presented folktales from around the world in a delightful performance that was enjoyed by children of all ages.

This lively puppet presentation was sponsored, with the cooperation of the Harvard-Kent Elementary School, through an arts enrichment grant.

Will Medford Street Car Wash Be Allowed To Open?

by Kathy Giordano

John White's plans, to open a car wash at his gas station at 428 Medford St., have met with opposition from the start. Back in June 1986 when he applied to put an addition onto his building, he was denied, but in October of the same year the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) granted permission to build, accepting his building design.

Then in February 1987, representatives from the Cobblestone Limited Partnership, a newly constructed condominium development built next to his gas station, stopped him from building in an out-of-court settlement until after December 1988.

His latest petition to the city sent him back into the community for a public meeting, which took place on Monday, April 10, and abutters voiced their concerns on his pending operation.

The Charlestown Neighborhood Council's Housing and Development Committee conducted the meeting with more than 40 residents. Although a majority of those in attendance expressed their approval of the car wash with a show of hands, legitimate concerns were raised by those who would be mostly impacted by its operation, abutters at Cobblestone Landing and Woods Place.

Residents were concerned that additional traffic would be generated by the car wash, an existing sewer backup on Medford Street would be worsened and water pressure would be impaired.

Tim Beasley of Baldwin Street stated, "I'm not against it, but I don't want to see traffic backed up to my street."

Merchant Bob Collier said the area next to the gas station, where cars might wait in line, is a park. "I don't see a line of traffic going beyond the park. I don't see a problem," Collier said.

White addressed the traffic, water pressure, sewer

Local Traffic Disruption Predicted With Start Of Tunnel Construction

by Kathy Giordano

"Avoid the City Square area!" stated Commissioner Jane Garvey of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works (MDPW) at a press conference held on Tuesday, April 11 at the Central Artery/North Area (CANA) field office on Rutherford Avenue, as she announced the "true beginning" of construction work on the CANA project.

The first phase of the tunnel work will begin on Tuesday, April 25 with a ground-breaking ceremony in City Square at 11 a.m. This phase of the project will "pose the greatest potential for disruption in local traffic" since the preparation work began on the project 21 months ago, according to Garvey.

The tunnel construction work will be done in three phases with tunnel excavations starting by the end of April. Phase One will also see construction of a pedestrian ramp from the North Washington Street Bridge to Water Street to allow access to Freedom Trail and the Charlestown Navy Yard, and relocation of utility corridors for the tunnel.

Phase Two will begin in May on the North Washington Street Bridge with the reduction of traffic lanes from the existing six to four on the eastern side to allow for the demolition and rebuilding of a new portion of the bridge. This bridge work should take one and a half years to complete.

This phase of construction will also involve the beginning of work on a retaining wall for the tunnel on Chelsea Street. This will necessitate closing off access to Lowney Way from Chelsea Street to all traffic until this fall when the new detour roadway is opened.

Park Street, from City Square to Henley Street, will be closed in mid-May to all traffic, except emergency vehicles and delivery trucks, while work is done on a 26-foot-deep sewer drainage system. This work is scheduled to be completed in September.

In August the second section of tunnel excavation work will begin, involving digging as deep as 80 feet in some areas.

Phase Three of the tunnel excavation work will begin in September and will force the closing of Chelsea Street. Traffic will be rerouted through the new detour road on a completed section of Park Street.

According to Ed Barr, MDPW CANA project director, the tunnel project is scheduled to be completed in the fall of 1992, with a completion date for all work in 1993.

Bola And Dance Planned To Benefit The Bunker Hill Day Parade

As the celebration of the 214th Anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill approaches, fund-raising activities are already underway.

This year the Charlestown Veterans/Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Committee has adopted a theme for the Parade, to be held on Sunday, June 18, recognizing the Irish contribution at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

In keeping with this Irish theme, two of the fund-raising activities have an Irish flair.

On Saturday, May 20 from noon to 3 p.m., drawings for the many prizes in the Bunker Hill Day Parade Grand Irish Bola will take place in the lower hall of the Knights of Columbus, 75 W. School St. For a donation of only $1, the buyer has the chance of winning one or several of the more than 60 prizes. Some of the prizes to be given away include Waterford crystal, Beleek china, jewelry and trips to the Cape Cod Irish Village.

Also, keeping with the Irish theme, a fund raiser, the Chief Marshal's Irish Time, will be held on Friday, May 12 from 8 p.m. to midnight at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Entertainment will be provided by the O'Callaghans and the donation is $10 per person.

Several of the prizes offered in the Grand Irish Bola will be on display at the Chief Marshal's Irish Time, and chances will be available.

Various members of the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee will be selling chances to the Grand Irish Bola throughout the town. Also, chances for the bola and tickets for the Chief Marshal's Irish Time can be obtained by calling Arthur Hurley at 242-2724, Chief Marshal Marty O'Brien Jr. at 242-5043, or they are available at the Charlestown Patriot office, One Thompson Square.

Parkland Acquisition Program Includes The Mystic River Reservation

The Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) MetroParks division has launched an extensive 10-year parkland acquisition program, and priority plans include opening access to the Mystic River Reservation in Charlestown. The nearly 7-acre site off Alford Street, northwest of Sullivan Square, will connect the reservation with Boston Harbor, and according to MDC information, will provide the "first ever river park access" to Charlestown and Everett.

A total 265 properties in threat of development have been recommended for acquisition. As $50 million of state funds become available, the Charlestown parcel is expected to be one of the first 23 new parklands across the city. MetroParks priority sites were based on public recommendations, the amount of existing open space in each community, the threat of imminent development and the presence of streams, wetland coastal areas and ponds.

