Elderly Housing Planned For Site Of Former St. Mary's School

The Planning Office for Urban Affairs of the Archdiocese of Boston has submitted a preliminary proposal to the Boston Redevelopment Authority for elderly housing to be built at the now vacant Saint Mary's Grammar School at Warren and Winthrop Streets and the adjacent B.R.A. owned parcel which presently houses the Cataldo Garage.

A community meeting is being planned within the next few months to present the proposal to the residents of Charlestown, before an initial designation is granted to the Archdiocese on this proposal.

According to the Pastor of St. Mary's Church, Reverend Robert J. Boyle, he has discussed, with other developers over the last nine years, options for the grammar school. "I've been praying all along that the right use for the building would come up. I have had all kinds of offers over the years from various developers. I think we finally found the right one that will benefit the greatest number of people," said Father Boyle.

The parish made their intentions known to the Archdiocesan Planning Office for Urban Affairs and a one year planning process was undertaken which eventually produced the possibility of providing money for the development of this school into elderly housing.

"We were really lucky to receive a Section 8 grant," said Father Boyle, referring to financing being provided through a joint venture agreement between the Planning Office for Urban Affairs of the Archdiocese of Boston and Cooperative Service, Inc., from Detroit, Michigan, who had available HUD Section 8 funds. Under the Reagan Administration, this type of funding has become very scarce.

The grammar school itself will contain 31 apartments and there will be a new addition added which will have 89 apartments. This new addition will be built where the Cataldo Garage is presently operating. The new building will be seven stories on Warren Street and five stories high on Park Street. The main entrance for this new complex will be off Park Street and the main entry will be in a courtyard which is presently the playground for the grammar school.

According to H.U.D. 202/8 program, the residents of this development will pay between 25% and 30% of their income to live here and the federal

Overturn Of District Plan Stuns City Council Candidates

Some one hundred persons, including numerous campaign workers for the various candidates, attended a Candidates' Nights on Tuesday evening, July 26th sponsored by the Kent/Charlestown Community School Council. This Candidates' Night was offered to give the community an opportunity to meet and hear the six candidates for the District 1 City Council seat, as well as the candidates for the four At-Large City Council seats.

Each of the candidates were allowed to give a brief presentation of their candidacy and then the floor was open for questions by Kent Council Chairman Mark Urquhart, who acted as moderator.

Candidates for the District City Council seat had been stunned by the ruling of U.S. District Court Judge Andrew A. Caffrey's decision barring the city from holding an election using the nine District City Council and School Committee plan that was drawn up by the present city council. This announcement was made public just prior to the forum.

Candidates for the district seat, having spent considerable time in campaigning and collecting signatures for the submission of their nomination papers, as well as monies in their respective cam-

Thinking About Selling Your Home?

GIBSON GETS RESULTS

We're pleased to share with you two letters, from a Charlestown homeowner and his attorney, regarding a sale we completed recently.

Dear Gibson Associates:

I'm writing to thank you for the superb job you did in selling my house in Charlestown. You got a fair price and negotiated the sale with my interests in mind. Most importantly, when the paperwork got bogged down at the bank you followed through and broke the log jam so that the closing took place to keep my very tight time-table.

I'll gladly recommend you as broker to anyone selling a house in Charlestown. Thanks for a job well done!

—(A Satisfied Charlestown Homeowner)

Dear Gibson Associates:

You more than earned your commission on this sale. Without your perseverance in pushing the mortgage through there could have been no closing. Good job. I look forward to the next closing with you.

—(Attorney for the Satisfied Charlestown Homeowner)

If you want to sell your home, it only takes one phone call to put us to work for you.

State Treasurer To Return Unclaimed Monies

Massachusetts General Law Chapter 200A is known as the Unclaimed Money Law. Enacted in 1907, it can be viewed as the state's first consumer protection law. This law seeks to protect individuals by assuring that unclaimed bank accounts, uncashed payroll checks, uncashed dividends and insurance proceeds which have been inactive for at least five years are returned to their rightful owners or legal heirs.

