Salvucci Announces $20,320 Grant For Disabled Transportation Program

State Transportation Secretary Frederick P. Salvucci has announced that Boston area disabled residents will benefit from improved transportation services thanks to a $20,320 grant that has been awarded by the state to the Life Focus Center of Charlestown. The grant, made through the state's Mobility Assistance Program, will be used to purchase one wheelchair accessible van and one mobile radio.

"Through the Mobility Assistance Program and a host of other initiatives, Governor Dukakis is helping ensure that the wealth of opportunities available in Massachusetts is within everyone's reach," Salvucci said. "By improving and expanding accessible transportation services, elderly and handicapped residents all over the state can take advantage of employment and recreational opportunities, as well as educational programs and medical services.

Salvucci explained that the Mobility Assistance Program grants allow local public and private non-profit programs to purchase vehicles and other equipment for their senior and disabled transportation programs. Under the current round of awards, 22 organizations statewide will share in over $1.6 million worth of vehicles, computers, mobile radios, and other equipment to be delivered next summer. The Secretary noted that awards made through the program have nearly tripled in the past several years.

"It gives us great pleasure to announce this funding for the Life Focus Center," he added. "The center provides invaluable services for handicapped residents throughout the Boston area."

The van, which seats eight to ten passengers will be used to provide dialarride and subscription transportation services for the handicapped to medical facilities, jobs, shopping, and community activities. The new radio equipment will enable the program to provide quicker, more responsive service.

'Birthday Party'' For Baby Jesus

Kevin O'Halloran, Administrative Assistant for the Life Focus Center, said that the funding will allow the program to expand its services.

"It will increase the agency's ability to respond to the handicapped and special needs population by providing accessible transportation to work training and adaptive life skills workshops and to special needs day care," he said.

The Life Focus Center of Charlestown provides accessible transportation to handicapped residents of Charlestown, Revere, Everett, Chelsea, South Boston, Brighton, Somerville, East Boston, the North End, Roxbury and the South End.

Financial Aid Awareness Month

The Massachusetts Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (MASFAA) will offer its 1987 Financial Aid Awareness Month toll-free telephone counseling service for a four week period.

The tenth annual hot-line service will operate weeknights, from 5:00 to 9:00 p.m. from January 20 through February 13, 1987. The Massachusetts toll-free student financial aid hot-line number is 1-800-262-8552.

In the past the hot-line has run throughout the month of January, but MASFAA members have found that beginning the service later assists parents and students in completing applications when family financial data is more readily available.

IS THE PRICE RIGHT?

Once you've found the perfect home, no matter how much you love it, you'll probably want to know that you're paying a fair price for it. How can you be sure?

You can start by talking with the Realtor who will write up the offer for you. You could ask for information about other properties for sale in the area. What are their asking prices and how do they compare to the home you are considering? Ask for the sales prices of homes that have actually sold and settled. If you feel the house you like is overpriced, that should not keep you from making an offer that you think is fair. Some sellers are willing to negotiate on price or terms, and the Realtor would be happy to write up your offer and present it to the sellers for you.

If you have any questions about buying a new home, please contact the professionals at Century 21, Silva Realty Associates. Phone us at 242-7470 or drop by our office at 142 Main Street, Charlestown.

Community Effort Copes With Catch-22

Charlestown residents may wonder at the daily sight of youngsters traveling back and forth between Saint Catherine's School and the Harvard-Kent School across busy Bunker Hill Street.

The story behind this activity is one of cooperation between public and private sectors and the thoughtful community effort to deal with an unfortunate situation brought on by what many consider an unwise United States Supreme Court decision.

In a fine example of cooperation between public and private schools. Saint Catherine's School in Charlestown has combined with the Harvard-Kent School to restore some order and an effective teaching program to a chaotic eral years had been a happy and harmonious school situation.

Since last fall, Boston Public School teacher Sheila Tilton, aided by paraprofessional Josephine Gioiosa, has been conducting daily classes in reading for eligible children of the parochial school who need extra help. This has been made possible through the cooperation of public school principal Joanne McManus and private school principal Sister Ann Gavin, who have worked together to see that Charlestown students receive the educational service to which they are entitled by

The unusual situation has come about in an effort to cope with an almost impossible obligation imposover the country by a surprising decision handed down by the United States Supreme Court in July of 1985

Few people yet realize the far-reaching effects of this little publicized decision, which has shaken school systems, public and private, with a blow from which they are still reeling. In a five to four vote, the Supreme Court left standing the Chapter I law which requires public schools to give eligible students in private schools substantially the same federally funded service they give to public school students. However, at the same time the Court said the public schools could no longer use the method of delivering this service which Boston had used for some twenty years: Boston, together with most cities and towns across the country, had assigned regular public school teachers to give extra instruction to eligible students in private schools.

One of the dissenting judges said that the Court was in a "Catch-22 paradox of its own creation" whereby the aid to parochial schools must be closely "supervised to ensure no entanglement, (of church and state) but the supervision itself is now held to cause to entanglement."

The decision has upset school departments all over the country as they have struggled with the attempt to give worthwhile service but within the ruling of the Court.

Some idea of the effect of the decision may be gained from a before-and-after comparison. In 1984-85, Boston serviced approximately 1750 students from 32 private schools. In 1985-86, Boston serviced something less than 400 students from eight private schools. In other words, over 1300 students entitled to this service did not receive it!

At Saint Catherine's School, when it became apparent that the Supreme Court decision would be implemented immediately. and that Chapter 1 classes could no longer be given in the school itself, Sister Ann looked around for an acceptable alternate site. Near the school, was the Harvard-Kent School which had some space available.

Since the students to be serviced would be residents of the area served by the Harvard-Kent, the principal was more than willing to help. With the cooperation, energy, and optimism

The Adult Discussion Group will meet on Friday, January 23rd for an Open Discussion meeting. Participants will have a chance to evaluate the last series on Crafts and Hobbies. This will also be a good time to join the group, as upcoming programs will be discussed.

