Community Turns Out To Celebrate The New City Square Park

Elizabeth Foster Goose, author of Mother Goose nursery rhymes was there . . . silversmith and Revolutionary patriot Paul Revere greeted the citizenry . . . Lommi Baldwin, father of Civil Engineering, enjoyed the festivities . . . and a dignified Edward Everett, statesman, orator and Governor of Mass., tipped his hat to the ladies and anxiously awaited the speeches.

Why, you ask, did these famous Charlestown residents of the 17th, 18th and 19th centuries gather on a gorgeous fall afternoon?

They joined the residents and business persons of this community to celebrate the creation of the new City Square Park - a park that will serve as a gateway to Charlestown - an example of the pride of her people.

This park honors men and women residents who distinguished themselves in various fields, the center of the park recognizes the seat of government with the foundation of the Great House, it makes note of the birth of the judiciary sys-

IT WAS A GRAND DAY FOR A CELEBRATION and a celebration it was as residents and business persons joined the Friends of City Square Park to mark the near-completion of Charlestown's gateway at City Square. At the lectern is Ken Stone, governor of the Friends, with the U.S. Navy Band from Newport, R.I. in the front. Shown (l. to r.) on the stage are Charles Kostro, deputy commissioner, Mass. Highway Department; John Burchill, superintendent, Boston National Historical Park; Chaplain Ronald Kreinsieck, USS CONSTITUTION; Peter Looney, chairman, Charlestown Neighborhood Council; Stone; Rep. Richard A. Voke; Hon. Peter Agnes, presiding justice, Charlestown District Court; Trudy Coxe, secretary, Executive Office of Environmental Affairs; Peter Webber, commissioner, Department of Environmental Management. Storm Causes Extensive Damage To St. Catherine's

by Lynn Peters

Last weekend's rains devastated the three underground boilers at St. Catherine of Siena Church and Rectory and Charlestown Catholic Elementary School. Damage initially left the heating system, a portion of which is 100-year-old, completely incapacitated.

An incredible nine feet of water submerged the heating plant and forced St.

Catherine Pastor Father James DiPerri to cancel school indefinitely on Monday. Emergency temporary measures applied to one of the boilers by archdiocesan engineers and PJ Kennedy Heating of Quincy, however, allowed for full attendance and classes on Tuesday.

Father DiPerri's earliest cost estimates were in the tens of thousands of dollars to replace the system that provides heat for the school, church and rectory. Damage also includes roof repairs in the rectory and the church's bell tower.

Because of the extent of water damage and the heating system's age, Father DiPerri said that the entire heating system has been completely lost. Replacing the equipment is expected

Charlestown High School NetDay 1996

Charlestown High School has been selected as a partner school for Mass. NetDay, a statewide initiative to connect schools to the Internet.

NetDay is a way for people, schools and companies to work together to bring schools into the educational potential of the world wide web.

The first Mass. NetDay on Saturday, Oct. 26, will initiate the process of giving teachers and students the tools they need to develop skills needed in the 21st century.

Charlestown High School in concert with its business partner Liberty Mutual, the Boston NetDay Planning Committee and many volunteers, will connect to the Internet on NetDay. More than 25 stations will be connected.

Charlestown High School will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Oct. 26. All are welcome to view this remarkable technology.

NetDay is the first step in Charlestown High School's effort to bring technology into the classroom. Plans are being made to network the entire school by April 1997.

The project depends on volunteers, discounted goods and contributions of equipment or expertise. If you are interested in helping, please contact Charlestown High School at 635-9914.

REAL ESTATE MARKET TRENDS

Last summer your neighbors put their house on the market and had so many buyers that they were on the winning side of a bidding war. Now you're trying to sell, and there's just no action.

The real estate market is highly fickle. Many factors come into play, the most important ones being interest rates and prevailing asking prices. In a strong seller's market, for example, prices tend to escalate. When they reach a certain point, many prospective buyers will begin to say no, and the listing inventory increases. When this happens, sellers who price their homes over the level of previous sales prices must rethink their pricing strategies. If they do not, their homes may not sell. Whether you're buying or selling a home, it's important to remember that the shift from a seller's to a buyer's market can reverse itself very quickly. You can count on us for sound advice on what our market is doing right now.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, consult the professionals at Monument Properties. Please call us at 241-5900 or stop by our office at 85 Warren St., Charlestown.

Put Kids First

Dear Friends,

As you know, I have made school reform a cornerstone of my administration. With our new Superintendent, Dr. Thomas Payzant, and with an appointed School Committee, we now have in place the building blocks for reform in our public schools.

I believe that a return to the elected School Committee – and the politics of the past – would have a disastrous impact on the future of the Boston Public Schools.

I need your help with this very important campaign. On November 5, please vote NO on Question 2. Thank you.

Warren-Prescott Playground To Open Nov. 2

Please come out and join Mayor Thomas M. Menino, the Warren-Prescott School and the community in celebration of the new Warren-Prescott Community Playground opening on Saturday, Nov. 2 at 12:30 p.m.

The children will sing and play music, and will plant flower bulbs that will bloom in the spring. "This will be a very special day of which we should all be very proud. We are developing fun and educational programming to further enhance the use of the outdoor space for both school and community children," said Dr. Domenic Amara, principal of the Warren-Prescott School.

