Charlestown's Jack O'Callahan To Be Inducted Into B.U. Hall Of Fame

Jack O'Callahan, a native of Charlestown who captain-ed the 1978 Boston University national champion hockey team, is one of six former Terrier greats who will be inducted into the Boston University Hall of Fame. The 28th Annual Hall of Fame Banquet will be held Saturday evening, May 31, 1986 in the George Sherman Union.

Jack O'Callahan, graduating in 1979 with a degree in history, enjoyed a fine career as a defenseman on the Terrier hockey team.

By far, his best season was his junior year when he helped the Terriers to a 30-2 record and the championship in the NCAA, ECAC and Beanpot Tournaments. Scoring eight goals and 47 assists, O'Callahan reaped a bundle of individual awards. In addition to being named most valuable player of the Terriers, O'Callahan was the MVP of the Beanpot and of the NCAA Tournament, where he tied a tournament record with six assists. He was also named first team All-East and All-New England.

Currently playing for the Chicago Blackhawks in the NHL, O'Callahan captained the Terriers his senior year and was named All-America and All-East. He also became the first player in Terrier hockey history to be named MVP twice.

O'Callahan is also the only athlete to receive the Gordon "Mickey" Cochrane Award as the University's top male athlete twice. He won that honor his junior and senior years.

One of O'Callahan's big-

Affordable Housing Proposal To Be Presented At Public Meeting

Charlestown residents will have an opportunity to review a proposal for affordable housing in Sullivan Square at a community meeting to be held tonight (Thursday, May 8th) at 7:00 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill Street.

The proposal by the Bricklayers and Laborers Non-Profit Housing Corporation, calls for brick townhouses to be constructed and sold for approximately $75,000 on the BRA-owned site at the corner of Main and Bunker Hill Streets.

According to Tom McIntyre of the Bricklayer's Union, the group wants suggestions from Charlestown residents in order to make the houses fit into the site and the neighborhood. At this meeting, McIntyre and William Rawn, the architect, will discuss their design, site plan, and other features of the development. BRA staff will also be on hand to answer questions.

BRA Board Questions Community Support

Immobiliare-Congress Tentative Developer

by Marianne Martin

Local community groups had a hard time convincing the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) Board at its Thursday, May 1st meeting, that they had nothing but the purest of intentions when the three groups endorsed the Myerson/Allen and Company proposal to renovate Building 105 in the Charlestown Navy Yard over the BRA staff's preference — the Immobiliare-Congress Venture.

The three groups; the Charlestown Preservation Society, the Charlestown Economic Development Corporation (EDC), and the Charlestown Merchants Association, forwarded a joint letter of support to the Board dated April 28th in support of the Myerson/Allen team because, as the letter stated, this team best met the criteria set forth by both the BRA and the National Park Services. BRA Board Chairman, Robert Farrell, however, stated he felt uncomfortable receiving this endorsement because he felt the groups, for one, did not represent a wide enough community base, and second, two of the organizations had ties to the Myerson/Allen group.

This was the second time the question of who would receive tentative designation of Building 105 has come before the BRA Board. On Thursday, April 17th, the BRA staff and Director Stephen Coyle had recommended to the Board that Immobiliare-Congress Venture receive the designation. At that time, the Board voted to table their decision since there was opposition from community groups to the recommendation.

During the two week interim between Board meetings, members of the three Charlestown organizations met with the two development teams on Wednesday, April 23rd at the Mary Colbert Apartments. After reviewing both proposals again, the members of the three groups drafted a letter dated Monday, April 28th, to the BRA Board reaffirming their support for the Myerson/Allen and Company proposal.

At the May 1st Board meeting, BRA Director Stephen Coyle submitted a letter to the Board supporting Myerson/Allen. Originally, Coyle had agreed with his staff that Immobiliare-Congress Venture be named the developer. According to Coyle's letter, which was read by Farrell, this switch in support was the result of a suggestion by Mayor Ray Flynn that the community benefits from the Myerson/Allen were greater than those of Immobiliare-Congress, even though "each team equally qualify" for the designation.