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane is charged with administering this law. One of his responsibilities is to force banks and other institutions to report unclaimed funds to the state.

Treasurer Crane had to sue Boston Edison, the First National Bank of Boston and recently John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. to make them turn over unclaimed monies. He then must try to locate the missing owners to return their monies to them. In August Treasurer Crane will release the names of more than 25,000 Massachusetts residents who are the owners of unclaimed money. Lists of the owners names will appear in newspapers across the state beginning August 1, 1983. Last year Treasurer Crane returned more than $18 million dollars to rightful owners under the Massachusetts Abandoned Property Law.

Public Hearing On MDC Pumping Station

The Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) will conduct a public hearing on the draft facilities plan for the Charlestown pump station on Tuesday, August 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill Street, Charlestown. The engineering study addressed alternatives involving rehabilitation of the existing station or replacement with a new pump station. The study recommends construction of a new pump station on vacant land on Alford Street, across the street and slightly north of the existing pump station.

The public hearing will present the technical criteria, environmental impacts and the cost of the project to users of the MDC system. Copies of the draft facilities plan will be available for public review until the day of the hearing at the MDC office, 20 Somerset Street, 4th Floor, Boston, and at the public library in Charlestown.

Signed statements concerning the project should be addressed to: Metropolitan District Commission, Sewerage Division, 20 Somerset Street, Boston, MA 02108. Attn: Ms. Katina Belezos

Past Mismanagement Continues To Plague Kennedy Center

by Maria Girvin

Kennedy Center Board of Directors were hit with another example of apparent mismanagement while former Executive Director John Gardiner was head of the Kennedy Center, this time costing the Center $13,773.62.

Through explanation by present Director Leo Carey and through a letter prepared by Attorney Patrick Sweeney, the Center's counsel, board members learned that former Business Manager Blaine Stone, failed to apply for funds from a contract with the Bureau of Nutrition's Child Care Food Program (C.C.F.P.).

At first it was thought by the Center that the applications had been made, and although they were made late, the courts would still see the Center and the Bureau as having a contract as they had always done in the past.

However, upon further investigation by Sweeney, it was found that the Kennedy Center's files were incomplete and that much of the correspondence which took place regarding a new application for fiscal year 1982 was missing. Sweeney found out that Stone knew the Center was without a contract and had actually failed to renew it. Sweeney found the original 1982 application in the files with original signatures of Stone and Gardiner.

In meeting with representatives of the Bureau of Nutrition, Sweeney saw correspondence dated October 20, 1981 directed to former business manager Robert O'Brien who was employed prior to Stone. In that correspondence, the Bureau reminds the Center that they had not yet applied for 1982 funds, nonetheless, they advanced the money without the application having been sent in.

However, the rest of 1981 and the year 1982 passed without the Center sending the 1982 application, therefore, the Bureau wishes to be reimbursed the advanced funds amounting to over $13 thousand.

Realization by the board of this newest example of mismanagement, followed complaints from board members that the Attorney General's investigation into mismanagement practices by former employees of the Kennedy Center was still pending and "casting a shadow over the performance of the present Kennedy Center staff as well as the Board of Directors.

"As long as this hangs over our head, there's the possibility that we can be hurt," said Board President Joe Kent. "There's three things that could have happened with this investigation. Either the Attorney General is digging deeper, or they have put it on a back burner or they're going to drop the investigation all together."

"Mr. Kevin Suffern (from the Attorney General's office) has had ample opportunity to come down with a decision. There's a cloud over our head," said board member Robert Wallace. "we're losing credibility with funding sources. The Attorney General's office should give us a response one way or the other, especially with the APAC elections coming up."

The board unanimously motioned that a letter be sent to the Attorney General's office to request the status of the investigation which began nearly a year ago with submission of petitions containing 1000 signatures of Charlestown residents requesting that the A.G.'s office investigate business practices of Gardiner who had been accused of credit card misuses.

