Sustanon 250 is effective on its own during cutting cycles, promoting muscle retention and decreasing fat mass. Many bodybuilders are afraid of losing muscle tissue when cutting, due to the catabolic environment that occurs with a calorie deficit; however testosterone can alleviate such worries of diminished muscle hypertrophy. The use of Sustanon 250 will enable the individual to burn body fat at a more efficient rate due to the metabolic enhancement high levels will provide. It is, however, important to note that many will need to use less Sustanon 250 during their cutting phase compared to off-season phase due to estrogen sensitivity.