Farrell questioned EDC President Thomas Cunha on an agreement between the Myerson/Allen and Company and the EDC which stated that if the developer received the tentative designation for Building 105, they would donate $57,000 in monies and "in kind" services to the EDC. Farrell asked Cunha what the EDC was and how were they planning to use the money.

Cunha told the Board that the EDC is an elected group of Charlestown residents who work to secure affor-

"Couple Of Blaguards" Opens At New Tavern Theater

"A Couple of Blaguards," an Off-Broadway comedy, has opened at the new Tavern Theater at the Pier, 145 Northern Avenue, and will continue through June 1.

Co-starring brothers Frank and Malachy McCourt (tagged by one critic as: "literate loonies and con men") "Blaguards" is a bittersweet loosely structured autobiographical cabaret of sometimes satirical, poignant, comic and stark tales and songs spanning the McCourt's poverty-struck boyhoods in Limerick, Ireland to their mother's death in New York City.

Audiences may recognize Malachy McCourt from his featured roles on the soap operas "Ryan's Hope" and "Search For Tomorrow." Frank McCourt, a teacher at Stuyvesant High School - one of the most demanding in the country - was the recipient of the 1984 "Distinguished Teacher of the Year" award.

Performances are Wednesday through Saturday at 8:00 p.m.; Sunday at 3:00 and 7:00 p.m. Tickets are $15. The Box Office telephone is 426-7222.

HOME INSPECTION CONTINGENCIES

Today, many offers to purchase homes have a contingency allowing the buyers some time to get a home inspector or some other structural expert to go through the property. If something turns up that the buyers don't like, they can back out of the agreement without losing their earnest money deposit. While these contingencies make sellers a little nervous, they're a good idea.

The time period is negotiable, and in most parts of the country the buyers have about a week. During this period, the buyer can usually cancel the contract for almost any reason by stating that the structural report was not satisfactory. A couple with terminal buyers' remorse, for example, can cite some minor defect — and every house has at least one — as a reason to withdraw the offer.

There's a positive side, however. Often knowing they have a brief cooling off period will encourage buyers who would not otherwise make an offer to take the plunge, and the vast majority of these people will go ahead with the purchase. Also, the inspector usually addresses and overcomes misgivings, and confirms their decision to move ahead with the purchase.

Bunker Hill Monument Association Recipient of Artifacts From The Battle Of Bunker Hill

Major and Mrs. Martin A. Gibbs of Chippenham-Wiltshire, England were guests of the Bunker Hill Monument Association at an event at which Major Gibbs recalled the involvement of his ancestor, Sir Thomas Hyde Page, who served with the British forces, at the Battle of Bunker Hill. The evening at the Hull Room in the Charlestown Navy Yard included presentations by Gibbs to the Association of various photographic copies of a painting, plans and maps, and a letter, all relevant to the American Revolution from the British perspective.

President of the Association, James W. Conway, introduced Major Gibbs, who related the history of Thomas Hyde Page. Gibbs began by stating that his great, great, great, grandfather, Thomas Hyde Page, was of comparatively humble origins, but was well educated in London. Gibbs said that he "must have had a mathematical bent as he was selected by the Master General of the Ordinance, who the king put in charge of ammunitions, guns and forts, to join the Corps of Royal Engineers, a military body of officers and troops put in charge of the fortifications of the country. When the army went abroad to fight, the Corps went with the troops where they threw up the redoubts, dug trenches, sighted guns and did technical work, which is still done today by the Royal Engineers."

Gibbs went on to say that Page went to the Royal Military Academy, where he was the top cadet and, as such, received a gold medal from King George III.

According to Gibbs, "Page appeared in Boston at the start of the Revolutionary War and was one of the engineers who was in charge of the guns."