The new playground, located on Pearl Street, has been in the planning and development stage for over two years and is the result of a collaboration between the city, the school and the community.

"This is an example of what can happen when parents, teachers, children and city government come together with a common purpose," said Pat Simpson, school site council chairperson. "The school worked closely with neighbors, representatives of the local business community and Mayor Menino's Schoolyard Initiative to find the necessary resources and support for the project."

The playground structure was purchased with private donations from the Kiwanis Club of Charlestown and the Mass. Biomedical Research Corporation. The community also raised approximately $10,000 from fund raising efforts.

Everyone is invited to attend this event.

Storm Causes Extensive Damage To St. Catherine's

to require a serious search for funds.

"This is a disaster for the entire community," Father DiPerri said. "We're especially concerned about our young people. They and their families depend on the school."

In spite of the weather and its serious damage, Father DiPerri said Charlestown's people answered the church's call for help. Water was pumped out promptly and efficiently through the efforts of several quick respondents. Tom Hickey of Hickey Remodeling, and a Charlestown Catholic parent, joined Daniel Greaney and Jim Bichakas of the city's Real Property Department with hoses and pumps to drain the water from the plant. Judy Evers of the Mayor's Office and retired firefighter Marty O'Brien Sr. were on hand.

"The long-term damage is extensive, however," Father DiPerri said, "we're relying on the goodwill of the good people of Charlestown to help see us through this."

Father DiPerri said that in the end, repairs will leave a better system than what was there before the storm. "There is a great optimism," Father DiPerri said.

CHARLESTOWN BOYS & GIRLS CLUB NEWS

15 Green St. • Charlestown • 242-1775

★ GOODBYE TO CHRISTINE MAHAN - After four years of dedication to the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club, Christine Mahan will be visiting the club as a volunteer instead of a staff person. Under Christine's watch, the club's tutoring program grew to double the size it was when she began, providing help to over 50 club members. We all look forward to her happy smile, endless energy and devotion to the members, parents, staff and volunteers at the club on a smaller scale and think Dearborn Academy is lucky to have her working there full time.

★ MEMBERS IN THE NEWS

Members Of The Month - Congratulations to Derek Garceau and Kristen Moulton who have been named Members of the Month at the club for September, 1996.

DEREK GARCEAU

KRISTEN MOULTON

Derek, an 11-year-old student at Charlestown Catholic, is a long-time club member where he is involved in a wide variety of activities. An avid hockey player, Derek is a member of the club's ball hockey team and the Pee Wee B ice hockey team in Charlestown. However, Derek is more than a gifted athlete. He is an important member of the chess club and a hard-working Youth Volunteer for the Torch Club. Way to go Derek!

Not to be outdone, Kristen, an 11-year-old student at the Edwards Middle School, is also a long-time club member. Among her interests at the club are ceramics and computer class. Kristen is a two-year veteran of the Torch Club and recently tied with her friend Shauna O'Neil as the Top Youth Volunteer for September 1996 at the club. She even finds time to be in St. Catherine's Color Guard!!

Community Service Heroes - Recognition of community service for Kim and Bryan Leonard, Kelleigh and Krystina Harrington, Elisa and Jane Santos, Lauren O'Hearn and Madeline Bonilla is greatly deserved.

On Oct. 19, these youths gave up a day and braved the elements to help maintain and beautify a portion of the Southwest Corridor Parks in Jamaica Plain. Working with MDC participants from Outdoor Exploration (an organization for physically and mentally challenged youth and adults) and community volunteers, these members made a visible difference in the appearance of the park and were star participants in a presentation by Tim Womack on the importance of trees in our communities (if you see anyone from this group, ask him/her what trees do for us - you'll get a great response!). Their enthusiasm and hard work earned them many words of praise from the project coordinator and other volunteers. Dameris Perez and Denise Tompetrini joined the young people in this important activity.

Party Of The Year! - Come by the club on Wednesday, Oct. 30, from 6 to 8 p.m. for the spooky haunted house, lots of games, fun and an incredible costume contest.

Speaking Of Parties - Did the club seem like an especially festive place last Friday? We were all celebrating program director, John Killoran's birthday. Happy Birthday John!!

Mt. Monadnock Adventure - On Columbus Day, 11 of Charlestown's most amazing kids hiked, climbed and helped each other up New England's 3,165-foot Mt. Monadnock. The Charlestown Challengers and Monadnock Masters, as they named themselves, consisted of Stephanie Saccardo, Katie DiFava, Kristina Matarazzo, Lauren O'Hearn, Sam Ruiz, Andrew Southern, Lesley Southern, Ricky DeRocco, Kim Leonard, Michelle Isbart and Kelleigh Harrington. The folks who drove, carried extra water and a first aid kit were Denise Tompetrini; first-time hiker extraordinaire Diane Gandolfo; and bringing up the rear, Cherie Monlezun. It is said that on a clear day, all six New England states could be seen... well it seemed as though we could see forever! The sky, the rock, the changing leaves and the people all made for a terrific trip!

Mock Presidential Debate At The Club Is A Success!

