$250,000 Apprenticeship Grant Announced For Public Housing Youth

A CHECK in the amount of $250,000 from HUD, which will be utilized to develop partnership between public housing youth and labor unions, was presented at a ceremony on Friday at the Bunker Hill Housing Development. Shown (l. to r.) Joseph D. Feaster Jr., Boston Housing Authority (BHA) Administrator; Boston City Councillor Diane Modica; Stephen I. Holmquist, BHA assistant general counsel; James Moore, president, Laborers Local 22; Mayor Thomas M. Menino; Jerry Hernandez, member of Youth Build, Bromley-Health Housing Development; Anthony Britto, director of Public Housing for the Boston office of HUD; Mary MacInnes, vice chairman of the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force; and Kaye Wild, counsel for the BHA.

The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has awarded a grant in the amount of $250,000 to the Boston Housing Authority (BHA) in a partnership with the Laborers International Union of North America in an apprenticeship program directed toward youth living in public housing.

According to BHA Assistant General Counsel Stephen Holmquist, the program would initially involve approximately 20 youth between 16 and 24 who are residents of public housing. He said the grant will be used to pay wages, support services and training.

Holmquist said that 50 percent of the time in the program will be directed toward educational services and activities. There will also be workshops focusing on life-skills, along with general construction skills utilizing the laborers' training facility in Hopkinton, Mass.

The BHA intends to place program graduates in permanent positions in the BHA's own operations and maintenance staff. He noted that this is a unique partnership between labor and public housing.

At this time, Holmquist stated that there is no timetable for applications, but it is hoped that it could get underway in the fall. He said that the BHA would be working with the development's tenants task force in accepting applications and screening candidates. He could not give a definitive number of candidates that would be accepted from the Bunker Hill Development.

Mayor Thomas M. Menino thanked HUD for this grant that he said would give young people who live in public housing a chance to be part of the "future of the city."

Advanced Business Machines Inc. Awarded Preferred Partner Status By Panasonic

The Office Products Group of Panasonic Communications & Systems Co. has awarded Advanced Business Machines with Preferred Partner status. Advance Business Machines is the only Mass. copier dealer to receive this status.

Panasonic conveys this status only to those dealers selling Panasonic copiers exclusively and who have been determined to have extended outstanding service to their customers. This status will allow Advanced Business Machines to purchase equipment at price structure that is equal to, if not better than, the largest copier dealers in the area. Advanced Business Machines has been selling and servicing copiers and facsimiles since 1974, and have been exclusively with Panasonic since 1986.

"This achievement will allow us to better compete within the industry and offer our equipment at much lower costs to the consumer," says Sam McGee, treasurer of Advanced Business Machines.

From the beginning, Advanced Business Machines has always focused on the small to medium sized customer offering them prompt, personal service. "Most larger dealers tend to ignore the smaller customer when it comes to service, and concentrate their efforts on the larger multiple installation accounts," added Jay Wallus of Charlestown, vice president of sales.

According to a Wall Street Journal article written in April 1994, "Some big companies such as International Business Machines and Xerox Corporation find servicing small customers to be uneconomic."

Another factor adding to the personal service offered by Advanced Business Machines, is the absence of any voice/mail system. "We don't have voice/mail and never will have voice/mail. It would only take away from our personal touch where every employee is trained to answer phones and take care of any customer need," said Len Davis, president.

Service training is also extremely important. Advanced Business Machines requires their technicians to participate in training programs at least four times a year. "We train thoroughly to keep ourselves sharp and up to date with the constant industry changes. It helps us better service the machines and our customers," said Jeremy Thompson, technician.

"We take pride in our technical service, giving the machine a complete inspection and thorough cleaning. We do not just fix the immediate problem. We give it our full attention, consulting with the client and making sure they understand the problem. This keeps our customers happy," said Scott Crotty, technician.

"Besides prompt service and the clean machines they leave behind, Advanced Business Machines also leaves their trademark, a candy dish filled with chocolate kisses. Just that little extra to say thanks!," said Wallus.

SHIFTS IN REAL ESTATE MARKET TRENDS

Last summer your neighbors put their house on the market and had so many buyers that they were on the winning side of a bidding war. Now you're trying to sell, and there's just no action.