Since Gardiner's resignation, numerous mismanagement problems have been uncovered by Carey, taking a heavy toll on the Center's budget.

In other Kennedy Center business, it was decided: —that the board would investigate a lottery system in handing out summer jobs to youths under the Center's summer employment program;
—that the Center would search for a vacant lot or park which the Center could rehabilitate in the name of Matty O'Neil who died recently;

—drew up guidelines for the September APAC/Kennedy Center elections. It was decided by the full board that no write-in candidate or sticker campaigns would be allowed; and that residents who vote must show identification at the polls.
—to drop concerns regarding the elderly bus shuttle. Upon viewing of the log kept on the shuttle's pick-ups and deliveries, no abuses were found.

—to accept nominations for the annual neighborhood award given by Action for Boston Community Development Program for outstanding community involvement. Nominations can be submitted to the Center by any agency or group in Charlestown.

Cappucci Speaks On Artery Depression

Robert (Meany) Cappucci, candidate for District 1 City Council, took the opportunity during a recent public meeting held in the North End, to express his beliefs on behalf of that community concerning the proposed depression of the central artery.

Candidate Cappucci began by proposing his own plan that would accommodate the needs of the North End community by developing the land made available by depressing the artery.

His plan would include:
1) a major parking facility solely for North End residents
2) new and affordable housing for low and middle income people who have been displaced by the building of highpriced condominiums.

3) an indoor gym and recreational facility
4) an outdoor public park with tennis and basketball courts.

He continued by saying that if elected as District 1 City Councillor, he would do everything in his power to insure that these needs become part of the overall artery design. "At present, the proposed artery budget is 2.1 billion dollars. I estimate the cost for my proposal will be an additional 20 - 40 million dollars. This is a small price that should be allotted to help and thank the North End community whose lives will be affected in making travel easier for all drivers."

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen,
D.M.D.

HOW DOES FLUORIDE WORK?

Fluoride makes tooth enamel more resistant to decay. There are two ways fluoride can be effective. When taken during the formative years, fluoride becomes part of the entire thickness of enamel. The best way to achieve proper levels is through water fluoridation.

After teeth erupt, fluoride can still be applied directly to the teeth. The benefit is not as great because only the outer surface of enamel can be made stronger. Fluoride rinses, toothpastes and treatments in the dental office are all utilized for this purpose.

TOURISTS AT THE MALDEN HOSPITAL - Day Care children of the Charlestown Headstart program pay close attention during a tour of The Malden Hospital Emergency Department. Upon arrival, the youngsters were given an "I am a hero" badge and a chance to don face masks. The tour ended with the children enjoying cookies and juice in the Hospital cafeteria.

IT'S STICKY - Malden Hospital Emergency Department RN Susan Pecora gives children in the Charlestown Headstart Day Care Program a chance to feel the material used to make casts. The youngsters recently toured the Hospital along with their teachers Susan Eleanor, Cindy Blakie, Debbie Hughes and Pamela Norton as well as with their high school aide, Debbie Rover.

government will pay the balance of the rent and operating costs for the residents. Like the Mary Colbert Apartments, also in Charlestown, this development will be subject to H.U.D. regulations. The Archdiocese of Boston has successfully sponsored two such developments. The first was the rehabilitation and new addition at St. Anthony's Parish in Allston, for 80 apartments, and the second was the rehabilitation and new addition at St. Mary's Grammar School in Lynn, for 100 apartments. The Archdiocese Planning Office for Urban Affairs will be the developer of this site.

Cooperative Services, Inc. will provide the management services to the elderly housing and work to develop a cooperatively managed building where the residents provide most of the support, maintenance and fiscal services necessary to maintain the building and the community. This is a very unique management style which has met with great success in their other developments.