- On Oct. 16, Shawn Burke, Jack Flaherty and Jennifer O'Neal (representing the Democratic, Republican and Independent parties, respectively), made opening remarks outlining their views, then proceeded to answer questions from the audience. The questions centered on issues such as national security, taxes, school safety and the environment. Since the candidates were not aware of the questions before the debate, they had to think and respond quickly. Special thanks to Jennifer O'Neal for filling in at the last minute - she saved the day. All of the candidates, as well as moderator Paula Stellman, did a super job!

Rocket Club Update

- That roar you heard last Thursday afternoon was the Rocket Club blasting off its first launches of the fall. Three new designs were tested and all three models flew beautifully, though Kevin Armstrong and Joey Awbrey did experience some recovery problems as their parachute failed to open. Obviously, manned flight on this model will be delayed until Kevin and Joey have solved this problem. Other club members participating in these flights were Jon Paul Awbrey, Billy Walsh, Shawn Burke and Joe Boucher. All launches were done under the watchful eye of Xaymara Saez and Samuel Ruiz.

Askew Promoted At Coopers & Lybrand

William T. Askew Jr., a native of Charlestown, has been promoted to director of office infrastructure in the Boston office of Coopers & Lybrand L.L.P., the accounting and consulting firm. He joined the firm in 1962 and over the past 25 years has performed or managed virtually every administrative support function. In his new role, he will work closely with the office's chief operating officer to develop a plan for meeting future space requirements.

Askew helped develop and now leads the administrative quality improve-

WILLIAM T. ASKEW JR. ment effort in the Boston office. This initiative has been so successful that offices across the country are now modeling their quality improvement plans on the one used by the Boston office.

Fleet Bank Names Lynch As District Manager

As part of its consumer banking reorganization, Fleet Bank has named Cary E. Lynch, vice president, as district manager for 17 branches and 175 employees located in a diverse network encompassing Wellesley, Needham, Dedham, Norwood, Braintree, Hingham, Pembroke and Walpole.

Prior to his current position, Lynch was district manager for both the North Shore and the Brockton Southwest districts.

Lynch began his career in retail banking working as a customer service representative with Bank of New England in 1984 and was appointed branch manager in 1986. He has been an assistant vice president with Fleet Bank since 1992 and was appointed vice president in 1994.

"Historically, Fleet has established a solid reputation for friendly, dependable service in every community we represent," explains Lynch. "As district manager, my primary focus is bringing a certain sense of community to all of the branches so that when people think of their neighborhood bank, they automatically think Fleet."

In 1995, Lynch was recognized as managing one of the top sales performing districts in Fleet's branch network.

Lynch, a resident of Charlestown, earned a bachelor's degree in psychology from Stonehill College in Easton, Mass. He also has completed a formalized commercial credit training course as well as many New England Banking Institute courses. Currently, he is a director of the Wellesley Chamber of Commerce and is a former director of the Metro South Chamber of Commerce.

Matt O'Neil Lightning Club Makes Debut On Home Ice

The Matt O'Neil "Lightning" Junior Hockey Club opened its home season at the Charlestown rink last weekend.

Friday night, over 375 people attended the game that featured a disc jockey and the appearance of Michael Woods (C.Y.H.A.) as the "Lightning Lepre-chaun." After a skate around the ice to a standing ovation, Michael presented a ceremonial puck to the captain of the visiting Bridgewater Bandits and led the Lightning onto the ice where each player was introduced to the home crowd. The seven Charlestown players were given an overwhelming ovation from the large enthusiastic crowd. Unfortunately, after a hard-fought game, the Lightning lost 2-0.

On Saturday evening, a crowd of over 250 people enjoyed watching the same ceremonies as the previous night and got to see an offensive show of hockey as the Lightning were on the losing end of a 10-6 game.

Several Charlestown players figured prominently in the game with Keith Wallace scoring a goal and an assist, Shane Coleman with three assists, Phil Coleman and Jim Mahoney with one assist each, Jason Smith with one goal and Bill Burke and Mike Carroll's forechecking played a key role in the Lightning comeback bid.

The team would like to thank everyone for the support shown over the weekend and promises the on-ice results will get better - stick with us for an enjoyable season. Watch the Patriot for the next home game.

Community And Friends Join In Celebration Of The New City Square Park

tem, a Paul Revere memorial and an obelisk has been returned to the site honoring the men and women who served the nation in World War II.

The formal portion of the celebration, which took place on Oct. 6, opened with a procession of members of the Friends of City Square Park and their invited guests, led by the Color Guard of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. to the Washington Post March by the U.S. Navy Band from Newport, R.I.

The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. has historic ties to Charlestown as they were chartered by Gov. John Winthrop in 1638 and were, in fact, owners of the Great House in June 1775 when it was destroyed by the British during the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Raising the flag in the new park were Cmdr. Robert L. Gillen, USN (Ret.), the only Charlestown-born commander of "Old Ironsides," and James W. Conway, Past National Historian of the American Legion and chairman of the Charlestown Veteran Committee. Charlestown resident Nancy Armstrong sang the National Anthem.

