Often, seeing in the store any piece of interior, we think that it would perfectly fit the situation of one of your rooms. However, this item is too "serial", and maybe - too expensive. But many beautiful things for the house can be made by themselves. It is not at all difficult, as it may seem at first, and does not require significant expenditures. In addition, such an object of the interior with your own hands, you certainly will never see either in the atmosphere of your friends, or in one of the stores - it will be an exclusive element. All that is required of you is the desire to decorate your house with the help of original interior items created by yourself, plus a little time and imagination.

You will need three metal rods 70cm in length and six twigs - 20cm long. After this, we need to weld three short twigs, so that we get two triangles. The three remaining long rods weld the triangles one to the other. As a result, you will get the skeleton of your future vase. Then take a large number of any rope you like, attach it with one end to the frame of the vase, and, starting work from the bottom, tightly wrap the entire frame. At the same time, we must ensure that the rows of rope fit tightly to each other - no gaps should remain. When you're done, secure the upper end of the rope from the inside of the frame. And so, you made the first piece of the interior with your own hands - you have got a great vase, in which dry or artificial flowers, ears, sunflowers will look great.

Stand with your own hands

To create the next decorative object with your own hands, you will need a branch from the tree, which has some interesting shape, with branches, curved. The main thing is that the branch is not rotten. Peel the branch from the bark and cover with one of the wood preservatives. If you use a varnish, this will give the branch also a shine. Now you need to prepare a stand for the branch. For this purpose, an ordinary clay pot is suitable. To give the stand a more aesthetic appearance, you can decorate the pot with a mosaic made of eggshell. Previously, the surface of the pot must be covered with PVA glue. Then place the shattered shell on it. After the glue dries, paint the mosaic with paint (mascara, watercolor), apply a layer of varnish on top. By the way, ceramic pots decorated in this way can independently act as decorative interior items made by themselves. So, the stand for the branch is ready. We fill it with two thirds of the cement dissolved in water or gypsum. We lower the branch into the solution. When the solution is completely solidified, pour the cement in the stand with colored pebbles or sand. Now you can start decorating the branch. It all depends on your imagination: you can use beads from beads, a beautiful tourniquet, braid (flog them branches), and you can paint the branch with an aerosol "gold" or "silver" paint, then hang on the twigs of flowers or decorations of the appropriate color.
