Halloween Celebrated In Grand Style By Residents Of All Ages

CHARLESTOWN residents of all ages celebrated Halloween with parties and a parade. From the tiniest of infants to our senior citizens, costumes, games and treats were the order of the day.

"Trick or Treaters" following the Halloween Parade around the Bunker Hill Monument, sponsored by the Charlestown Association of Parents. Jack-O-Lanterns of all shapes and sizes bordered the Monument grounds, lighting the way for the marchers.

REMINDER

The office of the Charlestown Patriot will be closed on Tuesday, November 11th in observance of Veterans' Day.

Deadline for copy will be Monday, November 10th at noon.

Charlestown Annual Elderly Thanksgiving Dinner

The annual Charlestown Elderly Thanksgiving Dinner will be held on Monday, November 24th between noon and 5:00 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 75 West School Street.

A full sit down turkey dinner with all the trimmings will be served. Organist, Wayne Height, will be among the many entertainers that will provide music for the dancing and listening pleasure of those in attendance.

All seniors 60 years of age or older are invited to submit their names for the FREE afternoon of gaiety (continued on page 12)

Annual Veterans' Day Services

The Annual Veterans' Day Mass, sponsored by Bunker Hill Post 26, The American Legion, will be held on Sunday morning, November 9, 1986 at 10:00 a.m. at Saint Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill Street.

A collation will follow at Bishop Lawton Hall. All are welcome to attend.

Lackluster Election Reflected In Charlestown Vote

The 1986 Massachusetts State Election on Tuesday, November 4th will probably go down in the record books as the most lackluster election in recent history. The Republican candidates offered no real challenge to the strong Democratic party in this state. Even the eight ballot questions failed to pull voters from the warmth of their homes.

Charlestown recorded a 48% voter turnout, with 4331 of the total of 8941 registered voters in this ward, Ward Two, casting their ballots. This was some 12 percentage points lower than the 1982 election, which saw a 60% voter turnout.

Suffolk County District Attorney Newman Flanagan, well known locally for his involvement with the Knights of Columbus, was the top vote-getter in Charlestown with 73% of the vote cast. He was unopposed in his quest for re-election. Representative Richard A. Voke also captured 73% of the vote, followed by Robert Rufo for Sheriff of Suffolk County with 72%.

Joseph Kennedy will replace retiring Congressman Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill in the Eighth Congressional District. Kennedy took 67% of the vote cast for that office in Ward Two, with Republican challenger

There were a considerable number of blanks in the vote on the eight ballot questions, ranging from 308 blanks on Question Two (state aid to non-public schools) to 1088 blanks on Question Eight (requesting the Federal Government to enact a national acid rain control program).

Even though the total vote in 1982 was 471 more than in 1986, a precinct by precinct comparison of the ballot question on state aid to non-public schools points out some of the changes in the make-up of the precincts over the past four years. The precinct comparison is as follows:

	1982	1986
1. yes	298	203
no	249	255
2. yes	225	225
no	133	364
3. yes	404	288
no	342	330
4. yes	331	217
no	180	241
5. yes	365	323
no	231	235

Film Lecture Series Continues At The Charlestown Branch Library

The Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street, is continuing its NEH lecture series on women's film roles, this Thursday evening, November 6th at 7:30 p.m.
Professor Robert Goulet will present the fourth lecture, entitled "Woman As Sacrifice." This program will examine how women subordinate their desires to those of spouses, lovers, and children in melodramas such as Stella Dallas with Barbara Stanwyck (1937), Now Voyager with Bette Davis (1942), Imitation Of Life with Lana Turner (1959). This pattern takes an ironic turn in Ordinary People with Mary Tyler Moore (1980).

This series is sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities Learning Library Program. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Boston University awarded academic degrees to 770 students this fall.
Among the graduates was Charlestown resident Nancy R. Ryan who received a MBA in Business Administration and Management.
Boston University is the fourth largest independent university in the United States, with an enrollment of more than 27,000 students in its 16 schools and colleges.

BOA Votes To Delay Action On Sheafe And Sackville Streets Proposal

by Rebecca Nevers

The Boston Zoning Board of Appeals voted on Thursday, October 30th to delay action on a proposal to develop a lot between Sackville and Sheafe Streets, requesting the developer and area residents to resolve their differences.

Developer Joe Fidler, along with Sheafeville Realty Trust, is proposing to convert the existing house at 17 Sackville Street from a two-family unit to a three-family unit.

Also proposed is the construction of a two-family unit at 19 Sackville Street and a two-family unit at 11-13 Sheafe Street.

However, neighboring residents claim that the proposal is too ambitious.

Stan Leonard of 21 Sackville Street, said he is concerned about the effect the new homes will have on an already severe parking situation in the area.

Leonard told board members, "If they put up this building, they're taking away parking. They add parking and they take away parking."

Mark Landsberg, architect for the developer, said six off-street parking spaces will be provided for the new homes.

Law requires developers to provide one off-street parking space for each new unit. Five new units are proposed.

But John Agri of 15 Sheafe Street, disagreed, saying that the number of on-street parking spaces will be reduced after construction is completed.

"Five spaces people use to park now on Cook Street Court and Sheafe Street would be gone," Agri claimed.

The owners of the new homes are allowed by law to use Sheafe Street and Cook Street Court, both private ways, to access their property. Cook Street Court, currently a dead end, is used by some residents for parking.

Paul Wedge of 9 Cook Street Court, said he parks where the planned entrance will be and three cars park in front of the proposed Sheafe Street units.

"It's overcrowded now," Wedge added.

Concerns also were raised about safety.

Wedge said the distance from the sidewalk to the street is approximately 18 inches. "Where they want to use Cook Street Court, coming up, it's blind," he said. "My kids can't see cars."

Residents contend the fire hazard would be increased by crowding an already dense area.

Paul Goodwin of 14 Sackville Street, said two fires could have been less damaging had fire engines been able to reach the sites more easily.

A fire in July 1985 destroyed five homes on Sheafe Street, and another fire on Wall Street destroyed seven homes. In both cases, fire engines had difficulty reaching the fires.

Landsberg said sprinkler systems will be installed in the homes to reduce the fire hazard. He also said the proposed construction does not block fire lanes, nor will the cars block the street because they will be parked on the property.

Fidler said the fire on Sheafe Street was severe because fire fighters had to run a hose from 300 feet away, to the nearest working fire hydrant. He said his property is 130 feet away from that fire hydrant.

The developers are basing their proposal on the fact that the lot did accommodate two three-family houses at one time.

"We are replicating what was on the site previously," Landsberg said.

In response to complaints that residents were not notified of meetings, Fidler said he attempted to meet with them. "We tried to show our revisions," Fidler said. "We were willing to listen, but they were saying not to do anything."

Fidler said he went door-to-door trying to notify residents of meetings, and he made phone calls to discuss the proposal. "But they wanted to wait until the meeting (Neighborhood Council)," he said. "We wanted to make a compromise and nobody wanted to compromise."

He said his plans have been scaled down from a total of nine units to seven units, and parking was increased from four to six units as a result of resident input.

"Our new proposal has changed considerably from our original proposal," Fidler added.

Despite concessions made by the developer, Councillor Robert Travaglini urged the board to reject the proposal.

"All communications that have come into my office on this matter have come via opposition," Travaglini said. "My instincts on this matter tell me they're trying to do too much too fast on too little space."