Two Classics Of The Theatre Of The Absurd To Open At CWT

Two classics of the Theatre of the Absurd, Jean Genet's The Maids and Harold Pinter's The Lover, open Friday, January 16th at the Charlestown Working Theater, 442 Bunker Hill Street, Charlestown

The Maids, which brought Jean Genet to prominence as a playwright, was inspired by an actual murder case, the killing of a wealthy French family by its housemaids, the Papin sisters. The play opens with the two sisters, here called Claire and Solange, enacting a private drama, a Black Mass in which one of them, in the role of their mistress, humiliates the other to such an extreme that the victim retaliates by symbolically "murdering" her oppressor. When the actual mistress unwittingly interrupts the two sisters, the symbolic ritual changes into a true murder attempt. The Maids is a thriller, a black comedy, and a probing psychological case study by turns, and promises to be an unforgettable evening of theatre.

Paired with The Maids is Harold Pinter's one-act play The Lover, a brilliant example of the "Comedy of Menace." Here Pinter introduces a happily married couple with an unusual secret: with the husband's consent, the wife is conducting an affair in their own home with a visiting lover. As the play progresses, however, this "secret life" is penetrated to reveal deeper, and more disturbing, secrets about a marriage in which love and sex are irrevocably divided.

The evening features
Tara Dolan, Jan Connery, and Beth Goldman in The Maids, and Geoff Pingree and Sue Downing in The Lover. Both plays are being directed by Tom Garvey, who directed the popular One-Acts Built for Two at the Charlestown
Working Theater last summer.

The production runs through Sunday, February 1st, with performances Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:00 p.m. and Sunday

Caravans of Casey and Hayes moving vans recently occupied First Avenue and the surrounding parameters of the Ironsides Building. These monsters of the roads were preparing for a substantial move. The question is in what direction. When the facts are presented, I will convey.

One of Boston's finest public safety officers was taking his daily accelerated constitutional recently. Attired with the proper running wear, Leo Sullivan of the Boston Fire Department was making great strides down Thirteenth Street, proceeding to Pier 8. The residents of Boston are indeed lucky to have a fine and fit servant in Leo. Maybe a Dalmation for next Christmas? Helen will take good care of it, I am sure.

With the recent 13½ foot super high tide, the Shipway Marina was buffeted with a snow covering as well. Many a stroller had never witnessed a tide of this magnitude.

Oblivious to the sea and its havoc, were several vessels within Pier 8. Assylum, Wilmington, Coole Breeze, Charlestown and Snow Goose-Boston were impervious to the storm.

There was brisk purchasing at the Commissary during the storm. It seems no matter how extensive the planning is, one always miscalculates the necessities of life. The service and conviviality were appreciated during this brief Northeaster.

As the yacht Aloha, Portsmouth, New Hampshire remained at dockside, an armada of approximately 15 sailboats, for the most part under sail, graciously passed on New Year's Day. This assemblage of varied and colorful boats was indeed a tranquil sight with which to commence the New Year.

The Sea Merchant from Hamilton, British Columbia was exiting our neighborhood recently, heading north, its crew anxious to return to home port. Yet another commercial vessel appeared, known as GINA S. Under the assistance of the tug Mystic, its enormous bulk was brought to the Moran Terminal for unloading. This vessel was from the distant port of Limassol on an island below Turkey, known as Cyprus. I will be looking for the stickers that say "Made in Limassol." This was indeed a research job for Hercule Peroit.

Having arrived within the Ironsides Building less than a year ago, the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority is contemplating a move. With its recent purchase and sales agreement with General Dynamics for property in Quincy, relocation is a distinct possibility. To have a centralized facility with administrative offices is a priority for the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority. Stay tuned for the final shut off notice.

Sighted former waterfront honcho, Chris Callahan, on Pier 8 recently. Having worked in the Navy Yard before joining the Occupational Safety Hazard Office with the Federal Government, he was impressed with the Shipway Complex. Who knows, he might have his son, Brian, Attorney with Cooley, Manion, Moore, and Jones P.C., give an offer for one of the units at Constellation Wharf. At any rate, its nice to see the old crowd enjoying the refurbished Yard.

As a lifelong resident of the district, he understands the needs of those who live here. He wants more effective law enforcement on our streets and more safety in our neighborhoods and

by Mike Peters

My father is worried, by George. He is worried because he has not yet been presented with a male grandson by one of my brothers.

You should know that my father's most fervent wish, before he applies for membership in that big yacht club in the sky, is to leave behind a namesake to carry on the family name.

My father does not lack for grandchildren. Indeed, he has a plethora of male grandchildren. At last count there were enough grandchildren produced by my brothers and isters to staff an organized deer drive through several square miles of the Chittenden forest. I've often suggested to my brothers and sisters that they visit me during the deer season, so that I may put the little ones to work. But hey resist the idea.

My siblings are engaged in a conspiracy against my father. My sisters regularly produce sons and my brothers regularly produce daughters, which results in a regular state of depression for my father.

I have produced nothing but cats, dogs and headaches for my father. I once had a pet iguana which I named after my father, but he was not impressed by a big lizard nam-

The fact that my father's name is George only further complicates the issue.

With each new pregnancy among my sisters-in law, my father begins to lobby for the coronation of George Grant

Given a choice, I would choose not to offend anybody. But nobody names their son George anymore. Even fathers named George elect not to pass the name along to their sons. I know a lot of Georges and not one of them has inflicted the name on their son. I sincerely apologize to all of the Georges out there, but that's the way it is.

'Sure would be nice to have a little George around here, wouldn't it?", my father will say to my grimacing brother and my brother's grimacing expectant wife. Obviously my father is very subtle.

With each announcement of an impending addition, a special family gathering is held among my brothers and

"No way I'm naming my son George," my brother George III would announce. "Let somebody else do it." And then he had daughters, anyway.

