McNicholas has 39 years of experience and service as an electrical engineer and inspector within Boston's Public Works, Building, and Inspectional Services Departments.

College Club

Residents and business persons alike have been up in arms this past week as the City of Boston installed new street and parking signs in the Thompson Square area.

As of this past Tuesday, signs are posted for "no parking" at the island in Thompson Square with another "no parking" sign midway between Church Court and Green Street.

Other signage in the area has restricted the street in front of the Charlestown Liquors to one way from Main to Warren Streets.

If all the "no parking" signs are observed, parking will be virtually eliminated in Thompson Square, creating a monumental problem for businesses in the area, for persons seeking the services of these businesses, as well as for customers of the local post office.

Also, the one-way street at the end of the Thompson Square island means that drivers traveling along Main Street from the direction of Sullivan Square, must continue along Main Street to Monument Avenue before they can take a left to return back to Thompson Square.

Many residents and business persons expressed anger that these signs were posted without either notification from the City or input into the decision proConstituion Co-operative Apartments, Warren Street; Mary Colbert Apartments, Devens Street; Kennedy Center Elderly Lounge, Hayes Square; Saint Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill Street; and Golden Age Center, 382 Main Street. The bus will pick up those attending the dinner starting at 11:00 a.m.

The dinner menu is: cider, mashed potatoes, turkey with gravy, stuffing, cranberry sauce, peas, carrots, beets and rolls and butter, to be served with coffee, tea or tonic. Dessert will be pie and ice cream.

Music will be provided by Larry Miles on the piano, a very popular attraction at Barretts' on Boston Harbour, where he appears three nights a week. Also, back by popular demand, the Norbie Cottier Quartet.

Over seventy volunteers will be on hand to serve the dinner and entertain the

Old Fashioned Door Decorating Contest

In conjunction with the First Annual Charlestown Christmas Walk, on December 13, the merchants and residents of Charlestown invite you to participate in an OLD FASHIONED DOOR DECORATING CONTEST!!

To take part in the contest you must have your door decorated by December 7th so that it may be included in the judging. In keeping with the "old-fashioned" theme of the walk, participants are encouraged to use white lights and "natural" ingredients include sea shells, pine boughs, holly berries, mistletoe, pine cones and the like. Any door that is decorated and lit during the evening hours of the week of December 7th is eligible for a prize!

A panel of judges will be making their decisions during the week of December 7th. Prizes, donated by area merchants, will be awarded in residential and commercial categories, and will be presented prior to the Tree Lighting Ceremony at Thompson Square on the evening of December 13th.

The Charlestown Christmas Walk immediately follows the annual Christmas Concert at Saint Mary's Church. Maps and programs for the walk will be available before the concert.

Please help in making this a memorable and eagerly anticipated annual tradition in our community. If you have any questions regarding the walk, please call Kathy or Carol at 242-7393 or Rosemary at 242-3073.

SAYING THANKS TO YOUR REALTOR

You leave the settlement table feeling really good about the way your agent handled the sale of your home. It was well priced, and because you followed the advice on making your home its most attractive, you got top dollar in a short amount of time. The agent followed up with lenders, appraisers and settlement attorneys to make sure that everything went smoothly and that small problems didn't become big ones. You had heard stories from friends about how stressful their moves were, and you are relieved and happy that you were spared serious foul ups. How do you say "Thanks for a job well done?"

Realtors depend on word of mouth referrals for a big part of their business, and if one has served you well, he or she is likely to do an equally professional job for your friends or colleagues who want to buy or sell a home. The nicest thing clients can do for good agents is to pass on their names to prospective buyers or sellers.

With Thanksgiving fast approaching, "Townie Santa" can't be far behind. Plans are nearing completion to bring a little cheer into the lives and homes of Charlestown's elderly, needy shut-ins - persons 60 years of age or older with little or no family contact - with the delivery of Chrismas Baskets on the Sunday before Christmas. The baskets will contain useful items such as canned goods and toiletries, along with a hot turkey dinner and some surprises.

There are several ways residents and businesses can help with this most worthwhile project - monetary donations, Christmas gifts, and assistance with the packing and delivery (the dates will be announced

In contrast, the dumpster at the entrance to Pier Seven is an eyesore of the highest magnitude. Hopefully, the Board of Managers of Constellation will negotiate a resolve of this issue with its management team. Open space has been addressed, but the overall development will remain a nuisance to all until a more suitable location is found for the substantial cubic feet of refuse that accumulates weekly.