Councillor-at-Large Albert "Dapper" O'Neil also urged the board to reject the proposal.

"They've had the meetings," O'Neil said. "The community is aware of what's going on.

"Now they're waking up and realizing that every inch of land is being invaded," he added. "Let's not jam in everything we can in Charlestown."

Board member Chiu Ming-Sze requested Fidler draft plans and show the landscaping and adjacent properties.

"All I can see is car space (on the current plan)," Sze said. Board Secretary James Farmer suggested the vote be delayed. "I would rather defer it so they can discuss it," Farmer said.

The next meeting is scheduled for December 11th at 10:00 a.m.

ARRANGING YOUR MOVE

Finding a good moving company is the first step toward an easy move. The Yellow Pages are a good place to begin, but a word of mouth recommendation from a friend or neighbor is the best advertising any mover can have.

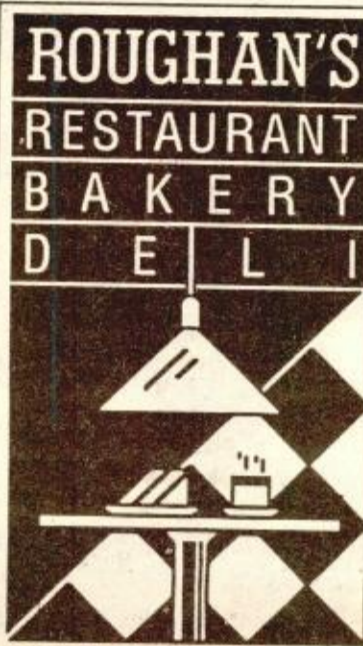

Talk to friends about their experiences, and ask your Realtor if he or she can recommend one or more reputable companies. Then call around to check weights and charges. You can save a lot of money by packing yourself, but doing it yourself may affect the mover's liability if anything is broken. Like other service organizations, moving companies offer a range of services and charges. Some charge by the hour for local and/or long distance moves. The rates may also vary depending on the weight of your furniture and other belongings. Once you narrow down your choices of moving companies, you can ask a representative from each company to visit your home and give you specific information about price and service options.

For professional service in buying or selling a home, contact Century 21, Silva Realty Associates. Call us at 242-7470 or stop by our offices at 142 Main Street, Charlestown.

Charlestown Working Theater To Visit Melbourne In Performing Arts Exchange

Four actors representing the Charlestown Working Theater will leave for Melbourne, Australia this next week as part of a cultural arts exchange. The Charlestown troupe will be part of a 30-member artistic group from Boston, who will perform in the Australian city for a week.

As part of United Airlines' Royal Pacific Cultural Exchange, this event is being sponsored by United Airlines and Sister Cities International to celebrate the airline's expanded service to the Pacific Basin. During October, seven groups from Melbourne performed throughout the City of Boston.

Representing the Charlestown Working Theater will be Mary Curtin-Stevenson and Don Stevenson, both residents of Charlestown; Susan McGinnis; and Roger Curtis.

The Charlestown troupe has selected "Seachange" for their performances during the Australian visit.

"Seachange" is Performance Art that combines aspects of dance, mime, and theatre without being any of those. It is a unique form, structured and developed like a musical composition, with stories and images kaleidoscopically twisting, fragmenting, turning and doubling back on themselves. Like a jam session in jazz, the performers never know exactly where they will end or exactly how they will get there. As they proceed, idea leaps from idea, image from image, multiplying, extending and transforming into totally new areas. The effect is magical.

"Seachange," with additional pieces written by Marty Kingsbury, is directed by Roger Curtis. Curtis began the Seachange Series in Washington, DC in 1972. Major early influences were the work of Robert Wilson and the event works of modern artists in New York. The work grew during Curtis' period of study at the California Institute of the Arts, where he received his M.F.A. He brought the work to Boston in 1976, producing five pieces at the Boston Arts Group. He received a citation for "Excellence in Directing" for his 1976 Seachange pieces, from Don Shewey of the Boston Phoenix. His other directing work includes Elizabeth Swados' "Nightclub Cantata," which won Best Director and Best Production awards from the Boston Theatre Critic's Circle. He is currently directing the Charlestown Working Theater's production of "Look Back In Anger."

About the rest of the cast: Mary Curtin-Stevenson is the Artistic Director of the Charlestown Working Theater (CWT). She is also the Producing Director, a Board Member and an Acting Teacher at CWT. Besides her CWT administrative work, Mary is a frequent performer/musician in the following companies: Seachange, The Domestic Resurrection Circus of the Bread and Puppet Theatre, The Festival of Light and Song, The Northeast Kingdom Puppet Theatre, and Mirror House Productions. Mary has studied acting privately with Roger Curtis, Tim McDonough and Vinnie Murphy — and she also holds an M.A. in Theatre Research from

PERFORMERS from the Charlestown Working Theater will visit Melbourne, Australia this month as part of a 30-member artistic group from Boston that will perform in that city for a week. The local group has selected "Seachange" to perform on this tour. There will be a preview of "Seachange" on Sunday evening, November 9th at 8:00 p.m. at the Theater, 442 Bunker Hill Street. Shown (l. to r.) Don Stevenson of Charlestown, Susan McGinnis, Mary Curtin-Stevenson of Charlestown, and Roger Curtis.

Emerson College. In her spare time, Mary is a professional Systems and Technical Services Librarian at Emerson College — and an alto saxophone player in the Bill Novick Big Band.

Susan McGinnis has worked with CWT on three major productions, one of which received two highly acclaimed awards: The Boston Theatre Critic's Circle and Boston Magazine's Best of Boston. A graduate in acting from Emerson College, Susan is currently working with Boston's "Guilty Children," a very popular improvisational comedy group. In 1984, she won Best Actress in a New England Theatre Competition for her role as Claudia Draper in "Nuts." She is an actress and a mother — and in those moments of boredom, she plays the role of a waitress in a Boston restaurant.

Don Stevenson is a professional drummer and perussionist. In Boston, Don studied jazz drumming and improvisation with Bob Gullotti of the Fringe and with drummer/educator Alan Dawson. His performance credits include work with: Jackie Byard (Boston), The Next Move Theatre (Boston), the On The Lam Street Band (New York City, Atlanta, New Orleans), the Bread and Puppet Theatre (Boston), and The Urge (Boston). He is also co-founder of Boston's Hub Jazz Ensemble and the Orbits Jazz quartet. When he isn't tinkering with microcomputers or playing with the Don Stevenson Trio, Don is the resident Drum Instructor and a Board Member at CWT.

Residents will have the opportunity to preview

"Seachange" on Sunday evening, November 9, 1986 at 8:00 p.m. at the Charlestown Working Theater, 442 Bunker Hill Street.

This performance will benefit the actors in this arts exchange program, for although transportation will be provided, the performers are responsible for their own room and board during their stay in Melbourne.

Tickets for this performance are $10.00 per person and reservations may be made by calling the theater at 242-3534.

Residents are urged to attend on Sunday evening to support these representatives of the community's theater and wish them well as they travel to Australia.

THE CAST of "Seachange" rehearse "living statues" as part of their performance that will be taken to Melbourne, Australia in an arts exchange with that city. Shown (top to bottom) Roger Curtis, Don Stevenson, Mary Curtin-Stevenson and Susan McGinnis.

