

Minecraft Gets Its Own Social Network, Minecrafter

Are you guys ready to hear about what may simply be the trendiest webpage within the entirety of the deep, huge web? Take the immense popularity of Minecraft, throw in a completely-featured, Fb-esque social community, and then, for good measure, tack on a completely pointless consonant to the end of its identify. What do Minecraft server list get? Minecrafter, a social hub designed to attach gamers of the constructive on-line title, permitting them to create teams, plan occasions, establish servers and chat via IRC and boards.

Though Minecraft certainly has its share of strengths, finding amateur builders like your self is something of a chore for new gamers. If it takes off, Minecrafter may be an ideal method to wiggle your means right into a community -- and then take its grand, intricate creations apart one brick at a time.