Page served as Aide-de-Camp for British General Pigott, who was commanding part of the British Army at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

According to Gibbs, "Page was wounded quite badly in the foot in the Battle of Bunker Hill. From Charlestown, he was taken back to Boston, where his foot was amputated and he was sent back to England after only 11 days in this country."

"When Page arrived in England, he was no good as an officer on the active list, so he transferred himself to the Invalid Corps of the Royal Engineers. The Corps dug wells, put up forts, surveyed the whole of the eastern coast of England as it faces France and Holland (as England was permanently at war with France in those days, sometimes more at war than at other times) and they protected the country from privateers and encroachers. Page made a name for himself doing that and he became so famous that the King made him a Knight — Sir Thomas Hyde Page, and he became a member of an institution called the Royal Society, which was made up of prominent scientists and astronomers, people such as Sir Christopher Wren, and they used to meet monthly to discuss things that were of interest at that time."

Major Gibbs then proceeded to explain the photographic reproductions that he was presenting to the Monument Association. The first presentation was a color photograph of Sir Thomas Hyde Page reproduced from a portrait that hangs in the Manor owned by Gibbs.

Gibbs, in presenting the Association with maps of Charlestown, the plan of the redoubt on the hill, and the plan of the general area of Boston, explained that it was the duty of the Master of the Ordinance to be in charge of the guns, but they needed maps to know where to sight the guns.

Gibbs stated that he would assume that Page took the plans of Charlestown with the area names, from maps already in existence, but the plan of the redoubt on the top of the hill was his original.

BOSTON SCHOOL COMMITTEE President John Nucci commented that "a visit to Charlestown, which is so rich in history, will be that much richer with the gifts presented by the Gibbs." Nucci honored the couple with a citation from the Boston School Committee. Shown (l. to r.) BHMA President Jim Conway, President Nucci, Elsie and Martin Gibbs.

Gibbs said that the original plans and maps of Page are in the Institute of Royal Engineers in Chatham, in Kent, England, which is the repository for all military, engineering, and historical plans. Gibbs noted that a plan of the redoubt was sent with a letter by Page to his mother in England the day after the Battle.

Gibbs also displayed several artifacts from their family home, including a leather covered water bottle carried by Page at Bunker Hill.

Elsie Gibbs then explained to the gathering how these presentations came to be made to the Association, stating that their home, Shelton Manor, which was built in 1282, is open to the public. On display in the library of the Manor is a collection of Bunker Hill memorabilia and during a visit to the Manor, a retired Bishop from Massachusetts suggested that the Gibbs contact the Monument Association. Thus their visit to the United States provided an opportunity for them to present copies of some of the memorabilia on display, to the Association.

Mrs. Gibbs extended an invitation for members to visit their Manor, if they are ever touring England.

In appreciation to the Gibbs for their donations to the Association, citations and gifts were presented to the couple from city and state officials and they were awarded memberships in the Bunker Hill Monument Association.

The event concluded with a slide presentation and talk by Barbara Thibault, Site Interpreter for the Public Archaeology Laboratory, on the excavation of the foundation of The Great House in City Square.

BARBARA THIBAUT, Site Interpreter for the archaeological dig that took place last year in City Square, in which the foundation of The Great House, built in 1629, was discovered, gave an informative slide show and talk to the Association members and guests. Thibault is shown being introduced to the gathering by BHMA President Jim Conway.

1985 CHIEF MARSHAL of the Bunker Hill Day Parade, Edward Kelly, was presented with his membership in the Bunker Hill Monument Association by President Jim Conway.

MARY SHANNON from the Boston Landmarks Commission represented Mayor Raymond Flynn at the presentation ceremony. Shannon commended the presentations to the Association by Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs, noting that "the papers would provide another dimension to the relevant history of that period." Shown (l. to r.) BHMA President Jim Conway, Shannon, Elsie and Martin Gibbs. Shannon presented the Gibbs with a book on Boston, autographed by the Mayor.

