Special Kennedy Center Board Meeting Set To Address Allegations

by Maria Girvin

According to Kennedy Center Board of Directors President Jim Cushman, Tuesday, February 9 has been scheduled for a public meeting to address allegations made January 25 by then Board Treasurer Joe Kent. The meeting will be held at the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens Street beginning at 7 p.m. At the January Board meeting Kent charged that Executive Director of the Kennedy Center, John Gardiner, had misused the corporation's charge cards through unwarranted expenditures. Kent also said that although he had asked to see records of these expenditures he was denied same. The public meeting was called following a motion by Board Member and State Representative Richard Voke stating, "within 14 days the president call a full meeting of the Board of Directors of the Kennedy Center, at which time there shall be a full report of all expenditures from February 12, 1980 involving credit cards under the name of the Kennedy Center and that reports shall indicate dates, amounts, name and purposes for which funds were expended under its name or monies expended by the Kennedy Center through said credit cards, at an open public meeting."

Project Update

On Monday, February 1, 1982, we had a very fruitful meeting at the Charlestown District Court. Present were: Honorable Mary Brennan, Presiding Justice of the Charlestown District Court; James Conway, Chief Probation Officer of the Charlestown District Court; Joseph McNamara, B.H.A. Manager; William McGonagle and Steven Tracey, B.H.A. Security Officers; Gard Gartman, Wasserman Security; Now In Place Housing Team Police Officers Murphy and Callan; Edward Sweeney, Task Force Chairman; and Ruth Sweeney, Task Force Secretary.

We were assured by the Court that they would back us 100% and prosecute any and all cases brought to their attention. This means ANYONE caught vandalizing, loitering without authority, or caught unlawfully in any apartments or hallways that they do not live in, will be brought to court and prosecuted.

It will also relieve your minds to know that Housing Police are in position as of this date, and will be on duty 24 hours per day. This is our last warning to any of you who think that we are fooling. We are now in a position where we have names, times and dates. They will be FIRST on the HIT LIST and the rest will follow, but only with the full

Charlestown Savings Bank Votes To Adopt New Name - Newworld Bank For Savings

At the annual meeting on January 29, 1982, corporators of Charlestown Savings Bank voted to adopt the new corporate name NEWORLD (pronounced New World) BANK FOR SAVINGS, pending final approval by the Secretary of State. A four-to-six-month implementation period is expected before the name change will be put into effect.

At a meeting with community residents on Tuesday evening, February 2nd at the Charlestown Branch Office, Robert Garver, President of Charlestown Savings Bank, noted that "the new name more accurately reflects the Bank's current status as a large, multi-service financial institution serving all of metropolitan Boston through a network of 14 offices." Established in 1854, Charlestown Savings Bank has grown to become one of the largest savings banks in New England.

"Updating an image that is over 127 years old is only part of our motivation for the name change," Garver adds. "By selecting the name NEWORLD BANK, we are announcing in an aggressive, determined and highly visible manner that our Bank is going to survive the present crisis in the thrift industry. The name change is only part of our comprehensive plan to grow and develop in the emerging and increasingly deregulated new world of banking."

Noting that the name NEWORLD BANK will be comparable with expansion opportunities as interstate banking becomes a reality, Garver points to the current revolution in the savings bank industry. "The new world of banking will feature survival of the fittest—namely those institutions that are ready to adapt and explore new options, to provide complete financial counseling, to employ the very latest in modern technology, and to pursue aggressive marketing programs. As the NEWORLD BANK FOR SAVINGS, we are gearing up to meet this challenge with a

HUD Investigates Problems In Colbert Elderly Complex

by Maria Girvin

Problems continue to persist at the Mary Colbert Elderly Apartment Complex, prompting HUD (Housing and Urban Development) to schedule a second inspection of the premises today to thoroughly outline problems within the building and have them corrected before the builder's warranty expires.

This follows a special inspection made January 27, at which time, the building's sewer line was backed up. The sewer problem became an additional problem to those concerning heat, the elevator, drafty windows, security, etc.

These problems were addressed yesterday at a tenants' meeting attended by Kennedy Center Executive Director John Gardiner and Economic Development Corporation Board Chairman Mike Donovan.

At this meeting the tenants were told that their complaints would be brought to the appropriate people and addressed.

Gardiner explained to the group that last Monday's heat loss was due to the toying with of a master thermostat located in the complex's community room kitchen. It is unknown who turned the thermostat down so low that two boilers automatically shut down. Maintenance Superintendent Ted Horne said this was the third time the thermostat was tampered with and that he was going to place a box over it.

This last heat loss coincides with the discover of defecation in the same kitchen and several other minor acts of vandalism in the building on the same day.

According to Gardiner, manager of the Colbert Complex, Bay State York of Brookline, heating specialists, has requested heating specifications from Vitols Architectural Firm to analyze the system. This request conflicts with Bay State York's President Robert Fish's statement that his engineers correct heating defects in a system, but do not analyze a system. Gardiner was referred to Bay State York through Vitols.

Numerous other recommendations were made by the HUD inspector. They included:

—corrective measures be taken to assure that roof is properly insulated and caulked and that the skylight be checked for leaks;

—proper fitting of each apartment entry door to the threshold be provided;

—provide corrective measures to assure that the elevator operates properly in accordance to the local regulatory authorities;

—provide corrective measures to assure that the fire alarm system is adequate and operates properly in accordance with the local regulatory authorities;

—correct the sewer line back-up which was in evidence at the time of inspection.

The HUD inspector also wrote, "Many construction defects exist per the superintendent of maintenance and as evidenced at the time of inspection. The many defects along with daily work orders create an ineffective maintenance operating program."

HUD recommended that the owner contact the general contractor and the architect to ensure that the items noted are completed in accordance with the plans and specifications.

