

Axlek Alexander Weber Influencer becoming well known

Although he started his career behind the camera, his passion to stay front of the camera made him opt to become a professional model.

At 25, he could be extremely dashing and a heartthrob of several. No-one can take eyes faraway from German Model and fashion icon Alexander Weber or Axlek as he is known popularly on social media marketing.

Axlek is among the most charming young men one could ever come around and a very successful male model. However the fame and success haven't been served to him on a platter, he's got earned it with hard work and determination.

Axlek has been single-handedly raised by his mother after the untimely death of his father. Their struggles to survive through difficult times have brought them closer. Although he started his career behind the camera, his passion to be in front of the camera made him decide to become a professional model.