"As our urban populations grow, it becomes more vital to preserve open space for relaxation and recreational enjoyment, as well as to protect important cultural and historic sites and wildlife habitats. Once these sites are developed, they are usually gone forever," said Ilyas Bhatti, incoming MDC commissioner.

Carr-Murphy Essay Contest Open To Seventh And Eighth Graders

Native Whom I Most Admire," (past or present).

The essay must contain 400 to 500 words, and must be submitted by April 20. Completed essays may be left at the Charlestown Patriot office, One Thompson Square; or sent to PO Box 375, Charlestown, Mass. 02129.

BUY YOUR OWN DORMITORY!

Your child has just been accepted at a college located far away from home, and when you look at the room and board fees, you go into shock! There's an interesting alternative to a college dormitory, especially if the school is located in a large metropolitan area.

Many parents are investing in condominiums or single family homes near campus. They rent them to their children, who often have one or more roommates to help share the costs. Then, four years later at graduation, they resell the property. The appreciation often goes a long way in helping to finance college costs. Many prospective students and their parents are including some time with a local Realtor after they are accepted into the college of their choice. Our agents can provide information about the areas near the school, properties that are available for sale, and what kinds of rents you could expect to receive if roommates will be a part of the picture.

If you are considering a move, contact the real estate professionals at Silva Realty Associates. Call us at 242-7470 or drop by our offices at 142 Main Street in Charlestown.

Charlestown Working Women's Network Holds Social At The Bunker Hill Museum

The Charlestown Working Women's Network, women who live and/or work in Charlestown, met recently at the Bunker Hill Museum at 43 Monument Square. They enjoyed a social hour with an opportunity to view the museum's exhibits, followed by a potluck supper and a brief program.

Kay Whelan, president of the Charlestown Historical Society, welcomed the gathering to the museum and spoke on some interesting facts in the history of the town and the founding of the museum. She also stated that volunteers were welcome at the museum. Gloria Conway, past president of the society, pointed out some of the artifacts on exhibit, including those from the Bunker Hill Monument Association, and explained the development of the museum which opened in 1975 during the Bicentennial of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

The network meets several times a year, allowing local women an opportunity to meet each other and share professional and volunteer interests. Annette Tecce and Guest Perry are the network's organizers.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

The USS Constitution, launched in 1797, has served the nation with outstanding distinction. Time has always been on her side, and our cherished Ironsides maintains one of the highest places in naval history as the oldest commissioned ship in the U.S. Navy.

Once again her image will grace a commemorative issue benefiting the U.S. Navy Memorial Foundation. For $77, including shipping and handling, an attractive watch by Polaris is available by calling toll free, 24 hours a day, 1-800-446-7968. Purchases may also be addressed to the U.S. Historical Society, First and Main streets, Richmond, Va. 23219. As stated in the USHS literature: "The face design shows the USS Constitution in full sail. The watch is assembled and warranted in the USA, has a dependable quartz movement, sweep second hand and genuine leather strap. The gold image of the USS Constitution is surrounded by 12 gold stars on a navy blue background. If during the 30-day trial period, you are dissatisfied for any reason, return in original condition and receive a complete refund." This is a reasonably priced collectible that will generate the additional revenue to complete Phase II for the visitor's center and the log room, tentatively scheduled for the winter of 1990. All will finally be in place to honor the men and women of the Navy ... past, present and future. This will be a dual lasting gift and contribution that will generate conversation and commemoration. Join the ranks of supporters for the Washington, D.C. memorial by ordering a USS Constitution watch.

Having hesitated on the previous offering of a Colt U.S. Navy revolver, Townie and state public safety assistant Ed Kelly has his order on file. His precision Polaris watch will arrive in ample time for his time-consuming position as Bunker Hill Day parade coordinator. As time permits, Ed will determine if a woman's edition will be marketed for his wife Edna. Her contribution to the forthcoming doll carriage parade of the Bunker Hill Day weekend also warrants a good timepiece. I'll keep watching for the companion watches on a great couple, whose contributions to the community know no time constraints.

Routine summer and other seasonal vacations are taken for granted by the majority of residents. It is not a dream, but a reality that is viewed with insouciance. This given is indeed a mystery to many an inner-city child. To expand on arranging vacations for the deserving children of Charlestown, The Raymond Group is involving itself aggressively with Camp Bunker Hill. Camp Bunker Hill allows for 60 children from the community, and The Raymond Group hopes to increase the figure, to participate in seven weeks of summer enjoyment. A major fund-raising event will be held on May 6, at The Raymond Group's Building 149 facility. Organizer Linda Smith is looking forward to a swelling crowd for the dance. Tickets are $20 per person or $35 per couple with a cash bar. Expansion of the program under the direction of the Massachusetts General Hospital, requires a substantial influx of privately raised revenue. With the fiscal restraints looming at the federal and state levels, independent action is mandatory. Make Building 149 your evening of weekend relaxation on Saturday, May 6, by calling Linda Smith at 241-7700. Vacate your premises for an evening that will allow the youth to have a long overdue vacation.

United Kingdom bound, the Gypsum King, port of origin London, had the inner harbor to itself. Unaware of its departure, Townie Ann Doherty and Manhattan resident Cookie McCarthy, a former Townie, strolled Dry Dock Two. Not wandering too far from the harborpark Boston Redevelopment Authority's office, the friends were updating each other on recent events. Returning to Blossoms, they spotted House Speaker George Keverian driving past them, eventually leaving through Gate Four. All attempts to obtain the Speaker's autograph were lost. When Ann visits Cookie in the Big Apple, Cookie guarantees that they will secure the autograph of Mayor Koch. A frequent visitor to the South Street Seaport Complex, Mayor Koch savors his favorite dish of shad, which abounds in the sundry of seaside restaurants. With Cookie executing the planning, all that remains is Ann's travel plans. Will the aquarium become a reality? was Cookie's last question before returning south. That answer swirls around transportation and making the numbers stay afloat. She thought the move would be beneficial to the community.