We have the court's full cooperation to prosecute, Security, and Team Police; now let's see where you, the tenants, stand. If you want it to be a decent place to live in, then let's take care of it as TRUE TOWNIES. Remember, you need only call 911, know your facts and give the address. You don't even have to give your name, just the facts. If you don't want to do it for yourself, do it for your neighbors.

The second and last thing I would like to address is in regards to the flyers you received in your rent receipt. DO NOT PANIC. They are not going to sell the Project, now or in the future. However, they do need your aid in filling out the bottom section pertaining to what you, as a tenant, can do to assist the Tenants Policy Council, 8 Winter Street, Boston. This would entail writing letters to all of your political contacts in regards to your feelings in the way Public Housing is being dealt with. For those of you who are Elderly, do not believe anything pertaining to the sale of Public Housing. Be assured that I, as Chairman of the Task Force, would be aware of such a move and you would be the first to know.

We do, however, need your help and cooperation. We have been assured by Mr. Harry Spence, Receiver of the B.H.A., that he is LOOKING FORWARD TO THE FUTURE NOT THE END OF PUBLIC HOUSING.

Internship Program Offers Career Experience

The Massachusetts Internship Office (MIO) holds on file internship positions in the following categories: applied sciences, the arts, communications and media, counseling, education, environmental affairs, health, law and government, and management.

These internships integrate "hands-on" experience with academic theories and principles by giving students the opportunity to work alongside professionals in the field.

Some students are able to receive academic credit from their schools since often times internships take the place of or complement classroom work. These positions are on a volunteer basis and require about 10 to 15 hours per week.

"Most students are carrying a full load of courses so the sponsoring organizations are flexible when arranging the intern's hours," comments Nancy Spadorcia, director of the MIO.

Internship opportunities are available at more than 300 government agencies, nonprofit private organizations, and some private businesses.

Example of the internship possibilities are research assistant at the Sidney Farber Cancer Institute, news graphics intern at WNAC-TV, publicity assistant at the DeCordova Museum, public lands intern for the Sierra Club, and marketing assistant for the National Alliance of Business.

"The placement counselor will assist students in developing an internship for those with interests other than what we have on file," adds Ms. Spadorcia.

During the summer the MIO operates an additional program besides the year-round volunteer one. Any Massachusetts resident who qualifies for a work-study grant from their school may apply. This is a paid program whereby the MIO provides matching funds.

The work-study program is competitive and students must submit an application by mid-April.

For more information about the Internship Program, call the office which is located in the State House at 727-8688.

Republican Ward Committee Elects Delegates

The Charlestown Republican Ward Committee recently met to elect delegates to the March 6 Republican State Convention which will be held in Boston. Elected were Eileen Riley, Greta McGuire and Pat Harrington.

Sal Giarratani was also elected the new chairman succeeding Dennis Burke. Greta McGuire remains treasurer and Marie Burke, secretary.

Last week, Chairman Sal Giarratani hand-delivered to all nine city councillors or aides, the Republican Ward Two District Representation Plan which includes all of Wards Two and Three and eight precincts of Ward Five. In an effort to sell this proposal, Giarratani has communicated his support of a Charlestown/Beacon Hill-type plan with Bob Ackerman, Ward Three GOP chairman and Dick Giglio, Ward Five chairman.

The ward committee is planning to get active in neighborhood issues and believes now is the time for Republican Townies to become ward committee members.

Irish Update

The Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society held its monthly meeting on Wednesday evening, January 27, which proved to be a most productive meeting. There were many more new faces this month, showing how well the Society is being accepted.

A lengthy discussion on our upcoming social scheduled for March 20 was the main topic of that meeting. From this discussion, a date, location (K. of C. Hall) and band (Irish Mist) were decided upon by the Board of Directors with a great deal of input from the membership. The groundwork now has been set for a most enjoyable evening.

The meeting ended with a short film entitled "Errigal," while members drank tea, coffee, and nibbled on (most appropriately) Irish bread.

We hope to see a lot of Irish "sports" show up for the "Chalktalk" this Wednesday, February 10 at 7 p.m. at the Mary Colbert Apartment's Community Room. Frank O'Rourke of the Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA) in Boston will give a talk on Irish sports. (See the related article elsewhere in this issue.)

To answer a couple of questions that have been asked of members. You do not have to be a "Townie" to join the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society. Everyone is welcome to fill out an application. You do not have to be Irish to join, although as our by-laws state, if you are not Irish by either birth or descent, you qualify as an "Associate" member. "Associate" members have "all the privileges of full membership except that of voting for and holding office on the Board of Directors."

"A tip o' the hat" to Bob Garvey, the Society's number one recruiter. Bob's been "blanketing" the town looking for new members, and he's been quite successful.

The next meeting of the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society will be on Wednesday, February 24 at 8:00 p.m. at the Mary Colbert Apartment's Community Room. Come on down.

Anyone interested in joining the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society, and for some reason you don't know anyone connected with the Society; or, if you would like more information about our organization, drop us a line at:

Adopts New Name

broad range of new services, products, equipment and training programs."

NEWORLD BANK

CORPORATORS OF CHARLESTOWN SAVINGS BANK have voted to adopt the new name NEWORLD (pronounced New World) BANK FOR SAVINGS. Their new logo (pictured here) will be featured in the bank's signs and stationery after a four-to-six-month implementation period, which will also include a series of special events to herald the name change.

Choosing a name that met all the Bank's requirements—professional, distinctive, brief and geographically non-limiting—took 18 months and the help of Lippincott & Margulies, Inc., a leading national consultant for corporate communications that has counseled such corporations as Coca-Cola, U.S. Steel and a number of major banks. Public opinion research was also employed and resulted in favorable reaction to the name NEWORLD BANK.