A game of lawn bowling is popular and damage-free. On the other hand, a more destructive game has surfaced at the rear of Shipways I Condo. For lack of an accepted appellation, I will call it Bollard Smashing. Repeatedly, the bollards in different locations have been undermined by unattentive drivers discharging passengers or contents, a maintenance expenditure that depletes the operating budget. Without a motor vehicle inspection squad, the residents must all show reasonability when using the area off First Avenue. Repairs are quickly carried out, but are totally avoidable with operator care and prudent judgment.

Former retired Navy Captain Felix Caracciolo was laid to rest on November 7th from Immaculate Conception Church in East Weymouth. A former production officer at the Charlestown Naval Shipyard from 1958 to 1962, Felix exhibited his shipbuilding acumen, resulting in on-time production schedules. The devotion to detail of this former contributor of Naval projects will always be remembered. Condolences to his wife, Julia, and his two sons and four daughters.

A valuable resource is available to community groups from the National Park Service. Whether it be the Preble or Hull Rooms in the Visitors Center in Building Five, several local organizations have used the facilities for fundraisers and meetings. This is

You know the ailment must be excrutiating for security patrol personnel Glenn Luce to miss the events of Veterans' week. Our former man at the Parris Building on First Avenue is recuperating at the Massachusetts General Hospital following surgery. His absence at the Veterans' Day Mass was conspicuously noted. A stalwart for veterans' rights and benefits, Glenn's involuntary sabbatical is sorely felt by his comrades. Cards are welcome at Baker 10, M.G.H., to buoy his spirits.

As the USS Constitution was undergoing major rigging repairs, the Naval personnel assigned to "Old Ironsides" were off to the Veterans' Day Parade. Usually the duty is a pleasant break from the daily chores they are given. Much to their dismay, the element of snow dashed their hopes of aggreeable marching conditions. Maintaining their composure, they negotiated the route with flawless maneuvers. Many a marcher agreed that those were the worst conditions experienced here on this special day. A survey of the returning marchers showed they gladly would have worked on the mizzen and mizzenmast with gusto. To soothe the hardships encountered, the relaxing colors were hoisted simultaneously with some good grog.

Wanton and malicious destruction of personal property knows no favorites. Several motor vehicles had their windows smashed on Eighth and Thirteenth Streets over the past month. Also, while attending the Marine Corps Birthday at the Knights of Columbus Hall, the vandals struck once again. Approximately ten vehicles were the recipients of shattered windows. The whys and wherefores can run from theft to inane actions. Tragic as the cowardly attacks were, they had further implications for the visitors expecting a great evening of fun and patriotism. To witness the distraught faces of these first time participants was indeed pathetic. A truly great event was negated by a group of know-nothings. Past Grand Knight Tom White will have to actuate the last lines of the Marines' Hymn for the 1988 party. They will find the streets are guarded by United States Marines!

Charlestown Town Team Trounces Belfast And Dublin Teams On Irish Tour

John Hurley, Foreign Correspondent for The Charlestown Patriot, filed his report from Limerick, Ireland on Wednesday morning with the news that the Charlestown Town Team had defeated both the Belfast and the Dublin football teams and had set a new Ireland record for a pass reception.

The team and their fans on the tour have seen much of the country, stated Hurley, with an all day tour of the Lakes of Killarney and the Ring of Kerry last Thursday.

Hurley said that on Friday, a seven hour bus trip took them to Belfast, where they stayed at the Hotel Eu-

On Saturday morning, the group set out on a bus tour of Belfast - Divis Flats, Falls Road and Anderson Town Road, Hurley reported that as the bus drove through the area, members of the group saw the tanks, armored cars and soldiers. They were told not to take photographs, although some of the party did so. He said that they were affected by the sights in areas of Belfast that they previously had only read about.

When the team got to the field, Hurley said Coach John Houlihan had no need to give the team a pep talk prior to the game, they were ready to go. This game was dedicated to Joe Murray, Pat Nee and Captain Bob Anderson.

The team was facing the Craigavon Cowboys which had a 9-0 record in the Irish Football League.

Receiving the kick-off, the Townies began a march toward the first score on the kick-off return by Leo Boucher and the 45 yard run for a touchdown by Gary Mc-Neil. With a two point conversion by McNeil, the Townies led 8-0.