More Food Pros Join Camp Bunker Hill Gala Fund Raiser

The Warren Tavern, the MGH dietary department and Scalli Caterers are the latest vendors to join a host of Charlestown restaurateurs and caterers in the fund-raising efforts for Camp Bunker Hill.

Speaking on behalf of the Warren Tavern, owner Kathy Petrie has said that after learning of the untiring efforts and accomplishments of Camp Bunker Hill staff members, she's delighted to do what she can do to help the kids who will benefit from the programs offered by the non-endowed, non-profit organization.

Camp Bunker Hill, a therapeutic summer day camp for troubled Charlestown youths, is in financial difficulty as a result of budget cuts. In order to keep this vital service in operation, directors of the camp must appeal to the general public. The camp's advisory board has arranged a gala fundraiser to be co-sponsored by The Raymond Group and MGH Bunker Hill Health Center. Directors of the camp have been meeting with various social and civic groups in Charlestown to acquaint them with the operation and imminent needs of the camp.

If you would like to sample what Charlestown chefs dish out, mark your calendar for Saturday, May 6.

That's the day when chefs from Charlestown will gather in the Atrium of Building 149 in the Charlestown Navy Yard from 7 p.m. to midnight to take part in the Spring Dance and Food Festival. While a food festival might not be good for the waistline, it will be good for the kids who benefit when the proceeds of the event are donated to Camp Bunker Hill.

And because looks count as much as taste, you can count on the chefs to arrange their offerings in attention-getting style as only a Charlestown chef can do. You'll join fellow diners as you wander from table to table tasting the wondrous array of food delicacies served in impeccable style. And when you've eaten enough to feel guilty, you can dance away the calories to the music of DJ Eric Johnson until midnight.

On May 6, one of the world's greatest adventures in dining will be right in your own neighborhood. Some of the other restaurateurs and caterers represented will include Olives, Harborwatch, Seiler's and Fond Memories. Proceeds from the event will help continue the work so vital to the kids of Charlestown who count on Camp Bunker Hill each summer.

Tax deductible tickets are $20 per person, $35 per couple or $175 for tables of ten. For tickets, visit the Bunker Hill Health Center at 73 High St. or call 242-5704.

It Was Aerobics, Awards And Tugboat Serenades For World Health Day

The USS Constitution 8 a.m. cannon salute and playing of the colors, and the National Park Service's flag raising in front of the Commandant's Quarters, signaled the official start of the nation's 1989 World Health Day observance in the Charlestown Navy Yard last Friday.

Annually, Charlestown is the setting for the opening of World Health Day, and this year's Health For All: Pass It Along theme activities included the first gold medal presentations to outstanding male and female Base Athletes of the Year. The medals, created for U.S. military sports organizations, are given to selected men and women at each of 475 U.S. military installations around the world.

Constitution skipper, Commander David M. Cashman, presented a medal to Petty Officer Bonnie Brooks, who recently joined the historical ship's crew after duty tours in England and West Germany. The USS Glover crew also participated in the day's celebrations. Thomas J. Hudner, Massachusetts Congressional Medal of Honor winner, and vice president and treasurer for New England's USO council, introduced Glover captain Commander Kenneth Taplett to present a gold medal to Stanley Isaiah Taylor of the Glover crew.

Constitution and Glover crew members participated in an aerobic workout and mile and a half "fun run" through the Navy Yard. Led by Daniel Z. Tusinski, fleet recreation coordinator, and Constitution executive officers Lieutenant Thomas Doherty and Chief Kenneth Cook, the crews did their part in promoting good health.

Sponsored by the American Association for World Health, the US Department of Health and Human Services and the World Health Organization, this year's celebrations included the Massport and Boston Fire Department tugboats' fog-horn serenade and water display. Emil Fleischaker, health day coordinator, told those assembled at Friday morning's festivities to emphasize good health all year.

Patriots To Face British On Sunday

The reenactment of the battle at Old North Bridge in Concord and British retreat to Boston will be held along Battle Road on Sunday, April 16.

Sponsored by the Massachusetts Council of Minute Men and Militia, Battle Road will commence at Old North Bridge at 7:50 a.m. and proceed to Arlington with British/colonial skirmishes at Meriam's Corner (Concord, 9:20 a.m.), Hastings Park (Lexington, 12:55 p.m.), Tower Park (Lexington, 2:35 p.m.) and Jason Russell House (Arlington, 4:20 p.m.).

In addition to the all-day recreation of 1775 events by hundreds of authentically attired and equipped troops, an 18th century military camp will be open to the public free on Saturday, April 15 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Minuteman National Park in Lincoln.

Escape to the 18th century and relive the day during which the colonies stood up for their freedom and independence against the king.

Doris Received Update On CANA Roadway Project

Tunnel Construction To Begin

Garvey stated that thus far the project has gone reasonably well because of the cooperation of commuters and the Charlestown community. "The community has played a significant role in the project. Our partnership with them has been a successful one and I hope to see this relationship continue through the life of the project," she said.

North Area Task Force member Ken Stone stated that community involvement began 10 years ago and included input in "almost every phase" of construction work.

"The benefits are tremendous! Charlestown will be reconnected with its waterfront. City Square will be open and rebuilt. The Charlestown community has always backed the project," Stone said.

Garvey stated: "The tunnels under City Square will rejoin Charlestown with its historic waterfront. All of the overhead ramps that shadow City Square will be demolished, creating 10 acres of open space for parks and future development. Even now, after just two years of work, more sun shines on City Square than has since the elevated Orange Line was built 88 years ago."

