I'm pinning this onto the prototype to further enhance the quantum feed back loop, "Spirit Wave" of mine. The information in this document has been the cause of all this strife.

Its time the chaos comes full circle into natural order.

Intro to Q<sup>2</sup>

This is a reconciliation somewhere in between what exists and what does not, the physical and the none physical, atheism to theism. Magic to Nature. Dreams to Reality. The infinite realm of fantasy to the ever expanding universe.

Active imaginations lead to fringe ideas that become part of the mainstream sphere of intelligence, eventually dictating the course of information until a new fringe idea challenges the old fringe thought and invalidates it. Fringe ideas are a grassroots to the domain of the public conscious. Being on the precipice of intelligent thought puts you ahead of everyone else. As the average person is chained down by constructs of arbitrariness, coming across the same waves of information and thought, you transcend into a tsunami, a storm dictating the flow of the wave, putting yourself in an unknown advantage over whomever you deal with. Your mind becomes a current of m-value. m=meta.

Reality doesn't exist unless it is measured by sentience. Reality is determined by the sentience observing it. Your reality is all determined in your mind as it predicates your course of action, all while you are unconscious of all the complex processes that maleate into your life that you uniquely experience. We don't see with our eyes, we see with our brains, and what we internalize mentally will determine the way we perceive and picture reality. And now it's increasingly coming to the light that the human mind is capable of malleating reality just with the mind alone itself, with out direct action necessary to take place. Its now being recognized in the world of science that words have metaphysical affects on its surrounding reality. I'll go a step further and say chants, rituals, speech all have metaphysical inter quantum effects around a person's field of reality, quantum tunnel and today we will go even further than that. There is a network of interuniversal quantum switches that graft into reality that can be determined by the human mind, the same way a particle determines whether or not it will graft into a wave or a particle depending on if it gets measured by human sentience.

Our sentience operate like antennas to the figments of sentience that bond and coalesce into reality.

What we think and internalize manifests externally and into our surroundings as we leave a phantom imprint of ourselves onto the things we touch down, to the people whose lives we impact and wherever we go.

You can use your thoughts to heal people, manipulate quantum information to alter the probability to your favor. Manifest your dreams into being true to killing someone just by thinking of them. We exist in a quantum-meta reality where every outcome and every event is possible and every choice possible exists and is backed by a network of neuro-web like cross dimensional strands interconnecting every piece of quantum information (figment of Realty, atom) to each other, like tunnels underlying the fabric of our universe, as it metaphises crossing over and malleating into our universe. (Just picture a matrix over reality, invisible to the human eye, that operates faster then the speed of light based off your perception and thoughts.)

Probability Is A Man Made Construct

When you select something at random, the choice of the outcome is contingent on the quantum data that proceeds the event horizon of the outcome. Your random selection is attune to your inter universal quantum imprint and is not actually randomized. The outcome of your selection will be attuned to your  $Q^2$  frequency and the quantum information your consciousness and body seeps out of your reality tunnel and into the fabric of reality, all by being awake and conscious.

The data of the outcome will be contingent on the data that proceeds the event horizon to said outcome. The data of the outcome is something we cannot foresee, but we can make. We do not predict the future, we create it. Just by having a thought creates a signal of interference within the quantum fabric of reality.

Your body has a unique quantum imprint. A glow of quantum information irradiates around you everywhere you go, anything you do, like a shadow of the future, already imprinted upon everything in your reality. Everywhere you go, you leave an imprint, to the things you touch, down to the thought you have leaves an imprint, which I refer to as M- fibers, ghost like particles filled with a charge of your quantum information. M-fibers can act as meta-quantum irradiation that can be utilized when creating good luck charms or cursed objects. (A billion dollar industry)

You can notice m-fibers by picking up an object that isn't yours. The owner of the object will have their unique quantum imprint already tapered into ghost like m-fibers surrounding the object at hand. You can feel the difference of the energy that object carries compared to an object owned by you or an object owned by someone else.

Our consciousness, our sentience, our powers to observe are a higher dimensional construct. It supersedes our 4th dimensional construction of reality and seeps into a higher dimensional plane, as it manifests into the 3D/4D reality through currents invisible to the naked eye and any man made instrument.

The quantum information you trail off is a baseline average of all your quantum information accumulated. It determines the inter- universal switches that carry you through to your end game manifestation. Your quantum imprint determines the yield of reality to how you think to how you perceive and exercise your powers of observation, all without you being aware of it. If you want to measure your quantum imprint, you can do so by picking out a selection at random amongst a sea of infinite outcomes. When you select something at random, the outcome of the choice is determined by your quantum information preceding the singularity of you selecting a randomized choice. And the reason for that is before you see the selection, the choice that exists as the singularity, at the smallest frame of reality possible, at a rate faster than the speed of light, exists in a static holographic wave like state, until it determines and measures your quantum imprint before molding itself to a materialized object made of particles coalescing with your quantum reality.

What appears to us as an affixed constant reality containing objects with weight and density is actually a projection of a hologram wave like imprint of particles ionized in the past (operating faster than light). Our present realities are an ionized wave like imprint of quantum data from the past coalescing with our current quantum information to give us the illusion of an affixed present.

The quality of your thoughts determine who you attract, what you attract, your course of probability, your unconscious thoughts, your dreams, right down to the words you say. Your thoughts manifest into a quantum charge that tapers off m-fibers charged with your quantum information, as your body irradiates a quantum energy field with you as the center radius, as you cut across space and time as a quantum tunnel, a 4th Dimensional String journeying throughout existence.

