Hmm, has it been more than three months since you last used your account, is it a non-paid account and did you get an inactivity email from us?

Oh, it's been years, but do you really delete the old links? I think I did have a paid account at some point.

We only delete the links of unpaid accounts, as they take up too much space. We do have a backup export of your links I can send you, though.

Can you please? I will upgrade to a paid account if you restore my links.

Hello,

I'm afraid I couldn't find your backup file :/ It looks like your account may have been one of the older ones to be reclaimed, when we hadn't added the backup functionality yet. I'm sorry about that :/

Thanks,
Stavros