Garvey concluded: "This is a major construction project and some delays are inevitable. We do not expect traffic to improve during tunnel construction. We are asking motorists to leave their cars at home and explore the commuting alternatives available to them."

AMBULANCE FACILITY CEREMONY

On Tuesday, April 18, Mass. Department of Public Works Commissioner Jane Garvey will join Representative Richard Voke, Senator Francis Doris and Boston Health and Hospitals Commissioner Judith Kinlind in a ribbon-cutting ceremony marking the official opening of the Charlestown ambulance facility. The ceremony, which will begin at 10 a.m., will take place at the newly constructed facility located at Mishawum and Main streets, directly opposite the Sullivan Square Fire Station.

The new building will house the Charlestown-based ambulance and will serve as the base of operations for Health and Hospitals emergency personnel.

The public is invited to attend the ceremony and view the new facility.

GROUND-BREAKING CEREMONY

A ground-breaking ceremony to kick off the construction of the tunnel phase of the CANA project will be held on Tuesday, April 25 at 11 a.m. at City Square. A reception will follow the ceremony in the CANA Field Office on Rutherford Avenue.

CANA COMMUNITY MEETING

The Mass. Department of Public Works will sponsor a Central Artery/North Area (CANA) community meeting on Thursday, April 27 at 7 p.m. at the Bunker Hill Museum, 43 Monument Square (use Monument Avenue entrance). Issues to be discussed at the meeting include:

- An overview of upcoming tunnel construction schedule and utility work;
- An update on the Chelsea Street detour and mitigation plans;
- A review of the public safety measures that have been implemented in the Training Field area; and
- A question-and-answer period.

If you have any questions concerning the CANA Project, please contact David Flanagan at the CANA Hotline 241-5560 or 973-7500.

Committee Launching Drive For Improvements On Main Street

by Tricia Booker

Along Main Street in Charlestown, between Thompson and Sullivan squares, there is graffiti on the freshly painted walls of many building complexes.

Trash accumulates in the gutters because few heed the parking restrictions that allow the street sweepers to pass, and merchants fasten strong iron bars to their windows to protect their stores from crime.

Recently, some residents decided that it is time to clean up Main Street. They formed the Main Street Committee, and they're eager to get started.

The committee and interested residents met recently with Kathleen McCabe, the director of Roslindale's successful cleanup efforts. Roslindale calls it the Main Street Project. She encouraged and applauded Charlestown's efforts, and then gave them some bad news.

"I don't think the public can solve commercial neighborhood revitalization by themselves," she told the 20 merchants and residents gathered at MK Realty, at 273 Main St., and explained the need for a full-time staff to coordinate these efforts.

Through a slide presentation, McCabe outlined the many steps necessary toward revitalizing a neighborhood, and illustrated the Roslindale project with a series of before and after photographs.

When McCabe was hired by Roslindale, she found a group of merchants who were ready for change.

"They knew what it was like to have an arson-ravaged business district," she said, "so they now donate money to keep the area nice." Her program was almost entirely funded through private donations and fund raisers.

She stressed that organization is critical to the success of the venture, and said that "residential do-gooders" would not be able to offer the time and commitment that is needed.

Annette Tecce, chairwoman of the Main Street Committee, disagrees. She said that she thinks a united neighborhood can provide the needed support, noting that Charlestown cannot afford to hire a professional development planner.

"As long as you have a strong community, it can be done," she said. "We need to get everyone stimulated in the same direction."

As trustee for the Charlestown Preservation Society and a member of the board of directors for the Charlestown Merchants Association, Tecce is not a stranger to organization. She formed the Main Street Committee with the help of the Preservation Society and Merchants Association, and is convinced that in time the project will take off.

Mary Kay Donovan,

owner of MK Realty, agreed. She said that the small efforts will make a difference. For example, her business faces Main Street, but she refuses to put iron grates on her window for both cosmetic reasons and as a matter of principal.

"I would feel like I'm in a cage," she said, "and, if you don't put grates up, it shows that you trust people."

Although McCabe was skeptical about the neighborhood's ability to coordinate the project without professional help, she agreed on the importance of community involvement.

"There needs to be a community focus," she said. "People need to feel they are doing it for themselves."

"I think what Main Street (in Roslindale) gave was hope," explained McCabe. She said that businesses invested in change, and were thus able to invest in their futures.

"Main Street is not a quick fix," she said, "it's an incremental approach to sustained change."

While she told how properly sized signs and strategically placed trash receptacles can make a difference in improving the street, her listeners nodded in agreement, recognizing problems in their own areas.

"Do something to encourage merchants to keep the area clean," she said, showing slides of community trash days, and outlining efforts to involve area children in the cleanup process.

McCabe also mentioned special events to encourage people to come to the community and see what it has to offer, and suggested different unifying projects such as community shopping bags and sidewalk sales. Some residents were skeptical about whether the revitalization process for Roslindale, an area with 33,000 people, should be the model for Charlestown with only 17,000. McCabe assured them that the concept is the same, but warned them of the long road ahead.

"We can't do it just with residents," she said, "and we can't do it just with businesses."

Charlestown residents at the meeting remained undaunted. Where there's a will, they seemed to think, there's a way.

Board Of Appeal Approves Request On Baldwin Street Property

On Tuesday, April 4, the City of Boston Board of Appeal approved the request of Gregory Crocket to legalize occupancy of a 2 1/2 story structure at 94 Baldwin St. to a two-family dwelling.

Crocket was represented by Attorney Allen Jarasitis. Those who spoke in favor of the appeal were City Councillors Robert Travaglini and Albert O'Neil, and Judy Evers, community liaison for the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services. Evers told the board that approval would be consistent with the two- and three-family dwellings in the neighborhood.