"Today more and more corporations—from banks to airlines—are recognizing the importance of a clear corporate image and a cohesive communications program," says Walter Margulies of Lippincott & Margulies, Inc. "The name is the cornerstone of this comprehensive effort. NEWORLD BANK FOR SAVINGS projects a non-limited image that will help the bank expand and broaden their marketing efforts."

Garver cited recent changes in corporate names of banks in the metropolitan area reflecting expanded geographical areas and services such as Dorchester Savings Bank's change to First American Bank for Savings; Newton Savings Bank to Mutual Bank for Savings; and Lynn Institution to First East.

Although efforts toward a name change have intensified over the last two years, the Bank has been moving in this direction for over a decade, Garver points out. The Bank moved its main office from Charlestown to downtown Boston more than 25 years ago. And in 1973 the Bank began to soften the focus of its name in advertising, while highlighting the slogan "That's My Bank!" as part of its move toward a formal name change.

This slogan will continue to serve as a bridge, easing the transition during the first months of the name change.

Another important effort that paved the way for the name change was a comprehensive internal "reorganization" of Bank divisions completed last year. This careful restructuring was designed to provide customers with the most convenient, modern and complete financial services possible.

When the new name is put into effect, a series of special events will herald the change, promises Garver. Working with Ingalls Associates, Inc., the Bank's agency for advertising and public relations, the Bank will implement a broad communications program of advertisements, brochures, open houses, entertainment and other activities to launch the first weeks of the official name change in a lively, informative manner.

Charlestown Savings Bank has been known locally and nationally in the savings bank industry as a responsible and innovative banking organization with a strong commitment to community service. Last year the Bank sponsored "That's My House!", a unique home-improvement awards program that recognized outstanding home improvements in each of Boston's 16 neighborhoods. As the NEWORLD BANK FOR SAVINGS, this commitment to community service will continue to grow as the Bank expands its capabilities and extends its community programs.

Garver concluded by reiterating that there is going to be no difference in the importance that the bank places on the Charlestown office and that NEWORLD BANK will continue to fulfill its commitment to Charlestown and will work closely with the community in its endeavors.

“Just one car dealer who doesn’t treat me like a nit wit ...is that too much to ask?”

Announcing the New Gibbs Ford. There's Never Been A Dealership Like This.

We don't have to tell you about the sins of the automobile business. You know. Probably from experience. You know that some disreputable dealers make their money the old fashioned way ... they hoodwink us. And you know that no customer could ever know all those tricks of the trade that have given everyone in the car business somewhat tarnished reputations. That's why the all new management of Gibbs Ford on Rt. 1 in Saugus has decided to create a whole new kind of dealership — one the consumer doesn't have to beware of.

A Guaranteed Price? Just Ask. But a Good Price is Just The Beginning.

Far too often a prospective car buyer walks out of a car dealer with a price that's pure fiction. Only to come back later to discover that the price is gone with the wind. Or that the car on which the price was quoted is mysteriously missing. Or that he was given a "Low Ball", a price below cost that no other dealer could possibly match, and which brings you back for "The Bump". "The Bump" occurs when you are "T.O.'d" or turned-over to a high pressure sales "closer" who either says his salesman made a mistake, or pads the bill with outrageously overpriced add-ons. At Gibbs Ford, there will be no High Balls, no Bumps, no T.O.'s, and no high-pressure con-artists. We will help you select the car that's right for you, give you a set price for that car, the options, and all the add-ons like rustproofing, undercoating, and pin stripes ... and guarantee that price in writing for a period of five full days. That's revolutionary in the industry.

Just Looking? Just say so.

Ever get nervous when you walk up to the front door of a car dealer? Worried that you're going to be accosted, cajoled, persuaded, and pressured to buy before you even unbutton your coat? At the New Gibbs Ford, there's no pressure. You want to look around? Read some catalogues? Kick a tire or two? Just take a business card from your sales representative and say "just looking". He won't bother you until you have a question.

Is your car safe? Just ask. Everything working well? Ask again.

The New Gibbs Ford has one of the most sophisticated service facilities in New England. With all the latest electronic diagnostic equipment. And a top-notch professional staff. We're serious about good service. And to prove it, we're offering a free preventive maintenance and safety check to every customer whose total bill in our service department comes to more than fifty dollars. If you come in for one thing, you'll go out knowing just how other things that count on your car are doing. Tires. Steering. Fluid levels. Battery. Belts. Lights. You'll feel more confident that your car is safe. And you'll know what might need fixing in the future. We think that kind of service will bring you back for more.

Need a ride? Just Ask.

The Gibbs Shuttlebus is just one of the many unheard of extra services you'll be hearing about from The New Gibbs Ford. When you bring your car in for service, this twelve passenger van will take you to the airport, or to the Wonderland MBTA station, or to Haymarket Square in Boston. And pick you up at a prearranged time. The Gibbs Shuttlebus is running right now, five days a week, from 8 A.M. to 6 P.M. All you do is ask.

Questions? Problems? Extra services? Just ask.

Guaranteed prices, no high-pressure tactics, and free, extra services like our maintenance/safety check and the Gibbs Shuttlebus are just the beginning of our whole new way of doing things. At The New Gibbs Ford, we're out to change the car business. To make the place you buy as important as the price you pay. To be there when you need us. To be your "car counselors". After all, when you're paying such a big part of your income for transportation, you're entitled to some respect. The New Gibbs Ford will be a refreshing change for any car shopper who's ever been pushed, pressured, flim-flammed, hoodwinked, and treated like a nit wit.

Come To Our Grand Opening, Washington's Birthday Weekend, Feb. 13-15.