And this past year, two of my younger brothers had a chance to make my father happy

My father was aglow with anticipation. He was sure that the odds were with him and there would finally be a little boy running around Charlestown with his name and genes.

Alas. My father is still waiting and urging all of his sons to eat more red meat.

A few months ago, my brother Mitchell checked into the baby category with Adrianna Alexandra, and just several weeks ago, my brother Jeffrey chipped in with Katelyn Elizabeth. They are both ecstatic, particularly

'At least I don't have to worry about her playing football," Jeff told me. Jeff had the misfortune of playing college football for Columbia and would like his kids to keep their knees

Jeff also told me that, had the child been a boy, the name would have been George Michael.

"Somebody's got to do it for him," he reasoned. Jeff has always been generous. I believe it requires an enormous sense of generosity to name your child George. Again, I apologize to all the Georges. But how many of you would name your son George? Honestly?

My father is thrilled with the latest female additions to the clan, but he is becoming desperate for a namesake.

He is becoming so desperate that he recently said, "Well, there's always Michael to count on. He's the only one with no children and I know he can give me a little George Grant the Fourth.

That statement elicited more than a few knowing chuckles from my family. It will elicit more knowing chuckles from anybody who knows me.

Don't misunderstand me. I love children. I just wish I could get one that is already trained, polite and possessed of a ninety-nine miles per hour fastball.

But the simple truth is that everybody knows my hands are kept full making sure my cat stays out of trouble. I have considered adding a bulldog to my household, but that's an enormous step and I'm taking it slowly.

And as much as I would like to avoid disappointing my father, I have no choice but to now use this column to send a deeply personal message.

Dear Dad: Don't hold your breath. By George.

Love, Mike

Team Police Program Topic Of Community Meeting

by Chris Nicastro

Team Police, a special crime fighting unit established in 1976, is now playing a major role in Boston's law enforcement efforts at Charlestown's Bunker Hill Housing Development and 22 other city housing projects.

Based on anti-crime techniques first used in England in the early seventies, the Team Police unit assigns its officers to specific geographical areas, mostly housing developments. These officers are, in turn, responsible for and in charge of all police activity in that area. Officers Steve Da-Corta, Al Whiffen, and Danny Keeler are the Team Police officers at the Bunker Hill Housing Develop-

Speaking before a sparse crowd at the monthly police community relations meeting at the Kent Community School on Tuesday night, Captain Phillip Vitti said that cooperation is the key to the unit's success. A willingness to support their officers' judgments and back them up when they request re-enforcement are essential. "We operate like a team, like a family," said Vitti. "What's different about us is we rely a lot on the individual officer. I ask him how to solve the problems. He knows how to solve them because he's always there.

Vitti said that Team Police are especially suited for the city's housing developments because they are small geographical areas with limited populations. Expanding the concept throughout the city could get a little tricky because the population there is much more vertical (more likely to reside in high rise buildings) and would require increased manpower. Manpower is in short supply at the Boston Police Department, said Vitti who believes that there are a number of city projects that could use Team Police officers on site.

At the projects, the officers are able to establish working relationships with most of the residents. These relationships help the officers learn of problems as they take place and quite often head off neighborhood crises before they get out of control. "The officers come to know all of the people in their area and most of their work involves resolving problems and conflicts, rather than making arrests," said Vitti.

More and more, however, when the officers do make arrests, drugs seem to be at the root of the problem. "The biggest problem we have in the developments is drugs. We go on at least three drug raids a week," said Vitti. Vitti blames the courts for not imposing tough sanctions on the drug dealers his officers arrest. "By the time we finish the paper work, they're already out on the streets. One day we arrested over sixty (drug dealers) and they were all back on the streets the next day. The sanctions are much too mild.'

Increased availability. Vitti said, remains the primary reason for the escalation in drug related crimes. According to Officer Joe McNulty, cocaine has now become easier to get in Charlestown than marijuana. "Cocaine is more compact than marijuana. In economic terms, you're going to get the same amount of money for a box of co-

In other police matters, Sergeant Robert Sloane said that two Charlestown youths were approached at Main and Dunstable Strets on Saturday at 10:00 a.m. by a slim white man in his thirties with brown hair, wearing a white jacket and blue jeans, carrying a red sled. He was driving a white car. The man told the youths that their mother was at the hospital and he would take them to visit her. The two youths ran away unharmed.

Development Issues Highlight Neighborhood Council Meeting

by Kathy Giordano

The monthly Neighborhood Council meeting, held on January 8th, opened with an announcement from Council Co-Chairman Tom Cunha that alarmed the members. He disclosed that the Sheafeville Realty Trust developers had placed their property on Sackville Street in the hands of a local real estate agent to sell, just two hours after the City of Boston Board of Appeals (BOA) granted the developer's petition to construct condos on the site.

The plans for the development of this property. which includes the house at 19 Sackville Street and extends to Sheafe Street, was the subject of two community meetings sponsored by the Housing Committee of the Neighborhood Coun-

Cunha noted that although both petitioners (developers) had stated repeatedly to the Housing Committee and to the BOA that they intended to live on the site - a factor reportedly in their favor in securing the granting of their petition by the BOA - both their names and addresses were listed on the real estate listing obtained by Cunha from the broker.

Cunha told the Council that a letter would be sent to the Board of Appeals informing them of this situation. He also made note that this action by the developer will be remembered at all future meetings that the Housing Committee will hold on development proposals in the community.

Council Chairman John Tobin continued the meeting, stating that the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) had sent two development kits to the Neighborhood Council for review. The parcels are R96 - High and Walker Streets. and R107 - Lawnwood Place and Main Street. The Development Committee will review the plans and report back to the Council at the next meeting.

Developer Thomas Celata's plans for 41-43 Auburn Street, a vacant lot located at the top of Auburn Street, were brought to the Council's attention. At this point, Tobin opened the meeting for the public to direct any questions or concerns to the Council.