Under the direction of Coach George Sargent, the defensive line of Quinnie Sullivan, Tony Abbatessa, Gary Luongo and Lennie Bellino stopped the Cowboys from scoring and the Townies took over.

Jeff McCarthy returned the punt 25 yards. Ed Vargas and Bill McCarthy ran the ball up to the 20 yard line. Quarterback Paul Soracco threw the ball to Mike Charbonnier and then to Bobby Allen for the second touchdown and a 14-0

On first down passing, the Townies knocked out passes by the Cowboys. Brian Tobin intercepted the pass and the Townies took Under good blocking by John Killoran, Brian Kiley, John Coneeny and Joe Jackson, Gary McNeil was in there for another 45 yard touchdown.

With the Cowboys having possession of the ball, Scott Geezil broke through the end zone for a two point

At the end of the first quarter, the score was Townies 22 - Cowboys 0.

Starting the second quarter, Paul Soracco, Brian Linehan and Bob Cahill went down the field with Soracco tossing a 30 yard touchdown pass to Leo Boucher.

Again, strong defense led by Bob Allen, Jim Gannon and Charles Coxe forced a punt. The Townies took over. Soracco threw a 50 yard pass to Jeff McCarthy for a touchdown. Bellino rushed for two points and the score was 36-0 at half

In the second half, a good defense by a fired up Charlestown team forced the Cowboys into a great punt which was returned 30 yards by Jeff McCarthy.

Soracco then fired a 50 yard touchdown pass to Mike Charbonnier.

The defense, led by Quinnie Sullivan and Bob Allen, again forced the Cowboys to punt. A run by Gary Mc-Neil and Jeff McCarthy drove the Townies to the Cowboys' 20 yard line. On a bootleg play by Quarterback Paul Soracco, the Townies again scored. The third quarter ended with the score 48-0.

The play of the game came in the fourth quarter as the Cowboys were making a great drive trying to score against the Townies for the first time since they arrived in Ireland. The Townie defense forced a fumble, recovered by big 300 pound John Killoran who ran the ball 40 yards. Tiring, he turned around completing a lateral pass to Brian Tobin and throwing a block, Tobin went 30 yards for a touchdown. The score was 54-0.

The Townies last score of the game was on a blocked punt by Jim Gannon that was recovered in the end zone by Bob Allen.

The final score was Townies 60 - Cowboys 0.

A party and dance was held for the Townies following the game, after which the group left for Dublin where the team prepared to meet the Dublin Celts in a Sunday game.

According to Hurley, the Celts are the All-Irish Champion Football Team, sporting a 14-0 record. This is one of four European teams selected to play for the European Championship in Austria this week.

With big Quinnie Sullivan out of the game with an injured back and some players leaving for home on the morning plane, Coach

Boston's Taxpayers Can Expect Increase Over Last Year's Tax Bills

The City of Boston announced last week that the Massachusetts Department of Revenue has approved the new property tax rates for fiscal year 1988. The residential tax rate is $10.77 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation, a drop of 10.5 per cent from last year's tax rate of $12.02. The commercial, industrial and personal property tax rates are $21.66, a decline of 8 per cent from last year's rate of $23.55.

In fiscal 1988, commercial, industrial and personal property taxpayers will pay 66.1 per cent of the total tax burden while residential taxpayers will pay 33.9 per cent.

Tax bills will be in the mail this Friday, November 20. Property owners have until December 21, to pay their tax bills. Property owners who fail to pay by December 21, will be liable for penalty interest added to their bills.

Due to appreciation of real estate values prior to January 1, 1987 - the assessment date for the fiscal year 1988 tax bill - this year's bills have increased slightly despite the drop in the tax rate. The average tax bill for the owner of a single family home in Boston will increase by $88, a two family home will increase on average by $97. The average tax bill for a three family home will increase by $147 or about $4 per month, per were adopted by the City for the benefit of residential homeowners. The residential tax rate could have been as much as 50 per cent higher if classification were not available. Adoption of the full residential exemption will further reduce each homeowner's bill by $149.26.

The City of Boston has adopted legislation which allows elderly, widows, widowers, blind persons and disabled veterans who qualify for tax exemptions to obtain additional tax relief if their taxes have increased due to appreciation of their property.

Homeowners in the city of Boston continue to pay one of the lowest property tax bills in the metropolitan area. While the average tax payment for homeowners in Boston is $1,366, the average in Watertown is $1,956; in Cambridge $2,751; in Milton $2,047; in Medford $2,248; in Newton $3,239; and in Brookline $5,278.

