FOREX

What is the foreign exchange market?

- The foreign exchange market is a global decentralized market for the trading of currencies. Currently is the World's Largest financial market.
- its continuous operation: 24 hours a day except weekends.
- its huge trading volume representing the largest asset class in the world leading to high liquidity.
- Average daily turnover in excess of US$4 trillion.

Why most forex traders fail?

- Although there are many investors in the foreign exchange market. Unfortunately, only fewer people can continue to be successful. Investment of foreign exchange and other types of asset transactions have many of the same pitfalls, However , high levels of leverage and unique foreign exchange market volatility make the mistake becomes smaller. For example, 1% loss in shares investment, could only lead to a relatively small loss, however if exchange price fell 1% , and If the trader's leverage level is too high, the trader may loss the total investment.
- Lack of experience, knowledge and skills of foreign exchange.
- Lack of sufficient funds.
- Mentality problem.