Residents from Bunker Hill and Auburn Streets were allowed to voice their opinions on the proposed development of 41-43 Auburn Street and those present were unanimous in their disapproval of the developer's plan to build four units with six parking spaces on that site. One resident stated that Celata had already had three hearings before the Zoning Board at which the neighborhood had appeared each time against his proposal. At the last hearing, she stated, the developer was told to change his development plans and get back to the neighborhood, but when he came back to the neighbors, he presented the same plans originally submitted. requesting six units for the

This issue was turned over to the Housing Committee who will hold a public hearing with all concerned parties.

On two other development issues, Ron Taylor of Baldwin Street stated that he was opposed to a proposal to construct a building on Albion Place as well as a proposal to create two additional businesses on the site of the former Middlesex Market at 435 Main Street. He further stated that as a resident of Baldwin Street, he opposed the planned development of 41-43 Auburn Street since it might cause traffic and parking problems in the

These three issues will be discussed at an open meeting of the Housing Committee on Thursday, January 22nd at 7:30 p.m. at Charlestown High School. All concerned residents are urged to attend.

Tobin then asked if there were any other topics to be discussed from the audience. At this point, Massport Community Liaison, Donna Lane Hickey, informed the Council and public of the Massport purchase of the former Revere Sugar site and invited all interested parties to a public hearing on the purchase which will take place on Thursday, January 15th at 7:30 p.m. at Charlestown High School. She also stated that residents could call

- Attention Neighborhood Council! . . . it has been brought to our attention by many residents who have attended Council meetings and Committee hearings and have been finding it difficult to appreciate your full worth. Problems and possible solutions are: 1) Being unable to hear what is going on . . . a microphone would be very helpful at future public
- 2) Council members should be seated in such a manner so that the speakers can address both the Council and audience at the same time and make their presentations (architectual drawings, plans, etc.) so that all could see.
- 3) It would be very helpful for residents to know the name of each Council member and their respective Committee. How about name plates?
- Speaking of the Neighborhood Council Welcome to the two new members chosen to fill the vacancies left by the death of Gus Charbonnier and resignation of Judy Evers to take a post in the Mayor's Office. The new members are Jim Mansfield and Julia Rodriguez

It is difficult enough to dodge the potholes while driving, not to mention getting around double parked cars - lets make a deal - I don't drive on your sidewalk if you don't walk in the middle of my street! Sounds reasonable!

The Bricklayers and Laborers Non-Profit Housing Corporation, Inc. plans to hold a lottery for the purchase of these units. Applicants will be asked to fill out an application and financial statement (guidelines and criteria for qualifications will also be included). BLNHC uses the currently published income limits of the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency to qualify potential buyers. The current limit for a family of four is $43,000.

Additionally, all potential buyers will have to obtain a mortgage and be prepared to make at least a 5% down payment as well as to cover conventional closing costs. Applicants who comply with the guidelines will qualify for the lottery. One qualified buyer and one runner-up will be chosen for each unit.

The BLNHC plans to advertise the availability of applications during the month of February. Ads will be placed in neighborhood-newspapers as well as the Boston Globe and the Boston Herald. Applications should be available about the first of March at specifically advertised locations and times.

Committee Reports Council Vacancies:

Dennis McLaughlin reported that two formal requests had been made to fill the vacancies on the Council. James Mansfield had been recommended by Tom King of the Boys and Girls Club and Julia Rodriguez was recommended by the Affordable Housing Committee, of which she is chairperson. Both recommendations were accepted by the Council. Rodriguez was elected to fill the post of Secretary, vacated by Judy Evers who was recently named Charlestown Coordinator with the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services

Development Committee

Chairman Mike Powers reported on the public meeting held in December on the proposed development of 160 rental units in the former Nancy Sales building on Medford Street, by developer Jeff Stoneberg.

Powers noted that those in attendance at the meeting were not in favor of this proposal. It was further stated that the Council does not support and will oppose this development of residential units on that site. The members felt that the site is better suited for commercial use.

Powers then reported on the public meeting held on Parcel C-2A, which is located between Main and Baldwin Streets and Rutherford Avenue, next to Liberty Bell. It was reported that of the three development plans presented at the open meeting, the proposal submitted by the Charlestown Economic Development Corporation (EDC) would receive the backing of the Neighborhood Council for the following reasons:

1) This proposal presents a higher percentage of affordable units (32 townhouses of which 18 units would be designated for affordable housing).

2) The units would be individual townhouses rather than condominiums.

3) Although the congregate housing presented in one proposal was extremely interesting and there appears to be a need in Charlestown, the Council felt that this type of housing would be an appropriate mix in this development.

The EDC proposal was accepted by the Council provided that the financing. as well as all building permits, can be obtained by the EDC and construction started within a reasonable time.

Mrs. Gloria Conway Charlestown Patriot 1 Thompson Square Charlestown, MA 02129 Dear Gloria:

Just about a year ago this time, "Townie Santa-1985," you promised to help the J.F. Kennedy Center's Senior program in any way that you could. This is written to say "thank you" for keeping your word and helping us.

The complimentary column you have allowed us each week in the Patriot has enhanced our program by encouraging and enticing seniors to participate in leisure time activities.

On behalf of the J.F. Kennedy Center's Senior Staff, I wish you and your staff a very happy and healthy new year. Again, a thousand thank-you's for your generosity and support.

Sincerely.

To The People Of Charlestown

I am a candidate for the prestigious office of 'Mayor of Charlestown.'

I was born in Charlestown and am a life long resident of the town, and have always been proud to call myself or be called a Townie.

I served with the Army's famous 101st Airborne Division and Green Berets, the Armys' Special Forces, attaining the rank of Corporal on active duty and Master Sergeant in the Army Reserves.

My wife is the former Frances Strano, and my three daughters are Kathleen Lynch, Michaele Yandle and Linda Fitzgerald, all Townies, two of whom married Townies. My home is at 3 Holden Row and once I pay off the mortgage, I really will own it and my family will always own a piece of the Town.

