Bunker Hill Pool Opens On Friday

In spite of cutbacks in the city's Parks and Recreation Department, Charlestown youth and adults will swim this summer at the Bunker Hill Pool.

The summer swim program at the Bunker Hill Pool kicks off on Friday, June 26th at noon, thanks to the emergency efforts of the Charlestown Board of Trades, The Boston Committee, Permanent Charities, United Community Planning Corporation and private industry — to name a few.

Funds to restore fourteen pools throughout the city as well as the Boston Neighborhood Basketball League, came entirely from the private sector through a

Hon. Thomas P. O'Neill, III, Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, spoke on Wednesday, June 17 as the Orator for the 206th Anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill. Lt. Gov. O'Neill followed in the footsteps of such great orators as Daniel Webster, who gave the oration at the laying of the monument cornerstone in 1825. The Annual Bunker Hill Day exercises were sponsored by Bunker Hill Post 26, of the American Legion. Chairman for the exercises was James Conway of 7 Belmont Street, Past Commander of Bunker Hill Post 26, and present State Legion Commander.

The Monument Ceremonies followed an Ecumenical Service at St. Francis de Sales Church atop Bunker Hill. The homily was delivered by Reverend Leonard T. Duffy, O.F.M., State Legion Chaplain. From St. Francis, a procession, led by the U.S. Navy Color Guard and the Colonial Pipers Bagpipe Band from Rockland marched to the Monument.

Lt. Gov. O'Neill's address, after greeting the gathering at the base of the Monument, was delivered as follows:

It is truly a great honor to be here today, to be standing on this historic spot where so many brave men fought for a few sacred principles, and where, each year, many other proud Americans return to celebrate that bravery and reaffirm those principles.

The legacy of that small group of men who fought here two-hundred and six years ago is truly awesome. For from the small action initiated here, a country was born. So it is no wonder that in the refractions of history, they come down to us casting the shadows of giants.

Yet, we must never forget that the men who fought here on that hot summer day in June, were quite ordinary people. What made them extraordinary was their total dedication to what were then considered some radical ideas. They believed that all men should be treated equally and that where burdens might fall they should fall where they might most easily be borne. Their demands were simple and enduring; they remain with us today. They were and are the demands of any people who wish to live together in harmony and prosperity: courage, leadership, and promise and hope.

fundraising drive steered by Kenneth R. Rossano, UCPC Chairman, Senior Vice President of The First National Bank of Boston and Treasurer of the Boston Committee, who sought to raise $410,000 for the 14 pools and the BNBL.

The Bunker Hill Pool will be operated by the Charlestown Board of Trade Association, which was selected by UCPC for this function.

UCPC will serve as fiscal agent for the programs. That organization also coordinated the screening of operating agencies and will coordinate appropriate program supervision. Frank N. Jones, president of the Boston Committee which coordinated the overall effort, said of the collaboration, "This is a useful illustration of the kind of cooperation the private sector, neighborhoods and government can do." He said that the restoration of these recreational programs "was made by that collaborative, which saw that something needed to be done and proceeded to do it."

Monies for the summer programs are being funneled through the United Way of Massachusetts Bay/Eli Goldston Fund, 87 Kilby St., Boston, 02108, established for special projects to assist the community.

Local merchants and residents have donated hundreds of hours of labor, as well as supplies and financial contributions to make sure that the pool was ready to open on Friday.

The allotment for the Charlestown Pool from the Boston Committee is $37,000, which is the estimated cost to operate the pool daily from noon until 8:00 p.m., based on 1980 figures. This money, which represents strictly operating money, is awarded in three in-

MBTA Budget Review Completed: Fare Hike Proposed To Retain Services

MBTA General Manager James F. O'Leary has reported to the Board of Directors that an extensive review of the MBTA's financial needs for 1981 has been completed and that an operating budget totalling $353 million would be required to meet the demands for service for the remainder of the year.

O'Leary, who was appointed General Manager on April 16, retained the services of Coopers & Lybrand, a Boston-based auditing firm in May to carry out a complete review of the budget.

"The MBTA's original budget proposal, made last December, was $394 million. That budget was rejected by the MBTA Advisory Board and the amount of $337 million was approved," said O'Leary. "Last week, I reported to the Advisory Board Executive Committee that $337 million was insufficient to allow for the continued operation of the MBTA throughout 1981. At that time, it was estimated $361 million was necessary. However, through the efforts of MBTA management, that amount was further reduced through the elimination of some 536 positions, the institution of a no-wage increase policy for MBTA employees in 1981 and the deferral of maintenance programs throughout the system."