From Friday to Monday, we'll be giving away all kinds of things to celebrate our grand opening. Valuable prizes. Even free vacation trips and the free use of a Ford Escort for one year. All purchasers will automatically receive a free dinner gift certificate. If you're shopping for a new or used car or truck, don't miss it. And don't miss the generous rebates and long term financing plans being offered by Ford Motor Company. The New Gibbs Ford is located less than ten minutes North of The Mystic Bridge on Route 1 in Saugus. (Southbound side). Come help us celebrate the birthday of a Revolutionary hero — and a revolutionary new kind of car dealership.

Irish Football "Chalktalk"

If you are interested in learning more about Irish sports, you are invited to come and meet Mr. Frank O'Rourke, President of the Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA) of Boston. The Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society has arranged for Mr. O'Rourke, along with several other members of the GAA, to come to Charlestown to discuss Irish sports in the Boston area at 7 p.m., February 10, at the Mary Colbert Apartment's Community Room, on 20 Devens Street.

The GAA has a long history in Ireland and Boston. It was founded to "keep the national games alive." There are three hurling teams in the Boston area (Cork, Galway, and the Father Toms). For Irish Football there are eight senior teams, and 28 minor teams. With the cut-back on Irish immigration, American players have become more vital to the survival of the games. The 28 minor teams hold the future of Irish football in Boston. These teams are broken down into four age groups—under 12; under 14; under 16; and under 18.

Among the areas currently represented are Dorchester (St. Pat's and the Connemara Gaels), Brighton (St. Columbille's), and Woburn. The games are played in Brighton, Cleveland Circle, Dilboy Field in Somerville, and Hormel Stadium in Medford. The games are played on Sunday afternoons, and the season runs roughly from April through October.

This "Chalktalk" is a family event, so if you and your kids are interested in Irish sports, with the idea of possibly participating in, and/or the possibility of entering a Charlestown team into a league, come down to the Mary Colbert Apartments Community Room on Wednesday evening at 7 p.m.

Palm Beach On Challenge Series

Officials of Wonderland Park and the Palm Beach Kennel Club, in a joint announcement today, revealed plans for a four race $15,000 Palm Beach-Wonderland Challenge Series.

Four top sprinters from each track will compete for a $6500 first prize. The first two races will be held on Tuesday, March 30th, and Saturday, April 3rd at the West Palm Beach track. On Saturday, April 10th, the greyhounds will vie at Wonderland and the final round also will be held in Revere on Wednesday, April 14.

The winner will be selected on a total point basis. The breakdown will be 15-10-6-4-3-2-1-0. Second money will be worth $3250; $1950 for third; $1300 for fourth, and $500 each for the final four spots.

Wonderland's sprint course is 15 feet longer than the Royal Palm Course — 1650 feet and 1635, respectively.

Wonderland's representatives will be chosen from a special series of 5/16ths races for 16 dogs on Wednesday, March 17; Saturday, March 20, and Wednesday, March 24. The top four from each of the first two will oppose each other in the third and the first four finishers here will be Wonderland's banner wearers in what officials hope will be an annual series.

West Palm Beach's Royal Palm Sprint Classic also will be run off in March and the top four finishers of this series will represent the Floridians.

An alternate will be chosen for each team in the event of injury or illness. If this fifth dog is not needed, it will be competing in a regular Grade A race on nights of the series.

ALUMNI ANTICS

The playoff season has arrived for members of the Club's Alumni Basketball League, and with the first round of double elimination action now permanently etched in the history books, the powerful Gym Club has clearly emerged as the favorite to take home the bacon.

Led by the Driscoll brothers, John and Jerry, and Ro Walsh in the front court, and guards Denny (yeah he's still around) Borden, Jim "Dinger" Houlihan, Billy Wilkins, and Dave "Slip" Mahoney, the Gym Club literally waltzed through the regular season schedule unmolested. The only blemish on this powerful unit's record came as the result of mid-season forfeit loss when, it has been rumored, three of the team's members were kidnapped by that evening's opposition and held until fifteen minutes after the scheduled game time.

Too much height in the forecourt proved to be the deciding factor in the Gym Club's opening round victory over the hustling, but much smaller Collins Club.

"I think we gave them a pretty good run for their money," stated a tired and slightly dejected Paul Collins. "Yeah, until the opening buzzer," replied teammate Joe DeRosa.

In other action, a strong early effort by the Park Club's Bill Delaney kept his team in contention for a good part of the first half, but the overall team speed of the Sullivan Club finally prevailed Marty Moran, nattily attired in his new red sneakers, held the hot hand for the winners in this one, scoring on a series of driving layups as well as from the outside.

In the evenings third encounter, the McGoff Club handily defeated the Kelly Club with Guard Mike Gill leading the way. The Kelly Club has been marked by inconsistency throughout the season, playing spectacularly well one week, while falling into a near comatose state in their next engagement.

When asked to explain this strange phenomenon, team leader Kevin Kelly simply replied, "Bananas might be twenty five cents a pound, but you can only buy venison when potatoes grow on trees."

I'm beginning to understand.

Drop by next Thursday night for second round action.

WEIGHT ROOM WITICISM

Overheard in the weight room:

Musclehead Number One: "Do you bench press?"

Musclehead Number Two: "Nah, I use an ironing board."

A couple of weeks back, apparently on a Saturday as best as can be determined, four plates weighing ten pounds each were taken from the weight room. Two weeks prior to that two five pound plates found their way out the door.

The Boys and Girls Club, much like any other inner city youth organization, is on a limited budget and can ill afford to lose equipment at this rate. As weight room equipment is very expensive, it is doubtful that these missing items will be replaced within the foreseeable future.

Over the past few years there has been an increased interest in physical fitness, and as a result, weight lifting has become a popular activity at the Club amongst a growing number of devotees.