The real estate market is highly fickle. Many factors come into play, the most important ones being interest rates and prevailing asking prices. In a strong seller's market, for example, prices tend to escalate. When they reach a certain point, many prospective buyers will begin to say no, and the listing inventory increases. When this happens, sellers who price their homes over the level of previous sales prices must rethink their pricing strategies. If they do not, their homes may not sell. Whether you're buying or selling a home, it's important to remember that the shift from a seller's to a buyer's market can reverse itself very quickly. You can count on us for sound advice on what our market is doing right now.

Voke And Birmingham Save Elders In Nursing Homes

Again taking up the fight for seniors in need of appropriate medical attention, Rep. Richard Voke and Sen. Thomas Birmingham recently led the charge to override two gubernatorial vetoes restricting nursing home access.

"The health and welfare of our seniors should not come under the attack of heartless budget cutters. Although try as they may to make it more difficult for seniors in need to gain life-sustaining medical attention, I have been able to again defeat these plans," said Voke, the House Majority Leader and a recognized leader in senior advocacy.

Birmingham, pleased that the Senate unanimously agreed to override the governor's veto, agreed: "Especially during periods of fiscal restraint, it is vital that we do what we can through legislative language and program design to maximize the options and benefits provided to seniors."

Legislative action was again necessary to protect nursing home residents from losing their beds when they are absent from the facility and to maintain clinical eligibility for Medicaid-funded nursing home care at its current level.

"The administration wanted to kick patients out of their beds after 10 days of being absent for medical reasons or 15 days for non-medical reasons, and wanted to limit Medicaid-funded care to only the most severely disabled. Neither of these provisions are in the best interest of our seniors as both would jeopardize the services they need to maintain a higher quality of life. I would never allow such a travesty to occur," stressed Voke.

"It is becoming increasingly clear at the federal level that many are considering major cuts to health care services for the elderly," noted Birmingham. "The Weld administration apparently has similar intentions. But in Mass., the legislature fought and won the battle to preserve current levels of care and maintain present nursing home standards."

The victory marks the second time Voke and Birmingham have had to protect seniors' rights to nursing home access. Back in 1992, the administration first attempted to implement these two provisions, only to be overridden then as well.

In arguing for the override, the Mass. Extended Care Federation expressed to Voke and Birmingham: "We appreciated your support then (in 1992) and request that you again vote to restore budgetary language to ensure that elderly and disabled individuals do not lose their homes or be denied access to necessary nursing facility care."

"Constituents are often overwhelmed and bewildered by the programs and options governing the health care choices of the elderly," said Birmingham. "I am pleased that we can inform them that the governor's efforts to limit nursing home eligibility and access were successfully stopped."

"Having twice prevailed for seniors, I hope the administration gets the message," said Voke.

To commemorate this auspicious occasion, Harris was presented several Constitution mementos, including a picture of the ship signed by Cmdr. Richard B. ## Consumer Affairs And Licensing Hands Down Decision On The Warren Tavern

The Charlestown Neighborhood Council Basic Services Committee, chaired by Bill Galvin, met on June 19 to allow neighbors to review the request and express concerns relative to a petition set to go before the Mayor's Office of Consumer Affairs and Licensing on June 21. The new owner of The Warren Tavern, Club Dining Concepts Inc., managed by Robert Seabury, had petitioned the Office of Consumer Affairs and Licensing for a seven-day entertainment license.

Following the meeting, a letter was sent to the Licensing Office by the Neighborhood Council summarizing complaints from the neighbors, and several abutters attended the hearing on June 21.

On July 5, Donna Mueller, director of the office, responded to that petition to operate and maintain a radio, cassette/compact disc player, TV, and instrumental/vocal music (no more than three musicians) daily until 1 a.m. at 2 Pleasant St., Charlestown, Mass. 02129, also known as the Warren Tavern.

Mueller wrote: After careful evaluation of the evidence proffered at the hearing, the Mayor's Office of Consumer Affairs and Licensing GRANTS a provisional entertainment license subject to the following conditions:

1. The request for radio, cassette/compact disc player and TV is granted with a cessation time of 1 a.m.

2. Amplified, live instrumental/vocal music (not to exceed three musicians) is allowed only on Wednesday evenings. During any amplified performance the licensee shall install acoustical panels behind the band as represented in the letter dated June 26, 1995 from Custom Entertainment Design.

