or transportation company you depend on, or if you operate your business with any computers or computerized equipment, read on!

The Small Business Administration suggests a five-step process of Y2K readiness. (For those on the web, go to <http://www.sba.gov/y2k/> for additional details.)

1. Awareness. Make sure everyone in your organization knows about the Y2K problem.

2. Inventory. List all possible areas where you might have a problem.

3. Assessment. Determine how severe the problem is in your business and which systems are flawed. Begin right away - some date-sensitive systems that do forecasting may start to fail well before January 1, 2000. Check with outsiders you depend on to see if they are prepared. Ask your insurance company if you are insured for possible problems.

When you find a faulty system, use one of the 3R strategies - repair, replace, or retire it. For instance, Microsoft recommends updating all PC programs to 1997 or later versions.

4. Correction and testing. Once you think you have everything right, you need to make sure. Testing should be isolated from your regular work environment to avoid corrupting your current working systems.

5. Implementation. Move your Y2K compliant systems into your regular business operations.

When you have completed the five steps, keep your systems free from further problems. Test new components, software, or business relationships before adding them.

Call our office soon to discuss your particular Y2K problems, or to get direction to more specific resources to help you sail into the next century with minimal adverse effects.

Tuesday, Sept. 15

An employee of Blockbuster Video in the Bunker Hill Mall reported that a man removed a Nintendo video game player from the store at 10:28 p.m. and then fled. The incident was on surveillance video.

Friday, Sept. 18

A Charlestown woman reported that around 10 p.m., the rear tire of her auto was flattened while it was parked on Dunstable Street.

Sunday, Sept. 20

A Charlestown woman stated that her 8-year-old daughter was in the CVS store in the Bunker Hill Mall when she was slapped in the back of the head by a male, who then fled. The man, according to the woman, had been employed at a mall restaurant until a month ago. The mother was advised to seek complaints at the Charlestown District Court.

Monday, Sept. 21

At 9:15 a.m., police went to Parker Street on the report of an auto parked in a residential parking zone. The license plate on the vehicle was registered to a North Billerica woman who, in a telephone conversation, told police that she did not know the plate was missing. She had parked in Somerville once at the end of August to look at an apartment. The auto bearing the stolen plate and belonging to a Somerville man was towed and the plate was removed. The owner of this auto was cited for having an unregistered, uninsured motor vehicle, attaching plates and receiving stolen property.

At about 9:56 p.m., police responded to Monument Street on a report of an assault and battery. The officer spoke to the mother of a 8-year-old girl who stated that around 9 p.m. while her daughter was playing in the back playground, she was assaulted by a 9-year-old boy from Carney Court. The girl told the officer that about five months ago, the boy had approached her and, for no reason, slapped her across the face and smacked her on the back. At that time, the woman told the boy's mother that she wanted the assaults to stop. An argument ensued, which then got out of hand and both women started to fight. The Housing Police will continue the investigation and both mothers were advised to seek complaints at the Charlestown

District Court.

Tuesday, Sept. 22

At 8:09 a.m., officers responded to a motor vehicle accident on Alford Street. The operator reported that as he was driving over the Alford Street bridge, a vehicle cut him off, causing him to swerve into a pole and guard rail. There was extensive damage to his vehicle.

At 1:13 p.m., police went to Chelsea Street at Gate 5 on the report that a pedestrian was struck. The victim, a 61-year-old resident of O'Brien Court, said she was crossing the street when she was struck by an auto driven by a Charlestown man. She said she bounced off the hood and landed in the street. The driver said he did not see the woman and she was not in the crosswalk. The woman was transported to the hospital for treatment of injuries to her head and lower back.

At 3 p.m., an auto belonging to an O'Brien Court resident was struck and damaged while it was parked on Walford Way. The driver of the gold-colored Lexus fled from the area.

A Somerville woman told police that a radio and CD player were removed from her vehicle between 2 and 5 p.m. while it was parked on Brighton Street.