JAY ASHE, Administrative Assistant to Representative Richard A. Voke, presented a citation to Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs on behalf of Voke and the Massachusetts House of Representatives. Shown (l. to r.) Ashe, Elsie and Martin Gibbs.

JOHN BURCHILL, Superintendent of the Boston National Historical Park, presented a citation from the Massachusetts Senate on behalf of Senator Fran Doris. Burchill referred to the fact that the presentation was being made in the Charlestown Navy Yard, very near the spot that their ancestor would have landed in 1775. Shown (l. to r.) BHMA President Jim Conway, Elsie Gibbs, Martin Gibbs, and Superintendent Burchill.

MEMBERS and guests of The Bunker Hill Monument Association were present at the Hull Room in the Charlestown Navy Yard for the visit by Martin and Elsie Gibbs of Chippenham, England.

dable housing in the community. The organization has been active since 1977 and was responsible for the reconstruction of the former Harvard School on Devens Street into the Mary Colbert Apartments, a HUD subsidized elderly housing facility. The group currently has a proposal before the BRA to construct affordable housing units on the BRA Land Parcel C2-A, which is located between Main Street and Rutherford Avenue, and had asked two of the original five development teams who submitted proposals on Building 105, the Housing Associates and Myerson/Allen, both of whom have housing expertise, to provide "in kind" help to the EDC. Cunha stated only Myerson/Allen offered the EDC financial assistance, but "by no means, at anytime, were we going to sell the EDC name for money."

Farrell disagreed, adding to take money "over and above linkage payments from a developer, impairs that group's objectivity."

Board member Kane Simonian was also uncomfortable with this conditional donation by the Myerson/Allen and Company team. Simonian posed to the Board what he termed a "dangerous question", "Are developers supposed to lobby for support?"

The second community group whose intentions were questioned was that of the Charlestown Preservation Society, since the Vice-President of the Myerson/Allen company, David Keller, is a member of the society.

John Tobin, acting Chairman of the Charlestown Preservation Society, told the Board that while it was true that Keller is a member of the organization, it did not impair the objectivity of their recommendation. "He's not my buddy," began Tobin. "I looked at his merits as a developer and at the RFP (Requests for Proposals by the BRA) which were very specific, before making my decision."

Tobin told Farrell while he understood the Chairman's concerns, the letter of recommendation was the result of a great deal of time and professional analysis and not based on personal gain, at least not on the part of the Preservation Society and that it was "not fair to paint everyone with the same brush." Tobin continued, "The Myerson/Allen proposal is more conservative (than that of Immobiliare-Congress Venture) and still maintains the industrial sense of the building." The scale of the two proposals are quite different, added Tobin. "The Immobiliare-Congress plan would destroy the industrial quality" of the Chain Forge.

As for the community support, Tobin told the Board. "It's rare in my experience in Charlestown, that everyone agrees."

Dennis Callahan of Charlestown disagreed with Tobin's statement and told the Board, "The Charlestown Preservation Society doesn't speak for me. I support Immobiliare-Congress Venture."

Stephen Spinetto, Chairman of the Harborpark subcommittee on the Navy Yard, who also submitted a letter to the BRA Board in favor of the Myerson/Allen proposal, addressed Callahan's comment telling the Board that he felt the letters of recommendation did, in fact, have community input. Spinetto told the group that he "should know" since he chaired one such community meeting where community opinion favored the Myerson/Allen proposal.

