Are you testing for high testosterone or are you just assuming you have high testosterone based on symptoms? You can have symptoms of high testosterone without it actually being high. If your testosterone is going down the 5 alpha pathway vs the 5 beta pathway it can make your testosterone 3 times more androgenic. You can see this pathway on @dutchtest.□

Since Proviron is a derivative of DHT, it must be added to a steroid stack for optimal muscle growth - such as testosterone. Using Proviron 25 mg pills alone will not provide drastic results. It is also recommended to incorporate proper diet and exercise when consuming a steroid or drug, especially in the case of bodybuilding.