Ken Stone, governor of the Friends, welcomed the gathering. Stone related that the celebration was for the near completion of the three years it took to design and build a park and it was for the last 15 years to have the elevated highway replaced by a tunnel. He went on to say that "what makes this day so special is that City Square has now come full cycle with a new history about to be written."

Stone praised the town's residents who "cared enough to participate in the public processes to bring us to where we are today."

Stone reflected on a bit of the history of City Square and then spoke about Rep. Richard Voke who "deserves special recognition for his truly crucial role in bringing City Square Park to life." Calling him "Richie," Stone stated that "he has served Charlestown with skill success and honor at the State House for nearly two decades. Now, as he nears the end of his final term as state representative, it is fitting and appropriate that City Square Park nears its opening since the park will be one of Richie's lasting legacies to Charlestown."

AT THE CONCLUSION of the formal ceremony, William Foley, chief of interpretation of the Boston National Historical Park, presents the American flag that flew over the park during the celebration to Ken Stone, governor, Friends of City Square Park. Shown (l. to r.) Charles Kostro, deputy commissioner, Mass. Highway Department; Foley; Chaplain Ronald Kreinsieck, USS CONSTITUTION; Stone; and Jay Ash, former chief of staff for Rep. Richard A. Voke. (photo by Kathy Whitehouse)

According to Stone, it was Voke whom residents went to for help to fund and build a park in City Square. He added that Voke obtained $4 million for the design and construction of the park and was able to see that those funds remained in place during some "dark financial days for the Commonwealth."

Stone introduced Jay Ash, former chief of staff for Voke, praising him for his efforts on behalf of the residents.

Voke then stepped to the lectern, telling the audience that for many years he has been a student of and a participant in government. He noted that the secret to good government is the people, adding "a participatory democracy works!" He stated that the people of Charlestown fought 15 years ago consistently working, donating time and effort, to see it to fruition. He noted that the North Area Task Force became the Friends of City Square and formed subcommittees to work on various aspects of the project and the result was this "masterpiece," a tribute to Charlestown and her people. Voke particularly singled out Stone for the "sacrifice of his time, effort and livelihood."

Peter Looney, chairman of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council, spoke briefly of the history of City Square with the presence of the military and longshoreman. Looney said that the park will carry a message for the next 200 years - "Welcome to Char-

Peter Webber, commissioner of the Department of Environmental Management, was a state senator and one of the five votes on Voke's conference committee approving the park. Webber said the Friends spoke "eloquently and positively" on a park. He praised the Halvorson Co. for their vision in producing the design and McCourt for carrying out the design in the construction.

Also speaking were Boston City Councillor Diane Modica; Trudy Cox, secretary, Executive Office of Environmental Affairs; and Charles Kostro, deputy commissioner, Mass. Highway Department. Introduced were Mon O'Shea, interim president, Bunker Hill Community College; John Burchill, superintendent, Boston National Historical Park; and Hon. Peter Agnes, presiding justice, Charlestown District Court.

Stone told of Charlestown's long-standing special relationship with the U.S. Navy and, as the U.S. Navy Band played the Navy Hymn, Chaplain Ronald Kreinsieck of the USS CONSTITUTION, blessed the park. This was followed by a cannon salute from the ship and the lowering of the flag which was presented to Stone for safekeeping by William Foley, chief of interpretation of the Boston National Historical Park.

The day had begun with a brunch at Olives restaurant to benefit the park's maintenance fund. The afternoon included a tasting party with local restaurants participating, music by the Bridgewater Antiphonal Society and the showing of a slide show produced by Larry Miller on the history of City Square.

The Celebration Committee was headed by Marilyn Votaw and supported by a long list of Friends.

Counsellor to Small Businesses

DEFER TAXES BY SELLING AN OPTION

If you should give someone an option to buy your property, there's a tax benefit you should be aware of.

Let's say you own a piece of land that you want to sell. Your neighbor is interested in buying the land, but can't commit for two years. You might give him an exclusive option to buy the property at any time during those two years at an agreed price, charging him $5,000 for the privilege. You can pocket the $5,000 and not pay any taxes on it until he exercises the option or the two-year period expires.

If your neighbor lets the option expire, you'll be taxed on ordinary income of $5,000. If he exercises his option and buys the land, the $5,000 will be included with the purchase price in calculating any capital gain or loss. Either way, you'll have had the $5,000 for up to two years without being taxed.

But watch out for a few key points. First, the option must be unconditional - you must commit to sell at the agreed price if the option holder chooses, while he retains the right to exercise the option or walk away. Second, avoid changing the terms during the option period. If you do, the IRS may say that the old option lapsed and was replaced with a new one. You'll then be liable for tax on the original option payment. Third, be very careful if you structure the deal as a lease with an option to buy. If the terms suggest that the transaction was really an outright sale, the IRS may recharacterize the option payment as taxable interest on the deferred payment.

However, with the right advice it's possible to structure a valid option and enjoy tax-deferred income during the option period. Contact us if you'd like assistance or more information.

Demolition Planned For Domino Sugar

by Lynn Peters

Representatives of the Flatley Co. updated the community on the demolition plans for Medford Street's former Amstar-Domino Sugar Refinery at an Oct. 17 public meeting held by the Charlestown Neighborhood Council Development Committee at Bishop Lawton Hall on Bunker Hill Street.