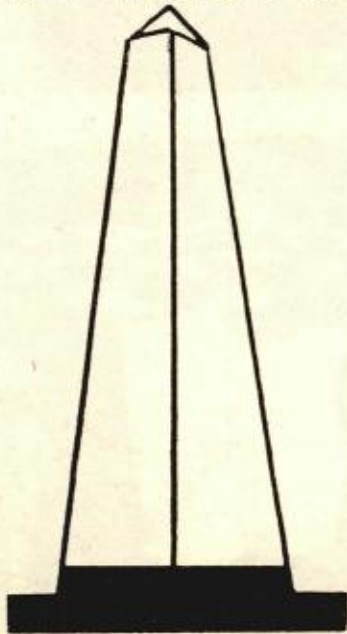

Norbert Lynch, Chairman of the Charlestown Merchants Association and one of the signatures on the Monday, April 28th letter of support for the Myerson/Allen proposal, then told the Board, that at the time of the joint organization meeting with the two development teams on Wednesday, April 23rd, his group was "on the fence" as to which team to support. Since signing the letter, Lynch said, "We're reversing our support to the Immobiliare-Congress Venture." According to Lynch, the reason for changing his opinion was based on similarity between the two proposals in terms of rent generated from each and the types of businesses which would be tenants of the building, however, it was the "quality of the restoration" and the "tie" of Building 105 to the Congress Group's renovation of the adjacent building, number 149, which led him to support Immobiliare-Congress.

After the letter of recommendation by the Charlestown Preservation Society and EDC was questioned and the third party to sign the letter changed its stance, the Board voted to reject the BRA Director's letter of recommendation for the Myerson/Allen and Company and award the tentative designation of the Immobiliare-Congress Venture as developer for Building 105.

Dot Collins Honored At Surprise Retirement Party

(photos by Anne Kelly)

A surprise retirement party was held at the Golden Age Senior Center on April 3, 1986 for Dot Collins. Eighty friends and family members gathered to wish Dot happiness on her retirement. Dot worked for ten years for Boston Parks and Recreation. During these years she helped with the Tiny Tots Program as well as coordinating a large ceramic program for Seniors. In October 1985, Dot began to work for Charlestown Community Schools and in six short months she has endeared herself to us. Michael Griffin, Coordinator of Charlestown Community Schools presented Dot with a proclamation from Mayor Flynn and a gold chain from the Charlestown Community School staff. Dot also received a Paul Revere bowl from The Boston Parks and Recreation Department, presented by Dorothy Curran. The ceramic ladies gave her a beautiful money tree and her family presented her with a beautiful clock. We all wish Dot much happiness.

In Memoriam

John P. Connelly, M.D., passed away on April 8, 1986, at his home in Riverside, Illinois. He was 59 years old.

Those of us who knew and worked with Doctor Connelly will remember him as a man with a vision; that vision was that communities such as Charlestown had a right to superb health services. He not only had that vision but acted upon it. With keen political instincts and a very caring nature, he translated the dream of "The Bunker Hill Health Center" into a reality in 1968.

Charlestown has been enriched considerably by the work of Doctor Connelly. The Health Center at 73 High Street continues to provide comprehensive health services and, for the past 18 years, has been living testimony to this great pediatrician.

We will all miss him very much. Peggy Carolan

Cobblestones — A Link To Charlestown's Past

by Kathy Giordano

As any longtime resident remembers, the streets of Charlestown are lined, not with gold as their ancestors believed when they first arrived from all corners of the globe, but with cobblestones dating back perhaps to the eighteenth century when Charlestown was rebuilt after the Battle of Bunker Hill. Under nearly every street, avenue and pathway of Charlestown lie an intricately woven pattern of cobblestones covered by layers and layers of "modern highway" and not until, in the dead of winter, when your car hits a pot hole the size of lake Erie do you even think of these stones, which now become visible under the front end of your vehicle.

The reconstruction of Main and Warren Streets now underway has brought to the minds of many area residents the excavation of cobblestones and concern about their disposition, once they are removed from their historic roadways. One local "historian" stated, "What will happen to these stones once they are removed? After all, the streets now being excavated were, and still are, the main thoroughfare between Boston and points north. Much of the town's history took place on these streets — from the horse and buggy days to that of the trolley cars my parents traveled on, not to mention the overhead elevated structure that blighted the town for so many years. I would hate to see those cobblestones removed and just dumped in a vacant lot somewhere or worse yet, be used to build some ornate fence around a home in Wellesley Hills!"