An uprooted thought becomes a seed that grows in time till it metaphysics into your reality. A single thought can grow and chain into many, and over time through enough sublimation and exposure it will metaphysics into reality. [Subliminal marketing plays on mixed signals to uproot, plant, and fan the flames of other sublimation. The media plays entirely on subliminal psychology to keep you hypnotized so you can feed them your time and money. (Being privy to this information I was able to plant seeds and fan the flames to uproot my control over “The Alt Right”, which is essentially my army and rebellion.

The media we consume has a huge influence in our lives that exceed a 3D/4D level of reality. Everything we consume effects our quantum charges and flow of reality on every given level.

If you surround yourself with Satanic imagery and the number 666 you would start seeing that data manifest into your reality. You will notice the number #666 or #66 follow you with an increase in evil predilections in your life. You can test this out by simply microwaving coffee in the morning for 66 seconds and see that number stalk you throughout the entire day. The thought of seeing the number reconfigured your flow of reality as it coalesces into your quantum charge, determining your yield of attraction in your quantum field through your quantum tunnel of reality. Our bodies irradiate a quantum energy field with you at the core, your brain and bodily feelings feeding inside the sphere your quantum information, that then interacts with reality at a level faster then light hitting the retina of your eye to give you the perception of an affixed 3 dimensional reality.

The thoughts we have are metaphysical data we emit into the Q1 universe. The data, charges your quantum charge, filling your quantum field into a perceptible tunnel based off your sentience, with a resurgence of the data in your mind manifest into physical reality.

I can make myself think that I am a huge piece of shit and sure enough my day will go in accordance to that self deprecation. Or I can program myself to be The Anti-Christ and sure enough my quantum charge(soul), quantum field(aura) and quantum tunnel(aura<sup>2</sup>) tapering and creating m-fibers at will as I utilize the secrets of the universe to quantum feedback loop me to the results I want, for as long I remain affixed and engaged to the idea. But why stop there if you can charge yourself into becoming anything you want?

What came first, the chicken or the egg?

The clump of life fighting for life kicked into its fight or flight mechanism and willed the egg shell around itself to incubate inside as it materialized long enough to hatch. As it was dying, the stench of death birth m-fibers around the dying symbiote that directed surrounding particles to clump into an egg shell, thus resulting into the self replicating chicken.

You miss every shot you don't take. A shot in the dark will one day manifest into the light as long as you keep on making shots.

Getting a pool ball in a corner pocket comes down to probability rather than skill. Skill acts as a catalyst to bridge your quantum particles into a singularized state of consequence. Skill doesn't always override other alternating quantum charges from unskilled people. When I write I can actually see the m-fiber particles coalescing into the singularity of my pen stroke, as it appears as ghost like near invisible orbs tugging into the ball point of the pen I'm using. As my mind becomes attuned to writing this, the singularity of my words reaching the page is met by m-fibers that singularize with my pen acting as a catalyst to bridge my internal thoughts into the external universe. I can make a quarter shift in between all my fingertips and every so often, the m-fibers created by my actions surrounding my fingertips will seemingly glitch reality, as I reach a point where I can phase a quarter in between all my fingertips while twitching less than 2% of the same muscle to perform the same action. The only action necessary is propping up the quarter to fall. The quarter then ends up dropping into each fingertip perfectly all on its own with the laws of gravity cooperating with the m-fibers surrounding the quarter and my fingertips.

"Luck Shots" or "Beginners Luck" are essentially the singularity of a person with a quantum charge that favors them fortunately.

Reality is sentient as it has the information of the future already embedded within its fabric. Knowing that information allows you to shepherd reality, rather than be a sheep to it.

The Continuum of Existence

Everything that exists today goes through the same cycle of materializing from non existence into existence. Before you were born as a materialized being, you existed as an idea in the back of your parent's sub-consciousness.

"Imaginary"/Meta/Q<sup>2</sup>
Universe

Reality/Q1

If it exists as q<sup>2</sup> data in the q1 it can be materialized into q1 data. If an idea exists, it will manifest and materialize into existence, just by having a thought. Our thoughts are actually signals of interference with the physical, quantum universe, as I refer to as a Q1 existence.

What we think trails off and intertwines with the fabric of our quantum reality. Our reality is a sub division of a much higher dimensional plane of existence. Our universe is the square root of a much bigger one with its own governing laws of physics that we can't even begin to understand or fathom.

Everything that exists within this quantum universe is from a higher dimension I refer to as the Q2 dimension. The Q2 dimension proceeds ours and our consciousness have evolved to be able to detect it's interuniversal processes. You can look at us as beings of Divinity, Organic A.I. in a quantum simulator from a higher realm, or define yourself in any which way you want. Your definition of reality IS reality. Christian, cyberpunk, whatever it is, just live it through and you will experience it as your thoughts manifest into your physical universe. Imagining something non existent will cause it to exist. In the non physical, non 3D, q<sup>2</sup> meta verse. Your q<sup>2</sup> charge starts to exist there, that data grows until it's sentience alters reality into having it exist, all too match the q1 data of the Q1q<sup>2n</sup> observer.