I am a Fire Fighter assigned to Engine Company 24, stationed at Grove Hall, and am presently serving my second term as Vice-President of Boston Fire Fighters, Local 718. I also have the privilege of being the President of the Halligan Club.

If elected I would represent the Town as it should be with all my ability and never would allow any embarrassment on it's long and proud history.

I ask you for a VOTE and help in the upcoming election for "Mayor of Charlestown."

Respectfully, James B. Fitzgerald

In Support Of Legal Holiday Honoring President John F. Kennedy

To the editor,

When will Massachusetts create a legal holiday honoring President Kennedy? Will it be in November, or how about in May? However, in both these cases, the business community would be opposed because these months already have existing holidays.

Twenty-five states, however, have declared Election Day (the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November) to be legal state holidays honoring the right to vote and various American presidents. Missouri has Harry S. Truman Day, Alabama honors Thomas Jefferson and Texas does likewise for Lyndon B. Johnson. Economic liberty and political freedom go hand in hand and the business community should be supportive of this move.

Massachusetts is long overdue in honoring President John F. Kennedy and what better tribute to a slain United States President than honoring his memory on Election Day here in the Bay State.

Here's one Republican who supports the creation of a JFK Election Day holiday.

Sincerely, Sal Giarratani

Homelessness Comes From Helplessness

Mayor Flynn and Governor Dukakis have expressed great concern and made many efforts at solving the problem of the homeless, but the efforts have rarely been directed at the root of the problem. The root of the problem is people who feel inadequate, and incapable of meeting the problems, who feel that they are incapable and unworthy of self-sufficiency. Chronic homelessness comes from chronic helplessness, and helpless people are dependent upon society. They are frequently people who tried to "make it" through isolated individualism, and having failed have no where to turn. They may be those who could be said to have "lost it," or those who never found it, but either way they feel no hope for self-success.

If the problem is to be resolved long term, it will be through society redefining its role in affecting the quality of life. A society which isolates people from each other spiritually, which functions on a concept of individualism and separatism, will continue to create broken people. A society which is determined to prove inferior/superior will continue to have people who have lost their spirit, for some people will develop battle fatigue.

The problem requires that we work together, as a community and give up our aggressiveness against people, transform that to support and cooperation among people. We have to support people's right to develop themselves, support their uniqueness and individuality, and help them become it.

Governor Dukakis' ETC program works toward that direction. Mixed low income and standard housing, subsidized pay while learning a new job, work toward that. But most important, people helping other people believe in themselves is required, for no one who believes he has no place to go, no potential for future, will be able to use the education he gets. That will require community support; that people behave from their spiritual best, for the sake of a safer and more secure life for themselves.

The root of the problem is a society that believes you should take what you can, that it is appropriate as way of life. In addition to helplessness, it foments thieves. Except for those who want to be helpless, or thieves, it behoves us all to support people's faith in themselves.

Boston 1986

In 1986 Boston sure had quite a year Especially for the sports fans, I can still hear them cheer

The Patriots at the Super Bowl through laughter and some tears

First it was "Swish the fish" then "Bury the Bears".

Then excitement with the Celtics and their super sweet 16

Another pat on the back for this great Boston team And did you ever think that you would see Some of the sights watched on TV? When a pitcher, like Clemens, would get up

What in the world did you think of that? Now here's a real surprise, that's shocking but nice

A girl for a goalie on the Boston Garden ice. Now, it's only a rumor, so don't get shook up Cause she'll probably help the Bruins win the Stanley Cup.

To all you Boston fans, here's a special wish for you

Good health and good luck in "87" too.

Terriers Bull-Whack Crusaders . . . 9 - 5

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

With the dawning of a New Year and everyone making new resolutions for the coming year, I too, have decided (via neighborhood pressure and some wives) to turn over a new leaf and alter my unfair name-calling ways, plus I hope to be unprejudiced in my views and reflections of certain players, who sometime deserve to be exposed for their style of hockey playing that borders on the totally obnoxious, to the downright unscrupulous, to say the least! I pledge, with the utmost determination, to change my ways! I'll even "bite my tongue" when I feel like someone wronged and I'll look the other way to avoid a hassle. I'll even do pushups, well maybe I've gone too far, doing the pushups, but If I see "you know who hiding behind the net," or "asking a player for a lift over the boards" when he's half in and half out, I'll close my eyes and pretend it didn't happen. If I ever see "you know who" pumping his right arm in the air like some "big shot" bubble-headed players do after taking a "cheap shot," then I'm sorry to say, "Pudgy" becomes fair game! Why that Tiny, Chunky, Stubby, Squatty, Spindle-leg, Cheap Shot Artist, boy does he get my goat. Oh, ah, I'm sorry, I didn't mean "Pudgy." what I meant was . . . live and let live, "praise thy fellow man," you know what I mean, "let sneaky dogs lie," oops, there I go again . . . that sneaky dog, cheap shot artist, etc., etc.!! Sorry, I tried, maybe next year! I'll really try harder, Mea Culpa, Mea Culpa!

TERRIERS VERSUS CRUSADERS, 9-5

The Terriers looked like they were loaded for bear as they took the ice for the start of the Terrier versus Crusaders game on Monday night at the O'Neil (MDC) Rink. A standing room only crowd of followers held their breath waiting for the puck to drop to commence this highly motivated attempt by the Crusaders to keep the Terriers in last place in the standings!

The Crusader Captain Eddie "Mugsy" Kelly was reaching for straws as he made some line changes with the same old "slow poke," touchy, one speed (slow) players who must shake in their boots when the other team comes on the ice! Talk about someone not wanting to win. Just watch this team. They put you to sleep — in slow motion! Just Referee Stevie Sullivan took center ice and got the contest started . . . the rest is history!

Mike Gautreau, one of the newest Terriers acquired from Softie's "Canadian Connection," took a nifty pass from Terrier Co-Captain, Johnny "S & S"-Dowd, and sent it through the pads of the raw-boned, stocky, bush league Crusader goalie, Robby McIntosh, whose father, Bill, was in attendance to bolster the young net-minders' chances for victory. Unfortunately, that was not to be. Alas, sorry Ellie!