According to a spokesman for Baker and Company, the firm doing the reconstruction work on Main and Warren

Streets, "after excavating the cobblestones, they are transported to a Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) site and are under the control of the Charlestown Preservation Society."

John Tobin, Acting President of the Charlestown Preservation Society, confirmed that "in the contract between Baker and Company and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, it is mentioned that the cobblestones will be disposed of under the supervision of the Society." He explained that the Society is "only interested in selecting large, unique stones to be used within Charlestown, particularly in the Thompson Square area reconstruction."

Jim English, Project Director for Charlestown for the BRA, stated that over one million cobblestones might be involved in the excavation of Main and Warren Streets. The BRA's involvement only consists of supplying a site within the immediate area to service the contractor and the Preservation Society, he said. "The BRA is not gaining anything," English stated, "but hopefully, good will."

What will happen to all these cobblestones? After the Charlestown Preservation Society selects the exact stones they feel are needed for future development areas in Charlestown, and this is estimated to be around 10,000 cobblestones in total, the Department of Public Works of the City of Boston will transport the remaining stones to a DPW lot where the Purchasing Department will hold a public bidding process and sell off the stones to the highest bidder and thus provide revenue for the City.

"Townies" Enter Semi-Pro League

by Kathy Giordano

The Charlestown Town Team, more commonly known as the "Townies" Football Team, will enter the Eastern Football League this season for the first time in the team's illustrious history. Entrance into this semi-professional league demands a hefty fee of $10,000, which the team is aggressively seeking to raise by events such as an upcoming fund raiser in the Preble Room at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Saturday, May 10th at 8:00 p.m.

The team received a big boost in reaching their goal by a generous donation from the Flatley Company, owners of The Schrafft Center located in Sullivan Square. Mark Donovan, Vice President for Development for the Flatley Company, stated that Thomas Flatley, President of the Flatley Company, is very pleased to help local organizations, a commitment he made when his company moved into Charlestown. Donovan also noted that, unlike developers in the Charlestown Navy Yard who under their lease agreement with the City of Boston must give "linkage money" back into the community, the Flatley Company is under no such obligation, but voluntarily has contributed to many area organizations.

City Councillor Robert Travaglini was on hand to both congratulate the Town Team upon their entrance into the semi-pros and thank the Flatley Company for their support.

Mike Stillman, Vice-Chairman and Coach of the Town Team, stated that the team will begin practice for the upcoming season on May 19th at Ryan Park in Sullivan Square.

WMEX To Broadcast Live From Annual Boys and Girls Club Road Race

Runners in the annual Charlestown Boys and Girls Club road races will be cheered across the finish line by WMEX morning personality, Quentin Migliori, and afternoon host, Bob Bronson, as they broadcast live updates of the race results. The races will be on Sunday, June 15th, before the start of the Bunker Hill Day Parade. WMEX, at 1150 on the AM dial, is a full service station providing listeners with news, sports results, weather and traffic reports and the music you love to remember ... the heart and soul of rock and roll.

Two races are planned again this year. A novice race will begin at 9:00 a.m. Registration for the novice race is $5.00 and entrants will assemble at the Green Street Clubhouse at 8:30 a.m.

For the more seasoned runner, a 10K T.A.C. race will begin at 10:00 a.m. The route has been certified by The Athletic Congress. Using a highly calibrated surveyor's measuring wheel, the race course has been precisely measured at 6.2 miles. The measuring wheel is accurate to one-tenth of one percent.