Words aren't just words but signals we send and receive laced with metaphysical properties and quantum entanglement. A thought, a word, anytime we think (the observers placement of information) is a data charge. Any figment of the universe (atom, particle, wave) : data. Any data charge will alter the flow and course of life behind the quantum physics of the universe. Acknowledging this domain, locks you in sync with the "quantum<sup>2</sup> link". Its like a character in a book breaking the 4th wall. It's more like we're breaking the quantum wall. Or breaking through the proverbial quantum wall haunting every crevice of modernized theoretical science.

The big picture is made up of the littlest of details interlocked and interwoven to create the fabric of the reality at hand, and the devil is in the details, and is hidden for you in plain sight.

Between the metaphysical and the physical. Between what that exists and what that does not. To the truth behind a lie to the lie behind a truth. To the double lies in a truth, to the two truths in a lie.

All religion is healthy as it interlocks our mind to be attune to metaphysical processes but they all go against the fundamental truth behind existence. And this truth is that the very nature of our universe is to ensure the survival of sentience. Everything behind everything all falls underneath this universal law. Although, religion is only a half sync. Faith is only partial resonance to God.

The universe is sentient and functions to ensure the survival and growth of sentient life. Every figment that makes up the fabric of reality are all interwoven together through time, space and matter to ensure the survival of consciousness. Anything that enables the survival of sentience or further enhances the survival of sentience becomes the prime objective of reality, and acts as a fail safe mechanism in play to ensure no freak singularities of an untimely death were to occur to vanquish sentient life.

Our souls are a unique quantum imprint. We are divine sentience that have evolved the capacities to be attune to a higher dimension beyond what the naked eye can see.

The quality of your thoughts determine the life you get

“Life is rigged” “Life is unfair” are self defeatist attitudes which fill your quantum charge to an end game that never resolves your current issues, which keeps you stuck within those same self defeatist behavioral patterns and quantum feedback loop.

There exists a level of physics and understanding that underlies our own understanding that we haven't began comprehending, or fathoming. A domain to a hidden phantom reality we barely grazed it's surface in understanding.

Now when your brain is attune to the idea of a higher dimensional plane, you become attune to a higher sentience. Your brain maleates with a sense to the metaphysical as you become linked with the  $Q^2$ , and now your bridge of connection is forged to the metaphysical processes that underly the physical reality.

By acknowledging this connection, which goes against all of science today, you create a mental frequency that I refer to as  $Q1q^2$ . Which represents the abridged connection of sentience to a dimension that exceeds our own universe.

Now when you become attune to this frequency, you start developing the metaphysical processes to keep you attune to this higher dimensional plane. You develop a web of synapse in your mind. You might intercept it as good luck, déjà vu, or an anomaly like occurrence in the form of an omen, sign or miracle. This is the frequency bearing into fruition your ability to manifest.

After some time of being attune and fortifying this frequency, you can learn to control it at will, manifesting and altering reality on a 5th dimensional level to alter, dictate and determine the 4th and 3rd dimensions.

Once you get to this level, you developed a link I refer to as  $Q1q^{2n}$ , n representing anything you want to charge or manifest. N is how you utilize the endless implications of utilizing this frequency. You can yield it and develop your own unique ability utilizing it. N is determined by your quantum charge.

People have been accessing this frequency through a variety of catalysts since the dawn of mankind. For thousands of years humanity has been accessing it through various amount of ceremonies, rituals and catalysts, unintentionally or not through this  $Q1q^2$  frequency. Mozart referred to it as his source aether. Da Vinci saw the frequency as a looking glass. Some cultures like to depict this link as the Godhead or Crown Chakra in meditative circles, Buddhists monasteries and the spiritually inclined.

$Q^{2n}$  is interlocked and interwoven within the fabric of our reality. This invisible domain has a sentient membrane already aware of the future imprinted onto itself. The future is just a latex layer wrapped beneath the present.

In other words, the figments of matter that make up reality are sentient, aware of the future, while always being ahead of our present, as it dictates our futures without us being conscious of it.... Until now.

The more I tapped into my Anti-Christ persona, the more I syphoned off of Kek, the egregore that I had an influence in fanning. Kek was essentially a pool of spirit energy I was able to draw from like cash at an ATM, as I was able to store and save up as it grew exponentially. And any little shitpost of mine was me storing and attaching my Q<sup>2</sup> data. On a cybernetic interface and into your lives I was influencing you without doing much. I compacted the smallest gear in the system to control the entire grid of gears.

I essentially took the meme magic and found a way to bridge it into real life as a real process.

[We do not predict the future, we create it]

My data charge in sync with the Q<sup>2</sup> will match up my data to the Q1. Reality will lump sum the average of your q<sup>2</sup> data and sync it up with q1 data closest as possible to match your reality tunnel.

My data charge creates an event horizon grafted onto the fabric of reality both of the past and the future, and the future in the past, and the past in the future, and the like.

So essentially, in my pursuit of unknown knowledge, unbeknownst to me I created a singularity, an event horizon syncing me to my already existent future, which is already woven and interconnected with the fabric of my reality, which is actually a tunnel, or a quantum tunnel that connects and bridges other tunnels of relevancy to my cause, all determined by me regardless of being conscious of it.