3. Unamplified, live instrumental/vocal music (not to exceed three musicians) is allowed all other nights of the week.

4. Live instrumental/vocal music, amplified or unamplified, must cease no later than midnight.

5. The grant of live instrumental/vocal music is a provisional licensing grant subject to review at any time, but no later than Sept. 30, 1995. During this time, the licensed premises shall be closely monitored for sound emanation problems. At the conclusion of the provisional period, the licensee may petition for a revision of the above conditions. It is recommended that the licensee continue to work with a sound design expert to reduce the potential of sound emanation.

6. A Disc jockey is currently denied, but may be considered for private functions if the above provisional period is completed without incident.

A review of the Licensing Division's file (which dates to 1987) for the premises known as the Warren Tavern, located at 2 Pleasant St. in Charlestown, reveals that the Tavern has operated with virtually no police citations issued to it except on the issue of music emanating.

Since 1987, the Warren

Tavern has been licensed for live instrumental/voice music (three instruments). Although the license did not restrict the instrumentation to non-amplified music, the licensee indicated traditional unamplified instruments on its renewal applications for the years 1987 and 1988 (piano, harp and clarinet). Sometime in 1989, the format changed to include amplified live music. There has never been a condition that limited the live music to Wednesday only.

Beginning in late 1989, the Licensing Division began receiving complaints about the music emanating from the Warren Tavern. This appears to have coincided with the switch from unamplified music to amplified instruments. The Licensing Division called a meeting of the licensee and residents.

The licensee agreed to cease all live entertainment by midnight, keep the doors and windows closed and to monitor the volume (and change to a softer blues style of music). The next hearing on the complaint of music emanating was in late 1991, for which the licensee received a warning.

Three years later, in late 1994, a police citation for music emanating was placed on file, on the condition that the air conditioner was repaired and the windows and doors would remain closed. Now in 1995 with the air conditioner again not working, a citation was issued for music emanating. The licensee has since installed a new air conditioner.

While the above history indicates an ongoing problem associated with music emanating, four hearings in five years is not overly egregious, especially in light of the licensee's continuing effort to respond to the problem. However, as the residents noted, the problems with music emanating has been more consistent than indicated by the number of police citations and hearings.

Base on the above considerations, the Licensing Division will not issue an increase in the number of days for which the previous licensee actually offered amplified live entertainment. However, the provisional grant for Wednesday live amplified music will be closely monitored for emanation to the neighboring residences. It was noted that the licensee should be particularly mindful of the drums and bass which are more easily audible outside the premises.

Mueller concluded by listing the statutes, codes and standards on which the decision was based.

"Let us assist you in your financial planning"

INVESTING BASICS

Successful investors agree: you can earn good profits without a lot of risk if you stick to a few tried-and-true investing basics.

First, start early. Give your funds plenty of time to grow. Say, for example, you invest $100 a month toward your newborn's college fund. At a return of eight percent, that money will grow to about $48,000 by the time your child graduates from high school. Wait until Junior is 10 years old to start investing and you'll have to set aside much more - over $350 a month - to accumulate the same amount by age 18.

Second, invest regularly. It's a good idea to have money periodically deducted from your checking account and put into mutual funds, stocks or bonds. What you don't see, you won't spend. Pay yourself first.

Third, diversify your portfolio. Buying mutual funds is a great way to achieve diversity. If you plan to invest in individual stocks and bonds, consider this: The longer you can leave your money alone, the more you should invest in stocks. For added safety and liquidity, keep some bonds and cash reserves in your portfolio.

Fourth, hold down your expenses. Stick with no-load or low-load mutual funds, and beware of funds with high fees for professional management. Don't wheel and deal very often. Commissions for buying and selling securities can take a big bite out of your returns.

Fifth, insist on quality. Familiarize yourself with the companies you plan to invest in. Beginners are advised to focus on blue-chip stocks with good track records.

Finally, be patient. The surest way to increase your wealth is not glamorous. It's done by letting time and the market's upward trend work for you.

Farmers' Market Re-Opens In Charlestown

The Kennedy Center and the Charlestown Business Association are the co-sponsors of the Charlestown Farmers' Market located on Main Street across from the Charlestown Branch Library.

The market is now in operation on Wednesday afternoons from 2 to 7 p.m., and will continue until the end of October. Food stamps, farmer's market coupons and cash will be accepted.

A number of Mass. farmers will be selling their produce at the Charlestown market. These farmers have many years of experience with other successful farmers' markets.