Registration for the 10K race is $8.00 per runner and participants will meet at the Clubhouse on 15 Green Street at 9:30 a.m. At the sound of the starting gun, entrants follow a course that traverses the streets of historic Charlestown and ends on Austin Street at the Bunker Hill Mall. One of the most physically challenging courses, this race has earned the nickname The Battle of Bunker Hill and has been designated by running professionals as The Toughest 10K In Boston! Post-race ceremonies will begin when all runners have crossed the finish line. Trophies will be awarded to men and women in several categories. Several Charlestown businesses have sponsored trophies. Volunteers are still needed for the day of the race. If you have a few hours to spare, call the Clubhouse for details.

All registrants will receive a T-shirt. Proceeds from the races will support programs and activities at the Charlestown Clubhouse, which provides over one thousand boys and girls between six and 18 years of age with educational, physical and social development through a variety of programs and activities.

Entry forms for both races are available at major athletic clubs in Greater Boston and at the Clubhouse, 15 Green Street. For information call the Clubhouse Director Tom King at 242-1775.

FACTS ABOUT DRUGS - F.A.D

I have just returned from the funeral of a 24 year old man who committed suicide by hanging himself. The sadness of this act, the devastation of his family, the alarm and grief of the community is almost unbearable. I ask myself questions - many, many questions. Could I have said something? Could I have stopped him? Why didn't I see the signs? How could he have done this to us? In my files I have material on suicide that I have not read. I am going to share some of it with you.

First the myths:

Myth: People who talk about suicide never actually do it. The truth is that almost everyone who attempts suicide has given some warning. When someone talks about suicide, do not ignore such warning.

Myth: Talking about suicide will cause a person to attempt suicide. Wrong. Asking a person if they are thinking about suicide may make the person relieved that someone finally recognized their pain.

Myth: The suicidal act is an attempt to cope with serious personal problems. The truth is most suicidal persons are "irrational" at the time of their suicidal crises; they want to live but are feeling hopeless and cannot see other solutions to their problems.

Myth: If someone wants to kill themselves, there is usually no way to prevent it. Most suicidal persons do not want death, they want to end the pain, but they wished to be saved.

Myth: Once a person has tried suicide and does not succeed, they will not try again. The truth is that 80% of persons who die by suicide have made at least one previous attempt.

Next week we'll talk about the warning signs.

Outdoor Fun With High-Tech Savvy

Is there more to summer camp than campfires, crafts and canoes?

How about computers? Patriots' Trail Girl Scout Council, in conjunction with Bentley College, is sponsoring Computer Resident Camp for girls in grades 7 to 12. This unique program offers girls two-week sessions of individualized computer instruction and outdoor fun.

Girls will get a taste of campus life by living in the dormitories and eating in the dining hall at Bentley College. They have full access to the campus tennis courts, sports field and indoor pool. Additional recreation facilities, an outdoor pool and woodland trails are located at nearby Cedar Hill Outdoor Center.

Computer campers are offered both introductory and advanced level computer instruction. The girls are tested on their computer knowledge to determine their appropriate level. Beginners learn the BASIC language and advanced campers learn the LOGO language. Both programs offer "hands on" individual work with a computer and class study time. Free time is also scheduled to experiment and explore the computer and to design individual projects.

Computer Resident Camp is offered for girls in grades

7 to 9 during Session I, July 13th to 25th, and girls in grades 9 to 12 can attend Session II, July 27th to August 8th.

For more information call the Patriots' Trail Girl Scout Council at 482-1078 or 1-800-882-1662.

Warren - Prescott School Spring Open House and Assembly

by Harold G. Robinson

Thursday, April 17th marked the spring Open House held at the Warren-Prescott School and attended by a large number of parents of the students at the school. Greetings to the parents were presented by Mrs. Marilyn Kiely, principal and Peter Ingeneri, Community Superintendent. Parents were heartily welcomed to the assembly, presented by students of the grade three classes of Mr. Anderson, Mrs. Lund and Ms. Flood.

PRINCIPAL, Marilyn Kiely greeting parents at the Warren-Prescott Open House.