As those who frequent the Weight Room value the equipment made available to them by the Club, it is my opinion that these acts were not perpetrated by a "Regular," but rather by a person who thinks he might use the equipment at home, which, of course, he won't.

Although many people who are into weight training have equipment at home, they are more likely to utilize it when nothing else is available, rather than on a regular basis. Somehow a gymnasium is more conducive to working out than one's basement.

I would like to make a personal request to the person who "borrowed" the weights. If you were capable of taking forty or fifty pounds of steel from the Club's Weight Room undetected, you are certainly capable of bringing it back undetected. After all, there are a hell of a lot more people who can use that equipment here than there might be in your basement. Besides, they leave ugly rust marks on the floor, especially when they are not used regularly.

If you decide to bring them back, there will be a good number of grateful young men. If you decide not to bring them back, may the God of Weight Lifters drop each plate upon your toes.

March Of Dimes Plans Walk America

The Mass Bay Chapter of the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation has already begun planning for its WalkAmerica to be held on Sunday, April 25, 1982, to raise funds for the battle against birth defects. WalkAmerica is a nationwide March of Dimes event, occurring on the same weekend throughout the United States.

Charlestown residents are invited to join the 30 kilometer walk in their area. WalkAmerica participants will seek sponsors to donate a designated amount to the March of Dimes for each kilometer completed. First aid, medical attention and soft drinks will be provided at five check points along each route.

There will be dozens of volunteers helping with this year's WalkAmerica, among them will be volunteers from R.E.A.C.T., Inc., The Order of the Sons of Italy, The American Red Cross, and various police departments. Last year 5,000 walkers participated in WalkAmerica. The March of Dimes hopes that even more will walk this year.

Special prizes will be awarded to walkers in a random drawing. In addition, the March of Dimes will present the "Battered Boot" Award to those schools, companies and individuals who excel in WalkAmerica's fight against birth defects. Proceeds from WalkAmerica will fund March of Dimes research, health and educational programs in Eastern Massachusetts. Persons interested in helping with this year's WalkAmerica should write Ann Quinton at 865 Providence Highway, Dedham, 02026, or call 329-1360.

THE BIG THREE

In early 1981, House Minority Leader Robert Michel wrote an "op-ed" article in a leading Washington newspaper wherein he stated "The Social Issues are not going to go away, and Congress is going to have to come to grips with them." He further defined the social issues as "abortion, busing (quotas), and school prayer." More and more you'll come to see these issues referred to by politicians as "The Big Three."

Because the so-called social conservatives yielded (so to speak), giving President Reagan's economic program, AWACS, and other matters priority, it is expected that the 97th Congress will press, unyieldingly, for legislation in these areas, holding Senate Republican Leader Howard

Baker Jr. to his word to "give the social conservatives their day in court."

You can expect to hear the names of Representatives Ron Mottl of Ohio on forced busing, and Henry Hyde of Illinois, Charles Dougherty of Pennsylvania, and Robert K. Dornan of California on abortion. "Across the aisle," Senator Orrin Hatch of Utah will be strongly heard from with his Human Life Amendment, as well as Senator Bennett Johnston of Louisiana on anti-busing legislation. As a matter of fact, Senator Johnston is co-sponsor of a bill "to forbid busing more than 30 minutes or 10 miles roundtrip to promote desegregation, and prohibiting the Justice Department from initiating any desegregation suits involving busing." Joining him as co-sponsor is a Senator who is ever found "walking tall" on the "right" side of every issue - Senator Jesse Helms of No. Carolina. There are many more legislators "on our side," to be sure, but we'll reserve further listing until the votes on this anti-busing measure are counted.

Please give your Congressman a call, and urge his vote FOR Senator Johnston's amendment. Granted, it isn't a cure-all but it is a step in the "right" direction. No one asked us, but we still feel that all Congress has to do is remove the Supreme Court from appellate jurisdiction over busing by appropriate legislation, as provided in Art. 3, Sec. 2 of the Constitution.

We finish this item as we started, with wise words from Congressman Michel who, in denying in strong terms that these social issues are "single issues" questions, said, in part, "But they feel that Supreme Court decisions and bureaucratic actions in areas of traditional values have robbed them of their right to participate in shaping (not, as some say, 'imposing') policy in matters they are convinced should be left in the hands of the people ... The pro-life, anti-busing, and school prayer movements transcend party and ideological lines."

SO HERE'S AN EASY ONE ...

A "Southie" reader asked why we haven't had a toss-up question of late. O.K., Billy Stanley, and everyone else out there ... What does the expression "E Pluribus Unum" (found on U.S. Coinage) mean?

We have a feeling we're going to hear from every Latin student in the country that gets wind of this, however, the names and hometowns of all those providing the correct answer to S.T.O.P. at P.O. Box 133, So. Boston, Mass. 02127-0133 will be printed in our February 25th column (the Good Lord - and Editor - willing). Get your answer in early!

SEX EDUCATION INFORMATION....

Just when we thought we had run the gamut on researching what more could possibly be said against sex education, along came a copy of the Flick-Conrad Forum (from "The Wanderer"). They quoted the succinct opinion of Melvin Anchell, M.D., Practicing Psychiatrist at Los Angeles, California, and we know you'll agree that it leaves no doubt as to the dangers of imparting the mechanical, as opposed to the moral, aspects of sex.

"Sex educators are concerned about teaching children the mechanics of mating. Such instruction is comparable to training geese to fly south in the winter ... Trying to teach children about sex without arousing sensuous feelings is about as hypocritical or naive as trying to describe the nature of fire without acknowledging the heat produced.

Some adults expect children to express admiration and joy with learning about sex. These adults cannot believe that shattering the fantasies and doubts of children without proper aging can act as a premature education causing irreparable psychologic harm including perversion."

OOPS.....

