I seem to get a lot of messages about how I stay motivated to train and the truth is that I'm not always motivated. But once you've done something for long enough it becomes a habit and you end up doing it no matter the circumstances. It comes to a point where it's like brushing your teeth. You do it every day without really considering not doing it ☐☐♂ consistency over time is what brings the results

Winstrol also possesses an increased anabolic strength with a reduced androgenic strength due to the structure of pyrazole. This is what separates Winstrol from many other anabolic steroids as androgenic and anabolic effects are significantly reduced. At the 17th carbon in Winstrol chemical structure, there is an attached methyl group.