***Quantum Tunnels are a quantum feed back loop***

So just by internalizing the singularity of discovering unknown knowledge, my reality to this day was procuring the sentiment I grafted onto my quantum tunnel, unconscious of the sentiment or not. It became an autonomous process as my singularity grafted into fruition, through Event Horizon into Event Horizon, through all the pain through out all the suffering and madness, as my only saving grace was a realization of reconciliation. My silver lining behind my hellish existence was a piece of logic, a building block of data, I grafted and stacked upon the other grafted neurons, creating a web of synapse, a web of sense beyond the physical. Creating the data and frequency to

Every thought or action creates a singularity, and every singularity manifests into a quantum feedback loop. Your thoughts will recycle and shape up you external self and your external world as you are hypnotized in a trance unaware of the designations of your dormant and unconscious worldview.

Since I'm more experienced, my q1 data will match my q2 data under most circumstances. The more you grow the web of synapse towards this information, you'll develop your own q2, esp esque, metaphysical link, that'll grow like a muscle the more you use and experiment with it.

*** (The unifying theory behind everything is the survival of life, of sentience, of beings able to observe. To define and give meaning onto the universe. Without sentience to define the universe the existence of the universe is meaningless.)

What we meditate upon grafts and molds into our realities, both our perceptions and the physical. Through ordinance of quantum switches tugging and locking your reality tunnel into the reality you want.

You can attach metaphysical data onto things, places, and even people and you have been doing it throughout your lives beyond a conscious platitude.

You can give someone bad luck and misfortune simply by shaking their hand with the intention of giving them bad luck, just by wishing it upon them. As the q2 data exists from your hand and has a cross interference with someone's q2, you unintentionally absorb some of their q2 data. You can wish for them good luck and fortune. The odds are if you wish for someone to have a bad day the chances are they will have a bad day. And the reverse holds true as well. You can wish for someone to have a good day and the chances are they will.

You should be extra selective of who you make contact with. They could be cursing your existence. Or they could be blessing it, just by the data they emit, the slight thought that enters reality. It ends up manifesting in one way shape or form. Be careful of what you think, the slightest perceived random thought, has an underlying root internally, that's metaphisizing into your external existence. Ignorance isn't bliss, it's obliviousness. Identify the random thought, pull on its web, and you'll come to an epiphany that leads to a resolve.

.In the grand engine that underlies all of life, we all play an integral role and impact beyond what we are conscious about. Everyone creates a butterfly effect to each other in one way shape or form and nothing that you do is meaningless. There's a hidden silver lining behind every interaction, behind every situation all contingent on whether you want to see one.

The old woman that said good morning to a man that triggered a thought process that lead to another thought process that eventually lead him to doing something great and amazing like curing cancer.

The man that developed the cure for cancer might get all the recognition and praise for his contributions, but the old lady who told him good morning is still as integral of an agent to his success then he is himself. If it wasn't for that slight ordinance, an exchange of good mornings, that man might have never went down the path that lead to curing cancer.

And in that lense we are all equally important to each other and not one person is above all. We are all agents to manifesting each other's destinies, or antagonists that only stand in the way of us manifesting our destinies into fruition.

If a person is stopping you from manifesting your reality, then they're antagonistic and it's best to cut contact, or if your willing, manage to not make them antagonistic.

Don't believe you are unimportant. You are just as important as the billionaire regardless of socioeconomic stature. You are you and that's all that matters, regardless of how somebody judges or perceives you, which is all an arbitrary snap judgement. You have the ability to steal all the thunder in the room, or you can let the thunder flow through you as it does through everyone.

We all come in different shapes and sizes of variant data. We are different vessels with unique souls harboring inside an organic cocoon of skin cells and tissue, our outwardly appearance a reflection of our inwardly thoughts & states of well being.

I made fantasy into reality all because I decided to reconcile holy scripture with logic and science.

And I became in tune with the divine, the same way Mozart became in tune with the divine to write his Requiem for a Dream. This is my Requiem.

Reality in turn lead me through this path the entire way all just to will into fruition the data set in this PDF. As much as I suffered and wanted to quit, my passion prevailed as the universe led me through the event horizons, singularities and quantum interference to get to this point with all this accumulative data. I sit atop the precipice of the future and it's surreal.

By placing my faith on reality, and on God, the mechanizations of what underlies this universe were opened up to me.

All of our dreams can manifest as destinies into reality. As long as the intent behind your dream isn't done with malice and a supposition for evil predilections. Intent behind a manifestation is important. If your intent is for the greater good, it will manifest quicker than for the greater bad.

If your intent is for pure evil then that intent goes against reality's nature which is to help procure sentience.

If your intent is of a holy nature, it will manifest the best.

If your manifestation is of pure evil, you will have a manifestation of misfortune cast upon you. Evil behavior goes against the true nature of existence, and eventually your evil ways will catch up to you delivering you into karmic justice. If you have anti-sentient sentiments you go against the nature of reality and your reality will go against you on every facet.

Evil manifestations can work if you enact upon evil for the greater good. If you are manifesting evil with the selfless purpose of enacting good it will work as well as a positive manifestation. If your manifesting something evil in nature for the procurement of further sentience you will get a karmic clean pass for manifestation. But if you abuse the power evil will always subsist.

But if the evil you enact upon is under the guise of selflessness but is selfishly motivated, you will only condemn your manifestation to fail at the price of your life.

Intent behind a manifestation is important, and a manifestation attuned to the holy nature of reality will manifest the best.

