Facing issues with Skin Tan Rough Skin Pigmentation

This can depend on which procedure you get, but generally, recovery is quick. With a retropubic suspension surgery, general anesthesia is used and discomfort after the procedure can last 6-8 weeks. With a sling procedure, local anesthesia may be all that's necessary, and recovery time may be quicker too. It's important to follow the doctor's instructions after your procedure to ensure your recovery is as quick as possible! read this post here