An additional Flatley Co. presentation of plans for the former Brockway Smith building at 465 Medford St. was postponed to an unspecified date. Flatley's expected tenant was no longer interested in occupying the site.

According to Charlie Cummings of the Flatley Co., the demolition permits should be secured within a month. The work, from start to finish, would be completed within two months, ideally by February 1997. An estimated $1 million preparatory clean up of hazardous materials has readied the site for removing buildings directly related to refining sugar.

Slated for demolition are the refinery building, storage silos, tower, power plant and the chimney. Cummings said that the project will be a "selective demolition" without implosion. Some of the work will be accomplished with wrecking balls. Approximately one of the two months will include removing debris by tractor trailers.

Residents asked about such concerns as rats, loud work after normal hours and community relations.

A predemolition rodent control is required to receive the permit, and Cummings said that he expected less of an impact at Amstar-Domino Sugar than what the Schrafft Center required in its redevelopment from the candy factory to Flatley-leased space.

Neighbors will be able to reach project representatives through Flatley's 24-hour answering service at its Charlestown telephone number, 242-2700. Satisfactory responses to any complaints or concerns about work on the property will be made. Cummings also said that the Flatley Co. would always be willing to meet with the community about any ongoing concerns with the site's redevelopment.

Committee Chairman

Tom Cunha was assured by Cummings that hazardous materials had been cleaned up and that the steam boilers stored in the power plant presented no added dangers. Site security would also be more intensive during the demolition project than otherwise, Cummings said, with a bonded company located on the property.

Committee member Jim Conway asked specifically about long-range planning with incoming Flatley tenants encouraging good relations around jobs for residents and union labor.

"We want to see some sort of relationship where the tenants have to be a good neighbor," Conway said, "be labor-friendly and deal with us on jobs."

St. Martin Street resident Moe Gillen had questions about the impacts on the long-discussed Medford Street state haul road, Massport's concurrent demolition at the nearby former Revere Sugar site and Sullivan Square traffic.

Cummings said that the haul road was still in the state's design and planning hands but did not see Flatley's work interfering with the concept. The Revere Sugar Refinery work differs from that at Amstar-Domino because Revere Sugar's is a total demolition. Flatley's project should have fewer impacts on abutters than those nearer the Massport work, and Cummings said that Sullivan Square traffic created by the demolition project was expected to be minimal as debris will be trucked north on Route 93 to New Hampshire.

Gillen also raised his and other older Charlestown natives' sentiments for Flatley somehow recognizing that it inherited nostalgic Dewey Beach. Cunha deferred discussions of any beach re-creation, open space or memorials to this Charlestown cultural highlight until specific tenants expressed interest in occupying the site.

In a motion made by Conway, the committee agreed to recommend to the full council at its Nov. 12 monthly meeting that it "endorse in general the concept presented with the idea that they will be neighborhood friendly and that the Flatley Co. return with progress reports to keep abutters apprised."

Sergeant Runs Away With Top Honors

Who says 13 is unlucky? On Oct. 13, the Raytheon Company's corporate team ran away with first place in their division in the 12th annual Army Ten-Miler "Run the River Bridges" race. This is the largest 10-mile race in the country and hosts top athletes from around the world.

Held under perfect weather conditions, this event marked a day of firsts. It was the first time the field of registered runners exceeded 9,000, the first time active duty soldiers won in both male and female categories, and the first time Raytheon Company entered a corporate running team. Charlestown's Steve Sergeant was one of Raytheon's eight-person team.

To determine the corporate winner, the team's four fastest times are combined and averaged. Raytheon's team time of 56:55 topped their closest competitor, Lockheed Martin, by more than four minutes. Sergeant's individual time was an impressive 55:46, the team's second fastest.

Sergeant is a senior development engineer in the Mechanical Engineering Laboratory at Raytheon's Electronic Systems Division in Tewksbury.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

(never known to fail)
O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to secure me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer 3 consecutive days and then you must publish it and it will be granted to you.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, you who made me see everything and showed me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and you who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in perpetual glory. Amen. Thank you for your love toward me and my loved ones. Persons must pray the prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish. After the 3rd day, your wish may be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as this favor is granted.

Think Safety This Halloween

TIPS FOR PARENTS

- (1) Make sure your child's costume allows freedom of movement and good visibility. Use face make-up with the costume rather than masks, which restrict visibility. Costumes should either be a light color or have reflective strips on them. Kids love to carry flashlights, which make them more visible. If possible, have children trick or treat before dark.
- (2) Insist that your children trick or treat with a friend, a group or an adult. Young children should always go with an adult or responsible teenager.
- (3) Insist that your children stay in their own neighborhood and on an agreed route.
- (4) Before your children eat any treats, check them over. Use your discretion about any homemade treats, even with an address label. The safest rule is to throw away anything that is not store-wrapped and in good condition.
- (5) Cut fruit into pieces before eating to make sure it is all fruit and has not been tampered with.
- (6) Sponsor a party in place of trick or treating. Sometimes shopping malls will sponsor a party with each shop owner providing the treats. Use your imagination.