"In order to meet the MBTA's budgetary demands, I am recommending that a fare increase be implemented to retain existing services," said O'Leary.

The proposal for a fare increase includes: the doubling of the basic bus fare, which has not been raised since 1968, from 25 cents to 50 cents; a 25 cent increase of the basic rapid transit fare from 50 cents to 75 cents and the implementation of zone fares for rapid transit, local bus and express bus transportation.

"The necessity of keeping MBTA service operational throughout 1981 is an utmost priority," said O'Leary. "Our commuters need the MBTA's services and these services must run unabated. The other alternatives would be to further cut services or to shut down in late November and these alternatives are not viable or acceptable to the public."

MBTA Chairman James F. Carlin said that a recent survey conducted by the MBTA indicated that its fare structure was the lowest of any major transit agency in the United States. "Everyone is aware of the MBTA's budget problems," said Carlin. "We must act responsibly and quickly to solve these problems."

Carlin said the proposal for a fare increase would be submitted to the MBTA Advisory Board for approval and to the general public at hearings in the near future. "Before any firm and final decisions about a fare increase are made, we will solicit the input necessary to arrive at a just and equitable new fare system," said Carlin. "While a fare increase will help solve some of the MBTA's immediate financial problems, increased productivity gains with our unions are a necessary component of a good transit system in providing better, cost effective service."

The fare increase, if implemented by August 1, would provide the MBTA with $24.5 million in additional revenues.

In conjunction with the fare increase, a zone fare system would be implemented. Zone fares are based upon distances travelled on either rapid transit, local bus or express bus modes.

In order to extend operating hours of the pool daily until 10:00 p.m. and to provide additional funds to meet the inflationary costs of 1981, a fee schedule has been devised by the members of the Bunker Hill Pool Advisory Committee. Daily admission will be 25 cents for children 6 to 12 and 50 cents for anyone 13 and over. Season memberships will be offered at $8.00 for children 6 to 12; $10.00 for 13 and over; and $15 for family membership (includes husband, wife, and children under 18). Season passes may be purchased at the Pool starting this Friday.

The concession stand will be opened on the park level of the area. Charlestown merchants may bid for the operation of this concession for the ten week season. The operator of the concession for the ten week open bid ($500 minimum) plus a percentage of the gross as rental, to be determined by the pool operators. Interested merchants should contact Joe Flaherty at 242-2666 for more details.

A Gala Cocktail Party will be held tonight (Thursday, June 25th) at the pool to celebrate the re-opening of that facility. There will be music by the Bourbon Street Jazz, hors d'oeuvres, and a cash bar. All proceeds will benefit the pool. Tickets, priced at $10.00 per person, may be purchased at the gate.

Through the efforts of many hardworking people under the able guidance of Joseph Flaherty, President of the Board of Trade, the Pool will be open daily from noon to 5:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. and Charlestown residents will once again be able to enjoy a cool swim on a hot summer's day.

Your Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen, D.M.D.

BLEEDING GUMS

Do you ever notice that your gums bleed when you brush your teeth? If so, you should see your dentist as soon as possible because you may have gum disease. Bleeding is a sign of inflammation and it indicates infection. Gum infections which used to be called pyorrhea can be confined to the gums and are called gingivitis, or can involve the bone which supports the teeth and are then called periodontitis. As these infections progress, bone which supports teeth is lost and ultimately teeth can be lost. After age twenty-five the major reason for tooth loss is gum disease. These problems are usually correctable if treated early and tooth loss can be avoided. Have bleeding gums checked right away.

An Equal Opportunity Lender

Too often today we forget those aspects of the revolutionary struggle. There were matters of substance in their demands. But the Patriots rose also out of the deep sense of frustration. They rose because British promises had again and again been broken. They rose because the British Parliament and King lacked both the courage and leadership to justly redress their grievances. In their present situation they saw no hope, and when the changes they sought through ordinary means were denied, they resorted to extraordinary measures.

The landscape around this single spot may have altered over the years, but, today, circumstances seem to have come full circle. In the last election we saw another great revolt take place. The people of the Commonwealth whom the British once called the "obnoxious people of Massachusetts Bay," once again decided it was time to take matters into their own hands. Once again, they had seen too many promises broken; leadership faltering and courage wavering. Excessive taxation and a long history of malfeasance and corruption had dimmed any hopes they might have had that true reform would come from above. We know the result, something we call Proposition 2½.

