Wedding Destination Antigua

The island of Antigua is known as the "Heart of the Caribbean" partly because of its central location along with its neighboring island, Barbuda. Both islands are at the center of the British Leeward Islands and known as one.

Antigua's irregular coastline is marked by inlets, coves and natural harbors, which create the tourist attraction and has brought it the most fame; its 365 beaches. This topography and the island's locations in the center of the Caribbean have made sailing one of Antigua's major attractions.

Scheduled nonstop flights and charters from Florida, New York, Toronto and occasionally other East coast cities, land at the Vere Bird International Airport near St. John's. Antigua, which is a hub for flights to almost every island north and south of it.

Cruise ships sail into the heart of Antigua's capital, Saint John's, docking at Heritage Quay and Redcliffe Quay.

Sugar Ridge

Wedding Destination Anguilla

Basking in the string of islands between North America and South America; an island of the British West Indies in the northern Leeward Islands. Inhabited by Arawaks when British settlers arrived in the 17th century, Anguilla was part of the self-governing colony of St. Kitts-Nevis-Anguilla until 1967, when it seceded unilaterally.

A bid for full independence led to the landing of British troops in 1969. Anguilla became a separate British dependency in 1980. Anguilla is the most northerly of the Leeward Islands in the Eastern Caribbean. It is a flat island with an area of some 91 sq. km but limited natural resources.

It has, however, one of the most important largely unbroken coral reefs in the Eastern Caribbean. Its coastal and marine biodiversity (including fish, seabirds and marine turtles) is the island's most important natural asset. Anguilla has built a reputation as a beautiful, safe, exclusive and high-end tourism destination where a beautiful and simple island ceremony can be held. With a relaxing breeze, soothing ocean waves, swaying palms and some of the best beaches ever, Anguilla just might be ideal for your wedding ceremony.

Wedding Destination Aruba

Aruba is about 20 miles long and 6 miles across at its widest points and is located about 19 miles off the Venezuelan coast. The terrain is mostly flat with a few hills. There is little in the way of vegetation or outstanding physical features and no inland water. Aruba's best-known geographical feature is its white-sand beaches, which are the basis of an active tourism industry that is the mainstay of the island's economy.

Aruba is situated on the Caribbean Tectonic Plate. Aruba lies on the continental shelf of South America, and is thus geologically considered to lie entirely in South America.

Aruba has three deep water harbors located at Oranjestad, Barcadera, and San Nicolaas. The coastal area is known for its white-sand beaches and the calm waters surrounding Aruba are clear, making it a popular tourist destination.

Wedding Destination Barbados

Barbados lies out in the Atlantic, 100 miles east of its neighbors in the southern crescent of the Windward Islands. Barbados offers white-sand beaches and rolling hills and fields of sugar cane, rather than lush volcanoes and tropical rain forests. Its nickname Little England is reflected in its British traditions of afternoon tea and cricket matches.

A number of daily nonstop flights arrive from New York, Miami, Toronto and Montreal at the international airport in Christ Church Parish, 11 miles east of Bridgetown. Charters from the east coast also bring visitors to the island. Connections from some American cities can best be made through San Juan, Puerto Rico. This island is also a very important hub with numerous flights to and from nearby islands. Flights from Europe (primarily the United Kingdom and Germany) are frequent.

Enjoy some truly fantastic snorkeling around what is considered one of the best examples of a healthy reef system, home to marine life, virtually of every hue on the color spectrum.*

Wedding Destination Dominica

Dominica is quite different from any other Caribbean island. It has few beaches and few large resorts. However, Dominica is known as the nature island of the Caribbean, a wonderland of tropical rain forest and mountains, laced with 365 rivers, and home to a boiling volcanic lake. While other islands work on preserving their ecosystems, Dominica's Flora and Fauna lie secluded, much of it still untouched by modern development and human encroachment.

There are two airports on the island. Most flights arrive at the busier Melville Hall Airport on the northeastern part of the island. The drive from the airport to the capital, Roseau is one (1) hour and twenty (20) minutes. Neither of the airports have nonstop flights from the UK or North America. A connection through San Juan, Barbados or Antigua is most convenient for the bulk of travelers.

St. Kitts & Nevis

The location of St. Kitts (Officially named St. Christopher) and Nevis gives a clue to their origin. Although the islands are separated by sea, they are one federation. The islands retain a West Indian ambiance and unspoiled natural charm that is only slowly changing. Caribbean history and British air are reflected on both islands. Visitors of these islands enjoy the slow pace of a country holiday near the beach unlike most islands.

During the high season, charters from Atlanta, North Carolina, New York and Miami operate directly into the island of St. Kitts. Connecting flights are also available from San Juan or other Caribbean islands. Arrivals on Nevis comes either on the eight-minute flight from St. Kitts or via the ferry between Basseterre, St. Kitts and Charlestown, Nevis, (a 45-minute trip). Boat facilities for private vehicles to be transported across to Nevis are also available.

Wedding Destination St. Lucia

Few islands can match St. Lucia's (Say: saint LOO shuh) lush greenery whose beauty invites comparisons to Tahiti, Fiji and other islands of the South Pacific. Its two peaks that rise over 2,000 feet above sea, have impressed all who see them, from today's tourists to the sailors of the past five centuries. Interior mountains are covered by forest, surrounded by banana plantations, and ringed by coastal fishing villages that have changed little from a century ago.

St. Lucia's charm does not stop at its foliage and twin peaks, its northern end has some of the most beautiful golden sand beaches with a fantastic nightlife to compliment it. Black shiny sand beaches can also be found on the southern end of this island.

There are two airports on the island that accommodated regular flights to the island. Most non stop flights are normally facilitated at the Hewanorra Airport which is to the South of the island. Meanwhile, connecting flights normally come through the George F.L Charles Airport. Make sure your agent selects the airport which is closet to your accommodations if you don't wish to travel an additional 1hr 30mins by taxi. Most ships call at Castries, from there shoppers can walk to the nearby Pointe Seraphine or a ferry ride to La Palace Carenage. Site seers can reach the city with in 15 mins from their ship. Some ships occasionally make a special stop to the south of the island so that clients can have a sight of the famous twin peaks.

Wedding Destination St. Maarten

St. Maarten Weddings & Honeymoon Destination

Dutch St. Maarten (Say: sint MAR ten) is an island for today's vacationers on the go. It is well known for its shopping, water sports, golf and casinos. St. Maarten is well known for being the smallest island in the world that is divided between two sovereign nations: Half of the island is French and the other is Dutch. Wedding ceremonies are legally conducted on the Dutch side only as the French side requires a 1 month stay before legal ceremonies can be done.

Nonstop Jets from U.S and European cities are frequent. The island has airports on both the French and Dutch side but all international flights even those from France arrive on the Dutch side.

As a port St. Maarten is surpassed in numbers only by some islands. This is due to its high level of development, excellent shopping and fantastic, easily accessible beaches. The 2 major ports offer excellent shopping and is only walking distance.