In order to further assist Boston's taxpayers, the Assessing Department will offer extended hours beginning Monday, November 23.

The office will be open from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday and will be open from 8:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. on Thursdays through December 21. The office will be closed on Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 26.

Property owners who apply for Clause Exemptions (for tax deferrals, hardship and for widows and children of police and firefighters killed in the line of duty) must apply at the Assessing Department, Room 301, City Hall no later than Monday, December 21. Taxpayers who are widows, widowers, elderly, blind or disabled veterans who have service-connected disabilities must apply for exemptions no later than Monday, February 22, 1988.

It is important to note that all applicants for exemptions or abatements must pay their tax bills by Monday, December 21. If an exemption or abatement is granted, an adjustment will be made on the next tax bill. If you have any questions regarding exemptions, please call the Assessing Department's Social Services Unit at 725-4288.

Property owners who are applying for an abatement must file with the Assessing Department by Monday, December 21. If you have any questions regarding abatements or your assessment, please call the Assessing Department's Taxpayer Assistance Unit at 725-

During the next month, the Collector-Treasurer's Office will hold extended hours identical to those of the Assessing Department. If you have any questions regarding the payment of your tax bill please call the Collector-Treasurer's Office at 725-4120.

Residents Question Fire Department Officials On Coverage In Charlestown

by Mary Ziniti

The Public Safety Committee of the Neighborhood Council met on November 12 to discuss fire safety in Charlestown with District Chief Paul Cook. Due to bad weather and the late announcement of the gathering, few residents attended the meeting.

Committee members expressed the concern of the Council that Charlestown has inadequate fire protection coverage. They noted in particular that heavy construction in the area and the large volume of traffic that may hinder fire apparatus arrival time. The Committee also said that Charlestown should have an additional fire company within its borders.

Cook said that not only does "more than adequate" response exist, but also "... the heaviest concentration of apparatus anywhere in the country is presently sent to Charlestown."

The quality of fire coverage for Charlestown has been a subject of discussion at the last few Neighborhood Council meetings. Council member Tom White, who is also a Boston fire fighter, informed the community that promised coverage of one officer and four men on a truck by Cook at a meeting last May at the Parkman House has not always occurred in the local companies. Additionally, it was learned at the last Council meeting that the North End fire house, which is a part of Charlestown's regular response not a back up, would temporarily close this week.

Cook explained that the North End station would close down for a two month period until the deteriorating floor can be replaced. He said that the contractor plans to begin work on the floor on November 23 and leave by January 22 or 23. The closing of the station creates the problem of retaining proper coverage for both the North End and Charlestown.

Cook said that with Engine 8 and Ladder 1 moving out of the North End Station for two months, the Fire Department organized a company known as Engine 1 to be housed in the Brinks Garage on Commercial Street. Engine 1 will respond only to the needs of Charlestown and the North End, Cook said. He also noted that pre-planned mutual aid response continues with the 31 communities around Boston when a fire occurs in the City.

At the present, when a box is struck in Charlestown, the response consists of Engines 8, 32 and 50; Ladders 1 and 9; Cambridge Ladder 2; Rescue 1; and the District Chief and his aide, which, according to Cook, encompasses the "heaviest concentration of apparatus anywhere in the country."

Committee member and retired fire fighter Marty O'Brien asked Cook why Engine 8 could not be placed in Charlestown. Cook answered that the department considered putting it in Sullivan Square but then it would be too far from the North End and the rest of the City.

Cook noted the concern of residents that fire apparatus have proper access into Charlestown and that some difficulties exist because of construction and traffic. However, he added that should an extra company permanently be situated in the Town, it would only have to "fight" its way out to other neighborhoods in the City. Cook pointed out that it would be used more times outside of Charlestown than inside.

White queried the District Chief about moving Engine 8 and Ladder 1 into Charlestown, but Cook said that the fire load (the number of fires occurring in the area) of Charlestown doesn't warrant transfer of the two companies. Later in the meeting, O'Brien said he was tired of hearing that because Charlestown has a good fire record, the community is penalized by not receiving another fire company.