To the Residents of Charlestown —

Thank you for your election day support.

I look forward to continuing to work for and with the residents of Charlestown.

Not For Nothin' But Did You Hear That

- The "No Right Turn" sign causing so much ado at the intersection of High, Pearl and Salem Streets has been removed!!
- Construction equipment has been spotted on Main Street! Work on the reconstruction process has been started. Too bad the warm summer months have been wasted — winter is fast approaching and work will be discontinued before you know it.
- "Townie Santa" cannisters can be found at local stores. Can Christmas be far away? Drop that loose change in there, folks. You know it will be put to good use!
- There were so many Halloween activities going on around town most areas had little or no goblins visiting their doors. The greatest exception, we hear, was Mishawum Park, where a steady flow of costumed visitors graced the doors of all inhabitants.
- A sandwich at Roughan's at City Square is out of this world!
- Voter turnout in Charlestown was 48% of the total registered voters. Not bad for a shoe-in election for the democrats — could it have been some of those questions on the ballot that made it interesting?
- Anything in Jamason's, especially their homemade ice cream, is marvelous . . .
- And speaking of food, the Annual Elderly Thanksgiving Dinner is going to take place on Monday, November 24th. Look for the notice in the pages of this week's Patriot for details.
- If you are on a diet, don't go near the Navy Yard and enter the doors of Blossoms! You would not believe all the good things they are offering there!

First Baptist Church Holds Service Of Installation

More than 75 persons attended the unique "Service of Installation" for the two new ministers at the First Baptist Church of Charlestown on Monument Square, on Sunday, October 26th.

The speaker was Dr. Roscoe Robinson, Executive Minister of the American Baptist Churches of Massachusetts representing 250 congregations across the Commonwealth. He pledged the denomination's support for the "restart" program of the Charlestown Church, which is getting under way.

An extensive "feasibility study" for the use of the building, located at 5 Monument Square, is underway. The firm contracted for the study is that of Johnson Olney Associates, 75 Kneeland Street, Boston.

The church's auxiliary meeting room, "Talbot Hall," has already been extensively redecorated. Contract negotiations are underway to repaint the small intimate sanctuary-chapel.

Arrangements are also being made with a reputable Boston Counseling Service to establish a satellite site at the church at least one day a week.

Mark Crosby, Associate Minister at the church, with several lay volunteers is involved in the establishment of a new youth program. Young people of high school age are welcome to participate. At present, the group meets Sunday morning at 9:15 a.m. and one evening a month.

A new Fellowship and Discussion Group is also getting underway in the second floor apartment space of the Church. It meets on Tuesdays at 7:30 p.m. and is open to anyone.

Following the worship service on October 26th, a luncheon was served in Talbot Hall. In the midst of the luncheon, Reverend Brian Murdoch, Rector of Saint John's Episcopal Church, arrived with a bouquet of colorful balloons to celebrate the occasion. His welcome was much appreciated by the gathered group.

Both Mr. Crosby and Dr. John M. Wilbur have pledged continuing cooperation with the other Charlestown churches, which has long been the tradition of the Baptist group.

Annual Thanksgiving Service

The First Church in Charlestown on Green Street, extends a cordial invitation to all residents of Charlestown to celebrate Thanksgiving at the Annual Thanksgiving Service to be held on Wednesday, November 26th at 7:30 p.m.

SPECIAL THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone at the Bunker Hill Health Center, doctors, secretaries and especially Dr. Barbara Penn for the kindness and prompt service given during my husband, Fred's, recent illness.

Dr. Penn gave my husband and I the confidence needed to get through this difficult time. A sincere thank you.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

A pleasant sight at the Building 42 Fall Brunch was the gregarious and enjoyable Sally Bouton. Greeting my mother and I at the first floor reception, she was hospitable and most helpful. This "Townie" handles the reception area in Constitution Quarters with skill, concern for others, and the most professional contribution. To Mr. Neil St. John Raymond, Sally is a beacon of conviviality.

A Parisian Cafe atmosphere unfolded before our eyes at the brunch. Tables were placed along the first floor in the central building, by the attentive and well represented catering staff. From the chaffing dishes, sausage and french toast were in abundance, in addition to fresh fruit, juices, coffee or tea. Autumn decorations were most attractive for this 11:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. social.

Mr. Raymond is striving to give something to his tenants in the form of this affair and others planned for the future. A nice gesture and function, thanks to a thoughtful developer and person.

A unique Massachusetts license plate has surfaced entering and exiting the Yard. On a fleet of white vans, the letters W.R.A. appears. They belong to the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, located within the Ironsides Building. I have written on this agency previously. As an update, they have been advertising periodically in the local publications for a sundry of clerical, mechanical and professional positions. What better location to work than in your backyard! In addition to the views, there is an immaculate administration headquarters to boot. For the beginner or for those in transition, avail yourself and contact the Personnel Department, 100 First Avenue, Charlestown Navy Yard. Let's get on this wave and ride it to success.

For the tourist and "Townie" who enter Gate 1, a unique sign greets all. Affixed to the adjacent wall is a plaque that describes do's and don'ts while aboard the USS Constitution. One that jumps out is "no climbing on the rigging." Forget about that caveat. How about all the "Townies" who haven't toured the glorious lady? I am sure the list is extensive. Well, don't be left out. Afford yourself this treat and come aboard and step into history. With the exception of Washington, DC, we are steeped in history so let's exercise this gift.

An update on Building 120, known as the John Paul Jones house, reveals that it is under the development of John Paul Jones and Morgan Associates Ltd. They are offering first class office space and suites through their exclusive agent, Peregrine White Company, 383-3033. It is most attractive, with its oversized windows allowing for spectacular views.

Some signs of the past are still present. On lower First Avenue painted on the building's facade: "Keep sidewalk clear of materials." Entering Gate 4 onto Fifth Street proceeding to the Park Service area is the Scale House. It is quite enjoyable to view a Jack O'Lantern in the window in lieu of ten wheelers.

When the fleet was in, City Square had its many military dress stores. Not long ago, mannequins dressed the windows, but time has retired them. A former store now houses Roughan's Restaurant, Bakery and Deli. This ground floor facility is open Monday to Saturday, 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., featuring a wide assortment of edibles. A take out service is highlighted. Under the aegis of Dave Foley, Annette Harkins, and Michele Bouchard; they bring a new dimension to a grand edifice. Stroll down to 10 City Square for a treat or give a call at 242-3380, for a delightful happening.

Chestnut Street Development Approved By Board Of Appeal

by Rebecca Nevers

A proposed residential development project for Chestnut Street was approved on Thursday, October 30th by the Boston Zoning Board of Appeals, giving developer Bruce Daniel a green light to build a 34-unit condominium complex on the site, which includes the former Buckley parking lot and the Legion property.

Half the land currently is owned by Daniel. The other half belongs to Bunker Hill Post 26, American Legion Building Association.

However, Daniel has entered into a purchase and sales agreement with the Legion for its property which will be finalized prior to the beginning of construction.

The stipulation attached to the sale requires Daniel provide a new home for the Legion.

Daniel said the Legion will be provided with a new hall in the basement of the building that will be entered from street level and will be relatively smaller than the existing hall.

Despite the decrease in hall size, Building Association President James W. Conway said the agreement is beneficial to the Legion.