That was a warning shot with a message; and, on the national level, the people sent another. The message was the same as the Patriots of Boston sent two-hundred years ago. It was not give us more money; it was not punish others that we might thrive. It was a plain and simple message: Give us leadership, show us courage, meet your promises, and do not suffer all our hopes to be in vain.

The response to that message has again been slow in coming, and what we have seen so far does not bode well for the future, for leadership and courage do not consist of merely determining which groups can most easily be sacrificed in the battle to balance a budget sheet.

That decision is always hard, for the effects are not always self-evident. There are no corpses strung across the field as there were two-hundred and six years ago today. The victims never feel the direct thrust of cold steel as it enters their gut; nor do they see the whites of their antagonists eyes. But the pain, the suffering, and the sacrifice is there just the same.

Standing on this historic spot today, I am filled with a terrible sense of a tragic irony. Here, farmers, tradesmen, and artisans, native born and immigrant, black and white, joined battle in a common cause, s P. O'Neill, ment Oration

ch willing to equally accept whatever sacrifices the battle might mand. The casualties were heavy, but none complained.
Yet, today, in the name of furthering this same common cause, the od of our country and our commonwealth, we see these same ups being pitted one against the other. And why? Because they r from the experience of recent history that the sacrifices will not equally borne, and that the leadership and courage necessary to en-re that they are will not be there when needed.
n consequence, many may suffer needlessly. But they will not sufin silence. One way or another, their voice will be heard. And that why it is imperative today that we remember our history, member the hopes and principles of those who fought here, and take urage to fulfill the promise of justice for which they died.
We cannot for the simple sake of the ogre of a balance sheet, andon those higher principles that made this country and this com-nwealth the beacons that they are.

On Sunday, we celebrated this battle with a parade dedicated to the terans of another war. Unlike the Patriots of Bunker Hill, these en and women had until then received little of our recognition. We had, fact, too often abandoned them. And, seeing their faith time and ain being broken, many of these Vietnam veterans became dissionised.

This is tragic — when the young, the brave, the trusting are turned
ay. And many were no common men. That was a troublesome war, t it was a time for heroes too. A time for men like Charlestown's n Michael Quinn whose courage and leadership remain legendary.
who knew him knew there was a giant. And his supreme sacrifice, e sacrifice of so many others, must not be in vain.

We must now strive to recreate the leadership and exert the urage necessary to once again be worthy of the legacy these riots left us. We must reaffirm our commitment to their higher inciples, and ensure that these principles are never sacrificed to nal self-interest. We must take these principles and make them ork, make them work so that each and every man and woman can osper and thrive. If we can do this, future generations may look ck to us as giants. If we don't, they may say, and quite rightly, all r rhetoric about our respect for our past was a sham and a lie. We re today have an obligation to ensure that this must never happen.

To Hockey Parents

Dear Hockey Parents,

I would like to take the opportunity to thank all of the people that helped to make our hockey booth and dunk'in machine a success at this year's carnival. The money that we raised will go into the Youth Hockey treasury.

We raffled off a ten speed bicycle, fifty dollars in cash, and two Bruins or Red Sox tickets, as prizes in that order.

In the future we will be trying a few more things to try to raise more money, to possibly defray the expense of the coming season. A special thanks goes to Eagle Sports for the donation of a beautiful "Townies" Jacket which was also raffled at the carnival. A very special thanks goes to Mr. Ralph Rizzo for his effort in this undertaking.

Sincerely,
 Ronald A Vitale

County Bargain Proving Just That At Revere

Country Bargain has developed into a real bargain for the Karelitz Corporation, which purchased her over a year ago for $12,000, the highest auction price in the history of greyhound racing.

Karelitz, one of only two new bookings this season at Wonderland Park, already has surpassed the payment for Country Bargain, whose sights are now set on the 47th annual $125,000 Wonderland Derby in August.

The Bargain started slowly at Wonderland and soon dropped from Grade A to B. Back-to-back victories over the 5-16ths course and the two-year-old out of Pecos Cannon — Miss Westy was set again in Grade A.

She dropped back down to Grade B again and after sporting a 23-6-3-1 record over the 5-16ths sprint, Karelitz decided to try Country Bargain over the Revere Course in the $85,000 Double Distance Championship.

Seventh and sixth in her first two trips over the 3-8ths route had fans mumbling something about her grading off before she ever made The Derby. Suddenly, without warning, Country

Bargain woke up and recorded her first victory in almost a month.

The Bargain backed it up with another triumph in the semifinals to qualify for last Saturday's championship final.