Cook read statistics listing the "incidents" occurring in Charlestown over the first ten months of 1987. Out of a total of 42,271 incidents (anytime the Fire Department responds, it is called an incident) in the City of Boston, 1,167 were from Charlestown. The breakdown of the "incidents" in Charlestown were nine building fires, 94 car fires, and 167 trash and grass fires. Additionally, 298 false alarms were pulled in the Town and 43 fire boxes were struck here.

White and Deputy Chief Paul Christian exchanged heated words over the correct status of one officer with four fire fighters on a truck. White had said that the City "reneged" on its promise of one/four coverage. Christian became upset with this statement because as one who assigns the details, he said that only five times has Engine 32 been one/three instead of one/four. The Deputy added that Engine 32 and Ladder 9 have had "one/four coverage 100 per cent of the time."

The Public Safety Committee will make its report to the Neighborhood Council at its next monthly meeting in December.

Mayor Proclaims "Mel Stillman Day"

BOSTON MAYOR Raymond L. Flynn presented a certificate of appreciation to Mel Stillman of Charlestown in recognition of his many years of service to the community. Mayor Flynn proclaimed November 8, 1987 "Mel Stillman Day" in the City of Boston.

Stillman has recently retired after 29 years with the "Boston Globe." The certificate was presented at a Parkman House ceremony with members of the Stillman family in attendance.

The Townies received the kick-off and missed scoring on a lateral pass play when the receiver slipped. With third down and ten yards, passing twice by Paul Soracco gave the Townies a first down. For the third time in three days, Soracco again broke loose for a 45 yard touchdown run. A pass from Soracco to Brian Linehan for two points, put the Townies on the scoreboard 8-0.

Strong defense by the Townies forced a Celts punt. The Townies then had to punt when held by the Celts defense.

When the Townies regained control, Soracco threw a 44 yard pass to Brian Linehan for a touchdown and the score was 14-0.

The Dublin Celts completed four passes in a row and while driving to score, were stopped by the Townies at fourth and one at the 30 yard line. Great defense was exhibited by Bob Allen who was hurt and carried off the field.

Again, Soracco, driving the team down to the 18 yard line, scored on a broken pass play, making it 20-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was dominated by the Townie defense, preventing a breakaway by #19, Red Murphy, the Celtic's finest end.

After being stopped by the Celts, the Townies were forced to punt.

The Townies again stopped the Celts, taking over on their own 35 yard line.

Soracco called for a screen pass to Gary Mc-Neil. With great blocks by John Killoran and Jeff Mc-Carthy, and after catching the ball, great open field running by Gary McNeil produced a 65 yard touchdown that broke the backs of the Celtic Team.

Tony Abbatessa rushed for two points and at half time the score was Townies 28 - Celts 0.

In the second half, the Townie defense led by Mike McManus, Charlie Coxe, Tommy McGrath and Bob Allen, who was injured once again and taken off the field, stopped the Celts' passing game.

With the Townies taking over on their 21 yard line, Soracco tossed a 75 yard pass play to Jeff McCarthy at the four yard line. The game sportscaster announced that this was a new Ireland record for a pass completion, breaking the previous record of 68 yards set in 1986.

Bob Cahill scored from the the four yard line and Jeff McCarthy rushed for a two point conversion. The score was 36-0 at the end of

Vandalism — A Crime Against Our Own

The Charlestown Police Line over the past few weeks has listed countless incidents of vandalism in our community — particularly automobile vandalism. However, this is just the tip of the iceberg, for many incidents are never reported.

The incidents of vandalism have ranged from tire slashing, to mirrors and antennas broken, to windows and windshields smashed — some done for the purpose of stealing radios or items of value left in the cars — and some just for kicks, the malicious destruction of the vehicles.

Whatever the purpose, the result is the same — an astronomical expense to repair the damaged vehicles and the ever skyrocketing insurance bills.

Are these vandals aware that they are hurting their neighbors — fellow residents of Charlestown — local businesses and organizations that are the financial backbone supporting our hockey, baseball, football and other programs benefitting the youth of the town?

These bouts of vandalism have a crippling financial effect on local businesses that could possibly restrict their ability to so generously support our many local programs, not only for youth but the elderly as well.

Furthermore, these vandals are hurting their own families by their actions which increase our insurance premiums and the products we buy, for the businessman must pass on his loss to the consumer.

A marked case in point was the ten or so cars that were vandalized in the Knights of Columbus parking lot on November 10th while their owners attended a dinner honoring the 212th Birthday of the United States Marine Corps. These men, the majority of whom live or grew up in Charlestown, left the dinner shortly after 9:00 p.m. after reminiscing about their service to their country and pride in their Charlestown roots only to find their cars maliciously damaged.

