AFS AIR FLOW SYSTEM

ARMR's unique Air Flow System utilises two front and two back ventilation pockets, allowing air to pass through the garment, helping to maintain an even body temperature.

AFS+ AIR FLOW SYSTEM PLUS

Garments featuring AFS+ have the benefits of our AFS as well as full length 2 way arm ventilation zipper. This allows a large volume of cooling air to circulate through the jacket and is extremely easy to open and close depending on what level of air flow is required.

ARMR BALLISTIC NYLON

A thick, tough, synthetic nylon fabric originally developed by the DuPont corporation as a material for flak jackets to be worn by WWII airmen to protect them from flying debris and fragmentation caused by bullet or artillery shell impacts. The material can be produced in differing weights, or 'denier' (Dn) which is a measure of the linear mass density of the fibres. ARMR designers specify denier carefully to ensure just the right balance of flexibility, weight and protection depending on a garments intended use.

3D BUBBLE BACK

ARMR's 3D 'Bubble Back' technology comprises of an insert consisting of multiple air pockets to create a 'layer' of fresh air within the garment. This allows air to circulate through the garment keeping you cool, comfortable and as a result less fatigued.

CE MARK

ARMR equipment features a whole range of protective armour depending on a garments intended use and desired performance characteristics. These include systems for shoulder, elbow, forearm, back, hip, knee and lower leg protection. ALL ARMR impact protectors are manufactured to a very high quality, and ALL meet or exceed relevant European safety standards relating to motorcyclists protective clothing, each protector tested by measuring transmitted forces when impacted by a falling mass. The 'CE' mark is your guarantee of EEA regulatory conformity - ALWAYS insist on it.

EFS EXACT FIT SYSTEM

EFS provides the rider with all the adjustability needed to ensure a fit tailored to their body shape, allowing all riders to find optimal comfort. EFS critically enables a level of adjustment at 4 key areas; neck, arm, waist and hem.

These are all 'critical zones' which can allow ingress of water, rain, snow and UV rays; compromising the entire garment, and spoiling your riding enjoyment.

VISION TECH REFLECTIVE PANELS

Many ARMR garments now feature Scotchlite™ or Vision Tech reflective visibility panels, which are fully integrated into the design. Reflective material enhances your safety at night and in low visibility situations, creating a bright image by returning light back to its original source.

ARMR WATER CONTROL

ARMR garments utilise 3 different water control technologies which all feature breathable membranes which allow sweat out whilst stopping rainwater getting in. Choice of material is specified by ARMR designers depending on garment type and intended usage:

REISSA®

WATER-PROOFING

REISSA® is Armr's premium trademarked waterproof fabric. REISSA® has outstanding waterproofing qualities and achieves ultra-high vapour transmission thanks to a breathable hydrophilic polyurethane membrane. This extremely durable material is designed to provide real comfort in extreme weather conditions.

DRY TEK

DRY TEK is a high quality fabric especially designed to keep motorcycle riders dry and comfortable. The core technology consists a high absorption fabric which 'wicks' moisture away, and a breathable membrane which allows that moisture to escape and quickly evaporate on the garments surface. Additionally, DRY TEK materials are waterproof and wind-resistant.

ARMRTEX

WATER-PROOFING

ARMRTEX is ARMR's own brand entry-level waterproof system. Designed to provide just the same performance benefits as DRY TEK, ARMRTX keeps the rider cool and dry in exactly the same way - allowing sweat vapour to pass one way but stopping rain coming back in the other.

MSL MULTI-SEASONAL LINER

MSL consists of 3 layers: The jacket outer, a removable Dry-Tek waterproof and breathable membrane layer, and finally a base Thermoline liner. The thermal and waterproof layers can easily be removed depending on the weather. This technology is ideal not only for riders who choose to ride all year round but also for distance riders who find themselves riding through climate extremes from bitter, icy cold to hot and sunny conditions all in one day.

TLS TRIPLE SEAM

TECHNOLOGY

TLS provides extra durability and endurance for even the most intrepid ARMR warriors. Essentially a three-fold stitching technology, TLS gives garments a super strong seam structure.

This provides additional strength and support within your motorcycle garment which dramatically reduces the risk of tearing around critical 'high-wear' areas of the body, such as the elbows and knees.

DETACHABLE THERMOLINE LINER

A heat retaining thermal inner liner designed to keep the rider warm, this liner can easily be removed for milder riding conditions