TIPS FOR KIDS

- (1) Stay in your own neighborhood.
- (2) Go with a friend, a group or an adult.
- (3) Go only to houses with the lights on or with Halloween decorations up.
- (4) Don't eat any treats until your parents have checked them.
- (5) Watch for cars when crossing the street.
- (6) Tell your parents about anything that makes you uncomfortable or scared.

BOB D'S BEAT BY BOB DeCRISTOFORO

◆ Baseball, October, World Series . . . The World Series returned to Yankee Stadium this week, and I must admit I've enjoyed all the post-season play. Baseball in October is something very special. Rushing home to see the games, especially the afternoon games, is great. The Regional Telecasts are history, and we could stay focused on one game at a time.

For me, October baseball has meant some real live, up close and personal experiences. Working at Fenway Park does this to you. My photo album has some great memories. I have been most fortunate to have attended World Series games in 1967, 1975 and 1986 in Boston, as well as series games in 1977, 1978 and 1981 in New York.

Looking back at '67, the Impossible Dream Year, the price of admission to the St. Louis Cardinal-Boston Red Sox was $8 for reserved grandstand, and $2 for bleachers. The headline prior to Game 7 was "Lonburg and Champagne," but in the end it was Bob Gibson who wore the ring.

The first World Series of my working Red Sox career was 1975, and the memories included the "game of all games," number six, and Carlton Fisk, El Tiante, Dwight Evans' game-saving catch, Bill Lee and the Full Moon, Manager Johnson and a pitcher names Burton, and the fans trying to storm the right field gates, aka the Alamo. In the end, Cincinnati proved to be the very big Red Machine.

In 1977, the New York Yankees defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers. Mr. October, Reggie Jackson, was the man, and in Bleacher Section 51, Row V, Seat 16 in Yankee Stadium, sat Bob D, awed by the three-home run performance of Jackson. Believe it or not, I bought the ticket at the window. It cost $4.

The only year I left Fenway Park mad was 1978. Thank you, Bucky Dent. The Yankees would defeat Los Angeles again, and I remember calling home after the final out, saying, "guess where I am!" In 1981, Los Angeles and New York would meet again, and I made what had become my annual trek. The Dodgers got their revenge and took the Championship Crown.

The scene would switch in 1986. Shea Stadium was the place to be, and a couple of co-workers and myself made the trip of all trips! We journeyed to New York without plane reservations, no place to stay and no tickets! We caught all four games at Shea, and if you thought it was tough watching games six and seven, being in the stands was even tougher. Even now when I think about it, I find it hard to believe that we were there. It was an adventure to remember, something which I would never trade away!

World Series make great memories and I have my share. ◆ CYO Convention On Sunday . . . The annual CYO Convention takes place on Sunday, Oct. 27 at Boston College from 12:30 to 9:30 p.m. St. Catherine's plans on taking a good contingent, as always! Call Father DiPerri, or drop by the rectory to sign up.

◆ Halloween Parade . . . The Boston Parks and Recreation Department will host its annual Halloween Children's Parade on Sunday, Oct. 27 at Boston Common. Registration begins at 11 a.m. and the parade gets underway at noon. For more information, call 635-4505.

Tonight and tomorrow, the Boston Children's Theatre and the Boston Parks and Recreation Department are presenting the "Fairy Tale Forest and Enchanted Castle" from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at the George Wright Golf Course. Tickets are $5 for adults and $3 for children ages 4 to 12, and free for 3 and under. Call 424-6634 for further information.

◆ High School Notebook . . . Brian Ward received the Sportsmanship Award presented at the Arlington Catholic-Arlington football game, but the AC Cougars are still having trouble getting back their winning ways. This week the Cougars were defeated by Archbishop Williams 19-0!

Jim Rabideau had three of four Pope John touchdowns as the Tigers broke a two-game losing streak shutting out Minuteman 30-0. Bishop Fenwick handed Savio Prep their first loss of the year downing the Spartans 22-6. Fenwick is 6-0!

There's no place like Rhode Island. Rob DiFrummolo had three touchdowns as Don Bosco defeated Moses Brown 35-8 in a New England Interstate game.

Omar Easy marked his return to play by scoring four touchdowns as undefeated Everett picked up win six downing Medford 35-15.

Quarterback Joe McCauley accounted for five of six Matignon touchdowns as the Warriors (5-1) trounced Catholic Memorial 42-6. Westford defeated Boston Latin 14-6. Maybe Danny Gibbons can sneak back into the Latin line-up.

BC High tipped St. John's Prep 28-24 and in a big Division One Interleague game, Brockton shut out Xaverian 14-0.

◆ CYO Track Meet . . . Charlestown and St. Catherine's CYO were very well represented in the annual Interparish CYO Track Meet held at St. John's Seminary on Columbus Day. Our team finished in 7th place in a field of 14. Taking part were Kelleigh Mahan, Candace Griffin, Kaymara Saez, Corie Hollien, Freddy Arroyo, Kelsey Barrett, Roselyn Boyle, Courtney Wrenn, Josh Gans, Lorraine Hollien, William Boyle, Bobby Lawrence, Danielle Whalen, Taylor Murphy, Chris McGrath, Sean Anthony, Ryan Farris, Stephen King and Justine Stoddard, Tricia Doherty, Johnny Campisano, Jim DeRicco, Lenin Gutierrez, and Alex Gutierrez. Special thanks to chaperones Lynn Anthony, Denise Devlin, Neal Boyle, Kristen Golden, Jane McFarlane, Bridgette Chaisson, Annette Beaupre, Jerry Daday and Sheila Brown.