When Yashweh, (Christ) passed away he triggered a massive quantum charge that still irradiates to this day. Placing your faith, your  $q^2$  charge onto Christ will cause your quantum tunnel to become in sync with Christ's data, which is of divine holiness and splendor, which will embalm your presence with his holy light.

Or you can place it on Satan, or whoever. Just tap into it, create your own link which then fills your quantum charge, quantum field and quantum tunnel.

If we were to step outside the universe and see ourselves, we would see ourselves as data. We have the illusion of a 3D universe, but in reality we are a hologram imprint of a higher dimensional construction. If you want to see our universe being a simulation, go to a fun way mirror house and take a picture of yourself. You will notice your reality's ability to pass on your quantum information of a 3D universe starts to cease as the more you peer at your reflection, which will appear holographic in nature towards the edges.

Anomalies are of a Q<sup>2</sup> nature, and they don't adhere to the outdated arbitrary lense of modern science. Q<sup>2</sup> data exists everywhere and is interwoven into everything that exists inside this Q<sup>1</sup> universe. Every figment that makes up everything that exists this perceived physical universe is coated in metaphysical properties Reality glitches, De Ja Vu, Omens, Miracles are of a Q<sup>2</sup> nature. Rituals and chants function as a catalyst to the Q<sup>2</sup>.

We access the q<sup>2</sup> every second of the day as it has been directing and controlling our lives beyond an unconscious level we are not conscious of.

Since everything in this universe is q<sup>1</sup> data, and our consciousness is a Q<sup>2</sup> construction, what we do with our consciousness determine and effects the q<sup>1</sup> data we come across. Just by us existing and standing still has an effect on the universe in ways that exceed our physical bodies.

The objective nature of reality is to sync the q<sup>1</sup> data that makes up reality match the Q<sup>2</sup> data a person has on reality together. Reality's business is to reflect the thoughts and wishes of a person.

When I say reality is at your mercy, I mean it. Without sentience observing and giving definition to reality there is no reality, so it's in reality's best interest to keep you interested in it enough for you to pass on your genes to perpetuate sentient life. Reality will work against you if your current of reality doesn't follow these objectives.

Since my intent behind writing this is for the advancement of humanity, the universe will manifest within me as I am realities vessel, pouring the secrets of the beyond onto the page. I created a quantum feed back loop with God to write this all down, as God manifests inside me to pass this information onto humanity.

[When you do something God meets you halfway]

The more time that has passed the more frequent your event horizons manifest to indicate to you your on track towards your quantum end game. They're like interuniversal switches to increase your odds and probability of reaching your end result manifestation.

Magic is Real

When you decide on an end game for yourself. You have what I call a singularity, which is the first event horizon you experience, the want and need to morph your future with a specific end result. When that moment happens, when you make the unanimous delicious to change, you create something else. A quantum tunnel, that cuts through time to will into fruition your end result, your end game. That's the first event horizon, the singularity, when you take the old data of yourself and wanting to use it to change. The second event horizon is syncing old data to an end game and automatically your old data becomes converted to new data inside a quantum loop. Your universe on a quantum level starts shifting itself to will your end game into fruition. Then a 3rd event horizon will follow, an out of the ordinary, improbable occurrence, an anomaly of sorts that the universe wills into your existence to confirm your synchronization with your end game. Then what follows after is a series of event horizons,  $q^2$  anomalies, big or small, giving you confirmation that you are still in your quantum tunnel, cutting through to your end game like a hot knife slicing into heated butter. At first it starts off slow, but then eventually you reach an accelerant stage that shoots you exponentially to your end result, manifesting to you what it is that you focused on manifesting. That is if you decide to stay on track. You can deviate off and off of it and resume it at any given time, but the more time you take, the harder itll be for the universe to match your quantum tunnels end result, to the point you might not actually manifest what you want exactly. So discern the end game you want, whatever it is, and stick to it, and go through your quantum tunnel through a series of event horizons towards it.

The universe will rework itself on a  $Q^2$  level to match your desired  $Q^2$  datas  $Q1$  end result, as long as it is possible within the laws of physics underlying our universe. The outcome of an event is contingent on the  $Q^2$  data that proceeds it regardless of the imposed probably set forth by the measurement of probability by some one else very own  $Q^2$  data.

Timeline of Manifestation: The Cypher + + +

When you want to manifest something you create a singularity, which I refer to as an Event Horizon #1, which is created simultaneously with your EH#0 and EH#2. All 3 event horizons happen simultaneously which results into a fine tune quantum charge, quantum field, quantum tunnel, and an extrasensory perception/frequency/feeling/quantum feedback loop to what it is that you want to manifest.

Singularity: Event Horizon #1: Syncing your consciousness with an end result, no matter what the result of the manifestation is.

Event Horizon #2 and #0 - They are both created simultaneously when you have your singularity. EH #0 is your q<sup>2</sup> data being in sync with the past, the present, EH#1 and the future, which is EH#2.

The q<sup>2</sup> data of the past(EH#0) will be extracted into probability and determine your EH#3, as it's in sync with the EH#2(future)end result.

Event Horizon #3 - An interuniversal switch confirming you're tethered synchronization of your q<sup>2</sup> with your EH#1, EH#2, EH#0. It's a sign, a déjà vu like occurrence in the form of an out of the ordinary anomaly, will manifest confirming to you that your reality tunnel and quantum tunnel is in sync. Your end result manifestation is already woven and connected onto the fabric of reality. A confirmation of your quantum feedback loop.