Another sprinter with an eye on The Derby is Jimmy Fortunato's Coasting On, whose 11 victories deadlocked her with Franklin Pike's Queen Dorene and North Shore's OK Troy for the track-high lead this season. She had a 23-11-3-0 mark over the 5-16ths course before finishing sixth in her Revere Course baptism.

To Talk Of Many Things

by Sal Giarratani

"In politics, perception is greater than reality."

—Annon

It looks like those petitions for District Representation for the City Council and School Committee have received enough signatures to garnish a spot on the ballot this coming November.

To date the Liberal Establishment in the City has ruled the day, set the tone and controlled the public debate. Both sides of the issue have not been given equal treatment or access to the news media.

Proponents have left the impression that there is only one side to this plan and anyone who opposes it is labeled or libeled as a racist — a McCarthyism if ever I saw one!

Proponents say the plan will provide more access and direct accountability to city government. It will enable the people to elect candidates who will respond to the real issues. They say a more open government will result which will encourage greater city control.

Their goal is a lofty one, commendable but really not very practical, a perception passing for reality. District Representation would remain as undemocratic and unrepresentative as the current Citywide system. The same smaller neighborhoods would continue to remain on the outside looking in.

Neighborhood people are tired of being told what's good for them — of being talked down at. The Boston Globe's handling of this political representation plan really bothers this writer. The only letters to date they have (continued on page 13)

Bunker Hill Day Parade 1982 Needs Your Help

The success of the 1981 Bunker Hill Day Parade was due to the concerted efforts of a very small group of residents. Next year there will be little or no financial help from the city. Each band or drum corps charges a fee ranging from $250 to $900 to be a part of the Parade, thus at least $12,000 is necessary to put the 1982 Bunker Hill Day Parade on the streets.

Help is needed in planning and raising funds. Your help is needed. Clip the coupon below and mail to: Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee, P.O. Box 54, Charlestown, Mass. 02129.

I would like to offer my help for the 1982 Bunker Hill Day Parade.

Stay Cool - Enjoy The Pool

As word of cuts and cutbacks and decreased services filtered back into the neighborhoods this past spring, the closing of the city's outdoor swimming pools was at the top of the list. At this point in time Joseph Flaherty, President of the Charlestown Board of Trade along with a small group of residents, merchants, and city officials began talks aimed at keeping the Bunker Hill Pool open this summer.

Obviously, these preliminary talks, much negotiation, and the grant awarded through a city-wide fundraising drive has resulted in a program and basic operating budget to keep the pool open for the summer.

Many long hours have gone into the preparation of the pool for opening — local residents and merchants have donated their time to do necessary repairs and cleaning of the area. Residents and businesses have made monetary and merchandise donations toward refurbishing the pool.

In other words, much time and money has been invested by members of the community to see that the pool opened — now it is up to the community to see that it stays open. Vandalism will not be tolerated — in fact, there is no "extra" money to repair damage caused by uncaring individuals. If operating money is taken to repair such damage, the funds will be exhausted and the facility will be forced to close.

It is up to each and every resident to take responsibility for this pool and park area — keep it clean, keep it free from broken glass, keep it safe from vandalism. This park and pool is for the residents to enjoy — and residents young and old alike, must be aware that they, who utilize this area, will be the losers.

So, stay cool — enjoy the pool for this recreation area is for you, "Proud Townies", and it is up to you to see that it is the best park and pool in the city.

End Of The Year Activities

printed on this issue have been one pushing it co-written by Rep. Mel King and one opposing it by City Councillor "Dapper" O'Neil. I hardly think they are the only sides on this issue that is supposedly so vital to Boston's future.

I have written two letters myself in the past month opposing this redistricting scheme, neither of which were printed. There are many sound, non-racial reasons for opposing redistricting.

The new plan sounds great on paper, nine district seats and four city-wide ones on each elected city body. The average district would consist of some 73,000 people, would be drawn by the Council elected this year — based on existing precincts to be arranged in contiguous or adjacent groupings with consideration for neighborhood boundaries.

As a "Townie" I am concerned about how Charlestown fares in this supposed political reform. Charlestown with a population of some 17,000 would have to be lumped with East Boston and the North End. Such a district almost guarantees an East Boston seat. Why should I support this? Isn't this alone real justification in opposing redistricting?

How would the people of the North End or the Fenway or even lower Roxbury or Roslindale be better served by this change for change sake?

Most of the neighborhoods which have been unrepresented will continue to be so.