Our recent item on Senator Denton's Book ("When Hell Was In Session") caused a run on local libraries in some areas we're told, with a resultant "waiting list" backlog. From either reader-or-writer viewpoint, that can be considered a happy problem, but for those that asked where they might procure their own copy we can only suggest they check with any large bookstores where they reside. Failing that, we can tell you that we got our softcover copy from The National Educator at 1110 So. Pomona Ave. (P.O. Box 333), Fullerton, California 92632, at a cost of $3.95 postpaid. And if that doesn't work out for you, let us know and we'll try to find another source ... maybe by checking with Senator Denton himself!

YEARS MAY WRINKLE THE SKIN, BUT TO GIVE UP INTEREST WRINKLES THE SOUL (DOUGLAS MAC ARTHUR)

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen,
D.M.D.

THUMB-SUCKING SYNDROME

Does thumb-sucking lead to crooked teeth? Most experts don't think occasional thumb-sucking in infancy causes any problems with teeth. But there is a general agreement among dentists that prolonged and intensive thumb-sucking past the time the first permanent teeth erupt - at 5 to 6 years of age - can lead to misshapen mouths and displaced teeth.

Actually, the position of individual teeth displaced by thumb-sucking is of less concern to orthodontists than the effect on the bony support of the teeth - and the development of abnormal, deforming muscle activity. If, for example, the habit persists past two years, it could alter the child's swallowing pattern. Once this happens, the youngster may develop a protrusion of the upper front teeth; a narrowness of the upper dental arch; and an obvious malocclusion (improper bite) problem.

As long as there are infants, there will be thumb-suckers. However, if the habit continues longer than usual, it's best to have the child checked by a dentist before it causes any problems.

A public service to promote better dental health.

New Musical Comedy At Charles Playhouse

"I Am Boston," an original musical comedy focusing in on the "little," unheralded people who helped to shape Boston's history, opens a limited five-week run at the Charles Playhouse, 76 Warrenton Street, Boston with previews February 10-11 and an official press opening set for Friday, February 12 at 7 p.m.

Performed by the 20-member Boston Youth Theater (a multi-racial, multi-ethnic non-profit organization) and under the artistic direction of Elaine Koury, "I Am Boston" takes 'loving' and sometimes 'fractured' swipes at 'behind-the-scenes' events and people, all based on historical fact. Geared to audiences of all ages, the production also optimistically follows a young performer's search for success.

10 production numbers and songs span historical incidents (which Koury spent months researching) including: "Bloomers," a vignette showing that in 1851, several Boston women followed the example of Amelia Bloomer and wore pantaloons rather than heavy skirts; "Small Pox," a number depicting that in the early 1700's, Dr. Zabdiel Boylston (Boylston Street is named after him) introduced the smallpox inoculation to this country; "Goody Sherman's Pig," on March 7, 1644, it was enacted that the Great and General Court of Massachusetts should sit as two houses, each to act as a check on the other. This bicameral system of government came about over the case of Goody Sherman's Pig; "Steppin' Out," a high-kickin' look at ScgHay Square's "Old Howard" from 1845 to 1960; "The Boston Swindler" in 1920, Charles Ponzi worked one of the most ingenious frauds known to date; and more!

Shakespeare Company Presents Shaw's Saint Joan

She inspired and infuriated. She was humble and heroic. She was a peasant and the King's confidant. She lead and she served. Her name was Joan, Maid of Orleans. George Bernard Shaw brilliantly captures the true spirit of this extraordinary woman in his shining comedy, Saint Joan, now at Boston Shakespeare Company.

Ursula Drabik, seen this season as Ophelia in Hamlet, plays the title role. Artistic Director, Bill Cain, directs and says of the character of Saint Joan, "It is remarkably free from the usual trappings of hagiography. There is very little piety, very little pagentry and very little awe or reverence. Instead, we have a straight-forward woman with a wonderful sense of humor who is passionately committed to her life with God."

Other performances include: Henry Woronicz, seen this season as Hamlet and Benedick, as Dunois, John Bower, who played Horatio and Don John, as the Dauphin, and Harvey Phillips, noted for his portrayal of Prospero in last season's Tempest, returns this year as The Inquisitor. Resident costume designer, Craig Sonnenberg has designed a number of lavish costumes for this production. Scenery is by Michael Franklin-White, whose painterly sets enhanced the stage for Much Ado About Nothing.

One of the finest female roles ever written for the stage, Saint Joan inspires and delights as she stands alone against the most powerful institutions of her day to proclaim her absolute and unswerving faith with which she leads her countrymen in victorious battle to redeem the honor of France, her King, and God.

Saint Joan runs in repertory through April 11. Tickets are priced from $6.00 - $9.50. For information and reservations call 267-5600.

ST. JOAN (Ursula Drabik) infuriates the court (rear) as she urges the Dauphin (John Bower, center) to allow her to lead France's army. From Boston Shakespeare Company's current production of Shaw's Saint Joan.

"Little Johnny Jones" To Open At Metropolitan Center

George M. Cohan's rousing American Family musical "Little Johnny Jones" starring Donny Osmond will be presented at the Metropolitan Center February 10 - 21. Tickets, priced from $8 to $27.50, are on sale now at the Box Office, 268 Tremont Street, Boston and all Ticktron Outlets. Phone charges may be made by calling 542-3600. For group sales call 482-3424.

"Little Johnny Jones", based on the adventures of a famous American jockey who had gone to London in 1903 to ride in the English Derby, established Cohan as an author and star on the Broadway stage at its first performance in 1904. Its score includes some of the best loved songs in the United States including "Yankee Doodle Dandy" and "Give My Regards to Broadway." "Little Johnny Jones" comes to Boston directly from its highly successful premiere at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C.