The taste of victory was on the minds of the Terriers when at 11:43 Brian Smith broke over the blue line, gathered up a pass from new Terrier, Tim "Hondo" Doncaster, and sent the puck to the upper corner over the compact amply wide "Robby Mc," whose nerves were jumping as he pushed the puck out of the net, muttering something about slow defense, no defense, as he adjusted his pads!

With the Crusaders totally befuddled, the Terrier Co-Captain Johnny "S & S" Dowd lit the light at 9:15 with a slap shot by "Robby Mc," assisted by James "The Fox" O'Brien, for a 3-0 Terrier lead!

Finally, the "Awesome One," Scott Geezil, was streaking for the net when Dan Aubrey sent a lead pass that Scott snapped by the sometime napping, out-spread, Terrier goalie, Frank Saeli, for a 3-1 score!

Then, Fran "Back Pass" Bradley at 4:03, took a lead pass from Gerry "Buzzer" Byrnes, the "Trophy Room Czar," sending him in alone on Frank "Naps" Saeli and a Terrier 3-2 lead!

Mike Gautreau got his second goal of the game at 14:42 of the second period when Jimmy "The Fox" O'Brien sent a pass through the defenseman's legs, hitting Mike's stick for a tip-in goal over the Don Bosco Junior Crusader goalie, for a 4-2 Terrier edge!

The Smith Brothers combined when Phil raced down the left wing and sent a pass to older brother, Steve, who slapped a whizzer by the bold, defiant, awe-stricken "Robby Mc," putting the Terriers ahead with a 5-2 lead!

Tim ''Hondo'' Doncaster, the Skate 3 flash, sent a wrist shot through stocky, chunky, robust Robby's pads at the start of the third period, with an assist from Brian Smith, for a 6-2 Terrier edge.

Stevie "Rocket" Smith, getting his second wind, got a perfect pass from Paul "Knuckles" McNelley and sent a blast past the squeamish junior goalie. McIntosh, for a 7-2 edge!

As they lined up for a face off, one could not help but notice the faces of the Crusaders as they showed excruciating pain, laced with twinging torture, as the Terriers, full of gusto, ran rough shod through the entire team in what was to be a sure victory for the Terriers!

Fumbling along trying to make a game of it, the Crusader center iceman Danny "Boomer" Considine took a pass from the crusader Captain, "Mugsy" Kelly, headed up center ice and sent a "boomer" into the net strings before Terrier goalie, "Naps" Saeli, could awake from his "nappies" to assess the speed of the object that just passed him going about 100 mph for a Crusader score, but a Terrier 7-3 lead!

Cute Jimmy "The Fox" O'Brien took a foxie pass from Stevie "Rockets" Smith and sent it by the not so foxy "Knobby Robby" for an 8-4 lead!

The Skate 3 touch and brush flash, Tim "Hondo" Doncaster, took a break away pass from Steve Smith sending a wrist shot to the far corner, for a 9-4 Terrier lead at 1:45 of the third period!

Wes Taylor went unassisted at 1:09 for the final Crusader score. The final score 9-5, Terriers!

Patriots and Frito-Lay Score Big For Boys And Girls Clubs Of Boston

Since 1975, the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston has received money for every point the New England Patriots have scored. Thanks to a unique funding triangle between the New England Patriots, Frito-Lay, and the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, $481,500 has been donated to this non-profit agency. For the past 11 seasons, Frito-Lay has donated $100 for every point the Patriots have won during all home pre-season. regular season, Playoff, and Super Bowl games.

The Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston is a comprehensive child and youth development agency with Clubhouses in Charlestown, Roxbury and South Boston. This year alone they have received over $50,000 from Frito-Lay, maker of Lay's and Ruffles brand potato chips and Frito brand corn chips. FRITO-LAY PRESENTS CHECK: On December 14 at Sullivan Stadium, prior to the Patriots versus San Francisco 49ers game, Frito-Lay presented a check to the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston. Frito-Lay representatives included Steve Williamson, Frito-Lay account division manager, and Ken Filosa, route division sales manager. Also present were Patriots players Brian Holloway and Trevor Matich. Ron Young, executive vice president of Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, and Club members Keith Lombard, Christian Murray and Matthew Pinnix accepted the check.

Terriers Bull-Whack Crusaders . . . 9 - 5 Eagles Payback Huskies . . . 8 - 6

hustled the Huskies throughout the entire game!

Needless to say, it wasn't the lack of talent that beat the Huskies, but their failure to use their unlimited talent that done them in!

The Eagles played offensive hockey, making the Huskies back peddle defensively almost all the way through the game!

The Huskies, despite their talent, found some players showing their worst side with cheap, low moves that back fired on them to beat them, which in turn frustrated them through the entire game! Boy, its true about getting what you deserve, isn't it!

"Cobra" Green - versus - "Zip" Locke

It appears, "Nip and Tuck" is the only way to describe the top scorers' race as we enter the second half schedule of the Senior Hockey League! The Eagles' Darryl "Zip" Locke, who led all league players through the season, was unseated by Jimmy "Cobra" Green on a strong come-frombehind scoring spree around the Xmas week, when Darryl missed one game, but since then Darryl had a super night with four goals, two assists. While the "Cobra's" shots fizzled, it now shows the table turning and Darryl regaining the top scoring spot with the "Cobra" down by two points, but in hot pursuit for the top honor!

Another Eagle having a terrific night against the Huskies was Jackie Sullivan, who turned in two goals and three assists for five points, bringing him up a notch in the top scorers' race. It ain't over till its over, right!

"Rambo"

Since signing on as a free agent with the Eagles, Coporal Joe "Rambo" Gauthier (USMC) was to be shipped to the Skate 3 (Touch & Brush) league for a player to be named later, but since taking over the defense for the Eagles, no one crosses the blue line without "passing go" or "Rambo," without paying the price!