Shopping at farmers' markets offers many advantages, the first and foremost being the availability of fresh produce. The fruits and vegetables offered at the market are Mass. grown and picked the morning of the market. You will find unusual varieties of fruits and vegetables, bred more for flavor than for uniform size or ability to travel.

Farmers' market prices are comparable with those at the local grocery store and shoppers can meet the farmers who grew the food, ask how it was grown, when it was picked and ways to prepare it. Shopping at the local farmers' market encourages regional farming and in turn protects dwindling farmlands.

The market is located in an area that will make it easy for residents to do all of their shopping in one central, convenient location.

Shoppers should be sure to mark Wednesdays on their calendars.

EFL Notebook

Entering Saturday's Eastern Football League season opener against the Boston Cowboys, Charlestown Townies' Head Coach Jack Green didn't know what to expect from his ball club. After all, the Townies had not hit the field since the fall of 1993, and Green and Co-head Coach Jack Morris had not coached the Townies since the 1992 season.

You can throw all those factors out the window, because if the Townies continue to play like they did this past weekend, they will give their opponents throughout the league fits all season long.

And, despite being on the short end of a 16-12 score, Green was pleased with the performance of his troops. "You guys did very well out there," Green said to his players after the game, a statement audible on the Cowboy sideline. "We have some things to work on, but you guys gave it all you had out on the field."

Charlestown, which held a 12-10 halftime advantage, fell behind in the latter stages of the third quarter when Boston quarterback Aaron Kelton trotted into the end zone from four yards away, giving the Cowboys the lead for good.

The Townies had grabbed the lead shortly before halftime when Eddie Sullivan hooked up with receiver Derek Tammaro on an 11-yard pass play, giving Charlestown the two-point advantage.

It was Boston that scored first, as Kelton broke the scoreless deadlock nearly four minutes into the ballgame on a five-yard run. Joe Caruso's extra point kick boomed through the uprights, giving the Cowboys a 7-0 lead. Boston gained possession of the ball after the Townies had a punt blocked in their own territory.

Charlestown would come right back. On the ensuing drive, Sullivan would put the Town Team on the board when he found Danny Ryan in the corner of the end zone from 17 yards out, cutting Charlestown's deficit to one point.

The Cowboys were not done there, though. Midway through the second period, Caruso booted a 17-yard field goal to put his team ahead 10-6. About six minutes later, Sullivan threw the pass to Tammaro that put the Townies ahead entering the intermission.

Ball movement was a problem for both teams, as the Cowboys were able to muster up only 117 yards of total offense, including 49 yards passing. Meanwhile, Charlestown did slightly better, as Sullivan threw for 128 yards on nine of 24 passing. The Townie ground game averaged slightly over two yards per carry.

Charlestown resumes action tomorrow, July 14, when they travel to Marlboro, (a winner last Friday), to take on the two-time defending National Champion Shamrocks at Kelliher Field at 8 p.m.

1960 TRIBUTE TO PAZZI 1995

On Saturday morning, Paz, God called you home.
And you answered His call, and left us alone.
The shock hasn't quite hit us, we can only pray and cry,
And ask why we weren't given the chance to say 'bye.
But the memories we have of you, Paz,
no one can take away,
Poems never come easy when there's so much to say.
You were the older brother that I never had,
And the hero I looked up to in good times and bad.
We shared some great times together while you were here,
And I know in my heart that you'll always be there.
The good times we had, Paz, I could never forget,
Like the night I was with you when you and Kathy met.
You were a great godfather to my oldest boy,
And to my nephew Billy, you were his pride and joy.
My one regret, Paz, is not keeping in touch,
But with children and families, life demands so much.
This past week has proven that the chance isn't always there,
To spend time with those about whom we really care.
So, rest in Peace, Paz, until we all meet again,
And thanks for being the great friend that you've always been.
I know you'll be safe - with your Dad at your side,
He'll lead you to God, and he'll be your guide.
And with Nana and Pa,
and your friends Bobby and Mike,
Heaven's a place, that I'm sure you'll like.
But I'll tell you, Paz, we'll all miss ya for sure,
But God's in charge and he needed you more.
Every New Year's Eve, when midnight is here,
I'll be thinking, Happy Birthday, Paz,
how I wish you were still here.
So sleep tight, my friend, with the angels above,
We'll all miss your laugh, your smile,
but most of all your love.