At 8:30 p.m., police were called to Dexter and Alford streets on the report of a motor vehicle accident. A Natick man stated that as he was stopped for a red light, his auto was struck in the rear by an auto, also stopped at the red light, that had been struck by an auto driven by a Quincy woman. A passenger in the first vehicle was transported to Whidden Hospital by ambulance.

Friday, Sept. 25

At about 12:53 a.m., officers saw a red Subaru being operated north on Bunker Hill Street without headlights. The auto was brought to a stop where the operator, a Lynn woman, could not produce a license. A check revealed that she was operating without a license and the motor vehicle was found to have a wrong plate attached. The woman was placed under arrest and the auto was towed for safe-keeping.

A representative of Daniel O'Connell & Sons Inc. reported that a crane that they had leased from Salah & Pecci Equipment Leasing had been vandalized between 3:30 p.m. on Sept. 24 and 6:45 a.m. on this date. The crane was at

At 4:55 p.m., a resident of Old Rutherford Avenue reported that a window of his auto had been broken.

A resident of Bunker Hill Street stated that she was on the roof of her apartment building at about 7:55 p.m. when she heard her front door close. She saw a teen, whom she escorted out of the building. A briefcase containing personal papers had been removed. It was later found on the rear stairs.

A Lexington woman stated that between 10 p.m. on Sept. 24 and 8:40 p.m. on this date, her motor vehicle had been struck while it was parked at Mead and Russell streets.

At 11:10 p.m., officers went to the vicinity of 297 Main St. where a couple reported that as they were exiting from a cab at that location, a teen-age boy threw an object, striking the cab. The man then confronted the teen and about 10-12 youths when the teen sucker-punched him, driving the his glasses into his cheek, causing a laceration. The man said he would obtain his own medical care.

Saturday, Sept. 26

At 11:20 a.m., police were called to the inbound side of Rutherford Avenue on the report of a motor vehicle accident. Police were told that an auto being driven by a Revere woman had collided with a vehicle driven by a man from Sterling, Mass. The woman's auto was towed.

• Season Opener

The CWT proudly announces the opening of its 25th season with the debut of Bob Baden's Sundowning, a one-man show written and performed by Baden, under the direction of Ellen Groves and with the musical direction of Peter Shapiro.

Sundowning is a hilarious evening of "stand-up cabaret" of, for and by the dark of the heart. Inspired by the terrors of everyday life, this comedy can truly be called an American nightmare. Not your typical Halloween ghost story, Sundowning is a celebration of this haunting season.

Presented by the CWT, Sundowning runs from Oct. 9 through Oct. 24, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. Tickets are $15, and $10 for seniors and students with an ID.

For reservations and information, please call 242-3285.

Kennedy Center Benefits From Community Care Day

On Sept. 16, the United Way of Massachusetts Bay kicked off its annual campaign in Charlestown with Community Care Day. A very energetic group from Stone and Webster teamed with the Kennedy Center for a day of hard work in the community.

Team Stone and Webster painted the Home Care office and cleaned and reorganized the kitchen, children's area and resource room at 55 Bunker Hill St.

The day began with an early meeting giving an overview of the mission of the Kennedy Center and a welcoming address by the Kennedy Center's Executive Director Katherine McDonough. The team then undertook the day's project with much enthusiasm, vigor and great effort.

At the end of the day, the Kennedy Center had a beautifully painted office space and a squeaky clean resource room.

Community Care Day is an opportunity for corporations and organizations to see programs sponsored by the United Way in operation. It was very generous of the Stone and Webster folks not only to support the United Way in a monetary manner but to give of their own time and hard work to complete this project in just one day.

The Kennedy Center staff is grateful for the help of Stone and Webster and it is hoped another partnership can be forged next year, as Community Care Day is annual event. The United Way is a major funder of the work done by the Kennedy Center and other agencies in Charlestown.