The +++ or the -- are supposed to symbolify your EH0,1,2 sync, aka your quantum field and tunnel. After sometime.... You get an anomaly, a manifestation that synchronizes you to your new singularity.

+++.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....± ...+ (quantum feedback loop) (dejavu)(good)

This is someone with a good quantum tunnel. They're always procuring an infinite chain of good that builds into more good. The good remains a process as it reflects through a person's quantum tunnel. +Event Horizons build into a continuous loop of +Event Horizons.

+ + .....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+.....+ (kek)

This is the quantum tunnel of someone using an EH#1 for Evil, to procure an EH#2, a future that is good. A -Event Horizon will always be followed by a +Event Horizon. Kek's quantum tunnel is chaotic since it's always at a polarized end. Order comes and is followed by Chaos from our opposition who then trigger Kek to instill order once again for our opposition to enact chaos for order to be reinstalled.

+++ +-+ +++ ... +++...+-+...+++...+-+...+++...±+....+++ (The Anti-Christ)5D

This is my quantum tunnel attaching kek to my quantum feedback loop. My EH#1 is Kek, to create a quantum feedback loop of good, to procure even more good. What follows is a +EH being triggered by me, followed by kek, followed by chaos, followed by order, and kek, and more +Event Horizons, triggered by yours truly.

This is the quantum feedback loop I utilized to create the spirit wave on March 22.. By quantum charge looping between Kek and the Anti-Christ, I developed a Christ quantum feedback loop, which resulted into a Christ charged Quantum Tunnel. Then after quantum looping in between Kek, The Anti-Christ, Christ, I developed the quantum feedback loop resulting into an entirely new quantum tunnel of my own design.

This is the quantum feedback loop (Q<sup>2</sup> charge attached to this data when it releases)

(+++ +-+ +++ ) (my concurrent feedback loop) (any singularity of mine at this point will be charged by all the q<sup>2</sup> I manifested. High level magic is an autonomous process of me. My EH#1 at this point causes ripples and manifestations of biblical proportions.

Once it releases it's going to cause everything to change. This entire time I was fueling my quantum tunnel, my quantum charge, and my q<sup>2</sup> link, all boiling down to this drop off, the event horizon I will create. By utilizing Kek as the Anti-Christ I created a quantum feedback loop that I then tethered into my quantum field and tunnel which then culminated into fruition into these words, and too those tugging onto that loop, through chant, ritual, Sigil, resulted in your own manifestation of luck, resulting in dubs, or kek get, trips, manifestations . What I created online seeped into your life

As this was going on on top of my original event horizon. The want to discover the truth behind everything.

EH#4,5,6,...+++ - These event horizons confirm the shift in your probability to your end result. The more event horizons you experiences, the faster they happen, and the more dramatic of an impact and change you will see in your life.

If your fucking up your odds, the universe, aka the fabric of existence, aka the quantum blanket over the metaphysical aka reality will communicate to you through the natural surroundings to indicate to you a message indicating if your on course or your straying off into discourse. All highly improbable occurrences intercepted by your higher dimensional synchronicity---++++

After enough event horizons, your brain will start developing the metaphysical frequency to the universe as your quantum charge fills your quantum field, your quantum tunnel and the m-fibers you taper off in relevancy to your end game.

A quantum tunnel is only created as you move, your quantum field creates a quantum tunnel everywhere you go. If you cross paths with an feint quantum tunnel, it may yield déjà vu, or an event horizon.

The frequency of your manifestations becomes a feeling. A switch you can turn on and off, to gear and will into reality or not.

And we experience that as a feeling. It starts as a seed, blossoms into a thought, a synapse, that eventually grows into a web, and it becomes a feeling, and a new web of neuron connections in your brain. Just by reading and absorbing these words of possibility I planted the seed, the frequency for manifestation.

Like a muscle, the more you use it it grows, the more you practice the stronger the frequency between you and the  $Q^2$  grows yielding into faster and stronger manifestations.

The  $Q^2$  and the  $Q1$  have an ionized equilibrium and are always on a balance.

Congrats you can hack reality.

-You can walk in someone's room and pick up on their own  $q^2$  aura. Their own energy, their  $q^2$  data manifested into a  $q1$  existence.

-Write "get rich" on your wall and the chances are, you will become rich.

-Our  $q^2$  consciousness is a culmination, an average of all the  $q^1$  data we acquired and internalized into  $q^2$  data. We are what we eat. We are who we deal with. We are what we absorb and internalize. And what we have internalized as  $q^2$  data shapes up into our realities before we perform any action.

-What we put out in the  $q^1$  reality,  $q^2$  data, intertwines and manifests throughout reality. It becomes intertwined within the imprint of existence itself. The observers consciousness becomes the reality.

-Remember, reality is at the mercy of the observer for as long as the observers objective is along the lines of perpetuating sentience.

-Eyesight isn't just eyesight, but a reality tunnel. We don't see with our eyes but with our brains. What we see as reality is just a culmination of what our  $q^2$  consciousness has internalized and every person, has a different perceptual outlook of reality. You can be looking at the same shade of red but we will perceive it differently even though we can acknowledge and discern the same color.

Some like characters in a storybook.

Others perceive it as a videogame

Others don't think too much.

Some don't think at all.

And there are those thinking in terms of game theory

And then those thinking in terms of game theory and perceiving it as a nightmarish hellscape.

