

How did we collect your data?

When you purchase a ticket for TEDxISCTE. All the information shared through the Beamian form for purchasing tickets for TEDxISCTE is personal and private and will be kept secure and never shared with other companies and institutions for commercial purposes.

Why do we collect your data?

For operational reasons fundamental to the functioning of TEDxISCTE, as well as for legal reasons, this information is shared with the following companies and institutions as follows:

- TEDxISCTE / Beamian /Futurdata:all this information is kept by the TEDxISCTE organization for the design of the event; issuing of identification badges; communication with participants until the moment of the event.
- Tax Authority: In compliance with Portuguese tax law, invoicing information is sent to this institution.
- Beamian: The information submitted on the Beamian ticket purchase form is held on Beamian's systems for the purposes of ticketing. Also, the name, e-mail address, tax number and, in the case of companies, address, are communicated to Beamian for invoicing.
- TED: After the TEDxISCTE event, we send the list of all participants' email addresses to TED for an evaluation form; TED sends this list to Delighted.com, which will send the form.