These outrageous acts of vandalism can't be blamed on "outsiders," "liberals," "yuppies" or any other group that have been so easily labeled by many for all the ills of the community — no, these vandals are our own "Townies."

Anyone old enough to cause this type of damage is old enough to know it is wrong.

To the vandals, accept the responsibility that comes with being a resident/citizen of this town. How can you brag and strut about proclaiming that you are a "Townie" and yet hurt your neighboring "Townie" with your acts of vandalism.

Wear your sweaters, hats and sweatshirts proclaiming "Charlestown #1 or "Townie Pride" with the pride that this town deserves and respect the property of ALL the residents, businessmen and visitors to this town.

At a recent Central Artery North Area (CANA) meeting on November 5, residents were asked to consider adding Saturday work hours to the existing construction schedule for the CANA project. Some residents near Lowney Way voiced their opposition to this proposal, saying that they must already contend with the all-night work of Massport on the Tobin Bridge.

Residents complained that Tobin Bridge work keeps them awake all night long because of the loud noise created by the jack hammers and the workers. After calling Massport to protest the nocturnal activities, Charlestown resident Kathleen Shea said that she was told there was nothing that could be done to curb this activity. John Favorito, Massport Community program manager designer on the CANA project, attempted to explain Massport's position at the CANA meeting as being an emergency situation, but residents remained upset.

Favorito again discussed the Tobin Bridge work in a recent telephone interview. He said that the work entails more than surface repair, as some deterioration has occurred.

When asked for an end date to the work, Favorito answered that repairs should be concluded with the completion "one more work" section, but the emergency work is not always predictable. He added that such maintenance work is always being done and that Massport is trying to be sensitive to the neighbors affected by the authority's work.

A Massport engineer elaborated on Favorito's explanation. The engineer said that the work has focused upon the deck of the Bridge to prevent chunks of concrete from falling upon vehicles traveling on the lower level. As the engineer explained, the deck has grids filled with concrete. Moisture causes damage by rusting the steel forms (in place since the 1970s) used to shape the concrete, thus the concrete eventually falls out in chunks posing a threat to lower deck users.

The present work occurring on the Bridge entails repairing the steel grates, putting in new concrete and (continued on page 16)

Two years in the eat-for-pay racket have made me realize screndipity and dining out might be oxymorons.

All too often, those pre-meal high hopes slide into the reality of mediocrity. It is just another restaurant — good intentions, and adequate food, but no surprise.

And this jaded view was set in the psyche when Roughan's was spotted as a Sunday Gourmet entry. Pretty to look at, it had all the visible markings of just another enterprise fueled by these trendy times. There's the deli in the entry, where cases are filled with meats and home heat-up items. Move to the end of the case and take a right and you're in the dining from.

Here, the carpet is tweedy, the walls and ceiling pink, and everything else is either grey or marroon. The long windows look east and the plant beds are filled with silk flowers. It is a scene and scheme that often rises above the taste of the middling meals that these kitchens produce.

While the coffee was very good, the cynic in me believed that it was because new restaurants have new systems. The juice came from a carton. But when the food arrived from Roughan's semi-open kitchen, all doubts about the place being all style and no substance vanished. It was truly a wonderful surprise.

The menu describes hash and eggs ($4.95) as containing "our award-winning hash." Well, whoever gave Roughan's the "hash award," knows his leftovers.

A substantial mound, this chunky hash was the recipient of the soft corned beef left over from a boiled dinner as well as the traditional red brisket that usually comprises the meat portion of most hash recipies.

Part crunchy, part soft, tasting of a little smoke, it didn't need and didn't have too many "stretching" vegetables. Definitely the most original, this might be the best hash in the Hub.

Another brunch beliwether, Eggs Benedict ($4.95), was handled perfectly. The eggs, just like in the hash dish, were perfectly poached. Below the eggs, there were no surprises. The muffin was good and the bacon was actually "Canadian."

But, the real surprise was in the judicious use of the fine hollandaise.

Accompanying both egg dishes were excellent skin-on home fries. The potatoes were hot, soft, and had the flavor of being pan pals to last night's roast. The plates also contained a fruit garnish highlighted by a piece of juicy pincapple.