"The building has been vandalized (over the years)," Conway said. "We don't have enough income" to properly renovate the building.

Conway said it would cost $300,000 to $400,000 to restore the building.

"We see this as a new life," he said. "It's good for us, it's good for the community."

Conway also said that he wanted to be recorded in favor of the development and asked the Board to approve the plans.

Legion leaders had sought proposals from other developers on the project, but accepted Daniel's as the best for the Legion and the community as it had less density, Conway said.

Daniel also agreed to establish a $100,000 community fund to be administered by the Legion. The money will be used for scholarships, charitable donations, community services and assistance to veterans.

However, several residents expressed their disagreement with the project, saying it is too dense for the area and that parking will be a problem.

Daniel said he addressed those concerns by reducing the original four-story structure to three stories and by planning for an underground garage.

He also altered the design of the building to "match the architecture of the neighborhood as closely as possible."

Daniel also increased the parking capacity from 38 spaces on the surface to incorporate an underground garage with 50 spaces and nine spaces on the surface.

The surface spaces will be deeded to the Legion, with four being used permanently and the other five, when not needed for Legion functions, will be used by visiting guests of the condo owners, Daniel said.

Each condominium owner will have one parking space that is included in the sale price of the unit and which cannot be resold. The 16 additional spaces will be offered for sale to abutters of the property, Daniel said.

Daniel said the proposed development will benefit the area.

"This site right now is a public nuisance," he said. "Development would eliminate that."

Daniel also informed the Board that the Mount Vernon Street abutters were being given a nine-foot easement, upon which a driveway would be constructed to allow them to drive up and park in their rear yards, if they so wished. In case of fire or other emergencies, vehicles will be able to use this driveway that will run between Chestnut and Mount Vernon Streets.

Some residents said they are opposed to the project because the structure is too dense.

Irene Bent of 36 Mount Vernon Street, is a direct abutter to the project.

She said the area is already too crowded and the project would make the problem worse. She said she fears the neighborhood will be changed by the complex.

"Charlestown has been a neighborhood in the strictest sense of the word," Bent said. "Somewhere they found gold."

Many people do not work and will be forced to move because they cannot pay the higher taxes associated with the increased value of real estate in the area, Bent added.

"I'm not here to buy and sell real estate," she said. "I am opposed because the neighborhood structure is dense."

Angela Dalton of 42 Chestnut Street opposed the project because of its density.

Judith McDonough of 28 Mount Vernon Street, also opposes the project.

She conceded that the project is "going in the right direction in terms of design" but, "the fact that there will be change on this lot is hard to accept."

Despite opposition, the Board approved the plan unanimously. One member, Chiu Ming Sze, abstained.

The Board approved the plan with the provision that Daniel incorporate the residents' ideas into the plan. He also was requested to submit detailed plans to the Board. The plan also is subject to review by the Boston Redevelopment Authority.

*The things we feel most deeply
Are the hardest things to say.
For dear Danny, Dad and Papa, we loved you
In a very special way.
It's not engraved in rarest gold
Or hung for all to see,
It's just engraved within our hearts
Your beautiful memory.
We hope you're happy, that somehow you know
How very much I and the children miss you
And how we love you so.

Attend Youth Leadership Conference

John W. Ezekiel of 28 Pleasant Street and Stephen E. Robinson of 20 Adams Street, both of Charlestown, were in a group of ten students of Don Bosco Technical High School in Boston who attended a Boston Area Youth Leadership Conference held at Northeastern University.

The conference was conducted by The Prevention Center of the Medical Foundation.

The goal was to educate students and assist in initiating peer leadership programs in their schools.

The students attended three workshops during the morning and afternoon sessions.

Richard Vanucci, a faculty member and moderator of the student council, and Bernadette Fitzgerald, the school nurse, also attended.

Friends Of The Library To Meet

The Friends of the Charlestown Branch Library will meet on Thursday, November 6, 1986 at 6:30 p.m. at the Library, 179 Main Street. The meeting will be held in conjunction with the NEH "Women In Film" series which has been running since October 13th.

A business meeting, commencing at 6:30 p.m. will precede the lecture. All members are encouraged to attend. The purpose of the meeting is to make programming decisions for the year and the participation of the membership is essential.

Guests and new members are welcome at this time. Refreshments will be served to conclude the evening.

Adult Discussion Group

Archaeologists Joan Gallagher and Ann Lembeck will present slides and bring artifacts to the Friday, November 7th meeting of the Adult Discussion Group at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street. Lembeck and Gallagher have been involved in the archaeological digs prior to the highway construction in City Square here in Charlestown. The program begins at 10 a.m.

On November 14th, Bob McGann, Director of the Charlestown Community Schools will be presenting the program to the Adult Discussion Group at 10:00 a.m.

By offering various programs for the elderly, the young learner and adults wishing to give education another try, the Charlestown Community Schools Program has addressed real community needs. McGann will discuss this agency's contribution to Charlestown.