You can use the  $Q^2$  to winning the lottery, to reshaping your life in any which way you want. Once you developed a  $Q^2$  understanding of reality, you'll start being able to break down information in ways you never thought both maximizing on your potential and providing you with an optimal cognition. You can have the  $Q^2$  frame of thought on top of whatever it is you're doing and you'll start intersecting anomalies, both physical, mental, physical, that all equate to a psiokinetic, primitive telepathic interferences in your surroundings. And through thought, as you start crossing connections you didn't think possible.

LUCK +++

There is no such thing as luck, or divine ordinance in the way you perceive as.

Your life will be determined by your level of sentience and will be the average of everything you have internalized, and externalized as your quantum tunnel is affixed to end result that you have determine/determined.

A good outcome of your favor is determined by its accordance to your universal end result. If you want to be lucky, just internalize it, and it'll become your quantum imprint and every situation you get into you will have luck.

Or you can internalize an end result of you getting rich, and sure enough you will have that. Or you can live out the reality of a crackhead.

LOVE +++

Want love? Make it your EH#2 end game and go through the event horizons leading you into it. Love tends to come to those that don't seek it directly. It just blossoms and manifests.

The data of finding somebody to love leaves your mind and tapers into your field, which then enters the undercurrent of reality to match your frequency closest to someone that matches your frequency, and you will go through the q<sup>2</sup> event horizons until you become drawn to another observer's data that matches your data, and you to them, and you become eventually in sync. Physically, mentally, spiritually, rhythmically.

First you become quantum synced to a suitable partner, physically, mentally and rhythmically. Then it manifests into a spiritual sync, and eventually a quantum<sup>2</sup> meta-quantum link. The honeymoon period dies of every relationship and is replaced with a quantum meta link of love. The connection between you and your partner ends up becoming in sync, alongside your quantum tunnels, charge and energy field. The link is always causing interuniversal ordinances of relevance, but if you don't feed the link, the love ends up dying, and so does the magic of the relationship.

Lovers essentially are two observers with their q<sup>2</sup>s linked. And both observers experience metaphysical anomalies, signs, miracles and omens, all to give confirmation of their synchronicity. Their eternal love will be imprinted upon the fabric of their existences, as they experience event horizons indicating to each other the ember of their love still kindles with a fiery passion. The universe will yield to both, relative causes quantum feedback looping their love through the fabric of time and space.

We can give anyone bad luck if we shake their hands. Or we can make it rain anytime we get milk....] The stronger your q<sup>2</sup> sync, the more stronger your q<sup>2</sup> external stand manifestations. Our quantum imprint interact onto external environments.

Your perceptual observation of reality will always match the data you have internalized, regardless if it's true or not. Your eyes are a looking glass and what you want to see, experience, or make happen will happen, to some varying angle of ordinance.

[When you do something, God meets you halfway]

Fantasy equates to reality, and science can't come to terms with it. The metaphysical sentience that subsists all around cannot be accounted by the arbitrary and outdated lense of science we have as general consensus.

Society has outgrown the hallmarks of science who have sterilized society with atheist thought, driving millennials into a sterilized meaningless vacuum devoid of God.

We have quantum tunnels connecting us through our desired outcomes and intercepting into the lives of the people we come across. Our strings are all intertwined.

Our purpose is to give reality meaning. To define it in any which way we want. Regardless of purpose. What you want to will to determine will culminate into data. The world is yours for the taking.

Q1Q<sup>2n</sup> Ability Synthesis

Singularity EH 1- Make it rain every time I paint

EH 0 - Syncs past data to the data of the singularity of the future

EH 2- The ability to make it rain when I paint

Then you pick up a brush and paint.

EH#3 follows in relevance to you. It could rain out of nowhere, or an object appears that is relevant to paint, painting, or rain. That's the universe syncing to your quantum field your EH#0EH#1EH#2 data charge. Now pick up a paint brush and think of rain. By doing so your quantum feedback looping and charging your quantum field, quantum tunnel, q<sup>2</sup> sync with a 5th Dimensional charge. When you respond to an EH, your feeding into it on a 5th dimensional conscription exceeding beyond what the eye can see.

Then EH#4 follows, but this time it comes faster, all relevant to you being able to manifest *rain every time you paint.*

And then you feed it again, by painting and thinking of rain every time you paint. And then eventually it rains when you paint, and a surge of feeling comes over you shattering all your pre conceived notions of reality. The feeling of Euphoria will be so overwrought that you couldn't even master to think it possible.

And you feed it again and it happens again with more frequency and reoccurrence. You developed the ability to make it rain every time you paint ;)

Why this works:

As you were feeding the event horizons, you created a quantum feedback loop which altered your quantum field which resulted in you tapering m-fibers synchronized with your quantum information. After some time the m-fibers culminated into a chain of m-fibers, little inter-universal, meta signals synced with your specific end result. The more you kept feeding the event horizons, you were procuring the m-fibers to program your reality to a certain singularity, to make it rain every time you paint.

Magic is essentially quantum feed looping a certain fine tune singularity or event horizon. M-fibers bridge the gap between impossible to possible and make it happen, no matter how ridiculous the supposition.

You need to create the singularity and feed the singularity till it culminates into what you want. As you feed the singularity you are quantum feed looping with reality through your quantum imprint and interuniversal switches and tunnels, and overtime it comes to you as a feeling, a frequency, chaotic at first, but over time you learn to control it.