Donny Osmond, who has been performing for 19 years, made his television debut at the age of 5 on "The Andy Williams Show." His records have earned him 21 Gold Records in nine years. At age 17, Mr. Osmond, with his sister Marie, became the youngest host in television history to headline their own weekly one-hour comedy variety series which ran for four seasons.

Produced by James Nederlander, Steven Leber, David Krebs and the Kennedy Center with Michael Price as Executive Producer, "Little Johnny Jones" is directed by Gerald Gutierrez and choreographed by Dan Siretta. The scenery and lighting design is by Robert Randolph; the costumes by David Toser; the sound by Abe Jacobs and the musical direction by Lynn Crigler. Alfred Uhry adapted the book from the Cohan original.

Also starring, in the cast of thirty, are Maureen Brennan, Jane Galloway, Jack Bittner, Anna McNeely, Ernie Sabella and Peter Van Norden.

Immediately following its Boston run, "Little Johnny Jones" will open at the Nederlander Theatre on Broadway.

The Performance schedule for "Little Johnny Jones" at the Metropolitan Center, beginning Wednesday, February 10 at 8 p.m. is Tuesday through Saturday at 8 p.m.; Thursday, February 11 at 2 and 6:45 p.m.; Wednesday and Saturday matinees at 2 p.m.; and Sundays at 2 and 7 p.m.

Choral Group Being Formed

Fuel Assistance And Project Anti-Freeze At Kennedy Center

If fuel bills are biting your budget and the draft from your kitchen window could fly a kite, don't despair. You may be eligible for a variety of fuel assistance and energy conservation services administered by Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD).

The Fuel Assistant program helps low-income residents of Charlestown with fuel and utility bills. If heat is included in your rent bill you may still be eligible. (In some cases 50 percent of the rent is paid monthly up to level of assistance.) In addition, a unique part of the program, Project Anti-Freeze, provides free energy conservation workshops and materials.

Even though winter is well underway, eligible residents have much to gain from this program. The amount of assistance depends on gross income and number of residents in the household. Prospective applicants can call ABCD headquarters (357-6012) or the Kennedy Center at 241-8866. A fuel assistance intake office is at 27 Winthrop Street, Charlestown. Hours are Monday - Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.; Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday evenings from 5:00 to 9:00 p.m.; and Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to noon.

Applicants who rent must meet the same income eligibility guidelines as homeowners.

All qualifying for fuel assistance can also participate in Project Anti-Freeze workshops where they receive a free kit of weatherization materials which contain enough materials to weatherize a home with 12-15 windows and two doors. Project Anti-Freeze Workshops are held at the Kennedy Center on Tuesdays. Call 241-8866 to schedule an appointment. Workshop trainers demonstrate installation techniques for weatherization materials (such as weather stripping), discuss a variety of energy conservation techniques, and distribute written weatherization instructions.

Anti-Freeze workshops are open to the general public and persons not eligible for fuel assistance attend because of the usefulness of the content.

Local Clergy And Religious Protest Public Service Cuts

Mrs. Gloria Conway
Charlestown Patriot

Dear Gloria,

Below is a copy of a letter sent to Governor King, Mayor White, The Boston City Council, the Boston Delegation of State Representatives, The Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate by the Concerned Clergy and Religious of the Churches in Charlestown in support of the Public Safety Departments in the City of Boston.

For the Charlestown Committee,
Sincerely,
Reverend Daniel J. Mahoney, Pastor

We are writing to you today to express our serious concern about the lack of adequate and proper Fire and Police Protection in the City of Boston, and in particular, in our own neighborhood of Charlestown. Our fellow citizens of this community are frightened and the families of laid-off Firefighters and Police Officers are truly suffering in the political impasse the whole City is witnessing at this time.

The time is now, in fact it is long overdue, for the elected officials of local and State government to come together and work out a reasonable and equitable solution to the problem of undermanned Fire and Police Departments in the City of Boston. The time is now when political biases must be set aside in favor of collaboration before community disaster and loss, including human lives, become the deplorable product of the failure to act.

We ask you to begin this process at once keeping foremost in mind the serious obligation in justice State and Local Government has to all the Citizens!

Sincerely,
Reverend Daniel J. Mahoney, Pastor

To All You Wonderful People

I would like to thank the many people at the Bunker Hill Health Clinic that helped me through a heart attack that I suffered last November. It was their kindness and expertise that brought me through a bad ordeal. Those wonderful people were Mary McInnes, Peggy Sindoris, Gail Brennan and Kathy Venuti.

Thank God, Dr. Sweet was at the clinic that morning. He stayed with me until I arrived at the MGH. After I was admitted and put on the ward, I was happy to see two nurses from Charlestown, Michele McNeil and Chrissy O'Connor.

Thank God, whenever you need help, you will always find a "Townie" right there. I thank you all and my family thanks you.

Response To Globe Editorial "Remapping Boston"

To the Editor:

The letter below is in response to an editorial in the Boston Globe on Wednesday, January 27, 1982. The paragraph relating specifically to Charlestown read as follows:

"On the other side of town, the 17,000 residents of Charlestown - mostly Irish-American with some gentrifying newcomers - are proud of their unique neighborhood atmosphere. They will likely pay for that pride in a district dominated by East Boston and the North End, where a "Townie" candidate stands little chance. The alternative would be a bizarre district uniting Bunker Hill and Mission Hill, stretching both the city's imagination and its political realities. East Boston and the North End should stay together as a district even if Charlestown remains its Italian Swiss Colony."

Rick Anderson

The Editor
The Boston Globe
135 Morrissey Boulevard
Boston, Massachusetts 02107
Dear Editor:

We would like to respond to today's editorial (1/27/82) in the Globe, entitled "Remapping Boston."