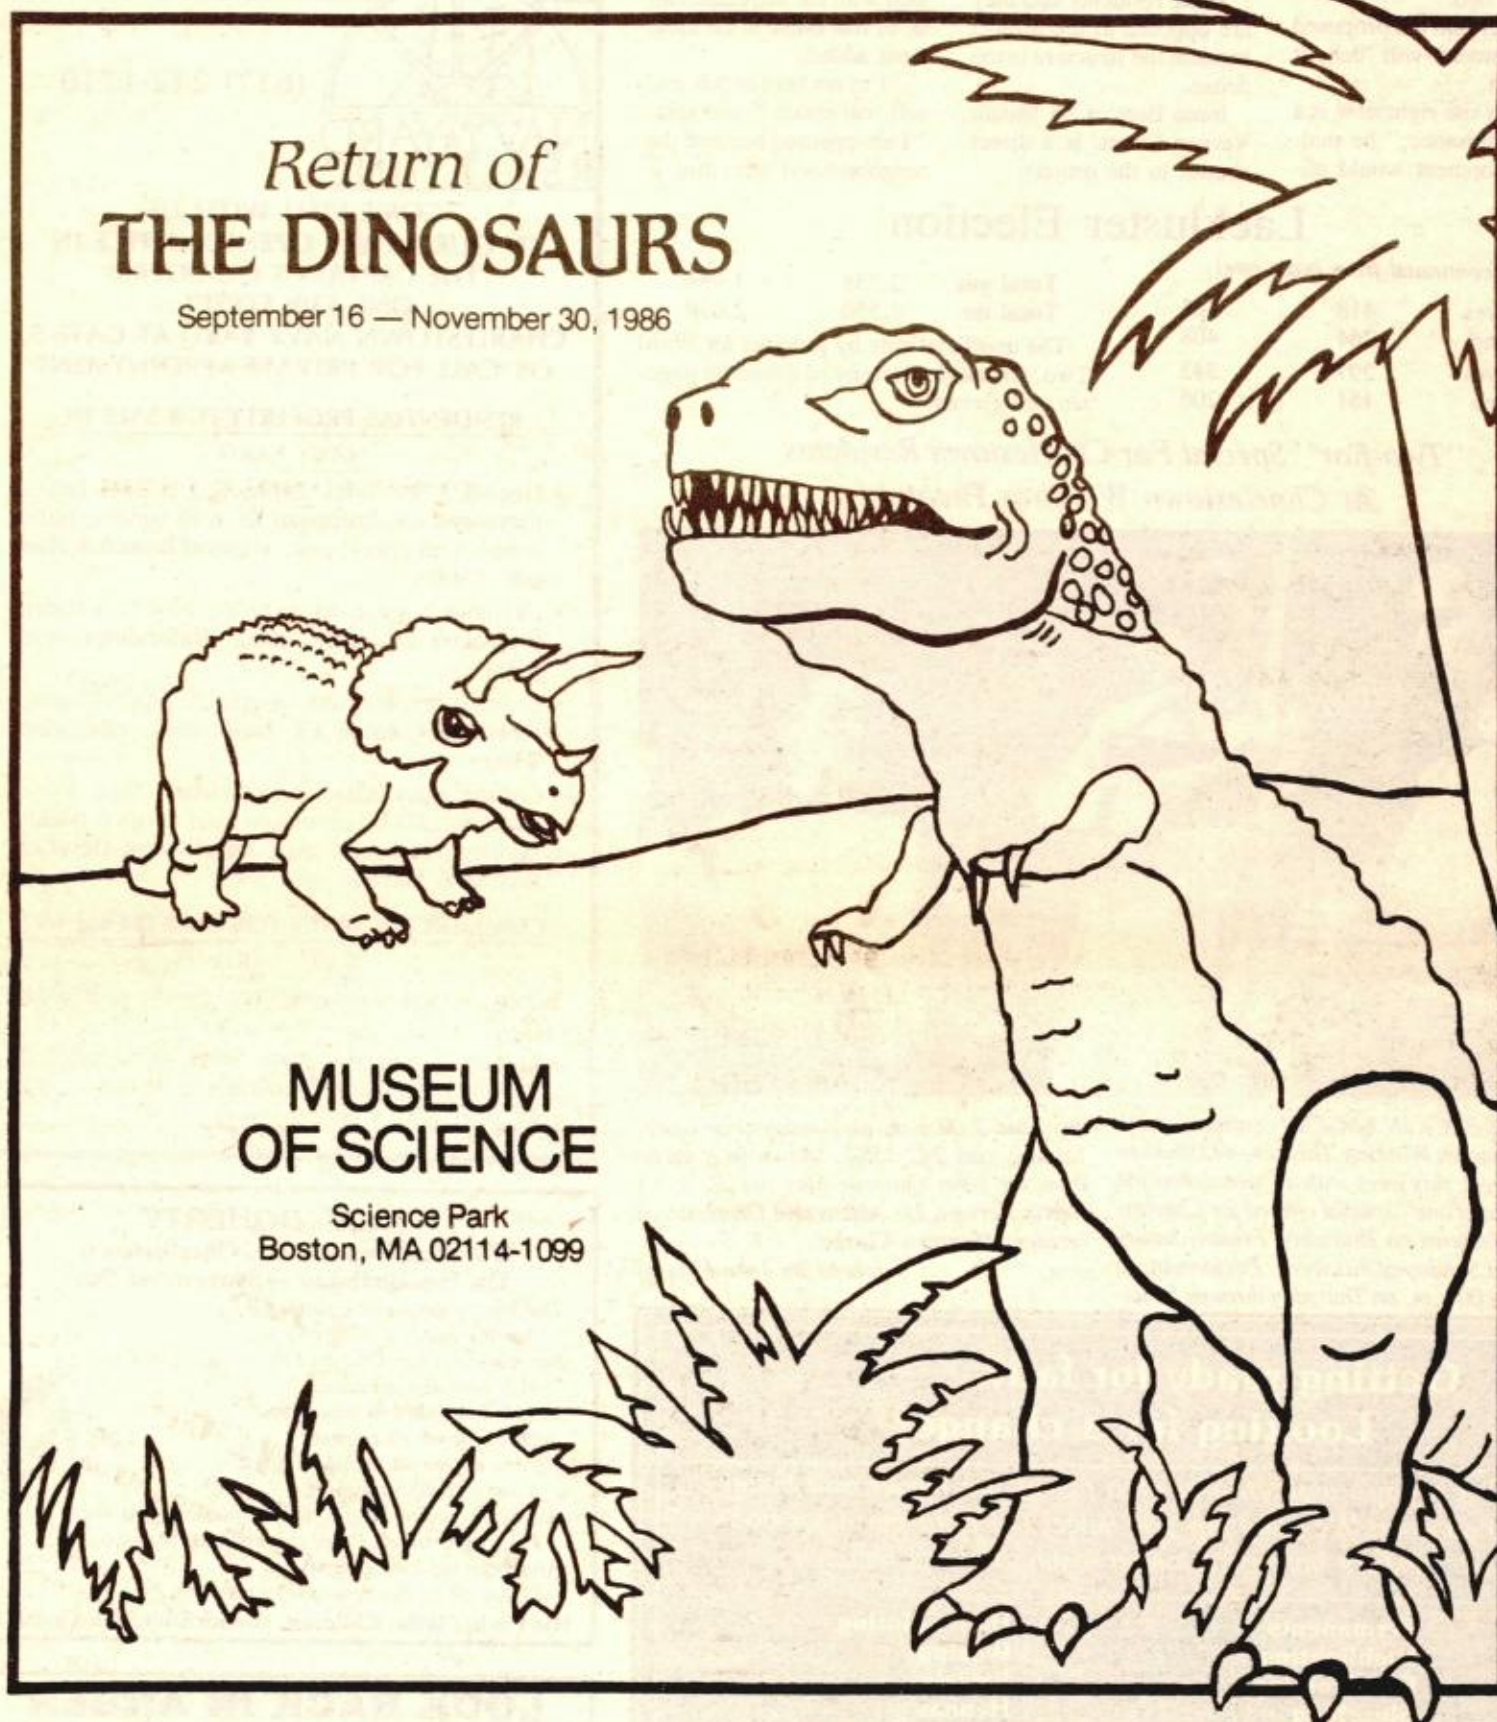

Suggested reading to provide background for this program includes: Teaching Reading To Adults by Edwin H. Smith, Aegism: Prejudice and Discrimination Against the Elderly by Jack Levin, and Our Best Years by Helen Hayes.

A PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who made me see everything and showed me the way to reach my ideal. You who gave me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and you who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Amen. Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Persons must pray the prayer three consecutive days without asking your wish. After the 3rd day your wish may be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as this favor is granted.

"Entertainment Tonight" To Be Filmed Locally

The USS Constitution and Faneuil Hall will be the backdrops for the Thursday, November 6th and Friday, November 7th editions of "Entertainment Tonight," a magazine-style television program focusing on personalities and events in the glamorous world of show business and seen locally on Channel 7.

The Boston stop is a continuation of an Eastern sea-coast series, said Katherine Bentley, public relations officer for the National Park Service.

She said shows also are planned in Washington, D.C., Philadelphia and New York.

Lori Balton, production coordinator for the Boston segment, said no special program is planned for the shows.

"They thought it was a great setting," Bentley said. Filming will begin at 6:00 a.m. on both days.

When the live portion of the show is completed, the tape will be taken to a local television station where it will be transmitted via satellite to Hollywood, Balton said.

The segment then will be in-cut with interviews in time for broadcast both days, she added.

Bentley said approximately 60 people are involved in the local filming and most of those people are cast and crew members.