CSI is a 3,000 member consumer cooperative which started in 1942 as a co-op dairy, distributing milk to members at cost. Today, CSI is the largest senior citizen housing cooperative in the country, managing over 10 independent housing projects and approximately 1,000 units of additional housing, in various stages of processing or construction. For the most part, funding for these projects come from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). CIS is headquartered in Detroit, Michigan.

As the parent organization, CIS obtains financing to construct apartments and then serves as owner and manager of the completed building. However, it is the tenants who actually manage their own apartments through monthly meetings and a Building Council, made up of elected representatives from each floor of the apartment building. Each building has its own by-laws and as long as the Council operates in conjunction with CSI's and HUD's regulation, the building remains independent, able to raise funds for building improvement, and implement their own programs. The custodian is the only full-time employee in each building.

A construction start is planned for the spring of 1984. Although no list has been formed, interested persons should call the Planning Office for Urban Affairs at 227-2200 in order to leave their names for more information as the housing is developed. It is anticipated that the new development will be ready in the early part of 1985 for the first residents.

Information Meetings On Central Artery And Third Harbor Tunnel

Proposals for widening and depressing the Central Artery and a possible third harbor tunnel will be explained to residents of affected communities at a series of informational meetings to be held by the state Office of Transportation. EOTC Secretary Frederick P. Salvucci announced today.

The meetings, to which all community members are invited, will be held in East Boston, South Boston, the South End, North End and Waterfront.

"The complex decisions we must make now on the Central Artery and possible third tunnel will be crucial to the viability of the state's transportation network well into the future," Salvucci said. "The success of the decision-making process will depend to a large extent on the involvement and support of the public. Keeping residents of affected communities well-informed, as well as listening to concerns and suggestions, is an integral part of this process."

The proposals which will be explained by state transportation officials at the meetings are outlined in a draft Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) recently released to the public. The EIS indicates that the already overloaded Central Artery will become virtually non-functioning in the coming years without major improvements.

Formal public hearings on the proposals will be held on August 8 and 9 at Faneuil Hall, Boston from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. The final EIS for the plans must be submitted to the Federal government for approval by September 30 to qualify for 90 percent interstate highway funding.

Community informational meetings are scheduled prior to the hearings, as follows:

EAST BOSTON, AUGUST 1, 7 p.m.: East Boston Harbor-side Community School, 312 Border Street, East Boston.

SOUTH BOSTON, AUGUST 1, 7 p.m.: Boston Public Library - South Boston Branch, 646 E. Broadway, So. Boston.

NORTH END, AUGUST 2, 7 p.m.: Christopher Columbus High School Gym, 44 Prince Street, North End.

WATERFRONT, AUGUST 3, 7 p.m.: Marriott Hotel - Long Wharf, Salon A, 296 State Street, Boston.

Council Hearing Scheduled On Edison Conversion

The Boston City Council's Committee on Human Services has scheduled a public hearing on the subjects of public health in and around the Reserved Channel, and the planned conversion to coal of Boston Edison's plants in South Boston and Everett. The hearing is taking place pursuant to orders filed by City Councillor Raymond L. Flynn.

The hearing will be on Wednesday, August 3 at 7:00 p.m. in the City Council Chamber, Boston City Hall.

Councillor Flynn stated, "Serious questions have been raised concerning the impact coal conversion would have on the health of residents in nearby communities like South Boston and Charlestown, the focus of this hearing. In addition, the Reserved Channel should be assessed as to its usability for boaters and for fishing."

Councillor Michael McCormack, Chairman of the Committee on Human Services, in announcing the hearing, stated that representatives of Boston Edison, the City's Environmental Department, the Health and Hospitals Department, the State Department of Environmental Quality Engineering and representatives of environmental and health organizations had been invited to attend, as well as community and civic groups. The public is invited to attend and testify.

Overturf Of District Plan Stuns Candidates

paigns, were waiting to read the official ruling and determine what City action will be taken.

Unless the judge's ruling is reversed on appeal, the City Council faces the possibility of having to redraw district lines. City officials felt that it might take longer than the nine weeks between now and the Preliminary elections on September 27th to resolve the problem and the city may face the possibility of having to delay the District City Council and School Committee elections.