The real reform I could support is one that brings about essential changes in the City Charter to make the City Council a truly legislative body with all the appropriate powers instead of the debating society it now is.

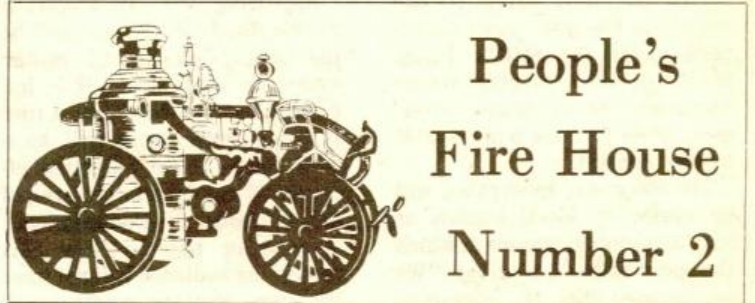

The School Committee is something I really question the need of in any shape, matter or form.

The bottom line to this citizen of an unrepresented neighborhood of Boston is: If proponents of the Campaign for District Representation believe they have right on their side, why do they hide from conflict, hide from confrontation with opposing views?

The energies of people would be better used to elect better men and women to represent them on the present system. If we can't do that job now, we have only ourselves to blame and not the system.

DAY 48 FREEDOM

MUTUAL AID NEEDED: YES OR NO?

Since last week's column Boston has been hit by a rash of multi-alarm fires in which Charlestown apparatus either responded to or covered for engine companies at the scene of the fire.

At one point, firefighting apparatus from Everett, Cambridge and Somerville occupied the Sullivan Square Firehouse after Boston put out a call for mutual aid.

Thank God, these communities are still responding to such calls now that they are but one way since that City Council Ordinance went into effect.

There are two sides to this question of mutual aid. One is the anti-Mutual Aid side which states that Boston can't afford to send units out of the city with the mayor closing firehouses and laying off men and the other is the belief that such lay-offs and closing mandate the continued necessity for mutual aid from surrounding cities and towns.

Let the City Council know how you feel whether you're "for" or "against" the mutual aid ban! The council is your voice, it's supposed to represent every one of you!

People want proper fire protection — not political games!

THANK YOU, FR. PAUL

The People's Firehouse Mass of Thanksgiving was wonderful. It was good to see all those Firehouse persons together again to celebrate their victory and to give thanks to God for everything.

Fr. Paul was ever so right when he said it was good to see a community come together for such a worthy cause. Charlestown — once again — showed it's stuff. People didn't just sit back. They spoke out and stood up and in the process proved that actions speak louder than words.

Fr. Paul said he was proud of the friendships he and we made during the struggle and he hoped that all such friendships would be lasting ones. We second that motion!

Some 75 people attended Mass and the collation at the Church Hall which followed. We want to thank Fr. Paul for saying this Mass and for all his support to the People's Firehouse!

BOTTOM LINE

Our main goal is to keep Charlestown safe and intact. WE THE PEOPLE WILL WIN. WE WILL SURVIVE!
See you next week!

Pavarotti Concert At Hatch Shell On Saturday

Metropolitan District Commissioner Terrence J. Geoghegan announced that noted Italian opera star Luciano Pavarotti will perform at the MDC's Hatch Shell on the Charles River Esplanade on Saturday afternoon, June 27, at 4 p.m. in a 90 minute concert.

The Pavarotti appearance will be filmed by MGM Studios as part of a motion picture in which the opera singer is starring. "We are pleased that Mr. Pavarotti will be making this appearance and that it is being staged under our sponsorship," Commissioner Geoghegan said. "Over the years the MDC has sponsored many appearances by some of the world's foremost musical personalities at the Hatch Shell and it is with great pride that I am able to announce the June 27th Luciano Pavarotti concert."

The Pavarotti film, titled "Yes Giorgio," is being produced in the Boston area largely because of efforts by Governor Edward J. King in cooperation with the Massachusetts Film Bureau. The Hatch Shell is one of several locations being utilized for the filming of various scenes.

Appearing with Mr. Pavarotti on the Hatch Shell stage will be the Opera Company of Boston symphony orchestra. "It is important to note that since a film is being made there will be a great many special lighting effects and cameras in the area of the Esplanade," Commissioner Geoghegan noted. "For this reason the audience will not have the same vantage points in all cases that exist at other Hatch Shell concerts. But we feel certain nobody will be inconvenienced when we consider that the June 27th concert presents such an excellent opportunity to hear this great performer whose fame over the years has reached worldwide proportions." In the event of rain the concert will be held Sunday, June 28 at 4 p.m.