Fashion Show At Saint Francis

A Fashion Show for the benefit of the Saint Francis de Sales School will be held on Monday evening, November 10th at 8:00 p.m. in the Bishop Lawton Hall, Saint Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill Street.

Clothes from Hattie's of Chelsea and Anderson-Little will be modeled by local talent. Refreshments will be served.

Boston Police Explorer Post 1212-15

The next meeting of Boston Police Explorer Post 1212-15 will take place tonight, Thursday, November 6th, at 7:00 p.m. at 55 Bunker Hill Street. The membership will be making plans and taking reservations for the Annual Hay Ride.

Roche Commended In Merit Scholarship Competition

Charles P. Roche of 13 Sullivan Street, Charlestown, is one of 37 Boston College High School seniors to be named a commended scholar in the 32nd Annual Merit Scholarship competition.

Roche won commended status on the basis of his scores in the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test which he took when he was a junior. He was among 35,000 students nationwide, out of more than one million who took the test, to be named a commended student.

In addition to the 37 commended students, Boston College High School also had ten seniors who were named semifinalists in the competition and will be among 15,000 who will continue in the pursuit of 6,000 Merit scholarships in the spring.

The son of Kevin and Sarah Roche, Charles attended Boston Latin School before Boston College High School.

Boston College High School is a Jesuit college preparatory high school founded in 1863.

AWC/ATS Test Date Announced

The Boston Public Schools recently announced the test date for non-public school students, city residents currently enrolled in grades 3, 4, and 5, interested in applying for entrance into the Advanced Work Class/Academically Talented Section (AWC/ATS) program. On Saturday, November 22, 1986, candidates should report to the Boston Latin School, Avenue Louis Pasteur, Boston by 8:30 a.m. The test to be administered, free of charge, is the Metropolitan Achievement Test in Reading and Mathematics.

The Advanced Work Class/Academically Talented Section Program is now in place in grades 4, 5, and 6 in at least one school in each of the City's nine school districts. Candidates compete for a limited number of seats based on their Metropolitan test score, their rank, their race, and their district of residence. Parents of students now in

Main Street Reconstruction Update

The Massachusetts Department of Public Works spokesman Scott Picard reports that the John Mahoney Company has begun work on Main Street between Mishawum Street and Albion Place. The process of grading the roadway with crushed stone and gravel to prepare and ready it for a temporary surface for the winter months is taking place this week. All work is taking place behind the "Jersey" barriers. Motorists are advised to proceed with caution along that stretch of Main Street.

Residents are reminded to continue to make note of the "no parking" ban on Main Street. Cars parked illegally in that area will be towed.

Elderly Commission Offers Service To Hearing Impaired Elders

The Commission on Affairs of the Elderly is pleased to announce that the Commission's Elderly Hotline is now equipped with a TDD Machine to provide information and referral to individuals and agencies requiring TDD translation. Since approximately 20% of all deaf people have TDD's in their homes, the Commission looks forward to providing increased service to those elderly who have access to a TDD.

With over 29,000 deaf persons residing in Massachusetts and many of them living in the City of Boston, this new service should greatly enhance the Elderly Commission's ability to serve even the most isolated of older Bostonians. In addition to information about current Commission services and events, the new TDD service will provide information and referral to a variety of elder services.

TDD Service can be reached at 725-4587 from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., Monday through Friday.

For additional information, please call Barbara Bowers at the Elderly Hotline Voice/TDD, 725-4587.

Senior Citizens Christmas Bazaar

'Tis the season to be jolly, so come down and see City Hall decked with boughs of holly.

On Wednesday, December 3rd, on the second level of Boston City Hall at 10:00 a.m., the Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor the annual Senior Citizens Christmas Bazaar. Talented senior citizens from the Boston area will display their handmade arts and crafts. Great gift items and festive holiday decorations will be exhibited and available for purchase.

If you are interested in displaying articles in the holiday craft show, contact the Boston Parks and Recreation Department by November 24th.

For information, contact Dorothy Curran at 725-4006.

IRS Has "Pre-Holiday Gift" For Massachusetts Taxpayers

The Internal Revenue Service has $529,647.73 to refund to Massachusetts residents. The money represents Federal tax refund checks mailed in 1986 and returned to the IRS by the Postal Department as undeliverable.

The IRS has 1,296 undelivered refunds that range from $1.00 to $15,186 that they are trying to place in the hands of the rightful owners.

Charlestown residents on the undelivered refund list include Deborah Belcher and Barbara L. Kelly.

Taxpayers whose names are on the list should call the IRS toll-free number at 1-800-424-1040. They should be prepared to provide IRS telephone assistants with proper identification — name, address and social security number.

Crusaders Succumb To Eagle Claws, 10 - 5 Huskies Nip . . . Terriers Run, 17 - 3

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

Commissioner Eddie "The Baron" Johnson was greeting the new players while overseeing the official opening night for the Senior (No-check) Hockey League's 1986-87 season at the Emmons-Horrigan-O'Neil Rink, featuring the Monday night double-header which saw the 1986 runner-up, Crusaders, face off against the spirited Eagles, and the 1986 League Champion Huskies take on the 1986 Man-ly cup Champs, the "not so" victorious Terriers.

A surprise friendly visit by M.D.C. Rink Supervisor, Hank Doherty, allowed the Charlestown Youth Hockey Directors, Ann Considine and Phil Coleman, to finalize some hockey scheduling for Doherty's approval, and he extended a season's "good luck" to the Senior Hockey League, and concluded some rink business with his Rink Manager, George Lahage, and assistant, Joe Kent, his renowned authority on ice surface, before departing.

The Head Referee's corner was buzzing with rumors that Eddie "Slammer" Lynch is back with Jackie (P.O.) Woods and are going to issue some heavy penalties to would-be violators "who appear" to be breaking the rules, and in particular, outlawed curved sticks will be measured this year for "over-curvature" of the stick and violators will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, which ever comes first, or both. Guilty . . . no appeal . . . sorry!

The Senior League is happy to announce again, that our father/son, timekeeper/scorekeeper team is back again at the scorers' booth, with Johnny Fitzgerald (father), a member of Local 103 International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (I.B.E.W.), and Mike Fitzgerald (son), also a union man, have volunteered their Monday nights for the Senior Hockey League. Now at their second year of score-keeping, Commissioner Johnson believes these are the best kept records of game accounts he's ever seen in his years as a General Manager or Commissioner. As he wiped his brow, he stated, "Thank God we don't have to pay them union wages — they'd bankrupt us!" Amen!

Eddie "Slammer" Lynch called for a face-off to officially open the 1986-87 season, and as he dropped the puck, it looked like signs of yesteryear as a familiar Eagle player, wearing number 13 on his jersey, upset the new "preppie" Crusader goalie, Brad Michals, at 13:18 of the first period with a Halloween goal, as he completely tricked Brad and treated Daryl (last year's top League scorer), to his first goal of the 1986-87 season, with an assist from last year's runner-up scorer, Jackie Sullivan, which signals to all goal scorers that he's going for the scorer's trophy again. The official score sheet read, "Daryl Locke, leads all scorers with five goals and two assists for seven points after one game" and following on his heels is Jackie Sullivan with two goals and four assists for six points.