Two Proposals Submitted For Development Of Hoosac Pier

Two proposals for Hoosac Pier development were submitted in time for Massport's deadline. The 29,800-square-foot parcel, next to the Charlestown Navy Yard, is now being used as a parking lot by Constitution Plaza tenants.

Bosport Docking Corp. or Constitution Marina, and Myerson/Allen submitted proposals to lease the property according to Anne Meyers, Massport deputy director for development.

According to Massport's guidelines, proposals were expected to include development compatible with plans to connect the Navy Yard to the downtown area with a walkway and with the CANA project's reconnection of Charlestown to the waterfront. Massport requested that proposals include: a three-story height limit on buildings so that water views from the CANA development area are not blocked; walkways along the parcel's waterfront; and concealed parking within or below the building.

Meyers said that a final decision probably won't come for several months.

Charlestown Teen And Kids' Connections Honor Mothers At Mother-Daughter Banquet photos by John Dillon

by John Lynch

The Charlestown Teen Connection and the Kids' Connection recently held their Second Annual Mother-Daughter Banquet at the Kent Community School.

It was an afternoon of skits, food, singing and fun as the daughters performed acts from the '20s through the '80s to show how much has changed in that period of time. The mothers loved it and enjoyed a lot of laughs watching their daughters, and in some cases their granddaughters, perform the acts which they had been preparing and practicing for almost two months.

Mostly though, it was a chance for the girls to show their guests how much they love and appreciate them. Kids, especially teens, can sometimes find it tough to say, but judging by all the hard work and effort to put the banquet together, the girls are all very thankful for all that their mothers mean to them.

And judging by the big smiles on their faces, the mothers got that message loud and clear!

All are looking forward to next year's Mother-Daughter Banquet!

Prime-Time Efforts

by Charlie McGonagle

Favorite television shows come in different forms. Some of us lean toward variety shows, some prefer drama or adventure, while others tend to favor comedy offerings. Public television fulfills the needs of many viewers, while the soap operas are considered an important part of every afternoon for daytime fans.

Regardless of individuals preferences, for every show that reaches the networks, there are many that never quite measure up to the expectations of those who decide the show's fate.

Because we, the general public, get to see only those shows that actually reach the airways, I offer here a few that never quite made it.

One was the story of an astronaut whose space craft malfunctions. In perpetual orbit, he is unable to return to earth. This show was originally called NOT LANDING.

A TV documentary made for public television which featured houses across the country where ghosts were purported to be seen. It was tentatively entitled AMERICA'S MOST HAUNTED.

A medical drama which never quite made it to the networks featured organ transplants and was called the NEW HEART SHOW.

Another was the story of a family who survives on deceiving each other with falsehoods until, in the final episode, they self-destruct. It was to be named FAMILY LIES.

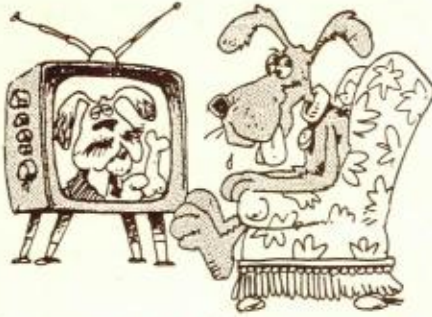

The list includes an expose on how grocery stores in a large west coast city attempted to sell tainted beef, pork, veal and chicken to unassuming customers until agents from the Pure Food and Drug Administration uncovered the deception. This show's producers had entitled the offering THE MEATS OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Another public television production where the host offered step-by-step assistance in furniture making was to be called CHAIRS.

A program set in a neighborhood tavern frequented mostly by men, all of whom had complaints concerning the daily habits of their respective spouses, was the theme of a pilot episode which was to be dubbed THE DAYS OF OUR WIVES.

A news-oriented program which would attempt to cap-sulate an entire week's news in a single minute was to be called SIXTY SECONDS.

A highly radical group attempted to have a documentary opposing television programming for children aired on public television. The networks felt that the HALT DISNEY SHOW would hurt rather than help the ratings.

A travel documentary promoting southern Florida never made it to prime time. The producers had hoped MIAMI'S NICE would catch on with the snow birds from colder climates.

Another travel documentary was planned where the viewer would be taken, by way of television, to the far corners of the earth. The unique feature of the travelogue was that not a single episode would focus on anything America had to offer. It was to be called the MISS AMERICA SHOW.

Another was a real tear-jerker where a group of down and out people try desperately, but without success to find a solution to their many problems. The program was to be entitled UNSOLVED MISERIES.

And, of course, there was the show where a federal undercover agent, disguised as a potato chip salesman, attempted to infiltrate the mob. This was the original WISE-GUY.

There was also an attempt to make a series based on two comical characters who owned a local haberdashery. The producers were ready to release JACK AND THE HATMAN, but their efforts were thwarted by a group of shoe salesmen demanding equal time.

An anniversary program honoring the many years Mickey Mouse has been entertaining audiences was originally entitled THIS OLD MOUSE.

Yes, the floor of the cutting room is filled with scraps of tape and film from those shows which have never, for one reason or another, reached the networks, and for that we should all be very grateful.

GIRLS' FLAG FOOTBALL

Game 1: Barbies 2, Chiefs 2

It was a battle for the fourth and final playoff spot, which the Chiefs needed to win to advance.

But the Barbies went up 2-0 in the first half on touchdowns by Noreen Hegarty and Leslie Borden, and that was the score at the half.

In the second half, the Chiefs turned the game around and tied it with touchdowns by Shannon McLaughlin and Jennifer Burns. But that was all the Chiefs got, and the Barbies held on for the tie to clinch the final playoff spot.

Game 2: Silver Box 4, Newtowne 3

In a battle for first place, Silver Box relied on its defense to defeat Newtowne and jump into first place.

