

Bihar prediction election game: how to get accurate results?

crowdwisdom360.com

Dates of elections to the Bihar Assembly will be declared soon at any time. Right before this, there's a lot of tussle between all the parties and coalition partners over seat-sharing. Before the elections, the national team of the Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) will focus on Bihar. Meanwhile, CM Nitish Kumar recently met with BJP National President JP Nadda, Bihar BJP in-charge election Devendra Fadnavis, and BJP State President Sanjay Jaiswal.

This time the National Democratic Alliance wants a fresh seat-sharing model, as both Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and Janata Dal (United) battled separately in 2015 for the last Bihar Assembly Elections.

JDU spokesperson Rajiv Ranjan said there was no misunderstanding in NDA about seat-sharing. We will make a joint announcement on time. That should bother the opposition. He also said the NDA would go to polls under the leadership of Nitish Kumar, and the people's blessings are almost assured.

Bihar Elections Predictions

BJP spokeswoman Akhilesh Singh said there is no problem in NDA on this issue. The issue in 'Mahagathbandhan' is. Their leaders are leaving the RJD party. A And the formula is formulated in line with BJPBJP 112-115JDU- 112-115LJP-10-15HAM-3

The JDU formulaJDU contested 122 seats and gave the Hindustan Awam Morcha (HAM) 3-4 assembly seats, i.e., From its quota Jitan Ram Manjhi Faction. The BJP contested 121 seats and offered the Lok Sabha seats from their quota to the Lok Janshakti Party.

On this basis, the formula suggested by the JDU looks like this. Iso Lalu Prasad Yadav is leaving the alliance partners. The grand alliance of the RJD-Congress is a sinking boat.

Bihar Opinion Poll 2020

RJD spokesperson Mrityunjay Tiwari said that the grand alliance leaders are on the same page that they have their lines of communication opened. But after they meet each other, the NDA partners don't look very optimistic. Taking a potshot at the power politics of LJP president Chirag Paswan Tiwari said their 'Ghar ka Chirag' would burn the NDA's building.

BJP and JDU battled on a 50-50 basis on the remaining seats, after assigning seats to coalition allies. Under this method, the last general elections in Bihar have been contested as NDA. LJP gets 10 to 15 seats according to this formula, while 3 to 4 seats go to the Hindustan Awam Morcha from Jiten Ram Manjhi. BJP and JDU challenged the remaining 224 to 230 assembly seats in a 50-50 seat-sharing system according to the poll predictions, meaning BJP and JDU were challenged on 112 to 115 seats.

LJP requires a seat-sharing arrangement for the assembly based on the parliamentary seats it contested during the 2019 Lok Sabha Election Prediction. LJP is contesting seven Lok Sabha seats. If it takes an average of six assembly seats per parliamentary seat, then LJP gets 42 seats to contest. LJP argues that since it had secured six Lok Sabha seats, the NDA seat-sharing system should include at least 36 assembly seats to vote on.
