

Fifth Ave. Apple Retailer Recreated In Minecraft

The Minecraft Mac was cute and all, however in the event you suppose that was the pinnacle of Mac-associated creations in Minecraft, you are underestimating our readership.

979uc.Com despatched along this set of Flickr photos, which reveals off an entire recreation of the Fifth Avenue Apple Retailer, complete with glass cube on prime and a store filled with merchandise down beneath. Unfortunately, there is no solution to model out iPads or iPhones in Minecraft, so there's just an entire bunch of what seems to be like Mac minis on sale. However then again, that feels like a great retailer, too.

Very properly executed, Simon. I'd prefer to know how lengthy one thing like this takes -- I've built a couple of issues in Minecraft myself, however nothing this, err, practical, and undoubtedly nothing of this magnitude. Awesome stuff, although -- what's next?