Joe's Marine Corps training comes in handy as he patrols the enemy blue lines, taking slap shots at goalies for marksman medals! When "Rambo's" on the blue line, his opponents know there's "no free lunch" for anyone trying to waltz in to score! Gung Ho, Rambo, Eagles Soar, Marines Roar!

I suppose you could say this was Jack and Darryl's day. From the moment Referee Stevie Sullivan dropped the puck to start the second game, the scorekeeper, Johnny "Fitz," was saying, "It appears, the Huskies are playing Sullivan and Locke," as each goal registered by "Fitzy" for the Eagles was by these two players!

At 9:26 of the first period, the Huskies' Joe "Silky" Sodergren took a pass from the "Gentleman" Bob Harty, sending him in on the fly to slap a wrist shot past Johnny "Names & Numbers" Gray, who was setting his hair, for a Huskie lead of 1-0!

Then it was the Eagles' turn as Darryl and Jackie started doing their thing! At 8:25, the Eagle stars took turns passing back and forth till Jackie Sullivan hit pay dirt over the lantern jawed, squatty, thick-set Huskie goalie, Tom "Non-Flash" Bryson, who had too many flashcubes go off in his face to even see the puck, for a 1-1 tie game!

At 5:23 it was Darryl's turn, as he and Jackie beat the defense and toyed with the overly stumpy, scraggy Huskie goalie. Darryl finally pushed it under his bowing legs as he dove belly flop style in vain, no where near the puck, for a 2-1 Eagle edge!

Again at 3:15, it was Jackie Sullivan's turn to fool the Huskie goalie. Darryl sent a perfect pass through the center to Jackie, whose stick sent it right up over the stubby, pug, "Bruiser" Bryson, who was rolled in a pile of goalie rubble looking through the net strings, as the Eagles were now in front by a score of 3-1!

At 14:50 of the second period, Darryl Locke, on a give and go from Jackie Sullivan, sent a shot through the pads of the free-lance goalie to put the Eagles out in front by a score of 4-1, Eagles!

Huskie power came alive when Billy "The Kid" Kelly broke toward the center, when "low and behold" out from behind the net came "Pudgy's" pass which "The Kid" sent through the pads of the Eagle goalie, for a 4-2 score!

Within 50 seconds, Billy "The Kid" Kelly saw "Pudgy" pick up a loose puck and knowing "Pudgy" would get rid of it if anyone came near him, headed for the net and lo and behold, "Pudgy" tossed the puck his way. He hit the upper net strings over the stubby, thick-set, hairy Eagle goalie, who automatically goes down on simple fakes, but came up empty handed as the Huskie score counted, 4-3!

With Huskie persistence, Jimmy "Cobra" Greene finally came to life and at 12:35 of the third period, the "Cobra" lit the light with a wrist shot past the stocky, spindle leg Eagle goalie to tie the game at 4-4, with a chance to go ahead!

With my resolutions already broken for 1987, who do you think is up to his old tricks again? If you said "The Baron," Eddie Johnson, you were wrong. But if you said "Cheap Shot" or "Pudgy," you are absolutely correct. It didn't take long for the artist to surface after his mysterious absence from the Huskie roster last week. Although some rink buffs figured he hung up his skates. or, he ran into a hockey player who gave him his comeuppance for past "cheap tricks," no luck!

I thought I was dreaming as the time clock read 11:41 of the third period when "The Gentleman" Bobby Harty sent a pass to Billy "The Kid" Kelly, who was streaking for the net, startled the watery eyed Eagle goalie with a quick fake, left then right, watched as the goalie threw his entire body to the right causing Kelly to lose the puck at the crease of the net, but, not in the net, when, who should come out from the dark rear corner of the net to spy the waiting free puck, but "Cheap Shot," that's right . . . the "Artist," who slapped the puck into the open net for a "free-bee" . . . raising his stubby right arm in a pumping motion as he circled the rink like a hot shot, making it 5-4 Huskie lead! Boy, did I have him pegged!

The Eagles roared right back with three fast goals. Chris "B.G." Thornton and Paul Wrenn combined at 5:07 to beat the Huskie goalie for a 5-5 tie!

Paul Wrenn did a solo as he put a wrist shot past the napping Huskie goalie, making it 6-5!

Darryl "Zip" Locke at 2:59, on a give-and-go from Jackie Sullivan, made it 7-5 Eagles!

John "Scooter" Sodergren brought the Huskies within one goal at 1:15, unassisted, making it 7-6! Finally, Darryl "Zip" Locke took a perfect lead pass from the Marine Guard (Joe "Rambo" Gauthier) with 0:52 left on the clock, to finish all hopes for the Huskie victory. making it Eagles 8-6!

Annual Christmas Assembly By Kindergarten Classes At The Warren-Prescott

by Harold Robinson

Again, to usher in the magnificence and the joy of the Christmas season, the beautiful children of the kindergarten classes of Miss Robbins, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Lund and Mrs. Seabrook, presented an extraordinary performance for the Yuletime of 1986.

Just prior to the Christmas break at the Warren-Prescott School, the children went through their paces in word, song and movement to bring joy and happiness to their parents in a near-filled auditorium at the school. The atmosphere of the holiday season was truly enhanced by the songs and poetry and marching of these youngsters who continue to carry on the unique tradition of excellence in assemblies at the Warren-Prescott.

To the rhythmic accompaniment on the piano by Miss Robbins, the children opened the holiday extravaganza with "Jingle Bells," the old traditional Christmas toe-tapping, footstomping tune, complete with the bells of Christmas. This was followed by "I Saw Three Ships," beautifully executed and enjoyed by a very appreciative audience. A medley was next on the program and included "Little Miss Muffet," "Hey, Diddle, Diddle," "Little Jack Horner," and "Christmas is Coming." This arrangement of nursery rhymes for Christmas was a novelty and the audience enjoyed the presentation tremendously

An old favorite, and one that the kindergarteners really enjoy doing, is "Christmas Chopsticks." If ever a tune had the visitors in a finger-tapping mood, this tune did, "Chopsticks" was accompanied by "Santa Claus is Coming to Town." What tune would not make Christmas memorable but that of "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer." This fit in appropriately with the hats which adorned the heads of the boys, while the young ladies in the chorus wore Christmas tree coverings.