Another good dish was the French toast ($3.95). Thick slices of good white bread are attractively arranged and thoughtfully served with easy to spread whipped butter and real maple syrup.

For those with "unch" rather than "br" on their taste buds, Roughan's serves heartier fare such as an open-faced sirloin sandwich ($7.95), fettucinni primavera ($4.95), and seafood newburg ($5.95).

An interpreter provided the link between the delegation and the guests at the reception. Greetings and gifts were exchanged, with each member of the group receiving a Boston T-shirt and a cap from the USS Constitution which they promptly donned.

The delegation visited Boston under The U.S.-U.S.S.R. Environmental Agreement and at the invitation of the United States Government, U.S. Department of the Interior, NPS. The delegation included: I.G. Ivanof, deputy chief, Department of Town Planning, State Committee on Civil Construction and Architecture; K.O. Teder, minister of Forestry for Estonia; V.A. The Massachusetts visit finalized a week-long formal look at cultural resources, environmental issues and management techniques on the East Coast. Part of a recently begun project between the NPS and the Soviet Union, the group participated in an exchange of technical information of historic and environmental preservation.

Sewage Problems Continue To Plague The Community were ready to dig last Thursday, November 12, but the snowstorm of November 11 prevented the workers from starting.

Another sewage problem has plagued the area when a catch basin collapsed at the corner of Warren and Winthrop Streets, according to Arthur Woodford, district foreman for Boston Water and Sewer. Woodford said that workers will be at the site on either Monday or Tuesday morning at 9:00 a.m., depending upon which day the department can hire a police detail.

Workers were already at this second site once.

Again We Ask . . . When Is It Going To Be Repaired?

THE NOW INFAMOUS sewage leak on Green Street has been fouling our streets and sidewalks for nearly six months. The problem was exacerbated this past weekend when the metal plate moved off the area of the leak forcing vehicles to maneuver through the depression, causing considerable splashing. The Charlestown Branch Library now displays a sign asking persons to wipe their feet before entering to minimize the sewage tracked into that facility, but a sign does little good. A little further up Green Street, children play in the front of the Boys and Girls Club surrounded by the stench of sewage. Inspection, investigation, court action has led nowhere as of this date. The PATRIOT has been in frequent contact with City officials and the promise of the week is that work will begin on Friday, November 20th. There is NO EXCUSE that will satisfy the fact that this health hazard should have been repaired long before now. There is NO EXCUSE that the residents of Charlestown have been so neglected that this condition has been allowed to exist for all these months. There has been more than enough excuses — the sewage leak should be repaired and repaired immediately.

NOBLE AWARD:

Congratulations are in order for our newest community selection for Associate Commissioner on the Metropolitan District Commission, namely C-Town's own John A. "Jack" Whelan. Jack was sworn in on November 9th at the majestic Doric Hall in the State House before his family and friends.

This highlighted the grand selection of a truly top qualified individual who will bring to the MDC Board the character, dedication, harmony and "Class" which Jack Whelan has shown in his long colorful career right here in our community. Now, all together, Hip, Hip, Hooray, eh, repeat three times. Maybe we could have a future Commissioner right here in C-Town!

Remember your favorite charities and support local youth sport programs, right Jack? And of course Madam Associate Commish . . . Ellen Whelan, without whose support Jack would be only a household name, right Ellen!

We salute you both and bless your reign as Com-

RUMORS ABOUND:

While enjoying an evening out at one of our newest local eateries, Roughan's at City Square, last week, my wife Rita and I overheard two lovely girls chuckling about one of the girl's younger brothers. It seems her brother is now stationed in Hawaii and enjoys the role of an "Officer and a Gentleman." He answers to the call of "Captain" Sean O'Dara - Ugh, class of '84, West Point! From the drift of the laughter, it seems the "Captain" hung up his skates back in 1980-81, when the Army (West Point) training began to sap his energies and stagger his grades somewhat. Through it all, her younger brother passed with honors!

It seems the "Cadet" wrote home to Mom, Mary, asking if she would search for his hockey bag stored in the attic . . . and send him his "lucky" Bauer ice skates and "Bobby Orr Hockey Gloves" (my God, they're a collector's item). Then, she was to rush them Federal Express immediately to Hawaii . . . almost sounding like a direct order from the "Cadet" Sean O'Daraugh, said Mary Ellen. Unfortunately, she said, my Mom will have to write Sean to tell him those antiques were donated to a local charity quite a few years ago. Much to her

Mary's only solution was to send new skates and gloves express, hoping to cover up the donations made in good faith to solve the problem.