Jacqueline Woodson, author of the acclaimed young adults' novels "Last Summer with Maizon," "The Dear One" and "I Hadn't Meant to Tell You This," will talk about her life as a writer and the writing process in the Mezzanine Conference Room of the Boston Public Library in Copley Square on Tuesday, July 25 at 6:30 p.m.

In describing her writing, Woodson said, "It's a scary time to be anything 'other' in this world. Every character I write about is in some way outside of the mainstream - black, working-class, poor white, a pregnant teen, or gay. The things I want to do in my books is show people there are only positive things to come from being different."

The program is meant for young adult and adult audiences and is free and open to the public, although seating may be limited. Books will be available for purchase and autographing. For more information, call the Young Adults' Room at 536-5400, ext. 334.

"Our Main Concern Is Your Satisfaction"

BOB D'S BEAT BY BOB DeCRISTOFORO

◆ Yawkey Stunner! ... The Yawkey talk of the week, and maybe the year, was the Charlestown Pride second victory of the season. On July 6, Charlestown Pride stunned the highly respectable high flying first place McKay Club 4-2 in a brilliant two-hitter pitched by Danny Dollosa. For our rookie franchise, it was like winning the World Series, ie. the Miracle Mets, or the pennant winning Cardiac Kids. Those who came down to watch their team, many for the first time, now understand what this team is really all about.

Following the post-game celebration, field manager Rob McIntosh announced that Danny Martell and Mike Walsh will be the Charlestown Pride All-Stars, who will play in the All-Star game, at Fenway Park on Wednesday, July 19 at noon. Tickets, $3 per adult and $1 per child will be on sale at Fenway Park on game day.

Upcoming games are:

July 14 Quincy 7:30 p.m. Ryan

July 17 Al Thomas 7:30 p.m. Healey

July 20 Somerville 7:30 p.m. Ryan

◆ Off To Edmonton ... Good luck to John Murphy who will be traveling to Edmonton from Aug. 8-13 to take part in the Silver Brick Tournament. John is a member of the Boston Icemen, and plays hockey for the Charlestown Squirrels.

◆ Mayor's Cup Baseball ... Good to see so many Townies out supporting their teams over the weekend in the annual Mayor's Cup Little League Baseball Tournament held in South Boston. The Cup finals and championships take place this weekend. Participating Charlestown teams are the 9- and 10-year-olds. The 9-year-olds are: Jason Bernard, Paul Collins, Octavio Rodriguez, John Allen, Harry Sullivan, Dennis Devlin, Dan Buhay, Matt Pacheco, Steve Carr, Steve Wadman, John Collins, Nolan Burns and Chris Dacey.

◆ Townies Line ... It was great to see the enthusiasm of the crowd on Saturday who made the trip out to Brighton to see the Charlestown Townies in their return debut to the Eastern Football League. The 17-12 defeat by the Boston Cowboys was a good competitive game and gave the fans much to cheer about. Credit Danny Ryan with the first Townie touchdown of the year.

Tomorrow, the Townies travel to Marlboro with a kick-off time of 8 p.m. Jack Green and Jack Morris are the head coaches and their assistants are John Green, Tony Green and Mike Mill.

◆ Old Colony Hoop ... The Charlestown Pride Basketball Team will play the Three D's on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Old Colony Hoop League. The team record is 2-1.

◆ RBI Baseball ... It was quite a week for RBI Baseball as the Cardinals defeated the Red Sox 15-2 behind a powerful offense led by hard-hitting Dave Hurley and the outstanding pitching performance of Ricky Evers.

If everything goes well, Ricky will be representing Charlestown in the RBI Regional Tournament, which takes place this weekend at various local sites and colleges. The RBI Regional Final will take place on Sunday at Fenway Park. Ricky is now involved with the Boston Team try-outs.

An exhibition game between the RBI Cardinals and the Yawkey League Charlestown Pride team is being planned.

◆ Ball Hockey Tournament ... Joe Rooney tells me that the second annual South Boston Street Hockey Tournament will take place the weekend of July 29 and 30, and he would like to see a good number of Charlestown teams for this open tournament. The cost is $150 per team. For more information, call Joe at 269-1184.

◆ Tidbits ...

- Birthday best to Chris Rizzo.

- Sorry ladies, Brian Ward is no longer available.

- Brian Wadman won the first annual Jimmy Vesey Most Improved Award.