Shannon Lawler scored first for Silver Box, intercepting a pass and running in for the touchdown. Two plays later, Newtowne quarterback Dina Duraes threw a touchdown pass to Michelle Macomber to tie the game.

Kim Campbell then had another interception return for a touchdown, but again Macomber grabbed a touchdown pass from Duraes to tie the score at 2-2.

Campbell scored again, this time on offense, for a 3-2 lead, and Colleen Hanlon put Silver Box up 4-2 with yet

Financial Aid Booklet Available From Representative Voke

Representative Richard Voke is currently offering the publication "Sources of Financial Aid for Massachusetts Students" to those interested in seeking funding for their college education. The brochure is designed to introduce and inform prospective post-secondary education students and their parents about sources of financial aid available to them.

Prepared by a number of higher education organizations, the brochure briefly explains most of the financial aid programs in the state and how to apply for them. The programs, which are available through state, federal and private agencies, come in several forms: grants, scholarships, loans and employment opportunities, and are established to assist students in meeting the costs of higher education.

In addition to listing the financial aid opportunities available to Massachusetts students, the brochure contains information on how to increase one's chances of getting financial aid and publications listing other sources of student aid and organizations to contact for additional financial aid information.

In discussing financial aid, Voke was quick to point out that the most important step in obtaining aid is to complete and submit a Massachusetts Financial Aid Form (MFAF). Due to the limited funding of many programs, the MFAF, which is used to determine eligibility for aid, should be submitted as soon as possible. By doing this, the applicants will ensure that they will be eligible to receive the maximum amount of aid possible through governmental sources. MFAF applications are available through the high school guidance department or any post-secondary school's financial aid office.

To obtain a copy of "Sources of Financial Aid for Massachusetts Students," prospective students or their parents should write to Representative Richard Voke, State House, Boston, Mass. 02133.

Adult Discussion Group Meeting

On Friday, April 14 at 10 a.m., the Adult Discussion Group of the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. will hold an evaluation of the previous series of programs. The speaker will be Adults' Librarian Tess Nesbit.

There will be no Pre-school Story Hour or Adult Discussion Group on April 21 because of school vacations.

TIARA To Meet

The Irish Ancestral Research Association, known as TIARA, will hold a program and business meeting on Friday, April 14 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 307, Higgins Hall, Boston College, located on Commonwealth Avenue in Chestnut Hill.

Thomas H. O'Connor, professor of history at Boston College and a native of South Boston, will speak on Researching South Boston History. The discussion will center on his new book, South Boston: My Home Town, The History of an Ethnic Neighborhood.

The members are amateur, family and professional researchers who meet to exchange information about Irish family history. There is no admission charge and the public is welcome.

MUST YOU SPEAK IN TONGUES?

We believe that the modern day emphasis upon speaking in tongues is unscriptural. The Bible teaches that the early Christian Church used the Spiritual Gift of speaking in tongues or languages to confirm the spoken Word or Gospel, Mark 16:15-20. But I Cor. 13:8 speaks of a time when the gift of tongues would "cease." I Cor. 13:10, tells us when the spiritual gifts of prophecy, tongues and knowledge would be "done away." That time would be "when that which is perfect is come." The word "perfect" in I Cor. 13:10 is in a neuter gender describing an object rather than a person. That object which is "perfect" is the Bible. Because the Bible is completed we now have an authority which is "Quick (Alive) and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword ..." Heb. 4:12. The need for tongues, prophecy and knowledge has been superseded by the Written Word, the Bible. You do not need to speak in tongues in order to receive the Holy Spirit, for He comes into your life forever, the moment you accept Jesus Christ as your Saviour from sin. Eph. 1:13,14. Can you remember a time when you repented of sin and accepted Jesus Christ as your Savior?

Lily Tomlin Stars In 'Search For Intelligent Life In The Universe'

"The Search for Signs of Intelligent Life in the Universe" is an artful journey into the lives of over 12 disparate but interconnected characters, all played with great virtuosity by Lily Tomlin. In this veritable comic cosmos, writer and director Jane Wagner offers a witty, wry and insightful view of the imperfect but hopeful world in which we all live.

Following its wildly successful Broadway opening in September 1985, "The Search" went on to win the 1985 Tony Award, Outer Critics' Circle and Drama Desk awards for Best Actress in a play, as well as the New York Drama Desk award for unique theatrical experience and a special award from the New York Drama Critics' Circle. For its subsequent SRO engagement at the Doolittle Theatre in Los Angeles, "The Search" received five Los Angeles Drama Critics' Circle Awards. Such acclaim has been equalled in each city "The Search" has played: San Francisco, Washington, D.C., Chicago,

LILY TOMLIN

Detroit and Toronto. On the Shubert Theatre stage now through April 29, Lily Tomlin presents her panorama of widely diverse characters — ranging from a teenage punk performance artist to a wistful aerobicizer to a jaded socialite — all of whom are searching for the "meaning of life." "Trudy," the philosophical New York bag lady, leads the way in this "first-you-laugh-and-then-you-think" sightseeing tour of humanity which reveals that the mystery of life may be more important than its meaning, after all.

"The Search" has opened for a limited four-week engagement through Saturday, April 29 at the Shubert Theatre, 265 Tremont St., Boston. Performances are Monday through Saturday evenings at 8 p.m. with a Saturday matinee at 2 p.m.. Ticket prices are $10 to $37.50. Tickets for balcony seats are $10 Monday through Thursday evenings and for Saturday matinees. Tickets are available at the Shubert Theatre box office and at all Ticketron outlets. For group sales, call 1-800-233-3123. For more information, call the Shubert Theatre at 426-4520.

