

The City of Light

France is probably the most frequently traveled European countries. It is a blend of romance and beauty, and contains a population of over 50 million people. Although the majority of the population is Catholic, other religions and belief systems are represented as well, including Islam and Judaism. France is a nation that has fascinated writers, artists, composers, historians, and scientists through the entire centuries.

France, in Western Europe, covers mainly historic cities, majestic alpine mountains and beautiful Mediterranean beaches. Paris, its largest city, is famous for its historic architecture, fashion boutiques and exquisite art museums like the Louvre and many others. The country is known for its exquisite wines and rich culinary arts. Lascaux, the country's old and famous cave drawings, verify its fascinating history. Similarly, Lyon, the capital of France, is reputed because of its amazing artwork and its culinary delights.

The famous Leaning Tower of Paris, located in the center of the town, is another example of French architecture and taste. Tourists visiting the country are enamored by the looks of the tower and its own unique design. The Leaning Tower, which collapsed in 16 Algerian Wars was the first building to be hit by way of a bullet and became symbolic of war. An instant fact about France reveals the fact that Paris is home to several of the world's famous landmarks, including: The Eiffel Tower, The Louvre, The Mona Lisa, The Vendors Fountain, The Arc de Triomphe, and many more.

Some interesting architectural buildings are the Arc de Triomphe, The Mona Lisa, and The Champs Elysees. The most famous landmarks in France may be the Eiffel Tower, which attracts an incredible number of visitors around the world. An instant fact about France also reveals that The Arc de Triomphe is considered one of the Seven Wonders of the World. The tower is recognized as the tallest building in all of France and is well known for the iconic image of the baby Jesus perched on a cross.

A Paris tour is definitely an unforgettable experience with its architectural wonders and breathtaking view. A number of the other iconic buildings in France include: The Louvre Museum, The Arc de Triomphe, and The Porte de la Cathedrada. The Eiffel Tower is known as to be the tallest & most distinctive tower in all of the planet. A Paris tour is without a doubt an experience of an eternity, with all of its iconic buildings.

A Paris tour is incomplete without a trip to the Louvre. It houses probably the most famous collections of Paintings on the globe, as well as the most popular museums in existence. Folks from all over the world flock to Paris each year to take in this amazing museum and gallery. The whole planet can learn much concerning the culture, history, and arts of France from The Louvre. There are several attractions round the Eiffel Tower, such as the Arch de Triumph, the Latin Quarter, and The Square at Parc des Princes.