Apparently, a skating Rink built on the Base for military recreation, prompted Sean O' to wonder if he still had that old hockey touch of scoring through the goalies' pads. It was that wondering that prompted him and some old classmates from West Point to once again lace up the "old skates" and work off some of the fat that was starting to become a permanent roll for many of the less active cadets. Then, depending on how many of the cadets survived, they would take a

Finally, wiping their eyes gleefully, the girls paid their bill, covering their tip with the ash tray, and exited the eatery . . . off into the night.

My wife and I finished our meal, paid our bill and left, As we were nearing our home, I realized we

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street on Tuesday, November 24 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "Fish Is Fish," in which viewers find out what life is like for a fish on land: Paddington makes a tough toffee as a game-show contestant in "Paddington Bear 8;" and a deal with the devil gives a young soldier unending wealth - and trouble in "Bearskin."

The story about Ida who wins first prize at a local festival - with a film about garbage is told in "Ida Makes A Movie," shown only at 3:30 p.m.

The suggested readings in conjunction with these films are: The First Book of Bears by Robert Whitehead; Juano and the Wonderful Fresh Fish by Theima Shaw; and Paddington Cleans Up by Michael

LOST AND FINALLY FOUND

You'd think after 35 to 40 years away from the old homestead of pre-WWII, you would be lost or confused when you returned to good, old Charlestown!

Fortunately, a few of the old landmarks remain to guide some of us, while letting others remember better times!

One such landmark is on Lynde Street . . . where old friends or spuds meet. It's called Sully's Cafe!

Recently, an old "Townie" returned after spending half his life and more traveling around the world on the merchant trade routes established by Marco Polo, and in some countries nothing of significance has changed since Marco Polo.

Well, our world traveler is back home . . . here in Charlestown . . . picking up and enjoying C-Town more than ever before

Now that he has retired from the life of a seaman, he fully enjoys his new life as a "Landlubber" who is enjoying his land.

Welcome home to "Skeets!" I hope the Town is everything you missed and more. Ship Ahoy, "Laddie!"

Thank You For Helping Me

To Jack Sheehan and Dan McGoff from The Kennedy Center: Gaylan Stone and Dick Church from the Boys and Girls Club and Catholic Charities; Bobby Smith, former Boston College athlete; and Bob DeCristoforo from Christopher Columbus High School - please accept a well deserved "Thank You" for helping me. I appreciate whatever each of you many have done that was instrumental in my attending Avon Old Farms School.

Your help, guidance and generosity certainly motivated me in my selection and helped me aim towards a goal. I hope I can repay your kindness by making you proud of my achievements, both academically and athletically.

Thank You All

Saint Mary's Annual Christmas Bazaar, held at the Parish Hall on Saturday, November 14, was a huge success. The Staff and Bazaar Committee would like to thank all those who attended.

The Hall buzzed with eager shoppers. The adult and children's games boards offered splendid prizes and all winners left smiling. Santa, however, had the biggest smile due to the volume of little ones who posed for pictures with him.

Grand Prize winners of the chance drawings included: Walter Duggan - V.C.R., Janet Lakeman - Baby's Cradle, Mark Norris - Scooter, Marie Sweeney - Baby's Layette, Irene Buckley and Dotty Duffy - Oil Paintings, Kay Hickey and Rose Strano - Afghans, Noreen Ridings - Irish Quilt, Mary Patterson - Ceramic Nativity Set, and Dotty Carroll $50 Gift Certificate.

Women's Psyche, Women's Spirit: The Reality Of Relationships

ber 19th in the lower hall of the Knights of Columbus.

Mary Lou Randour, Ph.D. Psychologist and Fellow, Clinical-Development Institute, will be the featured speaker at the Friends of the Library Meeting to be held tonight, Thursday, November 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street.

Women who talk of their spirituality speak in many different voices, Mary Lou Randour will illustrate, however, that which unifies all women's spirituality is a fundamental orientation to relationships. She bases her findings on her study of ninety-four women's spiritual experiences and on her work as a psychotherapist. She will show how women's spiritual experiences such as sitting with a dying friend, writing a poem to the Indian goddess Kali, or having a dream that foretells a sister's near death in childbirth is an expression of a search for meaning in relationships and self-identity.

The public is cordially invited to attend.