Other scorers on the Eagle team included the Doherty boys, Joe and Bill, who added one goal and one assist each to the winning cause. Chris Thornton lit the light at 4:37 of the second period for his first goal of the young season. This could be his year??? Rumors say he's pumping iron and that he's seen late at night slap-shooting the puck against the "Eddies" school wall while listening to Blue-Grass music. Wow, that Chris is my type of guy! Watch him, Huskies!

The Crusaders' line-up looked like a who's-who in the "Bush Leagues," and except for the 1986 Captain, Eddie Kelly, and Scott Geezil, who is the last member of the "Awesome Line" of Mahoney, Anthony and Geezil, the other names may have come from a Chinese laundry list. Ed Kelly contributed two assists to Jim Michals (Bush) and Chris Connolly (Bush) in the third period to the losing cause.

Flash . . . S.O.S. . . Flash! "Mikey Anthony (The Connecticut Yankee), please come back. All is forgiven. To Matt Mahoney, jump ship, your spot is still open," signed, Eddie Kelly.

Wesley Taylor (Class of '83, Malden Catholic) lit the light for two goals. He needs watching — could be a top scorer before the season ends. Jim Michals (the goalie's brother, a "preppie" out of Newton), took a neat pass from Ed Kelly and sent him in on Eagle goalie, Johnny Gray, at 3:23 of the third period for a picture goal, making the score 9 to 5 Eagles. Fran Bradley (Bush) contributed a goal at 4:25 with an assist from Tom Mahoney (Moe's boy), as the game was coming to an end. Chris Connolly (Bush), with an assist from Ed Kelly at 16:32 of the third period, was all the Crusaders could muster in losing.

TEAM	PERIOD	1	2	3	FINAL
Crusaders		1	0	4	5
Eagles		2	4	4	10

GOALIES	SAVES
Crusaders - Brad Michals	33
Eagles - John Gray	19

The second half of the double-header saw Head Referee Eddie "Slammer" Lynch hesitating the start of the game because the Terriers had only eight players on the ice during warm-ups and scorekeeper Johnny Fitz calling for face-off between the Huskies and the Terriers.

Hockey buffs that were there knew that the proud hand-full of Terriers that showed up could not possible stop the aging process or the slow skating that the Huskies team excels at, as they hammered the Terriers into submission. The bullies!!

Nothing but "shame" can describe the selfishness of those Terriers who chose to watch the World Series Game

Charlestown Youth Hockey Association News

The Charlestown Skating Rink is now operating for hockey only, until the regular scheduled opening of the rink on November 16, 1986.

The Charlestown Youth Hockey Association is now skating a full schedule, seven nights a week. The weekend schedules provide an opportunity for the community to come down and watch the young children play hockey.

Every Saturday from 4:00 to 5:00 p.m., there will be an open hour for beginners of all ages. All children are required to wear helmets or they will not be allowed on the ice.

This year, the C.Y.H.A. program includes a House

Team schedule. All games will be played on Sunday evenings between 6:00 and 8:00 p.m. This provides an opportunity for all to come down to the rink and support the kids.

The first Parents Meeting will be held on Wednesday, November 12th at 7:00 p.m. at the Charlestown Community School at 255 Medford Street. All parents are requested to try to attend, since this meeting will review the entire program.

All schedules, both House and G.B.L., are posted at the Rink. If you have not received a schedule or have not been called by a coach, please come to the Rink and see Phil Coleman, Ann Considine or Bill Burke.

Jacket orders are now being accepted for those who may have missed the first order. If interested, please contact Terry Fitcomb or Mary Coleman by this weekend.

Monthly dues are due November 10th. If you have questions, please contact Mike Duncan.

The C.Y.H.A. is at the rink seven nights a week. Come on down — you'll be surprised at the progress of the Association.

City Announces Fall Crack-Down On Vacant Lot Owners

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn has announced a "Fall Crack-down" on the owners of vacant lots throughout the neighborhoods of the city of Boston.

The crackdown call for:

- Inspectional Services Department (ISD) inspectors to inspect vacant lots that have been brought to the attention of the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services as particular trouble spots;
- Owners of these lots to be cited for violations of city and state sanitary codes and required to clean them up; and
- Owners who don't comply to be taken to court, with the city cleaning the worst lots and placing municipal liens on the property to recover the cost.

Mayor Flynn said, "Over the past year the city has worked with over 70 neighborhood groups and organizations in holding spring and summer clean-ups of vacant lots. The city has also been aggressively cleaning, securing and baiting for rodents publicly-owned lots, most recently in East Boston, Roxbury, and Mattapan.

"Thanks to our improved financial position as a result of good fiscal practices and a healthy city economy," continued the Mayor, "we have increased the resources at our disposal to allow us to improve our own maintenance."

"But just as the city is accepting its responsibility," stated the Mayor, "we must make sure that private individuals who own the majority of vacant land in Boston accept theirs." The Mayor added that a private consultant is being hired to review the maintenance of all vacant land in the city and will make recommendations to improve it by next spring.

Mayor Flynn said, "Working closely with residents, we have targeted a number of lots on which the taxes are being paid. We intend to ensure that not only do the owners pay their taxes on these lots, but that they maintain their property as well."

Mayor Flynn asked residents who observe illegal dumping on vacant lots to call 725-DUMP, the city's illegal dumping hotline. The city has also won approval to increase dumping fines up to $1,000 for illegal dumpers and is working to have the Boston Housing Court make owners secure their vacant lots to prevent further dumping.

Catholic Memorial Open House

The Catholic Memorial Experience and Open House will be held at the school on 235 Baker Street in West Roxbury on Sunday afternoon November 9th starting at 1:00 p.m. The administration of the school extends a cordial invitation to all eighth grade boys and their parents to attend. Interested seventh graders and their parents are also invited.

The afternoon will feature guided tours of the school by members of the National Honor Society, a professionally produced TV film entitled "The Catholic Memorial Experience," a chance to meet and speak with the administration, faculty, parents and students, and many opportunities to see why Catholic Memorial High School is one of the most highly regarded secondary schools in the entire archdiocese.

Also included in the day's activities will be an explanation of the entire admissions process.

Charlestown Merchants Hold Luncheon Meeting At Towne Lyne Cafe

RONALD X. CONWAY, Commanding Officer of Area A of the Boston Police Department, was the guest speaker at the Charlestown Merchants Association Luncheon.

PRESENTED PLAQUE: Norbert Lynch (right), President of the Charlestown Merchants Association, presented a plaque to Herb Harris (left), Assistant Vice President of Newworld Bank, and editor of the Merchants Association Newsletter. The plaque was the actual metal printing plate of the front page of first edition of the Association's Newsletter, mounted on wood.

NORBERT LYNCH, owner of E.B.S. Photo Print at 108 Bunker Hill Street and President of the Charlestown Merchants Association, chaired the meeting.

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street, on Wednesday, November 12th at 10:30 a.m. and at 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "Frog and Toad Are Friends," in which Frog and Toad have many adventures; Patrick buys a fiddle to create music in "Patrick;" and Mole's rocket takes him to a desert island in "Mole And The Rocket." In addition to the above features, two men kidnap a boy who drives them crazy in "The Ransom of Red Chief," which will be shown at 3:30 p.m. only.

The suggested readings, in conjunction with these films are: Frog and Toad are Friends by Arnold Lobel, Music, Music for Everyone by Vera Williams, Mysterious Seas by Mary Elting, and Louie's Ransom by E. W. Hil-drick.