◆ Lightning Strikes! . . . Great turnout down at the skating rink as the Matt O'Neil Lightning Hockey Club opened its 1996-97 home season. Good to see a number of Townies on the team - Phil Coleman, Shane Coleman, Bill Burke, Jimmy Mahoney, Mike Carroll, Keith Wallace and Jason Smith. The O'Neil Club is a member of the Eastern Junior Hockey League, which is the only USA Hockey-sanctioned league on the east coast. Among the many celebrities in the stands was Bernie "Scoop" Kelly! Celebrity? Bernie is a legend!

◆ Charlestown High Lights . . . The football team pounded Dorchester last Friday 38-6. Hugh Coleman had two touchdowns for the Townies. Donyell Patterson, Mitch McCroskey and Kendrick Wilson each had touchdowns for the victors. Charlestown's record is now 3-1-1. On Friday, the Townies play a 3 p.m. game at Madison Park.

Charlestown High School takes part in NetDay '96 on Saturday, which is a statewide initiative to connect schools to the Internet. The school will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Oct. 26 to view this remarkable technology. For information, call the school at 635-9914.

Principal Marilyn Hurwitz took part in the Charlestown "Life in the City" lecture series on Sunday.

◆ College Board . . . Congratulations to Kevin McGonagle who has been named head coach of the UMass-Boston Hockey team. Good man, good choice!

◆ Pro Line . . . The Florida Panthers are the only undefeated team in hockey and Phoenix has dropped to 3-3-0 as we begin the week.

◆ Basketball Clinic . . . Fontbonne girls basketball coach Don Larsen is holding a preseason training clinic Nov. 29 and 30 at North Quincy High School. For information, call 786-7400.

◆ Homecoming Sunday . . . It was a very beautiful Sunday. Attending the Homecoming Mass at St. Francis de Sales Church was a beautiful experience. I didn't attend school at St. Catherine's, St. Mary's or St. Francis de Sales, but I felt very much at home. The tradition of these three fine schools is now found in Charlestown Catholic, and the love of all those places - past, present and even future, was felt here on Sunday. My sincere congratulations to the Homecoming Committee and my sincere thank you for giving us a day we will never forget.

◆ City Year Is Here . . . The annual City Year Serve-a-Thon takes place on Saturday afternoon and they will be doing their thing all around Charlestown. If you meet them, be sure to greet them in our fine Townie way, they do a lot of good work, and have always been a big plus here in Charlestown. Dede Arroyo, a graduate of Charlestown High, is a member of the City Year team, and one of our own.

◆ Tidbits . . . Was Mary giving dancing lessons at the CHS cafeteria?? . . . Tommy Whelan has a new nickname . . . Don't forget the "Just Say No" hockey tournament all weekend at the rink, hosted by the Charlestown Youth Hockey Association.

Smile!

Second Duckworth Lane Opens

The second Duckworth Lane has opened in Brookline at 1657 Beacon St. The restaurant has approximately 40 seats and is open for dinner every night.

Barbara Russell, owner of Chanterelle (Newbury Street) and Soleil (Harvard Square), along with David Chase, former director of catering with Ritz-Carlton, opened the first Duckworth Lane in early June at 83 Main St. in Charlestown. The Brookline bistro and wine bar features the same international grazing menu as Charlestown with approximately a dozen tapas, a dozen soups and salads, a dozen mid-sized "Bistro Plates" and a dozen entrees. An eclectic wine list offers about 15 selections by the glass, including wines from California, France, Spain, and Italy.

St. Catherine's Color Guard Can And Bottle Drive

The Color Guard activity is going strong with dedicated young girls practicing each week for their upcoming season.

In order to function as a professional organization, you must have major fund-raising. On Saturday, Nov. 2, we ask that you drop off your empty bottles and cans at the Knights of Columbus parking lot between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. If you are unable to drop them off personally, you can call 242-9106 and someone will pick them up. Your help is greatly appreciated.

Thank you,
Danny Awbrey

Warning!

It has been brought to my attention that the tennis court and tot lot at the corner of Union Street and Old Rutherford Avenue are being left in deplorable condition because when the gateway to Charlestown has funding for this project, the tennis court and tot lot will be incorporated to provide parking for the MDC skating rink.

This park is to be abolished for parking spaces. This will drive property values down drastically. Keep your eyes and ears open. United we stand or ????. The voice of the people must be heard on this one.

Sincerely,
Grace Pizzurro

Thank You . . . Everyone!

Dear Gloria,

I would like to personally thank you and the Charlestown Patriot staff for dedicating your time and energy in covering the Charlestown Townies 10th season in the Eastern Football League. The publicity the Town Team received in print this year was a tremendous boost to our efforts in bringing Townies football back to the community in which it belongs.