The Metropolitan District Commission said today that security will be beefed up in the area of the Hatch Shell for the appearance of opera star Luciano Pavarotti on Saturday afternoon, June 27th, at 4 p.m.

Extra police will be on hand for crowd control and will strictly enforce MDC Rule 5, which prohibits the possession or consumption of alcoholic beverages on MDC property. Anyone attempting to enter the concert area with such beverages will be turned back by police, MDC officials said. In addition, no fireworks or cooking materials will be allowed in the area.

Pavarotti is scheduled to perform at the Hatch Shell for approximately two hours as part of an MGM motion picture being filmed in Boston and entitled "Tes Giorgio". For that reason there will be a great deal of camera equipment in the area which will take up considerable space.

The outbound lane of Storrow Drive will be closed to motor vehicles from Charles Circle to Berkley Street beginning at 10:00 a.m. Motorists are advised to use Memorial Drive as an alternate route. Metropolitan District Police and Boston Police will be on hand to direct motorists to alternate routes and provide direction to those who may be headed west.

In addition, both Police Departments will strictly enforce illegal parking at hydrants, crosswalks, malls, or sidewalks. Storrow Drive inbound will be closed from the Bowker Overpass at Charlesgate at about 2:00 p.m.

Summer

by Charlie McGonagle

Lovely puffs of white float lazily across the azure sky. Green leaves of maple, oak, and elm dance merrily, Directed by the breeze, as though to a symphony Of melodic movement. Summer! Summer in all its unbound glory finds us once again. School doors close in unison as laughing lips think not To say goodbye to still another year. The pounding echo of surf upon the shore Lapping at the scattered shells. Children's castles, built of sand and wild dreams Are washed away by waves Returning, as before, to tiny grains upon the ocean's floor. The scents of cooked out morsels drenched deliciously In cold and foaming brews. Grassy meadows swaying noiselessly in unrehearsed choreography. Moving streams talk refreshingly as they march majestically Through the forests to the sea. The caterpillar finds his wings, The butterfly gracefully dances on an August breeze. Crickets call to one another in the quiet still of darkness - The only sound heard above the whispering quiet of a summer's night. And then - As quickly as it all began, A lonely maple starts its journey from green to red and amber, Taking with him brothers, sisters, cousins. As if on clue, the edge of evening's darkness Reaches deeper into daylight - And summer ends.

The staff at the Charlestown Boys' and Girls' Club would like to wish each and every one of you, a happy and safe summer Although the High Street Physical Education plant will be closed during the summer months, Day Camp and programming for the younger members will continue through mid-August.

Senior Center To Be Rebuilt - But Will Take Time

The Kennedy Center continues to seek the repair and restructuring of its Senior Citizens Lounge destroyed by fire in December, 1979.

John T. Gardiner, executive director of the Kennedy Center, reports that the agency is currently seeking a one-time grant to sandblast the charred ceiling of the damaged lounge structure.

"Once the ceiling of the lounge is sandblasted, the Boston Housing Authority (BHA) has pledged to handle the complete repair and restructuring of the rest of the area," says Gardiner.

The Senior Lounge is operating presently out of the second floor of its 55 Bunker Hill Street location. Gardiner says the BHA has been very cooperative in its repair work and credits Ed Sweeney and the Task Force for their efforts. Joseph McNamara of the BHA has been especially helpful says Gardiner.

"The BHA can't sandblast the ceiling because it lacks the funds for the job," he adds. "But, McNamara has assured me that once work is completed, the BHA construction crew will begin the finishing work immediately."

"The proposal grant will take time to be processed, both on this end and the funding source's end. The Kennedy Center is doing all that's possible to speed up the procedure and hopes to have word soon on an opening date," says Gardiner.

Presently, the Kennedy Center Senior Center meets and holds activities on the second floor of the BHA Bunker Hill Projects Administration Building. It still serves over 300 local elderly with beano, crocheting, bowling, snacks, homemaker aid, and other activities despite the problems created by the conflagration.

PRESENTATION of a set of bronze and silver Bicentennial Commemorative Medals is made by Bunker Hill Day Exercises Chairman and State Legion Commander James W. Conway (left) to 1981 Monument Orator Lieutenant Governor Thomas P. O'Neill, III (center) as Director of the Boston National Historic Park, Hugh Gurney (right) looks on. The medals were struck for the Charlestown Historical Society in 1975 to mark the 200th Anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill.