Nucci Council Kickoff April 18

Boston City Council candidate John Nucci will formally launch his campaign for an at-large citywide seat on the council on April 18 at the Ramada Hotel in East Boston. Nucci will make his official announcement at a party he is hosting for hundreds of his supporters.

In making his announcement, Nucci is not expected to criticize any individual incumbent city councilors. Nucci said: "This should not be a campaign of individual attacks upon one another. Those are the tactics of incumbents who are worried about the marketability of a record of undistinguished service."

The kickoff party will be open to the public. Refreshments will be served, and music and dancing will be provided by the Dee Jay Connection. For more information call the Nucci

be open for customers buying stamps, envelopes or money orders, and customer parking will be available. Taxpayers are cautioned that the April 18 postal cancellation applies to the mail collection boxes in front of the General Facility.

Meeting On Medford Street Car Wash

and hours of operation issues that have been raised. Noting that traffic seemed to be the key issue, he said he didn't see any increase in traffic generated, stating: "I'm going to try to capitalize on the existing traffic. That's business."

White said he didn't feel that the water pressure would suffer in the neighborhood since he had his own piping put in for the car wash. On the sewage issue, White said, "If anything, I'll clean it out!" He stated that his hours of operation would be Monday through Saturday 9 a.m. to 7 p.m., and Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Abutters complained that they were not notified of his intention to open a public car wash. Linda Sacco of Woods Place stated that she was an immediate abutter and was not notified of his appearances before the Boston Board of Appeal. Sacco said White's original plans proposed that the extension of his garage would be used to house cars, and when asked if he intended to operate a car wash he had answered no.

Sacco stated that although she is concerned about additional noise that would be generated by the car wash and the traffic it would bring, she is mainly worried about the erosion of the hill behind her house that leads to the back of the gas station. She said White had removed trees and bushes and had not replaced them. White stated that he had built a retaining wall and intended to replace the trees this planting season.

Sacco also stated: "Nobody knew he had a car wash. He does not have a permit for one. He does not have a license to run a repair shop. I don't want the noise and pollution in my back yard. I pay taxes for five house lots, and I think I should have a say on what is in my back yard."

Residents who recently moved into the Cobblestone Landing condominium development were told by White that they should have been informed of his plans to operate a car wash by the developer and the real estate agents. "They were aware of my plans," he said.

Tom Cunha, chairman of the housing and development committee voiced his concerns about permits. Cunha was assured by White that he had obtained all pertinent licenses and permits and had been inspected on a routine basis by all city inspectors. When asked by Gordon Greenfield if he had a permit to build a car wash, White said no.

White stated that his original intention for the car wash was for his own fleet of vehicles, but when building was delayed a year through the agreement with the Cobblestone Limited Partnership and he realized the costs involved, he decided to make the facility a public car wash to regain some of his losses. "I thought it was a great idea," White said.

A resident of Cobblestone Landing said he has a document stating that on Feb. 16, 1989 the BRA denied without prejudice White's plans for a car wash. The resident added that the BRA was not aware of the existing car wash on the site.

Cunha stated that he will present the results of the meeting to the full neighborhood council at its next monthly meeting on May 2. He advised residents who have concerns or questions to contact Judy Evers in the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services at 725-3485.

Residents should give Evers their names and addresses to be put on the list to receive information on upcoming hearings pertaining to the car wash, added Cunha. He also stated that if residents attended the next council meeting and wished to express their opinions on the car wash, he would request the council to open the meeting for such public input. All council meetings are held at the Knights of Columbus hall on the first Tuesday of each month and begin at 7 p.m.

ment; third place winner Shannon Houlihan of Charlestown for her experiment on the Structure of the Eye; first place winner Mary Sarantopoulos of Chelsea for her experiment on Visual Images and Color Blindness; and Dr. Maria Cardullo, science department chairperson.

Not For Nothin' . . . But Have You Heard . . .

• Whoa!!!! . . . Now it begins . . . City Square will not be the place to be now that it's been announced that tunnel work will begin on April 25! Better start walking, folks! It will be very difficult to get a car through there during rush hours. A word to the wise . . .

• Don't Forget . . . Headstart Fire Fund Dance at the Knights this Friday night starting at 8 p.m. See you there!

• Happy Grandparents . . . are Jean and Dennis McLaughlin on the birth of their eighth grandchild Bridget on Sunday, April 9! Gee, Dennis, does this mean we'll see you strolling down Main Street, pushing a carriage, next to Mel, Marty and Moe?

• Recently Elected . . . was Sal Giarratani as a Trustee to A.F.S.C.M.E. Local 470 in Boston. Congrats, Sal!

• Note to Ken Stone . . . You have a good looking DOG!

• Look Who's Celebrating Birthdays . . . Renie Stillman (wife of Neighborhood Council member Mel) will be celebrating her big day on April 15th . . . Tricia Dunphy will turn 9 on Sunday, April 16th . . . and belated wishes to Ann Dwyer. Happy Birthday to each of you!!!

• Coming Home Soon . . . Will be "Lord Mayor of Charlestown" Joe Cunha after vacationing in sunny Florida! You've been missed, Joe! Understand your holiday (every holiday) shenanigans down south will be remembered for quite awhile!!!! Next time you see Joe at the Shell gas station, ask him what he did on St. Paddy's Day! . . . Nice to know you enjoyed the Patriot while you were away!

• We've Been Getting Calls . . . You're wondering what happened to the movie theater ad on page 2! Loew's Theaters have decided to save money and cut back on their ads! If you want them to run again (as so many of you have stated) please write and tell them. Send your note to Loew's Theaters, 141 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass. 02111, Attention: Elizabeth O'Neil. If they hear from you, they will reconsider their decision!