MEMBERS of the Charlestown Merchants Association held their monthly meeting recently at the Towne Lyne Cafe on Cambridge Street.

MORE THAN 2 MILLION PEOPLE WILL BE INTERESTED IN HOW WELL YOU DO.

When you bring your professional expertise to the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, some 2.5 million people in 60 communities throughout the metropolitan Boston area will benefit from the work you do. In fifty locations, from Charlestown to Deer Island, from Somerville to South Barre, the MWRA is cleaning up Boston Harbor and ensuring the efficient and economical operation of the metropolitan area's sewage and waterworks systems. If you're qualified for one of the following opportunities, we can offer you many reasons why you will do well to explore a career with the MWRA.

Office of the Executive Director

The overall affairs of the Authority are managed by this office, under the direction of the Executive Director. Responsibilities range from policy implementation and fiscal planning to facilities operations/maintenance and budget control. The office also functions as community liaison, handles public affairs issues, monitors and advocates beneficial legislation and operates a special internal audit unit.

Executive Assistants Auditors
Secretaries

Engineering Division

The Engineering Division assumes responsibility for all planning and engineering activities associated with water and wastewater capital improvement projects - from wastewater treatment facilities and upgrading to secondary treatment to various interceptor and relief sewer projects, a long term water supply program, residuals management plans, rehabilitation projects and more.

Heartfelt Thank You

I would like to extend a very heartfelt "thank you" to all who helped make this year's Halloween Parade around the Bunker Hill Monument a very fun and successful event. We hope that everyone who participated had as much fun as we did in planning the event.

We look forward to seeing everyone next year when the parade will be even bigger and better.

Thank you, see you next year!

Open Letter To The Charlestown Patriot

Dear Gloria;

I would like to thank you, Gloria, for the coverage you have extended our youth hockey and senior hockey program and events!

We bravo at the personal touch you extend in presenting your pictures and write-ups featured in your paper each week. You do it up right! Also, we would like to thank your fine assistants, namely, Cookie and Judie, who unscramble our notes and box scores about games and events, and make them worth reading about!

We futher thank you for the tremendous support you have afforded our Junior "A" and Senior League because you have succeeded in bringing back the spirit of hockey that once engulfed our Town, and hopefully show the exceptional talents among our youth as they are sometimes seen by coaches and scouts, who could assist them when they apply for High School or College.

A job well done, girls ... !

Sincerely yours,

Eddie Johnson

Little Flower Grammar School Reunion

November 2, 1986

Memories (1926 - 1924)

by Helen MacDonald Harrison

Old friends have come together,
Some, for the very first time,
Since we laughed and we played as schoolmates,
We hope that the years have been kind . . .
We have all of these wonderful memories,
That brighten as the years go by,
We've passed them on to our children,
And hope they will always know why . . .
Little Flower School meant so much to us,
And the Nuns who were our friends,
We wish they were here beside us,
So we could make amends . . .
We remember who played the piano,
As we "marched" from our classes each day,
We remember the fun in the schoolyard,
And all of the games that we played.
We remember the FLAG was awarded
To the class which lined-up the best,
And how proudly they would claim it,
For then they would lead all the rest . . .
We remember the "monitors" on the stairs,
And this is what they said,
"Shoulders touching, chest high;
Eyes, straight ahead!"
Superior, too, stood on the stairs,
We marched proudly . . . and erect!
"Pardon me, Sister," then, "Praise be to Jesus,"
Was a prayer to interject.
Schooling was different in the "old days,"
Our vocabulary wasn't the same,
HOME . . . and SCHOOL emphasized VALUES —
And RESPECT was more important than FAME.
The younger generation is smarter,
The "Best and the Brightest," they say,
But, our training left us a LEGACY —
Our FAITH . . . still steadfast, today!

Honored As Volunteer Tour Guide

SECRETARY OF STATE Michael J. Connolly (right) honored Robbin Ruggiero, a Charlestown resident, at a luncheon for volunteer State House summer tour guides at Faneuil Hall Marketplace. Robbin is a student at Matignon High School in Cambridge, and is a member of the Drill Team. Connolly praised Robbin for her efforts saying, "She was very enthusiastic and showed a strong commitment to helping the Commonwealth through her services as a tour guide. As a summer tour guide, she gained a strong background in the legislative process, as well as enjoyed the architectural beauty of the State House." State House Tours, a division of Secretary of State Connolly's office, is located in Doric Hall of the State House. Charlestown Police Line

From the desk of
Deputy Superintendent Ronald X. Conway
Commanding Officer, Area A

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 26

A Charlestown man, accompanied by another male and two female companions, went to their automobile and found that the passenger side window was smashed. While they were attempting to seal the window with tape, they were approached by three white males who began to assault them with a shovel. The victims, who required medical attention, were taken to Massachusetts General Hospital by ambulance. This incident is under investigation by Detectives of Area A.

It's A Boy ...

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Kelly, Jr. of 70 Rockwell Street, Malden, announce the birth of their son, James Michael, on October 31, 1986 at the Melrose-Wakefield Hospital.

The baby weighed nine pounds three ounces.

The maternal grandmother is Mary B. Junta of 14 Winthrop Street, Charlestown.

The paternal grandparents are Bernard J. and Rita L. Kelly of 7 Church Court, Charlestown.

James Michael was welcomed home by his brother, Bernard J. Kelly III, age four.

Mrs. Kelly is the former Ann J. Junta.

Annual Fair At St. John's

Saint John's 147th Annual Fair is just two days away — on Saturday, November 8th from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

A turkey dinner will be served from 12 noon until 4:00 p.m.

Stop by and get some of our yummy baked goods, play a game and see our brand new line of hand crafted Christmas cards. Of course, there will be some old favorites like the book table, white elephant and parish tables — to name just a few. For the serious doll house enthusiast or collector there will be some furniture and a silver-smith's shop to purchase.

Come down and see what's going on while getting a chance to visit with old friends or meet some new ones.

See you at the Fair!!!

Police / Community Meeting Scheduled For November 18th

The monthly Charlestown Police / Community Meeting will be held at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill Street, on Tuesday evening, November 18, 1986 at 7:00 p.m. (Please note the change of date, due to the fact that the second Tuesday of the month, November 11th, is the Veterans' Day holiday.)

A guest speaker from the Sexual Assault Unit will be present. All are welcome to attend.

Local Man Pleads Innocent In Woman's Drowning

The trial of a Charlestown man charged with murder in the drowning of a friend who was reportedly in a parked car that rolled into Boston inner harbor Saturday is set for December 1st.

Sean O'Connor, 25, of Winthrop Street, pleaded innocent Monday in Charlestown District Court. He was released on $2,000 cash bail after being arraigned before Judge Mary Brennan.

O'Connor admitted to police that he and the woman he was with, Carol Mahan, 19, of Tremont Street, had smoked "angel dust," a powerful drug.

O'Connor was not in the car when his 1978 Buick Century rolled into the water off Pier 11 at Charlestown Navy Yard. He said he got out of the car and passed out on the pier, and woke to see the car roll off the pier.

Mahan was pulled from the water by Boston Fire Department divers who were alerted to the accident by pedestrians who heard

O'Connor's screams for help.

Attempts to revive Mahan failed. She was taken to Boston City Hospital where doctors tried to save her before she was pronounced dead at 4:31 a.m.