- Hello to Chris, P.J., Patrick, Paul and Rick from all your buddies.

- Zeke and Dave, what was that game you were playing called?

Charlestown Little League News

Williamsport Tournament Play District Nine

On July 6 at Mission Hill, Charlestown, in a tension-filled, well-played game, overcame an early 2-0 Brighton Central lead to post a 3-2 victory. Charlestown rallied for three runs in the last of the fifth inning with a walk to Sean Noonan, followed by a Mike Kelly single to center field and a double to left from Brian McCrary, scoring Sean and Mike to tie the game. Dan Devlin bounced a hard single to left field scoring Brian with the winning run. Winning pitcher Tony Lopez threw a three-hitter with 11 strikeouts, including striking out the side in the top of the sixth inning to preserve the victory.

On July 8 at Cy Rosenthal Field in Dorchester, Charlestown lost a close battle with South Boston 6-4, leaving them at 1-1 in this double elimination tournament. Their next game is tomorrow, July 14, at Cy Rosenthal Field at 5:30 p.m.

Team members include Tim Brennan, Brian Dacey, Dan Devlin, John Fabiano, Cory Hollein, Mike Kelly, Roger Kueny, Stephen Libby, Tony Lopez, Brian McCrary, Matt Monaco, Sean Noonan, Joe Wilkins and Mike

Wilkins. Marty Fabiano is the manager and Fred Arroyo is the coach.

Mayor's Cup Tournament

On July 8, the 9 year olds beat Jamaica Plain 10-8, and the 10 year olds also beat Jamaica Plain 12-5.

In the 9 year old's game, Charlestown roared to a 10-0 lead after three innings and staunchly held on for the 10-8 win behind winning pitchers Paul Collins and Chris Dacey, who combined for 12 strike outs. Their offense was led by Danny Buhay, Nolan Burns, Dennis Devlin and Paul Collins.

In the 10 year old's game, the combination of Andrew Brennan and Jon Jones' pitching and offense led by Chad Titcomb, proved too much for Jamaica Plain.

On July 9, the 9 year olds beat South Boston 10-6, but the 10 year olds were knocked out of the tournament losing to South Boston 11-4.

In the 10 year old's game, the pitching of Jim Dyer and the offense, again led by Chad Titcomb, was not enough on this particular day. Since the tournament this year is only two weekends, unfortunately one loss meant the end for this year. This team deserved a better fate.

In the 9 year old's game, winning pitcher Danny Buhay went all the way by striking out nine in the 10-6 win over South Boston. Offensively, Danny had three hits including a great bunt and John Collier, Dennis Devlin and Paul Collins all had two hits. Octavio Rodriguez reached base four times and Stephen Carr three. Defensive gems from John Allen, Jason Bernard, Chris Dacey and John Collier in right field, helped the cause. This win means that the 9 year olds will be playing for the championship this Saturday at noon on diamond two at Columbus Park against Parkway.

To get to Columbus Park, take the JFK exit (15) off the expressway, take a left at the lights and proceed to the rotary, going all the way around. The fields are on the right.

Awards Ceremony And Party Conclude Season For CHAD Junior Bowling League

The break-up banquet for the CHarlestown Against Drugs (CHAD) Junior Bowling League was held recently at the American Legion Hall with a packed house. All the bowlers received trophies and the pizza from Jenny's was delicious, as well as the food brought by the parents.

Jim Conway and the American Legion donated the hall again this year. We are forever grateful to Jim and Gloria for their continued sponsorship of the bowling league.

Diane Modica, our district city councilor, attended and presented Dotty Harris and myself with a citation from the city of Boston for our work with the youth of Charlestown.

This year, the sponsors were presented with plaques in appreciation for their help over the years.

The championship team was Jenny's, whose bowlers were Jimmy Kissane, Marianne Kissane, John Harrington and Kristen Ford. The runner-up team was the Red Store, whose bowlers were Sean Reilly, Ryan Hickey, Steven Awbrey and Kerriann Hayes.

High triple honors went to Keith Ryan and Christina Biggins; high single to Keith Ryan and Jean Wall; high average to Sean Reilly and Christina Biggins; and most improved bowlers were Shawn Burke and Jean Wall.

A very special thank you goes out to all of the sponsors. See you in September!