The poem "Xmas Presents" was recited by the chorus and a beautiful, ical program for Christmas was enjoyed by all. As a teacher at the Warren-Prescott School for many years. I can truly say I felt a great sense of pride in being a member of the school's faculty after witnessing this outstanding program by youngsters of this age. The applause accorded them following their program was endless and they deserved every bit of it.

These children included: Eddie Greatorex. Mat Williams, Kathy Cheung, Joseph Boyden, Jimmy Mui, Robert Wong, Binh Dinh and James Grace. A good time was had by all.

Homemaker/Home Health Aide Training Program

The American Red Cross of Massachusetts Bay has received a substantial grant from its national organization to further develop their Homemaker/Home Health Aide training program.

Peggy Casey-Mederios, R.N., Director of Nursing and Health Services for the Boston agency, initiated the program in December 1983 to meet an existing need throughout the Greater Boston area in the field of home health care delivery and training. According to

Casey-Mederios, the newly developed program has been an immediate success. and the national American Red Cross hopes to offer the training in other communities across the country through the Red Cross system of local chapters. 'This program services Home Health agencies, as well as individual family members wishing to care for others during times of illness and recuperation."

The goal of the program is to train local individuals in home health care, thereby decreasing the strain on the already overburdened DRG-regulated health care delivery system.

For more information about the Homemaker/ Home Health Aide program, contact the American Red Cross of Massachusetts Bay at 262-1234.

Voke Announces 7.9% Mortgages

Representative Richard Voke has announced that $45 million in low-interest home mortgage loans will be made available to first time Massachusetts homebuvers. More than 600 households are expected to benefit from this latest round of mortgages that will again be administered by the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency.

Mortgage funds are available at a fixed rate of 7.9% to qualified borrowers, for a term of 27 years, with a minimum five percent downpayment. To qualify for a loan, borrowers must be first time homebuyers who meet income guidelines and other program requirements.

According to Representative Voke, there are exceptions to the first time homebuyers requirement for Boston residents, so that people who presently own their own homes could qualify for this program. 'If borrowers in this category sell the interest they hold in their principal residence prior to receiving a MHFA mortgage, and if a portion of the proceeds from that sale is used as a downpayment on the new residence, then the person is eligible for the low interest loan," noted Voke.

As in the past, MHFA is encouraging lower-income people, minorities, Vietnam Era Veterans and physically handicapped borrowers to apply for the funds. However, because of the fluctuating interest rates the mortgage market is experiencing, the Agency has waived its normal set aside period for priority borrowers. By doing so. MHFA hopes to widen the poll of applicants needing mortgage funds. In general, to be considered for a mortgage, an applicants income cannot exceed $35,000 for a one member household or $40,000 for a two member household. Applicants may add $1,500 to the max-

Commenting on the program, Voke said, "This program should continue to provide an excellent opportunity to those residents of Massachusetts who have been priced out of the buying market but would like to purchase their own home. By taking advantage of the low interest rates and small down payment requirements provided for in this program. I sincerely hope that many local residents will be able to afford the house they have always wanted.

Since 1979, this program has benefitted 15,000

Massachusetts households by making fixed-rate, long term mortgages available at interest rates below conventional rates. According to Representative Voke, the MHFA should be offering a similar program this spring, so that those who could not qualify because of time restrictions can plan for further opportunities to do so in the future.

For a brochure fully explaining the home mortgage loan program, write to: Representative Richard Voke, State House, Boston, MA 02133. Because loans are awarded on a first come, first served basis, those interested in obtaining a brochure should do so right away.

The premises at 260 Main Street, occupied by J.J. Mc-Carthy's, was entered by Detectives Leahy and Donahue, where a strong odor of Marijuana was detected. A Licensed Premises Violation was issued.

Tuesday, January 6

A Charlestown resident was arrested on a warrant from Randolph for Bank Robbery. Detective McSorley of the Bank Robbery Task Force, assisted in the apprehension at Old Ironsides Way. Two sawed off shot guns were seized in the arrest.

A van entered Park Street at a high rate of speed and struck several automobiles, causing one of the autos to strike a pedestrian, pinning him between them. The victim, a Newton resident, was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital where he was treated for a broken leg. The suspect vehicle fled the scene on Route 93. This vehicle was later recovered by the Somerville Police Department at Assembly Square Mall, unoccupied. The owner, who is a Malden resident, has been issued various motor vehicle complaints through the Charlestown District Court.

Two Somerville residents were driving along Alford Street when they were struck by a van containing two males. When they got out of their vehicle, they were assaulted with a tire iron by the occupants of the van.

Thursday, January 8

A Charlestown resident was arrested by Officer Whiffen on Medford Street for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

A dispute over money developed between two female roomnates at O'Meara Court. One of the females then left. Later in the evening, three black males came to the apartment and forced their way in. They took items of value and fled the scene. Three gunshots were also reported heard in the area.

Friday, January 9

An oil spill was reported at Constitution Plaza, where 40 gallons of diesel fuel spilled as a result of an accident. Officer Davies of the Special Hazards Unit responded and oversaw the clean up.

Saturday, January 10

Two Charlestown youths reported that about 10:00 a.m., while walking at Main and Dunstable Streets, they were approached by a white male, about 30 years old, thin build, brown hair, wearing a white jacket and blue jeans, driving a two door automobile with a white top and light blue bottom. This suspect got out of the automobile and, while holding a red sled, told the youths that "Their mother was taken to the hospital and he would drive them there." The youths ran home and summoned the police.

Sunday, January 11

These incidents are under investigation by the Detectives of Area A.