In November of 1981, Boston voters approved a referendum in which four at-large City Councillors and School Committee members and nine District City Councillors and School Committee members would replace the present nine member City Council and five member School Committee, both elected at-large. The district lines were drawn up by the City Council and approved by Mayor White in March 1982.

In September 1982, a suit was filed in the U.S. District Court by several minority groups, including the Latino Political Action Committee, the Black Political Task Force and the Boston Peoples Organization challenging the district plan, as drawn up, as being unconstitutional stating that the plan limits black and Latino political influence and should have been based on the 1980, rather than the 1975 census.

The districts, which according to the 1980 census should contain 62,555 residents, range from a low of 53,253 in District 4 (Mattapan) to a high of 66,125 in District 2 (South End-South Boston).

District 1, which includes Charlestown, North End, and East Boston has a population figure of 60,289.

Many of the candidates were shocked that the decision to overturn the plan came some ten months after the suit was filed and so close to the Primary.

The candidates taking part in Tuesday night's forum included: District Candidates Neil Brennan, Robert (Meany) Cappucci, Joseph Cinsoruli, Diane Modica, Michael James Reardon, and Robert Travaglino. The At-Large candidates taking part were: Willie Allen, Althea Garrison, Jean Sullivan McKeigue, Michael McCormack, Albert "Dapper" O'Neil, Leslie Payne, and Joseph Tierney.

Issues raised by the candidates included police and fire protection, fair and equitable housing, condo conversion, parking, dirty streets, and proposed conversion of the Boston Edison plant on the Mystic to coal.

The heat in the Auditorium as well as the distraction caused by candidates filing out into the foyer of the Kent to be interviewed by the TV and radio stations on the judge's ruling regarding the District seats, did not add to the quality of the forum that was being attempted by the Kent Council in bringing these City Council hopefuls to the eye of the community.

A second Candidates' Night is being planned by the Charlestown Democratic Ward Committee, in conjunction with the Kent/Charlestown Community School Council, on August 23, 1983, which will include the candidates for Mayor of Boston, as well as the At-Large and District candidates for Boston School Committee.

Receive Considine Memorial Award

The Lawrence (Archie) Considine Memorial Award was presented to Daniel and Edward Considine after the completion of a very successful hockey season. The award was given by Coach John Morris of Charlestown High's Hockey Team. The Considine Award is given every year in memory of Archie Considine by personal friend as well as teammate, Charles Harrington.

request of Harrington, Morris took over the pleasant task of making this annual award, since Archie was a boy who grew up in the town, and showed outstanding qualities as an athlete and was a person that could be looked up to by his players. He showed that friendship and caring is an important part in all sports.

Summer Reading Suggestions

When most of us think of "summer reading" we think of someone lying on the beach with a mystery or a romance. However, even the laziest vacationer can prepare for a busier time and enjoy a "good read" with some new titles at the Charlestown Public Library.

The summer can be a wonderful time to work on a favorite hobby and John Hedgecoe's The Photographer's Handbook is ideal for the fairly experienced photographer seeking a comprehensive guide to the craft. Those who enjoy needlework will find three new books of interest: The Woman's Day Decorative Needlework for the Home, Better Homes and Gardens Needlepoint and a new book from the Chilton Needlework Series Quilt As You Go, an excellent introduction for the beginner as well as an ideabook for the knowledgeable quilter.

Residents who are working on their homes this summer may want Robert Kangas' The Old House Rescue Book: Buying and Renovating on a Budget, while those with "smaller" plans may spend a summer afternoon reading Buildings in Miniature, which provides instructions for building beautiful dollhouses.

"Summer reading" need not be lazy reading but for those who still want to relax on the beach with a good romance — the Charlestown Library has plenty of new ones. For more information, call the library at 242-1248 or stop by 179 Main Street.