The district plan proposed by Charlestown's Committee For Neighborhood Representation does not include the Mission Hill area as stated in the Globe editorial. Our plan would unite the contiguous neighborhoods of Charlestown, the West End, Beacon Hill, Back Bay, the Fenway and Longwood areas together, representing existing precincts with an average population of approximately 14,000 in each area. Under this plan, no one neighborhood has a dominant population or voter base which might skew electoral results in favor of one area over another.

While the Globe editorial may view this plan as "bizarre," and as "stretching both the city's imagination and its political realities," the coupling of Charlestown with the Beacon Hill and Back Bay areas is no more bizarre than the "ideologically schizoid," unification of South Boston with Beacon Hill, as was described in the same Globe editorial, but with strong endorsement.

There are some veteran, political observers who have stated that the final outcome of district lines has been "in the bag" all along. The Globe's endorsement of a plan which would align South Boston with Beacon Hill only confirms these observations, especially in light of the future political plans of certain, South Boston politicians.

We ask you to take another look at the Committee For Neighborhood Representation's plan. It provides for the two "minority" districts which must be established if the overall, demographic requirements are to be met. Our plan also unites East Boston with the North End, another point of confusion in the Globe editorial.

When the Globe speaks of helping the "poorer and weaker neighborhoods" at the expense of those better off, take a good look at Charlestown, and what has happened to this neighborhood over the last 20 years. Our community has been torn asunder by urban renewal, interstate highways and transportation policies, school busing, economic dislocation and the failure of public housing.

The Globe editorial speaks of the irony of poetic justice for the Allston-Brighton area, which has been isolated and underrepresented for 30 years. At least this area has a state representative who lives in the neighborhood, and a state senator who lives in the city. Consider Charlestown whose Congressman lives in North Cambridge, its state senator resides in Revere, and its state representative makes his home in Chelsea. Now, the Globe would endorse a plan which would put our school committee representative and city councilor in an area south of Rome, near Naples, while we, the residents of Charlestown, would become, as the Globe editorial points out, an "Italian Swiss colony."

We in Charlestown are painfully aware of the political realities alluded to in the Globe editorial. We are not looking for any political guarantees, as other and larger neighborhoods may be. We are only concerned with having our elected school committee and city council representatives be accountable to our collective voices. That is what District Representation is all about!

Sincerely,
Richard L. Anderson
for The Committee For Neighborhood Representation, a group of concerned Charlestown residents.

Commentary

Forefront

by Sal Giarratani

"I have received numerous complaints from city residents about the icy conditions of streets. I cannot recall a time when I have ever received more complaints on this subject...While residents understand that the city is facing severe financial problems, they cannot accept a complete lack of emergency snow removal and sanding."

That's what City Councillor Raymond L. Flynn said last week and he certainly hit the nail on the head with that statement.

The Great Ice Storm of '82 is fast becoming a memory but Boston taxpayers have still not been given an adequate explanation as to why the city abdicated its responsibility to make city streets safe and passable for emergency vehicles and the general public.

I attended that City Council hearing last week where Department heads or subheads faced the council's questions. I found some of their statements incredulously lacking in real answers.

Public Works Commissioner Joseph F. Casazza blamed Proposition 2½ and insufficient funds for snow removal. According to the commissioner, he made every effort to clear residential streets and that he handled the crisis "as best I know how."

The Department's snow removal budget for this snow season was $532,288 and to date, counting the five storms so far, the budget has been overspent by $364,000. And the snow season is far from ended. The city says it has enough money to make it through the next two or three storms but this was also dependent on how heavy the accumulation is.

The Public Works department is operating on a 40 percent reduction in personnel and has, apparently, only ten pieces of city-owned snow removal equipment. Contractors take care of most snow removal and sanding.

Priorities are all mixed up at City Hall. Government is failing and failing badly. Sometimes I wonder if the inadequate response by the city to this most recent storm isn't another created crisis. Underfund the snow removal budget and then blame Prop 2½ or the City Council. This reminds me of the way Prop 2½ was blamed for closing police and fire stations before that tax measure took effect.

Something is wrong when the only thing government can do efficiently is tag and boot cars. City Treasurer Lowell Richards may think its great that the city expects some $22 million to be raised from parking revenue this fiscal year but I certainly don't believe the rest of us do.

Something is also wrong when police and fire personnel are let go, when public works is stripped to the bone and beyond but the Mayor's personal budget goes up to $1.3 million. People wonder no longer where the city priorities have gone!

People are madder than hell about the way the city sat on its hands before, during and after the storm and never want to see that happen again but there are no guarantees from anyone that a repeat performance is impossible. Most believe it is quite possible.

The City resembled Alpine slopes from East Boston to Charlestown to the North End and the rest of the neighborhoods. There was no justification for what transpired. The city failed!

The apparent exhaustion of the public works budget raises even more serious concerns as to what follows the next storm. Is the city in a failing trend? If they are Boston's future is in it's past!

Preservation Meeting Scheduled

The Charlestown Preservation Society will hold its next meeting on Sunday, February 7, at the Charlestown Community Center on Green Street. Dan Polvere will chair the meeting which will begin at 8:00 p.m.

The featured speaker will be Steve Pendery, of Harvard University's Institute of Conservation Archaeology. As part of its North Area/Central Artery project in Charlestown, the Mass DPW has hired this group to do preliminary archaeological analysis of historic sites in Charlestown. Preliminary excavation took place during the fall of 1981 and several buried artifacts were recovered including pieces of 17th and 18th century pottery discarded by residents and artisans. Also uncovered were the remains of several historic structures such as the Wapping Dock which served Charlestown's waterfront for about two centuries.

The lecture will be illustrated with slides. Mary Hynes of CBT will also be on hand to discuss how this research will fit in with the construction work.

(This lecture is rescheduled from the meeting of December 6 that was cancelled due to snow.)