Walsh Family Expresses Thanks

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to the following family, friends, clergy and organizations for their sympathy on the death of our beloved James "Pa" Walsh. Your cards, flowers and donations in Pa's memory were sincerely appreciated.

Thank you to Father James Canniff, Father James Brennan and Father Ronald Coyne; to Bunker Hill Council #62 Knights of Columbus for the beautiful family bible and the use of your hall; to St. Mary's St. Vincent de Paul Society for your kindness; and to St. Mary's Reception Committee for the delightful luncheon.

Thank you all for being with us at this time.

Sincerely,
The family of James "Pa" Walsh

Proud Of My Support Of Club

Dear Ms. Conway,

As a Charlestown resident who ran in the Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race this year, I wanted to see my name listed as I am proud of my support of the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club in this small, but important way. My time was "nothing to write home about," but I did finish (49:30). I did not see my name listed in your 7/6/95 edition. When it comes to support for the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club, I want to "stand up and be counted."

Each one of us who participates in this race makes the race possible and without the race there would be no money raised by this event for the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club. Congratulations on your full coverage of this event and also congrats to those young people from the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club who participated both as runners and as helpers. It was a great race!

Yours,
Grenville Cuyler

Editor's Note: To Grenville - With space limitations, it is impossible to list all the runners in the 8K Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race, thus the list published consisted of runners who registered from Charlestown. When we reviewed the list, we found that you had registered from Boston rather than from Charlestown. So keep on running - and next year register from Charlestown! Best,
G.C.

Letter Of Apology

To the Patriot Readers:

I would like to personally apologize to those people in the Charlestown community who listened for the Charlestown Townies vs. Boston Cowboys Eastern Football League game last Saturday night. Due to circumstances beyond my control, I was not able to go forward with this specific broadcast. I apologize to anyone that I inconvenienced.

I would also like to apologize to those players who intended to listen to the game. Hopefully, another Townies game will soon hit the airwaves on WJIB-AM, or possibly another area station.

Yours truly,

Thank You, Terry!

Dear Gloria:

I would like to give a special thank you to Terry Ring who has become a very special friend and a person for whom I have the greatest admiration.

Terry has made my return to Charlestown memorable beyond my wildest dream. She has involved me in many of her community programs, taken me to places and introduced me to many extraordinary people. I am constantly in awe of her total commitment to the people of Charlestown and how much she gives of herself. Even when she appears to be completely drained, she gives until her last drop of energy is expended.

I want to thank her for allowing me to experience the reward and fulfillment of working on the various committees for the good of the community.

As Terry always says, "All I ever ask for is a thank you." Terry, it is my pleasure to thank you, not only for myself, but also on behalf of the people of Charlestown.

Thank You

William J. Galvin Jr., Esq.
P.O. Box 302
Charlestown, MA 02129

Dear Mr. Galvin:

I would like to thank you and the members of Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion for selecting me to participate in the 1995 Mass. Girls State at Mount Holyoke College. Attending Girls State provided me with an opportunity to learn about local and state government.

On a local level, I acted as treasurer for my Girls State city, and through working with the members' city council, I was able to encounter first hand the task of planning a budget and of allotting expenditures to various government departments. On a state level, I participated in party caucuses, primaries and general elections. The most valuable learning experience was the exposure to many new perspectives through the discussion of issues that are prevalent in today's government.

My week at Girls State was enhanced by the beautiful campus at Mount Holyoke College and especially by the friendliness, dedication and guidance of the women from The American Legion Auxiliary. During my stay, I developed lasting relationships with other girls as well as with the counselors, and returned home having made many friends and having grasped a better understanding of our state government.

My sincerest gratitude extends to all of the members of The American Legion Post 26 for granting me the privilege to partake in such a memorable experience.

Sincerely,
Alyssa Vanderpool

Important Information About Trash and Recycling Collection Changes

Beginning Monday, July 10th, residents who currently have their trash and recyclables picked-up on Mondays will switch to Friday pick-up. The new schedule will allow for more timely collection and will also avoid interruptions caused by Monday holidays.

Waste Management of Massachusetts is pleased to continue serving the Charlestown district. If you have any questions, please call our Somerville office at 617/776-1000.

Monday collection switches to Friday collection beginning Monday, July 10.

THIS SCHEDULE CHANGE AFFECTS ONLY RESIDENTS WHO CURRENTLY HAVE COLLECTION ON MONDAYS.

Thank you for your cooperation.
