5 MINUTES WITH...HOT SINCE '82

You played at the very first AMP Lost & Found Festival in 2015. Was that your first time in Malta?

I had played Malta a few years before, there's always been a healthy house music scene on the island and it's a beautiful place. Interesting mix of Mediterranean, old colonial Britain and Arabic influence, I like it!

On the back of an incredible summer with gigs across the globe and your residency at Pacha with 'Labryinth', what's in store for rest of the year?

Music music music! Spending so much time in the studio at the moment working on different projects. This summer, it's proved very difficult to knuckle down get stuff finished. I'm excited!

We've witnessed a number of special b2b sets at your gigs in recent months. If you could go B2B with anyone, who would it be?

Well I've always loved the New York scene and influence so I guess it would have to be Frankie Knuckles or Larry Levan at The Paradise Garage.

It's getting to the end of the night (or the after-party) and the dance floor is starting to flag, what tune do you drop to bring it back up?

Ron Spitteri - Multiply, it's a new one but just one of those records that gets everyone's hands in the air. Simple yet very effective!

We recently announced our line-up for next summer with a very special game of AMP Lost & Found Bingo with Annie Mac. Give us your best 'Hot Since 82' bingo rhyme...

Well it's simple really 'Two fat ladies... 88' so It must be 'Hot Since... 82'
