BEGINNING OF AN ERA

Dawn finds the beautiful mountain refuge of Frigaria awash with chilly promise.

That new day brings hope and promise to the crisp morning air, even as the fading night shrouds the past in the soft embrace of mystery.

Who knows what wonders await the good women of the north? Who can say what woes stalk the land and which brave champions shall rise to surmount them? And what of the past triumphs, now fading into that ebon shroud of night. What glories are obscured by the passage of time.

For many years these questions have had no answer; but no longer! You, valued reader, now hold the first ever publication of The Frigarian Pinnacle the only bi-monthly broadsheet of current events for the discerning woman of today.

This publication is dedicated to honest and topical reporting on all current events of interest for any women of substance and at only 10 gold an edition even a most unruly slave can afford to select The Frigarian Pinnacle for their noble mistress.

Page 1 is your go to source for news providing coverage of valley wide events, local affairs, the ever looming threat of the weather and current tales from the southern lands.

Page 2 caters to the woman on the go with the latest social trends in both fashion and home decorating. For those tricky social situations, consider our advice column, while valued readers are invited to share interests in the correspondence and classifieds.

The Frigarian Pinnacle the height of integrity.

LOCAL

The Order of Winter Wolves

The knightly Order is an older social club within Frigaria intent on doing good work in the name of the Goddess. Abiding by their voluntary Code to guide men and protect women any are free to join their ranks.

The Dames are often seen about the city though they rarely call attention to their status instead relying on simply blending into the crowd until needed.

When not battling most Dames are seen hosting dinner parties in the inn, be they round table discussion or intimate interludes.

Woman of the Week - Ryba

Marshal of the Order. Shield of the North.

Ryba has a great many titles but who is this woman really?

Friends or enemies speak on a woman of boundless compassion with an unwavering sense of conviction.

In private Ryba is known for passion with a friendly and playful tone. Her curiosity covers lore but not meals, she always orders the same dinner.

No matter who you ask, none can deny Ryba has left her mark.

Eden cold war

Valley population has reached record highs in the tail end of this year leading to speculation around the eternal war. Lack of soldiers had resulted in a tentative if unofficial peace but with so many eager young men and women perhaps hostilities will begin anew?.

Turning attention to the past has shown that Solaran men tend to work as lone operatives while Frigarian women prefer coordinated action. However the recently forged Guild and declining membership in the Order may signal a tipping of the scales. Perhaps we shall see renewed aggression by the south, or perhaps the peace will hold.

Only time will tell but one thing is certain: There are no easy answers in sight so we will cover this story as it develops.

Shackled

Loyal men of the north continue to struggle completing tasks on behalf of their mistresses due to tight restrictions on sale of goods, mobility about the valley and a woeful lack of coffee.

Temple officials site security concerns and orthodoxy as the reasons for limited mobility and weapons but hint at changes.

Limited service in the market is blamed on personal misandry of the shop keepers.

No official can explain the abysmal state of coffee in the north. The tragedy of our time.

Weather

Frigaria retains a brisk climate with a chance of flurries in the late evening.

The Guild of Solar Lions

Recently the men of Solaran have forged their own social club, perhaps in response to the long domination of the Order, or perhaps out of a desire for comradery.

Motives aside the the Guild have a Charter to promote a sense of community and trust.

Their Female Friday Fights, where women wrestle, have drawn quite the crowd. Frigarians are invited to attend. Clothing optional.

Frigarian Inn

Hello victim, my old friend;
I've come to talk with you again;
Because your chest is softly heaving;
and the ballgag moisture leaking;
And the moaning that was planted in my brain;
Still remains;
Within your sounds of silence;
In my cell you stand alone;
Uneven floor of cobblestone;
'With your wrists in chains above your head;
and your bottom glowing pink and red;
And your eyes were stabbed by the flash of a neon light;
That split the night;
whip's crack breaks the sound of silence.

TRAVEL

Tower of Sardica

Rising over the eastern wilds the foreboding tower of the mysterious mage Sardica stands as a monument to curiosity. As fitting a wizard's castle the tower is larger within, extending up at least 5 mapped floors each rife with hidden secrets and mysteries.

We shall explore this sinister structure each edition, helping you good reader to endure and prosper.

Beginning with the approach: the tower is guarded by grey ooze. Tenacious creatures they will dissolve any armour they can reach so it is best to tackle them from range. Further avoid blunt weapons it'll just make a splash.

SOCIETY

There's no problem too small, no question too great that The Frigarian Pinnacle will not take the time to investigate. Including you good readers!

Let our staff help bring the paradise back to your Eden by answering your vexing questions and helping you to find the bliss you deserve.

Every edition Nyx and Philippe will offer advice on a question from you dear readers so pick up that quill!

Her & Him

Her

Ex-military turned P.I; Nyx 13 was recently swept into Savage Eden. Investing in the future of her new home Nyx is pleased to present and write for Frigaria's first paper. Like any true lady of the north Nyx trusts her slave, Philippe, to handle the details and is proud to release issue #1 of The Frigarian Pinnacle.

Him.

Former reporter and coffee connoisseur; Philippe arrived in Eden at Nyx's side. Seeking to support his mistress in this strange land, Philippe has turned his past experience into an opportunity and is pleased to present The Frigarian Pinnacle. Here's to a great year!

Heels turn faces

Welcome to the fashion forum where we will discuss the hottest trends in town.

Heels! Gorgeous torture devices or the most painful tush enhancer even made? The way they accent that oh so wonderful sway of a woman's hips is not something to be denied but do recall dear reader: not every man will just look and sometimes you need solid footing.

To get your heel fix, try hosting parties, both formal and very informal, allowing you to dress to the nines in safety. The inn offers catering and reasonable rates.

Asymmetry Basics

Welcome to the housing guide where we discuss the latest tricks to getting the most out of your home. This week: Asymmetry.

Making your home symmetric is very attractive. The balance brings to mind order and stability, and limits jarring surprises that can make guests off balance.

Where most run into problems is the lack of symmetry in their home layouts.

The fireplace here stands next to an exterior door and a hallway. Trying to make this symmetric will only frustrate. In such situations strive to provide balance with negative space.

In this case the designer chose to set the seating in a half-circle angled toward the exterior door and to block off vision of the hallway with a folding screen.

This clever ideas provides a focal point in the circle centre giving balance. Added bonus: arriving guests can be welcomed.