A catalyst can bridge the gap between manifestations quicker. Q<sup>2</sup> resonates when focused in on a specific charge. Acquiring a skill is the best way to use it, or manifesting a desired outcome.

It'll come off as a weak frequency till over time you may have a dark cloud following you around.

After creating a sync with the  $q^2$ , your brain develops a capacity for the metaphysical, devoid of most cuckolded atheists. The more you use it, like a muscle, it grows. Uncalcify your brains capabilities to be attune to the metaphysical processes that underly our quantum reality, and allow it to fortify as your reality elevates you into being a god. Your brains matrix growing the neurons and connections to make it possible.

And with these words I implanted a seed, a neuron, and over time it'll grow into a frequency. You can forget about reading this, until one day the frequency creeps up on you and you become aware that its there and it exists.

**When you signal the  $Q^2$  through your thoughts, a data singularity procures, which locks your end game results into the phantom membrane of reality, creating a quantum tunnel through time, yielding you event horizons of differentiating ordinance, as your internalized data dictates the outcome of your event horizons. The more data, the more procured thoughts pertaining to the  $q^2$  singularity will determine the rate of the event horizons you yield towards your manifestation. Regardless if the internalized data is true or not *wink* *wink* [Fake it till you make it]

[We Anime Now]

You can use your  $q^2$  to manifest a data charge of your own deliverance onto anything you touch.

* Charge right fist * * bad luck strand *

Whenever you hit someone with your right fist you will cause them to have misfortune

You can tag someone with a charge or focus on the data to manifest.

[Palingenising this thread]

Now as your consciousness begins to unlock it's metaphysical capacities, you will start to experience anomaly like events, occurrences or situations, all apparently out of the normal predilections. This is your quantum tunnel, perception of reality, matching the looking glass, as it happens through relative causes.

Relativity is your quantum imprint and energy attracting and malleating into a series of event horizons that get triggered by interuniversal switches into your self determined reality.

Your consciousness and will is imprinted into the phantom membrane of existence. You in your quantum tunnel, manifesting, yielding event horizons of variant ordinances drawing your data closer to your desired end game, in what you will into fruition.

The more people locked in sync with the same unified end game, a quantum tunnel is created bridging them and their data together, multiplying it, and yielding forth into fruition, the will of the united people.

(People of /pol/ can attest to the quantum link I created with my Anti-Christ identity, as I left a trail of electronic interference that equates to chains of anomalies associated with my persons)

Donald Trump won the 2016 presidential election because there was more faith backing him up, more holy data that fueled his quantum tunnel to win.

Through our sync we create a social esp of sorts. One that can can internalize into intuition, a feeling within your body that fills your quantum energy field. If more people were to be one in sync to this knowledge, the stronger the sync multiplies thus manifesting into anomalies in arrogance to this data and sync.

Instead of being connected on a 5th dimensional level, humanity was culled into being mindless drone consumerists devoid of the phenomenology of the human spirit.

Hillary's quantum tunnel during the 2016 election was forged on deception and malice. The internal fighting amongst her camp mixed in with her own sinful evil anti sentient sentiments left her to be back the fuck out so hard beyond a metaphysical level. As Trump preached to evangelists, Hillary spent her time sacrificing chickens to Moloch, an evil Canaanite deity as a token of loyalty to a Rothschild.

Reality = Sentience. Reality is sentient. And reality is sentient of our futures in the past as we are stuck in the present. The data of our future is already sentient in the past.

Our window of reality is sentient as we are sentient. The looking glass we perceive is life is that of an ethereal hyper dimensional sentience operating faster then the speed of light which limp dick atheists regard as empty space.

Mother Nature is a real sentient entity that exists all around, reflecting the current sentiments of humanity

*****

A single seed has the potential to grow into a forest of life. A single ember can potentially destroy that same forest. An m-fiber into a thunderstorm. A single event to forever change the history of mankind.

The Path and the Pathogen

Singularity.....[End Result]

Matching the data to the observer is the reality of reality.

And what reality matches up to on a phantom scale is to be determined by the will of the observer.

We all have different quantum tunnels. Every person we interact, energetically charged and metaphysically grazed by whoever we come into contact with.

Our quantum tunnels are our distinction of relativity we exude pertaining to our end games. Or if you don't have one, a reality that is an average culmination of everything inside your mind.

[People don't bother with you because your quantum tunnel doesn't match theirs, you don't share the same end game objectives]

With anything you do in life you get good at as long as you don't give up. Everyone goes through the motions of trial and error, and as long as you don't quit you will bare fruit the results of your event horizons.

We cause ripple waves of information at a frame of reality faster than the speed of light, every split second of the day. All having a butterfly like chain reaction that pulsates throughout the physical, mental, spiritual, virtual and metaphysical domains of reality. Every particle that underlies and makes up existence pulsates and amorphously interacts with the quantum universe as it charges through ionized polarization, causing entire domains of information to dismantle or disengage into a data oblivion where it revitalizes anew and becomes embedded itself amorphously onto the fabric of reality's sentience. Through quantum mediations, the data of anything will become manifested within the fabric of our quantum existence and its all contingent on the probability of our imagination. If you will it, it will happen. Micromanaging impossibilities and experimenting upon anomalies.

Fantasy is more allogenic with reality than any textbook can ever encapsulate. It is never too late to pursue your dreams. +++