Charlestown Junior Irish Football Team Plays In Hartford

by Paul Morceau

The Charlestown Junior Irish Football Team travelled to Hartford, Connecticut on Sunday, July 17th with a loyal group of supporters. While the Hartford team's experience allowed them to control the game and win, the "Townies" played a hard fought game right to the end of the second half.

The game was played on the grounds of the Irish American Home in Glastonberry, Connecticut. The pleasant surroundings, good food, Irish music and oceans of bottled cheer took the bite out of the loss and a good time was had by all. The get-together after the game included the Hartford team and their families and supporters.

Our thanks to Pat Locke and the members of the Junior Team who organized this trip. We all had a good time and the chartered bus made it a safe trip.

Minor Team
The under 14 team has made the playoffs this year. The first playoff game was rained out last Thursday. By this time next week we may be in the finals. Good Luck.

The new class of officers is the one hundred and thirty-first to be graduated

Among the graduates were Carol O'Neill, Antonio Rotger, Jr. and Thomas W. Settupani of Charlestown.

A surprise retirement party was held on Sunday, July 10th in honor of Betty and Henry McCarthy at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Arlington.

Over 150 business associates, relatives and friends joined the McCarthy family to celebrate the occasion.

Mr. Joseph T. Flaherty, President of the Charlestown Board of Trade presented Henry with a plaque expressing the appreciation of the citizens of Charlestown for his many years of service to them. Also representing Mayor Kevin H. White, Mr. Flaherty read a proclamation declaring July 10, 1983 officially "Henry F. McCarthy Day" in the City of Boston. The Mayor expressed his gratitude for the contributions to the community that Henry has made in his forty years as a Charlestown businessman.

A letter of congratulations along with an American Flag was presented with the best wishes of the Speaker of the House and Mrs. Thomas P. O'Neill.

The McCarthys are life long residents of Watertown and have six children. Mrs. George P. Duffy (Kathleen) of Arlington, Mrs. James P. O'Connor (Jane) of Watertown, Pauline, Henry III, Richard and Danny, at home. They also have six grandchildren, Christopher, Patrick and David Duffy and Jamie, Erin and Elizabeth O'Connor.

One of the highlights of the evening was an original poem, composed and presented by Joseph A. MacDonald, depicting the many happy summers at Adams Shore, Quincy.

Betty and Henry are now living in their home in Lincoln, New Hampshire and will spend their winters in St. Petersburg Beach, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Blaise of Bristol, Vermont announce the engagement of her daughter, Louise Booska, to Kevin Carroll of Charlestown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Carroll. Ms. Booska is also the daughter of the late Lloyd Booska.

Ms. Booska is a 1972 graduate of Mt. Abraham Union High School and has a B.S. in hotel administration from the University of New Hampshire. She is employed by DAKA as food service manager at Gen Rad in Concord, Mass.

RE: EQEA File No. 4561

Dear Secretary Hoyte:

As the elected representative of the citizens of Charlestown I would like to express my disapproval of and dissatisfaction with the Draft Environmental Impact Report which the Boston Edison Company submitted to you on June 13 of 1983. The document fails to address the most fundamental concerns of Charlestown residents.

Over 9000 of my constituents reside within one mile of the power plant scheduled to receive an extensive transformation in the near future. It is documented that the air these people breath and the environment in which they work and recreate will be subjected to a near tripling of sulfur dioxide emissions. This is clear evidence that Charlestown would be one of the communities most heavily impacted by the coal conversion scheme.

It distresses me greatly that the Environmental Impact Report failed to discuss or even mention any of the impacts the increased emission, noise, and dust pollution would have on the health of Charlestown residents. I feel that the potential hazard to a Charlestown person's health could increase dramatically. Public reaction, thus far, to this potential health hazard, has been substantial. It is an instinctive human trait that a person take steps to protect his family's physical health and well-being.