Although our season was not a tremendous gridiron success, 1996 will be remembered as the most important year in the storied history of the only remaining Boston Park League franchise. Some high points include: Tony Green taking over the head coaching reins, the clinching of a playoff berth with a Townies victory in their first HOME game in over four years and the return of Paul Flynn to the Charlestown sidelines. Jack Coneeney and Joe McCarthy coming out of retirement to lend a hand was also a sight for any football enthusiast, as was the work of Leo Boucher and Mike Stillman on the coaching staff.

All the Townies' accomplishments this past season would be for naught, if it weren't for the heralding work of the Charlestown Patriot. I would also like to thank our sponsors Boston Sand & Gravel, Bunker Hill Florist, 520 Club, Halligan Club, Lori Ann's Donut Shop, McCarthy Brothers Liquors, Mother of Tears Club, Rep. Richard Voke, The Warren Tavern, friends and fans for their tremendous support all season.

A very special thank you to our friends in Faneuil Hall, Sissy K's and Trinity.

This endeavor has been a far greater challenge than I imagined and without your help, Townie football would be just another nostalgic topic of Charlestown's past. Again, thank you.

Sincerely,
Danny Ryan

Thanks To Everyone Who Helped Us Celebrate

Dear Gloria:

On behalf of the Celebration of City Square Park Committee, I'd like to thank everyone in the community who attended our events on Oct. 6. The completion of City Square Park and the revitalization of City Square are certainly reasons for rejoicing and we were very pleased that so many residents came out to celebrate with us on such a beautiful fall day.

Celebration Day was a success because of the financial contributions from and hard work on the part of so many Charlestown residents and businesses. I'd also like to thank them as well as you and the Patriot staff for their support of the Friends.

Now that it's open, City Square Park will need many more friends to maintain its pristine condition. We, at Friends of City Square Park, hope that the community will continue its enthusiasm and support for this important gateway to Charlestown.

Sincerely,
Marilyn E. Votaw,
Celebration Event Chairperson
Friends of City Square Park

We Did It!!!!

We would like to take this opportunity to thank "Everyone" who supported us in the first annual Bike For Life For Cancer.

We pedaled and pedaled and pedaled until we finally reached our destination at the 100-mile mark. Not only did we reach our mile mark, but we reached and exceeded our monetary goal which originally was $10,000. To date, over $18,000 was raised for the American Cancer Society with $2,000 from the generous people and businesses of Charlestown. Not only was your financial support appreciated and needed, but also everyone's emotional support as well.

We would like to give recognition to the following businesses and organizations who supported this effort: Century 21, Daughters of Isabella #1, Mama Maria's, Moran Terminal, Mothers of Tears, the Copy Connection and a special thank you to Carolyn Shannon.

Sincerely,
Janice Devlin-Locke

Vote No On Question 2

To the editor:

The most important issue facing residents of the city this November is whether to reinstate the elected school committee (Yes or No on Question 2). Last winter, in his State of the City Address, Mayor Menino accepted full responsibility for the public schools. I can think of mayors we have had who wanted nothing to do with the Boston Public Schools. In fact, there have been elected school committees which have not accepted responsibility.

For the system to work there must be accountability. With an elected school board arrangement, accountability is dispersed, resulting in a slower moving and less effective institution. The benefits of a high quality and viable school system are many. It is also impossible to overstate the importance of educating and training the youngsters of Boston. Mayor Menino deserves to have his chance at improving the Boston Public Schools. Vote No on Question 2.

Sincerely yours,
Tom Desmond

Charlestown Clubhouse Launches A Foundation For Success

Last year at its 101st annual meeting, the Boys & Girls Clubs of Boston launched Campaign For All Generations, a capital campaign designed to raise $4 million necessary to renovate the Charlestown Clubhouse.

As part of this effort, the Board of Directors of the Charlestown Clubhouse has launched a Bricks Campaign with a goal of raising $75,000 within the community. Bricks will be sold for $250 each and granite pavers can be purchased for $1,000. Both may be engraved with a name or a special message and will be laid into the sidewalk in front of the club's new entrance on High Street.

The Charlestown Clubhouse is the leading youth service provider in the community. No other agency has as its primary focus "youth development," and the services available at the clubhouse ensure that it will remain a source of leadership and constructive change in the Charlestown community. As a result of this campaign and renovation effort, the youth of Charlestown will have an efficient and modern clubhouse designed to provide valuable programs well into the next century.

"This is long overdue," said Club Director Jerry Steimel, "and we need the help of all the club's alumni and all of our friends in the Charlestown community to help make it happen." Chairpersons for the Bricks Campaign are Lois Gallagher and Pat Sweeney who both serve on the the club's board of directors.

There are a limited number of bricks and granite pavers available and a deposit of $50 can hold one in your name. Anyone who would like to support this effort may call the clubhouse at 242-1775.

Annual Halloween March Around The Monument

All are invited to join the annual Halloween March around the Bunker Hill Monument. Come in costume, bring a flashlight and meet at the lodge at the base of the Monument at 5:45 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 31. There will be music to set the pace as the marchers go around Monument Square and frighten away all the evil spirits. A howling good time will be had by all. Don't miss this spooky, but fun, event.

The march is sponsored by the Monument Square Neighborhood Association with the cooperation of the Boston National Historical Park.