• Sad News . . . was the passing away of Spooky the Owl at the Science Museum on April 5 at the age of 38. Spooky entertained a few generations of kids and will be missed by all! He first came to the Museum of Science in 1951 and spent a lot of time in the '50s and '60s on the road traveling the lecture circuit. But many remember him most so proudly perched at the museum during their visits. He might be replaced, but never duplicated.

• Mentioned At Numerous Meetings . . . has been concern for safety in the Training Field area. Traffic increases have residents worried about children and elderly crossing Adams, Common and Park streets. If you're concerned and want answers, call Judy Evers at 725-3485 and she will relay your feelings to the Neighborhood Council for (hopefully) some useful action!

Camp Bunker Hill — Worthy Of Community Support

A few weeks ago I had the opportunity to attend a fund raising meeting for Camp Bunker Hill. Until that time I must admit my knowledge of the camp was very limited. The meeting, held in the Charlestown Navy Yard, was sponsored by The Raymond Group and chaired by David Francis.
After asking a few people around the town about the camp, I discovered that very few people knew about it. One person thought that the Boys' Club sponsored the camp. Someone else said that the camp was for the yuppie children, but most had never heard of Camp Bunker Hill.
Camp Bunker Hill was organized over 19 years ago by the Mass. General Hospital in order to help impacted youth of Charlestown get out of the city for the summer. The camp has helped many a child from the town and, with the much needed help of the community, will continue to do so. After listening to a woman from Charlestown describe how the camp had helped her son prepare for a better quality of life, I was convinced that the camp was not only a good idea, but a necessary part of our community. However, with the state's fiscal budget woes, human service funding has been cut back and quite a few dollars have been withdrawn from the M.G.H.
There will be a dance on May 6 from 7 p.m. to midnight in Building 149 at the Navy Yard to benefit Camp Bunker Hill. Tickets are $20 each or $35 per couple. Anyone wishing to purchase a ticket can do so by contacting Linda Smith at The Raymond Group, telephone 241-7700.

Preservation Society Asks Inspectional Services To Reject Bank's Proposal

Thomas J. McNicholas, Commissioner
Department of Inspectional Services
1010 Massachusetts Ave.
Boston, Mass. 02118
RE: 437 Rutherford Avenue, Charlestown
Proposed Bank of New England Facilities
Dear Sir,
We understand that the Bank of New England has an application (application # 2499) currently undergoing final review by your department. This application is for a permit to demolish existing warehouse and banking facilities and to construct new facilities with three drive-up windows and 39 parking spaces on land at 437 Rutherford Ave., Charlestown.

We are concerned that this proposed demolition of existing structures and construction of a new highway-style quick-stop facility will break the virtually continuous line of buildings fronting and enclosing Main Street and that the drive-in windows will introduce new and unwanted traffic onto our adjacent residential streets.

The proposed facility is in violation of the Boston Zoning Code, particularly Section 8-7 use item # 50, which indicates that a drive-in bank is not allowed in a B district unless a conditional-use permit granted by the Zoning Board of Appeal is first obtained. The proposed facility straddles the line between the B-1 district along Main Street and the M-2 district along Rutherford Avenue. While the bank's drive-in facility was in use at the site at some time in the 1970s, it has been boarded up and not in use for at least 10 years. Section 6-5 of the Code calls for terminating the right for conditional use if non-use for a period of 24 months occurs, as it has in this case.

We ask that your department immediately reject this proposal subject to a full community review process and a hearing at the Board of Appeal.

Since this application has almost completed the permitting process in your department, I would very much appreciate a quick response from you.

Sincerely yours,
Daniel Kovacevic, President
Charlestown Preservation Society

age in his fight for life, which tragically ended on April 3. Affiliated with the shops and the Thirteenth Street satellite offices of MGH, Robert was truly valiant. His co-workers responded with tremendous generosity for the young father, who left his loving wife Denise and children Christine, Thomas and Robert White. We extend condolences to his family and mother Margaret White. Robert left us his death as an example of noble courage, a memorial of virtue not only unto young men, but unto all his nation.

BRA Board Of Directors Decisions On Charlestown Parcels

one quarter of Building 79's second floor.

• Building 149 Linkage — The board voted to accept Biotechnical Research Associate's proposal to commit more than $2 million in its remaining linkage obligation to create one or more affordable housing developments in Charlestown.

The Neighborhood Housing Trust voted April 5 to accept Biotechnical's contributions for Charlestown low- and moderate-income housing and made its recommendations to the BRA.

Biotechnical is required to provide linkage money to the city through the BRA's Development Impact Project. The proposal is innovative in that all linkage money generated from Building 149's redevelopment will stay in Charlestown regardless of the stage that a targeted affordable housing development is in, according to Linda Smith of The Raymond Group.

The Boston Redevelopment Authority Board of Directors made the following decisions on Charlestown properties at its April 6 meeting:

• 74 Tremont Street (Parcel R-36) — The board voted final designation for redevelopment to Peter and Elizabeth Golden of 9 Monument Square. The Golden's will build a two-story single-family home on the 3,515-square-foot lot.

• 47 Park Street (Parcel R-17-G) — Allen and Nancy Kueny were granted final designation to redevelop 1,291 square feet into yard space for their home.

• 49 Park Street (Parcel R-17-H) — Thomas R. and Nancy J. Howley were granted final designation to redevelop 1,181 square feet into yard space for their home.

• Building 79 (Charlestown Navy Yard) — The board took under advisement a request for a lease amendment relative to Building 79. This two-story 14,750-square-foot historic structure in the Charlestown Navy Yard will be rehabilitated into office space. Boston Harbor Investment Group leases Building 79 from the BRA and requested subtenancy to secure construction financing. John W. French Inc., a local architectural firm with members John J. French, Gordon Greenfield and Linda Neshamkin, will enter into a 10-year lease for Hello Dad in the same old way.

To hear your voice and see you smile