I want to see that the health and well-being of my constituents is protected and not infringed upon in any way. This is my fundamental reason for contacting you. I feel that Boston Edison's EIR shows a complete lack of respect for the Charlestown community and total disregard for their wishes. These, by the way, include reasonable requests such as a more detailed discussion of the impact on health and the strategic installation of a sensory device to monitor sulfur dioxide content blown towards Charlestown by the ever present prevailing winds.

I trust that the correspondence you have received from the Charlestown community has been read and reviewed carefully and that any comments, suggestions, or demands are taken into serious consideration. I hope also that you and your staff adhered to the most stringent of standards while performing your examination of the EIR.

In closing, I would like to thank you for allowing me the time to comment on the EIR and would appreciate also being made aware of the action you and your office plan to take regarding the report.

Sincerely yours,
Richard A. Voke

Public Housing Residents Ignored

To the Editor:

A recent article in the Boston Globe (July 1, 1983) on the coming of cable to Boston and its anticipated impact makes much of the yeoman efforts made by Cablevision to wire the city ahead of schedule, to ensure the availability of better than average public access facilities, etc., etc. For the record, I would like to point out that there is one sizeable portion of Boston's population whom Cablevision has yet to make a substantive effort to reach - the approximately 10% of Boston's population who reside in public housing.

I note that according to the schedule published in the Globe, Cablevision has already completed cable installation in East Boston, is near completion in Charlestown, and expects completion in North Dorchester, Roxbury, and South Dorchester by August 1983. At the same time, only one public housing development in these neighborhoods has even begun to be wired by Cablevision.

In East Boston, where wiring of the community was completed in May, and where a media celebration was recently held to mark the event, wiring has begun at but one of the 3 area BHA developments. Preliminary surveying has not even begun at the two other developments in East Boston, nor has there been any activity in Charlestown, where there are two BHA developments (including one of the Authority's oldest and largest). Despite the existence of a schedule submitted by Cablevision to the BHA in early June 1983, and specifying that all preliminary surveying activity in both neighborhoods would be completed and submitted to the BHA by July 18, no such activity has even begun at 4 out of 5 of these developments. Needless to say, there has also been no sign of any cable-related activity at BHA properties in Dorchester or Roxbury.

These lapses become more significant when one considers the timetable provided by Cablevision to the Globe for wiring the rest of the city. Wiring the entirety of Roxbury and Dorchester, two of the most heavily populated neighborhoods in Boston, is scheduled to take all of two months. Similarly, Cablevision has indicated that it will wire the populous areas of West Roxbury and Roslindale, which represent approximately one-fifth of the city's area, in one month.

In this context, the delay in wiring public housing developments, which represent approximately one-tenth of the city's population, is cause for real concern.

The BHA has met with representatives from Cablevision and communicated our concerns on these issues on numerous occasions. It is clear that their priorities do not include the timely wiring of public housing. In this context, the statement that Cablevision is "one of the pioneering systems in the country in terms of availability to low-income people" is a truly ironic one. It is unfortunate that it is the public housing tenants of this city who must continue to bear the brunt of that irony.

Sincerely,
S. Kay Gibbs
Executive Assistant to the Receiver
Boston Housing Authority

Location On Memorial Of Charlestown Heroes

Dear Gloria.

Your coverage of the Vietnam Veteran Memorial 11/10 - 11 14 82 at Washington, D.C. was greatly appreciated. As a participant at the dedication for these great fallen heroes, I was humbled by the veterans, families and overriding recognition long overdue. Having a colleague on the Michael P. Quinn Scholarship who was a combat veteran in Vietnam, I had additional insight. Without Steve Driscoll's prudent direction and understanding, I doubt the Quinn Scholarship would be entering our fifteenth year and servicing Charlestown residents and Veterans Organizations. To afford the family and friends of our Charlestown heroes to ascertain their location on the memorial, we prepared the position from the directory of names. I know this information will be cherished by many individuals and should be constantly remembered.

As always we look forward to the Charlestown Veterans Memorial which I hope will be a reality before year's end.