Upon arrival, parents and other visitors found a delightful array of refreshments awaiting them prior to the opening of the activities. Following the opening remarks the third graders presented their program. The assembly centered upon Patriot's Day, Paul Revere and spring. The program opened with a welcome to all and a salute to the flag which was followed by a rendition of "America, the Beautiful," with all on stage joining in on the vocalization. Spring Poems were beautifully recited by the children of Room 108. Room 202 pupils then rendered "White Coral Bells".

A clever insertion into the program was the "Wizard Fact Computer", introduced by one of the third graders. Room 108 presented a novel skit on the math computer and all of the children then engaged in the fun "Table Songs".

Paul Revere's Ride was introduced by Nakia Polk.

Sincere thanks were expressed to the parents at the conclusion of the presentation. Following the program, all parents were invited to

Donna Lane-Hickey Joins Massport's Public Affairs Department

Donna Lane-Hickey of Charlestown was recently appointed community affairs liaison for the Massachusetts Port Authority (Massport).

As community affairs liaison, Lane-Hickey is responsible for conducting various community relations special projects and assisting in the administration of programs designed to enhance overall Massport community relationships.

Lane-Hickey has been at Massport since 1984 as a public service representative at Logan Airport, so she is well acquainted with the agency, its policies, and operations. As a longtime Charlestown resident, she is equally familiar with the community relations issues and problems that arise when an agency like Massport has facilities that operate in close proximity to residential neighborhoods.

"As a Charlestown resident, Donna Lane-Hickey brings to the position a personal understanding of the issues that are important to the people who live in the shadow of Massport's facilities," said Massport's Public Affairs Director Patrick Moscaritolo. "She will be an important informational link between area residents, local officials and the Massport staff who are involved in the planning and/or operation of programs and projects affecting our neighbors."

DONNA LANE-HICKEY

Lane-Hickey lives on Saint Martin Street with her husband, Michael, and 13 year old daughter, Christy. Michael Hickey is a U.S. Post Office employee and a member of the Bunker Hill Council #62, Knights of Columbus, while daughter, Christy, is a seventh grader at Saint Francis de Sales School. Lane-Hickey previously worked in the community as the director of the Charlestown Community Center.

As a Massport representative, Lane-Hickey serves on the board of directors of the John F. Kennedy Family Service Center. She is also a member of the Education Commission of the Saint Francis de Sales School and Parents' Club, and is active in local politics as an elected delegate to the State Democratic Convention and a member of Ward 2 Democratic Committee.

"I'm very excited by this new opportunity," said Lane-Hickey, "and I'm looking forward to working with the local business groups, civic groups, and other constituents to enhance — and improve where necessary — Massport's community relationships."

Charlestown Merchants Association Launches Drive For Additional Members

"In order to be a driving force for the betterment of Charlestown, we must be dealing from a position of strength, and that strength is in numbers." These were the words of Norbert Lynch, newly elected chairperson of the Charlestown Merchants Association as he addressed the first meeting of the full membership since taking office. "We have problems with drug abuse, lack of timely police response, vandalism and other problems which should be addressed and can be, with a viable organization representing the business people of the town."

Lynch stressed to the membership how important it was to contact as many of the business people in the community as possible and urge them to join and become an active member of the Association. He also stated that this was not going to be a "come and do nothing" group. As members joined, they would be asked to serve on a committee or committees of their choice and encouraged to offer their input to help the Association.

Herbert Harris, Assistant Vice President and Manager of Newworld Bank in Charlestown, was asked by Lynch to serve as Chairperson of the Membership Committee and accepted. Harris called on the membership to go out and "beat the bushes" to find people who will become "active" members of the Association.

Lynch then stated that his plan was to have a speaker at as many meetings as possible and in this regard asked Jean Poehler of Bunker Hill Florist to serve as Program Chairperson.

Any business person who is interested in joining the Association may do so by obtaining an application from Mr. Harris at Newworld Bank and returning it to him or mailing it with a check payable to the Association in the amount of $25 to Post Office Box 303, Charlestown, MA 02129.
